Race Develops For Local Peace Justice Position

The only contested races in the Democratic Primary involving strictly Callahan County people are three Peace Justice precincts.

Cross Plains Justice Precinct 6 joined those at Clyde and Putnam which sport contests during the past week. Eddie Heard of Cross Plains, former justice here, filed to oppose L. P. (Pender) Mitchell who is seeking re-election to that post.

In other Peace Justice races incumbent Lee Savell at Clyde is being challenged by Deputy Sheriff Jess Henley, and at Putnam, Precinct 8, Ida Mae Waddell, incumbent, is being contested by I. G. Mobley.

E.M.S. Planning Emergency Technician Classes Here

Cross Plains Emergency Medical Service is happy to announce that arrangements have been tentatively set with Texas State Technical Institute at Sweetwater for Emergency Medical Technician classes to begin approximately April 1.

It was explained by Mrs. James (Wilma) Lawrence, coordinator for the E.M.S. here, that in order to have the classes in Cross Plains a minimum enrollment of 15 must be assured. Site for the classes to be held locally will be secured later.

Tuition will be from $30 to $50 per person, and those taking the course and successfully completing it will receive college credits. "This should be of interest to young people who are college minded," the coordinator stated.

The spokesman for the E.M.S. said, "We hope a large number will take advantage of this opportunity to become an E.M.T." She continued, "It will qualify you to serve in the E.M.S., but we want to stress the fact that it is certainly not mandatory to do so." Mrs. Lawrence explained, "We want individuals to take the course because it will be of great benefit to them, and if they should wish to be of service to their community, the E.M.S. will welcome any volunteer who would like to join the local service."

Those persons who are interested in taking the E.M.T. class, are being asked to contact any member of the E.M.S. in Cross Plains for additional details.

Rain, Snow Yields 1.25 Inches Moisture

A thunder shower, some snow and another shower during the past week has netted Cross Plains 1.25 inches of moisture.

It all began with a spring-like thunder shower Friday night rather early Saturday morning when 75 of an inch of rain fell in a downpour.

Temperatures cooled under dripping skies Saturday and residents awoke Sunday to a covering of white. The snow which began falling late Saturday night, was rained at about one and one-half inches deep, and it yielded .10 of an inch of moisture. Vast majority of the white stuff had melted by sunset as a warming trend gained momentum.

Then early Tuesday morning another shower dumped an additional .40 of an inch of rain here.

Although dry as the year dawned after a wet 1981, the 1.25 inches last week and .70 of an inch and a 6-inch snow has temporarily alleviated the crisis for winter pastures and small grain crops.

January's total moisture was 1.55 inches, and the shower Tuesday morning brings the aggregate to 1.95 inches in 1982.

Officers elected were also the same as the previous year. They are Dale Bishop, president; Jimmielee Payne, vice-president; Betty Cavanaugh, treasurer, and Gretna Payne, secretary.

The relief committee will be composed of the president and treasurer, Bishop and Mrs. Cavanaugh.

Local Methodists Honors 10 In Memorial Rites Sunday

The First United Methodist Church of Cross Plains will on February 21, 1982, celebrate its second year in the new building on North Main Street.

The church was constructed at the cost of $240,000. The present indebtedness is $15,000, and it is hoped, according to Rev. Bill Reed, pastor, that this debt will be paid off this year. A plan is to divide the last $15,000 into 200 shares at $75.00 whereby all members of the church can have a part in retiring the debt by giving the amount of a share. Rev. Reed said. Already a considerable amount has been received.

In honor of those 10 members who have died since the first service was held February 24, 1980, the church had a memorial service last Sunday. During the service the names of the deceased members were read. They are Patricia A. Reed, Queenie Koenig, Blanch Fortney, Mary McLeod, Doyle Burchfield, Len Byrd, Hazel Respass, Calvin Ready, Elizabeth Fomby and Dr. Carl J. Sohns, Sr.

