LEGISLATURE OPENS TOMORROW

'QUESTION MARK' ENTERS EIGHTH DAY

ALL RECORDS SMASHED BY ARMY PLANE

MOTOR TROUBLE CURED, EXPERTS SEE NO END TO TEST

(By Associated Press)
METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—Through a blue sky flaked with clouds, the Question Mark sped at 9:26:46 o'clock this morning, passing its 146th hour aloft. The three motors propelling the huge army endurance craft to new records, hummed an even song as the seventh day of the flight was two hours past.

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—With no precedent to guide her now in a flight seemingly without end, the monoplane Question Mark today approached her seventh day sustained flight with the finish not yet in sight.

Every endurance and distance flight record known to man and bird perched on the wide wings of the tri-motored Fokker as she dived upward to answer the question put to her by the Army Air Corps—how long can an airplane stay in the air?

ELEVEN DIE OF FLU HERE

NEARLY 1500 CASES IN CITY, PHYSICIANS ESTIMATE

With eleven deaths reported as a result of the influenza in Lubbock and vicinity during the past week and the number of cases in Lubbock variously estimated by local physicians from 1,000 to 3,000, Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer this morning said that in his opinion the flu epidemic locally had already reached its peak and was now on the decline.

Other local physicians interviewed on the threatening malady, stated that although the number of cases probably were slightly on the decline that they were becoming more serious than previously.

"Undertakers here report eleven deaths last week as a direct result of the flu, and two others as a result of an attack of the flu two years ago which developed into tuberculosis. All of this number, with the exception of one, resided in Lubbock county."

Dr. Rollo placed his estimate of the number of influenza cases at from 1,200 to 1,400. He advises that every precaution be taken.

CLAIMS THREE FROM TEXARKANA FAMILY

TEXARKANA, Jan. 7.—(P)—Influenza yesterday claimed the life of the third member of a Texarkana family and three others of the family were reported seriously ill. Rudolph Bilek, 37, died less than 24 hours after his wife, Mrs. Agnes Bilek, 26, Miss Lena Bilek, 39, a sister, died a week ago. Two daughters of the Bileks were reported critically ill, as was also an uncle, Frank Bilek.

'MEANEST' THIEVES CAUGHT

LAKE CHARLES, La., Jan. 7.—(P)—Al Albertson, 24, Chicago, and Thomas Loney, 24, Detroit, are held here after being arrested yesterday following the robbery of the poor boxes in the Catholic church.

WHO'S BOSS OF CAPITOL NOW?

AUSTIN, Jan. 7.—(P)—An eight pound, two ounce boy, whom the doctor says probably will be a burn-haired like his father, was born last night at a hospital to Mrs. Dan Moody. The youngster is the first child of the youngest couple that has occupied the governor's mansion. Mrs. Moody was reported today to be resting well.

Only one governor's baby has been born in the mansion. This one was Roger William Houston, son of Governor Sam Houston, during his term, 1849-51. During Governor Ireland's term in the eighties, his daughter, a Mrs. Carpenter, gave birth to a child in the mansion.

It is understood that Governor Moody's boy will be named Dan Moody Jr.

LOCAL PEACE OFFICERS IN SESSION HERE

BETTER ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION IS KEYNOTE OF MEET

Heralding a new era of harmony and cooperation among the peace enforcement and judicial bodies of the city, members of the police force, sheriff's department, local magistrates and judges convened in the 99th District Courtroom this morning for a "get-together."

Better enforcement of the prohibition laws was the keynote purpose of the meeting. The attendance included district and county judges, district and county attorneys, justices of the peace, constables, and sheriff's and police force.

Judge Clark M. Mullican took charge of the meeting at its beginning, making a number of suggestions to the peace enforcement officers. He said that the arresting officer should not assess or collect fines but should take the prisoner before a magistrate, and that defendants should not be placed in jail without a complaint being issued.

It was urged by Judge Mullican that city's prisoners though guilty of felony charges be turned over to county authorities rather than assessed fines on other charges, such as vagrancy, in city police court. He said that cases without sufficient evidence for conviction should not be turned over to the grand jury and he said that no liquor raids should be made without first obtaining a search warrant.

Judge Mullican urged that the local peace-enforcement bodies build up a reputation for courtesy and politeness. "Lubbock county has long had the reputation of abusing prisoners," he said, "and if the present officers are polite and courteous it will help blot out this black eye."

Other suggestions were made by Judge Homer L. Pharr, District Attorney Durwood, County Attorney Vaughn Wilson and others.

POSTPONE M'CLOSKEY HEARING FOR TAMPERING WITH ELECTION RETURNS

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7.—The criminal trial of Congressman-elect Augustus J. McCloskey was postponed today until next Wednesday because of the death of the mother of a member of his counsel.

Both sides previously had announced ready for trial, but postponement came when the mother of Wayne Davis, one of McCloskey's attorneys, died last night at Goliad.

McCloskey was ready to face trial on one of several indictments charging that he, as county judge, altered returns

GALES CAUSE LOSSES DOWN EAST COAST

COLD WAVE GRIPS PART OF NATION; RESCUE FORCES ARE BUSY

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A cold wave affected a large portion of the country today.

While the Southwest was digging out of snow drifts and the Lake region was experiencing sub-zero temperatures, gales along the Atlantic Seaboard cost at least three lives, sank small craft and drove a steamer and a barge ashore.

Three members of the crew of the fishing boat Henrietta were lost when their craft sank off Long Beach, Long Island, while a fourth saved himself by swimming in the icy waters four hours before he reached land.

Off Newport, R. I., the steamer Herman Frasch, a freighter bound from New York for Providence was driven ashore, a small boat was sunk and a barge driven aground. The wind reached a maximum velocity of 60 miles an hour along the coast.

The blizzard in the Southwest cost 11 lives, delayed trains, interrupted communication and made highways impassable in Kansas and Missouri.

In Nebraska and the Dakotas the temperature dropped to 10 below zero, while Chicago and the adjacent region felt a drop of 18 degrees in seven hours which brought the mercury close to the zero mark.

Fiddlers' Fest Is Plan At Woodrow

An Old Fiddlers' contest will be held at the Woodrow school auditorium tomorrow night, and fiddlers of Lubbock, Lynn and adjoining counties are urged to compete in the prizes.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners and as a large entry list has already been assured, plenty of music and entertainment is promised to all who attend.

Lucy Ward Peyton Dies Here Sunday

Lucy Ward Peyton, 20 year old daughter of Mrs. W. M. Fulbright, 2415 12th street, died at her home here yesterday following an extended illness. She was the only daughter.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock today at Ralls under the direction of the Rev. W. P. Jennings. Pallbearers were: Active—H. C. DeWitt, Dennis Van Zandt, Bill McClain, Levi Walker, Bruce Reed, Robert Huff; honorary—Carl Peterson, Julius Birdsell, Alma Pace, Tommie McCreary, Warren Huff, Freeman Edmonds, Maurice Scott.

THREE JAILED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Dr. J. C. Bernard and T. J. Wren, whites, and James Wilcox, negro, are still in the Lubbock county jail today facing bonds of $1,000 on charges of violation of the prohibition laws.

The trio were arrested by local peace enforcement officers Saturday morning when a raid was made on an office on Broadway. Seventeen pints of liquor were confiscated.

Dr. Bernard is charged with possession, Wren with the sale, and the negro with transportation of liquor. An attempt was being made to make their bonds today.

CIVIC LEADER OF WEST DIES

A. B. SPENCER, FORMER CATTLE OFFICIAL AT CROSBYTON PASSES

FORT WORTH, Jan. 5.—The loss of A. B. Spencer, former president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce who died suddenly from heart failure at Fort Worth Saturday will be keenly felt throughout West Texas, according to a statement of Homer D. Wade, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Mr. Spencer served as president during two critical years in the history of the organization and it was under his guidance that the West Texas organization took major rank in Texas by expanding to absorb the old Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce which formerly headquarters in Amarillo. Mr. Spencer served as mediator in the negotiations and the amalgamation welded the loyalty and influence of all West Texas into the largest regional chamber of commerce in the world. He was the only president to serve for two terms and he conducted the organization with a high degree of efficiency."

ONE DIES IN DERAILMENT

ENGINEER KILLED WHEN FIVE COACHES ARE OVERTURNED

(By Associated Press)
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Jan. 7.—The engineer was killed and the fireman and baggage man were slightly injured when passenger train No. 14 on the Gulf Coast division of the Missouri Pacific lines struck a broken rail at Ricardo, one mile south of Kingsville, Tex., today.

A. J. Perrinot of Kingsville was the engineer. The train was running an hour and 16 minutes late because of delay after a collision with an automobile at Harlingen. The engine and five coaches overturned and Perrinot's body was taken from beneath the engine at 6 a. m.

C. H. Cogdill of Kingsville and Baggage man Ezell of Houston were the only other persons reported injured.

Woman Arrested On Charge Of Forgery

Mary E. Stahl was arrested by county officers on a charge of forgery yesterday and released under a bond of $1,000 pending action of the grand jury.

Forgery charges were filed against her after she had been arrested on a complaint of forging a $10 check.

BOXING CZAR AT END LONG TRAIL THAT LED TO FAME, FORTUNE

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 7.—George L. (Tex) Rickard, maker of boxing champions who traveled an adventurous road from cowboy to millionaire, was on his last journey today.

Rickard died in a hospital here yesterday on the sixth day of an illness which followed an operation for appendicitis New Year's night. The body of the promoter was being borne to New York, scene of his greatest triumphs, on the Havana Special, of the Florida East Coast Line railroad.

Mrs. Rickard, who had kept a faithful vigil beside her stricken husband; Jack Dempsey, who loved the promoter as his "Best Pal"; Walter Field, Rickard's friend, and Steve Hannegan, representing the city of Miami Beach accompanied the body. Over the bronze casket, so heavy that 18 men were required to lift it into the hearse, lay a blanket of roses, given by Dempsey and Field, and which bore the tribute "To Our Pal."

Fought Till The End.
Rickard died gamely fighting the vicious inroads of peritonitis which followed the operation. He remained conscious until about two hours before his death at 9:37 a. m. yesterday. Shortly before lapsing into a coma from which he never rallied, he turned to the faithful wife and friends who gathered at his bedside with the assertion that he was "getting a tough break, but I'll fight."

Then the dying man grasped the hand of Mrs. Rickard, and the feeble voice inquired solicitously about his three-year-old daughter. When told that Maxine was all right and wanted her father to get well, Rickard said "help me over this sweetheart, I'm fighting my way. He did not finish the sentence, and in two hours he was dead.

A certificate, issued by Dr. E. H. Adkins, who attended Rickard, said that death resulted from "an overwhelming infection following acute gangrenous appendicitis."

Dempsey, rugged ring warrior, became a nervous, unstrung boy as he realized that the man who had lifted him to a high place was dead. "I've lost the best pal I ever had," he declared.

It was Dempsey and Field who sat with Mrs. Rickard by the bedside after she had been attended by Rickard and passed. When Dempsey left the

Slaton Banquet To Be Tuesday Night

SLATON, Jan. 7.—The annual meeting and banquet of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce will be held here tomorrow night with an expected record crowd in attendance. Dean James M. Gordon, of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, will be the principal speaker and will talk on the subject: "How Big Will Slaton Grow." Other representatives from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce are expected to attend.

In addition to the entertainment program, a review will be made of the organizations achievements during the past year and a tentative program outlined for 1929. New officers will be elected at the meeting.

THREE INDICTED FOR MURDER IN PENNSYLVANIA WITCHCRAFT CASE

(By Associated Press)
YORK, Pa., Jan. 7.—True bills against three principals in York county's witchcraft case were returned by a grand jury today.

