Nixon Cautions Candidates On War In Indochina

The SDN Column

Bentley Baize stopped in at the newspaper office to advise that the Scurry County Museum Association now has a telephone in its offices, located in the Diamond M Building. The museum number is 573-6107. That is where most of the work toward establishing the museum is going on at present and that is the telephone number you should call if you want any information about the museum, and especially if you have something you want to contribute to the museum.

Baize also had a few comments about this county's 1971 cotton crop, which just now is nearing the conclusion of its ginning season.

It has been the toughest for the gins he has ever seen, Baize declared. Sometimes it pushes even the modern gins of today to process 30 or 35 bales a day. Also, the quality of the ginned cotton is extremely low. If the market had not improved substanitally over last year, Baize said he doubted that some of the 1971 cotton would have even been harvested. However, the price has made it worthwhile for the farmers to get the cotton out of the fields.

The late season caused the problems. The harvest did not get into full swing until the first of the year and a lot of the bolls never reached maturity.

With a break here and there, it could be a different story in 1972, Baize reminded. The copious outpouring of moisture in the late summer of 1971 put farm land in excellent shape to begin a new crop. And West Texans learned long ago that very often this year's crop is made on last year's water.

County Clerk Beverly Ainsworth went to Austin last night and planned to sit in on a session today that promised to throw some light on the mechanics of holding elections in view of new legislation and ensuing court decisions. At least she hoped that valuable information on that subject would be presented.

Mrs. Ainsworth said there had been some reports over the state that a return to a county convention system of nominating candidates for the general election might be proposed as a method of avoiding financial woes in the primary elections, now that filing fees have been successfully challenged.

If such a proposal gets serious consideration, the primaries this year could be the last to be held for a while. It would eliminate all but a small fraction of the cost of getting party candidates nominated, although it would be almost certain to reduce participation of the electorate in the nomination process.

Two Enter City Race

Two candidates had filed for places on the ballot this morning in the annual city election scheduled for April 4.

Bill Seale, now serving as Councilman, Place 6, whose term expires this spring, filed as a candidate for mayor. Bobby McCormick, now serving as mayor, had indicated that he would not seek re-election.

Charles Blakey filed as a candidate for Place 6 on the council, the post to be vacated by Seale.

Blakey, 43, is a Certified Public Accountant, a partner in the firm of Yorgesen and Blakey.

Two other council posts are to be filled in the April 4 election — Place 2, now held by Winifred Poyner, and Place 4, now held by Bill Vestal.

Teal Files In School Race

Dillard Teal, one of two board members whose terms expire this spring, has filed as a candidate for re-election to the Snyder Independent School District Board of Trustees.

The school election is set for April 1. Teal is a contractor and real estate broker.

The other post on the board which will be filled in the election this year is that now held by Ted Crenwelge.

Bodies Recovered From Rio Grande

MISSION, Tex. (AP) — The bodies of two Reynosa, Mexico, teenagers were recovered Tuesday from the Rio Grande just below Anzalduas Dam.

The two victims were among four persons believed to have drowned following a malfunction of a dam gate Sunday.

Justice of the Peace Leo Gonzalez of Mission identified the dead as Jaime Guzmann 19, and Gabriel Ochoa, 15.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told his Democratic rivals today that candidates for President should carefully examine any criticism of administration policy in Indochina to make sure their statements do not give "the enemy an incentive for continuing the war."

In a nationally broadcast assessment of his foreign policy, Nixon said he does not question the patriotism or sincerity of those who have criticized his Vietnam course.

But he recalled his own campaign for the White House in 1968, and said candidates should remember that "only the President can negotiate an end to the war."

Nixon said there should be free debate and criticism of U.S. policy. "But a candidate for President has a higher responsibility than the ordinary critic," Nixon said.

He said a candidate should make any criticism "he believes can contribute to an honorable peace."

But he said those candidates should carefully examine what they say to make sure it contains nothing that could give the Communists an incentive to continue fighting.

During his 1968 campaign, Nixon refused to discuss in detail his proposed war policies, saying that if he did so, the Communists might hold out awaiting the elections in hopes of getting a better deal from a new administration.

Nixon said he has been doing everything in his power to honorably end the war. "... We have made the most generous peace offer in the history of war," he said.

Nixon's comment about the patriotism and sincerity of his critics came only two days after H. R. Haldeman, one of his top aides, said in a television interview that Democratic critics of administration peace terms were consciously aiding the enemy.

Nixon also said in his radio address, which was pointed to Congress and the people alike, that his foreign policy has brought the world closer to a stable peace because the United States has stopped reacting "on the basis of yesterday's habits" and is dealing with "the opportunities of tomorrow."

Nixon cited his forthcoming journeys to Communist China and the Soviet Union, said U.S. alliances have been reshaped to reflect allied capabilities to assume greater responsibilities, and declared that new world trade arrangements will mean more jobs for Americans.

He said those steps "have brought the world closer to a stable peace.

"They did not happen by accident," the President said. "Three years ago, we stopped reacting on the basis of yesterday's habits and started acting to deal with the realities of today and the opportunities of tomorrow."

The President cited agreements with Russia including development of the ocean floor and the Berlin accord. He called Berlin a spot where trouble could have broken out

College District Sells Bond Issue

The Scurry County Junior College District this morning sold a $2½ million bond issue at an effective interest rate of less than 4½ per cent.

Sale of the bonds, one of the first in the state since a temporary halt occasioned by a court ruling on school financing on Dec. 24, had attracted interest throughout the area.

The successful bidders were the First National Bank of Dallas, Snyder National Bank and Associates. Their proposal, the best of four received, calls for an effective interest rate of 4.46470 per cent.

Following acceptance of the bid, the college district board passed an order issuing the bonds, which had been authorized by voters of the college district in an election last Nov. 23.

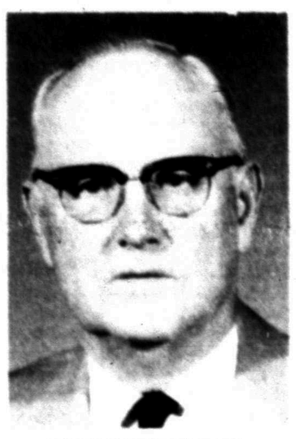

The bond funds will be used to finance construction of a student center, physical education building, area historical center and museum and to complete other work in the initial plans for development of the Western Texas College campus.

Dr. Robert Clinton, WTC president, told the board that architects are proceeding with plans for the buildings and indications are that bids may be sought on the construction project the last of March or early April. A definite date to receive bids is expected to be set within the next week or so.

Dr. Robert Hargrove, president of the college district board, and other board members said they were pleased with the bids on the bond issue. The bidding was highly competitive, the highest quotation among the four being 4.586737 per cent.

The sale of the bonds was delayed until a clarification of the court order on school financing was made by a federal judge recently. The original order had held the public school property tax, as presently applied, to be unconstitutional. Although junior college districts were not mentioned in the order, state approval of bond issues was suspended until the clarification.

The building project to be launched at WTC is due to complete the campus development there sufficiently to accommodate some 1,500 to 2,000 students.

STERLING WILLIAMS

Williams Candidate For Judge

Sterling Williams, candidate for District Judge of the 132nd Judicial District, today issued his formal statement to voters in the district.

"I am a candidate for District Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary. My record as a trial judge in this and other courts needs no defending. However, I shall be glad to discuss with anyone interested any case that I presided over or any order that I entered in, or in regard to any case that I presided over. My judgments and rulings could not be for all litigants, but they were honestly arrived at and were as fair to all parties as was humanly possible.

"If I may be your judge, I will be fair alike to all parties and I shall try to be helpful to all jurors, witnesses, attorneys, litigants and defendants in making their time spent in court the least inconvenient.

"In the performance of official duties I am under obligation to no one but God and the people," Williams concluded.

PAUL SIZEMORE

Sizemore Is Candidate

Paul Sizemore, owner and operator of Arrow Construction Co. here, has announced that he is a candidate for the office of county commissioner, Precinct No. 3 in the Democratic Primary election on May 6.

A resident of Snyder and Scurry County for the past 22 years, Sizemore is a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army Air Corps and he is a Scottish Rite Mason.

He attended Oklahoma A&M College (now Oklahoma State University) and received the bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Houston.

Sizemore said that due to his training and his business experience here in Scurry County he feels that he is qualified to serve the county as a commissioner and he pledged his best efforts in behalf of the county if elected.

"I have always been interested in the progress of the county and I am interested in continued progress," Sizemore said.

School Trustees Extend Contracts

Snyder School Trustees last night extended contracts of administrative personnel and officially called the annual school board election for Saturday, April 1.

The terms of Dillard Teal and Ted Crenwelge expire this spring.

Contracts extended through June 30, 1974, included those of Pat Falls, assistant superintendent; E. D. Flynn, business manager; Maurice Hodges, athletic director; Ray Peveler, tax assessor-collector; John Hunt, maintenance director, and Opal Spikes, cafeteria director. This represented a one-year extension of their current contracts.

The deadline for candidates to file in the trustee election is March 2. Applications may be filed with the board secretary at the administration building. Absentee balloting will be conducted at the school tax office in the administration building from March 13 through March 28. There will be three polling places on election day — at East Elementary School, where Mal Andress will be the election judge; at the City Hall, where R. C. Lunsford will be the election judge; and at West Elementary School, where Mrs. Mary Ann Lambert will be the election judge.

The board voted unanimously to renew for two years the school's contract with Pritchard and Abbott, evaluation engineers. The firm will provide its usual evaluation services and also will provide the tax receipts in addition to compiling the tax roll for a fee of $20,000.

Supt. Bill J. Hood reported to the board that the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Elementary Division, had advised that all of Snyder's elementary schools were accredited for 1971-72.

Also reported to the board was the contribution of a multi-media teaching kit, "Your Bank and Personal Money Management," which Hood said would be especially beneficial to the teaching of economics and home and family living. The kit was contributed to the school by West Texas State Bank.

ODELL GRAHAM

Graham Is Candidate

Odell Graham, who farms just east of the intersection of U.S. Highway 84 and U.S. Highway 180 has announced his candidacy for County Commissioner in Precinct No. 1.

Graham married Nell Floyd in 1931, and they have two married children.

He received his education in the Plainview and Snyder Schools and has lived in Precinct No. 1 for 40 years.

Graham also has had other business experience. He said he believed he was qualified to hold the office of commissioner and would put forth every effort to "make you a commissioner you will be happy with if elected."

Graham is a member of the East Side Church of Christ.

Armstrong Rites Set Thursday

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Thursday at Calvary Baptist Church for Sherman A. Armstrong, 77, who died early Tuesday.

The Rev. George Shoff, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Pyron Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

JIMMY E. GIFFORD

Gifford In Pct. 1 Race

Jimmy E. Gifford had announced his candidacy in the Democratic Primary for the office of county commissioner in Precinct No. 1.

Gifford, 29, has served 11 years in the U.S. Army and is a Vietnam veteran. He is now attending Western Texas College.

Gifford is married to the former Patsy Foree. They have one daughter, Kim Machelli, who is in the first grade at Northeast Elementary School. The family resides at 409 Twentieth Street.

Gifford said he earnestly solicited everyone's vote and if he is elected commissioner he will serve the people to the best of his ability.

Citizens Start Weather Petition

CUT BANK, Mont. (AP) — The citizens of Cut Bank, customarily one of the nation's coldest spots, are trying to do something about the weather.

A petition started by Marvin Owens, a local sporting goods dealer, and signed by 128 residents is to be given to Gov. Forrest H. Anderson.

It reads: "We ... do hearby petition the honorable governor of the State of Montana to declare the extra day of Leap Year to fall on the 32nd day of July. In this way, the citizens of Cut Bank could enjoy one more warm day in July rather than a cold one in February."