As the names were read by various members of congregation, a chime was sounded and a candle was lighted and allowed to burn the remainder of the service, in honor of them.

Following the morning service a fellowship dinner was enjoyed by about 50 persons in the church's fellowship hall.

Jimmielee Payne Named Cemetery Panel Prexy

Jimmielee Payne has been named as president of the Cross Plains Cemetery Association for the ensuing year.

That action was taken during the annual regular meeting of the association's directors held last Thursday at the Cross Plains City Hall.

E. F. (Franz) Odom, who had served two years as head of the local burial plot supervisory panel, asked that he be relieved of the duties of the office.

Odom's place as a director has been assigned to Dale Bishop. Odom is Commissioner of Callahan County's Precinct 4, and Bishop operates an automobile dealership here.

J. H. Balkum continues to serve as vice-president of the panel. Mrs. A. J. (Maurine) McCuin also remains at her post of secretary-treasurer, for a second term, and Mrs. Oscar (Peggy) Koenig also continues as a director. Directors are named for one year terms.

The session began at 1:30 p.m. with only the directors, Bishop and Mrs. Fonda Worthy in attendance.

Bisons Grab Win 48-43; Buffettes Bow To Moran

Buffaloes grabbed first win of the second round of District 27-A basketball competition last Friday by besting host Moran 48-43. Buffettes dropped a 65-35 verdict to the Moran hosts.

Tuesday night of last week host Eula beat Bisons 57-44 and blasted the Buffettes 91-27.

Buffaloes trailed 12-4 after first eight minutes, but rallied to gain a 21-17 edge at halftime. That bulge was expanded to 35-27 after three quarters, but had shrunk to five points, 48-43, at the buzzer.

Terrel Harris was top scorer with 14 points, and Richard Clark was runner-up with 13. Other Buffs tallying were Ronald Hillburn 7, Jeff McCoy, Randy Phillips and John Fred McWilliams 4 each and John Hanke 2. Ricky Hunter led Moran with 22 marks.

The Buffettes trailed by seven, 16-8 and 23-22, after first two quarters, and lost ground to 41-23 after three quarters and the final 63-35 count. Jo Jo Koenig led Buffette scoring with 13 points. Others aiding were Kathy Jones and Leichelle Thompson 6 points each, Valerie Whitsett 4 and Toni Edington and Becky Stone 2 each. Kathy Jackson led Moran with 22.

The Moran game was supposed to have been played here, but in first round Moran came here instead of playing host to gas out- age there, so site reversed on second round. Tuesday of last week Eula boys defeated the Buffaloes 57-44, although Buff Harris counted 17 points. Cary White led Eula with 25.

Eula's girls bombed the Buffettes 91-27 as Robin Engstrand led scoring for Eula with 28. Miss Whitsett was top performer for the Buffettes with 8 points.

Tips Given For Planting, Care Of Rose Gardens

From Cross Plains Garden Club

The rose is by far America's favorite flower, and there are varieties to please anyone's taste. They come in all sizes, shapes and colors and grow well almost anywhere they are properly planted and cared for.

This is the season to put the roses in and seven simple steps to follow in the planting process are listed here. The nursery experts suggest that the plants be kept in a cool place out of the sun until they are put in the ground, and that they be soaked in water shortly before planting.

The first step. Clip off dead or broken shoots or roots.

Step two. Dig a hole 15 to 18 inches deep, depending on the size of bush.

Step three. Begin to fill the center of the hole with fine soil until there is a mound on which to rest the center of the root system beneath the base of the plant.

Step four. Very carefully place the center of the roots on the top of that mound and spread the roots out over the soil. Work with the soil to form a firm pack- ing around the roots, making sure to eliminate any air pockets.

Step five. Back fill the hole, packing it firmly against the roots. The bud union (where the top and roots meet) should be at or slightly below ground level.

Step six. When the hole is about half full, add a little water, then complete filling the hole with soil, continuing to pack it down firmly.

Step seven. Water the bush generously.

