Girls Early (Or Late) For Mardi Gras

The hopes of two 17-year-old California girls, bent on attending the Mardi gras celebration in New Orleans, came to an end at about 6 o'clock this morning three miles west of Snyder.

Their trip, which started Sunday morning, apparently without their parents knowledge, came to an end when their small German - made car skidded off of Highway 180, struck a sign and a fence.

The driver, Suzanne Kathleen Wall, was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell - Seale Ambulance where she is being treated for minor injuries. Kathy King, the passenger in the car, was not injured.

The car was nearly out of gas, and the girls were nearly out of money when the mishap occurred. They had planned on stopping for a while in this area, and Miss King said she hoped to find work teaching horsemanship.

It was not until the girls were at the hospital here that they found out that Mardi gras came this year in February.

After the girls contacted their parents and told them where they were, arrangements were made for Miss Wall to fly back to California, and Miss King's parents said that they were on their way to pick up their daughter.

The mishap was investigated by Harold Kornegay, Texas Highway Patrolman.

But he declined to discuss any details of the meeting.

Arkansas Continues Destructive Course

By The Associated Press

Thousands of persons fled the rampaging Arkansas River today as it continued its destructive swath across Kansas.

The torrent of water, ranging from one to five miles wide, moved ponderously into Larned early today after more than 1,000 persons moved from their homes in the southeast part of the city.

At Great Bend, 35 miles downstream, another 3,000 persons prepared to move before the crest, traveling about 2 miles per hour, hits there later today.

The flood was spawned by last week's torrential rains in Colorado where flood damage may total $125 million.

Adding to the havoc were heavy rains in scattered parts of the Kansas flood region Monday night. Jetmore, north of Dodge City, got 3.75 inches of rain in two hours, 2 inches or more fell in about one hour at Larned and Great Bend, and 1.65 fell at Rozel, west of Larned.

The flood waters continued to recede at Dodge City, where 1,800 were forced from their homes over the weekend.

At Garden City, where 300 families were left homeless, residents were wading in the remnants of the worst flood in the city's history late Monday when a dust storm blew in on southerly winds of 40 knots, cutting visibility to less than a block.

The water at Larned was expected to exceed the high marks of 1942 and 1951 by 4 to 5 feet, which would place all the business district under water. Sand bags were piled around stores 10 blocks back from the river on the north side.

At Great Bend, store fronts were sandbagged as far as 15 blocks from the normally calm river channel.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado called the flood "the greatest natural disaster" in that state's history and said he was considering calling a special flood relief session of the Colorado Legislature.

In New Mexico, also hit by devastating floods last week, the state planning officer, John W. Flynn and George Hastings of the regional office of emergency planning were preparing an inspection trip today to determine whether federal aid will be sought.

They will tour Ruidoso and the Hondo Valley, where damage was estimated at $12.5 million. Flood damage in northeastern New Mexico was estimated at another $1 million.

New Judge Named For Ruby Case

DALLAS (AP)— Judge Louis Holland of Montague, Tex., has been appointed to take over further trial court proceedings in the Jack Ruby case.

The North Texas jurist succeeds Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas, who asked Monday that he be removed from the controversial case.

Judge Dallas A. Blankenship, presiding judge of the Dallas County 1st Administrative Judicial District, announced the appointment.

Holland presided over a May 24 hearing in the Ruby case to determine which lawyers should represent the condemned man at a pending sanity hearing. Brown had stepped down temporarily for that proceeding.

Brown's removal was the latest shakeup in a case marked by bitter recriminations among the lawyers involved. At least 12 have so far acted as chief defense counsel, only to be fired or to quit.

Ruby, operator of a Dallas strip-tease joint, fired a bullet into Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, Nov. 24, 1963.

Ruby was tried before Judge Brown and was assessed the death penalty March 14, 1964.

Brown gave no reason for stepping down.

Ruby's lawyers had tried several months to get Brown ousted. They contended Brown was writing a book about the trial, and therefore held a persoanl interest in the final disposition of the case.

FOR TEXANS

Auto Insurance To Cost More

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Insurance Board recommended today a 13.4 per cent average increase in the price Texans pay for auto insurance.

Final enactment of new rates for policies written between Aug. 1 and July 31, 1966, will take place early next month after consideration of testimony at today's rate hearing.

Chairman William McLean said the increase is necessary because of the growing number of auto accidents and rising hospital and auto repair costs.

The new rates make these average changes in private passenger car premiums, although the rates vary among different parts of the state.

Property damage and bodily injury liability—up 20.7 per cent over current rates for private passenger cars. Present rates are 3.8 per cent over 1963 rates.

Collision—Up 20.8 per cent. The board lowered rates .5 per cent last year.

Comprehensive — Down 17.4 per cent for $50 deductible coverage. Last year the board lowered rates 15.5 per cent.

Medical payments—Up 3.7 per cent. Rates went up 8.7 per cent last year.

A total of $404 million in auto insurance was sold in Texas last year.

Personal property damage and bodily injury liability went up in all of the 26 rating territories into which the board divides the state.

Here are rate changes proposed for private passenger autos not driven by men under 25, not used for business but driven to or from work, for liability coverage of $10,000 for injury or death to one person, $20,000 for injury or death to two persons and $5,000 for property damage by territory (by counties):

Bundy Says US Policy Best Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy confronted critics of the Johnson administration's Viet Nam policies Monday night and said "the policy which the United States is now following is the best policy in a difficult and dangerous situation."

That policy, Bundy asserted, "is that we should stay there, that we should do our part, as may become necessary, do only what is necessary. . .and seek constantly, as we have for months and months, to find a way to get this dangerous and difficult business to the conference room."

Speaking for the critics, Dr. Hans Morgenthau, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, said, "I think our aim must be to get out of Viet Nam but to get out of it with honor." He rejected the idea of an immediate withdrawal and said the United States should seek face-saving devices to rectify the situation, such as the French achieved in their withdrawal from Algeria.

A brisk clash between Bundy and Morgenthau highlighted the hour- long special CBS television and radio program, although there were similarities in the practical steps urged by the two men. Altogether, six foreign policy experts took part in the discussion — three for each side. No new proposals were offered.

Ben Bella Supporters Overwhelmed

ALGIERS (AP)—The military regime of Col. Houari Boumedienne held Algiers in a firm grip today after an overwhelming show of force crushed demonstrations by supporters of deposed President Ahmed Ben Bella.

Thousands of troops and riot police converged on the capital Monday and stopped a few hundred youths who marched through the streets. It was the second demonstration in 24 hours.

The demonstrators were dispersed by fire trucks that drenched them with jets of cold water.

While there were no reported injuries in Algiers, unconfirmed reports said at least 10 persons were killed in a bloody clash between troops and Ben Bella supporters in the east Algerian port city of Bone.

Demonstrations for Ben Bella also were reported in Philippeville, Constantine and Oran.

Troops with rifles and submachine guns patrolled the Algiers streets and guarded key buildings. This morning all seemed normal and quiet.

Yet popular discontent with Ben Bella's removal appeared widespread in the city, and new outbreaks of rioting seemed likely.

Diplomats saw the army takeover as a pro-Arab and anti-Communist move. In general, the new regime was regarded as neutralist on the Egyptian pattern.

Gemini Computer's Failure Is Remedied

HOUSTON (AP)—A manned Spacecraft Center spokesman says an IBM computer which failed during part of the Gemini-4 mission "is performing satisfactorily now."

"We think the failure may have been in the inertial guidance system," Howard Gibbons, a center official, said Monday.

Astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White were unable to use the computer at the end of their flight.

1½ INCHES AT LAKE

Showers Move Through Area

Scurry County came in for its share of moisture Monday afternoon as showers and occasional thunderstorms roved from the Panhandle - plains sector into North Texas.

Spotty rains started falling late in the afternoon, and continued late into the evening, dropping up to four and one-half inches in some areas. That total was recorded at Lake J. B. Thomas.

The lake had risen almost three-quarters of a foot this morning, and runoff was continuing to add to the rise.

The official weather station rain gauge measured .99 inches in Snyder, although in some areas of the city the rainfall was somewhat heavier and in other sections of town measured about one-half inch.

Wayne Williams, near Polar, measured 1.36 inches in the official gauge, although from the way the creeks rose so rapidly in the area, it was believed that some heavier showers fell in the vicinity.

