Work Started On C. W. A. Projects Here

Expect Thousands To Attend Big County Wide Festival Thursday

Huge Crowd Is Expected Here On December 14

Plans Now Complete For Events Of Day, Free Car And Barbecue

Farmers Invited

Fifteen Beeves, 600 Gallons Coffee, Five Hogs, 1,200 Loaves Bread

With a big, free barbecue, hundreds of merchandise specials and free automobile included in the outline of their plans, the American Legion, Farmer's Co-Op, Gin and Merchants of Wellington looked forward today to one of the largest crowds in the history of Wellington here Thursday, December 14.

Old timers, who will be honored at the barbecue, also looked forward to the event with the anticipation of swapping yarns and musing over old times, while farmers and businessmen, all having been invited to the event, made preparations to attend. The barbecue menu will include 15 beeves, one of which weighed 1,400 pounds and was donated by Roy Tinsley, five hogs, 1,200 loaves of bread and 600 gallons of coffee.

Speakers for the barbecue are F. O. Masten, who will speak in behalf of the Farmers' Co-Operative Society; Judge R. H. Cocke, Honorable John Deaver, district attorney, and Judge J. Ross Bell, Chilless attorney.

Collector Tells Of New Tax Laws

Attention is called to an error in a story issued last week from the tax collector's office concerning poll tax payments. All voting privileges go with 1933 poll tax payments made during the month of January 1934. In other words, Poll Taxes carry voting rights for 1934 if paid on or before January 31, 1934.

33 taxes may be paid during January 1934 without penalty as has been the law for several years. Penalty on delinquent taxes increases to 4 per cent on January 1, 1934.

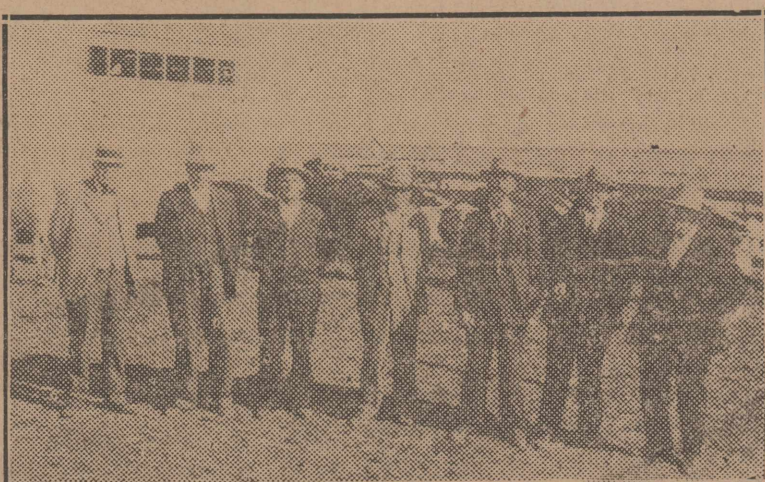

Farmers' truck licenses may be paid during January 1934 for half the regular fee as provided under House Bill No. 53 of the Forty-third Legislature, First Called Session, with the limitations given in the following extract: "When a commercial motor vehicle sought to be registered is of gross weight and pounds of from one to six thousand pounds, or from six thousand and one to eight thousand pounds, and consists of a truck (Continued on Page 12)

Subscriptions Continue To Pour In As Farmers Extend Time On Leader

During the past week, loyal farmers of Collingsworth County continue to place their subscriptions with the Wellington Leader and took advantage of the special bargain rate offer which is now in effect.

Subscribers also continued to offer many reasons for renewing their subscriptions, the most popular reason being "because I simply like the news," "I just can't do without my Leader," and "the advertisements each week save me many times over the small cost of the paper."

Honor Guests At Barbecue Thursday

Pictured above are eight of the Old Timers who will be guests of honor at the Farmer's Co-Op barbecue to be held here Thursday, December 14, on the grounds just South of the Legion Hall. These Old Timers who along with many others will be present for the occasion, are: L. W. Gribble, J. A. Mahan, B. F. Ford, D. D. McWells, Judge P. W. Myers, F. H. Royal, and J. W. Stall.

Every farmer in the county has been invited to attend the big barbecue, which will consist of an enormous amount of meat, bread and coffee.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday For Thomas M. Jones

Old Timer Lived In County For Past 43 Years; Progressive Farmer

Funeral services for Thomas Marion Jones, 50, were held at 2 o'clock from the Buck Creek Church, Tuesday, December 12, conducted by Rev. L. J. Crawford, Rev. W. S. Crawford, and Rev. W. A. Barber.

Mr. Jones came to Collingsworth county in 1890, at the age of seven years and has resided here since that time. During the past 43 years he has seen this county (Continued on Page 12)

Deputy District Head Will Visit County Schools

That Bryan Dickson, deputy superintendent of this educational district of Texas, will visit every school in Collingsworth county starting the last week in January, 1934, was announced today by J. D. Wilson, county superintendent. The announcement followed a meeting of the 12 superintendents of this district in Childress, Saturday. This county was represented by Mr. Wilson and L. D. McMinn, county school board member.

While visiting the schools of this county, Mr. Dickson will inspect (Continued on Page 12)

Schools List 267 Honor Pupils For Past Six Weeks

Increase Of 67 Students Seen Over List Issued At Close Of First Term

Names Are Given

Irregular Attendance And Loss Of Interest Cited As Chief Hindrances

By G. L. Farrar
City School Superintendent
We are submitting below the honor roll for the second six-weeks period of the 1933-34 session of the Wellington Public Schools, 267 names appear on this list. Our first list contained exactly 200 names.

Hence, we have an increase of 67 over that of the first six weeks period, and the enrollment has increased only slightly, if at all. 20 percent of our pupils made the honor roll the first period, whereas 26.7 percent have made the grade the second six-weeks period. This gain of 6.7 percent is healthy and encouraging. It means that more than one-fourth of the pupils in the Wellington Public Schools are making an average grade of "A", or better. Quite a number of them have made straight "A" grades and a few have made straight "A plus" grades. We do not think that any school system in the country can beat this record and that very few can equal it.

Demonstration Is Held At Farms

New curing and canning methods continued to hold interest in the county this week as John O. Stovall, county agent, assisted in killing hogs at two different places and cured the meat after the A. & M. methods.

Saturday hogs were killed on the J. E. Warrick place under the supervision of Lawrence Warrick and the event was reported as unusually successful. The following persons were present and assisted in killing the hogs: Velman Warrick, Tom Dickens, Will Simpson, Bill Leach and Lawrence Warrick. One of the unusual features (Continued on Page 12)

Dodsonville Dads Entertain P. T. A. At Monthly Meet

Appearing before one of the largest crowds in the history of the organization, the men of Dodsonville Friday night entertained at the regular monthly meeting of the Dodsonville Parent-Teachers Association with a unique program.

Frank Deupree acted as leader; devotionals was led by Rev. P. R. Jarrell; talk, "The Responsibility of a Father," Rev. Crouch; Reading, "Father," Albert Hudson; reading, "His Dad," George Seaton; song, "Beautiful Garden of Roses," Harold Binkley; reading, "The Striker," Duane Wolf; reading, "Reflections," Marshal Binkley talk, "The Father's Place," Mr. Snyder; talk, "The Future Farmers Creed," Jack Miller; reading, (Continued on Page 12)

Lady Will Never Forget This Moment

It happened during the trial of Toy G. Woolley in Dallas. Woolley shot his wife to death with a shotgun. The state claims it was murder; the defense, trying to prove it an accident, reconstructed the bedroom in court. The obliging lady pictured above, a neighbor of the Woolley's and one of the first to reach the dead woman, reclined upon the bed while lawyers told the jury how the charge of shot tore through Dorothy Woolley's breast. Then "Bam! Bang!" Camera flashes exploded; two bed slats gave way with a crash. And was the lady's face red!

Seniors To Present Annual Play Here On December 19

Complete Cast Announced This Week By Miss Claudia Elliott, Director

"Here Comes Patricia," annual senior play will be presented by the members of the senior class here Tuesday night, December 19, at 7:30 o'clock, according to announcements today.

The play has been directed by Miss Claudia Elliott, in charge of the high school dramatic department, and features a cyclone of humor and fun in whirlwind drama fashion.

The cast goes through a series of unusual scenes which are created after a Governor's daughter, in disguise, runs a filling station in a small town. The plot is given an unusual boost by the appearance of Frazier Savage, the town loafer, and Marshall Wells, an Englishman who is given to fighting without too much encouragement.

The entire cast includes Paul Coe, Frazier Savage, Buster Stafford, Marshall Wells, Virginia Curry, Edythe Monroe, Nellie Simms, Helen White, John Henry Baumgardner, Imogene Wynn and Bliss Miller.

The members of the cast have been working hard for the past weeks under the direction of Miss (Continued on Page 12)

Cross Roads Will Sponsor Carnival

On Friday night, December 22, the Cross Roads P. T. A. will sponsor a Christmas program and carnival, according to the announcement of Raymond Wilson, principal, today.

The attractions will include a negro minstrel, fortune telling, car races, and a number of amusing and entertaining sideshows. There will also be plenty of good eats, Mr. Wilson said, and extended an invitation for the public to attend the event.

Watkins Selling Cee Vee Cotton Seed In County

That he now has 2,000 bushels of Cee Vee cotton seed already sacked in three-bushel sacks and ready for sale was announced this week by M. P. (Fatty) Watkins, who stated that the seed would continue to be offered to the farmers of this county for a short time.

