MURDER CHARGE FILED ON SLAYER

CO-OPERATION Aid Of Citizens Asked In Rotary Convention Here

"All we need now is the co-operation and courtesy of the citizens of Lubbock and the convention is assured of success," J. A. Rix, general arrangements chairman for the district convention of the 41st district of Rotary International which meets here Thursday and Friday, said today as he gave final instructions to his committees for the entertainment of the 500 visitors.

Wants City Sold on Meet
"We want Lubbock sold on the convention," Mr. Rix said. "More than five hundred of the cream of the state's business and professional men are coming to our city and we must be prepared to greet them. Lubbock has always been noted for its entertainment and hospitality and the reputation must be maintained."

Whether you have a Rotary car on your car or not, regardless of whether you are a Rotarian, Rotarian or other club member or not, it is the duty of every citizen that the visitors are well entertained," Mr. Rix said. "Show every possible courtesy and Lubbock will be rewarded. If you are a badged delegate on the convention, let him know that you are that he is in your city."

Appeal to Merchants
To the merchants, he made an appeal for decorations. The decorations committee begins their work today and Mr. Rix asks all merchants to dress their windows appropriately for the conference, placing the "Welcome Rotarians" card in a most conspicuous place. Every flag in the business district should be waving from their poles during the convention.

Their part in aiding in the entertainment of the guests, Tom White, local manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, is ordering temporary telephone lines strung up for the use of the visitors which will be located near the Santa Fe station, the Palace, Lindsey and Lyric theatres are throwing open their doors to the visitors during the two days. The newspapers will be instructed to give papers to all visiting delegates without charge. All

O'DONNELL IS HOST TO MEET

METHODIST DISTRICT CONFERENCE MEETS THURSDAY, FRIDAY

Three hundred preachers and women are expected to gather in O'Donnell this week-end for an annual district conference, which convenes in that city on Wednesday evening to continue through Friday. This announcement was made this morning by the Rev. B. Doak, 1712 Broadway, presiding elder of the Lubbock district.

Lay activities are of chief interest at this meeting, the Reverend Doak said. Phases of church work such as the Epworth League, women's missionary societies, and other gatherings will be discussed and delegates to the annual conference in Lubbock next fall will be elected. Rev. J. W. Chisholm, of Brownfield, will preach on Wednesday evening at the opening service and Thursday morning's session will open at 9 o'clock.

Delegates to the O'Donnell meeting have been elected in the two churches here as follows: First church, A. W. Evans, J. M. St. Lawrence, J. L. Dow and Mrs. Sam Davis; Nineteenth Street church, Mrs. W. S. Moad, Mrs. Paul B. Williams, Mrs. D. C. Ross and Mrs. W. F. Bonds.

Those who are members of the conference by virtue of offices held in the churches in the city are the following: First church, Mrs. L. Dow, O. H. Cline, Sam Davis, W. S. Posey, J. A. Hug, Pink L. Pasterick and C. E. Hunt; Nineteenth Street church, Mrs. W. S. Moad and Mrs. Williams; W. S. Moad and Mrs. Williams.

RELIEF PLANE BRINGING TRIO TO MAINLAND

TRIP TO BE CONTINUED FROM MONTREAL IN SECOND JUNKERS

(By The Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Apr. 17.—Wireless operators in touch with Greenly Island reported today that it had been decided that the trans-Atlantic monoplanes Bremen could not be repaired on the island. They said the German aviators would fly to Murray Bay in a relief plane and continue to New York in the Junkers plane now in Montreal.

Canadian Pilots Bring Men Ashore

OTTAWA, April 17. (P)—By the Canadian Press—A message from Quebec this morning reported that the crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplanes Bremen was on its way from Greenly Island to Murray Bay in a relief plane jointly piloted by C. A. (Duke) Schiller and Dr. Louis Crutcher.

Lighting System Is Blamed For Trouble

POINT AMOUR, Quebec, April 17. (By Marconie Wireless to the Canadian Press)—Failure of the lighting system on the Bremen which made it impossible for them to read their instruments for hours was blamed today by Baron von Huenefeld for the wandering which brought the trans-Atlantic plane down on Greenly Island hundreds of miles from its course.

Plane Progressed Well

The Baron estimated that four hundred miles were flown in darkness during which the plane swung from its intended course into a northerly direction.

Testimony In Adair Case Is Continued

Testimony in the case of Mrs. Cassie Adair, local woman against the United Fidelity Life Insurance company which began in the 99th district court yesterday was continued this afternoon. It is thought that the case might go to the jury late this afternoon.

The suit was entered for recovery of an insurance policy owned by Mrs. Adair's husband. The insurance company refused payment on the ground that Mr. Adair's death was due to suicide while the plaintiff contends that his death was accidental.

Meningitis Is Fatal To Ralls Boy Here

Oren Brawley, 12 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brawley, of Ralls, died here today at 12:50 o'clock of meningitis.

He had been ill for some time prior to his death and had been in a local sanitarium for treatment. Funeral arrangements had not been made this afternoon but it is understood that they will be held in Ralls sometime tomorrow.

Balloting Called In Rotary Meeting

ROTARY FACES PROBLEM WITH ROOMS SCARCE

CONFERENCE OPENS ON THURSDAY; CALLED MEETING HELD

Facing an ambitious program, even for Lubbock and Rotarians, the Lubbock Rotary club, in called session today at noon, summed up arrangements and took stock of plans already accomplished in preparation for entertaining the annual conference of the 41st District on Thursday and Friday of this week.

GO TO CARLSBAD!

A special train, being run particularly for members of Rotary clubs of the 41st district, and their ladies, will go to Carlsbad, New Mexico, on Friday night where a tour of the famous Carlsbad cavern has been arranged.

WAGNER OF ROTARY-ANNE ON TO CARLSBAD

The trip is not entirely a Rotary affair and citizens of Lubbock wishing to go are invited to make the jaunt. A special round trip fare of $14 has been set and the train arrives in Carlsbad early Saturday morning, where members of the Rotary club will arrange transportation to the cavern and where an itinerary of the cave has already been arranged. The train will be back in Lubbock shortly after midnight, Saturday.

More Rooms Are Needed

With an out-of-town attendance of approximately 500 Rotarians and their ladies practically assured, Chairman Walter Myrick, of the hotel committee, broadcast a plea for at least 40 additional rooms in local residences for the use of the guests on Thursday, Thursday night and Friday. Hotels here will be unable to afford as many rooms as first thought, which necessitates the opening of more homes to the guests, he said, in urging people with spare rooms to list them with him at phone number 1340.

Sheppard Moved

DALLAS.—Joyce Sheppard, under death penalty for the slaying of two officers in Roby, Texas, was moved here today by two officers who left with him for Anson, Jones county. Sheppard, whose death penalty recently was affirmed, will remain in jail there until a motion for rehearing, now pending, is acted upon.

Baby Is Killed

BROWNWOOD.—Glenn Garmes, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Garmes of Mullen, was wounded, probably fatally, at Mullen yesterday when he was shot through the stomach with rifle with which he was playing. The child was brought to a hospital here.

ASSAULT MADE ON PHYSICIAN

NEW YORK, April 17.—Assaulted with a 3-inch shell, a war trophy, Dr. E. Garmey Brownell, society physician and world war veteran, was found in office-apartment in East 66th street early today in a semi-conscious condition. His condition was declared critical.

GOTHAM DOCTOR, WAR VET MAY DIE FROM SERIOUS INJURIES

(By Associated Press)
The physician, clad in pajamas, was found in his bedroom by Michael LeBeche, a salesman and a former member of the first aero squadron with which Dr. Brownell served as lieutenant colonel in the medical corps. LeBeche had shared the apartment with the physician for four years.

