Englishman Traveling Cross Country Says America Is A Wonderful Place

Rugged Bill Webb of Worcester, England, likes America. He likes Americans. He's seeing both and fulfilling a lifetime dream as he makes his way from Scottsdale, Arizona to Buckhannon, West Virginia riding his trusty horse, "Wrangler."

The deeply-tanned Englishman boasts that Upshur County, West Virginia is the most beautiful place in all the United States and says that's where he wants to own a farm someday and raise cattle and horses.

"It's always green there - except when the snow is on the ground. It's just a beautiful country."

When asked if he planned to raise race horses, his answer was "just pleasure horses."

Webb will have been living in the United States five years in December and will then be able to begin the procedure in becoming an adopted American.

The future citizen is enthusiastic about this country and American people.

"The average American never gets to England - he can't afford the trip. The rich, spoiled ones who do get to go are the ones that give Americans their bad image there."

"I've found that almost everyone is friendly. More friendly than my people," he remarked. "We English are more reserved."

Comparing friends he has in West Virginia to English people in general he confided, "They told me, 'Bill, you know where our extra bed is and you know where the refrigerator is, make yourself at home.'"

"English people wouldn't do that, they'd wait until they really get to know you."

Webb's sister, brother-in-law and their five children have also adopted America for their home. Missionaries for the Seventh Day Adventist church, they are presently making their home in North Carolina.

James Webb, a younger bro-

BILL WEBB, on a trip from Scottsdale, Ariz. to West Virginia, stopped at Olton during his travels. His faithful mount, Wrangler, is his means of transportation across these United States, which he acclaims as a wonderful country. He plans to become a citizen of the United States and make his home in West Virginia. He stated that people in America were friendlier than those in his home country, England.

ther, considered America for a new home but chose Tasmania. He and his wife and their three children make their home there.

The oldest member of the family, Joseph, still lives in England. Joseph and his wife have five children.

"He's like you Texans are about Texas," the Englishman smiles. "He thinks England is the best, the greatest, the only place there is."

In reply to the question "Are you married?" the bronzed outdoorsman chuckled, "No, I'm happy."

Reminded that a wife might be good to have when he gets that farm in his future and begins to raise horses he laughed, "Oh, I will need someone to fix the fence, clean the stables, plow the fields, reap, sow, and mow."

Seriously then, he added, "Anyone can get married but it's not so easy to find a wife."

Still in a serious vein, the Englishman, continued that he believed persons should share some of the same bonds, trust in each other and have a faith or religion.

Roy Burrus Escapes Injury

Roy Burrus of Plainview was not believed to be seriously injured in a two car accident west of Tulsa Wednesday.

Burrus' car was in collision with a car driven by a couple from Oklahoma. The Oklahoma couple was treated at Plainview Hospital, suffering fractured ribs. They were released and driven to their home east of Altus by Mrs. Roy Burrus.

Enterprise To Be Closed

The Enterprise will be closed next week, July 1 through 6 in order that staff members might have a few days vacation.

The office will open for business again Monday July 8 at 8 a. m.

"Everyone needs an anchor," he remarked.

Webb is a Seventh Day Adventist. "Actually, not a very good one, I'm afraid," he adds.

Explaining that he hasn't attended church services very many times during his "cross country tour," he confessed, "You don't have to be in church to worship. Out here (with a sweeping motion of his hand) is God's cathedral."

Webb remarked that racial relationships, long a problem in America, is now a problem in his native land. "Actually, it's about the same," he adds.

The prospective citizen feels that Resurrection City has not accomplished any real purpose. "I believe that when folks help themselves, others will help."

"It's not something that will be done overnight. But through the proper channels, it will get done."

Asked why he is making the horseback tour of the United States, the Englishman answered simply, "Because I want to." He confided that it was something he has wanted to do for a good many years.

He explained that he was making the trip now because, "I'm one year older than Jack Benny. Life begins at 40, they say, so I'm living."

Bill Webb and Wrangler left the Arizona Horse Country Club in Scottsdale, Ariz. April 19th.

