ENGINE, CARS RUN THROUGH OPEN DRAW

FORTY-FOOT FALL INTO RIVER CLAIMS LIVES OF FOUR WORKERS

(By The Associated Press)

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 25.—The locomotive and combination baggage and club car of the north bound Pan-American train plunged 40 feet through the open draw of the Mobile river bridge 18 miles north of here at 12:50 a. m., today, carrying four trainmen to death and narrowly missing a passing tugboat.

No passengers were reported injured or killed, but the Louisville and Nashville railway officials said a careful check would be necessary to determine definitely whether there had been any passengers lounging in the club car. The train was No. 98 bound for Cincinnati from Mobile.

Warning Should Have Been Up

H. P. Hearon, assistant superintendent of the Mobile-New Orleans division of the railway, said he was at a loss to account for the accident as an automatic block signal system should have given warning of the open draw fully a mile away.

The trainmen killed were: Arthur Ingram, Montgomery, Ala., engineer; J. Nick Vaughn, Montgomery, baggage master and Ezekiel Crumpton, Montgomery, negro fireman, and L. Phipps, negro porter.

The pullman following the combination car was partially hanging over the water in a precarious position. There were seven cars in the train.

Two relief trains, one carrying a diver, were despatched to the scene.

CHANGE LIKELY IN SESSIONS

STEP WOULD CUT OUT "LAME DUCK" TERMS OF CONGRESS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Immediate submission to the states of a constitutional amendment abolishing the "lame duck" session of congress depended largely today on Senator Norris of Nebraska.

The house adopted a resolution for such submission yesterday. It substituted a measure of its own for the similar Norris resolution already approved by the senate, but by amendment it limited the second session of congress to four months.

This was distasteful to Norris, who has worked in season and out for the constitutional change. He said he did not see how the limitation could be supported. If he decides to oppose the house resolution it will go to conference, and this late in the session may very well die there.

If finally approved the amendment will go to the state legislatures for the usual process of ratification. It would become effective as soon as 36 of the 48 states have ratified. Thereafter this would be the congressional schedule: Election in November each year, as at present; First session convenes January 4 of following odd year, term unlimited; Second session convenes December 1, odd year, adjourns May 4, even year.

In addition the amendment would have the president and vice-president inducted January 24 following the quadrennial November election, instead of March 4. Provisions also is included for emergency election of a president if the president-elect should die.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The New York Times today said the last three Democratic candidates for president would support John J. Raskob, chairman of the national committee, in a move to commit the party to a wet program.

Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis and James M. Cox, the Times said, would attend the national committee meeting March 5 to champion a resolution declaring for flat repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or for the return of the liquor traffic to the states.

All three, the Times pointed out, have expressed dissatisfaction with the present prohibition laws.

'Big Bill' Stages Comeback To Win Chicago Mayoralty Race In A Walk

MASTER SHOWMAN OF POLITICS SWAMPS JUDGE JOHN LYLE, "GANGSTER MENESIS", BY BIG LEAD; MAY FACE TEST AGAINST DEMOCRAT

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Mayor William Hale Thompson, pastmaster of the spectacular in politics was on top of the political heap in Chicago temporarily at least today.

"Big Bill," sometimes referred to as "The Builder," Chicago's "Cowboy Mayor," with hat tilted at a rakish angle, rode to victory through a tornado of political fireworks in yesterday's Republican primary for the mayoralty nomination, crushing Judge John H. Lyle, "gangster nemesis" and other opponents.

Used All His Tricks

When 2,967 precincts had reported unofficially the master showman, who used aviation, talking pictures and a jackass parade to bolster his campaign, had a total of 296,242 votes compared to 228,401 for Judge Lyle, who had promised the voters he would make things so hot for the gangsters if he was elected mayor that they would all be glad to get out of town. On the basis of the

COCHRAN TO BE IN DROUTH AID

TELEGRAM RECEIVED FROM LANCE TELLS OF AGREEMENT

Assurance that Cochran county is to be included in the area to be covered by the federal drouth relief appropriations was given in a telegram today from George Lance, president of the Morton Chamber of Commerce, in St. Louis. Mr. Lance has been conferring with officials of the divisional loans office there for the past few days.

Officials of the office agreed to including Cochran in the drouth area, it was stated, after facts concerning the conditions there were presented. Cochran was not included in the original area designated.

Most of the farmers affected by the drouth in Cochran county are newcomers to this section, having purchased their farms on cash payments during the past two years and depending on crops for their livelihood and other land payments. Most of them are living on lands formerly included in large ranches of that section.

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 25—The court of criminal appels today granted a new trial to Mrs. Mollie Turner, charged with committing murder more than 10 years ago in Lynn county. This was the second time the case had been reversed.

Mrs. Turner was assessed an eight year sentence in connection with the killing of her husband, M. B. Turner, October 5, 1920. Mrs. Esther Turner, her daughter-in-law, was the state's chief witness. The younger Mrs. Turner first said Turner was killed accidentally in a scuffle, in which he and the two women participated, later denying that. The court held that Mrs. Esther Turner was an accomplice witness and her testimony had to be corroborated.

Mrs. Esther Turner testified she told the story that the shooting was accidental because she feared her mother-in-law.

JUDGE RULES TWO ON JURY INDICTED WHEN WOMAN CONVICTED

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Clara Uhr, 49-year-old widow, convicted of the murder of her paralytic husband, Daniel H. Uhr, and sentenced to the electric chair, was granted a new trial by Judge W. S. Anderson in 37th district court here today. The new trial was granted on the ground that two members of the jury which tried her were under indictment at the time.

E. B. Simmons, defense counsel, also filed with his motion for a new trial, an affidavit attesting that Mrs. Uhr has become insane since her conviction on January 24.

Judge Anderson, in granting the motion, however, stated from the bench that his action was based solely on disqualification of the jury and not on the question of the defendant's present mental state.

Judge Anderson set the new trial date for March 16.

ABILENE, Feb. 25—W. A. (Buck) Gary, ranchman of Admiral, east of here, was killed today when his small sedan was struck and overturned by a string of moving "shunted" freight cars in the Texas & Pacific yards. Gary, en route to Lamesa where he had farming lands, was driving over a crossing east of the business section, and did not see the approaching cars until too late. He jumped for safety, but fell beneath the automobile, and with it was pushed ahead of the cars for 50 yards. He was dead when picked up. The car, however, was not demolished.

Capone Shows Up Today In Chicago To Answer Charge

GANGSTER LEADER EVADES THRONGS OF PEOPLE AS HE MAKES WAY INTO FEDERAL BUILDING WITH ATTORNEY; IS IN JOVIAL MOOD

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Alphonse Capone czar of Chicago gangs, slipped into the federal building a half hour before his scheduled arraignment on a contempt of court citation today and eluded the besieging throng of people who clogged the sidewalks about every entrance.

Capone, accompanied only by his attorney, William F. Waugh, went directly to the court room of United States District Judge James H. Wilkerson, and evaded the battery of cameramen and reporters who were watching for him.

In Jovial Mood

It was his first appearance in a Chicago court for a year, and he was in jovial mood. He laughed at the widely published reports that he had returned from Florida to marshal his forces in the primary and aldermanic elections yesterday.

"Judge Lyle made an issue of me, and the people answered him," he said.

It was Judge John H. Lyle who issued a wholesale lot of vagrancy warrants for Capone, his friends and enemies after they were listed by the Chicago crime commission as "public enemies." Capone, awaiting the opening of federal court, said he was ready to answer the charge in criminal court.

He came back Friday, he said, to meet the contempt citation and any other charge held against him. He will surrender to the county or city officers when his federal court appearance is ended.

DEFENSE FOR HAWKINS IS BEGUN

TWO NEW WITNESSES APPEAR ON STAND AT FLOYDADA

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Staff Correspondent

FLOYDADA, Feb. 25.—Testimony of defense witnesses in the case of Joe Hawkins, being tried for the murder of his father-in-law, S. M. Walker before Judge Kenneth Bain, was started here this morning. At noon today four witnesses had testified in defense of Hawkins and several others will go on the stand this afternoon.

The defense probably will close late today and taking of rebuttal testimony will start. Present indications are that the rebuttal witnesses will disclose some new phases in the case.

Two Witnesses New

Two new witnesses, who did not appear at the first trial when Hawkins was sentenced to 50 years in the state penitentiary, took the stand today. These were Walter Walker, a son of the dead man, and John Orand, of Lampeasa but formerly a farmer living near the Walker place.

Young Walker was the first to take the stand when the defense opened and testified that he had been forced to leave his home when about 15 years old because he could not get along with his father. He told from the stand of a number of incidents of trouble with his father after he had married. The younger Walker married a stepsister of Hawkins. On the stand for more than an hour, Walker also related incidents of trouble between his father and tenants.

RESOLUTION IS UP IN SENATE FOR ACTION

RECENT PROTESTS BY CITIZENS GIVEN AS REASON FOR BILL

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—Stating that citizens from all sections of Texas were protesting against the rates now charged by public utilities, Senator Parrish of Lubbock today asked, by resolution, that a committee composed of members of both houses to be appointed to make an investigation.

