Miss Juanita Michael Dies of Accident Injuries

Miss Juanita Michael of Oklahoma City, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Michael of Wellington, died Monday morning, November 16, of injuries received Friday night in a car accident near Edmond, Okla.

Miss Michael had visited here a number of times since her father has been pastor of the First Methodist Church, and was here only week before last.

Services for Miss Michael were held in Oklahoma City Tuesday morning, then her body was brought here to lie in state at the Ellis Funeral Home until Wednesday morning. Services were to be held at Abernathy, the family's former home Wednesday afternoon with burial in the family plot of the Abernathy cemetery.

Miss Michael was riding with two friends, Dr. Baker, with whom she worked, and the latter's husband. At the time of the two-car collision. She received broken ribs, broken pelvis, and other injuries. Her family was called to her bedside, but her condition was believed to be such that Rev. Michael could return here for services Sunday. Monday morning her condition grew worse.

Miss Michael, 33, was born at Rye, Colorado. She was a graduate of Panhandle A & M College, Goodwell, Oklahoma, and for 14 years she had been a technician on the staff of St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City.

Cemetery Fund Drive Gets Under Way

The fund raising drive of the Wellington Cemetery Association was opened Monday night, November 16, and during the coming weeks, an attempt will be made to contact all owners of lots as well as others who have friends buried in either of the two plots, Zook Thomas, president said.

"We are changing the time of year for holding the drive, because we feel much better results can be obtained in the fall," Mr. Thomas pointed out.

"The April fund drive brought in only a small amount of money, and the Association now needs more funds.

The care and beauty of the two Wellington cemeteries is dependent entirely on the generosity and cooperation of the people who own lots and the residents of Wellington in general," he continued.

The fall drive will be made an annual event, beginning on the third Monday in November.

Tech Players Bring Moliere For Moderns Here Friday

"The Miser," one of the high comedies of all time, presented to appeal to the most modern audiences, comes to Wellington High School Auditorium stage Friday night, November 20. It is produced by the Tech Players, students of the speech department of Texas Technological College, and is sponsored here by the senior class. Curtain time is 8:00 p. m., Mrs. Taylor Lowrie, senior sponsor, has announced.

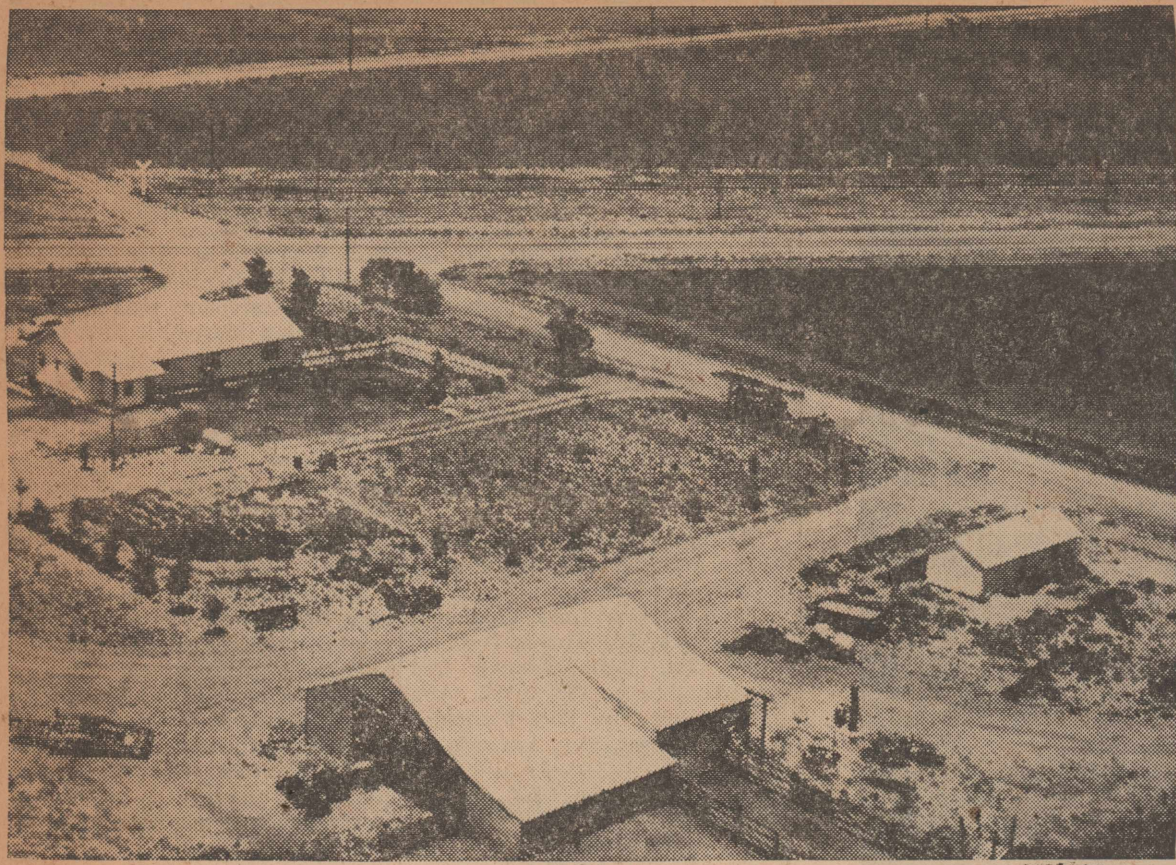

Written by Moliere at a time when his talent for comedy was at its height, "The Miser" provokes a thoughtful laughter, or as one critic said, "laughter which is a prelude to reflection."

