Japs In Manila Put Up Fierce Struggle

Trapped Enemy Being Cut Up In Street Fighting

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Saturday, Feb. 10. —American infantrymen, driving down mined streets against pillboxes and mortars firing from the upper stories of office buildings, gained 2,000 yards toward Manila's prized dock area yesterday. It was clear the trapped Japanese defenders would contest every yard of ground.

Gen. Douglas McArthur, describing the enemy's resistance there as a "finalstand," said today house-to-house fighting was "of the fiercest."

Fires Still Burning

Enemy-set fires still were burning in three sections of Manila but appeared to be diminishing. Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold, commander of the 14th corps, told Associated Press correspondent Fred Hampson that "a lot of this destruction is wanton and of no military purpose."

Griswold said the Americans were virtually powerless to stop the enemy defolition crews who have turned much of Manila's heart into blackened ruins.

The 37th Infantry Yanks driving southwestward from their amphibious crossing of the Pasig river were heading into the flame-swept old intramuros district, a virtual death trap for its concentrated populace.

Long, Bitter Struggle

In the intramuros district the enemy made clear with mortars and entrenchments that the American campaign to clean up the southern half of Manila would be long and bitter.

To the south, two Japanese couterattacks near Tagaytay, where the 11th Airborne paratroopers landed to begin their lightning drive into south Manila, were "bloodily repulsed."

In bitter fighting on Bataan, 38th division troops reached the town of Mron in a 10-mile advance from the captured Olongapo naval base on Subic bay.

Central Luzon Plain

Sixth division Yanks secured crossings on the upper Pampanga river at Rizal and Bongabon in clearing the enemy from the upper section of the central Luzon plain.

American warplanes made widespread raids, sweeping the China coast and bombing Formosa again. Many fires and explosions were set off at the Heito airdrome on Formosa.

McArthur said the Manila action was particularly fierce.

"The 37th and 11th divisions are engaged in house to house and street combat," he reported.

The 11th Airborne Yanks were

SOUVENIRS OF TOUGH LIFE IN JAP CAMP—Bits of worn out shoes, a torn canteen bag, and a makeshift wooden sandal are among items found, indicating the condition of life at Camp O'Donnell before the Japs abandoned the camp. The camp, where Americans and Filipinos captured on Bataan and Corregidor were kept after the March of Death, was taken by the Americans on Luzon Jan. 23.

Essair Application To Be Heard Today

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9. (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics board hearing in Fort Worth tomorrow will take up the application of Essair, one of the few feeder airline systems now certificated, to expand throughout Texas and run one line up to Oklahoma City.

Completed today was the hearing on the Austin Airlines, probably the least pretentious of any applications included in the Texas-Oklahoma case over which Thomas L. Wrenn, CAB trial examiner, is presiding.

Austin's Proposal

Austin Airlines would go out of and back into Austin over the circular route serving Bryan, Huntsville, Conroe, Houston, Beaumont, Jasper, Lufkin, Tyler, Corsicana, Waco and Temple. The application was sponsored by a partnership of three Austin residents, Homer D. Owens, insurance man; George Kies, road contractor, and William Ragsdale, operator of a flying school and charter service.

Months ago Essair received CAB certification to operate one route in Texas but lack of planes has prevented origination of service.

Under its present application the system would expand to serve Fort Worth, Dallas, Mineral Wells, Ranger, Abilene, Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland, San Angelo, Ballinger, Austin, San Antonio, Brownwood, Stephenville, Houston, Navasota, Bryan, Tyler, Palestine and Wichita Falls in Texas. In Oklahoma, Essair would connect Oklahoma City, Lawton and Tulsa.

The hearing is in its tenth day and 21 applications still are to be heard. The original estimate of Wrenn was that a month would be required for the full docket, but indications are now that the CAB setting, the largest ever held outside of Washington, will be wound up within ten days.

After the hearing is completed Wrenn will make his report of approvals and rejections to the board and the board will then accept briefs and hear oral arguments by the applicants before granting any routes.

Blizzard's Death Toll Reaches 14

BOSTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—With a death toll of 14 and damage mounting into the millions, New England tonight was digging itself out of its worst blizzard since the Valentine's day storm of 1940.

A record fall of snow, ranging up to 17 inches in Boston, clamped shut stores and schools and left most war plants limping on sparse manpower.

Transportation, virtually paralyzed for 24 hours, was wheezing along in low gear. Highways were flecked with stalled automobiles, abandoned by their owners. Soldiers answered a railroad appeal to shovel out switches. Thousands of commuters trekked wearily homeward after spending last night in police stations, railroad terminals and hotel lobbies.

Record For Intensity

The intensity of the blizzard set a record in Boston where seven inches of snow fell between 8:30 p. m. and 2:30 a. m.

War plants were the hardest hit, and big department stores left their doors closed when they realized employes could not get into the city.

A piercing gale added to the discomfort and piled up six-foot high drifts on many roads.

An already fuel shortage became more severe with the tying up of rail traffic and a virtual complete halt of deliveries in some sections. Hundreds of homes dependent on electric power for operation of fuel oil burners had neither heat nor light for hours. On Cape Cod telephone service was badly crippled by fallen lines.

Hen Appears Atop 5-Story Building

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 9. (AP)—No one knew how it got there, but a hen was found loose on the roof of a five-story office building.

Photographer Harold Smith was sent up for pictures and he stalked the bird with care. Working slowly, he made the shots. Then, with a quick snatch, he got himself a good dinner, too.

Wainwright Is Moved To Manchukuo Prison

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP) — The Japanese shifted 177 American prisoners of war, including Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, from a prison camp on Formosa to Manchukuo, the War department reported today.

Wainwright, who became commander in the Philippines after General MacArthur left for Australia early in 1942, was taken prisoner by the Japanese after the surrender of Corregidor on May 6, 1942.

The transfer to Manchukuo, which may have been a reflection of Japanese fear of an invasion of Formosa, was completed in November, the War department has been advised. The prisoners were moved from a camp on Formosa to Hoten camp at Mukden in Manchukuo. The prisoners moved, the department said, had been at Camps 1, 5 and 6, at Taihoku; Camp 3 at Kauchu; Camp 4 at Kagi, and Camp 2 at Heito.

The group included 17 generals besides Wainwright, 119 Army colonels, six Navy captains and 34 enlisted men.

Marriage Drouth Is Over In Ector County

ODESSA. Feb. 9. (AP) — Dan Cupid was appeased today when he learned from Ector County Clerk Carl Akin that his office once more was well stocked with marriage license forms — just in time for Valentine day, too.

The office had been without forms since Jan. 30 because the filling of Aiken's order for them had been delayed.

Big Three Is Said Set For Nazi Collapse

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 9. — The Big Three, realizing the possibility of a sudden collapse of military and civilian resistance in huge areas of Germany under pressure of the joint Allied offensive, are believed whipping plans into shape for occupying the Reich at a moments' notice.

Well-informed quarters here suggested today that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin possibly are preparing two occupation plans, under the first of which specialized forces are being alerted now for emergency duty. The second plan would provide forces for long-term assignment.

Special Troops Ready

There are indications that specialized troops already are being concentrated on the fringes of Germany to take over quickly when all or part of the country collapses. This force includes civil affairs experts and "teams" of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

With Nazi military forces being withdrawn to the south and southeast, British officials said northern Germany might collapse at any time. They based this belief on reports from inside the Reich that many section of northern Germany already are showing signs of progressive decay.

Not Caught Napping

In any event, the Big Three probably will shape their plans to the extent they will not be caught napping by any development.

Germany already has been reduced to the heartland between the Rhine and the Oder rivers by the Anglo--American and Russian offensives. Roughly one-fifth of the so-called greater Reich will have been occupied when the Russians reach the Oder line on its full length. The enemy already is feeling the loss of highly-productive areas.

Nazis Lose Much Food

Large stocks of potatoes have been left behind by the retreating Germans. Sugar factories in Poland and Silesia were at the height of their season and food factories still were engaged in processing last year's harvest. As a result of this loss, it already has been necessary to reduce German food rations.

Adding to the confusion inside the Reich is the problem of transportation. Where previously the country was divided into carefully balanced transport zones for each foodstuff, there now is but little organization.

Dewey Preps For Another Contest

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. — Capital Republicans concluded today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is busting his suspenders to run for President again.

That was the consensus that grew out of Dewey's first post-campaign speech here last night and subsequent hotel room conferences he held with party leaders.

Cleaning Up Machinery

Some of those who talked with the New York governor said they came away with the idea that Dewey is concentrating most of his efforts now on cleaning up the party machinery in New York state in preparation for a race for re-election in 1946. He lost New York in the November presidential contest partly because of defections in the ordinarily strong GOP upstate sector.

If he wins reelection as governor, most politicans here think Dewey will be in there pitching for the 1948 presidential nomination. He will be backed then by experience gained in the last campaign.

Some of that experience already has cropped out in his dealings with members of Congress.

For instance, he was told Republican Senators and House members that he doesn't intend to attempt to dictate the party's policies in Congress.

Conflicting Reactions

The New York governor's speech here last night produced conflicting reactions among the GOP congressmen and senators, who with their wives, made up the major share of the audience.

As an example, Senator Brewster (R-Me) said he thought he had drawn an excellent GOP document, "putting President Roosevelt on the spot" by his demand for continuous American participation in the political decisions which are reshaping the world to come.

Democrats made out as if they were vastly unimpressed by the whole business. Senator George (D-Ga) thought the speech "sounded like a college declamation."

Hospital Burglarized Of Narcotic Supply

HOUSTON, Feb. 9. (U.P.)—Dope addicts of dope peddlers broke into the Southern Pacific hospital here early today and managed to cart away a 300-pound safe containing the hospital's entire supply of narcotics.

Hospital officials said the narcotics — valued at between $200 and $300 — included 2,800 tablets of morphine and heroin and a quantity in powder form.

The thieves also stole $15 in cash and eight $50 war bonds.

Officials said arrangements will be made to obtain an emergency supply of the narcotics.

Little Girl, Out Of Prison, Saves Candy For Daddy

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9. (AP) — She is a little girl at the Santo Tomas interment camp in Manila.

For months under the stern rule of the Japanese army, food for the camp was inadequate. Then the liberating Yanks came and with them food rations.

Someone gave the little girl a bar of candy. Promptly she put it in a bucket.

"Don't you know what it is?" she was asked.

"Yes," she replied, "it's candy."

"Then aren't you going to eat it?"

"No," she replied. "My daddy needs it worse than I do. He has beri-beri."

William J. Dunn, of the Columbia Broadcasting system, reported the incident in a broadcast from Manila.

Michigan Legislates Standard Time Back

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 9. (AP) — The Michigan legislature, with Gov. Harry F. Kelly ready to give his reluctant consent, has decreed that after midnight March 17 legal time in Michigan shall be central standard time—but no one knows how many citizens will abide by the decision.

The legislature appeared as uncertain as the public as to what effect its action will have on the clocks of the state, some now operating on central war time and some on eastern war time.

Mighty Air Blow Meets Challenge By German Jets

By HOWARD COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 9—A mighty force of 1,300 American heavy bombers—guarded by almost 900 fighters—faced the greatest challenge of German jet planes today and escaped with a loss of 19 bombers and three fighters.

The Germans, using new tactics to forestall the American aerial blows, sent up jet-propelled Messerschmitt 262s which flashed in and out of the bomber formations, literally flying rings around the heavy craft.

