"The true American marches with his head up in the light of day. He needs no mask or disguise. He is unashamed. I have no destructive criticism for the Ku Klux Klan of today. I can see where its members can do some good and I can see some inevitable evil. But where are the conditions of today which deserve such urgent measures?" It was in these words that Colonel W. S. Simkins, professor of law at the University of Texas, and a former member of the southern klan, expressed to members of the San Antonio Bar Association, his feeling toward the present Ku Klux Klan organization. "The South has today come to her own; she has arisen out of the fire of persecution," said Colonel Simkins. "The master word of today is 'citizenship,' just as that of the Eighteenth century was 'liberty' and that of the Nineteenth 'knowledge.' I can understand these men who compose the klans of today groping in the dark, seeking a panacea for the situation. But the only trouble is that we as citizens have not done our duty. Americanism is a fine thing, but we must be careful to get full-blooded Americans. The secrecy of the organization has given these men the power to veil their lawless acts. If the members are genuine in their profession of ideals and of the benevolent purposes, they should report, open and unmasked, violations of the law. Then they would be a blessing to the community." This is not all the story. Col. W. S. Simkins is a native of South Carolina. He first saw the light in the historic town of Beaufort, in the coast country where there are twenty-five black faces to one white face. His people were slave owners. He was a college boy when South Carolina seceded. It has been said of and for him that he fired the first shot that rang around the world in the memorable and bloody conflict between that states. He fought for the Planters Republic and its flag until the surrender at Appomattox court house. They acme military coercion and reconstruction with a flood of horrors that almost brought despair to the sons and daughters of the Palmetto state. There were scars on the green hillsides, the graves of the braves who had died for a lost cause. There was poverty and misery and mourning in every home. Southern renegades, white carpet baggers and the emancipated ignorant blacks with the ballot in their hands rode rough-shod over the sins of the southland and attempted to strike down a white man's civilization as they had striken down a white man's government. Then came the Ku Klux Klan with the fast riding and ever daring Forfest as the chieftain of the Invisible Empire. Young Simkins was a lieutenant of Forrest. Thousands of the survivors of the war rode with the nightriders and in 1876 Wade Hampton was made Governor of South Carolina, the people came into their own and white civilization sat victoriously in the saddle and its supremacy, has never been questioned from that day to this hour. There were two of the Simkins boys in the long ago. Reconstruction over, they came to Texas. Edward J. Simkins was a leading lawyer and closed his career as a judge of the criminal court of appeals. He died some years ago. Col. W. S. Simkins practiced law for years in the city of Dallas until he was called to the law department of the State University where his career has been as meritorious as his patriotism was in the days of military rule and reconstruction. He bears a striking resemblance to the late Mark Twain, with his long wavy hair, almost white, touching his shoulders, his martial bearing, his flashing repartee, his keen eyes and inexhaustive flow of epigrams and homely philosophy. A gentleman of the old school, is Simkins of the Palmetto state, like unto that Bayard of France who was "without fear and without reproach."

Hamilton Wright is a staff correspondent of the Fort Worth Record. His story from his pen may interest the people of Texas as well as the politicians of the state: "Stamford, August 16.—An effort will be made to get J. A. Kemp, capitalist of Wichita Falls, to run for governor at the next election, according to word received here. It is known that a very prominent man living in Central Texas is encouraging a spontaneous call from the people of West Texas for this well known Wichita Falls man to make the race. It is said that several thousand names have already been received to a petition asking him to make the race. Kemp is in the West generally regarded as the biggest man of the entire section, financially able to make the campaign and to put into execution some major propositions which would quickly lift West Texas to the acme of her aspirations. Known as the "father of irrigation in Texas," his occupancy of the highest executive position of the state would go far toward bringing about an irrigationizing of the West. A press of private business precluded him from being made president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the last annual session of that body, it was stated." It is conceded by all men who read and think, all the builders of Texas, all men who hope to be builders that Mr. Kemp would make a splendid governor, but why should he run against Neff? Why should he be asked to make the sacrifice? There is one of the greatest irrigation projects awaiting construction under southern or western skies. When

Cloudburst Wipes Out Town in New Mexico

Three to Seven Feet of Water Standing in Homes and Business Houses of Small Village.

By Associated Press.

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Aug. 18.—The town of Hatch, N. M. 38 miles north of here, was destroyed today by a flood following a cloudburst, according to reliable information received by the chamber of commerce here. The 500 residents escaped to the hills, most of them in their night clothes. There was no loss of life reported.

The cloudburst struck Santa Teresa, a village in the foothills two miles west of Hatch, shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. Only one dwelling was left at Santa Teresa.

Two hours later the wall of water rushed down the Arroyo into Hatch, where the male residents were assisting women and children to the hills. Many of them were forced to flee in their night clothes, abandoning everything.

James Clapp, a business man, bedridden by a long illness was carried to the hills by neighbors.

Tonight from three to seven foot of water lie in the flood village. Officials of the United States reclamation service and railroad men say there is no way to drain the water off except to dig a deep canal as the town lies in a basin below the level of the Arroyo.

One hundred and fifty of the residents are being cared for with supplies sent under charge of relief committees from the Las Cruces chamber of commerce. Farmers, armed with shot guns are guarding the bank of Rio Grande south of here to prevent raising of the flood gates. The farmers insist that raising of the flood gates will ruin their crops without being of material benefit to the flooded district.

A telegram from Patrick A. Campbell, cashier of the bank of Hatch, said that the town and vicinity was completely under water and that every business and dwelling house was demolished. He said immediate aid was essential.

"BORED BY THE SAME OLD THING," THIS HOSTESS GIVES HER GIRL FRIENDS AN EVENING OF TAIL SPINS AND NOSE DIVES

Hostesses and guests bored with the usual methods of hot weather entertainment to the point of ennui over doing the "same old things" will doubtless find a new thrill in following the lead set by Mrs. H. K. Neal Wednesday night, when she entertained for Miss Josephine Duval with an airplane party. A breezy moonlight airplane ride some 3,000 feet in the air and all over Wichita county was the "piece de resistance" of the entertainment, with tail spins and nose dives thrown in for the more hardy.

H. K. Neal the host, was also the pilot, in one of the ships of the Aerial Transportation company, of which he is manager. Adjectives were exhausted as the feminine members of the party expressed their enthusiasm for the trip through the air in the moonlight, over Lake Wichita and the various swimming pools, which gave back the moon's rays in iridescent splendor, and over the city, one of the girls comparing Wichita Falls with it's white way, and it's myriads of other lights to a huge birthday cake candle lit, from the great height in the air.

The party started tamely enough, with a swimming party in the Cedar park pool, winding up with the jaunt through the skies.

The guests included, the honoree, Miss Josephine Duval, Miss Louise Bullitt, Roger Macechrem, Hal Shortz and Joe Henry Bryant of Dallas.

MRS. NORTON SUCCUMBS TO LONG ILLNESS

Old Resident of Wichita Falls Dies After Medical Science Fails to Give Relief.

Mrs. W. E. Norton, for the past fourteen months a sufferer from pernicious anaemia, from which there was no hope of recovery, died at the family home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held at the family home at 5:00 o'clock this afternoon, with burial in the Rosemont Burial park. Funeral services will be in charge of Dr. D. L. Collie of Fort Worth, veteran Methodist minister, who officiated at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Norton in 1906, and an old friend of both of them.

Pall bearers for the funeral include T. B. Noble, C. E. McCutcheon, W. M. McGregor, E. G. Hill, G. Clint Wood and R. O. Harvey.

Surviving Mrs. Norton, besides her husband, and thirteen-year-old son, Maurice, are her father, J. F. Rayland of Lockney, and a sister, Mrs. G. S. Morris of the same place. Mrs. Norton appeared the picture of health until about fourteen months ago when the illness which caused her death suddenly apeared. Since that time everything that medical science throughout the United States could offer has been tried in a vain effort to effect a cure, with the most noted specialists in the country declaring from the first that there was no hope for recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Norton have resided here since 1910.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Opposition developed today in the house to the senate bill which would permit Major General Leonard Wood to accept the governorship of the Phillipines without giving up his army commission.

Representative McKenzie, republican, Illinois, said it would be a dangerous precedent to permit an active army officer to hold a civilian position.

ALICE ROBERTSON REPRESENTS ONLY OKLAHOMA DISTRICT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Aroused by a statement issued yesterday by the National League of Women Voters as to her attitude on feminine representation on the disarmament conference, Representative Alice Robertson issued a statement declaring she had been misquoted in the league's statement. Miss Robertson contended she had never told President Harding there was no woman qualified to sit as an American commissioner. She did say, her statement continued, "show me the woman properly qualified," and her statement added that the league officials did not suggest such a woman to Mr. Harding.

Declaring she did not "claim to represent the women of the United States" in congress, Miss Robertson asked that she be permitted to represent citizens of the second Oklahoma district "without interference from Indiana."

LLOYD GEORGE DECLARES JAP TREATY NEEDED

Britain Premier Tells House of Commons Nipponese Carried Out Agreement to England.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—"If the alliance with Japan could be merged into a greater understanding with Japan and the United States on all the problems of the Pacific, that would be a great event and it would be a guarantee for the peace of the world."

Thus spoke David Lloyd-George, the British prime minister, before the house of commons today in outlining the work of the recent conference of the imperial premiers.

The premier was dealing specifically with the Anglo-Japanese alliance at the time and explaining how the conference had unanimously recognized that Japan loyally had carried out her obligations to Great Britain during the war, in letter and in spirit.

Mr. Lloyd-George asked if it was to be suggested that Great Britain now should turn her back upon Japan with a mere thank you and good-bye, after Japan had proved one of the turning factors in the war in that it had given protection to the transit of dominion and Indian troops across seas. Even countries disliking the Anglo-Japanese alliance would despise the British if after such services Great Britain turned her back upon Japan, he declared.

The premier said he saw no reason why it should be impossible to remember obligations to Japan and at the same time preserve a spirit of fraternity with the United States.

It was a cardinal principle of British policy, the premier continued, that Great Britain should act in as complete accord with the United States as possible. He did not know of any

COMING OF GULF PRODUCTION FAMILY: AND DAN DUGAN JOINS THE PROCESSION

By H. N. F.

An exclusive story carried by The Record News Thursday morning sent a thrill through the hearts of the people of Wichita Falls. It told of the coming to this city of the entire North Texas family of the Gulf Production Company with the head of the family, Walter B. Pyron.

Thus it is that the city that faith built is coming into its own; thus it is that Wichita Falls is recognized as the oil center and city of this petroleum producing section of the Southwest.

Readers of The Record News know that the Gulf Production Company has among its chief stockholders and directors the Mellon family of Pittsburgh, and that the best known members of the family is the Honorable Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury and the strong man of finance and business in the cabinet of President Harding.

The Gulf Production Company has vast interests in the Southwest and those interests are rather business affairs of the company will be largely directed from their headquarters in Wichita Falls from this time on.

Dan Dugan is coming, too. Dan is already here.

If the reader does not know Dan Dugan, the reader has missed something and it is his misfortune. He is the Texas representative and correspondent of the Oil and Gas Journal published in the city of Chicago. He is the representative and correspondent of the Oil City Derrick, of Oil City Pennsylvania, the pioneer oil and gas newspaper publication in America.