Irish Campaign Relatively Quiet

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST (AP) — D-for-Disruption Day, a 24-hour campaign by civil rights leaders to bring civic chaos to Northern Ireland, brought no extraordinary violence today.

The British army was alerted for attacks by the Irish Republican Army and police leaves were canceled.

At Newry, scene of the massive march in silence Sunday, the main Belfast-Dublin road was blocked by barricades. Automobiles were set afire in Coalis and in County Tyrone.

In Belfast and Londonderry, promised protests on a mass scale did not materialize. Most shops schools and factories in Northern Ireland's two major cities opened normally.

"It is an absolute disaster at the moment," Londonderry civil rights leader Michael Havord said.

The Day of Disruption was called by the mainly Roman Catholic Civil Rights Association to protest Northern Ireland's policy of interning suspected gunmen without trial.

Both the government and security forces had braced for huge Catholic support of the Civil Rights Association's campaign which was aimed at closing factories and schools, jamming telephone communications and blocking roads.

By noon, however, the telephone network was working almost normally and a few roads near Londonderry and border with the Irish republic, which had been blocked by felled trees and telegraph poles overnight, had been cleared by the army.

In Belfast, the only outward sign of protest was a march through the city center by 500 school children chanting, "Free the internees!"

Many Catholic businesses and schools opened as usual in Londonderry where the campaign was expected to be strongest.

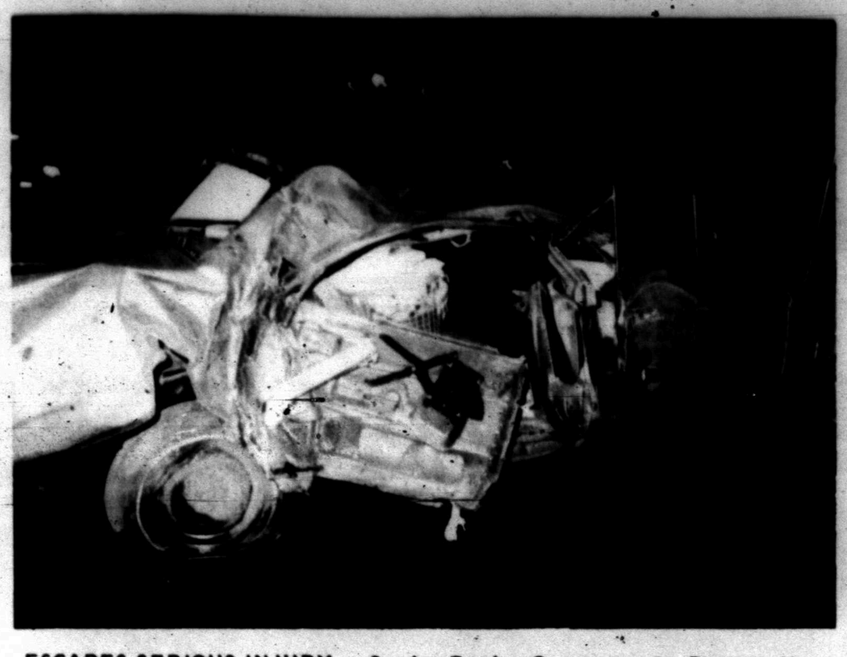

No one turned up at a meeting called by the Civil Rights Association in the town's fiercely republican Creggan Estate.

Havord blamed the confused situation in Londonderry on an order from opposition legislator John Hume on Tuesday night that people should work normally.

Hume and five other pro-Catholic Social Democratic and Labor party legislators began a 24-hour anti-internment fast in the neighboring Bogside enclave at midnight.

By midday, they had collected 5,000 signatures on a petition protesting internment.

Civil rights leaders were hopeful the protest would gather more support later.

ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY — Sandra Darden Gannaway, 31, Box 181, Hermleigh, sustained only minor abrasions when the 1973 Model Ford she was driving crashed into a utility pole on the East Highway about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday. She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service and released after receiving treatment. The vehicle was demolished.

Devaluation Legislation Received

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress today receives legislation formally devaluing the dollar by fixing the price of gold at $38 an ounce instead of $35.

While the Treasury did not disclose in advance the contents of the bill, congressional sources said the $38 figure, agreed on at the Smithsonian conference last month, is firm. There had been rumors, denied by the United States, that a deeper devaluation was under consideration.

These sources also said the bill will be a relatively simple one, merely fixing the new value for gold and making corresponding adjustments in the U.S. accounts in the International Monetary Fund, World Bank and other international financial institutions.

The change decreases the value of the dollars this country has on deposit with such institutions, but increases the value of the U.S. gold there. On balance, sources said, the United States will have to provide more dollars.

The House Banking Committee already has announced hearings to begin Feb. 29 on the legislation. A House vote is possible before mid-March.

Committee leaders of both parties are understood to favor approval of the bill without essential change. Some efforts are expected, both in the committee and on the floor, to amend it.

DESPITE TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

Congress Moving Ahead On Dock Legislation

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is moving ahead with its own solution for the 124-day West Coast dock strike despite tentative agreement on a new contract by negotiators for longshoremen and shippers.

Concern in Washington that the agreement might not be ratified by the dock workers caused the Senate to push through a strike-ending bill Tuesday and the House to schedule action on one today.

The Senate bill, adopted 79 to 3, provides for an immediate end to the strike and the submission of many unresolved issues to a three-member panel empowered to settle them by binding arbitration within 40 days. There could be no strikes or lockouts for 18 months.

The vote came after the announcement in San Francisco of the tentative bargaining agreement. A union committee is to meet Saturday to set a date for the ratification vote and determine whether the 13,000 men on strike will return to work in the meantime.

The fact that the strike will continue at least until Saturday, and could go on after that if ratification fails, prompted Congress to continue with its own legislative solutions.

Congress is shutting down at the end of business today for a Lincoln's birthday recess and Democratic leaders don't want to risk having the settlement blow up while Congress is vacationing. President Nixon has been prodding Congress to act since Jan. 21 and sent word after the settlement was announced that he still wants the bill passed.

The Senate bill closely follows Nixon's recommended legislation. The House will be given a chance to vote on the Senate bill under terms of a resolution approved Tuesday by the Rules Committee.

The Rules Committee entered the picture after the House Education and Labor Committee rejected the administration bill and approved a milder substitute that would provide for shipments of military goods and agricultural commodities while the strike continued.

Under its special powers, the Rules Committee voted 9 to 6 to take the administration bill away from the Education and Labor Committee and bring it to a House vote.

The Rules Committee also made it possible to substitute the precise language of the Senate bill for any version adopted by the House, which would eliminate the need for a conference between the two bodies. The measure then could go directly to the President for his signature.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., sponsor of the bill rejected by the Rules Committee, urged Nixon to announce that he would not sign any bill for at least 10 days so the union's ratification process could be completed.

NIXON REPORTS

and said the agreement reduces the possibility of confrontation between the two super powers.

He also pointed out that for the first time a president of the United States was going to visit Moscow. He said he would go, in May, with his eyes open.

Nixon said the accord with Russia was helped by the fact that there was communication between the two nations, but this was not true with China. He said opening of communications with China would be helpful and noted that in two weeks he would start a "journey of peace" to Peking.

Nixon's radio address was a prelude to his formal submission to Congress today of a State of the World report.

Under the heading of unfinished business, Nixon listed as pressing problems the need for greater U.S.-Soviet accommodation and self-restraint, a better relationship with China, disarmament, more-effective aid to poor countries, trade and monetary reform, and improving the United Nations.

He professed "a very sober awareness of how great a task" still lies ahead and voiced hope his report will help promote "a solid consensus of American public understanding and support" for his future efforts.

Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger in briefing newsmen on the book-length document said "one of the purposes of this report is to have a serious debate about the national purposes, and we would welcome a debate."

Besides listing "the failure of our intense public and private efforts to end the Vietnam war through a negotiated settlement" as his greatest 1971 disappointment, Nixon named these others:

—"A determined year-long effort to prevent a war" between India and Pakistan in which "we did not succeed."

—Inability "to make a breakthrough towards peace" in the Middle East. The 1970 Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire held, but "it did not prove possible to engage the parties in negotiations.

—"In Latin America, we have yet to work out with our friends a solution of the conflict between their desire for our help and their determination to be free of dependence upon us."

—Failure to get sufficient foreign-aid appropriations to match "our expressions of good will with the material assistance which African countries want and need."

—Failure to prevent the United Nations from ousting Nationalist China.

Looking to this year and in a more optimistic tone, the President said a first-step accord on limiting the nuclear-power arms race heads his agenda for the visit to Moscow.

The Nixon report was somewhat vague on when an initial SALT agreement would be reached, but Kissinger said it would be completed either before or at the Moscow summit.

And if a first-step accord is reached by May, Nixon said, he would examine with Soviet leaders the issues remaining for the continuing SALT negotiations resuming in Helsinki in March.

Saying "we want to establish a political framework for dealing with the issues still in dispute," with the Soviets, Nixon also named these items for his Moscow trip docket:

The continuing failure to achieve a Mideast peace, European security, obtaining stability in other areas of the world and possible further U.S.-Soviet bilateral cooperation such as in increasing trade.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap

Minor damage resulted in a two-car collision at the intersection of the East Highway and Thirty-seventh Street at 2:08 p.m. Tuesday.

Involved were the 1970 Model Ford of William H. Parker, Jr., 3109 Thirty-eighth Street, and the 1967 Model Chevrolet of Lena Ethel Scrivner, 604 Twenty-ninth Street.

Advice For Kite Flyers

Young kite flyers are urged to follow a few simple rules for their own safety, according to H. F. Clark, company manager for Texas Electric Service Company.

Clark warns them of the danger of flying kites in the vicinity of electric power lines.

"If your kite should get caught in electric wires, call Texas Electric Service Company," Clark says. "Someone will be sent to get it down for you."

Clark recommends the following safety rules for kite flying: Always use dry string, not wire or anything metallic; always use wood and paper in your kite, not wire or metal; always fly your kite on days when there is no rain; always avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kite.

Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged line; always fly your kite far from electric or power lines; always fly your kite away from TV and radio aerials.

"Posters containing these safety rules have been distributed by the company to all schools," Clark said, "so youngsters will get more fun out of flying kites and at the same time keep from getting hurt or losing their kites."

Theft Reported

A tape player was stolen from the 1966 Model Chevrolet of George Patterson, 3610 Fortieth Street, while the car was parked at the Scurry County Coliseum Tuesday night, according to a City Police report.

CONSTELLATION RECALLED

VCs Intensify Attacks

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command abruptly recalled the aircraft carrier Constellation to the Tonkin Gulf today, raising the strong possibility of intensive retaliatory air strikes on North Vietnam should the Communist command launch an all-out offensive, informants said.

The 76,000-ton carrier cut short a port leave in Hong Kong as the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong made about 50 attacks across South Vietnam today and Tuesday, including the heaviest rocket assault on the Da Nang area in 2½ years.

Although many of the attacks were small scale, it was the largest number in more than four months, and it appeared to mark the start of a pre-Tet highpoint of activity.

The U.S. Command said attacks on American forces also intensifed overnight and at least 13 Americans were wounded.

Communiques and incomplete field reports listed at least 37 South Vietnamese killed and 141 wounded. The Saigon command claimed 147 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed and 22 captured.

Informants said the Constellation would join the carriers Coral Sea and Hancock in the Tonkin Gulf, forming a 225-plane strike force to attack supply depots and other installations in North Vietnam should the Communist command launch the major offensive that U.S. officials have been predicting for this month. The United States has about 125 more fighter-bombers at Da Nang and at bases in Thailand.

The sudden return of the Constellation was also considered a show of strength to back President Nixon's repeated assurances that he will protect the remaining American troops in Vietnam.

Despite the surge in activity, the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry issued a communique saying allied forces would observe a 24-hour cease-fire beginning at 6 p.m. Saigon time next Monday for the Tet festival of the lunar new year. Sources said, however, that allied troops would remain on heightened alert and South Vietnamese leaves would be limited.

