Precipitation in local sections had reached almost to three-quarters of an inch last night though no hail or sleet had fallen. The mercury, which stood around 31 during Friday afternoon, began a slight drop last night.

Hail Reported
The most extensive damage was reported at Littlefield and Morton, where hail and snow left an inch of icy covering yesterday. Winter crops were seriously damaged over a great territory surrounding those cities and cotton, which was on the ground, has been rendered useless.

Brownfield reported a damaging hail Thursday night, followed by a generous rain and brisk north wind Friday.

Rainfall Heavy

Coalition Of Republican Independents, Democrats Resent Rough Language Of New Hampshire Solon

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP)—Called "Sons of the Wild Jackasses" by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, members of the republican independent-democratic coalition which holds the balance of power in the tariff struggle retaliated today in the senate in picturesque language.

Members of the western republican independents who have bolted the party regulars on the tariff measure took the opportunity to themselves and loosed new attacks on the pending tariff bill.

The New Hampshire republican, who employed the "jackasses" characterization in a speech last night before a meeting of New England manufacturers, was presiding at the time in his capacity as president.

Mr. Moses said the purpose of the meeting was to draft regulations concerning the production of certified grain sorghum seed. He said that persons desiring to produce certified seed were requested to appear before the board at that time.

The association was organized in Lubbock on October 16 when 18 West Texas counties had delegates here. Robert H. Bean, county judge of Lubbock county, was elected president for the ensuing year.

The Plainview meeting is a special meeting for the purpose of perfecting the organization and getting the machinery started. Regular meetings are to be held semi-annually, in April and September of each year.

While in this city he expects to visit Texas Technological college, the state experiment station and make a general survey of farm conditions of the immediate territory.

"In my opinion, the State of Texas would be in a very critical condition at this time if it were not for the development of the dairying and livestock industries in recent years," he stated last night.

"With the short cotton crop over almost all of the state, we had to depend upon the one crop method of recent years.

Liquor Condition Up To Grand Jury

Railway President Slated To Give His Account Of "Wall Street Booze Parties" In Capital Probe

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The central scene of the excitement over liquor conditions in the capital has become a grand jury room, where on Monday Edward E. Loomis, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, is slated to give his account of the "Wall Street booze parties" which Senator Brookhart of Iowa recently exposed in the senate.

District Attorney Rover moved again today to get details of the liquor before the grand jury, inviting Frank S. Hight, manager of the Willard Hotel, to present the records pertaining to the gathering there in December, 1926. Brookhart, who already has testified to the grand jury, told that Walter J. Fahy, a New York broker, was host to certain republican senators at the time.

The Iowa said "beautiful silver flasks" were dinner favors, and that Loomis drank "some alcoholic stuff" poured from one of these while sitting next to him. The railroad executive late yesterday accepted an invitation to testify about "the alleged use of liquor" at the party. It also had been suggested that Otto Kahn, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., whom Brookhart said had sat on his other side, also be called before the grand jury, but whether this will be done remains to be developed.

Sunday-School Lesson
BY DR. J. E. NUNN

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY
LESSON FOR NOV. 10, 1929.
General Topic: World Peace Through Mutual Understanding.
Scripture Lesson: Isa. 2:2-4; Acts 17:22-28; John 4:20, 21.

Isa. 2:2. And it shall come to pass in the latter days, that the mountain of Jehovah's house shall be established on the top of the mountain, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.
3. And many peoples shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of Jehovah, to the house of the God of Jacob; and He will teach us of His ways, and He will walk in His paths; for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of Jehovah from Jerusalem.

4. And He will judge between the nations, and He will decide concerning many peoples; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore.

Acts 17:22. And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said, Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are very religious.

22. For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, To the unknown God. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this I set forth unto you.

24. The God that made the world and all things therein, He, being Lord of Heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands;

25. Neither is He served by men's hands, as though He needed anything, seeing He Himself giveth to all life and breath and all things;

26. And He made of one every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation;

27. That they should seek God, if happily they might feel after Him and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us;

28. For in Him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also His offspring.

John 4:20. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21. Jesus saith unto her, woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father.

Golden Text: They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my hold mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah as the waters cover the sea.—Isa. 11:9.

Time and Place: Isaiah prophesied in Jerusalem, B. C. 755-679. Paul's address before the Areopagus

In Athens, A. D. 51. Christ talks with the Samaritan woman near Sychar, December, A. D. 27, in the first year of His ministry.

INTRODUCTION
The present times have two great-epoch-making subjects of thought. They are two reforms: prohibition of the liquor traffic and abolition of war. Both are world problems, to be solved satisfactorily only by the cooperation of all nations. As to the first, our own country has gone farther than all other nations and is leading the way. As to the second, we must sadly admit that most other nations are far ahead of ours. Last week we studied the first problems; this week we study the second. Toward the solution of it we have given us the words of three wonderful thinkers: Isaiah, the greatest prophet of the Old Testament; Paul, greatest of the New Testament; and Christ, the supreme leader of the ages, the Son of God, the Saviour of men.

Isaiah's Vision of Peace: Isa. 2:2-4.
Our lesson today contains three passages from Isaiah. In the first (2:2-4) he pictures the time when the religion of Jehovah shall be acknowledged by all the nations, when they shall look to Him for guidance, when He shall settle disputes between them, when His will shall be their law. When that day comes, there will be no need of swords and spears to protect the nations from one another. The study of warfare will be obsolete. In the next passage (11:8-10) the prophet pictures the reign of peace among the animals. The wild beasts shall be tamed, and a little child shall lead them. In the third passage (19:23-25) we have a picture of peace between the Jewish people and their two great historical enemies, Egypt and Assyria. The three nations shall all worship Jehovah.

Isaiah's Greatest Science, v. 4
"Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore." "If one were asked to write down the six most often repeated sentences in the first thirty-nine chapters of the Book of Isaiah, he would include this sentence in his list. If one were asked to write the three most famous sentences of Isaiah, the son of Amos, I suspect that this sentence would have to be one of the three. There are some who think it is the greatest sentence which Isaiah ever wrote.—Rev. Charles E. Jefferson, D. D.

"A Little Child Shall Lead Them." Isa. 11:6-10.
In this famous passage Isaiah sees the reign of peace, which he had prophesied as existing among men, extended to the animals. He sees the fiercest and most powerful beasts, the lions, leopards, bears and wolves, having lost their fierceness and become gentle, playing with and lying down with the tamest and most defenseless animals, lambs, calves, and kids. He sees the wild beasts so tame that a little child can lead them. Deadly serpents also, such as the asp and the adder, have become harmless. "They shall not hurt nor destroy," and the reason for this beatific condition is that "the earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea."

