The SDN Column

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Noting that faculty members at the University of Texas at Austin were badgering legislators for a pay raise, Walter Buckel observed in his Lamesa Press-Reporter column that apparently not everything is too tough down on the Longhorn campus.

"Ol' Darrell Royal was listed under 'natural science professors' at $35,000 for his nine months stipend. Come to think of it, Roosevelt Leaks is about as natural a science as you can find on the 40 acres," Buckel concluded.

And Kim Pease, editor and publisher of the Rotan Advance and Roby Star-Record, recalled the one about the man who found a fifty-dollar bill in the pocket of an old coat he put on during a recent cold spell.

Advised that he must be the luckiest man in the world, the man came up with a quick denial. "Not really," he declared, referring to the bill. "It was one I hadn't paid."

"I've noticed this year that the IRS has not repeated its statement of last year that the short form is so simple a fifth grade student could fill it out properly," observed Charles Didway in his Post Dispatch column. "They probably changed their mind on that after a fifth grade teacher had her pupils try to fill out one of the short forms. Few of the pupils got past the words 'joint return' and those that did soon ran into something else that stumped them."

Joe Pickle of the Big Spring Herald came up with a list of what he described as "ubiquitous gremlins." That's intellectual talk meaning typographical errors.

Among the better ones, in our estimation were:

"Julie will arrive with her father in her gown at the church," (New York Post).

"Bill Keller sank four soul shots in the last six seconds," (San Diego Union).

"Only a few months ago it requested guests to wear a cat in the dining room." (Detroit News)

And how about this headline in the Charleston, W.Va., Mail: "Firecracker in Can Hurts Girl at Dance!"—WACIL McNAIR.

Calley Conviction Upheld

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Court of Military Review today upheld the murder conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., in the My Lai massacre and approved his sentence of 20 years at hard labor.

Calley's lawyer told a reporter he will appeal to the U.S. Court of Military Appeals—"We're going to continue to fight."

The Army announced that the review court found that Calley "personally participated in, and ordered subordinates to participate in, the mass summary execution of unarmed, unresisting men, women and children in the hamlet of My Lai, Republic of Vietnam, on March 16, 1968."

Calley originally was sentenced to prison for life after conviction by a court-martial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on charges of premeditated murder of "not less than 22 Vietnamese" and of assault with intent to murder a Vietnamese child.

On Aug. 20, 1971, the commander of the 3d Army reduced the sentence to 20 years.

Calley is confined to his quarters at Ft. Benning pending the outcome of his appeal.

The Army said he may now ask the U.S. Court of Military Appeals for a further review of his case.

President Nixon has said that he ultimately will review the Calley case in his role as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

MORE RETURNEES ARRIVE AT TRAVIS

N-Viets To Release 20 POWs Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam will release another 20 U.S. war prisoners in Hanoi Sunday, the Pentagon announced today.

These are the 20 POWs, 16 of them Air Force men and 4 Navy men, who the Pentagon said will be freed by North Vietnam earlier than expected.

They will bring to 155 the number of U.S. military POWs returned to U.S. authorities in North and South Vietnam since Feb. 12 under terms of the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

In all, 163 Americans have been released, including 8 civilians.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said an Air Force C141 transport will arrive in Hanoi at midnight Saturday, EST, and return with the freed men to Clark Air Base in the Philippines, main reception point for Operation Homecoming.

The C141 is expected to be on the ground at Hanoi about a half hour. After a flight of about 2½ hours, that should bring the new returnees to Clark about 3 a.m. EST Sunday.

Meantime the red carpet was rolled out again today at Travis Air Force Base for liberated American prisoners of war.

About 500 persons were on hand as the first of three planes, each carrying 20 POWs, landed at this former jumping-off point for Vietnam-bound servicemen.

The first plane touched down shortly after noon EST, with the other two hospital craft scheduled to arrive within the next six hours after the 8,010-mile, 16-hour flight from Clark Air Base in the Philippines.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Everett Alvarez Jr., who was the first American flyer shot down in North Vietnam some 8½ years ago, was aboard the second plane. Five civilian prisoners of the Viet Cong were on the second plane and a sixth civilian was on the third flight.

Today's contingent of 60 will boost to a total of 123 the number of former POWs to touch down on American soil since Tuesday.

Twenty more Americans liberated last Sunday night will remain at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines another day and will fly home Saturday.

And the North Vietnamese government announced Thursday night that an additional 20 will be released Saturday or Sunday in Hanoi.

RESERVE CHAMPION—Mark Hinton, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Hinton, 2804 Thirty-second Street, showed the reserve champion hog at the Scurry County Junior Livestock Show last night. It is a lightweight crossbreed. He is a member of the Snyder FFA.

Plan Devised To Dismantle OEO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has devised a detailed plan that calls for dismantling the Office of Economic Opportunity before Congress can come to its rescue.

The elaborate strategy, listing arguments the administration should use to support its case, the people in Congress it should work with and the obstacles it can expect to face, urges "completing the disagreeable business as soon as possible."

"The more delay, the more opportunity for congressional opposition to gather and develop a legislative counter-strategy," says the paper, which was prepared by the OEO's technical staff. A copy has been made available to The Associated Press.

Entitled "Congressional Strategy on OEO," the paper advises against a clash over constitutional powers with Congress, which last year extended the OEO and its many programs through fiscal 1974.

President Nixon's budget for fiscal 1974 calls for ending federal support for Community Action—the main OEO-sponsored antipoverty program—and scattering its remaining programs among other agencies.

"A constitutional confrontation may be where the administration is most vulnerable ...," the staff paper says. "The opposition can claim that there is clear law and intent that there be an OEO and a Community Action Program."

Orange Soil Said Ancient

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 17's Orange lunar soil—hailed as possibly a major find of very young material at the time of the moon mission—may turn out to be only a concentration of very old material similar to some collected at other lunar sites by earlier missions, a scientist here says.

As a result of chemical studies, Dr. William Phinney of the manned spacecraft center said Thursday, many scientists here were not surprised at the ancient age of the material as determined by Dr. Oliver Schaeffer, head of a group of scientists at the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

Schaeffer said the orange soil was 3.71 billion years old, a not unusual age for moon material.

Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt, the Apollo 17 astronaut who discovered the soil in the moon valley of Taurus-Littrow last December, said on Jan. 5 he thought the soil could be as young as 10 million years old. This would have made it the youngest lunar material ever gathered and could have established that the moon continued to experience volcanic eruptions until fairly recent geologic time.

"Jack's statement was based on the exposure age of the soil and not the age of when it was formed," said Phinney.

The patch of orange soil, discovered near a possibly volcanic crater called Shorty, showed little evidence of erosion by small impacting meteorites, said Phinney. The lunar erosion process takes hundreds of millions of years and is a rough clue to age. This was the only obvious indication of age available to Schmitt as he looked at the soil while he was on the moon.