Mustangs Get Five Jets

Baffled gunners aboard the Flying Fortresses and Liberators failed to shoot down any of these attackers, flying at a speed of ten miles a minute, but escorting Mustang pilots knocked down five of the jets.

Eighteen ordinary-type Messerschmitt and Foche Wulf fighters also were blasted from the sky and 41 German planes were destroyed on the ground.

Despite the resistance of the German luftwaffe, the American armada drove through to a successful completion of its objective, plunging 4,000 tons of explosives on the synthetic oil refinery at Lutzkendorf, factories at Weimar and railway yards at Magdeburg.

15th Joins In Assaults

The attack by the British-based U. S. heavyweights was complemented by heavy bombers of the U. S. 15th Air force which surged up from Italy and hit oil plants 22 miles west of Vienna.

These daylight raids were preceded by an assault just before dawn by 1,000 RAF heavies which hammered an oil plant at Politz just ahead of the Russians near the Baltic and also a refinery and rail center in the Ruhr.

The U. S. Eighth Air force, in announcing the result of the clash with the enemy's jet-propelled fighters, made no comment upon the effectiveness of the German tactics and did not say how many jets participated.

Some American fliers said, however, that the jets cut in and out of the bomber formations, firing at will from first one flank and then another. One witness told of a Fortress crippled and forced to hide in clouds after a 15-minute attack by the jets had left the bomber's gunners dizzy.

Method Of Jet Attacks

Bomber crews said the jet planes attacked singly or in pairs, with ME-109s hovering in the distance to guard against American fighter interference.

A spokesman at U. S. air headquarters said this was the first time the jet planes had probed through the American defenses and attacked the bombers, which usually plod along in formation at about 150 miles an hour.

American heavy bombers from the U. S. 15th Air force based in Italy also attacked the Reich during the day, hitting the petroleum plant of Moosbierbaum 22 miles northwest of Vienna.

An air force spokesman in Britain said later that "we believe that at the present time all crude oil refineries in Germany are out of production."

Rep. Mansfield Gets Birthday Tribute

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP) — Texas' veteran congressman, 84-year-old Rep. Mansfield received a birthday tribute from fellow House members today.

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) referred to Mansfield as "one of the sweetest and noblest characters we have ever known," and added, "we all hope that he will have many more years of fruitful service in this body."

Republicans and Democrats joined in minute-long applause after McCormack's tribute.

Mansfield was born Feb. 9, 1861, in Wayne county, Va. He was elected to Congress in 1917 and has served continuously since. He is chairman of the House rivers and harbors committee. His home is in Columbus, Tex.

Sharp Lookout Is Kept For Fleeing Nazi War Criminals

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 — American observers in Spain and Portugal are keeping a sharp lookout these days for fleeing Nazi war criminals, acting Secretary of State Grew disclosed today.

At the same time he called indirectly for definite assurances from neutral countries that they will not harbor Axiis ring leaders who escape from Germany.

The subject came up for a thorough airing at Grew's news conference, in connection with reports that Britain and Argentina made a secret agreement last summer by which the Argentines pledged themselves to shut their doors against Hitler and his ilk.

The agreement was revealed in Buenos Aires after Lord Vansittart had criticized Argentina and other neutrals in a speech in the House of Lords at London three days ago.

There is still concern in official quarters here, however, over Argentina's future treatment of German leaders if they should escape there, and Grew was also asked about that. He responded by saying this government has no evidence that Germans are escaping to the Argentine through Spain or Portugal. American representatives in those countries, he added, are on the alert for any indication that prominent Nazis may be trying to get out from under.

Other officials said American representatives in all the countries which have not gone to war with the Axis are no less altered as the war moves into its closing phase.

If any Axis criminals escape, the greatest hope for recapturing them is placed on the governments of neutral countries and Grew was asked about the atttitude of neutrals. This and other Allied governments have been pressing for definite promises not to protect any of the war criminals.

Reds Gain Sharply In Three Sectors

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Saturday, Feb. 10.—The Red Army swept to within 29 miles of Berlin's Baltic port of Stettin yesterday in its swift drive to seal off all northeastern Germany, and the enemy announced that a new "gigantic" Soviet southern offensive had deeply outflanked Breslau by rolling 35 miles west of that Silesian capital.

On the Berlin front the Russians were said by the Germans to have crossed the Oder and cut direct north-south communications between Kuestrin, Frankfurt and Fuerstenberg at points within 35 miles of imperilled Berlin. These three fortresses are Berlin's major shields and the Russians were trying to encircle them.

German broadcasts said that several Russian armies had been hurled into the swelling Silesian drive that sent Soviet spearheads to the edge of Liegnitz, big transit center and manufacturing city of 76,000 astride the direct Berlin-Breslau communication lines.

Breslau's garrison on the upper Oder 35 miles east of Liegnitz was threatened with imminent encirclement, only a 32-mile gap still being left open west of the city. The Russians simultaneously were threatening to break open the door into German Saxony in a wide flanking move through Liegnitz, which is 135 miles southeast of Berlin.

In East Prussia the Russians drove new spearheads to the Baltic coast and surrounded the harbor city of Elbing, between Koenigsberg and Danzig territory, thus dimming further the escape possibilities of the remnants of 200,000 to 250,000 Germans originally trapped in a pocket below Koenigsberg.

Heavy Soviet Barrage

Moscow dispatches said Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army was laying down one of the heaviest artillery barrages of the war on German lines between the Oder and Berlin. The Soviet communique, however, did not mention this sector where the Germans say the Russians have multiple bridgeheads across the river 30 to 43 miles from the capital.

Enemy broadcasts said a terrific battle raged immediately west of Kuestrin, where the Germans were fighting desperately to keep the Russians from encircling that stronghold 16 miles north of Frankfurt. Counterattacks thus far have kept open a corridor to Kuestrin, Berlin said.

Attacking on a 30-mile front in Pomerania, northeast of Berlin, the Russians rolled with ten miles

Nine Injured In Auto Collision

Eight persons were hospitalized by a terrific headon collision one mile west of Shallowater about 9 o'clock Friday night.

A ninth person received less serious injuries.

Occupants of a car owned by Naham Sullivan, 21, Thirty-sixth and Ave. Q, were the most seriously injured.

The five youthful occupants of the other car, all of whom live near Shallowater, received severe bruises and lacerations, West Texas hospital reported.

Both Arms Broken

Sullivan, who operates a service station in Anton, suffered both arms broken. Others in his car were Miss Deeava McMillan, 22, of Tahoka, whose right leg was broken; J. W. Kimbell, 35, and his son, Edward, 12, also of Thirty-sixth and Ave. Q. Edward sustained a broken leg and a gash on the head; his father was only bruised. All were admitted to Lubbock General hospital.

Miss McMillan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McMillan of the Levelland road near Lubbock.

Held overnight in West Texas hospital for observation were Berry James Thomas, 18, Wyona Thomas, 14, Madeline Thomas, 16, and Betty Jane Lewis, 15. Betty Ruth Young, 14, received emergency treatment for a bruised thigh and nose and was released.

Enroute To Party

Sgt. John Hollyfield of the highway patrol said he was informed the youngsters were enroute to a party.

Both vehicles were "torn to pieces," the patrolman said. The impact was so jarring that the fuel tank was knocked from the rear of the Sullivan auto.

West Texas hospital attendants said that preliminary examination showed that apparently none of its five wreck victims suffered broken bones.

Murder, Suicide Ruled In Big Spring Deaths

BIG SPRING, Feb. 9. (AP) — A coroner's verdict of murder and suicide was returned in the fatal shooting last night of Mrs. Sara Bennett, 26, and Floyde F. Ford, 43, whose bodies were found at Mrs. Bennett's home.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, who rendered the verdict, said evidence indicated Mrs. Bennett was surprised as she returned home from a picture show and was shot twice. Ford's body was found a short distance from Mrs. Bennett's. He had a bullet wound in the head.

Mrs. Bennett's husband, John H. Bennett, is a first lieutenant in the Army.

14 Towns Swept Up; Third Army Slashes At Pruem

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Feb. 9. — The Canadian Army broadened the front of its big new offense to almost [illegible] miles today after sweeping up 14 towns in gains of nearly five miles and drove to within four miles of flaming Kleve, imperiled northern fortress of western Germany's defenses.

The fury of the assault from the west mounted on a 200-mile front as Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian and British forces battered eastward between the Rhine and Maas rivers 27 miles from Wesel at the northwest corner of the Ruhr valley — last great source of the enemy's war potential.

NAZI OVERTHROW HINTED

LONDON, Feb. 9. (AP) — A Berlin dispatch to the Swiss newspaper Neue Zuericher Zeitung tonight suggested that important developments were impending in the Nazi capital.

The wireless dispatch, intercepted by London monitors, described chaotic conditions in Berlin and then said "nothing seems to be certain. Maybe the big change, which will overthrow everything and creat completely new conditions, will happen tomorrow."

First Outflanks Dam

The U. S. First Army 85 miles to the south outflanked the giant Schwammenauel dam, whose pent-up waters could be unloosed to crush and British and American drive on the Ruhr from their springboard positions north and east of Aachen.

Stricking behind one of the heaviest barrages ever laid down by First Army guns, the Americans seized Hasenfeld, less than a mile east of the dam, and brought the structure itself within range of machineguns.

Farther south, the U. S. Third Army was hammering at the German defenders of the Eifel mountain stronghold of Pruem from positions three-quarters of a mile northwest of the city. The enemy fought furiously to hold the important communication center.

Less than six miles to the north, doughboys already eight miles inside the Reich threatened to outflank Preum by forcing two crossings of the river of the same name. They were within four miles of the main road east out of the city.

Southern Alsace

In southern Alsace, all enemy resistance was wiped out, an official announcement said, and victory flags flew over the city of Colmar. The only Germans remaining on French soil were in northern Alsace, where they were dug in for nothing more than a defensive stand.

Himmler Grips Nazi Powderkeg

LONDON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Heinrich Himmler and his Gestapo held down the lid today on a German Reich heaving under increasing invasion blows from east and west.

Reports from continental sources, including Berlin itself, gave a picture of Nazi fanatics battling a chaos in anticipation of a last-ditch fight within the imperiled capital and beyond that in the innermost reaches of the country.

Himmler, emerging as the Nazis' "man of steel," called upon the besieged garrison of Festeideumuehl to hold that strongpoint "for me." This message, broadcast by the German DNB agency, made no mention of Fuehrer Hitler.

Defense Preparations

Inside Berlin the Nazis feverishly pressed defense preparations under Himmler's direction.

The German Transocean agency said barricades and firing points were rising everywhere and that tanks rumbled through the streets. Swedish correspondents said the Germans were fearful of parachute attacks, and that the eastern suburbs had been evacuated.

The Moscow radio quoted Japanese dispatches as saying Berlin bus and subway services had ceased and that food supplies were so scanty further refugees had been forbidden to enter the city.

From Turkey came reports that, even while preparing for an all-out defense of Berlin, Himmler was organizing a German "Maquis" which he would command personally in a last stand in southern Germany and Austria.

Anton Woman, Child Hurt In Train Wreck

HOUSTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Southern Pacific officials tonight were conducting an investigation of an accident in which the eastbound Sunset Limited was derailed just five minutes from the station, injuring 47 passengers, seven seriously.

H. M. Hull, executive vice president of the Southern Pacific lines, said tonight that the cause of the accident was still undetermined.

