

From President

Major Disaster Area Designation Sought

Governor John Connally asked President Johnson Friday, June 28, to declare Collingsworth County a major disaster area as a result of damage received in torrential rains May 31.

County Judge Zook Thomas said Tuesday evening that no reply had been received on the request.

Unofficial estimates set overall damage in the county at about $1 million.

This figure was arrived at from several sources and was used in the application made by the Commissioners' Court to the Texas Department of Public Safety, Division of Defense and Disaster Relief.

A breakdown in the million dollar figure sets damage in these categories:

—Crops, $350,000.
—Conservation, terraces, waterways, and to the land, etc., $300,000.

—Roads, bridges and related structures, $200,000.

—Personal property, $150,000.

The request to President Johnson seeks federal funds for the repair of county roads damaged by the rains of up to 10 inches.

A survey of the damage was made by Col. Christian of the Department of Public Safety, Division of Defense and Disaster Relief; Fred J. Peisker, planning survey, Texas Highway Department; and W. H. Reynolds, area engineer, Bureau of Public Roads.

Another inspection was made Tuesday, June 25, by Marion P. Bowden, deputy co-ordinator of the Division of Defense and Disaster Relief, Department of Public Safety, Judge Thomas said.

Final Rites For Mrs. McPherson Held June 28

Funeral services for Mrs. Luther McPherson, 60, who died in her home Wednesday, June 26 from a heart attack, were held Friday, June 28 at First United Methodist Church in Wellington with Rev. Raymond T. Dyess in charge of the services.

Gladys E. Duke, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Duke, was born April 5, 1908 in Collingsworth County. She attended rural schools and the public schools of Wellington. She was married to Luther McPherson May 10, 1925. She helped her husband in various business enterprises and at the time of her death was assisting him in the operation of The Town & Country Store in Wellington. She was a devoted mother, a good neighbor, and many people cherished her friendship.

Burial was in Memorial Gardens in Wellington, with Kelson Funeral Home in charge of the services. Pallbearers were Jake Lawrence, Robert Lewis, Sam Adams, Fleet Pruden, Temple Slay, Alvin Horton, Elmer Black and Junior Hale.

Survivors are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Joyce Norman of Wellington; one son, Jackie McPherson of Oklahoma City; two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Gillespie and Mrs. Dave Gilley of Amarillo; three brothers, Ed Duke of Spring Lake, and Will T. and Aubrey Duke of Amarillo.

New Wildcat Location Set

One wildcat location has been staked in Collingsworth County, according to filings in the Pampa office of the Texas Railroad Commission.

This is the Roden Oil Co. No. 1 Dwyer, 2,640 feet from the south line and 2,540 feet from the west line of section 20, in block 22. The proposed depth is 4,000 feet.

Located in the west part of the county, the proposed well is about a mile and a half north of Salt Fork River. It is about three and a half miles north and four and a half west of Marella, or ten miles west and one and a half south of Samnorwood. It is on land owned by John and Mary Hess Dwyer.

1968 Fair Department Heads Announced as Work Begins

Department heads and committee chairmen for the 11th Annual Collingsworth County Free Fair were announced this week by Jeff Wilson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring organization.

The 1968 edition of the Fair will be Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6 and 7.

All major Fair departments and events which are held in conjunction with it will be featured again this year, and several new features are being explored.

Chamber officials are taking the responsibilities which were borne by the late N. M. Higdon from the time the Fair was founded. Mr. Wilson will serve as superintendent and will be in charge of advertising and booths. The assistant superintendent and treasurer is Billy Moseley.

A number of new department heads were announced.

G. B. Hopper and Alvin Horton head the Fair finance committee and they will select their assistants.

Zook Thomas will be in charge of promotional work.

Troy Marsh is the new chairman of the Quarter Horse Show, an AGMA approved event and returning as assistants are Cliff Campbell and Frank Anderson.

Jack Neeley and employees of the Wellington State Bank again will be in charge of concessions.

Other department heads were returned to the offices most have held for several years.

Parade chairmen are G. B. Hopper and Henry Sullivan. Mrs. Earl Hunted is joined this year by Mrs. Troy Marsh in parade promotion and their assistants are Mrs. Jimmie Kelson and Mrs. E. H. Harwell.

Calvin Hurst will be treasurer of the barbecue, which will be held on its usual Friday noon date.

The Old Settlers Reunion is another Friday event. Zook Thomas is chairman, assisted by R. H. Isbell, with Mrs. Isbell as secretary.

Personnel heading the agricultural, horticultural and livestock divisions remain relative-

Older Boys Play

Double Header Opens Inter-City Baseball

Wellington Pony League teams will open inter-city play at Marian Airport Diamond Friday night, July 5, in a double header with Childress.

Play starts at 7 p.m. and the nightcap will begin about 8:30, according to Paul Guthrie, baseball president.

But this is only one part of a summer baseball program that includes youths from 6 through 17 years of age in the Wellington area.

Games will be played by one group or another on four nights per week, Mr. Guthrie said.

—Peewees play Tuesday and Thursday at 6 p.m. at Ellison Park.

—Eight and 10 year olds teams and 11-13 year teams play Monday and Thursday nights at 7 p.m. at Marian Airport Diamond.

—Two Pony League teams, 14-15 year olds and 16-17 year olds, play Tuesday and Friday night. If a double header is scheduled, play will begin at 7 p.m.; but if only one game is played, it will start at 8.

A number of factors have resulted in a late start for the teams this season, but play is due to continue longer, in some cases up to the opening of school.

Pony League players are divided into two teams, 14-15 years and 16-17 years, according to Stephen Qualls, who teams with John Coffee to coach the teams.

Wellington lost a single game to Childress Friday night, June 28, 14 to 6. This was the first for Wellington and the sixth for Childress.

"We lost on errors but with a little practice we can get rid of those and handle anyone around here," Coach Qualls said. Pitching for the 14-15 year old team are Lindy Norman and Raymond Aguirre. Catcher is Arthur Cantu.

The older team reads like a roster of Skyrocket athletes. Pitchers are Dallas Holland, Danny West and Gary Brewer, while Joe Brock, who moved to Portales at mid-term, is back for the summer and is catching.

Public support of the teams is urged and everyone interested in seeing action is invited to be out Friday night.

Player divisions this year follow age groups. Mr. Guthrie pointed out. Each division has two teams.

The youngest boys—Peewees—are just learning about baseball, and for some this is how to hold a bat.

Mayor Asks July 4 Closing

Mayor John Coleman has issued a proclamation designating the Fourth of July as an official holiday in Wellington and has requested that all business firms in the city close in observance of the holiday.

A number of firms close traditionally on this day, and others have indicated they will also close.

Working with these 6 and 7 year olds are Donald Settle, and Paul Hawkins, coaches, assisted by Eddie Slay, Gary Reed, Dee Burba and Dan Guthrie. It is the only group, in fact, that has enough fathers interested to come out and help, those working with the program say.

At present these boys are not assigned to teams, but are divided into groups.

Collision Injures Woman, Kills Pet Horse

A collision between a late model car and a horse one mile north of Wellington about 6 a.m., Monday, July 1, sent one woman to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment of injuries to her right leg, investigating Highway Patrolman Dale Fortune reported.