The cease-fire applies only to South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong announced last December they would observe a 96-hour cease-fire for Tet beginning at 1 a.m. Saigon time Monday.

In the past, all such limited cease-fires have been violated.

Most of today's war activity centered in the northern and central coastal regions and the central highlands, where U.S. officials have been predicting a major enemy offensive.

The two heaviest attacks were against the U.S. air base at Da Nang and the adjoining city, South Vietnam's second largest, and a South Vietnamese firebase near An Khe on the edge of the central highlands, 275 miles north of Saigon.

The allied commands said three South Vietnamese civilians were killed and six civilians, one Vietnamese soldier and 10 American servicemen were wounded when 25 100-pound rockets slammed into the base and city shortly after midnight.

Board Changes Pay Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board has announced changes in its merit-pay regulations, tightening up some aspects and loosening another.

After days of debate, the board voted 11 to 1 Tuesday night to propose that present merit-pay rules be abandoned and replaced with a new set which would:

—Apply to both union and nonunion merit pay, a wage increase that rewards an employe's performance.

—Exempt merit raises from the board's 5.5-per-cent annual wage guideline if the merit pay is granted according to a formal plan meeting board specifications.

—Prohibit new or renewed merit plans from pushing a company's over-all pay raises above 7 per cent a year.

The public has 10 days to comment on the proposal before it becomes funal.

Business member Robert Bassett cast the dissenting vote, after arguing for more-flexible rules to take into account the informality of merit-pay practices of small businesses.

Chairman George H. Boldt, business member Leonard F. McCollom and public member Neil H. Jacoby abstained.

The board's present rules exempt merit pay from the 5.5-per-cent guideline if paid under union contracts.

The new proposal came following criticism that the old policy discriminated against merit pay not covered by union contracts.

Cadet Allen Earns Honors

U.S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. — Cadet Larry M. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt M. Allen of 3501 Fortieth Street, Snyder, has been named to the Superintendent's List at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Cadet Allen, a member of the class of 1974, was selected for his outstanding achievement in both academics and military performance. He will be granted special privileges and wear a silver star and wreath designating the honor accorded him by the academy superintendent.

The 1970 graduate of Snyder High School will be commissioned a second lieutenant and awarded a B.S. degree upon his graduation from the academy.

Stolen Machine Is Identified

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — When the adding machine in the Redding police station broke down last week, it was taken to the local dealer for repair.

The repairman told police the machine had been stolen 2½ years ago from one of his customers, veterinarian William Brink of nearby Whitmore.

Police Chief Robert Whitmer said Tuesday a partial explanation found that the adding machine was part of the loot recovered when a burglary arrest was made 22 months ago. He said the department had been unable to locate the owner.

Berrigan Jury Is Sworn In

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — With a jury of nine women and three men sworn in, the search begins today for six alternate jurors in the trial of antiwar priest Philip Berrigan and six others.

They are accused of conspiring in 1970 to kidnap presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger, to blow up heating tunnels under buildings in Washington, D.C., and to raid draft boards in an effort to force the U.S. forces out of Southeast Asia.

The 12 jurors, including one black and one Roman Catholic, were selected in 86 minutes of secret maneuvering Tuesday after 2½ weeks in which prospects underwent interrogations that focused on Vietnam and poitical activism by priests and nuns.

Three jurors have had relatives in Vietnam, including the black woman typist whose son was a medic there.

There are three women in their 20s, one a bride of five months who said "we'll always have wars," and another who said Vietnam might be "a necessary war." The eldest woman juror, about 60, had four sons who were conscientious objectors.

The only Catholic, a single woman, called Vietnam "a waste of lives."

There are two college graduates, and the rest have completed high school. One woman, a nonpracticing pharmacist, lost her first husband in World War II.

The jury was picked from a panel of 46, with the defense striking 28 and the government six. For the alternates, a panel of 16 will be seated and the defense will have seven of the 10 premptory challenges for which no reason is needed.

Twenty-four prospective alternate jurors were excused Tuesday, most for holding prejudiced opinions.

After the jurors were picked, U.S. District Court Judge R. Dixon Herman ordered them sequestered. They will not be allowed to return home for the remainder of the trial, which may last three months.

The six defendants besides Berrigan are Catholic priests Joseph Wenderoth, 35, and Neil McLaughlin, 30; Sister Elizabeth McAlister, a teaching nun; Dr. Eqbal Ahmad, a Pakistani Moslem teaching in Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Scoblick, a former priest and a former nun.

If I were a King and had a Queen who had a son and heir...I'd buy up every flower in Hinshaw's to grace the royal pair.

Halter Look Blossoms In Summer Fashions

By ANN HENCKEN
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Whether a woman has a good throat, a great back or a terrific set of ribs, she'll have a chance to show it off this summer.

Since long evening skirts threaten to obscure tanned legs, designers are busy drumming up interest elsewhere.

The halter look continues to blossom in summer fashions. The bare midriff has made a move. And cut-out dresses are on the way.

At the Givenchy Nouvelle Boutique spring-summer collection shown Tuesday, the bare midriff turned up in a simple brown pants outfit. A caftan was slit to the waist. A dress back was chopped in a cricle.

Several couture designers have gone to the halter, but rejected the bare middle as too much: James Galanos, Bill Blass and Geoffrey Beene.

Galanos likes halters for day and night. They're crisped up with neat piping.

Blass has gotten barer for summer. He's showing his halters without the matching wraps he used for spring.

"I don't think the bare midriff is right for couture, it may be just a come on, with tongue in cheek," said Geoffrey Beene, who's adopted the halter for his summer line, priced $175 to $400.

Donald Brooks disagrees. He's always like bare middles, "for the couture customer in a smaller size." His halters are draped, Grecian boy style, an outgrowth of the large-ruffled tops he did for spring.

"I have no halters in the summer line. I did that two years ago. They're late," says Rodrigues for Peter Clements, who is making cut-out dresses instead.

When women aren't trailing around in bare-looking evening dresses, they may wear Galanos's covered dresses with pleated skirts or Bill Blass' jersey evening pajamas.

Galanos did not concentrate on pants for day, as he feels women are tired of them. He was more interested in "servicable and chic" day dresses with their own jackets, or shirt dresses.

The Givenchy boutique collection featured pants with pleated, belted tops and neat shirt dresses for day.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q.—We have linoleum flooring in our kitchen. It is still in good condition, but we want to change the color. Can it be painted?

A.—Use a good quality floor enamel and give it two coats, with plenty of drying time between coats. The most important step in the procedure is the removal of any wax that might be on the linoleum. Use a regular wax remover or some denatured alcohol and steel wool.

Q.—We had our house painted last summer. We aren't exactly pleased with the color and are thinking about redoing it, this time ourselves. Our neighbor has the same kind of shingles as on our house, but used stain rather than paint to color them. Can we do the same?

A.—No. Once paint has been used on wood shingles, you cannot use stain over it unless you want to go through the awesome job of removing all the paint. The alternative is to wait years until the paint has worn off. You'd be better off to stay with the color you have for another couple of years, then repaint. If you simply can't stand the color and want to change it at the first opportunity, go ahead, but do it with the realization that any failure in the first paint job will show up in the new one.

Q.—We're going to put up some wallpaper soon. We did a similar job a few years ago and used one of the wooden rollers to press down the seams, but the man we bought the new paper from says not to use a roller. He says the seams should be patted down with a sponge. Is this something new?

A.—It sounds very much as though your new wallpaper is textured or embossed. In that case, it is not wise to use a roller; a sponge is excellent and, as the dealer said, pat down the seams, don't rub back and forth as you did with the roller.

Q.—In a hot water tank, why does the cold water enter from the bottom? Wouldn't it be simpler to have it flow into the tank from the top?

A.—Yes, it would be simpler. But then the cold water would immediately mix with the hot already in the tank. The result would be constant lukewarm water.

Truffle Is Expensive

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

I thought the ultimate in high gastronomy had been achieved at an Ianian diplomatic party where we consumed pounds of caviar by the spoonful. But a New York luncheon recently topped that, with luncheon dishes devoted to the Italian white truffle which retails at upwards of $100 a pound.

The luncheon was held at the Giambelli 50th Restaurant, where course after course appeared featuring the aromatic truffle. There were pates and terrines and dishes swimming in sauces flavored with the piquant fungi that Brillat Savarin called "the diamonds of gastronomy." The flavor is so pungent and pervasive that the merest sliver leaves its imprint on any dish.

From early Roman times gourmets have prized the black and white truffles which grow beneath the ground and are ferreted out by specially trained truffle hounds whose keen sense of smell leads the hunters to the prized delicacy.

Reportedly the world's largest producer of truffles is Carlo Urbani of Italy whose estate holdings yield millions of black and white truffles a year.

Founded in 1750, the Urbani truffle dynasty exports more than $8 million worth of the fungi annually, gathered from the thousands of acres controlled by the Urbani family throughout Italy.

Urbani employs about 2,000 truffle hunters who each own several truffle hounds. Over the years Urbani has studded his acrs with more than 30,000 oak trees which are favored by the truffle. But it is a lengthy process since it takes up to 10 years from the planting of an oak tree to the first gathering of trufflee.

Truffles range in size from that of a marble to a tennis ball and the white variety weighs up to two pounds. The black truffles run to about a pound.

White truffles go well with both veal and chicken. Here is a recipe I found particularly delectable.

SUPREMA DI POLLO TARTUFATA

3 chicken breasts, boned, skinned and separated
1 cup flour
2 large eggs beaten
¼ lb butter
3 tablespoons olive oil
4 oz fresh white truffles or 4 oz can

Have butcher separate chicken breasts into two halve, then flatten slightly each skinned and boned half. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place layer of sliced truffles on haf of each chicken piece, then fold other half over it, tucking in edges to make neat package. Heat butter and oil in large frying pan and sautee chicken quickly over medium heat until browned on both sides. Remove chicken pieces to ovenproof casserole and bake in preheated 350 degree for 15 minutes. Garnish with lemon slices. Serves 6. Good with a chilled Alsatian Gewurztraminer.

Marketing Guide

COLLEGE STATION — "Do you take advantage of the advertised food specials? You can save money on your food budjet this way," said Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mrs. Clyatt said to check meat counters this week for good beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, stew meat, ground beef and beef liver.

"Most markets will feature one or more cuts at special prices so look over the offerings carefully before making your choices," she advised.

This week's values also include hams, ham portions, end-cut loin roasts and chops and shoulder steaks. Fryer chickens are an excellent meat choice, she noted.

"Two eggs supply satisfactory protein in lieu of meat. Buying and serving more eggs could result in a savings worthy of your consideration," Mrs. Clyatt said. "Grade A large eggs offer the best combination of quality and economy for your money.

"In general, the best values on the vegetable counter will be green cabbage, split peas, potatoes, bulk turnips, carrots, bell peppers, dry yellow onions and rutabagas. Broccoli, eggplant, sweet potatoes and cauliflower remain moderate in price."

Workshop To Be Held Here

Jan Herring, well known artist, will conduct a workshop in Snyder Feb. 14-25.

Born in Montana, Jan now lives in a one-hundred year old house in Clint, Tex. In private life she is Mrs. Henry Herring, married to a dairy farmer and the mother of three children. Her time is divided between these responsibilities, painting and teaching.

Mrs. Herring attended Northern State Teachers' College in South Dakota, the University of Texas at El Paso and has had special studies with Frederic Taubes.

Her teaching experiences include: Associate teacher with Frederic Taubes; Artist-in-residence at the El Paso Museum of Art; Workshops throughout the Southwest; Lectures throughout this area. She now teaches annually in Cloudcroft, New Mexico, in July.

She has had numerous major exhibitions, awards and recognitions including one hundred and three one-man shows.

