CISD teacher suspended for alledged misconduct

A Colorado Middle School teacher has been suspended indefinitely with pay as an investigation into an alleged incident involving the teacher's treatment of a student on Wednesday morning at the Middle School.

Thelma Blake, a resident of Sweetwater, has been suspended from her duties as a resource teacher at the Middle School with pay as an investigation is being conducted into the allegations.

"An investigation is being conducted," said Don Nimmo, superintendent of the Colorado Independent School District. "There has been an alleged incident in which a teacher was to have placed her hand on a student's face, and the handling of the alleged incident will be conducted according to School Board policy."

School officials confirmed that the student involved had red spots on his face and that the parents of the child have been contacted by school officials.

Blake had been charged once in the past - while on the staff at Colorado High School - for verbal assault, but no disciplinary action was taken by the school board, officials confirmed.

According to board policy, Blake has fifteen days to make a written response regarding the alleged actions.

The trustees of the school board will make the final determination of any possible disciplinary action after hearing both sides of the story, school board members have indicated.

The next regular scheduled meeting of the school board is slated for Mon, Nov 11.

Objection filed against county redistricting plan

An objection has been filed against the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court redistricting plan at the United States Department of Justice on behalf of the minority residents and voters of Mitchell County.

"We are objecting to the plan because one or more districts in the plan should not be approved," said attorney Gilbert Rodriguez, district V deputy director of the League of United Latin American Citizens.

"Three plans were sent to the Justice Department which," Rodriguez said, "demonstrate that it is easily possible to obtain up to a 72 percent minority population in at least one county precinct if a good faith effort is made to develop a plan which does not continue to dilute minority voting strength."

"The process of redistricting involves forming a plan to please a majority of the voters and this has not been accomplished with the redistricting plan that was approved by the commissioners," he said.

"The plan submitted by the Commissioners' Court continues to dilute the minority voting strength in Mitchell County," Rodriguez said.

Census figures for Mitchell County indicate a total population of 8,016 of which 5,260 - 65.62 percent are Anglo; 2,389 - 29.8 percent are Hispanic; 362 - 4.52 percent are Black; and 5 - .06 percent are Asian.

Under the current district plan: Precinct 1 has a population of 2,923 with a minorities totaling 29.76 percent; Precinct 2 has 1,389 with minorities representing 34.84 percent; Precinct 3 has 2,506 with a minority representation of 36

Hospital board asked to support prison project

Representatives seeking support of an application to locate a drug and alcohol abuse facility in Mitchell County met with hospital district board members at the regular monthly meeting.

Woody Anderson and Eddie Piland, representing the group interested in pursuing the option - contingent on the passage of Proposition 4 on the Nov 5 ballot met to urge their support and request a future commitment from the hospital.

"We just wanted to give you an update of where we are," said Anderson, "and what we think a prison proposal or preferably a drug and alcohol abuse facility might do for the hospital and tell you a little bit about what we would require from the hospital in our proposal and application."

"In our application," Anderson said, "we'll have to have a commitment from the hospital."

"In the Childress application, they gave them a wing of their hospital," he said, "and we would probably have to give them a letter of commitment - use of a wing - from our hospital."

"The intent of the group that's proposing to go after this application for a drug and alcohol abuse facility - we're going to try and push for a drug and alcohol abuse facility as opposed to a prison unit."

"We think that it will do two things for our hospital and our hospital district," he said. "We think it will ensure long term - the life of our hospital and our hospital district, and secondly, we think that the employees will be professional people; they'll bring in doctors, sociologists, psychologists, and registered nurses."

"We think the overall impact of the employees in the community will probably be better with the drug and alcohol rehab facility than they would through the prison system...we feel the professional people will lift our entire community in other areas also."

"The drug and alcohol facility would probably have in the neighborhood of 170 employees and between 4-and-one-half and 5 million dollars in payroll."

"The same size facility in the prison unit would have 300 employees and 6 million dollars in payroll."

"We have been advised that this is realistic and that this is the best avenue for us to take," Anderson said, "we've been told that it is realistic that we would have an opportunity to get one of those."

County unemployment figure reported at 7.8

Mitchell County unemployment was reported at 7.8 percent for September, higher than the surrounding counties and the statewide average, according to a recently released report from the Texas Employment Commission.

The report states that the statewide average for the month of September was 6.4 percent, as presented by Mary Scott Nabers, commissioner of the Texas Employment Commission.

