TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of leftist students battled police today in wide-ranging skirmishes that left parts of Tokyo under a cloud of tear gas as demonstrators chanted demands for Okinawa's return from U.S. rule.

Six hours after the violence erupted, police said 65 policemen had been injured and six hospitalized. They said 568 students had been arrested, but could give no estimate of student injuries.

Demands for abolition of the U.S.-Japan security treaty were also heard as an estimated 5,000 students snake danced widely through scattered parts of the city. In downtown Tokyo the rioters battled police under the bright lights of the Ginza area.

About 12,000 riot police sealed off what they thought was the students' prime target, the district including government offices and the U.S. Embassy.

At one point, six students slipped past guards surrounding a U.S. military billet made it up six stories to the roof and shook out five red banners demanding the return of Okinawa to Japan. The six were arrested.

O'Neill Resigns

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Capt. Terence O'Neill resigned today as prime minister of riot-torn Northern Ireland and said he had quit to serve "the cause of reform."

O'Neill's departure came after weeks of political turbulence that erupted into widespread street clashes on the issue of civil rights in the six-counties.

The confrontation brought Northern Ireland's Roman Catholics into head-on collision with Protestant elements hostile to the introduction of a one-man-one-vote system of enfranchisement.

O'Neill favored a program of gradual reform.

Gold Prices Reach Record

LONDON (AP) — Investors sought safety in gold and unloaded their French francs and pounds on European markets today following the resignation of President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Gold prices in Paris reached a record equivalent of $49.09 an ounce in hectic trading. The previous high was $48.41 on March 10.

But there was little immediate sign of the major international monetary storm that had been predicted by some experts after De Gaulle's departure. Trading was generally light, with most dealers waiting for someone else to make the first move. It appeared that the currency and bullion markets needed more time to digest the political news from France.

Annual Voter Registration

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gus Mutscher planned to meet today with Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris, head of Senate members of the conference committee on the $5.7 billion state appropriations bill.

Senators prepared to debate Dallas Sen. Mike McKool's proposal to knock the annual voter registration requirement from the state Constitution.

"We want to talk about a few budget matters and the timetable on meetings," Mutscher said of his meeting with Aikin.

The speaker had no definite time for the appropriations conference to hold their first meeting, saying only "It could very easily be tomorrow."

Mutscher said he met for three hours Sunday night with the five-man subcommittee working on a tax bill to finance the spending bill and a teacher pay raise. The speaker said he is still eight or nine days away from a decision on whether to recommend a one-year state budget that would avoid a tax bill until 1970.

"We didn't make any final decisions," he said of the tax meeting. "We evaluated the advantages and disadvantages of the various types of proposals."

Trail Of Blood

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A patrolman found a man slain in his automobile today and then followed a trail of blood for several blocks and discovered a second man with two knife wounds in the abdomen.

The dead man, Gregorio Robles, 45, had been slashed about the face, neck and chest. Manuel Medrano, 39, was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

No arrests were made.

Nixon Picks Up 3 More Senate Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, reportedly determined not to compromise further on his missile defense plans, has picked up three more Senate votes for his embattled Safeguard system.

An Associated Press poll of the Senate shows 47 opposed to the Safeguard, 43 in favor and 10 still uncommitted—a gain of three for the project.

Nixon got the added support from Sens. Robert Packwood of Oregon, Robert Dole of Kansas and Henry Bellmon—all Republican freshmen who had been previously listed as uncommitted.

Meanwhile, several senators—Democrats and Republicans—say President Nixon has told them he has no intention of compromising on the issue or delaying deployment of the system.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., once thought a likely Nixon choice for secretary of defense, said Sunday he had talked to the President and "the White House is not entertaining any compromise."

Another Democrat, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia, said he came away from a Nixon meeting Friday with "no indication of any backing away" by the President.

"My impression is that the White House is very firm and strong in favor of the course they have already recommended," Byrd said in an interview. He added he has not made up his mind on the issue.

Jackson, Safeguard supporter, said the ABM is necessary because of Red China's unpredictability, but also because "Russia is refurbishing Stalinism."

Dr. John Foster, the Pentagon chief of research, also said Sunday there "is no question" that Safeguard will perform its mission. It will work.

Jackson and Foster were interviewed on the ABC radio-TV program "Issues and Answers."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who usually knows administration thinking, said over the weekend he doesn't want a delay.

"The issue is pretty well set. It is just as well to have a confrontation at first as at last. Postponing deployment a year means losing a year."

Some Safeguard opponents, including several Republicans, have called on Nixon to delay deployment or otherwise come up with a compromise, or face likely defeat in the Senate.

One Democratic critic also said he sees no value in a compromise. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the Safeguard should be delayed or defeated so the United States and Soviet Union can get on with disarmament talks.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Safeguard is "indicative of our lack of interest in de-escalating the arms race . . . a symbol of our lack of concern and interest in disarmament."

Fulbright spoke on the CBS interview program "Face the Nation."

The issue isn't expected on the Senate floor until mid-June, at the earliest. Nixon, however, reportedly wants first floor consideration in the House where passage is considered likely.

Wiley College Students Back

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Students at troubled Wiley College here ended a boycott and returned to classes today, college officials said.

They said checks of the first three classes at the Methodist-owned, all-Negro school showed normal attendance.

Police estimated about half the 750 students had stayed away from class Friday. Neither students nor administrators would discuss the boycott.

Last February students barricaded doors at the school. They issued a list of demands including more black teachers and the firing of the school president, Dr. Winston Cole.

Cole then closed the school and classes did not resume until a new semester started.

Trustees met last week and granted most student demands but refused to fire Cole. Students then started another boycott, which apparently ended today.

Texas Weather Settles Down After Wild Binge

Damaging Winds Moving Into Gulf

By The Associated Press
Texas weather appeared ready for a rest today after going on a violent binge during the weekend that included a destructive tornado at Plano and numerous thunderstorms over large sections of the state.

The Weather Bureau predicted clear to partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures would continue over most of the state today.

GUSTY WINDS
A Pacific cold front that spawned the turbulent weekend spree moved into the Gulf of Mexico Sunday night, leaving behind only a few gusty winds along the coast.

Early morning skies cleared over the state except in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Temperatures ranged from the mid and upper 30s in the Panhandle to the 40s in the south plains and west of the Pecos to the 50s and 60s elsewhere.

The Department of Public Safety reported 42 persons injured at the Villa Casita Trailer Courts at Plano, 25 miles north of Dallas, where a tornado cut a destructive swath through a section of the court. Damage estimates ranged as high as $300,000.

ANOTHER TWISTER
Another twister was reported near Mount Enterprise in East Texas but no injuries were reported.

Showers and thunderstorms fell over an area bounded by points from south of Texarkana to 30 miles east of Lufkin, to 20 miles southwest of College Station to 30 miles south of Kilgore. These storms moved southeastward about 25 miles per hour early Sunday afternoon.

Heavy thunderstorms roamed an area 20 miles wide from De Ridder, La., to near Bay City. These storms moved southeastward with strong, gusty winds, some hail and very heavy rainfall.

SIGNS DESTROYED
In addition to the Plano disaster, damaging winds struck McKinney, Princeton, Richardson, and Greenville as the squall line hammered its way toward the Gulf Coast.

A barn was blown on its side and road signs bent to the ground at McKinney. One man was injured at Princeton, where several trailer homes were blown over.

At Greenville, winds up to 60 miles per hour snapped utility lines and disrupted telephone service for one hour. Richardson, at the northern edge of Dallas County, suffered widespread wind damage to roofs, signs, windows and trees.

Won't Alter Conduct Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said today it won't alter the code of conduct for U.S. prisoners of war despite criticism it is too rigid for such circumstances as the North Korean imprisonment of 82 crew members of the spy ship Pueblo.

Vice Adm. Charles K. Duncan, chief of naval personnel, told a House armed services subcommittee that a review "revealed no valid basis for either a modification of the code itself or its application."

The code forbids a prisoner from telling his captors more than his name, rank and serial number. It bars false confessions that Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher and other Pueblo crewmembers signed under threat of torture.

Duncan emphasized that the code is primarily professional and inspirational rather than penal. "Failure to live up to the full extent of its obligations is not a criminal offense," he said.

"With respect to its value in actual application," Duncan said, "the code is regarded as the benchmark which our personnel must do their utmost to achieve. If they are forced to depart from it under duress they at least are aware of the fact and extent of their shortfall."

Violence In Paris

Paris policemen are shown as they battled demonstrators on the Boulevard Saint-Michel in the city's Latin Quarter last night. The violence broke out after President Charles de Gaulle announced his resignation.

Voters Nix Reforms To End French President's Reign

PARIS (AP) — Charles de Gaulle stepped out of the French presidency today and retired once more to his home in eastern France, ending more than 18 turbulent years of power that profoundly altered the nation's political outlook, economy and foreign policy.

De Gaulle's resignation became effective at noon. Senate President Alain Pöher succeeded him as interim president, to serve until presidential elections are held. There was no ceremony of transfer, and De Gaulle was in seclusion at his home in Colombey-les-Deux-Églises.

GAMBLING
France's 78-year-old leader had turned a referendum Sunday on comparatively minor constitutional changes into a vote of confidence, gambling that his threat to resign would once more swing the electorate behind him. When the voters rejected his proposals, he announced his retirement in two brief sentences.

"I am ceasing the exercise of my functions as president of the republic. This decision takes effect at noon today."

Premier Maurice Couve de Murville called his Cabinet into session this morning, but the ranks were thinning. Justice Minister Rene Capitant resigned, saying he could not collaborate with Pöher because the latter had fought De Gaulle's referendum proposals. Culture Minister Andre Malraux, one of those closest to De Gaulle, said he would also resign.

FAST ELECTION
Pöher must organize a presidential election within 20 to 35 days. He has been mentioned as a candidate, but former Premier George Pompidou is considered the favorite.

Nothing forced De Gaulle to quit the job he had held since Jan. 1, 1959, except one of the general's famous ultimatums. Although his term of office did not expire until 1972, he had said he would resign immediately if the French voters did not approve his government reform plan for administrative decentralization and removal of the Senate's few remaining powers.

The results of Sunday's referendum were 11,966,550 votes or 52.87 per cent opposed, 10,669,550 or 47.13 per cent in favor. The outcome was no great surprise. Several public opinion polls published last week showed the trend running against the general.

TV TALK FLOPS
De Gaulle's last television speech Friday night failed to turn the tide.

Premier Maurice Couve de Murville was the first to concede defeat. He declared: "Beginning tomorrow, a new page in our history will be turned." He warned of "a difficult period, perhaps a period of trouble."

Shortly after he spoke, anti-Gaullist demonstrators turned out in the streets of Paris, marching through the Latin Quarter and chanting, "Adieu, De Gaulle."

Police reinforcements were hustled to the area and in several short, sharp clashes, five policemen were hurt and 50 demonstrators were injured. About 70 persons were picked up by police for identity checks.

The uncertainty of what might happen next is certain to put new pressure on the already wobbly franc. France has never recovered from the economic blow of the six-week industrial shutdown last May and June and the 13 per cent wage hikes granted to get the workers back on the job.

De Gaulle defiantly refused to devalue the franc during a crisis last November. If labor unions call off their truce enforced during the referendum campaign and start agitating for new wage increases, the next president may be forced to reassess the franc's value. While the financial community buzzed with speculation about the franc, the political reaction in Washington and London was officially noncommittal. But there was a general feeling that without De Gaulle, France will slowly improve relations with the United States and Britain.

Diplomatic observers in Brussels also forecast more French cooperation with the other members of the Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and enhanced chances of Britain gaining entry into the European Economic Community.

SURPRISES

But government ministers in London felt it would be a long time before basic French policy changes. Some even felt De Gaulle might pull one of his Jack-in-the-box surprises and reappear as a candidate in the presidential elections.

Other De Gaulle policies over which question marks now hover include the French embargo on arms to Israel, French-German relations and the attitude of Paris toward Moscow.

De Gaulle is the last of the great leaders of World War II to step out. A World War I veteran, he was a colonel when the second war broke out and rose to general before the German occupation of France. He refused to recognize the collaborationist Vichy regime, fled to London, and from there rallied the Free French Forces. His wartime battles with President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill were legendary, but he kept his vanquished country one of the major allies.

