THOMAS ASKS QUIZ OF FIVE MAJOR OIL OFFICIALS

Witnesses To Slaying Of Harry Adair Heard In Jim Graham Trial At Walters

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

For many years the oil business has been a seven day industry, both in the production of crude oil and its refinement into gasoline and other products. This has been the general practice from Pennsylvania to California. From time to time there have been movements for a six day week in the industry but they have never gotten very far.

Oil being a somewhat fugitive product, one of the objects of operators is to attempt to capture as much of it as possible before the other fellow gets it, hence the seven-day week in the industry. It is true that there have been times in the history of the oil business when the demand for crude oil and gasoline has made it appear that seven-day operation was warranted by the necessity of meeting the demand.

Of course there can be no such claim now when there is an over-production of oil and gasoline and storage of both is accumulating. And if in the crude production department of the industry were to be placed upon a six-day basis there would be no more danger of anybody getting more than their share of a fugitive product than there is now on a seven-day basis of operation.

If the production of crude oil were to be reduced by one-seventh over-production would soon end, the millions of barrels in storage would disappear and no longer menace the market, and conditions in the industry would improve almost immediately.

There are some physical conditions such as the sanding of valves and the filling of holes that make it impractical to go completely to a six-day week, but doubtless these conditions would not affect a considerable part either of crude production or the refining of gasoline.

Starting next Sunday, Talker reads, the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company will shut down on all drilling, producing, transporting and refining operations "where physical conditions make this possible." If the example of the Humble company is followed generally the oil industry will be on the way of solving the problem of over-production.

As Talker has been writing the foregoing lines the news comes in over the wires that the Magnolia Petroleum company will curtail its Sunday operations as much as possible.

Henry Ford wires the senate judiciary committee that he felt "sure that the sane people of the nation" would never see the 18th amendment repealed or "any dangerous modification" effected. In an interview at Fort Myers, Fla., he said that congress could better occupy its time in an attempt to adjust the freight rates and leave the prohibition law alone. Speaking of prohibition he is reported to have said: "It won't do any good to stir up the present situation."

That's the trouble with all of us. Some don't want any stirring of the present situation as to railroad rates, others don't want any stirring of the situation as to prohibition, and if we go on down the line we will find those who are opposed to stirring up anything.

Talker believes that whenever we get into the situation where we believe that "it won't do any good to stir up" any situation we will be at the end of progress. Rattling of dry bones is good for anything. Henry Ford to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Maybe railroad freight rates need rattling. If they do we are sure they cannot escape in this age when all the skeletons are being examined.

Some of the bones in the prohibition closet may not be so dry as Henry Ford would like to think they are.

A district judge in Wichita Falls writes the district's representatives in the state legislature that the situation in which the state prison board refuses to admit prisoners to the Huntsville prison because of inadequacies of the prison will have an effect upon jurors trying those charged with crime. Of course it will. It will be a very bad situation when our jails begin to fill up with convicted prisoners who cannot be admitted to the penitentiary.

The responsibility is up to the legislature. Proposals that have been made for the rehabilitation of the prison system may be wrong. That does not lessen the responsibility of the legislature to correct wrongs that may exist. If there is a better way it is up to the legislature to find it and enact it into law. It is a duty and responsibility that cannot be evaded.

Moody Believes Texans Want and Obey Dry Law

AUSTIN, March 5. (UP)—Gov. Dan Moody believes that the people of Texas are in favor of the 18th amendment and opposed to any attempt to repeal or change the present liquor laws, he told the New York Herald Tribune today in answering a prohibition questionnaire. The governor said there was less drinking in Texas today than 10 years ago and that law enforcement is becoming easier.

SEVEN SHOTS FIRED, BARBER TELLS JURORS

Wiley Sanders Describes in Detail Episode Which Ended Fatally

PLEADINGS IGNORED

Son of Slain City Marshal Is Accused of Killing Father's Slayer

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., March 5.—A Temple, Okla., barber, who was shaving Harry Adair on the morning Adair was killed last January today testified in Jim Graham's trial for murder here that he fled the shop when the shooting started, but that he peeped from a boiler room in the rear in time to see Graham fire three shots into the back of Adair, who lay prostrate on the floor.

Wiley Sanders, the barber, testified he did not see Graham fire the first shot. He had maneuvered around in front of the barber's chair in the course of his duties, he said, and it was while he was in this position that a shot was fired, the bullet piercing Adair.

Seven Shots Fired

Other testimony established that seven shots were fired in all, all taking effect.

The state, by its parade of witnesses this afternoon, virtually concluded its case against Graham, son of the late J. D. Graham, Temple city marshal, for whose slaying last April 28 Adair was convicted and sentenced to 40 years in the penitentiary. Adair, at the time of his death, was under bond awaiting the outcome of an appeal. State's attorneys announced late today they probably would rest early Thursday morning.

Most of the witnesses today were men who were at the scene of the shooting. Roy Rodolph, owner of the Temple barber shop in which

Lindbergh Avoids Rocks In New Gliding Attempt

DEL MONTE, Calif., March 5. (UP)—A long-distance gliding attempt by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh came to an end late today when his frail craft was brought to the ground about two miles from the point of take-off.

For a time it appeared the famous flier would encounter trouble. The take-off was from a jagged cliff towering 400 feet above the Pacific ocean and the air currents seemingly swirled his glider toward other rugged rocks and hills. The colonel, however, handled his glider with skill and missed the rocks, coming to a safe landing.

CARLSBAD, N. M., March 5.—Following the lower level far beyond the spot known as the jumping off place, which is the farthest point of explored territory, we have found an underground country which we are calling Hell's Half-Acre. Its immensity is bewildering, yet the walls and ceiling are lavishly decorated with fragile stalactites no larger than strands of cotton thread and an abundance of rare helactictes.

"Fairyland" Found

Approximately a mile from the pit in which we discovered a new depth to Carlsbad Caverns the sheer flank of a cliff rose before us. It required all the skill and persistence we could muster to work our way, pulling ourselves from stalagmite to stalagmite, to a level 150 feet higher, but the labor was soon forgotten as we gazed at

TARDIEU GIVEN DEPUTIES' VOTE

French Cabinet Approved By Legislators

PARIS, March 5. (AP)—Andre Tardieu's second cabinet ran the gauntlet of the chamber of deputies today and, although roundly thumped by the parties of the left, it emerged with a favorable majority of 53. The rectified ballot was announced as 316 to 263.

The winning margin of confidence was almost twice as great as political forecasters had been ready to grant the cabinet in advance of the voting. Most of them agreed that a margin of 30 votes would be a sign of strength for Tardieu and as the bitter debate on the ministerial declaration of policy progressed, some of the prognosticators began to believe that the cabinet would be lucky to win at all.

As a consequence the government will go back to the London naval conference and will face the chamber on the question of ratifying the Young plan, revising taxes and passing a budget with enhanced prestige.

Taft Gains but Doctors Deny Hope of Recovery

WASHINGTON, March 5. (UP)—William Howard Taft was somewhat stronger today, although physicians still maintain he cannot survive his present critical illness.

Drs. Francis Hagner and Thomas Claytor called at the Taft home only twice instead of making their usual four visits. They announced at noon Mr. Taft's condition was "slightly improved."

Although hardening of the arteries continues to be the main source of anxiety to his physicians they said Mr. Taft's heart was still beating strongly, resisting encroachment of a weakened physique and bladder ailments.

Refiners Here See Little Likelihood of Suspending Work One Day Each Week

Belief that a further curtailment of at least one-seventh in the output of refined petroleum products, as recommended Tuesday by the federal conservation board, would materially benefit the oil industry, but that no company will shut down its refinery one day out of seven was expressed Wednesday afternoon by numerous representatives of the refining industry in this community.

Declining to be quoted because "of the turbulent and intricate problems now prevailing in all branches of the oil business," leaders of the refining activities in this section agreed without exception that shutting down of a refining plant for a 24-hour period each week is physically and economically impossible. It was pointed out that the discontinuance of refining processes preparatory to the period of rest, and the work of getting the plant in readiness to resume operation, not only would materially impair operations before and after the idle day, but would impose a prohibitive expense upon the refining company.

Referring to the statements issued by some major companies Wednesday, declaring their intention to comply with the federal conservation committee's suggestion, one of the local executives expressed the willingness of his company to "issue the same statement, word for word; but so far as shutting down the refinery on Sunday goes, it won't mean a ——, because they can't shut down one day out of seven, and neither can we."

Not only refining activities, but all phases of oil production, have been cut down materially during recent months throughout this district, it was pointed out. The same refiner quoted above added that on construction work all over-time work had been eliminated, and the six-day week was established several weeks ago, in order to make possible the employment of the maximum number of men for the longest possible period.

Refiner No. 2 declared that practically all independent refineries in this part of the country are operating now, and have been for months, on about 50 per cent capacity, or less. It was indicated that plants have been greatly diminished in recent years for the reason that

Chain Store Battle Begins in Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb., March 5. (UP)—Banking problems which caused Gov. Arthur M. Weaver to call a special session of the Nebraska legislature, may be "tabled" while the house and senate considers proposed legislation of chain stores.

A resolution to permit the special session to enact legislation suppressing the "nefarious practices of chain stores," was introduced today by Jerry Howard, Omaha representative.

A motion referring the resolution to "Hello World" Henderson of Shreveport, La., was ruled out of order. Consideration of the resolution was postponed by house rules.

British Disarm U. S. Raiders Before Search

MIAMI, March 5. (AP)—Seven customs officers and an employe of the customs service marine storage base here were disarmed of revolvers and a machine gun by British authorities in Bimini before they were allowed to land an airplane there today in search of eight rumboats stolen last night from the storage base.

The boats were stolen from the base last night after the night watchman had been attacked and bound by several men, and then taken into the Everglades area where he was released.

Bishop Sees Crisis In Russian Religious War

NEW YORK, March 5. (US)—Soviet Russia's outlawing of religion and a disregard of religious beliefs in other parts of the world have provoked "one of the great crises in Christian history." That was the assertion of Bishop William T. Manning today in his ash Wednesday sermon at Trinity church. He pleaded that his diocese join the Roman Catholic church in prayer March 19 for all those in Russia.

Stimson's Steno Dies After Fall

LONDON, March 6. (Thursday) (AP)—Mrs. Pearl Demaret, stenographer to Secretary of State Stimson, died in St. Georges hospital early this morning from injuries suffered in a fall from a sixth floor window of the Mayfair hotel.

Mrs. Demaret shared a hotel suite with Mrs. Hurley Fisk of the division of current information. Mrs. Fisk said she was in the bathroom of the suite when Mrs. Demaret fell.

Authorities who examined the room pronounced the fall accidental as marks on the window sill indicate the woman had clutched it in trying to save herself.

All arrangements had been made for Mrs. Demaret's sailing. Her baggage had been passed and flowers from Mrs. Stimson came as a parting gift.

LOBBY INQUIRY URGED TO AIR CRUDE SLASH

Probe of 'Spread' Between Cost and Sale Price of Gasoline Hinted

FIRM HEADS NAMED

Standard, Humble, Magnolia, Gulf and Shell Chiefs May Be Called

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Summoning of officials of five large oil companies to ascertain the reason for the recent price cut in crude petroleum was suggested to the senate lobby committee late today by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma.

In a letter to Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee, Senator Thomas suggested that the following officials be called:

W. C. Teagle, of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; W. S. Farrish, of the Humble company of Texas; E. R. Brown, and Ben H. Stephens, of the Magnolia company of Texas; W. L. Mellon, of the Gulf Oil company, and Avery D. Andrews, of the Dutch Shell company.

Thomas also suggested that the committee inquire into the reasons "for the spread between the cost of producing gasoline, shown to be 6 cents, and the selling price to the consuming public, shown to be 20 cents."

Senator Thomas is the author of the amendment defeated Friday which would have placed a duty of $1 a barrel on crude oil and 50 per cent ad valorem on petroleum products. He has announced that he would offer a modified amendment probably calling for a duty of 80 cents a barrel on crude oil and 40 per cent ad valorem on petroleum products.

Denying that he had lobbied against an oil tariff for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, Philip P. Campbell, former representative from Kansas, told the committee today he had received no instructions whatever from this company in regard to the proposed duty.

Campbell, now an attorney for the Standard Oil company, was summoned after a letter written by Representative Sproul, Republican, Kansas, had been placed in the lobby committee record. The letter, written to Wirt Franklin, president of the American Independent Producers' association, contained the statement that Campbell was "one of the lobbyists for the Standard Oil company."

Campbell told the committee he thought it was "only fair to me to say that Mr. Sproul is running for the senate and he thinks I am running for the senate."

PLAN DISFAVORED BY CARAWAY

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—A request by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, that the senate lobby committee summon officials of five oil companies to learn the reason for a recent price cut in crude petroleum prices was viewed with disfavor tonight by Chairman Caraway of the committee.

Caraway said he had not received the letter from Thomas which contained the suggestion but he expressed the opinion that such an investigation would not come within the jurisdiction of the committee.

"All we have any jurisdiction over," he asserted, "is attempts to influence governmental legislation.

IDLE WORKERS GATHER TODAY

Many Cities Expect Reds to Demonstrate

(By United Press)

Scores of thousands of Communists, and more thousands of unemployed men attracted to their red banners in Sullen, blind protest against their failure to obtain work will mobilize Thursday for "Red Thursday" demonstrations which promise bloodshed.

In all American cities, in all European capitals and many other towns, Communist leaders had their plans prepared and police and soldiery had plans to suppress their parades, or, permitting the demonstrations themselves, to act quickly and sternly in event of disorder.

In New York, police warned women and children to keep away today from Union square, Communist headquarters. The hundreds of police assigned to duty at the square had orders to "keep their heads" and to let the demonstrators start any possible trouble.

In Chicago, the chief of police asserted reds threatened bombings and assassinations. Reds denied it.

In Paris, 26,000 police and soldiers were assigned to riot duty.

The actuating motives of the Red demonstrators are varied. In some cases, the main protest will be against unemployment, in others against religious denunciation of Soviet Russia.

NO DISTURBANCE EXPECTED HERE

Police officials and heads of labor organizations in Wichita Falls stated Tuesday night they had heard no reports of unemployment or communistic demonstrations planned here for "Red Thursday" in connection with the world-wide movement announced in protest to unemployment on that day and were confident no disorders would take place here Thursday.

R. E. Croskey, general organizer for the American Federation of Labor and former deputy labor commissioner of Colorado, who has been in Wichita Falls in the interest of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes union for the past several weeks, told The Record News Wednesday night he was certain there would be no demonstration in Wichita Falls.

The A. F. of L., according to Mr. Croskey, is opposed to the so-called

Panhandle Cowmen Make Merry As Amarillo Convention Comes to Close

AMARILLO, Texas, March 5. (UP)—The days when West Texas was a fenceless prairie and was populated only by cattle and cowboys were recalled here tonight when the Panhandle Cowmans' association held its annual old-time barn dance and fiddlers' contest.

Dressed in leather chaps and wearing 10-gallon hats, the cowmen went through their old-fashioned square dance to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw" played by two violins, two mouth organs and a guitar. The dance was held in the modernistic ball room of the Palo Duro hotel.

The cowmen went on record today as differentiating themselves from cattlemen.

"Cattlemen and cowmen are as different as day and night," they agreed. "You'll find cowmen out on the range, raising and loving their cows like they were babies. A cowman stays on the ranch and he stays sober. A cattleman is the guy who comes along, visits all the fancy dairy shows, buys the cows raised by cowmen and then gets drunk with what he makes."

Telegrams From Ford and Edison Feature Testimony of Dry Forces

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Advocates of prohibition today vigorously assailed arguments of anti-prohibitionists for repeal of the 18th amendment before the house judiciary committee.

In the first day of their allotted time of seven days, the drys presented four witnesses who attributed to prohibition general prosperity, improved conditions among working classes and a better environment for the growing generation.