For a long time Fort Worth has been the headquarters of Dan Dugan, where he identified himself with all the activities of that city and filled a full place and played a full part in the ranks of the workers.

He landed in Wichita Falls Thursday morning, he told his friends he was hunting office space as he had decided to follow the flag in order to be ever present at the source of petroleum information as well as petroleum supply.

It goes without saying that the coming to the city of the Gulf Production will add many intelligent and forceful workers to the business element of Wichita Falls.

Mr. Pyron is a man among men. This is his record wherever he has been called in the field of endeavor. He was one of the leaders in all activities in the city of Shreveport. He was called to Fort Worth where he became identified with every patriot, civic and philanthropic movement launched and carried to success in that city.

He was one of the leaders of commercial organization life, ever prominent in the social and club life and ever carrying his part of the load and doing his share of the labor.

It is not necessary for the writer to say that the personnel of his force or family is of the highest and their departure from Pantherville must have left an aching void in the historic spot where the panther laid down.

NEFF SILENT ON MEASURES FOR SESSION

Efforts Fail to Divulge What Governor Intends to Request Called Meeting to Accomplish.

Through Error Salary of State Highway Engineer Placed at $10,000 Instead of $9000.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 18.—Through an error in enrolling the departmental appropriation bill the salary of the state highway engineer, R. G. Windrow, was passed by the legislature at $10,000 instead of $9,000, an investigation of the enrolled bill showed today. The house stood for reducing his salary and the free conference committee made it $9,000 but the error by the enrolling clerks placed his salary at $10,000.

However, Chairman R. M. Hubbard of the highway commission notified Governor Neff today that the highway engineer's salary would be paid on a bisis of $9,000 per year.

The investigation showed that the error was made unintentionally and with no designing intentions.

The Shamrock company was organized here during the period of development at Burkburnett, developing several pieces of property during that time which were later sold. DENY MOTION OF TOUSSAINT FOR RE-TRIAL

Judge H. F. Weldon Declines to Re-Open Case in Thirtieth District Court For Convicted Man.

Court Sentences Son to Hang for Death of Father, O. H. Toussaint, on September 30.

Henry J. Toussaint lost the first round of the fight being made to save his life for the murder of his father, O. H. Toussaint, on February 6, for which he has been convicted and sentenced to death by a jury on August 3, in the 30th district court, Thursday afternoon.

Immediately after the conclusion of the hearing of the motion for the new trial Judge H. F. Weldon called for condemned man to rise in his seat and after overruling the motion sentenced the former army officer and engineer to "hang by his neck until dead" at the county jail on September 30, between the hours designated by law—11 a. m., until sunset.

The date of execution was automatically stayed when the condemned man's attorneys immediately gave notice of appeal. The action of attorneys means that the execution order will not be carried out for several months even should the higher court's decision also be unfavorable.

The overruling of the motion for a new trial by the local court coupled with the setting of a date for his execution was apparently no surprise to Toussaint nor his wife.

Shows Stoic Attitude

He received the announcement of the overruling of the motion and the date of his execution with his usual stoic attitude immediately leaving the court room with an officer. In the corridor he met his wife who with no greater show of emotion than that evident during the afternoon, accompanied him down the stairs. On the lower floor he drank from the water fountain and with parting words to his wife walked back to the jail.

He expressed confidence to officers later Thursday night that he would never hang.

DENY MOTION OF TOUSSAINT FOR RE-TRIAL

In overruling the motion for a new trial and setting a date for his execution, Judge Weldon expressed himself as satisfied that the condemned man had been given a fair and impartial trial.

"The jury in this case found that you were sane at the time you killed your father," said the judge in addressing Toussaint, "and this court does not think, that being their belief, that the sentence given you was excessive for the crime which you committed."

Believes Trial Fair

The judge expressed himself as satisfied that the jury had given the condemned man fair trial in every respect. He spoke highly of its personnel.

"The court has had a mingled opinion of your case from the beginning. The court cannot conceive of how a man can arrive at a state of mind where he will take the life of his own father or even consider doing so," concluded Judge Weldon just before closing with his final decision.

The hearing of the motion opened at 2 p. m., the condemned man coming into the court room accompanied by an officer at that time. During the hour that his attorneys read the motion for a new trial, Toussaint sat looking to the front with an expressionless stare. His wife, who was in the court room, did not take her place at his side until the motion had been read.

The motion as read was that of which an outline was given in the Sunday issue of The Record News, setting out in detail the several grounds upon which the motion for a new trial was based. All the affidavits in connection with the motion were read.

District Attorney Wilson then read the state's answer to the motion. The answer contained a general denial of all the allegations of the motion, stating that all the causes cited in the petition were purely "cumulative, contradictory or impeaching" and for that reason did not form the basis for granting a new trial.

Witnesses Tell Jury Actions.

The examination of witnesses centered entirely on the misconduct of the jury, all evidence regarding other phases being introduced into the record of the case by affidavits.

Regarding the misconduct of the jury which is conceded to have been the defense's strongest point upon which a new trial could have been granted both the state and defense introduced several witnesses including several members of the jury.

Sam Ashmore, one of the jurors who according to an affidavit of defense witness said in the office of J. B. Marlow early in July "that he ought to be hanged sane or insane,' took the stand.

He said that he had been drinking a little on the afternoon in question and that he had gone to the office of J. B. Marlow. He said that he walked up to several men in the office and heard Robert Goodfellow telling some stories about murder cases. He said that he made the statement alleged in a joking manner not knowing at the time that Goodfellow was talking about Toussaint. He denied that he had said in the statement "sane or insane."

Goodfellow Defense Witness

Mr. Goodfellow placed on the stand substantiated the affidavit made by another witness in part. He expressed the opinion that Ashmore made his statement in a joking manner and might not have known of whom they had been talking.

Regarding the misconduct of other members of the jury the defense succeeded proving that some of the jurors had talked to outsiders during the course of the trial either over the phone or when outside the hearing of other members of the jury. Placed on the stand members of the jury referred to all denied that in their few brief talks with others trey had ever made any statement regarding the trial or that any statement had been made to them by others. The conversations for the most part according to their testmony, were with members of their families. W. L. Lawyer said that he and another juror had climbed out on the fire escape and talked to two women prisoners confined in the juvenile jail. He said that they once gave the women some ice water and sandwiches.

In their examination of witnesses defendant attorneys stressed the brief time in which the jury arrived at their verdict. By examination of the jurors it was brought out that the first ballot was taken about ten minutes after they entered the jury room at the conclusion of he arguments. The first ballot was on the question of sanity and resulted in a unanimous verdict that the accused was sane. Two ballots were then taken before the death sentence was agreed upon the whole consuming approximatly 30 or 40 minutes. It was brought out by the defense that there was practically no discussion before any of the ballots were taken.

FRENCH GIRL SUES FOR $200,000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, Aug. 18. — Alleging breach of promise Miss Rita Jaichner today filed suit for $200,000 damages against R. L. Slaughter, Jr., whom she alleges in her petition promised to marry her on September 23, 1920.

Miss aJichner was instrumental in Slaughter being sentenced recently to serve 30 days in jail, in addition to a fine of $500 on a charge of white slavery.

In the petition Miss Jaichner alleges that she spent $500 on a wedding trousseau in Philadelphia and that she turned all her property into cash at the advice of the defendant and that she loaned him $600, which he has failed to return to her.

She also states that she was reared in a home of culture and refinement and that she yielded to him only on promise of marriage.

POLICE HEAR ADDRESSES BY PROSECUTORS

Harmony and co-operation between the city and county departments looking toward a more efficient program of law enforcement was the keynote sounded in every address made before the school of instruction held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall with every member of the city police force and several members from the county departments in attendance.

Be honest, clean and upright, as I confidently believe every man that works under me to be, and we can not help but build for Wichita Falls a metropolitan police force that asks nothing in comparison with the force of any city in the south, Commissioner Fitts told policemen in a short address.

Declaring that the character of any man who would remain on the police force of Wichita Falls must be beyond reproach, Mr. Fitts asserted that he had been informed that one or two policemen had been standing on the street holding conversation with women of questionable character.

"This will not be tolerated," Mr. Fitts said, "and any member of the force who is apprehended keeping the company of any people of such character, except in the lawful discharge of his duty as an officer of the law will be immediately discharged."

As another means of increasing the efficiency of the police, Mr. Fitts announced that members will be required to undergo a course of regular military drilling in the near future. This, however, he said, will not be put into effect until after the arrival of new uniforms, which were recently ordered.

Mr. Fitts also asked the co-operation of the officers in an effort to enforce the law, sanely and wisely and in such manner as to win the regard of all citizens who held the best interests of the city at heart.

A desire to get acquainted with all members of the city police force was declared by District Attorney Bert Wilson as the compelling force that drew him to attend the get-together meeting of policemen.

"I am with you at all times and you will always find me ready to meet and advise with you, in any matter I may be able," Mr. Wilson declared.

Gamblers, bootleggers, prostitutes and possibly a few encounters with "jelly beans," it was declared by Mr. Wilson will in all liklihood furnish the greater percentage of cases with which policemen will have to deal within the next few months. "And to expedite the handling of these classes of law breakers," said the speaker, "you must before you make your arrest you have evidence for a conviction and then we'll do the rest."

The policy of Commissioner Fitts in holding the school of instruction was commended as a very important step toward the making of an efficient police force in a short address by City Attorney Mann. Mr. Mann urged that officers confer with him regularly in order that all may keep well informed concerning conditions and the development of evidences in cases brought before the city police court.

Sheriff Fred Smith and Constable Frank Morgan, who attended the meeting, declared themselves heartily in accordance with the move for closer co-operation with the city department.

Police Chief R. W. Morgan in a short talk asked that officers consider him more in the light of a brother officer than of an administrator and assured each man a ready hearing at any time he might wish advice.

CHINA ACCEPTS INVITATION TO FAR EAST MEET

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—China's formal acceptance of President's Harding's invitation to partucipate in the discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions here, was received today at the state department.

The note made public by the department said "a conference for the purpose stated meets with the hearty concurrence of the government of the Republic of China.

"Since the conclusion of the war in Europe, the fear is general that there may be again a recurrence of the horrors of war," it continued, "furthermore, the center of gravity in matters internationally has recently shifted to the Pacific and Far East.

China occupies an important place, not only on account of the extent of its territory and the density of its population but also on account of its geographical position. The Pacific and Far Eastern questions as viewed by the Chinese people are questions affecting the peace of the world of the present day."

"This conference at Washington, called by the president of the United States for the promotion of peace cannot but contribute in a large measure to the accomplishment of results that will enable the people of the world to enjoy prosperity and happiness and obtain permanent reease from the calamities of war. It is with special satisfaction that the government of the republic of China makes known its desire to co-operate on a footing of equality with other governments in this beneficial movement.

"The American government by declaring that it is not its purpose to attempt to define the scope of the discussion in relation to the Pacific and the Far East gives evidence of its readiness to be fair to all without preconceived bias.