At Fluvanna the rainfall was about two inches, but as much as three and one-half inches were measured about two and one-half miles south of town.

Ira reported rainfall in excess of two inches.

Skies were clear over East Texas and generally cloudy in other sections.

The moisture held temperatures down a bit in some areas but was expected to afford no widespread relief from slowly mounting June heat.

Shower activity continued longest during the early morning in the area from northeast of Wichita Falls to around Jacksboro, heading into Oklahoma.

It gradually tapered off after a night of scattered thunderstorms in the Panhandle and South Plains of West Texas and mostly light showers along the Red River Valley and in parts of Central Texas.

Just across the state line in Eastern New Mexico, peace officers were notified that a tornado touched ground near the Arth community but residents of that vicinity reported no damage. State police were told the twister spun on eastward toward Clovis, N.M., and Muleshoe, Tex.

Still more showers were predicted for all sections of Texas but they were expected to be widely scattered across the southern half of the state.

Monday's top temperatures ranged up to 96 degrees at Alpine and Lubbock.

Stock Market Holds Moderate Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held gains in a moderate recovery early this afternoon. Trading was quiet.

Fractional gains were the rule among key stocks. Some of the market wheelhorses tacked on a point or so.

Gains ran to as much as 3 or so among higher-priced or volatile issues.

The recovery was a little more than half the loss taken in Monday's slow slide — the lightest trading since last August.

Flight Nearer To Chinese Border

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers made their deepest penetration of North Viet Nam today and for the first time poured bombs and rockets into targets north of the "Hanoi line."

A U.S. spokesman said one raid was against army barracks at Son La, 110 miles west northwest of Hanoi and only 80 miles from the Red Chinese border. It also was 55 miles from Dien Bien Phu, where the French army went down to final defeat in Indochina.

Eight U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs dropped 17 tons of 750-pound general purpose bombs on the complex, destroying 20 buildings and damaging nine others, the spokesman said.

The Thunderchiefs, escorted by 20 other planes, were over the target for 30 minutes, the spokesman said.

Another group of eight Thunderchiefs with the same 20 escorts attacked the Van Nuoc Chien ammunition depot 70 miles west northwest of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Moderate damage was reported to the target, an indication that there were no secondary explosions caused by exploding ammunition.

No enemy aircraft were sighted and antiaircraft fire was light to moderate, the spokesman said.

The previous northernmost penetration of North Viet Nam was a U.S. Navy strike against Hon Gay, 75 miles east of Hanoi. This was during the August 1964 Gulf of Tonkin crisis.

The nearest raid to Hanoi was 45 miles to the south earlier this year.

In all, some 60 U.S. and Vietnamese air force and U.S. Navy planes dropped about 300 tons of bombs on widely scattered targets in North Viet Nam today, U.S. spokesmen said. Targets included barracks, supply depots, bridges and ferries.

A U.S. Air Force pilot bailed out of his F100 Super Sabre Jet 25 miles south of Da Nana, in South Viet Nam, and was quickly picked up safe by an American helicopter. The plane was not hit by enemy fire, a U.S. military spokesman said.

In Saigon, a Viet Cong terrorist shouted "Down with the Americans" as he died before a firing squad for trying to blow up an American billet in a Saigon suburb.

The defiant Communist, Tran Van Dang, 25, was executed at dawn in Saigon's central market square while newsmen and photographers watched.

Dang began shouting Communist slogans as he was hauled from the van. A Catholic priest stood near him for a moment, but the terrorist paid no attention.

As he was being tied to the stake in a sandbagged enclosure, Dang repeatedly shouted in Vietnamese "Long live Ho Chi Minh," the president of Communist North Viet Nam.

The squad took position, fired and Dang' head sagged forward. An officer administered the coup de grace with a pistol. The execution took about one minute.

Police picked up Dang March 20 as he was setting a fuse to an explosive charge hidden in his motor scooter outside an American billet in suburban Gia Dinh. Police found a plastic charge, a battery-operated time device and two fuses in the luggage compartment of Dang's scooter.

Police said Dang confessed he was trying to blow up the building. He pleaded guilty at a military trial April 9.

Precision Key To Viet Nam Raids

By JOHN WHEELER

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four Marine Phantom jets streaked south. The voice of an Air Force spotter pilot crackled over the radio:

"The Viet Cong have two government companies pinned down and are threatening to overrun them. The Viet Cong are on top of the hill just west of the river where the smoke is rising.

"I'll mark the target with a smoke rocket. Hit the top of the hill and then work over the tree line on the slope."

The smoke rocket zipped into the Viet Cong positions and the first Phantom rolled in on an attack run.

Capt. Michael Sullivan of Beverly Hills, Calif., led the flight which flew to the rescue of the endangered companies south of Da Nang.

"We saturated the top of the hill with our bombs and then began flat passes toward the tree lines, lacing them with Zunsi (five-inch rockets)," he reported.

"On our last pass, the government troops began charging up the hill into the Viet Cong positions."

The government assault was successful.

Sullivan is a member of Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 538. His outfit flew 912 sorties during their months in Viet Nam, dropping more than 700,000 pounds of bombs, 77,000 tons of napalm and firing some 14,500 rockets.

Before the jets began their strikes inside Viet Nam four months ago, close air support and bombing were left to Vietnamese pilots and a handful of Americans flying propeller-driven Skyraiders.

The U.S. Marine and Air Force jets often snake through hilly terrain at 450 miles an hour about 100 feet above the ground to make their runs as effective as possible. Bombing must be done from a higher altitude.

Sometimes the planes are hit by fragments from their own bombs and rockets.

"We've fired within 60 feet of our own Marines on the ground when they were in trouble," said Lt. John Cowell, 27, of Cumberland Foreside, Maine.

So far three U.S. jets have been reported lost on missions against the Viet Cong. At least one was shot down.

Marine pilots say they find their share of the war pretty impersonal.

"What we do is our job," said Maj. Keith Smith, 36, of Moses Lake, Wash. "Inherent to our training is the desire to inflict damage on the enemy."

"That means kill all the Viet Cong we can," a squadron mate said.

Trail Crew Finds Wandering Hiker

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Richard Howe, 21, Hartford, Conn., was in fair condition in an Aspen hospital today after wandering for six days, without shoes and without food in the snowy Continental Divide country near here.

A forest service trail crew came across Howe some 32 miles east of Basalt. Howe said he became lost on an attempted hike from Twin Lakes over Independence Pass to Aspen.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who "talked to her plants and made them grow" is ready for the "booby hatch. There is definitely something to it. Plants not only respond to the right "language," they are affected by music. This is far from a new development. For years the Carnation milk people have had music piped into their barns to keep their cows contented.

DEAR CLARA: Are you pulling my leg, or udder-wise?

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is a 17-year-old high school dropout. And it's not that she didn't have the brains to graduate. She was just lazy. She's very pretty and has always been very mature (physically) for her age. But she's spoiled and selfish and emotionally immature. She doesn't want to get a job and go to work. She wants to get married. The boy is 22. He is a nice enough boy who has a steady job, but he's just a kid. My husband is all for her getting married. He says, "Let her. It will grow her up in a hurry." I say she isn't ready to accept the responsibilities of marriage and, if she got married, it wouldn't last a year. Can you give me some good arguments on my side?

ONE AGAINST TWO

DEAR ONE: Marriage is not a kindergarten where wide-eyed, immature adolescents learn to "gorw up" in a hurry. It's a difficult school of experience for even the most mature and aware. Lazy, self-centered girls who turn to marriage in order to escape the realities of life learn all too soon that they have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Let her "grow up" first.

There are only my husband and myself so I have lots of free time. The house is so dirty I get upset every time I go over there, and I go every day. I want so much to give that house a good cleaning, but my father says he likes everythkng just the way it is. I don't know how much longer I can stand going over there, Abby. It's too filthy for words. You are my last resort. Please help me.

DEAR ABBY: What's all the ruckus about women wearing pants? I used to live in Lancaster, California, and anyone who went downtown in a dress was out of her ever-lovin' mind. Why? Because the wind blows there like there's no tomorrow, and who wants to give a grade review of the latest in underwear? Not me! We're now stationed in Panama, where it's hot and muggy and windy. Most of the women down here wear dresses. But tell me which looks worse — nearly topless dresses, transparent dresses, skirts with blouses half in and half out, or nicely fitted slacks with a neat, loose overblouse? I've asked my husband how he felt about my wearing pants, and his response was: "As long as you're comfortable, it's okay by me."