In holding Harpagon's miserliness for ridicule, Moliere retains a perspective which enables the audience to see also the destructive effects of the miser's distorted sense of values, laughable though it often is.

Each year the Tech department of speech takes one of its productions on tour to other communities in West Texas. The tour this year includes: Littlefield, November 16; Spur, November 17; Floydada, November 19; Paducah and Wellington, November 20; Memphis November 21 and Anton, November 23.

The characters, in order in which they appear, are: Elsie, Harpagon's daughter, played by Harriet Henderson; Valere, in love with Elsie, John Perry. Cleante, Harpagon's son, Dee Bowen; La-Fleche, Cleante's valet, Tod De-Kanter; Harpagon, the miser, Fritz Stanley; La Merluche and Brindavoine, Harpagon's lackeys, Carlton Holloway and Edward Kuhn; Simon, Harpagon's agent, Dwayne Carted; Frosine, a match-maker, Joan Terry; Mistress Claude, Harpagon's housekeeper, Joyce Selman; Jaques, Harpagon's cook and coachman, Jack McCabe; Mariane, in love with Cleante, Sandra Wright; A magistrate, Tim Eysen; and Anselme, Valere's father, Bayard Foster.

Barney Glenn Place by Airport Last Week's Mystery Farm

None of the readers guessing at the identification of last week's mystery farm missed it — that is, except the owners who were so busy they didn't have a chance to look at the mystery farm until a relative phoned them. And they'd already decided just which buildings would prove the identification should their place be run in the series.

The farm belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Barney Glenn and is located just east of Marian Airport on the Dodson highway.

First to come to The Leader office and make the identification, winning the show tickets, was Ted Brock, but the first one to phone in an identification was Cal Aaron.

Others guessing were Mrs. J. B. Faulkner, Hezzer Jones, B. A. Bledsoe, Carroll Nunnally, Mrs. Elbert Warren, Mrs. Tiffin Young, Ollie Wilson, Mrs. Jack Brewer, Mrs. Jack Colson, Mrs. Roy Bounds, Mrs. L. R. Chrisco, Jerry Hurst, Jean Martin, Denzil Lacy, Mrs. A. C. Pendergrass, Eli Wolf, Dickie Dodd, Mrs. Wayne

Reynolds, and Robert Steward.

The Glenns have lived at this farm for the last four years and owned it for about six. This place is the northeast part of the section settled in the early days by the late Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Henard. About six or seven years ago, part of it was sold to the city who sold the land not used in the airport to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn.

The house was formerly on the farm at Lillie which belongs to Mrs. W. W. Johnson, mother of Mrs. Glenn, and it is the home in which they later grew up.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Glenn were born and have lived all their lives here — and suppose they will always live at Wellington.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Glenn and graduated from Wellington high school in 1933, where he was in the Rocket football team. Later he attended Amarillo Junior College. During World War II, he served nearly four years in the Navy Sea Bees, with overseas duty in Alaska and Guam.

Mrs. Glenn, the former Estilline Johnson graduated from Quail high school in 1938, attended business college in Abilene and worked in the AAA office until their marriage in 1941. She later worked at the First National Bank during the time her husband was in service.

The Glenns have two daughters, Vicki, 8 and in the third grade, and Jan, a six-year-old first grader.

Mr. Glenn now operates around 700 acres of farming land. His principal crop is cotton, with a considerable acreage of alfalfa.

He is one of the irrigation enthusiasts of the county and has two wells on his farm at Fresno. On this he is raising some of the best cotton and combine maize the county will produce this year.

He plans to try for more irrigation wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are active in the Methodist Church. He served on the board of stewards three years and she is the present secretary of the Women's Society of Christian Service. She is also a member of the Parents-Teacher Association. Mr. Glenn recently was elected a director of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau and he is a member of the school board.

Welcome to Wellington

Former residents are always welcome back to make Wellington their home. O. T. Busby and his sixteen year old son, Wesley Lee have moved here from Plainview to manage the O. K. Motel that his brother-in-law, H. M. Smelser of Plainview recently purchased.

Mr. Busby came to this county in the twenties and in 1927 was married to Miss Lilly Bounds, daughter of W. T. Bounds. They continued to make their home for several years, later moving to Amarillo where Mr. Busby was engaged in the carpenter trade. His wife passed away two years ago and after months of traveling, he and his son moved to Plainview where they lived for eighteen months before returning here to make their home.

Wesley Lee Busby is a freshman in high school and will assist his father in the management of the motel.

Elementary School News

Monday afternoon, November 9, the entire student body and faculty of the Wellington Elementary School picked up all sticks, rocks and other rubbish from the school ground. Mr. Conner used his pick-up to haul off the trash. We are proud of the improved appearance of the ground.

New pupils continue to enroll. Some of the new pupils in the first grade are Kathleen Dodson from Mig Lake; Terry Dyer and Dannie Wisdom from Amarillo; Gilbert Sims from Dimmitt; Stevie Miller from Fort Worth; Westley Hardin from Oregon; Patricia O'Hair from Afton; Robert Vincent from Clarendon. We will try to have a report of the new pupils of other grades next week.

All of the rooms in the building are overflowing.

When Elementary PTA met Wednesday, November 11, a nice surprise was their new year books. Covers were made of finger-paintings done by the first, second and third grade children.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Thursday, November 19, 1953

OTHER EDITORS SAY

40 Threshers for Dinner

In interesting insight into the way modern farm machinery has revolutionized the work of the farm is found in an editorial in the Dovers Journal.

