Snyder Fireman Dies At Scene Of Oilfield Blaze

Lightning Hits Tank

A Snyder volunteer fireman died fighting a fire in a tank battery ½ mile west of Monsanto Chemical Co. Gasoline Plant 15 miles southwest of Snyder. The blaze was touched off by a bolt of lightning which struck the oil tanks of the Stallworth Co. of Midland during an intense electrical storm.

Pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Cone Merritt was John Sanders, 44, 502 Thirty-fourth Street. The death was accidental, Merritt ruled.

Fire Chief Alfred Kohl said Sanders and Leonard Keller, another fireman, fell into one of the tanks when the tank top caved in. Keller grabbed the side of the tank as he fell and was pulled to safety, but Sanders apparently was overcome by gas fumes.

The tank into which the two men fell was separated from the fire by another tank. They were hauling fire hose across the tank when the top caved in. Keller was reportedly in good condition at his home.

Lightning ignited a fire in two of the tanks about 4:45 a.m. Firemen from Snyder quelled the flames, but one of the tanks, of about 500 barrel capacity, was heavily damaged.

Sanders joined the Snyder Fire Department in 1956. He was honored as "Fireman of the Year" in 1964.

Funeral is pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Born June 1, 1922, he was a plant operator for the Texas Company and a member of the Assembly of God Church. He had resided in Snyder for the past 16 years.

Surviving are his wife, Jacqueline of the home; one son, Johnny, also of the home; and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sanders of Wichita Falls.

Lightning was heavy during the storm. A bolt struck down a tree in the backyard of the Cecil Burdick residence at 2233 Sunset this morning.

"It hit about 3:30 and was very loud," said Burdick.

The Texas Electric Service Co. reported isolated instances of temporary power failure, although there was no major portion of the City without electricity at any time.

The lightning bolts hit frequently as a slow-moving thunderstorm edged eastward through the area, bringing moderate to heavy rains to an area extending from O'Donnell into Fisher and Nolan Counties.

Rainfall of varied intensity swept across the Lake J. B. Thomas watershed, but the amount of runoff still was a matter of speculation this morning. The Colorado River was flowing bank full by mid-morning, and Bull Creek was reported out of its banks and over a county road a few miles north of the lake. The surge of water from Bull Creek had not reached the lake at mid-morning.

By 9 a.m. today the flow from the river had raised the lake's elevation by .07 of a foot and it was believed that the runoff had merely begun. The mid-morning elevation of the lake was 2242.53, or about 15½ feet below the spillway.

Rainfall at the Lake Thomas dam totalled 1.20 inches.

The rainfall apparently diminished as it moved southeastward. Hermleigh had 1.50 inches, but only .70 fell three miles to the southeast of that community.

Some of the heavier rains reported during the 24 hours ending at dawn included Friona 2.60 inches, Dumont 2.50, Levelland 1.94, Midland 1.94, Rotan 1.50, Muleshoe, Guthrie and Brownfield 1.43, Seymour 1.34, Center 1.33, Olton and Spur 1.26, and Haskell 1.25.

LIGHTNING HITS — A bolt of lightning struck down a tree in the backyard of the Cecil Burdick residence, 2233 Sunset, early this morning. Luckily, the tree missed the house as it fell. "It made a very loud noise," said Burdick.

PEKING GANGS

Red Guards Stage Anti-Soviet Protest

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of young Red Guards demonstrated in front of the Soviet Embassy in Peking today but heeded official warnings against violence.

Japanese newsmen reported from the Chinese capital that tens of thousands of young Chinese marched on the embassy shouting "antirevisionist" slogans. Chinese leaders accuse the Russians of revising Communist ideology.

However, the demonstrators — in contrast to the rowdiness of recent days — were orderly. The official Peking People's Daily said the Red Guards and other demonstrators have heeded official calls to maintain discipline.

Red Guards planned two days of demonstrations in front of the embassy as the current purge swept across China and into Lhasa, the ancient capital of Tibet.

Large portraits of Marx, Lenin, Stalin and Mao Tze-tung faced the Soviet Embassy building as the Red Guards prepared to rename the street leading to the embassy. Known as the Street of the Prince's Well, it is being renamed Prevent Revisionism Street.

The Soviet government lodged an "emphatic protest" with the Chinese Embassy in Moscow over the weekend charging hooliganism outside the Soviet Embassy and demanding effective measures to protect Soviet diplomats.

The official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking that Red Guard demonstrators occupied the street leading to the embassy Friday, making it difficult for foreign diplomats to attend a film showing and cocktail party at the embassy.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the crowd threw stones at a Soviet official and stopped an embassy car.

Newsmen, who were roughed up in previous demonstrations, were given written invitations to the demonstration today.

The Peking People's Daily said the demonstrators, warned against using force rather than reasoning, are "determined to become, like the people's liberation army, model workers in applying mass discipline."

At one time, it was named Hermlin after R. C. Herm and Harry W. Harlin, two early day residents. G. W. McCall, the first postmaster, and father of Alice Peterson of Snyder, had his office at Wheat near the present townsite. The First Baptist Church was organized [illegible] 1890 six miles southeast of town in the Browning Schoolhouse near the Pyron Cemetery.

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — A homemade gasoline firebomb smashed into an automobile Sunday night and burned six passengers during the peak of the third night of rioting in a Negro district.

Sixty-three persons, most of them Negroes, were arrested.

War Viewed As Emotional Issue

By BILL BOYARSK

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP) — Western Democrats see the Viet Nam war as an emotional issue — one that could hurt their congressional candidates if casualties continue to mount.

Directors of the Western States Democratic Conference Sunday — endorsed President Johnson's efforts "to secure a peaceful settlement in Southeast Asia, particularly in Viet Nam.

But in interviews, party officials, especially those from more populous states, showed concern about the war's political effects.

"When they bring a casket into a city with a soldier in it, people will worry about the war," said Frank Keller, Washington State Democratic chairman. 'And when a war hero comes home and gives a speech, they'll feel differently. It's an emotional issue."

"It's an issue and it's a larger issue than anything else," said Norman Stoll, Oregon's Democratic national committeeman.

Tom Brown, New Mexico national committeeman, said, "There is uncertainty and unrest," although "I think our people by a large majority support the President."

Keller said the congressional elections in November could be considered a referendum on the war.

He was one of a group of party officials who took a long look at the present congressional lineup in the 13 Western states of Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Washington, Alaska, Hawaii, Oregon, California, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

Republicans hold 22 House seats out of 69 from the area. Of the 26 senators, 17 are Democratic.

