Rhee Drops Demands On Troop Withdrawal

GREETINGS — Asst. Secy. of State for Far Eastern Affairs Walter Robertson is greeted by UN Commander Gen. Mark Clark as he arrives in Tokyo. Robertson is enroute to Seoul, Korea, with a top-secret message for South Korean President Rhee from Pres. Eisenhower. (NEA Radiophoto)

Concession Hikes Hopes For Peace

SEOUL, June 25 —UP— South Korea's stubborn President Syngman Rhee backed down Thursday from his earlier demand for withdrawal of all Red Chinese troops from Korea before he would agree to a truce.

He made the important concession as President Eisenhower's personal representative arrived in Korea with a warning that a split between the United States and South Korea on the proposed truce would hand victory in the three years' war to the Communists.

Walter Robertson, assistant secretary of state, carried with him from Washington a final "save-the-truce" offer from United States Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"Division now," he warned, "would result only in a victory for the enemy and needless sacrifice of all for which our two countries have contributed so greatly in blood and treasure."

To Meet With Rhee

Robertson is expected to meet with Rhee Friday in a final bid to swing the South Korean president behind an armistice that would end the war which entered its fourth year Thursday.

Rhee's surrender on the issue of removal of all Chinese Red troops from Korea raised hopes that Robertson's mission will succeed.

Rhee told a crowd of 300,000 persons massed in Capitol Square on the third anniversary of the Korean war he had given the United Nations two blueprints for an armistice, and they could take their choice.

Originally, he said, he insisted on withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, including a million Chinese, as once proposed by the Communists and rejected by the United Nations.

Still Opposes Chinese

Rhee said he still opposed the presence of the Chinese on Korean soil after the armistice is settled, but believed this issue could be settled by negotiation.

His original proposal also called for a mutual security pact with the United States following an armistice and a three-month time limit on a political conference's attempt to unify Korea.

Need Studied For New Fire Sub-Stations

The possibility of two fire substations for Pampa loomed today as City Manager B. H. Cruce and Fire Chief Ernest Winborne prepared to leave for Plainview to inspect similar buildings erected there recently.

Cruce and Winborne expected to leave early Friday morning to inspect the sub-stations built by Plainview during the past year or two.

The city manager Wednesday afternoon hinted that Pampa may see two new sub-stations go up within a year—one on the south side of the Santa Fe tracks and the other, probably in the extreme northern edge of town.

Winborne, pointing out that Plainview is smaller than Pampa, said he wasn't sure whether two or three sub-stations had been built there. Cruce, too, said he wasn't sure how many the smaller city has built.

But the two want to take a look at the sub-stations to see how large they are, how many men are stationed in them, amount of equipment stored and their approximate location in relation to the central fire station and mid-town area.

Construction of sub-stations for Pampa has long been a question brought up by city officials from time to time since Pampa began reaching out geographically. Lack of an underpass at the Hobart railroad crossing forces firemen to take a "round-about" route to fires in the southwest section of town via the Cuyler underpass. Fires in the far corners of the northeast and northwest parts of town make firemen travel through the heavily congested mid-town area.

Sub-stations, Cruce and Winborne feel, would eliminate those problems and sharply cut the time used in getting to a fire.

The two first planned to visit Plainview today, but had to postpone it a day when the city manager remembered street paving bids were to be opened this morning.

DROUTH RELIEF MEASURES for the area are discussed by Paul Bowers, left above, Grandview, Clyde Carruth, center, county committee chairman for the Production and Marketing Association, and Clyde Brown, McLean, following a meeting of more than 100 farmers and cattlemen in the county courtroom Wednesday night. Gray Countians Plan To Ask Emergency Hay

Area farmers and cattlemen, seeking relief from a sustained drouth throughout the Panhandle, will ask Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson for emergency hay to tide them over for at least a three-month period.

A group of about 20 farmers and cattlemen will go to Lubbock Saturday to meet with the secretary who is scheduled to speak for the Southwestern Cotton Congress that morning and hold an open forum on farm policies in the afternoon.

The emergency hay was brought out as the most vital relief measure needed in the area at a meeting of more than 100 farmers in the county courtroom Wednesday night.

A discussion led by Clyde Carruth, county committee chairman for the Production and Marketing Association, brought out other possible relief measures, such as subsidies on cattle and no wheat acreage allotments this fall.

Only a few cattlemen indicated a desire for subsidies, however, commenting that such a program would initiate production control problems. Wheat allotments in the area are to be determined later on the basis of production throughout the wheat belt, it was pointed out.

Carruth mentioned to the group a possibility of working through the railroad and the government to obtain emergency hay at a low freight rate, making it worthwhile to maintain first-grade cattle in the area.

The group, called together by County Agent Ralph Thomas to determine the extent of relief needed in the area, also heard James Gouldy, farm home supervisor, Clarendon, explain the Farm Home Administration loan program in regard to present relief needs.

Area men and women planning to go to the Lubbock meeting include Cliff Vincent, Elmer Balch, J. L. Walters, Jack Brooks, Paul Wagoner, John Harnley, John Spearman, Hubert Keahey, Irvin Cole, Mrs. J. R. Spearman, O. S. Epperson, Claude Stanton, Sam Coberly, Carruth, E. O. Wedgeworth, Frank Carter, Quentin Williams, Buck Robinson, Clyde Gray and Thomas.

The delegation will meet at the county court house at 6 a.m. and go to Lubbock together.

Ranchers In Texas Ask Federal Aid

WASHINGTON June 25—UP—Texas ranchers appealed to the government Thursday to buy up and slaughter some of their drouth-stricken cattle to save them from financial disaster."

They went before the House Agriculture committee and outlined a proposed four-point program of government aid necessary to cope with the situation.

"The boys are at the end of their rope" Claud McCann, Victoria, Texas, testified.

Committee Chairman Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.) called the hearing to determine what emergency legislation is needed. He told a reporter the sun-baked Southwest is caught in the "most critical drouth since the dust bowl days' of 1934-46.

The cattlemen who have been forced to sell cattle at a sacrifice for lack of feed asked:

1. A government ruling that the area is a "disaster area."

2. Shipping of government subsidized feed into the area.

3. Government credit aid. "If we sell at today's prices we're out of business" McCann testified. "Any money the government puts up it's not going to lose—if it ever rains."

4. Government purchase and slaughtering of cattle with the beef held off the market in cold storage at least temporarily or possibly shipped abroad.

Some farm congressmen have urged that the government buy 2 million to 4 million head. McCann recommended no specific figure.

Red Troops Strike In Violent Attack

BULLETIN

SEOUL, Friday, June 26. — (AP)— The Chinese Communists hurled 8,500 troops against South Korean positions on the western and central fronts Thursday night in a violent beginning of the fourth year of the Korean War.

South Korean infantrymen, observing the third anniversary of the invasion of their country by North Koreans, killed or wounded 500 Chinese in repulsing Red attacks on two vital central front positions.

The Chinese, whose "volunteer" army entered the war in the fall of 1950 to save the fleeing, disorganized North Koreans, made an abortive attack on vital Sniper Ridge which guards the Chorwon Valley invasion route into South Korea.

B-29s Attack Supply Centers

About 700 Chinese took part in the "war anniversary" assault, but only 300 survived to flee down the slopes of Sniper Ridge through a narrow valley to their positions, leaving their dead and wounded behind them.

Thirteen B-29 Superforts from Okinawa droned through overcast skies to drop 130 tons of 500-pound bombs into troop and supply centers at Tammal and Wadong, 18 miles north of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

Clouds obscured the area, restricting Fifth Air Force light bombers to radar - controlled strikes against front-line targets.

Off the east coast of North Korea, three American aircraft carriers sent fighter-bombers into the air to hit gun emplacements near battered Wonsan harbor.

Pampa Will File Airline Petition

Pampa's petition for investigation of airline needs in the area will be filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board by July 10 in conjunction with a petition to be filed June 30 by the Southwestern Airline Congress headquarters in Dallas.

Petition form was received today in the local chamber of commerce office in communication from Andy Deshone, secretary of the 12-man steering committee of the congress, Dallas.

The local aviation committee, headed by Frank Culberson, had previously agreed to file the petition which is part of a campaign to improve and set up new routes for airline service between Dallas and 55 cities in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana.

No definite routes or airlines are to be named in the petitions, it was pointed out.

Murdered Sweetheart's Mom Testifies At Trial In Vernon

VERNON, Tex., June 25—UP—The 18-year-old girl whom Walter E. Whitaker Jr. is accused of strangling laughed and cried "hysterically" the night she disappeared, her mother testified in the Wethersfield, Conn., air cadet's murder trial.

Mrs. Lena B. White of Lubbock, Tex., widowed mother of Joyce Fern White, was the first state witness called after a 12th juror was selected late Wednesday.

After Joyce disappeared, Mrs. White testified, the defendant consoled her and helped in a search for her daughter.

The air cadet, who formerly was stationed at Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock, gave Lubbock officers a statement admitting he strangled Joyce Fern with a venetian blind sash cord, stripped off her clothing and buried both her nude body and the clothes in a lonely field near Lubbock.

Twenty days after the Lubbock high school senior disappeared Jan. 18, Whitaker led officers to her grave.

The state is demanding that Whitaker be sentenced to death.

Whitaker looked directly at Mrs. White as she testified. But she looked at him only once, when asked to point him out.

Spectators jammed the courtroom after testimony started at 4 p.m. (cst.)

Mrs. White testified that Whitaker visited in her home the night Joyce vanished.

She said she last saw her daughter alive when she retired and left Joyce and Whitaker sitting on the couch.

'Laughing... and Crying'

Soon after, the mother testified, she heard the front door open and close and "Joyce was laughing... and crying... hysterically."

She said she called out, "Joyce, why is White leaving so early?" "And that Joyce answered, " 'I don't know.' "

IN AMARILLO SLAYING

Murder Defendant Receives 99 Years

COLORADO CITY, Tex., June 25 —UP— Joseph Paul Lucas, a "poor homesick kid who had fallen into bad company," was convicted of murder late Wednesday night and sentenced to 99 years in prison.

SGT. LONNIE MILLS, local recruiting officer, is to report for duty July 10 at Fort Bliss, Texas, he announced today. His replacement has not been named. Sgt. and Mrs. Mills will move to the post where Sgt. Mills will be connected with the 4052nd Army Service Unit. He has served in Pampa since Feburary. (News Photo)

A jury which deliberated five hours and 32 minutes found the 20-year-old airman from Tamaqua, Pa., guilty of murdering Victor Smith, an Amarillo, Tex., service station attendant during a $70 robbery last Jan. 6.

The youth's father, Joe Lucas of Tamaqua, cried quietly when the verdict was returned at 10:22 p.m. The airman's mother attended the trial, but was not in the courtroom Wednesday night.

Young Lucas nervously rubbed his wrists and held his hand as the jury deliberated, but that was his only visible show of emotion.

No Defense Witnesses

His two court-appointed attorneys, Johnny Moore, of Colorado City and Connally Lockhart of Amarillo, called no witnesses, but pleaded eloquently in the Pennsylvania airman's behalf.

Lockhart asked the jury to consider Lucas' age and the fact that "he was a poor homesick kid who has fallen into bad company."

attorney said the airman was confused and drunk the night of the murder.

Moore told the jury Lucas "was a boy who was raised in the little coal-mining town of Tamaqua, Pa.

"He had been sheltered all his life and at the age of 18 he went into the Army," the attorney said.

Moore referred frequently to Lucas as "a baby" and "a kid" and said "his only crime that night was being homesick, lonesome and drunk."

Firecrackers Cause Blaze

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne today warned parents of Pampa youngsters to "keep an eye peeled" on them when they are shooting firecrackers.

His warning followed the first firecracker fire of the year, reported at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Ray Burgess, 629 N. Russell.

Some 12-15 youngsters were on hand when firemen arrived on the scene, Winborne said, pointing out that the only damage was to a mattress, quilt and clothing. No adults were present.

Though no one was hurt in this particular fire, the chief continued, there is always the chance that "some kid'll lose a finger" or be otherwise injured.

For in the matter of 'crackers, he said, there are the twin possibilities of fire and injury. His advice is that parents, if they do let their children have 'crackers, stay with them while they shoot them off. A city ordinance prohibits setting 'crackers off inside the city limits.

Three hours before, there was another fire alarm at the edge of Magnolia Petroleum Company, on the east end of Kingsmill. "Just a grass fire, didn't amount to anything," said Winborne.

Industrial Brochure To Be Published Here

A revised industrial type brochure went to the printer today and 10,000 copies will be ready for distribution from the chamber of commerce office in a few days.

The pamphlets will contain information about Pampa and its trade area in picture and story form and will serve as mailing pieces for people seeking information.

Howard Vineyard is chairman of the publicity committee in charge of the publication.

FHA Preparing Disaster Loans

James Gouldy, Farm Home Administration supervisor, Clarendon, told a group of more than 100 farmers Wednesday night the FHA is prepared to make disaster loans to any farmer or cattlemen unable to get credit elsewhere.

The loans are unlimited, he stated, and the normal time limit of one year has been extended another year because of the current circumstances brought about by four years of drouth in the area.

Loans carry an interest rate of three per cent, Gouldy pointed out, and will be made for farm operational costs or feed for livestock.

Gouldy is to be back in Pampa at 1 p.m. Monday in the county agent's office to discuss the FHA plan with any interested farmer or rancher. He is to set up a temporary office in Pampa with visits scheduled at least once a week, but pointed out his Clarendon office is open to visitors from the area at any time.

Loans will be processed as quickly as possible, Gouldy stated, following application by individual farmers, approval by a three-man county committee, and final processing at FHA Dallas headquarters.

