WIFE HELPS DIG OUT

As his wife continues to clear a path in a big snow pile, Louis Ridarelli uses a booster battery in Chicago in an attempt to start the motor of his car which, like many others, fell victim to the weather. Chicago's latest snowfall of more than eight inches brought the December total to a record-breaking 33.4 inches.

Keith Merrick Has Announced For D.A.

Keith L. Merrick, 28, county attorney since March, announced today that he will seek the office of district attorney next year.

Merrick was appointed county attorney by unanimous vote of the commissioners in March when Ben F. Thorpe, incumbent, was named judge of the newly created 132nd judicial district court. Merrick was a candidate for the county attorney's office in the 1950 elections and was defeated by Thorpe by a 16-vote margin.

Bob Davie, present district attorney, was also appointed to that position at the time of the new district court was created.

Merrick moved to Snyder in January, 1950, and began law practice immediately. He was graduated from the University of Texas with a BA degree in 1947 and admitted to the Texas Bar Association in November, 1949. He received his LLB from the university just before moving here.

Merrick was a student at Hardin - Simmons University before he entered the service, and calls Abilene his hometown.

Oiler Assured In Soutwest Scurry County

The Devonian Co. seems assured of production at its No. 8 Canning, one location west of production on the west side of the Diamond M-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County.

The project topped the reef at 6,670 feet on a datum of minus 4,370 feet. That is high enough to make a well above the Canyon water table.

Total depth is now 6,680 feet. Five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 6,676 feet and operator is waiting for cement to cure before drilling deeper into the expected pay.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 1,220 feet from west lines of section 125-25-H&TC.

DRILLING IN LIME

Warren Oil Corp. and Tide Water Associated Oil Co. No. 1 Smith, North Snyder - Strawn field project, is drilling below 7,659 feet in lime and shale. It is projected to Strawn pay. Location is in the southwest quarter of section 158-3-H&GN.

BORDEN REPORTS

In West - Central Borden County, Amerada No. 1 Canon is drilling in lime below 9,351 feet.

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1-A Clayton, 12 miles southwest of Gail, is plugged back to 6,984 feet and preparing to swab after treating with Hydrafrac.

Gulf No. 1-A Long, wildcat northwest of the Reinecke field in Southeast Borden, is drilling in lime below 6,477 feet.

Russians Say They Will Accept Kennan As New Ambassador To Moscow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (AP)—Russia has agreed to accept George F. Kennan as the new U. S. ambassador to Russia, almost at the same time denouncing him as a foe of the Soviets.

President Truman announced at Kansas City Wednesday night the selection of the 47-year-old career diplomat who is credited with being a principal author of the present American policy of containment to counter the threat of Communist aggression.

Kennan will succeed former Gen. Adm. Alan G. Kirk, whose request for retirement Presidential Secretary Joseph Short said Mr. Truman accepted with reluctance.

Union Leaders Must Decide About Strike

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 27. (AP)—The time for decision on the threatened steel strike moved in on both President Truman and the United Steel Workers Union today.

The first move is the Union's, and is expected at the USW executive committee meeting today. That session is the USW's only answer so far to Mr. Truman's request that the New Year's Day walkout be put off while the wage stabilization board considers the worker's pay demands.

If CIO President Philip Murray's steelworkers comply with the President's request, the heat is off the chief executive for the moment. If the steel workers do not, quick and drastic action on his part is strongly indicated.

He has told both union and management that the defense-vital metal must keep rolling out of the mills.

Shortly after his arrival here for a working Christmas visit home, Mr. Truman also said he would use any law on the books, and any power of the Presidency, to keep production going.

White House aides declined to talk about published reports that the President has hopes for an early settlement to the wage dispute.

Any such settlement would have to come fast to meet his specification that output must keep going. Steel mills start banking their fires three to four days ahead of a stoppage, since steelmaking is not a process than can be simply shut off when a whistle blows.

Thus some production will be lost if the strike threat stays in force past Friday, even if it should be called off before the walkout deadline.

Application of the Taft-Hartley law's emergency provision for 80-day anti-strike injunctions is considered the most likely White House step.

Communist Leader Gus Hall Gets Additional Three-Year Sentence

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Gus Hall, one of the 11 convicted U. S. Communist leaders, was sentenced today to three years in prison for criminal contempt of court."

The sentence is to be served in addition to a five-year term ordered when he was convicted with the other party leaders of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the United States government.

The contempt conviction was based on charges that he failed to surrender last July 2 to begin serving his five-year term and that he violated a court order in leaving jurisdiction of the court. Hall fled to Mexico. He was returned to the U. S. at Laredo, Tex.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan imposed the contempt sentence; three years on each of the two contempt counts, to be served concurrently when he completes his five-year term.

Seeking Cause Of Mine Blast That Killed 119

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Dec. 27. (AP)—A few of the nation's coal miners remained idle today in memory of West Fraknfort mine blast victims but there was no indication of a mass work stoppage.

Investigators still are seeking the cause of the explosion that brought death to 119 men.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, said he made some "definite conclusions" about the cause, but he wouldn't elaborate.

Federal, state and company investigators, who spent eight hours in the mine Wednesday, won't comment until the inquiry ends. They planned another eight-hour study today.

Lewis had nothing to say about the walkouts or a report he might call a 10-day "memorial work stoppage." He described the latter as a rumor.

Other union officials said the walkouts were not ordered by the union, but added the men were leaving their jobs in sympathy with the West Frankfort victims.

Two mines in Arkansas were idled Wednesday after workers told management of a "five-day memorial."

Also shut down were mines at New Kensington, Pa., and Terre Haute, Ind., but union officials at both places said the men were going back to their jobs today.

Mercury Drops to 19

Winter brought temperatures down to a low of 19 last night. Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, official weather observer, said, and the low held on until after 7:30 o'clock this morning. High for yesterday was 47.

Hungary Is 'Considering' Release Of 4 U.S. Airmen

EXPLOSION WRECKS BUILDING

Two persons were seriously burned when an explosion that apparently originated in an oil heating stove wrecked this two-story building in St. Louis, Mo. Firemen are searching through brick and rubble that partly covered an automobile parked nearby and piled up on the sidewalk at the corner of Broadway and Buchanan Streets.

New Delays Seen In Negotiation

VIENNA, Dec. 27. (AP)—The U. S. Embassy said tonight the Hungarian Communist government is still "considering" the American offer to pay a fine for the freedom of four jailed U. S. fliers.

Such a stand conflicted with announcement of Hungary's legation in Washington Wednesday night that the offer of $120,000 in fines—called a ransom in the West — had been accepted for prompt release of the four men.