The Areopagus, Acts 17:22
In his visit to Athens, in the course of his second missionary journey, Paul had a splendid opportunity to declare the unity of the human race, and splendidly did he use it. "And Paul stood in the midst of the Aeropagus. "Aeropagus" means "Mars' Hill." Ares being the Greek name of the Latin Mars, the god of war. "The Aeropagus" is probably here not the hill itself, a summit west of the Acropolis where there was hardly room for a crowd, but the hall of the Aeropagus, the historic council before which Socrates was tried and condemned. "And said, Ye men of Athens, This was the classic opening for an Athenian oration. In all things I perceive that ye are very religious." Paul's hearers would take this as a tactful compliment, for it was a common saying that in Athens there were more gods (statues of the gods) than men. "I found also an altar with this inscription, To an Unknown God. So 'religious' were the Athenians. —In reality, so superstitious—that they could not rest easy after visiting their city with altars to every god they could hear about, in their own nation and every foreign land, but for fear that some god whom they had not heard about might be omitted, they had reared an altar to him. The God that made the world and all things therein." This was the "unknown god" of their altar. We must remember that the address is, of course, greatly condensed. "He being Lord of Heaven and earth dwaineth not in temples made with hands." Doubtless Paul expanded every phrase of these wonderful sentences. He was surrounded by the most marvelous temples ever erected, temples of which the Athenians were indignantly proud. "And he made of one every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth." God made all men of One, that is of Himself, the Universal Father, and he made men with a view to populating the earth, which he had previously fashioned with loving care as a home for men. "For in Him we live, and move and have our being." Whether consciously or not, we are surrounded and upheld by the Divine Being. "For we are also His offspring." From the doctrine of the Fatherhood of God springs logically and immediately the doctrine of the brotherhood of man, which Paul was so forcibly preaching. "Looking at man's moral and religious nature, we find the most striking indications of original sin: fundamental unity pervading the race. In all there is a sense of the distinction between right and wrong; in all there is an emotion of approval of what is judged to be right; and of condemnation of what is counted wrong; in all there is a conscience, which is constantly either accusing or else excusing its possessor in reference to his deeds, and in all there is a sense of obligation, a feeling of responsibility, a reference to a supreme power from whom that obligation proceeds, and to whom that responsibility is due. "The hour cometh, when neither in the mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall we worship the Father." Christ foresaw the coming of a time when the Samaritan temple on Mt. Gerizim, which had been in ruins for a century and a half, and the glorious temple on Mt. Zion in Jerusalem, should be all one, since true worship of the Father does not lie in such externals. "God is a spirit, and they that worship Him must worship in spirit and truth" and not in "temples made with hands." In the days of Ezra and Nehemiah these mountaintop Samaritans had sought to be included with the Jewish people; a proposal which met with strong rebuffs. They resented the affront, built a temple of their own at Gerizim to rival that at Jerusalem; claimed for their mountain a superior holiness to that at Zion, and even deigned the Jewish temple by scattering bones there at the time of the passover. The Jews therefore had no dealings with Samaritans, and held that salvation was only for themselves. But the Lord Jesus brushed all this aside, as a man might a cobweb swinging across a garden pathway. What were these distinctions to Him, so long as those who sought the Father did so in spirit and in truth? The flock was more to Him than the folds, the army than the device on the banner of any single regiment, and so it will be with us, in proportion as we partake of His spirit.—Rev.

F. B. Meyer, D. D. Tennyson: "For I dipt into the future, far as human eye could see, Saw the vision of the world, and all the wonders that would be Tilt the war-drum throbb'd no longer, and the battle flags were furled In the Parliament of man, The Federation of the world."—Tennyson. "Were half the power that fills the world with terror,

Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts, Given to redeem the human mind from error, There were no need of arsenals or forts."—Henry W. Longfellow.

Bridge, Forty-Two Are Diversions For Parties

Eight Women Meet For Organization Of Club In Murfee Home; Mesdames Douglas, Dickinson Are Hostesses

Fall Flowers Make Lovely Settings For Functions; Officers Are Named By New Group

Meeting in the home of Mrs. J. L. Murfee, 1615 17th street, a group of women organized a bridge and forty-two club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Allan Hill was elected president of the organization and Mrs. O. W. Ribble was named secretary and reporter.

Orchid and gold were attractively favored in floral decorations for the entertaining rooms where tables were arranged for games of bridge and forty-two. The colors also were used in appointments for the games. Dainty refreshment plates were passed at tea time.

Two Hostesses For Party

Fall flowers formed a pretty decoration for entertaining rooms in the home of Mrs. Richard L. Douglas, 2123 16th street, Friday afternoon when Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. R. C. Dickinson joined in entertaining a group of friends.

Tints of yellow and green were emphasized in decorations, table appointments and all other details of the party.

Favors in the games went to Mrs. R. D. Erwin for high score, Mrs. Sam Klett for general cut, and Mrs. E. L. Klett for consolation.

The hostesses served a salad course after the game hour.

How to Achieve Beauty

How often have your grandmothers told you about "when I was a girl?" From their word pictures of those early days in this country one gets the impression of hard, rugged women, unconcerned with such light inconsequential things as beauty.

Perfume? Why, perfume was still of course, the period of formation in this country was a difficult one. Our grandmothers and great-grandmothers had none of the marvelous facilities of modern life that transform hours of drudgery into easy, pleasurable hours of housekeeping.

They had to do tasks that would frighten us. However, I never could be made to believe that women in any period of history, in any country, would neglect her appearance or be disinterested in beauty.

Informal games and lively songs furnished a happy hour of entertainment for the group of more than 30 young people, and refreshments of Eskimo pies, pop, corn balls and apples were served later in the evening.

Miss Jean Stedley Jennings was chairman of the committee in charge of the party. She was assisted in entertaining by Misses Rosemary Leaverton and Lois Pitts and Benton Teal.

BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR INDIGESTION

Kentucky Man Tells How He Suffered From Pains In Stomach.

Bronston, Ky.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught thirty-five or forty years, keep it in the house all the time, and would not be without it," says Mr. H. G. Grandstaff, of this place.

"I am 71 years old, and am reasonably stout. I attribute my good health to Black-Draught, as it is about all the medicine I ever take.

"I take Black-Draught mostly for stomach trouble. I think it practically relieved me. I take it when I feel any trouble coming on.

"I used to have pains in my stomach. I would also feel bloated and uncomfortable after meals, and then have a headache and dullness about the eyes. After I found out about Black-Draught, and would take small doses after meals, I was relieved.

"I don't have to take Black-Draught all the time—just occasionally."

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Good for children, men and women, and those of advanced age.

Willie Robinson, serving a life sentence from Williamson county for murder, was paroled. He had been in prison since July 10, 1913. He will be given employment by Mr. H. J. O'Hair of Coleman, sister of Senator Walter Woodward.

L. P. Black, serving one and one-half years for violating the prohibition law, sentenced from Nolan county, received the other general parole.

ONE MAN DROWNS

William G. McAdoo Steers Clear of Politics During Texas Plane Visit

DALLAS, Nov. 8. (P)—A story of the late Captain Bill McDonald, Texas ranger who was called to Washington as a body-guard for Woodrow Wilson during his first presidential campaign was as near as William G. McAdoo, cabinet member during the Wilson administration, would approach "politics" during his visit here.

McAdoo, chairman of the board of an air transportation company, refused to discuss any phase of present day politics.

Talks Of Ranger

"Mentioning politics reminds me of Captain McDonald, one of your former rangers," he said. "When Wilson was making his first race I arrived at the opinion he should have a bodyguard."

"I went to Mr. House and asked him if he knew of a man who could shoot with both hands and could place himself in the background sufficiently to disguise his real duties."

"I know exactly the man," Mr. House said. He immediately sent a wire to McDonald somewhere in the south Texas oil fields. Three hours later a wire was received in Washington which read: "I'm a-coming."

After being with Wilson for some time, the difficulty in Mexico arose and McDonald got the idea that the President wanted Huerta in person. Mr. McAdoo recalled.

Offered To Go

McDonald went to the President and offered to go into Mexico and get Huerta "dead or alive."

Mr. McAdoo said he asked McDonald how many men he would want and whether any of the regular army would be required.

"All I would need would be twenty Texas rangers," McDonald replied. Mr. McAdoo related.

"And I believe he would have brought Huerta out with no more assistance than that," Mr. McAdoo commented.

MURDER WARRANT SERVED

WINFIELD, Kan., Nov. 8 (P)—A first degree murder warrant was served today on Neil Jones of Augusta, in connection with the slayings October 26 of his brother, Carl, and the latter's stepdaughter, Elizabeth Walworth, near Arkansas City. With Harry O. Jones of McCombs, Tex., another brother, and their father, John Pheasant Jones, Augusta, both previously charged with first degree murder, Neil was to be arraigned before an Arkansas City justice of the peace probably this afternoon.

Smashing Offensive Demonstration Is Forecast For Game At Austin; Shelly And Wilson Likely To Hold Spotlight In Encounter

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Nov. 8. (AP)—The Baylor Bears, heavy pre-season favorites to capture the Southwest Conference title, either will take a big step toward their goal or see their hopes blasted when they collide with Texas University's steam roller tomorrow at Austin.

