WARN AGAINST WATERLOGGING IN IRRIGATION

Experts From Carlsbad, N. M., Project In City For Inspection

PLEASED WITH IT

Wealth of Water Constitutes A Danger to Land, They Assert

A warning against waterlogging of land in the Wichita irrigation project was sounded yesterday by W. O. Weaver and Hobart Hall, two officials of the big Carlsbad, N. M. project who are in the city for an inspection of the irrigation system here. A survey of what Wichita Falls has done in the irrigation line has convinced the two experts that its potentialities are far greater than that of the government enterprise to the west, but they have pointed out that in the very wealth of water available here lies the grave danger of soaking up the ground too rapidly.

Much of It Waterlogged.

On the Carlsbad project, much of the 25,000 acres of land under cultivation has been waterlogged by excessive use of water over a five year period. A similar condition will be met here in about two years, they believe, unless farmers are restricted to about one acre foot per year. This, it is thought, will delay the waterlogging indefinitely. They have found that at Carlsbad with 14 inches of rainfall annually, two acre feet is ample, and here with a 30 inch rainfall, one acre foot should be sufficient.

Mr. Hall and Mr. Weaver are enthusiastic over the possibilities of the local project. The water of Lake Kemp has much alkalinity than that of the Pecos river which is used on the Carlsbad project and it is much cheaper. Here the maintenance charge is $1.05 per acre and at Carlsbad $1.60 per acre, limited to 2 acre feet per year. If more water is wanted it costs 50 cents for the third acre foot and 75 cents an acre foot for all over that. The price for water at Carlsbad runs from $35 to $50 per acre, with 20 years to pay for it. Here 34 years are allowed.

Wichita Lairger.

Carlsbad suffers in comparison with Wichita as to size, the two men say. The New Mexico reservoir impounds about 50,000 acre feet of water, with 25,000 acres in the project, and here the storage dam holds back 600,000 acre feet with 45,000 acres in the project.

Both Mr. Weaver and Mr. Hill intend to locate permanently in Wichita Falls and assert themselves as undismayed by some expressions of opposition to the irrigation project that they have heard. This opposition, they are certain, is the result of ignorance of the real conditions, rather than to any defects in the project.

REAL NORTHER STRIKES

Thermometer Goes Skidding Late Thursday Afternoon.

A norther that stung with the sting of real November weather swooped down on Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon and transformed what had been a sultry, oppressive day to one that tingled with the frosty nip of winter.

The thermometer fell with rocket-like suddeness at 4 o'clock when a hazy bank of clouds that had been hovering out in the northwest rolled in on the wings of a shrieking wind. Within 30 minutes the temperature had fallen 10 degrees and at 5 o'clock it was still dropping.

Clearing skies later in the evening carried a promise of continued cold and probably cloudless weather.

"WHERE'S THE FIRE ANYHOW"

Firemen And Brokers Ask Questions At Nafziger Bakery.

"Where's the fire," the night crew of the Nafziger Bakery inquired Thursday evening as four fire trucks from the central station clattered up and strung two lines of hose.

"Where's the fire," the firemen asked in turn.

Someone outside had noticed a blaze above one of the ovens and had turned in an alarm. With the arrival of the trucks the bakers investigated and found a small fire overhead.

No damage was done.

Ponzi Mere Piker Compared to Few Indian Fleecers

Unsuspecting Redskins Lose By Dealings With White Friends

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 13.—Charles Ponzi, renowned manipulator of high and frenzied finance was never "going stronger" than were two or three individuals when they negotiated a deal at Marlok, Okla., whereby an Indian boy was deprived of funds which he should have had as sale price of lands, according to a story told to the Indian probe committee Thursday morning by United States Attorney M. S. Robertson.

Isaac Gibson, Choctaw youth, Robertson said, walked sad but wiser back to his home with only a "pair of pants," when he should have had in his possession $600.

Shortly before Gibson became of age, two or three white men joined the youth at Pauls Valley and accompanied him to Marlow and kept him there until August 4, when he became of age. He then, the witness said, explained a one year lease on the home stead for the consideration of $100, and another lease on his surplus for $500, without supervision.

Gibson received the $100 for the homestead least, it was said, and about a week or two later approached Robertson and complained that he had a pair of pants to show for the money.

2-Inch Staple From Irrigated Land Exhibited

James D. Greer, long staple cotton breeder, who has been growing cotton under irrigation on the Hodges place southwest of Iowa Park, was in Wichita Falls Thursday exhibiting cotton of two inch staple, which he had grown this year.

This is only one of the 20 varieties Mr. Greer has bred up. He has not named the varieties yet. He says the plant is only about 3 inches tall with five-lock bolls of large size. He estimates that it will yield a bale and a half an acre. It gins thirty-eight per cent lint. He is sending samples of the two inch staple to cotton mills at New Bedford, Mass.

Mr. Greer says that he has three main varieties of cotton, which he expects to grow here; one is the variety which now is so well known here, a bale of it being on exhibition in the First National bank; another of the two-inch staple variety; and the third a long staple silk cotton.

This silk cotton has the same strength and lustre as actual silk. It dyes and holds the color as well as silk. No seed is available for distribution on either the two-inch staple or the silk cotton and will not be for several years.

TEACH THE BOY ABOUT HIS BODY PARENTS TOLD

He Ought to Know Every Iota of His Physiology, Physician Says

"Our schools, like our government, are what the public demands of them," Dr. Henry P. Ledford, local physician told the parents of Wichita Falls school children yesterday in an address before the Parent-Teachers' association of the Alamo school. He declared that "if our schools are the best in the state or if they are the worst the community is responsible for either."

What They Should Know

In his address on what the youngsters of today should know of medical science Dr. Ledford said:

"Children should be taught in school enough about the physiology and construction of their bodies to enable them to understand the principal organs of the body, the location of the heart, the lungs, kidneys, bones, stomach and their uses to the rest of the body should be well known. The construction of the spine, the number of bones it contains, the general shape and size of the bones, especially the numerous ligaments that hold the bones in place should be known to every one in this day of chiropractic delusion. Quacks win a large place in the confidence of their followers by manipulating their knowledge of psychology."

In his address, Dr. Ledford took a rap at fortune telling. "Children should not gain the impression that this practice is founded on truth or that there are any supernatural facts manifest through ordinary human beings. The radio was perfected through knowledge of the elements and the natural laws governing them and not by an ignorant superstitious old negro woman. There are lots of people today who believe in the curative value of the mad stone. They do not know anything about the life and habits of Pasteur or the vaccine treatment for rabies.

Need Examinations

"Children should be taught at home and in school that good health is more desirable than any other accomplishment, that their bodies should receive at least as much attention as the family automobile and be run into a shop twice a year for a thorough physical examination.

"Diet is the most usual cause of disease during childhood and should be given a great deal of consideration in the home and school." He stated that parents most of all should know something of diet and especially the preparation of food.

"Cooking should be well mastered during school days for after marriage girls do not have time to go back to school and learn the things they should have learned before they were allowed to marry.

Summing up medical knowledge a child should know when finishing high school, Dr. Ledford gave an outline of all health subjects.

MEXICAN HOUSE SHOT UP WHEN SOLONS ARGUE

Chamber of Deputies Is Scene of Wild Battle With Guns

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 13.—The charge that no woman could secure a government appointment "without sacrifice of her honor" precipitated the exchange of scores of shots which layed two deputies near death today after a battle which started in the chamber of deputies last night and raged through the corridors and into the street outside.

Guns Flash

The fight started when General Sanchez, temporarily presiding over the chamber, asked Luis Morones, the "Gompers of Mexico," to prove his charges of fraud. Morones said he would give his opponents satisfaction at once and revolvers flashed all over the chamber as he moved to draw his own gun.

In an instant, the chamber was a bedlam. Shots apparently fired at random crackled on every side. Deputies sought refuge behind their seats and back of pillars, with every armed member of the chamber entering into the affray.

Police Restore Order

Only the arrival of mounted police who entered the chamber with their carbines brought a return of order. Morones was believed mortally wounded from a bullet below the heart. Deputy Guerrero also had little chance of recovery.

Morones death would prove a hard blow to President-elect Calles, elected on a labor ticket, as Morones was regarded as a strong leader, capable of keeping the forces of labor organized and of directing the campaign for the betterment of the laboring class which is foremost among Calles aims.

BLOODY WILLIAMSON CALM

Young Says War Days Over In Illinois county

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa., Nov. 13. A prediction that the dove of peace has descended on Williamson county for a permanent abode here, was expressed here today by S. Glenn Young, ku klux klan raider in a discussion of the recent election.

He showed no signs of insanity while at work.

60-Year-Old Beau Causes Arrest Of 28-Yr.-Old Friend

She Tried to Blackmail Ketchup King, He Charges

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Jefferson Livingstone, "ketchup king" and millionaire sportsman today caused the arrest of Miss Muriel Buell of Los Angeles and Mamaroneck, New York, who recently sued him for breach of promise and asked $1,750 a month for life.

Livingstone, who is 60 years old and was formerly head of the Snyder Catsup company, of Cincinnati, accused Miss Buell of creating a disturbance in his Wall street office, the climax, he alleged, of numerous demands for money and pilfering of his private papers.

Miss Buell, who is 28, when arraigned in Tombs court indignantly denied she had attempted black mail. Her chauffeur, she said, drove her to Livingstone's office in the $16,000 car he had given her, and when ordered out, she refused to go. Livingston locked the doors she asserted and called in detectives.

The case was postponed until Monday. Miss Buell's suit was settled out of court September 19, Livingston said, for $12,500.

STOCKS STILL JUMPING

Bulls and Bears Wage Battle for Control.

NE WYORK, Nov. 13.—Frenzied trading characterized today's stock market, the fifth consecutive "two million share" session, with the "bulls" and "bears" struggling for control, and the day's honors again about evenly divided. The day's sales were slightly in excess of $2,228,000 shares.

U. S. Cast Iron Pipe again furnished the pyrotechnics of the session soaring more than 6 points to a record high for all time at 147 1-4 as the badly trapped "shorts" rushed to cover. It later reacted to 142.

GRAY HAIRED VET EXPELLED

LA FOLLETTE DUE FOR A KNIFING NEXT SESSION

Republican Leaders Will Relegate Him to Bottom Of List

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—As republican leaders drift into Washington after the Coolidge landslide they are starting a serious movement to punish Senator Robert M. LaFollette, third party candidate—to deprive the Wisconsin of all his choice committee assignments in the next congress. In the same category for disciplinary purposes the republican regulars are including Senator Edwin F. Ladd and Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota, and Senator Smith Wildman Brookhart of Iowa, in the event Senator Brookhart survives the contest of his election.

There is no disposition to unhorse Senator LaFollette and other "irregular" republicans during the short session of congress. However, when the new congress convenes and the senate shows a republican majority sufficient to overturn all combinations and blocs, the program is to cast Senator LaFollette into outer darkness, to put him at the foot of committees as an independent, or republican renegade, and to visit a like punishment upon all socalled republicans who supported the LaFollette - Wheeler movement, in the recent campaign.

Mrs. Gebhardt alleged that the liquor sold by Auth had so affected her husband as to cause him to commit suicid

CORDS TIGHTEN ON SHORTS WHO OPPOSE DURANT

Stock Already 80 Points Over What He Paid For It

5 MILLION PROFIT

Shrewd Operators, Following His Lead, Stand in For Cleanup

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Behind the sensational advance in the stock of Cast Iron Pipe on the New York stock exchange, which is today selling at 700 per cent more than its low of last year, Wall street sees another step in the remarkable financial "comeback" of William C. Durant, who only a few years ago was deposed from the leadership of the General Motors corporation with an estimated loss of $100,000,000.

Durant activities in the stock market in the last two years have been of the character to put him in high place in the list of Wall street's sensational operators. After his ejection from General Motors his friends placed at his disposal $7,000,000 with which he organized Durant Motors and later the Durant corporation, for the purpose of distributing stock to its employes.

Buys It In Blocks

Next Durant conceived the idea of buying blocks of stock in the market, splitting it up into fractional lots and selling certificates of ownership far and wide. He was roundly criticized for this exploit, but stood firmly behind his promotion and offered to take back stock which showed a loss.

Early in 1923 came back to the stock market as a professional trader for his own account. He was credited with having accumulated 50,000 shares of Studebaker at $50 a share and selling it out above par and thus taking a profit of more than $4,000,000.

He then turned his attention to Southern Railway, which was easily the leader in the upward movement of railroad stocks in 1923. His profits here were even larger than in Studebaker, it was reported.

Attracted to Pipe

Last year when the stock of Cast Iron Pipe was being pushed around the market at $20 a share, a number of shrewd operators, including Durant, were attracted to it, principally because of the new developments of the business of the company, its valuable patents and the bright prospects for future earnings. Early this year it reached 84. The company perfected a process for joining pipe which greatly reduced costs and produced an excellent commodity at good profits.

Since the total outstanding stock of the company is only 120,000 shares, it was comparatively easy for Durant to accumulate about 60,000 shares which cost him in the vicinity of $55 a share. Then when the bears started to sell short, they were simply selling themselves into a trap and the more they tried to extricate themselves, the tighter the cords were drawn. Cast Iron Pipe soared this week to 139, a gain of 20 points over last week's low and of 80 points over the price Durant paid for the stock. If sold at that price, Durant has another $5,000,000 to add to his trophy chest.

Want to Be Sure of Amendment On Child Labor Laws.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Campaigns to assure ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution and to curb the marketing of the products of convict labor were advocated today in separate departmental meetings of the American Federation of Labor.

The building trades, metal trades, and label trades departments were in session today preliminary to the general convention of the federation beginning next Monday.

TWO BANDS FOR "MA"

Her Inaugural Ball to Be a Brilliant Affair, Says Peeler

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—The inaugural ball for Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson on January 20 will be an affair of brilliance, the like of which has never been seen before "even in the city of Washington" Colonel John L. Peeler, veteran chairman of many such affairs, who was elected to head the general committee for the Ferguson ball, told Austin people today.

Two bands, one to entertain guests in the house of representatives and one for the dancers in the senate chamber, will be provided.

SOUTH DAKOTA FEDERAL JUDGE IS NAMED TO TRY STEWART LAND CASE

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—Judge James D. Elliott of the United States district court of South Dakota has been assigned to the second trial of W. R. Stewart, head of the W. R. Stewart Land company, charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of land in the Rio Grande valley in Texas.

WICHITA FALLS RECORD NEWS

Olney Sector Gets Two More Large Wells Over Yesterday; More Today

Maer - Staniforth - Shaw - Rathke Completed; Ray-Massie Get Another.

Two more Olney completions, one of them believed to be the equal of the Ray-Massie No. 1, Hausler, serted to make yesterday another banner day in South Archer county.

Ray and Massie's No. 2, 300 feet south of No. 1, Hausler, block 17, Thomas McCoy survey, was completed early yesterday morning in sand found about a foot higher, reported, than in the No. 1, and started off flowing at a rate believed equal or better than that of the No. 1, which produced 1,400 barrels in the first 24 hours. This well, like its northern neighbor, is reported to have drilled more than twenty feet of sand.

Offsetting the Texhoma's well to the north Maer-Staniforth-Shaw-Rathke (Royal Petroleum company) No. 1, Hausler, block 7, Thomas McCoy survey, was reported last night to be flowing better than 900 barrels a day, after drilling 23 feet of sand, depth not reported.