Phinney said the material could have been formed beneath the surface 3.71 billion years ago and then deposited by the violent impact of a large meteorite which dug down to a deep level.

"We're still not clear about how it became exposed," he said. "Many of us now are coming around to believe it was an impact. But there are still those who believe it could have been volcanic action."

In any case, said Phinney, the material is not unique to the Apollo experience, although it was not found in such a concentraion on on earlier missions.

US Dollar Holds Steady

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar held steady today as a measure of stability returned to currency markets after weeks of turmoil and uncertainty.

The dollar was riding well above new par values set after devaluation was announced Tuesday.

There was little indication, however, that speculators were taking their profits from the billions of dollars worth of foreign currency they bought last week. Trading was described as moderate nearly everywhere.

'Peacekeeping' 'Copter Downed

SAIGON (AP) — A big U.S. helicopter on a peacekeeping mission was shot down today north of Saigon, and five Americans were injured. Meanwhile, a North Vietnamese spokesman reported that the next 20 American prisoners of war being released by Hanoi would be freed Saturday or Sunday.

The CH47 Chinook helicopter was the first American aircraft downed in Vietnam since the cease-fire began Jan. 28. However, three helicopters were hit during the first three days of the truce, with one American killed and four wounded.

The Chinook crashed and burned near An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon. The five crewmen were brought to the Army hospital in Saigon.

The U.S. Command said one of the men had critical burns.

The helicopter had delivered a jeep and office equipment to An Loc for the Joint Military Commission but did not carry the orange markings of the peacekeeping group, the U.S. Command said. A spokesman explained that it had not been assigned to the commission but was on loan to a civilian firm working for the commission.

It was hit by small arms and automatic fire a few minutes after it took off to return to Long Binh. The U.S. delegation to the Joint Military Commission made a verbal protest to the Communist delegates.

The chief spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation, Bui Tin, announced that the next 20 American POWs to be freed by his government would be handed over in Hanoi "perhaps tomorrow and if not the day after."

Tin said a few technical problems remained to be worked out. He reported that teams of the International Commission of Control and Supervision and the Joint Military Commission were flying to Hanoi Saturday to observe the release, as required by the cease-fire agreement.

The South Vietnamese command charged the Communists with 151 more cease-fire violations in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. It said 222 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and 31 South Vietnamese were killed and 182 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Storm Watch Issued

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Service issued a winter storm watch for tonight and Saturday in the Big Bend of Texas, predicting the possibility of snow accumulations of one to three inches.

The watch was issued as clouds spread northward from the Rio Grande Valley.

The clouds were expected to bring rain across much of South and Southwest Texas by late in the day. Forecasters predicted rain over the southern half of the state Saturday with possible thundershowers Sunday.

Contract For Cooling Plans Gets Approval

Snyder School Trustees last night voted unanimously to enter into a contract with Fred Buford and Associates of Dallas to develop plans for air-conditioning the six elementary schools in the Snyder School System.

The contract was approved following a discussion with Buford in which all members of the board participated. Also sitting in on the sesssion were Supt. Bill J. Hood, Assistant Supt. W.T. Falls, Maintenance Director Bill Sealy, Tax Assessor-Collector Ray Peveler and Business Manager E.D. Flynn.

Following a question and answer session with Buford, the board voted to approve the contract for plans, which will include air-conditioning of all classrooms in the elementary schools, with cafeteria areas as alternate bid items.

The air-conditioning project will be financed by funds from a bond issue approved by voters of the school district last October.

Peveler reported on progress of soil classification in the school district and the board instructed him to proceed with the study.

To bathe or not to bathe furor is at high tide

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What's all this fuss about how often a person should take a bath? My grampa lived to be 96 years old. He was big and strong and was never sick a day in his life. He bathed only once a year, and that was done in a dam near our farm. Folks used to come from miles around just to watch Grampa take his yearly bath.

AQUASCUTUM, TEX.

DEAR TEX: Good for Grampa. I'll bet nobody needed directions on how to find him.

DEAR ABBY: You're a dirty old female chauvinist! Your advice on bathing reflects that state of your mind.

What is natural is by no means "dirty" unless the mind is inclined that way. Cleanliness is indeed next to Godliness, but that same body is also the temple of the spirit of that god which dwells in man and womankind. I doubt if that god would dwell in an "unclean" temple.

You belong in India, where your views would allow you to label women "unclean"—and "untouchable." Go soak your - - - - !

PEGGY, MARIE, JUDY AND SUSAN

[All of the HERALD-MAIL, HAGERSTOWN, MD.]

DEAR ABBY: Like all other human beings, you are entitled to your opinion. However, I think there must be some underlying motive in your statement that "women can't bathe enough."

Are you a secret agent for Proctor and Gamble? Or are you just weird?

"DIRTY GERTIE"

DEAR GERTIE: Neither. I just have a love affair going with soap. And that's no lie!

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to your reader who suggested that bathing regularly was tantamount to effete snobbism and totally unnecessary. It may be I am particularly susceptible to detecting this distinction, but I think I am not alone.

As physical recreation I regularly swim a mile in the campus pool during my lunch hour, and I find it surprisingly easy to distinguish who has and who has not showered before entering the pool and is swimming alongside me. There are many in the latter group who are prominent, important, and respected elder colleagues who would be the first to insist that all long-haired youths "smell bad"—not realizing that they smell far worse.

For what it is worth, I have found this an infallible way to discover who is and who is not nice to be near, the lambs or the old goats, one could say.

LOVES TO SWIM IN SANTA BARBARA

DEAR LOVES: I vote for the lambs.

DEAR ABBY: You doll! Your statement, "A man should bathe once a day, and a woman can't bathe often enough" said it all. We are a group of men who must work in close quarters with some women who do not believe in bathing. We clipped that column and placed it on the desks of the offending females, and believe it or not, things are a lot better around here now. No names please. Just sign this,

"WORKING IN CLOSE QUARTERS" IN . . . HIGHLAND PARK, ILL.

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write to you for a long time because I have a very serious problem. I do not want my letter to appear in your column because this is a small town and everybody would know I wrote it.

I know that you say you will answer problems personally if the person sends a stamped, addressed envelope, but I want to be sure that if the one I enclosed got lost, another one would not be sent to me with your name on the outside, advertising the fact that I wrote to Dear Abby.

Please hurry your answer in the column, and sign me. . . .

NEEDS YOUR HELP

DEAR NEEDS: You may write to me with absolute assurance that my personal reply will be sent in the envelope you provide, or a plain one. I NEVER send replies in envelopes bearing a hint of my name.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap Here

Minor damage resulted from a two-car collision on Thirty-seventh Street near the Town and Country Meat Market at 9:25 a.m. yesterday.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said Verle Wayne Byars of Abilene was driving a 1966 Model Oldsmobile and Curtis Edwin Latimer of Colorado City was operating a 1970 Model International pickup.

Latimer was turning into a private drive and the other motorist was attempting to pass him prior to the collision, officers said.

