LOCAL OPTION TO BE COUNTY VOTING ISSUE

TWINKLES
It is right obvious that the volatile temperament of the Cubans is admirably fitted to stage a revolution which is a revolution. The Spanish-speaking peoples south of us enjoy our help as allies of a warm moment then turn around and hate us within a week.

But America played a remarkable hand in the Cuban revolt. Carried out similarly in a more distant country, it would be hard to explain and might cause a war. The Spanish-speaking peoples south of us enjoy our help as allies of a warm moment then turn around and hate us within a week.

Go another step, say the Socialists, and make the new deal really work. Don't nag us, we might take two steps if the NRA doesn't work.

Coach Mitchell urges all Harvesters to condition their feet in advance of football practice. He should have given us that advice before we entered this tennis tournament. But we're fixed up now; we're growing callouses so thick that soon we'll be able to walk on glass in a side-show.

We know several fellows in the early thirties who are not going back to golf until they reach a condition good enough to prove to the kids that 30 is not "old." And incidentally, they wish to prove to themselves that they can "come back."

We agree with those who say the new NRA leisure will not be of any value—and might prove harmful unless we learn to use it wisely. Leisure and liquor do not mix well, for instance. Real living involves a variety of interests but is mainly psychological.

To play a game because you think it will reduce your waistline or improve your health is a horrible way to use a pastime. Play is a frame of mind and you are not playing unless you enjoy it. A man hates golf but plays it because his doctor says he should or his cronies play is miserable and is doing himself and the game no good.

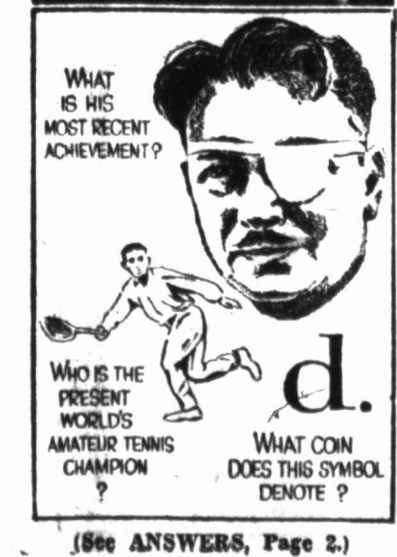

Spare time must not be allowed to produce a flippancy toward one's vocation. A hobby ridden so hard that one thinks and talks it all the time during working hours has ceased to be a hobby—it is an obsession. The right to play involves the obligation of working hard while one works.

Adult education is as necessary today as education for the young. Many men of 30 are as out of step with modern life as the boys and girls of 16 are studying in our schools. This country needs to develop more small industries in the home, individuality, rather than mass production of identical products, can provide a future for much American latent talent.

We Americans are sadly unprepared to use our leisure. We are miserable after a few days in most any vacation unless we are traveling. We are one-tracked, we are bench-warmer, but we are learning to chase fads, which is at least "something."

County Commissioner H. G. McCleskey tells that some of the R. F. C. money ought to be used for feeding starving jackrabbits in his community. The rabbits are becoming almost too skinny to be eaten.

THREE GUESSES

VOTE ORDERED AS PETITIONS ARE OFFERED

NEW POLLS ARE TO BE CREATED IN 3 PRECINCTS

GRAY county today joined the long list of formerly "dry" counties which will hold a local option election August 26, with election notices being posted in various parts of the county.

Action of the commissioners court in calling the election was mandatory after petitions signed by Alex Schneider and 490 other qualified voters had been presented. The number of qualified voters will probably not pass 2200, of which about 250 will be those exempt from payment of poll taxes. This election will make it necessary to have three ballots, one for the 21st amendment (repeal of 18th), one for the four state amendments, and one for the local option vote. Should the state beer vote fail, the local option outcome will be inoperative. A simple majority will control in the local option vote.

Looking forward to next year's primaries and seeking to avoid congestion at the polls, the commissioners voted to create two new voting boxes in precinct 10, one additional in precinct 9, and an oil field box in what is now precinct 2. The boundaries will be worked out for later adoption. Silas Faulkner, county democratic chairman, recommended changes, which will not take effect until next year.

Another order of the court will result in cancellation of $120,000 of Gray county long-term bonds which were printed but not sold. They are deposited at Dallas and are costing $120 per year for safe keeping. Members of the court will go to Dallas and cancel them. The trip is cheaper than paying registered express on the bonds to send them here. The county still has $403,000 in unprinted bonds to complete the paving program.

Judge C. E. Cary soon is to go to Amarillo to meet with county officials who are seeking drought relief aid. Should this be granted as desired, the county would be spared the expense of paving the Pampa-McLean road. Members of the court expect to take immediate action in using other means to pave the road, of the outcome of today's meeting is not encouraging. The county engineer was instructed to make a change in asphalt-type construction and to get ready to furnish specifications to bidder should the court advertise for bids at the next meeting, August 19.

Members of the relief amendment and individually expressed the opinion that its passage is for the best interests of the county.

Winnipeg Pegs Price of Wheat

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 15 (P)—Members of the Winnipeg grain exchange at an emergency session today unanimously decided to establish minimum prices for grain futures and thereby peg the prices of wheat and coarse grains.

With a minimum fixed at last night's closing figures, wheat prices opened sharply higher over a wide range on the grain exchange. Open quotations showed gains of 1-1/8 to 4-1/8 cents over the previous finish. October wheat started the new day at 73 to 73 1/2, December at 75 3/4 to 74 and May at 79 1/2 to 78.

The action of the members was taken because of "abnormal conditions surrounding other markets," it was stated.

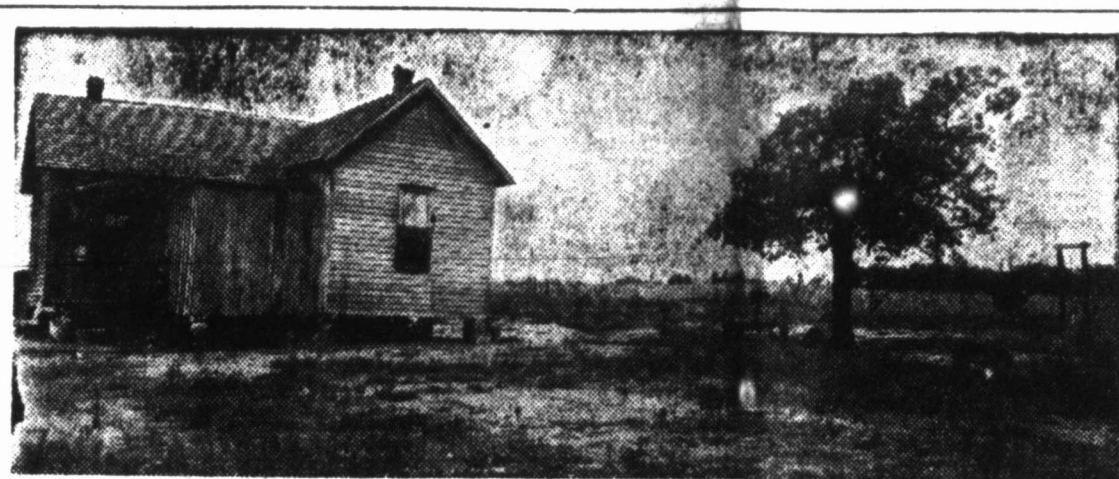

J. T. Thompson, Jr., of Amarillo spent the day in the city.

I SAW—

Edward Cleek at the Carhart Motor company answering the phone. Soon he put the receiver down and looked around. "Is Mr. Cleek here?" he inquired. Then Edward answered the phone again. "Any way, it didn't sound like 'Cleek'" he said in answer to the laughs.