It said, "One can't help but recall nostalgically the days of the threshing ring. When pop told mom there would be 40 for dinner, he wasn't fooling. No matter how hot it was, the coal stove in the kitchen ran full blast to turn out mountains of food for the crew. . . .

"Slowly the scene changed. The fascinating steam engine departed for the tractor. Later the thresher left the picture. One man combines came in tractor-pulled, each man doing his own harvesting with his own crew, to be followed by the self-propelled combine. Harvest is fast and simple. Everyone is harvesting at the same time, helping a neighbor if need be."

In every phase of farming, on small farms as well as big ones, machines of one kind and another have been responsible or equally great changes. It is impossible to compute the farm industry's contribution to agriculture—whether measured by productive efficiency, labor-saving, cost cutting, land conservation or any other yardstick. And in the future, with our population rising at a dizzy rate and our need for food and fiber growing proportionately, that contribution will become greater still.

Christmas Shopping Starts

Merchants tell us that many people are already doing their Christmas shopping even though Santa Claus isn't due for more than seven weeks yet. What's more, shoppers appear to be buying more expensive items this year than last. Just goes to show what good rain will do.

Record Accident Year Predicted By Safety Specialists

The announcement by leading safety specialists that this county is headed toward a record 40,000 killed and 2 million injured in traffic accidents by the end of this year should cause every citizen throughout the nation to stand up in alarmed indignation and demand that it be prevented.

At least this newspaper, in common with Alabama newspapers and some 9,000 other newspapers throughout the country, intends to offer the people of Baldwin County a full opportunity to do their part by giving them consistent and forthright facts about the cause of traffic accidents and what it will take to stop them. This will be no haphazard effort. It will be a concentrated nationwide program bearing the approval of specialists and it will have three primary objectives, as follows:

1. Firm and impartial enforcement of all speed laws, because there is no longer the slightest doubt that speed is the No. 1 killer on our streets and highways.
2. The employment of sufficient police to patrol the streets and highways with sufficient frequency to assure the arrest of motorists who violate and traffic law, because violations lead inevitably to accidents.
3. And an uncompromising demand that the courts hand down stern sentences for serious first offences and repeated minor offences, because there can be no doubt that some motorists' indifference to human safety is partly due to overly tolerant courts.

We hope everyone will read and heed the important information we shall publish. We particularly hope public officials—including legislators, judges and licensing authorities—will read it. Did you know, for instance, that in less than a dozen states last year 7,050 mental incompetents had been found driving motor vehicles—after they had accidents and law violations? This is only one of many little known facts we purpose to make as widely known as possible.

But reading and merely regretting will do very little good. Let's learn the facts and tell our legislators and public officers that we want safer streets and highways in this state.

Youthful Public Servants

Many persons overlook a faithful and efficient service which is being given them every day. In this modern society of ours we have many public servants, but these servants are not government employees and they are not another expense for your tax dollars. Who are they? They are your school safety patrols.

You've grown to take them pretty much for granted, haven't you? You shouldn't, especially if you have children in school. Do you actually realize what they mean to you? They guide children safely back and forth across the street each day. They prevent the motorists from having to run the hazard of children darting across the street and possibly right under the wheels of your car.

Their job is just as important and is done just as efficiently as the traffic officer at downtown intersection. There are not enough local traffic officers to handle the school problem, so these children both boys and girls, form a vital link in your community's traffic safety effort.

These children take great pride in their work; they enjoy it. They would also take pride in some individual praise from you. Is your child a member of the safety patrol? Have you thanked him or complimented him on the job he is doing? Even though your boy or girl is not children in school, you, as an individual on the patrol, or even if you do not have children, you should let them know that you are aware of their good work and appreciate it.

The next time you pass a school patrol think of what it would be like if they tecting the life of some of your friends were not there. Remember they are your loved ones. Support them—let them know that YOU are proud of them.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has a bright idea this week on the cattle situation. There's a flaw in it somewhere, but we haven't got time to figure it out.

Dear editor:

Everybody these days is worryin about the price of cattle, it's sort of a depressing thing, not only on the cattleman but on everybody else, as a non-cattleman gets to thinking about what has happened to the cattleman and he gets to figurin it could happen to him too and he starts clampin down on his spendin and before you know it business has begun to drag its feet.

Now I been thinkin. There's not much anybody can do about the price of cattle, except deplor it, an cattleman have already tride that and it doesn't help much.

On the other hand, lots of people have been figurin out how maybe the government can buy high feed and sell it to the cattleman, just to keep them in business, but to a man that's out of money, there just ain't no such thing as cheap feed. When you're broke, a bowl of chili is about as far out of your reach as a steak.

Therefore, I have hit on a plan. Of course nobody wants the government to go any futher in the hand out business, nobody is askin the government to buy up all the cattle and go in the ranchin business, and nobody has figured out how the latter can be avoided if price supports are established. Man Must Govern Himself

The religion of Israel was a mass religion, always emphasizing God's choice and call to the nation as a whole.

But this emphasis did not in any way minimize the importance of the individual and the soundness of his character and conduct. This has a distinct bearing upon our modern democracy, which in a way is a mass affair. We think of democracy often, perhaps too often, as consisting in popular suffrage and the rule of the majority.

However, the vote of a majority never in itself made anything right. The true essence of democracy is self-rule.

