By Bill Ellis

RECENTLY, WE RECEIVED the following article from Robert Dedman, who is chairman of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. With the interest in highway improvements, we present Dedman's article herewith:

* * * *

What would you think if you put money in the bank every year for specific household expenses, and when you tried to withdraw it, the bank would let you have only part of what you had deposited?

That's the way our federal government is handling the money we pay into the Highway Trust Fund. Motorists all across the nation contribute to the fund through a dedicated tax on fuel. By dedicated, I mean that the money can't go to anything other than the Highway Trust Fund. Billions of dollars pour into that fund, yet in recent years the federal government has been holding back a significant portion of the money as a paper mechanism to offset the federal deficit.

Is this the reason we pay gasoline taxes?

Not in Texas. Every dollar we collect from motorists is meant to be an investment in our highway system. Nearly 77,000 miles of our roadways depend on state and federal highway dollars for maintenance and improvements. And Texas motorists travel over 46,707 bridges in the state--many of them in need of repair or replacement.

Yet Congress, in order to juggle the apparent amount of the federal deficit, keeps $14.2 billion in the Highway Trust Fund instead of funneling it back to the states from which it was collected. Maintaining a needlessly high balance in the trust fund doesn't reduce the enormous federal debt--it only serves as a smoke screen for the actual amount. We could be putting these unused dollars to work on our nation's highways if the federal government would cease this bookkeeping charade and release the money in the Highway Trust Fund.

It doesn't take an expert economist to see that this is a poor use of tax dollars. All we have to do is examine the important historical role highways and transportation have played in providing a healthy economy.

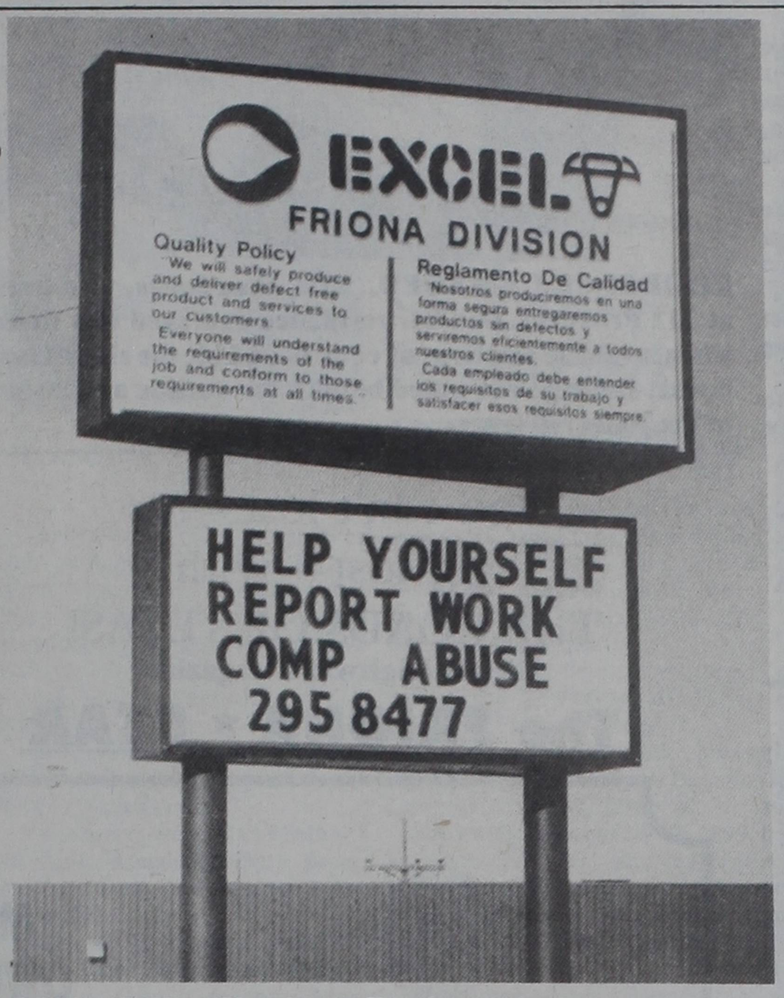

We're entering a new decade now--one last chance to make a mark on this century, to see our children safely into the year 2000. Highway leaders in every state have been analyzing the transportation needs of the nation from now through the year 2020. They have outlined a sound plan that will update and upgrade our existing transportation network so that it can meet future needs.

