city-county cooperation as possible solution

NAKE STORY WITNESSES

There's a saying that a fellow who is "in his cups" is able to see most anything. In the case of a snake, it was a snake in his cup.

Well, that is what Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the Christian Church, found out yesterday afternoon in the cup of No. 2 green at the Capital Golf Course.

The minister was golfing with P. Parnell, Tom Greenwood, Al Aycock, Don Keck and Ed Evans when he found a 12-inch king snake coiled in the cup.

Ramsey named his five companions because, as he said, "a fellow finds a snake in his cup he needs even more than he does when he has a hole in one."

one bed and "they have had a high of 14 housed there."

He said that at the time of his visit seven were present in the male housing of the courthouse, but could not be locked in the cells as only one of the dry toilets could be used — "they had a blanket crammed in the other to keep out the sewer gas fumes."

"When they have less than eight, they may lock them in the tank with the use of a chain and clasp, as the levers can't be locked in place," the inspector said in his letter.

Here is what the federal jail inspector had to say about the lock-up at the rear of the courthouse:

"THE UNIT TO the rear of the courthouse offers little other than temporary detention, as most anything could be passed in to them during the night hours. Four may be locked in the lattice steel section, but they would not have access to the one toilet stool found in the building — this toilet reminds one of a 'Chic Sale', where time is used to keep down the odors. Four bunks have been added here on the walls of the day-room."

Raney suggests the possibility of city-county cooperation in solving the problem.

"Jails cost a lot of money and smaller counties are looking for means of having a good jail without the huge cost," he wrote.

"They are finding that a city-county jail often is the answer, and we find more and more thought being given such units. Good law enforcement requires the cooperation of all concerned."

IN SUGGESTING that thought should be given towards building a combined jail for city and county prisoners, Raney said a unit housing the city police as well as the sheriff's offices could be built near the courthouse and both services cooperate on the two-way radio and supervision of the jail.

"Round-the-clock supervision would be had," he continued, "as of now, if an emergency arises during the night hours there is no means of alerting anyone unless they happen to be admitting another prisoner."

He pointed out that the new unit could easily include housing for females and juveniles, but that the greatest improvement would be in the supervision, "as a jail needs attention around the 24 hours of each day."

The federal jail inspector told Judge Parker in the letter that the Bureau of Prisons would be available for help in the planning and working with the architects "should we get action by the county and city towards building such a unit."

County agent one of first to know

County Agent Syd Conner, in a talk Tuesday noon before Post Rotarians, revealed he was one of the first on the High Plains, to discover the return of the boll weevil to West Texas cotton fields.

In 1960 in Dickens County, he was called by a farmer one morning and told the farmer had something in his cotton he had never seen before. Conner went out that afternoon and found the farmer's cotton 42 per cent infested with boll weevils.

Speaking on the boll weevil control program, Conner traced the spread of the boll weevils in the last four years to the point where a $2,000,000 spraying program will be undertaken this fall.

Pointing out that cotton represents 30 per cent of the income annually of this West Texas area, the county agent said this single pest last year destroyed between 20 and 25 per cent of this income.

The last time the weevil was in Garza County he said was in 1941-42 and they left for some unexplained reason and were not seen again until last year.

Conner concluded the program by showing slides of the boll weevil and how it destroys cotton.

THIS WAY FOOTBALL TRIPS INEXPENSIVE

Chartered bus trips to and from all Post Antelopes out-of-town football games are being made available to local grid fans at a season price of $16.20 per passenger, Pat N. Walker said today.

The first trip will be Friday night to Floydada. Other out-of-town trips will be to Hamlin, Abernathy, Morton and Friendship.

Walker said the bus will leave Post in time to arrive at the game site 45 minutes before the kickoff.

Anyone wishing to reserve a seat on the bus is asked to contact Walker not later than 10 a. m. Friday.

The bus will leave from the First National Bank parking lot.

At the $16.20 price, each trip will cost $3.24. "That's a lot cheaper than you can drive your own car and you don't have to buck traffic," Walker commented.

MAJORETTES TO BE FIRST-GAME ATTRACTION

These four majorettes will be high stepping along with Director Bruce Evans' Post Antelope band at the Floydada football game Friday night at Wester Field in Floydada.

More than 120 scholastics not in school

1,346 enrollment is short of predictions

Enrollment in the Post Public Schools for the new 1964-65 term that opened Monday totaled 1,346 at the close of school Tuesday, but Supt. Barry B. Thompson predicts that the enrollment will be much nearer the anticipated 1,483 mark by the end of next week.

The superintendent said the 1964 school census shows that there are at least 120 school-age children in the Post district who have not yet enrolled in school.

Thompson warns parents who have not enrolled their children by the middle of next week that they will be filed against in court for violation of the state compulsory school attendance law.

Fall "officially" arrives tomorrow night — at Floydada. At 8 o'clock to be exact. That's when the Post High Antelopes will line up for the kickoff against the always-tough Floydada Whirlwinds in what shapes up as the fastest AA grid opener on the South Plains.

There will be a big rooting section of Post fans — hundreds by conservative estimates. The Dispatch takes this opportunity to urge you to be on hand yourself as one of the best teams to wear the Black and Gold in many an autumn opens up one of the roughest schedules anywhere.

