AFS chapter to affiliate with Rotary program

The Snyder chapter of American Field Service has announced plans to affiliate itself with the local Rotary Club and its link to the international Rotary Youth Exchange program.

The change will be effective this summer.

"Basically the program will remain the same with the same people still being involved on the local level," said Roy Carter, a longtime AFS volunteer worker and a member of the local Rotary.

The changeover is expected to ease the financial burden which the current AFS program places on the chapter here.

Another reason for the switch is the greater flexibility in choosing a country to visit. Under AFS, the youth had few options regarding which country they visitied.

Rotary Youth Exchange allows students to pick which country they want to visit. They can even choose a particular city within a country if they desire, Carter said.

Since Rotary Clubs are established throughout the world, the new program will pair the local Rotary with a like club in the foreign country to coordinate the exchange.

The local AFS chapter will continue to supervise the majority of detail work for local visits.

Under the new system, Carter said he expects more dialogue between the families of the student visiting and being visited. Departure and arrival times will be coordinated through both families as well as through both Rotary Clubs, Carter said.

Under the present AFS program, the AFS New York office makes the final decision regarding which countries are visited and also sets all travel arrangements to and from the host country.

Transportation costs to the departure site within the United States were usually born by the student with the local AFS chapter paying for the trip to the host country.

Under Rotary Youth Exchange, the financial arrangement will be different but complete details are still to be worked out, Carter said.

The Rotary Club — along with other civic groups and organizations — has supported the AFS program for years. The club will become more actively involved with the changeover.

Carter said they will be working closely with the District Rotary Youth Exchange representatives in both Lubbock and Big Spring.

The changeover will not take place until this summer, when one or more Snyder students will visit a foreign country, and the 1984-85 school year, when another foreign exchange student will visit here.

Snyder's current foreign exchange student, Raquel Rotela of Asuncion, Paraguay, is living with the D. V. Merritt, Jr. family. Her visit in Snyder was arranged through American Field Service and that arrangement will be in force throughout her visit.

The theme of Rotary Youth Exchange is "sharing with people in other countries," he said.

GNP figures indicate slow growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy's summer slump was even sharper than first thought as overall economic growth slowed to a sluggish rate of 2.7 percent from July through September, the government said today.

The Commerce Department said the gross national product — the broadest measure of the country's economic health — grew at the slowest rate since the the last recession.

But the department said the slowdown helped to keep the lid on inflation, with prices measured by an index tied to the GNP rising at their slowest rate so far this year.

The 2.7 percent rate of growth in the total output of goods and services compared to a sizzling 10.1 percent pace in the first three months of the year and a still rapid 7.1 percent in the April-June quarter.

The government's new estimate of a 2.7 percent rate of growth from July through September represented a steep downward revision from a preliminary estimate of 3.6 percent.

While a slower growth rate means gains in employment will also slow, most economists said that a slowdown at this stage of the recovery is needed to insure that overheated growth doesn't kick up inflation and bring on another recession.

Economists have also been encouraged by reports this week showing that housing sales rebounded sharply in September and personal income and consumer spending also rose. They contend this will help to insure that the summer slowdown is only temporary.

Many economists are predicting growth in the final three months of the year will return to a rate of around 4.5 percent.

Inflation, as measured by an index that measures the same mix of goods and services each quarter, rose at a modest annual rate of 3.8 percent from July through September. This compared to a 4.3 percent rate in the second quarter of the year and a 5 percent pace in the first three months of 1984. The lower rate in the third quarter was attributed to declines in gasoline and construction prices.

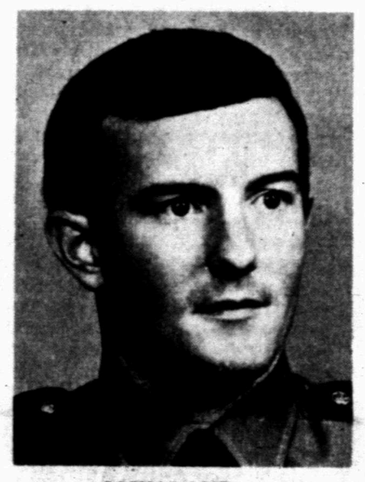

The 2.7 percent gain in the GNP was the slowest since a 0.5 percent increase in the final quarter of 1982, which represented the trough of the last recession.

The Commerce Department said the brief auto strike against General Motors Corp. played only a slight role in the downward revision. It estimated the strike reduced growth overall by less than 0.1 percentage point.

The slower growth this summer came from several factors, including a sharp downturn in the pace of consumer spending. It increased at a rate of only 0.2 percent from July through September, compared to a 7.9 percent rate of growth turned in during the April-June period.

Business investment was also down, turning in a growth rate of 8 percent compared to 21.3 percent in the second quarter.

The country's growing trade deficit also produced a drag on GNP growth, with imports surging ahead at an annual rate of 50 percent in the third quarter. U.S. sales to foreigners also picked up, but at a much slower rate of 15.8 percent.

Land, who reported for duty Friday morning, is married. He and his wife Sheila have no children.

Land's father is a high school coach currently serving in that capacity with the Amarillo Public Schools. The family lived in Jayton and Dumas prior to moving to Amarillo.

Field house theft series occurs here

Police are continuing a two-week-old investigation of a series of thefts from the coaches offices and student lockers at the Snyder High School Field House.

Football Coach Dennis Tomlin initally reported the thefts Oct. 8, telling police someone had apparently been taking money from his offices and the student lockers.

After the initial report, investigators planted money marked with an invisible flourescent powder in the field house in an attempt to catch the thieves.

Investigators reported Friday that some 102 persons with access to the field house were questioned and subjected to black light examinations to detect the flourescent powder Thursday

Young pair face charge of possession

A 17-year-old and a 15-year-old suspect were taken into custody here Thursday and both now stand charged with felony possession of marijuana.

Investigators reported Friday morning they seized approximately 8 ounces of what they believe to be marijuana — with a street value of approximately $700.

The 15-year-old is legally a juvenile and his name was not released. Also arrested was Daniel Bullard, 17, of 1609 Ave. E.

The pair were taken into custody at the 17-year-old's residence shortly before 4 p.m. Thursday.

