Ask Us

Q. — Is there going to be a 30-year school reunion this year for Snyder High School?

A. — High school officials indicate they have received similar inquiries, but that they know of no definite plans for a reunion of the Class of 1956. The SDN has not received any news articles related to such a reunion either.

In Brief

Court rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special three-judge federal court today struck down as unconstitutional a central provison of the new law designed to balance the budget within five years.

But the judges delayed the effect of their ruling pending an anticipated appeal to the Supreme Court.

If upheld, today's ruling said the first $11.7 billion round of spending cuts under Gramm-Rudman, ordered by President Reagan to take effect March 1, is "hereby declared without legal force and effect."

The three-judge panel unanimously overturned the section of the Gramm-Rudman law requiring that mandatory, across-the-board spending cuts be triggered when Congress fails to meet specified deicit-reduction targets.

Libyan decree

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Moammar Khadafy announced today he has ordered his air force to intercept any Israeli civilian airliner within range over the Mediterranean and force it to land at a Libyan air base.

The Libyan leader told a news conference any Israeli planes forced down would be searched for "Israeli terrorists," mentioning such names as former Prime Minister Menachem Begin or former Defense Minister Ariel Sharon.

Speaking to reporters in his private office in Azizia army barracks, Khadafy said the order was in retaliation for the seizure of a Libyan plane Tuesday by Israeli jets. The Israelis forced an executive jet to land, but released the plane and its passengers when they found no Palestinian guerrillas on board.

Women ok'd

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The men-only policy of Kiwanis International can be considered as offensive as a whites-only policy, a judge has ruled in upholding a woman's membership in a New Jersey chapter of the international service organization.

U.S. District Judge H. Lee Sarokin issued his ruling Thursday in a case brought by the Indianapolis, Ind.-based Kiwanis against its Ridgewood chapter, where Julie Fletcher, a 45-year-old businesswoman, has been a member for two years.

2 towers to entail 'big' job

By NOBLE B. YOUNG
SDN Staff Writer

There are big jobs and there are "big" jobs.

This week, Chevron U.S.A. began work on a refitting project at the SACROC C02 removal facility located adjacent to the Sun plant west of Snyder.

The project involves replacing the plant's two towers — each 110 ft. high, weighing some 65 tons and measuring 13 ft. in diameter.

Because of their size, the columns were brought to Scurry County by rail. Wednesday afternoon, workers began the two-day task of moving them from the railroad siding to the plant site.

A special truck with a two-piece trailer arrangement was required to move the towers.

According to Chevron engineer Rick Cohagen, actual placement of the towers within the plant will require a crane so large that it will have to be shipped to Snyder in pieces using 21 18-wheeler trucks.

Altogether, the refitting project is expected to take about a month to complete.

The towers are used at the Sun plant during the process which mixes the incoming field gas with a solution of potassium carbonate to extract the C02.

TOWER ON THE MOVE — Chevron and contract workers began Wednesday afternoon the slow process of moving this 110 ft. tower from its delivery point to the SACROC C02 removal plant. Two such towers will be installed, each weighing 65 tons and measuring 13 ft. in diameter. They are being installed as replacements at the Sun plant west of the city. (SDN Staff Photo)

Winter blast hits Texas Panhandle

by The Associated Press

A winter storm dropped up to nine inches of snow on the Texas Panhandle early today and brought freezing rain to the South Plains.

The temperature dropped to about 28 in Pampa, where schools were closed in light of more than five inches of snow.

The National Weather Service said nine inches of snow dropped on Borger and that seven inches were on the ground this morning in Amarillo.

Radar reports showed the heaviest snowfall in the eastern portion of the Panhandle. The Weather Service warned that travel would be extremely hazardous due to blowing and drifting snow.

The upper air disturbance induced clouds, rain and snow over the high and low rolling plains. The National Weather Service said a weak front was stationary from southeastern New Mexico to near Lubbock and Childress.

The Weather Service posted a travelers advisory for slick roads because of subfreezing temperatures and snowfall.

Duvalier flees Haiti

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Embattled President-for-Life Jean-Claude Duvalier left Haiti for France today on a U.S. Air Force plane, relinquishing power over the impoverished Caribbean nation his family had ruled for 28 years.

"I have decided to pass the destiny of the nation into the hands of the military ... so a bloodbath be avoided for my people," Duvalier said in a taped message broadcast on national television and radio at 7:20 a.m., almost four hours after he left the country.

National television and radio said a military-civilian council headed by army chief of staff Gen. Henri Namphy had taken charge.

In Washington, the U.S. State Department confirmed Duvalier was headed for temporary asylum in France and said the Air Force plane was provided at the 34-year-old Duvalier's request.

France's Foreign Ministry, however, said no country had yet agreed to permanently accept Duvalier.

Duvalier's flight came one week after the White House erroneously reported he had fled the country, prompting him to declare he was "strong as a monkey's tail." His authoritarian government had been the target of mounting protests since last November, including riots last week in which as many as 50 people were killed.

Duvalier said in his taped message that his decision to leave "permits a peaceful and rapid solution to the current crisis."

The capital, Port-au-Prince, was calm today following Duvalier's departure. Telephone and telex communications apparently had been cut with the outside world, Associated Press correspondents reported by ham radio.

A 21-gun salute was fired as members of the new governing council stood on the steps of the presidential palace. People gathered in the area shouted with joy.

Lite said 23 people accompanied Duvalier out of the country, including his family.

Billboard law endangers 'new' signs

By DONNY BROWN
SDN Managing Editor

New outdoor signs in Scurry County may well be a thing of the past.

And signs that are located beside highways and roads other than U.S. Hwys. 84 and 180 plus State Hwy. 350 are now subject to be torn down unless their owners heeded a call to register them prior to Dec. 31.

Both provisions are part of a new state law passed by the Texas Legislature which actually went into effect Sept. 1, 1985.

A grace period of 120 days was allowed, however, a deadline which passed on the last day of 1985.

Signs not affected include those located within the boundary of a city. Also not affected in Scurry County are signs along U.S. Hwy 84 to Lubbock and Sweetwater; U.S. 180 to Lamesa and Roby; and State Hwy. 350 to Big Spring.

These signs were already registered and licensed with the state under 1972 legislation called the Highway Beautification Control Act.

The new law, however, does two things. It brings existing signs built beside other roadways in Scurry County under the registration rule; and it places more stringent guidelines on all new signs which might be built in the future.

Sign owners in the first category could have "grandfathered" their signs in by registering them with the state prior to Dec. 31. This would have allowed them to avoid the more stringent requirements now set down.

Those who did not are now supposed to remove their signs.

Local enforcement of the law is the responsibility of the right-of-way department for the regional office of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation which serves Scurry and 13 other West Texas counties.

Fred Stacy, right of way agent for the Abilene-based office, noted that this enforcement will be conducted mainly "as we encounter signs that don't comply."

"Our main problem now is we don't have an inventory of what signs are out there," he noted, adding, "and we don't have the manpower to drive every road in a 13-county area to establish one."

He noted the only record of signs lists those built along the highways which came under the Highway Beautification Control Act of 1972 — signs now in compliance with the law.

On other highways — such as State Hwy. 280 to Colorado City here — "people could just go out

Building permits decline

New construction in Snyder is running at approximately one-half the rate compared to this time last year with four months of the fiscal year now elapsed.

