Financial Aid Programs Set For Nursing Students

Nursing students and licensed nurses may qualify for help with their education expenses as a result of a major expansion in financial aid options offered by the State of Texas.

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board has announced nine new financial aid programs, including two loan repayment, five scholarship and two matching fund employment programs, all to begin operations in the next 12 months.

For each year of full-time employment in Texas, eligible registered nurses can have up to $2,000 in student loans repaid and eligible licensed vocational nurses can have up to $1,000 in loans repaid.

Student nurses may qualify for scholarships ranging from $1,500 to $3,000 if they are enrolled at least half-time in an accredited program leading to licensure as a vocational or registered nurse or to a graduate degree in nursing. Two of the scholarship programs target minority students and two target students from rural communities who attend school in rural communities.

Scholarships of $1,500 to $2,000 also will be available for licensed vocational nurses enrolled in programs leading to associate, baccalaureate or graduate degrees in nursing.

The Coordinating Board expects to award close to 100 nursing scholarships for the 1990-91 academic year.

The Matching Fund Employment Programs will offer loans of $1,500 to $3,000 to 190 nursing students this fall. Loans will be cancelled for students who work for participating for-profit and nonprofit employers while enrolled in school and for a minimum of 12 months after completing their studies. Students who fail to complete their nursing education or to fulfill their employment obligations will 1979, numerous awards and accomplishments have taken place. For example, the first district first place winners were Sharla Patterson in 1982; Randy Fair in 1987; and Scott Perkins in 1988. In 1989 and 1990, the team of Joe Mata, Lana Perkins and Shannon Johnson finished 1st in district competition! The team of Luis Roca and Max Iannini finished 1st in calculator in District 1-AAAA competition held this year (1990). Numerous other students who have gone through Mr. Barton's program have become both educationally and professionally successful. To name a few: Demetria White, with G.E. Corporation; Toni Johnson Crawford, a chemical engineer; John McCormick, law; Steven Williams, computer technician; Greg Guesner, mechanical technician; and Stan Wilson, C. P. A. and a May, 1990 candidate for his masters degree from Harvard (Let's repeat -- be required to repay the loan, plus interest and other charges.

These financial aid programs were enacted by the 71st Legislature.

To apply for the nursing scholarship and employment programs, nurses and students should contact the financial aid office of the school attended. Participating institutions will have scholarship applications available by the end of May and employment program applications by the end of June.

Loan repayment applications will be available from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, Division of Student Services, beginning this fall. For more information, contact the Coordinating Board's Division of Student Services at (512) 462-6325.

Harvard!) Jack Barton's 17 years at Dunbar-Struggs High School have been very productive for him and the students of this community, though he continuously receives offers weekly to work some place else. He is an excellent example of the type of faculty members that exist at Dunbar-Struggs and proof that one can excel while attending and after having graduated from Dunbar. The accomplishments of the above named students dispels any excuses, lies or notions that one must leave this neighborhood in order to get "a good education."

Thanks, Jack Barton!!

The federal government spends money around the country each year to educate young people:

West Point - $226,190.00 per cadet

Gallaudet College - $17,063.00 per student per school for deaf in Washington, DC)

Howard University - $14,153.00 per student per year

Ogalala Lakota College - $2,703.00 per year per student
Ogalala Lakota College is housed in trailers around the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. The Indians are fearful that because of budget cuts they will have to close their doors or severely cut back their programs.

The folks up at the Pine Ridge Reservation need some help. They need money to keep Ogalala Lakota College open. This reservation has its problems. The lowest per capita income in the entire U. S. - $2,637 according to the 1980 Census. Unemployment between 72% and 85% according to Bureau of Indian Affairs records in 1985. A suicide rate three times the national average according to the National Institute of Health. An average life expectancy of 47 years according to NIH. The highest infant mortality and school dropout rate of 75%.

There are no shopping centers, most houses are without phones, and 20% of the people have no running water.

Since 1983, however, over 90% of the graduates of the College have secured jobs. The College must stay open.

There is a front page article in the April 6, 1988 edition of "THE CHRONICLE of Higher Education" describing the plight of Indian education around the country and talking extensively about the success and hardships at Pine Ridge. Check it out.

