VOL. 56 — MUNDAY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1960 — NUMBER 17

Kracker Krumbs

Odd Bits Salvaged By The Editor

We Americans — especially some Texans—haven't advanced very far past the heathen stage.

k—k

The election is over, but actions of people during some of the campaign have left splotches that won't be easily erased, even

We refer to the reception given some of the candidates during the campaign.

k—k

The one given Lyndon B. Johnson in Dallas last Friday evening almost topped them all, to our notion. And it doesn't matter to us that the candidate was one of our national leaders, a Texan, a Democrat, or what not.

k—k

His reception was of the lowest type imaginable in this modern age. It was in the same category, in our opinion, that was given Richard Nixon on his visit to South America. At that time we though such an incident would not happen in America—but it did happen in Texas!

k—k

A Munday resident was in Dallas at the time, and at the hotel at the time. He told us in effect . . . "That demonstration was awful. I never would have believed that people in Texas would act that way."

k—k

We are ashamed for Texas, and Texans. It's come to a pretty pass when a person—whether he be a choice for one of the nation's highest honors, or just one of the common people — can't walk through the corridors of a hotel or cross the street from one hotel to another without being confronted with a howling, chanting, discourteous mob of people as that which greeted Lyndon Johnson and Mrs. Johnson on his visit to Dallas.

k—k

A number of the daily newspapers have lamented the incident in their columns, a number denied any part in the incident, but the shame of it will remain in the minds and hearts of lots of people, including Lyndon and Lady Bird.

k—k

Texas has lost her prestige of being the largest state in the union. Now, it appears, she is trying to attract attention as being the state with the rudest people. More courtesy should have been shown a visitor to Dallas from darkest Africa!

k—k

Mr. Kennedy is my next president, and yours. He might not have been your choice, but it appeared evident Wednesday morning that he was the nation's choice, both by popular vote and electoral vote. And we somewhat agree with Mr. Nixon, who said when he went to bed early Wednesday: "If the present trend continues and he's elected, he has my wholehearted support."

k—k

Mr. Johnson is my next vice-president! And this means we will have a brand new U. S. Senator from Texas. Who will he be? We'll determine that in a special election sometime in the future.

k—k

It was interesting to watch the nation's huge election returns machinery in operation Tuesday night. Even as the announcer was speaking, the change in vote would flash on, the lead in electoral votes switch from one candidate to another as returns from the various states were being reported.

k—k

It was particularly interesting, too, to watch how Texas would switch from one column to another, believing that those 24 electoral votes might well turn the tide of the election. Texas had been in the Republican column for two elections, and we were in doubt as to where she would be this time.

k—k

We finally crawled into bed to rest our aching back and to listen to further election returns. Mr. Sandman began demanding our attention soon—and we barely remember the voices from election headquarters when the Mrs. turned off the TV and retired!

Moguls Win Over Archer City 12 To 7

Recovery of a blocked kick at the Archer City one yard line by Bob Partridge, Mogul end, with one minute remaining in the game, produced a 12-7 victory for the Moguls last Friday night in a District 11-A football contest at Archer City.

A strong Archer City Wildcat line that had the situation well in control to that point held at the one-yard line for two plays before Doug McGrady, Mogul quarterback, went in for the winning six pointer, with 17 seconds remaining in the game. The try for a two-pointer by running after touchdown failed.

After the Wildcats took a second quarter 7-0 advantage, Munday pulled to within one point at 7-6 early in the third period as George Reed, a 141-pound defensive halfback, raced 81 yards to paydirt with a punt return.

Reed opened his sparkling run amidst a group of opposing tacklers, butting into the group, getting two fine blocks and breaking loose down the left sideline. A running two-point failed here, too, and left Munday trailing 7-6.

Archer City took the lead initially on a 34-yard fourth down pass from halfback Butch McLemore to end David Willeford. Some 8:40 remained on the first half clock as McLemore's partially blocked kick wobbled through the uprights for a 7-0 Wildcat margin.