Tonight's development raised doubts on the status of negotiations for release of the fliers, convicted of violating Hungary's borders after their plane lost its course on a Munich-Belgrade flight. It seemed possible the Hungarians had raised new conditions.

The Ambassador here, Walter J. Donnelly, talked with George Abbott, U. S. charge d'affaires in the American legation at Budapest.

"The Hungarians merely told Abbott our proposition was being considered," Donnelly said.

But American officials in Budapest still hoped the fliers soon would be on their way to freedom. Abbott also expressed hope the Hungarians when their decision was made — would turn the fliers over to the U. S. legation in Budapest rather than dump them on the Austrian border without previous notice.

A group of American officials was ready to go to the border to meet the fliers. It waited for Soviet permission to cross the Russian occupied zone of Austria to the Borger town of Nickelsdorf, where Hungary in April released Robert A. Vogeler, American businessman imprisoned 17 months by Hungary as a "spy."

Donnelly and his deputy, Walter A. Dowling, are the only American officials in Austria who have the right to move about the Soviet Zone without prior Soviet authorization. They planned to go to the border if the Russians delayed authorization for the Nickelsdorf group to operate.

Three State Department limousines waited outside the embassy here for orders.

The new report from Budapest may mean delay. Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. high commissioner and ambassador in Austria, talked this afternoon with the U. S. Legation in Budapest.

George Abbott, U. S. charge d'affaires in Budapest, reported to Donnelly he had seen the Hungarian undersecretary of foreign affairs at noon.

"Abbott was told that the Hungarians had made no decisions on the American note which was delivered on Christmas day," Donnelly said.

"The Hungarians told Abbott that the note was being considered by judicial and financial authorities and they added they could give Abbott no information when the fliers might be released."

Donnelly said he assumed the note delivered Christmas day was the one in which the U. S. government said it would pay the fine.

Cease-Fire Line Agreement Is Ended Without Even Meeting

MUNSAN, Korea, Friday, Dec. 28. (AP)—The 30-day Korean cease-fire line agreement ran out today on "a rather ominous note" in truce talks about Allied prisoners of war deaths.

There was no indication here of plans to extend the agreement responsible for the 30-day twilight war. The full five-man armistice committees which signed the original agremeent Nov. 27 did not even meet. An official U. N. spokesman said neither side asked for an extension.

But in a subcommittee session at Panmunjom Thursday, Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Communists hinted: they may report many of the 50,000 unaccounted for Allied prisoners of war died of exposure and disease.

Libby said it was "a rather ominous note. It might have been a forewarning that all these people died of illness."

Subcommittees working on the problems of exchanging war prisoners and supervising a truce still were deadlocked when they adjourned their last session before the scheduled expiration hour. The agreement was timed to run out at midnight (9 a.m. CST) Thursday.

Each committee scheduled another meeting for 11 a.m. Friday (8 p.m. CST Thursday) in Panmunjom.

Washington sources expressed belief Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway would approve a 15-day extension of the period in which the 145-mile line drawn across Korea Nov. 27 could become a permanent cease-fire line.

High diplomatic officials in Washington said the supreme U. N. commander had been authorized to approve an extension of up to 15 days if he felt there was hope of reaching an agreement.

On Nov. 27 negotiators drew a tentative cease-fire line and agreed it would become the center of a 2½ mile wide buffer zone if an armistice were signed within 30 days.

Otherwise the line would be redrawn just before a truce is signed to follow changes resulting from battle action.

In Thursday's fruitless talks in Panmunjom each side accused the other of needlessly delaying the truce.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho charged that the U. N. wasted time by refusing to agree to a Communist proposal for an all-for-all exchange of prisoners.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told the Reds they wasted 12 days by refusing to set up a prisoner exchange subcommittee, then delayed for another eight days before agreeing to exchange prisoner lists.

The list finally submitted by the Reds was "fatally deceptive," Libby asserted.

In a nearby tent, the Communists verbally promised not to build up their armed strength during an armistice. But they refused to put it in writing.

Six times in 30 minutes Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner tried to get the pledge on paper. But each time Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang evaded a direct answer or said no reply was necessary since the Communist stand on supervision of a truce was well known.

Libby asked the Reds for more information on the 726 American prisoners the Reds said Wednesday had died, escaped or been released.

Air Battles In Korean Skies

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 27. (AP) — American Sabre Jets shot down two Red jets and badly damaged another in a renewal of air battles over Northwest Korea today, the Fifth Air Force reported.

The MIG-15s were shot down in a 30-minute battle between 32 Sabres and 50 fight-minded MIGs.

Earlier 100 MIGs had run for cover when a flight of Sabres opened up on them. The Fifth Air Force said no American planes were hurt in either encounter.

The air war broke out anew in clear skies as allied infantrymen fought in knee deep snow and subzero temperatures near Heartbreak Ridge to regain an advance position cut off by the Reds.

The Communists have been fighting intermittently since Christmas night to capture and hold the outpost.

A company of Reds attacked again shortly after Wednesday midnight, just 24 hours before the end of a 30-day truce trial period.

The fight continued through the bitter cold early morning darkness. By 7 a.m. the Reds cut off the position.

United Nations troops counterattacked at 11:10 a.m., the U. S. Eighth Army reported, and at noon "were fighting in knee deep snow to regain the position."

Chilled infantrymen of both sides stayed mainly behind their own lines. The U. S. Eighth Army reported that, for the third day within a month, no American soldiers were killed in ground action in the 24 hours ending 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Temperatures on the Eastern Front dropped to 5 degrees above zero (F) and were well below freezing elsewhere.

In the air, fighter-bombers resumed relentless attacks on North Korean [illegible] and supply lines.

Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland, commander of Far East Air Forces, said in a special communique that the aerial bombardment of the last four and one-half months had shattered the Red rail system in North Korea.

Weyland said the air attacks prevented the Reds massing during the cease-fire talks for a new offensive.

Thief Picks Up Hot Bag, In For Trouble

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP) Police looked today for a thief with a danger-loaded valise.

The thief snatched the small case in a Bronx hallway Wednesday not knowing it was filled with cans of a powerful insect and rodent killer.

Police asked radio station WINS to broadcast word that the bag should not be opened. It was said that only a part of the chemical could cause severe burns.

An investigating committee of the police board of an automobile in Illinois Wednesday and killed when the machine ran over him. An inquest verdict called the death a traffic fatality.

Mossadegh Is Challenged To Vote In Majlis

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 27. (AP) — Opposition deputies in Parliament formally challenged Premier Mohammed Mossadegh today to come before the Majlis, the stormy Lower House, and face a vote of confidence to decide whether he stays in power.

Apparently confident that it can kick him out, the opposition submitted the challenge through the Majlis President Reza Hekmat.

