One Man Killed, Another Injured In Accidents Three Injured In Mysterious Explosion At Palestine

Girl May Die As Result of Her Injuries

Two Business Houses on Main Street of Town Wrecked by Blast; Roar Heard All Over City; Glasses Shattered

Two Others Hurt

Investigators Fail to Find Cause of Explosion; Cars Parked Near Buildings Are Damaged by Flying Debris

PALESTINE, Texas, Oct. 20.—Mysterious explosion injured three persons one probably fatally, and wrecked two business houses on main street here today. Miss Marie Moser, 19, working in the insurance office of her father, M. A. Moser, was in a critical condition in a hospital where doctors said she had little chance to live. Her father was extricated from the wreckage of his office with serious burns and internal injuries. Jewett Lamer, who was standing in the door of a shoe shop adjoining the Moser office, was burned and bruised.

Two others hurt received a broken leg and other injuries, and H. T. Fotocopus, who operated the shoe store, was seriously burned and received other undetermined injuries. Investigators said the force of the explosion was in the rear of the Moser office, but they could not account for its source. There was a division of opinion whether nitroglycerine caused it or a gas.

Widow of Slain Paralytic and Two Soldiers Charged with Murder at San Antonio; to Get Speedy Trial

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Clara Uhr, 50, widow of Dan Uhr, 35, who was found murdered in his bed at his home Saturday morning, and Private Leslie Jones, 38, and Donald Walker, 38, Fort Sam Houston soldiers, were remanded to jail without bond on a joint charge of murder by Justice of the Peace L. F. Boltz today. All waived preliminary hearings. Late in the afternoon, it was said they had not employed legal aid and probably would request Judge W. S. Anderson of the 57th district court to appoint counsel.

Early trial was promised by District Attorney Walter Tynan who declared indictments were expected to be returned this week by the grand jury. In such an event the cases will be set down for early disposition. Tynan said.

The three were arrested Saturday after the body of Uhr was found in bed by his wife, who reported the tragedy to police, claiming she had looked in her husband's room on arising and saw him covered with blood. Uhr was a paralytic and unable to leave his bed. The man's head had been crushed with an axe and Mrs. Uhr was taken in custody for questioning. Under questioning by Chief of Police Owen Kilday, Mrs. Uhr signed a statement implicating the two soldiers and admitted she had hired Jones to kill her husband, Kilday said.

FAVORS AL SMITH

J. Waddy Tate Wants Former Governor in Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—Employment of former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York as Dallas' first city manager was advocated today by Mayor J. Waddy Tate. "I don't know whether we could entice Al Smith away from New York," he said, "but Dallas could not make an abler choice." The mayor did not refer to the fact Dallas and Dallas county returned a majority for Herbert Hoover in the last presidential election. As a result of a recent election, Dallas is to change next April from the commission to the city manager form of government.

Four Bandits Escape After Dallas Holdup

Cashier and Police Escort Slugged as Robbers Take Loot of $16,000 in Daring Downtown Robbery Monday

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—Four men slugged the cashier of the Union Terminal company and a police escort on one of the principal streets here today and escaped with approximately $16,000.

Shortly before noon, B. W. Moore, 62, the cashier and Charles H. Murray, 38, the policeman, left the Union railway station bearing $15,925.30 to a bank. Murray carried the money in a satchel, and the policeman walked by his side.

About half way to the bank, on Comany street, 180 men slipped up behind the victims, struck them in the back of their heads with a blackjack constructed of rubber hose and fired shot and grabbed the satchel. One of the robbers wrenched the policeman's pistol from him, and the officer in turn jerked the man's blackjack from his hand. The robbers then dashed to an automobile which stood with engine running beside the curb and in which two men sat, one at the wheel.

Advertising Held Depression Cure

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 20.—Advertising was advanced as a remedy for present depression, and was described as a "sort of business hypochondria," by Edward P. Flynn, assistant to the general counsel of the Great Northern Railway company, before the conventions section of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries here today. "I know of nothing," he said, "which will lift us out of the 'dough of despair' into which we have allowed ourselves to become mired, sooner or more effectively, than advertising and more advertising. It is your duty as advertising men to sell this idea to your city and its citizens. You must go back to your homes and do all you can to restore the confidence of citizens in the future."

Mary Garden, Gene Howe Bury Hatchet When Operatic Star Accepts Invitation

Rebels Claim Occupation of Brazil States

Westbrook to Visit Section

Representative of American Cotton Cooperative to Be in Lubbock Today to View Activity of Local Office

Lawrence Westbrook, representative of the American Cotton Cooperative association in Texas, of Dallas, is expected to arrive in Lubbock this morning to view activities of the Lubbock office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association and possibly visit branch offices in this district. American Cotton Cooperative association is a government organization which the Texas cooperative organization is a part. Charles M. Davis, manager of the Lubbock office, said he hoped to take Mr. Westbrook on a tour of inspection of all cotton cooperative branches in the Lubbock district. Mr. Westbrook will come to Lubbock directly from Dallas, according to Mr. Davis.

25,000 Bales Handled

More than 25,000 bales of cotton had been handled by Texas Cooperative association offices in this district when the stations closed Saturday night, Mr. Davis said. Total bales received at the Lubbock office this season was about 7,000, at the end of the week, according to Mr. Davis. Farmers should keep pickers out of the fields until the cotton is thoroughly dry, Mr. Davis advised Monday. Most of them have done so, the cooperative chief said, but a few have attempted to pick cotton still damp as a result of recent rains, which caused much of the cotton to stain and made picking difficult. Picking before the cotton is thoroughly dry inevitably results in a loss of 55 to 60 on each bale, Mr. Davis said.