Following the punt that Reed returned all the way, punting became more and more an important feature of the game. Each team had 38-yard averages, Archer City on 10 kicks and Munday on nine, prior to the key blocked quick kick.

Actually, a long punt put Munday into the situation that allowed the Moguls to capitalize on the break.

With 1:50 left in the game and fourth down, five to go on their own forty, the Munday eleven elected to boot the pigskin and Fred McGrady's 48 yarder rolled dead at the Wildcat 12.

A five-yard penalty set Archer City back to their seven and when two plays gained only two yards, McLemore attempted the fatal quick kick. Ironically, McLemore's quick kicks had been the Wildcats most successful weapon to that point, taking fabulous bouncing, and constantly gaining yardage on kick exchanges.

Munday's blocking of the kick was not without precedent as one McLemore boot had been partially blocked for a minus three yards earlier in the hard-played encounter.

Fred Zimmer, well know Rhineland resident and retired farmer, passed away last Monday morning at a Wichita Falls hospital. He had been hospitalized for about a week, following a heart attack.

Goree Defeats Benjamin 60-16

Charlie Latham, quarterback, scored once and passed for three touchdowns last Frday night to pace the Goree Wildcats to a 60-16 District 6-B eight-man victory over the Benjamin team on Benjamin Field.

Goree scored 14 points in the first quarter and 24 more in the second to run up a 38-8 halftime lead.

End Tommy Decker led Goree scoring, pulling in two TD passes from Latham and getting another on an end - around play for 20 points.

Robert Jackson caught Latham's other scoring pass and added another touchdown himself for 12. Other Goree players, scoring were Tommy Howry, 10; Joe Hunt, 6; Gary Land, 4; and Fred Seale, 2.

Kennedy-Johnson Victors In Election

JOHN F. KENNEDY

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

In a see-saw battle for electoral votes as the nation's balloting was being tabulated Tuesday night, the Democratic team of Kennedy and Johnson emerged victors in the nation's most interesting and most bitterly contested presidential race in history.

Kennedy's victory seemed apparant when about 25 per cent of the popular vote had been tabulated, but both candidates went to bed Wednesday morning without assurance of victory or defeat.

Knox County's voters had a part in placing the Democrats back into office, as the county voted close to its full strength. Some were doubtful early Tuesday as to whether the county would go Democratic or Republican, but results of the election gave Kennedy a wide margin. Voters handed Kennedy-Johnson a nearly 2 to 1 victory, but Republicans polled more than double the normal vote of past elections.

The total vote of 21,172 was: Kennedy-Johnson, 1,365; Nixon-Lodge, 727. The Nixon-Lodge vote inducted that this normally Democratic county leaned more toward the Republican ticket this year than any year in memory.

Governor Price Daniel was an easy winner over William Steger, 1,903 to 269 votes.

Senator Johnson also fared well in his race for re-election to the Senate, garnering 1,621 votes against Republican Tower's 496. Frank Ikard was re-elected to Congress with no opposition.

All of the amendments, which carried in the state, also carried Knox County. The voting was as follows:

Amendment No. 1 — (Hospitals): For, 554; against, 461.

Amendment No. 2 — (Veterans Bonds): For, 765; against 314.

Amendment No. 3 — (Legislative pay): For, 631; against, 449.

Amendment No. 4 — (Loanshark): For, 697; against, 398.

WHERE JOBS START

How important is the stock market to Americans?

That's an easily answered question for one big group, numbering about 12.5 million. These are the people who individually own stock now, and their ranks are increasing by close to a million a year. They aren't wealthy people for the most part—their average family income is $7,000 a year. Obviously, stocks and the market for stocks are of very direct personal concern to them.

But what about the millions of people who own no stocks?

They have an interest in the market too, whether they know it or not. For instance take our major securities market—the New York Stock Exchange. The companies whose securities are listed on its "big board" make nearly all of our autos, generate over 80 per cent of our electric power and produce over 90 per cent of our steel. They also refine domestically over 85 per cent of our oil, haul 95 per cent of our rail traffic and fly more than nine out of ten air passenger miles in the U. S.

