Ruthless Slayer Of Robert Tharp Believed Captured

Suspect Held At Kingsville After Arrest

Paul Mitchell, Alias Masters, Charged With Murder In The Fatal Shooting Of Grocery Employe Here

Will Be Returned

Two Other Men Are Involved; One Held At Amarillo And Has Given Signed Confession Naming Mitchell

WITH PAUL MITCHELL, alias Paul Masters, the accused slayer of 25-year-old Robert Tharp, in their custody, Sheriff Tom Able and Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore hoped to return late tonight from Kingsville, Kleberg county, where the 24-year-old Amarillo mechanic was arrested Monday.

The Lubbock county officers, who gave information leading to Mitchell's arrest in South Texas, left about noon yesterday with a warrant for Mitchell's arrest. A murder charge was filed against the suspect in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court by Sheriff Abel and Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney.

Two Others Involved

Two other men are involved in the fatal shooting of Tharp, assistant manager of an M-System store here, October 15. One, held in Amarillo as an accomplice in the slaying and in a sucessful armed robbery executed a few moments earlier, has made a signed confession in Amarillo naming Mitchell as the man who killed Tharp during an attempted holdup. The other suspect probably will be arrested soon, it was learned last night.

Sheriff Abel was informed by telephone about 8 o'clock yesterday morning of Mitchell's arrest at Kingsville by Police Chief J. S. Scarbough.

To Resume Probe

A 72nd district court grand jury which will be impaneled Monday by Judge Homer L. Pharr is expected to resume a probe of the Tharp slaying, weighing the new evidence unearthed by Sheriff Abel.

Mitchell also is wanted in Tulsa as a suspect. Mitchell escaped from a Tulsa hospital where he was being treated for gunshot wounds suffered in a gun battle with a Broken Arrow, Okla., marshal. No charges have been filed in Oklahoma against Mitchell.

Tharp, who as a halfback at McMurry college of Abilene became known as the Gallopin' Ghost of Texas gridirons, was shot in the abdomen at 8:52 p. m., October 15. While on an operating table, he repeatedly asked why he was shot, declaring he had complied with the bandit's orders. Tharp died at 10:05 a. m. October 17. His fiancee attended the funeral.

A few moments before Tharp was

Regular Term Of Court Will Convene Here Next Monday

A regular term of 72nd district court will convene in Lubbock with Judge Homer L. Pharr presiding Monday. A grand jury will be impaneled.

Criminal cases on 72nd court docket will be set for trial for the weeks of February 20 and March 7, Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, said. Criminal cases also are docketed for call in 99th district court by Judge Clark M. Mullican, February 27.

Wanted To Wed To Land A Job

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 31.—Squire George Douglass and Ed [illegible], county clerk, have [illegible] troubles when it comes to [illegible]. They found that it is sometimes easier for two to live than one.

A negro came to Squire Douglass and wanted to be married, but he didn't have the $5 for the license or the $2 for the performance of the ceremony.

"What I wants to know, Squire Douglass, is will you all marry [illegible] I can pay you the $7, a dollar [a] week?" asked the negro, as [illegible] his prospective bride [illegible] before the squire.

[illegible] the squire expressed [illegible] that the negro could pay [illegible] he was married, the man [said], "Yes, sir, squire, I'd be a [heap] more able to pay you after the ceremony, because the folks down at the welfare office says they would give me a job if I had someone to support."

Hitler Reign Brings An Outburst Of Violence In Germany; Strike Falters

Four Persons Are Killed And At Least 49 Injured In Outbreaks Throughout Nation

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Adolf Hitler's appointment of the chancellorship precipitated renewed outbursts of political violence today in which four persons were killed and at least 49 injured, but the new fascist government appeared to have weathered threats of a general strike.

The nazi leader's first day at the head of the reich was marked by negotiations designed to win for him toleration of the 70 members of the centrist party in the reichstag, who would give him a majority and pave the way for constitutional rule.

One of the day's sanguinary political brawls occurred in Breslau where a communist was killed and two nazis were stabbed in a street fight growing out of a communist demonstration against the new government.

At Wurpertal national socialists attacked a trade union building, and there was pistol firing in which a man was injured. At Boersingfeld in Lippe, nazis stormed the town hall, tearing down the flag of the republic and replacing it with the Hitlerite banner.

Auto License Deadline Falls Tonight; 20 Per Cent Penalty Will Prevail After Midnight

School, City, County, State Taxes Unpaid Today Draw A 10 Per Cent Penalty; Aid Sought At Austin

WITH an estimated 2,500 Lubbock county automobiles still lacking 1933 license plates, deadline for registration falls at midnight Wednesday.

School, city, county and state taxes unpaid last midnight became delinquent and will draw a ten per cent penalty and six per cent interest. The county tax collector's office remained open until midnight, the city office closed at 10:30 o'clock and the school office at about the same time.

Delay Is Sought

At Austin yesterday machinery of the Texas legislature was set in motion to succor the man who is unable to pay his motor vehicle tax. The house committee on highways and motor traffic, according to the Associated Press, voted a unanimous favorable report on a bill to extend the time for purchasing automobile license until March 1. Under present law persons who drive their automobiles after [illegible] without 1933 licenses are subject to heavy penalties.

Collections of all taxes have been slow this month, it was reported, in contrast to other years, [illegible] officers were not greatly rushed yesterday. Automobile registration[s] [illegible]

Enrollment Here Jumps To 5,409

Lubbock public school system's enrollment for the 1932-33 session reached its peak this week with a total of 5,409 students listed on the rolls, Supt. M. H. Duncan announced Tuesday.

Three hundred and ninety-six new students have enrolled since the beginning of the year, Mr. Duncan said.

Record enrollment of the system was experienced in 1929 when a total of 5,735 students were in school.

Principal R. W. Matthews reported 235 seniors listed for graduation this spring.

Trade Expert To Visit Here

James F. Bone, Los Angeles C Of C Trade Commissioner, Will Speak At Local Clubs; Is Touring Texas

James F. Bone, domestic trade commissioner of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will arrive here early today for a three day visit in Lubbock for the purpose of studying business conditions and opportunities for a greater flow of business between Los Angeles and Lubbock through trade reciprocity, it was announced at the chamber of commerce yesterday.

Bone is visiting the principal trade centers of Texas, having entered the state at El Paso Jan. 24. He will remain in Texas until March 9, visiting in that tme El Paso, Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Temple, Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Austin, and San Antonio.

Today Bone will speak at the Rotary club. Thursday and Friday he will fill speaking engagements at the Kiwanis and American Business clubs respectively. While here he will interview the leading merchants, bankers, wholesale merchants and others to discuss trade relationships.

Italy Agrees To Take Part In War Debts Examination

ROME, Jan. 31. (AP)—Italy agreed today to participate in a new examination of the war debts as quickly as possible after the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president of the United States on March 4.

The government's position was set forth in an announcement which made no reference to possible trade discussions, but it was understood that Italy had decided against raising the question of concessions and is leaving that matter for its representatives in Washington to consider. As Mr Roosevelt's attitude is interpreted here, he desires some form of compensation for debt revision.

VERNON, Jan. 31. (AP)—J. H. Richardson was acquitted tonight by a jury in district court here on charges of assault with intent to murder, in connection with the shooting and wounding of G. L. "Curly" McLean in a pool hall here the night of last December 17.

Edwards Jury In Bank Case Is Still Out

Trial Ends Tuesday And Case Goes To Jury At 2:45; No Report Of How Members Are Voting Is Received

Fifty Years Asked

Jodie Edwards Being Tried As Alleged Gunman In Robbery Of Seagraves Bank; Others Booked This Week

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 31.—The fate of Jodie Edwards, charged with robbery with firearms of the First State bank of Seagraves May 27, 1932, was placed in the hands of the jury at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon following argument of G. H. Nelson, district attorney, who asked a term of 50 years if Edwards is found guilty. The defendant did not take the stand in his own defense.

The jury at [illegible] o'clock asked for the reading of the testimony of the chief state witness, Miss Lora Brown. R. S. Gr[illegible], local attorney who is representing Vickers and Campbell at first and Edwards objected to this procedure. Later the objection was withdrawn and Clyde Backenstoe then read the testimony.

> OTHERS SCHEDULED
> BROWNFIELD, Jan. 31.—"I do not know which case will be tried first until we open up Wednesday morning," G. H. Nelson, 106th district attorney, said tonight when asked which of the four remaining Seagraves bank robbery cases will be tried next.
> Cases scheduled for Wednesday [illegible] are: Edwin Meredith, James W. Baker, O. M. Herring and Elmer Slaughter. Baker has been tried before, the jury being unable to agree.

No Further Report

At 5:45 the jury asked Sheriff Smith to say members would know in 15 minutes whether to have supper ordered or not. At that hour an additional [illegible] was asked and at 6:15 the sheriff took the jurors to supper.

On its return the jury went into its room [illegible] report had been heard at 11 o'clock tonight.

Both state and defense at 11 o'clock announced their cases closed. Judge G[illegible] M[illegible] prepared his charge [illegible] and opened court after the noon recess, shortly after 1 o'clock. Both sides were given 45 minutes for argument.

Issues Are Summed Up

Nelson took about 10 minutes in the opening to sum up and outlined issues in the case, and was followed by J. F. Vickers, Lubbock, defense attorney. Vickers talked for nearly [illegible] and [illegible] testimony of the state. At the close he asked for an acquittal on the basis of the alibi offered by his client.

"I do not ask for the death penalty," Nelson said in his closing argument.

Charges Of Radicalism And Atheism Are Hurled At Arkansas University

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 31.—The Arkansas house of representatives today refused to authorize an investigation of charges that President John C. Futrall of the University of Arkansas has "stacked" the faculty with "foreigners" and pigheaded northerners.

Charges radicalism and atheism were taught and that two of the "foreigners" referred to but unnamed were "disciples of Mussolini" and another "a disciple of Lenin and Trotzky" were countered by the university's defenders with a declaration the proposed resolution was "absurd" and "an insult to the intelligence of people of this state and the country."

The university president and his five foreign born faculty members alternately were attacked and defended through an hour's debate that ended with defeat of a resolution for the investigation by Representatives Grant of Jackson county and Smith of Randolph county by a vote of 41 to 59.

Former students at the university now representatives in the Arkansas legislature took the floor in defense of their alma mater. Representative Hill, one of those branded the [illegible] resolution [illegible] [illegible] stark mad [illegible] declared the university was one of the most efficient in the south.

Insurance Companies Announce Moratorium And Policy Is Being Adopted In Growing Area Over Country

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 31.—American debt-ridden farmers, victim of prices now 51 per cent of the pre-war level, for the most part sat back today while federal and state governments, along with big business, accelerated plans for their relief.

Heretofore active in preventing tax sales and mortgage foreclosures, farmers throughout the country today awaited action which their cries for assistance had precipitated.

Reports Of Relief

From Washington, New York City and various home cities of insurance companies and the seats of state legislatures came reports of speeded effort to ease financial pains of mortgage distressed farm lands.

One farm sale only was halted during the day. At Tuscola, Ill., a group of farmers chased a representative of a mortgage holder off a farm when he attempted to raise bids on the property. Otherwise, attention centered on those who have been asked for relief.

Day's Developments

Principal of the day's developments included:

1. At Washington a senate committee [illegible] hearings on the domestic allotment [bill], said by its backers to be the cure for farmers' plight. Before the senate banking sub-committee Senator Robinson (D., Ark.) urged favorable report on his emergency farm credit measure. He suggested farm foreclosures should be suspended temporarily pending enactment of more permanent farm relief legislation.