An error in typing caused Parrish to ask that the resolution be placed on the table for future reference.

Rates Being Protested

"In all sections of this state, city and county officials, civic organizations, business men and citizens from all walks of life have protested against prices and the rates which are being made for transportation, insurance and telephone and telegraph services and the charges being made for natural gas and electricity for domestic and power purposes and by pipe line companies for transporting oil, it being alleged that such prices, rates and charges are exorbitant," the Parrish resolution said.

It charged that such companies are not bearing their just burdens of taxation.

Another charge was that some of the companies had brought themselves under a common ownership management and chntrol with the effect of creating a monopoly.

Reduction Of Gas Rates To Be Requested By City Officials Of Territory

MEETING WITH OFFICIALS OF WEST TEXAS GAS COMPANY PROPOSED; PUBLIC AUDIT OF BOOKS ALSO TO BE REQUESTED; URGE ACTION

Proposal of a conference with heads of the West Texas Gas company, at which time a reduction will be asked in existing rates on natural gas and a request for a public audit of the company's books, was made at a meeting here Tuesday of members of the West Texas Municipal association.

The conference was attended by approximately 50 representatives from 20 cities of this territory. It was said that attitude of the company at the proposed meeting probably will determine the course of action to be further pursued.

A permanent organization was perfected at Tuesday's meeting and Mayor Leon Goodman, of Midland, was named president. J. J. Clements of Lubbock, was elected first vice president; J. B. Cardwell, of Plainview, second vice president, and E. D. Ireland, Hereford, third vice president.

Invitations to membership in the association soon will be mailed to all cities in the area commonly known as West Texas. The by-laws provide that an initial fee of $25 shall be paid by each city and that the fee must be in the hands of the president by April 1.

Controversy Taken Up

The controversy between West Texas city governments and gas companies regarding allegedly excessive rates held a major share of the association's attention at Tuesday's session.

A number of resolutions were adopted regarding the gas situation. All resolutions were referred to the executive committee for final action.

To Seek Competition

One of the principal resolutions proposed and approved was for efforts on the part of West Texas cities in obtaining competition in the distribution and sale of natural gas. "The cities should band together and grant franchises to individuals, or a group of individuals assuring them of support and cooperation," the resolutions read. "Also through this means to encourage the construction of a competitive pipe line to bring gas to the respective cities.

"In the event cities are not successful in securing competition, they should band together in the construction of a pipe line to trans-

GIRLS ARE GOING BLONDE THIS SPRING, HAIRDRESSERS ADVISE

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25 — A peep behind the scenes at the annual convention of the Philadelphia Hairdressers' association now in session indicated strongly that the girls are going blonde.

Everyone of a dozen glances, in fact, revealed every type of blonde known to the hairdressers' art—ash blondes, platinum blondes, golden blondes, red blondes, yellow blondes and auburns.

"Hardly any woman nowadays leave their hair as it is," explained Miss Kathleen Harris, president of the association. "They either touch it up, dye it or bleach it. Brunettes become blondes, but never blondes brunettes."

The platinum blonde was characterized as the latest. In plain English it means an overbleached blonde head. It is considered quite smart and was derived from Jean Harlow, screen star. Dark eyelashes and eyebrows, dipped to order and guaranteed to be permanent for three weeks, go with it, Miss Harris said.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

STOP SCOLDING PARENTS AND RAISE IDEAL FAMILIES, MORALISTS TOLD

IT SEEMS to be a favorite pastime of preachers, judges and many others who speak and write to parents to scold them forever. "You are responsible if your children go wrong." "The modern parent is the cause of crime." "Parents are not enough concerned about their children." Such are the broadcasts fired against the average father and mother of today.

Granted for argument that the average parent is not sufficiently interested in the care and training of his children, and that a source of crime is the modern home. Those who hear such preaching are not the parents who need it. They are instead, parents like yourself, who earnestly are trying to do about the best they can, and who are willing to make almost any kind of sacrifices for the welfare of their children.

To tell you that you are responsible if your children do not turn out well does not help you, even if such a statement is true. It merely tends to worry you and, indeed, may make you grow to be a less efficient parent.

What you want is to be shown just how you can improve.

Even if we concede that we parents are responsible for the conduct of our children, for their habits and ideals, the word responsible carries a bad moral accusation. It suggests that we do not care. It is not just a matter of caring, and of being conscientious. A lot of us care too much, we are too conscientious, we condemn ourselves too freely.

Moreover, we are morally responsible only in so far as we have light. So long as we have done the best we can, no matter how our children may turn out, why should we be blamed? Only in terms of our motives and our opportunities can we be fairly judged.

None of us knows very much about how to be good parents, and we have had but few opportunities to find out. We are just human beings. Almost before we realized the fact we became parents.

Let the preacher and the moralist cease his wild diatribes upon the parent. Let him proceed to rear an ideal family himself and show us in very concrete ways how to do likewise. Let him call to his assistance sympathetic experts to help him show parents what to do and what not to do, moment by moment, hour by hour, and day by day. Until he is ready to do so let him cease to scold parents, although he gets a lot of pleasure by his chastisements.

He of course, has many difficulties himself in being a good parent, since his task is frequently made harder just because so much is expected of him. But if he will be charitable and will frankly analyze with parents the kind of problems he must meet as well as they, in the care and training of children, not taking a "holier than thou" attitude, he will really get somewhere.

Anyway, we parents, like our children, resent being scolded always. What we want is sympathetic guidance.

FORD COMFORT

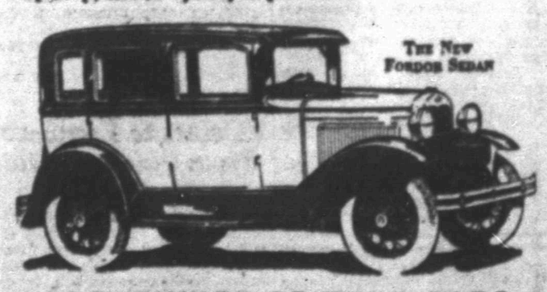

Every new Ford is equipped with four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without strain or fatigue. No matter how long the trip, you know it will bring you safely, quickly, comfortably to the journey's end.

The seats are generously wide, deeply cushioned and carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body. Every new Ford has specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. These work both ways — up and down. They absorb the force of road shocks and also provide a cushion against the rebound of the springs.

Other features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, Rustless Steel and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

MILK SHOULD BE ADDED TO WAFFLE BATTER GRADUALLY

This Method Insures a Smooth, Light, Lumpless Batter

Every cook knows that it is risky to pour all the milk at once into the flour when making waffles. In spite of vigorous stirring the batter will invariably contain lumps.

Coffee roasted in bulk also involves risk. Even the most skilled operator cannot prevent variation in the roast because the quantity is too large to handle. As a result, some of the coffee berries are overdone and some underdone. Such variation in the roast causes variation in flavor.

Realizing this, Hills Bros., in San Francisco, perfected and patented a process that roasts every coffee berry evenly. By automatic control, only a few pounds at a time pass through the roasters in which heat is also automatically controlled. When the coffee finally leaves the roasters, it is perfectly uniform in color and roast and gives a delicious flavor in the cup that no other coffee can equal.

No matter when or where you buy Hills Bros. Coffee, it is as fresh and complete in its exclusive flavor and aroma as when it came from the roasters. This is because Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum—a process that takes air, which destroys coffee flavor, from the can. The ordinary air-tight can does not keep coffee fresh. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab —the trade-mark — on the can.

Thought For Today

Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven.—Psalm 32:1.

There is a man higher than love of happiness; he can do without happiness, and instead thereof find blessedness.—Carlyle.

One Idea

It is a little bit hard to tell whether young Charles Pierce of New York deserves sympathy or a throaty horse laugh.

Pierce, you recall, was a bank clerk. He had a wife, a child, and a small salary. Doctors told him he had tuberculosis and gave him only a year to live. So Pierce decided to make his last year a good one.

He started by stealing $200,000 worth of his employer's bonds. Then leaving his wife and child, he sailed to Havana, where he ran through his money in short order in the usual defaulting-bank-clerk manner—horses, booze and fair-haired playmates. Returning to New York to cash some more of the bonds he was arrested, and a prison term now awaits him.

That is bad enough. But a new examination shows that his health isn't as bad as he had been told. Instead of dying within a year, he is likely to live for a long time.

Probably every man, at one time or another, has turned over in his mind that puzzling question, "What would you do if you only had a year to live?" And it is equally probable that a good many have reached Pierce's conclusion; to go in for a last gay spree regardless of the consequences. But life could not put a more ironic footnote on such a stunt than it provided in Pierce's case.

A good many different morals could be, and probably will be, drawn from all of this. Leaving aside the more obvious ones, it occurs to us that the young man's trouble came chiefly because he had such a hazy and mistaken notion of the way in which happiness can really be attained.

Naturally, if one only has a year to live, one wants to make it as enjoyable a year as possible; and this chap deserves a small bit of pity, not because he cut loose and broke various laws, but because the only way he could think of to gain his end involved nothing but the bar room, the race track and the night club.