Dr. P. W. Horn Accepts Task Of Bringing Texas Geographies Up To Date

USTIN, Oct. 20.—Task of attempting to bring Texas geography up to date, in the face of rapid progress and change in production of the state, has been accepted by Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, of Lubbock. Widely known Texas educator, former president of Southwestern college at Georgetown, Dr. Horn has pledged his services in cooperation with publishers of two geographies to eliminate obsolete data, old pictures and erroneous references to the state. The errors are mostly of omission and of relying on data now out of date. Task Bailed Down The task of correction has been bailed down to only two of the five geography books used in Texas schools. One assignment is to modernize maps, pictures and figures of McMurry and Parkins' elementary geography published by McMillan company. The other is to make similar revisions in the main text of the advanced geography by Dodge and Lackey, Rand McNally & Company, and to entirely rework the 52-page supplement to the book. West Texas Chamber of Commerce was one of three regional chambers in the state whose efforts to have the books modernized won unanimous support of the state board of education. Subsequently, the text book revision commission asked the book committee for ac-

Johnson Flays Restriction of Cotton Trucks

State Highway Commissioner Against Movement to Cut Down Use on State Roads; Saving to Farmer Cited

Amends Statement

Amarillo Mayor Asks State Aid on Underpass with Ten Foot Clearance to Draw Fire from Johnson

USTIN, Oct. 20.—Strong opposition to the movement to restrict the use of cotton trucks on state highways was expressed today by Cone Johnson, state highway commissioner. Johnson said the trucks should be encouraged to operate on the highways since they were saving the cotton farmers many dollars in transportation costs. The discussion came when Colonel E. O. Thompson, mayor of Amarillo, presented an application for state participation in the cost of an underpass in Amarillo on highways 5, 33 and 75. The plans for the underpass call for only a ten foot clearance, Thompson arguing this was enough if the state restricted the size of the loads. This drew Johnson's fire and he declared as being unalterably opposed to any move to bar the trucks, predicting that in the future state highways would be used mainly for transportation of merchandise and produce with passenger vehicles forming a small part of the traffic. Thompson later amended his statement and said the state should restrict the size of the loads, the trucks were permitted to carry.

Republicans of Texas Predict Talbot Victory

G. O. P. State Executive Committee Calls on Members of Party to Cooperate with Leaders and Candidates

PORT WORTH, Oct. 20.—After declaring the Republican party of Texas has an excellent opportunity to elect Col. W. E. Talbot of Dallas, governor of Texas in the November election, the Republican state executive committee today called on every party member to work in United cooperation with the party leaders and candidates. Active workers of the Texas Republican party, from all sections of the state, in addition to members of the executive committee, met to lay plans for the coming campaign, to discuss planks in the party's platform, and listen to two talks by Col. Talbot, the party's standard bearer in the gubernatorial race. Contributions Asked All federal office holders who are members of the Republican party should contribute to the party's campaign chest and work in support of the party in all campaigns, several speakers said. Various speakers pointed out there was no law prohibiting such work. R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman from Texas, declared there is no law which prevents an officer holder from working as a member of the Republican party, or from contributing to the chest of the party, but outlined the limitations that govern federal employees under civil service. These civil service employees cannot act as officials of the party organization, nor can they preside at public meetings, but otherwise are unhampered in their party affiliations, he said.

ONE man was killed and another was injured seriously Monday night in two automobile accidents in Lubbock county. An arrest was made in each case. R. E. Branscum, about 35, of Hamlin, died a few moments after being received at Lubbock sanitarium as a result of being struck by an automobile on state highway No. 7 about nine miles southeast of Lubbock. His watch had stopped at 7:30 o'clock. Regains Consciousness Rubin C. Wall, 39, of downtown Lubbock, was struck down at Main street and Texas avenue about 3:30 o'clock. Attending physician at West Texas hospital said Wall's condition was "fairly satisfactory." Wall suffered slight concussion of the brain and a laceration on the forehead which required half a dozen stitches in closing. He regained consciousness soon after being taken to the hospital. Ruben C. Wall, 39, of downtown Lubbock, was arrested by two state highway patrolmen, Jack Reaves and J. L. Croft, in connection with the fatal accident on the state highway. Two women companions of Logan, Miss Rhonda Elmer, who told officers she lived at 1712 Avenue F, and Miss Billie White, of Birmingham, Ala., were released after being questioned. Halted By Officers Branscum, who died without regaining consciousness, had stopped his truck headed toward Lubbock at request of the two patrolmen, who had noted that the truck and trailer had no tail light. Branscum's son, Uel, and a man for whom the Branscums were hauling household goods, from Hamlin to Mexico, also were in the truck. Croft's motorcycle was stopped in front of the truck with dimmed lights on the truck, headlights of which also were lighted, and Reaves' machine was in back with lights directed on the rear of the truck, the officers said. The highway patrolmen and Branscum were standing beside the truck, which was on the right side of the highway with its outer wheels off the pavement, according to Reaves. Those in the cab were not hurt. Reaves said he saw the automobile bear down on them and had shouted a warning as he got out of the way. Swerving, the car smashed over the motorcycle in back of

Better Prices Are Seen for Farm Products

Chairman Legge of Farm Board Says Value of Agricultural Commodities Has Reached Bottom and Will Improve

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The opinion that prices for agricultural commodities had reached the bottom and that they would gradually improve was expressed today by Chairman Legge of the farm board. The chairman said commodity markets "are doing better in showing an independence of the stock market to an extent which they haven't shown for some time." He added that during the past week industrial stocks fell but agricultural prices during the week maintained at about the same point. "The feeling in the trade," Legge continued, "must be that the commodity markets are through liquidating." He expressed belief that price levels for agricultural commodities had reached bottom, that they would probably "hang around" the present prices for a time, and then gradually improve.