To Coach Harold Tral and his squad of Antelopes, we wish the best of luck and a couple of extra bounces of the football.

We know four local couples who will miss the game, however. The Post motorcycle brigade, composed of S. L. Butler, Elmo Bush, James Aten and Emory Stevens, plan to wheel out of Post tomorrow afternoon on their cycles headed for Dodge City, Kans., and the Labor Day weekend of national sanctioned motorcycle races and motorcycle shows. Their wives will be following along by car. The fellows went last year. This will be (See Postings, Page 4)

Water situation 'okay' after 'run out' Friday

Post literally "ran out of water" Friday night — for the first time in over a decade—but the situation was back to normal today, thanks to a beneficial Sunday afternoon thundershower which gusted 36 of an inch of moisture onto local lawns.

What is normal? Well, there was 12 feet of water back in the reservoir yesterday morning, and Mayor Harold Lucas announced there were no longer any restrictions on usage as long as everybody conserved it.

Most of the town still had a trickle of water coming from their faucets Friday night, but in the extreme west end of town house-holders could coax nary a drop.

Nobody was particularly hurt by the shortage though.

The Postex Mills had shut down their bleachers — biggest water need there — at 5 p. m. that afternoon.

There was no particular fire danger as the new White River water reservoir was full with 420,000 gallons held out of the system for emergency fire use. It would have lasted three hours or so for (See Water, Page 4)

Parrish Grocery & Market in new location

Grand opening marks 11th anniversary

MARKET IN SHAPE FOR BIG OPENING

One of the big attractions at Parrish Grocery & Market, now holding its grand opening in its new location, is this up-to-date meat market. Shown, left to right, are Jack Kennedy, market manager; Miss Wilma Johnston and Arnold Parrish, owner of the firm.

Arnold Parrish, who moved his Parrish Grocery & Market downtown a little over a month ago, launches his three-day Grand Opening today in one of the biggest—if not the biggest—home-owned super markets in West Texas at 129 West Main.

This will be quite a week to remember for Parrish, who opened his grocery and market up on North Broadway just 11 years ago Tuesday.

In his Grand Opening advertisement on page 8 of today's Dispatch, Parrish announces he will give away 100 bags of free groceries today through Saturday and also will give away a Huffy bicycle built-for-two Saturday, Sept. 12.

There also will be free favors for the kiddies, free Cokes Friday and Saturday, and free Borden's ice cream cones served to all who want them Saturday.

Parrish moved to Post from Lubbock when the opportunity came along for him to purchase a grocery store because he wanted to go into business for himself.

Just how well he has succeeded will be demonstrated during the (See Parrish Grocery, Page 4)

GARZA'S FIRST '64 BALE

Bob Tidwell of Justiceburg is shown atop Garza County's first 1964 bale of cotton, ginned last Friday at Planters Gin. The 1,730 pounds of seed cotton brought in by Tidwell from his dryland farm three miles east of Justiceburg produced a 435-pound bale and 700 pounds of seed. The cotton, pulled by hand from over about 10 acres, was grown on less than five inches of rain. At the right is gin manager J. R. Roach, who paid Tidwell 50 cents a pound for the bale and ginned it free, and at the left is ginner L. C. Eilenberger.

Crewman spots victim of snakebite in time

Jose M. Sustaita, 61-year-old unemployed Post man, who has been living here the last two months at 610 Ralls Road, has an unidentified, but alert Santa Fe freight crewman to thank for his life today.

Sustaita, who was walking northwest of Post Monday night, along the Santa Fe tracks was bitten by a rattlesnake in the darkness about 11 p. m.

He walked about two more miles back toward Post before collapsing in some weeds near the railroad tracks.

Stores open Labor Day, schools to take holiday

Post schools will enjoy a Labor Day holiday Monday—but not so the business district generally.

While the bank and postoffice will be closed, local retail firms will be open Monday.

Labor Day hasn't been a Chamber of Commerce designated holiday for the last two years.

The courthouse offices will be closed Monday for the holiday too, it was announced yesterday afternoon.

Labor Day weekend

Jaycees will man rest station here

Members of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce will maintain a rest stop here for motorists during the Labor Day weekend, that begins Friday, Sept. 4, and continues through Monday, Sept. 7.

The Jaycees' holiday rest stop will be at the roadside park at the northwest edge of town on U. S. Highway 84.

Coffee, tea, milk and cookies will be served to motorists pulling up at the rest stop. Jaycees will be there continuously from 6 p. m.

Friday until 1 p. m. Monday. Signs calling attention to the rest stop are to be erected on highway approaches to Post.

Plans for the rest stop were made at a regular meeting of the Jaycees held last Thursday at the Community Room.

Plans were also made by the organization for the sale of seat cushions for football games and for a membership drive scheduled to begin Sept. 12.

The seat cushions, which have (See Jaycees, Page 4)

A full look at school tax problem

The purpose of this editorial is to enable Dispatch readers to take a full, objective look at the school district's tax problem before you go to the polls Saturday, Sept. 26, to make an important decision on the future of the Post schools.

There are several choices which can be made to solve the problems and you should consider all of them.