Mr. Watkins encouraged the farmers of this county to avail themselves of these seed, which he believes will not only increase the turnout for the farmer himself, but will also improve the staple for the county.

Roads Form Most Important Part Of County Work

Report Increased Registrations During Week Swamp Officials

To Start Friday

Collingsworth Quota Includes Work For 445 Local Men In County

A number of C. W. A. workers have already started work in Collingsworth County on a limited number of projects and more will be put to work by Friday if the necessary projects are approved at Austin, according to Miss Katherine Boverie, administrator for Collingsworth County.

Registrations have increased so rapidly in the past week, Miss Boverie stated that it will be difficult for the officials to put all of them to work even if all tentative projects are approved, and if the approval lags a considerable portion of those registered will have to wait before going to work.

Local officials have kept the wires to Austin hot during the past few days in an effort to get a sufficient number of projects started by December 15. As a result of this a number of jobs have been approved. These include the Quail-Marella road, the Dodsonville road, the West Ward school building, street work in Dodsonville and two small projects in another part of the county.

Collingsworth County quota has been raised to 445 men as compared to the original figure of 304, but the registrations for work are far in excess of the present increased quota, according to C. C. Bishop who is taking the applications for work. People who are already on the relief roles will be given work first, and the other applicants will be absorbed in the program as soon as possible.

Last Rites Held For T. Swaggerty

Funeral services for Tom F. Swaggerty, 68, were held Wednesday afternoon at Clayton, N. M., following his death there Monday.

Mr. Swaggerty came to Wellington in 1917 and resided here since that time, spending some of his time with his children at various points in Texas and New Mexico. His death occurred at the home of his son, Jess Swaggerty, at Clayton. Mr. Swaggerty is remembered here by many friends and at the time of his death owned considerable property here. His death resulted from a stroke of paralysis suffered several years ago.

He is survived by three sons, Tom Swaggerty, Clayton; Fred Swaggerty, Slaton, Texas; and (Continued on Page 12)

Quail Resident Is Recovering From Accident Friday

Jones Suffers Crushed Body In Accident There Last Friday Evening

J. A. Jones of Quail, Friday suffered severe injuries received as a huge pile of cottonseed forced his truck forward and pinned him against the door of the seed house.

Mr. Jones, who was employed by Chas. Depauw, was hauling cotton from the Quail Gins and according to reports of the accident, had backed his truck into the seed house, then started around in front of it when the accident occurred. The pile of seed caved in forcing his truck against him.

Workmen rushed to his assistance, but were unable to remove the truck immediately, due to the pressure caused by the seed. When the seed were shoveled away and he was removed Mr. Jones was unconscious and examination proved (Continued on Page 12)

Lettermen Will Organize Club

Boys who have received letters for athletic activities in Wellington High School are at the present time considering a "W" organization, according to the announcement of Vernon Stafford today.

Santa Headquarters In Wellington As Decorations Mark 1933 Yule Season

Santa is making his 1933 headquarters in Wellington.

The merchants of this city are this year offering the largest and most complete selection of Christmas merchandise in recent years. Every item is new, every item is seasonable and of course the prices are in line.

The complete stocks offered in the various firms of the city form a line of merchandise not surpassed in quality in larger cities—and one from which the people of this county can choose with safety and knowledge that they are getting the best.

As an added attraction, the stores are this year decorated with bright Christmas ribbons, lights tinsels and other decorations which give a genuine feeling of the Yuletide spirit and radiate Christmas even to the youngsters.

Toy dealers have done themselves proud. The most modern of mechanical toys are included in the huge stock offered at the different stores. Drug stores also radiate a feeling of Christmas cheer as attentive clerks supply the (Continued on Page 12)

Twilight Musical To Be Given At Church Sunday

On Sunday evening, December 17, a Twilight Musical will be presented by the members of the Musicians Club. The program will be given at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church. Christmas Carols, Organ music and a Christmas story will be features of the program.

The musical numbers will be given as follows: Organ Solos—"Reverie in D" and "Adoration" by Mrs. A. Dobbs; Choir—Christmas Carols; Christmas Story—Miss Claudia Elliott; Contata—"On To Bethlehem."

Pupils Of Miss Sigler Honor Mothers Thursday

Yuletide decorations and a miniature snow scene made an attractive and appropriate setting for the recital and informal tea given by a group of small pupils of Miss Margille Sigler, at her home studio, 100 El Paso Street, honoring their mothers and invited guests, Thursday evening.

Numbers were given as follows: Reading, "Ma's Hero," by Charles Hajek.

Reading, "Wish I Wuz a Boy," Bobbie Ella Holton.

Reading, "What Jackie Stole," Jimmie Pryor.

Reading, "The Substitute," Wanda Lou Varnell.

Reading, "Bill's in Trouble," Billie Eloise Sigler.

Playlet, "Difference of Opinions," Jimmie Pryor, Charles Hajek.

Reading, "Father's Chicken," Marcella Miller.

Reading, "A Little Girl's Troubles," Jimmie Pryor.

Reading, "A Little Pig," Denzil Miller.

Reading, "Dad's Immaculate Housekeeper," Charles Hajek.

Pianologue, "The Movies," Bobbie Ella Holton.

One Act Play, "Hello, Santa Claus," Wanda Lou Varnell.

Reading, "No Girl," Charles Hajek.

Story, "An Afternoon in a Hotel Room," Billie E. Sigler.

Reading, "Last and Least," Betty Mae Varnell.

Miss Billy Eloise Sigler sang a group of popular numbers accompanied by Miss Margille Sigler while a refreshment plate carrying out the Christmas motif was being served.

Guests included: Mesdames Bert Starkey, Pat Kennedy, Frank Hajek, O. D. Holton, Ray Morgan, Ed Pryor, Earl Miller, J. C. Rodgers, W. W. McClaskey, Barney Varnell, and G. S. Sigler. Misses Nora Cooke, Ruth Black, Mamie Lou Fuller, Lelia Stall, Georgene McCauley, Irma Jeanette Karnes, Aries Burt, Alice Johnson, Jo Frances Fain, Velma Rose Miller, Barbara Morgan, and Eugene Miller. Billy Varnell, Edward and Billy Hajek.

Group No. 2 of the "homemakers" Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church, was hostess to the class Wednesday afternoon, December 6 in the basement of the church.

Mrs. Ray Morgan, captain of the group was in charge of the Xmas program. Mrs. Morgan in her original and charming manner, presided.

The diversion of the afternoon was a "Bible Contest" in which names of Bible characters were pinned on the back of each member, after a brief history of this character named given by the class, the member guessed the character's name.

During a brief business session, Mrs. C. H. Elliott, president of the class presided and read the devotional: Hebrew, 12 About 38 members answered the roll call with a verse of scripture.

Other than the "Bible Contest" the following numbers appeared on the program: prayer led by Mrs. Lee Fortesberry; songs, "Joy to the World" and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" by the class; piano duet by Miss Maudell Dukeminier and Mrs. Fortenberry.

Much fun was derived from solving the Christmas menu, which was: 1. Eytuk; 2. Gradine; 3. Rhyrcarner Esuca; 4. Nadeid Syma; 5. Apse; 6. Lycere; 7. Epi; and 8. Etocef.

Senior B. T. S. Enjoys Banquet Tuesday Evening

Members of the Senior B. T. S. were entertained with a banquet given in the basement of the Baptist Church last Tuesday night. The basement was decorated in green and white, B. T. S. colors, and the place cards were small booklets with the program and menu on the inside. The B. T. S. emblem was used on the cover page. Tables covered in snow white linen were arranged in an orderly fashion.

With Oscar Elliott as toastmaster, the following program was rendered: Invocation, Mr. Scoggins; Welcome, Oscar Elliott; Response, Rev. Hankins; Piano duet, Maudell Dukeminier and Naomi Slay; To the Senior Prep Union, Vernon Stafford; Response, G. W. Poteet; Vocal duet, Leslie Moore and Onie May Killingsworth; Reading, Helen Hudson; Reading, Virginia Lee Fortenberry. Others who gave interesting speeches were Mr. and Mrs. Scoggins. Special music was given between courses by Miss Maudell Dukeminier and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Hankins.

Those who enjoyed this delightful banquet were: Anna Lee Graham, Oberietta Brown, Onie Mae Killingsworth, Naomi Slay, Leslie Moore, Othella Dennis, Phila Price, Frances West, Ora Ellen Hall, Mildred Self, Ina Mae Yarbrough, Ruby Yarbrough, Dale Guley, Virginia McMinn, Mildred Slough, Helen Childress, Kathleen Leggett, Helen Hudson, Virginia Lee Fortenberry, Maurine Hunt, Claudia Wilson, Josephine Wilson, Florence Tucker, Inez Smith. Dramatic Club Organized Here This Week

An enthusiastic group of young people have organized a Dramatic Club which they will work on the presentation of plays and study all forms of dramatic work. They plan to work for a charter to become a member of the Little Theatre.

Officers of the club are: Winifred Payne, president, Vivian Porter, secretary and treasurer; Edward Lee Pritchard, Luther Williams and Mayme Weir, casting committee. Miss Virginia Weber and Freeman Moore will instruct all the club members in tap dancing.

"Green Shadow" a one-act play is the project of the club at the present. The cast chosen for this play are as follows: Vivian Porter, Luther Williams, Winifred Payne, Floyd Bailey, Leeda Jo Thompson and Mayme Weir. Other members of the club will give special numbers along with the play. The date and place for the play to be given will be announced later.

