When ready to make dinner, in a casserole alternate layers of soft 1/4-inch bread cubes, the cooked, cleaned shrimps, and the white sauce with peas. The white sauce should be the topmost layer. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 20 minutes.

Hodges Gardens Making Beautiful Spring Debut

Gaily colored tulips will open an early spring at Hodges Gardens, Many, Louisiana, this weekend. Usually in outburst the last week of March, this year they will reach their peak about the middle of this month and continue in perfect bloom at least another week.

Azaleas are in their early candle-like stage, according to Walter Chalupnik, Chief Horticulturist, with the popular Kurumes already showing open blossoms. Southern Indica (Formosa, Judge Solomon and Mrs. Gerbing) should be in full outburst by the week of March 21. Pansies are blooming en masse in the main gardens now, forming bright patterns of color - Coronation Gold, Pure White and Mont Blanc in whites; Porcelain Blue and Alpine Lake in blues; Raspberry Red and Alpine Glow in shades of bronze and red. Callendulas, wallflowers and spiraea are also in full bloom now.

With the time-table of spring flowers set early, visitors in March may enjoy the Blossoms of winter and spring at the same time, for camellias are prolific in color and size of bloom. One of the more spectacular camellias is the D. W. Davis, with large flesh-pink blossoms. Daffodils and clusters of anemones along pine-clad hillsides, usually past their season when spring comes, will continue through March. Dutch Hyacinths, a little late, are blooming as the early tulips appear, a rare coincidence in Hodges Gardens.

Dogwood, both pink and white, attract garden visitors every year, as well as great patches of soft pink, wild azalea and yellow jasmine. Native flowers and trees are expected to reach their peak the end of March or first week of April. Hodges Gardens Experimental Area and wildlife refuge, a year-round chain of flowers in the pine hills of Sabine Parish, Louisiana, is the outgrowth of a reforestation program started nearly twenty years ago by the A. J. Hodges Industries. The tract of land, selected from pine plantations for forest research work, was an abandoned rock quarry. The exposed rock, rugged terrain and tall trees formed such a beautiful setting for plantings of flowers that the idea for a "garden in the forest" was born. The area was a logical haven for wildlife and today elk and deer enjoy a protected environment and hundreds of duck and geese make Hodges Gardens their winter home.

SLIPPING OFF THE SOAPBOX

'Teevee Elbow' Is Latest Of Fashionable Maladies

By INEZ ROBB
Rockin' chair and common cold may get me, but I have just read of a new-minted ill to which this flesh is unlikely to be heir.

It may be my lamentable fate someday to contract household's "knee, a Charley horse, stenographer's spread, dishpan hands, writer's cramp, first-night nerves or even lawyer's larynx. But it is unlikely, short of a revolution in the industry, that I shall ever be afflicted with "television elbow."

That dread disease of modern living has been isolated and diagnosed by Dr. A. A. Marinacci of the School of Medicine of the University of Southern California. Fully as dire as tennis elbow, television elbow, according to Dr. Marinacci, who has seen some lull in his day, results from resting the elbows on the arms of a chair for prolonged periods while the party of the first part is glued to the home screen.

Pressure on the elbows results in injury to the nerves which, in turn, causes the hands and the arms to grow numb and may even result in paralysis. That is surely audience participation with a vengeance. It is true that once or twice have been paralyzed by horse opera, but not in the elbows. And it is only fair to say that on more than one occasion the doings west of the Pecos have left me numb, but not in just one joint.

Only a decade ago medical experts were issuing drastic warnings that television addiction would lead to wholesale and serious eye ailments. Kids, permitted to look to their hearts' content, were well on their way to bifocals, if not a tin cup and a box of pencils, according to that 10-year-old prediction. Happily, that prognosis proved untrue. Television apparently has not increased eyebain among the young, who compensated for their new addiction by giving up reading. Such renunciation in favor of the magic box obviously righted the balance of nature.

One of the most fascinating aspects of modern living is the new diseases to match new conditions produced by medicine in the 20th Century.