First, it should be pointed out that the tax rate for the new school year is going to be held at the same $1.50 maximum under the law as it has for the last several years. Ahead of us, unfortunately, lies another year of deficit financing.

The voters' decision at the polls Sept. 26 is going to determine possibly what will happen after that—not this year.

Up for approval or rejection Sept. 26 will be the proposition of invoking, as some West Texas school districts already have done, Senate Bill 116, which would give school trustees the authority to raise the school tax rate above the present $1.50 maximum. If approved, the trustees would have the authority to raise the rate above $1.50 for the first time, but not to exceed $2, which would be the new maximum rate.

If the voters approve this proposition, school trustees presumably then would raise the tax rate for your 1965 school taxes to the amount needed to pay off the deficit and meet next year's budget.

If voters reject the proposed solution, then the problem would be returned to the board for one of the alternative approaches.

The alternatives are three in number:

(1) Trustees by their own vote can increase the percentage of true valuation taken to determine taxable property valuation. At the present time, property is placed on the tax rolls at 40 per cent of its full value. If the board raised the percentage to 50 per cent, for example, this would permit up to a 25 per cent increase in taxes within the present $1.50 maximum rate.

(2) Trustees can order a re-evaluation of all tax properties within the school district. Many tax experts recommend that this be done every five years so that tax inequalities can be avoided. Throughout this area, rural values tend to be low while urban values are at or very near 100 per cent of market value. On this point, the farmer and the rancher argue that rural values should be determined on the basis of what the land can produce, not current market value.

(3) Trustees can "cut" the educational program to keep it within the limits of what current valuations, the current maximum tax rate, and what the current percentage of valuation will produce.

To choose the third alternative would mean the end for "quality education" for students of the Post school district within two years of its successful beginning under a new administration. But it is one of the choices, though to our thinking the most distasteful.

School trustees are divided as among the several choices.

The board last week voted 4 to 2 to call the election Sept. 26 on invoking Senate Bill 116, which if approved would authorize an increase in the maximum tax rate.

The two who voted against the proposition of asking the voters if they wanted to increase the tax rate wanted to re-evaluate all taxable property instead.

Of the four who voted to submit this proposition to the voters two told The Dispatch that personally they opposed a tax increase but were willing for the people to express themselves on the issue.

In fact, the same two board members who voted for the Sept. 26 election and then announced they were also against the increase of taxes themselves, also voted against adoption of the budget because it would require another year of deficit financing.

Adding these expressions up, we have two for increasing the rate, two for re-evaluation, and two presumably in favor of holding the tax line where it is and "cutting" the program.

The seventh board member, an appointee to fill an existing vacancy, of course was not present at the meeting. But even if he had been there, there would not have been a clear-cut majority of the board favoring any single one of the available alternatives to solving the problem.

The administration proposed that a referendum be called in which voters could indicate which of the several approaches to the financial problems they favored, instead of a voter decision only on one of the alternatives. This would seem the most logical if the public is to decide.

Sound confusing? Well, it certainly is. But the problem is not a new one. All of these factors and choices have been available for a long time.

Obviously, if the general public is as split upon solution to the school district's financial problems as are the trustees, it will be no easy task during the next 12 months to find the answer. It would appear that any single alternative would be defeated on a vote of the people, too.

But The Dispatch is convinced that the public wants quality education here within the limits of hard-headed business sense. Nobody wants tax increases and certainly every taxpayer wants to pay only his fair share of any such increases.

If we are not careful, we can lose quality education simply by disagreement over alternatives.

The Post school district is caught in the same squeeze as are many other West Texas districts. We face rising enrollments—80 more students this year than last for another record high, according to current estimates. At the same time we face dwindling oil valuations due to the lack of new oil discoveries to replace depleted wells taken off the tax rolls. Each year the squeeze gets tighter.

This year, an all-out effort was made to bring the budget into balance. Our estimated income will exceed our proposed expenditures for the new school year. But this added revenue will only reduce the deficit not quite by half. Next year there probably will be other financial needs—such as replacements for our school bus fleet, if not more students, other repairs, etc. Everybody agrees on only one point—deficit financing must end.

The district has been holding the line, tight against the $1.50 maximum, for several years. It was first believed that the consolidation of the Close City and Post school districts would broaden the tax base—total property valuations—enough to bring an end to deficit financing within the $1.50 tax limit. The valuation increase of $1,856,945 was not enough to accomplish the goal.

So the problem is still with us. It is too late now to take corrective measures for the 1964-65 school year, but a solution must be found within the coming year.

Perhaps with wider discussion of the problems involved, a community mandate can come from the people to guide school trustees toward a solution. After all, each trustee is elected to represent the entire district, not some particular area or group of school patrons.

The Dispatch likes—and believes a vast majority of our school patrons like—the prudent approach being taken by our school administration to quality education. The gains are impressive in many fields.

What we must decide now is the best approach to a difficult problem. It must be a decision in which a vast majority firmly believes, arrived at through a fair and sensible approach.

When we make it, it will be the guide-line in the years to come—whether we like it or not—because education will continue to have financial problems in those years ahead.

We can't run and hide from our problem. We must face it and solve it together.—JC

ONE CONSOLATION about this outbreak of summer colds. After Sept. 21, the first day of Fall, we can call them something else.

