Feud Between FBI And Navy Is Revealed

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Pearl Harbor investigators were told today that the Navy, after a row with the FBI, stopped listening in on Japanese telephone conversations in Hawaii five days before the Dec. 7, 1941 attack.

The FBI continued tapping one Japanese consulate line up to the moment of the assault, and in this way learned that the consul in Honolulu was destroying his codes. The tapped line led to the cook's quarters in the consulate.

Blow At Panama Planned

This evidence, placed before the joint Congressional investigating committee, was included in a report by Lt. Col. Henry C. Clausen, assigned by Secretary of War Stimson to make an independent inquiry in 1942.

The committee also was informed of another long-time secret—the Navy had reports in June, 1940, that the Japanese would try to sabotage the Panama canal if the fleet moved from its Hawaii base toward the Atlantic. The fleet feinted an approach to the canal, but the sabotage didn't occur.

Marshall Again On Stand

This testimony was developed by Rep. Keefe (R-Wis) from a message sent by Admiral Harold R. Stark, then chief of naval operations, to Admiral J. O. Richardson, commander of the Pacific fleet.

Both disclosures came as Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of Staff, proceeded through his sixth day as a witness.

The wire tapping incident centered around affidavits obtained by Colonel Clausen, principally from Lt. Donald Woodrum, Naval intelligence officer at Pearl Harbor when the attack came.

The committee heard from General Marshall a pointed description of how concerned the high command grew in Washington as the Pacific situation reached a crisis.

Marshall gave his personal opinion that war with Japan was "inevitable" from August, 1941, on but he hoped to avert it by making a show of force in the Philippines.

The wartime chief of staff said everything pointed to eventual war in the Pacific from the summer of that fateful year onward.

Navy Wasn't Prepared

He told the high level officials of the government the Army needed until Dec. 5 to make adequate preparations, and that Admiral Harold R. Stark needed until February of 1942 to guarantee the Navy's readiness.

"I had thought we could build up the Philippines by Dec. 5 and if we could, it might discourage the Japanese," Marshall testified.

U. S. Marines To Remain In China --- HST

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—U. S. Marines are destined to be held in North China for many months yet unless Gen. George C. Marshall, under special orders from President Truman, is able to work out an early agreement between Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek and the Chinese Communists.

President Truman made this clear at a news conference today at which he also spoke of the approaching meeting of Secretary of State Byrnes with Foreign Commissar Molotov and Foreign Minister Bevin in Moscow as a rather routine affair.

Leaves For Moscow

Byrnes left by plane for Moscow this morning taking with him as an advisor on atomic energy problems Dr. James B. Conant, Harvard university president, and a panel of experts on European and Asiatic problems.

Asked for comment on the tri-partite session opening Saturday, Mr. Truman said it was planned a long time ago as part of the program of meetings among the big-power foreign ministers which was laid down at the Yalta Big Three conference last winter. He added that he expected the next meeting to be held in Washington in March or April.

HST To Set Program

The President thus emphasized the same attitude toward the conference that Byrnes has publicly preached—that people should not expect too much in the way of specific agreements, that the important thing is for the foreign ministers to talk over matters face to face.

The question of the Marines in China came up when Mr. Truman was asked the direct question: When will they be taken out?

He said that would be done when our surrender terms with Japan have been carried out. Then he volunteered the information that at a later date he will announce a complete policy on China for the guidance of Marshall, his special envoy there succeeding Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley.

From diplomatic informants it was learned that the earliest possible time at which the Marines could be withdrawn is four or five months away and they may actually be in China long after that.

Truman Asks Price Ceilings On Homes, Priority On Materials

Program Designed To Avert "Sky-Rocketing" Prices For Dwellings; Veterans To Be Given First Preference

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12—President Truman, acting to avert "further sky-rocketing of home prices," today called for legislation to fix price ceilings on houses.

In a companion move aimed to relieve what he termed an acute housing shortage, the President announced at his news conference that building materials will be back under a priority system in a few days.

Under the system, about 50 per cent of all construction supplies will be earmarked for single or multiple dwellings costing $10,000 or less a unit.

More New Homes, Less New Businesses

Program Will Affect City Building Plans

HOME building in Lubbock will benefit from President Truman's proposed priority system for building materials, but building contractors here are doubtful that the help will be appreciable.

General opinion of those questioned was that planned construction of commercial buildings would suffer from the channeling of 50 per cent of the building materials into single family and multiple dwelling units costing $10,000 or less.

Skilled Labor Needed

On the other hand, one man ventured the opinion that supply of some items, plumbing supplies for example, would not be helped, priorities or no priorities.

All agreed that if building materials were more plentiful, the shortage of skilled labor would still be a hindrance to any extensive home building program.

Builders questioned the practicality of price ceilings on old and new houses. Variations in construction, materials, fittings, interior and exterior finishes were cited as the main difficulties to be overcome by a price-fixing board. One suggested it would require an appraisal, house by house, to insure fair prices.

Would Mean More Houses

W. G. McMillan, a contractor specializing in business and commercial construction, said priorities would accomplish part of the purpose—to give more material

(Turn to Page 8, Column 1, Please)

Vets Get Preference

The priorities program also will set up preferences for veterans in the purchase or rental of such housing.

A third step in the new overall housing program calls for immediate release to states and local governments of any surplus federal property suitable for housing. Included under this plan, already put in operation by the Surplus Property administration, are Army and Navy barracks and dormitories.

Housing Head Named

To search out and attempt to crack all bottlenecks affecting home construction, Mr. Truman appointed Wilson Wyatt, former mayor of Louisville, to be housing expediter in the Office of War mobilization and reconversion.

A bill is pending in Congress to put price ceilings on new and old houses. The President gave it his blessing by endorsing a statement by Reconversion Boss John W. Snyder that "such authority is essential if we are to avert further sky-rocketing of home prices."

Appointment of a housing expediter and reinstatution of priorities were promptly hailed in real estate circles, but the price ceiling proposal was roundly denounced.

President Van Holt Garrett of the National Association of Real Estate boards told reporters during a visit to Omaha that the housing shortage "would soon iron out if they only would take all controls off and let us produce." Imposition of ceilings, he said, would be a "very dangerous step."

Oppose Curb On Prices

The association itself issued a statement in Washington saying that price ceilings might largely cancel out the benefits deriving from a housing expediter and priorities.

Frank W. Cortright, executive vice president of the National Association of Home builders, paid personal tribute to expediter Wyatt as "an executive of unquestioned ability and broad vision."

A spokesman for Snyder said the administration is counting on passage of the Patman bill, now before the House Banking committee, for authority to fix ceilings.

Ford Says Company Unable To Meet Wage Demands

(By The Associated Press)

The Ford Motor company reiterated Wednesday that it was unable to grant a 30 per cent wage rate increase, while in the General Motors strike President Truman intervened by appointing a fact finding committee.

In Washington, the House passed legislation to subject unions to the anti-racketeering act.

Ford Cites Figures

The day's rapid-breaking developments on the labor front included:

1—The Ford company told the CIO United Auto Workers it would lose about $35,000,000 next year, on the basis of OPA price ceilings, even with a 16 per cent increase in production and no increase in wages. It added:

"It is inevitable . . . that our discussions on wages must consider our joint ability to increase the productivity of the employes in this company and upon our ability to get into full production."

May Lower Wage Demands

Richard T. Leonard, UAW's Ford director, told newsmen the union would "give serious consideration" to scaling down its wage demands if the company offers an annual wage proposal. He said he "was certain" the company's answer did not mean a breakdown in negotiations.

The company, in summarizing its position on the wage question, referred to a letter it sent to the union last month saying a 30 per cent increase would "amount to a very heavy mortgage on the future of all of us—the Ford company and its employes alike."

Union Pledges Aid To Board

2 — President Truman named a fact finding board to inquire into issues of the 23-day-old General Motors strike and the appointment brought a prompt pledge of cooperation from leaders of the striking UAW.

Mr. Truman said he also would appoint "soon" a fact finding board to look into the steel industry dispute where 700,000 CIO steel workers have been directed to strike Jan. 14 for $2 a day wage increases.

3—The House passed on voice vote and sent to the Senate legislation applying the 1934 anti-racketeering act to labor unions—a measure bitterly opposed by organized labor. The Senate once before refused to pass a similar House-approved bill.

HST Shows Confidence

4—Contrary to the views of some congressional leaders, President Truman expressed confidence that Congress would pass by Christmas a law he proposed to prohibit

Japs Behind On Occupation Debt

TOKYO, Thursday, Dec. 13 (AP)—Japan is behind in her payments of occupation costs, Finance Minister Keizo Shibusawa told the House of Representatives yesterday, yet this debt already has become an important factor in rising inflation.

The Bank of Japan is advancing less than one-third of the 1,000,000,000 yen ($66,666,667) monthly occupation budget. The finance minister said discussions were being held with Allied authoriites regarding inflationary dangers of these modified payments.

Occupation payments to date total 1,100,000,000 yen, Shibusawa told a plenary session of the House of Representatives budget committee. The total debt however will be paid, he promised.

"It is sure this will form one cause of vicious inflation," he said in reply to a question.

Thirty eight Japanese military and industrial leaders, headed by Imperial Prince Morimasa Nashimoto, surrendered at Sugamo prison yesterday.

Twenty-one others on General MacArthur's Dec. 2 list of 59, all ordered to report by last midnight to await trial as war criminal suspects, had not surrendered today because of illness or because they still were out of the country.

Women Beaten, Babies Tossed From Trains

Nazis Said Rulers Of 6,500,000 "Slaves"

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Dec. 12. — Six leading Nazis were accused today by their own document of engineering the brutal, sub-human enslavement of more than 6,500,000 foreign workers through ruthless manhunts, arson and murder.

So revolting was the testimony that even their fellow defendants among the 21 leaders facing the international military tribunal edged away from them as silver-haired Assistant U. S. Prosecutor Thomas J. Dodd produced document after damning document.

Died Like Flies

Fritz Sauckel, responsible only to Hitler as Reich plenipotentiary for labor allocation, was portrayed as the chief architect of the labor enslavement program which so disgusted even Nazi underlings that they dared complain of inhuman treatment.

The documents told of prisoners dying like flies from hunger; of whole villages burned to force laborers into the Reich; "limitless abuse of slavic humanity" which had its "origin in the blackest periods of the slave trade."

Women Said Beaten

They told of humans being hunted down in wild manhunts by the SS, without consideration for health or age, gathering humans into their net "like dog catchers catch dogs." They told of captive women being beaten until they no longer could march; of babies born on slave trains being thrown out of train windows.

Presiding Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence called special attention of the court to a line in an order to SS kidnappers from the security police in March, 1943, concerning the recruitment of workers from Poland and Russia.

"As a rule, no more children will be shot," the order said.

Others Also Involved

Drawn into the net of evidence with Nazi labor czar Sauckel were Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, who in one cynical order directed that Russian slave workers provide their own food such as "cats and horses, etc.;" Munitions Minister Albert Speer, who with Goering, bid for the slave workers for his program; Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg, who protested some of the more revolting of Sauckel's methods but never their objective.

Also implicated were Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, who initialled a Hitler order for use of slave labor on Atlantic wall fortifications and Hans Frank, governor general for Poland, who provided hordes of hapless humans for the Nazi slave program.

A tabulation drafted from Nazi and Allied files for the prosecution showed that 6,691,000 foreign workers were put to work in the Reich up to January, 1945.

Man Almost Scores 'Hole-In-One' As Car Goes On Spree

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 12. (AP)—Merchant Seaman James McMahon, 18, was driving past a golf course. Here's what police say happened:

His car skidded 120 feet; jumped a six foot wide storm drain; crashed through a guard rail; sideswiped a tree, leaving a door handle imbedded in the trunk 12 feet from the ground, and landed on a green where the body and chassis separated.