Arresting officers reported that they had initially gone to the Bullard residence to talk to one of

Extradition

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas County district attorney's office wants to extradite rock singer David Crosby from California, the entertainer's defense attorney says.

Lawyer Jay Ethington said Thursday that prosecutors had informed him they would file the motion with State District Judge Pat McDowell alleging that Crosby had violated terms of his appeal bond.

The motion would seek to have Crosby, who was arrested last week in California, returned to Dallas and held in jail until his appeal is decided, Ethington said.

Crosby is free on $8,000 bond while he appeals a five-year prison sentence for drug and weapons convictions last year in Dallas. Crosby was convicted of possessing cocaine and carrying a firearm in a bar following his arrest at a nightclub where he was performing.

Uphold ban

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Supreme Court today upheld the nation's first handgun ban, ruling that the law in the Chicago suburb of Morton Grove doesn't violate the constitutional right to bear arms.

The high court said in its 4-3 decision that Morton Grove had the authority to impose the ordinance under its police power as a way of reducing weapons-related injuries and accidents within the village.

The 1981 ordinance, which bars the possession and sale of handguns in the village of 23,000, has been upheld by state and federal appellate courts despite the efforts of the National Rifle Association and other groups opposed to curbs on gun ownership.

Analysts say OPEC may cut oil prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Nigeria became the "third domino" in the tumbling line of nations slashing oil prices, prompting analysts to predict that the OPEC benchmark price could also fall and fueling a rally on Wall Street that pushed prices to a two-month high.

Nigeria on Thursday became the first member of the OPEC cartel to match price cuts a day earlier by Britain and Norway and announced an immediate $2-a-barrel decrease. The debt-ridden African nation said its own interests came before obligations to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

The prospect of lower oil prices and hopes that such declines would stimulate economic growth without reviving inflation sparked a strong rally on Wall Street. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks shot up 29.49 points in heavy trading Thursday.

Just hours before Nigeria's announcement, OPEC had summoned the ministers of its 13 member nations to an emergency meeting Oct. 29 in Geneva, Switzerland, to review the "critical situation" of falling prices.

Analysts, who had said there was a better-than-even chance OPEC's benchmark price of $29 a barrel would tumble, said Nigeria's unilateral action made such a cut more likely.

"That's the third domino: Norway, Britain, Nigeria — and now the benchmark," said William Randol, an analyst who follows the oil industry for the New York investment firm of First Boston Corp. "I don't see that there's a lot OPEC can do ... to avoid cutting the benchmark."

In early 1983, after Nigeria followed Britain and cut prices, OPEC chopped $5 a barrel off the benchmark Saudi Arabian Light blend in its first-ever price cut. In the previous 10 years, that price had shot up from $2.75 a barrel to $34.

Meanwhile, other oil producers were closely following events in world oil markets.

"We are on maximum alert," said Mario Ramon Beteta, director general of Mexico's state-run oil monopoly. Beteta said Mexico, the largest oil exporter to the United States, had no immediate plans to lower its prices.

Several symptoms of low estrogen

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have had a real problem with vaginal dryness for several years. My gynecologist suggested Ortho-Creme. I am on estrogen and have been for many years, because of a loss of tubes and ovaries when I had cancer of the sigmoid colon. I have had close monitoring, with six-month checkups, for 20 years and have no problems with unnatural cells.

I'm on a descending dosage of estrogen and now take a small dosage every 11 to 12 days. I stretch that out when I am comfortable, though my doctor has always said things should be kept in even dosages.

DEAR READER — While hot flashes are the one symptom that can be caused by a lack of estrogen and relieved by taking estrogen, a dry vaginal vault is the one physical sign that is definitely caused by lack of estrogen. Like hot flashes, the condition can be relieved by replacing needed estrogen.

Your letter concerns me, though, because of your evident desire to use as little estrogen as possible. That may not be wise. You can take a small dose to curtail the obvious problems of a menopause and still have bone loss occur. You may not know it until you have lost height and developed a humped spine and thin bones that fracture easily.

A lot more takes place during the menopause than just hot flashes and dryness. I have discussed these in The Health Letter Special Report 22, Understanding the Menopause, which I am sending to you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Current thinking is that the benefits of taking estrogen usually outweigh any risks, particularly in a patient who is followed regularly and carefully, as you have been. Studies even show that women who take estrogen after surgical removal of the female organs have far less risk of death from all causes than women who do not take estrogen.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you settle an argument between my son and me? Last winter he took his 2-year-old daughter outdoors five minutes after her bath, with wet hair, in 10-degree weather. I objected, saying she would catch a cold. He maintained that a cold is caused by a virus and that the virus wasn't sitting out there waiting for a little girl with wet hair to come along. Does a virus have to be passed from person to person or can it be formed in the body when a person doesn't take precautions?

DEAR READER — Your son is right. However, a person's resistance to infections can be low for many reasons, including poor nutrition, or even a failure of the body to produce enough immune substances that ward off many infections.

Individuals in Antarctica, people on boats who were not exposed to colds before the boat trip, or others exposed to cold and elements, but protected from people with the cold virus, do not develop colds. But when these people return to populations where colds are common, they usually catch a cold immediately. Their resistance is lowered because they have not been exposed.

Nevertheless, I think there is a reason why people exposed to cold frequently get colds. When you are cold, your nose runs. The usual response is to wipe your nose. If you do this with your hand and your hand contains cold viruses, you will inoculate your nose with cold germs. Hence there is an increase in colds during cold weather, but the hands and germs are the reason. Remember, colds also occur in the summer.

Raising family is also a full-time job

By CAROL DEEGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — When she was 41 years old, Nancy Halloran Hutter went back to school to get her college degree. She was the mother of eight children. The youngest child was 9.

Today, at the age of 51, Mrs. Hutter is an assistant staff attorney in the technical planning staff of the City Council of Philadelphia. She received her law degree from Villanova Law School.

At a recent conference held here on "Work and the Family," Mrs. Hutter gave credit to the women's movement and women like Betty Friedan, the author of "The Feminine Mystique," published in 1963, for breaking down the barriers to traditionally male-dominated jobs.

