Injury Proves Fatal To New Lynn Boy

JAMES LAD IS FOUND HURT NEAR HOME

YOUTH NEVER REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS TO TELL OF INJURY

Fifteen-year-old Orville James of New Lynn community died at Lubbock sanitarium at 7:05 o'clock this morning as a result of a severe fracture at the base of the skull. He died after being unconscious nearly 36 hours.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at the Baptist church at New Lynn, about seven miles southeast of Wilson. Burial will be at Tahoka by Bynum-Morgan Funeral home of Lubbock.

Found Unconscious

The boy was found unconscious at about daybreak Thursday in a lot near his home. James and Oscar Edwards, about 19, who lives with his parents on the same section, had gone to a party horseback Wednesday night. Riding a single horse, they returned to the rear of the older boy's house, and James was left alone to continue to his home.

Father of the Edwards boy, C. M. Edwards, said he believed the horse had thrown the youth between 11 p. m. and midnight. The horse, owned by the father of the boy who had gone to the party with James, had returned to its farm bearing saddle and bridle early Thursday morning. The boy never regained consciousness so that he could throw any light on the cause of his accident.

His mother said she had seen a strange object on the ground in the lot, but had thought it was a large dog which was kept on the farm. Although his parents had missed the boy they presumed he had spent the night at the home of his friend, they said.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, are:

A brother, Elton James, 12, and three sisters, Geneva James, 10, Mildred James, 9, and Opal Ruth James, 3, all of the home.

SOLON DIES

CLEVELAND, May 29. (AP)—Congressman Charles A. Mooney, 52, (below), Democratic representative of the 20th Ohio (Cleveland) district since 1923, died at his home today of lobar pneumonia. The Democratic chieftain of his district was first elected to congress in 1919. He was defeated for re-election in the Harding landslide of 1921, but was returned to Washington in 1923 and since then his re-election had never been seriously doubted.

ASH IS READY FOR FLIGHT TO U. S.

AMERICAN AVIATOR TO TRY TO SPAN OCEAN FROM JAPAN

(By Associated Press)

SAMUSHIRO BEACH, Japan, May 29.—The "somewhat cumbersome" monoplane in which Thomas Ash, jr., American flier, hopes to span the Pacific without a stop, rested on the natural runway of this beach today ready to take off for Tacoma, Wash., at 7 a. m., tomorrow (4 p. m. Friday, Central Standard Time).

Ash landed here late today after a 380-mile flight from Tachikawa airdrome, near Tokyo. He then inspected and prepared the plane for the 4,400-mile solo flight across the Pacific. He expects to land at Tacoma in forty to fifty hours.

Given Rousing Send-off

Ash was accompanied here by a mechanic who assisted him in final preparations. At Tachikawa he was given a rousing send-off by high officials, including the American Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes and the mayor of Tokyo.

Ash and his mechanic stripped the "Pacific" of every ounce of superfluous metal. Even at that, carrying 1,020 gallons of gasoline and 60 gallons of oil, the flier expected to have difficulty in lifting the plane from the beach. Ash will carry no radio, nor is his plane equipped with pontoons. His only baggage will be a small

Piccard Tells Of Flight Nine Miles Up In Ether; Obtains Scientific Data

GERMAN PROFESSOR SAYS STRATOSPHERE IDEAL FOR LONG-DISTANCE AVIATION; SAID SKIES ABOVE ARE ENDLESS INFINITY OF BLUE

(By The Associated Press)

OBER-GURGL, Austrian Tyrol, May 29.—Recovered from their perilous thrust into the upper reaches of the sky, Dr. August Piccard began compiling his scientific data today while Charles Kipfer, his assistant, started a climb to recover their balloon from the glacier on which it came to rest.

Dr. Piccard said in conversation with newspapermen that the stratosphere, which he claimed to have penetrated in an ascent of more than 50,000 feet, was the only practicable element for long-distance aviation.

Cabins Must Be Airtight

"This can be done, however," he said, "only if the cabins are as airtight as our Gondola was."

When some of his interviewers suggested that they would like to accompany the scientist to the balloon, Dr. Piccard had a good laugh. "Have you hob-nailed shoes?" he said. "Are you experienced mountain climbers? Do you know how to operate an ice axe? No? Then you better keep your hands off."

On Lips of All Europe

The two men arose at dawn and were surprised on reaching the lobby of the little Edelweiss hotel to be confronted by not less than 50 journalists and by scores of tourists who used bicycles, motorcycles, horse-drawn vehicles, automobiles and even airplanes to reach the two men about whom all Europe is talking.

Dr. Piccard said he and Kipfer had attained the objectives of their ascent—a study of cosmic rays—and in addition had established a world's

MAN DIES AND WOMAN NEAR DEATH

NOTES ARE LEFT TO RELATIVES AND OFFICIALS

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 29.—Thomas E. Davis, 25, of Verona, N. J., was shot and killed and Mrs. Fannie Anderson, 24, of Graham, Tex., was wounded probably fatally today in a double shooting in a hotel room here. Notes addressed by them "to whom it may concern" indicated a double suicide pact.

"The couple registered at the hotel Monday.

Addressed By Davis

On letter heads of the hotel a note in the handwriting of Davis was addressed "to whom it may concern:"

"It is impossible for us to live without each other, so we are making sure we will not be separated again, ever. We blame no one. We request that we be buried together, regardless of anything. We do not want to be apart, even in death."

Thomas E. Davis was the signature, in the handwriting of Davis, and Fannie Anderson, in the handwriting of the woman.

In a note addressed to "Gus," Mrs. Anderson left this message:

"Please do not claim my body. I love Tommie and want to be buried with him even if it is in a pauper's grave. I want my mother to have all my possessions that are in your care, also the few things I have here and what little jewelry I wear. Do not let my mother know until after I have been buried. This is the only way out of it for Tommy and me." The note was signed "Fannie."

FOUR HEARD IN SPIKES TRIAL

DEPOSITIONS FROM 3 MEN READ TODAY INTO HEARING

A long deposition by Eugene Logan, former mayor of Dalhart, who served as an inspector for the New Mexico Sanitary Cattle board 30-odd years ago, and oral testimony by four witnesses as well as two other depositions featured Friday morning's testimony in the trial of Fred Spikes vs J. Evetts Haley, et al, in 99th district court. Mr. Spikes is asking $200,000 damages for alleged libel in connection with chapter 8 of the book "The XIT Ranch in Texas" written by Haley and published by the other defendants.

Oral testimony included purported knowledge of the reputation of the Spikes brothers by John Whitmore and Herman Gearhart of Tucumcari, N. M., and B. F. Abbott of Bovina and Claude B. Beebe of Littlefield, J. H. Nix and Joe H. Shellenberger made statements by deposition.

Was Former Official

Logan's deposition and the accompanying cross-examination consumed more than an hour to read. Logan made the statement at the time he was mayor of Dalhart and in addition to that official position he said he had been a state ranger of Texas, a deputy U. S. marshal, inspector for the cattle raisers, inspector for the New Mexico Sanitary Cattle board and also deputy sheriff.

"I worked in and out of New Mexico for 13 years, first in Clayton and later around the Mesa Redonda," he testified. "I was at Old

AMERICAN IS EXECUTED FOR PLOTTING

FORMER RESIDENT OF NEW YORK DIES IN ITALY TODAY

(By Associated Press)

ROME, May 29. — Convicted of plotting the assassination of Premier Benito Mussolini, Michele Schirru, an American by naturalization, was executed at dawn today by a firing squad.

He was led into the interior court of Fort Braschi and seated astride a chair with his back to the marksmen. A battalion of blackshirt militiamen formed three sides of a hollow square around him and directed a volley of shot into his spine.

The special tribunal for defense of the state, composed of seven militia officers, witnessed the execution.

First American Killed

Schirru, 32 years old and once a resident of New York, was the first American to taste Fascist justice for such an offense and the seventh person to be executed under the defense of the state law, designed to punish attempts to overthrow the regime or to plot against the premier.

Italy had not had capital punishment for 68 years until the first of these executions in 1928. It is customary for the prisoner or his attorney to appeal to the king for clemency but these appeals always have been rejected by the intermediary official whose approval is necessary.

The tribunal from whose decisions there is no appeal convicted Schirru after 30 minutes of deliberation on seven counts, including attempted assassination, possession of bombs, wounding of three detectives and membership in an anarchist organization.

WORK DELAYED ON BALL CLUB

RAIN PREVENTS REPORT OF GROUPS; EXPECT SUM BY TONIGHT

A complete report of the committee in charge of sale of stock in the proposed Lubbock club of the Panhandle Professional Baseball league could not be learned today at noon, several members being detained by the rain and unable to give a full report. It was thought, however, that by tonight all of the stock will be sold, thus insuring a professional baseball club in Lubbock this season.

A number of prominent business and professional men of Lubbock met last night and agreed to purchase almost half of the shares offered for sale and to divide themselves into committees to sell the remaining stock. It is necessary that about $3,000 be raised in order to insure the installation of lights in the park and in other ways to get the team started.

REMOVAL OF WOMAN MAGISTRATE IN GOTHAM ASKED; SAID TO BE UNJUST

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 29—Referee Samuel Seabury has recommended to the appellate division of the state supreme court removal of Magistrate Jean H. Norris, first of New York's two women magistrates. Presiding Justice Edward R. Finch has directed her to appear June 4 to answer the charges.

In findings published today Seabury urges that she be ousted because "of her severity, her unjudicial conduct and her callous disregard of the rights of defendants in the women's court."

The findings were based almost entirely on Magistrate Norris' own testimony in the hearings before Seabury.

The charges are: The magistrate "changed or attempted to change official records in an effort to eliminate from the record on appeal her remarks and rulings, raising questions of her own unfair and pnjudicial conduct."

She "acted in reference to the record on appeal in such a way as was calculated to prejudice the defendant upon her appeal."

She owned a small block of stock in a bonding company, whose bonds she accepted as surety in disregard of law.

She accepted $1,000 for a testimonial letter endorsing yeast for health and featuring her judicial career with a photograph of herself in judicial robes.

The report cites that 20 of 36 of her rulings have been reversed on appeal.

TEXAS TECH ALUMNI TO HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET, JUNE 8; ELECTION CARDED

Alumni members of Texas Technological college will attend their annual banquet Monday, June 8 at 7 o'clock in the Matador ballroom of the Hilton hotel, according to letters which are being mailed today from the president, J. W. Jackson and secretary, Miss Mamie Wolffarth.

Those who expect to be present are asked to send requests for reservations with one dollar to Miss Sylva Wilson at Texas Technological college by Saturday, June 6.

To Consider Amendments

Included in the business matters which will be taken up is the consideration of two amendments to the constitution; one dealing with the date for the annual banquet and the other concerning the changing of the alumni association into an Alumni and E-Student organization.

The nominations committee composed of Holmes Webb, Floyd Honey and Margaret Turner has nominated the following officers for next year: President, R. W. Matthews, Ethridge Eagan; vice-president, Buck Weaver, Sylva Wilson; literary secretary, Anna Belle Collins, Margaret Turner; corresponding secretary, Ruth McKee, Willie Mae Hawthorne; representative to the athletic council, C. W. Ratliff, Ameral Payne, J. W. Jackson. As usual, nominations may be offered from the floor.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, members of the Dean's council, Dr. W. A. Jackson and P. W. Cawthon are to be special guests at the banquet.

Lubbock Women Are Interested In Out-Of-Town Affairs During This Week

Parties In Ralls And Post Have Local Women As Visitors Thursday Afternoon

Women of Lubbock are enjoying an unusual number of out-of-town affairs during this week.