Ask Statement From Officer

Stepmother of Denver Child Is Held in Connection with Death in Eating Glass; Look to Husband for Solution

DENVER, Oct. 20.—Authorities tonight sought to obtain statements from O'Loughlin city detective, that would absolve or accuse his wife in the mysterious death last Tuesday of 10-year old Leona O'Loughlin, the officer's daughter by a former marriage. Although a mass of clues combined to weave a web of circumstantial evidence that led to her arrest, Mrs. O'Loughlin has steadfastly denied she had any part in the child's death. After several hours of grilling, during which time she often was on the verge of collapse, the woman was returned to her jail cell late today and police turned to their fellow officer for additional information. Informed of Tragedy O'Loughlin, 33, at a hospital from the effects of eating ground glass, today was informed the body of her daughter was found last Friday floating in Berkeley lake. Every effort previously had been made to keep news of the tragedy from the officer, who has been critically ill since shortly after his daughter disappeared. The detective's intuition finally pierced the wall of secrecy, and he elicited from a brotherly informed admission the girl was dead. O'Loughlin stood the shock of the news well and shortly afterward informed his chief, Captain of Detectives A. T. Clark he was ready to state them in any way possible. Only O'Loughlin will know whether his wife's detailed statements

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHÉ E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

OBVIOUSLY I'm considered a good customer by one of Lubbock's young business men. He calls on me regularly vending candy and I sometimes buy. Today he came by immediately after lunch and inquired for a chat. I wasn't hungry but I bought some candy. He has an appealing habit of looking at me that is better than sales talk.

My little salesman is only six—he told me that in our chat today. He told me a lot of things and asked some questions. For instance, he wanted to know if my radiator was "up" and where the fire was that kept it hot. He was intrigued with my bright blue pencil, which seemed to remind him of a red balloon which he had stowed in a ragged pocket and which he found after some exploring of his various coats with a pair of grubby little hands.

He wouldn't be surprised if I do go to school some day, if he has anything to take up there. He admitted to some questions, but right now he spends most of his time selling this candy. Business wasn't very good today, so he said, and when I asked him if his feet were cold, he said no. Later he explained, "I'm a matter-of-factly, that if he had any shoes he would have them on. Obviously, I was very dumb on that point."

His skill in handling a balloon without managing to burst it charmed me as much as the object's on my desk fascinated him. After considerable blowing and twisting and punching of the thing, he wound it around his finger, stowed it away in one of his many pockets and announced that he supposed he'd better take it home to the baby. He has two little brothers, I gathered, somewhat uncertain ages, who are more or less dependent upon him and his mother for their necessities and luxuries.

But, ho hum, business called. After a lingering look around at the paste and spikes and whatnots of the desk, he pulled a fat and dirty coin purse from among the many pockets, dropped the nickel inside, hid the bank away again and went on to his next customer.

These big business men can't spend all day talking to a woman in an office. But he will back a customer is a customer, even if she does a lot of prying into one's personal affairs!

THEY MULTIPLY
WE WERE out buying bulbs this afternoon and I learned some things I hadn't known before. Tulip bulbs are supposed to be dug up and divided every fourth year and, theoretically, your bulbs will produce one blossom the first year, two the second and three the third.

HE'S GOOD FOR A CHUCKLE
EVERY time I read something else that H. L. Mencken has to say about matrimony, I get a good chuckle. He has said so many things that must be justified since he married and the things he says on one side of the question or the other are always "good copy."

The funny thing about love is that it almost always has the same symptoms, regardless of who is in love. And, anyway, I don't suppose Mr. Mencken ever meant half of what he said. He simply had an eye for business.

HE SAMPLED HIS WARES
RIGHT in the midst of late afternoon crowds while ago I spied a little newsboy backed up against the wall of a building reading the paper, while further down the street the shrill echoes of other little boys could be heard in their accustomed halloo concerning the headlines.

IT HELPS YOUR MORALE
THE GIRLS need an opportunity to dress up occasionally. Miss Joe Wilder, Y. W. C. A. secretary at Texas Technological college remarked the other evening as we were leaving the Las Chaparritas Alumnae annual reception. Several were leaving the house simultaneously and we were talking about how pretty all of the club girls looked in their evening gowns.

There is nothing that is quite so good for one's morale, I believe, as to really dress up in an evening gown, to have the hair and hands groomed and the feet shined and to know that one is well dressed. Of course, to dress well for an occasion leaves a pleasant reaction, but evening dress gives so much more opportunity for that dress-up feeling.

Young women of high school and college age need opportunities to wear formal gowns in order that they may be always perfectly accustomed to them. The social functions at Texas Technological college or any other college serve more than the one purpose of providing a place for the young people to go. They train the young men and the young women in poise and charm and in the art of mingling with people.

Business People to Enter Public Speaking Class
Final meeting of a public speaking class for business men and women was held last evening by Miss Mary Gene Owen at Hotel Lubbock. The class will be held on Monday and Thursday evening and will continue through December 6.

Semi-Formal Afternoon Frocks Comes Into Its Own

Left, heavy sheer crepe frock in deep wintone; center, afternoon tea frock of black chiffon velvet with ivory lace collar and half sleeves; right, dark green crepe frock with ivory collar and bows.

With the long coat again in season, the semi-formal afternoon frock comes into its own. For those of us who wish to be well, but not over-well dressed, from noon to night, for luncheon, the theater, the informal dinner, the semi-formal afternoon frock is the thing.

Fashion would, of course, advise different frocks and frock lengths for morning and street wear: luncheon and afternoon, the five to ten hour, and the informal "at home" frock. This is all very well for those who can change so frequently, but for the woman who lives in the suburbs and runs into the city for restaurant dinner, the informal frock is the best bet.