The document, called an interpolation challenges Mossadegh on four allegations: suppression of freedom, violations of the principle laws of the country, a ruinous economic policy and lack of respect for the Majlis.

The lack of oil revenues since Mossadegh nationalized the old Anglo-Iranian holdings in this country is the basis of complaint over the economic situation.

Under Iranian law, the premier must go before the Majlis within 30 days to answer the challenge and ask a vote of confidence. But his supporters have an ace in the hole.

By staying away from the Majlis, as many have done in the past ten days, they can prevent a quorum—two-thirds of the deputies present in Tehran — and thus prevent or stall off any possible no-confidence decision.

Midwest Hit By More Cold

By The Associated Press

Another frigid blast hit the snow-covered North Central Region today and more snow was on the way. No relief from the wintry weather appeared immediately, U. S. forecasters said.

The cold extended across the eastern two-thirds of the nation, touching all the way to the Gulf Coast.

The sub-zero weather in the Midwest struck as travel and production in many cities slowed because of the heavy snowfalls in the last two weeks.

Two Midwest centers, Chicago and Detroit, appeared the hardest hit by the transportation tieup. There have been record snowfalls in both cities this month and traffic and mass transportation was still snarled in many sections.

The fresh icy air from Northwestern Canada sent temperatures tumbling far below zero in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Northern Illinois early today. It was minus 20 in Redwood Falls, Minn.

The cold air moved southward and eastward from Montana and sent temperatures to near freezing as far south as Mobile, Ala.

Elevator Is In Receivership

AMARILLO, Dec. 27. (AP)—Jesse B. Osborn of Muleshoe has been named receiver for the business enterprises of C. M. Henderson at Farwell and Lariet.

Federal Judge Joe Dooley appointed the Muleshoe Banker Wednesday.

Henderson, mayor of Farwell, agreed in federal court last week to the appointment of a receiver pending settlement of a Commodities Credit Corp. claim. The CC claims more than a million dollars for alleged non-delivery of grain.

Henderson's attorneys will file formal answer to the specific CC allegations this week or next. The claim is based on the alleged failure of Henderson to deliver CC grain stored in elevators of the Henderson Grain and Seed Co.

A total of $1,056,119 is sought by the suit for wheat and grain sorghums in Henderson elevators and presumably available for delivery at various dates from 1947 to 1950.

Attorneys for both sides said the federal action calls for receivership under which the Henderson firm would operate.

Henderson said he was sure the firm could meet the claim within a "reasonable time under these conditions."

Slaughter On Texas Highways Continuing Through Holidays

By The Associated Press

Continuing slaughter on Texas highways and streets, which had claimed at least 79 lives by early Thursday, pushed the state's holiday violent death toll to an amazing 124.

Capt. W. E. Woerner, statistician for the state department of public safety, said the terrific holiday carnage would send the 1951 traffic death toll to 2,535. The 1951 loss in money, he said, would come close to $100 million.

Before the holiday season death tabulations started last Saturday at 12:01 a.m., the Department of Public Safety estimated 220 persons would die violently — 115 of them in auto mishaps. With six days of the Christmas-New Year's holiday remaining, it seemed certain the figures would be conservative.

Weather could take little blame for the butchery. Only on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day was there fog and, some rain, mostly in East Texas.

Director Homer Garrison of the Public Safety Department said too much speed and inattention to driving — "cases so easy to blame on the average driver" — is traffic death's biggest drivers or stepdowns.

Shootings stained 24 lives in the state. Fires killed eight persons, drownings three, plane crashes three, falls two, and other causes two.

Through Wednesday night, the worst accident of the period in point of deaths occurred ten miles north of El Paso Saturday when a head-on collision killed seven.

Three died in a Christmas Day accident south of Groesbeck. Killed were Grady Warren Truett, 21 Kosse, Joe Donald Rascoe, 24 Hearne, and Charles Lindy Henry, 25, Mexia.

Some of the other latest deaths: Cran Wilson, Jr., 30, of Dumas, died Wednesday of gunshot wounds suffered Christmas night at the home of his parents in Etter, 13 miles north of Dumas. Charges were filed against Wilson's father.

William C. Davis, 21, Colorado City, killed in a traffic mishap 7 miles northwest of Robert Lee Tuesday.

Etmoine Lampkin, 18, died Tuesday from injuries received in an auto-bus accident near West, McLennan County, Monday.

Mary Ann Hamelin, 18 months, of McAllen, killed by an auto accident in Pharr Wednesday.

One year-old Robert Cruse of Hubbard died Wednesday after being injured in a car-pickup truck collision north of Houston Tuesday night.

James O. Barnes, 20, Winters laborer, pedestrian, killed when struck by an auto just outside of Winters Tuesday.

Henry Lee, 34, O'Donnell laborer, died Wednesday from injuries in a hit-and-run accident one mile south of O'Donnell Tuesday.

Leopold Stupper, 65, Mercedes, died Wednesday by hanging. His death was ruled a suicide.

Roland Bird, 17, San Antonio filling station attendant, was fatally wounded Wednesday night when a co-worker accidentally dropped a .44 caliber revolver, causing it to discharge. A Justice of the peace said the death was accidental.

George Edward White, 19, a Marine, killed Tuesday in an auto accident near West Columbia. A veteran of 17 months in Korea, he was home for the Christmas holidays.

Elmo Hitt, 37, Tyler merchant and pulpwood foreman for a refining company, killed Wednesday night when the car in which he was riding struck a mule on the Kilgore highway about 2 miles east of Tyler. Howard Lee Cates of Red Springs and James F. Dixon of Tyler were injured.

James Parker, 18, was thrown from a motorcycle Wednesday and killed when the machine ran over him. An inquest verdict called the death a traffic fatality.

2nd Day Of Riots By Cairo Students

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 27. (AP) Police fired on rioting Egyptian students today as protest demonstrations broke out in Cairo and Alexandria for the second day in a row over the apparent entry of the palace into power politics.

Buckshot fired from police riot guns injured 15 students at Alexandria.

Several students and police were reported injured in Cairo. The students overturned and set fire to a streetcar near the Parliament building and police waded in with lathi clubs.

Ten students were arrested and Cairo traffic piled up for blocks before several hundred police reserves ended it.

The disturbances spread to secondary schools in Alexandria were ordered closed including the Abbasia school, near the Moslem's Mina railway station where police fired on the students.

Thousands of secondary school students in both of Egypt's major cities were involved in the demonstrations.

Fouad and Mohammed Ali Pasha Universities in Cairo and Farouk University in Alexandria were ordered closed indefinitely Wednesday after collegiate riots against King Farouk's appointment of pro-Western advisors on his palace cabinet.