When the rule of kings is discarded, it is the individual who becomes king, and if he abdicates democracy may become a very sorry affair.

Is not our greatest weakness today the fact that so many citizens fail to exercise their prerogatives and privileges, to say nothing of their duty?

The Old Testament made plain one's place and duty as a member government is already too far in on the money-loanin business.

Now let the government go into the hay-loanin business. Instead of loanin me money to keep my cows alive this winter, why can't the government just loan me some hay?

After the government lons me the hay, I will know what to do with it, and after my cows make it through the winter, maybe enough of em will have passed on which, multiplied by the losses among all the other herds throughout the country, plus the extra meat Sec. Benson wants everybody to eat this year, will bring the price of cattle back up to where it belongs.

Me and the rest of the cattlemen will owe the government some hay. Just when we can pay it back is hard to say, but so long as the mortgage is against the hay only, the situation won't get out of hand and I can't see why it wouldn't be just as well for the government to show a hay deficit as a dollar deficit.

The first year we have plenty of rain and everybody has more hay than he knows what to do with, we could all pay the government back, and the government could then store the hay against the next drouth. I don't know the next drouth. I don't know it'll keep better than butter, and the government's been storin that for years.

Yours faithfully, of society. There was the terrible example of Achan, who, Babylonian garment and bars of silver. Profiteering Achans in their country's hour of danger have not been lacking in recent history.

Natural righteousness, to the Psalmist, meant justice. Conceptions of right and judgement were at the heart of all relationships. As the individual was responsible for his personal integrity, those who rule, that is society were responsible for rights, liberties and fair dealing.

It is the sense of right and judgement that we most need today. It is in the moral foundations that modern societies are weakest.

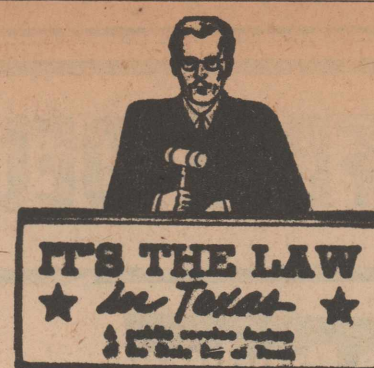

Too many issues are settled, not upon the basis of what is right and fair, but upon the power of individuals or groups to enforce their will. This would not be the case if we would recognize our duties to society.

MAKE CONTACTS SPECIFIC, AVOID DISPUTES

Nearly every day all of us are making agreements with our fellow citizens. Our whole system of free enterprise and trade is based, to a large extent, upon mutual agreements or promises to do something in the future. The important thing we need to remember is to make every agreement perfectly clear whether it is oral or written.

Generally speaking, you can enter into a verbal agreement that is just as binding as a written contract. Consequently, the great majority of contracts that we enter into never put into written form. But exact terms of an oral contract may be difficult to establish if a disagreement arises, and a well drawn written contract will help to avoid the unfortunate disputes which arise from honest misunderstanding.

Not every written contract meets the test of clarity, however. Suppose Mr. Householder has a piece of paper on which is written the heading "Proposal" and which thereafter reads as follows:

"We will build a garage for you on your lot for the estimated price of $800, work to be done in a workmanlike manner. All of our work is guaranteed to your satisfaction. Subject to the conditions printed on the reverse side."

This is signed by the XYZ Company. Under this signature is the word "Accepted" followed by a line for the signature of Mr. Householder. His question is, should he sign it?

Here are some of the misunderstandings that might arise from such an agreement: The company has agreed to build a garage—yet nothing is said about the size or type of construction. It has not even been stated whether it is to be a single or double garage. There is no indication in the agreement as to where on the lot the garage will be built. It says nothing about when the work is to be finished. There is no agreement as to whether Mr. Householder is to pay in advance, in installments, or not until it is completed.

Further, they have not actually agreed upon a price. The agreement refers to an estimated price of $800. They should be specific and make either a fixed price contract or an agreement whereby the builder is reimbursed for his expenses plus a definite profit percentage. Perhaps the XYZ Company feels that if their expenses are higher than anticipated, they will be able to charge more than the estimated $800. On the other hand, Mr. Householder probably feels that $800 is the maximum price he will have to pay.

The most important prerequisite of a clear contract is that it cover the essential elements of performance. This is not as difficult as it might seem. Here is a good rule to follow: As to the acts of each party determine what is to be done, when, where and by whom. See that these essentials parts are included in your agreement.

In addition, remember that if a contract is worth signing, it is worth reading and understanding all of it.

GIVING CAPITALISM YOUTH APPEAL

The cloak - and - dagger aspects of Communism and the glittering but false promises of Socialism make fascinating subjects for high school and college classroom discussions. On the other hand, the bare facts of capitalism or the American economic system usually are not as interestingly presented. Imagination and experimentation are needed in our schools if we are to bring to life for youngsters the truly exciting facts about our American economic system.

At the Harding College Freedom Forum last week a high school social science teacher and a personnel relations director of a lumber company in Warren, Arkansas, told how they had worked together to make the facts about American capitalism a fascinating high school subject. They were Marion Hickingbottom, of the Warren High School faculty, and William Craven, personnel director for Southern Lumber Company. Hickingbottom is a Harding College graduate. Craven attended a Harding Freedom Forum 18 months ago. Last year they got together in some community Americanism work and in time got to discussing Hickingbottom's "Problems in Democracy" course for high school seniors.