Skirts for these frocks are a little longer than those for the morning costumes. Paris is making them 10 and 12 inches from the floor, but here in America we compromise on 12 to 14 inches, according to one's height and the most becoming length. Necklines and sleeve treatments and distinction. The frock sketched at the left is of heavy sheer crepe in deep wintone, worn with wintone kid pumps, and a wintone hat. It features a scarf neckline and tiny puffs at the elbow.

The frock at the right is featured in dark green crepe, featuring sleeve width at the elbow, with tiny ivory white bows and an ivory white collar. These may be of either fur or fabric. The fur is very smart and new. The skirt is in a wrap-around model suggesting a tunic. With it may be worn either green-wood or black kid shoes and a green or black hat. Black shoes and hat would be better if the coat is black. The wintone frock and shoes with the black coat, is, however, a new high style note.

More formal is the frock in the center, more suited to the afternoon tea, bridge or less formal evening affair. The skirt of this frock is about two inches longer than that of either of the others. It shows the waistline slightly raised above normal in the front, and features Venetian lace collar and half sleeves. The frock is of black chiffon velvet, and the lace, ivory, black shoes and a black velvet hat accompany the costume.

CREOMULSION

FOR THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth.

Of all lesser drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

His troop. And he not there!

the "hike" that Harry missed ...and the Cause thereof

Harry stopped raking to stare, as down the dusty street, before the house, swung a marching troop of scouts—his troop—off on a hike! He couldn't believe his eyes! His troop. And he not there.

Harry dropped the rake, took the porch steps three at a time. They couldn't—oh, they couldn't go without him!

"Why, I don't know, child," Mrs. Adams exclaimed, looking up blankly from her sewing. "Mr. Brenner, the scoutmaster, surely must have called you."

Harry from the yard, and Mrs. Adams from the porch, gazed sorrowfully after the khaki-clad marchers.

"So that was who telephoned this morning when I didn't get upstairs to the 'phone in time!" thought Mrs. Adams to herself, regretfully. "What we need, I guess, is an 'extension' telephone downstairs."

Telephones where you need them save time, steps—even play a part in preventing youthful heartaches.

An "extension" telephone downstairs might have made it easy for Mrs. Adams to reach the telephone in time.

Few know that the extra cost of one or two "extensions" is between two and three cents a day.

By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of the telephones in your home.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord. Let us lift up our hearts with our hands unto God in the heavens. We have transgressed and rebelled: thou hast not pardoned—Lamentations, III, 40-42.

SLATON SPEAKS HIS MIND

LAST Wednesday morning, The Avalanche presented in this column what it considered to be a correct view of the friendship Lubbock bears for Slaton. In connection with the banquet, spread for Slaton and Lubbock civic leaders to observe the opening of the concrete highway between the two cities...

"LUBBOCK AND SLATON"

"We are pleased to read the editorial appearing in the Avalanche of Wednesday, October 15, under the caption 'Slaton and Lubbock.' The gatherings of Lubbockites and Slatonites was one notable affair. The spirit of hospitality was mightily manifested. The brew was all that could be asked for. It being simply looking through the other fellows' glasses."

"The language was all that one could ask for, for it was truly West Texas, the celebrating on the completion of the Highway, No. 7, that closer binds the two cities, it was but the fore-runner of events that will come again. We must be ready to do our share in the future. It should be with a firm and united front, Lubbock and Slaton will build and in building they will assist in building this mighty empire of West Texas."

"We are sure proud to speak the common language of West Texas. Are glad that we are Texans, either by birth or adoption. The Plainsman aptly quotes a Biblical passage in part. It should be quoted in full for it bears strongly upon us all. 'Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard even Aaron's beard, that ran down to the hem of his garments, or like the dew of Hermon, or the dew that descended upon the mountain of Zion, for there the Lord commanded his blessing, even life for evermore.'"

"The dew of heaven has fallen upon Lubbock and Slaton. Brotherly love prevails. Good will and friendship exists. May it continue to descend upon us all. May we be educated by the teachings of Jehovah, emulating the Divine and living in peace and harmony."

"Lubbock, come and see us, the latch-string is hanging away out for you." Now we all know how we feel, each toward the other. It is, we repeat a most pleasant state of affairs."

AN "ODD JOBS" CAMPAIGN

THERE are two ways of meeting any sort of misfortune. One is to sit down and cull on the world to witness that you are being foully treated. The other is to roll up your sleeves and go out and do something to make things better."

As far as the present economic depression goes, the first method seems to be more popular with most of us. We read and hear of men who are close to starvation because they can't get work, and we shake our heads and feel very sorry for them—and let it go at that."

There are exceptions however. In Racine, Wis., the citizens decided to adopt the second course, and they have gone to work so effectively that their action deserves to be broadcast over the nation so that other cities can copy it."

An intelligent columnist named Tex Reyholds, who writes for the Racine Times-Call, got the idea that a bit of a job, no matter how paltry, does a soldier man a lot more good than a job of public walling. With the aid of his paper, he launched what you might call an Odd Job Campaign, urging everyone in Racine who possibly could to find, or invent, some sort of odd job that some unemployed workman could fill."

Business and civic leaders fell in line enthusiastically. The unemployed men were enrolled, so that people could see just how many men needed work. Citizens who had regular jobs looked around for chances to hire men. Some engaged men to clean furnaces. Others found they could pay a couple of dollars to have ashes hauled away and rubbish removed. Others found other small jobs. All in all, a good many men were given work that they needed very badly, and a good many flat pocketbooks got a little much-needed stuffing."

Now the important thing about all of this is that it is the sort of measure that any city or town can take. It is adapted to the biggest city in the country and to the smallest. It does not need a lot of wealthy people to make it a success. The man of modest means can take an important part in it. Some of the jobs obtained in this manner prove permanent. Most of them last only a day or a week. But in either case they are extremely valuable to the men who get them. A five-dollar bill looks pretty big to a man who hasn't worked since May. And it's a lot better for him to get it by earning it than by having some charitable organization hand it to him."