"The government of the republic of China desires to take the same position, and will participate in the conference in the spirit of friendship and with a cordial appreciation of the importance of the elimination of the sources of controversy as stated in the American not and observe perfect frankness and cordiality in the exchange of views and in arriving at decisions to the end that the purpose of the president of the United States to promote universal peace may be fulfilled."

DISCHARGE TWO IN AREA OF RECEIVER

Summary discharge for the official temporarily in charge of the area, and for certain watchmen on duty in the receivership area followed infliction of somewhat rough and illeged punishment gainst two former employes in the area who were charged by trespassing, according to anannouncement Thursday night by R. C. Williamson, in charge of field operations in the receivership area.

The punishment accorded the two men, according to rumors in the field is said to have been the marching a considerable distance and holding in custody of an armed guard during the night, and subjected to rather humiliating treatment.

In the morning they were ejected from the lease and told not to return. Details of this treatment could not be confirmed by Mr. Williamson, who had just returned.

"The two men who received this threatment had left town when I returned from a business trip and was informed of the occurence," said Mr. Williamson. "I immediately sent a man on the 75 miles trip to Graham after them. I intend to make amends to them, if they will, by restoring them to work on the lease.

"The men who were responsible for this treatment, which I do not countenance for a second, have been severed from connection with the receivership operations."

According to information from various quarters it appears that the trespassing regulations are the most stringently enforced of any of the receivership, and the return of the two men, after they had been laid off from the work, was regarded as trespassing, and they were accordingly arrested by the watchmen, and were given the treatment referred to under direction of an underofficial temporarilly in charge of the lease.

"The fact that they were trespassing, however, is not advanced in defense of the action taken by these men," declared Mr. Williamson. "Our attitude toward this is plainly indicated in the disciplinary action taken. Nor is the fact that there was evidently hot blood on both sides in the play regarded as in any way an extenuation of the action."

Several men on the lease who immediately quit after the incident referred to have returned to their work, being reinstated on Mr. Williamson's return, and are fully satisfied with the action taken, according to one of the number.

"And I think I can speak for the other two boys," he said, "for I was a very close friend of one of them in particular and was one of the first to quit in protest to the treatment accorded them by order of the man who was discharged." Further and authenic details of thetreatment accorded the two men are expected when representatives of the receiver shall have located and gotten in touch with them.

"We feel that, regrettable as the incident is, it's seriousness has been aggravated by report," Mr. Williamson says. "When the two boys return here we will put newspaper representatives in touch with them so that they can learn from the men themselves just what happened."

Played Out.

The cure of disease by music, now being advocated by a Nancy professor, was the theme of an amusing story told by a French physician. A patient was lying ill of a mysterious form of blood poisoning, and an enthusiastic young physician with "ideas" undertook to play under the windows of the sick room. After inspiring the band to a final triumphant blare, the doctor went up to see the effect and returned beaming. The patient was dead, but he had died cured!—Edinburgh Scotsman.

"COME ON OVER" LURES TO DEATH

WITNESS SAYS TEXAS GIRL BEGGED TO VISIT SLAYER

By Associated Press.

RUSSELLVILE, Ala., Aug. 18.—"Come on over" was the invitation of Fred R. Hall, Russellville merchant to Martha Henderson, a pretty Texas girl, who was slain by Hall in front of his store on the afternoon of April 2, according to the testimony of a telephone operator at the opening of the trial of Hall this afternoon.

The telephone operator declared that Hall and Miss Henderson conversed over the telephone for five minutes just prior to the tragedy, and that she heard the merchant when he told the girl to come to his store where she was shot to death as she was about to enter. Miss Edith Stanley, an employe of a drug store, was first to testify concerning the telephone conversation. She said that Miss Henderson used the drug store telephone a few minutes before the tragedy and that she heard Miss Henderson say "I understand you are entertaining a companion at dinner, but I can see you anyhow."

Miss Henderson then went out.

Miss Annex Box, the telephone operator, supplied what she termed "the other end of the conversation." Hall first told her to "come on over."

After Hall and Miss Henderson concluded Miss Box looked out of a window of a telephone building on the same street with the drug store and Hall's store, and saw Miss Henderson emerge from the drug store, cross the street and go over to Hall's. As Miss Henderson walked up, Miss Box said, Hall came out and began shooting.

NEFF SILENT ON MEASURES FOR SESSION

Efforts to ascertain what measures if any the governor will submit to the special session other than the educational bill proved of no avail today. Governor Neff said that he was studying the departmental appropriation bill closely and did not say definately whether he would veto it and resubmit it to the special session as it is rumored about the capitol.

A statement presented to the governor today by Speaker Thomas and Chairman Satterwhite of the house appropiations committee, showed that a thirty cent ad valorem tax rate for the next year would meet all appropriations, both of the regular session, the first called session and the ones to be made at this session.

Sixteen-Cent Tax

They estimated that a sixteen-cent ad valorem tax rate would then meet the necessary expenses for the second year. The present rate is twenty-two cents.

The estimate for the first year's expenses was $20,500,000 for the first year and $13,000,000 for the second year. The legislators also estimated that the constitutional tax limit of thirty-five cents on the hundred dollars for the first year would place more than $2,000,000 in the state treasury after paying the appropriations and running. This excess for the second year would be far greater because of the decrease in running expenses of the government. This decrease is caused by certain appropriations being paid in full during the first year.

CHARGE ANSELL AIDED BERGDOLL MAKE GETAWAY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Samuel Tilden Ansell, former acting judge advocate general of the army and of the prisoner's legal counsel; Colonel John M. Hunt and Colonel C. C. Cresson were charged with conspiracy in connection with the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the draft evader, in a report signed by three of the five members of a special investigating committee, filed today with the house.

Characterizing Ansell as the "master mind" in the plan by which Bergdoll was released from a military prison under guard to dig up a pot of gold, the majority report commended that he be debarred from practicing in the courts of the nation, "above whose safety and integrity he has placed gold."

A minority report filed at the same time however, that there was no testimony to support the charge that Ansell through whose efforts, as counsel, the prisoner was released, "conspired to effect his escape," or that his motive was improper.

One republican, representative Luhring of Indiana—and two democrats, Johnson of Kentucky and Flood of Virginia, signed the majority report. The minority views were presented by Chairman Peters, Maine, and Representative McArthur, Oregon, republicans. The majority findings were the first of the many investigating reports submitted to the house since the close of the war, where a republican member joined with democrats and enabled them to file majority views.

The majority held that Colonel Hunt, commandant of the barracks at Governor's Island, from which Bergdoll set out on his errand, was directly responsible for the slacker's escape through failure to handcuff him or to provide adequate guard. The minority, after declaring that no army officer, "knowing participated in the conspiracy," found "grave dereliction of duty on the part of Hunt."

As a base for its criticism of Colonel Cresson, the majority report said that "as ugly as are the many phases of the whole matter, none is more defenseless than the conduct of Colonel Cresson, in his pretense of prosecution of Colonel Hunt,' tried by courtmartial in connection with the Bergdoll scandal. No reference to Cresson was made by the minority.

Major Bruce R. Campbell, accused by Bergdoll's mother of having accepted $5,000 to help obtain freedom for the prisoner, was exonerated by the majority. The minority reported that there was no evidence that Campbell was in any way connected with the escape, but assumed the proper military authorities would "institute such investigation as may be necessary to the end that Campbell may be exonerated if not found guilty."

Dismissal from the department of Justice Earl B. Wood, in charge of correspondence in the Bergdoll case, for failure to transmit to the war department warning from a special agent that the prisoner was planning to escape, was recommended by the majority.

Major General Peter C. Harris, adjutant general of the army, who authorized Hunt to send Bergdoll under guard to the Maryland mountains to search for the gold, was charged by the minority with "primary responsibility for the situation which made possible the escape."

Asserting that General Harris did not attempt to evade responsibility, the minority held that there was "no question of improper motive on his part," adding it was "apparent his mind was readily overcome by the strong statement of Ansell," that he would stand responsible for safe return of the prisoner. The minority criticized General Harris for suggesting to Hunt, instead of ordering that a commissioned officer accompany the expedition.

The majority reported that the escape was "the direct result of the proposition submitted by Ansell to General Harris," and that "even if Ansell did not conceive the plan, he presented it and pursued it to its accomplishment."

Taking up alleged connection with the Bergdoll case of former Judge John W. Wescott, one time attorney general of New Jersey, the majority held it unimportant whether he actually had legally represented Bergdoll. The report declared "it was clear" that Ansell undertook to use Judge Westcotts name for the purpose of bringing to bear political influence "upon any one in the administration who might be needed to make sure of the gold hunt release, which at last spelled Bergdoll's escape.

The majority report commended the seizure of the Bergdoll property by Alien Property Custodian Miller, and urged that he make every effort to produce $105,000 in gold, obtained by the Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, from the treasury department, and alleged to have been buried on her farm near Philadelphia. This was put in at the insistence of Representative Luhring who declared the withdrawal of the gold was the foundation of the whole conspiracy.

The minority held that while "unquestionably a conspiracy existed to effect the escape of Bergdoll" it did not find that any officer "received any bribe or was approached with a view to bribery," but that the conspiracy was participated in by Grover Bergdoll, the late D. Clarence Gibboney, a Philadelphia lawyer, James F. Roemig, formerly a Philadelphia magistrate, and friend of the Bergdoll family, Ike Stecher, the Bergdoll chauffeur, "and possible Mrs. Bergdoll." On this point, the majority declarel that Gibboney and the Bergdoll group conspired to effect the slacker's release, "but in order to successfully accomplish it, it was absolutely necessary to have the active assistance of Ansell and Bailey (Edward S. Bailey, his law partner), and Colonel Hunt, for without the aid of these latters, Bergdoll could not have left Governor's Island.

From the moment Bergdoll left Governor's Island and the conditions surrounding him, said the minority, "became apparent, he saw he could depart when ready and without violence. That such a condition existed, is, of course, a scandal. Less than ordinary precautions to prevent escape were used."

"It seems," said the majority, "that every happening—whether or act or omission—resulted in Bergdolls benefit and not one to his detriment."

Colonel Hunt "within the next two months after he participated so criminally in the escape,' said the majority, "was promoted and retired."

"An outraged nation," it added, "has the right to demand that Colonel Hunt's annuity be discontinued."

"Anybody who heard all of those associated, directly or indirectly, with the plan and manner of Bergdoll's escape," said the majority report, "not only must recognize Ansell as the master mind of them all, but also as their dominating and controlling spirit."

The minority declared that the escape was "serious to Ansell's pecuniary disadvantage" in preventing him from obtaining a larger fee for appealing a court-martial sentence and added:

"But the letter and personal pressure upon his former associate, General Harris, were very important factors in gaining permission for the trip and the fact that Ansell did noth-Bergdoll should not get away, undoubtedly contributed to the escape."

PARLIAMENT ADJOURNED TO OCTOBER 18

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Uncertainty over the Irish situation has caused the government to change its plans and instead of proroguing parliament tomorrow as had been intended, it merely will be adjourned until October 18. The speaker, in the interval will have the power to invoke parliament, should Irish developments necessitate it.

Premier Lloyd George is expected to make a statement on the Irish situation just before adjournment tomorrow.

