North Scurry Area Gets Heavy Showers

Showers which skipped across this area last night and this morning almost missed Snyder. Too little moisture to be measured had fallen by 7:30 this morning when readings were taken by Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, but morning showers measured .12.

Rain in Scurry County was apparently heaviest in the northern portion. Fifteen miles north on the Clairemont road half an inch was reported at the Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. camp. The same amount fell at the Fullerville loading rack on the Lubbock highway about 17 miles northwest of Snyder and 15 miles north on the Polar road. The Humble Oil camp on the Cogdell lease in south Kent County had more than an inch by 8 a.m. today.

Much lighter rain had fallen by mid-morning at the E. L. Vandiver residence eight miles east of Snyder on the Roby highway. Rain at the Lion Oil refinery in southwest Scurry County was estimated at less than a quarter of an inch.

Snyder had a maximum temperature of 85 degrees yesterday. The overnight low was 63 degrees, with 65 degrees at 7:30.

Rainfall prospects for north, central and West Texas brightened Wednesday as a mild cool front that had been stalled in the Texas Panhandle started moving south again.

At 8 a.m. the front stretched across the state from south of the Panhandle to Tyler in East Texas. It touched off scattered showers as it rolled along, and was expected to reach as far south as Beaumont by daybreak Thursday. Before dawn Wednesday, rain fell at Dalhart and Lubbock.

A heavy early-morning shower near San Antonio was blamed for the death of William Henry Fountain, 69, of San Antonio, and his daughter, Mrs. Velma Fountain Ratliff. Fountain's pickup truck and a moving van crashed headon when Fountain swerved to avoid a highway barricade. Flares that marked the barricade were believed to have been extinguished by the shower.

The Weather Bureau said it will take the edge off unseasonable hot weather, but won't mean any brisk temperatures. Maximum temperatures of near 80 degrees were forecast in North Central Texas.

Pre dawn showers were also reported at Corpus Christi and Brownsville from a dying Gulf squall that drenched the area the past two days.

Rainfall totals Wednesday morning included: Lubbock, 2.59 inches, Houston 2.41, Brownsville 1.35, Abilene .94, Wichita Falls .88, Odessa-Midland .71, San Antonio .25, Dalhart .24, Laredo .20, Galveston .18, Austin .14, San Angelo .13, Dallas .12 and Corpus Christi .03.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged from a chilly 48 degrees at Dalhart to 81 at Galveston.

Lubbock had a low of 56 degrees, Wichita Falls, Marfa 61, El Paso 64, Odessa 65, Abilene 68, Presidio and Waco 71, Laredo, Tyler, Fort Worth and Dallas 72, and San Antonio, Austin, Brownsville and Houston 73.

Fisher Test Finds Oil In Strawn Reef

Oil has been recovered on one of three drillstem tests in the Strawn reef lime at Byrd Oil Corp. No. 1 Katie S. Davenport, five-eighths of a mile northeast of the one-well Hester Norwood 6800 Caddo field of Southwest Fisher County.

The reef was topped at 6,460 feet on a minus datum of 4,529 feet. A 40-minute drillstem test from 6,465-520 feet recovered 90 feet of gas-cut mud, 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 220 feet of 37.3-gravity oil.

A test from 6,518-560 feet recovered 60 feet of slightly gas-cut mud. A one-hour test from 6,560-620 feet showed gas at the surface in one hour and recovered 110 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

The project is now deepening below 6,773 feet.

Drillsite for the No. 1 Davenport is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 128-3-H&TC, three and one-half miles northwest of Claytonville.

BORDEN LOCATION

George R. Gibson and Tri-Service, both of Midland, have set location for the No. 1 J. F. Pylant in the Arthur-Spraberry field of Southwest Borden County.

The well is to be 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 41-33-t4n-T&P. That is about three miles northeast of Ackerly. The test is contracted to 9,000 feet for a test of the Spraberry and possibly the Pennsylvanian lime, with operations to begin at once.

DAWSON STRIKE

Seaboard Oil of Delaware and associates No. 2 Woodul has been completed as a lower Spraberry sand discovery in Southeast Dawson County.

Operators have suggested the well be designated the opener of the Spraberry Deep West-Lower Spraberry field.

The strike was finaled for a flowing potential of 201 barrels of oil, based on a 22-hour flow of 183.88 barrels of oil. The flow was through a 24-64th-inch choke and from perforations between 7,383-500 feet and 7,538-575 feet. Those intervals had been acidized and fractured. Total depth is 8,291 feet in Pennsylvanian lime which was found to be barren.

The drillsite is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 34-34-t5n-T&P, one-half mile east of Midway.

Marine, Army Private Are Freed By Reds

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Two Americans, a Marine flier and an Army private, were freed today after months as prisoners of the Communists.

The 8th Army identified the two as Marine Lt. Col. Herbert A. Peters of Seattle and Army Pfc. Charles Julius of Orlando, Fla.

The Communists said the flier, a Marine lieutenant colonel, had been held since Feb. 5 when his L19 liaison plane made a forced landing near Kaesong, a Red base.

The Army private was picked up last May after he stepped on a land mine a quarter mile north of the demarcation line, the Communists said.

Rear Adm. Thomas Brittain, senior U.N. member of the Military Armistice Commission, said both men appeared to have been well treated.

"The men appeared in good health and said they were well treated by the Communists," Brittain said.

He quoted the Marine officer as saying he became lost and when his plane ran out of gas he landed on the only airstrip in sight. It happened to be at Tosong, near the former Korean conference sight at Kaesong.

Both men wore blue civilian suits and looked happy to be free, the admiral said.

There was no explanation for the unusual procedure of barring newsmen and photographers from the area.

Newsmen said it appeared possible the U.N. Command suspected some Communist trickery.

C-119 Crashes At Fort Bragg

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—A C-119 Flying Boxcar crashed and burned on the Ft. Bragg reservation today. A PIO reported "there have been some fatalities, how many I can't say now."

A public information officer of the 464th Troop Carrier Wing said there were 11 persons aboard. He added that several survived. The extent of their injuries was not immediately known.

The big carrier had just taken off for Olmstead Air Force Base, Pa.

The plane struck in a street near new concrete buildings being built as barracks for the 82nd Airborne Division.

D. B? Burgess, a Fayetteville mechanical engineer employed on the project, said the plane swept low overhead with its left engine afire. He said the plane veered abruptly as if the pilot were attempting to avoid striking a construction area where many men were at work.

Weatherly's Name Ordered On Ballot

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered the name of Gerald Weatherly placed on the Nov. 2 general election ballot as an independent candidate for district attorney of South Texas' 79th Judicial District.

The action was in response to Weatherly's request for a mandamus to force the placing of his name on the ballot after Sec. of State C. E. Fulghum refused his petition for a ballot listing last week.

The court order meant Weatherly would oppose Democratic nominee Sam Burris of Alice, who won a tight primary contest against incumbent Raeburn Norris, also of Alice.

Norris had the backing of South Texas political boss George Parr. Burris was backed by an anti-Parr faction.

Weatherly claims to have worked for both sides of the South Texas political feud and says he expects backing from both sides.

P-TA Begins Project On Comic Books

Letters are now being sent out to parents of students attending Snyder schools pertaining to a comic book evaluation program here.

The letters are being mailed by the Parent-Teacher Associations of the schools here. In August, the P-TA city council adopted a project of dealing with the problem of comic books on newsstands here after hearing proposals of a committee which had been working on the program since May.

The project includes evaluation of comic books now on sale. Some of the books on stands throughout the country are considered unfit or indecent.

Included in the letters being sent to parents is an evaluation sheet made by the Committee on Evaluation of Comic Books, which is located in Cincinnati. The committee has evaluated about 386 books and placed them in categories, showing whether they are suitable for use by chileren and younger teen-agers.

In addition to acquainting parents with the program, the P-TA plans to work with and through local dealers who sell comic books and with wholesalers who supply them. If a dealer is willing to cooperate in the program, he will be encouraged to use selective purchasing of only those books deemed desireable. Wholesale dealers will be contacted with approval of local dealers and requested to cooperate by not leaving the books rated undesirable on the stands.

Jury Selected In Alaniz Trial

WACO (AP)—The jury for the conspiracy to murder trial of Nago Alaniz was completed at 10:50 a.m. today.

The state began presenting its case against the Duval County lawyer after reading of the indictment which accuses him of being a conspirator in the death of a South Texas political leader's young son.

The jury was completed when both sides accepted Charles B. Griffin, 42, a salesman. He was the 12th man questioned out of a special venire of 50 brought to today to complete the jury.

The original venire of 250 men was used up last night with 11 men selected to decide the guilt or innocence of Alaniz. The slaying has been described previously in court as a bungled political ambush.

The first 11 men questioned today were excused because of objections to the death penalty or because they said they did not believe in a suspended sentence in a murder case. One of them was Jack Wilson, Baylor University backfield coach, who was excused because he said he was against suspended sentences in such cases.

Marilyn Plans To Reveal All

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The world hears today from Marilyn Monroes' own luscious lips the reason why she benched Joe DiMaggio.

The movie box office queen, who sued the former baseball star yesterday for divorce, scheduled a press conference in their Beverly Hills home.

She'll tell all, promised lawyer Jerry Giesler. That is, of course, if the right questions are asked.

