Portales Bean Crop Bringing Good Prices

The Portales bean crop is now bringing good prices, the entire crop having been contracted for by Abiline parties at a good price.

On Monday of this week 96 bushels were shipped out and on Tuesday 125 bushels. A like amount is to be delivered the lattre part of the week.

The bean crop was planted with the expectation of canning, but the green bean market has been such that it pays better to sell them this way than can.

Carl Case, manager of the Portales canning factory has in the largest acreage, and it was through him that this market was secured.

This is a new avenue for the truckers of the Portales Valley and an increased acreage will be planted another year.

Mrs. C. Hanner Brown came in Tuesday of last week from a visit to Canyon City, Colorado.

Stewarts Visit the Carlsbad Caverns

On last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Wat Stewart and daughter, Dorothy, and two neices, Misses Velma and Audrey Lee Brummet, of Oklahoma City and Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Hall, of Clovis, went to Carlsbad to visit the Caverns, returning on Sunday.

Mrs. Stewart says that they passed the place just out of Carlsbad, where the Plainview car was washed away and part of the party drowned. This place is a dry wash, which crossed the highway over a concrete dip, and as the car stalled a wall of water came down washing the car away.

A party from Pecon, Texas, was crossing in a new Essex sedan, when his car stalled. He succeeded in getting his family to safety when a wall of water three feet over the top of the car struck, washing it away. Two wheels and a part of the body was all that was recovered.

Oklahoma City Newspapers Are Out For Hoover

Will Not Join Republican Party, But Neither Are They Going to Join Liquor Movement, Publisher Says.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13.—E. K. Gaylord, publisher of the Daily Oklahoman and the Oklahoma City Times, two of the largest newspapers in the state, announced Monday that the papers would support the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee.

The publisher said the newspapers "will not join the republican party, but neither are they going to join a liquor movement."

Mr. Hoover would "waste no useless efforts on prohibition modification," if elected, Mr. Gaylord said. He asserted Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, the democratic candidate, would "concentrate his efforts on the modification of the Volstead Act," and added that the Oklahoman and Times "will not assist in building up a purely liquor party nor undertake a campaign to overthrow the amendment."

The Tulsa Tribune, another of the larger democratic newspapers of Oklahoma, declared for Hoover almost immediately after his nomination.

Pioneer Citizen Moves To Hobbs, New Mexico

A. G. Trout, one of the pioneer citizens of Roosevelt County, moved with his family to Hobbs, N. M., on the first of the week.

For years Mr. Trout was engaged in the mercantile business in Portales, and in latter years in the grain business.

He is now interested in the Hobbs townsite, and has moved his family to that place so that he may be closer to his business.

Portales regrets to see these good people leave, but all wish them health and success in their new home.

Portales Motor Co. Installs Chevrolet Shop Equipment

The Portales Motor Company's shop is now one of the best equipped shops in the state for the servicing of Chevrolet as well as other makes of cars.

Their mechanics have completed a course of the Chevrolet school for mechanics, and every modern convenience for shop work has been installed in the new addition to the Portales Motor Companies building.

In showing the News representative over the shop, Manager Add Hobbs stated that nothing has been left to guess work. Every repair and adjustment is made by the most modern methods, which insures absolute mechanical perfection.

Machinery specially designed for this work has been installed, and a roomy work shop supplied. They invite the public to call and see these improvements at any time.

Commissioners Sow Wheat Around Court House Lawn

The county commissioners have had the janitor, Uncle John George, plow up the weeds and level the space between the sidewalk and paving around the court house square, and have it sowed to wheat.

This will doubtless bring in a large revenue and cut the taxes, as it is possible to produce five or ten bushels of wheat from this land.

Seriously speaking, this strip should either be paved or sowed in Bermuda grass, this would add to the beauty of the court house lawn, and benefit every tax payer in the county.

As to the county going in for wheat growing, they could enlarge the activities by plowing up the lawn, grubbing the trees and planting the space in potatoes or tomatoes.