The workshop will be open to the public. Anyone wishing further information may contact Mrs. Gene Dulaney, Mrs. Derl Lovell or Mrs. Fred Bullard.

Iota Psi Sorority Plans Valentine Dance

The Iota Psi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met in the home of Annabel Schattel Beb. 7, 1972 for its regular monthly meeting.

Plans were made to help with the Heart Sunday drive to be made in Snyder Feb. 27 in Snyder. It was also announced that the Cancer Crusade would be the first week in April. Trudie Wood had attended a workshop for the Crusade in Abilene the first part of February.

Final plans were made for the upcoming dance to be held Saturday, Feb. 12. A Valentine Queen was selected and will be presented Saturday night.

Committee chairmen were appointed for the District VIII meeting to be held in Snyder the 16th of April, 1972.

Virginia Johnston gave a book report on "HAD YOU BEEN BORN IN ANOTHER FAITH", a book written by Marcus Bach, an instructor at the State University of Iowa; in keeping with our theme 'We care About Religion.' Would you profess Christianity, had you been born, taught, and lived in another faith? was the question, as she discussed "Had You Been Born a Hindu", a "Parsi," a "Buddhist," a "Shintoist," a "Jew", a "Moslem," or a "Roman Catholic." She closed her talk with the words "Your faith for yourself and your hope for the future would be for all people everywhere to be united in both love and mercy of God" no matter what faith you were born in.

Refreshments were served to 8 members.

Vargas Speaks To Altrurians

The Altrurian Club met at Martha Ann Woman's Club Feb. 4 with Mrs. T. W. Pollard as hostess. The opening meditation from the writings of Grace Noll Crowell was given by Mrs. Pollard.

In the business session, presided over by the president Mrs. R. H. Odom, the club voted to take part in the gift for the district president to be presented at the spring convention of Mesquite District. The club also voted to send Mrs. M. D. Stevenson, the public affairs chairman, as its representative to the Heart Fund Breakfast on Feb. 10 at Carlos' Restaurant. Different members reported on awards having been presented to merchants in the city beautification project.

In the program, "The Work of the National Federation of Women's Clubs," the director, Mrs. J.W. Leftwich, provided each member with a roll call giving the state president's reports of the projects undertaken in the different states of the United States. The information brought a wonderful array of ideas and a picture of the tremendous accomplishments of the clubs.

The second part of the program was presented by the Snyder High School foreign exchange student Emilio Vargas. Emilio was introduced by Miss Virginia Grove, Student Council sponsor. Each year the Altrurian Club welcomes the opportunity to meet an outstanding young person from another country and learn about his country.

Emilio spoke well in English after only six months in Snyder, having came from Costa Rica. He gave a delightful picture of his homeland and his family. Without evading the fact that his small nation shares problems with the rest of the world, he expressed the hope that he might be able to help in the solutions.

He pointed out the existing good schools and cultural advantages and the beautiful climate and scenery that beckons tourists to visit his country.

Extension Of Credit Only Adds To Inflation

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — One effect of a long bout with inflation is to leave the billpayer tired and frustrated and, ironically, a perpetrator of even more inflation.

Having fought for months to keep his income consistent with outgo, he finally loses his grip. He becomes a slow payer. In effect, he finances his big demands with an interest-free loan from the seller. And so: more inflation.

In a report to members of the National Association of Credit Management, Dr. Ernest W. Walker, consulting economist, observes that the length of time that credit is outstanding hurts a company more during inflation than in stable times.

"For example," he says, "when prices are increasing at an annual rates of 6 per cent, the present value of a dollar of receivables which has been outstanding for 90 days is only 98.5 cents.

"However, if prices are increasing at 3 per cent, the net present value is 99.25 cents."

In other words, when big demands leave the purchaser with too little money to pay for his goods he is inclined to use the seller's money. This raises prices too.

Walker comments that conditions look better for credit grantors this year, but he issues a warning too.

"If inflation is contained, the extension of credit will cost companies less in 1972 than in 1969 and 1970," he says, but he adds that a credit manager could lose the gain resulting from a decrease in inflation if he fails to control receivables.

Who is the best forecaster of stock market directions? Most people would be inclined to say the professional money managers are because it is they who study companies, watch trends and put their customers' money on the line.

But one computer study made over the past 15 years seems to say that you and your neighbors, the consumers of America, are the most accurate forecasters.

After studying masses of data, Sindlinger & Co., a marketing and opinion research organization, makes this sweeping statement:

"U.S. consumers for the past 15 years ... have been forecasting the direction and change of the stock market for at least two months in advance, and have been right on target 88 per cent of the time."

Sindlinger maintains that the attitude consumers have about the future of the economy to a large extent determines that economy. The consumer is the big spender.

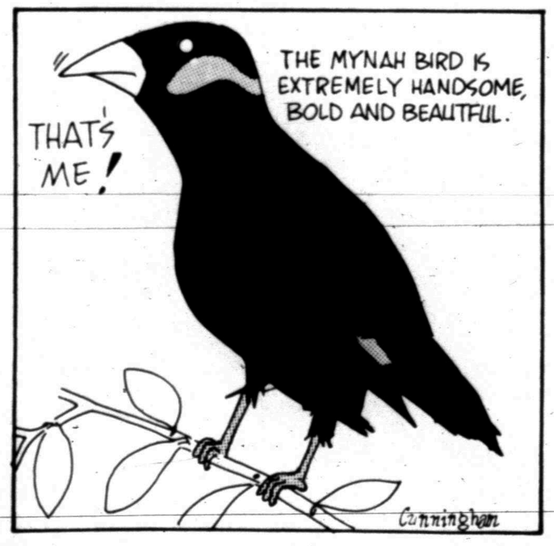

Religious Panorama Planned

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — A $10 million walk-through New Testament project to be called The Way will be constructed here with an opening date scheduled for 1975.

For the past four years Dallas designer Peter Wolf has been developing his idea for a religious panorama to be housed in a 100,000 square foot structure containing some 40 New Testament scenes depicting events in the life of Jesus Christ.

A spokesman for National Religious Arts Foundation, a non-profit corporation set up to handle the project, says five possible locations are under consideration.

Junior Editors Quiz on MYNA BIRDS

QUESTION: Where do Myna birds come from and why are they popular as pets?

* * *

ANSWER: The Myna bird is a native of India, Burma and other sections of Asia. It is considered a sacred bird by the Hindus. It belongs to the starling family and is a little larger in size than the robin. It is a beautiful bird in appearance. It is usually a glossy black with markings of wine brown and a splash of white on the edge of its wings. Its bill and legs are a bright yellow. It is a friendly bird with a pleasant disposition. It frequents the barnyard and walks around with the chickens or perches on the back of a cow. It is noisy, likes to whistle and imitate sounds.

Military men of the United States who fought in the Pacific during World War II encountered the bird and were captivated by its loveable nature and its ability to mimic human speech. Many of them brought home a Myna bird as a pet. The Myna rivals the parrot in its talking ability. Some of them can talk with amazing clarity.

Time To Check Up On Status

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A man's only as good as his status.

What a man thinks of himself may count in the long run, but in the short run it's the opinion that others have about you that counts. Therefore, that opinion is important to you and should be checked regularly.

For example, you can treat yourself to a congratulatory pat on the back if—

Science discovers a new comet and names it in your honor.

The knocker on your front door weight five pounds and is made of solid brass.

Whale Flown To Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A two-ton whale has been flown from Los Angeles to Dallas and a new home.

"Everything went beautifully," said Lynn Kephart, a marine biologist associated with the Seven Seas marine attraction at nearby Arlington.

The 16-foot-killer whale was trucked to the Los Angeles International Airport while suspended in a sling over a vat of water.

"We sure got a lot of stares," Kephart, said.

A similar sling was erected in the jet cargo plane for the four-hour flight to Dallas Monday.

"I told the pilot to take it easy and he did. He made extra wide turns and took the whole runway on takeoff and landing," Kephart said.

The whale eats 125 pounds of fish daily but there was no feeding board the plane.

"Well," Kephart said, "If she had gotten sick in the plane it would have been a real mess for four hours."

The whale was captured off Vancouver, B. C. about three years ago.

Phyllis Gets Face Lift

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedienne Phyllis Diller has had a $4,000 reconstruction job on her face, but her famous cackle has been left untouched.

Is she abandoning her standard role as a harried housewife?

"Absolutely not," she says. "I'll still project the same image when performing. I'm not deserting the housewife. I'll just be showing her it isn't a sin to look better."

The work by her surgeon, Dr. Franklyn Ashley, includes a face lift and a nose job. Miss Diller also had her teeth straightened.

She said she decided on the work after an appearance on the Sonny and Cher television show.

"I wore a dog collar necklace and my neck hung out over it on one side like I had a horrible growth and the bags under my eyes had reached the point of no return," the 54-year-old actress said.

War Victims

BERLIN (AP) — Stray live bombs, grenades and shells scattered around East Germany during World War II have killed 12 persons and injured 182 in the last five years.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Well, folks, we're here. Who had number eight?"

Westerners Put Down Frank Phillips 110-87

Coach Sid Simpson was right. Last night's basketball contest between his Western Texas College Westerners and the Frank Phillips Junior College Plainsmen was a high-scoring stem-winder.

The Westerners broke open a tight game in the second half to score one of their biggest victories of the season — a 110-87 decision. It was one of the smoothest performances of the season for WTC.

Western took an early lead but was never able to build more than a six-point bulge in the second half. The visitors caught them on a technical foul shot with 7:16 remaining in the first half with the score knotted at 25-25.

The lead changed hands 10 times in the next four and one half minutes, but neither team was able to get more than a 3-poind lead. With two minutes remaining in the half, Ralph Jackson, 6-5 post man from Brownfield Union, put the Westerners ahead 43-42 on two free throws. A few seconds later, Johnny Neff also put in two from the line to boost the count to 45-42 and the Westerners were able to hold the 3-point bulge at halftime.

Western hit only 15 out of 50 from the field for 30 per cent in the first half, but 15 of 17 free throws enabled WTC to take the slim lead into the dressing room.

As the second half began, Walter Hanibal, wingman from Fort Worth Kirkpatrick, really began to dominate the boards and guards Johnny Neff of McAdoo and Steve Sparks of Krum and post men Joel Dyess of South Garland and Jimmy Hill of Amarillo Tascosa began scoring inside. Western opened up a 74-54 lead in the first nine minutes and 47 seconds of the second half.

Frank Phillips went into a full court press which the Westerners handled with ease. Hanibal's rebounds and long passes down court set up easy baskets by Dyess and Sparks.

Hanibal was the leading rebounder with 24, and the Westerners held a 64-38 edge in this department. Walter also made six steals and 10 assists. Jackson claimed 11 rebounds while Sparks and Dyess grabbed eight apiece.

Western hit 25 of 38 from the field for a sizzling 65 per cent in the second half and 15 of 21 from the line for 71 per cent. Overall, they were 40 of 88 for 46 per cent from the field and 30 of 38 for 79 per cent from the line. Phillips hit 46 per cent of their floor shots in the first half and 38 per cent in the second half.

