Unprecedented Hailstorm Devastates Area In Texas Rio Grande Valley

BUILDINGS AND CROPS SUFFER HEAVY DAMAGE

Mayor Estimates Loss at $200,000 After First Survey of Area

HOUSES UNROOFED

Autos, Plate Windows and Citrus Groves Bear Brunt of Storm

M'ALLEN, Texas, April 24. (UP)—The worst hail storm in the history of the Rio Grande valley struck here late today and did more than $200,000 damage to crops and window glass. Several persons were bruised by the stones, some of which were more than three inches in diameter.

The storm, originating three miles north of here, lasted more than an hour. Every window and skylight on the north side of unprotected buildings was smashed to bits. Street lights were broken.

More than 300 automobiles parked on streets, were dented and battered. Their tops were smashed. The stones piled up in gutters to a depth of more than two feet.

After spending its fury here, the storm curved to the southwest and ravaged crops for more than three miles. Young corn was broken and pounded into the earth. Citrus trees were stripped.

Damage was estimated at more than $200,000 by F. E. Osborne, McAllen mayor.

A light rain and heavy wind struck the rest of the fertile valley, aiding crops and bringing needed moisture to overly dry cotton fields. Rain fell at Brownsville, Pharr and Edinburg.

Stocks of goods in many stores were ruined by rain falling through torn roofs. One department store estimated $50,000 damage to goods. It was estimated that broken plate glass windows and window panes would add another $7,000 to the damage total.

The storm swept through the heart of the city, tearing off shingles, smashing skylights and breaking virtually every north window in the city. Phone and light wires were temporarily blown down. Stones were measured two feet deep along the edges of houses and in gutters.

Pole and Line Method of Acquiring Bonds Proves Flop

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Speculators, Leslie Merion had been told, are a "lot of fish." That gave Leslie an idea.

Equipped with a yard stick and a fish hook, he left New York to make good in La Salle street.

Merion was making good today when Dennis Rollin, clerk in a large financial house, looked into a rear room to see a bond dangled uncertainly for a moment and then disappear out of a window. Rollin rushed out, got a policeman and caught the angler.

Two bonds, each valued at $1,000 and belonging to the North German Lloyd company, were found on Merion, together with $1,000 in cash.

ANGRY, SULLEN CONVICTS SEEK 'PIG'S' OUSTER

Prison-Wide Revolt Feared As Inmates Continue to Make Trouble

WARDEN STANDS PAT

Columbus Pen Head Stays On Duty and Warns Against Disorder

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 24. (UP)—Enraged to the point of desperation by Governor Cooper's refusal to dismiss Warden Preston E. Thomas from office, more than 4,000 rebellious convicts at the Ohio state penitentiary were in the mood for a violent outbreak when darkness came over the prison tonight.

With a revolt appearing likely unless some action were taken to forestall it, Attorney General Gilbert Betteman hurried to the governor's office this afternoon with a demand for the suspension of the warden.

Governor Cooper announced cryptically he would take no action against Warden Thomas until the investigation of Monday night's disaster at the prison was completed.

Guards Defied

All day the convicts defied guards and prison officials, jeering and shouting threats of violence unless a change was made at once in the prison administration.

Warden Thomas, accused by convicts who testified during the day before the investigating committee of leading a "reign of terror" in the prison for years, told the United Press he would not resign.

"If these prisoners don't quiet down pretty quick," Thomas declared, "I'll use forceful methods against them if it takes a soldier to every man."

Attempts of convicts to foment an open revolt caused grave apprehension throughout the prison and all persons not having imperative business within the walls were ordered out late today.

"Bad Eggs" Quiet

While nearly all of the prisoners are taking part in the rebellion, a curious anomaly of the situation today was seen in the utter refusal of "company K" composed of the hardest, most incorrigible convicts in the prison to join the disorders. These prison outcasts, incidentally, were among the outstanding heroes of Monday night's disaster.

The prisoners demand first of all Warden Thomas be removed immediately and Deputy Warden

Officer, Stabbed With Knife, Held Heart in Hand as He Shot Assailant

Delegates to Texas-Oklahoma Convention Tell Stories of Narrow Escapes in Work

Lafayette Doke (Dad) Louthian, 73, veteran officer, knows how to wield his two guns, even if he is one of the most amiable men in Wichita Falls. Born in Tazewell county, Virginia, in 1856, he has been a school teacher, farmer, cattleman, lumber dealer, dairy operator and officer in an active and eventful life. He moved to Missouri from Virginia, and in 1877 came to Texas from Missouri. At the right of the picture above, The Record News artist has sketched the story of how Mr. Louthian pushed his heart back into his chest after he had been cut with a knife, and then shot the man who had attacked him.

Tales of the times when death tickled them in the ribs with a bony finger, or narrow escapes when life didn't seem worth a Mexican dime with a hole in it were recounted here Thursday as Texas and Oklahoma knights of the polished shield and 10-gallon hat opened their annual convention.

Milling around the lobby of the Kemp hotel, officers who had seen law enforcement shift from cow ponies and revolvers to airplanes and machine guns recounted seldom told stories of the work they do in the name of law enforcement.

Heart Dropped Out of Wound

And the strangest of these, perhaps, came from Dad Louthian, 73-year-old officer, member of the special agents department of the Katy railroad here, and one of the comparatively few men today who can wear two guns and not feel conspicuous.

"Would you believe it," asked Dad, "if I told you a man had been cut almost half in two so that his heart sac dropped out of his body into his hand and that when he saw a blood clot on the heart he flicked it off with his finger, put his heart back and then got a gun and went and shot the man who cut him?"

"No!" yelled the chorus.

"Then after he went out of the house and shot the man, he walked around the place, sat on the front porch and finally went inside and got in bed, bleeding heavily all the time, before the doctors were called. . . . Would you believe such a man is living today 36 years after being wounded?"

Dad unbuttoned his shirt front and his underwear, exposing his left side just below the heart. A long, deep scar extending from the center of the body almost around to the back was sufficient answer to the doubters. And here's Dad's story:

"It was during the Hogg-Clark campaign, and some pretty mean things had been said. A neighbor—call him Bill—had heard me make a speech and came around to the house next morning and started the argument again. He got to cussing and going on, and as my wife was in the room, I told him if he had to talk like that he had better get outside and cool down.

"I walked over toward him with the intention of calming him some and trying to get him on out of

Speakers Differ Sharply in Views On Crime in Addresses to Officers

Speed Bringing Lawlessness, Says Storey—Prohibition Decreasing Crime, Says Stuart; 143 Register for Meet

Sharp contrast of opinion was shown Thursday night in the speeches of two men, both prominent in the public life of Texas, in a public session of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers association at the Memorial auditorium, when one stated crime in America was increasing because of the disrespect for law displayed in this age of restlessness and speed and the other pointed out that prohibition has brought about a great decrease in crime.

Representative Cecil Storey of Vernon, a member of the Texas house, in an address on "Crime, Its Cause and Prevention" said:

"This automobile-frenzied age of restlessness and speed has caused a loss of respect for many of our laws and a consequent increase in crime. Some say the great amount of crime in America is the result of the after-effects of the war; that is the argument of a lazy mind. European countries suffered more from the war than America, but crime over there is decreasing rather than increasing. In England there is less crime because the English people are taught to respect the law. Some persons predict that a continuance of disrespect for law in America will undermine our nation and result in inevitable degeneration. I am not afraid of that but it is certain we must take steps to remedy the causes of crime."

Prohibition Upheld

Former Senator Bob Stuart, now district attorney at Fort Worth, in a speech on "Prohibition and Its Enforcement" said:

"I believe that prohibition can be enforced and that it has brought about in its 10 years of existence in America a great decrease in crime. In Tarrant county, for example, our analysis of crime during the past 22 years shows that prevention of crime is improving every day. The year before the Volstead act was

Small Tells Women Of Prison Conditions

PAMPA, Texas, April 24. (UP)—Making his first public address since announcing for governor, State Senator Clint Small today told the women of Pampa that Texas faces the task of rebuilding her state prison system to meet overcrowded conditions.

Lack of itnelligence and the lack of thorough law enforcement has crowded every penitentiary in the nation, Senator Small said. Observance of the law should be taught in the schools and women can play an important part in aiding law enforcement, he said.

EL PASO GOES OVER 100,000

Border City's Population Is 101,795

El Paso, the first large city in Texas to report its 1930 population, contains 101,795 persons, according to an Associated Press dispatch Thursday night. This figure represents a gain of 24,415 or 31 per cent for the border city.

Four small Dallas county towns show increases while three lesser communities in Collin county reported declines.

With the count here nearing completion, officials counting residents of the Wichita Falls area Thursday renewed their plea for the cooperation of everybody to make the count as nearly complete as possible. The census office telephone number is 2-3930.

Coach Bill Roper Describes New Drinking Craze Among Students

WASHINGTON, April 24. (US)—"Vicious drinking" by young men and girls at schools and colleges has followed in the wake of prohibition, William W. (Bill) Roper, famous football coach at Princeton, told the house judiciary committee today.

Appearing as a rebuttal witness against Coach Alonzo Stagg of the University of Illinois, and Coach Fielding H. ((Hurry Up)) Yost at Michigan, Roper said the example of adults in flouting prohibition had led boys and girls to drink poisonous hard liquor clandestinely as "the smart thing to do."

Another blow at the dry claims was delivered by Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario, Canada, liquor control board, who challenged the statement by former Premier E. C. Drury of Ontario, that the government control has failed.

"During prohibition days, Ontario saw the slimy trail of the big bootleggers and turned to government control as the wisest course toward bringing about true temperance. It has proved a success," declared Sir Henry.

Representative Clancy, Republican, of Michigan, appealed for repeal of the 18th amendment and Dr. F. W. Buck of Washington, head of the federal tax reduction dispensary league, defended his proposal for a system of government liquor sale somewhat similar to the Canadian and Swedish systems.

STALCUP GIVEN 5-YEAR TERM

Six Defendants Draw Total Of 35 Years in Pen

Penitentiary sentences aggregating 35 years were given Thursday by juries in the 30th district court in the trials of six persons indicted by the grand jury for the April term of the court. In the case of three men on trial suspended sentences totalling 11 years were given, according to Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney.

Virgil Stalcup, 22-year-old prisoner, was found guilty and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of robbing a Panhandle filling station here last Feb. 1. Stalcup was brought here from Vernon last week, where he had just received two 45-year sentences on similar charges. He had previously been tried and convicted on a like charge in Amarillo, where he was sentenced to 30 years. His sentence here brings the total to 125 years, part of which will be served concurrently, Mr. Anglin said.

Ardell Bloom and Delbert Tibbs, youthful hijackers of the store on the Iowa Park road operated by E. B. Neale, were also found guilty and each given five-year terms. The two were reported to have been the instigators of a recent attempt to break jail at Vernon, when the jailer was beaten over the head with a club improvised by the prisoners out of a broom handle and a large quantity of heavy wire.

James Taylor, negro, was found guilty on each of three charges of forgery and sentenced to three years on each offense, making a total of nine years. C. L. Sorrells was also convicted on a forgery charge and given a five-year suspended sentence. V. L. Redd was given a two-year suspended sentence on a forgery conviction.

Clyde Page, 17, was convicted on a charge of stealing a leather jacket and a pair of shoes from a store here and was given a suspended sentence of our years.

SHOTGUN KILLS DIVORCEE AND RICH MATRON

Mrs. Guy Bates Post and Mrs. Doris M. Palmer Bullet Victims

MAID FINDS BODIES

Events Preceding Double Killing Unknown; Weapon Missing

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif., April 24. (US)—Side by side on the floor of a luxurious bungalow in the artists' colony here the bodies of Mrs. Guy Bates Post, divorced wife of the noted actor, and Mrs. Doris Murray Palmer, wealthy theatrical scenery-designer and painter, were found tonight, shot to death.

Early investigations of the double tragedy failed to make positive whether it was a double murder—perpetrated by an intruder—or a murder and suicide, with one woman killing the other. A shotgun had been used.

ACTOR INFORMED

HONOLULU, T. H. April 24. (UP)—Guy Bates Post, noted actor, learned here tonight his former wife had been found in a Laguna Beach, Calif., bungalow, shot to death.

"Oh, that is terrible, terrible, terrible," Post said.

He has been appearing here for a short time as guest star with the Richard Wilbur players.

First reports by police were to the effect that Mrs. Palmer had been shot through the back of the head, and Mrs. Post through the mouth.

Former Stage Star

Mrs. Post was the former Adele Ritchie—in her day, 15 or 20 years ago—one of the best known actresses in America. She appeared on the legitimate stage and later was one of the highest-paid individual performers in vaudeville. She was about 50 years old.

She won her divorce decree from Guy Bates Post, who had a home in Hollywood, only a few months ago.

Mrs. Palmer was about 30 and was known as the most beautiful woman in the art colony, where there have been meany beautiful artists and models.

Third Man to Die in Nevada Lethal Gas Chamber Begs 'To Have It Over'

RENO, Nev., April 24. (AP)—The third man to enter the lethal gas chamber at the Nevada penitentiary at Carson City to pay the extreme penalty for murder, R. H. White, Elco county gambler, probably will be executed next month. The date for his execution will be set within a few days.

Declaring he would "rather take the gas" than spend the remainder of his life in prison, the 42-year-old ex-gambler told attorneys today not to ask the state board of pardons for a commutation of sentence.

"Let's get it over with and the sooner the better" White is said to have pleaded as he sat in his cell in the condemned row. The state supreme court refused to grant his petition for a new trial.

The new gas house, recently completed, is a square building about 20 feet in dimension and 10 feet high. Built of stone from the prison quarry, it occupies a prominent place in the prison yard.

The structure is divided into four rooms. One is a guard room, another contains the cells where condemned men spend their last few days, the third is the death cell, while a fourth room contains the apparatus which generates the gas.

In the death chamber two wooden chairs, equipped with straps to hold the condemned man, face the large plate glass windows through which the official witnesses observe the execution. Another window per-the house. I'd known him for 12 years and his wife and mine were like sisters almost. But I couldn't have him starting a mess like that in my house.

"When I got near him, he made a sudden strike at my heart. It felt like a fist blow in the stomach. Bill turned and hit for the door and my wife jumped up from her chair and screamed. I turned toward her and saw she was going to faint so I caught her arm, easing her to the floor. That was the first time I saw the blood coming out of my side. I didn't have on a coat.

Gets His Rifle

"When I straightened up, something plopped out of the long wound Bill's knife had made. I caught it and looked down. It was my heart sac. It was kind of a greenish-yellow color, with some blood on it. Somehow it didn't make me weak or nervous and when I saw a clot of blood on the sac, I flipped it off with a finger of my right hand, holding the heart in my left. I thought at first the clot was where the sac had been punctured but then I saw it wasn't.

