LAY CORK FIRE TO TERRORISM OF ARMY RULE

Says British Military Edict Caused Conflagration and Followed Day of Firing and Sniping.

Irish Labor Party Scores Ignorance of Englishman as to Geographical Facts in Question.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—What is alleged to be the sworn testimony of some 70 eye-witnessee describing the burning of public buildings and stores in Cork on December 11 and 12, last, as unprovoked and unjustifiable, and the prevailing condition of Ireland under British militiary rule as one of "lawless terrorism" was issued today by the Irish labor party and trades union congress, through the medium of the London headquarters of the British labor party.

The document is in the form of a report, printed and published in Dublin.

The report, which is described by its authors as the result of an impartial inquiry instituted immediately after the conflagration, contradicts statements made by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, that the Sinn Fein were the incendiaries responsible, accuses the crown forces being guilty and challenges the government to publish the findings of the military inquiry instead by Major General Strickland, in command of the troops.

Americans Testify.

The third assistant engineer, a fireman and boatswain of the American steamship West Cannon, are among these from whose evidence extensive excerpts are used. With reference to these statements, the report says, it was necessary to conceal the identity of the wienesses; otherwise they would not have volunteered their evidence.

Recalling Greenwood's assertions on December 13 that "it is obviously to the interest of the government to find the perpetrators of this outrage," the report declared.

"If so, then thi sinvestigation is to the interest of the government for it certainly succeeded in finding the perpetrators of this outrage."

Contradicting Sir Hamar Greenwood's statement that the fire started in the Patrick street stores and spread to the other buildings, among them the city hall, which is a considerable distance away on the opposite side of the River Lee, the report says:

Refers Secretary to Map.

"It is a pity the chief secretary does not know a little more about the topography of the country is supposed to rule, he could then lie more."

A map of Cork city is attached to the report, with a reproduction of one published in a London afternoon paper the day after the fire, which, the report charges, was "faked" in order to substantiate the official report on the burning, issued by the Irish office.

Disputing the suggestion that the burning partook of the nature of a reprisal for the ambushing of a party of crown forces at Dillon's cross, it is declared that long before this attack occurred, namely at 8 o'clock in the evening, it was known there was going to be trouble in the city, shooting and quarreling among the blacks and tans having been going on throughout the evening.

A summary of the voluminous testimony follows purporting to prove that the burnings and ensuing arson and other outlawry were carried out entirely by the Cork crown forces. The report emphasizes that it "was while the military had sole and complete charge of the streets and while no civilian might go abroad without a permit that the city was burned and looted.. "This alone," it adds, "is enough to decide the authorship of the fires."

To provide for further expansion of the present site of Texas university, Representative A. H. TEXAS GAINS 1 REPRESENTATIVE BY HOUSE BILL

Redistricting Problem Arises Out of House Reapportionment Bill; Legislature to Act or Wait.

Possibility West Texas Will Not Get New District in Spite of General Feeling Favoring Section.

By B. N. TIMMONS
(Record News Washington Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—When the Texas legislature comes to redistrict the state and carve out the additional district provided for under the reapportionment measure, which passed the house today, it will face one of the knottiest problems it ever has. Every Texas congressman is now representing more than the 242,237 provided for under the new act. As a result, the new district may be carved out in any part of Texas the legislature may desire.

It has been taken for granted that west and northwest Texas would get a new district but this is not necessaryily true.

To carve out a place for the nineteenth Texas member, every one of the eighteen present districts will have its composition changed. The growth of such cities as Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Beaumont, and smaller cities in east, central and south Texas has more than offset the gain in urban and rural population in west and northwest Texas. Texas members of congress doubt that the Texas legislature will reach redistricting this year.

If they do not, the nineteenth Texas congressman must be elected at large in 1921.

Fifteen Texas members voted for the Barbour amendment keeping the membership of the house at 435. Hardy of Corsicana, and Bee, of San Antonio, voted against it and were in favor of increasing the membership. Congressman Black of Clarksville, was paired in favor of the Barbour amendment but with Congressman Howard of Oklahoma, had been called from the chamber to arrange for the removal to Houston of the body of T. A. Johnson, Houston cotton man who died here last night. Mr. Black was at the station when the vote was taken.

An amendment by Congressman Jones of Amarillo to cut the house membership, beginning March 4, 1923 was voted down 203 to 27.

SOME LOSE; SOME GAIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—At the end of the most turbulent session of the present congress, the house late today adopted the reapportionment bill with an amendment limiting its membership for the next ten years to the present total of 435.

As the bill stands, the states which will lose representation in the house are: Missouri, two; Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island and Vermont, one each. These 12 seats will be shifted to eight in this order: California, three; Michigan, two; Ohio, two and Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington, one each.

Knockout Clause Lost

Right at the start the effort was made literally to knock the bill in the head by striking out the enacting clause. It started a row during which the house frequently gets its feet tangled in parliamentary proceedings from which it was lifted back into an orderly run with difficulty. After deciding to go ahead with the measure, Representative Barbour, republican, California, member of the census committee, which reported it, proposed the 435 maximum amendment, around which the battle was waged. Other amendments were offered, one to cut the membership to 307 and another to raise it to 460. Both were voted down in a rear of noes.

After the real fight had been settled, Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, came up with a proposal to reduce house seats in states where negroes are denied the right of franchise, and the battle started afresh. Representative Longworth, republican, Ohio, raised a point of order against the Tinkham amendment and after nearly two hours of debate the point was sustained.

Another wrangle developed over an amendment by Representative Barbour to perfect trouble by providing that the machinery for re-districting in the eleven states which will lose seats after March 4, 1923. The Barbour plan and many substitutes finally were defeated and the several states will be left to work out the problem in accordance with long established custom and law.

Playing of lewd songs on phonographs would be punished by heavy fines and jail sentences. Slot machines displaying obscene pictures are placed under ban.

HARDING DELAYS NAMING CABINET JOB APPOINTEES

President-Elect Smashes Tip Democrat Was Slated for One Post; Believes, He Says, in Party Rule.

Hughes and Dawes Not to Run Off With Early Appointments to Treasury and State Portfolios.

By Associated Press.

MARION, Ohio, Jan. 19.—The task of selecting a cabinet has been so difficult for President-elect Harding that he has given up his plan of making early definite selections for two or three of the more important portfolios.

Without indicating the exact nature of the complex problems he has encountered, he said tonight that, after several weeks of consultation, he was not disposed to commit himself in regard to any one of the cabinet places until he was ready to make final selections for all of them.

"I had thought originally," he said, "to name two or three cabinet places in advance, to permit the parties named to take up informally the work that is to be theirs. But I have found it so difficult to fit in an administrative organization that I am not disposed to make definite tenders and have men accept until I myself have made up a complete organization.

"There is no semblance of any marked drive, either for or against, either in support or in opposition, to any individual. There are the natural currents of both political and personal recommendations, the natural cross-currents of personal, individual and factional opposition. It is all normal, and does not keep me awake nights.

"I am thinking all the time of getting an organization best fitted to serve the country. I am a partisan. I believe in party government. I am going to have a republican cabinet. But no selection will be made because of party obligation without consideration for the best service of the country."

The emphasis placed by him on his desire for a "republican cabinet" was taken to have direct reference to widely published stories that he would disregard the usual method of giving cabinet positions to those who had been active in party politics, and might even go so far as to name a democrat to one of the ten places in his official circle.

It is understood that the secretaryships of state and treasury were the two Mr. Harding had hoped to scratch off the doubtful list early in the new year. Charles Evans Hughes of New York generally has been regarded as first choice for the former place, and Charles G. Dawes of Illinois, for the latter, but recent developments have surrounded both of these selections with uncertainties.

Definite announcement was made tonight that he would return from Florida to Marion before the inauguration. He will spend only one day here, however, arriving on March 2 and leaving on March 3 for Washington.

SAYS WORKMEN MUST CHOOSE BETWEEN LAWS

Edict of Organized Labor and That of State or Government May Bring on Clash, Judge Declares.

By Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 19.—Workmen of the United States may soon be called upon to choose between the law of organized labor and that of state or federal government, W. L. Huggins of Topeka, presiding judge of the Kansas court of industrial relations, told the annual convention of Northwestern Lumbermen's association here today.

"There is more bolshevism in this country than we are willing to admit," he asserted, "but I believe that the great majority of American workmen are loyal and patriotic and, as I told them from the bench down in the mining districts, the time may come when you will be called upon to choose whether you will obey the law of organized labor or whether you will obey the law of the state and government under which you live."

The Kansas court is not a model, he added, but is founded on good legal principles.

Judge Huggins advised his auditors to keep the heart warm and the head cool when going about the solution of great industrial problems.

