CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO OFFER AWARDS IN CENSUS ESTIMATING CAMPAIGN

Two Awards Will Be Made For Best Statements

Campaign Opens This Week To Run Until Figures Complete

Lamesa Chamber of Commerce sponsor a campaign and offer two awards this week that it will award to the persons who give the best possible reasons for their estimates as to the population of Lamesa, within the city limits of the city, and of Dawson county.

"We want everyone to take an interest in Lamesa," said a spokesman, and answers these questions basing his reasons on what he feels has accounted for the substantial development and growth of the city during the past decade.

"The campaign is designed to establish interest among citizens in knowing why the Federal government wants a record of any unit of population in an attempt to collect some very useful social information, which insofar as individuals and families are concerned is kept in the strictest of confidence.

Social information which will be available to the government as a result of the 1940 census can be broken down into a clear picture of the range of income, the status of employment and unemployment, the relation of employment and unemployment to racial groups, all very useful to the student of the American scene and very necessary as a basis for intelligent legislation.

Movies Will Be Taken Of Easter Services Sunday

Arrangements have been made for the making of movie shots of all departments and classes, and of the worshippers at the morning service, on Easter Sunday at the First Methodist Church. These pictures will be ready for showing to the Sunday school and other groups within a few days.

The church will be decorated for the services Sunday with flowers, greenery, and candles, who will add their voices to the great song of victory sung by the choir and congregation and accompanied by the beautiful tones of the Hillgren-Lane organ.

The whole service will be fitted into a beautiful musical setting, with baptism of infant children at 11:10, the baptism and reception of others into the Church at 11:45. A large group will be received into the fellowship of the Church, bringing to a close the four weeks of special evangelistic effort on the part of the whole Church.

Record crowds are expected to attend all the services, with Sunday school opening at 9:45. Morning worship at 11. At 7:30 in the evening a beautiful candle light communion service commemorating the last supper. The pastor, E. Landreth will speak at both the morning and evening hours on the meaning of this day of victory, and of the opportunity for discipleship.

All who will, are cordially invited to be in the services. The church urges the people to come into the house of the Lord with gladness, on this, the day of great joy, the resurrection day.

Hurt's New Store To Hold Opening This Week End

Announcement is made this week of the Grand Opening of Hurt's new store on the west side of the square in the Pierce Building.

It will be recalled that Swanson Hurt purchased the stock of Pierce Toggery several months ago and staged a complete closeout of all the merchandise. His men's store, which he has operated on North Austin Street for the past several years, was moved to the Pierce building and new ladies ready-to-wear added.

The building has been completely refurnished on the inside, with new fixtures added, and it now has the appearance of a brand new place.

Their stocks in all departments are now complete, according to Mr. Hurt, and they are inviting the people of this area to come in and inspect their new place.

Your attention is called to their large ad on the back page of this issue of the Courier.

Illness Proves Fatal To Frank Rose Sunday

Word was received in Lamesa Sunday of the death of Frank Rose in a Fort Worth hospital. Mr. Rose has been a resident of Lamesa for many years, and comes from one of the pioneer families of this section. His grandfather was the late Col. F. M. Weaver, whose life is closely connected with the early day history of this section.

Mr. Rose had been ill for many months and has been in a hospital at Fort Worth for the past several weeks.

He was born in Fort Worth, June 23, 1905. He received his early education in the Sims Schools for Boys. In 1922 he went to Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, N. J., where he was graduated with the class of 1924. He then entered Princeton University, class of 1928.

On Oct. 25, 1928, he was married to Miss Eleanor Brown Jett of Louisville, Ky. They later moved to Lamesa where he was engaged in farming and ranching.

Survivors are the widow; two sons, Frank Weaver Rose Jr., 8, and James Weaver Rose, 5; his mother, and brother, James Weaver Rose of Lamesa.

Funeral services were held Monday at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Fort Worth at 3 P. M. Burial was made at Midlothian.

Sunrise Easter Services To Be Held On Edge Of Breaks Next Sunday Morning

Special city-wide Sunrise Easter Service will be held Sunday morning according to plans made by church leaders of Lamesa some time ago and perfected this week. Last year was the first time a thing of this kind was ever attempted and seventy-three people gathered at the point on the cap rock east of Lamesa. It was voted at that time to make an annual affair of this and to invite all churches to participate in the movement.

It is hoped this year to have several hundred people at the meeting where an interesting program has been arranged.

The site is on the edge of the "brakes", 12 or 13 miles east of Lamesa on the Gail road. A gate opens on the left of the highway just before descending the caprock, and the road leads to the point, located about two-hundred yards from the highway.

To Be Delivered By Carrier Boys To Every Home In Lamesa

As Lamesa has grown beyond the village size and enters into the small city class, it has become obvious that there is a need for a first of the week newspaper to record happenings in the town over the week end.