The members meet three nights each week and are entertained in the homes of the members. The following members: Vivian Porter, Leeda Jo Thompson, Virginia Weber, Virginia Curry, Mayme Weir, Luther Williams, Freeman Moore, Floyd Bailey, Winifred Payne and Edward Lee Pritchard.

Juanita Collins Bird Sunday Brid Sunday

Miss Juanita Collins and George Bird were quietly married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. Carpenter, pastor of the Church of Christ in Hollis, Oklahoma.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of Dallas Street. She was a popular member of the student body of Wellington High School.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Annie Bird of this city. The couple plan to make their home in Wellington.

Mrs. F. O. Masten spent the week end visiting with her sister, in Quanah.

Mrs. Robert Lucas and Mrs. Neil Shaw were Childress visitors one day last week.

Prize Winner

Little Miss Virginia Nell White of Dodsonville who was winner in a baby show given recently in Dodsonville.

Mrs. Leggett Hostess To Excelsior Club

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Cecil Leggett was hostess to the members of the Excelsior Club at her home. Members answered roll call by naming their favorite painting. Miss Inez Leach was program leader and gave a very interesting account of the book "Forgive Us Our Trespasses" by Douglas. Mrs. Clifton High reported on the State Federation Convention held in Austin last month.

In a business meeting the club voted to have a Christmas party at their meeting which will be December 21 at the home of Callie Curtner. Each member will bring a toy which will go to charity for Christmas.

My Favorite Recipes

At this season of the year meat is the basis for the arrangement of your menu. Your entire meal is built around your meat dish. This week a recipe for cooking beef roast is given by Mrs. V. A. Porter. The secret of good roast as everyone knows is seasoning in correctly.

Beef Roast
By Mrs. V. A. Porter
3-Pound beef roast
1 onion
1-2 teaspoon black pepper
1 1-2 teaspoons salt
1-4 teaspoon ginger
1 can tomatoes
1 cup water.

Brown suet over open fire and put in salted roast and brown in suet. After it is well browned roll in flour and put in roaster. Sprinkle with chopped onions, pepper and ginger. Add can of tomatoes and water. Cover roaster and cook two hours in moderate oven.

The Leader's Recipes:
Oyster Dressing for Turkey
Four cups bread (softened), 8 tablespoons melted butter, onion juice, 2 tablespoons poultry seasoning, red pepper, 1 1-2 dozen oysters and liquid. Mix the bread after it has been softened in water and lightly squeeze out with melted butter. Season to taste, being sure to add a dash of red pepper. Add the oysters and use enough of the liquid to make the proper consistency.

Caramelized Sweet Potatoes
One dozen small sweet potatoes, boiled until tender. Peel and cut in halves and arrange in shallow baking dish. Boil one cup of water and one pint of brown sugar together for 10 minutes, then add one tablespoon butter. Sprinkle salt and cinnamon over the potatoes then pour the syrup over and bake in a moderate oven until brown.

Cauliflower
Drain a cooked cauliflower; separate into flowerettes and pour over the following sauce: Mix the yolks of two eggs, 1-4 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon of nutmeg and juice of 1-2 lemon. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add 2 tablespoons butter, bit by bit, and when melted serve at once.

Legion Auxiliary To Hold Social Friday Evening

An order for Decoration Day poppies to be sent to Legion members in Texas for the veterans to work on was made during a business meeting of the Legion Auxiliary last Thursday afternoon. They also made plans to do well-work at Christmas by getting good used clothing and non-perishable food.

A social was planned for Friday night and each couple is asked to bring a covered dish and all the donations of clothing and food that they care to give for welfare work. Plans were also discussed for a New Year's Dance to make money for welfare work.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames John Harper, R. C. Dryden, Guy Clay, Riley Dunson, John Daffron, Ed Pryor, Bess Seaberry, Lee O'Neil, and Austin O'Neil.

placed crosswise. This transverse design permits free and easy action of all four wheels because the springs are attached to the axles at their outer flexible tips. This type of construction retains the important advantages of the solid axle and yet minimizes road shocks transmitted to the frame and body because the shocks are absorbed first by the most sensitive part of the spring.

The rear spring on the 1934 car has been redesigned to provide smoother riding. Improved double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers which act independently of weather or road surface conditions are used. Seat cushions have deeper, softer springs. New type individual bucket seats are used in the Tudor. Driving ease also has been increased by the use of a new 15-to-1 steering gear ratio. The frame is of the double X-type, with the X member running to the rear of the frame to give greater strength. Brakes are of the mechanical type with 188 square inches of braking surface. Other features of the chassis are a silent synchromizing transmission, torque tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, one-piece welded steel spoke wheels and 17 x 5.50 tires.

TERMITES

DAMAGE TO HOMES Running as high as ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS a month, right in this section of the country. We will gladly put you in touch with home owners who will verify this fact. A devan recently crashed through the floors of a Shamrock home which was eaten out by Termites.

TERMITE damage is increasing rapidly, and you SURELY want to know whether or not your home is infested. PLEASE UNDERSTAND we will inspect your home without cost or obligation. We are glad to extend this service to you.

We are treating Mr. J. O. Woods' home and Mrs. Dr. Peebles also, and several others are arranging to have their homes treated right away, while our treating crew and equipment is here.

The splendid response to the article we ran in the Leader last week is certainly very gratifying, and we want to thank those who have made an investigation regarding our treatment, and we will make the inspections as soon as possible. Our treating crew is seven jobs behind right now on homes here and at Shamrock

If your home is infested with Termites and you should be interested in our services, we are sure that you will be more than pleased with the financial responsibility back of our work and guarantee.

Just call Mr. Flood, Phone 348J at J. O. Woods residence, and he will see that your home is inspected. No Cost. No Obligation.

Mrs. Nettie Boyd Buried Wednesday Afternoon In Dodsonville Community

Funeral services for Mrs. Nettie Boyd, 63, were held Wednesday afternoon, from the Church of Christ at Dodsonville and interment was made in the Dodsonville Cemetery.

Mrs. Boyd died Monday at Supply, Oklahoma, following an illness which extended over a period of 20 years.

Mrs. Boyd was an old settler in the Dodsonville community, having come to that section while Harmon county was still part of the Indian territory and saw Dodsonville develop into a flourishing village, which now forms a vital part of Collingsworth county. She was well known in that section of the county, especially among the old timers, who remember her from the early pioneer days.

She is survived by one son, Fred Boyd, of Dodsonville; three brothers, M. P. Scott, John Scott and Jim Scott, all of Dodsonville; two sisters, Mrs. Elmore Dodson and Mrs. Sallie Wagner; two granddaughters, Joan and Gloria Boyd; a large number of nieces and nephews.

Conoco Dealers Attend Meeting

Several Conoco dealers and service station employees attended a special meeting for this district which was held by the Continental Oil Company in Childress last Thursday night.

Representatives of the company explained the new advertising campaign which the Continental Oil Company plans to inaugurate within the near future. This campaign will be for the purpose of advertising their Conoco Bronze gasoline.

The company officials stated that they are also planning a radio advertising campaign, featuring a musical program each evening. This campaign is scheduled to start on January 11, 1934.

Wellington was represented by O. D. Holton, local agent; J. C. Rogers, Bill Henderson, Alvin Horton, Bennie Bridge, Shy Morgan, Jack Henderson and Dick Richards.

Deck's DIDACTICS By H. D. W.

Collingsworth County's big day Thursday will start a Christmas season that promises to be happier than any the community has had in four years. There will be happiness in many homes this Christmas where no cheer has abided for some time, there will be confidence in business houses where hope was almost lost, and the natural amenities of fellowship will once again begin to manifest themselves in many tangible ways.

I am having a hard time getting my mind on this column this week. A hundred questions and a dozen things to be done keep calling for attention, and my energy is almost gone and my patience is not what it should be. And yet I don't have one tenth the worries that Miss Katherine Boverie or Judge Luther Gribble have and Clark Anderson has two jobs just as I do and all of them are standing up under the strain fine. I don't see how they do it. Long hours of work, disputes, problems and more long hours have not wiped the cheerful smiles from their faces. They are still right on the job, still courteous, still friendly and only they know how many things they have to contend with. And I don't want to forget my side-kick, Bura Handley. He has been putting in seven days a week and from ten to sixteen hours a day, and he is going strong and his enthusiasm is still high. SUCH A PEOPLE!

I hope, if I get time, to have a real Christmas this year—the kind I used to enjoy twenty years ago. My little girl is nearly two and she is old enough to talk about Santa Claus and to look forward to his company. As her excitement grows, my interest continues to mount, and I am expecting as good a time this year as I did in those days which seem quite a time ago.

The thought of Christmas reminds me of a practical bit of character development that I ran across the other day. Not long ago Mrs. Bill Moseley was confronted with the problem that every parent faces sooner or later. Her little girl came in with the report that there was no Santa Claus. Realizing that here was a turning point in her child's spiritual development, she sat down and explained that while there was no Santa Claus in the flesh that there was a very real Santa Claus of the spirit. She compared it to higher spiritual things, and the child went on her way satisfied and with a new thought in her mind and a new feeling in her heart. That work on the part of the mother means the difference between the development of a humanitarian feeling in the child and the growth of an ever-increasing cynicism which would have started if the mother had not said the right thing at the right time. It is well to take your children's problems to heart while the children are in their formative years. If you don't you may be taking them to heart after it is too late to do anything about it.