Mrs. Ray Phillips, who with her family was moving from Plainview to Gruver, was admitted to the hospital and her two small daughters were checked in the hospital emergency room but not admitted. Mr. Phillips was reported as apparently uninjured.

The horse, identified as belonging to Danny Gray, was killed. Friends reported that he had bought it only the day before the accident, after he and his sister had saved their money for a long period to finance the purchase.

It had broken out of the area where it was being kept at the farm of the children's grandfather, Dan Langley.

Patrolman Fortune of Shamrock, who investigated the accident, said the Phillips family was traveling north at the time of the accident. The entire front end of the 1965 Ford was torn up, he added.

Cotton Showers Boost Prospects in County

Cotton showers fell over much of Collingsworth Monday evening, July 1, and boosted prospects of young crops that were dried out by two days of hot winds last week.

The rainfall varied over the county, with the heaviest moisture, 1.25 inches, reported in the immediate Wellington area.

From one-half to an inch was reported north of Salt Fork River. To the east, the Shiner community and Vinson area received only a light sprinkle.

This moisture added optimism to reports of the county's crops, most of which are up, but still small.

North and northwest of Wellington, Emory Hunter reported .50 inch of rain at Cross Roads, and C. L. Watts .60 north of town.

Marvin Knoll, east of Lutie, received .50 inch, and farther east, in the Roundup community, Lewis Green reported an inch.

Southwest of Samnorwood, Tom Cunningham received .40 inch while Carl Amerson of Dozier said one inch fell at his place.

The rain was lighter south of town. South of Loco, Frank Campbell received .30 at his ranch and Pat Bouchelle .40.

Only a shower fell at the Mill Iron Ranch, east of town, Frank Anderson said.

Other reports were:

West of Wellington: Ben

Hurst, one inch.

Lillie: Elmer Feemster, .50.

Rolla: L. A. Davis, .50.

Quail: Loyd Langley, .60; and north of Quail, .20.

East of Wellington: Jimmy

Bowen, .40.

All of the cotton is now up to a stand, according to County Agent Sammy Helmers. Some grain sorghum is just emerging from the ground, and in the Dodson area, Grover Graham reported that some cover crops on diverted acres are now being planted.

Jack Kopp of the Farmers Co-op Gin said cotton looked pretty good, and one way or another customers of that gin got their crop in after the damaging early June rains. There was no seed shortage locally, although some farmers did not have their first choice in variety on the late plantings.

So far, the insect situation is not serious, Mr. Helmers said. There is a light infestation of flea hoppers and thrips in cotton with three to four leaves and still some leaf worms.

"It is important that we get the fleahoppers under control, as they throw off the bottom bolls which make the best of the crop," the county agent declared.

Weevil are not much of a problem at this point. Weather forced a uniform late planting and overwintered weevil, which emerged in April, have not had a place to reproduce, he explained.

Those parts of the county, mostly south of Wellington and Dodson, where cotton was not destroyed, may have a heavy weevil infestation, but control measures already have started.

Mr. Graham said that what amounts to block spraying is under way for thrips, fleahoppers and overwintered weevil in the Dodson area, especially in a strip from Dodson east to the Arnett road. The work is being done by Duggie Jameson of Wellington Flying Service.

Mr. Helmers said that several farmers who live in Wellington and farm in north Childress County have reported herbicide damage from the spraying of mesquite trees in that area.

Both R. L. Mabery and Fred Cox, Jr., have reported they are heavily damaged.

Mr. Helmers said from reports he has received, he would estimate about 1,000 acres of cotton is affected with 350 to 400 acres badly damaged.

The county agent reported that such spraying is not regulated in Childress County. On the other hand, Collingsworth County is a regulatory area, with those operating spray planes or rigs having to meet certain specifications.

Program Jopardized

Red Cross Blood Quota Must Be Met

St. Joseph's Hospital's future membership in the Red Cross Blood Program may depend on whether local residents co-operate to meet the blood quotas set for the visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile here.

Both Red Cross officials and the medical profession voiced concern after it was learned here Tuesday, July 2, that the executive committee of the Wichita Regional Red Cross Blood Center has voted to place on probation those member hospitals who do not meet their quotas of both money assessed and blood units collected.

Collingsworth County gave 45 units (pints) of blood of the 125 unit quota when the Red Cross Bloodmobile was here on June 6.

A second effort to raise the 80 units remaining in the quota will be made when the bloodmobile returns in September, according to an announcement Tuesday by Mrs. R. H. Isbell, Red Cross county home service officer.

This visit was not in the original plans, but it was suggested by Archie Williams, regional director of the Wichita Regional Blood Center in a telephone call to Mrs. Isbell, to help the county meet its blood unit quota.

Collingsworth County did not meet its blood quota on the bloodmobile visit six months ago, but a year ago county people gave 113 pints of the 125-pint quota.

The money quota of $439 was sent to the Wichita Blood Center June 29, Mrs. Isbell said. The fee is required of chapters where the blood program is in force.

Sister Mary Adele, administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital, and Dr. Chas. B. Jones were notified of the content of the minutes of the Wichita Regional Red Cross Blood Center executive meeting.

"The need for a continuation of the membership of St. Joseph's Hospital in the National Red Cross Blood Bank is absolutely essential to the welfare of the people of this community, as well as the accreditation of the hospital," Dr. Jones declared.

"There have been many different excuses given for not donating blood, among which is one fairly typical, 'Why should I give blood and have it shipped out of this county?'"

"The reason for this is: There is no storage facility in Wellington to process and keep the blood sterile."

"If we can meet our quota asked by the American Red Cross, then we can get blood within 12 hours or in dire emergencies much quicker, to take care of the needs of the people of this community," Dr. Jones added.

Neither the Collingsworth County Red Cross Chapter nor the hospital has received any direct notice, but they believe the committee action is warning enough.

The minutes of the executive committee indicate the

City Renews Franchise of General Tel

The Wellington City Council granted a renewal of the franchise of General Telephone Company to operate within the city for a period of 20 years at the regular meeting Monday night, July 1. The announcement was made by Mayor John Coleman.

He said the Telephone Company had asked for a franchise for a 35-year period.

Mr. Coleman said the telephone company is making certain improvements. Among these is the construction of a rural line west of Wellington as far as the Pat O'Hair farm south of Quail. Farmers in the area have tried to get this line for a number of years.

A long-distance phone booth will also be installed at the airport, the mayor added.

The city council also voted to send two members of the Fire Department to the Firemen's School at Texas A&M University July 21 to 25. Attendance at this school counts toward a city's credit on its fire insurance rate.

Hagan Named to SCS Staff Here

Ronald Lynn Hagan, a staff member of the Soil Conservation Service at Brownwood, has been named to the staff here, Gary Reed, work unit conservationist, has announced.

Mr. Hagan and his family will move here within a short time.

At present, local SCS personnel is house hunting for the family.

Mrs. Roberts Has Surgery

Mrs. Leon Roberts underwent major surgery in Bethania Hospital, Wichita Falls, on Tuesday, June 25.

She was reported this week as doing as well as possible. She is in Room 256.