Delegates also showed concern about California, where Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown is facing a hard fight against actor Ronald Reagan, the Republican candidate for governor.

Democrats hold 24 of California's 38 congressional seats and "three to four are on the critical list," a source said.

A big Reagan victory, he said, could cost the Democrats congressional seats.

Solon Says US Farmers Cheated

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said today that during the past year American farmers were cheated out of something like $1 billion because of the kind of economic and statistical analysis put out by the Agriculture Department.

Losses, Quie said in a speech for the House, could have amounted to as much as $300 million in corn, $180 million for wheat, $400 million for soybeans and $25 million for grain sorghums.

"The statistical and economic services (of the department) evidently have been utilized to hold down farm prices," said Quie, a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

In all four commodities, Quie said, demand was understated and carryover was overstated.

"This last year," he said, "American farmers were cheated out of something like $1 billion in corn, wheat, soybean and grain sorghum, aside from US. A efforts to dump surplus stocks to hold down farm prices."

Quie, in explaining the corn situation, said a department report last fall said the corn carryover for 1966-67 is expected to increase to about 1.275 billion bushels, and this adversely affected farm prices.

On Aug. 9, 1966, he said, the department said the Oct. 1, 1966 carryover may be about 15 per cent below the carryover of 1.17 billion bushels in 1965.

"If we accept this figure," he said, "then the carryover will be not 1.275 billion bushels, but only 995 million bushels, a difference of 280 million bushels."

George Maya built the first house. It stood on land now owned by Joe Nachlinger. The first school was erected in 1909. With a good school and plenty of water the town prospered. It was renamed 'Foch" during World War I, but the "doughboys" returning from France following the war began a movement to change the name back to Hermleigh, which means "Herm land" after the early resident.

Fargason concluded his remarks by observing that Hermleigh is a place where "we live together, work together, play together and worship together."

Mrs. Hugh Taylor outlined work of the Texas Historical Survey Committee, and she told of plans to erect other historical markers in the county, including one at the first producing oil well — the J. J. Moore No. 1.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Claude Nixon, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Hermleigh, and Hairston, the county commissioner, made the introductions.

Mrs. Taylor also told of Sandstone Canyon east of Hermleigh. The July issue of Texas Parade magazine described Indian pictographs that are in the canyon.

Today's Rampage In China Will Be Shameful Memory

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's happening in China today is a children's crusade.

In time the Chinese will look back with shame on this young people's rampage set loose with the blessing of Mao Tze-tung and his leadership for a purpose that's plain.

It's a defensive effort by Mao and his clique to throttle and for the foreseeable future intimidate critics or would-be critics of his regime. This is being done on the heels of purges already carried out.

The Mao group has made progress in bringing China into the 20th century although its present failures are not widely known in the West, with one exception. That's in foreign affairs.

But it is a shocking revelation of Mao's uncertainty about the Communist party's grip on the people that after 17 years in control the Mao regime has to call youngsters, including hooligans, into the streets to frighten the masses into obedience and silence.

Control of the 700 million Chinese is made easier if Mao's ruling group can create an image of him as an omniscient father whom none dare question without committing sin.

In this case the sin would be considered stupidity or treason.

But in the process the leadership itself becomes childish, or else is exhibiting a profound contempt for the intelligence of the Chinese people.

The New China News Agency has just said: Absorb the great thought of Mao and you too can be on the winning team. Then it explained how Red China's world championship tennis team studied Mao's political and military tactics to learn how to win at tennis.

But the Red Chinese are not winning in foreign affairs. Sunday for instance, the Italian Communist party called the policies of Red China a failure.

The Italian party's newspaper said stands taken by China have cost communism dearly in Asia, with a setback in Indonesia and India, and had even weakened the Communist cause in Viet Nam.

The paper could have gone into other continents to show Red China's foreign failures, including the Russians and other Communists in Europe, except for tiny Albania.

In Peking, Shanghai and other cities bands of young people, under the name of Red Guard," were carrying out what one Red Chinese newspaper called a "fierce attack on all old ideas, culture, customs and habits."

The attacks ranged from changing street names to desecrating the few Christian churches still left in China and raiding private homes to humiliate anyone not as faceless as the youth seem to want all to be.

The poor foreign policy of Red China has been interpreted as aggressiveness and extremism in dealing with other Communists or backward peoples but the basic reason for the failure is probably political immaturity.

The endless deification of Mao, the use of such juvenile tactics as the "Red Guard," the wretched relationships with neighbors and other Communist parties give the Red Chinese a special look of absurdity.

This is probably due to feelings of inferiority, inflexibility due to the long years of preparation for the revolution, and a self- conscioüsness due to both.

Cotton is the coolest fabric.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA SHELLS

QUESTION: What are sea shells made of?

• • •

ANSWER: When we see a pretty, empty shell on a beach, we are apt to forget that an interesting little animal once built it. These shellmakers are mollusks—small, soft, boneless creatures. Such a mollusk hatches from the egg as a free swimming larva or veliger (1). After awhile, he settles to the bottom (2) with his wing-like paddles gone. He looks tempting to many hungry predators, but he protects himself with an ingenious system. His soft body is covered with a fleshy cape or mantle (3), and the mantle is able to extract carbonate of lime from the sea water and deposit it as a strong hard material or shell. As the young mollusk keeps growing, adding larger spirals to the tiny shell he carried as a veliger, the mantle keeps covering them with shell (2). Then, when danger threatens, the animal can pull inside his shell, closing the entrance with a hard plate or trap door which he carries around attached to the end of his body. Some mollusks, like the clam, build shells of other shapes, but the material is deposited by the mantle in the same general way.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Shells are among the most wonderful things in nature. Consider starting a collection of them. 8-29

Things Boyle Learns From Reading Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Snails are becoming more popular as house pets. . . although they have up to 80,000 teeth, they rarely bite. They require little space, you don't have to take them for a walk every evening, and they never keep neighbors awake by barking.

You can fly to place your bet on the daily double at the Waterford Park track in Chester, W.Va. It has a landing strip for small planes in its infield.

The future will be even more huddled. It's estimated that by the year 2,000 some 240 million Americans will live in 8.7 per cent of the nation's land space, only a scattered 60 million on the remaining 91.3 per cent.

Here's a sure way to make your wife angry: "When summoning her to the phone, tell her: "Dear, somebody wants to listen to you."