A Glance At France

By The Associated Press
De Gaulle—President Charles de Gaulle quits as president after a referendum in which his government suffered defeat.

Successor—Senate President Alain Pöher becomes interim president, will organize presidential elections to be held no sooner than 20 days or later than 35 days from today.

Caretaker government—Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and his Cabinet will remain the caretaker government until the elections are held.

Washington reaction—Officials say no immediate change is expected in American-French relations.

NATO-Common Market—France's relations with other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and Common Market are expected to improve slowly, observers said.

BEING USED TO STIFLE FREEDOM OF SPEECH?

High Court To Hear Draft Challenges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to consider claims that the accelerated draft of Vietnam war protesters is in violation of the Constitution.

Two separate appeals challenging the draft delinquency regulations will be heard next term. They were taken by the court over the opposition of the Justice Department.

Among the claims to be considered by the court are that the draft is being used to punish students from U.S. war policy and that it is being used to stifle freedom of speech and expression.

In other actions today, the court:

ABSENTEE BALLOTS
—Ruled that states are not required to provide absentee ballots for people in jail awaiting trial.

—Dismissed an attack, by a group of gun dealers and sportsmen, on New Jersey's gun control law. The law requires purchasers of rifles and shotguns to obtain permits and identification cards from police.

—Agreed to review a New York law that restricts the flow of money to citizens of Communist countries.

Just a year ago the court upheld the 1965 federal law that made it a crime to burn or mutilate a draft card.

However, last December the court struck a blow at Selective Service policy by ruling draft boards have no authority to order the induction of divinity students as a means of punishing them for objecting to this country's actions in Vietnam.

SMALL FRACTION
That ruling, in the case of James J. Oestereich, dealt only with a small fraction of student protesters—those who have congressional exemptions from the draft.

The appeals granted review today could strike at the heart of Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's draft policy because the students involved are the more typical sort—they are not in a special category such as divinity students and had deferments rather than exemptions.

The appeals are from Timothy J. Breen, 21, of Westport, Conn., and David Earl Gutknecht, 22, of Gaylord, Minn.

Breen gave his draft certificate to a Boston clergyman in November, 1967, to protest the war. He was then an undergraduate student at the Berkeley School of Music in Boston.

He was declared a delinquent in January, 1968, and was reclassified 1-A. He sued to enjoin his induction.

FIND NO FAULT

Gutknecht left his draft card on the steps of the federal building in Minneapolis during an antiwar protest in October, 1967. He was declared a delinquent two months later and ordered to report for induction. He refused to accept induction, was convicted and sentenced to four years in prison.

Governor Of Ohio Denies Dips Into Slush Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio denies charges by Life magazine that he "has been dipping into slush funds for years" to cover personal expenses with campaign contributions.

Life said Sunday it studied Rhodes' finances while investigating his recent decision to commute the life sentence of Thomas Licavoli, convicted of murder in 1934.

Rhodes made Licavoli eligible for parole, which has not been granted by the parole board.

Life's article by Denny Walsh said, "The fact that Rhodes has been dipping into slush funds for years without getting caught suggests that he thought he could get away just as easily with granting clemency to Licavoli."

The Republican governor, in a statement Sunday night, said the article was "ridiculous with insinuations and irresponsible innuendoes and contains information which the author falsely represents as fact."

"I deny categorically,"

Rhodes said, "that I have, as governor of Ohio, received any money illegally or immorally, nor have I as a public official in Ohio before I was governor ever received money which could be construed as a bribe or which could be construed as a contribution to a 'slush fund.' I defy anyone to prove the contrary."

Life said an investigation by the Internal Revenue Service of Rhodes' campaign for state auditor "found that Rhodes dipped into the campaign fund for a total of $88,982 from 1954 through 1957. Of this amount, he reported $18,982 as 'gifts and gratuities' on his tax returns. He did not report the balance of $70,000."

Rhodes said the article cited no incidents that had occurred since his election and merely repeated campaign charges by ex-Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Winter Makes Comeback With Big Snow Stacks

By The Associated Press

Winter made a late-season comeback in the Upper Midwest Sunday and early today, sending snow swirling across Minnesota into Northern Wisconsin.

An 8 1/2 inch topping of white and a thick shroud of fog caused cancellation of two airline flights into Duluth, Minn., where there were scattered power blackouts.

Highways were clogged in Northern Wisconsin and the Ashland County sheriff's office said drifts ranged up to 12 inches.

In contrast, warm air, brewed in the Gulf of Mexico, flowed up

Mouse Traps Can Be Borrowed Free

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bargain-price trash cans with bright yellow lids and automatic mouse traps are projects of the Spring Garden Community Betterment League to eliminate rats from a North Philadelphia slum neighborhood.

The trash cans, which bear the owners' names, can be purchased for $2 each, about half the original cost. The four automatic mouse traps can be borrowed free.

"One woman reported she caught 54 mice in a couple of weeks," said Frank D'Angelo, 28, an ex-policeman who is executive director of the league.

"I guess what I'm trying to do is turn people on," D'Angelo said, "so they'll take some pride in ownership and make an effort to improve their living conditions."

Bolivian Boss Dies In Crash

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A former professor took the helm in Bolivia Sunday night, after the death of President Rene Barrientos in a helicopter crash.

Vice President Luis Adolfo Siles-Salinas succeeded Barrientos after military leaders gave him the backing of the Bolivian armed forces.

However, the man with whom Barrientos shared the reins of government for a time after the military coup in 1964, Gen. Alfredo Ovando, was not consulted. Ovando, the chief of staff, was in Washington on a visit. What effect his return will have on Siles-Salinas' tenure was not certain.

Ovando is the only announced candidate so far for president in the 1970 elections. The constitution barred Barrientos from another term.

The 49-year-old president was visiting farming communities in this land-locked South American country when his helicopter got tangled in high tension wires and crashed Sunday. An aide and the helicopter pilot also were killed.

Barrientos felt he had a special rapport with the peasants. Before he left on his tour, he told associates his political strength was in the hills, not in the cities. The rural population provided strong support when he won 62 per cent of the vote and was elected president in 1966.

A measure of that support was evident in 1967 when Ernesto "Che" Guevara came to Bolivia and tried to get support in the countryside for a Bolivian guerrilla movement. The peasants did not respond, and Guevara was trapped and killed.

Barrientos, who was chief of the air force until the 1964 coup, had survived several assassination attempts during his political career, including a bomb that went off under his bed when he was not home.

As his running mate in the 1966 elections, Barrientos chose Siles-Salinas, 45, one of the founders of the Social Democratic party but more of a university professor than a politician.

In recent months the two had been at odds over whether Congress should be called for another session. When Barrientos decided against it, Siles-Salinas denounced him.

Siles-Salinas is the third Siles to take over the presidency during a crisis. His father, Hernando, and his half brother Hernan were also presidents, and it was the brother that Barrientos ousted in the 1964 coup.

When the news of the helicopter crash was announced, Siles-Salinas went to the presidential palace to confer with the military leaders.

Later about 100 members of the pro-Barrientos Christian Popular Movement tried to storm the palace to protest Siles-Salinas' elevation. Police turned them back with tear gas.

After the meeting Gen. David LaFuerza, chief of the army, stressed the backing of the armed forces was giving to the new president and said: "The armed forces are alert and ready to defend the public order."

Siles-Salinas promised he would "serve his people" and said he would continue the work of Barrientos.

Barrientos is survived by his widow and seven children.

Heavy Rains Bypass Area Hit By Floods

By The Associated Press

People who live along the Mississippi River in Illinois and Iowa breathed a sigh of relief when predicted heavy rains and high winds bypassed the area.

The light rain that fell on a number of flood stricken communities Sunday produced little rise in the swollen Mississippi, but heavy downpours elsewhere did cause a sharp upward climb in the Missouri River.

The Missouri is expected to go above flood stage later this week.

Round-the-clock patrols continued on dikes in the Quad Cities industrial area in Illinois and Iowa.

Several dikes broke Sunday, endangering some areas, but they were quickly mended.

At Fulton, Ill., the water tunneled under Illinois Highway 84 and broke out behind a two-mile dike protecting Fulton and nearby communities. Fifty volunteers were sent to the scene with a dozen truckloads of sandbags.

Dick Fleischman, spokesman for the Army engineers, said the quick action by volunteers kept the river from washing away the highway and flooding East Fulton and part of Fulton.

The engineers said the Mississippi was cresting along an 80-mile stretch from Sabula, Iowa, and Savannah, Ill., southward to Muscatine, Iowa.

The river was flowing under the Centennial Bridge in Davenport, Iowa, at 231,700 cubic feet per second—nearly 10 times its normal rate—the Scott County civil defense department reported.

At St. Louis, the river, two feet below flood stage Sunday, was expected to fall during the next two days, then rise because of the cresting Missouri.

33 New Princes Of Roman Catholic Church Approved

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI created 33 new cardinals today, giving younger men and seven more nations a place in the highest council of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pope had named the 33 prelates on March 28. Today, 53 members of the Sacred College of Cardinals met in secret consistory with the Pope and gave their approval to his choices.

The meeting in the consistorial hall of the Apostolic Palace, first of three consistories this week, lasted only 15 minutes. It expanded the Sacred College to 134 members, the largest number in history, and increased the number of nations represented from 39 to 46.

Immediately after Pope Paul announced the 33 names and received the vote of approval, three cardinals set out as papal messengers to notify the new cardinals waiting in three buildings near the Vatican.

The new cardinals included four Americans, giving the United States 10 members of the Sacred College for the first time. The new American cardinals are Archbishop Terence J. Cooke of New York, John J. Carberry of St. Louis, John F. Dearden of Detroit and Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh.

Among the others are eight Italians, three Frenchmen, two Spaniards, two Brazilians, a Canadian, a Mexican and the first cardinal to be named from Korea, Guatemala, Madagascar and New Zealand.

The Pope's choices also continued the internationalization of the Church's top rank by reducing the Italian proportion of cardinals from 32.6 per cent to 30.5 per cent. The new men also bring the average age of the cardinals down from 71 to 68 years.

The new selections also increase the power and prestige of diocesan bishops around the world and give developing nations a greater place in the highest council of Roman Catholicism. Only four of the new cardinals are members of the Vatican Curia, the central government of the Church. Four have been nuncios, the Vatican's ambassadors abroad, 24 are archbishops or bishops and one is a Jesuit theologian.

In announcing his nominations on March 28, Pope Paul said he was also designating two other cardinals but was reserving their names "in pectore," in his heart. This is a procedure employed when a prelate is in a Communist country in which his promotion could increase his problems with the government.

or when the prelate is in a key Vatican post from which his elevation would remove him. Until Pope Paul announces the identities of the two men, they will not become cardinals, and he may not ever do this.

The new cardinals gather publicly for the first time in their bright scarlet robes on Wednesday evening for the second, semipublic consistory. Pope Paul will then give them their square red hats, or birettas.

At the final consistory, to be held in St. Peter's Basilica on Thursday, the Pope gives each cardinal his ring of office and celebrates Mass with them.

Pope Paul has gradually been curtailing the pomp and regal trappings of the ceremonies. First he eliminated sword bearers and gentlemen in waiting. This year he ruled out the cardinals' broad-brimmed galero hat, their red shoes and silver buckles and their ermine-lined cappa magna, or great cape.

Potential Site Of Nixon House

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — The potential site of the little White House is a quiet seacoast town of 17,500.

"I hope the feeling of friendliness—which is what we like about being here—will remain as it is," said a motel owner who has lived in San Clemente for 22 years.

"We hope that the neighborliness we old-timers have will rub off on those who may come to see the Nixons."

The 10-room Spanish style house that a Nixon spokesman says the President is negotiating for is halfway between Los Angeles and San Diego and 38 miles from Yorba Linda, Nixon's birthplace in Orange County.

When Nixon was a boy, most of the country was ranchland. Now it's one of the fastest developing areas in the nation.

The stately adobe house Nixon has his eye on is owned by Victoria C. Ogden, daughter of Henry Hamilton Cotton, one of the developers of San Clemente. Cotton bought the 20-acre estate and built the secluded, tiled-roofed house in 1924.