The train, minus seven derailed coaches, proceeded on its way to New Orleans about an hour after the wreck. A second train, carrying many of the injured, left for New Orleans at 1:20 p. m.

The train broke in two, overturning one chair car and sending six other coaches off the track as it was leaving Houston at 9:35 a. m. today.

Of the injured, only seven were admitted to hospitals. They are Mrs. Fred Wade, 25, of Anton, Tex., her five year old daughter, Fredda; Master Sgt. Florian C. Smothers of Corpus Christi; L. C. Sanders, Earl S. Conley and William A. Phillips, dining car waiters and Cook Stephens, cook. Less seriously injured included Mrs. Athenia Lance, 23, of Littlefield.

Subsidy Assured For Lea County Wells

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP) — Sen. Hatch (D-NM) said today the OPA had assured him that a subsidy of 35 cents a barrel will be paid to oil producers in the East Lusk area in Lea county, N. M.

The decision, he said, is in line with similar action taken by OPA in connection with other stripper-well areas in New Mexico.

Congress Up In Arms Over ODT's Ban On Conventions

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—There was great to-do in Congress today in behalf of the traditional American desire to go to conventions.

All of it was aimed at the Office of Defense Transportation which says you can't convene — more than 50 of you — until this war emergency slackens off.

Some members of the House hollered "dictatorship" and an abridgment of constitutional rights.

Rep. Roberston, a Republican member at large from North Dakota, got more earthy than that. He said it is interfering with improvement of the breed of cattle.

The crescendo started with Rep. Rich (R-Pa) who told the House that the ODT at Scranton forbade a meeting of the Wyoming conference (southern New York and northern Pennsylvania) of the Methodist church. That's no good, he said.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) said the same thing happened to the Masonis lodge in his state.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) slyly suggested that this is the New Deal, butting into the churches now.

Meanwhile, Rep. Robertson had callers at his office. They represented Valley City, N. D., and they were screaming about the ODT, too.

It seems that Valley City's annual stock show can't be held because the convention division(they even have a convention division) of the ODT refused permission.

Robertson said what bothers him most is that such a thing is banned but "bowling tournaments, ice follies and the transportation of movie stars across the continent to attend the President's birthday balls are not questioned."

Feb. 9, 1945.

DEAR:—

The City commission plans action next week on the civic center project being sponsored by the Kiwanis club. At a meeting of that body Thursday afternoon W. G. McMillan and L. C. Riethmayer members of the public affairs committee in the Kiwanis club, presented petitions bearing signatures of 512 taxpayers requesting calling of a bond election for the purpose of the Central Ward school site for a civic center and auditorium.

A joint meeting of the commission, the City Planning commission and zoning board will be held to discuss the project.

The commission, in a resolution, requested the Army Air forces to turn back facilities on the west side of South Plains Army Air field, formerly municipal airport for use by the city so long as it doesn't interfere with use of the field by the Army.

Sanitation laws are to be enforced here in food establishments. Dr. J. W. Rollo is warning that any employe working without a permit is in violation of city and state law and is subject to penalties as set forth in state and city statutes.

There is a possibility that a Veteran's administration hospital proposed for West Texas will be located in Lubbock. L. W. Warren, representative of the administration, has been here to inspect sites.

Appropriation of almost two million dollars has been asked by the Veteran's administration for the construction of a 250-bed hospital to be located somewhere in West Texas. Several other towns are making bids for the facilities.

Construction of an area in which a small group of prisoners of war will be kept is now underway at Lubbock Army Air field. No definite date on arrival of the prisoners has been announced.

The Hilton hotel national chain of hotels has bought the Stevens in Chicago and has relinquished the managerial contract on the Hilton hotel in Abilene. The latter hotel has been named Hotel Windsor. Educators Advocate "Service For State"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP) — Disputing a contention of 12 fellow educators, 14 college heads today called for immediate consideration and adoption of universal military training.

They said in a letter to President Roosevelt, who has expressed himself as convinced of the necessity for postwar universal training:

"If adopted now, we believe that a sound plan for universal military training will enable the United States to speak with greater authority at the peace table in favor of an international organization to enforce peace.

"Its adoption now will reassure the other peace-loving nations of the world that the United States proposes to cooperate with them in outlawing war and will not again retreat into isolationism."

The other group of educators wrote Mr. Roosevelt last month to urge delay in consideration of what they termed the highly controversial question "at least until complete victory over Germany is achieved."

Signers of the letter made public today included: Karl T. Compton, president, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Ernest M. Hopkins, president, Dartmouth college; Robert L. Johnson, president, Temple university; Charles Seymour, president Yale university, and Blake R. Van Leer, president, Georgia School of Technology.

Quartermasters Not To Let Up Activities

DALLAS, Feb. 9. (U.P.) — Forty-nine quartermasters returned to ther five - state Eighth Service command stations today with a message from Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan that there'll be no let up in their work until America's wartime army is demobilized.

"We're not going to be able to take things easy in the Eighth Service command until the whole wartime army is demobilized," Donovan said addressing the closing session yesterday of the two-day conference of quartermasters from posts, camps, general hospitals and prisoner of war installations in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Supply problems of reorganization and redeployment were foreseen in returning troops from overseas. The general said some of the men would be released to civilian life, but many would be retained in army, retained, re-equipped and sent to the Pacific theater in re-manned units.

Lt. Col. Carl L. Phinney, chief of the personnel control at the service command headquarters here, traced the supply problems of the 36th division from the time of its initial training at Camp Bowe though its battles along the road to Rome. Phinney had just returned from service with the famous "Texas" division.

Latham Suggests Full Recast Of Patchwork Texas Election Laws

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—Former Secretary of State Sidney Latham in one of his last official acts recommended complete revision of election laws which in their present state Latham said were "a patchwork fraught with inconsistencies, conflicts and absurdities."

Latham's report to the governor and legislature for last fiscal year, filed today, blamed this condition upon the numerous amendments attached to the Terrell election law since 1905.

It was his opinion that nothing short of complete revision of the election code will meet present requirements.

Glaring Conflicts

Latham listed "glaring deficiencies and conflicts," from the point of view of administrative duties of the secretary of state's office, in present laws which pertain to:

Methods of nominating by parties, Certification of nominations, Deadlines for preparation and distribution of ballots, Special elections to fill vacancies, Filing of affidavits by candidates that they will support and defend the constitution;

Methods under which a new party may begin functioning, voting by servicemen, expenses of publication of proposed constitutional amendments.

Instances Are Cited

He cited instances involving all of these subjects which occurred during his administration which ended this week.

Latham observed:

"Elections being the foundation stone of a democratic government, it would seem that they, of all governmental functions, should be carried out with conciseness, certainty and regularity.

"It is believed that the present condition of our election statutes is beyond repair, and that the only remedy is a complete rewriting of an election code which will meet the present requirements of the state."

Sugar Beet Production May Bring Large Sugar Refinery For Plains

Possibility of the establishment of a $2,000,000 refinery in this area, which some authorities believe might be located in Lubbock, was brought out by Dr. A. W. Skuderna of Denver, general agriculturist of American Crystal Sugar company, at a sugar beet conference Friday in the auditorium of the agricultural building at Texas Tech.

His company would build such plant in this area within the next few years, he said, if sufficient acreage of beets was produced and the farmers and citizenship of the area showed a willingness to work to that end. The company would need the assurance of at least 200,000 tons of beets in the area before establishing the refinery here, he added. This would mean a sugar beet acreage of approximately 14,000 if the average production was 14 tons per acre. "You should produce at least 15 tons per acre in this area," he said.

Soil Very Favorable

He pointed out that the topography and nature of the soil was very favorable on the South Plains for growing sugar beets and said that with early planting (late February or early March) higher yields could be obtained.

Dr. Skuderna recommended heavy fertilization of the soil in producing sugar beets and said that an ample water supply is necessary.

H. E. Knapp, manager of the American Crystal plant in Rocky Ford, Colo., who followed Dr Skuderna on the afternoon program of the all-day meeting, said that great strides are being made in merchandization in sugar beet production.

Special Planting

Drills for planting sheared, or segmented, seed so that each seed is planted in the exact spot the farmer wants it, he said. His company will place at least two of these planters in this area this year, he said, and urged implement dealers to request planter quotas as those of other beet producing areas are requesting and getting quotas.

He also urged farmers to cross cultivate their beet crop to eliminate hand thinning. He cited many other mechanical aids in the production of beets, such as the mechanical topper and harvesting machine and the mechanical loader.

In speaking of mechanical equipment, Knapp said that the farmer is largely responsible for mechanization on the farm due to necessity discovered in his own field. "The South Plains area is ideal for mechanization," he said.

Grower Contracts

His company will enter into contracts with growers of sugar beets and the payment for beets will be according to percentage of sugar content, he said, adding that as an example, the price for beets testing 16½ per cent sugar would be $12.50 per ton. In addition, he said, beet growers are eligible for AAA payments.

Four motion pictures, showing sugar beet production in Texas; planting, cultivation, harvesting and processing of beets; production of sugar beet seed; and production by mechanization, were shown.

The meeting was attended by more than 100, representing Lubbock county and 11 surrounding counties.

Little Hand Labor

At the morning session, H. M. Bainer, of Amarillo, general agricultural agent for the Santa Fe railway system, said that with new methods now being used and the use of segmented seed sugar beets can be produced almost entirely without hand labor.

"Beets can also be produced at far less expense due to mechanization and these segmented seed," he said. "I believe that we can make as good showing here as in Colorado and California, the biggest beet producing states of the nation."

He said that sugar beets were first grown commercially in Texas in 1937 at Lockney in Floyd county, and since that time much progress has been made in beet production. He pointed out that the acreage is low here, but with the experiments carried on at Texas Tech and elsewhere, he is looking forward to the time when enough acreage is produced here to justify a sugar company installing a processing plant in this area.

Capt. Holbrook Speaks

Capt. Winfield S. Holbrook of Plainview, representative of Texas Land and Development company, spoke on introduction of sugar beet seed in Texas, explaining that much experimentation has been done in this area, particularly in Hale county, with production of beet seed. He said that with proper seed and seed culture, beet seed growing could be made very profitable on the South Plains.

Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry at Tech, told of variety tests at Texas Tech which have been carried on since 1939.

Special Guests Introduced

Special guests at the all-day meeting were introduced by Dean A. H. Leidigh of the Tech division of agriculture. Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agricultural agent, presided.

Lunch was served at noon in the boys dormitory on the Tech campus.

The banana plant produces its fruit within 15 months after the root-stock is planted.

Water Softener For Tech Is Authorized

Purchase of a water softener for power plant at Texas Tech, with a capacity of 22,000 gallons in 24 hours, was authorized recently by the Tech board of directors and will be in stalled within the next few months, according to S. T. Cummings, college purchasing agent.

Known as the zeolite green sand water softener, this equipment will serve to process the water when it passes through zeolite, thus extracting minerals. By using softened water instead of raw water, the three boilers in the school's power plant will be protected from corrosion and prolong their service by several years, W. T. Gaston, business manager, said.

The east coast of North America is almost directly north of the west coast of South America.

This term ends July 12 and the second term begins July 14 and ends Aug. 22, for those enrolled for six weeks, but continues until Sept. 7 for those students enrolled for a nine-weeks course. The program gives students three choices of attendance and for those attending the entire 15 weeks, one semester of college work may be completed during the summer period.