WORCESTER IS SPOTTED WITH GIGANTIC FIRE

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 19. The origin of fires that caused more than $1,500,000 property damage in the business district of this city today had not been determined tonight. While militia companies were held at the armory in readiness for assistance to the exhausted firemen in the case of new fires, state police searched the ice shrouded ruins for clues.

The flames started in the Knowles building. Shortly afterward a building more than three-quarters of a mile away was discovered ablaze.

Efforts were made to determine whether this second fire was of incendiary origin.

WORCHESTER, Mass., Jan. 19. This city was spotted by fires early today with a loss that ran upwards of $1,000,000.

Two business buildings on Main street, heavily stocked with merchandise, were burned out a few blocks south of the city hall, a score of tenement structures were overrun by sparks that caused roof blazes and guests at the Bancroft and New Park hotels, situated between the business and tenement district, prepared to follow the tenement dwellers into the zero temperature of the streets.

While this epidemic of flames engaged all the city's appartus, another fire spot developed several blocks northeast of the city hall at North Foster and Union street where the wood working plant of the M. K. Smith corporation was burned with a loss of $100,000.

The origin of the principal fires was not definitely determined, but the police said they had only the faintest suspicion of incendiarism.

The fire area was too great to be adequately covered by the city's fire fighting forces, and Boston, Clinton, Milfridge and Westboro were called to send additional apparatus.

The flames skirted the building of the Worcester Evening Post, but were kept away by a curtain of water. The consequent cellar flood put the paper's pressroom out of commission and spoiled a large quantity of newsprint paper.

The first fire started in the Knowles building, at Main and Thatham streets, two blocks south of city hall. A high northwest wind picked up the embers and scattered them over the center of the city.

PUBLIC, FAMILIES AND FRIENDS WELCOME BALLOONISTS HOME

The returning balloonists and their relatives and friends photographed at a New York hotel soon after arrival. Left to right, are: Miss Alexandra Flowerton, Lieut. Kloor's sweetheart; Lieut. Farrell; his son, Eugene; Mrs. Farrell, Lieut. Kloor, Mrs. and Lieut. Hinton.

It was a joyous group of families, friends, fellow fliers and interested citizens that met the three U. S. navy balloonists on their return to New York from their narrow escape from death in the Canadian wilds. The three fliers, Lieutenants Louis Kloor, Jr., Stephen Farre, and Walter Hinton, were rescued near Moose Factory on James Bay, Canada, after being lost three days when their balloon was carried 800 miles from New York in a storm. The map gives the main points and dates in their adventure.

1—The three balloonists left Rockaway, N. Y., about noon on December 13. The balloon drifted northward over New York state, passing over Wells, N. Y., and the Adirondacks. A storm caught them, night came down, and they were driven far to the north.

2—After drifting all night and the next morning, the three descended on the shores of James Bay, in the wilds of Canada. They had made the 800 mile trip in a little over twenty-four hours, and during this time they had seen but little, except the storm clouds below them. They wandered four days in the woods, and on December 18 were led into Moose Factory by an Indian, when they were on the verge of death. They left there December 28 for the 200 mile trip to the railroad at Mattice.

3—On January 11, the three, with their guides, reached Mattice, on the transcontinental railroad. They had come 200 miles through woods and snow. This trip ordinarily takes eleven days or more. They were lost to the world for twenty-nine days in all.

4—From Mattice they returned to New York by rail, going by way of Cochrane, North Bay, Ottawa, Montreal and Albany.

5—The time from Mattice to New York is estimated at about two days, fifteen hours.

TERMS BILL TO REGULATE COAL UPHEAVAL PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Provisions of the Calder bill for federal regulation of the coal industry were denounced as "revolutionary in their application to existing relations of American government and industry," by J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal Association, today before the senate manufacturer's committee. Another witness, Huston Thompson, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, appearing late today, however, began an endorsement of the measure, which was cut short by adjournment.

When Mr. Morrow remarked that the committee "between three days" was passing upon a proposal for price fixing, and a measure that was "barely short of nationalization of coal mines," Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, reiterated that members of the committee had "spent months and years in study of the situation."

Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, declared he was seeking "common ground" for the various conflicts before the committee and asked Mr. Morrow whether the provisions of the Calder bill for publicity of production costs, prices, distribution and stocks of coal were objectional to mine owners.

"If we could be sure," replied Mr. Morrow, "that in consenting to the compulsory demand of the government for these statistics, we would not be admitting interpretations of the constitution and its principles which would allow the government to go far beyond that. I think you would have little trouble."

More Than 100 Mexicans Slain And 200 Injured

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—More than 100 persons were drowned and more than 200 others were injured in the disaster yesterday at Pachuca when two dams above the city broke and torrents of water swept through the lower sections of this big mining center, according to the latest reports. A thousand persons were rendered homeless.

BOARD TO POLL FARMER VOTES ON AGENT HERE

A thorough county-wide canvass of farmers, bankers and merchants, to determine their real sentiment toward the employment of farm and home demonstrators was decided upon at a conference of the county development committee at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon.

If it is found that it is the real sentiment of the leading farmers and business men that such agents be employed, the county commissioners will again be asked to make this appointment.

Recently the commissioners refused to pay a part of such a cost, with the state and the commercial organizations of Wichita Falls, Burkburnett, Electra and Iowa Park agreeing to bear the principal expense.

Representatives of Burkburnett and Electra were present at the meeting. Iowa Park representatives were not present at the conference, but prominnt representatives of that place were in the office of Secretary Chatham of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon and pledged their support to such a course.

SAYS 32 LINES IN YOUR THUMB SPOT YOU OUT

There are 32 distinctive marks in your thumb. They were there when you were born. They'll stay till you die. And nobody else has the same kind but all the rest of us have the same number of "distinctifiers."

That was the statement of Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of Wichita, Kansas at the First Methodist church Wednesday night in an address on "Thumbs." His statement was made to draw an analogy with character and its "distinctive marks." The address was made in connection with an official visit by the dignitary to the leading Methodist Episcopal churches of Texas. In his jurisdiction are more than 1200 congregations of the southwest.

The speaker pointed out three corollaries for young people. First: "God has a definite plan in life for you."

Second: "God will reveal the definite plan to you when you pray, when you read a book, when you hear a sermon or some other time."

Third: "God will see that you carry out your definite plan in life."

"I never knew a person to try to do soemthing that some one else did but what they failed," declared the speaker, who dwelt at length on the need for people to develop an individual personality.

Drawing an analogy between the different uses of the thumb, and its importance to the whole of the hand, with the various phases of religious life, the speaker enumerated several characteristics of Christian people, which resemble still, sore, or lame thumbs. The need of friendly and social feeling in the church was emphasized. Co-operation, progressiveness and tithing were discussed by the speaker.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Russian soviet agent in this country, who recently was ordered deported, will be accompanied by 51 other Russians when he sails Saturday from New York, according to information received by the government. The party is to go on the Swedish American liner Stockholm.

With Martens will be his wife and two children and employes in this country of the Russian soviet government who have been recalled. They include Weinstein, chancellor of the soviet bureau, who has been arrested on a deportation warrant; Boris Roustam Bek, military adviser of the bureau and a number of other officials and employes.

The soviet government is to pay for the transportation of all those in the party except Martens, whose expenses will be borne by the American government as he has been ordered deported. Eighteen first class cabins have been reserved for the party.

Colonel Balked At Signing and Saved Millions

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The name of Martin J. Gillen, former special assistant to John Barton Payne, chairman of the United States shipping board, was brought into the Walsh congressional committee's inquiry of the board's affairs here today by Colonel E. H. Abadie, former general comptroller.

Testifying as to the handling of the board's funds, Abadie cited what he termed "an unpleasant incident" which confronted him as the result of an attempt to settle requisition claims.

'Gillen summoned me to his office by phone early in December, 1919, and told me to appear at his office at 3 o'clock to certify some records," the witness said. "I was presented with a number of typewritten certificates, carrying payments of millions of dollars to former owners of requisition bulls, and requested me to sign on the dotted line."

Colonel Abadie said he refused and ascertained, through a special investigator that "had I certified as demanded by Mr. Gillen that afternoon in the office the fleet corporation would have lost millions."

IRISH REPUBLIC BUILDS UP BIG SHIPPING TRADE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — The provisional Irish republic, through its consular service, is building up a large and successful direct shipping service between Ireland and other countries, especially with the United States, the commission of the committee of one hundred, investigating the Irish question, was told today by J. L. Fawsitt, who said he was the Irish consul general at New York.

A fortnightly service between New York and Cork, Mr. Fawsitt said, is in operation, and another service will open soon between Boston and Irish ports.

England was said by Fawsitt to be making every effort to prevent direct shipping with Ireland. He added the opinion that "on account of her large debt to the United States, Great Britain probably will not take extreme measures to embarass American foreign shipping," although it has subjected every shipment to search and other indignities.