Thursday afternoon there were parties in Ralls and Post which women from this city attended and during the day a two-day women's missionary union institute was opened in Slaton. Several members of the First and Calvary Baptist churches here attended Thursday and returned for today.

Several Methodist women went to Hurlwood Thursday afternoon and sponsored the organization of a women's missionary society there.

Mrs. Reed Loflin and Mrs. J. H. Sowell of Ralls entertained during the afternoon hours with bridge in Mrs. Sowell's home. Among the guests were four Lubbock women, Mesdames R. L. Powers, M. E. Ware, E. L. Pitts and A. D. Brown. There were eight tables of bridge in play at the party.

Go To Post

Another out-of-town party that drew Lubbock women was one given in Post by Mesdames John Herd, D. C. Williams and Jim Power in the Herd residence. This was a nine-table party. Local women who were in attendance were Mesdames W. O. Stevens Morton J. Smith, M. L. Price, W. F. Schenck, A. B. Conley, George Herd, Glen Hess, Guy Hughes, L. E. Davis, Thomas West, F. R. Friend, J. B. Edwards, E. Murray Jones and Miss Delia Wilkinson.

Today's program will conclude the Baptist missionary meeting in Slaton. Mrs. Tom Campbell, one of the teachers in this school, returned today to continue with her classes. Rev. R. C. Campbell delivered an inspirational address this morning and J. D. Carroll had a special musical number on the program.

Mrs. Campbell is president of the First Baptist Women's Missionary society. Rev. Campbell is pastor of the church and J. D. Carroll is director of church activities.

Calvary Baptist women who are attending today's session are Mrs. O. E. Early, Mrs. C. L. Naul, Mrs. O. F. Riddlehoover and Misses Maude Waldrop, Fannie B. Bratcher and Marian Neal Early.

Included in the delegates from the two local churches Thursday were Mesdames George Duval, J. E. Alexander, D. J. Wilhelm, Tom Campbell, O. E. Early, L. F. Woods, C. L. Naul, J. E. Allen, C. D. Puckett, C. J. McCarty and Misses Pearl Jackson, Violet Bratcher and Marian Neal Early.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

CHILDREN AND GUNS

"DEAR DR. MYERS: Your articles on 'The Parent Problem', which appeared in the paper, I have read with interest and think they are both sane and scientific.

"I am not a parent myself, but a teacher, and get all the ill effects, at least. As I study the problem daily and almost hourly, I come again and again to the same conclusion, and that is that parents are not teaching their children to respect the life about them. The child is given a gun and is allowed to amuse himself as he will, and he goes out to plunder and destroy. He becomes biased in his thinking.

"The article which I enclose is one of many that have appeared in the paper this winter alone. For several years I have cut out such pieces and have hundreds of them.

"One summer, while attending a summer school, I talked with a professor in one of the big universities and asked him the difference between the boy who spent his holidays out hunting, shooting song birds and anything else that crossed his path, and the boy who had no such inclination. He said that the boy who wished to hunt was using his old brain, and the boy who had no such desire was the hope of the race. I was greatly impressed with his reply."

Here is part of the clipping she sent: "The bedroom of his father, ill from exposure and grief, was the scene Friday afternoon of funeral services for Lloyd James Prindle, victim of the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of his four-year-old brother, Orville."

We all know of so many terrible tragedies of this sort that we wonder why little children should be exposed to guns at all. If parents think they must have a gun in the house, let it always be kept in a place where young children cannot get at it and let the older children learn that it is one thing they absolutely must not handle unless and until they are trained in its proper use.

Where I grew up on the farm we had a gun in our house with which my father and older brothers hunted game and killed such pests as chicken hawks and which I learned, at about the age of 16, to use for similar purposes. At a younger age each of us children learned to avoid the gun, as we also learned to avoid certain other definite things, without question.

We have not had a gun in our home since we have had children, and BB guns which have destroyed a good many hundred children's eyes, are forbidden our children. I should not object to my older boy, now 17, having some training at marksmanship on a rifle range, but now since he has learned to enjoy the birds and other living creatures of the woods and fields he hardly would ever care to kill even wild game.

Thank you my fellow teacher.

I always am happy to hear from teachers as well as from parents. We teachers and parents are all working together to do our best for the happy, wholesome guidance of the child.

Feminine Togs Ready For Sports

BY JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

IF you are a real sport this year, you'll specialize in the most feminine types of dressmaking togs for the links, the tennis court, the beach. For it's the sporting thing to be feminine first, then astound your opponent by unexpected skill at the game you play.

You can be a colorful tennis player this year; you need not stick to traditional white. One of the prettiest dresses of the year is a tennis frock of trianon rose silk with a little cap to match. The frock has a gored skirt, with pleats at each gore for fullness, and an unusual blouse made of laced straps of the rose silk which end in bows on the shoulder. There is a snappy belt buckle of pearl and silver and two buttons on the cap repeat the combination.

BE lady-like, though lounging on the beach, if you crave chic. Tailored in knit dressmaker fashion a beach costume uses polka dotted brown and white flaring trousers, a cute little short brown flannel jacket, a hand-made white crepe blouse with square neckline and fine seaming, and a gypsy belt of brown and green that ties in vagabondish manner on one hip.

Brown sandals and a brown beret go with this skirt, or you can wear one of the sunshade beach hats in a rough green straw. If it is golf that you spend your leisure at, white's the last word for the links this year.

An unusually charming suit is all white jersey with quite a full skirt, short fitted jacket and double breasted little blouse of fishnet lace in silk and wool. It is cool, charming and keeps you looking like the smartest kind of golfer.

Mrs. Chester Hubbard, 1815 Avenue K, has sent some paintings to San Antonio where they will be in an exhibit May 30 to June 2 in a show that is fostered by the San Antonio Art League. Exhibit pictures were selected by a jury from among those submitted by various artists.

JUST IN TIME

HONOLULU—The little 28-ton schooner Coquet made port all right, but it just made it. When it limped into protection of the docks it seemed to heave a sigh of relief. For all but one bucket of fresh water was gone, and there was only a shovel of coal left in its bunkers. The ship had spent 83 days in making a trip from Hongkong, and its battered state was proof of the rough seas it encountered.

Swimming Party Is Attended By Class

Swimming and games were enjoyed Thursday when the Pollyanna class of First Baptist church attended a picnic at Tumble N pool accompanied by the class teacher, Miss Helen Jackson, and by Hollis Carroll.

Those who were in the party were Adele Sneed, L. G. Tatom, Winona Pardue, Bud Stokes, Vera McCoy, U. Blake, Golda Fortenberry, Dub Napes, Billy Margaret Elkins, Clifford Alls, Verna Mae Cloninger, Laverne Manire, Aline Knight, Roscoe Bayless, Dowena Scott, Hammond Austin, Theresa Lokey and Alfred Holman.

TEMPERS ACTUALLY HOT

HARTFORD, Conn.—Those persons with "hot tempers actually create heat by their rising emotions, Dr. H. E. Himwich and J. F. Fulton, of Yale, contend. In experiments with cats and dogs they found that rage and fear burned up fuel in the form of fat in the animals, actually creating a "hot temper."

Sterling Requests Forts Continuance

AUSTIN, May 29 (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling has wired Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war, urging that the war department in its retrenchment program not abandon Forts Ringgold and D. A. Russell.

"If such action is contemplated I hope you will reconsider for the reason the people of the Big Bend section along the Rio Grande fear abandonment of these posts would open that region to a reign of border banditry," Governor Sterling said.

All broadcasting stations in Switzerland are to merge.

Last Program For Women Is Heard

The last program meeting of Iu Beta Delphian chapter for this year was conducted Thursday afternoon at the Hilton hotel with Mrs. R. J. Murray leading the lesson on Russian art. Mrs. J. P. Steele was elected secretary in place of Mrs. L. B. Rice who resigned to move to Lamesa.

Assisting Mrs. Murray were Mesdames Fred W. Standefer, J. E. Hamilton, Robert Bean and A. T. Biggers, the latter giving a resume of the previous program.

Those present at the meeting were Mesdames D. K. Bondurant, Bean, George Smallwood, Standefer, J. H. Hankins, J. S. Johnson, J. W. Gamel, J. E. Hamilton, J. D. Hassell, jr., Steele, Biggers, Guy Johnston, W. P. Jennings, H. F. Godeke, R. A. Mills, Murray, Calvin Henson and Miss Louise Jennings.

Party Is Courtesy To Recent Arrival

Mrs. J. O. Ford, 1921 Avenue N, entertained Thursday afternoon with a party for her mother-in-law, Mrs. E. B. Ford, who has come here recently from Gainesville to live with her son, Vernice, at 1819 27th street.

Old-fashioned games and reminiscences filled the afternoon and the honoree was presented with a bouquet of flowers. Guests registered in a book which was presented to her, also.

An ice course was passed to Mesdames T. L. Sansom, J. Watson Smith, S. Henry, J. A. Hood, W. T. Hester, A. L. McClendon, E. Burdett, C. I. Aldrich, W. H. Atwood, L. D. Moss, G. Hank, Kelly Clifton and F. A. Kleinschmidt.

Mrs. Ford was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Clifton and Kleinschmidt.

BLEND ALONE WILL NOT INSURE PERFECT FLAVOR IN COFFEE

If the Blended Coffees Are Not Roasted Evenly, Flavor Varies

In the origination and perfection of Controlled Roasting, Hills Bros. accomplished something that no other coffee roaster has yet achieved. By this patented process, the degree of roast is positively controlled. The result is that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform.

The reason for the success of Controlled Roasting is that this process roasts a few pounds at a time instead of in bulk. By a continuous process these small amounts of coffee flow through the roasters in a steady stream, roasting a little at a time. Automatic control of both the flow and the heat absolutely prevents variation in the roast.

Bold as the claim may seem, no other coffee has the flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee. Wherever Hills Bros. Coffee is introduced it quickly becomes the preferred brand.

Hills Bros. Coffee never "goes stale," because it is packed in vacuum. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade mark—on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

CAPITALIST IS CHURCH HEAD

CHARLOTTE BANKER IS ELECTED MODERATOR OF PRESBYTERIANS

(By The Associated Press)

MONTREAT, NC., May 29—Breaking a precedent of 16 years, the Presbyterian church in the United States, with membership in 17 southern states, has elected R. A. Dunn, Charlotte banker and capitalist, moderator.

Mr. Dunn, who won over five other nominees, all ministers, is the first layman to be elevated to the highest office in the gift of the church since 1914, and fifth since its organization in 1861.

President Of Bank

The new moderator, who succeeds the Rev. Thomas W. Currie, of Austin, Texas, is president of the Commercial National bank at Charlotte, a member of the board of directors of the Richmond federal reserve bank and president of a wholesale drug company. He is an elder in the First Presbyterian church of Charlotte, and for 35 years has been a trustee of Davidson college.

The 71st general assembly of the denomination was opened Thursday morning.

The report of Dr. J. D. Leslie of Dallas, Texas, stated clerk, last night revealed that contributions to causes of the church during the past fiscal year decreased $1,334,728 from the previous year although there was an increase of 4,409 in the church's membership.

DR. MUDGE NAMED GENERAL MODERATOR

PITTSBURGH, May 29. (AP)—A virtual contest between working pastors of the Presbyterian church of the U. S. A., on the one hand, and church officialdom on the other, ended Thursday night with election of the Rev. Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, Philadelphia, as moderator of the church general assembly over Dr. David DeForest Burrell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Williamsport, Pa.