Medicine has not been able to lick the common cold, but that ill has been gussied up almost past recognition in the past 30 years. No one has gripe or flu any more. An old gaffer like myself may have something that feels and behaves like the gripe and flu of childhood, but it's a virus. That is more or less the fate of the common cold, too. A few old-fashioned parties still have cold, but all of us hepers who dig the century have a virus every time we sneeze or cough or come down with chills and fever.

It all reminds me of a favorite story my father used to tell about the kid from the Ozarks who went down to the settlements to visit. When he got home he was telling

Lake Searched For Bodies Of Divers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Search parties, including divers, probed Lake George again today for four Navy aviators missing from a bomber crash last week.

Four bodies of the eight men aboard the P2V Neptune have been brought up from the waters of the big lake, 75 miles south of here.

The plane from Jacksonville Naval Air Station was on a practice bombing run.

his family about the oddities of the great world and he said: "Paw, come supper-time we had something that looked like soap, and spread like soap and tasted like soap, but, by darn, they called it grav-eye."

Well, sir, in the medical world, we don't have soap no more; we call it "virus" and like it. What's more, we have a new virus every year. What beats the layman, I suspect, is the never-ending race between nature, which turns out a new and peskier virus annually, a medical researcher and laborator that perfect a new and costlier "miracle" drug to combat it.

The real miracle is that the victim can (1) pay for it and (2) that he recovers from it. Oh, don't get me wrong — I am grateful that medicine and research continue to turn out strong drugs to match strong bugs. (Or is it vice versa, with nature producing tougher bugs to daunt blockbuster drugs?) But I await the day when they run a deadheat or a photo finish.

Viruses are all the fashion now, just as allergies were all the rage 25 years ago. Allergies were followed by psychiatrists, and both were discussed at parties with the little knowledge that goes a long way. Come to think of it, one of the most interesting aspects of this century is the smattering of medical knowledge possessed by the whole population. That is probably traceable to the endless variety of medical columns in newspapers and magazines. I can remember "way back when people had brothers and sisters instead of siblings. Now we have teevee aboves. The Wild West is getting wider by the minute. Oh, for the days when all a man had to worry about was his scalp.

Little Things Can Spoil A Man's Day

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes it's the little things that get a fellow down.

There are plenty of them. To wit: Penny chewing gum machines that gum up.

The steady drizzle which begins just as you get to the ball park.

Waiting in a supermarket checkout line with only a can of beans in hand while four people ahead get mountains of groceries toted up and sacked.

Trying to cash a check in unfamiliar territory, and the difficulty of trying to keep from looking like a suspicious character.

The mosquito which pounces in the middle of the night—then, in cowardly fashion, hides out when you get up and try to find it.

That wretch who, upon being told he has the wrong number, hangs up with the sarcastic implication that it's all your fault.

Garbage collectors who start clanking at 4 a.m., 5 a.m., 6 a.m., most any time.

Shoes that are too tight. People the same way.

Burned toast.

Scraped burned toast.

Too much work.

Much work.

Work.

Liz Breathes Naturally As Tube Removed

LONDON (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor was breathing naturally today, minus the special throat tube she used for eight days in her fight against double pneumonia.

Removal of the tube in a five-minute procedure Sunday at the London Clinic, was a sign of further progress in the movie star's recovery. Her critical illness had made necessary an oxygen-pumping electronic lung machine, a blood transfusion and intravenous feeding, now ended.

"Miss Taylor is now going along very nicely," said a spokesman at the exclusive hospital.

Miss Taylor, 29, conversed freely during the day with her husband, singer Eddie Fisher, and her parents.

Fisher praised the team of doctors and nurses and the clinic staff who had fought to keep his wife alive.

He added: "There is now every reason to believe that she will recover fully from the dreadful illness which so very nearly took her life more than once this past week."

He also expressed appreciation "to the many thousands of friends throughout the world, unknown to us personally, who by their messages of prayer and encouragement, and faith helped us importantly to keep alive our own sometimes faltering hope."