A review of the records of the two teams for the season indicates a victory for the undefeated, unscathed Longhorns, who will play on home soil, but the hope might take a tumble if the Green Bears reach the zenith of their power. They have been pointing to the game for two weeks, while the Steers have been too busy fighting off other stout opposition to stress their bout with Baylor.

Game Means Much
Victory would perch Baylor at the top of the heap, probably alongside the Texas Christian eleven, which is favored to win its second conference start against the Rice Institute Owls at Ft. Worth, Texas, tied by Southern Methodist last week, must defeat the Bruins to remain in the forefront of conference contenders. It is the week's most important bout.

Southern Methodist and the Texas Aggies tie up at College Station in a tilt which promises to be equally spectacular, but in which less will be at stake. The Mustangs will be fighting to remain in the championship race. The Aggies, out of it, will have nothing to distract them from the task of dumping the Ponies into the also-ran class.

The game will mark the opening of the Aggies' remodeled stadium, seating capacity 34,000 souls. That is considered a psychological advantage for the visitors. Few teams are able to dedicate new stadia and win on the same day.

Forkers Hit Cline
Over at Fayetteville in the Ozark Hills, the big Arkansas eleven is preparing to run roughshod over the Central Oklahoma Teachers. The Razorbacks, just coming into their full power, swept over Louisiana State, 29 to 0, last week. It is unfortunate the Forkers do not have another fray with a college team. Seven regulars will be lost by graduation.

Inability of the powerful Longhorns to score on S. M. U. last week boosted Baylor's hopes for victory tomorrow. Operatives reported that the Bears looked great, trouncing Texas Tech—looked like the great outfit their wealth of material indicated they would be. They came out of the Tech tussle without an injury, in fine fettle, while the Steers stood a terrific battering against the Mustangs. Claude Morrison, Baylor will match the brilliant Dexter Shelly with his dynamic little field general, Jake Wilson. Both backfields are well coached and capable. A smashing offensive battle is forecast. There is power to burn on both teams. Baylor has not displayed this potency consistently, but it is there.

Power To Burn
The conference's two outstanding backfields will match their ability before the Memorial stadium throng. Baylor will match the brilliant Dexter Shelly with his dynamic little field general, Jake Wilson. Both backfields are well coached and capable. A smashing offensive battle is forecast. There is power to burn on both teams. Baylor has not displayed this potency consistently, but it is there.

If Coach Francis Schmidt cares to unleash all his dogs, Texas Christian may be expected to run up a sizeable score on Rice. The Frogs' mentor has expressed great respect for the Owls, but it is doubtful his performers will show the same respect tomorrow. The Grubbs-Leland combination insists upon playing its best, which is very good, all the time. Rice held the Frogs to a 7 to 0 verdict last year, a pass from Grubbs to Leland scoring the winning points late in the game. The

Knute Rockne
Probably the most restless man in the whole country today is Knute Rockne, coach of the Notre Dame football team. No coach gets more of a kick out of being with his boys during a battle than South Bend's Rockne, but his leg ailment is confining him to bed and he must lay there for a couple of weeks and try to forget the game, Knute, in traveling to Pittsburgh against his doctors' orders to direct his Ramblers against Carnegie Tech, was thrown for a long loss. How the best he can do is hope to be on deck at Chicago on Nov. 16 when his team meets the University of Southern California in his most important battle.

Wet Field May Slow Up Baylor Tilt With Texas

Fleet Jake Wilson Likely To Be Hampered By Soggy Turf At Stadium; Defensive Battle Certain

AUSTIN, Nov. 8. (AP)—As a slow rain continued late today gridiron followers wondered what effect the heavy field would have on the respective chances of the Baylor Bears and Texas Longhorns in their crucial Southwest Conference clash here tomorrow.

The weather prediction for tomorrow was clear and cold but a slow field was assured even though the sun should do its best tomorrow. The fleet Jake Wilson, Baylor quarterback on whom Texas will train its heavy defense artillery, may be expected to be hampered by the turf but on the other hand, Rees, Beular and Shelly, Longhorn backs, would like to have steady footing for their end runs and off tackle smashes. A battle of defenses appears likely despite the fact that the Waco team has established quite a reputation as a scoring unit.

Coach Clyde Littlefield expected to start his usual lineup, consisting of Rose and Vining, ends, Captain Brown and Emerson tackles, Beatty and Baumgartner guards, Burnett, center, Rees, quarterback, Shelly and Beard, halfbacks, and Beular, fullback. Weaver may start at Beard's post and Elkins perhaps will see service there before the game is over.

Tomorrow will be home-coming for the former students of the University of Texas and the old grads began arriving today.

Class B Classic At Slaton Monday

(Special To The Avalanche)
SLATON, Nov. 8. (AP)—The annual Armistice Day football game between the Slaton High Tigers and the Lamesa High Torpedoes, to be played here Monday, is expected to be a real classic, attracting one of the largest crowds ever assembled for a Class B high school game in this part of Texas. It is predicted here.

Lamesa has completed plans to send a special train to the game, bearing 500 or more fans, while many others will make the trip here in their private automobiles. It has been announced by William A. Wilson, secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce. He said 700 to 1,000 Lamesa people will attend the game.

Both teams are undefeated in their class this season. Both are known to have strong machines. Slaton has won three conference games, beating Brownfield, Paducah and Lamesa. Lamesa has won over Taboka, Carlsbad, N. M., Midland, Levelland and other elevens. Slaton defeated Big Spring, Clovis, N. M., and Plainview before beginning her conference schedule.

The two aggregations have been training hard for Monday's tilt and both teams are expected to be in good trim.

Schreiner 7, Baylor Frosh 0

KERRVILLE, Nov. 8. (AP)—The Schreiner Institute Mountaineers defeated the Baylor freshmen 7 to 0 in a football game here today. The Mountaineers have not been defeated this season.

Every person uses on an average of 12 pounds of soap annually. The frigate bird and the albatross can both sleep on the wing. Christians are much stouter this season, however, and the Owls are weaker. A guess is that Schmidt will be able to conserve his regulars for next week's battle with Texas.

Aggie Tilt Uncertain
The outcome of the Aggie-Mustang tilt has the fans guessing. Neither is a pronounced favorite, except in the eyes of its followers. Southern Methodist will enter the game somewhat handicapped by injuries. Powell, regular center, is out and Mason, versatile back, will not be at his best. He still has not fully recovered from an injury of last week. He will see service, however.

The Aggies are free of injuries for the first time this season and will face the Mustangs at full strength. They were able to take it easy against Stephen F. Austin last week, while the Ponies were being battered about by Texas.

Westerners Work On Coyote Shift

Style Of Play Employed By Wichita Eleven Is Introduced To Lubbock Crew Friday

Members of the Lubbock high school grid squad got their first glimpse of the Wichita Falls style of attack Friday afternoon, with the high school gymnasium turned into a make believe gridiron.

Another afternoon of bad weather kept the Gold and Black crew indoors yesterday and the squad was given a full two-hour signal drill, mixed in with dummy scrimmage against Wichita Falls.

The famous Rockne shift, employed by the Coyote eleven under the direction of Barry Holton, will be seen here next Friday when the Pack invades Lubbock for their battle with the Westerners. This style of play was explained to members of the local team yesterday, Coach Frnka going through the regular shifts of the backfield.

The Wichita mentor, who coached the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame during their freshman year at the Irish institution, is inaugurating this intricate style of play at Wichita Falls. Although the Coyotes were slow in "getting on" to the system, their recent performances indicate the club is gaining its stride.

Friday's signal drill found Yancey Price, the fleet Westerner, working at a halfback position. Price is likely to see considerable ball carrying duty in the slip with the Coyotes. Against the Amarillo Sandies last week, Price showed his heels to the entire field on several occasions.