Police used tear gas against a mob of 5,000 in Alexandria Wednesday. Seven police were reported injured by stones and two students were hurt. The students shouted slogans against Hafez Afifi Pasha, powerful banker and industrialist who was named by Farouk Monday to head his royal cabinet.

Afifi has declared himself publicly in favor of a defense link with the West — a policy Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha's government hastily turned down in mid-October.

DOROTHY THOMPSON SAYS

U. S. War of Independence Was 'The True Revolution'

It is conceded by people in the know that American political warfare is not effective. Our approach, it has recently been admitted, "is not sufficiently revolutionary." We must make it clear to the world, it is commented, that "the true revolution is not Russian but American."

Put the last sentence in the past tense and we'll go along. What was the American Revolution about?

The basic philosophical concept of the American Revolution was that the state is the enemy of society, and that its powers should be limited, and its authority checked and balanced. The form of the American government aimed to achieve the latter; the Bill of Rights to do the former.

The Bill of Grievances, presented in the Declaration of Independence, is a list of usurpations by the government of George III against the American colonists.

But the colonists had no intention of replacing these alien powers by handing them to a native government. They believed, rather, in Jefferson's dictum that the best government is the one that governs least.

• • •

Now, there is no room in a columnist's space to expound this philosophy, beyond remarking that it was revolutionary and that it would be hugely revolutionary today. For what is the great oppressive force in the modern world? Obviously, the state. Basically always a policeman, it has, during the 20th Century, extended its power to encompass ever greater control over the bodies, minds, and economic lives of every citizen.

No person anywhere in the world is free, as he was free, for better or worse, in the last century. He is not free, as he once was, to move. He is not exempt, as he perennially was in the Anglo-Saxon world, from military conscription in time of peace. And he is taxed for policies that are the result of decisions in which his elected representatives had no part.

President Truman, comparing the United States with the Soviet Union has repeatedly said, "In the United States the government exists for the individual; in the Soviet Union the individual exists for the government." We find this socio - political nonsense. No state exists for the individual. At best it exists for the community; at worst it exists for its own power. The powers of the state are powers granted it or taken by it from the individual and the community, and the more that are granted or absorbed, the more the state power tends to exist for itself.

The people (society) and the state are not identical. The theory that, in a democratic society, they are identical is the philosophical basis of popular tyranny — but it is a notion promulgated today by most of the teachers of political science in most American universities.

In original Communist theory the state was implicitly recognized as evil. In the ideal future it was going to wither away—by the remarkable logic of first making it the theoretical trustee and actual owner of all the means by which the people live. What developed in Nazi Germany, Russia, and other totalitarian countries is the inevitable outworking of the extension of the police power, I. E., of the state. In those countries the tendency reached its full logic; elsewhere it is just on the way to the same goal.

• • •

How can any modern state be expected to conduct political warfare against the state as such? It can't. It can only denounce good and bad states. Would the representative of any state stand up in the United Nations and urge that a universal curb be put on government power to tax? (That, if universally adopted, would certainly limit war.)

Would the American state (or any other) propose the abolition of passports—new, in the western world, since World War I? Or cry to other peoples, "You poor saps! Why do you let yourselves be drafted into armies, when your states are all saying they will never make war?"

The sad fact is that truly revolutionary political warfare abroad would kick back into subversion at home. No state will risk that.

Ector Test Indicates As New Field Opener

Possibilities for the opening of a new oil field in Northeast Ector County have been indicated at V. A. Brill No. 1 Ratliff.

This wildcat, started to go to the Ellenburger at about 13,500 feet, flowed oil at the estimated rate of 150 barrels per hour during seven minutes on a drillstem test at 9,690 - 9,702 feet. The test was supposed to have been in the Wolfcamp lime.

The tester was open 27 minutes. Gas surfaced in four minutes and oil started flowing out at the top in 20 minutes. Oil unloaded from the drillpipe all the time the tester was being pulled. There were no signs of formation water.

The project had deepened the 9,714 feet in lime and was running another drillstem test at last report.

The No. 1 Ratliff is 20 miles west and slightly north of Midland in section 11-42-tls-T&P. There is no production from the Wolfcamp in that vicinity.

Gatlin Warns Against Fire Hazards In Alleys

The rush of business in downtown Snyder during the pre-Christmas season resulted in a collection of paper and boxes in alleys which is a serious fire hazard, Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said.

Gatlin urges that merchants clean the alleys before fire results.

"We have an excellent fire loss record for this year, and I hope we can keep it that way the rest of the year and for the future years," he said.

Pennsylvanian Test Set In Nolan County

Drilling & Exploration Co. Inc., and Malco Refineries, Inc., and others No. 1 Joe Larry is to be drilled as a 6,000 - foot rotary wildcat in Southeast Nolan County one mile northwest of Hylton.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 194, block 64, H&TC survey.

Destination is calculated to take the project into the Pennsylvanian reef.

Scurry PMA Gets Only One Steel Equipment Priority Bid

Only one application from a Scurry County farmer has been submitted to the Department of Defense for a priority rating on the purchase of steel-farm equipment, according to Mrs. James Bellamy, acting administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Mrs. Bellamy said that applications from farmers must be processed through the PMA committees of the county in which the applicant lives before they are submitted for the rating.

Steel building materials and several types of equipment have been placed on the priority list, Mrs. Bellamy said. The equipment includes all crawler - type tractors, which have been classed as construction equipment rather than framing equipment.

The heavy equipment and materials, which are much in demand for the national defense program, are growing scarce on the public market, and sales must be regulated.

Farmers who wish to purchase steel for construction of farm buildings or heavy equipment must submit application to the county committee at the PMA office, Mrs. Bellamy said. The committee will then consider the need for approval of the application, and if it is approved, the committee sends it to the Department of Defense for further approval, Mrs. Bellamy explained.

When the application receives final approval, the farmer may buy his materials or equipment if he has found a dealer who has the supply.

Mrs. Bellamy said the PMA office has no information as to how long it takes to get final approval of an application, but she pointed out that the one sent from here has been gone three weeks without answer.

There is also an existing shortage of other farm needs, including steel roofing, siding, nails, staples, woven wire fencing, barbed wire, pipe, tubing, well casing, and electric cables.

No priority rating is required to secure those needs, Mrs. Bellamy said, but she explained that PMA recommends that farmers place orders at least 45 days in advance so that it will be available when needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Com Ezell and sons returned Tuesday from Vernon where funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Ezell's mother, Mrs. J. M. Elliott, who died Saturday.

Australians Grab Easy Win In Davis Cup Match Doubles

SIDNEY, Australia, Dec. 27. (AP)—Australia virtually wrapped up the Davis cup today when its great doubles team of Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor slaughtered America's best pair of Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert, 6-2, 9-7, 6-3.