Two counts were included in each indictment, murder and manslaughter. Immediately after the indictment all three defendants, John H. Blymyer, Wilbert G. Hess and John Curry were arraigned to hear the bills read. The bills charged them with killing Nelson D. Hehmyer, 60 year old reclusive farmer with "malice aforethought."

THRONGS ATTEND SENSATIONAL TRIAL
YORK, Pa., Jan. 7.—York's "witchcraft" trial attracted throngs to this county seat today. District Attorney Amos W. Herrmann desired the indictment of John Blymyer, so-called "Witch Doctor," and two youthful companions, Wilbert G. Hess and John Curry, on charges. The charge against the trio is not one of practicing sorcery (Turn to Page 10, Column 4, Please)

RACE FOR SPEAKERSHIP OF HOUSE IS MAIN SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION ON OPENING EVE

(By L. B. DILBECK, Associated Press Staff Writer)
AUSTIN, Jan. 7.—The race for speakership of the House of Representatives of the 41st legislature, convening Tuesday, was intensified today.

W. S. Barron of Bryan, issued a statement striking at statements last night from opposing camps and intimating that special interests and former Governor James E. Ferguson are taking a hand in the race.

R. A. Montgomery of Edinburg, Barron's opponent, in a statement, said that "political influences that have been repudiated by the people are attempting to interfere in the election of a speaker."

Ferguson expressed opinion that Barron would win, but would not say whether he is actively supporting him.

Both the Barron and Montgomery camps continued today to claim pledged majorities, and the speaker's race seemed to be the prime issue among pre-session activities.

"I have conducted my campaign on a high plane, and I do not intend to depart from that principle at this late hour, when victory is within reach," Barron's statement said. "My motto has been to organize the house and serve all the people of Texas and with the aid of my supporters, I intend to carry out that promise."

Although he declined to give the number of votes above a majority which he expected to receive, Montgomery asserted that he had only to hold those legislators who were pledged to him in order to win the race.

Among the representatives most active in the Edinburg man's campaign were Mike Hogg, Houston; Emmitt Morse, Houston; Charles Shaver, Huntsville; Adrian Pool, El Paso; A. P. Johnson, Carrizo Springs; George Kemble, Fort Worth; John Veatch, Joshua; and Walter Beck, Fort Worth.

HOOVER BACK FROM SOUTH

PLUNGES INTO PERUSAL OF PROBLEMS THAT ABSENCE BROUGHT

(By JAMES L. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Back from his visit to the other half of America, President-elect Hoover today sought to get his bearings on a political sea which has reached a surprising degree of turbulence during his two months absence from the national capital.

Opening headquarters at the Mayflower hotel for the duration of his week or ten day visit to Washington, Mr. Hoover immediately made plans for conferences with his supporters in the presidential campaign on cabinet and other appointments and a number of other subjects.

His primary desire, however, is to make a personal report to President Coolidge on his mission of amity to Central and South America and to that end he was prepared to seek the pleasure of the chief executive (Turn to Page 10, Column 6, Please)

LAW BLOTS OUT CHICAGO CRIME

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(P)—The law, became a gargantuan sheet of bibulous paper, has begun to blot the blood and beer from crime-chased Chicago Heights.

The stormy suburb, where 30 slayings have taken place in the last three years, was overspread by federal, state and Chicago police officers just before dawn yesterday. Raiding on such a wholesale scale, and with the federal government directing, has not taken place in Illinois within the memory of present officials.

Twenty-five men were arrested; liquor was seized; slot machines smashed by the hundred; and even the municipal government itself was superseded by the government men, aided by Chicago detectives, took possession of the city hall and police station.

Rural Life Enrichment Is Program Of Parent-Teacher Association of Texas

Although Mrs. J. E. Griggs, president of the fourteenth P. T. A. district, has not returned to Lubbock since the attendance the January board of managers meeting of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations in Austin last week, a report on the meeting has been sent out by Mrs. Will T. Dechard, of Austin, publicity director.

The spring convention of the fourteenth district, in which Lubbock is located, is to be during the first week in April in some place to be selected, according to the report which follows.

Authorization of a committee on rural research and the inauguration of a five year program for the enrichment of rural life through extension of Parent-Teacher associations was one of the important actions taken at the January meeting of the board of managers of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, which was held in Austin, January 3 and 4. This committee is to secure the services of all available authorities on rural problems and in carrying out its program. The presiding of the congress, Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, and Miss Amanda Stoltzfus of Tulsa, present state chairman of rural life, compose the nucleus of the committee. Additional members will be appointed from time to time.

Filling of vacancies was another important matter disposed of. Mrs. E. C. Quereau of San Antonio was elected second vice president and director of organization; Mrs. J. M. Woodson of Temple, state chairman of home education; Dr. E. H. Perry, Dallas, state chairman of mental hygiene; Mrs. Modroe Chapman, Beaumont, a trustee of the "endowment fund."

A new standard for associations was compiled in harmony with the standard of excellence in the handbook of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. This standard will go into effect November 1.

Members of the board of managers were elected official delegates to the national convention to be held in May in Washington, D. C.

Thirteen of the fifteen district presidents were present and after a conference Thursday night announced to the board the following schedule for spring conventions:

First district, Stephenville, April 9, 10, 11; second district, Hillsboro, April 24, 25, 26; third district, Tyler, March 20, 21, 22; fourth district, place undecided, April 17, 18, 19; fifth district, place undecided, April 8, 9, 10; sixth district, Sweetwater, sometime during week of April 7 to 13; seventh district, Llano, April 22, 23, 24; eighth district, Pampa, April 3, 4, 5; ninth district, Temple, dates undecided; tenth district, Sinton, April 2, 3, 4; eleventh district, Angleton, April 23, 24, 25; twelfth district, Jacksonville, March 18, 19, 20; thirteenth district, Vernon, April 1, 2, 3; fourteenth district, place undecided, during first week of April; fifteenth district, El Paso, sometime during week of April 7 to 13.

The board accepted and endorsed the plan for cultivation of a life membership program presented by Mrs. Edward Kneeland of Dallas. Included in this program is a provision for a state life membership committee composed of the state life membership chairman and the district presidents. A district committee composed of the district president and ten others was also authorized to carry on a program of education along life membership lines. Each district will secure a minimum of ten life memberships and the one securing the quota of ten first will receive two life memberships were donated by the Wilkins Truck and Manufacturing company, Dallas, and may be presented to any one of the winning district desires to honor.

Members of the board attending the meeting were: Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, Austin; Mrs. J. M. Lovin, Austin; Mrs. A. P. Wood, Athens; Mrs. L. E. Ledbetter, Austin; Mrs. H. B. Grace, Fort Worth; Mrs. A. Chas. Joe Moore, Austin; Mrs. P. F. Wakefield, San Antonio; Mrs. W. McAllister, Beaumont; Mrs. Edward Kneeland, Dallas; Mrs. W. K. Rose, Fort Worth; Mrs. M. A. Taylor, Bonham; Mrs. J. H. Moore, Detroit; Mrs. A. W. Harrison, Woodville; Mrs. E. H. Mark, Yukon; Mrs. James E. Morris, San Juan; Mrs. J. M. Crain, Claude; Mrs. Harbert Davenport, Brownsville; Mrs. J. J. Devoti, Houston; Mrs. R. W. Robbins, Athens; Mrs. Frank Creighton, Wichita Falls; Mrs. J. E. Griggs, Lubbock; Mrs. E. R. Russell, El Paso; Mrs. W. T. Dechard, Austin.

TELLS OF DISCOVERY
Mr. Martin gave a highly interesting account of the discovery of Orgatone and the remarkable results the new medicine has accomplished.

The story of Orgatone," he stated, "is the story of the remarkable patience, the determination and tenacity of purpose of one of America's leading chemists. His idea was that there must be some where in nature a storehouse of master health builder and its discovery became the passion of his life."

"The search led him through modern pharmacy chemistry and medicine, which in themselves took years of work. He then delved into the methods of curative practice followed by ancient races, many of whom possessed a vigor and vitality unknown to modern civilization. Some of these ancient people lived a remarkable old age, which led to the belief that they possessed secrets of health that had been lost in the passing centuries. Naturally this chemist made the most important progress towards his goal while pursuing his studies in chemistry, where the practice of medicine first began hundreds of years ago. When success finally crowned his efforts he gave the formula the name of Orgatone."

SENSATIONAL SUCCESS
"The medicine proved to be a sensational success under the most rigid scientific tests that could be applied by one of America's oldest and most reputable pharmaceutical houses. Our own company, following being on the alert for proven successes in this field, also began a series of exhaustive tests lasting over a prolonged period of time. These intensive investigations proved Orgatone to be even more beneficial than the most optimistic of our officials and chemists had dared hoped. The results were simply a revelation to us."

"Although these tests were made quietly, news became known, with result that leading drug firms all over the country were clamoring for the medicine, and everywhere Orgatone has been introduced it has proved its wonderful restorative power and repeated its astonishing success."

"Our visit here is occasioned by our desire to investigate the local field first hand with a view to allotting some of the present limited supply of Orgatone to this territory if we find such a step advisable. I am frank to say that up to the present time our impressions have been favorable and it has become largely a matter of setting the firm best qualified and equipped to serve the public. Further than that I cannot know just now."

Mr. Martin said he may be able to announce a definite decision within a day or two. Meantime, competition between local druggists for the agency has reached the keenest point.—Adv.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

DAILY LIVING TAKES COURAGE, ESPECIALLY DURING EPIDEMIC

Takes a lot of courage even for everyday living, doesn't it, what with the flu flooring the members of one's family one by one? Getting all set for a happy holiday, only to have one or more members of the family circle ill in bed, has been the experience of countless families this year. There is one thing that you must not do, which I presume to say, the blessed doctors may not have stressed, and that is, worry while you're down and out. Make yourself realize that you're not in a normal physical or mental condition and consequently can't see things as they are. Therefore, crush down all tendency to moan, and know positively that when you are on your feet again you'll see your way clear to take care of things, whatever they may be.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am writing to you for advice. I am a girl 16 years of age, am going with a man 65 years of age. He is wealthy. He doesn't mind spending money on me. He wants to marry me. I am staying with my brother. He objects to me marrying. He says I am too young. Do you think it would be all right or just a while?" "BROWN EYED."

I should consider a man of 65 altogether too old for me to marry no matter how much money he had. Brown Eyed, and I have a son 19. So you can see how big your proposition would go over with me. Thank goodness you have a good brother who is not blinded by wealth. Sixty-five is not old for a man, but when he wants to marry a little girl of 16 it looks as if he was in his second childhood. Get your a play mate your own age and wait a while and yet another while.

P. T. A. Council Will Meet In February

The Parent-Teacher council, which meets regularly on the first Tuesday afternoon in the month, will not meet during January but will meet in February, it was announced this morning.

Program-Party To Be Given For Students

Students who are in the Technological college for the first time this year and who attend the First Presbyterian church are to be guests of other Presbyterian students tomorrow evening at a program-party at the Country club. The group is to meet at the church at 7:30 o'clock and transportation will be provided to the club for those who do not have a way.

Sunday School Class To Have Social

The First Presbyterian Sunday school class taught by S. T. Cummings is to attend a social meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Miss Virginia McLean at 1720 13th street.

K. Carter P. T. A. To Meet Thursday

The K. Carter P. T. A. meets at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the school, according to an announcement made this morning.

Meeting Of Club Is Postponed

Because of illness in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Jot Smyth, the Wednesday Needle club will not meet this week, it was announced this morning.

Mrs. May Flynn and sons have returned from Oklahoma City where they attended the funeral of Will Flynn who died there with heart trouble last week. Funeral services were held at the Memorial church in Oklahoma City.