No one whose life is even occasionally satisfactory could harbor such a notion in the first place. The tragedy of this young bank clerk, then arises not so much from the idiotic escapade on which he finally embarked, but from the miserable, cramped and cheerless existence that he led before it happened.

His catastrophe mirrors what he was, and what thousands of other small-salaried, hard-working people are. In a world filled with infinite potentialities and marvels, the brightest goal these people can see is the role of coal-oil Johnny. What a commentary on the conditions under which life occasionally has to exist!

His Soldiers

In the death of General Clarence R. Edwards the United States has lost a good soldier and a valuable citizen.

As war-time commander of the 26th division, which had a distinguished record in France, General Edwards proved his mettle as a soldier in a way that left no room for doubt. He turned his New England national guardsmen into first-rate soldiers, and won their admiration and affection as did few other division commanders in the A. E. F.

Indeed, it is that last statement that gives the best measure of the man. Many American generals in the World war did not inspire the regard of their soldiers in the traditional manner. The sheer size of the divisional units, and the strict discipline enforced throughout the war, made this an impossibility for all except the unusual officers. General Edwards, literally, was the idol of the Yankee Division. He needs no better tribute than that.

Skating rinks, says a news item, are to have colored ice. Will hockey teams henceforth win or lose by a shade?

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

AHA! Watson, the needle! There's a libel going the rounds, with Lubbock as the goat.

A Salina, Kansas, newspaper has become all hot and bothered because Lubbock secured some nation-wide publicity through the holding of a 'fast day' for the benefit of the city's poor. The Kansans have taken Lubbock's success so hard that they have seen fit to 'bawl us out,' right slap bang on the editorial page.

Under the heading, "Lubbock To The Front", the Salina editor declares, with much potency and gusto:

"Lubbock, our atlas reveals, is a town in Texas. Lubbock may need publicity. And it seems to have found a way to get it.

"It has had a day of fasting to help the hungry and the unemployed. The theory is that by refraining from eating, the money that would have been spent for food can be donated to the relief fund. It is a fine sounding theory and nothing new. But we wonder if it amounts to anything.

"This country isn't poor. Except in those affected regions where the relief fund is going, there is a mass of food. In fact this has been described as a panic of plenty. There is no need to fast and, with a faint understanding of human nature, at least, we have our doubts about the genuiness of fasting. What Lubbock could do, just as cheaply, more conveniently, and better, would be to donate its sum to the relief fund and go ahead with its meals.

"It is probably true the restaurants were deserted. In an exhibition of this kind people prefer to eat in private and not where they will be seen.

"But it is a time when buying power must get in its work. What Lubbock did, in fact, was to stop buying. It penalized its restaurants and hotels, it spent less money and we doubt if its contributions to the relief fund were greater than with no public spectacular display like a much advertised day of fasting.

"If, however, the people of Lubbock are so poor they could not donate without denying themselves food that day, we would suggest that it be added to the territory to share in the relief. The nation wouldn't even know it had taken on that extra burden."

NOW wouldn't that jar your Grandmother's preserves? It just seems like you can't please some people.

But The Plainsman has a tip for Salina—one that may soothe the Kansas editor's tummyache and that should shut him up.

Our suggestion is that Salina, perfect city that the editorial leads us to believe, spend some of the wealth it is evidently rolling in, by adding a few street lights.

The Plainsman particularly advises that the street lights be placed at the foot of Salina's 'blind street', where the 'blind street' jumps off into the river.

Not long ago some visiting soldiers, unaccustomed to the quaint old Salina custom of refusing to properly illuminate the streets, drove off into the river. One soldier was drowned, two others saved themselves and the car they were driving was ruined—according to one of The Plainsman's private detectives—all because Salina, which The Plainsman's Atlas doesn't include—didn't have lights where lights were needed.

Far be it from this column to libel Salina—to make nasty cracks about Salina—unless it be necessary.

But somebody, somewhere, some time demanded "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth", which in this case is quite attractive

THE PLAINSMAN isn't personally acquainted with Salina. In fact, if he never visits Salina it will be entirely too soon.

But it is this column's experience that it's always a good plan to clean up one's own back yard before criticizing the condition of somebody else's premises.

The Salina case is certainly nothing short of a bright and shining example of the latter adage.

That Man on Avenue Q says billboard advertising may be annoying but you don't have to stop and read it before going on with the program.

Alfalfa Bill Murray, of Oklahoma, is being boomed for the Democratic presidential nomination. Let's see. How many were mentioned in 1928 and 1924?

A friend of The Plainsman spent half a day looking in the New Testament for the story of the Pilgrims' landing.

Anybody ought to know that the account is contained in the Old Testament.

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Congress' Windiest Debaters Were At Their Best In Fight On Moving Senate Chamber; Money Finally Saved

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON Feb. 25.—The well-known Senate which never really did do very much for the unployed and drought sufferers despite frequent promises to fight the House and the administration to a finish on that issue, was more or less consistent when it refused to spend $500,000 for the purpose of letting the blessed sunshine into the Senate chamber.

There was a proposition to move the present chamber bodily to the north wall of the capitol's Senate wing so the sun could get in. And the money had been appropriated. Amazingly enough, the Senate decided to turn the half million dollars back into the treasury. But only after extensive debate on the question whether the present chamber might be considered a deathtrap or a pleasant place where old gents might prolong their years. Some of the windiest boys in the Senate were at their best in this argument.

Senator Royal S. Copeland, who used to be health commissioner of New York City and is now the self-appointed unofficial health commissioner of the Senate, was endorsing an appropriation bill amendment which would keep the half million, appropriated in 1929 for the reconstruction of the Senate wing, available until spent. Dave Reed of Pennsylvania objected that the present chamber was adequate in all respects—acoustics, ventilation and charm—and that the treasury needed the money worse than the Senate needed a change.

Points To Death Rate

Hiram Bingham of Connecticut disputed that, referring to the chamber as "a bomb-proof cellar, devised at a time when senators were afraid somebody might throw a bomb into this body." He complained of the high senatorial death rate, declaring that for seven or eight years about three of the 96 senators had died annually.

Copeland complained that not only were senators being deprived of the violet rays which would reach them if they sat with the sun streaming through windows, but that the sloping wooden floors of the Senate and House chambers made firetraps of the big halls, with carelessness or electric wiring beneath likely to start a blaze any time.

"If we were to wake up in the morning and read that this beautiful structure had been ruined or the building had been mutilated we could hardly face our constituents or the public," he said.

"Nothing can be more insanitary and unhealthful than to live in a room devoid of natural light. Just a little sunlight filters through two of the entrances. We work in artificial light and the situation is dangerous to health. The life of many a faithful senator must have been shortened by it, for the penalty is paid by those most faithful in attendance and a premium is placed on absence. Since I have been in the Senate, 36 or 37 senators have died, if I remember correctly." (Copeland came here in 1923.)

Says He Can Stand It

The senator explained that he himself had been blessed "by heredity and kind providence with a strong vigorous body" and was capable of resisting the evil physical influences as well as any, but that the country wanted senators to "live under conditions which will make their bodies healthy bodies and their thinking clear thinking."

Ashurst of Arizona insisted that everyone knew senators who had served for 30 years or more, years when the chamber was poorly ventilated. Recently one had been buried who had served 35 years. No man, Ashurst said, had ever been known to refuse election to the Senate because he thought the chamber was an unhealthy place. And in the chamber's 70-year history there had been no fire of consequence. Why worry?

Heflin of Alabama declared he had seen "men come here who were frail and thin and in a little while after laboring in this invigorating and health-restoring atmosphere become vigorous and strong." All around him he saw fine, robust, wideawake senators enjoying the best of health. He had asked several if they planned to resign because they weren't getting any sun and they all denied it.

Defends Present Arrangement

In fact, nearly every member of the House yearned for a Senate seat and when a senator dies, "lo, around his empty shoes the hungry legions swarm." Naturally, senators died, often in their '80s. Everybody dies. Said Heflin: "Such a charming, fascinating place as this ought not to be mutilated and changed."

Reed pointed out that Theodore P. Shuey, veteran chief reporter of the Senate, was 86 years old, had been in the Senate for 63 years, and was still going strong and probably spent more time per day in the chamber than any senator. No senator or anyone else ever did a better job, McKellar of Tennessee added, wishing Shuey "many, many, many, many more days in this body."

Claude Swanson of Virginia arose as one who had conferred with experts. The air pumped into the chamber, he said, was laden with violet rays from the sun to which it had been exposed. Any time senators wanted sunshine, he added, they could step right out and get it.

"It is very evident," said Copeland, finally "that this important matter is going to be laughed out of court.

"Go ahead, I will outlive a lot of you, anybody"

HEAT METHOD OF SURGERY IS DISCUSSED

SURGICAL DIATHERMY, like medical diathermy, is the production of heat in the tissues to which it is applied, by means of a high frequency electric current. The heat used in surgical diathermy is much higher than in the medical form, so high indeed that it cauterizes and destroys the tissues to which it is applied. Its effect is really no different from that of a cautery, but it has several technical advantages over a cautery—it can be better controlled.

