Meeting Today Of Ike And President Truman

Neither Side Rejects India's Proposal For Peace In Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—United Nations delegates gave a cool but studious reception today to the long-awaited Indian compromise proposal for settling the Korean prisoner of war deadlock.

Although objections were raised on several points of the draft resolution India handed the U. N. General Assembly yesterday, neither representatives rejected the proposal outright. Neither side, however, was enthusiastic about it.

The world diplomats marked time in the main Korean debate in the Assembly's Political Committee so they could study the resolution further. Sessions originally scheduled for today were postponed for lack of speakers.

Decisions were still being made behind the scenes, and it was expected other compromise proposals would be introduced after the Korean debate is resumed tomorrow.

The delegates also awaited the outcome of the major policy talks in Washington today between President Truman and President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson went to Washington for the conference and hoped to get from the incoming administration head some assurance that vital U. S. policies toward problems confronting the U. N. will not be drastically changed.

The Indian resolution calls for a four-nation commission to take charge of repatriating prisoners of war as soon as an armistice is reached in Korea.

The Indians suggested two Communist and two non-Communist nations — Poland, Czechslovakia, Swede and Switzerland. But they added if this wasn't acceptable, four other states not participating in the Korean hostilities—excluding permanent members of the Security Council—could serve. The commission would choose a neutral umpire to vote in case of a 2-2 deadlock on decisions.

The resolution, introduced by India's V. K. Krishna Menon after days of backstage talks with Americans, Russians and various parties in between, declares force will not be used either to prevent or effect the repatriation of prisoners.

The U. S. stands firmly against forcible return of prisoners who oppose going back to their Communist-ruled homelands. The Communists have demanded that all prisoners be handed over whether they want to return or not.

The Indian resolution carefully avoided any mention of screening the prisoners—a point to which the Russians have violently objected. It calls for both sides to hand over all prisoners to the commission in a demilitarized zone, where they will be free to return home or to stay under the commission's control.

An American spokesman expressed the belief the Indian plan would not work and asserted the commission would not be able to handle the gigantic job of feeding, housing and administering the thousands of Chinese and Korean prisoners who refused to go home.

VA Director Was Shocked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—A denial that Veterans Administration hospitals are being misused by veterans has been issued by the VA's medical director, retired Vice Admiral Joel T. Boone.

He made public yesterday a letter to Dr. R. J. Wilkinson of Huntington, W. Va., which enclosed a newspaper account of a speech Dr. Wilkinson made last week in Miami before the Southern Medical Association.

"When I first read this article," the letter said, "I was shocked to think that a physician trained to approach all questions on the basis of truth and scientific facts could be delivered of such a conglomeration of invidious innuendo, misstatements, half-truths and even untruths as are contained in these few paragraphs."

Boone said he wants Dr. Winkinson to say whether he was quoted correctly in the newspaper account.

Threaten Suit In Unitization Plan Hearing

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—A court suit against proposed unitization of the Canyon Reef Pool in the Kelley-Snyder and Diamond "M" Fields, Scurry County, was threatened yesterday.

The hearing continued today.

Possibility of a court contest was raised by Gillis Johnson, attorney for W. A. Moncrief and others. He said he might seek a court ruling on whether the applicants have to offer substantial evidence at the unitization hearing that interests of non-signers will be protected.

J. A. Rauhut, attorney for Sunray Oil Corp., one of the chief applicants, contended that exact operating details of how non-signers' interests will be protected often are worked out at a later hearing after the Railroad Commission grants approval to unitization.

Johnson charged frequently during the 4½-hour hearing conducted by commission Chief Engineer Arthur Barbeck that backers of the unitization plan have "only offered a conclusion that the interest of non-signers will be protected."

He challenged how such a promise could be made if the applicants do not know where water injection wells would be spotted or how much water would be used in each well.

William L. Horner, vice president and manager of Sunray's reservoir engineering division, said location of such wells could not be determined until it was known how many tracts would not participate in the unitization plan. He noted also that the commission would have to approve plans for field operation under a unit agreement.

Jury Deliberating In Civil Case Here Today

The jury was still in deliberation at noon today after testimony and arguments had been completed in the district court suit of Harvey Shuler vs. R. A. Smith.

Shuler brought the suit against Smith for the opening of a road across Smith's property to the Shuler property, approximately seven miles northwest of here. Testimony in the case was that a road across the Smith property had been recently closed by Smith after it had been used by Shuler several years.

Shuler contended he needed the road to get to and from his home.

The law firm of Park & Hemphill is representing Smith, and the firm of Sentell, Rosser & Willbern is representing Shuler. The trial began yesterday morning.

Anti-Trust Action Against DuPonts Is Started Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The six-billion-dollar Du Pont industrial empire goes on trial in Federal Court today on government charges that the huge firm is monopolistic.

The government plans to introduce 1,203 exhibits and more than 25 depositions during the trial, which is expected to last at least four months. Judge Walter J. Labuy will hear the case without a jury.

Special Asst. Atty. Gen. Willis L. Hotchkiss, head of the Chicago Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice, will present the government's opening statement today.

Attorneys for the defendents will then present their statements, which are expected to last through Wednesday. More than 25 attorneys are to represent the defendants.

The suit was first brought in 1949 charging that E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., General Motors Corp. and the U. S. Rubber Company violated the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The government contended the firms violated the act by restraining trade through secret rebates and by dividing several fields of manufacturing amongst themselves to eliminate competition.

The charges have been denied.

Three Du Pont holding companies and 117 individual members of the Du Pont family, including 59 minors, are also defendants.

The holding companies, which the government contends the Du Pont family tightly controls, are Christiana Securities Company, Delaware Realty and Investment Corp. and Wilmington Trust Company.

The government charges that the holding concerns control the Du Pont company, which in turn controls General Motors and has a major block of stock in U. S. Rubber.

Hotchkiss said the government will seek a court order directing the Du Pont company to sell its General motors stock. He said he does not plan to ask the defendants to dispose of their U. S. Rubber stock, which he said they own individually.

Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, who was attorney general when the suit was filed in 1949, said then that it was "directed to the breaking up of the largest single concentration of economic power in the United States."

Russian-Made Jets Are Shot Down At Sea

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Navy reported today that two Russian-made jet fighter planes had been shot down only 35 miles—just a few seconds flying time—from U. S. Task Force 77 off the East Coast of Korea.

A third Russian-made aircraft was damaged in the action, which took place late yesterday, the Navy said. It placed the scene in the Sea of Japan, about 100 miles southeast of Chongjin. It said Navy jet pilots shot down the two MIG15s.