"For some reason I said, 'He didn't cut my heart,' and then I stuck my heart back up into my body and grabbed my rifle in a corner of the room. Out the front door I ran, holding my hand over the wound. Bill was about 20 yards away, just passing the gate when I raised the rifle and fired. Bill fell headlong in the dirt near his mule.

"I thought I'd killed him. There was only one cartridge in the gun, so I dropped it, stepped off the porch and walked all the way around the house. Then I came back and sat down on the porch. In a minute my wife ran out to find me. She made me come in and get in bed.

"Bill wasn't dead, they told me later. The bullet glanced a post right at his head and struck him in the temple sideways. He said later at the trial he thought he was killed, but it was just a bruise.

"Two of my boys, who were not far from the house when it all happened, came running in and when they saw what it was they started for Mansfield to get a doctor. They got Dr. J. T. Stevens and Doctor Murphree and later on Dr. R. E. Chambers from Enon came. All of those men are dead now.

"They told me later that when Emmett Morrison, the constable, went to arrest Bill that night, he found one of my boys laying out in the rain behind a log just outside the gate to Bill's house. The boy had a rifle and told Emmett he was going to kill the guy that murdered his dad. He was just waiting for Bill to come out. Emmett told him I wasn't dead and that he was going in now to arrest Bill, so the boy reluctantly came home.

"I was semi-delirious for three days and then began to mend, although I had to go around with a drain tube in the wound for several months. It wasn't long till I was going strong again, and I haven't yet noticed any loss of strength or wind. The stab severed a lobe of my lung, which the doctors sewed back, and also busted a couple of ribs, but it just missed all the vital organs. And I'll bet I can outrun a whole crew of men 10 or even 20 years younger than I am."

There were other stories, too, of narrow escapes, among them the following told to a Record News reporter:

KNOCKED BOOTLEGGER'S GUN FROM HAND

D. C. Brewster, constable at Paducah, "I went up to a negro dance one night where I thought that I might be able to pick up a few toughs and bootleggers hanging out. A white man owned the dance hall and was doing a good bootlegging business but I had never been able to get the dope on him until that night. There were a few white men mixed in with the crowd and I got upstairs to the hall without being noticed. I had my eye on another fellow when the proprietor came toward me. I did not see him until he was right in front of me. He grabbed for his gun, but I was lucky enough to knock it from his hand before he was able to shoot. As soon as I got my own out of the holster he turned and ran."

ESCAPED CONVICT WAITED TOO LATE TO SHOOT

Sam W. Tulk, assistant superintendent of the Oklahoma criminal bureau of investigation and identification: "While I was chief of police at Ponca City, Okla., I got a phone call from a warden at the Kansas penitentiary that two men had escaped and would be some where around Ponca that night. We found one of them the next day and he claimed that the other had gone to Mexico. I traced them back to a spot where they had stayed all night and found a trail where something had gone from there into a thick brush and weed field where it was almost impossible to get through. No one knew that I had started following this path and I was alone. I was working myself along as fast as possible when suddenly I looked up and there crouched the man with a rifle pointed at me. I do not know why he did not shoot sooner but I got him first. He probably could have killed me long before I knew that he was there."

STOOPED TO LIFT BABY, ASSASSIN'S BULLET FAILS

Jim Brown, chief criminal deputy of Stevens county, Okla., "There were a couple of fellows near Duncan one time that had a fellow killed because they held a mortgage on a $10,000 life insurance policy that he carried. I got some good dope on them one day from the fellow that done the actual killing for them and they found it out before they had been arrested. I left the courthouse that afternoon and went to my home a few blocks away. When I got out of my car, my baby boy was at the curb waiting for me. The two fellows that I had dope on had followed behind me in a car but I did not know it at the time. They shot just as I stooped to lift the baby. The shot hit me in the shoulder, but if I had not stooped when I did I would have been killed."

BOBBING BUGGY RUINED HIS AIM

J. J. Yates, deputy sheriff of Harmon county, Okla., "I came to Greer county in 1904 as road supervisor and started the opening of roads that cut through lands claimed by stockmen at that time. One old stockman had already killed two squatters and had threatened to kill every man that attempted to break up his holdings. I was working by myself one day in a perfectly open country with nothing to hide behind, when this fellow came along in a buggy. He opened fire as soon as he got in range and kept on shooting as he came. I did some fancy steps to make as poor a target as possible and the shaking buggy ruined his aim. After he got closer I shot at him twice and hit both times. There were dug up places all around me but I did not get a scratch."

Humor Marks Kohler's Trial

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., April 24. (UP)—Farcical elements, strangely out of place in a courtroom, were injected today into the serious business of attempting to remove Wisconsin's governor from office here.

Gov. Walter J. Kohler spent his second day on the witness stand after waiving constitutional rights. He submitted to examination by state's attorneys prosecuting the suit started by Philip F. LaFollette, Progressive Republican, who will oppose Kohler for governor in the campaign this fall.

passed, 1,180 indictments were returned in Tarrant county with only half the population we have now. The average since that time has been about 600 a year. Out of every three crimes, two can be traced directly to a violation of the liquor laws. Reduce the liquor consumption and you reduce every other type of crime."

Representative Storey in his talk pointed out that crimes among younger persons are increasing. In the year 1929, he said, more than 900 prisoners under 25 years of age were sent to the Texas penitentiary, more than one-third of the entire number of prisoners sent up.

Justice Gives Address

Mr. Stuart in his address pointed out the government does not furnish enough money to provide enough men for the proper enforcement of the prohibition laws. In Tarrant county, he said, where there are now two government men working for prohibition, a force of 12 men could enforce prohibition so that there would be no such thing as bootleggers or any means of obtaining liquor.

Oklahoma Justice Speaks

Fletcher Riley, youngest justice of the Oklahoma supreme court, addressed the gathering on the subject, "The Relation of the Peace Officer to the Court."

"The relation of the peace officer and the court," he said, "is the relation between the executive and judicial branches of government. The duty of all peace officers is the preservation of public peace. Like death there is no armistice with crime and the peace officer is the soldier of the government. His all, by his service is devoted to peace and order amongst his fellow men."

He described the duties of the sheriff by saying, "First, no suit begins and no process is served but by the sheriff. He returns indifferent juries for trial of men's lives, liberty and property. Second, he makes execution upon the result of suits, and third, he is the principal conservator of the peace within the country. He is the life of the commonwealth.

"The law is the stone of civilization and eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. In our country we have enjoyed liberty and order so long that we have forgotten how they came. We must defend against disrespect for law and order, and yet we must hold within our control the offensive, so that in the end justice with mercy will prevail, for law is a limitation upon liberty."

One hundred and forty-three members of the association had registered for the two-day annual convention here Thursday. More are expected for the sessions to be held Friday.

In a business session at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Amarillo and Vernon made a bid for the 1931 convention. Amarillo has 10 officers and civic leaders here to promote its invitation.

Plainview will also wage an active fight for the next convention, with Ed Bishop, publicity manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, and Ote Martine, chief of police, here to wage the battle. The invitation to the officers to come to the South Plains is backed by every civic organization of the city, Plainview boosters said.

Nelson Welcomes Visitors

Mayor Walter Nelson welcomed the visitors here at the opening session and R. D. Miller, city attorney from Hollis, Okla., made the response.

In the afternoon session at 2 o'clock a plea for cooperation between the members of the organization was made. Both Judge P. A. Martin and George Anderson, assistant district attorney, stressed the importance of established close relations between the officers of every city and county in an attempt to apprehend and bring to justice as many lawbreakers as possible.

In a round-table discussion, led by J. K. Ellis, agent for the M-K-T railroad, Sam W. Tulk, assistant superintendent of the Oklahoma Criminal Bureau of Investigation and Identification, said that the bureau, working in cooperation with the office at Washington, is able to give the record of any man who has ever been convicted of any crime, on the demand of any officer who might wish to identify persons picked up for investigation. The Oklahoma bureau has in its files the finger prints and records of more than 80,000 persons and had access to the files at Washington which contan more than 3,000,000 finger prints.

There has been a lack of cooperation on the part of most peace officers with the bureau because they do not know that the identification service is offered to any officer free of charge. He further asked that officers help the department by making prints and records of men whom they know might be wanted at some time.

At the banquet at 6 o'clock, Raymond Berry of Hollis, Okla., spoke on "Nonsense." James C. Nance of Walters, Okla., in his address on "The Relation of the Peace Officer to the Legislature" said that the peace officer has as his duty the enforcement of laws and ordinances made by the legislature and is not responsible for laws that some times seem obnoxious to the people whom they affect. Music for the banquet was furnished by Frank Bird and his Bluebird orchestra.

WEST TEXAN ENTERS RACE

George H. Sheppard Gives Basis of Candidacy

Special to the Record News

AUSTIN, April 24.—In announcing his candidacy for election as state comptroller of public accounts subject to the Democratic primaries, George H. Sheppard, appointed to the position to succeed S. H. Terrell, resigned, reviewed his record as a West Texas office holder and business man and re-affirmed his loyalty to the Jeffersonian Democracy.

Mr. Sheppard was born in McLennan county in 1875, the son of a Confederate soldier. He moved to West Texas with his parents, spending most of his boyhood on farms and ranches of the section, his statement declares. After completing his education in the public schools and normals, Mr. Sheppard was employed as a teacher in the schools for many years. Later he served as county tax assessor, becoming head of the Tax Assessors association. For five years he was mayor of Sweetwater, where he was engaged in business at the time of his recent appointment as comptroller.

The announcement calls attention to the fact that his appointment to succeed Terrell was confirmed without a dissenting vote in the senate.

"I am a Democrat of the Jefferson and Jackson faith, a life-long prohibitionist, and a member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church at Sweetwater," the candidate asserted.

"I believe in enforcement of all laws on our criminal statutes, both state and federal. It is my aim to establish a complete accounting system so that information coning any financial condition of the state may be available to every taxpayer. I have made no changes in the personnel of the office, but I will not hesitate to make such a change should it become evidently necessary for efficient service to the public."

Convicts Ask 'Pig's Ouster

James Woodward be placed in charge of the prison.

Their demand that the electrocution of John Richardson, Akron murderer, which was scheduled for tomorrow night, be postponed, was met today when Governor Cooper granted Richardson a reprieve of 30 days.

"There's been enough burning around here this week!" convicts shouted this morning.

Tobacco Demanded

A further demand tobacco be rationed out to convicts was met by the warden this afternoon, who issued cigarets and smoking tobacco to all convicts.

Encouraged by their victory in these two demands, convicts increased their howls for the resignation of Warden Thomas.

"Something has got to be done and done quick," Father Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain, said. "There's going to be trouble—probably bloodshed—unless something happens soon."

The prisoners were not locked in their cells throughout the day, having successfully forestalled all efforts of guards to confine them. All day they paced up and down the corridors of the cell blocks, mumbling and whispering and occasionally breaking into a mighty, concerted roar of protest.

The trouble was centered in sections A, B, C and D, where the 1,600 convicts who started the rebellion are quartered.

Prison officials added 25 civilian guards to the prison staff today as a precautionary measure and the large detachments of militia, inside and outside the walls, were kept on the alert for any possible emergency.

Several convicts testified before the investigating committee today, all voicing their violent disapproval of the warden's "brutalities" in the penitentiary.

Warden Thomas is known universally among the convicts as "the pig," because of his wide unpopularity, the convict witnesses said.

Several prisoners testified Thomas' rule at the prison is so tyrannical there are men at the prison who should have been released years ago, but who are imprisoned beyond their terms because of having incurred the warden's displeasure.

The convict witnesses said one of the punishments at the prison consists in stripping convicts and forcing them to stand beneath icy cold showers. Ice bathers are also employed as a means of punishment, they said, and floggings are not unusual. The witnesses also protested against imprisonment in "the hole," which is a darkened, sound-proof solitary cell equipped with only a lavatory.

Don't fool yourself!
Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Make yourself attractive —end halitosis

Before meeting others you would like to impress agreeably, make sure that you are free of halitosis (unpleasant breath) which offends so many. Simply rinse the mouth with full-strength Listerine. It destroys odors, leaving the breath sweet and wholesome.

Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis because you simply cannot know when you are a victim. It doesn't announce itself to you. But it does to others—and is unforgivable.

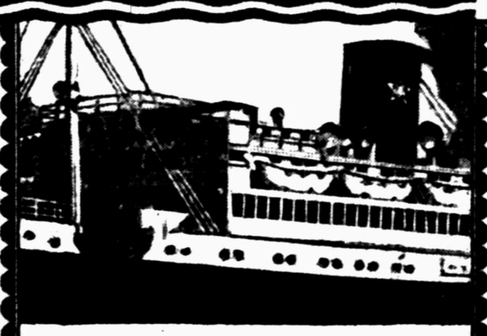

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full-strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is a powerful deodorant.

Keep a bottle handy in home and office and use it often. It pays. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Baptist Bethany Class Has Beautiful Sunshine Party

Officers and group leaders of the Bethany class of the First Baptist church, were hostesses Thursday afternoon to members of the class at a lovely party given in the home of Mrs. D. L. Hill, Country Club estates. Spring flowers in profusion furnished an exquisite setting for the afternoon, given in the form of a "Sunshine" party.

Members of the Bethany class who have been saving their pennies for a year, dropped them in attractive bags into the "Sunshine" basket which was held by Jean Gibbs.

After a very short business meeting, Miss Lucile Crouch and Alton Bedinghaus, with Mrs. Joe Crouch at the piano, gave a lovely violin number and Miss Mabel Capps gave a charming reading.

Following the program and a short social session, a delicious refreshment plate was served to Mesdames A. W. King, E. J. McWilliams, Otis D. Stephens, A. I. Taylor, E. L. Smith, L. E. Junell, B. F. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Heywood Broun remarks in regard to the New York law which makes life service mandatory after a fourth offense, "The laws of New York state and of some others, say 'Four times and out. There is an older rule which sets 70 times seven as the limit of forgiveness.'"

It takes the world so long to "grow up." For with the world, as with the individual, growing up means seeing things as they are.

The grown up who commits an offense four times did not see things right.

The old rule—70 times seven, appeals to us. For the only time when any of us were regarded as perfect was when our parents looked on us and we on our children on our original birthdays.

Though two little misses of possibly 6, dressed in smart little frocks and walking together down Indiana avenue with no chaperon in sight, Thursday, seemed to us to feel perfect.

And we wonder if the small 5 year old whom we saw sitting in her mother's lap with two driers working on a "permanent," won't feel quite perfect when that wave is finished.