W. D. Lawson and Moody Smith, a pair of high school backfield stars are confined to the sickroom and are not likely to be in condition for the Wichita encounter.

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8. (AP)—The Texas A. & M. Harriers defeated the Texas University cross country team in a dual meet this afternoon 21 to 38. Shoemaker of the Aggies finished first over the 3.8 mile course in the time of 20 minutes 45 seconds. Perkins won the 5 mile race, taking second and third, while Storm was highest placing man for Texas with fourth.

Recovering After Suffering Of Four Years Standing

Amarillo Woman Gains Daily In Strength—Gives Orgatone Credit

"I wish I could have found Orgatone four years ago," said Mrs. C. H. Matthews, who lives at 613 Jackson St., Amarillo, Texas.

"I have suffered all the pangs of stomach and kidney trouble just that many years," she continued, "and many times I have been in such pain and misery I would sincerely wish for something that would give me relief. I had sharp shooting pains in the small of my back over my kidneys and always felt tired and worn out. In fact, the pains in my back were so severe at times that I could hardly stand it. After eating I would always have a bloating sensation from the gas that would form and frequent attacks of indigestion. I went night after night without a minute's sleep, just had to lie there and suffer.

"I tried everything I could get my hands on, thinking I would get something after a while that would do me some good, but nothing seemed to help me much. I began reading in the papers and I heard a great many people talking about the good Orgatone had done them, and I thought I would try it out myself. Well, sir, it began to overcome my troubles right away. I am practically free from these terrible pains in my back and stomach, and all that bloating from gas is a thing of the past, and in fact all that four years of misery seems to be over. I sleep like a log and am gaining both in weight and strength every day. I can do my own house work now with ease, and just feel good all the time. It sure is great to be in such fine shape after four years of agony. I don't believe there is another medicine in the world equal to Orgatone.

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowers Drug Store.

Bitter Scrap Is Expected Monday

Tech Eleven Determined On Eve Of Tussle With A. C. C. Wildcats; Squad Rounding Into Shape

A determined crew of Matadors emerged from their temporary confinement Friday afternoon and braved a cold, damp wind to take a long signal drill on the slippery Tech gridiron.

With a large number of their squadmembers suffering from severe colds, the Tech mentors were up against the dire necessity yesterday of brushing up the team's offense for the hard battle here Monday against the Abilene Christian College Wildcats in the feature attraction of the Armistice Day program in this city.

The gridsters encountered a rain-soaked field but went through a spirited signal drill under the protection of all available wraps. All regulars who have been out with injuries were on hand for yesterday's practice with the exception of Dennis Vintant, Matador end.

A fast-stepping Wildcat aggregation will invade Tech Field Monday for its annual clash with the Matadors. Last year the cohorts of Bugs Morris made away with the long end of a 7-0 score and the Bull Fighters are out for revenge this season.

Schmidt Not Sure Of Win Over Owls

FORT WORTH, Nov. 8. (AP)—The Horned Frogs of T. C. U. after two recent engagements with non-conference teams will resume their southwest conference campaign Saturday when they take the field here against the Owls of Rice Institute.

Although the Rice Owls have displayed little strength this season, Coach Schmidt will send the most powerful lineup he has on the field with instructions to play their hardest. Frankly, Schmidt isn't any too confident.

"Say what you will about the Owls they made five first downs to eight by Texas and the Longhorns had the breaks to beat them," the Christians coach said tonight. "They always are real tough for T. C. U. Anything can happen Saturday."

Stars to Meet

BOSTON, Nov. 8. (AP)—A scheduled tennis bout between George Godfrey, negro heavyweight, Paul and Jim Byrne, of Boston, was stopped at the end of the seventh round here tonight. Referee Johnny Braxall declared it no contest on the ground that Godfrey was not trying.

Great men live longer than ordinary individuals, statistics show.

As Minnesota meets Iowa at Iowa City today two of the outstanding stars of the Western conference league—they are Bronko Nagurski, Minnesota star fullback top, and Willis Glasgow, Iowa ace halfback.

Smile Makes Chick Evans Favorite of Fairway Fans

By NEA Service
Ask any man who the greatest golfers of today are and they immediately will answer "Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen." But ask those same fans the name of one of the game's greatest drawing cards and favorite personalities and they will reply "Chick Evans."

Chick Evans in his best year in the international pastime achieved an honor that no other golfer has duplicated. In 1918 he won both the National Amateur and National Open championships.

No performer on the fairways ever held his gallery like Chick Evans. Like a great actor or a talented musician he is capable of swaying his following. The thrill of winning strokes he shares with the spectators and when he suffers defeat the sympathy of the gallery goes with Chick.

His greatest appeal to fandom is his smile. Win or lose, Evans always smiles. His has been a colorful career from the time he started as a caddy. The records show that Evans has participated in more exhibition matches than any other golf star. And while the fans of the fairway admire Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen, they love Chick Evans.

Razorbacks Face Fast Game Today

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 8. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks tapered off with a light signal drill this afternoon in preparation for their non-conference clash with Oklahoma Teachers' college of Ada, here tomorrow.

With the exception of Chambers, regular end, the Razorbacks will have their full strength for the clash. The starting lineup which tipped Louisiana State university last week will probably start against the Teachers. Coach Fred C. Thomson said today.

Britain Enters Davis Cup Play

LONDON, Nov. 8. (AP)—Encouraged by its success this year, Great Britain already has challenged for the Davis Cup in 1930 and will compete in the European zone, it was announced today. The British were barely beaten by the Germans in the European zone finale last summer and are among the first to file a formal notice of entry for the next international tennis campaign.

Army Goes West To Meet Illini On Urbana Turf

Harvard Spends Day At Ann Arbor In Clash With Michigan; Kansas-Oklahoma Game Is Feature

BY BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—The roar of the inter-collegiate challenge will be the dominant note in the football clamor tomorrow as the conflict continues along a far-flung battle line.

Army, in the west for the first time since 1926 when the Navy was played at Chicago, is at Urbana to play Illinois, returning champion of the Big Ten.

Harvard at Michigan. Harvard, also making football history by a trip west, sends the day at Ann Arbor, clashing with the University of Michigan.

In addition to the double meeting of east against west, the South tussles a challenge to the east, when Georgia moves into the Yankee Stadium to play New York university. The engagement marking the first appearance of the Bulldogs of Dixie in the metropolis.

The attention of middle west football followers will be diverted only momentarily by the presence of Army and Harvard in their midst. For a game between the home folk will have an important bearing on the conference titles, which apparently is about to be vacated by the Illini. Two strong teams meet face to face when Minnesota and Iowa exchange kicks and passes.

Followers of the game in the Big Six will turn with rapt interest to a game between Oklahoma and Kansas, with the Sooners trying to maintain their record of victory inside their organization.

Utah, moving under continued momentum, in its quest for another Rock Mountain conference championship, must dispose of Colorado college. The contest between the two states of Utah and Colorado grows more interesting as the Aggies meet, too.

Two unanticipated but tied teams of the east are engaged in Boston with Fordham going against Boston college. Dartmouth and Brown, who will not play next season, say farewell for a time after tomorrow's game. Pittsburgh, undefeated and untied, will play Washington and Jefferson. The Panthers taking the contest with the Presidents is deadly earnest.

In the South, Georgia Tech, after a disappointing season marked already by three defeats, will try to Nashville, keyed for a desperate effort to stop the Commodores of Vanderbilt. The undefeated Kentucky team meets a severe test in Alabama.

"The Virginian" At Palace Today Heralded As Best

Gary Cooper, Mary Brian and Walter Huston offer performances in stellar roles of "The Virginian," the Paramount picture selected to open the Palace theatre today, that will do much to place these three at the top of cinema actors.

First as a book, then as a play on the legitimate stage for many years and next as a feature of the silent pictures, "The Virginian" both thrilled and amused millions. However, as an all-talky and all-sound photoplay it surpasses its appeal of all three former vehicles of presentation.

