Woman Shot To Death Here

CHRISTMAS WONDERLAND — That's what Lubbock stores are to the bubble-gum set these days. Here three youngsters watch with wide-eyed wonder a striking electric train display that they have to stand on tiptoe to see. Left to right are Vernell Meurer, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meurer of Slaton route 1; Jerry 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Smith of Ralls; and Sonny McKelvey, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McKelvey of 1711 Eighteenth. (Staff Photo.)

AND THIS TOO — Yes, there is some hard work for the grown-ups connected with Christmas, but it is fun too. Typical of thousands who brought armloads of Christmas gifts to Lubbock postoffice were Mrs. H. P. Cook, left, of 2512 Thirtieth, and M. L. Hicks, right, of 1646 Idalou highway. Hicks is a salesman for Armour and company. (Staff Photo.)

Cold Weather Rolls Toward South Plains

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A DOUBLE-BARRELED cold wave blasting its way across New Mexico was scheduled to strike the South Plains early this morning to set the stage for strong north winds, freezing rain, sleet or snow and temperatures between 15 and 20 degrees in this area late tonight and early Monday.

All of Texas—and the Panhandle and South Plains in particular—seemed certain last night to get a portion of the full-fledged cold wave that blew into the midwest Saturday on the heels of a widespread blizzard. Winds up to 40 miles an hour were forecast for the South Plains.

Blizzard conditions were forecast for the northwest part of New Mexico and western Oklahoma on Sunday, with snow in both states.

Low Readings Seen

For East Texas, the forecast called for a cold wave in the northwest, north central and west central portions Sunday night, with temperatures dropping to 14-20 in the extreme northwest portion along with freezing rain or snow.

Whipping west and north winds expected on the South Plains today automatically raised the danger signal for fires in cotton gin and warehouse storage yards.

Unusual wind conditions Saturday produced a small twister that wrecked farm outbuildings six miles south and a mile west of Morton, and strong winds were blamed for a fire that destroyed up to 260 bales of cotton at the Morton Co-op gin.

By Sunday night, the Dallas weather bureau said, colder weather should reach across Texas to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Riding in from the west, the first cold wave of the season for the South Plains was expected to roll into Lubbock between 4 a. m. and dawn, the Weatherman said.

At 12:30 a. m. today, the fast-

City Bond Vote Slated Tuesday

Although no organized opposition was apparent to the proposals, plans were completed Saturday for a vigorous "get out the vote" campaign for the city bond election Tuesday.

Bond issues totaling $1,075,000 will be submitted, including $550,000 for expansion of the sewage disposal plant and $525,000 for rights-of-way to complete the city traffic dispersal system.

Irving L. Jones, general campaign chairman, announced the junior chairman of commerce will spearhead the get-out-the-vote drive, assisted by KFYO, KCBD and KSEL.

As one of the expected stimulants to voting, City Manager Steve Matthews directed that all parking spaces between Ninth and Tenth street on Avenue J be reserved for voters. The polling place will be the Central Fire station, Ninth and J, from 8 a.m.

Conservatives Win Australian Election

MELBOURNE, Dec. 11. (Sunday). (INS)—Australia's Conservative "free enterprise" voters followed the example of New Zealand and smashed an eight-year-old Socialist rule today.

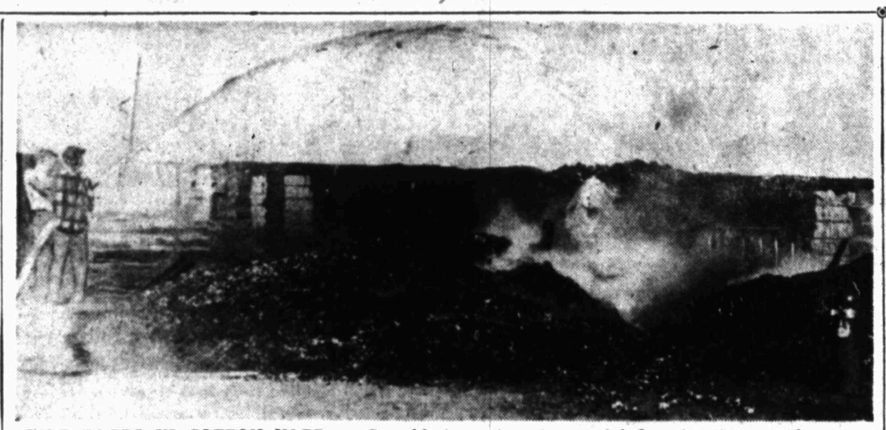

The margin of a seven or 10-seat majority on the basis of incomplete returns was narrow, but the victory was rated as the greatest setback the Socialist "welfare state" idea has suffered since it began spreading through the British Commonwealth.

Triumphant Conservatives led by Robert G. Menzies, prewar prime minister who again will assume that post, repeated his campaign promises to outlaw the Communist party, remove Socialist controls, repeal some nationalization laws and "return to free enterprise."

New Zealand's Conservatives broke a 14-year-old Socialist grip on that dominion 11 days ago.

Tech Building Plans Okayed

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

DIRECTORS of Texas Technological college advanced a $3,000,000 building program another step toward fruition in a meeting at the college Saturday by formally approving plans for four new major buildings and authorizing advertising of bids for construction.

In subsequent action later in the three-hour meeting, the board added another million dollars to the program by approving construction of a group of agriculture buildings at a cost of approximately $550,000 and financing of a $500,000 student union building.

Bids To Be Received

Bids will be received by the board on Feb. 25 for a new Engineering building, a Music building, a Science building and a Home Economics building addition.

The bid of Blythe & Company, Chicago bond house, for financing of a $250,000 issue of ten-year revenue bonds bearing 2½ per cent interest for the student union building was approved. The remainder of the cost of the building will come from income from the college bookstore, infirmary and concessions on the campus.

Aggie Building Planned

The agriculture buildings, for which plans will be prepared in the near future, include a veterinary science building, agricultural engineering building, stock show arena and a group of greenhouses. Haynes and Kirby, Lubbock architects, were approved as architects for the agriculture projects.

Atcheson & Atkinson, Lubbock, were approved as architects for the engineering building; Walsh and Hazelwood, Amarillo, for the music structure; Wyatt Hedrick,

260 Bales Burn; Loss Set At $43,000

Morton Cotton Yard Is Swept By Flames

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

MORTON, Dec. 10. — A wind-whipped fire raced through a 3,000-bale cotton storage yard at the Morton Co-op gin this afternoon, destroying about 260 bales of cotton and seven loaded trailers.

More than 100 volunteer firefighters checked the spread of flames shortly after 4 p.m., but crews from three gins late tonight were still working to extinguish smouldering piles of cotton in the 20-acre field three blocks north of the Morton business section.

Loss estimates on the fire, which was discovered at noon, ran as high as $43,000. This figure included 250 bales of freshly ginned cotton, the trailers and about 10 bales of unginned cotton in the trailers. Several more bales were damaged.

3,000 Bales Believed In Yard

Other estimates had less than 3,000 bales on the storage yard. The lowest estimate on the number of bales destroyed was 200 or more.

Gin crews still fighting the fire last night were trying to put out the last spark before a scheduled cold front hits Sunday with north winds predicted up to 35 and 40 miles an hour.

The blaze apparently started from the burr pit, the top of which had been blown off by the strong wind.

The high wind which fanned the blaze was accompanied by a small twister which struck chicken houses on the Lloyd Miller farm six miles south and one mile west of Morton.

Out Buildings Damaged

Miller, manager of the Slaughter Farms project, said one henhouse was heavily damaged and other outbuildings hit. No other damage was reported in the area.

When the fire was discovered at noon, it already had spread ex-

With Christmas only two weeks away, the Goodfellows' fund for the needy children of Lubbock is more than $2,200 short of its goal.

Contributions have dragged more slowly thus far than at any time during the 15 years the Goodfellows have played Santa Claus to the city's needy children. The total of donations, as of today, is $795.50.

CONTRIBUTIONS

William Levine	$25.00
Spencer A. Wells	25.00
Ralston Purina Co.	25.00
Claude Grellman	10.00
Rix Funeral Home	10.00
Smith Theaters	15.00
Previously reported	685.50
Total	$795.50

Unless this pace picks up, there simply won't be any Santa Claus this year for many of the poorer children of Lubbock. The Goodfellows will stretch whatever they have as far as it will go.

But, even with the $3,000 they have asked, they can allow only 75 cents for each of the 4,000 children on their list. With that amount, they can provide each child with a nice toy, candy, fruits and nuts. But they can't do much with less than that sum. Right now, they have less than 20 cents available to spend on each child.

Your contribution is needed worse this year than ever before. The campaign is going slower than ever before. Please send what you can—and as much as you can—to the Chief Goodfellow, in care of The Avalanche-Journal.

Robert Brackett, 10, Injured By Accidental Pistol Shot

Robert Brackett, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brackett of 2309 Thirty-fourth, was in critical condition early today in St. Mary's hospital with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

The shooting occurred about 10:50 p.m. Saturday while Robert and his brother, Boone, 13, were playing with a .32 caliber automatic pistol when it accidentally discharged, police and sheriff's deputies said.

The boys were alone at the time. The father was enroute to Lubbock from San Angelo where he had been on a business trip. Officers were seeking to contact him early today. Mrs. Brackett was at work at The Avalanche-Journal where she is a linotype operator.

The bullet entered the lower abdomen, missed all vital organs and emerged at the left hip, hospital authorities said. Surgery was completed about 12:30 a.m. A McDonald Funeral home ambulance carried the victim to the hospital.

U. S. Cotton Classing Office Here Sets New World Records

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

SEVERAL world records were broken in the U. S. cotton classing office in Lubbock last week according to official confirmation announced Saturday from Washington.

The further announcement was made that the office has classed samples from more than 1,000,000 bales of the 1949 South Plains cotton crop.

L. O. Buchanan, head of the office, said about 80,000 more samples were on hand awaiting classification, and he expects 400,000 to 500,000 more will come in before the harvest is finished.

On the basis of the samples actually classed, it was estimated, conservatively, that South Plains ginnings, which passed the million-bale mark for the first time in history on Dec. 3, now total close to 1,150,000.

The world records confirmed officially as having been broken in the Lubbock office include:

A new record for samples classed in an office during any one day, set at 30,410 on Monday, Dec. 5; 30,062 were handled Dec. 6.

A new record for samples in any one week, set at 165,000 during the

Mrs. W. T. Rogers, 56, Slaying Victim

Walter T. Rogers, 65, Charged With Murder In Shotgun Shooting Of Wife

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

MRS. MARGARET ROGERS, 56, was shot to death about 9 a. m. Saturday in the kitchen of a rooming house at 2105 Main.

Her 65-year-old husband, Walter T. Rogers, was held in denial of bail on a charge of murder with malice.

One shot had almost severed her wrist, and had drained her heart.

They were married Sept. 3, at Portales, N. M.

First Wife Wreck Victim

Rogers, whose first wife was fatally injured near Tulia about two and a half years ago when their car was in collision with another as they were en route home from a church convention on the North Plains, went to a closet and handed arresting officers a 12 gauge pump shotgun loaded with No. 4 shot.

An empty shell was found in the kitchen, approximately six feet from where Mrs. Rogers was said by a witness to have been washing dishes.

District, county and city officials who investigated said it appeared to be similar to that in the gun. A box of such shells was found in the basement.

"Self Defense" Claimed

Rogers told Raymond Land and Frank Mitchell, deputies to whose custody Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank had committed the defendant, that he would "plead self-defense."

"She was coming at me with a butcher knife," he said.

To District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, who had assisted Justice of Peace D. W. Robertson in conducting an inquest and later had recommended denial of bail at a hearing before Robertson, Rogers said he wished to make no statement until he had conferred with his attorney. He asked that former 72nd District Judge Homer L. Pharr be called to the jail to confer with him.

Pharr did not disclose what was said at the conference.

Residence Is Searched

A minute search of the residence, where Rogers had lived more than 30 years, according to acquaintances, did not turn up any butcher knife except those in a set neatly arranged in a case in the kitchen and one in a drawer, it was announced.

None was stained or wet, the investigation disclosed.

The shot was heard a brief time after Mr. and Mrs. Rogers had quarreled bitterly, witnesses said.

Maurene Brewer, 24, who said she had been adopted by Mrs. Rogers in 1940, said "Aunt Margaret," her name for Mrs. Rogers, told her husband that she couldn't "stand it any longer" and that she was going to town and institute divorce proceedings.

Threat Is Related

Miss Brewer had undergone a tonsilectomy two days earlier and, racked with pain and torn with emotion, said Rogers called his wife opprobrious names, grabbed her around the throat with his hands, and said he would kill "all

Lubbock VFW Post Is Spending Thousands Annually For Relief

Living up to its motto, "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living," Lubbock's post No. 2466 of Veterans of Foreign Wars is engaging in an ever-growing program of relief that costs thousands of dollars annually.

The post has been able to give help and still pay off most of its debt on the new post home as well as make constant improvements, said William Earl Creel, commander.

Everything from medical and hospital bills to groceries, clothing and bus tickets has been contributed by the VFW to deserving persons this year, Creel said.

Indebtedness Reduced

The relief program is guided by a relief committee of which B. C. Hood is chairman and Buddy Ezell and Jim B. Clark, members.

The program is mainly financed by proceeds of the annual poppy sales the Saturday before Memorial day, which normally in Lubbock nets about $1,500.

However, the post spends more money than this on relief, and the remainder is taken out of the general fund for the purpose.

With only $7,000 indebtedness remaining on the $70,000 post home building at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N, and with a $3,800 paving program completed and paid for, the post looks forward to further increasing its relief program.

About 1,700 Members

In the past two years the post has grown into a "big business" with more than 1,700 members and eight paid employes.

The welfare work has grown too. For example, regular contributions are made to Milam's orphans home and certain needy families receive regular aid from the post in the form of clothing or food. Eleven families have received help this year.

Within the past two weeks the post has paid two hospital bills for needy non-members—one of $130 and another of $125.

Members of the post have noted that transients with increasing frequency are appealing for help, usually asking for a ticket to their destination.

Hospital Beds Maintained

If the man has a VFW card, no further questions are asked insofar as checking his need. However, the aid is not limited to VFW members and where need is apparent, the organization endeavors to help.

At present the post receives as many as four calls a week regarding families who need help.

Four hospital beds and two wheel chairs are also maintained by the post and are available without charge to those who need them, whether war veterans or not.

Brain Operation Scheduled For Youth

Santa Makes Special Visit To Seriously Ill Lubbock Youth

Santa Claus paid an early visit to 7-year-old Doyce Atteberry, jr., of 1503 Leland Ave., whose illness has been diagnosed as brain tumor.

When he awakened Friday, the boy found two toy guns, two scabbards and a football under the Christmas tree.

He had wanted Santa Claus to bring those gifts to him, said his mother, Mrs. Garland Flinn.

He also received other gifts.

Boy Plays With Gifts

He sat in a chair Saturday playing with his gifts. He has been unable to walk in more than two weeks, said his mother.

The boy will be taken to John Sealy hospital at Galveston today or Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Flinn. There, he is expected to undergo a serious operation.

The boy has been ill several months. He entered Posey school in September, but left after one week because of illness. He later returned to school and attended two and one-half days.

Periodic Comas Suffered

He goes into a coma of few minutes duration on an average of 16 to 18 times daily, said his mother.

Diagnosis of his ailment as brain tumor was given by a Lubbock physician.

Mrs. Flinn was notified that surgery might be performed at John Sealy hospital anytime after 10 days. X-ray and other examinations will be made.

Mrs. Flinn said a physician had told her that chances are "very slim" for successful removal of the tumor, and that if it is not removed Doyce has little chance to recover.

After he found he could not attend school during the fall, Doyce expressed interest in receiving letters and cards from the public. He received 68 letters and approximately 100 cards.

Floydada To Expand Education Facilities

FLOYDADA, Dec. 10. (Special)—Expansion of Floydada's school plant will result from approval by school district voters of a $165,000 bond issue this week, said Supt. I. T. Graves.

The election carried by a vote of 180 to 21. The plans include six more classrooms at Andrews elementary school and a physical education building on the high school grounds.

The buildings are to be ready for the 1950-51 school year. The physical education building is expected to enable the system to carry on a physical education program sought by the State Department of education.

Building Near Billion Mark

(By The United Press)

Construction awards in Texas totaled more than $14,500,000 the past week but prospects for a billion dollar year apparently are sunk, the Texas Contractor, a trade journal published in Austin, said Saturday.

The accumulative total for 1949 was $887,750,281 including awards of $14,647,329 for the week ended Dec. 9. The previous week's awards were $12,921,728.

Non-residential construction led in construction awards the past week with a total of $9,092,982. In this category, hospitals and hotels were earmarked for $3,236,000; schools $2,806,114; business buildings $2,044,264; public buildings $589,310, and churches and theaters $417,294.

Small Homes Leading

Residential construction totaled $4,422,400 for 580 one-family units. Residences costing less than $7,000 each, as usual, paced the field in home building. There were awards for 324 of these estimated to cost a total of $2,067,500.

There were 74 residences costing more than $7,000 each at a total cost of $1,761,000; plus 170 apartments to cost $510,000 and 12 duplexes to cost $83,900.

Engineering awards totaled $1,131,947 with $584,561 to go for waterworks and sewers; $500,000 for irrigation and channels, $30,686 for highways and streets and $16,700 for rural electrification work.

Officers were elected and plans were made for Christmas caroling at a meeting of the Girl Scout Junior chorus, comprised of four girls from each intermediate troop in Lubbock, Saturday afternoon at the Girl Scout Little House.

Officers chosen were: Madeleine Homes, troop 4, president; Phyllis Stroud, troop 32, vice-president, and Patsy Ruth Law, troop 25, secretary.

The group voted to go caroling the night of Dec. 23. Members will meet at the Little House at 7 o'clock that night.

Lubbock residents wishing to have carols sung to them are invited to telephone the Little House, No. 2-0196, it was announced.

Mrs. Frank Millican is director of the churus. Mrs. E. H. McMurtry directed games Saturday and helped in the program. Carols were sung.

Thirty-six girls attended.

Rains apparently have cut El Salvador's cotton crop by one-third.

Receipts totaling $7,422.55, approximately 50 per cent of the goal, had been recorded Saturday afternoon from sale of seals by the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, said Miss Virginia Greenwaldt, executive secretary.

"Communist Leader Of North Texas" Cited In Contempt Case

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (U.P.)—Federal Judge William H. Atwell set a contempt of court hearing Dec. 19 for Fred Estes, self-styled "Communist leader of North Texas."

The action was asked yesterday by federal authorities because of the 32-year-old Grand Prairie gardener's refusal to testify before immigration authorities on the activities of seven aliens.

Monday was the third time Estes had refused to testify before the immigration officials. A transcript of his testimony on that date showed he answered one question—and that to give his name.

COUNTY AGENT'S REPORT PREPARED

Farmers Need To Change From All-Out Cotton, Sherrill Says

Lubbock county farmers are at the turning point from an all-cotton farming program to balanced farming which will include cotton, grain sorghums and livestock to stabilize their income, County Agent D. W. Sherrill points out in his annual report to the Texas Extension Service.

"We are about over the stage where we can make money accidentally in farming," Sherrill says. "We've got to have better management from now on if we are to make money farming. The high prices are about over.

Farmers All Right Financially

"Although less net profit will go to farmers of Lubbock county in 1949 compared to 1948, farmers are in fairly good financial condition due to the very good yields in 1949," Sherrill points out.

"Cotton will yield almost an average of three-fourths of a bale to the acre on 400,000 acres and grain sorghums an average of approximately 3,000 pounds per acre from 70,000 acres.

Support Prices Aided

"Government support prices aided greatly in prices received by farmers. More than 50 per cent of cotton and grain will go into the government loan.

"But an all-cotton program year after year will ruin any good farmer or any good farm," Sherrill says. "We don't have to go very far back in our history to prove this point.

"We are shipping in milk, butter, poultry and eggs, which can be grown cheaper on Lubbock county farms," Sherrill is declaring in talks to farmers he is making this week and next to farmers of the county.

Challenge Facing Farmers

"The greatest challenge facing us is to improve the soil fertility and yield of our farms. This can be accomplished a great deal through use of legumes and livestock."

Sherrill's report points out that rainfall this year so far has been 28.93 inches. Even so, pre-planting watering and wise crop watering from 2,000 irrigation wells in the county boosted yields.

Improvements On Farms

"Many improvements have been made on farms this year," his report says. 'New houses of the better kind have been numerous.

"Mechanized farming made further strides in 1949. Farmers are quick to take up new and better practices and implements."

Farms in the county are approximately 2,121, the report points out. Of these it is estimated 1,800 changes of practices were brought about during the year. Five hundred farmers were reached by the service for the first time.

The agent and his two assistants, Joe Jones, assistant in charge of 4-H club work for boys and Jack Carothers, assistant working on noxious weeds, Johnson grass, insecticides, fertilizers and chemicals, collectively spent 818 days work with adults, 275 days with 4-H clubs and boys; 175 days were spent in the office and 700 days in the field. A total of 1,453 farm visits were made, 310 of them to different farms.

The record shows 4,324 office calls, 5,270 telephone calls, 106 news articles, 5,270 bulletins distributed to city and farm folks, and 427 radio programs given. Thirty-one training meetings were attended by 1,279 people; 19 4-H training meetings were attended by 830 boys; demonstrations numbered 161 with 13,425 attending; 12 4-H club demonstrations drew 1,017; four result demonstrations attracted 450 farmers and six tours drew 600 farmers. One 4-H Achievement day program had 350 persons present.

At the present time, there are 310 4-H club members enrolled with 461 projects such as pigs, calves, poultry, cotton, maize, etc., with 367 boys completing their projects satisfactorily.

Projects covered during the year included: soil and water conservation, soil building, cotton and cotton insects, livestock shows, noxious weed control, animal and poultry paracites, 4-H club cotton work, 4-H club dairy work, 4-H club poultry work, 4-H club swine, 4-H club beef and 4-H club contest and activities.

Throughout the year, field days on soil and water conservation, cattle feeding and mixed grass pastures, irrigation on terracing and contouring farms, tractor school and implement show, and cotton classing.

The report, recently forwarded to College Station, makes up a 21-page booklet. It covered the period from Dec. 1, 1948 to Nov. 30, 1949.

Texas Oil Production Hits Sharp Cutbacks

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Texas oil production, curtailed by Railroad Commission order this month, dropped to an average calendar day allowable of 2,134,321 barrels as of today.

This was a decrease of 66,993 barrels from last Saturday. The allowable reflects the affect of the cutback for the first full week in December.

The permissive flow is approximately 586,000 barrels below that of December a year ago, when a peak of some 2,720,000 barrels a day was reached.

Successive cutbacks for the first eight months of this year reduced the allowable to 1,871,938 for July and August.

Three consecutive increases then sent the daily average up to 2,335,063 for the week ending Nov. 26. Professing fear of glutting the market, the commission ordered smaller production for December.

The commission reported completion of 195 oil wells this week, sending the year's total to 8,379 compared with 7,420 a year ago. Gas well completions, which have lagged behind the 1948 mark most of this year, finally caught up with year-ago figures. Seventeen gas wells were brought in to make the 1949 total 674, two ahead of the comparable 1948 period.

There were 107 dry holes. Wildcat drilling produced 10 oil wells, 3 gassers, and 60 dry holes.

One gas well, 44 oil wells and 109 dry wells were plugged.

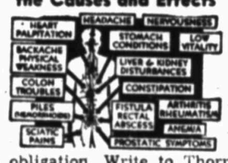

Sentence Of Air Force Captain Suspended In El Paso Slaying

EL PASO, Dec. 10 (AP)—A district court jury which convicted Capt. Joseph Phillips of murdering El Paso bartender Vernon Hopper gave Phillips a five-year-suspended sentence.

The verdict was returned early last night. Phillips was serving as intelligence officer at Biggs Air Force base when he fatally shot Hopper Sept. 6. Hopper had been dating Phillips' estranged wife.

Truman Annoyed At News Stories Hinting Break With Eisenhower

By ROBERT G. NIXON
INS Staff Correspondent

U. S. SUB BASE, Key West, Fla., Dec. 10.—President Truman was revealed today to be annoyed at published stories originating at Key West intimating a breach has developed between him and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The President's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, said the stories fitted into a single category—"thumb-suckers."

This is a journalistic term describing stories that are dreamed up.

Press Secretary Annoyed

Ross, obviously annoyed himself, said of the stories:

"The President has never mentioned the subject in my presence. There seems to be considerable thumb-sucking going on here."

The carefully-phrased stories, purporting to have come from "Presidential intimates," stated that the President regarded the wartime commander-in-chief of Allied forces in Europe as "talking like a Republican presidential candidate."

Strong pressure was brought on the general in the pre-convention months of 1948 to run for the presidency.

Pressure Proves Fruitless

He declined after much pressure, which mounted steadily when he resigned as chief of staff of the Army and became president of Columbia university.

President Truman has long been an outspoken admirer of the general, and one of his closest friends in public life. He has repeatedly extolled him in both public speeches and private conversation.

A few months ago, when difficulties continued among the armed forces over unification, the President called the general back to temporary duty as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Defense Talks Held

Eisenhower conducted a higher policy defense conference in the privacy of the President's quarters in Key West last winter.

Since his return to the post as head of Columbia university, Eisenhower recently made a public statement criticizing high government spending and calling for a change from "champagne and caviar" to "hotdogs and beer" politics.

These statements were mentioned in the stories written from Key West yesterday. They were likened to similar utterances by former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, who was an ardent Roosevelt new deal supporter, but has recently become a states-righter.

Implied Inference Cited

White House annoyances over the stories appears to stem from the implied inference that Mr. Truman has broken his friendship with Eisenhower because of the general's public statements.

There is the additional inference, also, that because the stories were written from Key West it would appear that they had been authorized by the White House, and that an active campaign was underway to cut the legs from under the general before he could again become a strong political threat.

Actually, the stories were not "inspired," and the President is not conducting a campaign against Eisenhower at this time.

Close Friendship Continues

The President's friendship and admiration for the general continues. He recognizes that Eisenhower is entitled to his own opinions and their public expression as is any other American.

The Key West stories also stated that the President "will answer" Eisenhower in his State of the Union message which he will deliver to Congress early next month.

Actually, of course, the message is not be shaped to answer Eisenhower. Its contents and basic policy were laid down long before Eisenhower made his New York statement.

Flight Plan Which Alerted Officials For Plane A Hoax

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — A flight plan that alerted CAA officials for a plane thought to be missing on a flight last night from Fairbanks, Tex., to Amarillo was a hoax.

Civil Aeronautics administration investigators yesterday found a bus-boy at a Chinese restaurant here had telephoned the mythical "flight plan."

The bus boy quit his job earlier this week and also was checked out of his hotel.

The restaurant staff told the investigators the bus boy was "plane crazy" and several times had announced he soon would "hop off for California."

CAA officials had alerted stations between Fairbanks and Waco, where the plane was to have checked in last night. It never did.

The youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bratcher. He is a member of the Calvary Baptist church and is a licensed preacher. He plans to enter Wayland next year to prepare himself for missionary work in Africa.

Mexico Considering Accepting Number Of Italian Immigrants

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10 (AP) — The Mexican foreign office confirmed last night that Mexico is studying the possibility of accepting "a small number" of Italian immigrants.

A formal statement emphasized that "so far there are nothing more than just studies which have not yet crystallized in a concrete arrangement."

The National Peasants' federation today protested against Italian immigration. The federation, principal organization of farm workers, said immigrants should not be accepted until all Mexican farm workers have been given land.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSAL EXPECTED

South Plains Cotton Growers To Vote On Controls Thursday

Lubbock county polling places for the cotton marketing quota election next Thursday were announced Saturday as farmers throughout the South Plains were warned of the "vital importance" of their support for the proposal.

Indications reportedly had improved that the South Plains vote will be large and almost solidly in favor of the restoration of cotton acreage controls next year.

Officials emphasized that those eligible to vote are the landlords, tenant farmers, sharecroppers and their wives who were interested in any way in the production of cotton during 1948.

They stressed particularly that the wives are eligible to vote.

Monroe—New Deal clubhouse.

Shallowater—the clubhouse.

City of Lubbock—the courthouse, the College Avenue Co-op gin and the McCoy and Ely gin.

Hurlwood—the Hurlwood gin.

Roosevelt—the school building.

Wolfforth—Frenship school building.

Slaton—the city hall.

Woodrow community—the Cooper school, Slide gin and Union gin.

The locations of polling places in other counties can be obtained from the county Production and Market administration committeemen, according to PMA officials in Lubbock.

Area officials of the PMA said failure to approve the quotas almost certainly will cost those interested in cotton farms many millions of dollars.

In a general way, the plan proposes to place a limit on the extent of the cotton acreage any farmer can plant next year. The total allotment to South Plains counties, as announced recently, approximates 1,824,000 acres. The purpose of the restriction is to cut down the cotton surplus which is growing this year to nearly 10,000,000 bales.

Under the plan, if approved, the farmer who plants no more than his allotted acreage will be guaranteed 90 per cent of parity price for whatever cotton he grows.

If the plan is defeated, farmers have been advised, parity will be cut to 50 per cent if he confines his plantings to the acreage which will be allotted him—and such allotments will be made, regardless of the outcome of the election.

If he should plant more acreage than allotted, he would receive no parity guarantee at all. He would take whatever his cotton would bring on the open market.

To restore controls, two-thirds of those who vote Thursday throughout the United States must approve them. They will be put into effect for the entire nation or not at all.

Thus, officials explained, the larger the vote cast in favor of controls on the South Plains, the better will be the chance that the proposal will be approved by the nation.

Officials estimated that there are approximately 5,000 eligible voters in Lubbock county and almost as many in Crosby. The total qualified vote above the Caprock is estimated by officials at 50,000 to 60,000.

Cotton Classing

week ending last Friday.

A new record for samples handled without cost to farmers during any season.

1,007,468 Bales Classed

This figure for the Lubbock office at the close of business Friday was 1,007,468. The previous record was 961,000 last year in the Bakersfield, Calif., office, which has handled only about 750,000 this year, with the harvest almost ended.

The most samples ever classed in any office, according to information to Buchanan, was 1,260,000 in Greenwood, Miss., last year.

Buchanan expects this record to be broken here within the next two to three weeks, giving the Lubbock office the distinction of having classed more samples in a year than any office in world history.

Procedure Is Explained

Buchanan, who holds the official title of chief of the board of cotton examiners here, explained the classing procedure briefly.

He said a sample is taken from every bale of cotton ginned. Somewhat more than 99 per cent of these samples are sent into the nearest government classing office where they are tested and labeled as to staple length, color and other qualities.

The length of the staple, the color and several other factors affect the market value of the cotton. The average length of the individual fibers in the cotton produced on the South Plains is about seven-eighths of an inch—which means that it is pretty short.

Many Factors Speed Work

Buchanan said credit for the record-breaking achievements in the Lubbock office this year is due largely to the following factors:

Texas Technological college, for having supplied space where 11 of the office's 34 classers can work; the close cooperation of the membership of the Lubbock Cotton exchange, and the "loyalty, diligence and efficiency" of his staff.

The personnel now numbers about 150, Buchanan said, and has worked "day and night, on Sundays and holidays."

Buchanan specifically commended Don Mitchell, former exchange president, W. C. Roddy and Clarence Young for having made space available, without cost, for classing work in their sample rooms in the Pryor Building, 1406 Ave. G.

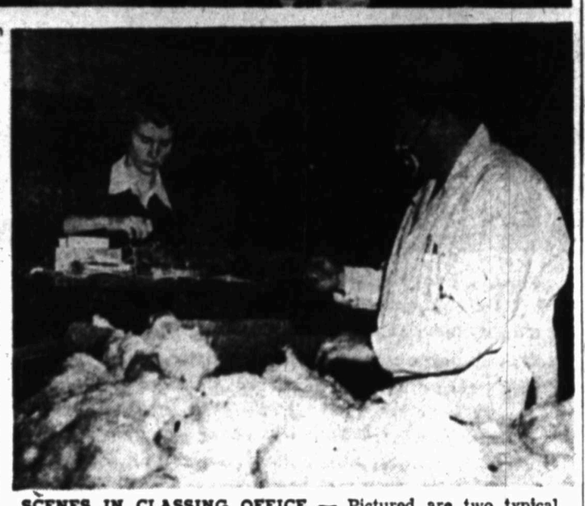

Lubbock headquarters of the office are the building at 1701 Avenue H.

"But we couldn't have handled the work this year without the cooperation of Texas Tech and the additional space in the Pryor building," Buchanan remarked.

"We tried to rent additional space, and had the money to pay for it," he added. "But nothing was available."

The progress of ginnings and classings during the past week strengthened the prospect that the final figure on the 1949 crop produced above the Caprock can't be much under 1,600,000 bales, and may go over that total.

The previous record for production in the area was 959,000 bales in 1937.

ORC Summer Camp Schedule Announced

The schedule for the various branches of the Organized Reserve corps attending 1950 summer camp was announced today by Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military district with headquarters at Austin.

Following a recommendation by the Texas Military district after summer camp of 1949, higher headquarters have initiated plans for the 1950 summer camp far in advance, so that all reservists may make plans with their employers to obtain military leave to attend the camps.

Individual reservists will be notified of the date that their ORC unit is scheduled for summer field training not later than Jan. 10. Where practicable, ORC units will be notified prior to the last scheduled drill assembly held this year.

The 1950 objctive of summer camp for the ORC is the maximum practical training of all units which cannot be conducted at their home station. It will insure practical training of staffs, individuals and command echelons. Organized Reservists also will have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with new organizations, doctrines, techniques and development.

Complete information on the ORC summer camp program may be obtained from Major James Samsel, ORC instructor with offices in the Lubbock Cotton Exchange building.

