On the Table—
Why Not Listen?
This Is Romance—
A Better Brand—

A city ordinance providing a 50 per cent deposit on all contracts for use of the city auditorium and that all bookings shall be on file and "open to the public view" is passed on its first reading by the city council Monday night. It is a good ordinance. The operation of the auditorium, as well as all other city business, should be open to the public by all means. "All the cards on the table" would have been a good policy for the council to adopt months ago.

It seems unfortunate, in the view of this writer, that members of the council did not see fit to press investigation of the dispute over the theatrical business of William Ward, auditorium manager, called to the attention of the city council a week ago by the Woman's Forum. A thorough inquiry into the affair certainly would have been fairer to Mr. Ward, and should have met with no opposition from the forum which sought to have the matter settled once for all. To a stranger in the city, or one not familiar with the council, it would appear that the last thing the gentlemen of the city council desired was to hear more of the matter.

"The women are trying to run the city," one city official told the writer. Which may or may not be true. Perhaps it would be better if they did.

"The run around" is the very expressive term of Mr. Alex Ross' athletic arena. What all public officials should know, without being told by the women, is that office-holders can't give "the run around" to charter provisions, to organic law, by private agreements or fictitious names or firms.

Sheik Ameen Hamade, Bey of Syria arrives in Wichita Falls, but minus a turban, fiery steed or any of the habiliments usually accredited to sheiks. In fact, the gentleman from Syria looked very much like a conservative, prosperous business man, probably a Republican, according to an enterprising reporter. Another blow at Romance with the capital R. The sheiks study Rotary programs, the Indians wear overalls and the cowboys drink ice cream sodas. It only remains for some cartoonist to draw a Texan without four-gallon hat and spurs.

If you are not looking for heart palpitations, there is real romance in the sheik's visit, and a real thrill in the knowledge that a far off country turns to this one for guidance and assistance in the betterment of an entire nation. That's a better brand of romance, with its tin lizzies, huge factories and Rotary clubs, than the kind the novelists write about, or the kind that once sent good carpenters or butchers out to whack each other with broadswords. —H. C. F.

El Paso Children Play Under Water Sprinklers

EL PASO, Texas, June 19. (UP) More than 400 children took advantage of the city's movable bathing system at the initial trial here. The bathing system consists of four large sprinklers attached to water hydrants. The children are permitted to play under the sprinklers. The sprinklers are moved each day, giving children in every section a chance to "bath."

The purpose of the sprinkler is to keep children from bathing in canals and playing in streets.

Use of Combine Slows Up Work of Harvesters

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19. (UP)—Because of the widespread use of the combine harvesting machine, wheat harvesting in Oklahoma this year is the slowest in history, State Labor Commissioner W. A. Murphy said today. He said 500 men, seeking harvest work, were reported idle in Enid.

FIELD WORKER FALLS VICTIM OF LIGHTNING

Elbert Reaves, 20, Killed By Bolt While In Cotton Field

RELIEF IS RUSHED

Red Cross Headquarters At Frederick For Blair Victims

NASH, Okla., June 19. (AP)—A tornado struck near Nash tonight, but an early check failed to disclose any persons injured, crops were blown down over a narrow area and some trees uprooted.

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., June 19.—One person was killed late today when a severe rain and electrical storm swept this section of Oklahoma. The storm did little property damage and the rain amounted to from one to three inches.

Elbert Reaves, 20, was struck by lightning and killed on the C. E. Kent farm, 20 miles northeast of Frederick, about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Reeves was working in the cotton field when the rainstorm caused the other workers to seek shelter at the farmhouse.

They had scarcely gone in when the bolt and thunderclap came. With the flash, they saw Reaves fall to the ground. He was dead when they reached his side.

The body was brought to Frederick.

Reaves' death brought fatalities due to storms in southwestern Oklahoma during the past four days to eight, seven persons having died as the result of the tornado which struck Blair and Hendrick Saturday night.

Heavy Rains

Spotted rains fell just across the Red river late Tuesday afternoon and evening. The heaviest rain was reported from Loveland and Hollister where cloudburst conditions existed and the gauge showed four inches. Hollister is 41 miles from here on the Katy lines, and Loveland is 35.

Grandfield had a rain, almost as heavy as that at Hollister, while other places all the way to Burkburnett reported good rains but not so heavy, according to reports to The Record News.

Strong winds accompanied the rains, but no damage was reported.

Light hail was also reported from Hollister.

Wires along the Waurika branch of the Wichita Valley railway were out for a while Tuesday night, but no storm damage was traced in that district.

RED CROSS AIDS STORM SUFFERERS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 19. (UP)—Red Cross workers were mobilized today to do flood duty as unsettled weather caused rivers to rise in Missouri and Arkansas.

The mid-western branch of the Red Cross ordered emergency relief through chapters in communities affected by rising streams, and workers have been sent into all flooded territories to make surveys.

According to William M. Baxter, branch office manager of the Red Cross here, more than 200,000 acres have been inundated. With more rain, streams already running bank full are sure to overflow additional acreage, workers claim.

Death Toll Mounts

Two more deaths were listed today as caused by the southwestern storms.

Elbert Reaves, 20, was killed by a bolt of lightning on a farm 20 miles east of Frederick, Okla., late today. Mrs. Marion Matlock, 36, was fatally injured when her farm home near Mound City, Mo., was demolished last night by a tornado. Seven were killed in the Blair, Okla., tornado Saturday.

Trees were blown down and small buildings unroofed at La Grange, West Quincy and several points north of Hannibal, Mo., in a storm that struck this afternoon.

Oklahoma Aided

In the Oklahoma tornado sector, Red Cross headquarters have been established at Frederick, near Blair and Headrick, the two communities virtually wiped out by Saturday's storm. T. H. Miller of St. Louis is in charge of the work, and is aided by 300 workers. More than 150 men are clearing off devastated fields in preparation for replanting.

SUMMER HERE ON THURSDAY

Solstice Marks Longest Day Of Year

By AL MANACK

Whew-w-w-w!!

Wichitans, being inhabitants of the northern hemisphere, are scheduled to experience the hottest day of the year tomorrow and, to add to the general discomfort, the scheduled hottest day will be the longest. The sun will rise at 4:52 and set at 7:11, making 14 hours and 19 minutes of sunshine.

The latter statement is a forecome fact, according to the almanac makers. The hottest day schedule depends, of course, on clouds, breezes, rains, etc. But given a clear right-of-way the sun will do its worst tomorrow.

Thursday, June 21, is the first day of summer. At 10.07 o'clock in the morning summer will arrive. These lovely (?) spring days will be over. The warm season will be here.

The almanac magnates contend that this is all brought about by arrival of the summer solstice. Briefly explained this is owing to the fact that in June the north pole is tilted 23 degrees 27 minutes toward the sun and the days in the northern hemisphere are longer than the nights.

The heating influence of the sun increases with the length of the day and the sun's altitude at noon. The greatest daily accession of heat is, therefore, at the summer solstice.

In June the heat received by day far exceeds the heat radiation by night and it is not until July or August that the two become equal.

In the south temperate zone the changes in season are exactly the reverse, as everybody knows.

Second Death Results In Springfield Affray

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 19. (AP) Mrs. Sarah Whalin, 54, shot yesterday by Bob Adams, her son-in-law and alleged whisky runner, died today.

When relatives refused to tell him where his wife had gone, Adams shot his mother-in-law and another woman, stabbed his sister-in-law and killed Police Detective Francis Dearmand, who attempted to arrest him.

Miss Zella St. Clair, one of the victims, is in a critical condition at a hospital here.

AUTO INJURIES PROVE FATAL TO MRS. HUFF

Wichita Falls Woman Dies In Bordeaux, France Early Tuesday

JUDGE HUFF INJURED

Attorney May Be Prevented From Returning Home At Once

Mrs. Elizabeth Huff, wife of R. E. Huff Sr., died at Bordeaux, France, Tuesday from injuries received when the Huff car was struck by a taxicab Saturday.

News of Mrs. Huff's death came in a brief cablegram to her son, William E. Huff, 1210 Denver street, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The cablegram said: "Mother passed on. Wire arrangements later." At a late hour Tuesday night no further information had been received.

A cablegram Saturday night to her son told briefly of the accident, saying that Mrs. Huff had been cut on the leg by glass and that Mr. Huff's shoulder had been broken. Both were then in a hospital at Bordeaux.

It was not known here that Mrs. Huff had been seriously injured and the news of her death came as a shock to her relatives and friends.

The Huffs sailed from New York on June 2 for an automobile tour of Europe. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Huff Sr., and their son, Dr. R. E. Huff Jr.

Mrs. Huff leaves her husband and three sons, William, Arthur and Robert, all of Wichita Falls, and a brother, Rev. P. E. Burroughs of Nashville, Tenn. Another son, Marshall, died several years ago.

Mrs. Huff was the daughter of Rev. H. M. Burroughs, a pioneer Baptist minister and founder of the First Baptist church in Wichita Falls. She herself was a pioneer here and she was a leader in the social life of the community. Her home at 1100 Brook street was a home of culture and hospitality.

It was doubted here whether her husband, R. E. Huff, is yet able to travel after his injury and it is believed in that case the body will be held at Bordeaux until he could make the trip home.

Trial for Death Of Deputy Sheriff Opens

BARSTOW, Texas, June 19. (AP)—Leah Bailey, charged with the murder of Dan Horn, deputy sheriff of Ward county, March 25, went on trial here today.

"That's enough, you've killed me Lady," were Horn's words after he had been shot, witnesses said. Horn forced an entrance to the defendant's home and beat her to the floor with a pistol, according to the testimony.

MOODY PARDONS NEGRO

AUSTIN, Texas, June 19. (INS)—Gov. Dan Moody today granted a full pardon to Charlie Jackson, negro, convicted of theft in Travis county and sentenced to two years in the state prison. He had served one year of the term. Clemency was recommended by the injured party and Associate Judge O. S. Lattimore of the court of criminal appeals.

SHIRT SLEEVES

Jesse Jones' Brother Suggests Comfort For Demo Meet

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19. (UP)—The Houston convention may be a shirt sleeve affair.

John T. Jones, 210 pounds and holding his coat over his arm, made the suggestion to Clem Shaver, national committee chairman, today. Shaver agreed it would be a good idea.

Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the national committee, said the Democratic women would have no objection.

It was Jesse H. Jones' idea to hold the convention here. John T. Jones is Jesse's brother.

$50,000 ASKED IN SUIT HERE

Death of Children In Lake Cited

Damages amounting to $50,000 are asked in a suit filed in district court Tuesday by T. J. Porter and wife against the Magnolia Petroleum company, for the death by drowning of two children of the plaintiffs on April 26, 1927.

The two children, Earl, 9, and Neva Sue, 6, are alleged in the petition to have fallen into a lake from a bridge constructed by the Magnolia Petroleum company, Mr. Porter, the father, was employed by the petroleum company at a pump house adjoining the lake.

The petition sets out that it was because of the negligence of the Magnolia Petroleum company in having a poorly constructed bridge over the lake that the two children were drowned.

Donn Byrne, Noted Author, Killed In Accident

CLONAKILTY, Ireland, June 19. (UP)—Donn Byrne, famous American novelist, was killed last night when his automobile overturned and plunged into a river in County Cork.

Byrne was pinned down in three feet of water and drowned.

The accident occurred while the novelist was motoring from Court Macsherry to Coolman castle which he purchased recently.

Byrne's real name was Oswald Donn-Byrne. He was born in New York city, November 20, 1889, and was educated at University college, Dublin. Later he studied in Paris and Leipsig.

After his marriage in Ireland in 1911 to Miss Dorothy Cadogan, Byrne returned to the United States and for a time worked on newspapers, including the Brooklyn Daily Eagle and the New York Sun.

Second Stay Granted Okla. Officer-Robber

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19. (UP) Another 90-day stay of execution will be given Jose Alvarado, former state peace officer and special detective, under sentence of seven years for store robbery, Governor Johnston announced today. His last expires Wednesday.

DELEGATES INCREASE

El Paso and Waco To Fight for Convention City Honors

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 19. (AP)—Selection of officials and a convention city for 1929 will be the main business of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce tomorrow.

Amusement features, however, will not be neglected as the 10th annual session of the organization draws to a close, massed band concerts being scheduled, as well as aviation maneuvers in the afternoon and special stunts and music for the night.

Presidential aspirants for next year include John C. Perkins, Alpine; Dr. C. P. Coleman, Colorado; Andy Bourland, Vernon, and Judge C. C. Small of Wellington. Each is supported by a large contingent of friends and competition for the highest gift of the association is expected to be keen on the convention floor.

Cities Line Up

El Paso and Waco Tuesday were waging a warm fight for the next convention. The Waco delegation, and a band arrived Tuesday morning and began immediately to offset the impression made by El Paso delegates who have been distributing literature since Monday.

Four other big delegations arrived during the day to swell the total over that of Monday. They were Childress 725; Vernon 100; Abilene 700, and Cleburne 300. Large delegations also arrived from Graham, Chillicothe, Greenville, Denton, Dallas and Big Spring.

The Greenville delegation, 165 in all, was sent here in a special train from the East Texas Chamber of Commerce to repay a visit of Fort Worth business men there several weeks ago. Included in the party were W. M. Blanton, general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce; B. F. Johnson, manager of the organization service of the chamber of commerce, both of Longview; J. D. Middleton, Greenville, president, and J. F. Nichols, mayor of Greenville.

Educational Day

Wednesday has been designated as educational and good roads day. At the business session in the morning the invocation will be delivered by the Rev. E. H. Eckel, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. The "Home Town contest," participated in by 12 high school girls and boys making the highest grades in the preliminary contest; the award of loving cups by Thomas Ethridge of San Antonio, and address by James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and the presentation of presidents of West Texas colleges and the report of the nominating committee will follow until the noon recess.

In the afternoon, in the closing session, there will be reports from the resolutions committee, which will bear on the association's attitude toward immigration and the oil relinquishment act, in chief, the selection of the next place of meeting, and the installation of the new president.

Forgery Charge Filed After Mail Theft

EL PASO, Texas, June 19. (UP) Mrs. Charlotte Burman's sister was lost. She thought the best way to find her was to examine all mail coming into a block where the sister was supposed to be, she told police.

This story, however, did not satisfy police and forgery charges were placed against her. She was arrested when residents notified police that their mail was being carried off.

In Mrs. Burman's room stacks of mail were found, many of them containing checks. One of the checks had been sent by a son in New York to his mother in Los Angeles by air mail, but was intercepted before reaching its destination.

ZONING COMMISSION

Formal notice of election to the city zoning commission of Wichita Falls was given Tuesday to all the members by W. E. McBroom, city clerk, at the request of Mayor J. W. Akin. W. S. Curlee is chairman of the commission.

"Miss Mooselet"

Hazel Jeanne Nelson, of Chicago, Ill., chosen as "Miss Mooselet" at a mardi gras of the Loyal Order of Moose at Chicago, is to go to Europe as a representative of the order to attend its international convention at Cardiff, Wales.

SMITH VICTORY IS CONCEDED

Doubtful Okla. Delegates May Swing for Al

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19. (UP) This section of the South is apparently reconciled to the Smith nomination.

Early arriving delegates to the Democratic national convention and local newspaper editors who reflect the attitude of the people here, agree the South will reluctantly line up behind the candidacy of Gov. Al E. Smith of New York.

Scott Ferris, Oklahoma national committeeman, announced after his arrival this afternoon that his state's doubtful 28 delegates would probably be found in the Smith column before the balloting is over. He said some complimentary votes might be cast for Jesse Jones, millionaire host of Houston, or Cordell Hull, Tennessee Democrat, advanced by southern opponents of Smith.

Not Bitter Enders

"But we are not bitter enders," said Ferris. "It might be possible that we will go to Smith after the first ballot.

"I don't think there is any doubt but what the state will be in the Democratic column in November."

Ferris' attitude is reflected by other southern Democratic leaders here. There seems to be less interest in the presidential nomination than there is in the question of whether all the delegates, alternates and newspaper men can be sent back home talking about Texas and the wonderful possibilities of its future development.

As one newspaper editor says, everyone here is busy making money and having a good time. They do not care whether Smith is nominated. The people generally are not greatly interested in politics. They are interested in their own welfare and they do not see how it can be affected by any action of the Democratic convention.

Reed Forces Active

With this apparent turn of sentiment and the long expected announcement that Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, Maryland's native son candidate, had retired in Smith's favor, there was no abatement in the activities of the Reed-for-president forces.

Reed's publicity man, F. J. Prince, issued a statement this afternoon claiming 457 votes would be against Smith at the start and the finish. Prince included Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and West Virginia in his list. Many of these delegates are supposed to be announced for Smith.

"Even with defections that may occur in Arkansas, Nebraska and Ohio, there still remains a considerable bloc of votes sufficient to cause the delegates to finally come to Reed," Prince said. "They come from rock-ribbed Democratic states and other states will follow the Reed banner and nominate the senator before the tenth ballot.

FLIER REACHES NOBILE CREW, SAYS REPORT,

No Word Received Since Departure of Plane Monday

WIRELESS UNHEARD

Fliers Skip Kings Bay In Effort to Reach Nobile

LONDON, June 19. (UB)—A Central News dispatch received tonight by radio from Kings Bay announces that Capt. Roald Amundsen, who was expected at Kings Bay by airplane today, had flown directly to the vicinity of Foyn island and had reached General Umberto Nobile and his five companions encamped on the floating ice fields of that region.

Early in the day when Capt. Amundsen did not put in his expected appearance at Kings Bay, it was reported that the famous polar explorer had decided to fly directly to the position given by General Nobile in his late messages to the Citta di Milano, his base ship at Kings Bay, instead of stopping at Spitzbergen to consult with Capt. Romagna regarding rescue plans.

Fear for Rescuer

A Copenhagen dispatch to the exchange telegraph late this evening stated that the silence of Capt. Amundsen since leaving Tromsoe last night, was beginning to cause anxiety. After more than 30 hours no word from the Amundsen plane had been received. That was the longest period that that plane had ever been aloft, and the fact that it was equipped with wireless added to the growing worry.

It was calculated at Copenhagen that Amundsen should have reached the region where the Nobile party is encamped early this afternoon.

RESCUERS SILENT IN ARCTIC WASTES

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 19. (AP)—There had been no news here tonight of Roald Amundsen and Rene Guilbaud who left Tromsoe, Norway, yesterday in a French seaplane to aid in the search for General Nobile and his crew. The trip, 600 miles, normally would take about seven to eight hours.

Railroad Engineers Get Wage Increase

CHICAGO, June 19. (AP)—An increase amounting to six and one-half per cent of the daily wage scale, today was awarded the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers by the conference of managers of the western railways. The increase will affect approximately 22,500 employes and will involve $4,500,000 a year.

The increase was agreed to by W. M. Jeffers, chairman of the railway managers representing about 55 western railroads and A. Johnston, grand chief engineer representing the brotherhood.

Protestant Knights Indorse Senator Heflin

MUNCIE, Ind., June 19. (AP)—The Knights of American Protestantism, in its national convention today indorsed the candidacy of Senator J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama for the Democratic nomination for president.

The organization was formerly known as the independent klan of America, an off-shoot of the Ku Klux Klan. Two hundred delegates from several states are attending the convention. Samuel Cemenderfer of Muncie is national president and national headquarters are here.

Fort Worth Taxicab Driver Found Beaten

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 19. (INS)—Dazed and unable to account for the manner in which he was attacked and severely beaten, George Babcock, taxi driver, was found on the streets here early today. His taxicab was found several blocks away. Employes of the company for which he worked stated that Babcock drove away from the cab stand with three women and two men last night. They could give no motive for the attack.

172 Names Submitted to Voters On Wichita County Demo Ballot

The final list of names of candidates to state, district, county and precinct offices as approved by the county Democratic executive committee Monday afternoon, in the order they will appear on the county ballot was made public Tuesday by E. C. deMontel, county chairman.

Votels of Wichita county must consider the names of 172 persons as candidates for 86 offices in precinct, county, district, and state. This year's ballot will be one of the longest and most complete ever faced by voters here, according to Mr. DeMontel.

Following assessment against the various candidates made by the committee Monday to defray expense of the two Democratic primaries, Ben P. Allred, candidate for election as judge of the 78th district court, was first to pay his assessment, handing Mr. deMontel a check for $100 before adjournment of the committee meeting Monday. He was followed by Guy C. Raley, candidate for tax collector, and Miss Eunice Jackson, seeking election as district clerk.