Roses require nitrogen, phosphorus and potash as primary elements for their health growth, and these can be obtained from commercial fertilizers or from natural materials. Feeding should begin in early spring and be done as often as necessary. Sow the fertilizer two to three inches into the soil surrounding the plant perimeter, and water immediately afterwards.

Roses require a good soaking at least once a week, and rainfall is usually not sufficient. At least an inch of water, enough to soak to the roots, should be given to the plant each week. A mulch is not a necessity for roses, but it can help protect roots from high temperatures in the summer and keep weeds at a minimum.

Mattie Cosper Rites Are Held Tuesday

Mattie Pearl Cosper of Rising Star, formerly of Cross Plains, died at 1:55 p.m. Sunday at a Rising Star nursing home.

Funeral for Mrs. Cosper, 73, who moved from the Bangs area to Cross Plains several years ago, was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Kimbrough Funeral Home in Cisco.

Officiating the final rites was the Rev. Coke Sawyer. Burial was at the Sipe Springs Cemetery.

Born July 16, 1908, in Sipe Springs, she married John Henry Cosper there July 23, 1928. He died in July 1974. She was a Methodist who moved to Rising Star from Cross Plains two years ago.

Two sons and a daughter preceded her in death.

Survivors include two sons, Jack of Sonora and Jim of Hobbs, N. M.; three daughters, Virginia Nell of Fort Worth, Patricia Armour of Grosvener and Sandra Carr of Cisco; three brothers, J. C. Social Security Data You Should Know

The fact that Social Security coverage is generally mandatory and that taxes are automatically deducted from most paychecks may lull many people into thinking there's nothing they need to do about their Social Security protection until they're ready to retire. However, there are a number of aspects of Social Security that you should be aware of in order to get the most out of the protection. These facts can make a significant difference in how well the program works for you.

Social Security is a comprehensive program. How much should you know about the protection you have under the program? The following tips are designed to help you answer this question.

What benefits are available — when to contact Social Security? In addition to retirement benefits, Social Security pays disability and survivors benefits to workers and their dependents, and there is Medicare health insurance for people over 65, for people who have received Social Security disability benefits for 24 months or more, or for people with permanent kidney disease.

However, before you and your family can receive benefits, you must apply for them. Without knowing a great deal about the various benefits, you should at least know when to get in touch with the Social Security office. In general, you should get in touch with the Social Security office if:

- You're unable to work because of an illness or injury that is expected to last a year or longer.
- You're 62 or older and plan to retire.
- You're within 3 months of 65, even if you don't plan to retire.
- Someone in your family dies.
- You, your wife or husband, or your dependent children suffer permanent kidney failure.

Social Security benefits are designed to replace a fairly stable and predictable proportion of past earnings. They are supposed to provide a base of income upon which a person may build to meet the demands of his or her own life style, through private pensions, investments, savings and so forth. The benefit amount is based on your earnings under the Social Security program over your working life. The benefit formula is designed to replace about 20 to 25 per cent of annual earnings for high income workers, 30 to 35 per cent for average income workers, and 35 to 40 per cent for low income (minimum wage) workers.

You should know the extent to which Social Security can protect you and your family and use this information in your financial planning. The Social Security office is prepared to answer questions you may have about your Social Security protection. You may call or visit at any time. The Abilene office is located at 142 S. Pioneer. The phone number is 698-1360. For those living outside of Abilene, there is a toll free number 1-800-392-1603.

For City Police or Emergency Medical Service phone 725-6666.

Cottonwood News

By Bev Brown

The young people take great pride in their new bus assigned to the Cottonwood area along with their local bus diver, Mr. Billy Bell. It has been close to three and a half to four years that a bus remained in the community with a local driver living here. The young folks take great interest and volunteer a helping hand in keeping the bus neat and clean. Mr. Bell is proud of each and every one of his thirty to forty riders. Congratulations children on the great job of caring and sharing; we are all proud of you.

