

Sunshine Ordered By Area Farmers

Most farmers in the area were glad to see the rainfall and will be just as glad to see the sunshine when it decides to make an appearance once more.

Checking with the farmers Wednesday night, the Enterprise was told that rains had ranged from two to over three inches of rain in most areas, with only a very few reporting any hail damage.

Doyle Pinson, who farms south of Circle, said his crops "look fine, but need sunshine and cultivation as soon as possible."

His place south of Springlake was hailed out completely two weeks ago, but the home place was spared.

Southeast of Olton, Duane Eby said he had "had plenty of rain -- about three and a quarter inches -- I would now like at least three weeks sunshine."

"The cotton needs it badly. The maize looks fine but I need to stir the ground to make it really grow."

Eby has a small acreage in wheat which he reported was doing fine.

Just beyond his place near Cotton Center, farms have been heavily damaged by hail.

Amos Walden, southeast and west of Olton, said his crops are fine. "Corn and castor beans look good, but the later cotton seems better this year than older. All will be alright with sunshine."

East and southeast of Olton, George Redinger said "weather wise, we've had a little too much rain." He reported about three inches all totaled. And stated that he would "like about a month of good sunshine."

Redinger has some cotton which has suffered this past week from cool weather, he said. His wheat is about ready for harvest but it will likely "be a week or ten days before it's dry enough to get into." He said other crops looked fine.

A farmer who is also east and southeast of town, Royce McFadden, commented that he was "real happy with the rain". He reported about two and a half inches. He said he thought his crops were doing fine except his cotton on the north place which was apparently damaged badly with electricity.

He also agreed that he needed sunshine.

Northwest of town, W. E. Miller, who said they had had over three inches of rain, said feed and soybeans looked fine, but cotton the past few days had begun to look sick. "Some infestation might be causing it, I'm just not sure what it is. I hope to begin working it tomorrow if at all possible. We need sunshine."

J. L. Snider, south of town, had a little hail on one place, but feels fortunate so far. He said he had "no complaints, we're real proud of our crops we have and feel real good about them. All we need is lots of good hot sunshine."

Hollis Cain, west of Olton, was hailed out several days ago and has just begun to replant. He said it was still very wet for this operation and seems very slow. He is replanting in soybeans.

DeVurn Mandrell, north of Running Water Draw said they had had over two inches of rain and crops were fair. He too said he needed sunshine.

Clouds covered the skies all day Wednesday and as this report was being readied for publication, threatening weather was again being forecast.

However, farmers who have lived on the South Plains, have long since learned that the weather is one of the most unpredictable things in life and are looking forward to sunny days in the very near future!

First Aerial Spraying Set For Mosquito Control In City

War has been declared on the mosquitos in the city and the first attack against them by air has been set June 23, according to Berniece Smith, city secretary.

Permission was granted by the city council at the last regular meeting to secure an aerial sprayer service to spray the city for mosquitos and plans have been made for the first of a series of air attacks by "Mosquito Control of the Southwest", who will spray the city Monday, June 23 at 6 a. m.

The area to be sprayed includes the whole town section, plus 300 foot on all sides; 80 acres, including the Turner addition, city dump and city lake; and a 500 foot spread along Highway 70 in the Hillcrest and Smith-Fite addition. Residents in the Hillcrest and Smith-Fite addition approached city officials and agreed to pay for the spraying in their area.

If weather is such as to prohibit the spraying June 23, a date will be announced in next week's issue of The Enterprise.

Mr. Grady, representative of the mosquito control service, said that it took about three days to get a good kill. He cautioned residents not to think that all mosquitos would disappear as soon as the planes had flown over the town.

"It takes about three hours for the chemical to hit the ground," he said.

Cost of the service will be 35 cents per acre plus a $24 ferry fee to fly from Plainview.

Grady said that the chemical used in the spraying operation was harmless to humans and that it would not damage houses or automobiles or the like. However, he said should a big drop get on your auto to wash it off with water before it had time to dry to prevent possible discoloration.

Interested families should contact Mrs. Roberson or Earl Spruiell, president of AFS and make application as soon as possible.