Dr. Clendening

Its use in small tumors in inaccessible places, such as in the back of the throat and in the bladder is well demonstrated.

The use about which the greatest amount of interest is aroused, to judge by the letters and inquiries I have received, is for removal of the tonsils. I have investigated and studied the question at some length and intend to set down here the plainest facts about the matter as I have been able to gather them, attempting to be neither a dangerously enthusiastic advocate nor the too conservative opponent of a new method.

Diathermy may be used to remove the tonsils in one of two ways. First, at a single sitting. Either a local or a general anesthetic must be used. One electrode is placed on the patient's skin, preferably on the back of the neck. The other electrode, a small needle in which a large amount of the heat is generated, is run around each tonsil until it is completely destroyed. There is some pain and sloughing. The patient has to remain quiet for several days.

The other method requires from four to six treatments for each tonsil. A part of the tonsil is destroyed at each sitting. A local anesthetic is used. There is little discomfort and little disability or necessity of remaining in bed after the procedure.

Judging the advantages or disadvantages of the diathermy removal of tonsils over the regular surgical procedure I can see little difference between the single procedure, whether diathermy or surgery is used. Both require a period of disability and involve some discomfort. In expert hands, the man familiar with his own method—surgery or diathermy—will give about equal results.

The removal in several stages by diathermy seems to offer some advantage to those who care to afford the time. There is little pain or disability. Children cannot usually be persuaded to undergo the several treatments necessary, I gather, so it is applicable almost entirely to adults.

Schwab Says Slowly Improvement Better

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Business conditions are improving slowly, gradually and surely in the opinion of Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel corporation, who returned on the steamer Virginia today from a two weeks vacation in Havana.

"I am glad to see gradual improvement," he said. "I would rather have it that way than for things to come back with a big rush, for business will be on a sounder basis than before."

MARRAKECH, Morocco, Feb. 25—This is the last stand of the Arabian Nights.

Wherever, in the course of years, you chanced to drop the tales of caliphs and Alladins and genii, this is the place to pick them up again. It is, to be sure, an Arabian Nights in a slightly French edition. There is a binding of bright and shiny white homes in the French colony, two miles from the city, and a few incidental illustrations furnished by tourists and such.

But of all North Africa where a modern civilization has introduced its gay hotels, its plumbing and heating, Marrakech has succeeded best in preserving intact the flavor of old magic.

This flavor gets under your tongue about half an hour before the city itself is reached and grows stronger as a brilliant red clay foreground is accentuated in tone by the greens of slender palms and the glistening white of snow enfolding the Atlas mountains in the background.

Marrakech, "the red," they call it. And Marrakech, "the red," it is. Marrakech, almost as old as time itself, and seeming older to foreign eyes. Marrakech—a pageant in colorful market places; sentineled by the brilliant Koutoubia tower, loftiest of the minarets and most splendid in gaudy tilings—

Marrakech, which breaks in a red splendor and echoes to the beating of the drums of Soudan, of Senegalese tribes, of Andalusia, and the nasal songs and pipings of all Africa—

With camels, parked like so many autos while tens of thousands of burnoosed traders plod through its twisted lanes . . . With donkeys carrying their burdens of patriarchal old fellows. . . . With dank, four-smelling alleyways. . . . Artisans beating gold and silver, as their forefathers beat gold and silver. . . . Other artisans working over bits of leather. . . . Primitive weaverkers bent low over primitive tools while bared toes guide pliant knives over the carved designs. . . .

Hordes of figures in flowing white garments gathering in the dozen-and-one trading squares. . . . Women sitting in long rows over ancient grinding stones, turning grain into flour. . . . Huge vats of rainbow-hued dyes, over which giant blacks churn while streaks of blinding color come from the wools and silks lift in huge skeins to dry in the sun. . . .

Pelts of freshly killed animals strewn upon the ground to dry in the sun and be trod upon by a thousand careless feet. . . . The vast Mullah of the Jews. . . . Mysterious alleyways leading to mysterious doorways, filth piled as a doormat, but behind these doors room of staggering Oriental beauty.

Faces that seemed stamped by the ages. . . . Gayly clad merchants squatting in the midst of their wares, perched high over dates and figs. . . . Cubby holes revealing merchants who sleep among the rugs they will seek to sell. . . . Little crannies that the sun never reaches, and where, from the cradle to the grave, a lift is passed.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The elephant's trainer soon came near and said, What's going on 'round here? My husky pet seems tickled pink. What have you youngsters done? He likes all lads who treat him right, but, even so, we tie him tight 'cause sometimes he gets rather mad and makes we fellows run."

"Oh, he feels quite all right toward us," said Clowny. "He won't make a fuss. We've fed him lots of peanuts. He was hungry as could be. No doubt that's what he likes us for. I think I'll go and buy some more. I'll bring them back here shortly, if you all will wait for me."

"Hey, wait a minute," cried the man. "I think he's eaten all he can. It isn't good for him to stuff 'cause it might make him sick. I'll get a pail of water now. The elephant will show you how he drinks it up with one long swish. It's really pretty slick.

"I'll carry it," wee Scouty cried. He rused up to the keeper's side and took the pail. He shortly had it filled up to the top. It then was set upon the ground. The elephant just reached around and started drinking quickly. Soon he'd taken every drop.

"He wants some more," the keeper said. "One of you Tinies go ahead and fill the pail. We'll wait right here until you bring it back." This time kind Clowny lent a hand, but in the water spilled some sand. Said Scouty, "You will soon find out that common sense you lack."

And he was right. The monstrous beast took one long drink and then released a thundering snort. This scared the bunch and they began to fret. The elephant then raised his trunk and, with the water he had drunk, sprayed Clowny till the startled lad was simply soaking wet.

"OLD FAITHFUL" TRIED HIS BEST

RHEUMATIC CRIPPLE'S HORSE ENDEAVORED TO SAVE HIS MASTER FROM DYING IN FLAMES

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—For years Patrick Dooley, 65, a rheumatic cripple and his horse, "Old Faithful" lived together in a one story patched up shack.

"Old Faithful" slept in the rear. Dooley had his quarters in the front.

A door separated them during sleeping hours, but during working hours they were always together, doing little odd jobs of hauling that paid dividends to both.

Sunday night Dooley sat in his chair in the front section of the house, fast asleep. Fire broke out along the straw covered quarters of "Old Faithful." Dooley slept on, undisturbed. Four policemen burst in and had Dooley taken to a hospital, but they weren't able to rescue "Old Faithful."

On the door leading to Dooley's room the police reported they had found fresh horseshoe marks. They said they believed "Old Faithful" was trying to be faithful to the end by pawing the door to warn his master.

Dooley may recover.

Railroads Won't Pay Donations Freight

WINFIELD, Kas., Feb. 25 (AP)—The plan of Cowley county farmers to send relief cars of hay and grain to drouth stricken farmers in Arkansas was halted temporarily today when they learned railways were not handling such shipments without payment of freight.

Upon receiving this information the farmers immediately set about to raise money for the freight bill on one car of hay now ready for shipment and a carload of grain which will be ready soon, E. H. Aicher, county farm agent said. A large number of eggs also are being gathered for shipment to the drouth area.

Tree specimens found 120 feet below the surface in Seattle, Wash., have been identified as coast redwood, estimated to be 40,000 years old.

POST IS HOST TO PIONEERS

OLD TIMERS OF AREA ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT IN FEED

BY CHAS. GUY
Journal Staff Writer

POST, Feb. 25.—Guests numbering about 125 gathered in this city Tuesday night from a radius of 165 miles, the affair marking the annual Old Settlers dinner of the Post Rotary club. Stories of pioneer days ran the rounds of the banquet table and a feeling of comradeship was evident.

With Bob Warren, presidents of the Rotary club, presiding, the affair was held in Rotary hall here. A number of Lubbock men attended, including C. A. Sheffield, S. K. Gilkerson, Ross Edwards, S. K. Bynum and Chas. A. Guy.

Address of welcome was made by Mr. Warren while Mrs. A. W. Bouchier's five-piece orchestra played during serving of the dinner.

Invocation was by Rev. C. A. Jones of Post.

Mr. Bynum, who settled in West Texas in 1881, proposed that the Post Rotary club adopt a plan for erection of monuments over graves of pioneers during the 1931 encampment at Two-Draw lake of South Plains Area Council Boy Scouts. Rotarians accepted the plan unanimously and announced that they would confer with officials of the Boy Scout council in connection with a suggestion that scouts erect the monuments. First pledge of money to aid in the project was for $10 and was made by Mr. Sheffield.

Judge J. M. Boren, first judge of Garza county to which he came 39 years ago; J. F. Maxey, early day county commissioner and a Garza county resident for 28 years, and Dr. J. D. Davis of Roby were among the speakers.

Recalling experiences in the West Texas cow country, when polecat oil was a medicine and physicians went to their patients on horseback, Doctor Davis described Tom Davis as the first "dude" to come to West Texas.

Denies Charges.

Pushing his chair back from the proverbial festive board, Mr. Davis arose and denied the doctor's allegation that he had been a "dude."