Quotations of Real Merit

"The 'intellectual' is not only half-educated but is usually most egotistic.—William Armstrong Fairburn. You cannot learn to be a comic: it is a gift from God.—Sir Harry Lauder. Even human nature shivers a vacuum.—Gaber, W. Gabriel. Death is the stolon of the house of hope.—Dorothy Parker. Christian ethics are wisdom found save in the philosophy of some unbeliever.—Isaacson Brown.

FISH'S REPORT ON REDS EXPECTED TO INDICATE NO COMMUNISM FEAR By Charles F. Stewart (Central Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, who has been investigating Communism throughout the country during recent months, from all accounts intends to report to congress that he has not found enough of it to lose sleep about. Maybe, to be sure, his co-investigators will disagree with him. Fish was made chairman of a committee of representatives assigned by Speaker Longworth last spring to dig into radical activities. However, what the New Yorker says will carry more weight than the views of his entire group of associates put together. For in the three years he has specialized on the subject of the "red peril," compared with him, his fellow probers hardly know the A. B. C. of it. The investigation was his idea in the first place.

And now, "there is no Communist menace at the present time," Representative Fish is quoted as saying, following a session of his committee in Los Angeles—one of the latest of a long series of hearings it has held, from Manhattan island to the Pacific. In other words, the congressman from the Twenty-third district of New York has looked under the bed for Bolsheviki and failed to find any—failed to find them in alarming numbers, at all events. My impression is that this is unprecedented. There are statesmen, I am quite aware, who have consistently pooh-poohed the radical threat against the United States government—who refuse to pay any attention to it because they do not believe, and never did believe, that it amounts to anything. But so far as I can ascertain, Representative Fish's case is the first one of a prominent conservative who, once having fallen a victim to the Communist scare complex, has been able to get it out of his system by investigating and satisfying himself that there is no adequate ground for it.

The others, when they look under the bed, find what they are looking for. If it is not there, they find it anyway. Congressman Fish's proof of his ability to perform this exceptional feat of mental gymnastics seems to me to mark him as a really unusual individual. And, in fact, so he is. He is an ultra-conservative all right, but of a rare type—a type which I imagine even the Bolsheviki would want to preserve as a curiosity, if they could pull off their world revolution; the New Yorker is so peculiarly tolerant—with the emphasis on its peculiarly.

It is easy enough to understand Representative Fish's conservatism. He is one of the richest men in congress. He did not make his millions. He inherited them—and they were an accumulation extending backward some several generations. Naturally, the system "as is" suits Representative Fish perfectly. Indeed, it is vital to him—as much so as his heart or his liver: literally indispensable, if he is to go on living. We ordinary folk don't realize the intensity of a born multimillionaire's feeling toward his property—not chaps like Henry Ford, who acquired his own money and maybe could acquire a great deal again even yet, if he had to, but the ones to whom it is an indispensable ingredient in their conception of existence.

The most that the average non-millionaire can do is vaguely to sense this note of utter dependence on a huge fortune, in an occasional conversation with one of these congenial plutocrats—such a conversation as I had with Representative Fish last June, or thereabouts, just after his appointment as chairman of his committee on investigation of Communism. At that time he still regarded radicalism as perhaps a pressing danger.

Yet there was no hint of bitterness in the way he spoke of the reds. His plan, he explained, was to have them quarantined on an island; he was very specific about it, one of the Philippines. But he made it plain that he preferred a good, fertile, healthy, comfortable island—for, he insisted, he was dead against punishing them.

EXPLANATION OF SATURDAY'S CARTOON THE CONE OF FUJIYAMA, JAPAN

The great volcanic cones, whose majestic outlines command our awestruck admiration are nothing but the refuse heaps of eruptions, being composed from base to summit of lava and ashes. Such a one as Fujiyama, one of the most perfect cones in the world, is so light in texture that the surface, crags, and small precipitous walls actually bend under the pressure of the wind. Wood of 1933 Estrella Avenue, Los Angeles. The playing field has 146 squares and 48 checkers, and the quartet of players operate on "an every man for himself" basis, or play partners. Each player has three opponents who can jump his men from three sides. Checkers become kings when they reach the last row of squares directly opposite their own home territory, and kings may roam in any direction over the board, jumping the men of the other three players.

BEGIN HERE TODAY CELIA MITCHELL, 17, faces a new life when she leaves the home in Baltimore, where she has lived with her seamstress mother, MARGARET ROGERS, to join her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her grandmother in a stately New York dwelling. The girl had not even known her father was living. Until the day he came to the Baltimore apartment Celia had supposed BOB ROGERS, her mother's second husband, to be her father. Mitchell offered Celia a life of wealth and immediately everything changed. She left her mother, unaware that Margaret Rogers was seriously ill and she left newspaper photographer who swore that some day he and Celia would be married. She is lonely and ill at ease the first day in her new home. Late in the evening MRS. THOMAS MITCHELL, her aristocratic grandmother, sends for her. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIV Mrs. Thomas Worthington Mitchell bent over a desk writing. She heard the light tap on the side of the open door, looked up and beckoned to Celia to enter. Then she continued to write. Mrs. Mitchell's sitting room was at the front of the house on the second floor. It was much larger than Celia's room. The rug on the floor was from a Persian loom, and the furniture was elaborate in a style much admired in the last decades of the 19th century. A fireplace with marble mantel and a large mirror above centered one wall. At the left was a door which Celia decided led into Mrs. Mitchell's bedroom. With a staccato flourish she laid aside her pen. "Now, then," she said, in her sharp voice, "good morning, Celia. Come nearer and sit down. Though the white-haired woman seemed glasses, it was evident her eyesight was impaired, for she had a way of leaning forward and narrowing her eyes when speaking. "Good morning, grandmother," the girl answered primly. She arose, moving to a chair beside the large oak desk at which Mrs. Mitchell sat. "Sleep well?" the woman asked. "Oh, yes! I really didn't mean to stay in bed so late. I felt dreadfully to have missed breakfast!" "Humph—it's no matter! Always have breakfast served in my room, and your father doesn't take anything except coffee. Aline has orders to bring you breakfast at 9:30 each morning. That's a good sensible hour. Makes servants restless to have meal times changed around. She said it so sternly that Celia hastened to agree that a tray at 9:30 each morning would be entirely satisfactory. Mrs. Mitchell sat back in her chair. "Now that you're here," she said to the girl, "what are you going to do?"

