Meany And Tobin Emerge As Undisputed Bosses Of AFL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16. (AP)—A Bronx plumber and a Boston coal wagon driver emerged today as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Control of the convention for George Meany of the plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making executive council which will run the AFL's affairs from now until next fall, when the federation meets again.

As the convention drew to a close today, delegates admitted that the smoothly-operating machine of the 72-year-old Tobin and 53-year-old Meany was the big revelation of the 66th annual get-together of the labor group.

CIO Stands Behind U. S. Foreign Policy

BOSTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—This was clear today: The CIO stands overwhelmingly behind Secretary of State Marshall and American foreign policy.

This is the No. 1 fact of the CIO convention so far.

It was demonstrated yesterday in one of the most violent debates heard at a CIO convention in the last six years.

The convention cheered constantly for right-wing speakers who shouted their support of American policy and fired criticism at Russian and communist methods.

It was an obvious spanking for the CIO's extreme left wing, with President Philip Murray doing part of the spanking.

The loudest and longest roar of applause came when George Balaban of the textile workers said that in Russia President Truman has been compared to a Hitler and then added: "He couldn't be a Hitler, because if he were a Hitler, Russia would work out a pact with him."

Secretary Marshall himself addressed the convention earlier in the day. The delegates gave him an ovation. Murray called him "one of the world's greatest champions of peace."

Marshall spoke of the "urgent necessity" of "positive interim measures" to supply food and coal to Europe "to prevent a fatal deterioration, political, economic and psychological."

He said: "We are faced with the danger of the actual disappearance of the characteristics of western civilization on which our government and our manner of living depend."

At the end of the day, the convention adopted a CIO resolution on foreign policy.

AS REPARATIONS

Plans Are Laid To Dismantle 682 German Industrial Plants

BERLIN, Oct. 16. (AP)—The British-American military governments today announced plans to dismantle 682 German industrial and war plants in their two zones for reparations in the "speediest" time possible to expedite European economic recovery.

Of the factories, 390 are metal chemical and electric engineering, shipbuilding and power plants.

The remainder are war plants from which the statement said much of the general purpose equipment already had been delivered to the inter-allied reparations agency, the Soviet Union and Poland.

The list, prepared under the new level of industry plan for the combined western zones, compared with more than 1,600 plants in the fused zones which were considered for reparations under the old level of industry for all of Germany.

In a joint statement to the German people, Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Marshal Sir Sholto Douglas, the U. S. and British military governors, emphasized that the reparations plan was a "firm" one, but said they would consider "well founded" suggestions for substitution of equivalent individual plants.

Publication of the list of plants to be dismantled has been awaited tensely by Germans since the new level of industry for the combined zones, providing for a ceiling production of 10,700,000 ingot tons of steel, was announced in late August.

German public officials and trade union leaders have attacked the British-American reparations policy as a blow to German economic revival and a source of unemployment. Trade unionists have threatened non-cooperation in dismantling the plants as well as strikes and demonstrations.

Dispatches from the Ruhr forecast sit-down strikes in protest against dismantlings soon after the list was published.

Farm Program Committee Is Heading South

Studies Will Determine Long Range Policy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP) The House Agriculture Committee headed today for the South's cotton and tobacco fields to continue its study of long range farm policy.

The group, which spent the last three days in New England and Pennsylvania will hold another hearing at Rocky Mount, N. C., tomorrow.

Going South, the committee will travel in a chartered bus—the first time a congressional committee has made an extensive tour by this mode of travel. Chairman Hope said the highway routes would permit close inspection of agriculture.

Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) told a reporter New England and Middle Atlantic farmers heard so far "like what they have in price supports, the parity concept and soil conservation. They are telling us they want this refined, expanded and made permanent."

Rep. Johnson, Ill. Republican said:

"We must continue intense soil conservation. Everybody seems to agree the application of mineral fertilizer should be continued. But there is some disagreement as to whether the government should pay part or the farmer bear all the cost."

Local Police Are Kept Busy

Big Spring police department activity experienced a sharp increase during the month of September when 204 arrests were made, according to the regular report submitted to city commissioners by Chief W. D. Green.

In addition to the arrests, which included such offenses as drunkenness, affray, disturbance, gambling and drunken driving, city police also issued 405 traffic tickets.

Fines collected in corporation court during the month totaled $1,907.50, and a total of $196.50 was pending at the end of the month. Fines laid out in the city jail totaled $1,383.

The police radio also was kept busy in September. Recorded were 708 calls to local units, 136 calls to other stations, while 122 calls were received from other stations.

Mahon Will Be Honored

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 16. —A mass meeting of Mitchell County citizens will be held in Colorado City Friday night honoring Rep. George Mahon.

Participating in the appreciation meeting will be leaders of all civic clubs of the county and other visitors from the 18th congressional district will be invited. A band concert at 7:15 p. m. in the Ruddick Park amphitheater will open the ceremonies, which have been planned as a homecoming demonstration for Mahon.

A member of the Herter committee, he recently returned from a tour of Western Europe where food conditions were studied.

At 7:45 p. m. the formal speaking will begin with State Senator Pat Bullock as master of ceremonies.

Six one-minute speakers representing Mitchell county will welcome the congressman home. They are Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, Price Maddox, Claude Hooks, and Frank Kelley, all of Colorado City; Dr. Bruce Johnson of Loraine and LeRoy Gressett of Westbrook. Rev. R. Y. Bradford will offer the invocation.

Charles C. Thompson, local banker, rancher, and head of the board of regents of Texas Technological College will introduce Mahon. Thompson and Mahon, both former residents, have been life-long friends and are former law partners.

City Tax Payments Come In Steadily

Although the pace has slowed somewhat during the past few days, city tax payments still are coming in steadily this week.

Totals this morning showed net collections of about $21,204.10, representing approximately 27.5 per cent of the total assessments.

Taxpayers still have two weeks in which to take advantage of the three per cent discount. Beginning Nov. 1, the discount will shrink to two per cent.

Collections Made On County, State Taxes

Wednesday's tax collections on county and state assessments amounted to $21,204.10, bringing to $32,495.36 the total taken in since statements were mailed out over the weekend.

Property owners have 13 days, exclusive of Sundays, to qualify for the three per cent refund proffered by the county. The offer holds good until Nov. 1.

AT LA GRANGE

York Child Points Out Ross As Killer

LA GRANGE, Oct. 16. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Ann York, dressed in a plain school dress and speaking in a firm but thin voice today identified Dr. Lloyd I. Ross as the man who shot her mother, father, brother and grandmother to death May 25 on a country lane in Comal county.

Twisting a handkerchief in her nervous hands as she testified, the brown-eyed school girl described the Sunday morning slayings of which she was the lone survivor.

"Do you see Dr. Ross, the defendant, in the court room now?" She was asked by District Attorney J. Lee Dittler.

The frail girl stood up and pointed the forefinger of her left hand at the defendant, who at the time was looking at the district attorney.

Ross, Harvard-trained San Antonio surgeon charged with murder in the ambush slayings of the four, entered a plea of innocent through his attorney when arraigned for trial today.

Dr. Ross is being tried specifically in the killing of Mrs. Gertrude York, 43, wife of Willard H. York, an investment broker whom the surgeon blamed for loss of his fortune.

Sitting facing the bench, Dr. Ross said nothing as he removed his spectacles and rubbed his eyes. Court was 30 minutes late in convening because the district attorney was giving instructions to his witnesses.

The courtroom was packed and people were standing in the doorways. The room seats 200 with another 100 seats in the balcony.

Planes Cannot Reach Lawmakers

ATHENS, Oct. 16. (AP)—Two Greek army planes set to northern Greece to return two American Congressmen who were under mortar fire Monday, had to turn back because there was no adequate landing strip an American embassy spokesman said yesterday.

The two congressmen are Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) and Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.). The spokesman said they were stranded in a small village near the Bulgarian frontier 30 miles north of Alexandroupolis after two bridges were blown up behind them.

Leonard Crombie, embassy second secretary, said the bridges were blown apparently shortly after the congressmen passed over them in a Jeep.

Teague and Jackson are members of a five-member sub-committee of the House foreign affairs committee on tour of Europe. They escaped injury when several mortar shells fell near them north of Kilikia, near the juncture of the Bulgarian and Yugoslav borders with Greece. They had been scheduled to return to the Greek capital yesterday.

MRS. G. S. TRUE

Mrs. G. S. True Dies At Home

Mrs. George S. True, 75, wife of a pioneer Big Spring physician, died at her home at 501 E. Park street at 8:50 p. m. Wednesday following an illness of several weeks' duration.

Little hope had been held for her recovery since she suffered a stroke after she had entered a clinic for diagnosis of an ailment.

A native of Tennessee, Mrs. True was married to Dr. G. S. True in West Point, Tenn. on Sept. 5, 1888, and they moved to Big Spring in March of 1909 to make their home.