The American debacle was a sad disappointment to the capacity crowd of 15,300 at White City Stadium. They had anticipated a hard fought tennis match.

The Australians now lead, 2 to 1, in the best-of-five matches. The final two singles matches will be played Friday.

Schroeder, possibly weary from his fine stand against Sedgman Wednesday, failed his youthful partner completely. Towards the last of the one-sided tilt Schroder was a pathetic figure.

He scored only three placements in the entire match to 17 by Trabert, 24 by Sedgman and 19 by McGregor. The way he played today he will be extremely lucky to defeat Mervyn Rose in Friday's opening match.

Australia could well retain the cup by a 4-1 margin as Sedgman now is at the absolute peak of his career and will be heavily favored to trim Vic Seixas in the final singles match.

While disappointed in the failure of his pair to make a better showing Frank Shields, captain of the U. S. team, refused to find fault with either.

"They just ran into the greatest doubles team I ever saw," he said. "Those two fellows were tremendous. It's mighty discouraging to make a perfect cutoff shot at the net and hit where no one should be and have it come back past you for a winner. That happened to our boys a dozen times today. I don't think Ted was especially tired, only discouraged."

Schroeder was the only player to lose his service. The Aussies broke him twice in the opening set, again in the final game of the long second set and finally in the eighth game of the third set to gain victory. Trabert never ceased to fight and he repeatedly won plaudits from the crowd by his singlehanded battle with adversity. But the task was far too much for the lad from the Bainbridge, Md., Naval Station.

Stiff Scrimmage For Kentuckians Today

HOUSTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—A stiff scrimmage session today and a lighter workout Friday are on schedule for the Kentucky Wildcats, preparing here for their Cotton Bowl game with Texas Christian.

Coach Paul Bryant was concerned lest his squad grow stale. The Wildcats leave by train Friday for Dallas, site of the New Year's game.

Houston Youth Leading In Jr. Tennis Matches

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 27. (AP)—National Boys Indoor Champ Sammy Giammalva of Houston, seeded second, led fellow Texans into the second round of the fifth annual Orange Bowl Junior Tennis Tournament today.

Giammalva Wednesday breezed through to win, 6-1, 6-0, over Ted Koons of Miami. Top-seeded Tim Coss of Washington, D. C., drew a bye for the first round.

Other Texans:

Jerry Shelton, Garland, defeated Pete White, Miami Beach, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

Rod Williams, Dallas, defeated Ed Salem, Miami Beach, 6-1, 8-6.

Charles Russo, Houston, bowed 6-2, 8-10, to George Longshore, of Anniston, Ala.

Williams, in a second round match, was defeated, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, by Eddie Rubinoff of Miami Beach.

Stanford Coach Says They Can Take Rose Bowl Game From Illinois

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 27. (AP)—Stanford's football coach, Young Charles A. (Chuck) Taylor, isn't junking his philosophy of winning games.

Taylor, 31, who confounded the nation's coaches by actually predicting victory week by week for his Indians, feels much the same way today about Stanford's encounter with Illinois in the Rose Bowl.

Taylor, speaking before the Football Writers Association of Southern California, didn't make a flat prophecy of triumph. But he put it this way:

"We've never gone into a game believing we couldn't win. We always believe we can win. That same philosophy applies for this game."

Cecil Smith One Of Two 10-Goal Players

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Veteran Cecil Smith of Austin is still at the top so far as the U. S. Polo Association is concerned.

Smith, Stewart Iglehart of Westbury, N. Y., and Bob Skeene of Beverly Hills, Calif., are the only three players in the country handicapped by 10 goals.

The organization issued its list of U. S. polo rankings Wdenesday.

Wins In Second Round

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Roger Donoghue floored Vinnie D'Andrea of New York three times to win a two-round technical knockout Wednesday night. The six foot, one inch Yonkers, N. Y., welterweight shook off a staggering blow in the first round; dropped his New York rival twice for eight-counts in the same round, and went on to win in the second round.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

We thought the past football season was a bit rough for high school gridders, but evidently we haven't seen anything.

Speedy Moffett, head coach, is busy lining up a few teams to play in non - district tilts, and he's trying to get in some good practice before his district season begins.

Two games are already on the list for the pre - district competition. One is in Levelland on Sept. 26. Levelland, a AA school which tied with powerful Brownfield for second place in its district this year, has been informed by the Interscholastic League that it will be forced into 3-A by 1953.

On Oct. 10, the Tigers will meet the Bowie (El Paso) squad on the Tiger Stadium. Bowie is a 4-A school.

Four dates are left to fill for non - district play, and Moffett said today that he has written the athletic director of the Fort Worth schools, asking for two games with 4-A schools of the city.

Moffett said he is also going to try to book a game with Breckenridge, this year's 3-A state champion.

Still open on the schedule are Sept. 12 and 19 and Oct. 3 and 17. District play for the Tigers in 1-3A will begin on Oct. 24.

• • •

Moffett said that as far as he knows, the list of District 5-2A all-stars published in the Abilene Reporter - News last week will be called the official list for the year.

Tiger Don Keller was named as a first team tackle, while Tackle W. G. Birt was on the honorable mention list.

• • •

Billy Boren, head of the Scurry County Rodeo Association board of directors, said this week that the board has set July 16 through 19 as the dates for the county's fifteenth annual rodeo.

He explained that no steps have yet been taken to contract for stock, concessions, and decorations, but he added that those plans will probably be worked out in the near future.

Goat Mayo of Petrolia, who has furnished the rodeo stock here for several years, has asked for a chance at the 1952 contract. Boren said the board will probably take bids in March.

Members of the board are Boren, Garrett Harrell, O. D. McGlaun, George Parks, Billy Riley, Jesse Everett, and Lois Adams.

• • •

Tiger cagers will be playing their first game of the Howard Payne College Tourney tonight when they meet Coleman.

If the Tigers even get to semi-finals in that tourney, they could be considered seasoned players. Entered are teams like Brownwood, Temple, San Angelo, and Tech of Fort Worth.

Snyder Plays Coleman In Opening Game

Ernest Kinney and 10 of his high school basketballers are leaving today for Brownwood, where they will participate in the Howard Payne College Invitational Tournament.

The Tigers' initial match is scheduled for 8:40 o'clock tonight with Coleman. The winner of the match will play the victor in the Brownwood - Temple game tomorrow night.

Championship and consolation semi - finals will be played Saturday morning, and the finals are to be played Saturday night.