Quotable notables: "I find it hard to believe that the world will follow our moral leadership if our principles go higher and higher the farther they are from home" — Walter Lippmann.

About 60 per cent of American families now own their own homes — or will, when the mortgage is paid.

"Moonlighting," the custom of holding more than one job, is on the increase. The average moonlighter — there are four million — is a married man between the ages of 25 and 44, and he puts in 13 hours a week at his second job.

America leads the world in vending machines. It now has 12 million of these mechanical salesmen. Don't you think it's about time they invented one with a little built-in courtesy, so that when you inserted a coin in its slot it would rasp out a guttural "thank you"?

A grade school student gave these answers during a music exam: "A virtuoso is a musician with real high morals. And I know what a sextet is but I had rather not say."

History lesson: Who was America's most boisterous president? Andrew Jackson is said to have engaged in a hundred brawls and duels. He killed a pistol expert in one duel and carried a bullet in his own body for 20 years after another gun battle.

"Early to bed, early to rise — until you make enough money to live otherwise."

It was Will Rogers who observed, "I never expected to see the day when girls would get sunburned in the places they now do."

Two Strong Quakes Shake Matsushiro

TOKYO (AP) — Two fairly strong earthquakes followed by a series of minor tremors shook the area around the quake-ridden town of Matsushiro in central Japan Sunday and today. At least seven persons were injured.

Almost half a million quakes have been registered in Matsushiro, a town of 23,000, since Aug. 3, 1965.

BIG PILEUP — Action was fast and furious during the football scrimmage between Snyder and Odessa Ector here Friday night. The number of boys on the ground on this play indicates there was a lot of hitting going on.

Bengals, Ector Engage In Rugged Scrimmage Session

The Snyder Tigers and the Odessa Ector high school football team tangled up in a rugged scrimmage here Saturday night, and it appeared the Tigers more than held their own after "getting their second wind" late in the scrimmage. Each team crossed the goal three times.

Curtis Clay, Tiger tailback, went across the goal from three yards and 1½ yards out. The other tally was a 3-yard run by Mario Tavarez.

Snyder's passing game began to click as quarterback Murry Bowden connected on five to end Frankie Grimmett for 85 yards and one to wingback Rick Hall for six yards. As a team, the Bengals attempted 19 tosses.

The first unit rushed for 264 yards and gained 91 through the airways while compiling 20 first downs. Clay was the big gainer. He netted 134 yards on 35 carries. Tavaris garnered 59 yards on 10 efforts, and Bowden scampered for 54 yards on 14 runs. Hall carried only three times, but he gained 17 yards.

Two loose balls were recovered by the Tiger defense. The defense had its bright moments. Bowden and Billy Wilson were outstanding.

One of the scores was set up on a long pass from Bowden to Grimmett, who was overtaken by the defenders as he ran along the west sideline towards the north goal. Clay "wiped out" a would-be tackler as Grimmett made the reception.

Ector also looked good during the tussle. They have two fine quarterbacks and some speedy runners and could easily repeat as champions of District 2-AAA. The school is moving up to AAAA status in a couple of years.

Perez Surprises Mustang Mentor

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"I keep telling myself he can't do that, then all he does is do it," said Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist.

He was watching a young man named Ines Perez, who thus far has been about the best quarterback on the squad as Southern Methodist completes a week of fall football training.

He is 5 feet 4—one of the shortest men ever to report for football in the Southwest Conference.

Perez, a 20-year-old Latin American, wasn't supposed to be on the varsity squad this fall. He was to be redshirted, because SMU already had two good quarterbacks and he would be needed more next year than now. If needed at all.

Nobody could figure a youngster of his size playing much football in the conference where 6-4, 250-pounders are a way of life.

But Perez not only is an adept passer but he can run around those giant linebackers and ponderous defensive backs.

For instance, in a scrimmage last week Perez completed six of nine passes for 66 yards and two touchdowns and raced 22 yards for a score himself.

"He's great at picking receivers," said Fry. 'His throws appear soft, but they get there. When he finds a receiver he releases the ball quickly."

"He has a hard spiral," chuckles assistant coach Chuck Curtis, who realizes that Fry's quandary is a pleasant one.

So what, if the guy is so small he has to pass between his opponent's legs, so short he can't see over the line to throw in the first place? Results are what count.

They can find a lot of flaws in Perez' quarterbacking. What he can do with the rollout is something to conjecture about. How he can stand up to the pounding of those giant tackles is something else. He doesn't take the snaps like Fry wants it but he takes them.

But Perez has been doing it in high school and junior college football. He led Henderson County Junior College to the Junior Rose Bowl last fall, throwing 16 touchdown passes along the way. He also ran with the ball.

Weary Don Strengthened By $21,000

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — Don January persisted to the bitter end. Even with $21,000 in his sweaty paw for winning the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic all he could say was:

"I'm tired, very tired."

This was where everybody came in.

From the minute he arrived at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club last Wednesday, the somber Texan pleaded exhaustion. He didn't know where he was going to find the strength to lift a club.

Well, he lifted enough of the right ones for a 69-69-69-71-278, and a one-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus, despite two almost unbelievable eagles on the final round Sunday by the Masters and British Open champion.

"I felt all day I could win," January said. "I knew if I lost it I would have to give it away."

Explaining how an exhausted golfer could shoot 10 under par for 72 holes over a tight course that requires finesse, January replied:

"I believe I swing better when I'm tired."

The 36-year-old January, in his 11th year as a touring professional, collected his first winning check since the 1963 Tucson Open.

January was tied with Arnold Palmer for the lead after 54 holes, each with 207. Nicklaus was five strokes back as they teed off for the final 18.

After nine holes of the final round, Nicklaus had charged into the lead by a stroke.

The Columbus belter finished with a 67 for 279 and second place. Palmer, shooting a final-round 74, shared third place with Bob Goalby and Gene Littler at 281. U.S. Open Champion Billy Casper had a 285 and PGA king Al Geiberger a 290.

Canadian pacer Mr. Charmer, racing in New Brunswick last year, went to the post 140 times. He won 22 races.