Frank Parker of Roby, J. Wright Moore of Scurry county, John Mason of Post, Ed Scott and Rev. M. C. Bishop of Post were other extemporaneous speakers.

A pioneer buffalo hunter who invaded this territory in 1873, Mr. Moore spun yarns of his hunting days and announced that he had willed his white buffalo hide to the Smithsonian institute, which would receive the hide following his death. The animal from which the hide was taken was killed by Mr. Moore, who is credited with having bagged the only white buffalo in West Texas history.

After arriving in the Plains country, he had no money with which to leave and consequently now is an old settler. That was Mr. Mason's version of his pioneering. He has lived in the Post vicinity the last 50 years.

Self-styled "most crippled cowboy," Mr. Scott declared that he was ready to ride a broncho even though his legs had been broken four times.

An old fiddler, J. D. Hoffman, of Garza county, performed to be applauded by some who perceived him clearly as a fiddler and some who merely felt that clapping of hands was appropriate.

Mr. Bynum, Mr. Mason, Charles Morrow and "Doc" Knox presented square and clog dances to the accompaniment of Ross Edwards and his "Connecticut Yankees."

AREA OBJECTS TO TRAIN CUT

SECRETARIES ACT ON CHANGE TUESDAY IN SESSION HERE

Announcement was made here late Tuesday that a number of South Plains cities will telegraph protests to C. V. Terrell, chairman of the state railroad commission, objecting to a proposal of the Texas and Pacific railroad to consolidate two trains between Dallas and Sweetwater.

The announcement was made following a meeting here yesterday afternoon of several chamber of commerce secretaries at Hotel Lubbock.

Lubbock and other cities of this area contend that the consolidation would interfere with mail delivery schedules throughout this area.

Decision Reached

Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka, Amherst, Littlefield and Plainview chamber of commerce secretaries attended a meeting here Tuesday at which decision was reached to send protests to Chairman Terrell. The reservation that such intervention would not be effected until citizens of the towns had been consulted was not expected to eliminate any of the proposed protests, as mail delivery would be delayed as much as 24 hours of the railroad's application were granted.

South Plains towns probably will present data showing affect of the proposed consolidation on mail delivery when the hearing is reconvened next Monday.

The chamber secretaries were guests of the local chamber at a luncheon Tuesday noon in conjunction with the West Texas City Officials association and went into session immediately afterwards. Cities invited to have representatives at the conference were: Slaton, Post, Wilson, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Meadow, Ropes, Brownfield, Seagraves, Levelland, Littlefield, Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Abernathy and Hale Center.

Lubbock chamber officials contend that the convenience and necessity of the South Plains towns served by the Santa Fe is of more importance than the convenience and necessity of towns on the main line of the T. & P. from Sweetwater west, for the reason that the towns west of Sweetwater are adequately served by other T. & P. trains.

Italy expects a general revival of interest in American products this year.

Magazine Says Oil Company Pays Half

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—It would not be strange, comments the Lamp publication of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey if an oil man in Texas absentmindedly transposed the "E" and "A" and called his state "taxes."

"For the petroleum industry, directly and indirectly, pays the tax collector well over half the cost of government of the Lone Star state," says the Lamp.

It cites figures supplied by the North Texas Oil and Gas association estimating taxes of the Texas oil industry in 1930, including the charge on gasoline paid by consumers, at $44,154,736 of the total state revenue from taxation of $77,642,721 or approximately 56 per cent.

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

The big towns with the big chools have it over the smaller places when it comes to football. By 'big towns' we mean centers of civilization with a Chamber of Commerce and a water system. But in basketball the names of the smaller places, not big enough to be printed on a map and designated according to size by the number of stores and not by population, break into print. It is especially so about this time when the interscholastic league basketball season nears its close.

Glance at the list of district champions, twenty-six of them, and see how many places you remember. Of the 26 winners in last week's district tournaments, 22 of them are from towns of less than 10,000. Five have less than 700 inhabitants. Three are mentioned as having three stores, four stores and five stores. They are Locker of San Saba county, Yancey, Medina county, and Geber, Fannin county. The largest town harboring a district coke champion is Denton. Plainview, with its 8,834 is next. Bryan, Breckenridge and Mexia are the other largest.

Few, if any, of these smaller places even pretend to have football. You could not find a football uniform on the place, and the boys might be entirely immune to pigskin, but they concentrate on basketball and they win. They know nothing else. The larger schools stress football and consider basketball a minor sport, not worthy of much support. The result is in favor of Gooseberry Knoll.

A man or a group of men in Spur, names unbeknown to us, will find a neat bouquet of complimentary flowers if he or they will call at this office. We would like very much to meet him or them. It would be an education in itself to know persons who can exert as much pressure on promising football talent as the Spur party. As a result of his fine work two of the best high school football players in West Texas have forsaken the colleges of this section and have journeyed to distant College Station, there to be counted as two of the 2,500-odd Aggies already there. They will report for spring football training and, presumably, for the varsity team next fall, provided they stay with summer school.

Every known effort was made by friends of Texas Tech to procure the signatures of Brode Puckett and C. W. Barrett on entry blanks at the local college. We remember attending a banquet in honor of that strong Spur Bulldog outfit of last fall, and one of the city fathers arose in the midst of merriment and made it in the form of a motion that carried absolutely unanimously that all of Spur's graduating gridsters enroll at Texas Tech, Lubbock, Texas, there to be followed by their friends through a successful gridiron career. The players agreed and were served an extra helping of ice cream and cake. Before and after that banquet Tech supporters had pleaded earnestly and honestly with the Bulldog graduates and had secured potential promises. Now comes the announcement that the pick of the crop has gone to Aggieland, and we marvel at the pressure brought to bear by Aggie alumni and exes.

Mystery shrouds last Sunday's activity at the Lubbock Country club. Jo Dick Slaughter is alleged to have won the driving contest Sunday morning but, believe it or not, Jo Dick has failed to put in an appearance at this office since then. Slaughter is supposed to be chairman of the tournament committee for the Country Club but as a source of information concerning the outcome of tournaments, etc., he's a first class duffer. He's admittedly in charge of the ladder tournament, but it is doubtful if he knows where the ladder is. At any rate, the names on the ladder have not been posted for two weeks. Joseph Byrne is professional at the club and also keeper of the score cards. But compared to finding Byrne when you want a score, the proverbial search for a needle in a straw-stack is child's play.

We understand Ross McWhorter came out second in the driving contest, but we need more proof before we put it in the records as final. About the only way Ross could win second place would be to play as second man in a tournament of two golfers, and we are told there were three in the driving contest.

But they'll snap out of it, these Country Clubmen, sooner or later. You can't hold an organization down when such men as Wesley Read, Ross McWhorter, Jo Dick Slaughter and J. O. Smith are at its head. And with that all-star, "Doodles" Bowen, whom we've never met, as a member with dues paid the club can never fail! He's the man, so the story goes, who fell off a fairway on a Tom Thumb golf course.

S. M. U. Athlete Is Appendicitis Victim

DALLAS, Feb. 25. (AP)—Gene Hamilter, 21, Southern Methodist University football and track star, died here last night from effects of an operation Saturday for appendicitis. He was a sophomore and former athlete at Forest Avenue high school of Dallas.

TECH TO BRING PHELAND AND WADE HERE

AUGUST FIRST IS DATE SET FOR COACHING SCHOOL

Definite and official announcement that Lubbock would be the site for West Texas' first big coaching school was made yesterday by P. W. Cawthon, head coach at Texas Tech, upon receipt of messages of confirmation from Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington mentor, and Wallace Wade, head coach at Duke University.

The school will be held during the first two weeks of August at the Texas Tech gymnasium. Phelan and Wade will conduct the course jointly, arriving here shortly before August 1.

Casi For Choices

The selection of Phelan and Wade came about as a result of letters sent to coaches in West Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado asking that votes be cast for choices. The first choice went to Phelan, with Wade running a close second. Cawthon reports that wide interest has been taken in the proposed school and that he expects a large number of mentors to enroll for the two weeks' course here.

Phelan, one of the youngest coaches in the business, stepped into national prominence in 1929 when he skippered the Purdue University Boilermakers to a Big Ten Conference championship. His work at the University of Washington during the last two seasons has been typical of his ability, though a shortage of material prevented a championship.

Wallace Wade is another of the nation's youngest mentors. His outstanding work with the Crimson Tide of the Universbity of Alabama has given him wide popularity. Three times he has taken the Crimsons to California to participate in the Tournament of Roses. The season of 1930 saw the 'Bamans through an undefeated season, winners for the third time in the Rose Bowl, this time against Washington State's Cougars.

'PA' HOPES TO STAGE SHOW

RAIN FORCES FIGHT POSTPONEMENT ON LAST EVENING

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25.—Weather permitting, "Pa" Stribling hoped to marshal his fistic forces tonight for a heavyweight show topped by a 10-round bout between Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, and Johnny Risko of Cleveland.

The card, arranged as the first of two possible carnivals of sock in Miami, was postponed from last night because of rain.

The prospects were for clearing weather this afternoon and favorable, if not actually moon-lit and balmy atmosphere for the evening.