Dr. Mudge, stated clerk of the church, was given 518 of the 898 votes cast, while Dr. Burrell received 379.

Violation Of 8-Hour Labor Law Charged

FREDERICK, Okla., May 29. (AP)—Six separate charges of violation of the Oklahoma eight-hour day labor law were on file here today against contractors who are building State Highway No. 14 in Tillman county.

Those charged are J. S. Wade, J. T. Wade, Kadane Construction company, G. D. Kadane, R. E. Tomlinson, Joe Curtis, I. E. Curtis and E. J. Boase, all of Frederick.

Stubborn Ills Are Conquered

Konjola, All of Its 29 Ingredients Working Together, Wins New Victories

After all sufferers take medicine for just one thing—to get relief—said Konjola does give relief from ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and from rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Mrs. Harry E. Barker

Consider as a typical case of this remarkable medicine at work the experience of Mrs. Harry E. Barker, 4123 Victor street, Dallas. Read her words of gratitude and praise. "For more than six years I had stomach trouble and gas after every meal made it almost impossible to breathe. I had severe headaches and was very nervous. But since taking Konjola I eat anything I want. Headaches are gone and I sleep soundly."

Mr. Frank Norman

And think over the statement of Mr. Frank Norman, 828 Mississippi street, Amarillo: "My appetite was very poor, gas formed; I was very nervous and losing weight. I did not rest well, and was always tired out. To my surprise, improvement started at once with Konjola. Konjola is what I should have had years ago."

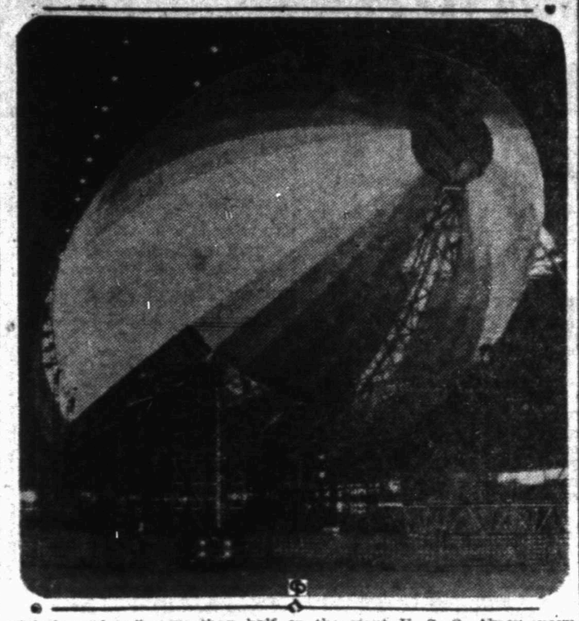

Mrs. Flora Stanley

No wonder Mrs. Flora Stanley, 315 N. McMasters street, Amarillo, is enthusiastic over this medicine. She declares: "For five years I was in miserable health, the result of stomach, liver, and kidney disorders. My back ached terribly, and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. My husband got me to try Konjola, and as a result I am on the road to better health."

Konjola, actually 29 medicines in one, goes to the very source of the ills Konjola is designed to relieve. Buy Konjola in any drug store, and do not accept a substitute.

Navy's New Airship Gets Dressed

With her "dress" more than half on the giant U. S. S. Akron, navy dirigible being constructed at Akron, O., is beginning to look like an airship. As fast as the outer covering is laced into position five coats of dope are applied. The first coat, brushed on by hand, is to shrink the fabric, the next two close up the pores and make it watertight, the last two contain aluminum pigment which gives the ship its silver cover and reflects rather than absorbs light.

COWS GET WILD

They Start Running Around With Buffaloes

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 29 (AP)—The tendency of her milk cows to fraternize with a herd of buffalo worried Miss Rika Wallen, owner of the roadhouse at McCarthy, 90 miles south of here, for several days.

Miss Wallen went out to milk the other morning but the cows were gone. She drove out to search for them. In the midst of a herd of buffalo, released near McCarthy three years ago, Miss Wallen saw her missing animals, but she didn't dare go in after them.

So she stood and called until the cows came, reluctantly departing from their wild cousins. The next day she was forced to repeat the performance. Then she put up a fence.

GRANT DISCONTINUANCE

UNEMPLOYMENT IS STILL UNRELIEVED

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — A warning that less than normal spring employment gains indicate worse suffering next winter than last unless the problem is facing immediately was issued today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Green suggested empoyers guarantee continued work to as many of their empoyes as possible "without taking undue risk."

He also proposed maintenance of wage levels; equitable distribution by industry of all available work among employes on a pro rata basis.

McNamee To Report Auto Classic

Indianapolis Speedway—McNamee at the "mike." Billy Arnold and mid-field.

GRAHAM McNAMEE, radio's ace reporter of sporting events, has again been chosen as the nation's eye-witness for the 500-mile auto race classic at Indianapolis on May 30. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company will sponsor the last and most exciting hour of the race. Perched high in the glass-enclosed pergola near the finish line, McNamee will describe the shouting thousands in the stands, the milling hordes afoot inside the track, and the gruelling tussle of 40 of the world's most famous racers in their grim race with death. McNamee says the Indianapolis races surpass all sporting events for excitement. He will take the air at 2:15 p. m. Central Standard time and will tell his story over a network of 55 stations in the United States and Canada, including WEAF and the NBC red chain. Four former winners are entered. A win is worth about $50,000. It is said that all former records will be broken. (Broadcasting Time: 3:15 Eastern, 2:15 Central, 1:15 Mountain, 12:15 Coast, Daylight Saving one hour earlier.)

LAMESA NINE TO MEET HUBBERS HERE SUNDAY

Collier Parris

SPYING ON SPORTS

We have a telegram from W. H. "Jew" Keeling, assistant coach at Lubbock High last year and head basketball coach here, in which he states he has accepted a head coaching job at Kerrville in a junior high school. "Nice layout," the message says," and have an assistant coach to help."

Keeling resigned his position at Lubbock High because he wanted a head coaching job. He tried a number of Class A schools over the state and some larger Class B schools, but they all seemed satisfied with their present lineup of mentors. He was offered the head coach position at Weatherford Junior college but after investigation he decided against it. He landed his head coach job, allright, even if it is in a junior high school, and that institution has a man who knows his football and basketball vegetables. He is still the all-time all-Texas Conference quarterback.

In this day of daylight saving time and nocturnal athletic events it is a town behind the times which does not possess an artificially lighted athletic field of some kind. Baseball fields were first lighted, perhaps as an experiment, but particularly as a desperate gesture on the part of drowning baseball leagues and teams. Then they began to illuminate football stadii, many of the junior colleges, high schools and even a number of senior colleges and universities, for night gridiron battles. In each case the movement proved successful and the idea spread over the country like denunciations of the Carnegie Foundation report.

And now they're talking of lighting golf courses. It has already been tried, in some instances, and while little has been said either for or against it, they are still flourishing. Dr. Charles Strub, president of the San Francisco baseball club, predicts the day when golf courses will be architecturally planned and built so that lights may be installed for night play as well as daytime trials.

The report and statement of Dr. Strub is announced by O. B. Keeler, golf writer for the Associated Press. Keeler, who is perhaps one of the leading authorities on golf in the country or anywhere else, fails to express an opinion on the subject, though he says Dr. Strub's prophecy is interesting. "In my opinion," said Doc Strub, "the adequate illumination of a golf course is a simpler problem than that of a ball park. It will be even more easy if the course is laid out with night-play in mind, parallel fairways and such matters. The lighting will not need to be nearly so concentrated as in a game of swift action like baseball."

The Doc rather more than hinted that San Francisco is on the verge of trying it out on a full sized course within a year. "The towers can be placed to provide illumination for two or even three fairways from a single station," he said. "And the same tower that lights one green can illuminate the next tee. It's a cinch for the golf architect. And it's coming—mark my prediction."

The Bob o' Links, a municipal course at Dallas, was equipped with floodlights on three or four holes recently and players who have tried it say they can see the golf ball as well at night as a night baseball game. And anybody who has seen a night baseball game knows that there is no difficulty in following detailed play. We do not know whether the Dallas course was finally lighted in its nine-hole entirety or not, but possibilities for night time golf exist and it would not be surprising if a number of courses in this section were lighted sometime in the near future.

As long as we could see in which direction the ball traveled, some of us duffers, like Ross McWhorter, Don Mitchell and Bill McMillan, wouldn't object to playing in the dark anyway. We'd look better at any rate.

DO YOU REMEMBER?—ONE year ago today—Jimmy Johnston, U. S. Amateur golf champion, could do no better than a halve on the 18th green and he lost the match in the British Amateur championships, one down, to Bobby Jones. FIVE years ago today—Phil Northrup, star all-around athlete, led the University of Michigan to victory in the Big Ten track and field championships, scoring 12 1-2 points and setting a conference record of 207 feet 7 3-5 inches in the javelin throw. TEN years ago today—Reb Russell, the old White Sox pitcher now playing in the outfield for Minneapolis in the American Association, looks like the Babe Ruth of that circuit. The big southpaw hit four homers this week to take the lead with a total of nine circuit smashes.

SOUTHPAWS LEADING LOOPS

RIVALS OF OLD STANDING TO FACE LOCALS

LUBBOCK TEAM TO BE AFTER WIN FROM DAWSON CREW

Not the least perturbed over the fact that a professional baseball club may rise here to supplant them as the representative team, the Lubbock Hubbers continue to match games and attract larger crowds at every game For Sunday they are booked to meet their traditional rivals, the Lamesa Loboes, at Merrill Park here

It will be the fourth contest of the season between Lamesa and Lubbock, the third game at home for the Hubbers with the Loboes. In it the locals will attempt to even the score and increase their string of victories to four for the season, two of them against Lamesa. The Dawson County nine split the opening series of two games here more than two weeks ago and thrashed the Hubbers when the latter invaded the Lamesa precincts.

Rivalry Adds Interes.

While the individuals composing the lineups for Lamesa and Lubbock this year vary considerably from those of former years, the old rivalry in name and location continues to lend enthusiasm and special interest to a Lubbock-Lamesa ball game. Under new management and with many of the old players on both sides long since departed, the clubs have not been decreased in winning ability.

Previous announcements that the teams would play a double header here Sunday have been altered and the local management, consisting of Joe Chism, "Dirty" Waller and Paul Carter, states that only one game will be played.

Ragsdale Still Managing

The Lamesa club is managed by Gus Ragsdale, who plays center field and does a good job of it. The team is strong at the bat and in Lefty Rose, who is expected to pitch here Sunday the club has one of the best hurlers of the South Plains.

Lubbock's lineup probably will consist of Morgan at first, Hodges or Breedlove at second, Gaither at third, France at short and Marshall, Hambright and Brothers in the outfield. Pressley who opened the season for Lubbock and allowed Lamesa five hits in the first game, may be called on to hurl for the locals again Sunday. "Big" Galey will be behind the bat for the Hubbers until the Panhandle League is organized, at which time he is expected to sgin a contract with the Clovis management.

COLORS PLAY UTILITIES

CITY LEAGUE LEADERS TO BATTLE STRONG SECOND POST NINE

The Texas Utilities and Rainbow baseball clubs will meet in a City League contest this afternoon at Merrill Park, the game to start at 6 o'clock. The Utilities team, managed by A. D. Chase, leads the loop at present, having won two straight games against no defeats. M. D. Newton's Rainbows are in a tie with the Legion-Lions and Avalanche-Journal teams with two won and one lost for second place.

