Request Is For 24.4 Per Cent Jump

TESCO To File For Rate Hike

Texas Electric Service Company has announced that the company will file a request Tuesday for a 24.4 per cent system-wide increase in revenues.

"The revenue increase is needed so TESCO can contine changing from expensive natural gas to cheaper, more plentiful coal and nuclear fuel to generate electrcity," B. B. Hardee, TESCO manager, explained.

Filed with Colorado City and the Public Utility Commission (PUC) in Austin, the request would provide the company with an additional $110 million in revenues.

"Changing to cheaper fuels is helping hold the price of electricity down," said Hardee. "Lignite coal and nuclear fuel will provide reliable energy when natural gas may not be available for generating electricity at any price."

Hardee noted that in 1977, customers saved over $48 million on their electric bills because TESCO used lignite coal instead of expensive open-market gas to generate 28 per cent of their electricity.

Building new power plants that use these cheaper fuels has placed a financial strain on TESCO, noted Hardee.

TESCO's request for a 23.6 per cent increase last year was cut almost in half by the PUC.

Because of the fuel-changing program, TESCO has increased construction sharply. In 1978, about $222 million will be spent on construction.

"Fortunately, our customers don't have to pay for all of this construction program today," said Hardee. "But our revenues to have to be sufficient to encourage people to invest the hundreds of millions of dollars needed for construction."

Because of TESCO's deteriorating financial condition, the company canceled plans to borrow money in January to avoid jeopardizing its credit rating.

"If our credit rating is downgraded, we'll have to pay higher interest rates on the money we borrow," said Hardee. "And that means higher costs for our customers."

TESCO has six lignite-fueled generating units in operation and another coming on line this summer. The company also is building three more lignite-fueled units and a nuclear-powered generating plant. The plants are jointly by Texas Eectric, Texas Power & Light and Dallas Power & Light.

Residential customers will see a 24.8 per cent average increase--with larger increases in the summer and smaller increases in the winter--if the full requested amount is approved.

Under the proposed rates, a customer with an average bill of $10 would see it go up to about $11 per month. A bill averaging $40 would be about $52 per month with the increase.

Filed with the PUC and all cities served by Texas Electric, the increase could take effect July 5, but in the past the PUC and city councils have postponed the effective date to further study the request.

Thus, the increase probably won't go into effect until late this year, noted Hardee.

Hardee will present the proposed increase to the Loraine City Council June 5, the Westbrook City Council June 9 and the City Council of Colorado City June 13.

Auditions To Be June 5-6

Next Play Is All My Sons

Colorado City Playhouse is looking forward to its next production, Arthur Miller's emotionally-packed script, All My Sons.

Scripts are in and auditions will be held June 5 and 6 (Monday and Tuesday) at the Opera House starting at 6:30 p.m.

All persons interested in auditioning are urged to check out a script from Carl Beery Moore, who will be directing the play.

Moore can be reached by calling 728-5890 or 728-2622 at any time.

All My Sons is set in an American town just after World War II. This classic play deals with an American family and has a message of responsibility to humanity as well as self and family.

The cast includes roles for four women, five men and a young boy. The characters are: Kate Keller, a woman in her early fifties; Ann Deever, a young woman in her twenties; Sue Bayliss, a woman about forty; Lydia Lubey, a woman in her twenties; Joe Keller, a large man in his early sixties; Chris Keller, a man about thirty; George Deever, a man about thirty; Dr. Jim Bayliss, a man about forty, and Frank Lubey, a man about thirty.

There is one child's part; Bert, an energetic boy about nine.

Moore noted, "I am not very interested in having the actors actually be the ages of the people they portray. Directing All My Sons is a great challenge. What I want is people who are willing to take on this challenge with me. This is why I am asking all persons interested in auditioning to read the play and become familiar with it before the audition."

Rehearsals will begin on June 12 with performances Aug. 3, 4, 5 and 10, 11, and 12. There will be a 10 day break in rehearsals June 30-July 9. Moore plans no rehearsals on weekends.

Screwworms Hit Again

A second case of screwworms in the county was confirmed Friday, this one on the Sam Thompson place southwest of the city.

Nubbin Rowe reported that sterile flies will be dropped all next week to combat screwworms and he encourages everyone to report any suspected cases.

Sample kits will be made available so that tests can be made. These kits will be at the sale barn and feed stores.

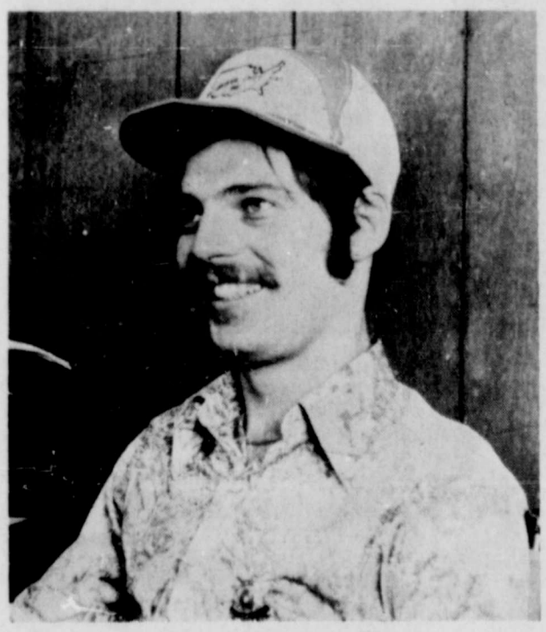

School Adjourns Tuesday

"No more pencils, no more books..."