At the end of January, new construction estimates totaled some $1.7 million in the city. The same period last year — which entails from Oct. 1-Jan. 31 — produced some $3.3 million in new building estimates.

Last month also produced only one application for a new residence, bringing the four-month total to seven.

The total new construction

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Walter Buckel, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, commented on last week's space tragedy.

"Had we lived in Russia, we probably would not have known about it until the weekend. We would have been told what the government wanted to tell us regarding a tragedy of this magnitude.

"While it was not a pleasant sight, Americans had the opportunity to witness the peril of space travel. You saw it as vividly as memory can possibly record it in your mind.

"...We find ourselves realizing that space travel is not routine; it is not without risk; it is not so casual as we have taken it in recent years..."

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, also agrees that the United States is a wonderful place.

"We have the only judicial system in the world where they lock up the jury at night and let the defendant go home."

In a similar vein, the U.S. is the only country in the world that permits its elected representatives to spend $88 million on letters to constituents back home.

In those letters, congressmen tell us we must have a tax increase if we intend to curtail the federal deficit. Those same letters, mailed at taxpayer expense, inform us there are no easy places to cut.

Stenholm to address journalists

A noon address by U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm will be the highlight of activities scheduled here Saturday as part of the mid-winter meeting of the West Texas Press Association.

Stenholm's appearance will be part of a noon luncheon at Willow Park Inn.

Activitites related to the convention began Friday morning with registration at Willow Park.

Friday activities were to include a welcome by Jack Denman, president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, and two afternoon workshop sessions.

1987 budget...

Reagan warned to negotiate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's top budget officials are getting blunt warnings from Congress that the president may be left behind this year unless he "cuts the baloney" and agrees to negotiate new spending priorities.

Treasury Secretary James A. Baker III and White House Budget Director James C. Miller defended the $994 billion spending proposal before the House Appropriations Committee on Thursday, but ran into a wall of bipartisan skepticism.

Rep. David Obey, D-Wis., chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on foreign aid, singled out the budget's proposed foreign aid increases as unrealistic in the context of heavy domestic spending cuts.

"Whoever put this budget together for foreign aid has to be out of their cotton pickin' minds," Obey said, noting the foreign package would find little support on Capitol Hill.

"There's no way on God's green earth you're going to get more than 20 percent of the members of Congress — at least in the House — when you're savaging what's happening for our own (programs)," he said.

Obey, echoing comments of other panel members, said Reagan's proposed increases in foreign aid and defense, at the expense of items such as cancer and AIDS research, will prove to be at sharp odds with the desires of most Americans.

He told Baker: "All I ask you sir, is to cut the baloney, and get to this 'Grand Compromise' — put it together now, instead of in October when we'll have to do it in such a hurry we'll probably screw it up."

Baker, while insisting again that there is no room for budget negotiation that includes defense cuts or tax increases, tried to persuade committee members that taking Reagan's prescription this year would cure the nation's deficit ills by 1991 without further cuts.

"If we are willing to do these things the president is asking us to do, we can see this budget balanced — zero — in 1991," he said. "The president's budget represents a very balanced and reasonable approach, if we have the courage and will to make it work."

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger defended the increased spending asked for his department, telling the Senate Budget Committee that it is necessitated by a continuing Soviet military buildup. Committee Chairman Pete Domenici, R-N.M., suggested the Pentagon "could live ... with a smaller increase."

Reagan himself, asked about reports that his one-day-old budget was already dead in Congress, also maintained the hard line. "We'll give it artificial respiration," he joked.

House Minority Whip Trent Lott, R-Miss., predicted that Republicans unhappy with the White House version would draft their own budget within two weeks that gives less to defense and more to domestic programs for middle-class Americans.

Former secretary is back in USA

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Ma Anand Sheela, former personal secretary to Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, and two other former leaders of his sect returned to the United States on Thursday to face charges that include trying to kill the guru's doctor.

Sheela, 36, and Ma Anand Puja, 38, flew from Frankfurt, West Germany, to New York, then left on a second flight scheduled to arrive here Thursday night.

Sheela's plane was diverted to Seattle-Tacoma International Airport because of fog. She and three U.S. marshals later flew to Portland, where Sheela was the last person off. She was put in a car to go to the Justice Center jail.

Puja arrived at the Justice Center jail Thursday night after stops in Atlanta and Salt Lake City, authorities said.

Ma Shanti Bhadra, 40, arrived in Portland from Chicago, where she had changed planes, and was was taken to the Justice Center jail.

Woman Looks for Body Shop To Give Her Better Chassis

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that in Hollywood if an actress is good for a part but needs a few alterations (physically), they can fix just about anything? I read somewhere that if a woman is skinny or has bony parts, she can be filled in with silicone. Like in that song from "A Chorus Line," "T and A Is Where It's At." Well, I have plenty of "T" and "A," but the calves of my legs are very thin and my knees are bony. The rest of me is just fine, but my legs are so shapeless I hate to show them.

Plastic surgeons can perform miracles with a face-lift, so why should giving a woman shapely calves be so difficult? Where can I find a doctor who does this kind of work? I have the funds to handle it, so that's no problem.

Please don't give me any lectures about how I should be satisfied with what I've got. I've heard plenty of those. At 39, I'm old enough to know what I want.

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Now that you've rejected my intuitive advice, here's my next choice. Consult with three of the top plastic surgeons in your area. (If you don't know who they are, contact your county association of plastic and reconstructive surgeons, and request referrals.) Discuss your desires with all three of these doctors, then make your decision.

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more letter from a waitress? (Don't worry, it's not about tipping.) If one more customer comes into the lounge where I work and asks me to serve an underage child an alcoholic beverage—or orders two drinks and gives one to the child, then says, "Don't worry, I'll take the responsibility"—I don't know what I'll do.

What I'd really like to do is slap them upside the head and maybe knock some sense into them! If they realized what the penalties are for serving minors, they'd never ask me to do it.

Are they willing to serve my possible jail term, or pay up to $2,000 for my possible fine? Would they be willing to reimburse the restaurant lounge for the money it would lose if its liquor license were suspended?

Abby, please tell parents who allow their underage children to drink, to do it in their own homes and not expect the cooperation of a bartender or waitress. Thanks. By printing this you may have saved my job and my sanity.

HAD IT IN FLORIDA

DEAR HAD IT: When you're asked to serve someone who appears to be underage, ask to see his/her identification. If an adult offers to accept the responsibility, say, "The responsibility is not transferable ... it's mine." Period.

DEAR ABBY: I'm so glad you told that man who had fallen in love with a young lady's voice over the telephone to go ahead and meet her. I would just like to say that you can never tell where a phone call will lead.

A good friend of mine from high school attended the U.S. Air Force Academy where I'd call him occasionally to see how things were going. As cadets do not have phones in their rooms, my calls were answered at the squadron desk by the cadet working there, one cadet in particular began to recognize my voice, and I liked his. We exchanged pictures and letters for four months, and when we finally met face to face, we felt as though we'd known each other for years.

We are now engaged and plan to be married after he completes pilot's training.

An artist in pain

ATLANTA (AP) — Pierre Auguste Renoir, the French Impressionist painter, was born Feb. 25, 1841, and this year marks the 145th anniversary of his birth.

Few people realize that Renoir painted some of his most important works with hands that were badly crippled with arthritis. In his later works, Renoir seemed to focus on dexterity and the use of the hands.