Sixteen teams are entered in the competition. Matches in the first round are between Snyder and Coleman; Brownwood and Temple, Plainview and Arlington Heights, San Angelo and Carter Riverside, Tivy of Kerrville and Sweetwater, Lampasas and Fort Worth, Stephenville and Big Spring, Pampa and Cleburne.

The Tigers have previously played three of the teams entered in the tourney. In those games, they defeated Plainview, 25 - 19, Sweetwater 38 - 36, and Big Spring 34-24. In return matches, the Tigers lost to Sweetwater 27 - 26 and Big Spring 40 - 39.

In 11 games played this season, the Tiger cagers have won six, losing twice to Abilene and once to Sweetwater, Big Spring, and Hawley.

They have scored 397 points, compared to opponents' 352, an average of 36 per game to opponents' 32.

Still top on the scoring list for the Tigers is Bill Hanks, 5-foot, 8-inch guard, with 82 points, followed by W. G. Birt with 77 and Ned Underwood with 66.

I read in this column about having a business center, and I would like to tell about mine. We live in an apartment and my husband built us a hanging wall desk. It is 2½ by 3 feet and has three divisions. It is a foot deep. The door is the writing part and lets down, (chain support) for writing and closing up to look like a medicine chest. M.A.W.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Some of us (by the good grace of indulgent fellow workers) made it home for Christmas. Our own Yule holiday was spent in Garland, along with a collegiate brother, our father from Kansas City, the grandmother who holds the family together, various uncles, aunts and cousins and a 20-pound turkey.

We usually have to explain the location of the home town and along with the usual: "It's just northeast of Dallas," we add, "NO, it's not a suburb." This trip home revealed the city limits of the aforementioned towns have met. Now we'll have a harder time than ever convincing folks that our hometown is quite a city itself.

Probably the most noteworthy sight we saw, (by dry country standards) was a sidewalk dampened by honest - to - goodness mist. And then there was the forest of television antennae we hadn't seen in several months. We'll refrain from comments concerning the fireside silver screen. Since the day a couple of years ago when we called on an old friend and were immediately ushered to the TV set, we've been slightly bitter about the conversation killer. But mothers of young children say it does have its good points as a "silencer."

• • •

Christmas decorations in other towns we saw were no brighter than Snyder's display of manager scenes, lighted trees and reindeer and Santa arrangements.

• • •

"Mr. Million," the man who had the dubious honor of being the millionth automobile fatality in the United States, has already made his splash in the headlines. To help diminish the record of tragedy, the Pan - American Coffee Bureau is urging drivers to keep this slogan in mind especially during the remaining holidays: "When it's 'one for the road,' be sure it's coffee."

Fatigue, the bureau says, has become a trade - mark of our century and there is no doubt that it is a contributing factor in more accidents than the records show. In any case, it is of enough importance to rate a newly-coined word, "tenigue," a combination of tension and fatigue — a perilous ailment when it affects automobile drivers. Experiments at Cornell University show that coffee helps restore stability after heavier drinks. Whatever the cause of "tenigue," the bureau, of course, recommends coffee to counteract it.

Chances For Real Cleanup In Government Become Slimmer

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP) — It looks like efforts to fumigate the government will be a little tardy.

President Truman has run into difficulty setting up a sanitation squad. And attempts from inside Congress to improve the odor around here may get the molasses treatment.

Two weeks ago Mr. Truman said he had a plan for cleaning wrongdoers out of the government. He hasn't produced it. Asked why by a reporter, he said he's having more trouble than he reckoned on.

He never made it clear whether the cleanup crew would be headed by one man or a commission. But whatever it turns out to be it will start out on crutches.

No one in the executive branch of the government, including the President, has the power in any investigation to compel (subpoena) witnesses to testify under pain of jail if they don't.

Lacking it himself, he can't give the power to investigators he appoints. It's not his fault. Only Congress, the courts and grand juries have subpoena power.

A Presidential commission could make government employes talk—they'd be fired if they didn't—but it couldn't subpoena outsiders without whose connivance the employes wouldn't be crooked.

True, a presidential commission might limp along by working with a grand jury, getting the latter to issue subpoenas. Or Congress could vote it subpoena power, if it would. And maybe it wouldn't.

Meanwhile, Congress is beginning to bulge with suggestions from some of its own members for cleaning up the government, including Congress, and even the public. They'll confront Congress when it returns in January.

For instance, Senator Paul Douglas, Illinois Democrat, headed a special Senate committee this year to inquire about ways to fumigate the ethical and moral tone hereabouts. This committee has made a number of suggestions of which here are just two:

1. Congress should create a special commission on ethics, with two years to do the job, to examine the moral standards of conduct of all government employes (including Congress) and of the general public, too. Quite a king-size assignment.

2. Congress should pass a law compelling all members of Congress, all judges, and all other government employes making above a certain salary to list publicity all their income — aside from their pay.

And Senator Monroney, Oklahoma Democrat, has some ideas. Here are two:

Congress should forbid members of Congress to interfere in any tax case in the hands of the Internal Revenue Bureau (something which members have done); and Congress should compel its members who intervene with the RFC for loans for anyone (which members have done) to say so on a public record.

Senator Kefauver, the Tennessee Democrat who won fame with his TV investigation of crime, thinks Congress should create an independent commission to be a watch dog on government.

These may be fine intentions but Congress probably won't shatter any records doing anything about them.

Congress has become a special kind of untouchable whose members show eagerness quizzing other people but never one another about dough or didoes.

Joint Anglo-American Efforts Called Necessary In Mid-East

By STEWART ALSOP

LONDON — Looking back at a journey of observation through the Middle East, one impression stands out. American policy throughout this area is in a state of suspended animation, of paralysis. And the basic reason seems simple enough, the United States lacks any real lever of power in the Middle East.

The Greek-Turkish aid bill, that great turning point in American foreign policy, gave the United States a lever of power in Greece and Turkey. Both Greece and Turkey have visibly benefitted, without any impairment of their sovereignty or sense of nationhood. The net result has been that the Soviet drive on Greece and Turkey has been halted in its tracks, while the United States now has staunch allies in both countries.

• • •

When Greek-Turkish aid was first proposed in 1947, Loy Henderson, now Ambassador to Iran and then chief of the State Department's Middle East Section, very strongly advised that Iran should be included. But Iran was not included — a decision which seems fatally wrong in retrospect — largely because Iran was considered primarily a British responsibility. What has been happening in Iran, and also in Egypt, another area of exclusive British responsibility, suggests an obvious conclusion.

The traditional British system of exercising power in such countries as these is breaking down, while the United States has lacked any means of really influencing the course of events in these countries. At the same time the United States has also lacked any real lever of power in the Arab countries.