In less than two years, authorization for the Highway Trust Fund expires. The future of this very important source of mobility funding is at stake. The American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials proposed in early December that the highway trust fund be made permanent, and that we expand our nation's transportation programs in the coming decades. An increase in federal highway dollars is needed to accomplish this.

The AASHTO plan contains a number of other solid points, all of which we on the Texas Highway Commission support. But none is as critical as the future of the Highway Trust Fund. The success of the Interstate system in the past 30 years is clear evidence that fuel taxes are best used to improve and maintain a mobile nation.

Rather than requiring a tax increase, in its initial years the AASHTO plan could be funded simply by putting to use the highway dollars that are now trapped in a budgetary sleight of hand. These dollars would generate more jobs, expand the nation's mobility network, and

Mother's Hands

Lois J. Funk

Mother's hands were busy hands,
But never did they fail
To take the time to tie a bow
Or braid a loose pigtail.
And never did those hands refuse
To soothe a fevered brow,
So even injured dolls pulled through
In Mother's hands, somehow.

It seemed those hands were magic,
Always knowing where to start
To reconstruct a shattered dream
Or mend a broken heart.

Dear Lord, I pray, as years go by,
Whatever life's demands,
That I may give just half the love
I've found in Mother's hands.

Sen. Bivins Will Visit Excel Wed.

State Senator Teel Bivins will be at Friona's Excel plant Wednesday, May 16 at 9 a.m., to discuss the workers' compensation situation.

All persons interested in workers' compensation are invited to attend.

"We are attempting to impress upon everyone the fact that workers' compensation should be of interest to everyone," said Chamber Manager Kathryn Goddard.

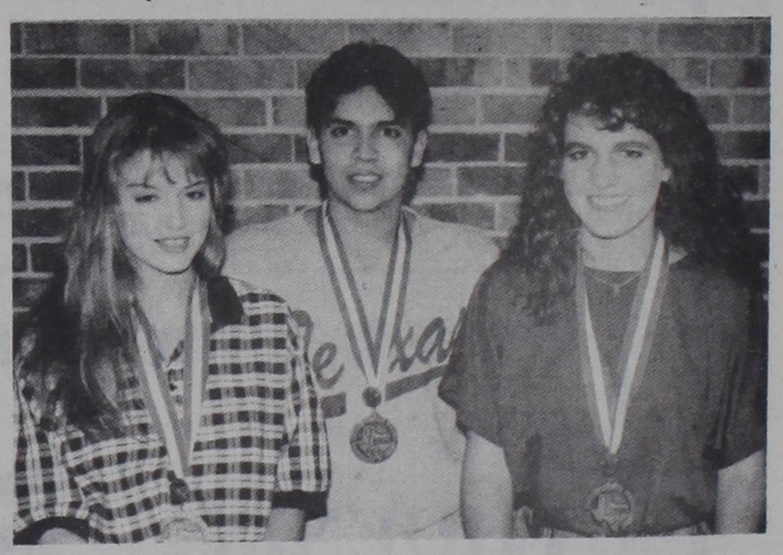

"Texas has one of the most expensive workers' comp systems in the nation. The situation has been addressed by the legislature, but the results of their work will not be helpful for another year or more. Because of the cost involved with workers' comp, it is very difficult to attract new business and industry to Texas, and some businesses are being forced to relate," Ms. Goddard said.

Some steps have been taken, and the meeting with Sen. Bivins was scheduled so that local leaders may learn more about what the residents of this area and to help the situation.

"Senator Bivins has certainly tried to help and we are extremely grateful to him for his willingness to have this meeting," Mrs. Goddard added.