A survey of the assessment rate compiled by the committee Monday reveals that candidates have been saved approximately $800 over two years ago by the new schedule, which will bring a total

Rule Man Crawls Through Blazing House to Save Wife; She Saves Self

Special to The Record News

RULE, Texas, June 19.—A. L. Kendall who lives north of Rule went through fire and smoke filled chambers to save his wife when his home burned, barely escaping with his own life only to learn that Mrs. Kendall has escaped uninjured from the burning building.

Kendall was at the cow lot milking when he was attracted by screams from his wife who was preparing breakfast. He rushed to the porch at the rear of the house and found the kitchen in flames.

Fearing that his wife had been trapped in the house he crawled on his knees through the fire and smoke. Not finding her in the kitchen, he fought his way to a bedroom and through a window saw that his wife had escaped to the front porch.

In preparing breakfast, Mrs. Kendall had lit the gas stove and had gone to the bathroom to fill a kettle with water when the stove exploded, spreading fire all over the kitchen. The house and contents were an entire loss.

Noted California Colonizer Comes To Wichita Valley To Aid Program

Members of a party of Wichita Falls citizens who made a tour of California last summer declared upon their return that the Irrigated Wichita valley is equal in practically all respects and superior in some respects to the irrigated districts of the Golden State.

They noted that the principal difference in the two sections rested in the fact that Californians, under able leadership and expert organization, are putting their energies into aggressive action.

Efforts will be made here next week to take the initial step towards systematic and effective colonization of the Wichita valley when Charles Weeks of Los Angeles, nationally known colonizer of small farms and promoter of intensified farming, will visit Wichita Falls and adjacent territory.

Mr. Weeks' visit was announced in a telegram Tuesday to J. A. Kemp, who expressed hope that the California expert will locate here and lend his assistance to the

TWO SLAIN ON 'DEATH CORNER'

Litle Italy Silent After "Alky" Feud

CHICAGO, June 18. (UP)—"Death Corner," notorious for its numerous gang slayings, was thrown into confusion again this afternoon when 50 shotgun shots sent pedestrians scattering for cover and claimed the lives of two Italians.

But "Little Italy," true to traditional custom, was silent tonight. Scores of police and detectives sent hurriedly through gangland haunts sent word to headquarters that the "alky war" was to blame and that arrests were expected soon.

Slain in Car

The slain men, Joseph Salamoe, 28, and John Oliveri, 35, were killed shortly after they left the home of John Moralle, a friend. Salamone had stepped into his coupe, parked on the corner, when the firing started.

His body was found behind the wheel of the car, riddled with slugs. Oliveri fled, but the slayers, driving in a large touring car caught up with the second victim and dealt him a death similar to that of his companion.

Members of the Moralle family and scores of others were questioned but they gave the police little information other than detaails of the shooting.

Chief of Detectives Michael O'Grady announced tonight that Joe Aiello and members of his gang, composed mostly of relatives, were being sought for questioning.

Gang War

The war between rival gangs, operating in the alcohol trade, has claimed numerous lives in the past year but the killings that occur in "Little Italy" seldom, if ever, are solved. Several of the Aiello gang have been killed in the same manner as the two were shot down today.

The code of gangland to settle its own scores was kept today. For more than two hours Detective squads questioned known gangsters and witnesses to the shooting but when they attempted to learn the identity of the slayers, shrugs of the shoulders and blank stares met their questions.

Today's shootings were the most sensational in Chicago since the murder of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Italian leader, who was shot down in front of his home during the Illinois primary campaign. His was just another of the unsolved crimes of its kind.

The scene of today's shootings, not far from the Holy Name cathedral, where last rites for several gangland victims have been said, is noted for its killings.

"Hymie" Weiss, gang leader, was shot down in this neighborhood two years ago and Dion O'Bannion, whose funeral outshone all others of gangland in splendor, lost his life in his flower shop a few blocks away.

Prisons Bulge With Inmates

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 19.—Penitentiary population of Texas has reached a new high level, there being 4571 convicts confined in the penitentiary and on the state farms, according to a report just received by Gov. Dan Moody. When Gov. Miaram A. Ferguson went out of office there were slightly over 2000 prisoners in the state prison and on the farms. There are at present, 738 at Huntsville; asylums, 27; Blakely, none; Blue Ridge, 461; Clemons, 501; Darrington, 271; Eastham, 401; Ferguson, 177; Goree, 88; Harlem, 462; Imperial, 479; Ramsey, 621; Retrieve, 225; Wynne, 119; Oil Mill, 1; in transit, none.

An outstanding California development sponsored by Mr. Weeks is Weeks Community, located at Owensmouth, Calif. This community covers 600 acres but comprises 600 one-acre farms. These tracts produce annually $2,000,000 worth of eggs and poultry and the single tract operated by Mr. Weeks earns an annual profit of $15,000.

On this single acre farm Mr. Weeks has more than 2500 laying hens in a 300-foot poultry house, on the roof of which are located his outdoor brooders, caring for approximately 10,000 baby chicks.

But poultry is not the only product of the community as is shown in "Intersive Little Farms," illustrated publication dealing solely with Weeks Community. Fruits, bees and garden truck are also raised as major products.

The community recently celebrated its fifth anniversary and Wichitans who visited the farms last summer declared that such development in so few years is almost unbelievable.

Through the efforts of Mr. Weeks nearly all phases of farming in the community are carried on through cooperative effort and the marketing system has been perfected to a fine point of efficiency which alway assured the producers the best prices for their products.

With the lower cost of acreage in the Wichita district due to the abundance of undeveloped land, it is planned to form an association here to promote small farm colonization in case Mr. Weeks decides to remain here. Mr. Kemp stated that profitable farming can be done on five and 10 acre tracts in the Wichita valley with cooperation of growers under the leadership of such a man as Mr. Weeks.

Mr. Weeks will arrive in Wichita Falls Monday according to the message received by Mr. Kemp.

Mr. Weeks has attributed his colonization successes to "community spirit among good neighbors," holding that intelligent cooperation is essential to the success of small farm projects.

"On the large farm," he has written, "there is little opportunity and less time for social and intellectual life. The intensive little farm brings the farmers closer together, thus enabling the forming of communities.

"I like the good old name, neighborhood. Satisfaction comes from growth and a home-loving community bound together by a strong community spirit can do wonders."

Naval Captains Are Elevated in Rank

WASHINGTON, June 19. (US)—Announcement of the promotion of five naval captains to the rank of rear admiral was made by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today. At the same time 12 commanders were made captains, and 14 lieutenant commanders raised one grade.

The new admirals are Thomas T. Craven, director of naval communications; Wat T. Cluverius, in command of the U. S. S. West Virginia; Albert W. Marshall and Harry F. Yarnell, commanding officers of the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga, and Arthur J. Renburn, chief of staff, battleship divisions of the battle fleet.

Admirals Craven and Hepburn will probably continue at their present posts of duty, while the other three will be removed to other duties commensurate with their new rank.

Although there are but three vacancies in the admiral class of the navy, the appointment of five was made to fill vacancies that may occur before the naval selection board meets again a year hence.

The promotions were recommended by the board under the system which allows them to choose men for the higher ranks out of the list of eligibles without regard to seniority. This system applies only to promotions from the three upper classes.

5 ARRESTED IN ELECTRA RAIDS

Four Make Bonds After Wichita Hearing

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 19.—Spurred on by the arrival of Sam C Mayes, state ranger, local police last night, in a series of raids, arrested two women and three men, and confiscated 200 bottles of beer, five gallons of whiskey, and 24 gallons of mash.

The ranger's appearance here was unexpected. He was assisted in the raids by Roy Hart, Walter Suttle and Walter Craig, all local peace officers.

FIVE GIVEN HEARINGS BY U. S. COMMISSIONER

Three men and two women, charged with violation of the federal prohibition law, were given hearings before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz here Tuesday. The arrests were made in Electra.

Mrs. Hazel Youngblood, S. L. Orr and John W. Dial, charged with the possession of beer, waived hearings, with bond being set at $500 in each case. Mrs. Youngblood was on the only one to furnish bail.

Ace Sperry, charged with the possession of beer, was remanded to jail in default of $50 bond. Annie Lankford, charged with possession and sale of whiskey, failed to make bond of $750.

Singers Meet At Thornberry

Special to The Record News.

THORNBERRY, Texas, June 19. The district singing convention met last Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Gulf Employes Entertainment club and many visitors were present.

W. R. Harper, vice president, led the opening chorus and presided throughout the program.

Pianist Mrs. Graham was ably assisted by Mrs. Anna Bell Yoakum from Borger; Mrs. S. L. Hansard of Thornberry, and Mr. Robert Ludolphus from Wichita Falls.

Chorus leaders included W. R. Harper, R. X. Dunnaway and Jewel Cunningham of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Anna Bell Yoakum from Borger; H. Simpson and W. W. Mahan of Holliday; B. B. Shaw from Valleyview, Okla.; Mary Sue Hansard of Thornberry; Mrs. Graham from Thrift; R. D. Boman and J. S. Gore of Burkburnett.

Special numbers on the program consisted of a solo by Jewel Cunningham; quartet by Mrs. Bivins, Mr. and Mrs. Seaberry and H. Simpson; duets by Mesdames Graham and Yoakum; quartet by Mr. Seaberry, Mr. Bray and Mr. and Mrs. H. Simpson.

Thornberry delegates secured the next district singing convention, which will be on the third Sunday in July, beginning at 2 o'clock.

W. R. Harper announced that the Gulf Entertainment club would hold their next singing and musical entertainment on Monday night, June 25; also that the Wichita county singing convention would meet in an all-day session at Midway, three miles east of Electra, on the second Sunday in September.

J. S. Gore announced the annual singing with dinner on the ground at Rabbit Creek, Okla., next Sunday.

John A. Kay and Miss Fanny Black Wed in Christ Church, Houston

HOUSTON, June 19.—Christ church gave the setting at twilight Tuesday evening for the marriage of Miss Fanny Hamlin Black and John Andrew Kay of Wichita Falls. The ceremony occuring at 7 o'clock with Bishop Clinton S. Quin reading gave a program of wedding music preceding the ceremony and played the bridal marches.

The church was simply decorated at the altar with vases of flowers and lighted candles. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon Black. She wore her traveling costume, a pleated frock of blue with a ballbuntal hat of soft yellow and a top coat of blue with collar and cuffs of summer fur, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Black wore a gown of lavander flowered chiffon with a lavender hat and a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Cecil McLauren Floyd as matron of honor, and Miss Ina Gillespie as maid of honor. Mrs. Floyd wore a yellow chiffon frock and a yellow hat and Miss Gillespie wore orchid chiffon, with hair-braid hat trimmed with velvet of a deeper shade. Both carried colonial bouquets of varied summer flowers tied with maline to match their dresses.

Mrs. John Conway Kay of Wichita Falls, the groom's mother, wore lavender chiffon with hat to match, and Miss Edna Kay wore beige chiffon and both had shoulder corsages of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mr. Kay had as best man Harry Bunnenberg of Wichita Falls, and as groomsmen Henry B. Phenix of Wichita Falls, Clyde Jackson, Robert M. Gordon Jr., and James S. Ferguson.

Small Reception

The wedding was followed by a small reception at the bride's home for the wedding party and out-of-town guests. Bridal ices and cakes were served and the wedding cake was cut. The house was decorated with roses, daisies and other summer blossoms. Miss Dorothy Swope, Mrs. Frank Wallace Judd, Mrs. William E. Bell and Mrs. G. N. Floyd assisted in serving. Mr. and Mrs. Kay left for their wedding trip to California for a month's stay and upon return will make their home in Wichita Falls.

Cal Vacations in Earmuffs, as Cold Blast Ruins Summer Fishing Trip

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 19. (US) President Coolidge is virtually vacationing in earmuffs.

Ever since the presidential party arrived in the north woods of Wisconsin, the temperature hasn't risen above the 40's, and a chilling wind from Lake Superior accompanied by incessant rain have added to the gaiety of the occasion.

Winter overcoats are being worn by everyone in the party fortunate enough to have brought one along. The rest have made hurried trips to clothing stores and purchased mackinaws.

At Cedar Island lodge, an SOS has been sent out for blankets. The secret service men, living in army tents, admit they use from six to 10 army blankets apiece and still say they almost freeze at night.

Rain Ruins Fishing

The rain has ruined any real fishing for the president so far. One morning he ventured away from the lodge in quest of trout, but for the rest of the time he has confined what efforts he has made to casting from the bridge joining the island with the mainland.

Today Mr. Coolidge again abandoned the idea of motoring into Superior to visit the executive office. A cold, dismal rain was falling, and the road from the lodge into town was a mass of muck. Perhaps it was well he didn't undertake the trip if the experience of the army truck carrying the mail was any criterion. Leaving the lodge early this morning, the truck slithered around in the mud for about 20 miles, then struck a rut and turned over in the ditch. The two soldiers from the camp who manned the truck were badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt. Another truck brought them into town and Secretary Sanders had them taken to a hotel to rest up.

Farmers Warned to Avoid Flooded Grain Market

TOPEKA, Kan., June 19. (UP)—With Kansas preparing to harvest one of her largest wheat crops, and with more combines ready for use this year than ever before, J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, tonight warned farmers to hold back as much of their wheat as possible to prevent flooding the market and enable railroads to handle the grain brought to them.

Demo Platform Short 'n Snappy

Few Brief Paragraphs Will Be All

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19. (US) The Democratic platform is going to be short. It will contain little other than a declaration of political faith that will be included in five or six snappy paragraphs.

The idea of such a platform was originated by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair and met with such favor that the demand among Democrats for a short platform is now almost universal. Three men are being mentioned as chairman of the resolutions committee. They are Senator Carter Glass of Virginia; Senator Shaddens H. Caraway of Arkansas, and Senator Key Pittman of Nevada. Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas will probabl be permanent chairman of ythe convention.

Clem Shaver, chairman of the national Democratic committee said today he had not heard any other person mentioned for presiding officer. Houston is getting ready to receive the delegates and other convention visitors when they arrive at the end of the week.

Very few are on the ground now. The convention hall built especially for the occasion and named in honor of Sam Houston is ready for the big show. Mrs. Genevieve Thompson, daughter of the late Champ Clark, arrived today and announced that she is not anti-Smith but is pro-Reed.

Senator Reed is the first of numerous candidates to open headquarters here. Ed S. Villmoose is in charge. Reed will arrive late in the week.

George Van Namee will open the Smith headquarters here tomorrow.

The plan for a brief platform will eliminate the usual spectacular fight that always makes Democratic conventions exciting. They won't have a thing to argue about this time except a nominee and the Smith people say that will not last long. The expect to put the governor across as quickly as Hoover went over in Kansas City.

Attacker of Statesman Shot by Witness

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, June 19. (UP)—Jesus Mates, an anarchist who yesterday stabbed President Antonio R. Barcelo of the Porto Rican senate, was in a serious condition today after being shot by a man who witnessed the attack on the statesman.

Girls' Hearing Is Postponed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 19. (UP)—Preliminary hearings for Miss Ruby Renfro and Miss Mary Atkinson, former Gainesville, Texas, nurses, were continued late today until Thursday. They are charged with criminal assault in the shooting of Walter Showalter, local attorney.

Both pleaded not guilty to the charges. Miss Renfro, who admitted shooting the attorney in a chase through the business district here last week, alleges Showalter assaulted her. Miss Atkinson was charged as an accomplice. Four character witnesses from Woodbine, Texas, Miss Renfro's home town, testified to her reputation this afternoon.

"I am so happy that the last pimple is gone—"

WITHOUT this handicap, there returns the very natural confidence, joy and cherished pride of possessing a clear skin.

Men and women both justly covet admiration, and you can expect such satisfaction only if you are happy in a clear, unblemished skin.

The sure way to reach this state is through the blood.

Red blood cells are Nature's elements for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

BOMARTON HAS NEW ACTIVITY

Several Building Projects Are Under Way

Special to The Record News.

BOMARTON, Texas, June 19.—Considerable building activity is in evidence in Bomarton at the present time.

Contractors Bevill and Gilstrap of Iowa Park have begun the construction of a two-room addition to the high school building.

The First State bank here is putting in new, modern fixtures which greatly enhance the appearance and facilities of the institution. The fixtures are of marble and are being installed at a cost of $4000.

The Pendleton Gin company is installing the Anderson-Clayton round bale system to be in readiness for the opening of the ginning season.

The recent sandstorms and heavy rains have destroyed thousands of acres of cotton in Baylor and Knox counties. Ed McCoy, southwest of here, lost 500 acres of cotton and many fields were entirely killed out.

Grayburg Oil Co. Books Open to Stockholders

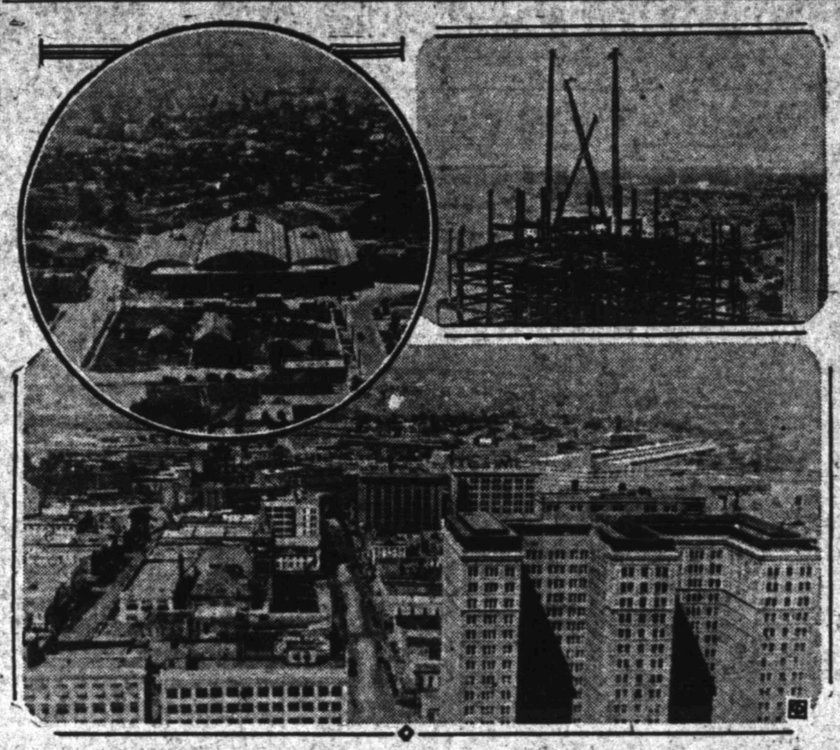

SAN ANTONIO, June 19. (AP)—Books of the Grayburg Oil company were thrown open today to two stockholders for an audit when Judge W. S. Anderson granted a writ of mandamus to C. D. Jarratt and J. K. Beretta.

The two testified that they believed the salary which the company was paying Dr. F. L. Thompson, its president, was excessive. Dr. Thompson on the stand charged that the move was one to obtain a list of stockholders so that untrue charges against him might be circulated.

Al Smith's Daughter Will Not Attend Convention

ALBANY, N. Y., June 19. (UP)—Mrs. Emily Smith Warner, daughter of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, will not go to the Democratic convention at Houston as an alternate delegate. Her doctors today advised against the trip. Mrs. Warner is recovering from an attack of grippe.

Houston Gets Ready for Democratic Convention

Everything is in a stir these days in Houston, Texas, as the city prepares for the Democratic national convention the latter part of June. Left, above, the new convention hall is seen being rushed to completion; right, above, a skyscraper rears higher and higher, adding more to the skyline of this magic city of the southwest; below, an interesting view of the city.

Kentucky Candidate Favors Farm Aid

WASHINGTON, June 19. (UP)—Major General Henry T. Allen, Kentucky Democratic vice presidential candidate, favors elimination of "unfair conditions imposed upon the farmers," John Noonan, secretary of his campaign committee, said in statement today outlining Allen's stand on the farm question.

NOMINEES HOLD PORCH CONFAB

Hoover and Curtis Talk Over Campaign

WASHINGTON, June 19. (UP)—Herbert Hoover and Senator Charles Curtis, the new Republican party standard bearers, sat on the former's back porch today and mapped out preliminary plans for the fall campaign.