At this time the lawn is one of the beauty spots of the county, and it is well kept. A nice flower garden is in full bloom in the vacant space east of the court house. A little beauty now and then, adds much to make life livable.

J. P. Adams Improving Portales Bakery-Cafe

J. P. Adams has a crew of workmen remodeling the Portales bakery and cafe.

The bakery is being moved into the third building recently occupied by John Skinner.

The Cafe will occupy the two buildings, formerly the cafe and bakery.

This arrangement will add much to the convenience and comfort of the cafe customers, and will enable the Cafe to handle its increased trade.

Cheese Factory To Re-Open Sept. 1st.

The Joss Brothers announce that they will re-open the cheese factory on or before September 1st.

They have now disposed of the bulk of their cheese stock, and on re-openingwill manufacture a variety of cheese, which will meet the market demands better.

With the re-opening of this factory and the opening of the Ice cream and butter factory, the dairy industry of the entire county will profit.

No Need to Go Away From Portales to Do Your Buying

The people of Portales and Roosevelt county will find that they can get all of their fall and winter supplies in Portales.

The Portales merchants are now receiving large stocks of fall and winter goods, and are stocking heavily in anticipation of a good trade. You will find that you can lay in your supplies and save in price and quality.

Buying at home, is what builds up a town. The home merchants have your interest at heart. They assist in all civic improvements, and donate to the churches and societies of the community.

They pay a large part of the taxes that go to keep up the county and county institutions, such as road building, schools, etc.

The dollar which is sent out of town is lost to circulation, and is of no benefit to your community.

Think it over, and visit the Portales stores before sending out of town for your needs.

Farm Chiefs Confer With Gov. Smith

Murphy, of Wheaton, Minn., one of the champions of the vetoed McNary-Haugen Bill; William Hirth, publisher of the "Missouri Farmer," Doctor Tait Butler, of Memphis, co-publisher of the Minnesota Progressive Farmer; W. H. Settle president of the Indiana Farm Bureau federation; and Mrs. Vernie Hatch, in charge of the women's department of the Indiana Farm Bureau federation; X. Much Valley Land Being Planted to Alfalfa

A drive over a portion of the Portales valley on last Sunday was evidence that the Portales Valley farmers are increasing the alfalfa acreage.

At the present time there is not alfalfa enough grown in the valley for home consumption, and many car loads are shipped in for feeding purposes.

The valley farmers are finding that alfalfa is easier to handle than too large an acreage of perishable crops, and this with the expansion of the dairy and feeder industry, is responsible for the increased acreage.

From four to seven cuttings are harvested in one season, which makes it a very profitable crop.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wood and daughter, Miss Annabel, of Clovis, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Woods people, the J. B. Crawford family.

Former Citizen of Portales Visits Childhood Home

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Tyson, and brother, M. B. Tyson, of Dallas, Texas, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Harris Tuesday.

Hollis Tyson is a prohibition enforcement officer located at Dallas, Texas, and participated in the recent enforcement raids in New York City.

Hollis was born in Portales, and was identified with the early development of this community.

He has made a quite a record as a prohibition officer, and his success.

They left Tuesday for a visit to Las Vegas, where they formerly lived.

Oil Leasing Continues In Roosevelt County

The leasing activities continue over the county, and new firms are coming into the field.

At this time there has been turned a loose around $250,000.00 in lease money. The bank is receiving lease money ranging from $7,00 to $8,000 a day.

The major companies are doing most of the leasing, and they are giving the land owners a square deal.

A number of speculators are also picking up acreage.

The drilling prospects are good, but the News has no reliable information as to when this will begin. It depends upon the extension of the Lea county field, which is extending drilling in this direction.

Most of the leasing is in the east and south part of the county along the state line.

Priddys Leave For St. Louis Markets

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Priddy are leaving this week for St. Louis markets, to lay in a fall and winter supply of dry goods, clothing, ladies ready-to-wear, etc.