The Last Will And Testament Of The Lame Duck!

Outbursts Of Applause Greet Efforts Of Ruth Bryan Owen As Hattie Caraway Serves As Inspiration To Doggerel; She Gives The Boys In Congress Something To Think About

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Representative Ruth Bryan Owen brought outbursts of applause when she read "The Last Will and Testament of the Lame Duck" to a luncheon given in honor of women in congress by the Women's National Press Club.

Mrs. Owens said she was inspired to doggerel by Senator Hattie Caraway, also adept at it.

When Mrs. Owen had finished, Representative Florence P. Kahn, of California, announced she would ask permission to read the "Last Will" into the house record and Mrs. Caraway said she was going to place it in the senate record.

Mrs. Owen protested, saying such a procedure was "not dignified" but Mrs. Kahn overrode her reluctance with "Oh, give the boys a good time before you go. They'll wish they had been smart enough to think of it."

The verse follows:

To members in the coming session
We leave what's left of the depression
With fifty thousand tomes appended
Telling just how it can be ended.
To congressmen who'll draw our salary
We leave all gunmen in the gallery
All communists who march and fight
And threaten us with dynamite.
Those stalwart ones may have the onus
Of laying hands upon the bonus.
The currency—to them we hand it
To shrink, contract it, or expand it.
We'll let them exercise their talents
On making that thar budget balance
And, pointing out, with no delaying
A tax the public won't mind paying.
To make this simple as can be
We leave to them technocracy.
To them we're leaving the analysis
Of beer producing no paralysis.
To them we leave, with stifled sobs
All persons who are seeking jobs.
Our pangs of exile 'twill assuage
To know we have no patronage.
To you, dear ladies of the press
We leave unfeigned thankfulness.
All you have done to give us pleasure
Are memories we will always treasure
While we roam that vast expanse
Where lame ducks seek their sustenance.
When happy days are here again
Please let us know just where and when.

Officers Are Appointed In Shakespeare Club; Delphian Club Meets

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THE way women spend their time now is a subject that is popular for discussion and for preaching. There is a universal tendency to deplore the amount of time that women waste and there is a particular element sighing for the old days when women had very much to do in the home. This latter class is inclined to hope that all women will quit their jobs and professions and return to the home, leaving the business world to men.

Such people are going to be interested in a phase of study that is popular now and in the statistics that are being published, revealing what part women play in the industrial world and indicating that they are to remain there.

People who think that women are unduly idle simply because it does not take all of their time to manage a home do not take into consideration all of the labor-saving devices that have been introduced in the last few years and the leisure that machines have made possible. It has been estimated, for instance, that 23,000,000 women have gained large amounts of extra time as a result of modern household efficiency.

That is only one small part of the situation. Women have much of the wealth of the country. They have become a vital part of industry. Those who feel that time should turn back might more profitably study the conditions as they are. This thing called Technocracy is giving us a lot of facts to ponder.

FOR YOUR TEA

HERE is an idea for your Valentine tea or dinner. At each end of the table red candles are placed and ribbons are strung between, festooned with paper hearts of gold. The center-piece is a heart-shaped plaque made of red flowers and bordered with gold lace paper to accentuate the shape of the design.

FOR YOUR FLOWERS

BY THE WAY, here are some ideas on flower arrangements you may appreciate, since every one uses bouquets at one time or another.

If your living room has brown or dark green cretonne drapes, the flowers should be such as to bring out the colors in those hangings and not to blend with them.

A boudoir bouquet must be light, in the shades of pink, blue and yellow—a little bouquet preferably in a small vase. Try not to use bowls of flowers in the bedroom, as they are a little off the scheme of things. A gay little vase of flowers for the guest gives just the right greeting and adds much to the warmth of welcome—but know your guest and his flower tastes, too.

Flowers for the dining room should be arranged in a low bowl—so you won't have to stretch your neck to see the person opposite you and also because you look down on the table, ordinarily. Also they should be loosely arranged. You look at flowers from the side and front when they are on the buffet or mantlepiece, so they should hang down over the side of the container. There is a difference, too, in flowers for formal and informal occasions.

Oh, I'm not an expert on flowers. That information came in some feature service and was passed along in case it would help you out.

There's an old Hindu trick that one is supposed to be able to work and get some rest during a busy day when there is no opportunity to nap. The idea is to submerge one's thoughts and action—go into one's shell for about five minutes. The trick, it seems, is to concentrate thoughts on the body, the arms and legs being loosened of all tension. Then drop all thoughts from the mind and sit perfectly quiet.

Hand-Knitted Things Are Modish In Hollywood For Casual Sports Events

HOLLYWOOD.—Hand-knitted things are very modish here for casual daytime wear and sports.

Adrienne Ames wears a white one, with drop-stitches making a vestee in the buttoned up jacket-jumper, and the skirt all of a ribbed weave.

It is white, with brown accent in a fine edging all around the bottom of the jumper, the outside of the front closing, the edging for the turned-down collar, bow tie and short sleeves. Tiny brown buttons fasten it. Her shoes are brown and white sports pumps.

Constance Bennett recently wore a green knitted suit on a rainy day walk and carried a tiny umbrella that folds up so that she can put it in her handbag. She wore a swagger raincoat and small green hat.

Others wearing notable knitted things this week include:

Glenda Farrell at the Beverly Brown Derby in blue slacks, a hand-knitted white turtle-neck sweater and a red wool coat and scarf.

Gwili Andre in the RKO cafe, wearing a hand-knitted suit of reddish brown and white with a gay scarf of scarlet and a brown felt hat.

Raquel Torres, week-ending at Palm Springs, wore a knitted bathing suit in gray. It had no back to speak of and a strap around her neck held it in place.

Supper Served For Auxiliary

Husbands Are Special Guests For Meeting Monday Night At Legion Hall; Games Are Later Diversion

Following a covered dish supper served to members of the American Legion auxiliary and their husbands Monday evening, games of bridge and forty-two were played. The affair was in the Legion hall.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames R. L. Clinkscales, O. J. Felty, W. H. Wright, Millard F. Swart, Herbert F. Stubbs and C. W. Fenton. Rosebuds decked each table. During the supper, Mrs. J. B. Galland entertained with popular piano selections.

Awards in games of forty-two went to Mrs. Roy Lynch and George S. Berry. The bridge prizes were awarded to Mr. Stubbs and Mrs. Earl Moore.

Those who attended were Messrs. and Mesdames Oscar S. Norling, H. D. Woods, J. Ray Dickey, George S. Berry, A. C. Magee, K. M. Renner, Roy Lynch, M. E. Helber, W. H. Waln, Louis Murfee, Thomas E. Boyd, Tom H. Carter, Fred Stahler, F. A. Kleinschmidt, Lattie Rankin, J. A. Dowdle, Frazier McCrummen, W. B. Sides, R. J. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. V. V. Clark, Miss Vera Murfee, Mesdames C. O. Bergholm, Josephine Ballenger, Essie Brooks, Thomas E. Pirtle, George Brewer, Homer Pharr, Vernon Brown, Earl Moore, Garnet Abbott, J. B. Galland, Messrs. Felty, Wright, Swart, Stubbs, Fenton, Clinkscales and W. A. Jackson.

Aged Mother Will Make Long Jaunt

LAREDO, Jan. 31. (AP)—Although she has never traveled from Laredo during the more than 70 years of her life, Mrs. Victoria J. Vergara of this city will accept the invitation of the United States government and be one of the Gold Star mothers leaving New York on July 12 abroad the S. S. President Harding for a pilgrimage to the cemeteries of Europe.

She is the mother of Private Jose Vergara of Co. G, third division train, who enlisted early in 1918. He was killed in action the same year and buried at sea. The young wife of Vergara died 7 years ago, and their son who was given the name of "Victory," or Victor, makes his home with the grandmother.

The Gold Star mother was elated over the invitation to join other Gold Star mothers on the trip to Europe as a guest of the United States government. Asked in Spanish if she intended to make the long trip she replied, "you are darned right I do."

Belgium has a law which will bring under strict control all machines and electrical devices which cause interference with radio reception.

Court Ruling Gets Approval

Circuit Court Of Appeals At New Orleans Upholds Decision Handed Down By South Texas Division

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 31. (AP) — The United States fifth circuit court of appeals today affirmed a decision of the southern Texas district court which convicted Komas Spoetzel, operator of a brewery at Shiner, Texas, on charges of possession and transportation of beer.

Spoetzel was jointly convicted with Joe Koncaba, a truck driver for the brewery who, evidence showed, was arrested by prohibition agents at Houston, Tex., with a truck loaded with beer. Spoetzel was licensed to operate a brewery for the manufacture of near beer, the court explaining that the near beer was made by boiling down the alcoholic content of beer.

Spoetzel denied ownership of the truck load of beer.

The appellate court also affirmed the western Texas district court which denied Mrs. Bessie M. Bubh suit for compensation from the Employers' Reinsurance corporation for the death of her husband, Carl Bugh, who was killed when his privately owned airplane crashed on a trip from Mildred to Mexia, Tex., while in the employ of the Shell Petroleum corporation.

The court held that since Bugh without permission of the oil company used his plane instead of an automobile, and that since he did not possess a personal license nor a license for the plane as required by law, the widow could not receive a judgment under the Texas workmen's compensation law.

"By violating statutory regulations, Bugh was doing what he was not employed to do,'" the court held, "and was therefore acting not within but outside the scope of his employment."

CIRCULATED PETITION

MULESHOE. (Special)— A petition was circulated here recently asking a lower gas rate by the West Texas Gas company. It was widely signed, reports said. No action to present the petition has been taken so far, according to reports. It has not been presented to either city officials or those of the gas company, as far as has been announced.

Four Rural Telephone Lines Will Be Built Out Of Ralls

By Staff Correspondent

RALLS, Jan. 31—Four rural telephone lines, in as many directions from Ralls, will be built this spring and summer, M. G. Hargrave, the out-going president of the chamber of commerce, has announced here.

The Southwestern Associated Telphone company, owner of the local system, will build the rural lines, Mr. Hargrave said. "It is a much needed improvement and will put us in closer touch with a number of our rural communities, he added. "The telephone company has assured us they will go ahead and build these lines."

Forty-two of the 55 highest mountain peaks in the United States are located in the State of Colorado.

Burrus Estate Names Family

Value Estimated At $500,000; Baylor Hospital And Buckner Orphans' Home Are To Share In Will

DALLAS, Jan. 31 (AP)—J. Perry Burrus, mill operator who died here last week, left an estate of a probable value of $500,000 to be administered in trust for the benefit of his wife and children.

Baylor hospital and Buckner orphans' home here were named conditional beneficiaries in Burrus' will. They will share in the estate if neither his son nor daughter has heirs.

Until Dec. 1, 1939, the executor of the estate will pay Mrs. Burrus $15,000 annually and $5,000 annually each to the two children.

Buried Gold Abounds In New Mexico But Only In Legend And Many Lives Have Been Lost In Quest Of Wealth

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 31. (AP) — Buried gold abounds in New Mexico—in legend.

The legends draw treasure seekers on futile quests that often cost their lives. W. W. Brooks, 65, of Hollywood, Calif., is the latest.

Brooks, who lived in New Mexico as a youth, returned to seek a reputed cache of gold. His body was found by a cowboy. Officers at first expressed the opinion he had been slain for a map he carried showing the hidden wealth but later decided he had fallen and received fatal injuries.