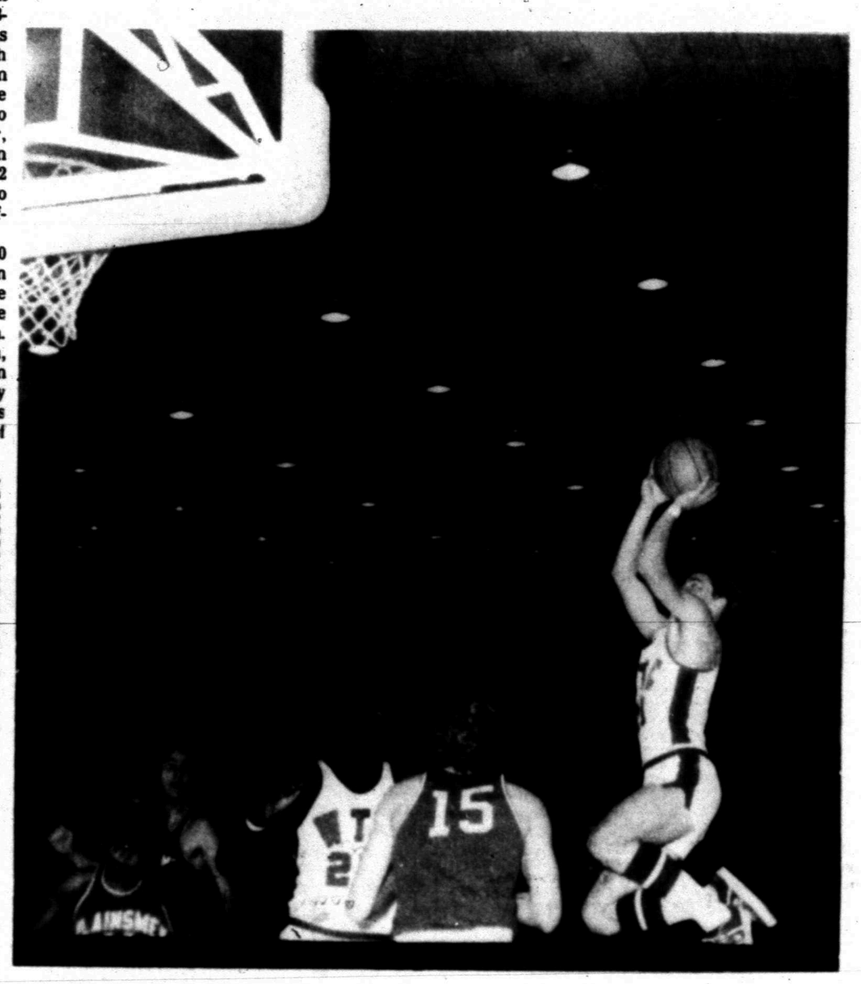

Each team had four lads in double figures. Sparks led WTC with 27 points, Dyess netted 21, Neff pushed in 13, and Hanibal collected 11 points. For the visitors, heralded Al Meadors lived up to his advance billing with 30 points. Sherman Moore tallied 18, Phil Edmon roped 14, and Paul Cypert pumped in 12.

Of the victory, Coach Simpson said: "I was especially pleased with this victory. It was over a conference opponent and convinced me that our freshmen are at least on a par with other freshmen in the conference since Phillips is a freshman-dominated team.

"If our kids will play as aggressively the remainder of the season, we could win the rest of our games. I feel that Neff, Dyess and Jackson all had their best games of the season and maybe we can now get some balanced scoring. It was also good to see Hanibal return to his old rebounding form."

The Westerners will meet New Mexico Junior College in Roswell Thursday night. Probable starters will be Hanibal, Jackson, Dyess, Sparks and Neff.

JUMP SHOT — Steve Sparks, 5-8 guard from Krum, jumps high in the air to take a shot at the basket for Western Texas College last night in the Scurry County Coliseum during the Westerners clash with Frank Phillips Junior College. Sparks led WTC in scoring with 27 points. Other identifiable players in on the action are Walter Hanibal (25) for the Westerners and Roger Jones (15) for the Plainsmen. WTC won 110-87.

Tennis Group Meets Again

HOUSTON (AP) — The United States Lawn Tennis Association heads into the second day of its 91st annual meeting today but the real action—a possible ban against contract pros playing in open tournaments—won't come for a couple of days.

An executive committee of the USLTA will discuss at an executive committee meeting Friday morning a ban on contract professionals competing in open tennis tournaments proposed by the International Lawn Tennis Association.

Michael Burns, secretary to USLTA executive director Bob Malaga, said the results of Friday's meeting will determine if the ban will be discussed at the annual meeting Saturday.

The executive committee will also take action on a proposed redefinition of the sanction and schedule rules in an effort to avoid conflicts that occured last year between major USLTA events and the Virginia Slims tour for women.

The women's tour, which grew out of a dispute during a tournament in Houston in 1970, is directed by Gladys Heldman of Houston, publisher of World Tennis Magazine.

Last year the USLTA approved a sanction fee of $480 for the women's tournaments but they are now proposing to change that to six per cent of the prize money.

The annual meeting also will include the draw for the American zone competition for the Davis Cup. The drawing will be Thursday.

American Skater Gets Gold Medal

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — "An Olympic gold medal is a life's ambition come true," beamed Dianne Holum, bringing the United States its first in the 11th Winter Games Wednesday with a speed-skating triumph that crowned a decade of dreaming and dedication.

But another Great American Dream of a gold dissolved as the U.S. hockey team, a brash band of upstarts who had blitzed their way into medal contention, crumbled in a nightmarish 7-2 loss to the Soviet Union.

Miss Holum, a chunky, 20-year-old whiz from Northbrook, Ill., whipped around the 1,500-meter run in the Makomanai Outdoor Rink in an Olympic record-breaking 2 minutes, 20.85 seconds.

Even as she swayed toward the finish line, her arms swinging rhythmically, she wore a smile that showed her sense of victory.

Moments later, seemingly laughing and crying at the same time, she clasped her hands above her woolly blue cap and skated ecstatically into a shouting, cheering throng of American teammates and coaches.

And those teammates, including Anne Henning, have a chance to double the U.S. gold standard of the past two Olympics—one apiece in the 1964 Games at Innsbruck and 1968 at Grenoble. Miss Henning, also from Northbrook, is favored in the 500 and 1,000 meters.

The American hockey team, on the other hand, was anything but favored to win a medal at all, much less repeat its astounding gold medal conquest of 1960 at Squaw Valley.

But after an opening-game loss, the Yanks mangled second-ranked Czechoslovakia 5-1 and visions of an even greater upset were born.

Then the top-rated, defending champion Russians went to work today, shredding any semblance of an American attack and swarming around the U.S. territory almost at will.

After one period it was 2-0 and, by the end of the second, it was 5-0. The epitome of futility came on the fifth goal when defenseman Frank Sanders of St. Paul, Minn., intercepted a Russian pass, only to see it ricochet off his stick, past startled goalie Mike Curran and into the U.S. net.

Sanders made up for that with a goal into the Soviet net on a pass from Tim Sheehy early in the third period but the Russian machine rolled on, connecting twice more before Ron Naslund tallied with four minutes remaining.

"It was a very tough game," Williamson said. "Our boys, however, played courageously. It was the best game we've played against Russia in seven or eight years.

"We'd like to win a medal," he added, "and to do that we have to beat Finland. The Finns were idle today. That means we couldn't afford to exhaust ourselves in this game." The Americans face Finland Thursday night.

The margin of victory by Miss Holum, who broke the previous Olympic mark of 2:22.40, was a mere fifth of a second over Stein Baas-Kaiser, the world record holder from The Netherlands who finished in 2:21.05. The bronze went to Atje Keulen-Deelstra, also of The Netherlands, with 2:22.05.

As soon as the race ended, Miss Holum was looking ahead.

Bulldogs Defeat Panthers Twice

HOBBS — Ira's girls, champions of District 10-B, boosted their season basketball record to 28-2 here last night with an impressive 62-23 triumph over the Hobbs Panthers. The visiting Bulldogs also won the boys game by a close score of 59-55.

Ira's girls leaped into a 25-5 lead in the first quarter and coasted to victory. Janie Roddy, Jan Kruse, Nancy Sterling and Susie Hester tallied 20, 14, 11 and 10 points respectively. Medrano was high point girl for Hobbs with 18.

The Ira boys took an early lead and never fell behind, although the Panthers pulled within three points at halftime. Ricky Cox and Obie Crawford sparked the Bulldog attack with 19 and 13 points respectively. Dooley pitched in 20 points, Medrano roped 14, and Hull pumped in 11 for the Panthers.

The Ira girls will learn Thursday who their bi-district opponent will be.

Duane Thomas Is Indicted

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Professional football running back Duane Thomas of the Dallas Cowboys and his brother were under a grand jury indictment today, charged with possession of marijuana. Thomas and his brother, Bertrand, 21, arrested with him Jan. 30, remained free under $5,000 bond.

Neither brother was required to appear before the jury although they were present when the jury issued a true bill in the case, indicating there was sufficient evidence to warrant bringing the pair to trial. Trial date is set for Feb. 21.

Thomas, 24, and his brother were arrested here when officers stopped their car while looking for a stolen vehicle they said was similar to one being driven by Duane Thomas. During the investigation, officers said they smelled marijuana smoke and a search turned up two bags of it.

Arresting officer Norm Gray said before the indictment was returned: "The evidence is as tight as any I've ever seen. Everything is clear cut. If they don't indict him on the evidence we gave I think I just might give them my job."

Mustangs Are In First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That's Southern Methodist with the undisputed Southwest Conference basketball lead and somebody had best get the hang of Coach Bob Prewitt's "three-guard" offense quickly or the Mustangs will be looking up their NCAA playoff opponent.

SMU drilled the Rice Owls 74-65 Tuesday night while Texas obliged with a solid 80-71 thumping of Texas A&M to give the Mustangs the lead with a 6-1 record.

The Aggies are 5-2, followed by Texas Tech, Texas Christian and Texas with 4-3 records.

Defending champion TCU pulled off a surprise by stunning Tech 85-81 in Lubbock while Baylor throttled Arkansas 93-84 in the other SWC action.

Again it was guard Zach Thiel who ignited SMU.

Thiel, a sophomore from Galesburg, Ill., swooped home an eight-foot hook shot to break a 54-all tie and the Mustangs were off and running in the second half.

Junior college transfer Ruben Triplett had 16 points and 15 rebounds before fouling out at 1:08 for SMU.

Leroy Marion was high for the Owls with 16 points.

SMU has now won six consecutive SWC games since Prewitt decided to start guards Thiel, Larry Delzell and Bobby Rollings in the same lineup.

Larry Robinson scored 26 points for Texas but it was the radar-accurate gunning of Larry Wilson in the second half who sank the Aggies at Gregory Gymnasium.

Wilson popped off the bench to hit six of seven field goal attempts, including five in a row. He brought Texas from three points down to 13 ahead.

Texas hit 53.4 per cent from the field and A&M made a poor 33.8 per cent.

"I don't think we're out of it yet," said Longhorns Coach Leon Black. "We'll have to do a good job in every game ... but we're still in there."

TCU outlasted Tech despite Greg Lowery's 34 points for the losers.

Ricky Hall scored 22 points but TCU beat Tech on the boards with a 50-41 rebound edge.

Senior Pat Fees had a career high of 26 points and nine rebounds to lead the Bears. Baylor is now 3-4 in SWC play while Arkansas is 2-5.

Fees hit 11 of 14 shots from the field. Roy Thomas chipped in 20 points and nine rebounds for Baylor while Dean Tolson was high for Arkansas with 25 points.

Houston Hurlers Ink 1972 Pacts

HOUSTON (AP) — The nucleus of the Houston Astros' pitching staff—Dave Roberts, Don Wilson and Ken Forsch—have signed their 1972 contracts.

The trio own the second, third and fourth best earned run averages in the National League for 1971. Only New York's Tom Seaver showed a better ERA.

Roberts, a lefthander obtained from San Diego in the off-season, was second in the NL with a 2.10 ERA last season and a 14-17 record.

Wilson compiled a 16-10 record and 2.45 ERA in 1971 and earned the Astros' most valuable player award. Forsch had a 2.54 ERA for 33 games, including two shutouts.

Terms of the contracts were not announced.

Fluvanna Splits With Westbrook

FLUVANNA — The host Buffaloes split a pair of District 10-B basketball games with Westbrook's Wildcats here last night with the boys winning 62-59 and the girls losing 46-35.

