LONGER TRAINING?

150,000 Nazi Troops Ready For Invasion

Aegean Port Of Salonika To Be First Objective

(By The Associated Press)

SOFIA, Mar. 7.—Neutral military observers heard tonight that German troops massed on the Greek and Turkish frontiers may launch an attack from Bulgaria on eastern Macedonia and Thrace "within 48 hours."

More than 150,000 Nazi troops, hundreds of tanks and armored cars already are in position for a quick attack.

Allies Are Watched

With the Axis push expected at any moment, diplomatic observers watched Yugoslavia and Turkey for indications of how those two Balkan entente allies of Greece would behave when Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg army starts rolling.

From the heights south of Zlatograd, the Germans massed on the frontier could see the blue waters of the Aegean sea across the Greek border.

The Aegean port of Salonika, backdoor to the Balkans, would be the first immediate objective of any German thrust across Greece.

It appeared to observers that General Alexander Papagos, commander-in-chief of the Greek army, intended to abandon Thrace as indefensible and attempt to make a stand against the threatened German invasion along the natural bastion of the Struma.

Expect Turkish Help

There were reports that the Greeks already were clearing civilians out of Thrace—the northeastern province along the Turkish border which Bulgaria long has coveted as an outlet to the Aegean sea.

Greek diplomatic quarters here said the Greek army "absolutely will fight any German invasion" and expressed a belief that Turkey would dispatch troops into the Rhodope mountains in Thrace to help stem any Nazi attack.

Line Would Be Compact

The Struma river runs in a generally north and south direction from the Bulgarian border to the Aegean, a distanct of some 60

Officials From 24 Towns In Session

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Much talk but no actions marked the progress of the forenoon session of a conference of city officials of the area in progress at Lubbock hotel today.

Attending the conference were officials of 24 towns, including 22 mayors, and two officials of the League of Texas Municipalities. They are E. E. McAdams, executive director of the league, and C. C. Crutchfield, field representative.

Organization Indicated

Indications were as the afternoon session began that decision likely would be reached during the afternoon to form a regional organization of the state league. The consensus of the numerous officials who spoke was that no desire existed to attempt any organization which would do more than supplement work of the league, which maintains headquarters in Austin.

Nothing was done during the forenoon in connection with rental levies by towns and cities on public utility companies for use of streets and alleys, although that topic apparently was to be a center of attention this afternoon.

Levies Are Permitted

Under a recent holding of the state supreme court, those attending the conference were told by McAdams, cities are permitted to make such levies. The court test, it was explained, resulted from a 4 per cent levy of that kind on the gross receipts of a gas company in a south Texas city.

The supreme court ruling, officials recalled, was followed by proposals from the West Texas Gas company to governing bodies of most of the municipalities it serves in this area that a 2 per cent rental tax be levied upon all of its receipts except those derived from sales to state, city, county, federal and school properties. A recent conference in Canyon which led to the meeting in Lubbock today was marked by disagreement as to the amount of the levy that various towns served by the gas company should make as rental for use of streets and alleys.

During discussions this morning, McAdams reported that legis-

American Chivalry For Skating Star

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 7. (AP)—No less than 2,500 American men want to help Vera Hruba, Czechoslovakian skating star, avoid deportation—by marrying her.

That many proposals, the pretty 19-year-old skater said today, were received after the press publicized her plight. She is threatened with deportation because her passport as an entertainer has expired.

Mrs. Nan Foley of Lafayette, Ind., has interceded on her behalf, Miss Hruba disclosed.

She said she "would rather die than return to Europe."

Sheriff Faces $35,000 Suit

Charging irregular procedure L. T. Warren filed suit in 72nd district court today asking $35,000 in damages against Sheriff B. L. Parker of Lynn county and the surely on his $5,000 official bond, Southern Guaranty Company, Ltd.

In lengthy pleadings, Warren set out that on Jan. 21 Sheriff Parker had filed with James H. Dye, justice of peace, in Lynn county a complaint charging Warren with theft Nov. 8, 1940, of 800 pounds of cotton seed, Warren further charging that:

Arrested In Lubbock

A capias was issued and Ed Sanders, deputy of Sheriff Parker, arrested Warren in Lubbock, in his place of employment and in presence of co-workers, and took him 30 miles to Tahoka, refusing to "take the plaintiff to the nearest magistrate as required by law, although there . . . was . . . a justice of peace in Lubbock . . . before whom the plaintiff could have been taken . . . to accept this plaintiff's plea to the charge . . . and permit him to give bail for his appearance";

Missing Witnesses 'Secure,' Anyway

MAYFIELD, Ky., March 7 (AP)—When a civil suit in which Farland Robbins was an attorney was called in Graves circuit court, Robbins found four of his witnesses had not appeared.

Checking, he discovered one was in the Mayfield city jail, another was in a Paducah jail, a third was serving a prison sentence in Missouri and the fourth was with the Kentucky national guard at Camp Shelby, Miss.

SHIPS ARE SEIZED

LONDON, March 7 (AP)—The admiralty announced today that with the capture of the port of Chrisimalo in Italian Somaliland, five Italian merchant ships totaling 28,153 tons were seized, four others scuttled and a 7,000-ton German vessel was captured, but later sank in tow.

War Tension To Determine New Request

Congress May Ask National Guard To Stay Under Arms

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—War department officials said today the army may ask Congress for authority to keep the national guard in service for an additional six months or a year.

Whether the guardsmen are kept in uniform beyond the current year's period of training will depend, it was explained, on the tenseness of the international situation.

Needed For Training

Some 240,000 guard officers and men have been mobilized thus far under the authority Congress voted last summer.

Should they be demobilized at the conclusion of the current year's service, the army might be faced with a "serious situation" because of a shortage of trained manpower to train the selective service recruits called to the colors under a continuous process, it was explained.

Extension Said Advisable

Some of the difficulties would be offset, however, officials said, by the expansion of the regular army, which has been increased steadily for the last two years to a present total of nearly 500,000 officers and men.

General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was reported to feel that a second year's service for the national guard was advisable in the light of the present international outlook.

Solons Arrive By Airliner For Study Of Tech Budget

Twenty Visitors Aboard; Hearing This Afternoon

By OPAL McMAHON
Journal Staff Writer

Arriving at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon, 20 Texas legislators were met at Municipal airport with an enthusiastic welcome.

It was the first time in Texas legislative history an airplane trip had been made to a hearing, and it was the first time some of the legislators had ever made a long airplane trip.

Had Rough Trip

Going immediately to their hotel rooms, the solons were to be taken to the college after they had been given time to freshen up, and, in some cases, to recover from effects of the air travel. The visitors said the trip was rough from Big Spring, from where the plane flew low after leaving the air beam it had followed from Austin to Fort Worth and to Big Spring.

A late luncheon in the women's dormitory was served due to the fact the plane arrived one hour and 40 minutes behind schedule.

Hearing To Be Held

Scheduled to go into hearing early this afternoon in the office of President Clifford B. Jones, members of appropriations subcommittees were to hear of needs of Texas Technological college for the two year period opening next September.

Arriving here were Sen. R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro, chairman of the sub-committee on appropriations for colleges and universities of the Senate finance committee, and Senators Joe Hill of Henderson, Penrose B. Metcalfe of San Angelo; Kyle Vick of Waco, T. C. Chadick of Mineola, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, John Lee Smith of Throckmorton and Marshall Formby of McAdoo.

Representatives Making Trip

Representatives who made the trip were Rep. W. T. McDonald of Bryan, chairman of the House appropriations committee's sub-committee on colleges and universities appropriations, and Reps. Grady Roberts of Munday, Victor Wattner of Van Zandt county, E. J. Cleveland of Buda, Joe Skiles of Denton, W. W. Bean of Fort Hancock, Sam Hanna of Dallas, Leonard Carlton of Commerce, Clinton Kersey of Bridgeport, Hop Halsey of Lubbock, Obel McAllister of Fort Worth.

Also in the party was Earnest Boyett of Junction, sergeant-at-arms of the House.

Fort Stockton Man Held In Accident

Police said they might file drunk driving charges this afternoon against a 21-year-old Fort Stockton man after, police said:

He rammed into the automobile of Champ Duncan, 29, of 1005 Avenue B, at Thirteenth street and Avenue L.

Slewed around and hit a parked car owned by M. R. Showalter, about 50, of Denver City.

And completed his devastation by plowing into a parked car owned by Mrs. Jack Swain, about 25, of 1620 Avenue M.

Then he sat there and waited for police to arrest him.

No one was injured. The mishap was early this afternoon.

Four Men Banned From Broadcasting Death Row Warnings That There Is "No Way To Win In Crime;" All Claimed By Gallows

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBIA, La., March 7—William Meharg, 25, was the first of four condemned men hanged here today shortly after officers had refused them permission to broadcast prepared statements through radio station KMLB at Monroe. The trap was sprung at 12:09 p. m. C.S.T.

Floyd Boyce, 29, mounted the scaffold second, the trap was sprung at 12:39 and he was pronounced dead at 12:51 p. m. He said nothing.

The trap was sprung on William Heard, 43, at 1:13 p. m. and he was pronounced dead at 1:27 p. m.

William Landers, 39, was the last executed.

As Meharg left the death cell at 12:04 a KMLB radio announcer was reading Meharg's 500 word statement, a tribute to his mother and a warning that crime does not pay, over the air from the Caldwell Parish jail.

The other condemned men were William Heard, 43, Floyd Boyce, 29, and William Landers, 39. Their statements also were read over the wire after Attorney General Eugene Stanley in Baton Rouge advised Sheriff G. E. Erskine it would be a violation of the law to let the prisoners broadcast.

To Our Distinguished Visitors-- You're Always Welcome Here!

Lubbock is signally and doubly honored by Legislative committee members who are here today to inquire personally into financial needs of Texas Technological college and by officials of many Northwest Texas towns and cities who have gathered to study their problems together.

We can assure the Legislators that most of us appreciate that this long trip is neither a great novelty nor a pleasure jaunt for them—although every effort will be made to make it as pleasant as possible. We realize that if most of them had obeyed personal preferences, they either would have remained at their desks in Austin or would have devoted this time to personal affairs they are compelled to neglect because of official responsibilities. We appreciate they are in Lubbock today because of a sense of obligation and responsibility beyond the mere discharging of official duty.

It is a fine thing for Texas to have Legislators like that.

The visiting city officials know that Lubbock always is happy at the opportunity to entertain them. Lubbock knows, certainly as well as any city could, just how dependent it is upon its neighbors. Furthermore, this idea is splendid of the officials getting together and seeking the solution together of problems peculiar and common to them all.

The Evening Journal deems it a happy privilege to join in the welcome to our distinguished guests.

Higher Crop Loans May Be Proposed

Break In Cold Wave Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

A cessation of the rain which has been general over East, Central and North Texas was indicated in today's weather forecast.

The forecast for East Texas was colder with freezing weather and frost in the north portion tonight, with slightly higher temperatures tomorrow.

Warmer In North

The West Texas forecast called for slight cloudiness in the north portion tonight, with fair and slightly warmer weather in the north tomorrow.

Rain continued to fall in Tyler, in East Texas, where 2.45 inches of precipitation was reported early today.

Fort Worth, in West Texas, had .55 of an inch of rain, mixed with snow flurries early today; Paris, in Northeast Texas, had .86 of an inch of precipitation, with a drizzle continuing; Corsicana, Central Texas, had 1.35 inches of rainfall during a 24-hour period ending at 7 a. m. today, bringing the year's total to 11.07 compared with 4.27 inches for the same period last year.

There was an estimated 60-mile-an-hour wind at Houston and slight precipitation in the city, although 1.5 inches fell nearby. Shreveport, La., near the East Texas border, reported a slow rain.

Eight Arrested For Plot Against Axis

SPLIT, Yugoslavia, March 7 (AP)—Eight persons were arrested here today and charged with being involved in a plot to dynamite German and Italian ships plying between Yugoslavia and Italy.

Explosives were said to have been found in the prisoners' homes.

The arrests followed an investigation of the explosion of the 1,400 ton freighter Xenia Feb. 26 while it was carrying cement to Italy.

16 PLANES DOWNED

CAIRO, Egypt, March 7 (AP)—The RAF command announced today that 16 Axis planes were shot down in a heavy raid on the British Mediterranean island of Malta last Wednesday.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7—Authoritative farm officials said today it was a good guess that the administration soon would propose an increase in rates of government price-supporting crop loans as a method of boosting agricultural income.

The higher loan rates, they indicated, would be accompanied by changes in farm programs which would give the Agricultural Adjustment administration greater control over production.

12 Cents For Cotton

These officials predicted that loan rates would be increased from present levels of 9 cents to about 12 cents a pound on cotton and from 65 to about 85 cents a bushel for wheat. The corn loan rate, they said, probably would be left unchanged at 61 cents a bushel.

The higher rates would be offered on this year's crops. Officials said the boost in loan rates should tend to raise market prices to the loan levels. Buyers, they explained, would have to pay prices equivalent to the loan rate, else growers would place their commodities under loan.

75 Per Cent Of Parity

These rates would be equivalent to 75 cent of parity.

(Parity is a term used to describe prices which would give farm commodities purchasing power in terms of non-farm goods and services equal to that of the pre-world war period 1909-14).

Spaniard Dies When "Dead" Man Talks

BARCELONA, Spain, March 7 (UP)—A farmer hitch-hiking from the village of Puigrey to the city of Vitch "thumbed" a ride today on a truck carrying an empty coffin.

It was raining at the time, so the farmer crawled into the coffin and pulled the lid down.

A little farther down the road, two other hitch-hikers boarded the truck. They were hardly seated when the farmer raised the coffin-lid and remarked, "it's stopped raining."

One of the riders was killed and the second was injured seriously when they leaped in terror from the truck.

CONVOY ATTACKED

ROME, March 7. (AP)—Italian bombing planes attacked a strongly escorted British convoy in the eastern Mediterranean, hitting a cruiser, a destroyer and three merchant ships, the Italian high command announced today.

Grim Warning Is Hurled At Axis, Russia

Hitler To Receive Answer To Peace Plan Next Week

(By The Associated Press)

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Mar. 7.—Inspired Turkish newspapers warned the nation strongly today against accepting German assurances and declared the spread of the war to the Balkans seemed inevitable.

These statements were made as it was announced that Turkish foreign policy would be outlined by Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu next Monday morning at a closed session of the Peoples' party—Turkey's only political party—in Ankara.

May Answer Hitler

That afternoon the national assembly will open its session to be devoted to both external and internal affairs.

Premier Refik Saydam will address parliament Wednesday and is expected to disclose then Turkey's reply to a message received from Adolf Hitler last Tuesday.

"Against a handful of birdshot reassurances that the Axis has flung at us stands two million Turkish bayonets," the newspaper Demokrat Politika said today.

Promise Own New Order

"If Germany comes this way she will get such an answer to these reassurances as she never got before."

The newspaper Vatan said: "If Germany attacks the Balkans she will see the end to her terrorism and the new order will indeed be installed in the world, but it will be a new order depending on respect of liberty for all."

For the first time a Turkish newspaper criticized Russia's Balkan policy, and that came when Tasviri Efkar declared:

Turkey No Baby

"The whole Balkan situation can be laid at Russia's door. If Russia had not taken Bessarabia, Rumania would not have been frightened and would not have allowed Germany to enter. Then we might have preserved the Balkan entente and the Balkans might have been defended."

The newspaper Ikdam commented: "Assurances rain on us from all sides since the German invasion of Bulgaria. These are like lullabies which put babies to sleep, but fortunately Turkey is no baby. We know that it is countries to which assurances are given that are in danger."

Federal Labor Board Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he was considering creation of a labor board which would act not only as a mediation agency but would consider problems of labor, production and other factors entering into labor disputes.

The chief executive told a press conference he could only generalize about the proposed board but that it would not be merely a revival of the old Taft-Walsh board or World war days, since it might have a broader field.

Strikes Are Rapped

At the same time, the chief executive spoke out against jurisdictional strikes among union men.

"As a whole," he was asked, "do you think it desirable to do away with jurisdictional strikes"

Absolutely, he replied. He added that he did not think the country could approve in any shape, way or form a jurisdictional strike like one called at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

Situation Under Study

Jurisdictional strikes are part of a general situation that is under study, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, but he admitted he did not know exactly what might be done about them.

The proposal to set up a new labor board in Washington, he said, would not require legislation.

The chief executive emphasized that the board would not be superimposed over the office of production management, but would be a separate agency.

Edgar D. Bryan Is Claimed By Death

CARLSBAD, N. M., March 7 (AP)—Edgar D. Bryan, rancher and business man in West Texas and New Mexico for half a century, died of a heart attack last night. He was 67.

Bryan had made his home here for 10 years.

He was interested in business here, in Hobbs, Clovis and Lovington in New Mexico, and in Odessa, Pecos and other parts of West Texas.

Funeral services were set for Sunday.

Bigger Things Are Promised

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 8.—Informed British said today Tuesday's harassing raid by British and Norwegian naval units on the German-held Lofoten islands off Norway's coast was just a "rehearsal" for bigger things to come.

The intimation was that swift sea raiders carrying strong landing parties, and capitalizing on the element of surprise, had begun a campaign of sabotaging Nazi-controlled military and industrial centers along the European coast.

Other Ports Vulnerable

The press was quick to point out that there were many other vulnerable ports along the 3,000 miles of coastline now held by the Germans where British warships could land raiding parties.

In addition to destruction of Nazi war materials and oil stocks, it was pointed out such raids should yield German prisoners for questioning, and should bolster the morale of the populations of the occupied territories.

Alive to the propaganda value of such raids, the British command was said to have given special instructions to the British troops and Norwegian marines in the Lofoten expedition to be "considerate and courteous" to the

Tech Cleanup Will Be Held Saturday

Cleaning up in preparation for approaching conventions on the campus, Texas Technological college students will "comb the campus" to remove trash Saturday afternoon.

Jack Robinson, jr., from Paducah, chairman of the cleanup committee, said all students, both men and women, are invited to meet at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon to volunteer their services. The meeting will be held at the building and grounds structure west of the women's dormitory.

Paper and bottles will be removed from over the campus. The Tech chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, began the movement for a cleanup drive and all men's social clubs offered their cooperation. The Junior council, women's organization, will remove trash from the circle in front of the administration building.

Every Room In Tech Dormitory Under Construction Reserved

Every room in the women's dormitory under construction on Texas Technological college campus has been reserved, Miss Mozelle E. Craddock, manager of the dormitories, said this morning.

Although applications had previously been accepted from out of the city, acceptance of reservations from co-eds now in college opened only this week. A flood of reservations left no doubt that the new structure will be filled to capacity when it opens for the fall semester next September.

Reservations still may be made for rooms in the other women's dormitory, constructed in 1934, Miss Craddock said. Approximately 50 have made applications for rooms in the older dormitory. Miss Craddock is not yet accepting reservations for rooms in that dormitory.