It's surprising, the number of readers who notice it when I fail to run our cat's picture in this column. I ran so many of the little cartoons of Blackie that it's become a habit with some readers to look for his picture. One will be coming up again shortly.

ONE READER WHO was talking to me about our cat asked if I'd heard of the prospectus of the Lacon, Ill., Cat-and-Rat Ranch. I had, but perhaps you haven't. It's as old as the hills, but it's still more fun than a barrel of monkeys. Get a good grip and hang on tight:

Glorious Opportunity to Get Rich —We are starting a cat ranch in Lacon with 100,000 cats. Each cat will average 12 kittens a year. The cat skins will sell for 30 cents each. One hundred men can skin 5,000 cats a day. We figure a daily profit of over $10,000. Now what shall we feed the cats?

We will start a rat ranch next door with 1,000,000 rats. The rats will breed 12 times faster than the cats. So we will have four rats to feed each day to each cat. Now what shall we feed the rats? We shall feed the rats the carcasses of the cats after they have been skinned.

Now get this! We feed the rats to the cats and the cats to the rats and get the skins for nothing.

When my wife sees the above, she'll probably tell me that if I'd put in as much time and thought on something sensible, we'd have been wealthy long ago.

THE MAN UP the Street says it takes the average housewife about four checkbooks to fill one stampbook.

The recent national political conventions prove that a candidate for office needs five hats: One to wear, one to throw in the ring, one to pass around for donations, one to talk through and one to pull rabbits out of.

CHANGING TIMES. The Kiplinger Magazine, notes that the doors of the nation's schools swing wide once more, amid cheers from thousands of bright-eyed, eager mothers. Which should remind us that adult education will continue as long as the kids have homework.

Have you heard of the new drink-mixing guide? — "Betty Cooker's Cook Book."

IT HAS BEEN so long since I've presented a puzzle in this column that I think it about time to spoil your day again:

A few years ago one of my neighbors decided to go into the poultry business. She talked it over with her husband, and they decided to enter a diversified operation. They would start with hens, roosters and baby chicks. Checking the prices, she found that hens cost $1 each, roosters $5 each and baby chicks 5 cents each. She gave her husband $100 with these instructions:

"Go buy some of each — hens, roosters and chicks — but buy exactly 100."

How did he do it?

The answer appears on the classified page of today's Dispatch.

I think it only fair that if the Republicans insist on using the chemical symbol for gold and water, AuH₂O, on bumper stickers and buttons, the Democrats should reciprocate by using "L.B.J." as the abbreviation for pound. A science teacher I know says the two ingredients, gold and water, won't mix — but since he, too, is Democrat, I think he is only trying to confuse the matter with facts.

DOVE HUNTERS who started unlimbering on Tuesday, the first day of the season, might not know it, but hunting has become big business in the United States. Punt, Pass and Kick coming up

The National Football League and the Ford dealers of America announce the fourth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the nation's 8 through 12-year-old football fans.

"PP&K" pits the youths' punting, passing and place-kicking skills against those of other participants of the same age. Since its inception in 1962, the program has attracted more than 1,100,000 entries, including nearly half a million last year.

Last year a Dallas boy, 8-year-old Steve Pierce, won the national championship in his age category, and Marshall Lambson, 9, of St. Johns, Ariz., was tops among boys in his age group. Both represented the Dallas Cowboys in the national PP&K championship at Chicago last Dec. 29.

Registration for this year's competition will be held at Ford dealerships, or at locations designated by them, Sept. 1 through Oct. 9. The contest is sponsored in Post and Garza County by Tom Power Ford.

EMPLOYEES READY FOR GRAND OPENING

$23,900 damage suit filed here

Floyd Curry of Lynn County filed a $23,900 damage suit in district court here yesterday against Jimmy Dale Redman of Post as a result of a pickup collision a half mile south of Close City on US-84 at 8 a. m., June 15, 1964.

Curry was a passenger in a truck driven by Jack Spears, the second vehicle in the collision.

In his suit, Curry alleged the accident which resulted in what he described as permanent injuries to himself was caused by Redman's negligence.

Curry in the suit asks $18,000 for loss of earnings, $900 for past and future doctor, hospital, drug and appliance bills for treatment of his injuries, and $5,000 for past and future physical pain and mental suffering.

The Chamber of Commerce promotions committee has worked out a proposition for permanent Christmas decorations for downtown Post this year— which will be presented shortly to Chamber directors. Cost of such decorations are high and about a three-year payoff from Chamber funds would be required to finance the project.

point out, the meat market at Parrish's features all West Texas raised and pen-fed government graded beef.

A specialty of the meat market, which has long been a hit with Parrish customers, is the offering of fresh barbecued chicken, beef and pork ribs, link sausages, and Weiner's daily except Wednesday.

When savings stamps came along some eight years ago, Parrish stayed home-owned and independent in this field too. He originated Budgeteer stamps, which he redeems in his own store for a wide variety of items including housewares, dry goods, electric appliances, gift items, and mercantile goods. He has added many new items in this field since moving into his new super market.