No passenger vessels are allowed to land in Ireland direct from America, the witness declared, adding that this was England's effort to "stifle American passenger service that would compete with the British monopoly."

Constant warfare has been waged against Irish shipping by English seaport towns, he declared.

Extensive data and figures, intended to show the result of British economic repression in Ireland were presented by Fawsitt, summed up the matter as a "clash between two forms of civilians, the centralized, capital controlled government represented by Great Britain on one hand, and a co-operative community system represented by the Irish republic on the other.

"The black and tans, by wholesale destruction of creameries, dairies, banks and other industries operated by the co-operative effort and capital of the Irish farmers are fighting the battles of the British trusts," he declared. "Thus destruction has amounted to an equal loss of $5,000,000 but potentially, by crippling a flourishing and growing system, it has caused losses amounting to probably hundreds of millions."

APPOINT EIGHT TEACHERS FOR CITY SCHOOLS

The appointment of eight teachers in the city schools, five of whom will be assigned to rooms recently completed at the Austin building was announced Wednesday by Lee Clark, superintendent of city schools. Mr. Clark said that definite assignments will probably be made Thursday or Friday.

The teachers whose appointments were made known Wednesday are: Misses Mamie Ralston, Margaret Watson, Lilly McGee, Mamie Crump and Violet Clark and J. Rutherford and Luther Waggoner.

Mr. Clark also announced that he had inspected and accepted the new type of gravity chute fire escapes, of which two were installed at the Senior High school and three at the Austin building.

The children slide down the chute type fire escapes, thus enabling teachers to empty a building in much less time than when the old type ladder escapes are used.

Deranged by Flu Mother Kills 3 Babies and Self

By Associated Press.

WINCHESTER, Va., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Mary Glenn Hicks, wife of Stanley H. Hicks, shot and killed three of her four children early today at her home near here, then killed herself. She is believed to have been mentally deranged, due to a recent attack of influenza.

The dead children are Walter, aged 6 years; Margaret, 5, and Stewart, 3. The mother used a shotgun, and the position of the bodies indicated that the children had sought to shield themselves. Hicks and his eldest daughter were asleep upstairs and only awoke when Mrs. Hicks turned the weapon on herself.

AD CLUB STUDIES WITH A. C. EASLEY ACTING AS LEADER

A well attended and very enthusiastic meeting of the study division of the Ad Club was held at the William-Mary last evening, taking up their weekly study under the direction of A. C. Easley of the Wichita State Bank. The teacher for the evening is selected from the members of the Ad Club study division, a new one being appointed each week, whose duty it is to prepare the lesson for the following week. The members of the class feel that much good is being derived from the meetings.

One of the features of the meeting is that each week a different class of advertising is indulged in. For instance, at the last meeting, H. J. Forrester of the Kemp Hotel cafe offered a prize for the best ad on French pastry. This week W. S. Brown of the Goodner Grocer Company offered prizes for the best ad on Del Monte brand peaches, Maxwell House coffee, and other products distributed by this wholesale house.

A pleasant feature of last night's meeting was that at the close of the meeting the samples of goods brought by Mr. Brown were opened and the members enjoyed a social half hour after the study hour.

H. L. HUNTER AGAIN HONORED.

H. L. Hunter has been again elected manager of the Clearing House association here.

He has held this post since the organization of the clearing house and held it satisfactorily. Mr. Hunter is to be congratulated.

There are other things too numerous to mention herein for which we are grateful to the business men of this city, but I believe that every student of the Wichita Falls high school knows and appreciates the fact that the business men are behind the high school in all it does and says.

High school students are insistent in pleas that big business men answer their rallying cry for a new and larger high school. W. B. Hamilton of the Texhoma company, speaking before the University club Tuesday, was one of the first to answer this plea.

He thinks a million-dollar school should be built here by public subscription without waiting for taxation measures.

Mr. Hamilton's suggestion was an offshoot of the discussion over the proposed junior college here.

This developed another "hot shot" for the cause of education when Rev. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, said:

"I cannot understand an attitude of mind which will make men go crazy over a jug factory, an insane asylum or an undertaking establishment and stand dead cold on organizing an educational business."

SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION.

If a man was to be cast on a desert island, hungry, thirsty and tired; with only a few rags on his back and with no visible means of sustenance, how long would he be able to endure the twin tortures of hunger and thirst? How long would he be able to keep alive that vital spark called life? Not every long, at any rate, for Mother Nature refuses to be cheated of her due. In just such a way a high school cannot hope to get anywhere if it does not receive the help and co-operation of the Townspeople. It would be as foolish to put the roots of a tree and expect it to live as to fail to secure the much-needed co-operation of the business men of this town in all of the school activities. They pay the taxes from which our teachers receive their salaries, and they, too, buy the bonds with which our school building is erected. Then we are not to consider them in planning something for this high school? They have as much interest in our school as we have ourselves, and are working for its success just as much as we are. Because of their more mature wisdom they have recognized this fact and, as a result, we feel deeply indebted to them for the work they have already done this school year.

As a concrete example, we mention the work of the University club, an organization of the business men of this city who have at one time or the other attended some American university. Last year our annual, the "Coyote," was unable to obtain advertisements to help in defraying its cost of publication; and the advertising manager of "The Ranger" met with difficulty in securing advertisements for that publication. This was because the Retail Merchants' association of this city did not believe that it paid to advertise in the school periodicals. The University club went to work to get the Retail Merchants' association to change their opinion of the advertising in the "Coyote" and "The Ranger" and early in October Mr. William Viner, president of the University club, and Mr. C. E. Rogers, vice-president of that organization, notified the students assembled in chapel that the Retail Merchants' association had endorsed advertising in the school publications. It was gratifying to note the applause with which this announcement was received.—(High School Ranger.)

TEXAS U. MAY BRING BRANCH OF WORK HERE

A branch of the vocational and industrial education department of the University of Texas will probably be installed in the local High school as a result of a conference between Scott J. McGinnis, district representative for this work and local school authorities.

The purpose of this department, Mr. McGinnis says is to advance education along industrial and vocational lines by the establishment of free courses in connection with the High school.

Mr. McGinnis has charge of the preliminary organization and the instruction of competent and skilled tradesmen to assume the positions of teachers.

According to Mr. McGinnis, there are three classes of vocational and industrial schools, those taking up the whole day, the part time classes and the evening classes.

At this time the plans are in such an undetermined form as to prevent any statement as to the kind of a school that will be established, but Mr. McGinnis expressed himself as being highly encouraged by the attitude of Superintendent Lee Clark and others of the school board.

A complete discussion of the matter and a more definite statement of the purpose and aims of the board will be outlined by Mr. McGinnis in a talk before the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

Chips Corners of Four Tenspots to Raise Dollar-Bill

According to a conversation overheard by the inquiring reporter in a local chili parlor, those who are accustomed to deal in bills of large denomination, $10 for instance, should examine said rags with care lest they suffer the sad experience of a certain local bank. This teller, it was said, when he was checked up on the cash at the end of the day, found a one dollar bill, each corner of which has been raised to ten by pasting corners torn off genuine $10 bills.

He paid the $9 difference and asked to retain the raised bill as a souvenir, which the bank cheerfully allowed.

But even a scheme of this sort required considerable nerve as the teller remarked. It is necessary to tear off the corners of four bills to raise one. The banks redeem bills which have only one corner missing, so the enterprising counterfeiter had to exchange the torn bills four times to secure one finished product.

Robbers Beat Bark Dealer Into Unconsciousness, Hurl Him Out Of Auto and Ride Away in Car

BURKBURNETT, Jan. 18.—J. W. Lacefield, age 35, married, was held up about 9 o'clock, three blocks west of the depot, when an unknown man sprang into Lacefield's car that he was driving, struck him over the head, pitched him out into the street in an unconscious condition, then drove away in the car.

Mr. Lacefield was found a few minutes later by passers-by and carried to the Martin Hospital, a block from the scene of the trouble. His wound was pronounced serious. He is still in a semi-conscious condition this morning and unable to give any definite description of his assailant. The new car was found about midnight by Constable John Turnham, near the depot, where it is supposed the party left it on boarding some passing train. No clew as to the identity of the highwayman has been given.

Mr. Lacefield is an individual pipe line dealer and resided with his family on East Main street.

TEXAS TOWNS KICK AT RATE ON COTTON

By Associated Press

GALVESTON, Jan. 19.—Taking of testimony was begun here today before Special Examiner Hunter of the interstate commerce commission on the complaint of Galveston and Houston interests, in which the freight rates on cotton from Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma to Galveston, Texas City and Huston are attacked.

The complaint, filed several months ago with the interstate commerce commission by the Galveston Commercial association, the Galveston Cotton exchange and the Houston Cotton exchange, contends that the existing freight rates on cotton from certain points of origin in the three states named to the Texas ports are unjustly discriminatory as compared with the rates from the same points to New Orleans.