A Little Story of an Occurrence Right Here in Lubbock

The father had cancer of the stomach: The mother was frail and delicate. This from worry and the want of food. The babies were ages three, five and seven. Little fellows, with no responsibility. No food and no future. They had spent weeks and weeks in Mineral Wells. Trying to regain some health for the father. They bore a letter from a sister in Wyoming. Telling them to come to Wyoming and they would be cared for. They were camped behind a sign-board for a wind break. With a pup tent for shelter. They had no food or bedding. Those little fellows. Think of it. The Mother, and Father. Just a little too proud. Too proud. But broke and hungry. And a thousand miles from home. They had a Model T. With one wheel gone and two rims ruined. The battery dead and the generator out. What a picture! Good folks just like you and I. But down. Down to the last ditch. The Salvation Army gave them some food and a couple of blankets. But they were still behind the sign board. Sick, discouraged. Three babies. A father and mother. Somebody's son and somebody's daughter. We have worked all day. ### Brother of Japanese Emperor Driven From Opera House by Stench Bombs

FRANKFORT-AM-MAIN, Germany, Oct. 20. (P)—Prince Takamatsu, brother of the Japanese emperor, and his consort were driven from the opera house here last night by stink bombs thrown by fascists.

The bombs, which were accompanied by cries of "halt Hitler" and "Germany Awake," were not directed at the royal visitors, but in protest at the opera, "Rise and Fall of the City Mahogany," nevertheless the prince and princess, rather puzzled, hastily left the auditorium amid considerable hubbub.

Auditorium Cleared

Police dragged out several disturbers during the performance and cleared the auditorium after the final curtain. Outside they dispersed a motting crowd. The real tumult began inside when demonstrators, evidently planted in various parts of the house, began yelling, whistling, chanting, and releasing their bombs.

The opera is by Kurt Weill and Bert Brecht. It described in modernistic words and music several daring scenes of a utopia of freedom founded by three fugitives from justice, a city where no one is prevented from doing anything.

The hero finally commits the crime no state can ignore—he fails to pay his bills and is electrocuted for bankruptcy. The fascists apparently objected to its political flavor and some of its orgastic scenes. There was a considerable fascist protest when the play had its premiere in Leipzig several months ago.

Students Will Hear Orchestra

Pupils of Lubbock and Nearby Schools to Attend Matinee Performance of Mexican Orchestra at Tech College

Pupils of Lubbock and nearby schools will attend a matinee performance of Torreblanca's Tipica Orchestra of Mexico in the Texas Technological college gymnasium at 3:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

As a result of inquiries from out-of-town schools concerning the matinee, the committee in charge of the Tech Artists course, of which the Tipica orchestra is the first number, decided to invite all teachers wishing to bring their pupils to the afternoon performance.

Music language, geography and history will be treated by Lubbock schools in connection with the appearance of the Mexican orchestra. As a result of the extension in the program for benefit of school children, nearby towns have expressed a desire to have their pupils attend the matinee.

Out-of-town pupils will be extended the same rate as that for Lubbock schools, or 25 cents each.

Court Refuses to Review Contest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (P)—The supreme court today refused to review a $6,000,000 suit against the estate of the late Edward W. Scripps, newspaper publisher brought by the widow of his son, James G. Scripps.

The money was claimed by Josephine S. Scripps, the widow, as compensation for the management of the newspaper properties by her husband from 1908 until the summer of 1920.

She contended that the father, Edward W. Scripps, had entered into an agreement with his two sons, James and John under which they were to receive one-half of the actual increase in the profits from the properties during their management.

A Democrat, Judge Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit filed for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan.

the estate of Edward W. Scripps contested the claim, and the sixth circuit court of appeals held that the compensation agreement between the father and his two sons was not a binding contract, enforceable at law, but that under it the father had reserved the right to change it at his pleasure.

Check Reveals Dope Observed In High Races

Westerners Rest This Week After Three Out-of-Town Victories; To Meet Sandies Here on November 1

This is a week of rest for Coaches Henry Franks and Bill Keeling and their Lubbock High school Westerners. After a successful race program which carried them to victories over Childress, Wichita Falls, and Electra, the locals desire and deserve a rest. They did not go to the practice field yesterday and will not go today, but will start tomorrow on the preparations for a big game next week when the Amarillo Sandies come to town on November 1 for what is considered one of the outstanding games of the entire state high school race.

Full of pep and ginger after their triumphant invasion of the Electra Tigers stronghold, the Westerners are due to be in fine shape for the Sandies, top notches in the district 1 race with a perfect record after four victories in as many conference starts. The Sandies will meet the Central High eleven of Fort Worth this week in a practice game, according to rumors from Amarillo. The locals have no game scheduled for this week, and will probably rest from all competition. A practice game with Brownfield has been discussed but no definite steps taken yet.