Since the rains have insured good crops for Roosevelt county, the Portales merchants are stocking up in anticipation of a good fall trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Priddy expect to be gone a week or ten days.

Substantial Cash Prizes Offered in Cotton Contest

To encourage the growing of cotton in Roosevelt county, the Portales Chamber of Commerce and the Business men of Portales have instituted a cotton production contest, and are offering substantial cash prizes for the greatest amount of lint cotton produced on dry and irrigated farms.

This contest is open to every farmer of the county who has an acreage of 25 or more acres in cotton, dry land, or 15 or more irrigated.

The time is at hand when they must measure their land and designate the acreage to be entered.

Roosevelt county has demonstrated that cotton can be grown successfully, and at a lower cost than in the southern cotton territory.

Roosevelt county is free from the boll weevil, and many of the cotton pests which curtail production in the older states.

With improved methods of farming and gathering, the cost is much lower than that of the old states, hence the profits are greater.

Cotton is now bringing a good price and it looks as if it will go higher. The farmer who has a good cotton acreage is bound to win, and by entering this contest some one is going to reap a neat profit in addition to the regular market price, which he will receive for his cotton.

Read the rules and enter at once.

Below will be found a blank to be filled out by those wishing to enter this contest. Fill this out and hand or mail to A. F. Jones, Chairman, Sam M. Seay, secretary, or Ralph R. Will, county extension agent.

Clovis Has New Cure For Rheumatism

You can always count up on it that Clovis leaves no stone unturned to bring that city into the lime light.

The latest development is that Clovis may soon become the mecca of those suffering from rheumatism.

Judge J. R. Graham, had an attack of rheumatism. He was visiting the Clovis zoo, when one of the bears grabed his hand, lacerating the thumb. The judge says since his experience in the zoo that all traces of rheumatism have left.

Now it is up to Clovis to advertise all who are sufferers to come and let Bruin bite them, and be healed.

Portales is becoming a very unpopular place for the dead beat. A chain gang for the handling of this class would have a good effect upon those headed this way. There is no more wholesome influence for the dead beat and crook than a few days or weeks on a chain gang breaking rocks or otherwise improving the city streets.

Wheat Farming.

In sections of Roosevelt county wheat farming has proven profitable in past years.

The present season is ideal for the preparation of lands for wheat and many of the farmers are preparing for an increased acreage.

Wheat farming in connection with the dairy industry, is very profitable, as it supplies green winter pasturage for the dairy herds.

A greater acreage planted this fall will mean greater returns in cream throughout the winter months.

The wise farmer will not go to any one crop, but then the season is as favorable as it is at this time, the increase of the wheat acreage looks like a good bet.

In the spring if conditions are not favorable to wheat, it can always be planted to other crops, and you will still have had the advantage of the winter pasturage.

The County Hospital.

Farmers of Roosevelt county are beginning to discuss th matter of a county hospital.

To secure such a hospital it will be necessary to go before the state legislature in January and have legislation authorizing counties or municipalities to issue bonds for this purpose, then a bond election would have to be held in the county for this purpose.

At this time when there is so much unrest caused by high taxes, such a move might prove unpopular, but the News believes that the citizens of Roosevelt county are always ready to take on an obligation that is for their mutual advantage.

A county hospital, properly managed would be of benefit to every citizen of the county, and would provide efficient accomodations for her citizens in time of distress.

Such a hospital would be open to all physicians and surgeons, and all would feel free to use it.

It is a move for the better caring for humanity, and the columns of the News are open for the discussion of same by the voters of the county.

NOT AGAMBLER'S CHANCE

An August Editorial by Richard S. Bond.

There is at least a chance to win when a gambler makes a wager—sometimes great, sometimes small, but at least a chance.

But what about the man who smilingly affirms there is no Supreme Being, and whether he realizes it or not, goes through life without even a gambler's chance to win?

