Soviets Make New Threats

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept. 18—Anglo-American airmen landed a record 7,500 tons of vital coal tonight in blockaded Berlin amid Russian threats of imminent "military action" against the airmen.

The Soviet - licensed ADN agency forecast the new Soviet drive aimed at smashing the vast fleet of sky trains which leap over the Soviet ground blockade.

The agency said that in view of the Big Four negotiations the "Soviet authorities in Berlin have refrained from taking a stand against the ill-famed air lift militarily as well as economically."

Airmen Are Praised

"Henceforth," it added, "they cannot assume that this reserve will be maintained."

Lt. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, U. S. Air Force commander in Europe, congratulated his airmen for the record air lift on the first anniversary of Air Force day, and said:

"The air lift is the most conclusive demonstration of peacetime airpower the world has ever seen."

The airmen made 890 flights, of these 651 in the 24-hour period were by Americans who landed 5,572 tons of coal.

Envoys, Molotov In New Talk On Crisis

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 (AP) — The western envoys met today with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov possibly to receive final Russian word on proposals for settling the Berlin crisis.

The usual secrecy surrounded the session—the 11th in the Kremlin on East-West differences in the past 51 days and the second this week.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith told newsmen after today's talks:

"The three western envoys had a delightful hour and 30-minute talk with Mr. Molotov. I have no comment."

Smith said he stayed behind at the Kremlin for a five-minute talk with Molotov. He said it was on a "purely Soviet-American matter" but would not divulge its nature.

No Increase In Prices Is Indicated

South Plains' Milk Supply Outlook Dark

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A GLOOMY picture of Lubbock's milk situation, starting early this year and expected to grow worse with cold weather, was painted by all phases of the industry yesterday, from producer to consumer.

The supply, already beginning to tighten—up to 25 per cent shortage with at least one major distributor—is showing up this year much earlier than in the past, partly most sources said, because of drouth that has cut grass and feed production.

The shortage is appearing at least 30 days early this year, compared with other war and post-war years.

Milk Shipped In

The one bright spot in the picture is for the producer, many of whom have turned to other farm production. Feed prices are moving downward, giving rise to hope in the milk industry that farmers will get back into milk production.

It sounds strange in this area which before the war made Lubbock the largest butter manufacturing city in Texas that fluid milk is being shipped in from other states, as far away as Ohio and Wisconsin.

One distributor here said a shipment of 30,000 pounds of fluid milk is expected early in the week from Wisconsin. Another has in the past, and expects in the future to ship milk from Ohio.

These sources say they cannot pay the long haul freight charges, and make a profit on such a product. One distributor said such shipments are sold here at a loss of two cents a quart, but it was felt that meeting the demand from consumers will pay off eventually.

Most Oppose Price Boost

That brought up the question of retail prices, and while most distributors quickly expressed opposition to a price hike, one felt that unless the supply can be increased, an upward price revision may become necessary.

Another major distributor felt that a price increase would be of no benefit to the supply, at least for this fall and winter, because the dairy cow population has been so sharply cut, and good dairy stock is not available as replacements for those that have gone to beef counters.

One distributor said strong efforts have been made to replace cows in depleted herds of producers, but that cows cannot be found.

What caused such conditions?

All sources, in and out of the industry, agree on these answers.

UAW Intervenes In Briggs Strike

(By The Associated Press)

The CIO United Automobile Workers union intervened Saturday in an effort to end a strike of plant guards at the Briggs Manufacturing Co. that has made nearly 60,000 automobile workers idle.

Elsewhere on the labor front, work stoppages involving 8,000 CIO production workers at two International Harvester Co. plants were called off and CIO stevedores began loading struck Army cargo at Seattle.

These were the developments by industries:

Arbitration Asked

Automotive: The CIO-UAW at Detroit asked Briggs to arbitrate its wage dispute with the 170 striking independent union plant guards. Briggs did not comment, immediately, but President James McGahey of the plant guards union said the company previously rejected an arbitration proposal from government conciliators. The 11-day-old strike has idled workers at Briggs, Chrysler and Packard.

Farm equipment: The CIO United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers union decided to return to work at Harvester plants in East Moline, Ill., and Louisville, Ky. Some 3,000 workers had been on strike nine weeks at the East Moline plant in a dispute over job reclassifications. The issue will be negotiated. Some 5,000 workers at the Louisville plant had been on a "continuous meeting" for 24 hours to discuss the East Moline strike.

Shipping: As CIO stevedores went to work on Army cargoes in Seattle, the Army Saturday night

Plan Of 'Re-Charging' Area's Water Supply Is Under Study

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

THE possibilities of "re-charging" as a means of maintaining an abundant underground water supply on the South Plains was disclosed Saturday to be receiving increasing attention and study.

The "re-charging" process involves, simply, the drilling of holes so as to speed the return of rain or snow to the underground strata from which well water is obtained.

One important development of the past week was the information that the High Plains Water Use and Conservation association will urge the inclusion of the re-charging principle in any water conservation laws which may be enacted by the Texas Legislature, at its regular session in January.

Also arousing much interest was the report by Herman Biffle on the results of a re-charging experiment he has been conducting on his place 1½ miles north of Petersburg. His experiences were termed "definitely encouraging."

One of the most enthusiastic and vigorous advocates of re-charging as a possible solution of South Plains water problems is Arthur P. Duggan, jr., of Little-

GOP Seeks To Strip Farmer, HST Warns

(By The Associated Press)

PRESIDENT Truman opened his drive for the farmers' votes by telling an Iowa throng that "Wall street reactionaries" and "Republican gluttons of privilege" are out to beat down farm prices and strip away farm benefits.

The Republican Congress, he said, "has already struck a pitchfork in the farmer's back."

The Democratic presidential nominee spoke Saturday to a crowd at the national plowing contest at Dexter, Iowa.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate, was headed for Iowa today. He will deliver a major speech at Des Moines Monday night. Both major party candidates have laid out cross-country stumping tours that will take them to the Pacific coast and back.

GOP's Called "Gluttons"

Time and again in his Dexter speech Mr. Truman referred to the Republicans as "gluttons of privilege." A farmer once himself, he rared back and talked to his predominantly rural audience in corn-crib language.

He told them that Congress gave the speculative grain trade "a rake-off at your expense."

The Iowa farm folks stood and sat in the hot midwestern sunshine to hear the President.

"Your best protection," he told them, "is to elect a Democratic Congress and a president that will play fair with the farmer."

Dewey Leaves Tonight

Although the Dexter speech was his first major address on Mr. Truman's 9,500-mile transcontinental swing, he had waved and spoken briefly to thousands of people as his 17-car special train rolled smoothly across Ohio, Illinois and Iowa.

He arranged to spend Sunday in Independence, Mo., his old home town, and leave tonight for Denver, where he is to make another major speech tomorrow. Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, are with him on the western trip.

Governor Dewey sets out from Albany tonight. His Des Moines address is expected to deal not

Air Force Sets New Speed Mark

(By The International News Service)

The U. S. Air Force observed its first birthday Saturday with a display of power filling the air with thousands of craft, some of which were flown non-stop from foreign bases, and announced it had set a new official world's speed record of 670.9 miles an hour.

Bombers, jet-fighters, transports, training planes and other assorted Air Force aircraft criss-crossed above every state during the day in a show which officials said were witnessed by millions of Americans.

Planes from Iceland, Hawaii, the Aleutians, the Azores, Japan, Germany and other American bases reached destinations in this country after flights of 4,000 to 5,000 miles, often on the nose, rarely more than a few minutes off schedule.

B-29 Crews Greeted

At Mitchell Field, N. Y., 40,000 spectators watched in awe as a B-36—largest bomber in the world—roared overhead and went on to New England. The flight originated at Fort Worth, Tex.

Air Force chief Gen. Hoyt T. Vandenberg, who attended the ceremonies at Mitchell field, was on hand to greet the crews of two B-29's who flew non-stop from Germany.

The first foreign-based planes to reach their destination were a

Three Hurt In Crash Of House Moving Truck, Car At Amarillo

AMARILLO, Sept. 18. (AP) — Three men were injured, one critically, tonight in the collision of a house moving truck and a car six miles east of Amarillo.

The collision occurred at Pullman road and the Dallas highway. Injured critically was Charles Truitt Eubanks, 25, of Dallas, a salesman for the United Meat company of Kansas City.

Eubanks was suffering from loss of blood from cuts on the face. Attendants at North West Texas hospital said he also received possible back and internal injuries. He was alone in the car.

Less seriously hurt were occupants of the truck. They were G. W. James, 28, of Panter village, who came to Amarillo a month ago from Big Spring, and Roy Evans of Plainview.

Four Held In Coffin Search

(By The Associated Press)

MADILL, Okla., Sept. 18.—Stories of a 13-month hunt for an Indian coffin reportedly lined with gold bullion were disclosed here today.

The report came out with the filing of charges against four Texans of molesting two graves in a cemetery near Kingston, south of here.

The four were J. B. Wright, 61; Sid Hall, about 60; Gene Jackson, 24, all of Sherman, Tex., and E. L. Jackson, 66, Denison negro. Preliminary hearing was set for Oct. 15 by Charles S. Grider, Madill justice of the peace.

A negro woman is also being held at Sherman pending extradition proceedings by Oklahoma.

County Attorney O. C. Brown of Marshall county said the search started more than a year ago when the government removed a group of coffins from land due to be inundated by Lake Texoma.

Coffins for which there were no markers were opened in an effort to learn identity of the persons. It was then

Plans For Fair In High Gear

PREPARATIONS for the 31st annual Panhandle-South Plains fair, which will begin one week from tomorrow, shifted into high gear Saturday, with every new indication strengthening prospects for the greatest exposition ever held in this portion of the Southwest.

Several announcements of importance included:

Most Lubbock merchants have agreed to close at 11:30 a. m., instead of the usual 1 p. m. on Tuesday, Lubbock day. This will enable women employes to attend the Queen for a Day programs, beginning at noon.

Booster Trips Set

Monday has been designated Lions Club day in tribute to the club's sponsorship of the "Queen" programs Monday through Wednesday. The Lions have underwritten a $9,000 guarantee to make this broadcast possible.

Preparations are complete for the last two of the four fair booster trips, scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday. Last minute reservations can be made until 5 p. m. of the day before each trip for any vacancies remaining available on the chartered buses.

Many of the exhibitors already are busy at the fairgrounds, and all are expected to get their spaces in complete readiness for opening day.

Jet Fighter Falls Apart; Pilot Safe

DALLAS, Sept. 18. (AP)—An Air Force thunderjet, hurtling at more than 600 miles an hour, flew apart in full view of thousands of spectators here today, but the pilot parachuted to safety and remarked, "that's a hell of an airplane."

Lt. W. M. Hart, 23, of Walker Air Force base at Roswell, N. M., floated into Mountain creek lake near Hensley field, where his speed flight was billed as the feature of the Air Force day celebration here. He was rescued in about two minutes by a Dallas man motorboating with his son.

Hart's only injuries were shock and a slight cut over the right eye.

Hart had just sped his jet past the spectators at an altitude of about 100 feet. When he had flown about half a mile beyond the crowd, he began a shallow climb. He had pulled the plane to about 350 feet when it disintegrated.

Then Hart's parachute opened, and the pilot drifted into the lake south of the Hensley field runways.

$400,000-Blaze Rages Out Of Control In Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 18. (AP) —Fire in the Wichita Falls meat and Provision Co., building here tonight caused damage that officials feared might reach $400,000.

The fire was still out of control at 11:45 p. m.

Company officials valued the brick and concrete building at about $300,000, and said it contained about $100,000 worth of meat.

Firemen said, however, that they might be able to save $10,000 or $15,000 worth of meat.

Johnson Left Off Ballot In Senate Feud

Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 — A 15 by 23 inch sample ballot, unique in Texas political history because it includes no Democratic nominee for U. S. senator, was sent to the state printer today by Secretary of State Paul H. Brown.

Just how long the space intended for the Democratic nominee for senator will remain blank depends on what the courts tell him to do, Brown said.

Brown sent the ballot copy to the printer in that form because he is under a federal court order restraining him from certifying the name of Lyndon B. Johnson as the Democratic nominee. The order was obtained by Coke Stevenson, charging fraud, in U. S. district court.

Ruling Due Tuesday

A hearing on the restraining order will be held at Fort Worth Tuesday. The judge will rule then on whether or not to continue the order in force pending a trial of the case on its merits.

If the judge modifies the order permitting him to certify Johnson, Brown said, it would be a simple matter to notify the printer to fill Johnson's name. If the judge orders a trial of the case on its merits, and continues the injunction in force, Brown said he did not see what else he could do but leave the space vacant until the court finally rules in the case.

In the midst of the confusion and the present uncertainty over whose name would appear in the Democratic column, the best legal sources were unwilling to comment on what might happen as the time for actual preparation of election supplies grows shorter. Absentee voting starts 20 days before the election Nov. 2.

Attorneys Prepare Case

Most lawyers agreed that "anything might happen" and that the courts will probably have the final say. Attorneys for both Stevenson and Johnson were concentrating this weekend on preparing their cases for presentation to U. S. District Judge T. Whitfield

MANSTON, Eng., Sept. 18. (AP) —Fifteen persons were killed today and 14 were injured when four Royal Air Force planes crashed during "battle of Britain" air shows.

The exhibitions commemorated the RAF's defensive stand against the German Luftwaffe during the Nazi blitz of 1940.

Ten of the victims died when a twin-motor Mosquito plane stunting over the Manston RAF base plunged from 800 feet, swept through a line of automobiles and exploded in view of 15,000 spectators.

Plainview Men Die In Car-Truck Wreck

Ira D. Cartwright, John Rainwater Are Victims; Car Plows Into House

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 18.—Two Plainview residents were dead and four injured, one critically, as a result of a car-truck crash about 11:30 a. m. Saturday at a crossroads about two miles northeast of Plainview in the unincorporated Seth Ward addition to the city.

Dead were Ira D. Cartwright, 45, who was believed to have been killed almost instantly, and John D. Rainwater, 19, who died about three hours later in Plainview Sanitarium and Clinic.

Injured in the accident were Wesley Cartwright, 20, driver of the car; George R. McGahey, 20, and Mrs. McGahey, 19, passengers in the truck; and Alvin H. Noel, 22, driver of the truck, who was critically injured. All are residents of Plainview, investigating officials reported.

Accident Toll Soars

The accident brought the death toll from traffic mishaps over the South Plains to at least 17 in the past 21 days. The total includes those accidents in the immediate area only.

Involved in the Plainview accident was a 1942 Ford coach, driven by Wesley Cartwright, and a 1946 International bobtail truck, driven by Noel. The two vehicles were approaching the intersection of a county dirt road about one mile east and one mile north of Plainview when the accident occurred, investigating State Highway patrolmen said. The car was approaching from the south, the truck from the east.

The car and truck entered the intersection almost simultaneously, it was believed the car swerving to the left and the truck to the right in an attempt to avoid collision. However, the truck struck the auto on the right side near the rear.

The impact drove the car a distance of about 88 feet, bouncing it into the nearby yard of the W. A. Neighbors residence, continuing on to smash into the porch of the residence and come to rest against the kitchen window, the front of the car projecting partly into the kitchen.

Miss Juanita Neighbors, 19, who was in the kitchen preparing the noon meal at the time of the crash, ran outside. "I saw Mr. Cartwright try to raise himself up

TEL AVIV, Sept. 18. — Israeli troops seized more than 200 Jews tonight and virtually placed under house arrest nearly 100,000 others in Jerusalem in a sweeping hunt for the murderers of UN Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte.

An official announcement said that 150 suspected members of the extremist Stern gang were arrested in Jerusalem after day-long, fullscale military operations.

More than 50 others were arrested in Tel Aviv and other parts of the country.

Sternist Leaders Arrested

An unprecedented curfew in Jerusalem began early this afternoon. No one was allowed to enter or leave the city where Bernadotte and his French aide were killed.

Stern leaders in hiding disavowed responsibility for the murders which shook the infant state.

Sternist leaders were among those arrested, however, and a "rogues' gallery" parade will be held for UN officials if they wish to attend.

Government officials said that Gen. Aage Lundstroem, the count's chief of staff who was sitting next to the two murdered men but was uninjured, will be formally invited to attend an attempted identification in a parade of the arrested suspects.

General Lundstroem declared officially in Haifa that it was a

Cooler Weather Is Foreseen For Area

Lubbock and the South Plains was promised a generally cool weekend by the weather bureau Saturday night. He said today and Monday probably would be partly cloudy and continued cool.

Temperatures are expected to range from the upper 80s during the day to the lower 60s during the early morning hours on both days, the weather station north of Lubbock indicated.

A cool front is moving southward from the Montana, Wyoming, and Utah areas. Although showers are due far south of this area, no precipitation is foreseen here within the next few days.

Heavy rains were reported over the Lower Rio Grande valley of Texas Saturday, the Associated Press said. Streets were flooded and traffic stalled in Brownsville; a torrential downpour hit Edinburg and other downstate points received heavy falls.

Youth Injured, Driver Sought

Highway patrol officials and city police last night were seeking a hit-and-run driver who struck and injured a 16-year-old boy on Avinger avenue, about a quarter-mile off the highway east of town, about 10:30 p. m.

Ernest Smith, son of Hugh Smith of 1611 Eighth street, was taken to West Texas hospital in a private vehicle, and an examining physician reported his condition as probably not serious.

The boy suffered an injury to the hip, probably not serious, a possible concussion, and multiple lacerations.

Batteries Stolen

Two companions, a boy and girl, who were walking with the Smith boy, were not injured.

R. A. Howell of 1214 Ave. G reported to city police that batteries from two parked cars had been stolen.

Theft of a watch was reported by Mrs. W. M. Hart of 2804 Twentieth.

Vol Farris, who has an office in the Leader building, complained that a fender skirt was removed from his car Saturday afternoon in downtown Lubbock.

The state highway patrol early Saturday arrested a man who allegedly was in possession of three cases of beer and a quantity of whiskey, but no warrant had been issued late in the day, newsmen learned.

FRESHMEN thronged Texas Technological college in large numbers Saturday, sending the enrollment figure soaring to approximately 6,000 before the day was over.

A count compiled by Registrar W. P. Clement at 4 p. m. showed 5,899 students had completed registration by payment of fees. By the time the final registration door had closed shortly before 6 p. m., an estimated 100 additional arts and sciences students had registered.

In addition, 200 freshmen engineering students unable to complete registration Saturday had left the engineering building. They received special permission to present their unfinished registration papers for admission to Saturday night's football game, since they will not receive activity tickets until they complete registration.

A total of 6,472 permits to register had been issued, Registrar Clement said Saturday afternoon. Although some who applied for permits may not complete the procedure, all indicated their intention by applying by mail or in person.

Classes will open Monday morning and registration will continue.

STATE DEPARTMENT LEAKS FEARED

FDR Used Navy Code In Effort To Avoid Leaks, Probers Say

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. —. Congressional spy probers revealed today that the late President Roosevelt believed serious leaks in wartime information were occurring in the State department.

As a result of this Roosevelt refused to use the official State department code in communicating with American officials in Moscow.

This hitherto undisclosed wartime secret was revealed by Adm. William H. Standley, former U. S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, who testified at a closed door hearing Sept. 16 in Los Angeles, Calif.

Standley appeared before Rep. Nixon (R-Cal)., acting as a one member subcommittee of the House un-American Activities committee.

Meanwhile, the committee prepared to continue its closed door sessions in Washington Monday. It has subpoenaed some 12 witnesses in addition to the 18 it already has heard in secret sessions.

Among those subpoenaed in the current committee investigation of Soviet espionage during the war, is Mrs. Louise Bransten, wealthy socialite accused in committee testimony of being a "contact" for American Communists.

The former ambassador stated that, when he became concerned over the use of two different codes for transmitting State department messages he learned that "the President felt he could not trust the State department code."

Standley asserted that at one point the President was apparently fearful of leaks in information to the Russians, then an ally in the war against Germany.

Used Navy Code

Standley stated that he protested that the use of two codes would confuse the continuity of State department records. The ex-ambassador testified:

"I cannot recall just how I received the information to the effect that the President felt that he could not trust the State department code; that there were leaks of news from the State department and that the State department code was a possible source of such leaks provided those codes had been broken and for that reason the President was sending secret messages to me in the Navy secret code which at that time had not been broken and probably has not to this day."

Standley said the President's messages were never concerned with naval affairs.

Standley expressed the opinion that the leaks in State department information could have been due to "disloyal personnel or a leak in the code." Regarding the latter possibility he said:

"What I mean by that is the Russians themselves breaking the code or the Germans breaking the code and giving it out."

Standley was ambassador to the USSR from February 1943 to October 1943. This was during the period when Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-admitted spy courier testified before the committee that Soviet espionage was active in government agencies.

Standley said that Roosevelt was the only person to use the Navy code while he (Standley) was ambassador. Standley explained that the State department continued to use its own code while communicating with him at the Moscow embassy.

He revealed that FDR's messages in Navy code were "always sent with the knowledge of the secretary of state," but he (Standley) regarded it as an unusual procedure."

Standley's testimony was voluntarily given after the former ambassador wrote a letter to Nixon advising him of the matter and expressing the belief that the information might aid the committee in its investigation of Communist wartime espionage.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalines to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

No Labor, So Commissioners Repair Farm Road Themselves

ATHENS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Henry Meredith complained to county commissioners Jack Mills and Joe Shelton that the road to his farm was almost impassable.

Labor is hard to get, but the commissioners told Meredith the road would be fixed if they had to do it themselves.

So, one day recently, two huge maintainers, with Mills and Shelton at the wheels, rolled through the streets of Athens to Meredith's farm.

Prior to receiving its present name in 1810, Manchester, N. H., was known as Harrytown, then Tyngstown and later as Derryfield.

From The Lubbock Album...

Lumber was hauled in 1906 from Canyon, then the nearest railroad point, to build the McLarry hotel, which later was operated as the Tremont hotel and the Lidel hotel. From 1914 to 1917, it housed the Overton sanitarium. The building, torn down in the 1920's, was located north of where Hilton hotel is situated on part of the site where McWhorter's now stands. The late B. D. McLarry, the father of I. R. McLarry of 1622 Eighteenth, built the original hotel and operated it several years, selling it to J. H. Quinn Sept. 18, 1909. Later owners included J. M. Patton, W. K. Dickinson, sr., Mary E. Gardner, S. N. Jackson and G. S. Daugherty. The above photograph shows several early day carriages and cars. The "horse-cab" drawn up before the center front of the building was owned by L. H. Simpson Transfer. Dr. M. C. Overton, who now lives at 2523 Twenty-first, bought the furnishings of the hotel in 1913 and began arrangements to convert the structure to use as a hospital. Dr. C. J. Wagner, who lives at 1644 Broadway, came to Lubbock in September, 1913, and he and Dr. Overton officed in the Citizens National bank building until the Overton sanitarium was ready for use in 1914. After three years at that location, they moved to the newly built structure which now is St. Francis hotel and where the West Texas sanitarium then was operated.

Both the state and the defense indicated they would be ready for trial.

A special venire of 200 men had been asked by District Attorney Lloyd Crosiin. Approximately 150 persons on the list had been served, a return of the sheriff's department showed. The venire is to report at 10 a. m.

Storage Space For Area's Grain Surplus Now Available At Field

The War Assets administration, which handles surplus government property, is now in the process of leasing buildings at South Plains Army Air field here for grain storage, and yesterday announced that more than 100,000 square feet of space is still available.

Lease contracts were closed the past week on several of the larger buildings, according to announcement from Duncan D. Myers of Dallas, who is in charge of the WAA program for emergency use of such facilities in the region.

Myers said that fourteen of the larger buildings at the base are available to bonded warehousemen, agricultural cooperatives and other organizations.

In addition, many of the smaller buildings have concrete floors and will be suitable for storage by individual growers, he said.

Myers said leases are now being completed for eight warehouses for the Lubbock Grain Storage company. One small hangar is being leased by Wayne George of Anton, and another is in the process of lease to the Herman Dawson Grain company.

He said applications are being received daily for facilities both at the base here and at the Pantex plant near Amarillo.

The buildings are available on the basis of one cent per square foot of space per month, with one month rental payable in advance, Myers said. He added that those interested may inspect the buildings here by contacting Ray B. Salter, WAA facility manager on the grounds.

Myers emphasized that WAA is fully cooperative with Commodity Credit corporation, lending agency under the government's price support loan program.

C Of C Membership Meet Set At Lamesa

LAMESA, Sept. 18 (Special)—Several hundred persons are expected to attend the annual membership meeting of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The gathering will hear an address by Dr. Bill Alexander, famed pastor of the First Christian church of Oklahoma City. Dr. Alexander, 33, is one of the most sought-after speakers in the nation, and is described by one listener as the "most dynamic and atomic speaker of the age."

Widely known for his work in the youth field, he has recently returned from a trip to Europe. C. of C. officials said that Lamesans were fortunate to get the opportunity of hearing him. A former amateur boxing champion, a war correspondent during World War II, he once turned down an offer from Hollywood and is reputedly "the most sought after young minister in America today."

A. B. Carpenter, president of the local chamber of commerce, will serve as master of ceremonies at the affair, and a picnic supper will be served. The meeting will be strictly informal and is open to everybody, C. of C. officials noted.

Among the notables expected to attend the meeting are Congressman George Mahon and State Representative Preston Smith, both of Lubbock. Out-of-town guests are expected from Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, Albany, Snyder, Abilene, Big Spring, Midland, Andrews, Seminole, Seagraves, Tahoka, Lubbock, Levelland and Plainview.

The smallest state park in the United States covers only 25 square feet on the slopes of Mt. Hood.

HAVE ROMANTIC LEADS—Miss Jeanetta Lewis, left, and Bill Thurman have romantic leads in "You Can't Take It With You." Miss Lewis, a sophomore at Texas Technological college, has appeared in college and high school plays. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Lewis of 2008 Ave. V. Thurman, a senior at Texas Tech, appeared in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" last spring and has taken part in other productions here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thurman, 1917 Twenty-fifth.

Lubbock Little Theater To Present "You Can't Take It With You" Here On Oct. 4

If it's comedy the public wants, the Lubbock Little Theater has come up with the answer in its first production of the new season, "You Can't Take It With You," satire praised by critics, to be presented Oct. 4 in Senior High school auditorium. Sale of season tickets will open Monday.

"The Little Theater organization feels that it has selected the best play of its type for an opener," officials announced. A full cast has been selected in two weeks and rehearsals have been conducted four nights. Rehearsals will be conducted four nights this week and four times next week.

Cast Is Announced

Quanah Lewis, playing the part of Penelope Sycamore; Mrs. John Robert Moxley, as Essie; Rhoda Lou Kelley, as Rheba; Dr. James H. Reynolds, as Paul Sycamore; Aubrey Thompson, as Mr. De Pinna; Richard Kelisky, as Ed; Jack Short, as Donald; Leon Harris, as Martin Vanderhof; Miss Jeanetta Lewis, as Alice; G. V. Pardue, jr., as Henderson; Bill Thurman, as Tony Kirby; Weldon George, as Boris Kolenkhov; Billy Hutchings, as Gay Wellington; James Pinson, as Mr. Kirby; Mrs. Ruth Wilson, as Mrs. Kirby, and Ganelle Etter, as Olga.

Mrs. Charles Cobb is director of the play. Last spring, when the organization presented "The Man Who Came to Dinner" as its first play, she was co-director.

Tickets Go On Sale

Mrs. Roberta Newell McGinnis is technical director, the same position she held when "The Man Who Came to Dinner" was presented.

With added experience, a larger number of persons from whom to pick the cast and organized committees to look after details that formerly devolved on a few, "You Can't Take It With You" is expected by Little Theater officials to surpass the earlier effort in entertainment and accuracy of production and characterization.

Season tickets will go on sale Monday in the lobby of Hilton hotel and at Musson's studio in Green Acres. Persons having any questions concerning reservations may telephone 8751. Price will be $5 for season ticket for four plays.

Tickets for the first play will go on sale a week later. Price will be $1.80 for reserved seat for the single play.

The patron membership drive has opened. Persons become patron members upon giving a minimum of $25. They receive two season tickets for reserved seats.

Parade To Open Littlefield Fair

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 18—A mammoth parade Wednesday morning will open the first postwar Lamb county fair and a varied program of entertainment and exhibits is expected to draw large attendance, fair officials said today.

On Thursday night the fairgrounds will be the scene of Lamb county's first annual Square Daneing festival.

Music Program To Be Explained

To introduce band and orchestra instructions available to Lubbock public school students from grades five through ten, a demonstration of instruments and an explanation of the school's program will be given at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Senior High auditorium. All parents and students who want to learn to play an instrument, as well as those who are now taking part in the school system's four bands, are invited to attend.

To assist with the demonstration Tuesday night, the Senior High school band will be on the stage in uniform. In charge of the meeting will be: Paul Branom, director of the Senior High band; Harry S. Born, director of band and orchestra at J. T. Hutchinson Junior high; Lannis Hope, director at O. L. Slaton Junior high; Benjamin F. Herring, Carroll Thompson Junior high and J. H. Penn, coordinator of instrumental music and orchestra director.

Instruction Provided

Special instruction is being provided by the school system of students in grades five and six, as well as for junior high school students and those students in their first year of Senior High who have never had any previous band or orchestra training.

According to Superintendent R. W. Matthews, elementary students may choose where they will take their band instruction, with centers being provided in each of the junior high schools. At present, band instruction for both Hutchinson and Slaton Junior highs is to be given in the band room at Slaton Junior high. Students in elementary schools may go for their instruction to the school nearest them. Instruction is scheduled for 4 p. m. in Thompson and Slaton Junior highs, and at 5 p. m. for those students in the Hutchinson district.

Classes in band are to be given on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, and in orchestra on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Band directors in the three junior high schools of the city will give instruction in both band and orchestra.

Branom and Penn stressed the fact that no previous musical training is required for students to take advantage of this free instruction in the school program. It is possible now to secure instruments, they said.

NO WARNING SIGNALS AT CROSSINGS—The Plainview cut-off highway, running from College Avenue to the Plainview highway north of Lubbock, crosses main line of the Santa Fe railroad at two points, neither of which have adequate automatic warnings that trains are approaching. It was at the crossing, shown in the two pictures above, that an automobile carrying four persons was hit Friday night, killing one woman and injuring her husband critically. The west approach to the crossing is pictured top left while the east approach is shown at the right. Bottom picture shows the approach to the crossing at North College avenue where the highway crosses the Lubbock-Clovis line of the railroad. Only the regular railroad crossing posts may be seen at the crossings. (Staff Photos).

Truman Takes Step To Enforce Non-Segregation In Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (INS)—President Truman, gave further indication today of his determination to enforce a policy of non-segregation in the armed services by appointing a committee to find ways of carrying it out.

The chief executive named former U. S. Solicitor General Charles H. Fahy to head the seven-man group to "examine the rules, procedures and practices of the armed services" and to make recommendations on carrying out his non-segregation order.

The order declared it to be the policy of the President that "there should be equality of treatment and opportunity for all persons in the armed services without regard to race, color, religion or national origin."

The White House said in a statement:

"The committee was instructed to confer and advise with the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Army, Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of Air Force and to make recommendations to them and to the President."

Death Stops Reconciliation Of Young Couple At Houston

HOUSTON, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—Death today had thwarted the reconciliation of a young Houston couple, who realized too late that their two-week separation should never have been.

Mrs. Jessie Evelyn Brast, 24, died instantly last night when a motorcycle driven by her husband, Lawrence, also 24, careened into a utility pole after missing a curve.

Brast remained unconscious for several hours, but hospital attendants said his injuries were minor.

The couple separated two weeks ago, but had been visiting their 4-year-old daughter together. Only yesterday, friends said, they announced they would "probably be back together soon."

RELIEF ROLLS SHOW INCREASE

Many Persons Still Need Relief Here, Chest Officials Report

Prosperity has touched its moneyed hand to many citizens as they have experienced increases in income during the present inflationary period, but, its running partner, the high cost of living, has forced numerous laborers and other workers into relief channels during the last year in Lubbock.

Speaking from his experience in studying the reports of various welfare organizations, Earl Kerr, manager of Lubbock Community Chest, said "The thing that has impressed me this year is the increase in number of people asking for public assistance over last year."

Many Receive Aid

Approximately 2,200 persons are indicated by records to have received public assistance in Lubbock during the first eight months of 1948. Of that number, 418 are Lubbock families representing a total of approximately 1,500 individuals and 700 are transient individuals or families shown by the records to have received public assistance while in Lubbock.

The total is almost double the number in the same period last year. Kerr predicted a still larger number in 1949.