J. M. McDonald reading all the details of the Harvey Bailey story—the arrest took place in Mr. Mc's home county—Wise. Mrs. J. H. Buckingham also came from that county, but neither from the Paradise community.

Scene of Kidnaper-Killer's Capture

NEAR Paradise in Wise county in this small farm hut, U. S. department of justice agents seized Harvey Bailey and his "bedfellow" arsenal as the identified trigger man in the Kansas City massacre. This is also the hut in which Charles Urschel, Oklahoma millionaire, was held captive by Bailey and his gang. Urschel went with the federal agents to the lonely hut and there identified it thoroughly, even to finger-prints.

Capone Ordered Returned On A Racket Charge

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (P)—A writ directing the federal government to produce Al Capone in criminal court here August 29 for trial on charges of racket conspiracy was issued today by Chief Justice John J. Prysalski.

Federal authorities have indicated they would abide by the writ. Capone is serving an 11 year sentence in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for income tax fraud.

F. F. A. Boys May Attend Camp At Post Next Week

Future Farmers of Pampa have been invited to attend an encampment at Post August 23, 24, and 25, according to J. L. Lester, professor of vocational agriculture.

Each school group that attends is expected to furnish its own bedding, food, bathing suits, and equipment for games. A charge of 25 cents will be made for the 3-day camp.

Prof. Lester would like to know at once how many boys desire to go to this camp. Boys are asked to telephone him at 529 to make reservations. Post is 231 miles from Pampa.

Agents' Dealings With Bailey To Be Kept Secret

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 15 (P)—The utmost secrecy will cloak future movements of federal officers in bringing the Charles F. Urschel kidnapping gang to justice, it was indicated here today.

Recalling the attempt to deliver Frank Nash, one-time Spencer gangster, that resulted in the wholesale killing of the prisoners and four officers on the Kansas City union station plaza last June 17, officers here gave no indication of when Harvey Bailey and others held in several cities would be brought to Oklahoma City for trial.

Bailey is accused of having a part in the Kansas City massacre. Several of his pals, notably Wilbur Underhill and Bob Grady, with whom he escaped from the Kansas penitentiary last Memorial day, still are at large. So is George Kelly, wanted for the Urschel kidnapping here.

Gunner Mistakes Girl For Agent

SHEERNESS, KENT, ENG., Aug. 15 (P)—One of the strangest tragedies in British military annals occurred today when a London girl, Jean Chesterton, 17, who was rowing in a boat with her sister off Leyland beach, was shot dead by a machine gunner in a royal air force auxiliary plane. The gunner mistook her boat for a target.

The girls were a quarter of a mile from the shore searching for a child's ball which had floated from the beach.

GOVERNMENT IS POSITIVE BAILEY WAS OPERATOR OF MACHINE GUN IN UNION STATION SLAUGHTER

Urschel Was Kept At Paradise Farm,
Owners Say

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (P)—Department of justice officials today told newspapermen in answer to questions that Harvey Bailey, arrested near Dallas, Texas, on charges of participating in the Urschel kidnapping in Oklahoma City and the Kansas City union station massacre, had been identified by several eye-witnesses as the operator of the machine gun that killed four officers and Frank Nash in union station plaza.

Department officials said that it had not been decided whether Bailey, who escaped from the Kansas state penitentiary at Lansing, would be tried first on the murder charge in Kansas City or in Oklahoma City on the kidnapping charge. The department, which announced some of the marked Urschel kidnapping money had been found in Bailey's possession, declined to announce the amount discovered.

DALLAS, Aug. 15 (P)—Department of justice agents went back to work quietly today on the kidnapping case of Charles F. Urschel of Oklahoma City and sought to determine where Harvey Bailey, captured Saturday near Paradise, Tex., would be taken for trial.

Bailey was guarded carefully in his cell on the sixth floor of the Dallas county jail. F. J. Blake, in charge of the department of justice office here declined the request of Douglas Walsh, chief of the bureau of identification, that Bailey be taken to the city jail for fingerprinting, declaring that too great a risk would be involved.

Jones said no confessions had been obtained in connection with the Oklahoma oil millionaire's abduction but Blake revealed that "admissions" had been obtained from three persons at the farm house that Urschel had been there.

New Public Land Law Is Proposed

DENVER, Aug. 15 (P)—A resolution proposing a new federal law to dispose of public lands was introduced at this morning's session of the conference of cattle and sheep men, called at Secretary Wallace's request.

The resolution proposes that congress pass a law to give each state a choice of having the government cede all public lands, including minerals, to the states, or of putting public lands into the hands of the states in trust for the federal government. In the latter proposal, and revenue derived from sale of public lands would be divided by the state and federal government, it was explained.

Each state would be allowed ten years to decide which proposal it favored.

Permanent Plan Might Be Similar To That Now In Effect For Wheat.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (P)—Another cotton control campaign is in the making and Secretary Wallace indicated today he expected action to be taken on it some time this fall.

SALEM, Mass., Jessie B. Costello today was acquitted of the poison slaying of her husband, Fire Captain William J. Costello of Peabody.

DALLAS, TEX., Aug. 15 (P)—A preliminary hearing for Harvey Bailey, notorious-outlaw, and four others held here in connection with the abduction of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, will be held here at 2 p. m. Wednesday before United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith. It was learned today after warrants for their transfer to Oklahoma on a federal kidnapping charge were received from Oklahoma City.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (P)—Jas. Shaw, manager of the home owners loan corporation in Texas, reported to Washington headquarters of the organization that about 4,000 applications had been filed with the Texas agency.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (P)—Secretary Wallace said today the plan for paying benefits to wheat and cotton farmers without withholding in full sums the farmers now owe the government will be made public at the White House later in the day after the conference of the cabinet advisory board.

Codes For Key Industries Is NRA's New Aim

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (P)—The full pressure of the Roosevelt administration today was being thrown behind an effort to bring four of the nation's key industries—coal, steel, oil, and automobiles—under NRA codes.

Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, and Secretary Frances Perkins went into a conference with the presidents of five large steel companies determined to speed up an agreement that will bring that industry under the scope of the recovery administration's wage raising, hour shortening program at an early date.

CAPONE RUMOR SQUELCHED
CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (P)—Premiere reports that Al Capone was en route here from Atlanta penitentiary under heavy guard to face trial for racket conspiracy caused a furore in Chicago today. Authorities gave credence to the reports for a time, but later were reported to have received official information from Atlanta that Capone still was in his cell.

Forty per cent of rural ministers in South Carolina are not college graduates, a state university student survey shows.

New Cotton Plan in Making anxiety throughout the south for the formulation of the more permanent cotton control plan which was to follow this year's emergency drive.

The cotton farmers, Secretary Wallace said, believe the shaping of additional control plans would have a steadying effect on this year's price.

GOVERNMENT STOPS SALE OF $250,000 TEXAS BOND ISSUE

SURPLUS WILL BE CONSERVED TO HELP SICK

DESPERATE SITUATION COMING IF AMEND- MENT FAILS

RELUCTANTLY, but driven by necessity, Chairman C. H. Walker of the federal relief committee of Gray county today ordered work-relief suspended, effective tomorrow until additional funds are assured.

The action was ordered by Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission, who telegraphed Mr. Walker that the small surpluses on hand in various counties must be conserved to care for the sick next winter. Likewise, the federal allotment for August from the federal government will be held back by Mr. Westbrook for emergency use.

The step means that only those who have illness in their families and who are unable to attempt to find work will be given relief. Such aid will be "direct" as differentiated from work-relief.

If the proposed state bond issue amendment is approved by the people of Texas August 25, the work-relief will be continued. Should the amendment be defeated, a desperate situation will be faced by the 1,270,000 persons on Texas relief rolls.