The Ogden house, on a bluff overlooking the ocean and with the vast Camp Pendleton Marine base to the south, is surrounded by cypress, palm, eucalyptus, orange and lemon trees. It has thick wooden doors, floors laid with Mexican tile and a courtyard fountain.

Guides For Pest Control

The 1969 Texas guides for controlling cotton insects are available to cotton producers at the Agricultural Extension Service office, according to Paul Gross, county agent.

He said the cotton insect control recommendations are designed to meet the needs of producers in various areas of the state. Due to differences in production practices, insect population pressure, insecticide resistance and production potentials, three different guides have been prepared to meet the needs of growers in the various sections of Texas.

L-508 was prepared for use by growers on the High Plains, Rolling Plains and Trans-Pecos areas. Publication No. L-218 has been developed for all areas of Texas, but lacks the detail on area problems covered in the bulletin for the High Plains, Gross said.

Howard County cotton growers are urged to pick up a copy of the new publications at their earliest convenience.

Nixon's Tax Credit Will Face Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of President Nixon's favorite projects—a tax credit for businesses willing to train and employ underqualified ghetto youths—faces trouble when it gets to Congress.

The trouble is compounded by Nixon's recommendation to end another kind of tax credit, the 7 per cent allowance for business investment in equipment.

CALLS SIGNALS
Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who calls tax signals in the House as Ways and Means Committee chairman, opposes on principle all tax credits.

He happily backed the Nixon proposal for repealing the investment credit and he is prepared to argue that once this—as he sees it—extraneous element is pruned out of the revenue code no other should be left in.

Nixon has often mentioned using tax credits for purposes like manpower training, to shift some of the effort from federal programs to private enterprise, but he has not yet set up a formal proposal.

But the proposal is known to stand high on the list of Labor Department legislative programs.

Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker tried to link investment credit repeal to the prospective manpower credit program when he appeared before the Ways and Means Committee.

One reason repeal was decided on, he said, was that other possible uses of tax credit have higher priority—manpower training and eventual sharing of revenues with states.

BASIC FACT
Talking with newsmen about tax credits Mills said "I have always found that you get in trouble if you lost sight of the basic fact that the purpose of a tax system is to raise revenues."

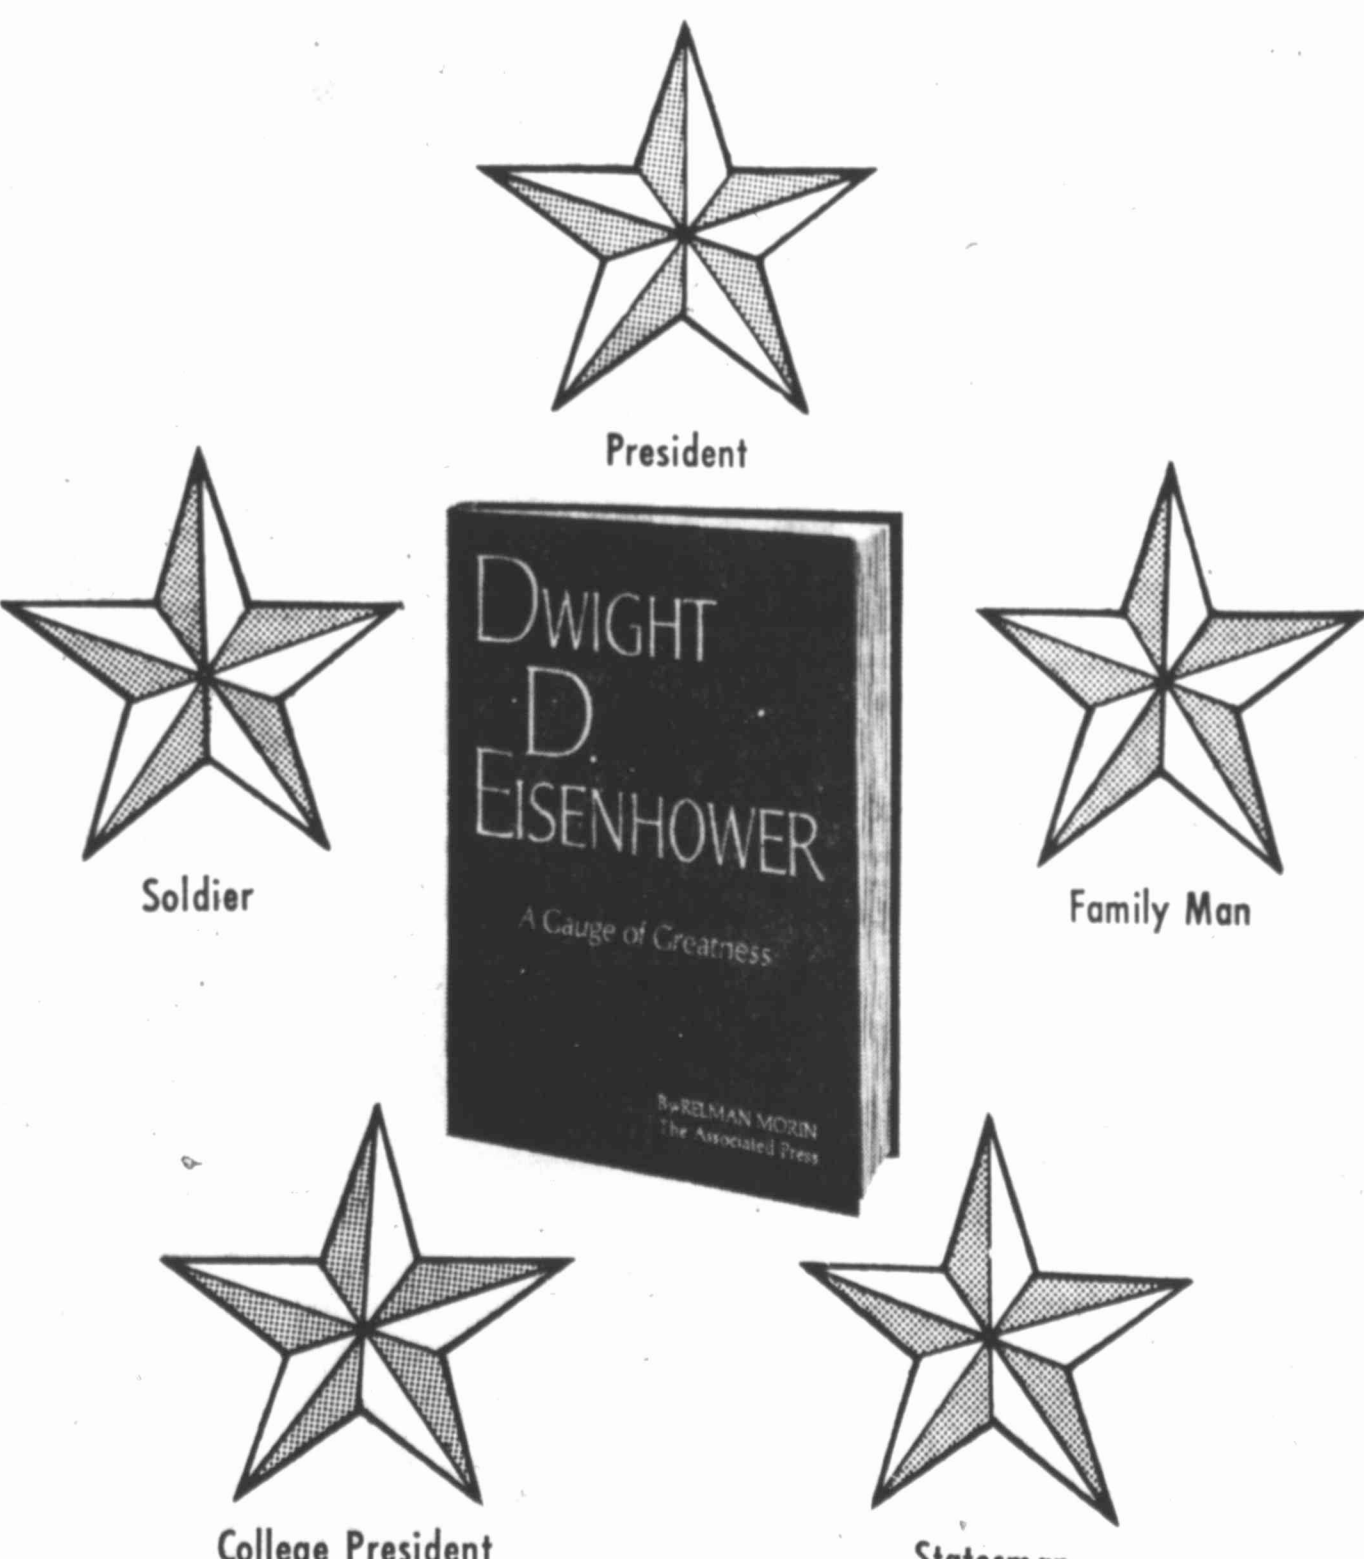

He said he had reluctantly agreed to go along with the late President John F. Kennedy, who proposed the investment credit in 1961 to stimulate a lagging economy.

But Mills said, referring to use of the tax code for other than strictly revenue purposes, "Every time I let anybody talk me into adopting that thesis, I got into trouble."

Mills has called tax credits "backdoor spending." His argument is that if the government wants to get something done it should submit an appropriation for the purpose.

Then Congress can not only debate the value of the project at the outset, but take another look at it when time comes to renew the appropriation. A tax credit, he says, is a sort of permanent appropriation.

Report Is Due At Meeting Of School Board

Although no action items are scheduled for the Big Spring Independent School District trustees meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, there are several matters for consideration.

Sam Anderson, school superintendent, will give a brief report on the impact aid legislation which was passed last week by the U.S. House of Representatives.

Anderson announced that the school district received a check last week for $61,924, which is the final impact aid payment for the 1967-68 school year under Public Law 874. The district has now received 98 per cent payment of funds for children of federal employees in the district.

He also said that $115,781 has been received as a first 35 per cent payment for the system's 1968-69 impact aid allocation.

Dr. Milo Kearney, college consultant for the district's school evaluation, will make a report to the board of the findings and recommendations of the district's visiting committee.

The local teacher's association will present a draft of a proposed professional consultation agreement to the board, and representatives of the association will ask for a hearing at the May meeting.

Two Amerada Tests Have Shows

Two units of Amerada Petroleum Corp. are currently drilling in the Big Spring and Hutto (South) field areas about three miles east of Big Spring after favorable tests last week.