That famous 'end-of-school' song will be chanted by students in Colorado City Tuesday as classes adjourn for the summer.

Students will be released from school an hour early to get a head start on the three months of summer vacation.

Loraine School dismissed Thursday (May 25) and Westbrook Schools concluded May 16.

JIM COOPER, 22, began working Monday as Chief of Police in Loraine. Born and raised in Sweetwater, Cooper served three years with the Security Police in the Air Force. He and his wife Nancy have been married one week. They attend the Baptist Church.

An Editorial

I-20 Is Site Of Problem

Exactly one mile west of Colorado City Interstate 20 crosses the Colorado River.

Prior to construction of the highway and bridge, which opened to traffic in 1963, all traffic used the Rogers Road or Highway 80.

When the bridge was built, the access roads were designed to circle under the bridge on both sides of the river and travel back east rather than continue west and cross the river.

Farmers wishing to cross the river must either drive up on the Interstate or detour, circle back about seven miles and enter town from old Highway 80.

Attention was called to the problem by farmers who have been forced to use the Interstate and fear for their lives and the lives of those they employ.

The hazard of large slow moving vehicles traveling on an Interstate is obvious. Combine that size, speed and a bridge with heavy traffic and the situation can be disastrous.

An estimated 200 farmers utilize this section of the highway and the very fact that there have been only three bad accidents as a result of the slow moving farm machinery in the past five years comes under the heading of a miracle.

Paul Logsdon, maintenance construction supervisor with the Texas Highway Department for the Mitchell County District, commented he never allows his equipment to drive up on the bridge crossing I-20 because of the hazard.

Several Mitchell County farmers have contacted members of the Chamber of Commerce requesting assistance in approaching the state with the possibility of constructing a low water crossing.

This subject has been bounced around for several years. The need is evident but the proper approach to the government had not been found.

New Chamber Manager Larry Winders decided to "take the bull by the horns." He wrote letters to the District Engineer with carbon copies to the governor and other state departments. Within the week the District Engineer, Rodger Welsch, was in Colorado City to review the proposal.

At his suggestion Winders met with the City Council to obtain an official resolution to the effect the low water crossing is needed. He has publicly requested individual letters from every Mitchell County resident be sent to Welsch in regard to the need.

These letters, he stated, will then be used by Welsch to convince the state of the public need.

There is a definite need for the crossing as a preventative measure, to save the lives that will inevitably be lost.

I join with Winders in a request for public involvement and hope that each person will write a letter to Rodger Welsch, District Engineer, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, P.O. Box 150, Abilene, Tex., 79604.

This proposal can likely be labeled as a life or death matter--MAC McKINNON

Program Is Set Tuesday

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Texas Agriculture Extension Service will present a short course on the management of cotton and grain sorghum insect pests in the Texas Rolling Plains.

Several entomologists will be present to discuss insect identification, biology and control and the safe use of pesticides.

Also a plant breeder will discuss the latest development in host plant resistance.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. each day at the C. C. Thompson at City National Bank in Colorado City.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend. For more information contact the County Extension office.

Postal Rates Increase

A new postage stamp that bears the letter "A" instead of a denomination, has been placed on sale at the Colorado City Post Office.

The stamp's value is 15 cents and corresponds with the new 15c postage rate for one ounce of first-class domestic mail which goes into effect at 12:01 a.m. Monday.

The new stamp design features an eagle with the legend "U.S. Postage" beneath it. The letter "A" appears beside the eagle and the "A" stamps are available in sheets of 100.

Charge for each additional ounce of letter mail over one ounce is 13c. Therefore, mailers can affix "A" stamps in combination with as many 13c stamps as necessary to letters weighing more than an ounce.

Rates for parcel post and Special Services have also been increased and the rental rates on Post Office boxes will see a rate hike.

Tax Charts Available At Chamber

Five per cent sales charts are now available at the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

Local businessmen or women may obtain needed copies of the chart at the Chamber office.

Summer Program Is To Begin June 5

Pat Reily has been named director of the Comprehensive Recreational and Educational Summer Program in Colorado City.

June 5 the program will kick off at the Wallace Community Education Center.

Eight high school students will work as group leaders with children from kindergarten to sixth grade.

The high school students will lead the youngsters in various activities, including games, exercises, field trips and arts and crafts.

Reily noted that the program is aimed at encouraging the children to work together.

In addition to the activities for the youngsters, the high school leaders will also be encouraged to learn more about the history of Mitchell County through field trips.

"The main push is to develop pride in the kids through pride in the place where they live," Reily noted.

Explaining that some students might have negative attitudes about Colorado City, Reily said that the purpose of the program would be to bring to light positive aspects about the area.

"We will visit different historical sites so that the kids might understand the influence different cultures have had on the community," Reily said.

Reily stressed that the summer program is revolved around learning, but not necessarily classroom learning. Rather, activity is the key.

"We want them to get dirty," Reily laughed.

And, one of the planned events--mud sculpturing--should result in just that.

Besides offering a bevy of activity, the program is also designed to assist the high school students in self improvement.

From 8 a.m. until noon, group leaders will work with the children. Then, from 1-5 p.m., the leaders will deal in activities offering methods of improving self-concepts, development of reading skills and career orientation.

The program will run from June 1 until Aug. 4, divided into two sessions for the youngsters.

Free of charge, the program has been titled "Super Summer, '78."