HAILEY, Idaho, Dec. 10. (AP)—The touring Shah of Iran departed today for San Francisco, ending a three day visit at the Sun Valley resort near here.

Henry Suydam, the shah's press representative, explained there wasn't much snow at Sun Valley and added "the shah just wants to see San Francisco."

Yesterday the monarch tried his hand at trapshooting and beat Joe Burgy of Sun Valley, the Idaho state champion, in a short match. Burgy said the shah was one of the best shots ever to draw a bead on the Sun Valley range.

After cracking clay targets, the shah fired a new rifle presented to him by President Truman.

While at Sun Valley the shah also bowled, shot skeet, played pool and swam.

"The shah has had a wonderful time," W. O. Rogers, resort manager, said.

moving front from the west was reported just west of Roswell, N. M., moving east and as if it meant business. The front already had passed El Paso to the south at that hour, and snow was reported from that point.

Button your overcoat tight after that, the forecaster warned, because the mercury is expected to slip steadily downward through the day, and go below freezing by mid-afternoon.

As the Weatherman had it charted last night, the first front from the west may bring scattered showers, with a secondary front chugging along behind it almost certain to bring showers or snow flurries before noon.

High Winds Also Due

Winds from the west are expected to hit about 25 to 30 mile p[illegible]ur speeds with the first front. Then with the second front due at mid-morning, winds should shift to bear from the north with blasts up to 40 miles an hour, the forecaster said.

After the two west fronts get established on the South Plains, the polar air from Colorado and Oklahom[illegible] is expected to sweep on down into Texas.

Completely aware of the tricky way cold waves often fail to follow schedules on the South Plains, the Weatherman was prepared to bet his fleece-lined overshoes on this one.

"If we don't get this, I'll be ready to quit," he said.

Full Effects Due Tonight

The full effects of the cold wave on the South Plains should come Sunday night and Monday morning, the forecaster said. That's when freezing rain, snow or sleet may join the dropping mercury to give the area winter with all the trimmings.

The forecast called for a low of 15 to 20 degrees in the Lubbock vicinity before dawn Monday.

If that sounds cold, the Panhandle was looking for temperatures as low as 10 degrees, and the Dallas weather bureau said readings that low also may come on the South Plains.

Showers are expected to turn to snow in the Panhandle Sunday night, as well as on the South Plains. For the rest of West Texas, the forecast called for freezing rain or snow with low temperatures from 18 to 28.

The twister which struck near Morton caused damage to henhouses, and other farm buildings on the Lloyd Miller farm six miles south and one mile west of Morton. Miller said one henhouse was heavily damaged and other outbuildings hit. No other damage or injuries were reported in the area.

The Lubbock forecaster said the most potent part of the cold wave from the north should sweep through Oklahoma, although some of the intensity of that blast might reach into the Texas Panhandle and South Plains.

Continued cold is expected Monday, the forecaster said here, with skies beginning to clear through the day.

A pilot's report received by the local weather bureau told of 81-mile-an-hour winds west of El Paso Saturday night at about 16,000 mean sea level. The pilot, in a light plane, said he could make no headway against the breeze and was forced to turn back to El Paso.

Fog and rain fell over much of Texas Saturday, with Lubbock getting late morning showers totaling .13 which gave way to sunshine and clearing skies during the afternoon. The Lubbock high Saturday was 60 degrees. This reading was expected to be around 40 here this morning before the front hits.

Rain also was reported at Houston, Amarillo, Brownsville, Dallas, El Paso, Lufkin, Texarkana, Austin and numerous other points over much of the state.

STINGING COLD WAVE SWEEPS INTO MIDWEST

(By The Associated Press)

A stinging cold wave rode into the midcontinent Saturday on the coat-tails of a widespread blizzard. Residents of an eight state area —from Oklahoma to Montana— braced for the ugliest weather of the season.

Late fall exploded with windy fury in sections from California to Maine, causing at least 10 deaths.

Highways Glazed

A sub-zero cold air mass chilled the northeast. Sleet of freezing rain glazed highways and communications lines across much of the Midwest. A pea-soup fog enveloped Texas, grounding most air travel. Whipping winds lashed the southern California coastline and coastal shipping.

Fog halted all air passenger traffic at Chicago's municipal airport.

By late afternoon Saturday, visibility was reduced to a quarter of a mile with a 100-foot ceiling. Passenger planes were routed to St. Louis and Indianapolis.

The Weather bureau predicted the fog would last until Sunday morning.

A minor earthquake that caused no damage jolted the Santa Monica bay area of California.

Ice coated roads were a factor in three highway accident deaths in Iowa. William McLelland, a prominent rancher, was killed when his private plane crashed in the Texas fog.

By Saturday night, blizzard conditions prevailed in parts of Montana and Wyoming. The storm was sliding southward along the eastern slope of the Rockies, and had already passed below Cheyenne early Saturday night. Snow driven by 50 mile an hour gusts there cut visibility to half a mile.

Temperatures were 3 below zero at Cut Bank, Mont., and were expected to drop sharply all over Colorado by Sunday.

Two persons were killed and seven others injured in a highway accident attributed to the fog near St. Joseph, Mo.

Six Persons Drown

Six negroes drowned near Birmingham, Ala., when their car skidded off a bridge in a drizzling rain and plunged into a lake.

These early morning sub-zero temptratures were recorded in the northeast: Ware, Mass., -20; Massena, N. Y., -13; Concord, N. H., -13; and Portland, Me., -3.

The cold wave and blizzard hit northern Montana Saturday morning and spread rapidly south and eastward. Winds rose to 30 miles an hour, the temperature began sinking and visibility became less than a mile.

Warnings Issued

The Weather bureau issued special cold wave and blizzard warnings for residents of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, eastern Montana and western Kansas. Sub-zero cold and heavy blowing snow were moving toward Minnesota and Wisconsin. The heaviest snowfall of the season was predicted for Iowa Sunday. Western Oklahoma was in the path of the advancing cold wave.

By Sunday the storm was expected to spread over most of Kansas except the southeastern section.

Forecasters said winds were expected to get up to 40 miles an hour in the blizzard area and that temperatures would skid to 20 below in the Dakotas by Sunday night.

A forecast of much colder weather was general throughout the north central states.

Southern California was hit by snow, rain, sleet and high winds. Temperatures were in the 50's in and around Los Angeles. The Coast Guard aided 10 distressed vessels caught in the heavy seas, but the city of Santa Monica's harbor tug rank. No casualties were reported. Winds reached 85 miles an hour in San Bernardino county.

Mine Union Seeks More Coal Contracts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers union said today union negotiators are busy seeking more coal contracts and probably will have some more to announce next week.

Lewis said last night that operators of mines producing a total of 9,162,900 tons a year have now signed on the union's terms. He again confidently predicted:

"An additional tonnage will sign."

The terms of the soft coal settlement are a 95-cent daily pay boost, bringing the miners' basic wage to $15 a day, and a boost from 20 to 35 cents a ton for the miners' welfare fund. The new contracts also call for a trustee set-up more to the union's liking to run the fund.

Lewis never has announced the names of the coal firms which have signed up with him. However, several of these operators have announced their agreements with Lewis.

The big coal operators associations are maintaining a solid front in denying the union's demands.

Officials Of Texas, Mexico May Meet

McALLEN, Dec. 10 (AP)—A member of the Texas Good Neighbor commission has disclosed a plan for a meeting between city officials from Texas and northern Mexico cities.

Ramon P. Guerra of McAllen, a member of the commission, said the proposal was inspired by success of a recent joint meeting of Governor Allan Shivers of Texas, the commission, and governors of four Mexican states.

Guerra announced receipt of the plan from George D. Barber of Mineral Wells, president of the League of Texas municipalities.

The recent meeting at which Shivers was host to the governors of Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, and Chihuahua, suggested the idea, Barber said.

He said next October's annual meeting of the league in San Antonio will be marked by an invitation to city officials of one Mexican city to appear as guest speakers. But that should not interfere with efforts to stage a proposed meeting of city officials from several cities on both sides of the Rio Grande, Barber said.

Guerra said that Tom Sutherland, executive secretary of the commission, plans to move to McAllen soon for a few months while at work on a number of new commission projects.

Texas U. Board To Seek Funds To Enlarge Children's Hospital

GALVESTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The University of Texas board of regents decided today to ask the legislature for money to enlarge the John Sealy crippled children's hospital here.

The board authorized a pharmacology foundation for the college of pharmacy in Austin.

In deciding to seek enlargement of the children's hospital, the board authorized C. H. Page & Son, Austin architects, to draw plans for two-and three-story additions.

D. K. Woodward of Dallas said the legislature will be asked for funds to carry out both sets of plans.

The session was the last of the regents' December meeting.

The university development board was charged with getting funds for the pharmacology foundation.

The board authorized these medical branch appointments:

Dr. William Cantrell, instructor in neuropsychiatry.

Dr. Ira Jackson, instructor in surgery.

Charles A. Angel, teaching and research assistant in bio-chemistry.

Dr. Austin Foster, associate professor in neuropsychiatry.

Miss Pauline Mariniek, dietician in the Galveston state psychopathic hospital.

Chiang Flees To Last Stronghold

By SPENCER MOOSA
Associated Press Staff Writer

TAIPEH, Formosa, Dec. 10 — Chiang Kai-Shek flew to Formosa tonight from the chaotic mainland, where a Yunnan province revolt was stripping the Nationalists of their last major foothold.

Large-scale organized resistance on the mainland is ending. A new era of Nationalist guerrilla warfare is at hand.

Tao Hsi-Sheng, Chiang's spokesman, admitted the Yunnan situation was grave. Nationalist quarters held a faint hope the revolt could yet be localized. They have counted on that south province for a base.

(Air crews of planes reaching Hong Kong from Kunming, Yunnan province capital, said it was believed the whole province had gone over to the Communists. Turncoat Nationalists held Kunming.)

Chiang Maps Fight

Chiang laid his plans for guerrilla warfare before he left Chengtu. The city served for 10 brief days as a refuge for the Nationalist government before its removal to this island 100 miles off the mainland.

The generalissimo made a strenuous effort to keep Yunnan loyal. He called in three Yunnan generals for conferences shortly before he left.

When Chiang left Chengtu the streets were filled with soldiers of Gen. Hu Tsung-Nan's 350,000-man army. They were withdrawing to the mountains beyond, there to take up the burden of guerrilla warfare in western China.

Vessel Prepares To Evacuate U.S. Consul From Red China

ABOARD THE LAKELAND VICTORY AT TAKU BAR, Dec. 10. (AP)—Chinese Communist officials today boarded this U. S. ship to supervise the evacuation from Red China tomorrow of the Angus Ward party.

The U. S. consul general and his staff, ordered out of Mukden by the Communists, will proceed from Tientsin down river to Taku bar by tug.

Capt. Paul R. Sexton of the Lakeland Victory was advised from Tientsin that the party of 20 or more will board the tug at Tientsin at noon. It will take about 10 hours for the trip.

(That would put Ward aboard at about 8 a. m. Sunday central standard time.)

Two Communist quarantine and customs officials boarded the ship about two hours after it docked. With them were nine Russian cargo checkers and Robert Puck. Puck is the Tientsin agent of the Pacific Far East line which owns the Lakeland Victory.

Brother Of Lubbock Woman Is Killed

SPEARMAN, Dec. 10. (AP)—William McClellan, 49, prominent Spearman and Hansford county resident, was killed today when his new four-place plane crashed in a pasture one mile west of Spearman in the Panhandle.

The burned and twisted wreckage of the plane was found in a fence corner about a mile from the airport from which he took off about 7 a.m. The plane crashed on his brother's ranch. There were no witnesses to the crash.

McClellan and his nephew, Roy Lee McClellan, jr., owned the plane.

McClellan was born in Hansford county. He was a business man, farmer and rancher, was a past president of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce, a charter member and past president of the Lions club, and chairman of the boy scout committee.

He owned the McClellan Chevrolet Co., the McClellan Krause Implement company and the McClellan Oliver Implement Co., and farms and ranches in Texas and Oklahoma.

SISTER OF DEATH VICTIM LIVES IN LUBBOCK

William McClellan who was killed near Spearman Saturday was a brother of Mrs. Howard Hunt, 1904 Seventeenth, Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt left for Spearman Saturday after being informed of the tragedy and will remain there for funeral services. Boxwell Funeral home of Amarillo will be in charge of arrangements.

McClellan's parents lived in Lubbock at one time.

State Official Urges Laws To Curtail Wave Of Sex Crimes

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Acting Lt. Gov. G. C. Morris today called on Senate members of the criminal code committee to recommend legislation designed to curtail "the wave of sex crimes in our state."

Morris, who appointed the Senate members, said he did not want to be in a position of seeming to dictate but he felt it would be wise for the senators to consider such legislation.

"As you probably know, considerable agitation from the public has been manifested and many press releases have been issued from various groups suggesting the need for such legislation," Morris wrote.

The acting lieutenant governor said he had no suggestion to make as to what should be done as he does not practice criminal law. He expressed confidence that the committee could "find the answer to this problem through several agencies both non-governmental and governmental, who, I understand, are making a study of this problem."

Morris said some of these agencies had assured him they would be glad to serve in an advisory capacity.

He said he was hopeful the subject of sex crime legislation might be submitted to the special session of the Legislature to be called by Gov. Allan Shivers in late January or early February.

Lubbock Woman

three of us."

"All three?" Croslin asked.

"He included himself," the witness said.

Miss Brewer said she interposed that that was not the way "white people" do things.

"He looked at me funny for a minute, then went to the basement," Miss Brewer said.

Returned To Bedroom

She explained that she could not eat, because of her throat, and Mrs. Rogers assisted her to her bedroom, helped her in removing a wrapper and her slippers and into bed.

Mrs. Rogers then returned to the kitchen and began washing dishes, Miss Brewer said.

"I heard walking, then Aunt Margaret suddenly began saying: "Oh, no, Walter!'

Then I heard the noise of the gun, and I knew what it was.

" I jumped out of bed and ran to the kitchen.

"He stood there by the refrigerator.

Crumpled Under Table

"Aunt Margaret stumbled away from the sink, then crumpled and rolled uned the breakfast room table.

"I tried to go over to her—I just wanted to touch her, hear her say something.

"But he wouldn't let me.

" 'Get out of here, you—— ——,' he said. He threatened to blow my head off if I didn't.

"He told me that after I had said that he had killed her—had had blasted her heart out.

Was Object Of Quarrel

Miss Brewer said part of the quarrel was over her.

"Let her get her own breakfast," she quoted Rogers as saying to Mrs. Rogers. "If she's so sick, why isn't she in the hospital?"

She also told Croslin, Justice Robertson and Chief of City Detectives Pat Davidson before a physician arrived, administered a sedative and took her away in his car for a "complete rest" that:

"He told Aunt Margaret that we were trying to get everything he had."

Rogers reportedly owned farm land and had rented out apartments at his home after remodeling the residence.

Woman Tells Of Quarrel

Mrs. Carol Varnum, a former Boston resident who married her husband when he was in service and recently moved with him to the Rogers residence, told Croslin and City Detectives LeRoy Boling, jr., and Pete Hubbard that she heard a quarrel.

She said she was talking to a friend from a pay telephone in the hall when she heard the gunshot.

"I thought it was something else, that perhaps something had fallen," she said.

"I told Mrs. Brown (the friend not otherwise identified in her statement) that something had happened.

Screaming Was Heard

"A moment later, I heard screaming. I ran to the room where Maurene was. Mr. Rogers was with her. She said he had killed Mrs. Rogers. She was hysterical. I took her to my room.

"I went back to the telephone and Mr. Rogers came up while I was talking with Mrs. Brown again. I asked him if he wanted me to call an ambulance, and he said, 'No, would you please call the sheriff?' "

Later, Mrs. Varnum said, "he asked me to call an ambulance."

She said she never had seen Miss Brewer "before this morning—until I knocked at her door when she was screaming."

Wanted Bedsprings

She told Croslin and Robertson that, soon after the quarrel, Rogers knocked at her door and asked permission to "change the bedsprings."

"He smiled when he said that. He explained that because of a quarrel Mrs. Rogers wanted her furnishings and he would take her springs out of my bed and place a pair of his there.

"I helped him by pulling off the covers and linen. He took the springs and placed some more there and put the mattress back for me."

Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county health officer, performed a post mortem examination of Mrs. Rogers' body under direction of the district attorney.

Doctor Files Report

He said in a written report, a copy of which was furnished to Justice Robertson, that there was a gunshot wound of the left forearm six inches long, three inches wide, extending from two and a half inches below the left elbow to within one inch of the left wrist.

The wound, Dr. Kallina said, was ragged and much of the muscles, nerves, tendons and skin was completely absent. There was a fragmentation of the two bones of the arm.

There was another ragged wound in the left side of the chest, two and a half inches long and one inch wide. It extended, Dr. Kallina said, from the outside of the chest wall and through the left lung and into the heart.

"It was five and a half inches deep, and multiple lead shot was palpated . . ." the report continued.

Officers said the arm was "completely severed except for a bit of skin and flesh."

Mrs. Rogers was in her pajamas and shoes.

There was blood on the cabinet next the sink and on the floor where she lay.

Sanders ambulance drivers told Eubank two burners of the gas stove were "on but not lighted when we arrived."

Mrs. Rogers appeared to be lifeless, they said, so they did not move the body, it was explained.

Robertson said he had entered a verdict saying only that Mrs. Rogers had died from a gunshot wound.

"As I understand the law, that finding is all that is required of me in a case of this sort," he told The Avalanche-Journal. He said a state's attorney had concurred in that belief.

Arresting officers said Rogers met them at the door when they arrived a few minutes ahead of the police, who had been called at 9:19 a.m.

He was described by the officers as "calm. He remained that way when he was booked in the jail office."

Witnesses said Rogers owns a farm in Oklahoma. He and Mrs. Rogers had occupied different rooms the last week or so, the district attorney was told.

Longtime Resident Of City

Mrs. Rogers came to Lubbock in 1924 or 1925 from Paris, Texas, and had been a Lubbock resident since that time, friends said last night.

She had been employed by S&Q Clothiers here for the past five years, quitting her work there when she married Rogers in September.

She married O. L. Bates, who now is deceased, a number of years ago.

She is to be buried beside Mr. Bates in Eastlawn cemetery of Lubbock.

Mrs. Rogers had no children of her own. Her niece, Miss Maurine Brewer, had lived with her for many years.

Mrs. Rogers had maintained her home at 2618 Twenty-third for several years, and had rented the property after her marriage to Rogers.

Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of relatives and the release from St. Mary's hospital of Miss Brewer, who underwent an operation there several days ago.

Sanders Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Borneo's Governor Dies Of Stab Wound

SINGAPORE, Dec. 10 (AP)—A stab wound inflicted by a rebellious native brought death today to the British governor of Sarawak, 45-year-old Duncan G. Stewart.

Stewart died in a Singapore hospital after a seven-day fight for life. He had been stabbed Dec. 3 while making his first visit to Sibu, an inland center of the North Borneo crown colony to which he came only a month ago.

He had been flown to Singapore for treatment and his condition took a turn for the worse three days ago.

Stewart's wife, flown from England, was at his bedside when he died. The couple's three children still are in England.

After the attack the British government said the Malay youth who stabbed Stewart, and another who attacked with him, were members of a native organization seeking an end to crown rule in Sarawak and the return of the Brooke family of "white rajahs."

Enroute To Grid Game

State highway patrolmen said Benner and his party were enroute in a 1949 Mercury coach from El Paso to Wichita Falls, to witness the El Paso-Wichita Falls high school football game. Dan Foster and Paul Sampson, passengers in the car, were not injured.

Benner told investigators he started to pass a truck, saw an oncoming truck and flatbed semi-trailer driven by Edward Arch Mosley, 33, of 1314 Ave. D, Lubbock, but skidded in front of Mosley despite efforts to brake.

Patrolmen said the truck and semi-trailer turned upside down with all wheels "sticking straight up," and that the automobile was "torn all to pieces."

A complaint charging Benner with attempting to pass another vehicle without having sufficient clearance was filed in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, officials said.

Miss Nelson and Little were passengers in a 1939 International truck bobtail driven by Elmer Slaughter, 51, of Queen City, investigators said. The truck was in a collision with a 1939 Dodge bobtail truck driven by Tom S. Medford, 45, of the Puckett addition in Lubbock.

Medford had pulled off the roadside because of carburetor trouble. He pulled back on the road colliding with Slaughters truck. A bed built in Slaughter's truck was ripped off, "unloading the occupants." The mishap was at 8:50 a. m., a half-mile west of Ralls on U. S. highway 62.

Medford pleaded guilty of failure to yield the right of way, officials said, in justice of peace court in Ralls.

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Bickham were riding in a 1947 Ford coach driven by Alfred Paul Bickham, 22, a driller of 312 Ave. J in Levelland. His car and a 1949 GMC three-quarters ton pickup driven by Elvis Jones, 23, farmer of Lubbock route 5 collided at 10:25 a. m. at Hurlwood, on state highway 290, state patrolmen said.

Jones was driving westward, following another vehicle, patrolmen said. He told investigators the car ahead suddenly slowed. He said he "hit my brakes," but the rear end of the pickup skidded to the left in front of Bickham's oncoming car. The Bickham car struck the center of the pickup's bed.

No charges had been reported filed in the case.

Cotton Fire

tensively through the storage yard located about a block northeast of the Co-op gin.

Fanned by a south wind that shifted to the west at mid-afternoon, the fires spread rapidly and the loaded trailers were ignited.

Volunteers Fight Fire

Merchants and others in Morton left their posts and hurried to help fight the blaze, which sent huge billows of smoke surging out over the area.

Every available truck and tractor was sped to the scene to haul away cotton bales and trailers which had not become ignited.

Deputy Sheriff John Goswick said the two pumper trucks of the Morton volunteer fire department were connected with fire hydrants. Hundreds of gallons of water were poured onto the burning cotton during the four-hour battle.

A fortunate circumstance was a heavy, brief downpour at 12:10 p.m. which was credited with helping to prevent cotton in other gins in the immediate vicinity from catching fire.

The Co-op gin plant itself never was seriously threatened because of the wind direction, Goswick said. The south, and then west wind also carried sparks away from two other gins located about a block from the Co-op gin.

J. T. Lilljedahl, manager of the Co-op gin, was out of town when the fire began. He arrived in Morton after the flames had been checked. He estimated that the number of bales stored on the lot was less than 3,000, and said a quick survey indicated 200 or more bales had been destroyed.

It was reported that all ginned cotton was insured, but the unginned cotton was said to be unprotected by insurance.

Most Morton stores were closed as the men of the town joined the fire fighters — and most of the women and children gathered as spectators.

Although no one reported serious burns in fighting the fire, it was believed that several received singed eyebrows and minor burns on the hands.

City Bond Vote

until 7 p.m. Police will be on duty to keep traffic moving in and out of the reserved parking spaces, the city manager said.

City Attorney Vaughn Wilson explained that persons qualified to vote are residents of Lubbock who have a 1948 poll tax receipt or exemption certificate and whose names are on the city tax rolls.

The campaign chairman said members of the committee have reported only scattered objections to the bond issues. Many of these were by residents who voiced uneasiness that the obligations might weaken the city's credit position, Jones said.

Would Improve Credit

Investment authorities said the reverse would be true.

"The city of Lubbock will be a better credit risk if the bonds are voted than if they are rejected," commented Elmer East, attorney who specializes in bond and securities advice.

"Any community which maintains a hazardous health condition is a questionable risk," he continued. "It is self-evident that inadequate sewage disposal facilities are a grave hazard to community health.

"As to the dispersal system right-of-way bonds, I am convinced that the enhancement of property values which would result from the completion of the system would more than offset this cost, without considering the benefits to traffic convenience and safety."

Present Plant Inadequate

The present disposal plant was designed to serve a maximum population of 50,000. It now is attempting to serve more than 65,000 people, with 10,000 to 15,000 others seeking sewage connections. City officials say an average of more than 1,000,000 gallons of raw sewage daily will remain untreated next summer unless the plant is enlarged. Treatment kills germs and minimizes odors.

With regard to the dispersal system bonds, Jones again reminded that, for every $1 spent for rights-of-way, the city will get more than $3 worth of improvements built by the state and federal highway departments. The improvements will include about 11 miles of 64-foot pavement and four four-lane railroad underpasses which will unstop traffic bottlenecks to East and North Lubbock.

Jones said there is no doubt in his mind as to the approval of the bond issues.

"But we are hoping the vote and the majorities will be large as evidences of the interest of the residents of Lubbock in matters which vitally affect the welfare of our city," he remarked.

Four Persons Killed, One Hurt In Headon Collision Of Trucks

MAUD, Tex., Dec. 10. (AP)—Two pickup trucks collided headon in a driving rain at dusk today, killing four persons and injuring one.

The accident occurred four miles south of this Northeast Texas town.

Stanton was in one truck, the Tutt family in the other.

Tutt's infant daughter was killed instantly. His wife and a daughter between eight and 10 years old died enroute to a hospital. Stanton was pinned beneath his pickup. Maud is 18 miles southwest of Texarkana.

Helium gas content in air is not poisonous to the human body, according to experiments.

HEAVY WATER BELIEVED SENT

Probers Reveal New Evidence Of Atomic Shipments To Soviet

By FRANK ALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—House spy probers discovered evidence today that heavy water—used in the atomic bomb program—was shipped to Russia in 1943 and asked for records of the Chemical Warfare service.

Louis J. Russell, chief investigator for the House un-American Activities committee probing shipments of A-bomb materials to the Soviets, said the group is trying to find out whether supplies were made by the chemical service.

This development came after a committee prober said that lend-lease files yielded apparent confirmation of the shipment of heavy water, a rare chemical which was in great demand for the A-bomb project.

Material Discussed

Russell said the committee "knows" that the Russians communicated with the armed forces about uranium materials and added that the Soviets might have gotten the heavy water through them.

Lieut. Gen. Leslie Groves, wartime atomic chief, had been doubtful whether the heavy water actually had gone to Russia when he testified before the committee last Wednesday.

The investigator said, however, that lend-lease files for Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1943, contained a note referring to "program license 389" as listing "heavy water, unit weight 1,000 grams; weight, pound, 41; value, $3,250."

Belief was expressed that the weight was a mistake and should have been placed at 41 ounces.

Amount Important

The 1,000 grams, about one quart of fluid, would have been an important amount at the time the report was made.

According to the Smythe report on the atomic program, U. S. plants for heavy water production did not get into full operation until early in 1944.

Testimony in Congress once revealed that 165 quarts were obtained from Norway before the Germans took over there.

Other than that, U. S. production apparently has been only in small laboratory amounts.

Discovery of the lend-lease data appeared to have furnished some support to the story of former Air Force Major G. Racey Jordan.

Jordan reported that he saw carboys of heavy water go through the Great Falls, Mont., Air base in a lend-lease plane bound for the Soviet Union.

Groves was skeptical in testimony earlier this week about whether the Russians actually received pure heavy water, even if the liquid was so labeled.

The general asked about a reported lend-lease license for "41 ounces," said he could not imagine himself approving such a license.

He added that if he had known about any 41 ounces, the Manhattan district Atomic project would have bought it. Groves added:

"It probably wasn't pure."

Groves also was asked about the possibility that carboys of the chemical went to Russia. He declared:

"If Russia actually paid its own money for that much heavy water, it just didn't get value received. Somebody must have just labeled those carboys heavy water."

Groves asserted that except for the heavy water Manhattan District controlled, the atomic chemical existed in the U. S. only in amounts of "a few drops."

Actually, the bomb-makers never needed the heavy water which they accumulated, but at that time it was uncertain whether the Hanford plutonium plant, using graphite in its atomic piles, would work.

Levelland Approves School Bond Issue

LEVELLAND, Dec. 10. (Special)—Levelland voters today approved a $700,000 bond issue to be used to finance the construction of a new elementary school building and to make additions to other schools.

The proposal was given a majority of 162 for to 64 against.

Included in the proposed building program, according to Superintendent O. W. Marcom, are the construction of an 18 room elementary school building; the building of an eight room annex to the present elementary school building; the construction of a gymnasium, agriculture building and industrial arts shop building at the new Levelland High school and improvements at Carver school, negro school.

Bond Is Set In Theft Case Here

Bond of $2,500 was set Saturday by Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson for Charles C. Richardson, 28, of Abilene charged here Friday with felony theft of a number of drilling bits.

Richardson, who had not posted bond late last night, was arrested by city officers at Twenty-third and College Friday, allegedly in possession of 98 drilling bits. The Mann Warehouse and Transfer company here earlier had reported that number stolen from their property at 801 Sixth.

Bits Found In Trailer

Officials said the bits were in a trailer pulled by a car in possession of Richardson at the time of his arrest.

Two Lubbock men, one of them under a recent grand jury indictment, were arrested here on charges of child desertion. They are Jimmy R. Belt, 45, of 2614 Second, already indicted, and J. C. James, 41, of 2714 Allen. Bond for James has been set at $750.

Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank returned Saturday from Coleman where he had accepted custody of James Thomas Harmes, 26-year-old Coleman man charged here with felony swindling by worthless check.

Slaton Negro Arrested

The sheriff's department also announced the arrest of Chester Robinson, 45-year-old Slaton negro, on charges of liquor law violation.

Another negro, Dandy Wilson, 45, of Giddens, was fined $15 and county court costs on a plea of guilty of check law violation.

E. L. Ziegler of 114 Temple informed police Saturday of the theft nearly a month ago of a Craftsman transit level from the 3100-block North Third. The instrument was valued at $60.

Hub Caps Stolen

Theft of hub caps valued at $9 from Jack Patton of 2323 Main was reported to the police.

A complaint was made to the sheriff's department that three boys, probably juveniles, were seen about the premises of a dynamite magazine near Lubbock. They were believed two of three boys who recently were investigated after dynaminte caps had been taken from the magazine, an informant said.

Phillip Kreaps of 2322 Seventh said a typewriter had been stolen from him recently in Amarillo. Two bags of clothing taken at the same time were recovered several days ago from a roadside ditch in Lubbock county.

Weldon Waller, 18, of Lubbock pleaded guilty before 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue of theft Oct. 15 of a watch valued at more than $50 by its owner, George B. Long. He was allowed five-year probation.

Ceremonies Are Set At Girlstown

Name of the residence under construction at Girlstown, U.S.A., eight miles south of Whiteface, will officially be declared as Plains residence at the cornerstone laying ceremony at sundown, due at 5:39 p.m. Tuesday.

That name will be given to the first permanent residence at Girlstown "because we are on the Plains and the people of the Plains have helped to make the building possible," said Miss Amelia Anthony, director.

Ceremonies Planned

Rev. W. H. Hughes, pastor of the First Baptist church at Whiteface, will offer a prayer and Miss Anthony will place items in the cornerstone.

A box will be sealed with the stipulation, to be placed in Girlstown files, that it be opened 50 years hence. It will contain newspaper accounts of important events in Girlstown history, notes of the director on activities from the beginning of Girlstown to the present and perhaps on personal meaning of Girlstown, and photographs.

Because the dedication and open house originally scheduled have been postponed, the director has notified groups and individuals who planned to come from hundreds of miles for the event. Anyone wishing to attend the cornerstone laying ceremony will be welcome, she said.

Open House Planned Later

No date has been set for open house. According to plans, that will be held after the building is completed so that the public may see the finished interior. One wing of the building originally was expected to be completed by Tuesday.

Whether the ground breaking for the barn, large building to be constructed to provide dining and assembly rooms, will be conducted late Tuesday will depend on several factors, said the director. One is the weather. Another is advisability from the labor standpoint. All available labor that can be obtained will be utilized in completion of Plains residence so that buildings now occupied by children and adult members of the Girlstown family will be available to house workmen building the barn.

When the children and adults move into the new residence, workmen can live in the vacated buildings and save themselves daily trips back and forth.

All imported New Zealand bicycles now must have new Zealand-made tires and tubes. Thailand has 21 tin dredges working.

Snyder Worker Is Killed By 'Hot Wire'

SNYDER, Dec. 10. (Special)—Funeral arrangements are pending at Elliotts Funeral home in Abilene for Lawrence Crow, 21, electrocuted here Friday about 4:15 p. m. when he came in contact with 11,000 volts of electricity.

Crow had been in Snyder about a week as an employe of Hammer and Burks contractors. He was on a high line pole in the west edge of the city when he accidentally touched a "hot wire." He fell 30 feet to the ground.

Rushed to Snyder General hospital by ambulance, the man was pronounced dead upon arrival. His body was taken to Abilene today in an Odom Funeral home ambulance.

Crow is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hester Crow of Kenniwick, Wash., who are flying to Abilene, and a brother, Lloyd B. Crow, Snyder.

Services To Be Held Here Today For Whitfield Castner, Lubbock

Services will be at College Avenue Baptist church with the Rev. Abe Hester, jr., pastor, officiating. Burial will be in City of Lubbock cemetery under the direction of Rix Funeral home.

Castner, a resident here for nine years, is survived by his wife, four brothers, M. V. and E. R. Castner of Lubbock, A. T. Castner of Memphis and C. W. Castner of Austin and a sister, Mrs. Pearl Fletcher of Linden.

Pallbearers will be employes of the Dr. Pepper Co., where Castner was employed.

Pilot Lands Lobster Cargo On Highway; Truck Finishes Trip

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—A 1,000-pound load of lobsters from British Honduras had an uneventful flight up from Central America yesterday in Bruce Hallock's cargo plane, but it was far from a routine ending for the trip.

Mexico, U. S. Use Vaccines In Foot And Mouth Disease Fight

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—More than 35,000,000 cattle and other farm animals have been vaccinated against foot and mouth disease in the Joint Mexican-American campaign to wipe the livestock malady from Mexico's quarantined cattle lands.