And now I intend to publish in full the most widely read editorial ever written, which was carried in the New York Sun thirty six years ago. It was written in response to the following letter:

Dear Editor: I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Please tell me the truth.

Virginia O'Hanlon.

The editorial follows: Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect in intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not to believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest men, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view the supernal beauty beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus, Thank God! he lives, and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

CHEMISTRY CONFERENCE

For ten years a class has been meeting regularly at the University of Oklahoma, but it has never been listed in the class schedule and no one has ever received any official credit for it.

It is an informal colloquium presided over by Dr. Guy Y. Williams, head of the department of chemistry, and James Belcher, assistant professor.

One night a week is set aside by the professors for answering questions of students and tutoring them in special problems.

The habit of dropping in at the colloquium on Tuesday nights has become a tradition on the Sooner campus.

School Trustees Are Dinner Guests

Members of the Wellington School Board were guests of L. A. Manzer, president, and Judge Holton, Friday night at a quail dinner served at the Wellington Hotel.

Those who attended were John Harper, Johnnie Wallace, J. D. Thomas, Corbett Ford, Gibbs Glenn, R. F. Curry, G. L. Farrar, Billy Jarvis, Mr. Holton and Mr. Manzer.

Marella School To Sponsor Carnival

Friday evening, December 15, the Marella School is having a carnival and party at the school building. You will be entertained by music, games and forty-two. Prizes will be awarded to winners in the different contests. Money received will be used to purchase two basket balls. There will be plenty to eat, so be there.

Coach Selects 16 Lettermen On W.H.S. Team

Twelve Players Finished Their Football Careers Here Thanksgiving

Won 5—Lost 5

Loss Of Only Five Lettermen This Year Indicates Good Team For 1934

With their 7 to 0 victory over the Wheeler eleven here on Thanksgiving Day, the Skyrockets closed their 1933 football season and 12 players finished their football careers in Wellington High School.

The 12 players who finished their football careers here this year were: John Henry Baumgardner, Harold Hardy, A. L. Kelly, Ross Presnal, William Shields, Paul Coe, Hiram Cudd, Burton Love, Howard Mulder, Clifton Stafford, Frazier Savage and Hugo Haunter.

In addition to the 1933 lettermen who will return next season Oscar Elliott, John Robert Henard, G. W. Potet and John Powell are also expected to make a good showing, according to Coach Jarvis.

Has New System

Coach Billy Jarvis Tuesday named 16 lettermen from the 1933 squad in accordance with the new lettering system, which is based upon scholarship, sportsmanship and playing ability, all given their places in merit. The system requires a total of 500 points for a player to earn a letter, which are judged as follows: 20 points for each quarter in which the boy takes part; 50 points for perfect attendance at football practice; 50 points for passing in four subjects; 50 points for training and sportsmanship, which is decided upon a secret vote by the whole squad. Players who failed to make enough points this year will have their points carried forward and credited on their playing next season.

Skyrockets who earned their letters this year are: John Anders, second year to letter; John Henry Baumgardner, second year; Byron Duncan, first year; Cloise Duncan, first year; Raymond Ford, first year; Gene Glenn, first year; Harold Hardy, second year; A. L. Kelly, second year; Stanley Parker, first year; Ross Presnal, second year; Ed Riley, second year; William Shields, first year; M. V. Vandiver, first year; C. C. Williams, first year; Woodrow Wood, first year; Travis Williams, first year.

In summarizing the year Coach Jarvis said, "The Skyrockets played ten games, won five and lost five. Personally, I am pleased with the showing the boys have made, but it is the ambition of every man on the squad to do better next year and especially to even the score with some of our worthy neighbors."

"Basketball season has started and within another week I hope to have the squad in shape to begin real practice."

Mrs. Effie Atkinson Lewis Is Buried In Wellington At 10 A. M. Wednesday

Funeral services for Effie Elsie Atkinson Lewis, 31, were held on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Baptist Church in Wellington with Rev. P. R. Jarrel of Dodsonville conducting the services.

Mrs. Lewis died at her home in Arcadia, Oklahoma, Monday, December 11, and was 31 years, 11 months and 11 days of age, having been born December 31, 1901.

She is survived by her husband, M. Manley Lewis of Arcadia, one son, Elsie M. Lewis; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Atkinson; three sisters, Mrs. E. T. Vaughan, Mrs. E. S. Stowe and Miss Alta Atkinson; three brothers, H. M. Atkinson, A. V. Atkinson and John Atkinson.

She was a member of the Nazarene Church and was known in this section due to the fact that her family and relatives have lived here for a long time.

Pall bearers were: Richard Phelps, Bill Harper, Lewis Patterson, Leslie Craig, Guy Rankin and Jerrie Martin.

Honorary pall bearers were: Wilda Luper, Wylene Sweet, Emma Killingsworth, Dela McClure, Eileen Baker and Electa Peak.

Interment was made in the Wellington Cemetery Wednesday morning by Goodson Funeral Home.

Dr. And Mrs. High Entertain Friday And Saturday Evenings

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. High were hosts on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week entertaining with a Chow Mein dinner. All appointments, tallies, score and place cards, decorations and prizes were expressively of the Chinese idea. Large bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums were used as center pieces.

Dinner was served to eight couples each night and following the dinner, bridge games were played.

Prizes went to Mrs. E. W. Jones and A. L. Cochran on Friday evening and Mrs. Bennett Bond and Deskins Wells Saturday evening. Hand painted pictures of Chinese dancing by Mrs. W. H. Lynn were given to the ladies.

On Friday evening the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Lee O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Pink Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horn, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bengel, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Pinkston and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wiley.

Saturday evening the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. R. K. French, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Bond, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Deskins Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Willis, Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Jones, Miss Florence Bobo of Rhomene, and the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. High.

Charlene Goodson Honoree At Birthday Party

Little Miss Charlene Goodson celebrated her seventh birthday on Saturday, December 9. Mrs. Ray Goodson entertained the ten guests at the Goodson home with games. They were served ice cream and cake which was arranged at the table with place cards and a birthday cake as a center piece. Each place card was a doll with their names written on a card across the back of the doll.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent by the guests and the honoree received many lovely gifts.

Double Wedding Unites Aberdeen Couples Monday

Miss Gladys Hobbs and Hardy B. Deger were married jointly with Miss Nova Ketner and Tracy Rountree on Monday, December 4, at 10:30 o'clock at Arapaho, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Deger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hobbs, pioneer family of Aberdeen. She played on the Senior high school ball team there and was a very popular member of the student body.

Hardy Deger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Deger. He is a very energetic young farmer who resides in the Aberdeen community and has many friends there. He played in the Senior basket ball team in Aberdeen which won the championship for the rural districts.

Mrs. Rountree was before her marriage Miss Nova Ketner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ketner. She finished high school at Canyon last spring.

Tracy Rountree is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Rountree of Aberdeen, who are pioneer residents. The groom finished high school at Clinton, Oklahoma in 1931 and later resumed his studies in Canyon at W. T. S. T. C.

The couples returned here the latter part of the week after visiting relatives in Clinton and Oklahoma City. They plan to make their home in this community where they have a host of friends.

Mrs. W. H. Lynn Appointed Officer In Texas Fine Arts

Mrs. W. H. Lynn received word last week of two very important appointments in the art circles of the state. Mrs. Lynn already the office of District Art chairman of the Seventh District of Federated Women's Clubs. Her new appointments are through the Texas Fine Arts Association which works along with the Women's Clubs. She was appointed vice chairman of the publicity of seventh district in the Texas Fine Arts Association and a member of the committee to sponsor exhibitions and lectures over the state. Mrs. Lynn is a member along with representatives from Dallas, Ft. Worth, El Paso and larger cities of the state.

Texas Fine Arts Association is rendering a very valuable service to artists and lovers of art by promoting sculpture, painting and other fine arts. The group maintains the Elizabeth Ney Art Studio in Austin and promotes a museum of fine arts.

Recently Mrs. Lynn attended a convention in San Antonio of the T. F. A. A. and since her return has received word of these two district offices.

NOTICE TO LEGIONAIRES

Members of the American Legion were requested to bring articles of good used clothing to the regular meeting of the post here Friday, December 15. All articles and non-perishable food will be given to needy families.

By C. N. C.

As the merchants are co-operating splendidly with the sponsors of the American Legion Day and the Big Free Barbecue, December 14, and the children delight in going through the toy shops and looking at the gayly decorated windows, I saw

J. E. Blythe and M. A. Barton discussing the price of cows and other livestock.

R. D. Morgan delivering express around the square early Saturday thing out of his slipper.

Oran Starkey carrying his tools around in an old-fashioned book satchel.

Freeman Moore buying red and green tissue paper to decorate Nunnally's Meat Market.

Burnell May standing outside Vallance Grocery window watching Lawrence Gillespie dressing a window.

John Bonner making his usual trip to the bank about 2:30 in the afternoon.

Frank Coleman wearing a becoming new gray hat—looking prosperous.

Mrs. R. Cody and children window shopping—looking for Santa Claus.

Mrs. A. E. Smallwood shopping in the Saturday afternoon traffic.

Glen Anderson and Sandy Parsons, Jr., arguing good-naturedly over the Christmas decorations in Cochran Drug and the Palace Drug.

Horace Small going around with a punch board and selling several punches.