The body rolled fifty feet toward the cup but the front wheel and axle overshot the hole by forty feet.

McMahon? He went to the hospital for treatment of minor scalp cuts.

Senate Rejects Ships' Transfer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Senate refused today to approve the peacetime chartering of approximately 660 war built, government-owned merchant ships to Russia, England and other Allies.

An amendment to a ship sales bill, permitting the Maritime commission to charter the vessels, was rejected on a 36-to-28 roll call vote.

Continue Lend-Lease

Senator Radcliff (D-Md), sponsor of the amendment, said Secretary of State Byrnes had asked for the charter provision. Radcliff said the Allies now have the vessels under a lend-lease charter agreement and this should be continued.

Senators Knowland (R-Calif) and Bridges (R-NH) opposed the amendment. They agreed that the Allies would charter the wartime ships while building faster ships then return old used ships to this country.

Give U. S. First Choice

The ship sales bill, as now written, bars charter of surplus vessels to non-citizens. They could purchase the ships, but only after U. S. citizens first had been given the opportunity to buy.

Prior to the Senate's action, Republican Leader White of Maine attacked the legislation specifying terms under which the government would dispose of half or more of its surplus merchant ships.

Dachau Leaders Found Guilty

DACHAU, Dec. 12 (AP)—Forty officials and guards of the notorious Dachau concentration camp were convicted today by a U. S. military court on charges of murder, torture and starvation, and will be sentenced tomorrow.

The court, deliberating 90 minutes, found camp Commandant Martin Weiss and all the other defendants guilty of a regime of horror at the camp, overrun by American troops last April 30. Dachau then housed 32,000 men and 350 women.

May Be Hanged

Defendants sentenced to die will be hanged, which Germans consider an ignominous death. The trial lasted 24 days.

The accused took the verdict stoically, although a few flushed when their names were read. Nor was there any demonstration by the audience of nearly 300 German civilians who filled the courtroom in the camp itself.

The convicted included five camp doctors and three prisoners who had collaborated with the SS.

One physician, 74-year-old Dr. Klaus Schilling was accused of killing hundreds of inmates in malaria experiments. He had begged on the witness stand to be allowed to finish the paper work on the results which he claimed indicated an anti-malaria vaccine.

Job Outlook Is Brighter

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—The national job outlook brightened today with indications there may be 3,000,000 fewer unemployed by spring than the government had figured.

Government experts, acknowledging that they over-estimated the bearish impact of reconversion on employment, now believed that not more than 5,000,000 will be seeking work by March, instead of the 8,000,000 officially forecast in October.

To Drop Next Fall

The 5,000,000 level may be sustained until mid-1946; then joblessness may decline as civilian production hits full stride—but officials now are wary of forecasting beyond the middle of next year.

One official described current unemployment as "amazingly small," probably ranging between 2,500,000 and 3,500,000. The War Manpower commission had estimated that 6,000,000 would be unemployed by the year's end.

The new estimates include discharged veterans and others who are "resting" now, and thus not technically unemployed, but who will be in the labor market later.

Women Leaving Jobs

The reasons given are numerous. They include heavy withdrawals of women from the labor market, and an unsuspected demand for workers among small, non-war businesses which apparently had been getting along with inadequate help.

Two other factors now loom as unexpectedly important: first, the lightness of layoffs in reconverting industries, and second, the high, sustained level of consumer purchasing.

Big companies — those in the excess profits tax brackets—have found they can keep workers on the payrolls at small cost as long as that tax is in effect. It expires Jan. 1.

Plants Help Workers

One thousand dollars worth of labor can be retained for about $150; in other words, if a company kept the $1,000 instead of paying it out in wages, the government would take $850 of it anyway in taxes.

Plants therefore have been holding on to their help, in expectation of rising production when the assembly lines really start rolling. They will continue to employ ahead of actual need, experts now believe, because the increase in output will continue for many months in most cases.

The other surprise element, consumer buying, has been well above estimates. The federal Reserve index of department store sales has been running 10 to 13 per cent above 1944 consistently, making 1945 an all-time record year.

Gen. Kenney To Head Pacific AAF Command

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—General George C. Kenney has been appointed chief of all air forces in the Pacific, an air forces spokesman announced today.

Kenney has commanded the Far Eastern Air Forces which included all Army air units in the Pacific except the 20th Air Force, the operating agency for the Super Fortresses.

The new "Pacific air command" includes the Fifth, Seventh, 13th, Eighth and 20th Air Forces but not the 10th and 14th in China or the 11th in Alaska.

Kenney's organization will be under the supreme command of General Douglas MacArthur. The Super Fortresses operated during the war under the direction of 20th Air Force headquarters at Washington, responsible to Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the 20th as well as all Army Air Forces.

Chinese Moving To Manchuria

CHUNGKING, Dec. 12 (AP) — Central government troops moved by road into Mukden and by air into Changchun today in two giant strides toward restoring China's sovereignty over Manchuria, a Tientsin dispatch said.

Associated Press Correspondent Olen Clements, quoting Chinese military sources in Tientsin, said Lt. Gen. Tu Li-Ming's forces entered Mukden without incident after a 240-mile march across southern Manchuria that began last month.

Soviets Agree To Plan

Tientsin sources reported the moves were made in an agreement with Russia under which Chungking forces will occupy most strategic areas in the vast and partly industrialized territory seized by Japan when she began her fateful era of Asiatic conquest in 1931.

These sources declared Russian troops had cleared the way for the entry of Chungking's divisions whose possession of Manchuria has been contested by Chinese Communist forces.

Landed By Plane

While Tu's overland units entered Mukden, Manchuria's largest city, the Fifth division of Chungking's 94th Army began landing by plane at Changchun, the capital 170 miles to the northeast, Clements reported.

Lt. Gen. Yao Keh-Min, chief of staff of the division, was quoted as saying on his return from Changchun to Peiping that Rus-

New Mexico Teacher, Former Crosby Resident, Disappears

England's Heavy Divorce Increase Laid To Protracted Separations

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The heavy increase in divorce in England represents in large degree the opening of the floodgates to the accumulation of grievances between the soldier overseas and his missus back home.

There's been a lot of unfaithfulness on both sides. The majority of the petitioners are soldiers but this certainly doesn't mean that the wives have been more unfaithful than their men.

Tommy Atkins sometimes has a naive outlook on this sort of thing. For instance, many married soldiers don't consider that they've committed adultery by associating with an unmarried lady of professionally easy virtue. You get that slant on the young man in the divorce court.

Before his case comes up for trial, Tommy likely will swear to his attorneys with great fervor that he hasn't committed adultery. This is an important point in English law, because if a petitioner is guilty of misconduct, and doesn't make it known to the court in advance, the case is thrown out.

Long Separation Chief Reason

Mrs. Mac and I have dug deep into the reasons for the increase in divorces, and the chief cause probably has been the protracted separation necessitated by the husband's duty overseas.

The soldiers have been away from their wives in most cases between 40 and 48 months without leave at home.

Made New Men Friends

This has contributed to immorality. Probably if there had been no separation there would have been no divorce.

Then, too, redistribution of the population for war purposes is partly responsible. In many instances wives, whose husbands were overseas, were moved into other districts to take industrial jobs. There they made new men-friends and perhaps were indiscreet. Of course another cause of divorce, common to every country in wartime, is hasty marriage.

The kindly intervention of welfare workers eases many storm-tossed matrimonial crafts over the rocks. A lot of returning soldiers are willing to carry on with their wives despite past infidelity by the latter. It may be that children turn the trick, or that forgiveness comes through logical recognition of the monotony and drabness of the wife's life at home. This also is true of many women whose men have had a fling overseas.

Drive For Tech Stadium Funds Is To Be Launched By C. Of C. Group

Action was taken Wednesday morning by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to advance the financial campaign for construction of a $300,000 stadium at Texas Technological college.

With $150,000 already assured for the project and an indeterminate sum to be raised by the alumni association, the directors voted to promote by public subscription whatever balance is necessary.

Committee Appointed

A steering committee to spearhead the drive was appointed, and it will meet for the first time at 10 o'clock this morning in the chamber of commerce offices at the City hall. Spencer A. Wells is chairman and other members are Parker F. Prouty, H. T. Luther and Joe Bryant.

Initial money for the stadium was provided in a meeting of the Tech board of directors last week when Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president emeritus, offered to underwrite $100,000 toward the cost of the project, and the directorate followed suit by acting to furnish $50,000.

Present plans call for the early construction of two wings with a total seating capacity of 15,000 persons, with end sections to be added later when and if, the need arises. It would be known as the "Clifford and Audrey Jones" Memorial stadium.

Ration Board Member Resigns As Protest

DENTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Claude Castlesberry, chairman of the Denton county ration board since it was organized in December, 1942, resigned today, declaring there was an abundance of both tires and sugar—the only two items still rationed.

Castleberry said he did not "feel right staying on a board that limits people from having what they need and should be allowed." He declared stores in Denton have plenty of sugar and tires but the ration board had not been able to allow them to supply the public because of the limited quota set by the District OPA office.

His resignation followed those of members of the tire panel, Abney Ivey, W. C. Collier and J. B. Farris, revealed Saturday.

Jaycees To Take Toys To Monday Luncheon

Junior Chamber of Commerce members are to bring a child's toy or 50 cents in cash to Monday's weekly luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel.

Glenn Woody, club president, made this announcement Wednesday afternoon in appealing to his fellow members to aid in the Goodfellow Eleventh Annual Christmas Cheer campaign, aimed at assuring Christmas cheer for every boy and girl in Lubbock.

Woody said information that all members of the civic clubs were to make these donations came too late for this week's meeting and urged all Jaycees to be present with a toy or the required cash.

Atomic Bomb Control Said Most Important Issue Before World

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 12 (U.P.)—Max Singer, assistant adjutant general of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, today told the National conference of American War Mothers that the atomic bomb and its control must take precedence over such issues as who will control the Balkans, this or that waterway or how much interest will be charged on international debts.

"You mothers and wives must raise your voices in a warning to mothers and wives all over the world, a warning to the leaders of the world," Singer said.

"They must remember that the atomic bomb has the power to destroy men faster than mothers can give birth to new generations of fighting sons.

"With such a terrible weapon in our hands, we can have but two alternatives—a peaceful world where men and nations live together in peace and understanding, or a world desolated, its civilization completely destroyed."

Fort Worth Man Is Reported As Dead

FORT WORTH, Dec. 12 (U.P.)—Lt. Col. Everett C. Plummer, who has been listed as missing since a flight over Burma on December 1, 1943, has now been listed as having died of injuries on December 9, 1943, his wife, Mrs. Josephine Plummer, was informed today by the War department.

Assigned to the AAF Training Command headquarters in Fort Worth before joining the 10th Air Force in the India-Burma theater, he also had flown in the European area and in Spain and China.

A native of Heightstown, New Jersey, he held the Silver Star and the Air Medal.

Rent Controls In City Tightened

In an effort to meet increasing pressures being exterted on maximum rents and other tenant safeguards rent controls in the Lubbock rental area have been tightened by the Office of Price administration, Robert E. Key, rent director, has announced.

Greater demand for rental housing due to the return of veterans and war workers to this area and the decrease in the number of rental houses due to an unpredicted number of sales to new owners, who have occupied the houses in recent months, were said by Key to be the cause for increasing pressure.

Pressures Stronger

"Pressures for both evictions and evasion grow stronger when these conditions exist," Key said. "OPA has taken several steps to control these pressures and protect tenants in the area."

The waiting period in the area remains 90 days before a tenant may be evicted by a buyer of a house wishing to occupy it himself. Key said this would help prevent a tenant, who is told that he must move, from becoming so desperate he makes illegal side payments to his landlord or makes monthly payments that are equivalent to above-ceiling rents merely to keep his house temporarily.