Those receiving assistance may have received only a meal or a cot at the Salvation Army. They may have received surgery at a cost ranging upward as high as $250.

Some Incomes Too Low

Kerr said the increase in number of welfare cases may be attributed partially to the increased cost of living. There is a strata of workers whose wages have not kept pace with the cost of living and, "When any kind of accident or unexpected illness occurs, many have to call on some agency for assistance," he said.

The strata to which he referred includes workers classified as common laborers who depend on irregular employment for their income. "Their earnings just aren't providing that margin of safety they might have," said Kerr.

Others Get Assistance

The salaried person usually has someone to help when he is confronted with an emergency. His employer frequently will step in to assist.

The worker depending on different jobs, however, frequently has no one to fall back on except public agencies when his wife must have an operation, when he has to go to a hospital, when his children are in need or when other emergencies develop.

The "casual" employes suffer in such emergencies, he said.

Kerr said he was not referring to "professional" welfare seekers. Purposes of the confidential exchange operated at the Community Chest office include those of eliminating professional beggars and preventing duplication of efforts on the part of different agencies doing public welfare work in Lubbock.

Such an exchange was started several years ago by the Red Cross, prior to formation of the Community Chest organization in Lubbock. The Community Chest began operating the confidential exchange about a year ago.

It is not limited to agencies participating in Community Chest funds. The Red Cross, several churches, Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, the Crippled Children's council and the State Department of Public Welfare, for instance, do not receive funds from the Community Chest but contribute records to the confidential exchange and can call upon the exchange for information on whether certain individuals have received public aid elsewhere.

"We hope to build it up to include all agencies that do any type of relief," said Kerr.

In due time, the file is expected to prevent duplications to greater extent than in present. In some cases, duplications have been shown up by the file after they already had occurred.

The file is confidential in that information on individual cases is not divulged to the public.

The use of envelopes for mailing purposes began about 100 years ago.

PEOPLE LIVED HERE—"It's hard for those of us who have fairly decent homes to realize conditions some people do live under," Earl E. Kerr, Community Chest manager, said in discussing increase in number of welfare cases in Lubbock. He was speaking of places such as that pictured above. A woman and three children lived in the house, which is located in Lubbock city limits. They moved to another location within the last week. The family received food and clothing from Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross. The building, constructed largely of pieces of tin, has three window openings but no window panes. The room used as a kitchen has no window openings. Welfare workers in Lubbock frequently find people living in such places. (Staff Photo.)

Congress May Be Asked For New Funds For European Aid Program

By WILLIAM KERWIN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Allocation of more than four billion dollars left ECA today with only three-quarters of a billion to run the Marshall Plan until July, 1949.

ECA allocated one billion, 769 million dollars today to cover purchases till the end of the year. Two billion 500 million had already been committed.

An ECA official predicted that Congress would be asked in January to approve quickly a new appropriation for the foreign aid program to insure continuity and prevent disruption in Marshall Plan shipments.

The official asserted that the 786 million dollars probably could last until March, 1949, but not beyond that date.

The foreign assistance act passed by Congress authorized the spending of five billion 55 million dollars between April 2, 1948 and June 30, 1949. It provided, however, that ECA Administrator Hoffman with President Truman's approval could spend the money in 12 months instead of the 15 designated in the law.

Under this procedure, Hoffman would be expected to ask Congress to provide the necessary funds to keep the program running up to June 30 while obtaining another appropriation for the fiscal year 1950 which begins July 1.

Hoffman declared that today's allocation provides authorization for the purchase of material to be delivered in the fourth calendar quarter as well as allowing "down payments" on many industrial items which would not be delivered until as late as June 30.

He pointed out that additional payments would be required on the materials as they near completion and the delivery date.

This led an ECA official to point out that without fast action from Congress the procurement program could easily be disrupted with a "lot of countries left in the lurch."

Hoffman said that the quarterly allotment is substantially larger than normal authorizations because it is a part of new policy to permit the Marshall Plan nations to make "forward commitments" of ECA funds.

Broken down, the allocations were:

Britain, 500 million; France and her dependent overseas territories, 880 million; Italy, 235 million; Bizonal Germany, 140 million; the Netherlands, 130 million; Austria, 85 million; and Belgium-Luxembourg and Belgian dependent overseas areas, 65 million.

Greece, 60 million; Denmark, and the French zone of Germany, 35 millions each; Norway, 32 million; Netherlands East Indies and Ireland 30 million each; Trieste, eight million and Iceland, four million.

English Meeting Scheduled Here

Letters have been mailed to all high school and college English departments in the fourth district of the Texas State Teachers association concerning the English workshop conference to be held in Lubbock October 22 and 23.

The conference, a part of the program for the improvement and integration of the teaching of English in high schools and colleges, which has for the past three years been sponsored by the TSTA and the Texas Conference of College Teachers of English, will be duplicated in the ten other districts of the TSTA during October.

The purpose of these workshops is "to promote a better understanding of common problems and a more effective integration of teaching between high schools and colleges."

Three Sessions Planned

The 1948 workshop-conference of District IV of the Texas State Teachers association will be held at Lubbock Senior High school Friday and Saturday, October 22 and 23, with the English departments of Lubbock Senior High school and Texas Tech college serving as hosts to area English teachers. There will be three sessions: Friday at 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., and Saturday at 9 a. m.

Some of the practical problems to be discussed are: Duplication of high school work in college; methods of teaching composition — the assignment, structure, and correction of themes; problems in teaching of grammar, spelling, and punctuation; aims and methods in the teaching of literature; and the improvement of reading comprehension.

Small Fee Charged

A membership fee of $1 is charged to each member department to provide for the necessary expenses of the conference and of the district committee. Payment of this fee entitles each English department to send one or more representatives to the forthcoming workshop and to receive an account of the proceedings and findings of the district and state committees.

Payment of the membership fee in District IV may be made to Miss Quanah Lewis, department of English, Texas Technological college. Early payment has been urged to facilitate completion of plans for the workshop.

Members of the district IV English committee are Miss Glenys Honey, Lubbock Senior High school, general chairman; Dr. Alan M. Gunn, Texas Tech, program chairman; Miss Quanah Lewis, Texas Tech, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. J. B. Caldwell, Slaton High school; Mrs. Nils Ackeson, Plainview High school; and Mrs. Vada Bain Hall, Howard County Junior college, Big Spring.

Age Limit Reduced As Army Steps Up Officer Training

In order to help meet the demand for officers in the expanding Army the Department of the Army recently announced that the number of Army officer candidate courses will be doubled, while the minimum age limit for attendance has been reduced, Major Harold Fulghum, commander of the local U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station at room 203 Postoffice building, said Saturday.

Beginning in October, a new class will be started each month at the school located at Fort Riley, Kans. In the past a new class was started every other month. Approximately 200 students constitute a class.

The change in the age requirement now makes it possible for individuals who have reached their nineteenth birthday to be enrolled in the course. Previously, the mipimum age was 20 years and six months. The maximum limit remains 28 years of age.

Qualified civilians who are high school graduates may still enlist in the Army in the grade of sergent (formerly called staff sergeant) specifically for the purpose of attending the Army officer candidate school. Applicants who have not had basic training or its equivalent prior to enlistment will be sent to a training center for basic training before starting the course. Graduates will be given an opportunity to seek a regular Army commission by serving on competitive tours of active duty as reserve officers.

Former Tech Students Plan Reunion At San Antonio

Former students of Texas Technological college will hold a reunion at San Antonio the weekend of Oct. 25 and attend the Texas Tech-Texas A&M football game during the afternoon.

San Antonio Ex-Students and Alumni club members will entertain Pres. D. M. Wiggins and Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president, and members of the board of directors at a luncheon Saturday.

Board members will decide on plans for the inauguration of President Jones during the business session.

Game and luncheon tickets may be obtained by writing O. T. Lodal, Transit Tower, San Antonio. Game tickets are $3.00 and luncheon places are $3.50.

CHANGED COLORING

When Mount Katmai exploded on the Alaskan peninsula in 1912, Kodiak Island, 100 miles away, was covered with a blanket of ashes a foot deep.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for a printed diet. Barcentrate is not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate. It contains no harmful drugs, but does contain ingredients to make you feel better.

Barcentrate when mixed with grapefruit juice does this: First, cuts down your desire for sweets and fatty foods, but you do not have to FORCE yourself. Barcentrate takes care of your DESIRE. Second, dehydrates and eliminates, so that water is carried away—almost like melting fat. At the same time you feel better, more peppy, more alive, but never starved or hungry.

Lost 22 Pounds

"I lost 22 pounds taking Barcentrate and I feel much better in every way. I eat anything I want and I gladly recommend it to anyone who wants to lose weight."—Gertrude Billings, Route 1, Devine, Texas.

15 Pounds Lost

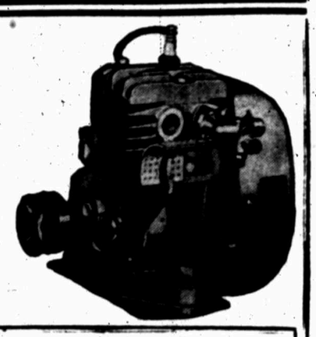

"I lost 15 pounds taking Barcentrate and can now control my weight. I feel much better in every way and I gladly say, 'It's Barcentrate to control the weight'."—Mrs. Gayle Matthews, 925 Threadneedle Street, Beaumont, Texas.

Don't Forget "Queen For A Day"

You Hear Strange Things About Catholics

Yes, you can hear some strange things about Catholics.

You hear it said that Catholics believe all non-Catholics are headed for Hell . . . that they believe non-Catholic marriages are invalid.

Some think Catholics believe the Pope is God . . . that he can do no wrong . . . that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America.

It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves . . . that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed.

The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins . . . that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory . . . that they adore statues . . . are forbidden to read the Bible . . . use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against the loss of a job, lightning or being run down by an automobile.

But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil.

If all these things—or any of them—were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every six Americans is a Catholic—and it would be a national tragedy if one-sixth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas.

The Knights of Columbus is an organization of 700,000 Catholic men of reason and intelligence. In our ranks will be found statesmen, scientists, historians, physicians, movie stars, lawyers, educators and others representing every cross-section of American life. And for each and all of them loyalty to the Catholic Faith is the act of a reasonable man.

We are deeply interested in the welfare of our Church and our Country. And we believe the interests of both will be served best when fair-minded people know the Catholic Church as it is—not as it is sometimes mistaken to be.

If you have heard and believed any of these false claims, and want the truth, we'll be happy to send you without cost or obligateion an interesting and enlightening correspondence course in the Catholic Religion. Write today to

National Broadcast Is Feature Planned For Cotton Meet Here

A coast-to-coast broadcast, The American Farmer, heard each Saturday over the American Broadcasting Company's network, will originate in Lubbock on October 16 as a feature of the Cotton Mechanization Conference to be held here October 14 to 16. The announcement was made Saturday by Jack Creel, farm director of KFYO, the Avalanche-Journal station, an affiliate of ABC.

The program, a regular Saturday morning half-hour feature of ABC and KFYO, is aired at 11:30 to 12 noon and will be staged at the Lubbock Experimental Farm, scene of the second annual Belt-wide Cotton Mechanization Conference.

White To Be In Charge

The broadcast will be in charge of Robert B. White, director of ABC's farm service and regular producer of the program. Tom Casey in regular master of ceremonies for the show, which will start in Chicago with introductions and musical selections by Rex Maupin's band, then switch to Dana Reynolds in Washington for the business side of farming. At 11:42 a. m. the show will switch to Lubbock.

"We will have 14 minutes to tell all of America about the history of this region, the type of farmer and his framing operation, tools used to make a crop of cotton, the crop year, mechanization of cotton and grain sorghums and comments from representatives from other cotton regions," Mr. Creel said.

Jones Central Figure

"Don Jones, director of the Lubbock Experimental Farm, will be the central figure around which we will build our story," Creel continued. "While on the air we will actually be looking at and talking about real machines, cotton and people. In the background will be a tractor working in a field. Our listeners will get a picture of the entire crop year under the mechanized tools of the industry, from the time the crop is harvested, the stalks cut, land broken, listed, planted, harrowed, cultivated, furrowed, defoliated and harvested."

Representatives Attracted

The Cotton Mechanization Conference, sponsored by the National Cotton Council of America, will attract more than 500 representatives of agriculture, industry and government to the 18-state meeting. Full delegations are expected from major farm equipment houses, the Department of Agriculture, the Cotton Belt land grant colleges, and the cotton industry. The conference will develop the general theme of the challenges involved in cotton production mechanization. It will deal with economic, social, and research aspects of the problems which directly affect the 13,500,000 members of the cotton industry.

Cooperating with the Council in staging the conference are the Texas Agricultural Experiment station, the Texas Extension Service, the Texas Statewide Committee for Cotton and the Plains Ginners Association. Demonstrations of mechanical equipment will also be staged as part of the three-day session.

Two Killed, Four Hurt In Wreck

off the ground and then fell back. I think he died immediately," she later told newsmen.

She also said that some of the injured were lying on the lawn, others walking around dazed and that Mrs. McGahey was in the truck, which had followed the car into the yard of the residence after completely overturning and coming back on its wheels.

While a neighbor, Mrs. Curtis Watkins, summoned a Row Woods Funeral home ambulance, the plucky girl checked on the safety of three younger neighbors children who a short time before had been playing in the yard, and sought assistance in turning off the gas to prevent gas escaping from a broken pipe in the kitchen.

Returning to the scene, she cautioned bystanders not to move any of the injured until the ambulance arrived, but Mrs. McGahey had already been removed from the truck by her husband.

Third Man Seriously Hurt

The girl's coolness may have prevented further tragedy. She had been standing about 10 feet from the window when she heard the crash, she said, and her first impulse was to rush to the window. Failure to do so undoubtedly saved her from serious injury.

At the hospital, the elder Cartwright was pronounced dead, his injuries including a crushed chest and fractured skull. Rainwater's death, which came at about 2:30 p.m., was believed to be the result of a head injury and possible internal injuries.

Noel, who was reported in very critical condition late last night, had a fractured skull, a fracture of the left shoulder, a broken rib and minor injuries.

Mrs. McGahey suffered a fractured pelvis and several cuts and bruises. Neither the younger Cartwright nor Mr. McGahey was seriously injured, both suffering only cuts, scratches and bruises.

Funeral Rites Set

Investigation of the accident was being carried out by the Texas Highway patrol, the Plainview Police department and the Hale county sheriff's office.

Funeral services for Ira D. Cartwright will be conducted at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at Plainview in the Wood Funeral home chapel, Rev. Walter V. O'Kelly, pastor of St. John's Methodist church there, officiating. Burial will be in Plainview cemetery.

Cartwright moved to Plainview three years ago from Hood county, and until a few months ago had operated a grocery and service station on Highway 70 on the east edge of the city.

At the time of his death, he was contracting for hay baling, and was on his way to Plainview to get repair parts for a baler when the accident occurred.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Ira L. and Wesley, both of Plainview; two daughters, Mrs. Calvin Gregory of Fort Knox, Ky., and Miss Madeline Cartwright, Los Angeles, Calif.; two brothers, A. L. Cartwright of Austin and W. H. Cartwright, Rochester, Minn.; three sisters, Mrs. J. B. Caudle, Eastland, Mrs. J. A. Massey, Fort Worth, and Mrs. D. H. Warfield, Austin; and his mother, Mrs. Agatha Jones, Austin.

Funeral services for John Rainwater were pending Saturday night. The youth came to Plainview six months ago from Eden to make his home, and had been employed for some time with Cartwright's baling crew.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rainwater of Eden; three borthers, J. T. Rainwater of Plainview and Clarence and George Rainwater, both of Eden; and two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Dalton, Odessa, and Mrs. Leon Parrish of Michigan.

Israel Hunts Killers carefully-planned and deliberate assassination.

A note signed by "Hazith Hamoledeth," or "front of the homeland," said "we killed Count Bernadotte because he worked for the British and carried out their orders."

But the Sternists leaders disclaimed a link with this group which an Israeli defense ministry spokesman described as a "sham" splinter group within the Stern gang.

Sternist leaders admitted they had placarded Jewish billboards last night with warnings to Bernadotte to leave Israel.

U. S. Officials Guarded

U. S. Envoy to Tel Aviv, James G. MacDonald, at the request of Washington's State department, told Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok that he had been threatened and "advised" to leave Palestine.

The aroused Israeli government stationed military guards around MacDonald's home.

They also placed guards around the U. S. consulate in Jerusalem occupied by U. S. Consul-General John MacDonald. It was this MacDonald who relayed the first official report last night of the killings and said they "presumably" were committed by the extremist Stern gang, or "fighters for the freedom of Israel."

bypassed the struck Waterfront Employers' association to complete contracts for handling essential Army cargo from West coast ports with CIO longshoremen. The cargoes to be handled are piled up at San Francisco. The Seattle cargoes are being handled through a firm that reached a contract agreement with the CIO longshoremen's union.

Oil: Although no headway was reported in efforts to end a 16-day strike of CIO oil workers in six California refineries, an oil industry official said the state's reserve supplies were increasing. Industry spokesmen attributed the increase to stepped-up production by independents and non-struck companies, reassembling of supplies, removal of gasoline from picketed areas and stepped-up production by supervisory workers at struck plants.

flight of superbombers from Iceland. They flew 4,555 miles nonstop to Pittsburgh, Pa.

German Flight Completed

At Mt. Clemens, Mich., two B-29 superforts landed at Selfridge field from Furtenfeldbruck, Germany shortly before Air Force Secretary Symington predicted in a speech that Detroit would be Russia's "No. 1 target" if war developed.

Not all the foreign-based planes made their destination, however. One bound from Japan to Minneapolis was forced down in an emergency landing at Cold Bay, Alaska. A Hawaii-Niagara Falls B-29 had to land at Salina, Kans., and still another from the Aleutians to Baltimore came down at Roswell, N. M.

No injuries were reported in these mishaps nor in the crash of a B-25 bomber during a Kansas City, Mo., anniversary fete. In that accident, the plane burned, but seven occupants crawled to safety before the blaze ignited.

U. S. AIR FORCE SETS NEW SPEED MARK OF 670.9 MPH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (INS)—The U. S. Air Force announced today it has set a new official world's speed record at 670.9 miles an hour with the revolutionary F-86 jet fighter.

Maj. Richard L. Johnson, 30-year-old combat veteran of Cooperstown, N. D., set the new mark Sept. 15 at Muroc Lake, Calif. It wiped out the record set a year ago by Marine Lt. Col. Marion Carl in a Douglas Skystreak at 650.7 m.p.h.

The swept-wing F-86, built by North American Aircraft Co., Inglewood, Cal., will replace the war-famed Mustangs and Thunderbolts in the new jet air force as rapidly as they are built. Six hundred and seventy-four are on order.

Four new jet planes were unveiled by the Air Force—a parasite launched and recovered by a mother plane; a penetration fighter for long-range bomber escort lacking in World War II; a night and all-weather fighter, and a sonic research plane.

Plains Milk Supply

that in the nation there are today about 2,000,000 less dairy cows than a 10-year pre-war average, and while the figures are not broken down by states and areas, local milk retailers believe that this area has lost more than a proportionate share of the cows.

Many Turn To Farming

Being a relatively new agricultural area, farmers were quick to turn from the gruelling jobs of a dairy herd to raising field crops that would net them more money and require labor only over a period of three to five months, compared with year-round confinement and work with stock.

And, the industry sees no relief from this condition unless and until cotton and feed prices drop to the point that it becomes necessary for the farmer to produce more of his food at home. It is no secret that many of them now produce little or none of their major possible food crops, depending on cash crops and the community or city grocery store for produce and vegetables.

Another major cause of the shortage cited by distributors is the rapid population increase here, made more severe during the fall and winter by the influx of college students, most of whom are heavy dairy products consumers.

Tech Demands Heavy

The college has a dairy herd, and usually during summer months has a surplus of milk and other dairy products which are offered at retail. But during the academic year the college herd will hardly begin to supply the needs of dormitory dining rooms, and cafeterias on and near the campus.

The supervisor of dormitories has told milk distributors here that at least 500 gallons of milk will be needed daily to meet the demand there. Whether this can be supplied was an unanswered question.

A practice one dealer said he feels is unfair is that of one or two distributors who operate wholesale distribution trucks that serve rural stores and communities far removed, thereby using that much milk originally earmarked for this city.

Agreeing that the shortage here already is up to about 25 per cent, dealers would not guess at the possible shortage when cold weather comes. Regarding the price—milk is now 22 cents a quart, home delivery basis here—retailers cited an increase in the last few days that brought the price at Midland to 24 cents, and at Abilene to 23 cents. Price to producers there is now $6.60 a hundred pounds, while here producers are paid $6.45 a cwt.

They hastened to add, however, a belief that a price increase would not affect the available supply. Regarding the shortage, they said the available supply would be directed to home users first, and that those requiring milk for health reasons would be supplied, even if it becomes necessary to cut the ration to non-essential users.

Fair Preparations

the Lions club, and Elmer East, chairman of the "Queen" ticket committee, are heading the group which is requesting the 11:30 a.m. closing Tuesday.

They reported that they discussed the matter with a number of the leading merchants and found them agreeable to the idea. The consequence was the formation of a committee which is contacting as many business houses as possible. The chamber of commerce has printed 1,000 placards announcing the 11:30 a. m. closing, and they are available to the establishments which will lock up at that hour.

East reported that Lubbock and the fair already are receiving international publicity because of the procurement of the "Queen" program during the first three days.

"Queen" Prize Announced

Jack Bailey, the master of ceremonies, has announced several times that he will be in Lubbock, and that the program will originate here, on Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

He also announced the other day that the big prize for one of the "queens for a day" will be an all-expense trip to Hollywood. He did not announce the day on which that particular award will be made. But the awards each day will be worth hundreds of dollars.

East emphasized that every woman who attends the broadcasts has the possibility of being chosen queen. The queen each day will be some woman in the audience.

Cards To Be Collected

Tickets to the fairgrounds during the times of the broadcasts are available at the Mark Halsey drug stores in Lubbock, at the Lions club offices in the Hilton hotel and at selected places in practically every community in the territory.

Attached to each ticket is a card upon which any woman can write the reasons why she would like to be queen for that day. This card will be collected when she enters the grandstand. She will not sign her name to the card.

From among these cards, judges will select the 25 which impress them most. These 25 women will be questioned further concerning their reasons for wanting to be queen. This will take about one hour — from noon until 1 p. m. From among the 25, the judges will select the five whose reasons appear most appealing and deserving.

Itineraries Given

These five women will go on the air during the worldwide "Queen" broadcast from 1 until 1:30 p. m. each day. The other 20 women will remain on the platform and will serve as a council of judges. They will select the two candidates out of the last five whose reasons for wanting to be queen seem best. Audience applause will select the final winner between these two.

'Gold-Lined' Coffin

that the rumors of the gold-lined coffin containing the body of an Indian woman began circulating.

Gene Jackson told county officers he had seen the coffin lined in gold but that the woman was unidentified.

Brown said workers were not able to find the coffin today but that they were checking further. He was unable to estimate the value of the reported gold.

The charges filed today followed disclosure that two of the removed coffins had been opened.

One steel vault Brown said, had been uncovered and the lid removed. A hole 24 inches long, apparently cut with a welding torch, was found in the other. Brown said about a dozen holes of various depths were found in the cemetery.

Barnes said today he has asked representatives of the U. S. Army engineers in Tulsa to confer with him since the cemetery is believed to be under federal jurisdiction.

Sample Ballot Sent

Davidson Tuesday.

The ballot sample mailed the state printer today is 15 inches wide and has eight columns. The printer will use it as a copy for other samples he will print and return to the secretary of state. The secretary of state will then mail to each county election board the sample ballot, and it is up to the county election boards to have the actual ballots—the ones the voters will mark—printed.

Amendments Included

Nearly one-half the bottom of the big ballot presents in pellet form the eight constitutional amendments that the last legislature ordered submitted for approval or disapproval.

No candidates are listed in the independent column for any office.

None filed for office. As the ballot now stands there are only two candidates for U. S. senator: Jack Porter of the Republicans and Sam Morris of the Prohibitionist party.

For Governor, Beauford H. Jester is the Democratic nominee; Alvin H. Lane, Republican; Gerald Overholt, Prohibition; Herman Wright, Progressive.

ALICE RESIDENTS ASK INVESTIGATION OF VOTE

ALICE, Sept. 18 (AP) — A group of Alice residents, led by C. W. Price, Jr., is circulating a petition asking for an investigation of the Jim Wells county vote in the U. S. Senatorial runoff of Aug. 28.

The petition is addressed to Attorney General Tom Clark, to J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, and to the United States Senate.

It refers particularly to precinct 13 in Alice—the precinct which has been discussed in contention between Lyndon Johnson and Coke Stevenson—the senatorial race candidates.

Price said tonight the petition would be circulated throughout the country starting Monday, and that next week it would be forwarded to the three agencies addressed.

Dewey Talks With Editors

Before setting out on his trip Dewey met at Pawling, N. Y., yesterday with about 100 farm editors from 30 states, for a fill-in on their views on agricultural conditions and farm policies. He told them the United States may have to "continue always" to feed western Europe.

Already he has come out for "a firm program of price supports at reasonable levels." That doctrine, announced after a conference with the heads of the House and Senate Agriculture committees Friday, was amplified in an interview released by Successful Farming magazine yesterday.

Barkley Predicts Victory

The No. 2 Democrat on the ticket, Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, chose Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for his first appearance on an eight-day campaign trip. He predicted victory for his party and blamed the Republican Congress for the high cost of living.

Warren guaranteed that Dewey will never have any trouble getting Communists out of the government—"he will never take them in."

Area Water Study

field, attorney for the High Plains association. The association membership, incidentally, includes representatives from practically every locality of the Texas Panhandle and South Plains.

Official Stand Given

Advocacy of inclusion of recharging as a basic principle of any water conservation legislation which may be enacted is set out in a letter from Duggan to E. W. Easterling, chairman of the water laws committee of the Texas Water Conservation association. The High Plains association has adopted Duggan's letter as being expressive of its official attitude.

Officials of the association acknowledge that more water is being taken out of underground reservoirs than is being put back by nature each year.

However, many authorities challenge the accuracy of some figures which have been publicized widely during the past few months. These sources claimed that underground water is being taken out at the rate of 750,000 acre feet a year, while these natural reservoirs are being replenished at the rate of no more than 50,000 acre feet a year. An acre foot, in round figures, is 325,000 gallons.

Figures Are Only Estimates

Association officials point out that there is no reliable formula upon which the 750,000 and 50,000 acre foot estimates could be based. Tests and studies simply have not gone far enough to provide information of that nature which is worthy of reliance. These figures are nothing more nor less than the guesses of individuals who take most alarming view of prospects. They ignore that in many portions of the South Plains, the water levels in irrigation and other wells actually are higher than when they were drilled 10 or more years ago, in spite of the fact they have been in constant use since that time.

But, as Duggan pointed out, more water is being taken out of the underground sands than nature is putting back. No one knows how much the net loss may be per year.

Duggan is convinced that recharging can reverse this trend and can be used as the means of maintaining underground supplies in abundant quantities for all future needs.

Fall In Area Heavy

As he points out, some 10,000,000 acre feet of water falls as rain and snow on the South Plains in an average year. Most of it runs off quickly or is lost through evaporation. Less than a half-inch seeps to the well sands.

His idea is to get this water back underground before it is wasted. He believes it can be done by drilling a large number of re-charging holes in places where water accumulates, or might be accumulated; after rain or snow. His thought is that, developed fully, the re-charging project ultimately might require as many as 6,000 to 9,000 holes. But the project envisions a much slower approach. There would be no heavy investment or extensive development until the practicability of the plan had been proved by experience.

Many sound engineers doubt whether the plan is practical. They don't believe the water would pour back into the underground strata fast enough to do any good.

Experiment Is Eucouraging

Biffle's experience, however, has been encouraging. A bachelor, he resides on a 320-acre place with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Biffle. He has resided on the South Plains since 1920. On the place is a tract of about 20 acres which fills up and forms a pond after heavy rains. The pond has covered as much as 17 acres and reached depths of five feet. The soil is exceedingly rich and Biffle would like to put this land in cultivation.

So, about a year ago, he bought a second hand drilling rig and dug an 8-inch hole 50 feet deep, reaching the first of three water strata which underlie most of the South Plains. The pond filled to a depth of about two feet following a rain a few months ago. Biffle estimates it contained about 38 acre feet of water. It drained down the hole within a few days.

The implications of the experience were considered favorable for several reasons. Duggan's plan invisions re-charging holes of 16-inch bore, instead of 8 inches, and depths of about 150 feet through all three of the generally prevailing water sands. He also is of the opinion that it is reasonable to expect that experience and experiment may develop methods of hastening the underground absorption of surface water through re-charging holes.

In any event, he says the plan will be pressed for consideration by any unofficial or official group which may attempt to draft water conservation legislation for Texas.

Tech Enrollment

Likelihood Saturday was that the final enrollment figure for the fall semester would settle in the neighborhood of 6,500. If it falls short of that number, "it won't miss it far," said the registrar.

To Provide More Facilities

"The enrollment in certain sections is well above our anticipation and we shall attempt in every possible manner to provide additional sections in order to take care of student demands," Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, said Saturday afternoon. He said departments had reported a large number of overcrowded sections and closing of sections that afternoon.

Of enrollment, he said: "I am happy about it, because I think it indicates an increasing confidence in the opportunities offered by Texas Technological college, which in turn increases our responsibility in attempting to provide for the needs of students from this section of the state and elsewhere."

Division Totals Given

The 4 p. m. count of 5,899 showed the following numbers in the various divisions: Agriculture, 793; arts and sciences, 2,116; engineering, 1,711; business administration, 845; home economics, 388; graduate, 46

The final enrollment figure by divisions at the close of last year's fall semester were: Agriculture, 796; arts and sciences, 2,039; engineering, 1,926; business administration, 835; home economics, 459. The enrollment of 116 in the graduate division last fall was included in those figures.

A late registration fee will be charged after 5 p. m. Tuesday. Friday will be the last day a student may register for the first semester. Saturday will be the last day a student may add courses.

The semester's social and sports activities got off to lively starts Friday and Saturday nights. The annual "howdy" dance was conducted Friday night in the gymnasium. Saturday night's West Texas State-Texas Tech game initiated the sports schedule.

Reception Is Planned

Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. the Women's Inter-club council will convene in the Hilton hotel to discuss club rules and activities for the academic year. Women's social club's rush week, with the first preferential signing of new members to be initiated, will open Wednesday at 5 p. m. in room 220 of the Administration building.

A formal reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Wiggins and Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Jones, who became president and vice president of the college respectively Sept. 1, has been planned for 7 to 9 p. m. Wednesday in Drane Hall on the campus. Dr. S. M. Kennedy, president of the faculty club, which will give the reception, will head the reception line.

Class organizations will begin to take shape Wednesday when the entire student body holds its first convocation in the gymnasium at 10 a. m. Clint Formby, student council president for the academic year, will speak to students, after which they will meet separately by classes and elect class officers.

There are approximately 100,000 automobiles in Mexico today.

TB X-Ray Tests Slated At Tech

Free chest x-rays will be made available by a mobile tuberculosis unit of the state health department to every student, faculty member and employe of Texas Technological college from Tuesday to Saturday noon.

X-ray equipment will be set up in the agricultural auditorium on the campus. X-ray examinations will be given from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

Hope that each student, faculty member and employee would take advantage of the free chest x-ray was expressed by Dr. Agnes True, chairman of the student welfare committee from the faculty.

Efforts will be made to have as nearly as possible 100 per cent of the student body and staff report for the examinations, she said.

"Discovery of any lung involvement in the early stages means that the disease can be arrested with practically 100 per cent success," she pointed out. "In cases where the x-ray shows that the disease is active, prompt care can very much shorten the period of treatment and prevent serious illness at a later date," she said.

Pamphlets printed by the National Tuberculosis association and received at the college state that, "TB in the lungs can be found long before you feel sick. An x-ray picture of the chest and an examination by a good doctor will tell whether you have tuberculosis. If TB is found early and you start treatment at once you can get well again. If TB is not found early, getting rid of it is a tough job."

Unit To Arrive Monday

The mobile unit will be brought here Monday. A staff from the health department will be present to operate it.

A supervisor from the health department will direct six local workers, who will fill out cards and keep the line moving to the x-ray machine at the rate of two and three per minute. Approximately 1,250 can be processed per day.

The Lubbock County Tuberculosis association started the plan for such a service in 1946. The first portable unit in the state was purchased by the State Tuberculosis association through sale of Christmas seals. The state health department now owns such units, which are supported by taxation.