Two more wells are due for tomorrow and Saturday, Texhoma having set casing at 1,104 feet yesterday in their No. 4, Hausler, a location south of the big well, and Petroleum Producers drilling below 990 feet early yesterday on their No. 1, and expecting to get the sand some time last night with formations running about five feet high.

It is not at all improbable that the past week's completion in south Archer county have never been matched for size, number and total flush production in the history of Archer county.

Big Indian, Cooke County

The Big Indian Oil and Development company's No. 1, Davis, about twelve miles northeast of Gainesville, after causing a great deal of excitement over north Texas is showing for a very small producer, and not expected to exceed 50 barrels a day in its present status.

The well was bailed all day Wednesday and each time the bailer was run it would make small flows ahead of the bailer, two or three flows putting out somewhere around a barrel of oil. Reports that the well has bridged and that the flow was being held back can hardly be credited, with casing set on the bottom of the hole at a reported depth of 3,521 feet, a perforated joint allowing the oil from two feet of sand encountered at 3,519 feet to come through.

The oil is of an unusual quality, testing 48.5 degrees gravity, and being of a light green color, perhaps the best grade that is found in north Texas. A very small earthen tank has been built on the lease to care for any unusual spurt the well may make. It is not known whether it will be drilled deeper or not.

The well has attracted attention all over north Texas since the report Sunday that it made several flows to the top of the derrick afterwards discredited. It is estimated that around 3,000 people from all over north Texas visited the well on Armistice day, the crowd including the curious and oil men, big company execs and others.

Enterprising business men had arranged to take care of the crowd with several hamburger stands and soda pop fountains, and are reported to have done a big business during the first part of the week.

Big Output Decrease.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute, for the week ended November 8 follows:

Oklahoma 502,600 barrels, decrease of 6750; Kansas 83,400, increase 1000; North Texas 72,100, increase 650; Central Texas 166,750, decrease 2250; North Louisiana 58,850, increase 5,600; Arkansas 121,100, decrease 550; Gulf Coast and Southwest Texas 131,250, decrease 2,250; Eastern 106,000, increase 500; California 590,250, decrease 5,570. Wyoming and Montana figures not available.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the week was 238,500 barrels compared with 227,142 for the week before.

Gulf coast crude oil Grade A was increased 25 cents a barrel and is quoted at $1.50 and Grade B increased 20 cents to $1.25. No other changes were reported in prices for the major districts, midcontinent being quoted at 75 cents to $1.25 a barrel. Pennsylvania crude, Bradford district, $2.85; all other grades $2.75, and California $1.00 to $1.40 a barrel.

O. I. Company, Fee, No. 1.

The Oil Investment company's No. 1, fee, west offset to the Lincoln-Armstrong well, Oil Investment company No. 1, John Richards survey, 1mi north of Archer City, was reported drilling at a depth below 1,000 feet yesterday morning and was expected to pick up the sand sometime last night at the regular depth of about 1,100 feet.

The discovery well after being swabbed has settled down to what looks like from 75 to 90 barrels a day production with a small water content, although the initial swabbing produced in excess of 300 barrels of oil a day.

Davis Farm Well.

OLNEY, Nov. 13.—The Davis Farm Oil company yesterday completed their No. 3, Davis, second location north from the southwest corner of their lease, B. B. & C. R. R. survey, abstract 54, north side of the Panhandle-Knight-Hines pool, and have a flowing well estimated at about 130 barrels flush production, at the usual lower 1,000-foot depth.

This well is one of the best of the Davis wells so far reported.

Ray-Massie, Bond Et Al.

Ray and Massie's No. 1, Bond-Hawkins-Williams, South Vernon, is reported flowing 105 barrels an hour after gauging 180 odd barrels the first hour and better than 2,400 barrels the first 24 hours, sand depths given as 1,968-2,007 feet with the bottom of the hole in lime and twenty-one feet of lime above believed to be making oil, depth given as 2,028-2,050 feet.

New Osage Sale.

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Nov. 13.—An auction sale of oil leases on 184 tracts comprising approximately 30,000 acres of land in the Osage nation will be held Thursday, December 18, it was announced today by the Osage Indian agency here.

The last sale was held June 30, this year, when leases on approximately 20,000 acres were disposed of. The two sales will account for half of the acreage of 100,000 which congress has provided must be offered for lease each year. The fiscal year terminates March 31, 1925.

South Archer Deal.

The Petroleum Producers have obtained another sixty acres directly east of the Texhoma and Ray-Massie Hausler production, Carey group, south Archer county, for a consideration not made public but known to have involved development of the leases.

Kentucky, Kilcrease.

The Kentucky Oil Corporation has made a location and is moving on for a test just north of the Litchfield well, No. 1, Campbell, east of Olney. The test will be located 150 feet each way from the southwest corner of the block 1807, T. E. & L. Co. survey, a little more than 1,000 feet north of the discovery well.

North of Megargel.

Melville-Cochran-McElreath-Cranfill are rigged up and expect to be able to spud today on their B. No. 1, Wilson and Anderson, T. E. & L. Co. survey, block 2479, about four miles north of Megargel, southwest Archer county.

Kinder Test.

The Southern Exploration company has spudded and is drilling on their No. 1, Kinder, block 52, east of Archer City, block 5, Clark and Plumb subdivision, Archer county. A portable gasoline drilling rig is being used, the first it is believed to be moved to Archer county.

Minister to U. S. Will Investigate Rum Running Rumor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Activities on "rum row" of vessels under the Norwegian flag reported by the coast guard service, will be investigated by the Norwegian minister here, H. H. Bryn. He said he would ask the American government to furnish him with the names of these ships in order that he might communicate the facts to the Norwegian foreign office.

Because of a shortage in rye, corn and vegetables in Spain, the king has prohibited the distillation of alcohol from sugar beets and forbids the use of alcohol distilled from grains in the wine industry.

Complete Count On Returns From Wichita County

All Votes in Nov. 4 Election Tabulated By the Commissioners

The Nov. 4 election was officially wound up yesterday so far as Wichita Falls is concerned when the final tabulation of votes cast in this county was completed by the county commissioners court. All the ballots have now been accounted for and a report will be made at once to the secretary of state. The commissioners have been working off and on at the tabulation since last Monday when the work was first started.

Results of the balloting on offices to which particular interest attached are given below, with the successful democratic candidate listed first and the republican opponent second.

SQUATTER SUIT ON

Will Finish Case Today of City Against Front Street Residents.

All evidence will be introduced, arguments heard and probably a verdict returned this morning in the case of the city of Wichita Falls vs P. A. Tendall, et al, a suit now on trial in the 30th district court by which the city seeks to oust some 20 families from houses that are claimed to be located in a public street. The case is another step in the long fight between the city and residents in the "squatter section" on Front street and along the Wichita river banks.

The city is seeking to condemn land for a street and in doing this it has been found necessary to remove about 20 houses that are scattered over the territory.

SOCIETY LEADER WEDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—New York society learned with surprise today that Leonard Kip Rhinelander, 22, son of Phillip Rhinelander, a member of one of New York state's oldest families had married on October 14, Miss Alice Beatrice Jones, 23, a nurse maid, and daughter of George Jones, a New York Rochelle taxicab driver less there was liquor ,the investigators tacked onto their report a recommendation that the police take strict action against "street walkers, mashers and drunkenness."

The report was made by the intercollegiate committee on student living conditions.

"In some of the rooming houses," said the report, "young men and women are through force of circumstances, living with less protection from moral temptation than is desirable. It is known that in some places where men and women students live in the same house, there is very lax supervision and that the frequenting of one another's room during the day and night, is not at all unheard of.

"It is known that in some of the houses one sex brings in those of the opposite sex for immoral purposes and get by with it.

"It is known there are groups of girl students and groups of men students living alone in apartments without any supervision whatsoever and that parties including women, liquor and gambling go on frequently.

GOING AFTER DRUG STORES

Washington Hears "Ma" Ferguson Plans Drastic Legislation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Legislation, both federal and state, to curb the "drug store saloon," is planned by temperance organizations, it was learned here today. Texas is one of the states where such legislation is to be sought and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, governor-elect, in her first message to the legislature, will recommend enactment of adequate laws, it was said.

For the first time, a woman, Mrs C. B. Alderton, the new mayor of Colchester, performed the ceremony of hauling in the first dredge of oysters at the opening of the season at Brightlingsea, England, this season.

Foster and Natural Mothers Fighting Over Babe, Abide Judge's Decision To Place Infant in San Antonio Convent

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 13.—Faced with a problem that might have taxed the wisdom of Solomon—that of deciding whether a child should remain in the custody of a foster mother who had reared her from an infant of three days old to a seven year old child, or be restored to the natural mother, who discarded the baby, Judge W. S. Anderson in 37th district court here took the middle course and ordered pretty little Anita Allen turned over to a convent home.

Strange to say, the mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson Davis, to whom the child was born out of wedlock, and the foster mother, Mrs. Lupe Allen, a Mexican woman, were satisfied with the court's decision.

"I think the court's decision was fair and just" said Mrs. Davis.

"Muy Bein" said the aged foster mother, a tired sort of smile lighting up her bronze face, at the conclusion of the long legal fight for custody of the child.

Both women were given permission to visit the child and contribute to her support, the burden of which at present rests upon the shoulders of the judge.

The mother, a girl of 17 when the child was born, gave her baby away. Subsequently, she married, was divorced and began a search for the baby she discarded. After seven years she found Anita and began legal proceedings to recover the custody of the child. Testimony at the trial developed that the father of the baby enlisted for overseas service and did not return from France.

COUNCIL PLANS TOURS.

May Go to Graham and Houston to Inspect Sewage Plants.

Inspection tours to Graham, Houston and other points are being planned by the city council in connection with its study of sewage disposal methods, it has been learned. A trip will probably be made next week to Lawton, Okla., to inspect a plant there, and the others will follow shortly thereafter. The necessity of installing a plant in Wichita Falls has made it advisable that the commissioners familiarize themselves as much as possible with workings and cost of existing plants.

The Houston plant, working on what is known as an "activated sludge" system, holds particular interest here since it is known to be much less expensive than the types in use in Fort Worth and other points. Electricity is the principal operating agent and a study of this to ascertain operating costs is needed. The initial expense of installation is far below that of other methods.

Dedicate Temple To Masonic Ideal

Scottish Rite Cathedral At San Antonio Consecrated

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 13.—Consecration of the new Scottish Rite temple to the ideals of Freemasonry was completed this afternoon by the provisional council, to which eight Texas Masons had been temporarily appointed before an audience of some 800 Master Masons.

The eight Texas Masons who conducted the consecration were as follows:

Samuel Poyntz Cochran, 33rd degree, lieutenant grand commander; Joseph Seinsheimer, 33rd degree, Texas consistory, Galveston, grand prior; John W. Howorth, 33rd degree, Dallas consistory, grand councellor, W. M. Stockwell, 33rd degree, El Paso consistory, grand minister of state; Judge William S. Fly, 33rd degree, San Antonio consistory, grand orator; James W. McClendon, 33rd degree, Austin consistory, grand master of ceremonies; Frank C. Jones, 33rd degree, Houston consistory, grand chaplain; Colonel H. A. White, 33rd degree, army consistory, Grand Almoner.

Government Inagurates Drive On Pacific Rum Running.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13. — F. R. Anderson, wealthy Van Couver, B. C., attorney was arrested today on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. He was released under $5,000 bail after having been booked at the county jail.

Arrest of Anderson was said by federal officials to herald the start of a government drive against the Pacific coast rum running ring that controlled ships in the liquor trade between the dominion port and the California coast.

HASKELL BUSINESS CHANGES.

HASKELL, Nov. 13.—Ed Robertson who has been proprietor of the Haskell theatre for the past several years has sold it to a Dallas company who will take charge at once. Mr. Robertson will leave Haskell but has not given out his plans nor stated where he will go.

Mr. Seagle, proprietor of the Haskell Bargain store who came to Haskell from Knox City a year ago and embarked in the mercantile business has bought the Lamm building on the east side of the square and will move his stock of goods to that place.

NOCONA GINNINGS INCREASE

They Have Already Exceeded the 4000 Bales Raised Last Season.

NOCONA, Nov. 13.—Up to and including Monday, 5,992 bales of cotton were weighed in both yards here. Farmers Union, managed by Kaywood Hynds, weighed 3,792, and Edd Herring's yard, 2,200.

It is expected at least 6,500 bales will be weighed here during this season, against less than 4,000 bales last year.

Late Tuesday evening, the automobiles of Avis Justin and Clyde Maddox collided near the city limits and Mrs. Maddox and child who were in one of the cars were injured, but not seriously. Justin's car is reported considerably damaged. Justin resides in Nocona and Maddox about eight miles north of town.

The evidence was all in and ready for the attorneys arguments in case of Carl Goodspeed, in district court at Montague, Wednesday evening late. The case will probably be in the hands of jury Thursday morning.

Goodspeed was charged with assault with intent to murder, in connection with the difficulty between him and Bedford Henley, deputy sheriff in the summer, on the streets of Nocona. He was shot at time of trouble, but recovered from injury.

P. A. Lesh of Nocona spudded in a well Tuesday on Mrs. Mattie Salmon's tract, N. W. corner Samuel Little survey, about 9 miles north of here. It is learned same party will drill a gas well for Harry Mitchell et al on Robt. Hynds place which is not far from above mentioned location. This well is to furnish gas for Nocona. Mitchell has the gas franchise and expects to have gas in town inside of four months.

DISCIPLINE IN OFFING

L. S. U. Freshmen Who Clipped Teachers Hair Are In For It.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13.—It was indicated today that whatever action may be taken as a result of annual hair cutting activities of students of Louisian state university, which culminated yesterday in members of the freshmen class invading the Baton Rouge high school and relieving three women instructors and girl students of their tresses and clipping the thatches of boy students would await the return within a few days of Colonel T. D. Boyd, president of the institution, from Washington, D. C.

TAXI DRIVERS ON STRIKE

Yellow Cab Forces in Kansas City Carry Out Threat.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—Taxicab drivers in Kansas City carried out their threat today to strike. More than 200 of them according to E. R. Lindeman, secretary of the drivers union, went out early this morning. Frank Dean, president of the Yellow Cab company, says only six men went out. There are about 250 drivers employed by the Yellow company.

Drivers of other companies may be affected, union leaders said this morning.

Police say they are prepared to handle any trouble if the strike should turn into a "taxicab war."

PUSHBALL FOR HAZING

Students at an Iowa College Forgo the Rough Stuff Now.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Nov. 13.—Interclass hazing activities which this year developed into a bitter struggle in which several students were injured, have been officially banned by the student council of Coe college. The class supremacy in the future will be settled at a push ball contest. Protests from parents of students following this year's battle between classes is said to have been responsible for the new edict.

Modern Adam and Eve Choose Honeymoon In A Virginia Wilderness

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 13.—Into an Eden in the heart of a dense forest, but favored by the warmth of an Indian summer sun, Adam and Eve, in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day, married shortly before noon today in the window of a department store, bravely set forth to live a week as their Biblical ancestors are reputed to have done, sans everything but clothes.