They insisted that evils attributed to prohibition by its opponents before the committee had been exaggerated and that isolated instances had been taken as indications of general conditions.

Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison expressed to the committee telegrams to Samuel Growther, of Bayside, Long Island, the first witness, their unalterable opposition to repeal of the dry laws.

Ford expressed a convection that "sane people of the nation would never see the 18th amendment repealed. Edison said he felt "prohibition is the greatest experiment yet made to benefit man," and that it was strange to him that some men of great ability and standing "do not help to remove the curse of alcohol."

the fairyland before us, the ceiling and walls resplendent with onyx curtain pendants and chandeliers, and here again we find the coral-like formation covering the floor.

Crystal pools of water are everywhere. At one point a formation of flowstone supports a basin some 10 feet across into which water drops in an almost constant stream. A translucent marble curtain hangs on the wall behind it. We christened it the Fountain of Youth.

New Entrance Sought

Proceeding directly to the north we came to a shaftway that appears to be some 50 feet in diameter which is like a huge elevator shaftway in a skyscraper. Above us we could see two distinct floor levels and another level beneath us. Here one is awed by the visible vastness of this underground country of palaces and I am hoping that soon a trail will be built through this area. Our language has not the words which could exaggerate the grandeur and magnitude of this spot.

A bit farther on a tunnel led us upward and we have climbed steadily for more than 500 feet. Many things lead one to believe that this recess may lead to another entrance. There is a strong air current and wet flowstone that is found toward the surface and here and there the footprints of a bobcat which could hardly have entered the place from the known entrance miles behind us.

We are continuing upward, hoping this time to solve one mystery which nature has guarded for 50 million years in the world's largest and oldest cavern.

SIX-DAY WEEK 'UNPRACTICAL'

Refiners Here See Little Chance for Plan

agencies of direct outlet to consumers have become largely the properties of the larger companies. Aside from the small amount of refined products disposed of through the refinery's own avenues of distribution, it was said, its market consists of delivery to larger concerns for resale. Such a market is beyond the control of the independent, but dependent refiner, it was pointed out, and has been sufficiently limited that all such inland refineries have curtailed output from 25 to 50 per cent.

Independents at Minimum

"While most of the smaller refineries have been cutting their runs steadily until they approximate about one-half capacity, investigation would show that many larger refineries have increased their capacity materially. This has been over a period of the last few years. If the curtailment requested by the federal conservation board is to be effected, the suggestion is applicable to the larger interests, for the smaller refineries are already almost at minimum capacity," Refiner No. 2 concluded.

"Such a plan can not be followed," said No. 3, "without loss. We certainly don't want to shut down on Sunday, and won't unless compelled to by every one else doing it."

Representatives of the Prairie, Gulf, and other large companies with offices here reported that no statements had been received from their various headquarters relative to the matter.

Complete shut-down for a period of four or five days each month, or a determined reduction of 15 per cent in current output by all refineries, were recommended by Roy B. Jones, president of the Panhandle Refining company, in a statement issued to the Chicago Journal of Commerce and the National Petroleum News. Asked for his attitude toward the federal conservation committee's suggestion, compliance with which was announced Wednesday by the Humble Oil & Refining company and the Magnolia Petroleum company, Mr. Jones sent the following message:

"Regarding your telegram today regarding the federal oil conservation board proposal to suspend refinery operations on Sundays. It would produce results extremely desirable, but in my opinion it is not feasible from standpoint of economic operation. A better plan would be to suspend operations for for or five days at one time each month, to become effective at earliest possible date. Still better plan from operating standpoint would be for each refinery in the United States to continue steady operations, curtailing production of gasoline 15 per cent until situation is adjusted. In order to make this plan operative I believe it absolutely necessary that the federal conservation board canvass the refining industry securing pledges of cooperation in the plan, and promulgating the results to the industry and setting an effective date, giving full publicity through the press. Gasoline stocks in the United States at this time are so excessive that this plan should not in any way be responsible for an increase in the price to the consumer. Our company is willing to cooperate in any plan that is determined to be feasible and is adopted by all of the major units of the industry."

C. A. Kolp, manager of the Waggoner Refinery and other interests at Electra, declined to express any opinion relative to the federal board's suggestion, or to any probable action upon it by his company. Mr. Kolp said "he knew nothing about it yet."

HOLMES URGES STATES TO ACT

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—A renewed plea to the state authorities of California and Texas to take a "more active and decisive" stand on the question of restricting petroleum production was made today by R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas corporation, in an article in that company's house publication.

Although the efforts of the industry to curtail production have not been entirely satisfactory, they have been in a large measure successful, Holmes said, and have resulted in the recognition by all producers that their best interests lie in the ultimate success of this movement.

Referring to the conservation program outlined at Houston a year ago, Holmes wrote:

"If the 1929 production had been kept within the limits of 1928, there probably would have been no cut in price of crude oil. This course has in it about the only promise of a stability of crude prices that will admit of the operation of smaller producing properties and wells of small production, of which there are many thousands."

The conservation movement, Holmes pointed out, generally has had the sympathetic support of the federal oil conservation board and the state authorities. He added that "the failure to accomplish all that was hoped lies in the legal difficulties, aprticularly in the states of California and Texas."

FRANKLIN DOUBTS FEASIBILITY

WASHINGTON, March 5. (UP)—Wirt Franklin, president of the American Independent Petroleum association, said there today that he approved the proposal of the federal oil conservation board for a six-day production week, but that he doubted its feasibility and would be surprised to see it adopted.

SEUBERT SAYS HIS PRODUCTION IS CUT

CHICAGO, March 5. (UP)—The Standard Oil company of Indiana feels the appeal of the federal oil conservation board to refineries to go on a six-day basis to reduce production of gasoline "has merit," President Edward G. Seubert said today in a statement for the board of directors.

"Speaking for our company, however," Seubert said, "our gasoline stocks at the present time are less than they were a year ago. We are running only sufficient crude to produce gasoline to take care of our current requirements.

"If all manufacturers of gasoline will adopt the same course, the oversupply of gasoline should disappear very shortly, especially with the approach of the season of high consumption."

LOUISIANA STANDARD CURTAILS OUTPUT

BATON ROUGE, La., March 5. (AP)—D. R. Weller, president of the Standard Oil company of Louisiana, today announced that the company's refinery here would cut its crude oil purchases and its refinery output by one-seventh, in line with the federal oil conservation board's suggestion that gasoline refining operations be put on the basis of a six-day week, in order that waste incident to the increasing of surplus stocks may be avoided. The curtailment program will begin March 9.

The statement said the move would not involve any reduction in personal or curtailment of payrolls.

BARBER TELLS OF SHOOTING

Adair Death Witnesses Heard at Walters

the killing occurred, testified that he pleaded with Graham, saying, "Don't kill him in here, Jim." Graham and Adair did not recognize each other immediately, Rudolph said, but when Adair's head was moved by the barber, Graham apparently recognized his father's convicted slayer, and put his hand in his overcoat pocket. Rodolph said he left the scene before the shooting in order to move his wife and children into a room in the rear of the house.

Peace Move Made

Gordon Bone, the next witness, testified he was in Rodolph's chair being shaved at the time the trouble started. He said he went over and asked Graham to leave, and cause no trouble.

Sanders, Adair's barber, testified, in concluding, that seven empty pistol bullet shells were found in the floor of the shop after the atmosphere had subsided.

Dr. McKinney, Temple physician, testified he had examined Adair's body, and that it was pierced by seven bullets, one in the head, one in the neck and one under the armpit, either of which would have caused death; and four in the back.

Slain Man Armed

Adair was armed at the time he was killed, T. E. Walker, Cotton county commissioner, testified. Walker said he accompanied County Attorney C. S. McCulston and Sheriff C. O. Hooper when they made an investigation, and that he saw them remove a pistol from Adair's belt. The safety of the pistol was off, Walker said.

A. J. Whitely, Temple hardware man, described Adair's clothes; and Ralph Knight, another barber in the shop, said he was not present when the shooting occurred.

Unemployed To Gather Today

communistic or "red" movement in other sections of the country.

"My investigations here have convinced me there is little or no unemployment problem in the majority of trades," Mr. Croskey said. "The natural result of the decline in building activities here has caused unemployment in the building trades and it must be admitted conditions are bad with unskilled labor, but these are but a small part of the whole employment situation. Wichita Falls has nothing to fear from unemployment."

Chief of Police Frank Burns stated Wednesday night the police department was prepared for any disorders which might arise Thursday but that he had no reason to believe this city would experience anything like actual violence.

RADICALS BLAMED FOR TEXAS RIOT

FORT WORTH, March 5. (UP)—Police tonight were investigating reports that Communists and radicals were to blame for a gun battle between workers and unemployed men at the Bridgeport dam site near here early today.

One Mexican laborer was wounded slightly. More than 200 shots were fired. Officials at the dam site said radical transients who had opposed hiring of Mexicans probably had started the shooting.

OKLAHOMA CITY TO SEE DEMONSTRATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 5. (UP)—An army of city police, American legionnaires and members of labor organizations were prepared tonight to quell any "Red" demonstration which Communists may attempt here tomorrow.

State Commander B. G. Patton of the American Legion said he had been advised the demonstration would occur between 10 and noon.

'Con' Kills Auburn Official

AUBURN, N. Y., March 5. (AP)—Within sight of 43 guards and 575 prisoners, Principal Keeper Edward L. Beckwith of Auburn prison today was stabbed to death by a long term inmate impelled by a fancied grievance. Beckwith was the third principal keeper in three years to die through the fury of a convict.

Beckwith's assailant, Anthony Montelito, 31, serving sentence of 20 years to life, was clubbed into submission in an instant after his flashing knife plunged four times into the officer's abdomen. He was dragged almost unconscious immediately in an isolation cell to await full investigation.

Beckwith's death came at a dramatic moment in the trial of Max Becker, another inmate, charged with the murder of the principal keepers predecessor, George A. Durnford. Durnford was killed in the riot of December 11 last. Court promptly recessed.

markets." It called attention to the already heavy tonnage of agricultural, oil, and livestock produce, and declared that the stimulation of an additional line, especially of an eastern outlet, would greatly increase the production.

Assistance Offered

The group offered its assistance to any railroad system in obtaining the necessary certificates of public convenience and necessity from the interstate commerce commission, and in assembling suitable economic data.

The resolution added that the meeting did not lend its influence to any particular railroad system, but pledged itself rather to consider all projects that might develop from the movement. The territory seeking the additional service was more particularly described as including the western part of Hale county, Lamb, Castro, Deaf Smith, Hockley, Parmer, Bailey, Cochran countites all in Texas; and Quay, Roosevelt, Chaves and northern Lea county in New Mexico.

The resolution went on to assert that the backers of the movement believe "the economic conditions of this territory make it very timely and important that some railroad building be undertaken immediately, it being well known that this section is now in the public eye of business all over the nation by virtue of its sound, prosperous business and agricultural condition."

The meeting invited the chambers of commerce at Dallas and Fort Worth to lend their support to the movement. The line most sought by the group would run from Fort Worth or Dallas, westward to Stamford, through Spur to Plainview. They proposed also, two lines on from Plainview, one westward through Lamb county with a southwestern terminus at Roswell, N. M., the second northwestward to Tucumcari.

Brief talks were made by representatives from each of the cities represented in the meeting, they included O. C. Goodwin, Tucumcari, N. M.; W. F. Goodfrey, Spur; W. P. Walker, Crosbyton; Fred Shriver, Olton; Frank L. Brown, Hart; Mason King, Amarillo; S. L. Carlton, Levelland; John White, Friona; R. L. Penick, Stamford; Claud Simpson, Roswell, N. M.; R. C. E. Boyd, Plainview. Chairman A. J. Swenson asked the representatives present to submit tonnage figures to the secretary at Plainview when they got back home so that the figures could be compiled and presented to any railroad company that might be interested in building new railroads.

Carolina Druggist Pioneered Modern Way to Treat Colds

Developed Valuable Formula While Seeking Way To Avoid "Dosing" Children's Colds

While trying to find a treatment for the colds of his own children which would avoid constant "dosing," so disturbing to delicate little stomachs, Lunsford Richardson, a North Carolina pharmacist, developed Vicks VapoRub—the modern external treatment for colds.

Acts 2 Ways at Once

Being applied externally, this modern vaporizing ointment cannot disturb the digestion. Just rubbed on throat and chest, its medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing. At the same time, it acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" the tightness and soreness.

Just as Good for Adults

As one enthusiastic mother told another about this better method of treating colds, Vicks soon became widely known. In time adults, too, found by actual use that it is equally good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing" and the fame of Vicks has spread to over 60 countries.

Demand Increases Each Year

The ever-increasing demand is shown in the familiar Vick slogan. First announced when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," and later raised to "21 Million," the figures have again been changed—as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly" in the United States alone.

It's Wonderful Says Austin Housewife

Husband Gains Daily by Taking Orgatone and Troubles Are Ended

"I think it's nothing less than wonderful for two bottles of any medicine to do what Orgatone has done in my husband's case, but that is exactly what Orgatone did for him," said Mrs. William L. McKeen, 1216 W. Nineteenth street, Austin, Texas, a few days ago.

"My husband suffered for two or three years," continued Mrs. McKeen, "and his stomach was in such an awful fix that a great many things disagreed with him, and soon after eating he would have something like a hard lump form in the pit of his stomach which was in all probability indigestion. His nervous system was affected and he could hardly ever get a good night's sleep.

"We heard so much about Orgatone that we decided to give it a trial and, positively, by the time he had used up about half of his first bottle he began to get straightened out and was feeling fine. In the last few weeks his nerves have become quiet, so that he can sleep like a log, in fact, my husband has been entirely relieved of all his troubles and is gaining in weight and strength right along. I am so delighted with what Orgatone has done for him, that I wish all such sufferers as he was would try this wonderful medicine."

Gillette announces a NEW BLADE... a NEW RAZOR

No more "razor pull"... No more wiping... with this new blade of processed steel

TWENTY-EIGHT years ago Gillette changed the shaving habits of the world by creating a safety razor with double-edged replaceable blade—an improvement so far-reaching that it has maintained leadership for more than a quarter of a century without essential change.

Today Gillette offers another great contribution to man's shaving comfort—a New Gillette Blade and a New Gillette Razor (patents pending).

The New Gillette Blade can be used in your present Gillette Razor. But the New Gillette Razor has so many points of superiority that any man or woman who has tried it once will gladly discard the faithful instrument of the past.

Used together, the New Gillette Blade and the New Gillette Razor abolish forever the two unpleasant factors in shaving—"razor pull," and the tedious drying of razor parts. Imagine a shave so smooth and cool that you hardly feel the razor on your skin. Think of not having to take the razor apart for cleaning—merely rinse it off and shake it dry. These are only two of the advantages of the new razor and the new blade. Read the other advantages summed up under "Quick Facts."

Back of these great improvements lies a fascinating story of research.

Twenty-seven thousand men have been interviewed. Tens of thousands of used razors were examined. In these studies a discovery of far-reaching importance was made:

Cause of "razor pull" found

In almost every case when a man complains that his razor "pulls," an expert examination shows that the razor has been nicked.

Why should a little nick—even a microscopic nick—spoil your shave? Here is the reason:

QUICK FACTS

1. New blade can be used in your old Gillette
2. New processed steel; new blade resists rust
3. Cut-out corners of blade prevent "razor pull"
4. To clean, turn guard at right angles... then re-tighten... rinse... shake dry
5. New shape guard channel gives full shaving clearance
6. New shape guard teeth meet skin smoothly, naturally
7. No projecting posts to dull blade edges
8. Reinforced razor corners prevent damage if dropped
9. Square blade ends safer to handle
10. Shaves easier around mouth, nose, ears
11. New blades same price as old
12. New razor, 24K. gold-plated, with one new blade, in case, $1.00

The parts of a Gillette Razor are machined to a fine precision. The slightest dent at one of the corners causes an unequal tension on the blade, throwing it out of perfect alignment. The blade may even crack under the unequal tension. Perhaps you have had this happen for no apparent reason. Perhaps you have blamed the blade.