That is the purpose of The Times, to bring you the news of Lamesa, while it is fresh.

The first issue of the new paper came off the press Tuesday afternoon and was received most heartily by the merchants as well as citizens of the town. There now seems little doubt but that The Times is a welcome addition to the newspaper life of Lamesa and is destined to grow. The first issue was printed on Tuesday, but it is felt that the advertisers will be better served, as well as the readers, if the publication date were moved to Monday, and next week the paper will come out Monday afternoon and each Monday thereafter.

Contributors of news items and advertising are advised that the deadline for copy in The Times is 12 o'clock noon Saturday and must be in the office by that time to insure its publication.

The new paper is being published by the publishers of the Dawson County Courier, and dedicated to the upbuilding of the city of Lamesa.

Present plans call for a complete coverage of every home in Lamesa, each Monday afternoon, by carrier boys. There will be no (Continued on Page 5)

One Thousand In Cash Will Again Go To Winners

Campaign Is Opened To All Citizens Of Dawson County And Territory

Plans are being formulated this week for a series of meetings to be held in six rural communities some time after March 26 for the purpose of allowing business men and Dawson County landowners to meet together to discuss the 1940 Dawson County Farm and Home Improvement Campaign, the dates of which shall extend from April 15, 1940 to April 15, 1941. This unique program, started late during 1938, was half completed when $1,000 cash were awarded four farm families for their outstanding progress under rules and regulations of the campaign January 1, 1939 to January 1, 1940.

Five hundred dollars cash were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Carson Echols at the chamber of commerce annual banquet March 6 for first place in the campaign. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hinson received $250; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raney received $150; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey White received $100. The prize money was contributed by merchants of Lamesa.

Entry blanks were mailed this week to over 100 farmers in Dawson county, representing the names of those who originally entered the contests last year, to be filled out and returned to the chamber of commerce office immediately. Farmers may get their record books and are urged to do so at the offices of the Farm Security Administration in the county courthouse.

Business men of Lamesa plan to attend meetings to be held soon at Union, Spangenberg, Hancock, Harmony, Welch and Ackery, all prominent Dawson County communities, to study the different phases of the contest which might be considered important in determining the plans of the campaign this year. Although dates for none of these meetings have yet been decided upon, letters have been sent out from sponsors of the campaign to committees of farmers in the various communities, to school superintendents and to vocational agencies. Word from the Cedar Lake oil field northwest of Lamesa shows very little activity, with one well drilling, another cleaning out and a third pumping.

The American Warehouse No. 2, a mile northwest of the discovery, Wednesday was drilling below 3807 feet in anhydrite.

The Stanolind company's Edith Johnson, southwest offset, which was shot with 920 quarts from 4,655 to 4,740 feet with a total depth of 4,750 feet, was cleaning out below 4,700 feet. Reports reaching Lamesa state that this well is doing considerable blowing, and some oil men believe it may blow itself in. The other wells in the field are being flowed with air from the Yates sand encountered above the oil. There has been no bottom hole pressure on other wells brought in this field.

The Stanolind No. 1 T. S. Riley, three miles northwest of the discovery, is reported as having pumped 28 barrels of water and seven barrels of oil in 24 hours.

At this time there have been no new locations reported, although it is expected that several will be started within the next few weeks. Among most oil men it is believed that a great deal of action will be started shortly after April 1st.

This number is the fourth and one of the outstanding attractions of the Musical Arts Series being sponsored in Lamesa this year. Mrs. Patch's lecture will be accompanied and illustrated by beautiful hand colored slides.

Mrs. Patch is the first English woman to broadcast across the Atlantic and is the first English woman to teach that language by radio. She was the wife of the professor of English at Oslo University and she had ample opportunity to study the Norwegians, their country and folklore first hand. After the untimely death of her husband, Mrs. Patch turned to travel and lecture tours in the various parts of the world but Norway became her chief interest and she has since become internationally famous. Her lecture tours take one to the far north countries where the days are twenty-four hours long. The slides used in her lectures are made and tinted by the Royal Norwegian Photographer.

A musical background of Norwegian music will be furnished by a talented young pianist, Georgia Nicklett. Miss Nicklett is a native daughter of sunny California and she has the same sunny, gay, lilt to her playing of the happy Norwegian music. She is the artist-pupil of the famous pianist, Samuel Ball of Hollywood. Though a petite and demure young lady of only twenty years, she has power and force in addition to her unusual pianistic technique far beyond her age and stature.

These two artists will present an evening's entertainment that is hard to surpass. For Mrs. Patch is a delightful speaker, telling her stories in a beautiful modulated voice, and with a musical background fitting the subject. The whole is a well-balanced and a well blended program of high interest to all.