Escapee Is Shot By Macon Police

MACON, Ga. (AP) — A volley of gunfire ended the life of a man Monday night as he attempted to escape police for the second time by shooting his way.

The man, identified as Willie Sheffield, fled Macon's police headquarters about 10 hours earlier by killing one detective and seriously wounding another.

A huge search party was combing a swampy area in South Macon Monday night when Sheffield, armed with a 38-caliber revolver, arrived by car at a house in the eastern part of the city.

Police, acting on a tip, were waiting.

"Sheffield came up to the house and Policeman (R. L.) Moody put a gun in his back and told him to put his hands up," said Detective Johnny H. Bennett, who was approaching the house in a car.

"Sheffield turned and fired one by Moody's ear and ran out into the yard. We picked him up in the lights and he was shot while backing off firing at the officers on the porch."

Sheffield had shot his way from police headquarters in Macon's city hall, killing Detective Thomas Hinson, 43, and wounding Detective T. J. Mitchell, 48.

Police said the two detectives had arrested Sheffield on charges of attempting to pass a worthless $2,000 check at a Macon bank.

"They picked him up and took him to the interrogation room," said Chief of Detectives W. H. Bargeron. "They stayed in there about five minutes. Then they brought him out and were about to book him.

"But they made a mistake. They should have searched him. He didn't say a word. He just took out the pistol and started shooting."

Dominican Strike Apparently Fails

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A 72-hour, nationwide strike in support of the rebel government appeared to have collapsed today.

Miguel Soto, president of the Confederation of Labor Unions, [illegible] blamed "police and army repression" for a poor response to the strike call.

A junta spokesman denied charges that union leaders had been arrested and workers forced to return to their jobs.

The strike started Monday, shutting a handful of Santo Domingo's 40 factories. Most of them reopened today, although Soto had predicted that the strike would gain strength this morning.

The antirebel junta said the strike was a "complete failure."

The strike was called by the Autonomous Confederation of Christian Unions. It and affiliated organizations claim to represent more than 100,000 workers, most of the nation's organized labor.

No violence was reported. Rebel spokesmen charged many union leaders had been arrested by junta troops to prevent walkouts. Junta officials said a number of civilians had been detained for "precautionary reasons."

Unionized public transportation workers in Santo Domingo were all at work and traffic was heavy. Small shops and gasoline stations were open.

The junta had cut telephone communications between Santo Domingo and the provinces. In Santiago, the nation's second largest city, workers told newsmen [illegible] strike plan.

The rebels are demanding restoration of the 1963 constitution under which President Juan D. Bosch ruled until his overthrow late in 1963. The rebellion was started in his name.

A successful walkout might strengthen the rebels' bargaining position in peace negotiations with the Organization of American States. The rebels hold about a square mile of downtown Santo Domingo but claim widespread support in the junta-held countryside.

Another U.S. paratrooper was captured by the rebels and arrangements were being made to return him to his unit. The rebels identified him as Pfc. Charlie E. Monday, 22, of Bessemer, Ala. They said he was found wandering unarmed three blocks inside rebel territory at 4 a.m.

Taxes To Consume Star's Estate

NEW YORK (AP) — An attorney says heirs of Marilyn Monroe are being notified formally that their legacies from her estate will be consumed by federal income, state and estate taxes.

Elliot Lefkowitz, an associate of Aaron R. Frosch, executor of the estate, said Monday night no significant amount will be left for any beneficiary. The estate was to have provided $1 million in bequests for the friends and relatives of the late movie star.

Lefkowitz said it appeared there would be no money to provide $5,000 a year for the care of Miss Monroe's mother, Gladys Baker, 63, a patient in a Verdugo Hills, Calif., sanitarium.

Lefkowitz said there is $4,133 overdue for Mrs. Baker's care. Discussions are being held to assure for her indefinite care.

Miss Monroe, 36, was found dead in the bedroom of her Los Angeles home Aug. 5, 1962. The Los Angeles coroner termed her death a probable suicide caused by an overdose of barbitrates.

Rebellious Convicts Stage Protest Inside Coal Mine

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) — Seventy-three rebellious convicts at Brushy Mountain State Prison are staging a sit-down in a prison coal mine and holding four foremen hostage, Warden Lake Russell said today.

The sit-down began at 4:30 p.m. Monday when the night shift went into the mine, Warden Russell said. The prisoners just went into the mine and they said they wouldn't work until they had a conference with Commissioner (Harry) Avery.

Avery is Tennessee commissioner of corrections. Russell said that so far as he knew the prisoners were not armed and he did not fear for the safety of the mine foremen.

The hostages are not guards, Russell said, but are skilled miners hired to direct the mining operations.

Commissioner Avery said in Nashville that he did not plan to go to the prison until Wednesday, when he has a regular meeting of the pardon and parole board scheduled there.

The warden said he had not talked to the foremen but he understood they were all right.

He said he could not remember the full names of the foremen, but gave their last names as Thompson, Slatton, Whitus and Ford.

The warden said the prisoners might have some food and water in the shaft "if they've been planning this thing for a good while."

Lineman Is Injured

Thomas Stanley Lewis, 22, of Abilene narrowly escaped serious injury about 1:30 p.m. Monday when his hand brushed a high voltage line carrying 7,200 volts.

Lewis, an employe of the L&F Pole Line Construction Co. of Stamford, was changing a crossarm on an REA pole near the Bill Jones residence about two miles southeast of Fluvanna. It was believed that a rubber protective shield started to slip, and the lineman, in reaching for the shield, struck the wire.

The charge entered his left hand and came out just above his knee. He did not lose consciousness, nor was he knocked from the pole.

Lewis was brought to Cogdell Hospital by Bolger Ambulance Service. His condition is reported as "good."

Mishap Reported

The Snyder police department reported a two-vehicle mishap at 10:04 a.m. today at Thirteenth Street and the Clairemont Road.

Involved were a 1963 Chevrolet pickup driven by William Willis Furnace, 2405 Fortieth Street, and a 1965 Buick driven by Eugene Orville Bacon of Midland. Damage to the truck was estimated at $75 and to the car at $250. There were no injuries.

Now Luggage And Jewelry Minus Federal Excise Tax

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you buy a piece of jewelry today, a lipstick, a handbag, a suitcase or even a knapsack, you won't have to pay a federal retail tax on it — for the first time in years.

Those so-called nuisance taxes were among the federal excise taxes wiped out at midnight after President Johnson signed the $4.7-billion tax cut bill in a White House ceremony Monday.

Other excise taxes are being reduced in stages. The first-stage cuts on two big ones — cars and air conditioners— are retroactive to last May 15, so that if you bought one of these anytime since then you'll get a refund. On cars the refund should average about $70.

As he used dozens of souvenir pens to sign the bill, Johnson called it "a bright day for all Americans."

The President said "this excise tax bill will make its maximum contribution to our economic health only if businesses pass along to consumers the full amount of the reduction in the tax. And today I urge every manufacturer and every retailer in this country to do just that."

Price cuts to follow the tax cuts are not mandatory, but the makers and sellers of the goods are generally expected to pass on the savings to consumers.

Johnson said: "When there is again opportunity for tax revision, we hope, in particular, to provide further tax relief to those in our nation who need it most — those taxpayers who now live in the shadow of poverty."

The President didn't explain what he had in mind for this sometime- in-the-future tax cut possibility.

The first stage of the reductions will "lift one and three-quarters billion dollars of onerous taxes from the American economy," the President said.

The second step next January will cut excises by an equal amount. Some of the cuts, such as on autos and telephone calls, will be made in stages up until Jan. 1, 1968.

Johnson said the tax cuts will "pay big dividends in lower prices, more jobs, more sales and more production, not just in 1965 and 1966 but for years to come."

In spite of the cuts, excise taxes bringing in more than $10.5 billion a year will remain in effect. They are mostly on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and gasoline. Congress has shown no desire to tamper with these revenue-producers.

Redskins Beat Twins In Race For Mazurek

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins won a bidding contest with the Minnesota Twins today when Fred Mazurek of the University of Pittsburgh decided to play professional football instead of baseball.