Area's First Load Of Wheat Cut And Delivered Thursday

Olton's first load of wheat was brought into the High Plains Elevator, Thursday, June 12 at approximately 4 p. m.

Cut from a 10 acre patch of dryland wheat on the Whitaker farm just east of the Olton Co-Op Gin, the Tascosa variety load of wheat weighed 11,260 pounds and tested 13.

Everett McBroom, who farms the land, and was the farmer with the first load of wheat in the area to get to the elevator was paid a premium price by Garland DePrang, owner and manager of the elevator.

The wheat was sowed about the first of Sept, and McBroom said he used no fertilizer.

It made about 20 bushels per acre. He said the wheat was grazed until March 15.

LIONS SWEETHEART -- Myrtle Givens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Y. Givens, will serve as Lions Club Sweetheart for the next year. Miss Givens began her year as sweetheart at the Tuesday meeting of the Lions. Kathline Carson served as the queen last term.

Barry Cowart Speaks To Lions, Tells Of Trip To Boys State

Guest speaker at the noon Lions Club meeting Tuesday was Barry Cowart, whom the Lions sponsored for a trip to Austin to attend Boys State Meeting.

Barry said he left for Austin at 7 a. m. Saturday and arrived there at 5 p. m. Orientation was held the first night.

Beginning the next morning at 5 a. m., calisthenics were the first order of the day and breakfast was served before the delegates went into a four-hour general convention.

Dinner was served and then a four-hour recreation period was provided. Football, baseball, tennis and swimming were among the sports. Barry said he chose football.

"It was supposed to be touch football, but it got kinda rough. One boy got his jaw broken," Barry laughingly commented.

Following supper, another four hour convention was held. "At 10:30 we finally got to bed," Barry lamented, "It was about time!"

He explained the method of discipline when it came to getting the boys to sleep.

"They would make those who kept making noise, get up at 2 a. m. the next morning. This was very effective."

Sunday, the boys attended church services. Activities for the day required that they divide into two parties. They held precinct conventions, county conventions and state party conventions to elect the Chairman and the Whip.

Monday, each boy was required to file for an office. State Party conventions were held that day.

Tuesday, Gov. Preston Smith led the delegates in calisthenics. The business of the day consisted of state party conventions for the election of Governor, Lt. Governor and Attorney General.

Tuesday night at general assembly, Waggoner Carr spoke to the group, encouraging the youth to get out and move against radical groups instead of "fiddling while America burns."

Primary run-offs were held at the assembly.

The first meeting of the House and Senate were held Wednesday, followed by the state party conventions.

"A general assembly was held for minor offices and that night a general assembly was held for major offices," Barry told the Lions. "I ran for the senate but got to be city commissioner."

Thursday, the delegates took oath of office and had inaugural ceremonies.

"We talked to a group of SDS members who were also on the campus and if they are as disorganized everywhere as the bunch down there was, we don't have anything to worry about," Barry commented.

Friday, the group toured the state capitol and Barry said he chose the agriculture department to look at while he was there.

The governor's ball was the highlight of the evening.

General assembly Saturday for a closing program was held and the boys went their separate ways, so much the wiser as to how the government operates, having learned by doing.

OLTON'S FIRST LOAD OF WHEAT --- Golden grains of wheat are flowing into the High Plains Elevator from a truck load which was brought into the elevator by Everett McBroom Thursday. The dryland wheat was cut from a ten acre patch which was grazed until the middle of March. It made about 20 bushels to the acre, according to McBroom.

Dear Editor

No Railroad?

Dear Editor,

The more I think about it - the more I want to set the record straight about Olton not getting a railroad years ago.

It has been said or implied that the old timers did not want nor did they try to get a railroad.

There are a few around still who can tell you they did work, spending time and money trying to get one. Committees met with railroad representatives and right-of-way was granted.

Now, don't say they did not have the "know how". These were smart and educated men.

Not want a railroad? These men were trail-blazers. Some had helped survey other railroads. Highways were being mapped and constructed - the hard way.

Not need a rail line?

The country was building and these folks had known a desperate need. Mail had been delivered by "mail-hack". Many still remembered having to go to Hale Center for the mail.