Although Navy planes were credited with one of the first downings of a MIG in the Korean War—in the autumn of 1950—Navy and Marine air encounters with the enemy fighters have been rare. Only five MIG kills having been credited to Navy and Marine pilots throughout the conflict.

The Navy had few details of the action but was able to report that four Panther jets flown by pilots of Reserve Squadron 781 from Las Alamitos, Calif., fought the battle near the task force late yesterday. One of the American planes was hit during the encounter but was able to return to the carrier Oriskany, floating home base for the squadron.

One MIG pilot was seen bailing out. A second Red plane was last seen in a steep spiral dive and smoking badly. A third MIG broke off the action after having been damaged.

The pilots credited with the kills were Lt. I. R. Williams and Lt. (j.g.) J. D. Middleton. Lt. (j.g.) D. M. Rawlings accounted for the damaged MIG.

Home addresses of the three officers were not immediately available, but the Navy said they were all believed to have come from Southern California.

Rain Falls In Central, South And East Texas

By The Associated Press

Gusty winds swept rains into South Texas Tuesday, leaving help for crops and livestock scattered behind them.

Within single counties, rain varied from sprinkles to heavy showers. From a number of points in East, North and Central Texas came reports of enough moisture to bring up small grains and fill stock tanks.

The rains developed gradually Monday and became widespread Monday night. Beneficial rains continued to fall lightly in widely separated places Tuesday behind the front that pushed thunderstorms and moisture as far south as Corpus Christi and Alice.

Frost, in Navarro County, had received 3.51 inches of rain up to mid-morning Tuesday. Blooming Grove and Rice received two inches and Corsicana 1.5 inches. But other points in Navarro County got only light showers.

Palestine received 1.55 inches Monday afternoon and night. It was the heaviest rain there since May 23 and was described as of "tremendous value to livestock, cover crops, feed and stock water."

Cloudy, windy weather produced 2.60 inches of rain at Sulphur Springs. Farmers around Sherman, in Grayson County, figured their heavy showers would sprout small grain crops.

Another Boxcar Crash Brings 11-day Toll Up To 191 Dead

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — The fourth crash in 11 days of an Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar claimed eight lives yesterday when one of the huge transports crashed and burned in a muddy field 12 miles east of this South-Central Montana city.

The eight deaths raised to 191 the number of servicemen killed in Boxcar crackups since Nov. 7.

Four of the dead in the Montana crash burned to death when the two-engined craft plowed into the ground while attempting to make an emergency landing. Four died of injuries.

Eight others, including the pilot and co-pilot, were rushed to two Billings hospitals. Attendants said two were in critical condition.

The Air Force withheld identification of the dead.

Bound from Edmonton, Alta., Canada, to Denver, the plane crashed in cloudy weather but visibility was good.

Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators said propellor trouble apparently caused one motor of the transport to shake loose.

The Air Force in Washington said it has no intention of grounding the C119s "unless a pattern of mechanical failure is established by accident investigations."

A reserve officer said reports the transports are "not suitable" for arctic operations have been on file with the Air Force since last April.

Korea Welcome For Ike Slated

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The South Korean government has reversed signals once again and is planning a super-dooper welcome for President - elect Dwight Eisenhower, whose proposed visit to this war zone is supposed to be shrouded in utmost secrecy.

A 15-man committee headed by acting Prime Minister Paik Too Chin is making plans for the show. The committee is composed of members of the executive, legislative and judicial branches and four patriotic organizations.

The government will foot the bill for flower carts, posters, banners, arches and the full regalia of a Korean reception.

A government spokesman earlier had promised the biggest spectacle in Seoul's long history.

A special Cabinet meeting was called for the formation of the committee.

Slightly Cooler Here

The temperature was 71 degrees yesterday, according to Mrs. D.P. Strayhorn, official weather observer. The low last night was 42 degrees and at 7:30 o'clock had not changed, she said.

Greenland Air Bases Expand

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Danish government guardedly announced today that Western defense facilities in strategic Greenland are being expanded.

The announcement gave no details of what the expansion would mean, but reliable government and engineering sources said last night Denmark and the U. S. had agreed on construction of at least four huge new U. S. air bases on the big island across the North Pole from Soviet Russia's arctic doorstep.

This report brought statements from a U. S. State Department spokesman, Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft and Finn Nielsen, acting chief of Denmark's Greenland Department, that they knew nothing about any such agreement.

Few Moments Alone Set By White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—President - elect Eisenhower and President Truman sit down together today to talk over ways of keeping the ship of state on an even course as command shifts from the old captain to the new.

Their meeting-the first face-to-face since June 2 when Eisenhower came back from command of European defense forces-was set for 1 p. m. CST.

Much of the initial drama may never be known to the public. White House arrangements call for Eisenhower and Truman to be alone in the President's office for the first 15 minutes.

Those minutes will present an opportunity for personal exchanges which might erase some of the bitter things said in their political campaign when Truman battled so furiously against the election of Eisenhower as his successor.

STATEMENT MAY COME

From the President's office, they will go the Cabinet Room where key advisors will join them for formal discussions of the problems with which the Truman administration is now grappling and which will confront Eisenhower and his appointees when they take over Jan. 20.

Truman was reported to be hoping the meeting would produce, at the least, an agreement for a joint statement assuring the world of this country's basic unity and supporting his administration's position in the United Nations on the Korean issue.

But some of those close to Eisenhower described the Republican President-elect as determined not to make any pre-inaugural commitments on vital matters.

GOES TO NEW YORK

A spokesman for Eisenhower told reporters that unless the general changes his attitude there may be no statement at all-or at most a brief one.

Eisenhower, who has been resting at Augusta, Ga., since the election, left there by plane at 9:38 a. m. CST to fly here.

His plans are to leave Washington by plane at 3:45 p. m. (CST) for New York. He has conferences scheduled there tomorrow with a group of Republican congressional leaders.

Truman prepped for his conference with the general by holding a series of last-minute meetings with top advisors. Frederick J. Lawton, director of the budget, was a forenoon visitor.

Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Defense Lovet, and Averell Harriman, the mutual security administrator, were asked to come in at 11:30 a. m.

WANTS NO TIES

Eisenhower's attitude in advance of the conference with Truman, was described by a spokesman as welcoming the opportunity for a briefing on government problems but as wanting no strings tied to him.

Sniper Ridge Held By ROKs; Air War Becomes More Active

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean infantrymen in savage hand to hand fighting today blasted Chinese Communists off a vital knob on blood soaked Sniper Ridge, lost to 175 screaming Reds a few hours earlier.

