Ike Forces Claim Victory Certain

GOP '52 Platform Decries Corruption, Offers Succor

CHICAGO—(AP)—Republicans accused the Truman Administration Thursday of sickening corruption and of shielding "traitors to the nation" in high places.

This blistering attack came in the long-awaited campaign platform handed to the GOP National convention for expected approval during the day.

Slashing attacks on the "present Administration's sordid record of corruption" overshadowed hard-fought compromises on the foreign policy, national defense and civil rights planks.

Senator Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the group that shaped the campaign document, told a reporter he expected quick convention approval.

In general, the released foreign policy and defense planks had been approved in advance by Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the two top contenders for the party's presidential nomination.

These planks belabored the Democrats on foreign policy, saying "they swing erratically from timid appeasement to reckless blunder."

Here is a comparison of the major points of the 1952 Republican platform with the party's 1948 platform.

FOREIGN POLICY — Both set a just peace and a free world as their goals. Both endorse the United Nations and collective security arrangements with freedom-loving countries, and spurn appeasement. Both endorse "self-help" types of assistance to other peace-loving nations. The 1948 plan gave stronger endorsement to economic aid programs than this year's.

The 1952 plank is sharply more critical of President Truman's conduct of foreign affairs than was the 1948 platform.

NATIONAL DEFENSE—The 1948 plank promised to maintain air, land and sea forces at levels that would insure the nation's security. The 1952 plank, calling exisiting military strength "disgracefully lagging," promises to develop it with utmost speed, with emphasis on air power and an abundance of atomic weapons.

COMMUNISM—The 1948 plank is much more critical of the Administration's attitude toward communism, charging it has appeased the Reds both at home and abroad and allowed them to serve in many government agencies. It also claims Truman policies are responsible for Russian possession of the atomic bomb and present threats to world peace.

SMALL BUSINESS—Both planks promise to encourage small business through anti-monopoly action, elimination of unnecessary controls, protection against discrimination and limitation of government competition.

The 1952 plank accuses the Democrats of praising free enterprise while actually trying to wreck it. It also promises to end "injurious" price and wage controls.

CIVIL RIGHTS—The 1948 platform favored federal legislation to compel employers to deal fairly with negroes and other racial groups in the hiring and firing of workers.

The 1952 plank favors federal legislation—undefined as to whether it should be compulsory or voluntary—to deal with racial discrimination in states not taking such action.

TAXATION and monetary policy—Both promise lower taxes, balanced budgets and elimination of "waste and extravagance" in government spending, and both accuse Democratic administrations of encouraging inflation.

The 1952 plank endorses price supports at levels deemed necessary to maintain a "balanced" production. The 1952 plank charges the Democrats with attempting to destroy farmers' freedom by use of subsidies.

LABOR—The 1952 plank advocates retention of the controversial Taft-Hartley Law, with some modifications, and condemns government seizue of plants and industries to force settlement of labor-management disputes.

This act was not mentioned in the 1948 platform, but principles incorporated in it were endorsed.

All Over But Final Voting, Backers Cry

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's jubilant partisans strove Thursday to turn smashing test-vote triumphs over Senator Robert A. Taft into a victory bandwagon for the grand prize of this Republican convention—the presidential nomination.

They claimed it was all over but the balloting as a result of Eisenhower's decisive edge in the turbulent floor battle with Taft at Wednesday night's session—stretching into the early morning—over contested delegates from Georgia and Texas.

Taft was not conceding a thing. He said: "I expect to be nominated on an early ballot."

And supporters of Earl Warren and Harold Stassen said they still saw a chance for an Eisenhower-Taft deadlock that could deny the nomination to either of the two front-runners.

The big decision may come Thursday night.

Convention managers mapped out a schedule which left that possibility.

And the delegates trickling into this big arena down by the stockyards for their fourth day seemed in a mood to get on with the main business.

MacArthur Talked

In the wake of Wednesday night's rough and tumble, there was more talk about Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Some of the Taft supporters were saying privately that MacArthur might be a good man if it developed that Taft could not make the grade.

Taft's top aides were insisting, however, that there was no reason yet to question that Taft could make it.

Paul Walker, chief of delegate relations for Taft's camp, and it was a "coalition" that beat Taft on the Georgia and Texas contests. The Warren and Stassen delegates stood with the Eisenhower camp on that.

Governor McKeldin of Maryland, tapped to put Eisenhower in nomination, gave the bandwagon effort a push with a prediction that the

Balloting Time Uncertain As Convention Runs Late

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Republican National Convention may get down to its most important business—nominating a candidate for President—Thursday night.

But nobody can say for sure.

The GOP National Committee has an office which normally announces program details in advance. A spokesman reported at noon that balloting on the nomination may start Thursday night—"but it's in the lap of the gods."

That indicated the delegates will make the decision.

The program for Thursday included these events in the order given:

Call to order at 11 a.m. (CST).

Report of the Rules Committee.

Report of the Resolutions (Platform) Committee.

Then a series of speeches, including three crowded out of Wednesday night's proceedings. The speakers: Rep. Katherine St. George of New York, Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, and Mrs. Gladys E. Heinrich Knowles, Montana committeewoman.

The National Committee information office said the nominating speeches will be made Thursday night. Then, it added, the delegates may start their balloting.

That will be followed by the nomination of a candidate for vice president. The target time for that now is Friday.

But the convention is running behind its original schedule and when it will end is anybody's guess.

William J. Tucker Dies In Colorado

WACO, July 10—(AP)—William J. Tucker, 68, former secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, died Thursday in Grand Junction, Colo., of an heart ailment.

Word of his death was received here by his brother, H. H. (Jinx) Tucker, sports editor of the Waco Times-Herald and News-Tribune.

Tucker and his wife were in Colorado on a vacation trip. He retired several years ago from the game commission because of ill health.

Funeral plans are pending. Interment probably will be at Gilmer.

Midlanders Shed Extra Garments; Cool Front Fades

Midlanders were shedding extra Summer garments Thursday as Summer weather returned. The cool front which brought refreshing rain and lower temperatures had moved into the Gulf of Mexico.

The temperature had risen to 83 degrees before noon and CAA observers at Terminal expected readings in the 90's Thursday afternoon.

High scattered clouds were expected late in the afternoon with win velocity not due to exceed 15 miles per hour.

No place in Texas had 100-degree readings Wednesday. Pre-dawn temperatures Thursday ranged from 79 at Cotulla to 60 degrees at Amarillo. Low in Midland was 65 degrees after a maximum of 85 degrees Wednesday.

$3,000 Reported Taken From Safe In Odessa Robbery

ODESSA—An estimated $3,000 was reported missing Thursday morning from the safe in the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company business office in the heart of the business district here.

James W. Dorris, manager of the telephone company here, said the safe door was open when employes reported for work Thursday morning.

There were no indications that the door of the safe had been forced open.

Officers said a negro employe of the company and his wife were being held for questioning.

Maryland Governor Would Accept Bid To Run With General

CHICAGO —(AP)— Well - wishers swarmed into the headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Thursday in the wake of his Convention Hall victories over the forces of Senator Robert A. Taft in key test votes.

One of his staunch backers, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, predicted Eisenhower would win the presidential nomination on the first ballot. McKeldin will place the general's name in nomination.

Another visitor was Jack Porter of Houston, leader of the pro-Ike Texans for whom the convention voted in the early morning hours in preference to a Pro-Taft group.

Porter predicted Republican victory for Eisenhower also, said he could beat any Democrat and specified he could "beat hell out of Truman."

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota called on both Eisenhower and Taft, and afterward told a news conference he is not throwing his 25-delegate strength to anybody. He said he is staying in the race for the nomination himself.

"Any American would," McKeldin replied.

Crane Oil Worker Dies Of Injuries In Auto Accident

CRANE—A. A. Liverman, 33, of Crane, died at 10:45 a.m. Thursday of injuries suffered shortly after midnight Wednesday in an auto accident two miles north of Crane on a curve near the Texas-New Mexico oil camp.

His companion, D. J. Sessom, 30, remained in a serious condition at noon in the Crane Memorial Hospital.

Liverman received head injuries when the light car occupied by the pair overturned several times. He was thrown 30 feet from the car, investigating officers said.

Liverman and Sessom had been to Odessa to play softball. They formerly lived at Brady, coming to Crane to work for the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Liverman is survived by the widow and two sons.

Houston Concern Gets 4,500-Foot Andrews Wildcat

L. F. Oil Company of Houston No. 1 G. T. Hall is to be drilled as a 4,500-foot wildcat 27 miles northwest of the town of Andrews and in Northwest Andrews County.

Drillsite has been staked 1,320 feet from west and 2,310 feet from south lines of section 8, block A-29, psl survey. It is on a 120-acre lease.

Brill Stakes Site For Deep Wildcat In Borden Sector

V. A. Brill of Houston will drill No. 1 T. J. Good as an 8,400-foot wildcat in Central-South Borden County, four miles east of Vealmoor.

Operator staked location 660 feet from south and west lines of section 14, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey.

It is to be drilled on a 320-acre lease, starting at once. It is one mile northwest of the closest producer at the northeast side of the Vealmoor field.

Sterling Wildcat Shows As Multipay Opener On DST'S

First venture of Tex-Harvey Employes Incorporated has resulted in an indicated multipay discovery in Northeast Sterling County.

Operator was running five and one-half-inch casing to be set six feet off bottom in its No. 1 Tessie Ellwood Chappell and others which indicated on drillstem tests that it might produce from the Canyon sand, the Mississippian, a detrital above the Ellenburger and from the Ellenburger.

Ellenburger Test

The project was drilled to total depth of 7,760 feet. Latest drillstem test was in the Ellenburger from 7,755 to 7,760 feet. Tool was open two hours. Recovery was 3,240 feet of gas and 100 feet of oil and gas-cut mud which was estimated to be 50 per cent oil. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was from 180 to 200 pounds.

The Mississippian was tested from 7,697 to 7,707 feet. Tool was open two hours. Gas surfaced in 28 minutes. Recovery was 900 feet of free oil, 25 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 10 feet of salty, sulphur water.

Detrital Shows

The detrital was drilstem tested from 7,675 to 7,697 feet for 100 minutes. Recovery was 1,300 feet of free oil and 50 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 230 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 2,105 pounds.

The Canyon sand was drillstem tested from 6,950 to 7,023 feet for one hour and 15 minutes. Recovery was 1,600 feet of gas, 30 feet of drilling mud, 310 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 30 feet of free oil. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 50 pounds and 15-minute shutin pressure was 430 pounds.

Will Complete

Operator will try to complete the project from six feet of open hole in the Ellenburger. The casing is to be cemented at 7,754 feet.

Argo Prospector In N-C Martin Is Plugged Third Time

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 Robert S. Brown, North-Central Martin County wildcat has been plugged and abandoned for the third time.

The project now is bottomed at 11,855 feet in an unidentified lime which made large amounts of salty, sulphur water from a cavity.

The cement has been put in to plug it. The prospect had been due to drill to at least 12,000 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

Found Cavity

It had to abandon that objective on account of finding a cavity at 11,800-855 feet which it could not get through.

Operator tried to cement off that cavity, but the cement would not hold and as a result it was impossible to maintain circulation through that zone.

After it was found impossible to cement off the cavity a one-hour and 55-minute drillstem test was run at 11,814-855 feet.

Steel Strike Idle To Top 1,000,000

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Unemployment resulting from the great steel strike of 1952 will be close to 1,100,000 next week unless there's an unexpected break in the paralyzing, nation-wide shutdown throttling the industrial heart of America.

A big spurt in unemployment will come when Chrysler Corporation closes virtually all of its extensive Michigan operations. The corporation says the shutdown will affect about 68,000 workers, although 14,500 will be recalled to take inventory.

The Chrysler shutdown comes as another blow to the big state of Michigan, where auto production has been cut 70 per cent. An estimated 100,000 workers in Michigan have been affected by the steel strike. Ford Motor Company already has shut down its assembly plants across the nation and General Motors has laid off thousands in its huge factory network.

In addition to the 600,000 steelworkers idle, another 422,000 in allied industries have been laid off as a result of the strike.

As the strike continued, the National Production Authority ordered Weirton Steel Company at Weirton, W. Va., to channel its entire tinplate output to makers of cans for perishable foods.

Young British Spy Suspect Convicted

The jury asked for the "utmost leniency" for Marshall, who could be sentenced to a maximum of 14 years on each count. "We feel he has been led astray."

Judge Sir Patrick Barry said the sentence would be pronounced later.

Conley's Kidnaping Sentence Suspended

BROCKTON, MASS. —(AP)— Louis B. Conley, 31, of Amarillo, Texas, convicted on two counts of kidnaping his young daughter after a family squabble, was given a suspended prison sentence of three to five years Thursday and placed on probation for five years.

Conley is already serving a jail term for contempt of probate court orders involving custody and support of the child.

Sharp Outbreaks Of Firing Punctuate Korean War Front

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— United Nations soldiers killed or wounded at least 336 Communists Wednesday and Thursday in sharp, small-scale actions all along the 155-mile Korean battlefront, the U. S. Eighth Army reported.

Allied casualties were not estimated, but briefing officers said they were small.

Overcast skies dampened the ground fighting and limited the air war to UN bomb strikes against the Red's North Korean supply system. Allied light bomber pilots reported they destroyed 21 Communish supply vehicles. B-29 Superforts Wednesday night blasted the Huichon rail yards on the main Communist supply route from Manchuria.

An outnumbered Allied patrol came out almost unscratched after engaging about 100 Chinese soldiers south of Pyonggang, on the west-central front. A briefing officers estimated 15 Reds were killed and nine wounded.

The officer estimated the Communists lost 92 killed and 123 wounded in forcing UN soldiers off a newly-captured hill west of the Pukhan River in a bitter 27-hour Central Front battle Tuesday and Wednesday.

Allied doughboys almost encircled an enemy position on the eastern tip of the battlefront. When they pulled back at nightfall Wednesday, they left an estimated 42 Communists dead and 55 wounded.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark announced the creation of a behind-the-lines Korean communications zone commanded separately from the combat zone.

The Supreme Allied Commander said the purpose was to permit Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, "to give his full time and attention to the vigorous prosecution of the United Nations military effort against Communist aggression in Korea."

July clearance now in full swing. Prices on children's clothing drastically reduced. Kiddies Toggery, 109 North Marienfield.—(Adv).

Midland Delegate Realizes Ambition, Gets Zweifel's GOP Convention Seat

By DAVE CHEAVENS
and MARTHA COLE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Old guard domination of the GOP in Texas was shouted down Thursday by the roaring Republican convention delegates.

At 1:43 a.m., after hours of committee and the convention debate, a majority of the nation's Republican leaders voted to seat Jack Porter's delegation backing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidential nomination.

The convention repudiated the delegation sponsored by National Committeeman Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth and the long-established Republican organization which had been accused of trying to limit the growth of the party in Texas.

The voice vote on the Texas contest came after the convention seated an Eisenhower delegation from Georgia, making it apparent that a roll call would be a waste of time.

At the very moment of victory, Ben Guill of Pampa clanged a cowbell, waved a four-foot-long Texas flag and just plain yelled.

The orchestra and the organ burst into "The Eyes of Texas." Voices joined in all over the hall.

In the back of the hall a dozen Texans fell into each other's arms in a delirious, back-slapping, shouting huddle. Mrs. Ralph Feagin of Houston, a dignified woman with graying hair, was right in the middle.

"Go on down, Genie," somebody shouted at Mrs. Jack Bliss, a previously unseated delegate from Midland.

And with no badge but victory, Mrs. Bliss practically ran down the aisle to the Texas standard marking the state delegation chairs.

The convention recessed, the lights were going out and the hall was almost empty, but Texans still were celebrating in a back corner.

Porter Gets Hug

They sang "The Eyes of Texas" again—almost a hundred of them. Then Senator James Duff of Pennsylvania, a man who went to Texas last Winter in the Eisenhower cause, came up to hug Porter.

They sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" for Duff.

"He came down to Texas and kicked it off center for us," Porter yelled.

"We're gonna build a real Republican Party in Texas," Porter loudly asserted.

A radio man stuck a microphone in front of Alvin Lane of Dallas, co-chairman of the Texas-for-Eisenhower Club.

"We can now go forward. Wrong has been righted, and the Republicans can go into the election with clean hands," Lane said.

Word got around that the convention would have special badges and credentials ready for the Porter delegation.

'Too Much Hell'

"We stayed with it, didn't we," Mrs. Bliss said. "A lot of people have told me it was the Texas fight that brought all this out into the open and helped the other states. We just raised too much hell."

The convention's action erased Zweifel's name from the convention rolls as a delegate from Texas, although he may attend as national committeeman.

Old-Timers Barred

The convention also barred other long-time Republican stalwarts such as L. J. Benckenstein of Beaumont; Carlos G. Watson of Brownsville, secretary of the State Executive Committee; Miss Ruthelle Bacon of Amarillo; Eugene Nolte, Jr., of San Antonio; Mrs. Carl Stearns of Houston, national committeewoman; Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, chairman of the State Executive Committee.

Among those seated were Lamar Cecil of Beaumont; Malcolm McCorquodale of Houston; Guill, who was elected in 1949 as Texas' first Republican Congressman in more than 20 years and served a brief term; Edward T. Dicker of Dallas, now the only Republican member of the Texas Legislature.

The Eisenhower delegation already has nominated Porter as national committeeman and Mrs. Roy Black of Dallas, committeewoman. The convention usually adopts the delegation's nomination.

Thornton Boosted As Best Veep, Shortstop, Anything

LUBBOCK—(AP)—The folk of his home town would like to see Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado nominated for Republican vice president.

Sixty Lubbock citizens got together Wednesday, formed a club, and sent telegrams to the GOP convention at Chicago suggesting that the Republican governor be named second man.

The group called themselves "No Dealers, New Dealers, Sharecroppers and No-Croppers."

The telegrams signed by club President Bob Fuller and club Secretary Charles Whitacre said they would support Thornton "for anything from shortstop for the Yankees to permanent secretary of the United Nations." Regarding UN secretary, they added "Heaven forbid."

Thornton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thornton, still live in Lubbock County.

Cut In Stabilization Budget Erases 17,000 Federal Jobs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—"You're fired" notices began going out to about half the 17,000 employes of the government's anti-inflation agencies Thursday as result of the heavy axe Congress applied to appropriation requests.

Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said his program will be hurt but he would "do the best he can with what we've got."

He said Congress "gave us—and the consumer—an awful kick in the teeth" providing the agencies with only 60 million dollars compared with the 103 million requested.

Declaring that "our powers for maintaining the value of the dollar have been weakened seriously," Putnam said in a statement:

"More than ever we will need the consumers help in holding down prices by exercising restraint in purchasing. Prices generally are not down."

Not Giving Up

He said despite the drastic appropriation cut he wanted to make clear "we are not throwing in the sponge and giving up."

He said economic stabilization is so vital to the defense program "all of us . . . are determined to give our best effort to the job."

Congress cut funds for the State Department, the Defense Department, the Treasury, Commerce, Labor, Interior and Postoffice Departments and scores of agencies.

But none was hit as hard as the stabilization agencies, whose 60-million-dollar appropriation led some officials to hint they would recommend junking price-wage controls entirely because they felt it impossible to work with the fund.

The battle over extension of controls was one of the big fights of the 82nd Congress, which adjourned this week. There was a major effort to wipe out the agencies or to reduce their powers to impotence. Congress finally agreed on a 10-month extension and relaxed some controls.

Putnam said after an all-day meeting with his agency heads Wednesday that they had agreed to allocate the 60 million dollars proportionately to the original amounts requested.

This would give the Office of Price Stabilization 38 million dollars, the Wage Stabilization Board eight and one-half million, the Salary Stabilization Board $1,800,000, the Economic Stabilization Agency $372,000, the Railway and Airlines Stabilization Board $83,000 and the Office of Rent Stabilization 11 million.

Johnston Appointed Angelo School Head

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The new president of San Angelo College is Dr. Rex. E. Johnston, until his appointment Wednesday head of the business and economics department of Texas State College for Women at Denton.

O'Brien Cup Is Immortality; Recipe For Glamor For Her

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD— Guys and Dolls: Margaret O'Brien soon will be Sweet Sixteen, but there will be no journey for Margaret into the Hollywood glamor-girl league now that she's out of bobby sox and into nylons.

Already being called a young Helen Hayes following a Boston stage play and New York television appearances, an all grown-up and gorgeous Margaret told me:

"I want to be known as an actress—not as a glamor dish. Glamor girls fade and disappear. Good actresses go on forever."

Two years ago Margaret was in bobby sox and resented growing up—probably because she had so much fun and fame as a child star. Now she's a young lady, dressed the part and is beaming over a new career in romantic teen-age roles.

Dana Andrews' Secret

He can sing with the best of them and has a rich, trained baritone voice.

"I didn't tell Darryl Zanuck or Samuel Goldwyn." Dana explained, "because you're dead in Hollywood if you're a singer. Nobody will accept you as an actor. About the time I hit Hollywood, they'd stopped making musicals. I'm no fool. I just kept my mouth shut."

His greatest temptation to blab his secret came when he was making "State Fair." Dana, who studied voice for six years under famed Isidore Braggiotti and Florence Russell, grinned:

"The script called for me to sing 'It's a Grand Night for Singing.' I let them hire another singer to dub me. They paid him $150 for it. I could have saved the studio that money and sung the tune a lot better. But I kept my mouth shut. I don't like what happens to singers in Hollywood."

Phyllis Kirk, a beauty who never-ended up in the hero's arms in Hollywood and developed a minor complex about it, is able to look the town's Lanas and Hedys straight in the eyes these days.

She winds up as the palpitating, swooning object of Alan Ladd's affections in "The Iron Mistress" and is shouting that "at last I've gotten a man. It's a step in the right direction."

Velvet-eyed Phyllis, once under contract to MGM and Goldwyn, is mighty happy she tucked eight live TV shows under her waist cincher before reporting back to Hollywood.

"You get lost in the shuffle in Hollywood sometimes and don't get enough to do. Pretty soon you don't believe you can do anything. TV gave me back my confidence as an actress."

Pizza, Tamales Don't Mix

There will be no barbled accent from Italian import Vittorio Gassman, who's playing a Mexican aristocrat in MGM's "Sombrero."

Refusing to mix pizza with tamales, the bridegroom of Shelley Winters, who speaks almost perfect English with just a slight accent, told me:

"You can act with an accent only if you don't have an accent. I guess I'm fortunate. I have an accent but it's more international than Italian."

Speaking English only for second time in a movie, the handsome Italian star finds it "exciting because the tension is so great I can't relax."

His report on the money made by his Italian film, "Bitter Rice," is an eye-opener. The picture cost only $120,000 and already has made three million dollars.

Tyrone Power, free-lancing for the first time in 14 years, sputtered today at an in-print hint that he wasn't happy over the assignment of Piper Laurie as his co-star in UI's "Mississippi Gambler."

He's no Mr. Viper where Miss Piper or any other young star is concerned, Ty laid it on the line, and "besides, I okayed her for the role. How do these ridiculous stories get started?"

Ty spiked another rumor, too. That his handsome hide was covered with goosepimple patches about his forthcoming stage tour in "John Brown's Body." And that his London starting stint in "Mr. Roberts" was a step toward overcoming a chronic case of jitters about following in the footsteps of his famous father on the American stage.

"I've never had any fears about the stage," Ty said. "I'd have been back in the theater long before "John Brown's Body" but my other activities blocked it.

Disputed Estate Of Gambler Noble Settled By Heirs

An agreed judgment in 67th District Court divided the estate estimated at almost a million dollars, between Noble's daughter, Mrs. Freida Noble Leeds, and his brother, Robert Noble.

Mrs. Leeds will receive her father's Denton County farm, Dallas real estate and an undivided one-fourth interest in Hicks Field here. Originally Noble's will left her only $10.

Robert Noble, administrator of the estate, was awarded livestock on the farm, three airplanes and farm equipment, the Airman's Club in Dallas and an equal interest in Hicks Field.