If there is no God, we who believe there is, will fare as fell as the non-believer—and the result will be a draw when we are placed in our sixfoot bed.

If there is a God, the faithful believer wins and the non-believer loses.

He who believes must draw or win. He who does not, cant only draw or lose—he hasn't a gambler's chance, a last chance or any kind of a chance. He hasn't even a 1,000 to 1 shot for there is no such thing as "win" in the wager he has made with death.

The Republicans cannot get by the fact that Secretary Mellon, who has charge of the prohibition enforcement of the nation, is the nations largest distiller. His enforcement is along the lines that are calculated to cause the repeal of the Volstead amendment.

The day after the election of Teddy Roosevelt cotton took a slump. Immediately after the election of President Coolidge cattle dropped to the bottom. Farmers and cattlemen should remember this "Republican prosperity," and not be misled by political propaganda.

Doubtless the Republican party will claim the responsibility for the good rains which have covered the county in the past few weeks. The farmers of Roosevelt county will enjoy their usual prosperity, and the Creator is responsible for the rains and not any politician or bunch of politicians.

School time is drawing near, and there are many children who have not been enumerated. This means the loss to your district of $7.00 for each child in the school age who is not on the rolls. See your clerk at once and attend to this.

The time to register is rapidly passing. If you fail to register during this month your vote in the November election will be lost. The registration booths will be open each Saturday at your regular voting place. You owe it to yourself and to your country to register so that you may be a qualified voter. Do not let another Saturday pass without giving this your attention. Also see that your neighbor is properly registered.

The political situation is at a boil over the entire nation at this time. The battle is waged between the Republicans and the Democrats for the election of a president. Al Smith is the Democratic nominee, and nothing is to be gained by bolting the Democratic party and supporting the Republican nominee. There is an erroneous impression that if Smith is elected that the Volstead act will be repealed. This is in the hands of the national congress, and by the selection of men who are tried and true, to change will or can be made in this constitutional amendment except it is ratified by two thirds of the states. Prohibition is here to stay, and the Republican party is putting out this bunk to elect their man. That the enforcement has been lax under the Republican administration is seen on every hand. They have a chance between now and November to show their good faith by giving a real bone dry enforcement. Do not be fooled by pre-campaign promises. The Republican party has never and never will be the friend of the common people. The farmers of the nation have never received any benefits from this party and they never will.

DO YOUR FERNS DIE?

Many women cannot grow ferns. If they begin to fade, try a few drops of castor oil on the roots, at the same time setting the fern pot in a dish of cold water overnight. Keep ferns from draughts of cold air. Many thousands die each year because they are forced to remain on the window sill day and night.

Wilson Democrats Bolt Smith: Raskob Threatens Clergy

By The Republican State Central Committee.

Governors Smith's managers may know New York and vicinity, but they don't know the American people.

When Mayor Walker threatened the moving picture industry unless it supported Smith, it was thought that the supreme blunder of the campaign had been made. The press of the country, including practically every Democratic newspaper, suggested that Mayor Walker should confine his Tammany bullying to New York, where the people have been trained for a hundred years to obey the growl of the tiger.

Raskob's Supreme Blunder.

But Walker's blunder was as nothing compared with that of John J. Raskob, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Raskob threatened the preachers of the south. He announced that the preacher opposition will subside under financial pressure applied by wealthy southern laymen who are supporting Smith.

Mr. Raskob says: "Substantial people in the south, including Methodists, are saying to their preachers, 'This opposition must stop or you will rceive no contributions.'"

Bishop Cannon, of the Methodist Church, challenges Chairman Raskob to metion one southern Methodist layman who has threatened to withdraw his financial support from the church.

Mr. Raskob doesn't understand. We all deplore the mixing in of the church with politics, but the southern preachers have been working for prohibition for more than fifty years. National prohibition appears to them as the finest fruit of the efforts of the church in the past half century.

Cannot Be Bulldozed.