Always devoted to her family, she had especially enjoyed it for the past three years since Dr. True, dean of local physicians, retired from active practice.

Outside of her home, Mrs. True was especially active in the affairs of the First Methodist church, in which she had held membership for 39 years here. She also was a member of the Eastern Star and of the VFW auxiliary.

Rites will be held at 3 p. m. Friday at the First Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. C. A. Long, officiating. Burial will be in the city cemetery. The body will lie in state at Eberley Funeral home until shortly before time of

Pact Sought With Bakers And Brewers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—The citizens food committee sought final food saving agreements with the nation's bakers and brewers today.

Chairman Charles Luckman planned conferences with both groups in the hope of working out ways for the bakers to save 3,000,000 bushels of grain a month and the brewers an amount described only as "substantial."

Representatives of the two industries held long talks with Luckman and his aides yesterday, and an agreement with the bakers had been expected last night.

It was not forthcoming, but Luckman denied that there was any disagreement. He said only that some "specific details" remained to be worked out.

On the eve of today's second "poultryless, eggless" Thursday, the agriculture department disclosed last night that cold storage poultry stocks have reached a new high for this time of year.

The department said supplies on Oct. 1 were 208,000,000 pounds, an increase of 23,000,000 pounds in a month and 18,000,000 higher than the previous record for the same date. Stocks have been higher at other times of the year in the past, but they are normally down in the fall.

The report was regarded as certain to touch-off a new argument over the advisability of asking the American people to cut down on poultry one day a week, possibly coming to a head next Monday. On that day, poultry producers and grain and feed dealers will meet with the committee for further discussions of their part in the drive to save 100,000,000 bushels of grain for Europe.

General And Wife Attacked In Home

FRANKFURT, Oct. 16. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Carter B. Magruder of Arlington, Va., and his wife were injured early today when they were attacked in their Frankfurt home by a former Polish guard, the Army announced.

The Pole, Joseph Bak, was shot and seriously wounded in the stomach by the General after a chase through the house from the bedroom where the intruder struck Magruder and his wife as they were rising from their beds.

IN HOUSING PROBE

Solons Will Check Union Restrictions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—A house labor subcommittee set out today to learn how much of the national housing shortage may be blamed on restrictive practices by building trades unions and the construction industry.

Chairman Gwin (R-NY) said his group would concentrate on government officials at today's first hearing "to find out what the government knows about this problem."

"We want to know whether the government is going to restore freedom to the housing industry," he told reporters. "It is our belief that a lack of free exchange of labor and materials is the cause of the present shortage."

The first scheduled witness was Raymond Foley, administrator of the housing and home finance administration, followed by Professor Corwin D. Edwards of Northwest ern University, formerly a justice department attorney.

The hearings here will last two days, Gwin said. The committee will then visit principal cities across the country to study building conditions.

"We are not announcing where we will go or when," Gwin said, "because we sometimes find that we cannot get the information we want if our schedule is known in advance. We will go only to cities where we are wanted, and where city officials are ready to help us out."

The investigation will cover the operations of 10 major unions, Gwin said. These are carpenters, electricians, painters, bricklayers and masons, plasterers and lathers, plumbers, glaziers, hood carriers and laborers, engineers, and steel and iron workers.

IN EXPENDITURES

State May Be Beginning On Its First Half-Billion Dollar Year

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. — Texas may be beginning the first half-billion dollar year in its history. In expenditures, that is.

For the first month of the current fiscal year, the spending amounted to $33,896,000. At that rate over a 12-month period the total would be $396-plus millions. But the first month of the current fiscal year — September, when new appropriations went into effect — was not entirely representative. It did NOT include the full amount allocated for school aid, either on the per capita basis, or to rural schools. Nor does it include more than a small amount for legislative expenditures.

Unofficial estimates by the comptroller's experts are that over the current fiscal year, the expenditures will average close to $41 million dollars a month — or just under the half-billion figure.

Where will the money come from?

There are only two sources: (1) current taxes which in September brought in $32,306,591; and (2) the general revenue fund balance which in September was reduced from $49,832,000 to $47,274,000.

The "current receipts" figure, like the expenditure figure, is not too reflective of the 12-month average, because it does not include ad valorem taxes which should amount to from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000; but even adding in this large item, it is obvious that the outgo is going to exceed the income for the next two years.

The 50th legislature's decision to spend the surplus instead of levying new taxes inevitably leaves to the next session of a legislature, the choice between a drastic reduction of expenditures, or a drastic new tax bill.

Considering that the first course is selected by the 51st legislature, it might be interesting to see where the 51st legislature would accomplish its cuts.

For the sake of round figures, call the cash balance $48 millions, or $4 millions a month. This $4 millions would have to be subtracted off of actual expenditures, and taking the September expenditures as a base to whittle from:

For legislative expenses, $9,513 was spent in September. Obviously, the yearly average will be greater than that and it doesn't look like a fruitful place to cut. Our judiciary costs us $371,470 a month; and executive and administrative offices, $284,315 per month. For protection of persons and property, such as the state police, we spend $241,704 a month, and for regulation of business and industry—the oil and gas industries, insurance companies, etc. — expenses amounted to $248,874 per month.

Conservation of health and sanitation costs $448,480 a month now; incidentally, that was one of the 50th legislature's big increases—during August, that activity cost $288,424. Conservation of natural resources cost $341,138.

Now we get to the really big items where $4,000,000 a month might be found to cut out. Highway construction and maintenance in excess of $10 millions a month. Eleemosynary institutions, in excess of a million a month. Education, nearly $4,000,000 a month; and public welfare — including old age pensions — $8-plus millions a month.

Deciding which of these categories shall be cut is the considerable problem which awaits the 1949 legislature.

MODERN LABORATORY — The chemistry Laboratory, part of a dual set-up at the Howard County Junior College, is as complete and modern for its size as any in the state. In addition, the college has a physics and biology lab, serving the two purposes jointly. By the time all equipment and supplies are received, the facilities will represent an investment of approximately $20,000. With arrival of the chemistry unit, HCJC is offering organic as well as inorganic chemistry as part of its program to give all basic pre-med work required in the first two years. (Jack M. Texas Honey Output Rises

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. (AP) — Texas honey production for 1947 is estimated at 13,140,000 pounds, the result of a record high yield of 45 pounds of honey per colony, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

This increased production represents a 20 per cent increase over last year's crop of 10,920,000 lbs. Texas beehives had 292,000 colonies at the start of the 1947 season compared with 273,000 the prior year.

The USDA attributed the increased nectar flow in large measure to an increased human clover acreage over the state. Bees were also permitted to work on cotton blooms more than usual as hot, dry weather during July and August curtailed boll weevil activity and reduced the need for continuous poisoning.

Texas bee colonies are going into the winter in good condition and except for scattered weak colonies, winter feeding is expected to be unusually light, said the USDA's October report.

Teachers May Contest State Salary Law

TEXARKANA, Oct. 16. (AP) — A challenge of the constitutionality of the Texas minimum salary law was shaping up today with H. W. Stilwell, Texarkana, Texas, school superintendent a leader in the plan.

He said yesterday that he and other Texas school men were preparing to challenge the law, which has been interpreted as requiring school districts to pay Negro teachers the same as white teachers.

One of the state's best constitutional lawyers has agreed to study the matter, Stilwell said. The Supreme Court may be asked for a declaratory judgment on the law's constitutionality.

He said he was not fighting the law because of any prejudice against Negroes but from his stand that the salary provisions could not be applied to the Texarkana district without serious consequences. He said that if they lost the fight, there would be no alternative to cutting the salaries of some white teachers in order that Negro teachers might receive raises. Stilwell said it also was not quite clear as to whether the state superintendent of instruction or the state board of education had the final power to approve or disapprove salary schedules of districts. State Superintendent L. A. Woods has disapproved Texarkana schedules on the grounds that they discriminate against Negro teachers. Superintendent Stilwell said he is not so sure that the board of education cannot overrule Woods.

Man Is Held After Threats To Governor

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16. (AP)—A 34-year-old Negro longshoreman was held here today in connection with what District Attorney William N. Hensley said were threatening letters and telephone calls to Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

In Austin, the Governor's secretary said the messages did not threaten Jester's life. He said that two telegrams and telephone calls had been received but did not mention letters.

The man was held in the Bexar county jail on a lunacy charge. Hensley said the man was arrested yesterday after he struggled briefly with police and that he was suspected of writing threatening letters and using abusive language in telephone calls to the governor.

William H. McGill, Jester's secretary said the Governor had received messages from a San Antonio man which contained a "hodge-podge of statements with no sense in them." McGill said there was nothing particularly threatening about two telegrams and telephone calls which Jester had received, apparently from the same person.

"There were no threat against the Governor's life," he said. The district attorney said the calls and the letters "were of serious enough nature to have the Governor personally interested in the case."