Tax deductible contributions can be sent to: Ogalala Lakota College, 490 Piya-Wiconi Road, Kyle, SD, 57752-9900. If you have any questions send them to Lloyd Eagle Bull, Chairman, Board of Trustees.

A couple of years ago, I traveled to Wounded Knee on the Pine Ridge reservation. I stopped, looked around, ate some lunch out of the back of my car, and tried to justify to myself the continued punishment of these people. There is no justification.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal ran a story on April 29, 1990, about the opening of desperately needed public housing off of 34th and Nashville in about six months. Some folks in the neighborhood are concerned because they believe the value of their property will go down. They are demanding to have a seat on the housing authority board in order to better monitor the situation.

There was a quoted statement from one person that was interesting: "These (public housing) kids will go to

It is my recollection that the majority of folks receiving housing assistance in Lubbock are white. On the assumption that the gentleman quoted does not have a racist bone in his body (that's what they always say), the problem must be that the children are going to be from low income families.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

A Costly Anachronism

Is it possible that by cutting America's military budget in half over this decade we would enhance our nation's security? What an intriguing idea.

But it's exactly what a number of military experts, including former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, told the Senate Budget Committee last December. When McNamara, a longtime proponent of spending whatever is necessary for defense, called for halving military spending over the next 10 years, I took notice.

I wasn't alone. Over the ensuing months, the once isolated calls for drastic cuts in military spending have become a steady drumroll coming from politicians of both parties as well as military analysts. The reductions proposed by the White House—2 percent a year before inflation—are now widely seen as far too small.

Republican Senators William Cohen of Maine and John McCain of Arizona recently called for doubling the Administration's proposed cuts. Nebraska Senator Jim Exon, a conservative defense-minded Democrat, has proposed cutting $15 billion from next year's Pentagon budget. Jim Sasser, the Tennessee Democrat who chairs the Senate Budget Committee, has proposed a $15-$20 billion cut.

A group of top military experts—including President Reagan's first Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower Lawrence Korb, former CIA Director William Colby, and former Arms Control and Disarmament Agency Director Paul Warnke—recently called for a "steady, sustained decrease in defense budgets over the next 10 years," leading to a 50 percent after-inflation reduction by the year 2000.

Yesterday's Military In Today's World

KEITH GEIGER

These political and military experts are arguing for a thoughtful American response to the radical military, political, and economic changes in today's world.

Since the end of World War II, our nation's military policy has been based on defending Western Europe from a Soviet-led Warsaw Pact invasion that could become a nuclear holocaust. Over half of today's Pentagon budget is dedicated to confronting yesterday's Soviet military power. But that power is rapidly receding as the Soviet Union looks to its consuming internal economic and political problems, and the Warsaw Pact stands virtually defunct as a military entity.

The Bush Administration has acknowledged the irreversibility of these changes. As CIA Director William Webster testified on Capitol Hill recently, "There is little chance that Soviet hegemony could be restored in Eastern Europe."

Senator McCain, a conservative member of the Armed Services Committee, put it this way: "The fact is that we all know, beyond any possible doubt, that the Soviet Union isn't about to launch an attack. But their [the Administration] budget doesn't reflect that."

The White House is asking American taxpayers to continue paying for a military budget designed for yesterday's world. That's an anachronism that will cost this nation dearly.

Massachusetts Senator Edward Kennedy recently said that the end of the Cold War and the rise of democracy around the world means that Americans can and will support military spending cuts of 7 percent in 1991, and an additional 5 percent each year until 1993.

There's probably no one today who knows the appropriate amount to spend on defense. But there is general agreement that it's time to reassess America's military needs—and bring military spending in line with global realities.

It's also time to give serious national priority to the human and economic needs that if left unmet will pose a growing threat to America's security.

Letter to Editor

"Vote on Religion"

Dear Editor:

Voting on Religion is just as valid, as voting on birth control. What's the basis for voting on birth control? Is it, because it abuses the "Right of Free Choice"? If this is the case, why not vote on Religion? Many Religions also abuse free choice. What Religions should be allowed? Should we vote on it? How should we vote? For or against the Catholic/Protestant majority? Most of them are against contraceptives, should they be outlawed?