Texas Pilot Dies In Flaming Crash

BARSTOW, Calif.—(AP)—Col. William R. Purinton, 38, of Tyler, Texas, executive officer of the 146th Bomber Wing of the Ninth Air Force, was injured fatally when his P-51 crashed and burned on the desert 15 miles north of Barstow Wednesday.

Colonel Purinton died at March Air Force Base Hospital. Members of his training squadron reported he was able to get out of his burning plane after the crash and beat out the flames in his uniform.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Vacation time is the season when many a nice girl goes astray. She meets new friends, different from her neighborhood pals. She visits new places, unlike those to which she has been accustomed. Unless her parents have alerted her to some of the little dangers which might be lurking in unexpected waysides, she might not sense it until she is entangled in an undesirable web.

Most Summer heartaches evolve from a handful of missteps. If a girl would just make a clear appraisal of any proposition that hasn't been encountered before, asking herself whether there are any drawbacks, she'd have nothing to worry about. Here are some suggestions:

1. It doesn't pay to waste time with married men. And don't believe 'em when they say their wives want them to have fun. So what? While you're flitting away time with an older man, you'll probably pass up a nice young man your own age.

2. Even if your family permits you to have cocktails at home, don't drink with strangers. If you are partying with a group and it seems like the thing to do, accept a drink, sip it occasionally, if you like. But don't think you must drink to keep up with a crowd.

3. Things are likely to get very cozy at Summer resorts. People have been known to scurry back and forth to each other's rooms. The first thing you know you are likely to be partying in a gay wolf's room in the wee hours of the morn. Of course he'll look harmless, at first—they all do. Make a rule not to visit boys rooms.

4. If you are asked to go for a moonlight sail, make sure you have company that is trustworthy. It is not enough that other young girls are being paired off with young men. You should know how well these girls know their male companions, and you should be very acquainted with your own date. Unless you are a super-swimmer you'll need the cooperation of the captain to get back home from a canoe, rowboat, power or sailboat trip.

5. Picnics are fun. But don't go to out-of-the-way picnic areas with strange companions. That "darling boy" you met last night can be just as fiendish as any drug store cowboy. If you plan to go picnicking with a new beau, suggest another couple whom you know well to accompany you.

6. If you are on a two-weeks vacation or working at a resort, don't tie up with one man—that's one way to spoil your Summer. Men seem more attractive in Summer and girls are likely to be more romantic than at other seasons of the year. Moonlight and nature's other enchanting props can help steal a girl's heart away. When she arrives back home and sits by the telephone waiting for that devoted Summer swain to call, chances are she'll be disappointed.

7. If a young man suggests you go away for a weekend with him or his crowd, discuss it with your family. They should know where you plan to stay and with whom, and if arrangements are being made for the gang to stay at a hotel or inn, be sure you write for your own reservations and get a confirmation so that everything is in order before you leave home.

8. If anything goes wrong on your big adventure away from home write, wire or telephone your family for money so that you can leave the vacation resort under your own steam. Be independent and you'll have nothing to fear.

The MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Once I knew the adored American wife of a gifted Hungarian pianist. However, since he was disorderly and temperamental, the first weeks of her marriage had been very trying.

He refused to come to meals when he was called.

She did not lose heart. Hopefully, every day she would spend careful hours preparing his favorite dishes. When the meal was ready, she hesitantly would approach the studio where he was practicing, knock gently and say, "Dinner is ready Zoltan darling."

There would be a terrible silence, then a crash of wrathful discords and her maestro would roar through the door, "Go! Leave me! Return to your pots — and do not come again when I am working!"

At first, she wept. Then one day two months after her wedding, she changed her procedure. Fifteen minutes before her meal was to be served, she marched up to the sanctum, flung open the door and delivered a firm advance notice. She said, "Dinner will be ready in 15 minutes by that clock. If you are not ready, too, you don't get any in this house tonight."

Thereafter she had order in her home.

Sometimes what we need to solve the bedtime resistance of small fry is firm advance notice that bedtime is coming up.

Artists and children are very intense people. They live much in the imagination. Just as my friend's husband needed help to withdraw his concentration upon a challenging concerto, little boys and girls need it help them withdraw theirs from a half-built block house. Like him, if they get firm advance notice that the world of reality still exists, they accept it with less irritation when we have to present it to them.

Giving advance notice on the approach of bedtime to time-unconscious youngsters is as wholesome for us as it is for them.

If we have been harassed by dawdling, inattention or outright resistance, the chances are that we have brought this on ourselves by our shilly-shallying fear of making an issue of bedtime. The chances are Paul just doesn't believe we mean what we say when we tell him, "No more airplanes tonight. It's time for bed."

If this is our case, Paul's bedtime probably is associated for us with uncertainty and a good deal of secret impatience with ourselves as well as with him. Nothing could be better for us than to pledge ourselves publicly to a definite moment for moving on the word we have given.

The very sound of authority in our voice saying, "Bedtime's the minute that television program is over," will be tonic for our firmness in keeping our pledge.

When we have proved we can be firm, we will be so pleased with ourselves that we will be ready to prove that we can be kind about bedtime, too.

If we remember how we sometimes object to reality, we won't be so irritated by Paul's objections to it. Some day watch the faces of people emerging from a movie into a garish lobby, facing the sound of traffic and the chore of locating the car in the parking lot. They are adults, but the expressions on their faces will tell you what a leap for them it is from high adventure and romance to facts as they are.

To our small ones, after-supper play often is high adventure. Since our objective is to make bedtime compete with it in interest, the sooner we deal with them firmly the better.

'He Is From The South'

"Senator Russell is the best man the Democrats have to offer for President, but he can't win the nomination because he is from the South," is a statement heard and read quite often these days.

Why can't a Southerner win the nomination? Why is being from the up-and-coming South such a stumbling block?

Sure, we know the usual answers to these questions, but still, why?

Why can't something be done to correct this unfair and unjustified prejudice? Why must a political party's most outstanding presidential aspirant be penalized because he happens to hail from the South? Why doesn't the South rise up enmasse to challenge this outmoded tradition?

A lot of citizens would like to have the real answers to these questions.

Perhaps it is because we Southerners usually vote solid for the Democrats regardless of who is nominated, and the powers that be in the North know that and take full advantage of it.

Maybe an active two-party or even three-party system in Texas and throughout the South and Southwest is the answer. If so, let's get going in the right direction.

After all, the South still is in America. And after all, the tax money from the South still is acceptable to the federal coffers in ever-increasing amounts.

Think, too, of the handicap to our youngsters. Under the present situation none of them stand a chance of ever becoming President of these United States. It just isn't fair in a lot of ways.

Aside from all this, a political party should be free to select its most capable man as its presidential candidate regardless of whether he is from the North, South, East or West.

If Senator Russell is that man, and he appears to us to be, then let the Democratic Party nominate him for the nation's highest office.

The test will come at the Democratic convention in Chicago, starting July 21. Doubtless the Democrats will have as much fun as the GOPeers now are having.

The man who boasts of being self-made may be relieving his parents of an awful responsibility.

It's bad enough to go to law with your troubles, but worse to go to in-laws!

Well, about everybody contributed to the national tax kitty—at so much purr!

Ike's Plank

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Eisenhower can't be sure if Dewey is an asset or a liability; Taft's organization impressively efficient; Money and entertainment flow freely at convention.

CHICAGO — Inside the smoke-filled rooms—The politically naive Mr. Eisenhower can't quite be sure whether his friend, Gov. Tom Dewey, is an asset or a liability. Probably a little of both. Dewey has one of the smoothest working political machines in the country and he personally helped woo and win Pennsylvania delegates for Ike. His friend, Herbert Brownell, also did a skillful job of directing strategy. But Dewey has built up much ill will inside the party and this boomeranged somewhat against Ike . . . Enmity against Dewey boiled inside his own New York delegation at its first caucus when the governor tried to whip his delegates into line. "I'm going to be governor for another two and a half years," Dewey warned the men who must depend on him for favors. "If you think that Taft has a steamroller, wait until you see our steamroller operate." . . . Despite this whip-cracking, some New Yorkers bolted to Taft.

Taft efficiency—Seldom has there been such efficient organization for a political convention as that of Senator Taft's. His Democratic colleague from Georgia, Senator Dick Russell, has two observers at Chicago, Bill Primm and John Connelly, who are greatly impressed. . . . Taft has five different cross-indexes of every delegate in Chicago. Here they are: Index No. 1 gives the name of every delegate and also the name of every one of the Taft Big 4 who should contact them. The Taft Big 4 are Ben Tate of Standard Brands, Tom Coleman of Wisconsin, Dave Ingalls, and Taft himself. This index also has a red tab on each card showing whether the delegate has been contacted within the last 24 hours. Shortly after he arrived in Chicago, Taft himself sat down and began telephoning delegates allotted to him to make sure they weren't slipping to Ike. . . . Index No. 2 gives the names of the family doctors of delegates. This potent piece of political intelligence is reported to have come from the American Medical Association and permits Taft leaders to work on delegates through their family doctors. . . . Index No. 3 is the smallest of all and lists Eisenhower delegates who are wavering. Only 14 were in this file at the start of the convention. . . Index No. 4 lists uncommitted delegates, while Index No. 5 gives the party case-history of every delegate. This is the most important of all. It tells when a delegate joined the Republican party, how he has voted, whether he likes the theater, good food or liquor, who his friends are, and even contains a map of his district. Thus functions the efficient Taft machine.

Convention money—There's more money, more entertainment flowing around this convention than any before. Both sides are taking delegates out to dinner and to the theater in droves. Almost anything they want is theirs. . . Henry Ford, II, has his yacht anchored just off Michigan Boulevard where wavering delegates are entertained. Ford is for Ike, and has reached as far away from Michigan as Virginia to woo delegates for his candidate. . . . Ford also brought in 150 svelte Mercurys and Fords in cream and blue to put at delegates' disposal. . . . Young and Rubicam, New York advertising firm, has been masterminding the Eisenhower publicity campaign. . . . Every train arriving in Chicago with delegates, newsmen or anyone else was met by Eisenhower enthusiasts. They beat drums, hammered tambourines, pinned on buttons. "We're glad you're for Ike," exclaimed beautiful girls, just taking it for granted.

Hotels and hospitality — The Conrad Hilton Hotel asked the two leading candidates for the customary advance deposit on their rooms three weeks before the convention opened. Taft came through the next day with $5,000, but Ike's people begged off, said they were hard up. At the last minute, just before festivities started, Eisenhower came through with a deposit of $12,000—two and a half weeks late. . . . . Rooms weren't so scarce as expected. A lot of people engaged two rooms, figuring they might need extra space. Then at the last minute they canceled the extra reservation. . . . Chicago police had plain-clothes men checking convention galleries to look for hidden microphones so there won't be a repitition of the Willkie boom when hidden mikes were used to whoop it up for Willkie. . . Although Ike and Stassen are considered kindred political spirts, friction developed when Herbert Brownell, an Ike leader, failed to keep an appointment with a Stassen leader. The latter scribbled a note: "To hell with you and your whole Eisenhower crowd."

Who's who at Chicago—Everybody and their brother came to Chicago, including non-Republicans and some who have never even voted. . . . Two suspicious characters seen in the background are Matt Connelly, the White House secretary, and Leslie Biffle, Senate secretary and chief braintruster for Vice President Barkley. . . Other visitors: Oscar Levant, the piano-humorist; Joe Kennedy, the ex-ambassador to London and most of his family (once a Democrat, he's now leaning toward the Republicans); Mac Krindler of the famed Restaurant 21; Elisabeth Arden; Courtney Espil, wife of the ex-Argentine ambassador; Perle Mesta; Jimmy Durante; Earl Wilson, the saloon reporter; John Wayne, the cowboy actor; Irene Dunne, a Hollywood delegate for Taft; Hedda Hopper, and Clare Boothe Luce.

Backstage strategy—One of the most effective moves backing up Eisenhower was the petition by 24 governors at Houston against the so-called "steal" of Southern delegates. This was strictly "Made in Denver," and the man who masterminded it was Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas, a former governor. He called the GOP governors in Houston, got them to sign the petition. . . . When the Taft people moved into their headquarters at the Hilton Hotel they found Bob Allen's assistant, Paul Scott, occupying a room right in the middle of their extensive layout. It meant that Scott could watch everything the Taft delegation did—a wonderful spot for a newsman. Taft people asked Scott to move; he politely declined. What newsman wouldn't? . . . . Republican National Committee is so touchy on the subject of secrecy that it even refused to let TV cameras focus on the outside of the committee-room door. TV producers wanted to show the locked door, but sensative GOPeers said no. . . . Senator Gene Millikin of Colorado and ex-Speaker Joe Martin both called on Eisenhower early in the convention to try to heal GOP wounds. Millikin wanted to consult regarding the GOP foreign-affairs plank. Martin assured Ike that the question of seating Southern delegates would be brought up before the entire convention on the first day, not wait until later—as some Taft people desired. . . . Eisenhower, who never attended a political convention before in his life, is learning fast.

In one of the most interesting tournaments of the year, held recently at the Regency Club in New York, 18 Life Masters paired up with 18 non-experts for a total point duplicate. Some of the "non-experts" were actually first class players, but the tournament was nevertheless labeled a "proschmo" event.

Constantine Platsis won the tournament practically single handed with the hand shown today. The redoubled slam was cold for down two with a heart opening, but Platsis brought it home to win the tournament in the last round by less than 300 points.

West opened the king of clubs and promptly shifted to a trump when he saw dummy's singleton club. South won the trump shift, ruffled a club in dummy, discarded the eight of hearts on dummy's ace of spades, then ruffled a spade to return to his own hand. Platsis then ran the rest of his trumps.

West had to come down to three cards and had to decide whether to throw away the ace of clubs or unguarded the queen of hearts.

He guessed wrong, and Platsis scored 1880 points.

Actually there should have been no guess. East would surely have discarded a heart if he had been able to do so. His failure to discard a heart made it perfectly clear that he had no hearts to discard.

It happened, of course, that East had actually discarded every one of the missing clubs. It is hard to blame a non-expert for failing to count all of the clubs, but it is easy to blame him for not correctly sizing up the meaning of East's failure to discard a heart.

A—Bid four spades. You want to be in game no matter what sort of hand your partner has for his free bid. It would be amazing if your side lost more than one spade, one heart, and one diamond.

TODAY'S QUESTION

CONVENTION COVERAGE

Political Strategists Long Will Argue Taft Decision

CHICAGO—(NEA)—Why Senator Robert A. Taft and his generals chose to make their initial test of GOP convention strength on the issue of seven Louisiana delegates probably will be debated by political strategists for years to come.

The first reason is Senator Taft needed only a few more votes to assure his nomination on the first ballot. He felt that the Louisiana delegation was ample to provide that margin.

The second reason given is that Senator Taft felt he had a good legal claim on the Louisiana delegates. This is typical Taft reasoning. He is above everything else a lawyer. He looks at every question from a legalistic mind. So he decided to make a moral stand on this point.

Beyond this, however, the Taft strategy is wide open to criticism, as some of his own generals now admit.

By having Ohio Senator John W. Bricker offer the first resolution, to accept the 1948 rules for the 1952 convention, Taft forces were placed at a disadvantage.

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington immediately offered his substitute motion for the Eisenhower forces, to change the rules. The substitute motion therefore took precedence. If Governor Langlie had been allowed to offer his resolution first, the Bricker motion would have become the substitute and had the parliamentary right of way.

They Try Again

Failing on this, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio tried to get the advantage back on Taft's side by his amendment to leave the Louisiana delegates out of the convention contests.

In arguing for this motion, the Taft leaders fell down flat. They couldn't make their case clear. Eisenhower leaders out-argued them. Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado and Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut particularly were effective. And on top of that, the roar of the crowd was heavily in favor of the Eisenhower proposal to take up the seating of Georgia, Louisiana and Texas delegates in that order and settle them one at a time.

Taft forces were caught completely unprepared for this. The expectation had been that Taft leaders in control of convention arrangements would have the galleries heavily packed with their rooters at all times. They just weren't there.

The Eisenhower publicity drive for "Fair Play" in the seating of delegates paid off. Outsmarted for political machine tactics that were too smooth and too ruthless, the Taft forces lost on every count.

As Senator Bricker himself remarked after the battle, "Talk about a Taft steamroller; it was we who were steamrollered."

In spite of this initial flattening, Senator Taft's leaders were in no mood to admit they were licked for good. They pointed out that though the total vote on the test was 658 to 548 in Eisenhower's favor, majorities in delegations from 32 states voted for the Taft-Bricker-Brown proposals. Only 21 states showed majorities against them.

Credentials Committee

The importance of this was that it indicated a Taft majority on the important Credentials Committee, where the delegate seating contests went next.

Under Governor Langlie's rule change, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas would get no vote on the committee till after their delegations had been seated by a convention floor vote. Even so, Taft was left with a 29 to 21 advantage on the Credentials Committee.

The 110 delegate vote advantage for Eisenhower on this first test vote also was considered no indication that the general would have this margin on the first convention ballot for the nomination.

California's 70 votes would be taken away for Gov. Earl Warren. Michigan was not expected to vote 45 to 1 for Eisenhower, but somewhere around 20 to 26. Taft forces expected to get from 15 to 25 more than the one lone vote they got from New York on the test vote, over rule changes.

What the test vote did reveal was Senator Taft's rock bottom strength of 548. If he lost all of his Texas, Georgia and Louisiana votes, this total would be reduced by 62 to 486. It indicated he was from 56 to 118 votes short of having the nomination sewed up, as he had so confidently predicted.

Stake Horse

By Larry Stermig

Copyright 1952 by NEA Service, Inc.

X

AT lunch with some of the other owners at the club house, Johnny learned that the Stakes would be run. The purse, in a stake race, is a total of all the entry fees plus what money the track management might care to add. Johnny's money was in it now, and it had been a considerable sum. He couldn't back out, despite Bella's slim chances, despite the knowledge that it was dangerous business running a horse that fears sticky tracks.

"Break her early; try to get the jump," Johnny told Rusty. "Maybe she can hold the pace. It's a bad day to go around."

That's the way Rusty tried to play it. He did succeed in getting the jump on them at the barrier, and Bella led for almost a furlong.

On the south turn, Carolina King went by. In the backstretch, two more. Johnny watched it all bleakly, feeling no surprise, nor any disappointment greater than he had experienced before. The whole Atwater season had been unfortunate for him.

Bella was running sixth at the wire.

He went down to the stables to wait for Rusty. The jock looked heart-broken. He said, "I gave her all I had, Mr. Hamilton."

"I know, Rusty. I'm—quitting. I can take just so much of this kind of luck."

He drove to town. At the telegraph office he sent Goodhue a wire telling him that he was ready to sell out. Then, after considerable thought, he sent Nystrom a plan of action with instructions to follow through on the deal with Goodhue.

It was a chance shot; a crazy idea, but if his plan worked, there might be something he could save.

Kovalt didn't put in an appearance. But his trainer did, the afternoon of the next day. He had three stable hands with him.

He had a letter from Goodhue, and one from his employer. He was to pick up the horses Kovalt had chosen. Goodhue had the notes.

Challenger was the first to be led out. Then Bella, Annabella, Melody, and a few of the cheaper horses. The trainer came over to Johnny's car.

"That'll do it, Mr. Hamilton." He smiled. "I'm glad you could save something. I knew your dad; I knew him well. This isn't a pleasant task, but it's my job—for the time being."

"He isn't taking Adonis?" Johnny asked hopefully.

The man shook his head. "Not after what he learned about the colt." Then he smiled again. "There's just an off-chance you may have put one over. Adonis looks fine to me. But I was told that Kovalt would do all the thinking."

THEY won a couple at Meadowbrook. Not much in the way of purses. And nothing that would add to the prestige of his small stable. But wins, just the same, and good for the ego. Johnny managed, during the busy days, the long nights, to keep his mind from Carol and her perfidy. But he slept very little.

At Meadowbrook he got a wire from Nystrom: "Entries close for Pioneer in two days. Will have to stay here awhile."

The Pioneer Handicap, the biggest money event of the year, would be run in California, in a month. There was only one horse in the stable Nystrom could have meant for that one. There was, for that matter, only one stake horse left in the Hamilton stable—Adonis.

The entry fee was terrific, but Johnny scraped it up. Which left him down to bedrock. He explained it all to Rusty. He said, "I haven't bet a dime since we opened here, Rusty. But these kind of purses aren't going to get us to California."

Rusty agreed. "I've been thinking of that. And I've been thinking of Lady Luck."

Lady Luck was a five-year-old mare who'd run in a couple of $3,000 claimers that season, with little success.

Johnny said, "You were thinking we could drop her down a couple of notches?"

"And bet our shirts. It's a hunch. Lady Luck doesn't really belong up there with those three grand goats, and I can do it, honest, Mr. Hamilton, I can do it." The jock paused, out of breath.

"I believe you can, too," Johnny said. "But my shirt is about all I have left to bet."

He sold a horse, the chestnut two-year-old he'd hoped would develop into a winner. He got five thousand for her. He and Rusty began to look for a spot. Two days later they entered Lady Luck in a $2,000 claiming race for three-year-olds and older.

There wasn't, it developed, as much play on Lady Luck at the mutuels as they thought there'd be. Saving feed money, Johnny spread most of the money three ways; the mechanics of the mutuels are such that the three money slots are not always proportionate.

It was a quiet field; there was little trouble at the barrier.

AN owner sitting next to Johnny said, "You're cute, dropping a hot one like Lady Luck in there. But that Hooligan of mine is a sleeper, I don't mind telling you—now that the mutuels are closed."

"Nice time to tell me," Johnny said. He looked out at the lank gelding, Hooligan, and added, "He doesn't look like much to me."

Bassham Assumes Office As Lions Club President

L. V. Bassham took office as president of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday night at its annual officer installation ceremony held in the main dining room of the Ranchland Hill Country Club. He succeeds J. P. (Kit) Carson, Jr., who received a past president's pin and a set of luggage as a gift from the club.

The club's officers for 1952-53 were installed by George Spence of Ysleta, governor of District 2-T-2, Lions International. Mrs. Spence accompanied her husband to the ladies night meeting here. More than 125 persons attended the function.

Other officers, in addition to Bassham, are Duke Jimerson, Robert H. Pine and Carl O. Hyde, vice presidents; C. E. Nelson, secretary-treasurer; Morris Howard, tail twister; Richard Kitchens, Lion Tamer, and John E. Reid and W. E. Chapman, new directors.

Hyde served as toastmaster, and organ dinner music was presented by Mrs. Ronald James.

Musical Program

Duke Jimerson and John Springer were presented in vocal and piano selections as a special musical feature of the program.

Governor Spence, in his installation address, spoke concerning the responsibilities of Lions and their wives in the building of a better and more understanding world.

"We are leaders of this generation and parents of the next generation," he said.

"We must conduct ourselves always as leaders, proving ourselves worthy of the respect and good will of all peoples.

"We must learn to live together and work together in peace and harmony," he declared. "We must look for good in all peoples, and among all peoples make friends."

Awards Presented

Frankie Cochran of Odessa, immediate past district governor, presented an achievement award to Dr. Norman J. Maberry of Midland, retiring zone chairman. James L. Daugherty of Midland, another past district governor, was recognized.

Charles A. McClintic, veteran Midland rancher, received a life membership certificate in the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children from Kit Carson. Jack Roe, director of the League, was a guest at the meeting. He spoke briefly concerning facilities at the Crippled Children's Camp located near Kerrville.

The appointment of C. Ed Prichard, a past president of the Midland Lions Club, as zone chairman was announced by the district governor.

Members of the Midland Lion Tamers Club served as a telephone committee for the installation meeting.

Egg Price Advances Lead Parade As Food Costs Climb Higher

By The Associated Press

Retail prices of top grade eggs went up shortly in many stores this week. Butter also was higher. Several fresh fruits and vegetables were a little cheaper, reflecting abundant supplies.