I. E. Emmert carrying several packages—looked like dry goods.

G. R. Lewis and his small son looking at the linotype machine in the back of The Leader office.

Loren Thompson re-arranging some Christmas fruit in Barnes-Hastings window.

Hope Moore with his leg propped on a car trying to get something out of his slipper.

To the parent who chances to read this honor roll we wish to explain that any normal child can make the honor roll by diligent application to his or her studies. If your child's name does not appear on this list, more likely it is because that the child has not applied himself or herself closely enough to his or her studies. We wish to encourage you to take an active interest in your child's school work. We wish to repeat that it requires home study to make this honor roll. There may be some few children who can master their work thoroughly enough during the school day to enable them to gain this distinction, but in the great majority of cases it will require regular home study to do so.

We have estimated that about 4 per cent of the grades marked on our grade sheets this second six weeks period were failing grades—"D" or lower. There is no excuse for 95 percent of these failing grades—they are the result of the lack of application on the part of the pupil, and can easily be corrected by more study. And the first place to start, we think, in correcting such grades is in the home. If the parents of those pupils who are failing in their school work will take an active interest in them and will see to it that more work is done by the pupil, we can assure them that the matter will be straightway corrected.

Irregular attendance is another thing that should not be permitted by parents who wish their children to pass in their school work. Irregular attendance is one of the chief causes of a loss of interest in school work and a consequent failing in this work. We wish to plead with you to keep your child in school every minute of the time you possibly can.

Our semester promotions will take place now within the next four weeks of school work. It is very important that all pupils keep busily after their studies in order to avoid the danger of failing. Please keep this item carefully in mind.

THE NEW 1934 FORD NOW ON DISPLAY

New V-8 Ford Has Greater Power And More Speed

President Of Company Says New Model Is Best Ford Ever Built

DETROIT, Mich.—The new Ford V-8 for 1934 was put on display Saturday in more than 7,000 Ford dealerships throughout the United States, Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company announced today.

As revealed here by Henry Ford and his son to several score newspaper correspondents, special writers and photographers, the new Ford has greater power, more speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon, especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather, plus refined body lines and a new built-in system of clear-vision body ventilation.

The improvements in engine performance are the result of the use of a new dual down-draft carburetor and dual intake manifold which increases the engine's power approximately 12 per cent and provide a remarkable improvement in pickup.

"The new car is the best car the Ford Motor Company ever built," the Ford president said. "Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8's now on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chassis design, the new body ventilation system and refinements in body styling and appointments which have been brought to a proper stage of development during the past year in our engineering research."

The new Ford ventilation system, which is built into the body, permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides the desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control is provided for both front and rear side windows.

When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot between the glass and the frame. Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car.

This simple ventilation system maintains a draft-free circulation of air and prevents fogging windshield and windows in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air for warm weather driving.

The distinctive lines of the Ford V-8 have been refined in the 1934 car by a newly-designed radiator shell, grille and other features. Interiors reveal new tufted upholstery and garnish mouldings, a cove-type head lining, new instrument panel, arm rests, door pulls and hardware. Sun visors are provided in all closed cars, those in the de luxe cars being of swivel type to prevent glare both from the front and sides.

Fenders on de luxe cars now are in color to harmonize with the body colors. Wheel colors are optional. A new enamel finish is used on all bodies. This has greater wearing qualities, a more enduring lustre and requires only washing to restore its brilliance. Bodies are of steel, electrically welded one-piece construction.

Eleven body types are available. Included are both standard and de luxe types of the Tudor, Fordor, 5-window coupe; the de luxe roadster, phaeton and 3-window coupe, as well as the cabriolet and victoria. The victoria body has been newly-designed, to afford additional passenger room. A large luggage compartment is provided in the rear.

All body types are equipped with safety glass windshields, while the de luxe body types are fitted with safety glass throughout.

Because of the increase in engine power over the whole speed range, an appreciable increase in top speed is attained. The flexibility of the car—its ability to pick up speed quickly in traffic or cruise in crowded streets without shifting out of high gear—also has been materially improved. The increase in top speed, without sacrifice of safety, permits driving at relatively high speeds with increased safety and without engine strain.

The engine is fitted with aluminum cylinder heads, heat resisting high chrome high tungsten steel exhaust valve inserts and an entirely new cast alloy steel crankshaft which engineers rate as a material improvement over the forged steel member formerly used. The aluminum cylinder heads permit the use of high compression, giving greater power, without requiring the use of premium fuels of high anti-knock quality. The valve inserts, together with the special heat resisting chrome nickel alloy valves, maintain the engine's original high efficiency over long periods.

The new carburation system and other engine refinements not only give better gasoline mileage and oil economy but also insure smoother operation at all speeds and particularly at normal driving speeds. With the new carburetor is used a dual intake manifold which distributes the vaporized gasoline equally to each cylinder, very materially improving engine performance and providing quicker starting in cold weather. Gasoline economy is increased two or three miles per gallon. Test runs show that the new engine will give 20 miles per gallon at 45 miles an hour.

Another important engine improvement is the use of water line thermostats. These are automatic mechanical valves which prevent the warm water in the engine from passing out into the cooling radiator until the proper temperature is reached for maximum operating efficiency. In cold weather, the thermostats enable the engine to warm up quickly and maintain an efficient running temperature.

Ford spring design takes advantage of the principle of the transverse spring. It provides the utmost stability and safety, the practical minimum of unsprung weight with the least possible frame deflection. The Ford spring design tends to prevent the body from tilting on uneven roads. Corners can be taken safely at relative high speeds.

Both front and rear springs are

Announcing

NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The New Ford V-8 for 1934 is now on display at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See this car today and drive it at the first opportunity.

OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V-8

BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New water-line thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.

NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot. Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.

DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvers, new hub caps. Interiors are attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests, new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

FENDERS IN COLOR. On De Luxe cars fenders are in color to harmonize with body colors—wheel colors optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring lustre.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT results from increased spring flexibility. The spring leaves are newly designed for quieter and easier action. Shock absorbers are improved. Seat cushions are deeper, with new, softer springs. New type, individual bucket seats provide increased comfort for front-seat passengers in the Tudor Sedan. Adding to comfort is the new driving ease of the 15-to-1 steering gear ratio.

PRICES REMAIN LOW—Tudor Sedan, $535 Coupe, $515. Fordor Sedan, $585. De Luxe Tudor, $575. De Luxe Fordor, $625. De Luxe Coupe (5 windows), $555. De Luxe Coupe (3 windows), $535. De Luxe Roadster, $525. De Luxe Phaeton, $550. Cabriolet, $590. Victoria, $610. (All prices f.o.b. Detroit.)

Rama Camp Will Operate Local Beauty Shoppe

Announcement that Miss Rama Camp, graduate of the Van Buren Beauty School of Wichita Falls, has taken over the Classique Beauty Shoppe here and will operate it in the future was made today.

Miss Camp is a graduate of the Wellington High School and is well known over the entire county. She invites her friends and the past patrons of the shop to give it a trial under this new management.

As a special added attraction a representative of the Duart equipment company will be in Wellington on the opening day, Thursday, December 14, and will give special treatments at the shop. The public is invited to visit the shop that day and take advantage of the unusual opportunity, Miss Camp said.

County To Market Fifty Cutter Cows

Orders were received today by the county agent that this county was to move 50 cutter cows to Amarillo on Saturday, December 23.

John O. Stovall, agent, asked that all interested farmers leave their names with him as soon as possible, due to the fact that he would have to submit the list of names in the near future.

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—Politics, figures Ewing Swaney of Georges township, is a losing proposition. A republican, he was beaten by his wife, Margaret (Ma) Swaney, a Democrat, for tax collector. Now, to celebrate 'Ma's' victory, Swaney has to buy all the fixings for an ox roast—with two oxen and himself to be roasted.

change from a cattle range into one of the most productive agricultural sections in the entire state and the town of Wellington has been realized as something of which the old settlers hoped for in the early days.

Mr. Jones was born July 14, 1883, and at the time of his death at his home in the Buckcreek community, was exactly 50 years, four months and three days of age. He is well known over the entire county, especially among the old time settlers. He was a member of the Baptist church and the loss of his friendship is mourned by many friends over the county.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Neva Jones, three sons, Aubrey Jones, Elmer Jones and Paul T. Jones; two daughters, Willie Ella Jones and Odessa Jones; two brothers, Paul T. Jones and H. A. Jones; two sisters, Ed C. Jones and G. B. Jones.

Interment was made in the Wellington Cemetery by Goodson Funeral Home.

Active pall bearers were: Punk Merle Lacey, Vernon Stafford, Ross King and Walter Gentry. Honorary pall bearers were: Mart Hunter, Eual Johnson, Mr. Goodnight, John Hayhurst, Clarence Caison, Mr. Lacey, Mr. Stafford, Mr. Aduddell, Palo Cummings, S. K. Patterson, Mr. Gentry, Johnnie Scaggs, Mr. Vise, J. K. Porter, Clarence Cochran, Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Hartman, and Mr. Stonecipher.

with trailer or semi-trailer and is to be used by the owner thereof only in the transportation of his own poultry, dairy, livestock and farm products to market or to other points for processing, or the transportation by the owner thereof of supplies from the place of purchase to his own farm or ranch, exclusively for his own use, the registration license fee for the weight classification herein mentioned shall be fifty per cent of the registration fee prescribed for those weight classifications in Section Six of the Act hereby amended."