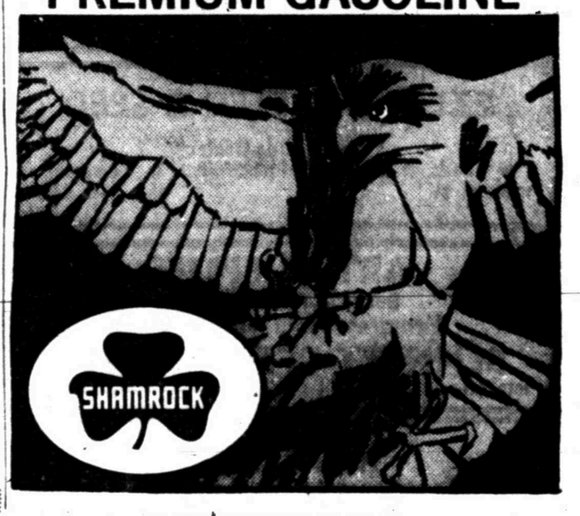

QBC MEETING IS SET FOR TUESDAY

An important meeting of the Quarterback Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria, according to an announcement by J. D. Hinton, president.

Head Coach and Athletic Director Keith Miles will monitor a film of the Odessa Ector-Snyder High School scrimmage and he will "give a rundown" on the team.

A business meeting also will be held in which new officers will be elected for the year.

Davis' Streak Gives Dodgers Timely Lift

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Davis' current hitting splurge may not win the National League batting crown for him, but it could help win the National League pennant for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Davis, who had spring thoughts of winning the batting title, lashed four hits for the second consecutive day as the Dodgers defeated San Francisco 5-2 Sunday and moved to within one game of the league lead.

The loss dropped the Giants into a tie for first with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who defeated St. Louis 5-1 after losing the opener of the doubleheader 3-2.

Davis' homer and three singles extended his streak to eight straight hits before he grounded out in the ninth inning. Since Aug. 6, when he was hitting .268, the 26-year-old lefty has collected 36 hits in 96 at-baths for a lusty .375 mark.

Over-all he's now hitting .289.

Elsewhere in the National League Cincinnati stopped Philadelphia 5-2, Atlanta defeated New York 8-4 and Houston edged Chicago 4-3.

In the American League Boston beat Baltimore 3-2, New York trounced Detroit 8-1, Washington trimmed Cleveland 3-2, Kansas City nipped California 2-1 and Chicago took a marathon doubleheader from Minnesota, 4-3 in 15 innings and 7-6 in 11.

Davis' first-inning homer started 20-game winner Gaylord Perry on the way to his fourth defeat. Jim Lefebvre's fourth-inning homer broke a 1-1 tie, and Davis singled in the seventh before Ron Fairly homered. Don Sutton allowed the Giants only five hits, none between the second and eighth innings.

Roberto Clemente doubled home two runs and scored another on Donn Clendenon's double as the Pirates erupted for four runs in the sixth inning of the nightcap. Bill Mazeroski added a homer in the ninth.

The Cardinals jumped in front in the first inning of the first game as Ted Savage tripled in one run and scored another. Savage got the triple when center fielder Matty Alou misjudged his line drive.

Jim Maloney and Don Nottebart combined for a five-hitter against Philadelphia. Cincinnati battered Larry Jackson for three runs in the first inning and went on to their fifth straight victory. Vada Pinson homered for the Reds in the third.

Homers by Ed Mathews and Rico Carty powered Atlanta past New York. Met errors by Ed Kranepool and Ken Boyer accounted for three more Braves' runs.

John Bateman's single triggered a two-run, fourth-inning rally that sent Houston to its fifth straight triumph. Bateman scored on Randy Hundley's passed ball, and Joe Morgan singled home the second run.

In 1945 there were 600 boys playing Little League ball. In 1965 there were 1,009,630.

Rainy Intermission Valuable To Champs

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Baseball doesn't have a halftime like football but the Houston, Tex., Little League manager made an hour-long rainstorm serve the same purpose.

Houston was trailing West New York, N.J., 2-0, in the Little League World Series championship game Saturday when the rains came in the third inning.

Houston Manager Ray Plumb Jr. took the opportunity to deliver a pep talk. "Everybody got fired up," Steve Reeves, a Houston player, said.

Texas returned to the diamond, loaded the bases and Reeves swatted a single to score two runs. Houston went on to defeat the New Jersey team 8-2 and capture the 1966 championship.

Steve Whitaker Is Living Better

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Whitaker is learning to live with himself but the Detroit Tigers still haven't found a way to live with Whitaker.

Whitaker, finishing his first week in the American League Sunday, slugged a grand-slam homer as the New York Yankees whipped Detroit 8-1, completing a three-game sweep and all but finishing the Tigers as pennant contenders.

The 22-year-old outfielder, brought up from the Yankees' Toledo farm club last Monday, clubbed Tiger pitching for seven hits — including a homer in each game — and drove in seven runs while boosting his seven-game batting mark to .391.

Not long ago, however, Whitaker was battling himself as well as opposing pitchers. "If I had a couple of bad days," he said, "I'd get all nervous and tensed up. I'm a streaky guy. I go good for a while, and then I go bad for a while.

"I've gotten over this problem, though. I don't let a bad day bother me."

Whitaker had enough good days — 30 home runs and a .300 batting average at Toledo and Columbus, Ga., this year — to merit promotion to New York. It appears he is there to stay.

While Whitaker's grand slam and rookie Fritz Peterson's six-hit pitching were taming the Tigers, the Boston Red Sox edged Baltimore 3-2, leaving the Orioles 12½ games in front of runner-up Detroit.

Elsewhere, Kansas City nipped California 2-1; Washington shaded Cleveland 3-2 and Chicago swept a marathon doubleheader from Minnesota, 4-3 in 15 innings and 7-6 in 11.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis divided a National League twin bill the Pirates taking the nightcap 5-1 after bowing 3-2, while Los Angeles trimmed San Francisco 5-2, Atlanta beat New York 8-4, Houston topped Chicago 4-3 and Cincinnati downed Philadelphia 5-2.

Singles by Horace Clarke and Bobby Richardson and an intentional walk to Tom Tresh set the stage for Whitaker's fifth-inning slam into the right-field bleachers. In the sixth, Whitaker again came up with the bases loaded but Detroit reliever Orlando Pena balked a run across and the Yankee rookie then grounded out.

Joe Foy's run-scoring single in the seventh snapped a 2-2 tie and gave the Red Sox their second straight 3-2 decision over Baltimore. Carl Yastrzemski had pulled Boston even in the fifth with an RBI single, chasing Orioles starter Jim Palmer.

Jim Nash, the Athletics' sensational rookie, checked California on six hits for his ninth victory in 10 decisions. Sixth-inning singles by Phil Roof and Larry Stahl delivered Kansas City runs.

