Western Texas College officials had hoped that they would get a bid under $3-million on the first phase of campus construction Tuesday evening, but actually doubted that they would. Some of the board members confided that they had decided that contruction work would have to go on if at all possible and they had been figuring and re-figuring to try to determine if the district could come up with as much as $3.1 million—just in case the low bid failed to break the $3-million barrier.

As it developed, the low bid did come in some $92,000 on the "safe" side of the $3-million mark. Consequently, the district has a little breathing room on its construction work.

The National Wildlife Federation reports that scientists at the Bureau of Mines Pittsburgh Coal Research Center are turning garbage into crude oil. They do it by subjecting organic garbage — paper products and food waste — to carbon monoxide and steam at 250 degrees centigrade under pressure of 1500 pounds per square inch. They say the resulting crude oil has all the properties and utility of naturally occurring crude. Also, the oil thus produced is low in sulphur. The production ratio is one barrel of oil from one ton of garbage.

POLITICS INVADES THE REALM OF COOKIES — With state and national elections just days away politics hangs heavy all over the country and now even the kids are exposed to it. Rep. Ray Roberts (D. Tex.) helped open Grayson County Democratic office in Sherman and helped hand out cookies bearing the name of the Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas. Ann Edwards, left, and Andy Olmstead, both 5, didn't care what slogan was on the goodies — they just were happy to get the treats. (AP Wirephoto)

Industries Face Tighter Controls

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — More pollution controls lie ahead for industry, the Texas Manufacturers Association was told Thursday.

Industrialists were advised also that Texas is losing up to $25 million a year in federal money available for construction of sewage facilities.

The remarks came during a panel discussion of environmental quality at the association's annual conference on industry.

Another speaker told more than 300 TMA members that the consumer will bear the cost of increased pollution controls.

Gordon Fulcher, chairman of the Texas Water Quality Board, and Dr. Herbert McKee, head of the Texas Air Control Board, predicted pollution control rules for industry will increase rather than decrease.

Both rejected the idea of consolidating their agencies or creating at the state level an environmental "super agency" paralleling a similar move at the federal level.

Fulcher said he did not think the "often-proposed consolidation of the water agencies in Texas and the Water Quality Board and the Air Control Board would serve the best interests of this state."

He said such a move "would set us back at least five years. I don't think we can afford the time it takes to reshuffle."

McKee said a combined agency dealing with water and air "would create some administrative problems, and meanwhile all the work that has been going on in the two agencies would stop or at least slow down."

Fulcher said Texas is losing $20 million to $25 million annually in federal funds available for sewage projects because the state has failed to take part in the program.

Local Banks Set All-Time Record

Snyder banks have set new records for deposits and loans, according to figures compiled this morning in response to calls for statements of condition by regulatory agencies.

The deposits as of Oct. 28, the date specified in today's call, totalled $34,529,976.17. This eclipsed the previous record for deposits of $33,453,385.37 set on Dec. 31, 1968.

Loans totalled $17,710,503.86 on the current call, compared to the previous high of $17,078,109.93 set last April 30.

Both deposits and loans were up sharply over those a year ago. A similar call on Oct. 21, 1969, accounted for deposits totalling $31,029,406.44 and loans of $16,224,121.29.

As of the close of business on Oct. 28 this year, Snyder National Bank listed deposits totalling $21,059,144.87 and loans of $11,787,058.32.

West Texas State Bank listed deposits totalling $13,470,831.30 and loans of $5,923,445.54.

Two Youth Groups To Collect For UF

Two youth organizations will work in Snyder business areas tomorrow in behalf of the Scurry County United Fund Campaign.

Members of the Key Club, the student branch of Kiwanis International, and of the local Huddle of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, will participate in a "car-stop" brigade which will be on duty between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., it was announced today.

Membership in both organizations is made up of boys enrolled in the Snyder Senior High School. They will work in the central business district and in shopping centers.

They will seek contributions for the local United Fund Campaign which is seeking a little over $42,000 to support the operations of nine participating service agencies.

Meanwhile, contribution reports at United Fund headquarters in the city hall were approaching the 50 per cent mark. The total this morning stood at $20,429.35.

However, the campaign is behind on its schedule. Campaign officials attributed this to delays in report and contact work by the workers. On the reports made so far, average contributions are running well ahead of previous years. Efforts now will stress contact work and reports.

Malik To Address UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jacob A. Malik gives the Soviet side of the Middle East debate in a major speech today to the U.N. General Assembly, but no announcement of any significant shift in policy is expected.

Malik, a deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union gave the assembly a foretaste Thursday night in an impromptu assembly speech replying to proposals made earlier in the day by U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost.

Yost proposed that the assembly recommend extension by another three months of the U.S.-arranged Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire, now due to expire next Thursday. He also urged steps to restore confidence so the stalemate in the Arab-Israeli peace talks could be broken.

Malik replied by denouncing the U.S. peace initiative as an attempt to replace the 1967 U.N. Security Council resolution calling for an over-all settlement with a U.S. plan favoring Israel.

Emergency Landing

LONDON (AP) — A Pan American Airways jumbo jet carrying 132 passengers nonstop from Los Angeles to London made an emergency landing today at Gander, Newfoundland, because of engine trouble.

The airline reported in London that the Boeing 747 landed after the outer right engine lost oil pressure.

The flight, No. 120, was expected to reach London about six hours later.

It was the second jumbo jet emergency for Pan American this week.

Soviet Delay Irritates US

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, displaying its first public diplomatic irritation over the Soviet refusal to release a U.S. Army plane and its high-ranking passengers, has charged Moscow with violating U.S.-Russian consular agreements.