Importance of the summer period of advanced educational work is stressed by Pres. Wm. M. Whyburn who said, "The college endeavors to make its facilities available for maximum service to the war program." He explained that by utilizing heretofore summer vacation time, young people can acquire the training need for their work in minimum time through an accelerated program.

Seniors Nominated For Legion Trophy

After Dr. Lewis B. Cooper's explanation of the citizenship award to be given to a senior boy and girl in Lubbock High school by the American Legion, the following seniors were nominated for the honor at a class meeting Friday morning:

Joyce Yokum, Roberta Niblack, Nell Anthony, Joe Ann Bailey, Jane Lawson, Joe Arrington, Bill Slagle, Milton Butler, Fred McDonald and Jim Lowrey.

The senior class will select two of these ten candidates from the standpoint of honor, courage, leadership, scholarship and service. Winners will be announced at the annual high school recognition assembly May 8.

Last year the award was given for the first time to Jackie Lewis and Jack Grady.

At the Friday morning meeting Hardie Matthews was elected a class vice-president to fill the vacancy of Sammy Adair who moved from Lubbock. The class has six vice-presidents.

Legislature In Weekend Recess

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (U.P.) — Both House and Senate of the Texas Legislature were in week end idleness today with sessions to be resumed Monday.

The House closed its week's work late yesterday by voting unanimously to submit a constitutional amendment to permit persons serving in armed forces during nationally declared emergencies and war to vote without poll tax payment. The resolution received a vote of 132 ayes without a no. A counter proposition by Rep. Jack Love, Forth Worth, had been tabled by 100 ayes to 27 noes.

Ex-Service Men Opposed

Love's proposal would have abolished poll tax permanently for persons who have served in the armed forces.

Ex-service men in the House voiced opposition to Love's plan. Rep. W. R. Cousins, jr., Beaumont, said:

"I didn't like the Army, neither do your brothers and sons. They want to get back to civilian life, pay taxes and assume civilian responsibilities."

The movement to abolish poll tax for service men resulted from a large number being unable to vote in the 1944 elections because, in Texas, poll tax rolls are used as a voting registry.

To Go To Popular Vote

If the Senate gives two-thirds vote to the proposal, it then will go to popular vote Aug. 11. A majority vote then will put it into effect as the proposal is made self-enacting without further legislative procedure.

Soldier voting was a big issue in Texas when Gov. Coke R. Stevenson declined to call a special session of the legislature to repeal poll tax for soldiers. He was upheld by an opinion of the attorney general's department that an amendment to the constitution was needed for the purpose and a constitutionel amendment can be submitted only at the regular sessions of the legislature.

AIRCRAFT PLANS SET

LONDON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, minister of aircraft production, said today that peacetime manufacture would start "very soon" if the speed of the Russian drive was maintained.

Fort Worth Aircraft Plant To Be Painted

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9. (U.P.) — They're going to paint the outside of the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft plant here. It's going to be quite a job.

The plant covers a floor space area almost equal to 15 city blocks, 300/300 feet—or an area about one block wide and a mile long.

The job requires approximately 4,000 gallons of paint and $1,500 worth of brushes.

Bran middlings are employed by the steel industry in the manufacture of tin plate as an agent to help remove oil from the product.

Plainview Takes South Half Lead

The Plainview Bulldogs all but knocked the District 1-AA basketball crown from the heads of the Lubbock Westerners Friday night at the Westerner gym, winning a 32-24 victory with a fast start and a faster finish that snuffed out a game Westerner rally in a wild fourth period battle.

The victory for the Bulldogs broke the three-way deadlock in the south half race, and left Coach Hayes' lads with only one more game to play, this with the Brownfield Cubs next Friday night.

The defeat suffered by Coach Dixie White's lads left them only the chance to tie for the south half title.

Thompson, Malone Star

John Thompson and Doyle Malone again were the two lads who gave the Westerners the greatest trouble, with Thompson doing the damage in the first half, and Malone taking over for the last half.

Thompson poured 14 points through the hoops, many of them on long shots, and accounted for 10 of these in the first half. Malone finished close behind with ten points, getting seven of these in the last half, to give the pair the equal of the Westerner five man total.

The Westerners scoring was well divided, and all five men found the range for at least one field goal. Lonnie Balch copped the top honors, getting seven points. Close on his heels came George Brewer with six, Verdell Turner with five, Charles Pressley with four and R. W. Moyers with two.

The ball game started rather slowly, with Plainview pulling away to a lead as Malone and Thompson sank free pitches, then Coe and Malone hit for two pointers to give the Bulldogs a 6-0 lead, and they were never headed off for the rest of the night.

Brewer broke the ice for the Westerners with a field goal, then Thompson and Turner exchanged free pitches to boost the score to 7-3. Thompson then dropped in a long one to make the count 9-3 at the end of the first quarter.

The Westerners fell still farther behind in the second period as Thompson hit a pair of field goals and Coe sank a free pitch, before Brewer dropped in another two pointer. Thompson then hit another one to make the score 16-5 at the half.

Westerners Rally

The Westerners came back strong in the second half, and while Kelly was adding only a free pitch to the Plainview score, Balch, Pressley and Moyers were dropping in field goals to reduce the Plainview lead to 17-11. Turner slipped in a field goal for Lubbock to reduce the lead to 21-15 at the end of the third quarter.

The Westeners began to click in the final period. Brewer broke away for a crip shot, and Balch added a free pitch to cut the Plainview lead to 21-18. Then Meyers dropped in a free pitch, then Balch hit for another, and cut the score to 22-20, but this was as close as the Westerners ever got.

At that point the fast Bulldogs smothered out the fire, and Malone and Thompson sank free pitches, and Thompson hit another field goal to shove the Bulldogs out front, 26-20.

Turner hit a field goal, then Malone hit two and Meyers one in quick succession, and Balch's two free pitches at the end of the ball game were not enough.

The Bulldogs looked the part of champions, but much of the downfall of the Westerners came through the failure to make their shots good and the Lubbock lads missed enough shots under the basket to have won the ball game.

The Westerner B team trailed through the first half, then broke loose in the last half to nose out the Plainview B team, 28-25 in a fast curtain raiser, to give the fans two great ball games.

The scoring honors of the night went to Bob Galey, who poured in 15 points for the Westerners. Johnson and James tied for Plainview with nine each.

Plainview led 16-12 at the half, and was held scoreless in the third period as the Westerners zoomed into a 23-16 lead at the end of the third quarter. Plainview rallied in the last period, but were unable to overhaul the high flying Westener B team.

Bowling Joins Sport Anti-Gambling Fight

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 9. (AP)—The American Bowling Congress, aware of efforts of gamblers to move in on other sports since the close of race tracks, took steps today to protect its sport.

The Congress, which governs all organized bowling, issued a special order on gambling, signed by John Canelli, chairman of its legal committee.

The order bluntly told some 950,000 bowlers and 4,000 alley proprietors who are members of the Congress that it would countenance no pools, hand books, parimutuel betting on matches or similar schemes of gambling in the sport.

Pampa Cagers Shade Amarillo Five, 22-18

PAMPA, Feb. 9 (Special)—The Pampa Harvesters moved into a tie for the north half cage championship race in District 1-AA here tonight, nosing out the Amarillo Golden Sandies, 22-18.

The game was a thriller all the way, and the lead changed hands six times during the ball game. The Sandies could lay much of their loss to their inability to hit the meshes from the foul line, and missed fire on 13 shots donated to them, while Pampa missed only five. Free shots had been a big forte of the Sandies up to tonight.

Pampa led 11-9 at the halftime intermission, and the two teams battled down to the finish. With four minutes left to play, the score was knotted at 18-18.

At this point, Randel Clay hit a long shot to send Pampa into the lead, and a few minutes later, Earl Davis slipped under the hoop, and dropped in a crip shot to ice the game away.

Davis was high scorer of the night, hitting four field goals, and toed the foul line for four more shots for 12 points. Jack Seale was high for Amarillo, getting two field goals and five free pitches for nine points.

Both Amarillo and Pampa have won two and lost one in the north half playoff, and both have a game remaining with the Borger Bulldogs, a team both has beaten once in the playoff.

Mustangs Set Stage For Tilt With Owls

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 9. (AP)—Turning on the heat after the Texas Aggies jumped into a 4-1 lead at the start of the game, Southern Methodist university's cagers walloped the hapless Farmers, 73-43, here tonight.

The triumph kept the Methodists in the running for the Southwest Conference basketball race and set the stage for tomorrow's crucial battle with the high-flying Rice Institute Owls. The Owls walloped Texas Christian, 68-47, at Fort Worth tonight and need only one more victory to clinch the title. The Mustangs will be primed for the Owls.

Harry Teal, who dropped in seventeen points led the Mustangs. Oscar White was high for the Aggies with nine.

O'Donnell Wins Two At Tourney

DENVER CITY, Feb. 9. (Special)—The co-favored O'Donnell Eagles sailed through two wins here today to set the early pace in the double elimination district tournament to determine the winner and runnerup teams to play the north half winners for the District 4-A championship.

The Eagles were hard pressed to beat a dark horse team from Slaton, 38-31 in the second game of the afternoon, but the Eagles had little trouble in beating the Seagraves five in the second battle of the day, 50-25.

Seagraves Cops Opener

Seagraves bumped Seminole in the opening game, 44-29, with Cotton pouring in 18 points to lead Seagraves to the win. Baker was high for the Seminole five with 16 points.

Brownlow and Pearson set a fast pace for the O'Donnell five in the second game of the afternoon, getting 16 and 13 points, respectively. The battling Slaton club gave the Eagles plenty of worry, and Huckaby poured in 11 points for Slaton and Burnett nine to set the pace of the losers.

Post Looks Good

The Post Antelopes upset the Denver City Mustangs, 47-29, in the third first round game. Cash swished 14 points through the hoops for the Post club closely followed by Shepperd with 13. Tate was high man for Denver City with 11 points, followed by Terrell, who flipped in nine points.

The Post boys club continued to make an impressive showing as they came back in the first night game, and threw a big scare into the other tourney co-favorite, the Tahoka Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs nosed out a 38-37 win in the fading minutes, with the scoring honors of the game going to Post's Shepperd, who poured 17 points through the meshes. Cecil Dorman paced the Bulldogs with 14 points, closely followed by Nolan Jones, who flipped in 13 points.

O'Donnell Wins Again

Brownlow of O'Donnell bested his afternoon scoring mark as he led the O'Donnell five to the second win of the day, pouring in 18 points as the Eagles defeated Seagraves, 50-25. Cotton was again high for the Seagraves club with 10 points.

The Slaton five bounded back in the final game of the night, and eliminated the Seminole Indians, 59-24, with a smooth working attack that found the team's scoring well divided, but Burnett won the honors with 14 points. Honors for the game, however, went to Baker of Seminole, who tossed in 15 points.

Play will be resumed at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with the finals scheduled for the sixth game at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Officials from Levelland and Sudan will meet with school officials of the winner and runner-up teams of the tournament here, and decide on the date for the playoff between the north and south half winners. The playoff will probably be Feb. 23-24.

Levelland Cops 18th Straight Win, 29-18

LEVELLAND, Feb. 9 (Special) The Levelland Lobos clinched a berth in the District 4-A basketball championship playoff tournament here tonight by hanging up their 18th win in a row, and 24th win in 26 games, as they rolled over the Olton five, 29-18. In the 26 games, the Lobos have rolled up 815 points, while holding the opposition to 443.