Your Absence from Church is A Vote To Close its Doors

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning at 9:00 a. m. in the lovely home of Delbert & Dorothy Hood. Opening scripture was Psalm 100 by President Christine Burleson. A special solo as given by Sister Ardelia Hardrick. The song was entitled "Precious Lord." This was certainly enjoyed by all.

Prayers went forth for the many problems which exist in the world.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast will meet in the home of Sister Ruby Johnson, 2911 East Colgate Avenue. We are looking forward to seeing you.

Last Saturday morning consisted of praise and prayer seeking God's face.

Ladies and Gentlemen, get involved about our children. "Look, People, no one else is concerned. Go to the meetings and see what can be done to help our boys and girls. Don't lose hope. Keep loving them. No matter what, and come together, the whole community."

We can make a difference through Jesus Christ, don't say you don't want to get involved. You are already involved. If you are a resident of the Eastside, Christians, we will have to stop fishing in the aquarium and come together and go to the ocean, the raging sea.

The harvest is white and the labourers are few. Follow Jesus, He will make you become fishers of men, parents, you take control of your children in the right way that will be pleasing to God. Are your children acting like a monster these days? Okay, this kind only can be controlled by fasting and praying. Only, it does not and praying. Only, it does not matter if you have no children, you will be affected by the acts of evilness, destruction, rebellion against right. Pray for the Pastors, School Teachers, Parents & Children, with faith and belief. That prayer works when nothing else will. Keep smiling and loving your enemy and neighbor. We can make it, "Lubbock!"

The Memorial Building Fund needs your prayers and support.

To our sick and shut in, believe the promise of God. Mark 11:22-24; II Chronicles 7:14.

"Mother's Prayer"

Dear Father in Heaven, we thank you for Mothers, all Mothers. Help them to be wise to see the need of their children through their eyes, even when they don't communicate. Love them when they seem so unlovable. Even if it has to be tough love, bless all Mothers today, Lord, with your love, when they seem to feel no one cares, turn their minds to the 23rd Psalm. Let them feel secure in you, as we grow older help us to be humble and not bitter, but closer to you. It is in the

Please don't forget your presents and cans of food, even the Junior Ushers.

We Thank God For Jesus

"Happy Mother's Day"

"Blessed Or Cursed; Is That Mother"

Luke 1:28 -- The angel came in unto her, and said, hail, thou that art highly favored. The Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

Lord, we know that the woman of this world have been blessed: all the time, for her womb have carried "all the precious little minds."

Some have carried many, many Presidents, Kings & Queens, and some have carried many, many killers, robbers & dopehens.

Proverbs 22:6 -- Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Lord, we know the child that she carries; "You sent from above." "It's up to all of us: America, to teach it hate or love."

Matthew 24:45-46 -- Jesus said, who then is faithful and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

"Lord, we know she's suppose to raise it, in your sight, God," that makes both of their lives easy; "with the help of the Lord."

Proverbs 31:10 -- Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies.

Matthew 19:14 -- Jesus said, suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me; for such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Lord, even if they don't have, the finest of things: the world goes for, "but just a clean house, old clothes, and food from the Lord."

Proverbs 31:27-30 -- She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and called her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.

..... Cursed Is That Mother!!

Lord, she gives her child any & everything; his heart desired, she believes every word he says; "knowing he's a big liar."

Proverbs 29:17 -- Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

Lord, now he lacks money, cars, fancy clothes and diamond rings. She have worked very hard on two jobs, trying to give him these things.

She's all worked down; behind in bills and has no money you see, and the child was shot down the other day; "now she's now in misdeeds."

Proverbs 29:18 -- Where there is no vision, the people perish, but he that keepeth the law is happy is he.

Matthew 11:28 -- Jesus said, come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

God is not through with us yet. So let's pray for one another always.

The story is told of a minister who was watching some men repair a section of a highway. The minister's attention was especially drawn to an elderly man who knelt as he broke stones for the hole in the highway. The minister observed that the elderly man did more work than the men who were standing while breaking stones. The minister walked to the kneeling man; whom he knew well and said, "John, I wish I could break the stony hearts of my hearers as easily as you are breaking those stones!"

With a twinkle in his eyes John replied, "Pastor, you could if you worked on your knees."