Changes in meat prices were scattered and irregular, with reductions largely confined to special markdowns to attract customers. There was little uniformity in these specials. Most frequently mentioned by leading chains and independent markets were frying chickens, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, top and bottom round roasts, boneless chuck pot roast, rib roasts, fresh and frozen fish and lobster. Some stores continued to stress such picnic items as frankfurters, boiled hams and cold cuts.

Top grade eggs advanced as much as 12 cents a dozen over last week. Dealers blamed a loss of production and storage difficulties because of hot weather, heavy resort demand and increased buying by the military.

Butter rose a penny or two a pound in many sections, reflecting a seasonal downtrend in production and a bigger diversion of milk to fluid channels. Demands for milk by the ice cream makers was reported exceptionally heavy. Butter storage stocks were below those of a year ago.

Most Tragic Polio Assault Scored; Cox To Ask For State Appropriation

By The Associated Press

Crippling polio had its 101st victim of the year in Fort Worth Thursday afternoon and Houston—under heavy attack by the mysterious malady—underwent its most tragic day of the disease's assault, more than 83,500,000.

More than half of the year's victims in Fort Worth were being treated in the crowded polio ward at the city-county hospital.

Harris County suffered its worst day of the epidemic there with 24 cases recorded. There were ten each in the city and County and four non-resident cases. Previously, the highest single-day total had been 16 on June 9.

Parkland Hospital at Dallas had 37 polio cases in its ward, the most to be hospitalized in the big hospital's isolation ward this year. Three children, the oldest only eight years old, raised the Dallas total for the year to 128.

Meanwhile, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, promised a fight next year before the state legislature for an appropriation equal to 50 cents per person or more than 3,500,000 dollars.

He said such a budget for public health work in the state still would not bring Texas up to the half way mark among the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

Dr. Cox pessimistically pointed to the spread of polio through Texas. Nine of the 43 counties reporting the disease last week did so for the first time in 1952, making 121 of the state's 254 counties that have suffered cases this year.

The State Health Department's records showed five counties with more than 50 cases for the year.

Harris County was far out front with 294; followed by Dallas, 95; Bexar, 83; Nueces, 73; and Tarrant, 65. Those counties cover some of the greatest population concentrations in the state—Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and Fort. Worth.

Hard - hit Harris County had 52 new cases last week and Dallas County had 24.

Grayson had its first cases of the year, five at one blow. Other counties where polio struck for the first time were Castro, Aransas, Coke, Gonzales, Rusk, Stephens, Upshur and Young, all with one case each.

Lavaca County recorded 24 cases last week, but 23 were accumulative from previous unreported weeks. The county has had 46 cases this year.

Incidence in other counties the past week: Tarrant, 13; Dawson and Martin, 6 each; Travis and Victoria, four each; Bowie, McLennan, and Neuces, three each; Anderson, Bexar, Calhoun, Hidalgo, Parker, and San Patricio, two each; Brazoria, Edwards, Fort Bend, Gregg, Hamilton, Hardin, Hays, Hockley, Jefferson, Midland, Smith, Taylor, Upton, Wichita, Wilbarger, Williamson, and Wood one each. The armed forces reported two cases, unlocated as to county.

QUADS' POP GOES TO BED

PORTLAND, MAINE — (AP) — The father of four-day-old quadruplets was in the same hospital as his wife and babies Thursday, the victim of frazzled nerves.

Silas Pinkham, 45, of Standish, was admitted as a patient when he visited Mrs. Elizabeth Pinkham, 35, and the quads — William, Rebecca, Melissa, and Jane—at the Osteopathic Hospital Wednesday night.

Officials said mother and quads continued to do nicely but they said Pinkham was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

Family physician Stanley E. Rowe of Gorham ordered the carpenter to bed for two or three days rest.

Former Panhandle Banker Is Indicted On Fraud Charges

AMARILLO—(AP)—Travis W. Bain, 45, Amarillo, former executive vice president of the Hereford State Bank at Hereford has been indicted by the federal grand jury here on fraud charges.

Bain and Floyd J. Wilson of Lubbock—now serving a five year sentence for swindling—were named in an indictment charging seven counts of violation of the anti-fraud provisions of the Federal Securities Act and counts of violation of the mail fraud statute.

Bain was arrested here and released on a $5,000 bond Wednesday.

Officers say Bain is a former federal bank examiner and a former agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Bain, who has been in the used automobile business here for the past several months, has not been associated with the Hereford bank since last April.

Federal officers said Wilson was sent to the Texas State Penitentiary from Big Lake after entering a plea of guilty on swindling charges there April 14.

Shivers Due Here Friday

Gov. Allan Shivers will visit Midland Friday in the interest of his campaign for reelection to a second elective term as governor of Texas.

GOV. ALLAN SHIVERS

The governor will meet and visit with his friends and supporters at a public reception scheduled at 3 p.m. in the district courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse.

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney and a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, is in charge of arrangements for Shivers' visit here. He said the governor will make a brief talk and that everyone is invited to hear him.

Governor Shivers will come to Midland from San Angelo and will go to Odessa following his visit here to be the principal speaker at a Friday night banquet there. He has visited in Midland and vicinity on several occasions and has many friends and acquaintances here.

Wick Fowler, former Midland newspaperman who now is an executive secretary to the governor, is accompanying Shivers on his West Texas campaign tour.

Truce Talkers Say No Accord Reached As New Year Opens

MUNSAN, KOREA —(AP)— Truce negotiators began their second year of meetings Thursday—closer to a Korean armistice than a year ago, but still offering no hint of early success.

"Today is just another day," said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, United Nations spokesman, after a 40-minute secret session at Panmunjom.

It was the seventh session under a news blackout agreed to by both sides in an effort to resolve the final issue blocking an armistice—prisoner exchange. Another was set for Friday.

Nuckols would not say what progress, if any, was being made. But he did say the atmosphere was businesslike, unlike some of the angry sessions before the secret meetings began.

'CHAIR CORPS' SURVEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Congressional complaints that the armed forces are overloaded with a "chair corps" of non-fighting men have brought results: Secretary of Defense Lovett says he is setting up an advisory committee to study how to make the most economical use of military manpower.

Telescopes show that the surface of Jupiter is marked by belts of light and darker materials.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

Just ask your druggist for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into pint bottle; add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple easy way to get rid of the extra poundage, return the empty bottle for your money back. Year after year this amazing product increases in popularity. Over four and a quarter million bottles have been sold in Texas in nine years. No starvation diet with Barcentrate. Rigid diets can do a great deal of harm and really should never be undertaken except under the supervision of a physician.

Lost 20 Pounds

Mrs. Connie Lee, Box 451, Abilene, Texas, wrote us as follows: "I weighed 278 pounds when I commenced to take Barcentrate. I have already taken off 20 pounds and am still taking it. I would not take anything for what Barcentrate has done for me."

16 Pounds Lost

"I am an invalid and was about 40 pounds overweight"—reports Mrs. Mary Russell, 1000 W. Broadway, Fort Worth, Texas. "After meals I was always miserable with a stuffy feeling; just would have to gasp for breath. Since taking Barcentrate, I have already lost 16 pounds and do not have those difficult breathing spells and burning in my stomach. I think Barcentrate is wonderful."

Swimmer Wants To Lasso Shark For Surfboard Ride

Paul Chotteau, veteran long-distance swimmer, proposes to harness a blue shark to a contraption embodying a pair of pontoons and let the shark furnish the propulsion.

Chotteau swam 42 miles from Catalina Island to Malibu in 1936, and in 1949 had to quit 11 miles short of a 115-mile swim from Bimini, British West Indies, to Palm Beach. Now he's 54 and hankers to swim the Catalina Channel that Florence Chadwick almost but not quite conquered last week.

Just how he'd harness the shark Chotteau doesn't say. He says he tried his idea, small scale, with a goldfish furnishing the power, and that it worked fine.

"But I don't even have a blue shark," he explains. "Getting one alive may take time."

Truman Sticks By TV Set, Afraid Bob Taft Has Lost

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman is sitting in on the Republican National Convention—by television. He's probably seen more of some major Chicago activities than have the GOP candidates right on the scene.

So far, he says he's happy over what he's witnessed of intra-party wrangling, but is "worried" over indications his favorite candidate—Robert A. Taft—" is going to get beat."

Television has covered not only developments on the convention floor and all major speeches, but also several committee meetings.

Truman has been watching on a large-screen TV set in the White House. Aides said he "tore himself away from television" Wednesday to greet Secretary of State Acheson, returning from a tour of Europe and South America.

The GOP candidates for the presidential nomination, on the other hand, undoubtedly have been too busy with private conferences and other business to watch much television.

What does the President think about the convention so far? From what he told reporters and State Department officials, it shapes up like this:

For one thing, he enjoyed the committee wrangling. With obvious relish, Truman said he observed that the Republicans "did all the quarreling they could in committee."

Such committee meetings, to settle arguments over contested delegates, have been thrown open to radio and television for the first time.

Regarding Taft, to whom he has referred repeatedly as his "favorite" GOP candidate because he believes he's easiest to beat, Truman said with a grin:

"I'm worried. It looks like my favorite candidate is going to get beat."

Truman's trip to the airport apparently caused him to miss the address by Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, a bitter critic of the administration.

Reporters asked the President whether he had anything to say about "the mistakes of the Acheson-Truman-Lattimore party described in Chicago, snapped that he didn't know anything about that. He added:

"But if McCarthy said it, it's a damned lie, you can be sure of that."

Coal Mine Blast Under Sea Kills Six; 19 Reach Safety

GLACE BAY, Nova Scotia—(AP)—Rescue workers early Thursday recovered the burned, broken bodies of six miners killed in a searing blast which rocked one of this Cape Breton town's largest coal mines 1,200 feet below the surface.

A seventh victim escaped immediate death in Wednesday night's explosion but was hospitalized in serious condition with third-degree burns. Eighteen other men working in the vicinity got out unhurt.

Rescuers dug with dynamite, picks, shovels and bare hands for almost six hours through tons of fallen rock and coal to reach the 1,200-foot level where the men had been trapped.

There was no immediate indication of the cause of the explosion.

The above-ground workings of the mine—officially known as Dominion No. 20—are near the business section of this mining center but some of its corridors snake far out under the Atlantic.

The blast apparently centered under the ocean, about three miles from the main shaft of the mine.

Michael Chordas, a miner working on the level above the explosion scene, said he and his four companions felt a heaving bump—an upward movement of the mine floor caused by tremendous pressure.

"It got so hot we got out of there right away," he said.

The mine is owned by the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation.

The explosion was Nova Scotia's second mine disaster this year. Nineteen miners died in February in a blast at the Magregor Mine in Stellarton.

Queen Elizabeth Voted Pay Raise

LONDON — (AP) — The House of Commons has okayed a pay raise for Queen Elizabeth II, giving her 475,000 pounds ($1,330,000) a year to run the royal household.

The decision hiking the royal budget 65,000 pounds ($182,000) over that of the late George VI came despite outraged demands by a score of Laborites that the ruler's purse be cut almost in half—to 250,000 pounds ($700,000).

After the Conservative government's majority defeated Laborite amendments to trim the budget, the House approved it without a vote. The government now will draft a bill covering the new budget. Its acceptance by the House of Commons is only a formality.

Eva Peron Rests; Health Not Better

A government spokesman said doctors had described her condition as unsatisfactory.

There have been widespread but unconfirmed reports that Mrs. Peron was seriously ill. She underwent a major operation for an unspecified ailment in June, 1951, and since then has made few public appearances.

Troops Put Down New War Prisoner Rioting In Korea

PUSAN, KOREA — (AP) — Twenty-four prisoners were injured Wednesday when club-wielding Reds fought each other in a stockade at Nonsan the Army said Thursday.

A platoon of American guards restored order without firing a shot or using tear gas, the Army said.

About 130 prisoners were involved in the demonstration.

Nonsan is about 22 miles southwest of Taejon in Southwestern Korea.

Guards moved into the compound after two groups of war prisoners armed with clubs and other homemade weapons began rioting inside the barbed wire enclosure, the Army said. No reason for the fight was announced.

Fourteen of the injured prisoners were hurt seriously enough to require evacuation to Taejon for hospitalization. One was reported in serious condition.

A short Army announcement said the fighting started at Compound 16 shortly after midnight when about 40 prisoners, armed with clubs made from tentpoles, began attacking other prisoners and ripping tents.

Some 16 prisoners crawled through the compound fence to escape violence. They immediately surrendered to guards outside the compound.

The prisoners were presumed to be North Koreans because the UN Command has announced all Chinese POWs now are held on Chegu Island, off South Korea.

SPANIEL CATCHES BEAVER

COLUMBIA FALLS, MONT.—(AP)—A cocker spaniel named Lucky—wasn't—when he chased a beaver into the Flathead River near here. The spaniel caught the beaver. A veterinarian later sewed up three gashes in Lucky's side and strapped him for a broken rib. The beaver swam away.

Arson Suspected In Costly Fire At Warner Movie Lot

BURBANK, CALIF.—(AP)—A second disastrous fire in less than two months raged across the Warner Brothers movie lot Wednesday and one officer expressed the belief Thursday that arson was involved.

Studio spokesmen roughly estimated damage at $4,500,000 to $6,000,000.

Spectators who remembered the May 16 blaze had that feeling they get at the movies! This is where we came in.

The fire swept in a giant arc through 25 studio back-lot acres, destroying nine streets of scenery ranging from Norwegian to Western.

Sheriff's Arson Investigator Ed Hatcher said there is "every indication" the fire could not have started accidentally, and must have been incendiary.

He said that he and an investigator for the National Board of Fire Underwriters found the area in which the fire started. Hatcher said there was no material there that could have started the fire.

2,000 Props Burn

The blaze razed a storage shed containing a 30-year collection of some 2,000 acting props—Robin Hood crossbows, mummy cases, roulette tables, horsehair sofas, spears, swords.

It gutted and collapsed a corrugated iron hangar housing an undetermined number of planes used in movie scenes. Then wind-driven embers leaped a street and burned perhaps 200 acres of scrub oak and brush on a nearby mountainside.

Shapely Patrice Wymore (Mrs. Errol Flynn) was a fetching spectator in the shorts in which she had been rehearsing a hot blues song-and-dance number.

Other movie actor onlookers included Gordon MacRae, Virginia Gibson, Sheldon Leonard and Joe Vitale.

Eighteen studio workmen suffered minor burns, cuts or bruises fighting the fire. Two had heart attacks. One sound stage was scorched and cannot be used until repaired, the studio said. A shed 1,200 feet long and two stories high containing stores of scenery was razed.

An imitation ocean liner and dock, a grand central station and a New York park were destroyed. So were rows of outdoor sets known as the Midwest, Western, tenement, Philadelphia, Norwegian, Viennese, Dijon and Montemartre French and Bonneyfeather "Anthony Adverse" streets.

Moonshiners Lose 804 Stills In May

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Federal revenue agents bore down hard on moonshiners during May, seizing 804 stills valued at $325,597.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue announced Thursday that about 780 of the stills were seized in the South, only one in Western states, and just a handful in Midwest and Northern districts.

The Alabama, Florida, Georgia and South Carolina district produced the largest number of seizures—368. Seized property was valued at $96,090.

Financially, the best haul was in the New Jersey-Delaware district —only six seizures, but the property was valued at $104,035.

PROPAGANDIST MEETS MATCH

ADDIS ABABA, ETHIOPIA — (AP)—One of the Russian propaganda chiefs here approached the American general secretary of the local YMCA.

"We would like to put some of our literature and publications in the YMCA," the Russian suggested.

"Do you permit the YMCA to operate in Russia?" The YMCA general secretary asked.

The Russian's silence ended the matter.

Home Front Political Wars Wax Hotter In Texas Races

By The Associated Press

Conclusion of the Taft-Eisenhower Texas feud at the Republican National Convention turned the eyes and ears of Texas toward home-front wars Thursday.

The roughest battles on the home front were for U. S. Senator and governor. But the agriculture commissioner's race and some congressional campaigns were picking up speed as the July 26 Democratic primary neared.

Shivers To Broadcast

Governor Shivers, in a determined bid for re-election, was to be at Tulia, Canyon, Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock Thursday as he carried his campaign into West Texas. Friday night he will make his weekly radio broadcast from Odessa.

Shivers' opponents hit at him right and left. Mrs. Allene Traylor campaigned from her home in San Antonio with continued appeals for a "change from corrupt government." Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney, criticized the governor Wednesday for delaying "until after elections" a settlement of the auto inspection law.

Yarborough toured Southeast Texas as Shivers hit the West. He was at Silsbee, Kountze, Kirbyville, Newton, Jasper, Zavala, Huntington, Lufkin, Nacogdoches, Chireno, San Augustine and Center Wednesday.

The governor ignored Yarborough's charges on the auto inspection law and corruption in state government. Instead, he made a bid for the farm vote with the assertion he wanted to see every Texas home with electric service, asked for expansion of REA, and more farm-to-market roads.

Yarborough Blasts

He also plugged for water and soil conservation, public education and law enforcement.

Yarborough charged that "at the same time that he (Shivers) is promising a re-examination of the auto inspection law, a major Hunt County supporter of his is setting up officers in Austin to lobby against any change in that law."

E. W. Napier of Wichita Falls, plugged in Corpus Christi for recognition of Red China, and the Chinese Communists' admittance to the United Nations.

Daniel Asks Changes

Attorney General Price Daniel tackled the problem of presidential elections and said, "Even after the nominees are chosen by the political bosses, the people have no direct vote on their choice for President."

He said he favored the Lodge-Gossett Amendment which would apportion the electoral college in accordance with the popular vote cast for various candidates.

While Daniel toured West Texas, Lindley Beckworth was in South Texas on his marathon-type campaign. In Houtson and Galveston Thursday, the Congressman scheduled speeches and handshaking Friday at Shiner, Yoakum, Cuero, Westhoff, Nixon, Stockdale, La Vernia, Sayers, San Antonio, Boerne, Comfort, Kerrville, Bandera and Hondo.

The Congressman's father, O. J. Beckworth of Gilmer, spoke in behalf of his son's self-styled "poor boy's" campaign in Central Texas. He scheduled speeches at Rogers, Bartlett, and Granger Thursday, at Taylor, Milano and Caldwell Friday.

Beckworth has stressed his congressional record and charged his opposition with attempting "to buy the senatorship with large campaign funds."

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham, campaigning for his twenty-first term in Congress, visited with friends at his farm home Thursday and planned radio speeches as the major part of his reelection bid.

Rayburn, often called the most powerful Democrat in Washington, is opposed by a political novice. He is 32-year-old Reagan Brown of Terrell, former Kaufman County agricultural agent.

Selection Of Jury For Robert Barber Still Not Complete

DALLAS —(AP)— Three jurors remained to be picked when court opened Thursday in the case of Robert Hugh Barber, Jr., on trial for robbery in the $11,000 holdup of a Dallas cafe.

State attorneys have said they would ask the death penalty for Barber, 26-year-old Angelton man, who already is under a 50-year sentence for murder in the slaying of a policeman.

Fort Worth Detective H. E. Cleveland was slain in a gun battle that resulted when police from Dallas and Fort Worth entered Barber's home to question him about the Dallas robbery.

Two co-defendants already have pleaded guilty in the Dallas robbery and were given 40-year prison terms.

Interest in the Barber trial has perked up in the days which it has required for a jury selection. Seventy-four veniremen were questioned before attorneys selected the nine jurors that have been chosen.

Barber's pretty blonde wife and his parents have been in the court room almost constantly since the trial started Monday.

Oil Man's Widow Challenges Executor Of Doswell Estate

DALLAS —(AP)— The brother of Thomas W. Doswell, slain Dallas oil man, has been ordered by a probate court to appear July 21 to show why he should not post a large bond as executor of his brother's will.

Mrs. Rebecca Doswell, widow and convicted murderess of the dead man, filed a petition asking that Houston Doswell be required to post a bond equal to "double the full value" of her husband's estate.

She made the request from her Dallas County jail cell. She is awaiting an appeal from a life sentence she received for the murder of her wealthy husband.

In the petition she charged that Houston Doswell has a tendency to "waste, mismanage and misapply" money that she claims is rightfully hers. She said he filed "false, fraudulent and fictitious" claims against the estate.

Livesay Sentenced To Life In Joshua Blocher's Slaying

HASKELL—(AP)—The ghost of the "Old Devil of Bailey County" may be resting easier today.

That's because a second man was convicted Wednesday of the 13-cent murder of 85-year-old Joshua Blocher, who called himself the "Old Devil."

Thomas C. Livesay, 36, Amarillo smelter worker, waived a chance to appeal the verdict and was sentenced to life imprisonment. L. D. Stevens, 51, is appealing a death sentence in the case.

The pair said they found only pennies in the home of the bearded recluse.

They overlooked $10,000 in $10 and $50 bills which were buried beneath the floor of the shack where he lived.

Officers dug up the money after the old man was found beaten to death in a cotton field near his home at Progress, Texas, last August 15.

Blocher founded the town of Progress on the main highway between Lubbock and Muleshoe. His hopes of seeing the town grow into the biggest one in Bailey County faded with the years. He became embittered when Muleshoe outgrew Progress and became the county seat.

Stevens was sentenced to death last December. Livesay's trial was brought to Haskell on a change of venue.

San Angelo Rapist Gets 99-Year Term

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—A negro was sentenced to 99 years Wednesday after a jury convicted him of rape.

John Taft Rosenburrough, 19, of San Angelo, was accused of assaulting a housewife in San Angelo. His attorneys said they would appeal.

Couple In Covered Wagon Cross State

CENTRALIA, ILL.—(AP)—It took a Matoon, Ill., couple back to pioneer days to travel 100 miles in a covered wagon. It also took them four days.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Reed had a hunch it would be tough. They hired a truck to take their home furnishings ahead to their new Mt. Carmel, Ill., home. They took the "hard way" because it seemed a good way to take their covered wagon relic and horse with them.

Two Men Charged As Dope Smugglers

MARFA —(AP)— Two men were charged with smuggling narcotics, and jailed here Wednesday.

Manuel B. Peres, 40, of Candelaria, and Ernest Aguirra, 28, of Poral, Mexico, were held in lieu of $3,000 bond. They were arrested by customs agents who found 10 pounds of opium in Peres' car and another 38 1/2 pounds in a tire casing.

Midland Edges Artesia, 3-2, To Slip Into Third Place

Nicolls Notches Eighth Straight As Brown Homers

The spirited battle for third place in the Longhorn League standings will continue here Thursday night between the Artesia Drillers and the Midland Indians with Eddie Jacome (12-6) slated to toe the rubber for the home team and Irvin Armin (4-1) due for the visitors.

In the scramble for third place in the standings, Artesia pushed Midland out in the first of the three-game set here Tuesday night, but Wednesday, the Tribe temporarily won the tug-o-war struggle when it shoved the Drillers into fourth place behind the seven-hit hurling of Keith Nicolls.

BILL BROWN
. . . His Blow Is Margin

Nicolls weathered a stormy first inning which saw Artesia tally twice on four consecutive hits, including singles by Jim Haley, Paul Halter and Rudy Briner and a double by Joe Bauman. But the stocky little right-hander just rared back and fired the ball past the heavy artillery of the Artesia crew, spacing three singles for the remainder of the route.

Rookie right-hander Frank Fernandez allowed only five hits in defeat but three miscues by his mates in the fifth frame proved costly, allowing the Indians to tie up the game.

Even Matters Up

The Indians evened matters up like this:

After Ed Cholakian flied out to first, Rookie Catcher Carl Barbour, making his debut in an Indian uniform, dribbled a hit past the pitcher. On the play at first, Joe Bauman bobbled the ball and Barbour was waved to third by the umpires when the ball rolled into the bats by the Indian dugout, automatically permitting the runner to advance two bases.

Earl Bossenberry singled Barbour home. Scooter Hughes reached first on Pete Pichan's error with Bossenberry taking second.