In the past Marilyn's honest answers to direct questions have driven many a studio press agent to distraction.

It's doubtful if DiMaggio will be on hand to give his version of the breakup that caught Hollywood gossips with their columns down.

A reporter who knocked on the door late yesterday was told by a servant that Joe was not inside. None of the small army of reporters and photographers camped outside had seen him leave but there is always the back door. Joe DiMaggio spent the previous night and most of yesterday inside, even taking service of Marilyn's divorce papers downstairs while the ailing actress lay in bed upstairs.

Geisler said he knew of no indication that Joe intended to move out.

"They still have two weeks to go on the rent," the laywer quipped. He added that such an arrangement wasn't unusual for Hollywood and cited the case of one client who shared the same double bed with his estranged wife for months before the divorce trial.

Guards Strike; Block Trucks

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — A picket line of 20 striking guards, seeking state recognition of their union, blocked delivery trucks at the gates of the Indiana State Prison today.

The day shift of guards failed to report at 8 a.m., but a union spokesman said the midnight-to-8 shift would stay on duty.

"They'll stay until they get tired," said Roger Bates, a guard identifying himself as "a union official." He wouldn't say what would happen then. He did say no more guards would go in, though all strikers have been threatened with immediate dismissal.

Warden J. Ellis Overlade refused to issue any statement but called a news conference.

Fifteen of the pickets were concentrated at the main gate, shivering in chilly, gray autumn weather.

Brownell Creates Branch To Prosecute FHA Cases

WHERE'S MINE?

A mountainous pile of baggage confronts the liner Independence passenger Mrs. Harriet Ballon of New York City as she attempts to find her belongings following the arrival of the vessel in New York from Mediterranean ports. The baggage was handled by American Express Lines personnel as longshoremen of the ILA, the International Longshoremen's Association (Independent) went on strike. The strike is the second in six months against the world's busiest port.

Powell Seeks To Block Jury Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell today created a new unit in the Justice Department's criminal division to handle a mounting number of cases arising from scandals in the Federal Housing Administration.

At the same time, the attorney general said he is assigning Max H. Goldschein, a top criminal prosecutor in the department, to assist U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover in presenting housing matters before a special grand jury opening here today.

The department said the special grand jury will "inquire into bribery and other criminal conduct in the federal housing program, and specifically into the conduct of Clyde L. Powell, ousted assistant FHA commissioner.

Meanwhile, Powell sought a court order to block the grand jury investigation.

Through his attorney, Daniel B. Maher, Powell filed papers challenging the validity of the grand jury. He had been scheduled to appear before it this morning.

Maher's petition asked the U.S. District Court to "take judicial notice of countless predictions in newspapers and political forecasters that there would be political indictments returned against members of the former administration prior to the November election."

Today's developments came in the wake of testimony before the Senate Banking Committee yesterday that Powell demanded and received $10,000 from a Washington architect before he would approve an FHA-insured loan on an apartment project here.

The committee also heard testimony that Powell banked almost three times his salary over a period from 1945 through last April, although he reported only his salary on federal income tax returns.

Maher, in addition to contesting the validity of the special grand jury, specifically asked that a subpoena for Powell's appearance be quashed.

He said a statement by Atty. Gen. Brownell announcing that the grand jury would investigate bribery and other criminal conduct in the federal housing program was "a potent attempt by the chief law enforcement officer of the United States to use an arm of the United States District Court as an instrumentality of political propaganda.

The Justice Department said Powell "had charge of the rental housing program which operated from 1946 to 1950 and resulted in windfalls to speculators exceeding 51 million dollars alone in 285 cases reviewed by the Housing and Home Finance Agency."

Goldschein, in addition to his work with Rover and the grand jury here, will coordinate similar grand jury investigations which the attorney general has requested across the country.

The Banking Committee planned more testimony today on alleged windfall profits made by private promoters on apartment projects built with government-insured loans.

The Justice Department said in a statement that its fraud unit has been getting 10 to 15 cases daily arising from housing investigations by the FBI, congressional committees and housing agencies.

In addition, the department said, the FHA has begun referring large numbers of cases involving alleged receipts of gratuities by FHA personnel.

Where criminal action appears warranted, the department said, the cases are being referred to U.S. district attorneys. Today's administrative changes were designed to speed action.

The new housing scandal unit in the criminal division will be headed by Nathaniel E. Kossack, department attorney who will have the assistance of a half dozen other specialists from the criminal division.

The unit will take over the work now being handled in three separate department sections — the fraud, government operations and common crimes units.

Goldschein, a special assistant to the attorney general, recently directed a lengthy grand jury investigation into labor racketeering in St. Louis. That investigation brought several indictments and a number of convictions in cases already brought to trial.

Goldschein in recent years has also directed investigations into Communists on the federal payroll in Colorado and California, an inquiry into organized crime in Miami, Fla., which the department said broke up the greatest opium smuggling ring in history in 1949, and also handled a special crime investigation in Kansas City, Mo., which resulted in eight tax indictments in 1950.

New York Harbor Strike May Come To End Following Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of 25,000 New York harbor longshoremen appeared likely today to end within hours.

The Wage Scale Committee of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind), went into session at 10:15 a.m. to consider a proposed settlement of the pay dispute.

A spokesman said he was "almost sure they'll go back to work today."

The strike, paralyzing the port except for the loading of military vessels, started suddenly yesterday morning.

Patrick J. (Packy) Connolly, ILA executive vice president, said the wage scale meeting had been moved ahead of its scheduled 11 a.m. starting time to try to get the strikers "back to work sooner."

The strikers meanwhile continued picketing the waterfront. A poster at one pier instructed longshoremen to return to work at 1 p.m. if the wage committee adopted a peace formula already approved by top ILA officials.

Terms of the agreement were announced by Federal Mediator John Andrew Burke after a 2½-hour talk last night with union leaders and representatives of the New York Shipping Assn.

The settlement included payment of an 8-cent-hourly wage boost retroactive to Oct. 1, 1953, which employers estimate will cost about four million dollars. In turn, the union would pledge not to strike again for 45 days while attempts are made to negotiate a new contract.

The wage increase would bring longshoremen's pay up to $2.35 an hour.

ILA President William V. Bradley and other top union officials who attended the mediation meeting were reported to have promised to recommend quick approval of the agreement. Waterfront observers viewed formal endorsement of the agreement as virtually certain.

Although Bradley said longshoremen would continue on strike until the 170-man wage scale committee acts, other union officials said some men would probably go back at the start of the regular work day.

The strike caught 71 ships in port and idled docks all along the 350-mile waterfront, biggest and busiest in the world. It came on short notice yesterday and demonstrated the resurgent power of the ILA after a year of bitter but successful struggle to retain its long control of dock labor.

Specifically at issue was the union's demand for immediate payment of an hourly 8-cent wage increase and a 2-cent boost in welfare benefits, both retroactive to Oct. 1, 1953. Although the employers offered to pay the wage raise as demanded and the welfare increase back to last April 1, they balked at any payment unless coupled with a contract covering the next two years.

Also involved in the sudden strike was the union's anger over recent statements by the waterfront commission of New York harbor, accusing the ILA of being gangster-controlled.

Essay Contest Finalists Told

Finalists in a local elimination for a West Texas essay contest among high school seniors were announced today, the first of activities in connection with Oil Progress Week.

The week will be observed beginning Sunday. In addition to the essay contest, a number of events will be held here. The week will be climaxed Thursday when a barbecue and free oil show will be held at the rodeo grounds.

The essay contest is being conducted by the Oil Industry Information Committee. Five local winners were announced, all to receive $25 savings bonds from the Diamond M Foundation. They are Thomas Rigsby, Myrtle Scott, Myrlene Markham, P. W. Cloud, Jr., and Patsy Williams. The top three essays have been sent to Odessa to be judged in an area contest. Those were of Rigsby, Miss Markham, and Cloud. Winners of that contest will be announced in Odessa during the Permian Basin Oil Show next week, and scholarship awards will be made there. The local contest was conducted by the high school, which submitted the best 10 to a local committee headed by Walker Dabbs.

Throughout next week, many merchants in town will have displays relating to the oil industry and to progress in connection with the week's program.

Tickets are now selling for $1.25 each at the Chamber of Commerce office for the barbecue, which will start at 6 o'clock Thursday evening at the rodeo grounds. About 400 of these tickets are now out.

The oil show will be held following the barbecue and will be free to the public. This show is being planned by the chamber's oil and gas committee, headed by Bob Wilson.

Sub-committees are now working on various events to be included in the oil show. John Casebier, George Horst, and Harold Parsons are working on a pulling unit display, which will include a chemical truck, well logging, and perforating and acidizing work. Ike Dolan is working on a demonstration and time contest of connection work. Cecil McClatchy heads a group working on a truck rodeo, which will include management and use of heavy oilfield equipment. A committee preparing a first aid demonstration and contest is headed by M. L. Browman. Jim Kincaid, county OIIC chairman, is to have a speaker for the show. The OIIC has also provided a film for showing to service clubs on oil deveopment in the Williston Basin in the northwest part of the country.

Two Rulings In Conflict

By The Associated Press

The State Board of Examiners in Optometry has been both upheld and restrained in separate actions concerning new rules on practice of optometry in Texas.