In yesterday's games, the Avalanche-Journal team increased its string of straight victories to two, defeating the Lubbock Advertisers a new club which replaced the Santa Fe team in the City League, 8 to 4. The game was played at Merrill Park. O. B. Conley's Legion-Lions defeated the Wholesalers, 14 to 6, in the other league contest yesterday.

The City League is sponsoring a dance tonight at the Uptown Dance palace, the proceeds to go toward financing the league.

The standings:

Team—	W	L	Pct.
Texas U	2	0	1000
Rainbow	2	1	.667
Legion-Lions	2	1	.667
Avalanche-Journal	2	1	.667
Wholesalers	0	3	.000

Fine For Expulsion Not Being Levied

WICHIA FALLS, May 29. (AP)—The automatic fine of $5 that for years has accompanied the expulsion of players from Texas league baseball games is no more, according to President J. Alvin Gardner. The Texas league president in the first six weeks of the championship race has not levied a fine against a player, though several have been removed from games by his staff of arbiters.

"First offenders are being reprimanded by letter from the president's office," Gardner says, "and except in extreme cases players and managers will be given a second chance. However, one warning is the limit and those who cannot take the hint will be dealt with more severely."

CHAMPION ATHLETE

Roland Young (above), 13-year-old Chicago boy, won first place out of a field of 22,800 contestants in the tenth annual indoor athletic competition conducted under the auspices of the Boys' Club Federation of America. He thus becomes the champion boy athlete in the United States. Roland is five feet, two inches tall and weighs 80 pounds.

CATS INCREASE LEAD AS BEAUMONT GOES DOWN AT SANTONE

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The charge of the Beaumont Exporters up the Texas league pennant ladder, which within two weeks carried them to one and one-half games of first place, was stopped Thursday night at San Antonio where Jack Heath's double with Orr on base in the fourth inning gave the Indians a 3 to 2 decision. The Exporters' last charge was a two run spurt in the seventh which wasn't enough

Taking advantage of Beaumont's defeat to increase their flag lead, Fort Worth paced up and down Shreveport's back fence for a 15 to 5 verdict. Larry Cox, right fielder, had three doubles which drove in two runs in addition to scoring three times himself. Oscar Tuero, one of the few moist ball chunkers in organized baseball, needed more than a spitter for the Cats got to him for seven runs and seven hits in the third inning.

Dizzy Gets Shut Out

Galveston returned to its old habit by letting Jerome "Dizzy" Dean and his Houston Buffaloes win, 3 to 0. The Buccaneers have lost eleven out of their last twelve games. Dean was the young master again in chalking up his sixth win this season.

Grady Adkins, the Arkansas butcher and Dallas pitcher, did not do so well at Wichita Falls where the Spudders beat him, 4 to 1. It made two out of three for the Spudders. Where Adkins allowed nine hits and four runs, Fiorrid, on the Spudder mound, limited the Steers to eight hits and a run in the third inning

McKechnie Places Big Value On Ed

NEW YORK, May 29. (AP)—A surgeon's knife probing into the antra in big Ed Brandt's cheek bones, cured a chronic sinus condition last winter and made a $100,000 pitcher out of the Boston Braves crack southpaw.

That valuation on Brandt's services is set by Bill McKechnie, crafty pilot who has lifted the Braves in a couple of seasons from the foot of the National league to a position of respect in the eyes of all pennant contenders.

"I could trade the big lefty for a pretty good ball club," says Bill. "But what I need is more like him, not less."

BRANDT WINS HIS 8TH STRAIGHT; GROVE'S HURLING SUPERB

BY HUGH S FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

According to the records compiled so far, it is very much of a southpaws' year in big league pitching.

The left handers usually are considered a wild lot, sometimes very good but more often very bad. But this season about a half dozen pitchers who deliver from the portside are right up among the leaders in the mound department and three of them hold a complete monopoly on the top positions in the standings.

Brandt Wins 8

Ed Brandt of the Boston Braves has won eight games in a row, taking a hard earned decision from the New York Giants yesterday 7 to 6 to keep his record clear of defeat. In winning he got the better of three right handers. Fred Fitzsimmons, one of the better right handers who suffered his third straight defeat, Pete Donohue and Bill Morrell.

In the American league, left handed Robert Moses Grove of Philadelphia pitched the last two innings against the New York Yankees yesterday and scored the ninth inning run that gave the A's a 5-4 victory. Getting credit for the win, Grove gained a tie for the league pitching lead with his equally left handed teammate, George Walberg whom he relieved with the score tied.

The result of Brandt's victory yesterday moved the Braves back into third place ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who dropped a 3-1 decision to Cincinnati but left the first two places unchanged as Pittsburgh won a seven inning slugging duel from St. Louis 11 to 8.

Washington now second in the American league, improved its margin over the Yankees by beating out Boston 4 to 3 as Crowder and Hadley limited the Red Sox to six hits. Cleveland extended its newly found winning streak to five games and carried the St. Louis Browns' row of defeats through the same number of contests by gaining a 5 to 4 decision.

Ted Lyons Wins

Ted Lyons of Chicago had the edge in a mound duel with Vic Sorrell to give the White Sox their third straight victory over Detroit, 3 to 2.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia in the National league had their second off day.

Raw silk shipped from Japan to the United States in a recent month weighed nearly 4,000,000.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

ED PHILLIPS, Pirates—Clouted home run and triple, each with bases filled, to drive in seven runs against Cardinals. BOB GROVE, Athletics—Went in as relief pitcher, held Yankees to one hit in two innings and scored winning run after doubling in ninth; SILAS JOHNSON Reds—held Cubs to five hits and beat them, 3-1; EARL AVERILL, Indians—His double and home run aided in defeat of Browns; BUMPS HADLEY Senators—Pitched three hitless innings as relief hurler to stop Red Sox.

Americans Win Davis Cup

WASHINGTON, May — Triumphant as individuals ... the two singles matches of yesterday's Davis cup play against Argentina, Frank X. Shields, and Sidney B. Wood, jr., of New York, set out after a third and deciding victory today as a doubles combination.

Barring last minute changes, the youthful New Yorkers stood opposed by Adriano Zappa and Lucilo Castillo, the two youngest members of the Argentine team. If successful, the two remaining singles matches tomorrow will be mere formalities.

What had been forecast as a steep hurdle for United States Davis cup hopes was quickly leveled yesterday by the smashing racquets of the American pair. Wood played one of the finest matches of his career to swamp the giant Argentine ranking number one player, Ronaldo Boyd, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

Shields, in the opening match, ran into early trouble through his own seal, but then put on a brilliant burst to overcome Guillermo Robson, of Buenos Aires, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

CARNERA TO MEET BIG IRISHMAN IN 10-ROUND BOUT IN BROOKLYN, JUNE 10

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 29.—Primo Carnera has been matched to meet Pat Redmond, Big Irishman, in a ten-round bout at Ebbets Field, June 10 under the promotorial auspices of Jimmy Johnston.

The bout will take the place of the Carnera-Jack Sharkey battle scheduled for the same date and called off when a federal court injunction barred Carnera from meeting Sharkey or any other "leading heavyweight contender."

Redmond has fought only six-round bouts in the smaller fight clubs in the east. He is almost as big as Carnera, standing six feet four inches in height and tipping the beam at a weight that approximates the Italian giant's.

It was understood that the Madison Square Garden corporation of Illinois, which obtained the injunction against Carnera, would offer no objections to his meeting Redmond.

MISS COLLET IS TO WED E. H. VARE

SON OF LATE SENATOR AND GOLF STAR TO MARRY SOON

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 29.—Miss Glenna Collett, five times women's national golf champion, is to marry Edwin H. Vare, jr., of Philadelphia. Announcement is made by her mother, Mrs. George H. Collett of Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. Vare is the son of Mrs. Edwin H. Vare and the late state Senator Vare of Philadelphia. He is a nephew of William S. Vare, Republican leader of Philadelphia. He is a golfer, but his fiancee can beat him.

Played First At Age Of 12

Miss Collett, played golf first when 12 years old. Her father, George Collett, one time amateur bicycle champion of the world, was her teacher. He died 3 years ago.

She won the golf title in 1922, when 19 years old, and repeated in '25, '28, '29 and '30—setting a record for the event. Trying to win the British championship she has been beaten twice by Miss Joyce Wethered. Her conquests include a dozen or more sectional championships.

Mr. Vare is a construction engineer and is a graduate of the university of Pennsylvania.

Spudders Acquire Hurler From Brewers

WICHITA FALLS, May 29 (AP)—Edson Wilkins right-handed pitcher with Waterloo of the Mississippi Valley league last season, has been acquired by the Wichita Falls club from the Milwaukee Brewers, it was announced today by President William E Huff. Wilkins won 15 games and lost 11 with the fifth place Waterloo team last season.

Indianapolis Is Ready For Race

FIELD IS FASTEST TO START IN HISTORIC SPEED CLASSIC

(By Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29—While the two and a half miles of bricks at the Indianapolis motor speedway were washed clean of oil and grease today in preparation for the annual 500-mile automobile race tomorrow, the city broke out in its annual pre-race atmosphere.

Visitors from many states thronged the downtown district and an ever-lengthening line of automobiles formed before the speedway gates waiting for a chance at "pole position" in the infield parking spaces. The first car in line had waited ten days.

Field Fastest To Start

Attracted by the fastest field of race cars ever to start here, a large crowd appeared certain to view the speed classic. Thirty-eight of the forty starters covered the ten-mile qualifying distance at an average of more than 100 miles per hour.

The track was closed late yesterday after several drivers had taken brief practice spins. Most of them held their mounts to sufficient speed to test carburetion, shock absorber and spring adjustment and spark plugs, but William (Shorty) Cantlon of Detroit, whose sixteen-cylinder car is declared to be the fastest in the race breezed several laps at 118 miles an hour.

Cantlon with Billy Arnold of Chicago, last year's winner; Francis Quinn west coast sensation, and several other hard drivers, are placed far back in the starting lineup of ten rows of four cars each, and predictions were made that thrills would be produced early in the race when these men try to forge ahead in search of lap prize money.

"Lefty" Browning Tried By Exporters

BEAUMONT, May 29 (AP)—Milton "Lefty" Browning pitcher, reported here today for a five-day tryout with the Exporters. Browning was a Texas university southpaw in 1927, 1928 and 1929 and last year won 13 and lost 9 for Fort Smith in the Western association.

Three California Teams In Meet Again

PHILADELPHIA, May 29. (AP)—The mighty athletes of three California colleges once again added prestige and color to the annual track and field championship meet of the Intercollegiate association of Amateur Athletes of America today on Franklin Field.

Trials in eleven events were set for noon with all finals tomorrow.

From 37 colleges 670 athletes were entered. The three far west entrants are the universities of Southern California, California and Stanford. Southern California is the defending champion.

Kuykendall Reports On Kiwanis Session

G. P. Kuykendall reported the Kiwanis International convention which he attended in Miami, Fla., at weekly luncheon of Lubbock Kiwanians Thursday at the Lubbock hotel.

Vice-president of the local club, Kuykendall was its official delegate to the convention the second week of this month.

Committee reports were heard preceding the talk, and a sing song was led by J. D. Carroll.

Dr. Jack M. Lewis, president, was in the chair during the luncheon and the program was in charge of Dr. O. W. English.

AREA PARKING RULE LIFTED

STREETS TO EAST OF TEXAS NOT AFFECTED BY 2-HOUR RULE

Responding to a petition signed by officials of sixty business establishments, the City commission Thursday decided to remove two-hour parking restrictions from the business district east of Texas avenue and around the courthouse square.