Palmer paced the winners tonight, looping in 14 points for scoring honors of the night. Coleman paced Olton with five points.

The Levelland B team made it a clean sweep for the night by winning the opener, 34-10. Royce Peterson flipped in nine points to pace the winners, while Gullet was high for the losers with four points.

Amarillo Bowlers To Play Lubbock Today

The Lubbock bowlers will be hosts to the Amarillo keglers here this afternoon with a special inter-city match slated for the Plamor alleys for 5 o'clock.

The Lubbock lineup was announced Friday as J. K. Giles, James Buckner, Terrell Matthews, Leo Bell and George Tate. The Amarillo five will have Gore, Fletcher, Griner, Moyers and Reager in the lineup.

Red Raiders To Battle New Mexico Lobos Here Tonight

Texas Tech's fast improving Red Raiders will clash with the New Mexico Lobos tonight at the Tech gym in a cage battle that offers plenty of fireworks for the cage fans of this area.

The Red Raiders have shown a steady improvement in their play for this season, and have been coming forward in recent games. This fact has added much hope to the Red Raiders, and the belief that the lads of Coach Polk Robison will make a much better showing against the New Mexico five than they did in a recent two-game series in the New Mexico city.

Lobos Strong Club

The New Mexico five, manned mostly by Naval trainees, and boasting of one of the strongest collegiate fives in the Southwest, will bring to Lubbock tonight one of the best teams seen in this area this season.

A one-point defeat at the hands of the Flying Kellys of Kirtland field is the only loss reported to date on the New Mexico five's season record. No college team has been able to stop the Lobos this season.

In the two games played between the two teams this season, the Lobos won 47-39 in the opener, and by a score of 57-41 in the second game, both played at the New Mexico school.

Raiders Stronger Club

But the Red Raiders will present a team tonight that should be a much better ball club than the one that played in New Mexico in January. The showing of the Red Raiders against the powerful Lubbock Army Air field last week indicated that the Red Raiders were about to hit the stride that should start paying off.

The return of Ernest Hawkins, and the return to form of Gene Hardey, have been big boosts to the scoring punch of the Red Raiders.

Two New Mexico boys, who have been outstanding performers this season, will be expected to carry the scoring load tonight, with Don Grove, the rangy center, and Jiggs Jackson, the sharpshooting little guard, both from Monument, New Mexico, the chief scoring power of the Red Raiders.

The work against the Army five of Truett Barnard, former Ropesville star, was another bright light for the Red Raiders hopes, and Barnard is sure to see plenty of action with the Lobos.

Barnard and Hawkins were not with the club when the Red Raiders played at New Mexico, and Hardey was seeing only limited service because of a bad knee.

The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Henry Breaks Record As Owls Trip Frogs

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9 (AP) — With Big Bill Henry splitting the mesh for 26 points and a new scoring record, the Rice Institute Owls whipped the TCU quintet here tonight 68-47.

Henry went into the game needing but eight points to break his last year's scoring record of 348 piled up in 20 games. His 26 points gave him a season total of 366 in the 18 games he has played. The elongated center needs to score but 33 points in the remaining three conference games to break his old conference record of 246.

TCU started fast to stay in the game for the first five minutes and led at one time 6-5. But from there on it was all Rice until the intermission with the Owls leading at the halfway mark 41-17.

The Frogs rallied in the second half and at one time whittle the big Rice lead down to 16 points. But here again the Owls took charge to ice away the ball game.

Ramblers, Cowboys Meet At Track Show

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 9. (AP) — Randolph Field and Oklahoma A. and M., football powers of last season, have entered track and field teams in the thirteenth annual Border Olympics scheduled here March 9.

Neither was represented in the Olympics last year.

Manager Bob Parker said Randolph Field and the Aggies would compete against each other as the service teams are being thrown in with the colleges and universities this year.

The divisions were combined in order to speed up the meet also to make possible more chances of record-breaking.

Other entries include Chase Field of Beeville, Moore Field of Harlingen, Laredo Army Air Field and the old standbys—Texas A. and M. and the University of Texas—who never have missed a meet.

One of the stars of the Oklahoma A. and M. team is Bob Fenimore, the All-America back who appeared with the Aggies in the Cotton Bowl against Texas Christian. Fenimore is a dash man, running the 100 in 9.7.

Perry Samuels of Thomas Jefferson and August Erfurth of Brackenridge, stars of San Antonio's two great schoolboy teams last season, are among the top high school entries.

Southland Five Cops Thriller Over Idalou

IDALOU, Feb. 9 (Special) — Leading until the final seconds of the ball game, the Idalou Wildcats were nosed out here tonight by the Southland cagers, 30-29, in a cage thriller that featured a triple header card.

Becknell scored 24 of the Idalou points for the most sensational bit of work of the night. Field paced the winners with 11 points, closely pressed by Lancester, who dropped in 10 points.

The Idalou B team had little trouble in winning over Southland B team, 34-5, with Heinrich setting the pace with 10 points, closely followed by Steely with eight.

The Idalou girls won over Southland in the second game of the night, 38-20, with Sawyers dropping in 18 points for the winners. Minning was high scorer for the losers with 12 points.

McSpaden Leads At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9. (AP) — Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the steady man from Sanford, Me., topped a field of 104 professionals and amateurs in the opening round of the $5,000 New Orleans Open golf tournament today by touring the difficult course in a 4-under par 68.

Twice Number 2 man and twice third but never winner of the open here, McSpaden got a 2-under par 35 on the front nine and stroked the last nine in 33, also two-under par. He finished his first day's work with 4 birdies and 14 pars.

While McSpaden was making his early bid for first prize in the all war bond event, six other pros were also blasting par. Byron Nelson, Toledo, Ohio, leading money winner of the winter series, Claude Harmon, Grosse Point, Mich., Bryan Winters, Dallas, Tex., and Denny Shute, Akron, Ohio, turned in 2-under par 70's.

Nelson's card showed 34-36—70, Harmon's 36-34—70, Shute 36-34—70 and Winters 37-33—70.

Veteran Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Johnny Bulla, Chicago, Ill., each shot one-under par 71. Bulla arrived by plane one hour before starting competition and turned in an unusual card of one eagle, 5 birdies, 6 pars and 6 bogies for the 18 holes.

Chick Rutan, Birmingham, Mich., Toney Penna, Dayton, Ohio, and Leonard Dodson, San Francisco, Calif., and Mike Turnesa, White Plains, N. Y., all equalled par 72.

Stocky Slammin' Sammy Snead, Hot Springs, Va., who was heavily favored in pre-tournament rating along with McSpaden, Nelson, Henry Picard, and Sammy Byrd, disappointed the largest gallery of the day by traveling the course in a 6-over par 78. He had a par 37 on the first nine but used a 6-over 41 on the back row.

Byrd, Detroit, the defending champion, got off to a none too good start with a 39-36—75, and Picard, Harrisburg, Pa., twice champion and holder of the tournament and city park course record, had a 39-37—76.

Duel Of Tall Centers At Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—There'll be ten men playing basketball for a sort of unofficial Midwest-Southwest title in the Chicago stadium tomorrow night, but to the more than 15,000 fans expected to be present, it will be more of a battle between two individuals—two of the nation's outstanding centers.

They are 7-foot Bob Kurland of Oklahoma A. & M., and 6-foot, 9-inch George Mikan of Depaul university.

The two have gained nationwide reputations during the past two years as they led their teams into national prominence, not only in regularly scheduled games, but also in National tournaments.

Mikan already has scored 360 points this year while leading his team to 16 victories in 17 starts.

Kurland's average is 16.44 points per game, and Mikan's is slightly under 22 points. But whether Mikan can fatten that average at the expense of the taller Cowboy is what the fans want to see.

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—James W. Standifer, chairman of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation announced today that plans have been completed for the annual state championship basketball tournament in Austin March 16 and 17.

Dangerous Paternalism

It's The People Who Are "Big"

U. S. Diplomats in Washington cautiously whisper that the current "Big Three" meeting is the most crucial international pow-wow of all time; that out of it will come either peace and an ordered world for 50 years, or the setting for another war a few years hence.

If this is true, it is hoped that the three principals of the conference will see fit to advise their "subjects" of all information surrounding the pow-wow, including who promised what to whom and why.

Especially is it to be hoped that President Roosevelt will, at long last, see fit to take into his complete confidence the free people of the U. S. A.

Thus far, the American public hasn't been told what, exactly, has been done, or planned, or promised at Quebec, Teheran, or even in connection with the stuffy Dumbarton Oaks conference, doubtless on the premise that "papa knows best and little children mustn't ask questions."

Of course, the "little children" are those who are summoned to furnish the blood, the sweat and the tears inevitably connected with any great national endeavor, more especially the prosecution of a war. But this fact, sadly, is sometimes overlooked; it falls yictim to a paternal complex which, however well meaning, is dangerous.

If they have not already done so, Messrs. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin might well consider—either singly or among themselves—that the term "Big Three," as applied to their conference, refers to the "Big Three" of the United Nations, not to the individual heads of those states.

The people Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill serve, and those Marshal Stalin rules, must always be more important than their representatives.

We May Forgive The Bard!

FOR his immortal Hamlet, the great William Shakespeare wrote: "What a piece of work is man! how noble in reason! how infinite in faculty! in form and moving how express and admirable in action how like an angel! in apprehension how like a god! the beauty of the world! the paragon of animals!"

Perhaps the Bard of Avon was indulging in a bit of irony.

But if he wrote those lines with sincere intent, we men of today may excuse him if only on the premise Shakespeare could not possibly have foreseen teh current men humanity has wrought around the globe

Actions Speak Louder, Etc.

ADMIRAL WILLIAM F. HALSEY once predicted that the war in the Pacific would end in 1944. As a prognosticator he is an outstanding sea fighter.

The extent of Admiral Halsey's eminence as a naval commander is attested by the fact that in five months of action his Third Fleet has done more damage to the Japanese than any other fleet in history has inflicted on an enemy.

According to the admiral's reports, the Third Fleet has sunk the tremendous total of 1,017,000 tons of Japanese warships and merchant vessels and destroyed 4,370 Japanese planes in the air and on the ground. In warships alone, the Third Fleet has put out of action 152, including eight battleships. It has sent 573 support and merchant ships to the bottom.

Forces under Admiral Halsey's command have dealt Japanese seapower blows from which it can never recover. His prediction about the end of the Pacific war was wrong, but when the struggle actually does come to an end, his record of naval destruction wreaked upon the enemy wil have been a vital factor in Japan's defeat.

Offhand, we shouldn't have thought it against the law to leave an elephant out in the rain all night, but a man was arrested in New York the other day for doing just that.

An excellent way to start money to circulating when the next depression comes would be to subsidize the fools with plenty of spending money.

A lot of the current music (so called) as played by swing-screech bands sounds to us like a community cat-fight with an outboard motor accompainment.

Note to youth of both sexes: You have no cause to fear that you may not be attractive to the opposite sex. Nature arranged this matter in your favor many eons ago.

No one has ever been able successfully to mix romance and rheumatism.

Simile: As disillusioning as looking at oneself in a three-way mirror.

WHEN NEW YORK WAS YOUNG

II

It snowed heavily on the night of the fourth day of December of the year 1750. On the morning of the fifth Major Lawrence walked to his office.