When cream was the "living" - the "mail-hack" hauled large cans of it to Plainview where it was shipped by rail to Trinidad, Colo.

Lumber, post, wire, coal and all supplies were being freighted from the nearest rail-line. Grain hauled by wagon to market was a two-day trip. - Rain, shine, snow or hail they hauled.

A few years later, crops harvested were being delivered to Plainview and other rail lines in Model T trucks over unpaved roads, bringing back coal and building materials. Merchants had to go to a rail line at 2 a. m. to get supplies for the coming day.

Some had fought through a blizzard in a Model T to get to a doctor when time meant life or death.

Not need or want a railroad?

As slang would say - "Man you're crazy". How stupid do you think they were?

If a past editor had not destroyed all old editions of The Enterprise, we could see some of the efforts made for a railroad.

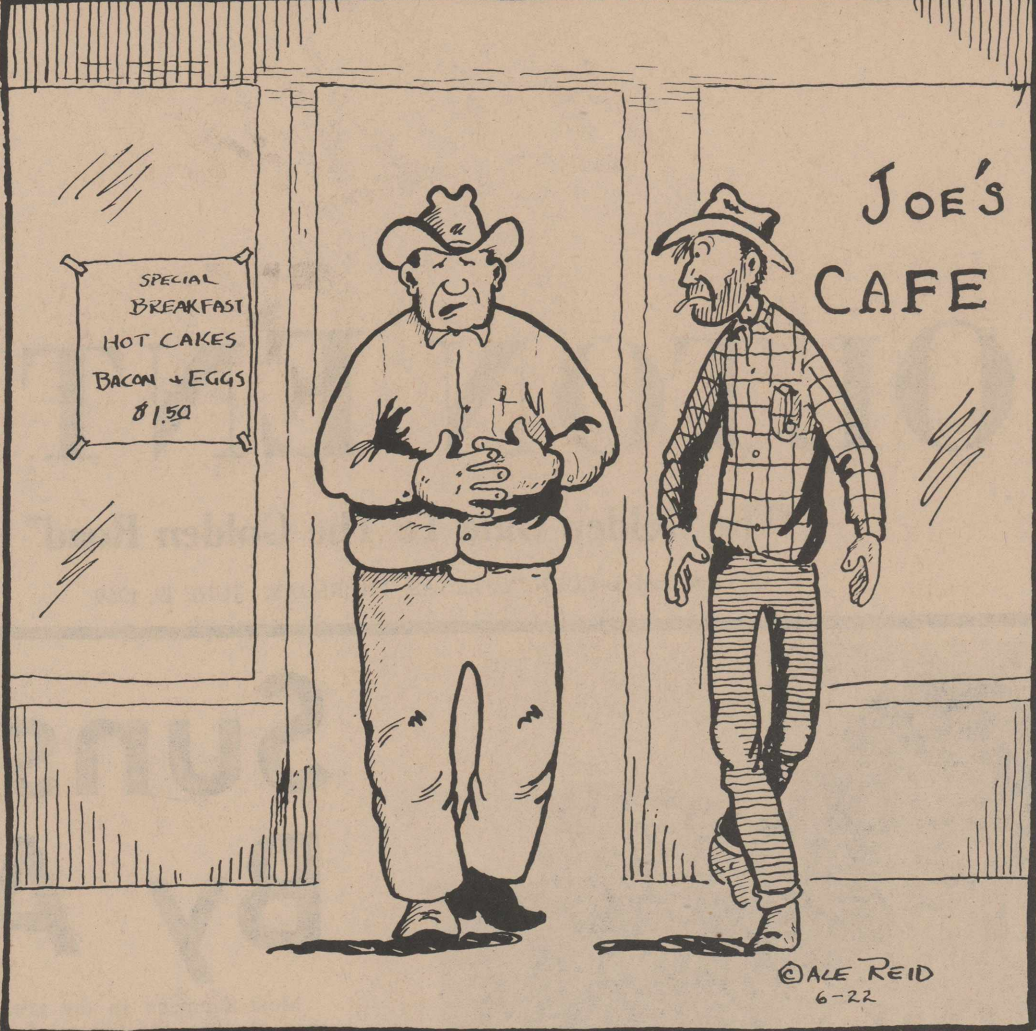

I say hats off to the past! - and coats off to the future coats off and sleeves rolled up!