When you pray, do you always receive benefits? Do you always feel God's power? Do you always feel strengthened? Do you always feel enlightened? If you are honest with yourself you will admit that at some point in your prayer life you have encountered difficulties when you prayed. These difficulties may have arisen because you have not "worked on your knees," that is, being out of fellowship with God. This broken fellowship with God may be cause by impurity of life, a vindictive and unbrotherly spirit, or selfishness and greed. Until the heart is right with God, the life will have no power with God. Seek to live your life within the will and purpose of God. "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness" Matthew 5:6.

Wherever I Am, God Is

Dear God.

In quietness and faith, I turn to You. I recognize your presence within me, for Your life is the vitality and strength of my being.

Your presence and joy are the peace and joy of my being. I live and move and rest secure in Your protecting presence. Should anything come to me today to test my faith, I call upon Your abiding, sustaining power within. I meet all challenges triumphantly. Should anything or anyone try my patience today, I remember that You are the harmony and peace of my being.

I abide in the constant realization that You, loving God, are in the midst of me. You have placed within my heart the spark that kindles my faith.

I am illumined, guided, and protected. How heartwarming it is to know that You are with me, right where I am every moment of everyday.

Wait for the Lord; be strong, and let your heart take courage. Palm 27:14.

Yours in Christ,
Annie Day

The Assembly featured internationally known speakers, musical events, a vast array of exhibits, workshops, Bible study and worship events. Concerns for the environment and for children were major themes of the four-day event held in the Kansas City Convention Center. Speakers included Marian Wright Edelman, Washington, DC, Civil Rights activist and advocate for children, and Noel Brown of Jamaica, a leading United Nations environmental official.

"Witnesses for a New World" was the theme of the Assembly. More than fifty focus groups explored a wide range of topics from prayer and spiritual disciplines to ways of preventing further damage

Baptist News

Littlefield -- "I don't know about you, but my soul is still rejoicing," said Sister W. Baldwin after Sunday morning services.

Rev. Bob Baldwin of Houston, Texas preached these words: "A heavenly love portion," scripture 1 Corinthians 13:4-8.

The choir really sang, "Yes, God Is Real" and the Clark Sisters sang "Jesus The Same Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow."

Sister Morgan and Sister Willard did an excellent job ministering those songs.

There were four people to re-dedicate their lives to Christ. Hallelujah!!

Pastor Wilson Baldwin was very pleased and was quoted saying: "I praise God for the services today."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

My Name Is Cocaine

Beware my friend, my name is cocaine, "coke" for short. I entered this country without a passport. Ever since then I've been haunted and sought; Mostly by users who need a fix.

I'm more valued than diamonds, more treasured than gold. Use me once and you too will be sold. I'll make a school boy forget his books, I'll make a beauty queen neglect her looks. I'll take a real known speaker and make him a bore. I'll take any mama and make her life a chore. I'll make a school teacher forget how to teach. I'll make a preacher not want to preach.

All kinds of people have fallen under my wing, just look around, you can see the results of my sting. I've got daughters turning on their mothers, I've got sisters robbing their brothers. I've got burglars robbing the Lord's house, I've got husbands pimping their spouse.

I'm king of crime, and the prime of destruction. I'll cause the organs of your body to malfunction. I'll cause your baby to be hooked. I'll turn the most honest men into crooks. I'll make you rob, steal, and kill. When you're under my power, you have no will.

So, remember my friends, My name is big "C" Some call me the White Lady; I've destroyed actors, politicians, and sports heroes, I've decreased bank accounts from millions to zero. I'm a bad habit, too tough for the man, I've caused the law to invent in the Batting-Ram.

I've got them standing on the street corners yelling "Rock". I've made it where shooting and stabbings are common on the block.

Well, now you know, what will you do? Remember, my friend, it's all up to you. If you decide to jump in my saddle, you better ride well, For on the white horse of cocaine, I'll ride you straight to HELL.....

THAT COULD NEVER HAPPEN TO ME! OR COULD IT?

Can you face life? Are your problems too hard to handle? Are pills or alcohol deceiving you? Turn your life over to Jesus.

Can you face death? Are you afraid of death? Does it bother you to talk of it? Let Jesus lead you through the shadow of death.

Can you look forward to eternity? What awaits you beyond the grave? Christ is the answer. He is the Way. Will you stop at Calvary and accept Jesus today?
