Campus fixup at elementaries given go-ahead

Snyder school trustees opted for an alternate bid package Tuesday related to renovation work planned this summer at four Snyder elementaries.

The low bid estimate was awarded to Williams Construction Co. of Snyder. The total cost figure was $184,868.

The work planned includes lowering ceilings, replacing light fixtures and enclosing windows at North, East and West Elementaries; enlarging the library at East; and renovation of cafeterias at Central, North, East and West.

Trustees had the option of not including the cafeteria work at North, East and West Elementaries — work covered under the alternate bid item.

Two other bids were submitted, from T.E. Shelburne & Sons, estimating a $174,335 base bid and a $20,829 alternate bid; and Wardroup & Associates, Lubbock, estimating a $209,673 base bid and a $21,300 alternate.

In other school business, the board voted to:

—Employ for another school year 22 school staffers who have completed the first year of a two-year probationary period. Staffers affected include Bobbie Anderson, M.P. Bateman, Julia Brown, Barbara Chrane, Leo Comer, Sue Cullers, Kenneth Gibson, Calyn Glaves, Roger Goodwin, Billy Haynes, Blane Hinton, Kay Hopper, Nancy Jones, Ruth McClurg, Barbara Moore, Rodney Parker, Mary Ann Reeves, Susan Stowe, Mary Ann Taylor, Vanessa Taylor, Steve Tyler and Ann Uptergrove.

—Employ 15 school staffers who have completed the second year of the same two-year probationary period, changing their status to a non-probationary term. Staffers affected include Patricia Byerly, Mildred Davis, Angelique Duncan, Linda Gartman, Randy Gillum, Brenda Goldsmith, Rickey Howell, Wanda Hudgins, Becki Lewis, Andrea Mason, Kathy Moore, Ned Moore, Virginia Quentila, Kellye Starnes and Marla Sterling.

—Accept the resignations of three professional staff members, Peggy Kennedy, Elaine McDaniel and Ronald Rohan.

—Deny a request from Barbara Perkins, junior high choir director, who had broached the possibili-

Class of '84 honor grads told Tuesday

Guy Staton was named valedictorian and Susan Brim the salutatorian of the Snyder High School Class of 1984 Tuesday.

The announcement highlighted the annual SHS Awards Assembly conducted in Worsham Auditorium.

The Top 10 ranking students in each class were recognized also along with outstanding students in each of the school's departments.

Staton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Staton, will graduate with a four year cumulative average of 4.7541. Brim, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brim, earned a 4.7241 for her four years of high school.

Other top seniors for the year — in order of class ranking — were Laurie Donelson, Marika Sitton, Denise Davis, David Etheredge, Teresa Waller, Allen Fox, Tonya Neblett and Kathy Rhodes.

The top ten ranking juniors were Shana Hart, Sonya Adams, Phyllis Whitfill, Sue Smylie, Dedra Crawford, Janetta Pylant, Michael McCravey, Chelle Krueger, Becky Gray and David Jackson.

Gambol given international service honor

Representatives of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission and local law enforcement officers gathered Tuesday to honor longtime Snyder Game Warden Howard (Rue) Gambol.

Gambol, who suffered a stroke last year, was given the Shikar Safari Award for Texas Conservation Officer of the Year.

It is presented each year by the Safari International Club to honor a conservation officer in each state. The award is to recognize outstanding work in the field of game and wildlife conservation and preservation.

Making the presentation Tuesday were Curtis Jones and Weldon Fromm, district and regional Parks and Wildlife law enforcement supervisors for the Snyder area.

The award was originally announced at the Parks and Wildlife Commission's April meeting in Austin with Fromm accepting on behalf of Gambol.

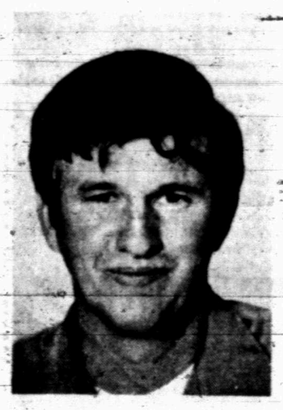

Also on hand for the presentation was David Palmer, former Snyder area game warden and now State Director of Field Operations for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The Safari Award came in conjunction with Gambol's retirement from the Parks and Wildlife Commission following 16 years of service, mostly in the Snyder area.

Gambol began work as a game warden in 1968 and spent the past 12 years stationed in Scurry County.

The Parks and Wildlife officials also presented him with a plaque commemorating his 16 years of Criticism aimed at food service

An agenda item related to the one-year contract extension for Greyhound Foodservices — the business which contracts to provide cafeteria meals for Snyder ISD — provided a forum Tuesday for criticism regarding the service.

The net result was a renewal of the contract for one year, but with a direction from school board members that school administrators "try harder to work out these problems."

Superintendent Bill J. Hood noted to the board that he had set in on a similar session Tuesday afternoon involving the food service and faculty members.

Hood had recommended for the contract extension, and noted to the board Tuesday, "When we (the school district) were running the service, we had the same complaints.

But board members questioned if some of the "problems" shouldn't have been worked out "by now" since Greyhound has

Last week some 400 residents in East Snyder were without electricity. Texas Electric officials blamed the power outage Friday on a squirrel who apparently crawled into a transformer bank.

The following day, TESCO representative Phil Fortune failed to show up at the coffee shop. We then remembered reading the report about the outage that blamed the squirrel. Someone then asked why Fortune wasn't mentioned by name.

It is said that bureaucrats in Washington are praising the arrival of spring there. The Wall Street Journal reports that squirrels are searching for nuts which has a lot of Washington folks nervous.

In the post office Monday we overheard a mother of a teenage daughter telling a friend that she had found the daughter a full-time job for the summer.

"That's great," said the friend. "What's the job?"

"She going to clean up her room."

President Reagan had better travel arrangements when he recently visited China than did Bev King of Graham.

The Graham rancher-banker, like Reagan, was scheduled to visit the Great Wall of China. Their guide told them that if they missed their bus, they would just wait for the next one.

"How long ?" King inquired.

The guide said it'd be along in 2½ weeks.

Ask Us

Q. — Was the city required to pay the salaries of police officers used as security personnel during the change in ownership at American State Bank?

A. — No. The FDIC paid for the service, which ended at 8 a.m. Monday. The charge was the normal one asked when off-duty police officers are used. The fee will be paid to the city and then reimbursed to officers in their respective paychecks.