Representatives of the business interests filing the complaint and of the railroads are attending the hearing.

Joplin Man Tells of Wonderful Results He and Wife Got From Tanlac

"My wife and I have both put Tanlac to the test and we say it is the best medicine in the world," said S. L. Thompson, 1516 New Hampshire avenue, Joplin, Mo.

For years my wife had been suffering with stomach trouble and finally got to where she could hardly eat anything. After meals she complained of a heavy, stuffed-up feeling and at times had such cramping pains she just had to give up everything and go to bed. She had headaches constantly and often got so dizzy she could hardly stand. She complained of pains in her back and became so nervous the least thing would upset her and at night she could hardly sleep at all.

"Well, I had been taking Tanlac, and it helped me so much I persuaded her to try it. She eats just anything she wants now and as much as she pleases without feeling the least touch of indigestion. Her appetite is fine and everything agrees with her so well she has gained considerably in weight. Her nerves are in fine condition, too, and she sleeps like a child every night. In fact, she is a well woman and we both think Tanlac a wonder."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tariton Drug company, and by all leading druggists.

Tired of "Sody" Lunches, Sick And Busted, Wichita Girl Hits Down Trail, She Tell Y. W. C. A.

Remember one of O. Henry's famous short stories, one that is used extensively in advertisement of his books and one in which Earl Kitchener's portrait figured extensively? The girl in the story you know, was fed up with hard work, poor food and gloomy outlook, and she was just ready to start out on a party with "Piggy." That trip was saved by the picture of Earl Kitchener.

There's a girl in Wichita Falls who was up against even worse than O. Henry's heroine. During the oil boom days when the most inexperienced office girl could command a salary that would be high in normal times for an experienced stenographer or office worker, this girl came to the city, lured by the fanciful stories of golden adventure.

For a time all went well but all of the high salary went for living expenses. She wanted pretty clothes, of course—what girl does not? and she must have good food. But the desire for clothes led to a shortening of the food, as it too frequently does. Then too, she found that she must be able to really do something, if she expected to continue to hold any position. So she tried to learn stenography.

Temptation Hovers Over

The pie and coffee, and ice cream soda luncheons soon began to tell on the girl's health, and it was hard to be alert and on the job during the day, and keep up the night study. And when the "crowd" wanted to go out for a good time, it was hard to stay cooped up in a room learning pot hooks, so the study was neglected.

The job was lost, and the girl got sick.

Discouraged, sick, and with little or no money temptations that had meant little to her in days of prosperity became threatening. Events in rapid succession brought her one evening to the point where her decision had been made, or she thought it had. It was going to be the "crowd."

Smile Saves Her

That night she happened to go to the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria for supper. There was a holdup in the line, as she waited to go into the cafeteria and as she waited, one of the girls at the desk caught her eye, and smiled pleasantly and spoke. Up over the desk was a big poster, "The Y. W. C. A. A Place of Friends."

When supper was over, the girl did not leave the Y. W. building immediately, but went into the big living room and sat down. It was about time for the "date" with the "crowd" but she hesitated.

Several girls were gathered at the piano and were singing. Other girls were reading, under the gay shaded lights. As the girl sat by the window, undecided, one of the secretaries came over to her, introduced herself, and asked her to join the singing. She joined the group and it was long after the hour of the date before she left the friendly group.

The girl must have had a long and determined self-communion that night for in the morning she was at the Y. W. C. A. for a talk with the secretaries.

Tells Sob Stuff Story

"You saved my life," she said simply. "What I had in mind would have been worse than death."

The Y. W. C. A. was there when it was needed, for the Y. W. C. A. is there all the time. There may be other girls in just such a situation, and it is for such girls as this that the Y. W. C. A. wishes to be always on hand for service.

This is one of the true "sob" stories that have come to the Y. W. C. A. secretaries this year. The workers, both staff and volunteer, who have been giving their time to the work feel that this one service, to this one girl is worth all that is being asked of the citizens of Wichita Falls for the 1921 budget, fifteen thousand dollars.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Baked Ham, Cider Sauce—Cook the ham until tender and then cool in water and remove the skin. Now place in a bowl one cup of brown sugar, two tablespoons of cinnamon, one tablespoonful of nutmeg, one teaspoon of allspice.

Mix and then pat into the ham in the oven and when starting to brown baste with one-half cup of vinegar and one-half cup of boiling water.

Bake ham in a modern oven one hour. Serve with sauce made as follows:

Add to the pan in which the ham was baked one cup of water, four tablespoons of cornstarch and two-thirds cup of cider. Stir to dissolve the starch and then add one-half teaspoon of allspice. Bring to a boil and cook for three minutes.

Peach Custard—Line a buttered shallow baking dish with slived fresh or canned peaches. Beat two eggs until light, add one-half cup sugar, pinch of salt, one heaping teaspoon flour and when smooth add one and one-half cups milk and one teaspoon vanilla. Mix well and pour over peaches. Bake in a moderate oven until thick.

Stuffed Pork Chops—Buy as many pork chops as necessary, cut thick with pocket in. Make dressing as you would for chicken seuffing and insert dressing, place in savory roaster with some water and cook slowly until done, then remove. Add one-half teaspoon kitchen bouquet or meat sauce and serve.

—Celery Soup—For this, use tops and outside stalks of celery left from a previous meal. Boil the celery in plenty of water and salt to taste. When done well, press through a sieve all of the celery and add to water it has been cooked in. Thicken with flour and milk well mixed. Add pepper and more salt and serve very hot.

TASTY SALADS

Cabbage Salad—Put cabbage thru meat chopper, using the coarsest knife, and lay in salt water to crisp for one hour. When ready to use, drain off water, add one pimento, cut fine, and one-half cup chopped peanuts and mix with mayonnaise dressing.

Shrimp Salad—One cup flaked shrimp, one cup chopped celery one-half cup diced potatoes (left overs). Toss the above together with favorite mayonnaise and arrange attractively on plates.

Oyster Salad—Cut oysters into small pieces, mix with diced celery, lemon, sweet red and green pepper, nuts and mayonnaise. Serve ice cold on lettuce.

Orange Salad—Peel and slice thin three oranges and two apples. Separate into bits and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Pineapple Salad—Clean crisp White lettuce leaves. On a bed of these lay slices of fresh pineapple, a few cherries and a sprinkling of English walnuts. The pineapple should be the basis of the salad. Pour mayonnaise over this, then garnish with a few whole cherries and serve ice cold.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

BY EDITH MORIARTY

The woman banker is one of the most interesting developments of the war. Do you remember those war days when behind almost all the cage windows in almost every bank there presided a young woman to take your money or cash your checks instead of the usual dapper youth? Do you remember all the stories carried telling how well the girls were doing and how efficient and capable most of them were?

That was the beginning of a great influx of women into the banking business which was one of the last to change from the old order of "a man for everything except the telephone exchange."

Now we find women in every branch of the banking business. There is even a woman's bank with a woman president and directors in Clarksville, Tenn.

To Miss Adelia M. Stewart, however, goes the honor of being the first woman appointed a national bank examiner. She is now assistant chief of the examining division in the office of the comptroller of currency. Her appointment as a bank examiner was made a few days ago. She is a graduate of the Washington College of Law and a member of the District of Columbia bar.

Miss Adelia M. Stewart.

Mrs. John L. Pyle of Huron was the first woman to be selected by South Dakota as an elector.

Miss Dell Boyd of Reno will carry Nevada's presidential vote to Washington.

Kentucky also chose a woman as the state's representative; and Mrs. Theodora Youmans of Waukesha is on the Wisconsin delegation.

Connie Mack Hits At Salary Bribes For Game Stars

PHILADELPHIA. Jan. 19.—Tampering with the imagination of baseball players by offers of big salaries is the greatest menace the game faces, in the opinion of Connie Mack, manager and part owner of the Philadelphia Americans.

"First divisions," Mack said today, "think that whenever a star is developed all they have to do is advertise that they will pay thousands of dollars for him and then double the salary he is getting from his present club. To my mind that is the biggest menace to baseball that it faces right now. Some of these first division clubs don't seem to realize it, and I think it will take some kind of a ruling by Judge Landis to get it through their heads."

Jay Gould Leads In Title Match On Tennis Court

PHILADELPHIA. Jan. 19.—Jay Gould, open and amateur court tennis champion of America, led Jack Soutar, of the Philadelphia Racquet club, in the first four games of their nine-set challenge match today for the national title. The scores were 6-5, 6-2, 5-6, 6-4. The remaining games will be played on Friday.

Morgan's Heiress Adopts Pug Game

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 19.—[illegible]xing has a friend in Miss Anne [illegible]rgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, who as chairman of the American committee on devastated France, recently promoted the Leonard-Mitchell bout in Madison Square Garden. Miss Morgan was converted into an enthusiast when she witnessed the great battle between the lightweights and she says that she will see more bouts in the future. Miss Morgan is in Cincinnati in the interests of the committee of which she is the head.