Heads of the joint commission conducting the campaign made public details of a report presented to the agriculture ministry today in which they also declared that no new "sharp" outbreaks of the disease have been turned up in the last month.

The commission said that the third round of vaccinations of susceptible animals is almost completed and that the fourth round is well under way. The commission is using the heretofore unproven vaccination campaign to wipe out the disease.

Stringing Children Along Is Big Task

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP) — Mrs. Ruth Bollnow had 40 tiny boys and girls from the Riverside Nursery School—and a problem—on her hands.

She wanted to take the kids on a tour of the huge Union Railroad station but she didn't want to lose any of them. So she got a long rope. The tots grasped it and, strung out like snake dancers, they stayed in place as Mrs. Bollnow led them through the terminal.

North Snyder Field Producer Completed

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—Sunray Oil corporation and others have completed another producing well in the North Snyder field of Scurry county, West Texas, it was reported here today.

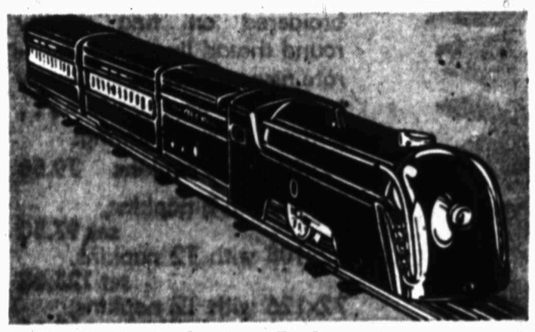

This group's Brown "B" No. 8, drilled to 6,893 feet, is said to have flowed at the rate of 1,024 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a half-inch choke on potential test.

Three additional wells are now being completed on Sunray leases, and that company has planned three new locations for drilling. One other well is preparing to drill; while another is drilling at 1,763 feet.

A MEMORY BOOK OF PROGRESS OF LUBBOCK AND THE SOUTH PLAINS
1873 — 1949

Dairying has become an industry of major importance to the prosperity, as well as to the health and convenience, of Lubbock and the entire South Plains.

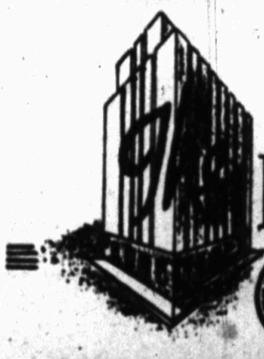

Indicative of its stature was the official report recently that 156 milk producers, licensed by the city, now contribute to the Lubbock supply. The number is more than three times larger than 10 years ago.

It is of reassuring significance also that Lubbock is among the honor roll cities of the State and Federal health departments from the standpoints of sanitation and purity of its milk supply.

A pioneer in this field was the late John R. McIlhaney, who established in Lubbock 37 years ago the dairy business his son, Joe S. McIlhaney, now operates on a vastly expanded scale. The younger Mr. McIlhaney heads one of the numerous large and modern creameries which serve the city and area.

But, despite the present large milk supply, Mr. McIlhaney declares, it still is short of needs. It still is necessary, he said, to import large quantities of milk and dairy products from other states. He is firmly of the opinion that more attention to dairy cattle and milk production offers one of the greatest opportunities now existing on the Texas South Plains.

Ralph Wolf Resigns As Baylor University Athletic Director

Wichita Falls Tramples Austin Of El Paso, 58-6

Bears Now Without Director Or Coach

Move Follows Resignation Of Bob Woodruff As Result Of Dispute

WACO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Ralph Wolf resigned today as Baylor university athletic director—only a day after Bob Woodruff resigned as head football coach.

It climaxed three days of turmoil at the Baptist school during which the athletic committee held a meeting to define "more clearly the duties" of Woodruff and Wolf and ended up by continuing Wolf as athletic director but with the designation of stadium director when he accepted the job.

Long Connection Severed

Wolf severed more than a quarter century connection with Baylor by announcing he was quitting effective next June 1 "to clear the atmosphere for Dr. White and the board of trustees to reorganize the athletic department."

Dr. W. R. White is president of the Southwest Conference school. He was out of town today — it was not learned where — and thus unavailable for comment.

However, Wolf told reporters that Dr. White had told him his resignation was "a most magnanimous thing" to do.

In apparent reference to reported friction between himself and Woodruff, Wolf said:

"Differences Regrettable"

"It is regrettable that imagined difficulties have been intimated at such a critical time for Baylor university and Waco, when the stadium drive should have the concerted backing of Baylor ex-students and friends. Controversies do not make for team play and success."

(Wolf referred to a new stadium to seat 40,000 that is being built by the university).

"I am sure all Baylor's friends will continue to support the new stadium drive to its successful conclusion, and assist those responsible for its completion," Wolf said.

Dr. White, who is expected back in Waco Monday, has not called another meeting of the trustees.

Students Hear Talk

A mass meeting of Baylor students was held today in the auditorium. About 1,200 students heard a 15-minute address by Ben Ferrell, senior law student from Tyler.

Ferrell, president of the student council, said:

"The time is at hand for the students to sit tight, not to get stirred up. It is in the hands of the proper auhorities with the welfare of Baylor at heart."

Adrian Burk, Baylor's All-Southwest Conference quarterback, told the meeting:

"On behalf of myself and the football team, I'm sorry this ever happened. Mainly I'm sorry to see a guy like Woodruff leave Baylor and I hate to see Baylor's name dragged through the mud."

He told the students to "wait and see, let it ride and as in other cases, right will win."

Intolerable Situation

Woodruff resigned last night as the result of friction with Wolf over conduct of the athletic department. He said the situation was intolerable. He intimated he might go to the University of Arkansas where athletic director and Coach John Barnhill has announced he will make some changes in the athletic department.

Woodruff said he was coming to Dallas today to attend the Southwest Conference meeting and a conference here with Barnhill was anticipated. Woodruff, however, never arrived.

Chuck Taylor Pays Visit To Lubbock

Chuck Taylor, salesman for the Converse shoe company and former member of the Original Celtics, one of the all-time great basketball teams, spent yesterday in Lubbock assisting Reese Air Force Base and Texas Tech basketball teams.

The former great court star spent a portion of the afternoon with the RAFB squad, presenting a demonstration of the magic that made him famous. Included in his repertoire were demonstrations of ball handling, trick shots, general floor work and instructions to the squad on correct basketball technique.

Taylor explained, afterwards, that much of the trouble with most college players today is their inability to handle the ball well. He pointed to national champions as teams founded on fundamentals, good passing, good ball handling and sharp eyes for the basket.

"I'm also opposed to the one-hand shot artist," Taylor declared. 'I'd rather have a boy able to get off a good two-handed shot. You have more power and accuracy that way. You can't get any power from any distance with one hand."

Another thing that irks Taylor is too much movement on the floor. He said that most successful professional teams have no more than three men handling the ball, the other two players moving around in an effort to be free for any contingency. "In pro ball," Taylor stated, "you never see a center move back and forth across the keyhole. He moves back under the basket and out to either side of the keyhole, alternately."

Taylor Monday will appear in Abilene. He came to Lubbock, where he has been a frequent visitor in the past, from Canyon.

Austin Beats Alice, 28-7

ALICE, Dec. 10. (AP).— Austin's power wilted an outmanned Alice team in the second half today to pile up a 28-7 victory and put the Maroons into the state Class AA schoolboy semi-finals next week against Port Arthur.

Austin led 7-0 at the half as Marvin Hocker blocked and covered Billy Polson's punt attempt. Bobo Smith converted. Alice staved off several threats in the second period.

Sparked by Morris Nelson, Austin marched to a score after the intermission with Nelson passing to Bobby Frederick for the last 13 yards. Smith kicked the extra point.

Austin was goal-bound as the third quarter ended. Johnny Salyer went over for the score and Smith converted.

Fred Copps intercepted Salyer's pass and ran 65 yards for the only Alice touchdown with Dewey Judkins converting. But Austin soon got this back. With seconds left, Salyer hit Frederick for 54 yards and a touchdown. Smith again converted.

Austin had 17 first downs and 181 yards rushing and 136 yards passing to Alice's five first downs, 85 yards rushing and 38 passing.

Fort Worth Golden Gloves Event Set For January 31 In Beaumont

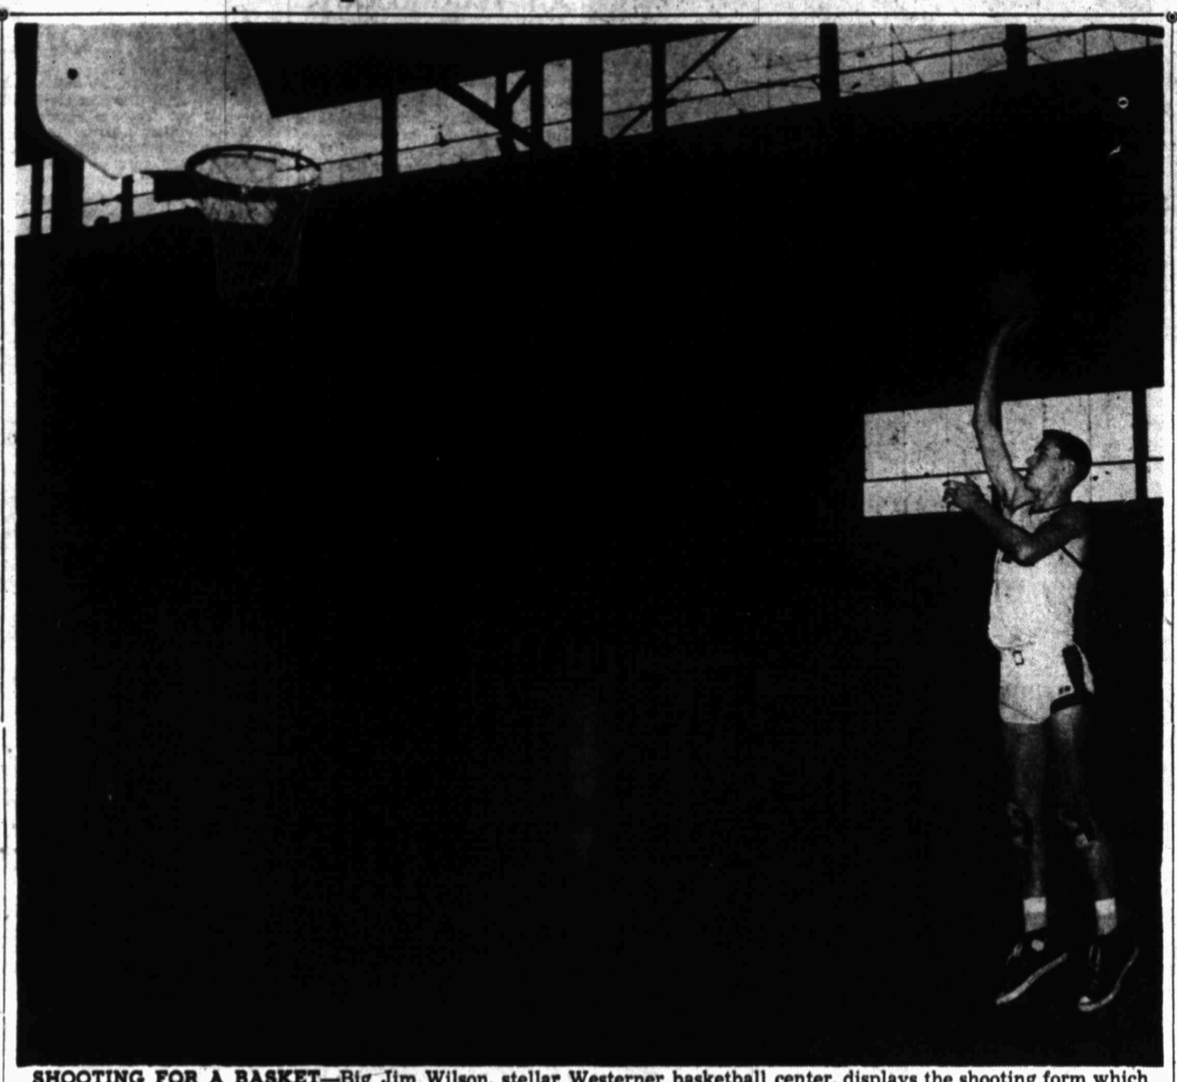

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10. (INS)—Golden Glove headquarters at Fort Worth announced today a regional tournament will be held Jan. 31, Feb. 1, 2 and 4 in Beaumont.

The Beaumont tourney will be one of 21 regional meets to be held in Texas during January and February, with winners competing in the state finals Feb. 15-20 at Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram sponsors the amateur boxing program in Texas under the direction of sports editor Flem Hall.

GOOD RIDDANCE

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—Texas A. and M. won't be saddened when All-America Doak Walker graduates from Southern Methodist. Walker was responsible for 41 of the 47 points SMU scored against the Aggies the last two campaigns.

SHOOTING FOR A BASKET—Big Jim Wilson, stellar Westerner basketball center, displays the shooting form which carried him to all-state basketball honors last season when the Lubbock quintet placed third in the state tournament in Austin. Last year the six-foot, three-inch star hit the hoop for 307 points, including playoff and tournament games, and he scored 37 points in three games of the state finals. A little slow in rounding into form this season, Wilson has shown indications of regaining his stride and in five contests thus far has hit for 45 points. (Staff Photo By Earl Scudday).

Thomas Jefferson Trounces Sunset

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP).—Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio stormed from behind today to crush Sunset of Dallas, 31-13, and easily win the City Conference championship.

The San Antonio schoolboy eleven spotted the Bisons a six point lead early in the second quarter but went ahead this same period and cut loose for four touchdowns in the second half.

Eddie Chambers connected on only five of 13 attempted passes, but three of them were touchdown tosses to Don Raybourn. S. M. Meeks and Billy Quinn counted the other Thomas Jefferson tallies and Chambers booted one extra point.

John McMillon ran an intercepted pass back 35 yards for Sunset's first touchdown, and he scored the second one on a five-yard smash off tackle. Jimmy Sorrells kicked the extra point after this score.

A paid crowd of 4,727 braved soggy skies to watch Thomas Jefferson wear out the hefty Dallas eleven.

The San Antonio team rolled up 193 yards on the ground, 123 by Meeks, and 170 by passing. Chambers' three payoff pitches covered a total of 122 yards.

SPEEDY FIRST BASEMAN

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)— Dee Fondy, one of four Dodger first basemen who will go south next spring, has stolen 106 bases in four seasons. He pilfered 26 last season, 20 with Mobile and six at Montreal.

LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL Sports

Lubbock, Texas, Sunday, December 11, 1949

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Texas Tech may have even more players in professional football than the seven men who served with various play-for-pay teams this year. Letters have been received by several 1949 Red Raiders asking for further information about them. If they wish to play professional football, they may be offered contracts, providing the pro clubs want them. Among the players to receive the letters, customarily the first step toward getting a contract, are Centers J. B. Mahler and Bobby Williams, Tackle John Andrews, Guards Dan Pursel and Milburn Haydon, Halfback Cal Steveson and Fullback Bud Conley. If all should be accepted, the Raiders from this year's team would join Walt Schlinkman, Ralph Earhart, Bill Kelley, Bob Flowers, Joe Smith and Bernie Winkler.

Frank Junell, the able, affable and ardent assistant to the president at Texas Tech, who also dabbles in other activities on behalf of the college, has his dander up. Furthermore, he says that we are the only one who can help him out of present predicament. Seems we mentioned recently that folks interested in traipsing out to California for the Tech Raisin Bowl game, as well as the Rose Bowl clash, might get in touch with Frank. Now this atomic-powered young man can, like the Air Force, "do the difficult immediately," but the impossible does take him a little longer. Moreover, when it comes to arrangements for the proposed Techsan rooting section moving en masse to California, he says that that is out of his hands. If there still are persons interested in making the trip, Frank says that they should call or see Jimmy Wilson at the athletic office.

We might as well get on the bandwagon and join the large crowd of sportswriters who are hastening to say that "we-picked-SMU to-win-the-Southwest-Conference-but-we-were-wrong. The Ridings Poll, which reaches radio and newspaper offices each fall before the grid season starts, asks the recipient to name the finish, in order, of the SWC. In 1948 we picked SMU to win and came out on top with that choice. This year we made the same selection—and lost. We picked SMU to win; they finished fifth. We selected Rice second; they won. We liked Texas third; they tied with TCU for third. Baylor was our choice for fourth; they wound up second. We put TCU fifth; they ended in that tie for third. Texas A&M was our choice for sixth place; they were seventh again. Arkansas was our cellar choice; they finished sixth. If you weren't convinced before, you should be now.

It's a sad commentary on the heavyweight boxing ranks when a flabby, 35-year-old former champion still so completely dominates the heavyweight ranks that experts are convinced he could win back the title he vacated. But that's the current situation, with Joe Louis still the finest heavyweigh in sight. He proved that to the satisfaction of every boxing expert at ringside Wednesday night in Chicago, when he battered Pat Valentino into helpless submission with 10-ounce gloves. It took Louis eight rounds to butcher the Californian, but he could have done it sooner. He cut Valentino to ribbons and did it so easily that he barely needed a towel after the fight ended. And when it was all over, Louis said that he would not attempt to regain the heavyweight title. That either is the reverse English to make someone persuade him back, or else it's a come on to other heavyweights. It does raise the pertinent question of where are this nation's promising heavyweights? Who knows?

Pity these feeble old eyes of ours, they can hardly believe what they have been seeing of late. Yep, The Toreador, official Texas Tech college newspaper, has been praising the Red Raider football team and the coaches. It's a refreshing trend, if it is a trend. We're heartily in favor of college newspapers drawing attention to actual faults that exist, but we also are in favor of their being strictly partial to their own, which means athletic teams, debate teams, choir, studies, or what have you. Newspapers may criticize or give write ups that, to the average student appear to put their teams (et al) in a bad light. A newspaper is a business which puts more emphasis on writing factually, reporting impartially. A college newspaper is judged more for its loyalty and support to the college it represents. To Keith Anderson and Jerry Hall, our compliments.

The TAAF boxing tournament that ended Friday night gives hope that maybe Lubbock will be able to present a stronger team than had been anticipated at Fort Worth in the state Golden Gloves. Several of the fighters showing their wares indicated that they could, in another month or two, develop into contenders. We don't look for another Babe Ritchie, Bill

Texas Open Championship Field Trials Will Close Wednesday

PALESTINE, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Texas Open championship field trials will end Wednesday, provided running of the championship stake is not delayed by bad weather, officials said today.

Four more braces of dogs, bringing the total to nine, were run today in the final event. Rain fell during the day, delaying the running.

Twenty-two braces of some of the outstanding pointers and setters in the nation have been entered in the championship stake.

The top handler in the trials to this point has been Ed Mack Farrior of Union Springs, Ala. Three of the dogs he has handled have won places.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Republican National committee tonight announced that R. Douglas Stuart of Lake View Ill., has been named its treasurer Stuart succeeds James S. Kemper of Chicago, who resigned Nov. 3 because the party's reserve funds had dwindled to only $90,000.

14,000 See Coyotes Gain AA Semi-Finals

Self, Beach Lead TD Parade; Team Meets Highland Park Next Week

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Wichita Falls blasted its way into the semi-finals of the Class AA High school football race today, smashing Austin of El Paso, 58-6, before nearly 14,000 fans.

The Coyotes will play Highland Park of Dallas in the semi-finals next week.

The undefeated, untied Coyotes jumped into an early lead and poured it on the El Paso eleven throughout the game. They got two touchdowns in the first quarter, one in the second, two in the third period and a safety and three touchdowns in the final quarter.

Self Leads Scoring

Wichita Falls picked up 20 first downs to eight for El Paso and 489 yards rushing to 91 for Austin.

James Self accounted for three Wichita Falls touchdowns, Edward Beach two, and Billy Bookout, Jerry Fouts and Bill Waggoner one each. Fouts kicked six extra points and Weldon Walker two.

El Paso's only touchdown came late in the fourth period. Richard Thurman passed to Ronold Maroe, who lateraled to Rene Rosas. The play covered 15 yards.

The victory by the Coyotes left no doubt in the minds of those watching the game as to the relative strength of the two elevens. There was no comparison. Statistics told the tale, and it was all Wichita Falls.

Out-rushed and out-manned, El Paso was never able to rise to the heights it reached last week when it put together its best game of the year to upset the highly favored Lubbock Westerners, 37-12, and knock them from further competition in the schoolboy grid race.

Panther Dreams Exploded

On the slippery turf at Coyote field, the Panthers lost all their dreams for a state championship. A slow drizzle fell intermittently throughout the first half, and the field bore the marks of the battle being fought, with muddy puddles in spots all over the gridiron.

The El Paso team could never get moving, being caught many times behind the line of scrimmage for short and long losses. The fast backfield combination of Jerry Baker, Noel McCormick and Ted Feidner was of no avail to the Panthers.

Passing, which proved to be a great asset against Lubbock, was of little use, although it did account for the lone touchdown scored by El Paso. Only three completions were made of 11 attempted.

A defensive and offensive standout was Center Bobby Dirmeyer, who played the entire game and was a thorn in the side of the Coyotes all day.

But he could not stop the offensive slants of Wichita's Bookout, Waggoner, Self and Beach alone, or with the services of the other 10 members of the defensive Panther team.

Wichita Falls won the toss and elected to receive the kickoff, marching 74 yards to paydirt in eight plays for the score. Bookout took the ball across the double stripe, making the last 40 yards on a speedy gallop through the middle of the El Paso team. Perfect blocking opened a yawning gap in the Panther line, and the secondary was screened from the play, allowing Bookout to go untouched on the run.

Before the first quarter was ended, Wichita scored when Waggoner tossed to Fouts for a touchdown just seconds before the close of the period.

Another Coyote score in the second quarter gave Wichita a 21-0 halftime advantage, and in the second half the margin was pushed higher and higher.

El Paso was limited to only one first down in the first half, and during the entire game the Panthers were kept backed up in their own territory.

Wayland Pioneers Gain 61-42 Win Over New Mexico Military

ROSWELL, Dec. 10. (Special)—Wayland college's Pioneers tonight romped to a 61-42 cage decision over New Mexico Military institute.

Wayland grabbed a lead after five minutes of play and was never seriously threatened. The halftime score was Wayland 27, NMMI 16.

Highland Park Drops Abilene

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP) — The Highland Park Scots defeated Abilene 20-6 today to advance to the semi-finals of the Texas schoolboy Class AA football race. The Scots will meet Wichita Falls, conquerors of Austin (El Paso) 58-6, next week.

The game here started in a driving rain which cut attendance to 6,000 and extra seats put in for the anticipated 10,500 sell-out were not needed.

Highland Park got a touchdown in the first period and two more in the second and played the last half on even terms with the West Texas visitors.

The first score came with the game only five minutes old. Buddy Baird and Tim Guthrie made huge gains through the line and from the Abilene 25-yard stripe, Malcolm Bowers lofted a pass which Dick Burnett took on the two. John Roach blasted the line for the score. Guthrie converted.

Abilene came right back with Eddie Hodges blocking Dean Woodruff's kick and End John Stephens picking up the ball on the Highland Park five-yard line and racing across for a touchdown. The try for point was wide.

The next Highland Park score came when Hubert Ingraham, back to kick on fourth down, fumbled the ball and fell on it on the Abilene three-yard line. The ball went over on downs and on the first play Bowers cracked the line for a touchdown. Again Guthrie kicked the extra point.

The final touchdown came when Bill Crawford recovered an Abilene fumble deep in Eagle territory and Bowers passed to Dale Mount for the score. Guthrie missed the try for point.

Tyler Apaches Win In Texas Rose Bowl

TYLER, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Tyler Junior college Apaches wilted the Fort Lewis Aggies with a three-touchdown first quarter and rolled on to a 40-0 victory in the Texas Rose Bowl today.

The third annual junior college football classic was played on a sloppy field with drizzle falling intermittently during the first half and driving rain the second half.

The Apaches scored on the third play of the game. Quarterback Dan Page connected with Kenneth Bahnsen on a 47-yard pass play for the touchdown.

Sharp pass defense and a recovered fumble set up four more Tyler scores. The last came on a 69-yard drive.

Guard Sidney Dauphin, dropping back as defensive line backer, snagged three of Bill Mullane's passes to put the Apaches in scoring position. Reserve tackle Vincent Shelton fell on an Aggie fumble to start the Apaches toward another score from the Colorado team's 16-yard line.

After Dauphin's first interception, Billy Ray Clark drove over from the eight in two plays. Page passed to Clark for an eight-yard scoring thrust after Dauphin's second steal.

Then came the fumble captured by Shelton. The Apaches moved to the two, and Charlie Bowlin crunched over from there.

Cubs May Buy Newark Bears Team

Major Loops To Meet

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. — Major league baseball dropped in on New York today for the annual winter meetings, and spent the afternoon trading nothing more serious than occasional dirty looks.

The meetings don't begin officially until Monday, although everybody was in town. The best that could be reported was that George Weiss and Jack Sheehan, farm-chain operators for the Yanks and Cubs, respectively, were jawing.

The Cubs have just about bought the Yanks' staggering Newark Bears franchise of the International League, with plans to move it to Springfield, Mass., away from the awful menace of New York television. However, myriad problems on the disposition of ballplayers have held up the final papers.

First to make an announcement of any consequence were the Chicago White Sox, who said they'd signed a working agreement with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. That's important, in a way, because it gives the Chisox, at last, a triple-A club in their modest eight-team farm works.

Also, the White Sox bought the old Philly-Yankee hitter, first baseman Nick Etten, from Milwaukee of the American Association, and said they're farming him to Memphis in the Southern Association. Nick is 35 years old.

Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler, who went to the La-Motta-Villemain fight last night and is still chortling over the show they put on, said he sees nothing but routine matters in store for the meetings.

"Nothing exciting," he observed, and was probably correct. There'll be a recodifying of the rules, which won't mean anything to the fan, and promised interest over the bonus rule seemed lost ever since the minors voted not to mess with it in their convention at Baltimore.

On the trade issues, several items of potential intrigue were up on the rumor board.

Detroit and the St. Louis Browns were said to be conniving, with Jerry Priddy and Jack Graham of the Brownies as the pawns.

It's said Cleveland first baseman Mickey Vernon is en route to the White Sox; that the Yanks will pay well for a pitcher; that Brooklyn will do the same; and that, persistent as ever, Vern Stephens, the Boston Red Sox shortstop, is outward bound.

The St. Louis Cards might be willing to deal off the top of their pitching deck should the right offer materialize.

Roosevelt Girls Lose 42-24 Game

Bynum Wins Tourney

With a potent display of power, Bynum overran Roosevelt school, 42-24, Saturday night at Roosevelt gym to win first place in the state-wide girls basketball tournament before a full house of more than 700 cage fans.

Bynum, Roosevelt and East Chambers received trophies for finishing in the first three places in the tournament, and Aledo won the consolation trophy.

The Bynum sextet was never behind and raced to a 23-14 halftime advantage over Roosevelt, paced by Howard who scored 17 points. Margaret Rucker had 17 for Roosevelt.

East Chambers, another downstate entry, defeated Idalou, 58-30, for third place, winning easily. East Chambers led 32-16 at the half. With Ryan scoring 26 points, the winning team could not be stopped. Butler had 15 for the losers.

Paced by Head, who scored 31 points, Aledo made short work of Meadow to win the consolation championship. Below made 15 markers for the losing Meadow aggregation.

In an exhibition game between Shallowater and Roosevelt boys teams, Shallowater took a 19-12 halftime margin and lengthened it to 43-30 by the end of the game. Scoring honors were divided between Reed and Hutton for Shallowater, each getting 14 points, and Hammett had 10 for Roosevelt.

Saturday's play ended three days of basketball at the Roosevelt gym. Other entries in the tourney were Post and Abernathy.

Bill Henderson, Eddie Bertolino In Title Bout Here December 19

Leading Lightweight Contenders Will Meet At Chapman Fieldhouse

Eddie Bertolino of Galveston, Number One contender for the Texas lightweight boxing crown, will meet Bill Henderson of Levelland, fifth ranking lightweight in the state, in a 15-round title bout at Chapman Fieldhouse Dec. 19.

Edd Sides, who is promoting the fight, announced that both fighters had agreed to a title bout and that the Texas Boxing and Wrestling Commission had approved the go as a title bout.

First Title Go Here

The bout between Bertolino and Henderson for the Texas lightweight title, which is now vacant, will be the first boxing show ever held here for a state title.

The supporting card at this time is not certain, but Sides promised to line up a card that would be good from start to finish. Middlewight Leonard Duncan of Hale Center probably will appear on the card in an eight round fight.

Henderson's record is well known to South Plains fans. The Levelland boxer has appeared in 32 fights and has won all but two. Twice Jean Mougin of France, former French lightweight titleholder, beat him, the first time by a TKO and the second on a 10-round decision.

But Henderson has shown constant improvement and today ranks as one of the finest prospects in the lightweight class. The Texas Tech student, who literally is fighting his way to an education, recently upset the highly-rated Manny Ortega with a 10th round kayo. It was his finest performance to date.

Bertolino has a long string of successes. His partial record shows 26 victories, of which half have been by knockouts. He also has five losses and a draw on that partial record.

Whereas it took Henderson 10 rounds to chill the cagey Ortega, Bertolino recently cooled the El Paso boxer in six rounds. And two of Bertolino's other victories have been over Gordon House, three times ranked as Texas lightweight champion in the past year. Both victories were by decision over the 10-round route.

Bertolino has one outstanding distinction; he never has lost a return match, a ring rarity. After losink to Keith Hamilton, Bertolino beat him. He also lost to Tony Mar, by a knockout, but beat him in a return engagement. Babyface Gonzales beat him, but was a return match victim, as was Proctor Heinold. And he beat Mike Raffa twice, the second time by a knockout, after losing the first match on a decision.

Tickets for the fight will go on sale this week and promoters expect a capacity crowd for the title bout.

Tickets for the fight card will go on sale Monday at the Hub clothiers, Tech drug and City Club gym, all in Lubbock, and at Talley's Barber shop in Levelland. Mail orders accompanied by check or money order will be accepted at City Club gym, 1313½ College avenue, Lubbock.

FAVORITE IN TITLE BOUT — Eddie Bertolino, the hard-hitting young lightweight from Galveston, will wear the favorite's mantle when he meets Bill Henderson of Levelland here Dec. 19. Bertolino is ranked first in Texas in the lightweight ranks, while Henderson is ranked fifth. There is no champion at present. The fight, which is expected to attract a capacity crowd, will be held at Chapman Fieldhouse.

Cage Clinic Set At Portales Dec. 28

PORTALES, Dec. 10. (Special)—One of the features of the Second Annual Sunshine tournament to be held at Eastern New Mexico university Dec. 28, 29 and 30 is a basketball clinic for high school players of New Mexico and West Texas.

The clinic at 9 a. m. on Dec. 29-30 will be conducted by two coaches who have teams in the tournament. Dec. 29, Rankin Williams, head basketball coach at Southwestern Tech, Weatherford, Okla., will conduct the clinic, and Coach "Bugs" Morris of Abilene Christian college, Abilene, Texas, will head the classes Dec. 30. Both coaches have been connected with basketball for a long time. Coach Williams has had a team in the A. A. U. playoffs for 25 years.

Coach Al Garten of the ENMU Greyhounds, host team of the Sunshine tournament, hopes that the clinic is well attended because he feels that a meeting of this sort will improve high school basketball in this area.

Some of the topics to be handled at the school include "Stopping the Fast Break," "Out of Bound Plays," "The Last Two Minutes of the Ball Game," "Attacking the Zone Defense," and general lectures on fundamentals and mechanics of basketball. Collegiate teams will be used to demonstrate the topics for the high school players.

McCarthy Has No Comment On Houston Pro Grid Franchise

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — Oilman Glenn McCarthy had no comment today on reports Houston may soon receive a franchise in the New National-American Football League.

Rumors Houston would have a team in the league began circulating in Philadelphia almost immediately after the merger of the National league and the All-American Conference was announced yesterday.

McCarthy frequently has said he definitely is interested in bringing professional football to Houston and has indicated previously he might have an All-America Conference team here next year.

About one-half of Japanese homes now have radio receiving sets.

Meyer Will Speak At Lamesa Grid Banquet

LAMESA, Dec. 10. (Special)—A banquet honoring the all-district first and second football teams of District 3-AA will be staged here January 19 with Leo (Dutch) Meyer, famed coach of TCU, as principal speaker, Lamesa Coach Bob Harrell has announced.

The banquet will be held in the high school cafeteria and the cafeteria staff will prepare the food. Approximately 200 tickets will be on sale at $1.50 each, Harrell stated.

Meyer will speak to the gathering and will also show movies of a Southwest conference game, possibly the TCU-SMU or TCU-Texas tilt of the past season.

The affair is the first of its kind ever held here. Guests will include the all-district players, the "A" team coaches from the district and sports writers from the area and two downstate newspapers.

Levelland Jaycees To Sponsor Independent Cage Tournament

LEVELLAND, Dec. 10. (Special) The Levelland Jaycees will sponsor their fourth annual independent basketball tournament here Jan. 18-21, it was announced by Jaycee officials.

Eight teams will be accepted in the double elimination tourney. Already entered are Thomas Tinkers, Anton American Legion, McAdoo Chevrolet, Seagraves and Levelland's Mason Ramblers.

Two Main Events Set Wednesday

Fans and wrestlers will be pleased with this week's wrestling card at Sled Allen's arena, which features a double main event.

In rematching George Overhull and Alex Kasaboski in the second main bout, the promoter gives Overhull another shot at Kasaboski, a wrestler who has been getting the better of most of his opponents recently.

In a previous meeting, Kasaboski was awarded the final and deciding fall on what many fans and Overhull declared was a foul. Al Getz, who was the referee, claimed he did not see a foul and patted Kasaboski's back for the win.