The new rules issued by the board were said to limit advertising and use of trade names by optometrists. They became effective Monday.

Three separate suits were filed Tuesday in Dallas, Austin and Beaumont attacking the new rules.

In Austin, Judge J. Harris Gardner ruled that the board order fixing rules was valid under both the Texas statutes and the state constitution. He denied an injunction against the board asked by Dr. Jerome W. Broughton, an optometrist in Waco and Corpus Christi.

A plea by the Texas State Optical Co. to have the ruling set aside was set for hearing this afternoon.

In Dallas, Dist. Judge W. L. Thornton issued an order restraining the state board in enforcing its new rules and also temporarily restraining Dr. Broughton from appealing the Austin ruling pending a hearing on the matter. He set a hearing for Oct. 13.

Hazel Heads Out Over Open Carribbean Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel headed out over open waters of the Caribbean Sea today after whirling through the Windward Islands during the night.

The latest official advisory placed the storm center about 180 miles north of the coast of Venezuela and 460 miles south-southwest of San Juan, Puerto Rico. There are no land areas in its immediate path.

A Navy Hurricane hunter plane flew into the storm area today.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thundershowers this afternoon, tonight and Thursday, cooler north portion this afternoon and tonight.

WEST TEXAS: Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thundershowers this afternoon, tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperatures.

EAST TEXAS: Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers and thundershowers this afternoon, tonight and Thursday. Cooler north portion tonight and Thursday. Moderate to fresh easterly winds on the coast.

Protests Flare On Batchelor Sentence

By The Associated Press

A Big Spring, Tex., draft board chairman quit his post in protest, and Robert A. Vogeler, former prisoner of the Reds in Hungary, has called the life sentence meted out to Cpl. Claude Batchelor "most unjust."

Batchelor, 22-year-old Kermit, Tex., youth, was sentenced to life in prison last week by a court-martial panel at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. He was charged with collaborating with the enemy and informing on fellow POWs while a prisoner of the Chinese Communists in Korea.

Vogeler said in Dallas yesterday that Batchelor's sentence was "the most unjust thing I have ever heard." Vogeler, himself a prisoner for 17 months while accused of being a spy for the United States, addressed a district Kiwanis Club meeting.

World War II Navy Veteran H. W. Wright resigned as draft board chairman at Big Spring with the comment there that his conscience would not permit him to draft boys who might be subjected to the same penalties given Batchelor.

Vogeler, who was a representative of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. at the time of his arrest in 1949, said the Communist methods of torture, starvation and intimidation used on him in Hungary were "the same procedure" as those used to persuade prisoners of the Koreans and Chinese to make propaganda broadcasts, germ warfare confessions and other "so-called acts of collaboration."

"We should blame ourselves at home for these deflections," the 43-year-old New Yorker said. "We failed to prepare them for an enemy which has no rules and violates every dency built up over the years."

He said military officials must "take a more relastic view toward this matter and consider the conditions under which these prisoners acted. If the court-martial board had been made up of men who were acquainted with brain-washing, the sentence would not have been so heavy."

Natural Gas Act Repeal Is Urged

By MAX B. SKELTON

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An Ohio oil executive said today present and potential consumers will be disappointed unless the Natural Gas Act is amended to exempt producers from federal control.

J. C. Donnell II, president of Ohio Oil Co., said the supply of natural gas available for interstate commerce will be limited if public utility methods and standards are applied to field sales.

Donnell spoke at the concluding session of the 35th annual meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn.

P. C. Spencer, president of Sinclair Oil Corp., also warned the 1,000 oilmen of dangers from political intervention.

Spencer said modern inventions and discoveries continue to bring important and sometimes devastating changes in established industry marketing positions and practices.

"However, in the case of natural gas, political intervention rather than technological development is reported to result in a competitive price advantage over oil of approximately five to one on a well-head basis," he said.

"This is an unnatural and uneconomic condition which in the end will benefit no one, including the consuming public. The problem is receiving constructive attention from many competent sources and we can be confident it will be rectified."

Donnell said that unless the 1938 Natural Gas Act is amended producers selling to interstate pipelines must submit themselves to a congressional act designed to apply to utilities.

On June 7, the Supreme Court held that the act regulating transmission companies compels the Federal Power Commission to regulate field sales of natural gas entering interstate commerce. On July 16, FPC froze wholesale natural gas prices in the field.

Donnell said that if the court's ruling is carried out present consumers, in a relatively short time, will find themselves without adequate supply.

Substitution of federal control for competitive forces in a free market, Donnell said, would curtail exploration and production.

Washington School Moves To Halt Protests On Integration

By The Associated Press

A mass meeting of all pupils was scheduled at stormy Anacostia High School in Washington today in an effort to end protests against mixing white persons and Negroes in classrooms in the national capital.

Officials and student leaders hoped the session would halt two days of noisy demonstrations in Washington and start a back-to-classes movement similar to one already under way in nearby Baltimore.

Anacostia High has been the scene of the biggest demonstrations against the three-week-old program of racial integration in District of Columbia schools. Yesterday Police Lt. William T. Murphy said he felt "the peak of the disturbance is past" at Anacostia.

The police officer made the statement at day's end after more than 2,800 students were reported absent at one time or another from three high schools and six junior highs. Six persons were arrested near Anacostia High. Two men were held on charges of disorderly conduct. The others were released.

During the day about 100 white students congregated in front of the Supreme Court Building, where the historic decision outlawing segregation in the public schools was handed down last May 17, but left quickly under police orders.

Exactly who or what was behind the demonstrations could not be determined. They appeared to be spontaneous imitations of recent mass protests against desegregation at Baltimore and at Milford, Del.

The Justice Department said it was "keeping an eye on the all-over situation," but a spokesman said the department's Civil Rights Section has not yet come across any violations of federal law. The department declined to say whether "outside forces" may be involved in the demonstrations.

At Baltimore, firm handling by school and police officials, coupled with a Circuit Court decision, appeared to have quelled a series of student strikes, picketing and mass protests. Schools throughout the city reported the situation quiet. Attendance was beginning to mount.

Superior Judge James K. Cullen ruled that white and Negro children may continue to go to public schools together.

Proposals Would Extend Benefits

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP)—Retirement benefits for certain teachers, state employes and local government workers are involved in the second and third proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on Nov. 2.

The second amendment would permit inter-transfer of retirement credits earned either as a state employee or a teacher to prevent loss of credits when a person changed from one job to the other.

Actually, the amendment probably affects very few persons but it might affect many others in the future since it would permit easier passage of state employees between teaching and state department service.

Proponents contend that there is no penalty for changing jobs under social security and should therefore be none for changing state jobs.

They also point out that since few are affected, it would add very little to the state expense.

Opponents claim intermingling the two retirement systems would result in loss of emphasis on continuity of employment. This is particularly undesirable, they say, "in the teacher field with its current shortage."

They also argue that employees in private business forfeit time earned in private retirement plans when they leave their jobs and teachers and state workers shouldn't be put in a preferred class.

On the ballot the proposal appears in this language:

"For (against) the constitutional amendment providing for crediting to members of either the Teacher Retirement System or the Employees Retirement System of Texas all services rendered, as either a teacher, or person employed in the public schools, colleges and universities of the state, or as an appointive officer or employee of the state for retirement benefits under either of said systems."

The No. 3 amendment on the ballot proposes a contract between the state and federal governments to permit extension of social security coverage to employees in non-governmental functions in local, county and district government.

It is now possible for employees in governmental-function jobs to be so covered, but not for employes in such jobs as those in city water and light departments.

Proponents claim this is a discrimination that should be removed, that it will not cost the state anything, and that there is no compulsion on the city to enter into social security even if the amendment is adopted. They note few other plans are as cheap to the employees.

Opponents contend pressure would force cities to offer the coverage of their employees if it were made available and would necessitate new local taxes to cover the added expense.

The ballot will carry the proposal this way:

"For (against) the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas authorizing the Legislature to provide for agreements between the state of Texas and the federal government to obtain federal social security coverage for proprietary employees of its political subdivisions."

filed application to drill a 3,800-foot wildcat six miles northeast of Robert Lee.

Location for the wildcat, the No. 1 D. F. Perciful is 330 feet from southeast and 2,491 feet from northeast lines of section 461, J. Baker survey. It is two miles east of the Wendkirk-Cisco field. Operations are to begin at once.

SCURRY COUNTY

Texas Crude Oil and B. L. McFarland, Inc., No. 1-288 J. N. Brumley, West Scurry wildcat, is drilling in Pennsylvanian reef lime below 7,215 feet after a drillstem test of that zone.

The one-hour test was run from 7,180-213 feet. Recovery was 10 feet of drilling mud with no shows and no pressures. Top of the reef was at 7,177 feet, with no elevation reported.

Skelly Oil Co. has reported completion of the No. 3 Hugh Birdwell in the Diamond M-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 20-64th-inch choke to make 117.63 barrels of 43-gravity oil plus five and one-half-per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 650-1. Tubing pressure was 85 pounds. The production is natural through perforations at 6,714-722 feet. Total depth is 6,750 feet.

Drillsite for the new oiler is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 177-97-H&TC.

Union Oil of California No. 1 M. L. Simmons, Northeast Scurry tester, is drilling below 2,868 feet in lime and shale.