Each book of Budgeteer stamps is worth $3 redeemable in any of the above mentioned items. He also issues double Budgeteer stamps two days weekly — Tuesdays and Fridays — and during his grand opening is giving double Budgeteer stamps on all purchases on all three days of the opening.

Parrish also has two other services not usually found in super markets — free delivery and credit purchases.

His truck makes grocery deliveries daily without charge on purchases of $2.50 or more. His credit business amounts to approximately 30 per cent of his total volume.

Actually, the fire alarm sounded at 4 a. m. Saturday, but the emergency water supply wasn't needed. It was a car fire out on the Snyder highway.

With water usage down, the reservoir began to slowly gain water back and by 11 p. m. Friday night there was a better than trickle of water from the faucets.

The reservoir gained four feet overnight and by Saturday morning there was water again, although the message went out not to water lawns.

Then the Sunday afternoon thunderstorm came to ease the water demand.

Water usage on one weekend day dropped to a little over 400,000 gallons.

Last week it was nip and tuck all week with the reservoir starting off Monday morning with only seven feet of water, dropping to five feet Tuesday, and four feet on Thursday.

Some say the last time the city ran out of water was in 1951, and others contend it was 1948.

Sunday's rain is measured at .86

Rains measuring up to one inch fell last Sunday afternoon, accompanied by hail which caused some crop damage north and east of Post.

Local insurance men said that while there was some hail loss, the over-all benefits from the moisture would more than outweigh the hail damage.

The rain in Post, which began falling about 3 p. m. Sunday, measured .86 of an inch on the rain gauge at the courthouse, bringing the August total here to 1.86 inches.

Four are injured in auto accident

Four persons were injured, two of them seriously, when their automobile went out of control and overturned Sunday afternoon four miles southeast of Post on rain-slickened U. S. Highway 84.

Mrs. Clara Mims, 55, of Tahoka, and her 80-year-old father, Bill Cooke, were admitted to the Garza Memorial Hospital, where Mrs. Mims was still a patient yesterday. Her 23-year-old son, who was driving, and her niece received emergency treatment at the hospital, but were not admitted. All are Negroes.

Highway Patrolman Max Knox said the car, traveling towards Post, swerved across the median of the divided highway, across the opposite lane and flipped over onto its top.

both of Slaton, lifted Sustalta into the cab and the diesel backed down the grade into Post its horn blaring.

Sustalta arrived at the hospital at 9 a. m.

A new drug was administered by Dr. Margaret Russell, Post's new lady doctor, and today Sustalta was well on the road to recovery but was being watched closely for any secondary infection.

Sustalta had applied a crude tourniquet after being bitten six inches above the shoe top. That and the fact the snake bit through a heavy trouser leg probably kept him alive until he was spotted.

What was he doing walking along the railroad track?

He said yesterday afternoon in broken English from his hospital bed he was walking out to see a farmer about some work. A man he had worked for before. He said he liked to walk railroad tracks rather than roads.

Postex pin awards

Three additional 15-year service pins and 83 10-year service pins are to be awarded employees this week in Postex Mills' new continuous service awards program. Receiving 15-year pins in addition to those named in last Thursday's Dispatch will be Ruth Clark, Lucy Clary and Mildred Wilbourn.

Richard Calvin Wilcox, was charged Sept. 2 with driving while intoxicated. He pleaded not guilty and bond was set at $500.

Jackie Curb was charged Aug. 29 with aggravated assault.

Dwayne Jolly was charged Aug. 29 with desertion.

Harry Barro pleaded guilty Aug. 27 to a charge of defrauding by worthless check. Judge Parker fined him $25 and costs and sentenced him to 10 days in jail.

Team is here on spray permits

Because of the slow sign in the boll weevil control program, two Texas Department of Agriculture representatives arrived yesterday morning in the sign-up campaign.

County Agent Syd Combs said the two-man team is making farm-to-farm call on farmers to have not yet signed permits for their farms to be sprayed.

Farmers can sign the permit at the county agent's office, First National Bank sign office.

"We need all the sign-ups the next 10 days in order to start a spray program to start on schedule," the county agent said.

POSTEX YEAR PINS AWARDED

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Things I miss most about the first day of school since the Misses C's have grown up are the "night-before" excitement of a primary scholar; walking into the school building with a "hot little hand" clutching mine; seeing all the scrubbed faces, neat hairdos and starched dresses or shirts that somehow look "more so" that first day of school; the anticipation of learning if we got the "right" teacher, and the rushing to a friend's house to see how she fared.

The thing I missed most about this first day of school is the fact that Miss C the younger can no longer be counted as an employee of The Dispatch and I find that she did more this summer while working than I sometimes thought at the time. That is, I'm sure, a typical mother reaction.

I figure our Miss C the elder is good for two more weeks of family ironing before she returns to the college campus and then Miss C the younger and I will have to work that into our school-year schedule.

I also figure if I don't spend several hours each night getting Miss C the elder ready for school, she won't be able to go. I have all this material staring me in the face every time I walk by the sewing machine. Where, oh, where, has the summer gone?

Corky Ammons, our backshop foreman, was bragging today about how their new daughter was born at the right time. By being born on Aug. 29, Deann will be able to start school when she is six, by being born on an early Saturday morning. Corky didn't have to miss any work, and by being born a "little" early, Corky doesn't have to worry about missing any Antelope football games.