"GOD'S LOVE"

Rev. Fred Witta Jr.,

Pastor

First United

Methodist Church

Loraine

"For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust." (Matt. 5:45)

The recent rains, in fact all rains, give evidence of God's love for all of mankind for he makes it to rain on the just and the unjust. We have quite a good deal of farm land in our area and I am sure that all the land which received recent rains do not belong to what would be considered the "just" type of persons. Some of those on whose land the rain fell, I am sure could be placed in the unjust category. This exemplifies the nature of God himself in which His love for man is in an active form; sending the rain and causing the sun to shine on all men regardless of their moral worth of their attitude toward God.

In this is evidence of the truthfulness in the words of Christ when he said that it is the Father's will that we not only love our friends, but also our enemies. We, who are disciples of Christ, seek in our devotional life, through the teaching of Jesus, to become "Sons of God." In Hebrew thinking, to be a son of someone, is to resemble him in his manner of life. To speak of becoming a son of God does not presuppose some sort of supernatural rebirth; rather it means adopting a new goal and mode of life patterned after the nature of God himself.

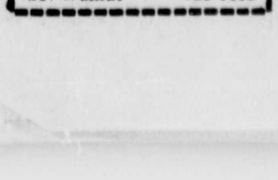

To adopt this goal however, is to reverse the ordinary pattern of human behavior, which is to love one's friends and hate one's enemies. The Bible speaks of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, yet nowhere in the Old Testament does it specifically speak of fostering hate for an enemy. Therefore, in all fairness we must come to the conclusion that hate, as we know it and practice it, is of man and not of God. Therefore the rain on the just and the unjust. I guess we can be thankful that God acts in these matters and not mankind, for if he did, I am sure that in many places rain would fall only on the fields of his friends.

Let the rain as it falls and the sun as it shines be unto us a beacon, that if we are to be a son or daughter of God, then we must have love and compassion for, not only our friends, but also our enemies.

Yes, let us put aside our petty hates and prejudices which we use to fan our vanities, put them aside for the peace of God and the treasures of heaven which comes to those who are truly sons or daughters of God.

Students Prepare Contest Entry

The Home Management class at Colorado High School in Colorado City has won a Lenox Temper-ware Casserole, the runner-up prize in Co-ed Magazine's National "Fast-to-Fix Meals" Contest.

The group project was designed to bring new interest to food classes. Under the supervision of Home Economic teacher Mrs. Martha Matthews the class planned three days of "Fast-to-Fix Meals" for a family of four. The students themselves described the family members; chose the menus and recipes; shopped for the food and prepared it. Many classes chose original ways of preparing an entry and all entries were judged on clarity, originality, ease and time of planning of menus, appetite appeal and nutritional value.

Despite the complexity of the contest and the amount of time involved to prepare an entry, the contest drew hundreds of entries from all over the country. It caught the imagination of the students while appealing to their teachers as a viable lesson plan.

Co-ed Magazine conceived the contest (it will become an annual event) and was joined in the sponsorship by the following food companies: General Mills, Inc., Golden Grain Macaroni Co., Geo. A. Hormel & Co., Kraft, Inc., Thomas J. Lipton, Inc. and Ralston Purina, Co.

The members of the class who participated in this contest were Seniors: Kelley Roach and Charlotte Goodlett and Juniors: Carla Fuller, Janet Light and Anita Bryant.

Co-ed Magazine has a circulation of 1,000,000 and a readership of over 3,000,000 in home economics classes across the country. Co-ed is published by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

The young bride nervously passed the cocktails at the first formal dinner party she hosted. "I do hope these martinis will hit the spot. We ran out of olives, so I had to pour a spoonful of olive oil into each glass."

In Georgia, two prisoners on the rock pile suddenly started slugging each other. A guard pulled them apart and asked: "Why did you attack this man?" The prisoner answered surly: "He called me a dirty number."

A Chicago doctor recently treated a young girl for an angry, infected insect bite on her right lower leg. She phoned the next day to say that the pain and itching were gone, but the calf was purple. The doctor promptly told her, "I never saw a purple calf . . ."

At a children's camp a little girl fished for awhile, then threw down her fishing pole and yelled, "I quit!" Asked for an explanation, she said, "I just can't seem to get waited on."

In upper New York state there is a medical student who spends his summer vacation working as a butcher in the daytime and as a hospital orderly at night. Both jobs involved wearing similar white uniforms. One evening he was instructed to wheel a patient on a stretcher into surgery. The patient, a very nervous and frightened lady, looked up at the student and let out an unearthly scream. "My God!" she yelled, "it's my BUTCHER."

{Chamber Of Commerce} Holdampf Speaks To AARP

By Larry Winders, Chamber Manager

Hitch-hiking on last week's article, it seems only fair to continue in the same vein with only a couple of minor digressions.

Having been on the receiving end of a very enthusiastic conversation concerning mentioning people in our articles, one 'people' specifically has actually threatened bodily harm if they were ever mentioned again; so--that previously unmentioned individual shall continue to be unmentioned for now and forever more. Strictly in the interest of continued martial bliss.

During my wanderings last week I saw a town peacefully resting after a days work. Softly lighted and well behaved with children playing in the yards, unmolested, even though it was dark.

I saw a town with a fabulous high school physical plant, one that we should all be proud of. A high school that not only produces scholars but top athletes as well.

I saw a town that has a first rate museum. Well staffed and marvelously supplied with history and items documenting our heritage, all made possible by the good will of our citizens.