The creation of the state of Israel has led to the danger of a second round in the Arab-Israel war starting up at any time. This might well be fatal to American and Western interests throughout the Middle East. Therefore the United States had adopted a policy of attempting to maintain a precise, precarious balance between Israel and the Arab states.

This policy seems logical enough at first glance. Yet the net result of this attempt to strike a balance between a tiny state of a million and a half people and vast, vital land area containing forty million people has been to create a vacuum of power in the Arab states. As long as the Arab states cannot be strengthened beyond the strength of Israel, the United States can have no lever of power in the Arab world.

• • •

If the process of disintegration in the Middle East is to be halted before the Middle East goes the way of China, the United States must gain levers of power in this absolutely vital area. This in turn means that there must be, first, a basic change in the Anglo-American relationship in the Middle East, and second, a basic change in the American approach to the Arab-Israeli probelm.

The Anglo-American relationship in the Middle East has heretofore consisted of broad agreement on vague generalities at the top, combined with beady-eyed suspicion and mutual rivalry at the working level. The British, acting alone can no longer exercise power effectively in this area, as recent history in Iran and Egypt has shown. But the United States cannot conceivably afford to dispense with British power, which takes the form of some 50,000 troops in the Canal Zone, and many other forms as well.

What is needed is a real pooling of American and British power in the Middle East — a sort of Anglo-American political, military and economic joint stock company for the whole area. Such a close working partnership would represent a really formidable aggregate of power, sufficient power to offer the only possible real insurance against the outbreak of another Arab-Israeli war.

• • •

This insurance can only take the form of an unequivocal Anglo-American guarantee against expansion in either direction. It is this, rather than a policy of keeping the Arab states permanently weak, which offers the only ultimate hope of anything like stable relations between Israel and the Arab states. This must be combined with a really serious effort to deal with the poisonous problem of the Arab refugees.

In close working partnership with the British, American power must then be brought to bear with real energy and determination, to achieve mutually agreed objectives. The central objective must be to create in the Middle East reasonably enlightened authoritarian regimes, capable of dealing with the West on a rational basis, and capable above all of forcing change in an area where change is absolutely inevitable.

We cannot expect to create in the Middle East a series of American stooge governments, and it would be fatal to attempt to do so. But we can hope to help to create and to support in the Middle East governments with some measure of inner cohesion and internal authority. And we can hope through such governments to exercise the sort of lever of power we now have, on a basis of mutually profitable consent, in Greece and Turkey. In brief, given a determined — and costly — effort, we can rationally hope to render the situation in the Middle East, not ideal, but manageable. If we do not, the power vacuum in the Middle East will be filled, and soon, as it was filled in China.

Woman Has Worked Herself Up To Top As Career Diplomat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—It's a long hop from little Metropolis, Ill., to Helsinki, Finland, and an equally long jump from a school marm's job to a post second only to an ambassador or minister in Uncle Sam's foreign service.

That's the exciting saga of tall, slender, and personable Frances Elizabeth Willis, counselor of the American legation at the Finnish capital. One of the first women to enter the American foreign service field, her first assignment came in 1927 when she served as vice-consul in Valparaiso, Chile.

Moving from post to post, as do career diplomats, she gained prestige and promotion. From Valparaiso she went to Santiago, Chile, then on to Stockholm, Brussels, Luxembourg and Madrid. In 1944, she came to Washington to serve first under the Under-Secretary of State, then as assistant chief of the division of Western European Affairs. In 1947 she became first secretary of the American Embassy in London. She received her present assignment in February last year.

In Washington, to serve on the Department's selection board, she expects to spend Christmas with her family at Redlands, Calif., which is now her legal residence.

"Talk about discrimination against women in the foreign service?" she half-questioned herself. "I seem to have been discriminated for. Every assignment I've had has been delightful. It's hard to believe I've been in the service nearly 25 years."

Born in Illinois, Miss Willis received her AB and PhD degrees from Stanford University in California. She had been a history instructor at Goucher College, Baltimore, and an assistant professor of political science at Vassar College before she entered the foreign service.

Miss Willis is especially fond of Finland. "You really fall in love with the country and the people," she said. "They are so stalwart and sincere and they maintain their independence with such sturdy determination, they win your respect and admiration. They are friendly, too, and show great good will toward the United States." Educational and cultural standards are high, and the women were the first in Europe to have the vote, she said. Active in professional and political life they occupy over a tenth of the seats in the national parliament. Over half of the dentists are women, and a large percentage are doctors and lawyers.

"And the barbers are women," she said.

Safety Council Says More Traffic Deaths Due Over Week End

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that 350 persons may die in traffic accidents during the nation's New Year's holiday period.

The estimate was for the period starting 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday. The total number of traffic deaths for a similar period over Christmas, as compiled by the Associated Press, was 535.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, urged a New Year's resolution "to drive soberly and cautiously for the next four days.

"It might start a commendable habit that would last all through 1952," he said.

The two most important things to remember to insure a safe holiday, Dearborn said, are to reduce speed, especially at night and during treacherous weather, and to stay away from the steering wheel after drinking.

North Martin Project To Test Ellenburger

Shell Oil Co. has staked location for a wildcat in Central North Martin County to go to 13,000 feet for a test of the Ellenburger.

It is No. 1 Elma L. Slaughter, located in section 77-B-Bauer & Cockrell survey, and 10½ miles north of Lenorah.

That makes it nine and one-half miles east and slightly south of the discovery and lone producer of the Breedlove in Northwest Martin County and it is three and one-half miles northwest of Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Lester, a deep dry hole.

No. 1 Slaughter will be drilled with rotary tools and operations will begin at once.

THE STARS

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 27. (AP)—Talk, talk, talk. There was lots of it emanating from Hollywood this year.

This was one of the film town's talkingest years. Film folk were yacking all over the U. S., trying to convince citizens Hollywood was full of solid citizens. Meanwhile, there was a lot of gabbing in Hollywood, plus a bit of spitting and shooting, that created another impression.

Out of the year of talk, I have tried to cull the more memorable quotes. Here they are:

Frank Sinatra, irate at reporters who trailed him and Ava Gardner in Mexico before their marriage: "It's a fine thing when we can't go on a vacation without being chased."

Humphrey Bogart, explaining how he escaped insects in Africa: "Nothing bites me. A solid wall of whiskey keeps insects at bay."

Paulette Goddard, learning ex-husband Burgess Meredith had married for the fourth time: "I think it was quite normal of him. He always was domestic."

Joyce Mathews, after slashing her wrists in Billy Rose's bathroom: "I just love razor blades."

Tallulah Bankhead, asked if she would enter politics: "Heavens, I wouldn't inflict that on any country."