Particularly to folks in this section will this picture appeal, with the marvelous "shots" of ranch scenes, the noisy movement of great herds of cattle on the drive, and the characteristic which made it famous, namely, the law of the old west that compelled strong men of those days to abide by a strict rule of right from wrong and enforced their own laws because there was no other way. The picture is full of comedy, too, and it's quota of superb acting.

QUELL DEMONSTRATION Squad Of Police Arrests Eleven Italians

NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—A riot call, bringing a squad of police reserves speeding to the Italian consulate, was necessary to quell an anti-fascist demonstration by a crowd of several hundred Italians here today. Eleven persons, including two women, were arrested.

Though first reports had it that a pitched battle was in progress, with police having difficulty in dispersing the mob, the police themselves said they had little trouble with the 11 they took into custody.

DELAY OVERRULED Selection Of Jury Starts In Griffin Trial

WAXAHACHIE, Nov. 8. (AP)—After three defense motions, two of them seeking a delay, had been overruled, selection of a jury to hear the trial of Cleve Griffin of El Paso charged with the murder of his father-in-law, D. Grant Swafford, started here today.

When court recessed this afternoon, four jurors had been selected. One of the motions asked for a postponement for time to get a deposition from Major C. R. Haig of Philadelphia, former psychiatrist at a general hospital in El Paso, defense attorneys saying that Griffin was a patient at the institution in 1926. Griffin has been found mentally competent in a sanity hearing.

Youth Is Knocked From Boat, Drowns

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8. (AP)—Knocked from a small boat when he discharged both barrels of his shotgun, John Henry Giddens, 18, was drowned in Medina lake this morning when cramps are believed to have attacked him as he started to swim to the shore. Giddens and his brother-in-law, C. F. Nasch, 33, were in the boat, which was overturned as Giddens fell into the water.

Giddens, an excellent swimmer, started to swim to the shore, a distance of only 200 yards. He had gone almost half the distance when he suddenly cried out in pain and went down.

Nasch clung to the boat until his cries for help brought Alfred Raby to his assistance in a small motor boat.

A party was organized in an attempt to find Giddens' body and five firemen, equipped with grappling hooks, were dispatched to the scene but no trace of the body had been found late today.

PRICES RESTORED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. (AP)—Restoration of the crude oil price in the Seal Beach, Calif., field to the figure before the drastic cut of several weeks ago was announced by the Standard Oil company of California. Restoration of the old price it was announced, was the result of the reduction in production in the Seal Beach field. The price cut in that field averaged about fifty cents a barrel.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.

AT LEAST THEIR EQUAL SENATOR GEORGE MOSES, of New Hampshire, who will be remembered as boss of the Hoover pre-election campaign, has referred to independent Republicans and democrats of the tariff bill coalition as "sons of wild jackasses."

Senator Moses' statement, if he made it, was decidedly uncalculated. There is plenty of important thought to occupy his mind, if he so sees fit to use it in the service of his country. It is needless for him to occupy any of his waking hours in figuring out wise cracks and assinine comparisons.

Senator Moses may nurture the private opinion that the people of the west and the south—as well as their representatives in the Senate—are "sons of wild jackasses," but since in the final analysis he represents the entire nation in legislation, it is poor form for him to say so.

In other words we feel that Mr. Moses, in referring to others as "wild jackasses" has done a fairly competent job of making himself at least their equal.

WHICH APPEALS TO YOU? Every time you speak a good word for your town you speak two for yourself, for the home booster is always respected by home lovers.

It's an easy thing to make a nasty remark about your home town, but it is difficult to stop that remark from traveling after it has once been uttered.

The monkey in the jungle swings from limb to limb and from tree to tree at remarkable speed, but the monkey in a small compared to the caustic remarks and comments of a chronic pessimist.

The pessimist, however, is not as considerate. His happiest moments are when he is slammimg his home town.

Nothing is right. Some of its numerous citizens possess the ability to perform civic duties in the proper manner.

Other persons are unable to see the glaring defects that are so plain to him. He is simply a pessimist, and the work of the pessimist is too often destructive.

He lives in darkness and radiates gloom. But why be a pessimist? Why not an optimist instead?

Pessimism is worse than rheumatism. The one puts a few joints out of proper working order, but the other is a drag to the mind, the body and the soul.

Station yourself on a street corner in a large city and watch the people go by for an hour. Ninety-nine out of a hundred will be happy, and cheerful, and contented. They are optimists unaware. The rays of the noon-day sun are not brighter or warmer than the smiles upon their lips or the humanity in their hearts.

The hundredth man may be different. He may be an old sheep in the flock, the cloud that dims the brightness of the community light. He is a pessimist, and he knows it. His soul is shrouded in gloom from which he never seeks to escape. He is a bore over to himself.

The pessimist is never happy—the optimist is seldom sad. It is possible to be the either but never both. Which appeals to you?

GEOGRAPHICAL VIRTUE Virtue is geographic with President Hoover. From his secret citadel in Washington that which appears to him to be virtuous in the North may strike him as outrageous and sinful in a Southern setting. The situation has a parallel in the saying that morality is largely a matter of latitude.

When certain Florida politicians exerted pressure upon Mr. Hoover to appoint a federal district attorney who did not enjoy his favor, he silenced them with a blistering letter to this effect: "The responsibility of the President is that he shall, to his utmost capacity, appoint men to public office who will execute the laws of the United States with integrity and without fear, favor or political collusion. No lawyer shall public office be regarded as mere political patronage, but as public service."

Noble! But— President Hoover recently overrode the recommendation of his own attorney general in order to appoint General Atterbury's candidate to a federal judgeship, an office much more important than that of district attorney.

Until more recently Herbert Clark Hoover overrode not only the attorney general but the leaders of the Kansas bar, who protested on the ground of the candidate's unfitness, in order to place on the federal bench in Kansas a national officer of the anti-saloon league.

Perhaps it is too much to ask of Mr. Hoover to be North and South with the same stick.

Any girl who goes through college without having her heart broken twice will make a fine teacher.

Gas makes the world go round. The only thing wrong with any country is the people.

What with the yellow and red perils, the lives of the nervous are just one narrow escape after another.

STEWART REVIEWS TRAGEDY IN LIFE OF ALBERT B. FALL

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Al! First thought one hardly appreciates the tragedy in the life story of Albert B. Fall for all it really means.

A poor, stricken old man—ruined and in dishonor on the brink of the grave, after jording it among the mightiest in the land—whom it is impossible not to pity, no matter what he may have done!

This comes readily enough to mind. But there is worse.

Fall takes his place among America's national villains. A historic scoundrel! The first culprit ever found guilty of a felony committed as a member of the cabinet itself! A unique crime.

Children will read about it in their school books after Fall has been dead for generations. The perpetration of an enormity comparable to Benedict Arnold's!

We think of Fall as sitting, in his wheel chair, in the shadow of conviction for bribe-taking, in his high office, because of his sale of vast stores of government oil to Edward L. Doheny, for a bawdy $100,000 payment into his own pocket.

Which is quite true, literally. But for the purposes of the story it is more dramatic to think of him as sitting where he does because of a fight he had with a stranger who crossed his path in the most casual way—but a fateful meeting and a fateful quarrel they proved to be, for Albert B. Fall.

Carl McGee was an Iowa lawyer, who had come to New Mexico for the sake of his consumptive wife's health.

Without a practice in his new environment, and realizing that it would be slow work to build one up, he was looking about for something, with an income in it, to do.

Fall owned a small newspaper, picked up in the course of some business transaction, which, being useless to him, he wanted to sell.

Mutual acquaintances brought the pair together. If Fall could have read the future! he lacked the gift of second sight.

A bargain was made. McGee took over the paper. Having meanwhile had time to look about him, he was not favorably impressed with the savor of New Mexico politics. Folk do say that the state was pretty arbitrarily run then. Thinly populated—and largely by ignorant, easily managed "greasers"—it lent itself naturally to boss rule, perhaps.