TRANSPPOSITION

Shifting Organs Is Ailment Of Denver Youth

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The strange case of Nile Russell Root, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Root, today was called by Denver physicians "complete transposition of the viscera" for lack of another definition.

It's quite an ailment for such a small boy, but in spite of a transposed heart, lungs, appendix, and liver, the youngster appears normal. If Nile ever is operated on for appendicitis the incision will be on the left side, the doctors said. The liver is out of place on the left side. There are three lobes on the left lung instead of two, and two on the right. The cardiac end of the stomach, under the heart, also is on the right side.

Nevertheless, Nile is healthy and he wields a deft right hand on knives and spoons and a good left on forks. The strange case is not without parallel, but doctors pointed out that of 347,000 patients at a large hospital, only ten such transpositions were known. Nile's state of affairs has its drawbacks. His teeth, all 20 of them, are decaying too fast. The fact that his heart is on the right side may give him distress after violent physical exertion.

An unprecedented number of plays failed in New York this year. People are getting tired of the theater; you can't even pick up any new profanity there any more.

ORDER PROBE OF DRINKING

VIOLATION OF LIQUOR LAW IN UNIVERSITY IS INVESTIGATED

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 7.—(P)—Governor Byrd today ordered an investigation of liquor drinking in all colleges in Virginia, both public and private to be conducted by Attorney General Saunders as prohibition commissioner of the state. At the same time the governor wrote college officials asking that efforts be increased and every vigilance be used to decrease student drinking. The action followed charges of excessive drinking at Virginia University. The Rev. David Hepburn, superintendent of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League, made the allegation. In making this request I do not mean to imply that the charges made are well founded or otherwise but I do feel that an investigation is wise and in the interest of the educational institutions in whose management I have so much confidence and for whose officials I cherish a high respect," the governor told Saunders.

FINANCES GOOD IN BIG SPRING REGION

(Special To The Journal)
BIG SPRING, Jan. 7.—Big Spring, the fastest growing city in West Texas, closed the year in the best financial condition of any time in her history. On December 31, the resources of the three national banks showed a total of $5,084,050.58 with deposits amounting to $4,472,942.24. The city has more than doubled in population in the last two years due to oil activity in the Big Spring area. The number of business houses constructed in Big Spring during 1928 will surpass the total of the last ten.

CHEAP WATER AID FOR MODEL FARMS

(Special To The Journal)
SNYDER, Texas, Jan. 7.—The city of Snyder with the lowest water rate in the state of Texas with a municipally owned plant, has sufficient revenue from the water system to meet a considerable portion of the expenses of the city. Snyder is one of the most fortunate towns in West Texas with an inexhaustible supply of pure soft water found at depths of from 40 to 150 feet anywhere in the county. Two of the local wells have attracted wide spread attention among business men and town officials of West Texas with a 2,000 gallon per minute average on a 72 hour pumping test. The unlimited supply of water here is going to make the 2-1-2 and 3-acre model poultry colony "races" profitable. Calif., originator of the famous one-acre colony projects on the west coast, will assist the local organization, working with the Snyder County Chamber of Commerce in putting the idea across.

Only Two Officers Are New In Dawson

LAMESA, Jan. 7.—Only two new county officials were sworn in here the first of the year, all except these two being old officers and hold-overs. Mrs. Mattie Herndon is the new county treasurer and H. L. Hohn is the only new commissioner. County officials for Dawson county the next two years are: Dixie Kilgore, judge; Owen C. Taylor, clerk; Joe L. Ray, sheriff and tax collector; Gus White, tax assessor; Mrs. Mattie Herndon, treasurer; W. T. Webb, superintendent; W. E. Bartlett, C. M. Burton, L. Berry, and H. L. Hohn, commissioners; A. B. Cooper, justice of peace precinct No. 1; W. S. Marr, justice precinct No. 2; and J. E. McSpadden, public weigher.

Complete Dickens Terracing School

SPUR, Jan. 7.—E. L. Tanner has just completed his fifth terracing school which brings the total of trained men up to thirty-one. These men have completed a thorough course in terracing and have successfully passed rigid examinations, thus qualifying them to run terrace lines on any farm in Dickens county. The county agent will continue to give these terracing schools throughout the winter months and for his goal he hopes to have at least 75 men who will be proficient in the use of the terracing level.

ALEXANDER IS NEW DICTATOR

MILITARY GOVERNMENT IS STARTED FOR JUGOSLAVIA

(Re Associated Press)
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Jan. 7.—King Alexander was virtually dictator of Yugoslavia today, having suspended the constitution and named a non-party cabinet. He formed a non-parliamentary government of military stamp after a futile attempt to reconcile strong party and racial antagonisms with which the parliamentary regime has been split since last June. He announced that all laws would remain in force until suspended by decree. New laws would be made by decree. The royal order did away with the constitution which the turbulent Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes has adhered to since June 28, 1921. General Peter Zivkovich was named premier and took the interior portfolio as being the minister responsible for the administration of law and order under the extraordinary regime. The action of the king created a sensation, but it was announced that no disturbances occurred. Although denied their demands for self-government, Croats were jubilant over the suppression of the parliament where three of their members were murdered. Three members of the Croatian party, named withdrew from the national parliament after the shooting of several of its leaders, were appointed to the new cabinet.

Texas Creameries Go To Corporation

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Negotiations for acquisition of the M. B. Ice Cream Company, of Dallas, Texas, and creameries in San Angelo, Texas, have been completed by the Southwest Dairy Products Company, operating a milk, ice cream, and butter business in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, it was learned here.

FIGURES SHOW HALE GROWTH

EXTENSIONS EFFECTED BY UTILITIES TELL PLAINVIEW BOOM

PLAINVIEW, January 7.—Building permits of $1,478,298 taken out at the city inspector's office during the past year, postal receipts of $70,759.08, and a total of 209 new residences built within the city limits during the year, are sure signs of the marked growth of Plainview.

These are not the only indications of growth and development. The increase in service of various public utilities units in the city also clearly show phenomenal advancement during the year 1928. In the latter part of 1927 an appropriation of $20,000.00 was made by the city council out of a bond issue for the extension of sewers in the city. The program was begun shortly before the close of the year and continued actively until figure given out by R. P. Smyth, city engineer, showed that $10,000 additional as well as the original budget had been spent for sewer extensions up to the first of this year. This expenditure included payment for 20,483 feet of six-inch sewer, 7,588 feet of eight-inch sewer, and 853 feet of storm sewer. The total cost was $30,374.85. Plans are now in progress whereby every garage and wash rack will be serviced with a storm sewer.

Approximately three miles of water mains were laid by the city during the year. This included 15,600 feet of two-inch main, 600 feet of six-inch main and 260 feet of eight-inch main. One hundred and thirty eight new telephone subscribers added to the records of the West Texas Gas company, from January 1, 1928 to January 1, 1929, the connections increased from 771 to 1514, a gain of 743. There are approximately 250 commercial connections and the remainder are domestic.

Installation of light and power meters by the Texas Utilities company during the year showed a net gain of 253. There at present 2,289 meters installed in Plainview.

THE TINYMITES

As Clowdy grabbed the great big bird, the other Tins quickly heard a loud and angry squawking. Mister Bird was very mad. It held the fairy in its bill and tried to flap away until it realized it couldn't. "Was a strong grip Clowdy had." And then the fairy shouted, "Oh! This awful bird has let me go!" And sure enough the bird's queer bill was opened very wide. The pretty fairy flew away and Clowdy then heard Scouty say, "Hang on! Don't let the bird escape! You're getting quite a ride." "You bet! I'll try for all I'm worth to bring this mean bird down to earth," said Clowdy. "Then we'll punish him and teach him to behave." But, just before they reached the ground the bird jerked quickly all around and got away. The Tins saw it fly into a cave. "Brave Clowdy said, 'I did my best.' The other Tins then confessed that he had done a noble thing." The fairy's safe, said one. "What difference does it really make if he escaped? For goodness sake, you've saved the charming fairy. That's a noble deed, well done." And then some dwarfs came running near, and all of them began to cheer. "Hurray for Master Clowdy. He shall have a dandy feed. And all of the rest can join right in." This made the happy Tins grin. Said Clowdy, "Thank you very much. Some food's just what I need." Nearby they found a cookie tree, and shortly picked all they could see. Then off they ran until they found a rapids nice and white. "Now, this is milk," one wee dwarf said. "You all can drink, so go ahead." The little dwarfs then danced around and served each Tinsmite. (Clowdy has a very nice dance in the next story.)

THIRD BASE FURNISHES HUGGINS' GREATEST PROBLEM FOR 1929

WEST TEXAS LEAGUE, NOW OF EIGHT CLUBS, OPENS MAY 31

DUGAN TO BE ABSENT WHEN YEAR STARTS

YANKEES WELL FIXED AT OTHER POSTS ON CHAMPION TEAM

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of stories dealing with mid-winter prospects of major league baseball clubs.)

By BRIAN BELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Miller Huggins, manager of the world champion New York Yankees, may know who will play third base for him next season—no one else does. Huggins apparently is more interested at the moment on keeping a golf ball on the confines of St. Petersburg.

Joe Dugan, who has played third base for the Yankees in five world series, will not be among those present when "Hug" calls the roll at St. Pete. To replace "Jumping Joe" on the face of available returns, the little strategist has Gene Robertson, who played to games at the position last year. Mark Koenig, if another shortstop is developed in the Spring, and Julian Wera, who has been acquiring experience in AA leagues for two years.

Larry Well Recommended
Leo Wurcher can play shortstop and left Larry comes well recommended from Oakland but has yet to earn his big league spurs. When Manager Huggins is concerned only one infield problem it is assumed that Tony Lazzeri will be himself again at second base. He was troubled with a bad shoulder last year. If the injury should persist Wurcher would have to be thrown into the second base opening.

There will be no argument at first base with Lou Gehrig playing the bag and the two substitutes of last year, Ben Paschal and George Burns in reserve to his doubles.

Outfield To Stand
Shane Ruth, Earle Combs and Bob Meusel are intact and the two substitutes of last year, Ben Paschal and George Burns in reserve to his doubles.

Benny Bengough, John Grabowski and Bill Dickey will be the clubs trio of catchers unless Arndt Jorgensen, an Oklahoma City recruit, can fight his way in. Catchers include five left-handers: Nete Pennock, Tom Zachary and Fred Homach are holdovers, and Ed Wells, former major league but later of Birmingham, and Lee Craig, another Oklahoma City product, are additions.

Wade Hoot, George Pipgras, Henry Johnson, Miler Thomas and Al Shealy are other veterans who will be back.

Gordon Rhodes, Hollywood; Ray Thomas, Oklahoma City; Roy Schrid, Montreal, and Floyd Van Pelt, Montgomery, will make bids.

FIFTY CONSIDERED FOR BELL'S PLACE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7.—More than fifty coaches are said to be under consideration for the position of football coach at Texas Christian University here to replace Madison Bell, who resigned to accept a similar post at Texas A. and M. college. Dan D. Rogers of Dallas, member of the board of trustees; Milton Daniel of Breckenridge, head of the T. C. U. Students association; and L. C. Wright, athletic director of T. C. U. met yesterday to discuss the prospects.

Chicago Promoters Mourn Loss Of Tex

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Chicago boxing promoters, who often fought and lost promotional battles with George Lewis "Tex" Rickard, today mourned his death as the most staggering loss the ring could have received.

"Chicago has lost a great friend and leader and the boxing world has lost a genius of promotion," said Mayor William Hale Thompson.