Superior Oil No. 1-537 Mathis, Northwest Scurry tester, is drilling deeper after a one-hour drillstem test from 8,204-244 feet.

Gas was at the surface in seven minutes, with the gas volume estimated at the rate of 31,500 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 1,410 feet of 37.2-gravity oil and 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure ranged from 235-450 pounds, with shutin pressure after 30 minutes 3,540 pounds.

MITCHELL LOCATIONS

Three new tests have been set for immediate drilling in the Westbrook field of Mitchell County.

Fred W. Shield of San Antonio and associates will drill the No. 1 Nettie Hale 1,665.5 feet from south and 2,341 feet from east lines of section 2-28-tln-T&P, eight miles north of Westbrook. Contract depth is 3,200 feet.

Beckham, Inc., of Odessa is to drill the No. 1 C. E. Butler, Sr., 330 feet from north and 2,322.7 feet from east lines of section 26-28-tln-T&P, three miles north of Westbrook. It is to go to 3,500 feet.

Ibex Co. of Breckenridge No. 1 Morrison-Barber is to be 330 feet from north and east lines of the lease in section 32-28-tln-T&P, three miles northwest of Westbrook. Projected depth is 3,200 feet.

RUNNELS OFFSET

Lario Oil & Gas Co. of Midland has filed application to drill the No. 1-C J. P. McCord as a southwest offset to Service Drilling Co. No. 1 J. P. McCord, opener and lone producer in the Service-Crosscut field of East Runnels County. Location has been made 330 feet from north and east lines of section 316-T-Carlin survey, six miles north of Talpa. The project is slated for a 3,500-foot bottom.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Notgrass, 2904 Avenue J, are the parents of a seven-pound son born at 6:50 p.m. yesterday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Charged With Driving With Suspended License

A charge of driving while his license was suspended was filed in county court this morning against Charles David Willingham, 43, operator of Willingham Courts on the Lubbock highway.

Willingham, of Brownwood and Snyder, was fined $173.50, including court cost, and sentenced to three days in the county jail when he pleaded guilty May 13 to a county court charge of driving while intoxicated. His driving license was also suspended for six months by automatic process of law. He had been involved in a minor accident.

Willingham was arrested last night by Homer Whisnand, sheriff. He had not been tried by noon today on the recent charge.

City Firemen Are Called Out Twice

The general fire alarm was sounded last night and this morning, but both fires were out before fire fighting equipment arrived, firemen said.

The fire alarm last night was sounded when it was reported that there was a fire in a light fixture and ceiling of a residence at Twenty-eighth Street and Avenue D.

A light bulb was found to have been placed against the ceiling of the house inside the light fixture. Firemen removed the bulb.

The fire this morning was at about 11 o'clock at Twenty-ninth Street and Avenue O.

V. B. Floyd, resident of the apartment at the address, who was cooking a pot of beans, went to sleep while the beans were cooking. When firemen arrived they found the apartment full of smoke, and the beans a little overcooked.

Troops Guarding Trade Routes Are Withdrawn

NEW DELHI (AP)—The last Indian troops guarding trade routes inside Tibet have been withdrawn in compliance with a new Indian-Chinese agreement on Tibet, the Indian government radio said today.

Chinese troops will take over the responsibility of protecting traders from bandit attacks.

Youth In Hospital At Houston For Treatment

Sammy Berry, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Berry, Lamesa highway, has entered a Houston hospital for observation and possible surgery. Consulting doctors had not completed their findings on the boy's case this morning, but were expected to do so sometime today.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Local Man Wins A Second Prize In National Contest

By ANITA HALL

Back in June, TROYCE E. GUINN, 2403 Fortieth Street, entered the national "Kitchen Of Tomorrow" contest sponsored by Philco. Early in July, he received a letter from the company requesting that he sign and have notarized an affidavit that neither he nor any member of his family was employed by Philco. Money for the notary fee was even included in the letter. He complied with the request and promptly returned the duly executed affidavit. Time went on without further correspondence; so the Guinns forgot about the contest.

One morning recently he mentioned the contest to Mrs. Guinn, for the first time in weeks, saying that he supposed he did not win anything in spite of the letter they sent him. Coincidentally, an unsealed letter came in the mail that morning and Mrs. Guinn thought it was advertisement. She started to throw it away, she said, but changed her mind and read it. It contained the news that Mr. Guinn had won a second prize in the contest and informed him that an 11', double-door Philco refrigerator would be sent to him, free of charge, through Roe's Appliance Store.

He went to the store that day and asked to see a Philco refrigerator with the same specifications. One of the firm's employes told him that they had one of that model but that it was not for sale. Mr. Guinn inquired, "Why not?" "because some lucky jerk here won it in a contest," was the reply. Mr. Guinn then introduced himself and claimed the prize.

There were 50 of these refrigerators given as second prizes and he was the only Texan to win one.

Mr. and Mrs. Guinn and their children, Keith and Larry Dean, moved into their new home at 2403 Fortieth Street. He is employed by Pan-American Pipeline Company. They have lived here four years.

A guest of Mr. and Mrs. JOE MIDDLETON, west of town, last week was Mrs. Middleton's brother, VELTON (PEE WEE) WILLIAMS. He is temporarily stationed in Big Spring as a civilian representative of quality control for the U. S. Air Force. Mr. Williams' permanent station is at Port Arthur where he and his family reside.

Birthday Is Celebrated

Timothy Patrick was honored on his eighth birthday Monday with a party given for him by his mother, Mrs. W. E. Patrick, 2903 Avenue T.

Each guest was presented a hobo stick that had a bandana kerchief tied to one end. The kerchief contained a picnic lunch and a plastic gun.

Guests were Paul Brown, Barbara Schiebel, Lee McKinley, Judy and Jan Mixon, Ronnie and Janice Detrich, Dawnell Wells, Martha Hurt, Linda, Bobby and Jerry King, Albert Williams, Christy Patrick and Mrs. W. A. Wells.

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-8688.

All summer long, entertaining has been in the nature of a picnic, a barbecue or cook-outs. Now that the weather is more comfortable, you may be planning for a more formal type of entertaining in the home.

Why not have the first course in the living room? Every one, guests and hostess alike, can enjoy a tasty morsel before the main meal. Serve a cold, tart juice or a hot spiced cider with unusual canapes.

Here are two flavorful recipes for canapes which can be prepared earlier in the day, and kept in the refrigerator until the guests arrive.

ROQUEFORT - PISTACHIO NUT

1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1-3 cup crumbled Roquefort cheese
1 tablespoon light cream
1 teaspoon minced onion
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
½ cup finely chopped pistachio nuts
Rye bread slices

Combine ingredients, except bread slices, and blend thoroughly. Spread on fancy bread shapes. Makes enough for about 4 dozen 1½-inch rounds.

SMOKY PEANUT BRITTLE

1 cup crushed peanut brittle
1-3 cup smoked cheese

Combine ingredients and blend thoroughly. Spread on fancy bread shapes. Garnish with peanut half, if desired. Makes enough for 3 dozen 1-inch rounds. Make up the canapes and place them on a tray in the refrigerator, ready to serve. If these canapes are to be made the day before, it would be well to cover them with household aluminum foil.

PERSONALS

Capt. James C. Dunn, Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, was a week-end guest in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dunn and sister, Mrs. Carolyn Reon, 2907 Avenue J.

Linday Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stephens, 3701 Highland Drive, visited Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Stephens in Blanket last week end.

Mrs. J. H. Birdwell and daughter, Alice Birdwell, 3400 Twenty-third Street, visited last week end with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Price in Lubbock.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Holliday, 3010 Avenue T, were their son, Glen, who is attending Texas Tech, and their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gilchrest and son, Weldon, of Carisbad, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Caperton of Cameron visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caperton, 3750 Avondale, and Mr. and Mrs. Ford Caperton, 101 Browning, last week.

M-Sgt. and Mrs. John H. Roddy of Wichita Falls spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Roddy, 2211 Avenue O, and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lindsey in Fluvanna.

Jan Stacy, Gwen Watson, Kay Watson and Mrs. Nolan Watson attended the Big Spring Rainbow chapter's installation of officers recently.

Organization Of Sorority Chapter Is Begun Here

Several members of Sweetwater's Beta Omega chapter No. 1043 of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority entertained a group of Snyder women Monday night at the Ranch House.

The Sweetwater club is assisting the local group in the organization of an Epsilon Sigma Alpha chapter here.

After a discussion of the aims and purposes of the sorority, organization plans were made. Following the business session those attending played Bunco.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Glen Cox, Mrs. Art Dibble, Mrs. Hershel Hinshaw, Mrs. James Littlepage, Mrs. Bill McArthur, Elois McDow, Mrs. Wayne Pitner, Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Mrs. Worley S. Dow, Mrs. S. C. Lipscomb, Jr., Mrs. Charles Swan and to the Sweetwater members who were Mrs. G. E. Allison, Mrs. Bryon Baker, Mrs. Paul Chesmer, Mrs. Charles Curry, Mrs. Virgil Curry, Mrs. Charles Diggs, Mrs. G. S. Hillard, Mrs. Tom Porter, Billie Tittle, Barbara Haynes, Mrs. Larry Hubbard, Laura Bell Severtson, Mary Lou Hale and Johnnie Wickham.