Gillette finds the answer

We could not keep men from dropping their razors. But we could offset the harmful effect. To do so required a change in both the razor and the blade. In the razor we reinforced all four corners of the cap with sturdy lugs made to withstand nearly any kind of abuse.

The blade was treated even more ingeniously. All four corners were cut out; when the cap and guard of the razor clamp together, the blade is not held at the corners. Even if you drop the New Gillette, you probably will not dent it. Even if you dent it, you do not, cannot spoil your shave.

New processed steel... Rust-resisting. Just rinse... shake dry

When you see the new blade, you'll notice immediately a different, finer finish... the result of a new process of treating the hard special steel.

How many tedious minutes you have had to waste in unscrewing your razor, washing it off, and carefully wiping it dry! How many towels have been cut! Now the nuisance of unscrewing your razor, washing it off, carefully wiping it dry—and risking a cut towel—all this is abolished forever; the new blade resists rust. A single twist of the fingers turns the guard at right angles. Then re-tighten. Hold the razor under hot running water. Shake thoroughly. Lay on the shelf. That's all.

Shaves closer in corners

The ends of the blade are square—the old blades were rounded. A square end is much easier and safer to handle with wet fingers... no fishing down the drain pipe for a slippery blade. But even more important, the ends of the blade are much more nearly flush with the ends of the razor cap and guard... much easier now to reach those tough little corners around the mouth, the ears, the nose.

Notice the longer, bent-back teeth

You'll see, too, that the teeth of the New Gillette are a bit longer—rounded a little farther back.

A little improvement? Yes. But notice how smoothly the new razor slides over your skin. A shave so perfect that not a sign of a whisker remains. Yet so comfortable that you have hardly felt the razor.

The old posts that stuck through the blade and so often stubbed the edges are gone too.

Blade edge is clear but protected

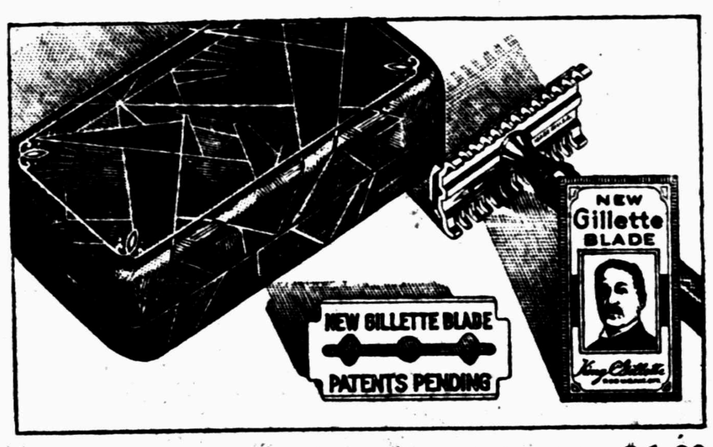

Still another improvement. The guard of the New Gillette has the famous channel beneath the blade edge. This channel allows the blade to meet the beard full and clear, yet with perfect safety. Until now this feature has been available only in Gillette Razors selling at $5.00 to $75.00.

And the price is only $1.00

The New Gillette Razor, with all its improvements, is now offered to you, 24K. gold-plated and packed in a neat case, with one new blade, for only $1.00. And the new blades of steel processed to resist rust, come to you at the old price... $1.00 for ten.

To men who want the greatest bargain in shaving comfort that $1.00 has ever bought, we say, see your dealer today!

MANILA SCHOOL STRIKE GROWS

10,000 Students Join in Protest Action

MANILA, March 5. (AP)—Manila's school strike spread today when several hundred more students joined the 10,000 already out. Many non-striking students, fearing violence, remained away from classes.

More than a score of non-striking students were attacked during the day. Many of those who attended classes in spite of the strike armed themselves with knives, clubs and whips.

Gov.-Gen. Dwight F. Davis summoned Alejandro Albert, acting secretary of public instruction, and Luther B. Bewley, director of education, to the executive offices this morning.

Removal of Albert, Bewley and the principal of Manila North High school constitute the principal demands of the strikers, although the original purpose of their walkout was to force the reinstatement of four students expelled for leading a demonstration against Miss Mabel Brummitt, American teacher, said to have made disparaging remarks about Filipinos.

The new concern will be a closed corporation and will, it is stated, spend between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 on productions.

The names of the stars who will join Chaplin in the new venture were not disclosed. It is known, however, that Chaplin has discussed the subject with John Gilbert, debonair lover of the silent drama.

LIONS CLUB HEARS ONEAL

Walton League Head Tells Of Work Here

Work of the Izaak Walton league of America through the Wichita Falls chapter in the improvement and perpetuation of hunting and fishing in this section was reviewed by Ben G. Oneal, president of the local chapter, before members of the Lions club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon.

Present fishing laws in this state were given direction by the Wichita Falls Waltonians, the speaker said. Their efforts also brought about the passage of a bill in Oklahoma permitting Texas hunters to hunt wild fowl in the Red river bed for a nominal annual fee. Construction of bass rearing ponds at Lake Kemp, plans for similar provisions at Lake Wichita, and the recent addition of 12,000 fish to the stock of that body also were discussed by Mr. Oneal.

Members of the local Lions club have been asked to present a program at Nocona on the night of Thursday, March 13, at an inter-city meet, it was announced.

Roy J. Mann was introduced as a new member.

AIR TRAVEL HERE HEAVY

Wichita Ranks Second in U. S.; Braniff Drops Line

Coincident with the announcement that Wichita Falls ranked second in the entire United States in the number of passengers per capita leaving the city by airlines in 1929, the local offices of the Braniff division of the Universal airlines announced discontinuance of their passenger service between Tulsa and Dallas through the Municipal airport here.

The discontinued service became effective Tuesday, it was said. North and southbound passenger service for Wichita Falls air travelers is still available both morning and afternoon, however, through the Southwest Air Fast Express plane schedule.

Huge tri-motored Ford monoplanes, with a seating capacity of 14 passengers, leave the Municipal airport on the Burkburnett highway for both Oklahoma City and Fort Worth and Dallas on morning and afternoon runs. Two of the ships take off northward and two southward in the morning and a like number north and south in the afternoon. Rates on the Safeway lines are the same as train plus Pullman fares.

A bulletin issued by the United States department of commerce pointed out the passenger service rank of this city last year and named Tulsa as leading the nation in per capita air travel. An average of 25 passengers per day took off in the airliners at the Municipal port here in 1929, according to the bulletin.

Incendiary Fires Costly in Texas

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Fire losses in January totaled $1,158,133, according to the monthly report of the state fire insurance commission. This was a decrease of $680,540 compared with January, 1929, when the loss was $1,838,673.

Further efforts to decrease the fire toll are being made by the commission which urges organization of fire prevention committees in every city to work with local fire marshals.

During the period covered by the report, 19 fires of incendiary origin were reported to the commission. Complete investigation of fires of this nature was urged by the commission which classed the pyromaniac as one of the most dangerous species of criminal.

During January there were 129 fires from undetermined causes, 102 caused by stoves, furnaces, heaters and their pipes and 92 from defective chimneys and flues. Other causes of fire were: defective wiring, 43; matches and smoking, 40; gas, natural and artificial, 63; exposure, 37; explosion, 11; spontaneous combustion, 10; lighting, three; ignition, 14; fireworks, three; sparks on roof, 34; petroleum and its products, six; picture show film fires, two; open lights, seven; rubbish, nine; hot ashes, coals and open fires, six; sparks from machinery, one; miscellaneous causes, 40.

Texas Ports Make Rate War Plans

GALVESTON, Texas, March 5. (AP)—Local rate differences were temporarily forgotten today when representatives of Texas ports, various commercial organizations and the state assembled here for a conference on the comfng court fight in which New Orleans interests will attack an order of the Interstate Commerce commission in the Galveston-New Orleans port relationship case.

It was agreed at the meeting to present a united front in the case. A decision was reached to file a joint petition of intervention and a joint brief with the court in behalf of the state of Texas, various commercial and shipping interests and the ports in support of the opinion and order of the Interstate Commerce commission.

The Texas and Pacific railroad and New Orleans interests recently asked the United States district court to enjoin the order of the commission in the Galveston-New Orleans case in which the Texas ports secured a complete victory. The case was set for hearing March 20 at New Orleans before a three federal judge court.

TANLAC FREES JOHN BURKHARDT OF STOMACH TROUBLES

Flat on Back, Super Medicine Puts Him Back on Job

In a few days quicker than you ever thought possible—that super medicine Tanlac starts to prove its merit. And amazing though it may seem, the more stubborn and unyielding the case may be, the more remarkable is the work that Tanlac does in straightening out weak disordered stomachs. It's a real medicine formulated according to modern medical science—that's why—not just a "patent medicine" that makes a lot of ridiculous claims to cure everything Tanlac was prepared for the specific purpose of strengthening the ailing organs of digestion and because every ingredient in it is designed for helping the good work along, it has won easy victories where everything else has failed. And remember this, when stomach troubles are ended you'll be absolutely amazed at the way bowel troubles, constipation, dizziness, headaches, and even rheumatism usually disappear completely. Tanlac has brought glorious new health to hundreds right here in this town. Among the recent cases is Mr. John Burkhardt who says: "I was flat on my back when I started taking Tanlac. A few doses began to improve my appetite, my digestion grew better and I was soon back on the job." Every mail brings enthusiastic letters of testimonial—52,000,000 bottles have been sold. ROGERS TALKS TO OPTIMISTS

Wichitan's Wise Cracks Keep Club in Uproar

Puns to the right of them, puns to the left of them, even puns about them, all delivered in a Will Rogers style comprised the surroundings of local Optimists at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon as Clarence A. Rogers entertained with humorous quips about everything in general, including prohibition and the prison system, minus only the cowboy regalia, lariat and peanuts.

The only subject on which Mr. Rogers did not risk at least one crack was that of seriousness. Of that quality his entire address was completely innocent.

Anent prohibition, the following observation was thrown out:

"Our national emblem used to be the eagle; now it's the swallow. Life is just one banned thing after another. They've quit christening ships now because they spring so many leaks after being christened with this post-war liquor."

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 5. (INS)—Morey Johnson, Hollywood film aviator, and his two friends, A. W. Hogge, 26, and Gene La Vole, 25, Los Angeles, were killed when the airplane, piloted by Johnson, crashed in a drenching rain on the edge of the estate of Will Rogers, film comedian.

Identification of the bodies of the three men was made positive today, police said, by pilots' licenses and auto drivers' licenses found on them after they had been brought to a mortuary here.

"And O'er His Heart A SHADOW FELL," (Edgar Allan Poe, 1809-1849)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

FARMERS HEAR COTTON ADVICE

Speakers at Altus Urge Long Staple Grade

ALTUS, Okla., (Spl.)—Aproximately 200 Jackson county farmers listened to authorities on cotton conditions in talks here today. Dan Diehl, district farm agent, from Stillwater had charge of the meeting. Three men talked on different phases of the cotton situation. Speakers were P. H. Stevens, from the agricultural and economic department of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college at Stillwater; L. L. Ligon of Stillwater, and J. H. Stallings of Shreveport, La., experienced in the numerous phases of the cotton industry. Stevens forecast a large increase in cotton acreage.

He said the acreage outside of the United States has increased two and one-half times in the last five years. The foreign cotton can be produced at a much lower cost, he added. He also gave statistics of production and prices for the past several years. Stallings emphasized the quality of cotton, he said that within the last 20 years there has not been any increase in the amount of cotton sent abroad in spite of the fact that foreign consumption has increased 60 per cent. Cotton quality produced here has decreased astonishingly he said. He pointed out that the textile mills are demanding long staple cotton and the consuming public is making exacting demands for products that cannot be made of short staple cotton.

Oklahoma soil and climatic conditions are ideally favorable for a long staple cotton, he explained. To raise the best yields the following things were advocated: Terracing, preparation of seed beds, selection of good seed, cultivation throughout season, and planting legume crops that will build up the soil.

The loss in cotton profits to the farmer means the lowering of standards of living in rural homes, denying necessities and comforts which the farmer should enjoy, the speaker asserted.

Mr. Ligon, cotton breeder, talked on varieties and qualities of cotton, explaining that length of cotton is very important. Quoting from statistics, he said that 75 per cent of the cotton produced in counties west of Oklahoma City last year was less than seven-eighths of an inch. He gave as partial reasons for the short staple, drought, variety planted, soil type, and half and half measure. Ligon advised Jackson county farmers to take one variety for the entire county and that a long staple grade.

Cars Get Too Numerous For Nation's Highways

WASHINGTON, March 5. (US)—America is facing a vital emergency in its traffic problem. If the car-for-each-2.87-persons ratio in California ever spreads to the country at large, the entire network of roads will have to be duplicated.

This was the opinion of the traffic relief committee of the national conference of street and highway safety today, meeting to draft its report to the conference at large in May. The committee has made an extensive study of traffic conditions in many cities.

When Toes Itch

Underneath and Between

WATCH OUT

They may be infected with that vegetable parasite called Tinea Trichophyton—if besides itching, the skin is cracked and blistered, you may be pretty sure they are.

This new disease is called

because this germ flourishes in the dressing and bathrooms of clubs and gymnasiums and even in hotel bathrooms.

Over ten million people are infected according to medical authorities—get rid of it before it spreads to the bottom and sides of foot and brings more itching and distress.

After bathing, apply Moone's Emerald Oil to toes and foot—pharmacists everywhere in America dispense it—it is powerfully penetrating and soothing and stops itching—a bottle will last a long time.—Adv.

19,813 WORLD-FAMOUS BEAUTY EXPERTS ADVISE PALMOLIVE!

"We advise Palmolive"

. . . because of its safe, soothing cosmetic oils"

says

THE VANITY BEAUTY SHOP

well-known beauty experts of WICHITA FALLS

"SOAP and water cleanliness is a basic part of all our home beauty treatments. But not any soap will do. We specify Palmolive." So says this beauty shop. And more than 19,800 beauty specialists of distinction, here and abroad, also specify Palmolive.

Why vegetable oils are best

There is a soothing, penetrating quality about a vegetable oil soap lather that searches down into the tiniest pores and frees them of the day's accumulation without hurting the fabric of the skin. As you know, the skin is very sensitive, and must be very carefully handled. Palmolive Soap lather cleanses without irritation. It leaves the skin soft and smooth, and in wonderful condition for your beauty expert's treatment.

Dangers to skin beauty

Unless the skin is thoroughly cleansed twice a day, dirt and dust and cream and make-up gather in the pores of your face and soon become hard little accumulations which develop into blackheads and pimples. These unsightly blemishes are a sign of neglect on your own part. Use the right soap, use the right cleansing method, and you are taking the best steps toward complexion beauty.

Palmolive is a pure vegetable oil soap. Its color is the natural color of palm and olive oils. The delicate natural odor of these vegetable oils makes the addition of heavy perfumes unnecessary.

Mrs. Jessie V. Furmon is an expert beautician whose experience and training qualify her to advise Wichita Falls' smartest women.

This leader in the beauty profession represents a salon with modern, scientific methods and a skilful, well-trained staff. It is such experts who advise their patrons to use Palmolive Soap.

"Your skin must be kept clean and free of irritation. The vegetable oils in Palmolive Soap are soothing, refreshing, penetrating. You should use this palm and olive oil soap twice a day to safeguard complexion beauty."

MRS. JESSIE V. FURMON
809 Brook St., Wichita Falls

With both hands make a smooth lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Massage this gently into the skin, both face and throat, for about two minutes. Then rinse it off with warm water until you can actually feel the accumulation being swept away. Now, give a final rinse with cold water, even icy water. This is refreshing, and closes the pores, preventing too much dirt and grease from getting underneath the surface of the skin.