Each structure houses approximately 320 students. The two structures together would house less than half of the

British May Have To Send Urgent SOS To America

Empire Sounds U. S. Attitude

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The British House of Commons made a useful sounding-board to reach American ears with the declaration by A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, that the country needs "many more ships and great numbers of men" to fight "the battle of the Atlantic now opening."

The first lord's statement was made in connection with his request that the House vote appropriations for a huge fleet and men with which to fight the Nazi submarine octopus that is preying on Britain's shipping. Still there were special touches for the U. S. A.

May Press Matter

There was, for instance, the member's question whether London had "told America that what we require even more urgently than airplanes and money is ships and—still more ships." Mr. Alexander didn't answer that, and wasn't expected to. He did, however, pay tribute to the work of those fifty destroyers we traded to Britain.

Naturally speculation has been aroused as to whether this presages a more direct appeal to Uncle Sam for further warships. London's desire for these already has been made known, but the matter hasn't been pressed.

Britain On Spot

Now the threat of a vastly increased U-boat offensive has put Britain on the spot. If there is anything that will make John Bull call for help it will be the grave dangers of this new spring offensive, which may be the prelude to an attempt at invasion of the British isles.

That call may be an SOS sent out in the very midst of the fray. Since this would require an immediate answer, a delicate and momentous problem would be raised. No time for swapping warships for naval bases then. In fact, no time for John Bull to man new warships if they were sent to him in droves. They would be no use to him unless they were delivered fully manned.

Case Holds Attention

I have stated a hypothetical case, but it is one which is a matter of constant anxiety not only for Britain but for the Axis. The care with which herr Hitler has been maneuvering in an effort to keep the United States out of the war leaves no doubt that he is giving deep thought to the question of what she would reply if Britain sent out that SOS in the midst of a life or death emergency.

This question most certainly is one of the factors which have impelled the Fuehrer to try to strengthen his position in the Balkans before going all-out in his offensive against Britain. And it most certainly has put a brake on Japan's operations in the far east.

This situation accounts for First Lord Alexander's request for funds to provide more men. The difficulty is that while ordinary seamen can be trained in three months, it takes a long time to turn out officers, radio operators and other experts. But there's nobody can produce them any faster than Britannia.

FROM THE INDIANS—Original and completely American are the trimmings that Picard, famous designer, used on a collection of dresses that were part of an exhibit sponsored by the Indian Arts and Crafts Board at New York's Museum of Modern Art. The dinner dress at left, above, is finished with beadwork trimming and a beadwork pocket made by the Chippewah Indians of Minnesota. The ribbon work, shown on Picard's chiffon dress at right, was done by the Kickapoo Indians of Oklahoma. Mr. Picard thinks that the Indians may be the answer to American designers' need for hand-woven materials, beautiful embroidery, and original decorative motifs such as seen on wall panel in the background.

Dairy Specialist Is Speaker At Meeting

E. R. Eudaly of College Station, dairy specialist of the state extension service, discussed problems of dairymen at a meeting of county farm agents of the area in Lubbock hotel here Thursday.

Eudaly emphasized the necessity of the proper proportions of carbohydrates, protein, etc., being maintained in rations in order to maintain the supply of milk. He said bone meal and salt were essential parts of a ration and that a lack of proper minerals often was the cause of decreased production.

Lack Of Minerals Costly

"Lack of minerals in feeds causes millions of dollars loss for Texas dairymen each year," he said.

Eudaly talked on 4-H club dairy demonstration work and made suggestions to agents on what types to use for county and district competition.

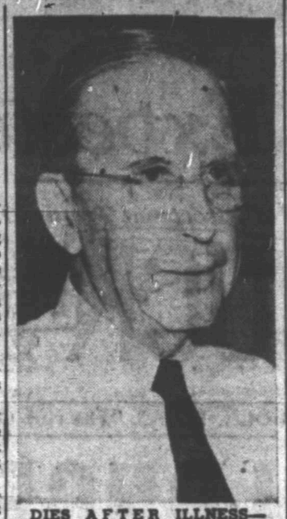

From Lubbock Eudaly accompanied by K. J. Edwards, district agent, who presided, went to Lockney where he talked Thursday afternoon to an irrigation school on dairying under irrigation. They also held a conference with agents.

To Go To Clovis Today

Today the two men will meet several farm agents in Farwell and this afternoon they are to meet New Mexico agents and others at Clovis.

In attendance here were the following farm agents: R. N. McClain, Terry; Don F. Turner, Lynn; Homer E. Thompson, Garza; D. W. Sherrill, Hockley; Ralph Howe, Crosby; Mack Woodrum, Dickens; William Kimbrough, Kent; V. F. Jones, and H. T. Duke, assistant, Lamb; C. C. Jobson and L. H. McElroy, assistant, Lubbock.

Neither blizzard nor cold-wave can faze the enthusiasm of a boy with a new sled.

Extremely cold weather has even less effect on the fast-starting quality of Phillips 66 Poly Gas. In fact, there is no other motor fuel which cold weather affects less . . . because Phillips 66 at regular price is the leading high test gasoline at any price!

Note this simple, direct, frank statement. It has no trick phrasing, no hedging, no reservations.

It does not say that "Phillips 66 is one of the leaders"! It does not say, "Phillips 66 leads in its price class"! It does not say, "Some motorists to whom we gave it free think it is higher test"!

Instead, we make a clean-cut, easily-understood statement of undisputed high-test leadership. To back it up, we give you this scientific proof from our latest available full-year study of gasolines (June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940):

The HIGH TEST rating (Volatility Number) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is nearly 50% higher than the average high test rating of 19 premium price motor fuels.

This is a plain, common-sense question: How often do you want to buy a new refrigerator? Most refrigerators have moving parts. ONE refrigerator—the GAS refrigerator—has NONE. Nothing to wear, to cause costly repairs, inefficiency, and noise. There are plenty of them in West Texas, 10 and 12 years old, just as good as the day they were new. Before you buy any refrigerator, ask yourself, "What will it be doing for me in 1951?"

One-Act Play, Patriotic Skit Are Presented For AAUW Branch Thursday

Makeup Art Explained

Fifty members of the Lubbock branch of the American Association of University Women and their guests gathered at Seaman hall Thursday night for a program consisting of a short play, the technique of makeup and a patriotic skit.

The Dramatic unit of the branch, directed by Mrs. Martha Davis, presented a one-act play, "So Wonderful in White." This portrayed the trials and tribulations of nurses in training. Taking part were Mesdames Davis and John Walter, Misses Ruth Keeter, Pauline Coe, Katherine Temple, Aldine Swepston and Fflorence Stark.

Teacher Explains Art

Miss Johnnie Birdwell, teacher of speech and English at Junior High school, demonstrated the technique of makeup by applying grease paint on the face of Billy Felty and giving him the appearance of Abraham Lincoln. He and six classmates were made up to represent famous public figures and each gave a brief speech. Billy gave the Gettysburg address; L. B. Stotts was Patrick Henry; George Zournas, Winston Churchill; Billy Ray Medley, Woodrow Wilson; Frank Horn, Wendell Willkie; Jack Cooper, President Roosevelt and Charles Guy, jr., who announced the program, was Fulton Lewis, jr., radio commentator.

Temple Joyce McAfee introduced the program and Olive Rankin helped with makeup and the lighting arrangement.

Miss Martye Poindexter presided for the meeting.

Arnett-Benson Club Has Program On Clothing

Arnett-Benson Home Demonstration club members met with Mrs. C. O. White, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Forrest White talked on kindness, Mrs. C. C. Heatley on benevolence and Mrs. H. C. Cox gave a council report.

Mrs. L. Vannoy, program chairman, directed a discussion on style and clothing, assisted in demonstrations by Mesdames Bryan Landers, J. E. Reid, Cox, White, Ed Halcomb and A. R. Pendley. Others present were Mesdames Horace Gord, Floyd Tapp and Rasco.

The club will meet with Mrs. Reid next.

Club Meets Thursday In Home Of Mrs. Shepherd

Mrs. M. L. Shepherd, 3111 Twenty-first street, was hostess to the Lubbock Pen Women's club Thursday morning. Mrs. T. E. Buckner was leader; Mrs. J. S. Pitman talked on "Concentration" and roll call was answered with triolets.

Those attending were Mesdames Sidney Claiborne, Claud Keeton, William Blake, Irvin Hamilton, Rem Thomson, Frances Lee Tolbert, G. A. Foote, Buckner and Pitman. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Foote.

September Marriage Is Announced In Lubbock

The marriage of Miss Claudine Cordell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Cordell, and Julius Herrman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Herrman of Hannibal, Mo., which took place in Clovis, N. M., last September, was announced here Thursday.

Mrs. Herrman is a 1939 graduate of Lubbock High school and has been employed by a baking company here. She is leaving today to join her husband who is employed at a bakery shop in Elkhart, Ind.

Needle Club Plans To Increase Membership

Names for membership were submitted at a meeting of the 1941 Needle club with Mrs. J. O. Pope, 2107 Twenty-fourth street, Thursday afternoon. The club will meet next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Wesley Smith, 1309 Twenty-fourth street.

COMPLETES "TEACHING"

DENTON, March 7. (Special)—Miss Mary Jane Baze of Idalou has just completed her "practice teaching" at Texas State College for Women as a part of her education course which will prepare her to teach in the public schools. Miss Baze has been teaching speech. For a school semester student teachers do actual teaching under the supervision of a staff member of the TSCW department of education.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baze, Miss Baze is a senior student majoring in speech. She plans to complete her college work this June.

We, The Women . . .

BY RUTH MILLETT

When Papa gives Young Johnny, in high school, a dollar for every "A" he earns — Johnny thinks an "A" is worth that one dollar and nothing more.

A recent study of what happens to Indianapolis youth after they have been graduated from high school shows that the "A" is worth a lot more than that to Johnny.

Ruth Millett

In this study a survey was made of 1201 students who finished high school ten years ago. And it was found that those high school "A's" were still paying dividends.

Here, in figures, is the correlation between grades and salaries ten years out of high school:

The boys who made "A's" in high school are earning an average of $38.72. Those who only rated "B's" are earning $35.96 a week, and those who made "C's" are earning on an average of $30.90 a week.

* * *

GIRLS FOLLOW SAME PATTERN — ALMOST

The girls who made "A's" are averaging pay checks of $27.34. The girls who earned "B's" are making $21.37. And the girls who made "C" grades are earning $17.36 a week.

Those figures ought to be ammunition for any parent whose son or daughter says, "Oh, heck, what's the use of studying? Grades don't count for anything once you're out of school."

For the young have a great respect for figures. They'll listen to figures, when they hoot at preaching. And by the time they are in high school they're already thinking about what they can do to make money and get ahead.

There's only one thing. The survey showed something else that isn't quite what the parents would like to have it show. It showed that while the girls with "A" grades got the better paying jobs —the girls who made "C's" grabbed off the husbands.

But then parents can't expect to have everything their own way. They'll have to admit to Susie that getting "A" grades won't help her get a husband, unless a prospective husband is looking for a girl with a good job.

Mrs. Floyd Fry Is Club Hostess On Thursday

Mrs. Floyd Fry, 1314 Twenty-sixth street, was hostess to the Double Four Forty-Two club Thursday afternoon. A theater party was attended and games were played later. Those attending were Mesdames Jack Bennett, Bert Whitfield, L. Z. Lowrey, Brice Etheridge, Delbert Allcorn, Kirby Stroud and T. G. Hodges. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Etheridge scored high and Mrs. Hodges scored low. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hodges, 1510 Twenty-eighth street, March 13 at 3 o'clock.

Betsy Ross Club Meets With Mrs. E. E. Rodgers

Betsy Ross Needle club members met with Mrs. E. E. Rodgers, 2308 Fifteenth street, Thursday afternoon. Pillow cases were exchanged. Guests were Mesdames Haskell Thompson and A. C. Coyne. Mrs. Watson Wilson was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Roy Campbell, president.

Tiny flowers of taffeta filled with sachet were presented as plate favors. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. M. Cheaney, 2112 Fifteenth street March 20 and will be an all-day meeting and luncheon.

Those attending were Mesdames Ted Bicknel, George Sawyer, W. G. Torrance, T. F. Rodgers, Wilson, Everett Raybon, Rayburn Hale, O. D. Peden, Oscar Ragland, M. H. Martin and R. E. Garrett.

TO KEEP PEARS

Keep peeled pears in cold salted water until time to serve. Put 1-4 teaspoon salt in each 2 cups of water needed to cover the fruit. If the pears are to be placed in salad, sprinkle them with lemon juice and chill until needed. This helps the busy housewife who has to make many beforehand preparations for her meal.

P-TA Meeting Is At Night

Approximately 155 parents attended the second evening meeting of the K. Carter Parent-Teacher association Thursday night at the school. Rex Webster and Miss Madge Malone sang a duet and then each sang a solo. The Treble Clef chorus presented four numbers. Mrs. G. N. Atkinson sang and students from Mrs. Mildred Taylor's room presented an Irish dance. Students from Miss Lottie Croslin's room presented a play and a dance. Their rooms won the attendance prizes.

The table was centered with shamrocks and covered with a lace cloth. Mrs. W. L. Meyhew and Mrs. W. E. Tosh presided at the table. Members of the entertainment committee were Mesdames Cliff Elliott, L. L. Kelso, Kearby Nash, Frank McGinnis and Charles A. Ross.

LACQUERED ARTICLES

Candlesticks, silver dishes, etc., that have been lacquered to preserve their bright finish should be dusted with a soft dry cloth. Should they become dingy, wipe with a damp cloth. If the lacquer begins to peel, remove all of the lacquer coating, then clean and polish thoroughly. The article is then ready for a new coat. Use a metal lacquer designed especially for this purpose.

Television Thought Ready To Take Commercial Bow Before Public

Broadcasts In Color Studied

BY TOM WOLF
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 7.—The subject at which television's cameras have been focused for the past year has been . . . television.

Last Easter, the Federal Communications commission, radio's governess, told its youngest prodigy (who was then anxious to strut his stuff professionally) to toddle a bit slower.

"Before you go to the American public as a commercial adult," the F. C. C. said, in effect, "make sure you're ready and then report to us." The report (by the National Television System committee) was recently made. Now television is again ready to plead its case, with informal hearings before the F. C. C. scheduled to start March 20. A green light from the commission and American television could emerge from its laboratory chrysalis.

Better Visibility

To the radio owner who has rustled up the $95 minimum for a television attachment to his present set (complete radio-television receivers start at $195), what appears on the horizon?

The immediate visual differences between television today and a year ago are minimal. Technical improvements (such as more sensitive pickup tubes or new, big 13½-by-18-inch screen) make possible sharper definition, better visibility. Some objectionable flicker has been eliminated.

Behind these slight improvements, which are ready for immediate use, lie a myriad of breath-taking future possibilities that have been tested experimentally during television's year in the wilderness. Outstanding among these is full color televison, developed to a high degree in the laboratories of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Done With Filters

Technically, color television is relatively simple. It is based, as are all moving pictures (including television itself), on the fact that the eye remembers a scene long after it changes. Thus, by sending in rapid succession what may be thought of as a red, a green and a blue picture (all colors are made of red, green, or blue), the eye remembers each color long enough to blend it with the succeeding colors—thereby seeing in full natural color.

Actually, of course, colors are not sent through the air. The television camera scans its object from behind rapidly whirling red, green and blue filters. A wheel with red, green and blue filters on the receiving set spins in synchronization with those on the camera—transforming the black and white picture received into full color.

So far color tests have not passed the laboratory stage and color television is still a good bit away from your home.

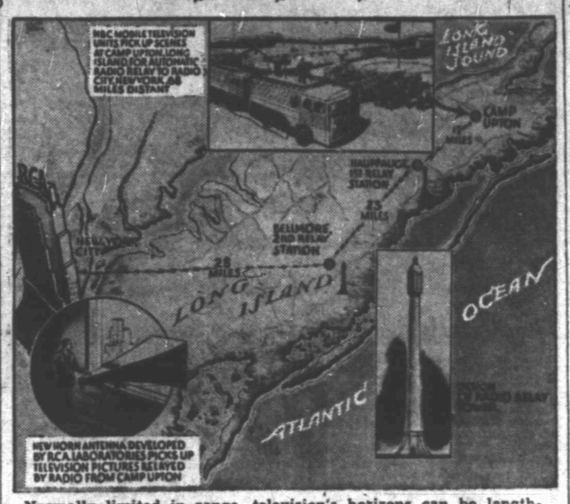

A much nearer development is the possibility of network television. This is a problem because reception is not assured much over 40 miles—although signals have been received much farther. Connecting coaxil cable for chain broadcasting is almost prohibitively expensive. Network broadcasts are envisioned, however, through the use of tall, automatic relay towers which pick up the weakening television waves and rejuvenate them with additional power automatically. Both General Electric and NBC have successfully tested such towers.

Gains Attention

Another successful experiment to make Jules Verne take notice (and turn newsreel men gray) was the recent projection of television on to a full-sized 20 by 15 foot movie theater screen—bringing closer the reality of attending your neighborhood theater and seeing the news as it happens.

How soon will these potentialities materialize? Because of their cost, a lot depends on how soon the F. C. C. allows television to go ahead on a commercial basis—and take in some money. Before the Commission okays commercialization, television must prove that present sets could be adapted to future technical advances. Otherwise sale of sets would tend to freeze progress.

Are the present engineering standards sufficiently flexible? That is one thing the F. C. C. hopes to learn from its hearings.

Normally limited in range, television's horizons can be lengthened through a series of automatic relay towers. In recent experimental telecast, NBC transmitted program 68 miles from Camp Upton to New York, through two relay towers, as shown on diagram above.

DEER VISIT DOWNTOWN

TRINIDAD, Colo. (U.P.) — Trinidad had a pair of unusual visitors when two handsome buck deer wandered into the downtown section. The bucks darted among cars, nibbled at some lawns, and then ambled back into the mountains.

News Briefs

Teachers To Banquet — Attendance of approximately 100 is expected at the sixth annual banquet of Lubbock Classroom Teachers association in Lubbock hotel tonight at 7 o'clock, according to Sam Leifeste, president. Miss Ruth Keeter is program chairman.

Daughter Is Born — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of 410 Avenue D are parents of a daughter weighing 6 pounds born Thursday afternoon at 1:07 o'clock in the home. She was named Ruby Joyce. Wilson is a city employe.

Son Is Born — Mrs. and Mrs. Cecil Wisdom of Lubbock, route 2, are parents of a son weighing 6 pounds, 10 1-2 ounces born Thursday night at 10 o'clock in West Texas hospital. Wisdom is a farmer.

Minor Burglaries In Area Are Reported

Other than investigation of residence burglaries outside Lubbock, police had an unusually quiet night Thursday.

Two farm homes six miles southeast of Lubbock were burglarized Thursday afternoon. From the home of E. R. Slater were missing khaki suits and dress shirts, the sheriff's office was informed. A suit and an overcoat, $2 in cash, a pen and pencil set and $5 worth of cosmetics were reported missing from the home of J. B. Pate a mile and a half south of the Slater residence.