In Gray county, 1086 men are registered as unemployed. Only a few are not getting work to supplement the relief given by the federal committees. But now, with no work-relief available, they must comb the community for employment. No city and county funds are available for relief work.

The paying program of the county and state cannot get underway for a month or more. Many of those on the relief rolls are physically unable to do heavy highway work.

Pampa's Junior chamber of commerce today endorsed the proposed constitutional amendment to empower the legislature to issue relief bonds up to $20,000,000 in the next two years to match federal funds.

The action followed a discussion of the amendment by Olin E. Hinkle. The chamber enjoyed corned beef and solos by C. W. Beene of Pampa and his son Elton. Beene is a national corn champion and four times winner of the Texas contest. He will attend T. C. U. next term and teach corn, although he is only 16 years old. A committee composed of John Osborne, Dave Finkelstein, and Chas. Duengel will make arrangements for the band concert.

A Santa Day committee composed of H. L. Polley, chairman, E. M. Conley, and Frank Carter was named by President W. T. Fraser. Mr. Fraser asked J. M. Collins, R. M. Johnson, and J. H. Goodwin to prepare programs for the next two weeks. Jack Vance will help manage a membership drive.

C. O. Cooper and his daughter, Miss Mary Lee, were here from Canyon today.

SMALL PROCESS TAX ON SWINE IS CONSIDERED

Levy Would Not Be In Effect Until October

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (P)—Secretary Wallace said today that a nominal processing tax may be levied on hogs in or after October to provide funds for financing the emergency hog reduction program now being worked out by his aides.

Under no consideration, he said, will a processing tax on swine be levied before the beginning of the hog marketing year which he added is generally recognized as being October 1.

A tax of about one-half cent per pound of live hog would provide sufficient funds for the emergency program, he said, reckoning the maximum gross cost of the program at about $30,000,000. However, he added, this may not be the rate of the initial levy. He said it had been left for later determination.

Several details remained to be worked out before the program presented by organized corn and hog farmers can be put into effect, Wallace said.

This program contemplates the payment of a bonus of about $4 to farmers for marketing a million hogs soon to farrow and 4,000,000 pigs under 100 pounds by October 1.

The program as it now stands involves having the government enter into contracts with packers to process the pigs, he said. Negotiations with the treasury for financing the program remain to be completed. Another element in the program, which prevents its immediate announcement, he said, is completing arrangements with Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, distributing some of the meat products through charitable and relief organizations.

Protests against rerouting highway 1 through Odessa and to the proposed location of highway 191 from Albany to Baird were presented but the commission took no action.

The commission has asked the attorney general whether it could act to purchase a ferry plying between Galveston and Point Bolivar.

DRASTIC BOND LAW USED FOR INITIAL TIME

APPROVAL OF ISSUE IS WITHHELD BY TRADE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (P)—Using its drastic prohibitive powers under the securities act for the first time, the federal trade commission today issued a stop order against the sale of $250,000 issue by the speculative investment trust of Fort Worth, Texas.

The effect of the order is to withhold approval of registration of the issue, pending the furnishing of all information concerning it was required by law.

In recommending the stop order yesterday, Richard P. Whiteley, commission counsel, said the company failed to submit with its registration application its advertising prospectus, balance sheet, and profit and loss statements for the last three years. He also said it had made errors in items it did furnish.

Heavy fines and imprisonment are provided if an applicant violates a stop order.

Cuban Officials Are Recognized; Machadistas Die

HAVANA, Aug. 15 (P)—United States Ambassador Sumner Welles has informed the diplomatic corps that the Washington government is disposed to recognize the new Cuban administration headed by Provisional President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

The American attitude was conveyed to the diplomats yesterday at a meeting in the Spanish embassy. Luciano Lopez Ferrer, the Spanish ambassador, is the dean of the corps.

Havana streets bustled with activity today as all industries were resumed. The general strike called by the Washington government is disposed to recognize the new Cuban administration headed by Provisional President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

Two additional violent deaths were reported. Augustin Ledon, a Machado supporter, was found shot to death near the ousted president's estate out of Havana. Manuel Rosales, a Machado vigilante, committed suicide.

The ward liner Morro Castle which arrived today, was met at the docks by crowds of Cubans who shouted "down with Machado!" and "Machado is gone!" The passengers said that similar cries went up from the crew of a Cuban gunboat near which the liner passed on entering the harbor.

Treasurer Faces Impeachment And Trial on Charge

TOPEKA, Aug. 15 (P)—Governor Alf M. Landon said today evidence in the million dollar Kansas bond forgery scandal "seemed to warrant further impeachment proceedings" in addition to those he has announced would be prepared against Tom Boyd, state treasurer.

At a conference today with members of the legislative council, the governor recommended that a special sub-committee of house members alone be named by the council to study the investigation to take whatever action was warranted.

Boyd's resignation has been demanded by the governor and the treasurer faces prosecution on a charge that he unlawfully converted $150,000 of state funds to his own use and that of Ronald Finney, Topeka bond broker and market speculator alleged to have engineered the bond irregularities.

Boyd surrendered today and was released on $25,000 bond for preliminary hearing September 8 on the embezzlement charge. Caldwell, an employee of Finney, previously had been arrested charged with uttering forged securities. Finney is free on $25,000 bond and Caldwell on $15,000.

A. R. Davenport was able to leave Pampa hospital yesterday afternoon.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy to cloudy tonight and Wednesday.

KIDNAP SUSPECT SHOT

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—A suspected kidnaper was reported shot and wounded today as 40 squads of police surrounded a wide area in the western suburbs of Chicago. A policeman who delivered a bogus ransom package to a bungalow where the kidnappers were in hiding was reported to have wounded the suspect. The wounded man and a companion fled to a nearby woods but were surrounded by the pursuing squads.

"I believe there ought to be more state colleges instead of fewer," he said, adding that it was more beneficial for a student to go to an environment in which he could easily adapt himself than to require him to travel several hundred miles. This view was challenged by F. L. Henderson of Bryan.

FIVE NAMED TO SEEK GOVERNMENTAL RELIEF FOR CATTLEMEN

DICTATOR FOR INDUSTRY NOT PUT TO VOTE

GOVERNMENT MAY BE ASKED TO BUY LOW GRADE BEEF

DENVER, Aug. 15 (P)—A "dictator" for the cattle raising industry was proposed at meeting of beef producers gathered from western states to seek ways to adjust the market and boost prices.

But the proposal was not acted upon and the Western Livestock conference named a committee of five to confer with governmental agencies on possible relief measures.

It also was proposed last night that the government purchase low grade beef to feed the unemployed and this suggestion will be presented at the government conference.

Sheepmen determined to go it alone, declining to become a party to the cattle raisers' program.

B. O. Wilson, manager of the National Livestock Marketing association, told the beef producers they had lost their market through failure to follow up their sales with appeals to the consumer.

Russia was contemplated as a market, control of production was proposed to eliminate a surplus, but the cattlemen were warned that increased incomes of consumers thru the NRA perhaps would result in absorbing the present beef supply and no surplus would be found.

Earlier marketing of cattle because of drought conditions in the southwest was predicted by speakers and the stockmen made an appeal for freight rates which would permit them to transfer their cattle to areas of available feed, and that traffic charges be reduced on feed shipments, including cottonseed cake.

Maintenance of tariff against competitive beef supplies was urged. The stockmen recommended that federal agencies giving credit to cattle feeders in the corn belt arrange to pay shippers from the range at the point of origin.

Members of the cattlemen's committee who will conduct negotiations in Washington are Charles E. Collins of Kilt Carson, Colo., chairman; J. Elmer Brock of Kaysee, Wyo.; C. C. Abbott of Alliance, Neb.; Hubbard Russell, Los Angeles, and Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde, Texas.