Promoter Stribling hoped to go over his "top" of a $50,000 gate for the show, which will include exhibitions by the forthcoming heavyweight title rivals, Max Schmeling and W. L. (Young) Stribling.

The fate of tonight's bouts, artistically as well as financially may have a bearing on plans for the second show March 5 when Primo Carnera is slated to meet Jimmy Maloney of Boston at 10 rounds under direction of Frank J. Bruen, general manager of the Miami racing association.

Three Cowboys Tied In Rodeo Opening

SALINAS, Cal., Feb. 25 (AP)—Three cowboys started the 1931 rodeo season in a tie for first place for the Rodeo Association of America championship, Fred S. McCargar, secretary of the association announced here today.

Pete Knight, Calgary, John Bowman, Trent, Tex., and Shorty Ricker, Bridgewater, Neb., finished the first rodeo, yesterday at Tucson, Ariz., with 200 points each.

Knight won the bucking horse contest, Bowman the calf roping and Ricker the bull dogging.

Track Stars Meet In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Track and field stars from three foreign countries and from eighteen of the United States seek individual titles in the National A. A. U. championships in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Among the entries are 31 American, French, Swiss, Canadian or intercollegiate champions, eight worlds record-holders and 16 owners of American records.

Serephin Martin and Paul Keller of France bring their brief American tour to an end in this meet; Switzerland is represented by Dr. Paul Martin, and Canada by Phil Edwards of the Hamilton Olympic club.

Several farm-relief measures were inaugurated recently in Czechoslovakia.

KEEPING IT HOT

Stove League Gossip

LESS THAN a month remains before the old Hot Stove league disbands and the training camp exhibition season starts. When the big league clubs begin their tours and pre-season games is when the fuel that kept the Hot Stove simmering during the cold spell is revealed as fact or fancy.

* * *

Strangely enough, this year the exhibition games season opens with a continuation of last year's world series. To start their pennant repeating campaign the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cards will clash in a series of three tryout tilts.

* * *

By winning all three the Cards can make their 1930-1931 score against the Athletics read five victories and four defeats. But the A's will still be world champions.

More important is the news that Chicago and Cleveland open their American league season at Cleveland with a possibility of Ted Lyons, Sox mound star, facing Wesley Ferrell, brilliant Indian hurler, in the opener.

And the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, close pennant rivals a season or so ago, and possibly again this year, open the National league campaign together at Chicago in the initial day feature for the senior circuit.

Though the Lyons-Ferrell battle—if it comes to pass—will attract a great deal of attention, the American league's opening day feature will be the bout between Washington and Philadelphia at Washington. The Sens were the A's greatest competitors last year and are expected to give Connie Mack plenty of trouble this season.

* * *

But most interesting of all—at least to this department—is what sluggers in both leagues may do or man not do against the new "deader" ball, the opening day games being the new sphere's first real test.

Charlie Parsons Dies Last Night

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25. (AP)—Charlie Parsons, 48, a quarter of a century ago America's foremost sprinter, died of heart disease last night.

Parsons died just four days before his son, Charlie Parsons, jr., was to make his debut on the cinder path for the university of Southern California, for which his father ran.

Parsons was credited with a 9 4-5 second mark in the 100-yard dash against Archie Hahn, and won both the 100 and 200-yard dashes at the World's Fair in St. Louis in 1904, defeating Nick Cartmell. He ran the 440 in 49 seconds.

Woman Who Sued Gene Ill From Poison

DALLAS, Feb. 25. (AP)—A woman registered in a hospital here as Mrs. Katherine King and identified in a news story printed by the Dallas Times-Herald as Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, plaintiff in a $200,000 suit against Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, was recovering today from minor effects of a poison tablet.

Fattened Cattle Are Shipped To Market

CARLSBAD, N. M., Feb. 25—(Staff Special)—One hundred cars of cattle or about 3,300 head, are being shipped from Clovis after the animals had been fed on a special preparation at the Otis Gin and Warehouse feed lots at Otis, near here.

The cattle came mostly from local ranges. They were fed the mixture of 75 per cent cottonseed hulls, mixed by machinery here and 25 per cent cottonseed meal.

Shipments now run about five to eight car loads a week. The animals go mostly to Fort Worth and Kansas City markets, the former getting the greater proportion.

SAVOLDI WINS AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame half back, defeated Howard Cantonwine, Iowa heavyweight wrestler, in two straight falls last night. It was Savoldi's second professional appearance on the mat. Savoldi took both falls with flying tackles, the first in nineteen minutes and the second nine minutes later. Cantonwine weighed 225 and Savoldi 205.

HOPPE AND COCHRAN TIED

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Willie Hoppe of New York and Welker Cochran of Hollywood were in a tie for first place in the international 18.2 balkline billiards tournament today with two victories and no defeats. The other participants, Kinrey Matsuyama and Eric Hagensacher, had lost two games each.

GOES TO FORT BLISS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The war department today announced that the Goodrich Trophy training test award for 1930 had been given to troop A, Eighth cavalry at Fort Bliss, at El Paso, for highest efficiency rifle and pistol firing.

FIRST HALF IS DISASTROUS TO LOCALS

RALLY FALLS SHORT OF VICTORY IN LAST HALF OF GAME

(Special To The Journal)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 25—The New Mexico University Lobos were too hot in the first half for the Texas Tech Matadors here last night and managed to hang up a lead which took them to a 32 to 29 victory over the Texas outfit. The Matadors staged a brilliant last half rally which threatened the Lobo lead but the final gun stopped them just three points from a tie.

The return of Babe Brown, Lobo forward veteran, to last year's shooting form accounted largely for the New Mexico victory. Brown has been having trouble finding the basket all season but he connected with six baskets from the floor last night and added two charity tosses, five of his baskets came in the first half.

Hodges, Fisher Rally

The Lobos held a twenty-six to thirteen lead at the end of the half but Captain Hodges and Baldy Fisher kept Tech in the game by sinking long ones in the last half. Hodges made four goals, all of them in the last half. Fisher sank three in the initial period and two in the finale.

The New Mexico boys were hot early in the game and at one time held a lead of eighteen to one. Only two personal fouls were called on Tech. Tech made only three free throws out of nine chances.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

AKRON, O. — Meyer (K. O.) Christner, Akron, outpointed Emmett Rocco, Ellwod City, Pa., (10), newspaper concensus.

INDIANAPOLIS — Midget Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, O., and Phil Zwick, Cleveland, drew, (10).

OKLAHOMA CITY — Cowboy Owen Phelps, Montana, knocked out Sailor Enright, Philadelphia, (1).

LOS ANGELES — Ernie Schaaf, Boston, outpointed Dynamite Jackson, Los Angeles, (10).

TILDEN WINS AGAIN

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25 (AP) — William Tilden, former amateur tennis king, defeated Karel Kozeluh, of Czecho-Slovakia, 6-6, 6-2, 6-3, here last night in the sixth of a series of matches for the world's professional indoor championships.

Francis T. Hunter lost to Emmet Pare 6-3, 6-2. Kozeluh and Pare defeated Tilden and Hunter 6-4, 6-2, in doubles.

POP UPS AND BINGLES FROM THE SPRING TRAINING CAMPS

PRACTICE FOR CUBS ON PRODUCTION BASIS

AVALON, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Practice for the Chicago Cubs was put on a production basis today, with the entire squad assembled and ready for work. The members of the second squad, infielders and outfielders, reached Catalina Island yesterday, but were not ordered to work by Manager Hornsby, who let them watch the Gabby Hartnetts beat the Pat Malones, 6 to 2, in a short contest.

YANKS HAVE TALLEST AND HEAVIEST HURLERS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—It appears the New York Yankees will have this year not only the tallest pitcher in the majors but the one with the greatest gross tonnage as well.

Jim Weaver, from Baltimore, stands six feet seven inches with or without socks, while Walter Brown, former Cleveland pitcher, sends the weight indicator around to 235 pounds.

BENDER SAYS PARMALEE'S FEET JUST MIXED UP

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Chief Bender, hired by the New York Giants especially to find out what's the matter with Roy Parmalee, young right hander, thinks he has found the answer.

"It's his feet," says the wily chief. "If I can teach him how to use them correctly he soon will overcome his lack of control."

UNCLE WILBERT CAN'T FIND HIS CATCHERS

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Uncle Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, has so many pitchers running around here that they get under his feet but he can't find his catchers.

Paul Richards, a rookie, is the only receiver on hand. Al Lopez is fighting off an attack of influenza at Tampa; Ernest Lombardi is supposed to be waiting for the Oakland club to give him a slice of the money Brooklyn paid for him, and no one knows what's happened to Val Picinich.

WHITE SOX BATTERYMEN WANT TO USE WILLOW

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 25 (AP) — Chicago White Sox batterymen were hoping that Manager Donie Bush would let them use bats today, instead of restricting their activities to tossing the ball around and chasing flies. Bush has decreed that the only bat shall be a fungo club, to be used by himself, Coach Barney Kelly or Pat Page, former Indiana university football coach, who is visiting the training camp.