A crowd of several thousand struggled for favorable vantage points from which to witness the wedding ceremony.

The young pair was selected out of scores of applicants to live the primitive life for a period of one week through a local newspaper contest. If they can withstand the rigors of the November woods without aid from any source and are able to provide their own food and shelter, they will be given a large sum of money and a complete outfit of household utensils and furniture from a rolling pin to a radio outfit, through the newspaper.

Both young Day, just 22, and his wife, who was Miss Floretta Popejoy, 19, are city bred and know the conditions they will have to face in the woods. Only through occasional summer excursions. Mrs. Day is the leader and pianist in the girls syncopated orchestra, and is decidedly pretty.

The wood abound with game and many varieties of wild fruit.

Seek Limit For Butler's Tenure

Massachusetts Demos Want Senatorial Election Held

BOSTON, Nov. 13. — Chairman Charles H. McGlue of the democratic state committee, announced that he would file with the legislature today a bill the effect of which would be to limit to March 4 or until an election can be held the term of William M. Butler as United States senator in succession to Henry Cabot Lodge.

TO SUCCEED LODGE.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—William M. Butler, lawyer and manufacturer and chairman of the republican national committee, today was appointed by Governor Cox to succeed the late Henry Cabot Lodge as United States senator from Massachusetts. The governor, it was said, has assurances that Mr. Butler will accept.

CONGRESS IS INTERESTED

Suit to Stop Dismantling Warships Focuses Attention.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Congress will have something to say about the suit in the District of Columbia supreme court to stop the proposed destruction of the battleship Washington, one of the vessels condemned under the naval limitation treaty, Representative Thomas S. Butler, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house naval affairs committee, indicated this afternoon.

Butler declared that authority to dispose of the Washington and other ships was expressly granted by congress and that the legislation was apart from the treaty. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, he said, was merely carrying out the will of congress in ordering that the ship be used as a target until sunk.

"Congress having the authority to construct battleships, has authority to order them destroyed," Butler said.

WHERE LABOR LOST.

Great Britain tested a labor government for 9 months and then the conservatives and liberals cabined and the government fell. Prime Minister James Ramsay MacDonald, the labor leader appealed to the country. What happened is ancient history now.

Conservatives hold 410 seats in the new parliament as compared with labor's 152 and the 40 of the liberals. Labor lost 40 seats and the liberals lost 100. There is no liberal party worthy of the name in England today. It has been eliminated.

A small army of liberals deserted to the conservative camp and a smaller army to the camp of labor. In round numbers in the recent election the conservatives polled 8 million votes, labor 5,500,000, and the liberals 3,000,000 which was a gain of 1,000,000 votes for labor.

Radicalism in England had a brief reign. Radicalism in the United States received its body blow November 4. Samuel Gompers and his lieutenants staked their all on LaFollette and his radical program. They lost. They may come again but not in the near future will the labor party supplant the democratic party which was founded by Thomas Jefferson.

Now the British pound sterling is climbing to the top and the manufacturing activities of Great Britain are showing more life than at any time since the war. Really the conservative voters of the two foremost English speaking nations are in the saddle and may continue in the saddle for years to come.

There is room in the United States for two great parties, a great liberal party and a great conservative party. Calvin Coolidge is the head of the conservative party and the government; now who's going to be the next leader of the great liberal or democratic political organization?

LINDSEY HOLDS THE FORT.

Ben B. Lindsey of Denver who has presided over the famous juvenile court of that city many years and defied all the political bosses of all parties had a close call this time. Running as a democrat in a republican city this friend of the bad boys and naughty girls won reelection by 350 votes. Judge Lindsey is not an office holder in Colorado. He is an institution and more widely known than any jurist who has graced the judiciary of Colorado since it became an American commonwealth. He always has the support of the newspapers and the women and no doubt the newspapers and the women saved the judge from defeat this time as the practical politician and men who do not like juvenile courts or fearless judges were arrayed against him.

PILING UP THE BONDED DEBT.

American voters passed on plans November 4 for new financing involving 600,000,000 dollars. That is state governments, counties, cities and communities voted $600,000,000 for schools, roads and bridges, water works and other public improvements.

For the second time in the last ten years figures submitted by the bond buyer show that financing done for states and municipalities in the first ten months of 1924 ran well above the million dollar mark. Isn't this a 3 hundred billion dollar country?

If so, why growl?

What Today Means to You

SCORPIO.

Until noon the planetary aspects of today are quite favorable and counsel forceful action and aggressiveness. Although speculation and hazardous undertakings should be avoided, as they will only end in failure, the occasion is propitious for all work of a conservatively constructive character. After noon, the conditions are not quite as good, and indicate some deception or duplicity in matters of business or affection. All business propositions should be very carefully scrutinized, and idle gossip, with all its pitfalls and snares, should be religiously eschewed.

A child born today will have a healthy infancy, and, saving an occasional illness of no very grave character during childhood, will develop physically along normal lines. Its character will be frank, its disposition, generous, its mentality, slow but sure. This child will be intuitively attractive, and will need very little correction, as its faults will be of minor importance. It will be happiest in the outdoors, and will at no time respond to a restricted or confining atmosphere. It will show a great affection for all animals, and this sentiment will be genuinely reciprocated.

If today is your birthday, you are hasty in your judgment and lose your temper easily, although you do not give way to violent fits of passion. Neither do you speak hastily. This lack of control has caused you, in the past, a great amount of trouble, that, with a little self-restraint, could easily have been avoided. The mere fact that you are sorry, and admit it, does not nullify the injury caused by your impulsive action, nor remove the sting of impetuous words. Just as kind words can never die, so unkind words, though forgiven are not easily forgotten.

You like children, but do not want them to bother you very long at a time. In your attitude towards those of tender age, you seem to forget that you were at one time a child yourself. You evince a very indifferent interest in their affairs, and consider them of little or no importance, thereby overlooking the fact that what may appear as unimportant to you is, in a child's life, an event of great magnitude.

You have great magnetic power, and can easily influence and lead others.

THE SHINING EXAMPLE

Little Jackie Coogan
Doesn't smoke cigars
Or cigarettes; he never bets
Or stands in front of bars,
He says that bright young fellows,
Who have their way to win,
Must needs eschew the foaming brew
As well as Scotch and gin.

Little Jackie Coogan
Doesn't play the ponies,
Nor sit up nights 'neath smoky lights
With poker-loving cronies.
In fact all forms of gambling
With loathing he regards;
He bids young chaps beware of craps,
And never handle cards.

Little Jackie Coogan
He never in his life—
His parents say—has run away
With someone else's wife.
The records of divorce courts
Do not disclose his name;
He's never been entangled in
The alimony game.

If all ambitious people
Woud live as Jackie has—
Would keep as clear from cards and beer
Philandering and jazz,
They might, at six or seven
(For such is virtue's due!)
Find they would be as rich as he
And just as famous, too.

MONEY.

Many years ago, Jay Gould began life as a country boy milking cows for fifty cents a day. He died, leaving an enormous fortune. The heirs are now quarreling over it.

In the family litigation over the millions that Jay Gould left, being conducted by thirty-five high-priced lawyers, the attempt at blackmail of more than thirty years ago was up again recently.

Sometime ago two women made an effort to blackmail Mr. Gould, one of them claiming that she had been married to him. They were unsuccessful.

A man who makes a million dollars and more is apt to be the target for all kinds of sharpers. Every man's hand is against him.

It is easier, and more fun, to make a million dollars than it is to take care of it.

In the making of it there is excitement and adventure. In the taking care of it there is nothing but caution.

We are all anxious to accumulate fortune, in order that we may leave our children better off than we were ourselves. We imagine that the road will be smooth for them by having plenty of money.

We forget that it is the predestined lot of man, in this world, to find his happiness through struggle and to win the prize of life by his own exertions.

Most of the efforts of those who have accumulated much money to enable their children to lead a better kind of life have been unsuccessful. It is the want of money, and the need of it that gives most of the activity and this activity results in the development of our character.

The possession of a great deal of money renders activity unnecesary, and our character degenerates.

It is a common saying that it is only two or three generations from shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves.

A WORD TO MOTHERS.

Yesterday I had tea with the mother of one of the most popular matrons in New York society.

She was very unhappy. There are other mothers I am sure who are in a like condition, so I will repeat our conversation with the hope that someone will be benefited.

As we sat sipping tea in the library of the beautiful country home, deliciously comfortable by the big log fire, I though to myself—"This mother should be perfectly happy."

For fifteen years she had lived with her married daughter. She was the housekeeper, and overlooked the supervision of her little grand-daughter.

"My daughter is simply breaking my heart," she said; "she will not pay me any attention. She never runs into my room for a chat, or tells me about any of the pleasant things she does—why, she even danced with the prince at Mrs.—reception and would not tell me one word about it.

"Tell me, how can I be happy with a daughter like that?"

I wanted so to help her—she was fifty-five years old and looked at least ten years older—her hair was done in a most unattractive style—she had on a grey knitted sweater, like very old ladies wear—and her shoes, well, they were certainly fashioned for comfort.

But she was so sweet and lovable in her own quiet way—so charming in her manner, and so utterly different from her daughter, I would not have hurt her for the world, but I felt as if I should help her.

"Suppose you handle the matter this way—" I suggested, "and perhaps you can get at the bottom of the trouble. Suppose you and your daughter were both little girls and exactly the same age. You would want to play with her of course—she is beautiful and jolly and full of fun. But what about her—would she want to play with you?"

My hostess straightened up—I could see she was thinking.

"Oh, of course not," she replied, "I'm always complaining and dissatisfied, and I hardly ever look attractive. I can't see why I did not think of that myself.

"You watch me, Mimi, I'm going to be the kind of a girl that Edith would want to chum with from now on."

Her eyes sparkled. She seemed a changed woman—at last she had the key to the whole situation!

The Best and Cheapest Accident Insurance Policy in the World

The Man Who Lived His Life Over

By HENRY JAMES FORMAN

"Please, don't worry," he entreated, looking appealingly into her dove's eyes. "It's all right, I assure you. These little accidents—besides," he burst forth in manly candor, "it wasn't an accident! I arranged this little plan to have the joy of seeing you for two minutes alone!"

The girl's gaze fell before the onslaught of his own eloquent one.

"Alone?" she murmured with the irresistible guile that is in every daughter of Eve. "Why—why should you want to see me alone?"

"Because—" he threw down his palette and brushes upon a low table laden with the implements and accessories of his art. "because—oh, can't you guess, Alice? Because, dearest one, I love you—because my heart is sick with longing for you! Because I adore you, worship the ground you walk on—I could kiss every inch of it. You are the one girl in the world for me—the girl I have dreamed of, waited for, hoped, longed, yearned for! That is why," he concluded huskily. "Now do you know why I wanted to see you alone?"

Her two hands lay inert in his, but the girl herself sat speechless, dazed.

"Tell me, dearest one, tell me," he cried in agonized tones, "am I then so repugnant to you?"

"It isn't that," she breathed, "you know it isn't. But, oh, how could we—how could I—" The tears started to her eyes in her confusion, and her quivering lips made further speech impossible. Her loyal heart was racked within her.

"Oh, I know, I know!" he cried savagely, piteously. "Because I haven't money enough—because your mother has set her heart on your marrying—bah! I hate to say it—I loathe the thought of it in connection with anything so pure and sweet and beautiful as you!

"Money! Ha!" he exclaimed bitterly, dramatically, with a gesture he had caught from an angry French Painter. Everything opens to golden keys!

"But listen, my darling," he ran on vehemently in another tone, an eager tone of a mystic, fanatical earnestness as though a new light illuminated his soul. "I can make money! Heaps of it! I don't merely paint. I illustrate as well. There are ways—I'll tell you a secret," and his voice sank almost to a whisper. "If an artist wishes he can make quantities of money. There is the advertising field—why why not? Whatever an artist does, he is adding to the beauty of the world, if he does it beautifully, artistically, instead of shabbily, cheaply."

The girl looked up at him dubiously.

"And debase your wonderful art—" she murmured.

"Oh I couldn't couldn't—and you—" she flashed at him, "mustn't think of such a thing!"

"So it is my art you care for—not me," he muttered sadly. "Ah, then my life is over! Then I don't care what happens. I'll give it up—pluck it out!" he cried fiercely. "I hate it!"

"Please, please, don't!" moaned the girl in a very anguish of pain. "You know it—isnt so. You—I—oh, why will you make me—" and before either of them knew it, the tearful beautiful girl was in his arms and his passionate lips were planting fiery kisses upon hers, as she lay yielding and inert, sobbing against his shoulder. He was Happy!

"Well, upon my word!"

They were electrified as suddenly they heard the voice behind them and stood apart, too late.

It was Mrs. Carstairs.

"So that is how matters stand, is it?" ruefully laughed Mrs. Carstairs. "Well, don't blame Mr. Carmichael, or you, Alice for that matter. But what I am going to say to your mother is quite beyond me! You might offer me a chair," she plaintively addressed the young man.

Carmichael leaped forward to comply.

Mrs. Carstairs sank heavily into it, fanning herself absently with her tiny pocket handkerchief.

"I suppose I ought to be furious," she smiled wryly over all the broad expanse of her features. "But I must in candor say, how I envy you two young people! I remember thirty-four years ago when John—oh, boo! How foolish I am," and suddenly she was dabbing genuine tears at her eyes with her trivial handkerchief and laughing feebly in the depths of her bosom.

"Dear Mrs. Carstairs," cried Carmichael, seizing her unresisting hand, "I am positively delighted that you saw what you saw! It is nothing, God knows, that I want to hide. I want to publish it abroad, cry it from the housetops."

"Alice and I love each other! Is there any crime in that?" He flung out his arms with a gesture worthy of the noble Moor of Venice. "I'll work, I'll toil, I'll slave for her—but I cannot lose her. I simply cannot live without her! Dear Mrs. Carstairs—"

"Oh, hush," broke in the portly lady," don't dear Mrs. Carstairs me—I'm not the girl's mother!"

"Ah, but you are her mother's most intimate friend," explained Carmichael, suavely. "You can help us a great deal. You can—"

"Go away, child!" chuckled Mrs. Carstairs, giving him a playful push from her. I honestly believe that young man is born to cajole and bewitch women. Well, I can only say—I'll do the best I can for you.

Carmichael caught her hand and kissed it warmly. In a twinkl—, too, he had Alice at her chaperone's side and the soft arms of the girl twined about the great shoulders of the older woman in a shy embrace.

"Well, well," gently snuffed Mrs. Carstairs, "when two young dynamos get started—it's all over but the shouting," she added lamely.

"And so this is shy little Alice!" She tried to hold the girl from her as if to examine the marvelous change.

But Alice hid her hot blush against her old friend's fleshy cheek.

"So long as I live," Carmichael began, solemnly oratorical, "you dear friend—"

"Holty—toity!" broke in Mrs. Carstairs unceremoniously. "You've done enough of that for one afternoon. There are one or two other things to consider—Alice's mother, for instance."

The Planet Advertising agency was the foremost concern of its kind.

U. S. OWNERSHIP

A plea against government ownership of public utilities was made recently by Prof. Michael Pupin of Columbia university. Expert knowledge required to conduct them efficiently, he said, would be lacking. He pointed to Europe as an example of a futile attempt to operate public utilities successfully.