Mrs. Patch was here last year in this series of programs and upon that occasion she presented the lecture and slides of "Beautiful Sunlit Norway". Everyone who heard her was loud in the acclaim of the educational and entertaining value of her lecture. This is a program which will have the same appeal to all. The afternoon program will be given at 2:45 for the benefit of the students and the evening performance will begin at eight o'clock in the high school auditorium. Season tickets to the Musical Arts Series will admit holders of this program. Individual tickets may be purchased at the door.

First National Remodeling Is Near Completion

The remodeling program of the First National Bank, which has been under way for the past several weeks, is now virtually complete. The entire interior of the building has been completely refinished and remodeled, with a new and modern Celotex ceiling installed, which lessens the noise of the operation of the machines. The fixtures have been completely remodeled and modernized. All grill work has been removed from the cages, which not only gives greater light but facilitates the handling of the bank's business in a much more convenient manner.

An announcement will be made by the bank within the next few days.

JOIN STAFF OF BEAUTY SHOP

Miss Marie McClain Hoover has joined the staff of the Modern Beauty Shop, according to an announcement released this week. She is widely experienced in her profession. Your attention is called to their ad in this issue.

GRASS FIRE SUNDAY AFTERNOON DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

The Lamesa Fire Department answered a call Sunday afternoon at the rear of Randals Lumber Company, where a grass fire did practically no damage.

It was extinguished with the booster pump from the truck. The grass, presumably caught from a trash barrel.

All indications are that there will be from 20 per cent to 25 per cent fewer chicks raised this year than last year all over the United States. This reduction should increase egg prices by fall. So many people say, eggs are too cheap, there is no money in poultry now, I'll lay off chicks this year. But the man who looks ahead, will keep his flock up or increase it this year.

internationally known German wo-founders of the German Soropti-Schaffender Frauen, an active wo-

She has participated in many international conferences, especial-most of the larger cities of Europe.

In 1935 she came to the United States on a journalistic study trip and made a number of addresses.
Because of her success on this trip she was invited to return to the U. S. A. to make other ad-there for over ten weeks. Her pos-

Sponsors will be the same during 1940, governmental agencies in Dawson County, the chamber of commerce, civic clubs, other civic organizations, newspapers, and the merchants, who will again invest the prize money. These groups feel that the original purpose of the campaign has been highly stimulated during one year's time, but that another year is needed to draw more complete satisfaction from the program. Objectives set out were to promote the prosperity of agriculture in Dawson County, to increase the income and raise the living standards of the agricultural families of the area, to strengthen the economical status of the whole area, based on accomplishments in farm management, systematic accounting and control, crop diversification, better homemaking on a sustained basis, better livestock, soil conservation; accounts of each of the above mentioned phases of the work were kept strictly according to forms set out for the purpose.
Upon completion of the contest

Plan Series Of Farm Meetings

During the week of March 25, meeting will be held at the places listed below for the purpose of filling out a Farm Plan Sheet for 1940 according to W. T. Meeks, chairman, Dawson County A. C. A.
Each community committeeman assisted by the county committeeman and some of the A. C. C. office producer fill out a plan sheet for each farm unit he is operating this year.
The important reason for filling out the Farm Plan Sheet is to show each producer how he can earn 55c per acre on his soil-conserving acres, even though he follows the customary practice of grazing his cattle and bundling his cane. Some ten or twelve practices suited to this area of which one or more may be used to earn the full allowance for the farm.

The meetings will be held as follows: Tuesday, March 26, 1940 at Mt. Olive, Liberty, Five Mile, O. K.
McCarty, Woody, Grandview, Bartlett, Klondike, Patricia and Union.
Wednesday, March 27, 1940 at Mullins, Shumake, Key, Harmony, O'Donnell, Munger, Welch and Fairview, Thursday, March 28, 1940 at Sparenberg and Ackery.
Each producer will be notified by letter, where he is to meet the committeeman that has his Farm Plan Sheet.

All of the committeemen, said Meeks, are making a special effort to assist every producer in the county earn and receive the maximum payment for his farm.
ed, more lawns sodded, foundation plantings added, improved water systems, hot cold and running water, more completely equipped bath rooms, more sanitary premises, improvement in poultry protection and in culling of flocks, more general conservation, and soil building practices, and a better organization and operation of farming practices in the county as a whole.
Out of the meetings planned for farmers and business men is expected to grow a more efficient campaign plan and a more desirable one for meeting the conditions now existing in Dawson County. "This campaign is to be carried on entirely in the interest of the landowner and more efficient farming practices," said a spokesman of the sponsoring groups, "and we feel that the farmer himself can add much to the program through discussing it with us from his own standpoint." An entry blank printed in this issue may be marked and presented to the Farm Security Administration, Lamesa, Texas, between now and April 15. Record books will be issued in return for entry blanks.
It is hoped that at least 200 families will do this at once.