Hill Asks Abortion Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill says the U.S. Supreme Court was acting on its own "social beliefs" when it struck down Texas' abortion laws and asked the court to reconsider its decision.

The Supreme Court seldom grants a motion for rehearing. Hill's written request was submitted here by Asst. Atty. Gen. Ric Stover.

Hill based his motion Thursday on two contentions:

—The high court "erred in substituting its social beliefs for the judgment of the Texas legislature."

—The court "erred in failing to extend to unborn children protection, equal to that of the mother, under the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment of the United States Constitution."

Russian Missile Series Puzzle US

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. experts are puzzling over an extraordinary series of eight Russian test-firings of intercontinental-range missiles from the same launch base within about two weeks.

These experts suggested the Soviets may be checking the reliability of combat-rated SS11 missiles after a launch failure in late December.

Intelligence sources said the eight ICBMs were fired about 1,200 miles from a complex at Svobodnyy to the Kamchiatka Peninsula. The firings began in late January and ended last weekend.

The missiles traveled only about one-quarter of their maximum range. The Soviets often send SS11s and other missiles over limited distances for tests entirely within Russian territory.

Unlike full-range tests into the Pacific, the Russians make no public mention of shots wholly within their borders. But U.S. reconnaissance satellites closely monitor firings inside Russia.

Some intelligence analysts say the eight tests in a row from an operational base may reflect Soviet command concern over the efficiency of military launch teams. These analysts say Russian leaders may have decided to put their crews through a fresh training course.

The SS11, similar to the U.S. Minuteman ICBM, is a major weapon in Russia's nuclear arsenal. The Russians have deployed about 970 of them.

Sensors aboard U.S. reconnaissance satellites indicated the SS11s in the recent series carried only single warheads.

The Russians have tested SS11s armed with triple warheads that can be fired in shotgun fashion. But U.S. officials say the Soviets have not yet mastered the technique of aiming multiple warheads at separate targets.

The Russians have moved ahead with a variety of advanced missiles in tests which began last year and have continued intermittently since then.

Briscoe For Uniform Drug Laws

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe says his proposal to strengthen the state's drug laws would give law enforcement officials all the authority they need to control narcotics traffic in Texas.

"Texas is in the frontier stage of organized crime," he said, "but we still have time to react and do something about it."

He told a program of the Exchange Club of Greater Houston Thursday that narcotics laws should uniform on state and national levels.

"The problem not only exists in Texas," he said. "It is a nationwide problem."

His legislative proposals would reduce first offense possession of marijuana to a misdemeanor in line with most other states, but they would enhance the penalties for persons convicted of dealing in narcotics.

"It is imperative that our law enforcement officials be equipped with the tools they need to curb crime of all kinds," he said. "These include effective laws to combat the professional thief, the hardened drug pusher, the gambler and the racketeer."

Proposal Spurs 'Unitize' Issue

KILGORE, Tex. (AP) — Heating up again in most oil-producing areas is the old, old controversy between major oil companies and independent operators over unitization of Texas oil fields.

The independents are aroused by a bill now under consideration by the Texas Legislature, which would permit 75 per cent of the working interest and 75 per cent of the royalty interest in a field to compel the other [illegible] ation, with approval by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The independents call it "forced" unitization. Backers of the proposal, largely major companies but including some independents, refer to it as a "majority consent" bill.

In East Texas, strongly worded resolutions opposed to forced unitization have been passed in the past few days by the Kilgore City Commission, Kilgore College board of trustees, Rusk County commissioners court, Rusk County chamber of commerce at Henderson, Overton city council and chamber of commerce, and the Gladewater City Commission and Chamber of Commerce.

The resolutions stressed the bill would be a blow to the economy, would reduce employment sharply and lower tax values, and "since the East Texas Field was fully developed on a per-well basis, it is unfair and unjust to adopt a different plan after more than 40 years of successful operations."

O. W. Potter of Longview, president of East Texas Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said the group is opposed to any type of forced unitization and will continue to fight it in Austin.

Joe D. McShane of Monahans, president of Permian Basin Petroleum Association headquartered in Midland, told the Kilgore News-Herald that the West Texas organization of 500 members voted "overwhelmingly against forced unitization" in a poll conducted by mail.

Ed Thompson, Permian Basin Association executive vice president, said he "wished to spike a rumor being widely circulated that the independents have given up the fight, for we fully expect to win."

After a heated debate, the oil and gas committee of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, meeting in Tyler this week, declined to take a stand on the controversy.

Speaking for the bill was James E. Russell of Abilene, chairman of the Texas Conservation Committee for Unitization, a lobby group, and against it was Robert B. Payne, Dallas attorney and independent oil operator.

Russell, a consulting petroleum engineer and independent oil operator, emphasized the [illegible] Texas fields and claimed that the bill would benefit the industry, state and nation because of improved recovery techniques which would result.

He said the legislation includes safeguards for protection of all interested parties and is fair and equitable.

Payne had 17 specific objections, including:

"It would provide for confiscation of valuable property rights, taking advantage of the minority.

Mrs. Parker Discusses Birds Of Our Land

The Twilight Garden Club met recently in the home of Mrs. J.F. Blum with Mrs. Fred Davis presiding.

Mrs. Sterling Parker presented the program, "Birds of our Land." Mrs. Parker's hobby is ornithology and she is a scholar of John James Audubon.

A few of the birds seen around the Snyder area this winter include the cardinal, titmouse, blue jay, flicker, inca dove, junca, warbler, Myrtle, Tennessee, Nashville and killdeer.

An audio film was shown of birds then Mrs. Parker gave some suggestions for the birds in one's back yard.

She said to keep plenty of fresh water from under trees and far enough from places that will allow an enemy of the bird to grab it. To keep water from freezing, add a few drops of glycerine.

To keep predators (rats, squirrels, opossums, etc.) away from the bird feeder, anchor the feeder on top of a slick metal pole and cement or anchor it securely in the ground.

To encourage larger birds like jays, grackles, blackbirds and others not to take smaller eggs during nesting season, try saving eggshells, crumble them and scatter them in feeders. The shells serve as calcium for the parent birds and their nestlings. Save meat scraps (with the exception of pork) cheese and dog pellets. These foods, plus dried egg yolks, will keep the larger birds from stealing smaller birds during the nesting season. Birds must have a lot of protein to survive and to feed their young.

Most birds like bread crumbs, cracker crumbs, raisins, nutmeats, various fruits and berries, dried cheese, and dog food. Mrs. Parker suggested running a wire through beef suet and hanging it, especially during freezing weather.

Many wild birds prefer to eat food on the ground instead of high in a feeder. Birds generally found where there are no trees are the ones that eat from the ground or low places. A few of them are the sparrow, lark, pigeon, dove, quail, brown-thrasher, flicker and duck. If fed from a low feeder, one must be sure the cat and dog are friends of the feathered ones.