The Senators broke a 2-2 deadlock on Jim King's two-out single in the ninth inning and extended their winning string to five games. King's hit scored Willie Kirkland, who had walked and moved up on Bob Saverines's infield single.

Tommie Agee's run-scoring single in the 15th pushed Chicago past the Twins in the opener, ending a four-game losing string for the White Sox, and Jerry Adair won the second game with a lead-off homer in the 11th. Harmon Killebrew homered in each game for the Twins, raising his season total to 30.

Texas Loop In Stretch

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas League drives down its last week with little to indicate it won't wind up as it now stands—Arkansas first, Amarillo second, Albuquerque third and Austin fourth.

The closest race is for second where Amarillo holds only a 2½-game lead over Albuquerque. Amarillo has only nine games to play while Albuquerque has eight.

Austin is 4½ games ahead of fifth place El Paso and seems to have the last playoff spot, although El Paso has won five of its last six games. But Albuquerque has won four of its last six.

Arkansas increased its lead to five games when it beat Amarillo 2-1 Sunday night. Albuquerque edged Austin 10-9 in 13 innings.

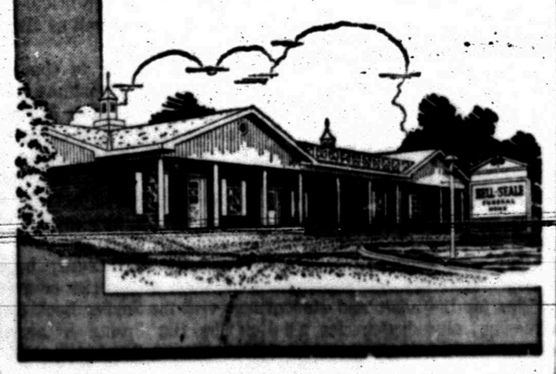

Dallas-Fort Worth dropped back into the cellar when beaten 3-2 by El Paso, the fifth place club.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

Saving Of Lives Is Big Business

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP) — One of the safer places to work is an office that occupies the fourth and fifth floors of a red brick, warehouse-type building at 425 N. Michgan Ave. in Chicago.

It's the GHQ of the National Safety Council. Its 375 employes once went 5½ years without a disabling injury — from March 17, 1958, to Sept. 23, 1963. The organization gave itself its own Award of Honor, a plaque signifying more than three million manhours without an accident that sent anybody home.

The marathon ended when somebody spilled coffee on the floor, a girl slipped on the wet spot and fell. The council, typically, arranged that thereafter coffee would be carried on a tray in a cup capped by a plastic cover.

This safety-conscious team usually is out of the mind of the general public except on holidays — such as the upcoming Labor Day weekend — for which it issues estimates on the number of Americans who will die in traffic accidents.

A few days in advance of such occasions H. Gene Miller, director of statistics, and his aides study trends in fatalities and travel, check recent holiday driver performance and come up with a probable range.

For the three-day July 4 holiday the estimate was 510 to 610. The Associated Press tally was 576, a record for any summer holiday period.

The council is a huge clearing house for information. It applies this accumulated knowledge to current and continuing problems. Much of it is day-in-day-out work. There also are special efforts, such as a recent campaign for seat belts and a forthcoming drive against drinking drivers.

It wasn't drinking drivers but the high loss of life in mills and factories that brought the council into being. The National Council for Industrial Safety, as it was known then, opened headquarters Oct. 13, 1913, in two small rooms in Chicago. It had a staff of two — William H. Cameron, managing director, and a $14-a-week secretary. It had in hand five checks for a total of $1,400. Cameron had a wife and four children.

"I went without salary for three months," he once said. "We lived on nickels and dimes."

The small change must have generated a high energy. The wiry Cameron rode the circuit, preaching the gospel of safety, signing members, raising cash.

Once, when the organization had attained size and solvency, he pinned this notice on the bulletin board:

"Worked all day yesterday. Six o'clock flew to St. Louis. Eight o'clock addressed a banquet. Eleven o'clock flew back to Chicago. In office again at eight. What a wonderful world we live in."

Cameron retired in 1942 after 29 years of lively life saving.

Council policy is set by a 200-member board of directors. Thirteen are employed directly by automobile manufacturers. But the big majority are in safety work, industry, insurance, the government, universities and the professions. Brooks McCormick, executive vice president of International Harvester Co., is chairman.

Howard Pyle, onetime assistant to President Dwight D. Eisenhower and two-term governor of Arizona, now is in his eighth year as president.

The council theorizes that 2.6 million lives have been saved by safety efforts in three of the four fields under the council's scrutiny — work, public and home accidents (the fourth field is motor vehicles accidents) — since its founding. The figure represents the difference between the actual death total and the toll that would have been recorded if accident rates had stayed as high as they were in 1912.

Statistics-keeping was rather lax during the teens and early 20s, but solid comparisons are available for later years.

In 1928 deaths stacked up this way in totals and deaths per 100,000 population: work, 19,000 or 15.8; home, 30,000 or 24.9; public, 21,000 or 17.4.

In 1965 they totaled 14,100 or 7.3 in the work category, 28,000 or 14.4 in homes; and 19,000 or 9.8 in public — a classification that includes recreation but excludes work and motor vehicle fatalities.