Airplane Gives Clue Leading To Bailey Capture

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 15. (P)—The regular passing of an airplane over a lonely Wise county farm house where Charles Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma oil man, was held captive, resulted in the capture of Harvey Bailey, Kansas desperado, it was revealed today.

When Urschel was released by kidnapers, after the payment of $20,000 ransom, he told department of justice agents that each morning at 9:15 o'clock and each afternoon at 5:45 o'clock he heard an airplane passing overhead.

On one Sunday morning, he said the airplane did not pass. He made a note of that and the day.

Air line schedules were checked. Although officers first believed the rendezvous was somewhere in Oklahoma, they discovered by checking the time table that it must have been on the route of American airways planes flying between Amarillo and Fort Worth, and that it must be near this city.

They checked department of commerce weather data. They checked daily reports of the pilots and of the ground radio operators. And they discovered that on the day Urschel had not heard the plane, the pilot had been forced to swerve slightly from his course because of bad weather conditions.

With that development, it was comparatively simple to circle an area in which the house must have been located.

CHARLIE'S BIG DAY
NEW YORK.—Charlie, a German shepherd puppy, stubbed his toe and caused more bother than any other dog ever on upper Broadway.

The stubbing of the toe precipitated Charlie into a deep crevice of a rock pile in a vacant lot. For five hours, while a crowd looked on, a police emergency squad labored to get Charlie out.

Four tons of rock were moved, then police drilled a hole down to Charlie. A boy was lowered head first through this hole, and finally came out with a wriggling bunch of joy in his arms. It was Charlie.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: Colin Hewitt, call himself Donald Howard, is about to land at Cap a l'Orage, on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. He has asked about Joe Lazare, to whom he must deliver a mysterious letter, and Germaine Tremblay, another passenger on the little steamboat, does not know him. But she tells Colin of a club not far away, where Lazare might live. Colin is in peril from the Mask, New York gangster, and the situation is further complicated because Lazare is in the employ of the Mask.

Chapter 13 CAP A L'ORAGE

"The club is about eight or nine miles by water farther on down the coast," Germaine went on, "at Riviere des Cascades, a salmon river. A millionaire from New York named Kenniston, bought it some years ago and built what he calls his fishing club there."

Something unpleasant flashed through Colin's mind.

"Kenniston?" he asked, "Waldrow Kenniston?"

"Yes," Germaine replied, "you know him then?"

"No," he answered. "I've heard the name, that's all. But you know him, of course."

She shook her head.

"I've never seen him," she said.

"They don't depend on the canned goods on Madame Fenier's shelves and they never come to Cap a l'Orage. They have several big power boats that ferry them back and forth between the club and the Gaspe coast where they can get fresh supplies direct by rail—even from New York."

"I think Father was called down there once professionally. Any way, I'll ask him if he knows whether there is anyone by the name of Lazare there. And anyway, whether he does or not, though there is no road overland, there would be nothing to prevent you from going down there by motorboat to inquire for yourself."

"In that jolly little one of yours, then, perhaps—with you?"

"Oh," she mocked demurely; and then brightly, "Why of course! Why not—some afternoon? But I must fly now! We're almost in at the wharf. Those finishing touches, you know."

He watched her as she sped along the deck and disappeared through the saloon entrance. Then his brows knotted. So Waldrow Kenniston owned a salmon river and had built a place down there!

It was quite true, as he had just told Germaine Tremblay, that he did not know Kenniston personally, but he knew, or least had heard, quite a lot about the other—not to Kenniston's credit. In the clubs mostly.

He searched back in his mind now mustering all he knew about Kenniston. Kenniston was still a young man. He was a plunger. Six or seven years ago he had inherited a fortune from his father. In short order he was on the verge of ruin.

Then three or four years ago he had blossomed out into full flower again, with apparently more money at his command than ever.

Colin laughed shortly to himself. Suppose it should turn out that Lazare was a frequenter of Kenniston's club?

The Bonaventure's whistle boomed out raucously. Colin went down to his cabin to look after his gear.

Cap a l'Orage has not belied its name. For three days following the afternoon of Colin's arrival the weather had been unsettled and a bit stormy, keeping him indoors except when, taking advantage of a few short-lived bursts of sunshine, Germaine Tremblay and he had gone for walks together. He had spent a great deal of time at Dr.

Tremblay's house, otherwise the days would have been ones of utterable ennui. As it was... He struck a match, cupped his hands against the wind, and lighted a cigarette—his eyes on the girl in the stern of the motorboat beside him, who at the moment was bending over the engine with an oil can in her hand. He wished he could write her into a book and really picture her as she was; but his pen always stumbled over a girl—and so did his tongue.

He always addressed her sedately as Miss Tremblay, but he always thought of her as Germaine. He wondered if she, who always called him Mr. Howard, would like the name.

His eyes roved over the little craft—an open launch, save for its decked prow, under which one could even manage to crawl in uncomfortably oneself if one were concerned with a dry skin and not with the handling of the boat.

She was still absorbed in the engine. His thoughts harked back over the last three days. Dr. Tremblay was quite on his feet again—so much so that he and his sister were planning a little recuperative trip over to Gaspe and then by motor around the peninsula, when the Belle Fleur, that made some of the south shore ports, came in tomorrow.

Colin liked Dr. Tremblay. Mentally he pictured the other now; a man of perhaps sixty with iron-gray hair, slim, unostentatiously particular about his dress and appearance—and always an air of courtliness about him that made one think of the manners of old France.

And Madame de Courval, the doctor's widowed sister—much like the doctor in her cordial and gracious manners and much like Germaine in her high spirits. An unforgettable household—that included Antoinette, who had once been Germaine's nurse and was now cook, and Antoinette's husband, Jacques, who was the man of all work about the house and who had been trained to serve at table.

A quaint, picturesque place, Cap a l'Orage—but still strange to him. No roads led out of Cap a l'Orage, either to the east or the west of the north—and its southernmost point was its own wharf. The village began and ended with its own three or four streets, except, of course, for a trail here and there that led into the woods for a short distance.

A little village that was all a world unto itself—except on the none too frequent steamer days. It was that way all along the coast. And the people! There was a charm about their frugal and simple lives. Their unaffected friendliness, that was irresistible. There was Madame Fenier, for instance. True, the accommodations left something to be desired, but as for Madame Fenier herself, nothing was too much trouble for her.

His thoughts veered suddenly again, and a whimsical smile twisted his lips.

Tomorrow, Colin and Germaine are lost in a fog.

Chapter 14 THE FOG

Even from upstairs in his room at the Hotel du Canada, owing to numerous stovepipe holes and the thin sheathing between the rooms, Colin could hear everything that was going on in all parts of Madame Fenier's establishment.

He could hear them talking down in the general store, which also braced the post office. Swapping gossip, asking for peas, or flour, or whatever the need of the moment might be—but he had never heard anyone asking for a letter for Joe Lazare. Discreet inquiries had convinced him after three days that no one in Cap a l'Orage either knew or had heard of Joe Lazare.

The club therefore was the only remaining hope in this neighborhood. Dr. Tremblay had stated that on the occasion when he had visited the club, he had seen only his patient, a man named Gregg, and Mr. Kenniston. He had not heard the name of Lazare mentioned; but that really meant nothing. It had been several weeks ago, just before Dr. Tremblay had taken ill.

Colin drew deeply on his cigarette. Failing the club, what was he to do? Wander from place to place along the coast? That had been his original plan, but somehow now he did not want to wander—from Cap a l'Orage. But Lazare must be found.

It was not merely a matter of delivering the letter in the inside pocket of his coat. It was what the possibilities of direct contact with Lazare might mean. Colin, did not like this assumed-name business—he liked it less day by day, and hour by hour. The urge grew to be Colin Hewitt again, to resume his normal life. And the Mask stood between! Lazare might well prove the "open same."