Do not let it be said of the past or of the future - "They did not try."

Yours For A Better Olton

Sue's Views

KIDS!!

BY SUE CANNON

How many of you mothers are ready for the teachers to take your darlings back --- already?

I've heard several mothers voice their dismay, saying that they can't keep their children busy and absolutely no way to keep them filled up!

I vouch for that! Mine are pure appetite! NOTHING ELSE!

And I don't know about the rest of you, but my children are dissatisfied just to stay home and do house work and work in the yard and garden. That's no blast!

(But it's gonna be -- if they don't get with it!)

In going through the exchange papers that we receive here I ran across this short little paragraph written by the chief of police at Manassas Park, Va. I'd like to share it with you.

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenagers: 'What can we do? Where can we go?'"

The answer is: GO HOME."

"Hang the storm windows. Paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Shovel the walk. Wash the car. Learn to cook. Scrub some floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job. Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And then when you are through -- and not tired -- read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreation facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it to your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again."

"In plain, simple words: Grow up; quit being a crybaby, get out of your dream world... start acting like a man or a lady."

Like I said, my children all have chores to do, but like all human beings, they kinda let things go as long as they think they can. You know... "never do today what you can put off 'til tomorrow."

Well, the other day at noon, I went home to eat lunch and my two little boys had been "rickadood" into washing and drying the dishes.

Which was fine by me... they know how and can do it when they really want to. But this must have been one of Scottie's more playful days, because he was trying to mix business with pleasure.

He had a water pistol, squirting water on the dishes that were in the drainer!

He answered my inevitable question of "What in the world do you think you're doing?" with "rinsing the dishes, MOM!" like "how COULD you ask?"

Oh, well!!!

Texas Safety Association Commends Newspapers

Texas newspapers were lauded today by an official of the Texas Safety Association for their support of the recently-passed "breath test" legislation designed to help remove drunk drivers from the streets and highways of the Lone Star State.

"The newspapers of Texas are to be commended for their all-out efforts to awaken the public to the drunk driver problem in our state," Robert F. Miller, Dallas, Vice President for Traffic Safety, Texas Safety Association, said and added: "Without the public support generated by the news media, passage of this greatly-needed legislation would have been extremely difficult, if not impossible."

He pointed out that drunk driver legislation had a history of being an unpopular issue in the state and that several previous attempts to enact similar remedial legislation had failed.

"In spite of this unfavorable climate, the editors and publishers of Texas rallied to the cause and gave their full support to the effort," Mr. Miller continued. "Their basic presentation of the facts to the public was objective and fair and their editorial support outstanding. They came to the rescue during several crucial test periods of the legislation by keeping the public informed on its progress."

"Texans should be proud of the part that our newspapers have played in promoting this legislation. We are indebted to them for the saving of many lives each year."

The Safety Association official, who was in Austin this week for the signing of the "breath test" bill, also commended the Governor and Texas legislators for their response to "The needs of the driving public."

Texas' new "breath test" legislation was a part of Governor Smith's official program and provides for testing of traffic violators who are suspected of driving while intoxicated on the state's streets and highways.