State Counsel Maps Plan to Fight Lawless

Fletcher Jones, district attorney, has mapped out a plan through which he expects the lawless element to be definitely driven out of Wichita county.

This he told the members of the Wichita Club Wednesday, and will tell the Rotarians Thursday.

What his plan is, he refused to disclose publicly, but is to outline it to committees from the Wichita and Rotary clubs and the Chamber of Commerce. The co-operation of the Wichita club in his plan was promised through A. H. Britain, president, at their Wednesday luncheon.

Belief that lawlessness in Wichita conty was due to the operations of a well organized band was expressed by Mr. Jones in his talk. He spoke of the conditions which had prevailed in the oil fields until about two or three months ago, when, with the district judges he had secured state officers to aid the local officers in cleaning up the oil fields.

Most of these state officers have now been withdrawn, he said, and the outlaws driven out of the various parts of the oil field are flocking back, creating a very serious situation. The sheriff's department was doing all they could, Mr. Jones declared, but stated that without the real aid of the citizenship inadequate protection would be afforded to the citizens of the county.

President Britain announced the election of Roy B. Jones, Julius Germany and T. J. Morrissey of the Panhandle Refining company to non-resident memberships, and of Bert J. Shaw, production manager, to full membership.

The selection of E. Stanley Field and J. S. Bridwell as the representatives of the Wichita Club in the Chamber of Commerce business council was also announced.

Under the laws of Connecticut, real estate conveyed to a married woman for services or acquired with funds earned by her services may be held by her for her own use, the husband being merely a trustee for the wife's estate after her death, and at his death all of it passing to her heirs or to those named in her will.

Provides Fine of $1000 Up and Jail Term for "Throwin"

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Imprisonment for from one to five years and a fine of $1,000 for professional baseball players who accept bribes to throw games is provided in a bill introduced in the Ohio legislature by Representative Green of Mahoning county today.

Sporting Life

IT ISN'T DONE.

In Switzerland, they do not play,
Our jovial game of ball—
There is no place in Switzerland
To play the game at all—
For the mountain-sides run up as steep
As the average horse's stall!

They never skate, so it is said,
In far-off Zanzibar—
They do not cut the figure eight,
Nor carve the five-tipped star—
For the stock of ice, in that hot joint,
Is way, way under par!

In Labrador and Greenland's isle,
Among the polar snows,
Jack Dempsey'd starve to death, because
They have no boxing shows—
If he went there, they'd eat his gloves—
The hungry Eskimos!

One of the stock fables of the last two years: So-and-so's return from the war "without a scratch." There never was a soldier who went through that great war and didn't get plenty of scratches—scratching was the one great sport, both out door and indoor, during the campaigns.

If two runners near the home plate one right behind the other; and while the catcher is trying to tag the first runner, the other reaches through between the first runner's feet and touches the plate, does the run score if the plate is touched before the catcher tags the first man for the third out?

Forfeit Monies for World's Championship Accounted for Despite Report Bout Is Off

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The forfeit monies of both principals and promoters involved in the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship bout set for July 2 were directly or indirectly accounted for here today. The New York Times carried a report that the match is called off.

As a result, it appears that none of the terms of the contract signed on November 5, 1920, have been violated and so far as can be foreseen at this time, there is no ground for the report that the bout has been cancelled.

The American Security Company, of this city, is said to have issued a bond for promoter Tex Rickard's share of the one hundred thousand dollar forfeit, amounting to $33,333.33.

The United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore issued a similar bond for William T. Brady, while Charles B. Cochran, the English promoter, gave a check for his third responsibility, as he was leaving immediately after the signing of the contract for England and did not have time to arrange for the issuance of the surety bond.

Each of the principals, through his manager, was obliged by the terms of the contract to place a forfeit bond of $50,000 in the hands of the Holding Trust Company on or before last November 20. In the case of Dempsey, his manager, Jack Kearns, arranged with the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Baltimore for such a bond. Carpentier placed a sum equivalent to $50,000 with the Paris firm of Morgan Harjes, with instructions to forward to New York.

According to a cable dispatch from Paris, this amount was deposited November 22, and in a statement from Cochran in London, it was explained that the money had never been transferred to this country owing to the refusal of the French government to permit it to leave France.

All those involved in the match, however, consider the posting of the forfeit of Carpentier in France as being within the terms of the contract.

INDUSTRIAL ILL WILL MUST GO, BISHOP PLEADS

Ill will which still exists between capital and labor is one of the principal problems of the present day, Bishop E. L. Waldorf of the M. E. church told members of the Wichita club at their Wednesday luncheon.

"This feeling must be bridged," he said. "These classes must be drawn together so that they feel like brothers. One class can not advance at the expense of the other."

The speaker declared that in the last 18 months strikes and industrial disturbances had cost this country five millions of dollars each day.

Three things enter into conditions which constitute a serious problem for this country today, the bishop said.

"These are the speed craze, featured by jazz music, the "nervous edge" so apparent in our daily life, and a distinct lowering of ideals all along the line—the latter a some- down from the patriotic fervor of the war."

In connection with his talk, the speaker brought out that statistics show more home troubles in the past three years than in the previous seven, and, in discussing the crime wave, he referred to the fact that Los Angeles in a single year has produced more robberies than all England, Scotland and Wales, and that 23,000 murders are annually done in the United States at the present rate, for which only a fraction of the perpetrators are ever brought to justice.

EXPECTS CUBS TO BE IN AT FINISH

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Bill Killifer, veteran catcher of the Chicago Cubs, expressed his enthusiasm today over the team's prospects for the next season, after signing his 1921 contract in President William L. Veeck's office yesterday.

"It doesn't look like we are going to make a trade that will help us," Killifer said, "but even if we don't I think the Cubs will be in the thick of the fight for the next pennant. Bad luck can't stick to one alway-"

Little Dick Kerr First to Talk of Quittin' or Raise

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Dick Kerr, the diminutive pitcher with the Chicago Americans, is the first holdout of the season. He wrote friends here today that he was dissatisfied because his contract for 1921 did not contain an increase in salary. He asserts he will not report unless granted an increase. Kerr was one of the star lefthanders of last season.

BROWNS SIGN SLAB ARTIST AT STALEY

By Associated Press

DECATUR, Ill., Jan. 19.—Harry Tush, pitcher, who had a successful season with the Staley baseball club during 1920, has signed a contract to play with the St. Louis Browns this season and will report to Manager Fohl February 20.

The Comstock lode produced $340,000,000 of gold and silver in the 30-year period from 1860 to 1890, the largest annual output being in 1877, when $38,000,000 was taken out. The vein was four miles in length and great pockets in the rocks were filled with ore. It was mined to a depth of 3,500 feet, when inflowing water was so hot further depths could not be reached.

TAD'S TID-BITS

JANUARY A MONTH FOR NOTABLE BATTLES.

Two world's championship fights and many others that will be the talk of fans for years to come were fought in the month of January. The greatest of the bunch, however, were the Fitzsimmons-Dempsey battle and the Corbett-Mitchell go.

Here's a list of most prominent ones:

1885—John L. Sullivan and Paddy Donovan, stopped in one round by police, New York.

1887—John L. Sullivan and Patsy Cardiff, six rounds, draw, Minnesota.

18891—Bob Fitzsimmons knocked out Jack Dempsey, thirteen rounds, New Orleans.

1894—Jim Corbett knocked out Charlie Mitchell, three rounds, Jacksonville.

1896—George Dixon-Pedlar Palmer, six rounds, draw, New York.

1901—Young Corbett beat Joe Bernstein, seven rounds, Denver.

1901—Marvin Hart knocked out Al Weinig, eleven rounds, Louisville.

1901—Joe Gans knocked out Kid Herman, eight rounds, Tonopah, Nev.

1902—Tommy Ryan knocked out George Green, seven rounds, Kansas City.

1902—George Gardner lost on foul to Jack Root, seven rounds, San Francisco.

-902 Willie Fitzerald knocked out Marty McCue, six rounds, New York.

1904—Honey Mellody beat Matty Matthews, twelve rounds, Boston.

1905—Frankie Neil knocked out Dick Hyland, fifteen rounds, San Francisco.

1906—Aureelo Herrera knocked out Young Corbett, six rounds, Los Angeles.

1906—Joe Gans knocked out Mike (Twin) Sullivan, fifteen rounds San Fracisco.

1906—While Lewis and Willie Fitzgerald, twenty-five rounds, draw, Colma, Cal.

1909—Leach Cross knocked out Young Otto, five rounds, New York

And they were all in the cold month of January.

No Towel Tossing in Australia.