Hensley said Texas Rangers assigned to the Governor had divulged the name of the Negro. Following the arrival here of Roy Wade of the department of public safety, the man was held here instead of being taken to Austin as first planned.

Three Killed in Collision

SEYMOUR, Oct. 16. (AP)—Two men were fatally burned and three others injured in the collision of a one-car freight train and a gasoline transport truck here yesterday. The truck exploded and burned, setting the locomotive afire.

The unoccupied locomotive, completely aflame, rolled five blocks where it was halted by a hastily constructed barricade of crossties and timbers.

Fatally burned were J. W. Turner of Wichita Falls, fireman on the Burlington's Wichita valley line locomotive, and George Neskorik, about 26, of Seymour, driver of the truck.

Others injured were Bruce Lee, conductor, who suffered third degree burns about the face; M. V. Neke, a brakeman, slight burns about the face, arms and hands, and Jim Kimes, the engineer whose injuries were described as serious. All are from Wichita Falls.

Screeching Lyons, brakeman, also from Wichita Falls, escaped injury by jumping from the locomotive under before the accident. Witnesses said the accident occurred as the gasoline transport about two-thirds of the way across the tracks. Three compartments in the tank exploded.

Heavy Boosts Are Posted In Oil Prices

Cosden Petroleum Corp. today announced a 20-cent per barrel increase in the price of crude oil. The lead of Humble Oil & Refining Co., which delayed in announcing an identical hike touched off until Thursday afternoon in meeting by Phillips Petroleum.

Led by the Phillips Petroleum company, heavy boosts in oil prices were posted yesterday by a number of oil firms and other companies were expected to fall in line today.

The general increase was 20 cents a barrel. Magnolia Petroleum company and Stanolind Pipeline company quickly followed Phillips.

Soon the Southern Mineral Corporation at Corpus Christi, the co-operative refinery association with offices in Kansas City, the Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. and the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. announced they were meeting the new prices. Some of the price boosts were for limited areas.

Deep Rock Oil Corp., an independent company, Ben Franklin Refining Co., and the Bell Oil and Gas Co. will boost similar amounts in Oklahoma and Texas pools where they buy. Standard Oil (Indiana) announced it was meeting the Phillips advance, "wherever we purchase crude oil."

Standard Oil (Indiana) purchases in Kansas, Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming and Stanolind's purchases are in Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The Phillips announcement at Bartlesville, Okla., came before noon and covered approximately 120,000 barrels it buys daily in field scattered over four states effective 7 a. m. yesterday.

On the heels of the Phillips announcement, Maston Nixon, Corpus Christi, vice-president of Southern Mineral corporation, said that his firm was going up 20 cents a barrel on the 40,000 barrels it buys daily in south Texas fields.

Dallas officials of Atlantic Refining company and Sun Oil company said they had the new schedules under consideration.

Under the new schedule, Magnolia's posting in East Texas will be $2.15 a barrel, highest in the history of that field.

West Texas was given "two-dollar oil" under the new posting, which starts at $2.02 for 40-gravity and above and drops 2 cents per degree down to $1.62 a barrel for 20-gravity. On the Gulf Coast, the price will start at $2.06 and move up to $2.38 a barrel.

It was the first break in crude prices since March, 1947, when Stanolind initiated an advance of 25 cents a barrel.

The break came after prolonged and persistent pressure on the part of producers, aided by reported bonus payments over the posted price in the scramble to meet an unprecedented demand for oil and its products.

K. S. Adams, president of Phillips, set the stage for yesterday's price advance in saying two weeks ago that higher crude postings were needed to block the "undercover market spread."

First Lady

YES, SIR, in Mother's language she's the "first lady." And Mother had her in mind, as well as Dad, that day she took out a Southwestern Life Insurance policy on her own life. Mother calls it "Wife Insurance"; it's her plan to make sure that Dad won't be head-over-heels in debt, if she should be taken away.

You see, she knows about wives who suffered lingering illnesses, and incurred big medical, and hospital, and other bills, and then were taken away. She knows what a struggle the husbands had trying to hold the family together and carry on, because they had no ready cash to pay those bills. She knows about them having to go in debt, and how many, many months it took some of them to get "back on their feet" financially. And since Mother wants Dad to be able to carry on, and to give her little "first lady" all the things they've planned together to give her, Mother has a Southwestern Life Insurance policy on her own life that will give Dad the cash he'd need in such an emergency.

How about your wife? Would you have the ready cash to pay the doctor, the hospital, the druggist—to settle all the bills you'd have to settle, if she were called away? Or would you have to "go in debt?" With Southwestern "Wife Insurance," you can avoid the long, tedious, financial set-back that such misfortune brings. You can have the ready cash when you'll need it most. Now, while she is in good health, is the time to put your wife's plan in effect. Let's talk it over.

FROM DISTRICTS 6 AND 7

Explanation Asked On Seven Planks In WTCC Referendum

Explanation of seven planks included in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce referendum were detailed for representatives of affiliates in districts No. 6 and No. 7 at Lamesa Wednesday afternoon.

At the same time, delegates re-elected John D. Mitchell, Odessa, to head district No. 6 and J. L. Pinkerton, Monahans, as district director of No. 7. Pinkerton's invitation to hold the 1948 bi-district meeting in Monahans was accepted.

Special emphasis was given to the plank which calls for abolition of the state ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes and an optional county levy not to exceed 36 cents for lateral road and flood control (soil conservation) purposes, and to the plank authorizing the WTCC executive board to extend financial aid to its industrial development committees, provided results of such aid be made available to all affiliates.

M. H. Ulmer, Midland, contended that if the WTCC participated in committee activity on industrial development, it should be on an equitable basis as between committees. Joe James, Abilene, research director for the WTCC, said it was not the intention of the regional unit to participate in special committee surveys (such as the T&P railroad and cities along it), but only in research governing some basic industry which would affect the whole of West Texas.

Explained also were planks which reaffirmed the WTCC policy of studying commodity freight rates and to seek parity in this field as well as on class rates; to urge equitable distribution of adjusted rates for Southwestern carriers.

Favorable reaction greeted proposals to develop security benefits for full-time chamber of commerce workers in West Texas, and to seek creation of a Latin-American relations commission in West Texas. Member cities were urged to make other suggestions for the WTCC program of work. Charnell Jobe, Lamesa, was host WTCC director.

Attending from Big Spring were J. H. Greene, Frank Campbell and Joe Pickle.

AT YOUNG DEMO MEET

Rayburn May Lash Factions In Party

By Paul Bolton
Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. — The various shades of political complexion within the Democratic party in Texas are liable to get a verbal lashing next Saturday when former Speaker Sam Rayburn makes the keynote address at the Young Democrats state convention in Longview.

The Texas meeting, and the national convention of Young Democrats in Cleveland starting November 13, actually are rehearsals for the respective state and national conventions. Members of the Young Democrats clubs are the party ringers-of-doorbells; in reality the only active organization which the party has.

And right now the Texas organization is in precarious balance with the so-called "right wing" struggling for control.

Labeling the various shades of political complexion in Texas is dangerous business because the persons given a label never agree with it. However, this much is clear about the current young Democratic control:

At the Houston convention a year ago, the liberals, or left wingers, were pushed clear out, and a new group came in. Unquestionably there are many in the clubs today who are as far to the "right" as some of the ousted members were to the "left". But there are also some in the party who do not subscribe to either of the radical wings. The present state president, Pete McNee of Henderson, is one liberal; another is Crawford Martin of Hillsboro; and another, Ray Roberts of McKinney—a protégé of Congressman Rayburn.

The conservative branch, or right wing branch, is advancing the candidacy of Jimmy Brinkley of Houston. Brinkley is a lawyer. The group which does not go along with the right-wingers — (They're not quite left-wingers!) — have not put forward an opposition candidate as yet, but one may develop before the meeting.

Meanwhile, all over the state and particularly in the larger cities, the local clubs have been extremely reluctant to meet for this reason:

Members of the political action committee of the CIO have stated openly that they are going into every young Democratic club in the country, and they hope to control a good number of them before the national convention meets in Cleveland. If they win that control, they'll actually control the active nation-wide organization which the Democratic party possesses.

As an example of the trend within the organization in Texas, a new Travis county Young Democrats club has received recognition from the state organization. Members of this new club were not before members and are not associated with the former liberal leaders who were in control at the Houston convention last year.

The president of the former group, Attorney Robert Eckhardt of Austin, hasn't decided whether his group will attempt to send delegates to the state convention.

The position of the group now in control stated his case like this: "They wouldn't let us in when we were trying to get recognition. We don't intend to let them in now."

It was pointed out that in 1942, the Young Democrats had suspended their organization until after the war; and that the revival was without the consent of the former active workers.

It is very much like the Texas Regular fight of 1944, excepting that the tables are turned.