I saw a town with a living theater. Created by people with a love of creativity and a desire to share their ideas and performances with all of us--and--at a cost that all can afford. Add to that the quality of the productions available through the efforts and hard work of volunteers, it's another plus factor.

I saw a town with a heart and a concern for its youth. A magnificent sports program for both male and female. Supported by the City government and our priceless volunteers with time, work and money.

I saw a town with a park that is outstanding by any unit of judging. It is large, shaded, has a place to fish, peaceful and cleaner than most.

I saw a town with a low crime rate and that indicates a tremendously effective law enforcement agency.

I saw a town with energetic and vital civic clubs, both female and male. (All women libber's please note the order of sexes listed.)

I saw a town with a library that is a source of community pride. Some of the area's most courteous and knowledgeable people preside there and the book selection is a rare opportunity available for all who choose to make use of it.

I saw a town with outdoor recreation facilities second to none in West Texas, and that covers a lot of territory. Two lakes, camping complexes, good fishing, swimming, boating and sunbathing.

I saw a town that has some of the finest people in existence anywhere. Mostly hard working, loyal, and having a belief in God. Candid, sometimes to the point of near embarrassment. Self sufficient, inventive, family oriented and by virtue of their upbringing pretty conservative in philosophy.

I saw a town blessed with sufficiently available energy and capable utility organizations to insure their delivery.

I saw a town with a better than average transportation and distribution systems. Interstate Highways, Rail and with in a reasonable proximity, air transportation.

I saw a town that has medical facilities to be viewed with approval. Adequate care for the elderly.

I saw a town that has a splendid adult training and education facility and program.

I saw all of this and marvelled--and wondered? A town that can provide the good things of life that we have...and yet the population is declining. I saw a town that is not UTOPIA. A town that has some serious problems. Problems that scream for attention. A town that has as much potential as I have ever seen. The two seem to go together, problems and potential. We will discuss those next week.

Mrs. Barbara Holdampf of Big Spring was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Mitchell County Chapter #1461 of the American Association of Retired Persons when they met Tuesday, May 23 at 11:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church. A covered dish luncheon was served.

Mrs. Bernice Hilliard introduced Mrs. Holdampf, stating that she is a registered nurse, associated with the State Hospital and in her spare time she works at Malone-Hogan Hospital. She is a psychiatric nurse.

Her topic dealt with Mental Health, and how to stay a young, old person. She stressed the idea that there always comes a time in life when we need to re-assess what we are doing and that the key word is "staying active." This was directed at the retirement age group.

She noted that in 1958 there were 9 million people of 65 years and older, that figure jumping to 20 million in 1978, so it is necessary to look at this group. She brought out the importance of good nutrition, that this always makes for good, healthy bodies. Also we need to make thinking a habit to keep our minds alert, she added.

The concluding point she made was to think in terms of others or just "caring." This discussion proved to be informative as well as interesting and was enjoyed by all.

Chapter president, M. A. Stinson, presided over the business session. Treasurer's report revealed a balance on hand of $221.06. A report on the legislative program for the year was read and was adopted as 26 and members voted to pay all expenses for the president and his wife to attend.

The Widowed Persons Service Seminar, conducted by Dr. Sprucie Newman of Corpus Christi on May 15-19 at the Wallace Center was reported to be a success.

Members present were Milton and Tressie Mae Stinson; Arnel and Rochelle Smith; Olman and Louise Sweat; Lewis and Elizabeth Elliott; Margaret Oyler, Juanita Coker, Lucretia Small, Fannie Cooper, Mattie Iglehart, Jewell C. Richter, Pearl Lindsey, Undine Bobo, the chapter program. The governor's meeting on the aged was scheduled to be held in San Antonio June Dona Reed, Ida Miles, Wilma Womack, Ruby Cawthorn, Mary Womack, Bernice Hilliard, Mrs. J. P. Nunn, Mrs. Wilma Reynolds and R. W. Wells.

Guests included Dollie Jarman, Vena Carroll and the guest speaker, Barbara Holdampf.

Special decorations included English ivy runners with a floral arrangement of pink and white blossoms on the white cloth-covered tables.

SPLITTING UP the flock? That is presently the question being pondered by the City Council of Colorado City regarding the geese at Ruddick Park. Council Considers Citizens' Problems

During the councilmen's reports presented to the City Council Monday evening several members noted reports from citizens on various problems.

Councilwoman Jody Neff introduced Highway Patrolman David Hancock who represented the United Girls Softball League. Hancock explained the need for about 800 feet of four foot fencing for the new girl's softball field.

He stated he had been given estimates by Higginbotham Lumber Company and Jimmy Moody's Agri-Supply for the 11 gauge chain link fence with Moody's bid lowest. He requested $560 from the city to purchase the fence stating the post had been donated and placed in the ground by parents of the players.

He indicated the need for grass seed also.

Campbell stated that since the improvements were being made on city property and would belong to the city, it was all right to grant the request.

The council gave $600 to the league. They also indicated water lines would be laid across to the field.

June 1 was set as opening date for Ruddick Park Swimming Pool. Beverly Fuller will be pool manager for the summer.

Campbell noted that City Hall will be closed May 29 for Memorial Day.

The Council appointed Henry Bilberry, Eddie Mitchell and R. B. Baker as members to serve on the board of equalization to meet July 3.

Councilman J. O. Dockery inquired as to the progress on the Vine Street water line. City Manager James Campbell stated the line two blocks south of 19th had still not been completed. He indicated his water department personnel had been kept extremely busy repairing leaks and had been unable to complete the project.