NO SIGNS OF STRUGGLE

There were no signs of a struggle and police expressed belief that the physician was attacked by someone he had admitted to the apartment and then had been struck down from behind. Dr. Brownell at Roosevelt hospital later regained partial consciousness but was unable to speak coherently. His injuries were described as a possible fracture of the skull, lacerations of the face, ears and eyes and bruises on the back.

CHILDRESS, April 17. (P)—The Gulf Auto Supply station here was destroyed by fire last night which originated in an automobile and spread when a gasoline tank exploded. Loss was estimated at $30,000.

FEARS OF YANK FANS OVER POOR EARLY SHOWING DISSIPATED

MANAGERIAL AXE FALLS ON FOUR IN HUBBER CAMP

WORLD CHAMPS OUT IN FRONT GOING STRONG

HEHRIG RAPS SECOND HOMER OF SEASON IN BOSTON GAME

(By Associated Press.) Any apprehension on the part of New York fans concerning the poor showing of the Yankees on the opening exhibition today appeared to have been unnecessary as the world champions were out in front in color flying.

Last season, the Yankees assumed the crest in the opening week and were never headed throughout the campaign. Today they held the distinction of being the only major league outfit that has yet to lose a game.

Real Red Sox Monday making their first stand in Boston yesterday, the Yankees disposed of the Red Sox by 7 to 2. George Gehrig, yielding only five runs, hit a home run and drove in three runs.

Connie Mack's Athletics seem to be slow in getting started, losing to the Senators by 5 to 4. Lisenbee, who was on the mound, was lifted for the circuit in the fourth inning and the eighth inning along with Blum, to drive in three runs and the victory.

After nursing a winning streak through four games, the St. Louis Browns were smothered by the White Sox, 7 to 2. Howie Sewing, men on the field in an effort to stave off defeat.

Rally in Eighth The Tigers put across a three-run rally in the eighth but it was not enough to overcome an early lead by the Indians who won by 5 to 2. Jackie Tavener of Detroit, an easy day at short going through nine innings without a blemish on his way.

The hard luck which tagged Jones in the previous game was behind the "Silver Fox" once again as the Braves carried off a 2-0 decision over Brooklyn. Rogers Hornsby gathered three hits in four times up. Petty was touched in the fourth inning and the Yankees held the flock to eight.

Barleigh Grimes buried the Pirates to an 8 to 1 victory against Cincinnati, stopping the Reds with three hits in the first frame when three men and an error produced three runs. Rixey gave way to Edwards in the box for Cincinnati after the fourth inning.

Cubs Win in Batting Sprue The Chicago Cubs went on a batting spree in the fourth inning, scoring five runs off Jess Haines. The Cardinals by 6 to 3. Webb laced out a four-bagger in the fifth session.

By Williams came through with a home run and the Phillies triumphed with two on base in the eighth inning to help the Phillies subdue the Giants by a 7 to 5 point. The New Yorkers led by one run margin up to the eighth when five tallies crossed the plate by the Phillies. Bill Terry was the hitting star for the Giants with a triple, double and single in four chances.

TOURNEY OPENS AT HOUSTON FOR WOMEN GOLFERS (By Associated Press.) HOUSTON, April 17.—Qualifying and play in the annual championship golf tournament of the Texas Woman's Golfing association began at the links of the Houston Country Club Tuesday morning when Charles Hunter of San Antonio, Mrs. C. C. Johnson of Fort Worth drove down the first fairway, starting in two teams, the large field required several hours to get fully under way. The best woman player in the state are on hand.

The entry for the day was 136, a new record for women's golf in Texas. Last year's state title meet drew 11, the largest of any previous contest.

Players-making-the 16 best scores in today's qualifying round will constitute the championship flight. These 16 will meet in eight matches Wednesday. Other rounds will follow on successive days. The second round, fourth and fifth flights will be made up of 16 players each. Finalists in these secondary flights will end their play in 18-hole final Saturday. Finalists in the championship flight are to play 36 holes.

WILL BALANCE OF PITCHING POWER SHIFT TO AMERICANS?

Hooks and Slides

Two of America's foremost athletes, Helen Wills and Walter Hagen, will be in England soon to prepare for the opening of the international sport season.

The invasion of the American woman tennis champion looks like a pre-ordained march of triumph, as there is a single player on the other side who should endanger her possession of the Wimbledon championship.

The prospects for Hagen's success in his match with Archie Compston and in the British open championship can't be figured accurately. Considering what kind of a game the Haig has been capable of in the past, the first guess would be that he will beat Compston and that he will be one of the leaders in the open tournament.

But Hagen has been idle all through the winter tournament campaigns. He allowed Mac Smith, Johnny Farrell and the others to carry away the rich prizes while he remained out of competition.

For this reason some of the critics believe that he will not be able to get his game back in championship working order on such short notice. It may be, however, that his game will respond quicker because of his layoff. If anyone had a stage of stalesness coming to him, Hagen was due for it, as he had been golfing day after day, season into season, for years.

Jones Not Going Over Bobby Jones still insists that he can't neglect his infant law trade in Atlanta long enough to go to England to defend his British open championship. There is no doubt that Bobby is serious in his statement that the duty of making a career in law must make his golf secondary, but he may not be able to resist the temptation.

On his first tour of the season around his home course recently, he turned in a beautiful 64 and he wasn't shooting against his record 63. His shots were just dropping well from him. A few more of those 64s and some under 70s on other courses may bring the fever back on him and he may make another last-minute dash to the boat as he did last year.

Practically all of the big international golf will be staged in the United States this summer. The Walker cup team of British amateurs is coming to this country for their biennial battle with the Americans, and that means that most of the high ranking stars will compete in the national tournaments also.

Plans of Helen Wills Miss Wills, in addition to defending her championship at Wimbledon, intends to play in Holland and France. There will be no tennis matches in conjunction with the Olympic games, but the international federation has arranged an unofficial series of team matches in which England, Australia, the United States and France, perhaps, will compete.

Miss Wills does not plan to play in the French Nationals, as she does not wish to mix her game with hard and turf court competition. The French nationals will have more than a local significance, however, and it may be that she will try to win that title.

The Davis cup final match and challenge round will be played in Paris and the presence there of all the leading international players will give France the biggest tennis matches of the season.

By BILLY EVANS

PITCHING in the majors runs in cycles. One league holds the edge for a period only to have the advantage suddenly shift to the other. For several years the belief has been prevalent among the baseball experts that the pitching was better in the National. There are some who offered this reason as conclusive evidence of the greater batting power shown by a number of American League clubs.

If the records of the 1927 season can be accepted as a criterion of the real ability of a number of recruit pitchers, then the edge in pitching will shortly come back to the American for a few years at least.

Winning 20 ball games these days calls for mighty fine pitching. Taking down 15 victories alone demands a high-class brand of hurling.

If you will glance at the averages of the organization now presided over by E. S. Barnard, successor to Ban Johnson, you will find that four young pitchers, all of them in their first year as regulars, won 14 or more games.

The pitchers I have in mind are Wilkey Moore of the Yankees, with 19 wins, Willis Hudlin of Cleveland with 18, Horace Lisenbee of Washington, with 17 and Irving Hadley of Washington with 14.

When three rookie pitchers can come forward with 17 or more wins each, in their debut year, it points to much improved pitching in the American League.

To these four pitchers, who won 14 or more games, three of them—Moore, Lisenbee and Hadley—in their first year and Hudlin with only a few games under his belt as the result of a brief chance the previous season, one might add Owen Carroll of Detroit, Geo. Pipgras of New York and Tommy Thomas of Chicago.