At a recital Wednesday night we saw a boy of probably six years sing and act a song in a manner that made every woman in the audience feel a swelling of the heart. As he finished, "Kitty, kitty, kitty, come and play with me," there was an audible sound of long drawn breaths.

And—playing on the word "perfect," we saw a colored maid running an elevator the other day who was perfectly ridiculous. She wore a wash frock with lay-down collar shaped into a "V" in front. It was a warm day and she kept fingering the neck. At last, when she could stand it no longer, she burst forth to the car full of women, "I jus' can't stand nothin' up 'round my neck; this aint what you'd call high, but it's near suffocated."

Two piers are also threatened with destruction unless the rollers subside.

The heavy seas are also playing havoc with the handling of ocean craft. The Japanese liner Chichibu Maru broke her lines and crashed into the freighter Alamar. The freighter Tong King and other large vessels are also reported to have been torn loose from their moorings.

There has been no recent storm, yet the ocean surge has been continuing for three days.

Every Headache Is a Warning

What is a headache? Physicians tell us that headache is "the cry of over-taxed nerves for rest." The cause of simple headache is high nerve tension or strain, which leads to high blood pressure and serious injury to the nervous system.

The next time you have a headache, neuralgic or rheumatic pains, or periodic pains, try the improved method of relief—two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in a little water. Eping liquid. Capudine gives relief almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders. It relieves by soothing the tense nerves—not by deadening them. Contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach, therefore, is the ideal remedy.

For over thirty years Capudine has been bringing relief to those who suffer from nervous pains. You, too, will find it a joy and comfort when your nerves are unstrung and when you suffer from pain. At drug stores in 30c and 60c sizes.—Adv.

Portly Matrons to Exemplify Horrible Style Mistakes

Those Without Streamline Figures to Be Shown Their 'Image'

By ADELAIDE KERR
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 24.—The unstylish stout is on the rampage, and something is going to be done about this business of trying to cram a battleship figure into a cruiser-like gown.

A brand new line of clothes will be displayed of Fifth avenue next fall by the ladies who tip the scales at 175 pounds or more.

Next Tuesday afternoon women who confess to being "mighty sick of trying to wear daughter's clothes" will gather at the homemaking center of the state federation of women's clubs to select a committee to wage the battle. And they're going "to see themselves as others see them."

To show how much in earnest they are over this business of getting clothes to suit them, a number of women have offered to display themselves as "horrible examples" in a style show.

They're going to don tight coats that hug no-longer-slim hips, belted frocks that pinch portly diaphragms and ruffled dreams designed for 16-year-old misses. And they're going to march back and forth and show the assembled multitude just how terrible they can look.

"The great trouble has been," one of the leaders of the movement declared, "that women who haven't streamline figures any more just won't see themselves as they really are.

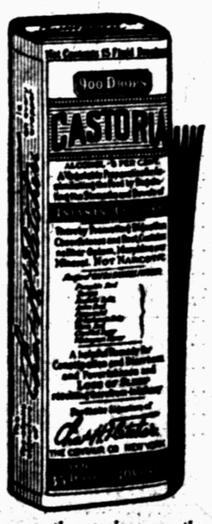

"When they go to buy their clothes, they either have to get things designed originally for their daughters and stretched out of all proportion for their own dimensions, or else they have to get something that looks like a grandmother. The designers just don't make things for them.

"Every year they sit back and wait until the styles come out and then, when it's too late, they begin to holler. This time we aren't going to wait until we see the fashions to raise heck. We're going to begin right now."

They're going to begin after the style show Tuesday by selecting a committee to tell the dress manufacturers, who are already interested, what they want in the way of colors and belts and hemlines, and a few other things.

Mme. Helen Volka, style director of the home making center; Mrs. Frank Shuler, president of the New York City federation of women's clubs; Mrs. William Dick Sporborg, first vice president of the state federation and other prominent members will be there to aid in that committee's selection.

An Ailing CHILD

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

FIRE MENACES MANY PRISONS

Southwest Pens Could Be Funeral Pyres

Editor's Note: Because of the interest in prison conditions following the Ohio penitentiary fire, the United Press conducted a survey of prisons in the Southwest. The following story deals with conditions as found.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24. (UP)—Fire which swept through Ohio penitentiary making it a funeral pyre for more than 300 men, could occur in many prisons of the Southwest, a survey conducted by the United Press disclosed tonight.

The investigation included majority of state institutions. It revealed that not only are prisons overcrowded, but in majority serious fire hazards exist.

Missouri authorities have been informed by officials of the National Society of Penal Information conditions at the state penitentiary, sprawled out on the banks of the Missouri river at Jefferson City, are similar to those preceding the Ohio fire.

The Missouri prison population set a new record when the prison count today reached 4,122 inmates. The prison, erected more than a century ago, was built to accommodate less than half this number.

Rioting at Missouri

Less than a month ago the Missouri penitentiary was the scene of serious rioting. Investigators reported afterwards that overcrowded conditions had much to do with the mutiny. Fire fighting equipment at the penitentiary was considered only "fair" by prison authorities.

Although overcrowded, Nebraska penitentiary authorities said the Lincoln prison is "fairly" safe from suffering loss of life through fire. Warden Fenton, veteran executive officer of the penitentiary, said he believed the prison fire control methods could cope with an immediate emergency.

The two main cell blocks are constructed of steel and cement and Warden Fenton said this assured the utmost safety from fires starting in any of the cells. The roof, however, is not fireproof.

A master lever controls the locks on cell doors, he said, and all could be opened at one time.

Warden E. F. Harrell of the Huntsville, Texas prison indicated a half dozen serious fire menaces exist at the state prison.

He said the one cell house confines 750 men in triple deck rows of cells. The ceiling and attic above the cell house is of wooden construction and would quickly become a mass of flames should fire sweep the building, he said.

"The only thing they could do in case of a general fire at Huntsville is turn all the prisoners loose or let them burn alive," said Gov. Dan Moody.

Individual Locks

The cell locks are controlled separately at the Texas institution.

"We've been trying to get lever locks for the doors," said Warden Harrell. "It's one of the things we need, just like we need running water in the cells."

Warden John Q. Newell of Oklahoma penitentiary said fireproof buildings and adequate fire fighting equipment had virtually eliminated any danger of a serious fire at the Oklahoma prison.

"There is little likelihood any fire in the Oklahoma penitentiary could reach the proportions of the blaze that caused the death of prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary Monday night," Warden Newell said. "The McAlester fire department could arrive at the penitentiary within a few minutes after a blaze was reported."

Police Stumped By Baker Murder

WASHINGTON, April 24. (INS)—Abandoning one theory after another police working on the murder two weeks ago of Miss Mary Baker, navy department employe, have now pinned their hopes on finding a man other than one of her acquaintances.

They searched today for three soldiers who have disappeared from Fort Myer, part of the Arlington cemetery reservation near where the shot body of Miss Baker was found April 12 in a culvert.

Detectives who went to Richmond, Va., to get finger prints of Earl Frank White, a prisoner there, will check them with those found on Miss Baker's abandoned automobile.

The investigators are now inclined to believe Miss Baker might have been accosted by a thief.

Snub

No doubt you think when summer trips to town
That I in turn will wend my way to you,
And though my negative may bring a frown,
I'm forced to say your thoughts are far from true;
So many years have found me April's fool
I really think it time I took a rest,
For stern subjection to her iron rule
Has taught me that indifference is best.

So, run around with all the lads you choose.
And break their hearts in your delightful way;
I'm very sorry that I must refuse
To join the only game that you can play;

I've made some glowing plans for summer, too,
And, searching them. I find no trace of you!
—THE PERFECT PHOOL.

Gag

Chico Marx, of the Four Marxmen, tells of the small-timer whose specialty in the four-a-day theaters was the eating of 15 hard-boiled eggs at every performance. Not only did he eat the 15 eggs but he sang at the same time. After the fifth day, or the twentieth performance, the chump had to quit the program.

"Golly," said the manager, "I knew all along that if you ate that many hard-boiled eggs every show you wouldn't be able to fill out the week."

"Hell," was the devastating retort "it ain't that. I lost my voice."

In Fewer Words

Rarer than a day in June is the type of girl who used to hide in the bathroom to steal a smoke.

Merciless Fact

Vaudeville conditions being what they are, the following contrib from Bob K. London isn't hard to believe Bob avers he overheard two actors swap this repartee in front of the Palace.

"As a good Jew are you observing the holidays by eating matzoths?"

"Matzoths? I'm lucky I've got bread!"

Nathan on Marriage

Now and then George Jean Nathan is confronted by reporters who interview him concerning reports that he plans turning groom. And if he does marry Nathan will be confronted by this philosophy, which he penned several years ago, "Marriage," he wrote, "could take away my precious privacy, my present ability to go whenever I wish to, my present agreeable habit of making more agreeable engagements at the last moment and breaking less agreeable ones at the same time, my perfect equanimity of mind, my intense dislike of life insurance agents and my freely voiced credo that there is a slightly more charming woman just around the corner."

A Swifty

One of the recent show failures robbed most of the cast of their regular wages. Some of the alleged talent were given checks dated ahead. One fellow whose specialty flopped harder than Argentina's annoyed the others by boasting: "They didn't get away with much on me. I took a check and $100 in cash!"

"Say," sarcastically snapped a fed-up listener, "even if the check bounces, you're paid!"

Observation

Far be it from us to enter any controversy about chorus and show girls being ladies. They probably are. But in one of the later places the other yawning several lassies were the guests of a local who let loose a barrage of profanity that most likely would have given the earache to your sister, wife or mother. These ladies of the shows, who probably would call a cop if you were offensive, made no complaint all night. Instead they tolerated the vile language which you never even hear in the waterfront barrooms.

It remained for the cigaret girl in the night club to reveal some good breeding, however. When the "sport" let her have some of his filth she banged him on the jaw, hurled her tray at him and then walked out of the place and her job.

It's little things like that that make big paragraphs like these.

What the Baby Said Dep't

One of the season's tourists to Miami, who just "adores darkies in their native setting," approached a colored tot of five and said: "What is your name, little boy?"

"Grover Cleveland Jackson."

"My! How nice to be named after a president," she trilled.

"A Pres'dent, whut's dat?"

"Goodness, son, you don't know what a President is? Haven't you ever heard of George Washington?"

"Shush," chirped the child, "he's muh brothuh!"

Add Similes

Kin Hubbard's: "It seems like, next t' bull terrier, nothin' holds on like a feller with a damp hand."

Robert Roe's: "Monotonous as a million one dollar bills".

Bugs Baer's: "Men as the man who insisted on sleeves with his vest."

T. Holcroft's: "He looked as stupid as a poet in search of a simile."

Anon's: "Ashamed as a fox caught in a trap," and, "Brief as a golddigger's prayer."

A woman in Bucharest, 6 feet 9 inches tall, went to the hospital to have her growth stopped. This explodes the theory that women are interested only in a desire for slenderness.

No Nourishment in It

THE scientists seem to have been burning the midnight oil lately. One professor, having taken thought announces that it would take a ray of light at least one trillion years to cross our universe. Another predicts that we shall be able to travel to the moon within the coming century. Still another finds some unexpected wigglers in a tube of sea water and believes that he is close to uncovering the facts about the origin of life.

All of this is interesting and stimulating, and gives us a pleasant sense of the power of the human mind. However, there is no use getting too excited about it. Knowledge of this kind may be very useful and important, but there isn't a great deal of nourishment in it for the ordinary man.

This "universe" that the astronomer talks about, for instance; is it anything with which most of us are even remotely acquainted? Not at all. It is a collection of blazing suns, whirling in complicated orbits through an immense emptiness, moving in obedience to some incomprehensible but immutable laws, like an enormous and mysterious clock-like whirligig.

But to the rest of us the universe is simply the sky; a vaulted bowl of blue or gray or black, spangled at night with pinpoints of distant light; and it works some queer sort of magic, so that when we look up at it, on starlit nights, we get the foolish notion that the whole business is simply a stage-setting for our own lives, and that we ourselves are the most important creatures in existence.

Any astronomer can tell you that view of things is juvenile and mistaken. But there is more nourishment in it than in a volume of talk about "light years."

It is the same with these other bits of knowledge. Perhaps we shall be able to visit the moon some day; but who, in his senses, would want to? Isn't it better to take the moon for what it seems to be—a strange, glamorous adjunct to romance? Any high school lad, wandering down a moonlit valley with his arm around a pretty girl, knows more about the true inwardness of the moon than all the scientists that ever lived.

And so it goes. What if a group of wigglers in a test-tube do give some scientist a new hunch about the mechanics of living? A six-months-old baby, gurgling and jabbering in a crib, can tell you of infinite mysteries, more profound and fundamental, if only you happen to be that child's parent. There is more to this world than chemical equations.

There are various kinds of knowledge. The most impressive kinds aren't always the kinds that are the most help in the business of living.

The Voice of One

TRUMPETING Tom Blanton of Abilene again has lifted his tireless voice in a clarion call to the people of his section of Texas: Thomas L. Blanton announced his candidacy Wednesday for the congressional post vacated by the recent death of R. Q. Lee of Cisco.

Mr. Blanton may not achieve his objective, either with reference to the unexpired portion of the late Mr. Lee's term, or the term to be awarded at the next general election. Mention already has been made of the fitness of naming Mrs. Lee to take her husband's seat in congress for the remainder of the period for which he was elected. The public has developed a considerable tendency toward favoring widows of legislators in just that manner.

But regardless of whether he wins the post, in the special or regular election, Mr. Blanton's entry will preclude the possibility of these coming campaigns offering a drab picture. The least that can be said in response to his pronouncement is that Tom Blanton lends definite color to the race or legislative session in which he participates. He has the faculty of stirring up picturesque waves on placid waters, and of keeping those about him awake lest they miss something. For that reason, there probably are many in Washington who would greatly prefer Mrs. Lee, or any Texas lady, to the energetic Mr. Blanton; and many others who would welcome the gentleman from Abilene as promising relief from occasional ennui.

An Interesting Experiment

SAY what you will about the Russian Communists, you must at least admit that they're not afraid of experiments.

A new city of 50,000 people is about to rise on the banks of the River Ural. It will be the most thoroughgoing communistic city ever seen. There will be groups of apartments, each housing some 2,000 people. All of these people will have a common dining hall. There will be community nurseries for the children, which will live away from their parents until they are 16. One enormous kitchen will supply all of the city's food. Women, freed from housekeeping tasks, will take their places in industry with the men.

You're entitled to make any kind of prophecy you please about the way all of this is going to work out. At any rate, it's going to be mighty interesting to watch.