"I feel pretty grim about our situation when I compare this month's statistics with last year's 6.2 percent," Nabers said, "and even two years ago when we registered 6.3 percent."

"That data paints a flat, stagnant economic picture," she said. "But, when we consider the 9.1 percent jobless rate of 1986 or the 8.5 percent of 1987, I begin to feel somewhat better."

"Actually," Nabers said, "Texas is considered average when compared to all other states. The national average unemployment rate is exactly 6.4 percent."

The local and surrounding unemployment figures that were reported are:

Mitchell County: A civilian labor force (CLF) of 3,686, of which 3,398 are employed (EMP) - 288 unemployed (UNEM) for an unemployment rate (Rt) of 7.8 percent.

Fisher County: CLF - 2,317; EMP - 2,202; UNEM - 115; Rt of 5.0 percent.

Tom Green County: CLF - 43,822; EMP - 41,469; UNEM - 2,353; Rt of 5.4 percent.

Midland County: CLF - 48,275; EMP - 45,649; UNEM - 2,626; Rt of 5.4 percent.

Scurry County: CLF - 10,910; UNEM - 840; Rt of 7.7 percent.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK
DEAN WILLIAMSON

It seems that Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum and Mitchell County Judge Ray Mayo are all right and that life is settling down following their ordeal.

As you may have heard, the local officials were the victims of a hold-up that occurred in front of the courthouse several weeks ago - as witnesses stood by and helplessly watched.

The gun wielding pair - claiming to be 'Davy Crockett' and 'Gregorio Esparza' - made their demands known to the pair of elected officials, who seemed to have little choice but to comply with the demands.

They were dressed like a pair of outlaws from an old western movie - one dressed in fringed leather clothes and a coonskin cap and the other in a Mexican designed attire - and both came with knives sticking out from their belt.

At one point during the episode, both the Mayor and the Judge had their hands on the gun - but it was a futile effort. They had little chance to fight with the pair and in the end the outlaws ended up with possession of the gun and kept control of the proceedings throughout.

It seems that they were prepared and well trained for anything might happen and kept control throughout the hold-up.

The one in the coonskin cap produced a shovel which - with the help of the gun he kept pointed on them - he made the Mayor and the Judge use to dig a hole in the courthouse lawn.

The pair of bandits seemed confident during the episode and kept spouting off about this and that while the pair of elected officials were working under the pressure of a gun barrel pointed at them.

'Davy Crockett' kept talking about fun, laughing about the incident as it happened, while 'Gregorio Esparza' kept saying, "Let's go!" - and even started to walk off a time or two during the process.

When 'Davy' was satisfied and called a halt to the digging, the two bandits filled a canvas bag with the treasure that the elected officials had dug for them.

They kept the gun pointed as they sealed the bag and hoisted it in the air, then they turned and with almost a triumphant grin - on accomplishing the task - they marched away with the courthouse, slipped into a waiting vehicle and made their get-away.

More than one of the bystanders was reported to have heard the duo claim that they were on a mission - and would hit every county in the state before they were finished.

Since the time of their escape from Mitchell County they have been spotted in Sweetwater, Snyder and most recently, in Abilene - going about their mission of robbing from communities at gunpoint.

Authorities have revealed that the pair is taking their treasures to San Antonio, and that they are proud of the deed they are doing.

Yes, without much ado, there is something missing from our county. Now - hidden somewhere in San Antonio is a canvas bag filled with Mitchell County soil.

'Davy Crockett' seemed very pleased with himself on getting a bag of the ground and claimed that he was taking, by taking the dirt - he recognized what ties us all together - "our love of the land, the very soil we call Texas."

The pair had even made sure that the local officials had dug on the east side of the courthouse, close to the building, so that the soil was true Mitchell County dirt, pure and untainted by the New Mexico soil that sometimes blows in from the west.

A part of us is gone - and the bandits have announced that they are going to mix our soil with that of every county in Texas when the mission is completed.

I've since heard that they are going to invite us down to San Antonio next spring, to look at our dirt and boast about the fact that they really did get dirt from every county in the state.

I guess that people in big cities could excited about looking at a pile of soil; but I've got a feeling that most Mitchell County residents have a pretty good idea of what dirt looks like.