True, Pipgras has been up with New York before and Carroll and Thomas saw service in 1926 yet there is no denying that last season was the first that any of the trio was regarded in the light of regulars.

Thomas, away to a flying start for Chicago by winning 10 out of his first 12 games, finished up with 19 contests to his credit. George Pipgras of New York won 10 and lost three, while Carroll won the same number as Pipgras, but lost twice as many.

A resume shows that these seven young pitchers, all of them in practically their first year as regulars, won 107 games against 59 defeats for a percentage of .644.

That is real hurling for veteran twirlers, yet when seven youngsters come through with such a performance it is apparent that the American League is in for some mighty improved pitching during the next five years.

Dundee Favorite For Fields Scrap

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—A last minute swing of sentiment today put Vince Dundee, Baltimore welterweight, in the position of the favorite in his ten round bout here tonight with Jackie Field, Los Angeles.

The pair fought some time ago to a draw but Dundee's rigorous outdoor training campaign has tended to bring the fans over to his side. As an added advantage the easterner will have a weight advantage of probably four pounds. Fields weighed 141 pounds yesterday while Dundee was flitting with the 145 mark.

Sammy Baker Wins In Sluggish Match

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Sammy Baker, Mitchell Field soldier and challenger for the welterweight championship, won a sluggish ten round bout from Billy Alger of Phoenix, Arizona here last night. Baker scaled 147; Alger 145 1/2.

SQUAD CUT TO EIGHTEEN FOR SPRING GRIND

DOUBLE TIME CALLED TODAY WITH HARD WORK AHEAD

Four Hubber recruits were chopped from the knife and fork list of the local training quarters this morning and Benzie Brownlow's roster now numbers a total of 18 players. Among those that were released this morning include: Jack Cabiness, infielder and pitcher; Kieth, Ralls lad, who was trying out for pitcher; Leo Heximer, Fort Worth youngster, outfielder; and Richard Finn, youthful tryout for the outfield.

Double Time Program Since the local candidates for the Lubbock club were forced to retire from their practice work yesterday due to inclement weather the lads will double time in their work this afternoon.

Carl Pirtle, right handed lad of Roswell, New Mexico, reported Brownlow late yesterday afternoon and will try out with the other pitcher recruits for a berth on the local staff. Pirtle is a husky youngster and comes to the Lubbock camp well recommended to the Hubber boss.

Thursday afternoon the Hubbers will meet the Hamlin outfit in the first of a twin bill scheduled here during the 41st annual International Rotary conference. Sunday afternoon Pete Wilson's Hale Center combination will be here for another exhibition tilt with the locals.

While Lubbock is meeting with Hamlin in exhibition encounters here the Coleman entry has games billed with the San Marcos Teachers College; and Red Snapp's outfit is to meet Daniel Baker Hill Billies.

BENEFIT SHOW OF BATTERY OFF TO FLYING START

Crowds thronged the midway of the J. George Loos' shows in Acuff Heights last night to appropriately usher in the week's entertainment features under sponsorship of the Battery C and the Service Battery of the local national guard. Proceeds of the benefit funds will go into the battery's equipment account.

The usual line of sideshows and entertainment booths greet the visitors as they enter the midway but as they go farther in, the pathway turns from the usual to the unusual. The shows come to Lubbock after showing in the Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show in Fort Worth, the Laredo exposition in Laredo and other Texas amusement centers. Mr. Loos accompanies the group.

Four hundred and fifty people offer a wealth of amusement features for the pleasure seekers in the midway. Featuring the midway are such attractions as: Capt. Hart's trained animal circus, the circus and animal show, Prof. Moran, the fire eater, the girl with a thousand eyes, Iola, the half-man-half-woman; glass blowers, the fat lady and her midge husband; Capt. Russell, the strong man; Lindy's hop, fun-on-the-farm, a ferris wheel, the 1923 Tilt-a-Whirl, the ship, the sea-plane, the mix-up, the caterpillar and other rides and amusement novelties.

The shows will be in the city until Saturday night.

BUNION RACERS LEAVE TULSA IN MARATHON GRIND

(By Associated Press.) TULSA, Okla., April 17.—Approach of the cross-country marathon caravan toward the "center of population" has left the 77 remaining runners and walkers confronting the added handicap of enthusiastic spectators.

While autograph seekers and persons demanding interviews failed to slow Peter Gavuzzi on the 41.7 mile lap from Britton yesterday, some of the athletes showed their displeasure when questioned by motorists, many of whom slowed their cars to keep pace with the runners. Several complained of gas fumes from the cars.

Gavuzzi, who recently carried the colors of Southampton, Eng., to first place in elapsed time, arrived from Britton in 4:47 flat. His elapsed time for the 1,619 miles from Los Angeles was 270:41:05. This gave him a lead of more than an hour over Andrew Payne, of Claremore, Oklahoma, who has dropped to second place since entering his home state.

The caravan moves to Chelsea today, 42 miles east of here.

Wagner To Battle Mandell In Detroit

DETROIT, April 17 (AP)—Eddie (Kid) Wagner, of Philadelphia, who recently upset the dope by winning for the negro lightweight, Bruce Flowers, opposes Sammy Mandell, 135-pound titleholder in a 10-round boxing contest here tonight. The bout is billed as a non-championship affair, it being stipulated that Wagner shall weigh in over the lightweight limit.

TEXAS LEAGUE OFFERS HEAVY PITCHING ODDS

(By Associated Press.)

Good pitching seems to be the order of the day with several Texas League teams. It was the feature of three games yesterday, and was contributed by both rookies and veterans.

Recruit Beats Sports

At Dallas, Bob Geary, a newcomer to the circuit, held the Shreveport Sports to five hits, and led the Steers to a 2 to 1 victory. The win evened up the series. Homer Blankenship turned in nearly as good an exhibition of twirling as he let the Dallas men down likewise with five safeties.

A veteran, Tom Payne of Wichita Falls, contributed the best hurling of the day. He allowed the Fort Worth Panthers but three hits, two of which came in the second inning and gave Fort Worth, its only run. Walkup and burns also were right, and held the Spudders to five safe blows. The score was Wichita Falls 4, Fort Worth 1.

Another hurler to hold the opposition to five safeties was Dana Filming. Behind his good pitching the San Antonio Bears played fast baseball and slugged the ball with enthusiasm to win from the Waco Cubs, 8 to 2. Catcher Wolgamot of Waco provided the hitting feature with a home run in the third inning.

The Houston Buffs won undisputed position of second place in the league column by beating the Beaumont Exporters, 10 to 7. The victory was the Buffs' third straight over Beaumont. Both clubs hit mightily, Houston getting 14 safeties and Beaumont 7.

San Antonio baseball club was sent today to the Albany club of the Eastern League. Details of the deal were not announced.

GILBERT-GARBO RUSSIAN FILM IS BOOKED HERE

John Gilbert, and Greta Garbo, who as a team scored one of the most sensational movie successes in "Flesh and the Devil," and whose real-life romance immediately following furnished gossip for film fans the world over, appear again for the first time since in "Love," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular filmization of "Anna Karenina," Tolstoy's classic of Russia, which will be shown for three days starting Thursday at the Palace Theatre.

The new picture, one of the most gorgeous and spectacular film romances of the season, prescribes roles that perhaps fit them better than any others that could be imagined. Gilbert, splendidly uniformed, is seen as the debonair and romantic Count Vronsky with Miss Garbo in the role of tragic Anna, who sacrifices all for love; only to be dogged by a strange and sinister doom.

Edmund Goulding directed the new picture which was staged on a lavish scale.

Spectacular reproductions of Russian castles, a great cathedral, thrilling series of maneuvers of Russian officers and other elaborate detail form a background for this vivid story of the love between a young count and a heroine.