The only non-member of the pitching and catching department to arrive was Irving Jeffries, infielder, who beat the rest of the second squad to try to work off excess poundage.

DUBUC SAYS TIGERS TO BE 20 PER CENT BETTER

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Jean Dubuc, former star hurler and now Tiger coach, believes that the Detroit American league team will be "at least 20 per cent better" this year than the aggregation which finished in fifth place in 1930. A more finished pitching staff and more punch in the outfield, Dubuc gives as reasons for his confidence in the team.

JOHNNY HEVING GETTING PLENTY OF PRACTICE

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP) —Johnny Heving, new catcher with the champion Philadelphia Athletics, is getting plenty of pre-season practice. With Mickey Cochrane not yet working out because of a recent illness, Heving more than has his hands full working with the 15 pitchers now in camp. He came to the A's from the Boston Red Sox. All Heving's major league experience was with a tail-end club. He batted .277 with Boston last year.

CHICK HAFEY HOLDING OUT ON CARDS, RUMOR

BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Rumors afloat in the Cardinal's training camp here have it that Charles (Chick) Hafey, slugging outfielder from California, is the only holdout member of the 1930 National league champions. Club officials are as loquacious as a clam on the subject. Members of the club have heard Chick's safety deposit box contains a nice variety of gilt-edged securities.

ONE LONG DRILL EVERY DAY BROWNS' PROGRAM

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb 25 (AP)—One long drill a day, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., with a brief time out for lunch, will be the daily program of the Browns while in training camp here. Manager Bill Killefer told the players he would adhere strictly to the program until the exhibition games start on March 8. Fifteen players now are in camp, and several more were due today.

American Cigar Co.

New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

I am very glad to endorse your advertising campaign which so effectively cooperates with many non-commercial organizations seeking to fight disease.

Your advertisements warn against the danger to health in the "Spit-tipping" method of cigar manufacture and the affront to decency in such methods. You are thus helping awaken the public to the ever existent danger in spitting wherever this nuisance may occur.

Public health organizations have for years felt the need of such cooperation a commercial institutions may give in stressing the danger to health in such practices.

If publication of this letter will be of any use to you please be assured of my full permission to so use it over my signature.

Very truly yours,
Earl Musselman
Health Commissioner

ABERNATHY IS BANQUET HOST

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED PRESENT LAST NIGHT IN ANNUAL EVENT

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Staff Correspondent

ABERNATHY, Feb. 25—Nearly 200 people attended the annual banquet of the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce in the Poole building here last night to hear about the work of that organization and to mingle in a spirit of fellowship and friendship with visitors from other towns on the South Plains.

The affair was one of the most successful in the history of Abernathy, with a larger attendance than had been expected, so that 25 or 30 home folk had to wait for the "second table" so that the visitors could be served.

Four Towns Represented

Delegations were present from four other towns, four from Anton, two from Petersburg, seven from Plainview and four from Lubbock, as well as five from Tuco, the new community two and a half miles north of town, where the Texas Utilities company has erected a huge power plant.

The meal was prepared by the 25 girls of the home economics department of the Abernathy high school, under the capable direction of Miss Lillie Belle Woods, vocational teacher, and served by the girls.

Orchestra Is Heard

Preceding the serving, a program of popular numbers was given by the Abernathy orchestra. Invocation was said by Rev. H. W. Barnett, pastor of the Methodist church.

Ray Pinson, vice-president of the chamber of commerce, was the toastmaster. Mrs. Ebb Coffman sang a solo, with Mrs. Leonard Harral as her accompanist and Miss Margaret Thompson also sang. Miss Lucile Heggan was her accompanist.

As a special number Mrs. Herschel Gibbons played a piano number, Gene Brock, well known Abernathy musician, played a violin solo and Miss Heggan presided at the piano.

Pinson Welcomes

In welcoming the guests, Toastmaster Pinson said, "the chamber of commerce, as a body, is indeed glad to see so many of our home folks here" and "more than glad to have so many out of town visitors."

President G. W. Ragland in extending greetings to the visitors, told of the activities of the chamber of commerce. He spoke of the securing of lights at the Santa Fe depot, the sponsoring of the fall fair in 1924, 1925 and 1926 and the addition of a new rural mail route and extensions to three others. The establishment of a rural telephone line to the community west of town, the laying out of the site for the power plant by Charles Hurst, two trade seasons with a Saturday trades day and two poultry shows and one dairy show also were mentioned.

L. S. Kinder, Plainview, pioneer jurist of the South Plains, recalled the fact in a few remarks that he had represented Hale county in the famous county line dispute with Lubbock county that might have changed the location of Abernathy. He also mentioned Sam Merrill, former Abernathy boy, who is now one of the leading attorneys and business leaders of Houston.

Dean Leidigh Talks

"If this agricultural depression continues, it may even get us to eating more home products," Dean A. H. Leidigh of the School of Agriculture of Texas Technological college, said in his opening remarks. Dean Leidigh was spokesman for the Lubbock delegation. "One of the greatest things of an occasion like this is to bring the people together," he said in speaking of the mission of a small town. "The small town will get larger if it fulfills its mission," he added, pointing out that "a small town is not exclusively a place where retired farmers may make their home."

"Serving the rural population," is the mission of a town or a small city, he declared. One of the factors in the growth of the South Plains has been the "supreme, undying optimism of West Texas."

H. S. Hilburn, editor of the Plainview Daily Herald, spoke of the work of the boys of the vocational agriculture classes of the Abernathy high school in staging two splendid poultry and dairy shows.

Clyde Martin, of Petersburg, brought greeting from that city to Abernathy.

Shipp Makes Address

Grady Shipp, manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, was the principal speaker of the evening. It was his first address for Abernathy and he was given splendid attention. In telling of the reply of a small railroad executive to the president of the Pennsylvania system that had refused his pass, Mr. Shipp turned to President Ragland and said, "your chamber of commerce may not be just as large as some other towns, but it is just as effective.

Some of the obligations of citizens of a community are, he said, the application of perseverence, judgment and courage. There are "too many" he said who, "skim off the cream and leave only the skim milk when they come to paying their debts to the community.

In referring to the "spit and whittle" club and its activities in so often knocking the city administration or chamber of commerce of a town, the speaker added "many men are born in the objective case."

"Imposible is not in the vocabulary of West Texas" he declared. The present depression, he said, according to some authorities was "brought about by a consumers timidity." This timidity, he said, is "constant fear that has frozen the channels of commerce."

Several home products were used in the banquet, including cheese sandwiches, the cheese being made in Abernathy in the only factory making that product on the South Plains. Home made ice cream also was served.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Wide irregularity characterized the earlier stock trading today. Losses of about 1 to 5 points during the first half hour of heavy profit-taking were either cancelled or reduced in a vigorous upturn led by the merchandising issues, but the higher prices induced further selling and numerous specialties dipped below their previous lows of the morning.

Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak were heavy, losing about 5, while Worthington Pump and Byers dropped more than 3. U. S. Steel eased at the opening, snapped back to duplicate yesterday's high of 150 1-2 and then eased again. American Can sank about a point under Tuesday's close. Extreme gains of 1 to 2 points in R. H. Macy, Sear Roebuck, Simmons, Montgomery Ward and Safeway Stores were modified. Westinghouse, Electric Auto Lite and American & Foreign Power sagged 2 o 21-2.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25. (AP)—Cotton had an active and firm opening. Liverpool came in better than due and reported sales of 10,000 bales of spots, the largest sales in some time, indicating a broader demand. First trades here showed gains of 16 to 17 points and the market continued firm at the top for a while but eventually eased off on rather active liquidation and selling by ring traders to force a reaction. May eased off from 11.65 to 11.54, down 11 points, while October declined 12.05 down 9 points from the top.

At the end of the first hour the market was steadier, but near the lows. Additional notices for 6,000 bales on March deliveries were issued today.

The market continued to ease off steadily all morning, owing to rather heavy liquidation and selling by ring traders on the ground that the technical position had weakened. May traded down to 11.48, July to 11.74, and October to 12.00, or 14 to 17 points below the early highs and about on a parity with yesterday's close.

Trading was less active towards noon.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Cotton opened steady 14 to 18 points higher in response to firmness in Liverpool, a further advance in Egyptian cotton at Alexandria, and reports of continued trade buying partly for foreign account.

May sold up to 11.65 and October to 12.18, making new high ground for the present movement but the market met considerable realizing at these figures. There was also a little southern selling and the market lost 6 or 10 points of the initial advance by the end of the first half hour. A few additional March notices were issued this morning but were without much effect on the market.

The volume of business tapered off considerably later in the morning, and prices worked down several points from the high levels of the morning under realizing combined with some southern selling. May contracts sold back to 11.50, or within three points of yesterday's closing quotations, while March reacted to 11.23, but the market held fairly steady around these figures at midday or about net unchanged to 6 points higher. Cable advices were said to have been received in the trade here indicating that Japanese mills were refusing to follow the advance.

ROTARY ANNS ARE BANQUET GUESTS

Attended by about 100 local Rotarians and Rotary Anns, the annual Ladies' Night program of the Lubbock Rotary club was held Tuesday night in the ballroom of Hotel Lubbock. The affair was designed to commemorate the birthday of George Washington.