Even as the battered Chinese reeled back from Rocky Point, a new Red buildup was spotted at the northern end of Sniper. Allied war planes, tanks and artillery hammered the Communists with high explosives and searing napalm.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said F86 Sabre jets shot down one Communist MIG15 and damaged another today. The series of dogfights just south of the Yalu River produced the second American ace in two days.

Capt. Leonard Lilley of Manchester, N. H., became the 22nd U. S. ace of the Korean War when he shot down his fifth MIG.

The Air Force also confirmed a sixth MIG kill yesterday. This boosted the two-day toll of Red warplanes to seven destroyed, one probably destroyed and two damaged.

Ten U. S. B29 Superforts last night pushed the Korean air war right to the doorstep of Manchuria. The B29s smashed Choak, a Red mining and processing center within sight of the Yalu River and set off a chain of huge fires and explosions. Other Superforts blasted a Communist ammunition dump near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

The bitter fighting for the Kumhwa ridges on Korea's Central Front roared into its 36th straight day when 80 Chinese attacked Rocky Point at dawn. The Point is an important knob on Finger Ridge, which juts out from the main line of Sniper.

The first Red assault was hurled back in close quarter fighting.

At 10 a.m. 175 fanatic Chinese lashed out at the Point again. This time they smashed through the Republican defenders.

But, before they could consolidate their gains, the ROKs came charging back. By early afternoon the South Koreans had regained every inch of lost ground.

Farther north, Communist groups up to a company (150-175 men) in strength were seen gathering in the draws and gullies around the end of Sniper itself. The buildup was steady and an atack seemed imminent. U. N. planes, tanks and artillery spewed a rain of fire on the area.

Woods To Force Retail Price Of Meat Back, If It Is Legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Price Chief Tighe Woods plans to reduce the price of meat to consumers if it's legally possible.

Woods yesterday ordered his Office of Price Stabilization staff to have ready by Monday an order rolling back retail meat prices—or let him know why it can't be done.

He said a pulse-feeling swing he made through the country convinced him consumers are more concerned about food prices than any others, and that meat is first on that list.

Woods said cattlemen and farmers complain that the prices they receive for live cattle have gone down but that consumers are paying as much for beef now as they were when ceilings were set more than a year ago.

The price chief said if this is so he wants to know the reason why, and where the difference in price exists.

The Western States Meat Packers Association, a trade group, took sharp issue with what they said was a suggestion that meat retailers and packers are getting excessive profits.

E. F. Forbes, the group's president, yesterday made public a letter he sent congressmen recently. The letter said Woods made "irresponsible and inaccurate" statements in Minneapolis earlier this week "designed to turn consumers against meat packers and retailers."

Forbes said actually beef at wholesale is selling below ceiling prices—in some instances as much as 35 per cent below.

At Chicago, Public Relations Director Norman Draper of the American Meat Institute, which represents 500 meat-packing companies throughout the country, commented:

"Everybody is getting rather tired of distortion of truth by Tighe Woods. We wonder what office he may be running for. Perhaps he has forgotten there was an election Nov. 4."

Woods has held meetings with consumers in every section of the country since he took office Sept. 1. He said complaints about high prices were general, but criticism of food costs were most common.

Among possibilities of effecting a rollback being studied is the advisability of switching from the present dollars and cents per pound to a margn-type regulation.

If this were done, butchers would recalculate their ceilings at regular intervals to reflect any changes up or down in their wholesale costs. This method already is used in regulations governing pork and veal, and one official said it would comply with the controls law.

Taft Calls On Ike To Set Out Timetable For New Legislation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called on President-elect Eisenhower today to fix the timetable for legislative action in the new Congress.

At the same time, Taft told a news conference he doesn't believe it will be necessary for Eisenhower to intervene in the choice by Senate Republicans of their new leaders.

Taft predicted the Republicans will fill major posts "without any battle." He declined to say whether he wants to be chairman of the GOP Policy Committee or floor leader in the new organization.

But the Ohio senator said he believes Eisenhower should summon to the White House for weekly conferences the three top leaders in the Senate: the policy chairman, the floor leader and the head of the conference of all Republican senators.

Taft, who will see Eisenhower in New York tomorrow along with Rep. Martin (R-Mass), prospective speaker of the new House, said the general will be asked to decide which legislative measures he wants action on first.

Taft listed the following as the most pressing:

1. The budget, including possible reorganization of the Budget Bureau and establishment of a congressional budget commission.

2. Taxation—Taft said the decision on this could await budget action.

3. The question of whether the government Reorganization Act, which expires in April, should be renewed.

4. Possible extension of price, wage and rent controls, as well as allocations powers, which expire in the period between April 30 and June 30. Taft said there had been some suggestions that these powers be ended immediately, adding that he had heard President Truman might take such action before he goes out of office Jan. 20.

5. Action on proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act.

6. Possible creation of a commission to study the federal government's place in handling social welfare, health, housing and social security problems.

7. Possible extension of the reciprocal trade agreements.

8. New authorizations and appropriations for the foreign aid program.

In the latter connection, Taft said he assumes the new secretary of state will reexamine foreign policy. He said it will be up to Eisenhower to determine what changes may be necessary.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Walter W. Williams, the nation's oldest confederate war veteran, takes a bite of his birthday cake Nov. 16th at his 110th birthday party. Williams was 110 on Nov. 14, but the party was delayed until relatives could gather at the farm house where he lives near the central Texas hamlet of Eaton. His wife, Ella, 78, offers him a bite of cake. More than 100 relatives attended the party.

Foundations Coming Under Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress today opened an investigation into tax-exempt philanthropic and educational foundations with the declared purpose of finding whether any of them are engaging in "un-American activities."

The inquiry embraces more than 600 such organizations, including the Rockefeller, Carnegie and Ford Foundations, whose activities reach into almost every corner of the world.

Chairman of the special House investigating unit is Rep. Cox (D-Ga). The other members are Reps. Hays (D-Ark), O'Toole (D-NY), Forand (D-RI), Simpson (R-Pa), Goodwin (R-Mass) and Reece, (R-Tenn.)

Under a resolution sponsored by Cox and approved by the House during the last session of Congress, the committee has specific instructions to determine "which such foundations and organizations are using their resources for purposes other than the purposes for which they were established, and especially to determine which such foundations and organazations are using their resources for un-American and subversive activities or for purposes not in the interest or tradition of the United States."