But, she said, just as society in the '50s expected women to marry and produce wonderful, adoring, happy families, society in the '80s is demanding that women combine work and careers.

"In my opinion, you can't raise a family on the side. A family is not an avocation. So what is being demanded of women today is that they carry not one, but two, full-time careers simultaneously," Mrs. Hutter said.

She said women must not feel guilty or apologetic if they choose to take a few years off from their jobs to spend at home with their children, or if they decide to work part time while raising their children.

"If the freedom to make choices gained at considerable expense by women in the '60s and '70s is not to be lost in the '80s, I think we have to become aware of what direction we're going in and take steps to deal with it," she said.

Just as important, Mrs. Hutter said, working and non-working mothers should not be antagonists.

"Women leaving the work force today to raise families have just as many fears and insecurities as we who left the home to embark on careers. Working mothers are overwhelmed with responsibility. We need each other and we need each other's support. In understanding this, maybe we will be able to revive that spirit that made the women's movement so effective."

Mrs. Hutter was one of the top 10 Clairol Loving Care Scholarship Program winners honored at the conference. The program has awarded more than $500,000 to a total of 997 women during its 10-year history, the program's sponsors said. The scholarship program is designed for women 30 and older.

Also attending the conference were Betty Friedan and Sally Wendkos Olds, the author of numerous books including "The Working Parents Survival Guide."

Ms. Friedan stressed the importance of individuality in combining work and the family.

"Instead of indulging in cross arguments — feminism or the family, work or the home — we know now that all women are going to put together their lives now and in the future in complex ways. The pattern will not be the same woman to woman," she said.

Mrs. Olds told the conference that when she went out to work 20 years ago, with three children at home under the age of 7, a lot of people criticized her, but a lot of people also felt sorry for her because they knew it was hard to do both jobs.

"Recently, the difficulties in handling both career and family have seemed to have melted into the myth that it's easy to do it all, that it's easy to soar to the top of your profession and to raise wonderful children at the same time. And I think those of us here today know that either one of these goals is difficult, and when you combine them, the difficulty increases geometrically," Mrs. Olds said.

She said today's mother should not set unrealistic goals for herself, but should realize that many conflicting pressures and problems arise when a woman combines work and family.

Sonnets are topic of poetry group meeting

Members of the Scurry County Poetry Society met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fenton on Oct. 15 for their regular monthly meeting. President Garnet Quiett called the meeting to order and Mayzell Fenton, chaplain, gave the invocation.

Janelle Burk presented a program on writing the sonnet, telling the group that a large portion of the best poems in our language are sonnets. Shakespearian, Italian, Petrarchan and Mason sonnets were included in the discussion. Saying the Shakespearian sonnet was the easiest to write, Burk read one of her own entitled "Winter Afternoon" that had won a monetary prize in a contest.

During the poetry reading session, members read poems about poetry and poets in observance of Poetry Day.

Members and visitors, Geneva Williamson and Joanna Burk, daughter of Darlene Burk, enjoyed refreshments following the meeting.

MORE GOOD OLD STUFF. By John D. MacDonald. Knopf. 274 Pages. $15.95.

In 1982 several of his best from that era were published under the title of "Some Good Old Stuff." The book proved highly popular with MacDonald fans. Now comes another such collection, which MacDonald says will be the last of its kind.

These stories originally were published by such magazines as Black Mask and Dime Detective between 1946 and 1949. They include such tales as:

"Deadly Damsel" — about a comely woman who enjoyed making herself a widow, several times, until she inadvertently fell in love with a scoundrel and made him a widower.

"You Remember Jeanie" — the story of a former cop who, while stumbling drunkenly about on skid row, solved the slaying of his girlfriend — or did he?

"State Police Report That ..." — a yarn about a death row convict who made good an escape, until he encountered a mother with a deaf son.

All these stories have a sharp O. Henry kind of twist at the end, and herald the deft plotting and pacing that MacDonald later employed in scores of books.

Surprisingly, they seem as fresh today as they must have to people who first read them nearly 40 years ago. And while they may have been written for pulp magazines, they are far beyond mere "pulp stories."

Cake combines oats and pumpkin

By Cecily Brownstone
AP Food Editor

At this time of year, when pumpkins abound, many cooks bake or steam one fresh from a market or leftover from Halloween decorating.

I like to use freshly cooked pumpkin, cut up or pureed, as an accompaniment to a main dish. But when it comes to certain pumpkin desserts, canned solid-pack pumpkin is my choice because my homecooked pumpkin never duplicates the flavor and texture of the canned. This is due, as I understand it, to the fact that canned solid-pack pumpkin is made with varieties of pumpkin not easily available in markets in fresh form.

PUMPKIN OAT CAKE

3 cups all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
3 large eggs
1½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
¾ cup vegetable oil
½ cup milk
1 cup canned solid-pack pumpkin
1½ cups quick or regular oats
½ cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts
Icing, recipe follows

In a medium bowl stir together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and pumpkin pie spice.

In the large bowl of an electric mixer at low speed beat together eggs, sugar, oil, milk and pumpkin until blended. At low speed gradually beat in flour mixture until smooth. Stir in oats and walnuts. Turn into an oiled 12-cup fluted tube pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 1 hour. Place on wire rack to cool for about 10 minutes. Loosen edges and turn out of pan onto rack. Cool completely. Drizzle with Icing.

ICING: In a small saucepan over medium heat, heat 2 tablespoons butter, stirring several times, until lightly browned. Off heat, gradually stir in 1 cup confectioners' sugar and 4 to 6 tablespoons milk until smooth and thick enough to drizzle.

Dear Abby

Reader Looks for Tactful Way To Trim Christmas Gift List

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: A couple of years ago I read something in your column about how to tactfully tell friends not to buy you anything for Christmas because you don't plan to buy them anything.

Kindly run it again, as we are in that kind of bind right now.

IN DEBT
IN AMARILLO

DEAR IN DEBT: Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: With Christmas coming soon, our problem must be faced, and we don't know how to handle it. To lay it right on the line, with the economy the way it is, my husband and I can't afford to send Christmas gifts this year. (To tell you the truth, we still owe for last year's Christmas gifts.)