Some of the girls and boys who ride the bus have to cross the road upon entering or leaving the bus. Motorists in approaching or vehicles following the bus need to be alert, watching out for these children; the yellow caution flashing lights and the red stop lights. A good rule for the bus riders: wait 'til your school bus has come to a complete stop before crossing the road in front of the bus to enter. Rain, snow and ice leave the roads slippery and slick causing hazardous driving conditions. If you have any questions concerning the bus or the bus route, Mr. Bell will be glad to answer them. Drive courteously and carefully.

Late Friday night rainfall total averaged .75 of an inch to 1 inch. Snow started falling around 10:30 Saturday night and early Sunday morning the sun shined brightly on a snow blanketed wintry scene. This Monday morning, Feb. 1, a winter storm watch is forecast for this evening with accumulations of 2 to 4 inches expected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Clark visited with Mrs. Stella Davidson and Mrs. Gussie Oglesby in the West Texas Medical Center at Abilene on Friday. They spent Friday night through Saturday afternoon with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson in Clyde. On Sunday, J. P. and Nettie stopped by to see Mrs. Cornelia Sandifer and Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Gallivan.

Mrs. Stella Davidson remains in Room No. 225 at West Texas

Gifts, Interest Add To Atwell Cemetery Fund

Two recent donations and interest from monies invested have added $841.45 to the treasury which is to provide permanent care for the Atwell Cemetery, according to Mrs. Nathan (Louise) Foster who serves as secretary-treasurer of the Atwell Cemetery Association.

Most recent contributions to the cemetery were reported as the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riffe $200 and Maurine Purvis $10. Mrs. Foster also explained that the remaining $631.45 was interest earned by certificates of deposit purchased by the cemetery association.

Mrs. Foster expressed her appreciation for the donations as well as for those in the past. Contributions may be mailed to the Atwell Cemetery Association in care of Mrs. Foster at Route 4, Cisco, Texas 76437. Acknowledgments will be published in Review columns from time to time.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—Observers of the Texas political scene got a surprise this week when House Speaker Bill Clayton announced that he would not be a candidate for statewide office in 1982.

Clayton's announcement was all the more surprising because the Springlake Democrat already had told supporters at a December fundraiser that he definitely would enter the race for land commissioner. The four-term speaker already had collected some $300,000 in contributions to make that race.

Clayton, a 20-year veteran of the Texas House, said he decided to bow out of the race to take advantage of a "unique business opportunity" involving his West Texas farming operations. Clayton acknowledged that his legions in the Brilab case had "some negative factor," but he denied that Brilab influenced his decision not to run.

But don't count Clayton out of the political scene altogether. Clayton said he's going to hang on to the $300,000, and some observers already are speculating that Clayton might put the money to use in a 1984 congressional race or a bid for governor in 1986.

Redistricting Plan

The U. S. Justice Department's decision to throw out the Texas House and Senate redistricting plans on grounds they violate the federal Voting Rights Act brought immediate response from the state's Democratic and Republican leaders, with both sides claiming partisanship in the motives of the others.

GOP Gov. Clements was quick to call on Attorney General Mark White to give up his defense of the plan and to let a three-judge federal court panel draw the new district lines.

Clements charged that White had a "clear cut conflict of interest" in the matter because he was on the panel of five Democratic officeholders that adopted the plans.

White has asked the three-judge panel currently hearing lawsuits against the plans to uphold the district lines, but Clements says that would throw the matter back to the Justice Department.

Meanwhile Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and other Democrats charged that the Justice Department's decision was based on political considerations and aimed at increasing ranks in the Legislature.

The Feb. 1 filing deadline for those legislative races may have to be postponed because of the ruling. The filing deadline for 16 congressional district races already has been pushed back.

Some observations of your correspondent:

"Necessity is the mother of invention," once true, but a little irrelevant at this point in time. Research has made would-be inventors out of many students and has almost superseded the emphasis on academics in some of our colleges.