India Takes Over In Conquered Territory

NEW DELHI, Sept. 18 (AP) — India cracked down today on Hyderabad by appointing a military governor for the conquered princely state.

This step was taken by the dominion of India as Hyderabad state troops surrendered unconditionally and a triumphant Indian armored column marched into Secunderabad, military garrison for the capital of Hyderabad.

A 7-pm to 6-am curfew was clamped on Hyderabad city, the capital.

Orders were issued for the arrest of Qazim Razvi, the fiery Moslem leader who had vowed holy war if India dared put foot on the "Holy Islamic Soil of Hyderabad."

Reliable sources said India would order dissolution of the Rakazars, the private Arx of Razvi. Whereabouts of Razvi was not known.

Prime Minister Jawaharal Nehru in a radio broadcast tonight congratulated all of India, including Hyderabad, for restraint and discipline and said "let there be no talk of communal and other false doctrines and ignoble urges giving rise to that antagonism."

Nehru shed no light on the future status of the Nizam.

Alleged Price Fixing On Ticket Manufacturing Hit By Order

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (U.P.) — The government has ordered 33 manufacturers to end an alleged conspiracy to fix prices and eliminate competition in the production and sale of tickets used by railroads, theaters, athletic arenas and similar enterprises.

Six trade associations also were ordered to "cease and desist" from such practices.

The order was issued by the Federal Trade commission which said the defendants "admitted" the charges, with some qualifications, and waived formal hearings.

The commission had accused the manufactures of using the trade associations as "clearing houses" for agreements to charge "identical and uniform prices" in violation of federal law.

The manufacturers named in the order included:

Southwest Tablet Manufacturing Co., Dallas; Buxton & Skinner Printing and Stationery Co., and Curran Printing Co., both of St. Louis, and Weldon, Williams and Lick, Inc., Fort Smith, Ark.

Court Dissolves Bus Strike Writ

Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th district Saturday dissolved a temporary injunction against defendants in the case of Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., against J. W. Thompson and others, and ordered that the case be dismissed from the docket of his court without prejudice.

The court ordered that the plaintiff and his sureties on an injunction bond be discharged from all liability on the bond.

Agreement Is Reached

The action was through agreement of counsel for both sides, Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw for TNM&O, and Gordon Treadaway for Thompson and others.

The petition asking injunction was filed May 22, after bus drivers affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen had gone on strike. A temporary restraining order enjoining defendants from interference with plaintiff's operations was granted at that time. The temporary injunction was granted after a May 26 hearing.

Judge Pardue, in his order, took notice of representations that the strike had been settled July 24 to mutual satisfaction of all parties.

First Again with MERTOX

Now — A QUART of Medicine for $1.00

Now you can save $4.00 with the NEW Mertox. We know that the thousands of users of Mertox will welcome this drastic innovation. Better health —MORE medicine for LESS money.

Thousands of bottles of liquid Mertox were sold at $1.50. A few months ago we reduced the price to $1.25 because we realized incomes would not s-t-r-e-t-c-h far enough. This price reduction increased our sales volume tremendously. However, we were still not satisfied, for we felt that what was really needed was MORE medicine for LESS money.

But with constantly increasing costs of raw material, bottles, labor, freight rates, etc., we just could not see any possibility of a further reduction.

So we figured: why not eliminate the bottle, the high transportation costs, the extra labor costs of compounding, filling, capping, labeling and a great many other operation costs and put up Mertox in a simple form so that the user could make it himself? Here it is: Mertox in powder form, ready to make by simply adding water. For a few minutes' work you can save $4.00. It's simple; it's easy. Full, illustrated instructions on the package for making and taking.

The $1.25 bottle of Mertox contains 8 ounces. So do a great many other medicines. Thus, whether you used Mertox or some other 8-ounce bottle of medicine, here is the way it figures:

Four 8-ounce bottles (1 quart) at $1.25	$5.00
One carton the NEW Mertox (makes 1 quart)	1.00

BETTER HEALTH WITH MERTOX

It has been found by researchers that many physical discomforts often arise from the accumulation of poisonous waste matter in the system and from the lack of certain health-giving elements supplied in plants by nature.

Mertox goes to work quickly to help overcome the torturing pains of rheumatism. It tones the bowels into a more rhythmic action. Gas and Bloat, indigestion, sour stomach are quickly relieved. Kidney and bladder troubles are helped so that the annoying broken rest from having to get up frequently at night is lessened. Dizziness and run-down feeling is overcome quickly. Helps to build rich, red blood. Mertox can be taken by every member of the family. It contains no narcotics, opiates or calomel and will not make you sick or nauseate you in the slightest degree.

Ask your druggist for the NEW $1.00 Mertox package. All Texas wholesale drug houses have been stocked. If your retail druggist has not stocked the NEW Mertox yet, he can get it quickly from his wholesale house.

Villanova Trounces Texas Aggies, 34-14; Texas Batters L S U

Texas Tech's Red Raiders Subdue Buffs, 19-0

THRILLING RUN IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL OPENER—Glenn Lewis, right halfback of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, is shown (No. 20) as he broke off his own left tackle early in the third period for a 20-yard gain. Lewis brought the ball up to the Tech 30-yard line and the Raiders swept down the field from there for the first of their two touchdowns. West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon put up a great fight before approximately 16,000 fans in Jones Stadium, before going down to defeat, 19-0. In the staff photo by Bill Hams, Lewis is shown just before big Cloyce Box, WTSTC quarterback, came in to make the tackle. To Box's left is Bill Kelley, Tech right end, and other Buffalo players in the picture, left to right, are Vic Bates (34), Leon Chapman (76), Charles Kitchens (85) and, lying on the ground, Lloyd Johnson (44). The Raiders appeared sluggish in the first half and could not gain consistently against the aggressive Buff forwards, but the second half was a different story.

Villanova Gives Texas Aggies 34-14 Whipping

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 — Villanova's visions of a highly successful 1948 football season took on a tinge of reality today when the Wildcats whipped Texas A & M 34 to 14 in the opening game of the season.

A crowd estimated at 35,000, probably the largest ever to see a Villanova home game, watched the game in shirtsleeve weather.

Although the score almost reversed the Aggies' 33-7 count in their only previous meeting, it wasn't the size of it as much as the way the team performed that made the big, experienced Wildcat team look impressive.

Wildcats Threat to Army

Off today's performance, the Wildcats, with Andy Gordon, Bob Polidor and Ralph Pasquariello spearheading the attack behind a huge line, loom as a distinct threat to Army next Saturday.

Pasquariello, a 225-pound, line plunging fullback from Everett, Mass., scored three Villanova touchdowns. Gordon passed to John Bogan and Joe Rogers for the other two.

Highlight for the Aggies was Charlie Royally's 93-yard runback of a punt for their second tally. Royally, a 155-pounder from Freeport, Texas, was playing his first game of college football. Wray Whittaker, a tall end from Houston, galloped 48 yards for the other Aggie score after intercepting Gordon's first pass.

Villanova Improves

Villanova, trailing 0-7 after only a minute and 50 seconds of play, improved visibly as the game progressed. The Wildcats line play was ragged and their attack stodgy in the early stages. At the finish, it was a smooth-working machine that could gain on almost any kind of play.

Villanova tied the score in the second quarter when Pasquariello's plunge climaxed a drive that began when Turley's attempted field goal for the Aggies was blocked.

Speedy Steers Beat LSU, 33-0

By BO BYERS
AP Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 18—The Texas Longhorns showed power and speed aground as they whipped the Louisiana State Tigers 33 to 0 here today before 47,500 shirt-sleeved spectators.

With Quarterback Paul Campbell filling the shoes of Bobby Layne in capable fashion, the Longhorns smacked across the goal line in every period except the second and made good three of five extra point attempts.

No Tiger Threat Made

The Tigers did not make a serious scoring threat, and it was the fine punting of their fullback, Rip Collins, that kept them from perhaps a worse defeat.

A brilliant punt return by Right Halfback Billy Pyle from the Texas 42 to the LSU 23 set the stage for the first tally. Pyle splashed through for 14 to the 11. Fullback Tom Landry powered for six more yards to the Tiger five; Pyle added four, then Landry ripped through center from the one-foot line. Frank Guess kicked the extra point and Texas led 7-0 late in the first quarter.

Another punt return of 30 yards by Perry Samuels, substitute halfback, put the ball on the Tiger 30. Guess carried to the 14, and substitute Fullback Ray Borneman roared off left tackle to hit pay dirt with one second remaining in the initial period. Guess' try for point from the 17 was short.

McCall Receives Pass

Midway of the third quarter, after Campbell's pass to End George McCall put the Longhorns on the Tiger 28, Samuels went around right end, turned on the steam and cut across the corner as he was tackled. Guess converted and Texas led, 20-0.

Substitute Quarterback Bill Allen came in and started connecting on passes. He hit Samuels for 27 yards, carrying to LSU's 17, and four plays later, Pyle plowed left guard for two yards and a touchdown. Guess' kick went wide.

Dill Leads Kilgore To 34-14 Victory Over Ranger College

KILGORE, Sept. 18 (AP) — Fullback Bobby Dill led the Kilgore Junior College Rangers to a 34 to 14 victory over Ranger Junior college here tonight.

Dill passed to Dick Lipscomb for three yards and a touchdown and scored two himself on runs of 25 and one yards.

D. C. Chancey's ten-yard pass to End Bobby Jones accounted for another Ranger touchdown and his 21-yard aerial to Warren Ramsey picked up another.

CARDINALS WIN, 15-7

BEAUMONT, Sept. 18. (AP)—The Lamar Cardinals made their 1948 grid debut a successful one tonight in Purple stadium as they struck twice in the air and twice on the ground to crush the Brownsville Scorpions 15-7 before 3500 fans.

Horned Frogs Shade Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kas. Sept. 18. (AP)—A beefy Texas Christian University football team outlasted Kansas' Jayhawks for a 14-13 victory today in a game marred by fumbles and blocked kicks.

An estimated 26,000 fans, largest crowd ever to attend a Kansas university home opener, watched the lighter Jayhawks battle the big Horned Frogs furiously before dropping their first regular season loss in 15 games.

The sweltering heat took the edge off offensive play and both teams appeared spent after the first half.

Both Get Breaks

Blocked punts accounted for two touchdowns—one for TCU and one for Kansas—and a fumble set up another marker for the Texans.

The Horned Frogs, after twice being stalled deep in Kansas territory got a break on the last play of the first quarter that set up the first touchdown. Randy Rogers pounced on a Kansas fumble ten yards from the Jayhawks goal line. Bud French, halfback had dropped a lateral from Quarterback Dick Gilman.

It took TCU only four plays to score after the turn of the quarter. All-Southwest conference Fullback Pete Stout, cracked through center from the one-yard line. Homer Ludiker's place-kick put the Texans ahead 7 to 0.

Neither team scored in the second period.

Kansas got back in the game three minutes after the second half kickoff. End Dave Schmidt blocked Leon Joslin's punt on the TCU 29-yard line. Hugh Johnson, Kansas tackle, scooped up the ball and sprinted for a touchdown.

Placement Is Wide

Forrest Griffith's attempted placement was wide.

The next blocked punt for a touchdown went to the Texans five minutes later.

TCU held a slight advantage in statistics, making ten first downs to 8 for Kansas and leading in rushing yardage 148 yards to 144. Kansas gained 83 yards passing, TCU 74.

Griffith, chiefly because of his 67-yard sprint, led the rushers with an 8.7 average in nine plays.

Fumbles proved costly for the Kansans who were able to recover only one of six bobbles, while TCU lost only one of four.

The victory was the fourth in the series for TCU against no defeats. Two ended in ties.

Lubbock Takes Third Place In National Tourney

Phoenix Beats Sunbeamers, 4-1

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 18. (Special)—Lubbock's Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers were eliminated from the National Softball Congress tournament by the Phoenix, Ariz., nine here tonight, 4-1; but the loss in the semi-final tilt still gave the Sunbeamers the third spot in the national meet.

The Lubbock crew went ahead in the third inning, when Roy Butler singled home James Abbott, but the Arizona representatives pushed across four runs in the bottom of a wild fifth stanza to clinch the triumph. Phoenix tallied their four runs on Vance Adams' single and R. K. Warren's triple and a Lubbock error.

Warren (Stringbean) Pope hurled two-hit ball for the Texans tonight, but the Arizona crew bunched both their safeties in the fatal fifth frame. Pope struck out five batters.

Abbott led the Lubbock nine at the plate, connecting for three hits in three official trips.

Oregon State Opens Season With 27-12 Win Over Idaho

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 18. (INS)—Under a torrid summer sun, Oregon state's Beavers opened the 1948 Pacific Coast Conference season today with a 27 to 12 win over a game but out-manned band of Idaho Vandals.

The Orange, using a widely diversified attack, punched across the first goal after six minutes of play, with Fullback Andy Knudsen carrying the ball. Right End Stan McGuire's placement was wide.

Sparked by Halfback Dick Gray's passing, the Orange scored again early in the third as Dick Twenge plowed over from the two. McGuire's kick was good.

Sophomore Idaho Back John Brogan sneaked 37 yards on a fake pass for the first Vandal tally. Overgaard missed the conversion.

The last pair of Orange scores came in the final period. Don Samuel slipped 16 yards for the third touchdown, while Gray threw a 39-yard pass to Dick Twenge for the fourth score. McGuire made the last pair of conversions, giving him three for four during the day.

Fourteen of the 62 touchdowns in Miami's 14-game Orange Bowl series have been scored on plays covering 50 yards or more.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

While there is little point in fanning a dying ember, we want to exhume the still firm remains of the recent Shaughnessy playoffs between Amarillo and Lubbock, particularly as regards the much disputed size of the crowds attending the local games. After all, those three games led to a sour climax on an otherwise fine season by a green Hubber nine.

We have been told that we were not fair to Virgil Richardson, that we did not present his side of the case. Let it be known now that we had the greatest respect for Rich as a ball player and as a man. Without his big bat and fielding, it is questionable whether the Hubbers would have made it into the playoffs. He was as consistent as day and night and if anyone thinks his big bat didn't have a lot to do with Hubber success, they are mistaken. He had a lot to do with it and everyone connected with the team knew it.

And when Rich doubted the announced size of the crowd, he was speaking his honest convictions. It was his belief that there were more presons in the stands than had been announced and he said so, emphatically. He had no basis for this conviction, other than his personal estimate by looking at the stands. But a lot of persons agreed with him. The thing that was bad was the way in which he stated his convictions before rookies, teammates, fans in the clubhouse and this writer. He took the wrong place to say what was on his mind. If he had any disagreement, he should have gone to the business office for a detailed explanation.

That explanation would have been complete and concise. General Manager Larry Larsen showed us the complete breakdown on the three games by ticket windows and advance sale at the Hub Clothiers. He told us a lot that we did not know and reiterated a lot that we did know. For instance, each time the club buys a roll of tickets from the printers, both the printers and the ball club must submit the total number of tickets, with the serial numbers, to the Internal Revenue department. And if all the tickets are not used up, they must be kept until checked by the department.

Moreover, the announced attendance is the actual paid attendance at the game and does not include advance sales at the Hub Clothiers. For the playoffs, the Hubbers sold tickets only for two games, telling fans that if a third game was played, tickets would be put on sale the day of the game. Between 1,000 and 1,500 tickets were sold in advance. There were some pass tickets, which are not counted in the total attendance. And there are always some persons who come over the fence, despite precautions. There may have been 4,000 or more at that Saturday night game.

In that case, Richardson had grounds for his belief, based on observation from the field. You see, the players get 21 cents on each $1 admission during the first four games and it is easy to see how any one, or more, might have reason to doubt the size of the crowd. But if there were more than 3,605 fans there that night, they were there through one means

Lewis, Conley Spark Second Half Attack

Tech Chalks Up Border Conference Win Over Stubborn WTSTC Eleven

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Journal Sports Editor

Texas Tech's defending Border Conference football team made its first appearance of the season a successful one last night in Jones Stadium, turning back a stubborn West Texas State Teachers college eleven 19-0 before a crowd of approximately 16,000 fans.

The sluggish Red Raiders were held to a safety in the first half, but superior reserve power told in the second half, when Glenn Lewis and Bud Conley reached pay dirt on touchdown jaunts and Charley Reynolds booted a 25-yard field goal.

The Buffaloes threatened to hold the Raiders with no more than a safety last night, the husky Canyon line stopping the backs almost in their tracks in the first half. And the Buffs gave an excellent imitation of an eleven ready to burst wide open at the scoring seams any moment.

Raiders Rally Late

The Raiders came back in the second to pound gaping holes in the Buff line, sending the backs through the center, off tackle and around the ends almost at will. It took the Techsans only eight minutes to drive 90 yards on 10 plays, Glenn Lewis taking Ernest Hawkins' pass in the right flat and picking his way through a host of tacklers for the score.

And two minutes later they scored again in three plays, after Luke Thompson recovered an onside kickoff, with Bud Conley skirting right end for the touchdown.

Charley Reynolds, the Raider speed merchant, showed an educated toe to replace the missing Ralph Earhart, booting two conversions perfectly and adding a beautiful field goal with only two seconds remaining in the game.

Tech Holds Edge

The statistics, virtually even the first half, showed Tech's advantage in the final two stanzas. The Raiders amassed 217 yards rushing, net, against 85 yards for the visitors and the home team held a 12-7 marging in first downs. Tech's punting, while the average was poorer, sparkled at times. Zac Henderson booted out on the Buff six-yard line once and on the two-yard line on another occasion. And Cal Steveson got off a quick kick early in the game that rocked the Buffs back deep in the shadow of their own goal.

Several Raiders turned in outstanding performances last night, with Dan Pursel, John Andrews and Luke Thompson showing up particularly well among the linemen. Reynolds, Lewis, J. W. Thompson and Steveson were the outstanding backs on the field, although Tim Hatch's defensive work and Henderson's kicking played a large part in the victory.

It was Steveson's quick kick from the Tech 21-yard line to the Buffalo 17 that led to the safety in the first quarter. Halfback Bill Cross, a hard runner, made a yard on a handoff from Cloyce Box and Andrews stopped Lloyd Johnson for no gain. On the next play, Andrews broke through the line to block Boyd Williams' kick, the ball bouncing back over the goal for a safety.

Raiders Roar Back

The half ended without much more than midfield action by either team, but Tech came back roaring to start the final portion of the game. Tech received and could not move, Steveson booting to the Buff 48-yard line. Cross made four yards and Johnson lost one, followed by another Cross gain of two yards off tackle. Boyd Williams kicked to Hatch on the Tech six-yard line and he slipped, getting only to the ten.

Then the march started, with Lewis and Steveson eating up the yardage. Lewis gained 43 yards in four carries and Steveson made 27 in the same number. A Hawkins to Bill Kelley pass was no good, but Hawkins passed 10 yards to Lewis standing on the ten and he went over. Reynolds converted and Tech led 9-0.

Tech kicked off and as Buffalo players stood around watching the ball, Luke Thompson fell on it as it rolled on the Buff 31-yard marker. Steveson went through center on a guard trap to the Buff eight-yard line and Lewis went through center to the one. A five-yard penalty moved Tech back to the six, but Bud Conley took a handoff and went around right end untouched with the final TD. Reynolds again converted and Tech led 16-0.

Buffs Stage Drive

The Buffs drove down the field on a good passing attack late in the fourth quarter, a drive that started on their own 24-yard line and ended on fourth down on Tech's 24. Here J. W. Thompson rose above the other backs, pile-driving his way through the Buffs and moving the ball all the way to the Buff three-yard line. But Hawkins elected a pass and was trapped back on the 15, with only two seconds remaining.

Reynolds dropped back and booted a perfect placement and the game was over, as Tech made its first defense of the conference title. It wasn't an impressive victory and the Raiders show need for a lot of polish, but it was well earned.

Yale will play seven home home games during the 1948 football season, traveling to two contests — with Wisconsin and Harvard.

Westerners To Meet North Side

Crucial Grid Tilts Scheduled In Area

Crucial non-conference tilts and four important district tussles take over the South Plains spotlight this week, as some of the area elevens move into their fourth week of competition.

Lubbock's Westerners, losers to San Angelo's Bobcats last week, go to Fort Worth Friday to battle the powerful North Side Steers in a clash between a District 1-AA representative and a City conference eleven. The Westerners are still seeking their first win of the season, after a tie with Odessa and a loss to San Angelo, but the North Side crew has a .500 record. The Steers beat Tyler in their opening tilt, but lost to an improved Odessa team last week.

Eyes of West Texas football fans will be on Sundown Friday night when the Levelland Lobos battle the strong Roughnecks in a north half District 4-A encounter. Levelland and Sundown are two of the top favorites in the loop, and the winner of the tilt will be an odds-on choice to cop the north half championship.

One south half 4-A clash will be unreeled, with Post journeying to Seagraves to tangle with the inexperienced Eagles. In District 5-A, Andrews' surging eleven goes to Wink for a title setto, while favored Monahans plays host to the McCamey Badgers.

The complete weekend slate, by districts:

District 1-AA: Lubbock at North Side, Fort Worth; Childress at Borger; Amarillo at Abilene;

College Grid Setup Scored

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The magazines are filled with previews of the football season, but there's nary a hint in any of the dream articles as to whether this is the year of great gridiron rebellion.

It must come eventually. For beneath its rah rah rind the college football picture is pretty rotten and it isn't getting any better. The excesses that caused the so-called Carnegie report of a decade and a half ago are today standard practice at all but a handful of schools.

The average player on the pressurized college eleven in 1948 will be a furtively paid pro who was scouted and signed as frankly as his counterpart in professional baseball and is being so grossly exploited that—if he had a union—there would be indignant mass meetings on village greens.

He will be kept scholastically eligible by hook or crook and will be called on to risk life or limb each Saturday, and during weekday scrimmages, for a two-fold reason: (1) to help provide a team which will win consistently enough to enable dear old Butch Beeswax, the coach, to ward off scalp-lifting alumni, and (2) to help provide a team which will be invited to a bowl game—which could mean as much as $100,000 to the school's general athletic funds.

Not Even Thank You

Let our hero break a leg and, for want of a bullet to finish him off, he may find his athletic scholarship snatched from him and given to some new kid freshly trapped in the coalfields. His clock-winding job will go to. If he is hurt late in the season—perhaps permanently—he may be kept on the cuff for a while and then dropped, with hardly a thank you and certainly not a promise to provide balm for the wounds in later years.

Our hero is well-indoctrinated in the old alma mammy business—the blunt instrument which the coaching hierarchy have been pounding on the heads of willing numbskulls for a long time—and woe betide him if he asks what the school is making out of him, via expensive tickets, radio and television sponsorship and the boldly coveted bowl games.

If he gets kind of interested in what the professors are saying in the classrooms and figures he might as well fit himself for a profession while he's working on the football team, somebody in the athletic office is quite likely to tell him to take it easy with such excesses. They don't want his brain overtaxed by irrelevant outside interests, and they know that if he gets himself embroiled in some dismally intricate course, like engineering, he might have to miss the bruising week-day practices, and what good would he be to the team at that rate?

If his morale drops after engaging in a schedule that would make a transplanted gladiator beg to be carried back on his shield to the hungry lions, he is told he's a lucky stiff to be able to travel like a millionaire to the big city the following week-end . . . and what a time he's going to have on the gay white way, etc.

Coach Takes Bows

So if it's New York, he gets as far as the 125th street station, is whisked off to the country, sent to bed after dinner, brought like a prize beef to the stadium just before the game, and carried back to his upper berth on the train leaving just after the blood-letting.

He is taught from earliest bumhood that he is but the tool of Butch Beeswax, that he is to do no thinking of his own. If he gets away for a 9-44/100th yard sprint to a touchdown it is Butch who gets the $500 spot on "We The People," not our hero, and Butch who takes the bows and whatever else is lying around.

Our hero will be tormented this year by tales of wondrous payments for other college players . . . tales that are rife in college football today and are not wholly without foundation. He will hear about the Georgia star of a couple of years ago who got a free apartment, free car, $5,000 bonus and $50 a week spending money . . . and the young brother of a Michigan star who turned down a similar offer because he got a better one.

All this will rankle, one of these seasons, and the ever-more-savvy college football player—ignored by Abraham Lincoln and the NRLB—will be free. The professional leagues will drop that nonsense about not signing a collegian until he (or his class) graduates, and college football will level off to the sincerity and honesty of the other departments of academic life and utilize students rather than the hapless, harrendous mercenaries of today.

Saucedo And Lauderman Throw Plenty Leather; End In Draw

DALLAS, Sept. 18. (AP)—Frankie Saucedo, 146, El Paso, and Billy Lauderman, 144, Dallas, threw plenty of leather here last night for 10 rounds but wound up in a draw on the main event of the Sportatorium's 28-round card.

The referee voted for Saucedo, one judge for Laudermann and the other rated it a draw.

In an eight-round prelim, Alex Rivers, 126, San Diego, decisioned Jose Andreas, 126, Dallas, after an action-packed bout.

Ed George Quirk, Washington Redskin rookie fullback from Missouri, formerly held the Big Six shotputting championship.

Commercial Duck Shooting By Mexicans Not A Major Issue

Annual Kill Said Under 500,000

By HART STILWELL

Everybody who hunts ducks is interested in knowing what has whittled down the continental supply during the past few years. And almost everybody has his own idea about certain phases of the situation.

But on one point almost all Americans agree—they all blame Mexico, with her commercial shooting of ducks, for the shortage.

Well, during the past year and a half I have been looking into this situation, at the request of Field & Stream magazine. I spent the summer of 1947 in Mexico, and I talked to hunters all the way from Carmen to the Rio Grande, from Acapulco to Topolobampo, and in many inland points such as Mexico City, Puebla, Patzcuaro, and so on.

Then I was fortunate enough to have released to me the information gathered by Dr. George B. Saunders, biologist of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, during two aerial surveys of the duck feeding areas in Mexico.

The detailed story appears in the October issue of Field & Stream. Meantime, here are the highlights.

The total take of ducks in Mexico, including all those killed for sport and for the market, is less in a year than the kill of ducks on the opening day of the season in this nation. The total number of ducks killed by sports hunters throughout Mexico is less than one per cent of the kill in this nation.

Estimates from five separate and reliable sources on the total kill in Mexico range from 310,000 to 500,000 ducks a year, which anyone familiar with the kill in this nation realizes instantly is only a drop in the bucket.

Here are some of the estimates:

Dr. Saunders—a total annual kill of 460,000.

Milton J. Lindner, chief of the U. S. Fishery Mission in Mexico—a minimum of 250,000 and a maximum of 750,000 with an average of 250,000.

William Vogt, chief, Conservation Section, Pan American Union—"Even with this commercialization, no more than a few hundred thousand ducks are killed in all of Mexico in a year."

Dr. A. Starker Leopold, now at the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology, Berkeley, Calif., and who was in Mexico for several years prior to 1947 making a study of game—"The total annual kill throughout the country from all sources combined is probably less than we shoot in this country on an average week-end in autumn. I would say that half a million ducks would be the maximum possible estimate of the total duck kill in Mexico, and this may be too high."

Then I asked five veteran duck hunters in Mexico, men who have hunted in that country over a period ranging from ten years in one case to forty in another, to make an estimate for me. Their figure was 310,000. And these are men who know all about the "armadas," which are batteries of guns into which ducks are herded for the slaughter, then sold in the market, mostly in Mexico City.

All this should clear away the fog and reduce by a considerable amount the broadsides being hurled against Mexico for "slaughtering our ducks."

Dr. Saunders, in the report he gave me, said, in part, "We may deprecate the fact that ducks are sold in restaurants in Mexico, but our fellow citizens of the United States create the demand and are primarily responsible for the kill of ducks in the border zone of Mexico.

"The kill of ducks in Mexico is extremely small, especially when one considers that a large percentage of our North American ducks migrate through or winter there every year.

"Duck hunters of the United States should remember that they do not have full title to North American waterfowl. On most of these Mexican wintering places the ducks can rest and feed unmolested and be in good condition for the flight northward to the nesting grounds. This is more than can be said of most of our wintering grounds in the United States."

Dr. Saunders admits that Americans will naturally consider the Mexican hunting regulations entirely too liberal. They definitely are, when compared to the skimpy bag limit and short season here. But he adds, ". . . it should be pointed out that if we had as little duck hunting pressure in the United States as there is in Mexico, we probably could grant a similarly long season and larger bag limits."

I do not, of course, make any attempt to defend market shooting of ducks, in Mexico or anywhere else. I think it is sad. I wish it could be stopped.

But the American who condemns Mexico for not stopping this hunting should know more about the situation there.

And in this space next week I will tell you about the armadas and the other forms of market hunting in Mexico.

HOOK DAVIS IS TOP CONTENDER

ABILENE, Sept. 18 (Special)—It looks like sophomores will shoulder the main load for Coach Warren B. Woodson's Hardin-Simmons Cowboys this fall — at least in the backfield.

Six out of eight halfback aspirants and four of five quarterback candidates on the 41-man Cowboy squad are sophomores. At least half of the entire squad are sophomores and indications are that three out of four in the starting backfield will be second year students.

Back for their second year with the Cowboys are Wilton (Hook) Davis, 1947 nation's leading ground gainer, Brooks Allen, 1947 halfback letterman, John Ford, 1947 understudy quarterback — all sophomores — who will probably be getting Coach Woodson's starting nod when the Cowboys trek to Cincinnati September 25 to open their season against Cincinnati university. The other man on the Cowboy starting backfield will be a junior, either Pat Bailey, 166 pounder or 216-pound Raymond Troutman, both two-year lettermen, at the fullback post.

McChesney, Steadman, Captains

In the line the upperclassmen are more in evidence, although sophomores will probably come in for considerable duty. At the end posts Junior Bob McChesney and Senior J. W. Steadman, 1948 captains, will be backed up with sophomores Elmer Biddy, Sid McHaney and transfer student Jon Cowsaw. Jack Boles, junior and two-year end letterman, will likely see plenty of action. The guard posts, vacated by Jack Ellison and Joe England, will be filled by Paul Frost, sophomore letterman, sophomores Jack Smith and Tom Adams, juniors Paul Bailey and Jesse Clardy, and senior J. C. Hillin.

Tackle positions have veterans vying for berths. Strawberry Rowan, twice an all Border Conference selection, and Leon Cooper, two-year letterman, have both been Cowboy starters for two seasons. Letterman Tom Proctor and Herman Raphelt, and transfer student Bob Surratt are all considered chances for plenty of duty.

Junior student Howard McChesney, two year letterman, will probably get the starting center nod. Backing him will be Dub Barker, sophomore, and Ed Petty, a junior.

The Cowboys have narrowed down to once-a-day drills after spending two weeks drilling twice daily.

Braves Boost League Lead

BOSTON, Sept. 18. (INS)—The Boston Braves increased their lead in the National league to six games today by defeating Pittsburgh again, 2 to 1.

The Pirates, thus muffing their second straight opportunity to gain on the leaders, dropped from second place to third, below Brooklyn.

Warren Spahn, getting little batting support from his mates as usual, had to hold the Bucs to four hits to win. He yielded only one safety until the ninth when singles by Eddie Fitzgerald, Dixie Walker and Ralph Kiner gave the Pirates their only run.

Spahn now has won 15 games.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (INS)—A ninth-inning pinch single by Pistol Pete Reiser enabled the Brooklyn Dodgers to nose out the St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 2 today and advance to second place in the National league.

Reiser's wallop scored Peewee Reese from second base. It snapped a 2-2 tie created by Stan Musial's 36th homer of the year.

For the first time since 1932, the Dodgers beat the Cards over the full season, 12 victories to 10. The Red Birds dropped from third place to fourth.

Bobby Doerr was the whole show for the winners. He drove in four runs, scored three, and completed his 72nd consecutive game without an error at second base, running his record string of chances to 404 without a miscue.

It was Doerr's th homer of the year, coming with two men on, that featured a five-run fifth inning rally which brought the Red Sox from behind. Doerr also had a single and a double.

TOUCHDOWN!—Cliff Rowland (No. 20), elusive San Angelo halfback, is shown in the photo above as he sprinted 63 yards to paydirt to score the final Bobcat touchdown against the Lubbock Westerners Friday night at Jones stadium. Rowland's touchdown gallop in the final three minutes of play gave the San Angeloans a 21-13 non-conference win over the Westerners. Lubbock players in the photo are Halfback Don Decker, (No. 88 on ground), who attempted to block Rowland out of bounds, and Blocking Back Jimmy Richards (No. 43). In the photo at left, Lubbock End Bob Rooker (No. 62) picks up 11 yards and a first down on the Westerner 31 after snagging a pass from Tailback Bobby Brown. The play was completed in the closing minute of the first quarter. Coming in for the tackle is Bobcat Halfback Dwight Trice (No. 10). Westerner Back Charley Williams (No. 44) watches the play. Golden Bears Drub Broncs

MEMORIAL STADIUM, BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 18 (INS) — California opened its 1948 football season this afternoon by scoring six touchdowns for a 41 to 19 victory over the Santa Clara Broncos.