Consult your beauty expert

There is only one person truly qualified to advise you, and that is a trained professional beauty expert, who has spent time and study learning how best to care for your good looks. When she tells you to use Palmolive you have the highest possible authority, and 19,813 such experts, today, advise this vegetable oil soap. You will probably use it for the bath as well as the face. It costs only 10c a cake, you know . . . little enough to pay for a safeguard to beauty.

Ben Franklin P.-T. A. Has Inspiring Monthly Meeting

One of the most inspiring programs of the school season was given when the members of the P.-T. A. met Wednesday afternoon at Benjamin Franklin. Demonstrations of the talk on "Modern Methods in Education" by Miss Kate Burgess were given by Misses Rollins and Tribble and by the pupils of Misses Pierce, Kellar, Karney and Cullen, in well acted scenes. The children showed how they were taught words. Miss Rollins told the mothers how she inspired the children to read. Number combinations and health lessons were demonstrated and the use of leisure was shown to be one of the bits of wisdom taught by modern schools.

An orchestra of Benjamin Franklin students played several pretty numbers opening the meeting and Mrs. A. W. Burnside gave the devotional.

Miss Burgess' talk was a particular feature of the afternoon. She spoke of the psychology of modern progressive methods and of the fact that children have grown to look on the teacher as a helper not a taskmaster. The teacher's feeling of responsibility in teaching the children citizenship was stressed. "We used to say," she stated, "that teaching was imparting knowledge; we say now it is that which stimulates pupils to gain it. Teaching is lighting a lamp; not filling a bucket." The new words and phrases that have come into the pedagogical vocabulary in the last few years were quoted to show the difference in the methods of teaching.

Reports of committees were the business features closing a splendidly attended meeting.

Among those present were Mesdames M. E. Perry, C. D. Whitley, N. Manoushaigan, Marvin Smith, Henry Millican, Lester Burns, Clyde Hibson, W. E. George, Fred M. McErayer, C. E. McCutchen, J. T. Mrs. T. H. Lawson Hostess to Local Council Members

Mrs. T. H. Lawson, member of the local council, entertained the members of the Camp Fire Guardians association at her home, 1825 Huff avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Frank W. Michaux, chairman, presided during the business session. The members voted to hold the birthday go-to-church service on Sunday, March 16, at the evening hour at one of the local churches, which will be announced later.

Radio programs during birthday week were tentatively outlined, giving the various groups the responsibility of one 10-minute program. The theme will be the Indian's idea concerning the law of Camp Fire, to "Seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold on to health, glorify work and be happy." Songs with Indian themes will be woven into each program.

Spring flowers and planting will be the theme of the next district-wide "adventure" which will be on Saturday, March 29. Visits to several nurseries will be arranged.

Members voted to hold the April guardian meeting Saturday, April 5, in order to have more time to cook a meal in the open and study nature lore. Mesdames Wenonah R. Ware and George P. Frazer will prepare and serve the meal in fulfillment of one of the requirements for the fire maker's rank. After the business session several of the Neidlinger songs with motions were learned by the guardians.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames Anna Barnhill, C. M. Crowell, George P. Frazer, Wenonah R. Ware, Frank W. Michaux, Russell H. Washburn, Betty Jo Vaughters, of Byers, Misses Ruth Mounts and Mary McIlheran.

"Sick!"

Again the disappointment of a date that can't be kept. It's always the day one would like most to go. Midol means freedom from these days of inactivity—days of suffering.

You have probably tried other things for menstrual pains, but so had thousands of women who today bless Midol. Try these wonderful tablets and be convinced that the normal process of menstruation need not be one bit painful. Midol is non-narcotic and harmless, but it does bring complete ease in five to seven minutes. Or prevents the pain even starting when taken in time. Every drugstore has the trim little aluminum case to tuck in your purse, and Midol costs only 50c.—Adv.

Dix Tells Why It Is Best to Keep Faithless Hubby

Under What Circumstances Should a Wife Overlook Husband's Philandering? How Can Young Man Hold His Sweetheart's Love Until He Is Ready to Marry?

Dear Miss Dix—Why do you so often advise women to overlook their husbands' side-stepping and to stay with philandering husbands? Don't you suppose they have hearts and feelings as well as men? Don't you think an unfaithful husband is as repulsive to his wife as an unfaithful wife is to her husband? You seem to think that women will always forgive and forget, but, thank heaven, there are a few who don't take your advice and take back their wandering husbands. Women are getting to the place where they are not instruments of men's whims. And I'll just bet you publish this letter. —D. V. B.

Answer—I perfectly agree with you, D. V. B., that it is just as much of a crime for a man to break his marriage vows as it is for a woman to break hers and that when a wife finds her husband has betrayed her, it is just as bitter and disillusioning an experience as it is for a man to find out that his wife has been a traitor to him.

A wife's soul is torn with jealousy at finding that there is another woman that her husband prefers above her, just as much as a man's would be if he found that his wife preferred another man to him, and when her home is broken up and all of the dreams on which it was founded turn into dust and ashes.

And if, in spite of all this, I often advise women to stay on with philandering husbands, it is because I am trying to help them choose the lesser evil. I am trying to help them salvage something out of the wrecks of their lives.

When a woman has an independent fortune of her own, or if she has any trade by which she can support herself and her children, I never advise her to stay with a faithless husband unless she loves him so much that life without him would mean nothing to her and she is happier having even the crumbs of affection that he gives her than she would be if she had nothing of him at all. There are women like that, you know, but these need no one's counsel. They follow their own hearts and can forgive their husbands 70 times seven.

One of the main reasons that, in season and out of season, I continually urge girls to fit themselves to be self-supporting is because that is an anchor thrown out to windward in case of matrimonial storm. For the woman who can go out and earn her own bread and butter can get up and leave if her husband mistreats her. She does not have to put up with the insults that an unfaithful husband offers her.

But take the case of the average woman whose husband is a philanderer. She has no trade or profession. She has never earned a dollar in her life. She has no private fortune. Her family are poor and not able to care for her. She is generally middle-aged. She nearly always has small children.

So long as she stays with her husband she has a comfortable home, often a luxurious one. She has her place in society. She can rear and educate her children and launch them properly into the world.

If she leaves her husband the courts will only give her a pittance of alimony. She must give up her home and the physical comforts to which she is accustomed. She must deprive her children of the advantages their father can give them and will give them if the home is kept intact. She must go out into the world to hunt a job, and there is small place in it for the untrained, middle-aged woman. It is impossible for her to compete with the bright, alert young girls who fill the shops and offices.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Childbirth
a Happy Event following months of Ease and Comfort

"Mother's Friend relieved me of the strain and the pain that came from the stretching of the skin and tissues," writes a young mother. "I did not suffer as I have heard other women say they did. My doctor recommended Mother's Friend to me."

Countless thousands of expectant mothers have had the same experience with "Mother's Friend." Naturally, mothers have recommended it to their daughters through several generations.

"Mother's Friend" is a scientifically-prepared skin lubricant and pain-reliever. It originated in the prescription of an eminent obstetrician, and has been used by expectant mothers for over 60 years.

You owe yourself the comfort "Mother's Friend" gives during the waiting months. It is so soothing and relaxing! It is not a drug to be taken. It is used externally only—gently rubbed into the skin. Clean and pleasant to the touch. Brings relief promptly. Very valuable in keeping the breasts in good condition. Also puts you in fine shape for the approaching ordeal.

"Mother's Friend" is on sale at all drug stores. $1.25 per bottle. Try a massage with it tonight and notice the ease and comfort it gives. A booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" will be mailed in plain envelope, free, on request. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. D, Atlanta, Ga.

What Shall I Do for Gray Hair?
By ALICE STRAWN

I am often asked for a good way to restore gray, faded or streaked hair. While there are many preparations on the market for the purpose, I know of nothing better than a mixture of good old sage tea and sulphur. You can either prepare the mixture at home yourself, or as most women prefer, buy it already prepared and ready to use.

The correct recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, may be had in Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur Compound. All druggists carry it and since the cost is only 75c a bottle, there is really no need for any woman to go to the bother of preparing it herself. You would be surprised if you knew the number of men and women who employ Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur because its use is undetectable.

You simply moisten a comb or a soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, one small strand at a time. By morning the gray disappears and another application or two sees your hair beautifully and evenly restored to its full original color. There is no suggestion of that hard, dyed look that repels fastidious women. I advise any woman—or man—whose hair is turning gray to try Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur.—Adv.

Wedding of Rare Charm Unites Prominent Couple

In the beautiful wedding of Miss Jewel Rose Akin, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. J. W. Akin, and Dan Thomsen, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. Thomsen of Amarillo, an event of rare charm united members of two pioneer families.

The altar in the First Methodist church was wreathed in smilax and tall silver panels and palms made a beautiful setting for the ceremony performed at high noon, Wednesday.

An organ prelude by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., and a solo, "Homing," by Mrs. F. M. Hansen made beautiful prenupital music. The wedding party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr.

Mrs. J. H. Cochran of Orange, Texas, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and was lovely in green chiffon, with a beige lace hat and beige and green accessories.

Little Henry D. Akin Jr., of Amarillo, nephew of the bride, in a handsome little suit of white satin carried the ring in a calla lily and little Misses Mary and Margaret Cochran of Orange, Texas, scattered rose petals from the baskets they carried.

The bride, lovely in her long, sweeping white satin gown, entered on the arm of her father. A pearl mesh cap caught her veil and she carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

Ushers were J. W. Akin Jr., Henry D. Akin of Amarillo, John P. Akin and T. B. Cochran.

The group was met at the altar by the bridegroom with his best man, Jack Wayland of Amarillo and Dr. Thomsen, father of the groom, pronounced the inipressive ceremony uniting the couple. The wedding march from Lohengrin was the recessional music.

Reception Follows Wedding

At a reception at the Akin home on Tenth street, the chosen colors of the bride, green and white, furnished the motif for decoration. A huge white bride's cake and a green cake for the groom were cut. Green tapers in silver holders and white roses in a silver bowl made the table lovely.

Directly after the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen left by car for Cincinnatti, Ohio, Washington, D. C., and other eastern points on their wedding trip. Mrs. Thomsen wore a dark blue and white ensemble for travel with accessories to harmonize.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen will make their home in Amarillo.

After the luncheon, several unique contests were enjoyed. First was one in which each person drew a picture symbolizing the book she thought of. The one who recognized the greatest number of books was winner and Mrs. O. E. Maer drew the prize. A committee of three from the Unity Juniors chose the drawing of Mrs. Carter McGregor as the cleverest, and she was presented with a pretty favor.

An advertisement slogan contest was the next feature arranged by Mrs. Jouette Bonner and Mrs. Newton Maer was winner of the prize in this.

TELL FOLKS how easy it is to LOSE FAT

Everybody knows how excess fat has disappeared in late years. Men and women in every circle prove that figures need not stay abnormal. Youth and beauty, health and vitality can come back.

All must realize that, in late years, some new factor is employed. Fewer people now rely on abnormal exercise or diet. Modern science has proved that most fat people suffer from an under-active gland. Physicians now, in treating obesity, seek to correct that deficiency.

The chief factors are embodied in Marmola prescription tablets, prepared by a famous laboratory. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in every circle there are slender people who can tell you what they do.

The method is scientific and well known. Every box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for the good results. No starvation, though moderation helps. The purpose is to help out an under-active gland, which should turn food into fuel and energy.

Go test this well-tried method. In a little while results will tell you what Marmola means to you. If you see the excess fat go and new vitality return, go on until the change is completed. Then, in fairness to your friends, tell them, as users have done for so long. Start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

HAITI WANTS TROOPS MOVED

Communism Hears Opinions of Island Leaders

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, March 5. (UP)—Leaders of the Haitian "Independence movement" are united on two demands—immediate withdrawal of American marines, and a return to what they term "constitutional government," with free elections to the presidency.

Continued agitation and unrest, leading to possibility of revolt, were predicted in arguments to President Hoover's Haitian commission, if President Borno is permitted to dominate the republic.

Justin Sam, president of the league of young Haitian patriots, and Georges Leger, a prominent attorney, added their testimony to the evidence of discontent.

The Haitian demand for cancellation of Borno's plans for the election of a president in April by his council of state, has presented an embarrassing problem to the commission, because of the nearness of the election and the commission's desire to study its evidence carefully before making positive recommendations.

Withdrawal of the marines is urged privately by many of the business men who have no apparent political interests at stake.

Edouard Esteve, known as "the Merchant Prince" of Haiti, and who may be said to represent the non-political opinion of Port Au Prince, believes that continuation of American military control is hampering commerce.

WHAT PRICE NUISANCE VALUE?

Daily Editorial

MONSIEUR TARDIEU has rebuilt his cabinet. He has mended his fences. He has recovered from his strategic attack of sore throat. And now the five powers will resume their seats and the poker game which his suspiciously timed indisposition suspended.

Monsieur Tardieu is confident that he holds an unbeatable hand and, from all indications, intends to play "cut throat" to the limit.

France is determined to have her own way or bust up the party. If Britain, the United States, Italy and Japan insist upon a general reduction of naval ratios they must either concede to the French the number and size of submarines and cruisers which they consider necessary to Mediterranean security, or consent to consolidate influence and forces against any nation which may affront French sovereignty or invade French territory.

France has set up a nuisance value on her services as a controling factor in naval limitations, and, encouraged by the outcome of similar dog-in-the-manger tactics in the matter of German reparation, feels sure that she can again wear down confrere patience and compel a one-sided compromise. The cables suggest that certain members of the American delegation are prepared to pay such backsheesh rather than return home without conclusive action.

Which means that they stand ready, as a last resort, to tangle this country in all the potential complications which we have escaped by avoiding the League of Nations. France has no confidence in the League of Nations. She doesn't trust its effectiveness. But she wants us to join for the same reason that all the other hard-ups of the universe wish it.

IN WHICH case, they can all drag us into their quarrels, put the lion's share of war costs on our treasury, and use our citizens as catspaws to fight their battles.

A formal alliance with Britain, Italy, and Japan threatens exactly the same consequences as the other association. But the Stimson group has no authority to make that commitment. The Stimson group is merely empowered to negotiate naval limitations. If it assumes unvested prerogatives, any contract tending to involve us in extraterritorial risk is due for the same repudiation that President Wilson's unauthorized pledges promptly met. Secretary Stimson knows that. Mr. Hoover knows it. And congress, fully aware of public temper on the subject, has a rod in pickle for the first definite recommendation that we swap security and isolation for a partnership in Europe's discordant and bankrupt establishment.

Everybody of importance seems to realize it except the devoted band of peace-at-any-time chimera chasers, legion of honor aspirants and college professors, twelve hundred of whom have just mischievously stiffened Tardieu's resistance by wiring a resolution to London which will encourage France all the more to believe that representative opinion here is as strongly Francophile as decoration hunters persistently paint it.

Mr. Stimson and Monsieur Tardieu must be especially impressed by the fact that such notable altruists and interpreters of our conscience as Mr. Ivy Lee and the secretary to Ponca City's chamber of commerce are among the signators who "pledge to the president and the American delegation our active and continued support for the conclusion of such agreements as embody the principles of reduction and conference and at the same time meet the justly aroused expectations of the entire world."

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who divides his interest lessens his strength proportionately." There is danger in trying to do too many things at the same time. It is much better to do one thing well than to do many things poorly.

Dr. Alfred Adler of Vienna, famed psychoanalyst, says bridge addicts are victims of superiority complexes, and the game is a cheap pastime. Huh! Maybe so—if you play for a tenth of a cent a point.

You can't do a thing to the spring poets. They always show some poetic license.

You never can tell. The woman who picked up Cal Coolidge's half-smoked cigar may have been only collecting cigar bands.