Birds that eat berries or catch food on the wing usually prefer cardinals, blackbirds, grackles and many of the seed-eating ones will eat on the ground if they cannot get in the feeders. Some birds that prefer their food in feeders are mockingbirds, scissor tails, orioles, bluebirds, and cardinals.

Mrs. Parker suggested the following winter recipe for birds:

WILD BIRDS DELIGHT

Five pounds of wild bird seed mix, ½ lb. raisins or currents, ½ lb. peanuts, 3 cups melted suet or fat. Mix thoroughly, pour into pan and let harden. When set, cut or break into small pieces and place in feed tray. Always protect food from predators and rain.

YUMMIES (for small birds)

One cup melted beef fat, 2 cups cornmeal. Mix together and cool, mold into balls, wrap, run wires in top and hang in protective areas.

Crumble any very old dry cheese. Make balls wrap and hang.

One cup peanut butter, ¼ cup white cornmeal, one third cup peanut oil (or any oil or melted fat). Mix together, form balls and wrap. Use pine cones, stuff with any of the above recipes, place wire through top and hang.

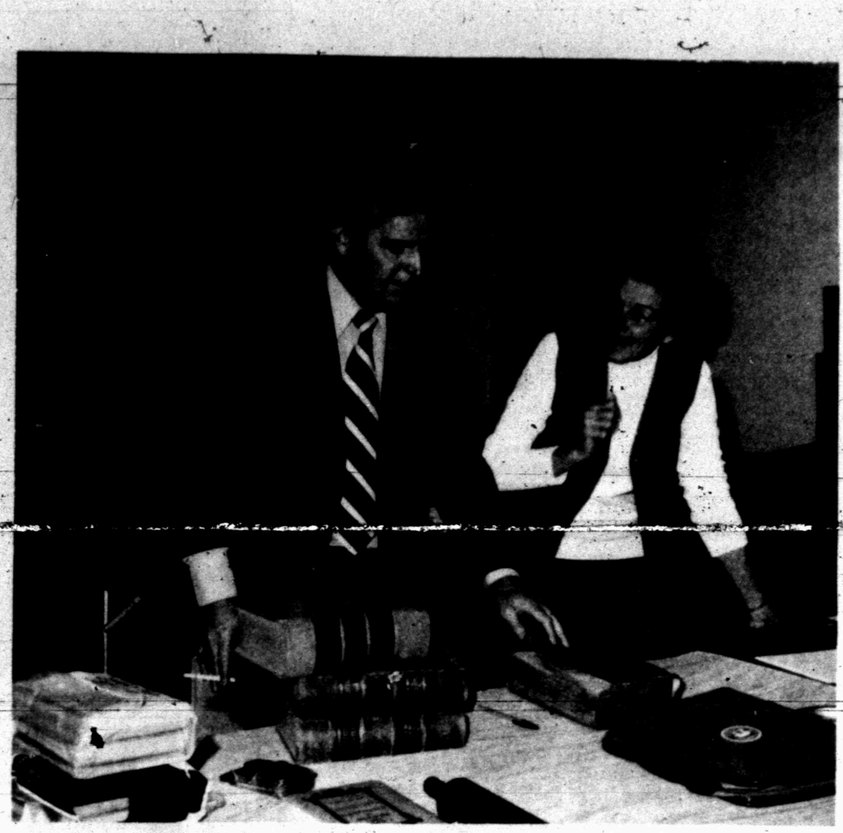
BIRD PIES

One pound pure lard, 1 small box oatmeal, 1 small box cream of wheat (12 oz.) one small box cornmeal. Cook oats and meal, add lard, stir until melted, add other ingredients. Pack in small individual aluminum pie plates

Two suggestions were given for making food holders. One was to use open mesh orange or grapefruit sacks that have been washed to remove the dye. The other was to stretch a plastic chore-girl as much as possible. Insert a wire in the top and hang it. Materials should be soft plastic or cloth. Never use hardware cloth or wire materials that will injure the bird's beak.

The hummingbird should be fed sugar water mixed one part sugar with four parts water. Bring the sugar water to a boil, cool, add red food coloring. Never use honey as the researchers have found that honey tends to burn up the livers of the little birds.

The first record of a law for the protection of birds is found in Deuteronomy 22:6: "If a bird's nest chance to be before thee in the way in any tree, or on ground, whether there be young ones or eggs and the dam sitting upon the young, or upon the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young."



BOOKS FOR SCURRY COUNTY MUSEUM—Board President Ernest Sears and Nelda Bills, acquisition chairman, are happy to have several boxes and many pounds of old legal reference books cleaned and ready to store. Katherine Redwine, Bettie Montgomery, and Sears spent Monday afternoon dusting and packing these books. They were removed from the Courthouse before it was remodeled and are dated from 1876 up to the 1960s. They will be available for scholarly research when the Museum opens next year.

PRESENT CERTIFICATE—Mrs. W.P. King and Evelyn Boone, members of Altrurian Study Club, present a certificate of achievement to Ronnie Sutton, manager of Aileen's. The certificate is presented in recognition of achievement for what Aileen's is doing for Snyder and the community.

Club Hears Program On India

Mrs. J.M. Kayser served as hostess when the Atheneum Study Club met Tuesday with 20 members present.

Mrs. James Vincent introduced the guest speaker, Drew Bullard. A former member of the Peace Corp who served in India, Bullard presented slides and materials to illustrate the work he accomplished. Following a most informative talk concerning life, customs, religion, language and habits of this primitive village, Bullard answered questions from the floor. It was evident that Women's Lib had not reached this corner of the world and the role of a woman in India was a hard life.

Following a brief business meeting, Mrs. Joe Sentell, president, closed the meeting.

Atheneum, Cosmorama and Amitie Study Clubs will meet Feb. 27 for a program to be presented by Yati Wan, foreign exchange student. She is sponsored by the American Field Service Program. Hostess will be Mrs. Jerry Webb.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I intend to make some closets soon for clothing and storage. I plan on using either sliding doors or folding doors, but I seem to remember reading somewhere that sliding doors have some disadvantages. Can you tell me what they are?

A. — Both sliding and folding doors have one big advantage: they do not protrude into a room when opened as do regular hinged doors. With the most commonly used type of sliding door, you can open only one side at a time and thus cannot either see or reach some of the objects inside the closet without closing that side and opening the other. In some more expensive original installations, this disadvantage is eliminated by a construction procedure which permits the doors to open into the walls on either side of the closet.

Q. — We have white ceiling tiles in our finished attic. The children have managed somehow to poke a few holes in some of the tiles. What can I use to plug up these holes so they won't be too conspicuous?

A. — Use either a spackling compound or a water putty, both of which come in powdered form and must be mixed with water. Place the material in each hole and smooth it with a putty knife. If you have an old piece of the same tile on hand (there usually are some left over after an installation), put a hole in it and then repair it. This not only will give an idea of how close a match you can obtain, but will enable you to get the hang of the repair method, since most of us do better the second time we attempt something.