A crowd of 45,000 only half-filled the huge Memorial stadium at Berkeley for the season opener, and most of the crowd was made up of the big California rooting section. They went away from the game with the feeling that this year's Golden Bears may go all the way to the Rose Bowl.

Jensen Sparks Attack

Coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf's first string fullback, Jack Jensen, scored for the Bears on their first play of the game. Jensen ripped through the Bronco line for 62 yards.

Just to show that this run wasn't any fluke, Jensen duplicated the run late in the third period for another touchdown—this time he went 61 yards and shook off two Bronco tacklers as though he was dusting off flies.

Equally sensational as Jensen was Santa Clara's hard-running halfback, Hall Haynes. Haynes scored all of Santa Clara's three touchdowns, two of them on runs every bit as fine as those made by Jensen.

Walker-Paced Backfield Makes S M U's Mustangs Title Threat

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 18 — Southern Methodist university expects to attract a quarter of a million fans for its five home football games this season, an all-time record—and it has that kind of football team.

The aerial circus with which the Methodists won national fame will bloom on a grandoise scale. There will probably be the most potent running game in the school's gridiron history. And chances are that any team beating the Mustangs will have to send a veritable flood of touchdowns across the last white stripe.

Matty Bell has not one but four great backfield threats and he has a second-string quartet on the same order. His line looks weak in spots and the reserves won't be up to par but the forward wall can be below standard and that backfield, which may be the greatest in college football, can take up a lot of slack.

All-America Doak Walker, that little iron man, is going to have plenty of help this season. Last year he was forced to play more than 50 minutes a game to bring Southern Methodist an unbeaten season and a Southwest Conference championship. But look for Doak to take it comparatively easy this time. A freshman footballer named Kyle Rote has made it that way.

Rote rounds out what critics say is the most finished backfield for this early in the season that they ever saw in the Southwest. It has everything—speed, passing, running, defense, blocking and a threat every down.

Undoubtedly, S.M.U. has some hefty problems in the line. It hasn't been able to replace All-Conference Earl Cook at guard and it is using last year's third-string center, Fred Goodwin, as a starter. Dick Davis, who has been on the B team two years, is the first replacement at the pivot post. Jack Halliday and Walter Roberds, lettermen, and Eric Lipke, who has been on the squad two seasons, are filling in well defensively for Cook, but they are not up to his offensive standard.

Tackles are good with both 1947 starters, Joe Ethridge and John Hamberger, and with plenty of reserve strength. There is no particular worry at ends with Lettermen Bobby Folsom, Carl Wallace and Raleigh Blakely, backed by first-class replacements.

The Southern Methodist starting backfield has Walker at quarterback, Rote and Paul Page at halfbacks and Dick McKissack at full. Four tailbacks, of former years make up the second four—Dave Moon, Frank Payne, Gene Roberts and that passin' man, Gil Johnson. Johnson was one of the nation's greatest flingers of the pigskin last season. He's as good as ever and this time will do a lot of running, too.

Punting will be taken care of by Bill Richards, one of the best in the business.

Bell said he didn't think S.M.U would repeat with the championship for several reasons:. The lack of reserve strength in the line and because his team was on the spot as defending titilist. But the sports writers took care of the latter situation; They picked Texas to win the conference championship. That, for all purposes, should take the heat off the Mustangs. But Bell can't see it that way.

"They all want to knock off the champs," he says. "They'll all be gunning for us as No. 1 on their list."

Southern Methodist opens the season Sept. 25 against Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. Then come Texas Tech, Missouri, Rice, Santa Clara, Texas, Texas A. and M., Arkansas, Baylor and Texas Christian.

Gonzales In Meet Finals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP)—Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles and Eric Sturgess of South Africa — a slugger and a fancy dan — battled their way to the finals of the national tennis championships today before 13,000 addicts.

Gonzales, the husky 20-year-old Mexican-American from Los Angeles, beat back Jaroslav Drobny, stocky Czech Davis Cup star, 8-10, 11-9, 6-0, 6-3, after a duel between the two "biggest services in the amateur game today.

Sturgess, who left Johannesburg only a few months back to find out if he really could play tennis, cut down young Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, 9-7, 6-3, 6-2 in a flawless demonstration of stroking. He is the first foreigner to reach the American final since Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany lost to Don Budge in 1937.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

The Red Raiders, the Lubbock Westerners and the area Class A and B gridders will have to move over and make room in the South Plains sports spotlight for a younger group of competitors this season. Eight area junior high elevens opened the season in the new South Plains Junior High football league Thursday night and, if the initial tussles are a reliable preview of things to come, fans are going to see some real football played by the junior teams. The young grid hopefuls are well-coached, use the latest variations of the "T" and single wing offensive formations and feature some really impressive individual performers. Long runs, sensational passing and hard tackling are just as much a part of the junior games as they are in the top college contests.

Probably the most interesting long-range angle on the new junior high loop is the question of how it will affect high school grid warfare within a few years. All the mentors and school officials are certain that the league will aid in the development of top-notch high school elevens, and some even go so far as to say that the effect of the new program will be evident in just two or three seasons. Of course, the change will not be so marked in the Lubbock athletic setup, where junior high teams have been fielded under a city organizational lineup for several years. But in some of the area schools, officials expect the supervised competition under able coaches to make an impressive change in the standards of the high school teams.

The major advantage of the new South Plains league is that it gives the boys a definite goal to play toward. In the area loop the gridders will know just how they stand from week to week, with a resulting development of healthy rivalry and a "will to win." Some of the teams, especially those in towns fielding junior elevens for the first time, will be hampered this season, but there should be a "levelling off" process in the loop within a couple of years. The league will give the youthful gridders experience under game conditions and the "pressure" accompanying a tilt between two teams battling for the top position. And the valuable experience should enable some of the best individual performers to step directly into high school competition, with satisfactory results.

The prospects for future Lubbock Westerner teams are very bright indeed, following the victories chalked up by the local schoolboys in the opening games last week. Every one of the Hub city elevens showed extreme promise and at least two of the teams, O. L. Slaton and Carroll Thompson, moved into the top-favored bracket in the loop championship race. Coach Howard Price's Hutchinson Rangers scored an upset win over Seminole, but the Rangers appear to be outmanned by at least three or four of the league entries. Plainview's juniors notched an impressive win, and several of the losers are certain to gain strength with a little more practice and game experience.

Although we hated to see the Lubbock Westerners get beat by the San Angelo Bobcats last Friday night, the tilt had one good result. Hub city fans now realize that they can't expect miracles from a group of youngsters playing their first year in high school competition. The Westerners have a good team and, if they continue to develop, will be a definite contender by the time the District 1-AA race gets underway in October. But all the talk that circulated last week, with some rabid fans boasting that "the Westerners would get to meet Odessa again in the quarter-finals," was shown up for what it was worth—absolutely nothing.

Zale Favored Over Cerdan

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (INS)—Boxing fans of the New York area, totalling an estimated 50,000, will visit two different ball parks next week to watch a pair of favored champions defend their titles.

Tuesday night Middleweight Champion Tony Zale, of Gary, Ind., will go to bat against Marcel Cerdan, European title-holder, at Roosevelt stadium in Jersey city.

Thursday night, Ike Williams, lightweight crown-wearer from Trenton, N. J., will tangle with Jesse Flores, of Stockton, Cal., at Yankee stadium, New York.

Zale Is Favored

Both battles are scheduled for the title distance of 15 rounds, but the Jersey City scuffle is expected to end sooner.

Zale generally is picked to score a knockout over the Frenchman from Casablanca, to make it 17 such sudden terminations in his 18 bouts since he was discharged from the Navy.

Over that stretch he lost just once. After knocking out Rocky Graziano in defense of his title, he himself was stiffened in a return match. In a third encounter he got the crown back by a knockout last June.

Some 30,000 spectators are expected to pay more than $300,000 at a $30 top price to watch Zale and Cerdan enjoy batting practice against each other in the Jersey City Giants home park.

About 20,000 are expected to pay $100,000 or so at a $20 top to see Williams against Flores.

Williams is the favorite in this match, but Flores is expected to at least go the full distance.

Longhorn-Tar Heel Contest Shapes Up As Grudge Fight

AUSTIN, Sept. 18. (AP) — The Texas Longhorns will meet the University of North Carolina Tar Heels next Saturday in a contest that shapes up as a good grudge fight.

The grudge, of course, is carried by the North Carolina lads because of what Texas did to them last year. Led by Charlie (Choo-Choo) Justice, the Tar Heels came to Austin rated one of the nation's best. The Longhorns with Bobby Layne at the helm, proceeded to blast them 34-0.

or another that did not call for them paying their way in. At the same time, tickets sold in advance are added into the final attendance figures for the series and the players are given their share of the gate receipts on the total sale, not on the paid attendance announced at the game.

Larsen said that a complete fabulation of ticket sales is turned in to the Internal Revenue department, which makes a careful check for accuracy. Larsen emphasized that should there be any dishonesty, any attempt to defraud, and it was discovered, the baseball club was subject to a heavy fine and/or imprisonment. In addition, Larsen declared, the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues would waste no time in taking away the club owner's franchise. Figures for the three games are on file with the Internal Revenue department here and may be checked by any doubtful persons.

We might seriously have doubted the announced attendance Tuesday in Amarillo, where the ball park was jammed to the rafters and still only 3,500 present were announced. Not one crowd in Gold Sox Park was announced as large as a single game in Lubbock. The first game in Amarillo drew an announced 3,038; the second, 2,744; and the final contest 3,522. In comparison, the Hubbers announced crowds were, respectively, 3,605; 3,764; and 4,223, paid. For the three games, Amarillo drew a total of 9,304; Lubbock drew 11,592. That hardly makes sense with a second-place club beating the third place team. But as pointed out above, the Doubting Thomas can go to the Internal Revenue department to receive complete satisfaction.

Mrs. Sam Rosenthal would like to take this opportunity to express her thanks to Lubbock baseball fans for their loyal support during the late, lamented season. The Hubbers again drew over 100,000 paid admissions and the Hubber owner feels a deep sense of gratitude. Every effort was made to field a championship team. That it didn't end up that way is not through lack of effort. It is the fan who pays the freight on baseball and Mrs. Rosenthal wanted to have a winner. She wound up with a fine team, a squad that drew the praise and respect of fans and ball players in other cities. Efforts will be made this winter to return the pennant to Lubbock.

Incidentally, Richardson was fined $100 by the Hubbers, not for his direct remarks, but for disloyalty to the management and team. Copies of the letter were sent to the National Association, Dallas and Texarkana clubs and Richardson. In line with this, most of his teammates admitted that he had a right to think as he did, but that he took the wrong way to say anything. And when the players cut up the pool, made up of their voluntary contributions from home runs and other awards, Manager Jackie Sullivan refused his share, putting it back in the pool.

And with that we bring the lid down on baseball in this column, so help us, until next spring. We probably will backslide after the winter meeting of the league, for one brief outburst, but that will be all. We close the baseball season with a prediction: Pampa will beat Amarillo in the playoffs.

Boudreau And Musial Are Named As Outstanding Players Of '48

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18. (INS)—Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals were named today by the Sporting News as the outstanding players in their respective leagues in 1948.

The sporting weekly's choice made the selection of Boudreau and Musial virtually unanimous. It also designated Bob Lemon of the Indians and Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves as the top pitchers in each circuit.

The Sporting News paid tribute to Boudreau both as a player and a manager, pointing to his batting average, his runs batted in, his skill at shortstop and his conquering of physical disabilities, all while carrying the burden of managing a pennant contender.

Vernon Stephens, Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams were also considered for the American league honor.

Musial was hailed as "in a class all by himself" in the National league, "excelling in the averages, in team spirit, in hustle, in power in the clinch and in that attribute called being a gentleman." Alvin Dark, Braves shortstop, was named as Musial's closest rival for the honor.

Lemon, the converted third baseman who became the first big-league pitcher to win 20 games this year, turned in a no-hit, no-run performance against Detroit and had ten shutouts. Also praised were Vic Raschi of the Yankees and Hal Newhouser of the Tigers.

Sain was chosen for outstanding National league pitcher over Harry Brecheen of the Cardinals, Larry Jansen of the New York Giants, Bob Chesnes of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Johnny Schmitz of the Chicago Cubs because of his "consistently winning performances."

Oklahoma Aggies Lick Wichita, 27-14, In 91-Degree Weather

WICHITA, Kans., Sept. 18. (INS)—Oklahoma A. & M. opened its bid for the Missouri Valley conference football crown today by licking the University of Wichita 27 to 14 in 91-degree heat at Wichita.

An estimated 13,000 fans saw the Aggies come from behind with two final-period touchdowns to fashion their win. Halfback Bill Grimes scored the first six-pointer in that period on an 8C-yard sideline run. Fullback Spavital added the crusher with a one-yard plunge that climaxed a 55-yard march.

Wichita led 14-13 at the half.

FEDERAL ACTION ASKED

Probers Challenge Clark To Do Something About Communists

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Senate Investigators today challenged Attorney General Clark to "do something" about alleged Communists in the government.

The latest blast in the bitter feud between the committee headed by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) and the Justice department came after Clark accused Ferguson of attempting to "claim credit for the work of the FBI" in exposing Communist activity.

Clark told Ferguson that "neither you nor your committee has unearthed anything on subversive matters that the FBI did not know. . . ."

A committee member promptly retorted:

"If the Justice department has got all the information that we've turned up, why doesn't it do something about it?"

Clark pointed out that the department had presented evidence and secured indictments from a New York City grand jury against 13 alleged Communists, including top party leaders. Ferguson, however, declared:

"It was very significant that in these indictments there were no names of anyone who had been connected with the federal government."

Ferguson called upon Clark to seek indictments at once in at least six cities against Communists "both in and out of government."

Clark, in a speech before the Jewish war veterans at Monticello, N. Y., declared the administration is waging a successful fight against Communists on the home front.

He denounced the congressional investigations as "attempts to create hysteria," and added:

"The American people can rest assured that our fight against Communists at home is going forward with such vigor and dispatch that will afford maximum protection to our government.

"At the same time, the God-given rights of every accused person will be fully protected . . ."

In his letter to Clark, Ferguson charged:

"The Department of Justice has evidence now to base requests for indictments in many places, including Denver, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Washington, D. C.

"Evidence unearthed by the Senate subcommittee of which I am chairman, and which is available to you, and evidence which I know to be in the possession of the Department of Justice, constitute, in my opinion,—and I am speaking as a lawyer of some experience—a more than adequate basis for such indictments."

A committee member said that the cases of former White House aide William Remington and self-confessed "spy queen" Elizabeth Bentley apparently were "going by the board" until the glare of the public spotlight was turned on them by the Senate probers.

Remington, formerly in charge of the Commerce department's office handling shipments of goods to Russia, has publicly denied committee charges that he handed Miss Bentley top-secret information during the war. His case is now before the department's loyalty board.

Calhoun Says He Will Accept State Demo Committee Post

CORSICANA, Sept. 18 (AP) — John C. Calhoun, Corsicana oil man, said today he is accepting the chairmanship of the State Democratic executive committee.

"I will do all within my power to create harmony and allay any friction that may appear to exist in the party in Texas," Calhoun said.

Calhoun returned to Corsicana yesterday following a trip to Austin where he conferred with Gov. Beauford Jester and Vann Kennedy, state Democratic secretary.

The State Democratic convention elected Calhoun to the chairmanship of the executive committee last Tuesday night.

"Since all party officers and a large number of the members of the committee have urged my serving, I've decided to accept this post," Calhoun said today.

Calhoun said he did not know when a meeting of the committee would be called.

Featured convention speakers in the program arranged by Fred Thompson, past Kiwanis district governor, Pampa, include: Mark Love, formerly of the Chicago Opera company, who will trace in song and story the origin and development of our country from the Pilgrim Fathers to GI Joe; Senor Robetto de la Rosa, "good-will ambassador" from Mexico, who will focus attention on "The Other American Way of Life" in Mexico and South America; J. Hugh Jackson, Treasurer of Kiwanis International and Dean of Stanford University's School of Business; and Wayne Guthrie, assistant managing editor of the Indianapolis News, who saw both atomic bomb tests at Bikini Atoll.

Early Kiwanis district convention arrivals will reach Fort Worth in time to attend a Southwest conference night football game between Texas Christian university and Arkansas on Saturday, October 2, a religious musicale will be presented Sunday night. The Governor's Ball will be held Monday night, October 4, at Fort Worth's Casino on Lake Worth.

A "ladies" program is being arranged for Kiwanian wives who attend.

Services Are Pending For Mishap Victim

Funeral services are pending for Mrs. Lee C. Van Hooser, 27, of Denver, Colo., who died at Lubbock Memorial hospital shortly after the car in which she was riding with her husband and small children was in collision with a train about 8:10 p. m. Friday at the Santa Fe crossing on the Plainview cutoff north of Lubbock.

Mrs. Van Hooser, who with her family was en route to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Westerman of 2425 Thirty-second street in Lubbock, was carried to Lubbock Memorial hospital in a Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home ambulance. She died about 20 minutes after arrival.

Mr. Van Hooser, whom hospital authorities said was suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg and severe shock, was reported last night to be slightly improved. Two small daughters, Laura Jean, 3, and Clara Gale, six months old, suffered only minor injuries, attendants said.

The Van Hooser automobile was approaching the crossing from the east with a small trailer in tow. An oncoming freight train, approaching from the north, apparently was not visible to the occupants of the car until they were almost upon the tracks, intervening buildings blocking the view from that direction.

The auto struck the left side of the train engine, possibly in the vicinity of the large locomotive drive wheel. The car was dragged to the left for a distance of about ten feet and turned over into a depression beside the tracks.

GOP Nominee Scores Civil Rights Program

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—H. J. (Jack) Porter, Republican nominee for U. S. senator from Texas, today announced a platform opposing President Truman's civil rights program or weakening of the Taft-Hartley act.

Porter called for decentralization of the federal government and said he favored "the eviction from Washington of all left wingers including Harry Truman, Lyndon Johnson and any others who have been hobnobbing and working with Communist elements and fellow travelers."

The Houston oilman expressed opposition to socialized medicine or the socialization of any other profession or industry.

"I am opposed to federal control of the oil industry or any other industry," Porter said in a prepared statement.

He promised to work for an intelligent approach to the nation's freshwater supply problem and to support an adequate soil conservation program.

"As your senator, I will unalterably oppose the enactment of any of the so-called civil rights program by the national Congress," Porter said, adding that such proposals should be handled by the individual states.

"The FEPC which was conceived in Moscow, Russia, and promulgated and advanced from the lower east side of New York, is the most Communistic and socialistic piece of legislation that has been proposed during the past sixteens years — a period during which more communistic and socialistic legislation has been proposed and enacted than in all the previous history of this nation," Porter continued.

Britain's Rearmament Program Speeded To Meet Soviet Threat

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON Sept. 18—Decision of the British government to rearm in view of the continued deterioration of the international situation is bitter medicine for the British people. But it will be swallowed.

With memory still vivid of the manner in which Britain was caught short in almost similar circumstances by Hitler in 1939, the man-in-the-street generally has applauded the "unpalatable but necessary" re-armament steps announced in London this week.

The majority of the British people regard it as common produce in face of the Russian enigma and the growing belief that Europe rapidly is approaching the stage when peace must depend on strength instead of arguments.

Action Is Criticized

If anything, the government's measures are criticized because they have been too long delayed, are too much of a stop-gap nature, too hastily improvised, and too obviously the least possible. There is public uneasiness regarding the real state of British defenses and the real worth of British bombing strength after the very lean post-war years.

Government spokesmen admit that the steps already taken are short term only. They declare the situation is being kept "as fluid as possible and is under constant review" and that the long-range policy is something which must be kept under security wraps at this stage.

It is evident however that the British decision to keep conscripts in the armed forces for fifteen instead of twelve months, to step-up jet-fighter plane production, improve the output of tanks and guns, overhaul civil air raid defense precautions, and bring warships out of mothballs will be followed by other and more drastic steps if the international situation does not improve in the next few weeks.

No Improvement Seen

The long-term schemes already in being will be put into effect only if the current East-West negotiations do not succeed. Few observers however look for any real improvement and there are many predictions that the west may awake one morning to find itself faced by a Russian fait accompli in Berlin.

In the absence of any quick settlement of the Berlin dispute or any real sign of a betterment of East-West relations, further British announcements about the acceleration of conscript mobilization, armament production, and civil defense measures are anticipated early in October.

A real breakdown in the Moscow-Berlin talks, accompanied by any Russian declaration of future intentions, would bring such steps into being immediately.

Main purpose of retaining conscripts now in training is to provide cadres for new recruits, a necessary preliminary to the accelerated conscription rate now being predicted here. Plans reportedly under survey by the government include the advancement of induction dates for conscripts and the telescoping of next year's conscript intake program into the first few months of 1949. This would increase the British armed forces manpower by about 200,000 to a total of slightly over one million by the spring of 1949, in the view of experts.

Legislation empowering municipal authorities to undertake air raid defense responsibilities is expected to be announced for the new parliamentary session in October and most Britishers expect they will be attending air raid precaution classes again this winter.

Vast quantities of war equipment which has lain in dumps since 1945 are now being examined. Some, particularly Air Force material, is being reconditioned immediately. A great deal will be shipped to Western European nations. The production of jet-propelled fighter aircraft will be stepped up on a big scale.

All daytime fighter squadrons are now equipped with Gloster Meteor and De Havilland Vampire jets. It apparently is not the intention of the government to increase the number of operational squadrons, but to build up a big reserve of jets and gradually to equip all squadrons at home and overseas with jet fighters.

Winners Are Named In 4-H Livestock Contests At Post

POST, Sept. 18. (Special) — Winners in the 4-H livestock show, held here today in conjunction with the Garza County fair, were named Saturday afternoon.

The grand champion fat steer was shown by Alvin Davis, while the reserve champion steer was shown by Jackie Meyers.

First place winner in the Sears Foundation pig competition was Jack Schmidt. First place quarter-horse winner was Jimmy Moore, and taking top honors in the quarter mare division was Sandy Cross.

Approximately 75 boys and girls from all parts of the state and from surrounding counties participated in the Southwest Junior Championship Rodeo, also a part of today's fair and livestock show.

Roping Contest Set

Most of the events were open to both boys and girls 18 years or younger.

A highlight of the rodeo was the matched roping contest between Scooter Frieze of Bandera, state high school roping champion, and Jimmy Bird of Garza county. The local contestant won over Bird in this afternoon's event, in which four calves were roped.

Twenty-two boys from Boys Ranch near Amarillo, presented a show this afternoon, which included horse jumping exhibitions, trick and fancy rope spinning, and fancy horse riding.

A dance was held after Friday night's events. Another was held tonight.

Proceeds from the rodeo will go into the 4-H club building fund to be used for construction of an exhibition building at the fair.

First place winners in boys and girls divisions, as well as Home Demonstration club events, will participate in the Panhandle-South Plains fair at Lubbock.

Killing Of Five Soldiers By U.S. Bombs Is Investigated

EGLIN FIELD, Fla., Sept. 18. (AP) —The killing of five Army infantrymen when live bombs missed their target was being investigated today.

In addition to those who died, 29 others were injured, three critically. All were negroes with exception of one officer.

Four of the victims died yesterday. The body of a fifth was found buried in a crater dug in the bomb range by one of the missiles Thursday.

Some of the 69 500-pound bombs released by seven B-29s flying at 10,000 feet fell around and among troops here for the giant air-ground maneuvers known as "Operation Combine III" which starts Sept. 27.

A public information officer said the "troops were in the right place but the bombs weren't."

Legality Of Indictments In New Mexico Vote Probe Hit

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 18 (INS) — The legality of grand jury indictments returned in recent New Mexico vote fraud cases was under attack in Albuquerque today.

A battery of six attorneys, headed by former Gov. A. T. Hannett, filed 56 separate motions in the Albuquerque court in behalf of 19 of the 20 persons indicted in the vote fraud.

The motions included a request to quash the charges on grounds that all the defendants were subpoenaed as witnesses and state law grants specific immunity to any witnesses in matters pertaining to election code violations.

The six defense attorneys also contended that New Mexico law provides that the election code shall be within the "exclusive jurisdiction" of the attorney general, to safeguard citizens from ambitious, politically inclined district attorneys.

AND THE STORY OF HOW IT WAS POSSIBLE FOR MR. WOLFE TO DRIVE HIS OLDSMOBILE 110,000 MILES WITHOUT A BREAKDOWN...

PICTURED: RIGHT AND ABOVE: Mr. Frank H. Wolfe, of Seminole, watches Ernest Fisher, mechanic, as he tunes up his Oldsmobile. Mr. Wolfe has had 26 years in the oil well drilling business and his business keeps him on call 24 hours a day supervising drilling in five southwestern states. His duties demand that he drive in all kinds of weather and over all kinds of roads . . . AND . . . Ernest Fisher has had 12 years experience servicing Oldsmobiles.

For the past seven years Mr. Wolfe has been driving 81 miles from Seminole, Texas to Lubbock to have his Oldsmobiles serviced by the same experienced mechanics at WOMBLE OLDS.

Mr. Wolfe's Oldsmobile has never broken down while on his numerous duties and says that the experienced mechanical staff at Womble Olds has made it possible for him to have driven this 110,000 miles; he expects to drive his Olds. at least another 50,000 miles over all kinds of roads in the Southwest.

YOU, TOO, CAN HAVE THE SAME SATISFACTORY SERVICE FROM WOMBLE OLDS ON YOUR GENERAL MOTORS AUTOMOBILE. BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR TOP WORKMANSHIP BY EXPERIENCED MECHANICS.

Roy Hall has been servicing General Motors automobiles for 23 years and for the past twelve years has written over 100,000 service orders for Oldsmobile and Pontiac automobiles.
Mr. Hall is a graduate of the General Motors Service Schools and keeps the Womble Olds organization clicking and turning out the work to satisfied customers.

The man so hard at work in this picture is H. C. Gordon of Womble Olds, Lubrication Dept. He is positive that the most important service in automobile maintenance is proper lubrication and failure to have proper lubrication is just as bad as none.

Bill Casey, parts manager, is shown working on an order of Oldsmobile parts. Keeping all parts on hand in quantity is another reason why owners bring their cars to Womble Olds for service.

BOB MITCHELL has been with the Oldsmobile Company in Lubbock for 8 years and has been to all General Motors Mechanical Schools. Bob has the experience to service your General Motors Automobiles, and rates with the best mechanics in the country.

L. C. McMillian is shown in this picture starting a ring job on an Olds. McMillian has had 16 years experience with General Motors products and is a graduate of their mechanical schools.

MODERN TOOLS to correctly get the job done are available for all Womble Olds Service Men. Here we see A. H. Prickett using a high speed electric Ingersoll-Rand Impact Tool which makes it possible to remove the pan in less than half the time over old methods from a cylinder head of an Oldsmobile engine.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

LUBBOCK Symphony orchestra has been instrumental in helping people to realize that so-called "long haired music" is fun and hence hundreds are looking forward to the new season, which gets underway in October with the Melchoir concerts, and for which tickets will go on sale to the public Monday.

We are glad that there is little talk about the duty of citizens to become cultured and to attend symphony concerts as a means of showing Texas and the world that Lubbock is no longer a western cowtown but one that appreciates the finer things of life. Those who are concerned over culture should remember that culture is a by-product so to speak.

Culture is the appreciation of certain things, believed generally to be worth while and people are considered cultured when they like those things.

But going to concerts; reading certain books and listening to certain lectures, because it is considered the proper thing, does not make a cultured person.

If one attends the symphony concerts from a sense of duty or to see and be seen and doesn't like the music, he would still lack culture.

MUSIC is fun, a living and growing art, a richly creative, ever-changing thing. People should go to hear it because they love it and not from a sense of duty.

Music, the art of sound, is out of life itself and has entered the mainstream of community life. And good music or so-called classical music is not music that a few society people or long haired musicians say is good music. It is music that the great masses of the public continue to enjoy after hearing it many years.

You hear a popular number for a few weeks or months and you get so tired of it you want to commit murder when you hear it over the radio or on the juke boxes. The classical is enjoyed more and more everytime it is heard. The reason, of course, is that the one is mere foam while the other is as deep as the ocean and every time it is played new beauties are discovered.

That's why William A. Harrod, conductor, stays with the symphony orchestra when he could organize a dance band and likely make five times the salary he gets. As he says all that advocates of good music ask is a hearing. We'd venture to say that at least ninety per cent of those going to a few symphony concerts become real fans. The fact that it is good music is demonstrated by the reaction of children. The overwhelming majority of them are enthusiastic listeners, as was demonstrated last winter at a children's concert.

Good music for everybody will be offered this year by the Lubbock Symphony orchestra. The ticket sales will help to finance the extensive program. It is a worth while project and entitled to the enthusiastic support of all Lubbock.

THEY LIKED LUBBOCK

MRS. O. B. RAY, president of the South Plains auxiliary to the Association of Master Plumbers, in writing a note of appreciation for publicity concerning the state meeting in Lubbock last week end, said the delegates were impressed with Lubbock.

"Some of the comments overheard at the meeting were amazement at the trees, shrubs and flowrs grown here . . . the warm hospitality . . . surprise that Tech college is so large . . . clean aspect of the city . . . beauty of the city parks and public schools . . . size and coloring of the dahlias grown by James Samson and the good job that Lubbock does of selling itself to visitors."

A PIANO is greatly needed in the Asbury Methodist kindergarten department and Mrs. R. L. Foster, superintendent, is wondering if someone has an instrument she would like to have the church store for her. The department is divided into two large rooms and there is a piano in one. Mrs. Foster, in remarking on it, says the children do not bother the piano, as the play centers are removed from it. Her telephone is 5097, if one has a piano for the department . . . A Hollywood columnist says Glenn McCarthy, the Texas oil millionaire turned movie producer, is talking to P. K. Wrigley about the purchase of Catalina island. The price is up to $22,000,000.

YOU can make Christmas tree ornaments if you save all the metal strips that are wound on a key that opens coffee cans and unwind them carefully . . . The average American housewife is said to spend 35 per cent of her waking hours in the kitchen . . . Riot red is the name of one of the new shades of fingernail polish. It's a light clear shade . . . Photographers from Uncle Sam's State department caught that soap box derby in Akron and will send the film overseas to show youngsters of other lands how kids in the United States have fun . . . A great boon to the stocking trade and welcome news to women who are disappointed in the short wear of nylons is news of the discovery of a process called "plasticizing," which will give greater snag and run resistance . . . Mrs. W. L. Pattillo, telephone 9574, hopes the person who may have found the mate to her handsome white-stitched black glove, lost downtown Friday, will call her about it.

COLORFUL FALL FASHIONS TO BE DISPLAYED — A Panorama of color will be unreeled Wednesday at the Lubbock Supper Club when the Lubbock Junior Welfare League presents its annual fall style show. Like dabs of color from the artist's palette, twelve models will parade in the two-hour luncheon and dinner shows to display Fall's latest colors. Chosen from the membership of the League, the models pictured on the palette are, reading left to right, counterclockwise: Mrs. Tom Hutchinson, Mrs. Ernest St. Clair, Mrs. Charles Rosebrough, Mrs. James Reynolds, Mrs. Horace Humphries, who is not a model but co-chairman of general arrangements; Mrs. George W. Cochran, Mrs. Oliver Thomas, Mrs. Jack Leftwich, Mrs. Oscar Slaton and Mrs. Harry Holcomb. Mesdames Roger Kuykendall, Wright Kerr and Vernon Thompson, also models, are not pictured. (Staff Photos).

Theme Of Artist's Colors To Feature Style Show Sponsored By League

FASHIONABLY speaking, it's a colorful autumn, and styles modeled Wednesday at the Junior Welfare League's annual luncheon and dinner showings will boast Victorian fashion tones. Complementing the chosen theme of color, the backdrop for the appearance of the models will be a gigantic artist's palette with color splotches showing the newest shades and materials for fall.

A center ramp running the length of the Lubbock Supper club will afford a view from any seat in the house. Showings will be at 12:30 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

Models, chosen from the league roster, are to be: Mesdames Ernest St. Clair, Charles Rosebrough, Tom Hutchinson, Oscar Slaton, Vernon Thompson, Jack Leftwich, Roger Kuykendall, James Reynolds, Harry Holcomb, Oliver Thomas, Wright Kerr and George Cochran.