Robert Mitchum, answering the Hollywood press women who voted him "the most uncooperative": "Your gracious award became a treasured addition to a collection of inverse citations. These include prominent mention in several 10 worst-dressed-American lists and a society columnist's 10 most desirable male guest list, which happily was published on the date I was made welcome at the county jail."

Fred Allen: "It took 18 years in vaudeville and three shows on television to ruin my reputation."

Higher Producing And Higher Spending in '51

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—The American people produced more and spent more this year than in any other year in history and the new records probably will be broken in 1952, Secretary of Labor Tobin reported Wednesday night.

Tobin also said Americans saved more in 1951 than ever before — $1 out of every $100, as compared with $5 out of every $100 in 1950.

Total output of goods and services this year was nearly 10 per cent more than in 1950, Tobin said, and at least five per cent higher than the peak year of 1944. Tobin also said employment reached an all-time high of 62,600,000 in August.

In Western Australia an attempt is being made to develop hog raising on a large scale.

Scientists Search For Means To Get All Oil Out Of Ground

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP) — Oilmen know exactly where billions and billions of barrels of oil lie under the United States that they haven't yet been able to coax to the surface.

Some of them think they're going to be able to find the way — and soon. Defense needs of the nation for oil reserves that can be used spur the oil engineers and chemists on.

Other billions of barrels that oilmen once gave up as lost forever they have now learned to bring forth. By injecting salt water or natural gas deep into the earth they have brought back to life old oil fields they once thought milked dry. They expect this way to recover an estimated 75 billion barrels.

But that still leaves oil they know is there but can't pull out of the pores of the rock and sand where nature produced it.

Perhaps 150 billion or 200 billion barrels are in known oil fields but beyond the reach of current methods of recovery. This oil is a prize worth working for — especially in the nation's defense.

Now they are turning to chemistry to [illegible] They are sticking hypoder[illegible] needles of acid deep into t[illegible] the rocks. Some are using detergents to flush oil loose from the porous rocks in which it hides. Some use carbon dioxide in the water with which they flood oil fields to push the oil toward the bottom of wells that are going dry. Fatty acids and ammonia salts are also said to induce the rocks to cast off the oil that clings to them.

Other chemists are experimenting with bacteria to stimulate the underground flow. Some are testing out the effects of heat on the reluctant oil stores.

Much of this oil was once thought lost because in the early days of the oil industry men knew only one way of getting oil — pumping out the petroleum which flowed by natural means to the bottom of the well. The natural means was pressure. The fruitful sands bore not only oil but gas and water. The pressure of the gas and water forced the heavy, slow-flowing oil from the porous rock toward the point of relief — the well casing where the pressure could escape from the earth.

But the gas and water came to the surface with the oil. In time there wasn't enough pressure from gas and oil to force any more oil to the well casing. Oilmen were reconciled to abandoning an oil field after getting anywhere from 15 to at most 50 percent of the oil.

Then they learned that by pumping back this gas and water down dry wells into the ore-bearing sand they could create the pressure to bring up more oil. By this method —called secondary recovery— they are now able to get from 70 to 80 per cent of the oil content of the fields.

Engineers of the Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. have estimated these changes in recoverable totals of oil after repressuring fields with natural gas:

The Midway Pool in Arkansas without injections would produce 28 million barrels. With injections it should produce 51 million barrels.

The Haynesville Pool in Louisiana, without injections, 23 million barrels; with, 55 million barels.

The Schule Field in Akansas, without injections, 30 million; with, 65 million barrels.

Oilmen now start these secondary recovery methods in a new field right after they start the primary recovery — that is, the pumping to the surface of the oil which nature forces to the bottom of the well. This early use of secondary recovery assures a steady flow for years and a maximum recovery — under present methods.

They are also re-entering oil fields once abandoned. They pump gas or water or both down old wells under pressure. To hasten the time it takes this water or gas to force the oil to the bottom of producing wells, they often put a vacuum on the producing well. Thus they both push and pull the oil from the rocks.

But it's in the laboratory that the new methods may be found — the tertiary recovery through chemistry. In laboratories core samples— that is, cylindrical borings of rock from the oil bearing formations at the bottom of wells are treated. Chemists say they know now how to get all but five to eight per cent of the oil out of the sample cores— contrasted to the 25 to 30 per cent that remains in the rock under methods of secondary recovery now used.

The trick is to turn these laboratory methods into commercial field methods that are cheap enough to be practical.

3 Completions Are Listed In Scurry Fields

Completions have been reported for three Scurry County field projects.

The Cogdell field completion was reported by the Texas Co. on its No. 196 P. L. Fuller, drilled in Section 563-97-H&TC. It flowed 14 hours on the completion test to make a calculated potential of 59.59 barrels of 43.3 gravity oil with no water. Gas - oil ratio was 306-1.

A 24 - 64th-inch choke was used in testing. Casing pressure was zero with tubing pressure 375-150. The project was acidized with 500 gallons. Pay was topped at 6,820 feet. Five and one-half inch casing was cemented at 6,827 feet and total depth is 6,913 feet.

In the Diamond M-Canyon field, Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 2 J. R. Canning made an initial potential of 372 barrels of 45.8, calculated from a 12 - hour flow. Gas-oil ratio was 1,204-1. Fluid was .3 of one per cent basic sediment and water.

Casing pressure on the test was zero. Tubing pressure was 435 pounds. A 20 - 64th - inch choke was used. Top of the pay section was at 6,660 feet, with five and one-half inch casing cemented at 6,664 feet. Total depth is 6,725 feet.

Drillsite is in section 125-25-H&-TC.

D&R Oil Co. No. 2 Jack Henderson, Sharon Ridge - Clear Fork project, was completed for 86.42 barrels of 30 gravity oil. The test was made on the pump and covered a 24-hour period.

No water was present on the test. Gas - oil ratio was negligible. The project was acidized with 7,500 gallons. Pay was topped at 3,055 feet and total depth is 3,132 feet.

Drillsite is in section 148-97-H&-TC.

New Permian Record Set For Well Rigs

Drilling activity continues at a high level in Permian Basin counties of West Texas and New Mexico with a new record for rotary rigs in operation set on Dec. 15.

A total of 754 rigs were in operation on that date, according to the Reed Roller Bit Co. survey, an increase of 10 over the previous survey total on Dec. 1.

Upton County was the leading county, with 118 units drilling. Midland County stood second with 109. Ector County was fourth with 43 and Reagan County was fifth with 55. Lea County, New Mexico, was third with 95.

Scurry County, with 36 rotaries operating, stood far down on the list. That figure, however, was a gain of six over the number operating on Dec. 1.

Other survey figures showed Borden, 10; Glasscock, 35; Howard, 10; Martin, two; Pecos, 17; Terry, 15; Crane, 20, and Gaines, 22.