Back-Wash

TWELVE years after the great German drive toward Paris opened, only to presage the early end of hostilities, results of the world war usually are discussed in terms of such tangible things as changed boundary lines, war debts, disarmament conferences, and conjecture as to how the next war will be fought.

Effects which are not mentioned in news dispatches, which are not discussed in conferences, but which are just as real are seen by students of sociology. These less tangible scars on the face of civilization result from influences let loose by the frenzy of war-making, and more than the ratio of armaments, or the amount of debts between nations, measure the return of humanity to primordial savagery.

Much is being written and said today about sex. The present generation is credited with intelligent frankness in its discussion, but also is charged with licentious immoderation. Its morbid phases are seen in profusion throughout most current literature and theatrical productions. As a partial explanation of this sex epidemic, with its many ramifications, our attention has been called to the upheavel which was, and always is, a part of war. Young men by millions were called and sent into a seething fire of brutal passion, convicted and encouraged by their assigned calling to become raging animals for the short time which they expected to live. Society, under the spell, took such conditions almost for granted. Would it not be surprising if the influences of such a social mania disappeared in so few years?

Sentiment and tenderness were condemned; ruthless aggression, as concerned individuals, was enthroned. Human life was made one with the soil as matter, but much cheaper in value. Each nation invoked its God to espouse its particular cause—is there wonder that with only a dozen years gone by, violation of individual rights should be rife, citizens should be slain by thousands annually with slight punishment on the slayers, and religious organizations should confess a great struggle against undermining infidelities?

Civilization utilizes its mightiest creations for waging war, and retrogrades centuries in the loss of applied ideals for whose realization humanity professes to fight. We are now "cluttered up," as a nation, with the social back-wash of the world war.

Any Sort of Reform

IN HIS suggestion that the legislature adopt almost any sort of prison program that will increase facilities and eliminate some of the worst features of the present system, Judge P. A. Martin probably reflects pretty well the attitude of most of the voters of Texas. Admitting that the prison question is a most difficult one, the present legislature is sorely trying the patience of the public in its obstinate refusal to agree on some constructive program which would embody at least a few of the good points of the several proposals.

It is unfortunate that the question of relocation has become so closely linked with the question of adopting a new method of prison management and a new objective for prison operation. This newspaper doubts, however, if Governor Moody would insist on the relocation if the house and senate would agree on some sort of intelligent treatment of the subject. It seems apparent that none of the factional programs so far offered have much chance of adoption in their entirety, and that a compromise of several suggestions must be approved if we are to have any results whatsoever from two special sessions of the legislature. These things ought to be evident to members of the legislature unless they are the most perverse and obetinate in the state's history.

Keeping Charity at Home

THERE can be little criticism of the Children's Aid society in adopting its new policy of providing care only for children of Wichita county. As much as we dislike to see children of any section without proper care and subjected to immoral or unlawful conditions of living, it must be admitted that the determination of the society to do its work at home is no more than justified by the attitude of other counties which are supposed to contribute to the welfare program.

For some time practically all the financial support given the society has been from Wichita county, although the organization has attempted to provide homes for children from other political subdivisions. As the largest city and most populous county in this area, we must expect to do more than our share in charitable work and in the hospitalization of the poor from other towns, but there must be a stopping point somewhere. The commissioners court and the aid society seem to have reached this point. It would be an admirable thing if cities and towns of Northwest Texas could get together on some fair system of welfare and charity work. If they can't, it certainly will do no harm for Wichita county to insist that other counties care for their own dependents.

Failure in the Offing

THE NEWS from the London naval conference continues to be discouraging. It is gradually becoming apparent that there is small chance for any real reduction in naval strength; indeed, any agreement that is reached is apt to result in more naval building rather than less.

This is doubly hard to take because the country had such high hopes when the conference opened. Ramsay MacDonald's stirring remark of last fall—that people everywhere must be prepared to "take risks for peace"—seems to have been forgotten. None of the nations represented at the conference appears in a mood to risk anything.

Failure of the naval conference would be a dismal ending to a great work that had a brilliant beginning. But unless something is done pretty promptly, failure is just what we will get.

Novelettes

A man and his lady friend occupied Pullman chairs on a recent Atlantic City express. Opposite in chair seven sat a good-looking guy, the only other passenger in the car, who swapped affectionate glances with the pretty gal. An hour later her companion dozed in his chair. "Kiss me," whispered the woman, "he's a sound sleeper." The lad, to make sure, pulled a hair from the dozing man's scalp. It didn't disturb him, so he kissed the woman. Three times he pulled out hair before kissing the sleeping man's girl. As the train pulled into the seashore the two fellows met in the smoking room. "Aren't you the chap who sat in chair seven?" queried the cheated man.

"Yes-s-s-s," stammered the frightened youth.

"Well, for heaven's sake," bellowed the gent, "I don't mind you kissing my girl friend, but I object to your using my dome for a scoreboard!"

When a dozen of the nation's better known railroad presidents, bank directors and politicians threw their annual party at a leading New York hotel recently, they arranged for as many beautiful women to dine with them. But it was not a simple matter, this collecting of available charmers, for the lad in charge found himself stuck after gathering 11 of the town's most contagious sirens, and for the life of him could not promote the twelfth lady, although he had been recommended to numerous candidates.

She had to be smart. She had to have great charm. She had to be saturated with that something that all femmes do not pack. What to do?

He picked up the newspaper, and the front page announced the return from Paris of a former show girl, whose beauty has made men cry. "She'd be grand!" he thundered to his assistant. "Oh, if only I could be lucky enough to get her to join the party!" He finally located her at her elegant place on Long Island. Certainly she would come. It would be delightful.

The renowned darling arrived promptly, attired in her costly frocks, and the assemblage was thrilled. Dinner done, the glittering creatures and their aged but distinguished hosts proceeded to the specially engaged ballroom. It was a magnificient affair, smarter than any "Diamond Jim" Brady or Stanford White had hurled and there were priceless favors distributed to the gels, all of whom, of course were each rewarded with a thousand dollar bill for being there.

As the four a. m. hour softly chimed, the heroine of this story was encountered in one of the suites searching for something under the divan pillows. "What are you looking for?" one of the hosts asked.

"Nothing, really," she said sweetly enough, "nothing at all."

"But," he butted, "you must be looking for something. I've been watching you for almost two minutes, picking up drapes or turning over cushions."

"But it isn't anything to get excited about," she cooed. "I merely mislaid my pearls."

After a long and thorough search of all the suites and ballroom and dining salon the old gent pardoned himself and went to confer with his colleagues. "Good heavens!" he said breathlessly. "She has lost a strong of pearls, she says. It is bound to get into the papers and we certainly cannot afford a scandal or even news of these little parties."

Of course, all of them were greatly disturbed but one playboy calmly suggested that she be told they would all purchase another as good. "Why be bothered buying it?" said another. "Let us all contribute a goodly sum and let her get another. It'll be worth it at any price." They sent down to the clerk for a book of blank checks and after the lass begged them not to give her any money, she admitted "reluctantly" that the string of jewels was valued at about $125,000.

Each of the perspiring old fellows wrote out his check for an equal amount and she thanked them profusely and all that sort of thing. "It is charming of you all," she purred, and she is grand at purring. The affair broke up and she was escorted home.

The next day the hotel detective, who had learned of the incident, and knowing her stunts, called to see her. "You put over a swift one last night, didn't you, baby?" he leather-lunged between titters.

"How do you mean?" she inquired indifferently.

"That poil business," he reminded her. "I gotta hand it to you honey. You certainly know a chump when you meet 12. You known damn well you didn't come into the hotel last night wearing any poils, and I particularly noticed you, too. If you had 'em in your poise then you know they was paste anyway."

"Please act your age," she responded as she switched from her Long Island to her Broadway manner. "I didn't say that they were real. I merely said that I had mislaid them."

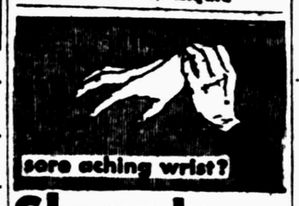

So asserting herself, she peacocked over to her secretary, opened the top drawer and extracted the 12 checks. "Here," she said, after she indorsed one, and handed him the precious draft, "this is for you. I've got so many of them they are getting in my hair."

And the "incident" was closed.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Childs Restaurant Opera

(George Antheil, composer of Ballet Mechanique, is at work on an opera with a Childs restaurant background."—News item).

"I am at work on the same idea," said Elmer Twitchell today. "I already have a name for the opera. It will be 'Madame Buttercake.'"

PHILLIPS

Elmer then went into all the details. Two of its big numbers will be "The Vegetable Dinner's Goodbye" and "Song of the Flapjack." There will also be an aria written around the idea of a dropped egg.

The story will be about a beautiful girl who is forced to make a living as a flapjack turner in a Childs restaurant. As the opera opens there is a rippling ensemble, which conveys the idea that the heroine, Olga, is adjusting herself to life in a front window. The tread of feet is heard on the pavement without and Olga, in the midst of her work, runs out of batter, a thing she has been warned against. She then sings a solo, "Batter Up!"

There is a clash with the manager and with a man from Cohees who ordered cakes and sausage 15 minutes ago and has to catch a train. Olga, pretty well disheartened, is about to chuck up her job when her eyes, staring out the window, meet those of Wingate Prudge, chairman of the board of a great industrial corporation, who, on the way to an important business conference, stops for a half-hour to watch her turn the cakes.

She is held by the mysterious spell of his gaze and forgets to turn the cakes, with the result that they become so much charcoal. There is a movement of wood instruments to indicate that the restaurant is full of smoke. Olga remains at her post and sings "La Griddle," a very touching composition. Here the manager notifies Olga that she is through, but she is saved by Wingate, who turns out to be a director of the Childs company and orders her retained. The manager relents but puts her to work as a waitress. Wingate gives Olga his card. Olga gives Wingate a charred buttercake, which he presses to his bosom as she sings, "La Wheatcake Tosser's Goodbye."

To make a long opera short, Olga does not make good as a waitress, because both thumbs are paralyzed and she can't hold dishes very well. There is a stirring scene with the management and here occurs a high light of the opera, a "Ballet of the Bouncing Crockery," in which the noise made by the fall of every plate, cup, saucer, bowl, spoon, pan, etc., is recorded by some type of musical instrument. It is pretty awful.

Well, anyway, Olga's fight for existence appears to be a losing one and she is about to be driven into the snow on a cold wintry night because of a customer's complaint that although he specifically ordered his toast well done, she has repeatedly served it to him barely browned. He demands her discharge. The manager is about to comply when a stranger taps Olga on the shoulder. It is Wingate Prudge!

He takes from his pocket the blackened buttercake, which Olga had given him as a keepsake years before, and gives it to the customer, who wants the burned toast. Thus a crisis is averted, Wingate and Olga are married, the customer is kept contented and everything ends happily as the orchestra plays "Not Responsible for Hats and Overcoats."

Sometimes before I sleep at night
I softly rise without a light
And lean upon the window sill

I see it cross my square of sky!

BIG CASES TO OCCUPY COURT

Brownsville Tribunal Faces Busy Month

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, March 5. (AP)—May, it appears, will be a busy month for United States court here.

The $1,000,000 libel suit of R. B. Creager against Colliers weekly and the Crowell Publishing company, joint defendants, has been set for trial May 5 as it affects the Crowell company.

The bail bonds of Sheriff A. Y. Baker of Hidalgo county and seven others, indicted for alleged vote irregularities in the last general election, were made returnable to federal court here early in May.

Federal Judge W. Lee Estes of Texarkana will hear the libel suit. Judge J. C. Hutcheson Jr., having disqualified himself of friendship with Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas.

Judge Hutcheson will sit in the Hidalgo county cases. Those billed, beside Baker, were County Judge A. W. Cameron, County Clerk Cam E. Hill, County Commissioners William D. Chaddock and Sam M. Hargrove, Former County Commissioner Marvin Evans, Tom J. Buckow, presiding election judge at the Weslaco box and Ed P. Williams, clerk at the box.

The indictments were returned at Houston by a federal grand jury which investigated for four days the charges of Republican independents that the Baker regime was perpetuated through illegal action in throwing out the Weslaco box.

While the accused must be tried here, a jury, it was understood could be selected from divisions of the Southern Texas district exclusive of the Brownsville division.

2 Killed, 2 Shot In Voodoo Battle

NEWARK, N. J., March 5. (INS)—Two men were killed and two were wounded today in a gun battle which followed a police raid on a colored voodoo meeting here.

Police Sergent Robert Anderson was fatally wounded in an exchange of shots with Audley Billups, colored, who sought to flee during the raid. Another negro, known only as "Coker Joe," was shot dead by another policeman.

Patrolman Marion Tigpen, only negro on the Newark police force, was wounded attempting to seize Billups. Billups was severely wounded by Anderson.

The negroes, men and women, were chanting and swaying when the police arrived, and continued their weird incantations while the shooting went on. All were held as material witnesses.

You have a Doctor's Word for this Laxative

IN 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he treated many cases of constipation. He soon saw the harm in common purges and began to seek something better. Out of his experience was born a famous prescription now in wide use.

This prescription was written thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. Children like its pleasant taste. Older people like it because it doesn't gripe or cause discomfort. It is a mixture of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients; thoroughly effective for the most robust of men. Stimulates the normal muscular action of the bowels. In its use will not become a habit. As people saw how marvelously the most sluggish bowels are started and bad breath, headaches, biliousness, feverishness, or no energy, poor appetite, etc., are relieved by Dr. Caldwell's prescription, it became necessary to put it up ready for use.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. All drug stores have the generous bottles. The product never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original formula. So you can take it with confidence or give it to the youngest child.

ST. JOE, Ark., March 5. (AP)—A 31-day-fast, entered upon to cure an illness by "divine healing," has ended in the death of Erwin Lee Graham, 55, cult leader.

Graham became ill several weeks ago and refused medical aid, asserting he would be cured by faith. On Feb. 1 he began his fast and from then until his death yesterday consumed only a small bowl of soup.

Graham was a leader of the incoming kingdom missionary unit at Gilbert, Ark., and when that organization disbanded became the leader of the "visionary" branch.

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed, and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

IF a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case, you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing, distribution or selling, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the five steel-spoke wheels, and the four Houdaille hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings, are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

The Fingernails

The fingernail at present is not as helpful to us as it probably was in the early days of our evolution when it could be used as a claw as well as for grasping objects. Its present use is to decorate the fingertips and may be used to grasp small objects.

The clear rosy nail with a good color and free from white spots, ridges and discolorations is a fine advertisement of good health. The nails are, however readily injured by accident or disease so that they lose their natural luster, color and shape, and when the tissue about the nail becomes inflamed, the annoyance is often severe and lasting.

The nail is a special adaption of the skin and resembles in composition horns, talons, beaks, quills and hoofs. While the nail grows right out of the skin structure, it is much tougher and semi-transparent, being composed principally of a tough substance called keratin. Keratin is composed of about 50 per cent carbon with the addition of oxygen, nitrogen and sulphur.

The skin at the root of the nail is called the matrix or nail bed, and it is from this that the nail is formed so that new nail material is constantly being formed and pushed out toward the end of the finger. As this process continues, the nail becomes longer, and we usually cut the end of the nail off to prevent inconvenience, although the nail is capable of attaining a great length, as is shown in some of the paintings of the Chinese upper class whose nails often attain the length of six to eight inches. This was to advertise the fact that they did not have to do any work for themselves. In this country, however, it is an advantage to have short nails.

The rate of growth of the nails varies with individuals. The average time required for a full nail growth is about four or five months. The fingernails grow about four times as fast as the toenails, or about one-thirtieth of an inch per week.

The most frequent nail disorder is probably caused by eczema, which spreads from the adjacent tissues and attacks the nail root itself so that there may be a swelling and painful throbbing around the nail. In chronic eczema the nail may record the illness by developing furrows across itself. If eczema is severe, sometimes the entire nail is lost. In other cases, there is a thickening of the nail (both in eczema and psoriasis) and the nail may turn to a yellow brown color and thicken and curve over the end of the finger like a claw.