High School P-TA To Have Fun Night

A skit, "Mickey Goes To The Movies," will be presented by a group of High School girls at the High School P-TA social meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the school cafeteria. The High School Barbershop Quartet, under the direction of Robert Clinton, will sing several songs during the evening.

Refreshments will be served following the entertainment.

To loosen peach skins, dip the fruit into boiling water for about one minute, then cool in cold water, remove skins and pit. Very ripe peaches may need even less than a minute of dipping.

Bordens Founded Best Known Paper

By MILLARD COPE

Best known among Texas newspapers of revolutionary days was The Telegraph and Texas Register. It became the organ of the provisional government, was a victim of the war when Santa Anna's advance forces dumped the press into Buffalo Bayou, and its peripatetic existence saw operations in four towns.

Originally projected as The Telegraph and Texas Planter, at San Felipe de Austin, the newspaper was established Oct. 10, 1835. Its founders included Joseph Baker, Thomas H. Borden, and Gail Borden Jr.

The three announced in The Texas Republican of March 14, 1835, the beginning of a newspaper to be "printed every week on a sheet larger than any hitherto published in Texas."

The founders promised their newspaper would be "a tool to no party, but would fearlessly expose crime and critical error wherever met with."

Subscription rates were $5 a year, in advance; $6 if paid at the expiration of six months, and $7 if paid at the end of the year.

Preparations for publication apparently continued from the original announcement in March until the first issue came off the press in October. The newspaper appeared as The Telegraph and Texas Register, the name Register being used instead of the originally designated Planter.

Texans were on the march, determined to achieve long-sought liberty from Mexico. Should the proprietors answer the call to arms?

On the day of its first edition, Gail Borden Jr., pondering the question, advised Austin of his decision that Texas best could be served by the newspaper. "If I should go, the business could not go on," Borden wrote. "We are the last and only medium of publication."

Belief was expressed that so long as a newspaper was printed west of the Brazos those to the east of the river would not take alarm.

The newspaper continued publication at San Felipe de Austin through March of 1836, with 21 eight-page issues coming from the press, before Borden and his press were forced to flee before the oncoming army of the Mexican general, Santa Anna.

The Texas army reached San Felipe on March 27, retreating before the Mexican forces; and, under cover of darkness, aided by Captain Baker's company, Borden and his press safely were evacuated across the river on March 30.

It is a distinction of Texas newspaper history that the press was moved at the request of President David G. Burnet, to Harrisburg, then the seat of government.

"As we were the last and only medium of publication they could possibly obtain," Borden explained in answering the president's request to move, "we felt that duty called us."

With every other press in Texas silenced as an economic war casualty, Borden went to work to turn out issue No. 22 of The Telegraph and Texas Register. Conquering difficulties, the newspaper was ready for press when a Mexican advance guard stormed the town. Borden's hopes went with the press Mexican soldiers dumped into Buffalo Bayou.

Texas was without a functioning printing press!

A week later, at San Jacinto, Texans won their decisive victory; and freedom. The Republic of Texas took its place among the world's nations, without a printing press.

Borden, though, was not to be denied. He asked government assistance to re-establish The Telegraph and Texas Register, reminding officials of unpaid printing bills.

An order, in payment of government printing, was issued on the Texas Purchasing Agent at New Orleans. Borden learned to his sorrow there were no funds with which to meet the demand.

He turned then toward another source, meeting success by mortgaging land. Obtaining a letter of credit on Cincinnati, he obtained funds with which a new press and other printing needs were bought.

Setting up a plant once again in a Texas capital city, Columbia, Borden resumed publication in August, with issue No. 23. There he continued, also, to serve as public printer of government documents.

The Telegraph and Texas Register continued its existence at Columbia until the capital was moved to Houston, and to the new capital Borden and his press made their fourth and final move. The first issue was printed there May 2.

Borden's tenure at Houston was but brief. Within a month, the founder severed his connections with the publication, disposing of it in June to Jacob W. Cruger and Dr. Francis Moore Jr., who continued the publication for several years.

For 20 long, weary months Borden had struggled to provide Texans with a newspaper, continuing until the press itself became a victim of the war; then, despite difficulties, resuming publication.

Starting at the seat of Austin's colony, The Telegraph and Texas Register took the first printing press to three other towns, in which a fleeing, fearful government had established itself.

Thus, Borden left his imprint upon the press of Texas—a press that was born in revolution and ended in revolution; a press that saw Borden as its last survivor before Texans were victorious at San Jacinto.

Ironically, the Texas press that was established as a means of bringing independence to Texas was not in existence to record the decisive battle at San Jacinto. The last existing press had been dumped into Buffalo Bayou just a week before the objective of victory had been achieved.

Pennsylvanians Know Time Of Day On Mars

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvanians can now tell easily what time it is on Mars.

The state industrial and construction exposition developed what it calls "the world's first space clock" for its annual meeting.

The space clock simultaneously records the hour, day, month and year on Mars, as well as on earth. The clock divides the Mars year into the conventional 12 months and into Mars days of 24 hours, 37 minutes, 23 seconds.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

(Letters from the readers of the Daily News are always welcome, provided they are signed by the writer and give his correct address. They will be printed subject to the publisher's discretion, based on whether the material contained is libelous or the language offensive. Letters should not exceed 300 words.)

To The Editor:

First, let me state where I live and what exists in my locality of the city.

I live in Belmont Park addition, in a $14,000 home located on a northeast corner lot, which we think is nice and on a good location with all good neighbors.

Since we built our home and moved in, there has been a dump ground started, built up, and growing by the ton, and still we are in a restricted district.

Questions:

What is the use to pay a $1 garbage tax?

What is the use to pay $3 or more for a closed garbage can?

What's the holler about clean up the city when you can't even keep the garbage from being dumped in your front yard?

Why can't we get this stopped—not only stopped but cleaned up and covered up?

Do mosquitoes, flies, mice, rats and snakes cause polio?

I believe Snyder has had nine cases of polio and two deaths by same.

My neighbors are all yelping about it, but I do not know how far they have gone or who they have seen to try to get this mess cleaned up. But I know with dead moral certainty that my wife and I have gone to the parties that we thought could and should help us. We have contacted them a number of times. Our friendly answer from these officials were as follows:

"We will sure get something done."

"You see so and so."

"You call Mr. so and so. He knows more about that. He has been out there."

Two of these officials said, "Who owns that property anyway?"

If anyone doubts that this condition exists out here, just drive out here. I will stand on my front porch and prove it to them. I would be afraid to take them down in the edge of it for fear Old Pete might have got away again.

One more question:

I wonder if the state health department could help us out. If anyone thinks so I have their address.

S. A. Scott

What the GASOLINE WAR in Snyder means to the Consuming Public—

At the present reduced prices of gasoline, the public is saving thousands of dollars each month. BUT — there are always dark clouds behind the horizon. Your Snyder and other Independent Gasoline Dealers, both in the wholesale and retail outlets, have saved you, the general public, (each and every car or tractor operator in this area) thousands of dollars a year for the past decade or more. Your Snyder retail price of gasoline has averaged far below the national or area price. Why this difference? Your Independent Dealer has the initiative, his own capital, and is willing to put out the extra efforts and can hold down the overhead expense and cost of marketing gasoline for less. Most of the gasoline marketed by Independents meets all the specifications of any, or most, of the Major Oil Companies that market in this area.

The dark clouds are hovering over your Snyder Independents because the larger Major Oil Companies, or shall we say some of them, continue to try to freeze the Independents out of the Retail Markets. You can go only a few miles from this city, and you have to pay in the neighborhood of thirty or thirty-five cents for the same gasoline. The Major Oil Companies are able to subsidize their dealers and do not have to worry about losing money on the marketing, because they are able to subsidize out of the production of crude oils. The Independent Dealer has no recourse for subsidizing.

We shall continue to give our customers the finest of quality and service through our Independent Retail Service Stations. These stations are all owned and operated by your neighbor and mine. These operators attend your local Churches, support your local Civic Organizations and schools. There is none of the profits sent out of Snyder to New York, Philadelphia, or Houston. The Major Oil Companies have their operations out of the area, and all the profit leaves your Community.

Therefore, we urge you, Mr. Motoring Public, to patronize and support your neighbor. He is competing with the largest industries in the nation, namely the Major Oil Companies, who are at the present trying to freeze the Independent Gasoline Dealer out of Snyder and the surrounding area. They say that they are trying to protect their interest. Ask your neighboring gasoline dealer. Your patronage will protect your own interest of the future and thereby keep Snyder gasoline from going to an unreasonable, high Retail Price. The quality is the same although the Independent has not the money to spend for advertising.

A&M Can Do Better Says Hopeful Coach

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas A&M already has won more than expected—one game—but Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant says his boys can do better than that "if I can get them to believing they can beat anybody."

The Aggies, most thinly manned squad the Southwest Conference has seen in years, Saturday toppled unbeaten Georgia 6-0 to the surprise of almost everybody. They outplayed the Bulldogs and showed perfect condition. They had to.

"We used only 29—that's all the traveling squad—and the boys played hard all the way despite one of the hottest days I ever have seen," Bryant observed.

Not an Aggie came off with an injury. "Of course," quipped the coach, "you never get hurt when you win."

Bryant came to A&M this year from Kentucky at the highest salary ever paid an Aggie coach—$15,000 a year—in an effort to rebuild the football fortunes of what once was a Southwest Conference power.