Striblings Regret Passing Of Rickard

MACON, Ga., Jan. 7.—W. L. (Young) Stribling and W. L. Stribling, his manager-father, today expressed deep regret at the passing of Tex Rickard.

"The fight with Jack Sharkey at Miami Beach, Fla. on February 27, will be held as planned, in all probability," Pa Stribling said, "but without Tex Rickard there, it won't be the same."

Razorbacks To Play Pair Versus Toads

HENRY L. FARRELL

HE BOOTS 'EM TOO
Tex Rickard may have kicked one when he talked to Willie Stirling with one of those long pieces of paper and involved himself to produce three fights in which the young Southerner was to be one of the fighters.

Stirling, a time of the signing, was one of the young men with possibilities. He seemed to have possibilities because he seemed to be young enough and strong enough to stand up while the other tramps were falling down under their own weight.

Before he had kicked Stirling, Rickard had acquired Knute Hansen on one of those sheets that have him exclusive rights to his services, but Hansen, who is a very smart fellow, didn't do his best in second round. Rickard's mistake was to wait the greatest four hours in the country.

Rickard, talking about Hansen then turned his oratory in the direction of Stirling. All he had to do was to change the name of Hansen to Stirling on the records and turn on the machine.

JACK IS NO SUCKER
Jack Dempsey, who fought along with Rickard in sports that Hansen was a great prospect and one of the very best contenders for the title, but when the time arrived for him to say the same thing about Stirling he suddenly lost his voice.

Dempsey told one of his friends in Los Angeles that he was willing to wait Rickard on anything that would do the old fellow some good but that he wasn't going to make a sucker out of himself by saying that Stirling ever was going to be a fighter.

THE KNUTE HELPED OUT
Rickard had a good break in getting rid of Hansen. The Knute went out to Cleveland to get some easy money for a sucker match against old K. O. Christner and old K. O. knocked him into an orchard filled with red apples.

But the young Stirling fellow was still looking for some of that promised work and money and demanding it. And Rickard discovered that the customers in New York certainly did not want to contribute to the process of making the contract good.

The customers around New York had seen too much of Stirling to be fooled into the idea that he had become a great prospect for the heavyweight championship in such a short time. In fact they had reasons to believe that Stirling wasn't any better to look at than he was years ago when he was pretty awful.

With New York gone Rickard had to look around for another spot, and he wasn't entirely baffled. He picked on Miami, Rickard has become a sort of citizen of Miami and the commercial club couldn't complain that a total stranger was taking away all that dough if he staged the fight there. Stirling also is a sort of a citizen of Miami and the customers down in that territory haven't seen much big league boxing and their loyalty to a fellow lodge brother and home town boy may persuade

KEEBLE WILL HEAD CIRCUIT AS PRESIDENT

ADDITION OF EASTLAND AND SWEETWATER IS RATIFIED SUNDAY

SWEETWATER, Texas, Jan. 7.—With the addition of Eastland and Sweetwater at a meeting of League officials here yesterday, the roster of the West Texas League was brought to eight clubs. Other teams in the thriving circuit are Big Spring, Midland, Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock and Coleman.

W. R. Keeble of Abilene was elected president of the league to succeed J. McAlister Stevenson of Abilene. J. A. Johnson of Midland was named vice president.

It was decided to open the season of 126 games May 1. Salary limit for each club per month was set at $2,400, exclusive of managers salaries.

BIG SPRING, Jan. 7.—Work is under way on remodeling the Howard county jail. The building will be remodeled at an early date.

Sell Produce House

SNYDER, Jan. 7.—Announcement has been made of the sale of The Farmers Produce company to the Mund and Van Bratten of Sonora, who have arrived here to take charge of the business. Both men are experienced wool dealers direct from the heart of the big wool production section of Texas and will provide Snyder with a wool market that will be a distinct advantage to the growing sheep business here and another step in the growth and development of Scurry county.

Free Mail Delivery

BIG SPRING, Jan. 7.—Big Spring will have free delivery limited, extended at an early date, since requirements have been met as to house numbering, paving, and street lighting according to advice received here today from Washington.

Dickens Officers

SPUR, Jan. 7.—New officers for Dickens county, Sheriff G. L. Barber, County Judge O. C. Newberry, County and District Clerk Robert Reynolds, County Attorney B. G. Worswick, County Treasurer Mrs. C. C. Cobb, County Commissioners A. C. Rose, E. N. Johnson, H. O. Albin and Charlie Perrin.

ROARING DAYS IN OLD TONOPAH

TONOPAH, Nev., Jan. 7.—Tex Rickard came to the Nevada gold fields in 1903 to retrieve his fortune which had been impaired by a streak of bad luck at Nome, Alaska.

Rickard threw together the framework of "The Northern" Saloon at Crook and Main Streets and with Ole Elliott and Kid Highley, he reproduced the gambling houses he had owned in Dawson and Nome.

"The Northern" resort was the scene of what old timers said were the greatest gambling plays ever witnessed on the desert. "The Sky" was the limit, and "Promoters" and "Wild Caters" were said to have "got all the excitement they craved," frequently laying $10,000 on the turn of a card.

Eight bartenders were employed on a shift, making 24 for each day. Each man drew $12 from the till and paid himself as he went off shift. More than fifty dealers were employed, and visitors said champagne flowed more freely than water.

Through Rickard's efforts, the Gans-Nelson fight was staged in Goldfield as a community affair.

GAMBLER, DREAMER, AND MAN OF ACTION; THAT WAS RICKARD

RICKARD'S TRAIL LED FROM RANGES TO FAME, WEALTH

(By Associated Press)

HENRIETTA, Tex., Jan. 7.—Many prominent men here recall the days when "Tex" Rickard, famous sport promoter, used to tell them to "go home and be good" in the wild and woolly days 34 years ago when Rickard was a star and was city marshal of Henrietta. Rickard never acquired a reputation for beating bad men to the draw because when he told them to "Go Home and Be Good" they usually went.

In those days Rickard was called "Dink." No one today could recall just how the name originated. Tex, or George Lewis Rickard, came to Henrietta when very young after his father's death. He was a resident in Kansas City, Sherman, Tex., and Cambridge, Wis. While he was still in his teens, the head of the family died and Rickard became the bread-winner, riding the ranges of Clay County on the Red River as a cow puncher. W. H. Myers, an early employer, remembers that the family was poor and that he once gave Rickard a coat.

Always a Gambler
"Tex" was noted as a gambler before he left this section, but his gambling in those days was usually the coffee gaming of the cowboy. He did not have a bank of his own until he had made his strike in Alaska.

While serving as city marshal he met and fell in love with his first wife, Leone Blitt, daughter of the then leading physician here. Miss Blitt's parents objected to the match as George and Leone eloped and were married at the home of L. B. Upham, the Rev. J. F. Young, a Baptist pastor now living in Ardmore, performing the ceremony. The couple then took a train for Fort Worth and after a one day honeymoon returned to face the bride's parents.

About a year later Mrs. Rickard and her young baby died, and "Tex" obtained a month's leave from his position as marshal to look into the situation in Alaska. Reports he had sold there for $1 a pound interested him.

"If it is that high there must be a lot of money there," he told a friend in leaving, "and I am going to get me a stake and buy 1,000 yearlings."

He and another cowboy struggled over the Chukchee Pass and across 300 miles of frozen country to the headwaters of the Yukon where they struck it rich in the famous Bonanza. With $90,000 Rickard started a gambling hall at Dawson and a group of lucky miners cleaned him out in a few days. For a time he and Rex Beach, a first wood until Rickard had a stake of $35 on which he opened another gambling hall and made good. Most of his $500,000 winnings, however, was lost in speculation on claims.

From Alaska he went to the Toiyah, where he established the Great Northern saloon at Goldfield. The money he made there financed his Argentine ranch venture. Glen Cunningham, now of Bowie and James Frazar, now deceased, were friends of Rickard and "Tex" came back to Henrietta to enlist them in the project. He took them to the Argentine via London, and when the project blew up he brought them back to Henrietta.

Only a few months ago, when L. H. Koethe, one of Rickard's old Henrietta friends died, a beautiful floral piece was established at the home from Rickard. He River as a cowpuncher, W. H. Myers forgot his friends and many days has had tickets to everyone of Rickard's big fight promotions.

TARIFF TOPIC FOR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Congress began its second week after the holidays with attention centered on the Kellogg treaty and the hearings on tariff revision.

The former was before the senate for the past, confident that an early and favorable vote on it would be made. Opposition forces want an accompanying resolution passed with the treaty which would set forth America's position on the Monroe Doctrine.

The House ways and means committee had called 60 witnesses for the scrutiny of the tariff with first attention planned for the duties on chemicals, oils and paints.

On the House floor the first deficiency bill relating to the post office caused sharp rows, particularly over the proposed refund of $36,000,000 to the United States Steel Corporation.

A New York woman is asking for a divorce because her husband refuses to fire his stenographer. May there be a reason on his side, however. The girl may be able to spell.

SPORTS WORLD LOSES LEADER

RICKARD'S PLACE IS ONE THAT WILL BE HARD TO PLUG UP

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Boxing in general and Madison Square Garden more particularly will have to look far and wide before it finds another Tex Rickard.

His uncanny ability to foresee what the public wanted enabled him to hang up purses previously undreamed of and still clear huge profits either for himself or the Garden Corporation. The Garden, indoor home of boxing, hockey, bicycle racing, track and field meets and other sports, stands almost as a personal monument to the man.

For the present at least, the Garden probably will operate under the joint direction of William F. Carvey, vice president and treasurer, and Colonel John S. Hammond, vice president and assistant general manager. One or the other of these men may eventually be selected to become Rickard's permanent successor.

But in the event that neither or chosen, there are those whose names already have been linked with gossip concerning the management of the Garden.

Not the least-often mentioned is the name of Jack Dempsey. The old Manassa Mauler, ready to fight once more for his friend, Tex, probably will never enter the ring again. He has often said that he would fight for no one but Tex. There is no denying that Dempsey's selection to head the boxing end of the Garden's business would be a popular one. But Rickard's success was not due simply to popularity. Most of it can be attributed to far-sightedness amounting to absolute genius.

Another nominee for the vacant chair is John M. Chapman, czar of the six-day bicycle race game and a former assistant to Rickard. Chapman is no novice in the gentle promotion of Walter Hagen, peer of professionals, and Leo Diegel, national professional king and winner of the $25,000 San Diego open here yesterday, will be entered.

Many who participated in the La Jolla and San Diego opens had left today for Los Angeles, hoping to get in a few practice rounds before the big money tournament gets under way. Nearly a hundred others, including Walter Hagen, peer of professionals, and Leo Diegel, national professional king and winner of the $25,000 San Diego open here yesterday, will be entered.

Drop Two Guards, Is Grid Injunction
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—If the football rule makers wish to speed up the game and make scoring more frequent, Lawson Robertson, trainer at the University of Pennsylvania and head coach of American Olympic teams, suggests the removal of the two guards.

"There are two many men on the field now," he said, "and I would suggest dropping the guards."

WHOLESALE AND ARMY TO PLAY TONIGHT

POSTPONED BATTLE IS FEATURE SCHEDULE IN CITY LEAGUE

A game postponed from January 2 is on the card for City League basketball at the high school gymnasium tonight. The Army quintet which was scheduled to meet the Wholesalers last Wednesday night will take the floor in the main attraction of the night's program.

In the opening contest of tonight's program, Bell Telephone girls will play the Montgomery-Ward sextette.

Other games in the City League which have been postponed will be moved up one date in the schedule.

FRESH AND RELAXED AT THE JOURNEY'S END

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without fuss or fatigue.

Mentally you are at ease because you are sure of the mechanical performance of the car. No matter how long the trip, or rough or devious the roadway, you know it will bring you safely, quickly to the journey's end.