Sniper wounds 2 in Quebec

QUEBEC (AP) — A sniper dressed in a military uniform wounded two people today, Canadian Press reported, a day after an army corporal killed three people and wounded 13 with submachine gun fire in Quebec's legislative chamber.

The sniper escaped, police said. The snipings occurred on the Charest Boulevard in the commercial Saint-Roch district.

There was no immediate indication that the sniper attack was connected with Tuesday's shooting in the provincial legislature.

Applicants to be considered

Snyder school board members will discuss applicants for the position of Snyder school superintendent Wednesday.

The board has planned first a 6 p.m. meal, then it expects to go into executive session at 8:30 p.m. in the board room at the school administration building.

Youth found after search

A more than two-hour search for a missing Snyder youth ended happily Wednesday after the boy was found to be still inside a local school building.

Officers were called to West Elementary at 4:27 p.m. after a 12-year-old student had failed to return home from school.

Officers were told that the boy had last been seen talking to some unidentified men driving a dark blue car in the vicinity of the school. Area law enforcement agencies were notified and a local search begun.

Around 6:49 p.m., a school staffer returned to West and discovered the missing youngster had apparently been inadvertently locked in a restroom at the school.

Wreck victim still critical

Sixty-year-old Henry Landrum of Fluvanna remained in critical condition Wednesday morning suffering from injuries sustained in a one-vehicle traffic accident north of Snyder early Tuesday.

Landrum was transferred from Cogdell Memorial Hospital to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital Tuesday afternoon. He was listed in critical condition there Wednesday.

Planetarium slates shows

The Western Texas College planetarium has scheduled matinee showings on May 13 and 27, Steven Kennedy, planetarium operator, said.

The show is titled "May Sky Watch" and will begin at 2 p.m. each afternoon. The Sunday afternoon shows will be continued during the summer if there is sufficient interest.

Powderpuff football Friday

The annual spring Powerpuff football game played by Snyder High School senior girls is planned Friday at Tiger Stadium.

The game will begin at 6 p.m. with senior boys serving as cheerleaders.

An admission fee of $1 is asked. Money will go towards senior activities planned between now and the end of school.

A concession stand will be operated also by senior parents. Carol Davis, who is in charge of this effort, asked that food be brought to the stand by 5 p.m. Friday.

In addition Friday, the senior boys will stage a volleyball game at 2:15 p.m. at the high school gymnasium. A 25 cent admission fee will be asked.

Curriculum meeting slated

Interested parents and students are invited to attend a meeting 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Hermleigh Schools to discuss new curriculum changes which will affect students.

Teen gets life sentence for death of attorney

HOUSTON (AP) — A teen-ager convicted of capital murder in the robbery-murder of a prominent Houston attorney was sentenced to life in prison because jurors said they did not believe the killing was deliberate.

An eight-man, four-woman jury took 90 minutes Tuesday before deciding that Rodney Wayne Davis deserved to spend the rest of his life in prison rather than to die by a deadly combination of drugs.

Davis, 18, was convicted last week in the May 10, 1983, shooting death of Sam Lucas Jr.

Lucas, 63, was killed in the parking lot of a fashionable restaurant, where he and his wife, Burdine, had gone to eat. Testimony at the trial indicated Davis accosted the couple as they were going into the restaurant and forced them back into the car.

Mrs. Lucas was robbed of her jewelry and Lucas was shot so close that Mrs. Lucas had powder burns on her face, according to testimony.

Defense attorneys John Keirnan and J. Philip Scardino said the shooting occurred as Lucas was hiding his watch under the front seat of the car, making Davis think the victim was reaching for a gun.

However, prosecutors Eric Hagstette and Rusty Hardin argued that Davis' action was deliberate.

In reaching a decision on the sentence, jurors ruled that Lucas' death was not deliberate. They did agree that Davis posed a continuing threat to society and that the defendant's conduct was unreasonable.

Since Davis used a deadly weapon, he will not be eligible for parole for 20 years.

In final arguments, Keirnan told jurors that the killing occurred in a moment of panic.

THE PORTRAIT PLACE

Paul Harvey

I am haunted today and will be for a while by the new numbers developed at the University of California: School-agers are killing themselves 14 a day.

And five times that many try.

A lot of it is drugs.

David Kennedy had been killing himself for years.

Researcher Dennis Tolsma of the National Centers for Disease Control affirms that "young people on drugs kill themselves at a higher rate."

Yet that is not the whole explanation.

Drug use is higher among hispanics yet their suicide rate is 20 percent lower.

Then there are the Rod Davids.

There was not a more successful nor more admired young man in Tucumcari, N.M., than Rod. Six-foot-three, 205 pound athlete. Leading point getter at the last Triple-A state track meet. Defensive high school football player of the year and a top college prospect. And a basketball star.

Yet he turned a shotgun on himself and ended his promising life in its eighteenth year.

In so many instances, suicide just does not compute.

Among the young, suicide has become the No. 3 cause of death and is fast becoming No. 1, with a 40 percent increase in the past eight years.

Maybe there's something we can learn from the fact that more boys than girls kill themsleves; 4-to-1 more.

Maybe there's something we can learn from Quebec's experience where the suicide rate has doubled in 10 years and the Canadian Mental Health Associaton believes the suicide rate has increased in direct proportion to decreased reverence for the Church.

Maybe.

But I keep remembering handsome Rod David did not smoke, did not drink; the strongest drug he ever took was an aspirin and almost never those. And he was a regular in church.

His football coach, Van Pryor, is profoundly grieved and utterly baffled.

"Rod had it all, yet for some reason it wasn't enough."

So pandemic has suicide become that British author Derek Humphry says it should be "legalized." He has published a do-it-yourself book on the subject including "chemical recipes for gentle death."

Macabre!

Some sociologists want to blame unemployment.

National Institute for Mental Health numbers disprove that.

Twice as many black youths are unemployed, though twice as many whites kill themselves.

Rod David and all the Rod Davids are trying to tell us something; I wish I knew what.

Weather and arthritis

ATLANTA (AP) — Changes in the weather can affect some symptoms of arthritis, according to the Arthritis Foundation.

It says people with inflammatory types of arthritis, such as rheumatoid arthritis and bursitis, often feel worse when the humidity increases and the barometric pressure drops. The drop in pressure can cause flare-ups of pain which last from a few hours to a few days.

In some individuals, the pain may begin up to two days before a change in the weather. Usually, the symptoms are reduced considerably when the weather conditions return to normal.