"If we can't get it done maybe we should contract the work," Dockery commented. Campbell assured the council the work would be completed.

New Councilmember Jesse Munoz asked about installation of the new street signs. Campbell stated the signs were scheduled to be one of the summer work projects for the high school kids who will be employed by the city.

Councilman Rick Perkin injected a bit of levity into the meeting when he again requested restrictions be placed on the geese at Ruddick Park. He noted they had caused the ground on the creek bank to be completely sterile preventing vegetation from growing.

"They also steal your Fritos," he added. Perkin went on to explain he and his family had tried to picnic in the park and had been accosted by the geese. He suggested the city dispatch the dog catcher to move all but a few of the gaggle of geese to a country home. Apparently, the flock will be thinned out.

Councilman Buddy Hertenberger noted a request from the county for reimbursement of $2,479 to the county for a portion of one policeman's salary. Campbell stated the city would require the request in writing for the auditor's sake.

Senior League Begins

Colorado City has one team playing in the Senior Texas Teenage League Baseball.

Sponsored by the Optimist Club, the Reds are managed by James Shoemaker. Coaches are Bill Carter and Ronnie Feaster.

Playing on the team are Jim Shoemaker, Jay Feaster, Gene Carter, David Rivera, Steve Moore, Ronald Proctor, Ricky McPhaul, Danny Torrez, Tony Truelove, Joey Landeros, Bobby Rivera, Steven Walker and Ruben Garcia.

Thus far in the season, the Reds have lost each of the three games played. May 11, the Sweetwater Tigers overcame the Reds 9-5. May 16, the Sweetwater Astros plowed the Reds 9-1 and May 18 the Reds lost to the Sweetwater Rangers by a slim 4-3.

Next the Reds will play Monday, Memorial Day, in Roscoe.

SOMETIMES IT just seems simplier to climb up the bleachers from the back. At least that appears to be the reasoning of this young man as he lifts himself to the top of the bleachers. Baseball and softball seasons are underway in Mitchell County and almost every night of the week a ballgame is being played somewhere. As suggested by this picture, not all the activity is on the field.

Quinney Presented Star For Gallantry

Long overdue honors were paid by the United States of America to one of it's finest in ceremonies Saturday in San Angelo.

Gilbert R. Quinney, 80, a past Colorado City resident and brother to the late Floyd Quinney and uncle of Nina Katheren Crout, was the recipient of this nation's third highest award for gallantry in battle, the silver star, almost 60 years after his discharge from the Marine Corps.

Quinney, who was discharged in 1919 from the Corps, had been notified in 1940 that he was to be the recipient of the medal. The notification was set aside and forgotten apparently by Quinney and the Corps.

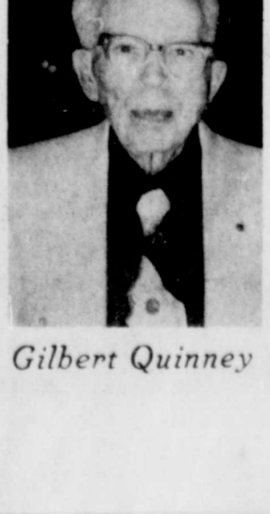

According to Col. A. F. Bauer, deputy director for the Eighth Marine Corps District based in New Orleans, La., "bureaucratic red tap" has been responsible for the almost 60 year delay in presentation of the medal.

Quinney became eligible for the silver star when he received two citations for gallantry during World War I.

The slight was brought to light when he contacted local recruiters and informed them of the two citations. "It took them less than 30 minutes to verify it," he stated.

During the presentation services Quinney recalled he served as a runner in the 82nd Company, Sixth Marine Regiment of the Second Army Division. "A runner was a message carrier and had the most dangerous job in the outfit," he stated.

It was during the bloody battle of Blanc Mont Ridge in France and subsequent capture of St. Etienne that the young Marine private earned his citations from the highest ranking Army and Marine generals in France.

Gilbert Quinney

He and his company commander, Captain Charles Roberts, were credited with capturing 42 German soldiers in an underground structure. The next day he and the captain and another runner were caught in shelling.

"We were all together when it happened but I guess I hit the ground too fast," he recalled. "They were both still fairly mobile and I helped them get back to the aid station."

The ex-marine recalled that his company was comprised of 250 men and that there are 750 names on its roster as having served with it in France. Six survived the war unwounded. Quinney is the last of the six alive.

During the ceremonies May 20, Quinney was also presented with the fourragere, a French award for bravery during battle at Beileau Wood, in honor of his combat participation.

Quinney and his wife, Hazel Cook Quinney, currently reside in the Rio Concho Manor in San Angelo.

Police Beat

Travis Green, 24, of Colorado City was sentenced by District Judge Weldon Kirk to four years in prison during a hearing held Friday.

Green's arrest stemmed from an incident involving an alleged argument in which he and Roy Scott were involved on the south side of town by the hog pens.

A scuffle is alleged to have broken out between the two men resulting in Scott being struck on the head with a claw hammer.

Scott was taken to Root Memorial Hospital by private automobile where he was treated and released.

Green was arrested by Colorado City Police May 14 and arraigned on charges of aggravated assault.

At the time of his arrest Green was already serving a seven year probated sentence for aggravated assault. District Attorney Frank Ginzel filed charges to revoke that probation.

Green will be transported to Huntsville Prison next week to begin his sentence.