Sheriff B. L. Parker of Tahoka reported houses burglarized there. He asked Lubbock police to be alert for two well-dressed men in a 1940 model light gray or white automobile.

Mrs. C. P. Medford of 1637 Eighth street reported theft of chickens; C. J. James of St. Mary's hospital said aerials had been removed twice from his automobile; two bicycles were reported recovered.

There are 236,842 miles of railroad in the United States; 788,672 miles throughout the world.

Variety Program Is To Be Presented

Lubbock squadron of Sons of the American Legion will present a variety program tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Legion home, 910 Texas avenue, according to Walter F. Smith, chairman of the son's committee of the local Legion post.

Parents and friends of members of the squadron are to be guests of honor. Especially invited, Smith said, are boys eligible for membership in the organization.

The program will include dances by pupils in Miss Bernice Stevens' School of Dance and Expression; instrumental numbers by a high school trio; a vocal solo by George Zournas; piano selections by C. B. Hubbard; a comedy skit by members of the squadron; and a talk on Americanism by A. C. Jackson.

Marriage Lectures Added By College

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Mar. 7 — (U.P.)—Officials of Wilson college, one of the oldest institutions of higher learning for young women in the country, decided that since more than 60 per cent of the graduates "eventually" marry, a "marriage course" would be in order.

Dean Margaret C. Disert said a series of lectures entitled "An Intelligent Approach to Marriage." would be inaugurated. She said the lectures which were designed "to complement each other and present a many-sided picture of matrimony," would include such topics as eugenics, budget systems, psychology of matrimony, and civic and family responsibilities.

TIMBER TOPPER

AUGUSTA, Me. (AP) — Maine's reputation as a tree-growing state is not without basis. Of the state's 19,462,301 acres of land surface, approximately 16,049,863 acres are in timber and wood lots. The annual lumber cut is about 170,000,000 feet.

Germany Trains Rumania In War Methods

Reservists In Nation Called

(By The United Press)

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Mar. 7—Germany has embarked on an intensive campaign to train the Rumanian army in its methods of waging warfare, it was disclosed today.

Successive groups of reservists are being called up for one month's training, so that it will be possible for youths newly inducted into the service in coming months to get better training.

Sent To Germany

The most promising of the younger Rumanian army officers are being sent to Germany for advanced training and the first group has already gone.

It was understood that the German instruction campaign would be continued until the entire Rumanian army had come under German influence.

The fact that men are being called up as rapidly as possible to undergo German training was believed to be responsible for reports that Rumania was again mobilizing. These reports were denied and it was denied likewise that either Rumanian or German troops were moving toward the Russian frontier.

(Budapest reported that Bucharest would hold a big practice blackout with sirens shrieking and firemen maneuvering this afternoon and that the public had been "warned" to cooperate.)

Lions Leader Is Guest Here

The part of service clubs in the national defense is to help "keep things going in the home town," 225 Lions clubs members, their wives and guests from Northwest Texas were told by Melvin Jones of Chicago, founder of Lions International, Thursday night.

He spoke at a ladies night program, sponsored by Lubbock club, in Hilton hotel, Judge E. L. Pitts, past district governor, was toastmaster, with Dr. Clyde C. Craig, also of the Lubbock club, in charge of the entertainment program.

Reception Held

Preceding the banquet, an informal reception for District Governor and Mrs. F. V. Wallace of Dumas; District Secretary and Mrs. Ezelle Fox also of Dumas, and Secretary-General Jones was held. Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, president of the host club and Mrs. Harbaugh were in the receiving line as were Judge and Mrs. Pitts and others of the club.

Invocation was given by Dr. W. M. Pearce of Pampa, former Lubbock Lion. Most of the entertainment was presented during serving of the meal. Roll call showed 28 Texas clubs and a delegation from Hobbs, N. M., represented.

Secretary Jones presented, on behalf of Lions International, an attendance pin to Ralph Randel, a former district governor, E. J. (Jack) Gilbert and A. J. Weiser of Panhandle, for a perfect 10-year record. To Capt. Hermann Lambrecht of the Lubbock club, formerly of Pampa, a key was presented.

Roy Keeton, Austin, state secretary; Randel and Joe Pond of Big Spring, former district governors and G. G. Ordway of Amarillo; Henry Pipkin of Matador and James Peeler of Levelland, deputy governors, were introduced. Wives of officials also were introduced.

H. C. Pender, chairman of the general committee on arrangements, announced an entertainment schedule, which included a visit to a night club.

District Governor Wallace thanked the host club for its holding of the banquet for the international officer. Ken Bennett, Pampa, led the singing.

Performers included, Misses Curry and Hughes and Bill Robinson of Crosbyton, with Mrs. B. N. Richardson, painist; Misses Erma Karnes, Betty Steele and Billie Jo French and Homer Jones, accompanist, of Dalhart; Ermon Gray of Hale Center, saxophonist; A. B. Chapman, Earl Wilson, Jimmy Alsup and Tom Hilburn, Littlefield, playlet; Henry Pipkin of Matador, with a Lion's roar; Betty Plank, Evelyn Childs, Harriet Price, Jenny Smith, quartet with Maurine Holt, pianist and Bennett, entertainer, Pampa; Mrs. John Hughes, Petersburg, reading; Mrs. Karr, accordion player and Miss Douglas, pianist, Seagraves; Rex Hodges, Levelland, two solos.

Organization Outlined

Secretary Jones told of the organization of the service club at Dallas in 1917 and said in the intervening years it had grown to 4,000 clubs with nearly 150,000 members. "It is the leading service club," he pointed out. "You have over 300 clubs in Texas, more than all other service clubs combined. Lions lead the way."

The name Lion was selected because the king of beast represents courage, strength and activity; the lion is also the symbol of fidelity.

"We have built up our fellowship and mutual understanding," said the speaker. "We also believe in patriotism."

Service clubs have been developed in our modern American life, along with the airplane and the automobile, through the intelligence of men looking towards the future, he said.

Perils And Problems Faced By Nations Of Western Hemisphere Are Discussed Here

Perils and problems faced by nations of the western hemisphere in the world crisis were discussed by Charles D. Hurrey in First Baptist church Thursday night in the second of the series of lectures sponsored by the Rotary club as part of the "Forum of International Understanding."

Forces drawing the 270,000,000 people of these twenty nations, from French-speaking Haiti to Portuguese-speaking Brazil, were outlined, as were various obstacles to understanding between the nations.

Hurrey, who has worked with young people throughout his life and is at present general secretary of the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students, was particularly optimistic in discussing relations between the young people of the Americas. He outlined the system of student and professor exchange whereby several hundred Latin American students annually study in the United States, and vice versa. More than 1,500 Latin American students are in American colleges this year, he said, either as exchange students or independently.

Obstacles Are Cited

Forces which tend to bring the Americas together, in addition to student exchanges, were outlined as follows: General friendly attitude of press and radio in both United States and Latin America for the other; increased travel facilities, highways, airways and so on; growing attitude of cooperation between governments as evidenced by annual Pan-American conferences.

The No. 1 obstacle to inter-American understanding is diversity of language, Hurrey stated. This is being overcome by increasing knowledge of English by Latin Americans and, not quite so evident, increasing knowledge of Spanish in the United States.

Other obstacles are high cost of travel, especially to Latin Americans who must pay for adverse rates of currency exchange; the all-too-frequent American "I'm right, you're wrong attitude;" the difference in psychology between the business-like Americans and the culture-loving Latin Americans; and religious differences—every Latin American constitution provides that president and vice president be Catholic.

Executive Committee Meeting Is Planned

A district executive committee meeting in Plainview and first aid contests in Seminole are events scheduled tonight at 7:30 o'clock in South Plains Boy Scout council.

The monthly meeting of northern district executive committee is to be held in Hilton hotel, Plainview, with representatives expected from Dimmitt, Silverton, Tulia, Petersburg, and Plainview troops. Bob Hooper of Plainview is chairman.

In Seminole, southwestern district first aid contests are to be staged in the high school gymnasium. Teams from Ropesville, Meadow, Brownfield, Seagraves, Denver City, Allred, Plains and Seminole are expected to compete, according to Finley Moore of Seminole, district chairman.

Daylight Saving May Be Retained In U. S.

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—When daylight savings time goes into effect April 27, it may be retained "for the duration" of the national defense emergency, some industrial circles said today.

Year-end daylight time, it was pointed out, would lighten the electric current load needed for illumination purposes, freeing part of regular power production capacity for defense goods manufacture use.

Daylight time, if not extended, would expire this year September 28.

Quinoa, a grain virtually unknown to the outside world, is the principal food crop of the South American highlands.

FURR FOOD SECTION

New Furr Super Market Formally Opens Today At Sixteenth, Texas Avenue

Building Is Redecorated And New Fixtures Installed Throughout

* * *

Fifth retail grocery in Lubbock operated by Roy Furr to be known as Furr Food Super Market No. 5, at Sixteenth street and Texas avenue, will have its formal opening today and Saturday and a general invitation to customers to attend and take advantage of the special offerings was given Thursday by Furr, general manager, in making the announcement.

The former J. O. Garlington store, the structure, probably the largest in this area devoted to retailing of groceries, has been remodeled inside and repainted outside, in line with the standard Furr system of store arrangements and colors of decorations.

New Fixtures Installed

New fixtures, designed especially for the store, have been installed. These permit a better display of merchandise and at the same time, the articles are more easily accessible. Fixtures and decorations are white, with a black trim.

Sales room is approximately 75 by 110 feet, the same size as the store which the concern opened at Broadway and Avenue R nearly a year ago. The building contains more space, however.

General offices of the stores have been moved from the former location, Thirteenth street and Avenue L, to the new location. Buying of merchandise for the system, together with direction of all operations, will in the future be handled from the down town location.

Cloyce Knowles Manager

Cloyce Knowles, who was formerly associated with Garlington, will be manager of the grocery department. Frank Turner, who has been with the Furrs since they first opened here, 12 years ago, will manage the super-market.

Roy Furr was almost "born" in a grocery store, his father having operated his first store in Childress in 1904. He grew up in the business and became a partner of his father only after serving a strenuous apprenticeship.

Coming to Lubbock early in 1929, he purchased the former M-system chain of three stores. A fourth was later added and then another store opened at Hobbs, N. M. The firm now has approximately 100 employes.

Have Warehouse, Bakery

Besides a warehouse at 1008 Sixth street, a bakery where bread, cakes and pies are made for the system, is located at 1003 Avenue G and a creamery for the manufacture of butter is maintained at 1803 Avenue H.

Two trucks are used to make regular trips to San Antonio for purchase and transportation of fresh fruits and vegetables from the Rio Grande valley to Lubbock. California fruits and vegetables are shipped by train here from the Imperial valley, throughout the year, so that fresh stocks are maintained all the time.

Kept Under Refrigeration

One policy of the stores has been to keep all fresh fruits and vegetables under refrigeration at night, stocks being placed on modern racks each morning and those remaining, placed in the refrigeration room at night, thus insuring freshness all the time.

"We certainly appreciate the loyal support given to us through these past 12 years by our many friends, not only in Lubbock but throughout this entire area," Furr said. "It is our desire to continue to show this appreciation by maintaining, at all times, our high standard of having the best possible stocks and the widest variety of merchandise at all times.

"That has been our code all these years and we pledge ourselves to a continuation of this policy. We attribute our growth to the loyalty of our many friends."

Furr commented on the greatly changed food purchasing methods of the public, who constantly demand better merchandise. "The public today buys a great deal more of fresh fruits and vegetables than ten or fifteen years ago," he said. "We have almost as much sale for these things in the winter as in the summer.

Demanding Better Meats

"Meat buyers also are demanding more of the prime meat cuts than formerly. Housewives have a greater variety of foods than their mothers did, and the growing generation receives foods with vitamin contents more frequently than ever before. Mothers know which cuts of meat are the best for growing children."

The system has been one of the strong supporters of the South Plains Junior Fat stock show and this year Furr added, high grade beef would again be purchased, killed and dressed under direction of meat market men of the firm and offered for sale through the stores. "We want to show our appreciation of the fact that in this area we can and do grow as high a type of meat animal as anywhere else," he added. "We have always bought calves and pigs at the show and we will do so again this year."

Special Displays Planned

Special displays and demonstrations of nationally advertised merchandise will be shown during the formal opening. Furr said the concern had made it a practice to handle as wide a variety as possible of reliable merchandise which buyers know by name and trade-mark.

The parking space at the store has been improved and a surface of fresh gravel has been spread. The store has enjoyed a large trade from persons living out of town, who find the available parking area affords them easy and quick access to the grocery.

No change in the general store policy of service is to be made and customers Furr added, who have patronized other stores of the system, will find the same service at the new location.

The Formal Opening Of

FURR FOOD SUPER MARKET NO. 5

The above photo is of the new Furr Food No. 5, Sixteenth and Texas avenue. Formerly the Garlington Food Store, Furr recently purchased the store, completely remodeled the interior and redecorated it in the traditional Furr Food arrangement. The sign on the front of the store is neon lighted and neon tubing extends the entire length of the front of the building.

British Claim African Casualties Low

New Divisions Said Created

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 7 — A British casualty list scarcely more than one per cent of the losses suffered by the Italians in the African campaign between Nov. 30 and Feb. 11 was announced to the House of Commons today by Capt. H. D. R. Margesson, the war secretary.

British imperial land forces in that period lost only 438 killed, 87 missing and 1,249 wounded, he said, as against "the capture or destruction of the whole Italian army in east Libya, estimated to exceed 150,000 men."

Sees Greater Successes

The war secretary's figures (which did not cover the bitter fighting in the Italian Somaliland, Ethiopia and Eritrea since Feb. 11) were given in connection with his presentation of the army's budget estimates, the amount of which was kept secret.

The successful African campaign, Margesson remarked, will serve as a mere "prelude to greater struggles with our principal enemy (Germany)."

Large reinforcements have been sent to the middle east, he added, together with "material aid to our allies."

Discussing the problem of war equipment, he said matters had been so improved since the retreat from Dunkerque of last June that "we are now able to form new divisions."

Fruit Prospect Is Uncertain

Prospects for fruit crops in Lubbock county this year are very uncertain, according to Dr. W. W. Yocum, associate professor of horticulture at Texas Technological college.

Almost all apricot trees are in full bloom now; some peaches are blossoming and if warm weather continues all will be in full bloom soon. Compared to previous years the trees are blooming two to three weeks earlier than customary.

No Retarding Method

No successful method of retarding the bud growth on trees has been discovered. The most successful method now used is whitewashing trees; the whitewash reflects heat, and by this means blooms have been retarded as much as a week to a week and a half. Although widely used in some fruit growing sections, this device is not used in West Texas and has never been placed on commercial market.

Peaches have borne fruit six times in the last 17 years in Lubbock county, Dr. Yocum said. This is an average fruit crop once in every three years. Different varieties of apples have borne from two to five times in 17 years. Apples bloom later than peaches but are more likely to be killed.

Pears seldom bear in West Texas and are not recommended for this section of the country. Plum and cherries are more certain than other types of fruit bearing one out of every two years. They bloom several days later than peaches. Dr. Yocum says sour varieties of cherries are best suited to this locality. This type bears more often and produces a greater quanity of fruit.

Seedlings Are Best

Experiments show that seedling peaches are more likely to produce fruit than budded varieties here. Seedlings are hardier and bloom later than budded trees. Summer apples are more nearly suited to this climate than winter species. Two varieties most commonly raised in this section are yellow transparent and crabapple, both summer apples.

Grapes produce fruit almost every year. The grape blooms late and even if killed by late freezes will bloom again and produce a partial crop.

Raton Doesn't Want Swastika Anywhere

RATON, N. M., March 7 (AP) — This northern New Mexico mining center, which once used the swastika as a brand and popular name, has wiped out the last of them.

Swastika avenue has been named Brilliant avenue by the city council.

Since swastika-displaying Germany went to war, other changes here have affected a hotel, a coal camp, a coal company, and a coal brand.

Remember H.C.L—High Cost Of Living? He's Up (4%) To His Old Tricks Again

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mach 7—Meat eaters — particularly pork chop enthusiasts — seem due to feel the pinch of rising cost of living. Government observers estimate it will average from 4 to 5 per cent higher this year than in 1940.

They figure that rents for lower-priced houses in large cities, and prices of woolen clothing, automobiles and some household furnishings, will show bigger-than-average advances during 1941.

The specialists say, however, that the outlook definitely is not alarming. A 4 per cent increase would bring living costs only up to the September, 1937, level of 104.3, an index figure far short of 122 for boomtime 1929 and 143 for 1920, the record "high cost of living" year.

Little Climb Since '39

The index figure 100 represents average living costs in large cities for 1935-1939. The average for 1940 was 100.3 and the figure in December was 100.7. The latter is less than 2 per cent higher than the 98.6 index for June, 1939, before the outbreak of the European war.

The prospective increase in food costs, No. 1 item in the poor man's budget, has been estimated roughly at 3 per cent, with meat a major factor. Meat looms large in the living cost picture because the working man's family spends more money for meat than for any other food.

Beef prices figure to continue higher, with good steak holding its place as an aristocrat and with the plebian pork chop becoming a patrician. An expected increase in beef supplies may put a brake on price advances in the last half of the year.

Larger supplies make the immediate vegetable and fruit price outlook brighter. Potatoes, an old standby, are abundant. Poultry and egg supplies will be slightly smaller than a year ago, but a large butter production shoved prices down recently.

Men's Clothes Up

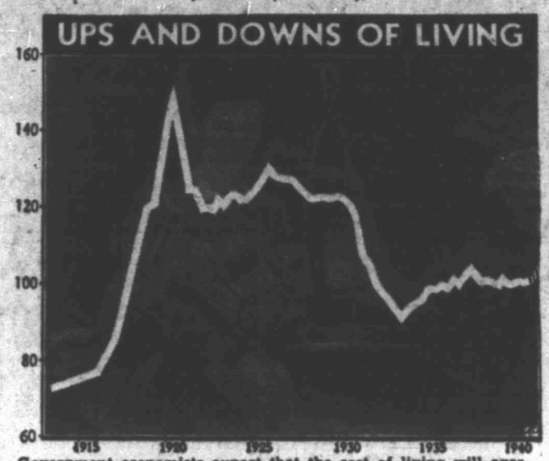

Rents — second most important item in the consumer's budget — have been increased substantially in some cities where defense activities are booming. The increases have been notably confined to homes renting for less than $30 a month.

Men's good grade suits and overcoats are expected to be considerably higher next fall. Little change is anticipated, however, in the price of women's clothing because of low rayon and silk prices. On the bright side for Milady is the decline in the price of silk stockings.

Materials More Costly

Higher prices for materials, such as lumber and upholstery, are boosting the cost of some house furnishings. Prices of carpets and rugs already have been going up, and furniture prices may be higher this spring. On the other hand, electrical equipment, particularly radios, vacuum cleaners and refrigerators, declined in price.