On a double steal then, Artesia Catcher Rudy Briner threw the ball into left field, allowing Bossenberry to steam in to score with the tying run. Gahlen Dinkel struck out to end the inning.

With one away in the bottom of the sixth, Outfielder Bill Brown, a right-handed batter, stepped to the plate and planted a home run over the right field fence for the margin of win. It was Brown's fourth round tripper of the year.

Artesia Threatens

Artesia threatened to score in the sixth inning when Paul Halter walked to start the frame. But slugger Joe Bauman slammed a grounder to the right of second which Ed Cholakian speared with a backhand stab and whipped to Scooter Hughes, covering second, who completed a double play to first. Briner grounded out to end the inning.

With two away in the ninth, the Drillers again placed two men on base when Andy Alansa singled and Pinch Hitter Hanna walked. However Nicolls forced Vince Sarubbi to hit a grounder to Hughes who threw to Cholakian to force Hanna at second and end the ball game.

For the first time in recent games with the Artesia crew, Manager Zeke Bonura allowed his regular right-handed pitcher to throw to Bauman. And it paid off. The big first sacker collected only one hit in three attempts.

Broncs Blank Vernon, 2-0

BIG SPRINGS —(AP)—Though he needed help from Gil Guerra in the ninth, Oscar Regeura achieved his second straight victory when Big Spring blanked Vernon, 2-0, here Wednesday night.

Regeura temporarily lost his control in the last frame and was removed from the lineup after walking Art Neal and Lou Ehlinger with only one out.

Guerra came on in relief and forced Pinch Hitter Al Richardsom to hit into a double play.

The Broncs scored a run in the fourth when Juan Visteur singled, went to second on an infield out, to third on a fielder's choice and on in a safety into right field by Catcher Al Valdes.

The Broncs added their other run in the sixth when Pat Stasey singled and went all the way to third on a boot by Goldy Ghoulson. He scored on a drive through the box by Visteur.

Steve Lagomarcino started on the mound for Vernon but Manager Pat McLaughlin saw fit to remove him not long after he had been felled by a line drive hit by Visteur. Lefty Lloyd Wallis finished on the hill for Vernon.

Bill Frank Returns As Longhorn Umpire

ABILENE—(AP)—Bill Frank, who started his professional umpiring career in the Longhorn League in 1948, has rejoined the circuit's staff.

Frank worked several seasons in the West Texas-New Mexico loop.

He will serve as the ninth man on the staff, League President Hal Sayles said.

Roswell, Angelo Divide Twin Bill

ROSWELL —(AP)— Van Huppert poled a dramatic home run with a mate aboard to give the Roswell Rockets a 6-5 verdict over the San Angelo Colts in the first game of a doubleheader here Wednesday night, but the Colts came back to win the second, 7-3.

Huppert's blow came in the eighth inning with one down and drove in Les Palmer, on with a single, ahead of him to bring the Rockets from behind and hand them the win.

The two clubs had fought to a tie in the regular seven innings for a doubleheader game, and the Colts went ahead in the first extra inning, the eighth. Mart Dooley doubled in Greg Solis with that one run.

Huppert then slugged his homer over the right center field wall, 375 feet away in the home half of the eighth to give Roswell the win.

Andy Alonso survived a barrage of 14 Colt hits to take his tenth win against six losses. Alonso also came on in relief in the second game.

Another 14 hits range from bats of the Colts in the second contest as they marched to victory behind the steady, six-hit pitching of Cotton Russell.

Jake McClain picked up four hits in the first game and two doubles and a single in the second contest to run his night's work to seven hits in eight times at bat as he led the slugging Colts.

Russell doubled in two runs in the second inning as the Colts managed three runs in the second game. They added three more in the fifth and picked up one in the sixth to take an easy win.

Russell was shaky in the early innings, but settled down and held Roswell to two singles and no runs in the last four innings.

The two teams will meet here again Thursday night in another doubleheader.

First game:

Eddy's Cards At Crossroads

11-Day Home Stand Could Be Decisive

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The next two weeks should decide the fate of Eddy Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals.

Beginning Thursday night, the red-hot Redbirds take on Philadelphia, Brooklyn and New York in succession before closing out their home stay with Boston in an 11-game stand against the Eastern cities.

By then, the sizzling Cards may either have blown a fues or have established themselves as a solid pennant threat on an even footing with the Dodgers and Giants.

Currently the hottest club in the National League, the Cards are riding high on a nine-game winning streak with 18 triumphs in their last 22 games. Wallowing in the second division a month ago, the Redbirds have pushed into third place, nine and one-half games behind Brooklyn.

'Outside Chance'

Stanky, though well aware of the Dodgers' healthy 13-game edge on the decisive defeat side of the standings, refuses to concede a thing to Brooklyn and New York.

"We've still got an outside chance for the pennant," he said.

"We're going good right now. There is no reason why we shouldn't continue. We picked up four games on the Dodgers in a little over a week. And we're going to pick up more ground. This race isn't over by a long shot."

Stanky's optimism was based on the fact that his team has shown it can beat the Dodgers. The Cards hold a 6-5 margin over the league leaders. Only the Giants have an advantage over them, that by the narrow 7-6 edge.

The Cards' sudden surge has been a team affair with almost all the regulars sharing the credit. But the man most responsible, even more so than Stan (The Man) Musial, has been Enos (Country) Slaughter. The 36-year-old warhorse, who refuses to bow to age, is enjoying one of his best seasons.

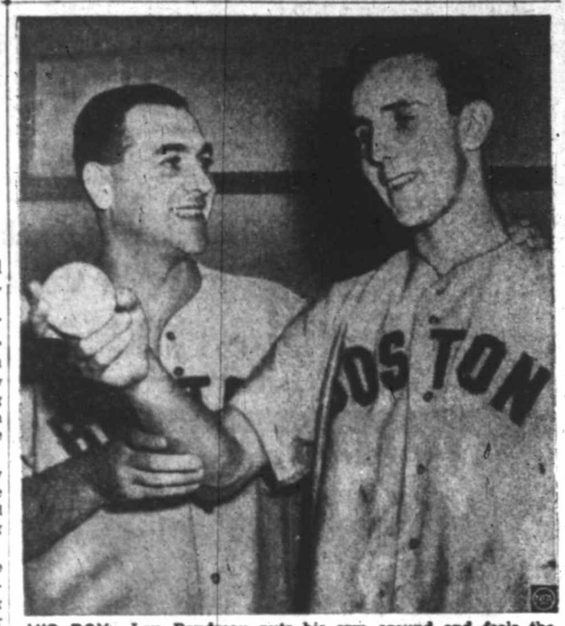

The fourth leading hitter in the league with .314, old Country has been using his bat with devastating effect in the last two weeks. He's driven in almost half his 49 runs during that time and he has driven in five runs in each of three days.

Musial, of course, has maintained his steady, league-leading .333 pace and Peanuts Lowrey, Red Schoendienst, Solly Hemus, Del Rice and Dick Sisler have contributed their share to the team's recent success. Al Brazle (6-1), Gerry Staley (11-6), Joe Presko (5-4), Cloyd Boyer (5-4), Vinegar Bend Mizell (3-5) and Eddie Yuhas (5-2) have sparkled on the mound.

American Is Fox Hunt

While the Cards are threatening to make a three-team affair of the National League race, the American continues to resemble a fox hunt with Cleveland, Washington, Boston and Chicago chasing the New York Yankees. The White Sox showed speed of foot during the last week to move into the runner-up spot, three games behind the Yankees. The Indians, Senators and Red Sox are not far behind.

The Yankees face an opportunity to increase their first-place margin, launching a 14-game home stand Thursday night with the St. Louis Browns as the first of four Western opponents. The White Sox engage the Senators in Washington, the Indians are the guests of the Athletics in Philadelphia and the Red Sox are hosts to Detroit in Boston.

Weber's Double In Twelfth Gives 4-3 Win To Odessa

SWEETWATER —(AP)— Charley Weber's twelfth-inning double enabled the Odessa Oilers to defeat the Sweetwater Braves, 4-3, here Wednesday night.

Sweetwater had to fight from behind to tie it up with single runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Both teams scored unearned runs in the first inning. The Oilers went ahead, 3-1, in the fourth on singles by Felix Castro and Parker, a hit batsman and a fielder's choice.

Sweetwater made it 3-2 in the sixth on singles by Charley Tuttle and Warren Sliter, coupled with an Odessa error. A walk by Grajeda, sacrifice by Kenny Hughes and Rocky Carlini's single tied it up, 3-3, in the seventh.

Both teams made scoring threats in the ninth, tenth and eleventh innings.

It was Parker's second victory since joining the Oilers recently from the Big State League.

The score:

Odessa	100 200 000 001—4
Sweetwater	100 001 100 000—3

Parker and Castre; Grajeda and Traspuesto, Mier.

Sauer, Rosen Set Pace At Slugging

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs, despite the recent slump which saw his batting average dwindle to .290, is still the National League's leading slugger today.

Slugging averages compiled by The Associated Press through games of Sunday, July 6, revealed that Sauer has 177 total bases tops in the majors in 293 times at bat for a slugging mark of .604. The hard-hitting Chicago outfielder has pounded out 17 doubles, three triples and a league-leading 23 home runs.

In the American League, Cleveland's Al Rosen continues as the pace-setter with a .577 average. The Indians' third sacker has come up with 16 doubles, four triples and 15 homers among his 92 hits for a total of 161 bases.

Joe Adcock of the Cincinnati Reds is Sauer's closest competitor for N. L. honors. Adcock, with 94 total bases in 169 times at bat, has a .556 average.

Musial Is Third

Stan Musial, the National's leading batter with .333, is third among the sluggers at .533, the result of 18 doubles, three triples and 11 round trippers. New York Giants' catcher Wes Westrum is next with .520 followed by Boston's Sid Gordon, .519, New York's Bobby Thomson, .505, and Gil Hodges of the Brooklyn Dodgers at .494.

Vic Wertz of the Detroit Tigers, a .248 batter, is giving Rosen a close battle for the American League slugging lead. Vic has collected only 54 safeties but included among them are 12 doubles, two triples and 16 home runs. His slugging average is .541.

Cleveland's Larry Doby, with 128 total bases in 236 trips to the plate, is third in the American League with a .534 slugging mark. Doby has totaled 12 doubles, three triples and 13 homers.

Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' sophomore sensation, is fourth at .527. Mickey has 17 doubles, three triples and nine home runs among his 76 hits.

Fifth place is held by Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics with a .498 average. Following Zernial are a trio of New York Yankees, Gene Woodling at .497, Yogi Berra, .484, and Hank Bauer with .473.

The most games won in a single season by a Cincinnati Red pitcher are 27. Adolf Luque turned the trick in 1923 and Bucky Walters in 1939.

SPORTS NOTES
BENCH JOCKEY
By BOB ADAMS

Before the Indians downed the Artesia Drillers here Wednesday night, the Artesia Crew had defeated the Tribe four consecutive times.

Midland now has defeated the Drillers six times, while taking a beating five times at their hands. Nicolls holds the most wins over the New Mexico nine with a three won, one lost record. Jacome has won one and lost one to the Drillers and Israel Ten has won one and lost two.

Jose Peraza, a former hurled with the Tribe, holds one victory over Artesia and Herb Dwire, rookie, has suffered one defeat at their hands.

• • • • •

Pat Lorenzo, who played center field for the Indians earlier this year, is batting better than .400 with Lamesa in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Midland never bickered over Lorenzo's hitting; it was his fielding which left a lot to be desired. Actually, the reason the Indians let him go was because he was a veteran and they had to make way for Dempsey Albritton, the veteran second baseman who was injured recently, then released by the Tribe.

If Albritton never had been injured, the Indians never would have run onto Pat O'Keefe. That's a peculiar turn of events, but it's typical of baseball.

• • • • •

And the doctors have promised him he can play in a couple of days. The eye began to swell again Wednesday and doctors thought exposure to the sun was causing the swelling.

• • • • •

A tip of the hat to Plate Umpire Sample for motioning to Artesia Hurler Frank Fernandez to go ahead and pitch Wednesday night when one of the players threatened to drag him into a discussion on a disputed pitch.

While we didn't necessarily side with Sample on the call, we favored his wanting to speed the game up.

We can't think of any other sport where bickering with the officials is allowed to slow up the game like it is in baseball.

And goodness knows, in too many games, baseball is slow enough without all that.

Sure a good hot argument is a part of the sport but there's a limit to how long the fan can sit on the edge of his chair and wait for the umps and the injured party to get through hurling invectives at each other.

It makes our blood pressure rise and in the press box there's no umpire handy to spend our anger on.

Give us the good old boy in blue who will let the players and managers alike know his thumb gets itchy when the argument is prolonged.

• • • • •

Out in Denver, Colo., the Denver Bears have initiated a new strike-zone uniform to aid the umpire in making his call.

The uniforms are marked in conspicuous colors along the area which is considered a strike on the batter.

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Four years ago, Jerrell Price played in the Texas High School All-Star game for Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech.

In August, Price again plays in an all-star game for Dodd—in the College All-Star-Los Angeles Rams game in Chicago.

Price was voted the game's outstanding lineman in helping Dodd's North All-Stars down the South, 4-0, in the 1948 Texas Coaching Association school contest at Abilene.

Dodd will find Price is still a mighty handy man to have in a forward wall.

Jerrell climaxed a great career with Texas Tech, January 1, by leading the Red Raiders to a 25-14 Sun Bowl victory over College of Pacific. That was just three days after playing in the Shrine East-West game at San Francisco.

Price made The Associated Press All-American second team.

Border Conference honors were plentiful last season—most valuable player, outstanding offensive lineman, outstanding defensive lineman, captain of the coaches' all-conference team, both platoons of the AP All-Conference.

Recognition No Surprise

Professional Los Angeles drafted him early.

Such recognition was no surprise, because two pre-season polls of coaches and sportswriters showed Price to rank the highest of any tackle in the Southwest.

These votes were won because the year before, as a junior, Price made the all-opponent teams of Rice Institute, Texas for the second year, Arizona, Texas Western, West Texas State and Hardin-Simmons.

Price made another handful of opponent elevens last Fall, being the only unanimous choice of Tulsa University's Golden Hurricane.

Price is called "Sody Pop" by his friends. In his younger days Price used to tend a store and greet friends with the offer of a soft drink whenever they showed up.

Jerrell hasn't been so generous in recent years, at least in the matter of yielding yardage to opposing backs.

LOTTA FUSS, FEW FEATHERS

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — What happens when Lightweight Boxing Champion Lauro Salas, weight 130, tangles with Wrestler Carlos Guzman, weight 230?

Nothing much, said witnesses to an impromptu clash between the two act at a cafe run by exfighter Baby Arizmendi.

Salas, who has had two previous well publicized cafe fights in a year, fractured nothing but the air with his punches.

Dallas Eagles Ride Loop Supremacy To Five-Game Margin

By The Associated Press

Dallas' Eagles rode their supremacy over Oklahoma City Wednesday night in to a five-game lead in the Texas League.

Jose Santiago annexed his seventh triumph—and sixth straight—in picking up the 6-4 win, Dallas' fourth of the last six with Oklahoma City.

Houston fell again Wednesday night to San Antonio, 1-0. The Buffs mustered but two hits off Jose Bracho, the winning pitcher.

Shreveport, in the cellar when it started the latest Civil War in the South on June 23, won its fifth in the last six games from Beaumont, 5-2. In the other game Fort Worth stopped Tulsa, 4-1.

Thursday, Dallas is at Houston, Fort Worth at San Antonio, Tulsa at Shreveport and Oklahoma City at San Antonio.

St. Paul Open Attracts Top Golfing Stars

ST. PAUL, MINN.—(AP)—The winner of the 1952 St. Paul Open Golf Tournament opening Thursday at Keller Course will be able to say he has beaten the nation's best.

Mangrum is defending the title he won here last year with a record 72-hole score of 266. The thrifty Snead is out to duplicate his 1937 victory and add to his winnings from this tournament which now total $7,634.34. Mangrum, incidentally, is only slightly behind Snead, with St. Paul winnings of $7,112.50.

Others seeking a share of the $15,000 to be split up after four daily 18-hole rounds, ending Sunday, include the long driving Andy Anderson, South American Star Roberto Devicenzo; such old standbys as Jimmy Thomson, Lawson Little, Jim Ferrier, Henry Ransom and former tennis star Ellsworth Vines; and Fred Hawkins, Doug Ford, Jackie Burke, Jr., and Tommy Bolt; among the younger pros.

Cary Middlecoff who had been planning a layoff until he won the Motor City tournament in Detroit Sunday, defeating Kroll in a playoff, changed his mind and entered at the last minute.

Indian Bats

The batting average of left-handed Pat O'Keefe skidded out of the select .400 circle here last week but the Midland outfielder still is pacing the Indians at the plate with a mark of .381.

Hurler Keith Nicolls, whose batting average belies the Sports adage that "pitchers can't hit," has moved into the runnerup spot by registering a .362 average.

Julio de la Torre, though out of action the last week with an eye injury is tied with pitcher-outfielder Pat Waters for third place. Both have identical .318 marks, though De la Torre has been at bat many more times than Waters.

Gahlen Dinkel slid out of the third spot but he is just a whisker away with a .317 mark.

Midland-Odessa All-Stars Compete In Softball Meet

The Midland-Odessa All-Stars, composed of Phillips Petroleum Company softball players, left Thursday to participate in the Frank Phillips Men's Club Tournament at Bartlesville, Okla.

The tournament will be staged July 11-13.

First game for the Midland-Odessa All-Stars will be at 4 p.m. Friday against the Bartlesville All-Stars. If they win, they will play at 9:45 p.m. against Kansas City. Should they lose, they will go to the loser's brackets in the double elimination tourney.

John Collins is manager for the Midland-Odessa All-Stars. Gene Greer of Odessa will do the hurling.

Dallas Named Host To '54 Public Links

DALLAS—(AP)—The National Public Links Golf Tournament will be played in Dallas in 1954. The site will be the Cedar Crest course. Seattle has been awarded the 1953 championships.

The decision was reached at Miami, where the current tournament is in progress.

MIDLAND'S YOUNGEST BOWLER — While she's a bit young for league competition, Pamela Bell, three and a half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, 2805 Franklin Street, is the youngest bowler in Midland. Finland Spreads Diplomatic Oil On Wild Olympic Waters

HELSINKI—(AP)—Finland, neutral host nation to the biggest and potentially the most controversial of modern Olympic games, spread diplomatic oil on troubled waters Thursday to bring about sports amity between East and West.

The Russians, after starting off with the usual cold isolation of the party line, have become unexpectedly friendly—very probably on orders from high places.

Now Baron Erik von Frenckell, president of the Finnish Olympic Organizing Committee, has called an "important" press conference. There were advance indications he would make a fervent appeal for peaceful games.

This would be in the tradition of the Olympic Games of ancient times. In those days long before the Christian era heralds went out through Greece to proclaim the games every four years, and called on the city states—many of which were usually in a state of war—to cease hostilities and permit the free passage of athletes to the site of the games. None ever was interfered with.

Premier Urho Kekkonen of Finland has written a magazine article which will be published shortly calling on the nation to maintain a neutral and friendly attitude despite the frictions of its past war with Russia.

Whether all this friendliness will add up to a games devoid of friction only time can tell. This is the first time Soviet Russia ever has competed, and it marks the return to the world sports arena of Germany and Japan as well. It will take a great deal of forbearance on all sides to avoid incidents.

The United States and Russia have the two biggest teams in the games—approximately 400 athletes each. There are 69 nations competing with about 6,500 individual entries. The rivalry of the two giants of the East and the West is certain to be watched with keen interest throughout the world.

At the outset, the Russians hid behind the usual iron or red tape curtain. But it opened up Wednesday. Reporters unexpectedly were permitted to tour the splendid modern village of Otaniemi, guarded by barbed wire, where the Iron Curtain athletes are housed. Russians wearing the bold white "CCCP" on their blue sweat shirts even showed up on a tour of the Olympic Stadium. "CCCP" stands for Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

There is no question but that Russia is making an all-out effort for a good showing here. Americans who watched the Soviet equestrian team unload were amazed at the splendor of the equipment and the quality of the horses.

Midland American Legion Nine Plays Lamesa Friday

The Midland American Legion nine will end it's season here at 5 p.m. Friday when it plays the Lamesa American Legion nine at Indian Park.

Although the Midland team is eliminated as far as the district title is concerned, it still can knock the Lamesa squad out of a title bid.

Lamesa and Odessa have beaten each other once in conference play and if Lamesa is defeated in this season finale, it will miss a chance at the district title.

In the only previous time the Midlanders were to face Lamesa, they had to forfeit the game when they were unable to muster enough players.

The Midland nine has dropped two lop-sided contests to Odessa in conference play.

Snead has a 0-1 record for the Midland nine. The squad is coached by George Bush.

No-Hit Ragan, Softball Reply To Pro Act Against Women

By JOHN McCALLUM

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Housewife Eleanor Engle didn't even get her pretty foot in the batter's box in a bid to crash professional ball, but, let's face it.

The battle has only begun.

In all other phases of Abner Doubleday's recipe, the glamor pusses are moving up like Hill Gail coming on in the stretch. They've penetrated everything from Little League Baseball to big-league softball.

Organized baseball remains the last outpost. You might title this one: "Custom's Last Stand."

Softball's answer to baseball's edict that women are better equipped to wield a frying pan than a Louisville slugger is attractive Bertha Ragan.

The Orange, Calif., mother will match her curves against Sal Maglie any time. She's the author of one of the most phenominal pitching records in history.

The shapely right-hander is in her 12th campaign, has registered 96 no-hitters and 297 shutouts. Three no-hitters were perfect games, one amidst the pressure of the World Championships.

Female Johnson

Mrs. Ragan is the figure filberts' marshmallow delight. She has averaged 360 strike-outs per season, popped up with an 0.73 earned run average last trip. Two years ago, the 28-year-old fireballer hurled 153 straight scoreless innings.

California's female Walter Johnson began as a shortstop in 1937. She started pitching by accident—literally. En route to an important game, the star pitcher on Bertha's team was killed in an auto crash. Bertha was pressed into service.

The comely Californian has twice led the Orange Lionettes to the World Championship. They'll shoot for their third straight title in Toronto in September.

More than 5,000,000 addicts are playing softball this Summer, but Madeline Lorton remains a rarity. The New York lady is the only female umpire. The first time she worked a men's game, one amazed guy cried:

"Hey, the ump—he's a girl!"

Madeline says umpiring men's games is great. Now she can have the last word—and get paid for it.

Women's Intuition

"Speaking of umpiring," relates Joe Gregg, just a slip of a fellow, "I was working the bases in a girls' game in Oklahoma City. I called a runner out on a close play at first. The manager thought I had blown one.

She was a big gal, made me look like an underfed midget. She scooped me up and pitched me clear out of left field.

When I saw her coming, I felt like a matador in a bull ring. I thought one of those southwest tornadoes had come up real fast."

Doris (Mrs. Grover Cleveland Alexander) Day feels there are lots of women who would make just as good ball players as men.

Maybe so, but look at the changes the game will have to undergo if the ladies are some day permitted to join the stag party.

A girl catcher reports to her new manager, for example. He explains the signals.

"Signals," she says, "who uses signals?

"I use women's intuition!"

The Washington Redskins of the NFL have played only one scoreless tie in their history. This was against the New York Giants on Oct. 1, 1939.

FIREBALLER—Bertha Ragan of the world champion Orange Calif., Lionettes, averaged 360 strikeouts per season hurling 96 no-hitters in 12 campaigns. (NEA)

JayCees Lose Out In Semi-Pro Ranks

The Odessa JayCee Gushers edged the Midland JayCee team, 9-7, Wednesday night at Odessa to win the district semi-professional softball championship.

The Gushers were presented a large championship trophy donated by the Coca-Cola Company, and will enter regional competition against Fredericksburg this weekend.