While the zone affected by the new order was not definitely defined, it probably will include all streets east of Texas avenue. Acting City Manager W. H. Rodgers was instructed to determine where unlimited time parking was desired.

Announce Contents

The petition in part follows:

"Inacmuch as this part of the city has been more or less ignored by those responsible for public parades, such as occurred here last week during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, and since this part has been referred to, so we understand, by one of those responsible, as 'there isn't any business east of Texas, or around the square' we feel as if being 'in the country' we should not be required to further abide by any city ordinance requiring two-hour parking limits, or any other limitations."

An order authorizing the 1931 tax equalization board was passed yesterday upon its first reading. It will be brought up for final passage at the next meeting of the commission. Frank Maddox, J. C. Royalty and W. G. McMillan were named as members of the new board.

Jons Sign company was awarded the contract for painting signs at the new municipal airport.

BOYS PAROLED TO PARENTS BY JUDGE

Four boys who had pleaded guilty to criminal charges in juvenile court yesterday were paroled to their parents by County Judge E. L. Pitts.

Two 16-year-old Idalou boys, J. L. Yarborough, jr., and Robert Blakley, were paroled to their parents after a four years' sentence in the state training school for boys had been assessed against them. They were charged with having stolen from an Idalou home.

Two Lubbock boys were turned over to their parents by Judge Pitts after indefinite sentences had been imposed against them. The boys pleaded guilty to stealing cigarets Wednesday from an automobile parked near the county courthouse.

New Y. M. C. Board Named At College

Announcement was made today of the names of six new members to the Texas Technological college Y. M. C. A. board of management. This group will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Dr. Paul W. Horn's office to elect new officers and hear the annual report of the secretary, Jack Boyd.

Dr. C. J. Wagner is chairman of the board, Dr. J. K. Thompson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Ft. Worth, is member at large, Fred W. Sparks and C. S. Mast, Tech professors, are active members and R. W. Matthews and Warren Huff are representatives from the college alumni. Mr. Matthews is principal of Lubbock High school and Mr. Huff former president of the Tech Y. M. C. A., is at present studying at Harvard university.

OPPOSITION TO SESSION MADE

INDEPENDENT OIL MEN VOICE PROTEST ON SPECIAL SESSION

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 29—A letter voicing opposition to a special session of the legislature for passing oil legislation was sent today to Governor Sterling by Claude C. Wild, executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas.

The majority of independent operators in Texas are not clamoring for legislation Wild claimed in the letter. A few "have been encouraged to take the lead in asking for so called emergency legislation," but the major interests always "must speak to the legislature through independents," Wild stated.

Letter Is Given

The letter to the governor in part follows:

"We have noticed with interest the different requests to you from certain individuals, chambers of commerce and others to call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of passing oil legislation.

"These resolutions of course have been prompted and inspired from a common source. They are all based on a belief that prosperity can be created by legislation. The peculiar angle to the situation, however, is that this same group spent most of the regular session trying to convince the legislature that it should above all things leave the oil business alone.

Cuts Were Predicted

"The great barrage of propaganda during the last few days, and the price cuts announced were predicted during the last days of the regular session in trying to pass the Howsley bill. We were told then and the members of the legislature were told that those wanting that bill passed would make conditions so bad that even the opponents of it would come on their knees pleading for its passage.

"We want at this juncture to call your attention to the fact that the majority of the independents are not clamoring for legislation. The directors of this association, the only one in Texas purporting to represent the entire state, voted against the Howsley bill by two to one. We think they fairly represent a cross section of independent thought in Texas.

"The real cry for the special session is from those interests which are alarmed at the success of the small refiners, at the amount of independent pipe line building, at the amount of oil being transported by rail and boat to competing refiners in the east and elsewhere. These interests have had the whip hand, and, now that it is difficult to control, they are willing to use the state government to help them eliminate their competitors.

U. S. To Have Biggest Air Yacht

The largest amphibian plane in the world, built to accommodate 46 passengers and fly 129 miles an hour, is nearing completion at Stratford, Conn. At right is a view of the fuselage of the giant air yacht, and at left, Ivor Sikorsky, its designer, is shown standing inside the partly finished cabin. Powered by four motors and with a wingspread of 114 feet, the craft will be given test flights in July before being put in service by the Pan-American Airways.

An Invitation to convince yourself . . .

Try Imperial once. Try it in comparison with the sugar you have used. Then decide for yourself. You will find Imperial cleaner, whiter, sweeter. For these are evidences of better refining and better sugar. Most women are already convinced. Convince yourself by using Imperial in this recipe.

Apple Crisps

8 apples, sliced (about 1 quart)	1 c. sugar
⅓ c. water	⅔ c. flour
1 t. cinnamon	¼ t. salt
	7 T. butter

Slice the apples in a greased casserole, add water and cinnamon. Using the finger tips mix the sugar, flour, salt and butter to crumbs. Sprinkle these crumbs over the apples and bake uncovered in a moderate oven about 30 minutes or until top is delicately browned. Serve with cream.

IMPERIAL SUGAR

Used by more food manufacturers and by more housewives than any other brand in Texas.

SHOULDERS AND LIMBS ACHED

Poisons Absorbed In Cases of Constipation Sometimes Cause of Pains.

When aches and pains are due to poisons being absorbed into the system because of faulty elimination, the use of Thedford's Black-Draught often proves of valuable assistance.

Mrs. Lillie James, of Columbia, Ky., describes a disagreeable condition which she suffered several years ago.

"I had an aching in my shoulders and limbs," she says. "Sometimes I would have a queer ache in my head. I began to take Thedford's Black-Draught for this trouble, and found it helped me very much. I felt so much better after I had taken a course of it.

"Black-Draught is very good to take for constipation and biliousness. I also think it is good for indigestion and gas on the stomach. Sometimes I make a tea of it and take it in that way. I have given it, in a tea, to my children (as a laxative) for bad colds, and find it very helpful.

"I can recommend Black-Draught as a good medicine, for after several years of using it I have always found it reliable." G2-A22

Old Shoes Fit Boys Perfectly; Robbery Solved

CHICAGO May 29 (AP)—There were eight reasons, all old, why the police arrested four boys yesterday.

When officers Louis Glom and Edward Pelch were called to investigate the robbery of a shoe store they found on the counter eight old shoes. Eight new pairs and what money there was in the cash register, was gone.

Under a porch they found four boys. All denied the robbery. "We'll see," said officer Glom. "Try on these old shoes." The fit was perfect.

Vacuum Reduces Its Oil Price Schedule

HOUSTON, May 29 (AP) — The Vacuum Oil company today posted price reductions of Lockport, (Lake Charles) Louisiana costal crude oil ranging from 5 to 26 cents per barrel.

Grade A was reduced 10 cents a barrel, the graduated gravity scale for grade B was abolished and now includes all crudes which do not meet the test for grade A.

The cut on grade B ran from five to 26 cents a barrel. Heretofore grade B was posted at sixty cents for below 25 gravity; 61 cents for 25 to 25.9 gravity, with a two-cent advance differential for each degree of gravity up to 35 gravity which carried a top price of 81 cents.

Thought For Today

Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother.—Zechariah 7:9.

* * *

We do pray for mercy; and that same prayer doth teach us all to render the deeds of mercy.—Shakespeare.

Cities

The growth of the city has been one of the most significant events in recent American history. The nation's swing from a rural to an urban civilization has had a profound influence on economics, social customs, politics and moral codes. Yet the rise of the city has never been given half the study it should have had. We have simply taken the change for granted.

Professor W Russell Tylor, of the department of sociology of the University of Illinois in a recent study of America's urbanization points out that the growth of the cities depends chiefly on a feeding-in of surplus population from adjacent farm lands. If and when the birth rates in rural communities drop, the cities will stop growing.

His figures are instructive. In 1910, for example, he shows that the farm population of the United States reached its peak—32,000,000. Now the natural rate of population increase would add between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 to that total during a decade; by 1920, therefore, the farm population should have been approximately 40,000,000.

But it was not. Instead it had declined to a little more than 27,000,000. This not only meant that 4,500,000 fewer people were living on farms in 1920 than in 1910; it meant that altogether some 12,000,000 people had gone from the farms to the cities.

Professor Tylor points out that American cities no longer have a sufficient preponderance of births over deaths to make appreciable gains in population without outside aid. Immigration from abroad is no longer an important factor. Thus the average American city is about to stop growing if the exodus from the farm is discontinued—or if rural birth rate falls as it shows signs of doing.

This will bring to our urbanized civilization a new set of problems. Everything that every large American city has done in the last half century has been conditioned by the fact that each city has been constantly growing. Land values, wage scales, housing facilities, political currents—all have been profoundly afflicted by this factor.

Remove this factor, and you have an entirely new situation. We shall be facing this situation in the not-distant future. It will mark the beginning of a new era in our history.

No Juries

Gradually all liberal institutions, particularly those so taken for granted in the United States and Great Britain, are being totally eliminated from the daily life of Italy. The latest edict issued by Signor Rocco, minister of justice, has invented a new form of court. He says he does not want to rely entirely upon regular judges, because it is necessary that the sentence inflicted shall reflect the sentiments aroused by the crime in the public mind. Henceforth in such cases there will be a mixed bench, composed of seven judges.

Two of these will be regular magistrates. The other five will be "assessors." They will be selected from the body of the citizenry. Besides possessing the qualications of education and property, they must be of good moral and political behavior—which, of course, means they must be good Fascists.

From those citizens inscribed in the register as eligible to be "assessors," nine will be drawn by lot for every trial. The first five will actually serve as lay judges, the others being retained as substitutes, in case of need. Signor Rocco foresees that these citizens will be as willing, conscientious and useful as the former jurors proved unwilling, careless and harmful.

Stand on your own rights and you can't be told where to get off.

Some girls go out for track events; others run up charge accounts.

Modern measure: Two pints make one carport.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says people who jump at conclusions must expect to make some hard landings.

The Mary who once had a little lamb has grown up. Now she has a fat calf.

WHILE lawyers, court attaches and witnesses may not recognize it, the Spikes libel case, now being heard in 99th District court, is spinning a romance of a land that used to be and will never be again. Regardless of the merits of the case from the standpoint of either the plaintiff or defendant, there are many stories of the old West cropping out daily in the testimony—stories which read like chapters from a Zane Grey novel.

* * *

Striking is the change wrought in West Texas and New Mexico during the past quarter century. From the land of the open range and the six-gun, to a country of progressive cities, towns, farms and stock ranches, this territory has been transformed almost as rapidly and in as marked a manner as if some great magician had waved a fairy wand.

* * *

LISTENING to witnesses tell of the wars of the ranges, of the hardships to be conquered and of life as it was in the early part of the century, is as interesting as any bit of Western fiction ever written. And behind the changes time has made during the past 25 years is the promise of the changes yet to be made in the years to come.

Let us suppose, for sake of comparison, that the year 1960 finds Eastern New Mexico and West Texas as far advanced from today as today is from the time under discussion in the case now on trial!

Human imagination—at least that of The Plainsman—falters at the barrier. Yet suffice it is to say that should such a change come about, as it undoubtedly will, this country is in line for unprecedented progress, as man figures it.

HOWEVER, The Plainsman doubts seriously if life will be any better, any happier than it is today; doubts seriously that life today is any better and happier than it was in the days of the open range. There are more comforts now than there were then—there will be even more comforts in 1960. But life will be more complex, more trying—just as life today is a much more complicated matter than it was in this country in 1900.

* * *

Regardless of what he has or what he doesn't have, life is pretty much as the individual makes it. The happy negro on the levee at New Orleans may be happier than the president of the Chase National bank in New York City; the laborer in a Lubbock warehouse may be getting along better, according to his way of thinking, than the most prominent and powerful citizen is in his own standards of life.