Rated a "safety factor" in the price situation is the existence of large surpluses in such basic raw materials as wheat, cotton, coal and petroleum. Production could easily be expanded to take care of any probable requirements.

Government economists expect that the cost of living will average 4 to 5 per cent higher this year than in 1940. Chart shows the rise and fall in living costs since 1913. The peak year was 1920.

Lubbock And South Plains Teachers Have Parts On Big Spring Convention Program

Lubbock public schools will be dismissed Friday, March 14, so that teachers may participate in the West Texas State Teachers association convention at Big Spring, Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock schools has announced.

About 200 public school teachers from Lubbock will attend the annual convention and most of the faculty members of the education department at Texas Tech.

Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, associate professor of education and psychology at Tech, is chairman of the visual aid in education section of the program to be presented riday afternoon in the Big Spring high school auditorium.

Floyd Hemphill, superintendent of the Littlefield schools, will demonstrate use of projection of film strips, slides and opaque material in school instruction.

Development and school use of the county museum will be discussed by Henry Norris, school superintendent of Dawson county. A group of teachers from Big Spring will demonstrate use of educational films in visual education program in public schools.

Dr. C. B. Qualia, head of the foreign language department at Tech is chairman of the foreign language section of the convention. Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, of the education department, will take part on the high school section program.

Lubbock was host to the convention in 1939 and Dr. Irvin expressed the belief that the city will likely be host again in 1942.

O. J. Laas, superintendent of the Plainview public schools is president of West Texas association, which embraces 24 schools and has a membership of about 1,500 teachers.

Suspended Sentence Is Given Defendant

OLTON, March 7 (Special) — Mrs. Lila Mae Lenck waived the statutory two days and Judge C. D. Russell pronounced a five-year suspended sentence Thursday afternoon, after a jury had found her guilty of murder without malice after nearly 24 hours of deliberation.

Mrs. Lenck, 49, shot and killed Leonard G. Thedford, 29, a Littlefield druggist, last Oct. 19 in his home at Littlefield. Witnesses to the shooting were Mrs. Thedford and a small daughter of the Thedfords.

The case opened Monday when a special venire reported from which to select the jury.

Herbert C. Martin, district attorney, was assisted in prosecution by J. R. Hall, county attorney. Defense attorneys were Charles C. Crenshaw and George W. Dupree of Lubbock and T. Wade Potter of Littlefield.

Justice Fines Self For Street Fighting

FREEPORT, March 7 (AP) —Justice of the Peace G. C. Hardman fined himself $1 and costs in his own court and said:

"I don't allow fighting on the streets of Freeport."

The justice, small of stature but handy with his dukes, took exception to what a 200-pound man said in his presence.

He warned the big fellow not to repeat the words.

The man didn't heed.

Justice Hardman knocked him over a fence.

The man got up and repeated the words. Hardman promptly knocked him down again.

That was enough. The big fellow left. Hardman found he had a broken hand.

The justice went to his office, filed charges against himself alleging affray, assessed the fine and paid it.

Jeff Davis, El Paso, Waco And San Marcos Favorites In State Cage Meet

Finals Carded Saturday For Austin Gym

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, March 7—Jeff Davis of Houston, El Paso, Waco and San Marcos were favored today to win their first-round games in 21st annual state basketball championship tournament of the Texas Interscholastic league.

Jeff Davis, a team that combines height, speed and all-around class, is expected to dispose of Pampa by a comfortable margin although the Panhandle team has lost only four games this season. This game, which was to start at 2 p. m., was to launch the eight-game tournament.

El Paso Vs. Mount Vernon

Second game finds El Paso playing the undefeated Mount Vernon team. The El Pasoans are in the state tournament for the 11th time and boast two all-state players from 1940, Mario Polafox and Mike Izquerdo.

The night games are: Waco vs. Bloomington and San Marcos vs. Abilene.

Bloomington has a squad of but nine men, and the school is represented in the finals for the first time. The Bloomington entry will depend upon speed and a stout defense, but is not expected to be able to withstand the taller Waco quintet that seems better-equipped with reserves.

Three regulars of the 1941 state championship team from San Marcos are back again. They are Addison Coers, Frank Edwards and Bill Jones. Abilene also is highly-regarded, and the match with San Marcos is expected to be the high-spot of the first flight.

Semi-finals games will be played Saturday morning, the consolation and championship games Saturday night.

Golden Glovers Seek Crowns In Chicago

CHICAGO, March 7 (AP)—Thirty-two young fighters will do a lot of swinging in the stadium tonight, hoping to connect with a 1941 Golden Gloves title.

The group, survivors of a field of more than 20,000 who started elimination rounds two months ago, will engage in 24 bouts, 16 of them semi-final matches, before the eight champions are crowned.

Two of the battlers—Harold Dade of Chicago and Richard Menchaca of Port Arthur, Texas,—will defend titles won last year, Dade in the 112 pound class and Menchaca in the 118.

Chicago's squad returns to the scene of last week's preliminaries with six representatives. Cleveland will have four, Kansas City and Texas three apiece, Des Moines, Detroit, Moline, Ill., and Oklahoma City, two, and Peoria, Ill., Kenosha, Wis., and South Bend and Fort Wayne, Ind., one each.

Anton, Friona Clash In State Tournament

WACO, March 7. (AP)—Mesquite and Gatesville, two of the favorites in the state high school girls basketball tournament, clash in the feature of the quarter-finals tonight.

Gatesville was impressive with a 34-9 victory over Dodd City and Mesquite loomed strong with a 46-17 decision over Sidney in the opening round.

Another powerful entry, Mobeetie, rolled over Lott 27-14. Mobeetie meets Lapoynor in the quarter-finals. Lapoynor defeated Silsbee 35-27 yesterday.

Friona, which drew a bye in the opening round, clashes with Anton, 27-19 victor over Rusk, and Trent, which downed Blanco 36-11, meets Ennis, which advanced by a forfeit over Van Horn.

Lubbock Junior Cage Tourney Under Way

Championships in the junior boys and girls divisions of Lubbock county cage play will be determined today and tomorrow at the Shallowater High school gymnasium. Finals are scheduled Saturday night.

The first round schedule: Boys—2 p. m., Idalou vs. Roosevelt; 4, New Deal vs. Frenship; 7:30 Cooper vs. Estacado; 8:30, Slaton vs. Shallowater.

Girls—1 p. m., Idalou vs. New Deal; 3, Cooper vs. Frenship; 5, Estacado vs. Shallowater. Roosevelt drew a bye.

SMU Plays Teachers In AAU Cage Finals

DALLAS, March 7. (AP)—Southern Methodist university and East Texas State Teachers college clash tonight in the finals of the Southwestern AAU basketball tournament.

SMU, playing under the colors of James K. Wilson, and East Texas, playing as E. M. Kahn clothiers, defeated Majors and Majors (North Texas State Teachers) and Denison Frozen foods (Sam Houston State), by 53-43 and 56-47 scores respectively in last night's semi-finals.

Dell's Back On The Beat

By Collier Parris

IT'S REFRESHING TO SEE old Delicate Dell Morgan patroling this beat again, and it's good to know that he'll be around for some time to come.

• • •

As Sam Goldwyn might say it, Dell's here temporarily to stay. His job has started, his pay has begun, and he's officially at work for Texas Tech, although he'll spend a part of his time out of town. His contract calls for him to spend a certain amount of his time out of town, spreading the gospel of Texas Tech to all who will lend an ear—and if necessary take by the ear any nine-40-to-50 male individual who is about to graduate from a high school or junior college.

• • •

Texas Tech plans to expand its athletic department in every way, so Morgan will find it convenient to drop in on the Southwestern Exposition track and field meet in Fort Worth a week from tomorrow and look over the high school crop of javelin throwers and high jumpers. That will be on his way to Houston where he'll gather up Mrs. Morgan and the young Morgans and break up housekeeping in the Bayou City. Dell had bought a home there when Jess Neeley asked him to come along and help him put out a team at Rice institute; evidently he figured it would take some time. Anyway, he has to peddle it, and find him a hut here. He has more to do this week than entertain a squad of realtors, but any of you with "a good thing" might TRY and find him. Temporarily he's situated at the Lubbock Hotel.

• • •

Morley Jennings plans to come out next week, or the week after, and see about fixing up a local address. At the moment, he's winding up his affairs at Baylor — and working on Texas Tech's future football schedules.

• • •

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: An unqualified rumor is that Pete Cawthon has re-opened negotiations with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National pro club . . . Dutch Prather should have no trouble fitting in as skipper of the Pampa Oilers in the West Texas-New Mexico league . . . He succeeds Grover Seitz, but it was hard to tell, at times, just who was the manager last year—Seitz, Prather or Lloyd Summers . . . They all rushed up with fists clinched and jaws stuck out every time anything went against the club . . .

• • •

Anyway, we welcome Murl "Dutch" Prather to the family group of WT-NM managers, and his selection by the Pampa club yesterday completes the circle . . . Prather played first base for Pampa last year, and was one of the league's leading swatters . . . He has been playing pro ball since 1928 when he broke in with Independence, Kansas, in the Western association . . . He was with St. Joseph in the Western league in 1930-31, with Hazelton, Pa., in the N. Y.-Penn league the following year, and next with Nashville in the Southern association . . . He went up with the Giants in 1934, and back to the Vols, then to Dallas of the Texas league, Albany in the International, Omaha in the Western association, Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league . . . He was playing independent ball with the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., when Seitz brought him to Pampa last year. . . .

• • •

Prather, no doubt, is on the lookout for a couple of pitchers and an outfielder, having just sold Rex Dilbeck, one of the league's star southpaws last year; Righthander Gus Hallbourg and Outfielder Phil Potter to San Diego . . . Signed up are Pitchers Milbert Vannoy, "Peavine" Trantham, Monty Montgomery, John McPartland and Frank Grabek; Infielders Sam Malvica and Jerry Jordan and Catchers Summers and Hary Monroe . . . Prather will be playing manager, of course, at first base . . . Gordon "Little" Nell has been retained as manager of the championship Borger club, and he told us Sunday at the league meeting he'd have a stronger outfit than he had last year . . . By way of trying to be nice to Borger in advance, and hoping they'll return the favor when the Gassers come here — we sure enjoyed that free feed the club shoved out to visiting delegates Sunday . . . my goodness, yes. . . .

• • •

Business Manager Sled Allen of the Amarillo Gold Sox has signed up a whole lot of players, including several from the South Plains district, for trials in the Sox training camp at Hot Springs, N. M. . . . Allen says that of last year's Amarillo team, contracts have been signed by Blas Tenorio, Joe D'Antonio, and Emmit Fulenwider, although there's some doubt Fulenwider's staying . . . He may play with Topeka . . . Pitchers Chester Hill, Rus Crider and Bus Dorman are expected to return to the Sox fold . . . A new catcher, Bill De Claro, has been signed. . . .

• • •

Further indication that baseball is on the upbeat in West Texas: A six-club "sandlot" league is being organized in the Abilene district, believe it or not, with teams of Abilene, Hamlin, Novice, Trent and Baird as the starting team, and a sixth to be drawn, it is believed, from either Sweetwater, Snyder or Bronte . . . T. J. Bailey, one of Abilene's "old guard" of baseball, has been named head of the new organization . . . It's encouraging. . . .

• • •

They're saying Lacy "Stud" Turner, the highly successful Wink coach from Texas Tech, is in line for the San Angelo High school job recently vacated by Harry Taylor, who, after ten years with the Bobcats, has accepted the job of director of the Fort Worth Recreation department . . . Turner was one of three leading candidates for the Abilene job, which went to Vernon Hilliard of Plainview . . . Understand Dewey Mayhew, who resigned at Abilene, is a contestant for the San Angelo job, as is Tonto Coleman, the heavy-set track coach of ACC. . . .

• • •

Marked off our list of favorite eating joints is Joe DiMaggio's Grotto, along the San Francisco fishing wharf . . . He can have it, now, and most of the scribes will feel the same way, since he's been dodging and high-hatting them all summer and especially right now during his holdout campaign . . . The scribes played a mighty big part in lifting him off his dad's trawler, where he made a bare living, to the heights of baseball and a mansion near the Presidio — as well as a popular bar and food house . . . He shouldn't oughta high-hat anybody, much less a newspaperman . . . He'll probably pay for his advertising from now on. . . .

Soose To Meet Vigh Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 7.—The always muddled middleweight mixup is going to get another airing in Madison Square Garden tonight with Billy Soose and Ernie Vigh again vying for a chance at the championship.

The outcome—regarded as an 8 to 5 chance of again being in Soose's favor—may determine an opponent for Ken Overlin, whom the New York commission recognizes as world champion, although there is some question as to how far this bout in itself would go toward unraveling the mixup of the 160-pounders.

Judges' Verdict Unpopular

Last month, Soose came out with a ten round decision after Vigh had put the former Penn State star on the canvas in the eighth and the verdict of the judges was unpopular with a considerable percentage of the customers.

In a semi-final on tonight's program will be a lad named Georgie Abrams who has beaten both Soose and Vigh. One reason that he is in the buildup and not the main go may be that he is a stablemate of Overlin's and there might be a certain lack of lustre in easing him into a title test with the Richmond sailor boy.

Two electric power centrals in Italy have been constructed underground to be safe from aerial attack.

Second Round TAAF Cage Games Start

The sudden death round is over, and second round games begin tonight in the District TAAF basketball tournament at Wellman.

Levelland's Life Motor Fuel team battles Ropes Independents in the first game, Brownfield and Wellman independent aggregations clash in the second, and losers of the first two games come back to play the third.

Teams which survived first round play must now lose twice to be eliminated. Finals are scheduled for Monday night.

Scores last night: Brownfield 52, Morton 51; Denver City 35, Wellman Wildcats 30; Wellman Independents 38, Levelland Independents 19.

Hale Center Boxing Champions Selected

Last night's finals in the Hale Center tournament wound up the amateur boxing season for the South Plains, unless other tournaments are scheduled and announced later.

The Hale Center affair was the last of three tournaments which followed the District Golden Gloves meet. Champions of the three-day affair were: 85-pound, Buddy VanDeventer, Enochs; 100-pound, Lester Brown, Abernathy; flyweight, A. J. Hoggins, Petersburg; bantamweight, Richard Gary, Petersburg; featherweight, Carl Mobley, Enochs; lightweight, Roy Belk, Plainview; welterweight, Doug Anderson, Panhandle; middleweight, J. D. Kirkpatrick, Petersburg; light heavyweight, Roy Williams, Texas Tech; heavyweight, Charles "Punchy" Henderson, Texas Tech.

Conn Kayoes Hassett Early In 5th Round

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh adonis, toyed with Danny Hassett for four rounds last night, then knocked out his heavier opponent with a left to the jaw 35 seconds after the start of the fifth.

Conn, pointing for a whirl at Joe Louis in June, weighed 181, while the overstuffed Philadelphian displaced 204¼.

DiMaggio, Padgett And Lombardi Now On Dotted Lines

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 7. — The holdout mist that shrouded the start of baseball's spring training has lifted like a fog melting under a bright sun.

The evaporation that has been going on quietly but steadily for several days swooped up Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, Ernie Lombardi of the Cincinnati Reds, Don Padgett of the St. Louis Cardinals and Burgess Whitehead of the New York Giants yesterday.

Greenberg No Holdout

That's a lot of high priced talent to bring to terms in one day and virtually denuded the ranks of the holdouts.

DiMaggio, especially, had been expected to make a determined stand for a big boost in salary but was believed to have compromised at $35,000, a raise of $2,500 and half of the increase he had sought.

Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers, reputedly the top salaried star of the major leagues, is one of the half dozen important players who hasn't yet signed. However, he is not considered a holdout.

Mize Asking $17,500

Of the grade A holdouts left, Johnny Mize of the St. Louis Cardinals is the kingpin. The slugging first baseman is understood to be asking $17,500, which would put him up in the salary bracket left vacant when the club traded Joe Medwick to Brooklyn last year.

The Chicago Cubs are carrying on a bitter battle with Outfielder Hank Leiber, a chronic late signer, and with Pitcher Bill Lee, who was paid $21,000 in 1939 and $18,000 last year, but was reported cut to $10,000 this spring.

Lombardi settled for about $18,000 in a telephone talk last night with Warren Giles, general manager of the world champions.

Stengel Proud Of Dahlgren, Other Aces

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, March 7.—Old Casey Stengel's weather-beaten face wrinkled into a smile for the first time since the rains came.

"Nope, they won't be knocking anything through our infield this season—not through those kids."

Old Casey, the keeper of the Boston Bees, was speaking of what most baseball wise men insist will be the greatest defensive infield in the major leagues, come the summer.

Praises Eddie Miller

"Youth, speed, great arms and hustle—that's my infield," quoth the mighty Casey. "Defensively, they'll be as good as anything in either league.

"Now you take Eddie Miller out on shortstop. Ground balls just run into his glove. He's a sure shot fielder—got that class on every play. He's the kind of kid who attracts your attention the minute you walk into the park.

They Can Hit, Also

"Second base—now there's a boy, Carvel Rowell. He hit .305 last season and batted in 58 runs besides doing a good job out there around second base. Hits into a double play like Hornsby back in his prime. You know—sweeps that throw to first across the letters on his shirt. Miller and Rowell knocked off more double plays than any combination in the league last year.

"Our boy Sebastian Sisti on third looks good. He's a smart boy out there and he didn't hit so badly.

Dahlgren Thought Tops

"Of course we feel like there isn't a better fielding first baseman in either league than Babe Dahlgren. I haven't seen him play too much, but they tell me he is smooth. He should round out a pretty tough defensive infield."

The old warrior's happiness over getting Dahlgren wasn't concealed. He figured the Bees came up with quite a prize when they bagged the New York Yankee's successor to Lou Gehrig the other day.

Quite Confident

Rain has kept Dahlgren from showing too much in workouts, but Stengel commented:

"He's had a chance to get in a couple of days infield work—and I like him. He's class."

Dahlgren is the oldster of the combination at 29 years. Miller, the chatterbox who amazed the critics last season by popping 13 home runs in the Boston park, a difficult feat because of the depth of the fields and the wind currents, is 24; Sisti, 20, and Rowell, 26.

Doughty little Miller banged in 79 runs last season with his .276 average, while the combination of Miller, Rowell and Sisti accounted for 171 runs batted in—besides their defensive antics that labelled them just about the sprightliest gang of kids in the league.

Old Casey isn't so sure but what maybe that tight infield will make his Bees a little rowdier than the seventh place club of last year.

Kovacs Marching Up Tennis Trail Again

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 6. (AP)—Frankie Kovacs, Oakland, Calif., defeated Eddie Alloo, Rollins college today, 6-4, 6-4 to reach the semi-finals of the Pensacola invitation tennis tournament.

Jack Kramer, Los Angeles and Wayne Sabin, Portland, Ore., meet in a quarter-finals tilt tomorrow.

TEXAS CLINCHES THIRD

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—The Southwest conference basketball race was at an end today with the championship in possession of Arkansas and with Rice and Texas finishing in second and third places respectively. The final game was played here last night when Texas defeated Texas A. and M. 53-36 to clinch the third spot.