A number of players quit under the tough work Bryant gave them but he had what he called "the hard-nosed boys who want to play" in starting the season. A&M took a 41-9 licking in the opening game from Texas Tech, but the Aggies did better the next week although still losing 14-6 to Oklahoma A&M. That they had improved immensely was attested by the fact that Oklahoma A&M tied Texas Tech last week 13-13.

Then came the Georgia game. "I thought we might win it," said Bryant. Which made him one of a very few.

Bryant has a traveling squad of 30 if the boys are all in shape. He carries along the student manager, Troy Summerlin, who was pressed into service when Bryant ran short of centers. Troy weighs a dripping wet 165 and is quite willing. But Bryant hasn't had to use him yet.

It's nothing new for Bear to have a team lose several games to start the season, then come back brilliantly. At Kentucky, for instance, he had teams drop their first three games yet become good enough for bowl appearances. The Kentucky outfit that won the Cotton Bowl in 1952 was like that.

Saturday night the Aggies play University of Houston. Bryant isn't predicting that his team will win because he says Houston is much better than its showing against Baylor (Baylor won 53-13) might indicate. But he's hopeful.

The A&M freshman team opened the season last week with a 31-6 victory over Houston. Some of the best prospects seen in years strutted their stuff. Bryant's recruiting apparently has been about as good as his coaching.

The sun is beginning to shine once more on Aggieland.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

The Snyder Tigers' first district opponent, Levelland, which the locals will meet in Levelland Friday night, is still the district's top passing team.

The Lobos, after three games, have gained 435 yards passing, twice as much as most teams in the district and more than three times as much as one team.

In addition to leading in that department, the Levellanders have gained more on total offense than has any other team, with 1,419 yards. Breckenridge is second, while Snyder is third. In passing, Plainview is running second to Levelland and Snyder third.

The Breckenridge Buckaroos are still No. 1 on rushing, with a total of 1,010 yards, while Levelland runs second and Snyder third.

Levelland also holds the top spot on the percentage of passes completed, with 55.5, with Breckenridge and Vernon following. Snyder is fourth with 42.3 per cent.

Leading the per-pass average yardage is Snyder, which has a gain of 24.4 per pass. Big Spring and Breckenridge run next.

Levelland, with 30 passes, has completed more than any other team in the district. Plainview is close with 29 completions and leads attempts with 68. Breckenridge, which has the least number of completions, also has tried the least number.

Sweetwater has gained the least amount of yards rushing, with 295, or an average of 98.3 per game, while Breck has a game average of 336.6 yards per game. The Buckies have gained the least amount of yardage by passing, with 110, or an average of 36.6 per game, while the average per game of Levelland is 145 yards.

Here's how the entire district stacks up on rushing and passing:

Teams	Rushing	Passes	Pass Ydg.
Levelland	984	30 of 54	435
Breckenridge	1,010	6 of 12	110
Snyder	939	11 of 26	269
Big Spring	729	11 of 25	225
Plainview	396	29 of 68	359
Vernon	430	20 of 44	256
Sweetwater	295	15 of 36	227

One of those rough sophomores belonging to TCU is Jimmy Cooper, former Hermleigh star. TCU's sophomores are reported to be tops this year, and everyone is looking for a pretty fair team for the Fort Worth school in a year or two. Cooper was the end who caught the touchdown pass which put TCU ahead of Oklahoma before the Sooners finally moved on out to down the Frogs 21-16. That's the only pass Cooper's credited with this year so far, but that was a big one.

Even Money On Oklahoma And Texas

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma may be No. 1 in the nation but it will be only even money in Dallas Saturday against Texas, the No. 15 team.

The Big Red and the Longhorns will play before a sellout of 75,504 in the Cotton Bowl.

Other odds made Texas Christian a 2-touchdown underdog to Southern California at Los Angeles Friday night, Southern Methodist even against Missouri at Columbia, Mo., Saturday afternoon, Arkansas a 1½ points favorite over Baylor at Fayetteville, Wisconsin 7½ points over Rice at Madison, Wis., and University of Houston 3 points over Baylor at Houston Saturday night.

Oklahoma comes to Dallas with three regulars on the injury list. They are Gene Calame, quarterback who piloted the Sooners to victory last season; Tom Carroll, halfback who ran 48 yards to what proved to be the winning touchdown, and Bob Loughridge, a tackle.

Texas also has some injuries but will be in better condition than last week when the Longhorns used reserves most of the time in battering Washington State.

Press Selects Outstanding Grid Players

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Goldberg, 20-year-old Stanford senior center, was selected today as the first Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" for the 1954 football season.

Goldberg, a 60-minute man, played a major role in Stanford's surprise 12-2 victory over Illinois in Saturday's nationally-televised game from Palo Alto. He was the man mainly responsible for keeping Illinois touchdown twins, J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates, bottled up.

Gene (Beef) LaMone, West Virginia guard, turned in a spectacular game against South Carolina and in recognition of his feats was named the Southern Conference "Player of the Week."

A 192-pound, 20-year-old junior guard from Georgia Tech, Franklin Brooks was outstanding against Southern Methodist. He was credited with 11 tackles, blocked a punt and recovered two fumbles, one leading to a field goal.

Jim Nelson, of Duke, who kicked the deciding point for Duke's 7-6 victory over Tennessee, and Earl Shumaker of Penn State were among the other guards who turned in fine performances.

Army Tackle Howard Glock and Navy End Ron Beagle drew compliments for their smashing play against Michigan and Dartmouth respectively.

Other linemen nominated:

Guards—Bud Brooks, Arkansas, Tom Bettis, Purdue. Jim Cloney, Temple. Lamar Lundy, Purdue.

Ends—Bill Liptack, Fordham. John Kernic, West Virginia. Bill Hickey, Lehigh.

Centers—Chuck Beemus, Colgate.

There's No Such Thing As An Upset

NEW YORK (AP)—Football upsets are not upsets at all, says Columbia's Coach Lou Little, who refuses to concede that the antiplatoon rule has proved the "great equalizer" of the autumn sport.

"It's no upset when Purdue scores 27 points on Notre Dame," the bespectacled ringmaster of Morningside Heights said. "It's no upset when South Carolina beats Army and Army beats Michigan.

"These are teams playing within their own class and in this modern game of football the fortunes of a game shift swiftly — a couple of good passes and a breakaway run can turn defeat into victory.

"I think football games today are won by superior coaching and superior personnel. A team takes advantage of its opportunities and wins—but it's not an upset unless the team is playing out of its class."

Still a strong proponent of the unlimited substitution rule, Little said this year's all-star college football game in Chicago proved that the one-platoon system is not a leveler of strength.

"The pros had to discard the unlimited substitution rule and play with the college restrictions," he said. "This was supposed to make it a closer game. Instead, the pros (Detroit Lions) won 31-6. They could have won by twice as much."

Temple Is Looking For Big Loop Tie

TEMPLE (AP)—Temple, which lost money operating in the Big State League last season, is interested in playing again in 1955 but wants a big league tieup in order to do it.

C. D. Brown, president of the club, told league president Howard Green efforts were being made for such a tieup.

Green pointed out that Big State League clubs now had a better chance of agreements with the big leagues because they were hewing to a salary limit and using more rookies and limited service men. The salaries are not high and the big league clubs can place their players.

Time was that the big league clubs couldn't compete with the independents because players on Big State League clubs were making more than the majors wanted to pay.

Hialeah race course, open all year as a tourist attraction, drew 169,060 visitors during the summer months (June, July and August). The folks come to look at the flamingos and tropical landscaping.

Bout Tonight Will Produce Contender

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Spurred by the announcement that the winner will be considered a contender for a shot at Rocky Marciano's title, heavyweights Charley Norkus of Port Washington, N.Y., and Charlie Powell, San Diego, battle it out here tonight in a scheduled 10-rounder.

It promises to be a brawl. The pair are swingers with not much in the way of ring science.

The fight will be nationally televised from the Civic Auditorium, starting at 10 p.m., EST, over CBS network.

Al Weill, manager of Marciano, announced here yesterday he would consider the winner a contender for a possible crack at the crown next summer. Marciano is here to referee one of the preliminaries and will take a good look at the main eventers.

Powell, a 6-foot-3 fast puncher, will be making his TV debut after scoring knockouts in his last 10 bouts. He's strictly on the green side, with only 33 rounds of fighting behind him, but he throws leather swifter than any heavy seen around here in years.

Norkus, 6 feet 1½, will give away height and weight but it doesn't bother him. He's had a lot more experience and has faced better opposition than Powell. The Easterner is expected to weigh between 190-93 and Powell, 212.

Jockey Below Mark

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—For the fourth time in five years, jockey Willie Shoemaker has topped 300 winners. But he's far behind the phenomenal world record of 485 he set last year.

Silent Shoe rode four winners at Tanforan yesterday to total 301 this year. A year ago ago he had 369.

He won 388 races in 1950 and 315 in 1952.

Oklahoma Looks For Effective 2nd Team

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma is the nation's No. 1 football team today but to watch Coach Bud Wilkinson switch his men around in practice, one would think he hadn't won a game in a year.

Actually, Oklahoma has won 11 straight, including its opener against California 27-13 and its last encounter, against Texas Christian, 21-16. Last Saturday was an open date.