COOLIDGE WARNS AGAINST SURRENDER OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT URGING AGAINST FEDERAL BUSINESS PURSUITS

WASHINGTON, April 16. — A warning to those who are "willing to surrender local self-government to federal agencies or private interests was couched by President Coolidge last night with an admonition against putting the government in the field of business.

Addressing the Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the President elaborated extensively on those two themes but gave no indication whether his views were prompted by recent incidents or legislative proposals before the federal congress.

Surrender of Government
Observing that there are always "those who are willing to surrender local self-government and turn over their affairs to some national authority in exchange for a payment of money out of the federal treasury," the President continued:

"Whenever they find that some abuse needs correction in their neighborhood, instead of applying the remedy themselves, they seek to have a tribunal sent on from Washington to discharge their duties for them, regardless of the fact that in accepting such supervision they are surrendering away their freedom."

Government, Mr. Coolidge said, must be kept out of business. "If the people are to remain politically free they must be economically free," he asserted. "Their only hope in that direction is for them to keep their own business in their own hands."

Public Ownership
He expressed a belief that public ownership leads inevitably to a "position of entrenched selfishness, where a great body of public employees and large outside interests are in virtual control, with the general public paying a high cost for poor service. With all the care that it is possible to exercise, he said, "a situation of this kind becomes entangled in favoritism and is always in great danger of causing corruption and scandal."

Stressing local self-government as his topic and emphasizing that for this ideal the revolution was fought to the end that the individual might be "free to manage his own affairs, whether they were economic, political or religious," the President continued:

"At certain times and in certain places we have been neglectful of it, and the power of self government, instead of being retained by the people, has been exercised by those who were serving their own private interests rather than the public welfare. But the people have always aroused themselves and recaptured the control of their own affairs."

States Rights Explained
Turning to state rights, he said: "We have long since realized that we have become one nation. But it is a nation founded on individual states. Their rights are always to be scrupulously regarded. Unless their actions are such as to violate the Constitution and seriously interfere with the rights of other states, they should be left to solve their own problems in their own way under the pressure of public opinion, rather than have outside authority step in to attempt to solve it for them."

"If we are going to have local self-government with all of its advantages, we can not escape from some of its limitations. When authority is located afar off it is necessarily less well informed, less sympathetic and less responsive to public requirements. When it is close at hand, it is more likely to be executed publicly and in the public interest. Having a personal contact, it is more humane and more charitable. On the other hand, rights cannot be long preserved unless they are accompanied by a discharge of obligations. States rights cannot be used indefinitely to perpetuate national wrongs."

Theory of Society
Our theory of society, Mr. Coolidge went on in opposing public operation of business, rests on a higher level than communism. We want our people to be the owners of their own property in their own right. We recognize that they are all capitalists by nature. We want them to be all capitalists in fact.

Theories based on government operation of business, he argued, fail to take into account the "fundamental characteristics of humanity." "The very essence of business is the expectation of a profit on the part of those who conduct it. . . . When business is in private hands it is expected to be run for the benefit of the owner. When the government steps in, the purchaser, users and beneficiaries of what the government undertakes to supply insist that the concern should be conducted for their benefit. It does not eliminate selfishness, it simply transfers it in part from the seller to the purchaser. Under these conditions it ceases to be a real business, becomes lacking in enterprise and initiative and does not have any motive to provide improved service."

Effects of Monopoly
"If it is desirable to protect the people in their freedom and independence, if it is desirable to avoid the blighting effects of monopoly supported by the money of the taxpayer, if it is desirable to prevent the existence of a privileged class, if it is desirable to shield public officials from the influence of propaganda and the acute pressure of unbridled selfishness, if it is desirable to keep the government unencumbered and clean, with an eye single to the public service, we shall leave the conduct of our private business with the individual, where it belongs, and not undertake to unload it on the government."

No Entertainment Lacking
Nothing will be lacking for the entertainment of the visitors, Mr. Rix said and it will be the duties of all citizens to see that the friendly hand of welcome and greeting is always extended.

The advance guard of delegates will arrive here tonight and through out tomorrow officials said today.

Jones 'Prosperity' Bill Draws Favor

WASHINGTON, April 17. — The "prosperity" reserve bill of Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, setting up a vast public works program to be used by the president whenever employment drops was ordered favorably reported today by the senate commerce committee.

The bill would authorize to be appropriated in addition to the regular amounts for such purposes, $75,000,000 for road construction, $50,000,000 for river and harbor work, $10,000,000 for flood control, and $15,000,000 for construction of public buildings.

Appropriations, however, would be made only upon the request of the president when the volume of contracts awarded for construction work has fallen 10 per cent for a three months period below the average of the corresponding three month periods of the preceding three years.

SNYDER PLANS TO ENTERTAIN ROAD LEADERS

DAL PASO ASS'N WILL MEET THURSDAY TO ELECT OFFICERS

SNYDER, April 17. — County Judge Dixie Kilgore of Lamesa, in attendance at an early get-together session of the Dal Paso Cavern Highway association, which will hold their first annual election of officers at Snyder, Thursday April 19th, stated among other truths that the association had rendered a remarkable service in their first year of work.

Judge Kilgore said "Some of the outstanding accomplishments of the organization for the past year include state designation of the route from Lamesa west to the New Mexico line; the naming of the association, publicity for the entire route in all Texas dailies with national news services putting it on their trunk wires, a closer friendship of all towns along the route, three special called meetings, straightening of the route and shortening curves." Judge Kilgore completed his remarks by stating "that traffic has increased over 50 per cent on the route."

In connection with the meeting here the State Highway Department announced Thursday that in Fisher county between Roby and Anson that repairs were now being made to a part of the route here, before impossible when it rained, that will make this particular section an all the year around road.

The entire stretch of about three miles is being eliminated by a new route that will also cut four right angles away from the road.

A banquet will be served at noon Thursday with Judge Fritz R. Smith as toastmaster. Supt. C. Wedgeworth of Snyder schools will deliver the address of welcome. Responses will be made by secretaries of the chamber of commerce all along the route of the Dal Paso highway.

Oratorical Finals Slated For Friday

The finals in this district for the National Oratorical contest which is sponsored by The Fort Worth Star-Telegram for high school students of Texas will be held at the high school Friday afternoon at two o'clock, R. W. Matthews, principal of the high school said today.

Four students from this district of 20 counties are competing. They are: Marj Francis Akard of Lubbock; W. E. Cox of Lamesa; Floyd Eaves of Lorenzo and Curtis Bishop of Big Spring.

AIR MAIL ROUTE BY BROWNSVILLE TO MEXICO SEEN

HOUSTON, April 17. — That the international air mail route from New York to Mexico City may be by way of Brownsville rather than Laredo was indicated in a dispatch received by Postmaster Roy B. Nichols announcing inauguration Monday of air mail service between the Mexican capital and Tampico and a passenger service between the Mexican oil town and the border at Matamoros.

Bids have been authorized by the postmaster general at Washington for a route from New Orleans via Houston to connect with Mexican lines either at Laredo or Brownsville. It is believed that this line will be in operation by this fall.

W. Irving Glover, first assistant postmaster general, and R. S. Reagat, third assistant, will be in Houston Saturday enroute to the annual convention of the Texas Postmasters association at Brownsville next week.

Notorious Outlaw In Mexico Killed

MEXICO CITY, April 17. — Angel Alquiagas, notorious outlaw and only survivor of the band which in September, 1926, murdered Jacob Rosenthal of New York, was under arrest today.

Rosenthal, a retired merchant, was captured by an armed group as he was motoring from Cuernavaca. He was carried into the mountains and held for ransom. Efforts to rescue him failed and he was stabbed to death by the outlaws when troops overtook them.