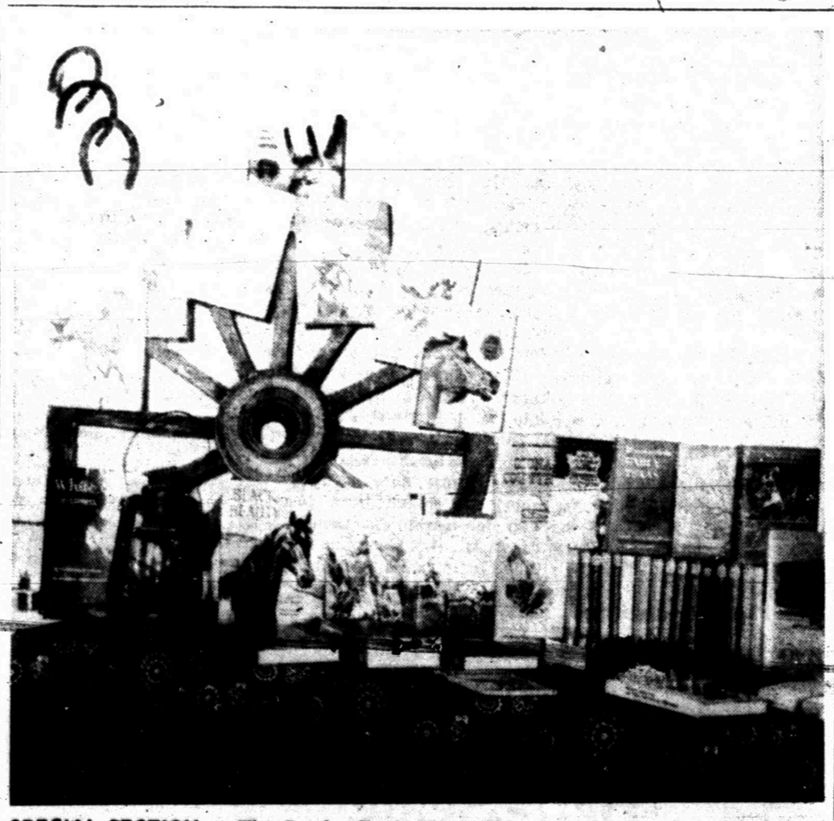

Traffic fatalities in 1928 added up to 28,000 or 23.4 deaths per 100,000 population. In 1965 they totaled 49,000 or 25.3.

But the council contends the number of motor vehicles and the miles they traveled should be taken into consideration. In the period 1928 through 1932 traffic deaths averaged 31,050. There were 38 million drivers and 25.7 million vehicles. They covered 199 billion miles per year. The death rate was 15.6 deaths per 100 million miles of travel.

In 1965 there were a record 49,000 traffic fatalities, 90 million vehicles and 100 million drivers. They traveled a total of 880 billion miles — four times as much mileage as in the earlier period — and the death rate was 5.6 per 100 million miles of travel.

Local and state safety councils number 300. The national council has 9,000 members — companies, organizations, individuals, civic and labor groups, schools and insurance firms. They pay dues on a sliding scale, depending on size. The spread is $5.50 to $2,200 — for a company employing more than 200,000 persons.

Dues, sale of services, publications and advertising, and contributions and grants bring in about $7 million a year. About $250,000 of that comes from automotive and related industries. The largest sources are corporations highly interested in safety.

SPECIAL SECTION — The Snyder Book Store, 3904 Avenue S on the Big Spring Highway, has a special section of authentic Western books that are filled with the history and recollections of Texas and the Great Southwest. The Snyder Book Store also has books for every person, regardless of his interests or age.

Snyder Book Store Offers Customers Varied Choices

'It's the most attractive and beautiful book store I have ever seen" is the exclamation of many who for the first time visit the Snyder Book Store located on the Big Spring Highway—3904 Avenue S. Others remark about the wide, varied and excellent selection of books available. Many customers of the store from Lubbock, Midland, Dallas and from out of state compliment the store highly and are amazed that Snyder has such an attractive store with the large selection of choice books that it has.

Mrs. Roy McCloskey, owner of the store, realized that this area had need for this type of store, and about a year ago she opened the store with a limited stock. As the demand developed she expanded her selections, trying continually to provide a service to the citizens of this area. She is constantly alert to improve the store and selections available in order to provide even better service.

Currently she is expanding the Authentic Western Book section with additional titles relating especially to history and recollections of Texas and The Great Southwest. This increased emphasis is the result of interest shown by customers and tourists from other parts of the country. The addition of this section, amidst Western decor, is just another service provided by the Snyder Book Store to make it a complete book store for all book needs.

A selective supply of well known Bibles, commentaries and inspirationals are available, along with children's books, a large selection of paperback titles for the adult and student reading, plus dictionaries and other study helps.

Many beautiful gift additions are on hand for gift memorials to libraries and to families who have lost a loved one. These books also make excellent gifts to those who are confined in the hospital or at home.

The store also has a complete line of bride's books, invitations, thank you notes and many small items necessary for bridal teas and weddings, as well as albums for every use.

You are invited to come by and select your Christmas greetings from the Distinct Norcross Greeting Cards. Your cards will be personalized and ready for Christmas mailing. Christmas cards designed especially for men in the military service will be available soon.

Whatever your need; books, gifts, book accessories or greetings visit the Snyder Book Store on the Big Spring Highway—3904 Avenue S or phone HI 3-4868.

Brutality Charges Keep Police Busy

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Two policemen seized a bare-chested heckler in the all-white Chicago Lawn community, rushed him to a patrol wagon and boosted him inside. The white crowd shouted: "Brutality."

Twenty-four days earlier police shut off a gushing fire hydrant in a West Side Negro neighborhood and arrested eight persons, an incident that kindled three nights of rioting. The Negro crowd shouted: "Brutality."

Lt. John Harris, commander of the Excessive Force Unit of the Police Department's Internal Investigations Division, has 14 sergeants—8 Negro and 6 white — who check into reports of brutality.

Supt. O.W. Wilson set up the unit May 10, 1965, for that specific purpose.

In the first year, Harris said in an interview, the agency received 687 complaints. The allegations, he said, were sustained in 29 of them and all the officers were penalized.

Penalties vary according to the nature of the offense. They range from working on a day off to a 30-day suspension to dismissal. If a violation of a law is involved, the case goes to the state's attorney.

This summer — from June 12 to Aug. 25 — the unit received 192 cases, including about 35 from the areas of the West Side riots and the scattered civil rights demonstrations.

Harris said inquiries have been finished in 49 of them, with this score:

In 39, "a thorough investigation reveals no substance to allegations."

In 10, the charges were "not sustained."

That clause, Harris explained, means "there wasn't enough evidence to prove or disprove the allegations."

"That doesn't mean it didn't happen," he added.

In some instances, he went on, witnesses wouldn't cooperate or the complainants cooled off.

Investigation hasn't been completed in the other 143 cases.

The unit receives most of its complaints by telephone, some from anonymous callers. They usually say some citizen was pushed, struck, clubbed with a club or had his arms twisted while being handcuffed.

"Ninety-five per cent of the complaints are linked to cases in which people are arrested and they resist arrest," Lt. Harris said. "Then the officer has to use force to overcome resistance."

The arrests among hecklers of the civil rights marchers in July and August were mostly based on charges of disobeying police orders to move along or stay back from the parade path, failure to disperse when so directed and disorderly conduct.