Better control has been established, Key said, over the eviction of tenants for occupancy by a landlord and to remodel or demolish a rental unit.

"Tenants who are told they must vacate a rental property should notify this office promptly so that they may be advised of their rights under new regulations," Key said. The office is at 1415 Ave. Q.

Steel Industry Said Facing New Threat

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (U.P.)—The steel industry, faced with a nationwide strike on Jan. 14, may get another jolt soon in the form of an enforced allocation of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons of steel for export the magazine Iron Age said today.

The publication said the move may have a "drastic effect" on reconversion.

The plan for enforced export of steel, up for discussion this week between the cviilian production administration and the steel industry advisory committee, was said by the trade journal to be predicated on "the fallacious idea that American steel companies have not been exporting steel to foreign countries since the war ended."

The magazine said foreign customers are getting the same treatment as domestic steel users as far as possible without wrecking reconversion in this country. Industry sources said export of steel should be handled in the same way that domestic users are being serviced—shipments to be based on the pattern which existed in the years 1935-39.

Discussing the scheduled steel strike, the trade publication said hope of averting the walkout is "exceedingly slim."

HERO'S PREDICAMENT

SGT. Macario Garcia, Sugar Land Congressional Medal of Honor winner, as guest of honor at a dance given in Houston the other night by the League of United Latin-American citizens, was offered a cigarette. He refused "because Pop's watching and he'd whip me when we got home." Single-handed and wounded he charged and knocked out two machine-gun nests, killed six of the enemy and captured four more before fainting from loss of blood. That was in Germany, over a year ago.

There's something heartening about this little incident; it's encouraging to learn that in one family a hero, while a hero, still is a youth who does not smoke in front of a father, who objects to his son taking a drag. Oh yes, when he was offered a drink, he took another look toward the old man and accepted a straight soda pop.

RELIGION OF LOVE

THAT love is the healing, saving power, law and nature of God; and that in its true sense it is individually expressed by the spiritual, real man, rather than in a personal, limited mortal sense, was the theme of a Christian Science lecture delivered here at the Lubbock church by Gordon V. Comer of Denver, a member of the board of lectureship of the Mother church in Boston.

In his lecture, Mr. Comer said: "True love is not a personal quality, because the Apostle John has said that "God is Love." Therefore, all that is really love is the expression of God.

"Can anyone reasonably doubt that there is a divine, altogether loving One, an infinite power, which maintains the rhythm of the universe? Can anyone deny this when he sees that in spite of the frailities, the selfishness, the inconsistencies, the stupidities of mankind, the universe continues to unfold a beauty so magnificent, an order so completely scientific, a law so inexorably right in every way that the darkened eyes of mortals cannot help but see and acknowledge some of it? What wonders will be wrought before human eyes as there is more general recognition of God as divine Love!"

PIN-UP BOYS

WE don't believe it's really Christmas until you've made gingerbread pin-up boys, to give to the youngsters to keep them occupied while you're doing those last-minute details that pile up in spite of your best-laid plans or to hang on the tree, since decorations seem a bit scarce this year. Here is a recipe we know is tried and true:

Take 2¾ cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoons ginger, ¼ teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and sift all. Mix 2-3 cup molasses with 1-3 cup brown sugar, 1 egg and ½ cup melted shortening. Add dry ingredients to make a soft dough. Shape in forms of little men and bake in moderately hot oven at above 375° for about twelve minutes. This should make about eighteen pin-up boys about 4 inches high.

GLORIFIED GADGETS

RICH uncles who don't have to worry about budgets on their Christmas shopping tours should really come into their own this year. Price is no object for Santa this season, even for the simplest gadgets. Utility items that usually are made of wood and tin, now come in solid gold and are studded with jewels.

Down in Dallas, where life has been described as "robust," a jeweler has made it possible for women to hitch up their jeans with a diamond studded cowboy belt with a gold buckle. The price is a matter of just how highly you regard such items—they start at a century. A Chicago jeweler has turned out a gold shaving mug for about $1900. If you furnish it, of course, you'll find the soap is extra.

With the U. S. treasury at your command you could fit out a lady's handbag in a fancy manner. She may carry her vitamin tablets in a $490 small gold pillbox with diamond, emerald and pearl clasp, peer her shiny nose in the mirror of a $1750 diamond-framed gold compact and paint on a new mouth with lipstick from a gold case studded with rubies and diamonds.

Of course, if you are not a rich uncle and your salary is still what is known as being in the lower brackets, you can buy these articles in the bargain basement for about five dollars.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and grown-ups may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it. After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a highly effective way to deal with them has been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug called gentian violet.

This special drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

DON'T LET SOAP SHORTAGES GET WORSE You can help!

Keep saving used fats to help prevent further cuts in your soap supply

As long as our country's supply of industrial fats is so low, the government must determine how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.
Any let-down in your saving of used kitchen fats will make our fat supply even less...and the amount allowed for soap manufacture may have to be cut accordingly. The end of rationing of food fats doesn't change the picture. Industrial fats are still very short. So keep turning in your used fats, won't you? . . . and speed the return of more soaps to your dealer's shelves.

Warning On Check Thieves And Forgers Is Sounded In Lubbock

Chief of Police Don Reeder has been asked by the U. S. Secret service for cooperation in warning South Plains businessmen to be on the lookout for check thieves and forgers who usually become more active during the rush of business of the pre-holiday shopping season

"Merchants would do well to talk this over with their employes now," Reeder said. "All clerks and cashiers should be cautioned to be even more careful than usual in accepting either government or commercial checks from strangers. No checks should be accepted from any stranger unless properly identified."

Reeder referred to the campaign to prevent check forgery, which has been conducted the last several years by the U. S. Secret service, Treasury department, and police departments throughout the country. Chief Frank J Wilson of the U. S. Secret service said that, even though the number of forged checks had increased, due to the great number of checks being issued, crime prevention methods had reduced the actual rate of forgeries from 99 per million in 1939 to 38 per million at the present. This could not have been accomplished without full cooperation of the police departments throughout the country, he said. These departments, through their efforts, have obtained growing cooperation from merchants.

"Many juveilnes from 12 to 17 have stolen, forged and cashed government and commercial checks over the country," Reeder said records show, "many times because merchants have been careless in asking for positive identification. When a merchant accepts a check from a juvenile, without requiring proper identification, and the check turns out to be a forgery, then that merchant unwittingly has contributed to juvenile delinquency.

Precautions Suggested

Reeder suggested that the following precautions should always be observed by business houses when checks are cashed:

1. When any stranger asks you to cash a check, insist that he properly identify himself as the rightful payee of that check. Do not accept a Social Security card as a means of identification.

2. Insist that the check be endorsed in your presence. If it is endorsed when presented to you, have it endorsed again.

3. Before you accept any check, ask yourself this question: "If this check is returned to me because the endorsement is forged, can I locate the forger and recover my money?"

4. Have each check initialed by the employe who pays out money for it and also have the employe make a notation on the check of the identification given by the person presenting the check.

"Know your endorser, or require identification."

Warning Sounded On Holiday Plane Trips

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 12 (U.P.)—If you've been planning to fly to New York from Albuquerque for Christmas via TWA, don't!

Kenneth McGaha, TWA district manager here, says the local office is accepting no advance reservations on eastbound flights for at least the remainder of this month. He explained that this action was taken to comply with an ODT order that all transcontinental airlines set aside 70 per cent of the available seats on through eastbound flights for military personnel.

Since the ODT order does not affect westbound traffic, McGaha said TWA has experienced little difficulty in getting space for West coast passengers.

Rainey Again Talked As State Candidate

FORT WORTH, Dec. 12. (AP)—Reports of a move by which Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro would be taken out of the governor's race next summer and sidetracked into running for lieutenant governor with Homer P. Rainey substituted by the Calvert group for governor were discounted today by M. A. Glenn, Waco, member of the State Democratic executive committee.

Friends of Calvert at a meeting in Waco last Saturday night launched a boom for him as a candidate in next summer's primaries for governor and announced a state-wide organization. Tuesday it was reported that a Fort Worth group had been holding conferences with a view to dropping Calvert to second place on the ticket, with Rainey as the gubernatorial candidate.

Calvert served several terms in the Texas legislature, formerly was House speaker and was chairman of the State Democratic convention in Dallas in September of 1944. Rainey formerly was president of the University of Texas.

Glenn was somewhat riled over the reports Wednesday, said that neither he nor any of Calvert's supporters had been approached upon the subject and that there would be "no political trading of any kind to sacrifice Bob Calvert."

Question Of United Nations Site Minor Compared To Other Issues

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

There is more than meets the eye in the dispute over whether the permanent seat of the United Nations organization shall be in the United States or Europe.

Superficially, the question of a site appears minor in contrast to graver issues confronting the UNO, and the difficulty in agreeing on it looks like much ado about nothing. The United Nations is a world-wide coalition and in theory could function as successfully in San Francisco, Timbuctoo or at the North Pole.

U. S. Coyly Neutral

Actually, it has become a Big Three issue, with Britain and Russia on opposite sides of the fence and the United States delegation trying to be coyly neutral.

Great Britain opposes making the United States the home of the UNO. Russia favors it. Most of the smaller nations are divided in accordance with their affiliation with members of the Big Three, Poland supports a European site as against the Russian stand, and Australia favors the United States against the mother country's wishes.

British Fear Loss Of Prestige

It seems odd that Britain, despite her desire to continue the Anglo - American war alliance, should be siding against the United States while Russia takes the opposing view. It may be that the Russians find some grim humor in the situation.

Britain evidently fears here international prestige will suffer if the center of political gravity is shifted from Europe. That would not matter so much in western Europe as in the East, among the countries lying on the imperial life-line to the Orient. British fears are governed more by that consideration than by any reluctance to see the United States take the spotlight.

Russia Against European Site

Russia would prefer a "world capital" outside European bloc against the Soviet Union and its established sphere of influence in the East. Russia would welcome any lessening of British influence in Europe, as long as it passes by proxy to the more remote United States.

Russia's position was stated by her delegates to the London preparatory conference, Andrei A. Gromyko. He said the argument for a European site was based in part on the argument that future problems would be mainly European, whereas only time would tell about that. Selection of a European site, he said, would make the UNO a regional organization instead of a universal one. France opposed selection of the United States as the UNO home, on the ground that placing it in any one of the great powers would tend to "upset the balance" among the Big Five.

The chief argument advanced for the United States is that the American people have not been fully wooed away from isolationism. It has been suggested that Americans will take a greater interest in world organization, and feel more inclined to support it if the headquarters of the new League of Nations is not in some far off country.

Unusual Wood Exhibit On Display At Tech

One of the most interesting and unusual exhibits ever placed in the display windows at the Texas Tech home economics building is a collection of hand-carved wooden figures, designed and beautifully executed by Jannie Lee Pointer of Anton, freshman applied arts major.

The figurines depict the birth scene of the Christ child, showing Jesus in the cradle, the Holy Mother Mary, Joseph, a shepherd, two pigs, a rooster, duck donkey, turkey hen, hen and three chickens, a sheep family and a cow and calf. Work was begun on the project Feb. 18, 1945 and Miss Trainer completed the figurines of Joseph this school semester.

Is A Hobby

Miss Trainer, who began woodcarving as a hobby last year when she was in ill health, works only in her leisure time from school. She's very modest about her talent, but home economics instructors are praising her highly for her delicate art work and her ability to exhibit fine detail in every piece she has completed.

In explaining the process of carving figures from woods such as birch, teakwood, mahogany and gum, Miss Trainer said she worked with different sized pocket knives. The smooth, glass-like finish Miss Trainer said was a result of "rubbing and more rubbing." First she rubs the raw wood with sand paper, applies a coat of shellac, sands the wood when it is dry, adds a coat of varnish, and rubs when dry, then usually applies a coat of wax and rubs until the wood glistens.