That's the way it goes, down the lengthy list of companies—enterprises which supply us with goods and services of almost every conceivable kind, and which are responsible for much of our employment, family income and spending power. So, one way or another, we all have an interest in the stock market and inverments in securities which result in expansion of industry and jobs.

DAZZLING SHOWCASE

The magazine, Successful Grocer, quotes a leading marketing specialist, Dr. Leo J. Shapiro, as saying that the retail food market will change radically in the 1960's. He adds that there are two major forces behind the "big change"—growth in technology, and growth in leisure. He believes that "fantastic quantities of leisure-time merchandise will be sold through retailing outlets and food stores will be one of the outlets."

Retailing, it is clear from this, is an excellent example of the old saying that "nothing is permanent but change." And the vast anticipated charges Dr. Shapiro describes will, of course, affect all branches of the retail industry, not just food. We are in a technological revolution of enormous intensity. New techniques and discoveries are appearing at a bewildering rate. These seems to be no limit to the ability of man to improve his material lot.

We are also witnessing a dramatic example of the fact that mass distribution is the full partner of mass production, and that neither could be successful without the other. The retail store is America's showcase—and it is a dazzling one indeed.

A REAL DANGER

"Too many people today either refuse to recognize or lose sight of the many factors that together make America stronger than ever before. Furthermore, unscrupulous enemies abroad cleverly deny, twist and obscure the facts about our achievements as a nation and as a people."

That was said by Roger M. Blough, Chairman off U. S. Steel, in announcing a program which will report to the people on this nation's growth. It is an old truism that bad news has a habit of getting more attention than good news. So, to quote Mr. Blough again, there is a "real danger of forgetting—if only momentarily—how sound our country really is, how great its accomplishments are and how dynamic its future will be."

No one denies that there are flaws to be found in America and the American economy, and that many problems are yet to be completely solved. But this is no reason for selling the country short—or for allowing us to be blinded to the enormous strides that have been made in bettering the material well-being of our people, and the still greater strides the future promises.

From the Norwalk, Connecticut, Hour: "British government-subsidized medicine — often referred to by Britons themselves as the terrible example of socialized medicine—was given another jolt by an investigation by the British Medical Association . . .

'Singling out a new housing development on the outskirts of London, the researchers chose 2,500 inhabitants at random and quizzed them on their health and medical treatments. They discovered that even among those enjoying good health, the obsession of 'free' medicine has turned a majority into hypochodriacs . . .

"Britain is on a gigantic medicine kick, brought about by placing medical treatment on a plane with free samples of chewing gum."

Since 1865, Republicans have elected 12 presidents who served a total of 64 years. The Democrats have elected five with a total service of 40 years.

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES HALLMARK

"Then Phillip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus" (Acts 8:35). Christ was the sermon topic of Phillip the evangelist as he addressed the eunuch of Ethiopia. This is the preaching of the gospel! We are to preach the gospel to every living creature (Mark 16:15-16) because it is the power of God unto salvation (Romans 1:16). What is the gospel of Christ?

When we preach the gospel of Christ we must proclaim three important elements. The gospel includes facts, promises and terms. All three must be proclaimed.

What are the facts of the gospel? Let Paul answer. "For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, now that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures." (I Cor. 15:3-4). These facts form the basis for Christianity.

What promises does the gosple present? To the alien sinner it proclaims the forgiveness of sins through the blood of Jesus which was shed on the cross. At the institution of His supper, Christ stated, "For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins." (Matt. 26:28). The second promise is of eternal life. John, in speaking to Christians said, "And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life." (I John 2:25).

The New Testament names the following conditions as a part of the gospel: 1. faith (John 3:14-16), 2. Repentance (Luke 24:46-47), 3. confession (Romans 10:9-10), 4. baptism (Mark 16:15-16), 5. a faithful Christian life (Revalation 2:10). The gospel is to be obeyed (II Thess. 1:6-10).