No Reason for Secrecy

THERE is room for two opinions about the advisability of confirming Judge Parker's appointment to the supreme court; but it is hard to see how there can even be any argument about the proposal that the senate pass on the matter in executive session.

However the vote on confirmation may go, the people quite certainly are entitled to know how each senate votes on it. There is no shadow of an excuse for a secret ballot. Cowardice is the only possible reason that would make any senator want to cast his vote in secret on this issue.

If the senate does go into executive session to pass on this matter, it will justify all of the bitter criticisms that have been made of it in the last decade. It will be doing something absolutely inexcusable.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The resources of our free information bureau are at your service. You are invited to call upon it as often as you please. It is being maintained solely to serve you. What question can we answer for you? There is no charge at all, except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Address your letter to The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What is meant when an announcer over the radio says that a program is transmitted by electrical transcription?—N. L. G.

A.—It means that the program has been recorded on a record, and that the record is now being heard.

Q.—Can a large ocean steamer go up the Potomac river as far as Washington?—E. B.

A.—No ocean steamer needing more than a depth of 25 feet can come up the Potomac river as far as Washington. A depth of 40 feet is needed for the largest ocean steamers.

Q.—Did Huckleberry Finn ever appear as a serial?—S. A. D.

A.—Huckleberry Finn ran serially in the Century magazine in 1884 and 1885.

Q.—Which is warmer, a brick or brick and hollow tile house, or a frame house?—S. B.

A.—The bureau of standards says that there are so many types of brick, brick and tile, and frame construction, that no general statement will apply to all. In addition to differences in type of wall, differences in workmanship may be important. If complete descriptions of two types of wall are given, it is possible in most cases to calculate from tests which have been made, which of the two should be warmer. The heat losses through roof, doors and windows, however, reduce the proportionate effect of the walls themselves to such a considerable extent that there are no large differences in the amounts of fuel required to heat well constructed houses of ordinary types which differ only in wall construction.

Q.—What is meant when it is said that a statue is carved from the living rock?—G. L.

A.—This expression is applied to a piece of sculpture carved from stone which is in the place it has occupied from time immemorial. This is in contrast to marble which has been quarried and carried far from its source. One would say of the Rushmore memorial in South Dakota, or of the Confederate memorial on the Stone mountain that it is carved from the living rock.

Q.—What is the tradition in regard to rosemary found in Princess Ann county, Virginia?—N. E. E.

A.—It is said that Grace Sherwood of Lynnhaven Parish carried rosemary across the sea in an eggshell to Princess Anne county, where the shrub still exists.

Q.—How early was china brought into England and when was porcelain manufactured there?—E. S.

A.—Not much china was imported into England until about 1650, when it began to be brought in by the East Indian Trading company. Porcelain was not made in England until almost the middle of the 18th century. Earthenware was manufactured earlier than the 18th century. Potters were at work at Staffordshire in the 17th century.

Q.—When did Damon and Pythias live?—M. L. R.

A.—The lived in the fourth century, B. C. Damon, a Pythagorean of Syracuse, was celebrated for his friendship with Pythias, or Phintias, a member of the same sect. Pythias plotted against the life of Dionysius I of Syracuse, and was condemned to die. As Pythias wished to arrange his affairs, Damon offered to place himself in the tyrant's hands as his substitute, and to die in his stead should he not return on the appointed day. At the last moment Pythias came back, and Dionysus was so struck by the fidelity of the friends that he pardoned the offender and begged to be admitted into their fellowship.

Q.—Is the Pacific ocean always higher than the Atlantic ocean at the Isthmus of Panama?—T. H.

A.—The mean level of the Pacific at the Isthmus has been found to be about eight inches higher than the mean level of the Atlantic. In the month of February the levels are the same, but throughout the rest of the year, on account of current, tidal and wind influences, the mean level of the Pacific ranges above that of the Atlantic. It is as much as one foot higher in October.

Q.—Where is the proposed anthropological laboratory to be located?—C. L.

A.—The organization known as the Laboratory of Anthropology is to be established in Santa Fe, N. M. Ultimately it is expected to be the most important center in the country for the coordination of the study of archaeological remains of the Southwest. It will be under the direction of Jesse L. Nusbaum, one of the country's leading archaeologists. Among the directors are Dr. Clark Wissler, Dr. Frederick W. Hodge, Dr. Alfred V. Kidder, Prof. Franz Boas, Prof. Byron Cummings and Dr. Edgar L. Hewitt. The site has been selected and John Gaw Meem of Santa Fe is the architect. The project has the backing of John D. Rockefeller Jr.

TEXAS MILITIA CAMP PLANNED

7,000 State Soldiers Will Train This Summer

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, April 24.—Texas has called out an army of over 7,000 soldiers for military maneuvers.

National guardsmen will go into camps this summer to live actual military life for 15-day periods.

The cavalry will encamp at Mineral Wells July 5-20. The 36th division will bivouac on the seashore at Palacios, Aug. 1-15.

Officers and men of these military units are furnished by the state through organization of the volunteer national guard. Cost of the camps and pay of the men will be borne by the United States government. The troops will be trained for defense, not for the present but for the future. They will constitute trained groups that could be mobilized almost overnight in case of emergency.

Brig.-Gen. Jacob F. Wolters will command the 56th brigade of cavalry that will go in training at Mineral Wells July 5. There will be approximately 75 officers and 1,000 enlisted men in this camp.

The big army will assemble at Camp Palacios Aug. 1. Maj.-Gen. John A. Hulen, division commander, will be in charge of the encampment. With him will be two brigadier generals, whose single stars will indicate their command of brigades. These are Brig.-Gen. Claude V. Birkhead, in command of the 61st field artillery, and Brig.-Gen. George P. Rains in command of the 72nd infantry brigade. There may be still another brigadier in the command, since the brigade commander's office of the 71st infantry is vacant at the present time.

The 36th division aviation service will train with the division at Palacios, under immediate command of Maj. Walter H. Reid.

There will be approximately 500 officers and 6,000 men in the Palacios encampment.

TEXAS BOASTS 'WONDER CAVE'

Richland Springs Cavern Being Explored

BRADY, Texas, April 24. (AP)—Richland Springs cavern, recently discovered 20 miles east of Brady, presents resplendant scenes of mineral formation rivaling in many respects the famous Carlsbad cavern in New Mexico.

Some 50 chambers already have been opened and exploration is in initial stages. Predominant among the formations is limestone in fanciful shapes. The Queen's room, with myriads of varicolored stalactites and stalagmites, is perhaps the most beautiful. Some of the underground channels have been electrically lighted and guides provided to conduct sightseers.

Many Visitors

Hundreds of visitors have been attracted to the scene. A lunch stand, operated at the mouth of the cave, does a thriving business on Sundays. An admission of 50 and 75 cents to the cavern is being charged to defray expenses of operation and provide funds for further exploration.

Lon P. Piper of San Antonio, representing South Texas capitalists, has purchased the cave and ten surrounding acres from John Gibbons, on whose ranch the subterranean wonderland is situated. Further development is planned.

Age-old pendants, some of huge size, will blaze forth in glory when a projected lighting system is installed to bring into relief the myriads of shades and color.

Three Formations

Explorations to date have disclosed three formations. The Lion's room, at the entrance, contains a clay formation. It was named after the form of a lion lying in its center and is the largest chamber discovered, 30 by 70 feet, with a 30-foot ceiling.

The King's parlor, with marble formations, presents regal splendor while other chambers have mineral formations giving the appearance of silver and cut-glass. They sparkle prolifically under the explorer's light.

Among subterranean freaks is a neatly constructed "nest," closely resembling that of a guinea fowl, with 150 uniformly sized "eggs" lying closely in it. They are perfectly round stone pebbles.

Nature provided a special attraction for children in the Christmas Tree chamber. It exhibits an eight-foot perfectly rounded tree-shaped rock. Under brilliant light it reflects red, white and blue colors in perfect harmony with the American national emblem. Another room resembles the lobby of a hotel with the customary mezzanine floor. The Shark's Tooth, the Sleeping Bird and other chambers lend variety and picturesque imagery.

Breeze Noticeable

Although Richland Springs cavern was discovered by Mark Terry, a farmer, eight years ago, no one suspected its possibilities until a few weeks ago. Milam Shaw, a garage owner and amateur cave explorer, became interested and began explorations. He predicts additional chambers will be found.

The Texas cavern, like the Carlsbad, apparently has another opening, since a breeze is noticeable at a number of points in the explored regions, Shaw said.

There is a perpendicular 18-foot drop at the entry. A few yards further in the interior is a six-foot abrupt decline. After that the descent is gradual from one chamber to another. The explored depth is about 75 feet, but Shaw said there are many "drops" leading, perhaps, to lower chambers into which explorers have not ventured.

Arkansas Joins Bone Dry Kansas As Prohis Gain Ground in Digest Vote

Arkansas this week joins Kansas in the "bone-dry" ranks of the latest returns of The Literary Digest's nation-wide "straw" referendum on the prohibition question, as published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

A grand total of 3,705,742 ballots are tabulated in this report, which is nearly a million more votes than was ever received in a previous poll undertaken by the periodical, it is stated.

The drys continue to gain slightly as they poll 1,092,745 votes, or 29.49 per cent of the total.

One million five hundred seven thousand, three hundred and fourteen ballots or 40.67 per cent of the total, are registered for repeal of the 18th amendment, which shows a slight loss from previous tabulations for the repealers.

The vote for modification is 1,108,665, or 29.84 per cent.

Connecticut, New Jersey, and Rhode Island are the only states which show a clear majority vote for repeal and Arkansas and Kansas are the only ones which evidence more than a 50 per cent sentiment for strict enforcement, in the current tabulations.

Dixie Dry

Among the states which register over 40 per cent of their total vote for enforcement are Alabama, Colorado, Iowa, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

Opposed to these are Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Wyoming and the District of Columbia, each of which shows a more than 40 per cent sentiment for repeal.

No state shows a 40 per cent vote for modification although over one-third of the voters in Arizona, California, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Washington, and West Virginia, express their desires as for light wines and beers.

Kansas continues to lead as the driest state, while New Jersey jumps to the head of the wet column this week.

Poll Checked

The editorial comment of The Literary Digest in this issue is mainly taken up with a report on a series of checkups on their poll, which is being undertaken by a number of newspapers throughout the country. The magazine issues an invitation to the remainder of the press of America to check on their returns in the particular locality a given newspaper serves.

Considerable space is devoted to the first of these local polls undertaken by the Savannah (Ga.) News, which stated editorially that it believed The Literary Digest poll showed this southern city as more unfavorable to prohibition than it really was. The poll conducted by this avowedly dry newspaper proved to be wetter than The Literary Digest poll, according to final figures announced.

Police Seek Clue In Frederick Robbery

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., April 24.—No clue has thus far been obtained leading to the discovery of the parties who broke into A. Liebman's dry goods store early Tuesday morning, knocked the combination from the safe and stole $94. It was not until Jimmie Jones, clerk, arrived that morning and noticed the back door open that it was learned the store had been robbed.

Entrance had been gained through the roof where numerous holes had been drilled by a brace and bit. This work had been done so noiselessly as to attract no attention by officers or others. When a section of the roof was sufficiently weak it was broken and the thieves landed on the metal ceiling. A section of this was torn loose over the balcony.

VITALITY!

"SURE! I can finish that today"

A strong, healthy body and mind always respond to the occasion. Employers appreciate and recognize unfailing freshness—always ready—cheerfully ready to carry on—minus that "tired feeling."

DON'T let a weakened body hold you back. Prolonged, it may result in so-called premature old age. Today's happiness and friends may be gone tomorrow. Has it ever been made clear to you that a strong, healthy body depends upon the right number of rich, red-blood-cells?

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed skin troubles, "run-down" systems and even more serious ailments.

Healthy blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles to every cubic millimeter—those tiny workers which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. Rich, red blood is the body's protector against infection and disease. It is dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

If you tire easily—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

When you get your red-blood-cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, lack of appetite, skin troubles disappear. You should get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. Thousand of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. Many have found it beneficial to take a few bottles at least once a year to keep their blood in good condition.

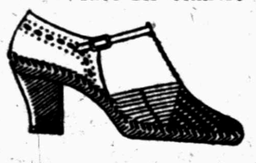

S.S.S. is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and is easily assimilated. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

'WHO'S WHO' IN CRIME PRINTED

Social Register of Gang Members Compiled

CHICAGO, April 24. (INS)—An organized drive to rid Chicago of its best known gangsters was planned today by the city's law enforcement agencies following publication of a "who's who" of gangland compiled by the Chicago crime commission.

The underworld "social register" contains 28 names, headed by that of "Scarface Al" Capone, now vacationing in Florida, under protection of a federal injunction restraining authorities of that state from interfering with his recreation.

Commissioner of Police William F. Russell said he would form a special "hoodlum" squad to keep on the trail of "public enemies," arrest them on every occasion, and make life as precarious for them as possible.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson promised to prosecute all "hoodlums" brought in by the police.

Sheriff John E. Traeger declared that although his office was handicapped by lack of money and men, he would do all he could to aid the drive.

Copies of the commission's report were sent to these officials, and also to Chief Justice Dennis J. Normoyle, of the criminal court; Chief Justice Harry Olson, of the Municipal court and United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson.

Census Takers Find Humanity in Its Queerest Twists, Reports Show

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH

WASHINGTON, April 24. (INS)—Any budding novelist who wants to get an inside slant on human nature would do well to get a job as census enumerator to give color to his literary effusions.

From widely scattered sections of the country the commerce department has collected unusual experiences of the census takers. Made public today these reports indicated that an enumerator must be qualified for almost any task from the third man in the ring during a family fight, to a fast enough talker to convince mountaineers that he is no revenue agent.

Unnamed Children

Many remarkable disclosures of human interest were received. An enumerator in the sparsely settled mountains of Colorado found three children who never had been given first names and a woman who could not recall her maiden name or the date of her marriage.

In some mountain districts the natives began smashing jugs of corn liquor on the approach of the census takers, while the inhabitants of one island down on the Mississippi were so "tough" that enumerators feared to approach the place.

From New York came the report that a census enumerator had found a man and wife who hadn't spoken to each other for 32 years. In the same city one enumerator detected the odor of gas on approaching an apartment and saved a man about to be asphyxiated.

A woman enumerator lost so much time listening to the troubles of those she interviewed that she had great difficulty completing her job.

Knows Her Age

Down in Richmond, Va., a negress was found who said she was born in 1800 and was 61 years old when the civil war started. The enumerator took the trouble to check up her story and found it apparently correct.

Occasionally where housewives were too busy to answer the census questions, enumerators in Minneapolis put on aprons and helped with the housework.