After eight days of talking in restrained, optimistic language, the State Department Thursday called for the immediate release of the passengers who include two American generals.

A statement handed to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin said, "There is no justification for any further delay by the Soviet Union."

Meanwhile, the Soviets continued to portray the plane's landing in Russia across the Turkish border as a hostile act and linked it to alleged reconnaissance flights from U.S. bases.

A commentary in the Soviet news agency Tass said the incident "has again drawn the attention of the world public to the serious and constant threat of peace," from "400 large and 2,000 small American war bases on foreign territories."

The American bases, Tass said, are "situated in the immediate vicinity of the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries and are widely used for espionage and other hostile activities."

The United States maintains the small white plane flew into Soviet territory accidentally. Besides the generals, an American major and a Turkish colonel were on board for what the U.S. says was a tour of Turkish border installations.

Dobrynin was handed the statement during a meeting with acting Secretary of State John N. Irwin. Afterwards the Soviet envoy said release of the passengers "depends on the results of the investigation" his country is conducting.

Talking to newsmen in the lobby of the State Department, Dobrynin said "the general consensus of this meeting was that it would be better for this not to happen again and for the generals to stay where they belong."

Specifically, the U.S. statement accused the Russians of ignoring terms of the 1968 U.S.-Soviet consular convention by not allowing American diplomats to see the passengers of the plane for five days after it went down.

The convention, the statement said, "specifically requires that access be accorded within four days at most."

DESPITE MOB, FIRE

Nixon Continues Campaign Swing

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, the target of rocks, bricks, bottles, eggs, red flags and other missiles hurled by antiwar demonstrators in his native state, says he was attacked by "an unruly mob that represents the worst in America."

Nixon, riding away from a Republican rally Thursday night in the San Francisco bay city of San Jose, was besieged by hundreds of obscenity-shouting protesters. With him in his limousine were California Gov. Ronald Reagan and U.S. Sen. George Murphy.

Later, after the President arrived at the Western White House in San Clemente, a fire caused smoke damage in the oceanside villa and forced a pajama-clad Nixon to evacuate. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the blaze was caused by heat conducted downward from the fireplace in Nixon's second-floor study to wood within the hollow wall of the dining room below.

The San Jose violence was the most serious aimed at any president in this country since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

Emerging from an auditorium where GOP partisans had given him a warm reception, Nixon climbed atop the hood of his limousine in the glare of photo floodlights.

Facing directly toward his noisy opponents about 50 yards away, he thrust his jaw forward and flung both arms upward. With his fingers, he formed "V" symbols, waving toward the crowd.

The mobbing of the Nixon motorcade lasted perhaps five minutes as his car moved through a narrow opening that had been cleared in the crowd by helmeted riot police.

His limousine and other vehicles in the cavalcade were hit repeatedly by large rocks and other objects. Several persons, including a Secret Service agent, a newsman and a television cameraman suffered minor injuries.

The second auto behind Nixon's vehicle stalled when, after it was hit by a rock, its policeman-driver slammed on the brakes. This produced a chain reaction crash of six cars—none seriously damaged—that brought a loud cheer from the crowd pushing in on each side.

A bus carrying members of Nixon's staff and local political dignitaries had four windows smashed by rocks.

One of the occupants, showered by glass fragments, was Rose Mary Woods, Nixon's personal secretary, who ducked to the floor and exclaimed, "Just like Caracas!" Nixon was stoned in the Venezuelan capital in 1958, when he was vice president.

Blackmail no answer to lost lover

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I went with a married man for 10 years. He said he was married in name only and he promised to leave his wife when their children were on their own.

Well, instead of leaving HER, he left ME. Toward the end I had the feeling that he was a louse so I taped some conversations we had. He said a lot of terrible things about his wife and other men. I have it all on tape.

I would like to get even with him by sending each member of his family a copy of these tapes with his voice saying these things. [He is also a grandfather.] He still doesn't know I have him on tape.

Please answer soon as I promise to follow your advice. I feel like a fool for having spent 10 years underground.

A FOOL

DEAR FOOL: Destroy the tapes. If you were to send them to his family, a lot of innocent people would be hurt. Accept your share of the blame for the 10 years you spent underground. Forget the louse and turn over a new leaf.

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write this letter for a long time, so here goes.

I feel so hurt when my husband dances cheek-to-cheek with all the tall girls in our crowd because I am barely 5 foot and he is 6 foot 4, and he can't dance cheek to cheek with me.

SHORTY

DEAR SHORTY: Find a short man in your crowd and dance cheek-to-cheek with HIM. He has the same problem.

DEAR ABBY: I painted a landscape in oils about two years ago. I considered it very good and so did others who saw it. My sister admired it, so I gave it to her for a Christmas present and she very proudly hung it on the wall in her living room.

Well, she and her husband recently bought a new home, and they took this landscape painting of mine and put it down in their bar in the cellar among a lot of cartoons and other junky pictures.

When I went to their home and saw it there I was heartbroken but said nothing.

Can you think of a way I could get my painting back?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: The painting is theirs, regardless of where they hang it, but if you want it, offer to paint them a more "appropriate" picture for their bar in exchange for the landscape. I'll bet you get your landscape back.

DEAR ABBY: What should a guy do when he thinks he is in love with a girl who will date him only during the week—but never on the weekend? Every weekend she says she is busy with her girl friends, or her family.

Also when I take her to a movie or to dinner during the week she always brings her mother or a girl friend. I don't mind this once in a while, but not all the time. Can you advise me?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: How old are you? And how old is she? If she is old enough to date without a chaperone, there is no need for her to bring her mother or a girl friend along on a date. If I were you, I would look for another girl. I think you are being had.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BEING HONEST" IN PUEBLO, COLO.: You say, "No man can love you like the man you love." So what else is new?