He looked up. She was laughing at him. "What a brown study!" she exclaimed. "And, really, we're not going across the Gulf to Gaspe, you know. You are steering very badly, sir!"

"So I am," he admitted as he set the boat on its course again. "I'm sorry."

"I'm not going to offer you the proverbial penny," she said. "I'm going to give you something else to think about. Look over there!"

Out beyond the end of the point that we're heading for."

A thin, white mist was creeping in from seaward, but there did not seem to be anything at all ominous about it. He glanced overhead. It was cloudy, of course. But it had been the first opportunity of making the trip to the club, and Germaine had certainly had no misgivings about the weather for this was, in fact, who had proposed that they should go this afternoon.

"You don't think it amounts to anything, do you?" he asked.

She shook her head cheerfully. "It's awfully hard to tell," she answered. "You know what I told you about fogs coming up around here with scarcely any warning at all. And a fog, one of our really, truly fogs, I mean, isn't nice."

Colin thought he had detected a hint of uneasiness in her voice. It disturbed him. He did not need to be told that. It would be an unpleasantly unpleasant experience for her to be lost out here in a fog. It would be far better to leave the question of Lazare and the club until tomorrow or even the next day.

"So a really, truly fog isn't nice, eh?" he grinned. "Well, then, let's forget the club. I suggest that we turn back."

"Suggestion overruled!" She was very prim, regarding him sternly—laughter twitching at her lips.

"But I only meant in case you thought we were in for it," he explained.

"I know," she nodded her head. "And that's just exactly the point. If we're in for a real fog, the very last thing to do is to turn back now, for the simple reason that we wouldn't get back. We'd be blanketed in no time with all sense of directions lost, and as likely to be heading out into the Gulf or into the transatlantic steamer tracks as anywhere else. Do you know what the Bonaventure does in case of fog?"

"No," Colin admitted. "I'm afraid I don't."

"I'll tell you, then. She anchors and waits. The Gulf produces hte genuine article in fogs, and we yield to no one, not even London, in that respect."

"Quite, I see!" he agreed. "But not being able to drop anchor in deep water, and not being the Bonaventure, what do we do under such conditions? Wend our way homeward by skirting the shore, and—"

"And almost certainly wrecking our boat!" She interjected. "For the coastline to be of any use as a guide, don't you see how close in we would have to keep? And there are tides here, and half-covered rocks, and shoals."

"Well, then," he challenged a little helplessly.

"Well," she smiled at him, "we go ashore before it is too late—and, like the Bonaventure and Captain Rainville, wait."

Colin touched his cap.

"Alright, skipper!" he said humbly. "What's the course?"

"No change," she said. "Straight for the point. We're nearer there than anywhere else now anyhow. It will take us about fifteen minutes. And by that time we'll know. There thin mists often disappear almost as quickly as they come, and if that proves to be the case in this instance, we'll continue on around the point and make for the club just as we intended to do. If it gets bad, we'll land."

"Right!" Colin responded.

It wasn't getting any better out there to seaward. His eyes swept the coastline in turn. They were a longish way out. His lips tightened a little. He did not like the way she was speeding up the engine.

Five minutes passed. A fleecy patch of mist drifted across the bow of the boat. It was growing thick out over the Gulf—gray-white, eerie-looking. The point, though they had been approaching it rapidly, was less distinct.

"I fancy we're in for it," Colin observed seriously.

"Yes," she said, "and for one of those real ones I was speaking of. I'm afraid. We'll have to land."

The boat sped on. The shore line began to lose its character—to seaward, nothing but that gray-white wall. It grew thicker still—a pall settling down remorselessly everywhere around them. The point itself, their objective, while still visible, was, close though they were to it now, only a hazy outline.

Germaine throttled down the engine to half speed.

"You called me skipper a little while ago, I believe?" she questioned.

NEW CUBAN PRESIDENT SEEKS SOLUTION TO MANY PROBLEMS

PORRISTAS ARE BEING KILLED AND CAPTURED

AT LEAST 18 SLAIN IN LAST 3 DAYS; 12 ARE IN PRISON

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT
HAVANA, Aug. 15. (AP)—A new Cuban government set out today to find solutions for problems inherited from the upheaval that brought the overthrow of the Machado regime.

In the harbor, as a steady influence, the American destroyer Taylor rode at anchor. The U. S. navy cruiser Richmond was en route through the Panama canal to the Atlantic side to await orders. The destroyer Hamilton was expected to arrive at Manzanillo today, but confidence in the return to normalcy was seen in the recall of the destroyer Claxton.

Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the provisional president, gathered about him a young and inexperienced cabinet to cope with the political and economic troubles growing out of a widespread strike, now ending, and disorders attending last Saturday's revolution.

They and the whole republic were asked by Dr. de Cespedes in his inaugural address to co-operate in recovery.

Soldiers and squads of A B C opposition members continued to seek out and imprison for trial, men of former President Gerardo Machado's strong arm squad, the Porristas, who are charged with slaying political opponents in an effort to maintain the Machado dictatorship by force.

The popular temper against remains of the deposed government, however, cooled considerably.

At least 18 members of the Porra have been slain in the last three days. A score have been wounded. Military authorities estimated that at least 12 were in the hands of the new government.

Reports reaching Havana said a number of Porristas had barricaded themselves in General Machado town near here under the protection of soldiers, who guarded nearly by highways to prevent the sacking which has been visited on residences of every prominent Machado follower.

Leaders of the Machado regime were in hiding, had fled, or were preparing for flight. Out of Cuba are Machado, who is in the Bahamas; his family, who are in Florida; former Secretary of State Orestes Ferrera, in Virginia; former Secretary of War Herrera, en route to Jamaica, and Octavio Averhoff, former secretary of the treasury, and Eugenio Molinet, Machado's secretary of labor and agriculture, who also are in the Bahamas.

The gunboat Cuba arrived here last night and it was expected that United States Ambassador Sumner Welles and army officers would escort what followers there are remaining to the vessel.

SCHOONER RESCUED
BOSTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—The coast guard destroyer Wainwright today took the Gloucester schooner Shirley M. Clattenburg in tow for Boston after the latter had been damaged in a collision with the Norwegian freighter Horda. At 8 a. m. the Wainwright advised coast guard headquarters here she was 150 miles east of Boston and should arrive about 10 o'clock tonight.

William Hall of Noelette visited here yesterday afternoon.

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!
Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria is a blood infection, calls for two things. First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

Chills and fever stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For a half century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been a relief for malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any store. (Adv.)

Wife Charged In 'Torch Slaying' Of Her Husband

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 15. (AP)—A penny box of matches, a porcelain wash basin, and a quart of gasoline supposedly used to burn Earl Hanson to death brought his divorced wife, May, 38, to a jail cell today, although she declared her innocence of any crime.

Authorities said someone apparently had thrown the gasoline from the basin on Hanson as he sat in his automobile, ignited the fuel with a single match from the box, and then fled as the flames leaped up over the victim's body.

Hanson's body and his automobile burst into flames a few moments after he had returned his daughter, June, to her mother's home six miles north of here.

Mrs. Hanson agreed with authorities that her husband probably had been murdered, and said she believed someone holding a grudge against her was the killer.

"Oh, what a terrible way to die!" she said upon viewing the body in a mortuary. "How could anyone do it? I'd ten times rather it was me."

Mrs. Hanson said she purchased the matches last Thursday, that she bought the gasoline Sunday three hours before her husband's death for use in starting an automobile, and that the basin was one she used to wash chickens.

She said the basin and gasoline disappeared from a shed where the automobile, unused for weeks, had been stored, and the matches from her kitchen. The match box and basin were found near Hanson's body.