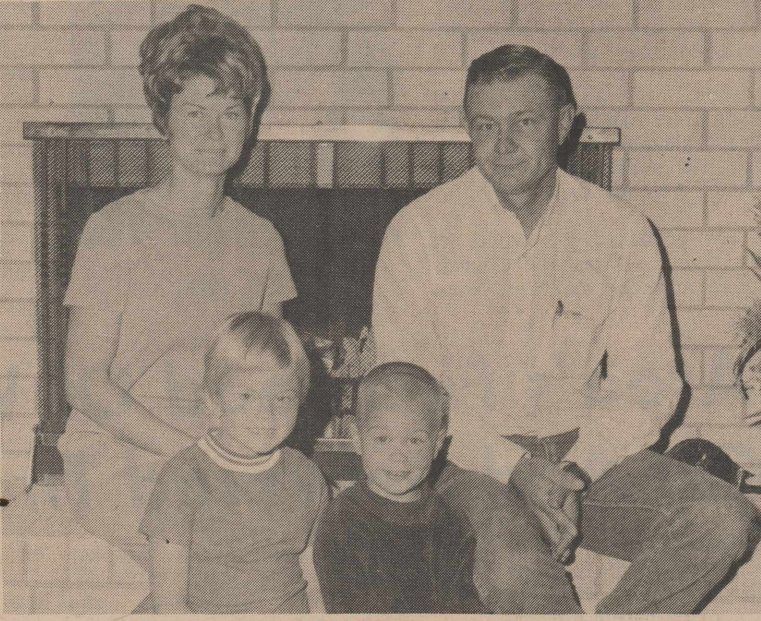

The Texas Safety Association, which endorsed the "breath test" legislation, estimates that as many as 500 lives a year may be saved by removal of drunk drivers from the public roads in Texas.

HART CAMP HAPPENINGS

MRS. EDWIN OLIVER
Ph. 262-4242 FIELDTON

Most of the Hart Camp farmers suffered some hail and water damage to their crops Friday morning and night. Rainfall measured from two inches to five inches. Several farmers had crops in the Spade area where the crops were totally destroyed Friday evening.

Thieves broke into the Jesse Spencer home last Wednesday night and took a record player, quilts, sheets and towels. The house was locked but the back door was broken into. The Spencer family almost caught the thieves in the act of stealing when they returned from Olton unexpectedly. The car drove out and met them without dimming their lights so the Spencers couldn't see the car model. Just the day before the theft, Mrs. Spencer's billfold was taken from her purse while she was at work at Knight's Rest Home in Littlefield. The billfold contained twenty dollars, drivers license, credit cards and important papers. She reported that last week just was not their week.

Father's Day dinner guests in the O. J. Neeley home were Neeley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Neeley Sr. of the Spade community.

Mrs. Wheeler's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Hughes of Center burned her hand and arm seriously while they were there when a bucket lid slipped as she was attempting to put it on a bucket of hot grease. Her hand and arm went into the hot grease burning them badly. A 14 year old niece got her hand caught in a motor chain belt and had 30 stitches taken. Mrs. Wheeler said most of their time was spent visiting the sick and injured. Enroute home they came by Houston and picked up Mrs. Wheeler's sisters, Mrs. Pearl Hooks and Lena Wheeler who will spend a few days in the Wheeler home.

Sullivan and H. V. Lynch. Plans were discussed to attend the Prayer Retreat at Plains Baptist Assembly June 24. Dis-

Babe

Ruth

Parsons Funeral Home cut short a seventh inning rally by Earth Thursday night to win 5 to 4 in Babe Ruth play.

Earth jumped to an early lead in the top of the first on singles by Larry Thomas, Hoyt Glasscock and Brian Sanderson to score two runs. Parsons picked up one when Steve Stockdale was safe on an error and scored on a single by Tim Givens.

Parsons took the lead in the second when Eddie Nelson walked, Alan Carson singled and Nelson scored when an error put Stockdale on first. Givens rapped his second single, scoring Carson.

In the sixth, Parsons picked up two more runs on a walk to Joe Snider, who later scored on a third hit by Givens. Luis Jimenez singled to score Givens.

Earth threatened in the seventh when Thomas walked and scored on an error. Mike Cleavenger came all the way home on a long ball hit into left-center.

Winning pitcher was Steve Stockdale. Loser was Hoyt Glasscock.

The season's first extra-inning game went 10 innings Monday night when Earth outlasted Jack Straw Gin, 11 to 10.

A double by Earth's Carl Sulser and a single by Hoyt Glasscock scored the first run of the game in the first inning. Straw Gin tied it up with a double by Vic Allcorn and singles by Jimmy McCurry and Kenneth Burgess.

The deadlock was not broken till the tenth when Mike Cleavenger drew a walk and scored on a double by Slover. Straw loaded the bases in the eighth but was unable to score. A double play in the tenth wrapped up the win for Earth.

Parsons picked up their runs in the second on walks to Dale Parsons, Allan Allford and Alan Carson. An error put Steve Stockdale on first and scored one run. Tim Givens laid down a single to score two.