We learn from Australian papers that a fighter's second has no right to toss a towel into the ring as a token of defeat for his man. This happened when Charles, the French middleweight, lost to Billy Shade there recently. W. F. Corbett in the Sidney Referee, has this to say regarding the manipulation of the laundry:

The throwing in of the towel from the French angle on Saturday night caused a great deal of talk. In my report of the contest I referred to a stadium rule which debarred seconds from interfering. The referee only was allowed to stop a battle. For some time this provision was rigidly insisted upon, but after a while it became more noticed in the breach than the observance. The management has now decided to prevent an occurrence similar to that of Saturday night taking place in the future. They will not interfere with the throwing up of the wipe, while the boxer concerned is in his corner for the minute's spell, unless it appears to them that doing so is unwarranted. But no second shall be permitted to declare his principal beaten while a round is in progress. It is contended, and correctly, that when boxers are fighting, the referee sees as much as the seconds, and is equally, or more, competent to form an opinion as to whether one or the other man is in such a condition that he should not be allowed to continue.

Can You Make This Out?

Out in Frisco the boys have suddenly turned very square, stopping all bouts and closing the dance halls. One of the natives sent us this yesterday:

Former Bicycle Champion in Sad Fix

We clipped the following note from a Western paper. It should interest bicycle fans of years gone by:

Otto Ziegler, formerly world's champion bicicle rider and holder of the Pacific Coast title for many years, who, four years ago enteerd the Adult Home for the Blind, Thirty-sixth street and Telegraph avenue, Oakland, Cal., may shortly regain his sight, according to his physician, Dr. Thomas Dysart.

Zeigler can now recognize colors, and that is considered a very good sign.

Jolly Station Theft Suspect Escapes Jail

J. A. LeCour, held in the Henrietta jail and charged with the robbery of the Jolly depot, when R. Y. Williams, station agent, was beaten into insensibility and the safe looted of about $700 on the night of December 14, and a man by the name of Babcock, held in connection with the theft of an automobile, broke out of the county jail at Henrietta late Wednesday afternoon, according to information received by the police Wednesday night.

Acting on reports that the men had been seen passing through Jolly and headed toward Wichita Falls, city and county officials were, to a late hour Wednesday night, watching the roads and streets of Wichita Falls in the hope of catching the jailbreakers.

No information concerning the particulars of the escape had been obtained by Wichita Falls officials Wednesday night.

DIARIES.

A diary might be described as a one-passenger run-about with a self-starter. That is, it starts itself and runs about a month. Then it rolls over on its back with a low moan.

Anybody can keep a diary but few can keep at it. The excitement is too intense. Imagine the strain of making daily entries like these:

January 4th. Woke up and found it was morning. Ain't nature wonderful! Dressed in customary manner, carefully putting on my socks before attempting to draw on my shoes. Had breakfast of two soft-boiled eggs, three slices of toast and two cups of coffee. Caught the 8:09 and decided to walk to the office from the station but changed my mind and took a street car. Fare 8 cents. Worked all morning packing kippered herrings. Ate corned beef hash for lunch with a poached egg. Price, 60 cents. Worked all afternoon grating nutmegs. Caught 5:10 train home. Another day. Fooled them again.

January 6th—Sunday. Slept till 9 o'clock. Rolled over and slept till 10 o'clock. Rolled over again and slept till 11 o'clock. Got up. Breakfast. Started reading Sunday paper. Aren't these comic artists comical, especially when the little boy hits his father on the head with an axe? Fell asleep again and woke up late in afternoon. Laid down for a nap and slept 'till supper time. Supper. Forget what it was, but it doesn't matter. Had company after supper. Forget what they talked about. It doesn't matter. Went to bed. Another day!

Most diaries are dull. That is because most people are. However, the jazz diary is something else again, Clarice. This is otherwise known as the vamp diary and is kept by ladies who keep all sorts of things, including other ladies' husbands and late hours. The first thing a vamp buys after investing in an eyebrow pencil and rouge stick is a diary, in which she makes entries somewhat as follows:

January 3rd. The sun beats into my room pitilessly this morning. He has gone away again after throwing a saucer at the canary. Why are men so impetuous. And yet, I love him. As Ella Jean Fairfix sings:

"Love and a crust of bread—
Rags and a red rose.
And what does it matter
What all the world knows
If so."

January 5th. This cannot go on. And yet, it must. But can it? No! And yet why not? Why not, indeed. I wonder * * * And is this all? Is love always like this? * * * or like that? I must be mad * * * yes * * * that must be it. He met me on the street today and said, "Good morning." Just that, nothing more. And it made little me happy, oh, so happy, all day. What if he had not said "Good morning?" It would have been "Good night" for him. I'll tell the world. Yesterday I bought a gun * * *

January 6th. Will I shoot him today? I think I will.

January 7th. I did.

Iowa Park Beauty Gives Bond Sister Answers for Pale Girl

Loma Conn Released on $5000 Bail and Permitted to Return to Home of Parents.

Loma Conn, 19-year-old girl, accused in an indictment with the murder Monday night at Iowa Park of William Penrod, motion picture operator, returned to her home at Iowa Park Wednesday accompanied by her father and sister, following her release on bail bond of $5,000 which was perfected by her father through the aid of an attorney and friends at Henrietta.

The young girl was indicted by the grand jury within 12 hours after the tragedy occurred.

During the day Wednesday, it was reported that her condition showed improvement over the day before when she was in an hysterical state most of the time. It was evident that effects of the shock, under which she was laboring due to a severe mental strain, had apparently subsided, although, when seen Wednesday, shortly afternoon, she was lying in a semi-comatose state and suffering from a raging fever.

Physicians expressed the fear that she would suffer a nervous collapse because her condition is not of sufficient strength to stand the severe strain which she has been subjected to since recovering from a swoon immediately after she had fired the fatal shot.

"You Know She Did," Confidante of Prisoner Chips in When Question of Her Love for Penrod Arises.

By Clara Harshberger

"The quality of mercy is not strained, it droppeth as the gentle dew from heaven." Thus spoke the immortal bard and these same words may well be applied to Loma Conn as she lay on her prisoners' cot at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon, for it is only mercy that one feels when visiting the cell of the accused.

A murderess? One shudders and turns from the thought. Rather is she a misguided girl who has loved much but not wisely. Her slender form lying on the disheveled cot was racked with fever. Her eyes, once a gray mischievous and laughing blue, now look away into space with little recognition in their depths, sad, pitiful and imploring eyes that frequently seem to lose consciousness and at other times are flooded with tears of hysteria.

Her physical condition, according to the prison doctor, was critical and not improved by the lack of ventillation and the general aspect of the room in which she is confined. Her lips that once were pleasantly curved are burning with fever and drawn, as are the muscles of the face, one supposes by the consciousness of torturing accusations.

"Have you nothing you care to say," questioned the reporter, "did you love him?"

"You know she did," replied the sister who sat watching over the girl.

The accused girl would say nothing except that "You wouldn't understand wouldn't understand."

She repeated this, hardly seeming to realize what had been asked.

Dressed in a simple dark blue serge she lay limp. One could easily see that she was normally attractive, that under the hand of grief she was not herself. Across her forehead is an old scar, a burn perhaps, and there is a dark bruise about her right eye which has the appearance of being recently inflicted. One feels instinctively that the girl is nearing the breaking point, that she has endured more than she is physically able to stand.

VAUDEVILLE AT WICHITA STARS COMEDY STUFF

The vaudeville at the Wichita theater this week is featured by several good, high-class comedians, who succeed in winning almost unanimous applause from the audience. Among the comedians is Bert Fitzgibbon, the Original Daffy Dil; Bevan and Flint, who have a new and humorous line, and Alan Brooks in his newest comedy dramalet, "Dollars and Sense."

The vaudeville is opened by Ed Lord and Margie Fuller, presenting "Bits of This and That." It is a bicycle act of merit.

Miss Fuller wears a charming costume of dove gray, which enhances her unusual beauty and charm.

They are followed by Barbette in "A Versatile Specialty Man." Barbette has all the indications of being a newcomer in stageland, but he has a good tenor voice to his credit. He sings from the balcony box during the last act, and, being partly hidden, seems to let his voice out to the best advantage.

Ralph C. Bevan and Beatrice Flint claim that they merely have a "Slight Interruption" in the program, but they carry the house with their nonsense. Miss Flint is a handsome brunette, with a rare sense of humor, and, what is still more rare, has the ability to put it across the footlights, as does her witty partner, Ralph Bevan. Their witticisms are new and they themselves were so pleasing that they were encored until they finally returned to the stage and Miss Flint promised that Bevan would jump from the Kemp hotel building into a pile of stones Thursday morning. Mr. Bevan, however, disagreed and broke the proposed contract.

Allan Brooks in his comedy drama-let "Dollars and Sense," a humorous "tragedy" in four episodes, succeeds in holding the undivided attention of the audience. The cast includes Alan Brooks, Miss Doris Cameron, Irene Weber and S. Kurasaki.