APPEAL MISSING

"One of the weakest parts of the course," Hickingbottom told our Freedom Forum conferees from 25 states, "was the presentation of Capitalism. Socialism and Communism fascinated the youngsters, although I was exposing the evil nature of the intrigue and the miserable economic results of either

Communism or Socialism. But when we got to Capitalism something was missing. We had the cold hard facts but the fascination let them study it in action, its system of doing business, its problems, its benefits to the employees and owners, and its social worth to the community. Hickingbottom went to the local school heads and Craven to his company's management for permission to conduct the experiment. Permission was granted.

AT THE PLANT

For two weeks the high school "Problems in Democracy" class spent two periods per day at Southern Lumber Company. They saw a graphic presentation of the history of the lumber industry; how in days gone by it was a cut-out-and-get-out operation; but how, in recent years, the lumber people had discovered how to grow trees as a crop and make lumbering stable and permanent. They visited the sawmill and planer mills, the sales offices and by-products operations. They went into the pine woods and saw scientific forestry being practiced.

Then Hickingbottom and Craven took them into the plant's personnel training rooms and "sold" the company to the students for $2,500,000, issuing 25,000 shares of stock. A "president," "vice-president," "treasurer" and two other "directors" were appointed. Bill Craven acted as their company manager. He placed $250,000 simulated currency on the director's table and told the "owners" this was their profit for one year. Everybody wanted to declare a dividend at once!

GOOD RESULTS

But Craven described a debarking machine which the company for youth wasn't there.

Bill Craven came up with an idea. Why not use his company as a laboratory of capitalism, take the high school seniors to it and needed. He told the "owners" it would cost $150,000 to purchase it and operate it for one year, but that it would permit sale of bark chips which currently were being burned as waste. It was a genuine business problem. The high school seniors were brought directly to grips with the pros and cons of the investment, the natural inclination toward declaring dividends, the factors of business taxes, prices and wages, sales competition, depreciation, inflation and all the other problems confronting American business. They had fun learning.

"For a time," Bill Craven told our Forum audience, "these youngsters became a part of the American business system, an element in capitalism — they became capitalists." Tests then were given. Results showed the class scored 50 per cent above the national average for high school seniors in "understanding Capitalism."

Noreds Describe Living Conditions in Alaska

A description of their new life in Alaska has been given by Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Nored, formerly of Wellington, in letters to her sisters, Mrs. J. I. Thomas and Mrs. Bob Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Nored left here a short time ago for Fairbanks, Alaska. Their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nored and children, had left here for Alaska only a short time ago. Both men are employed by the government. Here is Mr. Nored's letter:

"I like it fine here. It is new country or frontier and of course is fairly rough morally if you look for it. However, down town it is the same as any town with the exception of high prices. The land here is very level and is covered with muskeg, running from two to four feet deep. This is the accumulation of dead grasses and leaves which through the years are constantly piling up, thus creating a swamp through the summer time due to rains and melted snow which cannot go into the ground because of the black frost, or frozen ground, which never thaws. There is no large timber in the flat country for the same reason. Spruce, fir and birch are the predominant timbers which grow from three to six inches in diameter in the flat country to a huge sive on the south side of hills. Very little of the last.

We have been looking for some land on the highway to file on. Have only found 80 acres so far. There are millions of acres off the highway but it costs about $50,000 per mile to build a road to it due to the muskeg.

The money crop is potatoes which often produce 15 to 20 tons per acre. They are selling for $5 to $8 per hundred this year. Strawberries, celery, cabbage as large as wash tubs, carrots, peas, etc., also do well here. Of course the market is poor for the last items.

Before land here can be put in cultivation, besides clearing the timber, the muskeg is pushed up in windrows which are burned two to three years later. Farming is done between the windrows. The cost of clearing timber and muskeg is about $30 per acre. The 80 acres I spoke of has 10 acres cleared. The south boundary is the Tanana (pronounced Tan-an-naw) river. The north a fair sized mountain. Highway east end. We are told it is an excellent piece of land. The only thing, we wanted 160 acres instead of 80 acres. It is 40 miles from Fairbanks and 15 from Eielson Field where I work. Are going to see about it the first week day I am in town. There is the finest grass I have ever seen. Thousands of acres can be leased from the government, so Donald is investigating the possibility of bringing in calves from Montana, grazing them for 7 or 8 months and selling them here. There are very few cattle here except dairy cows and they do fine and stay fat with very little feed.

The temperature is averaging now from 5 to 15 below zero. Hasn't yet seemed as cold as a 25 degree norther there. Have only had about 4 inches of snow and won't have any more until spring. All lakes and most streams are frozen. There have been skaters on the lakes for 30 days. The ground is frozen about 12 inches now but will reach 3 to 4 feet by February.

"Hunting has been excellent this fall, as everyone got their caribou or moose. Small game—goose, etc. is also plentiful. I won't go this year as it costs $50.00 for a license. Next year I can go for $3.00.

"I am now working as a mechanical engineer. This is designing and estimating cost of all classes of mechanical installations, i.e.: heating, electrical, etc. Strictly office. Donald is field lighting. This is maintaining lights on landing strips, clearance lights, etc. Nadine is working for Commercial foods. Her salary is $2.15 an hour, six days a week. Food prices are about the same as they are there when bought here on the post. In town they run about 25 to 40 per cent higher."

To this, Mrs. Nored added: "It's about 10 below today and supposed to get down to 37 below tonight so you can imagine how cold it is. I haven't been out of the house and can hardly realize its that cold. Some days I never get out the door as we have to put so many clothes on when we do get out.