Mazurek, 5-foot-11, 192-pound quarterback, was signed by the National Football League team as a free agent for an unannounced bonus. The Redskins would say only that he signed for "considerably more than is normally given a free agent."

With Washington, Mazurek will be used as a flanker back and defensive back.

Voted the most valuable player on the Pitt baseball team the past season, Mazurek hit .460 this spring as an outfielder. He was drafted by Minnesota in the recent free agent draft conducted by organized baseball.

Miss Cummings, Mr. Spradlin Exchange Double Ring Vows

Miss Frances Lea Cummings became the bride of Mr. James G. Spradlin at 6 p.m. Saturday June 12 in the First Baptist Church of Snyder. Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Cummings, 2401 Avenue H, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Spradlin, 2302 Forty-first Street.

The vows were exchanged before an arch of candelabra flanked by baskets of gladiolas.

Mrs. Nathan Mearse, organist, accompanied Miss Donna Stephens as she sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a gown of silk organza over satin accented with cabbage roses in the bussel effect. Her silk illusion veil was held in place by a large cabbage rose. The bride designed and made her wedding dress and also those of her attendants.

She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Orvin Turner of Abilene attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Janet Martin of Snyder, Linda Fuller of Dunn and Bonnie Odgen of Abilene. They wore matching dresses of moss green peau de soie. Their headpieces were cabbage roses with short veils.

Sonya Pieper of Roscoe was flower girl. She wore a dress of light green organza over taffeta.

Bob Spradlin served his brother as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Kent Stirling of Dunn, Danny Odgen of Abilene and Jack McDonald of Snyder.

A reception followed in the church fellowship hall. White gladolias were used for the centerpiece. The three - tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom was served by Donna Stephens. Mrs. L. L. Thomas registered guests.

For a wedding trip to Lake Quartz in Oklahoma, the bride chose a yellow silk suit.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School where she was president of FHA. The groom, also a graduate of Snyder High School, is a senior at North Texas, Denton, where they will make their home.

Out of town guests were from Odessa, Dallas, Roscoe, Abilene, Vernon and Hamlin.

Trinity River Dam Cost Estimate Upped

HOUSTON (AP) — The estimated $40 million cost of the Trinity River Dam project has risen to $48.5 million because land values and construction prices have increased during six years of delay by lawsuits, Mayor Louie Welch said Monday.

Welch said water users in House will not have to pay for the increase. He has a financing plan to pay the added cost, he said, but he did not elaborate.

Houston has a contract with the Trinity River Authority for construction of a dam at Livingston and a salt water barrier at Wallisville, a pumping station and a canal.

Soft Meringue

¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons cornstarch mixed smooth with ¼ cup cold milk
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shredded coconut
5 large egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries

In a small saucepan, scald the milk; stir in cornstarch mixture. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until smooth and thickened; remove from heat. Stir in sugar, salt and coconut; allow to stand to cool slightly while beating egg whites. Beat egg whies with cream of tartar until they hold straight stiff peaks; fold in slightly cooled sauce and vanilla. Turn into an ungreased layer-cake pan (8 by 1½ inches). Place in a pan of hot water, having water come halfway up side of pan. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until puffed and lightly browned — 35 to 40 minutes. Cool in pan — meringue will fall slightly; chill. Cut in wedges and top with thawed strawberries. Makes 6 servings.

You can braise short ribs in the oven instead of on top of the range. Brown the ribs first, then cover them tightly, add the braising liquid and bake them in a moderate oven for two hours or until tender.

Dr. Cohen Says Babies Need Love

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tender, loving touching may be one of the most important things you can do for a baby.

His soft skin is perhaps the [illegible] by which he does his first great learning about his strange outside world, a psychiatrist said today.

And the skin-learning, or lack of it, apparently can be important in how the baby grows up, said Dr. Sidney Cohen of Los Angeles.

Cohen is chief of psychiatric service at Wadsworth Hospital in Los Angeles and a professor at the University of California at Los Angeles.

It's generally considered that lack of a mother, or good substitute motherly care, may have serious and lifelong impact on a child's character, he told the American Medical Association.

This is known as maternal deprivation — even by a real mother who is cold or detached — and is a complex matter, he said.

Cohen focused upon just one aspect of it — little or no skin stimulation.

For one thing, he said, the nerve endings for touch, temperature and pain are the first to develop insulating sheaths — long before the infant develops effective nerves for hearing or seeing.

Skin contacts are the first sole means "of communicating security and affection, a need as great or even more important than the feeding process," Cohen said. "It is evidently relaxing and pleasurable to the infant to be stroked, cuddled and massaged."

What a child feels, from all senses, during the first six months of life "may have its greatest impact upon the child's evolving personality and physiology," he said.

Children reared in an orphanage, kept clean and well-fed but rarely handled, weren't considered to have fared as well, mentally and emotionally, as babies reared in a prison nursey by their own mothers, Cohen said, citing a study by other researchers.

Gary Player Wins Open; Kel Nagle Three Off Pace

By BOB OLLEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gary Player, a black-clad little South African with a flair for the dramatic, deftly etched his name among a select list of golf's immortals and said that was enough, he had all he wanted, sweep the four big prizes of the money wasn't important.

"The money is immaterial — the honor is the thing," Player said Monday, after winning the U.S. Open Golf Championship and immediately turned his $25,000 check over to the U.S. Golf Association.

His three-stroke victory over Australian Kel Nagle in the 18-hole playoff made him the first foreign winner in 45 years and only the third man ever to sweep the four big prizes of professional golf — the U.S. and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters.

He now stands with Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan at the pinnacle unattained by any others, the legendary figures of another era or the giants of today.

The forgotten man in golf's Big Three, Player reasserted his right to a spot in that company in overwhelming fashion. Arnold Palmer has yet to win the PGA. Jack Nicklaus has yet to win the British Open.

"I have made most of my money and won most of my golfing fame in this country," Player said in announcing his intention to turn the check over to the USGA.

"I feel I owe this country a great deal. I feel it is my duty to do something for this country and for golf.

"So I'm turning the check over to Joe Dey (executive director of the USGA) and asking him to give $5,000 to the Cancer Fund. My mother died of cancer. The rest, I would like to see funneled into junior golf in this country.

He gave $2,000 to his caddie, Frank Pagel, 16.

The actual prize money was $25,000, but the USGA put another $1,000 into the pot for both Player and Nagle after they tied at the end of 72 holes at 282 and the 18-hole playoff went into effect.

Player leaped into command at the start, taking a birdie 4 while the 44-year-old Australian bogeyed the first hole of the vastly frustrating 7,191 - yard Bellerive Country Club course.

Player ran in birdie putts of 35 feet each on the next two holes, went 2-up and, for all intents and purposes, it was over. Nagle was never even again.

The close-trotting Australian, who forced the tie when Player blew a three-stroke lead with three holes to play the day before, wrecked his chances with a shattering double bogey on the fifth.

His drive hooked far to the left, into the gallery crowning a small hill, struck a woman in the head and bounded into the rough.

"When we walked up, the lady was lying there," Player said. "I did that once in South Africa. It can make you sick. I didn't want to concentrate on the next shot.

"Kel said, 'I feel awful, Gary,' and I said, 'so do I.'

"I feel it upset Kel."

Nagle's next shot also whipped into the crowd, glancing off a woman's ankle.

"He must have felt horrible," Player said. "It was like a butcher shop."

Gary had a five-stroke advantage at the turn. He held it, playing his usual brand of conservative, control golf, until the last two holes when he took cautious bogeys.

Player said he now plans to return to South Africa to be with his wife and five children, including 15 - day - old Theresa, whom he hasn't seen.

"I feel I can now cut down my travel and spend more time with my family," he said. "I love golf very much, but I love my children more.

"Now I can pick what I want to do. I don't have to be rushing off to Australia, rushing off to Spain, rushing off to Mexico. I can hunt and fish nd ride and be with my family.

"I can pace myself, choose my tourneys as Hogan used to do.

"I wanted desperately to win this one. I wanted it more than anything else in my life. I've worked hard for it, too. I'm 29 years old, and I've traveled more than a million miles.

"This was the most wonderful day of my life. But now I want to be with my family."

Home Runs Big Thing In Texas League

By The Associated Press

When the weather gets hot it's supposed to help the pitchers, but it isn't working out that way in the Texas League.