In Allentown, Pa., a woman committed suicide because she was afraid the government would deport her for falsifying her age in the 1910 census. On hearing that the 1930 enumerator was in the neighborhood she jumped from a second-story window of a house where she was employed.

Enumerators from all parts of the country continued to have difficulty in obtaining the ages of women, many of whom have the impression that the answers to census questions will be published in the newspapers.

GUNMAN'S MOLL TIPS OFFICERS

Girl Identifies Gun Used in Triple Slaying

CHICAGO, April 24. (INS)—Frank Dale, alias Frank Delbono, was ordered held for the grand jury today by a coroner's jury on a charge of being the lone executioner of three men in a south side saloon here Easter Sunday.

Maj. Calvin Goddard, ballistics expert and head of the department of criminology at Northwestern university, testified at the inquest today that a pistol found in a room where Dale and several companions were arrested earlier this week had been used in the triple murder.

Then Miss Antoinette Bowen, 26, arrested with Dale, linked the gun more closely with Dale by telling the jury, while the accused man was out of the room, that he frequently carried the weapon.

Dry Law Enforcement Backed by Lutherans

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, April 24. (AP)—"The Lutheran church has no right to interpret the prohibition law; it is for the government to define and the duty of the church is to see that its membership obeys the law. Any proven transgression of the law must meet with the discipline of the church. The church both teaches and believes the law should be enforced." This was the substance of an essay read this afternoon by Rev. R. Jesse, of the Trinity Lutheran church of Houston, marking the second day of the South Texas conference of the Texas district of the Missouri Synod Lutheran churches being held here in the Trinity Lutheran church.

Condensed from an Article by Earnest Elmo Calkins
Which Appeared in the Review of Reviews (March, 1930)

The prosperity which these United States have enjoyed might be described by a very simple formula.

In a certain office the bookkeeper owed the stenographer two cents. The stenographer owed the office boy two cents. And the office boy owed the bookkeeper two cents. One day the bookkkeeper, finding a penny in his pocket, passed it to the stenographer discharging half his indebtedness. The stenographer passed it on to the office boy who paid it to the bookkeeper, who sent it around the circle again. Thus each of the three became solvent and the bookkeeper had his original capital.

That's it, money in active circulation, the small money of small people, but lots of them. Static wealth means nothing. Factories and goods, stocks and bonds, are not prosperity. Business is exchange of commodities for money, and then spending that money for other commodities. You pass up a shine and Tony does not get your 10 cents. Others do the same and Tony cannot buy the radio he has set his heart on. The electrical dealer finds radio sales falling off and does not buy the car he had planned. The motor car distributor sells fewer cars and cuts down expenses, little and big. His grocer, butcher, haberdasher feel the difference. This includes whatever you sell. And you skip more shines and so it goes around to Tony again and begins all over.

Too much emphasis is placed upon big business—lumbering, railroads, steel, banking. These do not make prosperity. They merely reflect it. They prosper when the country prospers by the daily round of small expenses of millions of families. As long as that keeps up, everything is normal. But let the housewives begin to pare their budgets, substitute a boiling piece for the weekly roast, make over little Mary's frock instead of buying a new one, and business falls off. The daily purchases of millions of people are conditioned by advertising. Cut advertising sharply off and we would have a slump beside which the stock exchange debacle would be a mere incident.

A business slump such as we are in danger of is all a matter of belief. This statement has come in for some share of criticism recently from disillusioned critics of our industrial civilization. We are accused of "kidding ourselves"; we are reminded that optimism will not change facts.

But what are the facts? There is actually nothing wrong with the machine that makes, advertises and sells goods; nothing subtracted from the incomes and wages of the masses of people. Nothing has happened but the squeezing of inflated paper values from a lot of stocks. Such adverse circumstances as there are, existed before the slump. Those that have arisen since are due entirely to loss of confidence and hesitation.

It is that disposition which concerns us. That is what makes it pre-eminently an advertising situation. Our difficulty this year is not that people have less to spend, but that they hesitate to spend it. It will be a fine test of advertising. It is far more logical to advertise when sales are hard than when they are easy. Yet many otherwise logical manufacturers curtail advertising at the first sign of a business cloud. They may see the importance to prosperity of our advertising as a whole. But each may think "My advertising is but a small part of the whole. I'll play safe, cut down this year, and see how things go." A multiplication of such doubting Thomases can cause the only thing which is to be feared at this moment—a psychological business depression.

Few business men, even those who employ advertising, understand that it must be continuous and consistent to produce its best results. Continuance is more necessary than any other factor. Many businesses are unadvertised. There is no half-way house. The advertising must equal the opportunity. Too little is no better than none at all. If the persimmons hang 10 feet high, a nine-foot pole is no better than a two-foot pole to get to them.

If you seek proof of the building power of advertising, look about you. There is no greater asset than good will. That is what the bankers buy when merging industries into chains and groups, products with good will created by continuous advertising, industries built up from small beginnings by the gentle process of offering them enticingly, convincingly, persistently, a growth as slow and sure as the growth of a tree.

The Welch Grape Juice Company has just been sold to a group of capitalists for a good round sum. I can remember when it was a small family business making communion wine. At a time when practically no beverages were advertised except the beer that made Milwaukee famous and regretted, the Welch family decided to advertise grape juice as a palatable, refreshing drink. It was not a grape juice that the capitalists recently bought. For a fraction of the purchase price the purchasers could have assembled a grape juicery as good or better than the Welch's, but it would have lacked the essential ingredient, a name favorably known wherever thirsts are quenched.

Cyrus Curtis is one who prospers in bad times as well as good. During the worst week of the post-war deflation period when the Saturday Evening Post carried only eight pages of advertising, he put $50,000 into the newspapers to reiterate his belief in advertising. The newspapers, too, were empty. He got maximum attention and maximum results when the tide turned, as business men do who have the courage to cast their advertising bread upon business waters.

Congoleum has also profited by the courage to advertise when timid business was curtailing. In the lean years after the war when the business was in the red, A. W. Erickson persuaded his fellow directors to sign an iron-clad agreement to spend $1,000,000 and keep on advertising, come what would. Congoleum continued in the red, and to that loss was added $100,000 monthly outgo for advertising. The directors got cold feet and begged to be let out. But Erickson was adamant. He knew the pull would be a long one. As business picked up Congoleum forged ahead long before its competitors had recovered. It had enjoyed the advantage of large space in magazines empty of rivals. And that is how Mr. Erickson got the money to build and maintain at Tucson, Ariz., the finest heliotherapy institution in the world.

The time has come to use advertising as it was intended to be used, to stimulate business. Never has there been a time for a cleaner test. There are no adverse factors except the mental hazard of last year's stock slump in men's minds. The obstacle is psychological, not physical.

We are in a position to learn whether we can control prosperity. When your car loses momentum on a hill, you give it more gas. Business has lost some of its momentum. The remedy is more gas—more advertising. Last year's volume moved an enormous total of goods, but this year more is needed. Every business man should ask himself whether he is planning to spend enough to bring this year's sales up to last year's or above them. If this is done we can, with the momentum we still have, take the stock market losses in our stride and not be conscious of them before the year is out.

Then he started dancing every night with a widow woman. His wife didn't like it and summoned him to court. A verdict was returned in favor of the wife and Dray was forced to pay her alimony.

Jury Gives $500 In Refrigerator Suit

An award of $500 was made by a jury in the 78th district court Thursday afternoon in the $8,250 damage suit brought against the Crump Brothers company and John M. Fox by Mrs. T. M. Hellam and husband on a claim growing out of injuries said to have been sustained by Mrs. Hellam when she rose from a stooping position and struck her back on a refrigerator door which had been opened by Mr. Fox in an E-Z store here.

The jury deliberated more than two hours. Contention between attorneys arose over the question of whether the store was negligent in failing to provide signs to warn customers of the danger of opening the upper doors of the refrigerator to persons likely to be stooping at the lower doors. Attorneys for the plaintiff indicated they probably would appeal the case, stating the $500 award would not cover hospital expenses incurred as a result of Mrs. Hellam's injuries.

Colorful Foods

LONDON.—Color is playing an important part in the sale of foods at present, according to Holbrook Jackson's address before the Royal Society of Arts. He says that different tints in cheese and bacon are becoming fashionable as well as in sausages and potted meats. A Dutch butter firm, he says, sends a card bearing eight different colors which it urges all customers to study before buying their stock of butter.

Mrs. S. C. Carr

Dallas Lady's Child Gained Weight Fast

Mrs. S. C. Carr's experience with her little girl is just one of the many cases which we hear about. Mrs. Carr says, "My little Nettie Virginia had something like the flu. When it left, she was puny, had no appetite, and was very cross and feverish. I had known for years that Nature's Remedy is such a dependable medicine and I decided to give her a course of the Juniors. Nobody knows how happy I am to see her eat heartily again, and laughing and playing like she used to."

Very often these simple little chocolate coated Nature's Remedy Juniors (NR Jrs) are all the system of a child needs to straighten it out. Then the wastes can't remain in it to form the acids which sour the stomach, bind the bowels and rob the blood of the red corpuscles it must have plenty of to keep children from becoming puny, feverish and pale. Any druggist will recommend NR Juniors to you for your child. Only 25 cents.—Adv.

ROTARY HEARS GIRL ORATOR

Bertha Mae Kruger Talks On Constitution

Members of the Rotary club Thursday noon heard Miss Bertha Mae Kruger's original oration on the constitution of the United States, which was recently awarded first place in the local branch of the contest being held throughout the nation for high school pupils.

The constitution was extolled by Miss Kruger as a document which means much more to the individual citizen than he generally realizes. She emphasized the fact that it contains germs of political wisdom which are only now being recognized, and which will come to full fruition in human usage in the experiences of future generations.

"Persons of both sexes, of all races, of all beliefs, of every economic classification, so long as they are citizens of this country, should regard the constitution as a precious, beautiful creation to be cared for and revered," Miss Kruger said.

Musical features included in the program Thursday were impromptu solos by Dr. A. T. Kimbrough, president of the club, who carried the vocal melody of "Old Man River" from the "Show Boat" and "My Little Gypsy Sweetheart" with Frank Bird and his Bluebirds, KGKO staff orchestra.

Installation of new Rotary club officers was announced for Friday, May 2, at which time the annual party will be held at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club.

BOND REFUSED ED HEDGCOTH

Man Accused in Slaying Ordered Held

An attempt to make bond for Ed Hedgcoth, charged with murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of R. D. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace.

Hedgcoth did not take the stand in the hearing. His case will be presented to the grand jury when it reconvenes Monday, according to Sam B. Spence, district attorney.

Railroad Man's Health Improves

Can See Decided Change After Using One Bottle of Argotane

"My husband has suffered acutely with his stomach for two years," said Mrs. Collins, wife of Ora Collins of 504 West Owings, Denison, a well known railway man, "and did not seem to get any relief or get better despite the fact that he tried different remedies.

"He also became afflicted with rheumatism, and was just going downhill all the time. It was so different to what he always had been and he realized that something had to be done. We kept reading and hearing about Argotané and the good that Denison people were getting from the use of it, and finally Mr. Collins decided to try it.

"Now, after using only one bottle, he can see a big difference in his health, and his stomach is improving daily, and he has not had the rheumatism for sometime. We both think it is a very wonderful medicine, and we know many people here who are using it also, with equally as good or better results than what Mr. Collins has received."

Genuine Argotané may be bought in Wichita Falls at Allison Drug store, 716 Indiana avenue.—Adv.

A Farmer BOUGHT A PAIR OF Pants

from one of our department stores for which he paid $5.00. The department store manager in turn passed it on to the furniture dealer to square up his account. The furniture dealer paid for an order of groceries. The grocer paid his account at the hardware store. The hardware dealer paid his doctor bill. The doctor paid his tailor bill. The tailor paid his account at the drug store. The druggist paid his garage bill. The garage man paid his account at the jeweler. The jeweler paid his insurance bill. The insurance man paid his advertising account to the newspaper. The newspaper paid the transfer line for trucking a shipment of paper. The truckman bought cow feed from the feed store and the feed store paid the same farmer for corn and hay, who first paid the $5.00 for a pair of pants. Thus finally after squaring up almost $100 worth of accounts the $5.00 finally returned to the farmer for produce.

But just suppose this $5.00 had been sent out of Wichita Falls and its trade territory to some other distant city, it would have been gone never to return.

Have Courage to Be Healthy

Courage is a mighty fine companion. Like happiness and enthusiasm, it increases the strength of the body. On the other hand, fear and his spouse, worry, are two sapping leeches, tearing down the strength and vitality.

Courage or fear, happiness or misery, are largely matters of habits and beliefs. Your invironment may seem to you to be the cause of all your troubles, but this is not strictly true. Most of one's misery is caused by the way on reacts to circumstances. Instead of mooning or coursing at blind fate, how much better it is to try to improve yourself regardless of conditions.

Some of the most inspiring thoughts have been uttered by men while they were listening to the rustle of death's wings. Some of the most beautiful literature has been written by men who were pallid with prison shadows but whose spirits traveled far and wide. Many of the most tremendous achievements have been made in spite of almost unsurmentable barriers. Others, with a different attitude of mind, would have allowed their thoughts to become as cramped, warped and unhealthy as their bodies.

Strong men develop their bodies by lifting heavy weights and doing hard work. The same may be true in the mental realm. Your troubles should be considered as weights to be lifted to strengthen your mental muscles.

Psychologists have come to believe that fear is the most destructive force in the lives of most people. Let us look into this business of being afraid. Science has shown that we are just born afraid of only three things. They are these: The loss of support or of being dropped, the fear of a loud noise, and physical pain. All of our other fears, such as the fear of losing a job, the fear of going blind, the fear of saying a wrong thing, the fear of being left out of things and being forgotten, the fear of not having enough when one is old, and any of the other hundreds of fears with which you may be possessed, are all fears which you have acquired. You began with the first three and picked up the others as you went along. They are all needless. In fact, if you would only remove fear entirely from your life you would be overwhelmed with surprise at how pleasant your days could be with the fears and worries eliminated, and courage and confidence to take their place.

It is a splendid mental habit to simply try to forget about your fears and worries and substitute thinking about health and other cheerful subjects. Too many people spend more time thinking how they are going to feel when they are sick than how good they are feeling while they are well. Think of yourself enjoying your work, achieving, accomplishing, doing worthwhile things and deserving good health. If you can build up this inner confidence, it will not take a year's time before you will sb have built up your strength and your energy that you will be a changed person. Think of yourself walking up to a mirror; try to see the roses in your cheeks, the shine in your eyes, your head up, and your shoulders square, and hold that mental picture. Realize that health is natural and the happiness is normal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Pigeon Toed

Question—Mrs. G. T. asks: "Can a 6-year-old child wilfully refrain from walking pigeon toed? She can stand straight on her feet so she evidently is not club-footed."