The sales will continue through the week from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., with tickets for the season priced at $10 and $7.20 for adults and $5 and $3.60 for public school students.

The telephone at the campaign headquarters is 2-7168.

The Lubbock Symphony, with William A. Harrod as director, announces the following soloists for the season:

Lauritz Melchior, world's greatest heroic tenor; Amarillo Senior High A Cappella choir; William A. Murphy, pianist; Mr. Harrod, violinist and Amparo Iturbi, concert pianist.

Melchior To Open Season

Mr. Melchior, outstanding singer of opera, concert, motion pictures, radio and records fame, will be presented in the opening concert Oct. 21. Serious music lovers know him as the greatest of Wagnerian tenors and his career in the movies has made him known to thousands. He has appeared on numerous occasions on leading radio programs, as well as being guest artist on Metropolitan Opera broadcasts, the Telephone Hour and Firestone and Ford hours.

The singer will be presented Oct. 22 with the symphony; a program to which single admission tickets will be sold.

Conductor of the Amarillo high choir which recently returned from a successful tour of the East, is Mrs. Julia Dean Evans, who organized the first group in 1938 with 44 members. Within nine years the choir groups in Amarillo High school have grown until they now have 450 students in eight large choirs.

Mrs. Evans' personality, enthusiasm and ability to direct large groups of students have brought her recognition throughout the Southwest as an outstanding doncutor.

The choir will appear with the symphony Dec. 8.

Pianist To Appear

William A. Murphy will be pressented Feb. 9, 1949. The young musician, who opened a piano studio in Lubbock in the late summer, holds a bachelor of music degree from the School of Music at Louisiana State University; a diploma from Trinity College of Music, London, and a certificate of music from the University of Nancy, Nancy, France.

He appeared in joint recital with Gordon Gaines, baritone, at the Tech Artist summer course.

In answers to many requests, Mr. Harrod, who begins his third season with the symphony, will appear as guest violinist on March 15, 1949. On that occasion, Prof. D. O. Wiley, director of the Texas Technological College bands, will be on the podium.

During the years he was in New York City, the Lubbock conductor studied violin with Emanuel Zetlin later of the Juilliard School of Music. He has played with various orchestras on radio programs both at Columbia and NBC studios in New York City.

Coming to Lubbock with the Army Air Force and stationed at LAAF, Mr. Harrod was violin soloist of the Sinfonietta and during the latter war years he was director of a string quartet which toured European Army hospitals. He appeared as guest artist on a joint recital on the summer Tech Artist course after his return here. It is to him Lubbock owes the organization and development of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra.

Although Lubbock audiences are not aware of it, when the lights go up on the fourth concert, Prof. Wiley will return to his first profession, that of orchestra conductor. Prior to coming to Tech college in June 1934, Prof. Wiley was director of the orchestra and band at Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene. He also was assistant director and concert master of the Abilene Little Symphony, but with the pressure of increased duties with the famed Cowboy band, he gave up his orchestra work.

Closing concert of the season, April 20, 1949 will present Amparo Iturbi, sister of Jose Iturbi and a product of Valencia, Spain, of a family where music was considered an integral part of the cultural aspect of daily life. Since her arrival in the United States in 1938, Miss Iturbi has appeared in concert with the New York Philharmonic, the New York Symphony, Los Angeles Philharmonic and others. She has been featured on recordings, on the radio and in the movies.

All of the concerts will be given at Lubbock High school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Through the Coral Doors

Hi Folks:

Walking down to Decorators Studio and sniffing the brisk fall air brought to my mind what wonderful colors we will be seeing outside as Autumn peers its head around summer's corner.

One idea just followed another as I went through the coral door to find Fredda and her decorator helpers combining the most exciting colors in fabrics, wallpapers, and carpets for homes all over West Texas. Now, if those aren't lucky families who can have harmonizing and refreshing colors inside instead of peering through the living room window for a sight of color. Look around Mr. and Mrs., maybe some of those bold designs of color found at Decorators Studio are the "just right" fall costumes for your house.

Sure was glad to see Josie back and had to sit down and hear of all the pretty things she saw and bought in Chicago last week. Josie says that we can expect to uncrate some beautiful mirrors and those long awaited Kittinger tables soon.

Found out that Ann, Bee, and James had us all in mind for Christmas on their buying spree in Dallas. Those "good-holding" Blinco glasses are going to be at the Studio in red and green. Bet those gals and James will really have a Christmas table to delight our decorator eye this Christmas.

Darn't, lately every time I walk out that coral door I take with me a visual picture of a pair of knotty pine chest sitting right in eye-stumbling view of the door. Think they are about to tickle my wishing palatte to pocket digging size. Go by to see them. Monday, Folks—then maybe they will be gone next time I go avisiting.

Ann is scurrying around with last minute details on her decorating jobs. We'll be waving a farewell to her Sunday as she takes off for New York to swap order books for school books. We know she will be an outstanding student at the New York School of Interior Design—but hope we'll be waving a great big welcome to her in the not too distant future.

I wanted to remind all you out-of-towners who plan to visit the fair that the welcome mat is out to you at Decorators Studio. Go by to see their fine exhibits—all planned to fit into your West Texas homes. Adv.

Bye now,
Grandpa Nosey.

In a floral setting of white mums and white tapers in candelabra, Mrs. Robert Law, organist, played "Because" and "I Love You Truly" as a prelude to the service. "Ave Maria" was heard during the ceremony, and traditional wedding marches were used.

Romance Broken After Police Learn Soldier Hidden In Home

AALBORG, Denmark, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Aalborg police have broken a three year old romance after they discovered that an attractive Aalborg Juliet kept her Romeo, a German soldier, in seclusion since VE-Day. Police said that the girl could not stand to see her boy friend sent home to Germany with the German occupation troops in May 1945. She locked him up in her room and he stayed indoors ever since, except after nightfall when he sneaked out for a stroll in the dark alleys.

The girl locked the doors every day before she went to work at an Aalborg industrial plant. She gave her friend books to read and taught him to knit and darn. The couple lived on the girl's rations.

The affair became known after the soldier got homesick. He wanted to visit his relatives in Germany, left his voluntary confinement and got caught trying illegally to cross the Danish-German frontier. Under investigation he gave his girl friend's name.

LaVerne Smith Weds Dewey Farris, Jr.

Miss LaVerne Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith of Rt. 1, became the bride of Dewey Farris, jr., son of Mrs. Lula Mae Farris and E. D. Farris of Lubbock, in a double ring ceremony performed by Alvis Bryan, Church of Christ minister, Friday at 7:15 o'clock in the Smith home.

The bride wore a gabardine suit of off white with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. For something old, she carried a handkerchief given to her by her grandmother; for something new, she wore a bracelet; for something borrowed, she wore a watch belonging to her maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Waters; and for something blue, she wore a blue garter.

Miss Waters was dressed in blue with black accessories.

Cloyd Freeman served as best man.

Following a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Lubbock where the bride is employed by Furr Food stores and the bridegroom is employed by the United States Post Office.

Families of the bride and bridegroom and close friends attended the wedding ceremony.

Two Post Cards Mailed In 1933 And 1934 Received By Florist

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (INS)—Dallas Florist Otto Lang was surprised recently to receive two postcards, a day apart, from his son and daughter-in-law.

But he was more surprised when he looked at the dates on the cards—they were mailed in 1933 and 1934, respectively, from Chicago.

Not unusual, said Dallas Postmaster J. Howard Payne, but pointed out that this one is a little out of the ordinary. Postcards, he pointed out, frequently stick in mail chutes.

Fire Prevention Poster And Slogan Contest Prizes Hiked

As part of preliminary plans for observance of fire prevention week Oct. 3 to 9, and for a continuing program of fire prevention, two contests with increased cash prizes were announced yesterday by the Lubbock Insurance Exchange.

Both contests are open to public school students throughout the city. One is a fire prevention slogan contest, in which entries must be placed by Sept. 30 in order that winners may be announced during the following week, which is fire prevention week throughout the nation.

Prizes in the slogan contest total $15, with first, second, third, fourth and fifth prizes of $5, $4, $3, $2, and $1, respectively. All students in the school system compete on an equal basis.

Second phase of the competition will be the annual poster contest, in which all public school students compete on scholastic levels. Total cash prizes will be $190 this year, four times the amount posted last year by the exchange, according to Harry Delaney, secretary of the exchange, who is in charge of the contests.

Deadline time on the posters is next March 1. Cash prizes by scholastic levels are:

High school—first $7.50, second $5, and third $2.50.

Junior high—first $7.50, second $5, third $4, fourth $3, fifth $2.

Elementary—first $7.50, second $6, third $5, fourth $4, fifth $3, sixth $2, and $1 each for seventh through fifteenth place.

Mexican and negro—first $3, second $2.

Bi-District County Agents Meet Planned

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 18 (INS)—Dr. Ide P. Trotter, director of the Texas A. & M. College Extension service, has announced, a bi-district meeting for county agricultural and home demonstration agents will be held in San Antonio, Sept. 24 and 25.

Trotter explained that since the regular annual state agents conference has been cancelled this year, a series of fall district meetings will be held with people from headquarters traveling to the field, instead of the agents coming to headquarters.

Trotter said administrative personnel and specialists of the Extension service along with Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist, Vice-Chancellor for Agriculture D. W. Williams and George B. Wilcox, head of Texas A. & M.'s department of education and psychology, will participate in the main port of the program.

Gilchrist will explain the Texas A. & M. College system, he said, while Williams will discuss the institution's long time agricultural program.

Extension personnel scheduled to take part in these district meetings are Dr. Trotter, J. D. Prewit, vice-director and state agent; Joe L. Matthews, administrative assistant; Maurine Hearn, vice-director for women and state home demonstration agent; E. C. Martin, assistant state agent; Louis Franke, extension editor; and T. R. Timm, extension economist.

Sheets said the question of job reclassifications, which led to the walkout, would be negotiated with the company later.

Rita Hayworth Stars In New Movie Production Of Carmen

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 — The movies have stuck another stiletto in poor old Carmen, the greatest female knife cushion in literature.

For more than a hundred years now this Spanish Gypsy wench has been giving men's hearts a wrench—on the printed page, on the operatic stage, on film, and over the radio.

She has been killed and revived more often than vaudeville. But every time she expires—from a knife thrust through the heart by her lover—it isn't blood she's shedding. It's a profits-transfusion for the boxoffice.

Written In 1845

Prosper Merimee, the French writer, scribbled her story in 1845.

It was essentially the story of a beauteous Gypsy lass with the morals of a mink who changed lovers as often as she did her earrings. She lured a simple soldier from his duty, got him to join a band of Gypsy smugglers and bandits and got her bosom ventilated by the soldier's dagger when she tried to give him the double switcheroo for a handsome bull fighter.

The tale hit the jackpot.

Bizet based his famous opera on Merimee's story, and the "Toreador's Song" only added to Carmen's international renown.

But this gay little bad girl really hit her stride after Thomas Edison's invention of the flickers. Since 1910 Carmen has been in 15 films seen by American audiences and about a dozen foreign pictures.

Rita Hayworth Latest

Among earlier celluloid Carmens were Geraldine Farrar, Theda Bara and Dolores Del Rio. The latest is Rita Hayworth, starring in Columbia's glossy technicolor production, "The Loves Of Carmen."

The other day I went to see a showing of Rita Hayworth's $4,000,000 version followed by Geraldine Farrar's 1915 epic.

How Carmen has changed! She sure has improved with age. In 1915 she was a plump, moon-faced damsel who moved perkily across the screen with exaggerated gestures and expressed emotion by rolling her eyes like a pair of wild dice in a white cup.

But today—33 years later — Carmen has slimmed down to a red-haired spitfire who rolls in the street in a hair-pulling fight with another woman, and they expose more thigh surface than I've seen since the last time I saw Sally Rand.

Dozen People Killed

Perhaps because red shows up well in technicolor, the 1948 picture kills off at least a dozen people.

I asked a man from Columbia pictures why there were no bull fighting scenes in "The Loves Of Carmen," and he said:

"We only put $4,000,000 into this. With the price of beef what it is we couldn't take a chance of someone accidentally killing the bull and running the whole production into the hole."

Woman Surprised Upon Finding Rattlesnakes In Refrigerator

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18 (INS)—Mrs. T. S. Morehouse of San Antonio, preparing breakfast recently, was hardly prepared to face rattlesnakes when she opened her refrigerator.

Finding a strange paper sack in the refrigerator, she opened it. In the sack were several rattle snakes.

Mrs. Morehouse's state of mind wasn't helped any by the fact they were all dead.

AGREES WITH HIM

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — When Florida quarterback Doug Belden first reported in 1944, he weighed 153 pounds. His 1948 playing weight is a solid 185.

Emil Ludwig Is Taken By Death

ASCONA, Switzerland, Sept. 18. (AP)—Emil Ludwig, 67, world famous biographer, playwright and political essayist, died at his home here last night.

Among Ludwig's works was the "Life of Napoleon," which he adapted to a motion picture in Hollywood in 1933. His biographies included Jesus, Goethe, Bismarck, Beethoven, William II, Lincoln and Wilhelm Hohenzollern.

He was born in Breslau, Germany, on Jan. 25, 1881, but became a voluntary exile in 1907. He received Swiss citizenship.

Books Were Burned

He made no attempt to return to Germany after the rise of Hitler. Several of his books were burned by the Nazis.

Ludwig began his career as a tiramatist and wrote nothing but plays, nearly all in verse, for 12 years. After his 30th birthday, he took up psychological essays and biographers.

As a boy he wrote a 10-page essay on Goethe. At 25 he wrote a play on Napoleon. He made his first attempt at dramatizing the life of Bismarck, Germany's "iron chancellor" five years later.

Ludwig was educated at Breslau and Heidelberg.

EMIL LUDWIG

Known Widely In U.S.

Ludwig was known widely in the United States through popular reading of his biographies and such works as "The Nile." He also went on American lecture tours.

In 1944 he shocked a Los Angeles audience by declaring "we find that music and the arts are not necessarily characteristic of democracy—in fact, the greatest music that has ever been composed was done so under tyrants."

He mentioned Beethoven, Bach, Brahms, Liszt, Franck, Tchaikovsky and Schubert. As the audience began to hiss, Ludwig cried:

"I have met and interviewed three dictators (Mussolini, Kemal Ataturk and Stalin) and I have found that each was a great music loyer."

$200,000 Fire At Pearland Threatens Business Section

PEARLAND, Sept. 18. (U.P.)—A $200,000 fire swept through buildings of the Kliesing Motor company here today, threatening the entire business section.

Firemen from Alvin, Genoa and Houston joined Pearland volunteers and a citizens' bucket brigade to beat down the blaze that started just before 4 a.m.

Four firemen were treated for minor cuts and burns received when small explosions ripped through the combination motor company, garage and appliance shop.

The origin was undetermined. R. V. Kliesing, owner of the establishment, gave the estimate of the loss.

Tool Firm Claims Machinery Copied By Humble Oil Company

HOUSTON, Sept. 18. (U.P.)—The federal district court scene shifted back to the early 1930's today—a time when Texas was primarily agricultural and knew of oil booms only through hearsay.

Occasion for the backwards glance was a suit brought by the Gray Tool company against the Humble Oil company, charging that Humble had copied oil well machinery originated by Gray in the early 1930's. The petition further stated that Humble had offered no compensation.

The plaintiff contended that Humble used the plans while patents were pending, and developed its own casing and tubing heads without rewarding the tool firm.

Although no definite amount of compensation has been asked, Gray sought an inventory on the machinery to determine how much could be collected.

Most Texans Foresee New War, Urge U.S. To Remain In Berlin

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—To many a Texan, war today is just around the corner. But hardly anyone thinks the way to avoid war is to give up Berlin to the Russians.

Texans are solidly in favor of keeping U. S. troops in the German capital. That they are in no mood to appease Russia is disclosed by the latest survey by The Texas Poll.

A cross-section of the adult population was asked these questions:

1. "Do you think the United States will ever be in another world war?"

Yes	76%
No	8
No opinion	16
	100%

2. "When do you expect that war to come—within a year, two years, five, ten, twenty-five, or when?" (Asked of only those who answered "Yes" to first question.)

One year or less	21%
Two years or less	37
Five years or less	59
Ten years or less	71
Twenty-five years or less	75

3. "Do you think the United States should keep troops in Berlin, even if it means war, or do you think we should let Russia take all of Berlin?"

Keep troops in Berlin	86%
Let Russia have Berlin	4
No Opinion	10
	100%

This survey was conducted at a time when diplomatic talks with Stalin had encouraged American officials to believe the Berlin problem would be settled. Even under those conditions, the trend toward war appeared more sure to Texans than it had three months earlier.

The following table shows that Texans think war is nearer now than they thought it was in June:

Expect war within:	June	Now
One year or less	17%	21%
Two years or less	29	37
Five years or less	60	59
Ten years or less	74	71
Twenty-five years or less	75	75

While an increasing number are stepping up their time table for war, developments of the past three months, including resumption of the draft and continued international conferences, appear to have heightened the hopes of some Texans that armed conflict might be avoided. In June 89 per cent said they thought the U. S. would be in another world war. In the latest survey this figure dropped to 76 per cent.

Colored Boy In Woodpile Is Only Squirrel In Plumbing

HOUSTON, Sept. 18 (U.P.) — That oft-mentioned colored boy in the woodpile was, Mrs. Ethel Eggleston found out today, nothing more or less than a squirrel in the plumbing.

When she had overflow troubles with her bathroom fixtures, Mrs. Eggleston promptly called in a fix-it man. He worked an hour before he found the trouble.

A squirrel was tightly wedged in the piping. The plumber theorized the bushy-tail had apparently been playing in a vent pipe and slipped.

Cattle Disease Line Will Be Moved South

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—The quarantine line against foot-and-mouth disease across central Mexico will be moved 55 to 110 miles farther away from the United States next Monday as a result of inspections which have disclosed that 24,000 square miles in that area now are free of the dread cattle malady, it was announced today.

Oscar Flores and Gen. Harry H. Johnson, co-directors of the Mexican - United States Aftosa commission, said the area is three times larger than the total area of all previously released territory.

They emphasized that hundreds of commission scientists made repeated inspections throughout the new freed zone over a period of several months before it was declared free of foot-and-mouth disease.

They said the zone was cleared of Aftosa under the commission's modified program which emphasizes vaccination, cleansing and disinfection and uses slaughter only in extreme cases. Two new vaccine producing units were inaugurated last Monday, raising production capacity to 800,000 doses a month. Production of 1,000,000 doses monthly is anticipated by late October or early November.

The longest vertical gain in the new shift of the quarantine line will be 110 miles down the Pacific coast from Puerto Vallarta to Barra De Navidad, just north of the port of Manzanillo. The largest gain in area was made in west-central Mexico where the line will drop southward 70 miles from Zacatecas to Aguascalientes. It will move 55 miles south along the Pan American highway in east central Mexico from Valles to Tamazunchale.

The east coast anchor of the line near Tampico, which was moved southward April 26, remains static this time and still marks the closest point of the disease to the U. S. border, 328 miles.

Goodfellow Field Pilot Gives Full Report Of Forced Landing

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18 (AP) — Forced down in a pasture near Campbellton, Atascosa county, during a rainstorm, Capt. J. W. Eggleston of Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, made this report to Kelly Air field:

"Condition of plane—good; condition of pilot—scared; gas tank—empty; come and get me."

The Flying Times, Kelly Field newspaper, reported the incident. Eggleston was flying from Tinker Field, Oklahoma City, to Kelly Field, in an open cockpit trainer when he encountered rain squalls.

His radio head-set was blown from his head as he started to let down at Kelly. Unable to receive landing directions, he started to find a spot offering better visibility for landing. Soon his fuel gage was fluttering on 'empty' and he was forced to set the plane down by "seat of his pants" method.

"Give me instruments, or at least a radio and headset," said Captain Eggleston.

Harvest Of Sorghum And Cotton Started

Harvest of both grain sorghum and cotton has started in this county, with an indicated yield of 100,000 bales of cotton "if no further losses" occur, according to the weekly crop condition report yesterday by County Agent D. W. Sherrill.

Rains of the previous week helped, but surface moisture is described as poor, and subsoil moisture lacking except on irrigated land, causing further deterioration in dry land crops, especially cotton.

Estimated yield of irrigated cotton held at three-fourths bale per acre, county-wide average, but estimates on dry land cotton dropped to an indicated one-eighth to one-sixth bale. The previous week's estimate had placed probable dry land yield at one-sixth bale average for the county.

Picking was gaining momentum, but was yet relatively light, and no report on ginnings was available.

Grain sorghum estimates held steady, with an indicated 2,500-pound per acre average on irrigated land, and nothing to 600 pounds on dry land, about the same as the previous week.

The report said sowing of wheat is progressing, but moisture will be needed soon. Feed and pasture for livestock was reported fair to good, and marketing of stock normal.

Harvest of sweet potatoes was moving ahead, with an average yield expected. Lettuce was reported O. K., and the farm labor situation normal.

Czech Olympic Hero Agrees To Star In Movie Of His Life

PRAGUE, Sept. 18 (AP) — Emil Zatopek, who became a national hero in Czechoslovakia by winning the Olympic 10,000 meter run in record time, has agreed to star in a movie of his life.

The movie will be made in Prague and is intended to be an inspiration for Czech youth. Zatopek will not accept payment for his work, thus retaining his amateur status. A part of the proceeds will be used to finance athletic camps for Czech youngsters.

The movie will use amateur actors in all the leading roles, but a few professionals will appear in minor parts.

Girl Admits Destroying Two Homes Of Her Family By Fire

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—A 13-year-old girl, whose father whipped her a few days ago for smoking, was questioned today by probation authorities after she admitted destroying by fire two homes in which her family lived during the past six months.

Authorities said the girl gave no motive for starting the fires, which caused damages of some $6,000 at the two places. The latest destroyed a four-room house near Kennedale early yesterday. The girl started the blaze, she said, by piling paper around the house and setting it on fire before going to school.

No Major Drop In Prices Seen This Year, Latest Survey Shows

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 — Cheaper eggs and chickens by Christmas. Cheaper bacon and pork by next spring. Cheaper beef—but maybe not until next year this time.

Those are the only possible lights on the high price horizon which three sets of government economists — Federal Reserve board and Commerce and Labor departments—can see now. They are indicated because of a general slip downward in the prices of grain due to bumper crops.

There are three signs which these economists look for to herald a general drop in the cost of living. None of them on the horizon yet, they are:

1. A fall in wholesale prices.
2. A pile-up of surpluses somewhere.
3. Unemployment.

Dropping wholesale prices could mean lower prices to stores so the stores could cut. But the Labor department's Bureau of Labor statistics (BLS) finds that wholesale prices are still going up, some of them faster than retail prices. Here's the BLS comparison on what both wholesale and retail prices did up to July 15, the latest report of its kind available:

	Retail Prices	Wholesale Prices
From June 15	up 1.2%	up 1.4%
From June 15, 1947	up 9.5%	up 12 %
From June 15, 1946	up 30.3%	up 49.3%
From August 1939	up 76.2%	up 124.8%

Food has been jumping upward most rapidly in retail price. Here are the percentages from BLS, up to July 15:

From June 15—Up 1.3 percent.

From June 15, 1947—Up 12.3 percent.

From June 15, 1946—Up 48.9 percent.

From August 1939—Up 131.9 percent.

As for surpluses—If they should pile up somewhere—on wheat, washing machines, eggs, men's shirts—and stores couldn't sell such articles, they'd cut prices. Then they'd either force lower prices from wholesalers or they'd stop buying. Wholesalers would have to cut. They would turn around and demand lower prices from the raw material people—cotton growers, cattle men and the like.

But few surpluses appear in the figures which flow into BLS. Experts hear that some textile mills have cut back to four days work a week. Wholesale textile products have dropped, but only one half of one percent.

Unemployment? No sign of it.

Extension Courses Will Be Discussed

A general meeting of those interested in extension work at Texas Tech college, when courses will be discussed and some probably scheduled, is to be held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the extension building, immediately south of the agriculture building, it was announced yesterday by Dr. J. H. Milliikin, director of the department.

Millikin said it is possible to arrange for almost any type course and subject in which a sufficient number to warrant it are interested. Among requests for extension courses received to date are education, business machine, shorthand, and English.

Classes also are organized in other communities if sufficient enrollment is obtained, the announcement said. A course in current social problems already is organized at Levelland, and is to meet in the first class period at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in the senior high school building. Enrollment is still open.

Another course in audio visual aids in education is to start at Post Monday night, the group to meet at 7 o'clock in the grade school building.

Extension classes usually meet at night, Dr. Millikin said, once or twice a week, depending on majority wishes of those enrolled as far as possible. College credits are available if enrollee meets academic requirements. Enrollment fee is $21 for a three-hour course.

Dr. Millikin asked that anyone interested in extension classes attend the Tuesday night meeting here.

Council Restricts Youth's Daily Practice On Cornet

CREWE, Eng., Sept. 18 (AP) — Sleepless neighbors pleaded with 14-year-old Willie Nixon to give his blaring cornet a rest—but his hot licks got hotter than ever. So they complained to the local council, which owns Willie's house.

His parents were ordered to restrict Willie's practice to 15 minutes every evening and one hour on Sundays.

Country Club Will Be Ready Tuesday To Handle Parties

The Lubbock Country club, which a week ago formally opened a new and beautiful clubhouse in a ceremony for members and guests, although all phases of the structure were not in operation, will be ready Tuesday to handle parties for club members, it was announced yesterday by W. D. (Bill) Overton, manager.

The manager stressed that because the club is a semi-private organiztaion, all services offered must be restricted to a member basis.

Overton said the party room, and catering services will be available to members, subject to reservation, beginning at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Restaurant service has been available for several days.

The first hospital in America was founded in Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania Hospital.

Bernadotte's Death Emphasizes Great Need Of UN Armed Force

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The assassination of Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte in Palestine is a sharp reminder of this:

After three years of life, the United Nations organization has not been able to agree on setting up an armed force to keep peace.

Bernadotte, as special representative of the U. N., had gone to Palestine last May to work out a truce between warring Arabs and Jews.

There's been an uneasy truce—a truce of shootings, bombings and killings—since May.

Bernadotte took with him about 50 guards from the U. N. headquarters in New York.

Guards Went Unarmed

They went unarmed. It's not known here whether Bernadotte told them when they got to Palestine to carry pistols.

But pistols are poor weapons to stop a war or even protect one individual from an attack by larger weapons.

Yesterday Bernadotte's car was stopped—according to reports, by members of the Stern gang, a group of Jewish terrorists. They killed Bernadotte and a French member of his staff.

(The Jewish government of Israel had previously denounced and repudiated this gang.)

But Bernadotte's death, and the way it occurred, raises this question:

Question Raised

Could it have occurred if the U. N. had had an armed force of any size in Palestine?

If the U. N had an armed force of thousands there, Bernadotte still might have been killed if he had made quick dashes around the country without a strong guard.

But a real U. N. military force there might have:

1. Been able to stamp out some of the bombings and killings and made the truce a little less uneasy than it has been.

2. Protected Bernadotte, the U. N. representative, at all times and so well that he couldn't have been assassinated by an automobile load of killers

Agree On Armed Force

When the various nations got together three years ago to create the U. N., they agreed to set up an armed force to keep peace anywhere trouble broke out.

The U. N., once it started in business, set up a Military committee of its members to work out an answer to this question:

How big should the U. N. world police force be and how would it be made up?

The Military committee started meeting in February, 1946 and in August, 1948 it finally had to report it could reach no agreement.

Russians Do Not Agree

The Russians don't agree with the others: U. S., Britain, France, China.

The Russians argue that each nation should make equal contributions to the U. N. armed force.

The United States points out that China has no navy and very little air force and that Russia's navy is tiny.

Would those facts then mean that each nation's contributions would be small in order to be equal to the smallest?.

If so, the total U. N. police force would have to be small.

The U. S., China, Britain and France want the big powers to contribute whatever they're able to give.

Stronger Force Wanted

The figures offered by the big powers show that the U. S. wants a far stronger and bigger U. N. police force than Russia.

This whole argument got nowhere. It became such a mess that last June Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of U. N., took a plunge into the murky water by suggesting:

That the U. N. create a small "guard" army of maybe 1,000 to 5,000 men to back up U. N. decisions until the big powers could agree on a world force of much bigger size.

Nothing's happened about that, either. Lie is expected to push his suggestion when the U. N. general assembly meets in Paris Tuesday.

Actor Charged With Extreme Cruelty In Suit For Divorce

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 18 (AP)—Motion picture actor John Calvert's "hardboiled" roles influenced him to become "enraged about insignificant things," his wife said yesterday in suing him for divorce.

In her bill of complaint filed here, Mrs. Florence B. Calvert charged extreme cruelty and claimed the actor had brought "stage girls" to their home.

Calvert has appeared in the "Falcon" series.

Woman Claims Marriage Was Nightmare Of Being Abused

DADEVILLE, Ala., Sept. 18 (AP)—Her two-year marriage was a nightmare of being beaten, branded and often chained to a bed, State Investigator Ben Allen quoted a slight, 21-year-old housewife as saying.

Mrs. Blanch Hamby also said, Allen reported, that her husband, Lester, 38-year-old farm hand, threatened to kill her.

Charges of assault with intent to murder and assault and battery were placed against the husband, Sheriff's Deputy Horace Akin said.

Akin said Hamby told officers he whipped his wife once but didn't "know anything about a branding." Mrs. Hamby who weighs 100 pounds showed officers an "L" shaped scar on her breast and said Hamby had burned it with red-hot wire, Akin said.

Hamby remained in the Tallapoosa county jail today in lieu of $3,500 bond on the charges.

High School Yearbook Group On Way To Clinic At Austin

Mrs. Dick Cosby, director of publications at Lubbock Senior High school, and four students who work on the school yearbook are on their way to Austin today to participate in a two-day clinic sponsored by the Steck company on the latest methods used in preparation and publication of school annuals.

Students accompanying Mrs. Cozby on the trip are Mary Ruth Sims, editor of the yearbook; Mona Ray Powell, junior editor; Bassel Wolfe, a junior in the annual arts class; and Betty Armstrong, a senior in the annual arts class.

At the clinic, which was attended by 440 staff members in 1947 and is expected to draw a larger group this year, students will be divided into groups and taken through the plant for demonstrations in art, photography and mounting copy.

Mrs. Cozby will give a talk Tuesday morning to business managers on handling of yearbook finances and subscriptions, and on Tuesday afternoon will speak on yearbook sales and the organization of an advertising sales group.

Jap Financed By Insurance Policy Of Dead American Soldier Arrives In U.S. To Study

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP) — The short, serious-faced young man spoke resolutely:

"When I graduate, I will return to Japan and will teach Japanese children the true meaning of democracy."

The young man was 23-year-old Robert Y. Nishiyama, ontime Japanese kamikaze pilot. He spoke with newsmen after arriving at Lafayette college, where he will begin his studies this month.

Financed By Insurance

Nishiyama is going to school financed by the G.I. life insurance policy of Robert Johnstone who was killed in action in Luzon during 1945.

Johnstone's parents were on hand to greet Nishiyama. The parents and another son, Bruce, shook hands solemnly with the Japanese student.

The former suicide pilot benefits from young Johnstone's will which sets up the four-year scholarship at Lafayette for a Japanese man "for a better world where nations work together for peace."

Will Work Hard

"I will work hard," Nishiyama told newsmen, adding that he will major in liberal arts. The first Japanese to enroll in an American college since Pearl Harbor, Nishiyama said he hopes to bring his wife and two-year-old daughter, Rhoda, to Easton as soon as possible.

He will room with Lewis Bender of Haddon Heights, N. J., a senior ministerial student who asked to room with Nishiyama. Bender greeted the Japanese youth when he arrived by air yesterday.

The open house will be held in Legion hall, the building which formerly housed the furniture store of the sisters' father and the upstairs home of the parent family.

Petroleum-Chemical Industry Is Mushrooming Along Texas Coast

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Sept. 18—The petroleum-chemical manufacturing industry is mushrooming along the Texas Gulf coast.

Oil companies are joining the chemical industry in investing millions of dollars in synthetic chemical plants.

Abundance of a cheap fuel — natural gas—and the state's huge oil fields are the primary factors attracting holders of synthetic processes to Texas.

Since 1940 more than 80 chemical manufacturing plants have been built or are under construction along the Texas coast at an investment estimated to total between $600,000,000 and $750,000,000.

Major Project Included

Many of them do not depend primarily on the oil industry for raw materials but included are such major projects as the $50,000,000 plant of Shell Chemical corporation, subsidiary of Shell Oil company, 15 miles east of Houston.