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

US Delegation Goes To Helsinki

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. envoys set off today for Helsinki and round 3 of the year-old talks with the Soviet Union on curbing the superpower arms race.

The six-man delegation headed by U.S. disarmament negotiator Gerard Smith is hoping for progress in the talks before the expected Christmas recess —but the delegates are not predicting a U.S.-Soviet arms cut agreement by then.

The big question as the Helsinki round opens Nov. 2 will be how the Soviets respond to a U.S. offer made last July just before the strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—recessed in Vienna.

The American offer proposes:

An over-all ceiling on numbers of long-range missiles held by both sides, at approximately their present totals; a specific limit on the number of big nuclear rockets such as the Soviet SS9; and abolishing antiballistic missiles or limiting them to defense of a national command site.

Soviet diplomats have indicated they want SALT negotiations to go forward in a businesslike, no-propaganda fashion—but they have not said yes or no to the U.S. offer nor have they made a counter-proposal.

Washington and Moscow have avoided injecting into SALT their quarrels over other issues ranging from the Mideast to Southeast Asia.

If SALT does produce a treaty, it would be the most significant U.S.-Soviet disarmament pact of the nuclear age. And because SALT deals with basic security weapons of the Big 2 atomic powers, the negotiating may take years.

One of the major issues still unsettled is whether an agreement would cover not only intercontinental missiles but also the medium-range nuclear rockets which the United States has in West Europe and the Soviets have in East Europe.

Under the setup begun with SALT's opening in Helsinki last November, the talks alternate between the Finnish capital and Vienna. Round 2, at Vienna, began in April and recessed in August.

Meanwhile, both sides are going ahead with new weapons programs. U.S. intelligence reports the Soviets are proceeding with construction of SSs, other strategic missiles and missile submarines. The United States is installing multi-warhead missiles and expanding its ABM work.

Benefit From Mulch

Most herbaceous plants, even shrubs and trees benefit from a mulch. Homeowners can make use of such natural materials as fallen leaves, grasses and other litter. It will help you get rid of some items formerly incinerated, thus controlling pollution.

Mulches should be applied to conserve soil moisture, reduce soil temperatures during hot weather, maintain a comparatively even soil temperature during cold periods, and to help control weeds.

Peat and bark chips make attractive mulches.

Preserving Leaves

Preserving colorful leaves isn't difficult. The freshly fallen leaf should be put between two sheets of heavily-waxed paper which then are placed between sheets of brown wrapping paper. Using a hot iron, press down. This will wax leaves on both sides.

After the package cools, peel off the waxed paper and keep the leaf under a weight (to prevent curling) until it is dry. This process will preserve the color of the leaf for months.

No Economic Upturn In Sight Says Meany

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is no economic upturn in sight. There hasn't been an improvement, and there is no indication there is going to be an improvement."

These are the words of AFL-CIO President George Meany, but it may be speculated that they reflect the growing feelings of millions of Americans as some of the economic statistics signal stormy weather.

And, the timing being what it is, the low state of economic activity is bound to be reflected at the polls, perhaps to a far greater degree than anybody suspected just a month ago.

Some of the more optimistic statements made by administration officials a couple of months ago are now being undermined by the facts, which of course include the unfortunate General Motors strike.

The latest index of economic indicators, which point to future economic activity, fell during September, meaning that the economy is likely to be sluggish for months to come.

The wholesale price index leveled off, but the overall figure hid a very sharp rise in the price of industrial commodities, which means continued upward pressure on the price of many manufactured goods.

And although the latest figures on unemployment may not be released until after the elections, it is felt by many business economists here that joblessness is still on the rise and may reach 6 per cent.

One indicator of future employment, the "help-wanted advertising index," compiled by the Conference Board from ads in 52 newspapers, fell last month for the seventh straight time and now is at its lowest since August 1965. It reads 162, based on 1957-1959 equalling 100.

The misfortune for the Nixon administration is that it may argue that the situation is coming under control, but its arguments are understood more by professional economists than ordinary voters.

Paul McCracken, the President's chief economic adviser, can point to rising productivity as a hopeful sign, because any rise in output per manhour tends to reduce the upward pressure on prices.

Truly, a gain in this area was one of the most sought after goals of the administration. It is one of the most significant indications that inflation is being successfully attacked.

But there is no question at all that the promising forecast contained in this statistic carries not one-tenth the weight among the populace as the dismal outlook contained in the unemployment figures.

The administration can also argue that the General Motors strike hides the real advances toward stability, but ordinary people at election time aren't so impressed by promises as they are by existing conditions.

A Junior Editors Quiz About MERMAIDS

QUESTION: Were there really such things as mermaids?

* * *

ANSWER: The old sailing ships were very slow; seamen had plenty of time to be impressed with the mystery of the sea, to hear legendary stories or spin them themselves. One legend concerned mermaids, which the sailors' romantic imagination pictured as graceful beings, half-girl and half-fish. They were supposed to sit on sand or rock, combing their long golden hair and attracting mortal men by their singing. In Greek mythology, there were three sea nymphs called the Sirens who also attracted passing ships by their singing. If one came too close to a mermaid, the legend said, she would slip a magical cap over your head and you would have to live in the sea with her thereafter. There are certain sea animals which may have suggested the mermaid idea to imaginative seamen. One is the seal, with a head somewhat resembling a human being. Another, the dugong, has a habit of standing upright in shallow water which makes it look like a human, if seen from a long way off.