'Harmless' Snake

Adult leaders and boys at Camp Ki-o-Wah are instructed not to kill every snake they see around the camp because most of them are harmless. They are part of nature, part of the great out-doors, they are told.

But one day this camping season, two young Boy Scouts found an empty tobacco can and used it to house a small snake they found. Taking it to the dining hall, they asked Scout Executive Paul Beisinherz what kind of a snake they had. The executive dumped the wriggler on the ground and saw—a baby rattler!

One of them looked at the other and exclaimed:

"And, you dropped that thing down the back of my "T" shirt!"

Prairie Village Getting Telephones

Approximately 125 130 telephones are being installed in Prairie Village this week and phone service in the area will be available at least by next Tuesday, according to George Newberry, Southwestern Bell company manager.

Cutover for the service is planned for Saturday, Newberry said, but definite service is promised for next week.

Installation of the new service began with the unexpected delivery of a 606-pair cable early this week. Operations have been underway there for about 90 days.

About 125 people will get phones at once, Newberry estimated and others will receive service later. Sixty new applications were taken Wednesday.

All types of service will be available, although most people have requested two-party lines in the area.

The 606 cable can serve 600 private lines, 1200 two-party lines or 2,400 four-party lines.

Tom Capps, 1101 Huff, the first applicant from the area, will be the first to receive telephone service.

Panel Amends Rule In Kid Pony Show

Barrel race entries will be optional and the cutting horse contest will be eliminated from this year's Kid Pony Show to be held in connection with the ninth annual Top o' Texas Rodeo, Aug. 4-8, it was announced today.

Rules for the show were amended at a meeting of the Kid Pony Show committee Wednesday night with Bob Andis serving as chairman.

Participants in the show will not be required to enter the barrel race but must enter at least one other event in the show, according to the amendment.

It was decided to substitute a boot race for the cutting horse contest for girls in group 3, aged 11 through 13, and a separate calf roping contest be held for boys in that age group.

Calf roping contest for boys 14 through 16 is to follow the one for group 3 and each contestant will be limited to one loop.

It was also decided to have cutting horse contest judges to serve as judges in the Kid Pony Show.

Judges are to be selected later by the cutting horse committee, headed by Guy Andis.

Members of the Kid Pony Show committee present were John Pitts T. Buck Hines, George Dillman, Quentin Williams, Paul Crouch, Joe Looper and Andis.

'Strangler' To Die

LONDON, June 25 —UP—John R. Christie, the "strangler of Notting Hill" who confessed at least seven sex murders, was sentenced to death Thursday for killing his wife.

Nine men and three women began their deliberations at 4:04 p.m. 9:04 a.m. cst.

They were under instructions from the presiding judge to base their verdict solely on Christie's admitted killing of his wife last Dec. 14. The other murders he confessed were introduced to bolster the defense contention that the bald former trucking clerk was insane.

Judge Sir Donald Finnemore, 64-year-old bachelor head of Britain's National Sunday School Union, told the jury in his final instructions the insanity plea must be "considered carefully."

The defense contended in its final statement that any man must be mad who "has intercourse with a dead body or a dying body, . who lived with dead bodies in the house and then let the premises to people who would notice the smell in five minutes."

There was "no dispute" that Christie killed his wife, Finnemore said. He confessed she was among at least seven women he gassed and choked to death in his Notting Hill murder house.

Finnemore said the 55-year-old defendant was "only charged with murdering his wife and that is the only charge" on which the jurors should base their verdict.

ALVIN LEWIS
. . . saved a life

White Deer Man Gets Merit Award

WHITE DEER (Special) — A White Deer man who applied artificial respiration and first-aid treatment to a Pampan who came in contact with a 13,000-volt line today received a Certificate of Merit from the American Red Cross.

Alvin Lewis, 31, an employe of the Northern Natural Gas Company, was presented the award this morning in a regular chapter meeting of the Carson County Red Cross in the Panhandle courthouse. Presentation was made by A. A. Callahan, county chairman.

It was the 68th such award to be given to a Texan and the 451st to be granted in the United States since they were begun in 1913.

It was the afternoon of Jan. 12 when Lewis aided Lonnie Kotara, 31, a Pampa well-dogging contractor, who suffered second- and third-degree burns on his legs and injuries to his face and hands when a gin pole on his truck tangled with a Southwestern Public Service Company high line.

Mishap occurred on the Clyde Bobbitt farm, some five miles southeast of White Deer.

"Kotara looked just as dead as anybody I ever saw when I reached him," Lewis, a former Red Cross trainee, said at the time.

The award, highest that is granted by the Red Cross, bears the names of President Eisenhower, the president of the Red Cross and the national director of safety. Eisenhower is honorary Red Cross chairman.

Kaiser's Aircraft Contract Cancelled

WASHINGTON, June 25 —(AP)— Cancellation of Henry J. Kaiser's aircraft contracts left the Air Force Thursday with no transport plane on order of the specialized "assault" type desired by the Army for airborne operations.

The action not only knocked out Kaiser contracts for C-119 cargo planes but for the C-123 assault transport which was deigned to carry troops and equipment from rough, short landing fields into enemy rear areas seized by paratroops.

In announcing the cancellations Wednesday, Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott emphasized they were "completely independent" of a Senate investigation of Kaiser's C-119 contract.

An armed services subcommittee has been looking into charges that Kaiser charges for the big flying boxcar were "excessive." After Talbott's action, hearings were recessed indefinitely.

Five States Beset By Severe Drouth

DALLAS, June 25 —UP— The temperature soared to 113 degrees in heat-stricken Texas Wednesday and a federal soil expert called the Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana drouth the "longest and the most severe and widespread in history."

Houston, Texas' largest city, joined countless others and imposed stiff water restrictions in an effort to conserve a dwindling municipal supply.

At El Paso, a group of angry women stormed into a real estate developer's office carrying buckets and demanded the pails be filled with water. They complained their homes had been without water for more than 18 hours.

At Austin, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported in its weekly crop and weather bulletin that cotton, sorghum and corn were wilting throughout Texas and that high temperatures and lack of rain combined to present a gloomy crop and livestock picture for practically all the state.

The Rio Grande has been dry along almost 300 miles of its course through Texas, from above Laredo to the Gulf of Mexico, for almost three weeks.

The high maximum temperature reading of 113 degrees Wednesday at Presidio, Tex., was the highest recorded in the state thus far this year.

Far to the north, Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle recorded its hottest temperature in history, 108 degrees. Borger's 108.5 degrees also was the highest temperature ever recorded in that Panhandle city.

Higgins Woman, 25, Dies; Rites Pending

Mrs. Artie Louise Green, 25, of Higgins, died at 5 a.m. today in Higgins Hospital.

Ft. Worth Firm Submits Low Bid On Paving Work

Ernest Lloyd, Fort Worth, appeared to be the low bidder this morning in paving at least 32 blocks of Pampa streets and seal coating eight blocks of Gwendolyn from Hobart to Zimmers.

Lloyd, just $20.50 under his nearest competitor, Ned B. Hoffman, also of Fort Worth, was low with a total cost of $17,775. Hoffman's bid was for $17,795.50. Other bidders and their bids were: Cooper and Woodruff, Amarillo, $19,580, and N. Baerrow, Pampa, $21,218.

Seal coating for Gwendolyn will be one-course asphalt treatment while the new paving will be the usual two course asphalt treatment. Lloyd's bid called for $1,212.80 and for the approximate 32 blocks of paving, $16,562.

The call for bids stipulated 21 blocks of paving plus an estimated additional 11 blocks. There could be more turn up, city officials said, but the 11 blocks are all that they foresee now.

In square yardage, the Gwendolyn street seal coating job will run 9,700 square yards and the 32 blocks 62,500 square yards.

Only Cruce, Acting Director of Public Works Fred Brook and City Engineer Wayland Merriman were present for the bids openings. The bids will be tabulated and examined before being presented to the City Commission next week when a contract is to be let.

Topping for the 1953 paving program will get under way, during the summer months rather than waiting until the cooler autumn months as was the policy in previous years.

Truck, Car In Collision Here

It didn't happen the usual way on Frederic, west of Barnes, as two vehicles were waiting for the red light to change.

Mrs. Lavata G. Luster, 23, of 413 Pitts, was behind Henry Farrow, 52, of Amarillo, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Both were headed east on Frederic, awaiting a green light, according to city police.

Then Farrow backed his truck into Mrs. Luster's car, causing estimated damages of $150 to her vehicle. Farrow was on his way to unload his truck at the Hom and Gee Grocery, on the north side of Frederic, police said.

This time the citation couldn't be for following another vehicle too closely. It had to be driving on the wrong side of the street—and it was.

Mrs. Ralston Succumbs Here

Mrs. Mary E. Ralston, 93, died at 4:30 a.m. today in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Noel, 1445 N. Russell, where she had been living for the past two years.

Funeral services were pending today with the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery by the side of her husband, John W. Ralston, who died in 1935.

Born Feb. 22, 1860, in Jarbalo, Kan., Mrs. Ralston moved to White Deer in 1950 from Supply, Okla. The next year she moved to Pampa.

Another survivor is a son, A. J. Ralston, Hereford.

Mercury Slips Amid Dust-Filled Skies

All of a sudden, it got cooler in Pampa.

And after dirt, dust and humid temperatures had been plaguing the area, too.

This morning's cool and clear breezes was keeping local mercury down to the point where it was only 755 55d5egrees at 11:30 a.m. That followed today's low of 63 and Wednesday's high of 104.

Though only a couple of spots of rain were seen in the downtown area Wednesday afternoon, the KPDN transmitter, east of town, reported .05 of an inch of it there.

The welcome breezy front which kept Pampans cool at noon today extended from the Canadian border of Minnesota southward as far as the Texas Panhandle, according to the United Press.

But the local forecast did not differ much. A "fair amount" of blowing dust, scattered thundershowers and — no relief from the drouth.

Wheelock Rites Slated Friday

Funeral services for Irwin O. (Cap) Wheelock, 46, of Cities Service camp southeast of Pampa, have been scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church, Mooreland, Okla., according to Cities Service officials.

Mr. Wheelock died Monday night in an Amarillo hospital following a fist-fight in Pampa with Clyde A. Gumm, 44, of Port Lavaca, who has been charged with murder and is free on $3,500 bond.

Poppy Salesmen Get Show, Swim Tickets

A theater ticket or swim ticket for all Boy and Girl Scouts who assisted in the Poppy Sale has been voted by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Mike Roach, chairman of the Poppy committee, and Mrs. J. N. Turner, assistant chairman, urge all the Scouts to pick up their tickets from Mrs. Frank Shotwell, Auxiliary president, at the Red Cross office.

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Await Delegates On Canadian Dam

Boosters of the Canadian River Dam were still waiting for the 12 cities to complete naming their representatives to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority Board of Directors this morning.

Former Mayor C. A. Huff, Pampa, named by the City Commission recently to the board according to the bill creating the water district, said he has had no official word from any of the cities or from Atty. Bryce Huegenin, Dallas, attorney for the Canadian River Water Users Association, on whether all of the cities have named their representatives.

Huff added he understood, unofficially, that Borger's representatives would in all likelinood, be George Finger, former Borger Mayor and Fritz Thompsho, former county commissioner, both veteran Canadian River Dam supporters. Fred Thompson is the other Pampa representative.

Home Service Meeting Set

French Wrangling Over Government

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

It may be that the French finally are about ready to get down to business.

Thursday is the beginning of the sixth week in which France has been without a government. It has been the longest cabinet crisis in the history of the Fourth Republic, and has endured even as France skidded ever closer to bankruptcy.

Twice it has forced postponement of the Big Three Bermuda conference which could mark a turning point in the hot and cold wars between East and West.

The tenth man selected by President Vincent Auriol since May 21 to try to form a new government may be the successful one.

He is a little known right-of-center Independent party deputy named Joseph Laniel.

First reaction to Laniel among the 10 political parties making up the French assembly has been relatively good.

However, even should the 63-year-old Laniel be successful, the nature of the French government structure and the temper of the deputies is likely to make his a do-nothing government.

Laniel is a millionaire Normandy textile manufacturer who was active in the French resistance movement during the last war and also served with distinction in World War I.

Politically, his thinking is considered close to that of Georges Bidault, foreign minister in the fallen government of premier Rene Mayer. Which means he will give lip service to European unity and the European Army plan but will do little to bring them about.

He also will not raise taxes and also will do little about government spending which is making France one of the great debtor nations of Europe.

Hank Says Wives Are Terrible Things; To Do Without, That Is

By HENRY McLEMORE

The last column I wrote listed, I believe, eleven helpful hints for young American men who, during the month of June, will, or already have, promised to abandon all others in favor of a soft, sweet, cuddly, perfumed, nylon-destroying creature universally known as a wife.

As a rule, one column on a subject is sufficient. I've found that to be true, anyway. But when I ran out of space in advising young husbands, after only eleven bits of counsel, I felt it my bounden duty to add a few more.

I ask those of you husbands who have been sharing room and board with the fluffier sex for many years to be patient while I continue.

1. Don't lose your temper when your wife pays more for a dress or a hat than you can afford and then starts making it over the minute she gets in the house. Your blood pressure will stay closer to normal the sooner you realize that not even the greatest dressmaker or milliner has ever created anything exactly to the liking of a woman.

A woman will buy a dress because she loves the bow it has on the side, and then proceed to rip it off, as soon as she gets home. She'll spend seven hours in front of a mirror buying a hat only to run home with it and twist it into an entirely different shape.