To their way of thinking the election of a president, committed to the overthrow of the Eighteenth Amendment, would be a moral catastrophe to be averted at any cost.

To say those ministers will allow their mouths to be shut with money, is to insure a greater crusade against return of the saloons. The southern preacher is a man of intense convictions or moral questions, and he has the power to make those convictions register in the minds of his hearers. He is not ruled by anybody's check book.

Another blunder by Mr. Raskob was an intimation that he favored the equalization fee of the McNary-Haugen bill.

Smith's First Stand.

Governor Smith immediately repudiated the equalization fee, and again announced that he would, if elected, take up the study of farm relief.

The McNary-Haugen bill is in the discard. Twice vetoed by Presidnt Coolidge, turned down by the Kansas City Convention, it is now rejected definitely by the candidate of the Houston Convention.

Governor Smith announced to New York newspaper men:

"That the plan for applying the principle contained in the McNary-Haugen bill is not acceptable to him.

"That he has no plan of his own for conveying out that principle.

"That he promises after election to work out such plan."

It only remains for the farmer to make his choice between Governor Smith, who admits that he has no knowledge of farm needs and whose natural sympathies are with the Eastern consumer, and Herbert Hoover, who grew up in a farming community and has solved knottier economic problems with brilliant success.

Governor Smith has given farm relief as black an eye as Maggie ever gave Jiggs.

Democrats Bolt Smith.

Vance C. McCormick, of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee in 1916; Thomas B. Love member of the Democratic National Committee from Texas from 1916 to 1925; Cato Sells of Texas, member of the Democratic National Committee in 1912, and Commissioner of Indian affairs under President Wilson; Senator Simmons of North Carolina; Judge William R. Pattangall of Maine; Senator Robert Lee Owen of Oklahoma, and a host of other nationally-known Democrats have bolted the nomination of the Tammany candidate.

Senator Simmons issued the following statement, August 2:

"I feel that because of Governor Smith's action since his nomination with reference to the platform, his organization of the national Democratic executive committee and his and its alliance with interests and groups hostile and antagonistic to the fundamental principles of Democracy, all Democratic voters should be free from coercion or restraint in the exercise of their conscientious conviction and judgment with respect to the national ticket."

Former National Chairman McCormick says: "Parties exist primarily for the bettermen of mankind through the promotion of public welfare," and that his newspaper cannot conscientiously support Governor Smith, who is running on a "personal platform above that of his party," "a candidate widely heralded as a nullificationist."

McCormick says:

"To disregard the Constitution and the laws thereon based, or even to encourage such disregard, is destructive to the nation." "It is un-American in spirit and destined to lead to anarchy and chaos."

These bolting Democrats were leading supporters of Woodrow Wilson in the 1916 campaign. Political Adv.

Our Appointment As Local Distributor for Polson Super Tubes

WITH our appointment as local distributors for Polson Super Tubes, we are able to offer to the individual motorist and to the commercial operator of trucks and busses a means of reducing tire and tube cost per mile or per year to the lowest point in their experience, plus features of safety, convenience and economy of the greatest value.

Polson Super Tubes come to us with eight years record of service in all parts of America, and many foreign countries. Every claim made for them has been proved in actual service. Come in, and let us show you.

POLSON SUPER TUBES
Make Tires Last Longer

1 A heavy inner tread of compressed, pure Para rubber, vulcanized as an integral part of Polson Super Tubes, acts as a cushion for tires, preventing stone bruises and internal cord breaks. Tire mileage is increased 25%.

2 In all tires, but particularly in low pressure casings, the great additional strength of the Polson Tube inner tread makes it possible to run hundreds of miles on tires, which, with ordinary tubes, would blow out.

3 Polson Tubes will maintain air pressure evenly for months without attention. This is the best possible safeguard against under-inflation—the greatest foe of tire mileage.

4 The service life of a Polson Tube is from four to five years, with no loss of elasticity. A set of Polson Tubes will outwear several sets of casings.