Overhull Gets Desire

Besides bringing down the house against what was reportedly a bad decision, it left Overhull with one desire—to meet and defeat Kasaboski. Wednesday he gets that chance. Only one decision needs to be made now, the choice of a suitable referee.

For fans who like wrestling scientific but rough, the first big bout between Andy Tremain of El Paso and Herb Parks, North Bay, Ont., should fill the bill.

Parks is a great favorite with the fans and has made a fine showing in every bout with his hustle, aggressiveness and willingness to mix it. Tremain is of the same caliber and will be plenty hard to down.

Johnson, Blackley Meet

Gene Blackley, Anson's contribution to the grunt and groan game, will meet Gust Johnson of Seattle in the preliminary bout to set the ball rolling this week.

Blackley has been out of the territory since last spring and will be trying to make an impression on fans here who may have forgotten him during his long absence.

Tickets may be bought at the arena from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday, and tickets may be reserved by calling the arena.

CONFERENCE DISSOLVES

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Southwestern Junior College Conference voted today to dissolve effective June 1, 1950. The action was announced by Conference President W. O. Archer of Beaumont following a two and a half hour annual winter meeting.

Teams Exchange Game Pictures

Rice, North Carolina Prep For Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Rice and North Carolina—the Cotton Bowl foes—did not have a chance to scout each other during the regular season but that little matter is being taken care of in an exchange of motion pictures.

Rice has reserved prints of the Tarheels' game with Wake Forest and Louisiana State while North Carolina got pictures of the Texas-Rice and Southern Methodist contests.

North Carolina already has done some work with the pictures, having been back at practice for a week. Rice starts next Monday while the Tarheels take the week off for school examinations.

Need To Get Ready

Coach Jess Neely of Rice said he had only one problem at the moment—to get ready for North Carolina. Neely said:

"We know that North Carolina has a good football team, and one that we respect. We have worked hard all season and we don't intend to let up now. I've got a grand bunch of boys that work as a team, and I think that we will be ready to go for this game."

The Owls have been limbering up for the past few days under the direction of their co-captains, Froggie Williams and Gerald Weatherly, but Monday the tempo will be that of regular workouts with emphasis on both offensive and defensive maneuvers.

North Carolina players, with a full week of practice behind them, may welcome the switch to books as Coach Carl Snavely sent the Tarheels through heavy workouts including long scrimmage sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Snavely told his squad that he expected this to be the hardest game they have had.

"Rice has a good football team, and I hope that we will be ready. We should be in the best shape we have been in for a long time.

"Our team has been crippled with injuries to key players all season, but indications are that nearly every one will be back in top form for our Dallas game. The layoff has definitely helped us."

Reports from Chapel Hill show that Charlie Justice, All-American back, who has been in and out all year with injuries, is gradually coming back and will be ready for heavy duty against Rice.

The Tarheels will be off the practice field all of next week for their exams, but will come back Monday, Dec. 19, and will work through Wednesday of that week. Then comes time off for the Christmas holidays until December 27, when the gridders will report back for their trip to Dallas.

51 Tarheels To Travel

Travel plans call for the North Carolina team to leave the morning of December 28 and to arrive in Dallas around 2:30 p. m. the same day. The Tarheels will come in two chartered planes and are scheduled to bring 51 players in their traveling squad. The team will be at the Melrose Hotel during their stay in Dallas and work out at Dal-Hi field.

The Owls will spend most of their time in Houston, and present plans call for the Rice team to entrain for Dallas Sunday morning, Jan 1, and arrive in the afternoon of the same day. They will stay at the Stoneleigh hotel.

Interest in the game has already reached a high pitch at both schools. North Carolina reported that its ticket supply has been exhausted, and Rice has more than enough applications to cover its allotment. Bands from both schools are coming in for the game, and special trains will run from each city. There will be several such movements from Houston, and special trains are already set up from Durham, Raleigh and Greensboro, North Carolina.

Westerner Team Record Given

Malcolm Young Is Scoring Leader

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

Rated as one of the top schoolboy powers this season—and with reason—the Lubbock Westerners turned in some remarkable individual and team statistics over the season.

Only one team outgained the Lubbock eleven during the 11 games played, and that squad also was the only one to outscore Coach C. R. Pattison's District 3-AA champs. Of course that team was Austin of El Paso. Austin gained a total of 416 yards passing and running while Lubbock was getting but 202. The score was Austin 37, Lubbock 12.

Gained 2,796 Yards

Over the entire route, however, Lubbock gained 2,796 yards from scrimmage to 1,366 for the opposition and 902 passing to 782 for the opponents. Ten Westerner aerials were intercepted while the Lubbock defense intercepted 21. Quarterback Bobby Brown and Halfback Wayne Stroud each snaring six enemy aerials.

In the scoring column Lubbock rushed and passed for 391 points while opposing teams were scoring 109. This results in an average of 35.5 points per game for the Westerners to 9.9 for their opponents.

Fullback Malcolm Young wrested the scoring leadership away from Stroud in the final game as he scored 12 points. This gave him 72 points for the year to 71 for Stroud, who went scoreless in the last four contests. Tied for third place with 54 points were Mac Taylor and Charlie Williams, and extra-point kicker Billy Presley had 36 points, all on conversions, in 45 attempted kicks.

Williams led in yardage gained from scrimmage with 663 yards on 71 carries, averaging 9.3 per carry. Stroud's 661 net yards was second best, and he carried 84 times for a 7.9 average. Young was third with 546 yards, averaging 7.2 yards per try on 76 attempts. Taylor averaged 10.8 yards per try on 48 attempts, picking up 524 yards. The Lubbock team as a whole averaged 6.99 yards per carry from scrimmage.

Brown was the team's leading passer with a .569 completion percentage, connecting with 29 passes on 51 attempts for five touchdowns. Three passes were intercepted, all after ouncing out of a Lubbock player's hands. Morris Turner had 17 completions of 39 attempts for three touchdowns, also having three intercepted.

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

This columnist is too far removed from Waco to pretend to know the story behind this week's rebellion within Baylor's athletic department. Maybe Coach Bob Woodruff was wrong, maybe Athletic Director Ralph Wolf was at fault, or maybe both were a bit off the beam.

But, laying aside the Woodruff-Wolf dispute, it is openly apparent that Baylor's higher officials badly bungled the handling of this situation from start to finish.

For one thing, they let the situation get beyond control before stepping into the picture. Then Dr. W. R. White, Baylor's president, made matters worse by denying (according to The Associated Press) that there had been a break between Woodruff and Wolf.

Dr. White's words had hardly left his mouth when Woodruff resigned in a huff, emphasizing that he most certainly had had difficulties with Wolf. Next, Wolf completed the cycle by turning in his resignation—thus clearing the path for an athletic department reorganization which Baylor officials apparently hope will facilitate the school's current campaign to raise funds for a 40,000-seat stadium.

Quite often, "campus rumors" are without factual basis. But this happened to be one of those infrequent occasions when the "sideline quarterbacks" knew what they were talking about, and a qualified authority put himself into an embarrassing position with a denial that promptly fell through.

It is quite possible, of course, that Dr. White had been misled by subordinates who assured him that the athletic situation could be smoothed over. If so, he should take proper disciplinary action against the subordinates who so grossly misinformed him.

After viewing Friday's Class A quarterfinal game at Odessa, I'm convinced that this year's Littlefield Wildcats are the toughest, most aggressive schoolboy aggregation I've ever seen—Class AA, A or B.

The Wildcats literally bowled over what had been rated as a good Ballinger team with one of the most ferocious displays a grid fan can imagine.

A big factor in Littlefield's success, I think, has been the fact that the Wildcat gridders like to play football—the rougher, the better. At Odessa, they stayed in a constant dog-trot as they hustled to and from their huddles, anxious to jam every possible play into the 48 minutes of playing time. In all, they ran 93 ground plays, which certainly must be some sort of schoolboy record. They also passed eight times and punted six times, giving them a total of 107 plays from scrimmage. In some games, both teams combined don't get off that many plays.

C. S. Duncan, author of "Dunk's Dozen" in the County Wide News at Littlefield, hit the Wildcat-Ballinger score squarely on the head in a pre-game prediction in his column—forecasting a 34-6 Littlefield win . . . Tom Bailes, the Wildcats' hard-driving backfield ace, showed tremendous improvement in the sportsmanship department against Ballinger, and did another great job of lugging the leather. In three playoff games, Bailes has averaged 8.7 yards per try on 58 carries . . . An Abilene sports scribe had described Ballinger's Daniel Hallmark as "undoubtedly the finest running high school back in Texas." Of course, Hallmark's line didn't give him much support against Littlefield, but even so I must say that I don't think the boy is the state's best, and I certainly wouldn't be so rash as to throw in that word "undoubtedly," in any event . . .

Jimmy Davenport, the Ballinger passer, had a bad day Friday, largely because of onrushing Littlefield linemen. He pegged a coupla passes directly at Littlefield defenders who made easy interceptions. Finally, he threw another one that was aimed for the waiting arms of a Wildcat when Dick Winchester, Ballinger end, made a desperate try for a catch, but succeeded only in deflecting the ball to the ground. To which a press box wag quipped, "Winchester of Ballinger broke up that Bearcat pass intended for Littlefield!"

The West Texas-New Mexico baseball league has upped its "veteran player" limit to eight per team, while retaining the two-rookie regulation. Harry Gilstrap, Amarillo writer who covered the national minor league convention at Baltimore this week, reported that Lubbock's Harry Faulkner campaigned for an increase in the rookie requirement, but that other WT-NM execs wouldn't go along . . . Jack Kramer now holds a 23-5 lead over Pancho Gonzales in their pro exhibition tour . . . A local football fan, writing a check in payment of a football wager on a recent game, filled out the "For" blank with the words "Poor judgment." . . . SMU Coach Matty Bell will be the main speaker at Amarillo High's annual grid banquet Feb. 2.

McMurry Leads 1949 All-Texas Conference With Four Selections

Rowland, Cowan On First Team

ABILENE, Dec. 10. (AP)—The 1949 All-Texas Conference team bore a strong resemblance today to the champion McMurry college lineup.

At least four McMurry players were selected to represent the first team, including two unanimous choices — Halfback Brad Rowland and End Les Cowan. Three were on the second team.

Rowland, voted the Conference's most valuable player in 1949, and Cowan also were members of the 1948 and 1947 All-Conference teams. Guard Bill Hamrick of Howard Payne was the only other repeater from the 1948 team.

Austin, Howard Payne and Texas A&I each placed two men on the mythical squad, while Abilene Christian, which finished fifth, produced one. Only Southwestern university, which cluttered the cellar, failed to put a man on the first team.

The season just concluded produced several outstanding guards. Hamrick and Frank Schneider of Texas A&I got the nod for the first team and the battle for the second team slots ended in a four way tie for one post.

Alton Patterson of McMurry and Bernard Cohen of Austin won first-team tackle posts and Bill Scoggins of Howard Payne was the choice for center.

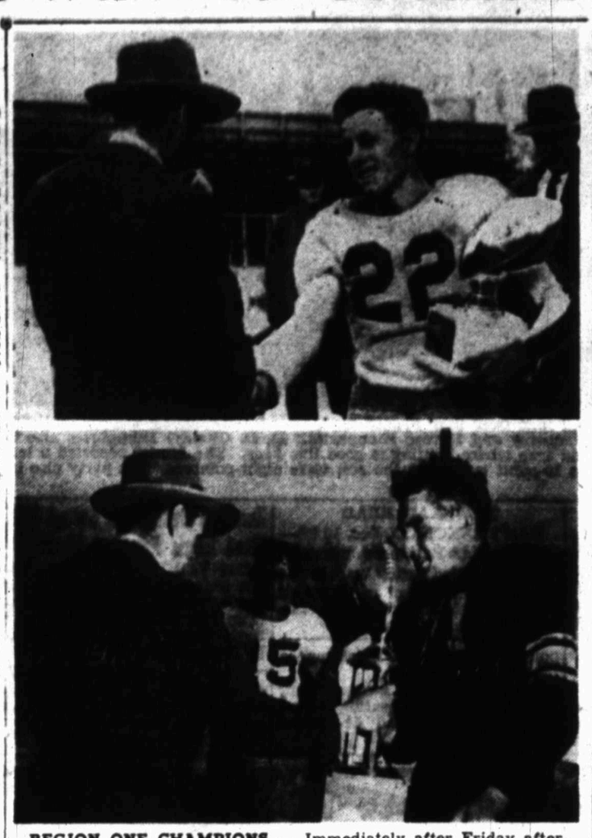

Joining Rowland in the backfield were Floyd Sampson of McMurry, Ben Harmon of Austin and Gene Greene of Texas A&I.

Whiteface Girls Cop Cage Crown

LEVELLAND, Dec. 10 (Special)—Coach Nathan Tubb's Whiteface team tonight captured the championship of the Levelland Girls Invitational basketball tournament by downing the Levelland Loboettes, 30-22.

Sudan won third place defeating Smyer, 32-27.

Louise Baldridge scored 13 points for Whiteface in the title game, but individual scoring honors went to Phyllis Tipton, who tallied 18 for the losing Levelland sextet.

Laquita Williams led Sudan to its third-place win over Smyer, posting 14 points. Velma Schulle had 18 for the losers.

In an exhibition boys game which completed tonight's card, Levelland outclassed Pettit, 53-27, with Frank Burnett scoring 17 points to pace the winners' attack.

In the girls semifinals this morning, Betty Reynolds made 11 points to lead Whiteface to a 24-18 triumph over Sudan. Margie Messamore's nine points were high for the losers.

Phyllis Tipton chalked up 19 counters and Donna Stevens made 15 to lead Levelland to a semifinal 41-36 verdict over Smyer. Schulle's 14 markers led Smyer's scoring.

A near-capacity crowd of 750 fans saw tonight's finals.

The all-tournament team announced tonight included Phillis Tipton, Levelland; Louise Baldridge, Whiteface; and Velma Schulle, Smyer, forwards; and Billie Reynolds, Whiteface; Patsy Sikes, Levelland; and Myrtle Legg, Sudan, guards.

COLORADO TEAM WINS, 67-63

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (INS)—Colorado's never-say-die basketball team wiped out a 13-point Northwestern lead to beat the Wildcats 67 to 63 in Chicago tonight.

The Buffaloes trailed 54 to 41 with ten minutes left of the game. Guard Roger Stokes sank a one-hand shot to tie the score at 61 to 61 in the final two minutes and was fouled in the act of shooting.

Henderson, Gene James or J. D. Kirkpatriek, but you never can tell when that type of fighter may appear on the scene. A lot of work will be spent in the next few weeks by these young fighters and many of them will make tremendous strides toward improvement before the Golden Gloves tournament is held here. This year's tournament should be better than ever, with more entries and more even competition all the way.

This old daily scribbling will be missing for the next few weeks after more than two years of virtually daily appearance. During its absence, Al Williams will fill in with his timely notes on the sports scene. Us? We're taking the first vacation we've had in over two years and going to Washington, D. C., to spend the Christmas holidays with our parents. At the same time, the wife will be able to see her mother in Virginia and spend some time with her. We haven't seen the relatives in over two years now, but what is much more important to them, they haven't seen their granddaughter in the same length of time. You might say we're only accessories for the trip. And knowing us, we'll probably find time on our hands heavy and beat out something from Washington to send back. In the meantime, and a little premature, we'd like to wish each and every one of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Little Rock Defeats Santa Ana, 25 To 19

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP) — Little Rock Junior college today ended the west's domination of the Little Rose Bowl series by handing California's Santa Ana Junior college a 25 to 19 defeat in the fourth edition of the post-season intersectional encounter.

A crowd of 33,942 sat through the action-packed contest braving cold winds that whipped through Pasadena's famed bowl.

Oddly enough the Trojans from the south started the day's scoring after the opening kickoff with a 78-yard parade through the stubborn but outclassed Dons from nearby Santa Ana.

The big thrill of the day was a punt return by Benny (Little Smackover) Scott, Little Rock's 127-pound safety man and brother of pro football's Clyde (Big-Smackover) Scott. Benny fielded a punt on his own 25 and, like a trapped rabbit, scampered back to his 15, reversed himself three times as Santa Ana players began to decorate the turf, and finally cut loose with a run that was good for 85 yards and a touchdown that sent his mates into the fore, 19-12 at this stage.

WILSON IS HONORED

Bell Rules Out Pro Title Game

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10. (AP)—The fans want it, most of the club owners want it, but there will be no world championship professional football game in 1949.

That's what Bert Bell, pro football czar, said today.

The reason: "It's unconstitutional."

While the peace pipes were still being puffed at the end of the bitter four-year pro football war, the clamor arose for a championship game between the titleholders of the National Football League and All-America Conference.

On December 19, the day after the NFL championship game, the circuits merge into the National-American Football League and all the bars to contests between teams in rival leagues will be lowered.

But there won't be any this year, Bell said.

The Commissioner said "The season will be over and the NFL constitution forbids post-season games. The constitution can't be changed until the first meeting of the new league January 19."

Football fans would like nothing better than to see the best in the two leagues matched in a post-season game, possibly New Year's Day in one of the southern cities.

The same goes for clubowners in both the NFL and AAC.

Frank Fitzgerald of the NFL's New York Bulldogs, said the proposed game "would be a grand idea. I'd like to see it happen especially if a part of the receipts would go to a worthy charity."

Pigeon racing has been halted at Cape Town, South Africa, because of an outbreak of Newcastle disease among chickens.

SWC CREATES OFFICIALS SUPERVISOR

Arkansas Players, Coach Draw Rebuke

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Declaring that "the coaches must assume responsibility for preventing dirty play," the Southwest Conference faculty committee today leveled censure at coaches and players of the University of Arkansas for what occurred in the Arkansas-Texas Christian football game last fall.

Upholding the protest of Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian, who charged Arkansas used illegal tactics and that his players were "butchered" in the 27-7 defeat, the governing body of the Conference said it was "convinced that the charges are just and warranted" and that the contention of Coach John Barnhill of Arkansas that provocation was involved "does not justify the action of the players."

Action May Be Taken

The faculty committee said "it is hoped that the censure will go far to curb the evil not only as it concerns the University of Arkansas but also where the evil may tend to occur in the future." Then it issued this warning: "If not more drastic action will have to be taken."

The Conference fathers also instituted a "gag rule" against the coaches to prevent public statements concerning the officiating and took steps to remove objections raised by the football officials association that a "blackball" was voted last spring by the coaches.

The coaches, in a secret meeting, decided that no officials failing of unanimous vote from them could work Conference football games. This brought strong criticism from the officials who pointed out that a number of well known men in the profession were excluded from officiating in Conference games although they may have received only one negative vote.

The faculty committee decided that in the future one vote by the coaches would not exclude an official from working a conference game provided that vote was not from the coach whose team was playing in the game.

New Position Created

It also was voted to create the position of "supervisor of officials" with Conference Executive Secretary James H. Stewart to obtain the man for the job. Speculation immediately arose that Abb Curtis, former southwestern official now supervisor of officials in the Pacific Coast Conference, would be sought to fill the position here. The supervisor of officials will serve as an assistant to Stewart in addition to naming officials.

Stewart had no comment regarding Curtis. "I haven't had time to think about it yet," he said.

The coaches and athletic directors of the Conference, in a meeting yesterday, voted to meet with a committee from the officials association to discuss recommendations from that group.

Pro Browns Tangle With 49ers Today

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10 (INS) — The three-time champion Cleveland Browns and the challenging San Francisco 49ers close the history books of the All-America Football Conference for keeps tomorrow when they battle for the loop title at Cleveland stadium.

But already the two clubs are looking forward to meeting the top teams in the National League, which will be combined with the AAC to form the National-American Football League.

A playoff this season between the winner of tomorrow's clash, which is expected to draw about 40,000 fans, and the winner of the National League bunting was virtually ruled out because of the tardiness in arranging the merger.

However, a football "World Series" is certain for next season, with the winner of the American division of the new league colliding with the top team in the National sector. The long-standing question of whether the Browns could defeat the Philadelphia Eagles or the Los Angeles Rams may be answered at that time.

Villemain May Meet LaMotta In Title Go

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (INS)—Al Weill, matchmaker for International Boxing club, announced today that he will confer Monday with middleweight champion Jake LaMotta about arranging a title fight with Robert Villemain.

Weill said he plans to put the match on either in February or early March at Madison Square Garden if he can come to terms with the title-holder who was outpointed in an over-the-weight engagement last night by Villemain.

The French contender picked up a check of approximately $6,000 today at the IBC office in the garden and in broken English said his one ambition is to get a crack at LaMotta's crown.

LaMotta, who was beaten convincingly last night in his first start since winning the title from Marcel Cerdan last June, did not show up at boxing headquarters today to begin negotiations for a title defense.

Deer Visits Salesman's Office While He Is Out Deer Hunting

PETROLIA, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP) — Norman Smith should have stayed home today.

Smith closed his insurance office and went deer hunting. He returned tonight—without a deer.

And he's glad he's in the insurance business. During his absence a doe jumped through the plate glass window of his office and smashed $500 worth of equipment before barging through a rear door.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — Cotton futures trading was moderately active, although price changes were irregular today. Deferred contracts were under pressure of general selling which was largely influenced by uncertainties over the status of pending crop restrictions which are to be voted upon by farmers next week. Trade price fixing had a steadying influence on nearby positions where contracts were supplied by hedges. Some of the buying was believed to be covering against export sales.

Futures closed 5 to 25 cents a bale lower.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10 (AP) — Cotton futures declined here today under weekend long liquidation and hedge selling. Closing prices were steady 5 cents to 25 cents a bale lower. Trading was quiet throughout the short session and contracts were absorbed mainly by trade buying to fix prices against recent export sales. Spot cotton declined 25 cents a bale with middling 15/16 inch quoted at 29.75 cents a pound. Local sales amounted to 1,838 bales.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP) — Grains climbed steadily higher on the board of trade today in a fairly active market. The December contracts, aided by a good deal of short covering, led the advance. Corn contracts came close to their seasonal highs.

Trade reports of potential exports business in wheat aided that cereal. A weather bureau forecast for blizzard conditions in many sections of the western plains area also was a strengthening influence. Traders felt this would further slow up the movement of wheat to market.

Wheat closed ½-1⅝ higher, December $2.21-$2.21⅛, corn was ¾-1¼ higher, December $1.30¼-⅜, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 76⅝, rye was unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.63¼, soybeans were ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December $2.32⅛.

Former Convict Sought On Charge Of Assaulting Girl

ORANGE, Dec. 10. (AP)—A Houston ex-convict was charged today in the rape of a teen-age Orange girl last week end and the shooting of her boy friend.

A nationwide manhunt is underway for Lafleur and $500 in reward is offered for his capture, the sheriff said.

Early last Sunday Don Hulsopple, 18, Orange high school boxer, was shot in the stomach as he tried to protect his companions from a man who subsequently raped Hulsopple's 16-year-old girl friend.

Farm Supports Are Expected To Force Larger Outlay Of Cash

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Three senators said today the government may be forced to put up far more money next year for loans to maintain promised price supports under farm crops. Their estimates ran from another $1 billion upward.

They agreed in separate interviews that even though nearly $5 billion now is available to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan for price props under farm income, more will be needed.

Declining prices on major agricultural crops and mounting surpluses should force action during the next session of Congress which convenes in January, they said.

Depends On Markets

The amount posted for loans does not mean the government expects to lose anywhere near that much. The cost cannot be foretold because it depends on the markets.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt), No. 1 GOP member of the Senate Agriculture committee, said "it's been evident for months that the present $4,750,000,000 authorization for price support loans will not be adequate."

"It might be wise to provide another $5 billion to cover the price readjustment period ah d for farmers," he said.

"We should have started this readjustment sooner and we may all regret that the support levels mave been kept so high."

High Prices Opposed

Aiken said that recent high food prices have caused "ugly opposition of consumers and voters that may endanger the whole farm program in the next few years."

Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture and one of the sponsors of the new price support law, agreed that additional funds "may be needed before the year ends."

"It may take another $1 billion or possibly as much as $2 billion," he said.

Aiken said that even if $5 billion is needed "the administration probably will ask for it only one or two billions at a time."

Republican Groups To Tackle Dual Problems Facing Party

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Republicans tackle next week the dual problem of financing a 1950 campaign and finding a program that will lure voters to their candidates.

In New York Monday a finance committee headed by Sinclair Weeks, Massachusetts national committeeman, will check over the party's plummeting bank balance and its lagging contributions.

In Chicago the next day a 23-member strategy committee headed by Arthur Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman, will see what can be done about making Republicans more attractive to the voters.

DR. SCOTT E. BEDFORD

Noted Sociologist To Speak To Knife And Fork Club Here

Dr. Scott E. Bedford, sociologist and world traveler who has given considerable study to city planning and building, will speak at a dinner of Lubbock Knife and Fork club at 7 o'clock Wednesday night at Hilton hotel.

Dr. Bedford who was professor of sociology at the University of Chicago 22 years, has photographed and studied many great cities of the world.

Secretary For Group

Information sent here by Associated Clubs, Inc., which is sponsoring speeches by Dr. Bedford, states that he has visited all cities of the United States above 100,000 population.

He has done research work in labor legislation for Carnegie institute and has been secretary of the American Sociological society, associate editor of the American Journal of Sociology and specialist in adult education for the War department.

Author Of Books

He is author of "Modern Cities," "Readings in Urban Sociology" and "Labor Legislation of Kansas." He has written many reports and pamphlets on subjects of city building.

It is the opinion of Dr. Bedford that beauty has not been emphasized sufficiently in the planning of American cities. His address, as announced, will have as its purpose "to build up—not to show up—our cities." He will state that beautiful cities rank higher in intelligence and other desirable qualities than ugly cities do.

Man Shoots Only Son To Death, Kills Self

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Joe Powell, 36, shot his only son to death today and then killed himself.

Powell shot his son, Raymond, 4, as the boy played with his toys on the living room floor.

He then turned his .45 caliber automatic on himself. A verdict of murder and suicide was returned.

"Joe, why did you do it?" Mrs. Powell repeated as officers arrived soon after the shooting.

The former police officer had been upset since his transfer recently from the license to weights division of the highway patrol's Wichita Falls substation. Powell also had been upset over plans for moving his family into a new home he was in the process of buying, Patrol Sgt. Weldon Bailey said.

Mrs. Powell ran screaming to the front door, her dead child in her arms, shortly after the shooting about 8 a. m. City Fireman W. H. Farmer, sitting in his car down the street, heard the shots and screams. He ran up to the house.

"I could see no reason for it," Mrs. Powell told Farmer. "He got us up a little early this morning. I was in the bathroom at the time of the shooting."

Farmer said he asked Mrs. Powell to put her son's body on the bed. Then he watched as Mrs. Powell removed the .45 automatic from her dead husband's hand.

The living room floor was strewn with toys. Powell had been very fond of his son.

Powell was a Navy veteran. He had been with the Department of Public safety since 1941 except for his war service.

Thomas Just Another Prisoner Though Still U.S. Congressman

DANBURY, Conn., Dec. 10. (AP). J. Parnell Thomas, though still a members of Congress, was just another prisoner today to officials of the federal correctional institution here.

The New Jersey Republican, sentenced to serve six to 18 months for defrauding the government, arrived at the institution just before 5:30 p. m. (CST) yesterday.

Thomas has resigned, effective Jan. 2. After his sentencing yesterday, Mrs. Thomas, though inexperienced in politics, announced she would seek the nomination in the special election to be held in New Jersey to nome his successor.

Mother Water Buffalo Keeping Persons Away From Youngster

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 10 (INS) — The newest addition to the San Antonio zoo is being guarded by a terribly intolerant mother.

The youngster is a water buffalo, and it is truly keeping its keepers buffaloed. They don't know yet whether Junior is a Bess or a Buster.

British Christmas Spirit Threatened By Scrooge's Ghost

LONDON, Dec. 10. (INS)—The spirit of Charles Dickens' scrooge threatened some British yuletide festivities today.

Local "watch (moral) committees" in Norwich and Derby threatened $75 fines against parents allowing their children to sing the age-old Christmas carols from door-to-door and to collect pennies—if the youngsters sing too early.

The musicians union also threatened a Christmas eve walk-out in 50 provincial Scottish theaters and vaudeville halls because of wage demands. Such a strike would wreck the traditional pantomine showings.

Singing Permits Required

Norwich Police Chief S. V. Young said: "Carols are nice at Christmas time, but we don't want them thrust down the throats too early. They must be confined to the three-day holiday period."

Derby's deputy police chief also warned that the children must carry singing permits signed by him.

The London Daily Herald, organ of the Laborites, angrily commented:

Woman Claims Hiss Linked With Reds

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—The ex-wife of Communist Gerhart Eisler has offered new testimony linking Alger Hiss with a Red underground in prewar Washington.

Appearing as a government witness yesterday in Hiss' second perjury trial, Mrs. Hede Massing, one time Viennese actress, pictured herself and Hiss as friendly rivals in the underground.

The 49-year-old Mrs. Massing had been barred from testifying last summer at Hiss' first trial which ended in a hung jury. But this time, the defense offered no objections.

Mrs. Massing said she met Hiss in 1935 when she was "working for the Communist party." The meeting, she said was at the home of Noel Field, who, like Hiss, was then an official in the U. S. State department.

Mrs. Massing said she and Hiss argued over which of them would get the services of Field in their separate underground cells.

Hiss, 45, one-time trusted adviser of the late President Roosevelt, has denied he ever met Mrs. Massing.

He is charged with lying when he told a federal grand jury he never gave government secrets to ex-Communist spy courier Whittaker Chambers.

Mrs. Massing is the first witness to give direct corroboration to Chambers' claims that Hiss once served a Red underground.

Miss Ann Kelly was hostess to members of the Chatterbox Dinner club Saturday night at a Christmas dinner in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel.

A centerpiece of Christmas bells, brightly-colored balls, pine greenery and glistening snow was used. The mantel was banked with an arrangement of bells, holly and greenery.

It's Decorating Time

1. Mrs. W. L. Combs of 2412 Twenty-seventh is pictured as she begins the decoration of a window in her home. She won first prize last year in the Avalanche-Journal Christmas Home Lighting contest window division, and will enter again this year. Mrs. Combs especially enjoys preparing for the first holiday festivities of her 8-month-old granddaughter, Lesle Nash, baby of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nash.

3. Mrs. Gerald Fulton of 3219 Twenty-third completes the holiday atmosphere prevailing at the entrance of the Fulton home as she adds a light bulb to one of the large Christmas candles. Although she does not always have early Christmas spirit, Mrs. Fulton thinks that anticipation is a majority of the season's merriments and so designed the doorway decoration.

4. Bobby Hunt, 9, decorates "his spruce tree" with the helpful suggestions of his attractive mother, Mrs. Homer Hunt, 820-B Ave. O. Bobby always "dresses up" his favorite outdoor tree several weeks before Christmas to the enjoyment of neighbors and his sister Gayle, 12.

POSTPONE OPEN HOUSE

Roscoe Wilson Parent-Teacher association has postponed an open house, originally scheduled for today, until next Sunday. This is a traditional pre-Christmas event.

Through The Coral Doors

Howdy folks.

Well, Christmas is definitely on its way now, with the weather nippy and the calender showing we have only twelve more shopping days. I finished up in a blaze of glory and beautiful tinsel at the Decorators Studio this week. I'm satisfied that every gift I selected there is just what the receiver will want; and having each package beautifully wrapped and under my tree leaves me time to really enjoy the holiday season. You'll be amazed at the wonderful ideas and items you will find behind that big Coral Door!

Immediately behind that door is a large table of specially priced (half-priced) pottery and sets of glasses. There are many attractive pieces of pottery to use as accessories as well as complete table services. The lovely assortment of glassware include hiballs, ice teas, fruit juice and old-fashioneds — just the thing you are looking for as a welcomed gift to a host or hostess. Those of you who have the Daffidol, Dawn, Plaid, Wheat or Eucalyptus pottery have this opportunity to add pieces at half the cost.

The Studio has been bubbling over with the high school girl graduates. Many are taking advantage of the Studio's gift to each girl who starts her silver, china, pottery, or even crystal. I noticed the starry look of two young ladies as they spotted the sterling silver patterns they had always dreamed of. One chose the modern treatment of Royal Danish, while the other preferred the more traditional grace of Edward VII. Their friends and family will appreciate the assurance that a gift in their chosen patterns will give them joy throughout the years.

A big and much traveled box arrived at Decorators Studio this week from Germany. It included two distinctive new china patterns which are unlike any of the patterns already in the Studio's fabulous stock. One pattern, Watteau, will remind one of the charming 18th century painting by this famous French painter. The other china has a butter yellow border and a stencil motif in the center. The platinum trim makes it even more unusual. This pattern was designed and made exclusively for the Decorators Studio. You'll find the table setting this week is this delightful china, Fantasy.

The girls have created a truly fairy-land Christmas tree of frosty lilac with miniature lanterns of Purple, cerice, and chartruese. Of course, the tree is heaped with packages in interesting wrappings just waiting for various Santa Clauses.

The Decorators Studio will be open all day Saturday for your browsing and Christmas shopping. Be looking for you.

Mrs. William A. Bay, mother of the honoree, Miss Bay and Mrs. J. I. Kilpatrick, mother of the bridegroom-elect, were in the receiving line.

Those in the houseparty were Mesdames Elois Eliott, Ardelle Scales, Wayne Kelly, Albert Fortenberry, C. Paul Mills, and Misses Dorothy Van Pelt and Dimple Watson.

The tea table and party rooms were decorated with Christmas ornaments in white and fuschia. A gift of silver was presented to Miss Bay by the hostesess.

Methodist WSCS Will Have Stewardship, Recognition Hour

A joint stewardship and recognition of new members program has been planned by First Methodist Woman's society of Christian Service for Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church chapel.