South stretched his bid to the limit when he jumped to three diamonds. He wanted to pass three spades but had to bid four, since his three-diamond bid had forced to game. Of course the hand would have been a cinch if the heart king had been a winner, but the defense started by leading the queen of hearts and winning the first two tricks. Then the defense shifted to a trump.

South took his ace and felt that he was caught between a rock and a hard place. Clubs couldn't be set up successfully, so he needed three diamond tricks. With the king onside and with a 3-3 break, he was home. Now South found an extra chance. It wasn't much of a chance, but he took it. He led a low diamond from his hand. East won with the nine and led a second trump. South won the trump, led a club to dummy's ace and successfully finessed his queen of diamonds.

Now the second chance came into existence. South cashed his ace of diamonds, but West was out of trumps and could not ruff. Now the fourth diamond was ruffed in dummy and only winners were left in South's hand.

Note that South had jeopardized nothing by his play.

Hart's bid stays alive with Ohio, Indiana wins

By Donald M. Rothberg
AP Political Writer

Victories in the industrial states of Ohio and Indiana have blown new fire into Sen. Gary Hart's faltering presidential candidacy, offsetting Walter F. Mondale's wins in Maryland and North Carolina and guaranteeing the nomination struggle will continue through the final primaries and possibly onto the convention floor.

"The Democrats of this nation are not prepared to have this contest and this debate end at this time," a jubilant Hart told supporters Tuesday night.

Mondale, appearing tired, subdued and clearly disappointed, told reporters, "I am confident as the debate goes forward that I will get the delegates that I need to be the nominee."

But he conceded there is "a good chance" the fight for the nomination will continue to the Democratic National Convention next July in San Francisco.

While Hart got the industrial state victories he needed to keep his candidacy alive, Mondale added to his formidable lead in delegates.

Hart planned to rest today and then fly to Nebraska tonight. Mondale was planning to fly to the West Coast with an intermediate stop in Nebraska later in the week. The Rev. Jesse Jackson was in Washington to address the American Society of Newspaper Editors and planned a campaign stop in Nebraska Friday night.

Nebraska and Oregon hold primaries next Tuesday, and Idaho Democrats will have caucuses on May 24. But the climactic day in the Democratic campaign is June 5 when California, New Jersey, New Mexico, South Dakota and West Virginia have primaries.

The big prize that day is California with 345 delegates, and that is where the three contenders were likely to spend most of their time.

"I'm going to campaign very heavily on the issues that concern Californians," said Mondale.

Hart, who hadn't won a primary since Connecticut on March 27, suddenly had a chance to put together a winning streak. Hart swamped Mondale in caucuses Monday in his home state of Colorado, he is favored to carry Oregon's primary, and he scheduled the next several days campaigning in Nebraska.

But Mondale's big wins in Maryland and North Carolina more than offset Hart's delegate gains in his narrow victories in Indiana and Ohio. The former vice president picked up 186 delegates in the four states compared to 139 for Hart and 42 for Jackson.

Mondale now has 1,446.05 delegates, Hart has 874.75, and Jackson 279.2. With about 800 delegates left to be allocated in the remaining primaries, Mondale needs 521 to reach the 1,967 needed for a convention majority. Mondale will get at least 100 delegates from Texas, where the allocation from last Saturday's caucuses has not yet been determined.

"Walter Mondale is clearly the front-runner and clearly the electorate has turned away from him," said Oliver Henkel, Hart's campaign manager.

Constant dizziness

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm constantly dizzy when I try to stand or walk. My doctor told me I had a viral infection of the balance system in my right ear. He said there was no antibiotic to clear it up and that in time it would clear itself up.

I've had this problem for six weeks. Please give me your advice on how to best treat this condition.

DEAR READER — There are many causes for dizziness. It's important to separate whether you mean problems in balance and sense of motion, or if you mean faintness.

The balance, body position sense and sense of motion are affected by the little balance canals in your inner ear. These are the semi-circular canals set at right angles to each other and full of fluid. As your head moves, the fluid shifts. The shifting fluid stimulates the endings of nerve fibers that relay signals through the auditory nerve to the brain to tell the brain what position your head is in.

These can become inflamed, commonly by a virus infection. Since the canals are called the labyrinth, the inflamed state is called labyrinthitis. This can be a complication of such common viral illnesses as the flu.

Since there are no effective medicines to treat most viruses, including the common cold, it follows that there's little that can be done except wait for the infection to disappear and the injured tissues to recover. Unfortunately, with toxic labyrinthitis it may take several months for a complete recovery.

Since aspirin can cause a drug-induced labyrinthitis, it's not a good idea to use aspirin or medicine containing aspirin when you have this problem.

The various causes for balance problems are discussed in the Health Letter 9-10, Dizziness and Vertigo, which I'm sending you at your request. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Unlike many other balance disorders, toxic labyrinthitis isn't associated with ear noises or hearing problems.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have normal blood pressure while sitting or lying down, but when I stand it falls, sometimes quite rapidly, and I become lightheaded and wobbly. It's gone as low as 60. As soon as I sit down I feel fine.

The doctors are puzzled by this condition, which comes and goes. I'm in my 60s. Is it normal for blood pressure to be lower when you're on your feet?

DEAR READER — A slight decrease in pressure may be all right, but a significant fall isn't. Your symptoms are those of an impending faint, which is usually caused by not getting enough blood to the brain.

There are several mechanisms that may be involved. You may have a slowing of your heart or a decreased ability of your heart to pump enough blood to maintain your pressure. You could have excessive pooling of blood in the large veins in your legs, or you could have a failure of the normal closure of the arteries in your legs that should occur when you stand.

Pressure bandages or stockings help to prevent some of these problems. You might want to see a neurologist to see if there are some underlying reasons for your symptoms.

Soviet pullout increases tickets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Soviet withdrawal from the Olympics will increase the number of tickets available for the Summer Games, a ticket agency owner said.

The absence of the Soviet team will free some tickets being held "for Soviet ticket holders who were coming over," Larry Gold, owner of the Ticket Time agency in Culver City, said Tuesday.

Demand for tickets also is expected to slacken because "less people who are fanatics about seeing the classic match-up between the U.S. and Russia will want to come," Gold said. "But the key events will remain popular among the average Olympic fans and more accessible to them."

He also predicted cheaper ticket prices.

Drama pupils earn awards at the college

Outstanding theatre students at Western Texas College were honored Saturday night at the Delta Psi Omega banquet.