Dr. W. A. Jackson, president of the club, presided and Rev. Walter P. Jennings was chairman of the program.

"George Washington" was the subject chosen by the principal speaker, Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college. Extending the scheme of decorations in observance of Washington's birthday, the menu included cherry pie.

Invocation was delivered by Rev. Mr. Jennings, after which group singing was led by Ethridge Eagan, organization director of the First Methodist Episcopal church, accompanied at the piano by W. W. Rix.

Extemporaneous talks were made during the dinner program by Mrs. E. L. Robertson, Mrs. W. P. Jennings, Mrs. Charles J. Wagner, and Spencer A. Wells.

UTILITIES CASE

public utilities argued far into last night and then recessed to continue the hearing this afternoon.

The main arguments today will center between Representative Petsch of Fredericksburg, sponsor of the utility bill, and representatives of the companies it seeks to regulate.

Petsch took occasion to put Wayne Howell, city attorney of Corsicana, through a rigid cross examination following Howell's talk in opposition to the bill.

Petsch asked if Corsicana had any machinery for determining a fair and equitable rate for telephone and gas utilities. Howell admitted the city did not have this machinery and that it would be required to hire engineers to determine if rate structures were fair.

Petsch also asked if the city had power to go beyond city limits in regulating public utilities. Howell answered in the negative.

Howell declared he was against the bill because it was a radical departure from present methods and proposed to abandon the principle of home rule government.

Thomas E. Hayden, mayor of Abilene, appearing in support of the bill declared the cities were at the mercy of the utilities as far as making and enforcing a rate was concerned. The only thing the city can do, he said, is ask for a reduction and hope to get it.

He claimed that in Abilene, the city attempted to determine a fair rate on gas from the fields to the city gates. The rate was determined at 20 cents but the producing company said it cost 44 cents to deliver it to the distributing company. The courts have held the city can exercise no jurisdiction outside the city limits, Hayden said.

In answer to questions from Rep. McCombs from Dallas, Mayor Hayden said he would be willing for the utility commission to regulate and fix the rate charged by municipality operated utilities.

nephew had trouble with Walker. He declared that Walker had also threatened to kill him (Orand) and had drawn a gun on him.

Defense attorneys next put G. M. Bryan, of Knox City and formerly a tenant of Walker's on the stand. Bryan told of an alleged attempt on the part of Walker to shoot his 15-year-old son. Walker was said to have gone to Bryan's house and threatened the father, saying also several times that he wanted to kill the "damn boy." Bryan said this occurred in the summer of 1917 and that he moved his family from the farm the following day. Mrs. Bryan was the last witness to go on the stand at the forenoon session.

Between 400 and 500 spectators are crowding the courtroom here today, and a large part of them are from Crosby county, where the shooting occurred the afternoon of October 28, 1929.

State rested its case Tuesday night. The State is represented by District Attorney A. J. Folley and District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley. Defense attorneys are R. H. Templeton, Willington; E. A. Watson, Crosbyton, and L. O. Matthews, Floydada.

same tabulation Alderman A. F. Albert had 99,506, G. K. Schmidt, 11,223, and Eugene McCaffrey, 913.

These figures gave the man who once said he would "bust" King George of England on the snoot" a plurality of 67,841 over Judge Lyle. The latter was silent about the results, but promised a statement later, whereas "Big Bill" was in a happy frame of mind, declaring he won on his principles—"drive internationalism and prohibition out of the Republican party."

Faces Democrat

Although the 62-year-old bombastic three-term mayor of Chicago, rated by some political prophets not so long ago as losing ground in politics, came back with a bang yesterday, there was a possibility that he would face stiff opposition in the April 7 election, with Anton J. Cermak, chairman of the Cook county board, who was nominated by the Democrats virtually without opposition. Complete unofficial returns gave Crrmak 235,360 against 9,829 for John B. De Voney, his lone opponent.

FILMING OF LOCAL MOVIE COMPLETED LATE YESTERDAY

Filming of the local movie, "The Romance of Lubbock," by the Photo Arts Production company, of San Antonio, was completed here late Tuesday, according to announcement today by George L. Satterwhite, director.

"Last shots of the picture were taken Tuesday at offices of the chamber of commerce," Mr. Satterwhite explained, "and members of that organization gave us every possible coperation.

Woven Into Story

"Over 2,000 local people have been filmed in the picture and all of the shots have been woven into a complete story. We want it distinctly understood that the picture will be nothing more than a story of interest and there will be no advertisements whatsoever in it.

"Those who carried parts in the film were very good and as natural as any we have ever had occasion to work with. All were good and we believe that the picture will be one both of quality and interest."

The films are now in the company's laboratories at San Antonio and will be returned to Lubbock for showing at the Lindsey theater on March 4, 5 and 6.

described a $600,000 damage suit filed against him in Los Angeles by Fern Setril, actress, as "absurd" and "without foundation in fact." He said he had not been served with papers.

Griffith said he could not recall having met Miss Setril, although he might have been among the thousands he interviews every year. As to the date of the alleged assault, he said the picture "Abraham Lincoln" had been completed before June, 1930, and that he would have had no reason to summon her for a part at that time.

McKEE HEARING IS TO BE TODAY

Hearing on the appeal of Ira McKee, sentenced to death for the slaying of W. R. Billingsley, Sparenburg merchant, by a jury in Dawson county last June, is scheduled to be held in the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin today. The hearing had originally been set for February 11 but was postponed because of the illness of T. B. Ridgell, of Breckenridge, counsel for defense.

Tom L. Price, Tahoka, district attorney, will represent the state at the hearing today. He led the prosecution of McKee at the trial in Lamesa last June.

Recently Ridgell attempted to obtain McKee's release on a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that one of the attorney's for McKee had been disbarred from practice in Texas courts. The writ was denied by the state court of criminal appeals.

LABOR BILL IS APPROVED

HOUSE COMMITTEE'S ACTION FAVORABLE ON MEASURES

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 — The eight-hour labor law would apply to all public works if a bill by Representative Laird of Lufkin, voted out favorably last night by the house labor committee, becomes a law. It was voted out unanimously.

It was opposed by Don Lee, representative of the highway contractors association, who stated it would have a detrimental effect on highway construction work because of the limited time in which contractors have to work on these projects. Lee also claimed that the average wage of thirty cents per hour for highway labor was not sufficient to enable workmen to make a living working only eight hours per day.

Oil Workers Regulated

The committee also voted out favorably a bill by Representative Gilbert of Cisco which would limit the number of hours of work men in oil fields to eight. Gilbert said most of them were working 12 hours a day. He claimed 90 per cent of the accidents occurred during the last four hours of each watch, demonstrating that it was impossible to work a man more than eight hours efficiently.

A bill to establish a workmen's compensation for state employes was voted out favorably. It was sponsored by Representative Johnson of Carrizo Springs. The fund would be established and administered by the state.

GIRL'S COOLNESS THWARTS ROBBERY

TEXARKANA, Feb, 25 (AP)—Coolness of Miss Eura Langston, 20-year-old tell, yesterday unnerved two robbers, who fled from the Guaranty Bond State Bank of Redwater without loot after holding up the girl. A posse followed the men.

The men drove to the bank in a roadster, left the motor running, and entered the building, holding guns on Cashier R. W. Hanks and Miss Langston with orders to "stick 'em up."

The cages are separated from the lobby by a partition. The robbers ordered the girl to open the door. She started toward the door but suddenly stepped into a room in the rear. One of the robbers ran to the window and levelled a gun at her, saying, "come on and open that door or I'll shoot."

The other man lost his nerve, shouting, "come on; let's get out of here," and starting for the door. The first man followed and the pair jumped into the car and drove away.

LET'S BRING THE WHOLE TRUTH ABOUT ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION OUT INTO THE OPEN

You can't trust "impressions" about things you buy once in a lifetime. You can't trust your judgment unless you judge everything. So we want to give you . . . in plain black and white . . . this list of questions about electric refrigeration. It's the new method of buying. They will bring out the things you SHOULD know as well as those you DO know.

Two thousand women had a hand in developing this list of vital questions. Here are the TRUE elements, and ALL the important elements. Here is a guide for the intelligent buyer who means to get her money's worth.

Study it. Clip it out. Consult it when you look at any refrigerator. Demand each and every one of these vital elements, regardless of which "make" you consider.

But we tell you frankly . . . only in Kelvinator will you find them ALL. Only in Kelvinator will you find such a combination of every essential to convenience, efficiency and long life. That's the reason we feel the more closely you investigate, the more certainly your choice will be Kelvinator.

. . . Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company?

. . . Is there plenty of shelf space?

. . . Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?

. . . Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes).

. . . Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature?

. . . Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up?

. . . Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves?

. . . Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frosted" foods or extra supply of ice cubes at a below freezing temperature indefinitely?

. . . Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained?

. . . Does the refrigerating unit operate frequently or at infrequent intervals? (The fewer the "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run).

. . . How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Should continue for 10 or 12 hours).

. . . Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?

. . . Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