Take Monday night when nine home runs were cracked, six in just one game. And there were 57 hits in three games.

The big slugfest came at El Paso where the Sun Kings whipped Austin 10-7. Each club had three homers but the Sun Kings had more men on base when they came.

Charley Dees' three-run smash for El Paso was the biggest blow.

El Paso was winning its third straight but it didn't help much since Albuquerque, leader of the Western Division, was snapping out of a three-game losing streak with a 7-5 decision over Tulsa. Albuquerque held onto a 2½-game bulge over second place El Paso.

Dick McLaughlin's bases-loaded triple sparked a five-run fifth inning that gave Albuquerque the decision over Tulsa. Meanwhile Don Sutton was striking out 11 batters while winning his second pitching victory.

Dallas-Fort Worth increased its lead in the Eastern Division to 1½ games when it beat Amarillo 5-3. The Spurs had to come from behind to do it after Amarillo started out with three runs in the first inning, two of them from Leo Posada's double.

AFL Wants Team In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A committee of the American Football League arranged to meet with city officials today to discuss playing rights of an American League team in Philadelphia's proposed new stadium.

An AFL spokesman said Monday that further consideration of a team franchise in Philadelphia was "not feasible...until we clarify the stadium situation."

The league had awarded one franchise to Atlanta, but decided Monday not to expand there because the National Football League has an agreement to use that city's new stadium. AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Monday that the league still had proposals from four other cities, at $7.5 million apiece.

Dennis The Thumb Ralston To Carry American Hopes

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON, England, (AP) — Dennis (The Thumb) Ralston goes back into battle on Wimbledon's center court today bandaged but cheerful — and unique among tennis players in being grateful for rain.

The downpour that ruined much of the first day of the all-England championships left Ralston, the big American hope for the title, leading his veteran doubles partner, Ham Richardson, 7-6 in the first set of their singles match.

For many players it could have meant disaster and a sleepless night ahead.

But for Ralston it meant another night's rest for his injured right thumb and the certainty that it could only get better.

Ralston, 22, fell and bruised the thumb so badly in last week's London Championships that on Saturday he couldn't hold a racquet.

Until Monday morning he still was doubtful if he could take the court against the 31-year-old Richardson.

Ralston, from Bakersfield, Calif., said: "My thumb was okay. In fact, I was worried less about the thumb than about the chance of slipping on damp turf.

"Maybe it's a good thing that match was called off. My thumb is improving all the time and it didn't seriously trouble me."

Ralston, the top-ranked American player and fourth seed of the Wimbledon entry, has been beaten by Richardson, of Dallas, in two of their last three meetings.

If the unseeded Richardson pulls the trick again, Ralston can count Wimbledon his hoodoo tournament. Last year he went out on the first day to Britain's Tony Pickard.

This year it was Pickard's turn to falter. After taking the first two sets against Australia's John Cooper, he fell heavily on the treacherous grass and was beaten 3-6, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2.

The big opening day upset for the United States was the defeat of Frank Froehling, the No. 4 American from Coral Gables, Fla., by British Davis Cupper Mike Sangster.

Froehling stands 6-foot-3 and Sangster's not much shorter. The Briton kept his feet better in this battle of slithering giants and triumphed 6-4, 6-2, 18-16.

Cliff Richey of Dallas defeated Bill Alvarez, Colombia, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5; Jim McManus, Berkeley, Calif., beat Christian Duxin, France, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3, and the veteran Gardnar Mulloy of Miami won by default from Jaime Couder Spain.

Atlanta To Join The NFL Ranks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta will become the 15th team in the expanded National Football League in 1966 with a group headed by insurance man Rankin Smith Jr. of Atlanta as the likely owner.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle will screen the four or five applicants with the understanding that a lease on the new $18-million stadium is a must.

Although the rival American Football League also voted a 1966 franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Corp. of Atlanta on June 8, the nine-man Stadium Authority reportedly is overwhelmingly in favor of the NFL. Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the board, has set a July 1 deadline for a decision on the lease.

"We feel there is very, very strong sentiment in Atlanta and the state of Georgia for an NFL franchise," said Rozelle after announcing the award of the franchise Monday by a unanimous vote.

Joe Foss, AFL commissioner who was in New York for a meeting with his league's expansion committee, commented:

"All I can say is congratulations to the NFL," and added that the problem of getting the AFL into Atlanta rested with the Cox group.

Atlanta kicked up its heels and celebrated when sports fans heard the NFL news. "We're in the big leagues now," they shouted at the stadium where 38,402 watched the Milwaukee Braves (Atlanta Braves in 1966) play an exhibition baseball game with Minnesota.

Rozelle said he would screen the applicants before selecting one and then would ask the club owners for approval of his choice in a telephone vote. "I feel they will accept my recommendation," said Rozelle who will begin negotiating immediately.

This is the first step in major expansion by the NFL which will have 16 teams in 1967, divided into two conferences, each split into two divisions.

The Atlanta team will operate as a swing team and will play each of the 14 other teams once in 1966. As a result, the season will run 15 weeks and each team will have a one-week bye.

The team will have first draft pick next December and will have one extra draft selection in each of the first five rounds.

Stocking with veteran players will be set up at the February meeting.

Snyder's Polo Team To Host Tournament

The victory was against Ralls, and the locals won the match 12-7. Snyder was outscored in only one chukker, and that was the first frame when Ralls took the lead of 3-2. Snyder came back and had little trouble in taking the win.

Snyder's Polo Tournament will include four teams. San Angelo, Ralls, Spur, and the host team, Snyder. The tournament will not be closed to spectators.

Caddy Gets Large Salary For Open

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Young Frank Pagel lost a night's sleep but was pretty well paid for it.

Like $2,000.

That was the prize South Africa's Gary Player gave his 16-year-old caddy after winning the U.S. Open Golf Championship Monday, believed to be the most ever given a caddy.

"I'll spend part of it on a motorcycle and put the rest away to go to college," Pagel said.

New York Mets Stop Sentiment

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets aren't sentimental after all.

They were filled with sentiment for six innings Monday night. Then Joe Christopher went and spoiled it with a bunt single leading off the seventh inning.

Billy Cowan made it even worse in the ninth inning when he slammed his first homer of the season, giving the Mets a 1-0 victory over the National League - leading Los Angeles Dodgers and Claude Osteen.

The triumph came exactly one year after Jim Bunning pitched a perfect game against the Mets for the Philadelphia Phillies, who also were in first place at the time.

The Mets appeared to be staging a fitting observance of the first anniversary, if not with a perfect game, at least with a no-hitter. But Christopher broke up the celebration, and all the Mets wound up with was their second consecutive 1-0 Monday night victory.

It was one week ago that the Mets failed to hit Cincinnati's Jim Maloney for 10 innings before Johnny Lewis' leadoff homer in the 11th beat the Reds 1-0.

While tossing sentiment out to left field, the Mets recorded another landmark along the way to immortality. The victory enabled them to compile a two-game winning streak against the Dodgers for the first time in their four-year existence.

Osteen allowed the Mets only two hits while the Dodgers managed just three off Al Jackson, who never had beaten them before.

Jackson, however, allowed only one runner to reach second base after the Dodgers failed to score with the bases loaded and two out in the first inning.

Jim Gilliam doubled, and Jackson walked Wes Parker and Jim Lefebvre. The lefty ended the threat by throwing out Jeff Torborg on a grounder. The only other hits off him were singles by Parker in the sixth and Osteen in the eighth.

In the only other game, Lee Maye's two-run triple in the seventh inning snapped a 1-1 tie and sparked Houston to a 6-2 triumph over Philadelphia. Maye, who earlier singled across a run, drove in Bob Lillis and Joe Morgan, who had walked.

Dick Farrell brought his record to 5-2, holding the Phillies to six hits

FRONTIER DEFENSE — Texas history is relived at old Fort Davis, key post in the defense system of West Texas from 1854 to 1891. Today the remains of Fort Davis are more extensive and impressive than those of any Southwestern fort. Visitors can inspect many officers' residences, troop barracks, warehouses, and the hospital. Ft. Davis Visit Offers Taste Of Texas History

"Look-see" history and family fun can be combined in a visit to old Fort Davis and Davis Mountains State Park.

The Mays Massacre, conquest of the Apaches, fights with the Comanches, stagecoaches on the San Antonio - El Paso road — these are all part of the old Fort Davis story.