Adams did not allow another hit although two runners did reach base on an error and walk.

Halfway's Clyde Field rapped a triple in the sixth but was unable to score.

Winning pitcher was Stockdale. Loser was Adams.

TO KEEP ONIONS from sprouting, keep them in a dry, dark place. Refrigeration is not necessary, says Extension Home Economist Gwendolyn Clyatt.

IF SOAP AND WATER does not remove mildew stains from white washable clothes, moisten stain with mixture of lemon juice and salt. Bleach in the sun and rinse thoroughly and dry. For other hints on removing mildew stains ask your county home demonstration agent for a "How To Prevent And Remove Mildew" bulletin.

GET RID of paints and thinners as soon as you are finished with them. Keeping them around too long could lead to an explosive situation if they are not handled properly, says Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies.

Water Rights Commission Issues Final Filing Notice

The Texas Water Rights Commission announced today that final notice of the recording deadline under the Water Rights Adjudication Act of 1967 has been given. Everyone who is using water from a public stream who does not claim under a certified filing or a permit from the State must record his claim by September 1, 1969. Users of water for domestic and livestock watering purposes are exempt from this requirement.

Failure to timely record the claim will "extinguish and bar" the claim of water right according to Section 4 of the Adjudication Act. All affected water users who have not already filed their claim are urged by the Commission to do so as soon as possible.

Valid claims will be recognized to the extent of maximum use of water without waste during any year between 1963 and 1967. Where the user was in the process of constructing a system or had facilities to use a larger amount of water on the effective date of the Act than he had actually used, use from 1968 to 1970 may be recognized.

Further information and forms for recording claims under the Water Rights Adjudication Act may be obtained from the Texas Water Rights Commission, P. O. Box 12396, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Accent on Health

Summer officially arrives on June 21, and the intense hot weather ahead calls for a few simple health rules which can make it more bearable, says the Texas State Department of Health.

First of all, avoid heavy, fat-loaded meals. They are difficult to digest during hot weather. Emphasize fruit and vegetables on your summer menu rather than protein foods - eggs, fish and meat - which your body needs for fuel during winter months.

Perspiration helps cool the body, but at the same time it drains the body of vital fluids. To replace these fluids, drink plenty of water or other liquids. Fruit juices are a pleasant way to make up the loss. But don't gulp down large amounts of ice water when you are overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration. Replace your salt loss at meals, or if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely, take salt tablets - about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little added salt during meals.

Your clothing plays an important role in keeping cool.

Loose, light clothing is highly recommended for summertime wear. Normal body temperature are dependent on the evaporation of sweat.

Avoid wearing clothes that inhibit evaporation. Also, remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark ones, since they do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

Exercise is an essential part of a well-rounded, healthy life, but it can easily be overdone in the summer. Use common sense and start gradually if you are initiating a summer exercise program. Also, confine any long periods of hard work or active tennis games to the cooler parts of the day.

Swimming is one of the best summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed - including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals and avoiding tiredness.

All in all, summer can be one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year...provided you use your head as well as your body.

Olton Youth Speak Out

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Buddy Brock, History teacher at Olton High School, recently asked his students to write two paragraphs - one beginning with the words "I support" and one beginning "I protest".)

The following is the fourth in a series of comments written by the students.)

I protest the fact that the heads of the college and university boards are permitting students to march and rebel. It's not right to let the students protest and riot; then, let them return to classes when it is all over. I think that if a student hasn't got enough respect for the college and the faculty members, he ought to be expelled from the college.

I support the war in Viet Nam. If the Communists get hold of South Vietnam, they'll probably try to get the whole Southeast Asia. It, also, will make them move closer to the U. S. I think that if South Viet Nam needs our help; we should help them. Besides, if our troops get pulled back, that will mean a victory for the Communists by ways psychologically thinking.

I protest American lack of power in Viet Nam. As long as Americans are dying they should be dying for something and not just because they're told to. We have the finest service men of any nation in the world not to mention the finest equipment and leaders and yet we won't go ahead and win the way in Viet Nam and put an end to the needless killing of our young men and waste of our resources. However, someone is making money off this war and of course they do not want it stopped, but if the American people knew what was happening in Southeast Asia they would demand either American withdrawal or total war in Viet Nam.