Was Reported Stolen

The treasure Brooks sought—one of the many rumored hidden in the mountains, on the plains and in sun-baked haciendas—was reported stolen many years ago by a band of Americans who massacred a Spanish mule train party and, fearing pursuit, buried their loot and never returned.

Over the rumbling adobe home of the late Arthur Manby of Taos there hangs a tale of gold, kept in fruit jars and used as door stops, which was never found after Manby's death, which was in itself a mystery.

Body Is Found

His decapitated body was found in a locked room five years ago. The death has been called successively natural, suicide, murder and natural again with the added belief of a few that he is still alive and the body was that of another. The general belief is that the body was decapitated by his hungry dogs.

In recent weeks Eugenio Yrisarri has twice defended his hacienda near Albuquerque from robbers who came in search of a fabulous fortune which legend says is near the ancestral home of the family.

Yrisarri, in modest circumstances, knows of no gold.

Ruins Are Combed

The hoard of Billy the Kid, roistering frontier cattle thief who obviously could never have accumulated sufficient money to bury in his short life, is sometimes sought. The crumbled ruins of the castle of Lucien Maxwell, he of the broad acres and huge herds, at Springer, have been combed in vain for a treasure he probably never left.

Careful investigators say there is little possibility that any of the legends are founded on fact.

Plainview Off Form Again To Lose, 47 To 26

Westerner Aces Shoot From All Angles To Overwhelm Touted Bulldog Team And Make It Two In A Row

Playing without the services of their tall center and ace shot-maker, Captain Mabry, the Plainview Bulldogs were no match for Coach Swede McMurry's Lubbock High school Westerners last night who took a 47 to 26 victory.

The Westerners played one of the best offensive games of the season last night, rushing and breaking on offense, passing with dexterity and accuracy and sinking goals from all parts of the court.

Plenty Of Shots

The Bulldogs got plenty of shots and had numerous opportunities to make a scoring race out of the game, sadly lacking in confidence and spirit because of the enforced absence of their captain they lagged pitifully and never made a serious threat.

L. Foster was Plainview's outstanding performer last night, even excelling the popular Wester, tall youth who had to play the center position last night and who was scarcely able to take the tip-off from Lubbock's Curly Wilkinson. The Lowry brothers, Leon and Leonard, were here and there and everywhere, shooting at the goal more times that should have been allowed, but failed to convert them into points.

Snodgrass And Stone

Hugh Snodgrass, recovering from a recent illness, and Robert Stone, starting forwards for Lubbock, stole the offensive show with their smart goal-shooting last night. Stone swished them in from the sides and Snodgrass chucked them in over his head, from his shoulder and various other positions. Robert Hale scored ten points himself last night, as well as playing a neat defensive game.

The fans were disappointed. What few there were expected to see a bloody battle, with Plainview striving to even things after their unexpected loss to Lubbock last Saturday in tournament play here. But the Bulldogs folded up, failed to show many sparks of energy and played with little life.

Stone took high point honors last night, supplanting Wilkinson as the usual leader. Wilkinson had his hands on the ball but few times last night, scoring only four points. Stone dropped in eight shots from scrimmage. Snodgrass made 13 points. Robert Hale was third with his ten and L. Foster trailed with half a dozen for Plainview.

Blair's Back Up

A new lease on life in the major leagues has been offered to Clarence Blair, above, who played for the Chicago Cubs three years and wound up playing for the Los Angeles Angels in the Pacific Coast League last season. Manager Donie Bush has brought the big infielder back in the hope that he will strengthen the Reds' infield. He can play third, short or second base and is a good hitter.

Keeping Up With Tech Athletics

BY ED McKEEVER
Tech Sports Correspondent

Texas Tech plays the Oklahoma Goldbugs tonight and tomorrow night, the first home games the Matadors have played in three weeks.

Oklahoma City university, coached by V. Green former star athlete at the University of Illinois, has turned out some of the best basketball and football teams in Oklahoma during the last six years; teams that have won national recognition.

The Goldbugs have a team including several six-footers, with an uncanny habit of sinking baskets from any angle of the court; this combined with speed allows them to play a fast breaking type of offense which has made them one of the most colorful teams in Oklahoma.

The athletes are employed by the fire department of Oklahoma City, and consequently this fire department has become recognized as possessing the most highly educated firemen in the U. S.

There is a story told of backers of an opposing team that were to play the Goldbugs, who attempted to take the starch out of the Goldbugs by turning in false alarms the night before the game. But to their surprise Oklahoma City U. was none the worse off and gave the opponents a thorough drubbing. When a player was questioned on his unusual stamina he replied, "Oh, we have another bunch of boys to answer alarms." But despite this story the athletes keep their jobs after graduation, and last fall they played as a professional firemen team that rated high in the pro circles.

Perry Selects Eastern Gent To Boss Cats

Jake Atz Loses Out As Panther Club Goes Under New Ownership; Gardner Announces The Deck Cleared For Work

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Jan. 31—President J. Alvin Gardner's 1933 Texas League managerial staff has been completed.

Walter Holke, former first baseman of the Indianapolis American Association Indians, today accepted the managership of the Fort Worth Cats.

Holke's appointment was made by Norman A. Perry, chief executive of the Indianapolis club, who recently acquired an interest in the Fort Worth franchise.

Before Perry acquired Fort Worth interest, the veteran Jake Atz was in line for the managerial position. Atz formerly piloted the Cats to six consecutive pennants. Last year he piloted New Orleans.

Develops Young Players

Holke, reputed to be uncanny at handling young ball players, comes to the Texas League after many campaigns as a big league first sacker and with managerial experience in the Three Eye league.

The complete list of 1933 Texas League managers includes Harry "Happ" Morse, Dallas; Fred Luderus, Oklahoma City; Art Griggs, Tulsa; Walter Holke, Fort Worth; Carey Selph, Houston; Henry Severeid, San Antonio; Billy Webb, Galveston, and Robert Coleman, Beaumont.

When spring training starts, Happ Morse will be in his third season as pilot of the Dallas Steers. Fred Luderus previously managed Oklahoma City in the Western League. He has also served as skipper in the Texas League. Art Griggs managed Tulsa in 1932. Carey Selph played the Chicago White Sox infield last year. He is the league's only inexperienced manager. Henry Severeid steered Wichita Falls and later Longview through a stormy 1932 Texas League campaign. Billy Webb starts his first year at Galveston after several seasons as a Class D and C manager. Robert Coleman formerly managed San Antonio.

Carey Selph is expected to be the only active playing manager, although all the 1933 pilots are capable of stepping in and playing acceptable ball for a few games.

Happ Morse is a second baseman. Fred Luderus, Art Griggs and Walter Holke are first sackers. Henry Severeid and Robert Coleman are catchers. Carey Selph and Billy Webb are versatile infielders.

Tonight, the Texas League had its deck cleared for action for the first time in two trying years. Each of the eight club owners had posted the required individual forfeit money of $2,500. The league has definitely adopted the Shaughnessy pennant plan for 1933. Eight managers have been appointed. The 1932 Shreveport-Tyler players have been transferred to Fort Worth. Admission prices for the season have been agreed on. Individual club business managers and secretary-treasurers have been appointed President Gardner has sent out contracts to his 1933 umpires, and Eddie Palmer, in the league last year, has returned his signed.

So with all major and minor details finished, the next move for Texas League players who will be required to accept salary reductions this season, for it is said on the best authority that $350 will be top for Texas leaguers during the promising 1933 campaign.

Sir Malcolm Campbell Arrives From England To Try For New Speed Mark

Champion Speedster Not Recovered From Illness

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 31—Hollow-eyed from illness but casual and affable as ever, Sir Malcolm Campbell sailed into New York today for his fourth assault on the world's automobile speed record he set at 253.968 miles an hour on the tide packed sands of Daytona Beach, Florida, last winter.

He bases his record hopes this time upon increased power, but for the future he visions development of a machine which, under favorable conditions, may move the world record for land speed beyond 350 miles per hour.

Bluebird Is Ready

The knighted Englishman, slender and looking anything but his 48 years, is recovering so rapidly from an attack of influenza that he can see no reason for postponing the loosing of his monstrous Bluebird II on the Florida sands Feb. 10.

"I'm a bit weak and slack," he said regretfully, as he chatted aboard the liner Aquitania coming up the bay, "and everything is too much trouble. But I expect all that to pass in a day or so. I'm ready to drive as soon as beach conditions warrant."

When he boarded the Aquitania last Wednesday, Sir Malcolm had a high temperature, and quite a "nippy" case of influenza. He was confined to his stateroom until Saturday.

Dodges Direct Answer

Smilingly Campbell dodged a direct answer to all queries as to the speed he expected to attain this year in his assault on the world record he set at 206.9 in 1928, lifted to 248.8 in 1931 and established beyond any but his own challenge at 253.968 last year.

"Your guess is as good as mine, really," he said. "I haven't any idea what speed Bluebird can make. The horsepower has been increased from 1450 to 2600, the weight increased, and she has more resistance. I haven't driven her since she was rebuilt.

"But of course," he added with a grin, "I wouldn't be here, you know, if I didn't think I could break the record."

There were indications however, that he has expectations of exceeding at least 265 miles an hour in continuing the speed supremacy Great Britain still maintains on land and in the air, although Gar Wood broke her domination of the water ways by beating Kay Don's speed boat record last year.

Campbell seated at wheel of the record-maker.

Bill Dickey Is Injured In Arkansas Automobile Crash

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 31. (AP) — Bill Dickey, catcher of the New York Yankees, and Guy Freeling secretary to former Gov. Harvey Parnell of Arkansas, were injured near here today in a head-on collision of their automobile with that of a farmer.

Dickey was severely cut and bruised, but was not considered in a serious condition.

Freeling suffered a broken finger, severe bruises and cuts.

Fred Jones, driver of the other car, escaped with but slight injuries.

Thirty-Three Nations To Send Net Teams To Davis Cup Wars In 1933; Three New Countries Enter Battle

PARIS, Jan. 1. (AP) — Apparently spurred on by possibility the Davis Cup may be wrested from France, where it has been held six years, the record-equalling total of 33 nations today was entered for the 1933 international tennis play.

The entry list is three greater than in 1931 and 1932 and is equalled only by that of the boom year of 1928. South Africa, Peru and Argentina are the three new challengers.

The United States heads the four nations entered in the North American zone. Five are entered in the South American zone and 24 in the European zone.

Australia To Be Strong

With Australia and Japan choosing to play in Europe, it appears the main firing will be along that front. The United States is an overwhelming favorite to win through its zone and defeat the South American winner but there are at least five strong teams entered in the European zone.

Australia, Japan, Germany, zone winner last year, England and Italy all have standout teams. Japan is sending two untried players to the tennis wars this year but reports from Tokio say both are better than Jiro Satoh, for years the main Davis Cup reliance of Nippon.

Austin For England

England probably will rely again on Henry W. (Bunny) Austin and Fred Perry while Germany has the same two-man team which carried it through the inter-zone final last year, Daniel Prenn and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm. They lost by a 2-3 margin to the United States.

Jack Crawford will lead a strong Australian team which may include the new youthful sensation, Vivian McGrath, who beat the American champion, Ellsworth Vines, at Melbourne recently.

The entries by zones:

North American— United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico.

South American—Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru and Uruguay.

European — Australia, Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, England, Egypt, Finland, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hungary, Ireland, India, Italy, Japan, Jugoslvia, Monaco, Norway, Poland, Rumania, South Africa, Spain and Switzerland.