Adding to and debunking some of the curious coincidences to the uncanny parallels of the lives and deaths of Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy, Time Magazine came up with a few added twists. Editor Didway ran a list of comparisons not too long ago in his "Thursday to Thursday" column. Here are a couple of additions:

Lee Oswald shot Kennedy from a warehouse and ran to a theatre, while Booth shot Lincoln in a theatre and ran to a warehouse.

It has been noted that Kennedy was shot while riding in a Lincoln

Wake 'em up Gabriel!

There isn't much music coming out of that horn. But one thing's certain: this little fellow is making plenty of noise.

If it happens to be Sunday morning, when the family sleeps late, this sturdy musician isn't going to receive much praise. His lungs are strong, though, and he's going to sit there and toot that trumpet until Mom or Dad takes it away from him.

All of his playmates are at Sunday School, so you really can't blame him for trying to while away the idle hours. Unfortunately, his parents haven't got the Church-going habit, so this boy will probably grow up like them and sleep away the hours in which he could be getting spiritual nourishment.

You've got the right idea, Gabriel. Wake them up to their responsibility!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Need more effective, not easier, teaching

John McCoy, minister of the Ayers Street Church of Christ, conducted a gospel meeting at the Taboka Church. He is a brother of Ernest minister of the Post Church.

TEXAS TRIP
Mrs. William Bennett and her daughters, Patricia and Judy, left Friday for a week's trip to the Church of Christ at Glenn Rose, Fort Worth, where they visited Mrs. E. Grammer, and other friends, and a trip to Pilot Point where the Nazarene church was organized in 1908.

Moment With God

ALL GOD'S RELATIVES
When ye pray, say, Our Father . . . Luke 11:2.
The besetting sin of man is that he centers life in himself. He is so concerned with me. I have little time to be "my brother's keeper." In fact, I am almost oblivious of the existence of others. But to know God as "Father" opens up a new world to me. It broadens my outlook. I begin to see more than just myself. I cannot see God only. To see God is to see Him as Father.
God appears before us always as the Head of a family. God is me and all creatures. His love for me is bound up with His love for every man. We cannot think of His love without thinking of others. "God so loved the world that He gave His only-begotten Son . . ." If I know His love for me, I know His love for every man. As I respond to His fatherly love and enter His family, I find myself concerned for my brothers and sisters of the world of faith and also for His delinquent children who have not yet been reconciled to Him.
This is a fact and experience of Christian faith. Christ, who is the Father, also draws us to one another. As we know God's love for us, we also love our neighbor as ourselves. We feel that we are "our brother's keeper." We feel the weight of our brother's concerns as we feel our own. So our prayers for Father" include our neighbor's need.
Dear Lord, love my neighbor through me. Amen.

ing generally, he said, is not so fine that we should pattern our teaching by what we observe at the college level.

"THE PAINFUL TRUTH is . . . many people have entered the teaching profession because of short hours, three months' vacation and to add a second paycheck to the family income." Thompson said.

"I am tired and ashamed of hobb- ing teachers who care more about themselves than the welfare and learning of the children under their jurisdiction," the superintendent went on. "I am tired and ashamed of teachers who are more concerned about their neuroses than they are about the mental health of their children."

"I am fed up with the excuse- makers and the opinionated teachers who operate on emotion rather than fact. I have little sympathy for those teachers who place no value on research and who despise non-conformity in the learning processes."

"TEACHING IS not a part- time profession predicated on emotion and prejudice. It is a full-time profession predicated by research, truth and knowledge, placing the welfare of the student above any other consideration."

Supt. Thompson closed his talk by saying: "The time has come in Post and in America when we must take a stand for the grandest of all professions. I believe the combined faculties of the Post Public Schools will meet all challenges, face any problems, deplore shallow thinking, and will, through superlative effort achieve our potential and destiny of excellence. I ask, as your superintendent, for your help, your talents, your best ideas, and your dedicated concern for children. Nothing more is possible; nothing less acceptable. Let us get on with the job."

The basic question is not making the job of the teacher easier, Thompson told his listeners, but is whether we will make the job of the teacher more effective.

The superintendent told the teachers that there is no such thing as effective teaching without lesson planning, and that "effective teaching is a myth if, in our teaching, we teach as we were taught in college." College teach-

Former area resident kills elephant, other big game in Africa

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
Dr. Ronald Huddleston, a former area resident now living in Mbeya, Tanganika, East Africa, recently went on a successful elephant hunt, according to letters received from him by relatives at Grassland.

It required three or four shots for Dr. Huddleston to bring down the two to three-ton beast, as he had to shoot between its foreleg. An elephant's brain is so small that it is hard to kill one with a shot in the head, Dr. Huddleston explains.

The Huddlestons were told the elephant's trunk was good to eat, but they declined and left the carcass where it fell for wild animals to feed on. The ivory tusks, which the Huddlestons saved, weighed 164 pounds.

The families from the mission go up on the plains to kill their meat. On a recent hunt, they killed a cape buffalo that weighed 2,000 pounds and had a horn spread of 43 inches. Also killed on the hunt was a topi, a zebra (which is supposed to be very good meat), an impala and two elands weighing 1,500 pounds each. So, you can see, the people there have quite a variety of meats.

