THE SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION. It sometimes seems as though this Federal agency is operating more as a partner of the banking community than as an aggressive friend and partner of small business people. While large corporate borrowers are receiving loans from the big banks at prime rates of 5% to 5½% the SBA is guaranteeing small business loans from banks at interest rates of 10%, 11% and 12%. I feel this is a cruel burden for small businesses and that the government should not condone these excessively high interest rates.

FAIR IS FAIR. Environmentalists are demanding that stockmen not use poison to protect cattle and sheep from predatory animals such as coyotes and wolves, so the House Agriculture Committee has recommended legislation which would even the score by reimbursing farmers and ranchers for their losses from these destructive carnivores. If it is decided that predators should be protected as a species, it is only fair to place the financial burden where it belongs — upon the general public, and not just on the farming community.

A NEW DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE DIRECTIVE will help servicemen afflicted with alcoholism who are doing their best to rehabilitate themselves. For years, alcoholism has been viewed only as a cause of punishment, which meant that some members of the armed forces with long and otherwise distinguished service were denied promotions and sometimes given bad discharges, disqualifying them for any benefits. Under this new program, the military is accepting established medical opinion — that alcoholism can be an illness and should be medically treated. The $6.2 million included in the 1973 budget will allow the Services to develop programs for education, treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics and drug abusers.

A MODERN BANK 2200 YEARS AGO. It is interesting find that as early as the third century before Christ, a bank remained open all night to serve its customers — and retained a renowned poet (Theocritus) to compose its advertising which translates from classic Greek verse as follows: "To natives and to strangers, this bank gives efficient dealing . . . and pays foreign moneys at request, even by night."

THE 1972 ECONOMIC REPORT BY THE PRESIDENT. The Joint Economic Committee (of which I am Vice Chairman) has now published the transcript of its 13 days of hearings held last February. In 5 parts and 1063 pages, this material (useful to libraries, teachers, and serious students of the economy) will be sent free to constituents upon request. It is also for sale by the Superintendent of Documents. Washington, D. C., for $4.40.

A TIDE OF TEXANS. In 1862 during the War Between the States, a French military observer at the Battle of Gaines' Mill, where Hood's Texas Brigade was heavily engaged, reported: "The Texas Regiments advanced without faltering under a shower of shells . . . their long line scarcely wavered . . . they rushed onward with loud yells to the very mouth of the guns which had so mercilessly poured grape into them . . . the few gunners who had persisted in remaining at their post to the last, disappeared in the tide of Texans."

HOOD'S BRIGADE, which was formed in 1861, went on to distinguish itself and bring honor to Texas. When a colonel made a remark about the raggedness of the seats of the Texans' uniforms, General Lee replied, "Never mind their raggedness, Colonel, the enemy never sees the backs of my Texans." Hood's Brigade richly deserves the memorial: "We led the charge on many a field. We were first in many a fray, and turned the bloody battle tide. On many a gloomy day."

Mrs. Jimmy Haynes accompanied by Mrs. Tom Jarvis of Dallas left Dallas Love Field at 12:50 July 6th for a 22 day vacation in Europe. They will visit England, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France, Spain and Portugal, returning home on July 27.

Austin. — Wide variance in election costs over the state have been pointed up by Secretary of State Bob Bullock in a recent report.

Bullock said primary expenses ranged from 36 cents per voter (Democrats) in Travis County to $4.83 (for Republicans) in El Paso County.

Some county chairmen managed a "thrifter, better-organized election," while others spent the maximum amount authorized, said the chief election officer.

"These figures have reaffirmed our belief that single polling places for both parties, with primaries financed through the county clerk's office, would be a positive step toward reducing our primary election costs," said Bullock.

Higher unit cost for Republicans is not surprising, due to the small size of the GOP primary, Bullock said.

In some counties, the Secretary of State complained, 400 voting machines were allowed where "half as many" probably would have done the job.

COURTS SPEAK — A U. S. Supreme Court decision holding the death penalty unconstitutional left uncertain the fate of 41 Texas prisoners on death row.