Has Other Objects

Other wood work Miss Trainer has completed is numerous letter openers, a donkey and two horses. She doesn't plan making wooden figures for Christmas gifts, nor does she plan selling any of her work because her craftsmanship requires a lot of time an dshe doubts whether people would be willing to "pay me for my time and work combined."

Miss Trainer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Trainer of Anton.

America First Head May Enter Politics In Texas In 1946

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, leader of the America First party crusade, was in San Antonio today for a series of meetings with "people who have corresponded with me to lay the ground work for an extension of the activities of the America First party." He arrived from El Paso.

After several days visit here, he said he would visit Houston, Dallas, and Fort Worth. He said:

"My opposition in Texas will depend on how strong the Communist party is. I know there are Communists in Texas but I haven't had an opportunity to look into the matter."

In outlining the America First party's future plans Smith said:

"We will not have a ticket in the 1948 election. We will support either the Democratic or Republican party—depending upon which shows most nationalistic tendencies.

Smith, editor of the publication Christ and The Flag, said he intended to visit Louisiana on his current trip.

Also present will be Wick Fowler, Dallas News war correspondent with the 36th throughout the Italian operations.

Latest schedules, still subject to change because of weather, call for the arrival at Hampton Roads of the Tusculum Victory Dec. 15; Pontotoc Victory Dec. 18; Wooster Victory Dec. 19; Benjamin Milan Dec. 20; Francis Lee Dec. 21. Manville Is Finally Married Eighth Time

LARCHMONT, N. Y., Dec. 21 (AP)—Tommy Manville was married—again—today, without benefit of clergy or press.

The 51 year old asbestos heir became a bridegroom for the eighth time when he was married to Georgina Campbell, 27, a writer. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Wesley M. Messersmith.

One of the witnesses was George Burton, chief of the Mamaroneck, N. Y., fire department, of which Manville is an honorary member. There were no reporters or photographers present.

Messersmith remarked afterward that as far as he knew none of the marriages he had performed ever had been dissolved. His secretary, Mrs. Eunice Bissel, said she hoped this case would not break the precedent.

Mr. and Mrs. Manville echoed the sentiment.

Top-Ranking Japs Trudging In For Arrest As War Criminals

TOKYO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Heavily laden with bedding and baggage, a prince of the Imperial family and other top-rank Japanese trudged through the gates of grim Sugamo prison today to surrender as war criminal suspects.

The surrendering notables, headed by aged Prince Morimasa Nashimoto — first of Emperor Hirohito's family to be named on a war crimes list — were part of a group of 59 given until midnight to submit themselves voluntarily.

Others Also Arrive

Others on the list continued arriving at Sugamo at five-minute intervals during the day.

As the prince and a procession of several admirals, generals, industrialists and newspaper publishers checked in at the prison, Japan's Diet heard Foreign Minister Sjigeru Yoshida make one of the strongest understatements of his career.

"Japan," he said, "at present lacks complete sovereignty."

Allied Action Assailed

Yoshida made the remark in connection with his disclosure that the government already had broached to Allied headquarters the question of resuming diplomatic relations with the rest of the world.

His announcement drew the retort from a critical deputy that Allied abolition of Japan's diplomatic service showed "lack of confidence in the cabinet."

No Decision Reached In Suit Over Dog

A county court jury is to resume deliberations this morning in effort to reach an agreement in Ralph J. Williamson's suit for $526 damages from N. A. Cox and Valton V. Cox growing out of the death of one of Williamson's dogs. The jury considered the case about two hours before adjourning at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Williamson's pleadings, filed Oct. 22, set out that the brothers Cox, doing business as Animal hospital, had accepted his two cocker spaniels Sept. 16 and agreed to board and care otherwise for them while Mr. and Mrs. Williamson were out of town.

He pleaded that he returned Sept. 29, took the dogs to his home just outside Lubbock and found the animals infected with vermin and typhus germs.

One almost pure white unregistered dog, a male, he said, died Oct. 15.

Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, veterinarian at Texas Tech, was called by the plaintiff as a witness.

Attorneys are Lawrence F. Green for Williamson, L. A. Howard for the defense.

County Judge Walter Davies presided at the hearing.

Building In City

for veterans housing — but the labor shortage would still hamper that.

"Skilled mechanics of all classes, are now busy on construction in their home towns," he said, "and are not coming to the larger cities seeking work. Our local labor supply is all we have."

The priorities would further curb business construction, already hampered by lack of material, and the strain on lumber facilities would be further complicated, he added.

R. K. Landreth, plumbing contractor and president of the National Association of Master Plumbers, said priorities wouldn't help get more plumbing supplies.

"Manufacturers tell me they can't manufacture items under present price ceilings without losing money, so priorities won't get us any more supplies unless price ceilings are raised," Landreth said.

There is a shortage of all items, particularly soil pipe and bath tubs, and in many cases the material manufactured today is inferior to the pre-war product. Landreth doubted if the shortage would be relieved if all commercial construction were eliminated.

Homes For Vets

J. E. Reid, head of the South Plains Construction Co., said the priority plan would help home building considerably, but he said to really benefit labor would have to be channeled into home construction with the material.

Reid has ten homes under construction, seven for veterans, and is starting 42 more, all for veterans. He said he had half as many men working as he needed, and that his material supply and labor supply were about balanced.

"If I could get more materials, it still wouldn't help much unless I could hire more skilled men," Reid said. He believed, though, that labor would follow the material as commercial construction was curtailed.

Price ceilings on new houses would be almost impossible to set, he asserted, unless a price were set beyond which no house could be built. He said he had to take what materials he could get, whether first grade or lower. Individual preferences in finishes, fittings, etc., and the unstable labor situation made it impossible to set a definite price on a home and expect to build it for that, he added.

Robert E. Maxey, commercial building contractor, said commercial buildings in Lubbock used mostly brick and steel, materials not used in homes, but he felt that commercial progress would be slowed down in favor of home building.

He said if price ceilings on homes were set, based on 1941-42 prices for example, then the cost of material and wages would have to be rolled back. Would ceilings allow for the increase in costs of lots, which have advanced 100 per cent or more? This might cut down the precentage of an FHA loan from 90 to 60 per cent, he said.

S. L. Forrest, president of the National Retail Lumbermen's association, was in Washington, D. C., and not available for comment.

Arguments To Begin In Baucum Case

Attorneys are to begin arguments before a U. S. district court jury at 9 o'clock this morning in the $60,000 suit brought by Weaver H. Baucum, formerly of Seagraves, against Southwest Public Service company for injuries he pleaded he sustained as result of a "near execution" from high voltage lines in Seagraves Jan. 2.

Presentation of evidence was concluded late Wednesday and the court was recessed until today. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson presided.

Baucum, then a farmer living west of Seagraves, went to the assistance of George Eubank of Lubbock who also suffered injuries.

Baucum pleaded that as result of the accident he had been paralyzed from the waist down.

Legion Commander To Speak In City

John Stelle, national commander of the American Legion and former governor of Illinois, will speak in Lubbock the night of Jan. 9, he said in a telegram Wednesday afternoon to A. C. Jackson, 19th district commander.

Stelle will come to Lubbock after speaking at a luhcneon meeting in Amarillo. Following his appearance here, he will speak at other key Texas cities.

Stelle was elected national commander at the recent convention in Chicago. He became Illinois' chief executive when Gov. Horner died in October, 1940, serving out the term.

and Paul Walter, were charged with conducting "pressure experiments" on prisoners for the benefit of the German Air Force.

Dachau was one of the most odious and most feared of the concentration camps set up by the Hitler regime for political prisoners. Witnesses at the trial said 5,000 Jews were killed in one camp at Dachau, that inmates were brutally beaten, that naked men were immersed in ice water in experiments, that some prisoners were sent to the crematory while still alive, and that the Nazis bleached human heads for souvenirs.

Brig. Gen. John Lentz presided over the eight-man military court.

Scout Finance Drive Results Announced

Although the report is still incomplete, $3,160 has been collected by the big gifts committee and $3,480 by the general solicitations group for the Boy Scout finance drive, according to G. M. Unger, South Plains Boy Scout executive.

Approximately one-half of the expected amount to be solicited by the employes group, headed by the American Business club with Roy Krebbs as chairman, has been collected. It is expected that $400 will be added to the unreported amount, Unger said. This fund will be contributions from employes of Lubbock business firms and the Texas Tech group.

Three teams, who hold approximately 35 cards for prospective contributors of generous amounts, have not reported on the big gifts committee.

"The drive looks very successful and all indications point toward topping our two goals," Unger stated. Goal for the big gifts committee is $4,000 and the same amount is the goal for the general solicitation group.

"Total of $6,640 raised so far does not include $2,700 pledged yearly by "sustaining members, Earl B. Collins, general chairman of the annual drive, said.

Louis B. Mayer Gets Nation's Top Salary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—The Treasury issued a report on big incomes tonight and the name of Louis B. Mayer led all the rest. The movie magnate got $908,070 from Loew's Inc., for personal services in one year.

Mayer's top ranking was disclosed in a supplement to an earlier partial listing of individuals' income from corporations. The report as a whole covers returns for the calendar year of 1943 and fiscal years ending in 1943 and 1944.

Ranking immediately after Mayer, who was in front by nearly $450,000, were Charles E. Wilson, of General Motors, and Thomas J. Watson, of International Business Machines.

Fred MacMurray, in fifth place, and Deanna Durbin, in tenth place, were the only actors to make the first ten as individuals. But the income of Comedians Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, which was reported as a single salary — $424,320—ranked fourth.

"Jack The Ripper" Type Slayer Hunted

CHICAGO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Police claimed 35 clues but no likely suspects tonight in their intensive search for a "Jack the Ripper" type slayer of a discharged Wave who warned he would strike again.

Chief of Detectives Walter H. Storms said 35 clues had been assembled in the 60 hours since the stabbed and shot body of 33-year-old Miss Frances Brown was found in the bathtub of her apartment, a breadknife still through her throat.

Storms, however, declined to list the clues or discuss them except to say police were hunting for a "Jack the Ripper" slayer.

He said he did not regard as a cunning device to confuse the police a note printed in lipstick on the victim's living room wall which said:

"For heaven's sake catch me before I kill more. I cannot control myself."

Communists Said Gone

AP Correspondent Spencer Davis in Peiping said Yao found Chinese Communists had disappeared from the vicinity of Changchun.

A Chinese civil mission was reported operating jointly with the Russians the railway between Changchun and the northern Manchurian city of Harbin and between Changchun and the southern free port of Dairen.

Clements reported that some of Tu's troops pushed on to Sinmin, on the Tientsin-Mukden railway 34 miles northwest of Mukden near where it bends southeastward toward the city.

More Chinese army units were concentrating in Peiping, ready to begin the air movement to Changchun, Davis added.

5—The executive board of the United Steel Workers met at Pittsburgh to detail plans for the Jan. 14 walkout, although CIO President Philip Murray said the union's wage demand still was "a negotiable proposition."

Justice Stacy Heads Board

Named to the President's fact finding board were Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy of the North Carolina supreme court, chairman; Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison of the War Labor board and President Milton Eisenhower of Kansas State college, brother of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Garrison, who said the board would organize in Washington Dec. 10 and 20, said the President did not wish for it to interfere with the collective bargaining now in progress. He expressed the hope the parties would settle the dispute by agreement.

Continuing disputes kept more than 400,000 idle throughout the nation.

forced with heavy bombers and other equipment in strength by that time, Marshall said he believed it might be enough of a deterrent to prevent open warfare.