"You should have seen me Sunday. We drove about 25 miles out in the country and were going to get out and see if we could kill a rabbit. Well, I put on my long handles, then two pair of trousers, two shirts, two pair of wool socks (one for my feet, the other pair over my shoes) then I've bought me some fleece lined boots so I put them on, then my heavy coat. I looked just like these Eskimos, only I haven't bought anything to wear on my head, so just had to wear a wool scarf. Results, I wasn't able to walk far. Anyway, that's the way we bundle up when we are going to be outside long. It don't seem cold when you first get out as there is no wind, so I don't notice it when I'm going to the commissary as I get in the car here at the house and drive to the commissary and get out. I have to go there most every day, as they limit us to 4 quarts of milk a day."

Eagles, Eaglettes
Take Pair of Wins
From Vinson Teams

Norwood Eagles and Eaglettes went on a victory rampage Monday night, November 9, to take a doubleheader from the Vinson, Oklahoma teams.

The Eagles won 63 to 35. "The score was 14 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, and after that the perfect condition of the Eagles paid off. They ran wild over the court. Coach Purl Tippie played everything he had on the team," Supt. Orville Cunningham declared.

"This year's team is not large or tall. They're about five feet eleven inches on the average, but they're very, very fast, and they're trained as well as any team I've ever seen. They live their training religiously."

High scorer was George Cunningham of the Eagles with 15 points. Second was Thurman Taylor with 12, while Jerry Martindale scored 9. Brice got 11, and Darrow and Smith tied with 10 points each for Vinson.

Starters included Taylor, Ray Newkirk and Billy Bruce Oldham, forwards, Cunningham and Martindale, guards. Other players were James Martindale, James Massey, T. C. Newkirk, Billy Tippie, Tommy Jones, Carroll Favors and Wayne Ketchum. Starting for Vinson were Peeler and Darrow, forwards, Smith center, and Brice and Pence, guards.

The Eaglettes were the winners 38 to 23.

The Norwood girls lead a few points through the first half of the game, then ran away with the playing during the second half, with Coach Howard Perkins playing every girl on the team.

Kay Newkirk, pivot forward, with 23 points, was high scorer.

The starting lineups included Kay Newkirk, Peggy Martindale and Shirley Montgomery, forwards; Janice Oldham, Sue Pritchard and Shirley Brown, guards.

LOCO

By MRS. GEORGE ADKINS

The heavy dews of each night have limited the cotton harvest to one-half days. The fields that have had killing frosts are being pulled with machinery, but a number of farmers report their cotton leaves are not dead.

The 42 party has again been postponed due to sickness in the community.

Quite a number from here drove to Olney to see Wellington's final football game of the season.

The roads have been graded here this week.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. J. P. Sullivan and her children at the death of Mr. Sullivan who died Sunday night in St. Joseph's Hospital following two strokes. Funeral arrangements at this writing are incomplete.

This week's Mystery Farm appears to be one of the older settled places of the section, but nevertheless one that has been well cared for through the years. The Wellington Leader is changing its guessing rules a little, effective this week. In the future, the first person either phoning or coming by the office after 8:00 a.m. Thursday, will win the free show tickets—to be given him after the identification has been verified by the owner. The owner, if he will call at The Wellington Leader office, will receive a mounted picture of his farm like the one above.

Rev. Russell D. Allen filled his regular appointments at the Bethel Methodist church. The morning services were devoted to four young men from Wellington who were entering the service Monday. Good attendance was recorded at both services.

Olney Too Much for Late Playing of Rockets

By DON SCOTT

The hard-fighting Wellington Skyrocks staged a brilliant last-half surge, too late to overcome the 12-0 lead which Olney Cubs enjoyed at half-time, and the Rockets' last game of the season was lost to the Cubs, 19-13, at Olney Friday night. In spite of the distance the near-East Texas city, upwards of 150 Wellington fans were on hand for the game.

Nothing worked for the Wellington team in the first half, and the Cubs were clicking, but without the defensive work of Rocket Guard Ray Wauer, Center Camal Dakil and Tackle Frank Jones, the score could have been much higher. The ill-fated Rockets lost possession of the ball on fumbles four times in the first two quarters, twice inside the Wellington 20. Rocket Quarterback Lonnie Wood had two passes intercepted and each time the Wellington lads narrowly escaped being scored on.

The Rockets received the opening kickoff. From their 20, they kept the ball for three plays, fumbled, and the Cubs recovered. It took Olney four plays to cover 21 yards for their first touchdown. The kick was blocked by the entire Rocket line.

Early in the second quarter, the Cubs scored again. The Rockets, in possession on their own 38, fumbled. On the Cubs' first play, Fullback Carl Holt raced to the 2, where Ray Wauer brought him down from behind. Holt tried but failed, and Quarterback Slater sneaked the remaining 2 yards for the second Olney tally. Again the kick was blocked and the half ended with the score 12-0.

With Rocket Fullback Douglas Duncan's leg injured on the last play of the first half, Jimmie McCutchen kicked off for the Rockets. Near the last of the third quarter, the Cubs again drew blood. After Dakil had set the Olney quarterback on his heels for 3 yards minus, Slater tossed a 40-yard pass to Mike Myers, who carried 30 more to cross the Rocket goal line. This time, Holt's try for point-after was good.

The Rockets' scoring came in the last period when End Ed Bawcom snagged a 25-yard pass in the Olney 12, and from there Hood and Wood took the ball over in two tries. Starkey's kick for extra point was good.