I support American aggression anywhere where Communism may be stopped. I do not want World War III and that is why I want America to let the Communists know that we are not going to play patty cake with them for our defenses. Communism has made fools out of us and will continue to make us fools until we stop them. As of yet the Communists republics are still scared of us but they know they can get away with what they are doing so they're doing it. I support, in short, an end to Viet Nam and an end to Communism.

I protest overpowering adults; people who think all of the younger generation is wrapped up in riots, drugs, and general disorder. These people have no right to associate the many fine young men and women of America with the small minority who are looked upon as trouble makers.

I support the school administration and teachers; although I very often disagree with the things they do and say, they are up here to do a job; and most of them do it very well.

I protest the draft, but I know that it is needed. It isn't fair to draft boys who don't know what they're fighting for. Of course, almost any boy is willing to die for their country, but it ought to be their own choice as to when they are possibly going to die for the U. S. Boys just out of high school don't have much to look forward to when they know they'll get drafted, especially for boys who don't have the money to go to college.

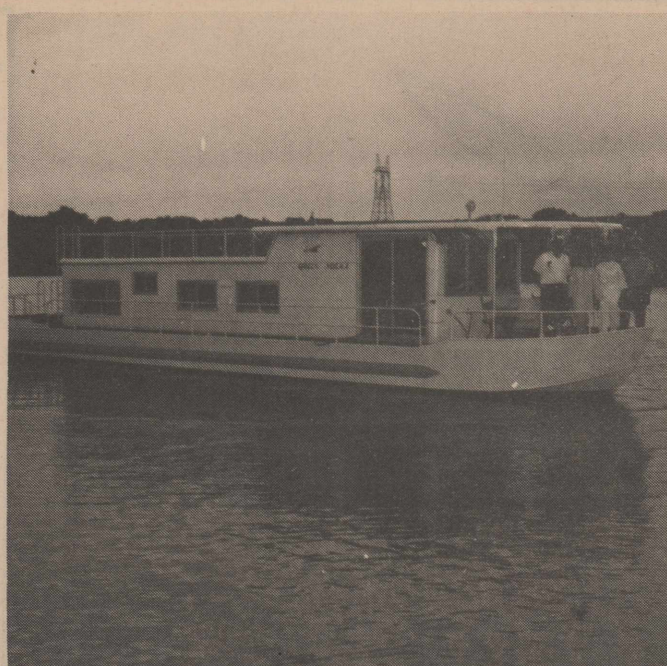

I support the rules of Olton High School upheld by Mr. Turner. Students don't seem to realize how important it is to follow rules; they just try their best to ignore them and to be "cute". They will have to learn to follow rules sooner or later or they won't ever be responsible people. If the students of O. H. S. supported the rules, O. H. S. would be a more spirited school, and they will be well-trained by the time they get ready to enter college.

I protest the way that the rioting college students are being allowed to continue their riots. These "students" are taking arms and ammunition and forcing themselves into buildings and nothing is done to them. If the National Guard were turned loose just one time, all these riots and armed demonstrations would come to a halt. However, if they are allowed to continue, matters will continually become worse, and they may lead to another civil war!

I support Rustin, the Negro leader who is strongly opposed to Negro riots and unlawfulness. This man is a help to the peaceful whites and blacks alike. Rustin can help communicate to both groups and he is broad-minded enough to see the situation the Negroes are in to decide what actions will help and which ones will not.

I protest the qualifications of the teaching staff. Some teachers are hired to take up space and that is all. This action is happening in many schools. The administration feel like they are helping the students by having a teacher there but an unqualified teacher doesn't teach but takes away previous knowledge. I had rather figure something out by myself than have a teacher to try to teach me. It may take longer but I learn it.

I support Job Corps. Job Corps offer an opportunity for the under privileged to get an education. To end poverty in the U. S., the people must be educated. Nixon's suggestion to end them is criticized by his poverty plan. Jobs give a person a feeling of responsibility, need, and self respect; that is what the poor people of our country need.