The committee said the first week of hearings would be devoted primarily to establishing the history and growth of the tax-exempt foundations, their members, resources and income, their impact on society and their accomplishments in various fields.

Cox added, however, that he personally is "less inclined to point the accusing finger" at the organization than he was before the committee's 15-member staff bega laying the groundwork for the inquiry.

He said it should be remembered that the foundations are an outgrowth of the capitalistic system, and said the committee intends to find out whether some of them have "shown a tendency to bring that system into dispute."

Twenty-two page questionaires went out to 50 of the largest foundations and less detailed inquiries to the remainder. Replies have been received from most of them and they are being processed. The foundations, among other things, were asked to list all their grants over the past 15 years.

Cox said the foundations had cooperated and appeared to welcome the investigation.

Bond Posted For Man Held In 2 Shootings

Fred C. Ohlenbusch of Inadale, charged with murder in connection with the deaths of his wife and an Abilene man, was released on $30,000 bond yesterday afternoon from the Taylor County jail.

Listed as sureties on the bond were W. R. Potter, president of the Roscoe State Bank; Henry B. Cooke, Jr., Maryneal rancher; R. E. Gracey, Roscoe cattle breeder, David T. Etheredge, Roscoe farmer; E. H. McCright, Sweetwater auto dealer; A. B. Ohlenbusch, Lubbock oilman and brother of the defendant, and H. O. Ohlenbusch of New Braunfels, his father.

The bond had been set yesterday at Ohlenbusch's arraignment before Justice of the Peace Henry F. Long. Neither of the defendant's attorneys, J. H. Beall, Jr., and Philip Yonge, both of Sweetwater, were present for the arraignment, but District Attorney John Willoughby of Abilene told the court Beall had notified him that pleas of not guilty were to be entered for Ohlenbusch.

Willoughby had questioned Fort Worth private detective, Mrs. Minnie G. Cannon, who said she led Ohlenbusch, his brother, Henry, and their brother-in-law, Clarence C. Etheredge, to the spot where the shooting occurred on a country road southwest of Abilene Air Base last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Ohlenbusch and the Abilene man, James Cecil Hendley, were sitting in a car, Willoughby learned by questioning Mrs. Cannon and her nephew, Ben Bunton, that they stopped their car a short distace ahead of Hendley's car and that Ohlenbusch stopped his car alongside the Hendley car.

The district attorney said Mrs. Cannon told him she and Bunton heard the first shot fired from a 12-gauge shotgun. She said she and her nephew drove father out the road, turned around, and returned to the scene of the shooting. The district attorney quoted her as saying she and her nephew accompanied Ohlenbusch and his brother to the Abilene Air Base, where Henry Ohlenbusch telephoned the Taylor County sheriff's office.

High Praise From Critic Of First Concert Of Series Here

Editor's note: The following is the guest critic's impressions of the first concert of the Snyder series. The critics' columns appear through arrangement with the Snyder Civic Music Association.

By Mrs. M. M. O'REAR

Last evening the National Operatic Sextet opened the musical season for the Snyder Civic Music Association. The four men—Attillo Baggiore and Arthur Rubin (tenors), Mario Fiorella (baratone), and Bruce MacKay (bass) — and the two attractive young ladies—Alice Rager (soprano) and Margaret Baxter (mezzo) sang to a near capacity house.

The audience was very responsive and enthusiastic. If you enjoy classical music, especially that of the opera, last night was the night! At the close of the evening, I heard comments from the audience which ran like this: "Wasn't it wonderful?" or "If this is a sample of what to expect, the rest of our programs will be worth hearing." Mr. Silas Devenport was heard to say, "I liked that bass!" Joe Cargile said, "Boy, did you hear the high tenor!"

All voices of the sextet were excellent, well - trained, and well controlled. The men sang with a gusto which reverberated through the halls; in fact, they so overshadowed the young ladies in volume during the first two numbers that we hardly heard the ladies' voices at all. From "Rigoletto" on Miss Rager seemed to hold her own. I was thankful for the "Don Giovanni" number as it gave us a chance to discover Miss Baxter's lovely voice. Until that number I was prepared to write, ".but anyway she was very pretty." After the third number both young ladies had the audience in the palm of their beautiful hands. Even though the Italian numbers the performers held their audience through sheer personality and musical performance. Their humming tones were excellent and outstanding.

The male quartet seemed to be one of the most popular groups on the program. The enchores which they gave to please the insistent audience certainly had an "audience appeal." At the close of the evening, the sextet very graciously responded to the appreciative audience with several enchores, and after the fourth I became so engrossed with the text of the songs, I lost count.

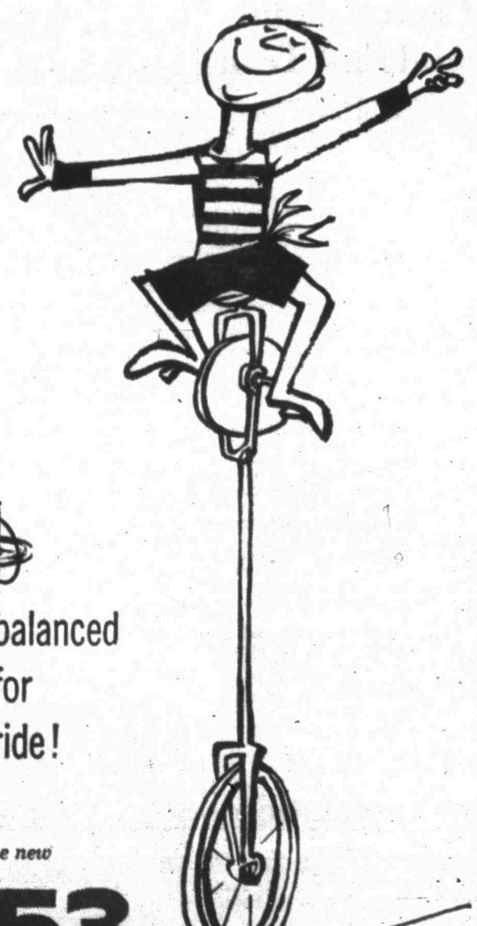

I asked Jack Phillips, Mrs. George Kubala, and Mrs. A. Z. Glover to be co-critics with me. Their comments were as follows:

Phillips: ".....entire program seemed to be meticulously planned as well as flawlessly performed...blending a little sharp and cutting in spots . . . careful timing ... beautiful accompanying... ability to please audience...evening of sheer enjoyment...."

Mrs. Kubala: "...very, very lovely in its entirety ... congratulations to the Civic Music Association committee for its work and its selection of fine performers..."