Fort Davis National Historic Site was established as part of the National Park System in 1963. The Fort is located on the northern edge of the town of Fort Davis, Texas, and can be reached from U. S. Highway 290 on the north, 90 on the south, and then by paved Texas Roads 17 and 118.

At nearby Davis Mountains State Park, motorists will find it far enough south for comfort in the winter, yet high enough for pleasant summer touring.

The Park's camping area is equipped with concrete tables, cooking grills, showers, and restrooms. The camping fee is $1.00 per day per car.

Indian Lodge, at Davis Mountains State Park, affords sleeping accommodations for tourists and its own special brand of West Texas cooking.

A few miles from the Lodge, the highest paved highway in Texas climbs Mount Locke to an elevation of 6,791 feet. The McDonald Observatory and Harvard College Solar Radio Laboratory are located on Mount Locke.

Pair Died On Gallows Early Today

LANSING, Kan. (AP) — George Ronald York, 22, and James Douglas Latham, 23, two high school dropouts died on the gallows early today for one of the seven murders they had bragged of committing.

Each went to his death at the Kansas prison in solemn repentance.

Latham was pronounced dead at 12:20, York at 12:53.

There was none of the carefree bravado that had characterized their arrests, when both said glibly they were looking forward to execution.

The hangings took place in a corner of a musty old warehouse on the prison grounds. They were executed in alphabetical order.

Latham, when asked by Warden Sherman Crbuse what his last words were, replied: "I'm not mad at anybody."

When the warden reminded him that he could say what he wanted, Latham remained silent, head bowed, then walked up the 13 steps of the gallows with the Rev. James E. Post, former prison chaplain, at his side.

Shot Kills Doctor's Wife

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Patricia Robinson, wife of a prominent Houston surgeon, died of a gunshot wound in her head Monday night at Methodist Hospital.

Her husband, Dr. Hampton Robinson, is chairman of the Texas State Board of Health.

A bullet fired from a .38 caliber pistol entered her right temple and passed out her left temple while she was in a bathroom of her River Oaks home, investigators said.

Robinson was not home. Two of their four children were upstairs and were summoned by a neighbor who heard the shot. The bathroom door was locked and had to be broken down by a yardman.

Mrs. Robinson had been under the care of doctors, a family spokesman said.

Rescuers Search For Missing Divers

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Rescue teams continued a round-the-clock search today for two divers missing in the unplumbed depths of Devil's Hole, but officials held little hope that the pair would be found alive.

Ten fresh teams arrived late Monday night to relieve 10 divers who spent all Monday plunging in relays for David Rose, 20, and Paul Giancontieri, 19, who failed to surface after a dive at midnight Sunday.

Public May Wait For Mariner Pix

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — There's a chance the best of the 18 to 21 photographs the U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 takes of Mars July 14 may not be released to the public for weeks or even months.

A spokesman for Jet Propulsion Laboratory says scientists have agreed to immediate release of only the first three photographs, and possibly some others.

The rest of the historic pictures, which could show whether there are canal-like structures on the planet believed most likely to harbor extraterrestrial beings, may be withheld for detailed study and analysis.

"Our agreement with the scientists assigned to study the photographs gives them a proprietary right to scientific information, including the photographs, obtained by the spacecraft," said a spokesman for the laboratory, which built and is tracking Mariner 4 on its 325-million-mile voyage.

"So far they have agreed to release only the first three and possibly some others. We are hoping, however, that at least the best of the remainder can be released as fast as they are received and processed."

Scientists generally prefer to announce results of research in technical journals, not in the public press, and the spokesman said at least one member of the Mariner team of three wants to follow this procedure in releasing the photographs.

The first three pictures will not be the closest nor will they be taken at the best angle.

The exact target areas are somewhat in doubt, depending on the time the camera is turned on. The camera will cover an area some 4,000 miles long, starting with either of two northern Martian deserts, Amazonis or Elysium, then sweep southward across the equator and over some of the dark areas bordering the southern polar cap.

Some scientists have speculated the dark areas are vegetation, fed by water from the polar caps which seem to melt in summer.

The first pictures will be taken when the spacecraft is about 8,000 miles above the surface, with the camera pointing straight down. They are expected to picture surface markings as small as two miles in length or diameter, and could show whether the equatorial "canals" and city-like "oases" at their intersections, reported by some astronomers, are artificial structures.

Closest pictures will come at the end of the sequence, when the spacecraft will be about 6,000 miles high, but they will be at an angle.

Big Government May Be Aid To Small Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Big government may prove a boon for the lone wolf businessman after all.

For years the entrepreneur, part of American folklore, has tended to look upon ever-bigger government as one of the threats to his way of operating. Now he is finding that big government is making available to him production techniques and methods of doing business and fruits of its research which only it can afford to undertake.

Big government and also big business, with which the entrepreneur long has been at odds, are now seeking to revive the qualities which traditionally made the organizer, the risk-taker, and the controller of the essentially one-man enterprise, a prime force in developing the American economy.

One practical result is that government agencies are now the source for expert advice on everything from accounting procedures for small business to quality control on the production line.

The entrepreneur is the exact opposite of the typical corporation executive, the organization man. The lone operator runs his business with a tight control of all its aspects.

A government study of the lone wolf businessman describes him as a man who has the will to control, the freedom to think independently and the ruthlessness to do what is expedient, regardless of past ties or loyalties. It cites his ability to project his own experience into new situations, in which criteria do not yet exist, and to create his own standards for acceptable levels of accomplishment.

For years government borrowed techniques from business, to some extent because it was becoming so involved in business itself. But now that government has pushed into many new fields, both large and small businesses are finding many of its activities directly applicable to their own.

The Polaris submarine is an example cited by Sylvan Gollin, in charge of Walter Dorwin Teague Associates' 20-year-old program of design and quality control development for the Navy's Bureaus of Weapons.

He says that Polaris and other Navy projects have required research in all aspects of management to permit successful operation. Private organizations helped develop them. But by now the Navy has established standards and methods of control over production on its own, rather than depending on those of its suppliers.

Advisory and financial aid from government agencies are helping entrepreneurs enter new fields, found new enterprises. But Gollin contends that thanks to government techniques "new business will make fewer costly mistakes."

After 20 Years The UN Has Little Left But Hope

B JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has seldom if ever in the history of man been such a sense of joy, of new beginning, as there was for a little while in sunlit San Francisco 20 years ago.

That may seem absurd now after what has happened in the two decades since diplomats from the big and little nations allied against the Axis or Japan met in the California city April 25, 1945, to create the United Nations.

But the war with Germany was coming to a crashing end, with Japan to be taken care of soon. Then the world could learn from its mistakes and start down a fresh road.

The United Nations was to chart the road and it seemed unbelievable that after the disasters of two world wars man would be too stupid to learn a little.

That was a foundation, but not the only one, for the hope the world might be entering a new and civilized and reasonable day.

The United States, Britain, China, the Soviet Union and others for sheer survival had submerged their differences in order to fight together, and fight well, against a common enemy.

After this ability to work together in a terrible time, it didn't seem too much to hope the nations in the future might be willing to discuss their differences in an international forum instead of doing all over again what they had just been through.

True, the old League of Nations, set up in 1920, was supposed to have been just this kind of forum for peaceful settlements and yet it was a tragic failure, as World War II showed.

But the world a-coming with the United Nations could learn from the league and go on from there, or so it seemed, because something truly new had been added.

The United States, which had stood aloof from the League of Nations, had cast off its leaden mantle of isolationism and was to be one of the guiding forces of the United Nations.

In short, when all the hopes and reasons were added together the success or failure of the United Nations would rest on one thing only: the good intentions of the members.

The dream of a new and different world didn't last long. It didn't even last until June 26, 1945, when 51 nations, after two months of discussion, signed the finished U.N. Charter.

By then it was becoming clear Stalin had abandoned his agreement about letting the countries of Eastern Europe have free elections after the war and was maneuvering to capture them as satellites.

But the most sobering realization was the big-power veto.

The wartime partners trusted each other so little that they insisted when a big decision had to be made in the U.N. Security Council any one of the Big Five powers could kill it with a veto. The five were the United States, China, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

But it was the veto which had helped destroy the League of Nations.