HOSPITAL

"As you are aware," he said, "Abilene's got a prison, Snyder's got one, Lamesa's got one, Sweetwater's got a detention facility and then there is a federal penitentiary in Big Spring."
 "There is not one of these drug and alcohol abuse facilities in West Texas," Anderson said.
 "There is a changing trend in the philosophy," he said. "Instead of just creating more jail cells and locking people up is to try and treat the cause on the front end."
 "We feel like this is on the cutting edge of the changing philosophy in the penal system in Texas," Anderson said. "When Governor Richards signed this legislation, to create the amendment to sell the bonds to pay for these prison beds, she announced that it would move Texas to the forefront in the nation in this philosophy."

 "On Nov 5," Anderson said, "we'll all be voting on 13 amendments. Amendment number 4 will allow the state to issue bonds for the building of approximately 25,000 additional beds."
 "12,500 of these beds will be dedicated to drug and alcohol abuse facilities," he said, "so half of the new beds that are going to be built will be moved into this new area."
 "I was told that our best shot would be to go for a 500 bed facility," Anderson said.

percent; and Precinct 4 has 1,198 with a minority ratio of 41.32 percent.
 "The adopted plan calls for a larger minority population in Precinct 2," Rodriguez said. "The ratio would jump from 34.84 percent to 44.88 percent."
 "But the Court achieved this by diluting Precinct 4, which went from 41.32 percent to 34.99 percent," he said. "Similarly, Precinct 3 decreased from 36 percent to 28.17 percent. Precinct 1 increased insignificantly from 29.86 percent to 30.01 percent."

 "By using the 65 percent standard as a reference," Rodriguez said, "it is numerically possible for one to easily devise two 65 percent minority precincts."

Community drug workshop planned

"Community attitudes tolerate teenage drug use!" Carol Burson, drug education coordinator of the Region 14 Educational Service Center, told a group of civic leaders and teachers.

A community mobilization workshop, designed to create new attitude, awareness and opportunities for youth in the community is being planned for March of next year to address negative behaviors that are being tolerated by the local community.

"This program is designed to show us how we can be more effective in dealing with the problems of drug and alcohol abuse in our community," said Mark Merrell, assistant principal at Colorado Middle School.

"This program will help you to develop young people," Burson said, "who will be capable, responsible and contributors to the community."

The day-and-a-half workshop to be held next March will be geared towards adults and the changes that they can make in the community with their influence and assistance with the problems that teenagers face.

An improvement has been seen in the problem areas, Burson said, in the other cities that the mobilization clinics have taken place.

"It is the responsibility of the community to take a stance," she said, "in order to lead the youth of this community to be responsible."

Burson referred to a quote by Nancy Reagan, who said, "A community will have as much chemical abuse as it will tolerate!"

The group was told of statistics regarding negative behaviors - drug and alcohol abuse, teenage pregnancy, suicides and tobacco use - and were told of the influence in other cities that these clinics offered in the form of an attitude change.

Those interested in working with the committee helping with the local workshop effort should contact Mark Merrell at Colorado Middle School.

JUST SPELL NO: The students and staff of Hutchinson Elementary spell out the word - NO - as part of last weeks Red Ribbon Campaign which puts emphasis on the problems of drug and alcohol abuse by America's youth.

Affiliated Foods begins warehouse construction

Amarillo, Texas - Affiliated Foods, Inc., of Amarillo, recently broke ground for 60,000 square feet of additional dry grocery warehouse space. Construction is expected to be completed in the first quarter of 1992.

In July, Affiliated began construction on a new 26,000 square foot corporate office building on the north side of the warehouse at 6700 S. Washington. In December, when the office construction is completed, the building will house Affiliated's approximately 100 office employees. The space currently occupied by the office staff will be converted into eight new truck docks for perishables.

At its annual meeting earlier this year, Affiliated announced record sales and earnings for fiscal 1990. Affiliated Foods, Inc., is a multi-million dollar cooperative grocery distributor, and is wholly owned by its member stores in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico.

Fuller Foods Thriftway of Colorado City is a member of Affiliated.

To Fight Crime!

David Montgomery
Colorado City Police Chief

TEXAS IS LIVING A HORROR STORY

In the past 20 years, our state has become a minefield. Crime is exploding on our street corners, in our schools, in our businesses, and in our homes. Consider the following facts:

- * Between 1984 and 1990, Texas' crime rate increased 29.7%.
- * Ten of the top 30 crime-ridden metropolitan areas in America are in our state.
- * Texas ranks second in the nation in crimes committed and arrests.
- * In 1990 alone, Texans were victims of 2,389 homicides, 8,750 rapes, 44,297 robberies, and 73,907 aggravated assaults.