In other words, there's a heap more to living than mere physical convenience. More to be desired is mental comfort and satisfaction.

That Man on Avenue Q says his son runs around a lot at college but he isn't on the track team.

Now that Mr. Einstein has discovered the theory of relativity maybe he can do something toward shortening the distance between pay days.

THE PLAINSMAN supposes that practically everybody on the South Plains is getting sick and tired of seeing something about the late lamented tour of Mexico but an old country boy sure can see and learn a lot by going somewhere once in awhile. For instance, the people of Mexico are more interested in Al Capone than in Herbert Hoover—or in any other American, for that matter.

Every chance The Plainsman got he talked to some of the citizens of Mexico—not to Englishmen and to Americans—but to dyed-in-the-wool Mexicans who could speak English.

And in no case did the conversation run very far before the name and fame of Al Capone was mentioned.

Although it is not generally known in this country, prohibition is gaining in favor with the Mexicans — particularly with some of the leaders. However, they do not favor the type of prohibition the United States is seeking, but instead, favor the throwing out of all 'hard likker' and leaving for consumption only the light wines and beers so popular in the country south of the Rio Grande.

* * *

As the temperence movement gains in Mexico, the people are more and more interested in the 'noble experiment' here. So it is not surprising that, when Capone mentioned the possibility of his moving to Mexico, folks got a wee bit excited.

* * *

ANTONIO HERNANDEZ, a highly educated man who is secretary of the Chihuahua Chamber of Commerce, told The Plainsman Capone was expected to establish himself on a 'ranch', somewhere on the west coast of Mexico.

Any kind of a 'ranch' that guy establishes will be well worth watching!

* * *

But the Mexicans actually have the idea that Capone is bigger than John D. Rockefeller, Andy Mellon and Cal Coolidge—all rolled into one—and they never seem to tire of hearing about the gangster.

If that's the idea in our neighboring country, wonder what the people of Europe think?

Economic Depression Places The High Old Protective Tariff In More Desperate Straits Than Ever Before

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 29—The old high protective tariff theory seems to be in more desperate straits than ever before and its enemies think they can knock it in the head before this depression is over.

Anyway, this is the best chance the free traders and advocates of moderate duties have had and now that American foreign trade has dropped off about 50 per cent they are intensifying the attempt to convince the country that the Hawley - Smoot tariff is responsible for a lot of its troubles.

Meanwhile comes Chile's startling suggestions of a Latin-American customs union, following previous proposals for a European customs union. Any such developments, arraying continent against continent, would be bound to have a large although unpredictable effect on the future of our tariff and those of other nations. One of the greatest factors in American industrial progress has been our vast domestic trading area free of tariff walls; smaller countries on other continents envy us that.

Democrats Cite Trade Drop

No one can now settle the argument as to the relative importance of the Hawley-Smoot act in America's economic troubles but everybody knows that tariffs are barriers to trade. The Democratic publicity bureau has persistently hammered in the charge that a Republican high tariff was very largely responsible for the big foreign trade drop. Republican politicians deny it and say the new tariff has been helpful if anything. Political exigencies demand that both groups of politicians say what they are saying.

Nevertheless it has to be pointed out in fairness that opponents of the Hawley-Smoot act predicted in advance that it would wreck foreign trade and that its friends recommended it as a measure to restore prosperity. A thousand economists joined in a warning against it and Congress merely sneered at 'professors.' Senator Jim Watson, Republican floor leader, predicted as the tariff bill passed that the country would be on the upgrade within 30 days and that we would soon regain the peak of prosperity. As prognosticators, the enemies of high tariffs have since had all the breaks.

Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee, a fiscal genius who can be depended on to speak as an economist rather than as a Democrat, was predicting six years ago that our high tariffs would 'reduce production, diminish trade, impoverish nations and promote economic wars.'

Introduced Income Tax

Hull has talked like that all along. When he came to Congress 25 years ago Joe Cannon put him on a couple of unimportant committees, but Hull turned deliberately to intensive study of revenue, finance and economics. He introduced the bill for the income and estate taxes, when everyone was convinced that income tax was dead because the supreme court had once called it unconstitutional. The taxation system devised by Hull, put through in the first Wilson administration, largely financed the war.

Allowing for the real value of the dollar, Hull says our foreign trade is now back at the 1913 level. He has held consistently that all that made it look big after the war, when handicapped by the Fordney-McCumber tariff, was the great automobile export trade and the fact that we were lending 15 billion dollars abroad which we were paid for with our own goods.

One-sixth of our automobiles and parts worth $580,000,000 were being exported, Hull says. The industry was one of the big railroad shippers. It took 18 per cent of the iron and steel, 60 per cent of the plate glass, 80 per cent of our manufactured rubber, most of the oil and gasoline and laid the foundation for our great highway systems by enabling states to lay gasoline taxes. It employed about four and a half million people directly and indirectly, and spent about six billion dollars a year.

Points to Foreign Reprisals

"You see what happened when other countries deliberately followed our example and our automobile and allied industries were stricken. The biggest thing to remember is that we could not afford to throw away our foreign markets—the 60 per cent of our raw cotton which we exported, the 25 per cent of our wheat, the 17 per cent of our automobiles and half a dozen big things like that. But we passed a law which has placed the average ad valorem up above 50 per cent."

Hull will try to persuade the Democratic party to take a concrete stand on the tariff. The party must oppose special privilege consistently, he says and the "citadel of special privilege" is the tariff regardless of how much we may hear about the "power trust."

"It should declare for a gradual, careful tariff revision downward to a level of moderate, competitive rates," he says, "with the aid of a fact-finding commission. It should also promise intersectional trade treaties so that we would have other countries get their rates down at the same time. Obviously, we must get the retaliatory rates of other countries scaled down as well as our own.

MALARIA

MALARIA once was a common summer and autumn disease in the United States. Its distribution extended as far north as the New England states and in the Middle Western states, where it is now almost unknown, was a serious detriment to their settlement by the early pioneers. In such great American medical classics as Daniel Drake's book on "Principal Diseases of the Interior Valley of North America," and Sappington on "Fevers," both published before 1850, the prevalence of malaria is everywhere evident, and the general practitioner carried more quinine and calomel in his saddlebags than anything else.

Dr. Clendening

Nowadays malaria is largely restricted to the gulf states and the southern states, and even there it is on the decline, so that a prominent authority says that if this continues there will be little malaria in the United States by 1935 or 1940.

It is strange for us to hear then that malaria is the world-wide "Captain of the men of death" as John Bunyan called tuberculosis and Osler called pneumonia. In tropical countries its ravages are still frightful and in certain tropical islands the entire human population has been destroyed.

A fruit company of Boston must feel that its prevention is of great commercial value to its industry, for it has issued an interesting little booklet on the subject well illustrated and describing clearly the fascinating story of the life history of the malarial parasite.

The whole history of the conquest of malaria is indeed fraught with romantic interest. It can be found told with superb skill in one of the most interesting books of our day, "Microbe Hunters" by Paul de Kruif. I particularly recommend the chapter which tells how the Italian physician Grassi proved that the mosquito conveys the germ from one individual to another.

The disappearance of malaria is a triumph for accurately planned preventive medicine. It could not have been accomplished until it was proved that malaria was conveyed by mosquitoes. To prevent being bitten by mosquitoes is to prevent having malaria. Of course, as is now well known, only certain kinds of mosquitoes carry the malarial germ—and only the female, at that. The female anopheles mosquito feeds usually between sunrise and sunset. Humans in malarial countries should be certain to be inside screened houses during these hours and sleep under mosquito bars.

Since mosquities breed and develop in water, any collection of open water that remains for a week is a potential breeding place for them. In malarial districts, then, all collections of rubbish, old bottles or tin cans should be destroyed or buried. The surface of pools should have a film of crude oil spread over their surfaces. This destroys the mosquito in its early stages and naturally keeps her from spreading the disease.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

L. M. H.: "What diet do you suggest for mucous colitis?"

Answer: No single diet can be prescribed for mucous colitis as individual cases vary. During the state of activity of symptoms a low residue diet is usually helpful, to be found in a pamphlet on "Indigestion and Constipation."

In New York With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

NEW YORK, May 29—Snapshots on the sidewalks of New York:

He is at least a foot or so taller than Charlie Chaplin. But that makes no difference to the sandwich man. He wears the three important properties of the great comic—the shoes, the derby and the tiny black mustache.

Tied to his back is a sign reading that Chaplin is to be seen at a certain group of theaters in the most recent of his pictures.

Round and round he shuffles in the big triangle they call Times Square. He stops to tilt his derby at passing children. And children, with their uncritical attitude, where clowns are concerned, pipe "Hello, Charley!" What difference does it make to them whether this be Charlie or not. It looks something like Charlie and it makes them laugh.

The perambulating advertisement takes time out for a moment to rest against a building tipping his derby profusely to all and sundry and twirling his slender cane.

Walking close to him, it's impossible to find a single feature that bears the slightest resemblance to Chaplin. Only his properties are there—mustache, cane, baggy pants, shoes and hat.

"It's been a long time since I put on a Chaplin act," he confides. "Remember when all over America the sidewalks were filled with imitators of Charlie? Sure I'm an actor—out of a job! Who isn't out of a job? Say, out on the sidewalks I've been everybody from Harry Lauder to Richard Dix. Say, I could do a great mimic act on the stage if they'd give me a chance. . . Well, they won't . . . so I gives 'em a free show in the street. . . . Last week I was a Madri Gras clown—you know, one of those parade figures that looks as though it was walking on its hands. . . . Don't know what I'll be next week. . . . You never can tell in this racket."

He tips his hat and waddles on.

Two tots stop to wave at him and call "Hello, Charlie!"

He has disappeared in a crowd that clogs the sidewalk at an hour shortly after noon.

Hardly has he disappeared when, from 43rd street, slowly approaches a distinguished-looking, slender and elderly man. He wears one of those light tan derbies, rimmed by a deep brown ribbon. The sort of hat once identified with road-show troupers. He wears also a pin-tailed afternoon coat, faded from a prim gray to some strange shade of lavender. His thin neck is imprisoned by an old-fashioned choker collar of the Dan Frohman variety. A frayed bow tie and a vest that once was white complete the costume. His hair, slate gray and lending a certain dignity to his tragedian's thin face, complete his attire.

Here for all the world, walks one of the latter-day Shakespearean players who made the circuits of the nation's small towns.

Beneath his arm is a small bundle of magazines. As he approaches he whips the magazines before the eyes of the passing throng. The cover reveals the words, "The Unemployed."

Help the unemployed actors," he chants in a voice that seems to come from some point way down in his boots—the sort of voice that suddenly recalls such lines as "Yon Cassius has a thin and hungry look."

Somehow you don't want to hear this man's story. So you hurry along.

Already the crowd is distracted by another scene. Up Broadway is coming an old time buggy, drawn by a sturdy horse.

Bumping up and down in the seat is Manhattan's favorite character—the eternal Rube, the Uncle Josh of yesterday, with Uncle Josh whiskers, high farmer boots, yokel hat and linen duster.

As he drives through the highway he calls to passers-by.

"How's everythin' back home, folks? . . . See ye at the barn dance t'night. . . Haow's Mandy and Si?"

A seedy-looking gent stands on the curb . . . and just looks. . . . He brushes a sleeve, maybe over his nose, maybe over his eyes. . . . The city's parade goes on!