The United Nations was patterned in many ways after the old league. The latter had a council, where a veto could kill action, and an assembly. The United Nations had a security council and an assembly.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union all wanted the veto built into the U.N. Charter. President Harry S. Truman said later in his memoirs the Senate would never have approved U.S. membership in the United Nations without the power to veto actions by others.

Victory In Viet Nam Is But A Dream

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — How long will the war in South Viet Nam last?

The prospect is that victory still is an indefinite number of rice crops away and probably an indefinite number of dollars.

That is, if it is fought to a military conclusion.

Some pessimists hold that victory on the battlefield can be won, if at all, only after decades of steady wearing struggle and that the only sensible solution will result from political negotiations. But no negotiations are in sight.

Some optimists think that a military verdict can be achieved in at most a few years by cutting off the Viet Cong from their supply sources and destroying their strength in the field by the attrition of many battles.

All agree, more or less, however, that military victory will be delayed or rendered impossible if the South Vietnamese fail to maintain a strong central government in Saigon which the people can respect and support.

After being in the country six weeks and talking with scores of people at many levels I wonder if my judgment of the situation is any better than it was after I had been here six hours.

This is one of those places in which the more you study the less sure you are that you have all the key facts in hand.

I'd like to present the view of some of those I've discussed the war with.

An American colonel:

"I thought it was hopeless. But now I have hope. I think our airpower has enabled us to turn the corner. It boosted the morale of the people. I don't know how long it will take but I believe now we can win."

A French businessman:

"You can't win with airpower and you can't win by running up and down the roads in armored cars. The French tried that and lost. You can't win except with masses of infantry. Until you do that we are all prisoners here."

An American major:

"If we had enough artillery and mop-up units stationed along the Laotian border to intercept their supplies we could whip them in the field. I'd say we could do it in two or three years."

A veteran newspaperman:

"The Viet Cong aren't getting weaker, they're stronger. They used to fight as squads, platoons or, at the most, as companies. Now they're organized at the battalion and even regiment level. They hold the countryside. We hold cities. Our air power is hurting them but where are we going to get the manpower to whip them?"

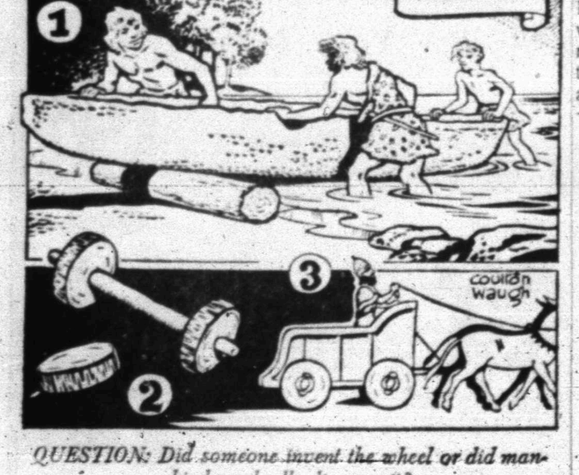
An American sergeant:

"If they (the South Vietnamese) can't win with their own guts we can't do it with dollars. This whole country to me isn't worth one drop of American blood. I get out of here in three months and I'll be glad to go."

An American captain:

"We can win over here if the American people will just stick with us. If a guy is willing to lay his life on the line to what we're trying to do over here, the people back home shouldn't mind paying a little extra tax money."

Junior Editors Quiz on WHEELS



QUESTION: Did someone invent the wheel or did mankind gradually discover it?

• • •

ANSWER: There is little doubt that the discovery of the use of the wheel was one of the greatest in mankind's history. Wheels help up to move heavy objects; they enable us to roll along at high speed; they make engines of many kinds possible. Like the engine itself, the wheel is back of the wonders of our machine age.

It is believed that ordinary round logs probably gave early mankind the start toward the discovery of the wheel, in some way similar to that shown in the picture (1). Who first started to use logs in this way is unknown. It is thought that some inventive person about 5000 years ago conceived the idea of cutting a cross section of a log used in rolling things (2), and then of connecting two such sections with an axle piece (3). From this, it would be only a short step to mount some kind of body on four such wheels and have a primitive chariot (3). The Egyptians used a wheel with leather thongs tied on, making a primitive tire, the Babylonians cut out some of the wood, leaving spokes. By Greek and Roman times, wheels had been highly developed and were used to make chariots roll swiftly. In 1869, the invention of rubber tires greatly increased the wheel's value.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can write down the main uses of the wheel. You will be amazed at how many of them will occur to you.

Viet Girl To Remain With Mother

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An iron cot in a Saigon hospital is the only home that remains for Gian Thi Yen, a 12-year-old girl wounded in the battle of Dong Xoai.

A photo of Yen, taken by Associated Press photographer Horst Faas, aroused worldwide sympathy. It showed the child, with leg wounds bandaged, limping through the rubble of Dong Xoai looking for her family.

The girl was finally flown to Saigon by American helicopter crewmen. It was thought her family had been killed by the Viet Cong guerrillas who overran the village.

Yen's father, a soldier, had been killed. So had her younger brother, Van Bang, 8, and a sister, Thi Lien, 5.

But Yen's mother and two brothers lived. The mother, Le Thi Gai, 31, who is expecting another child, finally traced Yen to the Saigon hospital.

People in the United States and other countries wrote The Associated Press in Saigon, offering help or to adopt the little girl.

But Yen's mother will not consider adoption. So far, there has been no indication whether any help will actually reach them.

Their house and possessions were smashed at Dong Xoai. The father's pension amounts to just a few dollars a month.

"All our relatives live in the Communist north," said Yen's mother. "We came down to South Viet Nam when the Communists took over up there."

The best the mother can hope for is a job as a servant or laundress at one of the army camps. She is a Catholic and may also be eligible for assistance in some of the many Catholic refugee villages around Saigon.

An American travel agent offered funds and possibly a future trip to the United States for Yen.

But Yen doesn't want to leave her family.

"I want to stay with mother and my brothers," she said. "And I want my daddy back."

Ask Immediate Integration

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — While about 2,000 Negroes attended a rally calling for immediate integration of all grades, Houston public school trustees voted Monday night for complete desegregation by 1967.

The schools now are integrated through the fifth grade and would have completed grade-a-year desegregation in 1971.

Trustees voted to desegregate the 6th, 7th and 10th grades in September, the 8th and 11th grades in 1966, and the 9th and 12th grades in the fall of 1967.

A loud but orderly crowd gathered in Emancipation Park to hear civil rights leaders urge immediate total desegregation.

The original stairstep integration plan was ordered by a U.S. District Court in 1961.

The board also reversed a long-time policy against accepting federal aid, calling on school administrations to "pursue a course toward obtaining federal funds."

"It's just a matter that we need money," said Mrs. H. W. Cullen, one of the members who previously opposed federal aid.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — So there we were walking through a forest of paintings in a park this morning, me getting cultured by my 21-year-old female child and a couple of cousins named Culberson from Houston.

The chief purpose of this excursion was so Cousin Jim could study the outdoor exhibits which are of great interest to him because he owns a commercial art film. Number two reason was to edify me and also the fact that I had a car handy.

And every time I would ask questions like, "What's that?" or "Isn't this painting upside down?" my child would look like somebody had struck her with a buggy whip. Cousin Eleanor, being an extremely tolerant lady (also an Abney) agreed with my point of view that if you don't like something it is no good.

My artist-child, however, has definite ideas and expresses them. She would pause before a collection of colors and say, "Hey, I like this."

And I would say, "So we have democracy in Mexico and you can like fried ants if you want. Please pass me another tranquilizer."

Of course this infuriates her because she is a budding Rembrandt.

So I would say, "How come people stand around a week painting a portrait of a mountain when they can take a good color picture of it in a hundredth of a second?"

This drives her wild and she says I am uncouth and do not understand art. At this point we get into a discussion about what is art? I can understand nice, colored photographs of beaches and sailboats like they put on calendars.

Apparently the culture set does not agree with my point of view. Half the unemployed population of the U.S.A. is down here using barrels of paint for their Sunday outdoor exhibitions just to prove calendars are no good. And all the tourists walk around taking photographs in split seconds of what it took these ladies and gentlemen days and days to streak on canvas. (Cousin Jim photographed things in color and he will probably have his lab enlarge the pictures and hang 'em in his living room for free.)