Neither would discuss the three-hour conference, although it was said they talked over politics and campaign maneuvers in detail.

Later in the day, Curtis conferred with Senator Borah at the capitol and Wednesday he will see Senator McNary, chairman of the agriculture committee. Both conferences were to discuss farm relief.

The vice presidential nominee arrived here this morning from his home in Topeka, Kan. He was met at the station by Mr. Hoover's automobile and driven to the commerce department. Hoover and Curtis then went to the former's home for luncheon and devoted most of the afternoon to the back porch discussion.

Curtis said he would leave for a short vacation the end of this week after campaign plans have been definitely settled.

It is expected that Curtis, who is considerable more of a campaigner than Hoover, will start touring the middlewest in a few weeks while the presidential nominee devotes most of his time to direction of the campaign and radio speeches.

Stabilization of French Franc Occurs This Week

PARIS, June 19. (UP)—The most important event in the life of Premier Poincaire's cabinet—the stabilization of the franc—will occur at the end of the week.

The United Press learns the cabinet on Thursday or Friday will approve stabilization measures and that they will be submitted to parliament Saturday.

All details of the plan are being guarded closely by the ministry of finance and the Bank of France, but the unity of the two organizations now is assured and details and decrees are ready for signatures.

Dates for Rochester Fair Set Sept. 29-30

ROCHESTER, Texas, June 19.—At a recent meeting of the Retail Merchants association plans were perfected for the Rochester fair to be held September 29 and 30. Mr. D. R. Brown was elected chairman. The directors are Dr. W. J. Howell, Sam Salem, L. B. Patterson, Edd Horner and L. M. Ray.

The purpose of the fair is to interest the farmers in diversification and better products. The Haskell County fair directly follows and the best exhibits will be shown.

Vernon Lodge To Be Host To Chapters

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, June 19.—More than 100 delegates from 31 chapters of the order of Eastern Star are expected to gather here Saturday for a school of instruction to be held in the Masonic temple. The session will begin at 9 o'clock and will continue through the day until the conferring of degrees by out-of-town members Saturday night.

Delegates from all 31 chapters in the district are expected. The district extends from Odell on the north to Knox City on the south, and from Sunset on the east to Childress on the west.

Mrs. Lulu Le Fan, grand worthy matron, and Mrs. Clessie Baggett of Big Spring, district deputy, and Mrs. George A. Long, assistant deputy of Vernon, will be present.

Mrs. Bertha Ross, past matron of Vernon chapter, will give the address, and Mrs. Annie Ranburger, worthy matron of Faith chapter, Wichita Falls, will respond.

Rejected by Landlady, Man Attempts Suicide

CHICAGO, June 19. (US)—His method of wooing rejected by his landlady Charles Rocco packed his clothes and got into his automobile and drove away. A short distance down the street he stopped his car and fired a bullet into his head.

At the hospital, where physicians hold little hope for his recovery, Rocco told the police that his landlady, who became a widow a year ago, refused to marry him.

Dawson County Joins Egg Marketing Plan

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, June 19.—Dawson county will join the cooperative plan now being sponsored among South Plains towns to put over a South Plains egg marketing association. It is required that 15,000 hens be secured before a county can become a member of the association and it is predicted that there will be no trouble in getting this many hens in Dawson county. Dawson, Gaines, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley and other counties will cooperate in this move.

Three Children Burn To Death in Blaze

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 19. (UP)—Three small children were burned to death in a fire at the home of Albert Geiger here today.

The dead are Jerome, 8, Marvin, 7, and Allen, 6 months.

A live coal is believed to have fallen from a kitchen range, starting the fire. Mrs. Geiger had gone to a grocery store.

CORSICANA, Texas, June 19. (AP) Accidentally shot in the thigh while she and her husband were investigating a noise near their chicken house early this morning, a Mrs. Hart of Malakoff, Texas, is in a local hospital in a critical condition from shock and loss of blood.

Old Folks Say Doctor Caldwell is Right

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 82

All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Ramblin'
with
Marie Theresa

HOW do you pronounce the name of the flower "gladiolus," or "gladioli" the plural? The almost universal mis-pronounciation of that word has driven Marie Theresa to the dictionary almost periodically. I look it up, dare to pronounce it according to Webster, get myself corrected by a member of the intelligentsia, run to look it up in the dictionary again, then forget all about it till the next spring, when brides will choose that flower for bouquets for their attendants. I have looked it up every spring now for several years and I do crave a rest. I'd like for somebody else to look it up and help me out with the pronunciation. No, I'm not going to make in this column an exhibit of the correct place to accent—look it up, you'll remember it longer.

PEOPLE are living more sanely than they used to live years ago. And a great deal of that sanity in every day living is due to the food we eat. Time was when the only change from winter to summer foods was visible in ice cream for summer and a total absence of it during the winter months. Iced drinks were also used, but sparingly, in the summer and omitted from the winter diet. Now all this is changed and the housewives of the nation are learning new tricks in feeding the family. They are not satisfied with knowing what mother taught them about cooking in her own kitchen, but are attending cooking schools and are reading articles prepared by men and women who have a scientific knowledge of the proper types of foods for certain climates and for certain times of the year.

Aside from the combination of fresh vegetables and fruits, housewives are finding variety in canned preparations undreamed of by our grandmothers. There are canned foods now such as reindeer meat, canned figs in sherry, canned carrots, diced and ready to serve and retaining all their pristine freshness and wholesomeness, turnips and mustard greens. With this as aid, the serving of meals in accordance with the weather is no longer the privilege of the wealthy, it is within the reach of any person who will take the time and the necessary interest in the study of that which is new and appropriate for the table.

COMMANDANT Katherine G. Knight of the Chicago Salvation Army has learned after years spent in locating lost men and women some interesting things about modern humanity. She has learned that husbands who leave home because they are too heavily burdened disappear in the winter when coal bills and other encumbrances are heavy; girls leave home not to go on the stage or in the movies, but to seek financial independence denied them at home, and boys who run away from home are seldom brought back, as they travel the farthest. And Commandant Knight is somewhat of an authority on the subject of lost and found husbands and children—don't wives ever disappear—for each year she sets about the task of hunting about 1000 persons and usually finds about 40 per cent of them.

Women Are Pallbearers At Suffragette's Burial

LONDON, June 19. (AP)—Ten women pallbearers yesterday carried the casket at the funeral of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the noted suffragette leader. She was buried in Brompton cemetery.

"Fighting comrades" of every class and several nationalities were present at the funeral, almost every one wearing streamers of purple, green and white, the colors of the Women's Social and Political union. The services were held at a church in Westminster, close to the house of parliament. The body lay in state there over night with four suffrage leaders as guard of honor.

Communists Blamed For Grecian Disorders

VIENNA, Austria, June 19. (AP)—The Salonika correspondent of the Tageblatt today joined the Greek government in blaming communists for the combined economic and political troubles that have broken out in Greece. He reported that the third internationale had promoted the tobacco strike and was inciting workers to demand higher wages and an eight-hour day throughout Greece.

The reports said that 250,000 workers now are out, that the government has ordered troops to occupy all public buildings and that the larger cities have taken on a war-time appearance.

Camden Railroad Is Given State Charter

AUSTIN, June 19. (AP)—The Camden and Northeastern Railway company, proposing to build a line from Camden in Polk county to "a point near Tyler county," was chartered by the secretary of state.

The line would be seven miles long. Incorporators are W. T. Carter Jr., J. J. Carroll, H. D. Randolph, all of Houston, and others.

Jimmy is fond of his little one-and-a-half-year-old sister, Dorothy Jo, but he would rather somebody else would look after her. He can spend that much time to better advantage outside in the open. There is where he acquired that deep coat of tan, which, of course, is not visible in the picture.

Jimmy is five years old and has spent the greater part of the day time of those five years out in the open, with his tri-cycle and other toys.

The lad is quite blond, possessing the almost white hair his mother says is inherited from his father. Anyway, he is blond and is five years old. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Brown of 1500 Taylor street.

Vernon Crops Ruined In Recent Rainstorms

VERNON, June 19.—A number of farmers of this county have had their crops wiped out for the third time this year. The wind storms which swept Oklahoma just north of Red river last Saturday night extended across Red river with lesser intensity and wiped out young crops in that area.

Many farmers of the Odell section spent last Sunday feverishly at work in an effort to save young cotton covered with sand. Rain, hail and wind have made it necessary to replant practically the entire Wilbarger county farm acreage within the past two weeks.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Stripes are Popular Pattern for Summer Sports Ensembles

By MME. LISBETH

Stripes are extremely popular in sports wear, even rain coats showing them. Sports ensembles use them very effectively, especially in the knitted fabrics. Stripes are worn vertically, horizontally, diagonally and even in rambling fashion.

The Mediterranean ideal of seaside and country club is shown (center). It is a white three-piece suit with the blue and red touch. The sweater and coat are knitted silk with the striped decoration. The skirt is white pleated crepe de chine.

The third model consists of a white crepe de chine sleeveless sports dress with box-pleated skirt. The coat is a black and white transparent velvet with stripe following an erratic pattern. It is lined with white crepe. White shoes and sunburn hose complete this costume.

Business Basis Only Plan for Real Happy Marriages, Says Dorothy Dix

"If We Would Apply Business Methods Instead of Sentimental Tactics to Marriage We Could End the Divorce Evil," Predicts Dorothy Dix.

A correspondent asks: "How can we have better and happier marriages?"

By taking it out of the realm of romance and miraculous happenings and putting it on a plain, practical, business footing. By quitting the idea that how a marriage turns out is a matter of luck, and facing the fact that it is what we make it. Let love and sex attraction do their good and perfect work in drawing men and women together and leading them to the altar, but make the husband and wife realize that the happiness of marriage does not depend on chance or thrills, but on hard work and good management.

Virtually every marriage could be made a success if men and women applied half as much intelligence, energy and thought to making a go of their marriage as they do to making a success of their business or profession. And they would need to use only the same technique.

For example: The main reason why so many marriages are failures is because of the lack of congeniality of husbands and wives. They get the wrong partners. They marry on impulse. Because a girl has a pretty face or a dimple in her cheek or because the way her hair curls around her neck; because a man has soulful eyes or looks like a slim young sheik — they marry without making the slightest investigation into each other's characters, dispositions and matrimonial solvency, so to speak.

Now, if any man or women went into business that way their friends would have a guardian appointed to look after them. No rational man and woman would invest their all and tie themselves up for life in a partnership without finding out everything possible about the party of the other part. They wouldn't lend $500 on other security than naturally curly hair or a Charlie Chaplin moustache, and before anybody got their good money they would have to know all about his or her past performances and reliability and whether he or she was easy to get along with or not and have a definite agreement about what part of the work each was to do and how much money each was to draw out of the firm as a fair equivalent for his or her services.

Don't you think if men and women picked out their life partners as carefully as they picked out their business partners and had the same sort of working agreement between them that it would take matrimony out of the speculative class and put it into the gilt-edge investment list?

To make a business a success it has to be properly financed. So does a marriage. Occasionally a man starts with a shoestring and turns it into a million-strand sable, and occasionally a young couple who get married without knowing where the next meal is coming from manage to be happy on bread and cheese and kisses.

But just as many promising enterprises fail for lack of adequate capital to run on, so are most marriages that lack enough money to provide the ordinary comforts and decencies of life. Many a young couple quarrel and fight just because their nerves are raw from overwork and anxiety about bills. Many a wife loses her attraction for her husband because she is shabby and haggard from walking a baby with the colic. Many a woman worn out with cooking and scrubbing and patching regrets the price she paid for love.

A young couple do not need riches in order to be happy though married. They do not need a fine house nor an automobile nor silk stockings. But unless they have enough income not to live in dread of the landlord or the grocer or the doctor they are liable to end in divorce as the merchant is to land in bankruptcy who cannot pay for his stock of goods.

Those who make a success in business practice self-control. They bite their tongues rather than flash out the impatience and temper that they feel. They learn how to keep back the wise-crack that would cost them their jobs or a client or a customer. They forbear from offering gratuitous criticisms. They shelve the hammer, for they learn that knocking gets them nowhere. These tactics are just as efficacious in the home as they are in the office or store.

The man who can keep from telling some crotchety old customer what a cranky old fool he is and who can be patient and forbearing while dealing with some silly woman with a fat pocketbook has no excuse for saying things to his wife that he would not dare to say to any other woman on earth.

And the woman who has taken the dictation of an irascible boss for 10 years and kept her tears and her anger when he unjustly criticized her, could certainly keep from flaring up into a rage and going into hysterics every time her husband makes a mild suggestion that she might do something differently or remark on her cooking.

Certainly if husbands and wives made the effort to get along with each other that they do with their business associates, the dove of peace would roost perpetually on every housetop.

Those who succeed in business study the psychology of those with whom they have to deal. They try to get their number and find out how to work them. They try to "sell" themselves to their employers and their clients and customers. And they use tact and diplomacy in dealing with them. Alas, the husbands and wives who are even civil and polite to each other are almost as scarce as hen's teeth.

Most husbands and wives do not even try to understand each other or to keep off each other's prejudices, and they seem to take a sacred joy in running roughshod over each other's feelings. Yet what each is craving is sympathy and tenderness and admiration and to be jollied a little. Just the things that they lavish over the counter on a 10-cent customer.

Those who make a success of any enterprise are those who go in to it to stay, those who have determined to fight on through every obstacle to victory. They expect disappointments. They expect discouragements, but they are in it to stay. The merchant expects to wait for customers. The young doctor for patients. The young lawyer for clients.

But in marriage people throw up their hands and quit at the first disillusion. They don't try to adjust themselves. They don't try to change themselves. They just quit cold because it wasn't a glorious success from the first. Yet in marriage, as in business, some of the richest rewards come to those who just hold and fight on and wrest victory out of defeat.

If we would apply business methods instead of sentimental tactics to marriage, we could end the divorce evil. DOROTHY DIX

Maine Senator Wins Third Term Nomination

PORTLAND, Maine, June 19. (UP)—In one of the bitterest primary elections ever held in Maine, Senator Frederick Hale was overwhelmingly nominated for a third term over his Republican rival, Gov. Ralph P. Brewster, by a majority of 22,000 votes.

Col. William Tudor Gardiner won the Republican nomination for governor.

The nominations for the Democratic party were uncontested.

Slain Burglar Led Dual Life, Police Reveal

NEW YORK, June 19. (US)—By day a respected business man—a loving husband and father planning to take his young wife and child on a trip to Europe. By night a burglar, looting the homes of his neighbors. Then both careers suddenly ended as a police bullet crashed into his heart.

Thus was the dual existence of Julius Brewis pictured today by Brooklyn police. Brewis, shot and killed by a policeman early Sunday at the rear of the home of Dr. C. H. LaBorne, was identified by his brother, Harry.

Titles to Rio Grande Lands Determined

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—International titles to 42 tracts of land, comprising about 4000 acres along the Rio Grande in Texas and Mexico, have been determined by the international boundary commission, the state department was advised today by Lawrence M. Lawson, from El Paso, American member of the body.

The titles were to lands that had become detached from one country or the other by the natural action of the river, and decision on them had been pending for many years. The findings of the commission were unanimous in all cases, Commissioner Lawson reported.

CHIC CHERIE

LATEST FASHIONS

And you know where Cherie's heart is all the time! She's just had letters from home and Phyllis is describing in great detail the clothes she's been buying for her summer holidays. Cherie is wearing, at the moment of reading the letter, a sleeveless afternoon dress of chiffon (very new) but she is wishing with all her heart that instead—

She could be clad in one of these trim sports costumes, described by her frivolous correspondent. The costume to the left is a suit of pastel blue pique, worn with a white blouse. To the right is a dress and jacket of printed lawn and linen and the large inset shows how charming Phyllis (or anybody) looks in a modern scarf bathing cap.

Butterflies are the newest decorative motifs back home and Phyllis has a zephyr and rayon sweater simply swarming with them. Those short socks are being worn everywhere. They are silk and lisle and are worn over sheer lisle stocking. Phyllis says they're English and Cherie wonders if she can't go home by way of London. It might pay her.

"Think of your home!" Cherie is urging. "Think of your career! Think of the time you are wasting here in Paris!" Dina is slightly bewildered—who suggested Paris, anyway. Cherie's Paris gown (isn't she ungrateful?) is of buttercup yellow and white crepe. Dina's is crepe satin, both sides used, and is a new shade somewhere between orchid and violet.

LONDON CROWDS CHEER FLIERS

Miss Earhart Given Riotous Welcome

LONDON, June 19. (UP)—A Tumultous welcome was accorded Miss Amelia Earhart, the American girl who was the first woman to fly across the Atlantic ocean, when she arrived from Southampton by automobile at 6:20 p. m. today. She was accompanied by Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon, pilot and mechanic of the Fokker monoplane Friendship.

The Transatlantic fliers reached Southampton from Burry Port, Wales, after a landing at Woolton-England, where the first intimation was given of the enthusiastic reception they would receive in Southampton and London. They still were wearing flying kits, the girl with hair unbrushed, no powder on her face or rouge on her lips.

Rooms Decorated

Miss Earhart's rooms in the fashionable hotel were profusely decorated and as she went hurriedly to her suite a little girl followed her and presented her with a monoplane woven of flowers.

Asked what was the greatest moment of her flight, Miss Earhart said:

"Perhaps when we sighted the steamer America; perhaps the moment Stultz announced we had only enough gasoline for an hour's flight; but I think probably the greatest was when we actually sighted land."

The fliers were tired, for they had risen early for the air voyage from Burry Port. Stultz and Gordon were up at dawn and breakfasted on ham and eggs and chocolate from a small ashburner at the hotel where they spent the night. They were at the harbor at 8 a. m. and almost immediately went aboard the Friendship, but ground fogs and low clouds delayed the start.

Escort for Plane

Finally the Friendship rose at 11:17 a. m. and 10 minutes later, after circling the harbor, disappeared in the haze, with a seaplane sent from Southampton to escort it.

Gordon, from the time he boarded the plane, was busy with the engines, which had been covered with tarpaulins to guard them from the light rain. The plane had been left overnight about 75 yards off shore.

Miss Earhart piloted the plane for a few minutes while Stultz smoked between Burry Port and Woolston. Frequently he rubbed his fists into his eyes and shook his head to avoid falling asleep.

The Friendship landed on the water at 1:20 p. m. at Woolston.

First Newspaper Men's Golf Tournament Planned

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19. (UP) A national newspaper men's golf tournament, believed to be the first of its kind ever staged, will be held here during the national Democratic convention. It is expected more than 100 writers will enter the tourney.

Sheik Quite Abashed at 'Kidding' Of Wichita Falls Flappers

Wichita Falls girls took the bull by the horns, figuratively speaking, Tuesday night, and paid a visit to the home of S. S. Kouri at 1302 Giddings, where they knew they would find a real, live sheik. They knew he was visiting the Kouris and they knew he was the real thing.

Sheik Ammen Hamada Bey was equal to the test, and told the girls all about "gay Paree," but he was somewhat abashed when the girls kidded him, in American fashion, and asked about the absence of his beard or mustache.

To be sure he was safe, and that some American custom of which he had no knowledge was not being invoked, the sheik turned to Mr. Kouri's son Alex and quietly asked "Do they know I'm married?"

Alex assured the sheik they were aware of the fact, so the sheik's doubts vanished, and he spent the rest of the evening telling them about Paris and other European cities. He gave a full description of the museums, galleries, universities and other points of interest.

The sheik then described his palace in the heart of the mountains of the province of Mt. Lebanon over which he rules. There are 700,000 people in this province.

Most of his conversation with the young ladies was in English, although at times French or Syrian was used with interpretations by members of the Kouri family. Sheik Hamada will leave Wichita Falls Wednesday or Thursday, and hopes to attend the convention at Houston.

Wichitan to Graduate With Honors At Harvard Exercises Thursday

Special to The Record News

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 19.—With its traditional impressive ceremonies, Harvard university will celebrate its annual commencement Thursday morning.

F. C. Carter, 1709 Huff avenue, Wichita Falls, Texas, is taking a prominent place in the events of the week and will be honored at the exercises Thursday.

The program includes the graduation spread and dance, the celebrations of class day in the yard and at the stadium, the Harvard-Yale baseball game at Soldiers field, the commencement exercises, at which time degrees will be conferred, and finally the Harvard-Yale crew race at New London.