McGee thought so, at any rate. He opened a hot fire with his little daily on the dominant group, of which Fall was the king pin.

It may be imagined that Fall did not like this—from the paper he himself had disposed of to McGee, too.

Now, Albert B. Fall for all of his pitiable feebleness today, had a reputation at that period of being an exceedingly dangerous man to defy. He warned McGee and McGee did defy him. Thereupon there seems to be no question that Fall went after McGee's scalp.

The odds at that stage of the game were entirely in Fall's favor.

His political power in New Mexico was almost absolute. McGee was poor and a stranger.

McGee, who comes to Washington occasionally, and came quite frequently when the oil inquiry was in progress has told me that he had serious doubts for his life. Indeed, the campaign did finally lead to a homicide, though it was McGee who killed his man.

Well, McGee has chilled steel nerve. He hung on. The oil scandals "broke," but there was nothing in connection with them at first to imply anything more than a misjudgment on Fall's part, if that, in granting the Teapot Dome lease to Harry Sinclair and Elk Hill to Doheny.

However, one day the news came to McGee that his enemy had shown signs of inexplicable optimism in recent weeks. He started to investigate.

Fall while politically powerful, had notoriously been pinched for funds. Taxes on his ranch had fallen in arrears.

McGee discovered that they had been unexpectedly paid up, in full; that Fall was restocking his range, and making extensive improvements on his property. His suspicions were aroused.

McGee, as a public spirited citizen he would have sounded the alarm in any event; it certainly was not a moment for him to overlook a possible good bet, hard pressed as he was just then in his life and death struggle with Fall.

Hurrying to Washington, he placed his information in the senate oil inquiry committee's hands.

PARATHYROID GLAND IS VITAL TO GOOD PHYSICAL CONDITION

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Situated beside the thyroid gland, with which most people are acquainted, lie two soft, red dish bodies each about the size of a large bean which are known as the parathyroid glands.

When these glands are removed from a person's body, he suffers from a condition called tetany, which includes spasmodic movements, loss of weight, pain and tingling in the hands and feet, cramping of the extremities and similar symptoms. The hair may fall out and the nails may change; there is a thinning of the skin and sweating.

In all of these patients the amount of calcium in the blood is less than normal, so it is true also in the brain. The amount of lime poured out of the body is increased. Furthermore, there are disturbances of the breathing. Evidently, therefore, the removal of these little glands is a serious matter and physicians who remove the thyroid gland for goiter are very careful not to interfere with the parathyroid glands.

Fortunately for those who may suffer with tetany because of difficulties with the parathyroids or because of removal of these glands, modern science has developed a method of treatment which seems to be efficient. The physiologic chemist Collip, who aided Banting in the discovery of insulin, the specific remedy for diabetes, has also isolated an active substance from the parathyroid glands.

When this substance is put into the body, the amount of calcium in the blood increases and the symptoms of tetany improve.

The hand that rocks the cradle seldom rolls the cigarette. The demand for politeness is great, but the supply is short.

Anniversary Notes

PILGRIMS SIGHT LAND On Nov. 9, 1620 the Mayflower Pilgrims sighted Cape Cod, after a hazardous voyage from England.

The Pilgrims numbered about 40 families, 102 persons, and landed at Plymouth, Mass., on Dec. 29.

"They had already made a tavern, known as the Mayflower Tavern, which bound them into a civil state on a religious basis.

They wished to found "a church without a bishop, a state without a king."

In the reaction from the Church of England they laid aside all religious ceremonies, so that for a time marriages and funerals were conducted without religious services, and public ritual was stripped of all semblance of ritual.

Today's Poem

SWEET SUFFOLK OWL Sweet Suffolk to trimly dight with feathers, like a lady bright; Thou singst alone, sitting by night "To whitt! To Whoo!" Thy note that forth so freely rolls With shrill command the mouse controls. And sings a dirge for dying souls, "To whitt! To Whoo!"

QUARANTINE CHANGED

CITRUS CANKER BAN IN Louisiana Modified

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—J. M. Delcortio, state entomologist, today announced a modification of the citrus canker quarantine against Louisiana after a conference with W. F. Anderson, Louisiana entomologist, George B. Terrell, Texas commissioner of agriculture participated in the conference.

Delcortio said the quarantine was modified to permit the entry of oranges which Anderson would certify were free from infestation. This fruit may be shipped to that part of Texas lying roughly north of the Southern Pacific line between Beaumont and El Paso.

The quarantine against citrus nursery stock from Louisiana and the requirement of a bond on sweet shipments from that state were retained.

RESERVE ANNIVERSARY

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 8 (AP)—Bert E. Buckley, former Ohio state treasurer, observed the first anniversary of his re-election by entering the federal penitentiary here to serve a two and one-half year sentence on conviction of conspiracy to bribe a federal prohibition agent.

Quotations Of Real Merit

"If the mother is inefficient or indifferent, which occasionally is the case, either the nurse or the day nursery does the job better, than she herself can do it."—Ruth F. Wadsworth, M. D. (Collier's).

"There are two ways of making yourself stand out from the crowd. One is by having a job so big you can go home before the bell rings if you want to. The other is by having so much to do that you must stay after the others are gone."—Henry Ford.

"Citizens have a right to be heard on legislation, but there must be some discrimination between legitimate representation and criminal and secret lobbying."—Robert S. Allen (The Nation).

"Religious liberty is constantly being challenged by groups who are certain that they possess the truth that they are willing to burn or banish the exponents of error."—Rabbi Lee J. Levinger (American Legion Monthly).

"If parents are to turn over the entire training of their children to school teachers and to abdicate their own just authority and responsibility, we are faced with a situation which to speak mildly, is alarming."—Nicholas Murray Butler, president Columbia University.

Mother Seeking Child's Custody

Seeking custody of her 9-year-old son, George Utah, Mrs. Bera Duckworth has filed a petition in 72nd district court charging that her former husband, W. G. Duckworth, from whom she was divorced several months ago, took the child to Lockney and placed him in a cotton field.

Judge Homer L. Pharr, after issuing a writ of habeas corpus, has given the mother temporary custody of the child until the case is finally disposed of.

AMENDMENT SOUGHT

Would Have Federal Board Assert Authority

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Amendment of the Federal Reserve act to make it mandatory upon the Federal Reserve Board to assert its authority and "to prevent any penalization such disasters in stock gambling operations as have recently disgraced the country" was advocated today by Senator Glass, of Virginia, former democratic secretary of the treasury.

Senator Glass last spring called upon the Federal Reserve Board to dismiss Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City bank of New York, as a member of the board of directors of the New York Federal Reserve bank on grounds he had defied the board in offering call money to the market at a critical time in the market operations.

REVOLT RUMORED

CONSTANZA, Rumania, Nov. 8 (AP)—The newspapers here today published rumors of a peasant revolt against the soviet government in Southern Russia. Serious fighting between peasants and the red army was said to be in progress in Batum and Bevasopol.

The Avenging Parrot

617 Argo Austin, author of The B.C. Pigout, Rival Waver Co. Service, Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED BONNIE DUNDEE, nephew of O'BRIEN, gets a job as "cub" detective under LIEUTENANT JOHN STRAWN of the homicide squad of Hamilton. While Dundee is in O'Brien's office, a letter arrives signed by MRS. EMMA HOGARTH asking for police protection, saying her money and life are in danger. She places special emphasis on EMIL SEVIER, a former boarder in the Rhodes boarding house where she lives.

O'Brien and Strawn call her a "nut" but Dundee asks permission to take the case. He rents a room in the Rhodes boarding house where Mrs. Hogarth rooms. His room is on the third floor, as are the rooms of JEWEL BRIGGS, public stenographer, away for the week-end; DAISY SHEPHERD, saleswoman in a local store; and TILLY, the Rhodes boarding house. Dundee is introduced to the other boarders: MR. and MRS. SHARP, CORA BARKER, pianist in a local theatre; WALTER STYLES, proprietor of a men's haberdashery; NORMA PAIGE, his pretty fiancée; BERT MAGNUS, a bookkeeper and amateur scenario writer; and DOWD, middle-aged and nondescript.