DUBLIN, Aug. 18.—Although the members of the Irish Republican parliament deliberated at mansion house three hours tonight, there was no discussion of the attitude to be adopted toward the peace proposals and the announcement made when the evening session was concluded indicates that no decision relative to peace can be looked for before Monday.

NO, 1 FRANKE BELIEVED TO BE GOOD TEST

Drilling into an oil sand around 3400 feet, which is reported to have shown up unusually well in the corings, the Nebraska Oil Company's No. 1 Franke, south of Henrietta, in Clay county, is expected to show some important developments in the next week or so. The five and three-sixteenth-inch casing has been set and cemented, according to reports, and preparations are being made to drill in as soon as the cement has had time to set properly.

This test is around two miles from Blue Grove, and is in a neighborhood to which attention has been attracted several times by reports by showings of oil in various deep tests. The testing of the Nebraska company's wild cat is considered of much importance.

In the north part of Clay county, and north of the Reese S. Allen et al tests on the Joyce ranch, the Junior Oil Company's No. 1 Glasgow is reported abandoned, after losing the hole in a good looking thousand foot sand. Preparations are being made to drill a second hole for this sand immediately. The reports from the Junior test at the time the sand was drilled indicated a well expected, but the sand was drilled through, and the well lost. The Junior well is a mile and a quarter to the north of the Joyce tests.

country in the world with whom it was more important to act in accord. He declared that the surest way to make a success of the disarmament conference was first to reach an understanding on Pacific questions and he hoped his view in this respect would be taken at the Washington gathering.

During his address Mr. Lloyd George revealed the fact that the conference of the premiers did not discuss the Irish question. He said there was no burning desire to touch upon that difficult matter.

The premier defended the action of General Smuts, the South Africa premier, with regard to Ireland. He said General Smuts had acted in a perfectly straightforward and honorable manner and that everything he had done was done with the full assent of the king and the ministry.

CLAIMS RAILROADS MUST CUT RATES

SECRETARY WALACE ASERTS LINES MUST BEAR BURDENS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Railroads must share with the farmers and others the burden of the present economic situation by reducing freight rates, Secretary Wallac said today before the interstate commerce commission which is investigating rates on grain and hay.

High freight rates stopped production, the secretary said, adding that if the present situation continued production from the farms would be reduced materially.

"We cannot afford to let our agriculture be destroyed," he declared.

"In attempting to relieve the distress of the farmers we are dealing with great economic forces. All our people ought to share the burden of the present depression."

The farmer now wearing more than his share of the economic load, he said, because the purchasing power of farm products was below the average of other commodities. He presented figures to show that in Iowa the purchasing power of oats was forty per cent of what it was from 1909 to 1914.

BUILDING TRADE SHOWS FURTHER EXPANSION.

If the preliminary returns to Bradstreet's of July building are a fair gauge of the total work permitted for in that month, the long-expected expansion in that industry is close at hand, says the review issued by the agency. With reports from 147 cities received, the total value of structures permitted for that month is $141,635,525, a gain of 32.5 per cent. over July a year ago and 4.2 per cent. in excess of the total at the same cities in June this year. The maintenance of the percentage of gain shown by the 147 cities reporting in July would result in a total for all cities of about $157,000,000, a sum larger than that of any preceding month this year, and exceeded by only two months, April, 1920, and August, 1919, in the country's history. This, of course, is dependent upon returns for July from some cities where building unions have been striking against lower wages. The total shown in July, which exceeds all but the very largest monthly totals of the past, shows that this industry, long depressed, is again getting into its stride, because even if the July total is not materially increased, which seems impossible, that month's aggregate will prove the sixth largest in the sixteen years' records compiled by Bradstreet's. Of 147 cities reporting for July, ninety-one show gains over the like months a year ago, while fifty-six show decreases. Of the July total, $46,537,445 is contributed by four boroughs of New York city, which is a gain of $28,000,000 over the total in the same boroughs a year ago and $6,000,000 more than in June this year. It might be added that the 32.4 per cent. gain in July over July 1, 1920, contracts with a decrease of 16.1 per cent. for the first half year, but with the July addition the seven months' total is $839,344,778, a decrease of only 10.7 per cent. from the like period of 1920. Four groups of cities show gains in July over July a year ago and over June of this year.

Secretary Mellon is disappointed. He was led to believe that fifty million dollars would be loaned to the cattlemen. Now his report shows that a maximum of $20,000,000 will be loaned. There is an army of little fellows. These producers will be compelled to hustle in the future as they have in the past and do the best they can. Texas financiers and the leaders among the Texas cattlemen predicted that which has come to pass and Congressman John M. Gardner told the truth when he said neither the war finance commission nor the bankers' pool would render substantial aid to those who are unable to do business with or get the endorsement of their local banks.

Postmaster General Will A. Hays appears to be the right man in the right place. He has again announced himself an advocate of press freedom and that he will not penalize a newspaper accused of violating rules on mailable subject matter by withdrawing its second class mailing privileges when it can turn around and send its paper first-class by paying higher rates. This is his ultimatum. "I want again to call the attention of the publishers to the fact that I am not and will not allow myself to be made censor of the press." Will A. Hays is an all-American, with a high regard for the constitution of the United States and the laws of his country. This is not Russia. This is America.

Chairman A. E. Ramsey of the Kansas City reserve bank says that he does not look for much improvement until another crop is produced and that will depend upon the amount of profit the producer can obtain. Chairman Ramsey is of the opinion that the only way to get out is to dig out but the digger must be given something in exchange for his digging. There appears to be nothing new under the sun. All men who read and think, knew that before Ramsey said it.

Now the friends of the live stock industry are making another fight to secure a 15 per cent duty on cattle hides in the Fordney tariff bill before the senate committee on finance. Opponents of the tariff say that the people have been forced to pay $20 and $25 a pair for shoes in recent months and there is no telling how high the prices would go should a duty be placed on hides. Who gets the velvet?

According to a Washington correspondent, Senator Pat Harrison has become the common scold of the Democratic minority. In days that are gone Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was the common scold of the Republican minority. Every administration is afflicted with its common scold. This makes honors even.

THOSE SENATORIAL DISTRICTS.

The present session of the legislature has undertaken to redistrict the state as to senatorial places. According to the Wichita Falls Record News, District No. 1 somewhere over there on the Louisiana line, has a population of 108,819, while the Wichita Falls District has a population of 157,021. And the Record News thus continues:

"District No. 2 is another East Texas preserve. It has a population of 141,241. District No. 24 is a West Texas district. It has a population of 192,305. District No. 3 is in East Texas. It has a population of 152,503. District No. 29 is the El Paso district. It has a population of 186,997."

The Wichita Falls Record News is convinced by a study of the figures that West Texas has been euchered out of two Senators, but it will bottle its wrath and hope for better luck when the cards are again dealt.—Waco Times-Herald.

Editor Robinson of the Times-Herald is ever for judician fairness, legislative equity and civil and religious liberty. He is for fair play because fair play is the righteous thing.

According to the dispatches the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has advised Governor Neff to give his approval to the senatorial redistricting bill.

According to the Austin correspondent of the Record News, the governor is a bit incensed and may veto the bill and resubmit the subject. His principal objection is the Woods amendment which provides that senatorial redistricting shall not become effective until 1924, as a matter of fact, the Woods amendment should never have been adopted; as a matter of justice, it should have been buried; as a matter of history, it appeared to have been the best way out of the standpat jungle for those who championed a fair redistricting measure.

Governor Neff is for justice for West Texas; he is for an honest senatorial redistricting bill and should he veto it, the Record News hopes he will keep the legislature in session until the people of West Texas are given their own and the standpatters of the senate are given the just rebuke that is coming to them.

This is a democratic commonwealth. It is proclaimed by the leaders that it is the banner democratic state. There are thirty-one senators—all democrats and Senator Harry Hertzberg of San Antonio uttered a great truth when he said:

"The people of Texas demand an honest redistricting of the state; the people do not care who is elected to the senate two years hence; they do not care who gets back to the senate or who shall fall by the wayside. They were promised senatorial redistricting as the constitution provides and speaking for myself, I am going to give them an honest measure and thirty-one fair senatorial districts."

All Texas who read and think know what happened to Senator Hertzberg. Dallas and Harris and Tarrant were made senatorial districts. Texas had four other counties tacked onto it. Now the Record News makes this prediction:

"Should Harry Hertzberg offer as a candidate for re-election, he will bury all rivals in the senatorial district carved out for him by his political enemies. Hertzberg is a democrat. His political enemies are democrats. Hertzberg is for justice and fair play. Some of his political enemies grind their own personal axes and seek to punish those who take the edge off 'em.

THE LAW OF COMPENSATION.

Our brother beloved, George Bailey of the Houston Post, indulges this pair of paragraphs:

"With salary cuts in our University and A. & M. faculties pending, out-of-the-state institutions are beginning to take their pick. Don't deny yourself the joy of anticipation. One month from today you kick in with another installment of your income tax, if you are able to borrow the money with which to pay it."

This would seem to be an application of the law of compensation, as taught by the Concord philosopher, Ralph Waldo Emerson. With their salaries brought down to normalcy, those college professors won't have to borrow too extensively from the bank to meet their income tax payments. They should worry.—Waco Times-Herald.

There is no escape from the workings of the income tax. There will be no escape in the years to come. There will be a sales tax levied some day. There will be a land tax levied some day—a land tax on large holdings held for speculative purposes.

Professors should not be immune. Educators should not be immune. There should be no special privilege classes in this country.

Really the so-called nuisance taxes are sales taxes. And isn't the tobacco tax a sales tax? There is another sales tax that bears heavily upon business as well as the men who make business. It is the transportation war tax. Isn't a war tax on travel a sales tax on travel? Isn't a war tax on Pullman accommodations a sales tax?

Doesn't it strike you that the men who are engaged in all the activities, pushing along all building program, creating and launching new enterprises, or the men who pay the most of the freight?

There is an excess profits tax. This tax is levied on those who invest their money and take a chance. It is levied on those who open up new fields of endeavor. It is levied upon those who keep the men of muscle and brawn on the payroll.

Woodrow Wilson in 1918 asked for the repeal of the excess profits tax. Three Democratic secretaries of the Treasury asked for its repeal. This is the year of our Lord, 1921. A Republican administration has been in power since the fourth of March. The Chicago convention pledged immediate repeal of the excess profits tax. The San Francisco platform of the democracy carried the same demand. All the political parties declared for its repeal; all business men ask for its repeal. Like the flag of our country, the excess profits tax "is still there."

Lloyd George is coming to America to attend the peace conference. This will be an innovation. For three centuries all the world has gone to Windsor Castle. Gone are "the good old days"—for John Bull at least. Lord Northcliffe has gone to Japan and China. He did not run away. He will land in England just about the time the prime minister lands in America and then the sky rockets will appear once more.

Eleven out of fourteen cities report increases in food cost. Dallas reported a decline of one-tenth of one per cent and St. Louis "prices unchanged." And yet food producers say they are receiving the smallest returns in years.

MEAT STOCKS AND CONSUMPTION.