5 Blistering heat or hardest use has little or no effect on Polson Tubes.

6 95% of all punctures are self-sealed by compression of the pure Para Rubber tread.

7 Polson Super Tubes will cut 20% from your annual tire bill and reduce tube cost per mile to the lowest point ever known.

8 Eight years on the market. Polson Super Tubes have passed the acid test of actual use. They are no longer an experiment, but a proven fact.

The Livestock Situation

There is no disputing the fact that aged, heavysteers, which made up the majority of the cattle supply a decade ago, are relatively scarce in all sections of the country. This condition is particularly true in the West, where the cattle business is more than ever before on a cow and calf basis. It is doubtful if this condition is brought about entirely by the fact that cattle supplies of all kinds are less than normal.

There has been a decided tendency during the past twenty-five years to market beef cattle at younger ages. Old timers will remember that the markets were supplied throughout the year with aged cattle and in sections where a great deal of pen lot feeding was done, it was not uncommon to see steers on the market which weighed in excess of 2,000 pounds. Nowadays, the "heavy" steer, according to official United States government quotations, is an animal weighing from 1300 to 1500 pounds. Many of the Western markets receive so few steers in this classification that no quotations are made on such weights.

It was the general practice in the range country, only a few years ago, for the range cowman to carry his steers until they were from three to five years of age. It was always possible for the buyer to locate large numbers of steers five years of age and over. Now it is a problem for the feeder who insists on aged steers to locate any sizable strings of cattle past 3 years of age.

Undoubtedly this is an economic trend in the cattle industry which has been brought about by the demand on the part of the public for relatively small cuts of beef. From the standpoint of the cattleman, this development is all in his favor. It has been demonstrated that the most economical time to market range cattle in the breeding districts is from the calf to the two-year-old stage. Cattle do not make sufficient gains after that period to pay the range cowman's interest, taxes and other carrying charges.

Moreover, cattle feeders have found that the actual feed cost of fattening an aged, heavy steer the costs of fattening the yearling are about 25 per cent greater than or two-year-old, while the younger animal will gain practically as much as the older steer. Moreover, the investment on which taxes and interests must be paid is at least 50 percent greater at the end of the feeding period. At the cntral markets it is estimated that fully 90 percent of the demand is for animals weighing from 1200 pounds to the baby beef classes, which weigh generally from 700 to 1000 pounds. There is still a limited demand for the heavy, aged steer, largely from hotel and steamship companies. However, the latter demand is turning towards the lighter animals and the heavy steer is actually in the "specialty" class, which for the cattle feeder may well mean the "dangerous" class, from a financial standpoint. With the present scarcity of heavy steers, it seems probable that prices for such stock will be relatively favorable at the markets but it must be borne in mind that the demand is very limited and even a few extra loads of heavy cattle may prove to be very difficult to cash at a favorable price, with a strong chance of reducing proces on all classes.

The consumer prefers the cuts from the lighter animals, because of less waste, smaller bones, more tender meat and the fact that in the majority of city apartments, the housewife's cooking facilities do not enable her to utilize heavy cuts.

So all in all, the trend towards the younger, more quickly developing beef animal, seems to be sound economically. The same condition is true of the pork and mutton trade. Most of our demand now is for lamb. Where there was a good outlet for aged wethers some years ago, the limited demand for mutton can be taken care of by aged ewes. The popular weight of hogs is around 170 to 200 lbs., whereas a few years ago before the days of lard substitutes, the market topping hog weighed from 300 to 400 lbs., so our meat industry is in a state of evolution requiring more than ordinary thought and action.

PHONE SERVICE IN SMALL TOWNS OF U. S. EXCELS THAT IN EUROPE'S CITIES

The people in the smaller communities of the United States are more fully provided with telephone than are the people in most of the large cities in Europe, a world survey of telephones shows.

The extent to which telephone facilities have been provided in smaller towns and rural districts is one of the outstanding developments in the telephone industry in the United States. In communities of less than 50,000 population there are 12 telephones per 100 population.