Through thickest traffic, up steepest hills, along the open road, you will drive with security and confidence because the new Ford is so alert and capable and so easy to operate and control.

Ease of control adds to comfort of driving

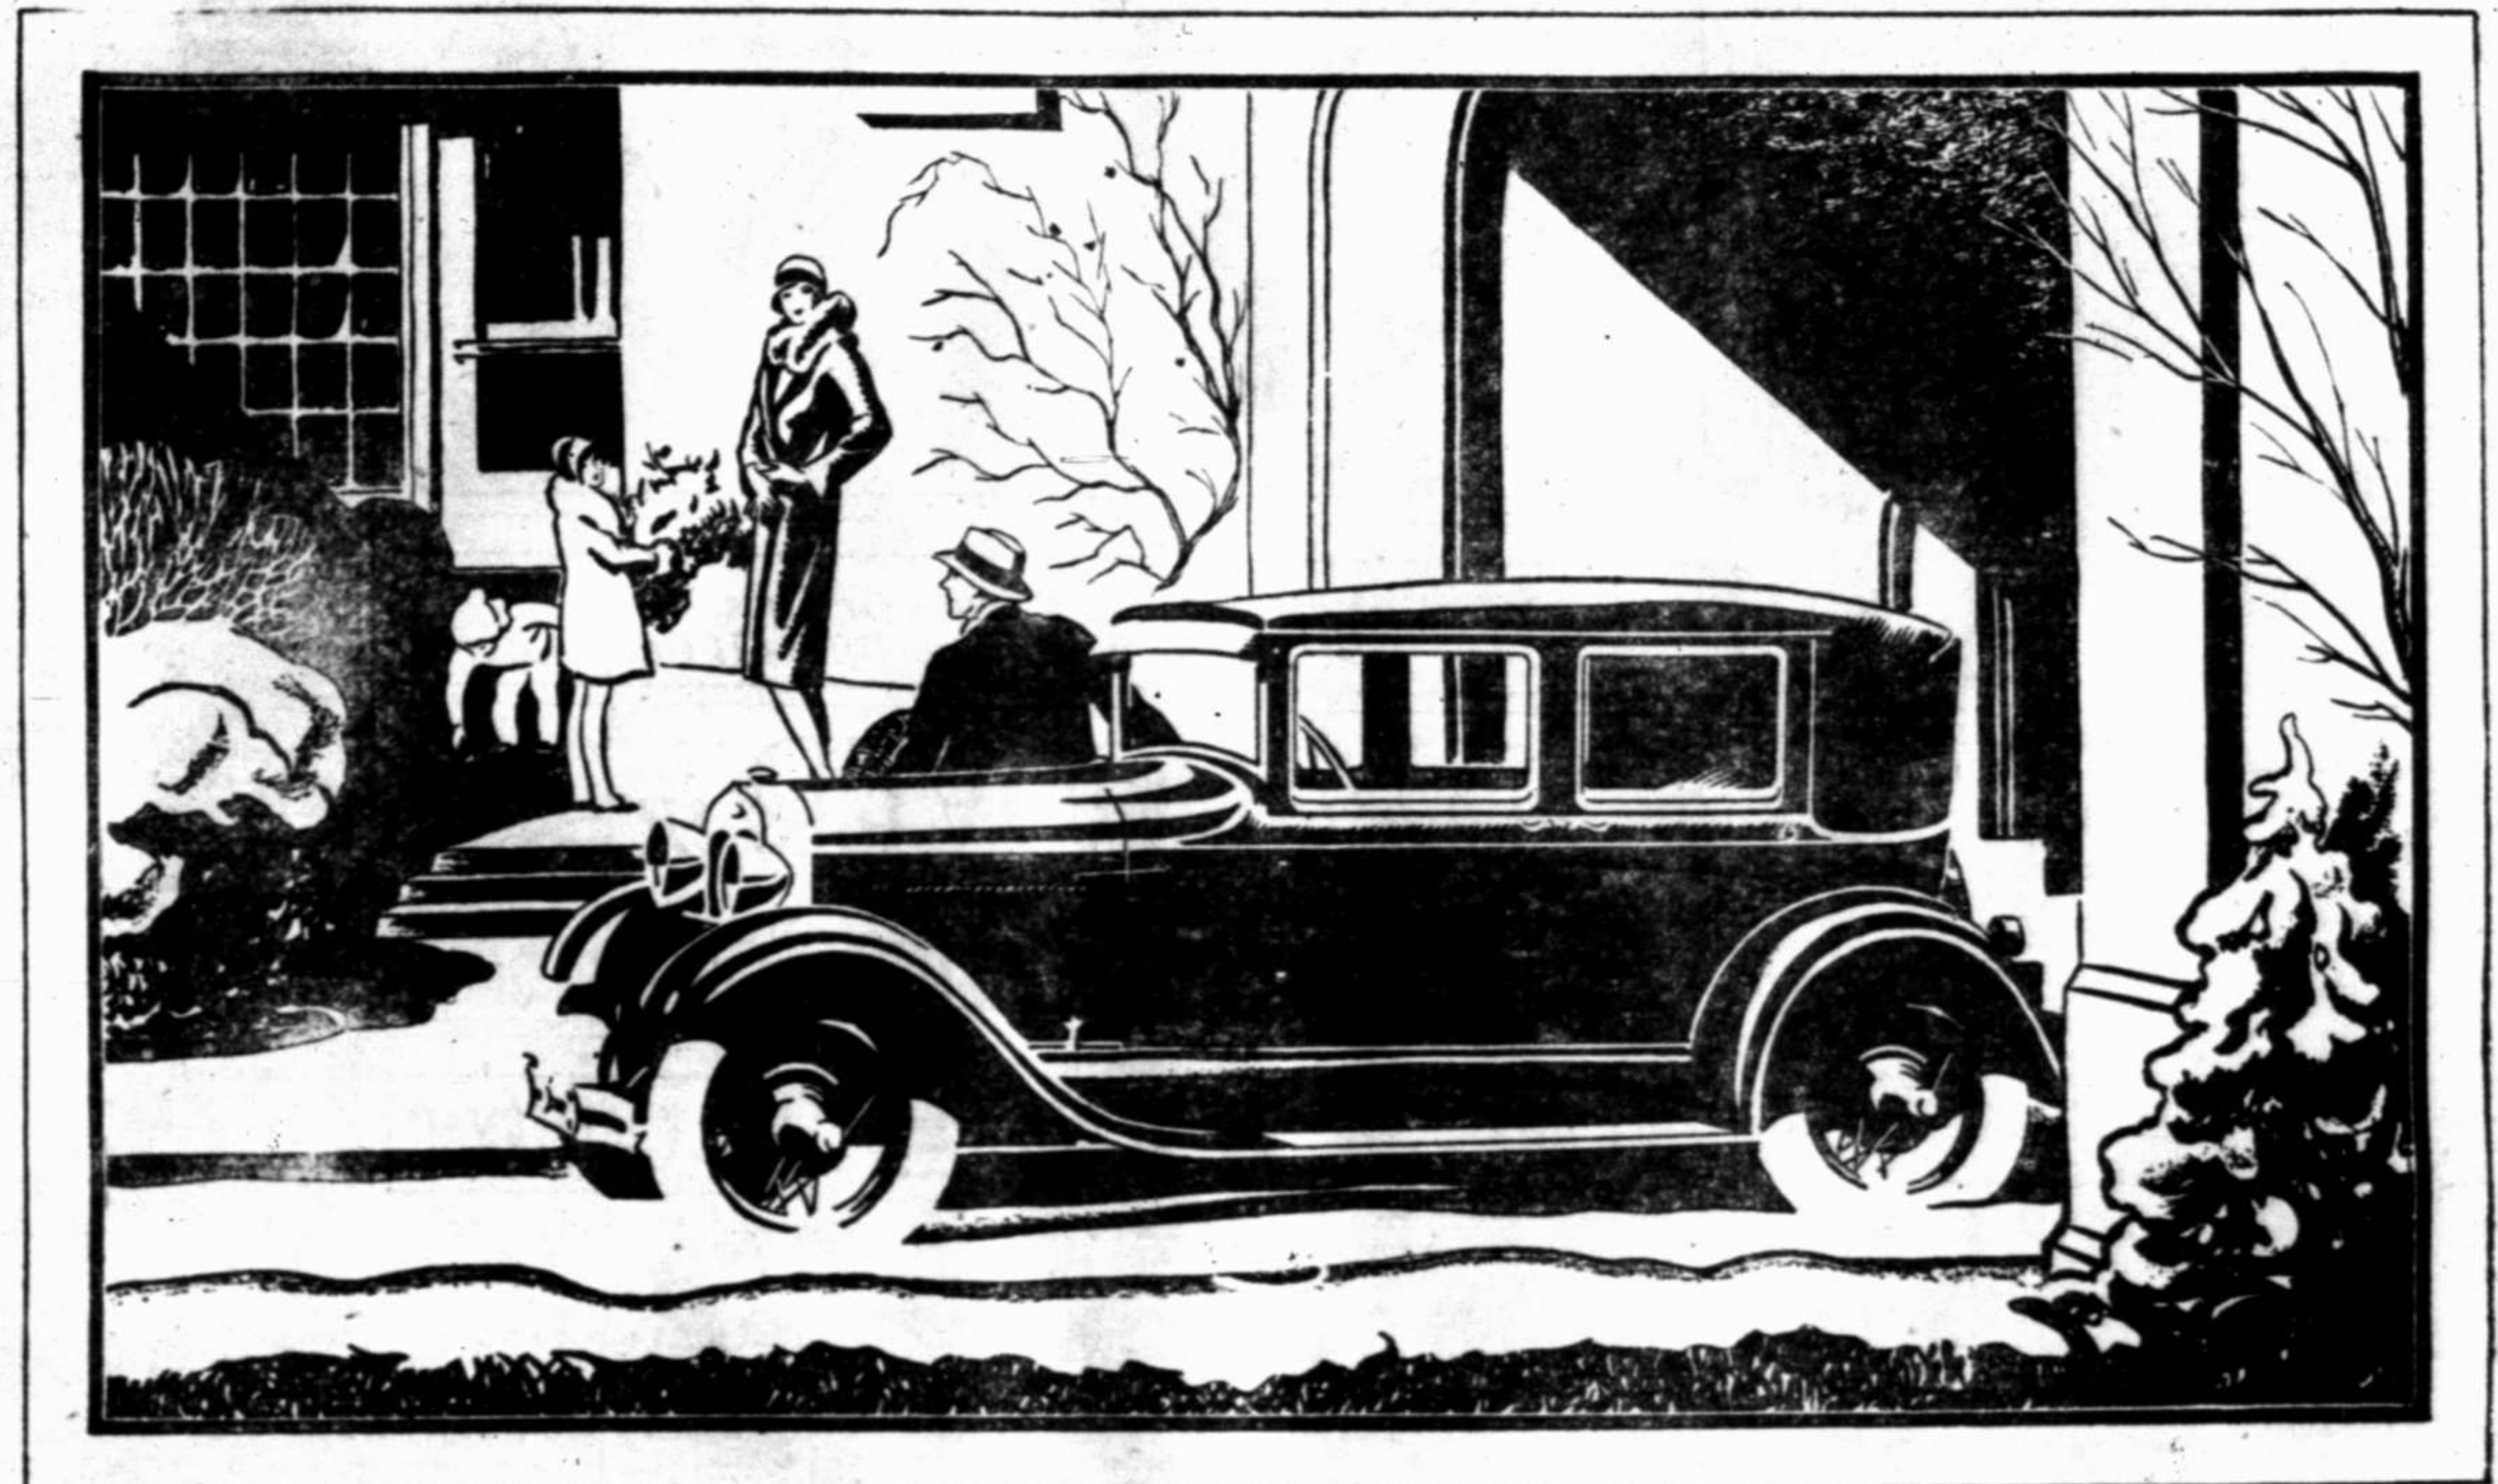

The steering wheel answers to the touch of a finger. Gears shift smoothly and silently. Brakes take hold quickly and firmly even on slippery pavements.