A federal court at Brownsville held five Texas laws used in labor disputes are unconstitutional and scored the role of Texas Rangers in a 1966-67 Starr County farm workers' strike.

The State Supreme Court next fall will hear arguments concerning the extent of a health insurance policyholder's rights in suits based on alleged misrepresentation in policy sales.

The High Court ruled Sun Oil Company has rights to use 100,000 gallons of water daily for injection of oil-bearing sands beneath a Hockley County tract to increase production.

Part of the value of medical and legal practices of divorced husbands can be held as community property for distribution to wives, the Supreme Court held.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered new trials for two men who had earlier received death sentences which had been overturned by the U. S. Supreme Court, and upheld Gov. Preston Smith's commutation of sentences for two others under similar circumstances. The Court affirmed a fifth death penalty.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a trial court finding that a Travis County couple did not have sufficient mental capacity to understand the effects of deeding their homestead to a niece.

NEW TRADE MISSION PLANNED — An August trade mission by 12 Texas industrialists to the South American cities of San Paulo and Rio de Janeiro is planned by the International Trade Division of Texas Industrial Commission for Aug. 20-31. The trip will emphasize these producers as best export possibilities in South America: petrochemicals, chemicals, power equipment, construction and mining equipment, steel, graphics, industry equipment, machine tools, office machines, textile machinery, transportation and communication and agriculture and food processing.

FILIBUSTER MARK SET — Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas cracked the world's filibuster record during the special legislative session, arguing 42 hours and 33 minutes for more funds to improve mental health - mental retardation services.

McKool's feat, which immobilized both houses of the legislature for nearly two days, may have thrown the session timetable out of kilter.

Indications are there is little hope of winding up work on the $4.1 billion appropriations bill before Friday. Additional federal funds totaling nearly $128 million apparently will be assured for welfare.

Senators scheduled a mid-week clash over adoption of new rules which include a controversial provision to authorize consideration of appointments by the governor in open session. Senators traditionally have done this work behind closed doors, and showed reluctance last week to depart from the old practice.

HIGHWAY FUND IN JEOPARDY — The entire Texas highway program is in jeopardy, Texas Highway Commission member Charles Simons told Texas Press Association at its summer meeting in Corpus Christi.

Simons warned the highway program is threatened by proposed environmental controls, raids on the federal highway trust fund, government reorganization, federal revenue sharing and bureaucratic red tape.

He said the federal government should finish the interstate system as pledged, then release to the states responsibility for collection of the special highway user taxes invoked in 1956 to establish the highway trust fund.

Simons expressed concern over schemes to divert trust fund revenues to build rail mass transit systems in the East and Midwest. He charged a proposal for governmental reorganization is a move to "dominate the highway program and to divert highway user tax revenues to wild-eyed welfare and other socialistic schemes."

BILLBOARD FORMS AVAILABLE — Application blanks to erect billboards within 660 feet of highways are now available through Highway Department and city offices.

Sign permits are required under the new State Highway Beautification or billboard control act which went into effect last week.

Plans for enforcing sections of the billboard law dealing with illegal, abandoned and non-conforming signs, junkyards and auto graveyards will be announced later.

Want Ads Will Find A Buyer

This Newspaper's large number of readers make a Want Ad the most economical means of finding a buyer for your unneeded possessions: Livestock, field seed, farm implements, household goods, pet animals, poultry, real estate, musical instruments, jewelry, automobiles and bicycles, or to find a renter if you have a house, apartment or farm to rent. You'll find a Want Ad also effective in locating strayed livestock, and in finding something you want to buy.

THANK YOU

It was a close race, and when lost by only 7 votes in a hotly contested commissioner's race, you know you had fine support from the voters. I want to thank each one that voted for me. I truly appreciate it.

I want to thank the election judges, canvassing board and recount commission. I feel that they did a public spirited job under difficult conditions and I respect their integrity. It is people like them that make our Democracy work.