Their destination was definite but the trip is a day by day adventure.

"I take it as it comes," he says. He explained that Monday was his 25th day in the saddle. The rest of the days have been spent working along his route. "That's the only way I could make this trip."

When they're traveling, Webb and Wrangler try to average 30 miles per day. They travel along the highways where cars zoom by at hectic speeds. "Wrangler's traffic proof," his master explains. "It's a parked car that makes Wrangler curious. He treats them with suspicion."

As if to prove Webb right, Wrangler carefully looked over this reporter's car during the interview. Monday afternoon near Olton's roadside park.

Webb explained that usually Wrangler came to him when he was called, even though he had been turned loose to graze over an entire section of land. But, just as humans are fickle, he occasionally plays "hard to get."

Traveling near Christopher Creek, Ariz., the horseman decided to give Wrangler a break in crossing a mountain. Dismounting, he walked along beside Wrangler until they came to the top of the mountain. At the top they found a good grazing spot and Webb turned Wrangler loose to graze contentedly.

After about 20 minutes, Webb decided it was time to start on but Wrangler became "spooked" and took off down the mountain - the same direction they'd come.

Webb's only worry was that Wrangler's traveling down that main thoroughfare could cause an accident with some unsuspecting motorist. Otherwise, he knew that Wrangler would be waiting at the foot of the mountain at the cattle guard.

When Webb arrived at the cattle guard, he found no sign of Wrangler. With the help of a young man in a jeep, he caught up with the frisky horse three miles down the road.

"So I led him back up the mountain again," Webb smiled. The way Bill Webb figures, he and Wrangler are about a third of their way to Buckhannon. They probably can't tell you where they'll be tomorrow but, as Webb says, "This is a wonderful place. This is a wonderful country."

Warning Issued About Insects

In Castor Beans

Announcement has been made by John Anderson of Baker Castor Oil in Plainview that false chinch bugs are working in area fields of castor beans.

Growers are urged to be on the alert for the possibility of sufficient invasion to require spraying.

Anderson cautioned that if the population of the false chinch bugs builds up to the extent of swarming on the seed spikes, growers should check with their county agent, entomologist or with the Baker company.

The infestation is widespread, Anderson stated that Jim Standifer of Sun-Vue Fertilizer in Hart reports that some fields in the Hart area are nearing the population where spraying would be warranted.

City Council Hires New Police Chief

Nightwatchman To Be Hired

In a special meeting called by city councilmen Friday night, Henry Ogletree, of Dimmitt, was hired as the new chief of police following a personal interview with the council and after consideration of other applications.

Ogletree, 30, is a 1956 graduate of Earth-Springlake schools and has five years experience in police work. Serving in the army for approximately two years, Ogletree began his police work in Comanche, later moving to Brownfield and then to Dimmitt, where he was employed in the sheriff's office.

The six foot two, 220 pound chief began his duties here Monday morning.

He and his wife, Ivaleen are the parents of two boys, ages six and four.

Other applications considered for the chief's position were those of W. A. Hatfield, Earth and John A. Wheeler, Wichita Falls and that of Emmett Burrows which was discussed by the council at the last regular meeting.

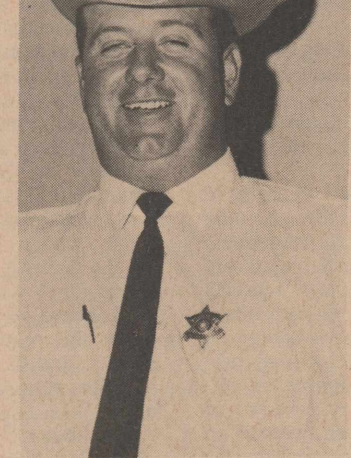

Following the personal interview and reviews of applications, councilman Leon Noack made a motion to hire Ogletree at a starting salary of $425 per month with a $25 raise to be given in six months, providing Ogletree's work proved satisfactory.

Bobby Daugherty seconded the motion but it failed to carry, with Charles Sullivan, Percy Parsons and Jimmie Jenkins voting against while Noack and Daugherty voted for.