The causes of the current crisis are glaring and obvious:

- * Lack of adequate prison space has resulted in a policy of early release from prison. In the past 20 years, Texas' parole population has increased by 2,120.4%.
- * The percentage of sentence a criminal actually serves has declined by 63.2% since 1970.
- * In the same time period, the average length of stay behind bars has decreased by nearly 38.9%.
- * Between 1984 and 1990, total releases from prison increased 57.6%, and actual time served by inmates decreased by 27%.
- * Shockingly, 271,717 convicted felons have been released back on our streets since 1984.
- * A criminal whom a judge or jury sentences to five years in prison serves less than one year in the penitentiary.

I urge you to support Proposition 4. Let's keep criminals behind bars.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Thank you, Sara and Oscar Ortiz, for your efforts in keeping our Mexican American heritage alive by initiating Hispanic Week and the finale on Saturday, October 12.

Many of us Latinos have let our pride falter because we have no leaders, and many take for granted the life-long struggle our forefathers endured to obtain for us the freedoms we enjoy today.

We have the right to hold our heads up proudly and celebrate daily our heritage. Celebrate merely by the use of our language even though it is socially prohibited in our public schools, should be practiced at home.

Even though our traditional foods have become part of the Anglo menu, the pride we take in preparing our foods should be continued among our culture.

I couldn't tell you enough, fellow Mexican Americans, to be proud of who you are.

Thanks again, Oscar and Sara, for your hard work and continued efforts.

Que Dios los Bendiga!

Jameson memorial service slated in Georgetown

A Memorial Service will be held on October 29 for Jaysn Jameson at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas, where he had graduated and was serving his second year on the board of trustees.

He had gone scuba-diving with a friend and co-worker and when they failed to return at their allotted time. Some swamp boats near by were notified who alerted the coast guard. They were rescued 19 hours later some 5 or 6 miles away from their entry into the water. They had been washed by a current. Jameson was pronounced dead shortly after his rescue. He was a resident of Clute, Texas where he was employed by Dow Chemical as a Research Chemist, where he worked towards the development of the type of plastic that was used in the manufacturing of lap-top computers, Kodak's throw away camera's and Honda cars.

Memorial services were held for Jameson at Lake Jackson on Friday, October 18. Funeral services at First Baptist Church at Early and graveside services and burial in the family lot at Colorado City Cemetery in Colorado City.

Survivors include his parents, Jerry and Donna Jameson of Early; a brother, Stefan Jameson of San Saba; a sister, Kenda Jameson of Early; a paternal grandmother, Wynne Jameson of Colorado City; paternal grandparents, Helen and Rex Williams of Indianapolis.

Memorials funds have been started at Brown Challenge Scholarship Fund, Southwestern University, Rick Eason, Georgetown, TX 78626, building fund, First Baptist Church at Early, Texas, 103 Garsman Dr., Early, Texas 76801 or your favorite charity.

Dear Editor,

I realize that it takes all kinds, but I would never have thought that there were as many Congressmen and Senators who had no respect for their wives and daughters. As I see it, they think that there is no such thing as sexual harassment.

What in the world is the United States coming to?

Gail installs 1st dry hydrant

The first Dry Hydrant to aid in rural fire protection in West Texas will be installed at Gail, Texas.

"The use of Dry Hydrants to assist rural Fire Departments to have easy access to a supply of water has been extremely successful in other states," according to Charlie Henderson, President of the Big Country Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Area, Inc.

A Dry Hydrant Field Day is scheduled for October 31, 1991 beginning at 2:00 p.m. To reach the location of the demonstration, turn south off Hwy 180 1/4 mile east of the Borden County Courthouse located in Gail. The demonstration site is 1/10 of a mile from the highway.

A Dry Hydrant, simply stated, is a non-pressurized pipe system permanently installed in existing ponds, lakes and streams that provides a ready means of suction supply of water to a tank truck.

"The use of Dry Hydrants will allow natural unprocessed water sources to be used for fire protection. This will allow small towns to better utilize their limited water storage for drinking water. Location of Dry Hydrants in rural areas will reduce the turn around time required to refill tank trucks and save on energy costs," states Henderson.