Mrs. Glover: "Grand program.. seemed to improve with each number...sopranos overshadowed in opening number ... thoroughly enjoyed..."

In summing I should like to say: "...the accompanist, so important to any program, was a pianist in his own rights ... outstanding performers ... worth recommending to any civic music organization... lovely soprano.....excellent second tenor ...on the whole, the National Operatic Sextet gave a wonderful, well rounded program.

Farouk Has Been Cut From 10 To 3 Million Dollars Annualy

CAIRO (AP)—It depends on how you look at it.

One way, you can take ex-King Farouk's word for it that he is a "relatively poor man." He has suffered a drastic cut in wages and standard of living.

For instance, at Capri he restricted himself to $400-a-day lodgings.

The last year he occupied the Egyptian throne he had an income of more than $113,000 a week—just from the state and one reported holding of arable land. He had four major palaces and a half-dozen others scattered around the country.

At Capri he spent $400 a day. In Egypt, his minimum income was $16,000 a day.

The hidden story of the fabulous wealth and income of the playboy-monarch is slowly being pieced together.

El Sayed Ahmed Khasaba, one of the two custodians of the exking's property, has disclosed that part of Farouk's personal holdings included 12,000 acres of the most fertile soil in the Nile Valley. This did not include what is scattered around under concealed names and owned by various members of the royal household.

These particular 12,000 acres have been estimated to be worth $17,220,000. The annual income for Farouk from these lush acres was $2,152,000.

He got another $3,731,000 from the Egyptian state last year to run the royal household.

Just from these two sources alone, Farouk had an annual income of nearly six million dollars a year. He had other resources of course, including his secret holdings abroad. These have been estimated at between 40 million and 60 million dollars in cash and securities on foreign banks.

When the whole story of the vast Farouk economic structure is pieced together there is virtually no chance that Farouk will ever get a penny out of Egypt. There has been a public clamor for confiscation of his properties. Already his four major places have been put directly under the control of the government.

All of which makes him a "relatively poor man." His income has been slashed from a minimum of 10 million dollars a year to whatever he can eke out of the investments abroad.

That's roughly three million dollars a year.

Mickey Rooney Marries Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 18 (AP)—Mickey Rooney, the diminutive film actor, fidgeted and fumbled for the ring this morning as he married for a fourth time following a surprise elopement.

The bride, a flame-tressed, comparatively unknown model described as slender and "quite a bit taller" than Mickey, signed the marriage certificate as Elaine Mahnken, 22. She's been married once before.

Giving the slip to newsmen who had been told they'd be wed at the Flamingo Hotel, the couple was married by the Rev. Thomas Daly at the Wee Kirk O' the Heather Chapel. Then they hurried to El Rancho Vegas Hotel, registering as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yule —Mickey's real name.

Rooney's former wives were actresses Ava Gardner and Martha Vickers, and an Alabama beauty contest winner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wallin of Dallas were to have arrived today to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Alexander, 2906 Avenue U.

Mrs. J. L. Weathers and Mrs. Nannie Metz are home after Mrs. Weathers spent two weeks in the hospital at Clifton.

In the early Middle Ages, Christian countries counted March 25 the first day of the year.

How many people does it take to make a telephone call?

Here in Texas it takes 28,000 Southwestern Bell people to handle the eleven million telephone calls you make each day.
Move them all into one town with their families and you'd have a city the size of Waco.
Add all their pay checks together and you'd have $92 million a year — enough to make them important customers for every retail businessman in the towns they serve.
But even more important than their numbers or their purchasing power, is the good citizenship of the people who make up your telephone team.
On the job, you'll find them working with skill and devotion to give you the very best possible telephone service. Off the job, you'll find them working as scoutmasters, church leaders, civic club members to make their home towns the best possible places to live.
We're glad to have them as members of the telephone team. We believe that you're glad to have them as good neighbors.

Young Wives Better Cooks Than Their Mothers Were

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Ediotr

Today's bride is a better cook than her mother—or even her husband's mother. So says a woman who has spent her life teaching other women how to cook and trying to lift American culinary standards.

She is a brisk, smiling Clara Snyder, consumer service consultant for the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers and wife of Dr. Lloyd Snyder, Professor of farm economics at the University of Nebraska.

Says Mrs. Snyder:

"Young brides needn't stand for that nonsense about the pies 'like mother used to make' any longer. Husbands who continue the old refrain should be forced to supply proof, and compare one of mom's mythical pies with a product of his bride's modern kitchen. Ten-to-one the younger generation wins."

Mrs. Snyder has been in New York getting the results of a recent cook-book-recipe survey to determine what happens to the millions of recipes poured forth upon the U. S. public each year.

The research specialists came up with the disconcerting report that 24 per cent of U. S. housewives have no recipes at all in their homes; that older, experienced housewives rarely use recipes, and that the most enthusiastic clippers and collectors of this form of literature are the younger, well-educated housewives in the upper income brackets.

Mrs. Snyder claims this is the reason the younger gals are better cooks—they're not above taking whatever new tips come along and aren't too set in their ways to see the virtues of such short cake as frozen foods and cake mixes.

That age-old problem of three a day is a constant challenge to the housewife, says Mrs. Snyder, and she can either be crushed by it or have a whale of a good time getting the best of it. Says she:

"Menu planning seems to be the greatest problem of housewives everywhere. They get a good recipe, but then they want to know what goes with it. The smart ones accumulate a fill of quick-easy-to-serves meals, try them out on the family, throw away the ones that don't click and save the ones that do.

"Then they add their own individual touches of flavoring and garnishing, and they have combined the best traits of the old-fashioned housewife, who cooked 'by ear,' and modern science, which turns out nutritious test-kitchen recipes."

Our wood floors are terrible looking because of an accumulation of old wax. What is the method for removing this wax? Mrs. L.

You can buy a commercial floor cleaner made by a well known wax manufacturer. This cleaner is mixed with hot water and applied liberally to the floor with a mop or cloth. Let it stand 2 or 3 minutes to soften the wax, then rub with mop or stiff brush to loosen film. If necessary, scrub with a steel wool pad. Then wipe up as much dirt and solution as possible.

Rinse thoroughly with warm water, refilling pail with clear water frequently. As soon as floor is thoroughly dry, rewax.

Could you give us a dessert recipe for the holidays besides pumpkin pie or fruit cake? Mrs. N. G. R.