Dope Prevails In State Race

With four weeks gone in the Texas interscholastic league race, although some of the teams have not played a conference game so far, a check up reveals that pre-season dope is being followed rather closely. In district 1 it is the Amarillo Sandies, Pampa Harvesters, and Lubbock Westerners who appear to be leading the chase for honors in this loop. Wichita Falls, expected to be more or less in the race, has failed to show anything in the win column, but has gone down to three defeats in as many starts against conference competition. Lubbock runs a close second to Amarillo with one loss in four starts, but is considered to be in a virtual tie with Pampa for second place. Pampa stands at the halfway mark in the standings with one game won and one lost. The Harvesters, however, are due to win the remainder of their games and be in the race for running up position, or possibly the top run if Lubbock succeeds in downing Amarillo. The Vernon Lions stand third in the standing and may give somebody trouble yet. They have won two and lost one so far.

Four Ties In Oil Belt Loop

Over in the Oil Belt loop, District No. 2, four teams are deadlocked for the top position. Abilene, Cisco, Ranger, and Breckenridge have come through three games undefeated. San Angelo showed unusual power in defeating Texarkana, 40 to 0 in a nocturnal game Friday. Tyler's victory leaves the race in a three-way tie between Tyler, Athens, and Palestine with one victory each.

Five Undefeated in No. 7

Five undefeated clubs remain in the pennant chase of District 7. Four of the leaders, Sam Houston, Beaumont, John Reagan and Port Arthur have registered two league victories each, while Bell High of Galveston has won but one. All league games played last week were one-sided affairs. On Thursday night John Reagan blanked Millerville 26 to 0. Port Arthur nosed out Bryan, 26 to 13. Friday, while Sam Houston trimmed South Park, 23 to 7, and Sam Houston smothered Jeff Davis, 53 to 13 on Saturday.

Austin High Leads

Austin High's Maroons clung tenaciously to the topmost rung in the District 8 race this week after having administered Robstown a severe 26 to 13 drubbing while Breckenridge High of San Antonio stepped into undisputed possession of second place by virtue of a win over Laredo. This week will witness the first all-conference schedule of the season. Austin will defend its perfect record against Alamo Heights, who has won one and lost one. In the feature battle of the week, Robstown meets Main Avenue, while Breckenridge and Harlandale meet in San Antonio. Corpus Christi takes on the twice defeated Kerrville eleven while Laredo and Brownsville clash in a consolation match to decide the cellar position.

FIVE MEN KILLED

Five Seriously Hurt as Mine Cars Are Wrecked

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 20. (AP)—Two men were killed and a score injured, five seriously, today when cars carrying miners into the Sonman Shant Coal company mine at Sonman ran away and were wrecked.

The bodies of two unidentified white men were found in the wreckage. The five injured, seriously brought to hospitals here and others were treated at the mine.

Officials said they had not learned the cause of the accident.

Frank Waddy, a nifty outfield prospect with Memphis of the Southern association, couldn't make the base ball team in his high school days.

Arthur Reinking, Butler university won the mid-west small motorboat race on Lake Michigan at Chicago.

Matadors Will Face Them Saturday

Coach Francis Schmidt of the T. C. U. Horned Frog is pictured here with three of his leading pupils of 1930. Hinton has been the mainstay of the Christiana's backfield in passing and kicking, while Lambert and Butler have been playing great games at the guard positions. Some fear was felt at the start of the season by the Frogs that the 1930 line would not be as strong as that of 1929. Play to date has indicated that it is even stronger, if such a thing is possible. Lambert and Butler have been important cogs in this superior line.

Coaches of Grid Teams in East Deery Lack of Consistency in Cardinal Tilts Between Unmatched Teams for Practice

The Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—All the talk of lack of consistency in a big college football team that pours four or five eleven into a small college squad of an early Saturday in the fall fails to impress Lou Little, new head coach at Columbia.

He sat at the head of the training table in the old mansion that houses the small squad during the pigskin season with a half dozen young assistant coaches around him, and argued the matter fiercely. There was a variety of opinion, and Lou met with plenty of opposition, but the boss man, like an echo in the Alps, always has the final word.

Small Teams Want Big Games

"Small college teams insist on playing the big fellows in the early games," Little argued. "They don't want to schedule them unless they have the reasons for doing it. Either they believe they have a chance to score an upset and jump into fame or they want the big guarantee that goes with a licking."

Not So in Boxing

"All right. Now the rules of boxing wouldn't let Tunney send in a substitute for himself in the third or fourth round to carry on but the rules of football allow substitutes to go in there and the game is played according to the rules. Anyway if you couldn't take out the first team and send in substitutes the scores of those early season games would be doubled. The first string players are the best players and there is no way of keeping a college boy from scoring a touchdown if he gets the chance."

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 20.

—No trace had been found today of Frank Nash, 43-year-old trawler who escaped last night from the federal penitentiary here.

No Trace Found of Convict After Prison Break

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 20. (AP)—A local newspaper said today that many Paraguayans were joining the Brazilian revolution to fight against the federal government. Among those mentioned were the aviator Nudelmann and Captain Laureano Vasquez. The states of Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catharina, and Parana are just across the border from Paraguay.

JOIN REVOLUTION

ABUJONIA, Paraguay, Oct. 20. (AP)—A local newspaper said today that many Paraguayans were joining the Brazilian revolution to fight against the federal government. Among those mentioned were the aviator Nudelmann and Captain Laureano Vasquez. The states of Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catharina, and Parana are just across the border from Paraguay.

A Waste of Time

"There's no use arguing, football would be a better game if the big colleges scheduled major opponents right from the start of the season. Let the little fellows play the little fellows, and the big ones the big ones. Notre Dame does it and gets away with it. So do the big west coast teams, California, Southern Cal, and Washington State, for instance. The Big Ten doesn't waste a lot of time and development fooling-around with minor opposition."