Highway Patrol Will Start Five Day Vigil

While the drivers of Texas are making plans for 4th of July trips and outings, the Texas Department of Public Safety is getting ready for "Operation Motorcade," a five-day vigil of tabulating and reporting traffic deaths in Texas, said Capt. J. W. Blackwell, in charge of the Highway Patrol for this district.

Capt. Blackwell said that "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 3, and continue through 11:59 p.m. Sunday, July 7. It is estimated that 38 lives will be lost during this five-day period.

In order to increase surveillance over the heavy holiday traffic, additional Department of Public Safety personnel are being assigned to augment the Highway Patrol. These patrolmen have been instructed to be alert for and direct their enforcement efforts toward those violators that most often cause an accident. Every effort will be made to remove drinking drivers from the highways.

"Since police traffic surveillance cannot cover the entire street and highway system in Texas every minute of the day, the big hope for safe driving rests with the individual motorist," Capt. Blackwell concluded.

Doss Thompson Dies June 23

Funeral services for Doss J. Thompson, 72, brother of Mrs. Tina Hendrix, were held Tuesday, June 25 in the Boxwell Brothers Ivy Chapel in Amarillo. Mr. Thompson died suddenly Sunday, June 23, in his home.

He was born in Montague County on Feb. 22, 1896, and moved to this county with his parents in 1906. He attended school here and was a World War I veteran.

Mr. Thompson moved to Amarillo several years ago and had worked for the Producers Grain Company for a number of years.

Rev. Wayland Bold of the Second Baptist Church of Amarillo conducted the funeral service, and burial was in Llano Cemetery with Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home in charge of interment.

Survivors include his wife, Reva, three daughters, Wanda, and Charlene Thompson, and Mrs. Mary Lois DeWright of Amarillo; two sons, Charlie of Dumas and Clyde of Ft. Worth; four sisters, Mrs. Vida Neese of Amarillo, Mrs. Tina Hendrix of Wellington, Mrs. Viola Langford of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Gordon Adams of Dallas; and nine grandchildren.

Those attending the funeral from Wellington were Mrs. Hendrix and her nephew, Tipton Miller. Accompanying them were Mr. Thompson's cousins from Ft. Worth, Mrs. Jewel Murph and Mrs. Ruby Sappington; and his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Adams.

Screwworm Cases Still Increasing

Weather conditions continue to be almost ideal for spread of screwworms and case numbers are climbing. Officials at the Mission Laboratory are emphasizing the need for producers to check their livestock very closely and to submit worm samples whenever worms are found. While cases are most numerous in southern counties of Texas, positive identification of cases from as far west as Pecos County have been made. New Mexico, Arizona and California are also reporting an increase in case numbers.

Origin of the military salute is obscure but it may have been traced back to the Crusades when it was accepted as a substitute for raising the hat or helmet visor.

Time to Move Flowering Bulbs

A good time to separate and transplant your spring flowering bulbs is immediately after the leaves have turned brown and the tops have died down. Many of the flowering bulbs, such as daffodils, become crowded and tend to produce small flowers of poor quality.

The best flowers are obtained when the bulbs are separated every other year; however, good results can be obtained by separating them every three or four years.

Separate the small bulbs from the larger bulbs as you dig them. The small bulbs can be placed in a back corner of the garden until they become large enough for effective use. If you plan to change the location of your spring flowering bulbs, make sure you place them in a well-drained area, as bulbs will not do well in a wet, soggy area.

Wedding on Monday Evening Unites Patricia Young, Billy Charles Walsh

Miss Patricia Dale Young and Billy Charles Walsh of Spearman were married Monday, July 1 at six o'clock in the evening in Fundamental Baptist Church. The Rev. J. E. Young, grandfather of the bride, and pastor of the church, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Young, 1108 Dallas Street, Wellington, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Champion, 810 Pecan Street, Junction.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Debbie Lewis and Miss Mickey Ann Kendrick, vocalists, and Miss Mary Lou Holton, pianist.

Arched candelabras holding lighted cathedral tapers extended across the altar area, and pews were marked with white satin bows and silver bells to form the church decorations.

Mr. Young gave his daughter in marriage. Her floor-length gown of white peau de soie was made along empire lines. Belgium lace covered the bodice and sleeves, and the train, attached at the waistline, was edged in the lace. Her Belgium lace veil was attached to a peau de soie circlet and she carried a bouquet of carnations surrounding an orchid, arranged on a white Bible.

Miss Sandra Young, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Sikes and Miss Mary Bearden. They wore blue peau de soie dresses with scallop accents, and their headpieces of white tulle attached to matching blue bows. They carried small white nosegays.

Stanley Reed of Spearman was the best man and groomsmen were Pat Glenn and Sidney McGill.

Candles were lighted by David Null, cousin of the bride, and William Champion, Jr., of Junction, brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony, a reception honored the couple in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Null, aunt and uncle of the bride.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over yellow, and yellow candles were on each side of the bride's bouquet to form the centerpiece.

Guests were served by Miss Mickey Ann Kendrick and Miss Debbie Lewis, while Miss Peggie Young, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride completed her junior year in Wellington High School. She was named to Who's Who and received the Crisco Award this year.

Graduated from Cross Plains High School in 1963, the bridegroom is employed by Cooper and Woodruff, Inc., at Spearman, where the couple will make their home.

Freezing Meat, Poultry and Fish

Freezing meat, poultry and fish, the second in a series on home freezing.

Although meat, poultry and fish are available year around there are times when they are more plentiful and cheaper. Take advantage of these times to stock your freezer.

These frozen products equal the fresh items in nutritive value, original flavor and color or if properly packaged and frozen. Freezing does not improve meat so it is important to select good quality, government inspected products. Look for the US Prime, Choice or Good grades.

If you are butchering beef or lamb, remember aging improves the tenderness and flavor. Age a choice 310-lb calf carcass at least six to seven days at a uniform temperature of 37 to 40 degrees F. Let choice 500 or 600-pound carcass hang at least 10 days to two weeks.

Age lamb no longer than seven days.

Cut meat according to best improved methods. Boneless cuts save freezer space. But it is best not to bone steaks, chops, short ribs and legs of lamb.

Freeze the size package required for a meal. Thawing and then re-freezing lowers the quality of the product.

Pre-packaged self-service meats may be stored in the freezer for one to two weeks in the well-sealed store package. For longer freezer storage, overwrap or rewrap with special freezer material.

Meats should be wrapped tightly in moisture-vapor-resistant material to prevent discoloration of the skin and flesh by drying. At low temperature air is very dry and will absorb moisture from improperly packaged food, leaving it dry.

Known as freezer burn, this condition leaves the meat dry, tough and less flavorful.

Fish should be frozen immediately after the catch because it deteriorates rapidly. If this is not possible, pack in ice until it can be dressed.

Prepare the fish as for cooking then wrap the fish tightly in moisture-vapor-proof material and freeze immediately.

You may cook frozen meat with or without thawing. When meat is completely or partially thawed, it is cooked as fresh meat. If frozen solid, roasts require about one and a half times as long to cook as they otherwise would.