No, Dorothy, a young dramatist is not necessarily a playboy.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies looked around the place, then watched the Jap work on the vase. It was the largest vase they'd ever seen, 'bout six feet tall. Said Clowny, "I'll bet, if I tried, that I could easily crawl inside. And think of what a crash 'twould make, if that big thing should fall."

Another Tiny cried, "Well, gee, imagine what a sight to see if they should fill it up with flowers. 'Twould take an awful lot. 'Twould be no fun. I have a hunch, to try and pick so large a bunch. And then, when picked, you simply couldn't lift them, like as not.

The Jap, with a smile on his face, kept carving on the monstrous vase. And then he told the Tinies, "There's a treat that's still to come. I'll finish carving shortly and then stain the vase up very grand. I have some brilliant colors and I'll gladly show you some."

The staining work was shortly done and watching was a heap of fun. The man was quite an artist, as the Tinies soon found out. The Travel Man then said, "Well, we must leave to see what we can see. We thank you, sir, for showing us what your work's all about."

A light lunch followed very soon. While hiking in the afternoon, the Tinies came upon a sight that really was a treat. "Oh, look!" cried Scouty. "There's some fun and I know how that stunt is done." He pointed to some lads on stilts and, my, but they walked neat.

"I'd like to try it," Clowny cried. "But I might fall and hurt my hide." "Well, then I'll do it," Carpy said. "I'm not one bit afraid." He borrowed stilts from one kind lad and what a funny time he had. He practiced for a while and then good progress soon was made.

(The Tinymites meet some Japanese girls in the next story.)

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 29 —An early advance in stocks was halted by renewed selling of the rails today.

The list moved ahead during the first hour when U. S. Steel, Eastman Kodak, Consolidated Gas, Western Union, Allied Chemical, Gillette and Case rallied 2 to 3 points, but about half of these gains were lost.

New York Central broke below 80 for the first time since 1922. Rock Island dropped 3 and St. Louis San Francisco 2, the latter reaching levels not duplicated since 1919. Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Atchison, Union Pacific were off 1 1-2 to 2 1-2. Borden was another soft spot, losing 2 points to a new low. The market was dull.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 29. (AP)—Cotton opened very steady today, 7 to 14 points higher on trade buying and covering.

Evidently recent declines had strengthened the technical position of the market and notwithstanding a favorable view of the early weather news, there was a disposition to cover short contracts in advance of the holidays. The opinion also was expressed in some quarters that lower price levels had created a little more confidence in values and that the trade was buying a little more freely.

Offerings were comparatively light and after some little irregularity, July advanced to 8.73 and December to 9.29 by the end of the first half hour. In some quarters the advance was considered a technical reaction.

The Liverpool market was closed today, but will reopen for business next Monday.

The early advance carried the market up to 8.76 for July and 9.34 for December or about 17 to 21 points above yesterday's closing quotations. The more urgent demand from shorts appeared to have been pretty well satisfied during the progress of this advance, however, and an easier turn in the stock market seemed to bring out a little more selling later in the forenoon. At midday July was ruling around 8.69 and December 9.24, or about 10 to 12 points net higher, with trading comparatively quiet.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 29 (AP)—Cotton had a firm and fairly active opening here today. Although Liverpool was closed for the final Whitsuntide holidays first trades here showed gains of 8 to 11 points. There appeared to be good trade buying and shorts covered rather freely. A private report on the Texas and Oklahoma crop showed cotton making poor progress in those states owing to the recent cool weather.

The market continued to improve after the start, July advancing to 8.72, October to 9.03, and December to 9.25, or 11 to 13 points above yesterday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market was quite steady and at the highs.

The market continued to improve early in the second hour on shorts covering due to unfavorable private crop accounts. July advanced to 8.75, October to 9.10 and December to 9.38, or 16 to 18 points above yesterday's close.

Later in the morning the market gradually eased off owing to lack of support and some selling based on a reaction in stocks. July dropped to 8.62, October to 8.96, and December to 9.11, or 11 to 14 points down from the highs.

At mid-session the market was quiet and rather easier.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, May 29. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: July 8.69, Oct. 9.00, Dec. 9.20, Jan. 9.31-bid, Mar. 9.53.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Cotton futures opened very steady July 8.63, Oct. 8.97, Dec. 9.24, Jan. 9.37, Mar. 9.58.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—Grains averaged higher early today after an irregular start. Absence of any adequate drouth relief in Canada and indications of better export demand for North American wheat were bullish factors.

Opening 3-8 cents off to 1-4 up, wheat afterward showed gains all around. Corn started 1 3-8 down to 1-4 advance, and subsequently rallied.

Wheat closed irregular, 7-8 cents lower to 1-4 advance, corn 2 1-4 down to 1-2 gain, oats 1 1-4 off to 1-8 up, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 12 cents.

QUOTATIONS

CHICAGO, May 29. (AP)—Wheat: No. 1 red 82 1-2; No. 1 hard 82 1-2 to 83 1-4; No. 1 northern spring 82 1-2 to 83 1-4, No. 1 mixed 81 3-4 to 82 1-2.

MEMORIAL DAY

of all wars, were invited to participate.

Taps by 12 buglers and a salute by a firing squad of eight guns will end the rites at Lubbock cemetery at about 7:45 p. m., after graves of war veterans have been decorated. Boy Scouts of troop No. 8 will mark the burial plots of veterans with American flags before the ceremonies.

Program Given

Glen Hess, commander of the Lubbock Legion post, will make opening remarks at the Legion home. Post Chaplain Peters will deliver a prayer, the First Presbyterian orchestra directed by W. E. Stroupe will play a selection, Dupree will address the crowd, and an orchestra number will follow.

After a silent prayer to commemorate the war-dead, the audience will sing "The Star Spangled Banner," led by H. W. Moore and accompanied by the orchestra.

Benediction will be delivered by Dr. Jack M. Lewis, First Presbyterian church pastor, and the orchestra will play as the audience leaves the building.

A procession of automobiles will go to the cemetery.

This photo shows wreckage of the Blue Streak, the Chicago Daily News' giant Bellanca plane, which crashed to earth near Wheaton, Ill., killing four members of the crew.

LIBEL SUIT

Liberty for two or three years and around 1900 went to the Canadian river where the town of Logan now is."

Witness said he "knew John Spikes personally" and "Dick and Fred Spikes but not personally." He also knew Henry Hawkins, John and Dobie Williams, Jesse and William Smith, W. T. Crabtree, Alex Aston, D. R. Carmack, W. J. McAdams and possibly George Cook and "had heard of George Massagee" but was not positive.

Said Reputation Bad

Logan said he had heard the reputation of the Spikes boys and that was bad. He had heard of cattle thieves up there and knew of depredations. "The Spikes boys hung out four miles from where Henry Hawkins did" he testified.

Asked if he frequently had seen the men referred to and knew where they lived, he detailed most of them adding "Dobie Williams was generally in the saddle when I saw him."

Cattle stealing in New Mexico territory was "worse" than it was in Texas, he stated. Hawkins had the reputation of being a "cattle rustler and outlaw."

Complaints Filed

Complaints were filed against "some of the Spikes boys" but "I cannot recall the various names." He recalled having testified in court about two of the alleged "gang" on two different occasions and these were sent up for "vagrancy." He did not mention their names.

Logan assisted once in the arrest of John and Dobie Williams and Will Smith.

He testified that once he was at the Spikes headquarters, "that he had seen smoke on the Mesa Redonda near the house and went to investigate, finding some hides, partially burned. These were described.

Saw Motherless Calves

Logan said he once saw 25 motherless calves in a bunch, being herded by one John Williams. They were unbranded and appeared to be unweaned.

On another occasion Logan said he found some rawhide shoes for horses hoofs in a "stone building about a mile from the Spikes house."

In cross-examination witness said he found that outlaws seldom told their true names. He said he did not know of Henry Hawkins and the Spikes boys being together. Witness detailed the finding of the calves being herded by John Williams and said they were claimed by the Spikes boys "as far as I know."

Logan said he was never at John Spikes' house until after his death. He said that Mrs. Spikes "asked that I do not come into the house" in denying that he had been ordered to stay out of the house.

Counsel Clash

"John Spikes was the only one of the boys I was well acquainted with." A cowboy named Nance and several others whose names were he cannot recall were with him when he found the hides, he stated. Counsel clashed several times on offering certain portions of the testimony.

Gearhart and Abbott testified they lived in New Mexico at the time the Spikes boys were there and had a chance to know of their reputation. The same was true of John Whitmore, who admitted on cross examination that the "reputation" was "mostly after they were killed."

E. L. Klett and George Dupree read the deposition of J. H. Nix, 72, now of Hereford, who lived in Gaudalupe county, New Mexico in 1901-02 and who ran a horse ranch.

He was "acquainted with all the Spikes boys who were living there at that time" he testified, mentioning knowing Ernest and Dick whom he met in "horse work on the Circle S ranch," and with Sam, John and Fred with whom he "became acquainted by meeting them in the country. "Their general reputation was "bad" and they had the "name of robbing different stores in the country and a saloon at Tucumcari," Nix stated. He lived 12 to 15 miles southeast of Mesa Redonda.

In Sympathy With Th^em

On cross-examination, read by Frank Brown and Tom Garrard, Nix said he was "never employed on a ranch." He had talked about the Spikes boys with Louis Nance, Vin Cissel, Bud Lee and Sam Gohlson, among others. He "knew some who killed John and Dick Spikes," he admitted and was in sympathy, "to a certain extent with them."

Joe Schollemberger, a merchant of Logan, N. M., worked as a cowboy on HOW ranch as foreman in 1901 and 1902. He knew the boys "by reputation" he said, testifying to their reputation as "cattle thieves and gun men."

Once he saw some motherless calves, a dozen or so, unbranded but which were claimed by "cows bearing the HOW brand."

On cross examination, also read by Brown and Garrard, witness located the HOW range and said the Mesa Redonda community was that territory within 15 miles of the Mesa. He said he did not know where the Spikes boys lived and "did not know them personally."

Recalls "Hawkins Cave"

C. B. Beebe now resides near Littlefield and in 1901 in partnership with John Speer took 200 head of cattle into New Mexico. The next year they took 300 head into the territory. Some died, some were sold and some stolen he admitted. His ranch was six or eight miles west and north of the Mesa Redonda. He recalled a cave on the Mesa known as "Hawkins cave," and once said he saw some Winchester shells and buckles there. He was getting cedar posts off the Mesa on one occasion and found a cow hide, rolled up, that on being unrolled was found to have the HOW brand. It was found in a canyon two or three miles from the Spikes headquarters. Finding similarly of a number of pairs of new shoes, in pastboard boxes in another canyon, was detailed.

G. E. Lockhart submitted witness to a grilling that brought admissions of lack of knowledge of the ownership of the shoes and hides. He admitted being told of the slaying of John and Dick Spikes and of some of the details by Cabe Adams; admitted being told of conditions in New Mexico by Eugene Logan and also admitted having "special instructions to watch for stolen cattle." These came from Eugene Logan and Sim McFarland, cattle inspectors. "I never saw any burnt brands or any stolen cattle in the Spikes herd that I know of," he testified.

BALLOON TRIP

altitude record—9.936 miles or more than 50,000 feet.

He obtained a measurement of the conductivity of gases generated by comic rays at the maximum height about four hours after leaving Augsburg Wednesday morning.

Pressure Is Lighter

"During the first part of the ascent we were so occupied with the mechanical problem of handling the balloon that only at a height of 9.936 miles were we able to begin taking the principal measurements. We found the outside air pressure at that altitude to be 76 millimeters, about one tenth normal atmospheric pressure."