2. Never forget that women are very strong, even if they are mites in size. When a spat comes, and they are sure to, don't try to show off your masculinity by saying, "All right, go ahead and hit me," when your wife starts winding up her right. There is many a punch-drunk husband walking the streets today because he underestimated the power of a woman. A safe motto for a husband is, "A knuckle is a knuckle, even though you married it."

3. Steel yourself for a long siege of back rubbing. In times of national crisis American wives have the strongest backs of any women in the world, but day in and day out their spines ache to high heaven, to hear them tell it. Forget about your own back. It may have more knots in it than they teach sailors to tie, but the last American husband to have his back rubbed (according to available statistics) was Martin Van Buren.

4. Even if your wife smokes like an old volcano, don't ever expect her to have a pack of cigarettes or matches of her own. You must carry cigarettes and matches for her, even though she is wearing a dress that has seventeen pockets. At home, a husband can get by with letting his wife go and get her own smoke, but out in company he has to jump up and down as if he were a nervous kangaroo.

Never get annoyed when your wife tries to light her own cigarette when there is even the tiniest wisp of a wind blowing, and she uses up a book of matches without success. Just say, "Leaping Moses, woman, won't you ever learn to cup your hands?" light it for her, and let it go at that.

5. Don't encourage a wife to knit or sew things for you. You can return an unsatisfactory garment to a store, but not since Genghis Khan has there been a man brave enough to tell a wife that the tie is too long, the socks are too tight, or the shirt buttons are on the wrong side.

6. Practice, and keep practicing, until you can say, "Yes, dear," without even knowing what you are saying. This will add years to your life.

7. Eat anything that is put before you, no matter if in your heart you know that a zoo dietitian would not put it on his or her menu.

8. Thank your lucky stars you're married. Terrible thing a wife — terrible to do without, that is.

COMBINED OPERATION—A prayer for daddy is a nightly ritual for Clifford and Janie Purdy, children of M/Sgt. Paul W. Purdy, of Atlanta, Ga., currently serving with the Army in the Far East. The children believe in combining forces to guarantee their daddy's safe return. They have a flag over their bed, and their father's picture at the foot of the bed. Clifford is four, his sister five.

Pride Is Luxury In Bridge Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South looked gloomily at the opening lead of the queen of spades. If any other suit had been led, South reflected, the game contract would have been easy.

West saw South's discomfiture and felt very proud of having picked best opening lead. As we shall see, however, pride went before a fall.

After some thought, declarer won the first trick with dummy's king of spades. He next returned a low diamond from the dummy, and then very properly put up the ace of diamonds at once in order to return his remaining spade.

This was a crushing blow. If East had played his low diamond, South would have won the first diamond trick and returned the suit to knock out east's ace. This would establish the rest of dummy's diamonds, with the ace of spades still in dummy as entry to the suit.

East's prompt action in putting up the ace of diamonds and returning a spade threatened to knock out the spade entry before the diamonds could be unblocked.

After some thought, South played a low spade from dummy, allowing West to hold the trick with the nine of spades. Now West made the fatal blunder of continuing the spades. Dummy won with the ace of spades, and South triumphantly discarded the blocking king of diamonds from his hand!

It was now a simple matter for declarer to cash the rest of dummy's diamonds, making his contract and an overtrick.

McLean's Wheat Harvest Complete

McLEAN — (Special) — The wheat harvest in this area is virtually complete.

Some McLean farmers have planted cotton and grain sorghums as many as three times. Some of this extra planting was caused by the extremely dry weather and some was caused by blowing sand and high winds.

Those farmers who have rows of crops running north and south have suffered the greatest losses.

With moisture being about 50 per cent deficient for the year, it is surprising to find any crops at all. However, those who have seeded acreage to African love grass are able to continue in the cattle business. Some of this grass is reported to be knee high and is producing some seed crop and others are reporting that the grass is supporting the cattle.

Besides the usual cotton, feed grains and cattle, the McLean area usually produces several hundred truck loads of watermelons. But unless rain comes very soon, this will just be another loss.

Gavel Club Will Meet For Dinner

Members of the Eastern Star Gavel Club will meet in the home of Mrs. W. M. Voyles, 1001 S. Hobart, this evening at 6:30. Mrs. W. P. Vincent will be co-hostess at the dinner meeting.

Secret pal gifts will be exchanged and pals will be revealed. All members are urged to attend this meeting as new secret pals will be drawn.

Various games will be played during the evening. A short business session will be held with Mrs. W. R. Morrison presiding.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Friend

Our little boy of two is very cruel to our dog and cat.

He seems to like them most of the time and then all of a sudden he will deliberately hurt them and laugh to see them run howling away.

We feel that we should be doing something about this but the boy is so young it seems hard to know how to go about it.

My husband suggested that you might have some ideas to offer on the subject.

Mrs. K.

Dear Mrs. K,

I wouldn't worry too much at the so called cruelties of a boy of two. He just isn't old enough yet to know that he is being cruel and I doubt if he knows that the animals are howling in pain. I imagine he likes to create the excitement of the dog or cat running off yipping and so pulls a tail or an ear to get them started. At two he just couldn't be deliberately mean.

After he is older he can be taught not to hurt the animals but now you had better just keep him away from the dog and the cat.

BRIDESMAIDS

Dear Mrs. Friend

I am going to be married this summer in a small home ceremony.

I am planning to have just one bridesmaid. My question is would it be proper to have my only sister be the bridesmaid or should I ask my fiance's sister?

Of course I would like to have my sister but I wouldn't hurt my fiance's feelings for the world.

Jane

Dear Jane

By all means ask your sister to be the bridesmaid.

Invite your fiance's sister to take charge of the guest book or serve the wedding cake.

Manners Make Friends

An acquaintance telephones to invite you and your husband to dinner and you have to check with your husband before you can definitely accept the invitation. Don't say: "If I don't call you back we'll be there." It's much better to say, "I'll call you back as soon as I have checked with Bob."

The way to avoid mixups and misunderstandings is to take the trouble to be efficient in the first place.

TIPS FOR TASKS

Test the weave of a sheet by rubbing it between your fingers. If a powdery substance comes off, you'll know it contains sizing and won't stand up under washing.

Mrs. Joe Marsell Is Installed Senior Regent At Women Of The Moose Banquet

Mrs. Joe Marsell was intalled as senior regent at the Women of the Moose installation banquet and initiation Wednesday evening in Moose Hall. Mrs. Frank Worthington will assist Mrs. Marsell as junior regent.

Guest speaker for the evening was Judge Edward C. Fisher of Canadian. His topic was "The Achievements Of The Women Of The Moose."

Mrs. Bill Henderson will be chaplain for the new term and Mrs. Elvana Brumley will be treasurer. Mrs. Clarence Brown will be recorder. Mrs. Charlie Webb is outgoing senior regent.

College of regents of the Borger Women of the Moose were the installing officers. Mrs. Dorthy Steele will have charge.

Decorations were carried out with a summer theme. The center attraction was the heart, the symbol of the women of the Moose. Table decorations were small fences with little bird houses interlaced with greenry.

The stage carried out the summer theme with the fence interspersed with flowers and greenery. The programs were small hats. The mint cups were wheel barrows with tiny shovels.

The membership chapter development committee had charge of the program for the evening.

Mrs. Ray Dean Noland was initiated into the organization. Mrs. Charlie Webb, out-going senior regent, had charge of the initiation. Mrs. Mary Jane Stout of Amarillo who is state deputy grand regent attended that part of the service.

Attending the initiation were Mmes. G. O. Cunningham, Roy Hall, Bill Morse, Joe Marsell, Sam Williams, Elvana Brumley, Marie Horn, M. F. Waggoner, Frank Worthington, Vena Riley, Tom Cotter, R. C. Rainey, Joe Lee, Helene Madeira, Earl Miller, Clarence Brown, Bill Henderson, Roy Lewter, Oscar Casey; Misses Lucille Moore, Evelyn Shockley.

Borger college of regents attending were Mmes: Dorthy Steele, Madge Kelley, Lucy Stull, Vinita Norman and Vessie Weddington.

WEDDING PLANNED — Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee of Shamrock announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirley June, of Shamrock, to Bill Epps, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Epps of Pampa. The wedding has been scheduled for July 12 at the First Baptist Church in Shamrock with the pastor, Rev. James O. Todd, officiating. Miss Lee is a graduate of Shamrock High School where she was chosen class favorite during her junior year. She served as Sweetheart of the Rotary Club for two years. She is a junior student at West Texas State College, Canyon, a music major with special work in piano and voice. She is a member of the Treble Ensemble and a member of Jazzibelles, a vocal quintet. Epps is a graduate of Pampa High School and a junior student at WTSC, Canyon, where he is a physical education major. He is also a member of the a cappella choir and a member of the Varsity Quartet.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

As a child, I had a "best" friend. Her name was Hanno.

Her father was literary, learned and very excited about "social injustice." So was her mother, an ex-schoolteacher.

Hanno had an alarm clock. Whenever she came to our house to play, she brought it. Always, it was set to ring to give her the precise five and a half minutes she needed to reach home.

When we were little, we'd set the clock on the porch step while we ran about the lawn. Later, we'd put it on my bedroom bureau while we settled down to talk. But whether we were big or little, the alarm clock's ring always displaced Hanno's happiness with anxiety.

It screamed at her, "See? You never thought of coming home yourself on time, did you? See how you need me to tell you everything to do?"

We curtsied to grownups, Hanno and I. I enjoyed doing it because it was such an easy way to make grownups think, "What a polite little girl!" But Hanno hated curtsying. Her face would go pale and blank when she had to.

Hanno's mother would say in her cold, patronizing voice, "Hurry up. Say you've had a nice time and make your curtsy!" Fascinated, we children would watch, waiting for Hanno to give in.

As a child, I could not consciously register the fact that Hanno was fighting for her life on these occasions. But we do not remain children. We grow up. We begin to consciously register.

I began to register what the demand for submission had done to Hanno the day I found her dead drunk in her studio. I finished registering the morning I was telephoned that she'd killed herself. It was the eve of her 29th birthday.

Whenever I think of her, the first word that comes to my mind is "waste."

Funny isn't it?—that people who get angry at injustice on a world-wide scale should be so proficient at dispensing it on the local one.

Anyway, Hanno's story is for a reader who wants to know how to "make" her 12-year-old daughter obey her.

If I knew, I wouldn't tell her.

Except for young children, I don't believe in obedience to people. I believe in obedience to moral law. This requires us to protect children's integrity. If we can't adjust our demands for obedience so they do protect this integrity, our demands are abuse of personal power.

Demands for submission to us personally are not American. They make you and me the law. Making them destroys children's loyalty to freedom.

First Methodist Church Circles Meet In Homes Of Members For Special Study

Two circles of the First Methodist Church met Wednesday morning for study in the homes of members.

Circle Three met in the home of Mrs. John Hessey, 304 N. West. Mrs. Sam B. Cook was in charge of the program. Which was taken from the "World Outlook." The theme of the program was "Ambassadors For Christ Must Know The Way."

Officers were elected with Mrs. John Hessey, chairman. Mrs. Irving Cole was elected assistant chairman. Other officers include Mrs. George Eyler, secretary; and Mrs. La Don Bradford, treasurer.

Circle Four met with Mrs. H. W. Odham, the chairman. Business session was held after organization was held.

The officers elected were Mrs. Robert Futtrell, assistant chairman; Mrs. C. S. Richardson, secretary; Mrs. Coyle Ford, treasurer. Mrs. Vernon Stuckey was elected to handle Christian social relations office.

Attending were Mmes. Richardson, Stuckey, Odham and Neel J. Malloy, a new member.

The next circle meetings will be held in August.

Extension Department Officers Have Meeting

Officers of the extension department of the First Baptist Church met this afternoon in the parlor of the church for a regular business meeting.

Mrs. F. E. Leech, superintendent of the department, had charge of the business meeting.

Copies of the magazine, "Home Life," were handed out. These magazines will be delivered to members of the extension department for study.

Scheduled to attend were Mrs. R. W. Tucker, associate superintendent; Mrs. Lewis Hollar, secretary; and visitors, Mmes. Joe Foster, Edwin Finson, C. V. Forsman, Nelle Earp, Eula Riggs, Rix Reneau, J. C. Withrow; and Bill Coley.

When you wield your broom, don't sweep the dust literally "up." Instead, use short, floor-paralleling strokes, ending each one on the floor.

RUTH MILLETT

I received this letter recently from a worried wife. She writes:

"This may not sound like a very serious problem, but it is one I don't know how to handle. My husband has such poor table manners that it embarrasses me to entertain dinner guests.

"But worse yet, the other day our 13-year-old daughter came to me privately and told me she wished her Dad had nicer manners."

That is a ticklish problem. Adults are mighty touchy about having their manners corrected, especially by a husband or wife.

But, perhaps, this wife can work out a tactful solution. She might tell her family: "We've been getting rather careless about our table manners lately. So let's pretend that every night is 'guest night' at our house.

"I'll use our best silver and china for dinner every night and I'll serve the food as attractively as I can, then let's see if we can make our manners match."

UNAWARE OF MANNERS

In that way, perhaps, she can make her husband conscious of the necessity for good table manners.

The reason he doesn't have good manners is probably because he just doesn't realize that his are so undesirable.

If the rest of the family starts talking about good manners it may wake him up to the carelessness that has become a habit with him.

If it doesn't then his wife may decide to tell him frankly that she wishes he would be more careful of his table manners because of the example he sets the children and because she wants him always to appear at his best before others.

That certainly would be kinder than letting his children grow up feeling ashamed of him.