Dundee, impressed by the friendliness of these ordinary people, is beginning to believe Mrs. Hogarth's "suppliants" are ill-founded when a strangely horrible cry rings out: "Help! Murder! Police!" Rings out DUSTY RHODES, worthless husband of Mrs. Rhodes, assures the boarders the cry came from CAPN Mrs. Hogarth's parrot. Dundee is told of Mrs. Hogarth's misfortunes, how she is room-bound because of her heart trouble, and of her constant changing of her will to name a new favorite. Norma, her latest belle, who fears she will lose out because of her engagement to Styles, agrees to introduce Dundee to her parrot, when Magnus says he would like to meet her too. Cora, who is in love with him, pleads with him to defer his visit. Bonnie is able to get a few private words with Mrs. Hogarth on account of her many callers. When he leaves, Norma and Styles go to her door. Dundee tells Mrs. Hogarth what he has seen. Returning from police headquarters at 12:30 Dundee goes back to the old lady's room and finds her door unlocked and that she has been checked to death by a black scarf used to cover the cage of CAPN, her parrot. Coroner and fingerprint expert arrive, and the investigation begins.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY "Of course the first thing you're interested in is how long she's been dead." Dr. Price, the coroner, said to Lieutenant Strawn. "It's pretty obvious she was strangled. No wound I suppose—and he bent over the body of Mrs. Hogarth.

"No sign of one." Lieutenant Strawn answered. "I'd like you to meet Mr. Dundee Doctor. He's a new member of the homicide squad. Joined the force today and came here to board."

"Lucky to have him on the scene" See AVENGING PARROT Page 9

Dundee turned his back while the coroner made further examination of the body. He was thinking of how very much alive the poor woman had been two hours ago, and he raged against himself for having let this thing happen to her. She had been so zealous of life, though she had almost lost the use of her great body. What if she had been erratic, a miser, "mischievous" as Daisy Shepherd had expressed it? What if she had created enemies by changing her will so often, and had aroused the passion of greed in her fellow-boarders by keeping her money in her room? She had committed no crime, she had meant to reward kindness.

And that thought brought Bonnie Dundee crashing against a realization he had been keeping all day since he had said so glibly: "Of my own knowledge, death took place between 10:45 and 12:10." The person who would benefit most by Mrs. Hogarth's death provided she had not been robbed by Norma Paige and Norma Paige and Walter Styles had been running to call upon Mrs. Hogarth at 10 minutes of 11.

Unconsciously Dundee had been watching the swift efficient work of the fingerprint expert directed by Lieutenant Strawn. Now Dr. Price's voice cut into his thoughts and fears.

"Well, Strawn, as near as I can tell you now she's been dead about an hour. Let's see—" It was now 12:30. I figure that death took place between 11:45 and 12:10 of course, it might have been a bit earlier—say 11:30—but I think not, judging from the—"

Dundee spun on his heel and clasped his hands to his ears. He was still too new at this sort of thing to endure a recital of the hours and fears.

The Santa Fe has announced that it connects with the main line of the Texas and Pacific.

The South Plains and Santa Fe extension is to run from Seagraves, Texas, to Lovington, westward for 56 miles, with trackage running from this straight line at a point 12 miles west of the Texas-New Mexico boundary.

R. G. Wagner, assistant engineer for the Texas and Pacific railway, has estimated that the cost for extension of the T. & N. M. into New Mexico would be $1,825,000 or about $26,761 per mile.

To spend $2,700,000 the Santa Fe has announced that it expects to spend about $2,700,000 in constructing its extension and that it will operate the extension as a part of its present Panhandle and Santa Fe system.

Lubbock's argument, which will be presented by Mr. Reed, will be that the T. & N. M. is to operate as a separate organization from the Texas and Pacific railway company and that this fact will not insure the territory certain operation of the line should revenue fall off and make the road dependent upon other than its own income for sustenance.

livestock conditions and the women's division in which nutrition subjects were outstanding.

Champion Movement Mr. Briggs in his discussion of farm interests of the state, strongly championed the recent breeder-feeder movement, in which the breeder and the feeder have been brought into closer contact, working in cooperation to the best interests of each other.

"No agricultural activity can be a success without livestock. Texas has both of these—many sections of range land while thousands of acres have been given up to active interest was taken only recently," he said.

"Diversification is the idea. More cotton on fewer acres" with food crops given their share of attention, Texas will not be given back its fertility, in order to do this we must educate our farmers and sell them on the idea of diversification.

Cotton Fluctuates; Market Slows Up

Government Crop Report Cause Of "Bullish" Buying

Heavy Short Selling Into Market Session As Soon As Estimate Is Issued; Offerings Absorbed

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8. (AP)—Cotton prices fluctuated widely today due to buying on the government's bullish construed crop report and heavy short selling which entered the market soon after the official figures were issued.

January contracts after advancing to 17.45, eased to 17.17 but rallied to 17.45 and closed one point under the latter figure for a net gain of 28 points. The general market closed steady at net advance of 24 to 23 points.

Cables Steady Liverpool cables were relatively steady and the market here opened higher in response. First trades showed gains of 14 to 20 points and the market continued to advance after the start under a demand stimulated by the unfavorable weather in the belt. Just before trading was suspended for reception of the government report December traded around 17.25, January 17.28 and March 17.67 or 19 to 22 points net up.

By Associated Press NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—New York Stock irregular, profit-taking depresses leaders in quiet trading. Bonds irregular; high grade rails ease.

Foreign exchanges steady; Canadian dollar rallies 3-8 of a cent. Cotton higher—firm cables and covering. Sugar steady; trade buying. Coffee higher; Brazilian support.

Chicago—Wheat easy; poor export demand. Corn easy; bearish weather forecast. Cattle steady. Hogs active and higher.

By Associated Press CHICAGO, Nov. 8. (AP)—Shaken by 5 1-2c a bushel breakdown of the rye market here and with Liverpool wheat showing unexpected weakness, Chicago wheat suffered sharp setbacks today.

Rye tumbled because of evidence that likelihood of United States export business in rye this season has vanished. Announcement of additional loans of government funds to domestic wheat growers failed to act as a counterbalance.

Closing Nervous Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous at 2 3-8 to 3c a bushel under yesterday's finish. Rye closed at 3 1-2 to 3 7-8 net decline, corn 3-4 to 1 1-8c down, oats 3-8 to 7-8c, and provisions varying from 7c to 1c up.

Liverpool wheat instead of reflecting yesterday's advance in prices on this side of the Atlantic showed an unlooked for drop. Reports here indicated continued large arrivals of wheat at Liverpool, and that demand abroad was poor. Detailed statements were circulated that even should the United States wheat visible supply total next to be grown now and May 1 next a shrinkage equaling the largest witnessed in ten years, the supply remaining on May 1 would be 140,000,000 bushels, an unprecedented big total comparing with a ten year average of 47,000,000 bushels.

By Associated Press NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—Cotton showed a good deal of irregularity today with early advances followed by sharp reactions after which prices firmed up again on covering and trade buying. After selling up to 17.53 after the government report January declined to 17.24, making a net decline of 4 points and closed at 17.45 compared with 17.28 at the close of Thursday.

The general market closed steady at net advance of 24 to 23 points. The market opened steady at an advance of 18 to 27 points on further covering in preparation for the government crop report and some buying promoted by relatively steady cables and unfavorable feature in the weather outlook. This advance met considerable southern selling and realizing but the offerings were absorbed on comparatively slight setbacks and the market was selling within a point or two of the opening prices when business was suspended to receive the government report.

Search Continues For Bank Robbers

JEFFERSON, Wis., Nov. 8. (AP)—A $122,000 bank robbery committed yesterday by five men was successful in spite of a burglar alarm system. William S. Klipert, assistant cashier of the Farmers and Merchants National bank said today. The alarm rang 4 1/2 it was intended to do but no one, not even the robbers paid any attention to it.