We don't want anybody to give us gifts this year because we can't afford to give any. But how do you tell people that, Abby?

OVERDRAWN
IN DETROIT

DEAR OVERDRAWN: Come Thanksgiving, write a note saying, "We are thankful for folks with whom we can be honest. We're not in a position to send Christmas gifts this year (nor do we expect gifts), but please accept our love and sincere good wishes for a joyous and blessed holiday."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for all the people I invited to my wedding and reception who did not have the courtesy to return their RSVP cards:

If I thought enough of you to send you an invitation, the least you could have done was mark the response card and mail it back to me in the stamped, self-addressed envelope I provided for your convenience.

If you do not plan to attend, I need to know.

If you plan to attend, I also need to know in order to tell my caterer the exact number of guests to prepare for. (I am being charged by the person.) If you accept and do not show up, I must pay for your plate anyway.

Please, don't assume that I will "know" you are coming because you are "family." The number of acceptances I receive is the number of guests my caterer will prepare for. I must write placecards and make a seating plan for the wedding dinner, so please give me plenty of notice.

If I do not hear from you, I will have to get your telephone numbers and phone you to find out if you are coming. That takes a lot of time, which is something a bride has little of the week before the wedding.

I am writing this four days before my wedding. I have phoned 63 invited guests, out of which 51 said, "I am coming, but I assumed you knew." I still have 22 people on my list to call.

Abby, it's too late to help me, but if you print this, it may help a lot of other brides in the future.

DEAR ABBY: Is the tomato a fruit or a vegetable? I have heard it called both. I would like to get this cleared up once and for all.

JACK IN MCPHERSON, KAN.

DEAR JACK: The tomato is actually a fruit, although it's usually regarded as a vegetable because it looks like a vegetable and is more likely to be found in the company of vegetables.

Marine could get life term

DALLAS (AP) — A 21-year-old ex-Marine faces up to life in prison after being convicted of making and setting a bomb in a newspaper rack that killed his Ku Klux Klan-infiltrating stepfather.

A federal court jury on Thursday found Marshall Dewayne "Dodie" Williams guilty of illegally making, possessing and planting the bomb that killed Ward S. Keeton on Jan. 27.

Keeton, 60, died when he opened a booby-trapped newsrack in the parking lot of his apartment complex in far north Dallas.

U.S. District Judge A. Joe Fish set Nov. 21 for sentencing. Williams also faces trial Monday on state murder charges in the case.

Williams' attorneys say the federal conviction will be appealed.

The government contended during the four-day trial that Williams killed for insurance money. The defense countered that Keeton could have been the victim of enemies he made as an FBI informant who infiltrated the Klan.

Prosecutors called several members of Williams family, who testified they saw the pipe bomb in Williams' house before the bombing and that afterwards he told them what he had done.

"Dodie told (his relatives) that he was the one that blew Ward up, how he did it and how he sat back and watched," Assistant U.S. Attorney Shirley Baccus-Lobel told the jury during closing arguments Thursday. "He just couldn't keep his mouth shut."

Defense attorney Thomas Mills said after the verdict he was surprised jurors reached the decision in such a short time. The jury deliberated just over an hour before annoucing a verdict on two of the counts and a deadlocked vote on a third.

Fish directed the jury to continue deliberating and about 45 minutes later the panel returned the final guilty verdict.

"It must not have been such a deadlock if they reached a verdict so quickly after the deadlock," Mills said. "We were surprised. We knew it was going to be a challenge given the prosecution's evidence, but we were optimistic until the point of the deadlock."

Defense attorneys argued that Keeton was a "raving lunatic" who had made enemies because he infiltrated the Klan and spied for the FBI. Mills called Keeton "a walking time bomb" who could have been killed by any number of people.

"You can't be a government informant and then go to a community college and write essays about it," Mills said in reference to Keeton. "People get killed doing that."

FBI agent Udo Specht testified that Keeton had provided information to the FBI about Klan activities before 1976.

But former KKK Grand Dragon Louis Beam told the jury that the Klan did not learn until after the bombing that Keeton, a one-time high-ranking Klan member, had been an FBI informant.

Klan policy is to punish informants, he said.

Earlier in the week, prosecutors questioned Keeton's widow, Clara Cornett Keeton, about possible involvement with Williams in the bombing. Keeton's sister-in-law, Kathy Cornett, had already testified that Keeton filed for divorce last November because he was afraid his wife's family was out to get him for his money.

Mrs. Keeton denied she knew anything about the bombing.

Williams, who was described by his former Marine Corps recruiting supervisor as a "sterling Marine," was arrested Feb. 2 after federal agents matched wood fragments from the bombing site with wood pieces found in his Mesquite residence, where he lived with several relatives.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"MIZ WILSON SAID HE'S EXHAUSTED FROM CARRYING A GRUDGE AROUND ALL DAY."

Ragin' Tigers set for tough Tornado team here tonight

The Harris Rating System calls Lamesa one of the hottest teams in the state. Snyder Coach Dennis Tomlin says all that needs to be said, however: "There is a Tornado coming to Snyder."

Snyder buckles down for the surprising Lamesa Golden Tornadoes tonight, a team has rebounded from a 2-8 record a year ago to a 4-1 mark already in 1984. The Tornadoes boast the district's top-rated running back, a fine passing attack, and the No. 3 defense statistically.

"They have a fine football team," acknowledged Tomlin. "Offensively, they have moved the ball well, and defensively, they haven't given up much. They've won a lot of close games this year. Being able to win the close ones is a sign of a good team."

Game time is 8 o'clock at Tiger Stadium.

Lamesa's defense is allowing only 211 yards and 12.2 points a game. Keys for the Tors are inside linebackers Steve Ruiz, a 162-pound senior, and Ricky Guzman, a 187 senior.

"Their two inside linebackers are excellent tacklers," said Tomlin. "They have a very good pass defense and they put a lot of pressure on the quarterback."

The Tors get good mileage offensively from quarterback Doug Warren - who is also the second-rated punter in the district. Warren has completed 24 of 52 passes for 328 yards, three touchdowns. He has been intercepted twice. As a punter, he is averaging 38.2 yards per boot.