Don Larsen In Big Start

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Larsen, the hard-throwing right-hander, made an impressive showing with a no-hit stint in his exhibition season debut for the Kansas City A's.
Continuing his fine spring performance, the hurler, who stunned the baseball world with his perfect game for the New York Yankees in the 1956 World Series worked three hitless innings Sunday in the A's 6-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.
Larsen, 31, gave up only one walk, and apparently has overcome the pitching defects that forced the A's to farm him to the minors during the 1956 campaign

Dispute Gets Into Court

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A woman falling at Gay Bryan's trailer court here filed aggravated assault charges against Bryan's wife following an argument between the women.
When she refused to drop the complaint, Bryan turned off the water and electricity for 22 families living in the trailer court.
District Judge Arthur Tipps ordered Bryan to restore the utilities. Bryan refused and went to jail for a night for contempt of court.
But Bryan had turned on the utilities by the time he was arrested and was to appear before Tipps today on formal contempt of court charges.

Believes All Should Share

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis says he is opposed to federal aid to education—but if it comes, Catholic children should share it.
Cardinal Ritter told the archdiocesan Council of Catholic Men Sunday: "Do we really want federal aid? I personally am opposed to it. It's my personal conviction the parents ought to keep the schools in their own hands."
"Nevertheless, federal aid might, before the year is over, become a fact. As it is now proposed, there is no question in my mind but that it discriminates against children who attend private schools. If public funds are raised for the educational benefit of the children of America, then all children should share in that benefit."

Alabama River Is Below Flood Stage

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—For the first time since Feb. 21, the Alabama River has dropped below the 35-foot flood stage here. The stream measured only 33.3 feet Feb. 21, but had climbed to 41.4 feet next morning to cause floods. It had receded to 33.8 feet Sunday.

Towering Almanza Enters Tournament

HOUSTON (AP)—Al Almanza, University of Texas center, will play on the El Paso team in the annual Latin American Basketball Tournament here March 18-19.
Almanza, 6-8, will be the tallest player to ever play in the state tournament. Sixteen teams will compete.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson matches his speed and power against Ingemar Johansson's dynamic right tonight in a third title fight that figures to be as quick and explosive as their first two thrillers.
The New Yorker, heavier and broader around the shoulders than for the first two fights, is an overwhelming, 4-1 choice to make it two straight over the dimple-chinned Swede.
Practically no one expects this bout to go the distance in Convention Hall. The betting is even money that it won't go beyond six rounds 6-1 it won't go the full 15. Very little betting is reported.
The pick by the writer is Patterson within five rounds. The writer, like most of those who covered the first two scraps, is 0 for 2, on the two upsets. It may be a good sign for Ingo. Patterson, 26, was a 5-1 favorite the first time and Johansson, 28, a 3-2 choice the next time around. Both fights were in New York.
With interest picking up last day momentum, Bill Fugazy, president of the promoting Features Sports, Inc., believes the fight will draw some 12,000 fans to the 17,000-seat arena for gate of $550,000. Closed TV officials estimate up to a million fans can see the fight in theaters, arenas and on community antenna systems.
The champion was dethroned on a seven knockdown, third round technical knockout in his first fight with Johansson on June 26, 1959.
Then Patterson avenged that upset by blasting his playboy conqueror with a crunching left hook in the fifth round of their return on June 20, 1960.
But victory came to Patterson only after he had survived a stunning right hand blow high on the forehead that dazed him for seconds. Ingo's fatal error was in not following up the opening.
This third bout simply boils down to this: Can Johansson connect early with his fast, lethal right? If he doesn't it's almost a cinch he will be moved down by the machine-gun bursts of the finely trained champion.
The big money for the fighters will come from the closed circuit telecasts, the movies and domestic (ABC) and foreign radio broadcasts. Theater TV is expected to bring in $3 million and could do $3 1/2 million. Each fighter seems assured of at least $750,000 without counting the gate.
The gate should bring each about $100,000.
Johansson, who has been training at Palm Beach, arrived at the fight scene Sunday night. He expected to weigh about 200 pounds the weigh-in.
Patterson expected to weigh about 193 pounds, the heaviest of his career.
He's in the greatest shape ever," said trainer Dan Florio.
"Ingo is strong and ready," commented trainer Whitey Binstent.