"Nobody will deny the knowledge which enables us in trade competition to do things just a little better than anybody else, and in times of war to establish our superiority over the enemy by superior skill, intelligence and scientific organization, but there is another aspect in the recent activities of our scientific and industrial organizations, and it is this," the inventor and scientist declared. "The great achievements in co-operation between science and industries is a living illustration of what can be accomplished when the great problems of science and of the industries are entrusted to the intelligent care of trained hands and superior intelligence. This illustration will soon demonstrate, even to a mediocre mind, that it is not true that any man can do any job, as those who control political patronage seem to think. There are many, many things which Tom Dick and Harry cannot do; they lack both intelligence and training.

"The weakest point in democracy has always been lack of appreciation of expert knowledge. Railroads, telegraphy, telephony and radio broadcasting, electrical lightning and electrical transmission of power are certainly public utilities, but the intelligent people of the United States will never consent that these things, requiring an enormous amount of expert knowledge, be placed under government ownership. The machinery of our government or of any other form of government known to man today is utterly incapable of handling technical problems which require the highest type of training applied to the highest type of intelligence.

"All of these public utilities are full of complex technical problems which cannot and never were intended to be handled by any government. In Europe we see that where there is government ownership the utilities are being run at heavy deficits. And only recently Mussolini has said that he wants to get away from government ownership and adopt the American system."

Shall the Modern Business Girl Who Contemplates Matrimony Have a Job or a Husband—or Both?

A business girl who was soon to have been married to a man with whom she was very much in love told me the other day that she had broken her engagement.

"Why?" I asked in surprise.

"Oh," she said, "because John told me that he expected me to keep on with my job after we were married. He is earning a fine salary with good prospects ahead. Plenty for us to live on comfortably and save something. But in spite of that, he wanted me to continue with my work at the office.

"And that isn't my idea of a husband nor matrimony. The kind of a man I want is one I can lean on, not one I will have to bolster up. I want a husband who will at least try to protect me from the world, not one who will shove me out into it to fight my own way. And when I marry I want a home and children, and no woman can be a good housewife and a good mother and a good private secretary at one and the same time.

"So I thought that if all that marriage was to bring me was super-imposing a domestic job on an office job, and a husband who was a task master, that I had better pass it up. It didn't look good to me. I have seen too many poor, worn, bedraggled creatures who rushed away from the office to buy messes at the delicatessen store on the way home and open a can of something to make a synthetic dinner, and who got nervous prostration trying to combine dishwashing and cooking and cleaning and bed-making with bookkeeping or filing or selling or typewriting.

"And I have seen too many dirty-faced, unkept, ill-mannered, neglected little children who were being raised on the streets while mother was off at work or pursuing a career. And I have seen too many men who married high salaried women, who simply sat down after the ceremony and folded their hands, and let Sally do it.

"None of that for mine, thank you. When I marry I am going to get a man who believes in the ancient theory that a woman's place is the home, and that it is a man's business to go out alone and unaided and single-handed and bring home the bacon. And I am going to be free to give every ounce of vitality that is in me and every brain cell and every bit of energy I possess to making a home and rearing my children properly instead of giving the best that is in me to an employer who has a right to expect the best I've got in the shop because that is what he is paying for."

That is one side of the problem about whether a woman should work outside of the home after she gets married. But there is also another side of it. Often, in these days of the high cost of living, a young man does not make enough salary for two to live upon, and then, unless the woman also continues to be a bread winner, they must either forego marriage altogether or put it off until all the fire and passion of youth is gone and their romance has been worn by time to tatters.

In such instances for the woman to keep on with her job seems the lesser evil. Half a loaf is better than no bread, and a man and woman who love each other are happier in even a makeshift home than they would be living lonely and separate lives.

Every woman who loves her husband desires above everything else to help him, and if she can do this better by earning money than she can by cooking his dinner and darning his socks, why that is simply the modern improved way of a wife being a helpmeet. Men have always taken the work of women's hands, and there is no more discredit in accepting the labor that a wife does at a glass-topped mahogany desk than which she does at the washtub and the gas range. And it is a lot easier on the woman.

Also it must be borne in mind that not every woman is any more born with a talent for domesticity than she is born a poet or a singer. There are women who can take degrees in chemistry in college, but who can never learn to cook; women who could run a bank, but could never manage a butcher's bill. Women who make the invaluable office women heads, but who are utterly incapable of dealing with home economics. Surely common sense insists that it is the part of wisdom that these women do the work outside of the home for which nature fitted them, and which they do so effectively, and hire somebody to do competently inside of their homes the labor for which they are so ill-adapted.

Of course, there are two objections that always stare a woman in the face when she thinks of continuing with a gainful occupation after marriage. The first is the children. Certainly to bring up children properly takes all the time and attention that a mother can give, but even here she may be confronted with Hobson's choice. For the poor cannot always rear their children under ideal conditions, and it often happens that the extra money the mother can earn will mean more to them in giving them proper food, a decent environment to live in and educational advantages, than her personal attention would have done.

Likewise, there is a danger of the husband slumping when the wife puts her shoulder to the wheel. Statistics show that in the districts in which the women are wage earners the men are mainly loafers, so that every money making wife runs the risk of having to support a parasitic husband.

These are all problems that face the business girl who is contemplating matrimony, and who is trying to decide whether it is better to have a job. When she finds out the answer it's too late to do her any good.

DOROTHY DIX.

Uncommon Sense

BY JOHN BLAKE.

THE BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT.

Collective wisdom is always better than individual wisdom.

The law, which is the reflection of the combined intelligence of those who have taken part in civilized government since they were first instituted, gives an accused man the benefit of the doubt.

Theoretically it presumes he is innocent when accused of a crime until he has been proved guilty.

When this theory is not practiced, it is because some individual jailer or judge or prosecuting officer is not as unbiased as was the collective mind which built the law they are supposed to carry out.

As a mass people are good natured, and tolerant, and inclined to be good natured, and not to make hasty judgments.

Only when they become aroused or inflamed by great excitement do they turn into a mob, which refuses to reason and either worships or condemns off hand.

But as individuals we fall far short of tolerance.

With the average man the suspicion of wrong doing is equivalent to a conviction.

Let his neighbor be charged with some wrong doing, great or small, and he is seldom quite sure afterward that the charge was not just, no matter how successfully it is refuted.

Let some public servant make a conspicuous failure of a particular task, and he is condemned as incompetent, no matter what were the circumstances that compelled the failure.

Not only do we, as individuals, judge our fellows by what we heard said about them, but we judge them on their appearance, which is often singularly misleading.

We repose confidence in important looking people, and too often elevate them to high position only to learn to our sorrow that importance is inside the head, and is not a matter of good looks or imposing appearance.

We reject the claims to our consideration of unimportant looking people, and often thereby lose the friendship of extremely able and helpful fellow beings.

What the collective wisdom of the ages has learned about people we reject as useless, and try for years to build up our own little estimates, which are constructed of ignorance and personal prejudice.

Religious and racial hatreds, personal spites, all the causes of human dissension are born of an intolerance that is purely personal.

If we were as great as is our law, if we were willing to give everyone the benefit of the doubt, we would be far less fretted and worried ourselves, and would make the world a pleasant place for others.

There ought to be no toleration of known and proved wrong, and little for the incompetence that is born of idleness.

But it is always best to defer judgment till we have a basis for opinion, and to consider those whom we respect as people of decency and honor and intelligence till we find beyond dispute that they are nothing of the sort.

A tolerant world would be the nearest thing to Heaven that can be found in any universe that we know anything about.

POEMS THAT LIVE

ARRACOMBE WOOD

Some said, because he wud'n spaik
Any words to women but Yes and No,
Nor put his hand for Parson to shake
He mun be bird-witted. But I do go
By the lie of the barley that he did sow,
And I wish no better thing than to hold a rake
Like Dave, in his time, or to see him mow.
Put up in a churchyard a Month ago,
"A bitter old soul," they said, but it wadn't so.
His heart were an Arracombe Wood where he'd used to go
To sit and talk wi' his shadder till the sun went low,
Though what it was all about us'll never know.
And there baint no mem'ry in the place
Of the old man's footmark nor his face;
Arracombe Wood do think more of a crow—
'Will be violets there in the Spring: in summer time the spider's lace;
And come the Fall, the whizzle and race
Of the dry, dead leaves when the wind gies chase;
And on the Eve of Christmas, fallin' snow.

HICCOUGHING PLAGUE

Epidemic, Spreading Throughout New York, Is Being Probed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Health department authorities began today an investigation of the hiccoughing epidemic spreading throughout the city.

In Queensborough alone thirty-six severe cases were found, eleven of them in hospitals. In Manhattan fourteen cases were reported.

Some of the physicians say the hiccoughing is a symptom of enfluenza and others assert it is a precursor of sleeping sickness.

SIMPLE CEREMONY MARCH 4.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Simplicity will mark the inauguration of President Coolidge here March 4. For the first time in history the oath of office will be administered by an ex-President, William Howard Taft.

President Coolidge's views on simplicity and lack of ostentation probably will lead to a repetition of the precedent established by the late Warren G. Harding when he took office. Although every Republican club in the country was ready and eager to strut down Pennsylvania avenue after eight long Democratic years, President Harding called off everything spectacular, including the historic inaugural ball.

A Bloemfontein, South Africa, doctor, has figured that in the last 13 years he has traveled 250,000 miles in an automobile that had covered 4,000 miles before he bought it.

HOW IT STARTED

"GOD SAVE THE KING"

The national anthem of Great Britain which bears this title had its origin in the middle of the eighteenth century. There has been contention as to its author, most authorities accrediting to Henry Carey the authorship of the words and music in about 1740. Carey never claimed the song as his, but about fifty years later his son petitioned the government for a pension on the ground that his father had written the hymn. Since the evidence he adduced was entirely circumstantial the petition was denied.

It is interesting to note that the phrase "God Save the King" has recorded usage in a patriotic sence two hundred years older than the song whose title it is. It appears in "State Papers" Voy. 1, p. 184, and under the head "Flete taken by the Lord Admiral the 10th day of August, 1545." we find the following:

"The watch word in the night shall be thus: "God save King Henrye.' Tother shal answer: And long to reign over us.'"

KILLS HIS LANDLADY

Man, a Suicide, Said She Was "The Meanest Person."

BARRINGTON, Ills., Nov. — Two are dead today in a "Main street" tragedy in this little town.

Thomas Allen, 19, found the body of his mother in the dining room of their home here yesterday afternoon. She had been killed by a charge from a shotgun. Beside the body was a note signed by Charles Hamkel, 63, a roomer, confessing the crime because "she was the meanest person I ever saw."

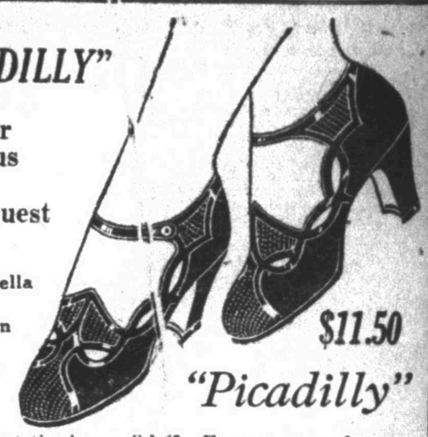

Hambel then boarded a train for Chicago and while it was waiting on a siding, shattered his own skull with the same shotgun he had used to kill the woman, who had repulsed his advances.

Getting Ready To Greet Fergusons

Elaborate State Ceremonial Is Planned At Austin

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—One of the most elaborate state ceremonials ever attempted in the United States was planned today for the inauguration next January of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple, Texas. A meeting of Austin residents, called by H. A. Wroe, started the arrangements.

The high hopes of the people of the capital to give this inauguration a grandeur equal to the occasion stop at nothing short of having the president and vice president of the United States, the president and all governor of Mexico and all governors of the United States, ambassadors of foreign countries, high commanders of the army and navy and other dignitaries of state and nation present at the inaugural.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 609 W. Lake street, Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. —Adv.

Urge Club Women To Become Buyers

Speaker Says They Should Lead in Value Knowledge

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 13.—That the American housewife is the world's most powerful purchasing agent because her buying maintains the largest and most important single buisness in the country, was the declaration this morning of Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson of Dayton, Ohio, budget chairman of the general federation of women's clubs, in an address before the 27th annual convention of the Texas federation of women's clubs.

Millions of dollars have been spent to professionalize "selling" to secure the 85 cents of every dollar in the American pay envelope which the American woman spends, Mrs. Patterson asserted.

"Is it not timely and wise," she asked, "for our club women to lead all of our nation's women in seeing the value of studying simple business methods as a part of her club work that her buying may befome more professionalized?"

Mrs. Walter McNabb Miller of St. Louis, public welfare chairman of the general federation, outlined the welfare work of the national organization this afternoon. Mrs. Harry Lilly of New York, past president of the New York federation, told of the work of the conservation and civics department of the general federation.

STOP ITCHING ECZEMA

Penetrating, Antiseptic Zemo Will Help You

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching Eczema quickly by applying Zemo. In a short time usually every trace of Eczema, Tetter, Pimples, Rash, Blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use Zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds. Trial bottle 35c, large size $1.00. Zemo Soap, antiseptic and healing, 25c. All druggists.

PIMPLES AND BUMPS ARE AWFUL PESTS

Girls and women of the most even dispositions are quick to resent direct attacks on their character, or bold advances. But it is hardly explainable why these same folks tolerate disfiguring pimples, blotches, bumps, "breaking out," etc., which are even worse pests than that.

These skin diseases quit annoying people quickly after first few applications of the wonderful Black and White Ointment, and the regular use of Black and White Soap. The cost is so small none need hesitate because they "can't afford it." The 50c size of the Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have both Black and White Soap and Ointment.—Adv.

WATER LAWN

To make your lawn green all winter will only cost about two cents a foot. No charges for measuring grounds and making estimates. Call 7234 and ask for Johnson, the tree surgeon.—Adv.

Who Is Your Skinny Friend, Ethel?

Tell him he won't have to swallow couple of months and get enough good, healthy flesh on his bones to look like a real man.

THell him he won't have to swallow the nasty oil with the fishy taste, because the McCoy Laboratories, of New York, are now putting up Cod Liver Oil in sugar-coated tablet form.

Ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. Smith Drug Co, Tipton's Drug Co. and every druggist worthy the name sells them—60 tablets, 60 cents. Any man or woman can put on five pounds of healthy flesh in 30 days, or the money paid for the tablets will be refunded.

One woman put on 15 pounds in six weeks. Children grow robust and strong.

"Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet."—Adv.

Iowa Park Ready Big Pythian Meet

City Will Be Decorated For Arrival of Many Visitors

IOWA PARK, Nov. 13.—Preliminaries have been completed for the D. O. K. K. and Knight of Pythias celebration to be held here Saturday A. D. Butcher, district deputy grand chancellor who lives in Iowa Park, with his coworkers as well as the entire citizenship of Iowa Park and neighboring towns are leaving nothing undone to make this one of the greatest meeting or celebrations of any kind ever held in north Texas.

City Is Decorated.