The academic procession, led by S. Huntington Wolcott, '03, of Boston, chief marshal of commencement, will be composed of President A. Lawrence Lowell, the deans of the various departments, the honorary degree recipients, the governor of Massachusetts, the mayors of Boston and Cambridge, other specially invited guests, and the graduation students.

Gets Advanced Degree

Mr. Carter will be graduated from the Harvard business administration school. He will be awarded the advanced degree of bachelor of science in business administration. This degree requires two years college post graduate study.

Friday afternoon the annual Harvard-Yale crew race will be held over the four-mile course on the Thames river at New London, Conn., concluding the festivities.

PARENTS ATTEND YOUTH'S GRADUATION

Frank C. Carter Jr., who is being graduated Thursday by Harvard university, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Carter of 1709 Huff avenue. Mr Carter is an oil man.

Frank was graduated with honors from the Wichita Falls high school, and later with honors from the University of Texas. His father and mother are with him at Cambridge for the graduation ceremonies.

BOOMERANG

Dry Violator Arrested Second Time Shortly After Release

A few hours after he had made bond on charges of violation of the prohibition laws a Wichita Falls man was back in the city jail awaiting filing of additional charges Wednesday morning.

Arrested in the forenoon Tuesday, charges were filed against the man in federal court following seizure of half a gallon of whiskey. Late Tuesday afternoon he made bond and was released from the county jail, where he had been transferred by city officers.

About 8 o'clock the man was back in jail, following seizure of an additional half-gallon of liquor Ellis Summers, motorcycle officer, made both arrests. In the first arrest a Ford coupe was seized and in the second officers captured a Chrysler coupe.

Methodist W. M. U. Presents Program

An appreciative audience heard the program given under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary union at the First Methodist church Tuesday night. Mrs. W. W. Cook had charge of the program.

In the near future this program will be presented in a number of nearby cities.

Lindbergh Guest Of Railroad Directors

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 19. (UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here late today from Madison, Wis., and was the guest tonight of Louis W. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad.

Lindbergh explained he was here studying northern air routes in connection with contemplated airplane-train service. Speaking generally of international aviation, he said he was interested in a route to Europe via Greenland.

Lindbergh declined to discuss future plans and would not say when he planned to leave here.

ROTARY MEET OPENS TODAY

International Convention At Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 19 (UP)—Nomination of international officers and discussion of Rotary work in the first general assembly was to occupy the 14th Rotary International convention here tomorrow.

Chief officers of the organizations, including I. B. Sutton, Tampico, Mexico, president; Chesley Perry, Chicago, secretary, and Rufus Chapman, Chicago, treasurer, are practically uncontested for renomination and election. Three new candidates are expected to be named as vice presidents.

The assembly session will be devoted to discussion of Rotary work for the next year. Frank L. Mullholland, Toledo, has been named chairman and will deliver the principal address.

Brings Greetings

The final session of Tuesday's program was marked by the appearance of Albert Bouchery, Brussels, who brought to the convention a greeting from King Albert of Belgium, and a report of the progress of Rotary in Japan by Naburo Ohtani, who organized the first club in Tokio.

"Real good fellowship between nations—that is the object of Rotary," said Ohtani. "If we can accomplish that end we shall fulfil an urgent need of mankind."

Bouchery expressed the regret of King Albert, an ardent Rotarian, of his inability to attend the convention here.

Faith Lodge Elects Six New Officers

Eli Morgan was elected worshipful master of the Faith lodge, No. 1158 Tuesday night in the lodge rooms. A. O. Thomas was named senior warden. Other officers named include Dr. L. D. Parnell, junior warden; Pat Simmons, treasurer; G. W. Curd, secretary, and G. W. L. Spencer, tiler.

These officers will be installed at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening. The meeting will be joint with the Squire Walkup chapter No. 427, Royal Arch Masons, and will be open to all Master Masons.

Pot Shots at Politics
by Col. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald

OLD WOUNDS

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire is a dyed-in-the-wool Republican of the vintage of civil war days. As permanent chairman of the Kansas City convention, he made a notable speech. In days of old the Republicans of the north waved the bloody shirt and sought to inflame or to arouse the passions and prejudices of civil war time. Senator Moses of New Hampshire has resurrected the bloody shirt of bygone years. He waved it vigorously at Kansas City. This is what he said, and according to the press reports received loud applause.

"In seeking for an instrument to carry forward the still uncompleted recognition of the present day defenders of the flag, we know our people will not turn to the party which for 60 years has resisted, with unequal venom, every measure to show gratitude to those defenders of the union who made possible our contribution to the world war."

This is a remarkable declaration for a sane man to make in the year 1928. With the record open to him wherein the facts are registered that southern senators and congressmen never once opposed large appropriations for pensions for federal soldiers and in addition to this, the fact that southern property owners have been taxed to place this pension money in the pockets of those who fought on the federal side in the great conflict.

ASSAULT ON THE SOUTH

This did not satiate or rather quench the fire of the Puritan wrath of the New Hampshire senator who wielded the gavel as permanent chairman of the Republican big parade. This is the direct indictment he made against the people of the south, the Democratic party of the south and the leaders of the party that is committed in the south to a white man's government and a white man's civilization.

"In seeking for a policy to assure honest administration of the government of the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party which maintains itself in the places of its power through nullification of two amendments of the constitution and which openly flouts the third."

Senator Moses was speaking of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. If the southern Democrats have nullified these amendments, then the world should know that a Republican supreme court of the United States upheld the state acts of legislation which nullified and this, too, is a matter of history and high court record.

DONKEYS FOR DEMOCRATS

An enterprising theatrical manager in the city of Houston purchased a flock of donkeys, and the docile brutes have been shipped from Pearsall to the convention city.

There are 52 donkeys. There are 48 states and four territorial delegations. Each delegation will be presented a donkey. When the donks begin to bray, all the jazz bands will be silenced and all the radios and victrolas will be put out of commission.

Will Thomas B. Love be there to dance to the music, "The Sidewalks of New York"?

Will Major Patricio O'Keefe of Dallas be there to dance an Irish jig? The major has jigged on the platform of every national convention since the Democrats nominated Horatio Seymour for president away back in the dark and bloody days of the war between the states.

One-Minute Sermon

Lord, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am.

Behold, thou hast made my days as an handbreadth; and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily, every man at his best state is altogether vanity.—Psalm xxxix, 4-5.

Progress Toward Tolerance

FOR all the talk about bigotry and intolerance, this land of ours is making progress. Every so often some little development comes to flash encouragement to us.

Dr. Lynn Harold Hough has been pastor of the Central Methodist church at Detroit. He recently resigned to accept a pastorate in another city. And the other day, on the eve of his departure, he was called to the campus of Detroit university and given the degree of Doctor of Laws.

That is interesting because of the fact that the University of Detroit is a Catholic institution. Presentation of the degree was made by the Very Rev. John P. McNichols, a Jesuit.

The incident makes good reading. When a Methodist pastor can be honored by a Catholic university the land can't be gripped quite as sharply by religious rivalry as some people have tried to make us think.

Dawes Takes a Hand

VICE PRESIDENT CHARLES G. DAWES must have enjoyed a deep, sardonic chuckle under his breath the other day.

When Dawes was inaugurated he told the senate it ought to amend its rules so that a few senators could not tie senate business into a knot by filibustering. The senators ignored him and kept their old rules.

The other day the senate, gripped by the Boulder dam filibuster, voted on a resolution to end its woes by adjourning, willy-nilly, within 24 hours. The vote was a tie, and the decision was up to Dawes. He voted "no," and the senate went back to extricate itself from its filibuster as best it could.

One imagines the vice president thinking: "You won't abolish unlimited debate, eh? Very well; stew in your own juices for a while and find your own way out of this jam. I won't help you."

Kissing in the Movies

THE young man's ancient prerogative of kissing his girl in a dark movie theater has, it is comforting to note, been upheld by the New York courts.

A young New Yorker took his girl to a movie and, in the darkness, proceeded to kiss her. An usher beckoned him out on a fire escape, where a group of ushers fell upon him and beat him. Then, having reproved him, they let him return to his seat. The young man had them arrested.

At the trial the young man's counsel declared, "When a man can't take his girl to a movie and kiss her, it's time to eliminate movies." The court apparently agreed; at any rate, it fined the offending ushers. The young man now, presumably, may kiss in peace. And we're glad of it. What's a movie for, anyway?

Seeking Vindication

ARTHUR K. READING, attorney general of Massachusetts, resigned his office the other day. The house of representatives had impeached him for alleged misconduct in office, and the senate was preparing to try the case.

When Reading resigned, it was rumored that he would "seek vindication at the polls" by running for re-election this fall.

The rumore may have been baseless; probably were. They are worth noting because that is the course often followed by an accused public official. It is a course directly against the public interest, and one that should never be followed.

If a man is accused of misconduct the place to meet the charge is in the court that the law provides, not in the election arena. The heat of a campaign is not the proper atmosphere for settling questions of guilt or innocence.

The Romance of Age

CHIVALRY and romantic love are not the exclusive property of the young. An aged man can shine in those fields, too.

The other day at Egg Harbor, N. J., two men fought a duel over a girl. One of the men, as might be expected, was just 20; but the other was 65.

The two had encountered each other in the yard of the girl's house, and the young man ordered the old man away. Words got heated and they agreed to fight it out. Each got a shotgun; they stood a few paces apart, yelled "Let's go!" and fired. The young man was badly wounded. The old man, unhurt, is under arrest.

The story would not be unusual if both duelists had been youngsters. Young men are more or less expected to fight over girls. But when a 65-year-old man does it—well, it just goes to prove that age can have its romantic madness as well as youth.

HOOVER AND BIG BUSINESS

Mr. Hoover is efficient—that is true. He has some remarkable engineering exploits to his credit. But politics is not engineering by any means. Statecraft and mining have very little in common. Even the other administrative feats that Hoover has shown, such as his feeding of Europeans on American foodstuffs during the world war, and his ability for organization and detail shown in the commerce department, have not recommended him so much to men who dominated the Republican convention, as did the fact that he was believed to be in sympathy with the political ideas of big business, which have been so strikingly exemplified during the past seven years at Washington.

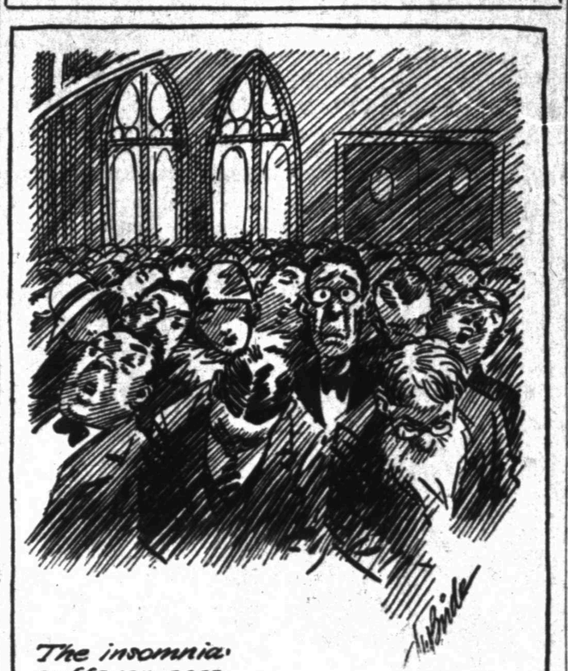

—Frederick (Okla.) Leader.

MISUSING THE SCHOOLS

No one objects to public utilities companies appropriating their money in any amounts for the maintenance of publicity bureaus or the employment of public relations counselors, provided the cost is not figured as a necessary expense and used as a partial basis for fixing charges for service. Neither can there be any objection to these bureaus examining text books to ascertain whether they contain matter prejudicial to their interests and frankly pointing out objections to the text book commission. Any citizen should have such a right. But when it comes to supplying the schools with their own text books, paying the expenses of state surveys in the direct results of which they are interested, paying expenses of teachers in attending conventions where utility interests are studied, the people are likely to resent the activities of the utilities companies as efforts to shape public sentiment to their financial advantage.

The Day Book of a New Yorker
By CLARK KINNAIRD.

NEW YORK, June 19. — At a party the other evening there was another kind of question and answer contest. Guests were required to write, upon an unsigned paper, a response to the query, "Why do you like New York?" The answers were shuffled, then read one by one, and guests invited to guess the author of each.

The most interesting response, it seemed to me, was that of the man who wrote: "I like New York because it is a place I can wear the kind of clothes I want without being kidded about my possibly fantastic tastes, and without being thought queer."

New York is remarkable that way. Persons will gather into an attentive circle to see a safe lowered out of an office window, or a fellow fixing a flat tire, or a man demonstrating a fountain pen in a window; but a religious fanatic in bare feet and flowing beard, or a Hindu prince in full regalia, or a movie star in his "Sunday best," may walk up and down Fifth avenue without turning heads. On the coldest day in December, with snow whipping in flurries around the library, I walked up Fifth avenue toting atop my cranium the widest brimmed straw hat I could buy in Nicaragua, to deliver it to Burton Rascoe, without attracting visible attention.

Notable men wear, in New York, clothes they wouldn't have the courage to be seen in back in the old home town.

The loudest shirts worn on Broadway are not those of O. O. McIntyre, as he, himself claims, but are the extraordinarily hued garments of Arthur Hammerstein, the play producer, and D. W. Griffith, the cinemaker.

Possibly the most extraordinary dresser in town is Achmed Abdullah, the short story writer, who is a native Afghan. He wears Anglo-American clothes that are more unusual in effect than his native costumes would be. His double-breasted coats of deep purple or sky blue have enormous white buttons. His fancy camel's hair waistcoats are of all sorts of clashing colors. With these go spats, a gray fedora, shirts of vivid hues, and an elaborately carved walking stick. His cigaret holders are a foot or more in length. He not only appears in public thus attired, but seemingly never attracts a second glance.

Hizzoner, the mayor, and Adolphe Menjou, the cinema actor, are considered the "best-dressed men" in town. Both go in for spats, colorful shirts and such things.

The Rev. Thomas H. Whelpley, pastor of the Chelsea Presbyterian church in West Twenty-third street, is "learning about life" by driving a taxi at night.

"I'm not trying to reform anyone, or to look for horrible examples, . . . I wouldn't have to drive a taxi to do that," he says.

Instead of discouraging poets, of which editors estimate there are 100 times too many, New York encourages them. Poetry House has been opened in East Tenth street as a meeting place for poets and readers of poetry, i. e., of manufacturer and consumer. The house will assure poets a hearing and, sometimes a square deal.

What do you want to know about New York? Ask C. K., 2200 Times building, New York, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

The Record News Staff Poet

JUST ASK ME.

Say, neighbor, if you want to know
About the things I do,
Just ask me; I'll explain them so
They're very clear to you.
But please don't try to steal around,
And guess your way along,
For then you'll see the things you found
Are nearly always wrong.

Why, all I ask are even breaks
If my life interests you;
Just ask me facts; for pity's sake
Don't go to someone who Might make a great, unjust mistake
About the things I do.

Just ask me if you want to know
What impulse shoves me on.
Then we'll be friends, and we'll stay so
'Till we are dead and gone!

—John Self Elliott

Land Owner Wins in Suit for Commissions

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 19. (INS)—John T. McElroy of El Paso today won the suit for $500,000 brought against him by M. D. Cerf and Andrew G. Ilseng of Fort Worth; George H. Anderson of Dallas, and Edgar T. Banta of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The plaintiffs sued McElroy for $500,000 representing commissions alleged to be due them through the sale of about 68,000 acres of land, including oil and mineral rights, in Ector, Crane and adjoining West Texas counties. They contended that they were entitled to commissions of all over $2,000,000 in the sale price. The land sold for $2,500,000.

ELECTRA SOCIETY

ELECTRA, Texas, June 19.—Mrs. J. O. Turner entertained the Thursday Evening Bridge club Thursday evening at her home in Woodruff Heights. Cut flowers, together with a pink and green color scheme was used in the decorations. Mrs. W. H. Chaffee won high score prize.

Following the games a dainty two-course luncheon was served to the following members: Mesdames G. R. Davidson, W. H. Chaffee, S. B. Marchant, J. P. Parr, Edward Schlaffke, E. R. Brown, S. P. Cummings, J. H. Marriott, Jr., R. H. Cook, Paul Green, H. E. Morrow, C. I. Miller, T. M. Houle, A. T. Bryce of Amarillo, J. R. Brewer and W. E. Bush of Harlingen.

Primo Bridge Club

Mrs. C. H. Schulkey entertained the members of the Primo Bridge club and a few friends at her home on South Main street Thursday afternoon. Three tables were arranged for the games, in which Mrs. George McGann won high score for the guests and Mrs. I. K. Williams won high score for the members.

A salad and ice course was served, following the games, to the guests and members. Those attending were Mesdames W. C. P'Pool, B. V. Magee, J. H. Harris, George LeBus, J. E. LeBus, J. T. McDonnald, J. A. O'Fry, I. K. Williams and M. D. Goldsmith members; Mrs. George McGann and Misses Babe Helen Jennings and Madeline Moore, guests.

Birthday Party

Mrs. J. A. Bills entertained Saturday afternoon with a party at her home west of the city, honoring her daughter, Jessie Pearl, on the occasion of her birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games and contests.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Reba Dressler and Mrs. M. E. Day, served refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake to the following guests: Katie Rose Day, Billy Bills, Charletta Adams, Sallie Mae Long, Bessie Chesher, Lavada Dickey, Ila, Mary and Reba Horn, Cula Chesher, Freda Bostch of Walters, Okla., J. B. Bills of Amarillo, Jack Adams, Rex Adams, George Chesher, Filliam Dickey, Bill Rhinehart Jr., Harold and Budge Adams.

South Circle

The South Circle of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben W. Tipton on West Highland avenue.

The meeting opened with song, followed with prayer by Mrs. W. L. Cason. Mrs. Lee Scoggins led in the devotional, which was taken from the 10th chapter of Romans. The members held a round-table discussion on the scripture lesson.

During the business session a check was made on the pledges for the building fund. Those attending the meeting were:

Mesdames Lee Scoggins, W. P. Slatch, L. A. Cruse, W. L. Cason, A. M. Rose, J. L. James and Mrs. Ben W. Tipton.

Methodist Ladies

The ladies of the Methodist Missionary society met in the church Monday afternoon in a special program. The meeting opened with the song, "Near the Cross," and prayer by Mrs. W. M. Bagwell. Song, "Take Time to Be Holy."

The program was based on the North Texas conference, with the following topics given: President's message, by Mrs. H. C. Lindley; report of committee on missions and Bible study, by Mrs. W. C. Martin; solo, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," by Mrs. R. R. Ramey, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Coffey; report of committee on extension of work, by Mrs. J. T. Binnett; Wichita Falls district report, by Mrs. O. A. Basham.

A short business session was held, which was presided over by Mrs. A. C. Rippy, president. Mrs. H. C. Hills closed the meeting with prayer. There were 19 members present.

Presbyterian Ladies.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church met Monday afternoon at the church with the president, Mrs. J. E. Graham, in charge. "Blest Be the Tie," was the opening song, followed with the devotional, taken from Luke 6:25:34, and led by Mrs. J. E. Graham. Mrs. L. D. Grafton offered prayer.

During the business session plans were made for the entertainment of the Federated Missionary society, which meets here June 26. It was also voted to disband the auxiliary during the months of July and August. Those attending were:

Mesdames H. L. Broadwell, L. D. Grafton, G. M. Shaffer, E. P. Birt, E. R. Keller, T. J. Preston, J. C. Shaw, Miller, H. C. Barrow and J. E. Graham.

The effect of listening to ultra-fashionable parents is shown in the following conversation:

Father: Doris, your mother has told me you have been misbehaving. I shall have to punish you tonight.

Doris (aged nine): Not tonight, father. I shall be too busy with my dancing lesson, but speak to me again tomorrow regarding an appointment.

Seek To Abolish Eastern Mosques

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 19. (AP) Although the government of Mustapha Kemal has not turned the Turks into Christians, its latest and most startling religious report, published today, recommends what is tantamount to turning the mosques into churches.

The government commission charged with religious reform reported that the present form of worship in the mosques is incompatible with modern civilization and that Moslem services need revivifying.