Last week Shell Chemical began operating its latest unit, the world's first commercial synthetic glycerin plant constructed at a cost of $8,000,000.

Jan Oostermeyer, New York City, company president, said "in the chemical industry, as in any other mass-production industry, the location of one's raw materials is of the greatest importance."

Essentials Bring Industry

He said nature, with oil, gas, salt, sulphur "and other essentials of our young and growing synthetic industry," made it inevitable that "we as well as many others in our field would gravitate here."

Glycerin, in wartime, is a critical item for manufacture of explosives and industrial officials here last week said the United States, during World War II, had to obtain much of its needs from South America.

Shell's manufacturing process utilizes petroleum, salt and water.

Natural Gas Tax Called For

Texas Democrats last week adopted a state party platform that may lead to bad news for midwestern and eastern users of natural gas.

The party's general election platform calls for "a reasonable tax" on natural gas, the revenue to finance a long-range farm-to-market roads construction program.

The platform asks of the legislature, however, that "other sources of revenue be considered," the platform committee declining to recommend that the roads be built only through a natural gas tax.

Many Texans long have objected to the state's natural gas being exported for industrial and household use without a tax.

Production Reduced

American Petroleum institute reports the California refinery strike reduced by 185,000 barrels the nation's daily crude production average for the week ending September 11, the average dropping to 5,346,050 as compared with 5,217,300 a year earlier . . . Construction work is underway on Universal Petroleum company's $350,000 gasoline plant in the Aylesworth field near Medill, Okla. Continental oil has announced plans for operation of a natural gasoline plant, with 10,000,000 cubic feet daily capacity, in the Todd field of west Texas, the plant to be constructed by the 23 participating operations of the field.

Officer Of Battered Freighter Tells How Four Were Lost While Others Sang To Keep Courage

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (AP)—An officer of the hurricane-battered freighter Leicester told today how four crewmen were swept overboard while others clung to deck rails singing to keep up their courage.

Six men were reported lost from the ill-fated British ship.

The story of the crew's all-night battle against pounding winds, mountainous seas and a wildly listings ship was radioed to the Associated Press by J. T. Andrews, the Leicester's 2nd officer.

He and 38 others were rescued in the hurricane-lashed Atlantic Thursday. Another 40 men were saved from the stricken Portuguese schooner Gaspar by the Coast Guard Cutter Bibb 390 miles northeast of the Leicester. One Gaspar crewmen perished.

Andrews said that before help came, "it seemed certain the Leicester would capsize at any moment."

Clung To Boats

"We were clinging to the starboard boats and hand rails and sang songs to keep our spirits up. We huddled together and hung on to the rails all night."

Throughout the night, he said, the list of the helpless vessel increased until it was riding at an angle of about 70 degrees, and rolling with the swells to 80 degrees—nearly flat on its side.

"Heavy seas swept along the port side of the deck, taking away two boats (lifeboats) and two men were standing by," Andrews related "later, two other men were washed through the rails by the breaking seas."

Twenty of the Leicester's crew, including Andrews, were rescued by the American freighter Cecil N. Bean. Nineteen other survivors were picked up by the Argentine freighter Tropero.

Fate Was Uncertain

Even after the rescue ships had reached the scene, however, the fate of the crew had remained uncertain. Andrews said two men "were swept away by the seas" while trying to swim to a lifeboat launched by the Cecil N. Bean.

"One of them, however, managed to reach the rescue ship and was picked up," Andrews said.

Another two men were adrift in the raging sea for four hours on a half-sunken lifeboat before they were picked up.

Shortly after the hurricane winds hit the Leicester Wednesday morning, Andrews said, it became impossible to keep the ship on a course. Sand ballast in the ship's holds shifted, causing the vessel to list.

Crewmen tried desperately to counteract to list by moving oil drums and other equipment to the high side of the ship, Andrews said, but the tilt was too steep.

Radio equipment was knocked out, he said, and "no more messages could be sent."

Spirits Increased

At daybreak Thursday, he said, "our spirits increased, for the wind had dropped considerably even though the swell was very high."

"The stores were inaccessable and as lifeboat provisions may have been needed we had nothing to eat or drink during the day, apart from a couple of bars of chocolate each, with the ship still rolling heavily."

Andrews said attempts were being made to prepare lifeboats for abandoning ship when another ship's lights were sighted in the distance. Distress signals were sent up.

"Observing our plight, the Cecil N. Bean sent two lifeboats over to us," Andrews said, "and with considerable difficulty, 11 men (two of them injured) managed to swim to the boats."

Tropero At Scene

Meantime, the Tropero also had reached the scene.

Since it was impossible because of heavy seas either to launch lifeboats from the stricken freighter or to bring lifeboats near from the rescue ships, the entire crew had to dive into the sea and make their way toward the rescue craft. Andrews said he and two others clung to a capsized lifeboat drifting for half hour before they were picked up.

The Cecil N. Bean was expected to reach Hamilton, Bermuda, Tuesday night.

The Leicester, still wallowing in the Atlantic at its last reported position about 650 miles east of here, was a rich prize under maritime law, and could be taken by any company whose men boarded her. Two ocean-going tugs were reported racing to the scene.

Cupid Falling Down On Job In Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 18. (INS)—Dan Cupid is falling down on the job in Dallas County and in the state of Texas.

The latest statistics indicate that almost as fast as he can get folks hitched, the divorce courts unhitch them.

Despite the fact that divorces have dropped slightly below those of last year, the average in the count of Dallas is one divorce per every 1.7 marriages.

This is still much higher than state and national averages and second only to Dallas' all-time high of one divorce for every 1.5 marriages.

The state, in spite of a reduction of nearly one fourth in the number of divorces this year, still has an average of one divorce for every three marriages.

Perhaps it is all because the Boy with the Bow is busier nationally these days. Across the country, the number of divorces dropped from a record of 610,000 in 1946 to 471,000 last year. The number of marriages declined only about one-eighth in 1947.

In Texas, Cupid's business slumped 14 per cent between 1946 and 1947.

High Costs Prevent Mama From Enjoying Vacation, Poll Shows

By HARMON W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—The little woman don't like to be reminded, but most of 'em didn't enjoy their vacations much.

Mama spends 50 weeks of the year over a hot iron or a hotter stove. The other two weeks she wants to farm out the kids, forget about pots and pans, mops and bed-making, and let somebody else whip up the scrambled eggs and broil the steaks.

It didn't always turn out that way this year and the American Automobile association has the facts to prove it.

The AAA conducted a private poll and concluded it was a matter of the high cost of living. The 1948 vacationist played his market cautiously.

Some Places Half Full

A lot of high class joints were only half full. But the "housekeeping" places, where the lady of the house does exactly what she does the rest of the year, did a land-office business.

"Some of these cook-your-own dinner places," the AAA said today, "did so well they're going to stay open until the birds wing for the south, the corn is in fodder and the snow flies."

Some of the swankier joints closed even before Labor day with the waiters complaining that people are going back to the old 10-per-cent-of-the-bill tip.

Adirondacks Still Good

Business in the Adirondacks was under last year—but still good. Southern New England beaches were full and prosperous. But north of Portland there was a big slump. A boom travel was predicted for the midwestern states, but something happened. A record number of people showed up, but they were lookers, not spenders. Even the penny postcard concessions howled.

The airlines were conscious of a pinch, too. Some cut rates. To stimulate business, one line offered a family rate. One adult fare paid full rate and the rest of the family, including all the younguns went for half. Good the first of the week, only.

The steamship lines already are pepping up their customers with circulars about special rates for winter travel tothe West Indies, South America, Amsterdam, Denmark and the Netherlands.

Big Season Expected

Florida expects another big season, although there is no report on whether it'll be a cook-your-own meal season.

A smart press agent at Fie, Italy, has jabbed a hypo into business there. Hay bathing. Correctly called "hay therapy." Tourists come from all over the continent for a session alone in the hay—said to be a panacea for almost everything. All you do is to dig a hole in the hay, wrap a towel around your neck and the treatment is on. But it has to be Fie, Italy, hay—full of arnica. Soon the heat comes up and you start to perspire.

While you're sitting there, according to reports, you sometimes "sip a little wine."

Sounds interesting.

Frenship School Bond Vote Set Saturday

Voters in Frenship Rural High school district (Wolfforth), are to go to the polls next Saturday to decide on the proposed issuance of $150,000 in bonds for construction of an elementary school.

Taking cognizance of a petition for the election said to have contained more than twice the required number of signatures, the board of education, in a meeting last Tuesday night, issued the election order and set the date for Sept. 25.

Little Opposition Seen

Polls will be located in the high school building at Wolfforth.

E. A. Deering, superintendent, said here yesterday he felt that patrons in the district realize the great need for such a building, and believes the bonds will have little opposition.

The building, to be equipped with modern facilities and furnishings, would replace three old buildings now housing the elementary school.

The superintendent said that in event the bonds are approved, a large group of patrons and board members plan to visit new school buildings and those under construction in the area to get first hand information and ideas for the most practical, economical, yet adequate type of structure to be built. It is anticipated that M. C. Butler, Lubbock architect, will accompany the group.

The school has a scholastic enrollment of 577, Deering said.

Fred Worsham is president of the board of trustees, and Johnny Patterson secretary. Other members are Raymond Hitt, P. C. Mitchell, S. H. Bradford, James Womack, and L. C. Childers.

MANY ARE MISSING

TOKYO, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—Japanese police officials feared today that the death toll from Thursday's typhoon might reach the nine hundred mark. Late reports to Sendai revealed that 200 persons were missing in Miyako on the coast of Iwate prefecture in north Japan.

Services Held In Korea For 36 Victims Of Train Wreck

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—President Syngman Rhee and United States army commander Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter today joined in conducting a memorial service for 35 Americans and one Korean killed in Tuesday night's double train wreck.

Eighty American soldiers and occupation civilians and 45 Koreans were injured in the crash of two trains south of Seoul.

Mercury has been known for at least 2500 years, but its wide use is a development of recent centuries.

INJURED SERIOUSLY

RANGOON, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—Former Foreign Minister Tin Tut, now editor of the English language newspaper New Times of Burma, was injured seriously in an apparent assassination attempt last night, it was announced today.

Swiss Physicist Plans To Study Ocean Life Over Two Miles Deep

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Editor

Prof. Auguste Piccard, 64-year-old Swiss physicist who soared 55,000 feet in a stratosphere balloon in 1932, now intends to plummet two and one-half miles into the sea in an underwater balloon.

Piccard and his Belgian professor-colleague, Max Cosyns, left their cloistered Brussels homes last week to sail to the gulf of Guinea off the West African coast for their death-defying feat.

Aboard the 4,000-ton Belgian steamer Scaldis was their unique ten-ton diving bell termed a "bathyscaphe."

This device is six feet, six inches in diameter, and specially built to withstand pressure of 250,000 tons.

To Explore Great Depths

The professors intend to dive between 12,000 and 13,000 feet and explore the unknown monsters and plant life that lurk on the ocean floor where no man ever has been.

The greatest depth reached so far is more than 3,000 feet by Prof. William Beebe of the New York zoological society in 1934.

Beebe's "bathysphere" was a device on the balloon principle but it was suspended by a cable controlled from the mother ship.

Piccard's underwater balloon will be controlled by the men inside its restricted space.

It will sink by its own weight and return by its own buoyance—if all goes well—and Piccard thinks it will.

Trip Is Dangerous

It is a perilous expedition. The smallest error in pre-diving calculations or in the actual test can be disastrous.

Why is Piccard going? The answer he gave to university colleagues is simply that he "wants to find out things—to see what there is to see" in the dark caverns of the ocean bed.

The dangers of entanglement with deep sea marine animals or growths cannot even be guessed.

Piccard's depth balloon is a marvel of engineering skill. Its wall averages three and one-half inches in thickness but at the portholes it is six inches.

Quartz electric headlamps, small but producing a light of 3,000 candlepower, will stab the gloom as the machine descends.

The balloon is constructed of two hemispheres. A special joint, incorporating an external rubber sealing strip, unites the two halves.

At 13,000 feet it is estimated that the steel ball will have to resist a water pressure of 15,000 tons, but the professor says the water-tight cabin will withstand 250,000 tons.

The thick portholes are built of plexiglass and the professor and his aides in several dives expect to photograph marine life through these. They also will carry a dictaphone to record impressions since there will be no direct link with the mother ship Scaldis.

Going down is important but more so will be the ascent. To achieve this the professor has adopted the balloon ballast idea.

Descending, the bathyscaphe will weight roughly 40 tons. Ballast attached to the device will be controlled in both descent and return by electro-magnetic action.

Piccard and Cosyns first will let down their creation without a crew to a great depth and then bring it back by remote control.

Then the professors who have somewhat apprehensive families back in Belgium will stand by to embark on the most exciting undersea adventure of the century.

Use eggs that are top-grade if you are cooking them in the shell or poaching them; but for puddings and cakes and cookies—where other flavors predominate—it is economical to use one of the lower and less expensive grades.

Nelson of 1809 Fifteenth, left, and Mrs. Nelson's mother Mrs. J. M. Robertson, of the same address. Tommy Lynn, 1, is the great-great-grandson of Mrs. Robertson, 86. World Citizen Held In Paris, Then Freed

PARIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Garry Davis, self-styled first world citizen, nabbed by French police yesterday, then freed and told he could stay in France three more months, said today he doesn't know what he will do.

Some 100 police carried the 26-year-old former U. S. Air Force pilot off the international strip where he had been parking on the doorstep of the United Nations since Sunday.

Later they freed him at the police station and told him he could live in France another three months. Previously Davis had refused to accept an extension on his visa.

Davis returned to the unfinished building, which he had been haunting all week, to get his belongings and told newsmen:

"I don't know what I am going to do now. This sudden turn of events leaves me in a position where I'll have to go some place and think."

He indicated he might be going to take up his old stand as a legal resident of France now that he has a three-month fisa.

"You probably won't have to look for me," he told a reporter. "You'll know where I am."

Nervousness And Run-Down Condition

Case History No. 2063: Lady, age 34, symptoms: Severe nervousness; run-down condition; loss of weight; loss of appetite; anemia; soreness in neck; arms and legs go to sleep occasionally.

Came To Stephens Chiropractic Clinic

After trying everything she knew of; and, as a last resort she came to the Stephens Chiropractic Clinic. The Neurocalograph (a product of General Electric) revealed the degree of nerve interference leading to her affected part of the body and determined the source of the trouble. Spinographs or X-Ray pictures were made of her spine which determined the position of the vertebrae in the spinal column that caused nerve interference. The STEPHENS SPINAL PROTRACTOR (a new invention) determined the degree of spinal misalignment from spinographs. Incidentally this case had the worse degree of misalignment of the atlas vertebra or first bone in the neck ever shown by the Stephens Spinal Protractor.

What Specific Chiropractic Has Done for Her

After a series of Chiropractic Service in the STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC the case reports that her nervousness and run-down condition is a thing of the past; Her arms and legs are entirely well; there is no soreness in the neck and she feels as tho she is a different person. The Neurocalograph (the GE Nerve Meter) reveals that all nerve interference has disappeared and last but not least further X-Ray pictures were made of her spine determined that the vertebrae were greatly improved and is going back to normal position. What more proof would a sick person want than to have the cause of the trouble corrected and be restored to health?

TWO-PARTY MYTH DIES HARD

Junior's Chances Of Becoming Presidential Timber Appalling

By INEZ ROBB
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—That little golden-haired darling in the nursery may never grow up to be president patriotic oratory to the the contrary notwithstanding.

But, unless his parents are careful, the chances of his growing up to be a presidential candidate are positively appalling.

There are, at the moment, no less than eight full-grown, able-bodied American men seriously running for the presidency on as many legally constituted platforms and parties.

Myth Dies Hard

The myth that the American system is a two-party system dies hard, but in the face of eight presidential candidates backed by eight so-called nation-wide political parties, is further proof necessary?

When the American voter is alone in the booth Nov. 2 with his conscience and his convictions, he can cast a ballot for the presidential nominee of any of the following parties: Republican, Democratic, Dixiecrat, Progressive, Prohibition, Vegetarian, Socialist, and the Trotskyist or Socialist Workers party.

The eight candidates range in age from the Vegetarian candidate, Dr. John Maxwell of Chicago, who is a bouncing 84, to a Republican whippersnapper scarcely out of short pants named Thomas E. Dewey. He is a youthful 46.

Thomas Experienced

The most experienced presidential candidate is Norman Thomas, the William Jennings Bryan of the Socialist party. Thomas is making his sixth pass at the job.

By comparison, Henry Wallace, making his first try for the post on the Progressive ticket, is a Johnny-come-lately.

Their general experience and background qualifications scale from Harry S. Truman, Democratic candidate who has already had three years in office, to Farrell Dobbs, former truck driver and candidate of the Socialist Workers' party.

As a presidential candidate, Dobbs also has another distinction unique among the octet. He is the only one who has done a stretch in a federal jug. Dobbs, who carries the banner for the Trotskyist division of the Communist movement, was indicted in 1941 by a federal grand jury on charges of fomenting a seditious plot to overthrow the U. S. government.

Watson Is Optimist

The supreme optimist is Claude A. Watson, Los Angeles attorney, who is running on the Prohibition ticket. Watson, who polled 74,758 votes on the same ticket in 1944, recently told a Louisville, Ky., audience that he would win in 1948 with a total of 24,000,000 ballots.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, candidate of the Dixiecrats, is the white knight of the old south, suh, dedicated to "whup" Harry Truman below the Mason-Dixon line.

If eight presidential candidates in a single year seems a gratuitious blessing to the nation, it can thanks its lucky stars it was spared further candidates on tickets sponsored by the Communists, American Labor pary, Liberals, Americans for Democratic action and the Progressive Citizens of America.

Candidates Endorsed

These splinter parties satisfied themselves thus: The Communists, A.L.P., and the PCA endorsed Wallace. The ADA and the Liberals endorsed Truman. Oh, yes, that splinter of a splinter party, the Democratic Farmer-Labor party out in Minnesota tossed in its lot with Truman, too.

Nor has our recital taken account of such pseudo candidacies as those of Gracie Allen, Henry Morgan and Eddie Cantor, radio comics, or of James Mont, New York interior decorator, or that of howdy-doody.

The candidacy of howdy-doody is unique and may mark a political turning point. From time immemorial, presidential candidates have accused each other of being puppets—for labor, capital, farmers, city slickers, and infinitum.

Puppet Enters Race

Now, at long last, there really is a puppet, howdy-doody, running for the presidency. He is running on television and he is a wow with the small fry. His platform promises three Saturdays in every week and five-cent ice-cream sodas. You can't beat those two planks, even with a hammer! You can't even beat it for adults, much less kids.

Yessir, Junior may never grow up to be president. But, unless he's taken to the woodshed early and often, you, too, may have a presidential candidate in your home.

Artist To Sketch Los Angeles Harbor From 5,000 Feet Aloft

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18 (AP)—Landscape artist John Beauchamp decided, after the Los Angeles Harbor board commissioned him to paint the port of Los Angeles, that there was only one way to get the proper perspective and color.

So next Monday he'll take off in a helicopter. He'll stay about 5,000 feet aloft long enough to complete original sketches of the harbor area, covering 3,000 acres, and the 225 square miles behind it.

It's natural for Beauchamp to paint from a seat-in-the-sky. He was born in Helena, Mont., and since high school days has worked from Rocky Mountain peaks on his panoramas and color contrasts.

REA Loans Are Approved For Projects At Perryton, Dalhart

The Rural Electrification administration (REA), a branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, approved loans totaling $3,458,000, two of them in Texas, during the week of Sept. 6 to 10, the USDA announced from Washington yesterday.

The loans are to finance construction of a total of 1,863 miles of electric line to serve 3,240 rural consumers, and for system improvements that include 19 miles of tie line, headquarters facilities, and completion of previously approved construction, the announcement said.

Two of the loans were in Texas, both on the north plains.

One of these was to the North Plains Electric cooperative at Perryton, $582,000 for system improvements, and construction of 395 miles of line to serve 389 consumers.

The other was to the Rita Blanca Electric cooperative at Dalhart $275,000 for system improvements, and construction of 177 miles of line to serve 290 rural consumers.

The other loans were in Georgia, Indiana, Minnesota, Oklahoma, and the Dakotas.

Lana Turner Expects Baby In April Or May

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 (AP)—Lana Turner's expecting.

The blonde film actress' studio said she telephoned from New York with the tidings that a baby is due next April or May, a circumstance that may nullify her scheduled appearance in a picture to be made this fall.

Lana and wealthy Henry (Bob) Topping, married here last April, recently returned to New York from Europe. They plan to live at Greenwich, Conn.

Controversial Political Career Of Thomas B. Love Ended By Death

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Death has ended the controversial Texas political career of Thomas B. Love, who was both a New Deal Democrat and one of the men who turned the state's vote to Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Love, 78, assistant secretary of the treasury under Woodrow Wilson, died last night at his home here from a cerebral hemorrhage.

He had been a figure of controversy in politics since 1924. He quit the post of Democratic national committeeman for Texas that year to fight the election of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as governor. An implacable foe of liquor, he also fought against the election of Alfred E. Smith in 1928.

He later zealously supported President Roosevelt in the Supreme court fight.

THOMAS B. LOVE

Two Political Idols

Love had been deep in Texas politics for almost fifty years. He had two political idols, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Love went to the Baltimore convention of 1912 as a member of the "Immortal Forty," the Texas delegation that stood rock-hard for Wilson during the earlier balloting.

Love became acquainted with Roosevelt while the two were in Washington during the first World War.

He later told friends that he might have originated the suggestion that led to the nomination of Roosevelt for vice-president on the ticket with James S. Cox in 1920.

Love later ardently supported Roosevelt's administration, particularly his farm program and his attempt to put new blood in the Supreme court. In 1936, Love ran for Congress against Hatton W. Sumners on a pro-Roosevelt platform.

Love came to Dallas from Missouri in 1899. He got into the Texas political ferment almost at once. In Missouri, Love had been secretary of the state Democratic executive committee.

Sent To Legislature

Dallas county first sent him to the legislature in 1902. By 1906, he was speaker of the House of Representatives. In Austin, he helped put over the Terrell election law which governs party politics in Texas. Gov. Tom Campbell made him the first commissioner of insurance and banking in 1907, a post he held for two and a half years.

His political career did not really begin to blossom until Woodrow Wilson was first elected president in 1912.

Love was the dry candidate for democratic national committeeman in 1916. He lost that post, but President Wilson appointed him assistant secretary of the treasury in 1917. Love had the job of supervising the Bureau of War Risks Insurance and the Bureau of Internal Revenue during World War I. He also supervised all foreign enemy and neutral insurance properties.

Texas made him Democratic national committeeman in 1920 and again in 1924.

Foe Of Fergusons

He quit the national committeeman's job to campaign against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in the famed two-governors-for-one campaign in 1924. Four years later, he found the Democratic presidential nominee not to his liking. Love, a McAdoo and then a Cox man in previous years, fought the nomination of Alfred Smith because Smith was a wet. A short time later, he was working for Hoover, though supporting all other Democratic nominees.

He was the target of political barbs in later years, but he claimed to be the only "adjudicated Democrat." He took his right to support his choice to the courts and they upheld him.

He was elected to the state Senate in 1926. He ran unsuccessfully for governor in 1930.

He was born in Webster county, Mo., June 23, 1870, and was educated at Drury college in Springfield, Mo., and at the University of Virginia.

He was a member of the Texas Historical Society, the Academy of Political Science, Town and Gown, the Dallas Agricultural club and the Dallas Writers club. He was a Mason, an Elk and Odd Fellow and a member of the Methodist church.

His wife died in 1946.

Survivors are three children, Dr. Stafford Love, Horace Love and Miss Dorothy Love, and a brother, Ralph Love, all of Dallas.

The only mainland sea lion rookery in the world is on the Oregon coast near Florence. Sea Lions make their homes in large caves carved out of the rocky shore by the sea ages ago.

Pennsylvania Family Goes Into Show Business Early

RUSSELLTON, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP)—Sam Ross, owner of this western Pennsylvania community's only theater, is breaking his family into show business early. His daughter, Teresa, at 18 is one of the state's youngest licensed movie projectionists; son Richard, 12, helps as usher and ticket taker, and young Rita, 15, helps operate the candy counter.

The family's operation of the theater is completed with Mrs. Ross acting as cashier. Teresa sees nothing unusual in a girl assuming the responsibility of running the theater's projection booth. Photography is her hobby and—shades of the busman's holiday—she even likes to go to the movies on a date! "But we don't go to the theater in Russellton then," she laughs.

Ducks actually can be seen walking on fishes' backs at the Lake Pymatuning wild fowl sanctuary on the Pennsylvania-Ohio boundary.

For after-hours business, a night depository has been included in its design. Small enough for personalized service
Large enough for permanent security

1401 AVENUE Q

In our opening announcement, which appeared in this paper on May 20, we suggested that brick and steel alone do not make a bank great. As much as we prize our spacious new building, without your confidence in our ability and security, we have not measured up to highest standards. There will always be a combination of West Texas friendliness, progressive spirit, and permanent security in the American State Bank. As a depositor, these are yours without reservation.

Our beautiful building is surrounded by ample free parking space !

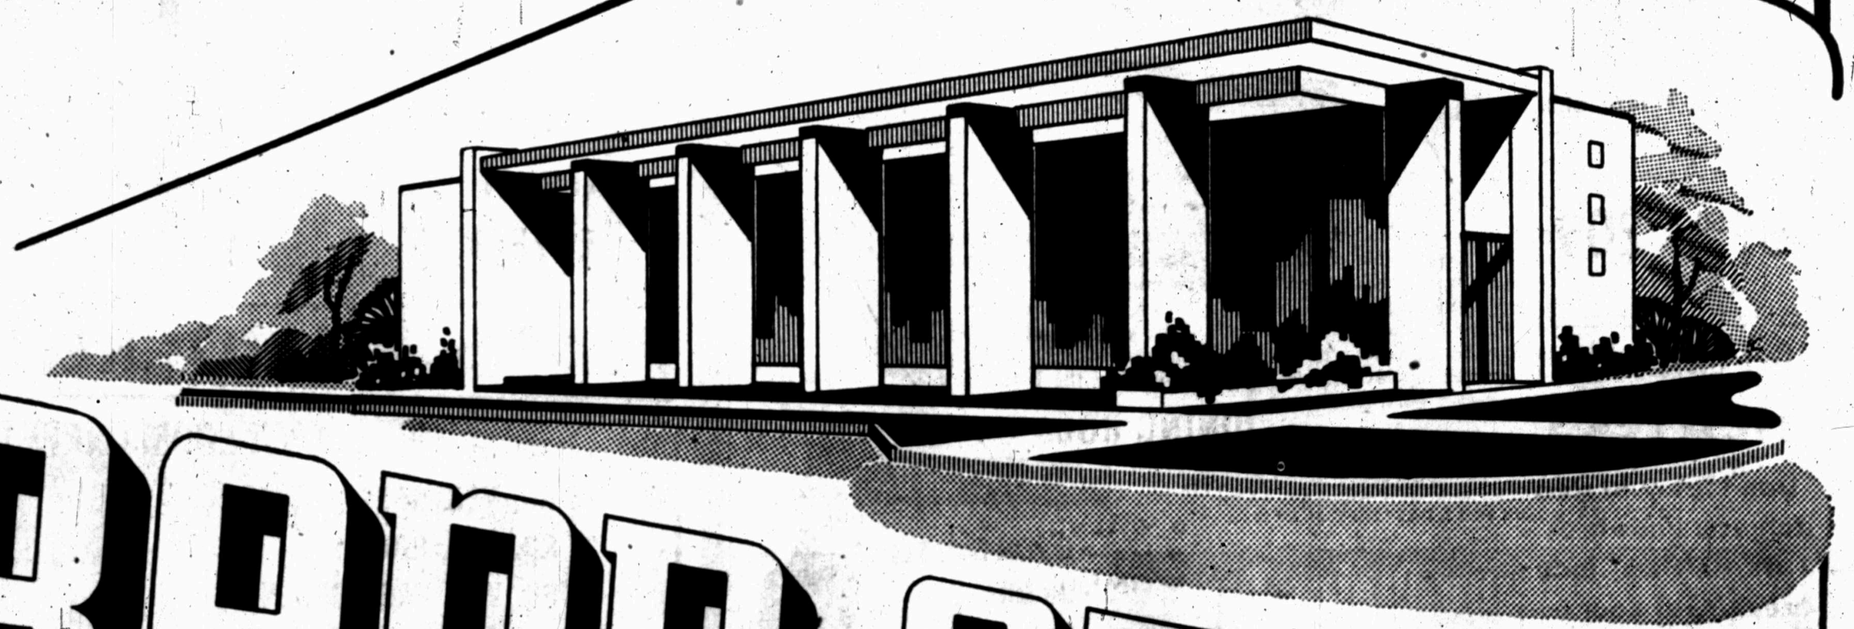

The rapid growth of Lubbock has created serious traffic and parking problems. To cope with this development, the planners of the American State Bank chose its location carefully. It is convenient to all parts of the city without being in an area of heavy traffic. Even more important is the generous parking space allotted. Our impressive building is surrounded ON ALL SIDES by free parking areas to accommodate your car while you bank. Enjoy these distinct advantages by banking with us.

Dickens County Town Has Developed From Ranching Interests

Spur's Increase Of Population Has Stimulated New Projects

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

SPUR, Sept. 18—Spur is a town so typically western that the very mention of its name suggests the jingle-jangle-jingle of the genuine cowboys who clop along its streets in their faded blue denims and turned-over high-heeled boots.

Perched on sloping land in southern Dickens county below the Caprock and nearly surrounded by meandering Dockum creek, Spur has a natural setting rivaled by few other West Texas cities. And there is probably no more inspiring scenery in West Texas than one encounters early on a cool September morning on the 10-mile drive from Dickens to Spur.

Part of Spur's western flavor comes from its ranching history. Organized in 1909, the town derived its name from the old Espurella Ranching company operated by the Swenson interests. When the Fort Worth and Denver railroad reached Spur extensive building took place, including such structures as the famous old Spur Inn.

Population Boosted

The Spur Inn exists today virtually as it was when built. In its lobby is a plaque commemorating the old Mackenzie trail on which it was built. The Mackenzie trail was named after Gen. Ranald Slidell Mackenzie who conducted Indian campaigns from 1871 to 1875.

But Spur is not living in the past—far from it. In fact, the entire citizenship of Spur appears to act as one vast, close-knit chamber of commerce, extending welcome to the town's guests as they would to personal visitors.

Its current 3,000 inhabitants outnumber by nearly a thousand the 1940 census figure.

The increase in population has necessitated extensive improvements of the water system, with installation of a 500,000-gallon storage tank.

Spur has completed 70 blocks of paving within its city limits.

Legion Builds Home

Numerous houses have been built. The American Legion post has recently completed a $12,000 home and formed a Legion auxiliary.

Many civic organizations have made valuable contributions to the city. The Lions club, one of the most active, has purchased and is ready to erect metal street markers for the city. The Rotary club has sponsored a summer youth recreation program which was unusually successful.

And the Spur volunteer fire department is an organizaiton that Spur is proud of. With approximately 22 members, the fire department wholeheartedly turns out whenever an alarm is given and rushes its two trucks to the scene.

G. W. Grimes, former chief, jokingly calls the Spur volunteer fire department the "fastest and the nastiest" in West Texas. But every member appears to believe that the organization is one of the best of its kind. Spur has a favorable fire insurance rate and has suffered virtually no fire loss this year.

Has Own Light System

The city's tax valuation is approximately $1.5 million, according to the estimate of James H. Cowan, city secretary and Manager of utilities. The city operates its own light system and has approximately 600 meter connections with some 400 additional connections being served by West Texas Utilities company. Approximately 800 water meters are attached to the city water system.

Martin Pope is mayor. E. C. McGee is water commissioner and Spencer Campbell is street commissioner.

A city-owned airport is leased to the Doss flying service.

The Spur Security bank is the only bank in Dickens county and serves adjoining counties as well. Deposits of $3,677,713 mark the prosperity of the area.

The bank has received wide comment among banking circles because of its unusual cancelling stamp which bears a picture of a spur.

Schools Crowded

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, who now lives in Lubbock, is president of the bank. W. T. Andrews is executive vice president, F. F. Vernon is assistant vice president, E. E. Lee is assistant cashier and J. L. Albin is assistant cashier. Directors are Jones, Andrews, Lee, George S. Link and W. F. Godfrey.