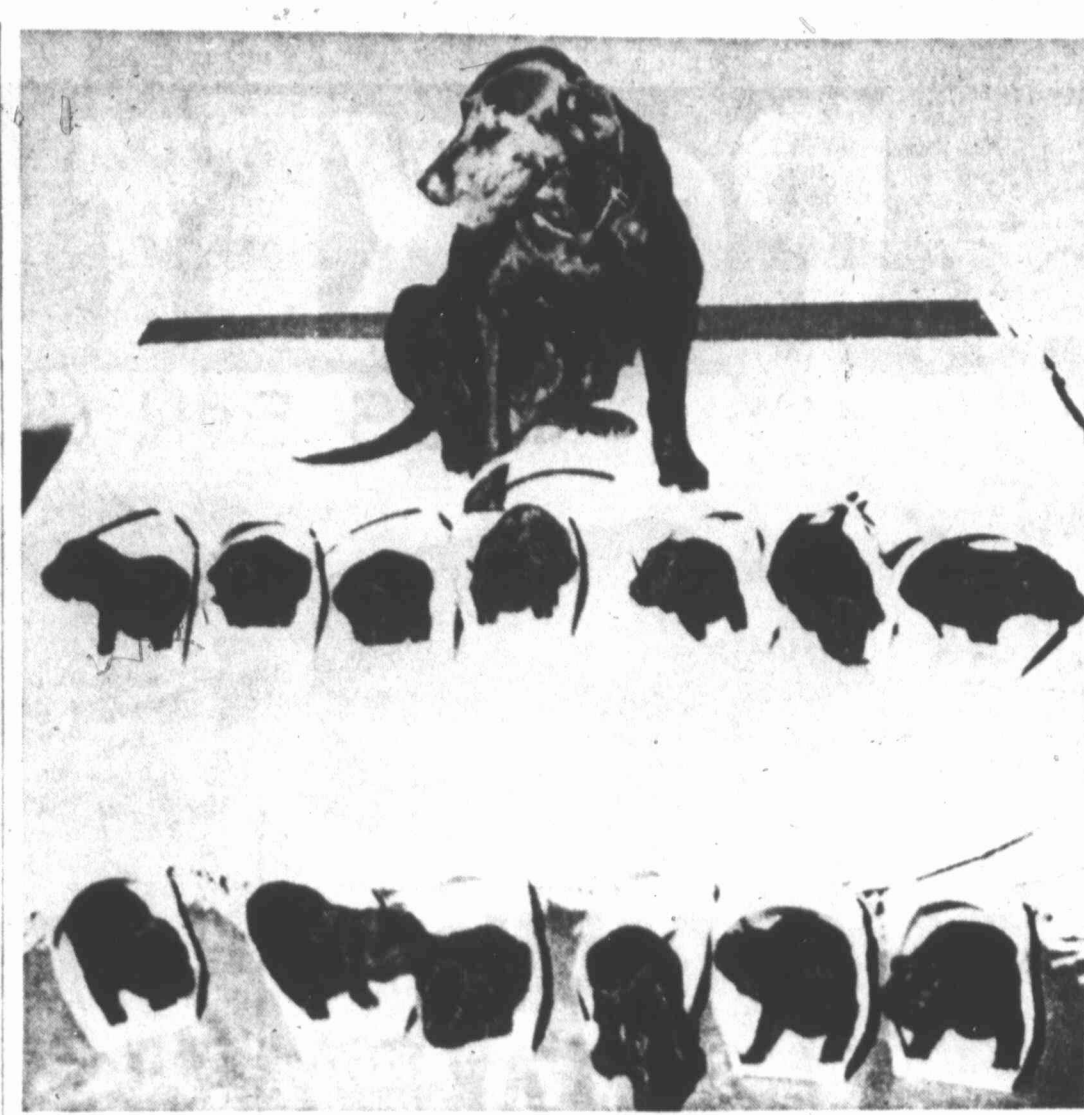

Amerada's No. 1 Ollie Anderson, a Fushelman explorer, is drilling at 9,263 feet, 660 feet from the west and 1,990 feet from the north lines, section 41, Township 1, North, T&P survey.

A drillstem test taken last week, but not released until today, from 6,971-7,005 feet in the upper Wolfcamp recovered 6,325 feet of 40.1 gravity oil with tool open 1:15 hours and gas coming to surface in seven minutes. Gas-oil ratio was 501:1, and one-hour initial shut-in pressure was 3,090. Flow pressure was 611-2,338 and two-hour final shut-in pressure was 3,090.

The Amerada No. 1 Eason unit is currently drilling at 6,557 feet after a drillstem test from 5,774-5,824 feet in possibly the Spraberry Trend Area. Tool was open 1 1/4 hours, and recovery was 60 feet of 31.7 gravity oil plus 45 feet of sulphur water. One-hour initial shut-in pressure was 783, flow pressure was 50-135, and two-hour final shut-in pressure was 783.

Toastmasters Meet

Flying Tumbleweeds Toastmasters will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Texas Electric Reddy Room with District Gov. William R. Larsen, Midland, as guest speaker. Other speakers on the program will be Marion Bartlett, Joe Matthews and Charles Bell. Cliff Chapman will be wordmaster, with Gary Sims introducing the talk topics.

Thirteen Not Unlucky For Sheba

Thirteen pups in her first litter was the mark racked up by Sheba, a six-year-old Labrador Retriever, although they had to be delivered by Caesarian section, said Mrs. William J. Heidig, of Lancaster, Pa. Feeding the pups poses no problem, Mrs. Heidig explains. "They eat and sleep in shifts, so there's enough room at the table all the time," she added.

Early Cotton Hurt By Rain, Hail

Farmers in the south and southwest part of the county, who had rushed the season and planted early cotton, may have better than 1.5 inches in other areas, were accompanied by a brief hailstorm. The hail, small in size, did not cause damage but cotton which had been planted was "muddled" in by the rains and will probably not come up, farmers said. There was a brilliant electric display with the storm.

The volume of rain varied widely in town. At the U.S. Experiment station, north of town, only .14 inch was reported. The southwest segment of the community had up to .9 inch. All over town brisk showers were reported.

The north side of the city received less rain than the south section. The Texas Electric Service Co. switching plant measured only .4 inch. Heaviest rains fell in the Coahoma area where as much as 1.6 inches was reported on some farms. In Coahoma proper, the rainfall was an inch. Moss Creek Lake also reported an inch, but a little west of the dam, 1.2 inches was reported.

Elbow community had an inch. Lomax had varied reports, from as little as .2 inch to an inch. Hail was apparently heavier in this community than in other parts of the county.

Chalk reported .8, but standing water in parts of that community indicated the rain may have been heavier in many sections.

No rain fell at Knott or Fairview. The showers brought the total rains for 1969, as gauged at the U.S. Experiment Station, to 4.57 inches. Of this total, 2.54 fell in April. January contributed only .04 inch. February reported .68, and March 1.31.

DEATHS

Mrs. Harrison, Services Held

Final rites for Mrs. Preston Harrison, wife of the superintendent of the Big Spring Hospital, were held at 10 o'clock this morning in the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor officiating, assisted by the Rev. Lee Butler, hospital chaplain. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickel Funeral Home.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, of the Big Spring Garden Club, the District Nurses Association, the Auxiliary of the Permian Basin Medical Society, and the Permian Basin chapter of the American Orchid Society.

Mrs. Harrison was born Melba Kathryn Tipton, Nov. 18, 1913, in Clovis, N.M. She took her nurses training at Methodist Hospital in Dallas, graduating in 1935. She also did post-graduate study in obstetrics at the Margaret Hague Obstetrics Hospital in Jersey City, N.J.

She and Dr. Harrison were married Aug. 17, 1940, in Clovis, N.M. They moved to Big Spring from Maud, Tex.

Mrs. Harrison is survived by her husband; two sons, and two sisters.

Make Bassinette Of Wicker Basket

In most households, baby is king of the mountain. For new young parents operating on less than the royal treasury, try this inexpensive but practical and color-happy idea: For your infant's first bed, buy a wicker laundry basket, spray paint it a delicate apple-green shade and line it with a silky, soft green fabric.

Gather a waft of green and white dotted swiss material into a full bassinette skirt, fill the basket with proper cushion and padding — and top with baby. It's eminently portable, as well as pretty.

Cream Massage

For soft skin on elbows and knees, apply baby cream daily. The cream will have a moisturizing effect on flaky, dry skin, leaving soft-textured skin in its place.

FIRE, EXPLOSIONS RIP U.S. AMMO DUMP

Reds Hit Armored Column

SAIGON (AP) — Blazing away with flame throwers and hurling dynamite bombs, about 150 North Vietnamese troops attacked an American armored column in the northwest corner of South Vietnam early today.

The U.S. Command said at least 34 of the enemy were killed by American artillery firing point-blank, 90mm tank guns and heavy machine guns mounted atop armored cars.

The American troops from the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division also captured 500 dynamite bombs, 200 anti-tank rockets and 15 rifles left on the battlefield.

FIVE KILLED

U.S. headquarters said five Americans were killed and 34 wounded. A spokesman said there was "light damage to material," presumably to the tanks and armored cars. He said security reasons prevented his being specific.

The North Vietnamese charged the night bivouac of the armored column behind an artillery barrage which pinned down the American troops. Some of the attacking troops were reported to have crashed through the outer defenses of the camp before the attack was repulsed, a U.S. spokesman said. The remaining enemy troops pulled back about an hour before dawn.

The fighting raged five miles from the Laotian border and two miles south of the abandoned Marine combat base at Khe Sanh.

The 5th Mechanized Infantry has been sweeping through the area for several days, trying to impede enemy supply and infiltration routes from Laos. Last Friday, North Vietnamese troops slashed their way into another night bivouac of American and South Vietnamese armored cars two miles east of the Laotian border, killed three Americans, eight South Vietnamese and an Australian, and wounded 12 Americans and 43 South Vietnamese. Thirty enemy soldiers were reported killed.

At the opposite end of the demilitarized zone, South Vietnamese infantrymen fought with North Vietnamese troops Sunday and reported 41 of the enemy killed. South Vietnamese losses were two killed and six wounded, a spokesman said.

Military spokesmen also reported that two persons were killed, 66 wounded and 20,000 left homeless by a huge fire and explosions at a U.S. Marine ammunition dump in Da Nang.

The spokesmen said one American Marine and one Vietnamese child were killed, and 50 Vietnamese civilians, 14 U.S. servicemen and two Vietnamese soldiers were wounded.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said more than 2,000 tin and wooden-roofed shanties were destroyed or damaged almost beyond repair by fire or concussion from the exploding ammunition. Some of the huts were in camps for families of Vietnamese soldiers stationed in the Da Nang area.

TNT BLASTS

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the 20,000 persons evacuated from the area were being temporarily resettled in two villages on the outskirts of Da Nang.

Earlier, the government said initial reports indicated 100 persons were believed killed or wounded. A spokesman said this had been based on estimates made during the height of the explosions and fire.

Associated Press correspondent Richard Pyle reported that hundreds of tons of bombs, artillery shells, TNT, rockets and small arms ammunition exploded, showering large chunks of burning shrapnel on homes, barracks and paddies in a one-mile radius from the dump.

Much of the ammunition had arrived recently for distribution to troops in the northernmost provinces. Millions of dollars worth of ammunition had been lost in two other fires in the past two months, both triggered by enemy rockets.

But today's fire began in a civilian garbage dump a considerable distance away from the ammunition storage area. Marine spokesmen said burning papers blew into an adjoining field and started a grass fire, which went out of control because of high winds. This spread to some old ammunition being prepared for destruction at the munitions dump and the resulting explosions ignited other explosives stored nearby.

Despite the heavy loss, Marine spokesmen said there are enough munitions at other depots to meet all operational requirements.

EMERGENCY

Marine spokesmen said the big air base at Da Nang was under emergency limitations for 12 hours but reopened today to normal traffic shortly after the fire was declared under control.

U.S. headquarters reported a dozen rocket and mortar attacks overnight against allied bases and towns as the Viet Cong's spring offensive entered its 10th week. Casualties and damage were reported light.

In one action 45 miles northwest of Saigon, three Americans from the 1st Air Cavalry Division were killed and 29 wounded by North Vietnamese troops entrenched in bunkers. The fight lasted only 15 minutes, and only two enemy dead were found.

U.S. officers say that while the offensive is at a low point now, it could heat up again. American officers concede the Communist command still has the capability to fight hard despite nearly 40,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops reported killed since they launched their offensive Feb. 23.

LAYING PLANS

Military analysts say the Communist command now is laying plans for a summer-autumn offensive to continue inflicting American casualties while working to undermine the influence of the Saigon regime in South Vietnam.

Big Potential For Tourism

LUBBOCK (AP) — Ghost towns and modern cities, Army forts in ruins and a modern military reservation... Plant and animal life found nowhere else in the Southwest or the United States... Fossils from microscopic to monster-size...

Texas Tech's Department of Park Administration has completed a 100-page report on "recreational Tourism Potential of the Trans-Pecos Region of West Texas". The research involves thorough studies of the Texas potential for tourism.

Graduate students working under Department Chairman E. J. Urbanovsky describe 50 historic sites and the geology, biology, climate and economy.

Counties included are Midland, Ector, Winkler, Ward, Pecos, Brewster, Loving, Reeves, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Hudspeth and El Paso.

Biafran Forces Making Assault, Casualties Up

OWERRI, Biafra (AP) — Biafran forces nearly destroyed a 1,500-man Nigerian brigade in the recapture of Owerri last week, and the secessionists are now making a fierce assault on federal forces in Umuahia, Biafran military spokesmen report.

They said heavy fighting was raging around Umuahia, Biafra's administrative headquarters until the Nigerians captured it last week. Casualties were heavy on both sides, the spokesmen said.

The recapture of Owerri, held by the Nigerians since last September, offset the fall of Kmuahia and reinforced the safety of Biafra's Uli airstrip, a major resupply point.