The commission has decided that the spacious quietness of the mosques, heretofore empty of furnishings save for rugs, and silent except for the droning of the Koran by a priest, must give way to occidental pews, altars, organs and choirs.

The faithful must hereafter keep their shoes on and give up the traditional squatting on rugs.

These measures, reshaping the beloved rituals of the Anatolians, are considered the boldest westernizing strike of the government since the abolition of the fez as a head covering.

IOWA PARK NEWS

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, June 19.—Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Davis, who are leaving Tuesday for Eagle Lake to make their home, relatives entertained with a picnic at the river bridge Thursday evening. A long table was spread with all kinds of good things to eat. This bountiful spread was enjoyed by Messrs. and Mesdames Edwin Davis, C. C. Davis, George Reaves, Bratton Reaves, Swan Reaves, Locke Lowrance, Reaves Overby, James Sewell, Mrs. M. Claude Reaves, Kenneth Davis, Mary Francis and J. L. Reaves, Catherine Sue and Nell Reaves, Ruth and Evelyn Lowrance, Billy and Ted Overby and Helen Dawson.

Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid and Missionary society of the First Christian church met Monday afternoon. The meeting was opened with a song, "Somebody," followed by devotional by Mrs. L. L. Bain. Minutes were read and roll call was answered to by each lady telling in what way they had been benefited in the last year by the missionary society and aid. This was the last meeting before the new officers assume their duties. Mrs. Weems then gave a very interesting review of the first chapter of "New Paths for Old Purposes." Those present were Mesdames Frank Clark, F. E. McMullen, R. J. Wiley, L. C. Moody, Curtis Sewell, G. A. Weems, R. B. Sisk, James Greer and T. M. Clark.

Missionary Ladies

The ladies of the Missionary society of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon and completed their mission study book, "Spiritual Adventuring," with Mrs. A. B. Bishop as leader. Those present were: Mesdames Cunningham, J. P. Laton, S. D. Denny and A. B. Bishop.

Class Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor George entertained his Sunday school class last Tuesday evening with a "42" party. After many delightful games refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Messrs. and Mesdames Tom Pace, Norman Waldie, Ted Freeman, Hager, Clifford Dodson, Leonard Mattingly and the host and hostess.

Bunco Party

Last Wednesday evening a group of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waldie for what was a supposedly "bunco" party, but which developed at a late hour to be a handkerchief shower for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Davis, who are leaving soon for their new home in Eagle Lake. After a most enjoyable time refreshments of sherbet and wafers and stuffed dates were served to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Taylor George, Tom Pace, Earl Denny, Norman Waldie, Robert Van Horn, Edwin Davis, Misses Vivian Smith, Thelma Matthews, Edna Love, Messrs. Grady McKenzie, Alvin Tanner and James Stewart.

Mrs. Estes Honored

Friday afternoon the ladies auxiliary of the Presbyterian church entertained at the church with games and contests in honor of Mrs. A. H. Estes, who is making her home in Childress after a long residence in Iowa Park. Mrs. Estes was presented with a beautiful picture as a token of love and friendship.

Ladies Auxiliary

Circles one and two of the ladies auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met Monday afternoon separately for their Bible study with Miss Clara Lowrance as chairman of circle number one, and Mrs. Scott Ralston chairman of circle number two. After the study they met together for a business session to discuss and make arrangements for serving homemade ice cream in cones, chicken sandwiches and lemonade Saturday afternoon just before the trades day drawing. Those present were Mesdames Scott Ralston, C. Birk, Maggie Cobb, G. C. Richards, F. P. Stryker, N. L. Lowrance, Tom Corridon, Gayle Park and Mrs. Stryker from California as a guest. Miss Clara Lowrance and Nelda Corridon.

Baptist Ladies

The Baptist ladies auxiliary met in circles Monday afternoon for the purpose of sewing for the Buckner's orphan home in Dallas. Each circle made shirts and night shirts as they had been informed by the officials of the home that these articles of clothing were mostly needed.

Circle number one met with Mrs. Sam Ferguson with five ladies present: Mesdames M. E. Morgan, C. M. Duncan, N. E. McKinney, Mrs. Ferguson and a house guest of Mrs. Ferguson from Kirkland.

Circle number two had completed their sewing before time to meet, so turned their sewing in at the church in the afternoon.

Circle number three met with Mrs. J. W. Penn, distributed the sewing and made plans for their work. Those present were: Mesdames H. S. Smith, O. M. Jones, Tom Rogers, Harvey Cagle, S. A. Baxter and J. W. Penn.

Circle number four met at the home of Mrs. Jack Stewart. At the close of their study, "Woman and Stewardship," led by Mrs. N. B. Cain, the sewing was turned in and the box packed. Mrs. Stewart surprised the guests with refreshments of pineapple ice cream and wafers. Those present were: Mesdames C. W. Kemper, Dora Kemper, G. N. Neafus, C. M. Dodson, Boone Smith, M. B. Cain and R. R. Brubaker.

Texas Medic Students Take Examinations

AUSTIN, Texas, June 19. Breakfast Given Newspaper Men

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 19. (INS)—More than 100 newspaper men attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here, today heard William Hard of Washington, noted political writer, declare that the work of the local reporter and the local editorial writer is of more importance to a community than the products of syndicates, but that both are needed in developing a well-rounded newspaper.

Hard spoke at a breakfast given the newspaper men by the press committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, of which James M. North, editor of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, is chairman.

Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Star Telegram, and general chairman of convention arrangements, presided at the breakfast.

M. E. Tracy of New York, representing the Scripps-Howard syndicate, and a former Houston, Texas, newspaper man, also addressed the newspaper men.

Taking the Mystery Out of Tire Construction

THERE are often times when the life of every driver and passenger of an automobile is largely dependent upon the tires used. This applies not only to the strength of the tire but to its non-skid qualities. That is why it is vital that you buy tires you know are properly constructed and have the greatest strength and the best non-skid features that you can buy. You cannot afford to take the risk of unknown brands.

No one can judge the strength, the safety, the flexing life, the cushioning qualities and the miles that are built into a tire merely from its outside appearance, yet when buying a tire you are really seeking these qualities—the most of each that your money will buy—not the most rubber, or the most cotton, or the most bulk and weight.

Passenger car tires that were made fifteen to twenty years ago were thick, heavy, bulky and had practically no non-skid qualities, and these were the only kind of tires that engineers of that day knew how to design and build. In this type of tire construction, it was necessary to carry very high air pressure in order to prevent the tire from flexing as flexing created heat in this bulky carcass and destroyed the tire prematurely; in fact, three to five thousand miles was the maximum mileage to be obtained from this type of tire.

As years went on, the car owner demanded tires that would give greater non-skid and safety, greater flexibility and comfort and greater strength and longer mileage. Today, Firestone has reached the apex of tire perfection—Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloons hold all world records for safety, comfort, durability and mileage. They have the strongest, most flexible walls, toughest and most flexible tread, and the greatest cushioning qualities of any tires built in the world. They are giving thirty—forty—fifty—sixty and even seventy thousand miles of service.

What has brought about this great change—more miles and greater safety with less thickness and bulk—fewer punctures than ever before—blowouts almost unheard of?

BETTER ENGINEERING—This is the answer. It is a victory for experience—gained through infinite research, laboratory experiment and millions of miles of road testing.

Back of every Firestone-built Tire is this assurance of getting the most your money can buy. But to remove any question that may be in your mind concerning the best type of tire for your special needs, we call your attention to the following brief engineering facts.

For Light and Medium Weight Cars

This tire is designed and engineered to the needs of the light and medium weight car. It is therefore extremely flexible, of limited ply construction, made unusually strong by the extra process of Gum-Dipping and uniformity in cure. It is generously over-size and will give you greater comfort, safety and economy than any tire in the world of heavier and more bulky construction. Do not decrease your speed, increase your gasoline consumption or wear out your tires prematurely by putting a heavier tire on your light or medium weight car.

For the Heavy Car

Firestone has also designed a special tire with extra plies of cord fabric and heavier and tougher tread, especially for heavy cars. Naturally, this tire requires additional air pressure, and while the carcass is Gum-Dipped and flexes uniformly under load, yet its degree of deflection is less because of its heavier carcass, thicker tread and necessary higher air pressure.

For Commercial Cars, Trucks and Buses

For motor vehicles of still greater weight and carrying capacities, the carcass is made still heavier, using from six to fourteen plies (depending on size) of cord fabric and a thick heavy tread. This tire is also Gum-Dipped by the special process which makes this tire more flexible and durable than any other tire in its class, yet is engineered especially for commercial vehicles. This is the best tire that money can buy in its class, but if you want comfort, safety and economy of operation on passenger cars don't use this thick, heavy tire.

Gum-Dipped TIRES

Most Miles Per Dollar

HOLD ALL WORLD RECORDS IN EVERY CLASS OF TIRE SERVICE

Light Car Records

Eugene A. Boether, Lodi, Calif., calls Firestone mileage "phenomenal." A set of Gum-Dipped Balloons on his car have run 57,000 miles and he states they are good for 5,000 more.

"56,000 miles and still good for more," writes A. D. Cowan of Fulton, Ill., concerning a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on his car. These record-breaking tires were the first set of balloons in that section.

Heavy Car Records

Chas. W. Lawser of Philadelphia reports that a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on his car have never been off the rims and are going strong at 35,000 miles.

John A. Krupski of Toledo, Ohio, states that his Firestone Tires have given him 37,000 miles in three years and are still in good condition—"an extraordinary exhibition of strength and endurance," he says.

Geo. Durhan of New York City, reports better than 35,000 miles for two Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloons on his car. They are still good for a number of thousand miles.

Taxicab Records

Harbor Taxi Co., Ashtabula, Ohio, report over 61,000 miles service on a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

William R. Rothwell, Detroit, Michigan, taxicab operator, drove 71,000 miles on a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloons.

Truck Records

A. J. Mortemer of McBrides, Mich., has to date received 51,000 miles from a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on his truck. For seventeen months these tires have been every day on a milk route, carrying two and three ton loads.

"Cannon Ball" Baker, in 1927, drove a 2-ton GMC truck, fully loaded from Atlantic to the Pacific—3,693 miles in 137 hours and 36 minutes. This fastest and longest truck run on record was made on Firestone Gum-Dipped Heavy Duty Pneumatics.

Bus Records

The Black Diamond Bus Line, Brownsville, Texas, report a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on a 20-passenger bus, ran over 83,000 miles.

Johnson Storage & Distributing Company, Fort Worth, Texas, received 63,000 miles continuous service on set of Firestone Heavy Duty Truck Tires.

Speed Records

Decoration Day, May 30, 1928, for the 9th consecutive time, Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires won the famous Indianapolis Sweepstakes.

Ray Keech, driving the enormous and tremendously heavy 36 cylinder 2500 h.p. Triplex Special, designed and built by J. M. White, on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, set a new world's record when he averaged 207.3526 miles per hour at Daytona Beach, Florida, April 22, 1928.

Frank Lockhart did not have his car equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires—and no other cars in the speed trials at Daytona Beach were Firestone equipped, except the car driven by Ray Keech.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have won every National Championship Race since 1920.

Dave Lewis won 200 mile race at Atlantic City, in 1927, at average speed of 130.58 miles per hour without a stop—on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

Frank Lockhart made an average of 80.826 miles per hour in a 100-mile race at Cleveland, in 1927, breaking all dirt track records, on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

Endurance Records

In 1927, three Studebaker Commanders, (two roadsters and a sedan) on Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloons made 25,000 miles in less than 25,000 minutes. The roadsters finished in elapsed time of 22,968 minutes, or an average speed of 65.31 miles per hour; sedan finished in 24,200 minutes, or 61.98 miles per hour.

At Atlantic City, April 23, 1928, two Studebaker Dictator Roadsters, on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, finished 5,000 miles in less than 5,000 minutes. The first roadster finished in elapsed time of 4,751 minutes, or an average of 63.138 miles per hour; the second finished in elapsed time of 4,892 minutes, or an average of 61.312 miles per hour.

Economy Records

J. B. Hooks of Goldsboro, N. C., says that Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are by far the cheapest tires he has ever bought, having driven one set more than 30,000 miles and they are still giving him splendid service, besides, they add so much to the life of the car and the comfort of riders, he says.

The Parmelee Company of Chicago since 1924 have obtained the remarkable average of better than 35,000 miles from Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on all vehicles in their passenger and baggage transfer fleets.

ROD LA ROCQUE

Rod La Rocque ran away from his home in Chicago to become an actor. His father ran him back again. Then Rod got a cane, silk hat and chamois gloves and departed a second time. No effort was made to return him to the family fireside. Tried his luck on the boards, but found the floor a hard bed.

Entered the fidgety films as a comedian in George Ade's two-reel fables. Left the studio for a part in a legitimate play, and was the leading man in a musical comedy called the "Blue Girl," for which he has never been forgiven.

He tips the scales at 181 pounds, soars 6 feet 3 inches in the air, is married to Vilma Banky, has a hobby for amateur photography and likes the following:

"There is a colored boy who works over at the studio," Rod told me, "who said he could eat four loaves of bread, four pounds of cheese and drink four quarts of beer at one sitting. None of us believed him with the exception of one actor who admitted that he had seen the negro perform this feat, and offered to bet any one that the colored boy could repeat his act.

The wager was called and the time was set for noon on the following day. All went well when the darkey started on his meal until about three parts of the food and drink had been consumed. Then the sepia one confessed himself beaten.

"'What a flop you turned out to be,' grumbled his backer. 'You've caused me to lose $10. What's the matter with you, anyhow?'

"'Ah, caint imagine, boss,' said the colored boy. 'Ah sho' wuz all right a while ago, when I rehearsed."

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health."

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Mr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

TREATMENTS FOR SKIN BLEMISHES

Many people present an unsightly appearance because of the presence on their faces of blemishes, such as moles, warts and scabs. Some of these people may have drifted into unprofitable occupations because they could not do work which requires meeting the public.

Sometimes blemishes result in the development of inferiority complexes which are great handicaps. Most of these blemishes must be removed by plastic surgery or beauty specialists who have become expert in eradicating these skin blemishes, but even with the highly skilled technique which they have developed, it seems that many people are afraid to try these treatments.

There are some methods of treatment still in vogue which there is danger in using, such as the X-ray and radium, and I do not advise their use for the removal of these unsightly growths. I would like to recommend, instead, the use of the localized ultra-violet light which creates a deep sunburn within a few minutes, similar to that received at the bathing beaches. This chemical ray can be controlled so that it will only be applied to a local spot. No sensation is felt at the time of treatment, but within two or three hours the skin becomes swollen and blistered, and peels off within a few days, leaving a healthy growth of skin underneath. Only a small area should be treated at one time because of a large burn makes the patient quite uncomfortable, but the smaller treatments are easily borne.

Each time a scar or pockmark is burned in this manner, it will be found to be smaller afterwards. Sometimes a great many of these treatments are needed before the skin regains its normal texture.

A doctor may use a high frequency spark which is quite effective when applied to the raised portion of scars or to moles.

The actinic ray is the most satisfactory method of producing face peeling, as any of the lotions, used for that purpose, are apt to contain phenol or mercury and are very dangerous, since the skins of different individuals are not all of the same thickness, and sometimes the poison penetrates deeper than it should, resulting in disfigurement or even poisoning, sometimes so severe that it has caused death. Any bad-looking skin will be improved with the ultra-violet or actinic treatment.

Warts will sometimes disappear within a few days after the beginning of an orange juice fast, and I believe this is because they are caused by a certain kind of acidosis which comes from the use of glacial acetic acid. Purchase 10 cents' worth of these crystals at a drug store and with a toothpick place one of the crystals on top of the wart and allow to remain from five to 10 minutes. This crystal will dissolve and absorb into the wart which, within a few days, will slough off.

Birthmarks and some small tumors should be removed by a doctor or beauty specialist who uses the electric needle or carbondioxide snow.

There is only one method of permanently removing superfluous hair, and that is with the electric needle. The growth may be discouraged through the use of a rosin and wax preparation which any druggist can tell you about. This is applied hot to the skin, and after it has cooled off it is jerked off, pulling the hairs with it.

White spots on the skin are due to a local destruction of the pigment, usually due to acidosis. They may usually be corrected by following a balanced diet, and using the ultra-violet light.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: G. J. writes: "I enjoy the advice given by you on health and am trying to follow it. I have suffered from valvular disease of the heart since I was seven years old, and I am now twenty. The doctors I have had tell me there is no cure. I am in bed at the present time and have been for the past two months, and am now troubled with gas around my heart. As I eat only very light food, can you tell me the cause of the trouble?"

ANSWER: You have named the cause of your trouble when you write that you are troubled with gas around your heart. The foods you eat may be "light" in weight or "light" in nourishment, but they certainly are not the right foods or else you are not using them in proper combination with each other. Most valvular heart troubles are functional, and can be cured by proper diet and exercise. Send a large self-addressed, stamped envelope for a special series of articles which I have prepared on the cause and cure of heart derangements.

QUESTION: K. L. writes: "I have recently undergone an operation for the removal of a stone in the bladder. Would be grateful if you would advise me as to diet to guard against a recurrence of this trouble."

ANSWER: No special diet is needed except to cut down the quantity of food, use good combinations, and then exercise enough so the body will use up the food elements.

QUESTION: Mrs. W. J. writes: "My little boy has a continuous discharge from the nose, especially the left side. How can I remedy this?"

ANSWER: A correct diet, free from catarrh-producing foods, will stop the cause of the discharge. Temporary help can be received through the use of the ultra-violet light applied directly in the nose through suitable applicators.

Work To Begin Soon On Wilbarger Courthouse

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, June 19.—Actual construction work probably will begin on the $375,000 Wilbarger county courthouse within two weeks, as excavation work got under way here Monday. Two carloads of lumber are now in Vernon and material for general construction is being assembled each day. M. A. Vordenbaum, superintendent of construction, says that everything will be in readiness for starting construction work by the time the excavation is completed. This work is expected to require about two weeks.

COTTON PRICE MEET CALLED

Terrell Urges Attendance At Cotton Council

Special to The Record News

AUSTIN, Texas, June 19.—George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, gave out the following statement today urging all members of the Cotton council, and all others interested in stabilizing the price of cotton to attend the meeting of the Cotton council in New Orleans, July 6, 1928.

Judge C. E. Thomas, chairman of the committee, appointed at Jackson, Miss., February 20, pursuant to the call of Gov. Dan Moody, to formulate plans for stabilizing the price of cotton, has called a meeting of the Southwide Cotton council to be held in New Orleans July 6, 1928.

The primary purpose of this organization is stated by the committee as follows:

1. "To stabilize the price and production of cotton."

2. "To coordinate the activities of all agencies and societies working to such purpose and to bring in common accord the several southern states in the way of uniform legislation when the same be needful or desired."

Attendance Urged

These purposes are very desirable and it is important that Texas be properly represented at this meeting.

The committee provided for a permanent South-wide Cotton council to be composed as follows:

1. All farm organizations interested in the production of cotton, one vote for each thousand members.

2. All co-operative marketing associations, one vote for each state association, and one additional vote for each 100,000 bales of cotton marketed during the previous year.

3. Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, one councilman at large.

4. The American Cotton Manufacturing association of Charlotte, North Carolina, one councilman at large.

5. American Cotton Growers exchange, one councilman at large.

6. Bankers association, one councilman from each cotton state.

7. Agricultural and mechanical colleges, one councilman from each state.

8. Cotton Merchants association, one councilman from each state.

9. Chambers of commerce, one from each state, and where regional chambers of commerce have been organized, one from each region.

10. The public in general and the state in particular, one councilman from each cotton state; and one additional councilman from each of said states, for each million bales of cotton, or major fraction thereof produced in said state, same to be based upon the average yield of the last three preceding crops.

Largest Representation

This basis will give Texas the largest representation of any state in the South, because of our large production of cotton, and a number of marketing associations, and several regional chambers of commerce. The different organizations and chambers of commerce entitled to representation should get busy and elect their members to serve on this permanent cotton council, and be sure to attend the meeting at New Orleans, July 6.

This is to be a permanent organization, coordinating all the agencies in the South, now striving to aid the farmer in stabilizing the market for cotton and trying to get profitable prices. Much good can be accomplished if these agencies are united and work together for the accomplishment of the purposes named.

ATE VERY LITTLE, SO EASILY UPSET

Lady Tells How Smothering Spells and Indigestion Troubles Were Relieved By Thedford's Black-Draught.