Howard Payne Beats McMurry In Texas Conference Battle

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 31. (AP)—The Howard Payne college basketeers today defeated the McMurry college quintet from Abilene 41 to 28 in a Texas conference game. The Yellowjackets led 21 to 15 at the half. Bragg of the 'Jackets and F. Smith of the Indians divided honors with 13 points each.

Madison Square Garden has joined a "Buy American" movement, Promoter Jimmie Johnston declaring that, for the time being, he will import no more fighters from Europe and elsewhere.

Oklahoma City University To Tilt With Matadors For Cage Honors In A Two-Game Series

First Game Starts Tonight At 8 O'Clock On Tech Court; Coach V. Green And Quint Arrive This Morning

Coach V. Green and his Goldbugs from Oklahoma City university are in town for a couple of basketball games with the Texas Tech Matadors.

The first contest starts tonight at 8 o'clock, the second tomorrow night at the same time. There is no advance in ticket prices, and a large crowd is expected each night.

First Times Here

The Goldbugs will be making their first appearance in Lubbock with this week's games. They are touring this section of the state and will go from here to Canyon for a couple of games with Coach Sam Burton's towering Buffaloes of West Texas State Teachers college Friday and Saturday.

Members of the tightly bound Big Four conference of Oklahoma, the Goldbugs, under the tutorship of V. Green, former University of Illinois star athlete, have made a good name for themselves in recent years. Their string of victories this season against worthy opposition proves them to be serious opponents.

Tech Record Good

Thus far the Tech team has broken even with its Sooner state opponents, splitting a series with the Southwestern State Teachers Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla. In their last two games the Matadors have not fared so well, losing a series to the Canyon Buffs at Canyon. It was the Matadors' first defeats after a run of five straight victories, three of which were won on the road.

The Matadors are given an outside chance to boost their standing by winning over the Goldbugs, but Coach Green has developed a team of veterans capable of standing up and taking it with the better college teams. Although they do not tower in height as do the Canyon Buffs, the Goldbugs have perfected a fast-breaking offense and an almost impenetrable defense that stands them in good stead. They are a colorful outfit on the painted court, always hustling and breaking for the basket.

Coach Dell Morgan probably will start his usual Matador lineup consisting of Wilson Gilmore and Alvin Crews at forwards, Polk Robinson at center and Lawrence Priddy and Captain Harvey Dunn at guards.

The Oklahoma City university roster follows:

Name and Pos.	Ht.	No.
K. Peppers (C), f	6' 3"	22

Young vs. Klem on a Muddy Day—and Evers Was Chased For Doing "Nothing"

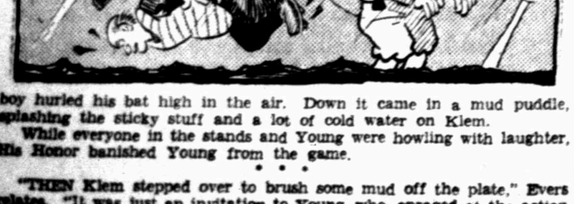

'TWAS a balmy summer's day in which the rain came down in torrents.

The hero of our story, Johnny Evers, notorious umpire-baiter, and present scout of the Boston Braves, had just come back to the big leagues as a coach for John McGraw's Giants. He had been cautioned by the National League president to be a good boy and stop chiding the arbiters.

The infield was a mass of mud, and the outfield had puddles which would have made good musky fishing grounds.

Bill Klem, one of Ever's pet victims, was officiating in a ditch of mud behind the bat, and Ross Young, fiery Texan and great hitter, was swinging.

Klem and Young had come to verbal tilt in a previous turn of Ross at bat. This time Klem called one that Ross didn't like and the Texas boy hurled his bat high in the air. Down it came in a mud puddle, splashing the sticky stuff and a lot of cold water on Klem.

While everyone in the stands and Young were howling with laughter, His Honor banished Young from the game.

"THEN Klem stepped over to brush some mud off the plate," Evers relates. "It was just an invitation to Young, who, enraged at the action of Klem, hurled himself at the ump, sending him sprawling into the mud.

"A near fight ensued, and finally we got Young into the dugout. When I walked back to the first base coachingline I couldn't help saying loudly enough for Klem to hear that he had brought the trouble on himself.

"'Get away from me,' he howled. 'You're off the field, too. Go ahead and talk to Young.'

"Of course I had to go. The next day I was given a five-day suspension—for doing nothing at all."

Kick For Extra Point After Long Pass Provides Point Of Victory In Lubbock High School Inter-Class Game

Waymon Newton's place-kick for one point following a touchdown proved the margin of victory for the Juniors over the Seniors in an inter-class game between Lubbock High school grid teams yesterday. The score was 7 to 6.

The class games are being played as a prelude to spring training.

Off to a lead in the second quarter when Brock went over for a touchdown from the one-yard line after they had blocked a Junior punt, the Seniors were threatened in the fourth quarter when Newton passed to Williamson for a 40-yard gain. Two line plays by Newton and a pass from Newton to Williamson were good for a touchdown. Newton kicked goal.

Hankins recovered the blocked punt in the second quarter on the one-yard line from where Brock took it over, but Payne's kick from placement was faulty.

The starting lineups:

Seniors: Arnold and Hankins, ends; Truett and Jones, guards; Gamble and Mail, tackles; Scoggin, center; Payne, quarterback; Price and Davidson, halfbacks; Brock, fullback. Substitutions: Blocker and Lynn.

Juniors: Williamson and Turner, ends; Doherty and Wimberley, tackles; Duncan and Bray, guards; Minor, center; Newton, quarterback; Dykes and Bradley, halfbacks; Bradshaw, fullback. Substitutions: Thomas, Jenkins, Brayles, Smith, Hiatt, B. Turner and Bingham.

MEAT, POTATOES and GRAVY

MANY a meal is built around these three standbys — meat, potatoes and gravy. Invariably they are the first dishes that come to your mind as you plan your dinner.

But in spite of their hunger-satisfying and nourishing qualities, this time-honored triumvirate can become monotonous unless it is supplemented by other dishes.

However, it is often a problem to find these "side dishes" in your own head. Of course you can quiz your neighbor, or ask the members of your family what they would like. But even this source of information is often lacking in ideas.

The thing to do is read the advertisements in your newspaper. Every Friday evening and Saturday morning your local markets display their foodstuffs on those printed pages. You'll read of new vegetables and fruits that have "just arrived." Your appetite will be aroused by the tasty creations of national food manufacturers. With pencil and paper you can make your market list and menus before you step out of the house.

Speaking of monotony, consider this. There are 11 different cuts of beef, 9 cuts of veal, 7 of lamb, 10 of pork; there are at least 20 different breakfast cereals sold in every store, 16 different canned vegetables, 6 canned fruits, a dozen or more canned meats and fish, numberless varieties of cakes and crackers. Why should there be monotony in meals with such a variety of foods available at your store and so many of them advertised in your paper?

Hale Officers Get Reduction

Most Of Salaries Are Cut By Commissioners Court; Pay For Sheriff And The County Health Officer Not Cut

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 31 (Special)—Ex-officio salaries of Hale county officials were set by the commissioners' court. The new figures included some reductions.

The salary of County Judge H. M. LaFont was cut from $2,400 to $1,800 annually; district clerk from $1,500 to $1,200; county clerk, from $1,200 to $960; state highway deputy in the sheriff's office, $1,800 to $1,500; county agent, from $1,800 to $1,600. Salaries not reduced were: sheriff, $1,000; county health officer, $50 a month.

The home demonstration agent also received a cut from $1,500 to $1,100.

There is some question about cutting salaries of commissioners. Present population and valuations give the members $1,800 per year. Some members, it is said, would be willing to take a reduction.

Farm Relief

hold a prominent spot in discussions of the situation.

Other Companies Follow

3. Other insurance companies, following the lead of the New York institution, issued statements they would use the utmost leniency in dealing with farmers until legislative aid had been devised. Four companies at Hartford, Conn., the Prudential of Newark, N. J., and all the large Iowa companies announced they had temporarily suspended foreclosures at the request of Gov. Clyde L. Herring of Iowa, pending legislative aid.

4. The Minnesota legislature requesting Governor Olson to issue a proclamation asking creditors and mortgagees to refrain from foreclosure during the present crisis. The legislators asked a proclamation similar to the one by Gov. Herring. The resolution was sent to the senate judiciary committee, with request for hasty action.

Arkansas Gives Relief

5. Arkansas joined the states active in pushing relief when its senate passed a measure calling for a mortgage moratorium. The bill suspending jurisdiction of circuit and chancery courts in mortgage foreclosure proceedings involving any homestead for a period of two years.

6. In Mississippi Judge R. W. Cutrer, Magnolia, in chancery court, declined to order forced sales of land, asserting the present "is no time for such disposition" under order of a court.

7. The Mutual Home and Savings Bank association, Dayton, O., announced it had reduced its interest rate of mortgages from 7 to 4 and a half per cent effective as of Jan. 1, 1933. The new rate will apply for one year.

Evidence Of Cooperation

8. Evidence of cooperation which has resulted in the farmers' situation obtaining right-of-way action in the various legislative halls was shown at Deshler, O., and Tuscola, Ill., at the former city, farm implements, two horses, two cows and the household goods of Cecil Kistner, 28, farmer, brought $2.17 at an auction attended by 2,000 rural friends. The property was given back to Kistner with a $5 collection for good measure. At Tuscola, friends bid four cents for a cow and two cents for a horse on Charles Grady's farm, and then ran a representative of the mortgage holder off the place when he attempted to raise the bid.

Auto License

yesterday, however, were heavy, approximately 900 here, Collector W. H. Carpenter said. At the Slaton substation 153 automobiles and 23 trucks were registered.

The law regulating placing of the 20 per cent penalty for non-registration of automobiles was explained last night by Carpenter.

Any automobile, which was operated at any time during January, and on which the license fee becomes delinquent, is subject to the penalty. If the motorist stores his car today and then decides to pay the fee a week or a month or nine months later, he will find that the state has added a 20 per cent penalty to his bill—which will not have shrunk in the least. If, however, he has not used his car at all in January, this 20 per cent penalty does not apply.

Tax payments have been "slow," Carpenter said. He declared that previous exemptions of penalty and interest for delinquent taxes have "encouraged non-payment of taxes." Payments postmarked before last midnight will be accepted. Collectors will require several days to complete tabulations on the collections.

Jack Sullivan Is Brought To Lubbock; Escaped Once

Jack Sullivan, convicted bank bandit, was brought to Lubbock last Tuesday by Deputies Baxter Honey and Bedford Carpenter and Cleve Cobb, special railway officer.

Sullivan, who escaped from the Lubbock county jail hospital ward in November, was convicted of robbery of the Olton State bank in a trial at Plainview last week. He faces a charge of armed robbery in Lubbock county.

Charles Fautley of Fairview village, near Cleveland, O., is going on 106 years old, and has a birth certificate to prove it. He likes to hold on his still sturdy knees his great-grandson, William Kolhoff, who's going on 2. Great grandfather Fautley has most of his own teeth, reads without spectacles, and smokes cigars. Garner May Share A Seat At Cabinet Table Of Roosevelt

WARM SPRINGS, Jan. 31. (AP)—President-Elect Roosevelt will ask his running mate, the outspoken John N. Garner of Texas, to share a seat at the cabinet table as a part of his vice-presidential office.

Informing newspaper men of this today, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed it was he who first suggested this practice that was put into effect by President Harding in 1921. As vice-presidential nominee in 1920 Mr. Roosevelt said he made the suggestion to James M. Cox, the Democratic presidential candidate. Cox announced if elected he would ask Roosevelt to the cabinet table.