Primary targets for Warren are tight end Johnny Gonzales and split end Danny Gonzales. Johnny has caught nine passes for 227 yards while Danny has seven receptions for 118 yards.

But while Lamesa's passing game is one of the best in the district, it doesn't equal the running of tailback Kenneth Williams. Sidelined with an injury early last year, Williams has returned to lead the district in rushing in 1984. The 178-pound junior has carried the ball 139 times for 652 yards and five touchdowns, averaging 4.7 steps per run and 130.4 per game.

"He's an outstanding running back," noted Tomlin. "He's got good lateral movement and he has good leg strength to break tackles. You have to hit him and wrap him up."

Snyder will counter with a balanced running and passing attack of its own. Tailback Justin Webb is the district's third leading rusher with 460 yards and two touchdowns on 118 carries. Backfield mate James Powell has 192 yards on 42 carries.

Quarterback Jimmy Cain goes into the game as the district's top passer for yardage, having hit 24 of 59 targets for 454 yards, three interceptions and three touchdowns. Receivers include high-leaping swingman Willie Greathouse, who has eight catches for 166 yards; Powell, who has seven catches for 82 yards; and tight end Kyle Freeman, who has five catches for 105 yards.

Snyder is 1-4 on the season and 0-2 in District 2-4A play.

Snyder JV tackles LHS, 8-6

LAMESA – Snyder used a safety late in the game to edge Lamesa in junior varsity football action here Thursday, 8-6.

The Cats, now 4-2, play Monterey next Thursday at 4 p.m. in Lubbock.

Lamesa took an early lead in the game, scoring with 11:23 left in the first quarter on a 42-yard run. The run-after for two failed.

Much of the rest of the half was a defensive standoff. Lamesa made one threat late in the second quarter, getting inside the 20 before being stopped on downs.

Snyder's score was set up when Jon Traylor blocked a punt and Cotton Merritt recovered it. Joe Martinez then ran 35 yards for a touchdown with 4:21 left in the third quarter. Snyder did not get the extra-point kick off, and the game stayed tied at 6-6.

With 3:25 left in the game, the Cats got a break when the Lamesa deep-snapper hiked the ball over his punter's head. Lamesa held however, and Snyder was forced to try a 39-yard field goal. Mitch Page's kick hit the left upright and bounced back, no good.

Snyder then held Lamesa on downs and got the safety when Todd Odom and Reggie Price tackled the Tor punter in the end zone following another bad snap.

Lamesa had 156 yards rushing and was four-of-eight for 25 yards passing. The Tors were flagged for 88 yards in penalties.

For Snyder, the Cats had 62 yards rushing and were two-of-seven for a minus-five yards passing. Mike Long and Joe Martinez led the rushing game with 42 yards apiece. Snyder had 15 penalty yards.

Odom intercepted one Lamesa pass in addition to blocking one punt and aiding in the safety. Mike Cline was listed as a standout as center and Brad Gambrell at noseguard.

8th grade plays Tors

LAMESA – Snyder eighth grade teams had some tough battles with Lamesa here Thursday night. The Cat's Black team tied 14-14, while the Gold team lost 22-20.

Snyder eighth graders will play again next Thursday, hosting Sweetwater at Travis Field.

Gold Team

Isrreal Hinojos scored on a three-yard run in the second quarter. Hinojos also ran over the conversion.

Snyder led at halftime, 8-6.

The Cats scored twice in the third quarter. Hinojos scored one of the TD's on a 60-yard run off of a fake punt. The other was set up by a pass from Lee Fletcher to Tom Marvin. Byron Clay ran in the touchdown from a yard out, 20-6.

Lamesa scored twice in the fourth quarter and was able to tally its extra-point conversions to take the lead.

Snyder Gold is now 3-2.

Black Team

Jimmy Taylor earned Snyder's first touchdown on a 20-yard run. Tracy Odom scored the two-point conversion.

Odom also scampered for Snyder's other touchdown on a 15-yard run.

It was the third tie for the Black team, which is now 2-0-3 for the season.

Freshmen defeat Tornadoes, 26-21

Snyder freshmen football team outgunned Lamesa here Thursday night, 26-21.

Snyder's first touchdown was a two-yard run by Lawrence Barrera. The PAT try failed.

Later in the first quarter, Brad Gartman hit Steve Harper on an 80-yard touchdown pass. Gartman then found Harper for the two-point conversion.

In the second quarter Barrera scored again on a two-yard touchdown run. The point-after was no good and Snyder took 20-0 lead into halftime.

Lamesa scored on a 40-yard interception in the third quarter. Snyder followed with a 75-yard drive capped by a two-yard TD run from Harper. The point failed.

Barrera had 139 yards on 18 carries. Harper had 61 yards on 11 and Gartman had 20 yards on 8. Gartman was two-of-five passing for 83 yards, one touchdown and one interception.

Snyder's total was 303 yards of offense.

"The line blocked exceptionally well," said Coach Ricky Howell. "Barrera and Harper ran hard and we hit harder and played tougher defense than we have all year."

Snyder is 3-2 on the season and will play again next Thursday in Abilene against Abilene Madison at 5:30.

USFL holding meetings

AMELIA ISLAND, Fla. (AP) - The United States Football League is holding perhaps the most important meetings of its two-year history, three days after filing a $1.32 billion antitrust action it hopes will bring the rival National Football League to its knees.

While the suit started what may be a long journey through the courts, the matters to be discussed at the three-day session which opened today are much more immediate.

At issue, if not the survival of the league itself, is something close - what to do about losses that amounted to $63 million last year and, according to papers filed in the antitrust suit, are more than $100 million in the USFL's two years of existence. In fact, the suit claims that NFL actions have cost the league $440 million - thus the request for $1.32 billion in damages because in antitrust actions damages are trebled. High on this weekend's agenda is a proposal to reduce the league from 18 teams to 14 or even the 12 with which it started in 1983 before its second year expansion.

There also is talk - although that's all it is at this stage - of reversing August's decision to move from spring-summer football to a fall schedule.