The Arctic rose gull, with its beautifully rose-tinted breast, is seldom found south of the Arctic Sea. It is also called "Ross' Gull" because it was discovered by Sir James Clark Ross on a "northwest passage" voyage in the 1820's.

MENTAL ILLNESS may not be mental

Dreaded "mental" diseases of the past have been proved to be physical illnesses. Now the Ladies' Home Journal presents startling new evidence that many of today's mentally ill—even those cases called "hopeless"—may be cured by treating the body. Be sure to get your copy of the July Journal today and read the eye-opening article Is Mental Disease Mental?

COAL SEAT FOR JOHN L. LEWIS—This shiny rocking chair is made of dirty black coal, and represents what may be the first attempt to sculpture in anthracite coal. Charles L. Cunningham, of Lansford, Pa., creator of the novel rocker, is keeping his polishing method a secret. He plans to give the chair to Mine Union Boss John L. Lewis.

McLean Youth Wins Degree In Medicine

McLEAN — (Special) — The Rev. and Mrs. J. Edwin Kerr are in Chicago to witness the graduation of their son, J. Edwin Kerr, Jr., who is receiving his degree in medicine from the University of Illinois Medical School. Dr. Kerr is a veteran of World War II, a Korean veteran of 18 months' service and a graduate of Iowa State University.

Rev. Kerr is the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of McLean and was invited by the Medical School to have a part on the program.

Proposed Adjournment Kept

WASHINGTON, June 24—UP—The Senate Republican Policy committee agreed unanimously Tuesday to keep July 31 as target date for adjournment of Congress. Chairman William F. Knowland reported the Senate will continue work on the pending bill to establish federal control of submerged sea lands beyond historic state boundaries, although minor measures will be sandwiched in before it is passed.

Business on Upgrade

WASHINGTON, June 24—UP—The Commerce Department reported Wednesday that business is still on the upgrade, with consumer income and spending showing further increases.

TAKING A LICKING—Peter, the pooch, gets an affectionate lick from his "sister" Gitta, a three-year-old lioness in the Busch circus, Munich, Germany. Peter and Gitta were both nursed through babyhood by Peter's mother and the dog spends nearly all his time in the big cat's cage.

Benefits Announced In Active Reserves

Opportunities offered Army Reservists by joining active reserve units have been pointed out to veterans in a current appeal.

Benefits include pay of a reservist's rank for each training assembly or day at camp with a unit; opportunities for advanced training at Army schools; retirement benefits which can amount to $90 or more a month for an enlisted man and opportunities for promotion.

These benefits are received from spending 15 days at summer camp, plus [illegible] in additional Reserve activities each year.

All men of draft age, it was pointed out, who entered military service after June 19, 1951, are required to serve eight years in active or reserve status and are subject to recall by the President any time during that period.

Prison Terms Reduced

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 24—UP—President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla Tuesday cut one-fifth off the prison terms of most inmates in Colombian jails to celebrate his inauguration in office.

Union Head Gets Offer

CINCINNATI, June 24 UP President Dave Beck of the AFL Teamsters Union Wednesday invited President Karl Feller of the CIO Brewery Workers to return his 75,000 union members to the AFL and join the Teamsters Union. Beck made the offer after a discussion of ways to end raiding by the two unions.

JOHNSON ★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Specialists in Rome have taken Patrice Wymore over the big health hurdle and promise that the stork will deliver the Errol Flynn heir without any serious complications. "We've never been closer," Pat cables of her domestic situation with Errol.

Esperanza Wayne, furious over the court's decision against her in her battle with John Wayne, is calling off her divorce action against the star. She tells pals that she has no desire to marry again and that she'll make it impossible for John to wed Pilar Palette.

Jack Benny will head the west-coast company of "The Seven-Year Itch" in the role of a husband who strays. The actress who will fill Vanessa Brown's sexy-model role hasn't been selected.

Comic Jack Gilford tells it in a national magazine:

Two Hollywood children got into an argument. Finally, as the controversy became more personal, one said: "My father can lick your father."

"Are you kidding?" leered the other. "Your father IS my father!"

Richard Carlson, turned director for "Riders to the Stars," also plays a role in the film and he's telling it: "I wanted to hold down production costs, so for me I work cheap." . . .Red Skelton, who had an idea about filming all - star shows in Las Vegas for next season's TV fare, has given up the brainstorm.

Keeps Men Satisfied

Marlene Dietrich's explanation of her enduring facination, in the July issue of a woman's magazine, is an eye-brow-lifter:

"It is a woman's job to sense the hungers in men and to satisfy them without, at the same time, giving so much of herself that men become bored with her. It is the same with acting. Each man, or woman, for that matter, should be able to find in the actress the thing he or she most desires and still be left with the promise that they will find something new and exciting every time they see her again."

Dan Dailey is telling pals that he will not re-sign with Fox because of a big television plunge with his own big variety show. . . .Steve Crane, Lana Turner's ex, leaves for France shortly after opening his Beverly Hills eatery, the Luau, in July, to untangle his marital knot with top French glamor star, Martine Carol.

HOLLYWOOD ON TV: The voice of Jimmy Durante's conscience and his song-writing pal, Jackie Barnett, debuts as a comic on the Saturday Night Revue July 4. . . . Arizona angels are financing Richard Arlen's telefilm series, "Rawhide Riley." Raymond Hatton will play his sagebrush sidekick. . . . After a year of delays, Roland Reed is about to film 13 stanzas of "Rocky Jones, Space Ranger," with science-fiction effects due to top all interstellar-TV operas. . . . Remember "I Wahl a Divorce" on radio? It's about to be translated into TV by its originator, Lou Forbes, with all the tears and misery TV fans seem to like.

Find a Way in

Inside reason why Hollywood's studio costume designers are secretly organizing into a union for the first time is to drive a wedge into the million-dollar telefilm industry. They'll demand a designer be assigned to every filmed TV show.

Vivien Leigh is so improved at the Olivier country house near London that she no longer needs round-the-clock nurses. The big complication in Vivien's life at the moment is powerful drugs she's been taking since her almost-fatal attack of tuberculosis. The drugs finally affected her nervous system and were responsible for her complete emotional crackup. Doctors are searching for something that will protect her lungs and not injure the nervous system.

The late Glenn Miller's trombone solos couldn't be reproduced on the stereophonic sound track, so Joe Yukl's ghosting them for "The Glenn Miller Story" at U-I. Jimmy Stewart plays Glenn in the film.

Bob Mitchum is more excited about his first published tune, "Hey, Mr. Cotton Picker," written in collaboration with Dok Stanford, than his whole movie carer. The hillbilly-flavored tune has sold over a million records. Bob says he'll wax his own platters as a guitar-playing recording artist when his RKO contract expires.

Overheard: "He's made so much money in TV that he's making out his will to KITH and KINescope."

Conant & McCarthy

We don't always quarrel with Sen. Joe McCarthy. But when he looks Dr. James Conant, former president of Harvard University, in the eye and says "I have no objection to you as an educator" Joe is getting way out of his element.

We have strong objection to Conant as an educator and we do agree with Joe when he told Congress that "I frankly think you are not doing a good job as the high commissioner" (for the United States in Germany).

Conant, it will be remembered by readers of this column, was the gent who said in effect that there ought to be a law in this country banning private and parochial schools because they are "divisive."

This is a left-handed way of saying that Conant wants all of our youngsters turned out of a mould, each like the rest, and all believing in the statism of government control of schools. Conant complains that even though only a small per cent of the children of the country will get the advantage of non-government schooling and this will set them apart (and presumably above) the youngsters who are subjected to public school training.

It is apparent that Dr. Conant prefers a Russian type sort of school system where the kids are lined up and taught Soviet doctrine and no one is allowed to be "different" than his fellows. Such a course is, naturally, a preparation of the coming generation to be staunchly in favor of big government, opposed to freedom and free enterprise, and indifferent to the rights of individuals so long as the all-wise top kick in charge of the government is happy and "the State is served well."

This viewpoint is reflected in the approach of Conant to the use of roughly 30,000 Communist books in United States government libraries around the world, including Germany where Conant is high cockalorum.

When Sen. McCarthy brought out the information that the government of the United States is giving tacit approval of these Communist writings, Dr. Conant didn't want to be in the position of saying that he was in favor of the doctrine and expressions in the books. eNither did he want to be on record as disapproving the books and said, in answer to a direct question that he would have no objection to having the books in a college library. Actually Conant showed his true colors when he admitted under questioning that his real concern was not in the books nor their approval but in his regret that McCarthy had seen fit to make public the disclosures he has concerning the books. McCarthy countered with the opinion that Americans were paying for the books and were entitled to know that the government libraries were circulating literature by Communists and fellow travelers.

It is a curious thing to many Americans that with all of the people there are in the United States that the Eisenhower administration had to dig up Conant to be the U. S. High Commissioner for Germany.

His opinion on the question of a school system for the United States that would eliminate private and parochial institutions and his left-handed approval of books by Communists and fellow travelers, added to his defense of two men which McCarthy charged were unfit to hold government positions in Germany all add up to the lifting of an eyebrow even by those who have been enthusiastic supporters of the Eisenhower administration. These facts, coupled with Conant's budget request of $40,000,000 for his office for next year that will come out of the pockets of American taxpayers, have forced many to wonder just what sort of a man they have representing the highest United States authority in Germany.

Gas Regulation

Within the memory of most people, natural gas has become a cheap and abundant fuel for cooking and heating our homes. It got that way because there were people willing to gamble their money and time on the tremendous task of drilling gas wells, because other people built pipelines to transport the gas long distances from the producing gas fields and because still other people engaged in the business of distributing the gas from the pipelines to homes and factories.

It's a big and complicated operation—sending gas from Texas ground to the burners of kitchen stoves elsewhere. It's conceivable, however, that this vast operation could dry up at the source, if a court decision rendered in Washington last week is not reversed on appeal by the Supreme Court.

The Washington court ruled that the Federal Power Commission, which does not presently regulate the price charged by most gas producers, must do so under existing laws. The pipe line companies and the gas distributing companies are public utilities and their rates are regulated by the FPC or State public utilities commissions. Why not control gas rates right at the source, by regulating as well the fellow who brings it out of the ground?

There are 200 reasons why such regulation wouldn't be sound—the approximate number of independent producers of natural gas. Without the incentive which now exists under prices set by competition in the market place, their numbers would be greatly reduced by merger and failure until only a few large companies controlled existing fields. Under regulated prices, incentive to drill new wells, explore new fields and develop presently untapped mineral wealth would be drastically diminished. Eventually, supplies would shrink and the price to the consumer, in spite of all the regulations, would soar.

There is no surer way to strangle enterprise and create monopolies than by regulating competition and incentive out the window.

"Peace Through World Government?"

III

Here is the last installment of an article from "Faith and Freedom" and written by David Targ, a counselor at law practicing in New York City.

Mr. Targ continues his article as follows:

"What kind of morality can a world government have, and what kind of freedom would its world citizens have, if the world government permitted its members to engage in such practices as the secret police measures of the Iron Curtain countries, or the colonial policies of the French in Africa, to mention only a few of the more obvious horrors. Are we to abandon our efforts, feeble though they are, to combat these practices when committing ourselves to work for political security?

"Who is to determine whether a particular state should be guaranteed its political security? The United States takes great pride in its Point Four program. We are helping, so we think, the underpriviledged countries in the world. In doing so, we are overly careful in the administration of this program so as not to interfere with the political set - up in the country being helped.

"Why do we take such pains to keep clear of politics? Presumably for the reason that if we were to meddle in internal affairs, our aid would be rejected with a cry of imperialism. But Mr. Justice Douglas, who traveled a great deal in some of the Eastern countries, suggested that we encourage peasant revolts, because the existing political set - up in some of these countries was such that no matter what help we gave the country, the people, as opposed to the ruling class, would get very little benefit.

The Cause Of War

"It seems to me that before there can be a peaceful world, it will be necessary for us to understand why there is no peace. It is too superficial and too sophomoric an answer to say that war is caused by the Hitlers and the Stalins in the world. If it were not a Hitler, it would be a Goering or a Gobbels, and if not a Stalin, then a Malenkov or a Molotov. Wars have been an evil concomitant of civilized society ever since history was recorded. What, then, are the conditions which give rise to wars? Certainly they are not merely the differing political philosophies which are in current vogue, for we had wars long before Karl Marx saw the light of day.

"It is my firm belief that the evils of war, and of poverty, totalitarianism and a host of other social maladies, are but the suppurations of a festering economic system, and that the drive toward war is in almost direct proportion to the sickness of the economy. An authoritarian state can never be peaceful because it can never be healthy; even if such a nation is unable to carry on a war against other nations, it is still at war with its own citizens.

"World - wide competition between free men is the condition to be encouraged, for it leads to a virile, strong society! This country, as an example, owes its strength in no small measure to the free market which our founding fathers provided for in our Constitution.

"It is unfortunate, but true, that we are fast losing our freedom in this country; there are many in and out of government who keep chipping away at our heritage. We are becoming so befuddled that we tend to lose faith in freedom and confuse liberty with license; we seem to have lost our ideas and no longer seem to know what the words 'free society' mean.

Need For Libertarians

"In our almost psychotic fear of communism and other totalitarian philosophies, we tend to adopt some of their methods and thinking. Essentially, communism and fascism are ideas, and unless we have a better idea we will never be able to win the battle for men's minds. The Smith Act, the McCarran Act and all the armies in the world can never insulate or isolate us from the onslaught of totalitarianism. As never before in our history, we need men in this country who are willing to defend their liberty by espousing the conditions which make up that liberty.