"We are privileged to have this opportunity to visit with Senator Bivins, and I hope we will take advantage of his presence in our community. I hope that everyone who is interested in this issue will be able to attend the meeting," the Chamber executive concluded.

It is so good to see new occupants in the building formerly occupied by Tri County Savings and Sun Belt Savings. This very attractive building at the corner of Cleveland and Highway 60 is now home to the local Farm Bureau office.

According to a report from Cherry Wells, office secretary, "We're all enjoying our new facilities and want everyone to come to see us."

About the first of next month will mark the beginning of longer drives when Forrest and Dottie Osborn visit their son-in-law and daughter, David and Monique Green.

These two have been living in Lamesa several years, but will soon be living in Angleton, Texas, which is down near Houston.

After spending five and one-half years on the staff of the Lamesa Press Reporter, David accepted a position as editor of the Angleton Times, which is a daily paper, and has already gone to work down there.

As soon as the school term is ended, Monique, who has been teaching second grade in the Lamesa Public School system four years, will be joining her husband.

Have you seen Friona's Bluebonnets this spring? If not, you need to drive around and see them pretty soon or they will be gone. As usual, the patch just south of Juanita Wright's house at the corner of Twelfth and Pierce are blooming profusely.

Then, too, you will want to see the ones blooming in the front yard of the home of T.I. and Melba Burleson at the corner of Etta and West Sixth Street. There are a lot of irises in bloom and they are beautiful in spite of the wind and dry weather.

Tuesday will be the third one in May and that means it will be luncheon day at Friendship House. This monthly meeting is open to the public and newcomers are always welcome.

Roy V. Miller, Sr., president, joins the members in inviting everyone interested to attend. Festivities will begin about ten with a game session.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. Then, following a musical program by Chris Drager, there will be another game session.

A Friona visitor this week is Mrs. Walt Rohde of Madera, California. She's the former Odie Claborn and makes her annual visit to Friona in time for Mother's Day. One of her sons, Johnny, who lives in Dallas, plans to be here this weekend.

Odie's mother, Mrs. L.M. West, lives in Hereford.

Mrs. J.G. McFarland, who spent several days as a medical patient in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, returned home early last week and is making satisfactory improvement.

Her sister, Mrs. Ted Wilson of Merkel, Texas, came and spent several days in the McFarland home then returned to her home Tuesday.

Robbie Rucker, a sixth grade teacher in the Midland, Texas public school system, spent last weekend visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boggess.

Another of our fine Friona ladies has reached the status of an octogenerian. Even though Leta Tannahill, who has resided here almost thirty years, has some health problems, she has a very cheerful outlook and enjoys each day as it comes.

About the middle of last month she and Gertrude Renner went down to the Tannahill's lake home near Kingsland for a spring break.

The highlight of her visit was a surprise birthday party for her mother. Most of Leta's children and grandchildren attended along with kith, kin and friends from Dallas, Austin, Granite Shoals, Lockney, Lubbock and Friona.

This small West Texas town really turns out to honor one of its most famous native sons country singers and the Barnetts rarely ever miss the event.

He has been in the Intensive Care Unit of Irving Community Hospital several days and is showing some improvement.

Recent out-of-town guests in the home of Mary Lou Taylor have been Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Taylor, Portales, New Mexico, and Dick Crume of Lubbock. Taylor is her brother-in-law and Crume is her brother.

Three of our residents, who were patients at Deaf Smith General Hospital at the same time, have returned home. Clyde Fields was a medical patient; Carol Ellis was a surgical patient and Tootsie White was a surgical patient. (Unless you were a family member or a close friend, you probably didn't recognize Elvera White as Tootsie.)

All three of them are making satisfactory recovery at home and we're glad to have them back among us.

The couple was enroute home from Oklahoma, where they had visited their mother. Winnie and Letha are longtime friends.

Local Dealership Debuts New Cars

The all-new 1991-model Ford Escort is one of the most significant new products from Ford Motor Company in at least two decades, according to Terry Wilcox, vice president of Friona Motors in Friona.