The situation is likely to have a bearing upon the candidacy of Texas Roy Baker of Sherman for the national presidency of the organization. Baker has commitments from all of the southern states, and some others. But if the PAC dominates northern and eastern delegations to the Cleveland convention, it will make quite a hole in his support.

Whitesboro Man Dies From Blast Burns

DENTON, Oct. 16. Burns suffered in an explosion of an asphalt truck Tuesday proved fatal yesterday for Wayne V. Carter, 29, of Whitesboro. The explosion occurred on the grounds of the public construction company here. Carter was a company foreman.

The explosion also severely burned Aubrey Gordon, 43, of Allen, Collin county.

Medium-grey or buff paint will last considerably longer than white paint of the same kind, say chemists of the Department of Agriculture. More durable paints are dark in color, like red barn paint. Dark pigments absorb the actinic rays of light which are destructive to the oil binder of the paint.

Quick and hearty: Add a little minced onion and parsley to seasoned mashed potatoes and put between two slices of luncheon loaf. Bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven. One "sandwich" to a person makes a hearty main dish.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 45 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND"

One of the most famous of all
Washington columns — by DREW PEARSON

With momentous world news in the making, the kind of news coverage Drew Pearson gives in his column, "Washington Merry-Go-Round," in The Herald is important.

It's important because it reveals as well as informs. For Drew Pearson not only reports and analyzes the surface news, but lifts the veil of officialdom on meetings, discussions and affairs that are never publicized.

"Washington Merry-Go-Round" is daily reading for Americans who want alert, authentic and timely news reporting and interpretation of extraordinary interest and character. Turn to the Editorial Page for each day's column.

First Contest Winners Named

Names of 31 winners in the first weekly contest of a series being conducted by Admiration Coffee—the "My Favorite Grocer" contest—have been announced. The prize winners were for the week of October 4. Six weekly divisions are being conducted, in addition to the grand contest awards, winners of which will be announced November 24.

Grocers, too, share in the Admiration awards, since the contest is based on a brief composition with the subject "My Favorite Grocer is . . .", and the grocer named is honored in addition to the author of the essay. Full information on the contest may be obtained from grocers.

Top winner in the first weekly contest was Mrs. I. E. Farrier, Oklahoma City, who was awarded an electric refrigerator. Mrs. Eugene McCluney, Fort Worth, won second, an electric toaster. Third prize, an electric mixer, went to Mrs. Betty Mitchell, Fort Smith, percolator, to Maxine Lewis, Colorado Springs, Colo.; fifth prize, an electric iron, to Mrs. Raymond Boots, Durant, Okla.; and sixth prize, an electric toaster, to Mrs. Paul James, Shreveport, La.

M.; Mrs. Ernest Brodnax, Bastrop, La.; Mrs. Vera L. Goodman, Okmulgee, Okla.; Mrs. Andrew Dunn, Shawnee, Okla.; Mrs. J. A. HAIL STORM CLEAN-UP—Residents of Levelland, Tex., clean-up hail stones in the business district of Levelland, Tex., after 2.34 inches of hail fell there on Oct. 8. Some of the stones were two and one-half inches in diameter. Damage to crops and property was estimated at $2,000,000. (AP Photo.)

SOIL CONSERVATION

H. H. Wilkinson Follows Plan For Deferred Grazing Of Range

H. H. Wilkinson, rancher-cooperator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation district on his ranch eight miles west of Big Spring, deferred 2,130 acres of range land during the growing season this year.

Wilkinson, who follows a deferred grazing system on his ranch as a part of his co-ordinated range conservation program, kept his livestock off the pasture to give the grass a chance to grow and provide seed. Resting the range has improved the vigor of the native grass, let the better forage plants spread and make seed and protected the range from damage from grazing during the dry summer.

Deferred grazing was also followed by T. L. Griffin on his ranch in the Colorado City River group. Carl Griffin, who operates the ranch, reports that he rested the Northeast pasture of more than 1,500 acres during the spring, summer and fall to improve the range vegetation.

A. T. Jordan, SCS range conservationist, who inspected the pasture, found the better grasses such as Side Oats grama and buffalo grass improved in vigor and spread and producing a good cover crop on the range. Griffin has used deferred grazing of his range for several years and has noticed considerable improvement of the range, especially in the Northwest pasture where Side Oats grama is abundant.

Texas City Is Proud Of Its Reconstruction

TEXAS CITY, Oct. 16. (AP)—Six months ago today—at 9:12 a. m.—the French freighter SS Grand Camp exploded at Texas City's busy industrial docks to initiate a disaster that brought death and sorrow to practically every home in this little city on the Texas coast.

Texas City was a proud, thriving little metropolis that sunny spring day.

And today, once again, despite the memories of the nearly 500 dead, the nearly 100 missing and the 3,000 injured and the continued presence of tons and tons of debris on the docks its residents are proud—proud of the way the city has reacted, proud of its reconstruction.

It will take much longer than six months for Texas City to remove its greatest scars but the progress is rapid and all but two of its major industrial plants have resumed full scale operations and most have production records that exceed those prior to April 16.

City officials report there are "bright prospects" for new industrial plants with facilities valued in excess of $60,000,000.

"The prospects for our acquiring these new plants are very bright," says Mayor W. C. Steed.

Only three of the pre-disaster plants have been transferred to other areas. A molasses plant, a pipe line company pumping station, and a bag manufacturing firm.

All the others rebuilt or are rebuilding and most are planning larger plants and improved facilities.

The Monsanto Chemical company, whose $20,000,000 plant was practically destroyed, last week announced purchase of an additional 57 acres adjoining the original site and already has initiated its expansion program.

Few people, Mayor Steed says, have departed permanently from the stricken city and new residents more than offset the losses.

Reconstruction and repair work in the residential and business districts is 75 percent complete.

All the signs of the great disaster never will be removed.

There is the little four-acre cemetery, three miles north of the city hall, where the 63 unknown of the nearly 500 dead were buried June 22.

Some beetles protect themselves from enemies in the manner of skunks: the emission of vile-smelling or distasteful secretions; others merely by a repellent appearance.

Counsel For Atom Group Will Quit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—Herbert S. Marks will step out next month as general counsel of the atomic energy commission and enter private practice of law in Washington.

The commission announced last night it was accepting the resignation "with great regret."

Marks said he was leaving the government service "to make adequate provision for my obligations." His $14,000 salary was cut to $10,000 at the last session of Congress.

Before that he was a special assistant to Dean Acheson when Acheson was under-secretary of state, served with the war production board, and had legal jobs with the Tennessee valley authority and the Bonneville power project.

He will leave the commission some time before Nov. 30.

Solon Thinks MacArthur Is Needed In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—President Truman should call General MacArthur home immediately to advise on an American policy for the Orient, Rep. Auchincloss (R-N.J.) said today.

The New Jersey congressman told a reporter the United States is so engrossed in combatting communism in Europe that it is "over-looking" an equally grave Russian menace in China and other parts of the East.

"MacArthur is an authority on the Orient," Auchincloss said. "He's lived there a long time. He's done an outstanding job in Japan."

"It's high time we ask him to express his views on what role we should play or what we should do to help China."

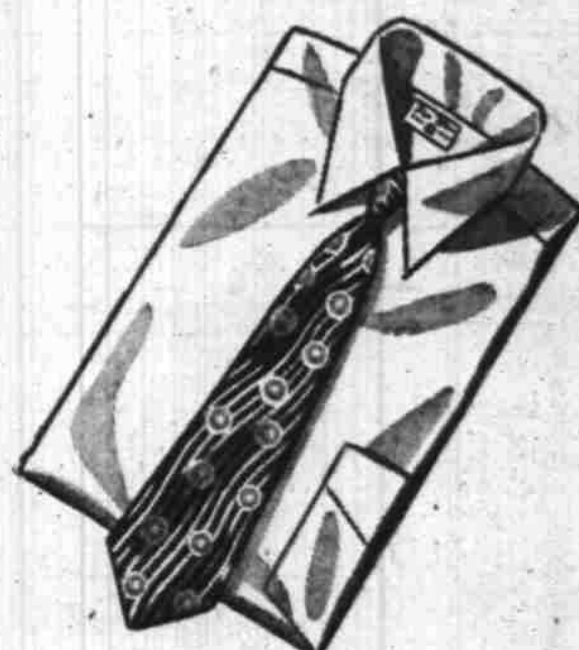

"We've got to watch that side of the world, too, China, with a fifth of the world's population, is potentially a big market. If we let Russia have a free hand there, we're missing a bet."

FOR WORLD HEALTH

Pilgrims To Mecca May Be Vaccinated

(U) NEWSFEATURES

GENEVA, Switzerland—An expert committee of the World Health Organization has recommended compulsory immunization of all persons who travel to Mecca on the annual Moslem pilgrimage.

The Interim Commission of the World Health Organization set up the committee last April, largely as a result of representations by the government of Saudi Arabia.