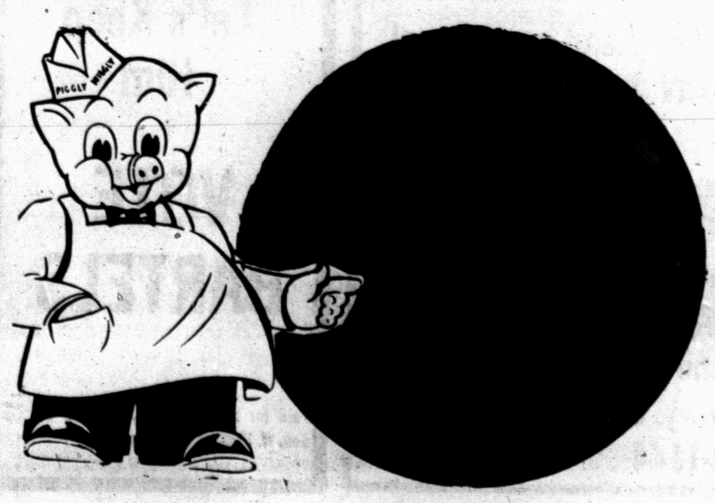

Cards locked with Coyotes

HERMLEIGH – Lucy Morales and Bobby Brown were chosen homecoming sweetheart and football hero at Hermleigh's junior high game with Borden County here Thursday.

The football game ended in a 14-14 tie and leaves the Cardinals with a 4-0-1 record. They play in Highland next Thursday at 6.

Hermleigh's scoring came on runs of 62 yards and 19 yards by Daniel Ramey. Joe Morales added one PAT kick.

Borden scored on a 47-yard run by Chris Kilmer and a 2-yard pass.

SMU, Cougs lead SWC into weekend

by The Associated Press

Two of the Southwest Conference's hottest October teams clash in Texas Stadium Saturday afternoon, with the undisputed league lead at stake.

Unbeaten and nationally sixth-ranked Southern Methodist is a 14-point favorite over Houston, according to oddsmakers.

SMU (4-0, 2-0) moved up in the polls last week after putting together two long drives late in the fourth quarter to overtake Baylor, 24-20. Its earlier conference win was a 26-17 decision over Texas Christian that still stands as the Horned Frogs' only loss of the year.

After its disappointing 1-2 start, Houston now is 2-0 in league play, and every other year that the Cougars have won their first two SWC games, they have gone on to represent the conference in the Cotton Bowl.

Houston (3-2, 2-0), comes into the game off successive SWC triumphs - beating Baylor 27-17 and Texas A&M 9-7. Last week's victory behind Mike Clendenen's three field goals marked the first time in 39 seasons that Houston has won a game without scoring a touchdown.

The only loss for either team in the last month was UH's disappointing 30-28 setback to Louisville after seemingly having the game wrapped up. The Cougars' other loss was a 35-7 drubbing a week earlier to Washington, currently the nation's No. 1 team.

Texas (3-0-1, 1-0), which dropped from first to third nationally after its 15-15 tie with Oklahoma last weekend, is favored by 13 points over Arkansas (3-1-1, 1-1) in Memorial Stadium at Austin.

In other games, TCU (4-1, 2-1) is a 26-point favorite at Fort Worth against North Texas State; Texas A&M (3-2, 0-2) and Baylor (1-4, 1-2) are rated even in their game at College Station; and Texas Tech (2-3, 1-2) is a 9-point favorite over Rice (1-4, 0-2) at Houston.

SMU leads the Houston series 5-4, but the Mustangs have won the last three games by a total of 44 points.

Last year's game was played in Tokyo in the Mirage Bowl and SMU won 34-12. The Cougars are 1-3 on the road against the Mustangs.

"Houston has improved tremendously this year," said SMU Coach Bobby Collins. "They've beaten Baylor and Texas A&M in conference play and this is a mighty big game for both teams."

In one game against Baylor in 1976, place-kicker Tony Franklin of Texas A & M booted field goals of 64 and 65 yards.

Booster Club event postponed

The WTC Booster Club Tournament, scheduled at the college course Saturday, has been postponed until Nov. 17, said Dr. Jim Tully today.

No other aspects of the tournament, a Florida Scramble, have changed. To make reservations for the tournament, contact the college pro shop at 573-9291.

Play Pecos Saturday...

Bane's Tigers dump Ponies

SWEETWATER — Snyder moved a step closer to securing a District 2-4A playoff berth here Thursday as Coach Penny Bane's Tigers ripped Sweetwater 15-7 and 15-9.

The Tigers, tied for the 2-4A summit, finish the regular season by traveling to Pecos on Saturday, then hosting Monahans on the following Thursday.

Monahans broke up the loop's three-way tie when the Loboes defeated Pecos on Tuesday. Snyder and Monahans are now 11-1, while Pecos is 10-2.

Snyder may go into Saturday's 3 p.m. match at Pecos missing starter Donna Anderson. Anderson twisted an ankle in workouts this week and did not play against Sweetwater. Kima McLarty started in place of the two-year letterman. Brenda Zajicek filled McLary's post of coming in for Gina Vaughn on backline.

"It took awhile to get accustom to playing with different people, but the girls adjusted," said Coach Bane.

Snyder was faced with having to immediately prepare for Pecos.

"We hope to have Donna back. We'll see how she does today in practice," said Coach Bane, who noted, "We're looking for a tough match. They have a tendency to really get up for Snyder so we're really going have to do the same. When we played here it was a real even match, we just made more mistakes. We're hoping to make fewer mistakes this time. It's come down to the last two ballgames and we play the top two teams so it's real important."

"We'd like to urge anyone that can make the trip to come support us Saturday," added the coach.

Frosh blast Mustangs; host tourney Saturday

SWEETWATER -- Snyder freshmen volleyball girls defeated Sweetwater here Thursday, 15-4, 15-4.

The win gives the team an 11-3 record heading into Saturday's Snyder Volleyball Tournament - the final chance for fans to see them play this season.

Scoring on serves against Sweetwater were, YoYo Anderson 10, Brinda Gonzales 9, Meredith Goodwin 3, LaFon Williams and Becky Becerra 2, and Denise Overton, Kelly Walker, Jennifer Alarcon 1. Everybody else played but did not score.