The Big Country RC&D Area, Inc., is a non-profit organization formed by local community leaders from 12 counties. Authorized by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture in February of 1991, the Area include Borden, Fisher, Garza, Blasscock, Howard, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Sterling and Taylor counties.

The RC&D Program was created on the assumption that local citizens primarily in rural areas, with coordinated assistance provided through USDA, could develop and carry out an action - oriented plan for the social, economic and environmental betterment of their communities.

Contact Jimmy Apel, RC&D Coordinator at (915) 235-4300 for additional information concerning the Dry Hydrant Field Day or the RC&D program.

Broncos whip Wolves, 19-0

The Colorado City Wolves suffered through a homecoming loss to the hands of the Sonora Broncos by the final score of 19-0.

The Broncos came out with fire in their eyes and scored on a 65 yard drive on the first possession of the night.

Sonora ran 9 times to cover the ground and Shannon Escalera ran 11 yards to score on the only time he had the ball in the game.

The Wolves charged onto the field for their first possession and Kelly Ramsey completed a 29 yard pass to David Castillo on the second play of the possession and moved the ball from their own 37 to the Bronco 34.

But the drive stalled and the Wolves had to punt the ball away.

Sonora began their second possession of the game with the ball at their own 14 yard line.

Danny Mata and Adam Youngblood became familiar ball carriers for the Broncos and started the team down the field for an 86 yard touchdown scoring drive.

The drive was sparked by Adam Youngblood's 53 yard scamper to take the ball from the Sonora 37 to the Wolf 10 yard line.

On the next play, quarterback Brian Faris who was 2 of 5 for 19 yards on the night, threw his first pass for a touchdown to Larry Chalk.

The Broncos attempted a 2 point conversion, but the Wolves stopped them.

The Wolves came back on the field for three plays before a fumble turned the ball over to the Broncos.

With their closest field position of the night, starting at the Colorado City 39, the Broncos piled up a couple of penalties and on 3rd and 17, Cade Proctor and Mark Monroe sacked the Bronco quarterback for a 6 yard loss and forced them into a fourth down and 23 from the 40 yard line.

The Broncos set up in punt formation, but the exchange between the center and punter was fumbled and the ball ended up being kicked on the ground as a charge of Wolves raced into the backfield.

With the resulting 15 yard penalty for an illegal kick, the Wolves took control of the ball from the Sonora 36 yard line.

Ramsey was 3 out of 4 on the drive completing passes to Shane Anderson for 9 yards, Mark Monroe for 9 yards and David Castillo for 13 yards.

On 4th and 4 the Broncos Larry Chalk intercepted a Ramsey pass in the end zone to stop the drive and give possession of the ball back to Sonora.

The Broncos mounted an attack and on 6 plays went 80 yards for the last score of the game.

Adam Youngblood who carried the ball 18 times on the night for 196 yards highlighted the drive with a 55 yard run and then scored a 3 yard touchdown with 6:57 left in the second quarter.

On first down from their own 35 yard line the Wolves used a razzle-dazzle, reverse-pitch-lateral to move the ball ahead 15 yards, but ended up turning the ball over on fourth down.

Sonora ran out the first half by using most of the remaining 5:23 on a 12 play drive that only advanced the ball a total of 17 yards.

The teams battled back and fourth in the second half.

The Broncos ended up moving the ball on a drive that began on their own 20 with 4:37 left in the game.

Sonora got a break which helped them run the clock lower as the referees allowed them to have a 5th down when they had not converted in the standard 4 that most teams are limited to. The drive took three minutes off the clock before the Broncos punted the ball away on 5th down.

Colorado City took control of the ball with 1:46 remaining in the game on their own 42 yard line.

Kevin Green who carried the ball 21 times for 86 yards and caught 2 passes for an additional 17 yards started off the series by running for 9 yards.

On the next play Green caught a pass and was run out of bounds at the 37 yard line, then thrown to the Bulldogs post 46-0 win over Highland

The Loraine Bulldogs notched their second victory of the season Friday night, blasting Highland 46-0 in a game that was called at half-time by the 45-point-rule.

With 7:16 remaining in the first quarter, Loraine's David Madrid hit James Lopez with a 28 yard pass reception for a touchdown.