The Institute of American Meat Packers reports that cold storage stocks of meats and lard in the United States on July 1 would have been sufficient to fill national needs for only twenty-three days, if the country had to depend solely upon meats in storage and if the stocks all were available for immediate use. The actual weight of the cold storage stocks, as reported by the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, was 1,195,822,000 pounds. As the United States consumers in excess of 53,000,000 pounds of meat daily, this is in reality only a normal supply—less by 192,000,000 pounds, by the way, than on the corresponding date last year. More than 343,000,000 pounds of the stocks in storage on July 1 were in process of cure and therefore unavailable for immediate use.

Representative Hill of Wheeler county was up in the air Monday night. He did not know whether the senatorial redistricting bill was dead or alive; but he may be happy yet.

Speaking of counting chickens before they are hatched, the house retrenchers failed to carve large slices from the salaries of the college professors. And the college professors can thank the senators for their salvation. Regardless of the grunters and the growlers Old Texas is safe and sane and can be depended on to do the right thing.

Rippling Rhymes

MY MAP.

My face is not surpassing fine, but it's the only one I have, and I won't try to make it shine with paints or unguents or salve. A friend of mine had small repose, he worried much by day and night, because he had a crooked nose that tapered gently to the right. He spent about a hundred bones with beauty doctors and their ilk, who told him, in caressing tones, they'd make his beak as fine as silk. And now his lonely watch he keeps, a soul of peace and joy bereft, and when he sees his nose he weeps, for now it tapers to the left. My aunt once had a lovely hide, her face like lilies kissed by dew; but paint and powder she applied, to be in line with all the crew. She doped her face with liquid wax and kalsomine and Magic Spray, and now she is a battle-ax who makes the horses run away. My nose and chin are all askew, my countenance is harsh and plain, but I just leave it where it grew—it doesn't cause me any pain. My whiskers form a brindled hedge and oftentimes obstruct the view, my moles and freckles stand on edge, one eye is green, the other blue. But when the beauty doctors come, and ask to reconstruct my map, (for which they'd charge a princely sum), I tell them I'm not such a sap.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

EPIC OF THE RESTAURANT AD. MAN

(Well known chain of restaurants is advertising by means of short essays on the histories of various viands.)

In the prehistoric ages, when man lived by camouflages
To ward off the dinosauri and the other woozy beasts,
To tuck up her bearskin apron and herself prepare the feasts.
There was no delicatessen and no maids to do the messin',
So she cooked the boaconstrictor in an appetizing way,
For to please her stone-age hubby, muscle-bound and whiskers scrubby,
(Try our lobster a la Newburg or our macaroon glacee.)

In the Garden, so-called Eden, Eve got sick of all the weedin',
Said: "This job is all too heavy for a frail and fragile Rib.",
So I'll start a little scrap 'll last a while." She cooked the apple.
Adam's chance in life was cooked too from the time he tied his bib.
Gastronomic dereliction caused the first household eviction
And the sign outside the Garden next day bore the words "To Rent."
Though the couple thought it cruel, moral is, "Stick to your gruel."
(Or else drop around and taste our appetizing vol-ou-vent.)

When Mark Anthony went lovin',
Where she'd just been boiling strychine for the poor, unwelcome hick.
Cleo didn't care for boys an' her first hint to leave was poison,
And in Egypt they still boast about her skill with arsenic.
But Mark said: "Your chow can't harm me—I've been messing with the army.
I'm a hardboiled Roman doughboy, just as tough as they can make."
Shamed at being so derided, Cleo up and suicided—
(We sell eclairs, pies and crullers, likewise tarts and angel cake.)

These tales are just for example.
Man's carefree when food is ample,
When it's scarce he gets a grouch on and gives way to bitter grief.
Pork and beans need not be forced on any one who's lived in Boston;
Where was Ireland till the natives mingled cabbage and corned beef?
When the bride feels she can risk it, she cooks hubby tartar biscuit,
Then collects the life insurance when it's given him the air—
(We have marmalade and spinach, rarebit as it's cooked in Greenwich, Hot tamales, flapjacks, goolash—all are on our bill of fare.)

J. Winn writes to inquire what, with all this talk about dress reform, will be the prevailing style in breach of promise suits.

Large checks, of course.

A TODDLE TOP ROMANCE

'A kiss upon those coral lips,"
The lover begged, may I impress?
Let me place one, as the bee sips
The honeyed dew of happiness."
Blushing, she gave her answer true:
"Put two."

One night, a year since they'd been wed,
She touched his clothing tenderly,
"They've paid my darling off, she said;
"I'll take his trousers out with me,
And, in the quiet of the hall, take all."

"Bobbed hair must go," dictates Marshall Field to the young women employes in his Chicago store.

Have a heart, Marsh. Don't make the poor girls catch their death of cold just when the cool weather is coming on.

DOGHILL PARAGRAFS

By GEORGE BINGHAM

Sile Kildew ran out from under his derby while crossing the street at Tickville Tuesday.

When he was over at Luke Mathew's house last Sunday Ras Barlow found an old almanac in the attic, and he is now regaling his friends with a lot of brand-new jokes.

As soon as he got through with his sermon last Sunday the Dog Hill preacher went back to the door and smiled at the people so that they would tell him how well they liked his sermon, as they went out.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

completed, when the program has been carried into effect, it will mean more to Texas and do more for Texas than a dozen governors could accomplish in fifty years. This is not throwing the wet blanket on Correspondent Wright or the men of the west who would like to place J. A. Kemp or Frank Kell at the head of the state government. H. N. F. would like to see either of the gentlemen at the helm but men who are railroad builders, city builders, reclaimers of waste stretches, and who are noted for their construction achievements, if handicapped by legislative square pegs in round holes, would see failure written on their efforts at the close of their term of office. This has been the history of government in recent years.

Some men are so queer, rD. G. E. LaBeaume is a prominent physician of Fort Worth and likewise a disciple of Izzak Walton. This gentleman loves diamonds. He sported a five thousand dollar jewel and he wore the diamond and carried a hundred dollars in cash in his pocket on a fishing trip nine miles from Pantheryille. He fished to his heart's content and at midnight he motored on a lonely road back to his habitat. High jackers halted him, stripped him of his diamond and robbed him of his cash. Now why should a man with the sense of a lizzard flash a five thousand dollar diamond on fishes? Of course, many men have flashed on chickens and flappers and lost, but they had something to show for their losses. Speaking with the sincerity of a reformer and a retrencher, H. N. F. has no sympathy to waste on a man who will flash precious jewels on fishes.

Breakfast Stories

An old gentleman was interviewing applicants for the post of gardener. The one before him did not look promising, but the old gentleman thought he would give him a fair chance.

"How long were you in your last place?" he asked.

Off his guard, the applicant replied: "A month, sir."

"Eh! that's not long. And the place before that?"

"Three months, sir," the applicant replied boldly.

"That's better now, and the time before that?"

The applicant drew himself up proudly as he said: "There weren't no time before that, sir, I got off with a $10 fine."

"Henry," said Mrs. Twobble, "is there really such a bird as the dove of peace?"

"No," said Mr. Twobble, "and it's a lucky thing for the taxpayers of this country that there isn't."

"Why, Henry?"

"The chances are all the European nations would get together and ask the United States to support it, and congress would probably pass a million-dollar appropriation for bird seed.'

"I understand your friend, Gadspur, is proficient in making home brew," said Mr. Bibbles.

"Well, you needn't expect me to introduce you to him," said Mr. Twobble, with some heat.

"He has too many friends now to suit me. When I drop in to see him, he seldom has more than two or three bottles to show me for a week's work."

Who's Who

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who some day will inherit the world's largest fortune, is on his way to Pekin, China, where on September 15 he will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies opening the Pekin Union Medical college, erected by the China Medical board of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Despite his immense wealth, young Mr. Rockefeller has gained much fame by his industry and his democratic ways. Said his secretary the other day when asked to tell what he thought of the junior Mr. Rockefeller:

"First of all, Mr. Rockefeller is a very democratic man. He is always kindness and consideration itself to all with whom he comes in contact. I have been closely associated with him for many years, ever since I first put on long trousers.

"My admiration for him is unlimited, and I never cease to marvel at his remarkable self control and poise. I believe it to be an absolute impossibility to ruffle him."

John Davison Rockefeller, Jr., was born in Cleveland, Ohio, January 29, 1874. After graduating from Brown university in 1897 he at once became associated with his father in business. He is a director of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company of the Manhattan Railway company, and of the Merchants Fire Assurance corporation. He is chairman of the board of the Rockefeller Foundation, trustee of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, director of the General Education Board, of the Bureau of Social Hygiene, of the International Health Board, and of the China Medical board.

Young Mr. Rockefeller, like his father, has always been active in Sunday school and philanthropic work.

Hudson and Essex
Prices Again Reduced

Hudson Super-Six $1895.00
Essex $1375.00

Effective August 17th

—These are the lowest prices at which these models have ever been sold.

—You will understand something of the value this gives the Hudson Super-Six when you remember that at $2600.00 it was the world's largest selling fine car. Today's price saves you $705.00.

Essex Further Leads All in Its Class

—Everybody has always classed Essex with costly cars in performance, endurance and appearance. It combines with those qualities the economy of light cars in fuel, oil and tires. Thousands of owners report as high as 25,000 miles of service with scarcely any maintenance cost.

—More than 50,000 Essex cars are in service. For the performance and endurance given, Essex had no rival at its last year's price of $1795.00. —What can approach it today with this saving of $420.00.

—At lower prices than they have ever sold for, you can get either a Super-Six or an Essex this year and have the best months in which to enjoy it.

To Guage Ice Cream in Freezers.

One and one-half quarts of liquid, including cream, milk, fruit juice or syrup, will expand from the turning of the freezer into about two quarts of ice cream. A more specific recipe is, 5 cups of thin cream, 1 cup of strawberry preserve, 1-2 cup of sugar. Or 3 pints of thin cream, 1 1-2 cups of sugar. Flavoring of vanilla to taste. Or 3 pints of thin white sauce, 1 1-2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of crushed and sifted macaroons, vanilla or almond extract. The thing to remember is that a 2-quart freezer should be no more than three-fourths full at the beginning of the freezing. It is better to make the required quantity in a larger freezer, to allow for easier turning.

"AD" CLUBS HIRE WOMEN.

Miss Ruth Leigh has been employed by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to prepare a book on retail selling. She has a national reputation as a writer on this subject and for that reason this great national organization has employed her. The book will plan fifteen lessons as a course of training that may be studied in any retail store by the sales people. The plan suggests that some members of a local advertising club act as instructor.

Colleen Moore in a bathing suit designed for censors' eyes.

Late this month representatives of every censorship body in the United States will visit Hollywood to confer with film producers over what can and can't be done on the silver sheet. When these August persons arrive, they may be surprised at the modesty of the California beaches, for there are plans on foot to have all the bathing beauties and screen stars wear "censorship bathing suits" during the stay of the censors on the coast.

Here is a snapshop of pretty Colleen Moore in her vision of the "censorship bathing suit." Colleen says that her bathing suit will be passed by the censors whether her pictures are or not. It is our guess that she will attract more attention in her "modest" suit than she would in the universally worn "one piece."