"They would have continued to grab what they could get free, by infiltration," the General said. But that might not have carried them 'over the line" which the U. S.-British-Dutch alliance considered an act of war.

Marshall conceded that he thought that the Hawaii defenses at that time "would deter them from an attack there.'

The witness said that at the time he considered the presence of the fleet at Pearl Harbor—where it was smashed Dec. 7—a "deterrent" to Japanese aggressive moves.

Chinese Return To Mukden And Changchun Hailed As Triumph

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12 — Something of shame and humiliation in every Chinese heart was lessened today as Nationalist troops moved back into Mukden and Changchun, the industrial and administrative centers of Manchuria.

WHITE

Many Chinese blamed their national government for not making a firmer stand against Japan when Manchuria was lost in 1931. Others blamed the foreign powers who stood by and watched Japan grab and get by with it.

But the return to Mukden, where it all started more than 14 years ago, is a mixed blessing in Chinese minds. For the Nationalist troops had to have American help to get there and Russian permission to reenter.

Need Soviet Help

American help was necessary to traverse North China territory dominated by Chinese Communists with whom the Central government had not reached practical and detailed agreement on outstanding issues of national political and military policy.

Russian permission to reenter was waited upon because—it was reported from Chungking—the Chinese did not want to offend the Russians, who had reconquered Manchuria from the Japanese in a six-day war.

Some Chinese officials who had gone to Changchun earlier had to withdraw last month because the Russians were about to leave on schedule, and there was danger that they would be captured by hostile Chinese troops, who may or may not have been Communists.

Difficulties Cited

The difficulties which the Central troops have had getting back, first into North China and later into Manchuria, may be resurrected later by interested parties, and should not be forgotten by anyone who wants to keep the picture straight in his mind.

The argument likely will be simply that the authority of the Central government had to be reasserted by force over these areas, and that it was unable to flow back automatically like water down into a dry valley. And, furthermore, that it did not have the strength to flow back itself, but had to have help to do so.

Deal With Russians Rumored

Chinese elated at being back in Mukden also may be chilled by the unconfirmed reports circulating in Chungking that China paid Russia quite a price in order to reach the new agreement whereby the Russians guaranteed the safety of returning Nationalist troops and officials.

Some Nationalist officials, who won't allow their names to be used, even allege that the Russians demanded economic concessions in Manchuria which would threaten Chinese sovereignty there.

There is no confirmation of such rumors, and it also remains to be confirmed that the Russians have looted Manchuria's industry as some reports have hinted.

"Bat" Bomb Took Big Toll Of Jap Shipping

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (U.P.)—The Navy department revealed today that a heretofore secret "bat" bomb, a radar-guided flying missile, destroyed many tons of Japanese combat and merchant shipping in the recent war.

The bat bomb was the first fully automatic guided missile to be successfully in combat by any nation, the Navy said.

A Navy patrol bomber, flying outside the range of the victim's guns, released the bat, which then followed every maneuver of the target ship. Its small size and speed made it difficult to hit with anti-aircraft fire.

Rear Adm. George F. Hussey, Jr., chief of the Navy buearu of ordnance said "the Japs never knew what hit them."

Southern Methodist Cagers Beat Red Raiders, 50 To 27

DALLAS, Dec. 12—The Texas Tech Red Raiders played erratic ball against the fast developing Southern Methodist basketeers tonight and dropped a 50-27 game.

For the first time half it was pretty much a ball game as the Mustangs gained a 19-13 lead. The Raiders came back to open the last half with three quick points and for a moment it looked like they might win. But the bright spot was short-lived and the score continued to mount, despite substitution of everyone on the SMU bench.

The opening minutes of the game indicated the evening might see little but defense. Bryan Lloyd, big gun for the victors, dropped in two close ones to open the scoring. But one counter coming after two minutes and the other when the clock had moved to four minutes, Gene Hardey's free throw with five minutes gone was the first Tech score.

Big Jim Rollings of SMU came through with three baskets a short time later, while Hardey and Bill Kelley clicked one each and Jay Kerr two to keep the Raiders in the game.

Hardey opened the second half with a quick basket and the free throw which came with his being fouled by Lloyd to put the count 19-16. But the Mustangs came back strong and ran the count to 28-16 before Ardis Barton's gift shot brought another Tech point.

For the greater part of the final stanza it seemed that no matter how deep in substitutions SMU moved baskets still continued to drop through as the Raider defense apparently became void.

The same teams meet again Thursday night.

The box score:

Chaney Five Winner In Senior Cage Tilt

The Lubbock Boys club cage league play Wednesday night found most teams in a scoring mood as the Chaney five won the featured game of the Senior loop play, beating the Gailey five, 47 to 21.

Phil Bennett paced the winners with 12 points, while Gailey led his own team with eight.

In the junior game, the Lindsey five rolled over the Stephens club, 34 to 23, with Jim Wilson pouring in 16 points for the winners, while Stewart paced the losers with eight points.

James Owens' team won the midget league game, beating the Smith five, 13 to 11, with Owens setting the pace for his own team, but scoring honors of the night went to Pierce of the losers. Pierce scored seven points and Owens six.

Three games are on the schedule for tonight, with Elliott playing Crawford in the midget league, Stanley playing Scott in the junior loop, and Parham playing Clark in the senior league.

Night Play Gets Majors Approval

CHICAGO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Baseball's big leaguers and Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler-apparently agreed today to bury the hatchet—and not in each other—and wound up their winter meetings by approving "unlimited" night baseball for 1946.

While the moguls were smoking the peace pipe with Chandler behind locked doors, the dullest ivory trading market in years perked up around the headquarters hotel lobby just about enough to keep the franchise. The Cleveland Indians traded temperamental Jim Bagby to the Boston Red Sox for slim Lefty Vic Johnson and $5,000 in cash, and it was generally reported that come next season, the 1943 St. Louis Cardinal field captain and infielder, Jimmy Brown, will be wearing a Pittsburg uniform.

Phils Get Newsome

The Phillies closed the dealing by purchasing veteran shortstop Skeeter Newsome from the Red Sox for a reported $15,000.

The talk was the Brown-to-Pittsburgh sale would be announced later. This would give the two-week major and minor get-togethers, which were supposed to have come up with a great post-war bargain basement rush of ivory business, a total of exactly five deals. In the only two previous transactions, the Phillies bought pitcher Johnny Humphries from the Chicago White Sox and first-sacker Frank (Buck) McCormick from Cincinnati.

Actually, the recently widening breach between Chandler and some baseball men closed so sharply, that the ex-senator was voted at least one "victory" during the final three-hour session, in which his vote decided the "sky is the limit" night baseball schedule for next year.

The "win" came in controversial plans for baseball's far-flung $50,000 post-war promotion program, aimed particularly at stimulating interest in amateur ball. The minors last week approved the recommendations of the promotion committee, whereby the promotion foundation would be directed apart from "any other office" in organized baseball. A proposal to which Chandler objected sternuously.

Today, at the major league conclave, the committee agreed to withdraw its plan and continue working on the program with the commissioner and "interested amateur organization." The group will meet with the commissioner at his office and will present new plans to the February meetings.

Waco Tigers In Favorite Spot

(By The Associated Press)

Waco's Tigers, selected generally as the team to represent the South bracket of Texas Interscholastic League football in the state finals, appear to have a much better chance of coming through this year than last when they were eliminated in the quarter-finals.

In 1944 Waco was rated No. 1 in the state and entered the play-off as favorites for the championship. The Tigers were undefeated and untied. They held a victory over Highland Park of Dallas, one of the high-ranking teams. But against Lufkin Waco faltered badly and was beaten by four touchdowns.

This year Waco went to Dallas and dropped a 7-0 decision to Highland Park. Neutral observers agreed that the Tigers had outplayed Highland Park but anyway the heat was off. There was no pressure.

Today, critics say Waco is so improved over the time they met Highland Park that there is little resemblance between the two teams. Some think the Tigers are the greatest team Harry Stiteler has had at Waco and rate with the best in Waco history—even the state champion eleven of the ewenties.

But Waco meets a team resembling it very much in this week's quarter-finals when the Tigers battle Marshall's Mavericks at Marshall.

The Mavs also went to Dallas to play Highland Park. They lost by four touchdowns, largely as the result of a case of jitters that caused costly fumbles, but also because Highland Park had the better football team. Yet, since that night Marshall has been going upward instead of backward as most-beaten schoolboy teams do.

Saturday's game at Marshall is likely to be the top offensive battle of the week. Waco will be the general choice to win but victory by Marshall, which last week upset unbeaten, untied Lufkin 13-8, would be no great surprise.

The Waco-Marshall game is one of four being played on Saturday afternoon—the first time in history that all quarter-finals games were on one day. In the other games Odessa goes to Wichita Falls, Highland Park to Fort Worth to meet North Side and Goose Creek to San Antonio to play Thomas Jefferson.

Line Forms Early To Get Schoolboy Ducats

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 12 (U.P.)—A lot of Wichita Falls football fans had their tickets today for the game here Saturday between the local Coyotes and Odessa in a quarter-final game of the annual Texas high school grid playoffs.

Fans formed a line Tuesday as early as 4:30 a. m. for a scheduled 8 a. m. opening of a downtown ticket office. (At Marshall, fans braved a snowstorm to buy tickets for Saturday's playoff game between Marshall and Waco at Marshall.)

When Wichita beat Amarillo last Saturday, there were 11,766 paid customers.

Westerners To Play In New Deal Tourney

The Lubbock Westerners, bolstered by the return of veteran Charles Presley, and boasting of their first win of the season on Tuesday night, will seek victory No. 2 tonight at the opening round of the annual New Deal High school invitation cage tournament.

The Westerners tangle with the host New Deal five, always a cage power on the South Plains, in the fourth and feature game of the evening, scheduled to start at 9 o'clock.

Tough First Game

New Deal was beaten in an earlier game this year by Abernathy, and so was Lubbock. But Lubbock evened the count Tuesday night in a 28-27 thriller that showed the club had made a marked improvement. New Deal is expected to be much tougher, and the game tonight looms as a toss up.

The Westerners likely will start Bob Crawford and Gerald Davis at forwards, Verdell Turner at center, and Charles Presley and Jack Alderson at guards. This is the same lineup that went all the way against Abernathy Tuesday night.

Four games are on the opening program of the tournament, two boys games and two girls games. Both boys and girls teams from Petersburg, Lorenzo and New Deal will see action on the opening night, along with the Lubbock boys and the Abernathy girls.

Petersburg, Lorenzo Open

Petersburg and Lorenzo boys play the opener at 6 o'clock. Two girls games will follow, with Petersburg playing Abernathy at 7 o'clock, Lorenzo playing New Deal at 8 o'clock. The Lubbock-New Deal game follows.

Play will be resumed Friday morning at 11 o'clock with three boys games and two girls games alternating, starting with a boys game between Abernathy and Tahoka. Tahoka's girls club plays Cotton Center, and Snyder boys play the Cotton Center boys. Post and Whiteface girls play at 2 o'clock, with the first round finale at 3 o'clock between Whiteface and Hobbs boys.

First round losers will go into the consolation bracket. In the championship play, the semi-final losers will play for third place.

The semi-finals are scheduled Saturday afternoon, and finals on Saturday night.

Nelson Turns Down South Africa Match

DENTON, Tex., Dec. 12. (AP)—Byron Nelson, the nation's top money winner of golf, today said he had declined an offer from Norman Ereleigh, South Africa mining magnate, to play a series of matches in that country next year.

"I'd like to go but I feel travel conditions are still to uncertain," Nelson declared. "It takes too long by boat and travel by air is too uncertain. Maybe by the next year, if they still want me, I can go when travel conditions are eased."

Nelson said the trip also would interfere with the PGA schedule here, a trip by boat meaning he would leave the middle of April and arrive in South Africa by early June where he would play five days and return to America in middle July.