SUCCESSFUL SACRIFICE—Tiger Weldon Ware, who has just sacrificed bunted teammate Spencer Dyer to second, represents the first out in the Bengal half of the eleventh inning in the top half of Saturday's twin bill against Lubbock Monterey here. Monterey hurler Donnie Bumpass (framed between Ware's legs) has just made the flip from sprawled position to first sacker Bob Cone (8), who is being backed up by second baseman Foy Williams (4). At far left is Tiger coach Bob O'Day (22). Dyer eventually died on second, as Monterey earned a hard-fought 3-2 victory, after which the visitors went on to sweep the series with a 4-1 win in the nightcap. (Photo by J. C. Burton)

Tournament Time Arrives On Scene

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Comes now the time of the year when the college basketball fan takes a look at the big NCAA, small NCAA, the NIT and the NAIA and yells SOS.
Seventy-six of the nation's best teams, big and little, start this week the 10-day scramble that will end with four champions of the 1961 season and the answer to the question just about everyone has been asking all year—can anyone beat Ohio State?
After smashing Illinois 95-66 last Saturday, the mighty Buckeyes of the Big Ten start defense of the national collegiate title they won so emphatically last year with the first perfect record of any major team since North Carolina in 1957.
Naming of Xavier of Ohio, Seattle and Oregon to the last three at-large berths completed the 24-team field for the NCAA championship tournament which has preliminary games Tuesday night and Wednesday before settling down to regional semifinal scuffling at Charlotte, N.C., Louisville, Lawrence, Kan., and Portland, Ore., this weekend.
To keep 'em company, the 12-team National Invitation Tournament begins at Madison Square Garden Thursday night with the MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Olympic stars such as Don Bragg, Parry O'Brien and Hayes Jones keep piling up victories, but the comparative unknowns are captivating the fans on the indoor track circuit.

The winning efforts of the veteran campaigners were overshadowed completely by three young potential greats Saturday night in the 10th annual Journal Games before a record Milwaukee crowd of 11,523.
Grelle turned the top performance of his career in capturing the invitational mile in 4:03.6, the second fastest clocking this winter.
Kidd, who finished second to Hungarian ace Istvan Rozsavolgyi in the Chicago mile Friday night moved up to the two mile and won in 8:59.2.
Mills, who lowered the indoor quarter-mile record to 47.2 in the Big Ten meet recently, shaved six-tenths of a second off the Milwaukee 600 mark with an easy victory in 1:10.9.
George Kerr, the Illinois star, tied at 13 feet, 3 inches, in the pole vault but the Olympic champion was declared champion on the basis of fewer misses.
O'Brien won the shot with a heave of 61-10 1/2, while Jones, the Eastern Michigan flash, equaled the indoor record of 59.9 in the 50 yard high hurdles.

Bolt Bolts Home First At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Tommy Bolt is Pensacola Open Golf champion after one of the steadiest bear-down performances of his sometimes tempestuous career.
The Crystal River, Fla., veteran was only a stroke ahead Sunday at the start of the 72-hole tourney's last 18 holes. But he knocked in seven birdies for his best round — a 5-under-par 67 — and finished with a 13-under-par 275, good for $3,900.
Gary Player of Johannesburg, South Africa and Langhorne, Pa., turned in the day's best round, 66, and finished second two strokes behind Bolt for $1,900. He now tops professional golf money winners at $19,904. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta had a 279 good for $1,400 and third place despite taking a triple bogey on one hole in his 70 round.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio, who got past Don Jordan with "a much easier fight" than he expected, turned his sights today toward Boston and a mid-dewight title bout, with Paul Pender.
Basilio, a former middleweight and welterweight king, used a right uppercut effectively Saturday night as he pounded out a unanimous, 10-round victory over Jordan, an ex-welter champion from Los Angeles.

Fresh Fish Is One Of Many Specialties At Pick & Pay

Where else can you get such a wonderful variety of fresh-caught fish than at Marcel Josephson's Pick & Pay Store, 411 East Highway? Marcel gets fresh fish of all sizes and shapes each Thursday, fish that are caught, cleaned and shipped the same day.

In this kind of fishing, you are assured of getting the kind you want for dinner. Among the favorite varieties are the channel cat, red snapper, redfish, trout, flounder, giant shrimp and oysters.