The committee's report proposes that all pilgrims undertaking the journey to Mecca should be compulsorily immunized against smallpox, cholera and, possibly, yellow fever in their own countries before departure. Such a safeguard, the report pointed out, would protect the health of Saudi Arabia, as well as that of their countries of origin.

The committee also suggested new sanitary regulations to cover pilgrims arriving by air and by land. The international conventions hitherto had only dealt with the great majority of pilgrims who arrived by sea at the port of Jeddah, while those who journeyed overland from the Mediterranean areas and the ever-increasing number who arrived by air were placed under no sanitary control.

Although there was no evidence at the moment of serious epidemics in Saudi Arabia or in any of the pilgrims' countries of origin, Dr. Stuart said, the pilgrimage "could, in certain circumstances, undoubtedly represent a great potential danger to the health of large areas of the world and must therefore be carefully watched."

Mexico May Issue Licenses To Boats

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16. (U)—The Navy department had under study today a plan to require all boats using Mexican waters to carry license plates similar to those used by automobiles.

The present law requires registration of boats, but department officials said the use of license plates likely would increase the department's income because it would include small boats not now required to register. Officials said the costs of licenses, which would have to be renewed annually, would be proportional to the size and type of boats.

Texas Stops Set For Freedom Train

February 1, Waco; 2, open date in Waco; 3, Tyler; 4, Beaumont; 5, Houston; 6, Houston; 7, Galveston; 8, Harlingen; 9, open date in Harlingen; 10, Corpus Christi; 11, Austin; 12, San Antonio; 13, Del Rio; 14, El Paso.

How Wheat Is Pouring Into Greece

(U) NEWSFEATURES

ATHENS—Nearly 100,000 tons of wheat equivalents, the allocation of the U. S. Foreign relief program to Greece for July to September, have reached eight port cities for distribution, reports George Gardner, of Princeton, N. J., of the American Mission for Aid to Greece.

A total of 6,752 tons of powdered and evaporated milk, 185,507 pounds of DDT insecticide, and about 357 tons of beans also have been shipped from American ports into Greek harbors, he points out. The first two ships bringing post-UNRRA relief supplies into Greece were the Barbara Lykes and the Berea Victory. Both ships diverted from Germany transported 17,342 tons of flour.

Ships which have arrived during September included the Hoosier State, which brought the first post-UNRRA shipment of dry milk, and the Bates Victory, which deposited half of its wheat cargo at Corfu and the remainder at Patras. The J. B. Waterman brought a second shipment of powdered milk, totalling 1,000 tons, from New Orleans, transported 8,196 tons of wheat to Piraeus and an additional 6,350 tons to Volos in Thessaly. The Daniel Lowndale from New Orleans unloaded 5,589 tons of wheat at Piraeus and deposited the remaining 4,000 tons at Corfu. The Rosario brought first shipment of DDT totalling 48,327 pounds 10 percent DDT powder insecticide and 146,880 pounds pure DDT. Other wheat ships include the SS Theodore Foster, from Houston, Texas; the Arthur Riggs, Green Wave, Nicholas Biddle, and Ethan Allen. Milk supplies are expected to arrive aboard the Esford, Excelsior, and Kate Kildare. Beans will be shipped on the Crest of the Waves.

Take-Off Scheduled For Globe Girdlers

TOKYO, Oct. 16. (U)—Two Americans flying around the world in light planes are scheduled to take off from Itazuke airfield, northern Kyushu, this morning, arriving at Haneda airfield here about six hours later.

The pilots, George Truman of Los Angeles and Clifford V. Evans of Washington, D. C., started for Tokyo yesterday, but returned to Itazuke when one plane developed engine trouble. They began their flight Aug. 10 at Teterboro, N. J.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years!). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farming's no longer a family enterprise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—where our free, American life is secure. Where every member co-operates and shares the work... living together in temperance and tolerance—temperance that prefers a moderate beverage like beer, and tolerance for a taste that may be different from one's own.

From where I sit, our family farms (and they're 98% of all farms) are something that this country can be proud of!

With Little Trouble Bread Made At Home

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

MOST American housewives, regretfully, think it's too much trouble to make bread. We're bringing up a generation of youngsters who've never smelled that miraculous odor of bread just warm from the oven.

Even if you don't want to go into regular weekly or bi-weekly bakings, to provide the entire supply, why don't you try making some really special breads for tea or luncheon sandwiches and the like? It's not hard and the rewards are plentiful.

Celery Oat Bread
1-2 cups rolled oats
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed
2 tablespoons fat

3 tablespoons sugar

1 egg
1 cup milk
Spread two thirds of a cup of rolled oats out on a board and roll very fine with a rolling pin. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Add all the rolled oats and the celery seed. Cream the fat. Add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add milk and dry ingredients all at once and stir or enough to moisten dry ingredients. Turn into well greased loaf pan, and bake in a moderate oven (350-375 degrees) for 35 minutes. This makes one loaf.

That's a good kind of bread to have in these days of high cost for protein. Rolled oats contribute protein, vitamins, minerals and energy. Sandwiches made of this bread are particularly good when filled with softened cream cheese, peach preserves, or chopped egg.

Peach Nut Bread
1 cup sliced canned cling peaches
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
3/4 cup brown sugar (packed)
1/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup chopped, roasted unblanched almonds.
2 eggs
1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 tablespoon chopped almonds for top

Drain peaches. Mash slightly and beat with a rotary beater until pulp is smooth. Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add cup almonds and mix well. Stir in well beaten eggs, peaches and flavoring and mix only until flour is dampened. Pour into greased and floured loaf pan. Sprinkle top with almonds and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about an hour. Cut in very thin slices.

This is such a richly satisfying bread, with so much flavor of its own, that its best sandwich combination is with plain butter or margarine, or at most a thin film of softened cream cheese.

Icebox Cookies

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1-2 cups butter or margarine
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup nut meats, chopped.
1-2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1-2 cups flour

Cream butter or margarine and sugars. Add eggs. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add with nuts to first mixture. Mix well and then knead into small rolls. Wrap in wax paper and put in icebox overnight. Cut in thin slices and bake on greased cookie sheets for 10 minutes in a 375 degree oven.

Leg Of Lamb With Sauce

1 6 lb. leg of lamb
2 cloves garlic
2 tablespoons butter, margarine or bacon drippings.

1 chopped onion
1 bay leaf
Pinch of thyme
Sprig of parsley
2 cans consommé
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups chopped green olives.
Rub the leg of lamb with a cut clove of garlic and stuff the other clove of garlic between the bone and the end of the leg. Melt the butter, margarine or bacon drippings in a roasting pan and brown the lamb on top of the stove. Add the onion, bay leaf, thyme, parsley and one can of consommé. Place cover on pan and simmer slowly on top of stove for 3 hours. Do not remove cover during the simmering period. Meanwhile, brown butter or margarine in another pan, add the flour slowly and blend well. Add the remaining can of consommé and stir until smooth. When lamb is cooked, strain juice from roasting pan into this second mixture and cook together for 5 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce and season to taste. Stir in the chopped olives and cook until well heated. Slice meat and pour sauce over.

Chocolate Pudding

2 cups milk, scalded
2 cups fresh bread crumbs
1-4 cup cocoa
1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup chopped nuts
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 well-beaten egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-4 cup butter or margarine, melted.

Add bread crumbs to scalded milk and allow to cool. Mix cocoa, sugar, nuts and salt. Add to crumb mixture. Then add well-beaten egg, vanilla and melted butter or margarine. Pour into individual molds and bake in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees, for 1 hour. Serve with or without whipped cream.

Cooked Liver With Bacon

Dredge liver slices in flour, sprinkle with salt and pepper and saute in butter, margarine or bacon drippings, allowing two tablespoons for each pound of liver. Turn frequently. Cook one half inch slices about five minutes (overcooking toughens liver) or until red color is gone. Serve with crisp slices of bacon.

French Fried Asparagus

24 stalks of asparagus, canned
2 eggs
1 cup fine bread crumbs
Salt
Pepper

Beat eggs and season with salt and pepper. Roll each asparagus stalk in egg, then in bread crumbs. Brown in deep fat.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Oct. 16, 1947 3

Ham, Spinach Souffle With Vegetables

2 tablespoons butter or margarine.
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup hot milk
1 cup ground cooked ham
1 cup finely chopped, cooked spinach
Pepper and salt to taste
3 egg yolks
2 egg whites
Make a cream sauce of the butter or margarine, flour and hot milk. Let cool and add ham and spinach and season to taste. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored, then add to ham-spinach mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a well-buttered dish and place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 40 minutes. Serve with Curried Egg Sauce.

Mrs. Kyle Shoemaker honored Mrs. Billy J. Smith, the former Mary Lou Vaughn with a bridal shower Friday.