TURKEY TROT IN CUERO

The only celebration of its kind in the United States—if not the world—will be staged November 11 in Cuero, down in the heart of the South Texas cattle country.

It is the widely-heralded Cuero Turkey Trot, when at least 10,000 gobblers will be herded through the streets in a re-enactment of on-the-level turkey drives that used to take place in that area years ago.

The celebration amounts to a dramatization of the importance of turkey-raising in the Cuero region, and the people of the area get together to put it in the spotlight in years when the spirit moves them. DeWitt County turkey ranches will produce an estimated 300,000 birds this year.

Back in the early years of the century, these drives through the streets of Cuero were strictly utilitarian. In those days range turkeys were driven regularly on foot from range to market, and it was nothing unusual for flocks numbering as high as 20,000 to be herded along country lanes.

It often happened that a grower living miles from town would start moving his flock toward town, often buying up neighbors' turkeys and adding them to his flock as he passed along.

A turkey drive of this kind required several days. At night the birds would roost in live oak trees along the route, foraging on acorns and grasshoppers as they pursued their leisurely way.

It was in 1912 that the late J. C. Howerton, editor of the Cuero Record, developed the idea of building a community celebration around the turkey drives. The first Turkey Trot parade was led by Governor O. B. Colquitt and his staff.

The celebration was staged almost every year until 1947, when the passing of the old range type turkeys brought about its temporary abandonment. The hybrid, baby beef type of turkey which by then had become standard was not adapted to being driven through the streets under its own power before thousands of onlookers. Among other handicaps, they lost too much weight.

But in 1956 a plan was worked out to compensate growers for the loss in poundage, and a shorter parade route was arranged.

The celebration this year, first in four years, will have at least 10,000 gobblers being herded down Cuero's Main Street, and the three-day celebration will include many side attractions.

OBSCENITY IN THE MAILS

Suppose you receive objectionable materials in the mail. Can you call your postmaster and have him stop such mail?

Chances are he can't, at least right away, and without having the postal authorities start an action which may wind up in court. This may entail a knotty problem.

For example, the post office can deny mailing rights to anyone who promotes frauds or crimes through the mails, or whose use of it would endanger the nation. In 1873 Congress gave the post office the power to keep "obscene" mail from going through.

The same is true for the customs department for matter from abroad. Yet neither the post office nor customs may hold up suspected material without first giving notice. At a hearing the "sender" may deny that (1) the material is obscene, or (2) that he mailed it.

Because the Constitution protects our free press, the law frowns upon "prior censorship." In the long run it is better first to try a wrongdoer for an offense after he has committed an act. Courts are slow to prevent someone from sending out mail solely upon a finding by administrators who may abuse their power.

So a court may review the post office's finding that a book is obscene. For example, the post office recently forbade a publisher to mail out a famous novel. But a federal court overruled the post office after the judge looked at the novel's whole treament and theme. The court found the post office had been unfair in calling certain passages obscene in view of the book's whole picture of life.

Nevertheless, call your postmaster's atention to any obscene matter in your mail. The postal inspectors welcome this assistance, and numerous prosecutions are made.

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on. CHEVROLET

Knox Teachers Meet Thursday

Knox County teachers and several laymen gathered at Benjamin last Thursday night to hear John Lovelady of Austin explain the 1961 school legislative program as proposed by the Hale-Aiken Committee, set up to study the program by the legislature.

The proposed legislation calls for an annual salary of $4,014 for a beginning teacher with a B. A. degree and $4,039 for a M. A. degree. Bill E of the plan provides for establishing regional libraries for films and other audio visual aids to be financed on a matching basis by the state and participating local districts.

The legislation calls for 80 per cent of the $100 million program to be financed by the state, with local districts furnishing 20 per cent.