"Jean Renoir, the Artist's Son," painted in 1900, shows a young boy doing needlework. The year before his death in 1919, Renoir painted "Woman Tying Her Shoe."

Today, as in Renoir's day, there is no cure for most kinds of arthritis, says the Arthritis Foundation. But, it adds, modern medication and treatment methods can prevent or delay much of the pain and deformity arthritis can cause.

PERFORMING AT VALENTINE DINNER — The Western Texas College Choral Department will be performing at Martha Ann Woman's Club for a Valentine dinner on Feb. 13 at 7 p.m. The dinner is for all woman's clubs, participating clubs and guests. Sesquicentennial display at library

In continuing its Sesquicentennial displays, the Scurry County Library is highlighting women's contributions to Texas this month. The display case contains a variety of antiques relating to women's work and play, and books and booklists are available on the many aspects of women in Texas.

The antique display is on loan from Pearl Allen, an avid collector and sometime dealer. Mrs. Allen has been collecting for about 10 years and has the shop "Wagon Wheel" which is open by appointment, or by chance.

She got into the antique business when she bought two items, went "nuts", and within six months had changed everything in her home. She "purchased things she liked, used them in her home, and at times sold them." Kitchen primitives are her specialty.

Allen says she does not try to date things exactly, but most of the items presently on display at the library are from the turn-of-the-century period. The exhibit includes a dresser set, fans, kitchen items, curling iron, glove stretcher, kerosene lamp, glasses, and a man's cuff and collar box. Allen is a native of Louisiana and has lived in Snyder since 1949.

More than books

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Some libraries collect more than books.

The Department of Rare Books and Special Collections at the University of Rochester's Rush Rhees Library, for example, houses a fruit knife that belonged to feminist Susan B. Anthony, a lock of abolitionist Frederick Douglass' hair, and even the gun butt that Marlon Brando carried in the 1976 movie "Missouri Breaks."

Usually such keepsakes are donated as part of a collection of an author's work.

Opening lead: ♦ 7

I don't recommend making a takeout double with only ace-small in one of the unbid suits, but North had such a strong hand that there was little chance that South would crowd the bidding by jumping in spades. North's subsequent jump to three clubs was not completely forcing, but it showed a very strong hand. South was happy to bid three no-trump. Having reached the right contract, declarer now had the responsibility of bringing it home safely.

If you assume that the seven of diamonds was a fourth-best lead, West would be left with the A-K-9 and probably some others. Declarer could survive if West later won the lead, but it would be disastrous if a trick had to be given up to East, for then a diamond would be returned through declarer's 10-8-4. The plan of attack therefore was to develop the club suit for tricks without letting the dangerous hand on lead. Since declarer did not need all six club tricks for his contract, he could afford to give up a club trick. That caution paid an extra dividend.

Declarer went to dummy with a high heart and played a low club. When East followed low, South played the eight. That held the trick. Next came the queen of clubs and then back to dummy for the remaining club tricks. By playing ultra-safe declarer had even managed to score an overtrick.

Here's the Answer

BY ANDY LANG

Q — Every so often I see a reference to channel type pliers. I can't find a definition for it. Can you help me?

A — Channel type pliers open very wide to grip larger objects than most pliers. They also have more flexible adjusting pivots to permit holding items with different shapes.

Q — In using gypsum wallboard, will one coat of the special compound for covering joints be sufficient?

A — It is better to use two coats, spaced at least 12 hours between coats.

Q — I soon will have to refinish a hardwood floor. When I rent a floor sander, must I also rent an edge sander?

A — You can get by without one, but it will mean more work in sanding by hand close to baseboards, corners and the like. Actually, even if you rent an edger, you will have to do a bit of hand sanding where the edger will not fit. For the best job, use a drum sander, an edger and a hand sander.

On Feb. 4, 1966, all 133 persons aboard an All-Nippon Airways plane were killed when the craft crashed into Tokyo Bay. It was the worst singleplane disaster in aviation history to that time.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D

Counseling can be helpful

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had a hysterectomy two years ago because of fibroid tumors. The doctors also removed two healthy ovaries and my appendix. Since then, I've had no interest in sex. Even though I wasn't that sex-crazy before, now I can't stand my husband's touch. I am taking Premarin 0.125. What can I do, outside of divorce?

DEAR READER — The problem you describe is, unfortunately, all too common. Let's deal with the surgical aspects first.

You had what is technically called a hystosalpingo-oophorectomy. This means that the organs which are required for conception were removed. (Your appendectomy was incidental — a wise procedure, to your surgeon's credit, because you no longer have an appendix that can become inflamed and possibly require another operation.) You were left with the remainder of your reproductive tract. Sexual fulfillment does not require either a uterus or ovaries. Therefore, your surgery — although extensive — played absolutely no role in your present lack of sexual interest. When faced with hysterectomy, many women fear the loss of sexual urge. This fear is groundless, for if the surgery is properly performed, it will in no way alter a woman's desire or ability. Women who experience post-hysterectomy loss of libido are usually responding to psychological factors.

You appear to be motivated to get to the root of your sexual dysfunction. I think you could be helped by some professional counseling in working through your aversion to sex. A sex therapist might be useful; you could find one by making inquires at your local hospital. Also, many psychiatrists and psychologists may enable you to identify the fears, apprehensions, anxieties or anger that may be preventing you from obtaining sexual enjoyment.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm 10 years old. I get fever blisters constantly. Do you know what I could do to get rid of them for good?

DEAR READER — I'm sorry to tell you that there is no cure for fever blisters or cold sores. However, a new product called Zovirax may help lessen the severity of your attacks. Ask your parents to take you to your doctor and ask him or her what can be done.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I was told recently that I am allergic to milk. The nurse in my doctor's office told me that I couldn't have yogurt because it's a milk product. I thought I could because it's lactose-free. What's the story?

DEAR READER — If you are allergic to the milk sugar, lactose, yogurt that contains predigested lactose is all right for you to eat. So is milk treated with the commercial product called LactAid, which can be added to regular milk to reduce its lactose content. Lactose-reduced milk and cheeses are also available in some areas. On the other hand, if you are sensitive to non-lactose milk constituents, you will have to avoid milk products altogether. I believe you need to define exactly which milk component you are allergic to.

If you have questions about MENOPAUSE, you can get answers in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send 75 cents plus a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on Menopause.

Jetliner engines inspection ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airlines have been told of a new potential problem with the industry's most widely used jet engine — the Pratt & Whitney JT8D — after 35 reports of serious cracks being found, including two cases in which the engines broke apart.

The Federal Aviation Administration ordered new inspections of most of the engines Thursday and gave airlines a timetable under which the examinations must be made, depending on how many startups the engine has had.

The inspections can be performed without taking the engine apart or removing it from the plane, so FAA and industry officials said they do not expect a disruption of air service.

During the past year a number of problems have emerged with the Pratt & Whitney JT8D engine, which for years has had a good safety record.

The FAA previously had ordered inspections related to turbine spacers breaking apart and cracking problems inside the engine's combustion chamber. Turbine spacers separate the compressor fans which pull air into the engine to be mixed with fuel and burned.

FAA spokesman Fred Farrar said the new directive involves the exterior sleeve of the combustion chamber and is not related to the earlier cracking problem involving the interior of the chamber.