The white spots commonly seen on the nail are considered to be the result of knocking or bumping the root of the nail against some object. They may also occur from injury during manicuring where the cuticle is pushed down too far, or they may occur in nervous disorders and in cases where the diet is deficient in some of the mineral elements.

Hangnail is an annoying trouble, but not very serious. This occurs when a shred of the nail next to the skin breaks away and sticks into anything that the finger touches. Hangnails may usually be removed by being clipped off with scissors or being jerked out in the direction of the fingertip.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Anemia

Question: E. E. writes: "Please suggest a diet on which to reduce and at the same time cure anemia and 'nerves.'

Answer—It may seem a curious fact that one who has anemia is usually inclined to be overweight at least to have an excess of poor tissue and a deficiency of good muscular, bony and nerve tissue. Fasting on fruit juice will bring about a remarkable improvement in all of these cases and the blood will be immediately improved. It is never wise to stuff afterwards on large amounts of even good foods, but a diet should be arranged with small quantities of all of the non-starchy vegetables combined with good proteins such as eggs, lean meat, fish, chicken, etc.

Sanitary Clothing

Question—A. A. R. asks: "Which is the most sanitary underwear—cotton, wool, linen, pure silk or rayon silk? Also, does the color of outside clothing have any effect on the wearer? Is black, blue, yellow or white clothing best for the health of the wearer?"

Answer—Any of these materials are perfectly sanitary if they are kept clean. The rayon silk permits more sunlight to reach the skin, providing no other clothing is worn. Clothing made from any of these materials may be used if worn at the right time; for instance it is unwise to wear wool in the summertime, as cotton, linen and silk are more suitable. However, these same materials may be used also in the wintertime if one's circulation is good. The skin should be kept warm enough at all times so that one is thoroughly comfortable, and still it is well to allow a free circulation of air to the skin. As to the colors, in the summer it is more comfortable to use the light colored clothing, but it is only through a mental or psychic effect that the color would have any influence, outside of the fact that darker clothing holds the heat longer and sometimes is undesirable to wear in warm weather.

CHURCHES HOLD LENTEN RITES

Ash Wednesday Services Open Season Here

Ash Wednesday services at several Wichita Falls churches Wednesday morning and pre-Easter services during the evening completed the first day of Lenten season here which will be observed with morning and evening services at various churches each Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday for the 40 days remaining before Easter.

Special services, including the rosary, a sermon and the benediction of the blessed sacrament, were held at the Sacred Heart church at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. The blessing of the ashes, secured from the burning of the palms used on Palm Sunday, ushered in the season of Lent at the church Wednesday morning with the Rev. Father Patrick J. F. O'Bierne officiating. Mass was held at 8 and 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. A program on the stations of the cross will be held at the church at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening and similar services will be held each Wednesday and Friday until Easter.

Pre-Easter services were held Wednesday evening at the Church of the Good Shepherd led by Rev. W. D. Bratton. Ash Wednesday was observed with the litany and penitential office Wednesday morning. Thursday morning's services will begin at 9:30 o'clock with celebration of the Holy Communion and Friday's with a young people's service at 4:30 p. m. Services will be held at those hours each Thursday and Friday until Easter.

Rev. A. H. Muehlbrad, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, led his congregation in a special Lenten service Wednesday evening. His sermon was "Why We Keep Lent," in which he pointed out that fasting as practiced during Lent consisted of practical, loving deeds in place of "spreading sackcloth and ashes" and bowing the head. Wednesday evening services will be held each week. Rev. Mr. Muehlbrad will take as his sermon next Wednesday night the topic, "Why Judas Did Not Keep Lent."

Special Sunday services will be held each week until Easter at St. Paul's Lutheran church, according to Rev. C. M. Byers, pastor. No week-day services will be held in observance of the period.

Other churches are planning special pre-Easter services and all churches will join in a combined passion service on the afternoon of Good Friday and in a sunrise service Easter morning.

Students of Sam Houston Taught Lessons Even in School Cafeteria

Many Unusual Methods Used in Training of Youngsters at Wichita Falls Institution

By MRS. L. N. CASON
The Record News Staff

Turkey dinner Wednesday at the same price as the regular plates served on other days! Classes went through the cafeteria, child after child carrying a plate with turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes and a roll, for which five cents was paid.

Sam Houston school had the turkey dinner Wednesday, but that cafeteria is just one of the many established in Wichita Falls' grade schools, not to speak of the junior highs and high. Teaching children to eat the proper sorts of food; teaching them some of the rudiments of courtesy at table; teaching them to be small ladies and gentlemen, are just a few of the things the school principals think of, in the way of helping busy parents. The cafeteria is an establishment for social contact as well as for economical food. Mrs. Frances Bone, the efficient principal at Sam Houston, watches young manners and morals very carefully.

Youngest Students

There are more interesting things at the school however, than the large, well lighted, well ordered combination auditorium and cafeteria. There were little 6-year-olds who, when the teacher told them to take the after-luncheon rest, dropped heads on folded arms resting on the low tables and seemed to sleep. What if twinkling eyes did peep out?

In the geography room taught by Miss Agnes Morton, the low six grade told of those rolling and sonorous names that have spelled adventure to many a child in school. The Bahamas, the Greater and Lesser Antilles and Porto Rico were splendid sounds. The children were well informed on their subject although one little boy who waved his hands and snapped his fingers was embarrassed enough when he was called on, to mumble, "Aw I forgot what I was goin' to say."

Frank E. Nicholson's adventures in Carlsbad cavern are the current events of the classes at present and when the teacher, reading Wednesday morning's paper to them, said he saw a nest of "do you know what?" one child answered in an awed tone, "bears," instead of white crickets.

Maps rolled down are fascinating things, intriguing the children's imaginations, but the high-five grade at Sam Houston, has found a new way, under the direction of Miss Morton, to study geography by travel.

Geography Lesson

They arrived at Galveston Wednesday to make a tour of Texas.

They knew their cities. A very young man by the name of Frank Hayes Crowell was the unembarrassed leader at the desk and after Texas cities had been described by the pupils, one by one, he asked in parliamentary fashion, "Are there any corrections or additions?" He deserves credit not only as a presiding officer, but as a good sport, for he forgot to mention some of the features of his city and added them after he had returned to the desk.

The method of teaching geography is interesting. The child takes the ruler and the town he is to speak of and describes scenery, manufactures, population and all interesting facts.

Sam Houston children know of Sam Houston and their eyes sparkle when he is spoken of—because their school is named for him.

It seems that America is looking to her future in the right way when she feeds the children properly, teaches them so they wish to learn and sees that they are kept to the standard rules of health.

Body of Pioneer Woman to Rest In New Jersey

The body of Mrs. Pauline Jolly, 71, pioneer settler of Clay county, who died in a local hospital early Wednesday morning, will be forwarded at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon to Long Branch, N. J., for interment in that city, according to tentative plans announced late Wednesday. The body is being held here by the Merkle Undertaking company.

Mrs. Jolly established her residence in Long Branch, near New York, several years ago when she moved from here. Her husband, William Jolly, with whom she came to Clay county in 1889, died several years ago in Long Branch. The family was numbered among the early settlers of this territory. Mr. Jolly having acquired extensive farming and ranch lands in Clay county near the settlement named for him a few miles southeast of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Jolly had been here since last Feb. 1. Her fatal illness necessitated her removal to the hospital about two weeks ago. A sister, Miss Lydia Holden, who had been at the bedside, will accompany the body to Long Branch.

HOOBLER CASE SET FOR TRIAL

Spence to Disregard Attack On Jury's Powers

Sam Spence, district attorney, announced Wednesday afternoon that the state will be ready for the second trial of D. J. Hoobler, charged with the murder of Arthur Pendergraft, on Monday of next week in spite of a legal question raised here in connection with the validity of indictments returned under circumstances that apply to the Hoobler case.

Mr. Spence declared that he is convinced the attack on such indictments, made in another case, will not hold in the higher courts and that he will proceed as though the question has not been raised.

He had previously declared that unless he was sure that the indictment was sound he would continue the Hoobler trial until a new indictment could be obtained in April.

Joe Carrigan, defense attorney, declined Wednesday to say whether or not he expects to move to quash the indictment when the case is called Monday.

The question was raised by R. E. Taylor, counsel for C. P. (Blackie) Wilson and Dan Ellis, deputy constables convicted of accepting a bribe. The two were indicted by the 30th district grand jury, recalled by the 78th district court. Mr. Taylor is contending that amendments to the bill creating the 78th court have removed its power to recall the 30th grand jury and the indictments so returned are invalid. Judge P. A. Martin is to give the trail court ruling here Saturday when arguments on a new trial motion for Wilson and Ellis are heard.

When you see the car with the GOLDEN ROCKET ask for a demonstration

A New Record on Yosemite's Grades

On December 27, a New Oakland Eight sedan carrying four passengers made the run from Stockton, Cal., to Glacier Point, 333 miles up the Yosemite Valley. Only two miles were made in second gear and this was over icebound ruts. On the 26-mile climb to 8000 foot altitude the Oakland Eight went 300 yards further in high than any other car is known to have gone.

From morning until evening, the New Oakland Eight demonstrator marked with a large GOLDEN ROCKET is drawing attention to its superior performance.

You will observe that few cars can keep up with it, or match its getaway at a green light. This superior performance is made possible by an 85-horsepower engine which develops one horsepower to each 37 pounds of car weight.

Other impressive qualities are Oakland's exceptional smoothness, handling ease, and the smart beauty of its new Fisher bodies.

Whether or not you plan to buy a car now, hail the driver and ask for a demonstration. Or come to our showroom if you prefer. Now is the time to learn what exceptional performance and value you can get in this new eight at very moderate cost.

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

BROWNS NEED HITTERS TO EQUAL PITCHING STRENGTH

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Appropriately welcomed by a reception committee composed of Mr. Guy Airey, himself secretary of our Spudders, Mr. Nason Baxter stepped from the train here Wednesday after a long ride from Philadelphia, Pa., his home.

Mr. Baxter is a baseball player if it must be explained. He is a catcher who trained here at the opening of last season, and who thereafter skirmished for a while at Abilene. His showing was not brilliant, as brilliance is estimated these days, but it was far from discouraging, and the Spudder powers did not hesitate to give him another trial this season.

Mr. Baxter will do his best to merit this good opinion this season, and he will start training in real earnest Thursday.

Cy Smith, of the Spudders somewhat enlarged pitching squad, visited the doctor's office Wednesday. But he came out smiling. His visit was for a physical examination. Smith, who played here and at Abilene last season, was forced out by an operation before the season closed. He has been training pretty hard since his arrival here several days ago. To make sure that everything was safe he visited Dr. Everett Jones, who pronounced the player in perfect physical condition.

Phil Hessler wasn't even trying Wednesday afternoon, and he drove a ball at least 250 yards across the Municipal golf course.

Men of varied talents always are interesting. There is the bad boy of Baltimore, old H. L. Mencken, who edits a magazine and on the side tinkers with music; our Gov. Dan Moody, who finds his recreation in a shooting gallery; George Bernard Shaw, who can write plays and who thinks he can write about boxing; and no end of others who can do things out of their vein either excellently or moderately well.

There is a Wichitan who falls into that class of men who do many things very, very well. He is the cashier of a bank, a financier of the first order. That comes first. Then he is a tennis player. Ask anybody whether he can play tennis or not, and you will find they consider him one of the best in town. He is a bowler, and a fairly good one, but he does not go in for it much. He comes from Illinois, and therefore he is a good ice skater, as you may have seen if you happened to have been out by the Denver tank during the recent shiver season.

So much for athletics of the muscular sort. As for mental calesthenics, get him into a chess game sometime, and see if you can beat him. You'll have to do some tall figuring. And if you tire of chess, and tire of outdoor exercises and want to relax in the evening, ask him to bring out his 'cello, and you will hear some real music. He's an artist in that line, too.

Who is he? From all this you should know by now. His name is Myron Ellis, otherwise Mike.

Earl Brydges Wins The Pas Dog Race

THE PAS, Man., March 5. (UP)—Twenty-eight hours, nine minutes and one second of mushing over soft snow behind a team of painting huskies brought Earl Brydges in winner today in The Pas annual dog race.

Brydges sent his huskies pattering over the 200-mile course from The Pas to Flin Flon and return without stopping, to nose out Emil St. Goddard's team by 12½ minutes.

It was the first time in six years St. Goddard, Canada's most famous dog racer, had not finished first.

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—Promoter Jack Dempsey tonight signed Earl Mastro, Chicago ranking featherweight for a 10-round fight with Fidel la Barba of Los Angeles, at the Coliseum March 21. Dempsey has promised the winner a match with Kid Chocolate.

SCOUTS SEEK NEW MATERIAL

Main Team Is 'Set' but More Reserves Needed

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 5.—The St. Louis Browns form a happy family but they would be willing to trade just a little of their peace and harmony for three or four .300 hitters.

The Browns have the spirit, but lack the punch. When the question of pitching comes up they can hold their heads up with any club in the league. However, when the talk shifts to hitting they have to move back to make room for some of their more robust neighbors such as the Tigers, Athletics, Yankees and Indians.

Need Promising Talent

Bill Killefer, promoted from coach to manager of the Browns, but formerly a manager in his own right with the Chicago Cubs, is sure to do well with the material he has.

The good natured Killefer is long on quality but a bit short on quantity. He has only 27 players and the league rules will permit him to carry 25 all season. Some of the athletes to be included in the ultimate 25 probably are not now on the team.

St. Louis scouts are combing the byways and hedges of the big league trail looking for two or three promising youngsters to place under the Brown banner.

With the exception of the champion Athletics, no club in the American league appears nearer "set." There is room for mild argument at one infield place.

Killefer's main trouble is that when he has nominated his starting lineup he finds himself entirely too lonesome on the bench. The reserves are neither numerous nor impressive.

Pitching Berths Open

Sam Gray, Alvin Crowder, "Rip" Collins, George Blaeholder, Walter Stewart, and John Ogden, will retain their pitching places without a struggle but the other four berths will be assigned only after much managerial thought. Coffman and Kimsey, who spent last season with the club, but did comparatively little pitching, will be given plenty of work to do this spring and if they can impress Killefer, they will hold over. A promising youngster is Herman Holshouser, who had a brief tral with the Boston Braves. A college product, he has four years' professional experience behind him at 23.

Other minor league graduates are Caldwell, and Stieley from the Texas league and Stiles from the Western.

No movement has developed to oust Lu Blue at first, Oscar Melillo at second, nor Ralph Kress at short. Blue is a great fielder and excellent lead-off man. Melillo fought so hard against an attack of bright's disease that he won his health back and last year played the best ball of his life. Kress is acclaimed by many close observers "the best shortstop in baseball."

West Texas Traded

The trade by which Sammy Hale, a West Texas boy, came to the Browns from the Athletics in exchange for Wally Schang may result in a division of the labor at third. Frank O'Rourke, one of the game's most energetic performers, is not so good a hitter as Hale and Sam's bat may win the assignment for a part of the season. O'Rourke, however, will be around. The hard hitting Harry Manush and capable Fred Schulte will play left and center with the right field job resting in the lap of the baseball fates. Earl McNeely can field, but is a light hitter. Fred Bennett and Ted Gullic, up from the Texas league, are better hitters than fielders and Morris Badgro is willing to try to do both.

Killefer, who should know a catch when he sees one, is enthusiastic over Rick Ferrell, who after only one year's experience has been promoted to the first string catching job.

The Browns may find themselves in the position of trying to hold their own in the first division years, while they wait for their youngsters to develop.