Elders Of Mother China Still Hold To Ancient And Sober Observance Of New Year But Youths Have Gay Time

ALTHOUGH the elders of Mother China's enormous family have not relinquished sober observance of their New Year, which began last Thursday, her younger sons and daughters generally regard New Year's day as a day of gay celebration not to be prolonged.

Tom S. Nom, young Chinese, of Lubbock, Tuesday afternoon expressed that contrast in old China and the new, in the homeland and in Chinatowns which dot the globe. He intimated it was significant as a key to other and deeper differences which have arisen with the modernization of China and with acceptance by the Chinese of American and European manners.

Calendar Unchanged

Not since the days of Confucius the great Chinese sage, born about 550 B. C., has the Chinese calendar undergone material change, Nom said. It has 13 months. He displayed a combination print of the Roman and Chinese calendars for 1933, and explained that the Chinese had a First May and a Second May.

"The old Chinese looked at the New Year as when person begins again, as a new day," the young Chinese explained. For them it was somewhat akin to a spiritual rebirth, and they attached importance to their conduct New Year's day as influencing their behavior through the rest of the year, he said.

Youth Celebrates

Chinese youth celebrates New Year's much as Americans do, with music, parties, and other merriment. The younger generation likes, however, the outward show of ancient pageantry, with firecrackers popping, colored mache dragons writhing in parade, and banners of long ago bobbing above grotesque dancers and richly gowned mandarins.

Nom, who was born in China and whose father was a native of America, returned to the United States last January on the S. S. Coolidge of the Dollar line, "in time to celebrate New Year's in Frisco." He passed two years in a business course, including study of the Chinese language, in Sunwui, about two days' travel from Canton. He previously attended preparatory school in San Francisco and public high schools in Oklahoma City and Muskogee, Okla.

Speaks of Celebration

The young Chinese spoke of the celebration in San Francisco's Chinatown, New Year's a year ago, and was asked his opinion of Chinatown festivities as shown in motion pictures. The costuming and scenery are authentic enough, he said. As for the rest, he had only an inexplicable smile. Modern music, modern dress, modern manners are to be had among old China's children on those holidays, he said.

Nom preferred not to comment on the Sino-Japanese situation except to express an opinion that China is being unified as a result of the invasions, and in the end will not be defeated.

Farmers Stage Bartering Bee

PORTALES, N. M., Jan. 31 (AP)—Roosevelt county farmers held a bartering bee here over the week end and everything from pigs to peanuts changed hands.

Little cash was involved. Most of the farmers traded something of which they had a surplus for other products they needed. There were more than 100 trucks in a vacant lot off the town square where the bartering was conducted. The farmers planned to come back next week.

Several thousand hogs are being fed in the Portales region by merchants and other persons who have taken in them in accounts. The price of grain is so low the merchants believe they can dispose of the fed hogs at a profit.

Slaton Farmer Subscribes To Avalanche; Breaks Record Of Lifetime; Yields High

Joe Grabber, farmer living on route one out of Slaton believes in breaking records.

This past fall, he made 35 bales of cotton on 37 acres, a record cotton crop for his farm.

This week he subscribed to the Morning Avalanche, breaking another record. He had never before been on the subscription list of a daily newspaper.

Grabber, of German descent, is one of the prosperous farmers of a community near Slaton which is outstanding in Lubbock county's "Live-At-Home" farm program.

Robberies Prevalent

Other incidents have been the shooting and wounding of J. R. Hamm, 57, during a holdup at Garland City last night and the robbery of A. J. Jordan, street car motorman.

W. B. Edwards, ticket agent at the railroad station, was robbed of $75 in a daring holdup Saturday night and J. L. Shaver, Fulton toll bridge keeper at the Red River, was kidnaped shortly afterward and robbed of $200. His abductors released him near town. Edwards and Shaver expected to go to Shreveport tomorrow to view a suspect arrested there.

Edwards Trial

gument. "I do ask that if you find him guilty, that a minimum of 50 years be given him."

The bank was robbed May 27 last by a lone bandit who forced Miss Lora Brown, sole bank employe in the building, to hand over the cash in the drawer and then go to the safe and hand over the balance. A total of $3,298 was secured.

Edwards Is Witness

J. S. Edwards, Slaton, is president of the bank and has been here as a witness in the cases scheduled for the week. Cliff M. Armstrong, a director and A. L. Curtis, cashier, also are here as witnesses. There were a large number of Seagraves people here but not all of them were called.

Edwin Meredith, who was in the bank at the time of the robbery; Elmer Slaughter, a farmer; James W. Baker, a school teacher and a student in Tech at Lubbock when arrested, and Oscar M. Herring, former city attorney of Seagraves, were indicted by a Gaines county grand jury.

A hung jury resulted when James W. Baker was tried last fall at Semnole. All of the bank cases were then transferred to Terry county by Judge McGuire.

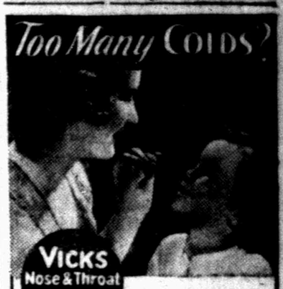

Last Man Captured

Edwards was the last man captured. He is under two sentences following convictions in two other counties. One sentence is for 25 years and was in connection with the robbery of a bank at Lakeview, Hall county. The other was on a robbery charge in Floyd county and is for 10 years.

At the morning session Virginia Mills, daughter of Mrs. Mary Mills, Paducah, who owns the tourist camp in Paducah, testified that she saw Edwards at the camp and filling station on May 27. She maintained her story despite cross questioning of the district attorney.

The state then introduced Miss Lora Brown who again identified Edwards. "He is the man," she said when asked if she recognized the man who held a pistol at her and forced her to hand over the bank's cash.

Sheriff A. A. Payne, who is starting his fifth term as sheriff of Cottle county, testified that Preston Christoph, who had claimed to be the operator of the tourist camp in question, had not come to Paducah until in August. Christoph Monday had testified that he had been managing the camp since last March.

What Is it about CHESTERFIELDS?

Well, I can't tell you much of anything about what is in Chesterfields

BUT I smoke a good deal, and I noticed that they said that Chesterfield Cigarettes were milder and tasted better; so I smoked a package or two and found it to be true.

I also noticed that the cigarettes were well-filled, seemed to be the right length and the right circumference, and burned uniformly—not up one side and down the other.

I liked the aroma—very pleasing. I liked the appearance of the cigarette—the paper, dead white. The package rather appealed to me.

I don't know exactly what it is, but I just like 'em. It's about the only luxury that I enjoy; so I think it's all right for me to have a good cigarette, and I believe Chesterfield is just about the best.

An Unbalanced Deflation

LIVING in the United States today costs 39 per cent less than in 1920 and only a third more than in 1913, which means happy days for persons with 1929 incomes but little consolation for those with 1913 incomes or no incomes at all.

Much emphasis has been placed on the declining cost of living, costs and percentages have been cited to make it appear that diminishing incomes have their compensations, but the householder trying to balance the family budget suspects that several major items were overlooked by the calculators.

Taxes still tower above the 1920 level. Rents have not dropped in proportion to incomes and commodity prices, nor will they until taxes are reduced. Interest rates and principal payments on home mortgages have not dropped and the mortgaged population is several times larger than it was in 1920 and 1913.

The figures are probably correct as to food and clothing costs, but those costs are not the whole cost of living. In fact, they are minor items in most personal budgets. Insurance items in the family budget increase with the income and usually must be pared when income drops, for the tendency is for insurance costs, with the exception of life insurance, to go up in hard times.

Something must give eventually. And, since not even government can get blood out of a stone, it is the tax-maker, not the taxpayer, who must surrender.

THE WAR ON ILLITERACY

Another unfortunate casualty of the depression is the termination of the work of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy because of exhaustion of funds. One mitigating circumstance is that the National Illiteracy Crusade will continue the work of the committee.

The committee takes pride in the country's improved illiteracy rate and—properly, no doubt—takes some of the credit for the achievements in this direction.

America now claims 4,283,743 illiterates, or about one in 30. Omitting children from the total population makes the illiteracy rate considerably higher. In 1920 the illiterate adult population was placed at nearly 5,000,000, so the decade showed satisfactory gains in spite of a 17,044,426 increase in population largely through immigration.

Illiteracy is being stamped out in the United States by newspapers, night schools, free education and a trend away from the isolation of aliens in foreign colonies in the larger cities. The virtual stoppage of immigration leaves most of the work to be done during the current decade among the blacks and mountaineer whites.

Had the committee been able to function until 1940 it might have been able to demonstrate its claim that its accomplishments during this decade would surpass those of the last. Before passing out of the picture it laid the groundwork for an extensive campaign.

NATIONAL TAX CONFERENCE

Representatives of the various state legislatures and of congress will hold in the national capital on February 3 and 4 the first conference ever called to consider primarily the confused situation with regard to duplicated and overlapping taxes. The body of delegates will consist of a representative of each state senate and house of representatives and one or more fiscal officers from each state.

The inspiration for this interstate conference is seen in the increasing competition between the states and the federal government for taxes and the jealousy with which each guards what it considers its private revenue hunting grounds. The states fought to the last ditch a federal gasoline tax and lost. Now they seek a gentlemen's agreement.

One of the purposes is to find means by which the states collectively may effect an equitable apportionment of the various sources of revenue that will be advantageous to both interests. Co-ordination in tax matters is desired.

After thrashing over the whole question and comparing notes this convention probably will name a smaller group to negotiate with a congressional committee. If this joint committee can come to terms acceptable to the state legislatures and Congress reforms of some value to the taxpayers may result.

They're talking of equipping skating rinks with tinted ice. What could be more appropriate than black and blue?

There's lots to be said for renouncing war as an instrument of national policy, but it makes it tough explaining to Junior the "Spirit of '76."

Old Battle Cry Is Echoed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Capitol Dome

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Sixteen to one!

Again the old battle cry. I cast my first ballot on that issue back in the eighteen nineties.

It climaxed a depression much such as this has been, prolonged, hopeless, featured by suggestions that the established system had broken down permanently and would have to be replaced by a new one, characterized by threats of revolution.

So far as anyone could see there was no more prospect of a revival than at any time during the blackest period of the present depression.

It was at that juncture that W. J. Bryan sounded his arithmetical slogan.

As we know, it nominated him for the presidency.

The fight was hotter than today's has yet developed into, but there is no telling how much heat this one may generate.

The so-called debtor class was in the same desperate hole then that it is now. The figures were smaller, but perhaps the proportions were equally formidable. The whole world was not in so serious a jam. Still the United States was more a world into itself in that era. Anyway, the situation was 100 per cent awful, as viewed by folk of the time.

AND W. J. promised absolute surcease on short notice if his remedy were adopted.

Naturally he won a following.

There was this difference between then and now. Bryan sounded his trumpet just as a presidential campaign was beginning.

Burton K. Wheeler sounds his with the campaign over and a new administration beginning.

It by no means follows that today's fight will be less vehement.

The fight of 1896 was a stem-winder while it lasted. It was worse than last year's, in fact, because the rival forces were so evenly matched, whereas last year's was one-sided.

In my home town of Sioux City, which was right in the heart of corn belt hostilities, with W. J. Bryan a near neighbor, just across the Big Muddy, in Nebraska, prominent citizens, silverites versus gold bugs, got into arguments as they transacted their daily business and exchanged physical wallops.

Similar conditions prevailed throughout the country.

But election day served as a kind of period to the affair.

It might have broken out again if times had not improved soon afterward, but they did improve.