For the tournament here Saturday, Snyder will split into two teams. The Gold team plays Lamesa at 9 a.m. The White team received a bye and will play the winner of the Big Spring-Sweetwater game at noon.

Seven teams are entered in the single-day tournament. Others playing are Pecos and Levelland. The tournament will be held in the high school gym.

Jr. High Tournament

Snyder 7th and 8th graders will also host a tournament, in the Junior High Gym.

Snyder 8th grade Gold has a bye the first round and will play the winner of Big Spring-Seminole B at 11. Snyder 8th Black vies at 8 against Sweetwater A.

SWEETWATER -- Snyder junior varsity volleyball team blitzed Sweetwater here Thursday night, 15-6, 15-4.

High point girls were Monica Hinojos with 4 points in the first game and Hinojos, Leslie Ward and Shondra Robinson with 3 each in the second game.

"Everybody got to play. They played real well. We're looking to end up the season on a positive note," said Coach Penny Bane.

Anderson named top AL manager

DETROIT (AP) - Sparky Anderson promised to make the Detroit Tigers winners in five years. He kept his word, and today is the American League's Manager of the Year.

But to hear Anderson tell it, he had almost nothing to do with it.

"The award really says, 'The players won this for the manager,' " Anderson said by telephone from his home in Thousand Oaks, Calif. "I always say no coach or manager can earn an award like that. The players did that.

"I appreciate it. I just feel it's for our whole system."

Anderson, who guided the Tigers to the best record in their history and a World Series championship, won the award by one point over Dick Howser of Kansas City, it was announced Thursday by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Anderson received 13 of 28 first-place votes and a total of 96 points. Howser, who led the Royals to the AL West title, got 11 first-place votes and finished with 95 points.

Billy Gardner of Minnesota got the other four first-place votes and finished third with 48 points. The balloting was done by two writers from each AL city and scored on a 5-3-1 basis. The voting was conducted prior to the playoffs and World Series.

AP All-Star team selected

NEW YORK (AP) - Ryne Sandberg doesn't think the Chicago Cubs will lose the winning edge during the off-season. After all, he notes, the Cubs didn't do as much winning as planned.

"I don't think that will be a problem with us," said Sandberg, the Cubs' stellar second baseman who topped the voting for The Associated Press Major League All-Star team. "All we won was the National League East and we could have done a lot better than that. I think we'll still be hungry going into spring training."

On hand to make sure that hunger persists will be Cubs' Manager Jim Frey, who was selected as AP's Manager of the Year after rallying Chicago from a 71-91 record in 1983 to a 96-65 mark and the East title this season.

In a nationwide poll of AP-member sports writers and broadcasters, Frey received 52 votes to 31 for Billy Gardner of the Minnesota Twins, who finished second in the American League West. Sparky Anderson, who led the Detroit Tigers to the World Series title, was tied for third with Dave Johnson of the New York Mets with 10 votes apiece. Dick Howser of Kansas City received six votes after leading the Royals to the AL West title.

Sandberg, who batted .314 with 19 home runs and 84 runs batted in, led the National League in runs scored with 114, tied with Juan Samuel of Philadelphia for the lead in triples with 19, and was second to San Diego's Tony Gwynn with 200 hits.

The rest of the honor infield includes Eddie Murray of Baltimore at first base, Mike Schmidt of Philadelphia at third, Cal Ripken Jr. of Baltimore at shortstop by a 52-49 vote margin over Alan Trammell of the Detroit Tigers, and Gary Carter of Montreal at catcher. The outfield consists of Dave Winfield of the New York Yankees, Gwynn and Dale Murphy of Atlanta.

Western fourth at Acapulco

ACAPULCO, Mex. – Western Texas College placed fourth overall - first among junior college teams - in the Acapulco Invitational here early this week.

The Westerners will play next in the Senior-Junior College Championship at Conroe on Oct. 25-28.

Western shot rounds of 311 and 313 for a total 624 to grab the lofty position. Freshman Pat Fitzpatrick led the Westerners with a 155.

The University of Arkansas won the tournament with a 12-under par 574. Rice University placed second with a 597, followed by Sam Houston State University with a 598.

Other schools were Northeast Louisana, which tied WTC with a 624, Midland College, which had a 627, New Mexico Military, which had a 628, and South Plains College, which had a 633.

The tournament was sponsored on the local level by Joe and Belva LaRoux, Alton and Sherry Patterson, Phil and Betty Fortune, Bob Hargrove, Dalton Walton, Glenn Patterson, Danny Lunsford and Joe Fowler.

Alton Patterson teamed with WTC's Ryan Heller in a separate low ball competition. They took second place with an 11-under par 61.

Heller shot scores of 76 and 83 to place second in the regular tournament for WTC with a 159. Other Westerner scores were a 159 (78-81) by sophomore Jack Fallin, a 158 (79-79) by sophomore Bob Stangby, and a 161 (85-76) by freshman Bo Kay.

"We like to extend our thanks again to the sponsors. We couldn't have made the trip without them," said WTC Coach Dave Foster.

Oysters taken off menus

HOUSTON (AP) — Tests have begun on some 15,000 pounds of oysters banned from restaurants after one man developed cholera and 65 others reported symptoms of the malady, health officials say.

All 66 people developed symptoms of cholera — including fever, vomiting, cramps and diarrhea — and said they had eaten oysters in the past five days, said James Haughton, director of the Houston Health Department.

'Blockbuster' snowstorm hits

By The Associated Press

A "blockbuster" storm lugging record snows left 100,000 Utah homes without power, trapped hunters in Colorado's mountains and spit more than a dozen tornadoes across three states, killing one person. And forecasters said the third storm of the week is moving in today from the Pacific.

In Wyoming, snow-covered ground was rattled Thursday by the third-strongest earthquake in the state's history, measuring 5.5 on the Richter scale and felt up to 200 miles away, the U.S. Geological Survey said.

The storm stretched from the Rocky Mountains to the Mississippi Valley and was described by Salt Lake City meteorologist William Alder as a "one-in-50-year occurrence." It dropped a record 18.6 inches of snow in 24 hours at Salt Lake International Airport and up to 3 feet in the mountains.