"Ford's new front-wheel-drive Escort hatchback and wagon models usher in a new era at Ford in terms of product quality and customer-driven design," Wilcox said. "Ford invested nearly $2 billion to develop these new products and we predict that they will become America's best-selling cars in the decade of the 1990's."

Available at Friona Motors, 1011 Grand Avenue, the 1991-model Escort is offered in three body styles: two-door hatchback, four-door hatchback and four-door wagon. There are three series: Pony (two-door), LX (two- and four-door hatchbacks and wagon) and GT (two-door hatchback).

Wilcox noted that the new Escorts have a fresh, contemporary design that provides more glass area and improved visibility compared to their predecessors.

Escort's aerodynamic shape and semi-flush glass reduce its drag coefficient to 0.34 from 0.39 on 1990 models.

The 1991 models also have a more spacious interior than previous models. Interior features include a wrap-around, ergonomically-designed instrument panel, five-passenger seating and improved shoulder-and-hip room. Other interior changes include a backlit analog instrument cluster, tinted glass as standard equipment and fixed-interval windshield wipers.

All-new front-and-rear suspension systems provide significant improvements in ride, handling and steering, as well as improved noise, vibration and harshness (NVH) characteristics. Like the Ford Taurus, the new Escort has a powertrain subframe.

Powertrain changes include the addition of sequential electronic fuel injection to Ford's 1.9-liter engine. The multi-port injection system delivers fuel to each cylinder in firing sequence to maximize fuel economy and power.

The 1991 GT offers an all-new high-performance 1.8-liter 16-valve twin-cam engine that delivers exceptional performance. A five-speed manual transaxle is standard on all models, and an electronically controlled four-speed automatic transaxle is optional.

MICHELLE ECHOLS

Woman's Club Met Wed.

The Friona Woman's Club held their regular meeting on Wednesday, May 9 at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Members attending were Geneva Williams, Eula Bradshaw, Mabel DeLong, Lillian McLellan, Juanita Reed and Fern White. Visitors were Anna Anthony, Blanche Boyle, Lillie Taylor and Betty Louise Rector.

The meeting adjourned early so members could attend funerals scheduled that afternoon.

The next club meeting will be the last for the spring, and officers for 1990-91 will be installed.

Ex-Friona Girl Runs At State

A former Friona Squaw track star who advanced to regional twice for FHS, Michelle Echols, is entered in the state class 4A meet this week for the Levelland Loboettes.

Miss Echols, who went to regional for FHS as a member of the mile relay team as a freshman, and in the 400-meter dash as a sophomore, qualified for the state meet in the 800-meter run this spring.

She was shifted to the 800 at about mid-season this year, and said prior to the state meet she was "still learning" about the 800-meter race.

She won her district meet only the third time she had run the race, and then at the regional meet in San Angelo, she won the race with a 2:22.0, to qualify for state.

Michelle, the daughter of Archie and Donna Echols, former Friona residents, has set the school record for the 800-meter run at Levelland.

She was to run in the state meet at 6:15 p.m. Friday.

A senior at Levelland High School, Michelle has been contacted by a number of colleges and universities concerning track scholarships, and plans at this time to sign a track scholarship with Texas Tech University.

The HIGH GROUND OF TEXAS

New Tool Advertises Friona

A new tool for advertising Friona is being offered to everyone in Friona who uses FAX machines. Called "WiseFax," this advertising tool is simple and would get the name of Friona in front of many persons nationwide.

The WiseFax Telefax Campaign is a part of the High Ground Program of which Friona is a member. The High Ground of Texas is a program of advertising with the purpose of attracting more business and industry to our area.

Here are the "fax" about the program:

1. Each telefax sent has a cover sheet showing who sent the fax and to whom it is being sent. The WiseFax sales tag for Friona can be placed at the bottom of the cover sheet.

2. Each person having a telefax machine can pick up a single sheet and copy it on the bottom portion of the existing cover sheet.

3. Sales tags are available at the Chamber of Commerce and at Southwestern Public Service. "Call the Chamber at 247-3491 and we will see that you get your information," said Kathryn Goddard, Chamber manager.