The plot is wound about two men, close friends, both in love with the same young woman. One sees her as an angel, the other looks upon her as she is, and finally proves to his satisfaction that he is lucky that she married his chum.

The stage settings are beautiful and the acting is good, so good, in fact, that one regrets that there was not more of it, which is always an improvement in vaudeville.

Bert Fitzgibbon, the Original Daffy Dill, assisted by his brother Jack, concluded the program. Bert Fitzgibbon, as always, is thoroughly at home on the stage. He simply walks out and is one of you. It is hard to say just why he makes his audience laugh, his humor is so general, but he does it, in fact, he does a great deal of it, and Lew Fitzgibbon keeps it going.

Mrs. F. T. Newell Puts Up Picture To Feed Starved

A genuine painting, an illumination of one of the quartrains of Omar Khayyam, now on display at The Gifte Shoppe, Kemp hotel, has been donated by Mrs. Florence Turner Newell to be "sold" for the benefit of the European relief campaign, "shares" going at one dollar each.

The illumination is done on sheep skin by Mrs. Newell, and bears the famous quotation from Khayyam. "Ah, make the most of what we yet may spend,
Before we too into the dust descend,
Dust into dust and under dust to be
Sans Wine, sans song, sans singer and sans end."

Omar Khayyam is the astronomer, mathematician, scientist and poet of Persia who lived in the eleventh century, (1075-1123). It is through his Rubaiyat that he lives still in the twentieth century.

Considering the beauty of the painting and the fame of the old poet, the Relief Council hope to have the picture bring in considerable and thereby alleviate much of the suffering of Europe.

Youth Robbed and Held Up; Police Fail to Get Name

Two unarmed negresses robbed an 18-year-old youth on Twelfth street at 8:30 Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, according to a report made to the police.

The youth stated that one of the negresses held his hands while the other rifled his pockets. Immediately after finding the money they left, he said. He declared that he would identify either of the negresses. Police were unable to give the identity of the youth who was robbed, no record of his name having been made.

RANGERS SENT BACK TO GALVESTON BEAT

By Associated Press.

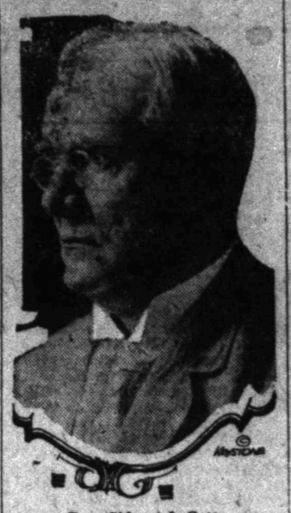

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—One of the first official acts of Governor Pat M. Neff, who was inducted into office yesterday, was issuance of an order for Texas Rangers to remain on duty at Galveston for an indefinite period. Adjutant General Cope, in making public the order late last night, said conditions in the Gulf city did not warrant removal of state police officers at this time.

Governor Hobby recently issued an order for withdrawal of the Rangers simultaneously with expiration yesterday of his term in office. The Rangers have been supervising police activities at Galveston since withdrawal of Texas national guardsmen on October 18. The guardsmen were sent to the coast city to open traffic which had been congested by a prolonged strike of dock workers.

WARSAW, Jan. 19.—Edward Peters, 39 years old, a clerk in the Warsaw postoffice, was sentenced to death recently after having been convicted of stealing a package of food sent by mail from America. He was tried under a law making it a capital offense to steal from the government. His sentence is now up on appeal.

Commissioners of Palm Beach county have refused to consider the request of Rev. Sidney J. Catt, ex-governor of Florida, to be given a license to carry a revolver and to be appointed a deputy sheriff. He told the commissioners that he had so many enemies that the feel of a "good shooting iron" against his leg "would have a soothing effect."

COTTON LOSES 50 ODD POINTS ON DULL TRADE

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19.—The price of cotton was depressed throughout the session today although there were periods of steadiness and recovery. Recoveries did not persist, however, and lowest prices came late in the day when the trading months were sent 50 to 64 points under the final prices of yesterday. Last prices showed net losses of 51 to 62 points.

Selling in volume opened the trading, being stimpulated by a poor Liverpool and by exceeding bearish messages both from the Liverpool and the Manchester markets. On the first downward movement, prices lost 32 to 34 points.

In the late trading the market fell off again under fear of another poor Loverpool in the morning and of unfavorable private bureau ginning returns overnight.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The local market for raw sugar was easier under increased offerings, closing at 4.38 for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.39 for centrifugal. There were sales of 20,000 bags of Porto Ricos afloat and prompt shipment and 10,000 bags of Cubas, prompt shipment to a local refiner and 16,800 bags of Sandomingos to an outport refiner.

The easier feeling in the spot market unsettled the refined situation to some extent, although there were no changes in quotations, with fine granulated quoted at 7.75 by all refiners.

The sugar futures market was easier in sympathy with the spot market, although trading was light. Final prices were 1 to 6 points lower except April, which was 9 points lower. Closing bids, January 4.45, March 4.55, May 4.68, July 4.83, July 4.83, all bid.

EMPRESS

"The Fighting Parson," Wm. L. Roberts' popular stage play of fight and love, has been adapted to the screen and produced as a special motion picture feature under the title of "Hell's Oasis," with Neal Hart as the star.

"Hell's Oasis" will open an engagement at the Empress theater today.

The many thousands who have seen the stage version under the title of "The Fighting Parson," will have little need to be told how exciting it is and what remarkably excellent picture material it contains. It is a story of a man, who fights an entire community to protect a slip of a girl—an evangelist of good—and finally becomes a sort of parson, himself, through love of his protege.

EMPRESS

"The Sin That Was His," with William Fayersham in the star role, is announced as the special feature at the Empress theater for three days, starting next Monday. This special photoplay represents the zenith of production at the Selznick studios, and an impressive list of well-known people are found in the production.

The story of "The Sin That Was His," is an original one, by Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man" and other successes. Mr. Pickford also put in considerable time at the studios assisting in the actual work of production. Hobart Henley counted among the first twelve leading motion picture directors, had personal charge of the producing forces, and his direct, forceful style of work has never been used to better advantage.

Edmund Goulding, one of the foremost screen authors, prepared the scenario, and in addition to the star, William Fayersham, the list of players includes Lucy Cotton, Pedro De Cordoba, Lule Warrenton, Robert Conville and others.

PLAZA

A charming actress, in a new picture, is coming to the Plaza theater today. She is Eileen Percy, a new star, and the picture is "Her Honor the Mayor," presented by William Fox.

Miss Percy is as well known to theatergoers as are many players who have been starring for years, for she has been playing important roles for some time.

The story of "Her Honor the Mayor," which is based upon Arline Van Ness-Hines' play of the same title, is said to give Miss Percy excellent opportunities to display her talents. It is a story of love and politics, in which it is shown that a woman can manage admirably public affairs and private affairs at the same time. Denison Clift wrote the scenario and Paul Cazeneuve directed the picture. The cast includes Ramsey Wallace, Charles Force, William Fletcher and Edwin Booth Tilton.

EMPRESS.

Enid Bennett's new Paramount picture, "Silk Hosiery," which was shown at the Empress theater last night, is distinctly worth while. The theme is clever, the acting of star and support highly artistic, and the production as a whole far above the average. The costumes worn in the picture constitute a veritable fashion show and will delight every woman film fan.

GEM.

William R. Russell, who is appearing today at the Gem theater in the sensational dramatic production, "The Challenge of the Law," gave a studio party at Hollywood upon the completion of the picture. All members of the cast, and others who in any way were connected with the making of this unusual William Fox picture, were invited. It is a hobby with Mr. Russell to give such little social affairs when a picture is finished with which he is particularly pleased.

Everybody appearing in character make-up, the gathering presented a strange appearance, but they all had a wonderful time, and are now looking forward to work being started on the Fox star's next vehicle, "The Iron Rider."

OLYMPIC.

Mary Pickford's latest United Artists production, "The Love Light," which will be seen at the Olympic theater today, is an entirely different story and an absolutely new characterization than anything in which the world's sweetheart has heretofore appeared.

Ever since Mary Pickford has had her own producing organization and could dictate as to the type of photoplay in which she was to appear, she has adapted the policy of never adhering entirely to one line of parts, not only because she believes that the public like variety, but because she believes the different lines of characters tend to increase her ability as an artist.

Those who saw her recent comedies will certainly enjoy her in her forthcoming production, which was written and directed by Frances Marion, who has been acclaimed the leading scenario writer of the country, and bids fair to stand at the head of the list of directoresses.

STOCK MARKET TRIES TO CAST AWAY REACTION

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The stock market today seemed disposed to throw off much of its recent apathy and reactionary tone, prices of many popular shares moving upward to the accompaniment of broad and active dealings.