MODERN SWISS STEAK

You bake this in cooking film bag or wrap.

2½ to 3 pounds bottom round beef steak, cut 1½ inches thick
1-3rd cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup shortening
4 small onions, cut in thin strips (1 cup)
1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes

Cut meat into 6 portions trimming away fat. Mix together the flour, salt and pepper and pound into meat. In a 12-inch skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the shortening; add onions and brown; place onions in cooking film bag or wrap, closing one end if using wrap. Place in a baking pan (about 13 by 9 by 2 inches). Add remaining 2 tablespoons shortening to skillet and brown meat; place in bag. Pour off any fat in skillet. Pour tomatoes into skillet and over low heat stir to get up drippings; pour over meat and onions. Fasten and vent bag or wrap according to package directions. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until meat is tender — 1½ hours. Remove meat to serving platter and keep warm in a low oven. Pour gravy into a saucepan; let fat settle, then skim off. If gravy is thicker than you like, add enough water to thin; reheat and pour over meat. Makes 6 servings.

Devaluation Unnoticed, With Few Exceptions

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While chances are great that you will barely notice any immediate, perceptible change in your life because of the 10 per cent devaluation of the dollar, there are exceptions.

You may be hurt if:

—You are dependent upon imported products or parts. If you own a German or Japanese automobile that needs repairs your bill might be higher after the dealer's present parts supply runs out and he needs to import more.

—You travel extensively in nations whose currency is now worth more in relation to the dollar. If you are on an unlimited expense account you may not be concerned. But you should be if your account is limited to a daily or total figure.

—You send money back to relatives in "the old country." Or you are an American living abroad, perhaps a retiree who receives a Social Security check from home each month.

—You work for a company that distributes imported products or which manufactures a product containing imported ingredients. Such a company could suffer a competitive disadvantage, mainly because of higher costs.

You could be helped if:

—You work for a company that has been hurt by foreign competition. In theory, at least, your company should now feel a change in competition both at home and abroad.

—You are a travel agent whose income depends upon a percentage of a customers' total foreign travel costs.

—You are an employe of a recreation or entertainment company, or any other business that could prosper from an increase in foreign travelers whose money is now worth more than before.

—You hold stock in a corporation which looks attractive to foreign investors more willing now to invest in the United States, mainly because stock prices have been discounted 10 per cent, but also because some companies might become more competitive.

—You hold business or property for sale — anything from a tiny work of art to a manufacturing plant — that now could become more attractive to foreigners with capital seeking to make direct investments in the United States.

—You are an investor in a U.S. company whose borrowing costs might be reduced because of a return flow of dollars.

Among the signs of a new economic world that called for new currency alignments:

—For half a century the United States was known as THE producer of automobiles. No other nation or group of them was close. If anything represented American industrial dominance it was the car.

Now there exists an economic entity known as the Common Market, made up of Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Britain, Ireland and Denmark. Twenty years ago their combined auto output was less than a million.

In contrast, these same nations produced more than 10 million units in 1970. Because Britain and Ireland were not members then you may subtract 1.5 million units and still exceed the U.S. total of 6.5 million for that year.

—In the immediate post-World War II years it was often said the most needed exportable of the United States, other than its money, was management knowhow.

"Dun's Review," a management magazine, studied current European attitudes toward U.S. managers and their methods and found much disenchantment.

It summarized findings in these words: "Europeans believe that in their reliance on management methods and techniques, American executives have, in effect, lost their ability to get things done."

Junior Editors' Quiz on MAGGOTS

QUESTION: What are maggots and how do they form?

* * *

ANSWER: A maggot is the larva or young of many kinds of flies. The fly lays eggs in decaying matter such as garbage, sewerage, on dead animals, or in the open wounds of animals. The eggs hatch in 6 or 8 hours after being laid. The young emerge as soft-bodied worm-like organisms. They are usually white, with no legs and no distinct head. The body usually tapers toward the front. They move by wriggling or flipping their bodies.

Maggots live in the decayed matter where they were born. They live buried in their food. They are frequently seen in the home garbage can, particularly in warm weather. Some maggots prey on insects. Others are parasites on animal or plant tissue. The maggot matures in about 5 days to the pupa stage of its development. Its skin hardens and turns brown and then, about 5 days after this change, the perfected fly emerges. The life cycle is less than 2 weeks so there are many generations in one season. For this reason it is necessary to control these pests.

Not Compatible

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—President Nixon's consumer adviser said Tuesday that 1.5 million persons with hearing aids soon may not be able to use the telephone.

Virginia Knauer said half the hearing aids currently in use are not compatible with new telephones being installed by the Bell System. She urged officials of the hearing aid industry and American Telephone & Telegraph to resolve the problem.

Time For A Cliche Drill

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Good morning, class. What do you say about having a cliche drill today?

"Oh, goody, goody, teacher. Let's do. But what is a cliche? We forget."

A stereotyped phrase. If you use too many cliches in your speech or writing, you bore your friends and enemies so much that they either quietly tiptoe away from you or hurry the wrong way around the block to keep from meeting you.

"We understand, teacher. Now tell us how to play the game. We're all ears."

It's quite simple, you little monsters. I simply ask you a question. And you answer it with a cliche. Ready? Here is the first question. What did the unpopular decision of the Supreme Court do to justice?

"Did it defeat the aims of justice?"

No, no, no, no, no, class. Try again.

"Did it make a mockery of justice, teacher?"

Yes, yes, yes. Of course that's what it did. Now you're swinging class. Now, what kind of fish did the politician try to drag across the trail.

"Wasn't it a red herring he tried to drag across the trail?"

Indeed it was. Now, what is the only kind of a young American who is worthwhile?

"Do you mean a rough-cut, blue-veined 99 and 44 one-hundredths of a per cent young American?"

You are trying to pull your teacher's leg. Do you want a rap on the knuckles? Let's have the answer.

"Do you mean a clean-cut, red-blooded 100 per cent young American?"

What else but? Now, let's say something nice about motherhood, class. What else does the hand do that rocks the cradle? Does it just hang by its side idly?

"No, no, no, teacher. Of course not. That hand is always busy, because the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

Yes, kiddies. You mothers would be proud to hear you say that. Now, do you know what kind of a spectacle of yourself you have made this morning, class?

"An inspiring spectacle, teacher?"

No, a sorry spectacle — because you know so many cliches already that when you grow up you'll be a bore to the world.

"Boo hoo, teacher. You've cut us to the quick — and that's the unkindest cut of all."

Terry Lee Will Retire

NEW YORK (AP)—Lt. Col. Terry Lee, the Dragon Lady, Hot-Shot Charlie and the other characters of "Terry and the Pirates" will retire Feb. 25 after 39 years of active four-panel duty.

Arthur Laro, president and editor of the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, which distributes the comic strip, said the decision to cancel the series was made when the artist, Goerge Wunder, announced his retirement.