Stewing or braising meats may not have to be cooked as long as usual because of the tenderizing effect of freezing.

Storage Table for High Quality Home Frozen Meats and Poultry at 0 Degrees F.

Beef—6-12 months.
Lamb or veal—6-9 months.
Pork, fresh—3-6 months.
Sausage or ground meat—1-3 months.

Cooked meat or poultry—not covered with gravy or other sauces—1 month.
Meat sandwiches—1 month.
Chickens—12 months.
Turkeys—6 months.
Cooked poultry meat covered with broth or gravy—6 months.
Cooked poultry dishes—3-6 months.

Banana-Orange Float

1 ripe banana
2 scoops orange sherbet
1 teaspoon sugar
Dash of salt
1½ cups milk
Scoops of orange sherbet (optional)

Using mixer or blender combine banana, sherbet, sugar and salt, beating until smooth. Gradually add milk and beat at low speed until blended. Top each serving with a small scoop of orange sherbet. Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

This is certainly a delightful summer cooler.

Miss Nancy Sanford and Jimmy Marks of Wichita Falls and two friends from Midwestern University spent part of last week in San Antonio with Mr. Marks' grandmother, and they went to the HemisFair. They also visited in Austin with relatives.

Runners Up in Childress Contest Give Program for Kiwanis Club June 28

Two runners-up in the Miss Childress Pageant sponsored by the Childress Jaycees on June 8, presented a program to the Kiwanis Club Friday, June 28.

She told of the trip to Amarillo the girls made to be interviewed on television, the visit to the radio station in Childress, the pool party, the tea given for the girls to meet the judges, and of the superb hospitality shown by the Jaycees and their wives. She pointed out that all the entrants, whether they placed or not, were winners, because each gained poise and self-confidence and made many new friends.

Miss Patricia Thomas, third runner-up, presented the talent that she used in the pageant. In the song that she sang, "Talking to the Animals," Miss Thomas pointed out that she had drawn and painted her own backdrop and had made her own costume.

Miss Horton also sang the song she presented in the pageant, "The Twelfth of Never."

Buying larger containers may lead to using more of an expensive item than is necessary—simply because you feel a larger amount is on hand, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

The container serving the family without left-overs, although perhaps more expensive per unit, is more economical than a larger one which leaves food, according to the Texas A&M University specialist. The lack of proper storage for ten pounds of potatoes, apples or other perishable products may cause a greater loss in money than the pennies saved at the time of the purchase.

Be sure it is really a saving to buy the large economy package. Read labels to learn the quantities the different sizes contain, then compare the price per unit (pound, ounce, etc.) before you buy.

3/4 Million Attend School on New GI Bill

The current GI Bill education and training program has been in operation less than two years. Yet, nearly three quarters of a million eligible veterans and servicemen have entered school or training under this program, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco reported recently.

Since June 1, 1966, when the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 educational provisions first went into effect, more than 701,000 eligible veterans and 45,000 servicemen have entered training. Enrollment in school or training at the end of March 1968, stood at almost 423,000 veterans and 27,000 servicemen, Coker said.

Popularly known as the Post-Korea or Third Generation GI Bill, the 1966 Act grants veterans with at least 181 days of military service (part of which was after Jan. 31, 1955) up to 36 months of education and training benefits.

Vietnam era veterans — i.e. those with at least 181 days of service, part of which was after Aug. 4, 1964 — and active duty military personnel with at least two years of service are included.

Nearly two-thirds — or approximately 283,000 — of the Third Generation GI Bill beneficiaries on school or training rolls at the end of March were taking college level courses. This compares with about 51% who entered college training under the Korean Conflict GI Bill and less than 30% who pursued college level courses under the World War II GI Bill.

Veterans and servicemen entered in below-college-level training at the end of March totaled 155,000, with veterans accounting for nearly 85% of this number.

Since Oct. 1, 1967, when on-the-job, flight and cooperative farm training were added to the Third Generation GI Bill curriculum of approved training, nearly 6,200 veterans entered on-the-job training. An additional 8,000 veterans had enrolled in flight training courses as of March 31, 1968.

Another provision of the Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 relating to education and training permits veterans to complete high school, while receiving educational assistance allowances from VA, without having any of their entitlement to college level training reduced.

In only six months, between last October and the end of March 1968, more than 9,100 veterans had entered training to complete high school or college qualifying courses.

Veterans interested in attending school this summer or fall should contact their local VA office.

GEOGRAPHY FOUNDER

Erastosthenes, who before the Christian era calculated the distance around the earth to be about 25,000 miles, which is nearly the actual figure, was the real founder of geography.

The Monroe Doctrine was published in 1823 and chickened out on in 1961.

FRAMED by surrounding landscape, the Conservatory Garden in New York's Central Park becomes the setting for an outdoor art show. Two different concepts were featured—brightly painted fiberglass figures and black moving machines.

Gelatin Mass in Water Made Up of Bryozoans

TYLER. — Many fishermen have asked questions about the cloudy, translucent black-spotted, gelatin-like masses found in many East Texas waters, according to fisheries biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

These strange looking, spongy growths reach the size of footballs or larger and attach themselves to submerged limbs, lily pads, or small stumps and are usually found in clear, acid waters.

Marion Toole, inland fisheries coordinator of the Department, said these gelatin-like masses are colonies of hundreds of thousands of individual bryozoans which are found both in marine and fresh waters.

"Some 3,000 species of marine and 35 fresh water species have been identified," said Toole. "Actually, they are quite old in the biological and geological timetables. They occurred in the Cambrian formation of the Paleozoic era some 450 million years B.C."

Department biologists say the byrozoan colonies are harmless and have no economic or food value. They are generally observed in late spring and summer and start disintegrating during the fall months only to reappear again next spring.

SALT FORK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

INCREASED BENEFITS FROM RAINFALL

By Stephen Qualls

Stubble mulching is an excellent tool to increase water conservation. Stubble mulching was practiced on approximately 10,000 acres of wheatland in the Salt Fork Soil & Water Conservation District during the past year.

When stubble mulching is practiced, all of the crop residue is left on the surface until the planting time of the following crop. Stubble mulching is obtained by working the land with chisels and sweeps, thereby loosening the soil and at the same time leaving all of the crop residue on the surface.

In contrast, only 40 to 50 percent of the crop residue is left on the surface when a one-way is used to work wheatland.

Information from the Spur Experiment Station reveals that water penetration is greater on stubble mulched land than on land which has been listed or one-wayed. The reason for this is there is more stubble left on the surface to catch and hold rainfall.

During the experiment at Spur, moisture penetrated to a depth of 12 inches on land that had been one-wayed, compared to 25 inches on stubble mulched land.

Stubble mulching gives us a two-way benefit from crop residue. It serves as a sponge to catch and hold rainfall; and in addition, when the residue is turned under prior to the planting of the following crop it adds to the organic matter level of the soil.

Royal Mounties Due at Fair

When the Royal Canadian Mounted Police get an assignment, they carry it out, whether it's smashing the whiskey traders' Fort Whooop-up or scoring a smash hit at the State Fair of Texas.

The 32 scarlet-coated men of the RCMP Musical Ride accomplished that second mission at the 1965 Fair, but they'll be back to do it again at the 1968 exposition, Oct. 5 through 20.