Answer—Your child should be given corrective exercises to that the leg muscles will be strong enough for her to hold the toes back in the best position to be used when walking, that is, walking with the toes pointed straight forward. Any competent physical culture instructor will be able to show you the exercises for your child to follow.

Toast

Question—C. J. C. asks: "Will you please tell me if toasted bread dries the blood? I eat toast in preference to bread, and I've been told it dried the blood."

Answer—Melba toast does not dry the blood, but anyone using a large amount of toast should also include plenty of green vegetables in the diet in order to avoid constipation.

Chewing Paper

Question—M. P. asks: "Will you kindly tell me what might be lacking in one's system to cause a desire to continually chew paper? This is not a joke, but I have had that desire for years."

Answer—If you continually have a desire to chew paper, it is no doubt an indication that your diet has been deficient in some of the mineral elements.

Flour

Question—M. L. B. asks: "Should one use the same flour for whole-wheat mush as for muffins?"

Answer—Flour for mush should be coarser than the flour for muffins.

The hydrocyanic gas is piped from the generating machine into the death chamber. One turn of a valve forces the death dealing gas into the chamber. In the previous executions its effect was immediate. The first whiff of the gas rendered the men unconscious and death came within the first few minutes, it is believed.

At the previous executions prison officials were unable to clear the old gas cell of the deadly fumes for an hour and it was impossible for physicians to determine how long it took the gas to kill.

The new gas chamber is so constructed that strong blowers will clear the cell of the gas immediately and physicians will be able to pronounce the prisoner officially dead within a few minutes, it is believed.

NEW TREND IN SEASONING FOOD

Heightening Flavor Instead of Changing It the Secret

The problem of making certain wholesome foods tasty, used to be solved by serving them with rich, thick, flavorful sauces.

Cooks have discovered, however, that there is a much simpler and more wholesome method to make essential foods palatable. The use of sugar is one of the secrets.

A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt ideally heightens the flavor of bland vegetables or those which have lost the sugar content so apparent when fresh picked. Such use of sugar in restoring the flavor of peas, carrots, corn, string beans and turnips makes them more pleasing carriers of the vitamins, minerals and roughage they contain.

Doctors and dietitians recommend this use of sugar especially when children "shy" at these foods. They also are in favor of adding a dash of sugar to stewed fruits and tomatoes to modify their sharp taste.

Many cooks keep a mixture of sugar and salt on hand for seasoning purposes. Equal parts of sugar and salt are popular but the taste preferences of the family and the food in question should be considered. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

British Resort to Drastic Steps To Subdue Disorders in India

BOMBAY, April 24. (UP)—The British government in India took new repressive measures today to halt the independence movement which has claimed 51 lives in less than two weeks.

It clamped down on the northwest city of Peshawar, scene of a clash in which three British soldiers and some 20 natives were killed, the same rules against public assemblage that have prevailed in Bengal, trouble center in the east.

It caused the arrest of Mahadev Desai, secretary to the foremost independence leader, Mahatma Ghandhi.

At Coregaum, in the south central Province of Mysore, it caused police casualties. A mob had invaded the Balaghat mine and stoned the police before the local magistrate ordered the latter to retaliate with bullets.

Bazaars in the mine area were closed for fear of looting and native troopers patrolled the streets.

The Times of India's Peshawar correspondent reported there was rioting at Kohat and Charsadda on the northwest frontier. He said guards were increased along the Kohat pass as a precautionary measure and troops from Risalpur and Nowshera were moving into the disturbed area.

CURRAN DENIES COURT LOBBY

Letters to Supreme Jurists Defended

WASHINGTON, April 24. (INS)—The letters written by Thomas W. Phillips Jr., wet candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, to Justices Stone and Sanford of the supreme court were merely correspondence between old friends and not "lobbying in any sense," Henry H. Curran, president of the association against prohibition amendment, told the senate lobby investigating committee today.

"It was not lobbying an any way and Justice Stone replied to the letter," Curran said.

"It was not lobbying but in my personal opinion it is indefensible, retorted Senator Robinson, Republican of Indiana.

"I do not think any lawyer would think of doing such things as this—taking up a controversial question in an extra judicial manner."

"That is your opinion," replied Curran.

"It is reprehensible to write letters of this kind," Robinson said. "It is an attempt to influence the judiciary and especially the supreme court of the United States."

"I know lots of federal judges and I talk with them about prohibition."

"You should be cited in contempt," charged Robinson.

"Justice Stone didn't cite me in contempt."

"He should have," replied Robinson.

"He is here in the capitol, why don't you call him," challenged Curran.

Letters to Taft

Robinson dropped the subject but not until Curran revealed that there also has been correspondence with the late Chief Justice Taft.

Senator Blaine, Republican of Wisconsin, a wet, objected to allowing a series of reports by Carter Field, a syndicate writer, to Curran to be placed in the record without a full vote of the committee," because they reflect on the alleged drinking of dry members of the house."

"I vote here for instance, that 'Blank,' although he votes dry in the house gets drunk, and when asked about his stand on prohibition points to the glass in front of him! I don't want these reports reflecting on members of the house to go in without the full committee deciding on its propriety."

"All right," said Robinson, "we will take it up with the Senators Borah and Caraway."

Field's reports dealt with Missouri Maryland, California, Delaware and several Pennsylvania districts.

"All of these reports are like the one I have quoted from," Blaine said.

Walsh Asks Help

Robinson read a letter from Senator Walsh, Democrat of Massachusetts, asking the association to appoint a man to help him in his campaign in 1928 for the senatorship. Walsh suggested that F. G. T. Gordon of Haverhill, Mass., be assigned him at no salary but his expenses be paid by the association. This was done, and Gordon was put to work reporting to Julian I. Codman, 53 State street, Boston.

"You paid Gordon's expenses?"

"Oh yes," said Curran, "and Senator Walsh won."

The letter from Walsh to Curran, written on senate stationery on Oct. 15, 1928, read in part:

"After a talk with Mr. Gordon today I am suggesting if he was appointed a general organiser for the balance of this campaign in your association, working in the general interest of the building up of your movement, and was free to cover the same field that he covered in 1926 it would be a tremendous assistance in my campaign.

"I am therefore, applying to you in the interest of the cause we are all interested in, to so arrange matters that Mr. Gordon may have the opportunity to do for me this year what he did two years ago. Mr. Gordon will be glad to contribute his services but must have expenses."

DROUTH MARS TEXAS COTTON

Report Shows State in Need Of Rain

DALLAS, April 24. (UP)—The Texas cotton crop can not be considered satisfactory as long as the state experiences the present spring drouth, The Dallas News will say Friday morning.

"With rainfall throughout the state three inches below normal, progress of the crop can not be counted as satisfactory. More counties are waiting for April rain than in a decade," The News will say in its weekly cotton crop report.

"Planting time has arrived in Northwest Texas, but dry top soils and subsoils will delay operators until sufficient moisture falls. That area, however, can plant into June when necessary.

"Much of Northwest Texas finds further planting delayed by recent drying out of top soils, due to high winds. On the South Plains and in the breaks, country winds are drifting sands.

"The eastern half of Texas reports a fair supply of subsoil moisture, but needs top moisture to germinate seeds. While daytime temperatures have been quite high this week, nights are too cold for proper germination and growth of the plant.

"Best progress of cotton is reported from a strip of counties extending northward through the central part of Texas, where planting is largely finished and the crop is growing satisfactorily. In that section, while surface soils are drying out, there is insufficient subsoil moisture."

Delay Expected In Morton Trial

Trial of B. B. Morton on a charge of negligent homicide in connection with the death of a young woman from bichloride of mercury tablets alleged to have been used for antiseptic purposes, scheduled for call in the county court at law Monday, will probably not be held during that week because of inability to reach several of the witnesses, according to information given Thursday by L. V. Abernathy, assistant county attorney. The case probably will be held over for the next settings of the court May 12, it was said.

Settings for the week beginning Monday in the county court at law include three of theft, one of violating the food law, two of malicious mischief, two of carrying a pistol, two of aggravated assault, two of swindling, one of concealing mortgaged property, one of peddling fruit without license, six of vagrancy, one of soliciting, one of abusive language, one of drunkenness, one of affray, one of speeding, and one of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Go to Temple

Mr. and Mrs. Al Ellis will leave Friday for Temple where they will visit friends, later joining the party from Maskat temple here at Waco to greet Imperial Potentate Leo V. Youngworth.

Alcoholic Breath Made Grounds For Discharge in Ford's Factory

DETROIT, April 24. (INS)—His statement of a week ago saying that "on orders from the Ford Motor company" every employee of the company who is found drinking, either in his home or in a Dearborn speakeasy, will be discharged immediately, was enlarged today by Harry W. Bennett, chief of the Ford service department, the plant's private police force.

The drive to keep Dearborn dry will be carried so far, Bennett said, that employees who report for work with the smell of liquor on their breath will be reported.

Carl A. Brooks, Dearborn police chief, said that every complaint or "tip" on a drinkig establishment will be the signal for an immediate raid. If any Ford workers are found in the raids, they will be reported by his men to the company, Brooks said.

Actress And Friend Slain

ried in Chicago in June, 1921. She was divorced from him several years ago, it was understood by friends here.

There was a peculiarly close and intimate friendship between the two women, friends said, despite the disparity in their ages. They were together constantly.

Mrs. Palmer was tall, exquisitely formed, and had brilliant blue eyes. She affected mannish clothing to a great extent, according to friends, having appeared recently with a red velvet jockey jacket, white riding breeches and bowler hat, although she was not riding.

Theater Engagement

Both Mrs. Post and Mrs. Palmer were to have gone this evening to a "black face follies" to be given in the community playhouse at Laguna Beach. This piece was called "The Lady From Memphis." Mrs. Post had a lot to do with directing the show, and all the scenic sets were designed and painted by Mrs. Palmer.

The performance was abandoned as soon as the horrified friends of the two learned of the double tragedy.

The shooting occurred some time late this afternoon or early in the evening.

Miss Lolita Perine, who knew both quite well, met them together on the street at 4 o'clock.

"They seemed altogether normal, and when I stopped and talked with them conversation was altogether about the show that was to take place tonight," Miss Perine told Universal Service.

"I have rarely seen a more beautiful woman than Doris Palmer. Whatever she wore—boys' clothing of which she was fond, or smart gowns—she was stunning.

A maid employed in Mrs. Palmer's bungalow discovered the bodies upon returning from an errand early in the evening. They were on the living room floor. There was no evidence of a struggle, police said.

The first report of the tragedy reached the sheriff's office at Santa Ana. Deputy Carter and Coroner Brown started for Laguna. Chief of police of Laguna called for aid after making a hasty examination of the bodies.

CUBS BREAK LOSING STREAK BY WRECKING SPUDDERS, 11 TO 5

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Jinx Tucker, sports editor of The News-Tribune in Waco, doesn't think much of Waco's ball club, according to his accounts of the past few games the Waco team has played with the Beaumont Exporters. In Wednesday morning's paper, Jinx described Tuesday's tussle with the Exporters as follows:

"It was another terrible exhibition of the pastime, but not nearly as poor as the one the day before. Speer, who could do nothing right on Monday, starred yesterday, leading Waco's attack with four healthy hits in four trips to the plate. Tony Piet also had a perfect day at bat, but as the days grow longer and warmer, Zoellers looks worse and worse at bat. His average fell from seven-eighths to five-eighths yesterday, and pretty soon he will be hitting exactly one-half of one per cent, and that's about as efficient as our pitching staff.

"If you can get any consolation from the announcement we will state that one of our two pitchers will probably start today. It will be either Thurman or Thormahlen."

Cheer up, Jinx, a few days ago the Spudders lost four games in a row to such paltry clubs as Shreveport and Dallas, and we're not moanin' yet.

In fact, we're not only rootin' for the Spudders, but for Waco as well. Because we hope for personal reasons that the Cubs get by the three-game series here without allowing the diamond to be turned into a race track for the Spudders. When you're scoring a game, it's all right for each side to make six or seven runs, but it becomes holy misery when the runs start totaling 15 and 16 and 20.

Taking for granted, of course, that the Spudders will wallop Mr. Pratt's Cubs soundly in each of the battles. That, of course, is a certainty than which there is no certainter, as we say in the composing room.

Incidentally, the three drubbings we undoubtedly will give the Cubs should regain for the Spudders a more dignified place in the standings. Games with the Indians and Buffs follow the Waco series, and after them our standing should be noble and upright in the eyes of the league.

The great triumph of our ball club down in Dallas Wednesday amply paid for the four blistering defeats the Spudders suffered at the hands of the Sports and the Steers. It appears from the rally the Spuds staged in the last four innings of that memorable tilt, that the team has escaped the batting slump and is ready to bear down on all opposition. As this contribution to beautiful letters is being writ it is about time for Thursday's game to start, and so we clutch our scorepad and pencil and bid our one reader, the proofreader, adieu. We're going down and watch the spasm.

The University of Illinois athletic department maintains a coaches placement bureau to handle requests for recommendations of prospective coaches to high schools and other institutions. This is the time of year that coaches are engaged.

ERRORS SPEED WACO'S TALLIES

Visitors Collect 14 Hits Off Their Foes

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Del Pratt's Waco Cubs saddled their reputation for making errors and playing sandlot baseball squarely on the shoulders of none other than our Spudders Thursday, and while Cubs were frolicking through an errorless game, the Spudders made eight bungles. Bad enough though that was, it wouldn't have been so terrible if our trio of pitchers, White, Galeria and Flinn had not allowed 14 hits while the erstwhile Spudder sluggers were collecting only six. All in all, it was a bad day that came shockingly on the heels of the Spudder's sensational last-inning victory over Dallas Tuesday. And the final score was Waco 11, Wichita Falls 5.

Larry Hits Homer

The Spudders did some very creditable slugging, but at the wrong moments. The bases were packed several times, but Bettencourt hit his homer, the only one of the game in the fourth with none on.

Meanwhile the Cubs, defeated three times in as many days by the Beaumont Exporters, started from the very first to recover their lost honor. Rye, the center fielder, first man up, clouted a mighty triple against the left field boards, and the war was on. Gottleber grounded out, second to first. Stuvengen singled to center, scoring Rye. Munson was safe on first when Storti muffed the ball, and Stuvengen took second. Heath singled to center, scoring Stuvengen and Munson took third. Speer grounded out, pitcher to first. Molesworth's hit to left was good for a single in anybody's pasture, Munson and Heath scoring. Piet forced Molesworth, second to short, and the inning closed.