Midland used the services of three pitchers—Johnny Olson, Bill Medart and John Howard. Bob Moser was behind the plate.

A loosely-played ball game that saw no home runs and plenty of errors, it went two extra innings to decide the outcome.

The JayCees started with a bang, sending across three runs in the opening inning. But the Odessans went ahead in the third frame with a four-run rally. The Gushers had marked once in the initial stanza.

Midland scored twice in the fifth to knot the count at five-all. Both clubs tallied two runs in the seventh to send the game into extra innings after the eighth and ninth failed to produce any runs.

Odessa commited five errors and Midland was charged with four. Midland totaled 12 hits as compared to nine for Odessa.

An all-star team was announced, but names were not immediately available Thursday morning.

Hornets Slip By Eagles, 4 To 3

The Hornets edged the Eagles, 4-3, Wednesday afternoon in an American Legion League battle.

Elwin Hooten was on the mound for the Hornets. He gave up five hits.

Americans Lag Far Behind In British Open Golf Tourney

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, ENGLAND—(AP)—The British Open golf championship went into the second round Thursday with a tense battle developing between 1947 Champion Fred Daly and a strong British Empire group.

The five Americans still in the running were trailing far back of the leaders and another bad day could all but drop them out of contention.

Willie Goggin of Montclair, N. J., was in seventh place with a 71. Following were Jimmy Hines Chicago with a 73, veteran Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., and Willie Hunter of Los Angeles with 74's and Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo with a 75.

Daly played the 6,647-yard Royal Lytham and St. Anne's Course as though he owned it in the first round, notching a 67, one stroke under the existing course record.

Eighteen holes were slated Thursday. Then, the top 50 fight it out Friday in the final 36 holes.

Daly, from Northern Ireland, will have to keep going at a fast pace, because right behind him is Peter Thomson, a 22-year-old pro from Australia, who had a 68 and Bobby Locke of South Africa, the favorite, with a 69.

Dukes, Gold Sox, Pioneers, Gassers Rack Up Victories

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque and Amarillo, out to make their second and last place positions respectable despite the runaway condition of the West Texas-New Mexico League, had their current streaks at six victories in the last seven games after Wednesday night's action.

Albuquerque held to its runner-up position by three full games with a 9-6 triumph over Lubbock. Amarillo, 20 games off the pace, softened its cellar seat by nudging Pampa, 7-6.

First-place Clovis added the tenth win in the last 11 games, besting Lamesa, 8-5.

Democrats Lend Blueprints For Rousing Show To GOP

By ED CREAGH

CHICAGO—(AP)—The world must be turning upside down. Or so it seems to the Republicans.

Time was—and only four years ago—when the Democrats were the only ones to take figurative brass knuckles to their conventions.

The Republicans? Oh, they got together on a candidate through a series of dignified understandings ("deals" is a horrid word) and they gave him the prescribed number of cheers and then they all went home without so much as a ruffled necktie.

Well, it's different this year.

The Democrats still have a chance to claw each other to pieces. Over civil rights, for example. But so far their presidential hopefuls (anybody counted them lately?) are as polite to each other as high school boy to his girl friend's big brother.

And the Republicans?

Well, you should have seen them Wednesday night.

The jostling, shrieking masses in the aisles.

The cops called in to keep order.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey booed to the echo by the very people who twice ran him for President.

Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. fine exploding onto the platform like a popped champagne cork, waving his arms in full view of the TV cameras, roaring that by God—as he put it—he was being given a raw deal and wasn't going to stand for it.

Well, there was a lot of it, including at least one fist fight.

Those—Puerto Ricans

In view of all the feuding and fussing, this has been a pretty deadpan show. Hardly a joke cracked.

There's always the Puerto Rican delegation, though. It almost always insists on each of its members being called by name in a roll call. And then the members argue among themselves over who should vote.

The delegation has three members.

Said this convention reminded him of the one that drew up the United States Constitution in 1787 although:

"In that convention, things must have been much less hectic. There were only 55 delegates and you didn't have to spend half a day on the phone trying to locate any of them. As a matter of fact, the Russians hadn't even invented the phone yet."

And John Fell Stevenson, 16-year-old son of Democratic Gov. Adlai Stevenson, turned up—wearing an "I like Ike" paper cap.

"Only a joke," he explained.

They were.

THAT BREAKFAST TABLE LOOK—"Pride of Leyton," a Yorkshire terrier owned by Mrs. Catherine Miller of North Olmsted, Ohio, looks slightly dishevelled early in the morning, but she must wear those curlers. Style note for Yorkshires is that their hair must be longer than the dog is tall, and the curlers keep the hair from breaking.

Ike Forces Claim Victory—

general will win on the first ballot.

He declared he is confident that Maryland's 24 votes will be cast unanimously for Eisenhower.

But Maryland's Senator John Marshall Butler, a Taft supporter, told reporters he feels Taft still is in the running.

"I think he is still very much in the fight," Butler said.

Stassen Still In

The California delegation had a caucus and its chairman, Senator William F. Knowland, told the members to hold their 70-vote line firm for Gov. Earl Warren.

"If we are not swayed by rumor," Knowland said, "we have the opportunity to nominate Earl Warren for President."

Harold Stassen told a news conference he was staying in the race. He has 25 committed votes.

Around Eisenhower's headquarters in a downtown hotel, there was a general atmosphere of confidence in victory.

By the strength his forces displayed, the five-star general of the Army appeared to have pulled within striking distance of the first presidential nomination for a professional military man sence Ulysses S. Grant won the prize and the presidency in 1868.

Rear Guard Action

But he lost Georgia by a 607 to 531 vote. It was the first time a GOP convention had overruled its Credentials Committee. That Taft-dominated group had recommended, 29 to 22, the seating of a delegation heavily weighted for the Ohioan.

The Eisenhower allies developed such power that Taft's supporters elected not to oppose the seating of a Texas delegation favoring the general. Previously the committee had approved a pro-Taft group.

This made the new lineup in The Associated Press tabulation of delegates:

Eisenhower 514, Taft 468, others 110, uncommitted 96.

This picture could shift quickly on the first nomination ballot, when the uncommitted must join the ranks of those publicly tabbed for one candidate or another.

Fine Backs General

Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania cut down the uncommitted list sharply by a belated and widely forecast announcement that he is supporting Eisenhower.

The 52 to 18 poll of his delegaiton in favor of seating the Georgia Eisenhower group seemed to reflect equal support there for the general in the nomination battle.

Although Taft's strategists conceded he had suffered a setback, they promised grimly to continue the fight.

There was no suggestion they might give way for another candidate, although there was growing talk on the fringes about Gen. Douglas MacArthur as a possible runner.

Taft said "a number" of delegates who voted Eisenhower's way on the delegate contests "have assured me they will vote for me on the roll call."

Eisenhower, who slept through the convention's midnight vote on the Georgia test, earlier had declared he would win the nomination.

In the Georgia contest, the convention's action seated a delegation listed as 14 for Eisenhower, two for Taft and one undecided. The Credentials Committee-approved group would have given Taft all 17 votes.

Eisenhower's Texas victory gave him 33 votes, Taft five. The Credentials Committee had voted for 22 Taft and 16 Eisenhower delegates from the Lone Star State.

In the Georgia contest, Taft showed he has rock-bottom support of about 531 delegates toward the 604 votes needed for the nomination.

Eisenhower's strength was more difficult to pinpoint. Although his side polled 607 votes on Georgia, these included 101 publicly committed to Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

MARINES PICK FATHER OF YEAR

TOKYO—(AP)—The 102-year-old father of a U. S. Marine has been voted "Father of the Year" by the son's Marine outfit in Korea.

The father is Joseph Griffis, a part Indian from Vergennes, Vt., who has eight sons and daughters ranging in age from 21 to 32.

Comrades of Lt. Joseph K. Griffis, 24, of a Marine ground control intercept squadron in Korea took the vote.

The elder Griffis has lived to see his sons fight in every American conflict since the Spanish-American War.

Rotary To Lease Boy Scout Hut To Service League

Rotarians, at their meeting Thursday noon at the Midland Country Club, voted to lease their Boy Scout Hut at 210 West Maiden Lane to the Midland Service League, for use as its Day Nursery. The vote was by acclamation after the action was recommended by the Rotary Club directors and its president, Richard Brooks.

Mrs. Murray Fasken, president of the league, explained its activities and the need for the building which at present is not in use.

"Accepted With Regret," a club service playlet, was a feature of the Rotary program. Don Mitchell directed the skit.

Hearings On Visas Ruled Court Matter

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A special Federal Court has ruled that a person is entitled to a court hearing on a State Department order revoking his passport.

The court has rejected a government claim that issuance and rejection of passports are strictly within the province of the executive branch of government and may not be interferred with by the judiciary.

U. S. May Protest Embassy Bombing

Wilbur Says Taft Is Beaten, Starts Picking Ike's Cabinet

Editor's note: Wilbur Peeble, America's most average citizen, goes to the heart of the G.O.P. problem in the following letter to his wife, Trellis Mae, from the Republican National Convention.

By HAL BOYLE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Well, honey, it looks like five stars over the White House—according to a waitress who sold me a hot dog at Convention Hall.

"Ike's in!" she told me happily, and generously passed out free mustard to the crestfallen Taft supporters.

Bob Taft is still in there pitching with both vocal chords, but most of the bystanders now seem to feel that the steam in his teamroller is only going "fiz-z-z-z-z-z." They believe Ike has romanced the elephant and taught him to salute.

Ike's backers are so sure he'll be nominated and elected—that they are already picking his cabinet. I overheard one fellow at a bar say:

"Our problem now is unity—to heal the party's wounds. Ike ought to name Thomas E. Dewey secretary of state, Warren secretary of the interior, Stassen postmaster general, and MacArthur secretary of agriculture. Taft could be vice president."

What About Harry?

"In that case we might as well make it a coalition cabinet and appoint Harry S. Truman secretary of the treasury," a bitter Taft man said.

The question then arose about what to do with John Foster Dulles, and a fellow said:

"Why not appoint John Foster Dulles secretary to John Foster Dulles so there'll be no doubt about his policy?"

Well, honey, as you can see from this kind of talk the Republicans are kind of tuckered out. They had a rough week. They are not used to fighting among themselves like Democrats. A donkey can relax acting like a jackass, but it makes a dignified elephant nervous.

It may be a bit early for the Ike fans to count Senator Taft out. Personally, I know of only one man who has turned in his Taft button and he explained it was only because he was having his suit pressed—and wanted it back right away if Taft is nominated.

Short On People

The increasing likelihood that Ike will be the Republican nominee is very annoying to some members of the Old Guard GOP who refer to him as "the five-star Cinderella from Aboloney, Kansas."

"Darn it, we are always falling for glamor boys," one said. "I would rather run Herb Hoover again—if we can't have Taft. Let's be real Republicans."

Well, Trellis Mae, I am no surgeon. But if I had to sew up the wounds in the Republican Party at this moment I wouldn't use thread. I'd call for rope.

However, an old-time observer of conventions told me:

"Son, there is nothing in this world shorter than a politician's memory. The promise of future patronage can cure a lot of present name-calling."

Another veteran Republican had this to say about the convention—and he shook his head as he said it:

"The trouble with us Republicans is that we've got too many leaders, and the Democrats—they've got too many people."

Well, Trellis Mae, more tomorrow from

Your homesick husband

Wilbur

P.S.—Rush more money. It costs 20 cents to launder a pair of socks here.

Convicted Rapist Electrocuted; One Other Due To Die

HUNTSVILLE —(AP)— A rapist went to his death in the electric chair early Thursday and a negro convicted of murder is scheduled to die Friday.

Thomas Andrew Haley, 27, died at 12:12 a.m. Thursday for the rape of a four-year-old Fort Worth girl, May 26, 1951.

Set for midnight execution is a husky Dallas negro, Booker T. Reed, sentenced to death for the July 12, 1951, axe slaying of a white man Reed said he found in his shack home.

Dallas attorney Sam Barbaria has been in Washington several days attempting to get intervention by the U. S. Supreme Court in Reed's behalf.

Various stays of executions moved the Reed execution from its original date of March 1, 1952, to the July 11 date.

Mackey Promises Full Enforcement Of 'Bracerio' Law

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Immigration Commissioner A. R. Mackey said Thursday that although Congress failed to provide all funds asked for border patrol work, "we're going right ahead and en force" the Mexican alien control law.

The law is aimed at controlling illegal entry of Mexican laborers into the United States. They frequently are called "wetbacks" because many enter the United States by wading the Rio Grande River.

"We won't be able to do our job on as wide a scale as planned," Mackey told a reporter.

"However, we're going right ahead and enforce the law to the best of our ability. We're mainly concerned with the internal security of the nation."

Escaped Convicts Nabbed Thursday

HUNTSVILLE —(AP)— Tired, bedraggled and hungry, two convicts who escaped Eastham Prison Farm Monday surrendered meekly Thursday on prison property.

Authorities apprehended the pair, Thomas S. Ballard, 23, and Walter J. Barnes, 26, about 8:30 a.m. at a prison farm two miles north of here.

The escapees hadn't realized the field was prison property.

Since Monday night, the convicts said, they'd been hiding in a clump of bushes on a vacant lot in Huntsville only three blocks from the main penitentiary.

Research Group Finds No Brucellosis Mineral Cure

CHICAGO—(AP)—A livestock research group declared Thursday the feeding of trace element minerals will neither prevent nor cure brucellosis in animals or man.

The group, a research subcommittee of the National Brucellosis Committee, explained that widespread claims for the value of trace minerals in the disease "are quite unfounded and have been proven false by controlled experiments."

Trace elements are minerals such as cobalt, iodine, manganese, boron, and a half dozen others which are essential to good animal health although only a trace of them is necessary in the diet.

Dr. S. M. McNutt, veterinary scientist at the University of Wisconsin and head of the research group which made the findings on brucellosis, declared:

"Whether motivated by fanaticism or greed for profit, the sale of trace minerals for the cure of disease is big business. In a single area in one Midwest state, for example, the promotion of trace minerals to prevent and cure brucellosis has resulted in annual sales of more than a million dollars."

Comedian's Debts Disclosed In Court

NEW YORK —(AP)— Comedian Wilie Howard left debts of more than $78,000 and assets of $7,118 when he died Jan. 12, 1949, at the age of 62.

Howard, who had a reputation for generosity, owed federal and New York State income taxes, it was disclosed Wednesday when the U. S. government filed objections to an accounting in the estate.

Claude Balk, Former TES Director, Dies

AUSTIN —(AP)— Claude Belk, administrator of the State Board of Plumbing Examiners since 1947, died here Thursday following an illness of several months.

Belk also had been a former director of the Texas Employment Service, wartime director of the State War Manpower Commission, and former city manager of Houston.

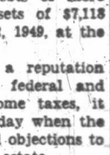

Exchange Club Sets Barbecue Thursday

Members of the Midland Exchange Club, their wives and other guests will attend a barbecue supper at 7 p.m. Thursday on the patio of the Officers Club at the Airpark north of the city.

Dancing will follow the supper, Jack Biscoe, who has charge of the club entertainment, said Thursday.

BACKGROUND ON THE DEMOCRATS

Eight Leading In Race For Job Harry's Quitting

By CLARKE BEACH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Among the men who are running, or being pushed, toward the Democratic presidential nomination, these eight have been the most conspicuous:

Senator Estes Kefauver, 48, who has by far the largest bloc of pledged delegates. The Tennesseean caught the national imagination last year when he was chairman of the televised Senate crime investigation—looking very wise and righteous as he grilled one notorious gangster after another before the cameras. He first became nationally famous in 1948 when he beat the long-undefeated Boss Crump machine and got elected to the Senate.

He had been a highly successful Chattanooga lawyer when he was elected to the House of Representatives in 1940. He has voted usually for the New Deal and Fair Deal. The tall, rawboned, grinning candidate has an ardent partner in all his campaigns, his good-looking wife, Nancy, whose father is a Glasgow, Scotland, shipbuilder.

Vice-president Barkley, who has been selected the favorite son candidate of his home state of Kentucky. Barkley says he won't campaign, but he'll accept if nominated.

In Office Since 1905

Barkley, who has held some elective office since 1905, has been a party stalwart for decades. He has almost always followed the lead of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman. As Senate majority leader, he helped to sell that body on much of Roosevelt's New Deal, pre-war and wartime legislation.

Elected Vice-president in 1948, he has continued to be a strong leader in the Senate and has also found time to keep a heavy speaking schedule throughout the country. He and his wife even took a tour of the Pacific battlefields and military bases last November. Barkley is 74, and his wife, whom he married in 1949, is about 40.

Senator Brien McMahon, who was about the last to announce his candidacy. McMahon, an earnest, business-man of medium build, was in charge of prosecutions of violators of federal laws while he was assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division of the Department of Justice. He was in the department from 1933 to 1939.

Atomic Energy Expert

He is a lawyer from Norwalk, Conn., who made his big name in the atomic energy field. From the time the first bomb was exploded in 1945, McMahon studied the subject of atomic energy intensively and became the Senate's leading expert on it. Although he had been elected to the Senate only in 1944, he achieved the rare distinction of being given the chairmanship of a major committee—on atomic energy—while still a newcomer. He also was sponsor of the Atomic Energy Act.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who, says he has no intention of running for anything but re-election as Governor. But many of his friends think he would accept a draft call from the convention.

Stevenson has aroused much admiration among the New Dealish wing of the Democratic Party for his forward-looking program in Illinois — although the Republican-dominated state Legislature has adopted little of it. Practical politicians in the party are impressed with his vote-getting propensities. Good-looking, humorous and fluent, he put on a vigorous campaign in his state and won by a record plurality of 572,000. Yet Illinois had elected only three other Democratic governors in 100 years.

Stevenson had held many important appointive positions in the federal government, chiefly in the international field.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, at 41 a spearhead of New Dealism in the party. He calls himself a "Roosevelt Democrat." He helped merge the Farmer-Labor and Democratic parties in his home state of Minnesota and now is leader of the joint party there.

Civil Rights Advocate

Humphrey is a tireless public speaker and television orator. He won his first election in 1945, to become mayor of Minneapolis. His big achievements in the office were his drive against gambling and the establishment of a city Fair Employment Practices Commission. He was elected to the Senate in 1948, after he had led a successful drive at the national convention for a strong civil rights plank.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, leader of the South's drive to control the party and of the bloc that opposes to the bitter end the civil rights plank that Humphrey promoted.

Long Career in Senate

Russell, a 54-year-old bachelor, has devoted most of his adult life to hard work in the Senate, where he is chairman of the Armed Services Committee. He made a big impression on Capitol Hill when his committee investigated the MacArthur ouster. He led the group with consummate skill, safely weaving through a minefield of political dynamite.

Russell was elected Governor of Georgia in 1931 and Senator in 1933.

Senator Robert S. Kerr, 56-year-old oil millionaire, who recalls often that he was born in a 14-foot-square log cabin, in Ada, Okla. He was a lawyer before he struck oil. He became governor of his state in 1942 and Senator in 1948.

Kerr a Prohibitionist

The 240-pound, 6-foot-4 Kerr made 300 speeches during 17 months as governor. He delivered the keynote address at the national convention in 1944—where he is credited with helping to start the boom for Harry S. Truman for vice-president. His enemies call him "The Big Wind," and his friends refer to him as "Smiling Bob." He is a non-smoker, non-drinker and a prohibitionist.

W. Averell Harriman, tall, slender blue-blooded millionaire, was still a young man when, helped by his family's great wealth, he was chairman of the board of Union Pacific Railroad, an international banker and an organizer of big-scale international business.

Boyhood Chum of FDR

Franklin D. Roosevelt, a boyhood friend, got him into government work, in the National Recovery Administration, in 1933, and he has been in the federal service ever since. He is now director of the Mutual Security Agency.

He has faithfully served the New Deal and Fair Deal. Most of his work has been in the foreign affairs field. He has dealt with Russia a great deal and is said to have had more personal negotiations with Stalin than any other foreigner.

John Lynch Heads Texas A&I Board

KINGSVILLE —(AP)— Frank C. Smith of Houston has resigned as president of the Texas A&I College board of directors and John F. Lynch of Corpus Christi is the new chairman, it was announced Thursday.

Smith resigned and Lynch was appointed in his place at a Tuesday meeting of the board.

Smith, president of the Houston Natural Gas Corporation and recently elected vice president of the American Gas Association, will continue as a member of the board but asked to be relieved of the duties of the chairmanship because of the press of personal business.

Lynch, appointed as a director last October, is president of La Gloria Corporation and the Reynosa Pipe Line Corporation. He has served as president of the Natural Gasolirie Association of America, director of the American Petroleum Institute, and vice president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Parley Of Big Four Discussed In Notes

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The United States, Britain and France are expected to propose to Russia Thursday an exploratory meeting looking to a Big Four conference on Germany.

Russia has been pressing for a Big Four meeting for the past four months.

Diplomatic sources said a new note, the sixth in an exchange, has been drafted by the Western Powers and may be delivered to the Soviet Foreign Office Thursday.

UNDERGOES TONSILLECTOMY

Andre Sanchez, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Sanchez, 508 East Ohio Street, has been admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital for a tonsillectomy.

GOLFING ACES COME IN PAIRS

PORT ARTHUR—(AP)—Two holes-in-one were made within 10 minutes of each other on the same 125-yard hole at Port Groves Golf Course here Wednesday afternoon.

Oke Summerline of Port Arthur shot the first and Joe Hathorne of Port Neches the second.

NEW HERO APPEARS FOR GOP

Great Man Is Senor Romany, Puerto Ricoan Laugh Maker

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Republican Party has a new hero—and his name isn't Eisenhower or Taft.

He's the man who gave the tension-ridden 25th GOP convention its first big relaxing belly laugh. He put some honest fun into the deadly serious politics here.

A great man, the senor, but one who doesn't look like a hero. He's a short, potbellied, 59-year-old lawyer and onetime judge, with his name next to last on the list of 1,206 delegates.

How he came to be a hero is a remarkable story of a remarkable night in the history of the Grand Old Party.

The argument had followed on and on over which delegation from Georgia should be seated: one favoring Sen. Robert A. Taft or one favoring Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Roll Call Demanded

Names had been called, and the man who still is the titular head of the party, Tom Dewey—because he was its last presidential nominee—had been loudly booed. It looked like a situation in which a single wrong word might be the spark which could blow up the party.

The rollcall had gone on, laboriously, painfully. It was obvious won, but the tension hadn't lessened.

The reply came back, "Puerto Rico three votes no."

The senor moved onstage and stole the show.

He began by demanding that the delegation—all three members—be polled individually—just like New York's 96 and Pennsylvania's 70 had been.

Big discussion on the platform. Was Puerto Rico's delegation in dispute? Could the challenge be made? At last, the answer: yes.

Incredibly, it must have taken five minutes to call the three names. Because it turned up such complications as this:

"Mrs. Providencia Romas de Vilamil," cried the reading clerk.

"What was the name, please?" came the heavily accented voice, as if the place were filled with women with similar names.

Another name was called. Again the voice. "He is a delegate. He is not here."

But the senor won his point. When his name was called, he voted yes. So that which was three noes and no yeses became two noes and one yes. The no votes were cast by the absent delegates' alternates.

In a talk with Senor later I learned, among other things, that while he was a judge he threw all of Gov. Tugwell's cabinet in jail.

Why, I don't know. The fellow who answered talked Spanish.

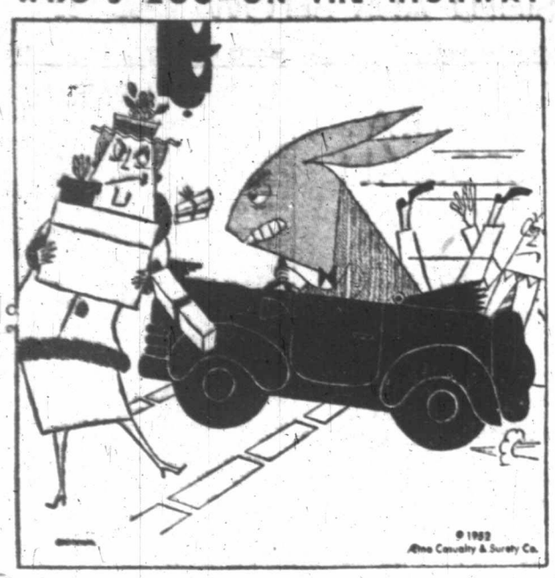

I asked about the Puerto Rican GOP background.