Riding 32 black horses at paces ranging from stately to breakneck, they will appear 11 times during the fair's first nine days.

These are scheduled at 2 p.m. Oct. 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13; at 8 p.m. on Oct. 5, 7, and 8; at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 10, 11 and 12.

Jurisdiction Over Fish and Wildlife Rests with States

Jurisdiction over fish and wildlife in each state, which includes Federal lands within the state boundaries, will be controlled by the states, according to a bill introduced in Congress recently by U.S. Rep. Don Brotzman of Boulder, Colo.

"The primary purpose of the bill is to resolve the controversy between state fish and game commissions and Federal agencies," Brotzman said.

According to the law, the people of the state own the wildlife within the state and the bill will, once and for all resolve the question of who has jurisdiction over wildlife on Federal lands.

SPHINX'S SCULPTOR

The name of the sculptor of the Great Sphinx of Egypt remains a riddle. Though the Sphinx is referred to as "she" it is believed that it is a stone portrait of King Khafre, 26th century B.C., builder of the second pyramid.

Use of Naptha to Kill Grass Along Fences

Grass along a chain link fence or under a wooden fence can become unsightly if allowed to grow too tall.

Hand pulling is about the only way to remove grass that has grown up through a chain link fence. This tedious and time-consuming task can be eliminated by spraying a six-inch band at the base of the chain link fence with Naptha.

Naptha is an inexpensive spray that kills plant tissue on contact. Care should be taken to prevent Naptha from reaching the base of the trees and shrubs or from contacting the leaf surface of any desirable plants.

Using a hand-operated, low-pressure sprayer, the grass and weeds can be controlled by applying Naptha every four to six weeks.

If used before the grass becomes too large, the effect is hardly noticeable; and it maintains a neat appearance in a well cared for lawn.

A Day To Remember Our Responsibilities as Citizens

One hundred and ninety two years ago a group of dedicated men with great foresight issued The Declaration of Independence and pledged their lives and their fortunes in defense of the new nation they were endeavoring to create.

It was and still is the newest theory of government ever devised by man. It was a theory of government founded on a belief in God and dedicated to the freedom of man.

On this 4th of July we need to remember that many men and women have sacrificed to secure these precious freedoms. We need to remember that we have a continuing responsibility to preserve this way of life by accepting the responsibilities that are an inherent part of the duties of citizenship under such a government.

One of our troubles is that we have lived within the protection of this system for so long that we take its liberties and opportunities for granted. It is time to remember that these freedoms can be lost and to dedicate our time and our talents to becoming better individual citizens.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

Not Too Convincing

The so-called "Poor People's March" in Washington has been dispersed by police and the shanty town, affectionately named "Resurrection City" has been torn down.

The nation was treated to a real overdose of these people on national television, and it came to be almost a ritual to see Rev. Ralph Abernathy come on the 6 o'clock news, reading some pronouncement while television cameras ground away.

Maybe these people finally got too much exposure. At any rate, there was enough pressure put on by people of the nation so that Washington finally stiffened up and told these squatters that they would have to obey the laws that govern other people.

A great many of the people who had the time and the money to make this Washington trip are hard-core non-workers. They are drones and these haven't been a job invented that they actually desire. The Washington, D. C. plumber who went to the shanty town with an offer to put in septic tanks if the men there would dig the pit, and got an angry refusal for even suggesting that these "poor people" actually work to improve their own situation.

Nobody should have been surprised. There are a lot of poor people in this country, people that need help, but this mob in Washington wasn't representative of this group.

In former years, the sharp edge of poverty drove men to work at jobs they didn't like because it was that or go hungry. Today this edge has been blunted and these people are told that it is their "right" to have the comforts of an affluent society without working for them.

Poor paying jobs are going begging because poor people turn up their nose at them. Those who don't want to work find reality cushioned by federal hand-outs and come to believe that their predicament is not their fault, but society's fault.

It is time to put an end to the excessive solicitude lavished on people who make a career out of not working.

Each year, the government does more to help the non-workers; and each year the government heaps larger burdens on the working citizens who generate the nation's income, who produce the goods and services and pay the taxes that keep it going.

Something is out of kilter here. What we need now is less sympathy for the drones and more sympathy for those who are trying to work and learn and advance and make a contribution to society.

HUGLUND'S HAPPENINGS

JULY 6, 1699—The notorious pirate, Capt. William Kidd, is seized in Boston and deported to England.

A Time for Mending

AUSTIN.—"Heads up" driving can save many lives in Texas during this long July 4 holiday week end, Texas Department of Public Safety advises.

DPS hopes to help bring about a reduction in the estimated toll of 38 expected to die in traffic tragedies during the four-day, 102-hour period.

"Operation Motorcade," designed to place special emphasis on dangers of holiday travel, began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and will continue through 11:59 p.m. Sunday.

DPS will tabulate traffic fatalities during this period and release totals three times daily to news media in order to keep dangers prominently in minds of drivers.

"It is a known fact that the unusually crowded conditions of the highways on Independence Day holidays makes driving more hazardous than usual," Acting DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir reminded.

On the average, said Speir, one person will be killed in traffic every two and a half hours on Texas highways, streets and roads.

As part of its overall effort to lower the anticipated toll, DPS is utilizing additional personnel from other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol force during the entire week end.

But drivers themselves must make the most important effort, cautioned Speir. Despite mechanical defects, inadequate highways and other accident-causing factors, the vast majority of all wrecks and fatalities are traced directly to misbehavior, misjudgment, recklessness, negligence, and drinking while driving.

LCB Rapped

Former Liquor Control Board Administrator Coke Stevenson, Jr., took the brunt of the blow from the report on the investigation of the LCB by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and the Department of Public Safety.

Attorney general found that Stevenson had not been watching the shop, had accepted expensive gifts from persons in the liquor and beer industries and had failed to see that liquor laws were uniformly enforced.

Investigators said that most of the difficulties of the Stevenson administration now have been overcome under Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr.

Legislature Winding Up
Bitter debate in the Senate slowed the pace of the special session. Senate finally passed a sales-franchise tax increase and sent the revenue bill back to the House, which in turn sent it to conference committee to write a final version.

While Senate mulled taxes and mini-bottled liquor-by-the-drink bill, House passed bills extending drinking curfew in large cities to 2 a.m. (local optional in smaller towns); authorize semi-mandatory breath tests for drunk drivers; and triple out-of-state tuition (to about $800 a semester) at state-supported colleges and universities. Resident student tuitions remain the same.

Attorney General Rules
In recent opinions, Atty. Gen.

Martin has ruled:

- Cities under civil service police systems have no authority to create a police reserve of amateur friends of the force, but special officers can be summoned in time of emergency.

- A commissioners court does not have to advertise for electronic services to prepare tax rolls when the annual charge is less than $2,500 paid out of current funds.

- A person cannot serve as director of Texas Turnpike Authority and political party precinct chairman (acceptance of Turnpike post would automatically vacate precinct chairmanship.)

Courts Speak

City of Midland cannot collect from the surety company of its contractor for defects in a swimming pool, but it may sue the contractor directly, Supreme Court held.