All the bandits except Alquiagas were captured and killed when they attempted to escape. Alquiagas has been living in the mountains until he was captured near Xochimilco.

There is only One way to save money on Motor Oil

NEVER let your crankcase receive a drop of oil that you do not absolutely know to be able to protect every moving motor part and to keep your motor running smoothly at any speed. Thereby you get real value in long motor service. Thereby you avoid costly repairs. You cannot make this economy if you buy cheap or unbranded oil. Rather, you face quick depreciation, scored cylinders, unnecessary carbon, burned bearings, loose pistons.

Economize by insisting on Conoco Motor Oil—a known product, unvarying in quality. Refined to save cars. Each dealer has a Conoco Motor Oil chart showing the correct grade for your car and model.

EXCHANGE FOR GRAIN TRADING STARTED HERE

14 CHARTER MEMBERS IN GROUP NAME OFFICERS MONDAY NIGHT

The creation of a Lubbock Grain exchange, with fourteen charter members, resulted from a meeting of representatives of grain firms from Fort Worth, Dallas, Amarillo, Amarillo, and Lubbock here last night. More than 25 grain men were present.

Following the organization of the exchange, instructions were made to start arrangements for the securing of a federal grain inspector for Lubbock who will test grain shipments into and out of Lubbock.

Success and methods of the Fort Worth and other exchanges were explained to the group by Tom West, of the West Grain company. The West company was one of the charter members and Mr. West was elected as one of the five directors. Other directors were: J. C. Crouch, Dallas, manager of the Perry-Burris Elevators, owners of the new 500,000 bushel elevator here; S. E. Cone, S. H. Weaver and George Roach, all of Lubbock.

S. E. Cone was elected temporary chairman of the group and Sam Weaver, secretary.

Talks explaining the benefits derived from such an exchange were made by Fred Honea, general manager of the Morton Milling company, of Dallas; J. C. Crouch of Dallas; and others.

The movement was given the hearty endorsement of the local banks, representatives of each being present.

The charter members of the organization are: West Grain company, Fort Worth; Perry-Burris Elevators, Dallas; Lubbock Grain & Coal, Kearney Grain company, Kimbro & Son, Economy Mills, First National bank, Citizens National bank, W. A. Motley, Weaver Brothers and Stanton Milling company, Lubbock; Amherst Elevator company, Amherst; J. C. Crouch Grain company, Dallas; and Beasley Grain company, Amarillo.

LINDY REFUSES TO BE BOTHERED ON WICHITA TRIP

(By Associated Press)
WICHITA, Kas., April 17.—The avocation of assisting Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in taking his new monoplane to wherever he is bound today found the Wichita unit of his volunteer reserve corps recruited to full strength, but with little prospect of active service.

Swooping out of the west late yesterday, Lindbergh demonstrated a three-point landing to the few persons who happened to be at Swallow Field and immediately started to inspect his ship.

Had Good Flight
He said he had had a good flight from Denver, which city he left about noon, but declined to discuss his plans. His two companions of the eastward flight from California, Harry Knight and Harold Bixby of St. Louis, also were silent.

"Are you going to New York to welcome the crew of the German plane?" he was asked.

"We have no definite plans as to that," he replied.

He then took tools and began tinkering with the engine. Informing that reservations had been made for him at a leading hotel, he thanked his informant and shortly retired to another hotel. He declined to participate in an entertainment program arranged in his honor.

Postal receipts in Corpus Christi for first quarter of 1928 showed increase of 9.7 per cent over same period of 1927.

Dallas 208 mile track being constructed by Fort Worth and Denver railway in South Plains section will be completed in June.

Sinton—New fire station will be constructed here at Kohler avenue and Market street.

INCREASE SHOWN IN SCHOLASTICS IN CITY IS 552

Showing an increase of 552 children over the past year, the scholastic census of the Lubbock city schools for the present year is 4,120 children, the report of P. F. Brown, census trustee of the district, which was turned into County Superintendent W. M. Pevehouse and School Tax Collector A. C. Jackson today showed.

This represents the school children of the city between the ages of 7 and 17 years. The total enrollment of the schools, counting the children below seven years and those above 17, is near the 4700 mark, officials say.

Of the census total, there are 72 more boys in the schools than girls, something unusual for the city. There are 2101 boys enrolled in the census and 2029 girls.

The city's colored enrollment totals 168.

There are three deaf and dumb children listed in the census. Last year's census total was 3508.

Littlefield Youth Hurt In Explosion

Leon Summers, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Summers, of Littlefield, suffered the loss of four fingers from his left hand yesterday afternoon when a dynamite cap exploded in his hands. He also received cuts and bruises on the left hand and face.

Explosion of the cap resulted from the lad's picking it with a match. He was brought to the Lubbock sanitarium in a bus from Littlefield last night for treatment by his aunt, Mrs. D. A. Kelley, of Littlefield. His parents were in Amarillo at the time of the accident.

Police Have Busy Day Here Monday

Yesterday was a rather busy day at the police station and at the close of the docket last night, 13 individuals had contributed $118 to the treasury. Six speeders paid assessments of $5 each while five drunks were taxed $15 each. Other fines paid were fighting, $10, disturbing the peace, $15 and running an amber light, $3.

The fines brought the total paid in for the month to $566.

Eight New Autos Registered Monday

Eight new automobiles were registered in Lubbock yesterday boosting the total of new cars sold in the county during April to 118. This figure places the number of new machines registered in the county since January 1 to 439, the records of County Tax Collector I. F. Holland show.

New cars were registered by F. E. Crume, W. L. Woodruff, G. Barron, M. G. McLarty, W. D. Fowler and C. T. Fields, Lubbock; R. L. Smith, J. Skaton and H. H. Sides, Idaho.

PLAINS CO-OP STARTED HERE

ORGANIZATION TO DEAL IN EGGS, CHICKENS, TURKEYS, ETC.

The formation of a South Plains Co-operative Marketing association to deal in the sale of eggs, turkeys, and chickens, loomed as a certainty yesterday afternoon following a short conference of farm leaders from Dawson, Garza, Hockley and Lubbock counties in the court house. Leaders present in the meeting included: Knox Parr, Garza county agent; S. A. Dehman, Hockley county agent; C. B. Martin, Dawson county agent; Miss Jackson, Dawson county home demonstration agent; W. A. Wilson, secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce; M. Mitchell, Dawson county farm bureau field representative; W. I. bureau field representative; W. I. grower, Yates, chairman of Hockley county agricultural committee and others.

Decision was made to organize the above mentioned association and to extend an invitation to all South Plains counties to co-operate in the movement, a meeting for that purpose to be held here Tuesday, April 24. Presidents and secretaries of the chambers of commerce, county and home demonstration agents, and two growers from each county are to be invited to the meeting.

Aged Woman Hurt In Strange Accident

Mrs. J. R. Burrus, mother of Claud and Jim Burrus, of Lubbock, suffered bruise on the body and a severe laceration above the right eye when she was jarred out of a car in which her son, Charles, of Abilene, was bringing her from Abilene to Lubbock yesterday.

The accident occurred just south of Snyder yesterday at noon. Mrs. Burrus, falling out of the car through a door which was jostled open by a stretch of rough road. She was given medical attention at Snyder and later brought to the West Texas hospital here where she was resting nicely this morning.

"PLAIN" MR. HOOVER

How Hoover Met Mississippi Disaster

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of four articles describing the life of the President-elect, Herbert Hoover, and the seventh in a series of Presidential Campaign Portraits written for The Journal and NEA Service by Robert Talley. Tomorrow will begin the story of Governor Al Smith.