Unusual acceleration, speed and power are especially appreciated in emergencies. A space little longer than the car itself is all you need for parking.

These features simplify the mechanics of driving and, together with reliability, add a great deal to the mental comfort of motoring.

Physically, too, you will feel fresh and relaxed in the new Ford because it is such a roomy, easy-riding car.

The restfully tilted seats are made generously wide and are deeply cushioned, with coil springs of straight and hour-glass type.

The backs are carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the new Ford is found in its riding comfort. Somehow it seems to just glide along, as if every road were a good road. The rough spots are there, just as they have always been, but you do not feel them. It is almost as if a giant hand had smoothed the way before you. Even bad stretches may be taken at a reasonably fast pace without hard jolts or bumps or the exaggerated bouncing which is the cause of most motoring fatigue.

One reason, of course, is the use of four

The Fordor Sedan is a particularly good family car not only because of its comfort, safety and beauty, but also because of its low first cost and low cost of operation and up-keep. Finished in a choice of colors—an unusual feature in a low-price car.

Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers—two in the front and two in the rear.

Of even greater importance, however, are the low center of gravity, the carefully planned balance of the car, and the many advantages of the transverse or crosswise springs.

Special Ford springs soften force of road impacts

These springs rest on their flexible ends with the heavy center part uppermost. Thus the very weight of the springs receives the benefit of spring action instead of hanging below as dead weight and increasing the hammer-like blows of road impacts.

Another element in decreasing unsprung weight (the weight carried below the flexible ends of the springs) is the construction of the front axle and rear axle housing. Through the use of fine steel and electric welding, they are made of exceptional strength, yet kept comparatively light in weight.

Another feature of the new Ford is the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield. This is so made that the glass will not shatter or fly under the hardest impact. It is an important safety factor in these days of heavy traffic.

All of these factors combine to reduce or absorb the force of every unevenness in the road before it reaches the frame, chassis and body of the car. This means more comfort for you personally and also contributes to better performance and longer life for every mechanical part.

Thought For Today

For even when we were with you,
this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.—1 Thess. 3:10.

Unless a man work he cannot find out what he is able to do.—Hamerton.

Dauntless Quest

It will be a bad day for the race
when the polar regions have been completely explored. There is a touch to the daily stories of adventure
in the land of everlasting snow
that we will miss when the last Arctic and Antarctic have finally been mapped and catalogued to the last square mile.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, flying over wastes of ice and snow at the bottom of the world, is doing his bit to hasten that day. He discovers that Graham Land is separated from the Antarctic continent by a long arm
of the sea, and notes half a dozen
new islands which must go on all future maps. Incidentally, he and Lieut. Carl Eklund, risk their lives repeatedly to make these discoveries.

Now all this makes very interesting reading, even though we who read it never leave the Graham Land. But the real interest in the idea of a new world is not in the fact of its discovery, but in the fact that it is a part of the Antarctic continent or not. It is one of those things that we take on faith, we shall never go there, and we shall never talk with anyone who is going there.

But for all that, the stories of Sir Hubert's discoveries make interesting reading. Despite the fact that it is a covering the region in a modern air plane, his story is only a new chapter in the old story
that has been told for centuries
by the first Phoenician captain who dared to poke his rickety craft out beyond Gibraltar, and continued
through the ages, by Columbus, Magellan, Ponce de Leon, Cook and Peary.

The story is more than a summary of the new world and dreadful hardships. It is one of our most precious possessions, a long epic of the human race's inexhaustible
thirst for knowledge, an eternal testimonial to its capacity for going to dark places and braving death in desolate seas.

The race is restless. It is never satisfied with what it has or what it knows. Always it must put itself to fearful bother and take long trips to add new facts to its collection. That these facts sometimes turn out to have no practical value makes no difference. The fact that men will peril their lives to get them gives them an extra significance.

To be dauntless and to be everlastingly inquisitive—these are two traits in us that will not die out. So long as they last—so long as the Byrds and Wilkins and Amundsen persist, during their search for knowledge about a land that the race can never use—we can have hope.

A Victory

It is extremely comforting to read that Chicago has succeeded in convicting Angelo Pettit and Andrew Cappellano of kidnapping 19-year-old Billy Barker.

Few of the strange things that have happened in Chicago were more disgusting than this case.
To begin with, the father of the boy, was afraid, for days, to notify the police that his son was missing. Then, when the boy was restored to him and indictments were voted, a period of terrorization began. One state's witness was murdered. Two or three more were beaten. The trial judge was threatened with death, as were the prosecutors and other witnesses.

Under such circumstances, it would have been quite understandable if the jury had not dared to vote convictions.

But the jury did dare. The verdict can be accepted as notification

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says the fellow who operates a laundry certainly does a clean business.

Visiting in another city recently The Plainsman saw a sign on a shop window. "Bland and Blank. ELECTRICIANS." In a recent edition of a contemporary Texas newspaper a bride groom was described as a CINEMATOGRAPHER. Bar-
bers have become TONSORIAL-ISTS, real estate men REAL-TORS, and insurance men have described themselves as insurance ENGINEERS. Plain old undertakers are telling the world that they are MORTU-CIANS and The Plainsman expects soon to hear some newspaper man refer to himself as an EDITORIALIST ENGI-NEER or a REPORTORIAL-
IST. In this day and time, it appears, we must all "put on some dog" in order to impress the world with the fact that we are SOMEBODY, going SOME-WHERE, to do SOMETHING.

In the years gone by when a man
wanted to impress his neighbors
with his prominence and dignity he put on a bat-wing collar. Now he merely figures out a high sounding name for his job and puts it on his engraved business cards.

A six million dollar building
program is in sight for Lubbock
in 1929 if pre-dictions of local men who ought to know whereof they speak pan out. Lubbock, as most people know,
crowded the $3,250,000 mark in 1928 to hang up a record for this section of the country and prospects were not nearly so good for a banner building year 12 months ago as they are today.

Building permits in the sum of $1,451,289 were granted in 1927, a gain of $105,889 when compared to the $1,344,400 for 1926. The total recorded in 1928 surpassed that of 1927 by $1,546,666, or almost double so looking at 1928's figures and speculating upon what 1929 may do,
one need not wear rose-colored glasses to reach the conclusion that a $6,000,000 total this year is not at all an impossibility. A gain of $2,808,025 will turn the trick very handily.

In The Plainsman's opinion,
there is no city in this country
that is doing as well as Lubbock
to a city's progress as accurately
as building permits. "Homemade" census figures, gas and water meters, telephone and
electric light figures all form
the basis for estimates all from city's growth but building permits are the only figures which reflect
more essentially to the subject.
When you stop to consider that Lubbock has been on the bustle
for a period of approximately eight years and that the building total in 1928 almost equaled
the combined total of 1923, 1924
and 1925, that MEANS SOMETH-ING. And when you stop to realize that 1928's record is practically equal to that of any two years combined in the last five year period, that MEANS SOMETHING ELSE.

There is no person within the bounds of this country who needs to hurry to hang his head because of Lubbock's building record. As a matter of actual fact,
as a prominent local after-dinner
speaker would say, it should be something to make us proud—and how!

That Man on Avenue Q says if it wasn't for the optimists how would a father get an expensive
daughter taken off his hands?

Says Will Robinson, editor of the Roanoke Morning Dispatch:
"Governor W. H. Adams of Colorado sanctions a newspaper brag
that during his two years as chief executive he never issued a single pardon. The statement is interesting in comparison with the memory of the pardon industry in Texas,
but it is not convincing of a claim that Governor Adams has either heart nor guzzard. Nor is it reasonable to assume that Colorado
has not among its hundreds of convicts men who have paid in sack-
cloth and ashes for crimes hastily committed, and who in all humanity deserve to pass the few remaining
years of their life outside of prison walls. Mercy is not an ignoble attribute of Governor Adams will gain nothing in popular regard by the proof that he hasn't got it."

There may be much wisdom
in Mr. Robinson's remarks.
That "Milk of Human Kindness," and of which we hear so much and see so little, is doubtless a necessary attribute, yet
The Plainsman would rather see a state executive too conservative in the matter of pardons that see him lean too
much in the opposite direction.

Texas, it will be remembered, has had some experience along the line of pardoning governors which is being reflected every once in a while
when officers pick up a pardoned
convict who is in trouble with the law again. The Plainsman does not insinuate that such is always the case but he does take the stand
that a pardon board and a governor

that Chicago is fighting her way
out of the grip of the underworld.
It is cause for rejoicing on the part of all who love orderly government.

CORINTO, Nicaragua, Jan. 7.—
(By mail.)—The most impressive thing to an American sailing into Corinto harbor, through which 65
per cent of Nicaraguan exports leave the country, probably are the two or three U. S. Navy seaplanes on the beach alongside rows of crude native dugouts.

Few planes are to be seen in this part of the world. Conditions are not yet ripe for rapid development of aviation. Most Nicaraguan business, for instance, consists of production and export of bananas and other fruits, coffee and coconuts
and importation of cotton cloth,
iron, steel, machinery, meats,
leather, shoes, automobiles and chemicals. Neither the business situation nor the size or population of Nicaragua justify use of airplanes except in a small military
way.

Much Like United States
But here, as in the rest of Central America, one can find almost anything, on a modified scale, that one can find in the United States.
Even the hotel in Corinto, the best encountered by the Hoover party
in this section, compares very favorably with many leading hotels
in larger North American cities.

Despite experiences with our marines, Nicaragua, potentially the richest of Central American countries, shows a trend of thought and sympathy toward the United States
coming at a time when Nicaragua
is awakening to new aspirations.
This trend is resulting in increased business for American manufacturers, though the bulk is not large.
It might be noted here that in all Central American countries visited by the Hoover party who confirmed reports of wide Latin-American resentment following our intervention in Nicaragua. The best they thought of our previous Nicaraguan and Mexican policy was that it was stupid; in Nicaragua, they held, both the correct and the intelligent course was to recognize Sacaia instead of Diaz. But during Hoover's visit anti-American-ism appeared everywhere to be at a low ebb. These people are confident of Hoover's good intentions
—and immensely flattered by his visit.

Young men and women in the cities long ago began to pick up American and European styles. The girls who can afford them, however, say they can get their dresses
much cheaper in Paris than from New York. The native ladies, of course, favor calico, with occasionally prized "best" dresses of rayon or silk. The well-to-do men get their suits from England. British woolens are much cheaper than what can be had from the states.
Wines and liquors come from

should be super-careful in such matters. The judgment of 12 men is usually better than the judgment
of one, even if he be a governor.

self, the saxophone girl has to

In New York

By Swan

Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The swan-
kest of Manhattan's new roof top night resorts now sells reserved seats tickets for tables.

These are purchased at a box office like theatre tickets. They may be obtained weeks in advance
if a special location is desired and the price scale depends on propin-quity to the ringside.

Thus is a long-needed slap taken at the old system of giving palms of brass waiters. Many of these have made fortunes from frivolous spenders who were willing to part with anything from $30 to $50 for a central table at a swanky night club.

The "reserved" sign has long been the best friend of the greedy
head waiter. Most of the cafe singers were aware that these signs were mere decoys. One had merely to slip a bill under a waiter's hand to have the signs hurriedly discarded.