Delta Psi Omega is a campus organization for drama students. The awards were made on the basis of votes by students involved in the theatre department.

E. J. BERGERON

In addition to the awards to students, a special "angel patron" award was presented to Dr. and Mrs. Ben Brock in recognition of their support of the theatre department.

Named best actor was Bill Kelley from Roscoe, while best actress was Lorie Grandclair from Sweetwater. Kelley was recognized for his portrayal of varied characters in "Story Theatre" while Grandclair's award was for the role Myra Bruhl in "Deathtrap."

Named best supporting actor was Duncan Joys of Lubbock who appeard as Charles Lomax in "Major Barbara," while Teri Duval of O'Donnell was named best supporting actress for her portrayal of Helga ten Dorp in "Deathtrap."

Kevin Huddleston of Ira received the best actor in a minor role for his Pete Shirley in "Major Barbara," and Martha Hargrove of Rotan was best actress in a minor role for her Jenny Hill in "Major Barbara."

Robert Loveless of Snyder received the technical award for the set he designed for "Deathtrap."

Jim Rambo is faculty sponsor for Delta Psi Omega.

E. J. Bergeron retires from Texaco USA

E. J. Bergeron, who has completed 39 years of service with Texaco, will retire from Texaco USA, Midland Division, of Texaco Inc. at the Fuller Gasoline Plant in Snyder, effective May 1, it was announced by Alan R. McDaniel, division vice president, Midland, Bergeron is a native of Morgan City, La. and attended Morgan City High School. He joined Texaco at Morgan City, La. in 1945 as a roustabout.

Subsequently, he served as a pumper at New iberia Gas, Bateman Lake; operator, operator-stillman, stillman, head operator at Fuller Gas. He became an assistant chemist (plant) in 1979 at the Fuller Gas Plant.

He and his family are members of Greenhill Baptist Church. The Bergerons live at 2708 42nd Street and have a son, Gary, who lives in Dallas.

On Barbados...

School controversial

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP) — The American offshore medical school has always been popular here, but its expansion to nearby Barbados has stirred opponents who accuse the school of low academic standards, and even of threatening Caribbean security.

"We're in the middle of an internal political debate. Unfortunately, it's gotten nasty," said Arthur Massolo, spokesman for the school at its Bay Shore, N.Y., headquarters.

The Barbados Medical Association, the University of West Indies Medical Faculty and Barbados' opposition party have campaigned vigorously against the St. George's University School of Medicine. The school set up temporary classrooms on Barbados in January for students afraid to return to post-invasion Grenada, and was granted permanent status in the beginning of May.

Although Prime Minister Tom Adams said the permission is tied to health and education ministry approval of curriculum, and the school's ability to demonstrate "proper standards," the controversy is likely to continue.

The campaign reached its nadir April 19, when the Democratic Labor Party's financial affairs spokesman, Dr. Richie Haynes, warned in Parliament that the school is "the greatest single threat at the moment to the security of this country."

He linked the St. George's School to the Mafia, the Soviet Union, mind control experiments and brainwashing to produce "Manchurian Candidate-type assassins." He said the school collaborated with the Grenada army-junta ousted by the U.S.-led invasion.

"I'm telling you you are spending all this money on defense and security, but the medical school is a greater challenge," Haynes said. "I am saying that while we were planning with the United States to invade Grenada, the people who administer the school were drafting a constitution for the Austin government."

Dr. Geoffrey Bourne, vice chancellor of the school, called Haynes' charges "idiotic."

Haynes claimed Bourne, retired director of the Yerkes Primate Center in Georgia, had worked with the Soviet Union there on a project to produce terrorists by altering psychological behavior. Bourne said the center was funded by federal grants, dating to the Kennedy administration, and wasn't involved in any such experimentation with anyone.

A touchier charge is that the school helped Gen. Hudson Austin, leader of the "Revolutionary Military Council" that claimed power after last Oct. 19's slaying of Prime Minister Maurice Bishop.

"Anyone in their right mind would have 'cooperated' with Austin if they had responsibility for the lives of 600 to 700 students," Bourne said.

Bourne said in an interview here that Austin had come to his house to guarantee the students' security — and to seek the school's help as a liasion with the United States. Other junta members met with students on campus, while Bourne helped arrange a visit to Grenada by U.S. diplomats.

Bourne said his son Peter, a health adviser in the Carter administration, had written a position paper for Austin.

"The motive behind anything that was written was an attempt to win Austin over to the Western world and away from the Communists, and I don't see anything wrong with that," he said.

U.S. officials, however, concluded that the situation was out of control and after an "invitation" by Barbados and other Caribbean nations launched the Oct. 25 invasion. President Reagan said evacuation of the approximately 600 American students here was a major reason for the invasion.

Commissioner accepts check

DALLAS (AP) — Robert E. Stewart, 53, who retired last August as Texas banking commissioner, last week accepted a cash gift of $53,300 from the financial institutions that he regulated for 23 years, the Dallas Times Herald said today.

The gift, which Stewart said he sees nothing wrong with, drew protests from John Hildreth, the executive director of Common Cause of Texas, a public interest lobbying group, and from Donna Mobley, a former ethics adviser to the Texas Legislature.

"It raises substantial questions," Ms. Mobley told the Times Herald.

"How does this affect people in the banking department now? Would this affect their decisions because they might get a big reward once they leave office?"

Daniel A. Flynn, who was deputy commissioner under Stewart, organized the fund-raising effort. He sent solicitation letters to 1,700 Texas banks about six weeks ago.

Between 400 to 500 banks and bank executives responded with donations of $25 to $3,000.

Charge army plot

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — The chief opposition candidate says the slow-moving count of votes in Panama's presidential election is part of a plot by the military to steal his victory.

Both Arnulfo Arias Madrid, the opposition candidate, and Nicolas Ardito-Barletta, candidate of the military-backed party now in power, already have claimed victory, based on unofficial returns compiled by their own parties.

There has been no firm prediction when the official results of Sunday's election will be announced.

Arias charged Tuesday that the plodding vote count was arranged by the politically powerful military in an effort to stall as long as possible and then rob him of a victory.

Two school employees indicted

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A grand jury has indicted two Fort Worth State School employees for beating two retarded boys and has recommended that the school review its procedures for reporting and investigating abuse cases.

Angela Culton and Sheila Jenkins, both 24, were indicted Tuesday on two counts of injuring a child in the Feb. 27 beatings of Chris Cockerham and Chuck Money.