THE TIMES—

charge for the paper, at least for the present, but it will be distributed free.
The publishers have stated that they feel the time is ripe for the launching of the Times, but of course it depends entirely upon the patronage it receives as to its permanency. With every facility for the publication of another paper at their command and with the assurance from many of the towns civic leaders that such a step at this time is not only feasible, but advisable, the new paper is launched.
Constant improvements, as the patronage and growth warrants, are promised, until the Times will take its place along side its sister paper, The Courier, as among West Texas' leading publications.

CENSUS PRIZE—

It is hoped that merchants of the city will conduct campaigns and offer merchandise awards in their stores for the best reasons given in the Lamesa contest, in which cases customers may fill in their blanks while shopping, leaving them with the merchant. Those wishing to enter also in the Chamber of Commerce campaign may mail their entries to that organization.
A committee will judge all entries.

I estimate the population of:
Lamesa
Dawson County
My reason for the above estimate is:

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMESA:

Since coming to Lamesa to make my home in 1927, I have had occasion to work with the several different City Administrations in my plumbing business, and I have learned many things through association. I feel that after having laid some of the City Water mains and working with the sewer system, that I am qualified to serve the best interests of the citizen of the town as one of your Commissioners.

I have always been for the upbuilding of the city and stand ready at all times to take my part in any development which is calculated to make Lamesa a better town. I believe in first asking the people what they desire, before then basing my action on their decision. At last you, as a citizen, will be my only boss and to you only, am I obligated. I assure you that if I am your choice, I will not be ruled by any clique or clan.
In view of the rapid growth which Lamesa has experienced during the past few years, I feel that there is some expanding in the water and sewer system which are imperative. If Lamesa is to continue to grow I pledge you that I shall do all within my power to bring these things upon a par with the needs of the city.

If you make me your Commissioner, I will try to do so conduct myself that you shall never regret your step. I stand ready and willing to work with any Commissioner and Mayor whom you may choose, and I pledge you an economical and business-like administration.
Assuring you I shall appreciate anything you may do in my behalf, I am yours truly,
S. F. REYNOLDS

Texans Advised To Study The Southwest

Interesting Information Is Available About This Section of the Country

Let young Texans study the literature and life of their own Southwest. J. Frank Dobie, University of Texas English professor and author urges.

The University's expert on Southwestern lore has declared himself in rebellion to being doted with the "sermons of dreary New England preachers" as the sum and substance of American literature.

Labeling much of the New England literature as "more foreign to young Texans than certain Spanish chronicles and a vast body of cowboy lore and Southern humor already in print," Dobie held that "text-book makers and pedagogues either ignorantly or illudely deny the right of the Southwest to its cultural inheritance."

For instance, why not interpret to students through reading, how Cabeza de Vaca, the first white man in Texas, lived for weeks on prickly pear apples, or how Texas' first man of letters, John C. Duval, escaped the Goliad massacre, he asked.

At one time, Dobie said, the teaching of American literature in American colleges and universities was fiercely resisted by professors of English, but was finally adopted when the people showed a desire to know about their surroundings.

"Southwestern literature as a course in our Texas schools has the same logical basis," he added.

New Vitamin Is Discovered By Texas Chemist

Successful synthesis of "pantothenic acid," which ranks with Vitamin B-1 as one of the few known "cornerstone" life-essentials, has been announced in Austin by Dr. Roger J. Williams, University of Texas bio-chemist.

The new high-powered vitamin, which Dr. Williams discovered in 1933 and isolated in 1939, becomes the first whose discovery, isolation and synthesis have been achieved entirely in America. It has been done under the leadership of one man.

The Texas chemist sheared from the complicated structure of the vitamin one constituent which he identified as "beta alanine." New Jersey scientists collaborating with him identified the second cleavage product as a substituted butyrolactone of unusual structure.

So powerful an aid to bacterial cell growth that an ounce placed in 7,500,000 tons of tested mixture will multiply the cell count by four "pantothenic acid" becomes the tenth vitamin discovered since Eijkman, Dutch chemist, reported discovery of B-1 in 1906.

Pantothenic acid, among the ten known vitamins, has been proven by test to be necessary constituent of the machinery of all living things. Thiamin (B-1—anti-neuritic vitamin), riboflavin, and nicotinic acid are thought to be, but extensive proof has not been offered. The others, vitamins A, C, D, E, K and B-6, either are not or have not been shown to be present in all types of living tissue.

"Although the new vitamin can be created artificially in large quantities, its precise medical effect is not determined—is now the object of a considerable number of medical experiments already planned in various institutions, Dr. Williams said.