The spokesmen said the Biafran troops lured the 1,500 federal soldiers out of Owerri into a small village 10 miles away, then attacked in strength. The Nigerian force, the 16th Brigade of the 3rd Division, scattered in the bush. Mopping up operations were reported continuing.

The battle indicated the 21-month civil war is not nearing an end as some observers had predicted, but the fall of Umuahia aggravated the problems of refugees and hunger.

As the Nigerians advanced on the city last week, thousands of civilians fled to sections still under Biafran control. Relief workers said the abandonment of vast areas of land normally under cultivation increased the food problem.

Explosion Aftermath

A soldier watches a huge smoke ring in the blackened sky over the U.S. Air Base at Da Nang, South Vietnam, yesterday, following the explosion of a nearby ammunition dump. The blast destroyed several hundred tons of ammunition, killed one American Marine and a Vietnamese child and injured about 75 persons.

Bus Blast Kills Israeli Laborer

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli laborer was killed and three persons were seriously wounded today when a bus hit an explosive charge east of the Sea of Galilee, the Israeli army announced.

The bus was travelling alongside the Yarmuk River, which forms part of the border between Israel and Jordan, in an area just before the Yarmuk spills into the Jordan River.

On Sunday, Israeli troops traded fire with Egyptians across the Suez Canal and across the cease-fire line with Arabs in Jordan.

The artillery exchanges with the Egyptians ranged from near Port Said, at the northern end of the 103-mile-long canal, to the Great Bitter Lake near the south end.

Israeli intelligence officers said the Egyptians have been conducting maneuvers and evacuating civilians from Port Said, possibly in preparation for a major assault against Israel.

The biggest exchange with Jordan took place three miles north of the Dead Sea and lasted 2 1/2 hours. Jordanian spokesmen said they killed or wounded 20 Israelis and destroyed three Israeli tanks. They said there were no Jordanian losses.

The Israelis made no announcement of any casualties.

Pressure mounted on the Lebanese government to let the country be used as a base for guerrilla forays into Israel. Thousands of Syrians marched through Damascus, shaking their fists and demanding that Lebanon rescind its ban on Arab commando raids from its territory.

The Lebanese army relaxed its curfew on Beirut and five other cities by limiting it to the hours of darkness. Political leaders conferred about a new cabinet. A policy on the Arab guerrillas satisfying all elements was proving difficult to achieve. Premier Rashid Karami resigned last week and refuses to head a new coalition government unless he can get all factions to agree on the policy.

Crewmen Held At Knife-Point

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen Cuban refugees landed here Sunday after crossing the Florida Straits in a fishing boat with three crewmen held captive at knife-point.

The captain of the 65-foot vessel, Froilan Bosques, 29, told the Coast Guard he and another crewman changed course after leaving Cuba's territorial waters, taking captive three crewmen who objected to the change. The three dissident crewmen were allowed to leave Key West late Sunday for Cuba, using the same boat in which they had arrived.

Bosques said the other 13 refugees hid in the ship's refrigerated hold before daybreak Saturday, while it was docked at the port of Puerto Cabanas.

A Devotional For The Day

We rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope. (Romans 5:3-4, RSV)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, help us to look through the fog of our suffering to see the plan Thou hast for us. Help us to be diligent in fulfilling our work. In Christ's name. Amen.

Stopgap Rather Than Reform

President Nixon's proposed tax-revision package must be viewed as a partial stopgap — rather than comprehensive — reform. He conceded as much in informing the 91st Congress that he has directed Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy to review the entire federal tax system for recommendations to its second session next year.

No more could reasonably be expected this session in the uncertainties of war and under the pressures of inflation and internal unrest. Only in the best of times could a comprehensive remodeling of the federal tax structure be passed through Congress, and these are hardly the best of times.

What Mr. Nixon did recommend appears likely to have general popular favor and probably will for the most part gain congressional approval, though perhaps not as speedily as economic expediency warrants. And in its most controversial features it represents compromises that could prove to be seriously risky ones.

There should be little opposition to dropping 2.2 million lower-income families and individuals, at or below the poverty line, from the tax rolls. And there is strong support for limiting tax preferences or deductions that now allow some exceptionally high-income persons to avoid all or most personal income taxation.

It also makes sense to repeal, or suspend, the seven per cent investment tax credit, or otherwise put a brake on record capital spending, when the prospects for rising outlays for new plants and equipment threaten to aggravate the inflation that federal economic policy is trying to check. This will make possible, Nixon argues, a drop in the 10 per cent income tax surcharge — an anti-inflationary and war-financing emergency measure — to five per cent by next January 1 and its possible elimination by June 30, 1970.

The surcharge cut is something of a gamble, counting both on better control of inflation in the near future and de-escalation of the Vietnam war with a holddown on some other military spending. The most anxious aspect of the President's tax package is that its approval requires cutbacks in domestic programs to a risky extent in a period of internal tensions in our poverty-ridden cities. Perhaps that risk is unavoidable for the duration of the Vietnam war; we can only hope that it has not been dangerously miscalculated.

Faulty Priority

It has been commented that the federal budget is a reasonably accurate, and often unflattering, reflection of this nation's prevailing sense of values. And that is true enough, sometimes shockingly so.

Underlining the point is the new Nixon budget's cuts in domestic programs by far more proportionately than reductions in military spending. Because of the understandably great reluctance to question any military spending that might jeopardize our forces in Vietnam, one case of anti-inflationary economy in domestic programs calls for particular attention.

The budget reduces sharply the Johnson budget's proposed outlay for the National Highway Safety Bureau, already deemed by most experts to be inadequate to enforce the motor vehicle and tire safety standards as intended by the 1966 law. The saving is minute in comparison with the some $30 billion being spent on the Vietnam war.

And yet, the highway death rate is now about 1,000 a week killed and some 70,000 injured. That is more than three times the weekly death rate of American combat forces in Vietnam and 50 times the rate of wounded casualties.

The Nixon budget also increases expenditures for controlling crimes and violence, a matter of popular demand. But here again, it cuts highway safety spending, though traffic accidents cause 10 times as many injuries as do all crimes of violence.

Across-the-board federal economies may be effective against inflation in wartime. And they may be easier for Congress to pass and for the executive branch to administer. But they often do, as in this instance, severely strain any claim to wisdom.

David Lawrence Involvement On Four Fronts

WASHINGTON — Whether it be called a "cold war" or a "near hot war," the United States is currently engaged in the largest mobilization of its naval forces since 1950. This is taking place in three dangerous areas — the Mediterranean, the Far East and Southeast Asia.

America and its NATO allies today have more than 60 warships and 300 airplanes carrying on exercises off the coast of Sardinia in the Mediterranean, while the Soviet Union has about the same number of vessels — over half of them combat ships — in these waters.

IN THE FAR EAST, the United States has sent a part of its fleet from Vietnam waters to the Sea of Japan so that 29 warships, including four aircraft carriers, now are near the coast of Korea.

Apart from the obligation to mobilize naval vessels in connection with the shooting down of an American reconnaissance plane, the United States has a duty to protect the 56,000 troops it has in South Korea. For the last several months, North Korea has been threatening a military movement into South Korea.

WITH A DELICATE situation such as faces the United States in Southeast Asia, the Middle East and in the vicinity of Korea, it is strange that inside this country many people, including members of Congress, are talking about "pulling out of Vietnam."

The Soviets outwardly are supposed to be helping to achieve some form of peace in Vietnam. But their real objective is to devise a formula to allow America to withdraw its troops and "save face." Back of this idea is the Communists' hope of getting the kind of peace agreement which will enable North Vietnam to take over South Vietnam and thus give the Communists a victory.

THE MOSCOW government is for the moment much concerned about Israel's skirmishes with the Arabs, and wants to avoid a new outbreak of hostilities. "Negotiation," it is assumed, would be more productive of Communist gains, or at least might keep the situation from building up.

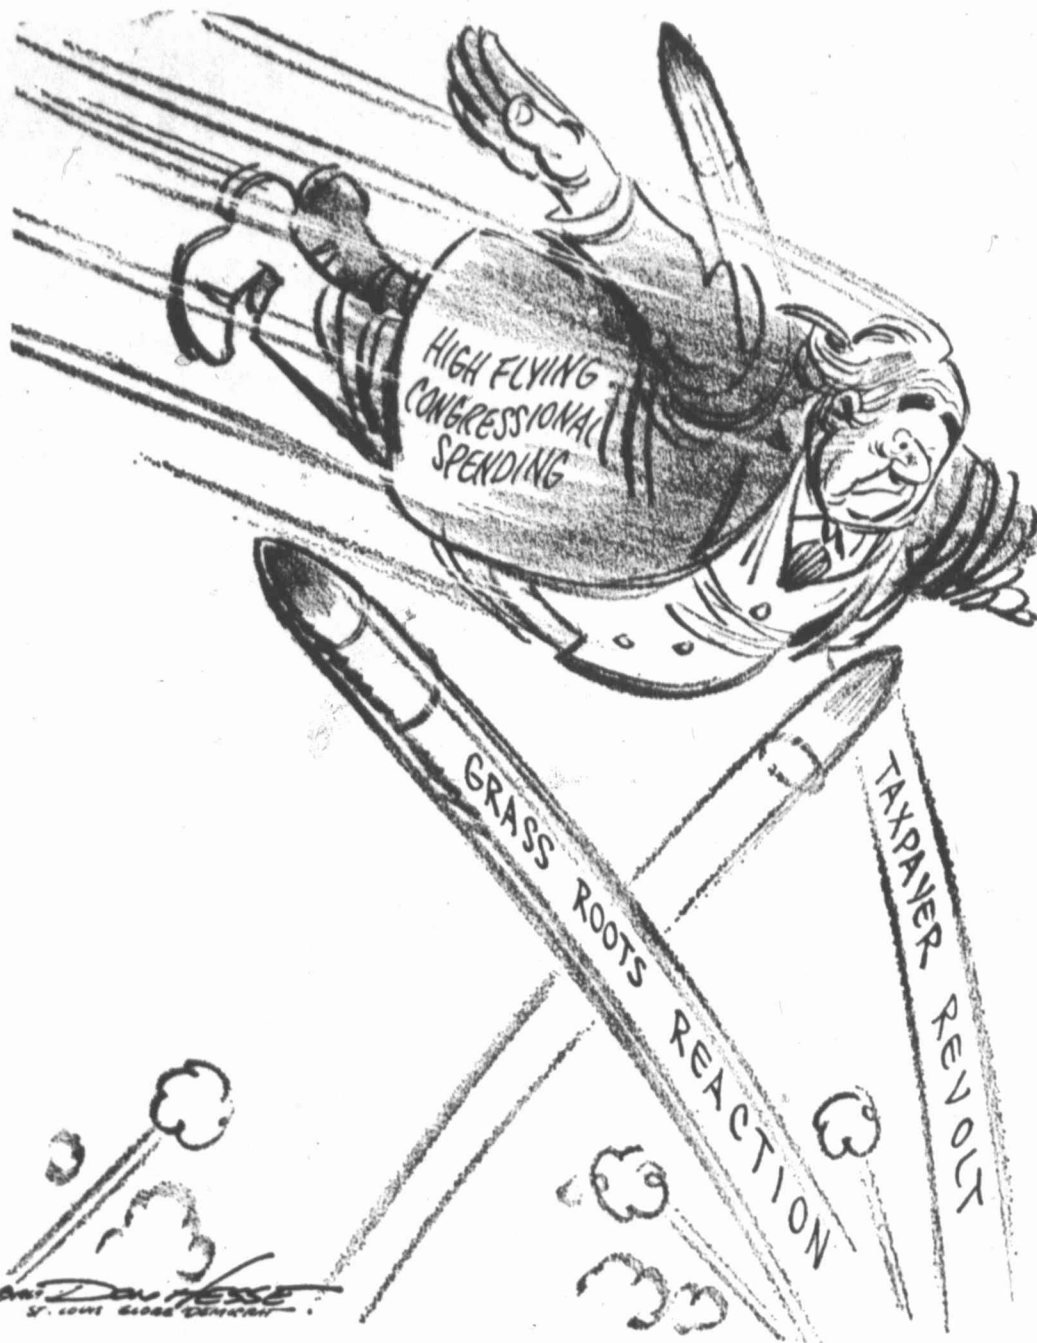

The Russians are glad that the United States is finding it necessary to withdraw some of its naval strength from Vietnam waters. This may have been one of the reasons the North Koreans, inspired by Moscow, stirred up trouble in shooting the "Pueblo" as well as in seizing down the reconnaissance plane.