The all-important game against Texas comes up Saturday in the Cotton Bowl and Wilkinson faces the task of finding a second team that can take over from the first eleven in the relief role.

Last year, the Sooners had two teams of almost equal caliber but half of the players were lost through graduation. This season the two close contests didn't give Wilkinson much time to judge his sophomores in action and he can't hit on an effective second eleven.

At the present, the first team has three sophomores with two of them — and both from Texas —apparently set. They are right tackle Edmon Gray of Odessa and quarterback Jim Harris of Terrell.

The big question mark is the fullback spot, where Wilkinson has been experimenting with sophomores Jerry Tubbs, of Breckenridge, Texas, and Billy Pricer.

Letterman Robert Burris, who looked like a sure-fire bet for starting fullback and was even pegged as an All-America candidate in preseason speculation, has been moved to second string right half.

Harris did a stellar job in directing the Sooners in the second half of their hectic game against TCU after Oklahoma's star Split-T signal caller Gene Calme had the tip of his collar bone broke off. He is out indefinitely.

The even greater urgency for a second team for the Texas game is because of the usually hot autumn weather this time of year in Dallas.

It's not unusual for the series, which started back in 1901, to be played in 100-degree weather. It was an old trick of Dana X. Bible, former Texas coach, to let Oklahoma run itself down in the first half back when the Sooners were light on material. Then in the second half, the Llonghorns would surge back to overpower the pooped Sooners.

To add to Wilkinson's worries, his scouts report that Texas has two teams of equal size and speed and fine material down through the fifth team.

Lobos Are Toughest Tiger Foes So Far

Snyder's football team was not doing its best in its 51-0 win over Thomas Jefferson of El Paso Saturday night, head coach John Conley told members of the Quarterback Club last night.

"We needed a tough game," Conley said, pointing out that all the Tigers' district opponents are tough. The Thomas Jefferson team, he said, is "the worst I ever saw." Ysleta and Thomas Jefferson are not planned for next year's schedule, since contracts with those two teams ran out this year, Conley said. Bowie of El Paso will remain on the schedule for one more year, ending the second two-year contract.

Horrace Bostick, backfield coach, said it was hard to figure what Jefferson's nine-man defensive line was trying to do against the Tigers in the game. "It scattered like a covey of quail each time, and our blockers couldn't catch them to block them," he said. "When we threw the ball over their heads, it was alright with them. They weren't going to chase it."

Conley said Snyder scouts have watched Levelland, Snyder's opponent for Friday night in the first district game, in every game so far and that the Lobos looked better each time. J. P. Ward and Roy Carter, coaches who scouted Levelland, reported on that team.

"You can't tell what they're going to do," Ward said, adding "They may throw or run, and they do both well." Levelland is slightly weak on defense, he said. Carter agreed with Ward, adding that Phillips beat Levelland and that Phillips is two or three touchdowns better than Colorado City, which beat Snyder in a scrimmage early this season.

During the meeting, the club briefly discussed a barbecue planned for the high school football squad at the end of the season. More plans are to be made in later meetings.

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, talked with the club on the coming bond proposal for adding facilities for the increasing elementary and junior high school enrollments and for normal growth of the school.

Yarbrough showed the club a projection of normal growth, figures on the number of families now in the school district and the number of children they will have during that time in school. Marked increases are expected in enrollment through the next five years, causing a need for additional classroom space. The school is now using several temporary buildings. Within five years, the projection showed, there will be some 1,100 students more than there is space for now. The superintendent added that a big percentage of families living here are young, with the families still growing.

Included in facilities proposed are several at the high school athletic plant, Yarbrough told the club. Planned are a field house, better lighting for the football field, additional seating in the stadium, better toilet facilties and concession stands on the field, and an adequate pressbox.

Ted Williams Insists He Is Out Of Game, Now Is Businessman

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams was back in Miami today to look after his fishing tackle business and other interests, but he gave no indication he will play baseball next year.

Williams told Jimmy Burns, sports editor of the Miami Herald, on arrival from Maine last night that his retirement from baseball is official—"right as I feel at this moment."

"Williams' good nature was ruffled slightly when I persisted on the retirement theme, reminding him that a sports writer friend of his said in a Sporting News article, Ted will be back," Burns wrote.

"I'll appreciate it if you don't ask me again,'" Burns quoted Williams.

The slugger is a partner in a fishing tackle business and also is interested in a business venture with golfer Sam Snead which he said "shows great potentialities."

"I've got a lot of things to do and a lot of places to go," Williams said. "I'm going to be a busy man."

First Annual Temple Open Tourney Ready

TEMPLE (AP)—The first annual Temple Open Golf Tournament gets under way here Friday, with some of the state's top professionals and amateurs competing for the $3,000 in prizes and cash.

Already signed up are pros Bo Wininger, Doug Higgins, Earl Stewart, Buster Reed and Billy Maxwell and amateurs Ernie Vossler and Rex Baxter Jr.

They are part of an early entry list of 45. Host pro Jack Mann expects more than 100. The tourney is sponsored by American Legion Post 133.

Junior High Teams Play Tomorrow

Snyder's two junior high school grid teams will be in Lamesa tomorrow afternoon for games with that school's teams starting at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Both the Snyder teams are undefeated so far this season, the eighth grade with a 3-0 record and the seventh with 2-0. The eighth, coached by Charlie Storrs and Guy Sullivan, has scored 104 points to opponents' six, or an average of 34.6 to 2 per game. The seventh, coached by Roy Carter and Gene Williams, has tallied 34 points to six, averaging 17 to 3.

The record of the Lamesa teams is not now known. The seventh grade will play in tomorrow's early game, with the eighth grade playing at about 4 o'clock.

Scorers for the eighth grade so far are Jimmy Allen, 49 points; Roger Hensley, 12 points; Richard Mahan, 12 points; Mickey McGrew, 12 points; Jerry Procter, seven points; Gale Courtney, six points; and Johnny Drake, six points. Top defensive players so far have been Wendell Norris, McGrew, Griggs, Gene Williamson, Billy Rinehart, and Larry Dodson.

For the seventh grade, Dick Hayes and Tony Perales have done all the scoring. Hayes has tallied 31 points, Perales eight. Eddie Watson, Grover Yost, Perales, Hayes, Coleman John, Gene Witherspoon, and Bobby Wilkinson head up defense.

There were 6,911 certified bowling establishments in operation during the 1953-54 season which ended July 31, according to the American Bowling Congress. This is a record says the ABC.

TV Viewers Seeing Some Of Top Teams

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten's kick for regional television appears out of bounds these days. Three conference teams have already appeared on the national screen with a fourth and possibly the best coming up.

Two weeks ago TV fans saw Iowa whip Michigan State. Last week Stanford humbled Illinois and on Saturday's menu is the Wisconsin-Rice encounter.

Not only will the TV-viewer see a Big Ten favorite up against the Southwest Conference defending cochampion and Cotton Bowl victor, but shaping up is a contest of individuals:

Wisconsin's Alan (The Horse) Ameche vs. fabulous Dicky Moegle of Rice.

Moegle is the same youngster whose runs so infuriated Alabama in the Cotton Bowl last January that a 12th man got off the bench to tackle the Owl speedster when he was clear and away to a 95-yard touchdown jaunt.

Moegle hasn't let up since. Against Rice victims Florida and Cornell this year, he has averaged 13.7 yards in 16 carries. The first four times he got his hands on the ball against Cornell, he swept for touchdown runs of 18, 40, 10 and 78 yards.

Rice publicitor Bill Whitmore, telling the Chicago football writers about Moegle yesterday, brought out that Dicky was quite a player even before the bowl game.

"He was sixth in rushing nationally last year with 833 yards," said Whitmore. "Of course he was in the shadow of All American Kosse Johnson, our fullback last year. Johnson rushed for 944 yards but he had 73 more carries than Moegle."

Whitmore said he believes the Wisconsin game will be a matter of Rice offense against Wisconsin defense, qualifying that he wasn't selling the Badger offense short.

Wisconsin's answer, of course, is Ameche. But that's not all. Badger quarterbacks Jim Miller and Jim Haluska are passing at a .760 clip this season.

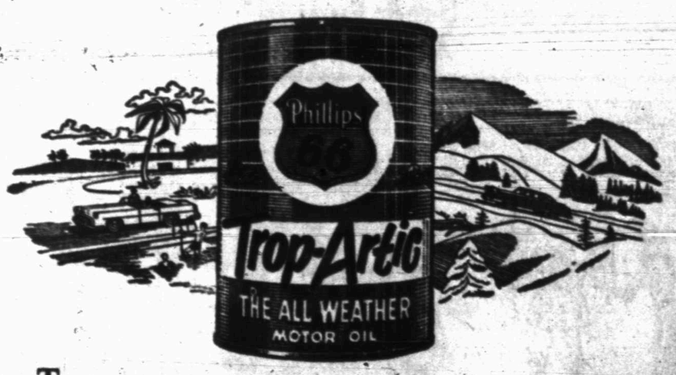
The First!

Phillips 66 brings you the first All-Weather Motor Oil which has proved it meets the most exacting standard ever established for automobile lubrication...

Mil-0-2104, Supplement 1 level.