One delegate announced loudly that he represented the true party there, and instantly all three were hurling Spanish at each other.

Oddly, at the very moment this was going on, the convention took up the Puerto Rican delegate dispute, and unanimously seated the one which did not include Romany.

WHO'S ZOO—ON THE HIGHWAY

Women Drivers Outsmart Men With Aid Of Feminine Wiles

If you are planning to do any traveling in your automobile this Summer, you should be fully prepared to meet any emergencies and repairs on the road. Insure safe and happy driving with careful pre-vacation planning. Your life may depend upon it.

By ANNETTE GREEN
NEA Staff Writer

Women are taking to the open roads this Summer, and men, as usual, are holding their heads and predicting the outcome will be nothing short of "grim."

If you belong in the category of "female traveler," there's only one way to uphold your dignity and reputation as a woman who knows where she is going and in wha'.

As soon as you have decided on a destination, have a chat with your garageman. Make it casual. Don't let him know you are really depending upon his advice. Let him think you are holding a friendly discussion.

Ask him in the course of pleasantries to check the wheels for balance. If he has nothing else to do, he might even take a minute to rotate the tires and examine them for cuts; blisters and dangerous tread and sidewall wear. Don't make your request obvious, however. A hint or two should do it.

Next, lean against the radiator with some off-hand comment about leaks and possible stoppages in engine water jackets. After that's taken care of, suavely slip behind the wheel and start pumping at the brakes.

Smile sweetly, and remark about adequate fluid and brake lining. After all, there will be times on the road, won't there, when you might want to stop? Throwing out a plank could serve the same purpose as brakes, but it would be so inconvenient to carry.

If you are lucky, it will be raining the day you visit the garage. Then it won't seem odd that your windshield wipers are madly beating back and forth. After suggesting that he look to see if the wipers are sweeping clean, you might flash your headlights on nine or 10 times with the implication that you suspect potential short-circuits.

As you are pulling away from the station, call back a word or two about checking adjustments on the carburetor and choke, as well as mentioning that he examine the fuel pump for wear.

Your final words might be about checking the timing of the ignition, distributor points, coil, condenser and ignition cables. The spark plugs might be adjusted or replaced, too. Whatever you do, though, remember to be offhand.

Once you and the garageman have "talked" your car into perfect condition, drop the guise and get on with your travels.

If you are an explorer by nature—resist temptation. You'll be much safer sticking with known roads. If somehow you find yourself bogged down in a mud puddle in the middle of a deserted country lane, don't tramp on the gas pedal and expect to sail blithely through.

More likely, you'll go into a side spin and really bog down. Shift into first or second gear instead, and move slowly but steadily. To stop is to sink.

When irrevocably stuck, cogitate, don't accelerate. Get out of your car and reconnotter. There may be firm ground a short distance ahead. Put brush, dry grass, sticks or stones under those rear wheels. Gearshift-rock the car gently until the wheels grab. Scatter the track ahead with more dry stuff and proceed slowly in low gear.

Unpleasant as the thought may be, better learn to change a tire. It may not be the most glamorous job in the world, but with a little perseverance you can do it. Take the bumper jack out of the trunk and practice.

Better play safe and assemble a "trouble kit" for that long trip. You may not know how to use all the gadgets, but someone will.

In addition to your car's regular complement of tools—pliers, screwdrivers, special wrenches and jack—add: socket wrench set, penknife, tire irons, tube patches, pump, flashlight, fuses, two spark plugs (correct size), emergency gasoline can, tow rope, squirt oil can, coveralls and canvas gloves.

And if perchance, as you happily and safely travel over hill and dale, you should happen upon a disgruntled male motorist who forgot his squirt oil can—be tolerant. Toss him yours, and be merrily on your way.

Eight Midlanders Capture All-Star Baseball Positions

Midlanders captured a majority of places on the all-district semi-pro baseball squad named at the conclusion of the title game in Odessa Wednesday night.

The runner-up Midland JayCees landed six berths and the Midland Colts placed two on the mythical squad.

The Odessa Gushers won the district crown and will compete in the state tournament at Fredericksburg. Six Gushers made the all-star roster.

The players received individual awards.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

BEAUTIFUL HOME . . . BEAUTIFUL STREET! 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, plenty of closet space, double carport with plenty storage. Carpeted throughout, wonderfully cool and homey, yet of modern design. The kitchen? It is 10x20 feet with automatic washer connection, garbage disposal unit, and soft and hard water faucets in double sink, arranged so that you will not tire yourself in preparing meals. All of this is set in a park-like lawn, front and back, with roses, shrubs, grass and trees. Walled back yard opening onto a paved alley. Let us show you this home, priced at only $26,500.

MY BLUE HEAVEN: FOR JUST MOLLY AND ME, AND BABY MAKES THREE. NOT MUCH MONEY IN THE BANK? Well, here is the home for all three of you. Brick veneer. Living room, bedroom, kitchen, bath, and a nice bedroom for baby, complete with drapes and a large service porch. A good water well produces soft water. Home can be added to as you go along, as there is plenty of room for expansion. All you need is $1,645 for down payment and assume a loan (short term) of $4,250. Total price $5,895. This home is in the northwest part of town, Crestview at Kansas.

BEAUTIFUL NEW HOMES . . . These are beautiful homes of brick veneer, built-up roofs, carpeted throughout, central heat, air conditioned. Go by and see them. These homes are not built as competitive-priced homes, but to give you more value for your dollar:

2412 West Storey Street, paving in and paid, carpeted throughout, 3 bedrooms, and a beauty for only $23,500.

305 East Spruce, 2 bedrooms, central heat, brick veneer, wainscoating and wood siding, with crushed brick built-up roof. Paving paid. Only $9,850.

All the above houses are plumbed for automatic washers and are ready to move into without buying any extras. Good neighborhood, and in areas being developed, which assures increasing future values. We invite your good judgment.

A good home can be purchased on East Oak Street. It has two bedrooms, nice closets, steel tile bath, hardwood floors, nice yard and paving paid. Half block of bus line. This house is in good condition and does not need repairs. You may drive by 407 East Oak Street and look at this one. Terms can be arranged. As little as $2,000 down.

WITH LONG PLANNING FOR A DREAM HOME, this one is just that. It is well planned, with family room, a meal planner's delight in the kitchen, where the walls are done in fine linoleum from ceiling to floors, dining room uniquely situated, fireplace chain screened, double carport, knotty pine finished, and a rumpus room as large as a nice living room. Austin Stone finished, with shake roof. This house is in the Bedford Addition, close to schools. Must be seen to be appreciated. $37,500.

ON EXCLUSIVE COUNTRY CLUB DRIVE. A beautiful 3-bedroom home of Austin Stone, with two tile baths. Living room, dining room and halls are carpeted, as are the three large bedrooms. Central heating as well as air conditioned. All this in 2,200 square feet floor space. Good yard with water well. The comforts of this home can be had for $33,000.

$1,475 DOWN WILL PURCHASE 310 EAST OAK STREET. DRIVE BY AND TAKE A LOOK-SEE. IT'S TWO BEDROOMS—AND IT'S ON A PAVED STREET.

A GOOD HOME IN A GOOD LOCATION. This is a good buy. It has 2 bedrooms, hardwood floors, paved street, two blocks from shopping, fenced yard, brick veneer in excellent shape, grass and shrubs aplenty. Close to schools and churches. Price is $14,500.

THIS ONE WILL COOL YOU OFF! It's a new listing. Five rooms, all of them large. Garage and breezeway. Fenced-in back yard. Corner lot. Location, West Ohio, in the older residential area. A beautiful location. Full price, $11,750. Terms. Exclusive.

ONLY 1 OUT OF 3. Within exactly seven days, we sold two of three lovely homes which we had constructed for Midlanders. There is only one left—so hurry to see this exceptionally exquisite home located in TOWN NORTH. Three spacious bedrooms, ceramic tile bath, attached garage. Constructed of the finest materials available—and selectively done in decorator's colors. Carpeting in the living room; large closets; vanity in the master bedroom. The floor-plan is an architect's master design. You don't have to walk through the living room in order to get to any other section of this home. Paved street. Lawn will be started. ONLY $13,750.

WEST HIWAY 80 BUSINESS LOT. Mr. Businessman: Here is your opportunity to purchase a lot next to Miller's Restaurant at a fantastic saving. 50x140, facing south. And to top it off, we can arrange excellent terms.

IT'S PRETTY ON PRINCETON—and this home is one of the most outstanding. Constructed of white brick, it has 3 wonderful bedrooms, 2 baths, attached garage. The master bedroom is charm deluxe—with a private ceramic bath, huge dressing room with a long tile vanity, and large closets. Spacious living room, separate dining room, lots of storage. Central heating, ducted for air-conditioning, high tile fence around rear yard, nice lawn. Owner being transferred. $27,500. Please, by appointment only.

$1,900 DOWN IS ALL YOU NEED to purchase this new Haydite brick home. 2 nice-sized bedrooms, long kitchen with metal cabinets, crushed marble roof. Attached carport. This home, on a paved street, carries an FHA loan, and the monthly full payments are only $52. Full price: $8,700.

2507 NORTH BIG SPRING STREET. It has 2 bedrooms and a den, large living room, dining area, attached carport. Good water well, even though Midland recently was blessed with some rain. High tile fence surrounding part of the premises. Down payment is about $2,500, and the full price is ONLY $9,500. Drive by this home today—then call us to wrap it up for you. You'll be glad that you did.

A CONTEMPORARY HOME designed for contemporary living. Here is graciousness co-mingled with modernity—just the way it is presented in HOME BEAUTIFUL. With 3 lovely bedrooms, colored fixtures in the bath, 2-car carport. Lovely living room and dining room, central heating, dream kitchen with natural birch cabinets, mahogany doors, completely and richly carpeted throughout. The modern-trend walls are plastered, and exquisitely finished. This is truly a different home. $17,900.

HERE'S A CHALLENGE to your practicality if you've been searching for a large home. This one is 3 bedrooms with two of the room sizes being 11x17 and 13x17. The other is larger than most that you have seen. The living room is 12x21, the kitchen is 11x15. Furnace heating, carport and storage, washer connection and electric stove connection. It is cream brick, and about 3 years old. Needs no redecorating. And it could be purchased for as little as $3,900 down. Full price: $13,350.

WE HAVE 6 RESIDENTIAL LOTS LOCATED IN TOWN NORTH FOR $500 EACH.

THE MAGIC TOUCH OF MODERN LIVING cannot be avoided in this different kind of a home. It has 2 large bedrooms, compact kitchen with large breakfast area, attached carport and storage room. Central heating, completely carpeted, air-conditioner, water well and pump, metal kitchen cabinets, draperies. The street is paved, and the lawn is thick with luscious green grass. Monthly payments total only $65. This home can be purchased for as little as $2,000 down. $10,900.

DOES A 2-BEDROOM BRICK FOR $2,500 DOWN INTEREST YOU? IT'S ATTRACTIVELY NEAT INSIDE, AND THE LOAN ON IT IS G.I. FULL PRICE IS $10,500. IT IS AT 1110 SPRUCE STREET. PLEASE, THE TENANT HAS A BABY, SO DO NOT INQUIRE OF HER. WE'LL BE HAPPY TO MAKE SEEING ARRANGEMENTS FOR YOU. MERELY CALL OUR OFFICE—2-1693.

SPELLBOUND

To describe this residence as a 3-bedroom home would be like calling a chinchilla wrap a lady's coat . . . a true but hardly adequate statement. On a very large corner lot in the heart of Grafaland, this Austin Stone home is in the setting it truly deserves . . . and from the heavy shake roof to the solid foundation, it was built for generations of comfort and enjoyment.

The huge living room is the natural focal point, with immediate access to the large, airy family room, the beautiful, panelled den, the dining room and kitchen, and the three comfortable bedrooms. Refinements include fireplaces in the living room and den, 7½-ton U. S. Airco air conditioning, 200,000-B.T.U. heating system, circulating hot water, indirect lighting with mercury switches, and innumerable others. Two full tile baths, with a half-bath off the kitchen. The carpeting and drapes are in exquisite taste, of course. And leading to the double garage is a large, tiled porch designed for outdoor living enjoyment.

This gracious home, one of the most beautiful and outstanding in Grafaland, is waiting for your inspection . . . just call and let us know when you would like to see it.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

sulphur water cut drilling mud and 11,145 feet of salty, sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas.

No Shut In Pressure

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 3,782 pounds and 3,360 pounds. No shutin bottom hole pressure was reported.

This wildcat had originally drilled to a total depth of 10,806 feet in Pennsylvanian lime. It did not develop any shows of commercial production in going to that point and it was plugged and abandoned.

Several weeks after the plugs were set small quantities of gas and oil had bubbled out at the surface.

Plugs Had Failed

Operator went back in the hole and found that the cement plugs had failed to set up and the petroleum signs had come up from several different thin zones of lime.

The hole was cleaned out and all those sections which carried any signs of oil or gas were tested thoroughly.

None of them yielded any shows of possible commercial production.

Start To Ellenburger

About 60 days ago it was decided to re-enter the wildcat for the second time and drill it down to the Ellenburger.

That program was stopped when the cavity was reached and now the exploration has been abandoned and plugged the third time.

That made it 16 miles north and slightly east of Stanton.

Frankel's Spraberry Property Sells For Six Million Dollars

Frank and George Frankel of Houston have sold 2,880 acres of leases on which are located 35 producing Spraberry wells in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

Informed sources report that a consideration of approximately $6,000,000 is involved in the deal. The sale was completed on June 24, retroactive to June 1.

Canadian Purchaser

Purchaser is New Continental Oil Company of Canada, Ltd., of Calgary, Alta., Canada. The purchase was handled through Texas Alberta Oil Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of New Continental.

The new owners already have taken over operation of the property. Representatives of that concern say there are 39 proven locations on the 2,880 acres of leases which they plan to drill in the near future.

Owns Other Property

New Continental Oil Company owns 21 producing wells in the Leduc field, one producer in the Turner Valley field and one producer in the Dina field.

It also owns a shutin gas well in the Boyle field and royalty interests in 108 wells in the Leduc and Turner Valley fields.

Water Is Found In Lime DST Of Upton Discovery

Woodward & Company and Dan Auld were drilling ahead after finding salt water in a drillstem test in No. 1 Corbett, indicated lime discover in Southeast Upton County, seven miles south of Rankin.

Interval tested was from 6,224 to 6,269 feet. Tool was open two and one-half hours. Recovery was 180 feet of gas-cut mud and 450 feet of salt water.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was from 55 to 355 pounds. Shutin pressure was 1,845 pounds.

The section from 6,226 to 6,269 feet was cored. Recovery was 21 feet of porous lime and 22 feet of shale on bottom. After the above drillstem test, operator corrected total depth from 6,269 to make it 6,252 feet.

Operator was drilling ahead below that point.

No. 1 Corbett is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block B-2, GC&SF survey.

Rayburn Willing To Heed Party Call

BONHAM —(AP)— Sam Rayburn let it be known Wednesday he'd accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

Home to launch his campaign for reelection from the Fourth District, the veteran congressman told constituents in a radio address he would take the nod to be "a good soldier."

"I'm not campaigning for the nomination but I have told my friends that if a deadlock comes I'll be a good soldier and serve my country and my party," Rayburn said.

Rayburn went to bat for his fellow Democrats. He said their presidential candidate could lick anybody the Republicans put up—including Dwight D. Eisenhower.

TERMINAL WOMAN ILL

Mrs. Faye Doggett, Terminal, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital.

WORKER TREATED

Coroco Testing Spraberry In Terry Project

Coroco Drilling Company has plugged back to 8,450 feet in its No. 1 Atlas Life Insurance Company, wildcat in Central - West Terry County for tests in the Spraberry.

Operator perforated casing from 8,304 to 8,336 feet. Swabbed natural for one hour, recovery was 10 barrels of oil plus one per cent water. The section then was acidized with 500 gallons and testing resumed.

The project was plugged back after test in the Fusselman failed to develop commercial production.

Honolulu, Signal Running Pipe In Hockley Project

Honolulu Oil Corporation and Signal Oil & Gas Company were running five and one-half-inch casing in their No. 6 J. E. Armes, assured one location west extender to production in the Ropes (Pennsylvanian) field of Southeast Hockley County.

Last drillstem test was taken in the interval from 9,304 to 9,338 feet. Tool was open one hour and 58 minutes.

Gas surfaced in 20 minutes, the water blanket in 47 minutes, oil in 58 minutes. It flowed 75.79 barrels of oil in one hour. Operator closed the tool and came out of the hole. It unloaded clean oil all the way out. No water was present.

The Pennsylvanian reef was topped at 9,307 feet, elevation 2,419 feet.

Locations 694 feet from north and east lines of labor 16, league 5, Willbarger County school land survey.

C-E Lea Wildcat Is Drilling Ahead After Strawn Flow

Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Inc., was drilling below 11,389 feet in Strawn lime at its No. 1 Montieth, wildcat in Central-East Lea County.

This project flowed oil on a drillstem test from 11,232 to 11,267 feet. Tool was open one and three-quarter hours. Gas surfaced in 33 minutes. The 1,860-foot water blanket started flowing out in one hour and 12 minutes and oil surfaced in one hour and 32 minutes.

Flows Clean Oil

It flowed an estimated 50 barrels of oil per hour, after it had been cleaned to pits 13 minutes. Gravity of the oil is 40.3 degrees. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was from 1,045 to 2,645 feet. Shutin pressure after two and three quarter hours was 3,990 pounds.

Operator cored the section from 11,276 to 11,306 feet. Recovery was 23 feet of fractured lime, with good, vugular porosity and seven feet of lime with fair, vugular porosity. Another core was taken from 11,306 to 11,335 feet. No description of that core has been reported.

Location is in section 20-16s-37e and two miles northwest of the East Lovington (Strawn) field.

Lubbock Concern Stakes Wildcat In W-C Gaines Area

Midwestern Drilling Company of Lubbock spotted location for a 5,000-foot wildcat to test the San Andres in West-Central Gaines County.

It will be drilled as No. 1-A Winnie Ford, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 6, block A-12, psl survey.

Drillsite is one mile south of Midwestern No. 1 Ford, recently completed as a small San Andres discovery from 4,495 to 4,515 feet. It is separated from that producer by a 7,350-foot dry hole. It also is one and three-quarter miles northeast of the Weltner (Clear Fork) field.

Runnels Sector Gains Location For Prospector

One and one-quarter miles southwest of the Elm Creek field of Runnels County, Richard King, Jr., of San Angelo staked location for a 4,400-foot wildcat.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Mrs. E. D. Michaelis, 770 feet from the most northerly north line and 330 feet from the west line of block 530-5/8, Absalom Jett survey. It is separated from production by a 4,556-foot failure.

Oil, Gas Shows Found On Tests In NE Runnels

Geochemical Surveys, Inc., of Abilene No. 1 J. A. Traylor, one and three-quarter miles northwest of the recently opened West Crews field in Northeast Runnels County, found shows of gas and oil on drillstem tests of the King sand.

A two-hour test from 2,251 to 2,268 feet developed 90 feet of oil-cut mud on the recovery. A three-hour test from 2,272 to 2,282 feet recovered 2,250 feet of free gas in the drillpipe and 45 feet of oil and 35 feet of mud-cut oil.

Operator was drilling ahead.

Location is 4,287 feet from south and 2,312 feet from east lines of block 360, John S. Moore survey and three and three-quarter miles southwest of Crews.

Lion Schedules Short Outpost To Crockett Opener

It is No. 1 Bean, 663 feet from south and 2,004 feet from west lines of the north half of section 35, block UV, GC&SF survey.

Rotary drilling to 8,000 feet will start at once.

Some Do-Some Don't Favor 80-Acre Plan For Spraberry Wells

An 80-acre drilling pattern for future drilling in the Spraberry Trend areas was approved by 29 of 30 operators who attended a meeting in Midland Wednesday.

The royalty owners present at the session voted differently on the proposal. Only four of those persons were in favor of the 80-acre spacing while 22 voted for a continuation of the present program of drilling one well to each 40 acres.

Many Attended

More than 250 persons attended the meeting which was held in the American Legion Hall. The affair was called to consider a recommendation of a special committee which had been studying the matter for several weeks.

The committee, which is headed by A. W. (Bill) Rutter, Jr., of Midland submitted a plan which called for 80-acre proration units with an 80-acre tolerance upward at the option of the operators.

The plan also suggested an allocation formula of 100 per cent acreage.

Approved By Some

That method of figuring was approved by 13 of the 30 operators present at the meeting. The other 16 operators who favored 80-acre spacing had several different ideas about the allocation of production.

Rutter announced at the conclusion of the meeting that the special committee would be enlarged to include representatives of all operators and royalty owners who favored the 80-acre spacing plan.

Ideas Requested

He requested each of them to submit their ideas about the allocation item to him in writing. It was indicated that after such suggestions are received another meeting of the committee would be held to try to work out an allocation formula which would be satisfactory to all of the 80-acre advocates.

Rutter indicated that the work of the committee would proceed without delay and that as soon as the details of the 80-acre plan were worked out that it would be presented to the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Order Will Be Asked

The commission would then be asked to issue an order making the 80-acre drilling pattern the rule for future developemnt in all of the Spraberry areas of Midland, Glasscock, Upton, Reagan, Tom Green and Irion Counties.

None of the opponents of the 80-acre pattern made any public statements as to what they planned to do to oppose the plan of the Rutter committee.

However, it is likely that when the proposal of that group is presented to the Railroad Commission the 40-acre advocates will be on hand to fight is being put into effect.

Globe To Abandon Ellenburger Duster In C-E Runnels

Globe Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Telitha Ray, Central-East Runnels County wildcat, five miles west of Talpa found sulphur water in the Ellenburger and it is to plug and abandon.

This prospector picked tentative top of the Ellenburger to be at 4,275 feet. Eleveation is 1,946 feet.

Had An Oil Scum

It drilled to a bottom of 4,329 feet and at that point the project developed considerable sulphur water and there was only a slight scum of oil in the water.

Operator now is pulling intermediate casing and will then plug and abandon.

Location Stepout Is Scheduled In S-C Yoakum Area

Cities Service Oil Company will drill No. 1 McMullen as a one-location west stepout to a recently completed one and one-half mile north extender to production in the central portion of the Wasson field in South-Central Yoakum County.

Moscrip Speaks To Midland D&D Club On Well Handling

R. P. Moscrip, chief mechanical engineer for Shell Oil Company in the Midland area, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Midland Desk and Derrick Club when they met in the High School Cafeteria on Wednesday evening. Moscrip was assisted by Bob Goff who showed the film, "Birth of an Oil Field."

Moscrip talked on the phases of the oil industry beginning with the completion of the well from the time it was put on production, with the oil, gas and water flowing or being pumped from the well into the separator where the gas was piped off through channels to finally reach the storage tanks in the form of the various products.

Water Is Drained

From the separator the emulsion was piped to the heater, on into the settling tank where the water was drained from the bottom and then the oil into the stock tank which is a part of the tank battery.

After the oil is in the storage tanks, he explained the duties of the switcher and gauger in taking samples of the oil to test gravity, temperature and water content.

Time Clock Used

Moscrip mentioned the fact that the trend in the oil industry is toward the performance of all functions automatically through the use of time clocks and he said that the next ten years would bring about many changes toward that end, when probably one man could sit before an instrument panel and control a hundred or more wells with the help of a trouble shooter or two.