Giants Play First Exhibition Game Today Against Longhorns

Row Over Ruth's Contract Reaches Climax Today With Col. Ruppert's Arrival at Training Camp

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Coming to Austin tomorrow for the initial encounter of their 1930 exhibition baseball schedule, the New York Giants will find an embattled herd of Steers still raging under the lashing of the 23 to 3 defeat sustained in 1929 and prepared to go the limit in an effort to retrieve lost honors. The entire Giant squad of 22 players will be brought to Austin for the fray.

Ruppert Arrives Today

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. (UP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow and a conference with Babe Ruth over his 1930 contract is expected to take place tomorrow night or Friday.

Ruth drove a long home run into right center in today's practice.

Two Reds Missing

ORLANDO, Fla., March 5. (UP)—The arrival of outfielder Bob Meusel and Catcher Johnny Gooch today left first baseman George Kelly and outfielder Earl Webb as the only missing players as the Cincinnati Reds went through their third day's practice. It has been too cold and the wind has been too high for the players to do any hard training.

Braves' Recruits Win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. (UP)—Crowded stands and bleachers saw the Boston Braves stage the first practice game of the season today, when the recruits, captained by George Sisler, beat the veterans, in charge of Hank Gowdy, in a seven-inning game, 9 to 4. Walter Berger and Sisler did the heaviest hitting.

Hunt Is Dark Horse

BRADENTON, Fla., March 5. (UP)—Joel Hunt, a 24-year-old recruit, is regarded as a dark horse among the Cardinals' candidates for the third base job in spring training here.

Manager Gabby Street announced today he probably would give the youngster a chance to play against the Athletics at Miami Saturday or Sunday.

Hunt, purchased from the Houston club last fall, has been so impressive Street switched Eddie Delker from third base to shortstop during the day's workout.

All Hurlers Present

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 5. (UP)—Ray Moss, Adolfo Luque, Jim Faulkner and Arthur McKay reported at the Robins training camp today completing the team's hurling squad. Moss has not signed his contract but is expected to agree on terms in a day or two. The only members of the team missing now are Babe Herman and Eddie Moore.

In this afternoon's game between regulars and yannigans the regulars were defeated, 13 to 11. Fay Phelps, rookie right-hander, pitched three hitless innings for the regulars. Mickey Finn, New York boy, drove in the winning tallies with a two-bagger.

Athletics Split Work

FT. MYERS, Fla., March 5. (UP)—The Athletics were split into two squads today, the veterans practicing in the morning and the rookies in the afternoon. The recruits lined up with a flashy infield, Cramer on first, Williams from Little Rock on second, McNair of Knoxville, at short, and Tarr of Des Moines, on third. Mahaffey and Bill Dietrich looked the best of rookie flingers.

40 Red Sox Train

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 5. (UP)—Only three players are missing from Red Sox camp tonight and 41 are on hand. The missing players are Johnny Heving, lone hold-out and Outfielders Rothrock and Winsett. Rothrock is detained by illness and Winsett is finishing school. Manager Wagner will divide men in two squads for future workouts.

Better Watch Out!

BILOXI, Miss., March 5. (UP)—President Clark Griffith sent a letter to holdout Catcher Spencer today warning him unless he accepted Washington's terms within two days he would be suspended.

Griffith's message was in reply to a letter from Spencer received today demanding more money.

Pirates Held Inactive

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 5. (UP)—For the third successive day rain halted a workout in the Pittsburgh Pirate training camp today. Roy Frazier, left-handed hitting and throwing outfielder, who procured his release from Oakland has been signed by the Bucs.

Rain Hinders Cubs

AVALON, Catalina Island, Calif., March 5. (UP)—The Chicago Cubs spent today in their hotel instead of on the practice field, rain again having prevented a workout. Manager McCarthy announced that he planned to use only rookie pitchers in games at Los Angeles Saturday and Sunday.

DOG SHOW PLANNED

HOUSTON, March 5. (AP)—Under joint sponsorship of the Junior league, whose membership includes the local debutantes, and the Dixie Kennel club, a Dixie championship dog show will be held in Sam Houston hall here Saturday and Sunday, April 12 and 13.

Spudder Squad of 22 Men Given First Batting Workout of Season

Four New Men in Uniform Tuesday, and Baxter and Sicola Arrive for Training Duties

An ever-increasing Spudder squad of 22 men split up into two teams of 11 men each Wednesday afternoon and went through the first batting practice of the season down at Athletic field.

Wiltse, Horton and Reid did the hurling for one group, while Jimmie Parker, Cromer and Moore occupied the mound for the other. Howard Fitzgerald, Skipper Carl Williams' proxy in the pilot's position until the latter's arrival Friday, expressed satisfaction with the result of the first hitting inning of the season.

This first semblance of a game was witnessed by quite an array of fans, some three score spectators, more than double the number out for Tuesday's session, being in the bleachers.

Other routine work, including fielding practice, running, pepper games and fungo hitting, went on as usual.

New arrivals in uniform Wednesday for the first time included Ivon Miller, rookie outfielder from Ryan, Okla.; Frankie Allred, rookie infielder from Knox City; Jack Wise, rookie catcher of Quitaque; and Clifford, Downs, right hand pitcher of Portsmouth, Ohio, who arrived in town Tuesday too late for that day's rehearsal.

Two new prospects arrived in town Wednesday. They are Nason Baxter, catcher of Philadelphia, Pa., who trained here last spring, and then went for a sojourn at Abilene of the West Texas league; and Charles Sicola, rookie third baseman of Houston. Both expect to get into uniform for Thursday's practice.

Waco Sacker Good

WACO, Texas, March 5. (AP)—The showing of Robert Boken at third base in the practice session of today at Katy park brought Manager Pratt the most satisfaction.

Fred Robin, is now in the fold. Outfielder Bob Sanguinet and Third Baseman George Gottlieber are now the only holdouts on Waco's list.

Early Birds Start

SAN ANTONIO, March 5. (AP)—With next Monday set as reporting time for pitchers and catchers four of the San Antonio Indians are already in spring training.

Manager George Burns has been setting the pace, for he has been here two weeks, working out daily with the New York Giants, of whom he was once a member, and since then Pitchers Dick Moudy and and George Darrow, the latter a southpaw from Oklahoma City, and also Catcher Frank Meyers of last year's team, have joined Burns.

When the rest of the batterymen arrive the Indian training activities will be transferred to Fort Sam Houston where a well arranged field awaits them.

New Exporters Arrive

ORANGE, Texas, March 5. (AP)—With the arrival today of Cecil Newton, Jerry Mallett, and William Englishman, all rookie pitchers, the Exporter squad for the first week contained every pitching and catching candidate save two—Denny Burns and Gomer Wilson. Eighteen hurlers are now working out.

Steers Practice Batting

DALLAS, Texas, March 5. (AP)—Spring training for the Dallas Steers got under way in earnest today as Skipper Jakie Atz dished out three hours of battiug practice to his charges.

Earl Johnson, young outfielder, arrived today and will be out for training tomorrow. Chester Falk, brother of Bib, who is starring in the Cleveland outfield, reported today. Redman Hume, former Southern Methodist University star, who is about to be made a free agent by his owners, the Philadelphia Athletics, was a "workout" visitor.

AUSTIN POLOISTS DEFEAT ABILENE

SAN ANTONIO, March 5. (AP)—Austin came through in a thrilling finish to defeat Abilene in a nine-chukker game in the seventh annual mid-winter polo tournament here today. The final score was 10 to 9.

The capital city crew was riding against a two-goal handicap and came up all square in the third chukker, taking a four-goal lead at the end of the half when C. Scott and Earl Shaw each scored two goals as Abilene was shut out.

CUBS ADD NINE NEW PITCHERS

Additions Made to Heal Weak Cylinder.

Editor's Note—This is one of a series of first-hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospect.

By PAUL R. MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

AVALON, SANTA CATALINA Island, Calif., March 5.—Reserve pitching, the weak cyclinder of the championship Cub machine last season and in the world series, has been repaired so skillfully that Joe McCarthy anticipates piloting his high geared model into the 1930 National league title chase with no worries except those generally classified as "bad breaks."

Without as much as disturbing his staff of regulars, Manager McCarthy obtained nine new pitchers, several of them youthful stars in class AA leagues, during the winter shopping season.

Eager for Southpaw

With his fingers crossed, the Cub manager is hoping for at least one good southpaw in the rookie hurling crop, and he may see his wish fulfilled in either Malcolm Moss or Bud Teachout or both. With Artie Nehf and Mike Cvengros gone, McCarthy is spending no little time with his two young portsiders.

Moss, a six-foot stripling like most of his hurling hopefuls, is generally regarded as a certainty although it is too early for a good test.

Teachout, a husky over six feet in height, pitched good ball for Indianapolis of the same circuit last season and looks good to McCarthy. Lynn Nelson, who won 15 and lost six games for the championship Kansas City Blues in the American association in 1929, Al Healy, another American association ace from St. Paul, and Ed. Lautenbacher, who was sent to Reading, Pa., for further seasoning last year, stand out among the right-handed recruits.

"We should get four pitchers out of this crop but if we get some capable relief pitchers, we'll be all set," McCarthy said.

Bell at Third

Except for the purchase of Lester Bell to plug up the heretofore weak third base position, virtually all Cub building during the off-season has been directed toward pitchers with the group costing owner William Wrigley Jr., a lot of gum.

With Rogers Hornsby, Hack Wilson, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson, Capt. Charlie Grimm and Hartnett, all potential .300 hitters or better, McCarthy isn't worrying at all about base hits.

"Baseball is a funny game and nothing is certain," Hornsby said "but without a doubt the Cubs have improved 20 per cent over last year and should win the pennant by 10 games or more."

Horton Smith Gets Cragston Pro Job

NEW YORK, March 5. (UP)—Horton Smith, young Joplin, Mo., golfer and winner of many major golf tournaments, has been engaged as professional for the new Cragston Yacht and Country club, now being built on the old J. Texan Among Star Big Time Rookies

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 5.—Many promising youngsters are attracting the attention of major league managers in the spring training camps.

The Philadelphia Athletics have a pair of outstanding recruits in Pitcher Leroy Mahaffey, who once had a trial with Pittsburgh, and Dibrell Williams, a 20-year-old unknown from the Little Rock Southern league club, who has distinguished himself around second base.

Texan Is Star

A young star with a familiar name, Joe Vance, an outfielder from Devine, Texas, has made his appearance with the Brooklyn Robins at Clearwater. In a practice game yesterday against the regulars Vance made four hits off Johnny Morrison, Clise Dudley and Cy Moore.

With Dick Bartell a holdout, Pittsburgh is not worrying as long as Ben Sankey from the Selma Southeastern league club and Charley Engle from the Memphis Southern league club continue to scintillate around shortstop. Sankey looks like a real find. He is a ball hawk, has a sure pair of hands and a lightning-like throw.

Two of the New York Yankees' recruits, Allen (Dusty) Cooke and Ben Chapman from the St. Paul American Association club, promise to win regular berths. Manager Bob Shawkey already has selected Chapman to start the exhibition game schedule at third base, and Cooke continues to lead other candidates for the left field berth as a result of his hard-hitting.

The best looking young player discovered by the Boston Red Sox is Frank Milliken, a Boston boy who was at Bates college when Bill Carrigan, former manager, discovered him. He is built along the lines of Eddie Cicotte, former White Sox star, and has a fast ball and a change of pace.

Great Fielder

Elias Funk, who once had a trial with the Yankees, is fast winning himself a regular berth in the Detroit outfield by his great fielding play at Tampa, Fla.

Outfielder George Fisher, who has one of the best throwing arms in baseball, seems to be the New York Giants' prize recruit of the year. He hails from the Buffalo International League club.

Wally Berger, a husky outfielder from the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club, is considered the Boston Braves' outstanding youngster. He is 24, weighs 198 and is 6 feet 2 inches tall.

Irvine Jeffries, former University of Kentucky football star who played with the Dallas, Texas, league club last season, is one of the most promising rookies in the Chicago White Sox camp. He is an infielder.

FRANKLIN ASKS HELP AT HOME

Tariff Leader Assures Oil Men of Confidence

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., March 5.—"The oil tariff fight has just commenced, and the action of the senate on Friday, Feb. 28, did not stop the battle. There is a splendid chance of the senate taking a second vote on the Thomas resolution, and the Hastings bill can yet be called up in the house."

John M. Wheeler, attorney, and an assistant of James G. Cloud, general chairman of the Tulsa tariff campaign organization of the Independent Petroleum association of America, who returned home Monday from Washington made the above statement.

Wheeler attended a strategy meeting at Washington in which Wirt Franklin, president of the I. P. A. A. presided. Mr. Franklin has kept there Russell Brown of Ardmore; Stanley Draper of Oklahoma City; Joseph I. Cromwell of Muskogee; W. Scott Heywood of Jennings, La., and several others are expected to join him.

"The vote of 39 to 27 was not based on economics, but purely on politics," said Wheeler. "The coalition of progressive Republicans and certain Democrats who have formed a bloc to oppose the administration's policies, defeated the oil tariff proposal. Their opposition was directed against the oil tariff largely to punish the oil men for breaking up their coalition.

"When the oil men went to Washington early in February, they ignored party lines and blocks and sought out senators to aid them. Their efforts caused several senators who had affiliated with the Republican-Democratic bloc to agree to vote for a tariff on oil, and this break, unless stopped, might cause other breaks, so the bloc directed their entire attack at the independent oil men's lobby."

"Wirt Franklin is not discouraged but is hopeful that congress at this session, will vote for the tariff, but he is worried as to what the folks at home will think.

"Wirt Franklin wants the oil men and their friends to keep up their hopes and to keep on fighting, and he seriously feels that the attack by Blaine of Wisconsin will prove a boomerang and rebound to the benefit of the oil tariff measure. The oil men know their cause is right and many of the senators agree. Present opposition is political and not economic."

Wheeler said that the feeble arguments presented by Senators Copeland, Tydings and others were easily offset.

Cattle Raisers To Meet at San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Texas, March 5. (P)—The 54th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association here March 18-20 probably will have for its chief discussion, the formation of a livestock marketing association that will insure, it is hoped by its progenitors, a steady market for the livestock.

The association was organized in Graham Feb. 15 and 16, 1877. In 1877 it posted a reward for every horse thief convicted.

The organization was first known as the Stock Raisers' association of Northwest Texas, but in 1893 it became the Cattle Raisers' association of Texas. Later it adopted the present name.

The association employs inspectors who seek to prevent thievery and who make inspections of shipments. Inspectors are maintained at all large cattle trading points.

The association draws it membership of almost 3,000 from 25 states, Mexico and Canada with a majority from Texas and Oklahoma. Many of its members control more than 100,000 acres of land. Each member pays seven and one-half cents a head annually on his cattle of which more than 3,000,000 are represented by the organization.

TWO KIDNAPERS ABDUCT CHILD

Lamar, Colo., School Girl Carried Away in Car

LAMAR, Colo., March 5. (UP)—Pauline Owens, 8-year-old school girl, was reported kidnaped by two men in a green automobile today on her way to school here.

Edna Offill, 8, and Fred Offill, 10, schoolmates of the little girl, told police they saw the two men stop their machine near the school house, pick up Pauline and then drive away.

A sarching party was organized by police and officials of the sheriff's office, but late today they had failed to find any trace of the missing child.

Young Offill and his sister were unable to give authorities a description of the kidnapers.

The search was concentrated near the Kansas-Colorado line, police believing the automobile headed in that direction.

Pauline is the daughter of Mrs. E. N. Owens of Lamar. The mother was unable to advance a motive for her daughter's abduction.

SMALL FARMS PAYING WAY

Petrolia Road Development Example of Work

During the past year much attention has been given to the development of a tract near Westmoreland park as a small-farms community, in which more than 100 small plats have now been sold, and of which many are being improved.