East German Guard Escapes To West

BRAUNSCHWEIG, Germany (AP) — A 22-year-old East German border guard got a 12-hour pass Sunday and used his temporary freedom to escape to the West Sunday night, border officials reported.

Two boys, 16 and 18, also fled to freedom Sunday from Communist East Germany, the officials said.

Crash Near Milan Kills Six Persons

LODI, Italy (AP) — Six persons were killed and 24 injured today in the collision of a commuter bus and a truck on a country road between Cremona and Milan.

Many of the injured were reported in serious condition. The two men in the truck were not hurt.

Far West Texas Rains 'Surplus'

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Rains swooped across the state during the past week and parts of usually dry far West Texas termed its moisture "surplus."

The "surplus" washed away crops and flooded irrigated farm lands in the Dell City area.

John Hutchison, Texas Agriculture Extension Service director, said that as result of the widespread rains, the state's overall moisture situation is mostly good, although a few areas are still dry.

He said heavy rains in far West and Central West Texas have greened up crops and pastures and stockmen are thinking less about early fall feeding.

Here are mid-week reports from district farm agents:

Panhandle moisture is improved but a trifle short in some counties. Grain sorghum is ripening, with the dryland crop much improved and the irrigated crop in fine shape. Cotton is thriving, although there is a little bug and hail damage. Potatoes, onions and carrots look good. The market is up on potatoes and down on onions and carrots. Livestock conditions are normal. Ranges are improved. Rain that fell in the Lubbock area helped dryland crops. Dryland cotton looks fair to good. Castor beans, sugar beets and soybeans are making excellent progress, and sorghum harvesting is starting. All potatoes and most onions are harvested.

The Vernon area had widespread rains, but more are needed. Cotton is fruiting. Boll weevil and bollworm infestations range from light to heavy. Hay baling is under way. Soybeans are fair. Ranges are fair to good. Stock water is low in a few counties.

Beneficial rains fell in North Central Texas although three counties report moisture shortage. Cotton is opening, and a few counties have ginned first bales. Sorghum harvesting is active with good yields. Ranges are improving, and livestock are in good condition.

In Northeast Texas, the crop outlook is much better after the rains. There is some buildup in weevils and bollworms in cotton. Prospects are good for soybeans and a late vegetable crop. Pastures are generally adequate.

Moisture conditions vary from short to surplus in Far West Texas. Ranges and dryland crops are doing well where rain fell. Sorghum is being harvested and cotton is progressing. Pink bollworm infestations are heavy from the Pecos River to El Paso. Livestock are generally good, with lambs and calves being shipped to market.

Pastures have greened up, and another general rain would provide good grass for winter in West Central Texas. Stock water supplies are improved. Cotton is fruiting nicely, and the sorghum harvest is under way with light yields. Plowing has started for seeding small grains.

Only Williamson County is short of moisture in Central Texas. Forty percent of the cotton crop is open. There is considerable defoliation in Williamson County. The sorghum harvest is more than 80 per cent complete. The pecan crop is short. Ranges are average or above.

Overall moisture is adequate in East Texas but short in Polk and Walker Counties. Cotton is blooming and some has been baled. Corn is producing fair to good yields. Hay prospects are good. Pastures are average and above. Livestock are in fair to good condition and the market is steady to strong.

Moisture was short in South Central Texas at midweek and ranges were dry and brown. Livestock are holding up, and the sunny skies are fine for cotton and corn harvesting. There is some pecan shedding.

The upper Gulf Coast benefitted from rains. A few counties report light cotton yields. Rice harvesting is in full swing. Pastures and cattle are in good shape.

Rio Grande Valley moisture is short to adequate. The cotton harvest is peaking, while the sorghum harvest is about complete. Citrus is in good condition, and vegetables are being planted. Livestock are in fair to good condition, and pastures are average to above. Some labor shortages are reported.

Predicts Increase In Hospital Fees

CHICAGO (AP)—The costs of medicare and pending federal minimum-wage legislation may cause the nation's hospitals to raise fees 20 to 25 per cent within a year, the president of the American Hospital Association said today.

Dr. Phillip D. Bonnet, the AHA's outgoing president, made the remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the association's 68th national convention.

He noted that a minimum wage law would affect hospitals for the first time.

Strike Brings Jam In Terminals

OTTAWA (AP) — Thousands of Canadians jammed bus and air terminals over the weekend as the government prepared legislation to get the nation's railroads running again.

Virtually all rail service halted Friday as 118,000 employes struck for higher wages. Seeking an average increase of 30 per cent, they rejected an 18 per cent increase over two years.

Parliament was to meet this afternoon to receive two government bills. Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said one would be designed to get the strikers back to work.

The other, described as a massive transportation bill, is expected to ease a seven-year freeze on freight rates and permit the railroads to drop some uneconmical routes.

Mediation talks, which broke off Friday, were expected to resume after both sides have studied the government measures.

The strike was expected to force large-scale layoffs, shortages and price increases if it lasted more than a few more days.

J. O. Goodman, general manager of the Ontario Automotive Transport Association, appealed to shippers Sunday to send only essential goods.

"We've got to move the perishables first," he said.

Off-duty and vacationing truck drivers returned to work and every available tractor-trailer was being pressed into sevice, he said.

Airlines and busses added extra runs to help transport the 70,000 persons who normally ride the rails daily.

The strikers, belonging to 17 unions, earn an average of about $2.32 an hour.

Secretary-General Thant To Disclose Vital Decision

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant will disclose Thursday a decision that can influence for years the course of events in the United Nations and much of the world.

The unassuming Burmese will send a letter to the 117 member nations saying whether he will take a second term as U.N. secretary-general. His current 5-year term ends Nov. 3.

Some among the diplomats, officials and correspondents at this headquarters are predicting Thant will bow out. Others seem as positive that he will stay. Many believe he first will announced that he wants to leave but that the Security Council will recommend him for another term — and that he finally will agree to stay a year and a half or two years.

Thant is 57 and is eligible to retire on pension at $13,750 a year. As secretary-general he gets a car and $65,000 a year in salary and allowances.

If Thant stays, he will keep trying to bring pressure for a settlement in Viet Nam, and to find a solid financial basis for U.N. peacekeeping work and for more money from the rich countries to build up the poor countries.

If he leaves, there will follow first a period of negotiation among the big powers and others to settle upon a successor and, after that, a pause in the activity of the secretary-general while the new man gets his feet on the ground and develops his own style.