One desert you might like to try is Banana Cranberry Parfait. Here's what you need:

2 cups jellied cranberry sauce
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons orange juice
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (2 to 3 fully ripe bananas)
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mash cranberry sauce with a fork. Stir sugar into orange juice, until dissolved. Add orange juice and bananas to cranberry sauce and mix well. Turn into freezing tray and turn to the coldest setting until mixture is partially set. Turn the mixture into a chilled bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until smooth. Fold in whipped cream. Return to tray and freeze until firm.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Tigers Break Even With Big Spring From Previous Games

According to athletic history in Snyder High School, the Tigers have a much better record in their meetings with the Big Spring Steers than they had with the Sweetwater Mustangs.

While the Mustangs have now defeated the Tigers five out of six times, the Tigers have beat Big Spring once, and the Steers have downed Snyder once.

The two meetings, the only games the two teams played, according to old newspaper files, were in 1928 and 1929.

Their third clash is scheduled for Friday night.

Both teams were in a Class B district in 1928, when the Tigers edged out the Steers 7-0 in the last minutes of the game.

After the two teams had deadlocked throughout the game, G. L. Huestis, now of Forsan, passed to Glen Wilsford 20 yards to the Steer five yard line, but the Tigers lost the ball there on downs. The Steers took over and attempted to punt out, but Hubert Karnes, now of Ira, blocked the boot, and J. T. Trice, now of the Camp Springs community, fell on top of the ball in the end zone for the Tiger score.

Huestis made a straight kick for the extra point.

A group of 300 fans made the long journey to Big Spring to see Snyder play the game.

Neither team won the district championship that year. Colorado City took the title, and Snyder, coached by General Whitaker, fell to fourth place.

Big Spring had advanced to Class A in 1929, while the Tigers remained in their regular district. Ottis M. (Red) Moore, whose teams during his five years here took three district titles and two second places, was serving his first year as coach here.

The 1929 game was a tough one, although the Steers finally came out on top 19-7. Big Spring opened the scoring the second time the team had the ball, traveling from their own 30 to the goal line. The Steers then kicked off, and M. M. Clark, an upholsterer here now, returned the boot to the Tiger 25, and his fumble was recovered by the Steers.

The Big Spring squad carried the ball to the Tiger four for a first down, and the Tigers held them until they took possession of the ball. Huestis punted out, then the Tigers regained it on their own 36. The two teams came to a stalemate there, punting to each other several times.

The Tigers began a drive toward the goal line early in the second half, traveling 50 yards. Bedford McClinton, now of Fort Worth, went five yards, Buddy Martin, now of Big Spring, traveled 11 for a first down. Huestis went another 26 around right end for a second first down, then McClinton and Martin each made jabs for a first on the Steer 10. A fumble lost the ball to Big Spring there, and they punted out.

Taking the punt, the Tigers fumbled again on the Steer 33, and Big Spring moved to the Snyder 15 on three passes good for 52 yards. They bucked on to the Tiger five, where they couldn't get past the huge Tiger line, and Snyder again took over and punted out.

Intercepting a Huestis pass and traveling to the Snyder 18, the Steers worked to the five and went across to score.

The Tigers picked up after that score, then Huestis passed three times, each for 15 yards, to Austin Erwin, now of Coleman, McClinton and Andy Jones, who now lives in Austin. Jones made the TD, and Erwin kicked the extra point. Big Spring ended the game with 16 first downs to Snyder's six. Each team punted about 11 times during the game.

Roscoe was the No. 1 team in Snyder's district that year, with the Tigers running second.

No Team Is Close To Mich. State In Top Standings Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan State, leader for most of the season in the Associated Press poll of the nation's top college football teams, apparently has only to beat Marquette Saturday to wrap up its first national football championship.

Michigan State's impressve 21-3 thumping of Notre Dame, combined with Georgia Tech's close call against Alabama and Maryland's upset loss to Mississippi, left the undefeated Spartans off by themselves with nearly two-thirds of the third-place votes from 127 sports writers and broadcasters participating in this week's poll.

Michigan State was named first by 80 voters and piled up 1,168 points on the usual basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on down the line.

Despite its close game with Alabama, Georgia Tech managed to retain second place. The writers appeared about evenly divided in their regard for third - ranked UCLA and fourth-ranked Southern California. Tech received 1,020 points as compared to 968 for UCLA and 911 for USC.

Baylor Primes For Saturday

Baylor's Golden Bears—pointing to the annual Baptist-Methodist tussle with Southern Methodist Saturday in Dallas—worked hard again Tuesday after heavy scrimmages Monday.

For the most part, the rest of the Southwest Conference members took it fairly easy.

The University of Texas Longhorns voted to represent the conference against the University of Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl game—and surprised nobody.

Both the Longhorns and the Texas Aggies were idle Tuesday since neither team plays Saturday and will wait until Wednesday to start getting ready for their traditional grudge game Thanksgiving Day.

Texas emerged from their 14-7 win over Texas Christian last week in good shape and Texas A&M hopes to have Ray Graves back at quarter and Pete Mayeaux back at half when the annual Texas-Texas A&M classic rolls around. Graves was hurt a fortnight ago in the game with SMU and Mayeaux suffered a neck injury in the game wtih Arkansas last week.

While Baylor went right into hard work preparing for the Mustangs, the Methodists watched moving pctures of last year's SMU-Baylor tussle, and called it a day.

Texas Christian—getting ready for Rice—were due some heavy work Tuesday after a light workout yesterday. Rice, the Frogs' opponents Saturday, scheduled long workouts Tuesday and Wednesday to give the Owl seniors a chance to win their first game from the Christians.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, still groggy from their 27-17 loss to SMU last week, scheduled heavy workouts Tuesday for their final game of the season Saturday with the University of Tulsa. The Porkers called off drills Monday when rain chased them under cover.

Predicts Big Withdrawal From Bowls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan State President John Hannah's prediction that the Big Ten will end its Rose Bowl contract in 1954 has brought quick and cautious reaction.

The Rose Bowl, as every kid in shoulder pads knows, is the oldest of college football's annual post-season classics, dating back to 1902.

The Pacific Coast Conference, which provides the host team each New Year's Day at Pasadena, Calif., has an agreement running until Jan. 1, 1954, with the Big Ten, which supplies the opponent. The arrangement began in 1947 and was renegotiated last year.

And Dr. Hannah, whose college becomes a Big Ten member next year—hence, eligible to vote on renewing the contract—forecasts it will be dropped. He said yesterday:

"I think presidents of the Pacific Coast Conference think about as I do."

Hannah declined to speculate whether that meant there would be no Rose Bowl after Jan. 1, 1954, but he said: "If there is, I suspect that the Big Ten will not participate in it."