They face up to 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Bond was set at $1,000.

The indictments capped a one-month grand jury investigation that started after Cockerham's father, Harold Cockerham of Dallas, said that during a visit to the school he found his son bruised.

In addition to a black eye, the boy had bruises on his throat, forehead, back and buttocks, Cockerham said. Investigators said Money's mother, Mary Jo Shaffer of Grand Prairie, reported that her son suffered similar injuries.

Both 12-year-old boys, who suffer from Down's syndrome, have been moved to another unit at the school, school officials said.

John White, Miss Jenkins' attorney, said his client denies any involvement in the beatings.

"She found out about the injuries the same time everybody else did,"

Dear Abby

Woman Thinks 20-Year Age Gap Is Too Wide to Cross

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: The man I dearly loved for two years walked out on me to take up with the woman who had been my best friend for 25 years! I am devastated. She had been separated from her husband, so I foolishly invited her along to make it a threesome. I'm 50 and am now going with "R," a man of 70 who has been waiting in the wings for me. He loves me, but I can't return his love as I will always love the other man no matter what he does.

I admire and respect "R," but I feel the need of a younger man. (Am I wrong?) He is good in the bedroom, but I feel like I'm making love to my father, and that bothers me.

"R" insists on the bedroom scene and I would rather not. (Can you blame me?) How do I get around this? He's attractive and well-to-do and would give me the moon. People say I look 40, and I feel 30. What should I do?

HURTING

DEAR HURTING: Since you are not sexually attracted to "R" and he insists on the bedroom scene, he is clearly not for you. It's lovely to have a man who would give you "the moon," but what good is the moon if you need a younger man? It's not up to me to blame or judge you. You are the one who must live with your decision. Let him go for your sake and his. There are plenty of women your age who would find "R" the answer to their prayers.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I need a couple of questions answered. In the last two years, three of our son's girlfriends have had babies by him. What are those babies to us? And what are they to our son?

And if our son should decide to marry one of these girls, would he have to adopt his own baby to make it legally his?

NEEDS ANSWERS IN ALABAMA

DEAR NEEDS: The children fathered by your son are your grandchildren regardless of whether they were born in or out of wedlock. And your son is the father of these children. You need more than answers from me; you need counsel from a lawyer who practices law in your state.

And let me offer a little unasked-for advice: It's high time your son learned something about birth control as well as self-control.

DEAR ABBY: I love birds, which is why I'm writing. For some years now, I have been offended by the expression "for the birds." When people want to express a negative opinion of something, they say, "It's for the birds."

Why, Abby? Birds are the most beautiful of all God's creatures, and their music is among the most glorious of all sounds. What did they ever do to earn the disparaging "It's for the birds" reputation?

I would like to know where that unkind expression originated.

FOR THE BIRDS

DEAR FOR: So would I. If a word (or a bird) lover out there knows, I'll deliver the message.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ABBY'S PECAN PIE BAKERS: The recipe states that the pie should be baked for 45 to 50 minutes in a preheated 350-degree gas oven. Please note: If an electric oven is used, add 15 to 20 minutes to the baking time. If a toothpick inserted in the center of the pie comes out clean, it's done. (Test the pie after 45 minutes.)

Disagree over adjustable rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The adjustable rate mortgage, the darling of the real estate industry as a help to consumers trying to buy a home, is under attack by the majority leader of the House of Representatives, who calls them "an abomination."

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Texas, told reporters Tuesday the adjustable rate mortgages, or ARMs, are "for the exclusive benefit of the lender."

He said they should be outlawed and called for a nationwide usury law.

Lenders disagree. They have promoted the adjustable rate mortgage as a way for borrowers to share the risk of rising interest rates with lending institutions. The payoff for consumers is a lower interest rate and thus a lower monthly payment, for at least the first year of the loan.

Adjustable loans are usually available at an interest rate about two percentage points below the rate for fixed-rate mortgages.

Most adjustable rate loans can have a rate change after a year. If interest rates in general have gone up in that period, the home loan rate and the homebuyer's monthly payment would go up, too.

If general interest rates have gone down, the home loan rate and monthly payments should also go down.

Consumers have been urged by Realtors, mortgage bankers and others to insist on a year-to-year cap on increases and a limit on the total increase over the life of a loan.

Jack Carlson, executive officer and chief economist of the National Association of Realtors, agreed in an interview that "the majority leader has identified a problem."

Carlson and mortgage bankers agree that ARMs can be a good idea for the typical first-time homebuyer who is in the 25-35 age bracket and likely to see salary increases to keep pace with any increases in home payments.

But some lenders in Wright's home state of Texas have offered adjustable rate loans at 5 percent and below for the first year. Carlson warns that borrowers have to realize that those "teaser" rates will adjust to market rates at the end of the initial period.

Dr. Red Duke at 6:00

Rudolf Hess astounded the judges at Nuremberg in 1945 by admitting that he was sane and prepared to face trial as a Nazi war criminal.

THANK YOU

To the voters in Precinct 1 I would like to say thank you for your vote in Saturday's Democratic Primary. I will continue to serve the taxpayers of Scurry County to the best of my ability.

I would like to express my appreciation to other interested citizens who helped with their influence.

ty of the junior high choir attending the state convention in February of the Texas Music Educators Association. School board members noted that such trips during the school year have traditionally been limited to high school students. The request was turned down due to possible "precedents" from other junior high organizations.

—Granted a request from SHS tennis coach Charlie Chrane for the use of school tennis courts this summer to conduct two tennis tournaments. The request was granted following school policy regarding events where a fee is charged. Chrane agreed to provide the school district with 10 percent of the gross plus a fee to cover liability insurance.

—Granted a second request from Chrane and Athletic Director David Noble seeking permission to repair cracks in the local courts this summer. The district agreed to pay Chrane $5.50 per hour for the work.

—Approved a 45-hour "Computer Literacy and Applications" course to be offered this summer by the school district. Enrollment will be initially limited to staff in grades 4-6, then to other teachers as space permits. The course will count toward the local teacher "professional growth" requirement.

Minor injuries from 2 wrecks

Two persons were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor injuries following two traffic accidents in the city Tuesday afternoon.

Fifteen-year-old Mark Doty of 2106 42nd St. was taken to the local hospital for treatment of possible injuries after the 1975 GMC pickup he was a passenger in, driven by 40-year-old Robert Mark Doty of 2106 42nd St., was in collision with a 1981 Mack dumptruck driven by Carl Lee Tealer of 3010 Ave. J.