All business houses, streets and other places have been decorated for this occasion. J. D. Butcher and a number of candidates visited Wichita Falls Monday night and had the rank of esquire congered on them. The counties that make up this district meeting of 22nd Pythian district of Texas are: Wichita, Clay, Jack, Wise, Montague and Archer. The meeting will be called at 10 a. m., Saturday and it includes all Knights of Pythians and D. O. K. K..

In H. S. Auditorium.

The ceremnial or climax of the meeting will be called at 7:30 p. m., in the evening. Arrangements have been made to use the auditorium of the W. F. George high school building with a seating capacity of 1000 or more.

The D. O. K. K. initiation at Iowa Park is to be a joint county enterprise, including the lodges of Wichita, Clay, Jack, Montague, Wise, and Archer counties, with visitors expected from other Texas and Oklahoma lodges. It is reported that approximately 75 Tyros will or may burn their feet in traveling the hot sands on that occasion.

REP. HILL ACQUITTED.

He Did Not Violate Volstead Act U. S. Jury Decides.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 13.—Representative John Phillips of Baltimore was acquitted by a jury in United States court today of violating the Volstead law by manufacturing intoxicating wine and cider at his home, 3 West Franklin street.

"OLD STUFF"—VOLSTEAD.

GRANITE FALLS, Minn., Nov. 13.—The opinion of Judge Morris A. Soper of Baltimore that fruit juices may be made for home consumption regardless of the alcoholic content is "old stuff," Andrew J. Volstead, father of the prohibition act, declared here today. Judge Hand held the same opinion in New York a long time ago, according to Mr. Volstead.

TRACTION BUSSES ADOPTED

Kansas City Railways Take Steps to Protect Their Income.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—First steps of the receivers of the Kansas City railways company to install supplementary bus service was taken today when they sought permission from Judge Kimbrough Stone in federal district court to use busses. The receivers indicated that if the railways do not provide bus service it will come from other sources with damage to the railway revenue. Technically, the receivers sought advice from the court but their communication was worded as a petition for permission.

REFUSES CHALLENGE TO DUEL

ROME, Nov. 13.—Senor Vettori, editor of Giornale D'Italian, has refused the fascist leader Farinaccis's challenge to a duel, growing out of the fascisti-legionnaires clash, on the grounds that "one accustomed to the violence of speech and writing could not require moderation from others."

Then the 20 best essays will be entered in the National Contest for the $15,000 Home and the University Scholarship.

Attention Parents!

This Home Lighting Contest is being conducted by the electrical people of this city on account of their interest in conserving the eyesight of your children and yourselves.
The glare and gloom caused by improper use of artificial light is injurious to eyesight and it is our purpose to teach the proper use of light to eliminate such effects.
Urge your children to take part in this contest. They will not only have a chance but to win a valuable prize, they will learn something extremely useful which will aid their health.

Gebhardt spent twenty-five years in the preparation of Mexican food specialties and the development of Eagle Chili Powder before offering genuine husk-wrapped Tamales under their name.

Not until we were positive that Tamales as prepared in our spotless kitchens would be the finest that could be packed; not until we had available automatic machinery and a plentiful supply of selected corn husks, did we announce Gebhardt's Tamales.

Gebhardt's Tamales are made for particular people who insist on quality and who are willing to pay a few cents more to get the ultimate.

HALF DOZEN BIG TIME MENTORS MAY GET AXE END OF SEASON

Foremost Are Bob Folwell of Navy, and Bob Fisher, Coach of Belated Howard Eleven

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—According to the best advices, as many as a half dozen coaches of leading college teams may find themselves beheaded at the end of the present football season.

Foremost among the alleged candidates for the guillotine are Bob Folwell, of the naval academy, because his is the most exacting post in football, and Bob Fisher, of Harvard, largely because his team happened to have a bad day against Princeton. Lose a few big games nowadays and volunteer pall bearers begin carrying you right out.

The writer recently concluded a flying trip through the middle west and there he learned from sources authoritative and several, that two of the "big ten" coaches were due to go. The names of Spaulding of Minnesota and Jack Ryan of Wisconsin were mentioned. Neither has had a successful season, although Ryan can point to indifferent material as the answer. Spaulding, however, is alleged to have had fair enough prospects at the start of the season.

Navy Dissatisfied

As for Folwell, it is known that the navy's dissatisfaction antedates the recent campaign. He has had good teams during his regime of five years at Annapolis and has held his own with the army, but football men have short memories. It has been said, with some justice, that Folwell's teams have lacked the punch and there one has the tip-off on the navy. They have won for the most part but they are not satisfied.

When a man graduates from a university, he plunges into business and remembers his football only when the big game comes on.

A navy officer has only two real interests, namely, the navy itself and his football team. Civilian coaches sit in a tough spot there.

Fisher Unsuccessful

The writer is not conversant with Fisher's situation at Harvard and is merely retailing current gossip in mentioning the possibility of a change there. Fisher's contract might have another year or so to run but it is fact, not fancy, that he is the kind of a man who would tear it up if he thought this action would serve the best interests of his university.

A good coach, following the Haughton system almost to the letter, Fisher has been markedly unsuccessful during recent years and it is no asonic secret that some Harvard men are dissatisfied with him. The talk now runs to a return to first principles and a reclamation of Harvard football, such as Haughton achieved back in 1908. Many seem to think that this only can be accomplished by a change in the coaching staff and the candidacy of Percy Wendell, former Harvard captain, now coaching at Williams, has been launched probably without his knowledge or consent.

Roper Spoofing

The resignation of Bill Roper at Princeton has been mentioned from time to time as an accepted fact; yet the writer expects Roper to be back on the job next fall, thereby agreeing with the gentleman himself. In a recent conversation, I mentioned his impending withdrawal and received the following answer:

"Don't be too sure of that. I like football and coaching too much to drop out like that without giving the matter further consideration."

Princeton will see that Roper's consideration is a favorable one. In fact I think he is making use of the situation to "fire up" his team for the big games by asking his young men to "make his last year a good one." He did this before the Harvard game last week.

Whether Columbia will care to string along with Dr. Paul Withington for another season is a question. Columbia wants a big figure to replace the late Percy Haughton and while Withington is a Haughton man it is not certain he will be retained, unless his team shows something very good in the remaining games.

Simpson Earns Shade Decision Over Tucker

San Antonio Lad Outboxed, But Bores in All Way

BECKWITH WINS BOUT

Levine Given Better of Tilt With Oklahoma Feather

Johnny Simpson, San Antonio welterweight, was awarded a referee's decision over Frankie Tucker of Los Angeles, because Simpson showed a dogged willingness to bore in and mix it although outboxed by Tucker.

The San Antonio youngster tore into the veteran Tucker in the first round at a fast clip, failed to accomplish any effective damage, but piled up points by carrying the fight to his opponent.

Tucker contented himself with left jabbing and throwing in apparently fairly gentle taps during the infighting which composed the greater portion of the bout.

It might be said out of fairness to the Los Angeles boxer that he entered the ring too soon following his last bout in which he injured both hands. Although hitting Simpson nearly at will Tucker had no snap to his blows.

The bout was not of the best. Simpson worked hard all the way, and tried to make a real scrap of it, but was outguessed and outpeeded by the wily Tucker.

Frankie Clever

On numerous occasions Tucker swayed back and forth blocking almost perfectly Simpson's onslaughts, and in no way attempting to retaliate.

The bout as far as Tucker was concerned seemed little more than a sparring match for all the real fighting he did. But at that, Frankie completely outboxed Simpson, but by comparative damage done the bout was a standoff with neither having an edge to speak of.

Simpson's left eye was cut badly in the sixth round during a melee of close battling, but it appeared from the ringside that the gash was made accidently when the pugilists bumped heads.

The bout was a scheduled 12-rounder, but the referee and time keeper lost count, thereby giving the fans an extra canto running the fight 13 rounds.

Snow Shades Cadhill

Soldier Brasier, San Antonio middleweight, failed to live up to the stories told of his prowess, and after making four separate acquaintances with the canvas in the first round at the behest of Russ Beckwith of Clinton, Okla., gave way in the second when his manager tossed in the towel.

Tabby Levine, Wichita Falls feather, was given a decision over Dude Armstrong of Clinton in six rounds. Neither lad was hurt to any extent.

Speedy Snow of Hollywood shaded Rusty Cahill of Graham in four rounds.

Rockne Working Micks Fast Clip

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 13.—Coach Knute Rockne is bending every effort toward whipping his brilliant football squad into the acme of condition for the big test of the season Saturday, when the Nebraska eleven, who, for the last two seasons, have broken Notre Dame winning streaks, comes to Cartier field here to do battle with the locals.

The Notre Dame men, barring accidents, are expected to be in the best shape. Stuhldreher, stellar quarterback, and Adam Walsh, star center, who have been on the injured list, will be in condition for the fray. With these two mainstays back in the line up, the full strength of the squad will be thrown against an opponent for the first time since the start of the season.

15 TEAMS UNBEATEN IN HIGH SCHOOL RACE

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—Fifteen class A high school football teams of the state interscholastic league remain undefeated so far this season and of this number seven will be eliminated before next Tuesday, Roy Henderson, manager, announced today. The final limit to determine district championships was originally November 15, but certain upsets will make it necessary to play games next Monday and Tuesday to determine the title.

Cleburne and Waco are the only Class A district champions which have been determined. Amarillo and Vernon must play again next Monday to determine a tie which resulted from their game of last Tuesday.

SOX NOSE OUT GIANTS

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Chicago Sox today turned the tables on the New York Giants by defeating them, 8 to 7, in the last appearance of the two American baseball teams in exhibition games in the French capital.

Varsity Mentor Believes Bears Will Beat S.M.U.

Bears Must Fight to Win, And Doc Declares Them Best

OWLS UP AGAINST IT

Bruins All Set for Another Southwest Conference Title

BY DOC STEWART,
Longhorn Grid Mentor.

AUSTIN, Nov. 13—Last week-end's results in the Southwestern conference brought Baylor prominently to the fore in the championship race, as I predicted before the season started.

Should Beat Mustangs.

Baylor played, by far, the best game that any team has played against the Longhorns this year and I believe will defeat both S. M. U. and Rice unless weakened by overconfidence or some other of the epidemics that have struck certain conference teams this season.

Bridges has been very fortunate in keeping his team intact but the same good fortune has fallen to Morrison at S. M. U. If either of the two is hit by an injury epidemic such as the type that laid Texas and T. C. U. low, championship hopes are gone.

Owls Not Dangerous.

Rice, of course, must be considered seriously, as the Owls have two games to their credit with no defeats, and yet, I feel that they do not have a fifty-fifty chance to get by both the Texas Aggies and Baylor. In fact, Coach Heisman is deserving of the greatest of credit for what he has done with the lowly Owls if they do not win another game.

Texas, as was expected, failed to show the punch of the 1923 team and has had to attempt to put over touchdowns with forward passes—a style of game unfitted to her players, who are too light to buck the line and not swift enough to pull trick formations.

My prediction for the first three places at the end of the season at this date, would be: 1—Baylor; 2—S. M. U. and 3—Texas Aggies.

Bears Trickey.

Baylor has a tricky and yet powerful team capable of putting across power and deceptive plays — which may be good for 10 or 14 points in the coming Baylor-S. M. U. game at Dallas Saturday.

S. M. U. appears to have a team capable of slipping across one touchdown against any kind of opposition via the aerial route, but does not impress me with the driving power of Baylor.

Aggies Should Win.

The Aggies, according to reports of my scouts, have power mixed with a few long passes, and have finally hit their stride at line punching. On the other hand, Rice, the remaining contender, does not have the power in my opinion, to go through the strong lines that she will encounter during the balance of the season.

Baylor 14; S. M. U. 7.
Aggies 14; Rice 0.
Texas 0; T. C. U. 0.

These are my predictions for the coming week-end games. The Oklahoma Aggies and Arkansas university have opposition outside the conference with which I am little acquainted.

Farmers Hoping To Cast Off Jinx Owls Are Holding

Rice Game Stepping Stone For Thanksgiving Go With Steers

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 13. — Inwardly exhultant at the continuing evidence of the weakening of the Longhorns and the consequent inability of that team to withstand them when they go to Clark field on November 27 to take vengeance for the defeat given them on Kyle field last Thanksgiving the Texas Aggies await with the Owls to Kyle field this Friday. This game looms as the only obstacle in the progress of the Farmers toward that day when they will enter the field against the broken Longhorn squad.

The cause of the uncertainty over this game with the Rice Owls is the past history of the competition between these two teams. For some inexplainable reason the Owls always play against the Farmers in a super condition of physique, skill and spirit. And the Farmers always appear depressed in physical form and deficient in mental alertness when they meet the institute boys from Houston. This year the Aggies realize there is much more reason for fear of exceptional ability in the Rice squad in that they will be directed by the tactical Heisman. The effect of his system has already been noticed in the decisive defeat administered to the Longhorns two weeks ago by the Owls.

If they can hold their victorious spirit triumphant through this contest on Kyle field, the Farmers will be greatly strengthened for the greatest meet of the year, that on Thanksgiving day. But it is feared that a defeat Friday would greatly deplete their moral strength and leave them listless for the two weeks of practice and preparation for the Turkey day game which will begin on Kyle field following the game Friday.

Horned Frogs Fall Prey To Mumps Attack

FORT WORTH, Nov. 13—"Fight" was the motto of the Longhorns against Baylor last week and it will be the motto of the Horned Frogs against the Longhorns this week. With injury, mumps, and ineligibility all having taken a punch at T. C. U. the Frogs are still the gallant fighters that they have been all season and they are feeling mean enough to give Doc Stewart's gen a tough fight.

The triple-threat of Donald Fraze and especially his long distance passes will be missed by the Frogs here Saturday. He has been ruled scholastically ineligible. What makes his absence serious is that the only other first-class fullback of the squad, big Jim Cantrell, is nursing three torn ribs and will not be able to get into the game.

Cecil Morgan, the reserve halfback who almost stopped the Texas Aggies last Friday when the rest of the team couldn't, was downed Sunday with the mumps. His chum and fellow-townsman from San Angelo, Harold Carson, has a jaw ailment that may be a coming attack of the same trouble.

Morgan's loss will be immediately felt as he was almost sure to start the game to give the rest of the battered backfield a rest. If Carson is out his loss will not hurt unless Herman Clark is too hard hit by the Longhorn rushes.

Clark at quarterback and Nicholson at end are the only two regulars on the squad who are not hurt.

$75,000 Damage Is Bridgeport Loss

BRIDGEPORT, Texas, Nov. 13.—Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed four brick business building here and for a time threatened the entire business district. Loss was estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Backfield of Southpaws and South feet Shines At Pennsylvania

The four southpaws. Upper left, Joe Laird, quarterback; Below, Capt. Rex McGraw, halfback; Upper right, Pastor Fields, halfback; Below, Albert Kruez, fullback.

One reason for the phenominal success of Pennsylvania's grid team this fall might well be attributed to the fact that the opposition has spent the first half of every game figuring out what is wrong with the Penn backfield.

The main reason for their dilemma are these:

All four men of the backfield throw forward passes lefthanded.

Two of the men—and the men who do most of the booting—kick the ball with their left foot.

Capt Rae McGraw, halfback, star defense man and the main forward passer, is lefthanded. So are Albert Kruez, the plunging fullback; Joe Liard, quarterback, and Paster Fields, the other half.

Kruez and Field kick the ball with the "near" foot.