NO EAST-TEX LEAGUE

DALLAS, March 7. (AP)—There will be no East Texas league race this year. J. Walter Morris, president of the league, said last night the circuit would disband officially at a meeting in Longview Sunday.

Sutherland Plans To Stay With Pros As Long As That $18,500 Per Year Salary Is Continued

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Leo Durocher reported readying a real grade A snub for the Giants—plans to keep his varsity in Havana and send the scrubs to Miami to play the New Yorkers, March 15-16 . . . Next time you hear Jock Sutherland's name linked with a college coaching opening, just remember the good doctor will stay with the pros as long as they continue to pay him $18,500 per year . . . The printer's union may call a special meeting to discuss the question of the Messrs. Jendryczcyk, Vucksanovich, Andrejo and Ufrenewicz who'll football for Fordham next fall . . . Three hours after being appointed physician for the U. of Georgia's athletic teams, Dr. J. Weyman Davis had to perform an appendicitis operation on a basketballer.

Hogan Claimed Good As Jones

(By The Associated Press)

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 7. — Horton Smith believes Ben Hogan's golfing performance for the last two years has been as phenomenal—in a different way—as Bobby Jones' record when the Atlantan was monopolizing championships.

"That isn't taking anything away from Jones," smiled the handsome Smith as he relaxed after the rigorous International four-ball tournament.

Jones' Feats Tops

"I don't believe Jones' achievements will be equalled in our lifetime, but you must analyze him and Hogan in an entirely different light.

"Jones concentrated on major tournaments—and won them. Hogan and many of the other professionals, however, are striving for consistent low scores week by week the year round.

"It has almost reached the point where victories are incidental. Naturally, Hogan and every other golfer want to win, but he would prefer to finish near the top in tournament after tournament than to win the National open and make a poor showing the rest of the year.

"At the moment Ben is recognized as golf's top player. Until he and Gene Sarazen won the four-ball, Hogan hadn't finished first in a 1941 tournament. Yet he was the top money winner and had the best average score during 1940 and is leading in both departments again this year."

New Mexico Aggies Cop El Paso Title

EL PASO, March 7 (AP) — The New Mexico College Aggies held the championship of the fourth annual Southwestern Intercollegiate basketball tournament today.

The Aggies defeated Texas College of Mines 37-31 in the finals last night.

Chihuahua Teachers of Mexico won the consolation title by downing New Mexico Teachers of Silver City 51-42.

Morgan Plans Spring Work For Raiders

Got a spare house or football player?

Then Dell Morgan, Texas Tech's new head football coach, wants to see you. He arrived in Lubbock yesterday to make preparations for moving his family here and for spring football training for the Red Raiders.

The former Texas Tech freshman football, varsity basketball and football line coach who left here in 1935 to assume line coaching duties at Alabama Polytechnic and who went from there to Rice institute last year as line coach has severed his connections with the Houston school and will devote all his time to his new post at Texas Tech.

Named Coach Saturday

Morgan was named head coach by the Texas Tech board of directors at a meeting here last Saturday. He succeeds Pete Cawthon, his former coach at Austin college, who resigned at Texas Tech in January after eleven seasons here. Morgan's three-year contract went into effect March 1.

"I'm here now to get acquainted with the football players, check up on athletic equipment and see that everything is in order for our spring training season, and to look about for a home," Morgan said last night. "I will be here the rest of this week and most of next week, then return to Houston, by way of the Fort Worth Exposition track and field meet, to gather up my family and move here permanently."

Morgan explained that he had bought a home in Houston, and that he was trying to sell it.

He came to Lubbock by way of Waco where he conferred with Morley Jennings, former Baylor university coach who has been named athletic director at Texas Tech and whose duties here officially begin June 1.

"Mr. Jennings probably will come out here within the next week or so," said Morgan, "to get acquainted and also try to find a place to live."

Morgan spent most of Thursday afternoon conferring with coaches and school officials, and contacted several boys. He found the "boys" anxious to start spring training, he said.

Cow Country's Eyes On Fort Worth And Big Show

PREPARED

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — The R. O. T. C. at Pennsylvania State College vowed to be realistic, at all costs, in decorating for its annual military ball. So it surrounded the dance floor with sand bags and mounted machine guns on top.

Annual Event Opens Today

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, March 7.—The cow country's greatest show gets under way today!

It's the 45th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show that covers every form of range-land endeavor from calf roping to sheep raising.

Mist and alternate rains greeted the thousands of gaudily dressed cowhands from the sunny plains here for the show. Rain last year made the grounds a sea of mud.

Huge Parade Planned

A large parade this afternoon sets the tone for the show. It will be the largest in the history of the 45 year old event. Sixteen bands, 200 horses, ranch beauties, cowboys, cowgirls and several celebrities wind through the city's streets. The show is on!

For the next 10 days top rodeo performers will compete twice a day for "day money" in bronc riding, calf roping, bulldogging, and bull riding.

Meanwhile hundreds of 4-H club members, Future Farmers of America, and ranchers with an eye for business will range the back pens eyeing the entries competing for more than $60,000 in premiums. The number of entries in the livestock classes this year tops all previous records.

In startling contrast to the rough and ready range sports will be the annual horse show held at the same time. Fine saddle horses with long, sleeky tails held high by sets, will show for the esthetes and compete for the coveted ribbons. Midnight Star, the beautiful black stallion, owned by Joe Freeman's Leisure Hour stables, San Antonio, will make its fourth appearance at the show here. The horse made every show in the country and was undefeated for four years. It has been installed as the favorite to take the 5-gaited championship stake.

Edward J. Flynn, chairman of the Democratic National executive committee, Montana and Ken Maynard, Western movie stars, and Rufe Davis, imitator, headed the list of celebrities. Gen. Miguel Henriquez Guzman, of Monterrey, arrived last night, with four staff officers, as personal representative of President Manuel Avila Camacho, of Mexico.

Feature of today's performance will be the appearance of "Calamity Red," a wild bull from north Dallas county, who comes out of shoot number one tonight.

A cowboys bowlegged contest and a contest to determine the difference between drug store and real cowboys highlight the show.

Archery is becoming popular as a sport in New Zealand.

SOLDIER SONS—Senator Hattie Caraway of Arkansas has two sons in the army. Naturally she's proud of them, and here she admires their photos. Forrest Caraway, left, is on duty with the infantry in Alaska. Capt. Paul Caraway, who also is in the infantry, is a law instructor at West Point. Both graduated from the military academy.

College Actors To Offer More Plays

Outstanding performances by members of the cast of Hardin-Simmons university in one-act play marked the opening of contests of the Texas Intercollegiate Dramatic forum in Senior High school auditorium Thursday night.

The University Players presented "Two Slatterns and a King," a moral satire after the manner of the Elizabethans. With a unique stage set as a background and with costumes particularly in keeping with their roles, the players performed with a consistency of diction and harmonious movements which indicated long and careful preparation and directing. Miss Katharine Boyd is the director.

Karl Bonneaux, who won the title of best male actor at last year's festival, played the role of king, with Jewette Patton, Dawece McGahey and Ruth Ann Hall filling the roles of Chance, Tidy and Slut, respectively.

"Shanghai" Presented

The Southwestern university Mask and Wig club presented "Shanghai," maintaining the drabness of atmosphere characteristic of the play, which has as a setting a cheap eating house near a water front. Miss Jane Brown was the director.

Billie Doris Hayes was convincing in her role of a middle-aged woman, as was Kathryn Hedge as Flora. Ford Ainsworth played the part of Bert and Carl Bergquist that of Patch.

Presenting "Where the Whirlwind Blows," play with a timely theme of social unrest, set in Europe, the Mary Hardin-Baylor college Players guild concluded evening's program with their presentation, directed by Miss Hazel Dale.

Betty West fitted well into her role of Josefa, peasant woman. Elizabeth Stefani as Madame Elizabeth Androya and Julia Mangun as Anna effectively represented the contrast between madame and maid. The closing curtain, when Josefa stood before Anna with blade poised after she learned Anna had brought her son's death, might have been more convincing.

More than 500 persons were present for the plays.

The festival will continue with presentation of four plays tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the Senior High school auditorium.

More Are Scheduled

Those scheduled tonight are: "The Boor," (Anton Tchekoff), by Texas Wesleyan college Thespian club; Miss Alice Beckett, director; Clarice Stovall, as Helen Ivanovva Popov; Fenn Leach as Grigori Stepanovitch Smirnov, and T. E. Stafford as Luke.

"A Happy Journey" (Thornton Wilder), by College of Mines and Metallurgy College Players"; Mrs. Myrtle Ball, director; Betsy Robinson, as Ma; Arthur Davis, Pa; Virginia Decker, Caroline; Jerry Miller, Arthur; and Ophelia Chapman, Beulah. Donivee Parkey, stage manager for the play, will later present an excerpt from "Our Town."

"Gold Is Where You Don't Find It" (E. P. Conkle), University of Texas Curtain club; Ella Bess Haygood, as Donkey (mountain belle); Penelope Chatmas, and Martin Clark, prospector; James H. Parke, director.

Talent Scouts Here

"The Dictator Visits His Mother" (Wilfred Pettitt), Trinity university Players; Miss Yetta Mitchell, director; Rosanell Stafeley as the Baroness Natalie Von Ruyker; Ernest Dimaline, Baron Eugene; Thomas Arny, Johann; Blanche McCrary, Rodericka, a servant.

Dr. C. M. Wise, head of the speech department at Louisiana State university, and critic judge for the festival, will criticize the plays after tonight's performances and will rate the plays, name an all-star cast, best male and best female actor and give two honorary mentions.

Parke, head of the drama department at the University of Texas, and Dr. Wise will speak at a luncheon on the mezzanine floor of Hilton hotel at 12:30 o'clock today.

Three talent scouts are here for the festival: S. J. Baiano, Warner Bros.; Milton Lewis, Paramount, and Ivan Kahn, Twentieth Century-Fox.

D. M. Etzler Will Ask For New Trial

TAHOKA, March 7 (Special)—D. M. Etzler, adjudged guilty of robbery by assault and given five years in the penitentiary by a jury verdict, will ask for a new trial.

That was the indication this morning.

Only a few scattered spectators remained in the courtroom to hear the jury report its verdict to Judge Louis B. Reed shortly after 9 o'clock Thursday night.

Defendant Weeps

Both Etzler, 29, and his crippled mother, here from Roanoke, Va., for the trial, wept when the verdict was announced.

The Virginian pretended he intended to buy a car from George Knight at Tahoka July 12, 1939. Etzler drove the car away from the car lot with Knight as a passenger.

After leaving Tahoka Etzler pushed a gun in Knight's ribs and sped to a point near the Lubbock Municipal airport. He forced the car salesman out of the car, returned to Lubbock, then headed back north.

Another Murder Case

He picked up two youthful hitchhikers, who were riding with him when he was arrested at Tulia by Sheriff H. E. White.

The case had been continued several times since an indictment was voted.

During deliberation of the jury Thursday, Judge Reed heard a plea of guilty to drunk driving by D. E. Harris, about 50, of O'Donnell. Harris was fined $150, sentenced to five days in jail and his drivers license was revoked for six months.

The offense happened last Sept. 20. Sheriff B. L. Parker and Hattie Server, district clerk, testified.

The murder case of Mrs. Fannie Lee Porter has been set for 9 o'clock Monday morning when a special venire of 75 men will report, court officials said. Mrs. Porter, who lives in the New Home community, is charged on indictment with the poisoning of her two and one-half months old daughter, Evelyn Joe, last Jan. 4.

Senate Rejects Prohibition On U. S. Convoys For War Materials

Night Sessions Will Be Held

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Senate rejected an amendment to the British aid bill which would forbid the conveying by American armed forces of war materials shipped out of the western hemisphere.

The roll call vote was 62 to 28.

The vote came on a proposal by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), offered as a substitute to an administration-sponsored amendment by Senator Ellender (D-La). The Ellender amendment states that nothing in the measure should be construed as changing existing laws governing the land and naval forces.

"Blunt Prohibition"

While O'Mahoney had contended that his proposal as originally drawn would rule out convoys, he rewrote it slightly at the suggestion of Senator Bone (D-Wash) so that Bone finally described it as "a blunt prohibition against convoys."

Before the vote opponents and supporters alike of the measure had turned against O'Mahoney's amendment.

Asked at a press conference whether the delay on the legislation, pending in the Senate, was having serious effect, President Roosevelt asserted at first that he had better not answer.

Still Confident

But he went on to add that reporters were aware that he had stated ever since the legislation was submitted to Congress that perhaps a delay at this time, in February or early March, does not affect immediate aid to the democracies, but will affect deliveries a little later on.

Confident of a "working majority," administration leaders called for night Senate sessions today in a renewed drive to kill off numerous opposition amendments and hasten passage of the British aid bill.

Democratic Leader Barkley, announcing his intention of holding the chamber in session until 10 tonight, said pending opposition amendments would be rejected by "a comfortable margin."

Opponents Are Stubborn

The immediate contest centered around determined attempts by opponents to write into the measure their idea of a satisfactory provision prohibiting the use of United States armed forces outside the western hemisphere and American possessions.

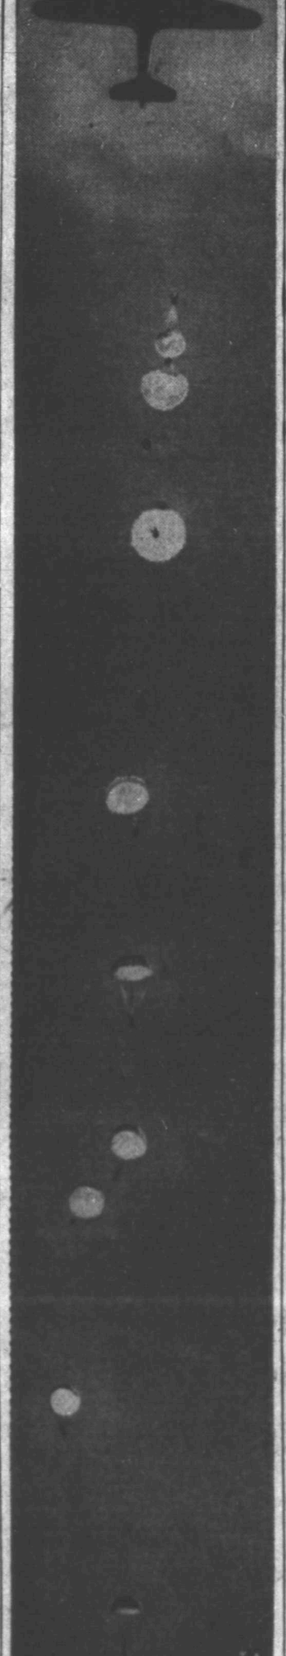

Administration lieutenants took the position that these amendments might encourage Japanese "new order" expansion southward in the Orient, and also might seriously weaken the hand of Secretary of State Hull in dealings with foreign governments.

The first such amendment to claim consideration today was the proposal by Senator Clark (D-Mo) to forbid the use of any appropriations under the British aid measure for the transportation of American troops out of the western hemisphere.

If the administration forces succeed in defeating the Clark proposal, they face a second test on the joint amendment of Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Maloney (D-Conn) to prohibit the use of American armed forces to deliver war equipment within the "combat zones" proclaimed by President Roosevelt under the neutrality act.

Both the Clark and the O'Mahoney-Maloney proposals were expected to command solid support of the aid bill's opponents.

Leaders on both sides, meanwhile, abandoned all thought of obtaining a final vote on the bill this week.

$35,000 Suit

peace's office but never taken before a magistrate for plea or to give bail;

Ordered Into Vault

That Sheriff Parker ordered the plaintiff into a vault of the Lynn county courthouse, made threatening gestures and forced Warren to sign an instrument in writing in which Warren acknowledged receipt of certain moneys and released a debt he set out as owed to him by Sheriff Parker.

Warren further explained that he had been a tenant on Sheriff Parker's farm and was entitled to certain payment under the government farm program and that such payment had been paid to Sheriff Parker instead of to the plaintiff; that he, Warren, had made demands of Sheriff Parker upon advice of county agents of Lynn and Lubbock counties, but that Sheriff Parker had refused and, prior to the time of the complaint, had threatened Warren that if Warren did not execute a release of such indebtedness Sheriff Parker would jail the plaintiff and keep him there until he did execute it.

In Fear Of Injury

In jail, the plaintiff continued, and being in great fear of bodily injury, Warren executed such a release, whereupon Sheriff Parker sent the plaintiff back to Lubbock county without the plaintiff's having been taken before a magistrate to answer such charges as alleged.

Thereafter, Warren set out, Sheriff Parker, without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiff, appeared before Dye, the justice of peace, "impliedly representing himself as authorized to do so, and entered a plea of guilty on behalf of the plaintiff or, conspiring with Dye, pleaded the plaintiff guilty of the charge" and after Dye had assessed fine and costs Parker paid them.

The plaintiff set out he had been disgraced and humiliated and that his reputation had been damaged and his health impaired.

He asked $10,000 actual and $5,000 exemplary damages in each of two counts, as well as the amount of Parker's bond.

He said the charge against him was false and that it did not confer jurisdiction of any Texas court.

tors were to be taken on an inspection tour of the campus. Ice cream was to be served in the dairy products department, coffee and tea in the home economics building, ash trays were to be given to the solons in the chemical engineering department and handmade laundry bags with their names stitched on the bags were to be presented in black and red wrappings in the textile engineering department.

To Discuss Needs

President Jones, Business Manager W. T. Gaston and Spencer A. Wells, vice chairman of the board of directors, were to discuss needs in the hearing. A $250,000 agricultural building heads the list of buildings for which funds are requested from the legislature.

A fish fry is scheduled for 6 o'clock tonight at Buffalo lakes. A convocation at 11 o'clock Saturday morning will be followed by a brief luncheon and departure for Fort Worth, where the legislators will be guests at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show.

lation has been proposed in Austin which apparently would limit, if not jeopardize, the right of municipalities to levy rentals under the recent court holding.

Those attending the conference were critical of the legislation described by McAdams, and the suggestion was offered without immediate action being taken that resolutions condemning it be adopted.

Brown Is Presiding

This morning's conference was called to order by R. L. Brown, mayor of Muleshoe, chairman of the invitations committee. Mayor Carl E. Slaton of Lubbock welcomed the visitors and Durwood H. Bradley, Lubbock city attorney, spoke.

The officials were guests of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon in the Lubbock hotel at noon.

"I feel hard toward nobody," Boyce said in his statement, . . . "but sometimes it is hard to forgive when you know a lot of misery and suffering could be avoided if those in charge tried a little more to live by the Golden Rule. May this be a lesson to all the boys who are doing wrong, and now goodbye, and I hope to meet you all in heaven."

Heard, in his statement, asserted:

"I would like to tell all of the youngsters and old timers, too, that crime does not pay. There is no such thing as 'easy money.' A very small percentage end up as I am, but they pay just the same."