The charter makes the secretary-general the U.N. chief administrative officer. He can lay before the Security Council any matter which in his opinion may threaten international peace.

Sometimes the secretary-general has acted on his own or at the request of interested governments to help settle conflicts. Thant won points in the Cuban missile crisis and the West Irian dispute. He failed in the Yemen fighting and on the confrontation of Indonesia against Malaysia, now ended otherwise.

He is the third man to be secretary-general, after Trygve Lie of Norway and Dag Hammasrskjold of Sweden. He had been Burma's U.N. ambassador for four years when Hammarskjold died in a plane crash Sept. 17, 1961, on a peace mission in Africa.

That Nov. 3, the council and the General Assembly unanimously chose Thant acting secretary-general to serve out Hammarskjold's term, to April 10, 1963. On Nov. 30, 1962, they unanimously named him secretary-general for the rest of a normal term running to Nov. 3, 1966.

He need only say the word to get a second term. The presidents of the United States and France, the prime ministers of the Soviet Union and Britain and the African and Asian groups — 61 of the 117 U.N. members — have urged him to continue.

Both publicly and privately, he has talked as if he meant to leave. He has said that being secretary-general is a killing job, that he wants to spend more time with his family, that Burmese like to go back to Burma and that he is disappointed in some of the main objectives he had set for his first term; namely, to ease world tensions, get the Americans and Russians together and put U.N. peacekeeping on a sound financial basis.

Before the budget advisory committee in June, he spoke as if he meant to stay. He said he finally had got a grasp of the U.N. financial picture and had some ideas to try out.

But in Geneva last month he said that while he had not made up his mind definitely, "I have expressed my desire to be relieved of my duties at the end of my term."

Because of a big-power dispute over how to finance peacekeeping, Thant has had to keep begging members to give money for the U.S. force in Cyprus.

The Soviet Union still owes roughly $70 million and France roughly $20 million, through this year, in disputed General Assembly assessments for peacekeeping and other purposes. Neither has made its promised voluntary contribution to help cover the resultant deficit.

As to the development decade, Thant's own appraisal at its midpoint showed that the developing countries, far from advancing toward a goal of an economic growth rate of 5 per cent yearly, had slipped backward. Another U.N. study brought out that the capital flow to such countries from the developed market economies was lower in 1964 than in 1961.

When it came to Viet Nam, North and South seemed bent on war to the finish. The United States paid scant attention to Thant's peace proposals. Red China accused him of promoting a "peace talks fraud" for the Americans. The Soviet Union refused a try for a new Geneva peace conference.

Blaze Damages Fort Worth Buildings

FORT WORTH (AP)—Fire swept through two three-story buildings in downtown Fort Worth Sunday, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

The damage estimate was unofficial, said H. A. Owens, fire chief.

Five firemen narrowly escaped injury when a balcony over the first floor of one of the buildings crumbled and fell during the early minutes of the two-hour blaze.

Englers Shoe Store was destroyed and an adjacent building, housing Luskeys Western Store, was heavily damaged, Owens said. Three other structures suffered smoke damage.

About 50 firemen battled the blaze as heavy smoke filled the downtown area.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How does a person go about getting her name changed legally? I am taking an awful ribbing.

VIRGINIA WOOLF

DEAR VIRGINIA: If you're single you could get married. If you're married, you could get divorced and ask the court to give you back your maiden name. But it's hardly worth it. What's in a name? Just don't answer when somebody cries, "WOLF!"

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I cannot keep my mind on my work. All I can think of is that letter you published from a soldier who is returning home from Viet Nam, asking you what to do about a wife who refused to go with him to his new tour of duty.

Abby, how I wish I could spend just one hour with that wife. Maybe if she experienced the following she would change her mind:

(1) Having a government car pull up in front of her house, bearing two men who have come to tell her that her husband had been killed in action.

(2) Hearing the taps played for the last time, and feeling each note tear up every dream she ever had.

(3) Having the last letters she sent to her husband returned to her, marked UNCLAIMED.

I could tell her how it feels because I have just experienced all these things. I am not bitter. I just thank God that I had a chance to bring a little love into his life.

If I were that soldier's wife I would be waiting at the station with my bags packed, ready to follow him to the ends of the earth. But first, I would take his hand and lead him to the nearest chapel where I would kneel and thank God for sparing his life. And I would thank Him every day from that day forward.

I hope you publish this letter and that soldier's wife reads it. She is the richest woman alive.

GOING ON ALONE

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A cousin of mine who lives in another town is being married and I received an invitation to her wedding. This cousin told me I could bring my boy friend. I asked him and he said he wouldn't go unless he received a mailed invitation. Abby, my cousin has only seen him once or twice, and she hardly knows him. I doubt if she even knows his last name.

I think my boy friend is being very srubborn and silly to insist on a mailed invitation under these circumstances! What should I do?

A COUSIN

DEAR COUSIN: In less time than it took you to write to me, you could have written your cousin a postcard, telling her your boy friend's name and address, and requesting that she send him an invitation. If you want your boy friend to accompany you, do it. (P. S.. He sounds pretty square to be so "formal.")

Heart Patient Grows Strong

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Regaining strength each day, a woman whose heart was helped for several days with an artificial pump, spent another day out of bed visiting with relatives Sunday.

Esperanza del Valle Vasquez, 37, Mexico City beauty parlor operator, who underwent surgery for the temporary heart help Aug. 8, has been able to take short unassisted strolls for several days at Methodist Hospital.

Hospital advisories said she continues to recuperate without complications.

The artificial pump, called a left ventricular bypass, was removed after 10 days when physicians determined her natural heart had healed and no longer needed the assistance of the pump.

Pair Escape To Austria

EISENSTADT, Austria (AP) Two Hungarian refugees hedgehopped a light sports plane across the Iron Curtain border today in a pre-dawn escape to neighboring Austria.

After landing at a deserted airstrip near here, the pair, a 28-year-old licensed sports pilot and a 26-year-old mechanic, told police they had plotted the escape for more than a year.

Sunday night they stole a single-engine training plane at the airport of Duriajvaros for the 150-mile escape, flying a few feet above ground to avoid the Communist radar screen.

The refugees, whose names were withheld by authorities, asked for political asylum in Austria. The plane will be returned to Hungary.

Swastikas Appear In Italian City

PARMA, Italy (AP)—Chalked swastikas and slogans praising Hitler and fascism were found today scribbled on the walls of public parks in this north Italian city.

Police erased them and began an investigation to find who was responsible.