Late in the last quarter, Johnny Brock, substituting for Duncan, after covering most of the yardage in a long drive for the Olney goal line, finished it off with a 14-yard run for the Rockets' second TD.

Starkey's try was no good.

FIRST HALF

The Rockets received the opening kickoff, but it rolled into the end zone and was brought out to their 20-yard line. Wood, Wellington quarterback, took a keeper around right end but failed to gain. Wood kept again for a try at left tackle and picked up a yard. Duncan started on a line-buck but fumbled and the Cubs recovered on the Rocket 21.

Holt carried for the Cubs, picking up 7. Slater, on a keeper, gave the Olney team a first down with two yards to spare. Holt carried for 3 to the Rocket 6, and again for 6 yards over right guard to score. The try for extra point failed.

Slater kicked off for the Cubs, to the Rocket 30, where Bawcom returned 6 yards. Holliman smashed right guard for 4, Duncan went through left tackle for a first down. Holliman hit right guard for 2. Duncan, trying to skirt the Cubs' defense around end, was thrown back 16 yards. The Rockets punted, the kick going to the Cub 31, where Slater moved it out to the 46 before he was brought down.

Tiffany, for the Cubs, carried first and moved 13 yards before being stopped. Holt picked up 5 and Tiffany took it again to make the other 5 for a first down, putting the ball on the Wellington 31-yard line. Tiffany again, carried, this time for 4. Slater tried left end on a keeper and lost 3. Slater attempted two passes and the Rockets took over on their own 30.

Holliman went over left guard but was stopped at the line of scrimmage. Rocket Quarterback Wood faked back and tossed to Ed Bawcom, 45 yards down the field to the Olney 25. Tarver, for the Rockets, plowed over the left guard for 4. Duncan tried left tackle and picked up 6 yards to the Olney 15. On the next play the Cubs recovered a fumble and took over on their 16.

Tiffany carried over right guard for 3, Holt over left guard for 1. Holt tried right guard but Frank Jones was in the hole and Holt out of bounds on the Wellington gained nothing. The Cubs punted 44.

Holliman started off the Rocket offensive by making 3 at right guard. Duncan took 7 through left guard, for a first down. Wood, on a keeper over left tackle, got 6. Duncan hit right guard for 5, and Holliman lost one at the same place. On the next play, Wood went around left end and was hit, pitched out to Duncan who carried on down to the 26, fumbled, and the Cubs recovered.

Slater drove at right tackle on a keeper, but Agee stopped him. a yard gain, to put the ball on the Olney 27. Slater faded to pass, but Dakil crashed over center and threw him for a 3-yard loss. Holt picked up 7 and the Cubs punted to Duncan on his 30. He was dropped on the 31.

"After the Rockets received a 5-yard set back, Duncan picked up 9, but fumbled on the next play and the Cubs recovered.

Olney took over on the Wellington 33. On the first play from scrimmage, Holt crashed over right guard and ran 36 yards to the Rocket 2, where Ray Wauer overhauled him. Holt tried to make the last 2 but failed to gain. Slater went over on a quarterback sneak. Holt's try for point-after was no good.

The Olney kick went to Wood on the Wellington 34, and there it stayed. Wood faded for a pass and the ball went straight into the hands of Olney's Rae on the Rocket 34.

Holt smashed over left guard for 4. Tiffany made no gain at right guard. A pass attempt by Slater was no good. Tiffany gave the Cubs a first down by carrying over right guard for 6. Holt took a pitch-out around left end for 6. Tiffany hit left guard for 2 and Holt made 1 at left tackle. The Rocket line had held and the ball went over on their 15.

The Rockets received a 5-yard penalty and Holliman made a yard over left guard. Wood tried a pass, but it was incomplete. Duncan skirted around the Cubs on an off-tackle slant and went 15 yards before being brought down. With the ball on the 25, the Cubs took a clipping penalty to the Rocket 41-yard line.

After an offside penalty, Wood sneaked the ball 6 yards. On the next play, Wood's pass was intercepted by Rut and carried 30 yards before Duncan could snag him. Duncan's leg was injured on this tackle as the first half ended, 12-0 and the Wellington fullback was able to play a few minutes in the last half.

SECOND HALF

Starting the second half, Jimmy McCutchen kicked off for the Rockets, to the Olney 30 where Myers ran it back to the 42. Tiffany picked up 12 around right end and Slater, over left tackle, made 5. Holt carried for 1. With the ball on the Rocket 40, Holt again took a pitch-out around left end and raced 13 yards. The Cubs received a 15-yard penalty and on the next play the Cubs fumbled. The Rockets recovered on the Wellington 39.

The Cubs received a 5-yard penalty and with only 5 to go for a first down, Wood faked a hand-off and went through left tackle for 16 yards. Tarver was caught 6ed 12 yards to the Wellington 37.

The Rockets received a 15-yard set back from the referee, and Slater went around right end for 5, Holt over left guard for 2, and Slater again at left tackle for 2 more. With 1 yard to go for a first down, the Cubs sent Holt at right guard, but he failed to make it and the ball went over to the Rockets.

Slater tossed to Enloe, who raced all the way to the Rocket goal line, but the play was called back on an off-side penalty against the Cubs. Olney soon made up the loss. After Dakil crashed over center to throw Slater for an 8-yard loss, the Olney quarterback threw one 40 yards to Myers, who ran the remaining 30 steps to the Wellington goal. Holt's try for extra point was good, and the score was 19-0.