Post Antelopes to Floydada Friday for 1964 lidlifter

Locals will be trying to snap 7-year jinx

Harold Teal's Post Antelope Coach Bill Curry's Floydada will clash head-on at 8 o'clock Friday night to pry the lid off the jinx that has plagued both clubs.

Post-Floydada clash is being called one of the area's top games of the season. Teal said Tuesday his team is confident of breaking the jinx that has plagued both clubs since 1957 and has continued in the string of Whirlwind wins over the Antelopes.

One Antelope regular, Dennis Odom, will miss action Friday night. Odom was hurt in a game with a bruised hip.

WHIRLWINDS, on the other hand, have been heavily injured. Last week, second-quarterback John Campbell suffered a neck injury that kept him from seeing any action. Bill Potts and fullback Osborn may be out of action Friday night. Potts with a sprained ankle and Osborn with a groin injury. Ken Campbell, the power-runner, has had an eye, but is listed to start Friday night. End Mac Willson pulled muscle and guards Fawcett and Bonnie Eubank were slowed by strained knees.

Antelopes will outweigh the winds by a considerable margin, and are expecting a lot of passes off the arm of quarterback Keith Teague. Teague said.

TEAGUE has plenty of speed to expect them to utilize it. Teal said. "We'll be looking at mostly reverend counters in their running game." "As far as the Floydada defense is concerned, we're not looking for anything remotely resembling 'plain vanilla,'" the coach continued. "They'll mix it up and we can look for just about anything."

Quarterback Teague, playing his fourth season for the Whirlwinds, missed all but two games last year because of an injury. "He is considered one of the area's top schoolboy passers and is also an adept ball handler and a speedy runner."

Fullback Ken Campbell, the "Winds only big runner at 187 pounds, is of the pile-driving type, and will be helped in the ground-gaining efforts by halfback Sammy Watts, 150-pound senior.

WITH FIVE lettermen trying for the end positions, Teague shouldn't have any trouble finding receivers for his aerial heaves. Mac Willson, if he is able to play, and Don McKinnis are the probable starters.

David Lutrick, 180-pound senior, and Clinton Fawcett, 156-pound junior, are probable starters at the tackle posts, with Bill Potts, 175-pound senior, and Zeke Robertson, 154-pound junior, expected to start at the guard positions. Gary Campbell, 146-pound senior, will start at center.

Floydada is a pre-season pick to finish third in District 3AA, behind Friona and Olton. But it has been longer than most Floydada fans remember since the Whirlwinds have finished that low in the district standings. Coach Teal is one of those who think Floydada is under-rated.

"ALL OUR GAMES will be tough this season," he said, "but we're looking for the Friday night opener with Floydada to be one of the Team 1 champ; all-star game set Thursday

Team No. 1 remained simply that this week — the unbeaten champion of the City Softball League as it wound up season's play Tuesday night.

League officials decided not to play off the postponed games on the schedule because they could not affect the final results anyway as far as the championship was concerned.

The league also decided to hold an all-star game next Thursday night at 8 p. m. at the Babe Ruth League park with the league champions plying an all-star team yet to be selected from the other five teams in the loop.

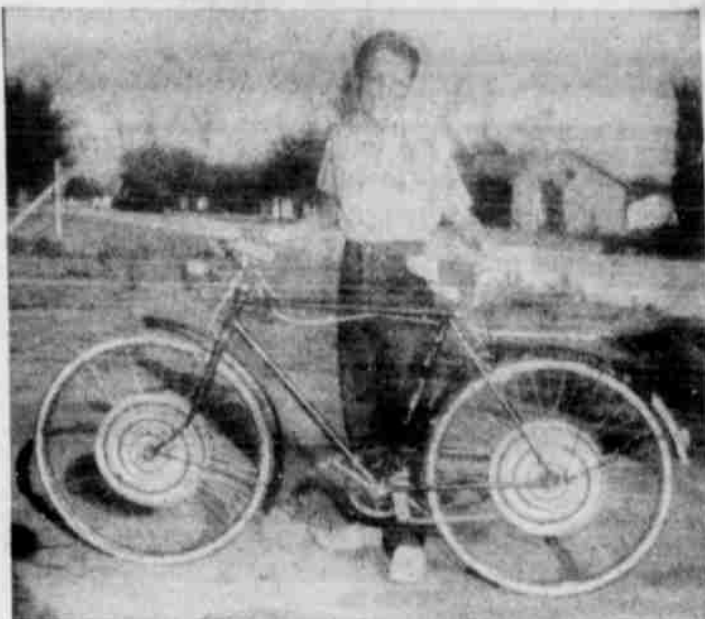

The champs picked up two more victories in the final week of the season, defeating Team No. 6, 7-3, and then blasting Team No. 2, 19-4.

In other games played during the week: Runnerup Team No. 6 whipped Team No. 4, 22-5; Team No. 5 easily defeated Team No. 3, 13-1; and Team No. 2 outlasted Team No. 4, 23-19, in a game decidedly not a pitchers' battle.

toughest. Besides the winning tradition they've got going for them, they have speed to burn, and don't let the size of that line fool you. Those Floydada linemen are veterans and they'll be fast - moving and hard-hitting."