The strip was once seen in more than 300 newspapers but recently had declined in popularity, Laro said. But more than 100 papers still carry "Terry," he said.

Wunder, who took over the strip from Milt Caniff in 1947, said the Vietnam War had a lot to do with the end of the comic feature although Terry was never assigned to Vietnam. He said the fighter pilot's image had changed.

South Plains Rallies, Beats Western, 96-89

LEVELLAND--After a first half deficit, South Plains College re-gained its poise and defeated the Western Texas College Westerners 96-89 in a Western Junior College Athletic Conference basketball contest here last night.

With Harold Ward leading the way, WTC jumped in to an early lead and, at one time midway of the first half, led 36-16. South Plains College went into a full court press. It didn't cause many turnovers, but the Westerners lost their poise and began missing shots and giving up a few easy baskets on offensive rebounds by Robert O'Neal. A desperation shot from 40 feet out with one second left, cut the half-time margin to 54-49 in favor of WTC.

In the second half, the Westerners couldn't buy a basket, hitting only 11 out of 35 after connecting on 23 of 35 in the first half. WTC also missed 19 free throws, most of them on 1 and 1 shots. South Plains finally caught the Westerners at 74-74. Then Ronnie Allen hit a free throw to put WTC ahead, 75-74. However, Charles Hutchins hit a basket to send SPC out front 76-75 and WTC was never able to regain the lead.

It was simply a case of SPC having the poise to regain control of the game. South Plains, with its top seven men being sophomores, have now won seven games by overcoming large leads.

WTC never seemed to get a break. Almost every ball that was batted around wildly in rebound scramble seemed to bounce off a Westerner before going out of bounds or bounce over to a Texan standing wide open under the basket.

O'Neal normally scores five or six points a game, but he collected 22, mostly on easy rebound shots. Three other Texans were in double figures. Hutchins roped 24 points, George Pannell put in 22, and Ron Powdrell meshed 17.

Five Westerners were in double figures, led by Harold Ward with 22 points. Fred Allen canned 18, Danny McDaniel pitched in 17, and Walter Hanibal made 14.

The Westerners inability to hit the basket appeared to be caused by a lack of poise in the second half.

Coach Sid Simpson said the Cisco Junior College discovered that they used an ineligible player in an earlier game with the Westerners. This game was forfieted; and WTC now has a 15-9 season record and a 7-6 conference record. South Plains continues to set the pace in the WJCAC race with a perfect 14-0 mark. They are 25-3 for the season.

Tiger Girls Are Hosting Tourney

The Snyder High School girls volleyball teams are hosting a tournament today and tomorrow at the Snyder High School gym.

First round pairings today pit the Snyder junior varsity against Ballinger's JV at 4 p.m., the Abilene JV against the Crane JV at 5 p.m., Ballinger A against Crane A at 6 p.m.; Abilene A against Snyder No. 2 at 7 p.m., Graham A against Reagan County A at 8 p.m., and Brownwood A against Snyder No. 1 at 9 p.m.

The championship match will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, the battle for third place will be at 6 p.m. Saturday, and the junior varsity finals is set for 4 p.m. Saturday.

Snyder will have three teams entered in the tournament.

Last night, the Snyder varsity defeated Plains 13-9, 10-14, 15-3. Penny Jones scored 14 points, Sue Jane Sullivan made 9, Marcia Shields 8, Robin Nail 3, Christy Suttle 3, and Hollye Crenshaw 1. Nail and Crenshaw did an outstanding job of defending the hard spike. Shields and Jones did an outstanding job on offense with their spiking and serving. Sue Jane Sullivan also was outstanding at serving. Christy Suttle was outstanding on the dink, an offensive maneuver.

The Snyder junior varsity also won, 15-13, 15-9. Cindy Howell scored 8 points, Donna Cornett 6, Tracy Moore 5, Regina Lewis 5, Ruth Ann Fagin 5, and Kellye Crenshaw 1. Fagin, Lewis and Cornett were outstanding on offense.

Whitefaces Host Tigers Tonight

Snyder High School's talented basketball team is only two steps away from the District 4-AAAA championship. They have to get by Hereford's Whitefaces at 8 o'clock tonight in Hereford, then beat Lubbock Monterey here the following Tuesday night to claim the crown.

Snyder won the first half with a perfect 5-0 record and share the second half crown with Monterey. Each team is 3-0 in second half play. For the season, the Tigers are 23-7. Hereford, although it is 2-1 in second half play, will be especially dangerous at home tonight. The Tigers only beat them by one point, 50-49, in the first half game in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Hereford lost to Monterey 44-40 in second half play, then beat Lubbock 90-69 and Plainview 51-34. Snyder's second half victories include a 79-60 win over Lubbock, a 54-42 triumph over Plainview and a 65-40 margin over Coronado.

Coach Bob Moore's crew could lose tonight and then beat Monterey in the final game here Tuesday and still win the championship. But, the Tigers want to win them all and will be going all out tonight to have a perfect record when they meet Monterey in the showdown battle.

Coach Moore said probable starters will include Jerry Brooks, Gary Brooks, Fred Liner, Kevin Jones and Moelll Blalock or Welton Cobb or Jimmy Don Dyess. All of these lads are senior lettermen except Cobb. He is a sophomore.

Several other lads are eager for action, including senior Charlie Anderson, juniors Tim Jones, Larry Mosier, Richard Gorman and V.T. Roberson and sophomore Larry Johns.

Probable starters for the Whitefaces include Mike Mayberry, Terry Scott, James Harris, Gary Hicks and David Duvall. All of them are senior lettermen except Harris, who is a junior numeral winner. Hicks, at 6-7, and Duvall, at 6-4 will give Hereford a height advantage.

The program begins at 6:15 p.m. with the junior varsity squads of both schools meeting. Probable starters for Coach Ken Plumlee's lads include Larry Johns, Roy Lee Carter, Willie Tippens, Robert Alderete and Larry Mosier or Robert Braziel.

FCA Groups Are Set For Weekend

Plans are complete for the Weekend of Champions to be held here Saturday and Sunday. The special event is being sponsored by the Snyder Chapter, Huddle group and Cuddle group of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A highlight of the weekend will be the banquet of champions to be held at 6 p.m. Saturday in the Scurry County Coliseum. Winston Hill, all-pro tackle with the New York Jets, will be the featured speaker. Another pro--Jim Files of the New York Giants--will be here for the special weekend.

Several college athletes will be here for the weekend, including Mike Ryan, outstanding tackle on the national champion Southern California Trojans team. The college athletes will speak at the area churches on Sunday, and many of them will give their "testimonies." The college athletes are coming from the University of Texas, Oklahoma, Baylor, San Angelo, West Texas State and SMU.

In addition, some national FCA staff members and entertainers will be on the program at various times during the day. One of the entertainers will be Randy St. Clair of Salina, Kansas. He is a composer of folk ballads, seasonal music, and popular and religious songs. He plays both the 12 and 6 string guitars.