To perfect that special fish dinner, select your salad from among the many ingredients at Pick & Pay—crisp lettuce, vine ripened tomatoes, bell peppers, fresh onions, celery heart, radishes, avocados. Pick your salad dressing from any of the exotic dressings to suit any taste.

The perfect complement to such a meal is one of the many breads available at all times at the store. Among them are the hard French rye, pumpernickel, onion, egg twist, deliciously different whole wheat, Bagel and Hard French rolls.

For the perfect special fish dinner, get your order in early at Pick & Pay. Orders are started a week in advance so no one will be disappointed when "Fish Day" comes round at Pick & Pay next Thursday.

The grocery store, owned and operated by Marcel and Adelle Josephson, specializes in exotic fish while stocking complete lines of all other foods. Marcel's catering service for parties is widely used in this area along with the ready-prepared frozen foods prepared by Marcel. Give your family a special treat with a good fish meal and do what other fish lovers are doing, call HI 3-3601 or 3-9253 for a complete meal. Others are talking about the nice service Marcel offers in supplying such nice fresh fish, direct from the source of supply and dressing the fish, just to your liking, ready to cook.

Negro May 'Just Forget' Jail Overtime

FORT WORTH (AP) — Jesse Marshall, a slightly built unemployed janitor due for a tuberculosis checkup today, says maybe he'll just forget he was kept in jail six months too long.

Marshall, 37-year-old Negro, was indicted last July for robbery. But the complaining witness dropped charges and the complaint was dismissed on Aug. 31.

Probation officer Cecil Stoker said a report on the dismissal, which would have resulted in Marshall's dismissal, presumably was lost on route to the jailer.

Marshall finally was dismissed last Thursday. "I just grateful they turned me loose when they did."

"I didn't know what to do," the former janitor at Texas Christian University said. "If you ain't got nobody on the outside—what can you do?"

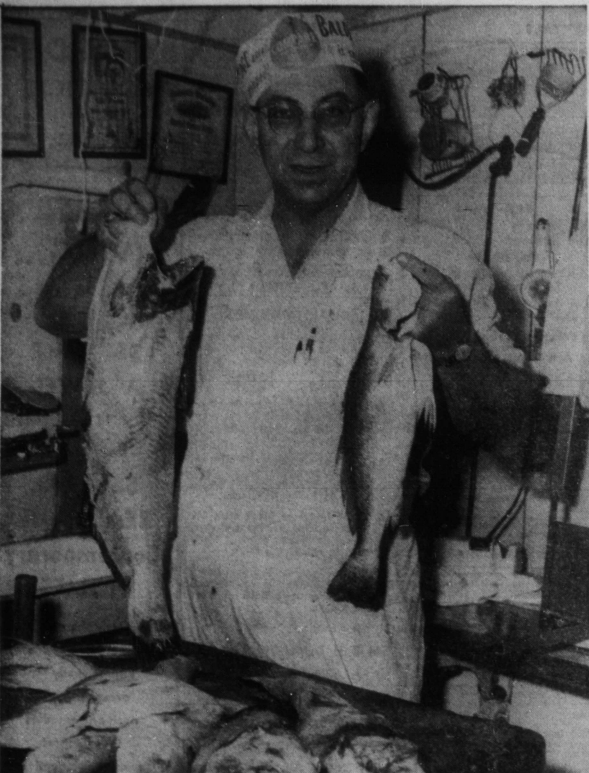

"Just a good someplace," said Stoker. "We'll never know what happened, and you can't blame any one person—we're subject to error like anyone else."

Marshall said that he was accused of taking $17 from a friend. "The whole thing was kinda goofy," said Marshall. Actually he took $19, he said, but "my friends paid it back, anyway."

The worst thing about the ordeal he added, was "being sick in that jail most of the time." He said a doctor gave him some pills that "helped check my gettin' sick all day."

"I need a job," he said, "but I don't know where I can get one now. I don't know nothin' to do."

"They told me they was sorry for keepin' me in jail so long, so maybe I'll just forget about the whole thing—maybe."

FRESH FISH AT PICK AND PAY—Marcel Josephson, owner of Pick & Pay Grocery Store located at 411 East Highway, is shown above custom cleaning the supply of fish he received fresh caught and iced Thursday. Thursday is always fish day at Pick & Pay with a wonderful variety of fish available. Marcel takes orders a week in advance so his customers may have the fish they want when they want it.