"At least a dozen or 15 tornadoes" were spawned when the snowstorm's icy winds swooped down on the moisture-laden Plains, said forecaster Joseph Galway at the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City.

"This is the same weather system that gave the snow to portions of Utah and Colorado," said forecaster Bill Hirt in Kansas City.

Gramm, Doggett are claiming debate wins

DALLAS (AP) — Both U.S. Senate candidates proclaimed themselves victors after a televised debate in which they sounded some familiar themes and continued to differ on Social Security and U.S. involvement in Central America.

The Thursday night session, produced by public TV station KERA, was the second of two scheduled debates between Republican Phil Gramm and Democrat Lloyd Doggett.

"I won the debate because I think I focused in on the issues that are relevant to Texas and America," Gramm said. "I thought it was a good, balanced debate in terms of my performance and my opponent's."

Doggett had a different view.

"I think we won this debate. We had an opportunity to concentrate on those issues that Phil's been running from and trying to avoid, like Social Security and education," Doggett said. "I think this debate provided a good example and contrast of the positions that we take."

During the hour-long session, Gramm reiterated his close ties with President Reagan, his authorship of Reagan's spending cuts and his support for income tax cuts. Doggett said Gramm consistently sought to cut Social Security benefits and said he has found Gramm's record in Congress "to be pretty negative."

Gramm said the issue was a simple one, whether Texans wanted the president's programs to continue on the course which has cured serious economic problems and created 7 million new, private-sector jobs nationwide and 850,000 in Texas.

"The question is, do you want Reagan's program seen through to a successful conclusion?" the Republican asked.

"If you don't, if you want taxes raised, if you want to go back to the policies of the past, vote for my opponent. If you want Ronald Reagan's programs seen through to a successful conclusion, send me to the Senate to help finish the job," Gramm said.

Doggett accused Gramm of trying to hide from his record and said integrity is a key issue in the race. He criticized Gramm for trying to connect the Senate race with the presidential contest.

"When you get right down to it, this contest for the United States Senate is not a battle between Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale," Doggett said.

"It is a contest between two very different types of individuals. We can either pursue the path of progress that has served us so well in Texas, a path that I have worked on for the past 11 years in the Texas Senate, or we can divert to a path of extremism, of intolerance, of callousness," Doggett said.

The two showed some of their sharpest differences over Social Security and Central America.

Doggett criticized Gramm for seeking to cut the minimum Social Security benefit and being one of just 13 congressmen to vote against a House resolution calling for no cuts in benefits to people currently receiving them.

"That resolution goes to the heart of the debate. Not one Texas Democrat, not one Texas Republican ... voted against that except Phil Gramm," Doggett said.

But the Republican said it was his work in Congress which helped save the Social Security system from bankruptcy, and he insisted that he wants to make certain that money is there to pay benefits to those who have earned them through contributions to the system.

"I'm the guy who helped save Social Security," Gramm said. "We put Social Security in the black and I'm trying to keep it there."

Kathy Norris lands play role

STEPHENVILLE–Kathy Norris, a freshman at Tarelton State University, has been named to the cast of "My Three Angels," this year's homecoming production by the Tarelton Players. The show will run Oct. 23-25 in the Theatre of the Clyde Wells Fine Arts Center on the TSU campus.

Kathy, a theatre major and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Norris of Snyder, has been cast as Marie Louise in the show.

A popular Jose Ferrer film which starred Humphrey Bogart, "My Three Angels" is a play written about three French Guiana convicts (two murderers and a swindler) who hire out as roofers but end up spending more time mending the family's personal traumas than hey do fixing the roof.

The play will be presented during homecoming week, at Tarelton with the curtain going up each evening at 7:30.

Inmates trying to avoid TDC

HOUSTON (AP) — Violence in Texas prisons has some criminals so frightened that they are straining to serve time in county jails, defense attorneys say. But one prosecutor says he has little sympathy for their plight.

So far this year, 21 inmates have been killed by other prisoners and 317 have been knifed within the Texas Department of Corrections.

Attorney Rachel Capote said two clients in the last two weeks have told her they are afraid to go to state prisons.

Ms. Capote said one of her clients asked a judge to let him serve 60 days in Harris County Jail before turning him over to state prison officials. Defendants get credit off their prison terms for time served in county jails.

"He said he really didn't want to go to TDC because they're killing people there," she said.

Ms. Capote said she hates even to strike plea bargains which include prison time because of the danger.

But Harris County District Attorney John B. Holmes Jr. said he is not concerned by defendants' fears.

"I don't think the penitentiary should be pleasant," he said. "If it adds to a deterrent effect, then maybe they won't commit the crime the next time around."

Attorney Brian Coyne said his clients are also afraid.

Attorney Bennie House said he's hearing fear from clients for the first time.

Boat slides over vehicle in accident

Two Snyder men escaped injury in a one-vehicle traffic mishap at the intersection of County Road 339 and Farm Road 1606 shortly after 10 p.m. Thursday.

According to reports, Roger Ray Wheelus of Rt. 1, Snyder was driving his 1973 Chevrolet north bound on 399 when he failed to negotiate a turn at the intersection.

The car — which was pulling a boat and trailer — crossed 1606 and came to rest in a field north of the road.

In addition, the boat pulled free from its trailer and slid over the top of the car. It also came to rest in the field.

Con game reported in Snyder Thursday

Snyder police officers were called to investigate a possible attempted "pigeon drop" con game in the city Thursday afternoon.

Investigators say no one was victimized in Thursday's incident but are warning elderly residents to be wary of a black man about 30 years old who might approach them, initially asking for a ride.

The scam involves asking the victim — with elderly individuals a particular target — for money to be used to cheat a third party — an accomplice in the game.

Reports indicate "pigeon drop" operators are known to be working this general area of West Texas currently. Reports have surfaced earlier this week in Abilene and Brady.

Thursday afternoon, police were alerted to a black man who reportedly flashed a large roll of money soliciting rides from elderly men on the Safeway parking lot.

Once in the car the man reportedly asked his benefactors to take him several places around town. Thursday afternoon, the man was apparently successful in getting rides from at least two persons however police report the scam never advanced past the initial stages.