THE DELICATE problems in Europe have been complicated by the uprisings in Czechoslovakia, which prompted the Russians to send in their occupying armies. Moscow is anxious to tighten control over its satellites in Eastern Europe and doesn't look with favor on any reorganization or enlargement of the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

So on four fronts — eastern Europe and NATO, the Middle East and the Mediterranean, the war in Vietnam, and the confrontations in Korea on land and sea — the Soviets are deeply involved and doing their utmost to make it difficult for the United States to assure even a status quo, or stabilization of the existing situation.

MILITARY AND naval mobilizations do not necessarily mean that a war is inevitable, but several times in this century it has been the tragic result. If the meaning of American policy at this time could be explained clearly to the people, including the dissidents, a unified country would have even more impact on the Russians than a redistribution of our naval forces in far-off seas.

ANOTHER FLIGHT BEING FIRED UPON

John Cuniff Foreigners Move On U.S. Real Estate

NEW YORK (AP) — Just a little more than two years old, the foreign-based U.S. Investment Fund now controls more than $250 million of American real estate. Its goal is to own $1 billion worth by this time next year.

All money for its investments comes from abroad, for the fund sells only to foreigners. When it comes to buying, it buys nothing but American real estate.

"WE'RE BUYING huge chunks of skyline," said Keith Barish, a young Miami, Fla., native who founded the fund and who now heads its management offices in London and in Nassau, The Bahamas. He wasn't exaggerating.

The fund's diverse properties include buildings such as the 28-story Harbor House apartments in Chicago, the LTV tower in Dallas, a garden apartment in Mill Valley, Calif., a shopping plaza in Rockford, Ill. . . .

Among its holdings are 71 established, income-producing properties in 25 metropolitan areas, 20 states and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Some day, fund spokesmen say, they hope to own property in every state.

TO ASSURE a welcome, they remind Americans in the towns they visit that each purchase helps improve the U.S. balance of payments position.

Shortly after Barish founded the fund as a vehicle for foreign investments in the American economy, he was joined by Rafael Navarro, a pre-Castro Cuban diplomat, and today they are partners in Gramco Ltd., the fund's manager.

THE GROWTH was phenomenally swift. The fund seemed to sponge up idle holdings of professionals, businessmen and other foreigners interested in American real estate. The fund had to find properties equally fast.

"Our ability to sell the fund is limited now only by our ability to attract more sales people," said Barish recently as he stopped briefly on his way to Europe. Already 700 associates sell the fund in 55 nations.

Last month, he said, this sales force sold $15 million worth of shares, a figure double the amount collected in the entire year of 1967.

THIS PUTS a pleasant type of pressure on Amprop, formerly American Properties Management, a Miami-based subsidiary. Amprop finds and manages property for the fund, and in so doing is modernizing some ancient methods.

Last week Amprop sent a caravan of experts to Cincinnati — "a city on the move," as one member said — where they spent three days with building owners and real estate executives. Similar trips are planned to

Minneapolis, San Francisco,

Philadelphia and other cities. Last year, to give an idea of the distances traveled, eight staffers logged more than 100,000 miles each in search of buys.

WHEN THEY find a likely property a team of analysts, accountants, leasing experts, structural engineers and attorneys swarm over the property.

With an assist from computers, the Amprop men often can transact business within two weeks. Such fast action in a business where deals are notoriously slow, Barish believes, makes many owners willing sellers.

Hal Boyle Matter Of Communication

By DAN PERKES

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — With each passing day, life appears to get more complicated. Even when it comes to using the telephone.

One recent night, for instance, I tried to call my family in Des Moines, Iowa.

"Demons Island?" asked the operator, in a heavily accented voice.

"NO, NO," I replied. "Des Moines, Iowa. D-E-S M-O-I-N-E-S."

"Where is Demons Island?" she asked.

Geographically, I explained, Des Moines is located about halfway between New York and Los Angeles in the state of Iowa.

"Now," I added in a pique, "will you please get me the Perkes family at the Commodore Hotel in Des Moines, Iowa?"

"THAT'S THE Comma Commander Hotel in Demons Island," she repeated.

"No," I shouted. "That's the Commodore Hotel in Des Moines, Iowa. Can't you understand English?"

She immediately called for help. The route operator.

"Please," she told the route girl. "I need the route number for Demons Island."

"Please," I repeated plaintively. "It's Des Moines, Iowa."

Eureka! The route operator understood. She got the necessary information.

BUT MY telephone travail had not ended.

The operator finally got the Des Moines information operator on the line — to ask for the number of the "Commander" Hotel.

"No. We want the Commodore," I said, ready in all my rage to jerk the phone out of my wall.

We finally got the number and it was dialed.

"THE BURKE room, please," my operator said.

"No, that's Perkes — P-E-R-K-E-S," I added.

I was in final reach of my destination after 15 minutes of blood, sweat and tears.

The telephone rang. My wife answered.

"Hello," I said.

"Hello," she answered.

And the telephone went dead. So help me.

Around The Rim License Plates For Two Years?

One thing and another: If the State Legislature is really intent on getting the most out of the tax dollar, it could save some money by granting automobile license privileges to the individual for two years rather than one.

The state probably pays more than 50 cents for each set of plates. Administrative, printing, personnel and postage costs could be saved the second year with the two-year licensing arrangement.

WHY DON'T the kids play marbles anymore?

Time was, when the weather warmed up, a group of kids shooting emmies, steelies, crockies and agates was a common sight around a neighborhood. The fellow who possessed the most agates represented real affluence. That is no longer the case.

Some say the nation's youth now controls the economy and the average youngster, one way or another, can buy anything he wants. A bag of marbles hardly makes an impressive possession.

TIME WAS when that very street gamin longed for every street he could get his picture in the paper as King of the Marble Players. If he couldn't make it that way, he was willing to settle for the title of Freckles Champion.

Granted, nobody plays marbles on TV. Most of the games popular in television — girl chasing, golf, hot rodding and bowling.

THE WINE industry in California is now two centuries old and was started by a Franciscan friar, of all people.

The padre was Junipero Serra, a preacher, writer and missionary leader.

He planted a few vines near the Mission San Diego July 16, 1769.

Last year, California winemakers shipped a record 150 million gallons to all markets — some of it to France for labeling, after which it was shipped to America and identified as French wine.

The industry earned an estimated $700 million and employed 110,000 people.

DANCING USED to be poetry of motion. Today it seems to compare to the spasms of St. Vitus.

Holmes Alexander Bureaucracy Grows Some More

WASHINGTON — The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare is a Republican institution. It was founded by President Eisenhower. It is now 25 times larger in its outlays, if we include Social Security, than it used to be when Mr. Nixon was vice president. It is over three times larger in its number of workers.

THERE ARE quantum jumps much larger than those in the military establishment between 1953-69. The current HEW Secretary, Bob Finch, did not quit his California lieutenant-governorship in order to be president over a liquidating empire. He's an expansionist. He's also a sloganist, which is not the usual thing in this Nixon administration. Mr. Finch was saying the other day that if he can fully emphasize the "E" in HEW, the problems of Health and Welfare will tend to disappear.

BUT SLOGANS invite suspicion. Mr. Finch is an ominous figure to the remaining Republican conservatives who believe that Federal intervention in private lives and families is already too much with us. He alarms all who believe that too much meddling by the central government does not make a people strong — but makes them weak with loss of self-reliance.

One sure sign of empire-building in a bureaucracy is the establishment of a new bureau. Secretary Finch has already given this sure sign. He has founded the new Office of Child Development, with "direct responsibility," he says, to himself. For the first time in history we have a Cabinet officer who is undertaking — as nobody since Eleanor Roosevelt — to smuggle into the American family circle and to bring there such benevolent intrusion as we have never imagined.

FOR EXAMPLE, where the Great

Society with its Head Start program got to the child around the age of 6. Mr. Finch is talking about commencing Federal attention on the child who is merely one year old. He comes at this with the proposition that the absentee father begins to be missed by a child that is under 12 months of age. There are implications that the HEW will be spending public money to induce Dad to stay home. This will be done by giving Dad the Welfare checks which formerly went mostly into fatherless homes.

Whether remittance money for good-behavior will improve the character of irresponsible fathers is subject to some doubt. But there's no doubt at all that the Federal government will be moving in on newweds like a mother-in-law, and may turn out to be just about as welcome when giving advice on the raising of children.

IT WILL certainly produce a burgeoning of the government agents who pry into our privacy and get paid for it in resentment as well as in the swelling salaries of all public officers, beginning with the President and Congress members. Since Mr. Finch says that not nearly enough funds will be available until we end the Vietnam War, his plans will clearly produce a still wider chasm between those who know that military defense is necessary, at whatever cost, and those who demand disarmament at every level in order to spend on internal improvements and human needs.

WHEN SECRETARY Finch says that a bigger "E" in HEW will eliminate the "H" and "W," that depends on the kind of education he has in mind.

Teaching a whole new generation to rely on Federal snuggle-in is not the best instruction.

State Jobs Hassle Heat's On Rep. Heatly, Sons, Brother

AUSTIN (AP) — The two sons and psychiatrist brother of House Appropriations Committee Chairman W. S. Heatly have held state jobs paying some $142,000 over the past six years, state records show.

Only one relative, Dr. Marurice Heatly, is still on the payroll, as a psychiatric consultant to both the Texas Youth Council and the State Welfare Department.

Dr. Heatly's service with the Youth Council coincides with Heatly's continuous tenure as appropriations chairman, starting in 1963. Rep. Heatly also held the post during the late 1950s.

SINCE 1963, Dr. Heatly has been paid the maximum Youth Council consulting fee — currently $20,000 per year, and $15,000 a year before Sept. 1, 1967 — and his earnings to Jan. 1 totaled $88,850. The figures were obtained by a special Senate committee studying the Youth Council and were made public upon request by its chairman, Sen. Criss Cole of Houston. Cole said his committee had collected payroll data on all Youth Council employees and consultants.

The House version of the pending general appropriations bill raises consultant fees to a maximum $22,500.

In addition to his brother, Heatly's sons, Gene and Stan, also have held state jobs recently.

Stan, 21, worked from February to September, 1968, as a clerk in the Real Estate Commission, running errands, filing and opening and distributing mail. All the work was half-time, except for six weeks in August and September when he worked fulltime, said Mrs. Dorothy Massey, accounting clerk. His total wages came to nearly $1,400.

GENE, 26, was hired Sept. 1, 1967, as an assistant attorney general and quit as of Jan. 1, 1969, because "He told us he was getting a better job," said executive Asst. Atty. Gen. Hawthorne Phillips. During the year and four months he worked for the department, his salary came to $11,556, according to figures released by Phillips.

Both Phillips and Mrs. Massey said Rep. Heatly did not try to influence their agencies to employ his sons.

Each praised the work done by the Heatly sons.

In addition to his work with the Youth Council, Dr. Heatly has worked for the University of Texas, where he earned a total of $36,880 as a psychiatrist in the Student Health Center over several years.

While at the university, Dr. Heatly once consulted with Charles Whitman about five months before Whitman mounted the university tower and shot 16 persons to death. He reported that Whitman failed to show up for a scheduled second appointment.

DR. HEATLY also is on the State Welfare Department payroll as a consulting psychiatrist and was paid $3,366.40 last year.

Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney said a federal program requires the Welfare Department to have a psychiatrist on its staff and Heatly was approached after five or six others turned down the $15 per hour offered. Hackney said Heatly works two or three hours a week, consulting with other doctors but seeing no actual cases.

One source said Heatly's duties with the Youth Council also are largely of an administrative nature and do not involve counseling with any reform school or state home students. He gets $25 per hour as a Youth Council consultant.

Rep. Heatly acknowledged that he rents space in a building he owns in Paducah, his home town, to the Texas Employment Commission for a local office. He said he gets $75 per month for 500 square feet of space. The TEC said the space was first rented in July, 1966, after the agency was sued by Cottle County commissioners who needed the county courthouse office for other purposes.