Hostesses were Mrs. Finley Rhodes, Mrs. Morris Zimmerman, Mrs. O. L. Snodgrass, Mrs. Cliff Hazewood, Doris Marie Snodgrass, Mrs. Dub Graham, Mrs. Gene Clements, Mrs. A. T. Angle, Mrs. Sid Cross and Mrs. Leon Hull.

Queen's wreath and rosebuds were used as decoration of the party rooms. Nettie Vaughn and Ruth Roxy played piano music during the receiving hours.

Mrs. Graham greeted guests and Mrs. Clements presided at the bride's book.

The honoree was dressed in a gray crepe dress.

Out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ayers of Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Stroud of Odessa.

Faith's Creative Power Meals To Be Prepared

Associated Press Food Editor

MORE and more women are interested these days in preparing delectable food which takes as little time and trouble as possible to cook. "Just A Minute," by Alice Wilson Richardson (Procyon Press—1947) is written for those women. It isn't a complete cookbook. It doesn't pretend to be. But it has some of the most original, easiest to prepare recipes I've seen in a long time.

The book contains material on utensils, shortcuts and tricks, an especially fine chart on the use of herbs. Naturally, anyone who writes on quick cookery in these times includes general material on the advantages of quick frozen foods and of pressure cooking.

The greater part of the book is devoted to quick entrees and easy menus. Right there beside the menu (with variations) is given the recipe for the main dish. Other recipes (starred) are to be found later in the book. For example:

FOR DINNER: Lamb on Skewers; Turkish Rice; Mixed Green Salads; Coffee. VARIATIONS: The Dish: French Fried Onions; Garlic Rolls; Fruit Bowl; Coffee. VARIATION II: Tomato and Beef Consomme; The Dish: Scallops with Sour Cream; Broiled Grapefruit; Coffee.

LAMB ON SKEWERS

2 pounds lamb
1/2 pound medium-sized mushrooms
3 tablespoons olive oil
Oregano
Thyme
Salt and pepper
1 bay leaf
4 medium-sized tomatoes
4 cloves garlic

Serves 4. Time: about 30 minutes.

Have butcher cut lamb in 1 1/4 inch cubes. Stem mushrooms. Place lamb and mushroom caps on platter. Pour olive oil in glass jar and add pinch of Oregano, thyme, salt and pepper and crumbled bay leaf. Shake well and pour over lamb and mushrooms. Let stand for half an hour or more, turning them at intervals so they will become well marinated. Cut tomatoes in quarters and garlic cloves in half. Thread ingredients on metal skewers, alternating lamb, mushrooms, tomatoes and garlic. Cook skewers on broiling pan 4 inches from medium flame. When brown on one side, turn and brown on other. This may also be cooked over charcoal.

TOMATO AND BEEF CONSOMME

1 can tomato juice
1 can beef consomme
Thyme

2 tablespoons sherry
4 tablespoons sour cream

Heat tomato juice, consomme and pinch of thyme to boiling point. Add sherry and pour in bouillon cups. Drop 1 tablespoon of MINT PEAS

2 pound peas
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon salt
Mint leaves

Put peas in saucepan with 1 cup boiling water. Add sugar, vinegar and salt. Boil 15 to 20 minutes, covered. Five minutes before they are done add about 10 mint leaves. This last dish would be even

Cucumbers With Tang

1 clove garlic
1-2 pimiento
1-8 teaspoon salt
Few grains freshly ground pepper
Few drops onion juice
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon vinegar
Shredded lettuce
Diced cucumber

Rub a small bowl with the cut side of the garlic. Rub through a fine sieve into the bowl the pimiento. Then add salt, pepper, onion juice and (slowly) the salad oil and vinegar. Stir until thick and smooth. Serve on shredded lettuce with diced cucumber.

Sweet Pepper Consomme

3 Sweet peppers (red or green)
2 fresh tomatoes, quartered
1 large onion, quartered
2 quarts boiling water
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 whole clove

Cut peppers in quarters and remove seeds. Place vegetables in saucepan and add boiling water, salt, clove and boil for ten minutes. Simmer, covered for two hours. Strain and add salt, if necessary.

easier made with quick-frozen peas, as I'm sure Alice Richardson would agree. I would suggest that you cook the peas according to directions on the package, drain, and then add the other ingredients just before serving.

Tongue With Tomatoes

4 strips of bacon
1 onion, sliced thin
1-4 pound mushrooms, peeled and sliced
1 cup stewed tomatoes
1 can sliced tongue
Brown bacon in frying pan. Remove to warming oven and pour off most of the fat. Add the onion and the mushrooms and cook for 2 minutes. Add the tomatoes (drained) and the sliced tongue. Cook gently for 15 minutes. Garnish with the reserved bacon.

Peach Cup Cakes

2 tablespoons shortening
1-4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons milk
1-2 cup flour
1-4 teaspoon baking powder
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 egg white, beaten stiff
1 1-2 cup peaches
1-4 cup sugar
Cream

Cream shortening and sugar together. Add milk, sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add. Fold in egg whites. Cut peaches in small pieces and sprinkle with sugar. Place in greased cups and cover with first mixture. Steam for 45 minutes over boiling water. Remove and serve with cream.

We Need To Get At Causes, Too

Violence has been flaring in unique proportions here within the past fortnight and there are no immediate signs of abatement. The psychology of abundant money in the midst of a big harvest is doubtless contributing to the wave, but it is not the sole cause.

Three robberies involving assault have occurred in rapid succession. In two cases Latin-Americans were involved, in the other this does not seem to be the case.

The danger is not alone in bodily harm that might come to victims, but in the creation of social difficulties.

In a sense, some of the fruits of neglect are now falling. Big Spring is not alone in failing to recognize a bad social condition in some quarters, but it cannot be excused because it has company. So far there has been good measure of success in bringing some of those who committed crimes to account before the bar of justice. Perhaps others will be taken into custody in due time and dealt with properly.

This, however, will not be a perfect preventative, for the violence is a product, not a cause. More attention needs to be given to preventing causes. It is not a matter for solution by one small group or party; rather it is a problem that should challenge the intelligent and sincere efforts of all people in all sections.

Step Nearer Solving Our Problem

While not all of the legal requirements have been met as yet, the projected paving program for Big Spring seems to be much nearer realization following the public hearing by the city commission Tuesday evening.

The commission will weigh evidence submitted at the hearing, and on this basis, it is probable that the bulk of the originally contemplated program will be ordered undertaken.

This does not mean that the program is an accomplished fact, for even under a contract program the matter of home-stands is still to be considered. The obstacle of vacant or rental property, however, seems to be in prospect of being hurdled. While there may be those who cannot or will not be willing to sign voluntarily where it is required, a heartening feeling of cooperation for civic improvement was manifested at the hearing. Under the plan which will permit repayment over a long period of time, the program may find wider support.

We sincerely hope that the project proves a success, for it may open the door to other similar steps and thus come to grips with one of our greatest problems of material improvement. It is not improbable that a paving consciousness could be created, upon which we could establish not only a continuing program but expand the feeling to other needs of our community.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

CIO Heads And Anti-Red Ruling

BOSTON, (U.S.)—There's no rush among CIO union leaders to take the I'm-not-a-communist oath under the new labor law.

Most of the CIO union officers are not communists. One of them, explaining his reason for not taking the oath, at least right away, told this writer:

"I'll take the oath any day saying I'm a good citizen. But the I'm-not-a-communist oath means I'd be swearing I'm not a bad citizen. That's insulting."

While this was being said at the CIO convention here, at the AFL convention in San Francisco John L. Lewis, boss of the coal miners, was saying almost the same thing:

"It is not necessary for me to say I'm not a communist. I was fighting communism in America before many people in this country knew what communism stood for."

That is not the only reason why Lewis or other union leaders are going to take their time about swearing the oath or not swearing at all.

Lewis is bitter against the new labor law, the Taft-Hartley Act. So is the CIO as an organization. And AFL leaders have denounced it too.

They want the law wiped off the books and they don't want to do any more than they have to make it work.

Taking the oath would be one of the things that would help make it work. And it comes down to this:

The big, strong unions—like Lewis' coal miners and the CIO's steelworkers—may be able to get by all right without doing anything to help the new law work.

Weaker unions, whether they like it or not and in order to survive, may have to go along with the law.

And for this reason: Under the law unions are given some protection against employers who want to hurt or wreck a union. And, to get that protection, unions must do certain things under the law. One of them requires a union's officers to swear they're not communists.

(By this provision in the law Congress hoped to drive communists out of control in labor unions. Since communists, who are union officers, can't take the oath, their union gets no protection under the law.)

Red Drive In Italy Bogs Down

The Red drive to communize the harassed government of Italy and France—the next major objective in the Bolshevik conquest of Europe—has come a sensational stopper in the Rome municipal elections, which show a loss of communist strength and a gain for the democratic right.