A new motion was offered by Parsons stating that Ogletree be hired at a starting salary of $425 and a raise of $25 to be given him within a six-month period if work proved satisfactory.

Sullivan seconded the motion and it carried with four voting for and Noack against.

Councilmen discussed applications for night watchman but delayed action until a later date.

Rep. Billy Wayne Clayton Not Aware Of Set Debate

The Enterprise received a telephone message from the office of Representative Billy W. Clayton Tuesday morning regarding the debate set between he and his Republican opponent, Frank Ford of Hereford.

The message read as follows:

"I was concerned about the misleading statement issued to some newspapers in our area by my Republican opponent.

"His headquarters stated a debate had been set between us. My opponent has not contacted me about any such debate and I doubt that much could be accomplished by debate.

"However, I will be delighted to meet with any organization or group to express my views and answer any questions pertaining to state government."

"My Republican opponent referred to a tax bill introduced by Representative 'Red' Simpson of Amarillo and myself. Our proposed tax bill was introduced to raise needed monies for the fiscal year 1969.

"The tax bill was also designed to help meet the needs of 1970-71 fiscal year by accumulating enough surplus to take care of increasing higher education costs, a teacher pay raise, vocational training and other state functions and services without having to pass another tax bill next January when the legislature meets again."

I AM mad! I don't mean just a little hacked off... I mean really MAD!

Two weeks ago, superintendents of Texas decided some Interscholastic League rules, making one change which I consider the next thing to treason.

According to my information, beginning next year, athletes will be allowed only one award jacket in four years... this means, if a student plays football, basketball and runs track, the first time he letters in any one sport, he'll get his jacket and that's all she wrote as far as his high school years are concerned.

The vote on the ruling was 511 superintendents for and 396 against...and, I'm proud to say that our own Floydada School Superintendent, A. E. Baker, was among those against the stupid ruling.

2 To further clarify the ruling, it even goes farther than athletics, amounting to the fact that any time a student qualifies for an honor which normally is recognized with a jacket, sweater, blanket, etc., he or she is through.

The student will be allowed to receive only one $20 award... from then on, only a token award (such as a letter or medal) not to exceed $3 in value may be given.

To my way of thinking, the "football jacket" tradition is one thing which should stay the same as it has been for years... it's the only reason some of the less talented students participate in sports at all.

And, after going through two weeks of pre-season workouts, plus ten weeks of intensive training and games, I happen to believe a student deserves and should be awarded a jacket, providing he has worked hard enough to letter. This holds true with running track, boys and girls basketball, and anything else where hard work and dedication are required.

As far as I can see, expense is the only reason for the 511 superintendents to favor the ruling... I say, if they feel this way, let them do it in their own individual school district and not in ours! Heaven help those who voted for it, once their respective school patrons hear about it!

And I don't think the action of 511 idiots who want to break one of the finest traditions and memories of high school days should be allowed to stay on the rule books.

But, to take it off, there's going to have to be a lot of screaming and hollering done... and, some people are going to have to get mad, really mad!

In fact, mad enough to let their feelings be known by letters to the editor and letters to the state Interscholastic League Director. If you're mad enough to write him, his address is: Dr. Rhea Williams, University Interscholastic League, % University of Texas, Austin, Texas.

If you're mad enough to write a letter to the editor, I'll publish it, then I'll clip it and mail it on to him myself.

I hope some of you feel the same way about the matter as I do... Itake it as a personal insult to the fine young athletes of our school, our county, our area and our state...and, I want to see something done about it!

Troubles

BY SUE CANNON

Whew! I'm tempted to just forget all my nonsense this week and next since we are trying to get two issues of the paper out at the same time in order that we might have a vacation.

Brother, we'll need one! And as things always go wrong when you want them to be so right --- last night about midnight our machine that we set headlines on went on the blink.

Well, our girl Friday, Leah Cross who is no longer with us (because she is going to be married,) is the one who usually tears the thing apart and puts it back together in working order.

Panic broke out around here for a while but we got the machine torn apart and put back together ---about a dozen times!