Miss Tracy Fruge, a member of the Lake Charles, La., Desk and Derrick Club, was a guest at the meeting. Miss Fruge, who is visiting relatives in Midland, is employed by Magnolia Petroleum Company in Lake Charles.

Miss Ruth Smith, with Humble Oil and Refining Company in Midland, was another guest. Seventy-four members and guests were present.

Shallow Wildcat Spotted In Reeves; To Start At Once

Hill & Hill and others of Fort Worth will drill a 3,500-foot Delaware sand wildcat in Reeves County, one and three-quarters miles northwest of the Chapman field.

Officers Continue Probe Of Border Patrolman's Death

ALICE —(AP)— Federal, state and county officers continued their investigation Thursday of the death of Border Patrol Inspector Ed H. Wheeler of Alice.

Wheeler at first was believed to have died in an automobile accident. Discovery by an undertaker of a bullet wound in the head brought officers into the case.

It was Sunday night that Wheeler's car smashed head-on into another auto on the Nueces River Bridge near Sandia.

At first it was reported Wheeler, alone in his car, died in the crash —until the bullet hole was found.

The Corpus Christi Caller-Times conjectured Wednesday that after Wheeler was shot he was placed at the wheel of his car, the car put in gear, and the murderer stepped out and slammed the door.

Contractor Falls On Steel Spike

Erick Porter, Midland general construction contractor, was painfully, but not seriously injured at noon Wednesday when he was impaled on a steel spike.

Attaches at Midland Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted, said his condition was improved Thursday morning.

GENERAL DECORATED

TOKYO—(AP)—Gen. Thomas J. H. Trapnell was awarded an oak leaf cluster to the Legion of Merit Thursday for leading the U. S. 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team in quelling mutinous Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island in May and June.

Ranch Paradise Offered For Sale

Two ranches of 4,185 and 4,640 acres of a famous old-line ranch holding in the Texas Divide country between Junction and Rock Springs is being offered for sale for the first time.

The acreage, with paved highway frontage and eight foot fence, contains the finest grazing land in Texas for cattle, sheep and goats and can be operated as a single ranch.

Lush pasture grasses cover the gentle slopes of excellent soil coverage. Deep water source provides an abundant water supply the year around. As part of an established private game preserve, the extensive feeding grounds for wild turkey, deer and doves provide superior hunting. Hunting leases make it a very profitable business.

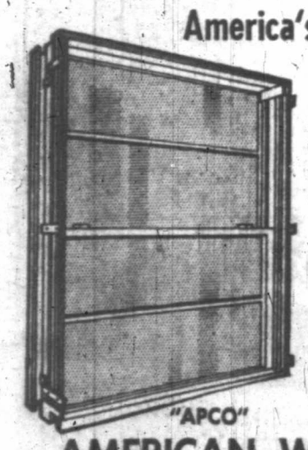

Offered for sale for the first time, this property will be sold direct from owner who will retain 50 per cent on mineral rights. Oil lease matures in one and one-half years. Price is only $65 an acre.

Honor Court For Scouts Due Friday

Midland Boy Scouts and Explorers will receive recognition Friday night for their efforts in the advancement programs of Scouting.

A Court of Honor will be held at the junior high school auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m. Star, First Class and Second Class rank will be conferred upon a number of Scouts, many having passed during the camping season at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch.

Troop 53 of the Terminal Lions Club, under the direction of Scoutmaster G. N. Hughes, will have charge of opening and closing ceremonies. Members of the July court include Col. John Perkins, chairman; J. B. Elder, Mel Orman, William N. Crenshaw, Pat Stanford, Morris Howard and Malcolm Brenneman.

Pat Stanford, surveying merit badge counselor, has arranged a special exhibit to acquaint Scouts and their parents with equipment and requirements relating to that badge.

A pennant award is given to the troop that earns the greatest number of points on the basis of advancement, wearing of uniform, number of visitors present, Scouts present and other items. The April award was won by Troop 51 of the Trinity Episcopal Church.

The public is invited to attend the function to become better acquainted with Scouting and to enjoy the program which has been arranged by the court secretary, William H. Crenshaw.

Scout Ranch Session Set

The Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch, situated high in the Davis Mountains near Balmorhea, will open Sunday for the second three-week period.

A total of 401 Scouts and Explorers of the 17-county council, including 81 from Midland, has paritcipated in the adventuresome program already this Summer. An estimated 350 boys will attend the second session to bring the long term camping progrm at the ranch to a record high.

Midland Troops 151 of the I.O. O.F., 153 of the First Christian Church, and 84 of the Knights of Columbus, with an estimated 30 Scouts, will camp during the next three weeks.

Scout officials said the ranch offers a wide variety of program activities designed to suit the interests of every individual Scout who visits the mountainous retreat. Clear, sparkling pools along the canyon floor afford the opportunity for swimming and fishing. Horseback riding, overnight burro pack trips, archery, nature lore, marksmanship, campfires, and handicraft are other popular program features.

A new experience has been provided this year for Explorers who wish to visit untouched parts of the 6,000-acre mountain expanse. A three-day expedition is conducted under the supervision of experienced guides into far reaches of the area where nature is unspoiled by the inroads of civilization. This feature has proved to be one of the most popular activities among the elder Scouts.

Each camp period opens on Sunday afternoon and closes the following Saturday morning. Parents and other interested persons are invited to visit the ranch at any time to see for themselves the rugged beauty of the area, to inspect the facilities and to meet their son's leaders.

Don Galbreath of Midland will serve again as camp director for the remainder of the Summer. Other executive staff members assisting in operation of the ranch are H. D. Norris of Sweetwater and James Hale of Big Spring.

Allan Hollis, Johnny LaGrange, and Sonley Roush will serve as members of the central staff during the coming three weeks.

PRESIDENT ELECT—Adolpho Ruiz Cordines, backed by President Aleman and the political group that ruled Mexico for 26 years won the presidency of Mexico in the first bloodless balloting in the nation's stormy political history. Although official returns will not be announced until July 20, Cortines three opponents bitterly admitted defeat.

The junior calf roping is open only to boys 15 years of age and under.

County-Wide Chest X-Ray Survey Slated For Midland

A county-wide chest X-ray survey will be held in Midland County from August 2 to August 12.

The dates were selected at a meeting this week in the City-County Health Unit of local health authorities and the Tuberculosis Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

Representing the state unit was Charles H. Hoover, director of the division, who said that a mobile X-ray unit will be brought to Midland for that period.

The free X-ray will be available to all persons and those 15 years old or older are urged to participate.

Futher plans for the survey will be made at a meeting at 1 p.m. Friday in the office of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association.

Long-Lost Watch Found; Ticks On

This Summer he was working in the same fence corner and found the watch. Its leather strap fell apart as he picked it up. But after the timepiece was cleaned and polished, he said it was in good running condition.

CANNED MEAT SALES

NEW YORK —(AP)— Hot weather booms the sales of canned meat. Meat canners and affiliated industries report that Summer sales have gained consistently since 1948. Production now, they said, is about five times what it was 15 years ago.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER

It looks as though another seven days have come and gone, so we will say "Hi" to you and get the news started for the week.

This is to those of you that just love to dance. All of you be sure and come down to the Youth Center. All you have to do is just mention the word around anyone and in just a matter seconds the whole floor will be filled with dancers.

But dancing is not the only thing to do. One also can play ping pong, pool or work puzzles. The dancing doesn't keep you from doing those things. Just wanted to get that straight with you.

There is a real odd nick-name around the Youth Center. Now, we never have heard of this name before. It really belongs to someone. It is "Meat." Well maybe he likes that name.

We are glad to have Timmy Cornwall back in the Youth Center. Timmy goes to NMMI. Real glad to have you back, Timmy.

There was a new game, at least it was new around the Youth Center, the other night, that Jane Calley started. The name of this game is "spoon," and it is a card game. It seems as though everyone who played enjoyed it very much. They all were screaming and looked like they were having more fun. Those participating were Shirley Henderson, Mimi Speed, Jan Calley, "Myrt," John McGuigan, Timmy Cornwall, Pennye Jones and Paxton Howard. Come on down and learn to play. It is just gobs of fun.

Jim Atwill is going fishing in Colorado. He plans to have a real good time and we sure hope he does. Now, we are just informed that he might not go after all. We hope that you do get to go, Jim.

Off To Band School

Bill Mayfield is leaving for Abilene for a three-week visit. First, he is going to visit his cousin for a week and then he is going to the Hardin-Simmons Summer Band School the other two weeks. Now, Bill, you be sure and learn a lot at school. Hm-m-.

Don Hudson was gone last weekend for a visit to his old home town, He went to Lubbock, in other words. He said he had a good time, and we surely are glad.

This week's picture show will be the last until September. There just aren't enough of you showing up to pay so much for the films, so this will be the last one this Summer. The name of this week's picture is "Dead Men Walk." While "Myrt" was fixing up the bulletin board, Dan Ratcliff got hold of it and kept putting question marks after the title. Now Dan, that was real clever of you. The show starts at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Jane Calley and Margie Neill have gone to Yuma, Ariz., for a three-week visit with Jane's aunt. They both have been looking forward to this a long time, so we hope they have loads of fun.

It seems as though Patsy Yeager and Joan Turner weren't agreeing on something. It was like this. Joan came up to us and said to put Patsy's name in the paper. So then in turn Patsy came up and told us to put Joan's name in the paper, and it went on like that for a few minutes. So now we have both names in. Are both of you satisfied????

As usual there are some people who want their names in the column, and there are two this week. Jane Beakey and Georgia Stump have been warting us to death. Ups. JANE BEAKEY AND GEORGIA STUMP. That's better isn't it?

Milton Jones must have a new hat. At least we guess it is new for we haven't seen it around the Youth Center before. It is quite unusual for a boy, but we guess it looks okay. It is orchid with white pique trimming. It is very becoming to you Milton, why don't you wear it more often?

While still on the subject of hats, we will tell you all about Bill Leonard's hat. It is just plain green. Bill wasn't satisfied with his; he kept wanting Milton's. So they kept scrambling. We don't know just who won, but one time Bill had on two hats, so we guess he got his way.

The rain was very exciting for all at the Youth Center. Some of the members even went so far as to go wading out in front of the Youth Center and then kept on walking for a little ways. That just goes to show what rain can do for a bunch of teenagers. We guess they were teenagers. At least they are in high school.

"Myrt" went home over the weekend to see his folks. On the way back he said his car threw a rod, or something, and it still is in Abilene being repaired. He said that the motor even fell out.

Every once in awhile Fern comes in with some animal in her hand. Now it always is the same animal and some of the members argued whether it is a dog or a cat. Well, for those of you that took the cat side, well you lost, it is a dog.

Daphane Tabor went to Paisano and Mitre Peak Girl Camp for the weekend.

While on the subject of camp, quite a few of the Youth Center members have been attending off and on all Summer.

Entertainment Galore

Saturday night promises to be the best the Youth Center ever has had in its history. Be sure and be present. Don't miss the three big events of the evening. First, there will be a talent show. To those of you who haven't signed up yet, you still have time. Just give your name to Fern. Then after the talent show there will be a "Style Show" for boys only, and the thing about it that will be so funny is they are going to model girl's clothing. There will be professional models on hand so be sure and don't miss this event. Then after the style show, there will be the most popular thing around the Youth Center. The "Bulldog Stomp." So you can see there will be fun galore in store Saturday night, so be sure and don't miss it.

That's just about all for this week and we want to thank Pennye Jones and Pat Curran for helping us. Well, at least they read over our shoulder as we wrote, so we can say they helped us. Adios.

Don't neglect dried fruit in Summer! Serve prune whip with an orange sauce for a warm-weather dessert. Add raisins to a salad of shredded green cabbage and carrots.

Tattletales Blessed In Hungary Schools

VIENNA —(AP)— Communist Hungary looks upon children who run with tales to teacher as the best type of pupil.

This came to light in a report of a teachers' conference held in Budapest recently in the presence of Hungary's Communist boss, Premier Matyas Rakosi. The progress made in encouraging tale-bearing was a main theme of the conference. The slogan: "One child must control another" was adopted.

The Communist teachers applauded enthusiastically when one of their number addressed the conference and said: "Who would have thought, who would have dreamed, that the pupils themselves today control the truancy of their comrades. The best and model students elect control commissions who watch the lazy students and the truants, who reprimand them and report them to the teachers, if their behavior does not improve.

"How much nicer this is than in the past, when the pupils protected themselves behind the backs of the teachers."

Movie Industry Cares For Sick and Aged In Rolling San Fernando Valley Paradise

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Some 20 miles from Hollywood and Vine, nestled in rolling hills at the far end of the San Fernando Valley, lies a little publicized paradise where the movie industry cares for its needy sick and aged.

The setting is a 60-acre tract of citrus and walnut groves. Its heart is a cluster of low, modernistic buildings surrounded by lawns, lily ponds and beds of dazzling flowers. The landscaping requires the attention of six gardeners.

For the sick there is a $1,350,000 hospital and a convalescent home. The hospital has 40 private rooms, each fronting on a balcony overlooking a garden.

It employs a resident physician and has specialists on call. Patients are treated, without cost, for as long as necessary. Some have been under care for as long as eight years.

For the aged—minimum age is 60 for men, 65 for women—there is the Motion Picture Country House. No "poor house" this. It's 30 "guests" occupy private cottages, similar to those of luxury resort hotels. Like the hospital rooms, the cottages have picture windows fronting on gardens. They are comfortably furnished and have private baths and maid service. There are double cottages for married couples.

A central building contains a large library, a sumptuous, television—equipped lounge, and a dining room which serves food described recently by three visiting Britishers as the best they tasted in this country.

The guests receive not only room and board but clothing, a weekly allowance, movies twice a week, station wagon service to Hollywood and occasional trips to town to see touring plays.

Guests are encouraged to live as they would in their own homes. There is no bar, but drinking in rooms is not frowned upon. Some tend private gardens. A few of the women sell needlework.

Names of the guests are kept confidential, but it is no secret that many well-known personalities of yesteryear have spent their final days in the home. Maurice Costello, matinee idol of silent films, died there. Current residents include writers, two once-prominent actresses, and a former leading man.

Supported By Fund

Both of the house and the hospital are supported by the Motion Picture Relief Fund, which helps more than 7,000 film workers yearly. Hospital revenue comes from salaries in every branch of the industry. Those earning less than $200 weekly contribute one-half of 1 per cent, those earning more give 1 per cent. About 60 per cent of the industry is signed up, but any worker with four years of experience is eligible for aid.

Support for the country house has come from the Screen Guild Players radio show, which had run 14 years until it left the air for good last month. Stars and studios had contributed services for the show. Its demise has thrown fund officials into a state of quiet consternation, but so far they have found no substitute source of income.

The relief fund is headed by Jean Hersholt, in his 16th year as president. Its principal activities are providing immediate medical care to the needy, and making loans to those in financial difficulties. It extracts a promise from the recipient to repay when he is able. The percentage of return, however is low.

Polio To Find Rough Going

Polio will find rough going in Midland—but city and county health authorities point out that it can strike with tragic results and without warning.

Polio will have a more difficult time striking, however, because the whole town is going on a fly-killing binge to wipe out the dread disease' ace carrier.

Cockroaches, mosquitoes and other insects, equally dangerous, will go, too, as the city applies maximum effort to beat the disease before it starts. The all-out drive, already underway, will reach its climax during the remainder of this and the next week.

The city's spraying equipment has been busy day after day dousing insecticide on places where flies and other disease-carriers breed. Trash and garbage trucks are working to the limit of their capacity in hauling refuse out of town.

City facilities can do but 25 per cent of the spraying necessary to control the fly menace. The rest must be done by individual citizens. Every member of every family has been asked to help reduce places where insects might breed; to spray their own premises and to place their trash and garbage in covered containers where the city's crews can dispose of it.

Facilities Offered

The Midland Pest Control Service, 1221 South Weatherford Street, has offered its facilities for families who are unable to buy insecticides and otherwise defeat the menace on their own properties.

Families who wish to cooperate in the drive, but who are financially unable to provide means necessary to rid their premises of pests, have been asked to telephone the Midland Chamber of Commerce (3-3381). Representatives of the Midland Pest Control Service will report as soon as possible to exterminate flies, cockroaches, mosquitoes and mice, and it will be done without cost.

The pest control service has volunteered its help during the big cleanup period between July 14 and 18.

Elsewhere in the city most civic and service clubs have pledged their support in the drive. All members have been asked to take part in the "personal premises proposition" and to "pass the word along."

Much of the city's sanitation problem has been alleviated during the first half of this year through the removal of pit toilets, and a new effort is being made to encourage connections to existing sewer lines.

Notices Mailed Out

Since the beginning of the year 266 notices have been mailed directing connection to new sewer lines, and of that number 185 have complied. The remaining 81 are in the process of attaching, although some of them are indigent cases.

Meanwhile, a new sewage disposal plant is nearing completion and may be in operation late this month or early in August. It will eliminate a source of flies and mosquitoes in areas east of the city and at the same time will permit expanded sewerage facilities within the city.

Inspectors and spraying crews make regular visits to areas around the present plant in an effort to seek out and destroy insect breeding places.

There was a big bug in a room.
Who flew with a terrible zoom.
But a shot of KNOX-OUT
Dropped the bug on his snout,
And they swept him out with a broom!

This double-use insect spray gives double value: (1) in dr. kills bugs fast, (2) on surfaces, effective for weeks, kills flies, mosquitoes, ants, roaches, moths, bedbugs.

Pencil-Pushing Bridgery May See Small Mechanical Brains

NEW YORK — (AP) — Pencil-pushing bridgery—the making and keeping of business records and reports—may yield soon to smaller and cheaper mechanical brains.

Electronic computers can figure in a few hours what a battery of clerks takes months to compute. But engineers say these machines soon may come into more general use in business due to new developments: electronic tubes only one-third the size of those now used; and a new substitute, the transitor — little larger than your finger nail—which can do many of the tasks the tube now performs, without overheating as the tube often does.

These developments could bring the mechanical brain down to a size and cost practical for businesses staggering under a mounting load of clerical work. The number of pencil pushers and typists has increased in the past 25 years out of proportion to the increase in factory workers. The expense is terrific.

Said Major Revolution

Some companies see the mechanical brain as the answer. Already some 100 companies, large and small, are developing electronic computers. Walter Mitchell, Jr., managing director of the Controllers Institute says the machines may bring about "a major revolution" in office work.

Controllers are the men who do the master-mind figuring and keep the records for business. Mitchell foresees the day when "we shall need supervisors and management accountants adequately trained to understand these machines, their potentials and their application."

One company already has a machine that keeps a complete record of 10,000 items of inventory. It is about the height and width of an office desk and can pass through a 30-inch door. On request the machine produced a typewritten record of any item or group of items—as fast as the typewriter can pound it out.

Other machines can produce through electronics in eight hours financial reports which consume 50 man-days to prepare by pencil pushing. Daniel M. Sheehan, vice president of Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis, thinks "future electronic equipment may produce them in one hour."

If business turns to these machines, one of the first results would seem to be a reduction in clerical workers, since reports now being made manually could be made with fewer clerks and less expensively, but machines also produce new jobs.

Paul G. Drescher, vice president and controller of Associated Hospital Service of New York, points out that no mechanical brain can work unless it is fed material. And this is prepared by men and women.

The lightning-like spread of the electronic computer also must be geared to the comparatively slow speed of the electric typewriters and punched tapes which prepare and feed the data to the computers and electronic memory units.

Red Radio Airs Lowdown On How Conventions Work

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Moscow says American presidential candidates will be elected at the Chicago conventions by a "small circle of bosses" who hire rooters at $20 a head to cheer for their candidates so the public will believe it has a voice in the selections.

On the basis of Radio Moscow broadcasts to Russian listeners, officials reported this was the Communist Party line on the way candidates are chosen in the "false American democracy."

To make sure the Russians get the Communist version of what is going on at Chicago, the Moscow radio is running a series of talks by Vladimir Morev, a Soviet journalist who said he attended the Philadelphia conventions four years ago.

Morev said delegates were plied with gifts and advertising souvenirs.

The conventions, he said, were just a racket "invented . . . so that naive people should imagine that the votes of candidates are recruited by just these means, and that these candidates are chosen for their personal qualities."

Communications Talk Set For Reservists

A lecture on communications will be given by Lt. Vern Biterbo at a weekly session of the 9816th VART Squadron at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the district courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse.

Radio range procedures and radar will be discussed in Biterbo's talk.

Capt. Stanley S. Simik of Lubbock, new group liaison officer, is expected to attend the session.

FILIBUSTERING FREEBOOTERS

The term "filibuster" originally was a name given to those freebooters that plundered the coast of America during the 16th and 17th centuries. It later was applied to certain lawless adventurers, not from Congress, but from the United States, who attempted to sieze upon various countries of Spanish America.

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

In my very early teens I was introduced to some of the mysteries of shooting and fishing by a couple of very sharp old characters, woodsmen wise enough to educate us by practical example and demonstration.

To show us kids what a horrible ruction is created by a high-speed sporting bullet, they didn't give us a book to read, but set up a water-filled kerosene can against a convenient sand bank and proceeded to explode it in all directions. Very effective.

But in our education on gun safety there was one danger, as I remember, that they didn't demonstrate. That job was done for them.

My buddy and I were anchored off a point ducking shiners for smallmouth bass. We had heard some character popping away with a .22 a half mile across the lake, but the bass were swiping our minnows often enough so we gave him no thought.

Apparently he shifted his target, perhaps to a floating bottle, and in quick succession he bounced two ricochets screaming over our heads. We quit fishing pronto, and before the hour was out our two teachers were buzzing across the lake in the kicker to explain the facts of shooting life to our careless friend with the .22. After hearing those little 40-grain slugs, battered out of shape when they hit the water, go yowling past us, we didn't need any explanation.

These warm weather months are the heyday of the kid with a rimfire, of the grown-up who pots away with a .22 rifle or pistol at any tin can, bottle, crow, or tree knot that jumps out at him. The plinker doesn't get the newspaper or magazine space given to the rimfire target shooter, the gallery expert who does most of his competitive shooting indoors during the winter; but plinkers outnumber targeteers many times, buying millions more rimfire loads.

The box your .22 long rifle cartridges are packed in, regardless of the make, is clearly marked: Dangerous Within One Mile. Neither high speed nor standard velocity loads may reach quite that mile if you want to be real technical about it, but they'll come close to it—and if you shoot even a .22 bullet over water at such an angle that it ricochets off the surface nobody can predict how far or in what direction it's going to buzz off.

The Winchester-Western people have spent a lot of money studying the ricochet effects of the .22 long rifle bullet, using all manner of expensive ultra-high-speed cameras and electronic gadgets. They found that the exact range and direction of a .22 slug could not be accurately predicted once it had touched a water surface—but they were cock certain, after the shooting was over, that a .22 long rifle bullet hitting the water at an angle of 15 degrees or less was definitely due to bounce off some place.

When you try to bust a bottle floating a hundred yards out on the lake, does the slug hit at less than 15 degrees? If the water is calm, you bet your life it does. When you try such shenanigans you're risking the life of the people in the cottage by the point. But at your camp you shoot down into the water from a high bluff? That might be fine and dandy—maybe. What if there's a ripple on the water? What price a few degrees of wave slant then?

Water will stop bullets very effectively when they go straight into it. As I remember it, we were told during the last war that a swimmer being machine-gunned was safe three feet under from .30 caliber slugs, about six feet down from .50 caliber stuff. But how are you going to pile up water to serve as a backstop? On the flat, as it is when we shoot out onto the lake, it won't usually stop even a .22, but will start the slug in a brand new direction, perhaps a dangerously wrong one.

Pencil-Pushing Bridgery May See Small Mechanical Brains

NEW YORK —(AP)— Pencil-pushing bridgery—the making and keeping of business records and reports—may yield soon to smaller and cheaper mechanical brains.