Last year, a failure inside the combustion chamber of a JT8D engine led to a fire aboard a British Airtours aircraft that killed 55 people in Manchester, England. The failure of turbine spacers on another JT8D engine on a Midwest Express DC-9 led to the September 1985 crash that killed 31 in Milwaukee.

More than 9,000 JT8D engines are used by U.S airlines. One of every two commercial U.S. jetliners is powered by the engine, including most Boeing 737s, Boeing 727s and McDonnell Douglas DC-9s.

The order, which applies to all but one class of the JT8D engines, calls on airlines to make the inspections within the next 200 cycles, or startups, on older engines. The order calls for inspections on various long-term time schedules for the newer engines.

The FAA said tests have determined the rear flange area of the metal sleeve that covers the combustion chamber of the engine is suceptible to high stress and that 35 incidents of fatigue cracks forming in that area have been reported.

One of the most serious incidents involved an Eastern Airlines DC-9 last Oct. 20 at Tampa, Fla., which had one of its engines break apart during takeoff. The pilot continued the takeoff and then returned for an emergency landing. Another serious incident, according to the FAA, involved a Delta Air Lines jet in early 1985, although no further details were available.

No one was injured in either incident, the agency said.

White concerned about restrictions

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White says eliminating tax-exempt bonds could bring to a halt the $1.2 billion statewide water plan approved by Texas voters in November.

White urged President Reagan to reconsider proposed restrictions on certain tax-exempt bonds, saying:

"We cannot go forward with the plan's water and sewer projects, which the state desperately needs.

Bishop to visit Episcopal church on February 16

The Rt. Rev. Sam B. Hulsey, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas, will make his annual visitation to St. John's Church here on Feb. 16. Current plans are for the bishop to officiate at the regular 11 a.m. communion service, with the addition of commissioning St. John's newly appointed bishop's committee (vestry). A special called meeting of the committee will also be held with the bishop immediately following the service.

This coming week Fr. Malcolm Slayter will officiate at the Sunday communion service, then return on Feb. 12 for a special non-communion Ash Wednesday service at 7 p.m.

For this service, St. John's will also be hosting the congregation of All Saints Church in Colorado City. Members are reminded that no supper will be held on Ash Wednesday, a day of fasting and special devotion which begins the season of Lent. Beginning Feb. 19, the regular Vespers Service will resume, followed by Lenten suppers for the duration of the season.

U. N. plan is rejected by U. S.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States vetoed a Security Council resolution that would have condemned Israel's interception of a Libyan civilian plane, but said that it deplored the Israeli action.

Ten of the 15 U.N. council members supported the resolution and four U.S. allies — Britain, France, Denmark and Australia — abstained in Thursday's vote that came after three days of often heated debate on a Syrian-Libyan complaint.

The Libyan executive jet intercepted by Israeli warplanes over the Mediterranean on Tuesday and held in Israel for five hours turned out to be carrying nine Syrian and Lebanese politicians and not, as Israel suspected, Palestinian guerrilla leaders.

U.S. Ambassador Vernon A. Walters told Security Council delegates before casting the veto that "although the United States opposes Israel's action in this case," it rejected the resolution because it failed to take into account that interception of a plane might be justified in some cases.

In October, U.S. warplanes intercepted an Egyptian airliner carrying the hijackers of the Italian cruise liner Achille Lauro.

The resolution, Walters said, "does not take into sufficient account the need to address practically and appropriately the overriding issue: terrorism."

While supporting the principle of safeguarding civil aviation, "we believe that there may arise exceptional circumstances in which an interception may be justified," Walters said.

"We believe a state should intercept a civilian aircraft only on the basis of the strongest and clearest evidence that terrorists are on board.

Ask The Preacher

"...what about tithing?"

By Randall Gray

The word "tithing" refers to giving (as contribution) one tenth of your income.

This was a specific requirement under the Law of Moses (Lev. 27: 30-32) and, as such, the Jews were obligated to do so. But it is this very idea of obligation, of being compelled and required to give a certain percentage–that we find conspicuously absent from Christian instructions about giving.

In fact, the great apostle Paul goes so far as to say this:

> "Let each one do just as he has purposed in his heart; not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." (2 Cor. 9:7)

Well, since tithing was compulsory, this passage eliminates it from Christian practice.

But wait! Did God expect more from Jews (in this matter of giving) than He does from Christians? I don't think so. The big difference is, God wants Christians to give because they want to, not because they must.

Remember, Paul also said, "...he who sows sparingly, shall also reap sparingly." (2 Cor. 9:6)

Lady Tigers look for 20th victory again this evening

Snyder's Lady Tigers would like to close out the 1985-86 season with their 20th victory here tonight, but they'll have to defeat a scrappy Fort Stockton team to do it.

Tipoff for the game, at Snyder High School Gym, has been moved up a half-hour to 7:30. A junior varsity contest will start at 6.

Snyder's boys also play the Panthers tonight but will vie at the regular 6:30 and 8 o'clock starting times. Those games will be held in Fort Stockton.

Ken Housden's ladies go into tonight's game here with a 19-5 overall record. They are 8-5 in District 2-4A play.

Sweetwater has already clinched the district championship and Andrews has copped the runnersup berth into the playoffs.

Fort Stockton is 11-16 overall and 3-10 in conference play. The Lady Panthers were defeated earlier in the year by Snyder, 71-37.

In other girl's games, Monahans (7-15, 4-9) is at Sweetwater (27-1, 13-0) while Andrews (19-4, 11-2) plays Lake View (13-14, 6-7) in San Angelo and Pecos (4-19, 0-13) is at Lamesa (12-14, 7-6).

Snyder's boys need a win tonight to set up a confrontation with Andrews on Tuesday. The Tigers are 8-3 in 2-4A play, a game behind Andrews. Snyder is 17-6 overall.

Fort Stockton goes into the contest with a season record of 9-18. The Panthers, which were defeated by Snyder earlier 85-62, are 2-9 in conference play.

Other boy's games tonight have Monahans (13-13, 3-8) at Sweetwater (4-7, 4-7); Lamesa (23-4, 11-0) at Pecos (12-10, 6-5); and Lake View (10-16, 1-10) at Andrews (26-2, 9-2).

Odessa slams WTC Dusters

ODESSA -- Odessa College's Lady Wranglers showed why they are the top ranked juco team in the country here Thursday as they brushed off the Dusters of Western Texas 101-74.

"I've seen the University of Texas play and if they are number one, then Odessa is number two," said WTC Coach Kelly Chadwick. "I don't think the University of Texas could have beaten them last night."

Odessa vaulted to 24-0 on the season and 8-0 in Western Junior College Conference play with the win. Western, which returns home to host Clarendon College on Monday, fell to 20-7 and 6-2. Four of the Dusters' seven losses this season have been to teams ranked in the top 20 - including three losses to Odessa.

Thursday's loss was the biggest of Chadwick's career, in terms of points given up to another team.

"I don't think Odessa can play any better than they played Thursday night. I do think we can play better than we played. I don't think we played very smart and I haven't looked at the video but I think they killed us on the boards," said Chadwick.

The coach said foul trouble plagued the shorter Duster team but it was Odessa's diversified attack that made the difference.

"When we'd cover their peremiter people they'd get the ball inside to Doreatha (Conwell) and when we tried to double up on her they were shooting lights out from the outside."