One of the heaviest spenders the night club world has encountered in New York makes no pretense of showing glitter. Most of the heavy spenders demand that a brass band
strike up each time a hundred spot goes to a blond entertainer for some special song number. They get their money's worth in a sort of cheap fame that accompanies lavish spending. Little gives them, however, by those who get their money. They get what they pay for and sometimes very little of that. Their days are generally numbered and they soon disappear.

But this particular spender makes a practice of leaving behind him $1,500 whenever he attends a certain cafe—which is usually twice a month. He does not consider that he is playing the sucker and would fight anyone who intimidated him. He is quite aware of his lavish gestures but insists on doing his spending very quietly. Only the attaches of the state are aware of the lavish extravagant nature of his tips. He has a carefully regulated schedule of tips which he religiously observes.

Thus the coat room girl gets 10; the table waiter gets a twenty; and the head waiter gets a fifty. The orchestra splits $200 among its members and his favorite entertainers receive $100 each for singing his favorite song. His dinner check—generally for four people—runs from $300 upward
and the doorman gets a ten-spot
when the popular guest leaves.

Somehow he does not get the chuckles which accompany the departure of most "sucker" spenders. His spending is done with a certain dignity and casual carelessness. He does not like to be known as a heavy spender and resents reference to his hobby.

Some time ago I wrote a paragraph about the "flower girl of Greenwich Village," who loans
out potted plants to impoverished artists so that they may have subject for still life paintings.
In the late afternoon the artists
are presumed to return the plants
in time for the evening trade.

Since then I have learned many amusing things about this unique shop owner. She also rents out plants to transients who are in the vicinity but a few weeks and wish flowers for their hotel rooms.
The other night she told me
she started in business with five dollars and a bunch of roses.

A flower lover, herself, she decided that Manhattan was the most flower-hungry city in the world and that she would get flowers to the natives either by direct purchase or on the installment plan. She would even give them away, if necessary—and frequently does. All unsold flowers that threaten to go into decline are shipped off to a children's hospital.

Chorus girls are too old at 25 to meet the strenuous demands of modern dancing, says a London trainer of chorines. Maybe they are, but who ever heard of a chorus girl who was 25?

One swallow may make a summer, but the same doesn't seem to hold for New Year's Eve.

But the market for American machinery is on the rise, especially agricultural machinery. Also for steel and cement for new two and three-story buildings. The cities,
one is advised, are just beginning to adopt modern merchandising methods. But a few of the shop windows in one or two of the larger centers are demonstrative of the
up-and-coming urge which seems to grip Nicaragua. Ample evidence of increased confidence in the nation's stability is given by the decline in interest rates. Once up to 16 and 18 per cent, they are now down as low as 10 per cent, or even less. The same increased stability of the country probably presages a
increase in American investments,
which are now found in Nicaragua's fruit industries, mining railroad system and banking.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children."

NOT ENOUGH FOOD IS USUALLY
ANSWER TO THE TOO
TOO-THINS

By LULU HUNT PETERS M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

The T. T. T. (Too-Too-Thins)
Not infrequently I am accused of being very partial to those who are overweight because I write more on that subject than on any other.

"Why don't you spend more time
on us thinners?"
We deserve a much consideration as the fat
squab!" one of them wrote.

And I have to explain frequently
that my chief reason is that overweight is a forerunner of so many serious disorders that I can do a great deal
more in the public's health line by teaching how to reduce and keep normal than I can in any other
way.

Last week I gave four papers for the army of those who have been postponing reducing until the New Year. Now that I'm not really partial to the F. F. F.'s (Fat Fraternity), I'll give one paper
to you T. T. T's.

The first thing you must do is to have a physical examination to see if there is anything aside from under-eating for your needs, that is causing your underweight. For instance, you may have a slight toxemia (poison in the blood) from some obscure cause that can be remedied. Granting this has been done and you are found O. K., I will make a sweeping statement—
You are underweight because you do not eat enough for your needs,
no matter how much it is;
just as the opposite—"you eat too much for your needs, no matter how little it is"—is true for the over-weighters.

I get this question often probably because I say "Why is it that the thin person can eat so much and still not gain, while I eat so little and do gain?" There are two answers that be considered:

1. The thin person usually doesn't eat so much as the fat person. You will almost invariably find that he does not eat enough for his needs,
food, gravies, sweets, nuts, etc., and fills up on the watery vegetables and fruits; and he seldom eats between meals. The next time you dine in company with some underweight person, just notice how very little attention is given to his eating. If there is anything being discussed, he hops to it with full force and forgets his food. Does the fat person? Not so you can observe it.

2. The foundation for the overweight is just as good for you as I have it last week, but you probably didn't need it, so send for our pamphlet on the subject.
I won't forget you.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice.
Your questions of a general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling.
For the pamphlet on reducing, with gaining, 12 cents in coin, with full-self-addressed, stamped envelope
must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

Tomorrow: Lipsticks for Men?

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

THE URGE TO EXCEL
Every human being has a desire to excel. If it weren't for this desire, deeply planted in the human soul this interesting race of bi-pedes would not be worth joining.

As it stands, however, I believe this one universal human characteristic makes the human family a kind of exclusive and highly desirable lodge.
Some does and some hordes are possessed of this same urge to do a little better or look a little better than other dogs and horses. This is due to a variety of those intelligent animals with human brains,
and the exchange of sympathy between humans and the dogs and horses.

Hogs, bears and giraffes have no individual desires to do better than others of their kind. They are actuated altogether by natural urges to remain alive and perpetuate their kind. Life among the humans, I think, is more exciting.

Possibly the easiest manner of excelling others is by acquiring things. Therefore the commonest of all activities in the game of excelling is the gathering of things, objects, possessions and the money which represents power to purchase things.
Millions who are unable to think of any other way of excelling their fellows, almost instinctively rush about gathering objects and coins and houses and lands so that their fellow men may stare at them with astonishment and exclaim: "How very rich he is!"

Another inspiration comes to many whose qualifications for excelling are perhaps a bit limited. It is the inspiration to do something that in itself is significant or trivial, but to do it often, louder, longer or in some manner more boisterous or attention-compelling way than the same trivial thing is done by others.

Thus we have flagpole stitters. Sitting upon the top of a flagpole is such a tremendously unimportant action that few people care to indulge in it. So the field is open and competition is strictly limited. People who could not learn, in the course of a lifetime, to excel in neatness, speed, good manners or operating an adding machine, can easily sit on top of a flagpole for days and nights on end, thereby attracting much attention, which they mistake for envy and admiration.

In New York it was easy to get a marathon talking contest started.
Unimportant persons who had been disappointed in efforts to excel in acquiring things and money rushed into a large building and mounted rostrums. They talked and sang and read aloud meaningless instruments
for hours upon weary hours and amused spectators laughed and said:
"What's it all about?"

I visited the talkfest and found
most of those on the rostrums to be humans who, not being gifted in any way, nevertheless had always desired an opportunity to show off in public and indulge in self expression.
Here was an opportunity. Anybody might excel in a contest among ho-bodies, doing something of no importance whatever, and thus acquire a certain notoriety and a consciousness of being excellent in something.

Some people are not very inspiring, and such contests are not very helpful except as they remind us that the desire to excel is in everybody and we must try hard indeed
if we are to excel in any worthwhile endeavor for there is plenty of competition.

A scientist has returned from Central America with the tale of a tree in Guatemala that gives milk. That's nothing. Farmers have been getting it out of wells
for years.

Stops Headache
In A Few Minutes

The next time you have a headache, neuralgia, rheumatic or periodic pain, try the improved method of relief—two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in a little water. Being liquid, Capudine acts almost instantly, much quicker than tablets
and powders, and is more effective.
Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening
them. It does not upset the stomach. Has given satisfaction to millions during the past 30 years. At all drug stores—30c and 60c sizes,
also trial size. (adv.)

Stocks And Money

WALL STREET TRADING

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (P)—Stock prices opened irregular but the main tendency appeared to be downward. Columbia Gas dropped 2 points and losses of a point or so were recorded by Missouri Pacific, American International, Kroger Stores, Fleischmann, by products, Coke and Electric Auto Life fell back a point or so. Curtiss opened 2 points higher and Stewart-Warner advanced 1 1/2 to a new high at 130.

The early reaction was generally described as a further correction of a top-heavy speculative position created in the bullish enthusiasm at the turn of the year.

Studebaker opened with a block of 10,300 shares at 79 7/8, up 3 points, but General Motors, Chrysler and Hudson fell back a point or more on opening sales.

Blocks of 10,000 shares each also were noted in Anaconda Copper, International Nickel (New), Columbia Graphophone and Postum Co., the declines ranging from fractions to 3 points.

Radio quickly broke 8 1/2 points. General Electric 6 and Montgomery Ward 4 1/2. Early declines of 2 points or more were recorded by Allied Chemical, National Lead, International Telephone and Kennecott Copper.

Wright Aeronautical quickly ran up nearly 5 points on buying influenced by the establishment of a new entrance record by the plane "Question Mark."

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables slightly firmer at 44.85-5.32.

Grain Market

CHICAGO TRADING

CHICAGO, Jan. 7 (P)—Influenced by severe cold weather in domestic winter wheat territory and by unexpected upturns at Liverpool, the wheat market here averaged higher early today. Falling off of the amount of wheat on ocean passage was reported and also decreased offerings from Argentina.

Chicago wheat opened 1-4 to 3-8c to 3-8c up, but later reacted somewhat. Corn unchanged to 3-8c advance and subsequently held near initial figures. Oats were firm. Provisions likewise tended up.

POULTRY, PRODUCE BRING QUARTER MILLION FOR LAMESA, DAWSON CO.

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Jan. 7.—Poultry and produce receipts in Lamesa and Dawson county exceeded a quarter of a million dollars for 1928 according to information given out by produce houses here recently. One poultry house alone handled better than 130,000 of this amount. There are three poultry houses located in Lamesa and several branch stations in various parts of the county.

The total number of turkeys exceeded 12,000 and returned to the owners a net sum of $40,000.

One produce house has reported the following as its total receipts: turkeys, 7,100; weight, 85,000 pounds, brought $21,500; hens, 4200, weight, 165,000, brought $28,500; eggs, 4500 dozen, brought $9,000; fryers, weight 10,000, brought $25,000; chicks, weight 36,000, brought $3,240; hocks, 600, weight 4200, brought $294; cream, 4500 cans, weight 112,500, brought $42,750.

The prospects are bright for a greater sale of produce in 1929. Local men are now encouraging the production of a greater number of turkeys.

Higher: creamery extras 47; standard 46 3-4; extra firsts 45 1-2 and 48; firsts 44 1-2 and 45; seconds 43 and 44.

Eggs higher, extra firsts 37 and 38; firsts 35 and 36; ordinary firsts 30 and 30.

Cupid Steps Out Of It During Week-End

Breaking a deadlock of several days, the marriage license total for 1928 forged into a substantial lead over the week-end in the race with the forces of discord, as represented in petitions of divorce.

Five marriage licenses were issued from the county clerk's office during the past week-end to make a total of eleven as compared to six for the divorce petitions. Both totals had been tied, six-all, since the first of the year.

The marriage licenses were issued to M. Luckey and Sophia Roark; Johnnie Baggett and Edna Mae Wright; Clifton Bailey and Minnie Lou Hinson; and Earl Pate and Comerla Walker.

BEWARE THE COUGHS THAT FOLLOW FLU!