This means that all farm trucks can be licensed for half the usual fee provided the weight of the truck plus the load registered for does not exceed 8000 eight thousand pounds, and provided that no four wheel or two wheel trailer is attached to the truck. A fine is provided for violation of this act. Under this act no such truck is permitted to haul any load for other persons than the owner.

The tags for these trucks will not arrive until January 1, 1934 and owners are requested to await until that date to apply for them. The license fee for commercial trucks (those that are used for any general hauling or part general hauling) are licensed at the rate that has been in effect the last four years. A driver's license is required for all commercial truck drivers. This means where the truck is being operated for compensation or hire. An owner can drive his own truck in hauling his own goods or wares without a driver's license.

All 1933 auto registrations expire at midnight of February 1, 1934. All motor vehicles driven during January 1934 are thereby made liable for a 1934 license, and becomes delinquent and subject to a 20 per cent penalty unless the license is paid during January 1934.

No light test certificates are required, but owner must bring last license receipt as official last hunt up tag numbers.

prominent lawyers of Childress. He has been doing some valuable work during the past few months in behalf of the farmers of this district, and his address will probably be along the lines in which the farmers are most interested.

The parade which begins at 10 o'clock Thursday morning has been an item of interest for several weeks as the committee worked out plans and arranged for floats. The committee is composed of: Mrs. Lee O'Neil, chairman; Mrs. Baker Hoskins, Mrs. J. B. Hauter, Mrs. Cecil Coe, Mrs. Deskins Wells. Prizes of $15 and $10 will be given for the best floats in the parade.

The American Legion free automobile will be given away Thursday afternoon.

In addition to the many other attractions, the merchants of Wellington are also cooperating in offering unusual specials in practically every line of merchandise—and the Christmas merchandise, most of which is now on display offers unusual selections from well stocked and complete stores, including dry goods, drugs, groceries, variety store items and furniture.

and to encourage the rural boys to come to Wellington, also to hold interest while they are in school, to promote closer relations between the boys and, of course, to enjoy meetings, banquets, picnics and other outings," Mr. Stafford said. "The boys will hold their first meeting Friday night, December 15, immediately following the Turkey basketball game and every letterman from the school is invited to attend the meeting."

Fatty Hite's hogs were killed Monday and cured according to the same methods with Henry Collins, and his two sons, Mill Harris, W. L. White and Mr. Mullens assisting Mr. Stovall and Mr. Hite.

"It sure looks fine to me, and I believe we are going to have better meat than we have ever had before," Mr. Warrick said, "we followed out the new method and I believe it is going to work fine."

Mr. Hite was also well pleased with his meat curing process and was especially impressed with the fact that none of the meat was wasted, and with the sanitary and exact preparations used in curing and canning the meat, which has made Lamb County famous.

needs of anxious customers. Ever alert grocery merchants offer an array of holiday specials and display items which actually make your mouth water. Dry goods stores have also staged a galaxy of decorations, which surround displays varying from the most charming frocks, soft, warm coats and comfortable shoes to the always appreciated silk and linen handkerchiefs.

Furniture stores are also offering an array of household items, rugs, and furniture suites which any family could well profit with a Christmas present.

Yes, Old Santa has made Wellington his headquarters this year, and the many bargains offered in every line are the talk of the town.

A few of the many special Christmas items are shown through the ads of the Wellington Leader this week. In addition to these items, the merchants have hundreds of other items, all of which will make equally attractive and appreciated Christmas gifts. The people of the county really owe it to themselves and to their pocket-books to inspect the huge array of Christmas items and visit the cheer-laden, well stocked stores of Wellington for their Christmas gifts this season.

FAKE PRIZE SCHEMES

A rather ancient scheme for separating the unwary from their money is being worked again, both in the United States and in Canada, according to a leading business men's magazine.

The plan is to insert an advertisement containing a perfectly simple puzzle which anyone can easily solve, and offer prizes for correct solutions. A favorite prize is a "building lot."

Of course, anyone who sends in a solution of the puzzle wins a lot, but he is informed that he will be expected to remit a small sum—in one case $7.75—for the deed and other incidental expenses connected with the transfer of the property. The "lot" is very small and the $7.75 fees alone would net the seller around $200 an acre for some worthless land.

So, if the "winner swallows that bait he is out just $7.75 for the privilege of working the puzzle, while his name is passed along to other swindlers as that of an easy mark.

There are many perfectly legitimate prize offers advertised in various periodicals but those which require a payment of cash before the prize is delivered are generally fraudulent and should be shunned.

RUNNING INTO TRAINS

Don Quixote's tilting at windmills was hardly less foolish and much less disastrous than the habit of present day motorists who assault railroad trains.

Figures covering accidents at railroad crossings during a period of six months show that in 27 per cent of the cases the automobiles ran into trains, instead of the trains running into the automobiles.

One railroad company reports that in a single year 500 of its crossing gates lowered to protect the public were run into and smashed by motorists. Another company checked the performance of 3,589 drivers while crossing its tracks. By actual observation it was found that of this number 2,907 failed to look either to the right or left before crossing; 602 looked in one direction only, while 80 drivers looked both ways.

With such evidence of recklessness on the part of motorists before us, it is not difficult to understand why some 30,000 persons are killed and 800,000 injured in automobile accidents every year.

THE USEFUL HAIRPIN

An observant man is Chris Billopp of the Baltimore Sun, who writes an informing essay on the uses of the hairpin, in which he describes that implement as a small wire bent double in the middle, and convenient for:

Getting the meat out of walnuts, pecans, and so forth;

Twisting around the hub of a toy automobile to keep the wheel from coming off.

Picking the teeth, if done in the privacy of one's bedroom;

Making emergency repairs in the electrical lighting system, though you had better be pretty careful if you don't want to be electrocuted;

For cleaning tobacco pipes and making holes in cigars that won't draw; for fishing for coins that have fallen into cracks; for pinning curtains to curtain rods; for improvising a link for a broken chain; for holding an undershirt together when a vital button has come off in the wash.

For perforating the cap of a salt shaker in damp weather; for picking a stubborn cork out of the mouth of a bottle; for a book mark; for buttoning gloves; for picking locks; for running strings through brassieres; for tools for delicate clay modeling; for a hook to keep the door of the medicine cabinet shut and for other domestic projects too numerous to mention. Then Mr. Billopp adds:

"Is it any wonder, then, that when a hairpin is needed to pin in the hair, one can never be found?"

HARDY NEW COWS

There appears to be no limit to the ambitions of scientists, and the amazing thing is that their ambitions are generally fulfilled in actual results. An instance is the development of a superior type of cow, able to withstand the rigors of far northern climates such as that of Alaska.

Concerning this development, Dr. Evans of the Department of Agriculture, recently gave an interesting statement. Under the supervision of the department, experimental crossing of Galloway cows with the hardy Asiatic yak has produced an animal capable of subsisting on the scanty vegetation of the far north, while preserving desirable meat and milk producing qualities.

Another venture was the crossing of the far East, which produced an animal resembling American cows with the Brahman zebu of specially fitted to the Southwestern states. This animal is also able to resist tick infection which is very detrimental to ordinary cattle in those regions.

All this may not be exactly evolution, but it is something closely akin to it.

It is charged that there was illegal voting in that New York city election. Who would have thought it?

"The eagle suffers little birds to sing," said Shakespeare. But that was before the day of the Blue Eagle.

The United States battle fleet will be returned to the Atlantic next year. Glad to know our war with Japan is over.

A loan company advertisement is headed, "A message to men and women who need money." In other words, a message to everybody.

Halstead street, Chicago, is seven miles long, and on it live representatives of practically every race in the world.

In this land of ours about 12,000 persons are murdered, 100,000 assaulted, 50,000 robbed and 3,000 kidnaped every year.

OUR PAST

By C. C. BISHOP

Many stories have been told about the name of California but the first settlement made in this territory was at San Diego, and the country was called California as early as 1769.

This region was first settled by the Spaniards and the first Americans to arrive were trappers and hunters about 1826.

A few years later came Lieutenant Fremont of the U. S. Army and established what was known as the "Bear Flag Republic" in order to keep the Mexicans from controlling this land.

Mr. Sloat raised the first American flag over California soil on July 7, 1846 and ever since that day the United States have considered this as a part of our territory.

Gold was discovered on the afternoon of the 24th of January 1849 at Sutter's Mill, by a man named Marshall.

The story of the "Gold Rush of '49" is one of much suffering and great disappointment, while many amusing events are connected with it.

The Donner party, an overland caravan came so near starving that they killed and ate two Indians.

All that went to California gold fields did not get rich, some lived to return to their families and many a man was glad to get back to carry wash water for his wife that they might make a living in this manner.

Yerba Buena was the first gold field town, now called San Francisco, this was one of the most worldly towns that has ever been on American soil.

When the town had a population of several thousand, only ten per cent were women, the men left their families at home until they could make money and send for them.

San Francisco was destroyed three times by fire, while it was a tent town, and the Parker House, an ordinary frame structure, which a part of rented as a gambler's hall for $60,000.00 annually.

Ships landing here, the crews would instantly desert for the mines and one commander engaged at New York, received $259.00 per month had to pay $500.00 per month for a negro cook, on the return voyage.