4. Each person using a FAX machine becomes a spokesperson for Friona, inviting the person receiving the fax to call and find out why "we like it here!"

Just how critical is this money to our Texas? We have identified more than $82 billion in highway needs for the next 20 years. At our current funding level, only about 60 percent of those needs can be met. An additional $350 million a year would boost that projection to 71 percent.

We can either spend the last decade of this century giving a 100 percent effort to our future, or we can do two-thirds the job we need to, and limp into the year 2000 unprepared.

We could use fancy political phrases to talk about this issue, but let's call a spade a shovel--it's time to stop using the Highway Trust Fund to artificially reduce the federal deficit.

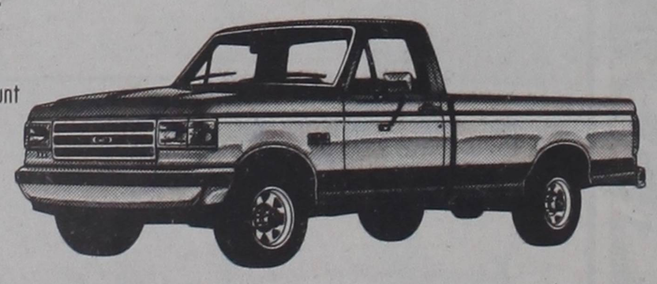

Every civic and community leader in Texas should give Congress a clear message: make the Highway Trust Fund permanent, and remove it from the unified federal budget.

Jennifer Cass Recognized By Future Homemakers

Jennifer Cass, a senior at Friona High School, was awarded two scholarships at the Future Homemakers of America State Leadership Meeting in Dallas, on April 27 and 28. Her parents are Jerry and Karene Cass.

In a special presentation, Jennifer was awarded the Favorite Recipes Press Scholarship. Each year, Favorite Recipes Press awards a $500 scholarship to a senior Future Homemaker who plans to major in home economics. This scholarship is awarded on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and participation in school and community activities as well as in the Future Homemakers of America.

The C.J. Davidson Foundation of Fort Worth awards scholarships to outstanding Future Homemakers in Texas. Steve Davidson of Midland, Texas, presented scholarships during the second general session of the State Leadership Meeting. Jennifer received a $3,000 scholarship during this ceremony.

She has been a member of the Future Homemakers of America for the last four years. B. McCoy Attended NCA Meet

Bill McCoy of Friona attended the spring board meeting of the National Cattlemen's Association in Washington, D.C. McCoy is a member of the NCA board of directors, representing the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

At the meeting, the board established priorities for the association's work on public issues during the coming year. The priorities were based on committee action at the 1990 convention and on a recent survey of members. The association will appropriate time and resources needed to achieve objectives in the 33 issue areas.

"Safety assurance, animal care, environment and farm legislation are the main issue areas the association will continue to work in," said NCA President John Lacey. "We have strong positions and positive stories to tell on all four of these issues."

While in Washington, McCoy, along with other board members, met with members of Congress and agency officials to outline cattlemen's priorities on public issues.

"The NCA spring meeting in Washington, D.C., is important to the future of the cattle industry in the government arena. I am pleased that Bill was able to take part in this meeting," said Lacey.

The next scheduled NCA board of directors meeting will be in Denver, Colorado, in August.

Allo Reeve Named Top Club Member

Allo Reeve, an active 52 year member of the Modern Study Club of Friona, we believe, qualifies for recognition as an "Outstanding Club Woman."

She has held every club office except parliamentarian and has been elected to that office for 1990-92. She has been president two terms, 1974-76 and 1986-88.

Allo has been active on the district level, serving as first vice president but declined the president-elect honor because of the illness of her husband. She has been chairman of numerous divisions, served on the registration committee and is presently chairman of the public affairs division.

When the Friona Chamber of Commerce chose her as Woman of the Year in 1976, she was cited for the notoriety she brought to Friona for her "Brides of the White House" program. She called it her doll program because she dressed the small dolls in copies of the brides' dresses and gave interesting information about each one.