Sweat Suit To Replace Mididress

NEW YORK (AP) — Let it be noted that this column was the first to let it out of the bag. According to fashion insiders, after the mididress comes—as some of you may have already suspected—the sweat suit.

The fashion world is all aflutter with the news. To gauge the impact of this latest wave in women's wear, we interviewed several leading designers.

"It should be the biggest thing since the sack dress," said Antherse Beam who in years past brought us the pullover belt.

"I'm right in the middle of creating three sweat suit ensembles for evening wear next spring."

Putting down his pet Pékinese, he walked over to a drawing board.

"Here's my favorite model," he said. "I call it Sweat Suite de la Nuit."

The drawing showed a totally black sweat suit.

"This outfit stresses simplicity," he said. "Because of that, I recommend only a single strand of white pearls to go with it. You know, basic black and a string of pearls."

Anna Climb, creator of the prune-skin smock, was also busy preparing a line of sweat suits for spring.

"The beautiful thing about the sweat suit-style," said Miss Climb, dipping a spoon into her yogurt, "is that it can be worn by both men and women. Here's a model I call Sweat Suit a Go Go. As you notice, it has a white racing stripe on both sides, on a powder blue background.

"This should appeal to both sexes, particularly those couples who enjoy the out of doors. I'm working on another with a snap-on collar so that it can be worn with a tie."

Will Miss Climb's spring line be expensive?

"I plan a wide range of prices," she replied. "Naturally, the less expensive models will have draw strings instead of zippers, but I think most will be in the reach of the average housewife."

Having confirmed that designers were indeed preparing to unveil the sweat suit, we went to an accessories designers to see what tomorrow's fashion plates will be wearing with their new outfits. We stopped by the shop of Adam Sinner Lawrence.

"Well, for the handbag, my most popular item will probably be the bowling ball bag," said Lawrence, taking a deep drag on his cigarette holder. "I also plan some silver and gold gym bags and a tiny version of the duffel bag in a variety of colors.

"Shoes, of course, will be simple, mostly sneakers."

Unarmed Grenade Causes Alarm

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — When a young man walked in the door of the police station holding a grenade in his outstretched hand, a woman desk clerk shouted! "Get out of here!"

A sergeant drew his pistol as two other officers rushed the unprotesting young man.

Then the man explained: He bought the unarmed grenade and later feared it might still be live, so he brought it in for the police to dispose of. It was unarmed, officers reported Monday, and they got rid of it.

And they advised Douglas Yoakam, 21, next time he has to bring a grenade to the police station, please call first.

THE CHICANOS — These boys are members of the Chicanos. They have a 3-1-1 record in the intramural football program at Snyder High School.

Anything Can Happen: Snyder Vs. C. City

Plenty of fireworks are expected when two old gridiron foes — the Snyder Tigers and the Colorado City Wolves — meet in Tiger Stadium at 7:30 p.m. tonight. This will be the 34th meeting between these teams in a colorful gridiron rivalry that dates back to 1924.

The Wolves upset Snyder 20-14 last year, and only last week they knocked off previously unbeaten Lamesa by a 20-10 count.

For the season, Colorado City is 2-4 and their district record is 2-1. Snyder is 4-5 for the campaign and 0-3 in District 3-AAA competition. The Wolves have scored 72 points while giving up 102 to the opposition. Snyder has tallied only 44 points while yielding 113.

A wide-open type of contest is expected between these two teams. Colorado City operates from a pro type attack and will have one of the best quarterbacks in the state guuiding it. That is Steve Vest, 170-pound senior, who is one of the best passers, runners and punters in the state. He was an All-District and an All-Area selection last year.

Vest likes to team up with Stanley Bracy, a 165-pound senior split end who has 9.5 speed. Bracy will be a definite "bomb" threat to the Bengals.

Anchoring the Colorado City line will be Joe Kirschbaum, 183-pound senior center, who also was All-District as a defensive end last year. He is a senior captain. The Wolf 4-3 monster defense will be led by Carl Devorce, 252-pound middle linebacker. Carl has been slowed with an injury and may get to see only limited action.

Coach Wayne Tyrone of the Tigers calls Vest, Bracy and Devorce "super athletes."

The Tigers have been trying to put some polish on their wishbone T in workouts this week.

"We're running tougher and sharper and blocking good," declared Tyrone, who said the Bengals have been working on their timing and blocking in workouts. The Tigers also have been working on defensing Vest and Bracy.

Both teams have injuries. Mike Line may not get to start in the offensive line for Snyder. He sustained an elbow injury last week.

"We'll miss him if he's unable to play," said Tyrone.

Coach Truman Nix said other doubtful starters for the Wolves include end Carl May and split end Wayne Banks.

Regradless of the condition of the squads, the game is expected to be another thriller. When these two teams meet past records go out the window. Anything can happen and often does.

Guiding the Tiger Wishbone T will be junior quarterback Butch Buchanan while Larry Wall, 160-pound senior, will be at right halfback. Stewart Sims, a 165-pound breakaway type runner, will be at left halfback. Mike Glasscock, a 198-pound junior, will try his hand at fullback. The Bengals have used three different fullbacks during the past couple of weeks. Because of his size and toughness, Glasscock is expected to handle the position well. Sims is a senior.

Joining Vest in the Colorado City backfield will be fullback Larry Dearen (168), flanker back Bobby Benson (160) and left halfback Skip Maines (165). All are talented runners.

Snyder will have a slight edge in size, but the Wolves will have a definite advantage in overall team speed.

The game rates as a tossup — take your pick.