Mrs. A. B. Austin, secretary of spiritual life, and Mrs. Ben Cowling, membership chairman, are in charge of the program; and Mrs. Harvey Austin is to be leader.

The reader will be Mrs. Sam Hildreth; the "emblem builder," Mrs. Cowling; and the soloist, Mrs. Aubrey Woodfin, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Cathey, pianist. Mrs. Edwin E. Merriman, recording secretary, is to present new members, and each will light a candle during the presentation.

WHIRLING SLEEPERS

The average person turns in his sleep every 13 minutes, according to researchers. They say this is the reason the demand for twin beds has increased 60 per cent since the war.

INSIDES OF METALS

CALIFON, N. J. (AP)—The St. John X-Ray laboratory, Califon, N. J., is using radioactive cobalt to replace radium for taking pictures to see inside metal and other solids. The cobalt comes from the atomic pile at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Cobalt's advantage over radium is sharper focus, which is due to the fact that cobalt's rays are stronger, and therefore more penetrating.

Florida Family Discovers It Can Get A Goat's Goat

SARASOTA, Fla., Dec. 10 (AP)—Goats stupid? No such thing, say Don and Grace Ragsdale.

They started out with one animal for milk to help Mrs. Ragsdale's arthritis and wound up with not only a goat dairy but a rather complete dossier on goat habits and philosophy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ragsdale say goats have a strong sense of what is right and wrong in the way they should be handled, and if one thinks he has been slighted, he sulks or pouts or butts. They also have very long memories. Some practically demand to be addressed by name. And they don't eat rags or tin cans.

A reception followed at Fellowship hall. The couple will be at home in Plainview after a trip to San Antonio.

Vows were exchanged before an archway with background of palms and candelabra. White mums decorated the altar. The bridal aisles were marked with white satin streamers and candles.

Miss Isabelle McCoy, organist, accompanied Miss Barbara Brownd as she sang "Because" and "I love You Truly." "The Lord's Prayer" was played during the service.

Bride Wears White Satin

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore white slipper satin made with fitted bodice, net yoke with tiny buttons down the back and long sleeves extending in points over the hands. The softly gathered hoop skirt was covered in tiers of Chantilly lace extending to the floor on her Cathedral length train. Her bridal veil of Chantilly lace was attached to a crown of seed pearls and white net. The bride carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Howard Elliott of Muleshoe, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore pastel blue satin fashioned with a net yoke, fitted bodice, gathered skirt and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Misses Lou Pollard, Nancy Agnew and Isla Dutton, all of Hale Center, were bridesmaids. Their taffeta dresses were fashioned alike with net yokes, tiny puffed sleeves, fitted bodices and full skirts with insertions of lace and they wore matching halo hats. Miss Pollard, in pink, carried a bouquet of blue carnations; Miss Dutton, in green, carried yellow carnations and Miss Agnew, in orchid, carried bronze carnations.

Attendants To Bridegroom

Paul Turpin of Lubbock served as best man. Lloyd Wright of Hale Center, brother of the bride; Charles Mills of Hale Center and John Fry of Slaton were ushers.

A centerpiece of pink and white mums centered the bride's table at the reception which was laid with a lace cloth over pink taffeta.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore a tweed suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom is in partnership with his father in the theater business at Hale Center. The couple attended Hale Center High school, the bridegroom serving three years with the Navy. The bride is employed with the Texas Company in Hale Center.

FULTON OURSLER

FULTON OURSLER, who writes the beautiful stories that appear each Sunday on the editorial page, does most of his work in a dark inner court of a hotel overlooking Central park in New York City. On one wall of the study is a head of Christ painted by Howard Chandler Christy. On the other is a water color of Christ in a white robe appearing in a bombed out church to a stricken young mother with a baby in her arms.

Each morning before work he reads Hamlet and Imitation of Christ by Thomas A. Kempis. Both are masterpieces he lives with and knows by heart.

He is quoted as saying: "Every man should live with a masterpiece, if he wants an inner joy and serenity, and a sense of belonging to the universe rather than to a bank account."

He is a story teller who can stir an inward vision and implant a lasting memory. One of his favorite quotations from Thomas A. Kempis is: "I would rather be able to feel compunction than to define it."

Ko Shari Club Stages Annual Dinner-Dance

Ko Shari, women's social organization at Texas Tech, entertained with its annual dinner-dance Friday night from 6:30 until 11:30 o'clock at the Hilton hotel.

Decorations depicted a winter scene, with silver trees covered with swirls of angel hair. A wrought-iron park bench set on "clouds" of pink angel hair adorned the path among the winter wonderland trees. Arrangements of silvered tumbleweeds complemented by red and green Christmas candles and holly decorated the tables.

Following a buffet dinner, a program was given, which included a modern dance by Misses Pati Jo Musson and Harriet Moltz and a medley of Christmas songs sung by Miss Nancy Davis. Miss Barbara Scott, president, was mistress of ceremonies. Singing of the club's Sweetheart song concluded the program.

Select New Dress Early

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

BUYING a holiday party dress the day before—or the day of—a party often means a disappointing and sometimes costly wardrobe mistake. Last-minute rush in choosing a dress usually results in a frantic grab at the handiest thing available in your size.

New party frocks can take a useful place in a wardrobe only if they are carefully chosen to serve many dress-up occasions; are fitted perfectly; are correctly accessorized.

For example, if you buy your dress well in advance of the evening on which you will wear it, you can have shoes dyed to match, if that idea strikes your fancy. You can even tote whatever shoes you intend to wear with your dress to the store for the tryout. This can be important to the looks of, say, an angle-length evening dress. In any case remember that the full-length picture is what counts.

There's another reason, equally valid, for buying in advance: If you wear your new dress at least once before the large occasion for which it is intended, you'll be surer of your gown and yourself.

In order not to be stuck with a one-shot dress, you should go shopping with all of your party needs in mind. You should not buy an elaborate, strapless affair if most of your evenings out tend to be dressy but not gala. Buy instead a dress which has its own jacket; a mid-length chiffon with matching evening cardigan, for example. Then you can make your new dress an honest working member of your clothes closet.

Keep your party dress as simple as possible; avoid bows and frills and feathers, always there to tempt a gal. Instead, concentrate on your accessories. A simple dress stripped of fuss and beautifully accessorized is far more dramatic than a dress bristling with gee-gaws.

Coffee To Be Today

Hub-Ettes will attend a coffee this morning from 9:30 until 11 o'clock in the Navajo room of the Hilton hotel. This is a group of young women on the City Recreation entertainment committee who will serve as hostesses for military dances given at Reese Air Force base and in Lubbock.

The Hub-Ettes will be introduced to ex-Hub-Ettes who served during the war. Mrs. J. H. Stiles, chairman, Mrs. Jack Wheat and Miss Leona Gelin, who is coordinating secretary, will be in the receiving line.

Assisting in hospitalities will be Mrs. Murray Owen, Mrs. Allen Todd and Mrs. Jamie Caviness.

Centering the table will be a reflector on which will be arranged magnolia leaves, red candles and Christmas ornaments.

Danish King Gets Dragon Chest Tattoo Retouched By Londoner

PARIS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Denmark's most regal dragon is once more bright as new.

The dragon decorates the chest of the Dane's King Frederik, who visited London last week.

The king, who is admiral-in-chief of the Danish navy, recently noticed the dragon's reds, greens and blues were beginning to pale with the passage of the years.

Last week he stopped in at George Burchett's tattoo shop on Waterloo road and had the colors touched up.

Make Christmas Decorations

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

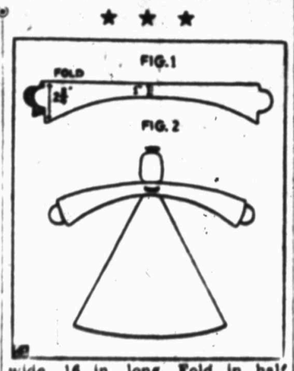

Make your own centerpiece, favors and Christmas decorations this year. You can do it in your spare time if you start early. Here are directions for making an attractive caroler to be used as a centerpiece, and a cone tree, suggested by Dennison's designers. If you want to make small girl carolers to be used as favors, make everything in smaller proportions.

GIRL WITH CONE

Head: Cut strip of absorbent cotton 2¼ inches wide. Roll tightly until it measures 6 inches in circumference. Then cut a 6 inch square of peach crepe paper. Stretch it fully. Place cotton on paper 1½ inches from top edge. Wrap peach crepe smoothly around the cotton (grain running up and down). Wind No. 1 spool wire twice around the paper close to the cotton at top and bottom. Draw wire tight and twist the ends together. Cut surplus crepe on top as short as possible, but leave it at the bottom.

Body: Cut out half of a 20 inch circle from red Mat Stock. Roll into a cone. Overlap edges, making base of cone 3½ inches in diameter. Paste and hold edges until they stick. Slip surplus crepe below doll's head over tip of cone and paste in place.

Arms: Cut red Mat Stock 5½ in. wide, 16 in. long. Fold in half lengthwise (2¾ x 16 in.). Shape as shown in figure 1. Score (with point of scissors) on dotted line. Bend and paste together. Cover hands with two layers of peach crepe paper. Paste center of arms to back (figure 2). Also pierce two small holes through arms and cone and fasten with spool wire. Bend arms forward while still damp from paste.

Collar: Slash a 6 in. doily from outer edge in to the center. Shape center to fit around doll's neck, forming a collar. Paste in place.

Features: Shape part of a blue lawyer's seal for the eyes, and an oval of red Mat Stock for the mouth. Paste in place. Tint cheeks with rouge.

Hair: Cut black crepe paper across the grain 4 in. wide, 8 in. long. Paste center of the 8 in. strip to top and back of head and half way down the sides. Twist end tightly, fasten near ends with narrow green ribbon forming pigtails.

To Make Cone: Take one half of a 12 in. circle of red Mat Stock. Roll into a cone. Overlap edges 2 in. and paste together. Decorate with metallic stars.

Cut strip of green crepe paper across the grain 2 in. wide. Fold strip in half lengthwise. Brush paste around top of cone on the inside, then slip folded edge of the green crepe over top of the cone and stretch the paper around it.

Slip small pice of spool wire through loop of a Christmas ball. Twist wire ends together.

Cluster 12 Christmas balls together. Then take a small 6 in. doily, pinch it together in center, ruffling it. Repeat with two more doilies. Place the doilies around the cluster of Christmas balls and fasten together with spool wire.

Pierce hole in point of cone and draw a small piece of spool wire through. Puncture front of doll 6 in. from bottom, insert wires from top of cone, draw tight and twist ends on inside.

Wrap right arm around cone. Tie arm and cone together. Fill cone with Christmas ornaments.

CONE TREE

Cut one half of a 20 in. circle from red Mat Stock. Roll into a cone. Overlap the edges, making cone 7½ in. in diameter. Paste the edges together to hold in shape.

Doilies: Remove centers from 16 doilies (5 in. diameter). The smaller circles now measure about 2½ in. in diameter. Paste 8 of these around lower edge of cone, extending slightly below the edge. Paste 4 circles in row above. Place them so that they come in between the circles in the lower row. Paste 2 circles opposite each other in the next row. Place two circles around top of tree.

Moisten backs of two silver stars and place them on top of the tree, back to back.

Tree Trunk: Cut red Mat Stock 14 in. by 6 in. Slash one short edge into tabs 2 in. deep, the opposite edge 1 in. deep. Roll the Mat Stock into a cylinder and paste edges together. Bend short tabs at right angles and paste to center of a 6 in. cardboard circle. Cover the circle with red Mat Stock. To do this cut out the center of the circle, just large enough to slip over the cylinder. Paste it to the cardboard base. Trim base with 4 doily centers and bow of green ribbon (1 yard in each bow).

Brush paste on top tabs and slip cone tree on top.

TWENTY PERCENT GOES FOR TOYS

Average U. S. Family Will Buy $40 Worth Of Christmas Gifts

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 10 (U.P.)—The average American family will spend about $40 on Christmas gifts this year, a survey showed today.

Twenty per cent of the money will go for toys, so that the nation's 41,000,000 youngsters below the age of 15 can wake up Christmas morning and find about $8 worth of toys under the tree.

These figures were worked out by the Family Economic bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company. They were based on retail sales figures and U. S. Department of Commerce statistics.

No matter how much papa complains about the bills, the survey showed, the average expenditure for Christmas presents won't put the family in the poorhouse. That $40 amounts to about one-sixth of the average monthly income after taxes.

Near 1947 Spending

Christmas buying is expected to total about $1,600,000,000 this year, less than in 1948 and about the same as in 1947.

This means the nation's 150,000,000 citizens will shell out an average of $10.67 each, while the average family of 3.67 persons will spend $39.16.

Toy sales alone are expected to hit $320,000,000, some 65 per cent of the toy industry's total annual business. This amounts to $7.80 for each of the country's children.

Some will get too many toys, of course, and some too few. That $7.80 figure is the average spent for playthings ranging from a cheap red wagon to such mechanical wonders as a $250 toy bear that actually blows bubbles.

The Santa Claus who buys his son a train will find the bill can run easily into hundreds of dollars. This year trains come equipped with really miraculous gadgets—a cattle car which stops at an unloading platform, and lets toy cows march out of the car and back in again.

Or there's a car with a milkman who deposits a can of milk when the train stops at the platform.

Gifts for a small girl can cost a large wad of folding money too. One famous Fifth Avenue toy store is advertising a doll house with electric lights. It comes completely furnished, with miniature furniture, a modern kitchen and a tile bathroom with a shower and shower curtain. The price tag reads $300.

Man Finds New Career By Carving Himself New Nose

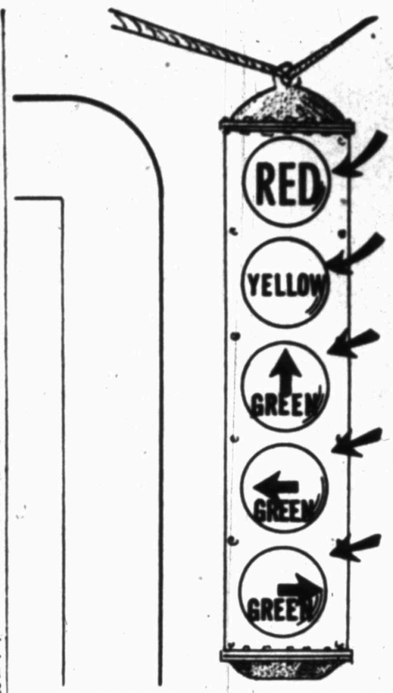

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP) — John B. Bidegain won a new career by a nose. The 36-year-old Frenchman lost his nose in 1942 while lighting a gasoline stove. It exploded, searing his face.

Bidegain couldn't get a job after leaving the hospital. He entered Los Angeles County' Rancho Los Amigos as an indigent.

"Why don't you make yourself a nose?" the manager of the rehabilitation workshop asked him.

Bidegain made a plaster of paris cast of his face. He fashioned a nose of modeling clay.

By pouring polyvynyl choride, a flexible, nontoxic plastic into it, he got a new nose, a product of his own skill. He wears it proudly, touched up with cosmetics and held fast with spirit gum Now Bidegain is fitting himself for a new job — plaster molding.

EXPLAINING LUBBOCK'S NEW TRAFFIC LIGHTS—Lubbock's traffic at Broadway and College, Ave. Q and Broadway, Ave. Q and Nineteenth and Nineteenth and College avenue should move more rapidly with the installation of four new five-light directional traffic signals. But instead of facilitating traffic movement at the four busy intersections, traffic has bogged down deeper than ever since their installation, all because drivers don't know how to use the new lights or follow simple directions. All a driver has to do is get in the right lane and the traffic signal will put him through the intersection in at least 80 seconds. Once the movements indicated by the arrows in the street sketch above can be made in that lane; that is, left turns only in the left-hand lane, straight ahead traffic in the center lane and right turns in the right-hand lane. If a driver gets in the wrong lane and tries to wait his signal, he holds up all the traffic behind him; if he goes ahead when his signal appears when he is in the wrong lane, there's liable to be an accident, because a different signal is being given the drivers facing him. All movements on the four sides of the intersections are complete and separated by the lights. Time cycle from red to red is 80 seconds and a caution light shows between each arrow movement. Major difficulty drivers have been having with the signs the past few days has been in getting in the wrong lanes. If a man who wants to continue ahead on the street, for instance, gets in the "Left Turn Only" lane, he must make the left turn when the arrow directional signal appears on the light or he's going to snarl traffic. Traffic Captain Bill Lamb said Saturday patrolmen would be stationed at the intersections for another week or ten days throughout most of the day and at peak periods to show drivers how to use the signals.

U. S. Materially Rich, But Said Scientifically Bankrupt

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP) — The United States is materially rich, but is scientifically bankrupt. This is one conclusion reached by 150 research men in a conference at Pennsylvania State college. The bankruptcy is in basic research, which seeks truth for its own sake. From such knowledge often comes great scientific discoveries that can be useful. The atomic bomb could never have been developed without years of research which learned basic facts about atoms.

The conference agreed that such basic research thrives best in a quiet academic atmosphere, but that universities don't have enough money for such research.

Yule Decorations Are Created By College Students

Six creative Christmas trees which have been placed in the Recreation hall and the Green Room at Texas Tech were made by students in Applied Arts 131 classes in the Division of Home Economics.

Further experience in developing independent thinking, initiative and co-operation was the purpost which prompted the acceptance by the instrucfors of the invitation to make holiday decorations.

Having just completed the creation of designs for greeting cards, students showed enthusiasm for the new assignment. Working in groups of two or three, small Christmas trees, suitable for use in dormitory rooms or in homes were made. Materials used included screen wire, feathers, tree limbs, coat hangers, metal foil, and other items. Ornaments from various materials were made for decorations.

Three designs were selected to be used in the Recreation hall and with the help of George Long, superintendent of buildings and grounds, six collapsible frames were built and painted. The frames can be packed away in a small space and used again if desired.

Applied Arts instructors are Miss Martye Poindexter, Miss Quepha Rawls and Mrs. Ethel Jane Beitler.

Aerial Photography Is Used Against Fishing Violators

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — Federal game officials are using aerial photographs as evidence against commercial fishermen operating illegally in certain waters.

The idea is showing special promise in Alaska, where rough waters sometimes make it impossible for a patrol plane to land.

Albert M. Day, director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, says the plane has replaced the dog sled in Alaskan patrols to the extent that only 13 miles were covered by sled last year, against 134,329 by plane, 300 by helicopter and about 100,000 by other means.

CHAMPIONS MODERNISM IN AN ANCIENT COUNTRY

Doria Shafik, Egypt's Feminist Leader, Tries To Cast Off Traditional Shackles Of Her Sex

By MARGARET GILRUTH
INS Staff Correspondent

CAIRO, Dec. 10.—Egypt's women—oppressed for centuries, confined to harems, obliged to wear veils, subjected to polygamy and deprived of free speech—have found a gallant champion in their own midst.

She is Doria Shafik, president Egypt's feminist movement, who has achieved amazing success in casting off the shackles of tradition.

Just 32, she is slim and chic and beautiful. She is intelligent, the wife of a lawyer and mother of two small girls, and for all her modernism is a Moslem devoted to her faith.

She also holds a doctorate of philosophy from the famed Sorbonne in Paris. In accordance with the liberalism of that institution, she has devoted her time and life to the emancipation of Egypt's women.

Petitions King Farouk

Doria Shafik was wearing a smart black dress and a little Paris hat when this correspondent encountered her in her office. The interview was a rare one and carried on in between Doria's smooth handling of a constant string of calls on two telephones.

She said:

"As a woman and as head of Egypt's feminist movement, I believe that a harsh tradition should be fought by forthright modern weapons."

These to Doria mean bold petitions to his majesty King Farouk seeking royal support for her campaign to prohibit polygamy and obtain woman suffrage.

They mean constant assaults upon the ministers of education and social affairs for assistance in her fight against illiteracy and lack of hospitals.

Fights Repudiation

"Our feminist battlecry is simple, really quite elementary," she said.

"Many believe the Koran, Islam's bible, permits a Moslem four wives.

"This is not so; the Koran says a Moslem can have up to four wives if he can like them equally and be true to them all.

"Which of course is impossible.

"We modern Egyptian women urge polygamy should be abolished because it undermines the status of wives and tends to snap the family circle.

"We fight to banish repudiation: at this moment a man may repudiate, cast out, a wife without resorting to a court of law or any other jurisdiction.

To Establish Schools

"Also, a wife can be compelled by a court to rejoin her husband if she left him after he took a second wife. This obviously should never be permitted.

"I personally feel that polygamy and repudiation tie up with our battle against ignorance and illiteracy amongst our women.

"I have already sought permission from our enlightened ministry of education to set up classes during afternoons in empty school rooms for women who can neither read nor write.

"If we cannot find sufficient school rooms we shall hold our classes in the streets. Nothing can stop us. . ."

Doria has today on her committee of feminists a teacher at a secondary girls' school, the wife of a millionaire, the wife of a cabinet minister; a woman doctor; a woman lawyer, and a trained nurse.

Edits Magazine

Through her own personality and the endeavors of this committee the former conservative minister of education, Mursi Brad Bey, is said to have been forced to resign.

He had ruled that teachers in government schools must wear ankle-length dresses and no powder or lipstick.

As a sideline to all this activity, Doria edits a women's magazine, a "Harper's Bazaar" in Arabic, called "Bint El Nil" or "Daughter Of The Nile."

She has just completed a book about a legendary Egyptian woman who lived at the beginning of the 13th century. She was a slave, but married the sultan of Damascus and Egypt and after his death in battle she commanded his army and won fame in the world of that day.

Husband Is Helpful

The sultan's principal general then fell in love with the heroine's dazzling beauty and married her. After his death she was trampled underfoot by the clogs of other jealous slaves but died with greatest courage and dignity, murmuring: "This is my destiny."

Doria attributes her exciting crusade on behalf of Egyptian women to the example of her father.

Her mother died when she was a schoolgirl. In the face of fierce opposition from reactionary relatives, he sent Doria off to school in Paris when she was 16. There she met a young Egyptian who was studying law. They fell in love and were married.

Of her husband, Doria says:

"He is the most liberal-minded man I know. He does everything possible to help me and through me the women of Egypt. Without him and his support my crusade would have been doubly difficult."

Texas Guard Ranked Fifth In Strength

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (INS) — The Texas National Guard, with 16,906 officers and men, stands fifth in the nation in net strength.

Adjutant General K. L. Berry announced that the Texas Guard is "within throwing distance" of its goal of 17,000 men by the end of the year.

Gen. Berry said that the nationwide strength of the national guard is also near its goal of 399,500 men. This is the strength authorized by federal fund appropriation. When the goal is reached, strength ceilings will be placed on all states.

The recruiting that will be done thereafter will be only that sufficient to make up for unavoidable losses. General Berry said he expects that the Texas strength ceiling will be in excess of 17,000.

Texas' present strength is divided into 15,164 in army units, and 1,741 in air units.

While the fall recruiting drive officially ended on November 19, recruiting has been carried on until the national strength is reached.

People Advised To Pat Selves On The Back To Stay Sane

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP) — To help prevent mental illness, try to build up whatever is best in your personality. This is the advice of Mrs. Helen Thomson, a psychiatric social worker, in an article in Hygeia magazine.

Most people spend too much time mulling over their own weaknesses and shortcomings, she says. "To safeguard our mental health we need to get turned around the other way. We need to focus on what's best in ourselves. That is the road to emotional health."

Friendliness Of Shopper Rewarded

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

"Because she had such a nice approach, I dug away for 20 minutes in the stock room to find those gold kid sandals for her."

I overheard one shoe salesman make this remark to another.

Since the customer of this shoe department was still around, I moved closer to her to see if I could find out what her "nice approach" was.

One clue was evident when she took her package and thanked the salesman with a friendliness so warm that it cast a glow over them both. She knew that he had taken trouble to satisfy her particular demand for a kind of merchandise which was not too available, and she expressed her gratitude.

I found another clue to her "nice approach" when this woman and I waited to enter a crowded elevator. She hesitated before entering—even backed back instead of lunging forward as most of the women who waited did—and said to the elevator starter with a captivating smile: "If you're too crowded, I'll wait for the next car."

Her "nice approach" won her a spot in that car. The hard-boiled elevator man, who evidently was as impressed by it as the shoe salesman, made room for her by yelling at the other passengers to step back in the car.

These two clues to this woman's "nice approach" were the only ones I sleuthed down. But no more were needed to convince me that friendliness and charm like hers pays off. If her nice approach won her a hard-to-find pair of shoes and a spot in a crowded elevator, just think what else it wins for her!

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Branch of Dallas, Ore., are visiting his twin sister, Mrs. R. L. Goad, and Mr. Goad of 716 Ave. K, and his brothers, Ed Branch and Elsie Branch, and their families.

SQUEEZE PLAY IS SHAPING UP

Foes Of Foreign Oil Imports Adding Pressure On Congress

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Dec. 10.—A squeeze play may be shaping up to bring a temporary end to domestic problems caused by foreign crude oil.

Opponents of foreign oil imports are adding pressure to Congress in their campaign for limitation legislation.

Controls Not Wanted

These major importers are pained just as much as independent domestic operator whenever any form of federal control of the oil industry is mentioned.

There is indication the importers would make the first move should Congress begin to show strong interest in the pleas of the imports opponents.

These opponents, primarily, want imports limited to 5 per cent of domestic production or have the foreign oil tax jumped from 10½ cents to about $1 a barrel.

Their argument has been that imports no longer are supplementing domestic production, but, instead, are supplanting United States crude.

Preliminary estimates on 1949 domestic production and imports present sharp contrasts when compared with 1948 figures.

Domestic crude output this year is expected to run about 500,000 barrels daily less than last year. Imports are expected to average about 160,000 barrels daily higher.

Oil Shortage Feared

Any cutting down on imports in hopes of halting congressional action would be a postponement of the problem. But that might be all that is needed.

A few months have been found to make a lot of difference in oil industry supply and demand.

The severe winter of 1947-48 caused many congressmen to believe the United States was running out of oil.

Importers began to hike their quotas, an action they termed necessary in order to prevent being caught short during another hard winter.

Domestic production was sent into high speed and reached an all time high in 1949.

But the 1948-49 winter fooled everyone by being abnormally mild. The nation found itself up to its ear in oil—both domestic and foreign.

Oil producing states ordered sharp cuts in domestic allowables.

Several months ago the importers said their foreign oil quotas would be reduced gradually.

Independent oilmen are not convinced this promise to being carried out.

Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum association of America, this week said independents have abandoned practically all hope that imports will level off.

He said importers plan to bring into the United States about 850,000 barrels daily next year, compared to the current 600,000 to 700,000.

The 850,000 figure, he said, would be equivalent to about 14 percent of domestic production.

The head of one of the importing companies this week urged that imports be reduced.

Statement Is Filed

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Standard Oil company of Indiana, called for statesmanlike action in preventing further supplanting of domestic production by foreign oil.

He made his suggestions to the importers through a statement filed in Washington with the House small business subcommittee on oil.

Wilson also expressed opposition to congressional limitation of imports.

The House committee has been investigating the imports squabble and is expected to report to Congress early next year.

Domestic crude production dropped another 85,900 barrels daily last week as new December cutbacks in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas became effective.

The American Petroleum Institute placed production for the week ending Dec. 3 at 5,105,950 barrels daily, compared to 5,665,250 a year earlier.

Another sharp drop was to be expected this week in that the December cutbacks were effective only three days last week.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW! BY FAGALY and SHORTEN

Subs Main Job In Future War Claimed Attack On Enemy Subs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (U.P.) — The submarine's main job in any future war will be the destruction of enemy submarines, according to Rear Adm. Charles B. Momsen, assistant chief of naval operations for undersea warfare.

Momsen said it is inevitable that any enemy would concentrate on destruction of the U. S. fleet. This could be accomplished best, he said, by submarine or air attack, since American and British naval might controls the surface of the sea.

Momsen said the Navy has moved to counter such a threat by developing the fastest submarine possible based on the schnorkel type developed by the Germans.

New Type Developed

This submarine has a long breather tube known as a "schnorkel" that permits it to operate undersea indifinitely at speeds of about 10 knots. It has powerful batteries that permit submerged speeds for short periods of 17 knots.

Momsen said the Navy has converted 24 submarines to the new type known as "Guppies." Two new longer and faster submarine, the "Tang" and "Trigger," are under construction at the Portsmouth and New London, N. H., Navy yards, he said.

"We are using these submarines to train our anti-submarine forces and for development of new equipment," Momsen explained.

The admiral said the fleet can practice using its latest devices for hunting down and destroying submarines on these latest models. By producing the world's best submarines ourselves, we can prepare our surface forces to meet and defeat them, he said.

Tasks Assigned

"The Navy is developing three special types of submarines for destroying enemy submarines," Momsen said.

Two of them will be designed to lie in wait for enemy submarines outside their home ports and the third will seek out the enemy submarines to destroy them.

"A submarine on the prowl is committed to movement," Momsen said. "It makes lots of noise. But a submarine killer sub can lie in wait with special devices to detect that noise. It can then destroy the enemy sub with torpedoes."

"This type of sub will be like a mobile and intelligent mine," Momsen added.

Heiress's Former Co-Defendant Held On Interstate Auto Theft

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 10. (AP) George "Bud" Gollum is being held on a charge of interstate auto theft, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced last night.

Gollum identified himself to U. S. Commissioner Harry H. Hingson in Greenville, S. C., as co-defendant with Beulah Overell in a sensational California trial following the death of her parents.

The Overells died in an explosion aboard their yacht near Santa Ana, Calif., March 15, 1947. The young heiress and Gollum, her fiance, were charged with murder but were subsequently acquitted. Their engagement was broken shortly after.

Ed Mason, special agent in charge of the Savannah FBI office, said Gollum was arrested Thursday in Greenville, S. C., on the auto theft charge.

The 23-year-old Gollum is being held in the Greenville jail, Mason said.

Second Municipal Airport For Houston Approved At Meeting

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—A second municipal airport for Houston has been assured, with the Civil Aeronautics administration to pay half the estimated cost of $6,000,000.

Approval of the new airport was announced after a meeting last night of city, CAA and Air Force officials.

It is planned to use the new airport for commercial airlines, with the present field handling air freight and private planes.

A survey is to begin shortly on possible sites for the new field.

PETTING THE PEKE

SALT LAKE CITY (U.P.)—J. T. Ryser, pet shop dealer, received an order for two pairs of dainty leather boots for a Pekinese. The owner explained that her dog liked to rough it during the winter months and tramp in the snow and naturally she "didn't want her poochie to get his feet wet."

MANUFACTURERS ARE SURPRISED

Christmas Turns Demand For Video Sets Into A Stampede

By WAYNE OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Santa Claus has turned the television buying rush into a stampede.

Christmas orders added to an already mushrooming demand have manufacturers and dealers frantic trying to explain why you can't get the set of your choice installed by 2:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Many set makers confess they were caught flatfooted by the sudden scramble for sets. Only last summer there were sets all over the place but few buyers. Manufacturers cut prices and most dealers added discounts of their own to attract reluctant customers.

Some Falling Behind

Now all major set makers are running at capacity and some are even falling further behind on their backlogs of orders for most popular models. New sets are pouring off the assembly lines at close to 100,000 a week, or better than three times the rate of a year ago, according to the Radio Manufacturers association.

Manufacturers now expect television production to reach 2,500,000 to 2,750,000 for the year, compared with earlier predictions of around 2,000,000. Added to those made previously, it will bring the total of sets in use close to the 4,000,000 mark—probably 3,750,000 at least by year-end.

A spokesman for the Radio Corp. of America says it and other major manufacturers will reach year-end some two to eight weeks behind on deliveries—the delay varying by models. An official of admiral corp. says "we're way behind on deliveries," with all models being snapped up as fast as they reach dealers.

The same story is reported by Crosley, Emerson, Dumont, Tele-Tone and others. Zenith this week advised its customers in newspaper advertisements not to pay premiums in order to get quick delivery on its sets—that it was producing all out to catch up on orders.

"Tips" Are Rumored

There have been unconfirmed but persistent trade reports of customers offering substantial tips to have their names put at the top of the list for prompt delivery on specific models.

As welcome as the boom is to set makers, they are a little at a loss for an explanation. Ernest Marx, general manager of Dumont receiver sales, calls it "something very intangible" that "seems to have sprung from a past psychological source." "Quite suddenly," he says, "the entire country came to the realization and recognition that no home in the future would be complete without television."

Morton M. Schwartz, general sales manager of Tele-Tone which specializes in low priced sets, attributes the buying surge in large part to reductions in set prices. You can buy some models, particularly in big screen sizes, for little more than half what you'd have had to pay this time last year.

Markets Opened Up

The reductions, Schwartz says, have opened up new income groups as television markets, adding that today "there is no income group that cannot afford television." He says television, in areas where available, has achieved the status of the automobile as a family necessity.

Manufacturers report the demand is practically as heavy in cities with only one station as in those with two, three or more. Heretofore, sales have been slowest in areas with only one station and best in cities with the most stations—and widest choice of programs.

Some Models Plentiful

Even now, however, you probably can get a set without delay if you aren't insistent on a particular brand or model. Lesser known brands haven't shared fully in the demand, and some 1949 models still are being offered for prompt delivery and at discounts. The situation also varies by areas, with sets being comparatively plentiful in some.

But New York dealers report most customers who come into their stores already have made up their minds on brand and model from newspaper and magazine advertisements and few are willing to change to anything else.

Meanwhile, radio sales also are booming. An Associated Press survey in mid-October showed a sudden revival in radio sales with prospective shortages before Christmas in some models. And the trade publication Radio Daily this week reported shortages already have developed in a number of radio lines.