Cowell, a sure pick for all-American honors, scored 31 points for the game, but only 2 in the second half.

"We did a good job on her in the second half," said Chadwick of the 6-3 sophomore, "but when we did that, other people took up the slack for them real well. I think they are a better team than they were last year."

Five Lady Wranglers scored in double figures, including Donna Wilson, who had 22 points; Rene Daughtery, who scored 18; Patrice Purvey, 12; and 6-2 Nedra Ware, 10.

"I thought Brenda (Welch) and AJ (Angela Jeans) did a real good job. Pam (Cox) and Gigi (Robinson) didn't have a very good game though," the coach added.

Welch, a 5-10 freshman, scored 32 points for WTC while Jeans popped a season high of 20. The 5-8 sophomore was 14 of 14 from the line.

"Strangly enough, we were 26 of 30 from the free throw line and as you know that's been our nemisis all year. Why we would do so well from the line in a game like this, I don't know," said Chadwick.

Cox scored 12 points - almost six points below her average. Five other girls pitched in 2 points each.

"What we've got to do now is bounce back Monday night. I'm glad we've got this next ballgame at home. The kids aren't really down, they're just frustrated with themselves. I think they'll get back Monday night and play well. The thing to do now is to quit worrying about this one. It's over with," said Chadwick. "Right now our goal is to finish second in this league."

The loss leaves WTC in second place and a half-game ahead of South Plains in the standings. SPC is 5-2 after defeating Howard College 68-60 Thursday.

Big victory over Wranglers...

Westerners outlast Odessa

ODESSA -- Coach Phil Spradling's Westerners rallied from a 12-point deficit to defeat Odessa College in an important WJCAC matchup here Thursday night, 67-63.

The win keeps Western in good shape as the team competes for entry into the upcoming Region V Tournament. The Westerners are 7-4 now in Western Junior College Athletic Conference play, and 16-8 overall.

Odessa fell to 6-4 in the WJCAC and 15-9 for the season.

New Mexico Junior College, idle Thursday, is 5-4 in the conference, which keeps those three teams - Western, NMJC and Odessa - all bunched up in the standings. Midland leads with a perfect 12-0 record. South Plains is 8-3.

The top four teams in the conference will advance to the regional tournament at the end of the regular season.

"That keeps us right there in the race," said Coach Spradling. "We knew we would have to win on the road and we've been doing it. These wins over Howard and Odessa, and how we do against Clarendon and New Mexico Junior College next are real important games for us."

Western hosts Clarendon next Monday, then travels to Hobbs to play NMJC next Thursday.

Western trailed by a dozen points in the first half here but battled back and was down by just three, 33-30, at intermission. The Westerners scored the first four points of the second half and though they were continually threatened by the Wranglers they never gave up the lead again.

"The guys showed a lot of composure. They came back and didn't give up. I thought we played with a lot of character," said Spradling.

But the second-year coach wasn't ready to give a solid report card.

"We're still continuing to make those little mental mistakes that you don't want to make. I think if we can cut those out, we could be a good basketball team."

Western led by as much as 10 points in the second half, but had to have some crucial free throws from Alvin Hicks and Cliff Langford to pull the victory out.

Alvin Lee paced the effort with 29 points. Hicks and James Dawn pumped in 10 apiece while Langford scored 9, Ed Teal 5 and George Moore 4.

The Wranglers, who play South Plains next Monday, were led by Greg Lazard's 21 points. Dwayne Chism scored 15 and Ronald Sykes 10.

Louisville trips door on 15th ranked Tech

by The Associated Press

Virginia Tech Coach Charlie Moir might like to forget this one, but he can't. His team plays Louisville again Monday night.

This time, the game will be in Blacksburg, Va., though, where the 15th-ranked Hokies will try to avenge an embarrassing 103-68 Metro Conference loss Thursday night to the 16th-rated Cardinals at Louisville.

"Louisville was a good team tonight," Moir said, "but we made them look great. ... We've got a lot of work to do between now and Monday."

Louisville, which led by as many as 36 points late in the game, got 21 points from forward Billy Thompson and raced away from Virginia Tech early in the game.

Other Top Twenty results: No. 2 Georgia Tech 87, N.C.-Charlotte 76; No. 4 Duke 77, Virginia 65; No. 7 Michigan 80, Purdue 79; No. 9 Nevada-Las Vegas 92, University of Pacific 73; No. 17 Texas-El Paso 72, Wyoming 58; No. 18 Indiana 78, Wisconsin 69; and Old Dominion 74, No. 19 Western Kentucky 61.

Louisville led 47-30 at halftime, and the Cardinals broke the 100-point barrier at 101-65 on guard Chris West's layup with 26 seconds to go. The Cardinals had not scored 100 or more points since the fifth game of the 1983-84 season.

"Needless to say, we played well," Louisville Coach Denny Crum said.

Ditka elated Ryan leaving

SPORTS

CHICAGO (AP) - Coach Mike Ditka, saying he won't miss defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan, predicts his Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears will be even better next year despite the departure of the assistant coach.

"I'm not happy he's gone, I'm elated," Ditka said in an interview Wednesday with The Associated Press. "We'll be better next year."

Ryan, who put together the "46" defense that was instrumental in the Bears' success, left the team shortly after its 46-10 Super Bowl victory over New England to become head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles.

"Never again in history will an assistant coach get as much credit as Buddy did," Ditka said. "I handled it well. It will be interesting to see how he handles it now that he's head coach."

Ryan and Ditka never did hit it off that well, largely because of their differing defensive philosophies and approaches to handling players.

"We never went out social but then, I'm not much of a socializer," Ryan said of their relationship.

"I should be so lucky to have a Buddy Ryan around. I'd like to have somebody around to take care of me," he said.

Ryan was around because, after the 1981 season, late Bears owner George Halas kept him on as defensive coordinator after firing Neill Armstrong as head coach.

Halas then brought in Ditka to replace Armstrong.

Ditka was never a big supporter of Ryan's "46" defense, in which six or seven men can be used to rush the passer, leaving cornerbacks and linebackers in one-on-one situations with wide receivers.

And he criticizes Ryan for playing favorites and taking more than his share of credit for the Bears' successes.

"I believe in playing the best 11 players," Ditka said. "I don't believe in having favorite players. I want challenges, not preconceived situations. I want everybody to have a chance to play.

"He (Ryan) took a lot of bows and I let him take them," Ditka said. "But he didn't let any of his assistants take any bows. Some people don't give credit to anyone else."

Jabbar, Lakers shake down Houston Rockets' 'Towers'

by The Associated Press

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar started shaking and when he had finished, Houston's Twin Towers had come tumbling down.

Jabbar scored a season-high 46 points, leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 117-95 rout of the Houston Rockets in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

The victory extended the Lakers' winning streak at The Summit in Houston to 14 games, dating back to Nov. 12, 1980. And Abdul-Jabbar's performance showed who's still boss in the land of the giants.

"Kareem always plays better against (Akeem) Olajuwon," Lakers forward James Worthy said. "It's because of all the comparisons. He's been around 17 years but he still has to show the kids he's the best."

In other NBA games, Philadelphia beat Cleveland 111-103, Detroit tipped Washington 111-109 in overtime, Atlanta downed Indiana 100-85, Milwaukee trounced Chicago 117-97, Denver beat San Antonio 100-95, Utah stopped New York 119-101, Phoenix tripped the Los Angeles Clippers 116-104, Sacramento defeated Seattle 115-106 and Dallas got past Portland 115-111.