High court held four Houston attorneys and a society of lawyers can seek a court order against a Houston organization which aims to provide legal services to poor. Lawyers said they objected to Houston Legal Foundation's attorney referrals, advertising and interviewing of persons in jail.

Attorneys for an Austin boot-black will ask U.S. Supreme Court to review its ruling that a man can be jailed for repeated drunkenness. They argue alcoholism is a disease demanding treatment.

Tornado Defense

US Weather Bureau and Texas Department of Public Safety have initiated a program for improved public preparedness against tornadoes.

Program involves a "distant early-warning system" by the bureau, then communication of the alert by the DPS and action by trained local officials to prepare the endangered communities.

"Meetings with city and community officials, state and local law officers, disaster agencies and others will be held throughout the state in the future to work out the details necessary for the best possible protection of life and property," a DPS spokesman promised.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Word keeps going around that whole herds of jittery U.S. citizens are buying weapons to defend themselves against the criminals running rampant in the land.

But this do-it-yourself defensive move is being frowned on and legislated against by high level people who apparently wish to make the country safe for robbers, killers, muggers, rapists and, maybe, tax bandits.

And with crime made safer by outlawing guns in the hands of the criminals' prey, the next move may be to also make crime easier by outlawing locks on doors, which should be a snap for interests which have already practically outlawed policemen.

Grant Approved

A $42,900 Federal grant has been approved for Valley View Park in the City of Dallas to provide additional outdoor recreation land for use of the general public, according to Will Odom, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

These funds will be matched by the City of Dallas in an $85,800 project to acquire 17.4 acres of land adjacent to the 8.7-acre existing park. The city park is located in the community of Northwood within the City of Dallas.

Odom said this project marks the 27th approval of funds for local, city, county and river authority parks in Texas since the Land and Water Conservation Act was passed in 1965.

Short Snorts

- Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi has called for a 12-member commission to study the Court of Conciliation of Los Angeles County, so see if such a plan can help keep Texas families together and the divorce rate down.

- Ambassador Ed Clark of Austin and Sen. John Tower of Wichita Falls have been elected board of trustee members at Southwestern University, Georgetown.

- Republican state representatives designated Rep. Charles R. Scoggins of Corpus Christi their floor leader.

- Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells to Senate finance sub-committee.

- Railroad Commission raised the statewide oil allowable to 46.4% of potential for July, compared with 45.2% for June.

Fertilize Roses Through Summer

Don't forget to fertilize your rose bushes every four to six weeks throughout the growing season in order to insure good strong growth and abundant flower production.

Use about one-half cup of complete fertilizer per rose bush and broadcast over the entire bed area or place in a ring around each plant at a distance of 15 to 18 inches from the main stem.

Be sure to protect foliage from black spot and mildew throughout the growing season in order to have string bushes and abundant flowers tris fall. A fungicide containing folpet will be effective against both black spot and mildew if used every week or ten days throughout the growing season.

Varner-Hogg Antiques Accepted

AUSTIN.—The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission recently accepted a 60-page inventory of antiques now in the Varner-Hogg Plantation State Historical Park and issued a commendation to Miss Ima Hogg, daughter of the late Governor James Stephen Hogg, who made the gift.

The commission's commendation cited Miss Hogg's graciousness and generosity in providing the people of Texas with such a gift of beauty so steeped in Texas history.

The inventory, with approximately 1500 items, contains the period furnishings of the old plantation manor during the period of 1835-1860 and is conservatively valued at $126,962.75. The listing contains furniture in the hallways, parlor, bedrooms, bathrooms, verandas and yard furniture. The collection also contains a complete dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen and allied equipment as necessary for operating a large plantation during the 1850s.

"There's no doubt that the items on the list would bring much more than their valuation at an antique auction because of their condition and their beauty," Robert G. Maurmann, deputy director of the Department, said. "But more important than their monetary value is the fact that they will be available to the public in perpetuity to represent a way of life in Texas that we are no longer familiar with."

Also in a valuable collection are personal papers and documents of the late governor. Collectors will find many of the books, paintings, and engravings and statuary to be most interesting.

"There are probably larger homes with more era furnishings than the Varner-Hogg, but I doubt there's one anywhere put together with such exquisite taste," says Mark Gosdin, director of park services of the department.

The 66-acre park, approximately two miles east of West Columbia in Brazoria County was donated to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department by Miss Hogg in 1956. Guided tours of the plantation home are held from 10 a.m. through noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Monday and Wednesday.

The Varner-Hogg Plantation was first owned by a Martin Varner who got the land by a grant from the Spanish government. There, he grew sugar ALAMOGORDO, N.M. — Jasper E. Burrell, son of Mrs. Cora Jimenez of 451 East F St., Colton, Calif., has been promoted to technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sgt. The sergeant completed requirements for his high school diploma after entering the Air Force.

cane and made the first rum in Texas.

Varner later sold the land to Columbus R. Patton, who made the plantation prosper under a near-feudal operation. Patton built the present-day house, with its large white columns, of Brazos River clay bricks, on the same site as Varner's two-room log cabin. He died in 1856.

Governor Hogg bought the plantation in 1901, and except for a few necessary improvements, the house still stands as it did when he bought it.

Formula for Safe Driving Distance

An easy formula for staying a safe distance behind a car ahead, says the National Safety Council, is to allow two seconds' worth of space. Use the device of counting seconds to yourself — "one thousand and one, one thousand and two."

Choose a roadside sign or landmark and when the car ahead reaches that spot, start counting and continue until you pass the same point. If you have counted two seconds, then you are following at a safe distance.

Finishes Add to Velvet Life

Finishes being applied to conventional velvets add performance characteristics such as stain and spot resistance, crush resistance and water repellency, according to Graham Hard, Extension clothing specialist.

Velvets are treated to add new surface interest. Chemically quilted velvets take on an unusual textured interest, says the Texas A&M University specialist. They are bonded to polyester nion.

Velvets may be made of silk, wool, mohair, rayon acetate or nylon, with plain, twill or satin weave background.

Basic construction dictates performance. Dr. Hard advises consumers to examine the background fabric. A twill weave, recognized by the diagonal lines is more serviceable than plain weave.

Ambitious Projects Keep 3 Million 4-H'ers Busy

Four-H Club members are widely known as "doers." As a matter of fact, 4-H pioneered the "learn-by-doing" method of informal teaching.

Today an estimated 3 million boys and girls between 9 and 19 years of age are engaged in some 50 different projects.

These projects have been developed over the years by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises all 4-H work. The majority of the projects—or programs—are suitable for urban as well as rural 4-H'ers.

For example, agricultural projects such as livestock, crops and marketing are designed for farm youngsters who make up about 39% of the national enrollment. Projects and activities in science, consumer education, home and money management, home economics, safety, health, leadership and mechanics are suitable for all 4-H members.

The projects are set up so the 4-H'er can advance in an orderly fashion under the guidance of volunteer adult leaders and experienced 4-H junior leaders.

When projects are completed, 4-H'ers are encouraged to evaluate their own achievements. Not only is it possible to compete with other 4-H'ers engaged in like projects, but there is a special program, which is called "achievement" which considers progress in their total 4-H efforts.