Piedmont, S. C.—"For a long time, I had a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheister, of 7 River street, this city. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating until I was so weak and run-down, I could not do my work, or go about to see my friends.

"I would burn in my chest, I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me.

"A friend said to me: 'What causes your smothering spells?' I told her 'indigestion and constipation.' She said: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught more often?'

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals, and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine.

"I soon regained my health and strength, and could eat 'most anything.

"I am now 75 years old. I keep boarders. I cook for nine, and do all my work with ease, and feel strong and well.

"I haven't taken any other medicine for five or six years. I am rid of the stomach trouble, don't get constipated, and give praise to Black-Draught."

HARD WORK—NO PAY

Burglars Lug Safe to Secluded Spot—Get One Dime

MUNICE, Ind., June 18. (US) Something ought to be done about this. Burglars Protective association, please take note.

Hard working burglars lugged the 500-pound safe of the Eli Smith Coal company here many blocks last night and cracked it open with sledge hammers.

One thin dime rewarded their efforts.

State Weddings

THOMAS-WILSON

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, June 19.—Miss Ruby Wilson and Mr. J. B. Thomas were married Friday evening in the Baptist parsonage with the pastor, Rev. C. N. Nearis, officiating. Both of the young people are residents of Iowa Park and will continue to make their home here. Mr. Thomas is employed in nearby oil fields.

County Agent Quits Dawson County Post

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, June 19.—C. B. Martin, county agent for Dawson county, has resigned effective July 1 to take up a like duty in Swisher county. This announcement was made by the commissioners court here last week. The court, according to Judge Dixie Kilgore, will employ a man to take Mr. Martin's place as soon as possible. The new man will likely work with Martin a few days before Martin leaves.

Russia Makes Bid for Tourists But Stipulates Amount of Baggage

NEW YORK, June 19. (UP)—After shutting itself up on account of family squabbles for 14 years, Russia has made a bid for the American tourist trade this summer, stipulating, however, just what gentlemen and lady travelers may bring along in the way of baggage.

According to the baggage rules issued today by Russian customs authorities, male tourists are allowed three shirts, six detachable stiff cuffs—several fine specimens of which are preserved in museums of early Americana—12 detachable stiff collars and two cakes of soap.

The lady tourist is allowed to enter Russia with one box of powder—specified "small"—two dresses, two skirts, two shirtwaists and two hats. They are also allowed the prescribed two cakes of soap.

No man is allowed to bring in face powder, but on the other hand, no lady can bring a razor into Russia, which evens up that score.

Regulations also provide that both men and women can bring in 250 cigarets and 50 cigars—with the men also allowed a kilo of pipe tobacco.

The customs restrictions, in fact, are rather liberal except in the vital matter of shirts. The greatest liberality is in the matter of underwear—with an allowance of six suits to each tourist.

Robber Gets $1.10 And 45-Year Sentence

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 19. (UP)—Four robberies netted James Garfield, paroled convict from Indiana, $1.10.

And it cost him 45 years in the state penitentiary. Garfield was sentenced here to 35 years in one holdup in which he held up a druggist. Garfield was also convicted of hitting J. F. Pierce over the head in an attempted holdup. He fled without taking any money.

Bids Open Thursday For Highway Equipment

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 19.—The state board of control will open bids on June 21 for the purchase of approximately $350,000 of highway building equipment, and about $50,000 of highway markers. Indications are there will be a number of bidders for both contracts. The highway equipment will include 20 tractors, 30 12-foot graders, 21 5-ton, 3-wheel rollers, and 38 trailers.

Large Class to Study Universal Language

AUSTIN, June 19. (UP) — Esperanto—the universal language—will be taught to a large summer class at the University of Texas this summer.

Dr. Alfred Kenngott, university instructor in Germanic languages, opened regular class work today.

Four Esperanto classes already have been organized with an enrollment of 97.

Summer school classes are being taught by Dr. Kenngoot. Dr. Lee Hollander, associate professor of Germanic languages is en route to Europe. He will attend the annual congress of Esperantists at Antwerp.

Esperanto is composed of words from basic languages. It has been adopted by the International Peace congress as an universal language by which people of one nationality can converse intelligibly with those of another.

Mocking Bird Becomes Drunk On Wild Cherries

MARSHALL, Texas, June 19. (UP)—Mr. Volstead will have to find a remedy for this.

A large crowd for several hours here witnessed the antics of a mocking bird who goarged itself with wild cherries. The bird was said to have acted exactly as any human under the influence of liquor.

MARY MULKY

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, June 19.—Funeral service for little Mary Esteline, the 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mulky, was held at the Methodist church Monday afternoon at 4:30. The Rev. J. P. Luton of the Methodist church held the services. Interment was in the Highland cemetery.

Bible School to End Schedule Tonight

Work of the Sibley-Taylor Methodist church vacation Bible school will be ended with a program Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the church. An exhibit of the work of the class students, and the award of honors to the best pupil, are also included in the program. Several musical numbers will complete the entertainment.

HE'S REFORMED

Capone Tries to Hire Publicity Agent To Aid His Rep

NEW YORK, June 19. (UP)—Mark Hellinger in his column in the Daily News today said "Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago gang leader now identified with the pants pressing industry, has sent a representative to New York to try to hire Ivy Lee, publicity man for the Rockefellers.

Hellinger says that Capone wants Lee to go to Chicago and change the attitude of the country toward Capone the same as he changed the attitude of the country toward John D. Rockefeller Sr.

Convention Row Lined With Hot Dog Stands

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19. (UP) Convention row leading to the coliseum where the national Democratic convention will be staged is now lined with the many stands that usually go with a circus.

Soda water and hot dog stands have sprung up galore. Eskimo pies and hamburgers, ice cream and all the rest are being sold.

A property owner near the hall has staked off 10-foot "lots" and leased them for small concession stands.

Ticket offices, offering through sleepers wherever you might want to go, have been opened up along the row. Old business concerns have cleaned up for the visitors, blossoming forth with fresh paint, new awnings and enthusiastic placards.

STORM HURLS PLANE ALOFT

Now Quartet Claims New Altitude Record

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19. (AP)—After being tossed 26,000 feet high in an airplane supposed to be unable to rise above the 18,000-foot level, two men and two women today were claiming an altitude record for their plane.

The four, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Doney, Lieut. J. C. Davis, the pilot, and Miss Patricia McNealy, reporter, went through this experience on a flight from Brownsville to San Antonio last Saturday.

Meet Storm

Just after they had passed Three Rivers, they saw two storms ahead. Lieut. Davis twisted and turned but was unable to escape them. Their plane, one similar to Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh's, was caught between the two disturbances and hurled from a 10,000-foot level to 26,000 feet.

Lieut. Davis shut off his power and attempted to nose his plane downward. It fell about 2000 feet and then shot up for the same distance. For 45 minutes he was unable to get the plane lower.

Finally when the storm had subsided considerably, they descended several thousand feet, plowed through a hail and rainstorm and proceeded to San Antonio.

When they landed their plane was full of holes torn by the hail and wind. The next afternoon, however, they flew back to Houston in the same plane.

Press to Honor Woman Candidate

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 19.—Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, candidate for United States senator from Texas, will be one of the guests at the Press club luncheon during the national Democratic convention, it was announced at Mrs. Cunningham's headquarters here. Another woman singled out for special honor at this luncheon is Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the National Democratic organization, nationally known writer and at the present time one of the staff writers of Good Housekeeping magazine. In the June number of that publication is an article by Emily Newell Blair called "Books That Count" and the writer used Mrs. Cunningham as an inspiration on books that deal with politics. In the article, Mrs. Cunningham is spoken of as an "executor and administrator of high order; a brilliant student of politics."

The fastest gains in DUNLOP'S 40 YEARS

AMERICAN motorists bought 41% more Dunlops this April than last April. . . . 62% more this May than last May. . . . And June to date looks like an even greater gain.

To have 26,000,000 Dunlops now in use, many gains had to be made during the last few years. And yet, Dunlop's progress was never as rapid as now.

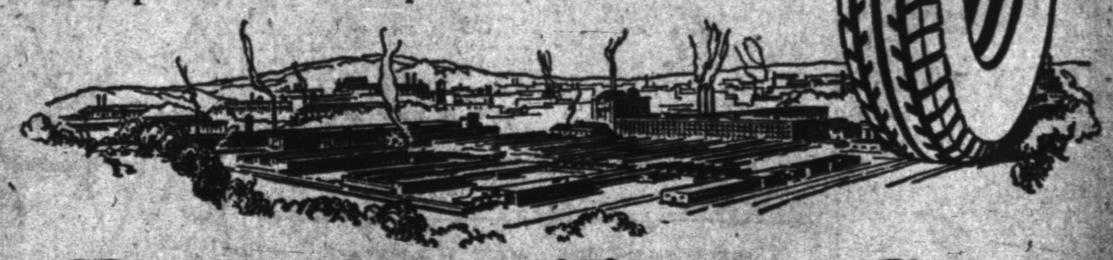

How can you account for this amazing acceleration in public preference for Dunlops?

Is it because there is more and better rubber . . . more and better cotton in Dunlop tires? Such incidents are partial answers. The real answer is this: Dunlops are distinctly better tires . . . are serviced by better dealers . . . and motorists are finding it out.

With $195,000,000 resources . . . 45,000 craftsmen . . . 100,000 acres of productive properties and 40 years of experience, it would be inexcusable for Dunlop to produce anything but the finest possible tires for your car.

"DUNLOP CITY"

Supreme in quality for 40 years, Dunlop has grown until its productive properties—if combined in one place—would form a vast "Dunlop City" of over 100,000 acres . . . over 4 times as big as the great city of Pittsburg.

CHAMPIONS TRIM BEARS, 7-6, IN START OF SOUTHERN INVASION

SPUDS HAMMER 15 SAFE BLOWS

Benton, Lamb and Turgeon Lead Offensive

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 19. The Spudders today started their swing around the southern half of the Texas league wheel in an auspicious manner by beating San Antonio in the opener of the series, 7 to 6. Led by the heavy hitting of Rabbit Benton and Lyman Lamb, the champions pounded three Bear hurlers for 15 blows. The Bears nicked Cvengros for 10 hits and Mike also lacked control on occasions. But though a couple of errors were costly the left-hander managed to go the distance to win.

Benton had four hits, including a double, and Lamb maced three blows, a single, double and triple. Turgeon and Jenkins each had two hits. Both of Pete's knocks were especially timely.

Nason hit a home run with a runner on base.

The Spudders went two games ahead of the Bears and are now only one game behind the second-place Fort Worth Cats.

Spuds Score in First

Wichita Falls scored in the first inning. Benton singled to center. Turgeon sacrificed, Grimes unassisted. Lamb singled to center, scoring Benton.

The Bears tied it in the second. Nason tripled to left after one was out and tallied on Philbin's single to right. San Antonio went ahead in the third by scoring two.

Flaskamper singled after one was out and stole second. Najo strolled. Swenson fumbled Grimes' grounder, filling the bases. Taylor hit to right, scoring Flaskamper and Najo.

The Spudders tallied in the fourth to tie the count. With two out, Benton singled to center. Turgeon doubled to right, scoring Benton, and went to third on the throw-in, which took an erratic bound and hit Meyers in the eye. Gibson relieved Meyers. Lamb doubled to left, Turgeon scoring.

Again the Bears went ahead in the fifth. Grimes singled to left. Taylor sacrificed, Cvengros to Stanton. Nason hoisted to Eldred. Philbin beat out a roller to Benton, Grimes going to third. Gibson singled to left, scoring Grimes.

Champions Reign

Back into the lead went the Spudders in the sixth with two tallies. Benton again started it, this with a double to left. Turgeon fouled to Taylor. Lamb tripled to center, scoring Benton. Love relieved Newman. Eldred's single to right scored Lamb.

The Spudders made their last two in the seventh. Lapan and Cvengros were passed. Fillingim relieved Love with three balls and one strike on Benton. Benton beat out a bunt to third, filling the bases. Roetz ran for Benton when Rabbit injured his leg. Turgeon singled to left, scoring Lapan and Cvengros.

Gibson's men came back in their half also to score two tallies and falling one short of tying the score. Roetz threw wild on Taylor's grounder. Nason hit a home run over the left feild wall, scoring Taylor ahead of him.

RUNYON PICKS MICK TO WIN

Walker-Hudkins to Draw Near $200,000 Gate

By DAMON RUNYON
Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service

CHICAGO, June 19.—Mr. Jeems Mullen, the laird of the loop, is all aglow these days over the prospect of a $200,000 gate for his middleweight championship presentation here Thursday night between Clarence Mickey Walker of Rumson, N. J., and Ace Hudkins of Omaha, Neb.

Last night Mr. Mullen counted up $125,000 in advance receipts, so he says. He may have been a few thousands of dollars over, or a few thousands under. He could not count the money to a penny, because of great nervousness.

Mr. Mullen was fearful that the partner of his gymnasium joys and sorrows, Mr. Harry Hochstader, otherwise known as "Banjo Eyes" might come in any minute and fall dead at the sight of so much money. Mr. Mullen does not wish Mr. Hochstader to fall dead under such circumstances. Mr. Mullen is saving Mr. Hochstader for a more painful death when he—Mr. Mullen—can get around to supervising the morbid business himself.

Mr. Mullen Counts Coin

So Mr. Mullen took all the money into a cellar with him, posted his social secretary, Mr. Society Kid Hogan, as an outside guard, and counted the money in seclusion. Mr. Mullen did not fear the effect of the sight of all that money on Mr. Society Kid Hogan, because Mr. Hogan doesn't believe there is that much money in the world, even when he sees it.

The battle between Clarence Mickey Walker and Ace Hudkins is to take place at night in the Sox' ball yard. It will pull in the biggest gate in the history of Chicago boxing, bar the affair between Jack Dempsey and Mister Tunney. The betting here favors Walker at 2 to 1, yet I find a few sharp fellows around the loop who think Ace may out-scramble the middleweight champion.

I am told that Hudkins is getting a guarantee of $25,000. I am inclined to think that Walker, through his manager, the ubiquitous John Leo McKernan, otherwise Kearns, is gambling with Mr. Mullen, although Kearns tells me he is getting a guarantee and a big percentage.

This is the first real title defense since he knocked out Tommy Milligan in England last year, though he has fought a number of battles since then. He beat Jack Willis, one of the hardest hitting middles in the country, out on the Pacific coast last winter.

Mickey Figures to Win

There is no doubt Walker is a far better fighter as a middleweight than he was as a welter. He is hitting harder, for one thing. He is able to carry a sustained battle without blowing up, as he almost invariably did even in his best days as a welter. He is thoroughly experienced, and thoroughly ring-wise now, a finished fighter going at top speed.

Hudkins, a rough, tough fellow without much punch, is fighting the best man he ever faced in his first battle as middleweight, a better hitter than himself, and a far better boxer. Hudkins is strictly a one-style fighter, closing in on his man, getting a grip with one hand and banging away with the other. It is a style that would seem to be made to order for Walker.

But Hudkins is dead game, takes a terrific punching, and never knows when he is licked. I look for Walker to take a decision over him in 10 rounds on his superior experience and boxing ability, but I don't look for Walker to knock him out. If he does, "the Rumson Bulldog" is the best middleweight we have had since Ketchel.

Fishing Chats with The Old Angler

Camping, fishing, and hunting trips can be made the occasion to get some extra wear out of cast-off clothing, but no matter where you go you will meet people who will think the better of you if you always appear neat and tidy, shaved or powdered, as the case may be.

While old clothes or cheap khaki may be taken along for backwoods trouting, still golf togs for men, knickers for the ladies—with perhaps one of those wrap-around skirts to convert the outfit into a double purpose garment—and for the juveniles, tabloid replicas of parents or elders, the angling camping problem is solved without much pressure upon the budget.

After a few camping trips you will get as much comfort from one suitcase full of clothes as you get from three or four on beginner trips. Comfort on your fishing trip can be had and a trim appearance still preserved, and this applies to actual sport, sleeping and camp life, as well as to clothing, and it is most surprising what good meals the wife can hustle together on tabloid gasoline camp stove, fuel for which you always have handy in your car tank.

Trout fresh from sparkling waters boiled, broiled, baked or fried, and plenty to take home to illustrate your yarns are had by motor-camp trouting.

Ruth and Yankees Slump in West By Playing Half-Hearted Baseball

White Sox and Browns Beat Champions and Change for Better Must Be Made Before New York Fans

By FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 19. (UP)—The New York Yankees are back from the west this week, apparently beset by tribulations, but still the one ball club with a chance to win the American league pennant this year.

The world champions are in a slump which they dug for themselves by the fierce pace they set through April and May. No ball club, however well disciplined, can keep its collective mind on the race without opposition.

When it got so that everyone conceded the Yankees the flag, they quit paying serious attention to the business of baseball. True, they didn't lose so very many games in the West, but the Yankees found they could play half-hearted baseball and still beat most of the opposition of 1928.

Babe Drops to .325

Against the admittedly weak western clubs of the American league, the world champions broke better than even, but they didn't deserve to. Babe Ruth fell into a batting slump and "as Ruth goes, so go the Yankees." The home run king dropped to an average of .325, which is below par for the Babe.

The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns both won easily from the Yanks on several occasions, and several games which the league leaders did win were muddled affairs where the margin was only a run or two.

If prosperity, in the matter of baseball victories were sufficient to ruin a club, the world champions wouldn't be up to where they are today.

If they come back to Yankee stadium in that frame of mind, there will be an immediate reflection in the gate receipts and Col. Jake Ruppert will have to read the boys the riot act. For even New York fans are not going to pay to see ball games, whether their club wins or loses, if it is not trying.

Durocher Hustles

Reports from the West indicate that this was what troubled the Yankees last week, when they dropped a couple of games to the White Sox and a couple to the hustling St. Louis Browns.

If it were not for little Leo Durocher, the Yankees would have been an even greater disappointment to the fans of the West, who always turn out for them in greater numbers than for any other club. The peppery youngster who has been filling Mark Koenig's boots (Note: That was unintentional), has kept some life in the Yankee lineup by his constant chatter, goat-getting tactics, and rattling good baseball.

This being a member of the world championship baseball team and walloping one's way through all opposition to a pennant, is new stuff to Durocher. As a result, he, at least, is giving the fans their money's worth.

CONOCOS QUIT TWILIGHT LOOP

Schedule Altered to Fill Sunday Dates

Continental Conocos, tail-enders in the Twilight baseball league first half race, have withdrawn from the league.

Continental games will be forfeited to the teams with which they were scheduled.

The two Sunday games of the Conocos will be played by the teams having games scheduled on the nearest date to the Continental Sunday games. Panhandle and James Brothers have moved their game scheduled for June 22 to June 24 in order that a Sunday game may be played.

The Texas Electric-Panhandle game scheduled for July 13 has been moved to July 15, taking up the other Sunday vacancy left by the Conocos.

It has not been decided by the league officials who shall play the July 4 game which was scheduled between Continental and Panhandle but it assured that a game will be played on that date.

Wrestling Show Set For Tonight

The wrestling show scheduled for Tuesday night at Spudder park was postponed until Wednesday night on account of the indications of rain and storm.

Billy Hallas, the rough and tough Greek wrestler, will meet Bashanta Singh in the headliner. Both wrestlers have grappled several times in the local arena.

Pete Pallas and Jack Achilles are scheduled in the preliminary go.

Both matches are to be New York commission rules and will take place at Spudder park.

Babe Planning To Set More Records

NEW YORK, June 19. (UP)—Babe Ruth is laying awake nights thinking up records he wants to break before he retires from baseball.

Besides hitting 61 home runs this season, the records Babe has his eye are:

Hitting 500 home runs before he quits.

Hitting over 400 before he asks Colonel Ruppert for a new contract.

Leading the league in hitting again.

Hit a home run over the deep center field fence at Yankee stadium and one clear over the right field bleachers.

Playing a season at first base.

Kiwanis, Rotary Nines Will Play

Gate of Game Tomorrow To Milk-Ice Fund

Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, who have been arguing all year over the merits of their baseball teams, will settle the matter tomorrow. The rival nines of the civic organizations are to clash out at Athletic park, and all proceeds of the game will go to the Record News-Times milk and ice fund.