Mrs. Hanson's hair and eyebrows were badly singed. She told State Attorney Robert Nash that she "got too close to the fire" in looking into the automobile to see if her daughter's body was there.

Senators Hear Racket Methods

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—A graphic description of cringing, terrified racket witnesses was presented to the senate sub-committee on racketeering today by Augustine J. Smith, who was foreman of the March grand jury, told Senator Royal S. Copeland, chairman of the committee, that grand juries should not be limited to cases presented by the courts. He was the first speaker of the committee's second day of open hearing in the bar association auditorium.

Describing a fur racket case that came before the March grand jury, Smith said:

"I wish you could have seen the witnesses, how they stood before us, terrified, the perspiration standing out upon them, afraid to speak out."

Racketeers, he said, keep their spies around the grand jury room. They know who testified and they swiftly punish.

Smith also demanded better extradition laws.

Wounded Negro Found; New Mob Violence Feared

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 15. (AP)—National guardsmen were mobilized today to protect a wounded negro who escaped a lynching party which killed two others indicted with him in the slaying of a white girl.

The negro, Elmore Clark, was found yesterday in a shed at the home of a negro in Vance. Sheriff R. L. Shamblin, who had been leading a search since the lynching Sunday, said Clark was frightened and suffering from three wounds in his thighs. He told the officers he was glad they had come, but other than to state members of the mob were masked he could give no details.

Clark with Dan Phippen, Jr., 18, and A. T. Hudson, was indicted in the slaying of Miss Vaudie Maddox, 21, in Tuscaloosa county. Phippen and his parents repudiated attorneys retained by the international labor defense when his trial was called on August 2, and the case was postponed indefinitely.

Threatened violence against the negroes in jail here led Sheriff Shamblin to attempt to remove them to Birmingham for safe keeping. Early Sunday two carloads of masked men hemmed in the car in which the negroes were handcuffed together and forced the officers to surrender them.

Several hours later the bodies of Phippen and Hudson, riddled with bullets were found about a mile from Woodstock in the woods. How Clark escaped and made his way to Vance, officers did not learn.

"Absolutely," he affirmed.

"Very well, then," she commanded, "up forward with you! Its just about low tide, so keep your eyes open for a sandy spot to beach the boat. Let me know when you have way enough on the make the shore."

"Aye, aye, sir," he said heartily, and making his way forward, took up his allotted station in the bow.

It was incredible, the opaqueness of this cursed fog and the suddenness with which it had descended upon them! He strained his eyes ahead. The boat's length did seem to be about the limit of visibility; but that looked like a sandy stretch over there a little to the left. He steered for it.

"All right," he called out. "Shut her off! Way enough!"

STATE MIGHT BUY A FERRY

Highway Commission Would Spend $234,000 For Galveston-Bolivar Ferry.

AUSTIN, Aug. 15. (AP)—The Texas highway commission today was waiting on the attorney general's department for an opinion whether it could purchase a ferry, plying between Galveston and Point Bolivar.

Should the commission have authority to make the purchase it planned to start negotiations with owners of the ferry, but in event it is powerless to act at this time, legislative sanction will be asked.

W. R. Ely, member of the commission, said at a hearing yesterday that it was desirable the state own the ferry, provided it could be obtained at a fair price. State engineers would make an appraisal to determine the true worth of the property.

John S. Harris of Cleveland, O., representing the ferry owners, said he would submit $234,000 as the proposed sale price, to the security holders but he would not recommend that it be sold at that figure. He said the company has invested $336,000, exclusive of franchise.

The commission ordered negotiations opened with Oklahoma looking to construction of a free bridge across Red river between Byers, Texas, and Waurika, Okla. The project would be constructed jointly by the two states.

Hearings of county delegations was continued today and likely will continue through tomorrow.

Bids will be received by the commission tomorrow on the first of the projects to be constructed from federal emergency unemployment relief funds. Another letting of emergency contracts probably will be made August 28, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer said.

Gilchrist said the commission had submitted its program of works under the federal government. Contracts will be awarded as the projects and the plans have been approved by the federal bureau of public roads.

The program included highway construction for practically every county in the state, Gilchrist said. Early approval is anticipated.

Oklahoma Voting Today on Three Taxing Measures

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 15. (AP)—Oklahoma stamped "yes" or "no" today on a ballot listing three important tax measures—two of them backed by Gov. William H. Murray and assailed by his foes.

The governor has taken his tax ideas to the people several times previously since he was elected 3 years ago, but each time they were turned down.

This time he stumped the state in favor of retaining a 3-cent cigarette tax and a measure giving the state tax commission control of tax assessments on property in excess of $30,000. The former was opposed by 58,455 to 664,805 barrels a day, with Oklahoma City output climbing nearly 100,000 barrels to 324,770 barrels today.

Texas production fell from 1,234,607 to 1,201,964 barrels a day. In East Texas a decrease from 624,495 to 584,660 barrels was registered.

California jumped above the half million mark with 16,000-barrel increase to 508,000 barrels daily.

Other areas: Kansas, down 45 barrels to 130,100 a day; Rocky Mountain, down 470 barrels to 75,300 a day; Eastern up 6,000 at 119,000 barrels.

Thousand Chinese Peasants Drowned

KAIFENG, Honan Province, China, Aug. 15. (AP)—One thousand peasants were reported drowned in a few minutes today when dikes of the Yellow River broke and flood waters covered a large area.

The stream continued to rage. Likes north of Kaifeng, a city of 175,000 in northeastern China, were holding against the swirling waters, but this community was nearly isolated by floods west and east of here.

Inhabitants worked frantically to reinforce the city walls with sandbags should the dikes fail as they have in many other places.

The danger that the river will return to its old channel at Lanfeng was believed slightly lessened as the waters were said to be remaining principally in the present bed and flowing southward in lesser streams.

K. K. Knowler of Enid, Okla., is visiting friends here for a few days. Jim Shipley, a Burger spent the night in the city.

ICKES' 'HOT OIL' ORDER IS NOW FACING FIRST COURT CHALLENGE

TEXANS SEEK WRIT TO STAY ENFORCEMENT

ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL IS ARGUMENT OF ATTORNEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—The government today sought to uphold the constitutionality of the recent "hot oil" orders of Secretary Ickes, issued under the national industrial recovery act and faced with its first court challenge.

Charles Fahy, acting solicitor of the interior department, contended in district of Columbia supreme court that the secretary was performing the functions of the president of the United States under the act, and could not be enjoined under those conditions.

The defense brief was presented in answer to a suit of Texas refiners for an injunction against enforcement of the orders which prohibit interstate shipment of oil produced in violation of state laws.

P. W. Fischer, attorney of Tyler, Texas, in appealing for an injunction, held that the section of the act under which the orders were drawn was unconstitutional and that the Texas prohibition orders limiting production were invalid under state laws.

Fischer further contended that by virtue of the order his refinery clients were deprived of their business and held that the order was based on a law attempting to delegate legislative power to the president. Fahy asserted in his answering brief that the court was without jurisdiction in the case because Secretary Ickes "is acting directly in the place and stead of the president of the United States and in no other capacity, and one so acting under statutory powers conferred upon the president by the congress of the United States may not be enjoined or restrained."

The interior departments' answer denied that the prohibitory orders were "depriving and threatening to continue to deprive the plaintiffs of the use of their alleged respective properties without due process of law," and denied that enforcement of the order is damaging the protesting companies.

In answer to Fischer's contention that the order of the Texas railroad commission limiting production was invalid, the interior department said that was not the sole cause for the order which was described as a federal matter.

As an additional point the interior department set forth the government's power over interstate commerce.

SOCIETY WOMAN ON NRA BOARD LIKES TO 'BOSS'

Her Job: To Educate America To Buy Eagle Goods

BY MELVIN E. COLEMAN, Associated Press Staff Writer.