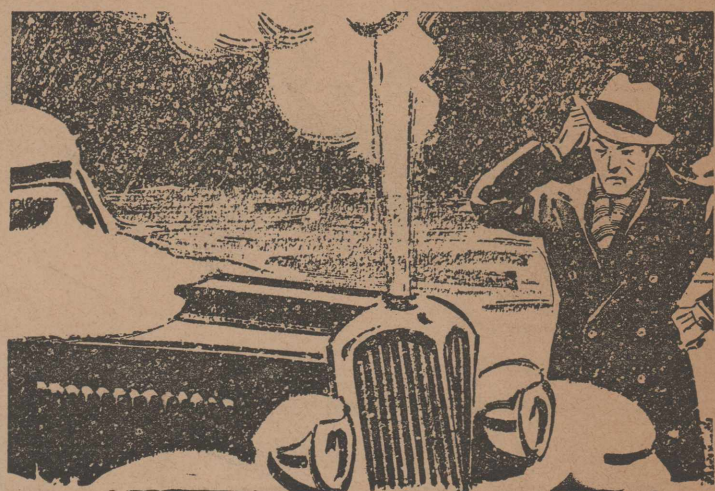

The regular price of a small loaf of bread was fifty cents.

The population of the gold field communities grew so rapidly that they did not have time to elect officers or form any kind of government.

Each community appointed what was called a "Vigilance Committee," they had charge of punishing wrong doers.

The committee only had two forms of punishment, one was whipping, and the other was hanging.

ing. We have a record where a youth was caught stealing, because of his age he was not hanged, but given one hundred and fifty lashes and branded "R" on the left arm after having his head shaved on one side.

Toy Makers Turn To 1933 Realism

By PHIL CREDEN

When we visited the toy shops around town the other day we experienced the sensation of peering through the wrong end of a telescope at things that make up this modern world, for there, there, and all around us were autos, airplanes, trains, doll houses with all the equipment of a modern home—miniature reproductions that looked like the real thing in every way. Toy makers have certainly been busy coupling up their own vivid imaginations and clever craftsmanship to life-size designs to create a Lilliputian world that will delight the heart of every boy and girl, for every child has a desire to play "grown-up" and the toy makers have answered this desire in a way that is most impressive.

In looking over the toys for boys we got a great kick out of the display of tiny autos and trucks—every design was absolutely up to the minute, and arrayed on long rows on the shelves and tables they looked like an auto show in tiny town. From the way several small boys stared with open mouths we solved several "gift problems" then and there, and very inexpensive, too!

Another display that caught our eye was a group of model airplanes that rivaled the autos in the faithfulness of their production. We saw pursuit planes, big, notched transports, and speed racers with all the color and streamlined shapes of the ships that rise from airports every day and speed across the country. These models couldn't fly, but we did see a small plane with a propeller powered with a strong rubber band that could. This little model will take off from the ground and spiral up in 75 foot circles to the height of an eight-story building and spiral down almost to the spot it took off! That's a great toy, but it has a rival in a small boat with an electric motor run by small batteries that peeds through the water at a great rate.

Lassies Follow Grownups

In a tiny model kitchen we saw an electric stove with an oven and two burners—a stove on which a real meal could be prepared in a pinch—in fact, we've seen in small kitchenettes that were more of a this one. There was also a cabinet equipped with modern utensils and con- of the big ones. And, of there were tables and everything for the little to prepare lunch for her and then eat it herself.

Those little girls who are then-minded even in play were doll houses furnished out tastefully and correct-ly living rooms with big comfortable chairs that you wish you were small to enjoy them. And pass-

Forget Your Diets at Xmas

FEASTING IS ORDER OF THE DAY

By JANE HARPER

When you're planning your Christmas gift list it's smart to include many holiday foods and confections, daintily wrapped and decorated. Jars of luscious home-made mincemeat or a rich, dark fruit cake are always welcome presents and look very festive when charmingly done up in colored paper or cellophane and tied with gay ribbons. Glasses of jelly will sparkle with Christmas cheer, especially when they have the gay coloring of currants or crab apples. Mint and pineapple conserve or green gage plum jam appropriately complete the holiday color scheme.

Give Useful Presents Filled with Christmas Goodies

One of those attractive decorated pottery cookie jars filled with Xmas cookies is another happy gift idea. And a pretty make-up box with its various sections packed with candied fruits, home-made salted nuts, fudges and other Christmas goodies will delight any fastidious girl or woman. A charming basket for holding wood, which may later have a permanent place near the fireplace, makes an ideal gift for an entire family when filled with fruits and confections and bedecked with a bright ribbon bow.

Decorate Christmas Cookies in Many Ingenious Ways

Ingenious designs may be made on colored icings from chocolate covered raisins, tiny gum drops, silver coated and corn candies, and rough seed candies. Motifs in Christmas tree or flower designs may be cut with scissors from gum drops in appropriate colors. Ginger cookie men for the children can be gayly dressed in coats, trousers and boots of different colored icing, with raisin buttons and perhaps a cocky feather made of a strip of bright gumdrop for the hats.

For the Christmas feast this year the enterprising homemaker will include some unusual dishes in her menu, as several toothsome novelties will add greatly to the festive air of the dinner. A frozen tomato or cranberry juice cocktail is a happy thought for the first course.

Design the Dinner Salad in Christmas Colors

Yuletide colors may be introduced into the salad for the holiday dinner in delicious combinations. Avocado may be used with diced tomatoes; and a green vegetable salad may be pyramided on a gela-

The vegetable course may also boast the Christmas colors in the form of green peppers baked with a filling of cooked tomato, chopped onion and grated cheese. Another unusual baked dish for the Christmas feast is baked apples which have been stuffed with mincemeat. In preparing this recipe pierce the apples for the steam to escape and pour a sugar sirup over them before making.

Colorful Delicacies Add Festivity to the Dinner

Various incidental delicacies will contribute much to the holiday gayety of the Christmas dinner. For example—little baskets with scalloped edges may be made from oranges and will prove smart containers for chopped lime jelly, or fruit cut fine and marinated in rum or sherry flavoring (and perhaps covered with shredded coconut). Frosted grapes will add charm to any holiday table, and they will be acclaimed as delectable by all the family. To prepare them dip a bunch of seedless white grapes in the beaten white of two eggs. Then dip in powdered sugar several times and lay on a wire rack to dry. They will look gay and sparkling like crystal.

ing along from this display of doll houses we came to the crowning achievement of the toy makers' art—the dolls. There were baby dolls made of a rubber composition and so lifelike in their appearance they made you pick them up carefully for fear you'll drop them. And with these baby dolls all the clothes a young mother would wish for, with basinettes and baby carriages—everything so real and so beautifully made that it doesn't require much imagination to act like a real mother.

Besides these cute baby dolls there are many gorgeous costume dolls that are most attractive and most inexpensive. In the toys for children just stepping out of babyhood there were great, big fluffy dogs and cats—not just funny cats or dogs either, for each followed the lines of a special breed. We saw terriers, Scotties, Airedales, and spaniels—every one of them done so well that they could enter a dog show and almost get away with it.

All in all, the toys this year are splendid—fascinating to young and old. What's more, they are surprisingly inexpensive, and it won't be hard to give the children just what they want, even though you are traveling with a pinched pocketbook.

WOMEN'S HAIR TO BE GREEN OR CRIMSON, PARIS SAYS

PARIS—No more platinum blondes. Green hair for evening, and bright red for day, Paris hair-dressers declare. The shade of red that has been chosen is not the old outworn henna nor titian, but is nearer crimson, and will go with golden decorations. But it has been found that this shade is not so effective for evening, when almond green has tone to go with silver ornaments.

"What is the matter with the blondes?" one of the leading hair-dressers was asked.

"There are too many of them," was the reply. "A modish woman must have distinction, which crimson will give until everyone has crimson hair."

County Home Is Cited As School For Boys, Girls

Leader Said Teach Girls To "Mend, Sew, Cook And How To Doctor"

COLLEGE STATION.—"A country home, be it ever so plain, with a father and mother of sense and gentle culture, is nature's university, and is more richly endowed for the training of youth than Yale or Harvard," declared Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, founder of the Extension Service, 26 years ago.

"Dr. Knapp knew that the home is the anchor of civilization and a point at which many of the revolutionary changes for re-adjusting agriculture must start when he began his farm demonstrations in Texas 30 years ago," says O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. "In commemorating the hundredth anniversary of his birth December 16th, it should not be overlooked that this great leader foresaw the important place home demonstration work must have in the re-making of country life.

"The organization he brought into existence in Texas in 1904, and which has since spread to every State and territory, not only made possible the present emergency adjustment campaigns, but laid the foundation for widespread agricultural re-adjustment," Mr. Martin continues. "The work of county farm demonstration agents in re-adjusting individual farm systems these 30 years have been helped along by the parallel work of home demonstration agents. They have helped to make good Dr. Knapp's assertion that 'the greatest schools for the human race are our homes and the common schools.'"

It was home demonstration agents he had in mind when he said of farm girls: "Teach them to mend and sew and cook; how to doctor; how to dress a wound or make a ligature; how to adorn the simple home and make it appear like a palace; how by a simple arrangement the environment can be transformed into a place of beauty. In the United States the art of cooking is mainly a lost art. There are communities where not to be dyspeptic is to be out of fashion. If we could have lessons on how to live royally on a little; how to nourish the body without poisoning the stomach; and how to balance a ration for economic and healthful results, there would be a hopeful gain in lessening the number of bankrupts by the kitchen route."