Ereleigh in October announced he would pay Nelson $10,000 plus expenses for a series of matches against the South Africa golf champion Bobby Locke.

DEAN DECLINES BID

DALLAS, Dec. 12. (AP) — Tom Dean, Southern Methodist All-Southwest Conference tackle, has turned down an invitation to play in the East-West college all-stars' football game in San Francisco New Year's day, he revealed today. Instead, Dean will play in the North-South all-star game at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29.

Olsen Retains Belt By Defeating Hood

Milt Olsen retained his junior heavyweight championship belt as the Texas champion, and at the same time unmasked the Hood last night at the weekly grunt and groan show at the Lubbock Horse and Mule Auction arena.

Following his loss to Olsen, the Hood removed his mask, and revealed that he was Al Sassiman.

Olsen won the first fall of the match in eight minutes, using a double hammer lock. The Hood evened the match in 12 minutes with an arm stretch. Sassiman gave up on the third fall after nine minutes to give the match to Olsen with a shoulder stretch.

The match drew another banner crowd.

Ivan Jones came from behind to win the semi-final of the card, taking the last two falls over Gorilla Poggi, after Poggi had won the opening fall in 13 minutes with a half nelson.

Jones took the second fall with a full knee bend and shoulder pin in six minutes, then closed out the bout in another 13 minutes with a full body spin and pin.

Ted Torres, the newcomer from Chicago, won the opening bout on the card over Tony Ross, using a rolling leg split to win the bout in 16 minutes.

Title Grid Tilts To Be Aired By KFYO

KFYO, Avalanche-Journal radio station, is going football minded this weekend. Saturday and Sunday afternoon programs will carry football game broadcasts.

The quarter-final High school play-off game between the Wichita Falls Coyotes and the Odessa Broncos, to be played in Wichita Falls, will be broadcast beginning at 1:45 p. m. Saturday. Kickoff is at 2 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon, beginning at 12:30 o'clock, the Washington Redskin - Cleveland Ram professional championship game will be carried on the American Broadcasting Company network. Harry Wismer, top-notch sports announcer, will give forth with the verbal description of the game.

DeWitt (Judge Landis, KFYO manager, made the announcement Wednesday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12 (U.P.) Nine players were named today to the West squad for the annual East-West New Year's day football tilt in Kezar Stadium, West Co-Coaches Babe Holingbery and Homer Norton announced.

They are Max Dodge, end; Lloyd Rude, fullback, and Bob McGuire, All-Coast tackle, all from University of Nevada; Ted Kenfield, back, California; Jake Leicht, All-Coast back from Oregon; Walter Schlinkman, halfback, Texas Tech; John Putnick, end, Utah State; Bob Goode, halfback, Texas A. and M.; Bob Stevens, fullback, Oregon State.

GIRL CAGERS INCREASE

HILLSBORO, Tex., Dec. 12. (AP)—The Texas High School Girls Basketball league already has 182 members this year and is expected to reach 200 by Saturday—the deadline on entries.

L. C. McKamie of Hillsboro, state director, said this was the largest membership in the history of the league.

WEST GETS WHEELER

FAYETTVILLE, Ark., Dec. 12. (AP)—Earl "Red" Wheeler, University of Arkansas football center, has been invited and has received conference permission to play in the annual East-West game at San Francisco Jan. 1, university officials announced today.

Class A Battles In Grid Finale

The "big boys" have the center of the stage on Saturday, but the eyes of West Texas will be focused on widely scattered points Friday afternoon as the "little brothers" reach the end of the schoolboy football trail in the Class A regional finals.

The interest will be on Monahans, far to the southwest, and Phillips, at the top-o-Texas, where the invaders will be the Littlefield Wildcats and the Wellington Skyrockets, respectively.

Monahans Holds Interest

The interest on the South Plains will be centered on Monahans, where the Wildcats, the highest scoring team of the four finalists, will be making their second bid in as many years for a regional crown, but were denied this chance last year by Merkel's Badgers, and their great back, Billy Wayne Frazier.

At Phillips, it will be much the same picture. The invader will be the team seeking revenge for defeat in the finals of last year. But in this case, revenge for Wellington would be sweeter, for the foe will be the same Phillips that shut the door in the face of Coach Al Duncan's Skyrockets.

Three Finalists Back

That places three of the four finalists of last year back in the playoff this season. Both games will be dotted with veterans of last year's Class A classics.

Coach J. S. Fikes will taper off his workouts this afternoon, and hopes to have his team at top shape for the invasion of Monahans Friday. The Wildcats will be favored over the Monahans club, but the home club looked impressive last week with a last minute comeback that ousted the favorad Roscoe Plowboys, and Fikes is taking no chances of another upset.

Wellington will be seeking double revenge Friday, both for a loss in the finals last year, and a 20-7 loss to Phillips this season in a non-conference game.

The kickoff at Monahans is at 2 o'clock, and at 2:30 o'clock at Phillips.

Odessa Crippled For Wichita Falls Game

ODESSA, Dec. 12. (AP)—J. W. Thompson, Odessa High school backfield star, was confined to his home with influenza today as a further handicap to Odessa's chances in its quarter-finals state schoolboy game Saturday at Wichita Falls.

Team officials said it was doubtful if Thompson would be able to play. Several other Bronco regulars also were ailing, including Headlee, regular center, who is on crutches and is definitely out of the game.

The Army-Navy Fuss

It Proves Need For Unification

PRESIDENT Truman's pending message to Congress on merging the Army and Navy may serve, we hope, to put a quietus on some of the screaming that has been going on over the issue. We venture "the public" is getting pretty fed up with all the clamor between the braid and the brass, and would like for the thing to be settled—anything to stop the cat and dog fight.

Mr. Truman, as President, has been officially silent on most of the issue. But, while in the Senate, he wrote in a magazine article that he was "an ardent champion of a single authority over everything that pertains to America's safety." And, according to Mr. Truman's neighbors in the stands at the recent Army-Navy game, the President plainly was rooting for the military.

During the war, the armed services had to cooperate voluntarily. Now that hostilities are over, it has become pertinent to argue about whether enforced cooperation should give way to actual unification. The clamor got in full swing on Oct. 17 when Secretary of War Robert Patteron called for a single department of national defense.

Generals George C. Marshall and Henry H. Arnold seconded the motion on succeeding days. The Navy counter-attacked with brisk words from Secretary of Navy James Forrestal and Admiral Ernest King. The admiral's anti-merger argument was presented on the same day that the committee of the Joint Chiefs of Staff made its report, the majority of members favoring unification for the "good of the country" and to end "misunderstanding and jealousy" between the services.

About three weeks ago, the kingpins of the respective services, Admiral Chester Nimitz and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, added their opposing views.

In all the noise, we believe that one of the best arguments for unification has been generally overlooked. That is in the bitterness which has characterized the claims of the pros and cons. It reflects a friction which even a war might not entirely erase.

Safety At Yultide

UNFORTUNATELY, the Yuletide season is not without its hazards. Tragedy sometimes feeds upon the circumtances that the period brings. One of its greatest dangers is the invitations to fire which Christmas trees and decorations sometimes present.

Therefore, it is well that attention be called to six simple accident prevention rules passed along by the Lubbock chapter of the American Red Cross.

1. Remember that Santa Claus costumes as well as some decorations are inflammable.

2. The Christmas tree not only should be set in a firm base but, if possible, should be set in water. This will not only keep the tree green longer, but will reduce the fire hazard as the tree dries out.

3. As soon as the tree begins to dry, discard it. Dry Christmas trees of the type used in most homes are highly inflammable.

4. Choose Christmas lights that hear the Underwriters Laboratory label. The same holds for extenions. Install both according to the directions packed with them.

5. Do not put lighted candles on the Christmas tree. The same precaution should be taken in regard to putting lighted candles in windows unless it is first made absolutely certain that the flame will not ignite curtains or drapes.

6. Christmas decorations as well as presents placed beneath the tree should not constitute a tripping hazard. The use of electric light extensions in this respect should be especially watched.

A little forethought in planning for the holidays can make this first peacetime Yuletide in four years a truly safe and merry Christmas.

Advice To The Advisor

NEWS leaks from authoritative but unofficial sources in Washington indicate that the national budget for the fiscal year beginning June 1, 1946, will be $50,000,000,000, about six times greater than for any year between 1930 and 1939.

While this would represent a decrease of 47 per cent below expenditures for the current year, it doubtless is somewhat of a puzzle to many a taxpayer prone to watch the public purse. With the war over, it would seem that we could reduce our spending to a considerable smaller figure.

Washington keeps talking of inflation, warning the people to tighten up their purse strings. It occurs to us that it might heed its own words.

"Few boys kiss girls against their wills these days," says a psychologist. Probably this is so because few girls have wills like that these days.

One-Minute Sermon

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. Psalm 1: 1, 2.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 32rd of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

THE KNOCKOUT

THE entrance of the Fifteenth Army, under command of Lt. Gen. L. T. Gerow, into the line of the 12th Army Group on 30 March gave more freedom of action to the First and Ninth Armies, enabling them to increase the weight of the offensive into Germany. Ninth Army tanks immediately broke out of the area north of the Ruhr and sweat eastward in a powerful thrust toward Munster. On 1 April the enveloping columns of these armies made contact west of Paderborn, cutting off the Ruhr and a large area to the south, in the largest pocket of envelopment in the history of warfare.

MARSHALL

Element of 18 German divisions from the First Parachute, Fifth Panzer, and Fifteenth Armies were were encircled in this skillful maneuver. Leaving strong forces to contain and reduce this giant encirclement, the First and Ninth Armies continued eastward toward the line of the Weser. Spearheading the Allied offensive, they headed for Leipzig and a prearranged junction with the Soviet forces. There was no loss of momentum, no respite for the enemy forces, and by the end of the first week of April both armies had crossed the Weser in the area north of Kassel.

On 6 April, General Eisenhower wrote me:

"As you can see from the reports, our plans have been developing almost in exact accordance with original conceptions. You must expect, now, a period in which the lines on your map will not advance as rapidly as they did during the past several weeks because we must pause to digest the big mouthful that we have swallowed in the Ruhr area . . . The enemy has been making efforts to break out of the area but our persistent policy of knocking out his communications to the eastward, and his lack of mobility within the pocket, both make it difficult for him to launch a really concerted attack. I am confident that he can do nothing about it."

The Ninth Army advance from the Weser to the Elbe was featured by armored gains of 20 to 30 miles a day against little or no resistance. By mid-April our troops were along the Elbe near Wittenberge and Magdelburg and had established bridgeheads across the river. In rear of the armored columns, the cities of Hanover and Brunswick fell to Ninth Army infantry. Bypassing Leipzig and strong resistance in the Harz Forest, the First Army drove eastward to the Mulde Valley south of Dessau.

Ruhr Pocket Yields 300,000

While these extensive operations continued, the battle progressed against the trapped Germans in the Ruhr. With the Fifteenth Army holding the west face of the pocket along the Rhine, and armor and infantry of the Ninth and First Armies driving in from the north, east, and south, the formidable enemy forces were crushed in just 18 days. More than 300 prisoners were taken in this unique victory, won far behind our forward positions and squarely astride our lines of communications.

Soon Leipiz and the Harz Mountains were in American hands, and the Ninth and First Armies closed on the line of the Elbe-Mulde, the forward limit, which had been arranged with the Soviets. To establish contact with our Allies from the Eastern Front, First Army patrols pushed east of the Mulde to Torgau, where the long-awaited juncture with the Red Army occurred on 25 April.