Meharg devoted most of his statement in tribute to his mother, whom he called "the sweetest mother in the world."

He said that she had "slaved over a washtub doing other peoples' laundry that she might give me and other members of the family the necessities of life." He requested that the song "If I Could Hear My Mother Pray Again" be played on a harmonica and dedicated to her.

"During the time I was wasting my life in crime and sin," he continued, "my dear mother was praying that I would not be taken from this life in that sinful condition, and I am happy and thankful that her prayers have at last been answered . . ."

Landers, in a brief statement, said there was not much "a fellow can say at a time like this. . . . May God bless my dear wife and little son. . . . Goodbye to you all."

Long-Lost Coins On Beach Are "Panned"

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Mar. 7 (U.P.)—Sifting sands for money is proving profitable at Hampton Beach this year.

Unusually high and strong tides have stirred up sands that have been undisturbed for years—resulting in numerous "coin panning" expeditions. Some persons have found as much as $15 in dimes, quarters and half-dollars in two days.

A few of the coins found bore the dates of 1803, 1822 and 1835.

Committee Plugs Loop-Holes In Excise Tax Law On Motor Fuels

Plan To Boost State Income

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 7 — Headed today for eventual House of Representatives floor consideration was the third tax bill to come out of the powerful revenue and taxation committee — a minor proposal estimated to boost state income $1,000,000 a year.

The bill, authored by Rep. M. A. (Bill) Bundy of Wichita Falls and primarily intended to plug asserted loop-holes in the current excise tax law on motor fuel, was recommended for passage last night.

Liquid Fuels Included

Amending the statutes on the four-cent a gallon tax which brought in approximately $55,000,000 last year, the proposal included liquefied gases and other liquid fuels used to operate vehicles on highways.

Earlier in the week, the group sent the House a $14,500,000 omnibus bill upping levies on natural resources, franchises and other courses and a proposal placing a one-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline refined in Texas. Advocates estimated the refining law would net $42,000,000 annually.

While the legislature was in recess for the weekend, members worked at their desks or visited their homes.

Decide To Take It Back

The House Appropriations committee last night voted out a bill to finance teachers retirement with $3,500,000 a year from the deficit-ridden general revenue fund and then decided to take it back.

After a 7 to 6 vote on a motion to report it favorably, several members objected that if the committee acted favorably on one social security bill it should do so on all. They asserted they would move to bring out Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's $26,820,000 over-all social security financing proposal. After debate, the group returned the bill to its original standing by vote of 11 to 6.

A Senate committee passed to the floor for consideration proposed constitutional amendments to supply free text books to sectarian and other non-public schools, spend $500,000 a year to advertise Texas and permit the court of criminal appeals to sit in July, August and September.

Ruled Unconstitutional

The so-called fair trade bill allowing manufacturers to establish minimum prices on products was ruled constitutional by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

Passed by the House to the Senate were a large number of local and uncontested bills, including ones:

Authorizing state colleges to use up to $5 a semester of each tuition fee for buildings.

Appropriating $5,000 to the Upper Red river flood control and irrigation district.

Raising salaries of Jefferson county commissioners to $5,000 a year.

Fruit Damage Said Possible

Possible damage to fruit buds when the mercury dropped to 28 degrees above zero this morning, was indicated by Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station here, who said fruit trees were beginning to bloom and that sustained low temperatures would undoubtedly injure buds.

Jones added that he had not made many personal inspections of fruit tree buds, but he was of the opinion that there was a threat of damage. "This country is tricky about freezing, and it is often hard to tell just what freezing will do," he added.

Mercury Is Rising

By 8 o'clock this morning the mercury had risen to 31 degrees. Later in the morning the sun appeared. The wind, however, remained cold. A strong wind during the night had prevailed.

Thursday's maximum temperature was 47 degrees; the minimum that morning was 37 degrees.

No danger to wheat was seen by Jones because of the freezing weather at this time. Growth is not believed sufficient for serious damage, as the plants have not begun to form joints. A continuation of cold weather, with the mercury dropping considerably from present lows and its continuation for some time would have an effect upon wheat.

No other growing crops are reported over the territory, except a few small patches of barley and oats. No grain sorghums have been planted and no cotton. Planting time for these crops is 60 days ahead.

Tech Pre-Law Club Planning Banquet

Approximately 70 members and guests of the Pre-Law club of Texas Technological college are expected to attend a banquet at 8 o'clock tonight at Mexican inn, said Maurice Goodpasture, student from Levelland and president of the club.

Allotments Signed — General crop allotment notices for individual producers of Lubbock county were being signed today by the county Agricultural Adjustment administration committee, said C. E. Lilley, chairman. Notices will later be mailed to producers. Wheat farmers with overplanted acres were to meet with the group also.

School Well Attended—A good attendance at the second annual irrigation school at Lockney Wednesday and Thursday, was reported by Don L. Jones, of the state experiment sub-station, who spoke three times at the meeting. He said the first day had an attendance of over 400 and on the second day there were 115 persons at the morning session.

Texas Project Is To Reopen

(By The United Press)

Settlement of a strike that had shut down a $5,000,000 navy shipyard project was announced today but four army projects and 21 industrial plants working on national defense orders still were closed by labor disputes.

A federal labor conciliator announced a "satisfactory" agreement had been reached by members of the AFL shopmen's union and officials of the Consolidated Steel corporation of Texas ending the six-day strike at an Orange, Tex., steel fabrication plant. The strike had forced the Orange shipyard to shut down because of lack of supplies.

Terms Not Revealed

Terms of the settlement were not revealed, but the conciliator said the 245 strikers would return to work today. The 400 shipyards workers were expected to be recalled as soon as a supply of fabricated steel was available.

The strike had been called because the management allegedly refused to sign a contract with the union. The company said negotiations for the contract had not been terminated, but never had been abandoned.

Walkout Is Averted

A strike of AFL electrical workers that would have shut off electric power, light and gas in lower Michigan, where scores of plants are working on defense orders worth millions of dollars, was averted after intervention by Gov. Murray D. Vanwagoner. Representatives of the union and the Consumers Power Co. reached an agreement after an 18-hour conference under direction of the state labor board.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed. The dispatch was over the manner in which wage increases should be granted, on a blanket or classification basis.

Conference Is Urged

Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin said he had been asked by Director William S. Knudsen of the office of production management to confer with officials of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. regarding terms for settlement of a 44-day strike of the United Automobile Workers' (CIO) union at the Milwaukee, Wis., plant. The plant had been working on machinery for the navy and for gunpowder production and held contracts for materials worth $40,000,000. The union demands "security" and wage increases.

John R. Steelman, director of the U. S. conciliation service said at Washington there still was "much to be done" toward settlement of four strikes called by the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee (CIO) against the International Harvester Co. whose chain of eight middle western plants holds defense orders worth $10,000,000. Steelman conferred with company and union representatives 27 consecutive hours before calling a recess in negotiations yesterday, the longest conference in U. S. conciliation records.

The $1,550,000 construction project to expand the army air corps testing center at Wright field, Dayton, O., remained at a standstill for the fifth day except for the work of four CIO electrical workers. Army officers awaited further instructions from the war department at Washington on the strike of 400 AFL members of the Dayton building trades council who walked off the project for the second time in five weeks in protest against hiring of the CIO workers.

First Anniversary Being Observed By College Ave. Drug

James D. Rondeaux and Tommie Starnes, owners of College Avenue Drug, Fourteenth and College, were entering their second year of business today and looking back upon a successful first year's operations.

A phenomenal increase in business during the past several months has enabled the store to add to its stock until now it has a complete line of drugs and sundries and a complete prescription service. Lunches and fountain service have been augmented by the addition of catering to parties, luncheons, breakfasts and small banquets.

Parties, luncheons and breakfasts for small social groups are held on the mezzanine floor of the store. The Cavern, basement rendezvous, also has space for small parties.

Several improvements have been made in the store during the past year. A hardwood floor in one sector and tile flooring the remainder of the space has been added in the basement. The store has been completely redecorated in the past few months and the designs on walls, drawn by an art student, are most unique. Fluorescent lighting also has been installed in the store in the past year.

The store has a total of 19 employes now compared to ten when the business was purchased. Ellison Huffman is manager of the fountain and luncheon service.

The store operates an efficient delivery service and this phase of the business also has shown surprising growth.

Joined Negro Twins Dead

(By The United Press)

WACO, March 7.—Male negro twins, joined at the abdomen and with a single heart, died today

They were the sons of Alvia Majors, 29, who gave birth to them yesterday in a poverty-stricken shack, attended only by a midwife.

The twins, together, weighed 10 pounds. They had perfectly-formed heads, faces, arms and feet, but were fused at the lower part of the torso. Two legs on the left side of the pelvis were joined, but had normal feet. The legs on the right side of the pelvis were normal.

The midwife, who had to deliver them because a doctor did not arrive in time, said they were born without difficulty, and the mother was in fair condition. The mother has three other children, all normal.

Given Stimulants

Excited, the midwife summoned an ambulance, and the twins were rushed to a hospital. The heart weakened before midnight, but it was strengthened with stimulants, and early today the twins took a little water.

The father is L. C. Majors, 32, who had worked on the WPA to supplement his income as a tenant farmer He recently has been idle

Two Doctors Are Acquitted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Justice James M. Proctor of federal district court today ordered a directed verdict of acquittal for two physicians and two medical organizations under trial for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Dr. Leon A. Martel, and Dr. J. Rogers Young, Washington physicians, named in the original indictment and the Washington Academy of Surgery and the Harris county, Texas, Medical society, were thus exonerated.

Others Face Action

"As to the other defendants, I think the evidence is sufficient to put them on the defense and accordingly, the motion is denied as to them," Justice Proctor said.

These other defendants include the American Medical association, the District of Columbia Medical society, and 18 physicians.

The caverns of southern France and northern Spain were decorated with strikingly animated pictures of animals some 20,000 years ago by the vanished Cro-Magnon men.

THINKS JAIL'S BEST—Eric Blomberg, 87, who has spent the last 14 years in the Washington county, Kansas, jail for failure to pay a county judgment of $63.35, leans back on a jail cot after his release and figures that there could be much worse places for him to spend his remaining days. He was released from the jail but returned when he found little of interest to him outside it.

Jury Report Likely Wasn't Unanimous

WICHITA, Kas., March 7. (AP)—The verdict of the jury trying a damage suit almost bowled over District Judge Grover Pierpont.

"This jury," reported Foreman Warren Daniels, "is of the opinion that one of the persons on the jury is mentally incompetent to serve as a juror."

The judge excused the jury so he could figure out his next move.

Two Men Post $2,500 Bonds In City Today

Jimmie Brown, 23, and Billy York, 32, posted bond of $2,500 each this morning.

They were indicted Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to murder C. W. Byrd Sunday morning.

Byrd was stabbed and beaten with a bottle.

Eight Missing Aboard Boat

(By The Associated Press)

FREEPORT, March 7.—A half-dozen boats searched the fog-shrouded stretches of the Gulf of Mexico today for a fishing boat, the Captain Carl, with eight men aboard.

The 46-foot vessel left Freeport Wednesday morning on a pleasure trip and was to return during the afternoon.

Those On Board

On board were H. H. Tatum, Cordus O. Williams, Henry Krantz, A. E. Boyett and Elmo W. Hardt of Houston; Charles Ovitt, sales representative of the Central News and Photo Service of New York, and Captain Tiny Bell and his mate, whose name was not learned here.

The fishermen had taken only enough food for Wednesday lunch. They had 55 gallons of water, 300 pounds of ice and fuel for 15 days.

Planes were due here today from Biloxi, Miss., to join in the hunt.

The Argentine government expects to buy from its farmers this year about 5,500,000 tons of wheat, 1,300,000 tons of linseed and more than 400,000 tons of barley.

Parents Have Daughter Jailed For Dancing In "Bad Company"

(By The United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7—Maureen Margarite O'Massey, 19, is a "good girl," auburn-haired, blue-eyed; not a beauty, but very passable.

The trouble is, she likes to while away her evenings with "bad companions," dancing to the music of juke boxes and hot swing bands in joints with sawdust on the floor and subdued lights.

She has been carrying on like this for a year, and while Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry O'Massey never dreamed that she had done anything bad, they wondered if temptation couldn't be carried a little too far. Particularly, after Maureen came home one night three weeks ago with a girl friend and a sailor, "and we heard much strange talk about night spots and drink places and such."

Night before last, Mr. and Mrs. O'Massey had enough; they made a round of the night spots in the tough district "south of the slot." They found her in a Mission street tavern, and Mrs. O'Massey brought her out, kicking and scratching, to her husband, who was waiting on the sidewalk. He held her while Mrs. O'Massey called the police, and she was taken to jail in a patrol wagon.

Her parents had her charged with vagrancy.

Maureen was brought before Judge Theresa Meikle for trial yesterday, and her parents testified against her. Mrs. O'Massey said she had two sons, and they never had given her any trouble; but Maureen, she was "difficult and different." She said she hated to have her daughter in jail, but "I hope this will be a lesson and help to save other girls who are going the same path."

Judge Meikle suggested six months in jail.

Maureen blew up.

"That's just swell," she said. "Give me six months and I won't have to go home. And when I get out, I'm going to be a streetwalker."

Her parents cried.

Later, she relented, and said:

"I'm all mixed up. I really love my parents, but I hate them too. Today I hated my father more than anything in the world. He made me feel dirty. He said things about me that were terrible."

She appears before Judge Meikle today for sentencing.

Religious Order's Suit Dismissed

Pamphlet Fee Ruled Valid

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 7 — Federal Judge W. H. Atwell today dismissed an injunction suit brought by Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious order, against the city of Waxahachie and upheld an ordinance requiring a 50-cent fee daily from peddlers of pamphlets.

The injunction suit, filed last Nov. 22, sought restraint of an ordinance enacted last June 4 and replaced by another Jan. 17. The judge found no support for the claim that Waxahachie police intended to make discriminatory use of the substituted ordinance.

Could Assess Charge

"If it is left to officials to say whether it is a religious cause for the solicitation of funds, such regulation is a restraint on religious freedom. The time, place and manner of distribution may be regulated to safeguard the peace, comfort and good order of the community."

Judge Atwell said the new ordinance made no distinction as to whom could obtain permits and that the city had a right to charge 50 cents a day for the privilege of peddling literature.

Was Affording Protection

Attorneys for the city and Ellis county said that officers probably went too far in gathering up the witnesses last summer but that they acted with the thought of protecting them from probably mob violence.

The suit was brought by Charles Eisenhower of Tyler and nine other members of the group mostly from Dallas and Fort Worth.

Figures On Residence Building Are Given

Cost of the "typical dwelling" erected in Lubbock last year ranged between $2,000 and $3,000, according to figures compiled Thursday by Jim Reid, city building inspector.

A total of 197 residences with a total estimated valuation of $502,111 fell into that price group. However, 194 residences in the $3,000 to $4,000 price group had a greater total valuation, $648,025.

Only four residences costing more than $10,000 were constructed. They totaled $62,823 in cost. Five apartment houses costing more than $10,000 each were constructed. Their total valuation was $146,100.

Other price groups, with the number of residences constructed during 1940 and their total valuation, were: under $1,000, 115, costing $41,330 total; $1,000 to $2,000, 29, $43,130; $4,000 to $5,000, 66, $286,863; $5,000 to $7,500, 48, $275,722; $7,500 to $10,000, two, $16,237.

Methods To Combat Bombs In Defense Industry Explained

By ALLEN C. DIBBLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 7 — What would you do if you found a bomb beneath your workbench in a plant housing thousands of employes and vital defense materials?

Would you submerge the bomb in the nearest pail of water? Or would you attempt to remove the infernal machine to a spot where its fury might be spent without damage?

In either case, you would take a chance of helping the saboteur in his work.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has advised owners of strategic defense plants that such ingenuity is employed in the manufacture of infernal machines that no two bombs can be handled alike with safety.

Some will explode when moved, due to a trigger or pendulum arrangement; others explode at a specific time by use of a clockwork device; others are connected with lighting circuits so that when the lights are turned on the bomb explodes; some are equipped with an acid timing device which will cause the bomb to explode if it is submerged in water.

Rules Are Listed

Here are the rules given plant owners by the FBI for handling such cases:

1. Remain a safe distance from the bomb at all times.
2. Consider the protection of life first, and clear the surrounding area of all persons.
3. Remove inflammables from the immediate vicinity to prevent the spread of fire in the event the bomb explodes.
4. Disconnect all power lines in the immediate vicinity to prevent fires or short-circuiting of the power lines over a large area.
5. Shut off all illuminating gas lines in the area.
6. Have in readiness fire fighting equipment.
7. Provide for an explosive expert to handle the bomb.

Negligence Dangerous

Whether an industrial plant is destroyed by neglect or by intention is immaterial when considering the loss of the plant to American production during a time of emergency, G-men have pointed out in their surveys. A condition which constitutes a hazard to the personnel may be as dangerous as a saboteur.

In one factory a federal agent found a large pile of oil-soaked metal shavings. Excess oil had flowed from the pile into small pools scattered about a warehouse floor where oil and gasoline used in motor tests were stored. A lighted cigaret placed in the oil by design or accident could have sent the entire plant up in flames and halted important production.

In some instances, plants have been negligent in either the care or the installation of what otherwise would be adequate protective equipment. In one factory room, for example, where waste paper was baled, an inspection of the several fire extinguishers available indicated that one had not been tended since 1936.

Adventists To Hold Session

Opening session of the convention of young people of Seventh Day Adventist churches of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will be held in the local church tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Between 500 and 600 persons are expected to be here for sessions tonight and Saturday, according to the estimate of Elder Gordon A. Carlisle, superintendent of the local church at Twentieth street and Avenue K.

Among speakers will be Elder Carlisle, Elder A. J. Peterson, Texico district young people's secretary with headquarters at Clovis, N. M.; and Elder V. A. La Grone of Clovis, president of the Texico union; H. Hamilton, president of the church's Southwestern Junior college at Keene; and R. J. Roy, also of Keene, southwestern union educational secretary. The junior college male quartet will be here to sing.

A session at the Adventist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight will open the meet. Saturday's meetings will open at First Christian church, Sixteenth street and Avenue J, at 9:30 o'clock that morning.

A spread lunch is to be served at noon.

At a final meeting Saturday night sound pictures portraying work of the church in foreign lands will be shown. The missionary work done by the church will be a main topic throughout the program.

Dramatic Broadcast Is Scheduled Today

"The Place of Drama in the National Defense" will be the theme of a broadcast over KFYO from 4:30 until 5 o'clock this afternoon in which seven directors here for the Texas Intercollegiate Dramatic festival, the critic judge and talent scouts for motion picture studios will take part.

The program will be one of a series entitled "Texas Tech Speaks."

H. M. Terry, student from Dallas, will be master of ceremonies and Kenneth Duke, student of Lubbock, will be program director and announcer.