On the surface there was nothing in the advance to suggest any pronounced change of sentiment or revival of public interest, although developments pertaining to market values were partly of a more hopeful character.

Sales amounted to 765,00 shares.

Excepting sterling, the foreign exchange market was strong, notably French remittances, evidently in anticipation of an early loan here. Scandinavian rates also were substantially better.

Liberty issues led the firmer tone of the bond market, international flotations also making moderate gains.

Total sales, par value, $12,250,000.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Nervousness over foreign trades as reflected in Liverpool cable advices and the reported failure of advancing foreign exchange rates to bring in export buyers seemed largely responsible for declines in the cotton market here today. No criticism was heard of the news from domestic goods markets and brokers reported no special pressure of southern spot offerings, but the trade buying which has been a feature on set backs recently was less in evidence.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 20 to 37 points and soon showed net losses of 30 to 45 points owing to weak cables, southern selling and scattered liquidation. January notices were estimated at 4,600 bales. Prices weakened later under renewed liquidation combined with Wall Street and local selling, partly in expectation of weak Liverpool cables tomorrow.

COFFEE MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The market for coffee futures opened at a decline of 5 to 9 points in response to the unsettled showing of the Brazilian cables and some trade selling presumably to hedge purchases in the cost and freight market of late yesterday. January 6.16, March 6.50, May 6.90, July 7.30, September 6.96, October 6.80, December 8.00.

Spot coffee was reported in fair demand with prices unchanged at 6.50 to 6.75 for Rio 7s and 9.25 to 9.75 for Santos 4s.

MURDER TRIAL DEFERRED ON TECHNICALITY

Charges that the sheriff's return on the summons of special veniremen was defective were the grounds upon which attorneys for George Dewey Bland based their motion for continuance when the case of Bland and Heinie Jackson, charged jointly with the murder of A. E. Berlin of Newton, was called for trial Wednesday morning in 30th district court. The court granted the motion and set Friday for trial of either case, which is ready.

Severance, which was requested by Band's counsel, was also granted.

The state announced ready for trial in each case and Dist. Atty. Fletcher S. Jones contended that return could be amended to comply with the law and that further delay in trial of the case would not be experienced. The motion was granted, however, the court holding that it would be a reversible error.

Attorneys for Bland claimed in their motion that the defendant had not been served with a copy of the list of men summoned on the special venire, as required by statute on day before the case as brought to trial, and that the sheriff did not show in his return that any of the men drawn for service in the case had been summoned.

To socialize Berlin's housing and servant problem, the municipal government plans to, tax empty rooms and multiple servants. The tax will be graded according to the number of rooms and servants.

WHEAT IS OFF DESPITE GOOD FOREIGN CALL

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Wheat declined in price today and failed to rally well despite news of active foreign buying. Unusual lack of support was shown. The market closed 2 to 2 3-4c net lower, with March 1.72½ to 1.72 3-4, and May $1.64 1-4 to 1.64½. Corn lost 3-4 to 1 1-8c, oats 1-4 to 1 5-8c and provisions 7 to 15c.

Bears had the advantage throughout the day in the wheat market, owing more or less to a current opinion that January as a rule is a month of declining prices. Prospects of enlarged shipments soon from the southern hemisphere were also the subject of considerable attention.

The downturns in the wheat market led to export buying estimated at 1,500,000 bushels to be shipped from the Gulf of Mexico. A better domestic milling demand was also noted.

FIND DRY LAW AGENTS TO BE 'INEFFICIENT'

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19.—Two of the eight fedral prohibition enforcement agents operating out of St. Louis today were asked to resign for alleged "inefficiency" by David A. Gates, supervising agent of the southwestern district. The names of the men were not announced.

A squad of special agents from Washington has been here several weeks investigating conditions as to the enforcement of the dry law. Five men and two women compose the squad and one of the women has declared her investigation revealed that "St. Louis is the wettest spot in the United States."

PALMER WANTS BROOM TO STIR THRU CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Insistence of Attorney General Palmer that a sweeping congressional investigation be made of changes that department of justice agents, rounding up alleged radicals last winter, were abusive and disregarded the legal rights of accused, brought assurance today from the senate judiciary subcommittee that it would hear first hand both the agents who supervised the raids and their critics.

The attorney general appeared today before the sub-committee, which was considering the advisability of granting amnesty to persons convicted of violating the espionage act and other war time laws.

Mr. Palmer told the sub-committee an amnesty proclamation would not effect an immediate and wholesale release of persons confined in prison for violations of war time statutes, because each case would have to be gone into on its merits to see whether it came within the pale of the proclamation.

Mr. Palmer also discussed charges made against his department by the national popular government league. These charges were drawn up, he declared, by a group of attorneys, many "of whom were counsel for persons arrested for deportation on charges of being alien radicals."

Senator Sterling, chairman of the sub-committee announced that on Tuesday it would hear Professor Zechariah Chaffee of the Harvard law school faculty, one of the attorneys who preferred charges against the department of justice, in the name of the National Popular Government League.

ARKANSAS MEET ENDORSES PLAN TO CUT COTTON

By Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 19.—A resolution endorsing the plan adopted at a recent meeting of cotton interests of the South at Memphis, Tenn., for reduction of cotton acreage, this afternoon was adopted, just before adjournment of the state-wide conference of farmers, merchants and bankers here.

The action followed a heated discussion of the advisability of going on record as favoring the Memphis plan, which would pledge farmers not to plant more than one-third of their cultivated acreage in cotton. Opponents of the plan argued that it was impractical and could not be enforced and that an effort to prevent farmers from planting all their acreage to cotton would cause them to rebel and plant more cotton than ever.

No definite plan has been worked out for putting the reduction program into effect, but it was said that some one probably will be appointed soon to take charge of the work of obtaining and enforcing pledges to reduce acreage. Some of the enforcement measures, under the plan, include agreement by landlords not to permit their tenants to exceed the limit of acreage, and by bankers and merchants not to extend credit to farmers who plant more than one-third of their land to cotton.

SAYS RAILROAD CUTS FORCE AS REVENUES DROP

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—Heavy reduction in freight and passenger business in the central region of the Pennsylvania railroad is resulting in drastic cuts in the operating and maintenance force, according to general officers of the company here today. Employes are being laid off every day, and unless business improves the working force will be reduced to from 10 to 20 per cent in a very short time.

SAYS CONTRACTS FORBID.

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Reports that the Pennsylvania railroad was contemplating reduction in the rates of wages were denied today at the general offices of the company. It was pointed out that most of the employes of the entire system are working on rates of pay fixed by agreement and by decisions of the railroad labor boards and that the company cannot cut wage rates without violating these agreements.

Man Suspected of Looting Wraps in Wichita Is Jailed

Howard Reilly, wanted here in connection with the alleged robbery of the home of Stanley E. Trevathan, 1307 Taylor street, several weeks ago was arrested in Walters, Okla., Wednesday for alleged forgery of checks, according to information received by local police Wednesday morning.

It was not known Wednesday night whether or not an attempt would be made to bring Reilly back to this city to stand trial for his alleged robbery or not.

Reilly and his wife were roomers at the Trevathan home at the time of the robbery. A party, attended by several women, was being held at the house during the afternoon, the guests leaving their wraps in the room occupied by Reilly and his wife.

According to information of the police at that time, Really and his wife went through the wraps while the party was in progress, taking valuables and wraps valued at several hundred dollars.

The robbery was discovered shortly afterward, but Reilly and his wife had left the city and all efforts of the police to locate them since that time have been futile.

The information from Walters Wednesday did not say as to whether or not any valuables had been recovered with the arrest of Reilly. It is not believed, however, by police officials that any of the goods stolen here will be recovered.

Always My Fate to Do Right Thing, Woman Says and Dives In River; Wants No Avenger

By Associated Press.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Hall, 35, formerly of New Orleans and Tampa, jumped off a ferry boat in the middle of St. Johns river here today and was drowned. The body was recovered.

In a letter found in her pocket book on a ferry boat bench and addressed to her brother, Francis Williams, Mrs. Hall told him not to "try to avenge" her troubles, for she believed "it is and always will be my fate to do the right thing."

"The attorney that I went to see is just as crooked as can be," the note read. "He appeared very nervous when I went to his office this morning and I really think that he had a warrant ready for some one to sign for me."

Police are investigating the case and predict several arrests.

Quick work on the part of firemen who separated a burning freight car from a long string of cars on a switch at the Maple junction bridge on the Wichita Southern railway line, early Wednesday morning prevented large losses from fire which totally destroyed one car and its load of sixteen-inch tiling. Loss was $600. Forty gallons of chemicals were used.

A second blaze in a freight car which was separated from the first by two cars, was checked before much damage resulted. Fire Chief McClure said that the origin of the fire had not been determined.