Police continued search for the quintet but were without tangible clues. In explanation of the failure of police and citizens to interfere with the robbery even though the alarm was ringing, Klipert said the alarm was sounded although every week for "test purposes" and that another bank across the street sounded a long every day at 3 p. m. when the bank closes.

Trading Slows Up To Normal After Furore Is Ended

Price Trends Diverse And Confusing Although Mart Gives Good Account Of Self Against Selling

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Writer. NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—Once more the furore in the stock market appeared ended today, as trading slowed up to a normal rate. Price trends were diverse and confusing, but in general the market gave a good account of itself, in the face of considerable profit taking and pre-holiday selling.

Yesterday's rally carried into today's early trading after the first hour leading shares generally began to sag, and the closing quotations presented a fairly even disarray of net gains and losses running to about 10 points, although fluctuations were wider in a few specialties.

Prices Steady Generally steady prices on the slaughter cattle trade at most centers as cleanup affair. Country demand for replacement stock narrow. The supply of stock calves this week at Kansas City was the largest of the season prices slipped 50c to 1.00. Aggregate receipts 12,800 or about the same as a week ago and year ago.

Colorado, Snyder Lions Clubs Will Meet On Gridiron

Unique Football Game Is Promised Armistice Day; Clash Will Last For 15 Minutes Between Halves

(Special To The Avalanche) SNYDER, Nov. 8.—When the Snyder Lions and the Colorado Lions tangle on the football gridiron at Colorado Armistice Day, one of the most unique football games ever to be played in this section will be witnessed. The Snyder club is accepting the challenge of the other city for a fifteen minute battle between halves of the Snyder-Colo-rado High school game at Cantrill field.

B. E. Peek and Secretary Jimmy Green of the Colorado club, were here Wednesday and buried the defiant challenge to the local horde who readily grabbed at the idea of battling their Mitchell county brethren.

Veterans Work Out Supt. C. Wedgeworth of the local schools, who is also president of the Lions club, has a squad of 25 veterans now working out daily at the Tiger stadium with a line that averages 268 pounds and a back-field made up of Com Esell, full-back, old A. & M. star, who weighs 280 pounds straddled; Chubby Ritzenthaler, right half, who won his spurs at Missouri university, weighing 206 pounds, and Hugh Taylor, Simmons, weighing 256 pounds.

According to weight figures made available by Coach "Red" Moore, who is getting the local Lions in condition, the Snyder team now totals nearly three and one-half tons. The boys are to weigh in previous to the game and the Lion who sheds the most avoirdupois during the battle is to be presented with a fur-lined bath tub.

A. W. S. ELECTION DATE SET

Another election will be held Thursday and Friday of the coming week for the purpose of electing officers of the association of Women Students, according to members of the council of the organization. The first election was held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, but all votes cast on those days were thrown out, due to an irregularity in holding the election. Neil Goodloe and Lizzie Belle Clements are candidates for president; Lois Cooper and Flora Goforth for vice-president, and Marjorie Ann Ainsworth, Mildred Hinds and Helen Coon for recorder.

RELIGIOUS LECTURE DATE CHANGED

A third religious lecture, one of the series which has been given on the first Sunday every month, will be given November 24, according to Dr. J. C. Granbery, head of the department of history. The reason for the change in date is that so many people will be out of the city to attend the State Teachers association at Dallas. The lecture was to have been given December 1.

Dr. Allan Carter, head of the department of English at Tech will lecture on "Poetry and Religion" in the auditorium of the Chemistry building.

ROY PRYOR, JOHNNY COOK, JAMES DALLAS, TRUST BROOKS, R. V. WILLIS, MURRAY BALLINGER AND FOSTER DAVIS. LONNIE LANGSTON IS FACULTY SPONSOR.

Meetings are held every two weeks. The club will present its pledges at a dance to be held November 22.

COLLEGE REVUE

In the halls yesterday was observed: Buddy Brothers carrying an arm load of books and a shaker to third floor of the Ad building; Zona Stiles asking Donna Vaughn to please take her home after class; Frances Ford going to work in the registrars office; Bill Sewell making a 1 o'clock class; Alma Ralls not wasting any time in making an afternoon class herself; Lonnie Langston excitedly telling about what happened when he went down Broadway in his car and almost had a bad wreck; every one fussing about the disagreeable weather.

SALES FALL OFF

Total sales were 3,214,650, or less than half of the 7,184,060 yesterday. Total sales on the curb were 1,274,100 as against 2,380,100 yesterday. Both tickers kept within half an hour of the market throughout the session.

For the first time since the disastrous break of October 24, the market appeared on its own feet without the artificial support of banking interests. Some of the late selling today was attributed to the liquidation of support stock and profit taking by traders who bought stocks "for a turn" on the recent breaks. Prices on both the New York Stock Exchange and New York curb held well above the low points established in the sharp opening decline yesterday.

Trading In Stock Market Is Normal As Crisis Passes

Accumulation Of Work From Recent Big Sessions To Be Taken Up In Abbreviated Schedule

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL

Associated Press Financial Editor NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—Trading in stocks returned to an almost normal basis today but the accumulation of work from recent big markets was still so great that governors of both the New York Stock Exchange and the New York curb voted to continue the abbreviated trading schedule next week. The hours of trading will be 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., from Monday to Friday with the exchange closed Saturday. Stock prices rallied briskly at the opening today but most of the early gains, which began at 8:30 a. m. a share in the active issues, and much higher in a few specialties, were lost, and prices generally closed lower, with the losses on the stock exchange running from a few cents to $2 a share.

Prices on both the New York Stock Exchange and New York curb held well above the low points established in the sharp opening decline yesterday.

STRENGTHEN POSITION

Recent drastic liquidation, reflected in the drop of nearly $2-000,000,000 in brokers' borrowings reported by the federal reserve bank Oct. 2, has strengthened the financial position of most of the large brokerage houses, although thousands of accounts have been cleared out.

No meetings of the New York banking group, organized to stabilize the market when it was threatened with disaster a few weeks ago, have been held this week. Exchanges will be closed tomorrow.

OPENS UNCHANGED

U. S. steel common opened unchanged at $17.50 a share, advanced to $17.75 dropped to $17.50 and closed at $17.17, off $3.50 a share net. General electric dropped from an early high of $225 to $212.50 and rebounded to $215, off $5. American Can fell from $122 to $113.25 and rallied to $115.25, off $4.75. Similar fluctuations took place in most of the other leaders.

SOME OF THE MOST ACTIVE ISSUES ON THE NEW YORK CURB EXCHANGE, SUCH AS AMERICAN SUPERPOWER, CITIES SERVICE, AND NIAGARA & HUDSON POWER, CLOSED WITH NET GAINS RANGING FROM A FEW CENTS TO $1 A SHARE, BUT THE GENERAL LIST WAS DECIDEDLY IRREGULAR.

Injunction Over Bridge Opposed

Assistant Attorney General Going To National Capital In Opposition To Change In Tolls

AUSTIN, Nov. 8. (AP)—Assistant Attorney General R. M. Tilley will go to Washington, where he will join the attorney general of Oklahoma, in opposing an injunction sought in the supreme court of the District of Columbia to restrain Secretary of War Good from enforcing an order against the Red River Bridge company directing the reduction of tolls from $1 to 50 cents for the bridge across the stream between Denison, Texas, and Durant, Oklahoma.

Set November 29 The case will come up November 29. Secretary Good ordered the toll charges reduced upon application of Texas and Oklahoma authorities several months ago and the bridge company immediately sought to enjoin him from carrying the order into effect.

Because of Tilley's absence from the state, the trial of C. D. Neff, charged with criminal libel, at Dallas, will be postponed, he announced. Tilley is a witness against Neff, who is charged with having libeled state officials in circulars he issued bearing on administration of the blue sky law.