Seventy per cent of the world's telephones are in the United States, all privately-owned, the survey shows. All of Europe has but 8,080,442 telephones, about 27.5 per cent of the world's total. In the United States there are 15.3 telephone per 100 inhabitants, compared to 1.6 telephone per 100 inhabitants in Europe, where about 88 per cent of the telephones are under government operation.

REVIVAL OF MIDWAY.

The Baptist Church at Midway, New Mexico, Roosevelt County, began there Revival meeting Friday night, Aug. 3, 1928.

Midway is a farm room, lunch, school house in the Southeastern part of Roosevelt county.

I have been their pastor since April 1928, our membership was about 30. We have with us Miss Simpson, one of our State workers and Rev. H. B. Strickland our associational missionary.

We had one of the best Revivals I have been in for years. God was with us in power from the beginning. The douth, broken on Wednesday, the people came through wind and rain. We never missed a service. We had 18 conversions and Restorations, 9 gained by letter and 5 by baptism. We selected two deacons, one young, one surrendered to preach. We will ordain the deacons and license the young Bro. to preach the first Sunday in September. Another young man ought to preach, but he hasn't fully surrendered yet.

The church and community gave the pastor a good pounding and gave our good missionary $60.00.

We knew Bro. Strickland over 20 years ago, boys together. We now have learned to love him better his work. He has joined with God and delivers his messages with love.

Nine of the good women promised to give there eggs laid on Sunday to the church each Sunday and others have now decided to join them with there eggs, giving each Sunday to the church there eggs there hens laid on Sunday.

We feel this meeting has drawn most all Christian people in this community closer to each other and to the work for Christ.

J. P. Page, Pastor.

TELL AL, BUT LET HERB GUESS

(By Frank Sullivan.)

Governor Smith will win easily if the Democratic National Committee will only pay a little attention to a plan the present writer has in mind.

My idea is to notify Al Smith that he has been nominated, but not to notify Hoover. The conventions are held in June but the candidates are never notified until August. Between June and August they are supposed to live in a state of blissful ignorance, never guessing the big treat in store for them.

Therefore, let's tell Al about it but let's adopt a kidding policy with Herbert. It might be a good idea for some Democrat to masquerade as a Republican and get Hoover's ear. Then, in case some rumor of his nomination should seep through to Hoover, this so-called Republican, the one with Hoover's ear, could say: "That's a lot of boloney. Don't pay any attention to it." So Hoover wouldn't, but elsewhere, Al Smith, having been told confidentially that he had been nominated, would be corraling all the states except Vermont which is still voting for Taft. And, if I know Al, he would probably have Canada joining the United States in order to vote for him. At the last minute, on November 3, we could tell Hoover, but then it would be too late for him to do anything but collect the consolation prize, a small homemade flood.

INDIANS SEE DEER IN NEW LIGHT

The Taos Pueblo Indians have become converted to the desirability of protecting game, according to State Game Warden, E. L. Perry, though in the past they have persistentlyheld to the theory that game laws were only another of the white man's unreasonable restrictions upon the personal liberty of poor Lo. The change of hearthas come about because of the fact that the buckskin clothing and ornaments made by these Indians are eagerly sought by the tourists who visit the pueblo, and the supply of buckskin is becoming limited.

A pair of plain moccasin boots such as the women wear, easily bring $25, and other prices of clothing and equipment made from buckskin sell for high prices to Eastern visitors. Time was when the Taos Mountains teemed with deer, but due to persistent hunting for meat and hides the species has all but disappeared from the region. With the opening up of this new source of revenue the animal has come to enjoy an entirely new place in the estimation of the Indian, with a corresponding concern regarding the upkeep of the supply.