Much interest is taken in the art of quilting, not so much because it is a necessity, as it was at one time, but because it has become an avocation.

The art spread over Europe by traders from China and by the return of the Crusaders from the Near East to wear underwear made of two or three layers of material, they prevented the chafing caused by wearing their coats of mail.

European women profited by the idea and when the change in the Gulf Stream brought extremely cold winters, warm clothing and bedding became a necessity. Queens and peasants alike began to quilt; queens to decorate their palaces and peasants for comfort. Clouting or applique was the only kind of quilting known in Europe for several centuries.

The Pilgrims brought their precious quilts to America in 1620. Soon the hard use given them in the cold winter of their arrival wore them out.

So much can be said about the history of quilting in America. The varied display of quilts donated to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center on the recent telethon, is an example of the interest in quilt-making, but with all interest shown, quilt-making may be a dying art.

Only for the younger women to become interested can the art survive. If this generation of young women would become interested much self-gratification can result. Along with writing their journals, diaries, or autobiographies, the highlights of one's life can be sewed into quilt blocks. These blocks can be made into wall hangings, pictures, murals or quilts; thus pursuing an art and making a contribution to the arts in the future.

Later, I intend to comment on "Learning to Quilt."

A black and white line drawing illustration of a large, dense crowd of people. Most of the individuals are shown from the chest up, holding and reading newspapers. The newspapers are depicted with various headlines and text blocks. Some people are looking down at their papers, while others are looking up. The crowd is arranged in a way that suggests a large gathering, with people in the foreground and background. The overall style is that of a mid-20th-century political cartoon or editorial illustration.

Warning Is Sounded About New Illegal Drug Presentation Method

Editor's Note: Following is a story which appeared in the Sunday Cisco Press concerning a new form of presenting illegal drugs and urging alertness to the problem.

"The following information has been brought to our attention. We urge you to take notice! Your alertness and proper education of your children could keep them from serious damage or even death.

"We have been informed that a form of tattoo transfer called 'Blue Star' has become readily available in neighboring states and communities and may very well be here in Ranger. This is a small sheet of white paper containing numerous blue stars the size of a pencil eraser. Each

'star' is impregnated with LSD and can be removed from the paper to be placed in the mouth. Absorption can also occur through the skin by simply handling the paper or tattoo.

"There are also brightly colored paper tabs resembling postage stamps in size, which have pictures of Superman, Mickey Mouse dressed as a sorcerer's apprentice, Dopey, and possibly other Disney characters.

The stamps are packed in a red cardboard box with a picture of Mickey Mouse, wrapped in foil in a clear zip lock type bag. They come in five-inch square sheets with one hundred perforated 1-4 inch square stamps.

"This is a new way of selling acid. A young child could happen upon these and have a fatal trip. It is also feared that little children could be given a free 'Tattoo' by older children who want to have some fun at someone else's expense. It is important that all parents and students be alerted in case their children or brothers and sisters should become involved in such a scheme, even in an innocent way.

"Parents, this is particularly for your information. Please be on the alert. This message is not intended to alarm anyone — simply to alert and inform.

"Our children are our most precious possessions."

Misuse Of SS Card Now Felony Offense

Stricter laws regarding the misuse of Social Security numbers or cards are now in effect, according to Glyn Hammons manager of the Abilene Social Security office.

A law signed by President Reagan in late December 1981 provides criminal penalties for: (1) using a Social Security card obtained with false information, (2) using someone else's Social Security number, (3) buying, selling, or counterfeiting Social Security cards, or (4) possessing a regular or counterfeit card with intent to sell or alter it.

An unlawful act affecting the Social Security card or number is now considered a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, added Hammons.

Penalties for conviction can be a fine of up to $5,000 or a prison term of up to five years or both.

According to Hammons, individuals wishing to report misuse of Social Security cards or numbers should call the Social Security office listed in the telephone book or the HHS hot line in Washington, D. C. at 202-472-4222.