Electronic computers can figure in a few hours what a battery of clerks takes months to compute. But engineers say these machines soon may come into more general use in business due to new developments: electronic tubes only one-third the size of those now used; and a new substitute, the transitor — little larger than your finger nail—which can do many of the tasks the tube now performs, without overheating as the tube often does.

These developments could bring the mechanical brain down to a size and cost practical for businesses staggering under a mounting load of clerical work. The number of pencil pushers and typists has increased in the past 25 years out of proportion to the increase in factory workers. The expense is terrific.

Said Major Revolution

Some companies see the mechanical brain as the answer. Already some 100 companies, large and small, are developing electronic computers. Walter Mitchell, Jr., managing director of the Controllers Institute says the machines may bring about "a major revolution" in office work.

Controllers are the men who do the master-mind figuring and keep the records for business. Mitchell foresees the day when "we shall need supervisors and management accountants adequately trained to understand these machines, their potentials and their application."

One company already has a machine that keeps a complete record of 10,000 items of inventory. It is about the height and width of an office desk and can pass through a 30-inch door. On request the machine produced a typewritten record of any item or group of items—as fast as the typewriter can pound it out.

Other machines can produce through electronics in eight hours financial reports which consume 50 man-days to prepare by pencil pushing. Daniel M. Sheehan, vice president of Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis, thinks "future electronic equipment may produce them in one hour."

If business turns to these machines, one of the first results would seem to be a reduction in clerical workers, since reports now being made manually could be made with fewer clerks and less expensively, but machines also produce new jobs.

Paul G. Drescher, vice president and controller of Associated Hospital Service of New York, points out that no mechanical brain can work unless it is fed material. And this is prepared by men and women.

The lightning-like spread of the electronic computer also must be geared to the comparatively slow speed of the electric typewriters and punched tapes which prepare and feed the data to the computers and electronic memory units.

Red Radio Airs Lowdown On How Conventions Work

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Moscow says American presidential candidates will be elected at the Chicago conventions by a "small circle of bosses" who hire rooters at $20 a head to cheer for their candidates so the public will believe it has a voice in the selections.

On the basis of Radio Moscow broadcasts to Russian listeners, officials reported this was the Communist Party line on the way candidates are chosen in the "false American democracy."

To make sure the Russians get the Communist version of what is going on at Chicago, the Moscow radio is running a series of talks by Vladimir Morev, a Soviet journalist who said he attended the Philadelphia conventions four years ago.

Morev said delegates were plied with gifts and advertising souvenirs.

The conventions, he said, were just a racket "invented . . . so that naive people should imagine that the votes of candidates are recruited by just these means, and that these candidates are chosen for their personal qualities."

Communications Talk Set For Reservists

A lecture on communications will be given by Lt. Vern Biterbo at a weekly session of the 9816th VART Squadron at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the district courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse.

Radio range procedures and radar will be discussed in Biterbo's talk.

Capt. Stanley S. Simik of Lubbock, new group liaison officer, is expected to attend the session.

FILIBUSTERING FREEBOOTERS

The term "filibuster" originally was a name given to those freebooters that plundered the coast of America during the 16th and 17th centuries. It later was applied to certain lawless adventurers, not from Congress, but from the United States, who attempted to sieze upon various countries of Spanish America.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

In my very early teens I was introduced to some of the mysteries of shooting and fishing by a couple of very sharp old characters, woodsmen wise enough to educate us by practical example and demonstration.

To show us kids what a horrible reaction is created by a high-speed sporting bullet, they didn't give us a book to read, but set up a water-filled kerosene can against a convenient sand bank and proceeded to explode it in all directions. Very effective.

But in our education on gun safety there was one danger, as I remember, that they didn't demonstrate. That job was done for them.

My buddy and I were anchored off a point ducking shiners for smallmouth bass. We had heard some character popping away with a .22 a half mile across the lake, but the bass were swiping our minnows often enough so we gave him no thought.

Apparently he shifted his target, perhaps to a floating bottle, and in quick succession he bounced two ricochets screaming over our heads. We quit fishing pronto, and before the hour was out our two teachers were buzzing across the lake in the kicker to explain the facts of shooting life to our careless friend with the .22. After hearing those little 40-grain slugs, battered out of shape when they hit the water, go yowling past us, we didn't need any explanation.

These warm weather months are the heyday of the kid with a rimfire, of the grown-up who pots away with a .22 rifle or pistol at any tin can, bottle, crow, or tree knot that jumps out at him. The plinker doesn't get the newspaper or magazine space given to the rimfire target shooter, the gallery expert who does most of his competitive shooting indoors during the winter; but plinkers outnumber targeteers many times, buying millions more rimfire loads.

When the casual plinker gets into the news sheets, it's for potting somebody's cow or bouncing a ricochet where no bullet was meant to go.

The box your .22 long rifle cartridges are packed in, regardless of the make, is clearly marked: Dangerous Within One Mile. Neither high speed nor standard velocity loads may reach quite that mile if you want to be real technical about it, but they'll come close to it—and if you shoot even a .22 bullet over water at such an angle that it ricochets off the surface nobody can predict how far or in what direction it's going to buzz off.

The Winchester-Western people have spent a lot of money studying the ricochet effects of the .22 long rifle bullet, using all manner of expensive ultra-high-speed cameras and electronic gadgets. They found that the exact range and direction of a .22 slug could not be accurately predicted once it had touched a water surface—but they were cock certain, after the shooting was over, that a .22 long rifle bullet hitting the water at an angle of 15 degrees or less was definitely due to bounce off some place.

When you try to bust a bottle floating a hundred yards out on the lake, does the slug hit at less than 15 degrees? If the water is calm, you bet your life it does. When you try such shenanigans you're risking the life of the people in the cottage by the point. But at your camp you shoot down into the water from a high bluff? That might be fine and dandy—maybe. What if there's a ripple on the water? What price a few degrees of wave slant then?

Water will stop bullets very effectively when they go straight into it. As I remember it, we were told during the last war that a swimmer being machine-gunned was safe three feet under from .30 caliber slugs, about six feet down from .50 caliber stuff. But how are you going to pile up water to serve as a backstop? On the flat, as it is when we shoot out onto the lake, it won't usually stop even a .22, but will start the slug in a brand new direction, perhaps a dangerously wrong one.

Ideal Cooler Has Borscht Base

BORSCHT COOLER is a new and refreshing food drink developed by home economists, and has as its base borscht, or beet soup.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Borscht, or beet soup, is an Old World recipe gaining steadily in Summertime popularity here. In Europe, cold borscht is served with sour cream or yogurt and hot boiled potatoes. Sometimes chopped vegetables, slices of hard-cooked eggs or chopped scallions are added.

Claire Brown, director of the Rokeach Home Economics Laboratories, has developed several hot-weather coolers and soups with borscht as a base. As borscht comes in 31-ounce glass jars, it is easy to keep on hand.

These recipes are new, delicious and certainly something different to serve when the thermometer goes skyrocketing.

Borscht Cooler
(Serves 4)

Strain borscht into mixing bowl. Add sour cream to borscht. Beat with rotary beater until well blended. Pour into chilled tall glasses. Top with egg white and sprig of mint. Serve ice cold.

If desired, substitute 1 cup yogurt or 1 cup buttermilk.

Spiced Borscht Cocktail
(Serves 6)

One jar (31-ounce) borscht, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon celery seeds, 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt.

Put borscht through a sieve. Force beets through sieve. Combine borscht and remaining ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Cool. Chill. Serve as a pre-meal drink.

Borscht a la Balkan
(Serves 6)

One jar borscht, 1 finely diced cucumber, 1 cup sour cream or yogurt.

DALLAS—John P. Butler, Midland banker, has been named to membership on the Texas United Defense Fund Committee, the statewide group which will sponsor USO's campaign for $740,896 in Texas this year.

Butler was appointed to the committee by Ben H. Wooten, Dallas banker and chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund Committee. R. R. Gilbert, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas is a member of the committee and will serve as campaign chairman of the forthcoming fund appeal to carry on the familiar services of the USO to the young men and young women of the nation's armed forces.

Dakota Planes Keep Flying For Malayans

SINGAPORE —(AP)— A Malyan aviation official has just ended a five months' vain search in the United Kingdom to find a substitute for the Dakota plane—Malaya's most popular aircraft.

Albert Savage, Malayan Director of Civil Aviation, said on returning to Singapore, there is no British-made aircraft as large and economical as the 21-seater Dakota (a U. S. plane).

Check Up On Your Attitudes, If You Don't Feel Appreciated

The older woman was saying apologetically: "I sometimes feel guilty at how much time I spend playing bridge. But the women I play with are all widows like me, living alone. And we do enjoy our afternoons together."

She shouldn't feel guilty. The older woman who can find amusing pastimes, who cal fill her life with things she enjoys doing, has a right to be proud of herself.

She isn't sitting around feeling sorry for herself and therefore wasting her life.

As long as she is finding enjoyment, she is doing something worthwhile.

If her years of hard work are behind her—and there is no longer anyone dependent on her—she has earned the right to spend her time in any way that makes her happy.

Active Woman Not Burden

And there is another thing to her credit. If, on her own, she can make friends she enjoys being with, can do something besides sit around feeling lonely and sorry for herself, she is not a burden to her children.

It's the older woman who refuses to do anything, who tries to live entirely through her children, who makes her children feel somehow responsible for her lonely life, who is a burden.

Anything an older woman can do to get some enjoyment into her days is all to the good, and she owes no one an apology for how she spends her time.

Daddy Ringtail I'm A Very Important Fellow

By WESLEY DAVIS

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, came walking along the Elephant Path. He was walking his Huffen Puffen walk, all to show how important he was. He was singing his Huffen Puffen song. This, too, was to show how very important he was indeed.

He stopped at last beneath the very tall tree, the one where Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, lives in a monkey house. The Huffen called out: "Daddy Ringtail! It is I, your old friend, the Huffen Puffen."

Daddy Ringtail wasn't at home, but Mugwump Monkey slid to the ground. "Happy day, Huffen Puffen," said Mugwump.

The Huffen chuckled. Said he: "Happy day from your old friend, the Huffen Puffen."

"Sure," said Mugwump.

"The Huffen is who I am," the Huffen proudly explained.

"Huffen Puffen," said Mugwump, "I know who you are."

"I am a very important fellow, I am, I am," the Huffen went on to say. He started to sing his Huffen Puffen song again.

"Wait! Wait!" cried Mugwump. "Huffen Puffen, can't you talk of anything but how important you are?"

The Huffen laughed to hear this question. He asked what else there was to talk about. Why, if he didn't talk of how important he was—somebody might not even know that the Huffen was the most important someone ever.

"Huffen Puffen," said Mugwump. "I asked if you can talk of something besides how important you are.

"Welllll—" said the Huffen. "Yes I can, I can."

"Let's hear you do it," said Mugwump.

The Huffen opened his mouth to say some words that weren't of how important he was. He stood there with his mouth open. Not a word came out, and so the Huffen closed his mouth again. He was trying to think of words to say that weren't about himself.

"Go ahead," said Mugwump. "Let's hear you say them."

The Huffen thought and thought. He tried and tried. But he couldn't think of words that weren't of how important he was. The rascal! But if he didn't think important words about himself, who else would think them? Nobody, and so Mugwump let him think them. Happy day!

Korean War Orphan Adopted By Family After GI Son Dies

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Vitor Beauchamp was so anxious to greet his new "son" that he used a launch to reach the liner President Wilson.

At the dock they were greeted by Mrs. Beauchamp. She gave Kim a hug and a kiss.

"It's been a long time, a very long time," she said.

The Beauchamps' son, Victor, Jr., 22, a machine gunner with the 8th Cavalry Regiment, had met him in Korea. He wrote his parents: "Kim is one of the smartest kids I've even seen." Vic planned to send his young friend to his parents to be educated.

Last October Vic was killed in action.

His parents, after many futile atempts, got in touch with Kim through an American GI and arranged for him to come to this country.

DRAFT OF NEW LAW PREPARED

New German Law Would End Kinder, Kirche, Kuche Rule

BONN, Germany—(AP)—In Western Germany the days of the bossy husband are numbered.

The government has just prepared a draft law to give the little woman an equal say in all family matters.

It's a revolutionary step. German men long contended that women should have only three interests—kinder, kirche, kuche children, church, kitchen — with the man bossing all.

Until now, German law has supported this idea. Women have few legal rights in marriage or the home in Germany.

But the constitution adopted in 1949 says there shall be no discrimination between the sexes. The new equality for women bill is intended to comply with this provision.

Hubby Gets Rent

Under present law, the husband has full power of decision in all joint questions. If the wife receives rent from a house she owns, she must turn over the money to her husband. The husband's approval is required before the wife can open a bank account. The husband can dispose of jointly owned property without her consent.

All these things would be eliminated under the new bill which soon will go to Parliament. Approval there is considered certain.

If a couple divorces, the new bill provides that property gained during marriage should be divided on the basis of who earned the more—husband or wife.

The new bill also clamps some new obligations on women.

Under present law the husband is required to make the living for the family. The new bill requires both husband and wife to earn the family living costs. If they divorce, the husband would not be required fully to support the wife if she is able to work.

The new bill also requires the wife to earn a living for the family if the husband is unable to work. Present law requires the state to care for men physically unable to earn a living.

Rights Restricted

The new bill restricts the rights of the husband to name children and select their schools. He has absolute authority now. In the future the husband and wife must make joint decisions.

Doweries for young brides also are eliminated under the new bill. The reason: Girls now receive the same education as boys and it costs just as much. So there is no more need to compensate new husbands.

PUBLICITY IRKS OHIO SENATOR

CHICAGO —(AP)— Senator Robert Taft chafed a bit Wednesday under the constant surveillance of newsmen.

"I think I'll get a red wig and whiskers so I can move around town by myself," he smiling told a member of his entourage.

Air Force Identifies Victims Of Collision

CALDWELL —(AP)— Bryan Air Force Base Wednesday afternoon identified two student fliers who were killed Tuesday when their planes collided about 10 miles south of here. They were:

William J. Soss, 23, Jennings, Mo., and Thomas C. Price, Scarsdale, N. Y.

Te instructor, who bailed out, was First Lt. Dean Singleton of Bryan. He escaped injury.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Get Good Diagnosis of Heart Murmur Cause, Damage Done

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A worried woman writes that her eight-year-old son has been found to have a heart murmur, and that this is on her mind a great deal. Like many others, she also wants to know just what this means, what causes it and what can be done for it.

The situation with regard to most heart murmurs now is much better than it was a generation ago, when far too many youngsters who were found to have a murmur over the heart were put to bed for months at a time.

The reason this has changed for the better is that much more is known about heart murmurs and many of them today are recognized as not being really serious.

In some children, for example, the growth of the heart and the valves inside the heart do not keep pace with each other, so that the valves allow a small amount of blood to slip back, causing a murmur to be heard over the region of the valve.

The kind of murmur is not due to disease, and tends to disappear as the youngster grows older. Actually, it is the failure of the valves between the four chambers of the heart to hold back the blood, which causes a murmur.

It is true, however, that there are serious causes for murmurs which result from abnormality of the heart valves, caused either by disease or which were present at birth. The valve deformities present at birth are fairly rare and usually can be discovered quite early. Some can be corrected by surgery.

Most of the valve troubles which cause murmurs in youth are caused by rheumatic fever. Even this, however, can be so mild that nothing serious ever develops.

Rheumatic fever injures the heart valves by causing growths on the lips or cusps of the valves so that they cannot close completely. If the damage to the heart valves has been severe, the murmur may mean that physical activity has to be curtailed.

However, in many cases the growths are small and not active, and even though they have produced enough damage to cause a murmur to be heard, the heart is able to do its job without trouble.

An accurate diagnosis of cause and degree of damage should be made. The mere presence of a murmur in the heart is not enough, nor does it always mean that ordinary exercise has to be eliminated, or that there will be serious interference with life or health.

If you are having difficulty keeping your garden tools clean and free from rust, try applying a thin coat of shellac to the tools.

Crane Lions Club Sets Anniversary Event For County

CRANE—A special program is being planned by the Crane Lions Club for the 25th anniversary of Crane County August 30.

Actual organization date of the county was Sept. 3, 1927. The meeting was held in a small building on Gaston Street with Ben F. Allen, deceased, as first county judge. Prior to the meeting, Crane was under the jurisdiction of Ector County.

Mrs. Edna Smith, now county clerk at Odessa, was Crane County's first county clerk. Her brother, Claude H. Martin was the first postmaster. Dr. E. J. Cook was the first doctor in Crane.

SCALING HEIGHTS — Maj. Sammy Lee was joined on the ladder by his wife, Rosalind, on hand to watch him compete in the Olympic Swimming and Diving Trials at Long Island's Astoria Park Pool. The 1948 Olympic high-board champion is a doctor at Letterman Army Hospital, Pasadena. (NEA)

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

New Way to Kill Pests Discovered by Scientists

ROACHES and ants are the most difficult household pests to control, and they can be brought into the home at any time.

Science has just come forth with a new discovery, a colorless coating that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH.

It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it.

Effective for Months

Science has seen to it too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorous. Johnston's NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans.

Guard against crawling insects this modern NO-ROACH way.

Waffles Are Mealtime News

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Quick Waffles

Two cups pancake ready-mix, 2 cups milk, 1 3 cup melted butter, fat or oil, 2 eggs.

Place all ingredients in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Beat with a rotary egg beater until batter is fairly smooth. Pour batter onto a hot waffle iron. Bake until iron stops steaming.

Waffles are always good with butter and syrup, but they are also excellent supper or luncheon dishes with creamed chicken, eggs or vegetables. For porch or patio suppers build your menu around crisp corn meal waffles, top with creamed chicken and let outdoor appetites take care of the rest.

A fruit dessert or fresh strawberries and pineapple with iced tea to drink complete this summer meal designed for simple enjoyment on porch or terrace.

Corn Meal Waffles With Chicken a la King
(5 servings)

Corn Meal Waffles: One and one-half cups pancake ready-mix, 1/2 cup enriched corn meal, 1 3/4 cups milk, 1/3 cup melted butter, fat or oil, 2 eggs.

Place all ingredients in medium-sized bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until batter is fairly smooth. Do not overbeat. Bake in hot waffle iron.

Chicken a la King: One-fourth cup butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, dash of salt, pepper, 1 cup chopped cooked chicken (about one 5 1/2-ounce can), 1 cup frozen peas, cooked.

For the chicken a la King, melt butter; add flour and blend. Add milk and seasoning and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Continue cooking about 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Add diced cooked chicken and peas and serve over waffles. Garnish with strips of pimento.

If you have a freezer make up a batch of spaghetti sauce and store it away. It's nice to serve for a spaghetti supper with a tossed salad and crusty hot garlic bread.

UN Workers Said Sympathetic To China Communists' Cause

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—Robert Tang and his wife were not happy in the United Nations. The Communist victories in China stirred them strangely and they felt drawn back home to take part in what they regarded as building a great new order.

So Robert Tang and his wife, making UN salaries totaling about $1,000 monthly and living quite comfortably in the UN community in New York, abandoned everything here and went back home.

That was a year ago. Now reports seeping back to the UN through the bamboo curtain say that Tang is in one part of the vast Chinese territory working for the Communists, his wife is working in another section hundreds of miles distant and his wife's father, a Shanghai banker who is believed to have influenced their return, has committed suicide.

Nationalist Chinese in the UN say they are certain some of the 50-odd Chinese working on the UN Secretariat staff are sympathetic to the Chinese Red cause but they cannot put the finger on any one UN worker because all is quiet here about Mao Tze-tung and his victories.

When the Communist Chinese were sweeping all before them and it appeared they might come to the UN to take China's seat, some of the Chinese here were known to brag openly about the new order. But as the Red Chinese were tagged as aggressors and their victories stalled, the Communists became hush-mouthed.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie and his top men, beset from various quarters with charges that the UN is a nesting place of subversive and Communists, says they make no effort to ascertain a man's political feelings when he is hired.

The international Secretariat contains men of many beliefs—Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, Communists and others. The UN says there is no way of tagging a political label to anyone here—and would not do it if there was one. The Lie people insist the criterion for working here is satisfactory performance. They insist no one has been fired for being a subversive.

One Chinese who acted as interpreter for Red Gen. Wu Hsiu-chuan did not measure up to the standard of work required by the UN and was released when his temporary contract expired. Wu came to the UN in 1950 on the invitation of the Security Council, made one speech bitterly assailing the UN and the U. S., and departed after a month when he saw he was making no progress.

There have been reports that some Chinese now working in th some have returned to the mainland on visits but Chinese sources say there have been only one or two such occasions. These people don't talk about things back at home—it might bring trouble for their families.

Sometimes Summer squalls blow up out of nowhere. In an electrical storm, get to your car before the storm breaks, if you can. It's the safest place unless you can get into a building. If you can't make it, stay away from isolated trees, wire fences, hilltops and wide open spaces. Make for a grove of trees, but stay as far from the trunks as possible.

NO AIRPORT IS THATAWAY

CENTRALIA, ILL.—(AP)—An official Illinois air-marker directs pilots to an airport that isn't there.

DuQuoin's only airport closed May 1. Nontheless two months later state painters followed orders and painted a huge yellow and green symbol atop a building, pointing to Du Quoin's former airport.

Singapore Airmen To Try Ad Scheme

SINGAPORE—(AP)— The director of civil aviation is considering the application of a Singapore advertising agency that wants to carry out aerial advertising at night.

The agency plans sending up a plane between 6 and 7 p.m. daily. The plane will tow an illuminated sign deriving power from the plane's generator.

Commercially-prepared cocktail sauce added to mayonnaise makes a delicious dressing for chicken salad; serve on a variety of Summer salad greens—water cress, romaine, chicory, escarole, and leaf lettuce.

When you buy window shades, remember that they should be waterproof and resist light-and-water fading. This is important since the shades are constantly exposed to sun and moisture.

Good snack: arrange sardines on buttered toast and sprinkle with a little lemon juice mixed with Worcestedshire sauce. Top with grated yellow cheese and broil slowly until cheese melts. Serve with well-seasoned tomato juice as a first course.

NOW, TIDE WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!

In fact, TIDE washes WHITER than any soap or "detergent" with bleach added!

It's a new Tide miracle!

Whiter washes—with no bleaching! It's true! Tide—used all alone—will actually wash your clothes whiter than any other washing product with a bleach added. It's washday's big news! Try it—and when you see how much whiter Tide alone gets your clothes, you'll never want to put bleach in the wash water again!

Cleaner clothes, too! When you rinse out a Tide wash you've got cleaner clothes than any woman will get with any soap of any kind. Millions of women have proved it. No soap known will get out so much grimy dirt, yet leave clothes so free of dulling film! There's nothing like Tide for washday miracles!

The wash test proves TIDE washes whiter —you can see the difference!

Take any soap or "detergent" you like—make your suds and add your bleach—then wash a load of white clothes. Wash a second load in Tide suds alone . . . then compare the two loads. The Tide-washed clothes will be so much whiter, you'll be amazed! From now on, you just needn't bother with bleaching except for stubborn stains.

TIDE is milder for hands than any other leading "detergent." So safe for washable colors!

YES! With all its cleaning and whitening action, Tide has an amazing new mildness. Not even the mildest "detergents" made especially for dishwashing are so kind to hands as Tide!

ACTUALLY BRIGHTENS COLORS! For dramatic proof of Tide's wonderful safety, watch soap-dulled colors come brighter after just one Tide wash. Tide really cares for clothes and colors just as it does for your hands.

AND TIDE IS SO THRIFTY TO USE! Such a little Tide makes such oceans of rich, long-lasting suds . . . goes so far in hardest water, it's a miracle of economy.

"No more bleach for me! I saw my wash come whiter with Tide alone!"
says Mrs. Helen D. Larsen of New Canaan, Conn.

"Wonderful Tide's done it again! I couldn't believe it till I tried it, but one wash proved it to me! I saw my white things come whiter with Tide alone than I ever got them before when I used a bleach in the wash water!"

NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT CAN PROMISE ALL THIS!