She has presented this program to many organizations and clubs as far south as Colorado City, as far east as Pampa, west to Clovis and north to Amarillo. She recently presented the program to the Potter County Extension Homemakers Division of the State Farm and Home Show in Amarillo.

Allo is an artist, specializing in china painting. Quilt making is another hobby, along with crocheting and embroidery work. Other hobbies include working on the genealogy of both sides of her family and making "history" books for her four sons and a nephew.

ALLO REEVE

In past years, Allo was very active in school affairs and Boy Scouts. She was president of the Parent Teacher Organization, and served as room mother, senior mother and Chieftain parent.

Mrs. Reeve is a member of the Union Congregational Church and taught Sunday School classes when her children were small. She is a member of the D.A.R. and works with Meals on Wheels and the Hospital Auxiliary of Parmer County Community Hospital.

Allo and her late husband, Glen Reeve, were charter members of the Parmer County Historical Society. She was vice president of this organization in 1974 and worked on the book, "A History of Parmer County" and "Prairie Progress," published in 1981.

Allo has always been interested in her home, the community and the importance of leaving a heritage to those who will come after her.

The eight finalists will receive an all expense paid trip to New York City to photograph for the October, 1990 issue of Seventeen. One finalist will be chosen for the cover and will also win a car.

Each J.C. Penney store selected ten local semi-finalists, whose entries were sent to the J.C. Penney regional district office. At the district office, ten national semi-finalists per district, or a total of 360 semi-finalists were selected and forwarded to Seventeen.

Frionans Attend Convention

The IV Division Convention for the American Legion was held in Mineral Wells, with Post and Unit 75 hosting the meeting.

Registration started Friday, May 4, with the business meetings and other entertainment held Saturday and Sunday.

A golf tournament was held Saturday morning for the Legionaires and a shopping tour for the Auxiliary ladies. It was interesting to recall the familiar sights of the Crazy Water Hotel, says Geneva Williams and to recall the stories of the hot baths and crazy crystals as to its effectiveness for arthritis, etc.

The Baker Hotel, which was one of the most popular hotels in that time, is now vacant and the Crazy Water Hotel has been converted to a retirement facility for senior citizens.

"We did not experience any flooding during our stay but did hear reports of problems that the flooding had created," Mrs. Williams said.

At the banquet Saturday night, the main speaker was Representative Charles Stenholm of the 17th District. He gave some good information and thoughts on the happenings in Washington, D.C. Joint memorial services were held Sunday morning in memory of deceased veterans and auxiliary members.

Geneva Williams and Jonell Sims worked on committees and assisted with the presentation of the flags.

J.P. Sims attended the Legion activities and plans were made for the department convention to be held July 11-15, 1990 in San Antonio and also national representatives were elected to attend from IV Division.

The national convention will be held in August in Indianapolis, Indiana, the national headquarters for the American Legion and Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hanna of Hereford went with the Friona delegration to the IV Division Convention.

Another informative speaker for the Auxiliary was the department service officer, Wes Vaughn of Waco. He advised the ladies of some points of interest and information that they should have handy should they face the loss of their husband.

This is vital information and every veteran's wife should be aware of the important papers of the veteran, such as his discharge, life insurance policies, hospital insurance and any benefits that might be available to the widow and children.

Vaughn encouraged each of us to contact the service officer if we need any assistance with this information.

Local Residents Complete Training

Two Friona residents were among 18 area professionals recently recognized for completing a 15-hour economic development training course in Amarillo.

The course, "Economic Development Strategies of the '90s," was co-sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) and Panhandle Regional Planning Commission (PRPC). The program's purpose was to update local community leaders on the latest issues in economic development.

"New legislation has greatly expanded the role of government in economic development at the local levels, and one of our program objectives is to disseminate information covering recent changes," said Perna Strickland, PRPC's director of economic development.

Certificates of completion were awarded to professionals from Amarillo, Dimmitt, Dumas, Friona, Perryton, Groom, Canyon, Borger, Stratford, Gruver and Pampa.