Texas Favored Over Ponies

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Top-ranked Texas meets its toughest all-time Southwest Conference foe in explosive Southern Methodist Saturday and Longhorn coach Darrell Royal warns "They're a football team that's dangerous."

Royal says he has a lot of respect for Mustang quarterback Chuck Hixson.

"Anytime you've got the all-time leading NCAA chunker and his receivers get hot, you can be in trouble," Royal says. "Defensively, they're not big, but they are exceptionally quick. They have been tough to score against this year and they've always been troublesome for us."

Texas has a 26-19-4 all-time edge on the Mustangs, including 9 of the last 11 games. The Mustangs won in 1965 and 1966.

A crowd of more than 60,000 will watch in Memorial Stadium with Texas a four-touchdown favorite.

Texas and Arkansas hold 2-0 SWC records.

The eighth-ranked Razorbacks travel to College Station Saturday to meet the fast-sinking Texas Aggies, who are roosting in the cellar with an 0-3 slate.

All-SWC defensive tackle Rick Kersey will be available for duty against Texas A&M after sitting out most of the season with a bum ankle.

The Razorbacks, three-touchdown favorites, hold a 25-15-3 all-time advantage over the Aggies, who could just beat them once in the 1960s.

Arkansas leads the nation in scoring with an average of 42 points per game and ranks fourth in total offense.

The Aggies practically abandoned their wishbone-T last week in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Baylor. Quarterback Lex James operated from a pro-set as A&M threw the ball more than it had done previously. The Aggies are last in the SWC in rushing.

A crowd of in excess of 30,000 is expected at Kyle Field.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders are battling to stay alive in the SWC race and also being eyed as possible bowl material. Rice holds a 13-6-1 all-time edge but Tech is ahead by 5-4-1 in the decade since joining the SWC.

The Red Raiders are a touchdown favorite before a crowd expected to exceed 30,000 at Rice Stadium in the 7:30 p.m. CST kickoff. The Owls have been unable to mount a sustained offense, but play rugged defense.

Tech sparkles offensively under the leadership of junior quarterback Charles Napper, whom coach Jim Carlen calls a "winner" although Napper doesn't rate high statistically.

Baylor and Texas Christian collide in a SWC survival test at 2 p.m. in Amon Carter Stadium before some 20,000 fans or so. Each team is 1-1 and another SWC loss means it's wait until next year in the championship race.

The oddsmakers rate TCU a 10-point favorite in this one. The Horned Frogs hold a 39-30-7 all-time edge, including the last six in a row. Quarterback Steve Judy of the Horned Frogs is the SWC's total offense leader with an average of 176.3 yards per game.

Junior Si Southall made his first start for Baylor last week and directed the Bears to a 29-24 victory over the Aggies. Baylor's Matthew Williams is also a top running threat.

Flower Grove Nips Ira Girls

FLUVANNA — The Flower Grove Dragons bested Ira's Bulldogs 50-36 in a varsity girls basketball clash here yesterday.

Jackie Cove and Nancy Pribyla sparked the Flower Grove attack with 26 and 18 points respectively.

Janie Roddy finished in twin figures for Ira, getting 20 points.

Flower Grove took an 11-3 lead in the first quarter, boosted it to 22-12 at halftime and went ahead 38-22 in the third quarter.

FLOWER GROVE (50)—Cove 7-12-26; Pribyla 7-4-18; Glaze 3-0-6; totals 17-16-50.

IRA (36)—Roddy 9-2-20; Payne 2-4-8; totals 13-10-36.

Lake View Scores 8-6 Victory

LAKE VIEW—The host Chiefs scalped the junior varsity Kittens of Snyder 8-6 here Thursday night in a thrilling football skirmish.

Snyder scored first with Ivory Greer going 15 yards in the first period to cap a 60 yard drive. The try for extra points was unsuccessful. Lake View held the Kittens twice inside the 10 in the initial period.

In the third period, James Black intercepted a Kitten pass and returned it 40 yards to the 12 yard line and the hosts drove in from there in five plays with Johnny Hirst getting the final yard. Jon Childs plunged across for the two points and the margin of victory.

The Kittens will host Lake View Saturday week.

Rico Carty of the Atlanta Braves led both leagues in hitting last season with a .366 batting average. He finished 14 points ahead of four-time National League champion Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Travis 8th Rips Sweetwater 20-2

SWEETWATER—Travis 8th grade socked Sweetwater 20-2 here Thursday afternoon despite the fact that four touchdowns were called back.

On the fifth play of the game Welton Cobb raced 56 yards to the goal line. The try for extra points was no good.

Sweetwater took over and drove to the one foot line. Travis held for three downs and came into possession of the ball, but Cobb was tackled in the end zone for a two-point safety.

Cobb scored on a 36 yard run in the second period. Again, the try for extra points failed.

Cobb returned the kickoff opening the second half 73 yards to pay dirt behind a beautiful wall of blockers, and Danny Brumley, who turned in a fine game both offensively and defensively for Travis, plunged across for two extra points.

Defensively, Cobb made 21 tackles, Robert Ramirez got 15, Norman Sanchez had nine, George Willis made eight, and Scott Walton got eight. Brumley and Alvin Neeley each came up with an interception.

Sweetwater was able to complete only one of 11 passes.

The Blue Devils gained 213 yards on 29 offensive plays.

Next Thursday, they host Runnels.

Horse Seeks Triple Crown

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Most Happy Fella, seeking to complete a sweep of pacing's triple crown, headed a field of six entered Thursday for the $123,450 Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway on Saturday, Nov. 7.