THE toughest standard ever set up for automobile lubrication is the Mil-0-2104 Supplement 1 test. New TROP-ARTIC is the first all-weather motor oil to meet the requirements of this test. It is an oil which will serve you winter and summer . . . an oil so good it can double the life of an automobile engine!

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new TROP-ARTIC reduces ring wear 40% or more. It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons and bearings cleaner . . . longer-lasting. It saves you money by increasing gasoline mileage. This has been demonstrated in tests representing over 150,000 miles of driving.

TROP-ARTIC is truly an all-weather oil . . . S.A.E. 10W through S.A.E. 30. Therefore it flows instantly for easy starting at sub-zero temperatures, and yet it retains the film strength necessary to prevent engine wear under high temperature driving conditions. It isn't just heavy duty. It's double duty.

Any car, in any climate, at any time of the year will perform better with Phillips 66 TROP-ARTIC. It is a worthy companion product to Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL, the new high performance gasoline recently introduced by Phillips. It pays to stop at the station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

Free World Still Has Hopes Despite Setbacks, Mahon Says

Although truth is running second to "the big lie" and unstable conditions over the globe appear discouraging, the free world is not without hope, Congressman George Mahon declared here Tuesday.

Mahon addressed the Snyder Lions Club and a large delegation of visitors in the dining room of the First Methodist Church education building.

"There is no question about it—we're losing the propaganda war so far, and the communists are making inroads in other fields," Mahon said.

However, the congressman from the 19th district of Texas said he felt that President Eisenhower was fully qualified to deal with military and foreign affairs questions because of his long service in that field. Consequently, he urged the people to stand behind the nation's leadership.

"Partisan thinking should not extend beyond our shorelines," he warned.

Mahon said he couldn't agree with the administration on all of its domestic policies and possibly in methods followed in some of the foreign policy. But he warned that this was no excuse for failure to present a united front in dealing with communism.

"We didn't win anything in Korea and we certainly lost in Indochina. Without knowledge of the overall strategy of our state department, however, we are not in a position to evaluate these events properly."

Mahon said some critics thought that an all-out military effort should have been made in Korea and in Indochina. Among those with this opinion were Gen. Van Fleet and Gen. MacArthur.

"But President Eisenhower, Gen. Bradley, and others were opposed to this view and they still are," he reminded. "They feel that everything possible, short of surrender, should be done to avoid an all-out hydrogen war, which is the type of war World War III will be."

The new agreement to rearm Germany is a particularly bright spot, Mahon said. He described Germany as the keystone of Europe's defense against Soviet Russia.

"The Germans still are the most industrious and most resourceful people in Europe," he declared. "Yet safeguards must be provided to assure that they will not again succumb to a military dictatorship.

"I have lost some respect for France because of her attitude, but you must admit that the French people had a side in the argument over Germany. We can't forget that we have had to fight the Germans twice this century."

Mahon said that a strong Japan is another "must" in the Free World's bulwark against communism.

"They are natural and traditional enemies of the Russians, and something must be worked out there."

In referring to the nation's finances, Mahon noted that federal spending during the current fiscal year will be between $64-billion and $65-billion and that this year's budget would keep the country "in the red."

"We could have gone into 'the black' except for tax cuts," he said. "I opposed cutting taxes to the extent that income would not match expenditures, because I think the country should operate in 'the black' if possible."

However, Mahon said he thought the expenditures were justified in view of world conditions. He said he believed that defense spending was cut too heavily immediately following World War II, especially in 1937 when the budget called for only $37-billion.

"We simply can't afford to let down our defenses in these uncertain times," he said.

Earlier in the day Mahon had addressed students of the Snyder High School and had made a tour of the school plant.

He left Snyder early Tuesday afternoon en route to Colorado City and Big Spring.

Being Funny On TV Is Grave Industry

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What would happen if you put the nation's 10 leading television comedians at the same dinner table?

Would everybody die laughing?

"No, you'd probably just have chaos," said Red Buttons.

It is unlikely that the comics would try to top each other with fresh gags. They would be more likely to mention their tension, and all break out crying at once. For being funny on television today is a gruesomely grave industry.

"You can only hope you have something funny—but you can't be certain," said Buttons. "You don't have to have any out-of-town tryouts. If you do 30 shows a year, that means you face the strain of 30 opening nights.

"TV is a terrific challenge—much tougher than any other medium," said Red. "The lack of time is the biggest hurdle. Time is everything in comedy. You need it to polish your material, to perfect your performance. If you don't put the time in, you end up with a lesser product."

Red Buttons, who has a boyish face but a wrinkled mind, was born Aaron Chwatt on the lower East Side 36 years ago in a neighborhood so tough he spent most of his boyhood with his hands knotted into fists.

He started at 16 as a singing bellhop—that's how he got the name Red Buttons—and learned the comic's trade in burlesque, musical comedies, night clubs, and thousands of club dates.

Now he's in the top financial brackets in television, but he still looks wistfully back to the days when he did sketches in burlesque and vaudeville.

"Burlesque was a great training ground," he said. "They let you alone. You had to find your own laughs, build up your own sketches. You had a chance to be personally creative.

"In vaudeville it took from one to three years to put together a really good act, but then you had something solid that could last you for years.

"Look at Smith and Dale and their 'Doctor Kronkite' skit. They've been doing it for 50 years—just think of it, 50 years—and it's still funny.

"In television the only way you can live is to follow a story line and develop a situation comedy. Sid Caesar, Milton Berle, Imogene Coca, and Jackie Gleason had to switch to situation comedy. I've had to, too. It gives you the advantage of having familiar characters to build up week after week.

"Television uses the same technique as the movies. People won't go to the movies any more just to se a man telling jokes. They want a story situation with their humor. They want it on TV, too."

Officers Of P-TA Going To Workshop

Several officers in local Parent-Teacher Associations will go tomorrow to Big Spring to attend a legislative workshop of the 15-county district.

T. D. Wiman, Jr., high school principal here, is district legislative chairman and will head the meeting. He will also serve as a consultant during work group sessions, as will Mrs. Amon Weaver, president of the P-TA city council here, and Mrs. B. V. Gillean, president of the high school P-TA.

Others attending from Snyder will include Mrs. E. N. Baker, president of the junior high unit; Bill Ballard, junior high unit legislative chairman; Mrs. J. W. Kitchings, president of the West Elementary unit, and Mrs. John Best, legislative chairman there; Mrs. Bill Atwood, president of the North Elementary P-TA; Mrs. George Whitted, president of the Central Elementary unit; Mrs. Virgil Walton, president of the East Elementary unit, and Mrs. Ned White, legislative chairman of that unit.

The workshop will open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the high school auditorium in Big Spring. Mrs. Weaver said the public is invited, pointing out that members of women's clubs or other groups might wish to attend. She said that a state P-TA official, who is also a state legislative chairman for a women's club, and told the local group she attended a P-TA legislative workshop to further her club work because the P-TA was the only organization furnishing such a workshop.

Mrs. Weaver said that in this workshop those attending will study phases of legislation as applied to local, state, and national levels. The purpose of these workshops, she said, is not to tell anyone how or for whom to vote but to teach members how to build interest in legislation pertaining to the welfare of children. "The P-TA stands on principles and issues, not on candidates or political parties," Mrs. Weaver said, adding that P-TA groups throughout the nation are functioning groups of citizens who obtain safety measures, such as zoning laws, traffic control, extension of health services, and better school opportunities. Many of them conduct campaigns to urge people to pay their poll taxes and to vote.

Mrs. C. C. Redding of Austin, state legislative chairman for the P-TA, will be one of the leaders. Work groups will include one on the local unit's responsibility in the legislative program, headed by J. J. Black and Mrs. Stanley Erskine, both of Midland, and one on building interest in legislation, headed by Mrs. Redding and Mrs. Howard Butler of Big Spring.

Rites For Mrs. McNeill Are Held In Monahans

Funeral services for Mrs. Eula Alma McNeill, 63, formerly of Snyder, were held this afternoon in the Monahans Church of Christ.

Mrs. McNeill died Sunday following a heart attack. She had lived in Monahans since moving from Snyder in 1944. Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. E. B. House of Monahans, Mrs. W. H. Braddy of Hobbs, N.M., and Mrs. A. M. Chipman of East Islands, Calif.

Two Texans Are Due To Arrive In Leavenworth

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Two brothers—James Hollis Jones, 49, and Ralph Franklin Jones, 44—were due in Leavenworth, Kan., today to begin prison sentences for attempting to extort $200,000 from wealthy Dallas Jews.

James Hollis is under a 25-year-sentence while Ralph is under a five-year sentence.

They were accused last summer of threatening the children of 20 wealthy families with horrible deaths if the money was not paid. James Hollis was arrested by FBI agents as he attempted to collect. His brother surrendered to police later.

The cattle egret, a bird formerly found only in Africa and Asia suddenly appeared in South America in 1930 and was found in the United States in 1952, says the National Geographic Society.

Even Professionals Are Subject To Error

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Miss Loretta Blackburn, cooking instructor at Port Huron High School, knows that even professionals sometimes make mistakes.

Practicing her art at home one day, she left some paraffin boiling on the stove while she went to the basement. Moments later firemen were summoned to put out a fire which badly scorched Miss Blackburn's kitchen and caused smoke damage throughout the house.