On the east side of the city, along the Petrolia road, is another area which now qualifies entirely as a small-farms community by fact, if not by acknowledged designation. From a point just beyond the brick yard and extending along both sides of the Petrolia paved road for more than a mile, the area is heavily peopled, and is divided into neat, progressive looking farms of from one-half acre to 10 acres.

Located near the irrigation canal, many of these small tracts are using water regularly from that ditch in the extensive culture of vegetables and fruit. Development is more complete south of the Petrolia road extending almost to the Wichita Falls & Southern railway tracks. Conspicuous in that portion of the community is the farm of C. W. Kidd. Extensive orchards are combined attractively with truck farming, the trees being so spaced as to allow development of orchard and truck crops on the same ground. Numerous plats in this area are given to small grape vineyards, with the vines neatly trained upon substantial supports.

Aside from the numerous truck gardens, orchards and vineyards, nearly every "small farm" has its quota of poultry, including some large flocks. Many of the fields in which planting has been completed, and in some of which vegetables already are showing, have been so carefully graded and cultivated as to constitute effective landscaping of the area.

The Petrolia road community has been under development for several years and now represents not only the source of a huge supply of vegetables, poultry, eggs and fruit for the city's use, but an attractive place of residence.

Other small farms in the community notable for improvements, production and appearance are those of Dr. A. E. Solomon, E. F. Moore, A. L. Johnson and C. W. Rhodes.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 5. (P)—A renewal or continuation of the recent selling movement promoted by weakness in Liverpool and the unsettled ruling of wheat, was reflected by a sharp decline in cotton today. Prices for all months made new low records for the season, with May deliveries selling off to 14.74 or 51 points below yesterday's closing quotation and nearly 5¼c a pound under the high price of last September. May closed at 14.75, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 19 to 30 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 15 points and soon showed net losses of 13 to 17 points under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers who were evidently influenced by lower Liverpool cables than expected and declines in wheat.

Prices reached the lowest points in the day and season in the late trading when the selling became somewhat more active. March broke to 14.52 and closed nominal at 14.47, while the old October contract sold off to 15.14 and closed at the figure. The general market closed within a point or two of the lowest.

Exports today 10,693, making 5,507,895 so far this season. Port receipts 9,316. U. S. port stocks 2,098,549.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 5. (P)—Cotton prices declined about $2 a bale today under extensive liquidation and ring selling induced by lower wheat and a depressing consumption outlook.

Although prices rallied at times on trade buying the improvements did not hold and the close was at the lowest.

May opened at 14.83 and eased to 14.58, closing at the latter figure for a net loss of 40 points. The general market closed steady at the decline and 32 to 40 points net lower.

Liverpool cables were considerable lower than due and influenced a weak opening here. Initial transactions showed losses of 13 to 28 points and prices declined in early trading in sympathy with another sinking spell in wheat. By the end of the first hour active positions showed losses of 28 to 32 points with July at 14.95 and October 15.07.

In the final hour the market sagged rather sharply under further liquidation and selling by recent buyers owing to the poor consumption outlook. Active months made new lows for the day at 14.82 for July and 15.03 for October or 36 to 42 points under the previous close. Final prices were at or near the bottom.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, March 5. (P)—Cotton today declined $2.00 per bale and made new low price levels for the season. The market opened 13 to 20 points lower on disappointing cables and weakness in outside American markets. A sharp break featured afternoon business and closing prices were irregular, 11 to 41 points net lower. Cables were 6 to 8 American points lower than due.

Wave of Selling Closes Most Issues Lower on Active Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 5. (US)—Disturbance in commodity markets, stressing of unemployment and less favorable Steel news finally influenced a wave of selling in the closing hours of a more active market today that closed most issues lower. Pool work and scattered public buying sustained the advance during the morning but professionals applied more pressure as the list appeared to be tiring and influenced general reaction as the afternoon progressed.

Steel declined 2⅛ while Kennecott lost 1¼, Columbia Gas 2¼, Public Service 1¼, Montgomery Ward 1⅛, Consolidated Gas 2, American Can 2, Sears Roebuck 1½, Brunswick Balke 2¼, and Indian Motorcycle 4⅝. Standard of New Jersey gained 1¼ while other oils held firm. Simmons jumped 2¼ and a few other specialties benefited from individual influences. The call money rate was held at 4 per cent although loans were made outside at 3½ per cent. Turnover increased to 3,600,000 shares.

Change in the loan figures issued by the reserve tomorrow again is expected to be meaningless. Guesses being made by brokers, "experts," and others are about evenly divided as to whether an increase or a decrease will be shown. All guess small amounts. Inquiry of the largest houses shows that their loans are a little below those of a week ago. In fact their borrowings have been declining for the last three weeks and in most instances are at or near the low of the year. The most important feature of the reserve statements will be the figures showing government security holdings as it will indicate whether or not the reserve has started to release the $350,000,000 bank credit which Washington wires forecast early in the week. The call and time loan markets indicates there is plenty of credit available but the theory of the money powers is that further easing of the money reins will bring the desired improvement in the bond market.

Further bullish talk was spread around concerning the oil stocks, entirely because of the reduction in crude output shown in the weekly statement. This reduction is entirely seasonal and there has to be materially more decline for any decided improvement to take place in the market for crude oil. The market for gasoline and other refined products is so upset that it will be several months at least before it can be straightened out. In the meantime the better feeling, whether temporary or not, has influenced revival of favorable sentiment toward individual oil stocks. Texas Land Trust reflected more confident buying by insiders while those interested in Asphalt continued to tell of the improving of the roofing and other departments.

Profit taking in Electric Power and Light was reported for the account of those most active in its recent rise. Simmons reflected operations of insiders aimed at the very crowded short interest in the stock. Gillette's techincal position is declared to be almost as strong as that of Simmons. There was further talk of eventual merger of United Biscuit and Loose Wiles although those interested in the former company maintained that no definite action was to be expected at this time. Declaration of the Kennecott and Porphyry Copper companies regular dividends caused belief that the Anaconda payment would be maintained for another quarter at least. Rumors indicated disappointing dividend news from some motor companies before long.

The break in Indian Motorcycle was an example of what follows such pool work and "ballyhooing" such has been warned of in this column several times in the last month. While there is good buying in several of the high grade stocks there are more option operations going on in "cats and dogs" than there has been at any time in the last three years. The action of Indian Motorcycle influenced selling of Moon Motor that interfered with the pool work in that stock. There are several others in such precarious position because of similar work of bob-tailed pools. In most instances the ballyhoo by radio and every other conceivable method has not brought much following.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 5. (P)—Unsettled conditions continued in the cash grain market today and wheat prices followed the sag seen in contract values. Some grain was still being taken for account of the stabilization corporation, dealers said, and sales of the remainder were on the basis of $1.14@1.15 for No. 1 ordinary hard delivered Texas common points.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, March 5. (P)—Emphasis given to possibilities of an embargo on rural shipments of wheat to domestic terminals had more or less bearish influence on wheat values today. Explanations from Chairman Legge of the federal farm board that congestion of wheat in terminal markets was the chief cause for change of the board's buying policy, and that withdrawal of loan value prices was expected to slow up shipments sufficiently to hold off a threatened embargo were somewhat overlooked. Farm board auxiliaries apparently did not support the wheat futures market today and with no other aggressive support evidence prices headed downgrade.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1½@2 cents a bushel net lower, with corn ½@1c down; oats unchanged to ⅜c off and provisions showing 5@15c decline.

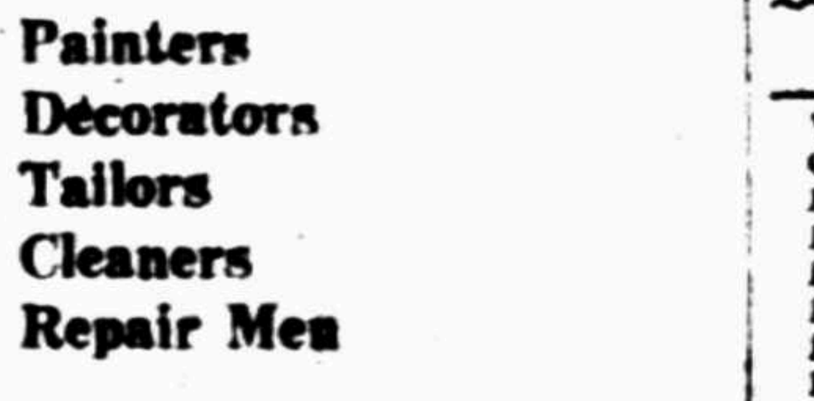

Corn, oats and rye markets sagged owing to sympathy with wheat weakness. Rye touched a new low price record for the season.

Despite upturns in hog values provisions eased down on account of declines in grain.

Closing bids and offers: Wheat May $1.06¼, $1.13½; July $1.05@1.11½; [illegible] 1.11½; Sept. $1.08½@1.13½@1.13⅝; corn May 84⅝, 86⅝@86¼c; July 86⅝, 88½@88⅝c; Sept. 87½@88⅝c.

BLAZE WRECKS THORN HOME

Firemen's Bucket Brigade Fails to Save House

Efforts of firemen to gain control of a blaze which was spreading rapidly through the home of R. D. Thorn, 4601 Coronado avenue, about 2:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, proved futile when their supply of chemicals was exhausted and they were forced to form a bucket brigade to prevent spread of the flames.

The house, a large frame structure in the Weeks' park addition, was destroyed with an estimated loss of $3,000, according to officials of the fire department. The addition is outside the city limits and there are no fire hydrants within hose length. Firemen used 80 gallons of chemical extinguisher, which proved ineffectual in fighting the blaze, and then formed a bucket brigade with every available man at the scene.

Through the work of this brigade, large chicken houses and pens in the rear of the Thorn home were saved, but nothing could be removed from the burning house.

Mr. Thorn was formerly business manager of the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital. He left that position some time ago to take up the poultry raising industry at the Weeks' park home.

Total property loss estimated on four fires in the city Wednesday, including the Thorn home, amounted to $3,400, according to fire reports at central station.

A blaze at the home of Nate Rodriguez, 123 Flood street, about 9:20 o'clock Wednesday morning, caused loss set at $250 by fire department officials. The home was practically destroyed.

Damage estimated at $100 was caused by a fire in the Fuller home at 2008 Kemp boulevard about 11:45 o'clock Wednesday morning. Only a portion of the house was ruined by the flames.

A grass fire at 1415 Twelfth street, near the home of R. T. Craig, about 2:25 o'clock Wednesday afternoon spread to a barn on the rear portion of the lot and caused damage of about $50 before firemen gained control of the flames. Another grass fire at 2209 Brook avenue Wednesday afternoon was extinguished without damage to adjoining property.

Panhandle Refinery Workers Hold Meet

Approximately 50 sales and station men of the Panhandle Refining company attended a conference and banquet held at the Kemp hotel Wednesday afternoon and evening, one of a series of similar gatherings being held by this company throughout the territory near Wichita Falls.

Representatives of various departments of the company spoke at the meeting held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. R. E. Shepherd, director of public relations, acted as toastmaster at the banquet, which was held at 6:30 p. m.

Representatives from Olney, Breckenridge, Windthorst, Archer City, Burburnett, Electra, Henrietta, and Temple, Lawton, Waurika Okla., were present Wednesday.

The first meeting of this series was held in Vernon on Tuesday. Panhandle employes will meet in Breckenridge on Thursday, and at Stamford on Friday.

Four Boys Face Trial In District Court Today

Four young boys held in the juvenile ward of the Wichita county jail are to be tried in the district court Thursday morning on charges ranging from forgery to bootlegging, according to an announcement from the office of James A. McDonald, county juvenile officer Wednesday afternoon.

The oldest of the four, 15 years of age, has been accused of helping his mother sell whisky and beer, in addition to other delinquency charges brought against him. Another is charged with passing five forged checks. Theft charges are held against the other two. All of the boys have bad records in the juvenile department and are expected to receive training school sentences Thursday.

Recurring cycles in which the talking-picture producing industry thus far has revolved seem to have only titular changes and slightly changing personnel to distinguish them from the serials of early screen history. No sooner does any given picture score a box-office bull's-eye than another piece is hatsily cut by the same pattern and from almost the same goods—which isn't always silk. Following "Broadway Melody," song-and-dance drama has been rushed into sound-film with amazing celerity—and in some cases, with amazing results.

Now comes the announcement that the "sequel" to "Broadway Melody" is coming. We might have expected that. Isn't there a "twin" to "The Virginian" already out for Gary Cooper in "The Texan"? A "Hot for Paris" before "Cock Eyed World" and "Had to See Paris?" And Bebe Daniels in "When Love Comes Along" while the resurrected "Rio Rita" was still favorably remembered? The fly in the ointment being that most of these seconds reveal just why announcements of their inevitably remind us of the original productions. None of their plots is more than mildly interesting, and certainly is not strong enough to stand an early second exposure. Their music, for the most part, is insipid. Their dancing stereotyped, and their backgrounds scarily alike. Consequently, with so little to lean upon in their own right, the "sequels," "twins," etc., are eloquently introduced through relationship with a creditable relative.

From which we venture the guess that those who go to see "Hot for Paris," which opens at the Strand Friday, will go to see Fifi D'Orsay rather than Victor McLaglen and his bag of tricks. Victor is impressive and is a good actor, but he is seldom allowed to exercise any variety of talent. His hard-boiled, crass humor will be featured in "Hot for Paris" as it was in "Cock-Eyed World." But it won't be new any more. Fifi—now that's different. She played a small part in Will Rogers' "They Had to See Paris," but through her piquancy made it so large a part that most everything else in that picture faded quickly from memory. If the Fifi of Rogers' picture has been retained for "Hot for Paris," those who see it will enjoy a delightful French tang. Then in a month or so, perhaps, we shall see her announced in "Scorching for Broadway."

TENANT SUES FOR EVICTION

$2,500 Asked in Claim Filed in Court

Claiming that he lost seven years accumulation of household goods and $1,000 worth of credit and prestige when the furnishings were evicted from a rented house, D. K. Johnson Wednesday morning filed suit for $2,500 damages against J. W. Pond, owner of the house.

The plaintiff says that he got a little behind with the $15 monthly rent when he became ill and was without work during February. While he was seeking recovery and employment in Apache, Okla., his goods, valued at $750, were removed from the house, Mr. Johnson claims. The alleged actual worth of the goods are sought in the suit in addition to $1,000 asked as damages for alleged libelous statements against the plaintiff's credit and to his humiliation, the petition sets out.

Junior C.-C. Banquet to Honor Three Officials of National Group

Members of the Junior chamber of commerce will entertain Herbert F. McCulla of Lincoln, Neb., president of the United States Junior chamber of commerce, with a banquet at the Kemp hotel next Tuesday night, March 11, at 6:30 o'clock it was announced Wednesday.

The entire membership of the local organization is being urged to attend the banquet at which Mr. McCulla will be the principal speaker, it was said. The national president will be accompanied on his visit here by Harry J. Kreusz of Lincoln, executive secretary, and John L. Briggs, vice president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. The trio of leaders will speed Monday, March 10, to Dallas.

Maurice Cheek, W. L. Page, A. W. Burnside and John Barnard were named as a committee to make preparations for the banquet to be given in Mr. McCulla's honor. A delegation of members from the Dallas unit is expected to be present for the affair, it was said.

Committee to Push Child Welfare Fund

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Marking the first step toward establishment of a foundation for child welfare and parent education in the Southwest, an executive committee has been appointed to take charge of the work of organizing the unit.

The purpose of the organization is to serve the children of Texas and promote their interests through the training of teachers and specialists in various phases of child welfare, to conduct research and to promote the establishment of child study, parent education and child welfare centers throughout the state.

The movement is sponsored by the University of Texas and the executive committee is composed of members of the faculty.

In urging the establishment of an organization of this nature in Texas it was pointed out that universities in the East are meeting with splendid success in this work and while some results are being achieved here and there in Texas by individual groups, a more constructive program could be sponsored if the work were coordinated.