Summer Leagues Forming Now At Snyder Lanes Here

It's time to form new bowling leagues at Snyder Lanes, 2403 Twenty-fifth Street, with the winter season just ending and the summer leagues getting all set to go.

Leagues are being formed for men, women, couples, and family, with reservations for alleys pouring in, as participants in this area sign up for the coming season.

Bowling is America's number one family sport with more and more families joining the parade to the bowling alley. This is the game for any age and any size family. If the family is too large, they can just spread to another alley or act as spectators in a battle of the pins.

AND, when bowling at Snyder Lanes, mother need not worry about supper or a baby sitter for the Charcoal Grill, next door to the Lanes, specializes in food to please the hungry bowler. For a complete meal or a between-game snack bowlers stop in frequently for the "cooked where you can see that it's done right" delicious charcoal steaks or burgers. The specialty of the house is the always warm and ready to eat home made fried pies, the perfect quick snack for that mid morning, mid afternoon, or mid game hungry feeling.

The small try are no problem either with the complete nursery with attendant each night and at the special instruction classes. The nursery is available by request for special occasions, also.

Wednesday morning is the instruction morning with free instruction, free coffee, and free nursery for all who wish to join the ever growing family of bowlers.

With the new season starting, now is the time to be sure you have plenty of bowling fun. Stop by and see Frank Minton who is now managing the alleys and inquire about the year round sport. If you are a beginner, he can arrange for instruction and if you are already a "big league bowler" he can arrange for a league for the summer.

Saturday morning leagues are being formed for the school age junior bowlers.

The alleys are reserved by leagues and by the start of the summer season most nights will be filled. Usually, Saturday and Sunday nights are the only open bowling nights.

The alleys are available for booking for special parties, school parties and other occasions. Paar pays entertainers who appear on both shows far less than he does.

Sullivan said he pays as much as $7,500 for appearances on his show, but when the same performers appear with Paar they get only $320.

Sullivan let it be known that henceforth he'll pay only $320 to any of his entertainers who also appear on Paar's show.

The Paar show normally runs until 1 a.m., but it hasn't been determined yet how much of the time will be consumed by the debate. It will be taped before a live audience in New York at 8:15 p.m.

Sullivan picked Cerf as moderator on privilege granted by Paar. Sullivan previously suggested Hugh Downs, Paar's announcer, but NBC turned thumbs down on the ground that Downs wouldn't be considered neutral.

Downs will open the program. The debate will begin 15 minutes later and, if completed prior to the show's regular closing time, Paar and Sullivan will leave the program together and Downs will continue the show along its regular format.

Sullivan, Paar Debate Set For Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's Ed Sullivan and Jack Paar engage in a debate tonight over the fees they pay entertainers.

Referee, or moderator, of the face-to-face debate on Paar's regular NBC show will be humorist-publisher Bennett Cerf, well-known for his gib remarks on CBS-TV's "What My Line?"

The word battle—scheduled to start at 11:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time—brings to a peak the wrangle which began last week when Sullivan complained that Paar pays entertainers who appear on both shows far less than he does.

Sullivan said he pays as much as $7,500 for appearances on his show, but when the same performers appear with Paar they get only $320.

Sullivan let it be known that henceforth he'll pay only $320 to any of his entertainers who also appear on Paar's show.

Hodges Believes Upturn Is Coming

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says it will not be necessary to cut taxes this spring to spur the economy.

Hodges said Sunday he thinks the recession has hit bottom and the economy now can start upward.

President Kennedy said in January that he would take another look at the state of the economy in April. A temporary tax cut might then be considered, he said, if the economy is still lagging.

"Generally speaking I think there's a better spirit and a general feeling that things are going to get better soon," Hodges said in a TV-radio interview.

KEEPING THEM DROPPING—While happy bowlers are knocking down the pins at Snyder Lanes, 2403 Twenty-fifth Street, J. L. Bunch is behind the scenes seeing that everything is running smoothly in the machine department. New summer leagues are now forming at the Lanes, with Frank Minton now managing the alleys.