In the north, the British Second Army advancing on the Osnabruck - Bremen avis had crossed the Weser on a broad front near Minden early in April and was at the outskirts of Bremen by the middle of the month. From their Weser crossings the British struck northward toward Hamburg, reaching the Elbe southeast of the city. The Canadians forced the Ijssel River and pressed on through the Dutch towns, liberating the remaining sections of eastern and northern Holland.

Fart to he south, the Third Army, after capturing Muhlhausen, Gotha, and Erfurt, crossed the Saale River and turned southeast toward the mountains of Czechoslovakia and the Danube Valley. This advance was designed to establish firm contact with the Soviet forces in Austria and to prevent any effective reorganization of the enemy remnants in mountainous regions to the south. On the right, the Seventh Army encountered bitter resistance in Nurnberg, but quickly captured the city and then swung south into the Bavarian plain. On the first of May the Third Army was advancing into Czechoslovakia on a hundred-mile front southeast of Asch; along the Danube other elements had driven 20 miles into Austria. The Seventh Army had taken Munich, birthplace of the Nazi party, and was sweeping southward toward the Inn River. Along the upper Rhine, the First French Army captured Karlsruhe and Stuttgart in turn and proceeded with the reduction of enemy forces caught in the Black Forest. By the first of May the French had cleared the Swiss border west of Lake Constance and were driving into western Austria alongside the Seventh Army.

Surrender

In northern Germany, the British Second Army, reinforced by the XVIII American Corps under Maj. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, broke out from the Elbe River late in April and reached the Baltic on 2 May. This action established contact with Soviet forces at Wismar and cut off the Danish Peninsula. Further resistance on this front was hopeless. On 5 May, the German commander surrendered all forces in northwest Germany, Holland, and Denmark.

Along the Danube, the Third Army continued the advance into Austria and entered Linz on 5 May. Next day Pilsen fell to our forces in Czechoslovakia. General Patch's Seventh Army swept across the Inn on a wide front and drove 40 miles to capture Salzburg and Hitler's stronghold at Berchtesgaden. Other Seventh Army troops who had taken Innsbruck drove through the Brenner Pass to establish contact with the Fifth Army at Vipiteno. Since its landing on the Riviera, the Seventh Army had advanced an average of more than 3 miles a day against what had been the most formidable army in the world. At noon on 6 May, Army Group "G" comprising all German forces in Austria, surrendered unconditionally to our Sixth Army Group, just 11 months after the landing in Normandy.

The powerful Wehrmacht had disintegrated under the combined Allied blows, and the swift advances into the mountains of Austria and Bohemia had prevented the establishment of an inner fortress. Surrounded on all fronts by chaos and overwhelming defeat, the emissaries of the German government surrendered to the Allies at Reims on 7 May 1945, all land, sea, and air forces of the Reich.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

I admire clever writing just as as much as you do, but I was pretty much disgusted with a report I read a couple of days ago which stated that "despite elaborate efforts to stage the war crimes trials in Nuernberg a la Hollywood, the show is not coming up to its advance billing as a spectacle. It is impressive but boring."

I am not allowed to swear in print, but what in so and so kind of attitude is that to want a spectacle (maybe with a chorus and ballet when the most shameful, the most disgusting, the foulest degeneracy and degradation in human history is being unfolded before the eyes of the world.

What does it need to make this trial more dramatic and more colorful than any Greek tragedy than just to listen to or read the facts?

BRANDEIS

I can't conceive that the public of the world is so childish and so moronic that it needs trapping and buffonery to make us all realize how close we all were to destruction or slavery.

Every descent instinct of the human mind has been violated by these horrible creatures who still strut even in the prisoners' dock.

Everything that has been sacred to us has been trampled into the dirt and spit upon by these vultures.

It is the one ray of sunshine in a world gone mad that we give them a trial at all.

By all precedent, by all natural impulse, these murderers and thieves and rapists should have been hanged on the nearest lamppost, when every lamppost looked down upon evidence of their crimes.

Yet here we give them an opportunity to defend themselves and if there is even a scintilla of justification for the least evil thing they have done, they will receive the benefit of that justification.

Lacking in glamour? How can anyone expect glamour amid the rubble of destroyed cities, among the stench of burned bodies that is still hovering over all Europe?

WHAT spectacle can one expect among the ruins except that sorry spectacle of human animals gone mad and trying to maintain the last vestige of that pitiful air of arrogance and that crazy hallucination of being leaders of a master race?

No, my dear friend of the press, this is no Hollywood production. It is the dying contortions of a crew of gangsters headed by Satan and led and abandoned by Hitler.

When the verdict has come in there will be spectacle enough. When the last bullet of the firing squad or the last piece of rope has done its duty, then we will have seen the final curtain of a tragedy which even the cleverest Hollywood producer could never have concocted in his wildest dreams.

Did I say the final act? Maybe I am a bit too optimistic.

But if this is not the end of the play I hope I shall not live to see the curtain go up on the next act!

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE selection of Gen. George C. Marshall as Special Ambassador to China in this difficult hour reflects a side of President Truman's character which only a few intimate friends appreciate—his deep and almost reverential love of military lore and life. He is an "Army man," whereas his predecessor's hobby was the Navy.

Some friends of Mr. Truman suggest that he would never have become President if it had not been for his soldierly cast. His strange public career, which did not begin until he was almost 40, substantiates their belief.

TUCKER

His military complex explains many things about the seemingly mild and modest Harry Truman. It accounts for his willingness to delegate authority ot trusted subordinates as against FDR's one-man rule. The former Chief Executive, like the captain of a battlewagon, kept his fingers on all levers of the Ship of state at all times.

Mr. Truman's Army-mindedness underlies his reliance on so many ex-officers for posts in the White House family, for his advocacy of universal military training, for his insistence on an expanded and modernized National Guard as a possible alternative, for his preference for military rather than civilian rule of Germany and Japan.

It also explains why his principal relaxation and intellectual interest is the reading of war history and biography. Incidentally, in his historical browsing he shows a strong partiality for Robert E. Lee, "Stonewall" Jackson and other great commanders of the Confederate army.

PROPHETIC: As a youngster, Mr. Truman tried to enter West Point, but he was rejected because of defective eyesight. His great admiration for General Marshall may derive from the fact that the former Chief of Staff could not make the academy roll. General Marshall's father happened to be a Democrat when the GOP owned Pennsylvania, and the man whom the President characterized as "one of the top commanders of history" matriculated at Virginia Military Institute.

Turned down for West Point, the future President joined the Missouri National Guard, which has one of the strongest units of the 48 states, and he did squads right twice a week in a Kansas City armory. Unlike so many guardsmen of those day, he took the training seriously.

He went overseas in World War I as a lieutenant of Artillery and returned as a captain. Prophetic of the human, kindly figure Washington now knows, he was so popular with his men that they voted him a 10-gallon hat while en route to the United States. He still has it.

GUIDED: Mr. Truman, like so many returned soldiers of World Wars I and II, had trouble in readjusting himself to peace days and ways. He tried several nondescript ventures, including part ownership of a haberdashery store. None succeeded.

He went back to the family farm 15 miles outside Kansas City, and at 40 he was seeing the world from behind a horse as he plowed a small cornfield. It appeared then that a pastoral life was to be his lot.

But Harry Truman, for all his apparent humility and modesty, had ambitions and thought that he had a flair for politics because he liked people. He decided to try that field. And here comes the chapter in his career that is not generally known, but which shows how his military yearnings and acquaintances guided him straight to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

PENDERGAST: Mr. Truman remembered that one of his men overseas had been a young fellow named Pendergast, the nephew of "Old Tom" Pendergast, the Democratic Boss of Missouri and a power in national politics. Harry looked up the boy and asked him to put in a good word with his uncle.

Nehew Pendergast told Old Tom about Truman's fine record overseas and his popularity with the rank and file. He praised his former commander as a man who would make a stronge vote-getter.

Old Tom, whose political crimes were even then beginning to catch up with him, needed a few respectables on his slate that year. So, at his nephew's request, he nominated Mr. Truman as a Jackson county judge, a position which paid $6,300 a year. The newcomes was elected.

SENATORSHIP: Now, a Jackson county judge is not really a jurist and need not be a lawyer. The "court" is actually a Board of Supervisors which handles the letting of public contracts. Moreover, Mr. Truman was not a member of a backwoods body, for Jackson county has Kansas City within its borders.

Mr. Truman was defeated when he sought reelection, but he was elected as presiding judge when he ran a year later. One day he asked for and got an audience with Boss Pendergast. He argued that he had been a loyal politica' servant, had done a good job and suggested that he be allowed to run for county collector, a post which paid the occupant about $26,000 annually on a fee basis.

"I'm sorry, Harry," replied the Boss. You're too good for that job. Besides, I have another man in mind for it. The best I can offer you is a United States senatorship."

The ambitious young man landed in Washington in January of 1935—an unknown.

CHAIRMAN: World War I veterans of Missouri saved his political skin when he sought re-election to the Senate in 1940. By that time Old Tom had been convicted and sent to jail, and his protege had hard going. He won by only 7,000 in a three-cornered contest, and it is believed that the ex-servicemen's vote alone put him across.

When war threatened in 1941, the old National Guard spirit stirred him. He offered himself as an officer, but was told by General Marshall that he was more valuable as a senator. The two men who could not make West Point often recall and chuckle over their rejections as physically or politically unfit for the drill school on the Hudson.

"Captain" Truman again succumbed to his military complex, luckily for him. A thrifty person, and recalling his experience in watchdogging Jackson county contracts, he thought it might be a smart idea to organize a Congressional committee to check on Army-Navy expenditures. He introduced the resolution, and by Senate custom he was named chairman. Had it not been for his fine performance on this assignment, he would not have been mentioned even for Vice President at Chicago in 1944—another debt he owes to his "Army" background.

It is small wonder that he dotes on this branch of the service—and on General Marshall.

TACTICS: Surplus Property officials are praying that former GIs throughout the country will not resort to the tactics used by a husky sergeant who was given the runaround when he tried to buy a jeep on the spot.

The noncom spent a whole day chasing from one office to the other, asking how he could bid for or buy the vehicle and drive it home. He got no satisfaction at any office, but nobody had the hardihood to inform him that the procedure required him to negotiate through a dealer—a price increasing process which no veteran yet understands.

The sergeant returned to the hotel, brooded over his difficulties and returned to the SPB office the next morning. He asked one question: "Where is the head man of this place?"

When introduced to the official in charge at the moment, he asked another question, quietly but grimly: "can I buy a jeep—right now?" When the reply was negative, the soldier hauled off with an uppercut that started from his knees and knocked the SPB-er unconscious.

The incident is important chiefly because it reveals how the boys feel about the delays, the red tape and the bureaucratic blundering which prevent them from betting stuff when they need it most and while they have the cash.

It may be true that all men are created equal, and they may be equal in the "democracy of the dead," but in the interim no two are equal.

Conservatives Fail To Take Up Torch

GOPs Lack Progressive Leaders

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO.—A tragedy of sorts was revealed by the meeting here of the Republican National committee.

The tragedy is that the existing management of the party, insofar as it is embodied in the National Committee and in some of the Congressional leaders of like mind — is not capable of providing the forward - looking leadership needed in these times.

STOKES

This group is not the party by any means. But it has a powerful influence and the committee itself is the contact with local organizations throughout the country.

This was the first meeting of the National Committee since the end of the worst catastrophe ever endured by civilization. It seems to have made little impression on the thinking of the ruling clique, so far as looking to the future is concerned.

For two reasons this situation is important:

1. The necessity of a live, aggressive opposition, with a construction program of its own, to check constantly the party in power. The two-party system is an essential of our kind of democracy.

2. The Republican party may issume control at least of the house in next year's elections, and may take over administration of the government in 1948. The nation needs and deserves more than the sort of leadership exhibited here.

Charts Path For Party

There was evasion of issues here—a refusal to take responsiblity, and a pervading spirit of complacency.