The broad significance of this is that the voting in the capital is supposed to reflect the political complexion of the rest of the country. That being so, Premier Alcide De Gasperi is entitled to take courage in his uphill battle to hold the fort for democracy under highly complicated circumstances.

Meanwhile in France the Bolshevists are resorting to strong-arm methods almost on the eve of important municipal elections which are to be held throughout the country. The communist-dominated general confederation of labor has precipitated a strike of 3,600 subway and bus operators in the capital, threatening some 4,000,000 people there.

Premier Paul Ramadier summed the thing up yesterday in the declaration that the whole position "is shaping up like a political intrigue." He intimated that the strikers were trying to "create difficulties for the republic."

Ramadier could have been more forthright if he wished, because strikes and turmoil are favorite "political" weapons of communism. Similar tactics have been under way in Italy for months. We see it in Chile, where officialdom charges the Reds with precipitating the serious strike in the coal mines in an effort to cause the downfall of the government. Of course all is lost once a government is dominated by the Reds for, as we have seen in eastern Europe, there immediately follows suppression of opponents and the passage of measures abolishing personal liberty and inaugurating police rule.

Cornell Wilde Claims Ill Health

HOLLYWOOD, (U.S.)—Cornell Wilde, who has told 20th-Fox he is not well enough to work, is planning to go to New York next week. He just returned from Hawaii, trend de p. r. If Paramount plans to return to full-scale production, then why is it releasing stars like Dorothy Lamour and Diana Lynn on one-picture-a-year deals?

Charles Korvin, back from the "Berlin Express" location in Europe, reports that the London and Berlin Stages are bristling with creative activity. With the theater in Paris and New York at a low ebb, Charles thinks that the reason for the boom in the other capitals is the devastation they suffered in the war.

Ingrid Bergman is in practically every scene of "Joan" and there's not much chance of her being absent from work. The other day she was suffering a sore throat and hoarseness. Her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, treated her and she didn't miss a take. . . . Is the Hedy Lamarr-Keenan Wynn whirl the real thing? Some think so.

Bob Hope has received 2,000 photos of ski-nosed moppets whose mothers want them to appear with Bob in "Sorrowful Jones." But the gal won't play his daughter in the film. The comic says he has been flooded with so many youngsters that "I'm finding them in my oat meal." . . . Melvyn Douglas is reported set to star in the Groucho Marx-Norman Krasna play, "Elizabeth." It will break in here on the coast. . . .

Audie Murphy says he has earned enough here to buy a house for his orphaned brothers and sisters in Farmersville, Tex. Meanwhile, the much-decorated soldier-actor sleeps in Terry Hunt's gym. . . . San Rohmer is reported coming here from England, armed with a new Fu-

Manchu story for the screen. . . . A group of prominent film actors, directors, initial meeting of the organization, as yet unnamed, was held congressional assertions of the "communists influence in Hollywood."

Initial meeting of the organization, as yet unnamed, was held this week at the home of Director William Wyler, academy winner for "The Best Years of Our Lives." Speaker declared something should be done to offset the congressional hearing this month at which charges of communist activities in the movies are expected to be aired. Many Hollywood names have been called to testify before the House un-American activities committee.

The new group plans to give the public "a truer picture of so-called political influence in Hollywood." Among those attending the first meeting were Wyler, Director John Houston, Katharine Hepburn, Gene Kelly, Producer Jerry Wald, Melvyn Douglas, Writer Emmet Lavery and others.

"Arch of Triumph" after almost a year of editing, is expected to hit the nation's screens in December. The delay was due to a difference of opinion between Director Lewis Milestone and Enterprise boss Charles Einfeld over treatment of the story. The cold season has hit town. Dick Powell and Irene Dunne just got over their sniffles and returned to work. Now Joan Crawford and the four kiddies are ailing. . . . Note to Robert Mitchell fans: Your hero will do a lot of singing in "Rachel." . . . Elizabeth Taylor joins Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon in "Speak to Me of Love." Liz plays Greer's daughter.

America's Icebox

BEMIDJI, Minn. (U.S.)—Chance lies behind the founding of many towns and cities, but in none more so than this community that likes to be called "the icebox of America."

The Bemidji—named after a famous Indian chief—owes its existence to a man who thought he had found here something he hadn't. And the town has also made itself famous as the birthplace of a man who never lived—the legendary woodlogger Paul Bunyan.

The man who thought he had found something here he hasn't was a homesteader who picked up a brilliant stone in 1894 and thought it was a diamond. Well, it wasn't. By the time New York experts got around to deciding it was only quartzite, the town of Bemidji had been born.

There were no diamonds but the whole area was a sea of emerald wealth—great stands of forest pine that made it a lumber center. Tales of Paul Bunyan, the granddaddy woodlogger of them all, became folklore of the region, and number of years ago Bemidji staked out its claim as Paul's home town.

Townpeople built a twenty-foot painted concrete statue of Paul and "Babe," his blue ox, on the shores of Lake Bemidji. The monument is visited annually by an estimated 300,000 vacation tourists.

In the adjoining colorful "fire-side of states," built with stones from every state in the union, they hear tall stories of the mighty Paul, such as:

How his hotcakes were cooked on a griddle as big as a pond, greased by ten swamper who skated across it with slabs of bacon tied to their feet.

How the "winter of the blue snow" was caused by Paul swearing blue streaks after hitting his thumb with a 16-pound hammer. Conversation froze in the air that terrible winter, and when spring came and melted it there was a terrific din of backed-up words.

How it took one man's full time to keep Paul's pipe shoveled full of tobacco. Everytime he took a puff the loggers thought it was a new forest fire.

How Bunyan built a bunkhouse so large the top stories were hinged in order to let the moon go by; and a cookhouse so large one cook got lost between the flour bin and root cellar, and almost starved before he was found.

How the blue ox "Babe" once made the Mississippi river flow backward by taking too deep a drink, and created Minnesota's 10,000 lakes by her stamping and pawing.

How Bunyan's camp bookkeeper, Johnny Inkslinger, ran a hose from a barrel of ink to his pen and thus invented the fountain pen. He saved five barrels of ink one winter by not crossing his "t's" or dotting his "i's." How Paul and his men, hearing Kansas was covered by whiskey trees, went down to set up lumber camps there. Between drinks they cut down all the whiskey trees—and Kansas is still dry to this day.

In Bemidji the local residents feud with other Minnesota communities claiming cold weather records—it fell to 45 degrees below zero last winter. They're proud of the nickname—"America's Icebox."

Theatre Bug Licked

NEW YORK—As a youngster of 14 or 15, while still attending vaudeville shows in Buffalo, paying some odd cents like 23 cents for a hard second-balcony seat at the Shubert Theatre, my nose was pointed toward Times Square.

As I watched the wonders of "Blossom Time" unfold below me at an almost 45 degree angle on a stage full of actors and singers who never looked up at the less well-heeled patrons of the upper shelf, I never once failed to wonder, before the big curtain with "Asbestos" printed across it was hoisted away, how this same show had looked its first night on Broadway.

I chilled to Bela Lugosi in "Dracula," and was almost too frightened to walk home through the winter dusk after a matinee, and thought how wonderful it must have been on Broadway on that glamorous first night, with the fancy ladies shivering their fright and rattling their diamonds and pearls, inside their sabres and chinchilla as the wooden spike was being driven into Dracula's heart.

The theater even then was my favorite pastime. I was caught playing hockey from school to attend Wednesday matinees.

When I was at this starry stage, there were several legitimate theaters in Buffalo. The Shubert Theatre was aglow almost every week with some touring company, likely as not a Shubert operetta, and the Majestic, where I saw "Abie's Irish Rose," and on passes permitting me to sit in the uncommon luxury of the orchestra.

In those days the traveling burlesque "wheels" were still operating and while I was small, I affected long trousers and was able, after considerable argument with box office treasurers, to convince them I had attained the legal age for looking at "Sliding Billy" Watson, "Bozo" Snyder Billy Watson's Beef Trust Girls or perhaps Hinda Wasau and her "Hindu Belles."

At that age the old Gayety, the Garden, and the Palace burlesque theaters were just dandy to fill in waiting periods between the shows at the Teck and Majestic. Besides, I attended the movies regularly at the Masque Theatre in my neighborhood, always on Friday nights to get the latest episode of whatever serial was the feature, with a nickel extra for peanuts at the Greek candy kitchen next door. And on the way home, to wonder how it must be to see Bessie Barriscale, Charles Ray or Flora Finch some day in one of the colossal Broadway movies.

I'd say to myself "I'll be there some day," but never really believed it. And now that I'm here, is it the fun I supposed?

A great, big, exclamation-pointed "YES!"

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Anti-Trust Case Moves Ahead

WASHINGTON. — For weeks the most important anti-trust suit in the country has been jockeyed back and forth between the highest-powered array of legal talent Wall Street can muster and the anti-trust division of the justice department. Issue at stake has been twofold:

1. Whether the big investment bankers can button up stock and bond flotations among their own favorites without letting outside bankers come in on the gravy.