What's a poor wing or backfield man on the opposition going to do when on every play he sees a Penn man running around the field with the ball poised in the wrong hand waiting to heave it with a Rube Waddell slant, to a receiver? There's nothing in "How to Play Football" covering that emergency. As a result he is caught flat-footed.

The advantage of the southpaw kicker is plain. Repeatedly Kruez and Field get their kicks—drops or punts—away with unexpected speed, as far as the opposition is concerned. They start with what is apparently the wrong foot. Then, to the amazement of the uninitiated, let drive with the "wrong" foot.

In addition to being a great asset in the Penn offensive the presence of the four southpaws and two left-footers gives the scribes covering the games many premature gray hairs.

Coach Young's men defeated Lafayette on a touchdown resulting from a forward pass. It was many minutes after the game before the newspapermen verified their beliefs as to who started the pass.

When the ball was hurled McGraw, Kruez and Field were in the play. All three were close together when the ball was heaved. McGraw and Kruez had been starting most of the passes that day so the scribes credited one or the other with the pass. It turned out later that Field had hurled it.

Pennsylvania stands out as one of the two undefeated teams of the east. Rutgers is the other. But the Penn team is the only one to escape a tie Lehigh and Rutgers played a 13 to 13 deadlock.

Rutgers, however, trounced Lafayette 43 to 7. Pennsylvania, previously, had barely escaped defeat, winning against Lafayette 6 to 3 due to the forward pass mentioned above.

French Kids Beat Elders At Baseball

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(AP)—It remained for the children of Paris to appreciate the American national game of baseball, when their elders had failed miserably to do so. Lustily lunged chowds of French war orphans—boys and girls—today cheered the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox as they played their final game in Paris, and many of them were even keen enough to see the fine points of the play.

There was whistling and applause from the youngsters when runs were made and pandemonium broke out when the Giants tied the score in the seventh inning and the Sox made the winning run in the eighth.

The orphans attended the game by invitation of Managers McGraw and Comiskey, who had been disappointed by the failure of the grown ups to show an yinterest in the sport.

That the playing took a great hold on the French children, who were from 7 to 12 years old, was made evident when the Giant short stop, Jackson, failed to grab a hot ball. The urchins yelled almost in chorus, 'oh what a shame—"

The little girls remained dignified throughout the game but the boys were boys as usual. They were watching the technique of the play, it was seen toward the seventh inning when one of the lads was overheard to rdemark:

"Ah, now I see, if the ball arrives at first base before the batter then the batter is out."

Firpo Done As Fighter Here, Say His Critics

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—"What Firpo needs" quoth a critic this morning "is plenty of road work—miles and miles of it."

After watching the gentleman in question flounder through 12 rounds with Charley Weinert in Newark last night, the writer lends his hearty commendation to this suggestion, provided the following condition is accepted:

Firpo must do all his road work in one direction, to wit, due south, with Buenos Aires as his immediate objective.

He is all over and done with in these parts, through as a show man, through as a drawing card, through as a fighter. His speed is gone, so is his punch. There isn't the slightest reason for him to dally longer here. He drew only $12,000 at the box office and a beating in almost every round for his efforts last night.

Weinert, trained for once, in his life, simply stabbed the senor's face into human hamburger. Luis, meantime, essayed ludicious attempts at boxing and foot work while the fat about his abdomen jellied and shook and shivered. The rolls of flesh are a permanent institution. Firpo weighed 222 pounds, nearly his normal ringside poundage. He had taken off everything that was due to come.

Ringside critics varied in awarding Weinert from nine rounds to the entire 12 but this semeed to the writer to be dabbling in morbid details. The exhibition itself was bad enough without parading its post mortems. Suffice it is to say that if Firpo won any one of the 12 rounds he skillfully concealed the fact from the general public.

This is the same men who ventured within a punch of winning the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey hardly more than a year ago. He, perforce, is not the same fighter. He merely has the same name and position of the eyebrows. When Firpo was beating Brennan, Willard and others, he had the winning complex. He was a tough citizen with a heavy punch and he thought he was invincible. He knows now that he isn't and with that knowledge, 50% of his morale, his will to win, has gone out of him.

TO PLAN CENTENNIAL

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—Preparatory work for the Texas centennial exposition is scheduled for a meeting Friday at Waco of the committees on permanent organization and of finance, called by Cato Sells, general chairman.

AGED MEN IN BATTLE

One, 85, Kills His Neighbor, 79, After Furious Struggle.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 13.—Bond arrangements totaling $1000 had been completed today for 85-year-old W. W. Thom who Tuesday confessed the slaying of his 79-year-old neighbor but declared he was forced to shoot in self-defense. The dead man, John J. Campbell, had quarreled with Thom for weeks according to his wife who arose to the defense of Thom.

Mrs. Campbell, widowed by the affray, told police that after the two aged men had thrown all the bottles and rocks available at each other, her husband secured a shot gun and fired twice at Thom who had taken refuge behind a tree. Thom drew his revolver. Mrs. Campbell said, sending a bullet into the temple of her husband.

BREAKS OF THE GAME

By BILL BRUCE

Apparently every football team that plays Notre Dame absorbs the stuff of the Hoosiers and springs it on the next team it meets. For instance the Army was full of the Rockne tricks when it played Yale and Princeton could not have suffered much for its close-ups of Messrs. Stuhldreher, Crowley, Leydon and Miller in action. In fact those Tiger backs ran just like them.

Young Mr. Beattie who performed so whole-heartedly as Princeton's left tackle in the stadium Saturday, never had any line experience until this year. Last year he was a member of the Tiger "heavy" backfield. The year before his line plunging won the Yale game for the "Team of Destiny." Now he is as good a tackle as we have seen this year and he retains some of his backfield traits, witness his 50-yard run for touchdown after catching a Harvard pass.

Think what a terrific advantage the Tiger spotted Harvard in the matter of hush stuff and secret practice.

This West Virginia Wesleyan football team, which beat the Navy and Syracuse on successive Saturdays, is coached by Bob Higgins, former all American end at Penn State, one of those members of the mythical team about whose right to a place there never was any question.

We wonder how a few of our heavyweight fighters would have stood up under the hard knocks the Princeton team handed out.

Lou Little has nothing to be ashamed of in his first game as opposing coach at Pennsylvania. Georgetown certainly gave the quakers a lot to think about.

There is a Jewish playing guard for Georgetown unless the typos have erred in spelling. Some contrast.

Capt. Jim Sheldon of Brown was missed Saturday. They tell me he will be fit to play against Harvard in the stadium this coming week end. While week end applies to Jim's appearance, it sure does not apply to his style of game.

THE POET'S CORNER
Gridiron Ballade

Said the Notre Dame boy to the Muskingum boy,
"Hey, how you betting on the game today?
When your alma mater and my alma mater
Get all scrambled up on the field of play."

"Well, you see," said the Muskingum boy,
"I don't think I'll bet on the game today.
Your team is so win-ful and betting is so sinful
I kinda think you'd better put your dough away."

"Well, well, well," said the Notre Dame boy.
"What the world has happened to old Muskingum?
I very much fear it has lost the college spirit.
Something must have put the old spirit on the bum."

The Muskingum boy wiped a tear from his eye;
It very much looked like he'd sit down and cry.
And through his teeth these words did leak:
"Oh, the spirit is willing, but the cash is weak!"

OFFICERS SLAY COUSINS

Answer Fire From Auto Near Hemphill and Kill Two Men.

HEMPHILL, Texas, Nov. 13.—No charges had been filed today in connection with the killing Tuesday night of Virgil and David Powell, cousins, about 10 miles from Hemphill.

Sheriff Nations and Deputy Gill were watching for liquor runners and saw an automobile with lights out standing by the roadside, the sheriff reported here yesterday. He said two men were found in the car and when ordered to throw up their hands one of the men began shooting. Sheriff Nations said he and Gill returned the fire and the men were killed. He said he found three gallons of whiskey in the car. The Powells, both young men, lived in San Augustine county.

OAKLAND CLUB PRICE NEAR $375,000 MARK

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 13.—Walter Johnson came, talked, but has not at the present moment purchased the Oakland Coast League franchise from J. Cal Ewing. Johnson brought George Weiss of the New Haven club, as a prospective partner to buy the club. After pitching an exhibition game against Ray Kremer of the Pittsburg Pirates in Oakland, Johnson went to Southern California, Weiss remaining a few days to learn substantial financial figures on the Oaks from Ewing.

Insiders claimed the difference in Johnson's offer and Ewing's price was $34,000. No one knows. Ewing was reported to have wanted varying amounts from $357,000 to $450,000. No one actually knows the details. If they do they're keeping them a secret.

Owls All O.K. For Tilt With Aggies Today

Team in Shape and Quits Scrimmage Rest Of Year

HOUSTON, Nov. 13.—The Rice Owls, undefeated contenders for the Southwestern Conference football title are in splendid condition for the game with Texas A. & M. at College Station Friday, according to a statement by Coach John W. Heisman late today. The Owls have had no scrimmages this week and the coach contemplates no more for the remainder of the season. "I feel that all the possible good which can accrue from scrimmages has been gotten by my team and we will spend the rest of our practice periods perfecting our plays and in such exercises which will keep the men on edge physically," declared Mr. Heisman.

SAYS STATESMEN FOUGHT

Write Declares Lloyd George Seized Clemenceau by Collar.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Publication of a book written by H. Wichham Steed, former editor of the Times, entitled "Through 50 years," today brought from King George a strong denial of a passage in the volume which related that during the peace conference at Versailles Premier Clemenceau of France "accused Lloyd George so flatly of repeated inaccuracies of statement that Lloyd George seized him by the collar and demanded an apology and after President Wilson had separated them Clemenceau offered Lloyd George reparation with pistols or swords."

The former British premier characterized the Steed account today as a "stupid invention which contains not the slightest basis of truth."

Nebraska Fears Notre Dame In Coming Contest

Dawson Has Wholesome Respect for Horrible Hibernians

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 13.—From a Cornhusker standpoint, the Horrible Hibernians—the fighting Irish of Notre Dame—are more horrible, more terrifying than ever. Head Coach Fred Dawson and the five Nebraska regulars who accompanied him to Madison, Wis., last Saturday have returned to the Cornhuskers camp with glowing reports as to the gridirons prowess of the Irish gridsters. Dawson, in fact, went the limit in praising the Rockne team, which, according to his statement, literally toyed with the "Big Ten" Badgers.

Great Machine.

"Rockne has the smoothest working football machine I ever saw in action," Dawson proclaimed. "Notre Dame is a real wonder team without being unusually big, but its players are stocky, sturdy, fast, aggressive and smart. It makes its plays go with a bang and drive because every man is in every play. Notre Dame had its regulars in action only half the sixty minutes. It had the power and punch to have counted sixty points had Rockne really care to run up a big score.

Makes No Guess.

"I shall venture no predictions concerning what Nebraska may do against Notre Dame next Saturday. We were so fortunate as to win from Notre Dame the past two years, but that can mean nothing next Saturday. We are light and inexperienced in comparison with the past two years. If the injury situation at Nebraska were not so serious, I might be in better spirits, but I will suggest, anyway, that the Cornhuskers will head for Indiana with a firm determination to fight."

AIDS CRIPPLE; OUT $9,000

Tennessee Salesman Finds Out Why New Yorkers Are Cold.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A demonstration of why New Yorkers are hard hearted was given to Robert J. Fisher, a salesman of Athens, Tenn., in the wash room of a hotel here today.

A cripple entered the room, dropped a handful of coins and groaned as he stopped to pick them up. Fisher obligingly helped, but when he arose the cripple had departed with a wallet from Fisher's coat containing jewelry valued at $9,000.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

We left Billy hiding from a man who had been trying to catch him for the reward. The man took a nap and Billy got away and the man couldn't find him when he woke up.

"That old rascal!" the man said to himself, "I believe he saw me all the time and was just waiting for me to get tired out and drop off to sleep. I'll go back and get my horse and ride down to the road that runs along the other side of this field and see if I can' catch him yet."

Billy had thought the man might do this, so he ran as fast as he could until he came to a thick woods with a high rail fence around it. This he jumped and then hid himself in among the thick trees and shrubs, to watch to see if the man did not follow him.

Sure enough, he was scarcely well screened by the bushes when he heard the galloping of a horse, and presently in a cloud of dust the man passed by, urging his horse on faster and faster. Billy remained in hiding until the man gave up the hunt and came riding back dejectedly, his horse in lather and himself hatless and covered with dust. Billy gave him time to disappear out of sight down the road, then he came out of his hidding place, leaped the fence and proceeded down the road. He had not gone far when he came in sight of a large farmhouse, barn and outbuildings, around which he could see cows, horses, sheep, goats, pigs, turkeys and chickens.

"My, that is a prosperous looking farm! The best I have seen in many a day. I think I will stop there for the night, for if I am not mistaken I see some Angora goats back of the barn. If that is so, I should enjoy talking to some of my own kind. It has been a long time now since I have had a chance to talk to a goat, much less aristocratic ones like the Angoras."

It was fast growing dark when Billy first spied the farmhouse and its many stables and sheds and he could see some hired men driving the milch cows into their sheds to be milked while others were leading the horses to water down to a little spring at the foot of the barnyard hill. An old woman in a sunbonnet was feeding the chickens and turkeys, while a boy with a shepherd dog was bringing in a flock of sheep to be shut in their shed for the night.

(Tomorrow we will find out if Billy was made welcome at the farm.)

Color Cut-Outs

"Hello, is this Grandpa Rollins?" Mildred inquired over the telephone. "Yes? This is Mildred, Grandpa. How are you? That's good. Listen, grandpa, I wonder if I could borrow your long cane. We're going to have a play at school and I have to be little Bo Peep, and I'll need a great big cane—one like yours. Oh, you'll really let me have it? Oh, grandpa, you're simply wonderful—I'll come right over and get it." Mildred hung up the receiver and hugged Mildred affectionately. "You come with me and we'll go right over and get it."

"All right," agreed Betty. "Let's hurray."

Grandpa Rollins had the cane ready when the girls arrived, and they stopped to call for her friend, Mildred, their children's book week play.

(Tomorrow Mildred fixes her last dress to wear in the play).

BUILDINGS DECLINE.

Building operations in Wichita Falls the past few days have slowed down perceptibly and the record for this week, it is expected, will be below the average. Buildings of a higher cost are being put up, Building Inspector Fred Smith reports, but there are not so many of them.

Mothers

AND THEIR CHILDREN

Courtesy Through Books

One Mother Says:

My boy had the idea that he wished to be a regular "he-man" and being courteous, having good manners, was effeminate. I got him to reading some of the stories in which the heroes are noted for their courtesy, such as the stories of King Arthur and his knights, and Robin Hood, who punished a stupid sheriff for his discourtesy. I gave him the motto from the "Faerie Queene"—"For seldom yet did living creature see that courtesies and manhood disagree."

FIRE LOSS INCREASES.

Damage Here This Year Exceeds That of Last 12 Months.