Fluvanna took an early lead and held it all the way, although they only led by one point going into the final period. Alex Ynguango sparked the Buffalo attack with 27 points, and Larry White contributed 16. For Westbrook, Gaylord Rich roped 25 and Randy Anderson added 14.

The Westbrook girls took a 15-8 lead in the opening frame and stayed out front all the way. Roxanne Moore, Kim Sullivan and Sandra Rich tallied 19, 13 and 10 points respectively for the visitors. For the Buffalo Gals, Vicky Smith was leading scorer with 18 points. Dieann White contributed 14.

Fluvanna's boys now are 5-8 in district play while their girls are 4-9.

The Buffaloes will be at Highlands Friday night.

WESTBROOK BOYS (59) — G. Rich 9-7-25; Reyes 2-1-5; Anderson 5-4-14; Sweatt 3-0-6; B. Rich 2-3-7; Moore 2-0-4; totals 22-15-59.

Tigers Triumph 65-54 At C. City

COLORADO CITY — The fighting Snyder Tigers set a new school record for most basketball victories in a single season with a 65-54 triumph over the Colorado City Wolves here Tuesday night. The victory boosted the Tiger record to 24-3 with a 4-1 second half district mark. Last year, the Tigers won 23 games. The loss drops the Wolves to 1-4 in second half play, but they are 19-11 for the season.

The Tigers never trailed, although they had to put forth a good team effort to win. They led 14-10 after one quarter, 37-26 at halftime, and 46-34 going into the final period.

"It was a physical game," declared Tiger Coach Bob Moore. Only two Tigers hit in double figures. Tommy Washington was high point man with 20 points, and he got 14 of them in the second period when the Wolves made a determined bid to catch the visitors. Dub Preston roped 17 points, getting seven of them in the first frame. Jerry Brooks netted eight points, Kent Horsley notched 7, Jimmy Dyess put in six, Kevin Jones collected five, and Fred Liner posted 2. Horsley scored five of his seven points in the second quarter, and Dyess scored all six of his in the last frame.

The Wolves had three men in twin figures, led by Jerome Hopkins with 16 points. David Matthews contributed 14, and Melvin Jackson added 11.

Elsewhere in District 3-AAA last night, Brownfield beat Lubbock Estacado 99-86, Lamesa tripped Sweetwater 66-51, and Lubbock Dunbar put down Lake View 77-67.

The Tigers host Estacado Friday night, then close the regular season next Tuesday at home against Sweetwater.

The Bengals won the B team game 58-53. They took a 16-6 lead in the first period and fought off a Colorado City rally in the second half. Three Bengals hit in double figures: Richard Gorman, 20, Darrell Morgan 16 and Moell Blalock 11. For Colorado City, Belvin was high point man with 17 points.

If the Bengals can win their next two games, then they will be district champions. Their record now is 20-6.

IN STOCK FRAUD SCANDAL

Smith Opens Campaign Reaffirming Innocence

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Reaffirming his statements of innocence in the Sharpstown stock fraud scandal, Gov. Preston Smith pledged Tuesday night that he will fight "the political battle of my life" to become governor again.

He told about 600 Democrats at a political rally that the stock case will be "a major issue" in the governor's race, thus reversing his earlier opinsition.

Referring to the two banking bills promoted by Houston developer Frank W. Sharp, Smith said:

"You can search the two bad banking bills and the only place you will see my name is where I vetoed them. I acted in a businesslike manner entirely as far as these bills are concerned."

The governor said when the bills were pushed through both houses in three days without a public hearing, he and his legal staff studied the bills for validity and found them wanting.

"That's why I vetoed them," Smith said.

During his speech, Smith took swipes at both Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Will Wilson, who was once Sharp's legal adviser and later assistant U.S. attorney general.

"He had it coming," said Smith, referring to the events leading to Wilson's resignation. He added that the resignation was "late."

Smith said there was no point in time when Barnes couldn't have killed the banking bills himself.

"The judgment on the veto was mine and mine alone," Smith said. "In the veto on the bills, I was in full accord to give more insurance to bank deposits, but these bills needed to go back for further study and aired at a public hearing."

Smith said the profit he made "during this period" was legitimate.

"Dr. Elmer Baum and I have been great friends for a long number of years," he said of the neighbor who handled his investments.

Smith and Baum, an Austin osteopath, each made $62,500 profit through dealing in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock which they purchased with a loan from the Sharpstown Bank.

"When I was lieutenant governor in 1963, I asked him (Baum) to handle outside investments for me, but I'll tell you this, my net worth today is less than it was in 1963," Smith said.

Smith said that, insofar as any loans made to him were without benefit of collateral, "I have good credit and I haven't had to put up collateral on any loan in many years."

Smith, who chose Odessa for the first of 21 scheduled campaign kickoff receptions, declared roundly at one point: "This is the last time I will ever seek my party's nomination for any political office."

But a moment later he added the qualification: "Or, let me say, since time and circumstances have a way of changing people's minds—that is the last time I intend to seek public office."

Smith, who said he did "much soul-searching" before reaching his decision to run for a third term, said: "I am prepared to wage the political battle of my life."

Danish Singer Believes Irving

By NINA VAN PALLANDT
Written for the
London Sunday Mirror

LONDON (AP)—It's all getting a little bit like James Bond. The events of the past four days have been in a world of sheer fantasy.

All I keep hearing are two names. One is Howard Hughes, the eccentric millionaire I've never met in my life.

The other is Clifford Irving, the name of a man I have loved and an author I still believe has pulled off the literary coup of the century.

If this affair had not got into the world headlines, I know my affair with Clifford, however indiscreet it was, would still be a secret today.

There is nothing I can do. What damage has been done, has been done, but I fervently hope it will not break his marriage to his wife Edith because I know they are very happy together.

It was 7½ years ago in Ibiza when we found ourselves in a small beach party together.

Clifford—I'd read several of his books and knew him by reputation-was in the party and we discovered we both lived on the island.

I was then living with my husband Frederik and our children.

Ibiza is a small island and it has lots of social life and it wasn't long before I was bumping into Clifford at cocktail parties and other functions. He became a family friend.

It wasn't until last year that our friendship developed into any kind of relationship. Clifford was then married to Edith, his fourth wife, and my own marriage to Frederik had broken up.

One night at my Chelsea home I got a call from Clifford saying he was coming to London and I invited him in to have dinner that same night with other friends.

During his stay, Clifford asked me if I would like to go on holiday with him to Nassau.

We took the plane to New York the next morning—it was Feb. 12 as far as I recall. When we got there, Clifford announced a sudden change of plans. "Would you mind," he said, "if we went to Mexico instead?"

Clifford then told me he had to go to Mexico to meet Howard Hughes, whose autobiography he was writing.

I had to return to London (from Mexico after 3½ days) and on the previous day Clifford went out to arrange my air ticket back.

He was gone between one and a half to two hours. That is the only time when he went out alone for any such period.

I have heard that in an affidavit Clifford has sworn that I was with him when he met Howard Hughes. I cannot believe Clifford would say such a thing because I certainly didn't meet Hughes at any time during our stay there.

But if Clifford saw Hughes in Mexico it could only have been during that two-hour period when he got my air ticket.

Last November, Clifford and I met again in Los Angeles. I picked him up at the airport and he was all aglow over his manuscript on Howard Hughes.

He had been to New York to see the publishers, McGraw-Hill, and he told me that the serialization rights had been bought by Life magazine.

Clifford had sworn me to secrecy about the whole thing.

At the house we borrowed from a friend I cooked some steaks for Clifford and my manager, John Marshall, and over dinner Clifford told us of the strange meetings he had with Howard Hughes.

Clifford told us of one secret meeting with Hughes in a parking lot and how cartridge tapes had been exchanged in some toilet somewhere.

It all seemed so fantastic, and the author showed us the original letter he had received from Hughes granting him the rights to his biography.

It looked perfectly genuine. Apparently he had known Clifford over a number of years and trusted and respected him.

Clifford is the kind of man that a woman finds great warmth in and someone with whom there is tremendous communication.

I still feel very close to him. But when an American postal department investigator came to question me last week when I was holidaying in the Bahamas ... I was literally shaken.

Suddenly the whole thing exploded around me I had to return to England to regain my senses.

Yes, I'm going to New York with John and we will both testify before the grand jury investigating the whole affair and of our relationship with Clifford Irving.

I will tell the truth and all I hope is that what I say will not harm or injure Clifford in any way. Because knowing this man as I do I cannot believe the book is false.

I believe it is authentic. I would dearly like to think the book is authentic and that Clifford will prove to the world it is.

And what of the two of us now? Who can say? Only time will tell.

Conservationists Report On Canals

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The dream of owning a waterfront home has turned into a nightmare along parts of Florida's shorelines where conservationists warn sewage-laden canal waters are unfit for bodily contact.

Environmental experts compiled a report for the state after inspecting 40 canals. They found that freshly dug waterways were at first used by residents for boating, swimming and other recreation but soon became repositories for human and industrial wastes, pesticides and fertilizers.

In many canals, boat docks are unused and in disrepair, they observed, and fish are disappearing from the stagnant, algae-choked water.

"Also, a number of waterfront homes have eventually erected high walled fences to block the waters from view and to protect children and pets from straying into the water," said William Barada and William M. Partington Jr., authors of the report.

The Internal Improvement Fund, an agency which oversees sale and development of state lands, funded the study by the Florida Conservation Foundation Inc. of Winter Park.

In Fort Lauderdale, fund director Joel Kuperberg reported the conclusions to the Florida Department of Pollution Control on Tuesday. He urged rigid controls on the development of canals.

The report found that "gross fecal pollution" in some canal bottoms can cause gangrene, tetanus and blood poisoning if washed over untreated cuts.

Sewage buildups have been tremendous in some areas. According to the report, in the Miami area sewage sludge 10-to-12-feet thick has piled up next to outfalls.

Narcotic Bill Is Amended

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine Senate amended a proposed narcotics bill to include life imprisonment for any diplomat convicted of using his status to smuggle drugs.

Seeks Beds For 70,000

DALLAS (AP) You think you got a problem when the family drops in for the holidays?

That's nothing to what faces Dean Gray, 23-year-old graduate of Ohio State University whose expecting 70,000 friends for EXPLO '72 in Dallas June 12-17.

Gray, a staff member of Campus Crusade for Christ, has the task of finding a place to sleep for the thousands of high school and college students expected for the evangelical training conference.

Since starting the job 11 months ago, he has lined up 10,000 hotel and motel rooms. He has also arranged to billet another 5,000 delegates in dormitories at Southern Methodist University, North Texas State University in Denton, the University of Texas at Arlington, and Dallas Baptist College.

But that still leaves plenty who may have to sleep out under the stars. Gray is now talking about camping facilities with farmers and ranchers in the area.

Total EXPLO attendance is expected to reach 100,000, with about 20,000 commuting daily from homes in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Another 10,000 are expected to come in campers with their own portable sleeping gear.

Gray doesn't seem unduly daunted about finding accommodation for the rest.

"I'm optimistic. I'm trusting in the Lord," he says. "Area private homes are a good source, with church members of all denominations opening their doors to the visitors."

Besides, he adds, Dallas has some 220,000 unrented apartment units. And he also has his eye on the State Fair Park exhibition building and gymnasiums in local schools.

Pay Not Top Job Factor

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

There's reason to believe that the American worker now values interesting work above pay in job happiness. This is the indication of the first nationwide study of worker satisfaction. Some 1,500 workers in a cross-section of occupations participated in the survey, made by the University of Michigan under contract from the Federal Labor Department.

If the national emphasis is indeed shifting away from the buck as the main attraction in a job – and toward the opportunity to do significant work and to achieve and grow on the job – the presumed trend is not entirely surprising.