Holt kicked off for the Cubs, but the Wellington team was penalized 15 yards to put the ball on their 15. Hood crashed over right guard for 1, and another penalty put the ball back on the Wellington 1-yard line. Johnny Brock, Wellington fullback, went over left guard for 5. Holliman was stopped for no gain, and the third quarter ended on the Rocket 6-yard line.

Wood punted for the Rockets, to the Wellington 40, where Myers drove back to the 38. The Cubs received a penalty to the Olney 47. On their play Olney fumbled and the Rockets recovered on the Olney 47.

Hood crashed over the middle for 3 yards. Wood attempted a pass but it was incomplete. A second aerial connected with Bawcom 25 yards down the field on the Olney 16. Wood, on a keeper over right tackle, made 4. Hood went over left tackle for 6. Wood another sneak. Starkey's try for point-after was good.

McCutchen kicked to the Cubs on their 15 and the ball was returned to the 21. Tiffany squirmed through left guard for 7 and the Rockets took a 5-yard penalty for offside. Slater, on a keeper around right end, made 9. Holt tried the Rocket line, only to be stopped for no gain. Holt tried again, made 3. On the Olney 45, Holt went over right tackle for 1. Slater tried a pass, and Holt gained 5 at left end. Tiffany broke loose and traveled 16 yards. Tarver was caught 6ed 12 yards to the Wellington 37.

Slater tried a pass but Wauer was on him and he went down 8 yards behind the line. Slater tried again, completing to Myers for 12 yards to the Rocket 33. Slater made a yard on a sneak, then tried another pass but it was knocked down. Wellington took over on their 29. The Cubs received three penalties on three plays of riffs. Hood went off left tackle for 4 and Wood kept through left tackle for 22 yards to the Olney 30.

Hood crashed over left tackle for 6. Brock gained 12 through left guard. Wood, on a sneak, picked up 1. Johnny Brock smashed over right guard for the remaining 14 yards, carrying two Cubs with him. Starkey's kick was no good and the Rockets still trailed 19-13.

Jimmy McCutchen kicked to the Olney 25 and Tiffany toted it back to the 42. Slater, on a keeper, went over right guard gently for 1, holding on to the ball to run out the few seconds remaining on the clock. On the last play of the game, Slater was smothered for no gain. Marilyn Hunt Gold Star Winner

County 4-H Wins District 1 Electrical Award for Year

4-H Cubbers held the spotlight Saturday night, Nov. 14, at the annual Achievement Day Program, when nearly 100 awards in recognition of their work were presented.

This meeting was also in observance of the 50th anniversary of 4-H Club work, and the program was directed by Miss Mary Trammel, county home demonstration agent.

It was announced at the meeting that Collingsworth County had won the District 1 Electric Award, given by the electric companies of Texas for outstanding work. Two awards were presented by Curley Hayes of Abilene, Agricultural Youth worker for the West Texas Utilities. The individual award of $50 went to Glenda Phipps, while the second award went to the county's 4-H Club fund. Allen Shannan accompanied Mr. Hays here for the presentation. In winning this honor, Miss Phipps and the county clubs topped the work of girls in 28 counties that comprise the district.

The top award for county 4-H Work, the Gold Star Award from the Agricultural Extension Service went to Marilyn Hunt. Mrs. J. L. Alexander, county THDA chairman, made the presentation.

Miss Hunt also acted as toastmistress for the awards meeting. Guest speaker was Allen Harp, district attorney, of Childress, who spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency." "I'm talking about it, not because there is juvenile delinquency among 4-H Club boys and girls, but because there isn't," he explained.

It can be determined by the time a child is 8 years old if he is going to develop along criminal lines, the district attorney pointed out. By the time he is 11, he probably will have stolen, and by 17 or 18, he will have committed a felony. The age or juvenile delinquents is descending, and no longer is delinquency confined largely to slums, but it is found in all stations of life.

Referring to the frequency with which "delinquent parents" are mentioned, Mr. Harp pointed out that often there are no parents to be envied. There may be only one parent, due to death or divorce.

He had words for those who depend on the church or school or neighbors to raise their children. "If you stay at home is only a place to eat and sleep, you are wrong and if you are not contributing to juvenile delinquency, it's not your fault," he declared.

Mr. Harp illustrated his talk with his own experiences with delinquent children as a county and district attorney.

County Agent J. W. Thomas, in a brief speech before recognizing outstanding 4-H Club boys of the county, reminded the youths and their parents that they are living in a changing way of agricultural life — for farming is becoming big business and the problem is to produce efficiently and economically.

Referring to overproduction, he told the group we should be thankful we have it, and referred to the growing population and to the difficulty many countries have in feeding their people.

4-H Club Boys, along with the work for which they were recognized, included:

Tractor maintenance: James Colson.

Dairy Judging: John Thomas. Soil Judging: TO KUM. Outstanding Beef Calf, Pete Myers.

Outstanding Dairy Calf, Don Amerson.

Entomology, James Colson, John Thomas and Barton Groves.

Medals of Achievement were presented by the 4-H Club girls, most of them given by large corporations and companies through their programs with youth work. A majority of these were presented by the local representative of the donor.

These included:

The Achievement Medal from the Ford Motor Company, presented by Leon Coleman of Collingsworth Motor Co. to Glenda Phipps, Patsy White and Marilyn Hunt.

The Alumni Recognition Award, to a former 4-H Club girl, now a 4-H leader, by the Mathieson Chemical Company, Velman Warrick, of Warrick Feed Store to Mrs. C. A. Wright. This is the first time the award has been given nationally.