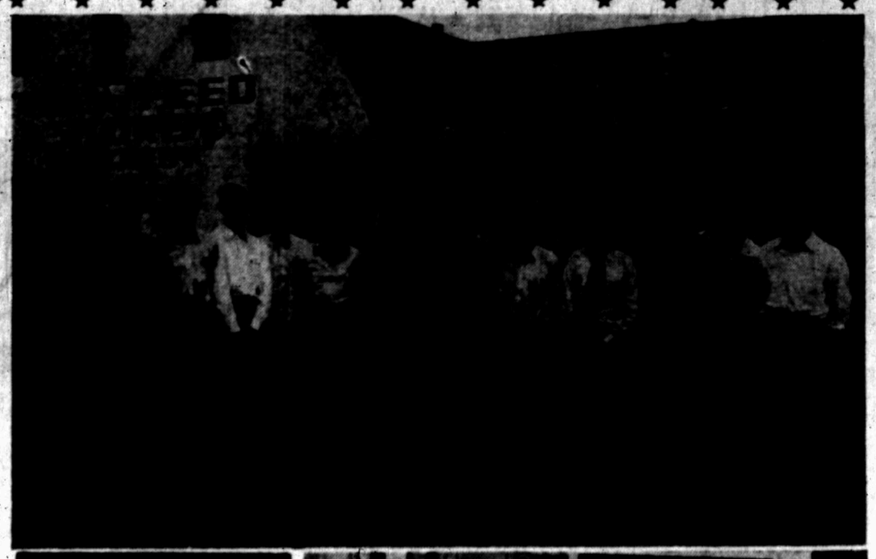

Guy Karr has recently received permanent appointment as postmaster of Spur's second class post office. The office had stamp sales totaling $20,160 during the fiscal year which ended July 1. Money order sales totaled $183,934. Of 123 postal savings accounts, 29 are of the $2,500 limit and they represent a total dollar volume of $135,985.

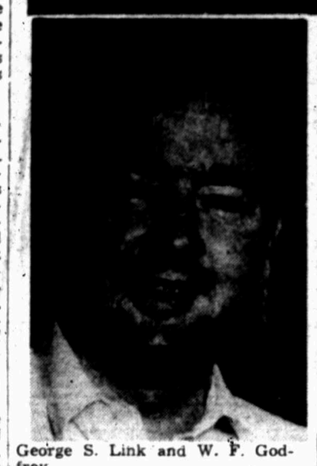

The enrollment in Spur schools this year totals 775, said C. F. Cook, superintendent. The Spur Independent School district encompasses 241½ square miles, 10 districts having been consolidated in past years to form it. Seven school buses are operated. There are 33 white teachers and two negro teachers.

The school system is overcrowded and under consideration is the prospect of calling a bond issue to build a 10-room primary

WHY SPUR IS GROWING—Spur's organizations work together in a remarkable manner to keep improving this friendly Dickens county commercial center. At upper left are some of the members of the volunteer fire department which they call the best of its kind in Texas. With two trucks, business men turn out and usually are at the scene of a fire in a minute and a half or less. Left to right are Lawis Lee, chief, Norton Barrett, assistant chief, Fred Kinney, captain, A. J. Harvey, secretary-treasurer, Spencer Campbell, Burford Johnston, John King, jr., Olan Daughtry, G. W. Grimes, former chief, Calvin Simmons, Coy McMahan, George S. Link, jr., Bill Barrett and P. W. Bailey. Above right is an aerial view of Spur made by James Hudson, young former Lubbock resident who now operates a photography studio in Spur. At extreme left center is J. D. McCain, president of Spur's active Rotary club. Center, standing in front of Spur's modern high school building are the superintendent, C. F. Cook, left, and the new high school principal, Joe Grimland, who came to Spur from Dallas. At bottom center, George S. Link, hardware dealer who came to Spur shortly after the town was founded, enjoys a chat with Joe B. Foster, editor-manager of the Texas Spur, Spur's weekly newspaper. Link has seen practically the entire development of Spur and Dickens county. At the extreme right are officers and directors of the Lions club, who are now engaged in erecting a complete set of metal street markers which they solicited funds for and purchased. Left to right, seated, are Larry Boothe, Robert Williams, Leon Reagan and Van North, directors; standing, left to right are Randolph East, third vice president; Sam Hawks, second vice president, Bruce Browning, first vice president; Fred Kinney, president, D. J. Dyess, secretary-treasurer, Billy Ray Barrett, liontamer, and Ernest E. McNutt, tailtwister. (Staff Photos).

Mysterious Airplane Slaying Is Branded As Mercy Killing

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (AP)—The airplane slaying of a pretty, 28-year-old woman was a "mercy killing," says the wife of the flier who was killed himself when the plane crashed

The strange case, in which Miss Hannah Laufer was fatally shot three times during an ill-fated airplane ride with a Spanish pilot, came to light yesterday.

Plunged Into Marsh

Their plane plunged into a Long Island salt marsh Thursday night. The two were believed victims of the crash alone until a medical examiner yesterday found the bullets in Miss Laufer's body.

Mrs. Lenore Monleon, a fashion model and wife of the pilot, 31-year-old Jesus Meneau Monleon, maintained the shooting was done out of mercy

"The plane was going to crash," she said, "and the girl was suffering, so he shot her to end that, not out of malice. He could not see her in agony."

In the wreckage of the plane, police found a letter which they said indicated Monleon had planned at one time to kill Miss Laufer and then take his own life. Subsequently, the note indicated, he planned only to kill himself.

Desperately In Love

Assistant Medical Examiner Richard Grimes said the letter, addressed to Miss Laufer, "indicated the writer was desperately in love and doubted that his love was returned."

Grimes released these excerpts of the note:

"For a while I thought that I should have to take you with me out of this world. I know now that is impossible . . . It's quite late now. You are always in my heart and mind. Adieu, my dearest . . . I'm taking leave of you."

Monleon, a squadron commander for the Spanish loyalist forces in Spain's civil war and later a flier for the French and British, rented the plane Thursday for a flight to Philadelphia.

Miss Laufer was a daughter of a New York furrier, and until last August, worked as a translator in the Army adjutant general's office, where Monleon was employed as a translator.

Police said Monleon was separated from his wife, but Mrs. Monleon denied they were estranged.

She said she believed her husband had shot Miss Laufer out of mercy because "he was that way."

"Once his boat was torpedoed and he asked that he be shot rather than go down with the boat," she said. "He was that way about himself and I believe he was that way with her when they crashed."

MAJOR ENGAGEMENT

BATAVIA, Sept. 18 (U.P.)—Reports from central Java said today that 1,500 Indonesian troops were fighting a major engagement with Dutch forces in the area of Bobotsari, five miles north of Poerbalingga.

Battle Between Boa And Mule Called Off

WALNAV, N. C., Sept. 18 (AP)—A scheduled battle between the "kickingest mule in Stokes county" and a 20-foot boa constrictor is all off by a double default.

The snake today was in a safe hiding place and the mule's owner has joined the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Bill Page, owner of a carnival playing here, disclosed yesterday his $1,000 boa constrictor would not be risked tonight against Moby Dick, styled as the "kickingest" mule in the county.

And Moby Dick's owner, Martin Luther Mitchell, disclosed that his mule isn't going to fight anything, much less a boa constrictor. Mitchell added he had been fast-talked out of his mule's services by a friend and the next thing he knew the Moby Dick-boa constrictor match was on.

Clarence E. Stone, jr., president of the Winston-Salem SPCA, investigated yesterday. He said that after talking with Mitchell the mule owner joined the Winston-Salem unit of the SPCA. Stone added that the proposed battle conflicted with state laws on animal baiting.

Southern Regional Council Urges Solution To Civil Rights Dispute By North, South

— The Southern Regional council in a statement released today compared the present dispute over civil rights to the dispute over slavery 100 years ago and called for a three-way remedy.

The council's proposed "cure" involves legal, educational and economic measures.

The regional council is a self-styled non-political, non-profit organization. It deplored what it calls the "insufficient effort of either the North or the South to understand the other's problems and to seek a workable solution."

The comparison with pre-civil war days included the following points:

1. The North demanded abrupt and sweeping changes in the South in the name of human freedom.
2. The South defended its customs and laws in the name of States' Rights.
3. The issue was used as a political football.
4. The argument was shot through with fierce emotions.
5. There was too little evidence of true statesmanship.

The council's 11-page statement reprimanded the North for being "in too much of a hurry" to pass laws. The statement pointed out that laws can't do the job alone in a society that is a "complicated interaction of social, economic and legal institutions."

The council also took the South to task for being too slow in some places in the progress toward equal justice before the law and better educational and economic opportunities for negroes.

The statement urged that southerners realize that states' rights mean nothing without states' responsibilities. It then said these responsibilities include the duty to serve the people and "not merely a segment of the population but the entire population."

Concerning the proposed civil rights legislative program, the council said:

"It has been little understood in the South largely because it has been grossly misrepresented by public figures. Contrary to common southern belief, the civil rights laws that have been proposed deal with basic human rights that are required by even the most elementary sense of decency."

The statement said that Democracy was at its lowest ebb in areas where both negroes and whites are economically the poorest. As solutions to this phase of the problem the council urged cooperative state and federal programs for slum clearance, rural housing, and public health.

It said: "Jobs, farms, homes, schools and health—these are the under pinnings of civil rights."

Between 4,500 And 5,000 Cotton Pickers Are Needed

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18 (AP)—Between 4,500 and 5,000 cotton pickers are urgently needed in the Fort Worth control area, the Texas Employment Commission reported today.

The need was acute despite the fact that during August the employment service placed nearly 110,000 farm hands in jobs.

Child Born Prematurely To Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP) — A son was born yesterday to Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller.

A Polyclinic hospital physician said that Mrs. Rockefeller, the former Barbara Sears, had to be taken to the hospital unexpectedly, and that the child was born prematurely.

He said the mother's condition was good.

She and Winthrop Rockefeller, grandson of John D. Rockefeller and often called America's "most eligible bachelor," were married last February.

His romance with the pretty blonde "Bobo," the daughter of a Washington, Pa., coal miner and a one-time stage player, made one of the year's most widely heralded Cinderella stories.

Hospital authorities said the child would be named Winthrop Rockefeller, jr.

About 100,000 species of plants depend on bees for pollination. But as bees are color-blind to red they seldom visit red flowers, and so some plants have to be fertilized artificially because bees do not like them.

Staking Of Two Wildcats In Terry And Dawson And Proving Of Extensions To Levelland And Slaughter Fields Top Activities

STAKING of two wildcat locations, one each in Terry and Dawson counties, were the outstanding features of the oil activity on the South Plains the past week.

Extensions to the Levelland and Slaughter fields in Cochran county were proved during the past week. A south-central Cochran county exploration was waiting to take production test and be completed as a second producer from the Pennsylvanian lime in the Landon deep field.

New Wildcat In Terry

Southern Minerals Corporation and Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 J. M. Newsom is scheduled to be a 5,500-foot wildcat in central southeast Terry county.

Drilling is to begin by September 20. The drillsite is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 47, block 7, D&W survey. That puts it seven miles southeast of Brownfield.

In west Dawson county, J. H. Snowden, and others, have staked location for their No. 1 W. M. Williams to be 660 feet from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 108, block M, EL&HR survey, two miles east of the west line of the county.

The location is a mile northwest of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 C. T. Locke, in section 96, block M, EL&RR survey a failure completed at 5,122 feet in lime on August 30, 1944.

It is projected to 5,500 feet with rotary to test the San Andres lime.

Extension Is Proven

E. Constantin, Jr., No. 1 James St. Clair, central Cochran county wildcat, 10 miles west of Whiteface, has proven for an extension to the Levelland field.

This development, located 440 feet from south and east lines of labor 12, league 130, Carson county school land survey, pumped 46.92 barrels of 27-gravity oil, plus 42 per cent water, in a 24-hour potential test.

Pay Section Treated

The pay section in the San Andres-Permian lime, between 4,885 feet and the plugged back total depth at 4,912 feet, had been treated with a total of 7,000 gallons of acid.

In southeast Cochran county, Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 11-B Dean, 660 feet from north and west lines of the west 441.75 acres in the east three-quarters of league 89, Lipscomb county school land survey, was completed as a southwest extension to the Slaughter pool. It is 18 miles west of Sundown, and two miles west of the nearest producers in the southwest sector of the Slaughter field.

Potential Of 75.80 Barrels

It made a daily potential of 75.80 barrels of 29.8 gravity oil, with no water, and a gas-oil ratio of 367-1. This potential was based on an actual six-hour pumping test, after the section at 5,088-112 feet had been treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. Total depth was 5,127 feet, and it was plugged back to 5,105 feet.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Birtie T. Brown, 2,655 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 4, block L, psl survey, was at a total depth of 10,542 feet and was running electric surveys preparatory to running casing. It is expected that production tests will be made within a short time, and the project completed as a commercial oil producer.

The first and only test so far run showed that it would produce oil in commercial quantities. That test was made on the zone at 10,371-10,430 feet. Since then it has cored and drilled to the current depth of 10,542 feet, and had some fairly good shows of oil in the cores.

The 10,000 foot prospector in Castro county, Sun Oil Company No. 1 A. L. Harber, was making hole beneath 5,847 feet in lime and shale. This venture is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 2, W. E. Halsell subdivision.

In southeast Parmer county, Sunray Oil Corporation and Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Kimbrough, had reached 8,678 feet in lime and shale and was going ahead.

Flanker Is Completed

In east-central Hockley county, Honolulu No. 1-B-13 Ellwood estate, was completed as a southeast flanker to the discovery well for production from the Glorieta section of the middle Permian, Honolulu No. 1-A-13 Ellwood.

This semi-wildcat located 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, made a 24-hour potential, pumping, of 243.80 barrels of oil. The oil was taken from the section at 5,855-987 feet which was acidized with 18,000 gallons. Total depth was 6,043 feet.

Gravity of the petroleum was 24.3 degrees. There was no water and the gas-oil ratio was 200-1.

Offset Is Staked

Honolulu staked a quarter of a mile offset to its discovery well as the No. 4-A-13 Ellwood estate, to be 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey.

Honolulu's No. 2-A-13 Ellwood, a quarter of a mile south stepout to the discovery, and 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, had penetrated below 6,017 feet in lime and was continuing.

Deep Test Abandoned

The deep Ellenburger failure in southeast Hockley county, Honolulu Oil corporation and Signal Oil & Gas company No. 1-24 Ellwood Estate, had been ordered plugged and abandoned at a plugged back total depth of 9,488 feet.

This development was plugged back from the depth of 11,633 feet in granite, after finding the Ellenburger barren. The section at 9,445-75 feet had been perforated and acidized with 500 gallons of mud acid. It recovered salt water with no signs of oil or gas.

This wildcat exploration was located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 5, Wilbarger county school land survey.

The east-central Hockley county wildcat, Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1 J. J. Alderson, et al, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, had drilled under 5,787 feet in lime and was making more hole.

Deep Test Is Scheduled

The slated 11,000-foot Lubbock county wildcat, Phillips Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Kary was building roads and preparing to spud in the near future. It is located 608 feet from west and 645 feet from south lines of northwest quarter of section 25, block D-7, EL&RR survey, and is one mile northeast of the town of Monroe, in north-central Lubbock county.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Stribling, in northeast Lubbock county, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 9, block D-7, psl survey had reached 7,130 feet in lime and shale and was drilling deeper.

No Shows Reported

In northeast Terry county, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey, was coring ahead at 10,688 feet in lime and chert.

A core at 10,653-58 recovered three and one-half feet of lime and chert with no shows of oil.

In extreme southeast Gaines county, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Hicks had gone below 7,049 feet in lime and was continuing to drill. It is 14 miles southwest of Lamesa, and 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving county school land survey, and is contracted to dig to about 12,500 feet.

Drilling Below 10,000 Feet

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-N Jones, in northeast Gaines county and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 496, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, had progressed under 10,984 feet and was making more hole.

Argo No. 1-B Jones, one mile west and one-half mile south of the No. 1-N Jones, and 465 feet from south and west lines of the north half of the south half of section 31, block AX, psl survey, had spudded and was drilling under 1,650 feet in anhydrite. It is slated to find and test the Devonian.

Other Gaines County Tests

In south-central Gaines county, about 13 miles south of Seminole, Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, slated 12,000-foot test, was boring ahead below 8,551 feet in lime with streaks of black shale. It is 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey.

Cities Service Oil Company No. 2 Proctor, in west-central Gaines, 10 miles west of Seminole, had penetrated under 7,248 feet in lime and dolomite and was drilling ahead. It is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 355, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, and is a quarter of a mile stepout from the Cities Service No. 1 Proctor, recently completed discovery from the San Andres.

Drillstem Test Recovers Fluid

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware, No. 2 Lee, 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, T&P survey, was drilling ahead at 7,028 feet in shale, lime and streaks of sand.

A drillstem test at 6,457-575 feet recovered 940 feet of fluid. Of that recovery 540 feet was oil and gas cut mud, and the other 400 feet was 50 per cent oil and 50 per cent mud. The tool was open one hour. There was a steady blow of gas for 70 minutes. Flowing pressure was 475 pounds.

Garza Wildcat Has Shows

In northwest Garza county, Honolulu No. 1 Shelby county school land fee, was drilling the plug at 3,672 feet, where 5½ inch casing was set after it had recovered small amounts of oil on two drillstem tests.

Recovery on the first drillstem test, from 3,640-72 feet, lasting 3¼ hours, was 13 feet of oil and 12 feet of oil-cut mud. The second test, from 3,532-3,672 feet, with the tool open for hours,

Austrian Industry Makes Gains Under U.S. Help, Own Reforms

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The United States poured $305 million into Austria from July 1, 1945 to March 31, 1948, and under the Marshall Plan, Austria for the year beginning July 1, 1948 will receive another $713 million. In the following article Dr. Leopold Figl, Austrian chancellor, tells of successes in industrial production despite periodic Communist-led strikes and Russian pressure which he does not mention).

By DR. LEOPOLD FIGL
Distributed By INS

VIENNA, Sept. 18 — Austrian industrial production has made enormous strides in the course of this year, thanks to the initiative and untiring efforts of our workers and manufacturers.

In order to achieve these results our people were not prodded by compulsory measures or any of those doubtful two, three, four or five-year-plans which have been drawn up in other countries.

In many cases, the increase in Austrian production has been spectacular; some branches of our industry have multiplied their output several times in comparison to 1945.

Much Progress Made

If we look back to the days when we succeeded, with the aid of the Allied armies, in throwing off the tyrannical yoke of Adolf Hitler, our recovery borders on the miraculous. At that time, many of our factories and business interprises were destroyed and deprived of all raw material and machinery.

With incredible labor we had to rebuild everything from scratch. We started to produce goods out of whatever material we could scrape together in our country.

In most cases the goods thus manufactured were neither vital nor essential for our economy but they kept our workers busy and kept plants open when they otherwise would have been closed.

I remember the first exhibition of Austrian goods which some intepid firms organized in the fall of 1945. They did not show much else but cold creams, perfumes and soap as well as a few painted wooden plates and iron-wrought ash-trays!

Trade Is Sought

Today, three years later, Austria is on the way to consolidating her economy. Three years are a very brief period, if you take in to account that the last war destroyed our production so considerably that we have become the talk of Europe and that even countries which are much richer in raw materials than we are, ask us every day whether we can deliver goods to them.

The great turning point in our economic recovery was the currency reform in November, 1947. Ever since that date, the schilling has gained in value, so much so that its exchange rate has doubled on the Swiss free market. Our raw iron production has increased 160 percent over the production level of 1937 and our raw steel production by 110 per cent.

The Austrian aluminum industry which was frustrated for a long time, now produces almost seven times as much as in 1937. Similar increases were obtained in the magnesite, paper, leather, chemical and building industries.

We also dig more coal than in 1937, and there will be enough fuel this winter for every one. As to electrical current, it reached 370 million kilowatts in June—the highest figure since the end of the war.

Our exports have tripled since 1947. We have exported goods to the North, West and East alike, and many firms from overseas are again buying our merchandise. We always have been known for our high quality products in the realm of textiles, shoes and leather goods.

Today we are again able to live up to our old reputation. Our prices are competitive on the world market and we are able to deliver the goods on short terms.

The Austrian government has the intention to give the export trade as much freedom as possible. We are convinced that this trade can prosper only if it is not impeded by bureaucratic obstacles and attempts to direct it from above.

A flourescent lamp, the color of which matches incandescent light, is on the market. Its efficiency is said to exceed that of the standard white flourescent lamp by 7 per cent.

NEW ENGINE, STYLING FEATURE '49 KAISER—The 1949 Kaiser deluxe sedan, which will be displayed Monday in the showrooms of the McKensie Motor Co., 816 Ave. H, has more than 100 improvements—72 in styling and 30 in engine and mechanical features. Major developments, many of them base on the more than two billion miles which owners had put on K-F cars, include an increase from 100 to 112 in horsepower. A massive grille and bumpers are features of the new exterior design. A new instrument panel dominates the restyled interior.

New 1949 Kaiser Models To Be Displayed By McKensie Motor Company Here Monday

The first extensive model change in an American automobile designed since the war was announced Saturday by the Kaiser-Frazer Corp., with the introduction of the 1949 Kaiser special and deluxe sedans. Models of the new cars will be on display in the showroom of the McKensie Motor Co., 816 Ave. H on Monday.

Completely re-engineered for 1949, the cars have a new look inside and out.

Major Features Listed

An increase from 100 to 112 horsepower in the Kaiser deluxe six-cylinder engine with no loss of fuel economy.

Simplified clutch, steering, accelerator, and brake mechanisms. Fifty-two parts have been eliminated through development of an exclusive K-F clutch linkage.

A restyled body with a silhouette three inches lower in appearance than in previous models. A new grille, bumpers, fenders, hood and other body panels are among styling changes.

Overall Length Increased

Completely redesigned interiors with new instrument panels and a color-styling program of unprecedented variety in the auto industry.

The new overall length of Kaiser models is 206½ inches, an increase of 3½ inches.

Horizontal bars which blend with a massive one-piece, wrap-around bumper distinguish the front-end styling. Incorporated in the grille are extra parking lamps, with a newly-designed "Buffalo-K" emblem on the hood as a part of the chrome grille trim.

Height Is Maintained

An actual overall height of 64½ inches has been maintained in the new models, although stylewise the silhouette appears three inches lower through redesigned, longer-skirted fenders and lower chrome-trimmed rocker panels which are integral with the body.

Other exterior features include new pull-type door handles, lower rear license plate mounting, a new trunk lid handle and massive chrome tail and stop lights.

Improved Performance

A dual throat carburetor and dual manifold system has given an improved 112 horsepower performance as compared with the 100 horsepower of previous models. The 12 per cent gain in power was accomplished without an increase in gasoline consumption.

The dual manifolding is the outgrowth of two years of experimentation by K-F engineers. It provides the motor with the highest rated horsepower per cubic inch displacement of any standard six-cylinder American automobile design.

Riding Ease Maintained

So effective is the refinement that the Kaiser deluxe will accelerate from a speed of 10 to 70 miles per hour in 30 seconds—and yet the fuel economy for which K-F cars are known is unchanged.

A high standard of riding ease has been attained in both models through equipoised motor mounting and feather touch accelerator control.

Eighteen body colors and 16 harmonizing fabric shades, plus three selections of vinyl plastic, are available in the new cars. Princess Will Have Child At Buckingham Palace In November

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Authoritative sources say Princess Elizabeth will have her baby in Buckingham palace about mid-November.

Most guesses had been that Elizabeth's child would be born some time in October. The Princess made her last public appearance June 28.

The child will be the first born to Elizabeth and her consort Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. It also will become the first heir to the throne to be born in Buckingham palace since Edward VII in 1841. He was the first son of Queen Victoria.

It was learned last night the Princess decided to have her baby at the palace because she and Philip do not yet have a permanent residence of their own.

Soil Conservation In Hockley Pushed

LEVELLAND, Sept. 18 (Special)—Stressing the importance of completing farmer-district agreements and soil conservtaion plans while assistance is available, members of the board of supervisors of the Hockley County Soil Conservation district are placing special emphasis this month on floating and borders for alfalfa and improved pastures.

Because of poor rainfall in some parts of the district much cropland is bare, and soil conservation technicians believe that this is an excellent year for cover crops, according to Ben T. Phillips, board chairman. It is pointed out that such preparations can help prevent another spring like the dust years of 1933 and 1934.

Assistance Now Available

The board members suggested that cooperators have more assurance of securing assistance now because soil conservtaion service men may be much busier next spring and unable to answer calls.

The district office announced that several farmers are preparing to plant acreages to vetch and rye as combination cover crops and soil builders.

Among these are Phillips, board chairman, who is to plant six to ten acres of vetch and rye; B Forman of Anton, board member, who recently planted 15 acres of vetch and rye; Leon Lawson of Pettit, board member, who is planning to plant ten acres; L. E. Wilson and A. B. Conner, cooperators who live on the Ropesville project, who each plan to plant ten acres of hairy vetch and rye.

Conner started this week also to build borders for 15 acres of alfalfa and 12 acres of improved pasture. Others preparing for alfalfa planting include N. J Green, W. W. Jones, and C. B. Ward, all in the Ropesville area.

Three Senators Ask Why Army Has Reduced Sentence Imposed On Buchenwald Queen

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 18. (AP)—U. S. Sen. Raymond E. Baldwin (R-Conn) and two of his colleagues want to know why the Army has reduced the sentence imposed on Ilse Koch, the notorious "Queen of Buchenwald."

Frau Koch, wife of the former commandant of the Nazi concentration camp, was sentenced to life in an American war crimes trial at Dachau after being accused by witnesses of having prisoners killed so she would have lampshades and handbags made of their skin.

Report Confirmed

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, yesterday confirmed the report that a recommendation for the reduction of her sentence to four years had been made to him by reviewing officers on the grounds "it had never been proved that Frau Koch had selected prisoners for execution or had in her possession articles made of human skin."

Terming the woman "one of the cruelest and one of the hardest" Nazi officials at Buchenwald, Baldwin said last night that he and Senators Gurney (R-S. Dak.) and Saltonstall (R-Mass) had sent a telegram to Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall asking if the reported commutation were true and, if so, the Army's reasons.

Asserting Frau Koch was "utterly ruthless in her treatment of prisoners," Baldwin said he and his colleagues would certainly like to know why, if the Army did reduce the sentence.

Industrial Utilization Of Grain Sorghums Is One Of WTCC Projects

ABILENE, Sept. 18 — A program for the industrial utilization of grain sorghums produced on the thousands of acres of land in West Texas is one of the work projects of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be launched this year and will be carried into a series of meetings which will begin September 28 and carry through the first week in October.

A complete survey of the industrial utilization potentials of grain sorghum has just been completed as one of the tasks of the Burlington railroad committee of the West Texas chamber. R. C. Stanford of Wichita Falls is chairman of this committee.

Kindred To Corn

Substantially the report points out that sorghum grains and corn are kindred botanically, agronomically and in chemical composition, and with more than one thousand derivatives of sorghum grains they can mean to West Texas what corn does to Iowa.

Grain sorghum acreage and yield throughout the 132 counties making up West Texas have each increased during recent years, especially with the prices of sorghum grains falling only a few cents below those of corn. The fact that the growing of sorghum grains is 100 per cent mechanized has been a big help to farmers in West Texas, where there are wide expanses to be cultivated.

New Uses Would Benefit Area

New industrial uses for grain sorghums may well mean a sustained market and new payrolls for West Texas communities, according to the 69-page report, which was prepared by Fred Elliston, Texas Electric Service engineer for the WTCC-Burlington committee.

Since West Texas produces 40.2 per cent of the nation's sorghum grain, and 78.7 per cent of all produced in Texas, the program now is to industrialize the use of the products in the area. It already has been shown freight rates can be made competitive for the area, with the nearest producing rivals in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Products Listed In Survey

This report is being presented to every local director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in the area, for his use in cooperation with the local Chamber of Commerce in attempting to develop industrialization on a large scale, according to General Manager D. A. Bandeen.

In the survey are listed more than a thousand products of sorghum grains. The chemical composition of sorghum grains make obvious the opportunity for this abundantly grown West Texas agricultural product to fulfill industrial raw material requirements. Initial use would be for starches, but it also can be used in confections, explosives, and particularly industrial alcohol.

The survey cites a report from Dr. F. E. Horan, associate of the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, showing "it is possible to do with grain sorghums that which already has been done with corn."

While sorghum grains have been used for many years for livestock feeding, it also has been found that it has great potentialities as a food for human consumption. Already it has been made into flour which contains high food value.

GRAIN SORGHUM SURVEY—Fred Elliston, Texas Electric Service engineer, here presents to President C. P. Dodson of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the survey of grain sorghum industrial potentialities in West Texas. The report was prepared for the WTCC-Burlington committee in an effort to show industrial possibilities in this leading West Texas crop.

Baby Sucking Empty Liquor Bottle Startles Passersby

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—A naked baby sitting on the curb sucking an empty liquor bottle. That was the sight that startled passersby at a busy southwest side intersection.

A few minutes after the baby was taken to a police station, last night, Mrs. Helen Hussey burst into the station to report her 18-month-old son, Thomas, missing. The baby put down the bottle and cried "Mommie."

Mrs. Hussey said she had put the baby in the bathtub while she went into another room for soap. When she got back the baby was gone. No one seemed to know where the bottle came from.

Two Wildcats Staked In Terry And Dawson Areas; Extensions Made In Other Fields

To Explore Lower Permian

The wildcat is projected to 5,400 feet to explore into the lower Permian. It is 3,360 feet from the north and 440 feet from the east line of Shelby County School Land survey, abstract 397, three miles southeast of Southland and about six miles north of the PHD (San Andres) field.

The semi-wildcat in south-central Hale county, Humble Oil & Refining company No. 2 T. E. Lutrick, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block D-8, EL&RR survey was drilling at 3,624 feet in anyhydrite and lime. It is a one location outpost to the recently completed Humble No. 1 T. E. Lutrick, a small producer from the Cisco lime.

New Anton-Irish Producer

The Anton-Irish field of southwest Hale and southeast Lamb counties had only one new oil producer completed and one new location spotted for that area during the past week.

The new oil well is Stanolind No. 3-B. J. B. Snead, 660 feet from north and west lines of lease in section 17, block DT, EL&RR survey. It produced a 24-hour pumping potential of 188.16 barrels of 31 gravity oil from the zone at 5,336-6,080 feet which had been treated with 18,000 gallons of acid. There was no water and the gas-oil ratio was 223-1.

New Prospector Staked

The new prospector was staked by the Pure Oil company as its No. 12 E. A. Preston, 660 feet from the east and south lines of section 12, block DT, HE&WT survey and is to go to around 6,300 feet with rotary tools.

Drilling wells in the Anton-Irish field include:

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 4 Arnold was drilling below 5,200 feet in lime.

Stanolind No. 4-A Harral, has reached 4,689 feet in lime and was going ahead.

Connecting Pump Unit

Stanolind No. 4-B Harral was rigging up a rotary rig preparatory to beginning drilling operations.

Stanolind No. 1 Myatt was at a total depth of 6,181 feet and was connecting up a pump unit.

Stanolind No. 4 Myatt was swabbing the section at 5,686-6,000 feet, and in four hours swabbed nine barrels of load oil, 14 barrels of new oil and two barrels of water. It was preparing to treat this section with 10,000 gallons of acid, and swab and test further. Total depth is 6,000 feet.

Progress in Other Projects

Stanolind No. 4 Rollingsford Savings Bank was drilling ahead at 5,655 feet in dolomite.

Stanolind No. 6-B Lee Irish was making hole under 4,615 feet in lime.

Stanolind No. 7 Blackman had penertated below 6,060 feet in dolomite and was continuing.

Stanolind No. 4 Durrett had reached a total depth of 6,100 feet and was waiting to take a potential test.

Project Is Swabbing

Stanolind No. 5 Rollinsford Savings Bank was swabbing after a 10,000-gallon acid treatment on the zone at 5,722-6,050 feet. It made 143 barrels of acid water; 110 barrels of load oil and 20 barrels of new oil in 18 hours. Total depth was 6,050 feet.

Stanolind No. 4-B Snead was drilling dolomite at 5,956 feet.

Stanolind No. 8 Blackman was at a total depth of 6,071 feet, and was swabbing the section at 5,632-325 feet at the rate of 122 barrels of oil and nine barrels of water in 15 hours.

Pure No. 8 Preston was drilling under 4,850 feet in lime.

Pure No. 9 Preston had reached a total depth of 6,300 feet and was still swabbing and testing.

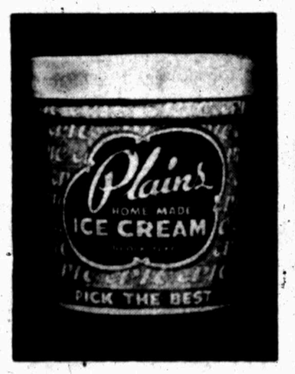

Pure No. 10 Preston was making hole below 5,334 feet in lime.