Big Lester White improved after this and managed to hold the foe scoreless until the seventh, when, after he had allowed five runs to filter in he was replaced by Galeria. Molesworth had just singled, driving in Heath and Speer, when Lester was jerked. Piet took one of Galeria's offerings for a single to left, advancing Molesworth to second. Thurman walked, filling the bases. Rye gorunded out, short to first, Molesworth scoring. Piet taking third and Thurman second. Levey muffed Gottleber's infield clout and the batter was safe at first, Piet scoring and Thurman taking third. Crouch caught Stuvengen's foul to close the inning.

Thurman Scores

Thurman scored the last Waco tally in the ninth off Roland Flinn, the great tall boy from Maine, who made his season's debut on the mound when he relieved Galeria in the eighth. Thurman walked, went to second when Gottleber walked, and when Stuvengen was safe at first on Flinn's failure to handle Storti's throw, Flinn recovered, however, in time to through Gottleber out at third for the final out, Piet having grounded out, pitcher to first, and Rye having struck out.

Meanwhile the Spudders made their tallies in the fourth, seventh and ninth. Bettencourt's homer in the fourth started it. Euller followed him to bat and smote down the third base line for a single. Crouch walked. Both Euller and Crouch advanced on a wild pitch. White walked, filling the bases. Levey sacrificed to center, Euller scoring. Storti and Fitzgerald went out in order on a foul which the first baseman handled, and a pop to short.

In the seventh Storti started it with a single past second. Fitzgerald walked, advancing Storti to second. Klaza flied out to center. Burns grounded out, second to first. Storti taking third and Fitzgerald scoring. Bettencourt singled down the third base line, Storti scoring and Fitzgerald taking third. Euller walked, filling the bases. Crouch walked, forcing Fitzgerald home, and Thormahlen, who had pitched good ball up till now, was relieved by Thurman, who finished for Waco. Bradbury batting for Galeria, forced Crouch at second, Molesworth to Piet, to close the inning.

The Final Tally

The ninth inning tally came when Kloza walked, went to second when Burns strolled, took third on a passed ball which also advanced Burns and scored on Bettencourt's sacrifice fly to left. The next three batters were retired in order and the game was over.

The two teams meet today in the second game of the series of three.

Railroad Named In $1,150 Suit Filed Here

Damages amounting to $1,150 are asked in a suit filed Thursday against the Texas & Pacific Railway company on behalf of Rex, Ruth and Rosly Price, minors, on a claim growing out of injuries alleged to have been sustained by their father while in the employ of the railway about a year before his death. The petition claims Mr. Price fell from a car while working on the railroad near Westbrook, Texas, and sustained a broken leg which prevented him from contributing to his children's support during the time he was in a hospital. The suit was brought in behalf of the children by Eunice G. Price as administratrix and next friend. Mr. Price's death is not claimed to have resulted from his injuries, an attack of acute indigestion having claimed his life suddenly last January, according to H. Clay McBride, attorney for the plaintiffs.

DALLAS, April 24. (AP)—With every man on the Dallas team except Catcher Myers hitting, the Dallas Steers swamped the lowly San Antonio Indians, 12 to 2, here today. ROTARY CLUB TO SPONSOR BOYS' LOOP AGAIN THIS YEAR

VALLEY LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

Two New Circuits in Amateur Circles

The Wichita Falls Rotary club this year will again sponsor a boys' baseball loop to be known as the Rotary league, W. B. Ward, chairman of the boys' work committee of the club, announced Thursday.

The league was a decided success last year, the youthful sandlotters sweeping through all opposition here, and being proclaimed North Texas champions in the state semi-finals at Fort Worth. The nine was defeated for the state championship, however, when it encountered stiff opposition at the state meet in San Antonio.

Loop for Youths

Work on reorganizing the loop is now in progress, Mr. Ward said. Membership in the teams in the league will be restricted to youths of 15 years of age or under. Teams may be entered only from the Scotland park district, the San Jacinto district, the Riley park district, the north side and east side community districts, and the ball park and Jalonic districts, other districts in the city being taken care of by the park department loops and directed by C. C. Bunnenberg.

Youths in the above mentioned districts who have teams organized and who wish to enter them in the boys' league are advised to get in touch with Mr. Ward immediately.

Valley League Formed

Amateur baseball circles were busy Thursday preparing for the opening of their seasons the first part of May. The newest addition to the amateur class was the Wichita Valley Amateur league, which is composed of two entries in Wichita Falls, and one each in Byers, Electra, Iowa Park, Archer City, Burkburnett, and K. M. A. Mr. Ward was elected president of the loop and Charles S. Cook, of the Dixon Motor company team, secretary. The second entry in the league from Wichita Falls has not as yet been named. Organization of the league, including the adoption of constitution and by-laws, has been completed, with the exception of adoption of a schedule. The schedule likely will be completed in a few days. Protested games are to be decided by an arbitration committee composed of J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league; William E. Huff, president of the Wichita Falls Baseball club, and Al Parker, sports editor of The Wichita Daily Times.

Sport Model Shell For Husky Oarsmen

SEATTLE, April 24. (AP)—When the University of Washington crew races down the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., next June in the annual collegiate rowing regatta the spectators will have little trouble spotting the Huskies in their new cream-color "sport model" shell.

Something new in racing boats has been manufactured for the Washington eight by George Pocock, internationally known shell builder. It was made out of Alaska cedar, the same material Pocock uses for racing oars. It is the first shell of its kind, and probably the last as the wood grows too small to use commerically for boat building.

The Alaska product which was given Pocock as a present is said to be stronger than the conventional red cedar used in shells. The boat was built a little higher than the average craft, making it more seaworthy.

In its beautiful natural cream-color finish the new Husky boat stands out like a diamond among the older shells of the Washington fleet and it will be conspicuous on the Hudson whether the crew comes in first or last.

Star Purdue Runner After New Mile Mark

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 24. (AP)—Orval Martin, Purdue university's star runner, is after the Western conference outdoor mile record this year.

Martin already has breasted the mile tape in two-tenths of a second less than the Big Ten record, and he hopes to clip off this margin in 1930. The record, 4:15:8 was set by Fall of Oberlin 13 years ago.

Martin, whose most remarkable performance of all probably was his going through five Big Ten championship meets without defeat, holds the conference mile and half-mile indoor records. He won the conference cross country championship last fall, broke the Illinois relays 1,500-meter mark in 1929 and the 1,000-yard mark at the same meet this spring.

Exhibiting stamina such as is rarely seen, Martin this year won the mile indoor race and a short time afterward came back to break his own Big Ten half mile mark.

The Purdue runner, who is captain of the squad this spring, stepped into the middle of the collegiate track spotlight as a sophomore when he set a new record for 880 yards. He won the mile race the following spring. Since that time he has been one of the most feared runners of the country.

LONGHORNS OFF ON ROAD TRIP

Orange Nine Whips Aggies Two Straight

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP)—Having disposed of the Texas Aggies in two straight games, the University of Texas baseball team left here today on one of the longest road trips ever taken by a Longhorn squad. The Steers were to play S. M. U. at Dallas tomorrow and Saturday; T. C. U. at Fort Worth, Monday and Tuesday; Baylor at Waco May 2 and 3 and Rice Institute at Houston, May 5 and 6.

The games with T. C. U. may prove the deciding factor in determining the 1930 championship of the Southwest conference. T. C. U. is leading the conference, two full games ahead of Texas, with S. M. U. in the cellar with 10 losses and no wins.

BOB THE GOB NOT WORRIED

Yanks Will Come Out of Slump, He Hopes

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 24.—The historic inability of one rose to proclaim a summer is a soothing philosophy these days to Bob Shawkey, new manager of the New York Yankees. For it is just as self-evident that five straight losing ball games at the start do not make a season, though he'll grant you they don't help much, either.

Robert the Gob had a multitude of explanations to offer today for the quick nose dive of the Yankees, rated as the outstanding contender to Connie Mack's Athletics, to the cellar of the American league in the first two weeks of play. As the brisk cold froze out the chance to win his first game from the A's Bob had enough time on his hands to figure out that his was a better ball club than the world champion Athletics everywhere but on the pitching hill.

"We're not hitting," he said. "That's the trouble, but it's the best kind of trouble I could have because if there is anything you can be certain of over a full season's play it's that the Yankees will hit.

"The outfield, with Babe Ruth, Earl Combs, Byrd and Cooke in there has hit exactly .119 in five games. You know that can't last. Tony Lazzeri, a .350 hitter, has had three safe bingles. Cooke will start hitting when the rest do. The only man on the team hitting his normal stride is Lou Gehrig and Lou had a bad season last year.

"Gehrig should go great. He fell into a bad habit of taking his eyes off the ball last season and falling away as he swung. He has remedied the fault and should climb right back into the .350 class."

Dawson Halts Friends Wishing To Protest His Banishment as Amateur

By FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK, April 24.—Before sailing for England aboard the S. S. Berengaria yesterday, Johnny Dawson of Chicago, recently declared ineligible for amateur golf in this county, acted to prevent a threatened expose on his behalf which might have blasted the august United States Golf association to its very foundations.

The storm was brewed in the Middle West, where Johnny has a host of admirers, and was aimed at the amateur standing of a number of the country's most prominent golfers, including at least two members of the executive committee of the U. S. G. A.

Scene Is Averted

Although grievously disappointed because of the recent action barring him from further amateur competition, Dawson, like a sportsman, refused to authorize the move on his behalf. Johnny pleaded with his western friends not to make public the documents and charges they had prepared.

This sporting action on Dawson's part prevented an outburst which undoubtedly would have made thins most unpleasant for the U. S. G. A., as well as for a number of golfers who at present are recognized as amateurs. The move on Johnny's behalf might have been unsuccessful, for the present powers that be in the U. S. G. A. are firmly entrenched, but it would have caused a most unsatisfactory row and would have given the game of golf in this country a decidedly black eye.

Because of this, although he still hopes to regain his amateur standing, Johnny Dawson spoke firmly to his friends in the West and succeeded in persuading them to withhold their fire temporarily. Whether the matter will be brought up when a representative of the Western Golf association attends a meeting of the executive committee of the U. S. G. A. at Southampton this coming week-end remains to be seen.

The question of Dawson's eligibility will be discussed on that occasion with little likelihood Johnny will be reinstated as an amateur.

Dawson works for Spaldings, but maintains he is not being paid for his skill as a golfer, which is admittedly exceptional. Something to be said on his behalf in this connection is that his salary is small, obviously not one which would be paid by a firm seeking to employ him because of his golfing skill. Moreover he has worked for Spaldings for nine years and did so before he played golf at all.

Johnny has been advised by officials of the U. S. G. A. to leave the sporting goods firm if he wishes to regain his amateur standing. He has been offered three times his present salary to represent a bond house, an occupation in which he admittedly would be paid because of his ability to play golf, but he would be an amateur under those circumstances, according to the U. S. G. A. ruling.

Having made up his mind to remain with his present employers, "even if I never play another game of golf," as he told me last night just before sailing, Dawson is likely to remain ineligible for some time, before sailing, Dawson is likely to remain ineligible for some time, possibly until a more liberal group takes control of the U. S. G. A.

The threatened storm, which Johnny prevented, might have led to some such change, but he did not desire it on his behalf.

Modesty

LONDON.—Modesty is one virtue which will never be lost in Oswestry. Girls of Oswestry simply refuse to indulge in mixed bathing, and the young men are so shy that they will not go swimming with the fair sex. An attempt was made recently to promote mixed bathing on the beaches, but the attendance fell so that the attempt was abandoned.

TEXAS NETTER DEFEATS STAR

Allison Outplays Lott in Semi-Finals

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 24. (AP)—John van Ryn of Orange, N. J., former Princeton star, eliminated Frank Hunter, No. 2 ranking player, in the semi-final round of the annual Mason and Dixon tennis tournament here today. The scores were 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

In the other semi-finals, Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, giant killer of the tournament, had put out George Lott of Chicago, No. 3 ranking player by scores of 4-6, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

Allison and Van Ryn, Davis cup doubles partners, will meet in the finals tomorrow.

Allison, defending champion, was unable to cope with Lott's brilliant service and all-court attack in the first two sets and was kept on the defensive in the back court. But in the third set the dashing Texan wrested away the offensive, began storming the net and steadily pulled ahead to win a dramatic victory.

Lott appeared to relax in the third set and Allison had little difficulty stowing it away. After the 10 minutes' rest the Texan returned to the court and played as one inspired. With whirlwind smashes and volleys he scored point after point at the net. Under his furious pounding throughout the last two sets Lott seemed unnerved, double-faulting three times in the final set.

The result came as a surprise as Lott is ranked No. 4 in the country and Allison No. 7. In just such a five-set match, however, Allison took the Chicagoan's measure in the 1929 national championships at Forest Hills.

ELECTRIC STARTING in Larger Sea-Horses

ALTERNATE FIRING
in Smaller Sea-Horses

GREAT news for all who buy outboard motors this year!

Larger Sea-Horse models—world's speed champions—now come with electric starter of amazingly simplified light weight design as optional equipment. It also charges battery and makes the motor non-stalling even at the slowest crawl.

Alternate firing in Sea-Horses "4" and "12" is an equally great advance in small motors. Two sparks per revolution, instead of one, make starting the easiest ever known in rope-started models and cut vibration in half.

See these revolutionary outboards at the nearest dealer listed below. Or write for color-illustrated catalog. Eight models, $125 to $395, f.o.b. factory, with features like the Water-cooled Underwater Exhaust and Release Charger that make Sea-Horses outsell all other makes combined.

Sold and serviced by dealers listed below.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—A sharp early advance in cotton due to continued covering by near month trade or speculative shorts was followed by reactions under realizing today. May after selling up to 16.47 on the urgent early demand or 39 points net higher, closed at 16.28 compared with 16.08 the previous day. New October sold up to 15.32 early and closed at 15.17 with the general market closing barely steady net 20 points higher to 5 points lower.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 12 points on a renewal of covering by near month shorts. The advance extended to 16.46 for July, making net gains of 24 to 39 points on the old crop positions, new crop months influenced by the strength of the old, sold up to 15.45 for new December or about 18 to 22 points net higher. The demand tapered. July closed at 16.33 and the new December at 15.30.

An overnight statement by a local firm understood to be carrying contracts in the near months here for cooperative interests, to the effect that they though May notices Friday would be less than generally expected but that in any event they would be promptly stopped. May have been a factor in the early buying of May and July. May which had closed at 13 points under July yesterday, sold up to or a shade above the July position and increased its premium over the new October to about 114 points before the demand was supplied.