The Spirit of Christmas

By Virginia Curry
As Christmas draws near, our thoughts are turned to what we are going to receive instead of what we are going to give. "It is more blessed to give than to receive." This is an age old proverb which when tried, proves to be very true. Think of the pleasure you can bring to your friends and to yourself by planning carefully the gifts that you intend to give them. If you are talented in some way it is easier to make presents for your friends. You boys who are gifted in carving, make some little what-nots for the girl friend, or the best boy chum will appreciate it, too. Besides your pals that you are with constantly think of the poor friends who may not have any Christmas at all. I think everyone should follow Mrs. Roosevelt's example in this. When she meets poor little friends she takes their name, buys them nice gifts, puts their names on it, and puts them away until the eventful night. The expression is often heard that the depression is on and there won't be much Christmas this year. Don't let that interfere with the real Christmas spirit. Remember when you used to hang up your stocking and then try to stay awake all night to catch old Santa passing out the presents. Remember how you were the first one up the next morning to see what that generous old gentleman had left you? Remember how disillusioned you were when mother told you that Santa Claus was only Dad? Don't let the real true spirit of Christmas die

Allred Calls On Officers To Help Keep Liquor Out

Tuesday Was Repeal For Some States But Just Tuesday For Texas

AUSTIN, Tex.—While other states prepared to ring the death knell of prohibition, Texas' attorney general, James V. Allred, Tuesday called on officers to invoke the state's "seizure" and "padlock" laws for the full enforcement of prohibition.

Texas statutes authorize the seizure and condemnation of any automobile, truck, flying machine, airplane, boat, ship or other vehicle used for the unlawful transportation of intoxicating liquor.

Allred also reminded county and district attorneys of Texas, as well as all peace officers, of the legal provisions authorizing the filing of a suit to padlock places where intoxicating liquors are kept, sold or manufactured.

He called upon public sentiment to aid the vigil at liquor's flood gates.

"I cannot urge too strongly the citizenship of this state to report violations of the law to their local officers and insist upon rigid and firm enforcement of all the laws on this subject," Allred said.

"Not only is it absolutely essential to uphold the law because it is the law, but the failure to do so will seriously affect and impair the revenues of the state," he said.

Repeal of the 18th amendment does not affect Texas liquor laws. Dry barriers have been lowered only for 3.2 per cent beer and wine recently legalized in certain counties of the state.

Reports that out-of-state distillers will begin rolling barrels of liquor into Texas were current. To do so is a penitentiary offense.

"Personally, I do not believe that any of the railroads or legitimate trucking concerns of this state will accept any shipments of beer or wine with a greater alcoholic content than 3.2 per cent," said Allred.

"Any corporation which does so will subject its charter or permit to forfeiture and cancellation and be subjected to a fine of $520 per day. I will not hesitate to invoke this remedy against any corporation that does violate the law."

Leisure time that results in 14 rugs valued at $102.40 is time well spent, thinks Mrs. A. M. Daniels, home industries demonstrator in the home demonstration clubs of Lynn county. She has a ready sale for all her rugs.

English Club

You know the story about the origin of Santa Claus, about St. Nicholas who was a rich man who gave money and presents to the poor people. When St. Nicholas went around slipping the money under doors, leaving baskets of food on doorsteps, and putting presents inside doors, he wasn't wondering what those persons were going to give him in return. His pleasure was in giving—not in receiving. Yet, giving and receiving are not the only things to think of at Christmas. Stop to think what God gave us on this day. "For God so loved the World that he gave his only Begotten Son, that whosoever believed on him should have everlasting life." Wasn't this a great gift to the unappreciative world? Think about these things when you plan your Christmas.

On Wednesday, November 29, the Senior English Club held a meeting, giving a Thanksgiving program. Each member stated something for which he was thankful or gave an appropriate quotation on Thanksgiving. Geneva Goforth presented the story by Sarah Orne Jewett entitled "The Night Before Thanksgiving." John Robert Hendrix gave a talk on the spirit of Thanksgiving. Bessie Smith gave a reading from Gene Lindberg.

Guests present were Mary Frances Templeton, Grace Moore and Richard Carter. Mary Frances gave an interesting talk, telling of her English Work in college and urging the seniors to study diligently.

No Bids Received For State Issue Of Relief Bonds

Allred Says Bids Not Filed In Accordance With State Laws Of Texas

AUSTIN, Texas.—Only one bid was received, and it was withdrawn, to purchase the $2,750,000 of State relief bonds to be used in matching Federal funds for unemployment relief in Texas. The State Bond Commission, of which Attorney General James V. Allred is chairman, announced that it was taking further steps immediately to sell them. He did not indicate what is being done to get buyers. The other members of the commission are Comptroller George H. Sheppard and State Treasurer Charley Lockhart.

August 26 the voters authorized the issuance of $20,000,000 of State relief bonds and the special legislative session provided for the issuance of $5,500,000 of that amount. The bond Commission offered $2,750,000 on bids to be opened Friday.

National Administrator Harry Hopkins several times has said that Texas moved to promulgate to assume its share of unemployment relief burden no Federal funds would be forthcoming. That caused the bonds to be voted and authorized, and the Legislature, in giving their good faith, Friday's of bids presents an unexpected situation.

When the Texas Bond Commission met Friday for the purpose of opening bids on $2,750,000 of relief bonds, it discovered only one bid had been filed. The sole bidder proposed to buy a $150,000 at par and at interest.

This bid was not filed in accordance with the requirements of law, as the required deposit to accompany the bid. When the board communicated this fact to the bidder and requested him to deposit the required sum, he withdrew the bid.

It was advised by bond men that conditions in the current market probably account for the fact that no more bids were made.

Further steps are being taken to sell the bonds.

Book Review Given At Monday Session Of Library Club

The library club met Monday, November 27, at the regular hour. A complete check of all books out of the library was made.

Miss Hulsey gave a review of Gladys Hasty Carroll's recent book, "As the Earth Turns." This book was written in 1933, and is very interesting. It depicts most clearly farm life in Maine. One family is concerned in this, part of the members wishing to live exactly as their ancestors had done on the farm and with no more knowledge than their antecedents. Other members are modernistic and desirous of becoming successful in pursuits other than farming. The atmosphere of these different types of people were presented.

Those present were: Juanita Clark, Leslie Moore, Bessie Smith, Josephine Wilson, Mildred Allen, Othella Dennis and Miss Hulsey.

YOU CAN'T DENY IT, MOTORISTS! THIS NEW KIND OF TIRE IS 3 TIMES SAFER FROM BLOW-OUTS

No extra cost to public for new life-saving invention!

PERHAPS you have been using some other good brand of tire. If it is a good service you naturally feel loyal.

But loyalty to your family and friends is a different matter. Investigation shows that the chance of a blow-out is so great that even you'll have a blow-out sooner or later. Every year thousands are killed or injured by blow-outs throw cars out of control.

New Invention Prevents Cause of Blow-Outs

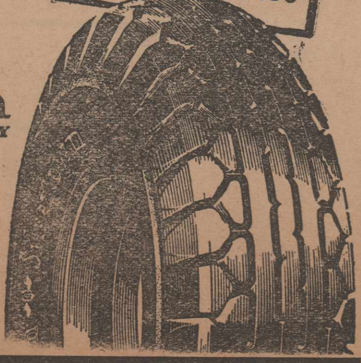

Would you knowingly take this terrible risk of losing precious lives, when it can now be avoided at no extra cost?

To prevent just such tragedies Goodrich has built into every new Silvertown Tire the amazing Golden Ply. This life-saving invention resists the terrific heat INSIDE THE TIRE that causes blow-outs. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by overcoming their CAUSE.

Yet this new "3 times safer" tire costs not a penny more than any other standard tire! Can you afford to be without them, when your life and others might any day DEPEND on this extra protection?

Come in and let us show you this new kind of tire... take advantage of today's still low prices.

The gift she wants this year ELECTROLUX

Long after many other gifts are forgotten, Electrolux will continue to bring happiness, not only to her, but to everyone in the family. In fact, it is the practicalness of an automatic refrigerator that makes it the nicest present you can give.

If you are thinking of her, then an Electrolux means that she will have much less work to do throughout the months and years ahead. She will have less bother in preparing meals, because many things can be kept fresh and ready for use in the Electrolux.

These features of Electrolux mean a lot to you. It is absolutely and permanently silent because it has no moving parts and uses no water. There is only a tiny gas flame that gives constant, crisp cold. It has trigger-release ice trays—split shelf—temperature control—non-stop defrosting—two-temperature regulator and a host of others that add to the satisfaction of ownership.

Come in and select the Electrolux best suited to your family's needs. There is a size and model for every home.

Texas News Photo—United Press All Southwest Conference Team

Here is the All-Southwest conference football team for 1933, selected by the United Press and Texas News Photos as a symposium of opinions of the coaches and sports writers of the conference. Murphy, stellar Arkansas quarterback, and Clem of Baylor were the only men to receive unanimous choice. Fuqua of S. M. U. was closely pushed for his position by Rucker, rangy Arkansas end, as was Domingue of Texas A. and M. by Kitchen of T. C. U. and Witt of Rice. Domingue's fine playing in the Aggie-Tulane game early in the season had much to do with his selection. Hillard of Texas and James of Baylor, who made the UP-TNP all-conference team last year, ran up against real competition this year and lost their positions to Petty of Baylor and Wilson of S. M. U. Arkansas, Baylor, T. C. U., S. M. U. and Texas placed two men each and Texas A. and M. one. Rice failed to gain a first team position.