The silverites said the improvement was due to the discovery of gold in Alaska and invention of cheaper, more effective smelting methods which, as they pointed out, enormously increased the world's circulating medium nearly as much as if silver had been remonetized.

Nevertheless, prosperity revived, ending the discussion.

TODAY, unless there is a similar revival from some as yet unpredictable cause, there is no reason why the dispute should not continue to wax fiercer, at least until the next congress is chosen—of course, assuming that currency expansion in some form is not adopted meanwhile. The senate, however, has tabled two silver proposals, one by Senator Wheeler and another by Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana, to cheapen the dollar and raise the price of commodities.

Thus for the silver war cry scarcely has had an opportunity to test itself.

There has been considerable talk of expansion, but there is no great inspiration in the terms expansion and inflation or in suggestions of currencies based on bond issues.

The expression sixteen to one simply as a yell, stirs the blood somehow.

All it requires is a little repetition.

There is no question about this because W. J. Bryan himself once explained it to me.

It has seemed to me that an index money or a commodity money or some such money ought to be as good as remonetization of silver if greater quantity was the only thing needed, and he agreed quite readily, saying: "The main consideration is to get its issuance out of the hands of the banks and into the hands of the government where the financial interests cannot manipulate it, but the public requires a concrete slogan.

"Imagine," added the Commoner, "a crowd cheering 'Hurrah' for a managed currency!"

THE PROSPEROUS FORTIES

A recent compilation reveals that fact that the average man is at the peak of his prosperity at or around the age of 40. Pick out all the prosperous men you know of in the public eye and you will realize the truth of this fact.

After a man has passed 40 years of age, the report shows, the time and the likelihood of his amassing a fortune or even a livelihood, decreases rapidly.

A survey of the lives of "100 average men" showed that at 45 more than half of them were self-supporting or better. Only 15 were dependent. At 55 the number of dependents had doubled and at 65 it was still increasing.

This may be taken either as a threat or a warning. It may be the source of despondency or of keen incentive, accordingly as it is viewed with courage or taken as an ultimatum proclaiming the uselessness of effort.

For the average man the solution lies in the slow accumulation and careful investment of savings. The same statistics note that the earlier savings is begun, the greater the ratio of accumulation and the longer prosperity will endure. They are facts for the generation now coming into middle life to consider, and to be taught to the younger generation for its own happiness and security.

Wife Of Speaker General Favorite With Pages; One Youth Pulls Trick

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Mrs. Coke R. Stevenson, wife of Speaker Stevenson, of the 43rd Texas legislature, is a general favorite with the pages of the house of representatives.

The speaker's wife has informally taken the pages, most of whom are small boys from the four corners of the state, under her wing and keeps a watchful eye over their welfare. They not only listen to her advice but follow it.

Mrs. Stevenson became so interested in a ruse employed by one boy who was seeking appointment as a page that she assisted him in getting on the list. He is Jack Merrit of San Antonio.

The boy came to Austin a few days before the legislature opened. He had heard Coke Stevenson stood a good chance of being elected speaker and wanted his bid with what he believed would be the winning group. But the guardians of Stevenson's campaign headquarters were letting no one in except members of the legislature to confer with him about his campaign.

Young Merrit inquired until he found Mrs. Stevenson. When she started into the campaign office he took hold of her coat and tagged along. The doorkeepers believed the boy was with Mrs. Stevenson and allowed him to pass. Mrs. Stevenson didn't know of the trick until after she and the boy had been admitted to Stevenson's private office where the lad popped the question to Coke about a job.

Mrs. Stevenson conducted a little investigation and found the boy needed the employment to aid in the support of his family.

Merrit was employed as a page and cannot be persuaded that Mrs. Stevenson didn't have something to do with it.

Attempt To Burn Ant Hill Proves Fatal To Young Boy

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 31 (AP)—An attempt to burn an ant hill in the front yard of his home with gasoline resulted in the death at the county hospital today of Clifton Tyson, 4.

The boy was burned from head to foot when his clothing, which had become soaked in several places with the liquid, ignited as he struck a match.

Old Gray Mare She Ain't What She Used To Be

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 31 (AP)—"The old gray mare aint what she used to be" in Coke county. Records at the courthouse show that it took one grey mare mule, one bay mule and one cow to raise $64.55 for their owner.

One document shows 4 horses, 7 head of cattle, 10 hogs and increase, 4 sets of chain harness, one wagon, 175 bushels of corn, 175 bales of grass hay, 2 cultivators, one planter and one harrow were mortgaged for $400. One farmer put up 4 horses, two cows, 50 acres of cotton and 20 acres of corn to obtain $34. And only $197.74 was received from a mortgage on one mule, one horse, 18 head of cattle, 2 hogs, one wagon, one cultivator, one plow, one binder, 35 acres of cotton and 5 acres of pecans.

Chinese Newspaperman Is Kidnaped; Body Is Found

NANKING, China, Jan. 31 (AP)—W. S. Wang, well known Chinese newspaperman, was kidnaped and murdered today by gunmen believed to be members of the "patriotic society" which was born of the current trouble with Japan.

His body was found on the slope of purple mountain near the tomb of Sun Yat Sen. Pinned to the jacket was a note which read: "He secretly communicated with the enemy, therefore he has been executed."

BODY IDENTIFIED

PECOS, Jan. 31 (AP)—A cowboy who was dragged to his death over rocks and cactus by his horse at the Crystal Water ranch Sunday, was identified today as Walter Kinnemer of Duncan, Okla. The body was sent to Duncan.

Community Kitchen At Ralls Produces 6,000 Cans Of Food

By Staff Correspondent

RALLS, Jan. 31—More than 6,000 cans of food fruits, vegetables and meats, were preserved in the community kitchen owned and operated by the Ralls Chamber of Commerce, M. G. Hargrave outgoing president reported.

The chamber owns three pressure cookers, a large sealer and has eight gas burners. The equipment is provided free to persons who do not own canning equipment. A. V. Bullock, chamber secretary, keeps a record of the number of persons using the kitchen. Schedules for the use of the equipment are arranged with Mr. Bullock.

MAKING REPAIRS

ABERNATHY, Jan. 31—Pinson Pharmacy is undergoing slight repairs this week, removing a rear partition and installing an extra counter. J. C. Wooldridge Lumber Co. has moved its office partition back 30 feet, adding extra floor space for displaying goods. The Lutheran church entrance was remodeled last week. Workmen are busy remodeling the front and interior of Star theatre building here.

Oil Proration Trial Closed

Attorneys Are Given Two Weeks To File Supplemental Briefs And Speedy Decision Likely Will Be Given

HOUSTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The trial a broad action challenging the validity of the Texas railroad commission's orders prorating production in the East Texas oil field was concluded before a three-judge federal court here today.

Attorneys for the complainants and the commission were given two weeks in which to file supplemental briefs. It already had been agreed that cases attacking the commission's pipeline and refinery regulations would be submitted on briefs and affidavits.

Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson from the bench indicated the proration omnibus case, formed by the consolidation, for purposes of the trial, of 37 suits seeking injunctions to have declared invalid the orders limiting production to a minimum of 68 barrels and a maximum of 31 barrels per well daily in the field, could be decided with all possible speed.

Tharp Slaying

shot, an M-System store at 1945 Nineteenth street was held up and robbed of more than $200 in cash and checks. Tharp, informed of the robbery by telephone, had completed caching most of the Saturday's receipts in the back of the store of which he was assistant manager when a gunman and another man entered. The second man left before the shooting occurred. Only a handful of silver was obtained in the holdup in which Tharp was wounded.

Descriptions Tally

Descriptions of the man who held up the Nineteenth street store and of the gunman who felled Tharp were identical, investigators said.

Seven days later a caddy found six checks and more than a dozen purchase-total slips from the Nineteenth street store beside highway No. 9 a few feet from the Country club entrance.

H. C. ("Buddy") Blanton, 21, of Amarillo, arrested there October 23 as a suspect in the Tharp slaying, was released from Lubbock county jail October 31, after District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley had conducted a court of inquiry at Amarillo to test Blanton's written alibi, was convinced Blanton was innocent, and the young man was nobilled by a grand jury here.

The sheriff's department here has the signed statement made by the man held in Amarillo. Sheriff Abel said he participated in procurement of the statement and in subsequent investigation leading to Mitchell's arrest in South Texas. Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks, after filing the complaint, signed by Sheriff Abel, against Mitchell, indicated the suspect in jail in Potter county would undergo additional questioning.

"Went To Jaures"

The man making the statement said he, Mitchell, and a companion left Amarillo by automobile, October 10, and went to Juarez, by way of Clovis, Roswell, Las Cruces, and El Paso. They moved back and forth between El Paso and Juarez, made contacts which they expected to lead them into the liquor business, and his two companions subsequently lost all their money, except a $10 check one had, when a Mexican was arrested by Mexican police after the two Americans had paid him for counterfeit money he was to issue to them. Mitchell, who was with the Mexican, was allowed to go free. They were convinced the arrest was faked but were unable to do anything about it, according to the statement.

A liquor dealer cashed the check, and the trio, deciding to return to Amarillo, argued as to the route to be taken.

"Paul said he had an idea he could get some money in Lubbock," the statement continued. "He didn't say how."

Admits Robbery

Motoring through Van Horn, they went to Big Spring, where his two companions, the man said, held up and robbed a store of $7 or $8, October 14. He said Mitchell later told him about it. After passing the night in a camp cottage he believed to have been at Lamesa, the suspect continued, they came to Lubbock, and stopped, although he had insisted that they go directly to Amarillo. The trio arrived in Lubbock about 8:30 p. m., he said.

The last third of the signed statement, with minor deletions, follows:

"Bill said he wasn't going to come back broke after getting gypped down there at El Paso and urged Paul on and Paul agreed to go and get some more money. We got into Lubbock that night, the night of October 15, 1932, and they wanted to take the car and use it. And I told them they couldn't unless I went with them. Paul directed me where to drive. Told me where to park. I stopped the car and he got out and was gone about five minutes and came back. Bill and I stayed in the car. He came back and said there was no soak, meaning he didn't do any good. He told me to drive over to another place. I drove over there and stopped and let him out again.

"Pretty Badly Excited"

"He came back in about five minutes running and he jumped in the car and he was pretty badly excited. He said to get out of town as quick as you can. He said his gun went off and he had shot a man. I asked him if he did it on purpose and he said no his gun went off and he didn't have any intention of doing it. I just drove right out on the highway toward Amarillo. . . . On the road into Amarillo we went through Abernathy and the more Paul thought about it the worse he felt about it and he just broke down and cried like a baby. He said it was already done and he couldn't do anything to change it and the only thing to do was just to try to get away from there. He said he would never touch another gun as long as he lived. . . . south of Hale Center . . . we turned off the main highway and followed roads and section lines until we hit the main highway that went toward Clovis and went on to Bovina.

"It was around midnight I judge when we got to Bovina. We bought gasoline in Bovina. At a Gulf station there on the highway. We came on into Amarillo the same night. Got to Amarillo about 10 o'clock in the morning of the 16th day of October, 1932. I took Paul and Bill down to Bill (——)'s and let them out there. Then I came on home. Paul threw the gun he did the job with out of the car. He stepped out of the car and put it down in the weeds near one of those metal and wood guards alongside of the road, just a short distance other side of Hale Center.

Burned Clothes

"He threw his clothes out of the car after we got off the main highway. We stopped the car and he got out and threw them in a ditch alongside and set fire to them. The gun used was a German Luger owned by Bill. Paul afterwards went back and got it two days after we got back. Bill borrowed a car to go after the gun and Paul went after it."