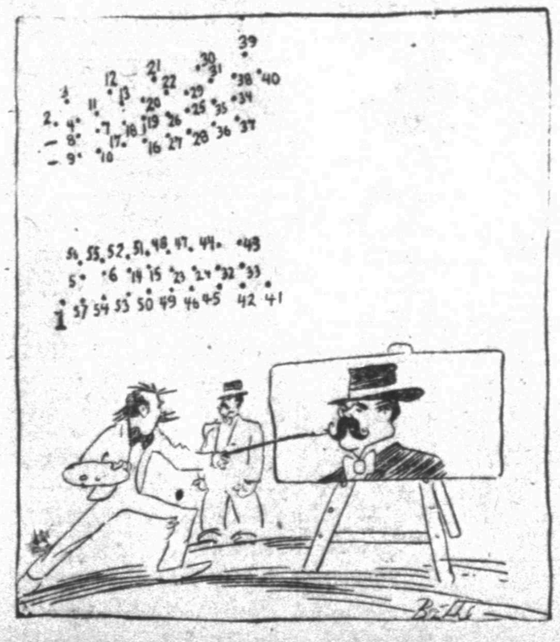

Wichita Falls' fire loss for the year 1924 is to far exceed that of the year just past.

Fire Chief J. L. McClure in checking up on his records has found that to date fire has taken a property toll of over $257,000 in the city this year, while in 1923 the entire twelve months showed a loss of about $151,000. With more than six weeks still remaining in 1924 this total is certain to be increased.

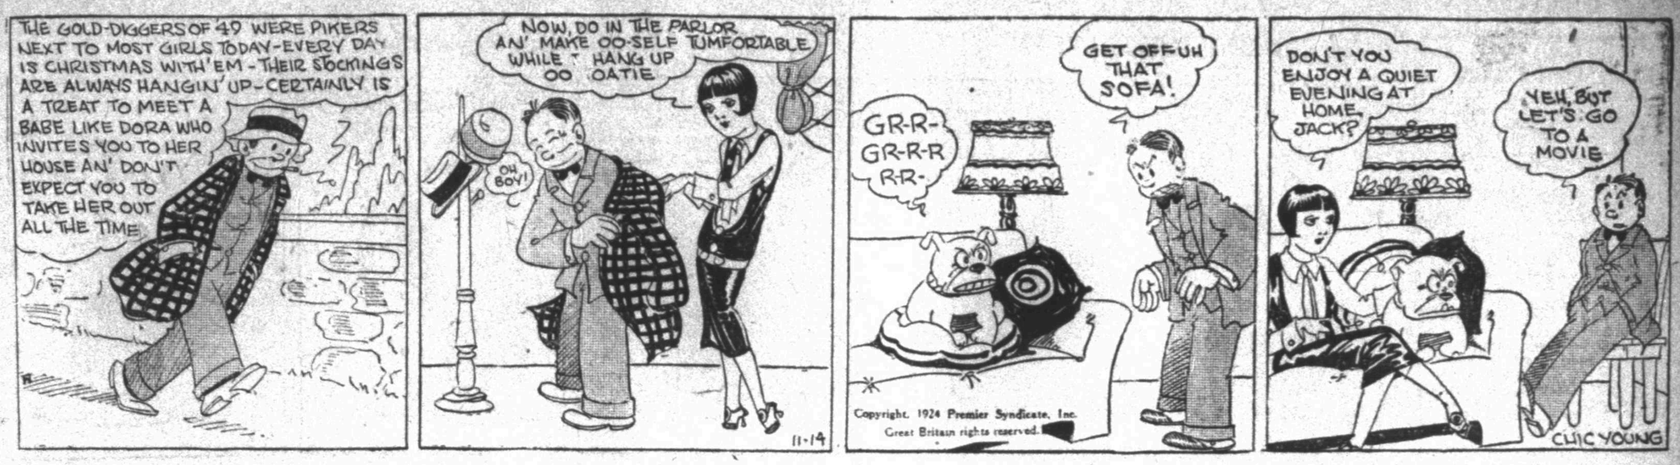

The explanation lies simply in the fact that more smaller fires are being encountered, the chief says. The city has had no big blazes this year in which the loss mounted into the $100,000 class, but has had a multitude of smaller ones in which homes and small stores representing losses of $5,000 or thereabouts have been suffered.

This will not effect the city's key rate on insurance policies but will react on its good fire record which has and still is one of the best in the state.

LEGAL NOTICE.

SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Wichita.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the honorable 30th district court of Wichita Falls, Wichita county, on the 28th day of October 1924 by A. F. Kerr, clerk of said court for the sum of two hundred and three dollars, and costs of suit, under a certain judgment, in favor of W. R. Hyer in a certain cause in said court, No. 6971 and styled W. R. Hyer vs. T. J. Livingston and placed in my hands for service, I W. W. Murphy as sheriff of Wichita county, Texas, did, on the 1st day of November 1924, levy on certain real estate, situated in Wichita county, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: Lots 3 and 4, block No. 108 of the Floral Heights addition of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas and levied upon as the property of T. J. Livingston and that on the first Tuesday in December 1924, the same being the 2nd day of said month, at the court house door, of Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale, I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said T. J. Livingston.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in Wichita county.

Witness my hand, this 1st day of November 1924.

W. W. MURPHY,
Sheriff Wichita County, Texas.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the sheriff or any constable of Wichita county, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of 10 days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Wichita county, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To all persons interested in the estate of G. T. Akers, deceased know ye: That J. A. Tanner and M. B. Cain have filed in the county court of Wichita county, an application for the probate of the last will and testament of said G. T. Akers deceased, filed with said application, and for letters testamentary which will be heard at the next term of said court, commencing on the first Monday in December A. D. 1924, the same being the 1st day of December, A. D. 1924 at the court house thereof, in Wichita Falls, at which time all persons interested in said estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 5th day of November, A. D. 1924.

ALMA Y. MILLER, Clerk,
County court Wichita county, Texas.
(Seal)
By M. F. YEAGER, Deputy.

Opening: December 24.30, January 24.47, March 24.75, May 25.02, July 24.75.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—New high prices for the movement were made in the cotton market today, owing to reports of increasing demand for cotton goods and a firm spot situation in the south. After easing off early to 24.36, January advanced to 24.93, or 42 points net higher, but at this price attracted considerable realizing and closed at 24.88. The general market closed steady at net advances of 10 to 24 points.

The market was rather nervous and unsettled at the start. First prices were 3 to 8 points lower and soon showed net losses of 8 to 15 points under overnight selling orders from the south, combined with local and commission house liquidation promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables. Trade buying helped to absorb these early offerings, however, and the market soon turned upward on covering by recent sellers for a reaction and fresh commission house buying. The latter evidently was stimulated by reports from the southwest that additional ocean freight room was being booked for export to Liverpool and Manchester, and that there was a good demand for the cotton offering from the interior. There also were reports of a very steady to firm spot situation in the eastern belt and an early afternoon bulge in the market was accompanied by talk of increasing demand for cotton goods in the local market and continued activity in the stock market.

Houses with Wall street connections were among the buyers on the advance which carried December up to 24.72 and March to 25.20, or about 40 to 45 points net higher. Offerings increased as January approached the 25c level and there was a little more hedge selling as well as realizing on the late reactions of some 20 to 25 points from the best.

Exports today 18,191, making 2,393,263 so far this season. Port receipts 48,739. U. S. port stocks 1,326,548.

May	25.26	24.76	25.05-08	24.88
July	25.05	24.69	24.90	24.70

Opening: December 24.18, January 24.22, March 24.50, May 24.83 bid; July 24.64 bid.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The cotton market developed a decidedly firmer tone today and prices advanced until at one time in the afternoon the most active month, January, showed a gain of 44 points over the closing level of yesterday. About half of this gain was lost in the last quarter of an hour of trading on profit taking, leaving the net gain about 20 points for the day. Trading was rather broader than it has been of late and aside from the final break on realizing the trend of values was steadily upward.

At the start prices were easier owing to Liverpool coming in lower than due and because of the generally favorable weather map. Soon after the opening call December traded at 24.18, January at 24.22 and March at 24.52, or 9to 17 points below the previous close. These prices proved to be the lows of the day. The market soon started upward and prices advanced nearly all day until in the afternoon. December traded as high as 24.80, January at 24.83 and March at 25.04 or 52 to 62 points above the lows and 43 to 47 points above the previous close. The reaction of the late trading carried prices down 21 to 25 points from the highs and the close showed net gains for the day of 17 to 22 points.

The main influences causing the improvement included the further activity and advance in stocks and grain a decided improvement in the cotton goods markets and a better demand for spots at a higher basis. More over, the feeling prevailed that as cotton had not advanced anything like as much as other speculative commodities an advance was due.

New Orleans Cotton Letter

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Cotton was strong and higher today owing to increasing trade and public buying. At one time it sold 47 points net higher, with the distant positions going above 25 cents. Considerable realizing developed at times during the day, but it rallied late and ended about 20 points net higher.

Liverpool appeared indisposed to follow the advancing trend and claimed the advance was interfering with business. Our market, however, paid more attention to mills re-opening or increasing working time in this country and belief that English spinners will vote to increase their working time. Spot news was also encouraging, being reported hard to buy everywhere.

A statement from the head of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers that manufacturers of cotton goods have turned the corner created a favorable impression.

We may be entering a period where temporary reactions are likely to occur anytime, but we believe that prices are on the up-grade and will soon work much higher.

WICHITA SPOTS

Wichita Falls spot cotton continued to advance Thursday, and middling cotton brought 23.75 yesterday afternoon. This is close to, if not the best, price paid for spot cotton in this section during the present season, yet holders of the staple do not seem inclined to turn loose of it, and are still holding for a better price.

New York, steady, middling 24.70; New Orleans 24.55, sales 5,560; Waco 24.65; Savannah 24.75, sales 906; Memphis 24c; Houston 24.65, sales 1,010; to arrive 10,040; Galveston 24.60, sales 1,545, FOB 1,400; Augusta 24.50, sales 456; Dallas 24.65; Fort Worth 24.60; Memphis 24.

DALLAS, Nov. 13.—Basis reported unchanged over entire belt, but very firm. Demand fair to good. Offerings light.

COTTON SEED

DALLAS, Nov. 13.—Cotton seed $40; oil 8¾ to 9c; meal $39; hulls $7.50; linters, AMB, 3½ to 6c.

Grain

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Wheat soared today well above the top most prices heretofore reached this season. Reduced Canadian crop figures, the chief immediate influence led the speculative buying on a big scale. Closing quotations on wheat, however, were unsettled, 1½c to 2¾c net higher. December 1.54⅞ to 1.55 and May 1.62 to 1.62½, with corn ¾ to 1¼c up, oats showing 1c to 1¼ to 1½c gain, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 10c.

Corn and oats displayed independent strength owing more or less to reports that corn growers were organizing to hold for $1.50 a bushel.

Provisions were somewhat firmer sympathizing with grain.

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Wheat made new highs on buying stimulated by the strength abroad and at Winnipeg, the latter due to reduced figures on the Canadian crop issued late yesterday. Buying was general and occasional dips due to profit taking met with good support.

Underlying bullish world conditions are being more clearly demonstrated daily and points to higher prices.

Corn: Had a further good advance which was held in check by profit taking on the part of leading bull interests. There was much short covering early. Cash basis relatively unchanged. Considering that this is not the season for a natural advance in corn, the market is showing remarkable strength.

Oats: Showed best tone in long time, influenced by Canadian report. Shorts covered and the advance attracted profit taking as in other grains.

Total sales, 2,228,700 shares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—With total sales exceeding 2,000,000 shares for the fifth consecutive full session price fluctuations in today's market became more erratic closing quotations displaying considerable irregularity, opening trading was not in such large volume, but when it became apparent than the heavy profit taking of professional traders had been completed, at least temporarily, the market swung upward again on increased activity with some spectacular advances taking place in the popular industrials. The high prices, however, encouraged a renewal of realizing and bear selling, which was still under way when the closing gong sounded.

More than 50 issues, mostly industrials, soared to new peak prices for the year during the day, while the general industrial average was carried to the highest level in several years. The general railroad average showed a moderate decline.

U. S. Cast Iron Pipe was the sensational performer, soaring over 8 points to 147½, a new high for all time, on a continuation of urgent short covering and then sagging back to 142. American Can also established a record top at 153½, but it eased later to 151½, where it was up 3¼ points on the day.

U. S. Steel common crossed 115 to the highest price in five years and then slipped back to 114⅝ for a net gain of nearly one point on the day.

Declaration of only the regular dividend on Southern Pacific setting at rest rumors that the annual rate was to be raised to $7, brought about heavy selling of that stock, which dropped 2⅛ points from its high, and had a dampening effect on other railroad shares. Katy preferred developed strength, however, climbing nearly four points to a new 1924 maximum price at 66¼. Missouri Pacific preferred and Atlantic Coast Line also broke through their previous 1924 highs.

The brisk demand for Savage Arms, which soared five points to a new peak price at 76½, was based on the large profits that company is reported to be making in the manufacture and sale of refrigerating apparatus. Other individual strong spots included American Woolen, DuPont, American Ice, Brown Shoe, Central Leather preferred, Federal Mining and Smelting preferred, Goodyear Tire preferred, Hayes Wheel, Postum Cereal and United Fruit all up 3 to nearly 6 points.

The recent improvement in the silk business was reflected in the demand for H. R. Mallison, which advanced 2¼ points to a new high at 34. Other popular industrials to sell at the year's best prices were Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Coca Cola, Western Union, Brooklyn Edison, Maxwell Motor "A," White Motors and General Asphalt common and preferred. General Electric soared nearly 6 points to 270¼ and then fell back to 265¾.

Frisco common, Northern Pacific, Chesapeak and Ohio, St. Paul preferred, American Smelting, Houston Oil, Kansas City Southern, St. Louis Southwestern, and Shulte Stores were among the many issues to close at net losses of one to two points.

Call money ruled unchanged at 2 per cent. Time money rates held steady although offerings increased. Commercial paper continued to rule between 3¼ and 3¾ per cent. The transfer of funds from New York to London in order to take advantage of the higher interest rates in the British capital was reflected in the advance of more than three cents in sterling exchange. Scandinavian currencies also made substantial gains, most of the other European currencies showing slight improvement.

Published by The Texas Company, Port Arthur, "illustrating real conservation, we send a photograph showing the type of steel gunbarrel tank in use on some of our leases in the North Texas Division.
"The tank is so constructed that from one inch to three inches vacuum is maintained. Vacuums regulator is also shown. We have seven of these tanks in operation, from which we conserve 200,000 cubic feet of gas daily, not conserved previously, which is taken to our Electra gasoline plant.
"This tank and others of like construction pay us good dividends. On the present price of gasoline and residue gas sales, we figure that each three or four months these tanks have earned their investment. Also, they greatly reduce fire hazard on our producing properties."

"Spring and Moonlight" Give Enjoyable Promise Of Coming Vaudeville

Unusual Good Stage Offerings Are in Immediate Store for Wichita Falls Theatre Patrons.

Whenever there is moonlight, it is spring, and spring and affection are synonymous. To see Fritzi Brunette in "Spring and the Moonlight," a clever comedy having to do with the domestic life of a young couple named Winthrop, at the Wichita Theater Friday afternoon, night and Saturday night is to prove it.

Miss Brunette who is the headliner on the vaudeville bill this week is a former film star, but since coming into the vaudeville has become one of the most popular bill toppers. She is supported by an excellent cast.

Card Expert Coming.