"Unless we can create a healthy, free economy, we will continue to have conflicts; and no amount of government, world - wide or otherwise, is going to bring about a lasting peace. If anything, more government will lead to more distress. I want a world where there will be less, not more laws; where there will be more, not less freedom; where people will travel from one country to another with less, not more immigration restrictions; a world where trade is free and not regulated by tariffs and quotas; where a man can walk in the sunlight without fear of the police, and where his ideas are free and not censored; a world where the individual is supreme, and the state is subservient, and not the other way around."

She heard a man ascending the staircase in the block of apartments and, supposing it to be her husband, she opend the door, seized him by the scuff of the neck and knocked him about thoroughly.

When she stopped for breath, she cried aghast:

Woman — Good Heavens! Your not my husband. You're the man on the next floor! I'm most dreadfully sorry.

Victim — Yes, and so you ought to be! Now I'll have to go through all that again!

Democrats Have No Offensive Experts To Attack Republicans

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—The Democrats' main disadvantage in opposing or discrediting President Eisenhower's major policies lies in the fact that they have no experts on defense. They were in power for so long that their weapons for guerilla warfare have become dull and rusty.

When F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman occupied the White House, they behaved as legislative dictators.

They sent "must" measures to Capitol Hill already framed and polished, and accompanied by detailed explanations of their purpose.

These were prepared by White House researchers, or by authorities on any specific subject in one of the executive departments. This made for Democratic laziness and, in some instances, indifference.

Now, the Republicans have possession and control of these sources of data and information. A GOP sponsor of a major measure is always briefed on the arguments pro and con. Besides his own staff, he has innumerable advisors and prompters from downtown officers.

Moreover, the top GOP members never stopped plugging away at the New Deal and Fair Deal during their generation of exile. Adversity became an asset.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR IKE — The Democrats' plight would not be so serious, if they received any reinforcement from the more able and experienced members on their side — namely, the veteran parliamentarians from Dixie. With only a few exceptions, however, the Byrd-George-Hill faction are sympathetic to Ike. They let the less capable men among the opposition carry the fight.

As a result, the burden must be borne by some of the admittedly weaker and less convincing members of the Senate and House. In the upper chamber they consist of such men as Sens. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Herbert H. Lehman of New York, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, James E. Murray of Montana, Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia. Time and again, the pro-Eisenhower Democrats cannot conceal their amusement over their party colleagues ineptitude on attack.

OPPOSITION'S HANDICAP — The opposition's handicap has been revealed most graphically and amusingly in their attempt to indict the Treasury's higher interest rates on public issues as a "sellout to the bankers." The small group named above has selected this issue as Eisenhower's most vulnerable point.

Sen. Kerr led off. Although he is a multimillionaire oil operator, he showed a complete ignorance of federal financing. Because Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey cannot say what the interest rate will be for future issues, Kerr charged that Humphrey was at the mercy of the bankers. He admitted, however, that he cannot tell now what his oil will bring in the market in the unknown future.

KERR STEPPED ON — Because Humphrey admits that future rates will be governed by money conditions at the moment, Kerr insisted that Humphrey had "abdicated," and was taking orders from the bankers. The Oklahoman did not know that even Humphrey's most distinguished predecessors, such as Andrew W. Mellon and Carter Glass, always sought the advice of eminent financiers.

Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut has assumed the assignment of defending this Treasury program. Although a banker himself, he did not excel. But when Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado rushed to Bush's aid, Kerr was pulverized. He quickly changed the subject to falling prices of wheat and cotton. The price of petroleum is still going up.

SYMINGTON POSSIBLE DEMOCRATS' CHOICE — Although Sen. Stuart Symington has been mentioned as a possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination, the Missourian still might be a political unknown if his professor-father had not quarreled with the janitor of Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., many years ago.

The janitor scolded Professor Symington in front of his class for writing on a wet blackboard. The professor threw the janitor "out of the room bodily," and then demanded that he be fired.

But the president explained that this was the only janitor who could keep the buildings warm, and if somebody must go, it would be Professor Symington. The latter then moved to Baltimore, became a famous lawyer and jurist, and raised the Senator in a more political climate than that of the delightful hamlet in Western Massachusetts.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

The hoped-for development in polio research is some means which will prevent this terrifying disease. The time has not yet arrived, but it is possible now to report encouraging progress in this direction.

It has been known for a good many years that the cause of poliomyelitis was a virus, which is a tiny living organism too small to be seen under the ordinary microscope. This knowledge alone, however, is not enough to solve the problem.

For example, there are at least three major strains or kinds of polio virus and bodily resistance or immunity to one strain does not necessarily mean there is resistance to one of the others.

Furthermore, the study of polio is made difficult by facts such as that viruses grow only in living tissue and that there are few experimental animals which are susceptible to the polio virus.

The major effort indeveloping a means of preventing polio is directed toward devising a vaccine which can be given to human beings and which will cause human tissues to build immunity without bringing on an attack of the disease. The technical problems of preparing such avaccine are, of course, immense.

During the past year a group of researchers, whose work is itself based on studies of many others, has succeeded in preparing such a vaccine and has even tried it on a small group of human beings. The results were encouraging and there is naturally much impatience to try to make this available to everyone.

We must, however, curb our impatience. The vaccine is not yet advanced enough to be sure that all the kinks are out of it. It will, in fact, be after the 1954 polio season, at the earliest, before the vaccine can have been adequately studied in all necessary respects. Meanwhile, we must be patient, knowing that all needed studies are being taken with the greatest possible speed.

No Excuse For Journalists To Try To Cover Evils Of Unions

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor has taken one of those firm stands with regard to corruption on the New York waterfront under the auspices of Joe Ryan, the president of the International Longshoremen's Association. Naive or ulterior editorials have hailed this as a great reform by and within the AF of L and a counterfeit optimism twitters in the subsidized product of package-goods pundits who have sprung up in the last two years to sell Dave Dubinsky and Lave Beck to the public as enlightened labor statesmen.

A knowledge of the facts compels me to enter a warning dissent. No advocate of unionism can be relied on to give an honest estimate of such a situation. Only occasionally can such a pleader be expected to tell the truth without trying to excuse the inherent perfidy of a system of labor monoplies which has been allowed to achieve the powers and status of across state lines.

If it be said that the indictment of Joe Ryan in consequence of the grand expose conducted by Gov. Dewey's State Crime Commission proves that these racketeers are not immune to prosecution, the answer is of course that Ryan has only now been exposed, but not convicted, after an outrageous career of many years, no thanks to the executive council.

The other great rogues of the union racket, Fay, Bove, Parkinson, Brown, Bioff and Scalise, all were notorious across the nation long before they were convicted.

For years the executive council of the AF of L, including many of the same men who now compose that body, and no newcomers who are not thoroughly steeped in its old traditions, stoutly refused to hamper their criminal operations On the contrary, the council actively assisted some of them.

William Green, the president of the AF of L, and Joe Padway, its general counsel and counsel for many other unions, appealed to President Roosevelt for a full pardon for Scalise from an old conviction for violating the White Slave Law. Green and Padway, in the latter case for a fee of $1,000, professed to believe Scalise had reformed although he was, at that very time, well known to them to be an agent of the Capone gang which had muscled into the building service. The Capone viceroy in the movies, Willie Bioff, had been convicted of the same offense and Bioff's union also had Padway heavily in his fee.

The AF of L has not cleaned up. The electricians' brotherhood, the plumbers, of which Martin Durkin is the Democratic secretary of labor in Ike's hybrid cabinet, the iron workers', the musicians', the teamsters', the shipbuilders', the liquor workers', the glaziers', the culinary unions, the hodcarriers' and the operating engineers' all are as rotten as they were when my own single-handed campaign began about 1937.

A few cut-throats have died but their successors are men schooled in the traditional alley-rat morality of the federation who served under frightful scoundrels year after year without a flicker of compassion for helpless victims within and without the unions.

Even now, Joe Fay is negotiating a political deal in an effort to get our of Sing Sing prison, which might be all right except that he would barge right back into the operating engineers in New York and New Jersey.

Only a few months ago the fact was disclosed that Mayor Kenny, of Jersey City, had called to consult Fay on politics at Sing Sing. Kenny had no right to see him and this political visit was a privilege not allowed under normal prison rules so the strength of this terrible thug's political influence may be surmised. Tom Clark, of the Supreme Court, as attorney general, admitted that the acquittal of Fay in a federal case in Newark was an outrage, but did nothing about it.

Scalise is back in action in the same liquor union of the AF of L that the late Ben Dross flagrantly exploited as a racket years after the executive council was thoroughly aware of his criminal conduct.

It would be childish to pretend to believe that George Meany, Green's appropriate succesor as president of the AF of L is ignorant of these developments and of the more significant lack of developments.

Meany knows Fay as well as he knows his own family.

In fact, Fay made Meany. Fay and the poor bewildered, often alcoholic dummy of the waterfront, Joe Ryan, were the powers who actually steered Meany into the presidency of the New York State Federation of Labor.

Every so-called "labor editor" knows that to be a fact and no person who has watched the evil growth of AF of L unionism in New York can have an honest hope that Meany will break with the machine that planted him in his soft job, almost certainly for life. Having no responsibility to the public nor to the rank-and-file of labor, owing only a noblesse oblige to his colleagues in the same racket, why should Meany break with the standards which brought them all such power and prosperity in the past?

Frankly, after campaigning for years against the crooks of the AF of L, I slowed down unintentionally but consciously because some editors were coming to regard such information as "repetitious" and readers, also, were weary of it. I succumbed, almost but not entirely, to a what's-the-use feeling.

But there has been not the merest seeming of a reform. Bill Maloney, of Chicago, still runs the Operating Engineers' Union as the racket that it was when Fay, with Maloney's knowledge and Meany's too, was extorting vast amounts from contractors and workers, alike, and kicking the teeth out of anyone who crossed him.

Joe Delaney, of New York, Fay's successor and another of Meany's political supporter within the rackets, holds about 4,000 subjects with a handful of votes under his control in one local under a typical system which effectively debars upstarts from election and even from voting.

I am afraid that if there is ever to be any reform, I will have to do it all over again. Certainly there is no excuse for any journalist professing even a minimum of ethical regard for truth and a working knowledge of the facts to try to perfume a situation as foul as it ever was.

LOOKING SIDEWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

REMAINDERS

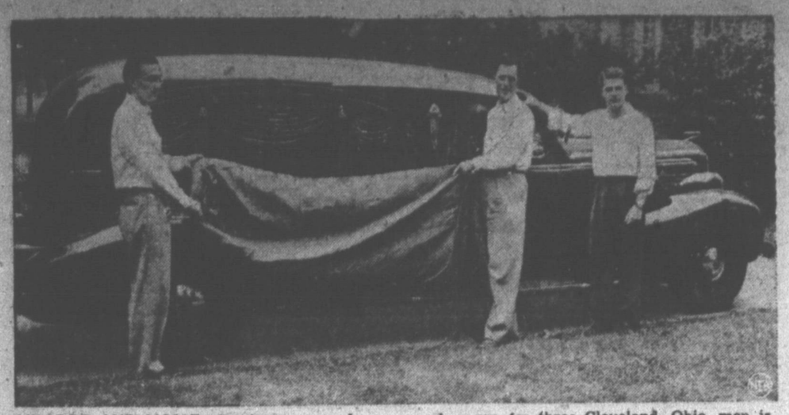
The show business boys were sitting around a mound of scrambled eggs the other night talking about the fabulous and daffy things that happen in the business which no one can ignore...They mentioned the song writer who turned producer and put on a dismal musical ...We'll call him Joe Fope — and the program read: "Joe Fope presents 'My Angel Cake,' directed by Joe Fope, music by Joe Fope, lyrics by Joe Fope and others, sketches by Joe Fope and others."...The show took a fierce shellacking from the critics the next day and, moved by Joe's plight, Oscar Hammerstein II called him to offer a word of cheer..."Don't take it to heart, Joe," said Oscar. "I've had a few flops, myself."... "Thanks, Oscar," said Joe, "but why did they have to pick on ME?"

Inevitably, the name of Will Morrisey came into the discussion ...Will, the man who sold seats on the grandstand roof to Billy Rose's water show at Fort Worth, Texas, picking up $250 a night for himself putting people on a bare, slanting roof from which they could have slipped 80 feet to the pool below... Rose caught up with the deal about five nights after it got going, but until then Will was doing fine...Will once took over an empty, darkened theater in Philadelphia and had a small musical show going great guns in it until, one night, police walking by heard muffled music and broke down the doors...There were more than 300 cash customers in a house believed empty, a house without a sign out front or without a line of advertising of any kind to make its presence known to the public...Will also stumped a Los Angeles municipal judge once who had sentenced him to 30 days on a minor infraction of the code ... "Thanks, Judge," Will cried gaily, "I can do that standing on my head!"..."How about 60 days?" the nettled magistrate growled... "That would take two heads," said Will, "and if I had them I'd be out making a buck in a carnival instead of standing here."...The case was dismissed.

They got around, finally, to the old-time manager who walked into his theater one night and found exactly two cash customers at $2 each, a world's record box office low...But, later that night, at The Lambs, he couldn't leave it alone... When asked, "How's the show?" he replied: "We did six dollars tonight."...Even in adversity he had to give a bigger gross than he had.