MEET MISS NIBLO

Fred Niblo wants everybody to know of the arrival of Miss Niblo. She was born last week in Los Angeles, and according to her dad, is a "perfect pippin." He says she looks like her lovely mother (Enid Bennett) and at the tender age of one day showed such symptoms of becoming an actress that he has already arranged for her debut. Enid Bennett who retired from the screen to welcome her daughter, will return as soon as the baby is old enough to be left to the care of a nurse.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

CHERRY WILL FIGHT

Cherry told Miss Laura everything that lay heaviest on her heart. That wise lady sat quietly listening, but saying nothing, until the girl had finished her story. Then she kissed her again, and holding her hands tightly in her own, assured her over and over again that it was all exaggerated. To be sure, Ned had known Arline a year or so earlier, but that was no heinous crime. Most young men had a sweetheart or two before they settled down. Cherry, herself, had undoubtedly had heaps of beaus in Chicago.

At this Cherry nodded her head hard. Of course she had, but fortunately for her and for Ned these past incidents had been left far behind when they left for Wellsburg. Ned's past had pursued him. She was that type of girl, Arline. She had been so spoiled all her life that she simply couldn't believe that in such a tremendous issue as this she would have to count herself defeated.

"It's unfortunate that she ever met Ned, dearie, that much I will say, for a girl like that will go to most any lengths to get what she sets her heart on. All scruples are abandoned. And even if it means the wrecking of a happy home she will not be swerved from her purpose. What we have to do now is find out just the very best thing to counteract Miss Bates' little game. You are clever enough, Cherry, to fix things so that you will be queen of your husband's heart as well as of your home. Remember always that Arline is unscrupulous."

At these words Cherry clinched her fist tightly. She, herself, knew too well the truth of Miss Laura's every word. She had a dangerous rival, one who would stop at nothing. The question was how to settle things once and forever.

"Do you know, Miss Laura, that I was cold to Ned when he left, this evening? We've been that way ever since the dance, you know, and he doesn't dream that I'm sitting here crying about him. No, indeed. He has gone off fully convinced that his wife doesn't care much for him, I feel sure!"

"That's very bad, Cherry. Never do it again. It's wrong enough to let the sun set on anger between you, but to let the man you love so much go away on a long trip with anger and doubt in his heart is doubly wrong. I learned this to my sorrow, years and years ago. That's why I can afford to tell you the truth," said Miss Laura earnestly.

"You see, I can't humble myself for Ned, now though," continued Cherry, disconsolately, as she wiped her eyes. "I have really been guilty of nothing, and it's all Ned's fault for jumping to conclusions as he did instead of asking me for the facts in the case about his seeing Arthur kissing me. He has placed me in a difficult position. Besides, how can he throw stones when he has been philandering and when he receives notes like this from a girl he once cared for? No, it is I, Miss Laura, who has right on my side."

The Woman Citizen

City Planning

The city of Washington is about the only American city which was planned in an early day. It was done by Major L'Enfant, a French engineer, under the instruction of George Washington, himself an engineer. Many other cities are, at great expense, trying to do away with their handicaps by planning; and the wise city will tackle the job as soon as possible. No city can afford to grow, like "Topsy," any more than the house-builder can afford to build his home that haphazardly.

Many people think of city planning as the fad of those who seek alone a city's beauty. Beauty is worth much for itself but it also has a commercial value in making a city more attractive and drawing more people of wealth. But city planning adds to convenience and to prosperity.

By city planning the streets are arranged so that one cane get from main portion to portion without going around two sides of a square. From centers radiate main thoroughfares. From the main approaches to the city, these lead directly to the business section by the shortest route, like spokes of a wheel. Factories can be located in a section where they can be best served by railroads and these will not have to cross through the heart of the city. Business of a kind can be grouped together. Transportation, can be better managed and the people spread out making for more fresh air and health. Public buildings may have more sightly approaches and be grouped conveniently. Parks may be made accessible to all. Streets made for comfort and not on straight lines up and over hills.

We have not yet come to realize the possibilities of the "Garden Cities" of Europe, which make life for the working population lived in beautiful surroundings. All this may be practical for all of us in the planned city. No matter what the initial expense, by city planning, money is saved in the long run, and the cost may, by bounds, be spread over the years.

Mrs. D. W. King Tells How Cuticura Healed Hands

"I was treated but nothing helped me. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in about a week I noticed an improvement, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed, within a month." (Signed) Mrs. D. W. King, R. 3, Box 27, Westminster, So. Car.

Cuticura Soap to cleanse and purify, Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal and Cuticura Talcum to powder and perfume are ideal for daily toilet purposes.

CARE OF FINGER NAILS.

Finger nails are straws, indicating which way the wind blows, or the water flows. Simple washing, be it ever so thoroughly done, is not always enough to keep the finger nails clean. Dirt will find its way underneath the nails, and is difficult to get out and forms a retreat for germs.

No matter how shapely or cleanly a hand, the unkept finger nails are a badge of coarseness. It is not necessary to put upon the nails all the fubelows which Dame Fashion dictates, the polish and tint, and the trim which makes them resemble bird claws, but they should be kept always clean. This is not only a beauty asset but in handling of food, is essential to health.

Trimming the nails too short will make them sore, and ill shaped, and stubby. Never bite them off. The nail clip or the scissors are better than a knife for trimming nails as the latter is liable to tear so deeply as to leave the bed of the nail exposed and sore. Be careful in trimming or cleaning the nails not to injure the bed of the nail underneath it, for the perfect form of the growing nail depends upon the inviolability of the bed on which it grows.

Dry celery leaves and use them for seasoning croquettes, roasts, soups, etc.

Tough meat can be made tender by laying it for a few moments in a strong vinegar water.

Oh, How We Love Each Houston Buff—Come On, You Spudders, Treat 'Em Ruff!—Oh, Bust 'Em Handsome, Bust 'Em Wide—Remove Their Horns and Skin Their Hide!

JAKE MILLER ATTAINS AMBITION OF LIFETIME, AND SPUDS RUIN JOHNNY NEE'S BEARS, 17 TO 2

By C. F. CARTER

Oh, golly, gosh-darn, and golly, gee whiz!
Ain't them Spudders about the best they is?
Scarce a Santone pitcher is still alive,
And little Jakey Miller got five out of five!
Big Abe Bowman was as right as a fox,
And hits were as scarce as cotton socks;
Oh, the honey's in the comb, bees in the hive—
And little Jakey Miller got five out of five!

Talking with Jake Miller some three weeks ago, and Jake remarked wistfully;

"Say, I wish I could get five outa five some day. I've played a lotta ball games in my young life, and I've got four hits out of four, five out of six—but never five outa five. Wish I could get five outa five some day."

Jake Miller; hard-working, conscientious Jake, who worries himself sick when he fails to deliver a blow in a pinch—good old Jake, by gum, he went to bat against the Bears yesterday and slammed out five substantial solid base hits out of five journeys to the rubber. Life holds nothing further for Jake; the diamond lavalliere of baseball has been draped around his sunburned neck, and he wouldn't care tonight if he died of pneumonia.

Ye Editor Is Forgetful.

The team? The rest of the team? The team as a whole? What did they do? Oh, we get ya! Forgot all about 'em for a minute, whatta ya know about that? Why, the team just shook those naturals on their official standing dice, and rolled 'em forth sevens and elevens so furiously and frequently that the San Antonio Bear lost his entire bank roll! The final score was 17 to 2, and the crashing sound of the ball as Spudder bats smote it hither and yon made a lot of San Antonio citizens rush to the Alamo believing the historic structure was again under attack.

It's a little early in the season for the mistletoe to be hanging from those San Antonio oak and hackberry trees—but, honest, folks, that didn't prevent the Spudders from kissing that baseball yesterday. They saluted Lybrand and Tiner with 18 smashes, numbered among which kindly check off one home run, three roaring triples and four fretful two baggers. They scored 8 runs in one inning, 4 runs each in two other innings—and Oh, shucks, simply blacked Johnny Nee's eye, split his lip and scored a knockdown in any old round they wished.

Fans Produce Echoes.

The Airdome fans cheered every mighty wallop to the echo, and when there wasn't any echo cheered until they produced one! In fact, if you will pardon the slight digression, we'll state that one of the best things local fandom does is to produce real echoes, not mere imitations of the original sounds. As Harry Williams used to say in Los Angeles, "any goof who wears fiddle strings where his vocal chords should be can produce second hand echoes."

Abraham Bowman performed right nobly for the infuriated Spudders, holding the Bears to eight separated bingles, with the exception of a temporary hitch in the fourth frame, and attending to his duties with the same coolness and steadiness that we have all seen Big Abe display in the local yard recently. The wire operator in Santone flashed the news on several occasions that Abe wasn't getting a very square deal on balls and strikes from Harry Kane—but Abe didn't let it worry him. He was in there to win a ball game for the Spudders, for the home fans, for himself, for his wife, for his six-year-old youngster—and Big Abe poured it on 'em with sublime confidence that the boys and their bats were behind him all the way.

Will you fellers be satisfied if we just slip you the details of the fifth inning, wherein the Spudders chalked up 8 runs? You see, in this era of economy we gotta help out the Boss by saving all the paper and ink and typewriter ribbons we can; you appreciate the situation, don't you? Thanks, fans—we'll do as much for you some time.

A Triple Starts It.

Danny Clark started the eighth spasm with a sonovagun of a smack to the center field fence for three cushions. Jake Miller immediately brought him across the plate with a ripsnorting double to left. Griggs ambled leisurely to first when Lybrand parked one in Cecil's ribs. Caddy Works neatly sacrificed both runners along, and Kitchens brought 'em home with a fretful single to left field. Abe Bowman, feeling grateful to the boys for their slugging and wanting to be a reg'lar feller himself, sent Kitch to third with a hefty two-bagger to right. Mister Tiner replaced Lybrand on the mound, and Bischoff gave him the welcoming hand with a single to center that scored Kitch and Abe. George took second on the throw to the plate. Buddy Tanner walker—and then poor old Tex McDonald socked the apple over the right field fence for a home run. Danny Clark came up a second time, and was thrown out by Johnny Nee. Miller made his second hit in one inning, a single to center, and then stole second base to top it off. Johnny Nee pegged Griggs out at first for the third out.

Wasn't that a non compus gazinkus of an inning, eh, wot?

Today the Spudders invade the land of the Buffalo—and may the gods of baseball have mercy on the soul of George Whiteman! The Spudders have started again; need we say more? Hot dawg! Eat 'em alive!

ATHLETICS BUY FRANK CALLOWAY

By Associated Press.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Frank L. Calloway, shortstop of the Knoxville club of the Appalachian league, was sold today to the Philadelphia American League club. The purchase price, said to have been the highest ever paid for a class "D" player, was withheld.

Calloway, who is a former University of Tennessee star, will report at the close of the minor league season September 16.

—WHAT IS 4343 ?