Ricardo Artemyo Urango, 18, of Big Spring is out of jail on bond of $30,000. Urango and Hector O. Gardea, 19, who remains in Mitchell County jail in lieu of $30,000 bond were arraigned by Justice of the Peace Henry Doss on charges of criminal mischief and two counts of burglary May 18.

Charges stemmed from the alleged break-in of Creations By You at 153 Walnut and an estimated $8,000 worth of vandalism done at Paris Yarbrough Fina Station at 338 West 2nd just after midnight May 18.

Police spotted the pair inside Creations By You while on routine patrol downtown Friday at 2 a.m. They apprehended the pair and because the two were barefooted began a search of the area for their car.

They located the car and discovered merchandise and monies stamped with the Fina Station name and address.

Upon investigation at the station police discovered the apparent vandalism and burglary.

According to Police Chief Fred McWhorter, items taken from Yarbrough's Fina Service Station and found in the suspects car were more than 14 cartons of cigarette valued at $76, $8 worth of candies, one can of WD-40 valued at $2.75, three pair of gloves worth $25.35, two oil filters worth $10.50, one air sander valued at $45, one electric tire grinder worth $45, four buss fuses worth 80c, two rolls of pennies, three Cricket lighters valued at $4.47 and a roll of station towels valued at $12. The total value of merchandise taken was estimated at $230.87.

Police are continuing investigation into the incident.

A disturbance at the bus terminal Monday led to the apprehension by Colorado City Police of two men suspected of stealing an automobile Sunday in Fort Worth.

Chief of Police Fred McWhorter and Assistant Chief Jerry Cowin answered a routine disturbance call to the bus depot Monday. They arrived to find two young men in a verbal battle with the bus driver.

After a brief questioning, according to McWhorter, it was discovered that the pair had arrived in town driving a car which it appeared from their vague story they had abandoned at a truck stop.

Since there were no charges against the two men when the bus departed, one of the men who had purchased a ticket earlier left.

The other man stayed at the station with police officers while they tried to locate the car in which he had allegedly arrived.

With only a vague description of the car, police officers were able to locate it and a local man who had a bill of sale from the pair for the car. The names on the bill of sale were not the names the pair had given during questioning.

A routine check was run on the vehicle registration and it was determined the car belonged to a Fort Worth man who had not reported the car missing, although it is alleged to have been stolen May 21.

A call was dispatched to law enforcement agencies at the destination of the bus who apprehended the second man.

Both suspects have been returned to Fort Worth by authorities.

A young Colorado City woman received minor injuries when she lost control of the car she was driving and struck a telephone pole early May 18.

Denise Morris Sweet, 19, was driving north on the 800 block of Hickory about 1:05 a.m. May 18 when her 1968 Ford Galaxy went out of control and hit a telephone pole, ricocheted off and hit a tree. The car came to rest against a curb.

Officer Jimmy Roundtree answered a call to the scene and requested an ambulance which carried Mrs. Sweet to Root Hospital where she was treated and released.

A near tragedy sent three children and their mother and father to Root Memorial Hospital May 18.

Mrs. Lois Lamar, her husband three small children were headed for their home in Potean, Okla., when a tire blew out on their Ford station wagon while passing a truck just west of Westbrook.

The truck driven by Presley Robinson of Hope, Ark., hit the car in the rear as Mrs. Lamar lost control of the vehicle and spun in circles down the highway. The truck came in contact with the car again on the side and finally was pushing the car down the highway nose to nose.

"It could have been a fatal accident if the car, truck and the truck following behind the first truck hadn't been going the speed limit." Highway Patrolman Marvin Keenan, who was at the scene of the accident, commented.

Mrs. Lamar received treatment in Root Memorial Hospital. Her husband and children were not admitted to the hospital.

This letter stated that Rhodes had been made aware during his last visit in Colorado City of the potentially hazardous situation which existed on Interstate 20 where it crosses the Colorado River.

Rhodes stated in this letter that he had contacted Rodger Welsch, Highway Engineer for this district, and had been informed of the need to point out the necessity of the low water crossing based on accidents which have occurred on the bridge.

"I am aware of several accidents at this location, the most notable one being a tractor-truck accident.

—Mr. and Mrs. Kindred Were Original Owners—

1905 Marks Birth Of Colorado City Record

(Editor's Note: The following article about the history of the Colorado City Record was written at sometime during the 1930's or 1940's by A. L. Whipkey and given to local historian Mary C. Jones. Her son, J. Lee Jones Jr., forwarded the articles the Record recently.)

In December 1905, Whipkey Bros., F. B. and A. L., came to Colorado, looking for a location for a newspaper and printing plant. They were from McLennan County, where they had been publishing a paper twelve years, but having sold out, they were looking for a new field.

They came to Colorado through the influence of Rev. Holmes Nichols, who, at that time was pastor of the Baptist Church, and had been, in former years, at West--the Whipkeys' home.

At that time there were two weekly papers in Colorado. The Clipper, run by Tom Cooper; and the Record, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kindred, who had just started the little paper in the previous October.

After looking over the town, and part of the country, the Whipkeys thought they could see a bright future ahead for this part of West Texas.

They figured the purchase of either paper, and finally took an option for 30 days on Mrs. Kindred's little plant.

A few weeks afterward (in Jan. 1906) they returned, closed the option and took over the plant.

They immediately went to the markets and bought a complete plant, among which was a large cylinder power press, folding machine, job presses, type, etc. They moved the plant to the old Masonic building and continued the publication of the paper under its original name "The Colorado Record."