Many Substitutions

Out in the Big Six conference, where football teams would rather lose to a good eleven than beat a poor one, there are no controversial substitutions or the practice of the mighty slaughtering the weak in early season games.

The problem out that way is man power, according to Gwin Henry, head coach last eight years of Michigan's Tigers, a team that has

Picadors Give Frog Plays to Varsity Today

Special Train with 1,000 or More to Run to Fort Worth Friday Night; Frog Mentor to Use Sophomores

A more or less arduous and lengthy scrimmage session is in store for the pupils of Coaches Cashion, Morgan, Goightly and Smith this afternoon, with the Matadors thrown on the defense against Texas Christian University Horned Frog offensive tactics as brought out on the local grid by the fish proteges of Coach Dutchey Smith.

Yesterday was a day of individual practice and defensive drill for the varsity cohorts and a day of learning for the frosh. Armed with cardboard charts of T. C. U. plays as noted by Tech's official scout, Grip Goightly, the freshman mentor called his charges to one end of the field and instructed them in the intricacies of about a dozen Frog offensive plays. Today they will exercise them against the varsity and every day this week.

Picadors Want More

The Picadors, by the way, desire a game this week-end and not having one scheduled, they are cavailing about prospective grid-iron enemies. Negotiations are under way to schedule a game with Terrill Prep of Dallas. If this fails to come through, they will try to make arrangements with the McMurry College freshmen, Canyon Teachers Yearlings, or any other good junior college or senior college freshman team. Coaches of any team interested are urged to get in touch with Dutchey Smith at Tech.

Big Showing in Ft. Worth

Plans are going forward with increasing favor for the proposed out-of-town celebration for Lubbock students and townspeople this week-end, when the Tech Matadors clash with the T. C. U. Horned Frogs at Fort Worth. A special train bearing upwards of 1,000 Tech students and Lubbock citizens will leave Lubbock Friday night at 9:30 arriving in Fort Worth at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. An especially low rate of $6.50 for the round trip has been offered by the Fort Worth and Denver railway company, and it is thought that a large number of local inhabitants will take advantage of the opportunity to see the Matadors in the second game played on the new $350,000 T. C. U. stadium.

Standard Pullman Service

A great reduction in rates will be offered, with 12 sleepers included in the Texas Tech special. The return trip will be made Saturday night and Sunday, the train leaving Fort Worth at 11:30 Saturday night and arriving in Lubbock around 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The train will stop at Childress at 6 o'clock Sunday morning where special arrangements have been made to serve breakfast to all of the passengers. Four hotels and cafes have been designated for the exclusive use of the passengers and a big breakfast will be served.

Tickets On Sale At Tech

Tickets for the game were placed on sale yesterday at the office of the Tech business manager. They may be purchased at the administration building. Student tickets will be sold for $1, and officials

Young Stars to Play For T. C. U. Saturday

PORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 20. (AP)—Texas Christian University's flock of young stars who got little or no exercise last Saturday, will get an opportunity to show their wares this week when the Frogs meet the Matadors of Texas Tech here Red Oliver, Lucy Phelps, Doc Summer, Buster Brannon and Hubert Dennis are due to be called upon while Hinton, LeGrand, Griffith and Spearman take a rest.

SENTENCED TO DIE

MOSCOW, Oct. 20. (AP)—One person was sentenced to death today and 74 others given various terms in prison after their conviction of graft in food and clothing sales here. Most of the defendants were private traders, speculators and employees of the government retail shops.

80,000 Saw This

announce that a block of nearly 200 specialty reserved seats for Lubbock citizens will be placed on sale at the business managers of the stadium. These are expected to go fast, due to the limited number, and will be sold for $1.00. Railroad tickets will also be on sale, starting this morning at the administration building on the campus and at the Port Worth and Denver ticket office. No tickets will be sold down town for the game.

Tech faculty members and the local railroad agents are cooperating in making the proposed trip one of the most interesting and entertaining of several years, and announce that plans are being carried out according to expectation.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by William Braucher

Scouts Disagree

One of the scouts assigned to get the lowdown on Notre Dame reported to Judge Wally Steffen, Carnegie Tech's absentee coach, that the Irish were very hot. Another scout reported the team was terrible. Just what is a coach to do with a couple of reports like that?

Rockne's Judgment

Most coaches are spotting when they tell you their team is going to lose to dead old Minnesota Saturday. But two years ago, Knute Rockne told the public that his football team was going to lose four games. They lost four games.

Long Puts Easier

Perhaps it may not have occurred to you, but it is easier to stroke properly a putt 12 to 15 feet from the cup than a putt four or five feet away. The reason is in the player himself, who is more likely to fear that he will miss the short one than the long one. At least, we have the authority of Bobby Jones for the theory.

When Rockne Played

In one of the first games Knute Rockne played, in the old days when equipment was poor and the game was rough, a guard suffered a serious injury and they strapped a whole roll of adhesive tape around him. They had only one roll of tape, so when another player was injured a while later they had to take the tape off the first guy and strap it around the second. Knute reveals this and other interesting things about old time football in his autobiography "From Norway to the Stars."

A Tennis-Playing Family

Film Queens Star in Love Tangles

It seems that a movie queen nowadays just can't make up her mind, even about the same man. Above is Pola Negri, once the fiancee of Rudolph Valentino, who has just filed a second divorce suit in Paris courts against Prince Serge Mdivani left after withdrawing the first one and effecting a temporary reconciliation. Below are Alan Roscoe, stage star, and Barbara Bedford, the actress who were first married in 1921, divorced in 1928 and now have announced plans to re-wed at Los Angeles. "It takes a divorce as well as a marriage to make a man and woman understand each other," was their naive explanation.