"I own the only new building on the square in Paducah. I provide central heat, air conditioning, utilities and custodial care for $75 per month. It cost $20 per square foot to build and 10 per cent on the money," Heatly said.

FEDERAL FUNDS make up all of the TEC budget, although the state Constitution requires them to be appropriated through the legislature.

Heatly has come under criticism in recent weeks both from some legislators and from a number of editorial writers for the riders he has inserted in the House version of the $5.7 billion state spending bill.

Bruce Devlin Breaks His Golf Drouth At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A weak left hand helped Bruce Devlin break the longest drouth of his professional golf career. And a weak putting game has forced Arnold Palmer to make what may be his most agonizing decision.

"I guess I will try to qualify for the Open. I really don't know yet," said Palmer after he finished in a tie for eighth behind Devlin Sunday in the wind-up of the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Palmer must decide whether to go out and attempt to make it in sectional rounds next month.

Palmer missed his last chance of an exemption by failing out of the top 15 on the money-winning list, dated from the Houston Champions Tournament last year to the Nelson Classic this year. He had a lead of $5,133.51 over Frank Beard going into this tournament.

But Beard, the soft-spoken man from Louisville, shot a final-round 71 for 278 and a tie for second with Australian Bruce Crampton. He won $9,250. Palmer, who had a final 69 for 282, won $2,825, giving Beard the spot in the Open.

Devlin, the slim, blond Australian who hadn't won since the Colonial Invitation in 1966, also had had his troubles—a left hand that was too strong, causing him to hook.

"I've been bugged by that hook a long time," he said after his final-round 70 pulled him out of a four-man fight down the stretch.

He finished with a 277, three under par for four rounds on the muddy, 7,086-yard, par 70 Preston Trail Golf Club course and one stroke ahead of Beard, who had a final 71, and fellow Aussie Bruce Crampton, 69.

"I've been working on weakening my left hand so I won't hook so much," he said. "I've moved my left hand more on the tape. It helps eliminate the left-hand side of the golf course. Every time I've been in trouble, this tournament it's been on the left side."

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The same race in 1957, came through as the odds-on favorite in the $32,750 Will Rogers Stakes at Hollywood Park.

—Gunite, a 2-year-old filly making her first start since February, captured the $22,175 Pinafore Stakes at Suffolk Downs.

In fact, all that remains to be decided in the final weekend of the campaign is who will be No. 2.

—Texas Tech (8-5) and Texas Christian (7-5) will decide the matter in a three-game weekend series at Lubbock.

—Texas (13-1) clinched the crown with a 6-2 victory over Tech Saturday thanks to Tommy Harmon's three-run homer in the first inning.

It was Texas' 38th outright championship and the second straight for coach Cliff Gustafson. For the Longhorns, it was their fifth consecutive championship.

—The Blues, easy champions in the National Hockey League's West Division and winners of eight straight early-round Stanley Cup playoff games, dropped a 3-1 decision to Montreal Sunday in the nationally televised opener of the best-of-7 Cup finals.

It wasn't exactly a new feeling. St. Louis lost four straight to the Canadiens in the Cup finals a year ago and in the two seasons since they were born out of expansion the Blues have a cumulative record of 6-13-2 against the Canadiens.

The numbers don't exactly inspire confidence in St. Louis' chances for taking the Cup away from the Canadiens.

Montreal jumped to a 2-0 lead on goals 38 seconds apart by Dick Duff and Bobby Rousseau. Then, the Canadiens sat on the bulge.

Duff scored on a power play, beating goalie Jacques Plante, an ex-Canadian, on a close-up shot at 3:39. Then, Rousseau, outkilling a penalty, drilled a high, hard one past Plante at 4:17.

Tigers Split With Piedras Negras

The Big Spring Tigers split in the third on a walk, error and fielder's choice.

As if fired by the goings on, the Tigers pounced on Barranca for five runs on three hits in the first. Rodriguez's double was the big lick. Arista doubled for the only other extra base blow, but it brought in Flores with the final score of the night cap.

Petty Dominates At Martinsville

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — If the Martinsville Speedway ever changes ownership, chances are it will be turned over to lanky Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C.

Petty won his seventh stock car race at the picturesque tilt track Sunday, and now has taken home more than $50,000 in prize money from the present management.

The 6-foot-4, 215-pound driver, who gave up a lucrative contract with Plymouth to drive Ford's this year, took command of the 250-mile Virginia 500 on the 259th lap.

Petty roared to the finish line three seconds ahead of another Ford assigned to veteran David Pearson.

For his third afternoon's work, Petty was paid $10,275. It was the 94th victory of his career, more than any other driver in NASCAR history, and brought his prize money bankroll for this season to $36,050.

Sock It To 'Em

LINCOLN, England (AP) — No less than 86 goals were scored in a soccer match Sunday—and the players claimed a world record. The game was an amateur charity marathon that lasted from 9 a.m.-6:40 p.m. with a halftime break of 15 minutes. Final score: Nalgio All Stars 45, Lindsey County Council 41.

McCovey's Big Bat Demolishes Astros

By The Associated Press

Clyde King and Jim Davenport speak lavishly about the hitting exploits of Willie McCovey, but the towering slugger is content to speak softly while carrying his big bat.

"I don't want to talk about it too much because I'll probably go into a slump," he said after clobbering Houston over the head with two game-winning three-run homers Sunday as San Francisco swept the Astros 4-2 and 8-5.

But King, manager of the Giants, and infielder Davenport have done plenty of talking, praising the 6-foot-5 first baseman as the top slugger in the National League.

"I had an awesome fear of McCovey as a rival," King added, "and now I have tremendous respect for him as a slugger and hitter."

McCovey certainly has been living up to that calling this season, leading the league with eight homers and 21 runs batted in.

Cleon Jones raised his league leading average to .443 with five hits for six RBI, including a three-run homer in the ninth inning that salvaged a 3-0 victory for the New York Mets over Chicago after the Cubs had won the opener 8-6.

In other games, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 1-0 on Jerry Johnson's four-hitter, Montreal dropped Pittsburgh 4-2 and San Diego swept Cincinnati 5-2 and 10-9 in 13 innings.

GRAND SLAM

McCovey, 31-year-old slugger in his 10th big league season who has driven in 384 runs and hit 142 homers in the last four years after leading the league with 102 and 44 in 1963, capped a four-run seventh inning in the opener with his first shot, breaking a 5-3 deadlock.

Houston had taken a 4-0 lead in that one on Hector Torres' grand slam, but the Giants tied 4-4 on Jack Hiatt's three-run homer before Joe Morgan's solo blast put the Astros in front again.

In the nightcap, McCovey erased a 2-1 deficit in the sixth inning, giving the Giants their sixth consecutive victory and sending Houston to its fifth loss in a row and 12th in 13 games.

Deron Johnson gave Jerry Johnson, 1-2, his victory with a run-scoring, two out single in the eighth inning off St. Louis starter Ray Washburn.

Montreal's Rusty Staub and Coco Laboy, who hiked his average to .420 with 3-for-3, rapped tie-breaking homers in the sixth inning—Staub's with a man on—to beat Dock Ellis and Pittsburgh. Larry Jaster, who singled in the Expos' first run scattered six hits in the first inning for the first time this season for his first victory.

BEAT REDS

Olle Brown got San Diego started with two doubles and infield out that drove in three runs and set up another in the opener as rookie Clay Kirby, Gary Ross and Frank Reberger held off the Reds.

Ross won the nightcap with five innings of shutout relief before Ed Spiezio singled in an unearned run in the 13th with two out off Wayne Granger.

The Padres tied the game in the eighth on rookie Jerry Davanan's two-run double after Pete Rose's three-run homer and Alex Johnson's two-run shot put Cincinnati ahead 9-7 in the top of the inning.

Five unearned runs in the sixth had given San Diego a 3-0 lead after the Reds took a 7-4 lead in the first.

Softball League Opens Six-Round Season Today

The Big Spring Softball League kicks off its 1969 campaign with a pair of games this evening. Morton Foods will meet Bill Reed Insurance on the opener at 7:30 p.m., while Barrod Division will tangle with Snyder at 9 p.m. on the City Park diamond.

The season will be split into six rounds. All games will start at 7:30 and 9 p.m., and the 10-run rule will apply. A trophy will go to the first place team only. Rained out games will be played after the season only if they bear on determining first place. The home team is responsible for seeing that bases are put up and the equipment building locked. (The last team listed in the schedule is the home team and will furnish a new or near-new ball for the game). Frances L. Johns, commissioner, said that it has been agreed no smoking will be allowed on the field. The schedule follows:

Church Takes Aim At World Hunger

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The 100th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States takes action today on a report asking that all possible resources of the church focus on ways of dealing with world hunger.

The report declares that "world hunger is so real and grave that this problem is a top priority concern of the Presbyterian Church."

The report, prepared by the Committee on Church and Society, asks that all possible resources of the church, "for at least the next five years, be focused on ways and means of dealing with the problem."

The Assembly, top governing body of the million-member dominantly Southern church, has a docket crowded with other reports to complete by Tuesday, the last day of the six-day meeting.

Other top priorities are a report on justice, law and order, and resolutions dealing with nuclear disarmament, abortion and conscientious objectors.

The report on justice, law and order states that law and order should never be ends in themselves, should not consist of suppression of rightful criticism and conscientious dissent and should never be used for repression of racial minority.

The 450 commissioners will be urged to support the nuclear nonproliferation treaty and the development of a more comprehensive nuclear test ban.

The resolution on abortion calls for a study on the moral issues involved and laws regulating abortion.

The conscientious objector resolution urges Congress to "move with dispatch to amend the Universal Military Training and Service Act." It asks for suitable alternatives of military or civil service for those who conscientiously object to "participation in a particular war."

Delegation Backs Permian Basin College

A five-man local delegation was scheduled to testify at 2 p.m. today in Austin before the Senate State Affairs Committee in behalf of a higher-level college for the Permian Basin area. Representing Big Spring will be Mayor Pro Tem George Zachariah, Howard County Board of Regents member J. A. Coffey, Howard County Dean of Men Ben Johnson, Bob Dyer and City Manager Larry Crow.

The bill to approve the college for the area has passed the House and is being considered by the Senate, according to Zachariah.

He said the testimony offered by the Big Spring group will say that such a college would supplement Howard County Junior College and point out that the Big Spring, Midland and Odessa area is the only metropolitan area in the state without a higher-level college.

The group was flown to Austin in the Coston Oil and Chemical Co. plane.

Camp Fire Girls On Night Camp

The Pasipias (new name of the Camp Fire Girls Group One), spent Friday night in scenic Mountain State Park.

Pasipias is the Indian name for leaders.

The Camp Fire Girls prepared a beef and vegetable stew over a campfire. Later they popped corn and roasted marshmallows. Saturday morning, after cleaning up their camping area, the girls hiked down the mountain.

The girls were accompanied by Lt. and Mrs. Gordon Hallgren and Lt. and Mrs. Mike Ashmore, who are guardians for the group.

Traffic Accidents Claim At Least 19

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents accounted for the largest number of violent deaths over Texas during the weekend of April 27-28, according to the Associated Press tabulation of weekend violent deaths.

The count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

With a total death count of 37, traffic accidents had killed 19 persons by late Sunday night. Drownings took seven lives, shootings, five, and stabbings and miscellaneous violence six.

Deputy U.S. Marshal Abelardo Sanchez, 49, was killed in a two-car accident Sunday night on US 83 in Cameron County. Five other persons were injured and three were hospitalized at Harlingen.

Mary Francis Hutchins, 27, and Jeff K. Puckitt, 32, both of Houston, were found stabbed to death Sunday in a north Houston apartment.

A. B. Thomas, 29, of Lubbock, was killed Sunday in a car-truck accident 3 1/2 miles north of Lubbock at the intersection of Farm Road 1294 and US 87. Two other persons were injured.

Opel Chennault, 31, of Paris, was killed and three other persons injured Sunday when a horse ran in front of their car on US 82 five miles east of Park in Lamar County.

A two-car accident one mile west of McCombs in Union County Sunday killed Augustine Garcia Balza, 40, of McCombs. The accident occurred on US 67.

George E. Walling, 53, of Houston drowned Saturday on North Lake Houston, while attempting to repair a propeller on his boat. The Houston Lake Patrol recovered the body in 12 feet of water.