He wore a plum-colored square-cut coat which reached to his knees and flared out from the waist downward. His knee breeches were of black broadcloth. His vest, or doublet, was of dark yellow silk with flowery designs on it. There were lace ruffles on his shirt front and at his wrists. He wore a three-cornored cocked hat. At his side he wore a sword buckled around his waist, beneath his coat. As a protection from the weather he carried over his shoulders a whittle or shawl.

The Major was an importer; he had correspondents in the West Indies, and on the African coast. From the islands of the West Indies came molasses (to be made into rum), raw sugar, and various tropical fruits. From the coast of Africa his ship brought slaves —not to New York, but to South Carolina—for at that period black slaves had become so numerous in New York that their prices had collapsed and the trade in them was no longer profitable.

He did not have much to do at his place of business on this snowy day, so he returned home shortly after noon and had his dinner. As soon as the meal was over he went into his library, leaving word that he was not to be disturbed by anyone, as he had much work to do. He remembered suddenly, however, that this was the fifth of the month, so he turned to Dykins, his man servant, and said, "That does not apply to Miss Fraser. If she comes brings her in at once."

The Major had no work to do in the library and Dykins knew it. His seclusion for two or three afternoons a week on the pretense of attending to his personal affairs was one of the polite fictions of the household. He was accustomed to spend these quiet afternoons in pipe smoking and reading, or in playing solitaire. Sometimes he would take a nap on the sofa.

In the course of the afternoon the Major would do a good deal of drinking.

On this wintry day a fire of cedar logs blazed in the huge fireplace. In that era grates were unknown, so the fire was laid directly on the surface stones that formed the surface of the hearth. Above the fireplace there ran across the chimney a thick, heavy mantel. At each end of it stood a candle in a silver candlestick.

The Major and his wife had a handsome and valuable collection of silverware which they kept in a locked closet on the second floor.

In colonial times banks did not exist in America, and the necessary amount of silverware in the homes of the well-to-do took the place of bank accounts. It could always be turned into money quickly.

Besides the bookcases filled with flowery designs, and six chairs.

The desk was so typical of the 18th century that it might as well be selected as the most representative piece of furniture of that era. It was the kind of desk that was used by Washington, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Jonathan Edwards and thousands of lawyers, doctors and men of business. It was narrow and tall. The writing surface was hardly wide enough for two sheets of paper. The upright portion rose to the height of about six feet. It had glass doors and serveral shelves for papers and books and drawers in the lower part of the desk which could be locked.

The materials for writing lay in a recess on the same level as the writing surface. There was an ornate inkwell of brass, a metal holder containing three goose-quill pens, and a silver shaker of fine sand to be used in blotting the freshly written sheets. Blotters were unknown and sand was used instead.

On the finely polished mahogany table in the center of the room stood a bowl of long-stemmed pipes, a silver tobacco box, and a large candelabrum with branches for six candles. Also a flint-and-steel fire-maker, which was used occasionally for lighting pipes when the candles were not yet lighted and there was no fire on the hearth. The fire-maker consisted of a piece of flint held immovably in place by metal prongs. The flint could be struck by a hammer like that belonging to a musket, by cocking the hammer and pulling a trigger. The spark, thus created, fell into a little metal box filled with cotton, or lint, or fine wood shavings. The smoker then transferred the burning lint to the bowl of his pipe.

Dykins knocked at the door, opened it a few inches and peeped. "Miss Fraser has come," he said. It was then about 3 o'clock.

The Major replaced the book he was reading and took another from a bookcase near at hand. He had been reading Aphra Behn's novel, The Nun, or the Perjured Beauty, and the book he took in its place was Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. He did not consider the gabby and flamboyant Mrs. Behn's piece of fiction immortal but it was light and amusing, and after all Miss Matilda Fraser was a teacher of young girls, so he thought it better, as a matter of policy, to have her find him engaged in a more serious occupation than the reading of a trashy novel.

Legislation Favoring Wallace Is Stymied

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP) — Legislation designed to insure Henry A. Wallace's confirmation for a cabinet job was stymied in the House Rules committee today after a noisy debate studded with charges of "horse trading."

The committee failed to reach a conclusion whether to send to the House floor the Senate passed George Bill divorcing the RFC from the Commerce department, prior to a Senate vote on Wallace's nomination as commerce secretary.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga), rules member, declared there had been a "horse trade" between the Senate and White House, whereby the Senate would not pass on confirmation of the former vice president until March 1.

Decision was postponed until next Wednesday.

The Anti-Wallace faction, with some Democrats aligned with the Republicans, dominates the rules group, and is seeking to shelve the George Bill in committee or send it to the floor open to amendments which would repeal a part of the President's war powers, and also take the commerce secretary off the export import bank.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WE have lived in this Connecticut community of ours for five months now and we have learned a lot.

Maybe you people who have lived in small towns and villages all your lives think that it is the big cities where you get your most valuable experiences.

That isn't so at all. I have learned more about life in this village of 500 than I ever did learn in New York.

BRANDEIS

Do you know the most valuable thing I have learned?

The verity of the old French saying "the more things are different the more they are the same."

Of course I do admit, that the best way to learn is by comparison.

You should not have too much of the same all the time—you appreciate the good in people much more when you know the bad in them; you put much greater value on the quiet, peaceful life of your little home town after a siege of the big city.

But people are the same all over the world.

In my work I try to see as much of life as I can. I go to night clubs and theaters and to the meetings of my village board and to church suppers, because it is by comparing people that you get to know them.

And I tell you that there isn't much difference between Julius Mudry who plows my driveway for me and Walter Winchell, Jack Dempsey or Frank Sinatra.

Julius loves to be told that he has done a good job. Being second selectman of our village he can strut his stuff at the meetings and you ought to see him throw out his chest when the audience applauds him. Nor could Frankie be any prouder of his singing than Julius on Sundays in the choir of St. Joseph's church.

Do you think only small-town folks and country people gossip?

I wish you could join us at a night club some evening and hear the celebrities gossiping about each other.

And if you think that all the scandals are confined to New York and Hollywood, just come out to Broowfield some time and I'll tell you some of the choicest you ever heard.

I got it all from the neighbors who called on us, as neighbors will call on newcomers to a community.

AND don't you think there is much difference between New Englanders and Southerners and Californians and Brooklynites.

They all take the same patent medicines, they all react to the same things, they all love and hate and envy and pray and are born and live and get sick and die.

The New Englander may be a little more frostbitten than the Southerner but you'll appreciate that if you have ever gone through a New England winter like I am doing now.

The Californian may brag a little more than the Brooklynite, but if you have been in Brooklyn, you can't blame him.

I think the best way to get the most out of life is to learn to get along with people. And the best way to get along with people is to like them.

I get a lot of letters from all over the country, and no matter whether they are from Indiana or Pennsylvania, from Oregon or Georgia, from Ohio or New Hampshire they all agree on two things —half that I am a great guy, the other half that I am a no-good-son-of-a-gun.

And that's probably what they say about you, too.

Veterans Dissatisfied

Find GI Bill Partly A Delusion

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THOUSANDS of returned veterans have come to the unhappy conclusion that the so-called GI Bill of Rights, as well as many other pledges of a nation's gratitude for their heroism, were only so many political promises. It is not a pleasant subject to discuss, but their letters of disillusionment flood Capitol Hill, the Veterans administration and, because he has proposed remedial measures in former columns, they make heavy the writer's mail.

The communications come from men who first learned of the inadequacies of the National Service Insurance act from reprintings of this correspondent's previous comments in Army-Navy newspapers and magazines. They arrive from fathers and mothers whose sons have already died, and whose beneficiaries now discover that their youngsters were sold a phony contract by Uncle Sam. So a recapitulation of the generous pledges and shabby performance in carrying them out is timely.

TUCKER

Timely because the youths who relied on their government's good faith are dying by the thousand a day, according to the War department's official records. And the well and wounded who want the Congress to correct the blunders are reaching this country in droves every week.

Their complaints are not directed only against the insurance phase of the laws supposedly enacted for their benefit, although that represents the most disheartening aspect of the problem. They have learned that provisions for educating and hospitalizing them are wholly inadequate. They have found that the hastily drawn Surplus Property act leaves them out of luck, although it professes to give them preferential treatment.

PROPOSALS: Despite heavy pressure from the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled Veterans, Congress has not yet considered remedial legislative save for introduction of corrective measures. No hearings have yet been held, although the urgency for action was called to the lawmakers' attention as early as last summer. Here is the situation:

John E. Rankin of Mississippi, chairman of the House World War Veterans Legislation committee, framed the necessary amendements at the last session, but they never got anywhere. He has reintroduced his proposal at this session, with the backing of the three veterans' organizations named above, and it is known now as House Resolution 574.

Former Sen. Bennett Clark of Missouri, who was defeated in the 1944 primary, put a companion measure before the Senate that was listed in the Seventy-eighth session as Senate 1970. It has been advanced at the Seventy-ninth by Sen. Ernest McFarland of Arizona under the title of Senate 112.

So far no move has been made to hold hearings on these vital recommendations, although changes in the law are needed immediately for the sake of thousands of widows and orphans. Public pressure in the form of letters to Messrs. Rankin and McFarland, as well as appeals to Speaker Rayburn and Vice President Truman, might get action.

FLAWS: Letters of returning soldiers point out flaws in the National Service Insurance act which were not detected on Capitol Hill or at the Veterans administration. The youngsters are especially upset over their belated discovery that their beneficiaries cannot collect the $10,000 policy in a lump sum, as was provided in the 1917 legislation. Few were informed of this key change when they signed up.

Payments under existing law average about $50 a month to the beneficiary, hardly enough to take care of the rent or the food budget plus a small supply of clothing. On the other hand, if the widow were given the $10,000 in a single check, she would be able to buy a house or complete installments on one already purchased.

Thus she could have a home for herself and family, and earn an income by taking lodgers and boarders. Or she might invest the full amount in a small business. Anyway, the soldiers regard the present system as a dole, whereas they look on outright disbursement of the face value of the policy as their just due.

Administration experts who framed this legislation, which was put together and passed in haste soon after enactment of the Selective Service act, offer several arguments against the lump sum method.

They suggest that young war widows might spend the money foolishly if they suddenly found themselves with $10,000 on their hands. But their principal objection is that simultaneous payments of thousands of claims for that amount would precipitate dangerous price inflation and depreciate the real value of the disbursements.

BENEFICIARIES: Another provision which needs amendment can possibly deprive bereaved relatives of the full $10,000 payment. Here is how this clause operates:

The first beneficiary receives the maximum sum if he or she lives long enough to collect, or about 20 or 30 years. But if the original claimant dies before obtaining the total due, the secondary beneficiary enjoys the original annual payments for only 10 years, and the amounts sent to the first legatee are deducted.

Thus, if a wife dies after receiving $50 a month for two years—or $1,200—her contingent beneficiary, a son or daughter, would be eligible to the same schedule of payments only for the remaining eight years of the ten. The child would be given $4,800. The combined amounts disbursed would be $6,000 instead of $10,000.

Pending revision of the basic law, veterans should name two contingent beneficiaries in addition to their original choice. That, is, they should name a wife and two children, or a wife, a child, and if they have only one youngster, a parent. By that arrangement there is a better chance of collecting the full amount.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

PHYSICIANS arriving in New York from the western front disclose that the most common ailments right now are foot troubles, aggravated by the winter.

A relatively new injury, called "march fracture," is prevalent; there are few cases of it in the records of the last war. Extensive training and prolonged hiking cause muscular fatigue. The letdown of protective ligaments opens the way for small bones in the feet to "crack."