2. Whether two Wall Street firms, formerly run by two members of the Truman cabinet (Secretary of Commerce Harrison and Secretary of Defense Forrestal) could pull enough weight to call off the antitrust action.

Yesterday the cream of Wall Street's legal brains came down to Washington for another and perhaps final conference. They were:

John Foster Dulles' firm of Sullivan and Cromwell, representing Blyth and Co., first Boston Corp., Lehman Brothers and Goldman Sachs & Co.

John W. Davis' firm of Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Sunderland and Kiendl representing J. P. Morgan and Co., Harriman Ripley and Co., and Smith, Barney and Co.

John J. McCloy's firm of Cravath Swaine and Moore representing Kuhn, Loeb and Co. John Cahill's firm of Wright, Gordon, Zachry, Parlin and Cahill, representing Dillon, Read and Co.

Cahill, former U. S. district attorney in New York and one-time New Dealer, has taken the lead among the defense attorneys, and for a time it looked as if he had succeeded in sidetracking the case.

Actually the justice department began working on the case two years ago and was all set for prosecution last February. For months a grand jury has been sitting, and courthouse rumor had it that jurors were all set to bring a criminal indictment.

MYSTERIOUS SLOWDOWN Last spring, however, Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge, who had worked up the case, resigned. Succeeding him in charge of anti-trust came John Sonnett, aide to Secretary Forrestal during the war and former assistant to John Cahill, now defending the Forrestal banking firm.

Suddenly prosecution of the Wall Street moguls was held up. For weeks it dragged along.

Nothing happened. Sonnett is an A-1 lawyer, did a great job when it came to stopping John L. Lewis. But when it came to going after Wall Street and the old Forrestal banking firm, Sonnett's stock reply was: "I'm studying the case."

Finally, Wall Street passed out word that all compromise was in the works, that the justice department would call off the case in favor of a consent decree.

At this point, however, the Wall Streeters made a serious error. They pulled a refinancing deal for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, and in doing so followed their usual practice of relegating local Ohio bankers to a third-rate cut of the financial pie. This brought storms of protest from the Midwest. Also it brought the whole business before President Truman himself.

Mr. Truman has had a long and consistent record, both in the Senate and White House for enforcing the anti-trust laws. So what the Wall Street lawyers didn't know, when they negotiated with the anti-trust division yesterday, was that President Truman had sent word over to the justice department intimating that he wanted some action.

It now looks therefore, as though the anti-trust case against the big investment houses—including the former firms of two cabinet members—will go forward about the end of this month.

FRIENDSHIP TRAIN Reader reactions to the idea of a "Friendship Train" to collect food for Europe: L.R.M., Detroit—Why not invite half a dozen Frenchmen to accompany the train from all walks of life so the food could be presented to the common people of France as a gift from the common people of America?

M.D.M., Cleveland—"Let's attach the name and address of each American donor to the sack of flour or wheat so the recipients in Europe will know this is a bona fide gift from an American family."

M. G., Lake Charles, La.—"Count on the first Christian Church here for many bags of rice." H.C.R., Ontario, Ore., "The Lions club would like to help sponsor a friendship train from the northwest." T.G., Enid, Okla.—"We are staging a r-plane-escorted truck caravan across Oklahoma grain belt hauling donated grain. Under auspices of friends service committee, Mennonites, church world service, Oklahoma has loaded eleven earloads relief wheat and expecting thirty more. Kansas collecting 80 to 80 earloads." L.B., Paterson, N. J.—"Why not induce post office to eliminate 14 per cent pound mailing rates on food packages to Europe as they did during the war for our soldiers?" J.K., Elyria, Ohio—"Junior chamber of commerce would like to help sponsor friendship train." Wash., D. C.—"Suggest French government, show documentary film of American citizens donating food to friendship train."

BUS-RIDING ADMIRAL This column sometimes has exposed certain brass hats for making undue use of Army-Navy airplanes on personal junkets. It's a pleasure, therefore, to report on the activities of one admiral, Frank D. Wagner, chief of naval air training, who saves the taxpayers money by riding in a bus.

The Pensacola News-Journal, recently staged a banquet for Florida's Gov. Millard Caldwell and invited to it Admiral Wagner, together with three high-ranking naval officers from the Navy's near-by airbase at Eglin, Fla.

At first it was expected that the Admiral and his party would fly the 40 miles to Pensacola by Navy plane. But when Admiral Wagner heard that a chartered bus was bringing some other passengers, he telephoned Braden Ball, editor of the News-Journal, and asked if he could get seats for himself and staff in the bus.

So it's a pleasure to report that the Navy has a bus-riding, money-saving Admiral, and a mighty fine admiral at that.

MERRY-GO-ROUND The Army would be happier if some brass hats kept their mouths shut. Maj. Gen. Lunsford E. Oliver in charge of a U. S. mission to Turkey, recently made this absurd statement before a Chicago audience: "The massacre of the Armenians after World War I was really started by the Armenians." A few days later, General Oliver was removed from his command. . . . If Dewey is nominated on the GOP ticket, his henchmen say Senator Irving L. Ives will be nominated for governor, with General "Wild Bill" Donovan nominated for the Senate. Apparently this would pay off a long-standing debt to Donovan, who was refused the Dewey nod for the Senate in 1946.

Early Shamrock Was Rugged Place

The little Irish town of Shamrock, Texas, celebrated its 46th birthday this October and Mrs. Frank Exum, the first woman to arrive in Shamrock back in 1901, did a lot of remembering.

Sometimes things were pretty rugged, but she says she would not trade her experiences for a marble palace in Dallas.

In fact, she likes it so much she says she hasn't been out of Shamrock for longer than a few weeks at a time in 46 years.

The Exums built a one-room shanty on the site still occupied by the Exum home. Water, she said, was the major problem. "We paid 30 cents a barrel to have water hauled from Lela, and by the time it got to Shamrock, half of it had sloshed out. When it rained, we got water from nearby ponds, and the Lehman place, about one and a half miles from town.

"There was a water hole near where a bottling plant now stands, and the railroad gang would take their baths there if it rained before Saturday nights."

She said the life of a Panhandle pioneer was certainly varied: "I've done almost everything. I guess—emptied coal oil barrels, loaded wagons, stood on bundles of dried cow hides while they were being tied together for shipment."

They had one horse, and when

TRAVELS ALONE

NEW YORK (U.P.)—One of the youngest passengers to cross the Atlantic unattended was a two-year-old girl who was entrusted to the ship's mother, Elizabeth Heredia, trained nurse and child specialist on the motorship Batory of the Gdynia America line.

TRYING TRIP

PULLMAN, Wash. (U.P.)—Morphie Comber, travel-weary after a five-month trip from Perth, Scotland, was mighty glad to see the campus of Washington State College upon arrival here. He was delayed by a dock strike in Scotland and a 60-day quarantine in Canada. Morphe is a husky shorthorn bull.

SKULL PRACTICE

SPOKANE, Wash. (U.P.)—A human skull, found in a city dump here recently, caused a stir among police. It finally turned out to be one belonging to a physician. The doctor's wife raised so much objection to having it around the house that it was tossed out with the rubbish.

LATE BLOSSOM TIME

COLUMBUS CITY, Ind. (U.P.)—Mrs. H. J. Eberhard cut some apple blossoms from her apple tree. The tree blossomed in late September.

Briton Thinks Europe Expects Shooting War

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Oct. 16, (AP)—Henry Osborne, member of the British Parliament, told an audience at Oak Ridge high school auditorium Tuesday that current opinion in Europe is that the present Marshall diplomatic offensive is the prelude to the opening of a shooting war this winter.

On a speaking tour in this country in behalf of the crusade for world government, Osborne said that in reading the American press for the past six months, he had noticed two predominant trends of thought:

1. That the price of peace can be paid in dollars; if you are prepared to spend dollars in Europe, as little as may be, then you can buy your way to peace.

2. The price of peace is power; that if America would only use its power to dominate the globe and prevent Russia from doing so, then peace will be maintained.

Describing Russia and the United States as "the two power complexes," he quoted Bertrand Russell in a plea for world government: "There must be one central government x x x strong enough to insist on the substitution of law

BUCHAREST, Oct. 16, (AP)—King Mihai, opening the second session of Romania's first postwar Parliament, said Wednesday that friendship with the Soviet Union would "remain the foundation of our foreign policy."

He referred to Russia as "the constant defender of peace, democracy and the independence of peoples."

The King, who delivered his address in a flat, expressionless voice, was interrupted by frequent cheers from the communist benches.

Mihai said that in the international sphere Romania would have "an active role in consolidating the peace by close and sincere co-operation with those nations that respect the independence, sovereignty and liberty of other peoples."