Mal Garcia of Pharr and his son drowned in the Laguna Madre at Port Mansfield Saturday. Authorities said the youngster became entangled in a boat propeller and the elder man attempted to help him.

Stanley Lee Kinsbrew, 29, of Houston drowned Saturday in Park Lake at Huntsville State Park. The Walker County Emergency Corps recovered the body in 20 feet of water.

Kenneth Piland, 19, was fatally shot in the head Saturday during a service station holdup at Dallas.

Ross Andrews, 34, of Amarillo, was killed and his wife injured Saturday when their car skidded out of control on rain slick US 287 and hit a culvert near Decatur, Tex.

Police said Horace Stephenson, 48, whose battered body was found in the backyard of his home at Dallas Saturday, apparently was beaten to death. Officers said there was evidence he had been hit over the head with a large flower pot.

Police said Jesus Garcia, 37, of Corpus Christi, was fatally shot in the head Saturday night during a disturbance outside a Corpus Christi bar. Police said they had arrested a suspect.

Lance Guess, 19, of Dallas, was killed Friday when his car struck a tree about three miles north of Addison in Collin County.

TAVERN BRAWL
Anastacio Rodriguez, 54, was killed Friday when he was struck by a Southern Pacific freight train near San Antonio.

Johnny Martinez Ramirez, 28, was stabbed to death Friday night during an argument over a pool game at Victoria. Police arrested a suspect.

J.D. Modisette, 40, of Lufkin was killed and another person injured Saturday when two cars collided on a Lufkin street.

Clarence Blevins, 23, was stabbed to death Saturday night in a tavern brawl on San Antonio's east side. Police hunted his killer.

Gilbert Rios, 16, was shot to death Saturday night in a San Antonio bar. Police said they arrested a second 16-year-old youth who opened the bar's front door and began firing into the crowd.

Walter J. Lohden was shot and killed Sunday in a home at Mesquite, an eastern Dallas County suburb. Police who said Lohden's assailant used a .22 caliber pistol, arrested a woman.

Xavier Lujano, 8, was killed Sunday when he was struck by a hit-and-run auto driver. Police found the death car abandoned about four blocks from the scene of the tragedy.

Petty Officer Archie R. Auld, 22, of the Kingsville Naval Air Station was killed early Sunday when his car struck a tree two miles south of Leakey in Southwest Texas. Auld's parents reside at Leakey.

Dear Abby

Can Take Care Of Himself

DEAR ABBY: My brother, Mike, is a 42-year-old police officer. He's very good looking and is still single. I, and several others in my family, have tried to fix him up with nice girls, but we have never been able to please him.

Well, Mike came to "Big Sis" with a problem. It seems that about a year ago Mike was called to a home on an attempted suicide. He said he fell in love with the girl the moment he laid eyes on her — she looked so helpless and in need of someone to take care of her.

He checked her out and learned that she wasn't married to the man she was living with. He's married to somebody else. He has beaten her senseless several times, and has a record from New York to California.

Mike insists he loves this girl, but he can't get her to shake this other guy. Is there some way I can break the spell she has over my brother? BIG SIS

DEAR SIS: Don't waste your time. Baby brother is a big boy now, and if after checking her out, his ardor hasn't cooled, let him solve his own problem. Some people aren't happy unless they're miserable.

DEAR ABBY: Buck and I have been married nearly three years. It's the second time around for both of us, but we almost never talk about our previous marriages, which is fine. (We're both divorced.)

When we were first married, I came across some pictures of Buck's ex-wife. I suggested he send these back to her, but he said, no, he'd just "toss" them out. A few months later I found these same pictures in his sweater drawer! Again I spoke to him about disposing of them, and he said he would. Well, I came across them again in a suitcase I was about to pack for him.

To top it off, Buck's first wedding ring had been kept in his "junk drawer." Now he's transferred it to his good jewelry box.

He tells me often how much he loves me and how happy he is, so I don't feel that I'm in danger of losing him, but what could be so priceless about these old pictures and a gold band?

DEAR HURT: Perhaps nothing, but if I were you, I wouldn't mention them again.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Bridge Test

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—With both sides vulnerable, your right hand opponent opens with one diamond and you hold:

♠A J 10 3 2 ♥K 6 3 2 ♦A K 2

What action do you take? A.—One spade. While this hand is slightly better than a normal opening bid, we nevertheless prefer a simple overcall to the take-out double. It is our belief on this hand that, unless partner is able to take voluntary action, there will be no game.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠Q 2 ♥A 9 8 2 ♦K Q 10 ♣J 6

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♣ Pass 1♥ Pass 2♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Three no trump. A mere bid of two no trump by you at this point would be regarded as a bid made under some pressure. The jump is therefore recommended to describe that you have an above average hand.

Q. 3—You are South, vulnerable, and hold:

♠K J 5 ♥A K J 3 ♦K 10 6 ♣K 4

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1♣ Dble. Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—It is quite clear that East has shown a red herring across your trail. Your partner's hand is equal to a very good opening bid. Remember that he could have shown a strong hand by jumping to three, therefore, shows a hand of great value. We would be inclined to take our chances on a direct slam bid, but surely we would bid at least five no trump.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠A 10 5 ♥Q J 6 ♦J 7 3 ♣Q 5 3

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1♣ Dble. 1NT ?

What do you bid? A.—Double. By proceeding along the lines of simple arithmetic we reach the conclusion that East will be unable to fulfill a contract of one no trump. Your hand contains 11 points in high cards, and partner's hand is presumably worth at least 12. Your side, therefore, has at least 23 points to 16 for the adversaries.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A K 9 3 ♥A Q 4 2 ♦A 10 6 2

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1♣ Pass 1♥ Pass 1♦ Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Two spades. This is a close choice between a jump shift to three clubs and the reverse bid of two spades with our preference leaning toward the latter call. Altho partner's no trump response over a diamond would make it appear likely that he fits one of the minors, he could conceivably have some four card spade holding not worth showing. We can always bid clubs subsequently should it prove expedient.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A 4 ♥K 9 3 ♦K Q J 9 ♣K 6 5

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♣ 1♦ 1♥ 1♠

What do you bid? A.—Double. Your hand figures to produce about five tricks and your trumps are good enough to draw some of East's. If you miss a game by the double bid, the compensation should prove more than adequate.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J 10 5 ♥A Q 10 ♦K 10 6 2 ♣Q 10 4

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♣ Pass 1♦ Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Two no trump. Even the partner passed originally, his jump shift is forcing for one round. With the jack of spades promoted your hand is the equivalent of a sound opening bid. However, three no trump appears to be the most promising contract, as you want your hand led up to.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J 10 6 ♥8 7 2 ♦J 10 9 3 2 ♣K 9

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♣ Pass 1♦ Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass ?

What do you bid? A.—One no trump. This hand does not quite measure up to the requirements but it does have a partial spade fit plus two tens. An effort should be extended to keep the bidding open and the alternative of an immediate spade raise would be too drastic.

Scattered Wreckage

Wreckage was scattered around after a tornado struck the Villa Casita Trailer Park in Plano, Tex., yesterday. Forty-two persons were injured and as many as 40 trailer houses were destroyed.

Plano Twister Hurts 42, Cuts Swath Of Destruction

PLANO, Tex. (AP) — About 15 families in this northeast Texas community began looking for a place to live today after a vicious tornado swooped down on a trailer court at dawn Sunday, demolishing almost half of the 69 mobile homes in the court.

No deaths were reported but 42 persons were injured and damage estimates were as high as $300,000 at the Villa Casita Trailer Courts, where the twister cut a swath of destruction across one section of the courts.

The tornado struck without warning, taking a northwest to southeast path through the trailer court, occupied by about 350-400 persons.

LEFT HOMELESS
Twisted, gnarled pieces of the trailers were hurled through the air, many crumpling around utility poles and smashing into other trailers.

Ambulances, fire-fighting equipment and other rescue vehicles rushed to the scene from nearby communities, including Dallas, 25 miles to the south. The injured were taken to hospitals at Dallas, Richardson and McKinney.

The Department of Public Safety said 15 victims were hospitalized and 27 other treated and released. Two young children were the most seriously injured.

Those left homeless by the tornado found refuge Sunday night with neighbors or moved into apartments. Police said rescue units were working among the victims to give assistance. Plano police said they had a long list of area residents who had offered shelter to the disaster victims.

GRAB LOOTER

Three mobile units of the Dallas Red Cross were dispatched to the scene. Giles Boone, Red Cross disaster director, said families left homeless will be eligible for Red Cross assistance through funds provided by the Dallas United Fund.

The Department of Public Safety said 18 patrolmen were on duty Sunday night to guard against possible looting. One person was arrested Sunday after police said he attempted to loot one of the demolished trailers.

Many of the trailer homes were shredded into masses of rubble with their occupants buried under the debris. Firemen, police and other park residents worked quickly to free those trapped.

One dazed bystander was asked if he lived in the park. "I used to, right there," said Mack Harms, pointing to the jagged remains of his mobile home, which had almost been fused into his neighbor's trailer.

"No one saw it," said Harms. "There was no warning. The wind got real bad and within 60 seconds it happened. It lasted about a minute but it seemed like hours."

NO POWER
An unidentified woman said, however, that she "definitely saw a funnel" through her kitchen window.

"You wouldn't think the wind could blow that hard," said Gary Matthews, a park resident whose trailer was not damaged.

Ships Pulled Back From Sea Of Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says some of the 29 ships in the task force sent to protect U.S. reconnaissance flights off North Korea have been pulled back.

Referring to the ships in a terse announcement Sunday, the Pentagon said that "some of them will be entering port within the next 24 hours."

No numbers were mentioned, but a Pentagon source had said earlier that some of the task force would be detached, other ships would be kept in the Sea of Japan and still others in the Yellow Sea, bracketing the Korean peninsula.

First report of the reduction of the task force, sent to the Sea of Japan last week after North Korea shot down a Navy EC121 with 31 men aboard, came Sunday from Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

"I can say that the Defense Department has made the decision to protect our reconnaissance aircraft with support from our Air Force bases in South Korea," Jackson said in a broadcast interview before the Pentagon announcement. The Pentagon has not confirmed this.

Jackson spoke on the ABC program "Issues and Answers." The senator furnished the only explanation for the switches, saying, "you might call it cost effectiveness."

Soviet complaints about the Navy ships had nothing to do with it, Jackson added. "It was a decision based on the best military plan to handle this kind of problem."

The task force of four aircraft carriers, three cruisers and 22 destroyers was assembled mostly at the expense of the Vietnam Naval effort.

One of the carriers had been shifted from Vietnam, and it was likely the flat top would return there.

The Navy had said its Vietnam air effort was under a strain when the carrier left for Korea in the aftermath of the downing of the intelligence aircraft April 15.

Commission Lists 127 Completions

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission reported Saturday 87 oil and 40 gas wells were completed in Texas last week. This brings the year totals to 1,558 oil and 886 gas wells, compared with 1,583 oil and 742 gas wells in 1968.

Wildcaters reported eight oil and seven gas discoveries.

Safety Honors Go To Two

Two officers at Webb AFB have earned Air Training Command safety awards for outstanding performances within the last several months.

Capt. Jimmy Heisz received the ATC TOPS (To Promote Safety) Performance Award for operations, while Capt. Allan Fox won the ATC TOPS Performance Award for support.

Capt. Heisz was nominated for the award for his actions as a T-38 instructor pilot Feb. 11. During a night student contact flight, the aircraft rumbled and swerved right just before liftoff. Capt. Heisz took control of the aircraft and initiated afterburners. A locked right brake had blown a tire and caused the wheel assembly to be ground down.

Capt. Fox continued the take-off, remained airborne for 15 minutes to lighten the fuel load, then successfully landed the aircraft despite the hazardous condition. Though the aircraft again yawed right on the landing, Capt. Heisz was able to maintain directional control with the opposite brake and rudder.

Capt. Fox, chief of the Aviation Physiological Training Unit, earned the TOPS support award for his safety consciousness. He stressed safety in all aspects of the extensive APTU course instruction which student pilots as well as a majority of instructor pilots undergo. Webb's outstanding safety record has, in part, been traced to Capt. Fox's safety efforts.