Then there is Ned Alvord, an old-time press agent and road manager, who goes in for seersucker cutaway coats and large golden watch chains across his middle... Ned could take out four midgets and a bass drum and guarantee $1,000 a week for himself and all concerned...Ned, long before the war, took a sad troupe of eight aging chorines to Japan as "The American Beauty Show," complete with posters in four colors showing 24 young, luscious and scantily-clothed belles capering in a line... The Japanese didn't chase Ned into China, but they suggested that the quicker he got his troupe out of Japan the higher would be their esteem for him...Another time, stranded in Denver and unable to make a fast dollar for the getaway, Ned sat down and wrote a cookbook called: "High Altitude Cooking," sold ad space in it to the tune of $1,600, peddled the 18 copies required by law to keep him from getting hooked for false pretense, and departed in a Pullman with a wad of money left over...One 3 o'clock in the morning in Fort Worth Ned sat in his hotel window and, after an hour of silence, said: "There ain't a thing between here and the Atlantic Ocean but the State House dome at Austin."...Just then a huge meteor flashed across the Western sky..."I'd love to know," said Ned quietly, "what box office man is taking it on the lam with the money."

It was Ned who, quizzed by a college class on the basic rule of show business, replied: "Grab the money and run for the train."



HEARSE AND HOME—Serving as a modern covered wagon for three Cleveland, Ohio, men is this 1937 hearse which they are driving to Alaska. Students at Harvard and Cornell, they purchased the hearse in Syracuse, N. Y., for $350. They said the vehicle was roomy and had only 28,000 miles on the speedometer. Standing beside their "home" are Ted Phipps, left, Charles Pope, and Dick Gazley. They're holding a sleeping bag, part of the equipment they packed before starting out from Cleveland on their 1354-mile drive. They plan to get jobs in Alaska and return at the end of the summer.

Shirley Temple Says No To Acting

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 —UP— Shirley Temple has moved back to Hollywood but, she insists it's just as a housewife and mother—so far, anyway.

The one-time baby star admitted she was offered several television shows during her two-year stay in Washington, D. C. But, as of now, at least, she's saying no to all the actress jobs.

"I retired three years ago, and I rejected those programs because I didn't intend doing anything in the East," she said. "I was offered one here and I turned that down, too."

But, like many a retired thespian, she left the door open, just in case.

"When I was young, I always gave definite answers," she said. "Now that I'm a quarter of a century old, I know beter so I'm not giving any definite answers—unless I'm sure. All I can say is, right now, I don't intend to return to acting. My husband doesn't care one way or the other.

"Being a wife and mother is very rewarding. I don't have time to think of anything else. I do my own work around the house."

Shirley's husband, Charles Black, just finished a tour of Navy duty in the nation's capital, so the couple and their two children trekked back to the cinema city. Black wants to "go back into the business end of television," she said.

While he's job-hunting, the pretty ex-actress, like any wife, is looking for a three-bedroom house to rent. But, unlike other celebrities, Shirley is working from house to house, ringing doorbells.

"Sure," she said airily. "When I see a house for sale I go up and ask if they'll rent."

"And if I see an attractive house with no sign out front, I still ring the doorbell and ask if they'll rent. We got our house in Washington that way.

"Sometimes," she laughed, "the person will say 'You look awfully familiar'."

Meantime, the Blacks are living with her parents.

"It's good to be home," said Shirley. "I didn't miss working in movies. In fact, we hardly ever saw any while were were in Washington.

"We had some very exciting times there. I think Washington is the most exciting place I've ever seen."

The RECORD SHOP

BY RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Tom Murray is worried. He's a co-creater of those vile little gems called "There's a New Sound" and "Fish" on the bilious green label of Horrible Records. He's worried because people are buying the nauseating things.

"The whole business was an experiment," says Murray. "The disc jockeys were the laboratory. We wanted to see if we could make something so revolting that it would show up all this new sound nonsense.

"But what happened? People like it. It's selling everywhere. Disc jockeys keep calling us to come on their show. We're heroes. I'm afraid, honestly afraid. What will it all lead to?"

What indeed. Murray and his co-conspirator, Tony Borello, went out of their way to produce the world's worst record. They got the weirdest, most unpleasant sounds. On the "Fish" side, they made four takes, then scientifically spliced together the worst parts of each. When it sounded too good, they went out and recorded some surface noise on top to make it worse.

And now people are clamoring to buy these musical miscarriages. Murray and Borello, both serious pop musicians, are afraid they'll be typed as the Horrible boys. They're giving serious thought to changing their names to escape the stagnant stigma of stenchy stanzas.

Murray, though, seems slightly torn. As an advertising executive, he smells the possibility of large money to be made in producing more Horrible records, perhaps even Horrible other things. That's balanced, though, by the awful thought of being forever identified as Mr. Horrible.

So he thinks he'll retire from being Horrible, after a last fling of making one Horrible Masterworks edition. That should be delightfully loathsome.

THE POPULAR SIDE: And then the two bop musicians met Einstein, scraping away on his violin, "Man," said the talkative one, "dig that square root." . . .Giselle MacKenzie, who will replace June Valli on "Your Hit Parade" next season, is a dead ringer for Rosalind Russell. . . .The hit, "Song From 'Moulin Rouge,'" originally written in France for the U.S. movie, is now being published in France for the first time.

ON THE CLASSICS: RCA-Victor out with two oral records — "Adlai Stevenson Speaks," edited by James Fleming, and "Through Childhood to the Throne," a chronicle of the life of Queen Elizabeth II. . . .MGM's expanding classical department is spotlighting numbers previously unrecorded on LP.

DICK'S PICKS

POP SINGLES: "Vaya Con Dios" (Les Paul and Mary Ford, Capitol); "In Single Blessedness" (Denny Vaughan, MGM); "No Other Love" (Helen O'Connell, Capitol); "When the Saints Go Marching In" (Ray Anthony, Capitol); "The Call of Far-Away Hills" (Ken Curtis, MGM); "Did He Ask About Me?" (Mary Kaye Trio, MGM).

POP ALBUMS: 'Sweet Dreams' (The Norman Luboff Choir, Columbia) is a collection of dreamy lullabies; "Liberace By Candlelight" (Columbia) is more of the pianist's work, for whose who like it.

CLASSICAL: Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra give glowing treatment to two Haydn symphonies, the 45th and the rarely-heard 7th, on a new Columbia record; Walter Susskind and the Philharmonica Orchestra of London do a beautiful reading of Mussorgsky on MGM's new "Mussorgsky Orchestral Program," including some pieces never before available on LP; another new MGM record, "Orchestral Favorites, Volume 1," is the first of a series devoted to top symphonic favorites, leading off with a fine assortment including Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre."

Bull Laughs Last

HIGH POINT, N. C., June 24—UP—An angry bull planted himself in the middle of a highway near here and blocked traffic for more than two hours.

As highway patrolman W. A. Riggsbee finally herded the animal to one side, the bull suddenly turned and bashed in the side of Riggsbee's patrol car, then trotted meekly back to pasture.

Ex-Cop Fined

EL PASO, June 25—UP—Robert Louis Carvalho, a 30-year-old former policeman, ran afoul of the law as a citizen Wednesday and it cost him $900.

Carvalho was the second person within a week at El Paso to be fined $900 for traffic violations—$700 for running red lights, $100 for running stop signs and $100 for speeding.

Judge Charles Lanier last week fined a Fort Bliss soldier $900 for a series of similar traffic violations.

Recorded Argument

DETROIT, June 25—UP—Mrs. Virginia Cheifer, 29, a nightclub pianist and singer, had a divorce Thursday—thanks to the tape recorder she bought to improve her voice.

She started using it to record telephone conversations with her husband, Max, 36.

Circuit Judge Carl M. Weideman allowed her to play some of the recordings in court Wednesday over the objections of Cheifer's attorney. Weideman said Chiefer had used "vile language."

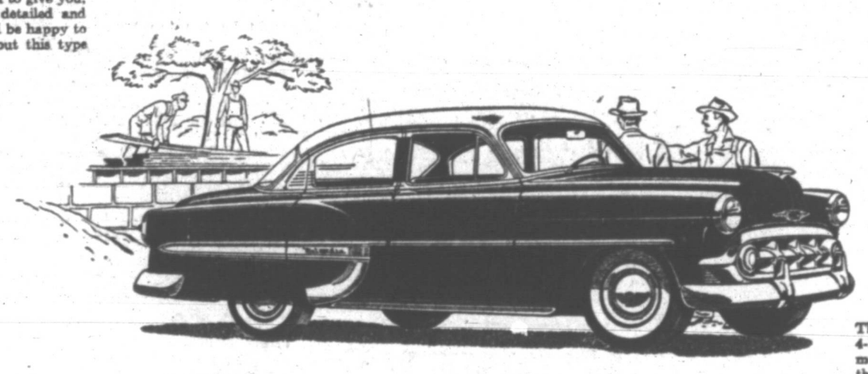
● This advertisement is the third in a special series which began over a year ago, and which is designed to give you, as a prospective buyer, detailed and helpful information. We'd be happy to have your comments about this type of advertising.



This is the 1953 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of

Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows

It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power

When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy

Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide*

The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car

This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can seesaw in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other makes. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line

Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car

Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

Pirates Climb Out Of Cellar

Leading Yanks, Bums Lose Again; Bums Drop 3 In Row

NEW YORK, June 25—UP—It was almost as if there was a smallpox epidemic in first place Thursday, the way the Yankees and Braves were acting as if they did not want to be there.

What's more, nobody seemed very anxious to catch them.

Not only did the Pirates climb out of last place by pounding out a 10 to 1 victory over the Milwaukee Madcaps Wednesday night, but Brooklyn passed up another chance to gain ground by blowing its third consecutive game on a ninth inning home run, 7 to 4 when Gus Bell cracked a three-run round-tripper for the game winning blast at Cincinnati.

It was Milwaukee's fourth defeat against a victory and a tie in its last six games. But Brooklyn has suffered eight defeats in its last 10. The third-place Cardinals missed a chance to overtake Brooklyn when Sal (The Barber) Maglie pitched an eight hitter to give the Giants a 3 to 0 victory on a profitable western road trip. The Phillies moved to within a game of third place St. Louis by defeating the Cubs 8 to 2 on a five-hit pitching job by Karl Drews.

Yankees Lose Again

The Yankees, who have won only two games in their last six starts, dropped their third in a row 8 to 4 to the White Sox, who have now won eight straight games at Yankee Stadium, and haven't lost there since July 19 of last year. But Cleveland, which outslugged Boston 13 to 9, with a 17-hit attack, could move only to within 10 games of the top because it was tagged for a doubleheader loss by the Red Sox the previous day. The White Sox were in third place, 10½ games out.

Last place Detroit equalled its best winning streak of the year by making it three in a row with a 6 to 3 victory over Philadelphia while the seventh place Browns also won their third straight, 7 to 6 at Washington.

Pittsburgh sent 10 men to bat in their productive six-run eighth inning rally, in which singles by Johnny O'Brien, Preston Ward, and Hal Rice, and doubles by Toby Atwell and winning pitcher Leroy Face sent home the tallies. Face gave up seven hits in gaining his third straight victory.

Same Old Story

It was the same old story at Cincinnati for the skidding Dodgers who saw a 4-0 lead, built on first inning homers by Wayne Belardi and Gil Hodges, go up in smoke. After the Ohioans tied the score with two run rallies in the second and fifth, they went ahead to stay when Bell came through in the ninth.

Maglie pitched his third shutout among five victories ad struck out eight Cardinals. Boby Thomson, trying to steal home, was safe at the plate with what proved to be the winning run in the second inning as the umpires ruled that Wilmer Mizell had balked. Later Thomson, Bobby Hofman and Wes Westrum singled successively to make it 2-0 and Al Dark's homer provided the third Giant tally.

Connie Ryan drove in three runs with a triple and two doubles as Drews gained his fifth victory and Philly beat Chicago for the 10th straight time this year.

Cleveland scored four in the second and five in the third to coast in ahead of Boston as Dale Mitchell drove in four runs and Bobby Avila put over three, each with three hits.

Detroit cashed in on homers by Steve Souchock and Harvey Kuenn to give Ned Garver the help he needed for his sixth victory.

The Browns pulled out their decision in the ninth at Washington when Dick Kokos hit a two-run homer. Roy Sievers had hit a three-run homer for St. Louis in the eighth as the Browns roared from behind.

Wednesday's Star: Gus Bell of Cincinnati, who hit a three-run homer in the ninth to defeat Brooklyn 7 to 4.

Sauer's Hand Injured

CHICAGO, June 25—UP—A broken finger on Hank Sauer's right hand will sideline the slugging Chicago Cubs' right fielder "for about a week," it was disclosed Thursday. X-rays showed a broken bone on the fourth finger of the hand. The injury occurred in a "pepper" game two days ago. Physicians said a small cast would be put on the break and that Sauer would be able to play "after the swelling goes down."

Oilers Open 4-Day Jaunt; Last Night's Tilt Called

The Oiler homestand finale was called off last night and the team took off immediately for Albuquerque where they open a four-day invasion into New Mexico tonight.

Last night's game between the Oilers and Amarillo Gold Sox wasn't called until Manager Porky Pawelek of the Oilers and Jim Matthews of the Gold Sox had met at home plate with the umpires to go over the ground rules just before the 8:15 starting time.

The two managers and umpires Charlie Crain and Dave Carabba, after a brief discussion on the high winds and the dust filled air, decided it best to call the game and make it up later in a doubleheader.

The Oiler homestand thus came to an abrupt end. After two games with the Albuquerque Dukes tonight and tomorrow night, the Oilers trek over to Clovis for a two-game series with the Pioneers Saturday and Sunday.

Lefty Eddie Hughes will be the starting hurler for the Oilers tonight with big Jake Henson to start the second game in the Duke city.

Manager Pawelek revealed last night that Doug Lewis, who has been nursing a torn ligament in his right heel, will return to the lineup tonight.

After the four games in New Mexico, the Oilers will return home Monday to open a brief two-game homestand with the league leading Lubbock Hubbers furnishing the opposition.