General American Oil Company No. 1 Carmickle, outpost to the Arick field in southeast Hale county, about three miles north of Petersburg, had reached 3,159 feet in lime and shale, in the lower Permian, and was making more hole.

This development is slated to dig to about 6,000 feet to test into the Pennsylvania lime. It is 990 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Facts And Fancies About Cinemaland

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: M-G-M has a new script, "Any Number Can Play", in the works for Clark Gable. It's about the owner of a gambling house and his son. Humphrey Bogart wanted to buy the story, too. M-G-M got there first. . . . The doctor told Joan Fontaine to set aside Oct. 25 for the arrival of the stork. He says it should be a boy. . . . Ida Lupino turned down an offer to appear at the Palladium in London and had lunch at Lucey's instead. . . .

Johnson

An extra on the "One Woman" set commented to June Havoc about Arthur Kennedy's military carriage. "Well," said June, "he should have one. He was in Alan Ladd's class at West Point in "Beyond Glory'."

Elton Britt, the cowboy singer, is in Hollywood to take a whirl at pictures. . . . Producer Hunt Stromberg's next picture will be "Too Late for Tears," which will be made at Republic and released through UA. He's borrowing Liz Scott from Hal Wallis, Don DeFore from Paramount, Dan Duryea from Universal and plenty from the Bank of America.

LADY TARZAN

A SERIES of horrified screams brought alarmed neighbors to the assistance of starlet Lois Hall, who calmly assured them she was all right. Lois explained that she was merely doing some homework for her next picture, "Daughter of the Jungle." The neighbors don't know it, but they're in for a rough time. Republic is grooming Lois to be a female Tarzan.

Hollywood's economy wave has even reached the animal actors. Jerry Fairbanks' next "Speaking of Animals" short subject, "Goin' Hollywood," includes a scene of a canine star bemoaning the fact that his salary has been cut to a bone and a herd of elephants complaining that they're working for peanuts.

It never happens on Broadway, but established star Greg Peck shared his dressing room with rising young actor Douglas Dick during the run of "The Male Animal" at La Jolla. Ditto with Cathy O'Donnell and Louise Beavers . . . Melville Cooper will have his own radio program this fall. He'll play a comedy English detective.

"APPY RED".

DESPITE stories that Red Skelton is happy at M-G-M, the redheaded recently offered that studio $100,000 to be released from his contract. After the success of "The Fuller Brush Man," which was made off the M-G-M lot, Skelton is convinced he would be much better off free lancing . . . The U. S. government okayed the script of Gene Raymond's picture, "Flight Into Infinity." Gene is now hoping the critics will do the same.

Sweater girl Arlene Dahl is proving to be a problem on the "Reign of Terror" set. After viewing the curvaceous Arlene in the low-cut gowns provided by the Eagle Lion wardrobe department, the Johnston office gave specific orders against any cross lighting. "At least," one of the censors said, "the lighting can be flat."

More confusion: Rosemary DeCamp, who plays Jean Hersholt's nurse on the air, will be William Bendix's leading lady in the film version of "The Life of Riley."

Use an inexpensive grade of canned salmon for a fish loaf; flavor with finely grated onion and sweet pickle relish and serve with a parsley cream sauce.

Bathing Beauty Finally Gets Wet

By PATRICIA CLARY
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18—Adele Mara, who has posed in hundreds of bathing suits without ever going in the water, has finally gotten into the water without a bathing suit.

ADELE MARA

Miss Mara, whose figure lends itself ideally to "cheesecake" art, has posed for 4,000 pin-up pictures in almost that many different bathing suits.

Miss Mara has been on the sea in boats, over the sea in airplanes and under the sea in submarines. She's done every conceivable thing with a swimming pool except go in it.

She has posed on a diving board and near a diving board. She has tossed beach balls and posed under beach umbrellas. She dipped her right foot, in one picture, almost completely in the water. For another, she stood on a rock in the middle of the stream.

But never, no, never, did Miss Mara get wet.

Cast In New Role

The paradox ended when Republican cast her as a half-Dutch, half-Balinese native girl in "The Wake of the Red Witch." The opening scene calls for her to be bathing, native style, in an island lagoon and to be discovered by Gig Young.

"Naturally, I had to be under the surface of the water," Miss Mara said. "So I had to learn to swim. And I swallowed a lagoonful of water doing it."

Other famous movie baths have been taken by Paulette Goddard, Hedy Lamarr, Claudett Colbert, Jean Harlow, Luise Rainer, Edward G. Robinson and Lassie. Miss Mara is the first, however, to have the tropics for a background.

"This creates a come hither element," Miss Mara remarked, "before I do a single splash."

Whether they be in a DeMille gold bathtub or a wooden bucket, most movie baths are utilitarian. Miss Mara hopes to give bathing a new look.

"I tried to bathe," she said, "as though I'm doing it for sheer fun."

Rita Brings Extra Gems Back Home; Lana Has Extra Pounds

By RUTH BRIGHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18—Rita Hayworth arrived back in this country with a few extra jewels . . . Lana Turner with a few extra pounds. The jewels I can understand.

Speaking of jewels—and they always are in Hollywood—there are some fabulous ones in the movie colony. Sonja Henie's usually lead the list. But somehow, Sonja, with her sparklers and with her feathery hair dresses, never quite does justice to jewels as Merle Oberon does. Merle wears hers with quiet dignity. She specializes in diamonds, wears them elegantly.

Joan Also Loaded

Joan Crawford is another who is loaded, and sometimes overloaded. But she got hers the hard way—working from taxi dancer to top Hollywood star.

Paulette Goddard, a smart cookie with a buck, invests in jewels as I do in bobby pins. Now that she's married to Burgess Meredith, she's still adding to her collection.

Most of the gals in movietown buy their own. Sugar daddies don't grow here — and when they do they don't sprinkle their sugar on hometown products—but on the babes from back home.

Christmas Preview

Margaret O'Brien gave her friends a Christmas preview when she posed with an advance model of the Christmas tree she plans for December. It takes this far ahead for mag covers, you know.

Anyhow, among those who visited the "Little Women" set to see the tree, trimmed entirely with paper ornaments, was the woman who fashioned the cornucopias, silver stars and paper angels.

"I wanted to see you in costume and with the tree. You see, my little girl played the role of Beth, too."

The woman was the mother of screen star Jean Parker — now a Broadway actress.

Hollywood is still smiling at the way determined little Jeanne Craine quietly and sweetly goes about her own business . . . and breaks precedent . . .

She Kept Her Secret

For instance, when Jeanne learned several months ago that she was to become a mother for the second time, did she rush to the telephone and announce her own private business to all the columnists in town? She did not! She told her husband and, later, her parents.

Like the average young American wife and mother-to-be, Jeanne took pride in seeing how long she could keep her important secret a secret. And, going the average one better, she kept it a secret until figures don't lie . . .

Oddly, Jeanne Crain Brinkman looks like a daguerrotype — frail and fragile. But when her parents objected to her marriage three years ago, because of her age, she quietly married anyway. And it's been a happy marriage.

Jeanne and Paul are thrilled over the anticipated baby, although its birth means postponing their planned safari, perhaps to Africa.

But that can come later, she says, going about the business of enlarging the nursery in the modest Brinkman home.

All Set For Part

Capsule comments:

Sylvia Fine is all set for a part in "Happy Times" with the husband from whom she did not part permanently — Danny Kaye. They're awfully happy these days.

When a trailer of "Rachel And The Stranger" showed at a Hollywood theater, with Bob Mitchum, the actor charged with smoking marijuana, received cheers and applause.

Ida Lupino's sister, Rita, is headed for the altar with New York actor Roger Anderson.

Alexis Smith and husband Craig Stevens face separation for the first time in their five years of marriage. He's gone to Broadway to talk play plans.

Red-haired Joanna Lamont, 19, former San Diego beauty, is being given the once-over lightly by Hollywood talent scouts — who praised her title role performance in Ben Bard's production, "Elizabeth, The Queen."

It was that super duper colossal flop, "Arch Of Triumph," that caused Enterprise to close it's doors. Whether the studio will reopen depends on the unreleased films "No Minor Vices," "Caught," and "Force Of Evil."

Foundry Strike In Mexico Appears To Be Stalemated

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17 (AP)—The two-month-old strike of 4,000 workers at the Monterrey foundry appeared stalemated today.

Management of the Mexican owned plant sent word to the labor relations board that it would not pay wages of workers during the strike. Many labor disputes settlements here require the companies to pay back wages.

The plant management told the labor board it was not responsible for the strike, that retroactive wage payments would total about 2,000,000 pesos ($290,000) and that 20,000 tons of materials could have been produced had the strike not been called.

Everybody Gets In Act As Bank Opens

Dignity Of Banking Business Is Given Jolt In Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17—What dignity the banking business had left after the midget climbed upon J. P. Morgan's knee was spent in Hollywood Friday.

When the California bank opened its Hollywood and Vine street branch it was a press agent's dream—barring two incidents.

The press agents wanted Dorothy Lamour to make a deposit from a money roll in her stocking. Dottie balked.

Holdup Was Staged

And they wanted to drive a stage coach, drawn by four horses, into the bank to stage a hold-up. The bank balked.

But Dottie did deposit her diamonds, and the hold-up was staged—just outside the doors.

Photographers bulbs flashed and newsreel cameras ground away to their heart's content, as Republic pictures starlets were held up by unmasked bandits.

If they'd been masked, they couldn't have been "mugged" — and their sweet publicity would have been lost, even if the bank's wasn't.

George Burns and Gracie Allen were on hand, serving as heads of the bookkeeping department, long enough to have their pictures taken with bank President Frank T. Kane.

Jack Benny On Hand

Jack Benny got in the act, too, by arriving during the afternoon to make a deposit—from money stuffed in a mattress.

Garry Moore deposited a 64-dollar bill that the Treasury department would never recognize. Lassie, the dog actor, left a bone.

Child star Bobby Driscoll made a deposit from his piggy bank and 18-year-old Jane Powell deposited her bobby sox.

Jane has been out of bobby sox so long, to tell the truth, she had to buy a new pair with which to make the gag deposit.

"Bill and Coo," Ken Murray's birds, also arrived during the afternoon to make their deposit.

Burglars Have Hard Time Making Work Pay In Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (INS) — Three burglaries one day this week in Dallas indicated that burgling is hardly worth the effort anymore.

Hard-working intruders climbed a fire escape to the second-floor window of the Railway Express Agency and knocked the knobs off two safes. They got stamps, nothing else.

When they dropped down a floor in the same building and broke through a wall into the Howard Furniture Company. Therein, they knocked a knob off a safe, but couldn't get it open anyway.

Meanwhile, another burglar was busy squeezing through the bars of a window of the By-Low Food Store. He squeezed out eight cases of beer, 20 cartons of cigarettes and an undetermined number of cigar boxes.

U. S. Needs Big Cotton Stockpile; Clay "Burned Up" By Kremlin Talks

"A Stitch In Time"

THE possibility of cotton acreage controls next year apparently were diminished considerably last week. But developments did not provide for a most vital need in case of war: An assured stockpile of cotton.

According to the most generous estimates from the most authentic sources, the nation's cotton reserve will not exceed 5,000,000 bales when the 1948 crop is sold. That will not be enough, by a great deal, for an emergency. The U. S. had a surplus of 13,000,000 bales when World War II started. That was far short of needs.

National security creates an obvious demand for a large cotton stockpile, to be available when needed. Acreage controls would be most hazardous until a reserve is provided. Farmers should have price protection during the stockpiling period. The stockpile should absorb surpluses above current needs as a safeguard against a market collapse.

Stockpiling costs would be heavy, but not prohibitive. Fifteen million bales at a support price of 30 cents a pound would total $2,250,000,000. But this could be divided among the several years required to accumulate the reserve. The yearly cost would be a modest item in the defense budget—and a cotton stockpile definitely would be for national defense. True, it might never be needed. Let's pray that there would not be such need. But far better eventually to burn it than to need it and not have it.

The proposition of acreage controls is pretty sure to arise from year to year. They may become desirable, even necessary, farther down the line. But they are neither desirable nor necessary until a large reserve is accumulated. Until peace is more secure, a cotton stockpile is about as cheap and important as any security insurance this nation can provide.

Don't Relax Yet!

OUR last desire would be to raise new apprehensions among those who were reassured the other day by word from Washington that the weight of the Antarctic ice cap isn't likely to cause the earth to topple over. No one knows how many people have been losing sleep because of this fear.

But, to keep the record straight, duty may demand that attention be called to another scientific view of the earth's tipping tendencies.

Practically all the experts agree that our planet does wiggle a little at the poles. Some of the alarmists among them insist that the wiggle is getting bigger all the time. A few of the extremists warn that old Mother Earth may decide some day to roll over, with the result that the polar region would be at the Equator while the equatorial belt would become covered with eternal ice and snow.

Therefore, it may be advisable to take the reassurances from Washington as to the Antarctic with a grain or two of salt. Those who have worried about an earthly topple should keep on worrying, just a little.

It is just as well to try to be prepared for the worst if, as some of the extremists predict, Mother Earth should go into a tailspin some 50 to 500 million year from now.

"The ears and throat are sympathetically connected by a comomn nervous system," says a physician. This probably explains why so many things we hear give us a pain in the neck.

Is intelligence an indication of superiority? Man is the most intelligent animal, and the more intelligent men are running the world—and just look at it!

A leading psychiatrist says there are 10,000,000 feeble-minded people in the United States. This is manifestly an underestimate, as more than that many people vote the ticket of the major opposition party.

"The true index to intelligence is the extent of a person's vocabulary," asserts a professor. We doubt this. We hear a lot of ignorance expressed in polysyllabic words.

GOP CONTINUES TO MAINTAIN LEAD OVER NATION

Dewey Gains Ground In Ohio, Latest Survey Shows

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., September 18.—Ohio, a state which Governor Thomas E. Dewey carried in the 1944 presidential election by the exceedingly slim margin of two tenths of one per cent, is today in the Republican column by a fairly wide margin.

Interviewers throughout Ohio have put the following question to a cross-section of the state's voting population:

GALLUP

"If the presidential election were being held TODAY how would you vote—for Truman, for Dewey or for Wallace?"

The vote:

OHIO
(25 electoral votes)

Dewey	50%
Truman	38
Wallace	3
Undecided	9

Ohio is the seventh state to be reported in the Institute's series of reports on political sentiment in the individual states. The series has brought out the following facts so far:

1. Governor Dewey is leading today in five of the seven states—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, California, and Ohio. President Truman leads in one, Missouri, and Governor J. Strom Thurmond, States' Rights party candidate, in one, South Carolina.

2. Except for New York, Henry A. Wallace, Progressive Party candidate, polls a comparatively low vote in all the states thus far reported. His strength varies from a low of less than 1 per cent in South Carolina and 3 per cent in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, to a high of 14 per cent in New York. In New York his candidacy, by splitting the Democratic vote throws the state to Governor Dewey today, but in the other states thus far reported the Wallace forces do not hold the balance of power, for even if Mr. Wallace were to drop out and if all his votes went to Mr. Truman, Governor Dewey's lead in those states would still not be overcome.

3. The Thurmond threat to the Democrats in the South can be seen by the large popular vote majority for Governor Thurmond in his home state of South Carolina, where he outpolls President Truman today 2-to-1.

ALTHOUGH election day is less than two months off, approximately one voter in ten continues to be undecided about his choice of candidate. Some of these undecideds did not vote in the last presidential election, but among those who did vote last time the majority voted Democratic. If they do the same this year when they make up their minds it will be a factor favorable to Mr. Truman.

The box score on the states follows:

DEWEY LEADING

NEW YORK—Dewey 42 per cent, Truman 32 per cent, Wallace 14 per cent, Undecided 12 per cent.

PENNSYLVANIA — Dewey 53 per cent, Truman 37 per cent, Wallace 3 per cent, Undecided 7 per cent.

NEW JERSEY—Dewey 50 per cent, Truman 38 per cent, Wallace 3 per cent, Undecided 9 per cent.

CALIFORNIA—Dewey 49 per cent, Truman 35 per cent, Wallace 7 per cent, Undecided 9 per cent.

OHIO—reported today.

TRUMAN LEADING

MISSOURI — Truman 53 per cent, Dewey 36 per cent, Undecided 11 per cent. (Whether Mr. Wallace would be on the Missouri ballot was in doubt when this survey was conducted. Recent reports are that he will qualify on the Missouri ballot. Governor Thurmand will, however, not be on the ballot.)

THURMOND LEADING

SO. CAROLINA—Thurmond 52 per cent, Truman 26 per cent, Dewey 10 per cent, Wallace less than 1 per cent, Undecided 12 per cent.

Today's poll percentages on Ohio would, with the undecided vote eliminated, read Dewey 54 per cent, Truman 42 per cent, and Wallace 4 per cent. This compares with a vote in the 1944 presidential election in Ohio of 50.2 per cent for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

DID you ever have a feeling of utter futility?

Did you ever wonder what on earth everything is all about and whether all the effort and the toil and the worry really amounts to a row of pins?

Let us say you are a housewife.

BRANDEIS

You clean and and you wash and you do the thousand and one things the average housewife has to do.

Three hours spent over a hot stove to make a meal perfect. In thirty minutes or less it is eaten. Probably the family enjoyed it. But nobody said so. They just ate, wiped their faces and rushed to their newspapers or radios or to the movies.

Maybe while your husband was eating your dinner he told you about the delicious luncheon he had with Jim Smith this noon. Maybe he described that luncheon in detail and told you what wonderful cuisine they had at L'Aiglon, or whatever the name of the the place happens to be. But not a word about your cooking.

Dinner over, there are dishes to wash, a half dozen other chores to do, tomorrow to think about.

Isn't that when that feeling of utter futility strikes you?

Isn't that when you wonder what it is all about, whether it is worthwhile?

Let us say you are a business man.

Let us imagine the boss has just had you in his office and made you feel like a worm about something that you did or failed to do.

Like many bosses, he may have hinted that he is paying you more than you are worth and so now you spend the rest of the day worrying about how much longer that job of yours is going to last.

So, naturally, you take your worries out on the people who work for you, and they in turn take theirs out on those who work for them.

And every one of you workers and worriers goes home with a feeling of utter futility and wonders what it is all about and whether it is worth-while.

A FRIEND of mine remarked that one of the wonderful things about being a writer is the opportunity it gives him to make such significant contributions to life and civilization.

"Significant"? I said. "Rats!"

Right alongside me in my study is a wallful of bookcases, loaded with the contributions of thousands of years of writers, philosophers, scientists.

In those volumes is much of the combined wisdom of many centuries.

Hot Feud Is Raging

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—While Allied forces have been locked in a dangerous feud with the Russians, an equally hot feud has been going on inside Allied ranks. Gen. Lucius Clay and Ambassador Bedell Smith have been almost as sore at each other as at the Russians.

PEARSON

When the current Kremlin negotiations opened, General Clay, who has had more dealings with the Russians than any other American, made two appeals to Washington and Moscow:

1) Don't negotiate under duress; and 2) don't accept any loosely worded agreements about Berlin. Both these warnings were repeated again and again to Ambassador Smith in Moscow.

Despite this, diplomatic observers concur that Smith got sucked in. Molotov got him detoured into all sorts of side issues such as control of the Ruhr, withdrawal of all Allied forces from Germany, control of Austria, and Italian colonies. Friends of Clay say that wherever the Russians threw out some bait, Smith jumped for the hook—hopeful that he was working toward penetration of the iron curtain.

As reports on these conversations were dispatched by diplomatic courier to Berlin, Clay and the men around him burned up. They had pleaded with Washington, London and with Smith to demand lifting the Berlin blockade, then leave the next move to the Kremlin. But the ambassador seemed hypnotized by Stalin's charm.

Elder Brother Stalin

At the end of the first meeting, Smith cabled that Stalin had invited him to his apartment for a private talk and a drink.

After the second session, Smith cabled that at the end of a four-and-three-quarter-hour session Stalin walked over to him, placed his arm around his shoulder and "apologized" for the difficulties which developed in their negotiations. Stalin's attitude was that of a gentle brother asking his elders to have patience with a bad boy. Molotov, of course, was supposed to be the bad boy.

Result of all this Stalin "snake-charming" was that Ambassador Smith persuaded Washington to accept an agreement "in principle" under which the Russians would "try to lift" the Berlin blockade—if the Western Allies would accept the Russian reichsmark as the official currency for Berlin.

Russian marks were to be accepted for western marks on an equal basis—despite the fact that western marks, backed by the U. S., Britain and France, were selling for five times the value of Soviet marks.

WHEN Clay and his advisers heard about this deal, they screamed bloody murder. Several top staff members threatened to resign, urged Clay to do likewise. Friendly West German officials served notice on Clay they would quit all attempts to save Berlin if the Russian mark was accepted. As one Clay adviser put it:

"Smith is trying to make the world think he is the savior of the peace and that Clay is a so-and-so. His agreement in Moscow isn't worth the paper it's written on. So he passes the buck to Clay to negotiate the details—while Clay has 90 divisions of the Red army pointed right at his heart. If that isn't negotiating under duress, I'll eat my shirt."

However, General Clay, always a good soldier, calmed down. He cabled Washington that he would follow orders.

You can put it down in the book, however, that from here on out, Ambassador Smith will have to do a lot of explaining before Clay buys any more of his "made in Moscow" peace packages.

No-Brass-Hat Denfeld

One of the best things that ever happened to the Navy was the promotion of Adm. Louis E. Denfeld to be chief of naval operations. Breezy and democratic, Denfeld is the antithesis of the stuffy brass hats who hitherto have adorned the Navy's top command.

As a result, the morale of Navy enlisted men has never been better.

The night before Denfeld addressed the recent Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in St. Louis, he sat in his hotel room polishing the speech. Some late-hour celebrating by VFW delegates in the room next door didn't help his power of concentration. Finally, at 2:30 a. m., the admiral gave up and knocked on the door of the merrymakers.

"Judging by all the noise in here, you gentlemen must be having a lot of fun," he told them. "Mind if I join you?"

Confident Harry Truman

AFL leader George Harrison gave an optimistic report to President Truman when he called at the White House the other day.

"Every major union executive in the American Federation of Labor, with the exception of Bill Hutcheson of the carpenters and one or two others, will be actively working in your corner, Mr. President," predicted the chief of the railway clerks' brotherhood.

"We're going to raise our own funds by voluntary contributions from AFL members. No handouts from the Democratic national committee will be needed. We intend to pay our own way."

"That's a load off my shoulders," declared Chairman McGrath, who has been wondering where the next $100 campaign check is coming from.

Harrison suggested that Truman stress two themes to win the labor vote—the high cost of living and Taft-Hartley repeal of New Deal labor gains. He added: "And I think you ought to nail this story about the election being 'in the bag' for Dewey. That's rigged Republican propaganda to discourage votes for you and Barkley."

Truman replied he wasn't overly worried about this. He added that the Republicans were going to be a "surprised bunch" the day after election if they persisted in the attitude that a G.O.P. victory is foregone.

"I realize we have a tough battle on our hands," he said, "but never was I as confident of anything in my life as I am of giving Mr. Dewey his second licking in a national election. All the reports I get convince me that the people are supporting my policies."

What the world needs is a brain-food that will produce some brains.

Plot May Be Little Extravagant

"AN AFFAIR OF STATE," by Pat Frank; (Lippincott).

BUDAPEST, front line in the "cold war," is the stirring scene of the principal action in this second novel by the author of the hilarious and ominous "Mr. Adam." Frank is still a crusader, but this time the vein is serious. Jeff Baker, son of an obscure State Department clerk, comes back from the war with a captaincy, a medal, an insatiable hunger for a young woman as lovely and exciting as Susan Pickett, and a determination to forge a career in the Foreign Service.

Assigned to the steel-blue Danube capital, briefed by the department's chief of the Balkan division, he proceeds to his post and learns from his immediate superior, Fred Keller, that in preparation for the expected World War III, he is to help organize an anti-Communist Underground against the day when the Russian armies will have overrun all of Europe. He is repelled by the cool certainty with which the next war is forecast and planned, but he dutifully goes about the job of forming secret cells, getting acquainted with a beautiful Hungarian dancer (though never never forgetting Susan), taking his orders from Keller, Quigley, Collingwood and the pompous admiral in charge of the legation, and refraining from fraternizing, as Frank puts it, with the Russians.

"SEXUAL BERAVIOR IN THE HUMAN MALE," by A. C. Kinsey and others.
"MALABAR FARM," by Louis Bromfield.

Climax Comes in 1949

Yet in spite of strict instructions he meets a Russian, an old friend, Leonides Lasenko, with whom he had done a little work and played a lot of poker while the Allies were stubbornly beating their way up the Italian peninsula. Leonidas has some news of primary importance to Jeff, the State department and the whole world, news almost too hot for anyone but a novelist to handle. Jeff's problem is to persuade his superiors of its authenticity; they are all the more dubious as it interferes with their fond hopes for a bigger and better war.

The climax comes in 1949, so that if Frank's turns of plot seem a little extravangant, there's nothing in our world of 1947-1948 to contradict him. It's a book with a message, and a major problem is happily expressed in smart if somewhat conventional fiction. It is unlikely to be a ssuccessful as "Mr. Adam," but in one respect it's better. The writing has improved.

Meredith Willson

"AND THERE I STOOD WITH MY PICCOLO," by Meredith Willson; (Doubleday).

IT'S hard to decide what contributes most to the fun you will surely get from this book: Willson's vivid memories of his Mason City, Iowa, boyhood, his reminiscences about Toscanini, Mengelberg, Furtwaengler, Monteux, Damrosch and other conductors; his crazy tales about the radio world in which he now runs his own successful show; or his cheeriness, his unabashed frankness, his habit of making anecdoetes out of what once seemed, as he admits, catastrophes.

He was brought up to play the drums, the piano and finally the flute and piccolo; he was bound to play something for he had a good ear, and you take delight in recalling with him the sound of a burnt piece of toast being scraped, of a lawn mower, a snow shovel, and the school bell warning a hurrying boy that he was late.

Toured With Sousa

In New York to study with Georges Barrere, he did odd jobs in theater pits, and then for three years toured, uniform and all, with John Philip Sousa. For five years he was first flutist with the New York Philharmonic under Van Hoogstraten, Mengelberg and Furstwaengler. He heard his first symphony concert from the flutist's chair. He was present when a runny-nosed boy named Horowitz made his Carnegie Hall debut. He attended Victor Herbert's "Natoma," and the post-performance obsequies. He was the first, and no doubt the last, to introduce a rivet gun and a locomotive whistle, full-size, to a radio studio. One of his funniest stories concerns a Sousa second bass clarinetist who lasted five years though evidently he could hardly play one note.

Willson has a symphony and a symphonic poem to his credit, and did the music for the film, "The Little Foxes," and for Chaplin's "The Great Dictator"; and he now appears to have tooted his way into the big money though he toots no more. But he still keeps his piccolo shined up.

This is a good book because Willson is a good guy, and you feel you have just finished an interview. Even if he does think the chromatic scale is the only scale, he's modest, honest and likable.

"A Cluded Star"

"A CLOUDED STAR," by Anne Parrish; (Harper).

A MAN 95 years old and a woman a couple of years older, waving a peacock fan against the heavy southern air, sit on a porch gaze out across the broad river, sip homemade wine and remainisce as this story starts. The last time they had seen each other was almost 90 years before, when he, black Samuel Mingo separated from his father and mother to pay one of his master's gambling debts, came to Tranquility plantation and met the little white girl, Amanda Piper, down from Boston to visit grandmother Tracey and a houseful of cousins.

Back home in the circle of his parents and the Negroes with whom he was familiar, he had heard the name "Moses" whispered with awesome secrecy; Moses would signal like a whippoorwill cry in the night, she would deliver them, she would lead them out of a slavery to the promised land. Among his new friends Samuel kept expecting his father Tobe and Moses to come for him, and when they didn't, he yielded to Amanda's rash urging and, though only "nine goin on," ran away. His mother had been sold from his father, who wanted to wait until he found her again, and he sent the child off alone.

Moses is Harriett Tubman, and Miss Parrish's story is about one of her many Underground trips to Canada. Besides Samuel, there are Linda, Dora, Joe, Jacob, Dace, a couple of babies. Moses not only guides them, but teaches them how to hide, forages for them, encourages them when their spirits are low and sometimes even drives them on at the point of her gun. They travel by night, sleep by day and, following the North Star, learn to love woods and sky, but to fear them, too, and to tremble at a horse's hooves or the baying of a hound. "Go free, or die," Moses exhorts Samuel. While the moral is as pertinent today, or in any century, as in pre-Civil War times, it is also a moving and inspiring theme as Miss Parrish weaves it into her story.

A hog makes its cheapest gains while young so it is cheaper to grow out two hogs that weigh 225 pounds each than one that weighs 450 pounds, say agricultural experts.

Choir To Offer "Stabat Mater"

Although the date was not set intentionally, presentation of Rossini's "Stabat Mater" by First Methodist choir at 8 o'clock tonight at the church keeps a tradition. Originally the Latin hymn or liturgical sequence was sung on the third Sunday in September or on Good Friday.

The medieval poem has had greater popularity than any similar poem. Its authorship is uncertain, being attributed to Jacophone by some; to Benedict by others. It did not come into popular use as a devotion before the thirteenth century and outstanding examples of its being set to music in the Nineteenth century were written by Rossini, Verdi, Dvorak and Stanford.

Soloists For Presentation

Translation is "the mother was standing" from the first two words and is in commemoration of the sorrows of Mary, the mother of Jesus, at the foot of the cross.

Soloists for the presentation will be: Miss Joyce Watson, soprano; Miss Sue Tyson, mezzo soprano; Ira Schantz, tenor and J. H. Penn, bass.

Mrs. Myrtle Dunn Short will be the director. Mrs. Mamie I. Neal will play organ accompaniment and Mrs. Bill Casey will be at the piano.

Rev. And Mrs. Cagle To Take Part In Brownfield Revival

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 18 (Special)—The Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Cagle, pioneer West Texas religious workers and early evangelists in the Church of the Nazarene, will be special speakers in a short-term revival to be conducted at Brownfield Church of the Nazarene Wednesday through Friday, according to Rev. J. R. Russell, pastor.

Mrs. Cagle was instrumental in the founding of the New Testament Church of Christ, one of the denominations which later united to form the Church of the Nazarene.

Although both Rev. and Mrs. Cagle are in their 80's, they are still in the active ministry.

The Brownfield church is located at South Second and West Tate streets. Services will be held each evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

Minister Plans Trip To South America

Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, 1309 Eighteenth, and his wife, have announced plans to leave here September 26 for a vacation trip to South America.

The church voted in July to give the pastor a 30-day leave, and the couple said they will fill a long desire for an air trip to the Latin continent. The vacation and trip are in recognition of the eighteenth anniversary of Mr. Welch's pastorate here.

They plan to leave here at 5:50 p. m. next Sunday, traveling all the way by Braniff Airways, via Dallas, Houston, Havana, Balboa in the Canal Zone, Quayaquil in Ecuador, and on to Lima, Peru.

They expect to be out of the states 12 days on the trip, then after a weekend here the second Sunday in October, expect to spend three weeks in Hot Springs, Ark., for a rest.

The pastor's twin brother, Rev. Jack Welch of Sheridan, Ark., is to spend a part of his time here during the period, and will conduct a revival beginning the third Sunday in October, the pastor said.

Others will assist in services at the church in the meantime. The building has recently been moved across the alley to a foundation and basement walls, and the congregation is now accumulating a building fund for erection of a new building on the quarter block formerly occupied by the building.

Rev. McCarty Starts 21st Year At Church

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, recently began his twenty-first year as pastor of that church.

The minister became pastor Sept. 17, 1928, when the church was less than 18 months old. It met in the building presently occupied by a food store on the southwest corner of Nineteenth and Ave. Q.

The present church, located at Eighteenth and Ave. T, was first occupied in early July, 1933. At the present time the church is erecting an auditorium, costing approximately $150,000.

During Rev. McCarty's pastorate of the Lubbock church, a total of 2,748 members have been received, of which 675 came for baptism. The current membership rolls at the church list 1,318 members.

The total offering for the past associational year which closed Sept. 1 was $47,808.95.

During Rev. McCarty's first 20 years as pastor of Calvary Baptist church, he has performed 413 marriage ceremonies and conducted 374 funeral services.

An unusual aspect about the church has been the large number of people who have gone from it as ministers or special workers. During the year just closed, the church licensed five young men to preach.