LEMAN

As only slight pain is noticeable at first, the soldier is likely to pay little attention to it until subsequent swelling sends him to the hospital. Medical authorities say that this disability is much more common in the Swiss and German armies, brought on by goose-stepping on hard surfaces.

"Trench foot," the bugaboo of Haig-Pershing days, no longer is so serious. Doctors have learned how to prevent and treat it from studies of campaigns in Norway and Russia and in the snow-capped Italian mountains. By clinical observations—especially in the two Russo-Finnish wars—they have also made many discoveries about frostbite.

Here And There In Texas

Rainey's Successor Discussed

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN. — The University of Texas is not likely to have a new president before beginning of the fall term, but seems to be getting along pretty well, thank you, under the temporary direction of Dr. Theophilus Shickel Painter, acting president and a professor of Zoology.

Regents who were appointed by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson between sessions of the legislature announced they did not want to select a president until they are confirmed, so action necessarily has been deferred. Regents named by the governor now have been confirmed, so re-instatement of Dr. Homer Price Rainey seems definitely out.

Two Are Eleminated

Acting President Painter dealt himself out of consideration as permanent president when he accepted the temporary appointment at the request of a faculty group.

Dr. John Alton Burdine, who was vice-president, also eliminated himself by resignation from the vice-presidency. He made it plain he did so on account of the Rainey controversy — in other words if Rainey is out permanently, Burdine is too.

Whether the feeling developed within the faculty and student body over the Rainey situation would permit any Austin faculty member to take over the presidency was somewhat doubtful. General opinion was that someone who has not been on the campus during the controversy will be selected.

The university has four branches off the campus, besides the College for Negroes at Prairie View. These are A. & M. college and the College of Mines at El Paso, the Medical branch at Galveston and the Dental college at Houston.

Gibb Gilchrist, a University of Texas graduate, is now the president of A. & M.; Dr. Chauncey Leake (who is not a physician) is head of the Medical branch since its devorcement from Dr. Rainey's supervision; and Dr. Dossie Marion Wiggins heads the School of Mines, which, in addition to its technical courses, has usual college courses.

Wiggins, born in Louisiana, educated at Hardin-Simmons, Yale, and the University of Chicago, has been in Texas school work at Burkburnett, Vernon and Canadian; was dean of Hardin-Simmons and at the College of Mines has been noted for having full confidence of Regents.

His designation for University President would not greatly surprise many people who have watched the situation.

The Dental college is a recent addition with a technical staff.

Would Change Tune

Rep. Arthur Cato, Weatherford, was swamped with letters on his proposal to change Texas from Central War time to Mountain War time for the duration, thereafter returning to central standard time.

That would mean Texans in a large part of the state would change their timepieces one hour, actually putting the state on uniform time. A portion of the state around El Paso is governed by mountain standard time now.

From throughout the state Cato received letter-written and printed praise following a United Press story of his proposal.

Inspiration for the time change came while Cato was working at Consolidated Aircraft plant near Fort Worth. He resided about two miles from the plant, having to ride a bus to work each morning before dawn. Along the road he said scorces of school children would be huddled in the dark waiting for a bus.

This was too much for Cato, who also fills in for pharmacists in nine drug stores in Weatherford when they are ill or on vacation. So the time bill was introduced and he hopes to steer it into law.

REPRESENTATIVES are going to have more room for their committee sessions, but in the process of getting the additional space, El Paso's two veteran representatives opposed each other in one of the few instances they are ever at odds.

Rep. S. J. Isaacks proposed that the state auditor's office and school census bureau be moved from quarters behind the House gallery which they had taken over. The space in former years was used by the House, but crowded conditions caused by the school census and the auditing departments to be put there.

Isaacks was in the process of getting the resolution passed when Rep. W. W. Bridgers made a motion, which carried, for the House to adjourn. Isaacks didn't know what happend until members started walking out.

Friendship Is Sustained

Not discouraged, days later Isaacks had the resolution called up. Bridgers said moving the departments would create unnecessary expense and confusion, and that the House could get along without the space for the few months it is in session every two years.

Some members thought of senators having private offices and telephones, while representatives do not and more than 30 typewriters used by House stenographers are crowded into a corridor behind the House chamber.

The fact that Isaack's resolution was adopted and the departments will have to vacate didn't dent the close friendship which exists between the El Pasoans.

Before World War II, U. S. manufacturers exported approximately $125,000,000 worth of farm machines a year.

Sweeping Plan For Central Intelligence Service Is Divulged

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—A copyrighted dispatch to the Chicago Tribune today said President Roosevelt had received a draft of an order together with a proposal to establish a "central intelligence service," charged with coordination of postwar intelligence work and superseding existing federal police agencies.

The paper's Washington bureau, in an article by Walter Trohan, said the "highly confidential and secret" memorandum was given Mr. Roosevelt by Brig. Gen. William J. Donovan, director of the office of strategic services. The office would have no police power.

Copy Of Memorandum

The Tribune asserted it had "secured exclusively" a copy of the memorandum, and added:

"The Tribune also obtained a copy of an equally secret suggested draft of an order setting up the general intelligence service, which would supersede all existing federal police and intelligence units, including military intelligence, naval intelligence, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Secret Service, the internal revenue agents, and the Federal Communications commission which monitors all radio airways. The order gives the unit a wholesale grant of power."

The agency, with an "independent budget," would have seven principal functions, according to the article. These would be: coordination of "all intelligence agencies of the government," to assure "integration of national intelligence efforts."

Other Proposals

Collection of "pertinent information" on foreign nations; evaluation and dissemination of this information; procurement and training of personnel; "subversive operations abroad;" determination of policies "essential to the collection of information;" such other activities as the President may require;

And finally, the agency "'shall have no police or law enforcement functions, either at home or abroad."

Under this order, the Tribune said, it would be possible for the director "to determine American foreign policy by weeding out, withholding, or coloring information gathered at his direction."

PRICES RETREAT FURTHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP) — Financial markets generally continued their retreat today as the persistently good war news, combined with other circumstances, inspired extension of the light selling which got under way Thursday.

Losses ran to 2 or more points after a slightly uneven opening but extreme setbacks were reduced in most cases. Distillers, specialties, and scattered industrials managed to finish ahead. Transfers approximately 1,180,000 shares compared with 1,530,000 the day before.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .4 of a point at 59.6, its second decline since Jan. 30.

Secondary railway bonds eased.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP) — The cotton market turned strong today in late dealings as short covering and mill buying demand met a scarcity of offerings with closing prices 15 to 25 cents a bale higher.

Early liquidating pressure was attributed to the favorable war news but failure of the selling to follow through brought a reversal in the trend.

Manila Fighting

last reported in the vicinity of Nichols airfield, on the south fringe of the Philippine capital. Prime objective of the 37th division, which crossed the Pasig river in amphibious tanks Thursday, was the south Manila dock area.

Fires set by enemy demolition squads still smoldered throughout the city. Gaunt steel or concrete skeletons of buildings grimly testified to the enemy's persistence in destroying what he could not hold.

(Tokyo radio said Friday that the main Japanese forces had been withdrawn, leaving behind only enough troops "to maintain peace and order." Military stores and installations, it added, had been destroyed or remover).

P-T Boats Sweep Coastline

McArthur announced in his Saturday communique that American P-T boats swept the Luzon coastlines, destroying "many" small enemy craft.

Liberators dropped 56 tons of bombs on troop concentrations on northern Cebu island in the central Philippines, starting several fires.

Borneo, receiving increasing attention from American bombers, was given a 60-ton pasting concentrated on Sepingan and Manggar airdromes near Balikpapan and Lubuan airfield at Bruneil.

The Yanks who crossed the Pasig river into south Manila in amphibious tanks Thursday encountered mined streets and well-entrenched gun positions as they advanced 2,000 yards. It was clear that the fight to clear south Manila, and the highly-congested intramuros district in particular, would be long and bitter.

(NBC reporter George Thomas Folster said the Americans were advancing against heavy opposition from enemy troops in reinforced concrete pillboxes and heavy fire from office buildings.

"The Japs have mounted heavy guns on the second floors of the modern buildings," Folster said. "They are firing down on the American troops practically over open sights, and they are shelling the north bank of the Pasig river in an attempt to impede our progress over the river.

"Many of the streets have been found to be heavily mined, and the removal of these mines is being made very difficult because the Japs are keeping covering shellfire over the whole sector.

("Most of the enemy's big guns and mortars appear to be still intact, for they are continuing a heavy, arresting fire over much of the city of Manila.")

Firm U. S. Policy In Orient Urged

America must take a firm hand in the writing of the peace for the Far East so that "colonial imperialism" no longer exists in that area or the sacrifice of lives in this war will have been in vain, Dr. Syud Hossain, professor of Oriental civilization at the University of California, declared in a talk before members of the Lubbock Knife and Fork club Thursday night in Lubbock hotel.

"America must have a part in cleaning up Asia or the foundation will be laid for a third great World war," Dr. Hossain warned "If after the close of the war against Japan, we haven't the mentality for a better world for all, then these sacrifices will have been in vain . . . In the writing of the peace, the only thing that matters is the redemption of our common humanity . . .

World As An Entity

"How are you going to make world peace when you haven't begun to visualize the world as an entity? . . . Until you consider it as such, you're not going to have world peace . . . And if you fail to consider India, with one-fifth of the world's population, and China, with one-fourth of it, you're failing to cope with a tragic problem . . ."

Dr. Hossain traced briefly India of the past and India of today and declared that the "British theory has been that India was a sort of a private reserve and no one was allowed to look over the fence." Britain has held her power over India because of her naval power and has been living off the fat of India for more than 100 years and is naturally reluctant to let go of it, he declared.

Natural Orient Allies

Pointing out that a European coalition of Great Britain, Russia, the various free peoples and the United States has the Axis at bay in Europe but that America is shouldering the burden of the war against Japan, Dr. Hossain declared that China and India are the only natural allies of America in the war against the Axis in the Orient.

"The fortunes of war and the evolution of history have brought America and India together in this tragic problem," he continued. "America must claim an equivalent right in the making of the peace when the war against the Japs is ended . . .

"Mr. Churchill has declared that 'We will hold what we have', but Mr. Churchill and the remainder of the imperialists of Europe didn't hold what they had and the Japanese cut through Singapore, Indo-China, the Malayan peninsula, Burma and the Netherlands East Indies like a knife does through cheese . . .

"Mr. Churchill and his kind are expecting American to fight the Japs and hand back those territories when the war is ended, even though the British flag hasn't appeared in the Pacific against the Japs since the fall of Hong Kong and Singapore," he continued.

"All groups in India want freedom of their country despite the British alibi that they have to be in India to keep peace between the religious groups . . . The British are practitioners of the old Roman maxim of 'divide and rule' . . . a kind of a game which has about played out, and furthermore, is the kind of a game which is not worth playing anymore."

Dr. Hossain was introduced by Dr. H. L. Kent of the Texas Tech faculty. Durwood Bradley, club president, presided at the dinner and announced the next dinner meeting for March 8.

Bishop Warns On Harsh Peace Terms

LONDON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Taking a stand against imposition of a hard peace on Germany and Japan, the Bishop of Birmingham asserted today that the Germans would become strong again even under a yoke and that harsh terms would only hasten a new war.

The bishop, Dr. Ernest W. Barnes, told a meeting of the National Peace council that no Christian could approve some peace terms which have been "hinted" at, adding that they would "bring undeserved suffering to millions of unimportant Germans powerless to influence their country's policy."