Spotlight On Golf As City Tourney Advances Into Final Rounds Sunday

GOLF TAKES OVER THE spotlight on the local sports front for the coming week end with the finals of all flights in the annual City tournament to be unreeled.

Pro Johnny Austin urges all golfers to get their third round matches played before Sunday so that the finals will be run off Sunday without delay.

Final matches will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday.

When play has ceased, there will be a new City champion since the defending champion, Max Hickey, has alrady fallen by the wayside.

Medalist Malcolm Douglass, who is seeking his first city title, looms as the favorite at this point.

Young Buster Carter has been setting the course "afire" the past several weeks and he may cause some trouble when the time comes for naming a champion.

Carter was the lad who ousted Hickey. Buster was a member of the Harvester golf team last spring and has two more years high school eligibility remaining. He should go places in the schoolboy ranks before graduating.

A LOT OF LOCAL SPORTS fans will likely be going to Amarillo tonight to witness the world's title match between Lou Thesz and Verne Gagne.

This bout will be the top mat attraction of the year in the Panhandle and all mat lovers can't go wrong by sitting in on the affair.

The match, plus four other outstanding bouts, will be held at Amarillo Stadium.

THE OILERS, FOR THE SEASON hold an advantage over four of the other seven clubs, are even with another and are behind in games won and lost with two.

Through games last night, the Oilers held the advantage over Borger, Amarillo, Clovis and Abilene; were even with Plainview; and were behind Lubbock and Albuquerque.

The Oilers owned 6-4 won-lost records with Borger and Clovis; 5-3 with Abilene; and 6-3 with Amarillo.

Plainview and the Oilers are all even to date, each winning four of the eight games played to date.

The Oilers have won three and lost four with Albuquerque and are 3-5 with the league leading Lubbock Hubbers.

Manager Porky Pawelek's men are just under the .500 mark on road games, having won 13 and lost 15 away from home games.

At home, the Oilers own a very respective 20-12 record. This could very well be attributed to the fine backing the Oiler fans have put forth this season.

Oddly enough, the Oilers own 3-1 advantages on three teams, Abilene, Borger and Amarillo, in games played at the latter ball parks. They are even with Clovis' Pioneers in games played at Clovis, 2-2. On the losing ledger of the road series, the Oilers have won only one of four at Plainview and Albuquerque and have yet to win a game at Lubbock in four starts.

No team holds the edge on the Oilers in games played at Oiler Park but two teams, the Abilene Blue Sox of all people, and the Borger Gassers are even with the Oilers here. The Oilers have split four games with Abilene and divided six with Borger at Oiler Park.

In other Oiler home series, the Oilers have won four out of six from Clovis; two out of three from Albuquerque; three out of four from Lubbock and Plainview.

Roberts Ahead of Schedule

CHICAGO, June 24—UP—Robin Roberts, who hopes to become the major league's first 30-game winner since 1934, is far ahead of the victory pace which enabled him to win 28 games in 1952. The Phillies' star right-hander beat the Cubs 6 to 1 Tuesday for his 12th victory. A year ago Wednesday he posted his ninth victory and he did not win No. 12 in 1952 until July 11.

Their Best Friend

CHICAGO, June 24—UP—Pitcher Bob Rush of the Cubs must be ranked as the Philadelphia Phils' "first cousin"—they have beaten him more often than any other active pitcher. The Phils' 6 to 1 triumph over Rush Tuesday was the 18th time they've beaten the Cub righthander during his career. He's beaten them only five times.

King Wins Decision

OGDEN, Utah, June 25 —UP—Howard King, 180 pounds, Reno, Nev., Wednesday night won a referee's decision in a six-round bout with Chuck Woodworth of Provo, Utah, in the feature of the card that supported the Maxim-Moore fight in Ogden Stadium.

Hubbers Hike Lead Over Idle Oilers

By UNITED PRESS

Lubbock increased its lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League to four and one-half games Wednesday night as second-place Pampa was sidelined by high winds and dust.

Lubbock came from behind in the sixth inning to edge Albuquerque 6 to 5. Gerald Falkman for Albuquerque and Bob Galey for Lubbock absorbed a 30-hit batting assault by the two teams.

In o apnb)dames, Abilene trounc Borger 15 to 2 and Plainview pounded Clovis 19 to 1. Amarillo was scheduled to play at Pampa but the game was postponed.

Thursday's schedule — Lubbock at Clovis, Pampa at Albuquerque, Abilene at Amarillo and Borger at Plainview.

Staley On Way To 20-Triumph Year

ST. LOUIS, June 25—UP—Gerry Staley, flutterball ace of the St. Louis Cardinals pitching staff, has his sights set on the first 20-victory season of his career.

If he makes the grade he will be the first Cardinal pitcher to reach the cool goal in four years, Howie Pollet last turned the trick in 1949.

Staley seems to have conquered the jinx that overtook him every year during June and he has a 10-2 record with his unlucky month nearly over.

The month of roses, popular with brides and songwriters, has always been a thorny time for Gerry.

Staley, whose knuckleball is his best pitch, has his butterfly delivery in hand all the way this year.

"I'm not doing anything different," he insisted. "I'm just getting the breaks."

But catcher Del Rice didn't see it that way.

"Gerry has far better control," he said. "He's been getting a quick strike over, putting the batter in the hole, and making him hit his pitch."

Field Up for Sale

BOSTON, June 24—UP—Braves Field, where National League baseball games were played here for 38 years, is for sale, it was disclosed Wednesday. Milwaukee Braves owner Lou Perini, who reportedly has a $1.4 million investment in the four-acre park, will sell the property to the highest bidder. This move was anticipated as result of the removal of the Braves to Milwaukee earlier this year.

Stan Musial Shakes Long Batting Slump

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, June 25 —UP— There's bad news for National League pitchers because it looks as if Stan (The Man) Musial finally has shaken his worst batting slump.

The king clouter of the St. Louis Cardinals has been going through the most torturous of the 12 springs he has spent in the big leagues. For a time his average was down to a mere .250.

But in the last four games, Musual has clobbered the ball at a .643 clip, getting nine hits in 14 official times at bat.

That has raised his seasonal average to .278, still a long way from his lifetime average of .346. But his recent upsurge indicates that the Donora dynamiter once again is pressing the right buttons.

Musial's distressing slump has been a subject of much conversation in the major league dugouts. Not only in the National League, but also in the unaffected American League, there has been much speculation as to its cause.

Stan didn't know himself.

"Doggoned if I can figure it out, and I've tried just about everything," he said miserably a few days ago. "Naturally I'm worried. But I'll just have to keep swinging and hoping."

There were theories that Musial, who needs two more National League batting titles to tie Honus Wagner's all-time eight and only one more to match Rogers Hornsby's runner-up seven, might be reaching the end of the road.

Stan, only 32, merely shrugged off such opinions.

"I feel great physically and I figure I have five more good years left," said the three-time most valuable player. "It's one of those slumps which hit any batter sooner or later."

Antonelli Hospitalized

MILWAUKEE, June 25—UP—Johnny Antonelli, the Milwaukee Braves' young righthanded pitching star, will enter Milwaukee hospital Thursday for treatment of a minor case of virus pneumonia. Trainer Charley Lacks said Antonelli is expected to be out of action "for an indefinite period."

Braves Sign Schoolboy

MILWAUKEE, June 25—UP—The Milwaukee Braves have signed pitcher Joe Jay of Rock Fall, Conn., for a bonus "in excess of $4,000," General Manager John Quinn announced Thursday. Jay, a 17-year-old righthander, has just graduated from Woodrow Wilson high school in Middletown, Conn., where he pitched three no-hitters while winning five games and losing one this season.

Redlegs Try Variety

CINCINNATI, June 25—UP—Variety is the word for the Cincinnati Redlegs' pitching staff — Manager Rogers Hornsby has started nine different pitchers in the last nine games.

Bryan Obtains BSL Franchise

BRYAN, Tex., June 25 —UP— Bryan was the newest addition to the Big State League Thursday and local fans made preparations to welcome the team in its home debut Saturday night against Wichita Falls.

Bryan was formally awarded Greenville's franchise Wednesday after a week of negotiations between the newly-organized Bryan Basball Association and officials of the Dallas club of the Texas League.

Dick Burnett, owner of the Dallas teah, owns Bryan's players and will continue a working agreement which was in effect with Greenville.

Representatives of each team were scheduled to meet here Wednesday to approve the transfer, but officials decided the meeting wouldn't be necessary as League President Howard Green had approved the move and Bryan raised some $10,000 to handle the team through the sale of fence signs and box seats.

In its first game under a new name, Bryan responded Wednesday night by winning both games of a doubleheader against Tyler and moved into first place in the League standings.

QUESTION: In a local semi-pro game, the home team had a man on second with two out and the count three-and-two on he batter. Striking out, the batter turned and headed for the bench. Noticing that his teammates were waving their arms and yelling, he turned and saw that the catcher had dropped the third strike. Turning and running for first, he moved on to second on the catcher's wild throw. The other baserunner scored. Wasn't the batter out for running out of line? — Jack Popa.

Answer: This one comes up regularly. Since no play was made on the batter, he was allowed to try for first base under the circumstances. Whn the throw was wild, the man on second could advance as far as possible —at his own risk.

Q. Of Hank Sauer's 37 home runs last season, how many were hit in his home park? —Hugh Kane.

A. Sauer hit 23 at Wrigley Field.

QUESTION: What exactly constitutes an earned run in baseball? — Al Kramer.

Answer: An earned run is counted every time a runner scores by the aid of safe hits, sacrifices, stolen bases, putouts, bases on balls, hit batters, balks or wild pitches (even though a wild pitch be a third strike which enables a batter to reach first base), before fielding chances. Since a wild pitch on which a batter reaches first base is solely the pitcher's fault, even though it is scored as regarded as an error and considered as a wild pitch in computing earned runs.

Two Bartons Signed

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 24—UP—The Barton boys from the University of Texas signed Green Bay Packer contracts Wednesday. The Bartons, who are not related, are halfback Don from Longview, Tex., and linebacker Jack from Dallas. Both are 23 years old. Packer Coach Gene Ronzani said a total of 45 players now have been signed for the 1953 season.

Hobart Director Resigns

GENEVA, N. Y., June 24—UP—Thornton T. Gibbs resigned as director of freshman athletics and supervisor of physical education at Hobart College, President Alan W. Brown announced Tuesday. Gibbs said he will move to California, where he expects to continue similar work in college physical education.

Golden Boy Mickey Mantle Blasted For Weak Showings

NEW YORK, June 25—UP—Golden Boy Mickey Mantle felt the sting of public managerial criticism for the first time in his meteoric career Thursday as Casey Stengel sought to "shock" his world champion New York Yankees out of their complacent mood.

"Mantle don't own the job," Stengel growled in the wake of an 8 to 4 loss to the Chicago White Sox. "He better realize that and start hitting soon or he's gonna be outta there."

Stengel charged the 21-year-old successor to Joe DiMaggio with "three grevious raps" in Wednesday's game—failing to hit, failing to back up left-fielder Gene Woodling on a play and permitting a soft fly to drop for a single in front of him in the White Sox' five-run first inning.

Others Are Blamed

Stengel made it clear, however, that he wasn't blaming only Mantle for the Yankees' recent lacklustre play. The Yankees still hold a 10-game lead but have lost three straight and five of their last nine. Moreover, they have appeared complacent and loggy in doing so.

"We've played lousey," Stengel conceded. "Bad hitting, bad fielding and bad thinking. Too much success. That's the story in three words. They win 18 straight and they get to thinking they're better'n everybody else and don't have to work to win."

Casey insisted he wasn't crying "wolf" just because his runaway team had dropped a few and looked bad recently.

"I don't think we'll blow the pennant," he said. "But it has been done. Teams have blown bigger leads. It's my job to see this club doesn't."

To Switch Mantle

Stengel indicated that his first move with Mantle would be to switch him to the leadoff post. Whether Mickey would be benched if that move failed, Stengel left to the imagination of his rival managers. Throughout an hour postmortem of Wednesday's loss to the White Sox he made no effort to conceal his annoyance at the young star, however.

It was the fifth straight victory for the White Sox at Yankee Stadium this year and their eighth straight dating back to July 19, 1952. The American League race is supposed to be over but the Yankees are having a hard time convincing the White Sox.

In fact, they have yet to convince Stengel, either.

Drillers Move Up In Longhorn Race

By UNITED PRESS

Artesia's Drillers moved to within four percentage points of second place in the Longhorn League Wednesday night while San Angelo stayed off Carlsbad's threat to take over the league lead.

The Drillers dumped Big Spring in both ends of a doubleheader 8 to 3 and 8 to 4 to shove Big Spring into the league cellar. San Angelo got only four hits off Carlsbad's Marshall Epperson but won the game 3 to 1 and Roswell fought off a Midland threat in the ninth inning to win 3 to 1.

Artesia scored seven runs in the second inning in its first game against Big Spring, giving the win to Len Ruyle. Joe Fortin's three-run home run highlighted the inning.

In the second game, Artesia's Pat Monahans spun a five-hitter for the win.

Tex Stephenson's home run in the sixth inning accounted for Midland's only run against Roswell as the Rockets' Juan Del Toro took his fifth victory with a seven hitter.

Good Pitch, No Hit

McALLEN, Tex. (UP) — On the opening day of McAllen Little League baseball the pitchers had it all their own way. Four games were played in the small-fry circuit, and five no-hitters were pitched. Two of the games were double no-hitters. Little League games last five innings.

VERNE GAGNE

Mat Title Bout Tonight At Amarrilo

Amarillo Stadium will be the site of a World's Heavyweight wrestling title bout tonight where the present champion Lou Thesz meets challenger Verne Gagne.