By ROBERT TALLEY

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—The spring of 1927 saw the worst flood in the history of the Mississippi valley. Six hundred and fifty thousand people were homeless, barns and houses were floating down toward the Gulf, crumbling levees had chased thousands to the refuge camps on the banks of the river. The wake of grim desolation was everywhere.

In this crisis President Coolidge called Hoover as director of the relief effort. The man who had led a clothed hunger and poverty fight went among his own people on a similar mission.

Hoover wasted no time. Even before he left Washington, the telephone and telegraph wires were ringing.

Many tents did the army find. Send 40,000 of them.

More and such cities. Get more ready for use when war.

Send every available cot like Memphis and Vicksburg.

Ship 200,000 army blankets.

Under all small boats, barges and like.

Select sites on high ground for refugee camps. Set up telegraphs and radios.

See that every refugee camp is inoculated against cholera and vaccinated against typhoid.

Get army engineers to build levees and to dig canals.

Get clothing, food, medicine, mosquito netting, anything possible in the flood as to steady the markets.

much as possible.

His first task was to get the minds of readers to repetition here, but it might show how Hoover went described the task thus:

The first thing to consider at all is to get all those people out of the flood.

Is Your Appetite Poor?

Sleep Broken?

Port Arthur, Texas.—"I was all run down, my appetite was poor, my sleep was broken, and I was at a loss as to what to do to regain my health when someone advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so, and it was really a surprise to me how quickly I began to feel better and pick up. A few bottles put me in good health and since then I go for a bottle of the 'Discovery' just as soon as I begin to go down in health. It is a wonderful tonic."—G. W. Wagon, 620-7th St.

Thought For Today
When I was a child I spake as a child.—1 Cor. 13:11.

A man looketh on his little one
as a being of better hope, in himself ambition is dead, but it hath
a resurrection in his son.—Tupper.

Fetters Gall
A WATCHMAN on a steamship pier in Philadelphia says he can tell when spring has come without looking at the calendar, the thermometer or even the weather.

As soon as spring approaches,
the watchman finds that a horde
of boys besets his pier. They try to sneak past him to get aboard
the steamers. When they are caught, they admit that the urge to travel is on them, and talk of shipping as seamen for Rio Capetown or Ternate. When spring passes they bother him no more,
and in the fall and winter he does not see them. But next spring they swarm about just as before.

It would be interesting to consider the origin of this yearning
for movement that arrives with the spring. All of us are subject to it. When the winds mild and careless and the dawn is an early toilet, we want to wander. It is not without significance that May 1 is the great moving day in the city. Unable to venture to distant lands, the citizen compromises by moving into the next block but
one. The spring bequeaths him into thinking that it will be pleasant
there.

All of this has a meaning. The winds of April blow the mists of custom from our eyes and we can see better. We discover that we have been shamelessly cheated of our heritage. We were born to joy chances and broad fields, yet behold! Here we are, somehow, crouched up in shops and offices, or chained to higgledy farms, spending our lives in prosaic toiling getting and spending and never knowing so much as a glimpse of that rich, unexplored life of which we know we are capable.

So naturally enough we want to go away. Below the equator, surely,
the bonds of this workaday world will not be so tight. We have been defrauded of our patri-mony here at home; perhaps if we venture to Siam or Socotra we can get justice.

Well, we can't go, and that ends
it. But at least we know. No one can tell us in the spring that the spring is the chief end of existence; to tug up dollars and mint the lachrymose maxims of thrifty stardusts. We are sons of eternity, and life is everlasting, free and noble. Let the letters of circumstance hold us never so tightly, that knowledge is ours. We know our rights, even if we can't get them.

Traffic Deaths
SPRING is a morning-toil-accident city. Police in a big midwestern city are staging an elaborate "drive" on traffic offenders.
A score of extra motorcycle officers are patrolling the streets,
and tickets are being handed out
at a rate of more than 150 a day.
This "drive" will last one month.

It's a good idea—but why end it in a month? Sooner or later we will have to realize that our big city-traffic problem needs the attention of augmented traffic squads
all the time day in and day out.
Our fatal traffic fatalities are a frightful thing. Every large city owes it to its citizens to double its traffic squad and put on a
"drive" that will last 365 days of the year.

The Sahara
For centuries the Sahara desert
has been synonymous for all that is arid, desolate and unproductive.
In the not-so-distant future, however, we may have to revise our idea. The French government is preparing to survey a route for a great trans-Sahara railroad, which would open up to world markets the vast fertile hinterland of the Niger
region.

The Sahara itself probably will never grow much. But the French expect that their railroad opening
it would measurably increase their supply of agricultural products. The Sahara would cease to be a barrier.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says you can catch a man with face powder
but you can hold him better with baking powder.

Ben Loving, who for 40 years
has lived an honest life among the people of Arizona, is a free
man in mind as well as in body.
For Governor Dan Moody recently granted him his freedom
after he had been listed as an escaped Texas convict for 44
years.

Back in 1882 Ben Loving was sentenced to serve two years in the Texas penitentiary for false swearing in a Llano county hog stealing case. After serving a year, three months and 27 days he walked away from a convict camp and was never heard of by Texas officials
again until the other day, when a petition, signed by scores of indignant Arizona citizens, asked Governor Moody to remove the blight
from his record.

The Plainsman is glad Governor Moody granted clemency to Ben Loving. The chances are that he has paid in very much more than the debt which he originally owed society. And,
again, since he has lived two score years in Arizona and has lived so well that the highest officials of the state recognize him as an honest, respectable citizen, why shouldn't he be free? Our prisons are supposed to be basically houses of correction. Since Loving has done
his own correcting why should
he be punished further?

A careful checkup following the first annual show of the Panhandle Plains Dairy association has revealed that Plainview has but a mere three hundred dollar deficit
and that that deficit is actually practically made up already.

That is a good report. Plainview's
business men have done themselves proud in their support of this new phase of progress upon the South Plains. Directors of the association made no mistake when they voted to make a survey, the permanent home of the association's annual show and sale. Such spirit is deserving of commendation.

Governor Moody is coming to Lubbock within the next few weeks
to tell the voters what he wants in the way of a Democratic platform
and how he believes Texas should talk to the balance of the party
when delegates gather at Houston
in June.

As the Governor is the leader
of his party, the Plainsman
supposes it is essential for him
to take the stump in the party's behalf. Probably he is only doing it because he believes that the duty part of his work as the guiding spirit of Texas Democrats. But under all it seems a pity that we demand a Governor to leave his important office on such whirling masses,
speaking here there and everywhere under all kinds of adverse conditions just because it has to be done by somebody.

That Man on Avenue Q says he can't remember how old his youngest child is but he does remember that she came between the second payment on the car and the fourth installment on the radio.

A Kelly Field flier is charged with reckless and hazardous flying in violation of the army air service regulations. It seems that he forced an automobile into a ditch
as he playfully dashed along in one of Uncle Sam's sky speedsters.

The Plainsman doesn't suppose that you can call such a thing a crime—not in this day and age. Yet there is a time coming when too
much money-business in the air
will be just about as dangerous as too much money-business in the auto is today. So, with that in mind,
perhaps we'd better lay our plans
not to officially frown on such things so more lives may be saved
in the future.

Crobyton is planning a new $40,000 hotel, actual construction of which is to begin this year. In no doubt Crobyton is profiting by Lubbock's mistake of when Lubbock was even a much larger place than Crobyton
the hotel facilities here were not up to snuff and we had no
little work to do to make the situation better.

Out here in West Texas, where everything is new, we can all profit
by the overcautions of others. No place is too small to profit by the error
of a larger place and no place is so large that it can not learn a public lesson from one considerably
smaller.

Seventy pounds of hails were plucked from the highways of Curry county, New Mexico, by the New Mexico highway department's magnetized road machine the other day.
That's more mail than are picked up on South Plains highways even
by automobile tires.