Exports, 7.030 bales making 6,214,189 so far this season. Port receipts, 3,783. U. S. port stocks 1,671,378.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—Cotton was again active today and prices made a further advance particularly on the May position owing to covering by belated shorts in that month in advance of first notice day tomorrow.

Although Liverpool came in lower than due the market here opened firm and by the end of the first hour, old crop months showed gains of 17 to 18 points. Prices continued to gain during the opening until at noon values showed gains of 25 to 35 points, due to selling on prospects of rain.

The market opened 1 to 12 points higher and advanced until at the end of the first hour, May traded at 15.88 and active positions generally to levels 14 to 17 points above the previous close. The market improved during the morning on the covering and some price fixing by mills. At noon May traded to 16.06, July 16.14, or 25 to 35 points above the previous close. October advanced to 15.32, or only 14 points up.

During the afternoon, the market eased. The new crop months made new lows, 14 to 17 points under the highs, while near positions, eased off 17 to 21 points. July opened 15.98 and closed at 15.97, or 8 points net higher. The general market closed steady, net 14 points up to four down.

In late trading new crop months made new lows at 15.18 for October and 15.31 for December or 14 to 17 points down from the highs. This easiness was attributed to selling on prospects for better weather. Old crop positions eased off 17 to 21 points from the top on profit taking. May closed at 15.85 and October 15.18, or unchanged to 14 points up on these active months.

Specialty Issues Take Lead As Stocks Average Lower Generally

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 24. (US)—Stocks sold off again today on the average while Specialties featured by reason of strength influenced by group work and rumors of important deals under negotiation. The continued ease in money brought sufficient new buying to limit losses to a point or two but the continued softness of Steel and other pivotal issues enhanced reactionary sentiment.

Steel finished 1⅞ lower while Bethlehem lost 1½, Gillette 2½, Westinghouse 1, Columbia Graphaphone 1, Sears Roebuck 1¾, United Aircraft 3, United Corporation 1⅞, General Foods 1⅛, Union Pacific 2, Hudson 2¾, Electric Power 1¼, Pan-American B 2¾, and Chrysler 1⅛. Radio jumped 1¾ more, Vanadium gained 2½, Montgomery Ward 1¼, Anaconda 1⅛, Consolidated Gas 1, Baltimore & Ohio 1¼, and Diamond Match gained 6 points more.

Volume fell off to the 5,300,000 share level. Call money eased from 4 to 3½ per cent.

Rumors continued to fly thick and fast as to deals under negotiation by the Radio and Amusement people. The most important is that negotiations looking to grouping of Columbia Graphaphone and the Gramaphone company have been resumed. As Gramaphone is controlled by Radio Corporation, this would mean further extension of Radio's world-wide activities. Radio Keith is understood to have made offer for Pathe and there is said to be but slight difference between interested parties as to price. Best buying has been in Pathe 7 per cent debentures. There was talk of Radio Keith being after Shubert but this is denied. Activity in Shubert is characterized as "one of those things" in the way of pool work. Strong group was at work in Fox. Those who should know the amusement field talk best about Loew's, however. Radio Keith would pay 110 for holdings of Loew's theaters that pass to General Theaters under the new deal, it is claimed.

New officials were elected to the Montgomery Ward management as was exclusively forecast here last week. They are expected to stop the "politics," etc., and change other things that have not been doing the business any good. There was further expectation voiced that Copper price would be cut to 12 cents a pound as Chile, the Anaconda subsidiary, reduced its dividend to $3 a share. Studebaker selling is due to expectation that its payment may be reduced next week as a result of the drop in earnings since the first of the year. The general foods development, told of yesterday, took the form of announcement that a leading banking group had acquired a large block of stock and would have voice in the management.

Recent buying of Shattuck is explained as due to election of Mr. Shattuck to the board of a candy and magazine distributing organization. A large investment trust is reported to have been accumulating Drug, Inc., coincident with reports of increasing earnings. Standard Oil of New Jersey stockholders may receive special distribution as a result of plan to form new subsidiary. The Simms group took a more aggressive position coincident with further reports indicating another advance in crude oil prices soon. Mexican seaboard is the subject of special analysis of a leading stock exchange firm which emphasizes the prospects of its large acreage in Kettleman hills as well as telling of increasing revenue from current gas output.

Increase of $92,000,000 in loans is nothing to worry about. It's about as expected and is due as much to financing as to stock speculation. The one distributing feature is the further gain of $44,000,000 in loans "for others," as it represents money of investment trusts or others who cannot regard the security markets as attractive or else they would not put their funds to work for the 4 per cent and less available in call loans. Condition statements of both the local reserve bank and the system indicated the reserve board was not worried about the money outlook. The board is committed to an easy money policy for the immediate future but the banks reduced both government security holdings and discounts. Indication that brokers expected the low money rates to remain for a while was given in the gain of $30,000,000 in time loans.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, April 24. (AP)—Good demand at unchanged prices was responsible today for light offerings of all grains except barley, which was slow. Dealers reported corn and sorghums especially easy to move while wheat meeting special needs, sold readily.

Bids and offers ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling $1.12½@1.13.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 94½@95½c; No. 2 white 97@98c; No. 2 yellow 98@99c.

Oats—No. 2 red 56@57c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally, 74@75c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.88@1.90; No. 2 kaffir $1.57@1.59.

Cane Seed—Bulk country run red top per 100 pounds according to type, origin, germination and clean-out, $4.25@4.60.

Dealers quoted delivered Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 91½@92½c; No. 2 white corn 94@95c; No. 2 yellow corn 95@96c; No. 3 white oats 53@53½c. Add one cent to white oats for delivery group three.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Indications that government sponsored agencies were selling wheat on price bulges led to a maximum setback of 2⅜ cents a bushel at one time today.

Generally favorable crop reports from the Northwest, as well as forecasts of showers in drought districts southwest, counted also as a bearish influence. Estimates were current that the grain stabilization corporation possesses 50,000,000 bushels of wheat, and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde was quoted as acknowledging that the federal farm board had made a mistake in following economists figures on world supply and demand.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅝@1⅛c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@⅝c off, oats ⅛@¼c down and provisions unchanged to 10c drop.

Corn and oats sympathized with downturns in wheat values. Besides, corn offerings from the country were somewhat larger.

Provisions responded to hog market declines.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 1.01⅞@1.02, $1.04⅜; July $1.04⅛@1.04¼, $107⅝; Sept. $1.07⅝; $1.10½; Dec. $1.12⅝, $1.15⅝. Corn—May, 81¼@81¼c, 82⅝c; July, 82⅞@83c, 84c; Sept. 84½c, 85½c; Dec. (bids) 78c.

NEWCASTLE OIL WORK GOES ON

Unabated Activity Shows Satisfactory Results

Special to the Record News.

NEWCASTLE, Texas, April 24.—The oil activities around Newcastle continue unabated. The Remington and Taack sands hold the spotlight with three excellent producers and two smaller wells in the past week. Acreage is being blocked, locations staked and drilling machines moved in daily. Trading has been brisk, substantial prices being paid for leases.

Much interest has been aroused by the completion of two wells on the J. D. Lowe farm five miles north of Newcastle. T. E. L. survey, 250, during this week. The Taack sand furnished both at around 640 fet, one, the Independent Oil company No. 2 located 150 feet from their No. 1 and another the Panhandle's No. 1 located 150 feet from the south line of the northwest 40 acres of the above survey. Both of these wells have a flush production of 90 barrels per day. The three producers on the Lowe farm have a combined output of over 200 barrels daily.

70-Barrel Well

Another feature well completed this week was the B. P. Larimore No. 2, T. E. L. survey, No. 2247, 150 feet from the south line and 500 feet from the west line. The well was drilled by Dr. Riggs. The hole is full of fluid and production is estimated at 70 barrels. The pay is from the Remington sand at around 690 feet.

The E. M. Remington No. 2, T. E. L. survey, 2248, owned by Remington & Terrell has been producing for 18 days with a steady daily output of 108 barrels. The Remington No. 3, same survey and located 300 from the north and west lines, is on the sand.

The Panhandle company's E. C. Keith, No. 1 T. E. L. survey, 267, 150 feet from the east and 1,800 feet from the south line is drilling at 500 feet. This test is an offset to the 15 barrel well completed by Omohundro et al on the Keith farm last week.

On the east side of highway 24 offsetting the Keith lease, Dr. Riggs has completed his C. J. Taack No. 5 at the usual depth, 656 feet, for 15 barrels.

Paul Deats of Graham, drilling on the J. F. Barnett farm, T. E. L. survey, 2245 found a nice showing of oil in the Remington sand at 696 feet, but not sufficient to justify continuous production.

A test has been spudded in the northeast 80 acres of the D. L. Keith farm, T. E. L. survey 2, three miles northwest of Newcastle.

R. H. Helm et al are drilling in the northeast 40 acres of the W. F. Hearne land T. E. L. survey 355. This well is 1½ miles northwest of Newcastle.

East of Newcastle

The Belknap Coal company has made a location in the southeast 40 acres of the T. E. L. survey 8, one half mile northeast of the city limits of Newcastle.

H. H. Galbraith will drill a test in the north 220 acres of T. E. L. survey 13, abstract No. 289, V. N. Woolfolk farm, 1½ miles southwest of Newcastle.

One three-quarter miles northmiles of Newcastle on the J. B. Terrell farm, abstract No. 221, Bill Gresham, of Wichita Falls, will drill a test 150 feet from the north and 1,800 feet from the east line. E. M. MOTHER HELD IN POISONING

Authorities Look Into Three Untimely Deaths

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 24. (INS)—Following the mysterious deaths of three members of her family, Mrs. Mary E. Hartman, 42, was under arrest here today and booked on charges of "investigating of murder."

Mrs. Hartman was taken into custody when a quantity of arsenic was found in the body of her daughter, Ruth, 14, a high school student.

The coroner's office reported there was "no other readily perceptible cause of death" about the girl's body.

While authorities are probing the cause of the girl's death they also started an investigation into the death of O. B. Hartman, the woman's husband, and Henry, her son.

The father died Oct. 10, 1927, two weeks after being struck a blow over the head, presumbaly by a burglar. He apparently was recovering but suffered a relapse and died.

The son, Henry, became violently ill last June and died after exhibiting symptoms of ptomaine poisoning.

The bodies of father and son have been ordered exhumed for examination.

Moody and Kohler In New Dispute

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP)—Texas and Wisconsin have new differences.

Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin has suggested to Governor Moody that their respective committees to adjust differences existing over Wisconsin's Texas realty ban meet in St. Louis, "an intermediate and neutral point." Governor Moody wants the Wisconsin representatives to come to Texas and the Rio Grande valley for a first hand inspection of the lands, some of which the Wisconsin state realty board would bar from the market in that state.

"St. Louis is a long way from Texas and the valley," Governor Moody said. "I cannot see that anything could be accomplished in a meeting there. We were under the impression the committees were to travel in the Rio Grande valley to appraise productivity of lands there."

Bodies Buried in Lime Lead to Investigation

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., April 24. (UP)—Skeletons of a man and a woman were found last night buried under the servant house of Mrs. Cora Sutton, aged widow and led today to questioning of neighborhood negroes.

A negro tenant of Mrs. Sutton came upon the skeletons, and reported his find to the widow who called police. W. H. Stovall, an undertaker, said the bodies had been buried in quick lime within the last year. The skulls showed evidence of fractures.

Oklahoma Wild Life Preserve Designated

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 24. (UP)—Notice that President Hoover has set aside part of the government land in the salt claims section of Alfalfa county as a wild life refuge, was received today by Van Montgomery, state fish and game warden.

Hoover's executive order makes it illegal to kill or capture wild animals or birds of any kind in the refuge.

And on the day that one of our best feminine "operatives" declares that Lon Chaney's "Phantom of the Opera" is the one motion picture to whose emotional rigours she would never again submit her sensitive self, that exact production is announced to show here next Saturday and again May 3. First at a morning showing for children next Saturday, and at 11:30 p. m. as a midnight adventure for the grownups the following Saturday. It will be at the State. Close perusal of the producing company, Universal, indicates clearly that the story has not been filmed anew, but has been made over. Cinematic science has compassed methods of synchronizing sound with the original movie—but not to include Mr. Chaney. You will recall that this many-faced gentleman of the screen still has thumbs turned down on talking films.

Since the primary objective of "The Phantom" is to produce extreme horripilation in those who see it, little aid from sound is needed. Its silent production made knees quake, teeth chatter, and peopled every cellar with ghastly ghosts. Addition of speech—if that is included—and supporting musical atmosphere will require careful handling to avoid a patched up review. If those elements are smoothly blended with the original thriller, much goose-flesh will stand out during the period of "The Phantom's" revival here. But more of this later.

How many more caricatures of his name and style in the talkies will Graham McNamee survive without loss of face? This time, its "Graham McCracker" in the baseball comedy "They Learned About Women," at the Majestic. The burlesqued reproductions of Mr. McNamee's style which have been used freely before the sound-cameras are not the type to be classified as good advertising for Graham. They have accomplished some clever debunking.

"This "They Learned About Women" presents Van and Schneck in skits which prove why they have been such a wow in vaudeville for many moons. But the very saccharine taffy which strings out at such length to tie those skits together becomes terribly sticky.

Man Arrested After Mobsmen Lynch Negro

WALHALLA, S. C., April 24. (AP)—John Sanders was arrested at his home in the Monoghan mill community here today as a member of the mob which early today lynched Allen Green, negro. Officers said Sheriff John Thomas and his son, Eugene, had recognized Sanders among the mob which took Green from them.

Grundy to Be Called In Campaign Investigation

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—The senate campaign funds investigating committee today agreed to invite Senator Grundy and his opponent in the Pennsylvania Republican senatorial primary, Secretary Davis, before it to present their complaints at their convenience.

STORMS ASKED TO QUIT RACE

Waurika Man Reminded of Impeachment Issue

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 24. (UP)—Another effort to have State Senator C. S. Storms of Waurika withdraw as a candidate for lieutenant governor was made today by U. T. Rexroat of Ardmore.

Rexroat pointed out that he had opposed the impeachment of former Gov. Henry S. Johnston and that with Storms, who voted for Johnston's impeachment, and himself in the race, the issue would be raised.

He offered to withdraw as a candidate if Storms would do so. Storms rejected a similar proposal about two weeks ago.

Byrd Leaves Dunedin To Sail for America

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, April 24. (UP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd left Dunedin today for Wellington, whence he will sail for New York.

The crowd at the station was so thick that Byrd almost had to fight his way to the train.

Admiral Byrd paused at the war veteran's memorial on his way to the station long enough to lay a wreath in tribute to New Zealand's soldiers in the world war.