The Bulldogs lit up the scoreboard again moments later as Madrid ran an interception back 43 yards for a touchdown and James Lopez hit Darrell Decker to convert the extra point.

Then with 4:29 remaining in the first quarter, Jesse Rico hit David Mitchell on a 67 yard touchdown scoring pass.

The Bulldogs scored four touchdowns in the second quarter.

With 9:47 remaining in the half, Steve Gutierrez intercepted a pass and returned it 45 yards. James Lopez and Darrell Decker connected on a pass for the point after.

Madrid and Lopez hooked-up again on a pass completion of 40 yards for another Bulldog touchdown.

The point after was good when Lopez hit Mitchell in the end-zone.

Madrid scored on a 47 yard punt return with 3:58 remaining and on a 4 yard run with 23 seconds left in the half.

Madrid passed to Decker for the point after on the games final touchdown.

The win pushes the Bulldogs record to 2-6 on the year. They will host Borden County next week.

ground on the track surrounding the field.

Penalty flags took the ball down to the 22 yard line with only 38 seconds left on the clock.

Two completions to Monroe of 2 and 15 yards took the ball down to the five yard line, but the Wolves drive was stopped when they failed to convert the 4th and 5 from the 5 with only 10 seconds left in the game.

The loss drops the Wolves to 2-5-1 (0-2-1) for the year as Sonora moves to 6-2 (2-1).

Colorado City will host Reagan County next Friday night in Wolf Stadium for their last home game of the season.

TSTA to push for Prop. 13

AUSTIN -- The Texas State Teachers Association announced this week that it will push for the passage of Proposition 13, a proposal to allow the sale of general obligation bonds for continued funding of the state's student loan program.

The issue, which was turned down by voters during the August constitutional amendment election, will provide for continued funding of the Hinson-Hazelwood College Student Loan Program which has provided over 200,000 loans to low-income and middle-income Texas college students since 1965.

TSTA President Olivia "Ollie" Besteiro said the Hinson-Hazelwood fund was the primary source of low interest loans to middle-income students which do not qualify for federally guaranteed loans for low-income families.

"Teachers are alarmed that without the passage of Proposition 13, the doors of higher education may be closed to some of our brightest, most deserving students," Besteiro said.

Since it was created in 1965, the Hinson-Hazelwood program has produced $362 million in revenues through interest on loans, returns on investment, and federal subsidies. It has had a default rate of only six percent, compared to a nationwide rate of 16 percent of similar programs. All Hinson-Hazelwood defaults are covered by interest earnings or by a federal insurance program.

The TSTA president blames the earlier defeat of the bill on voter confusion between the state program and the federally guaranteed loans and publicity about abuse of student loan programs by some vocational trade schools.

"The Hinson-Hazelwood program has never cost the state a penny in appropriations," Besteiro said. "This program provides for loans at interest rates one to four percentage points below rates available from commercial lenders and are repaid by students which covers interests on the bonds and retires them."

The state is predicting that without the passage of Amendment 13, the program will run out of loan funds by the end of March, 1992.

Besteiro pointed out that the Hinson-Hazelwood program actually drew more interest money than was needed to retire the bonds. Over $75 million in excess funds has been generated since the creation of the program. The excess monies were reinvested in the program to fund additional loans for more students.

The TSTA president said that rising tuition costs and cutbacks in other student loan programs had created an unprecedented demand for Hinson-Hazelwood loans.

"We are asking voters to say 'yes' to these young Texans who have proven themselves to be responsible participants in the loan program," she concluded.

Lady Wolves defeat Aspermont

Once again the Lady Wolves volleyball teams proved their dominance at home as they defeated Aspermont Tuesday at "The Pit".

The Freshmen kicked off the winning spree by wiping out the Hornets 17-15 and 15-4. Latoya Mays played a very good game for the Fish.

The Junior Varsity team came back from a 13-15 loss to easily win the next two matches (15-1 and 15-4) to defeat Aspermont. The team played well and sophomore Holly Turner had an excellent game.

The final victory for the Wolves arrived as the Varsity girls stung the Hornets 16-14 and 15-8. This was a well wanted win due to Aspermont beating the Wolves in two earlier games. Rosemary Rosas and Cindy Aguilar each gave an outstanding performance.

After this third straight win at "The Pit" it is obvious that the Wolves are determined to show the home crowd just what they can do. Keep it up!!!!