They were very much discouraged by some of the businessmen of the town, telling them that they could not succeed, as a dozen or more papers had been started and died a lingering and painful death. Even the men from whom they bought the machinery, told them that Colorado was a newspaper graveyard. No one seemed to trust newspaper people, so they paid six months in advance rent on the office building, and could get no residences at all. They had to "board" until Gus Bertner could build houses for them.

In the spring their families came out and they were at home in the new houses (now the Mrs. Dollman places). After the first year they built their own homes, in which they are living today.

By April the plant was complete and in good running order and they gave a visitors day or "opening." Refreshments were served and they gave as souvenirs pretty Easter cards, printed in three colors, while the visitors watched the process.

At that time Colorado was a country village, not incorporated, no pavement, no sidewalks. Cows and pigs roamed the streets seeking what they could devour. In dry weather (which was most of the time) sand was a foot deep, and in wet weather mud was deeper.

The Record at once began a drive for civic improvement--trying to get the town incorporated, stock law, etc. With the help of a few enterprising men of the town, it was incorporated and began to improve and build at once, until today Colorado Ciy has more lights, more paving, more trees and nice lawns, more new and modern churches and schools, than any town in West Texas of like population. And growing from a population of about 500(?) to more than 6,000.

In 1908 the Record installed a linotype machine at a cost of more than $5,000 the first one of the kind between Fort Worth and El Paso, except at Abilene; this enabled them to get out a larger and better paper, and also gave them a wider field in job and book printing. From then to the present time the Record has grown steadily; always keeping just a little ahead of other country. Farmers poured in and the country developed rapidly, but the Record was always in the lead.

When the town wanted some new improvement, such as a cotton oil miil, cotton compress, modern gins, new court house, city hall, fire fighting equipment, oil refinery, paving, electric lights and new bridges, new school building, new and better churches, country school houses, the Record was the first to advocate it, and kept pounding away until Colorado now has them all; and they are now looking forward to more and better things.

" these years the Record printing plant has never ceased to grow; replacing old machinery with the latest and most improved printing machinery, until now it has two of the latest models of Linotype machines, book presses, automatic job presses which feeds in the sheets of paper and takes them out, automatically, modern cutting machines, punches, wire stitches, etc. It is probably the only weekly paper in the state which is printed on a webb perfecting press. Each machine is driven by its own individual motor.

Later the Record built a fine new brick building on Walnut Street 30x125 feet, the north side being glass, insures an abundance of light and ventilation.

Employees of the Record seldom ever quit their jobs unless circumstances force them to do so, as the standard scale of wages has always been paid the working conditions are as good as in any printing plant. The Record has had a number of editors to come and go; many printers, reporters, for shorter or longer terms, but there were two positions that never changed for over forty years and those were the business management by F. B. Whipkey; and Superintendent of the mechanical department, under A. L. Whipkey.

The Record has had in these years, from time to time, four different competitors, none of which survived as long as a year.

The Record claims as genuine paid subscriptions 90 per cent of the rural population of Mitchell County, and it does not put on subscription contests, or give automobiles or other prizes to sell the paper, but depends upon the merits of the paper to hold their subscribers. There are a number of names on their list that has taken the paper continuously since its first issue.

In 1926 A. L. Whipkey sold his interest to W. W. Whipkey, his nephew, and son of F. B. Whipkey, who took full charge of the plant as owner and manager. F. B. W. has retired from active duties, but A. L. is still active as a printer, having worked at this business sixty-five years.

What is an uninsured motorist? I thought every state required some basic car insurance coverage.

Most states have laws requiring proof of financial responsibility, but not all drivers comply. Uninsured motorist coverage was developed to protect the victim of an accident caused by a driver who has no insurance. It may also cover you if you are the victim of a hit-and-run type of accident. Damage to your car is not insured unless you carry collision insurance.

The Witnesses are utilizing some of the largest sports stadiums in the country for this series of international meetings. They include four covered facilities: Astrodome, Houston; Superdome, New Orleans, Louisiana; Kingdome, Seattle, Washington; and the new Silverdome in Pontiac, Michigan.

Szabo added that 760,000 persons are expected to attend the 20 conventions in three languages: English, Spanish and French. Five conventions are planned for Canada with an attendance estimate of 145,000.

The theme of the convention is "Victorious Faith."

TO A CONCERNED FARMING COMMUNITY

Democratic congressional candidate A.L. (Dusty) Rhodes spoke to more than a hundred persons this past weekend concerning his stand on the problems facing the nation's farmers. Rhodes made his statement at a bar-b-que held in his honor at a ranch just outside Fluvanna Saturday evening.

Rhodes first lashed out at the double standard flourishing in the beef industry, stating "It is unbelievable to think we would undercut our own domestic beef market with inferior imported beef. If we import beef at all, we must demand that it be inspected and labeled as such so the housewife will know what she is buying at the market."

The Abilene businessman and attorney went on to say that he believes that President Carter is the real founder of the American Agriculture Movement. Stated Rhodes, "When the Democratic party promised to the farmer in their 1976 platform, and then failed to deliver, another crisis, that of a lack of confidence in government, was born. I support that platform. In the platform's own words, we must assure parity returns to farmers, based upon cost of production plus a reasonable profit."