The youth was treated and released from the hospital emergency room after being taken to the hospital by private vehicle following the 5:30 p.m. mishap.

Five-year-old Robert Munoz of Rt. 3, Snyder was also taken to the hospital by private vehicle for treatment of what police investigators called numerous cuts and brusies after he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle in the 1600 Block of Canyon Ave. at 6:47 p.m.

According to accident reports, Munoz was struck by a 1977 Ford driven by Anselmo Hernandez of 2105 College Ave.

No other injuries were reported in either mishap.

Wrecks noted since Saturday

Five minor traffic mishaps were reported in Snyder Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

At 10:59 a.m. Saturday, city police were called to investigate a two-vehicle collision in the 3100 Block of Hill Ave. Involved in it were a parked 1983 Buick owned by Tom Holcomb of 3615 Ave. B which was struck by a 1979 Oldsmobile driven by Rocky Holmes of 2606 Ave. Z.

A second mishap was reported in the 3700 Block of College Ave. at 7:12 p.m. Saturday.

Involved in it were a 1972 Chevrolet driven by John Sidney Lochabay of 402 33rd St. and a 1983 Chevrolet driven by Clinton Dale Chesser of 2205 43rd St.

The third accident of the three-day period was reported at 6:50 p.m. Sunday in the 4100 Block of College Ave.

Involved in it were a 1980 Chevrolet driven by David Lee Cain of 3701 Sunset Ave. and a 1981 Toyota driven by Scotty Lee Cunningham of Snyder.

A fourth accident at 9:11 a.m. Monday occurred in the 2000 Block of N. Ave. T. Vehicles in collision were a 1980 Ford driven by Loyd Allen Gaddis of Snyder and a 1982 Ford driven by Robert Dan Carmichael of 107 N. Ave. T.

The fifth mishap of the three day period was reported in the 3000 Block of 42nd St. at 11:37 a.m. Monday.

Involved in it were a 1980 Chevrolet driven by James Todd Lewis of Rt. 3, Snyder and a 1980 Chevrolet driven by Albert William Cannon of 4014 Austin Ave.

No injuries were reported in any of the five accidents.

Arrest tally given for three-day span

Snyder police logged 13 misdemeanor arrests and began investigating a single misdemeanor criminal mischief complaint Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Bruce Wortham of 4503 College Ave. No. 16, filed the only criminal complaint of the period at 11:19 a.m. Saturday.

He told investigators that someone had apparently kicked a dent in the left front fender of his 1981 Ford and broken off the left windshield wiper.

The damage is thought to have occurred while the vehicle was parked beside the apartment complex Friday night and no value was estimated for the damage.

In all, city officers jailed nine persons for public intoxication and four for DWI over the three-day period.

One of the DWI suspects was also charged with misdemeanor possession of marijuana and possession of prohibited drug paraphernalia.

Vought Aero plant to close

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — Factory workers and union officials reacted with anger and dismay when they learned that the Vought Aero aircraft plant here would be shut down.

"It's heartbreaking. ... It's like a kick in the teeth," said Larry Sims, president of the local American Auto Workers after the announcement Tuesday. "People are taking it bad."

Company officials said the plant is no longer needed since Vought quit producing the A-7 Corvair attack aircraft last year.

Food service criticized

had the cafeteria contracts the past seven years.

Criticism aired by four teachers attending the meeting and Northeast Principal Gerri Parker included delays in serving children after cafeteria workers ran short of either trays or silverware; small portions served to youngsters; poorly prepared food; and a shortfall on the overall number of meals prepared.

E.D. (Doug) Flynn, the assistant superintendent with direct supervision over the food service, characterized some of the criticism as "the same kind you get in any large eating facility — a mess hall or a dorm."

Hood pointed out that the service prepares some 2,800 meals daily, and that incidents of poorly prepared food are likely isolated cases.

Regarding too few meals, he noted also the tendency of students to "change their minds" from the first period of the day — when lunch room decisions are made — and noon.

In approving the contract, trustees stressed a commitment that all children be served sufficient "quanity and quality" of food and that they felt it was the school administrator's responsibility to insure this.

In a related matter, the school board was required to approve the USDA commodities agreement for another year — the program through which surplus food is provided the district by federal officials.

The agreement was approved with one dissenting vote, trustee Mike Reed. Voting "for" the measure were trustees Leslie Butler, Lillie Sullivan, Allen Grimmett, G.A. Parks Jr., and J.M. (Mule) Kayser.

service.

Also attending Tuesday's presentation were Gambol's fellow law enforcement officer representing the Scurry County sheriff's office and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Forgery case reported here

Snyder police investigated a forgery complaint Tuesday afternoon.

Snyder National Bank employees called city authorities at 3:15 p.m. and reported the attempted passing of a forged check there.

Investigators report identifing a suspect in the misdemeanor case and the matter has been referred to county officials.

In other action, city officers jailed three suspects for public intoxication Tuesday night.

AP banking story corrected Tuesday

A story carried by the Associated Press Tuesday involving changes in the board of the newly formed American State Bank of Snyder was corrected late Tuesday by bank officials.

The story indicated that bank "officers" had been replaced by six board members of the new bank's holding company, American State Financial Corporation of Lubbock.

The six officers have replaced board members of the bank rather than bank officers.

In addition, the AP story reported that Eddie Johnson, the new president of ASB here, was a former vice president of the holding company.

Johnson was a vice president with American State Bank in Lubbock prior to his recent move. The bank is one of two owned in Lubbock by the holding company.

Their other bank properties include the Brownfield State Bank.

In addition, students who represented SHS in UIL competition through the year were recognized by their event sponsors.

Jerry Worsham, drama instructor and director of the State Championship One-Act Play "The Crucible," announced the receipt of another UIL award for the crew of the production Tuesday morning.

He said he had been notified by phone Tuesday morning that Sue Smylie, Sharmon Briggs and Richard Payne, who served as the technical crew for the one-act production, had been voted the outstanding technical crew for this years's state meet.

CowBelles host 1984 cook-off

Texas CowBelles hosted the 1984 Texas Beef Cook-Off in Lubbock recently. Contestants, from across the state submitted beef recipes to be judged. The five finalists were invited to Lubbock to prepare their dish for the judges.

Texas CowBelle president Mrs. Ed Huggins of Junction presented the awards to the winners at the luncheon. Beverly Sebastian, a consumer loan secretary in Fort Worth, was awarded $500 and an opportunity to compete in the national Beef Cook-Off. She called her prize winning recipe "Garden Garnish Steak and Bake."