Nate Leipsig, the international card expert, has had probably more honors conferred upon him than has any other magician and his success has been in many fields. His manipulation of an ordinary deck of playing cards proves that the hand is quicker than the eye, and he does many tricks that are really mathematical problems.

"Opera vs. Jazz," a singing, dancing travesty is featured with Eva Puck and Sam White. Eva Puck has been on the stage practically all her life, and she is among the best known and best liked engnuses in musical comedy. Sam White has an equally high reputation. They were both in "Irene," and "Mary," with several additions of the "Passing Show."

Echo of "Blossom Time."

Harry Burns of Burns and Company in which he plays as the Italian Signor does some clever acting in his skit, "I Think You Touch," an argumentative explanation in song and music. De Jari, romantic court singer, with Louise Best created and sang the tenor roles in the original production of "Blossom Time," and in the "Rose of Stambo". Ginzaro, a Jap, is a top spinner and blockjuggler and in these two pursuits he has no equal.

The matinee begins at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Wichita Theater.

IT'S A ROAR OF LAUGHS

"Meet The Wife" Calculated to Be The Best Comedy of The Season.

Last November fourteen plays opened in New York. When July came around this year Lynn Starling's merry comedy "MEET THE WIFE" was still running strong and was the sole survivor; many discriminating playgoers were seeing it for the third and fourth time. "MEET THE WIFE" alone attracted the wider public and continues to do so; largely by its own undoubted merit, but also because of an adequate and tasteful production given it by Jules Hurtig, the producer who sent us last season, his wonderful success "Just Married."

There are ripples and roars of laughter as the witty dialogue and skillfully constructed situations of "MEET THE WIFE" are unfolded. In the second act eight characters combine and separate, assemble and dissemble, as lovers and allies, detractors and antagonists, until all possible permutations and combinations seem exhausted.

"MEET THE WIFE" comes to the Palace Theatre for two night and one matinee Monday, November 17, and Tuesday Matinee and night November 18.

"TELL ME WHY" COMING

Special Showing For Men And Women Announced by Management.

It was announced yesterday that a birth control picture was to be be presented at the Palace Theatre next week, the picture is "TELL ME WHY" a drama taken from real life, which deal with one of the important and problematical subjects of the modern days, birth control. However "Tell Me Why" is not put out by any organization, nor is it for, nor against this question, but a tremendous drama of mother love and exceptional entertainment value for every father, mother, son and daughter.

"Tell Me Why" will be the attraction at The Palace theatre on Wednesday and Thursday November 19 and 20. Because of the delicate nature of the subject the shows during the afternoon will be for women only and nights for men only, it is announced.

Drive On Hot Checks

McCormick Rounding Up Many Offenders In City.

A drive waged by State Ranger W. J. McCormick against hot check artists in this vicinity has resulted in the past ten days in the arrest of eleven men, all of whom have either plead guilty to the charges or are in jail or under bond awaiting trial. Two men entered pleas of guilty Thursday and paid fines assessed. One was brought down from Vernon.

In view of the constant increase in the losses to business men of this city through the worthless check rout, Mr. McCormick decided some time ago to devote much of his time to a pursuit of such offenders. That his efforts have been successful is attested by the large number of arrests made. The checks involved have ranged in size from a few dollars on up to amounts that caused a real loss for the obliging merchants who cashed the check.

MASTER FORGER WANTS OUT

He Resorts to Court Filings to Escape From Jail.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 13.—William Hagan Harkins, known in national banking circles as the "master forger" and whose boast is that no jail can hold him, filed habeas corpus proceedings late today in Dade county circuit court.

Police authorities in several widely separate cities in the United States today requested that Harkins, arrested here yesterday, be held for them on various charges.

JACK NINE BEATS PAIR

Deuces No Good in this Game When Solons Play.

FESSENDEN, N. D., Nov. 13.—A jack, nine and five spot gave W. H. Hart, non-partisan league, a seat in the North Dakota house yesterday when he cut the cards with his opponent to break a tie vote.

Con Sellie, independent and anti-league, lost by drawing a jack and a pair of deuces.

Applications For Inventory Jobs Being Received

Many Apply At Office of U. S. Commerce Dept. In This City

Numerous applications for positions as enumerators in the federal farm census to be taken in north Texas under the direction of the U. S. department of commerce are being received by S. Wulff, district supervisor. The actual work of enumeration and inventory will not begin until Dec. 1, but Mr. Wulff is now busy organizing his field staffs that are to work in 15 surrounding counties. The census for the territory of which Wichita Falls has been made headquarters will be taken in Hardeman, Wilbarger, Wichita, Clay, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens and Palo Pinto counties.

Approximately 20,000 farms are included in the area and on each of these a complete appraisal will be made of equipment, land, productiveness, crops, tax costs and all other necessary data for a complete government report on agricultural conditions of the country.

Some 75 or more enumerators are wanted and Mr. Wulff asks that these either get in touch with him at his office in the court house or communicate with the county agents of the county in which they wish to work.

Vernon Men Face Blue Sky Charge

Interstate Bridge Co. Promoters Alleged Without Permit

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 13.—H. P. Peck, J. C. Hickernell and R. H. Coffee, all of Vernon, Texas, were named in complaints filed here yesterday charging violation of the state blue sky law. The complaints allege that the defendants, promoters and officers of the Interstate Bridge Company which owns a bride crossing the Red river, sold stock in a speculative enterprise without securing a permit from the State Issues Corporation. Thousands of dollars worth of stock was sold to persons in southwestern Oklahoma and northwestern Texas, it is said.

20 MILLION MILES OFF

New Solar Body is Calculated Upon By Scientists.

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 12.—Preliminary calculations just completed under the direction of Professor O. A. Leuschner of the astronomical department of the University of California and his assistants reveal that the fast moving object discovered October 23 by Professor Baade at Bergedorf, Germany, is a minor planet moving in a highly eccentric ellipse at a high inclination to the ecliptic, close to the earth and its perihelion, said an announcement by Professor Leuschner today.

At its closest approach to the earth about a month before discovery, near perihelion on September 28, the (new) planet's distance was about 20,000,000 miles or approximately twice the distance of the famous planets Eros and Albert at their closes possible approach," he said.

Washington Man Challenges Candidates to Beat His Plurality.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Nov. 13.—Albert Johnson, representative in congress from the third district, believes he holds a record for county-wide plurality and challenges the successful candidate of any party for state or federal office to beat it. Pacific county, one of the ten counties in the district, voted thus:

Johnson, Republican, 3,141; Nelson, La Follette ticket, 7.

There was no Democratic candidate.

GARIBALDI TO DUEL

Grandson of Italian Patriot Names His Seconds.

ROME, Nov. 13.(AP.)—Gen. Peppino Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian patriot, named Deputies Bencivenga and Cimarea today to act as his seconds in a duel with Dr. Italo Balbo, commander-in-chief of the fascist national militia who sent a challenge to General Garibaldi Friday.

The challenge was the outgrowth of a protest made by General Garibaldi against an attack by fascist militiamen on unarmed ex-soldiers.

New Milk Law Wanted By State Health Officers

Uniform Regulations Over Texas Suggested to Various Cities

MAY ASK IT HERE

Would Be Means of Boosting Consumption of Dairy Products

In line with "suggestions" from the state board of health, that Wichita Falls, in common with other cities of the state, adopt a uniform dairy law which stimulates the consumption of milk by increasing confidence in it as a healthful food, recommendations for such a law may be made to the city council here in the future.

At a recent meeting of health experts held in Houston, the advisability of such a law was discussed and the health officials issued a statement that in reality amounted to a request that the various health departmens over the state take up the matter. Dr. A. H. Douglass, director of the local health departments attended the session in Houston and is now studying data that may be useful.

Standarize Rules

The new "law" would standardize a set of rules to be observed all over Texas in the production and marketing of milk and it would centralize the authority of those charged with seeing that the regulations were observed.

Such a law has been tried in other states with marked success and is said to have greatly increased the consumption of milk by strengthening public confidence in the dairy products.

Use Less Here

In this connection Dr. Douglas has found that Wichita Falls uses much less milk per day than it should. The total consumption here is about 3,000 gallons each 24 hours, this being 24,000 pints or less than a pint for each of the estimated 50,000 inhabitants. The average milk consumption for the country is over a pint and physicians say that a quart should be taken every day by every individual.

Jones Dies From Bullet Wounds; Jackson Charged

Victim of Gun Fight Near Iowa Park Sunday Loses Battle For Life

Charges of murder were filed yesterday against Jack Jackson of Iowa Park following the death at 9 o'clock in the morning of Walter Jones, another Iowa Park man, who since last Sunday had lain in a critical condition at the general hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen. Jackson has been held in the county jail since a few hours from the time Jones was shot.

The victim was struck down at 3 o'clock last Sunday morning in an altercation that still remains largely a mystery. Jackson was arrested by Constable Latta Graham of Iowa Park late in the day. He has denied having fired the shot that killed Jones. District Attorney Allred, however, in view of evidence he has obtained, felt warranted in preferring charges against him. Assault with intent to murder complaints were filed early in the week and these were changed yesterday to murder after Jones' death.

LEOPOLD-LOEB TEACHING.

After Prison Work Over They Instruct Convict Classes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Nathan F. Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, serving life sentences in the Joliet penitentiary for the kidnaping-murder of Robert Franks, will be members of the faculty of the prison, Warden Whitman has announced.

Leopold has begun teaching night classes in English, devoting two hours a night in instruction in reading, writing and spelling. Next week Loeb will take charge of an arithmetic class. The duties will be in addition to their jobs in the prison shops.

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 13.—Suit for $100,000 was filed in circuit court here today against Nathan F. Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, slayers of Bobby Franks. The suit was filed in behalf of Charles Ream, taxicab driver of Chicago, who claims the pair mutilated him.

Instead of producing watch and clock works in this country and cases in England and Canada for sale in the United Kingdom, complete watches will be shipped from this country following the removal of import duties on watch cases there.

ECZEMA OVER BABY'S FACE

Neck, Arms and Legs, Cuticura Healed.

"When my baby was three months old eczema broke out all over his face, neck, arms and legs. It looked like little blisters and soon spread all over his body. It kept getting worse and itched so badly that we had to tie his hands to keep him from scratching. He cried all night long.

"A friend told us about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so we purchased some and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment he was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. C. Brownlee, 1815 N. Washington Ave., Dallas, Texas.

Trust Company resources in Texas, for the year ending June 30, were $91,355,175, an increase of $8,664,740 over 1923, according to "Trust Companies of the United States," just published by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York. The Southwest trust companies reported assets of $173,009,000. Totals for the Country were $16,025,580,000, a gain of $1,584,042,000, or nearly 11 per cent over 1923, and deposits increased from $11,828,983,000 to $13,289,148,000, or more than 12 per cent, says an announcement from the Wichita State Bank and Trust Company.

Central and Seventh street firemen were called to the Hearn hotel at 2:30 Thursday afternoon when a gas stove that had just been lit flared up with startling suddeness. A hurried alarm was sent in but the blaze was subdued before the firemen arrived. No damage was done.

At a meeting of the directors of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair association will be held today at the fair offices and plans for the 1925 exposition discussed. Several important matters are expected to come up.

Law Ends Romance For Pair

A romance which flamed brightly early this week and which gave promise of settling into the steady glow of established matrimony flickered out yesterday under the shadow of the county jail's bars.

As a result, a 15-year-old girl — a bride of a day, is suffering the grief that comes with disallusionment; and her husband, a man of 23 years, and an older woman— married, are at liberty under bonds of $500 each on charges of false swearing to the age of a principal in a marriage contract. The bonds were perfected Thursday afternoon.

All three persons involved are residents of Electra. They appeared at the county clerk's office Wednesday and procurred a license for the man and the girl. The latter's age was given as 19 and oath to this effect was taken by her intended husband and the other woman.

Later, however, the girl's father learned of the elopement and revealed her true age. Her mother is dead.

Charges that inhuman treatment by her parent had virtually driven her from their home were made by the girl as she poured out her tale of woe and this she attributed as one reason for seeking shelter with the other man.

Coyotes Schedule Pair of Contests

Coach Bud McCallum's Coyotes are now being pointed for a game with Polytechnic high school of Fort Worth at Spudder park Saturday and a play-off of the scoreless tie registered three weeks ago with Electra to be staged Saturday of next week.

The Poly game has not definitely been arranged for but the agreement has been practically settled. Final details are to be worked out today.

The Electra contest next week should prove a real thriller, for the teams waged a fierce battle in that scoreless tie affair, and both are smarting to get at the other to settle the supremacy.

Owen Remains To Be Brought Back From Galveston

Wichita Real Estate Man Dies There Thursday Morning

The remains of John W. Owen, Owen, Wichita Falls real estate man who died Thursday morning at the Sealy hospital in Galveston are to be be brought back to Wichita Falls for burial. Word was received here last night from Galveston and Mrs. Owen and friends were leaving the coast city early in the evening on the return trip to Wichita Falls. Brit Cranfill of this city son-in-law of Mr. Owens will go to Fort Worth today to meet the party and return with it.

At a telegraphic request from Masonic officials in Wichita Falls, Masons of Galveston took charge of arrangements there and lent every assistance to Mrs. Owens, whose husband was a prominent member of the order here.

Mr. Owens was 51 years of age and had been a resident here for a number of years.

SPANISH CLUB MEETS

Good Program Presented at High School Thursday.

One of the best programs held this year was presented yesterday afternoon by the Spanish club of the local high school at one of the regular meetings of the organization. About 75 members of the club were present for the affair, which was held at the junior college building.

A Spanish dance by Anna Ruth Kahn, A Spanish address by Dolores Teadey and a short Spanish play in which Raymond Strong carried the principal part were features of the session. Mrs. Gilbert, head of the Spanish department of the schools here was in charge.

ASSERT CHARGE FALSE

Negro Jailed After Attack on Another, Opponent In Hospital.

Assault with intent to murder charges were filed Thursday against William Turner, a negro, who was arrested as a result of a brawl with Ed Williams, another negro. Williams is in the general hospital with a battered head and a blind eye, sustained when he was struck by Turner.

The fight took place at Eighth and Travis street in front of a tire store where Williams is employed.

He Visits Rotary In Pink Blanket

The Dan Daniels Heir Comes To Father-Son Banquet

"I am glad that the time has come when fathers are no longer considered austere and distant by their sons," declared Judge Joseph Dickey of Henrietta, who spoke before the Rotary Club Wednesday to a group of over 200 listeners, men and boys, who composed the luncheon guests at Rotary "Dad and Son Day." Men who had no sons of their own, borrowed another man's son for the occasion. The youth ranked in ages, from young chaps, taller than their dads, to Dan Daniels heir of a few weeks which he held in a wholly pink blanket.

The speaker was introduced to the Rotarians by Dan Daniels, president.

Rev. Garland Shell of Childress, visiting Rotarian, gave the invocation. Arch Warren, new member of the club, was introduced, in classification of Garages. Emmett Baukknight, member of the Hi-Y Club, announced the Father and Son banquet at the Junior College Nov. 22. Jarrell Gose played "Boy of Mine' as a solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jo Tucker. With an encore "When You and I Were Young Maggie." R. E. Shepherd led the club in singing with J. S. Pitman at the piano.