Coach Teal said the Antelopes continue to show spirit and hustle. "We're showing some improvement in every department, even in pass defense and our punting game, which are two departments in which there is plenty of room for improvement," he said.

Tentative starters on offense for the Antelopes Friday night are: Ronald Simpson and Danny Pierce,

82 boys taking part in Jr. High program

Post Junior High School's new intramural football program got under way with the first day of school Monday, with 82 boys signed up.

The 7th and 8th grade boys will practice together for two weeks, after which four teams will be organized for the intramural competition.

School Supt. Barry B. Thompson said today that the 82 boys reporting are several more than was anticipated and the program apparently is off to a good start.

Post is the second school in Texas to organize such a program. Andrews was the first, and Thompson, then a member of the faculty there, helped organize it.

Coaches of the four teams in the program here will be Bud Davis, Harold, Williams, Bruce Burnett and James Pollard.

The boys are working out from 8:15 until 9:35 a. m. each school day. After the teams are organized, each team will play the others three times. A complete schedule will appear in an early issue of The Dispatch.

New equipment of the safest type has been purchased and issued to the boys, Thompson said. Members of each of the four teams will be outfitted in numbered, different-colored jerseys — red, blue, green and gold.

Upon organization, the boys will choose nicknames for the four teams.

Post golfer loses in Lorenzo meet

O. C. Garner of Post lost to R. P. Nicholson of Big Spring, 5 and 4, Sunday in the second round of the championship flight of the Lorenzo Invitational Golf Tournament.

Jim Fullington of Petersburg was the eventual champion, winning the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday with defending tournament champion Al Holton of Lubbock.

Jackie Hays of Post was the consolation winner in the seventh flight.

Golfers are reminded of the Sept. 10 registration deadline for the Scotty Samson Men's Championship Golf Tournament to be held Sept. 12-13 at the Caprock Golf Course. Registration may be made at the golf shop.

The tournament will determine the men's club champion and men's handicap champion for 1964.

ends: Finnis Corley and John Sutter or Jim Kennedy, tackles; Jackie Braddock and Johnny Bilberry, guards; Donnie Cornell, center; Butch Cross, quarterback; Teddy Scott and Benny Owen, running backs, and Luis Ayala, blocking back.

On defense, it will be: Braddock and Billy Mitchell, tackles; Cornell and Charlie Brown or Sutter, guards; Owen and Sammy Sims, side linebackers; Cross, middle linebacker; Pierce and Larry Osman or Donnie Windham, corner men, and Scott and Simpson, safety men.

A. C. Cash president

Booster Club is organized

A. C. Cash was elected president of the new Antelope Booster Club at its organizational meeting Tuesday night in the Primary School Auditorium.

The meeting drew a turnout of approximately 30 local men despite numerous schedule conflicts.

Elwood Wright was named vice president; Ed Blanton, secretary, and Frank Blanton, treasurer.

The group voted to charge $2 for annual memberships and an immediate membership drive was launched to secure upwards of 200 members.

So everybody will recognize Antelope Boosters at fall football games, the group voted to buy gold corduroy hats to be fitted with black bands inscribed with the word "Post" in white.

Jackie Hays was named a committee of one, assisted by Wright, to buy the hats as soon as possible.

The club is open to women, too, the men insist. When the question came up as to what the women would wear to distinguish their membership, one cautious male suggested that "this had better be left up to the women members, not us."

Head Football Coach Harold Teal spoke briefly to the club at the opening of the session, saying he was heartily in favor of a well-organized booster club with predetermined goals of backing the team.

Wright announced efforts to open one or two chartered buses to all out-of-town high school games and urged members to sign up if they wanted to make the trips by bus.

The club will meet at 7:30 Monday nights in the Primary School Auditorium jointly with the 46-56 Club to see movies of the previous Friday night games and to hear coaches discuss the games. After the joint meeting, the boosters will

Lightning damage hits Graham area

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

This community had rain last Wednesday along with a lot of lightning. The Prospect home was set on fire when lightning struck the television set and caused a fire which did several thousand dollars damage. The fire was confined to the den but smoke and heat ruined the whole house. The television sets in the Bob Baker and Elmer D. Jones homes were struck but there was no fire.

Mrs. W. O. Fluit Sr. and Mrs. Maud Thomas were honored with a birthday luncheon in the Community Center. Attending were the Hinton Fluitts, Morris McClellans, Elmo Bushes, L. E. Rylands of Lovington, N. M., Marion Mathews of Morton, W. O. Fluitts of Morton, Maurice Fluitts, Mrs. Harold Reno and sons, Delwin Fluitts, Carl Fluitts, the Pete Hays family and the Grover Masons.

Jacob J. Boettcher of Lansing, Mich., has been a recent visitor in the Wagoner Johnson home. He is an Army buddy of Mr. Johnson having served in Italy for two years together. They had not seen each other in 20 years. We can imagine that was some reunion. We guess there had been some changes made.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey were luncheon guests of the Donald Windham family Sunday. In the afternoon they visited Mr. and Mrs. Spike Strofer and Mrs. Waldrup and family.