Jean Connors of Palestine, Tex. cooked "Margarita Fahitas" for the second prize. Third place went to Loanne Chiu of Arlington who's dish was "Piquant Mandarin Beef." Other finalists were Thelma Evans of Dallas and Sandra Mosely of Bridge City.

Area people who participated in the cook-off activities were Messrs. and Mesdames Jimmy Sterling and daughter, Karen; Joe Harding, J. M. Sterling of Vincent, O. B. Trulock, Carl Guelker, Nub Morris, Preston Morris of Colorado City, Fred Bullard, Billy Huddleston, Jess Everett of Snyder and Buddy Baldridge of Clairemont.

Karolyi says Russians will still enter Games

HOUSTON (AP) - Bela Karolyi, a Romanian gymnastics team coach in the Olympic games who defected in 1980 to escape political intervention in sports, says the Soviets are withdrawing from the Los Angeles Olympics only as a bargaining chip.

Karolyi, who directed superstar gymnast Romania Nadia Comaneci, says he is still longing to separate politics from athletics.

"Let's leave athletics to the young with their dreams and innocence," said Karolyi, now a U.S. Olympic gymnastics coach. "We should keep all politics out and leave athletics to the people who just want to have friendly competition."

Karolyi said he was not surprised by Tuesday's announcement that the Soviet Union had withdrawn from the Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

"As soon as the U.S. boycotted the 1980 Games, I could see that the Russians would get their revenge," Karolyi said.

Karolyi also predicted the Russians would still compete in the Games, using Tuesday's action only as a bargaining tool.

"They will use this to get back to the bargaining table with a better advantage," Karolyi said. "I know those people," said Karolyi. "It is just a game that they play all the time. They go back and forth to get the advantage.

"They invest too much in the propaganda of their athletes being the best in the world and they put too much preparation into it not to be here."

Karolyi was the national gymnastics coach for Romania in the 1972, 1976 and 1980 Olympics before fleeing to the United States. Karolyi said he left his native country to escape political involvement in sports only to find it again here.

Karolyi hopes the destructive trend does not continue.

"The last two Olympics have been a confrontation between two great systems," Karolyi said. "We started it with a wrong decision to boycott in 1980. So now it is continuing."

Karolyi said his past experience in dealing with communist governments makes him think the Russians will attend the Games.

"I know those governments and what it means to have them compete and prove that they are great," Karolyi said.

Karolyi said communist propagandists use excellence in sport as a means of glorifying their form of government. He said his gymnastics teams were the victim of such thinking.

Karolyi was allowed to coach gymnastics without interference until Romania's Olympic performances made world wide headlines.

"All of a sudden the government got involved," Karolyi said. "They took all the credit. The credit should have gone to a lot of hard work, not the system of government."

Karolyi has built a new life in the United States and has improved America's medal potential with his training of Mary Lou Retton.

Lakers clinch series victory

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) - Pat Riley and the Lakers must wait at least a few days to see who their next foe will be in the National Basketball Association playoffs, and the Los Angeles coach said it doesn't really matter who that opponent is.

"Either Phoenix or Utah, it doesn't really make a differerence," he said Tuesday night after the Lakers overwhelmed Dallas 115-99 to win their Western Conference semifinal series four games to one.

"We can be sure we're going to get the best team. We won't play at least until Saturday, and maybe not until next Tuesday. If it's not until next Tuesday, I think we'll all go to the Bahamas for a few days ..."

Phoenix holds a 3-2 edge over Utah in their Western Conference semifinals, with the sixth game scheduled Thursday night in Phoenix, and a seventh, if necessary, at Utah on Saturday. Should the Suns win the fifth game, they would open play at the Lakers' Forum on Saturday afternoon. If the series goes seven games, then the winner will begin the best-of-seven Western Conference finals at the Forum next Tuesday.

The winner of that conference finals will advance to the NBA Championship series against the Eastern Conference winner.

The Lakers, who had lost one of two playoff games in Dallas, simply overpowered the Mavericks in the series-clinching victory. Los Angeles center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was dominant defensively, Magic Johnson and Michael Cooper kept the Lakers' running game in high gear, and Mike McGee led the scoring with 27 points.

Abdul-Jabbar blocked six shots, with the Lakers frequently able to fast break off the blocks. Johnson had 15 rebounds to go with 14 points, and Cooper had 15 points and seven assists.

"They're great," Dallas Coach Dick Motta said of the Lakers. "I've never seen them play any better."

Motta said: "I don't think I've ever been prouder of a team than I was of this group. If anyone had told me at the start of the season that Dallas would play 10 playoff games, I would have told them they're liars."

Rolando Blackman led the Mavericks with 25 points in the loss. Mark Aguirre, the team's leading scorer this season, had suffered a bruised hip in the fourth game last Sunday and played just 14 minutes, scoring nine points.

"Mark was hurt and the Lakers were ready," said Motta.

Soviets cancel 12-city tour

NEW YORK (AP) - A scheduled 12-city American tour by the Soviet Union's junior national basketball team was canceled Tuesday, according to the Amateur Athletic Union.

The Soviet team was to start the tour with a game against New York's Riverside Hawks on Friday night at St. John's University. The tour was to end May 27 with a game in Newark, N.J.

The AAU did not give an official reason for the cancellation, although the decision was announced the same day the Soviet Union said it would not participate in the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

Sun Devils stay ahead of Texas

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Arizona State remained No. 1 and Texas continued to hold second place in college baseball rankings released by the Collegiate Baseball newspaper.

The Sun Devils, 46-16, were led by centerfielder Oddibe McDowell, at .403 with 21 home runs, including four homers against Stanford last weekend.

The rankings were announced Tuesday.

Arizona State had five players with 11 or more home runs so far this season. Through the weekend, the Sun Devils had 97 homers in 66 games, compared with 56 in 68 games last year.

The second-place Longhorns, 51-12, were followed by Oklahoma State, 48-11, up from sixth to third; North Carolina, 42-9, down from third to fourth, and Fresno State, 48-10-2, from eighth to fifth.

Mississippi State, 40-12, fell from fourth to sixth; California St.-Fullerton, 51-18, dropped from fifth to seventh; Florida, 40-13, rose from 11th to eighth; San Diego State, 60-18, improved from 13th to ninth, and Oklahoma, 39-11, slipped to 10th from seventh.