"Punishment of so-called war criminals is a matter of little importance," he said. "However, this might be useful as an outlet for popular passion and a Christian might allow that in certain cases it was deserved."

Russian Advances

southeast of Stargard, big communications center on the Stettin-Danzig railway and highway, with the capture of Brallentin, 29 miles from Stettin.

The Russians gained up to 11 miles in their swift move to reach Stettin and seal off thousands of German troops in Pomerania in a movement similar to their recent encirclment of 20 to 25 Nazi divisions in East Prussia.

Moscow dispatches said there was a possibility of catching a similar number of divisions in Pomerania, the Polish corridor and Danzig, a 13,500-square-mile territory on the right flank of Zhukov's central salient menancing Berlin.

800 Prisoners Taken

At the northeastern end of the Russian front, moving toward the Baltic, Soviet units captured Glambeck in a five mile advance northeast of Reetz, taken Thursday, and at the southwestern end other forces sized Ploenzig in a seven-mile advance northwest of Bernstein.

Eight hundred German prisoners were taken in Thursday's operations, for a two-day total of 2,600 in that area.

Moscow did not mention the Silesian sector, but Berlin said that it was "the center of gravity" at present on the Eastern front, and that Marshal Ivan S. Konev was atacking with "several armies" on a 145-mile front between Glogau, 54 miles northwest of Breslau, and Ratibor, near the Czechoslovakian frontier in the south.

Battleships In Action

Berlin's high command said that the Nazi pocket battleship Luetzow and several torpedo boats had been shelling the Russians near Elbing in aid of the ground garrison, and a late German broadcast said that Russian troops despite this offshore fire had broken into the heart of Elbing.

Four hundred and 75 miles to the south units of another Soviet Army captured 15 more blocks in western part of Budapest, Hungarian capital, and took more than 900 prisoners.

The Anakara radio earlier had broadcast a report that the long siege finally had ended. While this dispatch was premature reports from Moscow indicated that less tha none German division still was holding out and predicted their early annihilation or capture.

Five Alarms Keep Firemen Busy Here

Fire destroyed a stack of feed and did slight damage to a barn and shed at McIlhaney Dairy farm on the Tahoka highway Friday afternoon, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said.

The blaze provided one of five alarms answered yesterday by the fire department department.

Fire charred the mid-section of a bridge in Mackenzie State park early last night. The bridge was not damaged beyond use, firemen said.

Slight damage reportedly resulted at 4:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon of fire which broke out in a machine at Blackwell Mattress factory, 2608 Texas Ave. It was the second fire at the factory in recent weeks.

Firemen squelched flames which fed on grass, trash and a fence at 1929 Ave. N yesterday morning. Another grass fire took them to 1903 Tenth.

BOFFIN FUNERAL SET

LAREDO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Funeral services will be held in San Antonio tomorrow for Mrs. Julia Boffin, 86, who died here yesterday. Survivors include a grandson, Ed Cole of San Antonio, and a daughter, Mrs. C. R. Cole of Laredo.

Condition Of Truck Victim Is Critical

Condition of Jimmie Horton, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Horton of Denver City, who was critically injured about 8 o'clock Thursday night near Seagraves when a truck of the S. and G. Truckline ran over him, was said to be unchanged late Friday night by attendants at West Texas hospital.

The youth, who was brought to West Texas hospital about 12:30 o'clock Friday morning, is suffering a crushed chest, ruptured bladder and comminuted fracture of the pelvis.

According to reports from Denver City, Jimmie, who is employed by the truckline, stepped out of the truck to pick up a winch line and apparently fell under the wheels. The truck wheels passed over his body.

The truckline is owned by George Richardson and Ben Eggink.

Mrs. C. W. Byers Dies At Monahans Friday

Mrs. C. W. Byers, about 48, former Lubbock resident, died at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at her home in Monahans, according to a telegram received last night by friends here.

The body is to arrive this afternoon at Rix Funeral home and funeral services will be conducted here at a date yet unannounced.

Mr. Byers formerly was associated with J. B. Maxey, Lubbock contractor. The Byers' own a home at 2108 Sixteenth.

Survivors include her husband and a son, who is in armed service somewhere in the Pacific.

Western Front

mounting battle at the northern hinge of the Western front, where Canadians and Tommies were slogging through the mud against still relatively light resistance about 360 miles from the Russians on the Eastern front.

In the second day of the offensive they already were well into the Reichswald — a forst protecting Kleve from the west — and were hacking into the Siegfried line after passing through what veterans troopers called "the valley of death."

This valley of death was one their own shells and guns had created — a scene of devastation marked by flaming houses, trees and vehicles, shattered gun positions, and flattened earthworks.

A front dispatch, emphasizing that for security reasons the extent of the eastward push could not be disclosed, declared that it was difficult to see how the enemy could hold back the crushing weight of men and armor which had been thrown into the assault.

Four hundred British bombers and fighterbombers pounded enemy positions ahead of the ground troops, while nearly 1,200 other warplanes bombed communication lines in an attempt to seal off the front from enemy reinforcements trying to come up.

At least six more towns were taken today to add to the eight which were seized in the first day and night of battle.

Strongpoints Neutralized

The strongest resistance was coming from the Reichswald, but even these naturally strong positions were gradually being neutralized by assaults from the north, west and southwest.

It was possible that at some point the attack had carried through the first of three defense belts which make up the Westwall on this front.

Allied tactical air might was stayed by rain clouds.

Enemy movement northward from the Venlo area on the British Second Army front suggested the Germans were weakening their forces there to try to stem the Canadian drive.

The attack had carried well into the first belt of Siegfried line defenses, and even in the Reichswald the mop-up was proceeding rapidly. The British on the southern flank were held up by house-to-house fighting in the Dutch village of Bruuk before breaking into the Reichswald.

Flatlands Flooded

The Germans, apparently fearing another attack from Holland positions north of Kleve, began flooding the flatlands north of Nijmegen.

To the south, where the First Army is threatening to break out into the Cologne plain, the 78th division advanced to within machinegun range of the giant Schwammenauel dam behind one of the heaviest artillery barrages ever fired by that Army.

A front dispatch said considerable water was running down from the dam. The outlets appeared to be blown, but the Germans had not yet tried to destroy it and send a flood rampaging down the Roer valley.

Canadian Drive Stirs Hope That Major Allied Offensive Starting

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The British-reinforced Canadian Army drive into Nazi permanent Siegfried line defenses stirred hope that General Eisenhower is ready to resume the winter Allied offensive practically checkmated by the German counter surge in December.

SIMPSON

It is still too early, however, for even German staff experts to be certain that either the Canadian thrust, off to a good start in the north, or the combined operations of the American First and Third armies, working their way to the headwaters of the Roer and Urft rivers to the south, constitutes the main front of the Allied drive. Both could be preliminaries for greater blows in the center where the American Ninth Army and the British Second Army lie along the west banks of the Roer and the Maas, already deep within the fortifications of the Siegfried defense wall.

Nazis Shifting Troops

If the Canadian drive is in part a diversionary attack to draw German reserves northward, it is already achieving that purpose to some extent. Allied air scouts report heavy enemy troop movements behind the lines to the Kleve sector in which the Canadians are attacking.

It seems obvious in view of well confirmed reports of heavy German withdrawals on the west front to back up the Oder line in the east, tottering under Russian blows, that only by thinning out reserves on the Roer and the Maas could troops be found quickly enough to prevent a decisive Canadian break-through. It is also highly significant that the Canadians went into action just as American forces well to the south were closing in on the last and biggest Roer resevoir and its dam.

Remains Big Menace

So long as any of the major dams impounding flood waters at the head of the Roer or the Urft remain in enemy hands, they offer a grave threat to attempts farther north by the Ninth Army or British Second Army to cross the Roer or the Maas in force.

On the Canadian front southeast of Nijmegen in the Rhine bend corner of Holland, such floods offer no serious obstacle. Flood waters would have lost much of their menace and be largely dissipated via Dutch canal systems by the time they reached so far north. That fact made the German hold on the Roer dams immaterial and probably accounted for the fact that the Canadians were selected to make the second but probably not the final move in the deadly chess game Eisenhower has opened against the last German defenses guarding the Rhine.

Nurses Want All-Out Draft Plan Or None

The American Nurses association said today it would accept a nurse's draft "only as a first step in a Selective Service act for all women."

The association recommended instead a federally-financed recruitment program to be at least comparable in scope to those employed in enlisting WACs and Waves.

ANA President Katharine J. Densford outlined the association's views to the House Military committee, which is considering President Roosevelt's request for a nurses' draft law.

The ANA believes, she said in a statement prepared for the committee, "that the problem now presented may be dealt with by some federal agency, adequately implemented with funds, personnel and authority, and a federally-financed recruitment program promptly instituted."

Calling for a women's Selective Service act in the event a nurse's draft course is decided upon, Miss Densford added:

"This should be supplemented by a general service act in order that our drastically reduced civilian nursing service may be augmented by help from other groups of women."

Salary Of $25,000 Proposed For Texas University President

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (U.P.)—A salary of $25,000 a year for president of th oil-rich University of Texas, proposed by State Sen. Fred Mauritz of Ganado, was expected today to widen the scope in which the new board of regents may seek a successor to deposed President Homer Price Rainey.

Dr. Rainey was brought to the university in 1939 when the salary was raised from $10,000 a year to $17,500. That put it ahead of the pay of the football coach who formerly had topped the president.

Mauritz in announcing he will propose the raise to the legislature next week said he thought it would enable the regents to get the ablest educator and administrator in the country and show that the University of Texas is continuing to go forward.

Raises for professors and instructors are provided for in general salary bills before the legislature.

The prosed $25,000 a year salary would give the president of the state university more than double the salary of the governor. With it would go a residence. University building plans contemplate a modern one on a site already acquired as soon as building restrictions permit construction.

Water Supply Said Adequate In Manila

MANILA, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Army passed out cheering word today—Manila has and will continue to have water.

As sections of the city were put to the torch by Japanese demolition squads, fears had arisen that the metropolis would be burned down.

The Japanese did succeed in destroying some pumping stations but the army reported today the watershed and reservoir area were not damaged.

The Japanese made preparations to dynamite the principal dam but apparently fled without carrying out the demolition upon the sudden appearance of American troops.

There is an acute food shortage which has not yet been eased. Until the Japanese have been mopped up, the problem will remain serious. It is bound to arise wherever a large civilian population center becomes a theater of active military operations.

The Japanese cut Manila off from outside food supplies early in December when they began troop movements northeastward. Rain fell in Manila early this morning, dampening scattered fires caused by intermittent explosions in the southern part last night.

The University of Paris was the model for Oxford and Cambridge.

Nazis Strike Back Against Fifth Army

ROME, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Germans have launched a counter-attack in company strength against positions newly regained by the Fifth army in the Serchio valley north of Gallicano, Allied headquarters announced today.

The official report said fighting still was in progress.

Brisk clashes were reported in other Fifth army sectors, but on the whole there was no large scale action on the front.

Fair weather and higher temperatures prevailed over much of the front, but streams still were out of their banks from thaws in the Fifth and Eighth army sectors. This and German dynamiting of dykes of the Senio river in front of the Eighth near the Adriatic, are likely to prove barriers against an immediate Allied offensive or quick pursuit should the Germans choose to withdraw to the Alps.