Directors taking part will be Miss Katharine Boyd, Hardin-Simmons university; Miss Jane Brown, Southwestern university; Miss Hazel Dale, Mary Hardin-Baylor college; Miss Alice Beckett, Texas Wesleyan college; Miss Myrtle Ball, College of Mines and Metallurgy; James H. Parke, University of Texas, and Miss Yetta Mitchell, Trinity university. Dr. C. M. Wise of Louisiana State college is critic judge. Talent scouts who had arrived Thursday afternoon were S. J. Baiano, Warner Bros.; Milton Lewis, Paramount, and Ivan Kahn, Twentieth Century-Fox.

British May Use Animals In Zoos, Wildlife As Food In Emergency

Plan Explained By Explorers

BY WILLIAM R. DOWNS
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 7—The people of Great Britain need never go hungry, with all the zoological gardens and native wildlife to supply such delicacies as badger hams, bear steaks, roast python and hedgehog.

That was the pronouncement made in all seriousness today by explorers of London's Royal Empire society in considering the possibility that the German submarine and air warfare might further reduce Britain's food imports.

Roast Python Not Bad

The nation's zoos, said a society spokesman, house great numbers of animals that could be slaughtered to provide emergency meat rations. He recommended particularly antelope, deer and bear.

"A lot of nonsense is talked about food," a veteran explorer interposed gruffly. "If people were really hungry they'd look for things. Now, I can't say that I'm very keen on lion steak or vulture venison, but I've had roast python for lunch, and it wasn't bad."

Might Eat Birds

"London is full of pigeons and starlings," another suggested. "They're well-fed and would make good eating. It would be a good thing to reduce their numbers anyway."

"Most people turn up their noses at frogs and snails, but they're clean feeders," he continued. "Most people prefer pig, which eats anything. They'll eat eels, which like mud, but won't touch grass snakes or lizards."

"Badger hams," he said, "are a luxury in some parts of the world and so is mole."

Hedgehog Said Delicate

He waxed even more enthusiastic about "the rich delicate meat of the hedgehog."

"They tell me people are lining up at the dog meat shops to get horse meat for their pets," he explained. "Horse meat has been eaten on the continent for years and a bit of horse tongue rates with the best beef."

The explorer expressed admiration for the food habits of Americans.

"They can most things over there and now I see they are putting up rattlesnake in tins," he said. "Splendid!"

Some Of Movieland's "Stills" Never Seen

* * *

(By The Associated Press)

The "Hays office" isn't concerned with "moving pictures" alone. The organization for administering the film industry's self-imposed censorship applies just as many rules to "still" shots used for advertising as it does to the movies. The accompanying pictures show how regulating pictures show how regulations governing portrayal of such things as crime, sex and religion are applied to the "stills." You may see suggestive pictures, but chances are they were taken by free lance photographers, the Hays office explains.

This shot of Mary Beth Hughes was rejected.

This one was not so revealing, passed easily.

The Hays office decided Robert Preston was making love to Paulette Goddard here in a too "impetuous" pose . . .

A picture of the same pair sitting up like this was permitted. Reclining love scenes are not necessarily taboo.

Most people think the Hays office requires twin beds. It doesn't, but British censors do. Hays office advised producer this still of Merle Oberon and Melvyn Douglas would get by in England.

This still of Mary Martin was passed. It illustrates plot: producer saw legs, gave her a job.

Shanghai has a new war on gambling.

BITTER 'WINE'—These anti-tank cocktails, prepared by Italians at Bardia, were never served to the successful British attackers. The home-made hand grenades, being examined by Australian soldier, are Italian wine bottles (from Triest) filled with gasoline and fitted with a detonator.

Sheriff Proves He's Human Bloodhound

PUEBLO, Colo., March 7 (AP)—Police Capt. R. E. Pratt was investigating the theft of a revolver from an automobile. In the car he found a paper napkin. It had the unmistakable odor of hamburger with onions on it.

The captain hurried to a nearby coffee shop. Sure, said the waitress, a couple of men had been in a few minutes before and had ordered hamburgers, which they took with them.

Just then one of the fellows returned and ordered another hamburger. Capt. Pratt frisked him and sure enough, there was the revolver.

Man Pays .006 Of A Cent Income Taxes

DENVER, March 7 (AP)—A taxpayer paid Colorado $0.006 today, but he owed only $0.0052.

Trevor P. Thomas, state income tax division cashier, said the man reported his income from intangible property in 1940 was 26 cents. The tax at 2 per cent came to $0.0052.

The taxpayer laid down three fifth-of-cent sales tax tokens and obtained a formal receipt.

According to the Argentine Ministry of Finance, Argentina is facing an economic situation more serious than that of 1932, when there were 350,000 idle workers in the country.

Young Komu Iwashita found in a street of Ueda, Japan, a check drawn for an amount equal to $700,000 and gave it to the police, then learned it was to pay for school books.

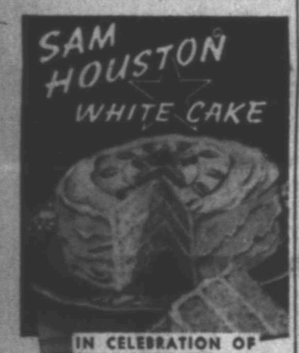

WHITE COTTONS and linens that are grayed, dingy, or yellowed can easily be made beautifully white again with Clorox. And Clorox is Ultra-refined . . . free from caustic and other harsh substances . . . extra-kind to linens. Clorox also brightens fast colors, deodorizes, disinfects; lessens rubbing, thus prolonging life of fabrics and making wash day easier. Clorox provides protective cleanliness in laundry, kitchen and bathroom . . . is effective yet gentle in its many personal uses. Simply follow directions on the label.

Brer Rabbit Syrup is RICH in IRON

HOW TO ADD IRON TO CHILDREN'S DIETS

Children love to get their iron from delicious Brer Rabbit Syrup—and you can give it to them in any form they enjoy:

AS A SPREAD—for pancakes, waffles, biscuits and other hot breads. Or on plain or buttered bread for between-meal snacks.

IN MILK—For a delicious Brer Rabbit Milk Shake, mix one or more tablespoons of Brer Rabbit Syrup with a glass of milk.

ON CEREAL—In place of other sweetening.

FOR DESSERT—As a sauce for ice cream or in luscious gingerbread or cookies. All of Brer Rabbit's iron richness is retained in cooking.

GROWING CHILDREN need an abundance of food iron—much more than adults in proportion to their size.

And, unfortunately, a number of the foods in the average child's diet provide very little iron, or supply it in a form that the body cannot use fully.

But there is one delicious, inexpensive food that is a rich and reliable source of iron. Recent scientific tests prove:

1. Brer Rabbit Syrup contains a valuable amount of iron.
2. The iron in Brer Rabbit Syrup is almost 100% available for use by the body. It is more fully available than the iron in most other foods.
3. Brer Rabbit Syrup helps to supply the iron needed daily by both children and adults.

So why not give Brer Rabbit Syrup a regular place in your family's diet? Start today!

Britain Grows Blitz-Minded To Keep Calm As Bombs Wreak Havoc

New York Raid Is Imagined

By BRIAN A. TOBIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 7—Within the space of a few days, this correspondent has been in the two greatest cities of the world—London, beleaguered capital of an empire in arms, and New York, metropolis of the nation whose decisions may decide the course of the war.

It was a great jump to go last fall from North American security to the heart of the war; to leave lighted streets and extravagantly plentiful supplies of food and fuel and enter a blacked-out, strictly-rationed civilian front line.

Is Mental Upset

It was no less a mental upset to come back to peaceful scenes again.

Three months of London air raids have made me blitz-minded. I look once more at New York's towering skyscrapers — and wonder only how they would stand the effect of aerial torpedoes blowing 60-foot craters in the pavement at their foundations. The lofty pinnacles of the highest buildings in the world arouse only a thought of what would happen if the top four or five stories were blown by high explosive bombs into the roadway below.

Piccadilly Circus Black

And what a blackout job it would be to board up each night the city's millions of gleaming windows. Times Square pitch dark and deserted by 8 o'clock every night, like its counterpart Piccadilly Circus in London.

Theaters closed by 9; no lighted store windows; the sidewalks empty except for an occasional policeman or air raid warden.

New York's elevated and underground railways stand out as weak points. They would be bombed to shambles in no time, tying up both rail and street transportation. You could never shelter in the city's subway stations at night, with only a thickness of concrete roadway above you. Sleeping Londoners are shaken in their tubes 60 feet and more below the ground.

Lights Too Bright

New York's after-dark traffic would find it strange to creep around in pitch blackness, a tiny, dim glow for headlights and traffic signals cut to a slit.

In the early months of the war Londoners complained that it was impossible to see their hooded, almost painted-out traffic lights. Now they complain that the lights are too bright, and point to bomb damage in main thoroughfares to support their assertion that even these tiny pencils of colored light must be visible from the sky.

Wreckage Just Ignored

For you do get used to the war environment — that's the strange part of it. The shattered buildings or blocks of buildings which you pass every day soon cease to take an active hold on your conciousness. Even new scenes of destruction now fail to shake the Londoner's calm.

He goes to a usual haunt for a cup of tea or coffee. He finds the place burned out. He goes to the office in the morning—and finds the building is a large hole full of tumbled rubbish. Next night he learns he must get out of the underground train halfway home and continue by bus — a station has been hit.

It's just one bombed thing after another.

I walked by one of London's busiest corners one afternoon, near St. Paul's cathedral on the edge of the financial district. Two nights later I was back there again—to watch the worst fire the city has experienced since it was burned out in 1666.

A day or so later I had occasion to go by that corner once more. The spot in the roadway from which I had watched the flames was now just a large crater. The building wall I had stood against was pitted with large holes where exploding fragments had smashed against it. The raiders had paid still another visit.

Already Pioneer Corps men were pulling down blackened walls and levelling the debris. But even the ruins get bombed.

New York has not known a blitz, but I find it very war conscious. The talk is all of war. Kilted Scottish pipers collect in the streets for a British ambulance fund. A famous Fifth Avenue jeweler displays R. A. F. pins, and cigarette cases bearing jeweled maps of Britain with the word "Always." Newspaper headlines shout, "More Ships for Britain." Pinball games in the nickel arcades have given way to "Shoot the Parachutist," "Bomb the Town," "Bring Down the Raider," and other pastimes. Six conscientious objectors to the army call-up were sentenced to a year in jail. Another got two years.

I talked to a young flier. He had just completed a special course. "It isn't now a question of 'if' you're going to use this training," the instructor had told them. "It's just a question of when."

Senator Gives View In Message To Son

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—A letter to his 17-year-old son, Dick, was the vehicle used by Senator Downey (D-Calif) last night to make known his support of the lease-lend bill.

You have written me, as have many young people and old ones too, to learn how I plan to vote on the measure, the senator told his son.

Downey said that this country's "only practical sphere of influence lies within this hemisphere" and that any "attempt at moral imperialism" would be turned back "with redoubled disillusion."

"All this I believe, Dick; all this I affirm," he wrote.

"But one insistent factor outweighs in my mind these considerations. And that is that we, as a nation, have morally committed ourselves to the full assistance of the British people. If we retract our pledge at this late hour, we shall have to answer not only to the embittered living, not only to the deluded dead, but to our own offended conscience. . . .

"I have no knowledge, Dick, how history will view the decision we take here or how even your own generation, when it comes of age, will look back upon it. But I wish you to know, at least, the reasons which have motivated my own choice. I think they are reasonable ones. I believe time will support me."

Factories in the Normandy section of France are manufacturing cloth containing 40 per cent cellulose.

Son Given Mess Kit Father Used In '18

PETERSBURG, Ind., Mar. 7 (U.P.)—World war memories were revived for Lane Lang, a gardener, when his son, Lane Lang, jr., wrote that he had been issued a mess kit carved with his father's name and a skull and crossbones at the Phoenix, Ariz., CCC camp.

Lang recalled that he had inscribed the mess kit with his name and the design while in the Argonne forest in France. When mustered out of the army Lang checked in his equipment at Newport News, Va. In some mysterious way the CCC, which issues old army equipment, placed the kit in his son's hands.

RECIPE
SPAGHETTI AND SAUTÉED SALMON—Drain a 16-oz. tin red salmon. Remove skin, keeping salmon in as large pieces as possible. Sauté quickly in butter. Arrange half of a large (24-oz.) tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti in casserole. Top with salmon and add remaining spaghetti. Sprinkle with fine bread crumbs or grated Parmesan cheese. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 20 minutes. (Serves 5).
WHY worry about meatless meals when your grocer has Heinz Cooked Spaghetti? Ready to serve, this nourishing dish is grand by itself—or with leftovers. You'll relish its rich tomato sauce—the toothsome goodness of Heinz-made spaghetti strands. It's wise to keep a few tins handy.

RECIPE
MACARONI AND CAULIFLOWER CASSEROLE—Wash and separate into flowerets 1 small head cauliflower. Cook 8 minutes in rapidly boiling salted water. Drain. Brown 1 small tin mushrooms in 1 tbs. butter. Reserve several mushrooms for garnishing. Combine remaining mushrooms with cauliflower. Add, mixing lightly with fork, 1 medium (17-oz.) tin Heinz Cooked Macaroni. Pour into casserole and arrange rest of mushrooms on top. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20 minutes. (Serves 4).
A GENEROUS drenching of tangy, cheese-flavored cream sauce makes Heinz Cooked Macaroni extra rich and mouth-watering! So energy-giving it's almost a meal in itself, this thrifty, ready-to-serve dish solves many a meatless-meal problem. It's wise these days to keep a good supply handy!

Defense Load In Automotive Industry Is Expected During Summer

Private Output Is Speeded Up

BY BERNARD CRANDELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, March 7.—The automobile industry will feel its first severe pinch on car production the latter part of July and August when its new defense factories are stripping the assembly lines of skilled workers, observers believe.

Fortunately, the bulk of defense employment needs will come approximately at the time when 1941 model production is tapering off and the seasonal changeover to new models leaves about a month of idleness for most of the workers.

Skilled Laborers In Demand

All companies holding contracts for defense materials are training new workers for skilled and semi-skilled jobs, but it is improbable that the training schools can turn out enough to meet mid-summer requirements.

The Automobile Manufacturers association estimates that 150,000 will be employed for defense production in the industry at the close of 1941. This figure excludes the man-power needed for the bomber parts program which will require 107,000 workers for one shift producing parts and sub-assemblies for 15 bombers daily. There are many indications that two such shifts will be formed, in which event the total defense employment would soar past 350,000. The number now employed on auto and auto parts production is nearly 450,000.

Slowdown Seems Inevitable

While manufacturers are doing everything possible to avert curtailment of car production, most of them believe a slowdown is inevitable. Tanks, trucks and airplane engines come first, and all manufacturers have agreed to subordinate private interests in the present emergency.

When the industry's new defense plants are completed, one of the greatest bottlenecks in production probably will be a shortage of skilled labor. The obvious solution to the problem is stripping auto assembly lines of workers. An intense period of training and "up-grading" of unskilled workers probably will permit auto production to continue, but at what per cent of normal cannot be forecast accurately.

The Packard Motor Car company, for instance, has approximately 10,000 men on auto production. When its new airplane engine plant reaches peak employment late this year, 17,000 workers will be needed. Present plans are to switch about 5,000 of its auto assembly workers into the engine factory.

Big Plants To Share

The Chrysler tank arsenal will require approximately 5,000 men; the Buick, Studebaker and Ford plane engine plants about 10,000 each; the Hudson Naval ordnance plant about 4,000, and production on various other defense materials will take the remainder. The bomber parts program will be handled by Ford, Chrysler and General Motors, with other companies helping.

There is little likelihood of a shortage in materials. Sufficient steel is expected to be available both for autos and defense work inasmuch as different kinds of steel are used for each branch of production—autos taking open-hearth and defense material taking electric furnace steel.

Aluminum, zinc and nickel supplies have been hit hard by defense priorities but there are ample substitutes in the auto industry.

Production now is at the all-time high of approximately 500,000 cars a month. Dealers are attempting to build up their stocks and companies are running at near capacity.

The famous Comstock Lode took its name from a man who cornered the water supply to the mines.

"Sea Serpent" Said Past Identification

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 7 (U.P.)—The body of a 10-foot "sea serpent" with a horse-like head and bulbous nostrils, which was found on the beach near here, defied identification today.

Dr. W. A. Clemens, biology professor at the University of British Columbia and director of the dominion biological station here, said he was unable to classify the decomposed specimen.

It had a head resembling that of a horse, except that it had a cartilaginous, instead of bone, skull. The body was covered with bristly hair.

Dr. Clemens said the cartilage formation was similar to that of a shark, but sharks are hairless. The hair resembled that of a seal, but seals have bone. Sea lions have neither hair nor cartilage.

"I can't say what it is," Dr. Clemens commented, "but I'm going to give it a good going-over. I don't believe in sea serpents."

Behind The Scenes In Hollywood

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Plainsman, the Little Woman and their two oldest brats, are in Fort Worth playing cowboy at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show with Editors Jimmie North and Jim Record and their folks of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Today and on Monday, The Plainsman's regular stint will be supplanted by the works of Paul Harrison).

HOLLYWOOD, March 7.—Behind the screen: After an actress had received about a dozen visitors and twice as many messages on the set the other day, an impatient assistant director remarked, "That dame's got more guys chasing her than the Italians have."

A London company, Ealing Studios, announces production of a documentary and satirical film made from newsreel clips and based on the life of Mussolini. Tentative title: "Top Wop."

And speaking of the Black-Shirt country, its purchase of the films "Intermezzo" and "Rebecca" have brought a good deal of criticism in Movietown against David Selznick. Attitude here is that his sale of the pictures not only is counter to the boycott of Italy declared by Hollywood before war began, but that the action may look to Italians like an encouraging gesture from the U. S. "The least we can do now," suggested a British actor, "is give the money to the Greek War Relief."

* * *

The Argentine government finally passed Charlie Chaplin's "Dictator" after the film originally had been banned because of protests by Germany. "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," though, remains on the shelf. . . . Chaplin and Paulette Goddard are together again, living at the beach home of her agent and planning a Honolulu trip when she finishes her new picture. . . . Cecil De Mille cabled an offer for a part in "Reap the Wild Wind" to Rex Harrison in England, and got this reply, "Sorry, but busy in greatest role of my life." The actor is a private in the British army.

* * *

THE JAMES ROOSEVELT divorce becomes final today, and friends say that he and his former nurse, Romelle Schneider, will be married soon. . . . Marlene Dietrich wanted John Wayne to play opposite her in "The Flame of New Orleans." But Republic, which owns the actor, has cast him with Ona Munson in "The Lady from New Orleans."

* * *

Typical of Hollywood and the bold front maintained by movie people is this sign in a boulevard dress shop: "Everything in sports apparel for that week-end at Palm Springs. We gladly cash relief checks."