These fellows who preach optimism.
In face of a man's hardest luck,
Very often forget all their preach-
ings.
When life's woes they're called on
to buck.

tem under way.

Rodney Dutcher Discusses Norris' Support Of Howell Free Democrats And Hoover's Campaign For Presidency

IN NEW YORK
SEE-SAVING
AND
BROADWAY

NEW YORK, April 17.—Scattered
notes from a ramble about Manhattan. A jewel-studded lighter in a Fifth Avenue window priced at $1000. And I'll wager that it fails to work quite as often as does my $1.98 moult.

The swanky young ladies who casually lead their "daddies" past the Rolls-Royce show room.
The organ grinder with the trained parrot who blocks traffic almost nightly at Times Square.
If he'd have an arm amputated he'd be the living replica of Long John Silver.

The bootlegger who operates among the graves in the old Trinity churchyard at the foot of Broadway. And the fellow in Times Square who slips "you cards" telling of the "wild time"
to be had at such-and-such a secret rendezvous. A troupe of vaudeville midgets out for a walk, and looking like people of Lilliput in the maze of traffic.

A side-show giant strolling with his sweetie. The quick-money
rackets that have sprung up on Broadway. Everglades from fake auctions to fake stock racketees. The increasing number of attractive girls one sees staggering about the side streets in these prohibition days. Most of the Manhattan speakies—no
let women come into the bars.
And pay no attention to age, seemingly. It's pretty depressing
at times.

Speaking of speakies and prohibition, New Jersey is now the favorite Saturday night commuting point for seekers of what Walter Winchell has named "apple water."
Weehawken but a five-cent
ferry ride away, has become almost nationally famous for its steak-and-beer emporiums. Jersey City operates with the lid completely lifted.
There is not even the pretense of doorbells and secret passwords
which most of Manhattan demands.
One after another the swinging doors of bar rooms invite patronage. No questions are asked. Jersey breweries are reported to be operating full time and New York
is supplied largely from across the river.

Jersey City seems to be one of the last stands of the old-fashioned girl-and-beer hall. There still are pianos that play for a nickel and girls who can be danced with for two-bits, and a loud-voiced host who constantly invites visitors to
"buy another round."
Folks from the "old home town"
invariably turn out in young regiments whenever a son or daughter of the old neighborhood makes good in New York. Oft-times, as in the case of Marian Talley,
the home town will hire a private train
and come all the way to Manhattan
to give the little girl a hand.

Shrewd concert managers and producers use this sense of civic pride to swell their audiences.
Practically every state has a society in New York and most of the big cities are represented by clubs.
Whenever a performer learns the home town of a performer he circulates these societies and generally they turn out en masse.

Which reminds me that one of the most talked-of paintings being exhibited in New York at the present moment is not another of the ultra-modernist importations from Europe, but a pastoral reproduction

of "the old tavern at Hammondsville, Ohio," by Charles Burchfield.

Just how many talent-artists are hidden about New York is revealed each year when the Independent artists have their show on the Waldorf roof, and anyone with twobits in his pocket can exhibit. This year an elevator operator, a post-
man, a police sergeant, a plumber and a telephone operator were among the individuals to reveal their secret passion. And their work was quite as good as some who go about disguised as professional artists.

CITY PLANNING CONFERENCE
On May 7 to 10, inclusive, Dallas
will entertain the annual meeting of the National City Planning conference, an organization with membership in all the larger cities of the United States. The aims of the organization and its annual conventions are to study the needs of growing cities and to discuss the questions arising out of such growth.
It is claimed that modern cities are finding it rather expensive to correct the mistakes made when they were first planned and laid out upon the grounds. It has been found the streets were too narrow, the business districts were not made
large enough, that proper attention
and thought had not been given to parks. In fact the cities have been let grow in a haphazard way, without any thought of the future.

At the meeting in May there will be speakers discussing what should be done under such conditions and how certain corrections could be made. The mistakes of cities in their early life, or before the city began to expand, will be pointed out, so as to warn the builders of present day cities what to expect.
It is said it has cost the city of Dallas almost one hundred million dollars to make corrections in plans which were adopted in the early life of the city when few people realized
what Dallas was to be at this time.

While Childress is a small town
and may never grow to be very large, yet right now one can see the mistakes in which were given in the early history of the city. There is scarcely a business man in the city but who would like to see broader streets, the business district more clearly marked, with greater attention given to parks and pleasure places within the city.
But from now on it will cost lots of money to make the changes, and
the longer the time the greater the cost. If possible Childress should have representatives at this meeting to learn first hand what to do and how to do it. Childress Index to these has been a great deal of money wasted in town building, because of the failure to plan ahead
for the building of cities. True
many towns never grow to any size,
and never amount to anything, but there are many other towns that grow and grow, and make large cities, and this is the class that should see well to the planning of everything that goes into the building of a city.

The city planning organization
no doubt is of vast importance and the work that they expect to do will be worth many millions of dollars
in the future to many towns that will some day make a city.

We believe there is yet much that can be saved to Lubbock in planning wisely improvements in the future, and if we have a representative at this meeting it would be time and money well spent.

A Republican is a man who believes that the Democrats got some thing from Harry Sinclair, too.

D. A. R. SESSION GIVEN OVER TO BUSINESS TALK

BITTER DEBATE IS SEEN ON RESOLUTIONS TO BE OFFERED

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 17.—Having heard President Coolidge warn against the destruction of local self government, and other prominent speakers on preparedness, the 37th continental congress, daughters of the American Revolution, dispensed with speeches today and turned to the more business-like activity of considering resolutions.

Pre-convention rumblings of discontent among a small group of society members over the policy of the national officers in blacklisting national speakers and supporting the naval building bill failed to break out on the surface at the first session.

Opportunity Seen Today
Today, however, such an opportunity presented itself with the receipt and debate of the report of the resolutions committee.

Indications were that the proposals would take the form of a resolution to be introduced from the floor demanding that the national officers in the future announce no national policy without first submitting it to the rank and file of the membership of the society for consideration and endorsement.

This prediction was made by Mrs. St. Omer Roy, secretary of the women's international league for peace and freedom and an official delegate from Fort Scott, Kansas.

The national organization, she felt, is getting away from the principles of its founders, and would today "condemn as Red" Patrick Henry and the other patriots from whom they proudly claim descent.

Referendum Disapproval
Disapproval of the idea of a referendum on national policies was expressed by Mrs. Herbert Backus.

Today In Congress

(By Associated Press) Senate continues debate of naval bill, while house takes up Mississippi flood control. Senate Teapot Dome committee resumes oil inquiry. Ty reduction, coal and cotton price hearings continue before other senate committees.

Anti-injunction bill again comes before house judiciary committee.

House interstate commerce committee continues study of Parker bus regulation bill.

Regulation and manufacture of oleomargarine before house agriculture committee.

Gray Court House To Be Auctioned Off

PAMPA, April 17.—After having served the county for the last 26 years, the old Gray county courthouse, at LeFors will be sold at public auction on May 14.

This auction was necessitated when it was voted at a recent election to move the county seat from LeFors, an inland town where it had been since 1902, to Pampa. After the sale of the building, the land will revert to J. M. Shaw, who donated it.

Elections were held in 1908, 1912, and 1925 for the removal of the county seat, but LeFors adherents were victorious.

LINEN MAGNATE DIES

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, April 17.—Sir Robert Liddell, Ulster linen magnate with extensive American associations, died today. He was managing director of William Liddell and company, Ltd.

state regent of Ohio, who pointed out that the D. A. R. is a delegated body and held the referendum system would weaken the authority of the delegates.