THE job of educating America to buy only at the sign of the blue eagle has been entrusted by the national recovery administration to Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, heiress of the late E. H. Harriman, and noted as a social welfare leader.

Mrs. Rumsey has her hands full. In addition to her duties at Washington she manages two farms in Virginia and an estate on Long Island and looks after three children.

The burden proved a bit heavy recently when Prof. William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago, a member of her board, disagreed with some of her plans and she moved to uphold her position as "boss." Doctors ordered her to take a few days' rest.

But multiple responsibilities have been her lot for several years. While she was still in her teens her father began to take her into his confidence and she helped the railroad king manage part of his properties.

For a time after her marriage to the Charles C. Rumsey, sculptor, she figured in New York society, hunting sets. Then she was attracted by social welfare work and founded the Junior League, a charitable organization of young society women which has spread to many cities.

She is an intimate friend of Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and of Frances Perkins, secretary of labor. Mrs. Rumsey summarized her NRA task thusly:

"We must bring the wage earner and the consumer to realize that in the last analysis he is one and the same person. The consumer is the base of an eternal triangle. Capital and labor are its sides."

Metal touching metal in motion destroys both, unless protected by lubrication. Quality of lubricants varies widely—oil must wear well to protect expensive bearings and cylinder walls. Great oiliness and penetrativeness are required.

Only Conoco Germ Processed (Paraffin Base) Motor Oil has these qualities to give complete protection. Five minutes or more are required to circulate oil to all moving parts after your car has been standing all night. During these few minutes 50% of all motor wear occurs.

MRS. BATTON AND MRS. CLARK WILL MEET IN FINALS OF TENNIS TOURNEY

HELEN'S BACK INJURY SEEMS TO BE BETTER

NATIONAL NET TITLE TOURNAMENT WILL BEGIN TODAY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 15. (AP)—An unexpected day of ease, bridge and shopping, coming just when rest was least needed, found the field eager and fresh today for the start of the annual Women's National Tennis championships.

Rain that left the courts slick and slippery forced officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association to postpone the opening ceremony yesterday and left the stars of the women's tennis, world, Helen Jacobs, defending champion; Helen Wills Moody, seven times titleholder; and the remainder of the ranking players of America and Great Britain, to the open courts.

Mrs. Moody, favorite to win the singles title and equal the record set by Mrs. Molla Mallory, spent the day shopping, apparently completely recovered from the back injury that forced her out of the recent Wimbledon cup play with Great Britain.

Mrs. Jacobs, who won her first appearance in "shorts."

"Do you think I'll look all right?" she asked. "Gee, I hope so. I talked to mother by phone out on the coast a while ago and she said it was all right. Don't you think they are nice? Do you see why anybody should object?"

Indications that Mrs. Moody was again in perfect physical condition were seen in her entry with Elizabeth Ryan, former Californian who has been living in England, in the doubles competition, where they are top seeded. It was expected she would forego the doubles play if she feared her back would not stand the strain. Miss Jacobs and Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, are seeded second.

Final matches probably will go over from Saturday to Sunday or Monday because of the postponement, although officials will attempt to speed up play in the field of 64. The final cannot be played Sunday if Dorothy Round, British star, reaches that round. Daughter of a minister, Miss Round, who heads the British Wightman cup team that includes Mary Healey, Peggy Scriven, Freda Games, Betty Nuthall, Mrs. L. C. R. Michell and herself, refuses to play on the Sabbath.

Prominent matches in the first round were:

Mrs. Nuthall vs. Jane Sharp, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Moody vs. Dr. Esther Bar-

BUFFS WIN IN NINTH FRAME

Houston Noses Out Indians; Missions Capture Third Place From Dallas.

By BILL PARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Carey Selph's scrapping Houston Buffaloes refuse to be captured by Pilot Billy Webb's dashing Galveston Buccaneers. Monday night saw the Buffaloes retain their slender three-point advantage over the Buccaneers with a 4 to 3 decision over Oklahoma City.

Mike Cavenos, southpaw curve ball artist, retained top position for the Buffaloes when he dropped the Indians with four hits. It required a two run rampage in the last of the ninth for Houston to emerge victorious. Cavenos' mates clouted Benton and Nicholas for eleven hits.

The Indians made it an uphill fight for Houston by scoring three runs in the first frame.

The Buccaneers continued to make the league race uncomfortable for the Buffaloes by scoring three runs in the first and one in the third were too much for the Steers to overcome.

It was a disastrous blow to the Steers and dropped them from third to fourth place when San Antonio jumped to third place with an 8 to 4 win over Fort Worth. Walkup, San Antonio's young mound find who is unbeatable when he is right and easy to defeat when wrong, was right against the Cats. He allowed nine hits but was tough to solve in the pinches. The Missions stormed across for three runs in the third and four more in the sixth to settle all doubts about the eventual outcome.

Beaumont and Tulsa played a doubleheader Sunday and remained idle Monday.

Young Golfers Play On Amarillo Course

Four of Pampa's young golfers played the River Drive course in Amarillo yesterday afternoon, getting ready for the Panhandle Open Golf Tournament to be held in Amarillo Sept. 4 and 5. The local boys who plan to enter are Bus Kaufman, Grover Austin, Max Brown, and Elmer Irving.

Austin and Brown played Kaufman and Irving in a low ball match which was won by Austin and Brown, 2 up. Austin shot low score with a 72 while Kaufman was one stroke up with a 73. Brown made the course in 76 and Irving in 77 strokes.

Kaufman's driving was sensational throughout the match with Austin's putting equally outstanding. Irving made his long iron shots count while Brown's short approaches were mostly dead to the pin.

SKELLY LOSES TO ALL STARS IN 10-9 GAME

PAMPANS SCORE THREE RUNS IN NINTH TO WIN BATTLE

A three-run rally in the last half of the ninth inning gave the Pampa All Stars a 10 to 9 victory over the Skellytown Oilers at Magnolia park Sunday afternoon before a large crowd. Carroll was in the box when the All Stars made their successful bid. He had relieved Huse in the seventh.

Skellytown out hit the All Stars, 13 to 12, but the Pampa aggregation made their hits count. Pitcher Meeks and Bergeron, with three hits each, led the Pampa attack while Jimmie Coburn assisted with two hits. Coburn, Meeks, Bergeron, and Maples hit doubles for the All Stars.

J. Horner, Bryant, C. Horner, and Willis got two hits each off Meeks' delivery. One of C. Horner's hits went for three bases while J. Horner, Williams, Bryant, Sorenson, and Huse all hit doubles.

Skellytown opened with a run in the first and another in the second with two in the third before the All Stars countered with two in the third. Skellytown added another in the fifth but the All Stars came back with three in the fifth and added one in each of the next two innings.

Trailing two runs in the ninth, Hendon of the All Stars filed out. Caddy walked and Romine hit a single. Carroll hit Maples to fill the bases but Lassiter forced Maples, according to Coburn walked to again fill the bases and Clemmons and Lassiter scored when Frank and Meeks were both safe on Sorenson's errors of their hot grounders.

Vodie Clemmons relieved Meeks for the All Stars in the seventh and Skellytown scored four runs off his pitching. He allowed seven of the 13 hits made by the Oilers. However, the youngster pitched some nice ball, striking out five men in the three innings he pitched. Meeks had the same number of strikeouts. Eight of the All Stars went out swinging.

HELD FOR MURDER

MCAMEY, Aug. 15. (AP)—Three men were held for action of the grand jury today after waiving examination trial on murder charges for the shooting of G. E. Berry, McBrown, 2 up. Austin shot low score with a 72 while Kaufman was one stroke up with a 73. Brown made the course in 76 and Irving in 77 strokes.