The Tharp slaying precipitated an intensive drive against criminals in Lubbock and Lubbock county. A leader in the anti-crime campaign was the Lubbock County Bar association, which passed a measure making it difficult for persons charged with theft, burglary, robbery, or murder committed "in the execution of any of these crimes" to obtain representation in court except by appointment of a lawyer by the court. Upon call of the bar association, nearly 1,200 Lubbock county citizens attended a mass meeting, joining the bar association in posting a $500 reward for "information resulting in the arrest and final conviction of the slayer of Robert Tharp."

Bounty also was subscribed to pay $500 for "information resulting in the arrest and conviction of each person who shall, in Lubbock county, during the 12 months next after this date (October 18), kill or wound any person while engaged in the commission of robbery or while attempting to escape there from."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 31. (AP) — Under pressure of hedge sales and selling by ring traders and stale longs, cotton stayed on the downgrade today in fairly active trading, closing at net declines of 9 to 12 points.

The opening was steady and better than warranted by Liverpool cables which came in 3 to 5 points worse than due. Private cables reported hedging and Bombay selling offset by trade calling but later there was long liquidation on disappointing Egyptian. Manchester cabled the market was quiet with the cloth demand poor.

First trades here showed losses of 6 to 8 points on old crop months but a drop of only 1 point on new crop October. Prices eased off a little further in the early trading on hedge selling, March dropping to 5.95, May to 6.09 and July to 6.21, or 4 to 5 points below the previous close.

There were occasional slight rallies during the day but the trend continued downward and prices made new lows for the day near the end at 5.88 for March, 6.02 for May and 6.14 for July, or 9 to 9 points down from the best levels of the morning. The close was at the bottom with March showing net loss for the day of 12 points and May and July net losses of 9 points each.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 3 penny points down.

Port receipts 87,354, for week 110,503, for season 6,713,308, last season 7,641,402. Exports 56,679, for week 118,402, for season 4,926,557, last season 4,824,522. Port stock 4,769,574, last year 4,930,410. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 170,800, last year 202,281. Spot sales at southern markets 16,577, last year 27,000.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP)—Cotton was generally lower today. Under liquidation from both foreign and domestic sources.

Offerings were absorbed by trade buying and covering but demand was chiefly on limits or scale down orders and prices eased gradually with May declining to 6.04 and closing at that figure. The general market closed barely steady, 7 to 9 points lower.

The opening was 1 to 4 points lower in response to Liverpool cables. Houses with far eastern, Liverpool and continental connections were sellers and the market displayed a sagging trend during most of the session.

Southern selling was very light during the early trading but became more active toward the close when March declined to 5.92 and July to 6.17. Final quotations were the lower of the day.

Some Bombay selling was reported here early, said to have been on straddle accounts following a decline in the Indian market. Liverpool cables said that hedging and Bombay selling in that market had offset trade calling with the market declined under long liquidation influenced by the decline in Egyptian cotton. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria closed 2 to 16 points lower.

A slow spot demand was reported in the south but the basis was said to be holding generally steady. Exports today 46,982 making 5,902,021 so far this season. Port receipts 58,022. U. S. port stocks 4,611,367.

Stock Market Seems Determined To Hold Ground; List Closes Steady

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP) — The stock market generally seemed determined to hold its ground, in the face of dividend uncertainties, today.

There were a few soft spots, with utilities again showing group heaviness, but rails were inclined to be firm, and as measured by price averages the list closed barely steady with a loss of a small fraction of a point.

Dividend uncertainty at least served to curb speculative activity, however, for the turnover was only 656,990 shares. Even that small volume, nevertheless, was well above yesterday's.

U. S. Steel's preferred dividend action was not announced until after the market closed, but was in keeping with expectations. Wall street clearly had understood the regular quarterly payment of $1.75 would not be made. The payment of 50 cents was better than expected by a substantial portion of the financial community, where an omission was being forecast, but was smaller than expected in more optimistic quarters, where a payment of around $1 was being talked of.

The quarterly earnings statement made a little better showing than expected. The deficit from manufacturing operations, before depreciation, interest and charges other than ordinary costs of manufacture, was $3,828,972, compared with $4,474,719 in the previous quarter. Other corporate news included Baldwin's announcement of omission of its preferred dividend. International Business machines ordered the regular quarterly common payment of $1.50. National Lead reported 1932 earnings equivalent to $3.15 a common share, against $5.68 in 1931. c

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 31. (AP) — General trade on fed steers and yearlings in the day's market was considered steady. A few loads of choice light weight offerings at various points brought 6.00@6.50 with comparable grade medium weight and heavy steers $4.50@5.75. Majority of arrivals for all weights were eligible to sell in a spread of 3.50@5.00. The limited supply of stockers and feeders found a steady outlet with the bulk of replacement steers selling in a spread of 3.75@5.00. Occasional loads of yearling stockers bring up to 5.75 while choice stock steer calves sell as high as 6.25. Receipts for the week at eleven markets totaled 82,000 as compared with 83,000 last week and 84,972 a year ago.

Hogs sold largely at steady to 10 higher levels as compared with Monday's average business, Chicago listing a late top of 3.45.

In the majority of cases, lambs cleared at steady to strong values with some sales 10 to 15 higher. Bulk of desirable fed kinds were tabulated in a spread of 5.00@6.00 while a few loads brought 6.10@6.15.

Salvation Army Report Is Expected Today Or Thursday

All persons who have been working for the Salvation Army Home Service drive have been requested to make their reports to headquarters at 1210 Texas avenue as soon as possible, Dr. W. A. Jackson chairman of the campaign, said last night.

A full report of collections is expected to be made today or Thursday, Mrs. Phil T. Rainey, campaign director, said.

Mayor J. J. Clements yesterday issued a statement in which the army's work was lauded. The mayor said. "I am pleased to recommend the work of the Salvation Army to the people of Lubbock. We have observed closely their work over a period of years in our city and take great pleasure in stating that their work has been highly commendable. They reach a class of people which does not come under the observation of the Welfare association of Lubbock. For that reason they are highly deserving of our patronage."

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 31. (AP) — Demand was somewhat improved on the Fort Worth cash grain market with other light offerings slow but fairly steady.

Prices ranged as follows basis car loads on track at Fort Worth freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 32 to 33; Barley, No. 3 nominally 33@34; No. 3 nominally 32@33. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 65@66; No. 3 milo 61@65. No. 3 kaffir per 100 pounds 52@53; No. 3 kaffir 51@52.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 39@40; No. 2 white or yellow 40@41.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 23@25 1-2; No. 3 red 22 1-2@23.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 31. (AP) — Spurred by augmented export call for Canadian wheat, grain values displayed relatives strength today. Operating as a curb on Chicago wheat price advances, however, was the fact enlargement of export business at Winnipeg was largely offset by weakness of Canadian currency. This discount on Canadian funds was the widest since last November.

Wheat in Chicago closed firm, unchanged to 1-4 higher, compared with yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 off to 1-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-8 lower, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal gain.

Helping to give backbone to grain values was announcement that the world's available supply of wheat showed some decrease, making the total stock 443,000 bushels, compared with 472,197,000 a year ago. On the other hand, attention to unsettled political conditions in Europe served as a handicap to price advances, and so too at times did reports of some moisture relief in dry districts of domestic winter crop territory southwest. Legislative uncertainties at Washington were an additional weight on the market.

United States Steel Orders Dividend Of 50 Cents Share

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP)—Ordering a payment of 50 cents a share, directors of the United States Steel corporation today clipped a 32-year string of successive $1.75 quarterly payments on the preferred stock, which long has held a high investment rating.

Faced with a $90,186,557 total draft on surplus during 1932, and a net operating deficit of $31,949,937 against income of $60,356,036 for 1931, the company's board confirmed its own statement of last summer, when it had said maintenance of the preferred dividend must depend on business improvement.

Anton Band Is Seeking Funds

Official WTCC Organization Plans To Attend The World Fair At Chicago; Bus Will Carry Musicians

Funds to enable the Anton Gypsy band, official West Texas Chamber of Commerce musicians, to attend the World fair in Chicago in July are being solicited in Lubbock, J. G. Thornhill, band director, said yesterday.

Mr. Thornhill said that Lubbock merchants and business men already had subscribed $230, and that he expected to remain here for about five more days.

With funds obtained through production of plays and concerts last fall, the Gypsies have purchased a 30-passenger bus. With two accompanying automobiles, Thornton said the 35 members of the unit could make the trip. About $1,700 more will be required, and this amount is being raised by subscription and by concerts. Thornhill said he had arranged for programs in Lamesa and San Angelo.

Taxpayers Urged To Make Reports

W. H. Meador, county tax assessor, Tuesday urged taxpayers to render their property before April 1, pointing out that persons with property on the "unknown rolls" would have difficulty in securing the homestead exemption offered by the state.

"Don't fail to render your property for state and county taxes," Mr. Meador said in a statement yesterday. "The amendment adopted at the last general election granting exemption of state tax on resident homestead up to $3,000 imposes on the owner and occupant the necessity and duty of making rendition and specifying homestead in order to secure this exemption.

"Should you fail to render and specify your resident homestead, thereby causing it to go on the unknown rolls, you will likely lose this exemption. When the assessor calls on you, give him a full and complete list of your property, both real and personal. If by any chance you have not made this rendition by April 1 you can call at the county tax assessors's office, where you will find either the collector or a deputy during business hours."

Lions Are Hosts To Wives Tuesday

About 80 Lions club members and their wives attended a quarterly ladies' night program at Hotel Hilton Tuesday night. President B. F. Condray presided.

Songs, short addresses, fortune telling, and a piano solo were included in the entertainment. "Echoes from Colorado," a song written by a friend of Sam J. McFarland, a club member, and dedicated to McFarland, was played by Miss Louise Jennings. Group singing was led by Dr. V. O. Marshall, with Mrs. Marshall as pianist.

John D. Mitchell was the fortune teller. Mrs. Wm. H. Evans and the Rev. J. O. Haymes were speakers.

John Galsworthy Dies At Home In England Tuesday

LONDON, Jan. 31. (AP) — John Galsworth, one of the greatest of the contemporary English men of letters, died at his home in Hampstead today. For the last week he had been in grave condition from anemia which followed a severe cold contracted a month ago. He was 65 years old.

Mr. Galsworthy's physical condition made it impossible for him to go to Stockholm last November to receive in person the 1932 Nobel prize for literature.

Friends initiated a movement to give his body a final resting place in Westminster Abbey, Britain's hall of fame.

Mutiny Charges Facing Seamen

BATAVIA, Java, Jan. 31 (AP)—Forty seaman aboard the Dutch cruiser Java and two Dutch destroyers were arrested for mutiny today and put ashore at the Soerabaya naval base.

A number of men in the crews of the three vessels refused to turn out for parade in protest against a recent pay cut. Many returned to duty after the commander of the Java had spoken to them, but the forty men persisted in their refusal to obey orders.

Former Dallas Resident Is Held For Shooting Of Man

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 31. (AP)—A former Dallas resident was in custody tonight as authorities awaited the outcome of bullet wounds suffered by W. James Gamble, 56, former Dallas policeman, when Gamble walked from the courthouse at noon today.

Gamble, shot five times, was struck by one bullet above the heart and physicians expressed the opinion that he could not live.

He had testified in the divorce trial of Roscoe Cupp, Stephenville resident, as a witness for Mrs. Cupp.

Edgar T. Neal is in Brownfield this week attending a session of the district court.