INDUSTRIALIST Charles M. Schwab said it years ago: "The man who does not work for the love of work but only for money is not likely to make money nor to find much fun in life . . ." (And, as a generalization, those who make the most money have the most interesting work.) The new research lists this pecking order for the top ten job satisfaction values:

Interesting work . . . enough help and equipment to get the job jone . . enough information to get the job done . . . enough authority to do the job . . . good pay . . opportunity to develop special abilities . . . job security . . seeing the results of one's work . . . having clearly defined responsibilities . . having competent supervision.

Another portion of the report flags trouble-spots for employers and policy makers. It identified "job satisfaction gaps" – what the workers say they want compared with what they think they have. The 2 biggest gaps were lack of promotional opportunity and not enough pay. Others: opportunity to develop one's special abilities, adequacy of fringe benefits, interesting work, and enough help and equipment to get the job done.

BY OCCUPATION, the happiest workers in the study were the self-employed, and construction workers; only about 5 percent in each group were dissatisfied. The rate of discontent in other groups: techical, professional and managerial occupations – 9 percent; service occupations, and wholesale-retail industry workers – 23 percent; clerical and sales workers – 18 percent; manufacturing workers – 17 percent.

BY AGE, the unhappiest by far were workers under 30. One in every 4 workers under 30 felt dissatisfied. By contrast, worker contentment rose with age: only 13 percent of workers 30-44 expressed negative feelings toward their jobs; the percentage dropped to 11 for workers 45-54, and to 6 for workers age 55 and over.

Federal Labor official Neal Q. Herrick, writing on the study in the January, 1972 issue of Manpower magazine (for a copy, send 50 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402), lists several possibilities to explain the under-30 blues. Perhaps younger workers are a "new breed" with higher expectations (due to the communications explosion and more education) and no sobering contact with the 1930s to influence their values. Also, having grown up in a more permissive society, they may tend to reject authoritarian work practices. An opposing view is that – as did their elders before them – young workers will become more satisfied as they grow older and accommodate themselves to the industrial world. Herrick suggests the truth lies somewhere between these two views.

AMERICANS aren't the only ones seeking more intrinsic (the inside essence of a thing) values in work. A Russian study says Soviet youth are increasingly interested in creativity in work. In descending order, here's how young Russians rank the jobs they would like to have:

Physicists, pilots, electrical engineers – television broadcasters – electronic technicians, mathematicians, geologists, doctors, writers and artists, university instructors, civil engineers, high school teachers, steelworkers, nurses – doctor's assistants-midwives, lathe operators, electricians, postal workers, telephone and telegraph operators, tailors and dressmakers, tractor and combine harvester operators, public catering workers, carpenters, salespeople, accountants, public service workers and clerks.

Nobody would seriously contend that pay isn't important – very important – to most American workers. But it appears that money is no longer the only game in job-town.

Wheat Price Spread Eyed

HOUSTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee will be in Houston Friday to probe "the vast difference in the amount the farmer receives for wheat and the price the housewife must pay for bread," U.S. Rep. William L. Hungate, D-Mo., said Tuesday.

Hungate and Reps. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, and Bob Bergland, D-Minnm, are acting as a subcommittee of the House Small Business Committee probing the wholesale-retail price spreads of wheat.

They will visit four grain elevators on the Houston Ship Channel Friday, the Port of Houston's public grain elevator, Goodpasture, Inc., Cargill, Inc., and Union Equity Export.

"We are also seeking the cause of the big spread between the price the farmer receives for all his grain crops and the price they bring in Europe and Japan," Hungate explained about the visit to the elevators.

Port wheat shipments for 1971 were nearly 6,435,000 tons, officials here said.

Truitt Kennedy, Goodpasture executive vice president, blamed the high cost of freight and union wage demands for the export spread.

Wheat that sells for $1.30 a bushel in Kansas had a 60 cent markup by the time it reaches its Japanese destination, mostly because of freight, he said.

"Some of the congressmen coming here may be the same ones who voted to allow railroads to increase their rates 25 per cent the past two years," Kennedy said.

The congressmen plan to use their findings here to plan hearings later this month. Hungate said they are dissatisfied with what they have learned from the U.S. Agriculture and Commerce Departments about the boosting of prices at the various levels of grain marketing.

Graham To Visit Attica Prison

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he plans to visit Attica state prison, where 43 inmates and guards died in an insurrection last year. Graham told a news conference the inmates had invited him after hearing him on the radio a few weeks ago. He said he'd "be happy" to go at some future time.

Pakistan May Still Lose More Territory

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

PESHAWAR, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan is showing signs of losing still more territory, this time the border provinces of the Northwest Frontier and Baluchistan.

The threat arises from the conflict between President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto and his Pakistan People's party and the largest party in the two provinces on West Pakistan's western border, the National Awami party of the Pathan politician, Khan Abdul Wali Khan.

The challenge from the fiercely individualistic Pathans is similar to resentful talk heard for two years among Bengalis before the fall of East Pakistan and the creation of Bangladesh.

Wali Khan is demanding that Bhutto lift martial law, from which he derives his authority as civilian president. Wali Khan wants the immdiate formation of provincial governments so Pathans and Baluchis can run their own affairs in the smaller two of Pakistan's four provinces.

Although Bhutto claims his is the majority party of all West Pakistan, he has virtually no representation in Baluchistan and little in the Northwest Frontier.

The struggle has forced Bhutto-appointed governors in the Northwest Frontier and Baluchistan to back down on plans to form interim cabinets because the Awami party refuses to cooperate. It also is threatening a boycott of Bhutto's plans to hold local elections March 15 throughout Pakistan.

The party argues that Bhutto will use his martial-law powers to rig the elections and create a base for power in the Northwest Frontier and Baluchistan and drive deeper the wedge between the border and the provinces in which Bhutto has majorities of national and provincial assemblymen, Punjab and Sind.

"We will not let him hold elections in the Frontier," Wali says.

Events have taken an ominous turn. Wali has become supreme commander of Pakhtoon Zalmai or Pathan Youth, an organization of red-capped volunteers. It came into being shortly after the People's party put its People's Guard volunteers into police-like uniforms. Their supreme commander, retired Maj. Gen. Akbar Khan, Bhutto's adviser on national security, hinted they would be armed.

"If they want civil war," said Wali, "the Pathans will be ready."

Armstrong Addresses Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Neil Armstrong, the moon walker who traded his space suit for an academic gown, says the most important by-product of space exploration could be an improvement in the earth's environment.

"Awareness of the fragility of the environment may be the most important outcome of the space program," the first man to set foot on the moon said Tuesday in a speech to a convention of hardware producers and dealers.

Armstrong, now a professor of engineering at the University of Cincinnati, said the technology which has developed space travel must, and will, be used to eliminate environmental problems on earth.

"If New York City could recover the heat value of its trash," said the one-time hardware store worker from Wapakoneta, Ohio, "it could supply about 20 per cent of its power needs."

EPA Charges Backers Of New Town

HOUSTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency has charged that backers of a proposed new town near Houston have failed to adequately tell the government what effect the development would have on the environment.

The charge came in a letter from Arthur W. Busch, regional EPA director, to the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The proposed Woodlands City project in Montgomery County is seeking assistance of bonded indebtedness of $50 million from HUD. Woodlands City, as proposed by Mitchell Energy and Development Corp. of Houston would cover 17,000 acres with a projected population of 150,000 by 1992.

The EPA said it was very favorable to such projects as long as they include the highest environmental factors possible and pose no threat to other communities.

Busch said the preliminary environmental impact statement on Woodlands is vague, indefinite, inconclusive, too general and in parts too lengthy.

A Dallas spokesman for the EPA said that agency was one of several commenting on the preliminary statement and that normal procedures provides backers of such projects and opportunity to correct proposals that have drawn criticisms.

Final authority for approval of such projects involvinl federal assistance rests with the Council on Environmental Quality.

Hill To Write Screenplay

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Hill has been signed by Warner Bros to write the screenplay of "The Freedom Trap," based on Desmond Bagley's novel.

Hill recently completed the screenplay for "The Thief Who Came to Dinner," a Bud York-in-Norman Lear production which goes before the cameras this spring.

Immunity Grant Considered

ALPINE, Tex. (AP) — The prosecution in the Ballard murder trial was considering today whether to grant immunity to the defendant in exchange for favorable testimony.

Whitmer Jean Ballard, 46, is on trial, charged with murder in the Dec. 2, 1970 shotgun death of Stephen Currie, 71, a wealthy Glasscock County rancher. A second juror was selected Tuesday.

Jury selection continued Tuesday but was abruptly interrupted when defense attorney Bobby L. Bearden of Midland offered to permit Ballard to give state evidence in return for immunity from prosecution.

Five persons have been charged in the case. One, Orville Davis, 51, was given a life sentence last fall. Another, Floyd Palmer, 41, plunged to his death Sunday while trying to escape jail in Nebraska.

The Ballard case was moved here on a change of venue from Glasscock County.

Prosecutor Wayne Burns said he will consider granting immunity to Ballard provided he first hears exactly what Ballard would say on the stand if granted such immunity.

Bearden said he's consent to such an arrangement provided Burns would state under oath that the same procedure was followed in granting Miss Dunham immunity.

Currie and his wife were trussed up and robbed by bandits at their ranch house near Garden City. Currie was shot and killed when he started to grapple with the robbers, Mrs. Currie testified at Davis' trial last fall.

WHERE DID YOUR MONEY GO?

Shopping Is A Science

The marketplace often is an arena where the amateur meets the professional, where the buyer, equipped with little more than desire and money confronts the seller, armed with the latest selling techniques.

In almost all endeavors, we consider contests between amateur and professional to be unfair. Now we are extending that concept to the market, where the consumer movement attempts to strengthen the buyer's power and restrain that of the seller.

But no amount of effort by government institutions, educators and consumer advocates is going to permanently improve your marketplace position unless you yourself make more scientific those shopping habits that were formed so casually.

Shopping is not nearly so much an art as it is a science.

Everyone is familiar with at least one individual who somehow seems to get one spectacular buy after another. Somehow, it appears, that person is always in the right place at the right time.

Question that person closely and you'll find he or she acts more like a scientist, hardly trusting to instinct at all but relying on precise knowledge of sales, products and selling techniques. You must do the same.

Understand, for example, that a sale is not always a total sale. Some items might be red-tagged but there in the midst of the markdowns is a fully priced item waiting to be grabbed by an unwary shopper.

Never forget either that prices are highest when demand is highest and that, conversely, you can extract a real bargain in the off-season. Remember too that the most popular of competitive items is not necessarily the best.

—Avoid impulses. Never go shopping without having a clear idea of what you want or need. Preferably, have a checklist, especially at the supermarket, where little impulse items add up to great bills.

This is not to say that you should roam through the stores to see what is available. That's idea shopping, and it's how many people obtain their information on availability and relative values.

But, don't confuse idea shopping with buying. When you go to buy, know what you are going to buy. If you go on a shopping expedition "just looking for something to buy," you'll find it. You might also regret it.

—Don't pay for services you don't need. Services are offered in amazing abundance in our economy, often without the buyer even being aware. We often purchase something—a service—for which we have no need or desire.

Some grocery stores specialize in shop-at-home service. You merely call in your order and it arrives at a specified time. Wonderful. But a study made in one store showed the customer paid about 20 per cent for this service.

When you pay for your insurance on a monthly or quarterly basis instead of in a lump sum you pay for the convenience. When you use the services of a telephone operator instead of dialing your long distance calls you pay more.

Consider some less obvious ones A daily shoeshine (and a tip for service) instead of shining our own; whole life insurance when inexpensive term insurance would do; a house call by the doctor instead of a visit to his office; a box seat instead of the bleachers; a toll road instead of a freeway; a prepared meal instead of cooking.

—Don't use short-term credit needlessly. This is a credit as well as a service economy and you will find easy terms offered at every turn. This presents the dangers of loading up on items that you really cannot afford and needlessly paying credit charges that range around 18 per cent.

—Avoid buying items that are to be used but once or twice. In the Yellow Pages are listings for companies that rent thousands of items and services.