Rounding out the top 20 were Stanford, 34-22-1; Hawaii, 40-18-1; Rice, 40-12; Texas A&M, 38-16; Nebraska 45-18; Brigham Young, 39-14; Alabama, 35-16; Stetson, 45-11; Nevada-Las Vegas, 40-22-1, and South Alabama, 42-16.

Thousands line route to see Olympic Torch

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) - The Soviet withdrawal from the Summer Games did little to dampen enthusiam as the Olympic Torch arrived in Connecticut on its long journey to Los Angeles.

Seizing a chance to glimpse a moment of history, thousands lined Route 1 to await the flame's arrival.

Local organizations spruced up Greenwich's main street by attaching blue and white helium-filled balloons to parking meters, and several bands turned out to serenade the bearers.

By the time Greenwich resident Jeffrey Urstat came into view carrying the flame in early evening, expectations were higher than balloons which had broken free from the meters and floated skyward.

Urstat's appearance - amid a phalanx of police cars - set off a burst of applause from onlookers. After he transferred the flame to the next runner, Greenwich investment banker Mark Adams, Urstat was mobbed by school children who wanted to hold the torch for a moment.

"It was really exciting to be part of the relay," said Urstat, who said he and his brother signed up for the right to run one kilometer. "I did get a little tired coming up the last hill, though."

The Olympic flame, which was ignited Tuesday morning in front of the United Nations, will be relayed 8,700 miles around the country for 82 days before arriving July 28 in Los Angeles for the opening ceremonies of the Summer Games.

Commercial sponsorship of the relay is expected to raise $12 million for youth clubs and athletic endeavors at a rate of $3,000 per one-kilometer leg.

Twins' Viola blanks California Angels, 5-0

by The Associated Press

Frank Viola seems to have finally learned his lessons in the school of hard knocks but Kirby Puckett must think the major leagues are easy pickings.

After struggling through his first two big-league campaigns with an 11-25 record and a 5.38 earned run average for the Minnesota Twins, Viola has won three games in a row to even his 1984 log at 3-3. And his season ERA is down to 2.54 following Tuesday night's four-hit 5-0 blanking of the California Angels.

"I've had the hard knocks. I really feel like taking those hard knocks my first two years is paying off now," said the 24-year-old left-hander.

While Tom Brunansky and Tim Laudner backed Viola with home runs, Puckett, a 23-year-old center fielder, hit his way into the record book. After grounding out to start the game, he singled on each of his next four at-bats, becoming the ninth player in modern major-league history to debut with four hits in a nine-inning game. The all-time record for a debut is five hits, but it was done in a 12-inning American League game and way back in 1894 in the National League.

"I feel great," said Puckett. "Once I got that first one under my belt I felt a little more relaxed. It feels great just to be here. I was nervous. I'm just going day-to-day."

In other AL games, the Detroit Tigers downed the Kansas City Royals 5-2, the Oakland Athletics nipped the Seattle Mariners 3-2, the Texas Rangers edged the Boston Red Sox 4-3 and the Milwaukee Brewers and Chicago White Sox battled to a 3-3 tie that was halted after 17 innings by the AL's 1 a.m. curfew and will be resumed before tonight's regularly scheduled contest. The Toronto-Baltimore and Cleveland-New York games were rained out.

Minnesota's fifth consecutive victory knocked California out of first place in the AL West. The Angels, who have dropped three in a row, trailed Oakland by three percentage points, with the Twins one-half game back.

"Confidence and consistency are the keys," said Viola. "I feel 100 percent more confident this year. You can look for it and look for it. Finally, it just hits you."

Brunansky homered in the first inning off Jim Slaton and it remained 1-0 until the seventh when the Twins scored four times, two on Laudner's homer and two more on a single by Brunansky.

The game was delayed for 13 minutes after California rookie Gary Pettis was caught stealing for the final out in the bottom of the sixth. Pettis was removed from the field on a stretcher after being fitted with a neck brace.

Racquetball league results

Western Texas College held its second annual Student Racquetball Tournament recently.

Tracy Neves won the men's intermediate division. Brian Grice was second and David Pruitt took third. Winner in the women's intermediate division was Jana Harris. Anna Rodriquez placed second and Rhonda Calley was third.

Alvin West won first place in the men's beginner division. Frank Anguiano and Steven Fisher took second and third, respectively.

In the women's beginner division, Renee Sharber was first, Julie Kellner second and Becky Hernandez third.

Triple Threat plans meeting

There will be a Triple Threat bowling league meeting, 8 p.m. Thursday at Snyder Lanes.

The league is made of three-man teams and bowls Thursday's at 8.

4-3 over Boston...

Foley keys Ranger win

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - After allowing two passed balls in the first inning that led to one Boston run, catcher Marv Foley wanted to redeem himself when he came to the plate with a runner on first in the sixth inning.

He did. Foley, a 30-year-old reserve catcher, clubbed his fourth home run of the season - he has only six hits - and carried the Texas Rangers to a 4-3 come-from-behind victory over the Red Sox Tuesday night.

"When I went to the plate, I just wanted to block out everything that had happened before and do well," said Foley, playing in place of the slumping Ned Yost.

"I've been hitting the ball well every time I've been up and I've just gotten some balls I can hit," he said.

Foley's homer made a winner of Texas knuckleball pitcher Charlie Hough, 2-4, who had allowed 15 earned runs in 5 2-3 innings in his three previous night starts. In four day games, Hough, who prefers warm weather, has allowed 10 earned runs in 33 innings.

"He had better command all around," Texas manager Doug Rader said of Hough, who gave up seven hits in eight innings. "All he's got to do now is start changing speeds a little more and he'll have it."

Odell Jones retired the Red Sox in order in the ninth for his first save, ending the Rangers four-game losing streak. Texas has won only two of its last 13 games, but is 4-0 against Boston this season.

The Red Sox have lost five of their last 10 and are now 7-8 on the road.

Boston went ahead 1-0 in the first inning when Wade Boggs singled, went to second on a walk to Dwight Evans, then advanced to third and later scored on consecutive passed balls by Foley.

With two out in the fifth, Dwight Evans and Jim Rice homered for Boston on consecutive pitches. It was Evans fifth homer and Rice's third and the second time the Red Sox have hit consecutive home runs this season.

Texas answered with two runs in the bottom of the fifth. Wayne Tolleson and Curtis Wilkerson singled, Mickey Rivers doubled to score Tolleson and Pete O'Brien grounded out to score Wilkerson.