Florida Man Averts Passenger Train's Crash Into Large Log

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 10. (AP)—A farmer, W. C. Peters of Istachatta, is credited with preventing a serious wreck by flagging down the Atlantic coast line's crack passenger train, the Southland, just short of a huge log athwart the track.

A member of the train crew said "it would have scattered the South-land all over the woods" if it had struck the log.

Peters saw the log roll from a timber train on an adjoining track. He said he knew the Southland was due shortly, and ran several hundred yards to warn it in time.

Istachatta is about 40 miles north of Tampa.

Wife Of Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman Active In Church, Civic And Demo Circles

By MARTHA KEARNEY
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Oscar Chapman, the very charming wife of the new secretary of the interior, was a secretary herself until she married her boss.

The former Ann Kendrick of Lafayette, La., was Chapman's secretary for about seven years before they were married. Now, nine years later, they are one of the capital's most devoted official couples.

Like her husband, Ann Chapman is quiet, hard-working and unassuming. And, also like her husband, she prefers entertaining friends at home to travelling the capital cocktail party circuit.

Minister's Daughter

Although she devotes the major part of her time to her son, five-year-old James Raleigh Chapman, she finds time to be more active than almost any other cabinet wife in church, civic and Democratic organizations.

Mrs. Chapman is the daughter of a now-retired Baptist minister, Rev. J. I. Kendrick, who still lives in Lafayette with another daughter. Her brother, Charles Kendrick, lives in New York City.

The youthful Ann Kendrick was graduated from Baylor university in Waco, Texas, and taught Latin and English for a while in Brownsville, Texas, before she decided in 1932 to come to Washington.

Once in the capital, she went to live with an aunt and uncle. Her uncle, Basil Manly, was then serving as a federal power commissioner.

Through her uncle and a friend of his, former Sen. Edward Costigan of Colorado, Miss Kendrick soon met an up-and-coming young man named Oscar Chapman whose first wife had died earlier in the year.

Miss Kendrick, however, was too busy to give the young man much thought. She got herself a job almost immediately with the Progressive league, a group which was promoting the campaign of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Later she worked for the inaugural committee and the Democratic National committee.

Meanwhile, Oscar Chapman was named assistant secretary of the interior in May of 1933. He asked Miss Kendrick to serve as his secretary and she went to work for him that summer.

Collects Adams China

A little less than saven years later they were married.

Ann Chapman's only hobby is collecting Adams china. Her chief culinary accomplishment is the blending of authentic Louisiana gumbo. Her husband can turn out a very fine Brunswick stew.

Their son now goes to kindergarten two hours a day and Mrs. Chapman tries to crowd as many of her outside activities into those two hours as possible.

She and Mrs. Charles Brannan are far and away the most active cabinet wives in civic and political projects. They also share the distinction of having husbands from Denver.

This is actually a very great distinction because it is the first time in American history that any western state has been represented by two cabinet members serving at the same time.

Interests Varied

Mrs. Chapman, among other things is a member of the advisory committee of the juvenile court of the District of Columbia and program chairman of the Women's Democratic club.

She is also a member of the Women's society of the First Baptist church, the League of Women Voters and the Parent Teacher association of young Jimmy's school.

Marrying her boss, judging by the happy results, was probably the wisest move Ann Kendrick Chapman ever made.

Branding Of Wives Illegal, Texan Told

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (INS)—A 38-year-old Texan learned today that the law is unfavorable toward the branding of wives even though the use of hot irons is permitted on cattle.

The man, a Dallas resident, is sitting in the county jail charged with suspicion of aggravated assault.

Sheriff's office deputies said the man ended a fight with his wife last night by applying a hot iron on her legs and hips. The woman was treated for burns at Parkland hospital and then released.

The husband, told the wedding ring is "brand enough," was corralled into jail.

World Trade Unions Group Pledges Fight Against Communists

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP) — The newly formed International Confederation of Free Trade unions (ICFTU) ended its nine-day organizational conference last night with a pledge to fight all totalitarianism and a call for bread, freedom and peace.

The conference had bound together unions from 53 nations representing some 50,000,000 workers.

The ICFTU also called for economic unification of Europe, more aid from industrially advanced nations to industrially backward nations, elimination of high tariffs and other trade restrictions, free education for workers and a progressive program of world disarmament and atom control.

Resolutions Adopted

The confederation called on its members to fight Communism, "dictator regimes" in Peru, Venezuela, San Domingo, Nicaragua and Argentina, and the Franco government in Spain.

Just before adjourning the conference adopted two resolutions proposed by the two key U. S. union groups — the American Federation of Labor and the CIO—affirming solidarity with "oppressed workers of central and eastern Europe" and protesting the "abduction of more than 28,000 Greek children by the Communist rebels of Greece."

The conference also demanded the right of the ICFTU to participate in all bodies concerned with international economic and social cooperation.

Many of the unions making up the new world organization had withdrawn from the world federation of trade unions because it was Communist dominated.

CONNALLY, SHIVERS LISTED AS SPEAKERS

East Texas Industrialist Ernest L. Kurth To Be Honored With Giant Celebration Wednesday

By MARVIN BRAU
Associated Press Staff Writer

LUFKIN, Dec. 10 — Ernest L. Kurth is to be honored next Wednesday as probably no other Texan has.

His homefolks, joined by state and national leaders, have set the day aside in appreciation for his leadership in a community partnership that has done big things.

They intend to give the 64-year-old civic and industrial leader the biggest, longest testimonial ever held. The celebration will start early in the day with open house at all Angelina county industrial plants. In the afternoon they will line the streets for a "parade of industry." Then in the evening they will gather in the high school gym for a dignitary-studded dinner.

Connally To Speak

Texas' elder statesman, Sen. Tom Connally, will make the keynote address. Governor Allan Shivers and former Governor William P. Hobby also will talk. Many other notables, including Jesse Jones and Sam Rayburn, will be present.

Miss Mona Paulee of the Metropolitan will fly down to sing. Texas A. & M.'s 200-piece band will be on hand. Public schools will be closed.

A highlight of the banquet will be presentation of two outstanding awards. One will be by Dixie Business, Atlanta, Ga., magazine, which has named the genial Texan "the man of the south for 1949." The other will be by the Texas Manufacturers association which will present him with a certificate of merit as the industrialist of the year.

Kurth started out in the lumber business, but his interests now are varied. He heads 16 different firms, ranging from an insurance agency to a chain of theaters. He is connected with dozens of others.

Recognized As Authority

His efforts over the past 20 years have transformed Angelina county from a relatively obscure agricultural community into Texas' fifth largest industrial area.

He is recognized as an international authority on forest conservation.

One of his greatest undertakings was the big Southland paper mills, the first plant to turn out newsprint for newspapers in commercial quantity from yellow pine, plantiful in the south.

An associate in the venture was Dr. Charles H. Herty, a Savannah, Ga., chemist, who died a few months before the plant was completed. Before he died, Herty said:

"Development of this industry is going to mean the elimination of the one-room homes, better food for those who are living on cornbread and better clothes for those in rags."

Kurth shared this viewpoint and channeled his energy and wealth into the project. He named the site of the plant Herty, Texas, after the chemist.

Part Is Minimized

The Texan, characteristically, minimized his part in the undertaking.

"I took an eight-million dollar gamble and won," he said. "If I hadn't done it, somebody else would have."

Kurth stayed within shadow of his birthplace to become one of the state's biggest industralists. He was born July 25, 1885, at Kurth Station near Corrigan in Polk county. His father had come from Bonn, Germany.

Kurth was the second of five boys. He and his four brothers were born in July. Four of their birthdays were on succeeding days. This was a problem for Mother Kurth. Four birthday cakes in a row were just too much. She solved the situation by plucking the biggest watermelon in the garden and throwing one huge birthday party on the lawn.

In his youth Kurth loved to play in the woods and was a friend of wildlife. To this day he shudders if a rifle is aimed at a deer.

"They are too beautiful to die," he contends.

Kurth loves music. In his boyhood his mother picked him from her brood to study the piano. Every Saturday for ten years he climbed aboard a train for Baker where he spent the day taking music lessons.

"I was picked, I guess, because I offered the least resistance," he said.

Was Football Player

He attended Lufkin public schools and Southwestern university at Georgetown. During his college days he played football and sang in the glee club. He met a vivacious co-ed, Isla Kinsolving of Corsicana, who struck his fancy. Five years later, in 1905, he and the petite, auburn-haired girl were wed.

Kurth's first job after college was in the Lufkin National bank. Two years later he took a bookkeeping job with the Angelina County Lumber Co. By degrees he became president.

Kurth, white-haired, tall and heavy-set, spends most of his time in his offices, taking care of the myriad of business and civic affairs that gravitate his way.

Associates frequently find him sitting at his desk with a dusty Stetson pushed back on his head. A wide grin usually flashes as soon as a set of black, penetrating eyes recognize callers.

Kurth is a regular attendant at the small white Methodist church at nearby Keltys which his parents founded.

Voice Is Impaired

Kuth got a tough break in 1943. It was a throat ailment which ended in an operation and impairment of his vocal organs. Once on the road to recovery, however, the determined patient began the difficult task of learning to talk by using the buccal method which uilizes the stomach muscles.

Kuth has served on many civic and state boards. He once was president of the East Texas chamber of commerce. He served on the Texas prison board from 1939 to 1943. He is trustee of Southwestern university. He is a past-president of the Southern Pine association. He is a trustee of the A. & M. college research foundation.

Asked once why he was content to live out his life in a small town, Kuhth wrote:

"In trees there is truth. Locked in, perhaps. But once freed in the magic of manufacturing, that truth takes shape in paper, waiting for the keen mind and the kiss of the presses to give it life. That's all the glory I need. It's the greatest glory any man can ask."

Bernard Kevenhoester, Bishop Of Nassau, Dies At Age Of 80

NASSAU, Bahamas, Dec. 10 (AP)—This British colony today mourned the Most Rev. Bernard Kevenhoester, Bishop of Nassau, who died last night at the age of 80.

Bishop Bernard was the first head of the Catholic church in the Bahamas to bear the title of bishop. Under his direction, Catholic missions and education in the colony were developed and expanded.

Bishop Bernard was born in Alten-Essen, Germany, on Nov. 1 1869. When he was seven, his parents were forced to flee the country during the prosecution of the church by Bismarck.

He was ordained a priest at St. John's Benedictine monastery, Collegeville, Minn., in 1896 and was pastor of St. Anselm's church, the Bronx, N. Y., for 17 years.

He was appointed perfect apostolic of the Bahamas in May, 1931, and made titular bishop of Camuliana in 1933. In 1941 he was appointed vicar apostolic and on the golden jubilee of his ordination in 1946 Pope Pius made him an assistant at the pontifical throne.

Funeral services will be here Tuesday.

Paper's Personnel End Day's Walkout

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 10. (AP)—Mailing room employes of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times ended a one-day wildcat strike last night and returned to their jobs today.

The newspapers said they accepted a request for settlement from the independent International Mailers union and signed a contract calling for terms previously offered by management.

A $2.50 weekly wage increase was included, giving the mailers $74.50. They had asked for $11.65 more money for day workers and slightly more for night workers.

Tht settlement reserved for management the right to discharge the sit-downers if deemed proper or take any measure of disciplinary action.

Members of the local were warned by the parent union that another unauthorized sit-down would result in revocation of their charter.

Forty - three mailers locked themselves in their department Thursday night and wouldn't come out until police were brought in.

"HAVE AN APPLE, JACK?"

Something new in refreshments, the apple cocktail, is demonstrated here by Rose Marie Howard of Yakima, Wash. To make it, you cut the top off a big, red apple, scoop out some of the inside, and pour in whatever you care to drink. Replace the top, insert straw, and sip. If you're hungry when you get through, remove straws and eat the apple.

Employes In Department Of Agriculture's Information Office Stumped By Questions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (U.P.) — It isn't much fun having to answer about 1,175,000 questions a year and not winning a single refrigerator or trip to the North Pole for having the right answer.

That's the job done by the agriculture Department's office of information. A check by Fred L. Zimmerman, who heads the office, showed that his staff handles more than 1,000,000 written queries a year, plus another 60,000 phone calls and some 20,000 visitors who ask their questions first-hand.

Most of the questions, better than 99 per cent, are sensible, straightforward queries that require logical answers. But there is a small fraction of the queries that stump the department's experts and cause howls of glee.

Some Questions

For instance, one woman wanted the office to tell her what color eyes potatoes have. Another worried girl called up to find out if angora wool grows after it has been made into a sweater.

Mrs. Eleanor Clay, who works in the information office, said one of her favorite queries came by long distance telephone from Hollywood. Mrs. Clay said the film executive who put the call through wanted to know where the department's memorial cemetery for livestock was located.

It is developed that his favorite cow-actress had just died. Mrs. Clay said he seemed quite unhappy when she told him there is no such cemetery.

Other amusing queries which have plagued the department include one from a man who wanted seeds for a plant which would grow food to make a person smart. Another was from a woman who was looking for spots where fresh air could be found.

Often Stumped

Still another woman wanted to know if silk could be made from codfish, and one puzzled farmer asked if animals could catch spring fever.

Zimmerman and his assistant, Mrs. Clay, admit they're stumped often by the questions thrown at them by the taxpayers. But, they said, their office answers a large majority of the queries directed to them, and this results in a dollar saving to the government, since a departmental expert does not have to take time off to handle the queries.

This knowledge, plus the occassional laughs they get, keeps them happy even though they never hit the jackpot for prizes.

Attorney Slain Gangland Style

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Frank J. Christenson, 44, a former Cook county (Chicago) assistant state's attorney, was slain in gangland style last night near his suburban Cicero home.

Christenson, a onetime foe of gambling in the suburb, was shot down by a barrage of bullets from gunmen as he stepped from his automobile and started to cross the street to his home. He was dead upon arrival at the Loretto hospital.

Doctors said he had been shot nine times, twice in the head, four times in the left shoulder, once below the heart and once in each arm.

His body was found on the sidewalk by his wife, Madeline, a former airline stewardess, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Clark Mack. Police Chief Chris Rooney of Cicero said Mrs. Mack told him that after she heard the shots she saw a black sedan speed away.

No Motive Found

Police theorized two gunmen killed Christenson. He was returning home shortly after 10 o'clock after spending the evening with Leo Kasperski, 50, his partner in a real estate business.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert, head of the state's attorney investigators, advanced the theory that the killing may have been a case of mistaken identity. Gilbert said early investigation disclosed there apparently was no motive for the slaying.

Mrs. Christenson also said she knew of no reason for her husband's murder. He had served four years as an assistant state's attorney under State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, now a superior court judge. In 1940 he was elected as assessor and a town trustee in Cicero. He served two terms before retiring in 1948.

In 1946 Christenson and Kasperski started a drive against gambling in the western suburb, charging that law enforcement had broken down. They headed a drive that was climaxed by a reform campaign headed by John Stoffel, former Cicero president.

Judge Apologizes To University Prof For Taxi Complaint

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (INS)—The Harvard university professor who had a verbal tiff with a Chicago taxi driver over an exorbitant fare was released from police custody today with an apology.

Judge John Gutknecht joined the defendant, Robert Schaefer, 32, of Boston, in a loud and vehement protest against cabbie Victor Serrance's bill.

He praised the defendant, a faculty member of Harvard's department of education, to the skies for his refusal to pay $4.15 for a four mile cab ride.

No Cross Complaint

And he dismissed as unsubstantiated the charge by cabbie Serrance that he was forced to wait for two hours before a tavern for professor. Said the judge:

"Why wasn't the cab driver arrested instead? I'd have found him guilty. Why isn't there a cross complaint here? We have laws against gouging."

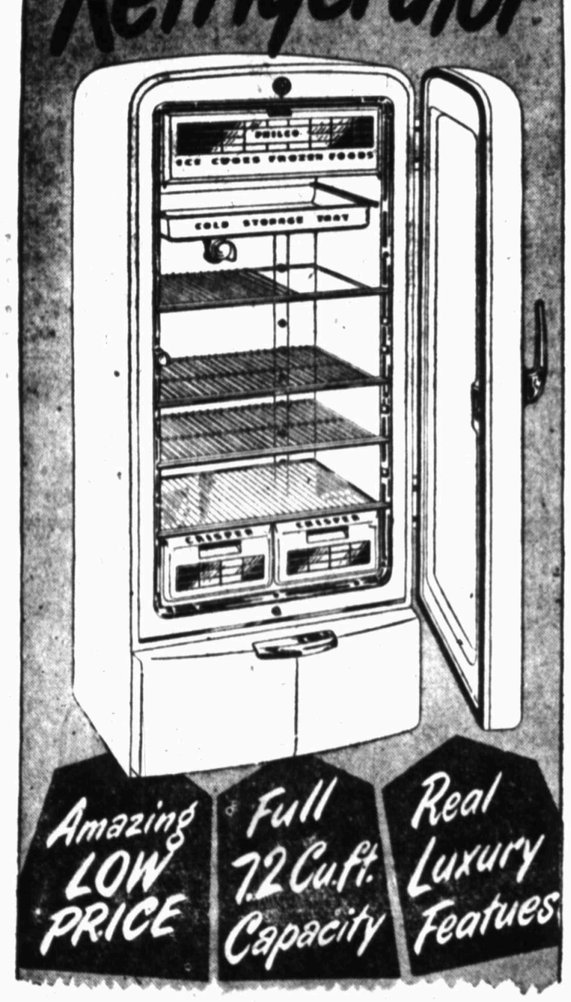

Police Sgt. Martin Kosturik, the arresting officer, merely shrugged his shoulders.

Then Judge Gutknecht apologized to Schaefer for wasting his time and said "nary a nickel" should have been paid for the ride.

NEUROCALOMETER—PRECISION X-RAY

The cases listed below are a few selected from the files at random to illustrate the wide scope of benefits available through Specific Chiropractic.

ABOVE. The Neurocalometer being used by Dr. Day to analyze the spinal nerves as they emit from the spinal column. This analysis is made to locate the area of Major nerve interference causing functional disorder.

Asthma

CASE NO. 1442: A little boy of five was brought to the Chiropractic Clinic suffering from Asthma which he had had since birth. Various treatments had failed to do more than relieve each spell. Examination disclosed a vertebrae at the top of the spine causing nerve interference and defective energization of the air sacs of the lungs. Corrective adjustments restored the spinal alignment to normal and the Asthma has not returned during the past year.

Female Trouble

CASE NO. 1658: A lady of 26 years complained of female trouble, low abdominal pains, discharge, nausea, dizziness, headaches, constipation, and awakening tired and headachy every morning. Neurocalometer spinal nerve analysis and X-rays made at the Chiropractic Clinic, located a spinal interference to nerve energy flow. Adjustments restored alignment and removed the cause of defective energization.

Arthritis

CASE NO. 409: Woman, age 50, had condition medically diagnosed as Arthritis and Rheumatism. She was extremely nervous, suffered kidney disturbances, and had unbearable pain in all muscles. She was constantly under the treatment of Arthritis "shots" and sleeping powders which did no good. She came to our Clinic for a Neurocalometer spinal and X-ray examination. After one adjustment, this woman was free from pain. Still under service, she says, "I am 98% improved; Chiropractic has made it possible for me to enjoy my work and family again."

Neuritis And Rheumatism

This young lady's trouble began as nervous spells, with hysteria. These attacks became more frequent, with loss of control over her body until she was in a helpless condition. There was loss of weight and weakness, finally a continuous pain in the right arm and leg, with eventual loss of action in those limbs. A Neurocalometer checkup found the presence of pressure on nerves. X-rays found the relation of the misplaced vertebra, to the others, and based on those X-rays, precision adjustments were made. Results were immediate. Since that time the patient has been working long hours, with no distress.

Slow Development

CASE NO. 481: Boy, age 2, unable to walk, talk, masticate, (took all food strained through bottle) or focus eyes properly. Usual treatment failed to show any improvement in the child's condition. The mother was referred to our Clinic where Neurocalometer analysis was made. Marked improvement began after his first adjustment. His eyes focus perfectly, is starting first stages of speech, shows genuine interest and appetite for eating by spoon, and walks held by one hand. Mother joyfully reports, "My baby is becoming a normal boy now."

High Blood Pressure

CASE NO. 1710: A man of age 60, weighing 180 pounds, came in with a painful stiffness in his neck which made it impossible to turn his head. He reported high blood pressure and frequent colds. After examination disclosed the cause of his trouble to be a spinal nerve wave interference, we attempted to correct the faulty alignment. This case was discharged free of pains and with blood pressure normal.

Indigestion

CASE NO. 1533: A lady of 40 years had not been well for several years. Her condition had been diagnosed nervous indigestion, nervous and irregularity of change. She had a sinus complaint, soreness about kidneys and bladder, arthritis in fingers and frequent headaches which nothing seemed to help. A Neurocalometer spinal nerve analysis located nerve interference areas and X-rays disclosed a spinal subluxation causing the defective innervation. Corrective adjustments restored alignment and removed interference to normal innervation. When discharged this lady stated she had no symptoms of any kind, felt just fine and in perfect health for the first time in years.

A. A. GREGORY, M.D., wrote: "Under spinal adjustments, acute diseases are cut short and chronic diseases recover which have been believed to be incurable."

LABOR UNIONS ALSO SEEK HEAVY VOTE TURNOU.

CIO And AFL Push Educational Programs In Effort To Improve Conditions, Union Official Claims

BY SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche-Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 — A gigantic Voice of America for domestic consumption is daily being broadcast, televised and written for the American public by the CIO and the AFL.

People who oppose these labor organizations would find much in common with the educational programs which these two groups are conducting.

As one CIO official here termed it this week, "This is nothing but a first-class adult education program with a labor union standpoint." He enlarged by saying, "Oh, yes, we'll always put in the labor union view, but at the same time, what we want to bring about is more education, because we feel with more enlightenment, more of our people will get the breaks in life."

Results at least in part are this: Men and women workers in factories, in oil well drilling crews, in rubber plants, oil well refineries, packing plants and in railroad offices are talking the nation's problems as they have never done before.

Unions Pushing Campaign

The CIO official said this talk will not be learned but it will involve a discussion of some form of economics, questions of politics and social security. People who never had a chance to go to school or who at best received limited education are learning and the source is their labor union.

The educational campaigns stress participation by labor union members in all activities of citizens, this year, from the school board trustee election to president. Participation in off-year elections are deemed important and are watched carefully. Labor men and women are told to get out the vote for elections, even if it is only a constable who is being chosen. Pre-campaign work for next year's political contests started this month throughout Texas and the South and Southwest.

These campaigns are aimed broadly. Of course they will become specific. They will be aimed at individuals as contests get hot. But primarily, the objective is "getting out a big vote." The labor unions always feel that the bigger the vote the more chance they have of getting elected a fellow with a broad viewpoint, and in every case with a broad viewpoint man in office, they get better representation for labor. This is why the CIO and AFL will make every effort to arouse people to the importance of citizenly participation in all contests.

CIO Concentrates On South

The CIO will aim particularly at areas where there is "pitifully small number of people voting traditionally." They cite the South.

The unions will aim particularly this next year at election rule reform. Who would ever have thought that Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls and the CIO would be on the same side but here we find CIO's Political Action Committee Director Jack Kroll asking for abolition of the electoral college. Gossett has long had an amendment before the Congress to this effect. It is a way to enable more people who are now disfranchised to vote that the CIO is aiming at, and one glaring instance is Georgia where under the county unit system a man in rural areas has his vote count four times as much as a city man, labor leaders point out.

The two organizations put out discussion panels on national radio chains weekly in which both opponents and proponents speak. They send out newspapers regularly telling of their activities and give fact sheets to newspapers and correspondents almost daily. Now the American Federation through its Labor's League for Political Education is conducting a widespread radio campaign on public questions, cooperating with the administration and government bureaus particularly on the public health insurance question and other matters. Large sums are being spent on prepared radio programs for stations all across the country to use.

Both organizations are set upon conducting larger-scale membership drives in the South and Southwest than ever before. The challenge that the unorganized South presents, also the earnestness with which certain southern employes have blocked their campaigns for membership in the past, is partly responsible for the fast labor is coming back there with more organizers, more money and greater determination than ever before, or so they say publicly and privately.

Mexican Viewpoint Given

Some interesting insights into how Mexican citizens feel about the United States was provided here this week by Horacio Flores de la Pena, senior economist with the Ministry of Finance, Mexico City, one of the Mexican delegates at the Food and Agriculture conference.

Asked what his country expected to get from the U. S. by attending this conference, young Senor Flores swallowed and said: "We are not asking for anything from the United States—we are seeking something from the 62 nations in the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations."

Then asked what Mexico expected to get from FAO, he said: "I prefer to talk about the benefits that can come to undeveloped areas. There are many things which the undeveloped countries can derive from such an organization."

When his questioner hammered about the specific benefits to Mexico, he said: "Please, we are committed as a policy not to seek things by calling for help for Mexico—we are going to seek to improve conditions for all undeveloped countries."

He said: "The undeveloped countries need technical assistance and financial aid—"

"Yes, but what will they spend the money for if they get them—?" he was asked.

Backed Nation's Policy

"Please, let's talk about financial aid—I am allergic to that term 'money'," and his head was tossed high just as if all the pride and honor of a great nation went with that emphatic remark. Here you had young Mexico talking, brilliant, trained in economics, sure of his footing in international conversations, and determined to sacrifice nothing to those principles.

He reminded me of Senator Antonio Bermudez of Juarez coming to Washington to seek a loan to develop Mexico's oil industry yet declaring if the aid came it must come on Mexico's terms and that the underneath wealth would not be transferred to expatriate owners.

Here's what Flores did say:

"The Mexican delegation thinks that one of the most important tasks of FAO should be to help the undeveloped counties in carrying out its programs of economic development through a better use of their economic resources.

"We think that economic development means necessarily industrialization at least in the Latin-American countries, however in these countries the larger percentage of the population are farmers with very low purchasing power, therefore it is not possible to think in industrialization if we do not create beforehand the domestic market that will absorb the forthcoming industrial output, and this only can be done if the standard of living of these populations is raised.

"I think the FAO will have a very good opportunity to help these countries in the solution of their problems if the technical assistance programs should be supplemented with an adequate financial help.

"This aid can be used for instance in the programs of increasing agriculture production, which will mean for the particular country a reduction of foodstuff imports or will enable the country to increase their exports. In this form it will get the foreign exchange it needs for the purchasing of machinery and capital goods in general, required for this industrialization program, and at the same time, from the point of view of the general economy of the country, the loan received will become self-liquidating."

He did mention that Mexico would like to have reclamation and electrification projects.

When some one mentioned that in Mexico and other countries today, many of the people did not get enough to eat, he replied quickly: "I believe that statement is overdrawn and not true of Mexico as it is of other countries."

Man Never Misses Chance To Get Behind Jail Bars

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 10 (U.P.) — Police here have a problem on their hands in the person of one Charlie Schmidt, aged 65.

Schmidt likes jail.

Ever since he arrived here five years ago, broke and hungry, Schmidt's only comfortable moments have been spent in the lockup. He never misses a chance to get behind prison bars.

Six times this year, Schmidt was booked for idling and loitering. Six times Police Recorder A. W. Callaway sent him to the cooler.

But on the seventh time, he balked.

Picked Up Again

Recently, officers again found Schmidt sleeping in a downtown doorway. They tapped the thin soles of his shoes with a nightstick.

Schmidt blinked, looked up and broke into a wide smile. When the wagon arrived, he almost chuckled aloud.

The next day, Schmidt was taken before Judge Callaway, his head bowed, perhaps to hide a grin, and his checkered cap in hand.

Callaway was so irritated by the regularity of the culprit that he refused to send him to jail.

"Find some other place for him to go," he told Mrs. Clyde Aven, a policewoman.

Prefers Road Gang

Mrs. Aven asked Schmidt what his pleasure would be. His answer left her baffled, in view of Callaway's order.

Schmidt replied that he wanted to "work with the road gang."

When told that he absolutely would not get a stockade sentence, Schmidt was on the verge of tears.

"I've no place to go," he mourned.

Mrs. Aven told him that "no man should spend his entire life in jail, especially if he's not a criminal." But Schmidt found no comfort in sociology.

"I like to be around the jail," the wrinkled little man explained.

Dual Completion Of Gaines Well Slated

Gaines county provided one of the highlights of the petroleum development activity on the South Plains during the last seven day period.

A wildcat discovery in Central-South Gaines county has proven for flowing production from both the Devonian and from the Ellenburger, and is due to be finished and put on production in a short time—taking oil from both of the deep pays which it has uncovered.

The Gaines county venture which has shown for natural flowing production from the Devonian is Samedan Oil corporation and Anderson Brothers No. 1-E. A. Andrews, located about 12 miles south and a little west of Seminole.

Zone Shut Off

The exploration had previously flowed at the rate of seven barrels of oil per hour from the Ellenburger, through casing perforations at 10,900-960 feet.

That zone is shut off from the Devonian with a retainer and the Devonian was tested through perforations at 10,056-070 feet.

After swabbing an average of 20 barrels of new oil per hour for a short period, the well kicked off and started flowing with the swab still in the hole.

It flowed 17 hours through open tubing and made 284 barrels of oil.

Following that 17-hour flow period, operator pulled the swab one time each hour to agitate the flow. The well then produced an average of 21½ barrels of oil per hour for six hours, with a shakeout of four per cent drilling mud and two-tenths of one per cent drilling water.

Operators were to have washed the interval from 10,056-070 feet with 500 gallons of acid and test further.

Dual Completion Expected

It is expected that the well will be dually completed from the Devonian and from the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psl survey. It is on the northwest side of the Robertson field, where production was previously from the middle and lower Permian lime.

Forest Oil corporation No. 1-A Parmer county school land fee, Southeast Gaines county wildcat which has shown for the likely discovery of commercial productin from the Mississippian, was drilling deeper in that formation past 12,332 feet in lime and chert.

This prospect, located 15 miles southeast of Seminole, had a show for production in a drillstem test from 12,045-156 feet when it had an oil fillup of 14.48 barrels of oil per hour, natural.

To Drill To 15,000

The venture is slated to drill to 15,000 feet, however, it may be completed from the Mississippian as a discovery if the lower horizons fail to show oil and gas in commercial amounts.

The development is 860 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of labor 12, league 317, Parmer county school land survey.

Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation was still trying to develop production from the Clear Fork at its No. 1 Nichols, Central-West Gaines county wildcat.

Operator had treated perforations from 6,390-435 feet and swabbed out sulphur water. Those perforations were squeezed off and treated with 500 gallons of mud acid. In the last 20 hours of swabbing the well made 61 barrels of oil, 17 barrels of water and four barrels of emulsion.

At the time this report was prepared operator was preparing to re-acidize the 6,390-446-foot interval with 1,500 gallons of acid.

Swabbing to test will continue.

This exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block A-10, psl survey.

Test Is Planned

A Southeast Gaines county wildcat, Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Breckon, had progressed past 4,760 feet in lime and was boring deeper toward its contracted depth of 6,500 feet.

No. 1 Breckon is five miles east of Jal, N. M., and 467 feet from south and 1,113 feet from east lines of section 25, block A-9, psl survey.

Magnolia Petroleum company was swabbing to test at an outpost to the Flanagan field of Central-South Gaines county.

The project, Magnolia No. 1 Wolfe, had re-perforated from 7,232-44 feet. That interval had been treated with acid. After the acid treatment operator swabbed 7 barrels of oil and 34 barrels of water and basic sediment in the last 24 hours of swabbing. Swabbing to test is to continue.

No. 1 Wolfe is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block A-23, psl survey.

Section Is Swabbed

Operator was swabbing open hole section between 7,050-7,179 feet. The open hole section was treated with acid. In the last swabbing test before this report was prepared, operator swabbed 206 barrels of oil, 11 barrels of acid water and was continuing to swab to test.

This flanker is 660 feet from north and west lines of the south 480 acres of section 12, block A-23, psl survey.

The Los Nietos company and Honolulu Oil corporation No. 2-B Doss, wildcat in the North Riley field which has shown for production from the Clear Fork, was moving out rig and was waiting on an official Railroad Commission potential test.

The shows for production came in tests from 7,050-7,150 feet, and from 6,770-940 feet. The 7,050-150-foot interval showed 64 barrels of oil in seven hours following an acid treatment.

The zone from 6,770-940 feet swabbed at the rate of 10½ barrels of oil, with a shakeout of seven per cent acid residue. Completion is planned from both zones.

Location is 660 feet from west and 760 feet from south lines of the southeast quarter of section 360, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Garza County Wildcat Is Drilling Ahead In Lime

R. S. and P. W. Anderson No. 1 Clyde Miller, wildcat in Garza county two and one-half miles southwest of Justiceburg, to test the San Andres at around 2,500 feet, had reached 1,430 feet in lime and was moring deeper.

This wildcat is 330 feet from south and 1,50 feet from east lines of the north half of section 29, block 6, H&GN survey.

Production Test Of Well Slated

Reagan J. Carraway No. 1 Loe, wildcat in central-northwest Dawson county, seven miles northwest of Lamesa, was bottomed at 10,-005 feet in a lime and was waiting on orders.

This prospector has developed no signs of commercial production since drilling through the Spraberry sand where it encountered some indications.

It is thought that operator will plug back to that formation and make production tests. Interested observers think the project has only slight chances of making a producer.

To Test Well

The drillsite is in the northwest corner of lot 12, league 3, Taylor county school land survey.

On the south side of the Spraberry, field of southwest Dawson county, Seaboard Oil company of Delaware was running tubing to test at its No. 3-D Lee, located 1,-980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey. Total depth is 6,539 feet.

Another venture in the Spraberry Deep area, Seaboard No. 8-D Shafer, was drilling ahead past 4,909 feet in a lime. It is slated to drill to at least 7,000 feet to test the Spraberry sand of the lower Permian.