Elimination of all postseason competition, football bowls included, was one recommendation of a special committee of the American Council of Education. Hannah was chairman of the group, which conducted a nation-wide investigation into college sports programs.

Hannah's remarks yesterday were in a copyrighted interview with U. S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine.

Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, reached at Chicago, would say only: "The conference will act on a decision of renewing the Rose Bowl contract some time next year."

Deer Hunters Have Good Luck As Season Barely Gets Open

By The Associated Press

They were bringing home the venison in Texas Tuesday.

The deer hunting season moved into its third day. And hundreds hauling carcasses of freshly killed bucks to their freezers.

But the big six-week season had a long way to go. Rugged areas of the state still echoed rifle shots Tuesday as other huntsmen went after their limit.

GOOD SEASON AHEAD

Generally, it's going to be a good season, according to Howard Dodgen Texas Game Commission executive secretary.

Dodgen said at Austin the total kill might exceed the average. And despite the long drought the deer are fat, probably because they've been eating acorns, Dodgen noted.

A norther whipped through the state was viewed as a boon to Huntsmen. That's because cooler air will doubtless make the elusive deer frisky—and more susceptible to showing up in a man's gunsight.

Dodgen said don't let the unusually large numbers of carcasses brought to ice houses during the first two days of the season fool you. He says this doesn't necessarily mean a lot more deer are being killed this season.

WARM WEATHER HELPS

Sunday and Monday were warm over most of Texas and huntsmen brought their game in as fast as they killed it. Had there been an opening-day cold snap, like last year, Dodgen added, deer hunters probably wouldn't have hurried to town so quickly.

That's why Dodgen believes the season's kill will be good but not as great as indicated by the first two days' reports.

Thus far there have been two fatal hunting mishaps. Both occured Sunday. Two other hunters died of heart attacks Monday.

About 200 deer carcasses were in a Kerrville storage vault, according to Kenneth Foree, outdoors editor of the Dallas Morning News. Forty deer were reported in storage at Fairfield and 358 at Llano.

ABOUT 600 KILLED

About 600 bucks were reported bagged in Gillespie County, in the Hill Country, opening day. But huntsmen were doing all right in North Texas, too. Game Warden Red Burks estimated 200 fat and lazy bucks were killed in Red River County. Another 100 were reported bagged in the White Oak bottoms of Hopkins County.

Millard Crawford of Garland said he killed a 14-pointer in the Possum Kingdom area. Junior Hendricks of Waco got his season's limit, a six and eight-pointer, in 15 minutes near Fairfield.

And 11-year-old Gene Rowell of Austin killed a nine - point buck with his .22 rifle. It was the lad's first shot at a live target.

Dodgen says a lot of out-of-state hunters are in the state. He estimates about 150,000 to 200,000 Texans will try for a deer before the season ends Dec. 31.

Hermleigh Is To Play Here In Title Tilt

The Hermleigh Cardinals, champs of District 5-B for the third year in a row, will meet Sanderson, champ of District 6-B, here for the bi-district title Dec. 5.

Sanderson, undefeated in district play this year and loser only to Class A teams, defeated Hermleigh in the bi-district tilt last year 20-13.

The Cardinals topped their district this year undefeated in district and season play, scoring 285 points during the season to opponents' 68 and 240 to 62 in district games.

The winner of the bi-district game will meet the winner of Districts 7 and 8 for the regional title, which is the top of Class B football. District titles in those two districts are not yet decided.

A district meet of all Class 5-B schools is slated for tonight, in which the representatives will choose an all-district team.

Films Slated Tonight At Quarterback Club

Films of last Friday night's Snyder - Sweetwater game will probably be shown at the regular meeting of the Quarterback Club tonight.

Clyde Godwin, president of the club, said that in addition to seeing the films, members will hear high school coaches discuss the coming game with Big Spring this Friday night.

Small Tornado Strikes

WALDRON, Ark. (AP)—Five farm homes were destroyed and two persons were injured last night when a small tornado struck in Western Arkansas.

Rotary Rigs Drop One In Scurry In Two Weeks

Rotary rigs decreased by one in Scurry County during the two weeks ending Nov. 10, according to a survey made by Reed Roller Bit Co.

Scurry had 16 rigs operating on Oct 25 and 15 on Nov. 10.

In other nearby counties, Kent's rotaries decreased from seven to four, Howard increased from 10 to 11, Borden decreased from six to five.

In the entire 25-county Permian Basin, the rigs increased from 508 to 537, compared to 488 on Oct. 10.

Here are some of the traffic signs that United Nations experts hope will become world wide to permit them to be understood in any language.

United Nations Experts Are Eyeing World Traffic Symbols

By The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — A board of U. N. highway experts has written a code intended to make road signs uniform throughout the world, but they backed up on any idea of reforming traffic cops.

In an attempt to make road and traffic signs intelligible in any language, the experts bear down heavily on the use of symbols instead of words.

If enough nations approve their signs, an American motorist in Timbuktu or Peru would get along just as easily as an Italian in Japan or Iran.

The highway experts agreed on their conclusions after three years' study under U. N. auspices, carrying on a project the League of Nations began in 1926.

The U. S. itself didn't begin to work out uniform traffic symbols until 1925. All 48 states haven't yet adopted all the recommendations of the U. S. manual prepared by a joint committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials, the Institute of Traffic Engineers, and the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety.

But there is already a great deal of uniformity among the states and the American system bulks large in the final plans approved by the experts. An American in traffic anywhere abroad would have less trouble with highway markings under the proposed system than many Europeans would have.

The experts came from the U. S., Turkey, India, France, Southern Rhodesia and Chile.

Their final agreement on the several score road symbols represented a triumph of common sense. Their agreement to let traffic cops be traffic cops also sounds like common sense.

There was some early talk of trying to get uniformity by prescribing basic elements of two systems. The experts then found there were at least three other police hand signal systems that worked. They all had the same basic characteristics "and are therefore not likely to be confusing to road users," the experts said.

On the grounds that traffic cops make themselves unmistakably understood, the experts decided to skip it.

The experts proposed that after five countries signed the world convention on road signs, it would come into force and other countries could come along and change their road signs to conform as fast as they could.

The biggest change, if the system is finally adopted in the U. S. would be to substitute a broken "X," or St. Andrew's cross, with a railroad track symbol in the center for the familiar cross arms and "RR" that betokens a railroad crossing in this country now.

To a French-speaking driver "RR" means little. His word for railroad is "chemin de fer" or "voie ferree." The German calls it "Eisenbahn," the Russian "zheleznyy dorogy," the Spaniard "ferrocarril," the Turk "acik demiryolu." They all mean "Iron way."