New Antiseptic By Vicks Cuts Gargle Costs In Half

Local Druggists Also Offer Special Trial Size — a 25c Value for 10c — to Furnish Proof of Its Quality and Amazing Economy

NEW BAN ON HALITOSIS

Does All an Oral Antiseptic Can and Should Do—At Half the Usual Price of Other Quality Mouthwashes.

The makers of Vicks VapoRub have produced an antiseptic — Vicks Voratone Antiseptic—at half the usual price of other quality gargles and mouth-washes.

Of course, the only real proof of its economy—and quality—is actual use in your home. To furnish this proof, Vicks Chemists are supplying — below cost—to druggists everywhere, a special trial size. This trial size bottle contains 2½ ounces —a 25c value. The price is only 10c. The supply of these trial bottles is limited. There are only 5 million—for America's 26 million homes.

No extravagant claims are made for Vicks Antiseptic. It is simply the best antiseptic for its purpose that Vicks Chemists could produce —aided by the chemists, bacteriologists, and pharmacologists of their 16 allied organizations in America, England and Germany.

Mild Enough, Strong Enough

These chemists examined the whole field of oral antiseptics. Some they found were too weak. A few were too strong for regular use in the mouth. Most were very good. But all were much too expensive.

So they produced a balanced antiseptic—mild enough to be used daily without risk to delicate membranes; yet strong enough to do everything an oral antiseptic can and should do.

For All The Usual Uses

You can use Vicks Antiseptic in your customary way, for bad breath (halitosis); as a mouth-wash; as a gargle; as an antiseptic lotion for minor cuts and abrasions; and for all the other customary uses of an antiseptic of this type.

And Vicks Antiseptic has this additional unique advantage ... born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly. The regular size is a large 10-ounce bottle—a usual 75c value—for only 35c.—Adv.

Fathered Technocracy, He Claims

William H. Smyth, above, retired patent attorney of Berkeley, Calif., claims to be the original technocrat. He coined the term in a series of magazine articles written in 1919, he points out, producing copies of the magazine to prove it. Beneath his picture you see a magazine clippnig dated 1919 in which Smyth discusses technocracy by that name. He had studied the problem of social effects of engineering for years, and its possibilities were demonstrated, he claims, by operations of the War Industries Board during the World War.

Charge Against Underworld Agent Of Lindbergh Dropped

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A charge of carrying a revolver laid against Salvatore Spitale, underworld agent in the Lindbergh case, was discharged today, Magistrate Francis J. Erwin holding that a permit issued to Spitale by Judge William E. Thorpe of Green county was valid.

A similar charge against Irving Bitz, former co-agent of Col. Lindbergh with Spitale, was put over for hearing until Friday.

Both were returned to Tombs prison where they are held without bail in connection with the murder of Antonio Pantalino, an alleged racketeer.

Retired Texas Cattleman Is Death Victim At His Home

DALLAS, Jan. 31 (AP)—Thomas Preston Weatherred, 76, retired real estate dealer and cattleman, died at his home today. A native of Louisiana, he moved to Waco and came to Dallas ten years ago.

He was survived by his widow, two sons, Gus K. Weatherred of Dallas and Col. Preston A. Weatherred of Houston; a daughter, Mrs. E. M. Johnson of San Angelo, and two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Horne of Osceola and Mrs. Dave Tanner of Waco.

After the funeral services here tomorrow, the body will be taken to Waco for burial.

Plans For 1500 Mile Highway With Palms Alongside Are Being Outlined For Valley Region Of Texas

BROWNSVILLE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Plans for a 1500-mile palm-lined highway from Eagle Pass through San Antonio to Orange, back through Houston and down to Brownsville, then up the Rio Grande to Eagle Pass, were outlined here recently by Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor.

Borglum is acting for the highway commission as chairman of parking.

He is interested in beautification of highways, particularly with palms, and believes such adornment would "set this section off as a part of the tropics, impressing the tourists the moment he reaches it."

Borglum was particularly interested in the present palm-planting campaign which is being carried on in the valley with funds secured from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for unemployment relief. He was told that about 30 miles of highway around Brownsville is being palm-lined, but will fit in with the present palm-lined roads.

The famous sculptor visited a spot on the highway between Brownsville and Port Isabel where Spanish daggers are used along the highways.

"These will be used in the parts of the state where they are native, and where there is not enough water for palms," Borglum said.

"Some day this South Texas of yours will have the most beautiful system of highways in the country—there is no reason why it should not, because you have the soil and the climate." Borglum said.

High Ranking Officers Of Navy Retire Because Of Age

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. (AP)—Two of the navy's highest ranking officers, who joined the service the year before the first steam warship was launched, retired today because of age.

They are Rear Admiral Jehu V. Chase, a native of Pattersonville, Louisiana and Rear Admiral Frank H. Schofield, of Jerusalem, New York.

Both were appointed to the naval academy in 1886 and later served as commander-in-chief of the United States fleet with the rank of admiral, the highest naval post.

The vacancies created on the general board are to be filled by Captains Alfred Wilkinson Johnson, assistant chief of the bureau of navigation, and Frederick Joseph Horne, chief of staff of the 14th naval district with headquarters at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. They will have the rank of rear-admirals.

The United States has engaged in 27 wars, beginning with the Revolution and ending with the World war.

Piccard Would Fly Atlantic In A Rocket

Professor Auguste Piccard and his family. Stratosphere Balloon

Professor Auguste Piccard, noted Swiss professor of statosphere fame, has invented a rocket which he believes eventually may be practical for transatlantic mail and passenger service. Professor Piccard has calculated that his rocket could make 186.4 miles a minute and thus would be capable of crossing the Atlantic ocean in less than half an hour. The professor, arriving in America a few days later than Professor Albert Einstein, will have a historic reunion with the great German scientist in California. M. Piccard will discuss the rocket with Dr. Einstein.

Cross Funeral Services To Be Conducted In Oklahoma

The body was carried overland yesterday to Porum by Bynum-Stahler funeral home. Three sons survive Mr. Cross. They are O. M. Cross of Lubbock, R. M. Cross of Elk City, Okla., and S. R. Cross of Kiowa, Okla.

HOTTER THAN HOT

Prof. E. E. Slosson reports that the Orion stars are the most massive and hottest of all the stars. Their surface temperatures are believed to be at least as high as 20,000 degrees.

Juror Collects For His Services Although Cash Is A Long Time Coming

JOAQUIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Milam Irish, formerly of Center, recently collected $8.00 for jury service rendered 27 years ago—four days at $2.00 per day. The voucher, apparently long forgotten, upon being found was used this year for payment of taxes.

The certificate had been held longer than any other in the history of Shelby county, according to Treasurer Marlie Childs.

Preliminary production figures value the iron and steel manufactures in Canada in 1931 at $385,189,000, a decrease of 32 per cent from 1930.

Five Men And Two Women Are Being Held In Bank Robbery

HOUSTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Five men and two women were in custody of officers today in connection with the $1,750 robbery of the First National bank at Cleveland, Texas, as the Liberty county grand jury called two witnesses before it.

Two women, arrested in Beaumont yesterday were held in the Liberty county jail, as was one man.

Two other suspects were held in Louisiana and two arrested at Conroe, in the Harris county jail.

HEIGHT CUTS POWER

The U. S. Bureau of Standards reports that an airplane engine's power drops to one-third its sea-level value when it rises to an altitude of 30,000 feet. The steady drop in air pressure is responsible for this.

Suit Against State Urged

Pecos Senator Asks For Funds To Prosecute Suit Against New Mexico For Diversion Of Pecos Waters

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Senator K. M. Regan of Pecos introduced a bill in the senate today to appropriate $12,250 for prosecution of a suit against the state of New Mexico.

The neighboring state would be sued for alleged "wrongful and inequitable diversion of the waters of the Pecos river," an interstate stream.

The bill set out that "a deplorable condition exists among Texas farmers who irrigate their fields from the water of the Pecos river, which condition was largely brought about by the inequitable diversion of water by the state of New Mexico."

Regan said that 40,000 acres of land had been abandoned by farmers along the Pecos river in Texas as a result of their inability to obtain water for irrigation. He said this situation was brought about by the building of dams up stream in New Mexico. The dams were built by the federal government while New Mexico was a territory.

LARGEST POWER DAM

The largest power dam in the world is said to be that recently completed on the Dniper river in Soviet Russia by American engineers. The Hoover dam on the Colorado river will be the world's largest power and irrigation dam when it is completed.

Youth, 20, Runs 261-Acre Farm And His Books Show No Red Ink Traces

NAPPANEE, Ind., Jan. 31 (AP)—Managing a 261-acre farm — not only managing it, but also doing much of the work—probably would be regarded by most farmers as a man-sized job.

And when the manager is a youth of 20, most farmers undoubtedly would say he had a full-time job. And then if he succeeded for three years—especially these last three—in keeping books without the use of red ink and managing the farm while going to school, almost any farmer would have to admit he had done a good job.

That is what 20-year-old Harold Umbaugh succeeded in doing with his part-time job of operating a farm near here, but he still calls himself a "future farmer."

Future Farmers of America is an association of about 65,000 boys who have succeeded in an agricultural project more advanced than the work outlined for 4-H club members.

Harold was chosen to represent Indiana at the national congress of the association at Kansas City, Mo., and came home with a "fourth degree" gold medal, the highest honor awarded in the organization.

Umbaugh lives on one farm with his grandfather, and operates it in conjunction with adjoining land owned by his sister, a school teacher.

For three years he has been the managing head of the enterprise. Two of those years he also was attending school doing his work before and after classes.

It is a full-fledged farm that Harold operates, with livestock, diversified crops and the attendant problems of treating calves with the colic, chickens with the pip and horses with the heaves.

This year he had 25 acres of wheat, 28 acres of oats, 22 of corn, 14 of clover, 25 of soybeans, 14 in hay, besides pasture.

For three years since the death of his father he has made the farm pay, according to his records. "It is my herd of ten dairy cattle that is making money now," he explains.

The secret of success, he adds, is work, plans, and more work. His ambition is to have a dairy herd that produces more milk than any herd he knows.

"I have a few cows now," he says. "I am going to start raising good calves, making cows of them and gradually improving my herd."

William Dunbar was the greatest of the old Scottish poets.

"Say! even if you never hit 50 you need an oil that can do 100!"

"WHAT!" you may say, "Me—a 30-mile-an-hour driver—need Gulf Supreme, that 100-mile-an-hour oil?"

Yes! Think a minute and you'll see why . . .

The faster an oil travels, the more punishment it gets. And the oil that is good at 100-miles-an-hour, is a better, safer oil at ANY speed!

It gives extra protection against wear. Extra protection against heat. Extra protection against costly lubrication troubles.

Gulf Supreme can take super-punishment! That is not just a claim. In two of the stiffest tests an oil could get, Gulf Supreme proved itself a "fighting oil". . .

First, by successfully lubricating a motor running at nearly twice the heat of a normal speeding engine for 14 solid hours!

Second, by out-performing special racing oils in an Official AAA test on the Indianapolis Speedway. On a sizzling day last August, it lubricated a roaring Duesenberg racer in a one-hour, non-stop run — at an average speed greater than 100-miles-an-hour! Nearly two miles a minute on the straight-a-ways!

WARNING! . . . OIL that isn't good at high speeds, isn't good enough at ANY speed!

Drive into any Gulf station. Drain worn oil. Re-fill with Gulf Supreme. Watch it cut costs. Minimize repairs. And last longer! Use the winter grade in severe weather.