ABOARD THE "QUEEN NORMA" -- Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Moss of Elk City, Okla., former residents of Olton, entertain Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Poteet aboard their new house boat recently. The group participated in the Floatilla during Jolly Rogers Festival, an annual celebration at Keystone Lake near Cleveland, Okla. The 52-foot boat, which sleeps eight, was the largest in the floatilla.

Credit Card Precautions

What would happen if you lost your wallet? Could someone go on a shopping spree at your expense?

This is one hazard of the new credit world, points out Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M.

Record names and addresses of credit card companies so you can phone and write to them to stop use of the cards. List, too, licenses and other items kept in your wallet.

Keep the list in a safe place for emergencies, advises Mrs. Myers.

NOTICE

Unmarked dishes carried to the Kendall home during their recent bereavement may be picked up at the Methodist Church.

VISITS RELATIVES

Mrs. Glenda Fry and Brick spent Sunday and Monday in Pampa with Mrs. Fry's sister, Mrs. Bob Boyd. Mrs. Fry and baby also visited relatives in Skellytown and Amarillo.

VISIT DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Butler were in Lockney Sunday with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Meriwether and Melinda.

Parent, Child Each Allowed Tax Exemptions

A child's summer job may be a tax boon to many parents, says Linda Jacobsen, Extension home management specialist.

Both parent and working child can get $600 exemptions. Even though the child earns more than $600, the parent is entitled to an exemption because he supports the child. Law permits the youth to have his own personal exemption even though the parent claims him as a dependent.

Children, however, adds the Texas A&M University specialist, must be full-time students or under 19. This is the only situation in which two different taxpayers get the $600 personal deduction for the same person.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Here I am, still waving my flag for the guy or gal who still dares to be "square". Still waving it for A & M, too. Last week's "Sports Illustrated" carried a little item about A & M that I think is worth repeating. It appeared in their weekly feature, "Score card" and might get overlooked since it was not in one of their stories of the week. I wish they'd used it for their lead story but there I go, never satisfied.

The article reads: "Last fall a story on Texas A&M referred to its students as 'The Proudest Squares,' and that sturdy image seems to be paying off for Aggie athletics. 'It is generally agreed in Texas that A&M landed more blue-chip high school football players than any other Southwest Conference school, and basketball and track recruiting kept pace.'"

"The reason appears to be the school's highly disciplined student body, if the comments made by incoming freshmen athletes on a school questionnaire are any indication." Statements by several of the frosh were cited. * Linebacker Mike Coy said: "I like A&M for its reputation for no drugs and campus riots." * Guard Fred Placke said: "I picked A&M because it is one of the few remaining colleges that is not troubled by lousy hippies and SDS and will not tolerate them."

* Basketballer Ron Ecton declared: "A&M had the neatest, cleanest-cut student body I've seen, and that impressed me."

* And Miller Sammy Skinner said: "It's worth something to me to go to a school where I know I can attend class the next day."

Military training is no longer compulsory at A&M, but the Cadet Corps of 3,000 is still the dominant influence on the campus. Basketball Coach Shelby Metcalf is quoted as saying: "The Corps forms the nucleus of our school spirit."

"Discipline is getting popular again."

Wes Izzard used the article in his column in the Amarillo Times, "From A To Izzard" concluding with a thought of his own, "There are many schools with disciplined student bodies like that at A & M, and it is high time they began getting some of the publicity."

Nearly everyone of us will say "Amen" to that, won't we?

MOTHER VISITS Mrs. J. W. Axell of Lubbock visited last week in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Malone. Mrs. Axell stayed with her grandchildren, Monte and Mark while their parents were in Hagerman, N. M.

MOVED TO SUNRAY Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Sharp, Trent and Clay moved to Sunray Monday. Sharp has accepted a position on the coaching staff at the high school.

PARENTS VISIT Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Howard of Sunray were in Olton Wednesday and visited for a while with their daughter, Mrs. Sue Cannon and family.

IN SUNRAY Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Snider and Diane and Mrs. Sue Cannon and children visited last weekend with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Howard of Sunray.

VISIT GRANDDAUGHTER Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Whittington visited Sunday in Friona with their granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henderson and new son, Mark Shane.