The 3-year-old pacer, owned and driven by Stanley Dancer, already has won the Cane Pace and the Little Brown Jug. A victory in the Messenger would make him the fourth to take the pacing triple crown. The others were Bret Hanover, Romeo Hanover and Rum Customer.

Ringo-Clay Fight Talked

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Heavyweight Oscar "Ringo" Bonavena is a crowd-pleasing fighter with a wade-in style. He talks a good fight, too.

The Argentine scrapper stopped Brazil's Luis Faustino Piris in the fourth round Thursday night, a few hours after Muhammad Ali had revealed in New York that a bout with Bonavena Dec. 8 was virtually set.

Bonavena didn't talk about his victory over Piris in the Dressing room. He only had words about his forthcoming fight with Ali, also known as Cassius Clay.

"Now I am ready to face Cassius Clay and I hope to prove I'm as good as he is," Bonavena said with a smile.

Ali said he didn't know the exact date or site of the Bonavena fight, but promoter Chris Dundee said in Miami it would be on Dec. 8. The site is indefinite, possibly Miami Beach, Boston, Denver or Cleveland.

S'Water, Travis 9th Tie 14-14

Sweetwater 9th grade scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to gain a 14-14 tie with Travis 9th grade here last night. The passing of quarterback Hix sparked the Ponies in their come-from-behind rally.

Down 14 points, Hix began passing and completed a long one to Willingham, and Voss went over from the one yard line to put the Ponies on the scoreboard. A pass for extra points was intercepted.

A long pass and a left end run for two yards a couple of minutes later put the Ponies on the scoreboard again. On the important extra point play, Hix passed to Willingham for two points and the score was tied.

Travis got its first touchdown in the second quarter with Costello going over from the one. He, Ralph Lewis and Widgeon Emerson collected most of the yardage in this march. Mickey Gonzales kicked the extra point. The drive originated at midfield.

The older Blue Devils also drove 50 yards in the third period with Costello getting the touchdown on a 10 yard sweep around right end. Again, Gonzales kicked the point. Costello and Tommy Welsh gained most of the yardage in this drive.

A penalty stopped Travis on its first possession, but stout defensive work by the Ponies halted them the next time Travis was hammering at the goal in the first quarter. Costello turned in a 35 yard run around left end in this march.

Palofonce was outstanding on defense for Sweetwater.

Stars Outshine Nets 114-105

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Utah Stars outrebounded the New York Nets 66-51 for a 114-105 victory in the only American Basketball Association game Thursday night.

Only one ABA game is scheduled again tonight—Virginia against Carolina at Greensboro.

In the only NBA game played, the New York Knicks defeated San Diego 114-107.

Lamar 8th Hits C. City, 24-14

COLORADO CITY—The Lamar 8th grade football team tripped Colorado City 24-14 here Thursday afternoon in a hard-fought contest.

The young Texans got their first touchdown in the first quarter on a 20 yard pass and run play from Sammy Harrell to Roy Lee Carter. Bobby Wall carried a cross on a counter play for a two point bonus.

The count went to 16-0 in the third quarter when Loyd Bachus went 25 yards to pay dirt on another counter play. Harrell passed to Carter for the two points.

Colorado City scored on a 35 yard sweep in the third period and had one other touchdown called back in the same frame.

Lamar took a 24-7 lead in the fourth period when Harrell passed to Carter and Carter pitched out to Loyd Bachus, who raced 20 yards to the goal line. A flat zone pass, Harrell to Carter, accounted for the two extra points.

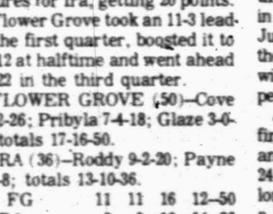

With three seconds remaining in the game, Colorado City intercepted a pass and returned it five yards for a touchdown.

Defensively, Tim Sonnier, Raymond Smith, Carter, Dale Worthan, Baccss and Rickey Howell were outstanding for Lamar.

Finances, Turnout Enter Campaign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How a heavy vote would affect the Texas race for U. S. Senator and a call for disclosure of personal assets figured today in the latest campaign utterances by the rival candidates for that office.

Lloyd Bentsen, the former congressman who defeated incumbent Sen. Ralph Yarborough in the Democratic primary, said the Senate contest is unique in that many observers expect it to be close but predict he'll win handily if a majority of the voters go to the polls.

Rep. George Bush, the Republican nominee, brought up the matter of finances at a Midland-Odessa airport rally, declaring that his opponent "should join me in making a complete disclosure of all assets and liabilities, fees and honorariums, as well as personal relationships with businesses dealing with the federal government."

In a talk prepared for a group of factory workers in Houston today, Bentsen said, "No one—and that includes our opposition—seems to have any doubt that I will win this race if even half of the 4.1 million registered voters go to the polls.

"The Republicans, who represent only 13 per cent of the registered voters in Texas, openly admit that their only hopes for victory lie in a low voter turnout. It is ironic that in a nation whose entire political system is built on citizen participation, we are faced with a situation where a major political party hopes most people will not exercise their right to vote."

Bentsen told the Texas County Judges and County Commissioners Association in Galveston earlier that President Nixon's Texas speeches Wednesday in behalf of Bush "certainly won't hurt him, but I still say Bush can't win unless Nixon does it for him and I don't think that will happen."

Bush flew west from Dallas accompanied by a gaily costumed mariachi band. During the Midland-Odessa stop he expressed himself, in talking to former neighbors while he lived in that area, as equally confident of winning.

His final sweep across the state prior to the Nov. 3 general election took the Houston congressman on to El Paso for another rally. Once more he urged listeners to depart from a one-party tradition and vote for the individual.