Larry Hanlin, manager of the Rotarians and Shadie Hale, skipper of the Kiwanians, are assembling their teams. It is reported that Hanlin has an outfielder who in secret practice the other morning at 7 o'clock hit nine balls out of ten over fences. Hale refuses to be worried by that rumor, however. And with good cause. The Kiwanis pilot, it is said, has discovered a pitcher with curves, fast ball, slow ball and change of pace that would baffle even the Spudders.

Whether the unknown mound phenom can get the ball over the plate remains to be seen.

Anyhow, it will be a royal ball game, starting at 4 o'clock, with an admission charge of 50 cents.

DALLAS GOLFER IS MEDALIST

TEXAN FIRST IN SOUTHERN PLAY

Robertson's 72 Leads; Gunn Ties for Third

DALLAS, Texas, June 19. (AP)—A difficult course and a high wind combined to send most of the scores high in the qualifying round of the Southern Golf association championship tournament at the Brook Hollow Country club here today.

R. L. Robertson of the Lakewood Country club, Dallas, came across town to capture medalist honors with a 72. Getting a late start, after the high wind had abated somewhat, Robertson stroked steady golf to take honors away from William Holmes, fellow townsman, whose 74 had kept him in front of the field most of the afternoon.

Watts Gunn, the Atlanta luminary and perhaps the most noted player in the tournament, had a 37-39-76 to tie with Roger Parker, and R. E. Spicer, Jr., two Memphis youths, for third place in the qualifying round. Gunn shot some brilliant golf on the front nine, but got into trouble on the way in.

Former Champs Qualify

In addition to placing first and second in the medal round, Dallas golfers grabbed off 10 of the 32 places in the championship flight. Local players were largely predominate among the 192 starters.

Orville White, Memphis, was one of the six players who turned in scores of 80, five of whom were eligible for the title flight, but he was automatically eliminated when he failed to appear at the first tee for the play-off, which then became unnecessary.

Among those who qualified for championship match play starting tomorrow were three former titleholders, C. L. Dexter, Jr., of Dallas; R. E. Spicer, Jr., of Memphis, and Glenn Crisman of Selma, Ala. Former Texas state champions in the title flight included O. S. Carlton, Houston, Dexter, and George Aldridge, Dallas.

Lamprecht Near Top

Fred Lamprecht, former national intercollegiate golf champion, played sterling golf in today's round, his 76 placing him well up among the list of favorites.

The opening round of match play in each of the three flights will star tomorrow, with the finals scheduled Saturday. Finals in the first and second flights will consist of 36 holes, while 18 holes will suffice to decide the winner in the third runs. The $3000 George W. Adair trophy goes to the champion. Following are the leaders' cards, compared with par for the course:

DAILY DOPE

By Larry Dailey

THESE ARE IMPORTANT days in the world of sports, and this week is jammed with action in various lines of athletic endeavor. Eyes of golf enthusiasts will be centered on Chicago, where the national open championship is to be played. Tommy Armour will defend his title against the usual field of expert homebreds, including Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen, while several English stars, headed by Archie Compston and Aubrey Boomer, will seek revenge for triumphs of our players in recent years on British links.

Foremost amateurs of below the Mason and Dixon line started play yesterday at Dallas for the championship of the south, with Watts Gunn, a townsman and protege of Bobby Jones, one of the favorites in a sterling field. We are to have our own golf championship here in Wichita Falls this week, too, with the play Saturday and Sunday of the qualifying round in the all-city tournament.

◆ ◆ ◆

ONE OF THE MOST important fistic battles of the season will be fought Thursday night at Chicago when Mickey Walker defends his middleweight crown against the assault of Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wildcat. This will be a battle of two real fighting men and a fierce conflict, with a knockout probable, is viewed as a certainty. Other important ring engagements are carded this week. Jimmy McLarnin, promised a return match in August with Sammy Mandell at Chicago, will seek to prove his worthiness for another try at the lightweight diadem when he faces Phil McGraw at New York tomorrow night. This is another mill that promises lots of glove-throwing and with a k. o. likely. Johnny Risko, the fat baker boy of Cleveland, snubbed by Tex Rickard as Gene Tunney's foe, will battle George Godfrey, the big Lieperville, Pa., negro, tonight.

◆ ◆ ◆

WHILE THE LINKS and roped square will hold the spotlight, baseball continues to be played every day, which is, as the hard-boiled city editor said, interesting if true, when informed his wife had eloped with another man. I mean, it is mid-season now and the drives for pennants are on in earnest and every game is important. The six-ring circus continues in the National league and even new interest has been injected in the American league campaign with the slump in the west of the champion Yankees.

Seek U. S. Open Golf Title

Among the many experts playing in the national open golf championship starting tomorrow at Chicago are those star veteran professionals, Walter Hagen, Bill Mehlhorn, Jim Barnes and Jim Sarazen.

Grange and Pyle Partnership Dissolved After Financial Loss

Law Suits and Flop of "Bunion Derby" Cost Heavily; Breaking Up of Combination at Red's Insistence

By GEORGE STRICKLER

CHICAGO, June 19. (US)—The firm of Harold "Red" Grange and C. C. Pyle, at one time reported to have earned $2,000,000 in the space of a year through the medium of sport promotion, testimonials and pictures, effected a dissolution of partnership here today.

Splitting of this famous combination is said to have come at the insistence of Grange, whose contract with the man of a million ideas on how to make a dollar expired recently.

It came as the culmination of two years of operation that were persistently reported to have been carried on at losses, and which are now said to have greatly depleted the fortunes of both Grange and "Make a Million" Pyle.

The dissolution leaves Grange free to exploit his athletic and motion picture ability as he sees fit and eliminates the necessity of sharing profits, if any, with Pyle, who at the close of the 1925 Western conference football season took Grange out of Illinois and started an elaborate promotion of the latter's talents.

Red Banks "100 Grand"

This enterprise was so successful that at the end of three months Grange is said to have banked more than $100,000 in a Wheaton bank. One day, December 8, 1925, Grange's first appearance as a professional football player in New York was said by Pyle to have netted him better than $370,000 in contracts for testimonials, gate receipts and motion picture contracts.

The items included $300,000 for signing a contract with a motion picture company which later fell into the hands of receivers, but is declared to have made good its agreement; gate receipts for Grange, a share of the gate receipts from the game between the Chicago Bears and New York Giants amounting to $36,000; $12,000 for indorsing a sweater; $10,000, for indorsing shoes; $10,000 for permitting the use of Grange's name on a football doll; $5000 for indorsing a ginger ale, $2000 for a cap; $1000 for recommending a brand of tobacco and an unnamed amount for automobile advertising.

A tobacco company had offered $10,000 for Grange's indorsement, but Red does not smoke. He was finally induced to sign anyway and received $1000.

Gets $45000 for Game

A few weeks later Pyle and Grange shifted their operations to California, continuing their golden harvest. For one of the games played there, his first in Los Angeles, the promoter announced he had paid $45,000 as his share of the gate.

A second motion picture followed, from which the "firm" is understood to have realized in the neighborhood of $150,000 plus royalties. This plus royalties from countless other by-products, the first picture and an estimated return of $60,000 from "Red" Grange candy bars at one time was estimated to have made millionaires of both partners.

These enterprises far surpass in revenue the one thing Grange could do best—play football. His first five games under Pyle's management in 1925 are said to have netted him $86,000.

But when Pyle slipped into Chicago unannounced and unexpectedly from New York Sunday night to consummate the dissolution Grange announced last week, both he and the erstwhile galloping ghost were said to have lost practically all of this wealth, most of it on the organization of their football league in 1926, which failed at the end of the season.

Law suits also made great inroads into the fortunes, despite the fact that Pyle boasts of somewhere in the neighborhood of 90 attachments in three years, all of which he claims to have won. These ranged up to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Most of them were direct toward Pyle, but under the partnership, Grange was equally liable and suffered.

The most recent financial reverse by the "firm" was the transcontinental marathon, which Pyle admitted cost him a large amount of money. Grange declared he had nothing to do with this, however, and that his trip across the country with the runners was only to help Pyle by lending his popularity in the way of a gate attraction at the control stations.

CALIFORNIA IS ROWING VICTOR

Bears Set New Record; Columbia Second

By JACK LAWRENCE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 19. (US)—California's magnificent varsity eight conquered Columbia and won the intercollegiate championship over the historic Highland course of four miles here this evening, and tonight the Golden Bears are dancing in the streets.

California not only conquered Columbia, the defending titleholder, but left five other crews strung out far behind in the gathering dusk and broke the course record by 17 2-5 seconds. That old record was made on July 2, 1901, by one of "Old Man" Courtney's prize crews from Cornell. For 27 years the best collegiate eights in the world have been shooting at that mark and have always missed. The figures rung up by that Cornell eight more than a quarter of a century go were 18 minutes, 53 1-5 seconds and it seemed that they were indelibly inscribed on the halo that has shined through the years above the old man's memory.

Tonight, seething down the river in a driving rain, California's boatload of sinew and courage covered the four miles in 18:35 4-5.

Columbia, fighting to the end with desperation, was three quarters of a length astern of the Golden Bears and was also far inside the old Courtney record.

Washington was a battling third, but never threatened to interrupt the death grapple in which California and Columbia engaged in from the very moment that Julian Curtiss of Yale sent the flotilla away on its long voyage.

Old Dick Glendon of Annapolis blew himself to two pieces of cake in the freshman and junior varsity races, sending out a crew in the latter event that won hands down and broke the course record of 15:50 1-5, made by a Washington eight in 1926. This was a three-mile race and old Mr. Glendon's Jayvees flew over the distance in 14:18 2-5, which is our idea of shattering a record properly.

Cornell, showing surprising strength, was second in the the junior varsity event.

The Navy took the freshman race, in which seven crews were entered, only after a bitter, heartbreaking struggle. In this contest, over two miles, Cornell again grabbed off second honors and once more a Ten Eyck crew dropped into third place. Washington, Pennsylvania, Columbia and California finished in that order, but they were all bunched at the finish and the race was one of the toughest ever seen among yearlings on the Hudson. The Navy plebes covered the two miles in 9:42, the record, 9:11 3-5, having been made by a Cornell crew in 1909.

GOLFERS DRILL FOR U. S. OPEN

Stars Start Play Tomorrow For Armour's Crown

CHICAGO, June 19. (UP)—Champions, experts and hopefuls were out in large numbers today at the Olympia fields golf course, limbering up their driving arms and training their putting eyes in preparation for the national open championship tournament which opens Thursday.

The list of entrants, totaling 146, includes practically every professional and amateur of renown, with the exception of Bobby Cruickshank and Jess Sweetser.

Rain Softens Fairways

The course was just a bit soft today due to the heavy rains Sunday, but the golf stars were delighted as the fairways had been too hard Saturday when Bobby Jones took a 77 on his first practice round.

Tommy Armour, the defending champion, demonstrated that he was ready to defend his crown when he made 18 holes in 72. This was the best first round card of any of the contenders.

Gene Sarazen, "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, George Von Elm, Charlie Guest, Al Espinosa and Jack Daray are among the prominent golfers who have been seen in practice the past couple of days.

Walter Hagen, Johnny Farrell, McDonald Smith and several others whose names have been prominent in the sporting news in recent years, also are on the scene.

English Stars to Play

England is pinning its hopes on Archie Compston and Aubrey Boomer. Frank Ball, an English professional, recently has resided at Atlanta, and has been playing his game over Jones' home club at East Lake.

Golfers Drill For All-City Tourney

Golfers of Wichita Falls are practicing over the course of the Golf and Country club in preparation for the all-city tournament qualifying play Saturday and Sunday. Nearly 100 entries are expected for the revival of the event, the biggest affair in local golf.

Four or five flights and possibly more, depending upon the number of entrants, will start match play after Sunday. There will be 32 to qualify in the first flight and 16 in others.

The Country club links are open this week to entrants in the tournament. Entry should be made to Bill Strachan, pro of the Country club. An entrance fee of $1.50 is charged, to help purchase trophies for winners and runnersups of all flights.

All residents of Wichita Falls for more than a year and over 16 years of age are eligible for competition.

Wakes Up Tired

—and wonders why seven or eight hours' sleep failed to refresh her.

THE trouble with most tired people is that their blood and tissues contain an excess of acid, a condition known as acidosis or acid intoxication. The blood carries this poison to every organ of the body, dulling the brain, sapping energy, causing nervousness and irritability.

Many find it difficult to last through the day—mid-afternoon finds them listless, without energy enough to think—let alone work. Often this condition is accompanied by digestive disturbances, such as gas, bloating, sour stomach, heartburn, constipation and other symptoms.

For eighteen years people have been turning to Gordon's (formerly Gordon's Antiseptic) as a safe and sure means of overcoming this trouble. You can do the same. Go to any drug store today—get a bottle and start taking it at once. From the first dose you will notice a difference. In a few days you will find yourself feeling fit—able to sleep soundly and wake up each morning refreshed with a new interest in life.

Gordon's is made in liquid form. A large 3-ounce bottle, price $1.50—less than three cents a dose—at all druggists.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 19. (AP)—After a decline influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of better weather in the South, the cotton market rallied today, October contracts selling up from 20.65 to 20.89, or 7 points above yesterday's closing quotation. October closed at 20.86, the general market closing firm, net unchanged to 6 points higher.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 6 points. After early irregularity prices weakened under realizing or reselling by some of yesterday's buyers who appeared to be impressed by the showing of Liverpool and a more favorable Eastern belt forecast than anticipated. The unsettled ruling of the stock market was considered a contributing factor on the decline, as there was some Wall Street selling or liquidation and prices worked off to 20.56 for July and 20.47 for December before mid-day, or about 16 to 18 points net lower. Offerings then tapered off, and contracts became comparatively scarce with the market correspondingly sensitive to buying orders. Part of the cotton sold early was supposed to have been taken by trade buyers.

The afternoon advance was accompanied by reports of a firm spot situation and bullish private crop advices, the latter including reports that insects were becoming more numerous in the southwest, and that some cotton had been damaged by hot winds in West Texas. Excessive heat also was said to be causing considerable deterioration in that section. July sold up to 20.75 and December to 20.70 in late trading, net advances of 2 to 7 points on active positions. The close was within a point or two of the best on most months.

July was relatively easy during the day closing 13 points under October compared with a difference of 9 points at the close of Tuesday.

Private cables from Manchester said spinners of American cotton were to ballot on a proposal to curtail production by 50 per cent, but as a vote of 90 per cent was necessary, it was doubted in some quarters whether the proposition would carry.

Exports today 16,853, making 7,338,382 so far this season. Port receipts 5657. U. S. port stocks 965,922.

Futures closed firm, unchanged to 6 points higher. Spot quiet; middling 21.25.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 19. (AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today, and although the general trend of prices was moderately downward, a late rally recovered most of the early loss. Continued fair weather in the belt induced some selling in the morning trading and October contracts sold off to 20.11, or 16 points below the previous close. The subsequent rally carried the delivery up to 20.30 and it closed at 20.28, net one point higher for the day. The general market closed steady 3 points net up to 1 down.

Liverpool cables were 4 to 6 points worse than due. Private advices gave the absence of rains in the belt as the reason for the weakness in the English market. First trades here showed losses of 5 to 7 points. Following a slight rally which brought prices back to yesterday's closing levels on the execution of some overnight buying orders, the market immediately turned downward on a dry weather map and an official forecast for continued fair weather.

Towards mid-session the decline gained momentum on additional selling in sympathy with the weakness in stocks. Before the offerings were absorbed July had sold off to 20.40, October 20.11 and December 20.07, or 15 to 18 points below yesterday's close.

After mid-session the market became steadier and started to rally, slowly at first, but becoming more animated in the final trading. Unfavorable crop reports from Texas brought out good trade buying and when the demand had been supplied July had recovered to 20.58, October 20.30 and December 20.26, or 18 to 19 points up from the early lows and 1 to 3 points above the previous close. The close was only a few points under the top.

Cotton futures closed steady, net 3 points up to 1 down.

Closing Rally Combats Liquidation Caused by Advance in Call Money

By BROADAN WALL
Universal Service Financial Expert

NEW YORK, June 19.—A closing rally followed another irregular session on the stock exchange today, in which further liquidation was influenced by advance in call money from renewal of 5½ to closing of 6½ per cent.

Quite heavy selling was witnessed at intervals in such leaders as General Motors, Steel, etc. But they made up part of their losses in the final recovery. The "public" stood on the sidelines again insofar as active trading was concerned so that volume remained light, totaling just over 3,000,000 shares.

The inside support, told of exclusively here yesterday, held Bancitaly and its more orderly action helped sentiment a little. Combustion and those other pool pets with managers sufficiently courageous to put in buy orders enjoyed the best advances for the day.

Wheat rallied a little but corn and other grains were adversely influenced by weather reports with corn registering a new low. Cotton also lost ground on quite heavy realizing. Sterling dipped a little in a generally reactionary foreign exchange market.

Banks called $15,000,000 in loans early in the day so that there was ample warning of the higher call rate to come. The call was for the purpose of preparing for the adjustment with the reserve bank and therefore there is expectation of easier conditions during the remainder of the week. The most vital factor ahead in a monetary way, however, is the report on loans and accompanying federal reserve statements to be issued Thursday showing condition as of close tomorrow. It is felt that the statements may give some bullish influence also, as the reserve officials are believed to be satisfied with the manner in which the correction of the stock market is proceeding.

Professionals were hammering away in greater force than in any session of the year to date but made less impression than in Monday's trading. General Motors was their particular target but their operations were evidenced throughout the motor group and put Hudson, Hupp and others to new low ground. Crucible dropped 5 points and the reduction of its dividend was responsible for heavier liquidation in other steel shares. Steel Common held in better manner and lost but one point for the day. There is heard persistent bullish reports on Big Steel in leading trading circles but it all deals with the long pull rather than near-by outlook for the stock.

Grain

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE
Universal Service

CHICAGO, June 19.—Corn went to pieces today. The golden cereal turned to brass, figuratively, and at the close looked as if a further decline was top card in the pack from which destiny will deal today. Wheat closed slightly higher.

At the finish wheat was ¼c to ⅜c better; corn was down 2¼c to 3¼c; oats were off ⅜c to 1½c; rye was ⅜c to 2⅜c lower.

Folklore of the board of trade, created in the mass mind of speculators during half a century, long ago sounded the warning on corn. "Never," says one of its most cherished adages, "try to bull the tail-end of a short crop."

But again and again this effort is made with a regularity that the philosopher finds is the trademark of human nature in its eager search for a sure thing in the old building at the foot of LaSalle street.

Bulls never had a chance in corn today. The market opened off ⅝c to 1c, and was on the down grade all through the session. Little kickbacks were but deceitful tricks of fluctuation that lured holders to hang on longer in the fond hope that real strength would develop.

In spite of the fact that wheat recovered its early loss and at one time gave a brave display of ephemeral power, corn was always weak. Shorts did a lot of covering from time to time, and this buying gave the market support at intervals.

The wheat situation still looks very bearish.

Wheat is beginning to look cheap, but that appearance may be due only to the comparison with the high points it touched a couple of months ago. It does not look cheap compared with Liverpool nor with prices here last winter.

Nevertheless the market is at a point where bears cannot treat it as slightingly as they think they can treat corn, without danger. Early weakness today probably should be followed with conservatism.

In the cash market wheat was 1c off; corn was 1c to 3c lower; oats were unchanged to 1½c off; rye was dull; barley was steady.

Cities Service Begins Work On Gas Line From Panhandle at Once

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., June 19. (AP)—Three main line construction crews and one river-crossing crew will begin work immediately on the 132-mile extension of the Cities Service Gas company's 20-inch natural gas pipe line to carry gas from the Texas Panhandle to Kansas and Missouri points. It was announced today at offices of the Empire companies, of which the Cities Service Gas company is a subsidiary.

Contract for the extension, from Wichita to Ottawa, Kan., has been awarded to the Oklahoma Construction company of Dallas, Texas, and the first shipment of pipe and equipment has been made.

The contract calls for completion of the pipe line 88 days after the arrival of the first carload of pipe. The Wichita-Ottawa line is the northern end of a project, started last year and completed from Pampa, Texas, to Wichita, which will link the Kansas City area with the 6666 ranch in the Texas Panhandle, center of a vast natural gas area owned by the Empire and affiliated companies. Between Wichita and Ottawa the line will touch both Eldorado and Emporia.