Director Rouben Mamoulian tries to make everyone feel at home on the set of "Blood and Sand." He speaks Russian to Nazimova, Spanish to Anthony Quinn, and Texas to Linda Darnell. . . . Spencer Tracy refers to himself as "We" since he went into the dual role of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. . . . Paramount wants to stage a national poll so that the public can cast "For Whom the Bell Tolls." But Ernest Hemingway is insisting that Annabella play Maria.

* * *

CASUALTY NOTES: Jimmy Gleason rose from a flu bed to play a scene in "Affectionately Yours" — an easy scene, he was assured, in which he could lie down all the time. So he lay on a couch and was repeatedly drenched by an overhead sprinkler for a comedy sequence. . . . Edward Arnold has a sprained ankle and can't walk, but a high saddle-chair has been rigged up with wheels so that he appears to be moving about in scenes for "The Lady from Cheyenne." . . . Kent Taylor, with a broken collar bone, turns only his left profile to the camera so that a bulky neck brace won't show.

* * *

A hasty title change has been made by Warners — of "Winged Victory" to "Shining Victory." Somebody reminded 'em that Winged Victory is Hitler's favorite work of art. . . . Mary Martin does a brisk strip tease in "Kiss the Boys Goodbye"; peels off numerous old-fashioned garments and dives into a pool. Yeah—there's a modern bathing suit underneath.

* * *

MOST of the nation's theaters soon will be showing a series of 12 one-minute shorts, plus a 10-minute subject called "Power for Defense," made by the War department to stimulate recruiting. . . . Paramount is beginning to look like a suburb of pre-war Paris with four new French players there, plus Charles Boyer. The latter, with Micheline Cheirel, Madeleine Le Beau and Victor Francen, is in "Hold Back the Dawn." Marcel Dalio, husband of Mlle. Le Beau, has a role in "One Night in Lisbon."

They're planning an odd beginning for "Hold Back the Dawn," which is about political refugees trying to get into the U. S. Charles Boyer, a refugee, will be shown crashing the Paramount lot and going on a set where Mitchell Leisen is directing "I Wanted Wings."

Drafted For Love

BY RUTH AYERS
Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: April plays her part up to the picnic's close. But she rushes homeward, trying to escape a storm in the air and the storm of emotions. The hail begins as they reach Kent's home. April knows if she meets Kent's aunt she will be revealed as an imposter.

ESCAPE FROM AN AUNT
Chapter 10

Step by step, Aunt Elizabeth Carter descended the stairs.

And with every step, it was to April Burnett like the ax falling, the loop tightening.

"Still afraid of Aunt Elizabeth, aren't you?" Kent was whispering close to her ear. "She's really a darling when you know her."

April's head went up, a silly phrase darted through her mind. "Your sin will always find you out."

All right, she'd take it. She'd face the music. She'd even be flip and pretend she had taken an impudent delight in the masquerade.

Aunt Elizabeth was at the bend in the stairs, coming closer at every second. April had never seen her before and now, even in the midst of her own torment, she could find herself studying the old lady with a certain detachment.

What had Kent said? "Still afraid of Aunt Elizabeth, aren't you?" That meant Ann had been timid in the presence of the old lady. Well, she wouldn't be. She found herself saying clearly, "How do you do?"

Miss Carter came closer, peered up at her with eyes as round and black as currant berries.

Kent said, "I've wanted you and Ann to meet for a long time, Aunt Elizabeth. This is Ann Burkett."

"Ann Burnett?" The old woman reached out a wrinkled, ivory hand. "Ann, eh?"

* * *

She looked closely at April, but there wasn't a flicker of recognition. April grasped the hand, gripping it so she wouldn't do anything foolish like fainting in a heap on the floor. So this was it! Ann and old Miss Carter had never met.

It was obvious from Kent's introduction, from the way the great aunt was studying her. If you could drop dead from sheer relief, April Burnett knew she would have come to the end of her life then and there.

In the blessed last-minute reprieve, she found the frozen mask of her face lifting in a smile. "It's very nice to know you," she began, trying to speak as Ann would.

Nip gave one last shake to his back and barked.

Kent covered the awkward pause by saying, "Let's all go to the library. It's the only warm place in this ark of a house. We're freezing, Aunt Elizabeth. Maybe Jasper could bring us some coffee."

"Jasper," Miss Carter said, "has gone to meeting for an hour." With this, she led the way down the hall to the library.

It was a big room, book-lined, with an open grate fire which burned in an orange and ruby glow. Aunt Elizabeth took the straight-backed seat at the desk, leaving April and Kent to sit together on the leather lounge.

A little alarmed by the aunt's bright and searching eyes, even though the danger of being discovered as an imposter was over, April launched at once into nervous chatter.

"We had a lovely day, Miss Carter. We drove miles out in the country for a steak fry."

"A steak fry?" The tiny martinet of an aunt lifted her brows as if April were talking of a cannibal roast. "What a peculiar custom."

"Not at all, Aunt Elizabeth," Kent cut in loyally. "It's fun. Besides, Ann loves roughing it outdoors."

Aunt Elizabeth surveyed the Ann who was April. "I shouldn't think so to look at her," she said. "She doesn't seem what is called, nowadays, the type."

And now the black, bright eyes were taking in April's yellow hair and doll-lashed eyes and the blistered white hands.

April saw the look of chagrin on Kent's face and she spoke quickly. "But I am the type," she trilled and even to herself it was exactly what she knew Ann would have said. "There's nothing like the sight of hills, fresh air and sunshine to make you feel fit."

"And hailstones, too, I presume."

Outside, the sleet struck the windows and the wind was a howling mob.

* * *

April sat still, her hands twisting. Then, momentarily, her taut nerves relaxed. Aunt Elizabeth Carter was speaking to Kent. The eyes she turned toward him were neither sharp nor gentle. Instead, there was something of the Spartan written there. It was as if she were ignoring the fact that Kent was temporarily blind, as if she scorned the very thought of affliction.

She said, "Since Jasper isn't at hand to make coffee, you will go to the wine cabinet, Kent, and bring out the bottle of elderberry and a tray of glasses."

"Sure enough," Kent agreed and stood up. He put out his hand for a minute against the leather lounge and then walked straight ahead, through the door, back into the dim recesses of an adjoining room which held the wine cabinet.

Miss Carter said nothing but the look she turned on April was more expressive than any words. It was a challenge, in fact, to signify that no matter whether the future for Kent held lightness or dark, he was never to be pitied.

* * *

Away back in her mind, April was remembering small bits she had heard about Elizabeth Carter through the years. Aunt Elizabeth was a recluse, a proud, arrogant person who stayed on the hill, shut in by her gingerbread house and the walls of the formal garden.

Hadn't there been a love affair years ago, a tale of a scoundrel who'd courted her and then absconded with most of her fortune? At any rate, Aunt Elizabeth lived remote from Pattonsville, her only contact with the outside world through Kent, the orphaned nephew she had brought up from childhood.

Now Kent was back, balancing the tray with the tiny crystal goblets in the mock manner of a waiter.

The elderberry wine at first sip was warming, tangy. The fire glowed. A drowsiness came over April and she shut her eyes briefly as she heard Kent telling his aunt more about the day's excursion.

Outside the sleet still struck the windows but not so violently and the wind had changed its tune to one of melancholy instead of a battle cry.

April stood up. "I must start for home," she said suddenly. "Mother and Dad will be worried about me."

"Oh, not yet," Aunt Elizabeth said, and now her eyes were brighter than ever. "I understand that you sing? It would be kind of you to let me hear a song or two before you leave."

Kent turned to April. "Yes, Ann, sing for me."

But April pushed by him, pushed by the door to the parlor where Aunt Elizabeth was already opening the keyboard of the piano, and ran to the hall. Nip, keeping guard by her coat, sprang to his feet.

"I'm going home, I tell you," April sobbed. "I can't sing tonight. I never could sing. I hate singing."

With that, she opened the door and slipped through.

NEED FOR PROMPT ACTION

If effective, practical strike-prevention machinery can be set up as suggested to a Congressional committee by Robert Patterson, under-Secretary of War, it should be done without delay.

There can be no argument with the statement there have been too many strikes already in vital national defense industries. Furthermore, the situation is one which has grown steadily worse. And the suspicion certainly is justified that many have been fomented by enemies of the government that have played upon the human desires of workmen who regard themselves as patriots but who naturally want to earn as much as they can for the work they do.

If machinery can be set up which will make possible an adjustment of differences between employer and employe without interrupting production, it would be of importance difficult to exaggerate at this time. It might eliminate the necessity of demonstrating to the selfish elements of labor that if men can be drafted into armed forces to face the possibility of violent death, other men could be drafted into and compelled to perform vital behind-the-line tasks.

This Skater Wasn't In Least Convinced

FEDERALSBURG, Md., March 7 (AP) — Skaters enjoying the first freeze at Chamber's park lake weren't deterred when one person fell through thin ice.

They kept on while two more plunged through. Albert Ischer was victim number four, and a man coming to his aid fell in, too. Then most of the skaters left.

Fifteen minutes later, Ischer returned and started out again.

Massachusetts Man Ready For Hitler

SALEM, Mass., Mar. 7 (AP) — The attorney, entering superior court, was stopped by a client who tendered a note.

The attorney read:

"At my wake I want five quarts of whisky, five gallons of wine, two cases of beer and plenty of sandwiches of all kinds. I want a proportional number of pallbearers."

When the attorney glanced up, his client was gone. Police were asked to search for him lest he be contemplating suicide. Discovered, he readily explained:

"Just put it in my will. Hitler may be over here any time.'

Billion-A-Week Legislating Ought To Be Some Show

Act Lays Egg In Congress, Nobody Cares

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 7 — If Madison Square Garden, the Hollywood Bowl or any intermediate arena, saucer or palace of grunt were to sign up as an attraction the super-spectacle of watching a bunch of guys spend one billion five hundred million dollars in one hour, admission could be charged and better crowds drawn than you could trumpet up from the bushes for the second coming of the Great I Am and Aimee Semple McPherson.

EDSON

But when they put on this act in Congress, where the admission is free, the show lays an egg and nobody cares. What's a lousy billion and a half? Chicken feed. Maybe that's why it lays the egg.

Anyway, your Congress is now off on a spree which aims to spend one billion dollars a week for the next twelve weeks.

In spite of the terrific buildup which such an act should have, the galleries of the House of Representatives are empty when a show of this kind goes on. Twenty-five people by the count.

The floor of the House is less than a fourth filled. Fifty Republicans. Sixty Democrats. Those are round numbers for the gentlemen of the House don't stay out long enough to put the finger on. Coming and going. Talking to each other. Of those who do stay put, a dozen read newspapers and another dozen or more read the Congressional Record to see what they did yesterday.

Argue 3 Hours On 1½ Billion

Almost everything they did on this bill was done yesterday. That was the day of argument. This is the day of passage.

They argued for all of three hours over this billion and a half, even though it covered 186 projects including 49 million for chartering ships, other millions for naval yards from Boston to Samoa, submarine bases from the Virgin Islands to Alaska, naval hospitals, 10 million for the marine corps and 675 million for more barracks for the army. When you think how long it takes the average family to decide on what kind of a new car to buy, you wonder how even congressmen can spend 1500 million so nonchalantly.

It isn't all as simple as that, but this is all that shows on the surface. Behind the surface are the weeks of planning by the army and the navy experts for what they'll need. Then the sessions in which the experts testify before the Congressional Committee on appropriations, thrashing out the various items and deciding why they're necessary. The committees have the grief, but every committee's name is George. Congress lets George do the work.

Almost any group could argue for more than three hours on how to spend a billion and a half, and produce better cracks than the congressmen do at one of these shows of theirs.

Congressman Harold Knutson, publisher of the Wadena, Minn., Pioneer Journal, was far and away the end man for a typical bit of badinage when Congress passed the fourth deficiency bill a few days ago. The patter goes like this:

KNUTSON: How much are we going to spend this year on preparedness?

WOODRUM: (He's from Roanoke, Va., and in charge of the bill) I have been so busy working on these appropriation bills that I have not had a chance to recapitulate lately.

KNUTSON: I do not suppose there is an adding machine in the committee room that will add up such figures.

There is no laughter at this, but that doesn't stop the gentleman from Minnesota, who hits back again.

KNUTSON: I do not think anyone could imagine that a sane people could throw away money the way we are throwing it away now. . . . It is considered one of the great jokes in the House when someone asks, Where are you going to get the money? . . . This bill carries an appropriation of one and one-half billion dollars. The hearings consist of 378 pages. A year ago the Appropriations Committee brought in a measure appropriating, in round figures, one and three-quarter billion dollars for the same purposes. Those hearings consisted of 910 pages. At the rate the Appropriations Committee is saving money on printing, it will not be long before we will not have any printed hearings at all.

That was about the highlight of the debate on how to spend a billion and a half smackers. When it came to actual passage, they didn't even count noses. It was a voice vote, and only one congressman voted against it, Marcantonio of New York, the American Labor party's lone representative.

As Speaker Rayburn announced the passage there was a slight clapping of hands, and that was that. After all, this was only the fourth deficiency and supplemental appropriation for national defense, to keep the army and navy going till the first of July.

For defense, we can shoot the works.

AGAIN HICKS' CHICKS LEAD THE WAY TO GREATER POULTRY PROFITS FOR YOU
OUR PRICES ARE IN LINE
Don't delay your chick buying any longer. When you purchase HICKS CHICKS you get chicks that are hatching right, packed right — DEPENDABLE CHICKS. Even though you should have to pay a little more in additional cost to get my dependable chicks they will return to you many times over in extra eggs, extra profit. The small additional first cost and the long run show you a greater profit, where the inferior low grade chicks lose money for you.
Get your share of the poultry profits. Almost a quarter century of scientific breeding for MORE EGGS . . . BIGGER EGGS . . . BIGGER BIRDS offer you an outstanding opportunity for bigger share of these profits.

Finland Fears Meager Food Supplies May Not Last Until Harvest

Country Seeks Loan In U. S.

BY HUBERT UEXKUELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

HELSINKI, March 7.—Finland's rapidly dwindling food supplies and other vital commodities have shrunk below the low mark that was anticipated last fall.

Present rations are considered to be close to the "starving line" and no further curtailment is contemplated despite the shortage. Imports are declared by experts to be imperative to tide Finland over until the harvest.

This little country's problem is far different from that of other European lands as its difficulties are not due solely to the British blockade. Finland, for instance, could buy some of the needed commodities from Soviet Russia if a loan could be arranged. The Finnish-Russian trade pact provides that Finland must pay cash (meaning U. S. dollars), if it gets more than $500,000 in arrears with goods delivered to Russia. That limit has been almost reached and deliveries cannot be speeded because of a shortage of raw materials. The only solution would be to pay cash for more Russian wheat and oil.

Seeks U. S. Credit

So far Finland has made no move in that direction, probably because the amount of goods it can obtain under the trade pact is limited and would solve problems only temporarily. Finland, however, has taken the initiative to get a credit of $7,000,000 from the United States. With such a credit it could buy only goods produced in the United States but this would be sufficient to cover the most urgent needs. Goods Finland wants to buy from the United States are: 4,000 tons of margarine fat, 7,000 tons of lard, 25,000 tons of wheat, 10,000 tons of wheat flour, 10,000 tons of oil cake, and 9,000 tons of cotton.

Apart from the United States, Finland also could buy wheat and other foodstuffs in South America but here too the problem how to finance such purchases has become acute. Up to now Finland has profited from the $30,000,000 loan which was made during the war but this fund is exhausted.

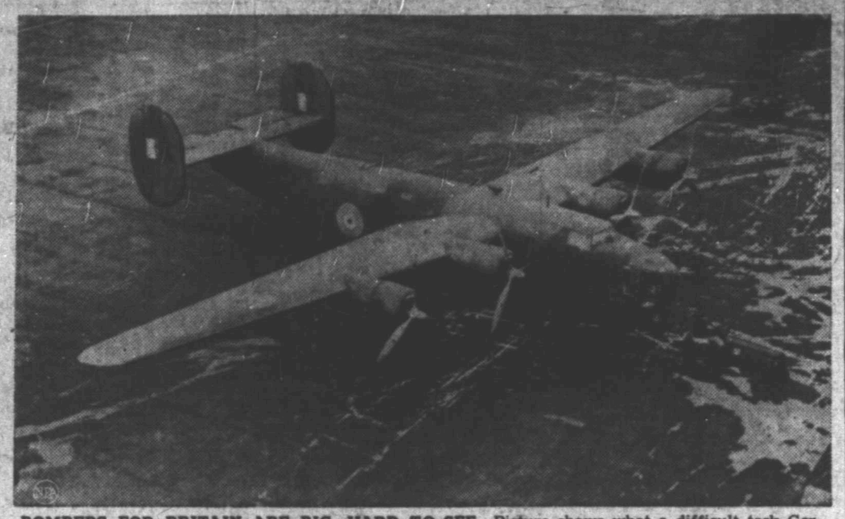

But apart from the financial problem, there also is the political one, the problem of navicerts. Britain is unwilling to allow Finland to accumulate stocks of any goods of potential military importance. Negotiations between the two countries are going on in a friendly atmosphere and have been more promising of late as far as raw materials for Finnish industries are concerned. It is believed in financial circles here that an American credit or loan would be helpful even in this respect and pave the way to more navicerts.

May To Bring Crisis

Finland's present supplies of rye and wheat will last until the end of May if the bread rations now in force are maintained. The total deficiency in bread-corn amounts to 60,000 to 80,000 tons, which represents the rationed consumption for the three months from the end of May till August, when the new harvest is gathered.

The minister of supplies declared a further rationing of bread was impossible as the present quota is too small for heavy workers even now. The problem next in importance is fats. The deficiency here is roughly 10,000 tons, on the basis of present rations. In view of the limited financial resources, Finland has applied for only 6,000 tons which would be sufficient to cover the most urgent needs till the time when spring pasture will increase milk production.

Apart from pure fat, like butter and margarine, Finland also needs a certain amount of lard and fat backs since production of pork has been cut by 50 per cent. Soap is among the most strictly rationed commodities. Last year the ration was 250 grams in three months. This year it will probably be even less.

Extension Class At Big Spring Formed

An extension class of visual aids in education was organized in Big Spring Monday under the auspices of the Tech education department. Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, associate professor of education is conducting the class.

Forty students enrolled in the laboratory course which is designed to develop use of journey, school museum, educational motion picture, still picture and graphic materials as aids to learning in public schools.

Three semester hours credit is given for completion of the course and it may be counted as a methods credit on teacher certificates.

Many of the more progressive school superintendents are stressing use of all forms of visual aids, and are giving preference in employment to teachers who are trained in this field, Dr. Cooper believes. The subject may be applied in all phases of education from the kindergarten to the graduate school.

The subject is designed to make subject matter more concrete in the learning experience of the student.

Samba Said Newest "Rage Of Rhythm"

BOSTON, March 7 (U.P.)—A South American dance described as having "plenty of movement from the hips up" is predicted as a prospective draftee favorite this winter by Miss Hazel Boone, dancing instructor.

She says the samba requires the body to be erect from the hips down, is accompanied by a soothing rhythm and will replace the rhumba and conga.