Texas now ranks 36th in the nation in average teacher salary, and expenditure per child. As a result, Texas school children are the victims of a siphoning off of top teacher personnel by higher paying states. School districts, such as those in Knox County, operating on the minimum foundation program must compete with richer Texas districts as well as other states for qualified teachers.

Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, platform guest, pointed out that laymen, not teachers, should gather to study the proposed legislation. Laymen, not teachers, must let their congressmen know that they see the wisdom of legislating financing to provide adequate education for Texas boys and girls.

It was decided that "Guaranteeing Good Schools," a brochure describing the proposed 61 school legislative program, will be provided all civic groups in Knox County.

At a business meeting following the program, Knox County teachers named the following officers for the coming year:

Mrs. Alice Partridge, Munday, president; Supt. Youngblood, Knox City, first vice president; Wayne Bingham, Goree, second vice president, and Mrs. Nina Pendleton, Munday, secretary and treasurer.

Dollars And Sense

By Mrs. S C. Kinsey, Knox County H. D. Agent

Managing for clothing for the family:

1. The objective of clothing management is to further the physical, social and physiological well-being of each member of the family.
2. Help each family member to appreciate suitability and quality of clothing.
3. Learn how to recognize adequacy of clothing to avoid excess purchases.
4. Decide on the amount of money the family can afford to spend for clothing.
5. Make plans for the best way to meet clothing needs with the money available.
6. Help children develop pride in their clothing to stimulate the desire to take care of clothes. Learning to "pick up" can be a contribution to the family chores as well as an asset to their training for adult life.
7. Select and buy clothing that will be durable, a pleasure to wear, and appropriate for many occasions. The things we buy and do not wear are the expensive items in our wardrobes.
8. Consider difficulty or ease of caring for items of clothing and make the best use of storage.

Less Credit Needed On Social Security

There is good news for many retired persons, and for the widows and children of working people who have died. Because of 1960 amendments to the Social Security Act, less work under social security is now required for benefits to be payable to a worker, or to his surviving family.

According to Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls Social Security office, approximately one-third less credit for work under social security is now needed. Under the old law, for instance, a person reaching retirement age, or dying in 1960, would have needed credit for 18 or 19 calendar quarters of work under social security. Because of the amendments, however, credit for only 12 such quarters (about 3 years) is now needed.

Payments under the new law can be made beginning with the month October. Tate suggests that anyone whose application for old-age or survivors insurance benefits has been denied because of insufficient work under social security, recontact his office. It will then be possible to check the worker's social security account to see if benefits are payable under the new law.

A leaflet, OASI-1960-1, may also be obtained from the social security office explaining this and other changes in the law. The leaflet, which is free for the asking, has a chart showing how much credit is now required for benefits to be payable. Write the Wichita Falls office, and a copy will be sent to you.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Key attended the Texas A&M and S. M. U. football game in Dallas last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Nobles and Cindy in Big Spring over the week end.

Do It Yourself with Chain

Garage-Door Pulls

Instead of rope for pulls of overhead garage doors, you'll find chain stronger and less apt to get caught in the roller channels. No. 35 galvanized sash chain is recommended for this purpose. Bring the ends through the eyes of the rope holders and fasten the doubled ends with wire. Or, you can apply other fastening methods such as using split rings or non-welded chain links. The latter are opened and closed with two pairs of pliers, moving the ends of the links past each other instead of pulling them apart.

Weighting Drapes

You can weight the lower hems of lightweight drapes and curtains so that they will hang neatly by using No. 1/0 brass safety chain. This will not rust from excessive humidity and then stain the fabric which may happen when using uncoated steel chain. If the hem is open at both ends you can thread the chain through it by means of an improvised wire needle. The chain then is easy to remove prior to washing or dry-cleaning.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Just A Few Points Cleared Up About Who's Going To Work Harder Next Year

J. A.

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is not letting the election outcome bother him, his letter this week indicates.

* * *

Dear editar:

Now that the election is over there are a few things I'd like to get cleared up before the inauguration in January.