VIENNA EDITOR SLAIN

VIENNA, June 19. (UP)—Bruno Wolf, editor of the Neues Wiener Journal and one of the leading publicists on the continent, was shot dead today.

STOCK-A-DAY

ABRAHAM & STRAUS, INC.

The largest department store in Brooklyn, N. Y., is operated by Abraham & Straus, Inc. In 1927 the company opened a subsidiary store also in Brooklyn, which handles men's goods.

The company's main property provides about 1,000,000 square feet of floor space. All of the real estate and buildings used by the company are under lease for 15 years from 1918, with provisions for renewals. Employes number about 3200.

The business was originally started by Abraham Abraham and Joseph Wechslerin in 1865.

Sales have increased steadily from about $20,500,000 in 1922 to over $25,570,000 in the year ended January 31, 1928. Net income has more than doubled since 1922, with increases each year.

Net income for 1928 amounted to $1,530,969, or the equivalent of $36 a share on the preferred stock, and $7.96 a share on the common. This compared with $1,146,332 in the 1927 fiscal year.

Funded debt consists of a real estate mortgage of $250,000. Capital in 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock outstanding includes $3,825,000 shares of $100 par, and 155,000 shares of no par common. The preferred stock has no voting power unless four quarterly dividend payments are in arrears, in which case it elects the entire board of directors.

An initial dividend was paid on the preferred stock on February 1, 1926, and continued quarterly since that time. None has been reported on the common stock.

As of January 31, 1928, current assets amounted to $8,812,831; current liabilities were $1,390,222, and net working capital $7,422,609. Book value of the common stock after allowing for the preferred shares at $100 each, was $38.68 a share.

On the night her engagement to Nathaniel Dann was to be announced, Virginia Brewster's father died and she learned that he was a bankrupt instead of a wealthy man she had always thought . . . What was she to do—marry Dann, the penniless artist, or listen to the tempting proposals made by men of wealth? . . . Can a girl reared in luxury be satisfied with the crumbs of life and the man of her heart? . . . Was love in a garret a fair exchange for the only sort of life she had known?

ORDINANCE NO. 986—An ordinance prohibiting any person, firm or corporation from engaging in the business of itinerant vendor without first having obtained a license, defining the word "itinerant vendor," fixing a license fee, requiring a bond from such persons, and prescribing a penalty. Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

Section 1. That no person, firm or corporation shall engage in the business of an itinerant vendor in the city of Wichita Falls without first having obtained a license from the city manager of the city of Wichita Falls, as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. That the words "itinerant vendor" shall be construed to mean and include all persons, firms, corporations, or their agents who engage in temporary or transient business in the city of Wichita Falls, selling goods, wares or merchandise, and who, for the purpose of carrying on such business hires, leases or occupies any room, building or structure for the exhibition of sale of such goods, wares or merchandise.

Any vendor who does not intend in good faith to engage in said business for a period of at least six months in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, shall be deemed to be conducting a temporary or transient business and no person, firm or corporation so engaged shall be relieved from the provisions of this ordinance by reason of being temporarily associated with any local dealer, trader, merchant or auctioneer, or by conducting said temporary or transient business in connection with, or as a part of any local dealer, trader, merchant or auctioneer.

Section 3. That the provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to sales made to dealers by commercial travelers or selling agents in the usual course of business, nor to bona fide sale of goods, wares or merchandise by sample for future delivery, nor sales made under authority and by order of law.

Section 4. That any person, firm or corporation selling or offering for sale any goods, wares or merchandise under the provisions of this ordinance, shall in describing same be truthful with respect to the character, quality, kind and description of the same, and any such statements for the purpose hereof shall be construed as warranties and any breach of the same shall be punishable as hereinafter provided.

Section 5. That any person, firm or corporation desiring to engage in the business of itinerant vendor as herein defined, may obtain a license therefor from the city manager of the city of Wichita Falls upon paying the assessor and collector of taxes a license fee of fifty ($50.00) dollars, and by filing with the city clerk a bond to be approved by said clerk in the sum of ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars, executed by the applicant and a solvent corporation incorporated under the laws of the state of Texas, or having a permit to do a bonding business in the state of Texas, which bond shall be payable to the mayor of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, and his successors in office, for the use and benefit of any and all persons as his or their interest may appear, who shall have cause of action against principal in said bond by virtue of the misconduct, misrepresentation, fraud or failure to faithfully keep the agreements and warrants of said bond, his agents, servants or employes, in connection with the conduct of said business; which bond shall be conditioned for the prompt payment of any judgment against said principal or surety in any civil suit in a court of competent jurisdiction which he, or they, may be condemned to pay on account of misconduct, misrepresentation, fraud or failure to keep agreements and warrants, and that said principal will faithfully observe the ordinances of the city of Wichita Falls; and further conditioned that any person having a cause of action against said principal as above provided, shall have the right to sue both principal and surety, or principal without joining the surety, or surety without joining the principal.

Section 6. The permission to conduct the business of itinerant vendor shall be granted by the city manager only upon application of the person, firm or corporation desiring the same, filed with him in writing, which shall state the name of the applicant, the residence, street and number of the proposed place of selling, and shall set forth in detail the goods to be sold and what statements or representations are to be made or advertised as to the same, and the length of time for which the permit is desired, and if previously engaged in like or similar business to designate all the places where the same was conducted, and shall furnish further evidence if required by the city manager necessary to establish the truth of the statements made in said application, which license so granted shall terminate one month after the issuance of the same unless the person, firm or corporation securing the same shall pay to the assessor and collector of taxes the additional sum of ten dollars for each additional month he desires to continue in said business. Where applicant continues said business for six months or more in any one place, in addition to the fifty dollars charge for the first month, an applicant shall pay an additional sum of five dollars per month.

Section 7. That the fact that said person, firm or corporation takes a lease on a place or building wherein said person, firm or corporation intends to carry on their business for a period less than six months, shall be sufficient evidence to warrant the finding that said person, firm or corporation is an itinerant vendor.

Section 8. Any person, firm or corporation, their agent, servant or employee, who is engaged in the business above defined without securing a license herein provided for, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, and each and every day that said person, firm or corporation shall engage in such business without such license shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 9. If any provisions of this ordinance should for any reason be held void, same shall not affect the remaining provisions of this ordinance, and they shall continue in full force and effect. Passed and approved this 18th day of June, A. D. 1928.—J. W. Akin, mayor. Attest: W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

Brady Progress Seen In Huge Bank Deposits

BRADY, Texas, June 19. (UP)—The largest bank deposits in the history of the city and an extensive paving program are evidence of a firm prosperity in this modern western city.

Thirty-five blocks are being paved now which will give the city five miles of pavement. Several new buildings also are under construction.

At the present, this section is looking forward to the annual celebration July 4, 5 and 6 when horse racing and many other features will be held and thousands of visitors will come here.

Socialists Hold Party Convention July 8

DALLAS, Texas, June 19. (UP)—The Socialist party of Texas will hold its state convention here July 8 when a ticket for the office of governor and lieutenant governor will be prepared. Presidential electors also will be named.

Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president, has been invited to speak in Dallas and it is indicated that he will accept. The first meeting of the party for the coming campaign was held here this week.

Clubs Raise Funds For Aid of Crippled Children

AMARILLO, Texas, June 19. (UP)—The federated clubs of Potter county with the assistance of other organizations are engaged in a campaign to raise funds to aid crippled children in the Panhandle to get proper treatment.

The clubs are donating $50 monthly for this purpose and the Judge J. W. Crudington class of the First Presbyterian church has given $100 to aid one child. The money was raised in two minutes.

WICHITAN SUES OIL COMPANY

$3049 Damage From Salt Water Claimed

Alleging that his actual loss because of salt water flowing from oil leases into creeks running through his homestead has been in excess of $4000, M. L. Banta Tuesday filed suit in the district court against the Empire Gas and Fuel company seeking $3049.50 damages.

The Empire Gas and Fuel company is held liable by the plaintiffs for 75 per cent of the total damages.

Mr. Banta sets out in his petition that salt water from wells drilled on the Empire lease was drained into the creek which waters Mr. Banta's homestead.

In his petition Mr. Banta arrives at a damage to his property and livestock at $4066.

This amount was reached by an estimate on the individual damage done.

Hauling of 25 barrels of water daily at a cost of $8 per week caused an expenditure of $256. Stock depreciated in value, because a steady water supply was removed, the petition sets out, causing a loss of $210.

Because of the withdrawal of good water production of butter from 16 cattle was cut 40 pounds per week, causing a loss of 300 pounds valued at 50 cents, making a total of $150.

Other damage claimed by Mr. Banta includes depreciation of a three-acre orchard, $450; depreciation of 285 acres of pasture land, $2850; total loss, $4066.

Mabel Boll Plans To Return to New York

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 19. (UP) The monoplane Columbia in which Miss Mabel Boll and her two companions had planned a flight to Europe, will return to New York at the first favorable change of weather, it was announced tonight.

Miss Boll abandoned plans for a flight to Europe when Miss Amelia Earhart of Boston, won the honor of being the first woman to make the crossing in an airplane. It was believed that a conversation with Charles A. Levine, owner of the Columbia, prompted the decision to return to New York.

Cattle Bring New Top Price in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, June 19. (AP)—A new top for the year for mixed grades of cattle was established on the local market today when 22 short horn yearlings and heifers averaging 996 pounds brought $15 a hundred pounds, the highest price paid for any class of cattle since the second week in April. The lot was sold by H. C. Yelkin, Auburn, Neb., to the Joseph Baum Packing company.

TOUGH SENTENCE

City Clerk Leaves For "Bath in Gulf" On Council "Order"

Under sentence of the city council to take one bath in the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston, W. E. McBroom, city clerk, will be missing from his office Tuesday and every day for the next 10 days.

Phrasing his request for his annual vacation in an unusual manner, Mr. McBroom asked the council a week ago Monday night "for permission to take a bath at Galveston and to attend a certain important convention at Houston." On motion of Alderman Patton, he was ordered to do it.

The start for the Galveston dip and the Houston convention will be made Tuesday morning, as Mr. McBroom cleaned up and closed up his desk Monday.

SHOWMEN SEE BETTER MOVIES

"Talking Pictures" to Fore During Season

Talking motion pictures will hold the center of the stage this coming theatrical season.

This was the announcement made Tuesday night by T. B. Noble Jr., city manager of local Dent theaters, at the close of the one-day convention of Dent theater executives of the north Texas district.

140 Features

"There will be about 140 talking motion picture features made this season where there were less than a dozen last season, Mr. Noble said. "The outlook is mighty good for lovers of good amusement.

"Attractions of all kinds will be above the average. Amusement seekers will have the opportunity of enjoying shows week by week which are consistently better than ever before."

Dent in Charge

L. L. Dent, president of the company, was in charge of the meeting which was held in the offices of the Olympic theater. Other company officers and city managers attending the meeting include: W. E. Paschall, general manager; Leon Grandjean, publicity director; J. R. Isleib, purchasing agent; Lloyd Rust, booking agent; W. R. Winch, Amarillo manager; Robert Sparks, Vernon manager; Bill Wood and John Burks of Abilene; Hugh Plath and Edward Wright of Breckenridge; J. T. Hughes, Ranger manager; Grover Campbell, Denton manager, and T. B. Noble Jr., Wichita Falls manager.

Owsley Undertakes Strenuous Campaign

Alvin Owsley is working out one of the busiest speaking campaigns of his career, according to W. E. George, local attorney.

The schedule announced by Mr. George Tuesday shows that Mr. Owsley spoke in Fort Worth Tuesday night, and that he will make two speeches Wednesday at Cleburne and Hillsboro. One is in the afternoon and one in the evening. Thursday night he will talk at Waco.

Georgetown will hear him Friday afternoon, and Austin, Friday night. Saturday he is again scheduled to make two addresses. In the afternoon he will be at Giddings, and in the evening at Hallettsville.

KIWANIS HOLD OUTDOOR MEET

Camp Fire Girls' Band Gives Music

The Wichita Falls Kiwanis club held a picnic at Weeks park Monday night in celebration of International Kiwanis convention at Seattle. The convention program was announced over radio station KFOA at Seattle and meetings similar to that of the Wichita Falls Kiwanians were held in cities all over the United States and Canada.

Lunches for the picnic last night were prepared by the Campfire girls. The new Campfire Girls band furnished music for the entertainment and was well received.

The principal address of the evening was given by Julian Bobo on his observance of the Kiwanis "zero hour."

The Rev. Floyd A. Bash read the message of Henry C. Heinz, international Kiwanis president to the Wichita Falls Kiwanians.

Building Addition

A new $1000 front is to be installed in the shoproom in the Staley building at 711 Eighth street, recently occupied by the Dave Paul jewelry store. This was revealed Tuesday in the city clerk's building permit records when Taylor Brothers, contractors, were given the permit to go ahead with the work on the request of C. R. Taylor. The Cawthorn Jewelry company is planning to open in the old location of the Paul store.

Ironing Board Burns

Firemen were called out about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night to extinguish an ironing board fire at the DeLuxe Dry Cleaners' plant at 914 Scott avenue. No damage was reported.

Leave On Vacation

Miss Jennie Mary Twinning and Miss Sarah Jane Horsman of the Walker-Hargrave hospital are leaving for a two-week vacation at Austin.

Today At the Theaters

OLYMPIC: Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in "Sailors' Wives." Our Gang comedy.

MAJESTIC: Billie Dove and Clive Brook in "The Yellow Lily." Aesop's fables. Topics of the day. Paramount news.

STRAND: (Vitaphone pictures.) Dolares Costello in "Tenderloin." Anna Case in "LaFiesta." Johnny Marvin in song and instrumental music.

GARDEN: Colleen Moore in "Her Wild Oat." Comedy.

GEM: "Wild Born." Serial.

"This is sure a friendly year," said a hard working man last night. "Every time you walk down the street and see some stranger in a dark suit and high stiff collar, he speaks, grins, looks patronizing and dumb like a fox. Then he slips the little card. It usually tells of his imaginary virtues, and then lets you in on the big secret that he is vain enough to think he is capable of holding down some really important office."

Looks as if the sidewalks of Wichita Falls are going into competition with the theaters as amusement centers.

And another thing! It wouldn't be a bad idea if we had a little city manager form of government in larger political fields.

Warner Fabian, quite a popular writer of modern novels, is the author of "Sailors' Wives," the book which First National pictures has so excellently adapted to the screen. This picture is now at the Olympic.

"Laugh, Clown, Laugh," one of the greatest romantic tragedies of the stage of recent years, has been transferred to the screen by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Lon Chaney is starred. Eastern critics have been panning the picture, and that means a lot. Generally when they get out their little hammers, it is because some picture man did something to displease them. Also, the pictures they pan are usually good pictures. Therefore, more than usual interest attaches to the coming presentation of the picture at the Majestic on Sunday.

Billie Dove is drawing extremely interested throngs at "The Yellow Lily" at the Majestic. It's one picture which the crowds coming out all seem to like. If you want to get the true opinion of the public on a picture, just park in front of the entrance and listen to the crowd. The show is fresh in mind, and the comments flow. If the show is unpopular, the fact is known in a minute. If it is liked, that fact is known quickly.

Those who haven't seen and heard "Tenderloin," the talking motion picture at the Strand, should do so at once if they intend to do so. "Tenderloin" won't be here much longer, and as it is by far the greatest advance in motion pictures to date, every one should take it in.

Bradley and Roberts Discuss Radio Work

T. A. Bradley and P. B. Roberts spoke on "Radio Broadcasting As a Community Advertisement" which was the subject discussed at the weekly luncheon of the Advertising club Tuesday at the Kemp hotel.

Wichita Falls citizens who have worked toward getting a local broadcasting station were praised by Mr. Bradley in his talk.

Mr. Roberts declared that he felt that a radio should be used as a community benefit rather than for the profit of any single individual.

Al Smith was declared a very capable man by H. B. Sturgeon of Albany, New York, guest of E. B. Lehrack, in an impromptu speech.

Realtors Endorse Clark Farm Plan

Realtors of Wichita Falls pledged their support to Mora C. Clark at the Tuesday meeting of the Real Estate board in the Kemp hotel, in the development of a 2000-acre tract in the irrigated valley. Mr. Clark made a short talk, saying that such a project is soon to start and that the support of the entire city is necessary to put it over.

Judge R. O. Kenley urged home ownership and approved support of the Clark project.

Mrs. P. A. Welty presided at the meeting and named a committee to plan a basket picnic for the realtors.

Kuykendall Agent On South Plains Line

The South Plains railroad, a branch of the Fort Worth and Denver, from Estelline to Plainview and Lubbock has been completed and a general agency established in Plainview.

E. C. Kuykendall, formerly traffic, freight and passenger agent for the Denver and Wichita Valley railroad at Abilene, has been appointed general agent and will sign bills of lading for points on the line where agencies have not been established.

BAND HOLDS FIRST BANQUET

W. E. George Chief Speaker At Panhandle Party

The Panhandle Refining company band, directed by Paul Seeds, will celebrate its first anniversary with a banquet at the Kemp hotel Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The band was organized June 19, 1927, and has given concerts in Vernon, Electra, Holliday, Burkburnett, Henrietta, Seymour and Dallas during the last year.

James Giddings, vice president of the band, will act as toastmaster.

The new officers for the band will be installed by W. H. Bailey and W. E. George, post commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

City Manager George D. Fairtrace and the officials of the Panhandle Refining company will be guests at the banquet.

Raymond Teller Enters Willacy Race For Sheriff

RAYMONDVILLE, Texas, June 18.—Raymond Teller, a government boarder at Leavenworth prison now, today became a candidate for sheriff here.

While sheriff of Willacy county, Teller was found guilty of working Mexican prisoners on the ranch of a friend.

The townfolks, having learned that Teller will be released from prison in August, have entered his name in the race for sheriff and raised a campaign fund.

16 CALLED FOR JURY SERVICE

Wichitans Included In Panel

Sheriff W. G. Bralley was notified to summon a panel of 16 men for grand jury service in the July term of 30th district court Tuesday morning by Miss Eunice Jackson, district clerk. The panel is called for July 2 at 9 a. m.

Of the 16 men who will make up Wichita county's next grand jury, one is from Iowa Park, three from Burkburnett, five from Electra and seven from Wichita Falls.

The panel will include: W. B. Chauncey, G. D. Anderson, F. W. Prechel, A. J. Weeth, H. Willis, W. E. George and O. A. Jones, all of Wichita Falls; L. B. Crissey, Fred Boden and J. H. BIBLE SCHOOL TO END WORK

Final Program Wednesday At Sibley-Taylor

The two-weeks' summer vacation Bible school of the Sibley-Taylor Methodist church will be brought to an end at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, with a program of readings and music presided over by Mrs. L. E. Ayers.

The program will be as follows: Vocal solo by A. M. Davenport; reading by Helen Arnold, intermediate student; piano solo by a member of the junior department; a reading by a junior member; a piano solo by a student of the intermediate department; a talk on "The Jubilee Program," by Mrs. L. H. Gilbert, president of the Women's Missionary society; a playlet, "The Jubilee Party," and five special songs.

The school has had an enrollment of 57 pupils who have attended regularly, Mrs. Ayers said. An exhibit will be given of the accont books made by the pupils as well as of the dolls representing different nations, made by the classes. An award will be made for the best account book entered in the exhibit.

Maskat Patrol To Give Benefit Dance

A benefit dance will be given by the Maskat temple Arabic patrol in the Maskat temple club rooms Tuesday night, June 26. The proceeds of the dance will be used to purchase new uniforms and for the trip of the Imperial council next year.

The dance is open to all Master Masons and their families as well as Shriners.

A first class orchestra has been obtained to furnish the music and tickets may be obtained at the door on the night of the dance.

Camp Fire Executive Joins City Recreation Department Program

Mrs. R. E. Davis, assistant Camp Fire executive, will have charge of the recreational work for the park department of Wichita Falls for the balance of the summer, according to announcements made Tuesday by C. C. Bunnenberg, park supervisor. She will be assisted by Camp Fire Girls and volunteer workers.

A corps of workers will have charge of the storytelling, play, basketry, nature study and similar things under this program.

The sing-songs, vaudeville programs, baseball games and picture shows will continue under Mr. Bunnenberg and C. C. Frazee in Mr. Bunnenberg's department.

The evening amusement program for the remainder of the week follows:

Wednesday night: Motion pictures at the Carrigan schoolgrounds.