FCA Huddle and Cuddle groups will be here from Brownwood, Abilene, Abilene Cooper, Roscoe, Borger, Midland Lee, Lakeview, San Angelo, Loraine, Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland, Roby and Ira.

The Snyder Huddle and Chapter members and visiting college, pro and FCA staff personnel will have a breakfast at 8 a.m. Saturday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church's Fellowship Hall.

Registration will be at 9 a.m. at the Lamar Junior High auditorium. Introductions and recognitions will begin at 10 a.m. and the Dogpatch Olympics will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Lamar gym and the athletic fields. Huddle Session No. 1 will begin at 11:30 a.m. Lunch will be held in the Lamar cafeteria. There will be entertainment in the Lamar auditorium at 1 p.m. The Dogpatch Olympics will continue from 2 p.m. until 3 p.m., when Huddle Session No. 2 begins.

The NCAA indoor track championships will be held in Detroit's Cobo Hall on March 9 and 10.

Snyder Sophs Beat Abilene

The Snyder sophomores beat Abilene High 73-62 here yesterday afternoon in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Five local lads were in double figures: Jurell Riggins and Greg Gafford with 16 points each, Greg Gary and Sid Perry with 13 and Danny Brumely with 12. Snyder led virtually all the way.

Dollar Cashers Ahead

By JOHN DORFMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Who came out ahead and who behind in the recent international monetary turmoil?

The answer, in a nutshell, is that all those who cashed in dollars for stronger currencies like the German mark came out ahead.

The central banks of many non-Communist nations came out behind, as did those who were left holding devalued dollars or owing debts in the stronger currencies like the West German mark or Japanese yen.

"Movement of these funds is a kind of protective device," explained the chief economist for a leading New York City bank, which has extensive dealings abroad. "It's like being in a theater where someone yells fire. Everybody runs for the exit to protect themselves."

Early in February, a series of factors including the news of a record U.S. trade deficit in 1972 and the relaxation of Phase 2 economic controls in the United States left Europeans holding dollars feeling edgy. Some began to sell the dollars.

The selling pushed dollar prices down on exchange markets in relation to other currencies. Rumors circulated of a devaluation of the dollar. To an extent these rumors became self-fulfilling prophecies.

As the dollar fell, central banks in Germany, Japan, Britain and elsewhere made massive purchases of the dollar to try to support it, as they were bound to do by international agreement. The central banks are now stuck with billions of these dollars, which are worth less than what they paid for them.

Once the selling started, three kinds of companies were drawn into the act, all with good reason not to be left holding a bag full of devalued dollars. These were:

—American multinational companies with extensive operations in Europe or Japan. They owed money to local suppliers and creditors. If the money was owed in German marks or in yen, the American companies rushed to cash in dollars to get the local currency to pay early, before the dollar lost value.

—European or Japanese companies which export to the United States. They had a lot of dollars received in payment for exported cars, television sets, and so on. They rushed to cash in these dollars before a possible devaluation. Again, the effect was to hasten the devaluation.

—American companies which import foreign goods. They were in a hurry to pay for the goods before currency alignments shifted. To make the payments, they cashed in dollars.

"Within a one-week span there was a bunching up of transactions that normally should have taken 8 to 12 weeks," said the New York bank source.

Underweight POW Frets Over Looks

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Almost as if he were a suitor again, Johnnie Ray fretted Thursday about his appearance to his wife after he returned from a Vietnam prisoner camp underweight and recovering from wounds.

He asked her to remove his wedding ring from his right hand, where he had kept it during captivity because his left ring finger had become too small. He told her to place it back on his left hand.

She did what he said, she told an interviewer afterwards.

And he cried.

"He grabbed me and said you look beautiful," said Dorothy Ray, 22, of her Army captain husband. "And my dress ripped on both sides, he grabbed me so hard."

Mrs. Ray, who lives in Pauls Valley, Okla., where most of Ray's relatives live, said her husband told her she looked beautiful.

She's now slender, she admitted, but "I didn't quite look that way" always during their 4½-year marriage because they had three children. The captain had never seen the youngest one.

"The little boy—he was thrilled by him. He was the only one to say 'DaDa'", said Mrs. Ray.

Besides Mrs. Ray and the three toddlers, seven other members of the Ray clan journeyed to San Antonio to be reunited with Ray, who arrived at midafternoon Thursday and was dispatched to Brooke Army Medical Center for processing.

Ray, who lived in Port Arthur, Tex., when he joined the service, joined returning POW Sgt. Ken Wallingfor at Brooke for another reunion of sorts. Ray's family reports the pair were in the same Viet Cong camp.

Mrs. Ray said her husband, who like Wallingford was captured in last spring's communist offensive, blistered his feet while having to walk from his Viet Cong prison camp to the prisoner exchange point. He helped push another man along. There was no indication how far they had to walk.

The Ray family, including 16-month old John Anthony, all took off their POW bracelets and gave them to Ray, but John Anthony did not relish parting with his, said Mrs. Ray.

She wore an orchid she said was a gift of President and Mrs. Nixon.

Pauls Valley, a farming community south of Oklahoma City, is planning a big celebration for him when he returns to where he spent his boyhood, she said.

His mother said she was going to bake him a pecan pie.

"Who can understand his errors?" Psalm 19:12.
Error is always more busy than truth;
It accompanies each man from cradle to youth
And stays by his side to the end of his days
To plague in a thousand toe-stumping ways.
Still error is discipline--a route toward advance,
And one must first stumble, if ever he dance.

Girl In Coma 22 Years Dies

POLK, Pa. (AP) — Janet Shouse is dead at the age of 28 after spending nearly three-quarters of her life in a coma.

Twenty-two years ago Janet was a normal child of 6 and on the verge of starting first grade.

Then, on April 23, 1951, she fell from a moving car near the western Pennsylvania town of Butler. Comatose and suffering from a fractured skull, massive brain damage and shattered legs, she was a patient at Butler Hospital for six months after the accident.

Janet died Tuesday at Polk State Hospital of pneumonia, an apparent complication of the London flu. She weighed just 85 pounds and was but 4 feet tall.

"It's hard to say whether she ever comprehended anything," said Dr. James H. McClelland, superintendent of the state hospital. "The only part of her body she could ever move was her head. She had to be spoonfed.

"She was one of those cases that break your heart where life is sacred but death would be a blessing. And there wasn't anything you could do."

The Mariner 9 spacecraft has returned some 7,000 pictures of Mars and mapped about 85 per cent of the planet.

Canada To Control Oil Exports

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government announced Thursday night that exports of crude oil to the United States would be subject to control after March 1 to avert a shortage in Canada because of increased U.S. demand.

Spokesmen for the National Energy Board said there might have to be a slight temporary reduction next month in the 1.2 million barrels a day of crude that Canadian companies now are shipping to the United States.