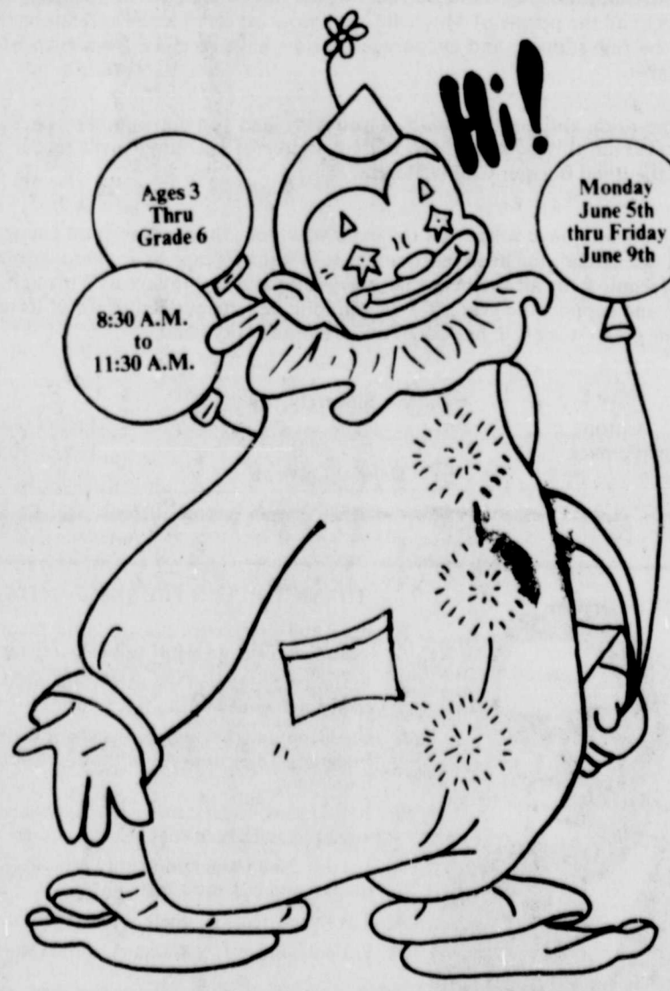

Rhodes said that he believes to acheive the goals of the Democratic platform, we must first control foreign imports. Secondly, according to the candidate, we must let the farmer design and implement a system of acreage controls. Third, we must abandon the government's cheap food and fiber policies which depress farm profits.

Rhodes twice blasted opponent Charles Stenholm, first for trying to put the election on the basis of farm versus city, and secondly for Stenholm's belief that farmers must support him simply because he himself is a farmer. Stated Rhodes, "He's (Stenholm) been on every side of the farm issue during this campaign. In the beginning, he tried to take credit for advising the current administration on the creation of the 1977 farm bill. He then tried to disassociate himself from the farmers' movement when it looked as if it would be unpopular, and I wouldn't be surprised if now, when it looks as if the farm vote might decide the outcome of this election, he tries to endorse every objective for which the movement has worked so hard without his help."

Rhodes is seeking to replace retiring U.S. Representative Omar Burleson of Anson.

Girl Scouts Prepare To Hold Fair

Now is the time for pre-camp thinking and long range plans for Girl Scouts, age 6-17. The Day Camps at Abilene, Haskell, Snyder, Lamesa, Hamlin and resident camp at Boothe Oaks will offer opportunities the girls can cash in on at the West Texas Fair, Sept. 9-16, 1978 in Abilene. It's a good time to share arts and crafts made during the summer months as well as in the troop meetings.

Polly Sands, Girl Scout Fair Chairman announces four categories for Girl Scouts from all over the West Texas Council. All levels may enter the first three categories: Collections, Creative paintings, and misc. (puppets, macrame, prints, etc.) The fourth category includes Specialities: Nature toys for Brownies, Clay for Juniors, Stitchery for Cadettes and Seniors.

Many troops in the Council plans to enter their work of the past months from leatherwork to weaving projects. Both Mrs. Sands and her Craft Judge Beth Hennigan have worked with the Girl Scout Division of the Woman's Department for four years. They stress originality and crativity and urge girls to start experimenting in the World of Arts.

The entry date is Sept. 6, Wednesday, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

McGuire Named Camp Chairman

Bill McGuire, Mitchell County Sheriff, has been named 1978 Camp Chairman for the Colorado City Salvation Army Service Unit. The announcement came from Service Unit Chairman Judge Bill F. Carter.

Sheriff McGuire will be in charge of selecting 7 boys from ages 8 to 14 to attend the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle at Midlothian July 9-16.

All Texas communities are invited to send selected youths who would not otherwise get a chance to attend a summer camp. The camp chairman is responsible for selecting he boys.

The Service Unit furnishes them with any clothing, toiletries or other items they might need, arranging medical examinations and providing them with $5 in cash. It also arranges transportation to and from the camp for them.

The Colorado City Service Unit guarantees local expenses in getting the boys ready. The Salvation Army Texas Division pays all expenses of the camp itself, which offers swimming, hiking, athletic contests and many group activities in each of four one-week sessions.

Card Of Thanks

We are grateful to all the persons who visited our wife and mother during her stay in the hospital. A special thanks to Dr. Terry for trying his best, also to some of the nurses, and nurses aides for their kind understanding. To our friends who sent flowers, food, cards, offered prayers and condolences, during our recent mourning. Our sincere thanks.

MEMORIAL DAY

In times of peace...in times of war...men and women of the armed forces have stood ready to protect our ideals of democracy. We will not forget their heroic deeds, for they were done in the name of freedom. We cannot forget their loyalty, for it gave their struggle meaning, and kept this nation strong. And we must not forget them, for they gave their lives so that this nation might live. On Memorial Day, let's pay grateful tribute to those who lived, and died so courageously for their country.