It was, however, perhaps a good thing for the party that this meeting was held. Not for anything accomplished—for virtually nothing was —but to show the rank and file and the progressive elements of the party, only slightly represented here, just what has to be done henceforth.

What is needed is an ideal, a purpose and a leadership to go forward. All that is available, but it will take a surge from beneath to realize it, a virtual revolution.

BOTH our political parties are strange mixtures of conservative and progressive. That is a part of our political heritage. It seems that nothing can be done to draw the lines more exactly. It has worked out satisfactorily in our history, perhaps because of the diversity of our country and its population.

These conflicting elements can be fused into a cohesive party and program, especially in times of crisis. Abraham Lincoln proved that with the original Republican party. Teddy Roosevelt did it later, too. Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt did it with that strange conglomeration that operates as the Democratic party, now seemingly about to fall apart again into hostile units.

It takes strong leadership that can inspire the rank and file with a common cause.

The Republican party has such an opportunity today.

Party Has Leaders

The elements are there The party has come a long way, if somewhat relunctantly, both on domestic and foreign issues. This is demonstrated when it sits down as a party, in convention, and adopts a platform such as that of 1944. Or when it gets together in the Senate on the United Nations Organization under compulsion of a great need and under such leadership as that of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan and with such outside pioneering as that of Harold Stassen of Minnesota. It can rise to the occasion.

That same forward-looking element had a minority representation here which was disgusted with what went on. Privately it was scornful of the namby-pamby, uninspired "platform" cooked up by the party leadership in Congress.

THERE was inspiration too in the appearance of two war vetrans who have come into the organization. Capt. Robert Augur of Oregon, a survivor of Bataan and of Jap imprisonment, will head the veterans division. Maj. John Adams of South Dakota who went through the African and European campaigns will head the young Republican division.

But all these more progressive and younger leaders, it is obvious, have got to talk over the heads of smug leadership that sat in session here if the Republican party is to realize its destiny as a great party again, if it is to survive and not go the way of the compromising, vacillating Whigs who crumbled away in a crisis.

Indian Sets By As Son Bound Over In Burglary Of Home

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec 12. (U.P.)—Andres R. Abeita, aged governor of Isleta Pueblo, sat stoically by as his son was bound over to action of the U. S. district court after the younger Indian pleaded guilty to burglarizing his father's home on the Isleta Indian reservation.

Bond for the 30-year-old Indian was set at $1,500 yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Jethor S. Vaught, jr.

The complaint was filed by Hubert O. Hardin, Indian service special officer, who charged that Seferino Abeita had broken in and burglarized his father's home.

Canadian National Railways carried 19,144,749 passengers in 1939, and 35,928,212 in 1944.

Only 16 Counties In State Top Bond Goal

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Sixteen counties in Texas have topped their E-bond quotas in the Victory Loan drive. That leaves 238 that have not.

Most of the successful counties are thinly populated. The big city counties such as Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant are not included.

Texas, with but 19 days of the campaign to go, has sold only 61.1 per cent of its $90,000,000 quota. Sales amount to $55,017,828.

Sales Below Expectations

Nathan Adams, state chairman of the drive, reported at Dallas that "sales at this date are far below expectations."

Among states, Texas is tied with Arkansas for 46th place in bond sale percentages.

The 16 counties which have met their quotas, as listed by the state war finance committee, are Hudspeth, Irion, Denton, Sutton, Sterling, Clay, Willacy, Winkler, Brooks, Menard, Hamilton, Schleicher, Concho, Howard, Motley and Starr.

Urged As Christmas Presents

Adams pointed to the desirability of victory bonds as Christmas presents.

"You don't have to stand in line to buy them," he commented. "You don't get caught in the Christmas rush. No present could be more appreciated.

"The bond will linger long in the memory of the person who receives it—for it will become increasingly more valuable for 10 Christmases."

Sales at this time are $9,500,000 behind expectations.

The deadline: Dec. 31.

Musical Program Heard By Rotary

Lubbock Rotary club, meeting at the Hilton hotel Wednesday noon heard a musical program of vocal solos and a mixed quartet.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Lottie Hilton, Mrs. R. B. Green, Sam Leifeste and Wally Rix sang "Serenade" from Student Prince and "Santa Lucia." Two solos, "The White Dove" from "The Rogue Song" and "The Message of the Violet," and by request, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," were sung by Mrs. Hilton.

Accompanists were Mrs. Bernice Carnahan, pianist, and Douglas Hardy, violinist.

J. Wilkie Talbert, was introduced as a new member. Alex McDonald, president, reminded the members to bring a toy to the luncheon next week. The toys will be presented to the Goodfellow fund.

Visiting Rotarians were John W. Thomas, Frank Benson, Lloyd Wicks and Edd McLaughlin, all of Ralls; W. J. Andrews of Spur, Bill Blakney of Abilene, W. G. Vardeman of Levelland, Elbert J. Carr of Dallas, C. L. Hafer of Brownfield and T. A. Karr of Seagraves.

STOCKS DROP AGAIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Steels, motors and aircrafts lost fractions to around 3 points in today's stock market.

Most of the other divisions were lowered a lesser amount in one of the biggest selloffs in almost a month. Declining were rubbers, farm implements, utilities, rails, metals, merchandising issues and miscellaneous industrials.

A good part of the slump was interpreted as a technical correction of the list's recent lengthy advance to 15-year peaks. Also contributing were the stalemated automotive labor-management negotiations and the call for an industry-wide steel strike on Jan. 14.

Volume totaled 1,880,000 shares against 1,690,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite fell 1.0 point to 78.0—largest drop since 1.1 on Nov. 21.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Packard, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin, North American, Anaconda, Phelps Dodge, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Great Northern and Standard Oil (NJ). Bonds were mixed.

Farben Said In On Nazi Plot For War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—Senators received testimony today that I. G. Farben, the German dye trust, knew of Nazi plans for war as early as June, 1943, and helped promote them.

The assertion came from Col. Bernard Bernstein, director of the American military government's division of investigation of cartels and external assets. He told a military subcommittee that if Germany is to be kept from waging war again "Farben must be destroyed."

He said the Farben plans called for an "economic blitzkrieg" of the United States. In this connection Bernstein quoted a Dr. Von Cchnitzler as saying Farben wanted to keep Germany "as strong as possible militaristically in relation to the United States . . . by limiting the production of armaments in Latin America."

"We did not want," Von Schnitzler said, "in the event of a conflict with the United States, to permit Latin America to supply the U. S. A with war materials."

Wreckage Of Plane Is Found In India

CALCUTTA, Dec. 12. (AP) — Searching parties today identified the wreckage of an Army transport plane in which 40 homeward bound American soldiers and four crewmen lost their lives last month.

Army Transport Coffand headquarters reported that deep snow was hampering the search for bodies of the victims. The plane crashed Nov. 3 against the side of an 8,200-foot mountain in an isolated Himalayan section 360 miles southeast of the ATC base at Chabua, northern India.

The transport was enroute to Karachi.

B-29 Spans Nation In 5 Hours, 27 Minutes

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. (UP)—The B-29 Superfortress Dreamboat held a new speed record of five hours, 27 minutes and eight and one half seconds today for the official National Aeronautical association course between Burbank, Cal., and Floyd Bennete Field, N. Y.

The Dreamboat beat the average speed record of the Douglas Mixmaster but did not better its transcontinental time of five hours and 17 minutes and 34 seconds, made last Saturday when the Mixmaster flew from Long Beach, Cal., to Washington, D. C., a distance of 2,295 miles compared to the Superfortress' 2,467 miles.

The B-29 averaged 450 miles per hour; the Mixmaster 432 miles per hour.

The Superfortress was piloted by Col. C. S. Irvine of St. Paul, Neb., and manned by the same crew who won Distinguished Flying Crosses for their recent record 8,193-mile flight from Guam to Washington, D. C.

Top speed during last night's flight was 551 miles per hour.

Gainesville Man Is Released By Church

FORT WORTH, Dec. 12. (AP)—The Fort Worth Presbytery, USA, announced today that army Chaplain Robert G. Rayburn, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Gainesville, was released from the ministry of the church at a closed session of the presbytery at Hemphill Presbyterian church yesterday.

Rev. James K. Thompson, a participant in the trial, said that Rayburn was found guilty of charges of nonconformity to his vows of ordination into the ministry, but added the action taken was in no way a reflection on the chaplain's integrity or morality.

Rayburn, who appeared at the trial, was en route Wednesday back to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he is stationed. He was reportedly offered a year's suspension, but requested the deposition, which will be effective at the spring meeting of the presbytery.

The minister was pastor of the Gainesville church from 1942 to 1944, when he entered the chaplains' corps and went overseas. Rev. David M. Hubler, formerly of Denver, is the present pastor. The presbytery ministrial relations committee, headed by Rev Robert E. Robinson, Lewisville, made the investigation, and the committee drew its conclusions at a meeting in Denton Nov. 12. The presbytery ordered the trial at a session here Nov. 27.

Police In Five Cities Working To Untangle Trail Of Puzzling Deaths

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Police in five cities throughout the country worked today to untangle a trail of puzzling identifications involving the deaths of two elderly widows and the disappearance of a third.

The investigation was launched following the arrest here of Alfred Leonard Cline, 65, described by Capt. John Engler of San Francisco police inspector as an ex-convict of Folsom, California, and Colorado prisons.

All Were Widows

The widows involved were:

Mrs. Isabel Van Natta of San Francisco, missing and presumed by police dead at Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Eva Delora Krebs Cline of Chicago, missing and now believed dead in Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter of Tampa, Fla., missing.

Cline, one-time choir singer in Denver, was arrested here Dec. 3, booked on suspicion of forgery, on the demand of Gerald Ryan, Chicago attorney representing the estate of the wealthy former Mrs. Krebs.

Names Appeared Forged

Capt. John Engler of San Francisco police inspectors said Cline declared he and Mrs. Krebs were married; that she died in Portland Nov. 29 from natural causes; that she was cremated the next day. Attorney Ryan said it appeared names had been forged in sale of her securities.

Captain Engler said he was convinced the woman who died in Portland was not Mrs. Krebs, but was Mrs. Van Natta, with whom, he said, Cline left here for Oregon on Nev. 17.

Woman Cremated At Dallas

At Dallas, Tex., Dr. W. E. Haley said he believed that a woman who died there Oct. 17, 1944, and was cremated under the name of Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter, 66, actually was Mrs. Krebs, the wealthy Chicago woman. Will Fritz, Dallas chief of inspectors, said Dr. Haley declared after viewing a picture of Cline, that he was the man who accompanied the woman and ordered her cremated in Dallas.

As to Mrs. Carpenter, all her relatives know is that she left Tampa, Fla., in April, 1944, with a man known as A. L. Cline.

Served Prison Term

Captain Engler said Cline served prison terms in Colorado, on conviction of forgery in 1929, and in California, on canviction of drugging and robbing a Los Angeles business man in 1934. He was released from Folsom, Calif., prison in February, 1943.

Dr. Haley, who attended the woman in Dallas on three occasions before her death, asserted there was no doubt in his mind she was Mrs. Krebs. She seemed to be suffering from a heart ailment, Dr. Haley said, and he did not deem her condition serious.

In San Francisco Capt. Engler reported he received a telegram from Mrs. Mabel E. Chase of Tampa, Fla., stating "hold A. C. Cline." It mentioned the death of Sally W. Carpenter and said "valuable personal property is missing."

In Tampa Mrs. Chase identified Mrs. Carpenter as the widow of Dr. Earl Carpenter, Bloomington, Ind. Dick Humphrey, Dallas attorney representing the estate of Mrs. Carpenter told him they had not heard from her for several months before her reported death and thought it strange because she customarily was a prompt correspondent.