Recently the Indians have combined with the Taos Game Protective Association in recommending the establishment of a game refuge in the Pot Creek country south of Taos, and the leaders in the Pueblo are considering the voluntary creation of another refuge upon their own reservation where hunting has been unrestricted by law in the past. With promiscuous hunting by the Indians removed there is little doubt that the deer will become re-established in the Taos Mountains, and the Indians will benefit by that fact as well as the sportsmen.

The fact that Indians may hunt upon their own reservations without restriction has resulted in the virtual extermination of game over considerable areas in the State, the Warden believes. A case in point is the Navajo Reservation in the northwestern section. This reservation embraces a huge area in both New Mexico and Arizona, and while it contains much excellent deer range the species has been entirely killed out, at least on the New Mexico side.

Over a hundred leaguers attended the annual rally banquet of the El Tepoclo Epworth League Union which was held at the Portales Chamber of Commerce building last Thursday evening. Clovis, Texico-Farwell, Melrose, Grady, Elida, Inez, Pleasant Hill and Portales Leaguers were present.

Miss Leila Mae Freeman played the piano as the group marched into the banquet hall. "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," was lead by Keith Payne, Toastmaster.

The invocation was given by Rev. Dallas Dennison. Howard McDonald gave the Welcome address and the response was made by Jimmie Overstreet, of Texico.

The Clovis Hi-Leaguers filled in between numbers of the program with songs and yells. Music was furnished during the banquet by the Clovis league Orchestra.

A talk on "Last Year's Assembly and What It Meant to Me," was given by a Clovis Leaguer. Cloyd Miller, Field secretary of the New Mexico Conference talked about this year's Assembly. Roy L. Keter, president of the Union also talked about the Assembly.

Miss Wanda Brown sang Tomorrow. She was accompanied by Miss Leila Mae Freeman. Emmitt White, of Portales and Letha Smith of Clovis entertained the group with humorous readings.

A number of extemporaneous speeches were made by the young people on various subjects. J. R. Wrinkle of Melrose, led the group in pep songs and yells.

The tables were banked with golden glow and fern. Large bouquets of yellow and white flowers were placed about the room.

Christian Church.

Last Lords day, Aug. 12th, was a great day in the revival meeting. Good attendance at Bible school, large crowd for the morning sermon and a house full to overflowing at the evening hour. We were glad to welcome the Baptist congregation in the morning, and both Baptist and Methodist congregations at the evening services, also glad to see in the audience many new faces from the other churches of the town and from the rural districts.

The day was crowned by hearing Christ confessed before men. Interest still continues, good crowds, fine singing and splendid sermons.

Meeting continues through out the week and over next Lords day, which promises to be a day full of service.

Bible school at ten o'clock followed by the Lords supper, some special musical numbers and the morning sermon, after dismissal it is hoped every one will enjoy the basket dinner.

The mid-afternoon will be given over to the concert provided by Bro. Shields and family assisted by the local talent.

C. E. meetings, both Senior and Junior at the usual hour, this will be followed by the evening sermon, which will be the last of the series.

Departing from the usual order, something over a score of members of the C. E. society motored to the H ranch Sunday afternoon at four o'clock and held their devotional meeting in the shade of the trees and afterward enjoyed refreshing ice cream and cake returning to town for the evening sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. French and daughters, of Elida, were present at the revival Monday night and were overnight guests of Bro. and Sister Lorts, at the parsonage.

Tuesday night, the Elida people were represented by Z. T. Campbell and wife and Mrs. Strange.

A delegation of twelve or more headed by the pastor, Rev. Howard Rogers and wife represented the Clovis church on Tuesday night.

Baptismals services Thursday afternoon at three o'clock.

LIME RECOMMENDED FOR YELLOW SPOTS.

The sprinkling of a small amount of ground limestone over the yellow spots that frequently appear in Amarillo lawns is recommended by Temple N. Robinson, city forester.

Mr. Forester states that the limestone can be found at all fertilizer plants and in most seed houses. Only a small amount should be sprinkled on the spots and then the ground irrigated well, he says.—News Amarillo.