AND FORT WORTH'S STILL A 9 O'CLOCK TOWN

A SAD BUNCH OF MOURNERS.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Either the box score of Tuesday's game between the Buffs and Gassers is in error, or George Whiteman, the Houston skipper, accomplished the sensational. Skipper George, playing right field for the Buffs, is credited with 10 putouts and one assist, as compared to 9 putouts and one assist for First Baseman Bottomley. A great many hairs have fallen from our head since we last observed an outfielder, and a right fielder at thata, grabbing more putouts than the first sacker.

In addition to that noble bit of defensive work, Whiteman hit a terrific drive over the left field fence, the second hit of its kind in two years, and tied the score with the same. Pretty fair ball players, this George Whiteman, we'll say.

Speaking of the strength necessary to wallop home runs, they used to tell this one back East about J. Franklin Baker in the days when he stood alone as the "Home Run King." Baker was plowing one day on his farm near Trappe, when a stranger approached him seeking directions to the home of another farmer. J. Franklin thought a minute, and then said in his quiet way:

"Oh, yes, he lives right over yonder"—and, instead of pointing with his finger, Baker gripped the plow handles, yanked the plowshare out of the furrow and held it five feet in the air to indicated clearly the direction.

It's all over the shouting in the International League. Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles have held such a commanding lead since the start of the season that now they can no longer be headed. The only race left is a three-cornered battle being staged by Buffalo, Toronto and Rochester for possession of second place—and no one is losing sleep over that tussle.

Jack Dunn has a major league ball club if there ever was one; a club that will compare favorably with any team in the American or National league. The Baltimore manager won't sell a player, either, and because of that he has been cussed high and low by the big league managers who have gazed with longing eyes on some of the Oriole stars.

We wouldn't depend on our Canada fried

A storm has burst over the luckless Lew Tendler's head because of his action in claiming Benny Leonard's posted forfeit of $5,000 when a fractured thumb forced Leonard to cancel his meeting with the Philadelphia lightweight. The last word in poor sportsmanship seems to describe Tendler, who made an even greater jackass of himself when he announced further that he would claim the lightweight championship. Benny Leonard is one of the few boxers of modern times who has always given the public a square deal; who has been willing at all times to risk his title, and who has never refused a match to any good boxer in the lightweight ranks. To intimate that Benny framed up an excuse to avoid meeting Tendler is an unsupported, unwarranted reflection on one of the gamest lightweight boxers who ever donned the war pads.

"Kewpie" Ertle, who held the bantamweight title several years ago, is the latest boxer ot attempt a comeback. Ertle has been training for several weeks, and will re-enter the ring on Labor Day in Sioux City, Ia., facing either Johnnie Richie of Chicago or Frankie Mason.

Managing boxers in wholesale lots is a new wrinkle in the sport world. Eddie Mead, Scotty Monteith and Johnny Cox a week ago launched the managerial firm of Cox, Mead & Monteith, fistic managers—and to date they have 23 boxers on their string. If they can keep the entire 23 in ring costume steadily at the same time, the shrewd trio of bosses should rake in quite a tidy sum of mazuma.

Damon Runyon says that "every woman ought to see at least one fight" Most every woman not only sees more than one fight, but is frequently a participant.

George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, British golfing stars, have won 20 matches in this country, have lost only two and have tied one. No other pair of invaders from the far side of the big dring ever has approached this remarkable record. The only blot on the Duncan-Mitchell Max Matson, and a tied match with Jock Hutchison and Entwhistle.

Many years ago John A. Gammons played ball with the Boston Nationals. Later he was football coach at Brown University—and two days ago we saw where Gammons with an even 80 led home a field of 100 golfers, including the Scotch amateur T. D. Armour, in the annual championship tournament of the Shenecossett, Coun. County club. The old time stars of baseball, it seemss, always have a dangerous punch left when they turn their attention to other lines of sport.

WEEKLY SHOOT OF GUN CLUB TODAY HANDICAP AFFAIR

The weekly shoot of the Wichita Falls Gun club will be held at the gun club grounds east of the ball park this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. It will be a handicap affair, with three prizes. J. L. Nabb is putting up a fountain pen for the high gun shooter; the Little Sporting Goods company will donate a box of shells to the man shooting second, while the third prize will be free targets given by the gun club.

Many of the local marksmen are getting in trim for the opening of the dove season September 1st, and it is expected a big gang will be on deck this afternoon for the weekly warm-up.

CHAMPIONS ONLY LEFT IN NET PLAY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Championship form came to the fore in a striking manner on the courts of the Westside Tennis club here this afternoon in the round before the semi-final of the woman's national singles tennis championship. Of the 64 entrants who began play in the 1921 titular tournament only four survived the afternoon play. Of this quartet three are past or present national champions and the fourth holds a similar position in Mexcio.

In addition to Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, formerly of Norway, but now of New York City, and winner of the title in 1915-16-17-18 and 1920, the survivors included, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, of Los Angeles, title holder in 1904, and the only American woman to win a world's championship on the famous courts of Wimbledon, England. Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, California, three times holder of the title in the years of 1912, 1913 and 1914, and Mrs. C. V. Hutchins, who put the finishing touches on her game during recent seasons in and about Mexico City.

STANDING IN DAVE PAUL SILVER BAT AND BALL LOOP

Local fans are blocking traffic on Eighth street in the jam to get an eyefull of the silver bat and silver ball on exhibition in Dave Paul's window—and 266 votes were registered with Dave yesterday in the contest to determine which Spudder shall receive the two silver trophies as token of his value to the team.

The official standing thus far gives Bob Bescher a big lead, with Caddy Works a good second and Tex McDonald running third. The complete returns of yesterday follow:

WIFE PROTESTS DEPORTATION OF "DIVINE HEALER"

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 17.—Francis Schlatter, who for decades has been known as "the divine healer," and who has traversed the continent in that assumed capacity, is about to be deported from Canada to England or to Alsace, his birthplace, on the ground of undesirability, which is based upon alleged mental derangement.

His wife, who lives in this city, has been advised of this intention by Montreal authorities.

Schlatter left her at Annisquam, Mass., June 23 and no trace of his movements was obtained until he wandered into a public park in Montreal and began preaching, it is said.

Mrs. Schlatter has appealed to Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty against the proposed deportation, saying that her husband has been in America since he was two years old.

She asserted that he suffers from amnesia.

"Roughing It."

The modern plan of "roughing it."
We fear is quite efecte:
We've motor cars and screened-in tents
And dainty fare to eat.
We take along a phonograph
Some jazzy tunes to spill;
The chief stands at his cooking range,
Prepared to show his skill.
We lounge about in easy chairs
And lunch in state at noon.
Nobody ever camped like that
In the days of Daniel Boone.

"What did I ask you?" inquired a defendant of a police inspector a few days ago in a Yorkshire police court.

The Inspector—I should not like to repeat what you said.

STOCKS LAPSE INTO NARROW AND DULL DAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The stock market lapsed into its recent narrow and uncertain course today, after an ugly period which gave promise of a considerable extension of yesterday's belated rally. Rails and equipments of recognized worth were firm and occasionally strong; but speculative industrials and specialities were heavy or moderately backward. Chief factors of weakness were reported by comparatively obscure stocks at gross recessions of two to about four points. Studebaker was the only prominent issue to show pronounced heaviness, closing at a loss of nearly four points.

Another drain on local bank reserves for account of the federal government militated against easier money rates. Call loans held at 6 per cent on the exchange until the last half hour, when the quotation fell to 5 1-2 per cent. Outside offerings at 5 per cent were reported, with free supplies of time funds.

Marked improvement was noted in foreign exchanges, sterling rising more than three cents from yesterday's lowest quotation.

Trading in bonds was livelier, gains predominating especially among rails, convertibles again leading the movement. Liberty bonds were irregular on further selling of the 3 1-2s and the foreign group was featureless.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Liberty bonds closed: 3½s, 88.60; first 4s, 87.80; second 4s, 87.78; first 4¼s, 87.96; second 4¼s, 87.78; third 4¼s, 91.96; fourth 4¼s, 87.88; victory 3¾s, 98.72; victory 4¼s, 98.72.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Further declines seemed to bring in a little more buying of coffee futures today, and part of the early losses were recovered. The opening was 4 to 9 points lower, and active months sold about 10 to 13 points below last night's closing figures under near month liquidation and scattered selling, which was promoted by the failure of Rio exchange so fully maintain its recent improvement. After easing off to 6.67 for December, however, the market rallied to 7.04 for that position on reports of a fair spot demand and that Victoria shippers were asking slightly higher prices.

The market closed at a net decline of 2 to 7 points. Sales, including exchanges were estimated at about 45,000 bags. September 6.60; October 6.74; December 7.03; January 7.16; March 7.43; May 7.63; July 7.83. Spot coffee was reported in good demand with prices unchanged at 7 1-8 to 7 1-4 for Rio 7's and 10 1-4 to 11 for Santos 4's.

N. Y. SUGAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Increased pressure of uncontrolled sugar led to another decline of 1-8c in the raw sugar market today to the basis of 4.50 for centrifugal, Cubas, however, were steadily held at 3 1-4 cost and freight, equal to 4.86 for centrifugal. There were sales of 5,200 bags of Porto Ricos and 19,600 bags of St. Croix to a local refiner at 4.50 for centrifugal with no sales of Cubas reported.

The easiness in the spot market led to further selling pressure in raw sugar futures and as the demand was light, prices eased off rather sharply, closing at declines of 4 to 7 points. September closed at 2.92; December 2.71; March 2.56 and May 2.62.

There were no changes in refined sugar. Prices were listed at 6.00 to 6.15 for fine granulated by local refiners but secondhand sugars were said to be available at as low as 5.85.

The market for refined futures was easier in sympathy with the decline in raws, although trading was light and confined to the September position. Closing bids were 5 to 10 points lower, with September at 5.75; December 5.50 and March 5.45.

SPECULATIVE WHEAT BUYING IS CURTAILED

CHICAGO, Aug. 18. — Bearish views of economic conditions curtailed speculative buying of wheat today and the market continued to break. Prices closed heavy 2 3-4 to 3 3-4 net lower with September $1.16 1-2 to 1.16 3-4 and December 1.17 1-4 to 1.17 1-2. Corn lost 1-4 to 3-4 and oats 3-4 to 7-8@1 cent. Provisions finished unchanged to 17 cents higher.

The only special interest in the market was from traders who had sold at higher figures. Gossip that good export business had developed and that country offerings were light failed to bring about any important rally.

Corn and oats touched the lowest price at this season since 1906. There was little indication of investment demand for either grain. Packers buying helped to life provision and so too did higher quotations on hogs.

INDIFFERENCE AGAIN SHOWN AT FT. WORTH

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 18.—Cattle buyers were indifferent bidders today and for the fourth day this week the market was a slow weak affair. Calves were not disposed of to a good call and on that class the trade was fairly active. Southwestern Texas contributed twenty carloads of steers, the best of which averaged 1332 pounds and sold to an outside buyer at $5.00, two cars bringing that price. Some choice native steers were offered. Receipts of cows and heifers were small, most of the run being made up of mixed shipments. Receipts were 2500 head of cattle and 1000 calves.

The hog market averaged steady with a run of 1500 head. One car sold at $9.55 and most of the supply cleared at $9.25 to $9.50. Pigs declined 25c to 50c, the top being $7.75.