Casing Is Set

No. 3-D Shafer is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 48, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey.

Seaboard had set a string of 13 3-8 inch surface casing at 426 feet at its No. 1 Stanfield, located in the Spraberry field and 660 feet from north and 1,747.5 feet from east lines of section 37, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey.

Deepening was in progres sat its Seaboard No. 9-D-A Robinson. It was drilling lime past 5,403 feet.

No. 9-D-A Robinson is 1,980 feet from south and 1,748.2 feet from west lines of section 37, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey.

Indicated Discovery In East Yoakum Drilling Past 7,8JK

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1 Paul Cobb, indicated discovery from the Glorieta-Permian in East Yoakum county, was drilling past 7,864 in shale toward its contracted depth of 8,000 feet.

Since drilling through the Glorieta-Permian the venture has had no further indications of oil or gas. Operator will likely plug back and complete from that horizon.

The prospective new field opener is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 381, block D, J. H. Gibson survey. It is 12 miles east of Plains.

NEW VETERANS HAVE TEETH

WELLSTON, O. (U.P.)—Officers of the American Legion Post 371 have decided to revive its drum and bugle corps after noting the fine teeth of the new members. The corps, which won state and district prizes 20 years ago, broke up 10 years ago when World War I veterans gradually lost their teeth and were unable to blow the bugles with false teeth.

Drilling Pushed On Wildcat In Borden

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Von Roeder, southeast Borden county wildcat four miles southwest of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of southeast Scurry county, was drilling deeper past 7,334 in lime after getting shows of production from two horizons.

The latest show of commercial production came in a drillstem test in the Pennsylvania below the Canyon reef lime from 7,095-135 feet.

The prospect flowed 145 barrels of fluid which had an overall shakeout of two and one-tenths per cent basic sediment, and three and four-tenths per cent water. Final recovery was 46.41 barrels of 41.3 gravity oil and 273 feet of salt water. A total of 157 barrels of oil was recovered during the test.

No. 1 Von Roeder had its first show of oil in the Canyon reef in a drillstem test from 6,835-978 feet when it recovered free oil. Water table in that formation was established in a drillstem test from 6,910-935 feet.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 103, block 25, H&TC survey.

Don Ameche No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, central Borden county wildcat four and three-quarter miles northwest of Gail, was making further progress toward its slated depth of 10,500 feet. It was drilling past 8,759 feet in lime and shale.

This prospector took a one hour drillstem test from 8,245-320 feet. Recovery was 275 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas.

Drilling Is Continued

Nelson Bunker Hunt No. 1 Jerry B. Clayton, wildcat ten miles south of Gail and 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from the north lines of the east half of section 42, block 32, TP survey, had reached 8,920 feet and was continuing to bore ahead.

It is to drill to 8,500 feet.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1-A Clayton, wildcat six miles northeast of the Good field, was drilling in lime past 4,649 feet toward its planned depth of 8,000 feet to test the Canyon lime.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 14, block 32, T-4-N, TP survey.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1 T. J. Good, 8,500-foot prospector 12 miles southwest Gail in Southwest Borden county, was drilling out cement plug after setting a string of intermediate casing at 3,-044 feet.

It is slated to drill ahead.

Seven miles southwest of Gail and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block 31, T-4-N, TP survey, R. S. Brennand of Midland No. 1 Everetts, had reached 7,450 feet in lime and shale and was drilling ahead.

It is scheduled to drill to 9,500 feet to find and test the Ellenburger.

Ten miles southeast of the Williams Ellenburger field in Central Borden county, Bay Petroleum corporation was preparing to skid the rig after losing at its No. 1-A Pearce hole at a depth of 2,222 feet because of junk.

Theproject will start new operations in the near future.

The abandoned hole is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 35, block 31, T-5-N, TP survey.

An Ellenburger wildcat seven miles northeast of Gail, George P. Livermore and others No. 1-Matthew Baird estate, was drilling under 6,584 feet in lime and shale.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 37, block 30, J. H. Gibson survey.

L. H. Armer of Fort Worth No. 1 Rodgers, central south Borden county wildcat five miles east of the Vealmoor field, was drilling deeper after getting a rainbow show of oil and 500 feet of salty sulphur water in the San Andres from 3,157-250 feet. The tool was open one hour.

No. 1 Rodgers is contracted to 8,500 feet to test the Pennsylvanian.

Dickens Ellenburger Wildcat Is Drilling Below 8,012 Feet

Union Oil company of California No. 1 Elliott, Ellenburger wildcat in southwest Dickens county, five and one-half miles southwest of Spur, had progressed past 8,012 feet and was continuing to make hole.

This venture is slated to 8,500 feet.

Failure Of Wildcat In Lynn Reported

Failure in the San Andres has been reported for a Southwest Lynn county wildcat. This venture, H. E. Chiles, jr., of Midland and E. C. Lawson of Tulsa, No. 1 G. C. McPherson, was abandoned as a dry hole above a total depth of 5,215 feet.

The dry hole is 520 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the northwest quarter of section 14, block O, H&OB survey.

Northeast King To Get Wildcat

Drilling on a 5,000-foot wildcat to find and test the Pennsylvanian is to be started in the near future in northeast King county, 15 miles northeast of Guthrie.

The venture will be drilled by The Ard Drilling company and others as their No. 1 R. B. Masterson and others.

It will be 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 51, F. P. Knott survey.

Northwest Of Well

The Kent county wildcat is to be George S. Anderson of Fort Worth and W. R. Childers of Hobbs, N. M. No. 1 A. C. Cargile, to be located at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 23, block 5, H&GN survey.

This prospector is one mile northwest of Drilling & Exploration company No. 1 Connell, deep wildcat, which is now drilling below 5,960 feet in lime and shale.

No. 1 Connell is to be drilled to 7,000 feet. It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 5, H&GN survey.

Has Drilling Contract

McCulloch Drilling company has the rotary drilling contract for the Childers and Anderson wildcat.

Ryan, Hays & Burke of San Antonio No. 1 Faustina Kenney, southwest Kent county wildcat 10 miles southwest of Spur, and 660 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 47, block 2, H&GN survey, was drilling below 3,852 feet in lime.

The venture is to try for production from the Canyon reef at around 7,500 feet.

Wildcat In Cochran To Test Devonian

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 5-D Edwards, indicated discovery from the Mississippian in Central-South Cochran county, was drilling deeper at 10,824 feet and up to now has not logged any indications since getting its show for production from the Mississippian.

It is slated to test the Devonian, the pay in the Landon deep field.

The prospective new field opener is 1,650 feet from north and 1,579 feet from west lines of section 12, block L, psl survey.

There is a possibility that the venture may be completed from both horizons if production is developed in the Devonian.

Lion Oil company No. 2 F. O. Masten, south offset to a recently completed three-quarter of a mile southwest extension to the Levelland field in Cochran county, was drilling past 5,133 feet in lime. It has had some shows of oil and is to drill further into the San Andres pay.

It is 440 feet from south and east lines of labor 12, league 132, Carson county school land survey, and 14 miles southwest of Whiteface.

THE QUESTION

What can you do to make this a safe Christmas? All children answering this question are 5th grade students at George M. Hunt.

THE ANSWERS

BRYAN BAXTER, 1920 Dixie Drive, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Baxter: "When you are downtown, be sure and watch all of the cars at the corners when they are turning. At home, if you have candles be sure and not play with them and keep them away from the Christmas tree and Christmas wrappings."

BETTY ANN WELCH, 1802 Ave. Ave. L, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Welch: "If it is cold this Christmas, be careful and stay from open fires at home. Downtown you should always watch the lights and cross only at the corners."

JIMMY NELL BURKHEAD, Forty-Sixth street, daughter of Mrs. Roy Allen: "When you put the Christmas tree up, you shouldn't put it too near the fireplace, because it might fall and catch on fire. If you use candles, be sure and stay away from them. Downtown, you should carefully watch the cars, because they might not be watching you."

CHARLIE CANNON, 1616 Twenty-Fourth, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cannon: "Be sure to watch the loose wires that might be on the lights on the Christmas tree. When you are downtown, do not walk out into the street from between parked cars."

PAINTER SHARES WEALTH

OXFORD, Miss. (U.P.)—Gus Uth has his own personal system of charity. When he does a job as a house painter, he has part of his wages sent to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Memphis.

SARA YOUNG, Route 3, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Young: "When you plug in the lights on the Christmas tree, be sure that your hands are dry and that you are not in any water. When you are downtown you should only cross at the corners and with the light."

NANCY BRAY, 1405 Ave. L, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bray: "At home if you use candles, do not put them near the Christmas tree, because they might catch fire. Downtown never step out from between two parked cars or cross in the middle of the street."

Bus Dispute May Be Resumed At Houston

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (U.P.)—A contract between the Houston Transit Co. and its 1500 CIO drivers and mechanics still has not been signed, and union spokesmen today admitted the possibility of another bus strike before Christmas.

The present disagreement involves unspecified clauses in the new contract, negotiated last month. The contract ended a 14-hour bus strike that left some 300,-000 daily bus riders without transportation.

Clayton Stone, president of the local Transport Workers of America, charged that the firm had prepared for signature a contract that included "stuff we didn't agree to."

Stone said he had tried to get an appointment with Mayor Oscar Holcombe "to avoid trouble," but so far had been unable to see the mayor. It was Mayor Holcombe who acted as chief mediator in the bus strike last month.

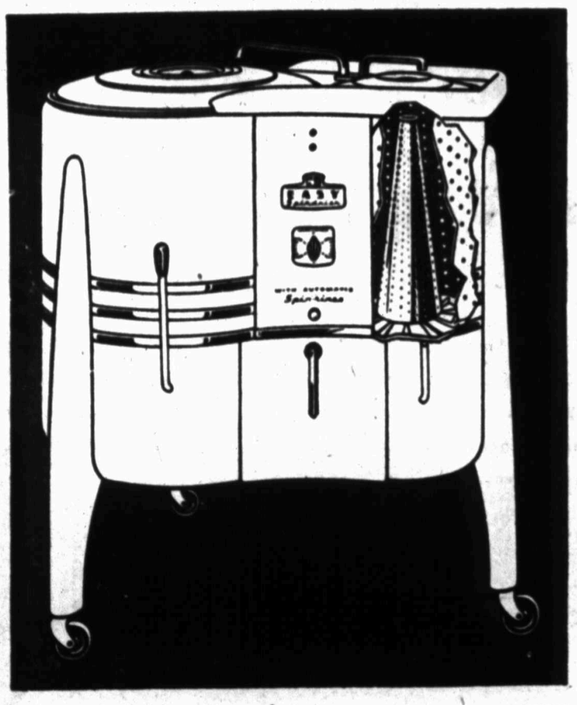

"Above all, we want to avert any trouble between now and Christmas," Stone said. "If the mayor will see me, maybe we'll be able to. It is a pretty serious situation," he added.

ONLY ONE RAGTIME BIRD

BALDWIN, Ga. (U.P.) — Connie Watts, bird fancier, who lives on a small farm near here, says all birds can "talk" if you have the time and patience to learn their distinct "languages" and melodies. Only the Baltimore oriole, however, sings in ragtime, Watts says.

WAR-EXPANDED INDUSTRIES STAY

Texas Cities Keep Population Gained Throughout War Years

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Many Texas cities had some ober second thoughts when the ar swelled their populations.

Would the newcomers stay? ould war's end leave the cities ith virtually new—but empty nd unused—industrial facilities?

The 1950 federal census will how the fears were not well rounded. War-gained population, long with much war-gained industry, has stayed and grown.

The upper gulf city of Orange a good example, though in this ase the census figures will be omewhat deceptive.

Navy Boosted Orange

The 1940 census found Orange rather quiet coastal city with ,542 people.

Then the war. No adequate ount was possible, but about 55,- 00 people jammed the city where he Navy built many of its war raft.

Right now, say city officials, here are probably about 20,000 people within the city limits. But on all sides except the gulf there are ever-expanding residential districts.

The metropolitan area is estimated at about 80,000. If these newcomers who have settled around Orange, revitalizing steel industry, were annexed, Orange's growth would look spectacular.

But residents of the outlying area don't want to be annexed—and Orange doesn't especially want to annex them. The city already is having a rough time making income meet expenditures. It feels it could not extend paving, sewers, garbage service and police and fire protection to the built-up areas around it.

Abilene is a West Texas example of war growth that stayed. Camp Barkley and the Abilene Army Air base gave it a war boom. But when he war ended, new industrial and agricultural growth took over as a population stimulator. The city believes it has lost no population since the war, instead has gained.

Abilene had only 26,612 people in 1940. Now, on the basis of utility connections, the population is estimated at 45,000, with another 10,000 living outside the city limits.

Wichita Falls Grows

There are many other examples of cities which gained population during the war and kept it. They include:

Wichita Falls—Has grown from 46,112 in 1940 to an estimated 70,- 000 (based on utility connections). This is in part due to the fact that Sheppard Air Force base, inside the corporate limits, has about 10,000 men, some 3,000 of whom are permanent personnel.

Sherman—Has grown from 17,- 176 in 1940 to an estimated 26,804. Estimate based on water, light and gas connections, but connections outside city limits included. Annexation of developed areas before census unlikely because voters rejected a proposal to allow the city commission to annex by resolution.

Kerrville Nearly Doubled

Palestine — Population, on the basis of electric meters, estimated at 17,352 by Texas Power and Light company, compared with 12,143 in 1940.

Kerrville—The Kerrville Times headlined a recent announcement by the chamber of commerce that a city directory "nose count" showed a 10,172 population—almost double the 1940 count of 5,- 572. In addition, 1,122 more citizens live outside the city limits.

Gainesville—Chamber of commerce estimates population at 15,- 087, a 63 per cent gain over 9,- 651 in 1940.

Baylor Is Having Wreath Placed On Grave Of Browning

WACO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Baylor university, home of a great collection of Browning lore, is having a wreath placed on the grave of poet Robert Browning tomorrow. It will be the 60th anniversary of Browning's death.

Dr. A. J. Armstrong, head of Baylor's English department and a foremost Browning scholar, said Sir Charles Tennyson has consented to place the wreath on the poet's grave in Westminster Abbey, London.

The wreath, measuring 10 feet in diameter, will bear the name of Baylor university and Sigma Tau Delta, national English honorary fraternity. The card also will carry the words "I am the threshold of a boundless life," from Browning's "Paracelsus," published when the poet was only 22 years of age.

American Invited

Sir Charles Tennyson, grandson of the poet Alfred Lord Tennyson, who is buried next to Browning in the poets' corner at Westminster, is a friend of Dr. Armstrong. Others whom Dr. Armstrong has invited to attend the ceremony include T. S. Eliot, the poet; John Masefield, poet-laureate of England; Sir Frederick Kenyon, director emeritus of the British museum; Sr. Herbert Dunnico, head of the Browning settlement at Walworth; Mrs. Helen Rosetti Angeli, niece of Dante Gabriel Rosetti; Miss Aline Smith, a former Baylor student now attached to the American embassy in Paris and Dr. Gertrude Reese, a Baylor graduate and University of Texas professor now in England gathering material for a book on Mrs. Browning.

Baylor university has a complete set of Browning first editions, many thousand books and magazines and many personal items. There are 1800 Browning books and magazines in 38 foreign languages. The collection is valued at $500,000. An $800,000 Browning building is under construction on the Baylor campus to serve as permanent home of the library and of Baylor's English department.

Oil And Gas Producing Formation Logged By Prospective Discovery In Terry Area

Tide Water Associated Oil company No. 1 J. P. Nystel, Southeast Terry county prospective discovery from the Fusselman section of the Silurian, has logged more than 100 feet of oil and gas producing formation and was coring deeper past at 11,640 feet, after which another drillstem test was to have been taken.

This venture's latest show for production came in a four hour and 15 minutes drillstem test at 11,511-595 feet. A 1,030-foot water cushion was used.

More Gas Shown

No fluid came out at the top while the tester was open and the recovery was 1,122 feet of free gas in the drill pipe, 2,350 feet of clean 35.3-gravity oil and the water cushion which was heavily oil and gas cut.

The first show of production came in a test at 11,475 feet, the base of the Woodford shale. The latest drillstem test showed more gas than the previous tests.

The project is contracted to drill to the Ellenburger—irregardless of the value of the shows which may be encountered in the current formation.

This prospective new field opener is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey. That makes it 14 miles south and east of Brownfield.

Well Is Deepened

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Brownfield, wildcat in Southeast Terry county, to find and test the Pennsylvanian at around 10,000 feet, had reached 9,191 feet in lime and shale and was continuing to deepen.

The development is 10 miles southeast of Brownfield and is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 26, block 1-A, EL&RR survey.

Five miles south of Brownfield, Stanolind Oil & Gas company was drilling ahead at its No. 1 M. B. Sawyer, wildcat which was drilled by Lynn D. Durham to 5,505 feet and later taken over by Stanolind.

It was past 6,471 feet in lime and making more progress Stanolind plans to drill the prospector to at least 9,900 feet.

The operation is 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from South lines of section 123, block T, D&WRR survey.

Woman Driver Hit By Irate Motorist

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—With bruised jaw and ruffled temper, Mrs. Helen Carlile—a woman driver—ran into the police station and sputtered this story: As she pulled up at an intersection a car roared through a stop sign, missing her auto by inches.

"Can't you read?" she screamed. At that, the car skidded to a halt. A man popped out, walked over to Mrs. Carlile and without a word clipped her on the jaw.

THEATER PROMISING

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—The campus theater may be the most promising answer to the decline of the professional stage, says a California critic. The college and university playhouse offers a chance for new plays and writers because it has less box office pressure to think about, says Theodore Hatlen, chairman of the department of speech at Santa Barbara college.

BULLETIN BANNED BY SOME SCHOOLS

Russian Magazine Publishers Invite More U. S. Subscribers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Soviet embassy's English-language magazine, barred from a number of American schools, today invited subscriptions from "many thousands of Americans eager for more truth" about Russia.

The latest issue of the USSR information bulletin, after listing some of the "fine articles and revealing photographs" it has carried in the past to give a "thorough-going, rounded picture" of the Soviet Union, says:

"Your relative, neighbor or shopmate is missing all these things through no fault of his or her own. We believe you could help us —and them—and therefore are addressing you on this page.

"We want these Amercans to know our publication, to become acquainted with both it and the Soviet people."

It said it is offering special cut-rate Christmas subscriptions—$1 for 24 issues—so its readers can "join with us in building friends in the cause of peace, international understanding and good-fellowship."

It lists its regular price as 10 cents a copy. Recently, a number of American schools have received free copies for their libraries. The magazine has been barred from schools in Springfield and Fall River, Mass., Columbus, Ohio, and Washington.

"Worried about the situation in Yugoslavia and Greece, the British and American cliques that rule these countries against the interests of their people are now working to contrive a Belgrade-Athens fascist-police 'axis'."

Western Efforts Described

The story tells of western efforts to achieve better relations between Yugoslavia and Greece, and says that one basis for agreement already has been found:

"The Yugoslav gestapo-ites are prepared to deliver to the royalist-fascist authorities the children of Greek patriots who took refuge in Yugoslavia from the x-bands and other fascist cutthroats, who do not spare even children."

"The postman brings us daily evidence that many thousands of Americans are eager for more truth, more facts about the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

"Mail received in the office of the USSR information bulletin attests to this hunger—and it is expressed in letters and cards that are sincere, honest and friendly.

Action "Not Understood"

"We know, as you do, that this correspondence is only a mere sampling—a drop in the bucket—of the real store of friendship held for the USSR by the American public. Thousands upon thousands do not know where to write for information."

Valentine A. Sorokin, second secretary of the Russian embassy and official in charge of the bulletin, said yesterday he doesn't understand why the publication is being kept from American school children. He asked if school superintendents are a "kind of judge" over reading matter for Americans.

Sorokin wouldn't tell a reporter whether paid subscriptions support the magazine, or how large a circulation it has. Besides subscribers, he said, "journalists, congressmen, foreign ambassadors and ministers here" get copies of the bulletin, free.

The State department has said, in response to inquiries, that it has no authority to prevent circulation of the magazine, and would not be likely to do so anyhow, since this country stands for free exchange of international information.

HAPPINESS FOR WOMEN

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Here's a 97-year-old spinster's formula for happiness. Bob your hair, read the Bible and stay single. That's the advice Miss Helen Van Voorhis offered guests at her 97th birthday party.

"Look at me," she chortled, her blue eyes twinkling. "Don't I look like I had a happy life?"

Bond Issue Okayed In Lovington Vote

LOVINGTON, N. M., Dec. 10. (Special)—Lovington voters favored a $325,000 bond issue to purchase the city's sewer and water systems by a vote of 157 for to 13 against in special election Friday, Dr. H. W. Gillette, mayor, said today.

Of the total, $137,500 will be used to purchase the systems from the Southern Union Gas company, and the remainder will be used to finance extensions of both systems.

The election was called by Dr. Gillette and Councilmen Lester Alston, H. D. Schenck, Kenneth Scoggin and Lyon Beadle.

H. N. Roberts of Lubbock has been employed for engineering work in connection with the extensions. Preliminary plans have already been mapped and final planning is expected to get under way immediately.

Texas Merchant Helps Students At Jacksonville With $5 Loans

JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Dec. 10 (AP)—Wouldn't this have helped you at one time?

It's a "date board," set up by merchant John Hensley to aid male students of Lon Morris and Jacksonville Baptist colleges if they need cash for a date. Pinned to the board are ten $5 bills.

A student may or may not leave his name on the back side of a sheet of paper attached to the board. All that Mensley asks is that the money be return within a week.

So far no student has failed to return the loan.

BRITONS GET PENSIONS

LONDON. (AP)—Nearly 10 per cent of the British people are drawing old age pensions. Minister of National Insurance James Griffiths disclosed the figures in parliament recently. He said 4,540,000 Britons receive pensions. He estimated the cost to the government at $784,000,000 a year.

Rent Controls In Kentucky City Reimposed After Hikes

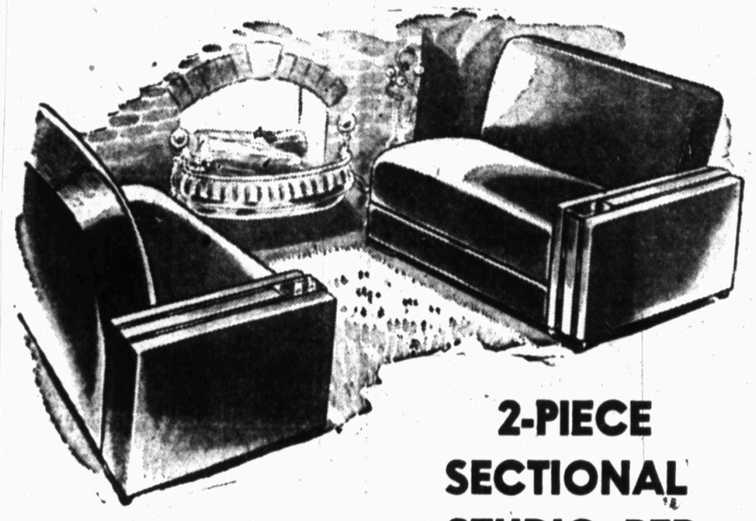

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (U.P.) — Rent Director Tighe E. Woods has reimposed rent controls in Harrodsburg, Ky., where rents have shot up 300 per cent in less than three months.

The board said it had asked offending landlords to reduce rents, but that the discussions were fruitless.

Woods' order was the third of its kind under the 1949 rent law.

"Birth Of A Nation" To Be Shown In City

Back again to thrill a new generation is the museum piece of the motion picture industry, D. W. Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation," which will be shown at the Midway theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Bringing the silent picture to Lubbock and making a personal appearance at the Midway Wednesday night at 8:45 o'clock will be Wallace Walthall of Dallas, dean of the Southwest show business, and brother of the late Henry B. Walthall, who had the lead male role in the picture. Walthall is distributor for the picture which starred his brother.

More than 80 million people have seen the picture, biggest of all screen productions, boasting of 18,000 people and 3,000 horses. Millions of more moviegoers, born since it was first exhibited in 1915, will have their opportunity to see the new print, which has been reissued with sound effects and a 100-piece symphonic orchestra recording of the original music score.

The picture was unsurpassed in sweep and impact of all the silent films produced. The range included Lincoln's assassination, Lee's surrender, the reconstruction problems of the South, siege of Atlanta, Sherman's march to the sea, antebellum balls and other historical scenes.

Highlighted in the cast besides Walthall are other silent screen favorites including Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh and Ralph Lewis.

New Dallas City Manager Is Not Announced By Council

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (U.P.) — The question of who will be Dallas city manager Jan. 1 was still unsolved today after the city council decided not to hire L. P. Cookingham, Kansas City, Mo., city manager, for the post.

Cookingham visited Dallas yesterday and informed councilmen he would accept the position for $27,500 annual salary. However, Mayor Wallace Savage announced after the informal session that the city could not meet the figure.

Apparently the No. 1 candidate in the field is assistant Dallas City Manager Charles C. Ford, a graduate of Iowa State university.

Actors Will Honor De Mille On Site Of World's First Film

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10. (INS)—Hollywood prepared today to honor veteran movie director Cecil B. De Mille next Tuesday on the site where he made the world's first feature length picture 35 years ago.

The picture was "The Squaw Man" and it starred Dustin Farnum, Winifred Kingston, Red Wing and Monroe Salisbury.

The actors put on their make-up in a horse barn and the six-reel picture was completed in two weeks to reap a fortune at the nickelodeons of the day. The picture cost $1,400 to make.

The site is now occupied by the California bank. An exhibit of relics from the film will be displayed, including the rickety camera used in 1914, the hat worn by Farnum, the Indian headgear of Red Wing and stills from the movie.

Guests Invited

DeMille, whose latest picture, "Samson and Delilah," cost nearly $5,000,000, will cut a 35-tiered cake to celebrate the anniversary. Invited guests include such silent screen veterans, some still active in pictures, as Warner Baxter, May McAvoy, Mae Murray, Pola Negri, Theda Bara, Aileen Pringle, Gloria Swanson, Buster Keaton, Norma Talmadge, Jack Holt, Zasu Pitts, Jean Hersholt, Mary Pickford, William Haines, Ramon Novarro, Francis X. Bushman, Corinne Griffith, Blanche Sweet, Antonio Moreno, Betty Compson, Rod La Rocque, Vilma Banky, Norman Berry and Herbert Rawlinson.

TEXAS SPENDS $443 MILLION

Schools, Roads, Welfare Take Biggest Chunks Of State Funds

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 10—Texans are eating up most of their state's revenues educating themselves, going places, and securing their future.

That's another way of saying that nearly 90 per cent of state government spending last fiscal year was on schools, roads, welfare, pensions and retirements.

The other ten cents-plus went for such items as state hospitals and special schools, lawmaking expense, the courts, conservation, law enforcement and other things that hook relatively thin slices of the income dollar.

Report By Comptroller

These figures are from the annual report of Comptroller Robert S. Calvert for the fiscal year that ended Aug. 31.

As usual, more state income was spent on public education than anything else. It took a little more than 37 and one-third cents of each dollar of income, compared with just a little more than 33 cents two years ago.

Next was public welfare, pensions, benefits and retirements that gobbled up nearly 27 cents of each revenue dollar. For the fiscal year 1947, this figure was 28 cents.

Road Spending Down

Money spent for eleemosynary and correctional institutions increased some during the last fiscal year compared with 1947. The comparative figures were .0416 cents last year and .0381 cents two years ago.

The comptroller figured the total cost of state government for the fiscal year 1949 was $443,776,823. For 1947 it was $319,988,100. That's quite a jump in anybody's business.

Income Sources

About 60 cents of it last year was from taxes and licenses—property taxes, oil production taxes, cigaret taxes, playing cards taxes, auto licenses, and so on.

The other 40 cents to help pay the cost of running Texas came from such items as sale of state lands, rentals and oil royalties; courts' costs and fines; county, federal and other money.

That last item—county, federal and other money—accounted for 24 cents of the income dollar. The next largest single source of income was the gross receipts and production (oil) tax, 21 and a third cents.

New Variety Of Alfalfa That Resists Disease Developed

DAVIS, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—A new type of alfalfa that resists the dwarf disease has been developed by the University of California.

The disease is caused by a virus and has affected about one-third of the producing areas in this state. It causes rapid thinning in the second and third seasons of growth, the college of agriculture reports.

Seeds of the new plant will be allocated to growers in the affected areas.

DOCTOR AND MUSICIAN, THOUGH BLIND

Though Dr. Robert L. Day, 33, of Buffalo, N. Y., has been blind since he was five years old, he is not only a successful physician but an accomplished musician as well. As his sister looks on, Dr. Day prepares to play the organ. He has already given organ recitals at two Buffalo radio stations.

Neglected Art Of Totem Carving Taught In College For Indians

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (U.P.)—Indian braves of the far northwest have taken to carving totem poles again, only this time it's on the collegiate, not the tribal, level.

For the first time in educational history a formal course in totem carving has been included in a college curriculum.

Suamish Life College, British Columbia's all-Indian school in North Vancouver, lists the course. It furnishes the teaching of a professorial chief-carver to any student brave interested in learning the almost forgotten ancestral art of embellishing a large log with symbolic fish heads and eagle beaks.

Many Still Stand

Squamish offers the course more or less as a form of "cultural reforestation" of America's "totem-polar region." Weather-beaten pole clusters still stand in southeast Alaska and along the coast of British Columbia. But no new crop of poles has arisen since the turn of the century, when totem carving became almost a lost art.

Less than a century ago, there was no problem of "reformation." Totem poles were going up all over the northwest landscape as fas as the tribal chiefs could afford them.

The great splurge in totem poles a century ago was nothing but a race for social pre-eminence among the chiefs of the nothwestern tribes—the Haida, Tsimshian and Tlingit. Contrary to popular belief, there was no religious or sacred symbolism attached to the garnished logs.

In fact, totem poles were nothing but the social registers of the day, and simply represented a chief's claim to wealth and fame. The larger the pole, the more grotesque representations of whales, bears, ravens, fish, and eagles were carved on it.

Some 60 Feet High

The ensuing social rivalry among the social-climbing chieftains had the inevitable result of producing larger and larger totem poles. New names were assumed by the socially ambitious chieftains, new emblems conceived, all to be added for the sake of size to their respective totem poles.

Before the northwestern Indians began to lose interest in this form of social display and adopt the more conventional ones of the 20th century, some poles were towering 60 feet above the ground.

This high totem pole race, historians contend, probably started less than two centuries ago, when the first totem poles were believed to have been erected along the lower reaches of th Nass River in British Columbia or on the Queen Charlotte Islands to the west of the Canadian province's northern coast line.

WAR LEADERSHIP FACES TEST AGAIN

Impending Battle For Formosa Will Give Chiang Last Chance

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10—The impending battle for Formosa will give Chiang Kai-Shek his final chance to rally Nationalist resistance. Successful defense of the big island against Communist attack would encourage new American support of the Nationalist cause.

Far East experts believe the Nationalists have the material means to hold for a long time the key base off the south China coast. A very big "if" centers around Chiang's ability to inspire the will to resist Red attack. He was not able to do that during the last four years of civil war fought on the mainland.

State department refusal to endorse a program of further help to the Nationalists is based upon the contention that their defeats are not due to material shortages. The white paper published last summer was meant to prove that. Inadequate leadership, both administrative and inspirational, was cited as the real lack.

Opportunity Presented

The battle for Formosa will offer Chiang Kai-Shek an ideal opportunity to show there has been a change. If Communist attacks are turned back, the powerful American advocates of further aid to the Nationalists will be given ammunition for an attack on the current State department policy. A minimum objective would be release by President Truman of the $75,000,000 earmarked by Congress for China aid.

There is plenty of reason to believe that successful defense of Formosa would result in renewal of a U. S. aid program. Aside from congressional pressures, American policy makers are worried about strategic Formosa falling into Communist hands. But political considerations have forced them to shelve plans for active intervention.

For the present, State department officials are stressing that Chiang has everything he needs for the immediate defense of Formosa which is the new seat for the refugee Nationalist government.

Has Air Force

One hundred miles of open sea separate Formosa from the Red held coast. Chiang has a small navy and air force . . . that are unopposed . . . to hit Communist amphibious attacks launched on junks and other small vessels. When the winds are right, junks can reach Formosa's long coastline overnight.

Defense of Formosa will depend finally upon availability of effective mobile forces that can be rushed to points where Red landings are made. For this job, Chiang has over 100,000 combat troops adequately armed and equipped to defend the 13,890 square mile territory.

On the other side of the ledger, Chiang has to worry about 6,000,000 hostile Formosans. Nationalist exploitation and mismanagement of the rich island has made the population extremely susceptible to Red infiltration. Some 1,200,000 mainland Chinese on Formosa are looked upon as carpetbaggers.

Reforms Needed

To get the Formosans on his side, Chiang will have to institute political reforms and rehabilitate the island's economy.

Among his own troops and officials, Chiang will have to wipe out the cancerous corruption, inefficiency and bickering which spelled Nationalist defeat on the mainland.

The Nationalists hope that from Formosa assaults can someday be launched against the mainland. The assaults would be made in coordination with guerrilla operations behind the Red lines and from a mountain base in the far west province of Sikang.

What hope the Nationalists have of a comeback seems to lie well into the future and is tied in with what success the Communists experience. If the Reds fail to solve the basic economic problems of the Chinese, the raw power for counter-revolution will be generated and an opportunity offered to the Nationalists or someone else to harness it.

Duck Decoy Hooks Six-Pound Pickerel

ATWATER, Minn., Dec. 10 (U.P.)—Louis P. Larson peered unbelievingly from his duck blind as one of his wooden decoys began moving in circles on Diamond Lake.

The decoy almost was submerged as he rowed out to investigate but he grabbed and caught it by the head.