The winner, as well as the loser, kept hammering all through the campaign that we've all got to go forward, not backward, we can't stand still.

I've never seen two candidates agree more on the idea that everybody has got to stop loafing and start working.

In a general way, I agree with this, but in a specific way, I have my doubts. Well, I really don't have my doubts, I know blamed well I'm not going to work any harder in 1961 than I'm working right now.

What I want understood is that Mr. Kennedy was commtting himself to work harder, not me.

I'm all in favor of the President, Congress, the cabinet, the General Staff, etc., working harder, of the defense plants working harder, the scientists working harder, the schools working harder, even the pupils working harder, probably the tax collectors working harder, but I have reviewed my situation out here on this johnson grass farm and have come to the conclusion that there's not a thing I can do around here by working harder to keep a guided missile from mis-firing, a satellite launching from fizzling, an atomic submarine from bumping into the North Pole, Fidel Castro from talking on his television, Congo tribes from fighting each other, Khruschev from pulling off his shoe in public, etc.

However, understand, I will not hold back. I will do what I can, and wish to announce I have selected the field of foreign prestige abroad. I have found from years of trying that it may be easier to build up your prestige with somebody on the other side of the earth than across the fence. If at any time next year it looks like I'm not going forward, I will appreciate your remembering that I'm working on my foreign prestige and I can do it just as well sittingg down as riding a tractor. I would like to say in this connection though that my prestige is not at an all-time low with my neighbors. It's about where it's been for years. Never was high enough to measure in the first place.

I congratulate the new President. I don't envy him his job.

Your faithfully,

J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

The thick compilation of statistics is entitled "Accidental Poisoning by Gases and Vapors." Published by the Texas State Department of Health, it shows there were 44 such deaths in Texas in 1959.

Some were caused by open gas jets which should have been closed tightly or capped when in prolonged disuse. Others were the result of inhaling certain toxic chemcial substances.

But most poisonings by "gases and vapors" are the direct results of carbon monoxide — the silent killer.

During the chilling days of winter, hardly a week goes by that someone somewhere in Texas does not die from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Such deaths come under the broad heading of "accidential," but a more apt heading would be "careless."

The fact of the matter is that carbon monoxide poisoning is the end result of improperly adjusted heaters, leaky vents or none at all, and lack of ventilation in rooms where any kind of fire is burining.

Perhaps the greatest danger lies in the tasteles, odorless, and colorless character of carbon monoxide. Unless you have complicated testing equipment and keep checking about every 15 minutes, there is absolutely no warning of the presence of the gas until symptoms appear.

Even these symptoms are masked. A seemingly mild headache, slightly watering eyes or a touch of stomach upset are easily mistaken for a cold; when they may really be early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning.

If sleeping in a closed room with a faulty heater burning, death may come without waking or warning. In fact most carbon monoxide deaths follow this pattern.

Regardless of the heating fuel, precautions must be taken, since carbon monoxide is the result of incompletely burned fuel.

Proper venting should be installed with outlets leading outside the building and carefully checked for leaks. Under all conditions ventialation is a must, if nothing more than a "cracked" window.

Farm Facts

The dean of agriculture of one of the country's major colleges points out that Americans not only are getting their food with much less time earning it but are eating more and better food than ever before.

"The thing that bothers most of us in America," he says, "is not so much the high cost of living as it is the cost of high living.

"Foodstuffs come to the average American at bargain prices because research and education have made it possible for our great agricultural industry to produce in such abundance and so efficiently."

Farmers are providing America's food at costs actually lower than 30 years ago. In 1958, one hour's factory work would buy two pounds of steak or 16.8 pints of milk. In 1929, an hour's work would buy 1.2 pounds of steak or 7.8 pints of milk.

Food for the American worker is the best buy in the world. Only seven years ago he had to work 51 hours to feed an average size family for a month. Today he works less than 40 hours to do the same.

We have never been so well fed for so little even though there are more people in the United States and fewer farmers to feed them.