Pledging himself to be a full-time senator, Bush said, "I also guarantee I won't be thinking tired old thoughts."

Rep. Manuel Lujan of New Mexico joined Bush on the El Paso platform and spoke for him.

Agnew Introduces Macropygia

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — There's a new Agnewism—"Macropygia."

Vice President Spiro Agnew unveiled the word Thursday night at a Republican rally and said it means "the pigeons or cuckoo doves whose flutterings are led by Sen. Fulbright."

It's real meaning, according to the five-pound dictionary toted around by his speech writers, is "genus of long tailed pigeons resembling cockoo doves."

Agnew, campaigning in Kansas for the GOP gubernatorial candidate and Republican congressional hopefuls, dropped the word into a low-key speech that called for less power in Washington and more federal revenue sharing.

The speech, greeted occasionally by light applause from the 800 or so in the audience, was so low key that Agnew mentioned his favorite phrase—"radical liberals"—only once.

The vice president's campaign schedule called today for stops in Illinois and Indiana after leaving here for St. Louis.

Besides introducing macropygia, the vice president also said it was time to take back from street demonstrators the slogan "power to the people."

"The phrase—power to the people—has ancient tradition and an honorable one," Agnew said.

"My friends," he said, "It is time to reverse this flow of power to Washington. It is time to channel some of this excessive power back to the people."

A few minutes before the vice president spoke, five persons were arrested outside the modernistic auditorium in a brief antiwar demonstration involving about 200 persons. The vice president, who drove the 200 yards from his motel to the auditorium in a motorcade, did not see the demonstrators.

Be still

"He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love." I John 4:8.

"If you would be loved, love and be lovable," Benjamin Franklin said.

And few would question his common sense — a wise man born and bred.

But love is more than affection to all of us men of sod,
For when we discover that virtue we are somewhat closer to God.

Medical Students Needed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The number of students entering U.S. medical schools must be increased 50 per cent by 1978 to avert a "crisis in health care personnel," the chairman of the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education says.

Clark Kerr, former president of the University of California, said that if commission recommendations made public Thursday aren't followed "there will be continuing inflation in health care costs."

The commission recommended in its report to the annual meeting of the American Medical College that the number of entering medical students be raised from the present 10,800 to 16,400 by 1978.

The 18-member commission also recommended cutting training time for doctors and dentists from eight years to six years, opening 126 "area health education centers" across the country and building nine additional medical schools in the United States.

Said Kerr: "No matter how many health professionals are educated, and no matter how adequately medical education facilities are distributed throughout the nation, Americans will not receive adequate health care unless a system is developed to deliver services to those who need them—regardless of income, geographical location, age or race."

The commission recommended federal support of $225 million the first year and a total of $1 billion by 1980.

The commission also called for:

—Creation of a federal program to provide grants up to $4,000 a year for low-income medical and dental students.

—Placing special emphasis on recruiting more women and more minority group members for medical and dental schools.

—Cutting residency training time at hospitals from four years to three.

—Augmenting medical and dental staffs with trained assistants and associates whenever possible.

Prepared Candidate

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Elizabeth Kreshtool respects tradition. Therefore she's busy preparing her loser's speech for election night.

Mrs. Kreshtool is the substitute Democratic candidate for the Delaware Legislature in a district where Republicans have won for the last 114 years—since the party was formed.

She accepted the nomination last week after the original candidate pulled out, but only after being assured she would lose.

Right away she won the endorsement of the Procrastinators Society of America, which sent her a telegram. She quickly took a day off, apparently fearing her campaign would peak too soon.

Then she selected a campaign manager whose last candidate lost by 34,000 votes. After he disappeared, her husband, one arm in a sling, stepped in to let out some more slack.

Now she's ready for that speech. In a tongue-in-cheek try at her political valedictory she intones: "The TV, radio and the press won't have Kreshtool to kick around any more."

October Mystery

EDITOR'S NOTE: As a Halloween feature, the following story by a Snyder schoolgirl is offered as a locally-produced spine-tingler. Carolyn Davis, the author, wrote the story as a seventh grader. She recently re-wrote it for her seventh grade teacher, Mrs. Virginia Short, who noted that it was quite a piece of writing for a seventh-grader and passed it along to the newspaper.

By CAROLYN DAVIS

Back in 1967, when I was ten, I had the great opportunity of moving out to West Texas with my family. We moved from Houston to a nice little house north of Roscoe.

At this time I was the proud owner of braids, skinned knees, and a complete collection of Batman cards. But the greatest of all I had found a new friend — Fran. She was about a year younger than I but just as active and as full of ideas. She and I had done countless things together. Each and every day held a new adventure for us.

This is a true story except for a few minor exaggerations about the abandoned house which still stands today north of Roscoe.

It was one of those rather warm days in October that frequently precedes a norther. Fran, her brother Robert, and I were out in a field behind their house carving a jack-o-lantern. When we had finished, the poor thing looked like an alligator with mumps. Immediately we started looking around for something else to attract our fleeting interest. Robert chunked Fran with a clod of soft dirt, and they both got up and ran across the field. I watched them a few minutes but pretty soon my eyes attached themselves on on old house not far away from where we were. It was at that second I had an insatiable desire to explore.

When Fran and Robert returned, I told them about my idea, and they immediately became interested. We all picked up our bikes and began our journey to the old house. It took longer than we had anticipated as the house was farther away than it had seemed, but we finally made it.

We stood around resting and discussing the possibility of catching the quick, striped salamander that was darting about nearby. As soon as we felt rested, Robert and I were eager to be about the business of exploring. Fran, to my surprise, took that moment to announce that she was going home and exploring a musty old house no longer interested her. It was the first time I had ever experienced a tinge of disappointment about Fran. My persuasion was to no avail. However Robert was eager to continue with our original plans, so we decided to go on by ourselves.