A six-pound pickerel had swallowed the decoy anchor.

Marble is classified as metomorphosed limestone. That is, the limestone has been changed under the ground by heat and pressure into a new form which we call marble.

HOW TO OVERCOME OBSTACLES

HAVE YOU ever heard of an "obstacle man?" That is the phrase a friend of mine uses to describe some of the people with whom he has to deal in business. Even if the phrase is a new one to you, I am sure you meet many obstacle men in the course of your daily work.

A story about such an obstacle man and the lesson he learned will give you an opportunity to recognize his type.

The board of directors of a large company had a very important, but risky project under consideration. In the discussion of this project, whenever anything of a positive nature was suggested, one man, an obstacle man, would invariably say, "Now, just a minute. Let's consider the obstacles involved."

Obstacles Are Emphasized

Another director finally turned to him and asked, "Why are you constantly emphasizing the obstacles in this proposition instead of its immense possibilities."

"Because," the obstacle man replied, "to judge intelligently, one must always be realistic. And the facts are that there are great obstacles in the way of this project. What would you recommend?"

The other man didn't hesitate a moment. "What would I do about these obstacles? Why, I would just remove them and then forget them."

"But," objected the pessimist, "that's easier said than done. Have you any technique for removing obstacles and for forgetting them that the rest of us don't know?"

* * *

A SLOW smile came over the face of the other director as he said, "I've spent my whole life removing obstacles. If you want to know how to do it, I'll show you." He took out his wallet, pulled from it a card, passed the card across the board table, and said "Read that out loud."

The other man read the words printed on the card so that all could hear. They were, "I CAN DO ALL THINGS THROUGH GOD'S HELP." The owner of the card then said, "I've lived a long while and faced many difficulties, but in those few words I have found power enough to remove any obstacle."

Impressed Fellow Directors

His confidence impressed his fellow directors. They went ahead with the project and, today, despite the risks and obstacles, it is a great success.

The primary thing about an obstacle is not to be afraid of it. Believe that God is with you and you will have the power to handle it. The first thing to do about an obstacle is to stand up to it uncomplainingly and deal with it forthrightly. Don't go crawling through life on your hands and knees, half defeated. Face your obstacles and you will find them not half as big as you think they are.

General Tudor commanded a British division during the great German assault of 1918. The odds against him were heavy but Tudor held his ground, let the obstacle break on him and, thus, eventually broke the obstacle. Winston Churchill wrote of this feat, "the impression I had of Tudor was of an iron peg, hammered into the frozen ground, immovable."

* * *

THIS GENERAL knew how to stand up to an obstacle. Stand up to your obstacles like "an iron peg," don't give way, and you too, can break them. Use the formula the director kept in his wallet, "I can do all things through God's help," and you will develop a powerful faith in God which will become a tremendous source of reserve strength. As a result, you will acquire great faith in yourself, in your own ability, and in your power to do things. Your attitude will become positive, not negative, and you will know how to deal with difficulties.

Don't be an "obstacle man." Learn how to remove the obstacles and then you can forget them. Positive thinking is the first step on the path to success.

Juvenile Mooches Plenty Adventure

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 10 (U.P.) — A smooth-talking 10-year-old was held by juvenile authorities today after mooching a plane ride, limousine and taxicab service, meals and a show.

Authorities said fair-haired David Norman started his spree in Nanaimo, B. C., his home town. He talked his way aboard a plane saying his father would pay his fare when he arrived in Vancouver.

When the plane landed, he took the airline limousine downtown "to look for my dady." Then he got the driver to search vainly for his father in hotel lobbies while he slipped away. Next, he talked his way into a theater, saying his father had gone in ahead with the tickets.

Four hours later, the boy turned up at the airport in a taxicab. The driver returned to the city without his fare when airport officials took David into custody. The boy was hungry so the airfield men fed him. They then called police.

David was waiting today for his father to take him home.

Bibles Collected By Gideons For Alaska

The local group expects to ship near 1,000 Bibles there before Christmas.

The Bibles will be sent to John F. Underwood, Baptist missionary worker at Mountain View, Alaska, near Anchorage. Underwood has been engaged in missionary work there for about six months. He visited in Lubbock before leaving for Alaska.

O. D. Peden, member of the local Gideons, said that to his knowledge the collection of used Bibles by the local group for mission work use is the first such move in the history of the organization.

The local Gideons will conduct services in two churches in this area this morning.

At the 11 o'clock morning worship service of the Sudan Baptist church Gradie W. Bownds will tell of the history and workings of the Gideons, and O. D. Peden will bring the layman's Gospel message.

At the same time at the Idalou Methodist church, Earl Burnett will give the Gideon history and workings, after which the layman's Gospel message will be brought by Lester Ericson.

California Has Increased Its Livestock Almost 60 Percent

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP) Now ranked second state in population by the census bureau, California is producing statistics like this:

In 25 years it has increased its livestock almost 60 per cent—a third faster than the country as a whole. But California, with a population growing five times as fast as the rest of the nation now imports more livestock than ever.

Dr. Ivan M. Lee, agricultural economist at the University of California, also notes that during the same period, California never produced enough meat for itself, nor enough chickens. In the mid-thirties it stopped exporting eggs and began importing them. It never supplied itself fully with milk, butter, and cheese, but at the same time produced a surplus of evaporated and dried whole milk. Turkeys are the only livestock product in surplus, says Lee.

First vineyard in Sonoma county, Calif., was planted in the 1860's with cuttings brought from Europe.

Church Shows Fast Growth Under Rev. C. A. Bickley

* * *

REV. C. A. BICKLEY

Dr. C. A. Bickley came to Lubbock as pastor of Asbury Methodist church almost seven years ago.

During this time, the church membership has virtually doubled, Sunday school attendance has almost trebled, and an extensive program of expansion of the church plant has been completed.

Rev. Bickley came to the local church from Abilene, where for six years he had served as Methodist district superintendent of the Abilene district. He held a similar position in the Lubbock Methodist district from 1929 to 1933. He has been a Methodist minister almost 43 years.

Studied In Fort Worth

The local pastor did his undergraduate work at the Polytechnic college of Fort Worth, which now is defunct. The college's records were transferred to Southern Methodist university, however, and Rev. Bickley's degree was issued by SMU.

He received his Doctor of Divinity degree from McMurry college in Abilene.

Membership at Asbury Methodist church now is approximately 1,500—almost twice what it was seven years ago.

During this time, the church has constructed a three-story educational building on its property at Ave. T and Twentieth. The auditorium has been greatly enlarged.

The church sponsors an active program of youth work for college, high school, and intermediate groups. The men's and women's organizations there also are active.

Rev. Bickley is a member of the City Board of Missions of the Methodist church and of the Lubbock Ministerial association. He is a former member of the Lions club.

Mrs. Bickley takes active part in church work and in helping her husband with his pastoral duties. They reside at 1917 Twentieth.

Marshall Plan Given Credit For Boost In Italy's Exports

ROME, Dec. 10 (AP)—Intensification of trade between Western European Marshall plan countries is credited with increasing Italian agricultural exports during the first eight months of 1949.

Officials said exports of farm products during that peiod showed a substantial gain over the same months in 1948. Major increases were registered in shipments of cheese, fresh and dried fruits, vegetables and hemp. Decreases were noted in exports of wine, potatoes, and olive oil.

Chicago Man, 73, Acquitted In Slaying Of His Ex-Convict Son

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP) — William Neisman, a 73 year old retired carpenter, charged with murder in the fatal beating of his ex-convict son, was freed in felony court yesterday.

The state offered no objection to the ruling by Judge Charles S. Daugherty dismissing the murder charge.

A coroner's jury had decided the slaying of Neisman's son, Joseph, 38, last Tuesday, was "justifiable homicide." Witnesses testified Joseph had repeatedly abused his father and mother, Elizabeth, 72.

Neisman testified yesterday Joseph was drunk in the family home Tuesday and attacked him. He said he began swinging a club when Joseph tried to choke him.

Next Meeting Of Education Board To Be One-Man Affair

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (INS) The next meeting of the State Board of Education will be strictly a one-man affair.

To comply with a legal provision, Paul Bolton, the Austin representative on the 21-member board, will report to a regular meeting on Jan. 2.

Bolton will declare the lack of quorum and unanimously set the next board meeting for Jan. 5.

Board members decided last month that the law was a little too severe in prescribing a meeting for the first Monday in January when that is the day of the football bowl games, besides being a legal holiday.

BIBLE STORY FROM "IN OUR IMAGE"

Gideon

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the tenth of a series of studies from the Old Testament. The text is condensed from selections by Houston Harte for the new book, "In Our Image." Illustration by Guy Rowe also from the book.

AND THE Children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord delivered them into the hand of Midian seven year. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord because of the Midianites.

And Gideon threshed wheat, and the angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and said, The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valour. Go, and save israel from the hand of the Midianites.

And all the Midianites were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in the valley of Jezreel. But the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon, and he blew a trumpet; and Abi-ezer was gathered after him. And he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh, and Asher, and Zebulun, and Naphtali; and they came up to meet them.

* * *

And Gideon said unto God, I will put a fleece in the floor; if the dew be on the fleece only, and it be dry on the earth beside, then shall I know that thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said, And he rose up on the morrow, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water.

And Gideon said unto God, Let me prove, I pray thee, but this once with the fleece; let is now be dry only upon the fleece, and upon all the ground let there be dew. And that night it was dry upon the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

* * *

Then Gideon, and all that were with him, rose early, and pitched beside the well of Harod; so that the host of the Midianites were on the north side of them, in the valley. And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel vaunt themselves against me saying, Mine own hand hath saved me. Bring them down to the water, and every one that lappeth the water with his tongue, as a dog lappeth, shalt thou set by himself.

And the number that lapped were three hundred men. And the Lord said unto Gideon, By the three hundred that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into thine hand. Let all the other people go.

* * *

AND IT came to pass the same night, that the Lord said unto him, Arise, get thee down unto the host; for I have delivered it into thine hand. And Gideon divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and lamps within the pitchers.

And he said, When I come to the outside of the camp, as I do, so shall ye do. When I blow with a trumpet, then blow ye the trumpets on every side of the camp, and say, The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon.

So Gideon, and the hundred men with him, came to the outside of the camp in the beginning of the middle watch, and blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers. And the three companies blew the trumpets, brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow; and they cried, The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon. And all the host ran and cried. And the Lord set every man's sword against his fellow, throughout all the host; and the host fled.

* * *

Then the men of Israel said to Gideon, Rule thus over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son also: for thou hast delivered us from the hand of Midian. And Gideon said, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: the Lord shall rule over you.

Thus was Midian subdued before the children of Israel, so that they lifted up their heads no more.

U.S. To "Toughen Up" On Chinese Reds; Giant Trusts Are Uncovered

BY PAST EVENTS:

It's A Sane Policy

THE indications are encouraging that the American State department actually intends to get somewhat tougher than in the past in dealing with Communist China. If so, most Americans are likely to agree that it is about time that something be done to call the hands of those who have been so flagrantly, insultingly and violently contemptuous of the United States.

True enough, any "get tough" policy involves certain risks. But the risks are not as great as to submit supinely to the sort of pushing around the U. S. has received from the Chinese Reds. They might get the idea, if they don't already have it, that we are so fearful of them they can get away with anything.

The U. S. might have avoided two terrible wars by getting tough soon enough with bullying nations. If past experiences mean anything, a real "get tough" attitude toward the Chinese Reds now is more likely to prevent another war than to start one.

A Sound Theory

MEMBERS of the American Investment Bankers association were on one right track during their convention in Hollywood last week.

They agreed that one good way to protect free enterprise in the U. S. is to get more rank-and-file Americans interested as stockholders in businesses of one kind or another. It is obvious that the individual with a financial stake, even though small, is going to be more interested in any business than he otherwise could be.

The bankers' organization is in an excellent position to encourage investments of this kind—and the membership of the association apparently intends to do that.

Everyone stands to gain from such an effort. Ownership of sound stocks would give the average John Q. Citizen added security, dignity and the consciousness of a personal interest in the safeguarding of free enterprise from the continuing governmental intrusions which have become a threat to its existence.

Be Sure To Vote!

LITTLE, if anything, can be added to discussions of the City bond issues on which citizens of Lubbock will vote next Tuesday. The indications are they will be approved.

But no qualified voter should remain away from the polls because of confidence that his or her support will not be needed. The smaller the vote, the stronger will be the possibility that the issues might be defeated by small groups working quietly under cover.

Probably there are no such groups. If there are, we haven't heard of them. But there's no point in taking chances. Passage of both bond proposals is too important to the best interests of Lubbock.

Enlargment of the dangerously inadequate sewage disposal plant is a critically necessary safeguard to the community health. The $550,000 issue proposed for that purpose would provide for this need.

The completion of the City Highway Dispersal system also is of major importance. It would mean a great deal in terms of traffic safety and convenience. It would mean construction projects costing around $1,600,000 for about 10 miles of four-lane thoroughfares and four railroad underpasses, built by the State and Federal governments. To obtain these improvements, the City must supply the right-of-way. The $525,000 Dispersal System bonds will enable the City to do that.

Approval of both are urgently important. We are condifent they will be approved.

But the larger the vote and the greater the majorities, the more emphatic the election will be as a demonstration that the citizens of Lubbock recognize and make provision for their City's needs.

"NOT SO LONG AGO" IS U. S. CHRONICLE

Lloyd Morris' Book Traces "Three Forms Of Magic"

"NOT SO LONG AGO," by Lloyd Morris; (Random House).

"HERTZIAN waves," "heterodyne," "radio music box," detector, alternator, audion; vitascope, kinetoscope, nickelodean; a fellow working on a crude gasoline engine clamped to the kitchen sink; men in a barroom fiddling with mysterious gadgets; adventurers scraping along on no money, borrowing some, risking it, pyramiding it incredibly, seeing it all vanish again . . .

In such as these lie the great dramas of the first half of this century, greater than war, depression and political struggles.

Fabulous Development Traced

With the drama very much in mind, Morris describes them in his book, which traces "three forms of magic," auto, movie and radio, from grubby beginnings in the 1890s to their present fabulous development and their almost immeasurable effect on American, and so on world-wide, life.

The heroes were boys from the farm, the shop, the ghetto, the slum, rarely the colleges: Porter, Griffith, Fox, Laemmle, Loew, Zukor, and Pickford, Fairbanks, Chaplin, Valentino, the Gish sisters, Pearl White, Theda Bara; Duryea, Stanley, Stevens, Olds, Winton, Dodge, Ford, Durant, Kettering, Nash, Chrysler; and Marconi, Alexanderson, Fessenden, De Forest.

Affected Our Lives

Variously they have led millions of us to decide where to live, whether to stay home or go for a ride, how to wear our hair, what clothes to buy, what speech to use, what manners to adopt.

The very stuff and substance of America and Americans have been most profoundly affected, and Morris the chronicler, largely refraining from criticizing Hollywood films, Model T's, industrial police, or hucksters, points out in the requisite dramatic terms the appearance, rise and present dominance of these mechanisms.

It is a gripping book, and for all it is fun to read, it is as important as psychology, physics and the history of warfare. What we are, it reminds us in effect, may be gene and hormone, but it is also radio, movie and family auto.

"Delight"

"DELIGHT," by J. B. Priestley; (Harper.)

THERE'S nothing, this author admits, like a "Fine grumble" for setting things to rights. Yet after indulging in grouches at breakfast, in the Army, in the theater and, in his early years, in trade, he fears he's acquiring a reputation for seeing in dark clouds only dark clouds, never any silver lining. So now he sets us to rights, in these short essays, revealing the moments and occasions when Pippa passed, when all was well.

Place plays an important role in his delights: His study, from which he enjoys the view; in bed, whether reading detective stories instead of "good literature" or reading, in foul weather, books about foul weather; in a hot bath, smoking a pipe; in a hotel room abroad, drinking mineral water; and in London, his arrival, but in New York, his departure.

Problem In Good Moods

He begins, you can see, to appear almost as much of a problem in good moods as in bad. How could a hostess prefer, to a frank fault-finder, a man who would rather not accept invitations, a man glad to see the guests going, a man who rates evening-long parties above the cocktail hour; a man who thinks it's fun to use the stereoscope; or a man who likes to wake up in the morning smelling bacon, just the morning when she was planning on kippers?

How could a man keep friends when, though he admires conductors Richter, Walter, Nikisch, Toscanini, de Sabata and Beecham, he still loves specially to hear an orchestra tune up and confesses to a particular fondness, not for the concert but for the after-concert period when he can relax, talk and smoke? When he dotes on other people's weaknesses? Or likes free passes, though he may not use them? Or brags, and gives advice? Or admits, though he further admits how contemptible it is, that he is proud of being recognized, named and greeted by headwaiters and barmen?

But if, grumbling or grinning, he is difficult for hostess and friends, for readers his delights will be their delights; keep him in his place, between book covers, and he's better than detective stories in bed, than a pipe in a bath, then the smell of bacon at breakfast.

CURSES!

Here I had written a terrific column about what I saw and heard at a recent United Nations session where I got mad as a wet hen when I heard Vishinsky calling us war-mongers and imperialists, and Warren Austin, our own delegate, accusing the Russians of being hypocrites and liars.

In this column I thundered and ranted and raved about playing games and being childish and all that sort of thing.

BRANDEIS

But then, as I usually do, I laid the thing aside for a couple of days, as I told you I do with letters I write when I am mad.

Then I took a little trip into New York and wandered along Fifth Avenue trying to find a Christmas present for the wife.

And what do you think I saw? There was Mr. Vishinsky, master of invective and insult, doing exactly the same thing I was doing—looking at the shop windows.

Then I lost him in the crowd.

So this morning I took out that masterpiece of mine and read it over.

I started to change it, to tone it down somewhat. No go.

So I tore the darn thing up and threw it in the wastebasket—where it belongs.

NAMES ARE REVEALED

Secrecy Is Blasted

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—One reason the public knows so little about the giant trusts that control American industry is the aura of secrecy in which they are permitted to operate—sometimes with the help of the federal government.

The other day, for instance, Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer issued a report on monopolistic trends in business in which he presented elaborate tables showing the growth of monopoly.

PEARSON

However, Sawyer left out a most important detail—the names of corporations responsible for the alarming growth. When this columnist inquired why, he was told by Commerce officials that even Sawyer himself didn't have access to such information, that is, the identity of the corporations, though the Census Bureau had provided statistics as to their size.

Sawyer sides further stated that the Census Bureau might "violate the law" if it furnished Sawyer or anyone else with the names of individual companies, since this was a "confidential" matter. Inference was that the big trusts, fearing some advantage to competitors, would refuse to open their books to the government unless their corporate identities were protected.

However, the merry-go-round is happy to fill in the blank spaces in the Sawyer report, obtained from other official sources. Here are the four big concerns which he said controlled 55.7 per cent of the nation's automobile output: General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and Hudson.

And here are the names of the eight companies which the Commerce secretary said controlled 89.6 per cent of the tire and innertube business: Goodyear, Firestone, U. S. Rubber, B. F. Goodrich, General Tire and Rubber, Dayton Rubber, Seiberling, and the Lee Rubber and Tire corporation.

Probably the greatest monopoly of all, however, is cigarettes, 90.4 per cent of which is cornered by four firms, according to Sawyer. However, he did not have the courage to name them. They are: American Tobacco (Lucky Strikes), R. J. Reynolds (Camels), Liggett-Myers (Chesterfields) and Lorillard (Old Golds).

• • •

The Liquor Monopoly

The eight companies Sawyer said controlled a whopping 86.4 per cent of the distilled liquor business (but didn't name) are: Schenley, Seagrams, National Distillers, Hiram Walker, Brown-Forman, Glenmore, American Distilling, and Philip Blum.

More than half (53.6 per cent) of the nation's meat-packing business also is controlled by eight firms, whom Sawyer did not have the courage to name. They are: Armour, Swift, Wilson, Cudahy, Morrell, Rath Packing (Iowa), Hormel (Minn.) and Oscar M. Mayer company of Chicago.

Other big outfits not named in the Sawyer report were:

Aircraft—The eight companies controlling 75.1 per cent of the industry are: United, Curtiss-Wright, Bendix, Wright Aeronautical, Douglas, Consolidated-Vultee, Glenn Martin, and Lockheed.

Steel—Monopolized by eight companies, with over 60 per cent of the nation's output: U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin, National Armco, Inland, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Chemicals—The eight companies controlling 65 per cent of the industry are: Du Pont, Union Carbide, Dow Chemical, Allied, American Viscose, American Cyanamid, Monsanto, and Hercules Powder.

THE mighty arm of Uncle Sam, instead of state and local courts, will crack down on sex criminals if a young congressman who dealt with them as a battling prosecutor in Kentucky has his way.

Rep. Frank Chelf of Kentucky already is drafting legislation to be introduced at the next session of Congress making sex crimes, like kidnapings, a federal offense and subject to stiff, inflexible penalties up to the death sentence.

Insanity, the usual defense of moral maniacs who prey on children, could not be a plea under Chelf's bill.

"Insane—my eye," says Chelf. "Most of these criminals are crazy like a fox. If they know they face a long prison term or death, they'll stop their depradations on society mighty quick. I've had experience with murderers, rapists and other sex offenders as a county prosecutor and I know that the fear of punishment is the greatest deterrent to such crimes.

"If the federal government hands out the punishment, mark my word, there will be a sudden and sharp decline in the wave of sex crimes that has been sweeping the country."

Ten years in prison would be the minimum penalty in the bill the Kentuckian is drafting. Psychiatric treatment to rehabilitate the warped minds of offenders would be required during confinement.

"What I'm driving at is a law that not only penalizes, but prevents the repetition of sex crimes," emphasizes Chelf. "There must be an end to this practice of sending these depraved characters up for 90 days or five years and then turning them loose again to repeat their crimes."

However, Congress can't do the whole job, says the Kentucky congressman. There must be education in the school and the home to safeguard children. He doesn't think it will be necessary to amend the constitution to make sex crimes a federal offense.

"If Congress can pass a law on civil rights," Chelf contends, "it certainly should be able to legislate for the protection of our children, the citizens of tomorrow."

John L. And Butter

The big dairy lobby has borrowed John L. Lewis's favorite money raiser—the checkoff system—to finance its fight against the oleo tax repeal bill.

However, Lewis's coal miners at least had a chance to vote their approval of the checkoff, whereas the dairy lobby is docking milk farmers in Minnesota and some other states $1.00 each whether they like it or not.

The money is taken out of the milk checks which creameries pay to farmers and turned over to the St. Paul headquarters of the National Creameries association, which has been sparkplugging the fight against senate enactment of the House-passed oleo bill.

After deducting the dollar assessment, creameries are instructed to hand the farmers selling them milk a notice stating the money will be refunded if the farmers go through the red tape of filling out a form saying they don't wish to contribute to the lobby's war chest.

Modern Parables

Dear Friends
and Gentle Hearts:

A FRIEND of mine in Hollywood has made an appointment in Eternity. Her name is Frances Marion, for the last quarter of a century a queen among scenario writers, author of fine and decent movie plays. When these curious events really began, Frances had to go to work because her father had lost his fortune in the San Francisco disaster. Just sixteen, and a very pretty girl—I am sure of that, although I did not know her in those days, for I know her now as a beautiful woman—she went to work on a newspaper, when girl reporters were as rare as girl directors are today.

OURSLER

Late one afternoon, the managing editor sent for her and, all smiles, announced:

"Frances, I am going to give you a big chance. Marie Dressler is opening in town tonight in her new play. You know what a boisterous, madcap, fascinating young comedienne she is. Before the show starts I want you to go back stage and get an interview with her. If you get a good one, I'll print your by-line and raise your salary."

"And if I don't?" asked Frances.

OUT IN the snowy evening marched Frances and invaded the stage door. Near the star's dressing room she found reporters from other papers waiting for the glittering and hilarious young Marie and presently she appeared, friendly as a summer hammock. But she carefully asked the name of each reporter and paper; when Frances identified herself, Marie Dressler flushed with sudden anger.

"Did they have the nerve to try this again?" she demanded. "And with just a kid like you! Well, I can't talk to you. I'll have to ask you to leave at once. And you can tell your editor that now you know what kind of a cheapskate he is. For your information, I'm going to sue your publisher. We have been at odds a long time now. I told him I would never give another line to his paper. He made a bet that he would print an interview just the same—and he is using a raw kid like you to collect his bet. Now please go back and tell him it didn't work."

• • •

THEN MISS Dressler invited the other reporters into her dressing room. Frances Marion remained where she stood; she felt in a daze. She dared not return to the office without her story; that would mean losing her job; and she couldn't bring herself to go home and tell her father, still ill in bed, that she had been fired. So she just stood there.

After a while, she saw the other reporters come out and walk to the stage door without a glance in her direction. She heard musicians tuning their instruments in the orchestra pit; the muffled tread of feet as the audience was being seated. She heard the back stage cries, "Ten minutes," "Overture" and "Places, Please." She saw the costumed actors stand ready for the curtain's rise.

The show began and she was still standing rooted to the boards as Dressler burst from her dressing room and swept into her first entrance to salvos of welcome. She heard the star sing and dance and with that husky and jesting voice, evoke storms of laughter. Again and again, in different costumes, Dressler hurried back and forth, with no eyes for the stricken girl.

• • •

AT LAST the show was over. After the final curtain, groups of men in white ties and tails and grand ladies glittering in their jewels, trooped back stage to congratulate the star. The scenery was being struck, the stage properties put away; the players were going to their hotels. Last of the players to leave was Marie Dressler and now again she saw Frances Marion on the deserted stage.

"So you're smarter than I thought. You want to break my heart. It's a dirty trick, you know, but all right. Have supper with me in my room in the hotel next door. I'll give you a story. But tell your editor I am still going to sue."

When the two parted that night, Marie Dressler, who was twice the size of Frances, insisted on enveloping her in her own fur coat. At the last handshake, she kissed her and said "So long, Frances, I'll be seeing you."

• • •

THIRTY YEARS were to pass before that promise was fulfilled. In those changeful years Dressler rose to even greater heights of popularity and then sank like a falling star. There was a time when she actually sold frankfurters on the Coney Island boardwalk. Hope was almost gone when she got a chance in the movies appearing in a picture with a new comedian named Charlie Chaplin. The picture helped make Chaplin famous, but the critics reported that Marie Dressler was a flop.

With one faithful friend she was living a frugal life in a Laurel Canyon flat, when one day, in a drugstore, she came face to face again with Frances Marion. But now, Frances was one of the most valuable writers in the studios. Frances went home with Marie and they had a pot of Irish tea and some cookies together and the younger woman heard the story of the fallen star's hard luck.

As she kissed the aging actress goodbye, Frances said "So long, Marie, I'll be seeing you!"

• • •

AN HOUR later, she was talking on the telephone with Irving Thalberg, young boss of MGM studios, pallid and fragile master of production.

"Irving," she babbled, "I've found just the one woman to play that character part in our new picture—Marie Dressler! And I can get her!"

"You're having a nightmare, baby," Thalberg laughed; "Dressler is finished. I don't want her. Even if she were good, she's nothing like the character you are writing."

"Wait until you see the way I've revised it," Frances told him and hung up the receiver.

For the rest of the afternoon, and all through the night, Frances sat at her typewriter and rewrote the scenario. Having read the new version, Thalberg began to chuckle.

"Frances," he said, "It's a female trick you played on me, but maybe you are right. Gett Dressler down here."

• • •

YOU MUST be very young indeed if you do not remember the late blooming of Marie Dressler; no longer just a star, she was a comet; what's more, she became the most beloved woman on the screen and a mother to many a young girl in Hollywood.

PEOPLE LOOK TO 1950 WITH SOME APPREHENSION

Forties Fantastic For Texans As War, Peace Made Changes

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The "Forties" were fantastic for Texas.

They brought war, death, misery, regulations and, to some, a new way of life.

Fire, flood, hurricane and tornado; explosions, murder, need and want were an everyday part of the ten-year period from Jan. 1, 1940 until today.

Apprehension Felt

Most Texans welcomed 1940 as the beginning of a new era. The "Thirties" with their terrible depression became a part of history. This was to be a bright new decade, with the brand new comforts of an industrial world geared to science. Tomorrow was to be secure.

Today most Texans look to 1950 and the years beyond with a feeling akin to apprehension. Tomorrow is far from secure.

The people, their cities and their times felt the first touch of the fantastic Forties early in the decade. The nation's first peacetime draft was really the beginning of a mass change in a way of living and its values.

You can think back to yesterday, and the day before and back to 1940 and the days, months, and years between and remember:

Pearl Harbor, universal draft, training camps, war bond drives, the OPA, rationing, politics, money to spend and nothing to buy; the homesick soldier on the streets of your town; the boy next door the housing shortage; hasty marriages; big pay checks, the easy job; crowded bars, the feeling that everything would be all right as soon as the war ended.

New Phase Begins

All of these were crowded into the first five years of the fantastic Forties in Texas. Some slipped into the next five.

The war marked one phase of the decade. Its end started another.

The period following the war was more fantastic than the first five years. Human wants and human beings were secondary to the war, but they became a paramount issue after its end.

From 1945 until today . . . this was the period of the Texarkana phantom, a wanton murderer; of mass death in the Texas City explosion; of mysterious death, like that of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, famed oil well fire fighter; of brutal death on the highways.

This was a period of record crops, bank deposits, high employment. It was the period of the veteran's "readjustment," of "reconversion;" a time to try new ideas, to buy new things; a time to make the dreams come true.

Populations Increase

The people had their problems, the cities their troubles.

A population increase of more than a million, a shift in population, the annexation of outlying areas, the unbalanced scale of tax income and tax outlay contributed a major headache for both.

There were thousands of individual stories that fitted into a description of the Forties and branded them "fantastic" for Texas.

Some of these stories you remember. Others are told in statistical tables compiled by individuals, by state and government agencies.

The state's minerals were valued at $839,981,000 in 1941, at more than $3,000,000,000 in 1948.

Resources of 391 state banks on Dec. 31, 1942, amounted to $428,580,949 and a few odd cents. Total resources of 412 state banks in 1948 amounted to $1,034,528,000. The increase was greater for national banks, $1,855,401,000 for 439 in 1942 and $5,159,285,000 for 438 in 1948.

Inflation Offsets Wages

The people, most of them, make more today. They may say inflation offsets higher wages, but the average worker doesn't ever want to go back to his 1939 salary, in that period where there was no inflation. Then there were fewer salaries.

"Higher pay," is what one white collar worker thought was the biggest economic factor that had happened to him.

Stronger unionization became evident in Texas industry during the Forties. More unions, too.

The decade was a period where sports boomed, where bitter political battles were fought from El Paso to Texarkana. Where history flew—a B-50 bomber that made the first non-stop flight around the globe—Fort Worth to Fort Worth.

It was a period where music, art and drama flourished and where Texas' state fair mushroomed to the biggest in the land, with atomic energy taking its place among the exhibits.

It was a time of many worries and far removed from the fantasy of fairy tales. Or was it? Because of the fantastic Forties, Clyde Harris of Amarillo met a Princess. He married her, too.

Motorist Is Almost Killed By Caution

PORTSMOUTH, O., Dec. 10 (AP)—Everett John Lemon of Portsmouth might just as well have tried to beat the train to the crossing, the way it turned out.

The 52-year-old motorist stopped his auto on route 140 northeast of Portsmouth. He was being conservative, waiting for a Baltimore and Ohio train to pass a grade crossing.

The impact knocked Lemon's machine across the track a split moment before the train got there.

THIS opera was written by an Austrian; Richard Strauss. Among the singers were Americans, Germans Italians and French.

The Metropolitan's retiring General Manager is a Canadian, and next season it will be an Englishman—Bing, by name.

The singing was done in German and most people didn't understand a word of it.

But there was thunderous applause by all—regardless of race or creed or color.

Because Harmony appeals to the HEART.

Mexican Campaign Against Drug Traffic Hits Supplies In U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—Mexico's campaign against illicit drug traffic has been so effective that narcotics peddlers in the United States narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger reported today.

Anslinger said American smugglers "are again turning to the Far East, the Near East, and Europe" for their supplies. He said brown Mexican heroin, which was once a major addiction problem in New York City, had virtually disappeared.

Decorated Navy Veteran Plans To Become Farmer In Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 10 (U.P.)—Godfrey Ditter, 37, was "graduated" from a 19-year term with the U. S. Navy only to enroll as a freshman at the University of Nebraska.

Ditter said that despite his long career on the water, he wants to be a farmer.

years had crowded her heart with mercy and now she reached out with tenderness to others in distress. Many a youngster far from home has Marie to thank for staying on the straight and narrow path when temptation seemed very sensible.

"Don't listen to that guy and the line he's pulling on you," she would tell some little hopeful. "He says you'll make him proud of you? You make your mother proud of you."

ONLY A few months before she died, I was her neighbor in a desert bungalow and I shall never forget the sweet matter-of-factness of her wisdom and her incorrigible interest in people. She told me that she wanted to do pictures to influence lives and make them richer by very simple and homely plays, full of fun.

It wasn't very long after that when a doctor bluntly told her the truth: only a few more months of life. In those last few months, Frances Marion used to go see Marie every day—sit at her bedside and they would have long talks. But one day the nurse telephoned that Frances need not come; Marie was in a deep coma and the end was near. But Frances hurried over and sat beside her through long, silent hours.

The afternoon was almost gone when the watchful friend saw a flutter of the heavy eyelids; heard a long deep breath. Then the old hand reached out groping and Frances seized it. Bending low, she heard Marie Dressler murmur "It's Frances!"

"Yes, Marie."

There was a long silence again and then the last word:

"So long, Frances, I'll be seeing you!" And Frances Marion knows that she has a rendezvous which will surely be kept—an appointment in the Beyond.