Jazz 119, Knicks 101

Adrian Dantley got 20 of his 36 points in the third quarter to lead Utah over visiting New York.

Thurl Bailey had 24 points and Karl Malone 19 as the Jazz took the lead for good in the second quarter.

The Knicks missed rookie Patrick Ewing, who was bothered by sore knees. Ewing scored nine points in limited playing time during the first half, and he sat out the second half.

76ers 111, Cavaliers 103

Charles Barkley scored 14 of his 23 points in the fourth quarter as Philadelphia sent Cleveland to its eighth straight loss.

Barkley scored the 76ers' first eight points in the final quarter, giving Philadelphia an 85-74 lead.

Julius Erving scored 21 points for the winners.

Roy Hinson scored 24 points for the host Cavaliers.

Pistons 111, Bullets 109

Bill Laimbeer made a foul shot with three seconds left in overtime and Detroit scored the final eight points in the extra session to beat Washington.

After Laimbeer made his free throw, Detroit's Earl Cureton knocked away an inbounds pass and Washington never got off a final shot.

Mavericks 115, Trail Blazers 111

Mark Aguirre scored 29 points while Sam Perkins and Derek Harper had 20 apiece, leading Dallas past host Portland.

Kiki Vandeweghe led Portland with 22 points.

Suns 116, Clippers 104

Larry Nance tallied 29 points and Walter Davis 20, enabling Phoenix to roll to a big lead in downing the Los Angeles Clippers.

Norm Nixon scored 24 points for the visiting Clippers.

Bucks 117, Bulls 97

Ricky Pierce scored 18 points, pacing a balanced attack that led Milwaukee past Chicago.

The Bucks had six players in double figures, including Sidney Moncrief, who had 17. Moncrief sat out the fourth quarter.

The visiting Bulls lost with only nine players. Michael Jordan and Orlando Woolridge are out with injuries, and Quintin Dailey entered a drug rehabilitation center on Wednesday.

Nuggets 100, Spurs 95

Alex English's 23 points helped Denver beat ailing San Antonio.

The losing Spurs had just eight healthy players available, and hurt themselves by making only 11 of 27 shots from the free-throw line.

Hawks 100, Pacers 85

Dominique Wilkins scored 32 points as Atlanta led almost the entire way in downing Indiana.

The visiting Pacers scored the first basket of the game, but Atlanta quickly took charge and streaked to a 51-31 lead with 1:25 left before halftime.

Randy Wittman scored 18 points and Kevin Willis 15 for the Hawks. Herb Williams got 25 for Indiana.

Kings 115, SuperSonics 106

Reggie Theus scored 23 points before leaving the game with five fouls midway through the third quarter as Sacramento halted Seattle.

Eddie Johnson's three-point basket 42 seconds into the fourth quarter gave the Kings a 95-83 lead and seemed to stop the Sonics. Johnson finished with 19 points.

Acosted woman 'treated like meat' by University of Minnesota players

MADISON, Wis. (AP) - An 18-year-old woman says she felt "like a piece of meat degraded" as three University of Minnesota basketball players sexually assaulted her repeatedly over a four-hour period in a downtown hotel room.

After the woman's testimony at a preliminary hearing Thursday in Dane County Circuit Court, the three men - Mitchell Lee, Kevin Smith and George Williams Jr. - were ordered to stand trial on sexual assault charges.

Judge Robert Pekowsky ruled there was probable cause that each defendant committed a felony.

"I felt like a piece of meat, like I was just lying there," the woman testified. "I felt degraded. I was scared. I felt physical pain."

She said the men talked to each other, laughed and joked about her body as they assaulted her in various combinations the morning of Jan. 24. Other people entered and left the room during the incident, she said.

Afterward, she testified, Smith sat beside her as she lay curled up on a bed and said "What's your name? Where do you live? I want to see you again. I'm going to see you again."

She said she didn't answer.

"I was shocked," she said. "I really didn't know what was going on, it happened so fast. I sat there shocked, crying. I had shooting pains."

She said she threatened to scream, but Lee "made a response that made me feel it would be smarter not to scream." She said she did not remember his words.

Lee, 20, of Carol City, Fla., is charged with one count of first-degree sexual assault and two counts of second-degree sexual assault.

Smith, 21, of Lansing, Mich., is charged with one count each of first-degree and second-degree sexual assault.

Williams, 19, of Oakland, Calif., is charged with one count of second-degree sexual assault.

The players, all of whom lost their basketball scholarships at the university, remained free on bail. No date was set for trial, but Assistant District Attorney Judith Hawley said she wanted it within 90 days.

First-degree sexual assault carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison. Second-degree carries a maximum $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

The hearing was closed to the public at the Madison woman's request and over objections of defense attorneys. Her testimony was read to reporters later in open court.

She said she met Lee and Smith at a house party early in the morning of Jan. 24.

The Minnesota team had beaten Wisconsin in Big Ten basketball the previous evening.

She said she talked and danced with Smith at the party, but mostly ignored Lee, whom she said made "sexual comments" to her. Smith "was acting nice," she said.

She said she left in a car with Lee and Smith and another couple after Smith told her the party was moving to the hotel where the basketball team was staying.

They arrived at the hotel about 2 a.m. and took an elevator to the third floor, she said. She said Smith opened the door to a room while the other couple walked away down the hall.

Within 30 seconds of entering the room with Lee and Smith, she said, the men grabbed her, removed her tights and boots, unbuttoned her dress and began to sexually assault her.

She said the room was dark and that it remained dark throughout the incident.

Williams entered the room later and joined the others in assaulting her, she said.

She testified that all three assaulted her at once and that Mitchell and Williams held her legs while Smith had intercourse with her.

She said the men left the room at about 6:10 a.m. after the telephone rang and the athletes were told it was time to leave for Minnesota.

The woman testified that at no time did she consent to any of the sexual acts.

Jabbar best in history

DALLAS (AP) - A 60-member blue-ribbon panel of experts says that Los Angeles Lakers center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who has played longer than anyone in National Basketball Association history, has played better than anyone in history.

Eighteen of the panelists polled by the Dallas Morning News voted Abdul-Jabbar, playing in his 17th season, the greatest player in the history of the game. The 38-year-old player finished first in a tight race, although he received less than one-third of votes cast.

The newspaper, in a copyright story today, said guard Oscar Robertson, formerly of the Cincinnati Royals and Abdul-Jabbar's teammate with the Milwaukee Bucks, placed a close second with 14 votes.

The 7-2 Abdul-Jabbar, who will play in his 15th All-Star game Sunday at Reunion Arena, said he was happy to be recognized as the best ever.

"It's flattering," he said this week. "It's flattering even to be considered. That's as far as I go with it. I don't get caught up in it. I'm very pleased that I've done well enough that I would be considered, but I don't focus on that."

Robertson was Abdul-Jabbar's personal choice as the top player of all time. Third with 13 votes was the Boston Celtics' Russell. Chamberlain, who still ranks No. 1 all-time with a 30.4 scoring average, received only six of 60 votes.

Blackburn leads Williams Open

SAN DIEGO (AP) - In his two previous tournaments in this young PGA Tour season, Woody Blackburn hadn't broken 74.