Still wouldn't work! I've seen her tear that monster apart a dozen times and I was doing exactly the same thing as she was ---well, almost.

Then the phone rang -- at midnight -- couldn't have been anyone else except her at that hour. And sure enough it was!

She gave us detailed instructions over the phone and said if we still couldn't get it to work to call her and she'd come and fix it.

Well, struggle, struggle, I tore it apart another dozen times then called her to ask a few more important questions which she answered and everything should have gone right together after that conversation.

However ---IT DIDN'T! Then I decided to heck with it let's get the rest of the papers done and we'll call her tomorrow morning. So we went to work on the other things that we lacked.

Now by this time, even the late, late, late shows have been off almost long enough for the "Today" show to begin operation.

So about 3 a. m. we decided to call it a day...

At 6:30 a. m., I'm on the phone again -- you guessed it -- to our girl Friday again. And to the rescue she came and just like I told you, I was doing everything she was -- almost. And that almost was keeping that doggone thing from doing like it should.

So if you see an extra amount of mistakes, just try to remember that we had just a little bit of trouble trying to get out two papers without our old reliable girl here to help us out.

You know I've decided that people are crazy --- we knock ourselves out this week so we can get away next week and we will all be so pooped -- we couldn't care less about going somewhere on a vacation.

Hay Fever

Can Be Controlled

Happiness is a warm puppy, say the PEANUTS folk. But there is not much joy involved if you happen to be allergic to animal dander. If, in other words, you have "hay" fever.

The flaky skin from animals triggers an allergic reaction in some people. Ragweed, dust, and mold spores can also cause severe sneezing symptoms. Swollen nasal passages and teary eyes can sure spoil the fun of summer--the season when lots of plant pollen is swirling around in the air.

The happy thing is that there is something to be done for respiratory allergies. Sometimes antihistamine drugs, prescribed by a physician, may offer relief. The drugs, though, don't affect the underlying sensitivity. Avoiding the substance that triggers the allergic reaction is, of course, the best way to control hay fever.

There is another way. Identifying the offending allergen. This may involve a long series of scratch tests with suspected substances. If the right one is discovered, there is some hope.

Injecting a minute amount of the allergen can be administered. Tiny doses can be increased to larger ones. And the body may gradually develop a tolerance. If the injections are begun before the hay fever season and continued for about three months, the allergic reaction may be prevented. The injections, though, may have to be repeated every year.

For the hay fever sufferer, quick cures and quack products can be disastrous. The only sure way to treat his allergy is with a doctor's advice.

Sharp-Wells Wedding Vows Pledged In Tulia Church

Miss Charlotte Ann Wells and Rickey Lynn Sharp pledged wedding vows Friday evening at 8 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Tulia. The Rev. Frank Pollard, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wells of Tulia, former residents of Olton. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Adams are her maternal grandparents. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. I. C. Sharp and the late Mr. Sharp.

Musical selections were presented by Clay Freeman, organist, Mrs. Owen E. Jones sang "Until the Twelfth of Never" and "Because". Joe Whitten of Levelland sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Vows were exchanged before an altar centered with a candle tree flanked by spiral candelabra bearing white tapers and entwined with emerald greenery. The couple knelt on a profile kneeling bench trimmed with greenery and white bows. Pews were marked with white bows, greenery and white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white delustered satin formal gown designed with an A-line skirt, boat neckline, and yoke of scalloped Alencon lace. Long bell sleeves of lace were banded in scalloped white satin. Her satin chapel train, enhanced by lace motifs embroidered with seed pearls was attached at the back yoke and fastened with tiny satin covered buttons. The gown was designed by the bride and made by her mother.

Her shoulder length veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of satin and lace petals enhanced with seed pearls atop a satin bow. A small flower of seed pearls and iridescents formed the center of the petals and a tear-drop pearl at the mid-forehead adorned the headress.

She carried a cascade of white feathered carnations surrounding a white orchid. For something old, the bride had the wedding rings of the bridegroom's parents tied in a love knot in her bouquet. For something new, her wedding attire.