Prairie Acres Party Line

By JANICE STOWERS

Prairie Acres has been working hard getting ready to have our Open House on May 20 from 2-4 p.m. We are excited to show off our lovely facility, and want to invite our community to come share in a delightful afternoon of fun, music, refreshments and fellowship.

We would like to thank Anna Mae Thomas for bringing us musical selections on the piano and organ. Virgil Ichtertz happened to be in the building and was able to sing along on many numbers with Mrs. Thomas. They made a delightful duet and our residents enjoyed it immensely.

We would like to extend our sympathy to the Corinne Jones family. Mrs. Jones was such a sweet woman and we will miss her.

We would like to again thank Gertie Murphree for her weekly Bible study. Gertie spends a lot of time sharing God's word, and it is a joy for the residents to see her here.

Mr. Holley is diligently working in our garden area on a daily basis. We can't wait until we start seeing the fruits of his labor!!!

In memory of Huck Nichols: T.I. and Melba Burleson, Ada Gant, John and Billie Jo Hand.

In memory of Corinne Jones: Baker and Margaret Duggins, Mrs. J.V. Houser and Mrs. C.O. Houser.

...ATTEND CHURCH

Proud Love...

...for a precious young life. A life whose care and welfare is completely in your hands. The joy we share in baby's first steps ...the proud love...when baby first says..."Mama!" The love for a life that is completely dependent on you for food, clothing, teaching, and spiritual guidance. Teach him his prayers, and take him to church each week where he may grow in love and admonition of the Lord.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

An Excel/UFCW Joint Focus On Employee Safety & the Workers' Compensation Crisis

Excel Corporation's Texas plants have a big problem with abuses of the state's workers' compensation system by a small number of employees. The problem is mushrooming and must be turned around quickly. We must act immediately to prevent that problem from jeopardizing the continued economic viability of the Friona and Plainview plants.

The company has implemented a variety of safety programs to deal with the causes of injuries that trigger workers' compensation claims. In the last decade, Excel has introduced numerous equipment improvements and safety-training programs, including a voluntary ergonomic-safety plan in conjunction with the United Food & Commercial Workers International Union. These programs are among the most progressive in the industry.

Excel and the UFCW are committed to providing a safe workplace and thorough treatment and rehabilitation of injuries resulting from work accidents. The company encourages the reporting of legitimate on-the-job injuries early so they can be treated promptly and professionally.

Excel will continue to compensate fully employees with valid work-related claims. But, it will pursue aggressively those individuals--inside and outside the company--who attempt to abuse the system.

We know the majority of Excel's workforce does not condone false or inflated workers' compensation claims. Excel and the UFCW met recently with union members to explain the magnitude of the problem with invalid or inflated workers' compensation claims. Employees were told that significant progress must be made in the next 60 days on eliminating false or inflated claims.

We need your help to end abuses of the workers' compensation system. We are seeking help from members of our communities because the problem is out of control.

We're concerned about workers' compensation in Texas because government surveys show that employees are not receiving benefits in proportion to costs incurred by employers.

*Texas ranks in the top 10 in terms of cost to employers.

*It ranks 47th of the 50 states in benefits to employees.

*That means the system is not serving effectively those it was meant to protect.

One conclusion that could be drawn from this combination of facts is that the system is being abused by a relatively small number of employees and their legal and medical consultants.

Excel cannot continue to devote more than $20 million annually to Texas workers' compensation costs. That's over 4.5 times more than combined costs for the company's four beef slaughter and fabrication plants of similar size outside Texas. Those plants have basically the same workers' compensation coverage and 1,400 more employees than our Plainview and Friona plants.

It is important that our employees and the people of the community know the seriousness of this problem. The solution is two-fold:

Reduce accidents, which Excel has continuously pursued as a top priority.

Eliminate abuses of the system.

The company is anxious to work with employees to reduce workers' compensation costs. Eliminating invalid or inflated claims is in the best interest of everyone associated with our processing plants. The future of our Friona plant depends on getting workers' compensation costs under control immediately.

If you want to discuss the situation or share information that may help us get this problem under control, call our Friona Hotline Number: 806/295-8477. Any help will be appreciated.