Simultaneously, Fran noticed some heavy storm clouds gathering in the northwest and noisily declared her departure. Then she paused and began pleading with us to return home with her. Robert and I ignored her pleas saying we would seek refuge from the storm in the old house. We began to thrust ourselves against the door. Suddenly it swung open and we toppled forward on top of each other with shouts of surprise. We picked ourselves up. I began venturing into the room slowly with Robert close behind me. When we were completely inside, a guest of wind blew the door shut. I screamed! Less than a minute afterwards a loud clap of thunder broke loose, and I screamed again, this time accompanied by Robert who was annoyingly close behind me.

It was getting much darker as the clouds covered the sun. I suddenly discovered I was trembling, but I wouldn't have admitted even to myself that I was scared. I looked around for Robert. Now I wanted him to be close by. It was so dark now that I could not see. I tried to feel around for Robert. I opened my mouth to cry out to him when suddenly a cold hand closed over my mouth. In my horror I attempted to scream again . . . but what was the use? No one could hear me . . .

Baptists Cut Ties With Baylor Dental School

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Baylor Dental School was released from control of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at the denomination group's 85th annual meeting Thursday.

The convention adjourned Thursday night after adopting resolutions of war, marijuana and parochial schools.

A motion to allow the Baylor University College of Dentistry in Dallas become independent so it could accept government financial aid passed quickly with no debate.

Baylor's medical school in Houston was released in 1968, but a legislative attempt to provide it with state funds for expansion of its enrollment failed last year.

The motion to separate the dental school from BGCT control eased through in a matter of seconds, with no debate.

Discussion was a little warmer on the problem of the University of Corpus Christi's $500,000 loan from the U.S. Small Business Administration to repair damage from Hurricane Celia.

Dr. Woodson Armes of Dallas, secretary of the Christian Education Commission, read a report saying acceptance of the federal loan violated BGCT policies on church-state separation.

The commission recommended it be authorized to appoint a special committee with experts in finance to help UCC obtain a loan from some other source.

One suggestion, by the Rev. Jim Bowman of San Antonio, was to loan the school money from the $1.6 million reserve fund at 3 per cent interest. But the Rev. Mr. Bowman retracted the proposal after several ministers said the reserve fund was inadequate and the president of UCC said he hoped insurance would pay for much of the damage.

"This is a good opportunity to put our money where our mouth is," the Rev. O.W. Summerlin of Mercedes said of the Bowman proposal.

The convention finally approved a statement calling on the school to borrow the money from "some agency other than the government and be prepared to repay the loan which she received from the Small Business Administration."

The compromise language was offered by the Rev. Travis Berry of Plano.

Sources later said the executive board could make the money available from the reserve fund if no other suitable lenders could be found.

The convention's resolutions committee offered a resolution calling on "our national leaders in a spirit of peace (to) seek to end the hostility (in Vietnam) with all deliberate speed by reaching a just peace in Indo-China."

The messengers, however, adopted an amendment by the Rev. Mr. Summerlin, changing the resolution to declare instead that "national leaders be commended for their spirit of peace to end the hostility" in Vietnam.

"We're not condemning them for what they're not doing but commending them for what they've done," he said.

Judge Oswin Chrisman of Dallas, resolutions committee chairman, said he had no objection to the new wording.

Another resolution calls on Baptists to "work to make our laws dealing with marijuana users more realistic by giving our courts discretion to deal with each case on its merits."

This was interpreted by several officials as meaning that courts should be more lenient toward persons convicted for the first time of marijuana possession.

One source even said he thought it implied support for reduction of first-offense marijuana possession from a penitentiary crime to a misdemeanor.

Also approved was a resolution calling on "all Baptists and other citizens of good will to reject any efforts to obtain tax money for parochial schools."

Antihijack Weapons Tested

NEW YORK (AP) — Eastern Airlines plans to test two new "secret weapons" for its pilots to use in a "last-ditch sort of situation" against hijackers.

The company, while declining to give details of the weapons, says one is an electronic device that apparently would stun a hijacker, while the other is a type of gun or similar device that would fire an unspecified missile.

An Eastern spokesman said: "Our primary effort will continue to be deterring hijackers on the ground. Whenever possible, our policy is to avoid violence aloft."

Eastern was the first airline to install an antihijack system developed by the Federal Aviation Administration incorporating both metal-sensing weapons detectors and a psychological screening process to single out possible hijackers.

Until last year it had more planes hijacked to Cuba than any other airline. In the first nine months of last year, 10 of its jets were commandeered, but since then only one has been.

"We are now screening about 75 per cent of the two million passengers we board a month," the spokesman said.

In the past year, he said, the system has picked out about 7,000 persons as potential hijackers. Of these, some 700 were selected for "a closer look."

"Out of these, we denied boarding to 112 persons, and of these 40 were taken into custody," the spokesman disclosed. "Most were arrested on assorted charges of carrying guns, knives or dope, or on criminal charges under which they were sought by police."

The strong, vigorous but loving hand of protection will see this sapling through. Every sapling needs such care if it becomes a mighty tree. It must grow straight if it grows tall. It must be shielded from the blight of insects... it must have food and light.

Father, Mother, are you your sapling's guiding hand? Remember, as the sapling is bent, the tree will grow. You have a responsibility ... you are accountable to God. Do not provoke your children to anger, but train them in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. Are you doing that? Juvenile Court records show few church and Sunday school children go wrong. Be your sapling's guiding hand.