Referring to a little notebook in which he had jotted down data as winds swept him over southern Europe for a day and a night, he said he had noticed that the moon appeared much brighter than from the earth and that the Alpine scenery below him was "overwhelmingly grand."

Temperature Rises

The temperature within the hermetically sealed aluminum ball rose to 106 degrees Fahrenheit at times, while on the outside it fell as low as 76 below zero Fahrenheit.

He explained his delay in landing by the fact it was impossible to open the safety valve or the porthole until the pressure inside conformed with that of the atmosphere.

"The flight is likely to revolutionize all previous theories concerning the stratosphere," he said.

"The flight proved that the stratosphere is navigable and that man with modern technical methods will be able to master its low pressure and its cold.

In Endless Infinity of Blue

"We seemed to be in an endless infinity of blue. The earth had completely disappeared. It was like floating at sea with blue water all around and blue shore in remote distances. We felt an indescribable happiness. It was a glorious flight."

The intrepid explorers were the guests of the hardy folk in this tiny village among towering mountains of ice. It is 6,500 feet above sea level and the highest inhabited place in Austria. The explorers received congratulations from many points in Europe.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 29. (AP)—King Albert of the Belgians has appointed Professor August Piccard a commander of the order of Leopold in recognition of his ascent into the stratosphere. He made Charles Kipfer, his aide, a chevalier of the order.

will assume charge of the team as soon as the shares have been sold.

Teams of the league are to be located in Amarillo, Pampa, Clovis, N. M. and Lubbock, according to the plans, and play is slated to begin June 10. Only night baseball will be played, with the exception of Sundays. Each team will play one hundred games, fifty at home and fifty abroad, including two double headers during the season.

Memorial Park Is To Be Improved

Marking start of an improvement program which will include planting of shrubs and cultivation of a turf, installation of waterworks is underway at Memorial Park cemetery, according to F. S. Duga of Tulsa.

Duga said that a 200-barrel tank was being erected and that a 20-foot tower would be put up to obtain pressure as a part of a general development program under different management.

E. C. Young of Lubbock has been named manager of the cemetery, according to Duga. The latter said he, L. E. Cooper of Tulsa and Sam Vierson and A. D. Cochran, both of Okmulgee, Okla., were owners of Memorial Park.

Difficulties which virtually halted operation of the new cemetery have been adjusted, Duga said.

County commissioners court this week declared a road from state highway No. 7 eastward through Memorial Park cemetery and to Lubbock cemetery would be maintained as a 60-foot public road.

DOUBLE SUICIDE

whom it may concern," Davis left directions to notify his father, Warner T. Davis, of Parksley, Va., and a sister, Mrs. J. E. Wands, of Verona, N. J., and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Columbia, Penn.

Found Lying On Bed

When doctors and police reached the hotel, they found Davis lying on his back in bed. A bullet from a large calibre revolver had pierced his chest and he was dead before he could be moved.

Mrs. Anderson was found sitting on the floor in front of the elevator. She had been covered with a blanket thrown about her shoulders. She was scantily dressed and a bullet from the same pistol which killed Davis had been fired into her abdomen.

She told police and doctors she had shot herself after Davis had ended his own life.

Not Told of Death

When asked, "who shot you?" she said, "I did it myself. I could not stand to live without him. How is Tommy?" She was not told he was dead, doctors fearing it would only hasten her death.

The couple registered at the hotel Monday under the name of "J. D. King and wife."

Employes of the hotel had been awakened by the shots and the cries of the woman. She had walked from the room to the elevator entrance.

The notes were left on a table with personal effects of the couple. They were turned over to Detective Chief J. Charles Gunning.

Shortly after reaching the hospital, Mrs. Anderson lapsed into unconsciousness and in delirium continued calling for "Tommy."

VICTIM BELIEVED TO BE FT. WORTH MUSICIAN

GRAHAM, May 29. (AP)—A man who registered in a Dallas hotel as Thomas E. Davis of Verona, N. J., found shot to death there today, was a man believed to be known here as "Jack" Davis, a musician of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Fannie Anderson, found wounded in the same hotel, was the wife of Gus Anderson, operator of a filling station and restaurant 1 1-2 miles from Graham. He told officers that his wife had gone to Dallas several days ago. Officers stated Anderson and Davis had had trouble several days ago over the purported ownership of a diamond ring. They said the matter had been settled when Mrs. Anderson claimed she had made Davis a present of the ring.

The Andersons had lived here about 1 1-2 years, coming to Graham from Coleman. Anderson told officers he and Mrs. Anderson were married in Oklahoma.

amount of food and a pocket full of letters.

Shortcomings No Worry

The alleged shortcomings of the plane seemed to worry Ash little. He has pronounced it "somewhat cumbersome" and "rather hard to manipulate."

Included in the food Ash will carry, is a small box of capsules, each about the size of a cherry and each containing nourishment equivalent to a full meal. Another important item will be six thermos bottles of black coffee.

Showers Fall Over South Plains Area

Although a finespun shower began here shortly after 8:30 a. m. and continued intermittently until about 11 a. m., scattered reports did not indicate that precipitation was general in the South Plains.

Rain was reported northward at Plainview, Amarillo, and other points in the Panhandle and northern fringe of the South Plains. Half an inch fell between Canyon and Tulia and in the Snyder vicinity, light showers were reported in the Floydada area, at Slaton, and between Lubbock and Slaton, it was reported to Santa Fe railway offices here.

Light rain also was reported by Santa Fe attaches between Lubbock and Texaco.

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH HOG THEFT

Two men were charged with theft of hogs this morning in Justice of the Peace H. E. Porter's court after Sheriff Wade Hardy literally had "brought home the bacon." One of the suspects charged was in city jail.

Wednesday, the sheriff went to New Mexico and took possession of eight hogs which were stolen from H. A. Bozeman's farm, in the eastern part of Lubbock county, May 4. Yesterday, Mr. Bozeman transferred the animals to his farm from the New Mexico ranch where they were discovered.

The swine were found on a secluded ranch, about 20 miles west of Clovis, Sheriff Hardy said.

A. B. C. TO STAGE BANQUET TONIGHT

There will be no speeches at a dinner-meeting of the American Business club tonight at the Hilton hotel, Bert Pinson, president, said. The affair marks the end of a ten-week membership drive.

The banquet and program will begin promptly at 7:30 and will be strictly an informal, "stag" affair. Special music, games and contests will take the place of principal addresses and toasts, Pinson stated.

The club, now composed of exactly fifty members, was divided ten weeks ago and each side entered into a contest to beat the other in enlisting new members. The winning team, captained by Bert Pinson, will be entertained by the losing team, which is captained by Ben Powell.

Scout Honor Court To Be Held Tonight

Monthly court of honor for Lubbock Boy Scouts will convene at 8 o'clock tonight in the district criminal courtroom in the courthouse. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will preside.

Members of troop No. 8 will conduct investiture rites for new scouts. One of the largest list of merit badges in the history of scouting here is a part of awards scheduled for tonight, D. T. Jennings, area executive, said.

Field Day Saturday

The annual Lubbock district Boy Scout field meet will be run off at Texas Technological college athletic field, beginning at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Inspection will precede the contests, which will include semaphore and general service signaling, making fire by friction and with flint and steel, knot tying, a flag shuttle relay, and first aid demonstrations.

Charles Whitacre, chairman of the district activities committee, is director general.

Thirty Flags Said Be Missing In City

Flags erected as decorations for conventions here, and which have been blown down, should be returned to chamber of commerce offices. Persons finding any of the flags down have been asked to return them.

About 30 of the flags used on Broadway during the Retail Merchants association convention were missing when a check was made yesterday, chamber of commerce officials said.

The flags were purchased by the chamber of commerce to decorate streets for conventions at a minimum cost to Lubbock merchants, and the return of as many of the lost flags as possible is desired, it was said.

TWO PEOPLE DIE IN CAR CRASHES

CORSICANA, May 29. (AP)—Two persons were dead, one was critically injured and another less seriously hurt today as a result of an automobile accident last night on Highway 75, nine miles south of Corsicana, near Richland.

The dead were: Mrs. William Pinkard, 26; Juanita Pinkard, her daughter, age one month.

Mrs. Pinkard was almost decapitated when the Pinkard automobile struck the rear of a casing-pulling machine, demolishing the Pinkard car.

YOUTH KILLS SELF AFTER COLLISION

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 29. (AP)—After his automobile had struck a trailer of a parked car on a highway near here today Ivan Van Pin, 22, of Kansas City stepped behind his crumpled car, placed a revolver to his temple and killed himself.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. House and their two children, James, 16, and Melvin, 12, were in the parked car en route to their home in Detroit.

Officers said Van Pin apparently died in the belief the accident had resulted fatally for some of the occupants of the other car.

AND THE MAYORS DRANK THE TOAST

BRIMMING CUPS OF CHAMPAGNE TURNED UP IN DINNER IN PARIS; BUST IS UNVEILED

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, May 29—Their first sample of the culinary art of Paris was the outstanding experience here for the party of American mayors touring France. They were the guests of the city of Paris at an elaborate luncheon at the Hotel De Ville.

Afterward members of the party said they had never imagined anything so good.

Four kinds of wine and two kinds of champagne were served to add flavor to a menu prepared by the best chefs of France. This included baby lobsters, saddle of lambs, chicken in jelly argenteuil, pudding and wild strawberries.

There were no speeches while the guests were at the table, except for toasts proposed by Ambassador Walter E. Edge and Court Jean De Castellane to the presidents of France and the United States. The toasts were honored in brimming cups of champagne.

Luncheon was followed by the ceremony in which a bust of the late Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, carved from a beam from the first White House at Washington, was formally presented to the City of Paris by Ambassador Edge on behalf of the visiting mayors. Count De Castellane accepted on behalf of Paris.

Payroll Figured

WASHINGTON—The payroll of American industry has been figured out. For 1929, $15,229,161,429 was paid 10,185,296 workers.

Likes Fishing

NEW YORK—Mrs. Henry Phipps, widow of the steel magnate, loves to fish. She devotes much of the season to a camp on the Restigouche river in Canada and fishes for salmon most of the day. Many of her friends have received samples of her catch.

PARIS—Four score and nine shillalahs are on the way to friends of Mayor Curley in Boston. When in Ireland he ordered 100 assembled in the Killarney district. All available were forwarded to him.

Wife Is Victorious

NEW YORK—Charles H. Tuttle, who was an unsuccessful Republican nominee for governor, is delighted that somebody in the family is able to be elected to something. He so expressed himself at the induction of Mrs. Tuttle as president of the state woman's Republican club.

Unwelcome Guests

GRAND HAVEN, Mich.—Visitors are as welcome to Abel Abenga as to the average householder, but he would hardly care for any more to drop in. George Ferris and Claude Gilderloos entered via the roof along with their plane. When the machine stopped its nose was in the dining room and its tail above the roof two stories up. The aviators walked out the front door.

Must Be Abolished

WASHINGTON — We have some husky boys in the navy and perhaps petty officers are quite vigorous in discipline. An order by the secretary of the navy, a yachtsman, says the use of the holystones wears down the decks so rapidly that their repair or replacement has become an item of expense which cannot be met under limited appropriations. Therefore the practice has been abolished except for the purpose of removing stains such as grease and paint. No longer will holystones be used just for scrubbing purposes by an able seaman who has given a chief some back talk.

Pennant Grows

NEW YORK—Captain Fritz Kruse of the steamship Resolute who has been around the world eleven times as master, has a homeward-bound pennant 165 feet long flying from the man truck. With each additional cruise he adds 15 feet.