Even in some English-speaking areas, it's "railway," not railroad.

Another big change for U. S. drivers would be the interdictory signs common in Europe to bar entry into one-way streets, or to bar access to certain vehicles.

A red-bordered circle with an inclined bar in red across it is the recommended regulatory sign. An arrow in such a circle would mean no entry; an angled arrow would prohibit right or left turns, depending on which way the arrow turned; a U-shaped arrow would bar a U-turn.

A truck in such a circle would mean no entry for goods-carrying vehicles; a bicycle symbol, no entry for bikes; a horn — that looks like something off an old Stutz Bearcat — means "horn blowing prohibited."

A big red "P" in a red disk would mean restricted parking. A red-inclined bar through such a disk would mean no parking.

Texas Farmers Will Benefit From Research

By The Associated Press

Texas farmers may benefit from a sweeping reorganization in the Agriculture Department's research and conservation services.

The department has shifted research in soil, crop and water management relating to crop production from the Soil Conservation Service to a bureau that deals directly with agricultural research. That is the Bureau of Plant, Industry, Soils and Agricultural Engineering, a branch of the Agriculture Research Administration

This change will immediately affect experiments underway in six Texas communities. And it could well benefit every Texas farmer by accentuating the importance of soil research and ultimately increasing the yield of his land.

Research and conservation in soils are not quite the same. Conservation is how to keep the land from blowing or washing away; research deals with increasing fertility within the land.

But down through the years the SCS and ARA have edged into each other's areas of responsibility, according to an Agriculture Department spokesman.

The spokesman, who declined to be named, said that, for example, ARA, the research agency, has been making soil conservation surveys over the nation. Now this will be done entirely by SCS.

Likewise, he said, SCS has been engaged in certain types of soil research which technically belong to ARA. One of these is planting different types of legumes, or cover crops, to protect the soil and determine how much the legumes can increase production of wheat and corn.

Observers feel giving research entirely to the ARA gives research a more important place—and an opportunity for more funds.

The necessity for soil research is underscored in an Agriculture Department forecast that by 1975 this nation will have 190 million mouths to feed.

That probably means we'll have to get every last bit of productivity from the land.

The shakeup in responsibilities was announced last month in Washington. But the spokesman said it would take several weeks to work out details.

One immediate effect will put soil research projects under way in six Texas communities by SCS under the ARA. The projects are at Brownsville, Bluebonnet, Temple, Amarillo, Spur and Waco.

They are in co-operation with State Agriculture Experiment Stations.

The spokesman also said streamlining the Agriculture Department would save money and might give officials a better talking point when they ask for more funds for soil research.

Almost 90 per cent of U. S. farms have electricity.

Communists And Prostitutes Injure Relations In Oxford

OXFORD, England (AP) — British Reds and red light ladies are cashing in on one of the biggest booms to hit Oxford in centuries—8,000 American airmen.

Scores of prostitutes have trooped into this ancient cultural city to grab easy money from free-spending Yanks on leave from the three big U. S. air bases nearby.

And a few unpleasant incidents have provided big headlines for the sensational press and fresh propaganda for the Communists' "Yank go home" campaign.

Both U. S. Air Force officials and Oxford city authorities do not believe the situation has reached the serious stage yet. But both are anxious to do something about it.

Maj. Gen. Francis H. Griswold commanding general of the Third Air Force in Britain, this week began a series of flying visits to all nine major American bases in England to lecture the 45,000 airmen on good behavior.

The three bases in the Oxford area—Upper Heyford, Brize Norton and Fairford—are on the general's itinerary.

The Air Force also has begun "re-indoctrination" courses on friendly Anglo-American relations. The Air Force action followed a report by a private British-American group which said there is "bad feeling" between American airmen in Britain and the British public. Oxford was one of the areas covered in the group's five-month study.

Both the Air Force and Oxford city authorities insist that the 8,000 American airmen in this area have behaved as well as can be expected. They agree the real problem is prostitution.

A week-end visitor to Oxford finds American airmen by the hundreds crowding the city's main streets, cinemas, restaurants, bars and dance halls.

So do the girls—many hardened prostitutes from out of town, others local girls out for a good time.

Scores of the girls are in their early teens. To Americans out for a good time, it's easy to get a girl.

Often, there's a bit of free and easy necking under a street lamp or in a doorway. This shocks some of Oxford's older citizens.

Gangs of young toughs, or "spivs," many dressed in American-style "zoot" suits, sometimes roam the streets looking for trouble.

Occasionally, there's a barroom fight, a quarrel over a girl or a drunken argument involving Americans and Britons, but most of these are of minor nature.

To Oxford's small but active Communists cell, it's open season for stirring up anti-American feeling among local British inhabitants.

Ernie Keeling, veteran Communist party organizer for the South Midland district of England, harangues workers at Oxford's big motor works and steel plant. He says, "The Yanks have turned Oxford into a city of shame."

Some of the workers listen. But the majority of Oxford citizens don't blame the Americans so much.

They know that Oxford has always had its seamy side, even in Edwardian days.

And the Amercans are not blamed directly for the fact that Oxford's rate of illegimate births last year was seven out of every 100 babies, nearly double the national average. The rate has grown since 1950.

City Alderman E. W. B. Gill, bursar of Oxford's Merton College, told a reporter: "It's no use saying —as some people do—that American servicemen are to blame. Half the trouble is these confounded girls.

A woman welfare officer said: "I think the girls are mostly to blame, and in some cases their mothers encourage them. The Mothers can't forget that during the war many English girls got good American husbands.

But she thinks part of the trouble is that "so many of these young American visitors are mothers' darlings. Americans spoil their boys, and when they are left on their own in a strange country, they take naturally to 'womanizing.'"

Most authorities believe a better solution to the problem can be found in organizing more and better recreation facilities for the airmen off duty.

Husbands Should Be Allowed To Stray Once

LONDON (AP)—Every husband is entitled to philander once in his life, a spokesman (male) for the British Law Society said last night in advising wives it is better to forgive once than try to forget forever.

"I think for a woman to take up the stupid position of insisting upon absolute fidelity from her husband is wrong," London lawyer E. C. Harvey told the Royal Commission on Marriage and Divorce, which is hearing suggestions for changes in divorce laws.

"It might be suggested very strongly to a wife to overlook it where a husband had failed on one occasion with one particular woman and had freely confessed it—rather than rush into divorce. After all, she will be a long time divorced," he said.