It is the national 4-H Achievement program sponsored by the Ford Motor Company Fund. Annual awards are offered for the best overall records submitted in county, state and national competition.

Last year, for example, nearly 9,000 members in 50 states, qualified for county medal awards. The top state award is a trip to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago the week after Thanksgiving.

From the 1968 state winners, 12 will be chosen for national $500 scholarships. A special award of an engraved silver serving tray, presented in the name of the President of the United States, will be given to the highest ranking boy and girl from among the national winners.

Ford officials are hosts to the achievement award winners and leaders during the national Congress, and also at a luncheon for the entire Congress delegation of some 2,000 persons. Ford has supported the 4-H program for the last two decades.

New York Journal-American

University Receives Newspaper Collection

AUSTIN. — The library and reference collection of the New York Journal-American have been given to The University of Texas, the Hearst Corporation announced recently.

The gift includes a vast number of clippings, more than two million glossy photographic prints, a considerable number of film negatives, a complete set of microfilms of all editions of the Journal-American and its predecessor publications, and library of research and reference books.

Eight large vans were required to transport the 250,000 pounds of material from New York City to Austin.

Considered to be one of the most extensive collections of its kind, the Journal-American's library and research files span the period from 1896 to April 24, 1966, the Journal-American's last day of publication. There is hardly a subject or person of news value during the 70-year period that is not covered in this file. Clippings were taken not only from the Journal-American but also from other newspapers and magazines.

The Hearst Corporation said The University of Texas was chosen as the permanent repository of the collection because the University has become an important center for the study of 20th Century thought, largely through the expansion of its library facilities during the past 10 years.

The University of Texas has agreed to preserve the Journal-American collection as an instrument of higher education. No part of it will be removed from the University campus or otherwise disposed of. It will be established as a memorial in perpetuity to the New York Journal-American and its owner, The Hearst Corporation.

"It is always an unhappy experience to witness the death of a fine and venerable newspaper but we take comfort in the fact that one of its most valuable assets will be preserved and will continue to be used as an educational tool and as a means of furthering the principles of democracy and Americanism to which the New York Journal-American was so completely dedicated," a Hearst spokesman said.

Chancellor Harry Ransom of The University of Texas System emphasized that the Journal-American materials will form an invaluable adjunct to the research sources already established on the campus for literary, social and political studies, including the Lyndon Baines Johnson Presidential Library now being built. The LBJ Library will be operated by the National Archives System of the General Services Administration.

Play It Safe — Use Seat Belts

Traffic accidents are responsible for 50,000 deaths a year. This great toll makes it imperative that everyone be traffic safety-conscious.

The wise motorist knows that the seat belt represents the best available equipment in reducing critical or fatal injuries, according to the American Insurance Association.

All occupants of a vehicle should wear seat belts—at all times. It is a fact that over half of the accidents causing injury or death occur at speeds less than 40 miles per hour, and that three out of four traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of home.

It has been estimated that if all motorists used seat belts, more than 5,000 lives would be saved each year and injuries reduced by one-third, the Association said.

John W. Masten Attends School In Boston, Mass.

John W. Masten, who teaches in the Dodson Schools, is attending the summer institute for the advanced study of English which is being held at Simmons College in Boston, Mass., this summer. The institute is supported by a $45,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

The institute is designed for secondary school teachers of English who have a bachelor's degree, but had no more than a minor in English. The program is intended to develop competencies in language, literature and composition, and will include workshops as well as lectures.

The 34 participants, under the terms of the National Defense Education Act, receive a stipend of $75 per week and pay no registration or tuition fees. They do, however, pay for travel, books, room and board. Students come from 11 states, as well as from New England.

The Institute is headed by Dr. Kenneth M. Greene, professor of English and chairman of the Department of Education, and Mrs. Aida R. Levi, assistant director.

Pampa Man Returned Here

Sheriff John Rainey was in Spearman Saturday to pick up a man identified as Billy George Huff, who he said was charged here with swindling by worthless check.

Sheriff Rainey said Huff gave a check to Saied's Department Store in the amount of $30.60 on Dec. 9, 1967.

Huff was being held at Spearman after having a probationary sentence revoked, the sheriff said, but his home is at Pampa.

Clyde Hall

Clyde Hall Wins VFW Honors

A former Air Force Master Sergeant from Wellington, Clyde Hall, who has served for the past year as Commander of Lubbock Post 2466, received several awards while in Fort Worth attending the Veterans of Foreign Wars Department Convention on June 21, 22 and 23.

He received awards for making All State Commander, for making the largest post in the state of Texas with 1,047 members, and being Honor Roll Post. He was also sworn in as the District 7 Commander for the incoming year.

Mr. Hall has served his Post in many capacities and is now serving as a trustee.

He was reared and received his education in Collingsworth County. He married the former Miss Juanita Watson who was also reared here. They have lived in Lubbock for the past three years and Mr. Hall is the owner of Precision Engine Service.

He left Wellington and joined the Air Force Oct. 19, 1942 and served until Dec. 3, 1945. His overseas duty was in the European Theatre.

Delayed, Corrected Birth Certificate Procedure Given

Mrs. E. J. Harmon of Shreveport, La., has written The Wellington Leader seeking information on the birth of her daughter, Lila Sue. She was born March 22, 1952, but her birth certificate has been misplaced. She needs the information so it will be simpler to obtain a certified copy of her birth certificate.

Because this happens frequently, The Wellington Leader asked Mrs. Lorene Jenkins, County-District Clerk, the procedures on gaining a delayed birth certificate or correcting a certificate.

One must go to his county clerk's office and make an application to amend his certificate of birth in order to have his certificate corrected. There are affidavits to be signed by, preferably, a parent or the attending physician. The procedure is complicated because there are ten documents that can be used, including forms for children under six years of age.

The most difficult problem is filing for a delayed birth certificate. To begin with, one must have three references stating where and when he was born, two of which must have the parents' names. There are a number of forms to be filled out, and much information is needed. There must be absolutely no doubt as to the person's identity or of the facts given before a certified certificate can be issued, the county clerk emphasized.

Clarendon's Rodeo, barbecue and horse show will be a three-day affair this year from July 4 through 6.

Thursday, July 4 will begin with the Turtle Race at 10 a.m. Following at 1 p.m. will be the parade. Two rodeo performances will be held this day—one beginning at 2:30 p.m. and one at 8:30 p.m. The night time performance will be highlighted by the crowning of the Rodeo Queen. To top off the day, a Western Dance will be held on the newly enlarged open air dance floor. Music will be by R. T. Wood and The Plainsmen. New seating is being provided this year for those who prefer to sit in the cool and watch the dancers.

Friday, July 5 at 9 a.m. will begin the all-day Quarter Horse Show, this year including added events of a Youth Show and a Registered Quarter Horse Calf Roping. The third rodeo performance will start at 8:30 p.m. with a dance to follow.

Another big day begins Saturday, July 6, at 10 a.m. The Old Settlers Reunion, an event of many years, will be held. At 2 p.m. fiddlers from the area will gather for the Fiddlers Contest. The serving lines for the barbecue will open at 5:30 p.m. Barbecue King Flip Breedlove has made Clarendon famous for this, the World's Largest Free Barbecue. Immediately following at 8:30, will be the last performance of the rodeo. To climax all the festivities will be another dance on the outdoor dance slab.