A small supply of 200 head in the sheep house sold readily on an unchanged basis. Quotations:

COTTON HAS NET ADVANCE OF 20 POINTS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—After making new low ground for the movement under continued liquidation the cotton market rallied on reports of a firmer spot basis, reiterated crop complaints from the southwest and covering. December sold up from 13.12 to 13.43 and closed at 13.41 with the general market closing very steady at a net advance of 20 to 32 points. Liverpool was rather better than due with private cables reporting that stop loss selling had been absorbed by a good trade demand, and the market here opened at an advance of 4 to 6 points. It met renewed liquidation, southern and local selling, however, and soon turned easier with active months showing net losses of 5 to 10 points before the end of the morning. This carried October off to 12.69 and January to 13.12 with December contracts showing a decline of 85 points from the high price touched shortly after the publication of the last government report. A better tone seemed to develop at this level, suggesting that recent liquidation had left the market in a healthier technical position while crop deterioration reports continued to come in from the south and there were also reports of a firmer spot basis in Texas. There was considerable trading buying in which well as covering on the rally that followed, with October selling up to 12.99 and January to 13.48. Last prices were within a point or two of the best.

Production of linters for last season amounted to 439,637 bales against 610,424 the previous season, according to the census bureau. Port receipts 10,902. United States port stocks, 1,341,327; exports, 9893, making 178,708 so far this season against 103,357 last year.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18.—After showing weakness in the first half of the session today, the cotton market made a sudden change of front, became very steady and rose for substantial gains. Much of the early selling pressure was said to come from spot interests, but in the later trading it was claimed that good part of the buying was due to reports of more business doing in the spot department while Galveston wired that it was feeling a better demand from both Liverpool and Havre. More or less buying was based on messages from the eastern sections of the belt saying that the crop had suffered materially of late from weevil. Active months were two to four the market ran into liberal offerings and for a while the demand was more than supplied with the result that prices were sent eight to ten points under the final quotations of yesterday, October falling to 12.22. It was not until after mid-session that any pronounced strength was shown and the heaviest buying was done late in the day when the active months were put 26 to 29 points higher than the last prices of yesterday, October climbing to 12.58. The close was at net gains on the day of 24 to 27 points with October at 12.56.

ROBBERS FAIL TO ROB STATION SAFE

SAFEBLOWERS MAKE UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT AT RINGGOLD, OK.

Mutilating the hinges and knob to the combination lock, burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to rob an office safe at the Rock Island railway station at Ringgold, Okla., during Wednesday night, according to information received Thursday by local police.

A cold chisel and hammer were evidently the only tools used by the bandits, who were believed to have been amateurs. The tools were taken from a near by tool shed used by section employes.

Police were unable to learn how much money was in the safe or at what hour the attempted robbery was believed to have taken place.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon Laura A. Atchley by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Seventy-eighth District court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1921, the same being the 5th day of September, A. D., 1921. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 11280-B wherein, J. W. Atchley is plaintiff and Laura A. Atchley is defendant and said petition alleging, that plaintiff and defendant were married on or about the 10th of January, 1882; that they continued to live together until on or about the 5th day of June, 1921, that plaintiff during their married life has endeavored to make defendant a good and faithful husband, working hard at all times for the maintenance and support of defendant and their family; that he has at all times provided defendant with all the necessaries of life to the best of his ability. That defendant unmindful of her obligations towards the plaintiff began a course of cruel treatment towards plaintiff many years ago. The defendant would become mad and angry at the plaintiff for no just cause on his part and would for weeks and months live in a disgruntled state of mind and put and refuse to speak a kind word to this plaintiff during said time; that such conduct continued from year to year until it finally culminated in their permanent separation on the date above alleged; that plaintiff was compelled to sleep away from home some time before their final separation That on account of the cruel and outrageous conduct of the defendant towards the plaintiff their further living together has been rendered insupportable.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays for citation to issue to defendant by publication as the law provides, citing her to appear and answer this petition and on trial hereof he have judgment against defendant, dissolving the bond of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant and that he be awarded absolute divorce from the defendant, and for all costs in this suit expended and have whatever further relief, in law and equity, he may show himself entitled to.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon Tom W. Gresham by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Seventy-eighth District court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1921, the same being the 5th day of September, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 11279-B wherein Roscoe Homan and Manhattan-Texas Petroleum Company are plaintiffs and Tom W. Gresham is defendant and said petition alleging that on January 1st, 1920, and now plaintiffs were lawfully seized and jointly possessed of the 7-8 working interest in and to the oil and gas lease and leasehold estate covering the following described property: Beginning at a point which is 799.4 feet south and 330 feet west of the northeast corner of Block 88 Red River valley land subdivision, for the place of beginning: Thence west 330 feet thence south 2.6 feet, west 330 feet thence south 25.6 feet, north to the place of beginning. That defendant Tom W. Gresham unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom and now unlawfully withholds same from plaintiff to their damage of $5000.00. The plaintiff further shows to the court that their assignors and vendees, the then owners of the leasehold estate above described on or about the 1st day of May, 1919, entered into a conditional contract with B. C. Bluhm and the Missouri Oil Co. for the development of the above leasehold, whereas said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. were to have an undivided interest therein conditioned upon the faithful compliance of said contract; that after drilling said well to the approximate depth of 200 feet, they abandoned same and surrendered all their right to same. That during the time said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. were at work on said lease with full knowledge of said contract, the defendant, Tom W. Gresham contracted with them to render certain service and labor whereby said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. became indebted to him in the sum of $117.00. That account of Gresham was thereafter fully paid by said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. but that in the meantime said Gresham made and filed his affidavit together with said account with the County CVlerk of Wichita County, Texas, whereby he sought to fix a laborer's lien on the aforesaid premises to secure said indebtedness, but all of said items in said account had been rendered more than 30 days before the filing of said lien. Wherefore same is voide that said account and affidavit although void constitute a cloud upon their title to said premises.

Wherefore plaintiffs pray that defendant be cited by publication to appear and answer herein as the law directs, for judgment for title and possession of said premises; that the affidavit and account herein be cancelled and the cloud removed from their title for cost and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1921.

District Court, Wichita County, Texas.

NO. 2 KELLER REPORTED TO BE PRODUCER

Without yet being shot with nitro, the No. 2 Keller of the Kent Oil company, is reported making around 200 barrels a day and the No. 2 Keller, Gulf is reported producing better than 200 barrels daily.

Both are in the 1900 foot sand of the South Bend, Young county, pool which has been given a new importance the past few weeks, by reason of the big new wells of the Hemphill interests, also on the Keller.

The Hemphill wells which have had the best production in this semi-shallow sand, have been shot before making the big production. The Kent wells are to be given a shot it is understood.

MOVIES TO BE STARLESS IN NEAR FUTURE

The starless movie with a well planned and well staged production will prove the principal moving picture attraction of the future. Henry Ford, of the Dye, Ford and Rogers enterprises, told members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon, Thursday. Supporting this prophecy, Mr. Ford mentioned the play, Humoresque, a starless production which has enjoyed exceptional popularity every where it has been shown.

In the early days of the motion picture business, Mr. Ford declared that exhibitors were forced to accept whatever reels were sent them by the distributors.

Later came the days of the high salaried "star," whose drawing power grew to such an extent that producers were forced to pay them fabulous salaries, thus gradually, increasing expenses until the present high peak was reached. In this connection, Mr. Ford declared that the day of the ten cent motion picture is gone forever, "largely," he said, "because the people will not accept the cheaper productions, but demand they be given the very best."

At present Dallas is the distributing headquarters for motion picture reels through Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, Mr. Ford said. The Dallas houses are required to make the films pay 3 per cent of the total cost of production. From twenty-one different kinds of taxes, Mr. Ford declared that movie houses in Wichita Falls last year paid taxes amounting to $6,000 per month.

J. Wilkie Talbert made a short talk telling of the development of the building and loan association, declaring that it is to be largely instrumental in making Wichita Falls a city of home owners, rather than renters.

A quartette was sung by Miss Bray and Messrs. Bergin, Shephard and Murchison.

GIRL SAVES LIFE OF FIANCE AFTER HOUR OF EFFORT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17.—After working for an hour, a girl today saved the life of her fiance, Frank Ransome, 22 years old, who was rescued in an unconscious condition from Newton Creek, near Camden, where he sank when bathing.

The girl, Helene Leib, 20, was with Ransome when he sank in midstream and called for help. Frank Haines, who resided near by, heard her cries, and after diving several times brought Ransome to the surface and dragged him ashore.

Miss Leib tried to expel the water from Ransome's lungs. When she became tired moving his arms, Haines worked over him.

Ransome's eyelids finally twitched, after Miss Leib and Haines almost had lost hope, and the rescuers knew he still was alive. They redoubled their efforts and Ransome at last regained consciousness.

WOULD ASSIST RURAL CREDIT BY INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Insurance of agricultural negotiable paper to standardize and to provide discount markets for it is being considered by congress in its groping for a practical plan to assist the farmers.

Some large insurance company, or companies, may be induced to change charter provisions in order to undertake this field of insurance. British insurance companies have been engaged with profit in this line for many years.

The house banking and currency committee will consider the legislation necessary to make effective the proposed plan of financial aid to agriculturists. Chairman McFadden, of that committee, has submitted for consideration of the committee a bill to legalize the scheme. It is known as a Rural Credits and Multiple Insurance bill, and its declared purposes are "to standardize paper for agricultural production and to establish discount markets for such paper."

Public Hearings Scheduled.

During the coming fall a special committee, consisting of Representative Clarence McGregor of New York chairman; James W. Dunbar, Indiana, and Eugene Black, Texas, will hold public hearings on the legislation to get the views of those interested. The National Society of Pure Bred Livestock Associations has asked to be heard in support of the bill. Insurance interests, bankers, farmers' organizations and others will be heard.

The McFadden bill creates two corporation—a rural credit society and a multiple insurance league—to carry in to practical operation the plan proposed. It is expected that insurance companies can be induced to accept a multiple insurance charter in lieu of state charters, which they now have to carry on their insurance business. The federal charter proposed is broad and liberal and permits insurance companies in the league to do every class of insurance. Many British insurance companies have held such charters for over a century.

The insurance league is to serve two purposes: First, it will act as a useful agency in standardizing the agricultural paper created by the rural credit society. This is similar to the work of the British acceptance houses," which have been potent factors in standardizing the British bill of exchange.

Will Cheapen Insurance.

Second, it will furnish cheap and sould multiple insurance to the members of the credit society to enable the tenant farmer to furnish as good security as a basis for credit as the richest farmer. The actual tiller of the soil would command the lowest discount rate for his productive credit paper.

The British acceptance houses grew out of the importing merchant firms, who originally accepted bills in the course of their importing business, and merchants of second-rate credit found that by paying a small commission to the acceptance houses for endorsement their paper would command the lowest discount rate on the open market.

A big life insurance company could perform, it is argued, a similar service to the farm credit system proposed in the McFadden bill.

ONE LESSON OF BIG BUSINESS

Big businesses were nearly all small businesses once, and they know by experience what it is worth to be lined up with the right kind of bank. The small business that learns that lesson has taken a big step toward bigness.