—Buy in quantity those items that are to be consumed in quantity.

—Buy seconds or irregulars in sheets, shirts, towels, socks, underwear.

—Buy with length of life and servicing requirements in mind.

Day Care Center Begins 2nd Year

The Snyder Child Day Care Center, Inc., launched its second year, re-electing the Rev. Henry J. Hartman as chairman, and approving a budget of $20,600.

Other officers elected at the organization's annual meeting Monday night are the Rev. Frank Tarr, vice chairman; Mrs. Shirley Fritz, recording secretary; Mrs. Carolyn Cox, corresponding secretary, and B. J. Bartels, treasurer.

The Child Day Care Center, Inc., governing board held its first meeting on March 2, 1971. At that time, plans were initiated which led to opening the center at the First United Methodist Church in the summer.

In his annual chairman's report, Rev. Hartman expressed appreciation to individuals who helped organize the center.

"God has provided people. God has provided resources," Rev. Hartman declared. "There is one obvious factor in our operation: there is a great need for such a facility. Therefore, the executive board last month voted to increase our enrollment from 40 to 60 children, upon approval of the State Welfare. They also voted to move to Thirty-fourth Street and Avenue K (the Child Development Center) because of the increased enrollment and the availability of space."

Evelyn Johnson, director of the center, in giving her report to the board, reminded that "as adults we have the responsibility to help the children in creating and maintaining an atmosphere which will be vital in their future existence.

"As of this date, Feb. 7, 1972, some changes have been made. Instead of 20 beautiful faces (the number enrolled when she became director last August) there are now 40 little people really doing their own thing."

The director noted that employes at the center now consist of one cook, Frances Gutierrez; one part-time nursery worker, Odelia Casa; one part-time helper, Faith Blocker; and four work-study students from Western Texas College, Terri Hartman, Peggy Wedeking, Marthalene Howell and Becky Higgins.

The $20,600 budget for 1972 is based on 60 children instead of 40, and is for an entire year's operation. The center was in actual operation only part of 1971, when the actual expenses were $9,128.99.

Delegates attending the meeting of the governing board included Shirley Fritz and Carolyn Cox of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, Rev. Hartman and Margie Flinn of Grace Lutheran Church, Rev. Frank Tarr and Ann von Roeder of Trinity United Methodist Church, Lyle Deffebach and Peggy Vernon of First United Methodist Church, B. J. Bartels of the Area Methodist Men, Eddie Don Floyd and Mrs. Wayne Glass of First Baptist Church, Freda Moss of the VFW and St. Elizabeth Catholic Church Altar Guild, Rev. Robert McArthur of First Christian Church, Rev. John Gordon of First Presbyterian Church and Evelyn Johnson of New Hope Baptist Church.

Mrs. Bernice Beaver, licensing worker with the State Department of Public Welfare, attended as an advisor.

The center plans to move to its new location (Thirty-fourth Street and Avenue K) by Feb. 21. Meanwhile, there is a need for baby beds, a washer and dryer and volunteer workers. The new facilities at the former Child Development Center will include four large classrooms, a kitchen-dining area, two offices and a huge playground.

The executive committee has scheduled a meeting for 10 a.m. Thursday.

Irving, Wife Invoke Fifth

NEW YORK (AP) — Clifford Irving and his wife, Edith, reportedly have refused to testify during appearances before a federal grand jury investigating possible fraud in the author's Howard Hughes "autobiography."

But both presumably complied Tuesday with a federal judge's order to give the panel handwriting samples, since there was no evidence of contempt proceedings being prepared against them after their appearances.

The New York Times today quoted sources as saying that Irving invoked the Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination and his wife used either the same guarantee or the privilege of a wife not to testify against her husband in refusing to answer questions.

It was the first jury appearance for Mrs. Irving, the acknowledged "Helga R. Hughes" who deposited in a Swiss bank three checks totaling $650,000 intended for Hughes, then later withdrew the money.

A third key witness, Irving's literary researcher, Richard Suskind, also appeared briefly before the grand jury and won a delay until Thursday to allow his lawyer a chance to familiarize himself with the complex case.

Suskind, who arrived in New York Monday from his home on Majorca, has sworn in a court affidavit that he witnessed a meeting between Irving and a man he believed to be Hughes.

Irving claims he met the billionaire recluse for a series of secret interviews that provided the material for the book which McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. had intended to print.

In another development, Swiss authorities sent their embassy in Washington information needed to get Mrs. Irving arrested and, ultimately, extradited from the United States, a spokesman in Bern said.

The spokesman said the information was the second step before a formal demand can be made under the 72-year-old Swiss-American extradition treaty. The first step was issuance of an international warrant last Friday.

ARRIVES FOR COURT APPEARANCE — Richard R. Suskind, who says he worked for author Clifford Irving as a researcher on alleged "autobiography" of industrialist Howard Hughes, arrives Monday at New York's Kennedy International Airport from his home on the Mediterranean island of Majorca. Suskind, who has sworn in court paper that he was with Irving when he met man he believed was Hughes last June in Palm Springs, Calif., is in New York to appear before grand jury looking into matter. More Feed Grains Used

WASHINGTON (AP) — The outlook for using up more of the record crop of feed grains seems brighter, according to new estimates by the Agriculture Department.

Corn, in particular, is moving better than expected. Last fall USDA officials estimated about 4.8 billion bushels would be used domestically and for exports during the 1971-72 season.

Now, according to a summary report on the feed situation, the estimate is 4.9 billion bushels. Livestock and poultry producers are expected to feed more than 3.9 billion bushels of it. Another 492 million will be needed by the food industry and for seed, and exports will drain off an estimated 600 million.

But there will be plenty left. Farmers last year produced a record 5.5 billion bushels of corn. That, plus existing surpluses, meant a supply of more than 6.2 billion bushels this season.

Consequently, the USDA says, about 1.3 billion bushels will be carried over into the next crop year, when farmers begin harvesting another crop in the fall.

For all feed grains, including corn, sorghum, oats and barley, the department figures about 138.6 million tons will be used this year out of a total supply of 268.6 million. That will mean a carryover next fall of 55 million tons, the most in eight years.

Mama Cass Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ellen Naomi Wiedenman, better known to fans of her singing as Mama Cass, has asked Superior Court for a divorce from her second husband, a Bavarian baron.

The hefty, 30-year-old pop singer said Tuesday she married Donald von Wiedenman, 27, on June 26, 1971, and lived with him for five months. Her suit cited irreconcilable differences.

The singer's first marriage in 1961 to James R. Hendrix, a folk musician, ended in divorce in 1969.

Inquiry Board Named

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A board to inquire into the disappearance of the tanker V. A. Fogg was announced by the Coast Guard Tuesday as search units found an empty 10-man life raft from the craft in the Gulf of Mexico about 50 miles south of Freeport.

Rear Adm. Orvan R. Smeder, commander of the 7th Coast Guard District at Miami, Fla., was named to head a four-man board to probe into the disappearance of the ship, missing for over a week with 39 crew members aboard.

The group is expected to convene later this week or early next week in Galveston.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the life raft found Tuesday was "positively identified as coming from the V. A. Fogg." It turned up in the same general area where a life ring and a life jacket and a door were found earlier. The life ring and jacket bore the name of the Fogg, and a vacationing crew member said the door belonged to the ship.

The Coast Guard spokesman said the life raft was the type that inflated as soon as it hit the water.

Its emergency supplies aboard had not been touched, the spokesman said, adding, "There was no evidence anyone had ever been in it."

The 572-foot tanker left Freeport, Tex., en route to Galveston Feb. 1. She became the object of a massive sea and air search when she failed to reach Galveston the next day. The Fogg was to have sailed 50 miles offshore to clean her tanks of highly volatile benzene residue.

City Hall Recycles Newsprint

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — City hall has joined the ecology movement with a pilot project to recycle newsprint.

Officials said 6,000 homes in three areas of San Antonio will be involved in the six-week experiment, which begins Feb. 14.

The project calls for a special collection of newspapers once a week. Circulars explaining the project are being distributed in the three areas.

Asst. Public Works Director Mel Sueitenfuss said the city plans to sell the paper to a broker, who will ship it to reclamation centers where it will be converted for re-use.

Some like a lot of family around

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: This is for "MRS. NO NAME," who felt so abused because her three children and six grandchildren spend a few weeks of their summer vacations with her. My husband and I are the same age as the grandparents but the similarity ends there. We don't have a dishwasher or a swimming pool. But we do have 5 married children and 11 grandchildren, and nothing gives us more pleasure than to have as many of the tribe around as possible, with wall-to-wall air mattresses, and floor to ceiling fun and laughter.

Why doesn't that misguided woman get into "sync" and stay up until 2 a. m., enjoying the fun? Then she wouldn't have any trouble sleeping late along with everyone else.

Mrs. No Name is lucky her family wants to visit her. The years of togetherness are so few. If I were DYING, I would never write to my married children and tell them to come one at a time and to limit their visits. Motherly love, thou are a cowbell. DISGUSTED IN MONTANA

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for that grandma who had spunk enough to write to her married children and tell them it was "doctor's orders" that she could have only one family of visitors at a time.

Too many parents let their married children walk all over them, and they suffer in silence with all the inconveniences they are made to endure. [But some do complain a lot to their friends and relatives.]

I say, if married children abuse the privilege of being houseguests, sock it to 'em. NO PATSY IN PASADENA

DEAR ABBY: There are too many "MRS. NO NAMES" in the world. I refer to the grandmother who complained because her visiting children and grandchildren stayed up until 2 a. m. watching TV, laughing, playing cards and talking with friends.

She also complained because she couldn't turn on her dishwasher, sprinkler or radio until noon because her guests slept late. If they are welcome guests, whom I wished to accommodate, I would gladly refrain from making disturbing noises. If not, I'd go about my business and not worry about the noise. And if they didn't like it, they could leave!

I have no sympathy for doormats. I have always said that people are doormats because they want to be.

MRS. S. C.

DEAR MRS. S. C.: And I've always said that no one can be used for a doormat unless he lies down first.

DEAR ABBY: If you still have MRS. NO NAME'S address, I would sure like to have it. I want to write to her and ask her how it is possible to raise three children, and end up with a three-bedroom home and a swimming pool.

FOR TAUSCHECKS

Disney World Is Dream Come True

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Tuesday night must have seemed like a lifetime to little Paul Tauscheck of Kingsford, Mich.

The Robert Tauscheck family arrived during the day at Walt Disney World, in sight of the sleek monorail, the towering medieval Cinderella castle and the glistening lights from the magic fairyland.

But 5-year-old Paul had to wait until today to meet Mickey Mouse.

"We had a hard time bedding him down," said his father. "He was just bubbling, talking about Mikcey Mouse and Donald Duck. He kept looking out the hotel window at the castle, wondering when he'd get there."

For the Tauschecks, a couple with six children—four of them stricken with crippling muscular dystrophy—Disney World is a dream come true.

Their plight became known through a newspaper article last December. The Associated Press carried the story and offers of help came pouring in from all over the country.

There is no known cure for the tragic ailment. Three of the youngsters care confined to wheelchairs.

He had even hoped one day to be able to drive a small converted bus down from the North, but wasn't sure he'd be able to afford it.

The Tampa Firefighters Union and a local civic group, the Sertoma Club, collected donations totaling $2,100 to treat the family to an all-expense paid nine-day holiday. They planned trips all over the Central part of the state.

Victims of the incurable disease are Bobby, 15; Joe, 12; Billy, 9, and Paul 5. Two of the children show no signs of the illness—Peggy, 11, and Louis, 13.

The Hillsborough County School system made availabe a bus to cart the family around. Hotels donated rooms and restaurants dinners.

Since their arrival from the frozen north Friday, the Tauschecks have toured Busch Gardens zoo, where they fed the animals, and have taken in a make-believe priate invasion in Tampa.