Personally, I think the trouble with my 21-year-old child is that she is too much like me. She went to college up home but developed a terrible Education Syndrome. Hates books, cannot figure 2 plus 2 (any idiot knows it's 22) and almost equaled my scholastic record.

So she came back to recover from her traumatic experience by painting. To accomplish this properly she puts on the football jersey of a fullback friend (down to her knees) and a pair of khaki trousers that look like they were surveyed out of the Salvation Army.

By my Omega flying stopwatch, it takes her 6 minutes 3.2 seconds per brush stroke. This involves backing away and viewing the potential masterpiece from all angles. The canvas then gets a half-inch stroke of brown paint. End of day's work.

Unfortunately, art is a contageous business. Now all her sisters are busily working with crayons, water colors, grease pencils and my fountain pen.

They have strange tastes because they like more clothes than will fit into their closets and things like star saphires and rubies. Some day I am going to write a book on how to raise daughters and other females. In our house we have female daughters, a female wife and female servants. And the only successful method I have found for dealing with them is to shut up and leave 'em be.

Can't say how it will work out in the long run but it keeps at least a temporary peace.

Group Starts Operations In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People — banned in Alabama for eight years — has begun its first major civil rights project since it won approval to operate under a court order.

The project is statewide Negro voter registration.

Its goals: 100,000 more registered Negro voters in Alabama by the summer's end, creation of stronger county leadership among Negroes and a new image for Alabama.

NAACP chapter leaders and businessmen — both white and Negro — were among the estimated 100 civil rights volunteers who began the campaign Monday by attending the opening of a two-day workshop period.

The volunteers will go in groups to make the county-to-county, sometimes door-to-door, drive to encourage Negroes to apply to vote.

They will be joined later by more volunteers — all selected by the NAACP from across the nation. The total assigned to Alabama is 240.

The NAACP regained its status last year when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that Alabama had no constitutional basis for banning the organization.

Liquor To Be Destroyed

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A quarter of a million dollars worth of liquor is going to be destroyed because of last week's floods.

The liquor, including imported whiskies, scotches, gins, wines and champagnes, is in flooded basement rooms of the liquor division of McKesson & Robbins, Inc.

The spirits must be destroyed under a court ruling of the early 1950s which states any bottled liquor covered by flood water is no longer fit for human consumption.

Leo S. Sullivan, general manager of McKesson & Robbins, said the bottles will be taken to a dump where agents of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the U.S. Treasury will supervise their destruction under heavy rollers.

Woman Suffers Second Beating

DALLAS (AP) — A woman victim of an attempted assault and beating Friday opened her door Monday for what she thought was a delivery and was smashed on the head by a whispering assailant.

She had returned home from a hospital late Saturday.

A man at the front door told her he had a telegram, she opened it part way and he knocked the housewife backward. As he beat her about the face, the man whispered: "Don't hurt me—be careful, be careful."

Police said the woman apparently blacked out and the man left. Detectives saw no connection between the attacks, they said because the suspects did not appear to be the same.

Delay In Imports Changes Seen As Serious Setback

By MAX B. SKELTON

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The chairman of the 33-state Interstate Oil Compact Commission said today a federal decision to delay changes in the mandatory oil imports control program until 1966 "is a serious setback."

Gov. John Connally of Texas told the oil and gas conservation study group it must continue a fight to reduce imports which he said are causing depressed conditions within the domestic petroleum industry.

"Our best course is to maintain our position, as individual states and as a compact, until we know more about the 1966 regulations," Connally said in a speech at the commission's mid-year meeting.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall announced last week that study of a voluminous record on a March imports hearing would prevent changes in the control program until the first six months of 1966.

Connally represented the compact at the hearing and asked that oil imports be reduced immediately or, at the very least frozen at the current level.

"The delay is a setback," Connally said today. "I am disappointed."

The chief spokesman for the nation's independent oil producers told the commission sound conservation practices have resulted in lower and more stable crude oil prices.

H. A. True Jr. of Casper, Wyo., said the real price of crude oil, expressed in constant dollars, currently is 54 cents a barrel below the 1948 price and 12 cents lower than the average price the past 75 years.

True, president of the 7,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America, said today's lower prices reflect efficient producing, drilling and waste prevention regulations.

A New York City oil executive told the group emotionalism has become a new and disturbing factor in the fight by oil and other industries against air and water pollution.

John Scott, general counsel for Socony Mobil Oil Co., said great progress has been made in the battle against pollution but "emotionalism can trigger precipitous and costly corrective attempts that lead nowhere."

Scott said pollution problems vary from locality to locality and costly remedies should be avoided until careful research has determined the cause of each problem.

He recalled that oil refineries originally were blamed for the Los Angeles smog that later was traced to automobile exhaust fumes.

"The cost of this false start to the industry and ultimately, of course, to its customers was $50 million," he said. "The cost to the community was intolerable delay."

True said crude oil prices have declined since 1957 by 6.7 per cent in contrast to increases of 1.5 for all commodities and 9.6 for other crude minerals.

Prices during pre-conservation years fluctuated from $1.30 to $4.36 a barrel, he said, but have fluctuated only from $1.79 to $2.61 since oil conservation programs began in the early 1930s.

"Conservation has resulted in both a lower and more stable price for crude petroleum," he said. This conclusion is in sharp contrast to the widespread misunderstanding conservation regulations on drilling and production necessarily result in higher prices."

True said most oil now being produced was found and developed years ago at costs only a small fraction of today's replacement cost.

About 60 per cent of current crude production, he said, comes from fields discovered prior to 1950 and another 30 per cent comes from discoveries made prior to 1940.

"Our studies indicate rates of return for domestic operations for larger petroleum companies would be reduced by at least 50 per cent if today's replacement costs were fully reflected," he said. "For producing companies only, the adjustment to a lower rate of return would be even greater."

Farm Bank Big Business In Plainview

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's farmers own and operate 483 banks which do an annual average loan business of $7.5 million.

These banks, called production credit associations, are a basic unit of a farm credit system under which more than half a million farmers obtain most or all their credit needs. The associations operate under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration, a federal agency.

Last year credit associations loaned $3.7 billion to member farmers. Securities issued by the farm credit system were sold to obtain the loan funds.

The Farm Credit Administration says the top 20 credit associations did a loan business of more than $20 million each in 1964. The largest was the Plainview (Tex.) Credit Association with $46,258,000. Next was the Mandan (N.D.) association with $33,246,000.

The credit associations have a total farmer membership of 538,000. Last year 361,000 members obtained loans.

When the credit associations were started in the 1930s, capital stock was provided by the government. All the government investment but $40,000 has been paid off.

The present capital stock owned by farmers totals $255 million. The associations have accumulated earnings—held as reserves—of $178 million.

The government expects capital requirements of farmers to double within 10 years.

AMA Dispute Rages Over Reception Of Medicare Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — A dispute has broken out in the House of Delegates, policy-making body of the American Medical Association over whether doctors should boycott the pending federal health care program.

Only a handful of the 30-odd speakers at a hearing on boycott resolutions favored cooperation in the program or urged postponing a decision until after the program passes Congress.

Ten resolutions calling for a boycott were introduced Monday in the 235-member house. The resolutions will not be acted on finally until Wednesday or Thursday.

The AMA's new president, Dr. James Z. Appel of Lancaster, Pa., said in his installation address Sunday that it would be unethical and an act of bad citizenship for doctors to boycott the program.

The bill, backed by the Johnson administration, has passed the House. It would provide hospital and nursing home care for the elderly under Social security.

Appel said Monday that he would go along with whatever the House of Delegates did.

The trend of testimony was strongly and often emotionally against Appel's position. He was accused of "appeasement" and "surrender." He was told that the program would lead to "nationalization of hospitals."

Appel told a newsman he believed the House of Delegates would not take any action on the resolutions.

As the dispute went on before the committee, about 100 white and Negro doctors — most of them said to be AMA members — picketed outside the New York Coliseum where the AMA convention's scientific sessions are being held.

The pickets protested the exclusion of Negro doctors from state and county medical societies. The Medical Committee for Human Rights sponsored the picketing.

The AMA issued a statement saying that tactics such as the picketing hamper rather than help the progress being made toward "voluntary elimination of discrimination in medicine."

The AMA said that for 15 years it has opposed discrimination in membership. It said the AMA has taken the position that all qualified persons should be admitted to membership regardless of race.