The spokesmen said they could not predict when permanent cuts might be imposed, but they implied these were not likely this year.

Energy Minister Donald Macdonald disclosed the move at an evening session of the National Resources Committee of the House of Commons.

The regulations include federal licensing of exports.

"Recent levels of export demand for our oil have been such as to strain the capacity of our oil production and transportation systems and to threaten the continuity of supply of Canadian oil to domestic refiners dependent on such supply," Macdonald said.

Export licensing was in effect until 1969, when it was terminated at the suggestion of a royal commission on energy.

In his statement to the committee, Macdonald said licensing provisions would apply to the export of crude oil but not to refined oil products.

"The past 14 years have seen rapid growth in our oil exports, almost all of which go to the United States and are mostly in the form of refinery raw material," he said.

Because of the increasing export demand on supply and transportation systems, he said, "in march there may be a transient problem of supply adequacy."

He said the move was "interim in nature" and that after proposed public hearings, "the regulations will be amended to the extent appropriate."

Says Millionaire Receives Welfare

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Sporting a "Take the Rich Off Welfare" button, outspoken Federal Communications Commissioner Nicholas Johnson has charged that people who make $1 million a year or more receive $14,000 a year in welfare.

Referring to the tax loopholes, government contracts, subsidies and credits available to large corporations and the rich, Johnson contrasted the situation with those families which live on less than $3,000 a year.

Their share of the welfare pie is 30 cents per week, Johnson charged.

"That's the kind of information would just as soon not be discussed," said Johnson, who addressed the 18th Student Conference on National Affairs at Texas A&M University.

Johnson, addressing himself to the topic of federal control of communications, told an appreciative audience of some 600 students from 25 colleges and universities that the Nixon administration was waging a political war for people's minds.

Power, Johnson said, is no longer measured in terms of land, money "or even armies, but control of ideas maintained through control of the little glass screen ... The Washington game is to turn newsmen into repeaters, not reporters."

Referring to recent White House proposals to make individual stations responsible for network news content, Johnson observed that "all you have left is the TV network news. That's why the president is trying to get them out of the way. Once he intimidates them by getting you to turn them off, he has accomplished his goal."

In an earlier address to the conference Thursday, Acting FBI Director, L. Patrick Gray, said that he has only one order from the President Nixon—"To keep the FBI free of political taint. Gray, who participated in Nixon's 1960 and 1968 campaigns, admitted he was a Nixon supporter, which he said was "the right of any citizen in a free society."

"Fears and allegations that the FBI is a 'big brother' hovering about ... looking over the shoulders of citizens, checking every move, maintaining secret dossiers and undermining academic freedom simply are not true and cannot be supported by facts," Gray told the Conference which continues through Saturday.

Highlight of today's program is a speech by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn.

GRADUATES—Capt. Albert E. Gates III has been awarded silver wings upon graduation from U.S. Air Force navigator training at Mather AFB, Calif. Capt. Gates, who served a year in Vietnam, will remain at Mather for further training. His wife, Ruby, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Williams of Hermleigh. He is the son of USAF Lt. Col. and Mrs. A.E. Gates Jr. of Barksdale, La.

Pioneer 10 Safely Clears Asteroid Belt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer 10 has safely cleared the Asteroid Belt on its way to Jupiter, leading scientists to conclude the once-feared belt of space debris is no barrier to future flights to the outer planets.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists reported the spacecraft emerged Thursday from the huge belt, which circles the Sun between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. The spacecraft, which was launched last March 2, entered the belt last July 15 and is due to pass near Jupiter Dec. 3.

"The Asteroid Belt is no longer the obstacle we once thought it would be," said Pioneer project manager Charles F. Hall, of the Ames Research Center, at Mountain View, Calif.

The doughnut-shaped belt is about 175 million miles across and 50 million miles thick. The material in it is thought to range from tiny dust particles to rock chunks as large as the state of Montana. Most of the asteroids are less than a mile in diameter.

Man Suffocates

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Firemen said Emmett Napier suffocated after being overcome by smoke from a smoldering mattress at his trailer home Thursday night. The flames swept the interior of the trailer.

Tree-Planting Deadline Near

The fact that spring is only about six weeks away should make most people take note, especially if they're considering planting fruit and pecan trees.

County Extension Agent Billy Roach advises homeowners to order or purchase needed trees as soon as possible to get the best pick of available supplies.

It's also important to select varieties that are adapted to your particular locality, emphasizes the agent. The county Extension office can provide information on which varieties perform best in a given area.

For peach and plum trees, select year-old plants that are three to five feet high. Apple and pear trees should be four to six feet tall. Pecan trees that are five to seven feet tall are best. Such trees will transplant easily and will become established more quickly. Excessively large, bare-rooted trees should not be purchased.

When buying fruit and pecan trees, always insist on disease-free stock. Select peach and plum trees that have Nemaguard rootstock (rootstock that has resistance to rootknot nematodes).

Trees perform best on soils that are well-drained and have good penetration by roots, water, and air, so give special attention to the planting site.

An important operation following planting is the cutting back of the main trunk and side branches. Pecan trees should be cut back by one-third to one-half of their top growth (that portion above the ground level). Cut back apple and pear trees to about 30 to 36 inches above the ground and peach and plum trees to about 24 to 20 inches.

If trees have side branches, remove all of these below the top 18 inches of the main trunk. Any side branches above 18 inches should be stubbed back to one to two inches.

The main reason for pruning the top growth of nursery trees is to compensate for root losses that these trees experienced when they were dug. In other words, the top growth needs to be balanced with the root system so that the roots can develop and become established.

All pruning cuts should be treated with a tree wound dressing as a protectant against insects and diseases.

Pruning is also important during the early years of fruit and pecan trees so that they will develop properly and take the desired shape.

Further information on selecting, planting and care of fruit and pecan trees is available at the extension office.

Airports Tighten Screen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation tightened its screen against skyjackers today as airports began stationing police officers at boarding gates.

A new Federal Aviation Administration rule requiring policing of all passenger-screening and luggage-inspection points, went into effect at 12:01 a.m. local time.

The FAA said preliminary checks showed that 476 of the 504 airports served by regular airlines were planning to comply.

Seventeen small airports in Alaska have been exempted, and the FAA said it was checking up on the 11 others.

The Airport Operators Council International (AOCI) had contested the new rule unsuccessfully in the courts, and on Thursday lost a petition to a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

In denying the AOCI motion for a stay, the appeals court ruled, however, that the FAA had failed to fulfill the statutory requirement for a hearing, and must do so immediately. Such a hearing will permit opponents and proponents alike to present their views.

The court also barred the FAA from imposing civil penalties on airports that have tried in good faith to comply with the rules.

The FAA had said earlier that airports failing to comply might be fined $1,000 for each flight left unpoliced.

The court ruled further that the FAA must continue for the time being the use of federal officers, at federal government expense, at those airports that are unable to hire or train their own police immediately.