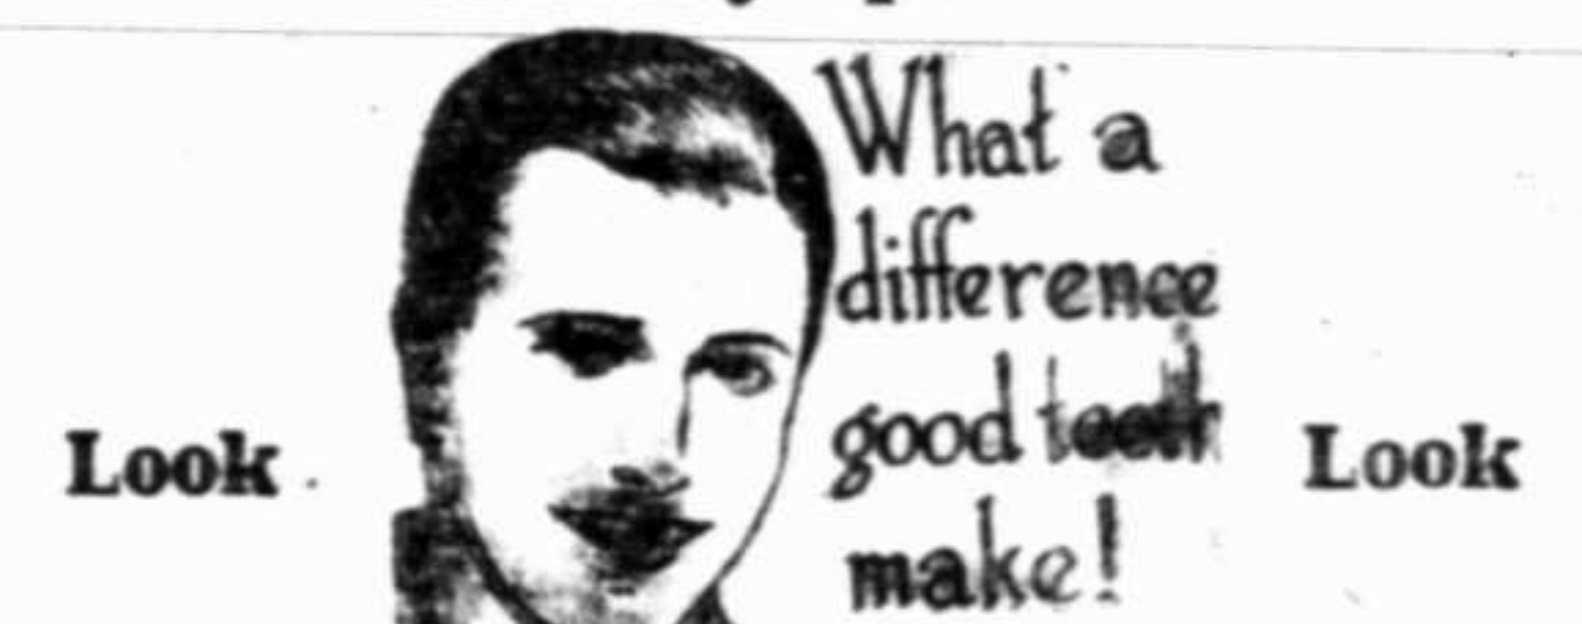

They May Weaken Your System and Lead to Serious Trouble

You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion will help you avoid flu, but is not sold as a flu remedy. If you have fever, or think you may have the flu, see your doctor immediately. (adv.)

BUILDING ON UPWARD MOVE

JANUARY OFF TO GOOD START—CITY SIXTH DURING PAST WEEK

FOLLOWING on the heels of predictions of several leading business men of Lubbock that the next few months would see record building activity in this city, building permits over the past week-end totaled about $30,000, increasing the year's and month's total to $60,000 for the first week.

The spurt of building activity surpasses all others so far this year. All of the permits over the week-end were for the construction of residences. They are as follows: M. A. Welch is the contractor for a $5,000 residence at 2112 16th street; Mr. Price, W. S. Moore is to build a $5,000 home at 1924 24th street; L. H. Thomas is the contractor for a $10,000 residence to be constructed for F. L. Southwell at 1923 19th street; the Sampson Construction is to construct a residence at 310 Slaton Avenue; and H. H. Shell and Son is to construct a $5,000 residence for V. D. Shell. Fourteen permits have been issued during the month of January.

Lubbock was fifth in the state last week, surpassing such cities as Beaumont and Austin.

H. B. O'Neal, principal of the Center school, was a Lubbock visitor during the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leverett, teachers in the Liberty school, were visitors in this city Saturday.

It would be carried through here as planned.

timed the wise policies of Clifford B. Jones, Senator Brelford and Colonel Herring who preceded him in office.

"He was elected at Plainview in 1922, was re-elected at San Angelo in 1923 and retired in favor of Colonel C. C. Walsh at Brownwood in 1924. His outstanding work was in leading the active fight of the chamber to preserve the common points freight rate structure and in fighting for more favorable freight rates throughout West Texas. He was a trained railroad man coming to Texas from the north a number of years ago to head the C. B. Cattle company at Crosbyton.

"His company colonized the Two Buckle ranch in Crosby county and one of his achievements was building a railroad from Lubbock to Crosbyton which road is now a part of the Santa Fe system. He became manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce in 1925 serving until the spring of 1928 when he engaged in private business in Fort Worth. He was for several years after retiring as president of the West Texas Chamber manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce which post he assumed in 1925 and relinquished in 1928 to enter private business. He served the West Texas Chamber as vice president and director of the organization during this time.

He continued an active interest in the chamber and gave freely of his time and counsel for the advancement of the interests of West Texas.

"His name will go down in history as one of the empire builders of the west and it is with sadness that the organization sees the ranks of its ex-presidents broken by death.

Similar sentiments were expressed by President A. M. Bourland, present head of the chamber and by Colonel R. Q. Lee former president in messages to the Fort Worth office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce when advised of Mr. Spencer's death. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TECH NEARING GOAL OF 2000

ONLY FEW STUDENTS KEPT OUT BY FLU, HORN ASSERTS

With struggling students still coming in, the registration of Texas Tech this morning increased to 1,900, and Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college, predicts that the enrollment will reach the 2,000 mark by the end of this month.

A number of old students, delayed because of the flu, returned this morning for registration and the college settled down to work on the second term. This morning's addition to the enrollment included six new students.

The 2,000th student is to have his admission fees paid by the Avancher-Journal.

Dr. Horn reports that while a few of the students are being kept out of school because of illness it is a very small per cent and in no way is considered serious.

FIRST CONVOCATION WILL BE FRIDAY

The first convocation of the winter of Tech College will be held in the Tech gymnasium at 11 o'clock next Friday morning. It was announced this morning by Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the institution.

Dr. Horn will address the convocation, and music will be furnished by the college band. This meeting will be in reference to the opening and program of the winter term.

are passed at the regular legislative sessions opening Tuesday, instead of being deferred, as is the custom, until a special session.

He confirmed last night's reports that the bills, which carry a recommended total of more than $50,000,000 for support and maintenance of state institutions and departments, will be introduced in the senate Tuesday, and that efforts will be made to pass the judiciary money bill the same day of introduction. Most items in it are fixed by statute.

The lieutenant governor sought a conference on the situation today with Governor Moody, who originally favored passing the money bills at the regular session, and later expressed doubt of the advisability of this in view of the press of general legislation.

Carrying the recommendations of the state board of control, the bills were brought here last night by Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler, who is slated for the chairmanship of the senate finance committee. He has been at work on them since Labor Day, when he Governor Moody and Lieut. Governor Miller conferred at Dallas.

kept the coast guard busy Sunday afternoon and night.

Four vessels were reported in trouble due to gales and rough seas. The coast guard destroyer, Modoc, wireless last night that she had rescued three men off the barge Belfast off Ryping Pan shoals on the North Carolina coast. Two of the crew refused to leave and as heavy seas were running the Modoc reported she was standing by to take them off if it became necessary.

The trawler Henrietta, of Freeport, L. I., foundered 2 1/2 miles off Point Lookout, on the Long Island coast yesterday. One man was saved and three were lost.

The Cranberry Island coast guard station reported that the schooner Wawenock, owned by Richard K. Snow of Rockland, Maine, had gone aground last night on Green Ledge off the Maine coast. A crew from the station pulled her off and towed her to a safe anchorage.

The coast guard destroyer Fanning reported that a steamship was aground on Gould Island in Narragansett Bay. Besides the Fanning, a navy tug and two coast guard cutters were standing by. The name of the vessel was not given.

TWO PRODUCERS IN JONES COUNTY

SWEETWATER, Jan. 7. (P)—Of two producers completed in the Sweetwater oil field of Southwestern Jones county yesterday, today one was flowing 500 barrels daily and the other was estimated good for 200 barrels.

The Roberts Oil corporation's No. 7 Grayson, one location east and three north of the Huonay Gas company-Atkinson and Sandifer No. 1 Tiner, discovery well, with the hole 7 feet in the pay at 2,503 feet was flowing 500 barrels. The other completion, the No. 5 Mason of the Phillips Petroleum company, was in the old Noodle Creek pool, two miles south. It is 330 feet from the east line and 992 feet from the north line of the west eighty of the northwest quarter, section 18, block 19, T. and L. survey, Jones county. Pay here was struck at 2,515.21 feet.

FREIGHTER SINKS; CREW IS RESCUED

BREMEN, Germany, Jan. 7. (P)—All but two members of the crew of the German steamer Rodelheim which sprang a leak about 500 miles east of Newfoundland, were rescued yesterday by the American steamer Sagache. The men lost were the third engineer and the ship's carpenter who were drowned.

Word of the disaster was received by the owners of the German freighter in a wireless message from the captain of the Sagache. The message told of the rescues and said that the German freighter had sprung a leak during a storm making it imperative to take off the crew as the vessel was doomed.

Hoover Talks Over Trip With Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (P)—President-elect Hoover called at the White House today to discuss his South American tour with President Coolidge.

Mr. Hoover and the president were together nearly three quarters of an hour.

It was announced at the White House that Mr. Hoover's recent South American tour had been the subject of his conference with the president.

L. P. McClendon, Grovesville teacher, was a Lubbock visitor Saturday.

Legion Will Have Program Tonight

The first meeting this year and the first under the new administration of officers of the Allen Brothers Post No. 148 American Legion will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the basement of the Temple Ellis building.

A record crowd, an unusual feed, and an interesting program are scheduled for tonight's session. It is urged that every ex-service man in this section attend the meeting.

The year's program will be outlined and discussed by the new officers and members tonight.

Make $100,000 Levy On Blackmer Bonds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(P)—A second levy of $100,000 of bonds belonging to Harry M. Blackmer, the missing Teapot Dome witness, was made today by United States Marshal E. C. Snyder, acting under a District of Columbia supreme court decision holding Blackmer in contempt for his refusal to testify.

The bonds were taken from those deposited by counsel for Blackmer when the court ordered the seizure some months ago under the Walsh Act which permits application of the penalty to persons refusing to testify in criminal trial.

Youthful Bride Is Dead From Wounds

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 7. (P)—Mrs. Vivian Adams, pretty 19-year-old bride of three weeks, shot yesterday by her husband, Tommy Adams, 24, died today.

Adams, who turned the weapon on himself, was in a serious condition.

W. L. Coffey, assistant county attorney, said the shooting climaxed a quarrel.

How to Avoid INFLUENZA

Colds, flu, and influenza are the most common and most annoying of diseases. They are caused by germs which are everywhere. To avoid them, you must take certain precautions. First, keep your body strong by eating right and getting plenty of sleep. Second, avoid crowded places and people who are sick. Third, use Doan's Kidney Pills. They will keep your kidneys in good condition and prevent the germs from taking hold.

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out, why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, indigestion, dizziness, etc.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physically wrecked. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of herbs, barks, and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.