Then he brought his act to Torrey Pines and immediately produced a 6-under-par 66, good for a spot in the six-man tie for the first-round lead Thursday in the $450,000 Shearson Lehman-Andy Williams Open.

Blackburn could offer no explanation for his success in the tournament that formerly was known as the San Diego Open.

"It's just nice to pick up where I left off a year ago," said Blackburn, who registerd five birdies and an eagle and scattered nine 3s across his card in a return to the scene of his only individual triumph in 10 seasons on the tour.

He won this title last year with a 269 total - an average of 67.25 strokes per round, compared with his season-long scoring average of 72.32.

His only explanation for success here:

"I just have a good, positive feeling," he said.

But he was not alone.

Larry Rinker, Mark Wiebe, Larry Mize, Danny Edwards and Robert Wrenn also recorded 66s in a chilly wind.

All played at Torrey Pines' North Course, at 6,659 yards the shorter of the two layouts used for the first two rounds of this event.

"It's two or three shots easier than the South," Rinker said. Despite its listed standard of 72, "par on the North is about 69," according to Rinker.

"Anyone with a chance to win has to play the North in about 69. You shoot higher than that and you feel you have to catch up," Rinker, who used a string of eight consecutive one-putts as the key to his effort, said.

In all, 18 players were within two strokes of the lead. The group at 67 included Paul Azinger, Bob Tway, Billy Glasson, Rick Fehr, Andy Dillard and Brian Mogg.

Tied at 68 were Don Pooley, Pat McGowan, Leonard Thompson, Tom Purtzer, Tony Cerda and Ernie Gonzalez.

Bedfod sidelined for next 2 games

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Memphis State's third-ranked basketball team will be without the services of 7-foot center William Bedford for two games because he borrowed luxury cars from school boosters, university officials say.

The suspension was ordered by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Bedford, a junior and Memphis State's scoring and rebounding leader, will be sidelined for the Tiger's nationally televised road game Saturday with ninth-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas and for their home-court meeting Feb. 10 with Florida State.

"This is a stiff penalty, but the NCAA has its rules and regulations and as members of the NCAA we must abide by them," Memphis State Athletic Director Charles Cavagnaro said Thursday.

Tigers Coach Dana Kirk said 6-9 sophomore Dewayne Bailey and 6-7 freshman Marvin Alexander will alternate in the lineup to replace Bedford.

Bedford, who assumed the burden of scoring and rebounding this year after the graduation of Memphis State's all-time scoring and rebounding leader Keith Lee, is averaging 18.4 points and 9.2 rebounds a game. He also leads the team in blocked shots with 58.

Filipinos vote for president amid violence

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Unofficial results trickling in from today's bitterly fought election between President Ferdinand E. Marcos and Corazon Aquino gave conflicting reports of who was ahead. The government reported 26 people killed in election day violence, and there were widespread reports of fraud.

With only several dozen precincts reporting five hours after the polls closed, results were widely varied. There was no overall tally from several agencies trying to count the vote.

Filipinos were choosing between Mrs. Aquino, 53, a political novice and widow of assassinated opposition leader Benigno S. Aquino Jr., and Marcos, 68, who has ruled the island nation for 20 years.

The first unofficial returns reported by the pro-Aquino, Catholic-run station Radio Veritas showed Mrs. Aquino ahead 72,555 to 40,423 in the two major cities of Manila and Cebu, with only a small number of precincts reporting.

A media count by pro-Marcos newspapers showed him ahead, 44,655 to Aquino's 36,258 nationwide.

Inmate seized from Mexican prison is delivered to U.S.

ALPINE, Texas (AP) — Mexican authorities said they would try a man accused of rape in Texas.

But said three men had other ideas and reportedly broke into the Ojinaga, Mexico, jail, brought the suspect back across the border and left him tied to a tree to be retrieved by the Brewster County sheriff, Texas officials said.

Refugio Garcia Gonzales, 22, of Jimenez, Mexico, remained in jail Thursday night in lieu of $175,000 bond on charges of rape, robbery and kidnapping, sheriff's officials said.

Sheriff George Jones told the San Angelo Standard-Times that Gonzales was found Jan. 22, in a roadside park 18 miles south of Alpine. Gonzales was only wearing shorts and was tied to a tree with baling wire.

Jones said he found Gonzales, who was not injured, after an anonymous caller tipped officials that a nude man was in the park.

A report in El Sentinela, a newspaper in Ojinaga, said three men armed with rifles broke into the city's jail and tied up the two guards. The men then unlocked Gonzales' cell and fled with the inmate, who was only wearing his shorts, the Mexican newspaper reported.

Ojinaga, a town of about 60,000 residents, is across the Rio Grande from Presidio, Texas.

The identity of the three men remains unknown, authorities said.

"We don't have any idea who they are, but we're proud of them," District Attorney Phil Pollan of Alpine said Thursday. "We appreciate all the help we can get."

The sheriff said he recognized Gonzales as the man who had been indicted last November on kidnapping, rape and robbery charges. Texas authorities had been trying to have Gonzales extradited to the U.S. to face trial on the charges.

Pollan said Gonzales had been held in the Ojinaga jail awaiting trial by Mexican officials.

"They (Mexican police) said they were going to try him in Mexico on something that happened in Brewster County," Pollan said.

Gonzales is accused of breaking into the home of a Terlingua woman, kidnapping her at knifepoint and raping her several times while holding her hostage for eight hours.

Taxable income explained here

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of five articles written to help taxpayers prepare their 1985 income tax returns. This installment covers taxable income.

By Jim Luther
AP Tax Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the beginning it was simple. When the federal income tax was enacted, it applied to all income "from whatever source derived."

In the ensuing 72 years, so many ifs, ands, buts and other exceptions have been approved that it requires thousands of pages of laws, regulations and court decisions to determine what income is taxable and what is not.

The portion of income beyond wages and salaries may or may not be taxable. Interest? Usually. Gifts? No. Unemployment compensation? It depends on your other income. Capital gains? Usually 40 percent — but that takes you into the most complicated and confusing part of the whole tax code.

One thing can be said with certainty: It's taxable unless the law specifically exempts it.

As you fill out your 1985 tax return, keep in mind that you don't have to pay tax on welfare benefits, child support, Veterans' Administration benefits, or proceeds you received from a life insurance policy because of someone's death.

That leaves a lot to be taxed. Among specific items:

—Wages, salaries, tips, bonuses, fees (including jury duty), employer-paid fringe benefits that are not specifically exempt. Also, "sick pay" financed by your employer.

—Prizes and gambling winnings. If you itemize deductions, you may write off some of your gambling losses.

—Alimony.

—Profits (capital gains) from selling or swapping real estate, securities, coins and other property. This requires the filing of a separate Schedule D or Form 4797. If you made a profit selling your home, you'll have to report it. But under some circumstances you may defer taxation of the gain if you buy another home or avoid the tax on part of the profit if you are 55 or older. See Publication 523.

—Rents, royalties and profits from partnerships. (Schedule E).

—Interest (except that from tax-exempt bonds) and dividends. (Schedule B).

—The value of goods or services you received as barter for your services.

—Any business-expense reimbursement exceeding the expense.

—Reimbursement of any medical expenses that you deducted and used to reduce your taxes before 1985.