Indications that the national officers would be upheld should the referendum proposal be offered was given by the Massachusetts delegation which voted to support Mrs. Alfred J. Brouseau, president-general, and the "national society in all its projects."

LITTLE CHANCE EXPECTED FOR BIG BUSINESS

TEXANS INTERESTED IN VIEWS OF BANKERS ASS'N LEADERS

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, April 16.—The opinion of Melvin A. Preston, president of the Hamilton National Bank of Chattanooga that little change from 1927 conditions may take place in the business world in 1938, and that of Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, which injects a sardonic note in his survey of the stock market activities are viewed with interest by Texas bankers. The two men are president and past president of the American Bankers' association, which held its last convention here.

No Disturbance Seen
"It seems that business for 1938 will be about like 1927," Mr. Preston said in his survey. "The presidential election will not, in my opinion, seriously disturb business. The country is too large and too on too firm a foundation for this to give the public any particular anxiety. Speculation in stocks, of course, give concern to all. The continued advance of securities covers a longer period than we have ever had before and the volume of trading has broken all records but in view of the fact that the wealth of the country has increased so rapidly and securities of corporations are now so widely distributed, this is not as serious as it appears, though it is believed that the market will settle down soon to a normal pace. While loans to brokers seem very large, it should be remembered that the total now represents only about eight per cent of the market value of all securities listed upon the stock exchange. Most industries are operating on practically a normal basis and crop prospects, so far as they may be judged at this time, seem reasonably favorable. Credit conditions continue easy throughout the country."

Traylor's Statement
Mr. Traylor prefaces his statement with an outline of what he calls a satisfactory first quarter business condition in the Chicago territory, except that complaints continue about lack of a satisfactory margin of profit, and then touches upon the recent performance of the stock market, which left the "more conservative element of bankers and business men rapping. The tendency," he said, "to disregard intrinsic or liquidating values, and especially the theory that stocks should sell on a minimum of fifteen times their earnings, without regard to assets, may be correct under existing conditions—but there are apparently a few supposedly sound thinkers whose vision is not nimble enough to enable them to discount future possibilities. Those benighted old timers have a feeling that some people now operating in the stock market are due for the headache of the morning after, to say nothing of the fact that such performances as have occurred during the last month or so have about them."

SCIENCE ACTIVE

Auto And Boat Are Driven About By Radio Control

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, April 17.—Radio controlled, an automobile glided about and a six foot boat under its own steam plowed the water at the two-day engineering show at Rice Institute here where science stepped out and students put it through its mysterious paces.

A "wootus" an iron-made animal, ate fire and barked with a roar unlike the discharge of a cannon. A Tesla high frequency coil stepped electricity up to 1,000,000 cycles, passed harmlessly through spectators and illuminated an electric light globe. A smoke precipitator evaporated smoke, a beam of light automatically counted the number of visitors who passed in front of it, synthetic jewels were made from aluminum and in the biology department the blood circulation of a frog and the beating heart of an earthworm were clearly visible.

Tracing Electrons
In the physics department the path of an electron, the smallest division of matter, was traced through an artificial fog while the lecturer told the spectators that if each person in the United States were to collect a million electrons per second for the next five million years the combined weight would be less than an ounce. In the same department liquid air was made and cathode rays demonstrated and in another room steel balls unguided bounced continuously from one steel block to another to demonstrate the precision of their manufacture.

The demonstrations were parts of the fourth annual engineering show at the institute which was said to equal anything of the kind anywhere.

City Water Tower Destroyed By Fire

The tower above the city water pump number two was destroyed last night shortly before ten o'clock by a fire of undetermined origin. The tower had been almost completely destroyed when the department arrived, a stream of water from their lines toppling the structure to the ground.

The damage is thought to be confined only to the loss of the tower which was a wooden structure. The engine is thought to be unhurt. No clue could be found to an origin of the fire.

OPERA STAR DIES

CHICAGO, April 17.—Vittorio Arimondi, 65, one of the best known basso-profundos in Chicago, a former member of the Chicago Civic Opera, the Metropolitan Opera and the Milan Opera companies, died, yesterday.

the inherent weaknesses which in the past have led to political tinkering, if not legislative interference, which those responsible for the management of such affairs might have avoided if more attention had been given to certain practices. These same old timers also believe that the laws of gravity have not been permanently suspended with regard to the price of stocks.

DAIRY COW IS BIG FACTOR IN FARM SUCCESS

AIDS OWNER AND ASKS NOTHING IN RETURN EXCEPT HER KEEP

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, April 17.—The dairy cow is a live factor in the farming industry in Texas. H. M. Madison, agricultural agent for the Southern Pacific lines here says, "She never has asked anything except her feed and keep, and in return continually has given back foods and profits to her owner," he said.

"In one county in Texas, where there are many dairy cows, a banker recently told me he had not written a crop mortgage in ten years. At a recent banker's luncheon in Central Texas, one banker referred to the difficulty of establishing a certain farm industry in his territory because most of the farms were financed by landlords and bankers. Another banker living in a dairy section said that most of the farmers in his territory owned their farms and did not need any financing. Most of the entire body of bankers went on record favoring farm loans where farmers kept dairy cows."

Movement Broadens
The movement for dairy cows seems to be broadening. Two letters have come to my hand inquiring for competent managers for creameries. A number of local creameries have been established at sundry points in Texas. One large city is fostering several for its own territory. Two cheese factories have been put into operation and there are reports about others in process of organization. The recent opening of a milk products company at Sherman gives promise of large usefulness. Work on a similar plant at Marshall has begun. These follow an earlier but perhaps smaller plant at San Antonio."

Meanwhile Mr. Madison had found that Texas butter shipments in 1927 were more than four million pounds as compared with none in 1870 when millions of cattle cluttered the range.

The Kansas City mother who actually flogged her daughter and the daughter have been offered a vaudeville contract at $1000 a week. Maybe this would help revive an ancient art.

Mercedes—Construction of 5000, 000 co-operative poultry farm here will begin soon.

Existence Of Bomb Ring Discovered

MILAN, Italy, April 17.—Police intimated today they had discovered the existence of a band of dynamiters whose program went much further than the bomb outrage at the fair grounds on Thursday. The band, they claimed, was operating on the behalf of some vast international organization, anarchistic or otherwise.

A special inspector has gone to Como to question Romolo Tranculli who is being held there in connection with the bombing. Another person, whose identity is cloaked in mystery, was arrested in Milan and is suspected of being the man seen lurking about the scene of the crime the evening before its commission.

With the death of 11-year-old Luigi Gea, the victims today stood at eighteen.

Amarillo-Texas Utilities company and New Mexico Utilities company will build super-power plant to be centrally located in territory served by the two companies.

The woman who cut corners with health

FOR a long time she had gotten by. Living on shoe-string energy. Cutting corners with health. But now she was paying. Enthusiasm, fun, play—they were almost total strangers. Now, the least little thing tired her completely out.

What a tragedy that so many people let constipation go on neglected, doing its deadly work. Constipation saps vital strength. Thieves youth. Mars beauty. And it frequently leads to various diseases in the end.

And the pity is that it is so easy to relieve. So simple to prevent. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring prompt relief. Pleasant, safe prevention!

ALL-BRAN is effective and natural

Bulk or roughage relieves constipation in a natural way. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. It carries moisture throughout the intestines—gently exercising them, sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain sufficient bulk to be completely effective. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran.

So much better than harsh drugs

ALL-BRAN brings lasting relief. Far better than habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased and which are only temporarily effective. An appetizing cereal food.

ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—with fruits or honey added. Use it in cookery, too. Mix it with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But be sure you have genuine Kellogg's. Don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this distinctive guarantee. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.