R. H. Delaney, Wichita Falls oilman, is in the city for a few days.

Montana creameries produced more than 14,000,000 pounds of butter in 1932, four per cent less than in the preceding year.

L'FORS RODEO AUGUST 19-20 WILL DRAW "HANDS" FROM ALL OVER PANHANDLE DISTRICT

L'FORS, Aug. 15.—Business men of L'Fors will stage a rodeo at the picnic grounds near the L'Fors swimming pool August 19 and 20.

Two shows will be staged daily under the direction of Tex Stewart of Oklahoma and Jimmie Olsen of Pampa. Buckaroos from all over the Panhandle and several other states are expected to be here to compete in the various contests.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McGinnis left Friday to spend a short vacation in New Mexico.

Ben Fish of Hart City was in L'Fors Saturday and Sunday.

Clyde Sargent has been confined to his bed for several days by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Gallagher spent last week-end in Wichita Falls.

Cloyce Williams of Borger spent last week-end with Lowell Echard.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Jenks and family made a business trip to Borger Sunday.

Among those attending the funeral of Mrs. J. D. Fish in Pampa Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lapero, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Breiling.

Alvin and Sam Robbins left here Friday evening to spend a short vacation with relatives in Meadow, Okla.

Miss Laverne Haralson of Wellington arrived Sunday for a visit with Miss Modell Carruth.

Dale Sublet of Hale City is spending a few days with Terrell Cobb.

Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Smith moved to Borger Wednesday.

Miss Katherine Moseley returned Sunday from a visit with friends in Pampa.

Fred Ditmore returned last week after a short stay in Arkansas.

The Rev. M. S. Leach was retained as pastor of the First Baptist church at the annual conference Wednesday.

CONVIC BASEBALL TEAM HAS WON 15 OF 21 GAMES PLAYED

Has 'The Best Set of Base Stealers You Ever Saw,' Says Moore.

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 15. (AP)—The Huntsville Tigers, prison baseball team, have won their last 12 games and are storming through their most successful season since baseball was first allowed in the prison in 1926. The Tigers have played 21 games this year and won 15 for a percentage of 715.

Ted Whitehead, centerfield, the team's heavy hitter, boasts 11 home runs for the season and a batting average of .427.

Explaining the championship caliber of this year's team, Albert Moore, the manager, says, "It's team work. The boys are just now learning to play together. We haven't had the slightest trouble among them this year. The players, however, never have given much trouble—why, back in 1926, Warden Speer used to bring a group of the boys out each afternoon and let them practice. Of course, at that time the warden's fences around the park, but that made no difference to Speer—he didn't even wear a pistol. The boys who play ball are just naturally dependable."

"Of course," continued Moore, "team-work isn't everything. One of the most important factors is that my boys never 'blow-up.' When the going gets rocky the boys just slow down and take their time—most of them have plenty."

A twinkle lit his eyes as he continued, "I've got the best set of base stealers you ever saw, too."

The Tigers, playing each Sunday afternoon to crowds of between three and five hundred, have eight more games this season. Only civilians are charged admission and the profits from the games go to swell the amusements fund of the prisoners.

The convicts who wish to see the games are admitted free, but watch from an enclosed grandstand.

Approximately $1500 has been invested in baseball equipment, states Lee Simmons, and this amount, which has been distributed over the whole system, has been accumulated through fees from the "visitor's charge."

Milton Furr Is Sentenced to 25 Years in Killing

GRAHAM, Aug. 15. (AP)—Milton Furr has been sentenced to 25 years imprisonment by a Young county jury which convicted him of murder for the shooting of Policeman C. S. Carlisle at Wichita Falls.

Carlisle was wounded fatally the night of June 27 when he and another Wichita Falls officer, Elmer McCord, tried to question a man occupying a taxicab. McCord was badly wounded.

After the verdict was returned yesterday against the 20-year-old Wichita Falls defendant, a formal motion for a new trial was filed by W. W. Ballard, defense attorney.

Dismembered And Nude Body Found In Road Thicket

HAMPTON FALLS, N. H., Aug. 15. (AP)—Dust-covered files of missing persons were scanned today for a solution to a year-old mystery—the slaying of an unidentified woman whose nude and dismembered body was found in a roadside thicket.

A wedding ring, a pair of slippers and a dark green leather bag were the clues police had to work on.

The slippers bore the label of a Boston store. The wedding ring was inscribed "L. D. to L. P. B."

Those two clues formed the nucleus of an investigation in Boston.

The woman's body was found yesterday by a passer-by in a thicket off Cock Hill road. Dr. Wendell R. Clare, acting medical examiner, believed the body had been dismembered while the victim was still alive.

The victim was about 30-years-old, had dark hair worn in a boyish bob and her upper teeth were false. The body had lain in the roadside thicket about a year, Dr. Clare thought.

Reunion Is Held At Young Home

A Sunday dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Young Sunday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Faulkner of Dallas. All children of Mr. and Mrs. Young were present.

DR. JOHNSON AND WONDERLY WIN MATCHES

McSKIMMING AND FRED LAMB BEAT THEIR OPPONENTS

Mrs. L. M. Batton and Mrs. Hupp Clark, both members of the Cities Service tennis team, will meet in the finals of the women's division of the city tennis tournament. Mrs. Batton went into the finals by winning from Daisy Ann Shields, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Clark defeated Jackie Jones, 7-5, 6-3 later yesterday afternoon. Both games were on the Cities Service courts.

The second round of play in the men's senior division were completed yesterday with Dr. R. M. Johnson winning easily from Chris Martin, 6-0, 6-0. Dr. Johnson used a service that Martin could not fathom.

Forrest McSkimming also won easily from V. G. Potts, 6-0, 6-1, with a steady, slicing return, while Potts, somewhat tense, netted many of his returns.

L. M. Batton took three sets to defeat Geo. Christopher, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, yesterday afternoon in a hard driving series of games.

Rev. Joseph Wonderly defeated Ray Cheever, 7-5, 6-2, when his backhand slice worked to perfection yesterday afternoon. All the games were played on the Cities Service courts.

Fred Lamb won from Dave Bauer, 6-2, 6-1, in the junior division.

Roadrunners To Play Borger 66 Team Thursday

The Danciger Roadrunners, winners of the Amarillo News-Globe baseball tournament this year, will meet the Phillips Alamo "66" team under the lights at Alamo stadium in Borger Thursday night. The game will be called at 8:30 o'clock.

Borger nosed out the Roadrunners two weeks ago in their first time under the lights and before the team was fully strengthened for the Alamo tournament. The Pampa boys could not get accustomed to the lights the first part of the game and a pitcher was started who was trying out for the team.

It may be that a new hurler will take the mound for the Roadrunners. Otherwise it will be a draw between Charlie Stewart and Long John Costello who will get the call for mound duty.

Borger will also field a strengthened club for the game. The Alamo team is hoping to take the Borger tournament which will open Saturday at Alamo stadium. Several new players have been added to the team.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hayes are the proud parents of a daughter, born Aug. 11. She has been named Velma Doris.

Third Round In Tennis Doubles Start Thursday

Third round of play in the doubles, junior and senior divisions, of the City Tennis tournament will start Thursday morning and continue through Saturday. All second round matches have been completed, but as several teams drew byes in the first round, the strength of some of the pairs are not known.

Pairings in the junior division follow:

Keller and Webb vs. Combs and Gordon.
Evans and Rose vs. Hatfield and Roberts.

Corrigan and Lamb vs. Braly and Walker.
Gregory and Webb vs. Adams and Friar.

Pairings in the senior division are: Hinkle and Sturgeon vs. Hicks and Johnson.
Wonderly and Vickers vs. Webb and Bechtelmeier.

Dillman and Christopher vs. Atchinson and Martin.
Potts and McSkimming vs. Duenkel and Stewart.