—A portion of unemployment compensation if your total income exceeds $12,000 (a single person) or $18,000 (married and filing jointly). The threshold is zero if you are married and filing a separate return. You'll have to report all your unemployment compensation on the tax return and then calculate what portion, if any, is taxable.

—Part of your Social Security benefits if your total income exceeds $32,000 (if married and filing jointly), zero (married but filing separately) or $25,000 (for all other individuals).

—Pensions, including distributions from Individual Retirement Accounts.

—Profit from a business or profession (Schedule C).

—Any illegal income.

There are several ways to reduce the amount of income subject to tax even if you do not itemize deductions. To take advantage of most of these adjustments you must file the long Form 1040. The adjustments are:

—Contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts or Keogh plans. The IRA deduction also is available to filers of Form 1040A.

—Job-related moving expenses. You'll have to file Form 3903.

—Employee business expenses, such as travel and transportation. Use Form 2106. (Certain other employee expenses, such as subscriptions to work-related magazines, may be deducted on Schedule A with other itemized deductions).

—Alimony paid to a former spouse.

—The "marriage penalty" deduction for two-earner couples. Attach Schedule W if you file 1040 or fill out Schedule 1, Part I if you use 1040A.

—A penalty you paid for early withdrawal of savings.

NEXT: Expenses you deduct.

U.S. unemployment drops to 6.7 percent in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's civilian unemployment rate fell to 6.7 percent in January as the improving economy created 565,000 non-farm jobs, the government said today.

The rolls of those officially listed as out of work fell below 8 million for the first time in Ronald Reagan's presidency, to 7,831,000 from 8,023,000 in December.

The 0.2 percentage point drop from December's 6.9 percent rate was paced by an influx of new service-related jobs that raised the number of working Americans to a record of nearly 109 million, the Labor Department said.

The civilian unemployment rate was the lowest since March 1980, when it was 6.3 percent. The total of unemployed Americans was last below 8 million in May 1980.

An alternate rate, combining the 116.8 million-member civilian labor force with the 1.7 million members of the Armed Services stationed in the United States, was at 6.6 percent last month, the department said.

Today's report appeared to buttress President Reagan's prediction that the average combined civilian-military unemployment rate for all of 1986 would be 6.7 percent, down from 7.2 percent in December.

That prediction, however, is based on the economy growing at an annual rate of 4 percent this year instead of the 2.4 percent rate the Commerce Department reported for the fourth quarter of 1985.

In a separate report, the department said the number of "discouraged" workers, those listed as out of work more than six months and not looking for employment, fell to 1.1 million, the lowest level in more than four years. Discouraged workers are not counted on the official unemployment rolls because they are not considered part of the labor force.

The commissioner of labor statistics, Janet L. Norwood, said total employment tapered off much less from December to January than would be normally expected because of cold weather and the end of the holiday buying season.

She said in testimony before the congressional Joint Economic Committee that the seasonally adjusted increase of 205,000 retail jobs over the month "probably resulted from the fact that fewer workers were hired during the holiday season and, therefore, fewer were laid off in January."

Without the adjustment process, designed to account for predictable, periodic fluctuations in employment patterns, retail employment actually fell from 18.3 million to 17.7 million last month.

Other service-related jobs increased by 115,000 in January while manufacturing employment climbed 8,000, its fourth straight monthly increase. At 19.5 million, manufacturing employment, however, was 135,000 under the level of a year ago.

The 6.7 percent civilian unemployment rate last month was 4 percentage points below the 10.7 percent peak in 1982.

Law endangers sign additions and put up a sign if they wanted to," Stacy noted.

This has now changed.

Stacy said non-conforming signs will be looked for during the normal course of highway repairs undertaken by the department.

When such signs are located, their owners will be notified the sign must be removed if they don't conform with the new law.

The law includes guidelines for the construction of new signs, and Stacy noted "in theory" some of the old signs might follow these guidelines.

"But let me put it this way, of the 13-county area we serve, there hasn't been a sign company in any of them able to get a permit for a new sign since the law went into effect."

This is due to rules regarding a "conforming location" for the sign. In other words, where it can be erected.

Two new essentially "killed" new construction, Stacy noted.

One mandates that no signs can be erected within 50 ft. of a "real property line." Signs now noted along highways are built at the edge of the property line. This new requirement would place new signs 50 ft. further into the property than those now existing.

"There aren't many farmers who want a sign in the middle of their field," Stacy noted.

Another regulation mandates that signs cannot be built unless they are located within 800 ft. of a minimum of two commercial "activities."

In layman terms, this means within 800 ft. of a minimum of two operating businesses located adjacent to each other.

Another requirement states an engineer or architect must certify that signs higher than 6 ft. will withstand a set amount of wind pressure.

There is also a basic requirement that no signs can be built within 1,500 ft. of another sign.

Fees to register signs also increased with the new law. A permit which once cost $25 now costs $200 for the first year and $100 for every year after.

Some signs are exempt from the new standards. These include all "directional" signs and "church signs" if they are smaller than 8 sq. ft.

Signs erected by the state are exempt also.

Press group meeting here

These were to include a session on photography, presented by SND photographer Noble Young and Paul Gilbert; and a discussion related to newspaper coverage of outside audit reports presented by Jerry Vestal, a local certified public account.

Tours were scheduled for the visiting journalists also to view the Gold DeLorean and coin collection at Snyder National Bank and the Diamond M Museum.

A tour of the Scurry County Museum followed by a reception and dinner is scheduled Friday evening and night at Western Texas College.

Entertainment will be provided after the dinner by drama department students under the direction of Jerry P. Worsham.

Saturday morning, events include a program by Roy Baze, retired senior vice president with Exxon. Baze will speak on the economic outlook of Texas with specific emphasis on the petroleum industry.

Liz Yarbrough, co-op advertising coordinator for the Abilene Reporter News, will also conduct a workshop session followed by a program by Marshall Day, publisher of the Seminole Sentinel, on special advertising sections.

Saturday afternoon will include an advertising round table discussion and a report from the Texas Press Association given by TPA President Walter Buckel of Lamesa.

The program will end Saturday with a banquet at Willow Park. Special entertainment will be a sample from the White Buffalo Days Whirlagig.

Towers create 'big' work load

The solution then goes into the towers where the carbon dioxide is "dried" out of the solution and re-injected into the field.

The problem, according to Cohagen, is that C02 in the presence of water is very corrosive and has caused serious deterioration in the existing towers, which are constructed of conventional steel.

The interiors of the replacment columns — manufactured by a Kansas firm — are stainless steel lined and it is hoped that the lining will significantly slow the corrosion.

Permits down for four months

estimate for January equaled just short of $145,000 — one of the lowest months for the past several years in Snyder.

The single new home building permit applied for during the month was issued to Louise B. Thompson for a residence at 2210 32nd St.

Two mobile home move-ins were applied for also, permits issued to Robert Garcia Jr., 214 Ave. B; and Howard Smith, 1012 32nd St.

The 1984-85 building year ended with new contruction totals here of $7.4 million.

Single accident occurs Thursday

A single minor traffic mishap was reported in Snyder Thursday morning.

Involved in the 11:58 a.m. mishap in the 900 Block of 25th St. was a 1977 Lincoln driven by Chiva Lanette McKinley of 2906 Ave. T which struck a parked 1982 Chevrolet pickup owned by Billy Thrower of 1011 28th St.