The 37-year-old Thez hasn't been beaten since he became the world champion five years ago. But Gagne, his opponent tonight, has wrestled to a draw with him four times during his title holding days.

Tonight's bout will be for the best two out of three falls or 90-minute time limit.

Thesz specializes in dropkicks and airplane spins. Thesz hails from St. Louis, Mo., while Gagne calls Robbinsdale, Minn., home.

Four other bouts are on the championship card. Billy Weidner meets Ray (Big Train) Clements in the curtain raiser; followed by Cowboy Carlson and Luigi Macera in the second event, Roger Mackay and Jack O'Reilly in the third, and Dory Funk and Kurt Von Popenheim in the semi-final.

Ticket prices for the show is $3.60 ringside; $2.40 reserve seats; $1.50 general admission; and 60 cents children.

The program will start at 8:30.

Michaels Out of Play

PHILADELPHIA, June 25—UP—Second baseman Cass Michaels was added Thursday to the long list of injured players on the Philadelphia Athletics' team. Michaels twisted his left ankle in the fourth inning of the A's-Detroit game on Wednesday night when Johnny Pesky slid into second on an attempted force play. Seven other players are out now.

Shreveport Lead Cut To Two Percentage Points Over Cats

By UNITED PRESS

The Shreveport Sports, in first place in Texas League standings since the early days of the season, clung to the top spot Thursday by only two percentage points over Fort Worth.

The Cats won their seventh straight game Wednesday night over Dallas the hard way — by scoring three runs in the last of the ninth inning on home runs by Vic Marasco and Jim Baxes to tie the game and then adding the clincher in the 11th on Max Macon's pinch-hit single for a 4 to 3 victory.

Shreveport dropped its 10th game in the last 15, to San Antonio 3 to 0, Oklahoma City downed Tulsa 8 to 2, and Houston blanked Beaumont 6 to 0 in other games.

Marasco's bloop single over second base in the first inning was the only hit off Dallas' Howard Anderson until his blow-up in the ninth. Baxes' homer, his 18th of the year, was a 380-foot blast over the centerfield fence that found Danny Ozark on base.

Beaumont's star righthander, Don Fracchia, failed in his bid for his 11th win of the season in the 6 to 10 loss to Houston. Veteran Al Papai pitched the route for the Buffs and allowed seven hits.

San Antonio's Phil Haugstad picked up his first triumph of the season in the Missions' 3 to 0 win over Shreveport. Haugstad hurled four-hit ball in beating Hugh Sooter, who pitched a five - hitter himself.

Ed Mickelson cracked a second inning homer for San Antonio's first run and catcher Charley White drove in the last two tallies in the sixth inning with a single.

Oklahoma City's Al Zilian kept complete mastery over Tulsa after Mike Lutz homered in the first inning with one on for the only Oiler scores.

Thursday's schedule remains the same — Dallas at Fort Worth, Tulsa at Oklahoma City, Houston at Beaumont and San Antonio at Shreveport.

James Session Wins

INGLEWOOD, Calif., June 25—UP—Betty Grable and Harry James' two-year-old colt, James Session, raced to the first stakes win of his career Wednesday in the $33,100 Haggin Stakes, first of the big races for juveniles at Hollywood Park. The race carried a net of $20,600 to the winner in addition to his rich returns at the pari-mutuel widows. James Session paid $40.90, $15.70 and $7.70 across the board.

Eagles Sign Brookshier

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—UP—Tom Brookshier, University of Colorado defensive back who was rated best in the Big Seven conference, Wednesday was a member of the Philadelphia Eagles professional football team. The 21-year-old gridder became the 17th rookie and 53rd player to come to terms with the Eagles for the 1953 season.

Many Upsets In NCAA Golf

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 25—UP—It was strictly a day for eyebrow-raising upsets in the opening-round of match play in the NCAA golf tourney on the Broadmoor Course here Wednesday as the first five individual finishers in the team play, including medalist Merle Backlund of Colorado University, were eliminated.

Backlund, who shot a record-breaking 137 total for medalist honors in the two-day team competition earlier this week, was upset by Charles Cassady of the University of Southern California, one up.

Also falling by the wayside were runnerup Grant Spaeth of the team-winning Stanford foursome, who lost to Benny Castleo of North Texas State, one up in 20 holes; Tommy Cruse of Houston University, No. 3 finisher, who lost to Bert Weaver of Louisiana State, 3 and 2; Eddie Merrins of LSU, who earlier shot a sizzling four-under-par 66 for the best round in the tourney, eliminated by Fred Brown of Stanford, 3 and 2; and Warren Dailey of Stanford, 3 and 2, by Tom Matey of Notre Dame.

IT'S A HAT TOO—This canvas beach bag, with four rows of white fringe, serves a double duty, for it can be folded into a handy hat for use at the beach. It's made of light canvas and is shown in Paris by Juliette Figueroa, Miss Europe of 1950.

Outgoing Rotary President Speaks On Boy Scout Work

Boy Scout camping is more than lighting a fire with two matches, learning first aid, or tossing the bunting (nautical for signaling with flags), Paul Beisenherz, president of Rotary told his fellow club members yesterday.

Beisenherz, who winds up his year as president of the Pampa Rotary Club next week, spoke to the club in lieu of a program for his last full meeting as president Wednesday. He goes out of office Tuesday night, June 30, during installation ceremonies at the Pampa Country Club.

During his talk, the retiring Rotary president, also scout executive of the Adobe-Walls Council, related several experiences the 700 boys and 80 leaders have had during the past five weeks at Camp Ki-o-Wah. He emphasized two important functions of the camping season—teaching boys how to handle themselves in the water by learning to swim and handle small craft efficiently and safely, and morning devotionals by the lake shore, impressing them with the power of Almighty God.

It was announced the annual installation and ladies night next week would start promptly at 7:30 p.m. in the country club's dining room. Corsages for the wives of Rotarians will be provided by the club and perfect attendance awards will also go to the wives instead of the members. Dr. Ed Williams will be installed as club president for the ensuing year.

Army post offices in Japan sold more than $41,000,000 in money orders and more than $4,500,000 in stamps during the past two years.

Vacation Advice Offered Motorists

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, June 25—UP—There are a few "do's" and "don'ts" if you plan your vacation by motor.

Michael Frome, travel editor of the American Automobile Association, makes some valuable suggestions.

"First of all," Frome said, "don't plan to drive more than 300 miles a day. If you average 30 miles an hour—which isn't bad—it's still a long day. If you speed up your trip, you'll miss a lot of interesting sights and also wear yourself to a frazzle."

How much can you expect to spend on the road? Well, it should run something like this: About $9 a day to operate the car; $8 a day for food for two persons; and hotels or motels for two, about $8 a night. Plus what else you want to spend on the way.

Have Car Checked

"By all means," Frome warned, "have a road check made on your car. If you think the machine needs it, have a motor tune-up. Take the anti-freeze out of the radiator and have the radiator flushed. You should check the thermostat and the fan belt, the brake linings and the master cylinder."

The AAA man said women should choose their wardrobe carefully.

It's a good idea for the ladies to cart only tailored suits, tropical weaves that can be worn in any city. Stick to two basic colors, and pick contrasting accessories. A change of blouses is advisable.

"Other items a woman should pack in her bags include a dark robe, slippers, plenty of pajamas, slips and lingerie," Frome advised. "Take things that require little or no ironing. And in case you need to do any ironing on the road, be sure to take an iron along. Also take a raincoat and an umbrella and a pair of boots. And for sure, some comfy shoes."

Still Other Points

Frome wasn't yet through with his list.

"Be sure to take along a first aid kit, a camera, a flash light, some sun glasses, a thermos jug, some beach shoes and some riding boots," he said.

I don't know why the auto people think they have to make out a list like that. Most women will take at least that much stuff and think up a lot of other things besides.

"If you're going away," Frome added, "be sure to cancel the paper, the milk and the laundry pick-up. Remove the fresh stuff from the ice box, lock the windows and doors and phone the cops and tell them how long you'll be gone so they'll keep an eye out for burglars."

Maybe, it's better to stay home.

GI's Relatives Can Send Messages

Pampans with friends and relatives in the U.S. Armed Forces today have an opportunity to send radio messages to servicemen anywhere in the world, except combat zones and "Iron Curtain" countries.

Written messages, containing signature and address of sender, will be accepted at Pampa's recruiting office downstairs in the postoffice building, according to Sgt. Lonnie Mills, local recruiting officer. No phone calls will be taken.

A project of the Fourth Army Military Affiliate Radio System (MARS), the message will be sent from the recruiting office to an MARS member for transmission.

Lutheran Conclave To Close Friday

HOUSTON, June 25—UP—Delegates to the 42nd triennial conference of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, met in special night session in an effort to clear a heavy agenda of business and financial matters before Friday's scheduled close to the 10-day meeting.

The conference voted to sell Concordia Seminary at Fort Wayne, Ind., and use proceeds from the sale to establish the Missouri Synod's first four-year senior college.

A two-year "finishing" college was approved for Fort Wayne.

A committee report said the Indiana Technical College at Fort Wayne has made a tentative offer of $1 million for Concordia Seminary. This sum would make available a total of $4.2 million for the planned senior college.

The problem of the conscientious objector was raised before the conference, meanwhile, and a committee prepared a resolution asking Dr. John W. Behnken, president of the Missouri Synod, to appoint an "outstanding theologian" to prepare a "clear and concise statement on a Christian's attitude toward war."

The Missouri Synod Lutheran church for 106 years has never taken a definite stand on conscientious objectors in time of war.

The matter was brought before the 42nd triennial conference on request of a Cleveland church member who was a World War II conscientious objector.

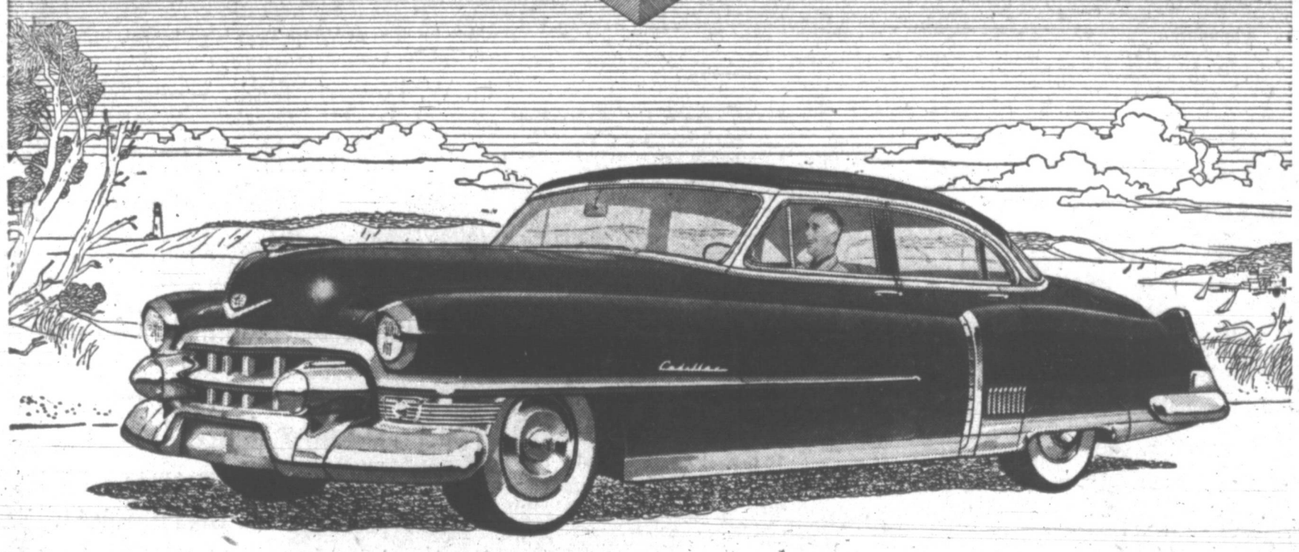
The conference also was handed a resolution concerning the principle of separation of church and state as it applies to state aid for private and parochial schools.

HAT'S IN THE BAG—This hat does double duty, both as a hat and as a utility bag for carrying accessories while at the beach. It's modeled in Paris by Juliette Figueroa, Miss Europe of 1950.

Vacation Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, June 24—UP—The Senate Wednesday passed a bill designed to prevent top government officials from collecting pay for vacations they don't take. It would bar roughly 400 to 500 top federal officials, including Cabinet officers and agency heads, from collecting lump-sum payments for accumulated annual leave time when they quit the government.

Cadillac



He's Driving His Cares Away!

There's a great industrialist in Detroit, and a well-known scientist in New York, and a famous statesman in Washington who will tell you that the best way to relax from the cares of the day is to get behind the wheel of a 1953 Cadillac.

And there are also thousands upon thousands of other Cadillac owners throughout America who will gladly add supporting testimony to these revealing statements.

For these motorists know, from their own personal experience, that there is no faster or surer way to relax and refresh than to take to the highway with a smooth, comfortable, quiet Cadillac car.

It makes a man feel good just to sit behind the wheel. As he glances about his Cadillac's gracious interior, he's reminded that he has made something out of his years—and that, in itself, gives a lift to his spirits.

And then, once he's out on the highway—well, he's as happy and trouble-free as it's possible for a motorist to be.

He is surrounded with comfort—and his driving is so relaxing and effortless and enjoyable that his mind clears, as the miles go by—and his heart grows gay and his outlook bright and hopeful.

He has literally driven his cares away!

You really ought to try it sometime. In fact, you ought to try it today!

The car is waiting—and so are we.