For something borrowed she wore a string of pearls that her father gave her mother before they were married. A blue garter, the gift of her maternal grandmother, served for something blue. She carried a penny dated the year she was born and one dated the year the bridegroom was born.

Miss Sandi Wells was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Valda Jones and bridesmatron was Mrs. Jimmy Kennedy of Midland, cousin of the bride.

The attendants gowns were of gold bonded crepe, fashioned with a rolled satin collar, short sleeves and A-line skirt. A gold satin panel down the back of each gown was accented with a satin bow at the neckline. Tiny satin buttons adorned the center front.

Their headpieces were double gold satin bows. Gold slippers and white wristlet gloves completed their ensembles. Each carried a single long-stemmed white rose with a satin bow.

Charles Sharp served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Tim Tucker of Hereford, cousin of the bridegroom, and Jim Arnold of Lubbock. Seating the guests were Sam Sadler, Ronnie Latham of Tulia, Charles Shelton of Austin and Gordon Pierce of Oklahoma City, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wells chose a brown A-line dress with white and brown coat. Her halo hat was of matching white and brown with a circlet of net. She added white accessories and a white camilla corsage. Mrs. Sharp chose a yellow Irish linen dress with jeweled neckline and short sleeves. She added a hat of yellow flowers and yellow net. Her accessories were white and yellow. She wore a white camilla corsage.

Miss Marsha Sharp, niece of the bridegroom, registered the guests at a table covered with a white net cloth over white. A gold rose topped the bride's book.

Following the ceremony, the couple was greeted at a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church. Miss Sharon Stout and Clay Freeman of Tulia and Becky Joiner of Sundown, cousin of the bride played piano selections during the evening.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over white adorned with gold bows caught in drapes of the lace. Appointments were crystal and silver. A candelabra with white tapers surrounded by white carnations and gold bows formed the centerpiece.

Presiding at the table were Misses Nancy Bonds, Ann Mills, and nieces of the bridegroom, Pam Sharp of Tulia and Debra Pierce of Oklahoma City.

Assisting with the hospitalities were Misses Kathie Chandler, and Kathy Lee of Tulia, and Mmes. A. D. Lee of Tulia, Earl McClain, Quentin Redinger, Floyd Gray, and Doris Watt of Olton, S. Y. Joiner of Sundown and J. E. Gray of Slaton.

Nephews of the bridegroom, David Sharp of Tulia and Joe Pierce of Oklahoma City, distributed white rice bags tied with gold ribbon.

For travel the bride chose a coat dress of bonded loose-weave blend, blue tweed, featuring a collar, self covered buttons and long sleeves. Her accessories were white and her corsage was an orchid lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at 1000 N. Graham, Apt. 12, Odessa.

The bride is a graduate of Tulia High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University and West Texas State University.

Sharp is a graduate of Tulia High School and Texas Tech with a major in banking and finance. He is employed by First State Bank of Odessa.

Special guests at the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Adams of Olton and Mrs. Dottie Wells of Slaton.

A rehearsal dinner was held Thursday evening in Omer's Cafe in Tulia. The U-shaped table was decorated with a miniature bride and groom and centerpieces of white carnations. The dinner was given by Mmes. Elvin Howell, Joe Arnold, J. W. Kendrick, G. L. Sadler, Donald Watts, J. P. Sharp and Claude Shelton.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Campbell and their family want to thank the many friends from many places who helped in so many ways to make their 50th anniversary a most lovely and memorable event. Many prayers and much devotion and much labor went into the planning. Many dozens of cards and letters are still arriving. There were so very many gorgeous and useful gifts from near and far. The floral offerings brought a special beauty in their own language. The church and community friends were untiring in their efforts in serving a delicious dinner to the family, undergirded the P. M. serving, caring for the gift tables, paid and aided with the kitchen work and helped to bring to a close a most joyous day. We, too, want to thank those who came for their devotion and good wishes - some of them friends through almost the 50 years. Time and strength forbid personal notes of thanks so let this speak to each of you, dear friends, with the Father's Blessings.