Coolers May Kill Prize Plants

Many prize plants are killed or badly damaged when excessive water from an evaporative cooler is allowed to drain into the flower or shrub border. If the soil remains saturated with water, there is insufficient oxygen present in the soil for good growth and development.

The loss of roots will cause symptoms very similar to nitrogen deficiency or iron chlorosis. The first reaction is to apply additional fertilizer rather than correct the situation caused by overwatering. This only adds to the problem.

Improper Mowing Can Damage Grass

Improper mowing practices can cause severe damage to lawn grasses, especially bermuda grass. If too much growth is removed at any one time, the stems and runners are exposed to the intense sunlight, allowing them to become sun scalded. Mowing at more frequent intervals to prevent the removal of excessive amounts

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The Sing-Out at the Community Building Tuesday was one of those events that lifts the spirit and restores confidence in the essential greatness of this great land. It is good to emphasize those things that are good in our community, our state and our nation. It was pleasing to note that everyone from the very young to the very old took part in the inspiring program.

This is a natural for any friendly community and the event should be continued for it is the type of patriotic communion that can grow and grow. It is to be hoped that next year it can be planned farther in advance and held in the park under the stars or storm clouds, for that matter.

The "Sound of Music" is coming to the Ritz and Bronco this week. It is one of those wholesome, heartwarming movies filled with emotion and beautiful music that you should see. The way to secure more high class movies of the kind you will be proud for your whole family to see is by attending them when they are shown locally. I told you about Dr. Zhivago when it was here. Well, go to see "The Sound of Music".

The 1970's may be the golden age for the small towns of Texas, according to a research report from The University of Texas. Industry is now dispersing its plants and putting them in smaller cities and the big rush of packing more and more people into the overcrowded areas is grinding to a halt. Add to this the fact that more and more people with a small town or agricultural background are longing to get away from the overcrowded cities and you can see there is sound reason for small towns and cities to start growing.

This will be the trend, and the opportunity, but we should realize that what happens to Wellington will depend in a large part on what we do ourselves. This is the time to keep our town attractive, the services of our business institutions superior as well as our churches and our schools. A favorable tax rate is an incentive to industry and therefore our local units of government should be maintained on a high level of efficiency. There has never been a time in the history of our town when greater dividends could be realized from an intelligent and sustained community effort for self improvement.

The First Place Award won by The Wellington Leader for papers in the 2,000 to 5,000 bracket is testimony to the craftsmanship of the printers who set the type and do the presswork, J. K. Porter and D. E. Scott; but it is also evidence of the ability and teamwork of the entire staff for the pages could look very dull without the pictures by Virginia Robey and some of the stories and headlines might seem odd indeed if it were not for the proofreading of Dela B. Ford. And to complete the teamwork there is the valuable work of Tanya Horton and George Porter.

These able people, however, are not the only ones who have had a part in maintaining The Leader's tradition of excellence. The other evening Deloyce Savage picked up the paper and exclaimed: "My, we won another Award." "What do you mean, we won another award?" asked R. T. "I mean The Wellington Leader won a prize, and I still feel like a part of it," she said. You are so right, Deloyce, you are still a part of The Wellington Leader and frankly we don't know what we would have done without your help last spring when my mother was in the hospital.

If R.T. will just stick to his mail carrying and his weevil poisoning, and let Deloyce and the rest of us publish the paper, I believe everything will run smoother.

He was writing about something else primarily; but Glenn Shelton had a bit of publicity for Collingsworth County in his column in The Wichita Falls Record-News this week, and it may turn out to be a classic. "It's a shame that beds have to have a 'right' side and a 'wrong' side and that a guy sometimes must get up on that 'wrong' side. As I did just the other morning. 'Nothing in the papers,' said the

Reagan Dinner Tickets on Sale

Collingsworth County Republicans are invited to attend a $100 per plate dinner at which California Governor Ronald Reagan will be the guest speaker.

The event will be in the Tri-State Fair Coliseum, Amarillo, Friday, July 19, according to David Baumgardner, Collingsworth County Republican Chairman.

Those who do not wish to buy dinner tickets can purchase reserved seats, box seats, or general admission tickets at much cheaper rates, Mr. Baumgardner said.

Those holding dinner tickets will attend the reception for Governor Reagan at 5:30 p.m. and the dinner at 6:30 p.m.

This is a fund-raising event for the benefit of the 18th District Republican candidates, Mr. Baumgardner said.

He has tickets available, he added.

Norwood Lions at International

Four Samnorwood couples attended the annual convention of Lions International, held recently in Dallas.

Representing the club were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breeding, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Wood Coleman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown.

Mr. Brown, the new vice president, was the voting delegate.

The new president of Lions International is a Texan, Dave Evans of Texas City, who succeeds Jorge Bird of Puerto Rico.

Major entertainment events attended by the Samnorwood group were the Texas Show on Thursday, using as its theme the six flags that have flown over Texas, and the International Show on Friday, which featured major entertainment stars.

Approximately 40,000 Lions and their wives attended from all countries where Lions International operates.

wife cheerily, tossing the morning sheet to me as I sat down to breakfast. "Nothing at all!" "Whataya mean nothing in the papers?" I snarled, swatting the cat, sending it sprawling and yowling across the kitchen floor. "It says right here that hogs are active in Omaha. Does THAT mean nothing to you? Don't you like bacon?" I grabbed my fork and nearly stuck it in my eye. "And how about that camers and cutters are weak? And this item: 'Screw-worms attack livestock in South Texas?' And this one: 'Wildcat stalked in Collingsworth.'" "I glared at her. 'The trouble with you women is that you don't know news when you see it. All you care about is who's giving who a party and who's getting married to who!'"

"To whom," the wife said calmly. "It isn't who is marrying who. But who is marrying WHOM?" "That's what I said!" I yelled at her. "That's all you women care about. This paper is full of news. You just don't recognize news, that's all."

"Well, what do I care if they caught a wildcat in Collingsworth County," replied the wife, eating her eggs. "And I'll never know why you men stake out a wildcat or any other animal. You're just naturally cruel. 'Screwworms' don't sound very nice, either, and if hogs are active in Omaha, it's their business!"

Approximately 25 boys come out for practice, Mr. Hurst said. Randall Sims and Gary Wischkaemper are pitching for the Braves and George Brewer catches. Richard Sims and Bill Havens pitch for the Tigers.

There is a distinct shortage of fathers coming out to help in this age bracket, and help is needed, Mr. Hurst said.

There are also two teams in the 11 to 13 year age bracket. Raymond Hodges and Harold Gattis are working with the Dodgers, and they are grooming Mike Williams and Randy Hodges as pitchers. One or two more may be added to the pitching staff, Mr. Hodges said.

Jack Neely is working alone with the Cardinals, and he has Brent Wade as pitcher, with more boys due in a game or two. The teams have played twice, with the Cardinals winning once and the Dodgers once. The third game, set for Monday evening, was rained out.
